APPELLANTS' STATEMENT OF ISSUES AND DESIGNATION OF RECORD ON APPEAL – Page 1

with respect to its appeal of the Order Granting Motion to Dismiss Adversary Proceeding in which Contingent Interest Holders in Chapter 11 Plan Trust Seek a Post-Confirmation Valuation of Trust Assets [Doc.26-27] which was entered by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas on May 24, 2024.

I. STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE PRESENTED ON APPEAL

1. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in granting The Highland Parties' Motion to Dismiss Complaint to (I) Compel Disclosures About the Assets of the Highland Claimant Trust and (II) Determine (A) Relative Value of Those Assets, and (B) Nature of Plaintiffs' Interests in the Claimant Trust.
2. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count I under Rule 12(b)(6) based on the Bankruptcy Court's finding that Appellants could not prove any facts that would entitle them to the relief that they sought when the Appellants properly alleged that they have a legal and equitable right to information under the Claimant Trust Agreement and under Delaware and Texas law.
3. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count II because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(h)(3) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
4. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count III because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
5. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in dismissing Count III because the Bankruptcy Court found that Appellants were asking it to issue an opinion based on a set of hypothetical facts and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) for lack of subject matter jurisdiction when Count III seeks only a declaration that the Claimant Trust assets exceed the obligations of the bankruptcy estate or must be deemed to do so such that Appellants' contingent trust interests are effectively vested, or as an equitable matter, must be treated as vested because the putative defendants are preventing the conditions for formal vesting from occurring.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The findings and conclusions set forth herein, together with the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the record during the Confirmation Hearing, constitute the Bankruptcy Court’s findings of fact and conclusions of law pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 52, made applicable to this proceeding pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 7052 and 9014. To the extent any of the following findings of fact constitute conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent that any of the following conclusions of law constitute findings of fact, they are adopted as such.

2. Introduction and Summary of the Plan. Prior to addressing the specific requirements under the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules with respect to the confirmation of the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court believes it would be useful to first provide the following background of the Debtor’s Chapter 11 Case, the parties involved therewith, and some of the major events that have transpired culminating in the filing and solicitation of the Plan of this very unusual case. Before the Bankruptcy Court is the Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., filed on November 24, 2020, as modified on January 22, 2021 and again on February 1, 2021. The parties have repeatedly referred to the Plan as an “asset monetization plan” because it involves the orderly wind-down of the Debtor’s estate, including the sale of assets and certain of its funds over time, with the Reorganized Debtor continuing to manage certain other funds, subject to the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Plan provides for a Claimant Trust to, among other things, manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Debtor’s economic stakeholders. The Claimant Trustee is responsible for this process, among other duties specified in the Plan's Claimant Trust Agreement. There is also anticipated to be a Litigation Sub-trust established for the purpose of pursuing certain avoidance or other causes of action for the benefit of the Debtor's economic constituents.

3. Confirmation Requirements Satisfied. The Plan is supported by the Committee and all claimants with Convenience Claims (i.e., general unsecured claims under $1 million) who voted in Class 7. Claimants with Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, however, voted to reject the Plan because, although the Plan was accepted by 99.8% of the amount of Claims in that class, only 17 claimants voted to accept the Plan while 27 claimants voted to reject the Plan. As a result of such votes, and because Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities (as defined below) objected to the Plan on a variety of grounds primarily relating to the Plan's release, exculpation and injunction provisions, the Bankruptcy Court heard two full days of evidence on February 2 and 3, 2021, and considered testimony from five witnesses and thousands of pages of documentary evidence in determining whether the Plan satisfies the confirmation standards required under the Bankruptcy Code. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Plan meets all of the relevant requirements of sections 1123, 1124, and 1129, and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, as more fully set forth below with respect to each of the applicable confirmation requirements.

4. Not Your Garden Variety Debtor. The Debtor's case is not a garden variety chapter 11 case. The Debtor is a multibillion-dollar global investment adviser registered with the SEC, pursuant to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. It was founded in 1993 by James Dondero and Mark Okada. Mark Okada resigned from his role with Highland prior to the bankruptcy case being filed on October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”). Mr. Dondero controlled the Debtor as of the Petition Date but agreed to relinquish control of it on or about January 9, 2020, pursuant to an agreement reached with the Committee, as described below. Although Mr. Dondero remained with the Debtor as an unpaid employee/portfolio manager after January 9, 2020, his employment with the Debtor terminated on October 9, 2020. Mr. Dondero continues to work for and/or control numerous non-debtor entities in the complex Highland enterprise.

5. The Debtor. The Debtor is headquartered in Dallas, Texas. As of the Petition Date, the Debtor employed approximately 76 employees. The Debtor is privately-owned: (a) 99.5% by the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust; (b) 0.1866% by The Dugaboy Investment Trust, a trust created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family; (c) 0.0627% by Mark Okada, personally and through family trusts; and (d) 0.25% by Strand, the Debtor’s general partner.

6. The Highland Enterprise. Pursuant to various contractual arrangements, the Debtor provides money management and advisory services for billions of dollars of assets, including collateralized loan obligation vehicles (“CLOs”), and other investments. Some of these assets are managed by the Debtor pursuant to shared services agreements with certain affiliated entities, including other affiliated registered investment advisors. In fact, there are approximately 2,000 entities in the byzantine complex of entities under the Highland umbrella. None of these affiliated entities filed for chapter 11 protection. Most, but not all, of these entities are not subsidiaries (direct or indirect) of the Debtor. Many of the Debtor’s affiliated companies are offshore entities, organized in jurisdictions such as the Cayman Islands and Guernsey. See Disclosure Statement, at 17-18.

7. Debtor's Operational History. The Debtor's primary means of generating revenue has historically been from fees collected for the management and advisory services provided to funds that it manages, plus fees generated for services provided to its affiliates. For additional liquidity, the Debtor, prior to the Petition Date, would sell liquid securities in the ordinary course, primarily through a brokerage account at Jefferies, LLC. The Debtor would also, from time to time, sell assets at non-Debtor subsidiaries and cause those proceeds to be distributed to the Debtor in the ordinary course of business. The Debtor's current Chief Executive Officer, James P. Seery, Jr., credibly testified at the Confirmation Hearing that the Debtor was "run at a deficit for a long time and then would sell assets or defer employee compensation to cover its deficits." The Bankruptcy Court cannot help but wonder if that was necessitated because of enormous litigation fees and expenses incurred by the Debtor due to its culture of litigation—as further addressed below.

8. Not Your Garden Variety Creditor's Committee. The Debtor and this chapter 11 case are not garden variety for so many reasons. One of the most obvious standouts in this case is the creditor constituency. The Debtor did not file for bankruptcy because of any of the typical reasons that large companies file chapter 11. For example, the Debtor did not have a large, asset-based secured lender with whom it was in default; it only had relatively insignificant secured indebtedness owing to Jeffries, with whom it had a brokerage account, and one other entity, Frontier State Bank. The Debtor also did not have problems with its trade vendors or landlords.

The Debtor also did not suffer any type of catastrophic business calamity. In fact, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection six months before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Rather, the Debtor filed for Chapter 11 protection due to a myriad of massive, unrelated, business litigation claims that it faced—many of which had finally become liquidated (or were about to become liquidated) after a decade or more of contentious litigation in multiple forums all over the world. The Committee in this case has referred to the Debtor—under its former chief executive, Mr. Dondero—as a “serial litigator.” The Bankruptcy Court agrees with that description. By way of example, the members of the Committee (and their history of litigation with the Debtor and others in the Highland complex) are as follows:

- a. The Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund (the “Redeemer Committee”). This Committee member obtained an arbitration award against the Debtor in the amount of $190,824,557, inclusive of interest, approximately five months before the Petition Date, from a panel of the American Arbitration Association. It was on the verge of having that award confirmed by the Delaware Chancery Court immediately prior to the Petition Date, after years of disputes that started in late 2008 (and included legal proceedings in Bermuda). This creditor’s claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case in the amount of approximately $137,696,610 (subject to other adjustments and details not relevant for this purpose).
- b. Acis Capital Management, L.P., and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (“Acis”). Acis was formerly in the Highland complex of companies, but was not affiliated with Highland as of the Petition Date. This Committee member and its now-owner, Joshua Terry, were involved in litigation with the Debtor dating back to 2016. Acis was forced by Mr. Terry (who was a former Highland portfolio manager) into an involuntary chapter 11 bankruptcy in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division before the Bankruptcy Court in 2018, after Mr. Terry obtained an approximately $8 million arbitration award and judgment against Acis. Mr. Terry ultimately was awarded the equity ownership of Acis by the Bankruptcy Court in the Acis bankruptcy case. Acis subsequently asserted a multi-million dollar claim against Highland in the Bankruptcy Court for Highland’s alleged denuding of Acis to defraud its creditors—primarily Mr. Terry. The litigation involving Acis and Mr. Terry dates back to mid-2016 and has continued on with numerous appeals of Bankruptcy Court orders, including one appeal still pending at the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. There was also litigation involving Mr. Terry and Acis in the Royal Court of the Island of Guernsey and in a state court in New York. The Acis claim was settled during this Chapter 11 Case, in Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation, for approximately $23 million (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose), and is the subject of an appeal being pursued by Mr. Dondero.

- c. UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (“UBS”). UBS is a Committee member that filed a proof of claim in the amount of $1,039,957,799.40 in this Chapter 11 Case. The UBS Claim was based on a judgment that UBS received from a New York state court in 2020. The underlying decision was issued in November 2019, after a multi-week bench trial (which had occurred many months earlier) on a breach of contract claim against non-Debtor entities in the Highland complex. The UBS litigation related to activities that occurred in 2008 and 2009. The litigation involving UBS and Highland and affiliates was pending for more than a decade (there having been numerous interlocutory appeals during its history). The Debtor and UBS recently announced an agreement in principle for a settlement of the UBS claim (which came a few months after Bankruptcy Court-ordered mediation) which will be subject to a 9019 motion to be filed with the Bankruptcy Court on a future date.
- d. Meta-E Discovery (“Meta-E”). Meta-E is a Committee member that is a vendor who happened to supply litigation and discovery-related services to the Debtor over the years. It had unpaid invoices on the Petition Date of more than $779,000.

It is fair to say that the members of the Committee in this case all have wills of steel. They fought hard before and during this Chapter 11 Case. The members of the Committee, all of whom have volunteered to serve on the Claimant Trust Oversight Board post-confirmation, are highly sophisticated and have had highly sophisticated professionals representing them. They have represented their constituency in this case as fiduciaries extremely well.

9. Other Key Creditor Constituents. In addition to the Committee members who were all embroiled in years of litigation with Debtor and its affiliates in various ways, the Debtor has been in litigation with Patrick Daugherty, a former limited partner and employee of the Debtor, for many years in both Delaware and Texas state courts. Mr. Daugherty filed an amended proof of claim in this Chapter 11 Case for $40,710,819.42 relating to alleged breaches of employment-related agreements and for defamation arising from a 2017 press release posted by the Debtor. The Debtor and Mr. Daugherty recently announced a settlement of Mr. Daugherty's claim pursuant to which he will receive $750,000 in cash on the Effective Date of the Plan, an $8.25 million general unsecured claim, and a $2.75 million subordinated claim (subject to other details not relevant for this purpose). Additionally, entities collectively known as "HarbourVest" invested more than $70 million with an entity in the Highland complex and asserted a $300 million proof of claim against the Debtor in this case, alleging, among other things, fraud and RICO violations. HarbourVest's claim was settled during the bankruptcy case for a $45 million general unsecured claim and a $35 million subordinated claim, and that settlement is also being appealed by a Dondero Entity.

10. Other Claims Asserted. Other than the Claims just described, most of the other Claims in this Chapter 11 Case are Claims asserted against the Debtor by: (a) entities in the Highland complex—most of which entities the Bankruptcy Court finds to be controlled by Mr. Dondero; (b) employees who contend that are entitled to large bonuses or other types of deferred compensation; and (c) numerous law firms that worked for the Debtor prior to the Petition Date and had outstanding amounts due for their prepetition services.

11. Not Your Garden Variety Post-Petition Corporate Governance Structure. Yet another reason this is not your garden variety chapter 11 case is its post-petition corporate governance structure. Immediately from its appointment, the Committee's relationship with the Debtor was contentious at best. First, the Committee moved for a change of venue from Delaware to Dallas. Second, the Committee (and later, the United States Trustee) expressed its then-desire for the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee due to its concerns over and distrust of Mr. Dondero, his numerous conflicts of interest, and his history of alleged mismanagement (and perhaps worse).

12. Post-Petition Corporate Governance Settlement with Committee. After spending many weeks under the threat of the potential appointment of a trustee, the Debtor and Committee engaged in substantial and lengthy negotiations resulting in a corporate governance settlement approved by the Bankruptcy Court on January 9, 2020.<sup>5</sup> As a result of this settlement, among other things, Mr. Dondero relinquished control of the Debtor and resigned his positions as an officer or director of the Debtor and its general partner, Strand. As noted above, Mr. Dondero agreed to this settlement pursuant a stipulation he executed,<sup>6</sup> and he also agreed not to cause any Related Entity (as defined in the Settlement Motion) to terminate any agreements with the Debtor. The January 9 Order also (a) required that the Bankruptcy Court serve as “gatekeeper” prior to the commencement of any litigation against the three independent board members appointed to oversee and lead the Debtor’s restructuring in lieu of Mr. Dondero and (b) provided for the exculpation of those board members by limiting claims subject to the “gatekeeper” provision to those alleging willful misconduct and gross negligence.

<sup>5</sup> This order is hereinafter referred to as the “January 9 Order” and was entered by the Court on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] pursuant to the Motion of the Debtor to Approve Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding the Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operation in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”).

<sup>6</sup> See Stipulation in Support of Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement With the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in Ordinary Course [Docket No. 338] (the “Stipulation”).

13. Appointment of Independent Directors. As part of the Bankruptcy Court-approved settlement, three eminently qualified independent directors were chosen to lead Highland through its Chapter 11 Case. They are: James P. Seery, Jr., John S. Dubel (each chosen by the Committee), and Retired Bankruptcy Judge Russell Nelms. These three individuals are each technically independent directors of Strand (Mr. Dondero had previously been the sole director of Strand and, thus, the sole person in ultimate control of the Debtor). The three independent board members' resumes are in evidence. The Bankruptcy Court later approved Mr. Seery's appointment as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative. Suffice it to say that this settlement and the appointment of the independent directors changed the entire trajectory of the case and saved the Debtor from the appointment of a trustee. The Bankruptcy Court and the Committee each trusted the independent directors. They were the right solution at the right time. Because of the unique character of the Debtor's business, the Bankruptcy Court believed the appointment of three qualified independent directors was a far better outcome for creditors than the appointment of a conventional chapter 11 trustee. Each of the independent directors brought unique qualities to the table. Mr. Seery, in particular, knew and had vast experience at prominent firms with high-yield and distressed investing similar to the Debtor's business. Mr. Dubel had 40 years of experience restructuring large complex businesses and serving on boards in this context. And Retired Judge Nelms had not only vast bankruptcy experience but seemed particularly well-suited to help the Debtor maneuver through conflicts and ethical quandaries. By way of comparison, in the chapter 11 case of Acis, the former affiliate of Highland that the Bankruptcy Court presided over and which company was much smaller in size and scope than Highland (managing only 5-6 CLOs), the creditors elected a chapter 11 trustee who was not on the normal trustee rotation panel in this district but, rather, was a nationally known bankruptcy attorney with more than 45 years of large chapter 11 experience. While the Acis chapter 11 trustee performed valiantly, he was sued by entities in the Highland complex shortly after he was appointed (which the Bankruptcy Court had to address). The Acis trustee was also unable to persuade the Debtor and its affiliates to agree to any actions taken in the case, and he finally obtained confirmation of Acis' chapter 11 plan over the objections of the Debtor and its affiliates on his fourth attempt (which confirmation was promptly appealed).

14. Conditions Required by Independent Directors. Given the experiences in Acis and the Debtor's culture of constant litigation, it was not as easy to get such highly qualified persons to serve as independent board members and, later, as the Debtor's Chief Executive Officer, as it would be in an ordinary chapter 11 case. The independent board members were stepping into a morass of problems. Naturally, they were worried about getting sued no matter how defensible their efforts—given the litigation culture that enveloped Highland historically. Based on the record of this Case and the proceedings in the Acis chapter 11 case, it seemed as though everything always ended in litigation at Highland. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony that none of the independent directors would have taken on the role of independent director without (1) an adequate directors and officers' ("D&O") insurance policy protecting them; (2) indemnification from Strand that would be guaranteed by the Debtor; (3) exculpation for mere negligence claims; and (4) a gatekeeper provision prohibiting the commencement of litigation against the independent directors without the Bankruptcy Court's prior authority. This gatekeeper provision was also included in the Bankruptcy Court’s order authorizing the appointment of Mr. Seery as the Debtor’s Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative entered on July 16, 2020.<sup>7</sup> The gatekeeper provisions in both the January 9 Order and July 16 Order are precisely analogous to what bankruptcy trustees have pursuant to the so-called “Barton Doctrine” (first articulated in an old Supreme Court case captioned Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881)). The Bankruptcy Court approved all of these protections in the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, and no one appealed either of those orders. As noted above, Mr. Dondero signed the Stipulation that led to the settlement that was approved by the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court finds that, like the Committee, the independent board members have been resilient and unwavering in their efforts to get the enormous problems in this case solved. They seem to have at all times negotiated hard and in good faith, which culminated in the proposal of the Plan currently before the Bankruptcy Court. As noted previously, they completely changed the trajectory of this case.

15. Not Your Garden Variety Mediators. And still another reason why this was not your garden variety case was the mediation effort. In the summer of 2020, roughly nine months into the chapter 11 case, the Bankruptcy Court ordered mediation among the Debtor, Acis, UBS, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero. The Bankruptcy Court selected co-mediators because mediation among these parties seemed like such a Herculean task—especially during COVID-19 where people could not all be in the same room. Those co-mediators were: Retired

Seery, Jr., as Chief Executive Officer, Chief Restructuring Officer, and Foreign Representative Nunc Pro Tunc to March 15, 2020* [Docket No. 854] entered on July 16, 2020 (the “July 16 Order”)

Bankruptcy Judge Alan Gropper from the Southern District of New York, who had a distinguished career presiding over complex chapter 11 cases, and Ms. Sylvia Mayer, who likewise has had a distinguished career, first as a partner at a preeminent law firm working on complex chapter 11 cases, and subsequently as a mediator and arbitrator in Houston, Texas. As noted earlier, the Redeemer Committee and Acis claims were settled during the mediation—which seemed nothing short of a miracle to the Bankruptcy Court—and the UBS claim was settled several months later and the Bankruptcy Court believes the ground work for that ultimate settlement was laid, or at least helped, through the mediation. And, as earlier noted, other significant claims have been settled during this case, including those of HarbourVest (who asserted a $300 million claim) and Patrick Daugherty (who asserted a $40 million claim). The Bankruptcy Court cannot stress strongly enough that the resolution of these enormous claims—and the acceptance by all of these creditors of the Plan that is now before the Bankruptcy Court—seems nothing short of a miracle. It was more than a year in the making.

16. Not Your Garden Variety Plan Objectors (That Is, Those That Remain). Finally, a word about the current, remaining objectors to the Plan before the Bankruptcy Court. Once again, the Bankruptcy Court will use the phrase “not your garden variety”, which phrase applies to this case for many reasons. Originally, there were over a dozen objections filed to the Plan. The Debtor then made certain amendments or modifications to the Plan to address some of these objections, none of which require further solicitation of the Plan for reasons set forth in more detail below. The only objectors to the Plan left at the time of the Confirmation Hearing were Mr. Dondero [Docket No. 1661] and entities that the Bankruptcy Court finds are owned and/or controlled by him and that filed the following objections:

- a. Objection to Confirmation of the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Get Good Trust and The Dugaboy Investment Trust) [Docket No. 1667];
- b. Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (filed by Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P., Highland Fixed Income Fund, Highland Funds I and its series, Highland Funds II and its series, Highland Global Allocation Fund, Highland Healthcare Opportunities Fund, Highland Income Fund, Highland Merger Arbitrate Fund, Highland Opportunistic Credit Fund, Highland Small-Cap Equity Fund, Highland Socially Responsible Equity Fund, Highland Total Return Fund, Highland/iBoxx Senior Loan ETF, NexPoint Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Capital, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Strategies Fund, NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund) [Docket No. 1670];
- c. A Joinder to the Objection filed at 1670 by: NexPoint Real Estate Finance Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Capital, LLC, NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc., NexPoint Hospitality Trust, NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC, NexPoint Multifamily Capital Trust, Inc., VineBrook Homes Trust, Inc., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors II, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors III, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors IV, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors V, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VI, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VII, L.P., NexPoint Real Estate Advisors VIII, L.P., and any funds advised by the foregoing [Docket No. 1677];
- d. NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC f/k/a HCRE Partners LLC) [Docket No. 1673]; and
- e. NexBank's Objection to Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by NexBank Title, Inc., NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital, Inc., and NexBank) [Docket No. 1676]. The entities referred to in (i) through (v) of this paragraph are hereinafter referred to as the "Dondero Related Entities").

17. Questionability of Good Faith as to Outstanding Confirmation

Objections. Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities technically have standing to object to the Plan, but the remoteness of their economic interests is noteworthy, and the Bankruptcy Court questions the good faith of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' objections. In fact, the Bankruptcy Court has good reason to believe that these parties are not objecting to protect economic interests they have in the Debtor but to be disruptors. Mr. Dondero wants his company back. This is understandable, but it is not a good faith basis to lob objections to the Plan. As detailed below, the Bankruptcy Court has slowed down plan confirmation multiple times and urged the parties to talk to Mr. Dondero in an attempt to arrive at what the parties have repeatedly referred to as a "grand bargain," the ultimate goal to resolve the Debtor's restructuring. The Debtor and the Committee represent that they have communicated with Mr. Dondero regarding a grand bargain settlement, and the Bankruptcy Court believes that they have.

18. Remote Interest of Outstanding Confirmation Objectors. To be specific about the remoteness of Mr. Dondero's and the Dondero Related Entities' interests, the Bankruptcy Court will address them each separately. First, Mr. Dondero has a pending objection to the Plan. Mr. Dondero's only economic interest with regard to the Debtor is an unliquidated indemnification claim (and, based on everything the Bankruptcy Court has heard, his indemnification claims would be highly questionable at this juncture). Mr. Dondero owns no equity in the Debtor directly. Mr. Dondero owns the Debtor's general partner, Strand, which in turn owns a quarter percent of the total equity in the Debtor. Second, a joint objection has been filed by The Dugaboy Trust ("Dugaboy") and the Get Good Trust ("Get Good"). The Dugaboy Trust was created to manage the assets of Mr. Dondero and his family and owns a 0.1866% limited partnership interest in the Debtor. See Disclosure Statement at 7, n.3. The Bankruptcy Court is not clear what economic interest the Get Good Trust has, but it likewise seems to be related to Mr. Dondero. Get Good filed three proofs of claim relating to a pending federal tax audit of the Debtor's 2008 return, which the Debtor believes arise from Get Good's equity security interests and are subject to subordination as set forth in its Confirmation Brief. Dugaboy filed three claims against the Debtor: (a) an administrative claim relating to the Debtor's alleged postpetition management of Multi-Strat Credit Fund, L.P., (b) a prepetition claim against a subsidiary of the Debtor for which it seeks to pierce the corporate veil, each of which the Debtor maintains are frivolous in the Confirmation Brief, and (c) a claim arising from its equity security interest in the Debtor, which the Debtor asserts should be subordinated. Another group of objectors that has joined together in one objection is what the Bankruptcy Court will refer to as the "Highland Advisors and Funds." See Docket No. 1863. The Bankruptcy Court understands they assert disputed administrative expense claims against the estate that were filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing on January 23, 2021 [Docket No. 1826], and during the Confirmation Hearing on February 3, 2021 [Docket No. 1888]. At the Confirmation Hearing, Mr. Post testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds that the Funds have independent board members that run the Funds, but the Bankruptcy Court was not convinced of their independence from Mr. Dondero because none of the so-called independent board members have ever testified before the Bankruptcy Court and all have been engaged with the Highland complex for many years. Notably, the Court questions Mr. Post's credibility because, after more than 12 years of service, he abruptly resigned from the Debtor in October 2020 at the exact same time that Mr. Dondero resigned at the Board of Directors' request, and he is currently employed by Mr. Dondero. Moreover, Dustin Norris, a witness in a prior proceeding (whose testimony was made part of the record at the Confirmation Hearing), recently testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds in another proceeding that Mr. Dondero owned and/or controlled these entities. Finally, various NexBank entities objected to the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court does not believe they have liquidated claims against the Debtor. Mr. Dondero appears to be in control of these entities as well.

19. Background Regarding Dondero Objecting Parties. To be clear, the Bankruptcy Court has allowed all these objectors to fully present arguments and evidence in opposition to confirmation, even though their economic interests in the Debtor appear to be extremely remote and the Bankruptcy Court questions their good faith. Specifically, the Bankruptcy Court considers them all to be marching pursuant to the orders of Mr. Dondero. In the recent past, Mr. Dondero has been subject to a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction by the Bankruptcy Court for interfering with Mr. Seery's management of the Debtor in specific ways that were supported by evidence. Around the time that this all came to light and the Bankruptcy Court began setting hearings on the alleged interference, Mr. Dondero's company phone, which he had been asked to turn in to Highland, mysteriously went missing. The Bankruptcy Court merely mentions this in this context as one of many reasons that the Bankruptcy Court has to question the good faith of Mr. Dondero and his affiliates in raising objections to confirmation of the Plan.

20. Other Confirmation Objections. Other than the objections filed by Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities, the only other pending objection to the Plan is the United States Trustee's Limited Objection to Confirmation of Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1671], which objected to the Plan's exculpation, injunction, and Debtor release provisions. In juxtaposition, to these pending objections, the Bankruptcy Court notes that the Debtor resolved the following objections to the Plan:

- a. CLO Holdco, Ltd.’s Joinder to Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and Supplemental Objections to Plan Confirmation [Docket No. 1675]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph VV of the Confirmation Order;
- b. Objection of Dallas County, City of Allen, Allen ISD, City of Richardson, and Kaufman County to Confirmation of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1662]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph QQ of the Confirmation Order;
- c. Senior Employees’ Limited Objection to Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (filed by Scott Ellington, Thomas Surgent, Frank Waterhouse, Isaac Leventon) [Docket No. 1669]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraph 82 and paragraphs RR and SS of the Confirmation Order;
- d. Limited Objection of Jack Yang and Brad Borud to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 1666] and the amended joinder filed by Davis Deadman, Paul Kauffman and Todd Travers [Docket No. 1679]. This Objection and the amended joinder were resolved by agreement of the parties pursuant to modifications to the Plan filed by the Debtor;
- e. United States’ (IRS) Limited Objection to Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1668]. This Objection has been resolved pursuant to mutually agreed language by the parties set forth in paragraphs TT and UU of the Confirmation Order; and
- f. Patrick Hagaman Daugherty’s Objection to Confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1678]. This objection was resolved by the parties pursuant to the settlement of Mr. Daugherty’s claim announced on the record of the Confirmation Hearing.

21. Capitalized Terms. Capitalized terms used herein, but not defined herein, shall have the respective meanings attributed to such terms in the Plan and the Disclosure Statement, as applicable.

22. Jurisdiction and Venue. The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction over the Debtor's Chapter 11 Case pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue of this proceeding and this Chapter 11 Case is proper in this district and in the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

23. Chapter 11 Petition. On the Petition Date, the Debtor commenced a voluntary case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, which case was transferred to the Bankruptcy Court on December 19, 2019. The Debtor continues to operate its business and manage its property as debtor in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this Chapter 11 Case. The Office of the United States Trustee appointed the Committee on October 29, 2019.

24. Judicial Notice. The Bankruptcy Court takes judicial notice of the docket in this Chapter 11 Case maintained by the clerk of the Bankruptcy Court and the court-appointed claims agent, Kurtzman Carson Consultants LLC ("KCC"), including, without limitation, all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered or adduced at the hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court during this Chapter 11 Case, including, without limitation, the hearing to consider the adequacy of the Disclosure Statement and the Confirmation Hearing, as well as all pleadings, notices, and other documents filed, all orders entered, and all evidence and arguments made, proffered, or adduced at hearings held before the Bankruptcy Court or the District Court for the Northern District of Texas in connection with an adversary proceeding or appellate proceeding, respectively, related to this Chapter 11 Case.

25. Plan Supplement Documents. Prior to the Confirmation Hearing, the Debtor filed each of the Plan Supplements. The Plan Supplements contain, among other documents, the Retained Causes of Action, the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the Related Entity List, the Schedule of Employees, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, supplements to the Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, the Schedule of Contracts and Leases to be Assumed, and the other Plan Documents set forth therein (collectively, the “Plan Supplement Documents”).

26. Retained Causes of Action Adequately Preserved. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the list of Retained Causes of Action included in the Plan Supplements sufficiently describes all potential Retained Causes of Action, provides all persons with adequate notice of any Causes of Action regardless of whether any specific claim to be brought in the future is listed therein or whether any specific potential defendant or other party is listed therein, and satisfies applicable law in all respects to preserve all of the Retained Causes of Action. The definition of the Causes of Action and Schedule of Retained Causes of Action, and their inclusion in the Plan, specifically and unequivocally preserve the Causes of Action for the benefit of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable.

27. Plan Modifications Are Non-Material. In addition to the Plan Supplements, the Debtor made certain non-material modifications to the Plan, which are reflected in (i) the Redline of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P.

(as Modified) filed on January 22, 2021 [Docket No. 1809], and (ii) Exhibit B to the Debtor's Notice of Filing of Plan Supplement to Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] (collectively, the "Plan Modifications"). Section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan proponent may modify its plan at any time before confirmation so long as such modified plan meets the requirements of sections 1122 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code. None of the modifications set forth in the Plan Supplements or the Plan Modifications require any further solicitation pursuant to sections 1125, 1126, or 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, because, among other things, they do not materially adversely change the treatment of the claims of any creditors or interest holders who have not accepted, in writing, such supplements and modifications. Among other things, there were changes to the projections that the Debtor filed shortly before the Confirmation Hearing (which included projected distributions to creditors and a comparison of projected distributions under the Plan to potential distributions under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation). The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications did not mislead or prejudice any creditors or interest holders nor do they require that Holders of Claims or Equity Interests be afforded an opportunity to change previously cast votes to accept or reject the Plan. Specifically, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] do not constitute any material adverse change to the treatment of any creditors or interest holders but, rather, simply update the estimated distributions based on Claims that were settled in the interim and provide updated financial data. The filing and notice of the Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications were appropriate and complied with the requirements of section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, and no other solicitation or disclosure or further notice is or shall be required. The Plan Supplements and Plan Modifications each became part of the Plan pursuant section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, is authorized to modify the Plan or Plan Supplement Documents following entry of this Confirmation Order in a manner consistent with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, and, if applicable, the terms of the applicable Plan Supplement Document.

28. Notice of Transmittal, Mailing and Publication of Materials. As is evidenced by the Voting Certifications and the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the transmittal and service of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, Ballots, and Confirmation Hearing Notice were adequate and sufficient under the circumstances, and all parties required to be given notice of the Confirmation Hearing (including the deadline for filing and serving objections to the confirmation of the Plan) have been given due, proper, timely, and adequate notice in accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and in compliance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, the Local Rules, and applicable non-bankruptcy law, and such parties have had an opportunity to appear and be heard with respect thereto. No other or further notice is required. The publication of the Confirmation Hearing Notice, as set forth in the Notice of Affidavit of Publication dated December 3, 2020 [Docket No. 1505], complied with the Disclosure Statement Order.

29. Voting. The Bankruptcy Court has reviewed and considered the Voting Certifications. The procedures by which the Ballots for acceptance or rejection of the Plan were distributed and tabulated, including the tabulation as subsequently amended to reflect the settlement of certain Claims to be Allowed in Class 7, were fairly and properly conducted and complied with the Disclosure Statement Order, the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Local Rules.

30. Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a). In accordance with Bankruptcy Rule 3016(a), the Plan is dated and identifies the Debtor as the proponent of the Plan.

31. Plan Compliance with Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(1)). As set forth below, the Plan complies with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

32. Proper Classification (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan may place a claim or interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interest of such class. The Claims and Equity Interests placed in each Class are substantially similar to other Claims and Equity Interests, as the case may be, in each such Class. Valid business, factual, and legal reasons exist for separately classifying the various Classes of Claims and Equity Interests created under the Plan, and such Classes do not unfairly discriminate between Holders of Claims and Equity Interests.

33. Classification of Secured Claims. Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim) and Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim) each constitute separate secured claims held by Jefferies LLC and Frontier State Bank, respectively, and it is proper and consistent with section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code to separately classify the claims of these secured creditors. Class 3 (Other Secured Claims) consists of other secured claims (to the extent any exist) against the Debtor, are not substantially similar to the Secured Claims in Class 1 or Class 2, and are also properly separately classified.

34. Classification of Priority Claims. Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims) consists of Claims entitled to priority under section 507(a), other than Priority Tax Claims, and are properly separately classified from non-priority unsecured claims. Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims) consists of the potential claims of employees who may be retained by the Debtor on the Effective Date, which claims will be Reinstated under the Plan, are not substantially similar to other Claims against the Debtor, and are properly classified.

35. Classification of Unsecured Claims. Class 6 (PTO Claims) consists solely of the claims of the Debtor's employees for unpaid paid time off in excess of the $13,650 statutory cap amount under sections 507(a)(4) and (a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code and are dissimilar from other unsecured claims in Class 7 and Class 8. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) allows holders of eligible and liquidated Claims (below a certain threshold dollar amount) to receive a cash payout of the lesser of 85% of the Allowed amount of the creditor's Claim or such holder's pro rata share of the Convenience Claims Cash Pool. Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are provided for administrative convenience purposes in order to allow creditors, most of whom are either trade creditors or holders of professional claims, to receive treatment provided under Class 7 in lieu of the treatment of Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims). The Plan also provides for reciprocal "opt out" mechanisms to allow holders of Class 7 Claims to elect to receive the treatment for Class 8 Claims. Class 8 creditors primarily constitute the litigation claims of the Debtor. Class 8 Creditors will receive Claimant Trust Interests which will be satisfied pursuant to the terms of the Plan. Class 8 also contains an “opt out” mechanism to allow holders of liquidated Class 8 Claims at or below a $1 million threshold to elect to receive the treatment of Class 7 Convenience Claims. The Claims in Class 7 (primarily trade and professional Claims against the Debtor) are not substantially similar to the Claims in Class 8 (primarily the litigation Claims against the Debtor), and are appropriately separately classified. Valid business reasons also exist to classify creditors in Class 7 separately from creditors in Class 8. Class 7 creditors largely consist of liquidated trade or service providers to the Debtor. In addition, the Claims of Class 7 creditors are small relative to the large litigation claims in Class 8. Furthermore, the Class 8 Claims were overwhelmingly unliquidated when the Plan was filed. The nature of the Class 7 Claims as being largely liquidated created an expectation of expedited payment relative to the largely unliquidated Claims in Class 8, which consists in large part of parties who have been engaged in years, and in some cases over a decade of litigation with the Debtor. Separate classification of Class 7 and Class 8 creditors was the subject of substantial arm’s-length negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee to appropriately reflect these relative differences.

36. Classification of Equity Interests. The Plan properly separately classifies the Equity Interests in Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) from the Equity Interests in Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) because they represent different types of equity security interests in the Debtor and different payment priorities.

37. Elimination of Vacant Classes. Section III.C of the Plan provides for the elimination of Classes that do not have at least one holder of a Claim or Equity Interest that is Allowed in an amount greater than zero for purposes of voting to accept or reject the Plan, and are disregarded for purposes of determining whether the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to such Class. The purpose of this provision is to provide that a Class that does not have voting members shall not be included in the tabulation of whether that Class has accepted or rejected the Plan. Pursuant to the Voting Certifications, the only voting Class of Claims or Equity Interests that did not have any members is Class 5 (Retained Employees). As noted above, Class 5 does not have any voting members because any potential Claims in Class 5 would not arise, except on account of any current employees of the Debtor who may be employed as of the Effective Date, which is currently unknown. Thus, the elimination of vacant Classes provided in Article III.C of the Plan does not violate section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code. Class 5 is properly disregarded for purposes of determining whether or not the Plan has been accepted under Bankruptcy Code section 1129(a)(8) because there are no members in that Class. However, the Plan properly provides for the treatment of any Claims that may potentially become members of Class 5 as of the Effective Date in accordance with the terms of the Plan. The Plan therefore satisfies section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code.

38. Classification of Claims and Designation of Non-Classified Claims (11 U.S.C. §§ 1122, 1123(a)(1)). Section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that the Plan specify the classification of claims and equity security interests pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, other than claims specified in sections 507(a)(2), 507(a)(3), or 507(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code. In addition to Administrative Claims, Professional Fee Claims, and Priority Tax Claims, each of which need not be classified pursuant to section 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan designates eleven (11) Classes of Claims and Equity Interests. The Plan satisfies sections 1122 and 1123(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

39. Specification of Unimpaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(2)). Article III of the Plan specifies that each of Class 1 (Jefferies Secured Claim), Class 3 (Other Secured Claims), Class 4 (Priority Non-Tax Claims), Class 5 (Retained Employee Claims), and Class 6 (PTO Claims) are Unimpaired under the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

40. Specification of Treatment of Impaired Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(3)). Article III of the Plan designates each of Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 9 (Subordinated Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) as Impaired and specifies the treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in such Classes. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

41. No Discrimination (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(4)). The Plan provides for the same treatment by the Plan proponent for each Claim or Equity Interest in each respective Class unless the Holder of a particular Claim or Equity Interest has agreed to a less favorable treatment of such Claim or Equity Interest. The Plan satisfies this requirement because Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests in each Class will receive the same rights and treatment as other Holders of Allowed Claims or Equity Interests within such holder's respective class, subject only to the voluntary "opt out" options afforded to members of Class 7 and Class 8 in accordance with the terms of the Plan. Thus, the requirement of section 1123(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

42. Implementation of the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(5)). Article IV of the Plan sets forth the means for implementation of the Plan which includes, but is not limited to, the establishment of: (i) the Claimant Trust; (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust; (iii) the Reorganized Debtor; and (iv) New GP LLC, in the manner set forth in the Plan Documents, the forms of which are included in the Plan Supplements.

- a. The Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust Agreement provides for the management of the Claimant Trust, as well as the Reorganized Debtor with the Claimant Trust serving as the managing member of New GP LLC (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Claimant Trust that will manage the Reorganized Debtor as its general partner). The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will all be managed and overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Additionally, the Plan provides for the transfer to the Claimant Trust of all of the Debtor's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Claimant Trust Assets to automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets as provided under the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement contained in the Plan Supplements.
- b. The Litigation Sub-Trust. The Plan and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement provide for the transfer to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims (as transferred to the Claimant Trust by the Debtor) in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code and for the Estate Claims to automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and the Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. The Litigation Trustee is charged with investigating, pursuing, and otherwise resolving any Estate Claims (including those with respect to which the Committee has standing to pursue prior to the Effective Date pursuant to the January 9 Order) pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, regardless of whether any litigation with respect to any Estate Claim was commenced by the Debtor or the Committee prior to the Effective Date.

- c. The Reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets, which includes managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

The precise terms governing the execution of these restructuring transactions are set forth in greater detail in the applicable definitive documents included in the Plan Supplements, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the Schedule of Retained Causes of Action. The Plan, together with the documents and forms of agreement included in the Plan Supplements, provides a detailed blueprint for the transactions contemplated by the Plan. The Plan's various mechanisms provide for the Debtor's continued management of its business as it seeks to liquidate the Debtor's assets, wind down its affairs, and pay the Claims of the Debtor's creditors. Upon full payment of Allowed Claims, plus interest as provided in the Plan, any residual value would then flow to the holders of Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests). Finally, Mr. Seery testified that the Debtor engaged in substantial and arm's length negotiations with the Committee regarding the Debtor's post-Effective Date corporate governance, as reflected in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that he believes the selection of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic constituents. Thus, the requirements of section 1123(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code are satisfied.

43. Non-Voting Equity Securities (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(6)). The Debtor is not a corporation and the charter documents filed in the Plan Supplements otherwise comply with section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the requirement of section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

44. Selection of Officers and Directors (11 U.S.C. § 1123(a)(7)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the Claimant Trust to be governed and administered by the Claimant Trustee. The Claimant Trust, the management of the Reorganized Debtor, and the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be managed by the Claimant Trust Oversight Board. The Claimant Trust Oversight Board will consist of: (1) Eric Felton, as representative of the Redeemer Committee; (2) Joshua Terry, as representative of Acis; (3) Elizabeth Kozlowski, as representative of UBS; (4) Paul McVoy, as representative of Meta-E Discovery; and (5) David Pauker. Four of the members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are the holders of several of the largest Claims against the Debtor and/or are current members of the Committee. Each of these creditors has actively participated in the Debtor's case, both through their fiduciary roles as Committee members and in their individual capacities as creditors. They are therefore intimately familiar with the Debtor, its business, and assets. The fifth member of the Claimant Trustee Oversight Board, David Pauker, is a disinterested restructuring advisor and turnaround manager with more than 25 years of experience advising public and private companies and their investors, and he has substantial experience overseeing, advising or investigating troubled companies in the financial services industry and has advised or managed such companies on behalf of boards or directors, court-appointed trustees, examiners and special masters, government agencies, and private investor parties. The members of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will serve without compensation, except for Mr. Pauker, who will receive payment of $250,000 for his first year of service, and $150,000 for subsequent years.

45. Selection of Trustees. The Plan Supplements disclose that Mr. Seery will serve as the Claimant Trustee and Marc Kirschner will serve as the Litigation Trustee. As noted above, Mr. Seery has served as an Independent Board member since January 2020, and as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer since July 2020, and he has extensive management and restructuring experience, as evidenced from his curriculum vitae which is part of the record. The evidence shows that Mr. Seery is intimately familiar with the Debtor's organizational structure, business, and assets, as well as how Claims will be treated under the Plan. Accordingly, it is reasonable and in the Estate's best interests to continue Mr. Seery's employment post-emergence as the Claimant Trustee. Mr. Seery, upon consultation with the Committee, testified that he intends to employ approximately 10 of the Debtor's employees to enable him to manage the Debtor's business until the Claimant Trust effectively monetizes its remaining assets, instead of hiring a sub-servicer to accomplish those tasks. Mr. Seery testified that he believes that the Debtor's post-confirmation business can most efficiently and cost-effectively be supported by a sub-set of the Debtor's current employees, who will be managed internally. Mr. Seery shall initially be paid $150,000 per month for services rendered after the Effective Date as Claimant Trustee; however, Mr. Seery's long-term salary as Claimant Trustee and the terms of any bonuses and severance are subject to further negotiation by Mr. Seery and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board within forty-five (45) days after the Effective Date. The Bankruptcy Court has also reviewed Mr. Kirschner's curriculum vitae. Mr. Kirschner has been practicing law since 1967 and has substantial experience in bankruptcy litigation matters, particularly with respect to his prior experience as a litigation trustee for several litigation trusts, as set forth on the record of the Confirmation Hearing and in the Confirmation Brief. Mr. Kirschner shall be paid $40,000 per month for the first three months and $20,000 per month thereafter, plus a success fee related to litigation recoveries. The Committee and the Debtor had arm's lengths negotiations regarding the post-Effective Date corporate governance structure of the Reorganized Debtor and believe that the selection of the Claimant Trustee, the Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee are in the best interests of the Debtor's economic stakeholders. Section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

Pursuant to section 1129(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has complied with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including sections 1122, 1123, 1124, 1125, and 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Disclosure Statement Order governing notice, disclosure, and solicitation in connection with the Plan, the Disclosure Statement, the Plan Supplements, and all other matters considered by the Bankruptcy Court in connection with this Chapter 11 Case.

47. Debtor's Solicitation Complied with Bankruptcy Code and Disclosure

Statement Order. Before the Debtor solicited votes on the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Disclosure Statement Order. In accordance with the Disclosure Statement Order and evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication, the Debtor appropriately served (i) the Solicitation Packages (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) on the Holders of Claims in Classes 2, 7, 8 and 9 and Holders of Equity Interests in Classes 10 and 11 who were entitled to vote on the Plan; and (ii) the Notice of Nonvoting Status (as defined in the Disclosure Statement Order) and the Confirmation Hearing Notice to the Holders of Claims in Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6, who were not entitled to vote on the Plan pursuant to the Disclosure Statement Order. The Disclosure Statement Order approved the contents of the Solicitation Packages provided to Holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan, the notices provided to parties not entitled to vote on the Plan, and the deadlines for voting on and objecting to the Plan. The Debtor and KCC each complied with the content and delivery requirements of the Disclosure Statement Order, thereby satisfying sections 1125(a) and (b) of the Bankruptcy Code, as evidenced by the Affidavits of Service and Publication. The Debtor also satisfied section 1125(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, which provides that the same disclosure statement must be transmitted to each holder of a claim or interest in a particular class. The Debtor caused the same Disclosure Statement to be transmitted to all holders of Claims and Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan. The Debtor has complied in all respects with the solicitation requirements of section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code and the Disclosure Statement Order. The Bankruptcy Court rejects the arguments of the Mr. Dondero and certain Dondero Related Entities that the changes made to certain assumptions and projections from the Liquidation Analysis annexed as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement (the “Liquidation Analysis”) to the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections require resolicitation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court heard credible testimony from Mr. Seery regarding the changes to the Liquidation Analysis as reflected in the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. Based on the record, including the testimony of Mr. Seery, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the changes between the Liquidation Analysis and the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections do not constitute materially adverse change to the treatment of Claims or Equity

Interests. Instead, the changes served to update the projected distributions based on Claims that were settled after the approval of the Disclosure Statement and to otherwise incorporate more recent financial data. Such changes were entirely foreseeable given the large amount of unliquidated Claims at the time the Disclosure Statement was approved and the nature of the Debtor's assets. The Bankruptcy Court therefore finds that holders of Claims and Equity Interests were not misled or prejudiced by the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections and the Plan does not need to be resolicited.

48. Plan Proposed in Good Faith and Not by Means Forbidden by Law (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(3)). The Debtor has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code. In determining that the Plan has been proposed in good faith, the Bankruptcy Court has examined the totality of the circumstances surrounding the filing of this Chapter 11 Case, the Plan itself, and the extensive, unrebutted testimony of Mr. Seery in which he described the process leading to Plan's formulation. Based on the totality of the circumstances and Mr. Seery's testimony, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Plan is the result of extensive arm's-length negotiations among the Debtor, the Committee, and key stakeholders, and promotes the objectives and purposes of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, the Debtor's good faith in proposing the Plan is supported by the following facts adduced by Mr. Seery:

- a. The Independent Board determined that it should consider all potential restructuring alternatives, including pursuit of a traditional restructuring and the continuation of the Debtor's business, a potential sale of the Debtor's assets in one or more transactions, an asset monetization plan similar to that described in the Plan, and a so-called "grand bargain" plan that would involve Mr. Dondero's sponsorship of a plan with a substantial equity infusion.

- b. The Debtor subsequently engaged in arm's-length, good faith negotiations with the Committee over an asset monetization Plan commencing in June 2020, which negotiations occurred over the next several months.
- c. Negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee were often contentious over disputes, including, but not limited to, the post-confirmation corporate governance structure and the scope of releases contemplated by the Plan.
- d. While negotiations with the Committee progressed, the Independent Board engaged in discussions with Mr. Dondero regarding a potential "grand bargain" plan which contemplated a significant equity infusion by Mr. Dondero, and which Mr. Seery personally spent hundreds of hours pursuing over many months.
- e. On August 3, 2020, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order Directing Mediation [Docket No. 912] pursuant to which the Bankruptcy Court ordered the Debtor, the Committee, UBS, Acis, the Redeemer Committee, and Mr. Dondero into mediation. As a result of this mediation, the Debtor negotiated the settlement of the claims of Acis and Mr. Terry, which the Bankruptcy Court approved on October 28, 2020 [Docket No. 1302].
- f. On August 12, 2020, the Debtor filed its Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. [Docket No. 944] (the "Initial Plan") and related disclosure statement (the "Initial Disclosure Statement") which were not supported by either the Committee or Mr. Dondero. The Independent Board filed the Initial Plan and Initial Disclosure Statement in order to act as a catalyst for continued discussions with the Committee while it simultaneously worked with Mr. Dondero on the "grand bargain" plan.
- g. The Bankruptcy Court conducted a contested hearing on the Initial Disclosure Statement on October 27, 2020. The Committee and other parties objected to approval of the Disclosure Statement at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, which was eventually continued to November 23, 2020.
- h. Following the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing, the Debtor continued to negotiate with the Committee and ultimately resolved the remaining material disputes and led to the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement on November 23, 2020.
- i. Even after obtaining the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the Disclosure Statement, the Debtor and the Committee continued to negotiate with Mr. Dondero and the Committee over a potential "pot plan" as an alternative to the Plan on file with the Bankruptcy Court, but such efforts were unsuccessful. This history conclusively demonstrates that the Plan is being proposed in good faith within the meaning of section 1129(a)(3).

49. Payments for Services or Costs and Expenses (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(4)).

Article II.B of the Plan provides that Professionals will file all final requests for payment of Professional Fee Claims no later than 60 days after the Effective Date, thereby providing an adequate period of time for interested parties to review such claims. The procedures set forth in the Plan for the Bankruptcy Court's approval of the fees, costs, and expenses to be paid in connection with this chapter 11 Case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to this Chapter 11 Case, satisfy the objectives of and are in compliance with section 1129(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code.

50. Directors, Officers, and Insiders (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(5)).

Article IV.B of the Plan provides for the appointment of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee and the members thereto. For the reasons more fully explained in paragraphs 44-45 of this Confirmation Order with respect to the requirement of section 1123(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor has disclosed the nature of compensation of any insider to be employed or retained by the Reorganized Debtor, if applicable, and compensation for any such insider. The appointment of such individuals is consistent with the interests of Claims and Equity Interests and with public policy. Thus, the Plan satisfies section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code.

51. No Rate Changes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(6)).

The Plan does not provide for any rate change that requires regulatory approval. Section 1129(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code is thus not applicable.

52. Best Interests of Creditors (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(7)). The “best interests” test is satisfied as to all Impaired Classes under the Plan, as each Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest in such Impaired Classes will receive or retain property of a value, as of the Effective Date of the Plan, that is not less than the amount that such Holder would so receive or retain if the Debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. On October 15, 2020, the Debtor filed the Liquidation Analysis [Docket 1173], as prepared by the Debtor with the assistance of its advisors and which was attached as Exhibit C to the Disclosure Statement. On January 29, 2021, in advance of Mr. Seery’s deposition in connection with confirmation of the Plan, the Debtor provided an updated version of the Liquidation Analysis to the then-objectors of the Plan, including Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities. On February 1, 2021, the Debtor filed the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections. The Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections included updates to the Debtor’s projected asset values, revenues, and expenses to reflect: (1) the acquisition of an interest in an entity known as “HCLOF” that the Debtor will acquire as part of its court-approved settlement with HarbourVest and that was valued at $22.5 million; (2) an increase in the value of certain of the Debtor’s assets due to changes in market conditions and other factors; (3) expected revenues and expenses arising in connection with the Debtor’s continued management of the CLOs pursuant to management agreements that the Debtor decided to retain; (4) increases in projected expenses for headcount (in addition to adding two or three employees to assist in the management of the CLOs, the Debtor also increased modestly the projected headcount as a result of its decision not to engage a Sub-Servicer) and professional fees; and (5) an increase in projected recoveries on notes resulting from the acceleration of term notes owed to the Debtor by the following Dondero Related Entities: NexPoint Advisors, L.P.; Highland Capital Management Services, Inc.; and HCRE Partners, LLC (n/k/a NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC). Under the Plan, as of the Confirmation Date, (a) Class 7 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive 85% on account of their claims; and (b) Class 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive at least approximately 71% on account of their Claims. Under a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation, all general unsecured creditors are projected to receive approximately 55% on account of their Claims. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the distributions that Class 7 and 8 General Unsecured Creditors are projected to receive under the Plan substantially exceeds that which they would receive under a chapter 7 liquidation based on Mr. Seery's testimony, including the following credible reasons he posited, among others:

- a. The nature of the Debtor's assets is complex. Certain assets relate to complicated real estate structures and private equity investments in operating businesses. Mr. Seery's extensive experience with the Debtor during the thirteen months since his appointment as an Independent Director and later Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, provides him with a substantial learning curve in connection with the disposition of the Debtor's assets and are reasonably expected to result in him being able to realize tens of millions of dollars more value than would a chapter 7 trustee.
- b. Assuming that a hypothetical chapter 7 trustee could even operate the Debtor's business under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code and hire the necessary personnel with the relevant knowledge and experience to assist him or her in selling the Debtor's assets, a chapter 7 trustee would likely seek to dispose of the Debtor's assets in a forced sale liquidation which would generate substantially less value for the Debtor's creditors than the asset monetization plan contemplated by the Plan.
- c. A chapter 7 trustee would be unlikely to retain the Debtor's existing professionals to assist in its efforts to monetize assets, resulting in delays, increased expenses, and reduced asset yields for the chapter 7 estate.

- d. The chapter 7 estate would be unlikely to maximize value as compared to the asset monetization process contemplated by the Plan because potential buyers are likely to perceive a chapter 7 trustee as engaging in a quick, forced “fire sale” of assets; and
- e. The Debtor’s employees, who are vital to its efforts to maximum value and recoveries for stakeholders, may be unwilling to provide services to a chapter 7 trustee.

Finally, there is no evidence to support the objectors’ argument that the Claimant Trust Agreement’s disclaimed liability for ordinary negligence by the Claimant Trustee compared to a chapter 7 trustee’s liability has any relevance to creditor recoveries in a hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation. Thus, section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

53. Acceptance by Certain Classes (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(8)). Classes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 are Unimpaired under the Plan. Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claim), Class 7 (Convenience Claims), and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims) have each voted to accept the Plan in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, thereby satisfying section 1129(a)(8) as to those Classes. However, Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims), Class 10 (Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests), and Class 11 (Class A Limited Partnership Interests) have not accepted the Plan. Accordingly, section 1129(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code has not been satisfied. The Plan, however, is still confirmable because it satisfies the nonconsensual confirmation provisions of section 1129(b), as set forth below.

54. Treatment of Administrative, Priority, Priority Tax Claims, and Professional Fee Claims (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(9)). The treatment of Administrative Claims, Priority Claims, and Professional Fee Claims pursuant to Article III of the Plan, and as set forth below with respect to the resolution of the objections filed by the Internal Revenue Service and certain Texas taxing authorities satisfies the requirements of sections 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

55. Acceptance by Impaired Class (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(10)). Class 2 (Frontier Secured Claims) and Class 7 (Convenience Claims) are each Impaired Classes of Claims that voted to accept the Plan, determined without including any acceptance of the Plan by any insider. Therefore, the requirement of section 1129(a)(10) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

56. Feasibility (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(11)). Article IV of the Plan provides for the implementation of the Plan through the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor. The Plan provides that the Claimant Trust, among other things, will monetize and distribute the Debtor's remaining assets. The Disclosure Statement, the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections, and the other evidence presented at the Confirmation Hearing provide a reasonable probability of success that the Debtor will be able to effectuate the provisions of the Plan. The Plan contemplates the establishment of the Claimant Trust upon the Effective Date, which will monetize the Estate's assets for the benefit of creditors. Mr. Seery testified that the Class 2 Frontier Secured Claim will be paid over time pursuant to the terms of the New Frontier Note and the Reorganized Debtor will have sufficient assets to satisfy its obligations under this note. The Claims of the Holders of Class 7 Claims (as well as those Class 8 creditors who validly opted to receive the treatment of Class 7 Claims) are expected to be satisfied shortly after the Effective Date. Holders of Class 8 Claims (including any holders of Class 7 Claims who opted to receive the treatment provided to Class 8 Claims) are not guaranteed any recovery and will periodically receive pro rata distributions as assets are monetized pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, section 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code is satisfied.

57. Payment of Fees (11 U.S.C. § 1129(a)(12)). All fees payable under 28 U.S.C. § 1930 have been paid or will be paid on or before the Effective Date pursuant to Article XII.A of the Plan, thus satisfying the requirement of section 1129(a)(12) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor has agreed that the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be jointly and severally liable for payment of quarterly fees to the Office of the United States Trustee pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1930 through the entry of the Final Decree for the Debtor or the dismissal or conversion of the Chapter 11 Case.

58. Retiree Benefits. The Plan provides for the assumption of the Pension Plan (to the extent such Pension Plan provides “retiree benefits” and is governed by section 1114 of the Bankruptcy Code). Thus, the Plan complies with section 1129(a)(13) of the Bankruptcy Code, to the extent applicable.

59. Miscellaneous Provisions (11 U.S.C. §§ 1129(a)(14)-(16)). Sections 1129(a)(14)-(16) of the Bankruptcy Code are inapplicable as the Debtor (i) has no domestic support obligations (section 1129(a)(14)), (ii) is not an individual (section 1129(a)(15)), and (iii) is not a nonprofit corporation (section 1129(a)(16)).

60. No Unfair Discrimination; Fair and Equitable Treatment (11 U.S.C. § 1129(b)). The classification and treatment of Claims and Equity Interests in Classes 8, 10 and 11, which have not accepted the Plan, is proper pursuant to section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable pursuant to section 1129(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

- a. Class 8. The Plan is fair and equitable with respect to Class 8 General Unsecured Claims. While Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11 will receive a contingent interest in the Claimant Trust under the Plan (the “Contingent Interests”), the Contingent Interests will not vest unless and until holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims and Class 9 Subordinated Claims receive distributions equal to 100% of the amount of their Allowed Claims plus interest as provided under the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Accordingly, as the holders of Equity Interests that are junior to the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 will not receive or retain under the Plan on account of such junior claim interest any property unless and until the Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest, the Plan is fair and equitable with respect to holders of Class 8 General Unsecured Claims pursuant to section 1129(b)(2)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and the reasoning of In re Introgen Therapeutics 429 B.R 570 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2010).
- b. Class 10 and Class 11. There are no Claims or Equity Interests junior to the Equity Interests in Class 10 and Class 11. Equity Interests in Class 10 and 11 will neither receive nor retain any property under the Plan unless Allowed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full plus applicable interest pursuant to the terms of the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule with respect to Classes 10 and 11 pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 1129(b)(2)(C). The Plan does not discriminate unfairly as to Equity Interests. As noted above, separate classification of the Class B/C Partnership Interests from the Class A Partnerships Interests is appropriate because they constitute different classes of equity security interests in the Debtor, and each are appropriately separately classified and treated.

Accordingly, the Plan does not violate the absolute priority rule, does not discriminate unfairly, and is fair and equitable with respect to each Class that has rejected the Plan. Thus, the Plan satisfies the requirements of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to Classes 8, 10, and 11.

61. Only One Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1129(c)). The Plan is the only chapter 11 plan confirmed in this Chapter 11 Case, and the requirements of section 1129(c) of the Bankruptcy Code are therefore satisfied.

62. Principal Purpose (11 U.S.C. § 1129(d)). Mr. Seery testified that the principal purpose of the Plan is neither the avoidance of taxes nor the avoidance of the application of section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933, and no governmental unit has objected to the confirmation of the Plan on any such grounds. Accordingly, section 1129(d) of the Bankruptcy Code is inapplicable.

63. Satisfaction of Confirmation Requirements. Based upon the foregoing, the Plan satisfies the requirements for confirmation set forth in section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code and should be confirmed.

64. Good Faith Solicitation (11 U.S.C. § 1125(e)). The Debtor, the Independent Directors, and the Debtor's employees, advisors, Professionals, and agents have acted in good faith within the meaning of section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code and in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules in connection with all of their respective activities relating to the solicitation of acceptances of the Plan and their participation in the activities described in section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code, and they are entitled to the protections afforded by section 1125(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

65. Discharge (11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(3)). The Debtor is entitled to a discharge of debts pursuant to section 1141(d)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the Plan, the Claimant Trust or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, will continue to manage funds and conduct business in the same manner as the Debtor did prior to Plan confirmation, which includes the management of the CLOs, Multi-Strat, Restoration Capital, the Select Fund and the Korea Fund. Although the Plan projects that it will take approximately two years to monetize the Debtor's assets for fair value, Mr. Seery testified that while the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust will be monetizing their assets, there is no specified time frame by which this process must conclude. Mr. Seery's credible testimony demonstrates that the Debtor will continue to engage in business after consummation of the Plan, within the meaning of Section 1141(d)(3)(b) and that the Debtor is entitled to a discharge pursuant to section 1141(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code.

66. Retention of Jurisdiction. The Bankruptcy Court may properly retain jurisdiction over the matters set forth in Article XI of the Plan and/or section 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code to the maximum extent under applicable law.

67. Additional Plan Provisions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Plan's provisions are appropriate, in the best interests of the Debtor and its Estate, and consistent with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules, and Local Rules.

68. Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(2)). The Debtor has exercised reasonable business judgment with respect to the rejection of the Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases pursuant the terms of the Plan and this Confirmation Order, and such rejections are justified and appropriate in this Chapter 11 Case. The Debtor also filed the List of Assumed Contracts, which contain notices to the applicable counterparties to the contracts set forth on Exhibit "FF" to Plan Supplement filed on February 1, 2021 [Docket No. 1875] and which exhibit sets forth the list of executory contracts and unexpired leases to be assumed by the Debtor pursuant to the Plan (collectively, the “Assumed Contracts”). With respect to the Assumed Contracts, only one party objected to the assumption of any of the Assumed Contracts, but that objection was withdrawn.<sup>8</sup> Any modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to the Assumed Contracts that may have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of any Assumed Contract pursuant to the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption.

69. Compromises and Settlements Under and in Connection with the Plan (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)(3)). All of the settlements and compromises pursuant to and in connection with the Plan, comply with the requirements of section 1123(b)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

70. Debtor Release, Exculpation and Injunctions (11 U.S.C. § 1123(b)). The Debtor Release, Exculpation, and Injunction provisions provided in the Plan (i) are within the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1334; (ii) are integral elements of the transactions incorporated into the Plan, and inextricably bound with the other provisions of the Plan; (iii) confer material benefit on, and are in the best interests of, the Debtor, its Estate, and its creditors; (iv) are fair, equitable, and reasonable; (v) are given and made after due notice and opportunity for hearing; (vi) satisfy the requirements of Bankruptcy Rule 9019; and (vii) are consistent with the Bankruptcy Code and other applicable law, and as set forth below.

71. Debtor Release. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for the Debtor's release of the Debtor's and Estate's claims against the Released Parties. Releases by a debtor are discretionary and can be provided by a debtor to persons who have provided consideration to the Debtor and its estate pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(A) of the Bankruptcy Code. Contrary to the objections raised by Mr. Dondero and certain of the Dondero Related Entities, the Debtor Release is appropriately limited to release claims held by the Debtor and does not purport to release the claims held by the Claimant Trust, Litigation Sub-Trust, or other third parties. The Plan does not purport to release any claims held by third parties and the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Debtor Release is not a "disguised" release of any third party claims as asserted by certain objecting parties. The limited scope of the Debtor Release in the Plan was extensively negotiated with the Committee, particularly with the respect to the Debtor's conditional release of claims against employees, as identified in the Plan, and the Plan's conditions and terms of such releases. The Plan does not release (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction. The Debtor Release also contains conditions to such releases as set forth in Article X.D of the Plan with respect to employees (the “Release Conditions”). Until the an employee satisfies the Release Conditions or the Release Conditions otherwise terminate, any claims against such employee will be tolled so that if the Release Conditions are not met the Litigation Trustee may pursue claims against an employee at a later date. The evidence before the Bankruptcy Court, including, but not limited to Mr. Seery’s testimony, demonstrates that the Debtor is not aware of any claims against any of the Released Parties, that the Released Parties have been instrumental in assisting the Debtor’s efforts toward confirmation of the Plan and that, therefore, the releases are a quid pro quo for the Released Parties’ significant contributions to a highly complex and contentious restructuring. The Committee, whose members hold approximately $200 million in claims against the Estate, is highly sophisticated and is represented by highly sophisticated professionals, and has actively and vigorously negotiated the terms of the Debtor Release, which was the subject of significant controversy at the Initial Disclosure Statement hearing held by the Bankruptcy Court on October 27, 2020.

72. Exculpation. Section IX.C of the Plan provides for the exculpation of certain Exculpated Parties to the extent provided therein (the “Exculpation Provision”). As explained below, the Exculpation Provision is appropriate under the unique circumstances of this litigious Chapter 11 Case and consistent with applicable Fifth Circuit precedent. First, with respect to the Independent Directors, their agents, and their advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, the Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that it has already exculpated these parties for acts other than willful misconduct and gross negligence pursuant to the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was specifically agreed to by Mr. Dondero, who was in control of the Debtor up until entry of the January 9 Order. The January 9 Order was not appealed. In addition to the appointment of the Independent Directors in an already contentious and litigious case, the January 9 Order set the standard of care for the Independent Directors and specifically exculpated them for negligence. Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel each testified that they had input into the contents of the January 9 Order and would not have agreed to their appointment as Independent Directors if the January 9 Order did not include the protections set forth in paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order. Paragraph 10 of the January 9 Order (1) requires that parties wishing to sue the Independent Directors or their agents and advisors must first seek approval from the Bankruptcy Court before doing so; (2) sets the standard of care for the Independent Directors during the Chapter 11 Case and exculpated the Independent Directors for acts other than willful misconduct or gross negligence; (3) only permits suits against the Independent Directors to proceed for colorable claims of willful misconduct and gross negligence upon order of the Bankruptcy Court; and (4) does not expire by its terms.

73. Existing Exculpation of Independent Directors. The Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that it has already exculpated Mr. Seery acting in the capacity as Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order. The Bankruptcy Court concludes its previous approval of the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, advisors and employees working at their direction pursuant to the January 9 Order, and the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer pursuant to the July 16 Order constitutes the law of this case and are res judicata pursuant to In re Republic Supply Co. v. Shoaf, 815 F.2d 1046 (5th Cir.1987). The January 9 Order and July 16 Order cannot be collaterally attacked based on the objectors' objection to the exculpation of the Independent Directors, their agents, and advisors, including any employees acting at their direction, as well as the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, that the Bankruptcy Court already approved pursuant to the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order.

74. The Exculpation Provision Complies with Applicable Law. Separate and apart from the res judicata effect of the January 9 Order and the July 16 Order, the Bankruptcy Court also finds and concludes that the Exculpation Provision is consistent with applicable law, including In re Pacific Lumber Co., 584 F.3d 229 (5th Cir. 2009), for several reasons:

- a. First, the statutory basis for Pacific Lumber's denial of exculpation for certain parties other than a creditors' committee and its members is that section 524(e) of the Bankruptcy Code "only releases the debtor, not co-liable third parties." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d. at 253. However, Pacific Lumber does not prohibit all exculpations under the Bankruptcy Code and the court in such case specifically approved the exculpations of a creditors' committee and its members on the grounds that "11 U.S.C. § 1103(c), which lists the creditors' committee's powers, implies committee members have qualified immunity for actions within the scope of their duties.... [I]f members of the committee can be sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case, it will be extremely difficult to find members to serve on an official committee." Pacific Lumber, 253 F.3d at 253 (quoting Lawrence P. King, et al, Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 1103.05[4][b] (15th Ed. 2008)). Pacific Lumber's rationale for permitted exculpation of creditors' committees and their members (which was clearly policy-based and based on a creditors' committee qualified immunity flowing from their duties under section 1103(c) of the Bankruptcy Code and their disinterestedness and importance in chapter 11 cases) does not preclude exculpation to other parties in a particular chapter 11 case that perform similar roles to a creditors' committee and its members. The Independent Directors, and by extension the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer, were not part of the Debtor's enterprise prior to their appointment by the Bankruptcy Court under the January 9 Order. The Bankruptcy Court appointed the Independent Directors in lieu of a chapter 11 trustee to address what the Bankruptcy Court perceived as serious conflicts of interest and fiduciary duty concerns with the then-existing management prior to January 9, 2020, as identified by the Committee. In addition, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Independent Directors expected to be exculpated from claims of negligence, and would likely have been unwilling to serve in contentious cases absent exculpation. The uncontroverted testimony of Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel demonstrates that the Independent Directors would not have agreed to accept their roles without the exculpation and gatekeeper provision in the January 9 Order. Mr. Dubel also testified as to the increasing important role that independent directors are playing in complex chapter 11 restructurings and that unless independent directors could be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases they would be reluctant to accept appointment in chapter 11 cases which would adversely affect the chapter 11 restructuring process. The Bankruptcy Court concludes that the Independent Directors were appointed under the January 9 Order in order to avoid the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee and are analogous to a creditors' committee rather than an incumbent board of directors. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that if independent directors cannot be assured of exculpation for simple negligence in contentious bankruptcy cases, they may not be willing to serve in that capacity. Based upon the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court concludes that Pacific Lumber's policy of exculpating creditors' committees and their members from "being sued by persons unhappy with the committee's performance during the case or unhappy with the outcome of the case" is applicable to the Independent Directors in this Chapter 11 Case.<sup>9</sup>

- b. Second, the Bankruptcy Court also concludes that Pacific Lumber does not preclude the exculpation of parties if there is a showing that "costs [that] the released parties might incur defending against such suits alleging such negligence are likely to swamp either the Exculpated Parties or the reorganization." Pacific Lumber, 584 F.3d at 252. If ever there was a risk of that happening in a chapter 11 reorganization, it is this one. Mr. Seery credibly testified that Mr. Dondero stated outside the courtroom that if Mr. Dondero's pot plan does not get approved, that Mr. Dondero will "burn the place down." The Bankruptcy Court can easily expect that the proposed Exculpated Parties might expect to incur costs that could swamp them and the reorganization based on the prior litigious conduct of Mr. Dondero and his controlled entities that justify their inclusion in the Exculpation Provision.

<sup>9</sup> The same reasoning applies to the inclusion of Strand in the Exculpation Provision because Strand is the general partner of the Debtor through which each of the Independent Board members act.

75. Injunction. Section IX.D of the Plan provides for a Plan injunction to implement and enforce the Plan’s release, discharge and release provisions (the “Injunction Provision”). The Injunction Provision is necessary to implement the provisions in the Plan. Mr. Seery testified that the Claimant Trustee will monetize the Debtor’s assets in order to maximize their value. In order to accomplish this goal, the Claimant Trustee needs to be able to pursue this objective without the interference and harassment of Mr. Dondero and his related entities, including the Dondero Related Entities. Mr. Seery also testified that if the Claimant Trust was subject to interference by Mr. Dondero, it would take additional time to monetize the Debtor’s assets and those assets could be monetized for less money to the detriment of the Debtor’s creditors. The Bankruptcy Court finds and concludes that the Injunction Provision is consistent with and permissible under Bankruptcy Code sections 1123(a), 1123(a)(6), 1141(a) and (c), and 1142. The Bankruptcy Court rejects assertions by certain objecting parties that the Injunction Provision constitutes a “third-party release.” The Injunction Provision is appropriate under the circumstances of this Chapter 11 Case and complies with applicable bankruptcy law. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the terms “implementation” and “consummation” are neither vague nor ambiguous

76. Gatekeeper Provision. Section IX.F of the Plan contains a provision contained in paragraph AA of this Confirmation Order and which the Debtor has referred to as a gatekeeper provision (the “Gatekeeper Provision”). The Gatekeeper Provision requires that Enjoined Parties first seek approval of the Bankruptcy Court before they may commence an action against Protected Parties. Thereafter, if the Bankruptcy Court determines that the action is colorable, the Bankruptcy Court may, if it has jurisdiction, adjudicate the action. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the inclusion of the Gatekeeper Provision is critical to the effective and efficient administration, implementation, and consummation of the Plan. The Bankruptcy Court also concludes that the Bankruptcy Court has the statutory authority as set forth below to approve the Gatekeeper Provision.

77. Factual Support for Gatekeeper Provision. The facts supporting the need for the Gatekeeper Provision are as follows. As discussed earlier in this Confirmation Order, prior to the commencement of the Debtor's bankruptcy case, and while under the direction of Mr. Dondero, the Debtor had been involved in a myriad of litigation, some of which had gone on for years and, in some cases, over a decade. Substantially all of the creditors in this case are either parties who were engaged in litigation with the Debtor, parties who represented the Debtor in connection with such litigation and had not been paid, or trade creditors who provided litigation-related services to the Debtor. During the last several months, Mr. Dondero and the Dondero Related Entities have harassed the Debtor, which has resulted in further substantial, costly, and time-consuming litigation for the Debtor. Such litigation includes: (i) entry of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction against Mr. Dondero [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 10 and 59] because of, among other things, his harassment of Mr. Seery and employees and interference with the Debtor's business operations; (ii) a contempt motion against Mr. Dondero for violation of the temporary restraining order, which motion is still pending before the Bankruptcy Court [Adv. Proc. No. 20-03190 Docket No. 48]; (iii) a motion by Mr. Dondero's controlled investors in certain CLOs managed by the Debtor that the Bankruptcy Court referred to as frivolous and a waste of the Bankruptcy Court's time [Docket No. 1528] which was denied by the Court [Docket No. 1605]; (iv) multiple plan confirmation objections focused on ensuring the Dondero Related Entities be able to continue their litigation against the Debtor and its successors post-confirmation [Docket Nos. 1661, 1667, 1670, 1673, 1676, 1677 and 1868]; (v) objections to the approval of the Debtor's settlements with Acis and HarbourVest and subsequent appeals of the Bankruptcy Court's order approving each of those settlements [Docket Nos. 1347 and 1870]; and (vi) a complaint and injunction sought against Mr. Dondero's affiliated entities to prevent them from violating the January 9 Order and entry of a restraining order against those entities [Adv Proc. No. 21-03000 Docket No 1] (collectively, the "Dondero Post-Petition Litigation").

78. Findings Regarding Dondero Post-Petition Litigation. The Bankruptcy Court finds that the Dondero Post-Petition Litigation was a result of Mr. Dondero failing to obtain creditor support for his plan proposal and consistent with his comments, as set forth in Mr. Seery's credible testimony, that if Mr. Dondero's plan proposal was not accepted, he would "burn down the place." The Bankruptcy Court concludes that without appropriate protections in place, in the form of the Gatekeeper Provision, Mr. Dondero and his related entities will likely commence litigation against the Protected Parties after the Effective Date and do so in jurisdictions other than the Bankruptcy Court in an effort to obtain a forum which Mr. Dondero perceives will be more hospitable to his claims. The Bankruptcy Court also finds, based upon Mr. Seery's testimony, that the threat of continued litigation by Mr. Dondero and his related entities after the Effective Date will impede efforts by the Claimant Trust to monetize assets for the benefit of creditors and result in lower distributions to creditors because of costs and distraction such litigation or the threats of such litigation would cause.

79. Necessity of Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court further finds that unless the Bankruptcy Court approves the Gatekeeper Provision, the Claimant Trustee and the Claimant Trust Oversight Board will not be able to obtain D&O insurance, the absence of which will present unacceptable risks to parties currently willing to serve in such roles. The Bankruptcy Court heard testimony from Mark Tauber, a Vice President with AON Financial Services, the Debtor's insurance broker ("AON"), regarding his efforts to obtain D&O insurance. Mr. Tauber credibly testified that of all the insurance carriers that AON approached to provide D&O insurance coverage after the Effective Date, the only one willing to do so without an exclusion for claims asserted by Mr. Dondero and his affiliates otherwise requires that this Order approve the Gatekeeper Provision. Based on the foregoing, the Bankruptcy Court finds that the Gatekeeper Provision is necessary and appropriate in light of the history of the continued litigiousness of Mr. Dondero and his related entities in this Chapter 11 Case and necessary to the effective and efficient administration, implementation and consummation of the Plan and is appropriate pursuant to Carroll v. Abide (In re Carroll) 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017). Approval of the Gatekeeper Provision will prevent baseless litigation designed merely to harass the post-confirmation entities charged with monetizing the Debtor's assets for the benefit of its economic constituents, will avoid abuse of the court system and preempt the use of judicial time that properly could be used to consider the meritorious claims of other litigants. Any suit against a Protected Party would effectively be a suit against the Debtor, and the Debtor may be required to indemnify the Protected Parties under the Limited Partnership Agreement, which will remain in effect through the Effective Date, or those certain Indemnification and Guaranty Agreements, dated January 9, 2020, between Strand, the Debtor, and each Independent Director, following the Confirmation Date as each such agreement will be assumed pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365 pursuant to the Plan.

80. Statutory Authority to Approve Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds it has the statutory authority to approve the Gatekeeper Provision under sections 1123(a)(5), 1123(b)(6), 1141, 1142(b), and 105(a). The Gatekeeper Provision is also within the spirit of the Supreme Court’s “Barton Doctrine.” Barton v. Barbour, 104 U.S. 126 (1881). The Gatekeeper Provision is also consistent with the notion of a prefiling injunction to deter vexatious litigants, that has been approved by the Fifth Circuit in such cases as Baum v. Blue Moon Ventures, LLC, 513 F.3d 181, 189 (5th Cir. 2008), and In re Carroll, 850 F.3d 811 (5th Cir. 2017).

81. Jurisdiction to Implement Gatekeeper Provision. The Bankruptcy Court finds that it will have jurisdiction after the Effective Date to implement the Gatekeeper Provision as post-confirmation bankruptcy court jurisdiction has been interpreted by the Fifth Circuit under United States Brass Corp. v. Travelers Ins. Group, Inc. (In re United States Brass Corp.), 301 F.3d 296 (5th Cir. 2002) and EOP-Colonnade of Dallas Ltd. P’Ship v. Faulkner (In re Stonebridge Techs., Inc.), 430 F.3d 260 (5th Cir. 2005). Based upon the rationale of the Fifth Circuit in Villegas v. Schmidt, 788 F.3d 156, 158-59 (5th Cir. 2015), the Bankruptcy Court’s jurisdiction to act as a gatekeeper does not violate Stern v. Marshall. The Bankruptcy Court’s determination of whether a claim is colorable, which the Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to determine, is distinct from whether the Bankruptcy Court would have jurisdiction to adjudicate any claim it finds colorable.

82. Resolution of Objections of Scott Ellington and Isaac Leventon. Each of Scott Ellington (“Mr. Ellington”) and Isaac Leventon (“Mr. Leventon”) (each, a “Senior Employee Claimant”) has asserted certain claims for liquidated but unpaid bonus amounts for the following periods: 2016, 2017, and 2018, as set forth in Exhibit A to that certain Senior Employees’ Limited Objection to Debtor’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization [Docket No. 1669] (the “Senior Employees’ Objection”) (for each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon, the “Liquidated Bonus Claims”).

- a. Mr. Ellington has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $1,367,197.00, and Mr. Leventon has asserted Liquidated Bonus Claims in the aggregate amount of $598,198.00. Mr. Ellington received two Ballots<sup>10</sup> – a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Ellington completed and timely returned both of such Ballots, voted to reject the Plan, and elected to have his Class 8 Liquidated Bonus Claims treated under Class 7 of the Plan, subject to the objections and reservations of rights set forth in the Senior Employees’ Objection. If Mr. Ellington is permitted to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims, then the maximum amount of his Liquidated Bonus Claims will be $1,000,000.
- b. Mr. Leventon received two Ballots—a Ballot for Class 7 of the Plan and a Ballot for Class 8 of the Plan. Mr. Leventon completed and timely returned both of such Ballots and voted each such Ballots to rejected the Plan.
- c. The Senior Employees’ Objection, among other things, objects to the Plan on the grounds that the Debtor improperly disputes the right of Mr. Ellington to elect Class 7 treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims and Mr. Leventon’s entitlement to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment for his Liquidated Bonus Claims. The Debtor contended that neither Mr. Ellington or Mr. Leventon were entitled to elect to receive Class 7 Convenience Class treatment on account of their Liquidated

<sup>10</sup> As defined in the Plan, “Ballot” means the forms(s) distributed to holders of Impaired Claims or Equity Interests entitled to vote on the Plan on which to indicate their acceptance or rejection of the Plan.

Bonus Claims under the terms of the Plan, the Disclosure Statement Order or applicable law.

- d. The Debtor and Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon negotiated at arms' length in an effort to resolve all issues raised in the Senior Employee's Objection, including whether or not Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon were entitled to Class 7 Convenience Class treatment of their Liquidated Bonus Claims. As a result of such negotiation, the Debtor, Mr. Ellington, and Mr. Leventon have agreed to the settlement described in paragraphs 82(e) through 82(k) below and approved and effectuated pursuant to decretal paragraphs RR through SS (the "Senior Employees' Settlement").
- e. Under the terms of the Senior Employees' Settlement, the Debtor has the right to elect one of two treatments of the Liquidated Bonus Claims for a Senior Employee Claimant. Under the first treatment option ("Option A"), the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to be treated in Class 7 of the Plan, and the Liquidated Bonus Claims will be entitled to receive payment in an amount equal to 70.125% of the Class 7 amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims, subject to the Liquidated Bonus Claims becoming Allowed Claims under the terms of the Plan. Under this calculation, Mr. Ellington would be entitled to receive $701,250.00 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan, and Mr. Leventon would be entitled to receive $413,175.10 on account of his Class 7 Convenience Class Claim when and as Allowed under the Plan. If, however, any party in interest objects to the allowance of the Senior Employee Claimant's Liquidated Bonus Claims and does not prevail in such objection, then such Senior Employee Claimant will be entitled to a payment in an amount equal to 85% of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed on Class 7 Claims). In addition, under Option A, each of Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon would retain their respective rights to assert that the Liquidated Bonus Claims are entitled to be treated as Administrative Expense Claims, as defined in Article I.B.2. of the Plan, in which case the holder of such Liquidated Bonus Claims would be entitled to payment in full of the Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims. Under Option A, parties in interest would retain the right to object to any motion seeking payment of the Liquidated Bonus Amounts as Administrative Expenses.
- f. Under the second treatment option ("Option B"), the Debtor would agree that the Senior Employee Claimant has Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims, no longer subject to objection by any party in interest, in the amounts of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (subject, in the case of Mr. Ellington, to the cap imposed by Class 7). If the Debtor elects Option B as to a Senior Employee Claimant, then such Senior Employee Claimant would be entitled to a payment on account of his Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims in an amount equal to 60% of the amount of the Liquidated Bonus Claims (which, in Mr. Ellington's case, would be $600,000 and in Mr. Leventon's case, would be $358,918.80), and such payment would be the sole recovery on account of such Allowed Liquidated Bonus Claims.

- g. The Debtor may, with the consent of the Committee, elect Option B with respect to a Senior Employee Claimant at any time prior to the occurrence of the Effective Date. If the Debtor does not make an election, then Option A will apply.
- h. Under either Option A or Option B, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon will retain all their rights with respect to all Claims other than the Liquidated Bonus Amounts, including, but not limited to, their Class 6 PTO Claims, other claims asserted as Class 8 General Unsecured Claims, the Senior Employees' claims for indemnification against the Debtor, and any other claims that they may assert constitute Administrative Expense Claims, and any other such Claims are subject to the rights of any party in interest to object to such Claims, and the Debtor reserves any all of its rights and defenses in connection therewith.
- i. Subject to entry of this Confirmation Order and as set forth and announced on the record at the hearing on confirmation of the Plan and no party objecting thereto, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon agreed to change the votes in their respective Ballots from rejection to acceptance of the Plan and to withdraw the Senior Employees' Objection.
- j. The Senior Employees' Settlement represents a valid exercise of the Debtor's business judgment and satisfies the requirements for a compromise under Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a).
- k. For the avoidance of doubt, neither Mr. Leventon nor Mr. Ellington shall be a Released Party under the Plan regardless of how the Senior Employee Claimants' Claims are to be treated hereunder.

Based upon the foregoing findings, and upon the record made before the Bankruptcy Court at the Confirmation Hearing, and good and sufficient cause appearing therefor, it is hereby sufficient notice thereof. The Plan Modifications and the Plan Supplements constitute the Plan pursuant to section 1127(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. Accordingly, the Plan, as modified, is properly before the Bankruptcy Court and all votes cast with respect to the Plan prior to such modification shall be binding and shall apply with respect to the Plan.

ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT:

E. F. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtor. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or this Confirmation Order, on or after the Effective Date, all Reorganized Debtor Assets will vest in the Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges or other encumbrances pursuant to section 1141(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, except with respect to such Liens, Claims, charges, and other encumbrances that are specifically preserved under the Plan upon the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtor shall be the exclusive trustee of the Reorganized Debtor Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to the Reorganized Debtor Assets.

G. Effectiveness of All Actions. All actions contemplated by the Plan, including all actions in connection with the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, are authorized to be taken on, prior to, or after the Effective Date, as applicable, under this Confirmation Order, without further application to or order of the Bankruptcy Court, or further action by the directors, managers, officers or partners of the Debtor or the Reorganized Debtor and with the effect that such actions had been taken by unanimous action of such parties.

H. Restructuring Transactions. The Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, are authorized to enter into and effectuate the Restructuring provided under the Plan, including, without limitation, the entry into and consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Senior Employee Stipulation, the New GP LLC Documents, the New Frontier Note, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and the other Plan Documents, and may take any actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effect a corporate restructuring of its business or a corporate restructuring of the overall corporate structure of the Reorganized Debtor, as and to the extent provided in the Plan. Any transfers of assets or equity interests effected or any obligations incurred through the Restructuring pursuant to the Plan are hereby approved and shall not constitute fraudulent conveyances or fraudulent transfers or otherwise be subject to avoidance.

I. Preservation of Causes of Action. Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in the Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of the Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or this Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in the Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, this Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

J. Independent Board of Directors of Strand. The terms of the current Independent Directors shall expire on the Effective Date without the need for any further or other action by any of the Independent Directors. For avoidance of doubt, the Assumed Contracts include the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and James Seery; the Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and John Dubel and Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement between Highland Capital Management, Strand Advisors, Inc. and Russell Nelms and shall each remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the expiration of the terms of any Independent Directors.

K. Cancellation of Equity Interests and Issuance of New Partnership

Interests. On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be deemed cancelled, and all obligations or debts owed by, or Claims against, the Debtor on account of, or based upon, such Class A Limited Partnership Interests and Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests shall be deemed as cancelled, released, and discharged, including all obligations or duties by the Debtor relating to the Equity Interests in any of the Debtor's formation documents, including the Limited Partnership Agreement. As of the Effective Date and pursuant to the Plan, new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

L. Transfer of Assets to Claimant Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Claimant Trust all of its rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Claimant Trust Assets, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Claimant Trust Assets shall automatically vest in the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Claimant Trust Interests and the Claimant Trust Expenses, as provided for in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and such transfer shall be exempt from any stamp, real estate transfer, mortgage from any stamp, transfer, reporting, sales, use, or other similar tax. Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

M. Transfer of Estate Claims to Litigation Sub-Trust. On or prior to the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer and shall be deemed to have irrevocably transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust all of the Claimant Trust's rights, title, and interest in and to all of the Estate Claims as successor in interest to the Debtor, and in accordance with section 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Estate Claims shall automatically vest in the Litigation Sub-Trust free and clear of all Claims, Liens, encumbrances, or interests subject only to the Litigation Sub-Trust Interests and Litigation Sub-Trust Expenses. The Litigation Trustee will be authorized to investigate, pursue, and otherwise resolve the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan, including as successor in interest to the Debtor or Committee, as applicable, in any litigation commenced prior to the Effective Date in which Estate Claims are asserted.

N. Compromise of Controversies. In consideration for the distributions and other benefits, including releases, provided under the Plan, the provisions of the Plan constitute a good faith compromise and settlement of all Claims, Equity Interests, and controversies resolved under the Plan and the entry of this Confirmation Order constitutes approval of such compromise and settlement under Bankruptcy Rule 9019.

O. Objections to Claims. The Claims Objection Deadline shall be the date that is 180 days after the Effective Date, provided, however, that the Claims Objection Deadline may be extended by the Bankruptcy Court upon a motion by the Claimant Trustee and as otherwise provided under the Plan.

P. Assumption of Contracts and Leases. Effective as of the date of this Confirmation Order, each of the Assumed Contracts shall be assumed by the Debtor without the need for any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, under section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and the payment of Cures, if any, shall be paid in accordance with the Plan. Each Assumed Contract shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements related thereto, and all rights related thereto, if any, including all easements, licenses, permits, rights, privileges, immunities, options, rights of first refusal, and any other interests. Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to any of the Assumed Contracts that have been executed by the Debtor during the Chapter 11 Case shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of such Assumed Contracts or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith. Assumption of the Assumed Contracts pursuant to Article V.A of the Plan and full payment of any applicable Cure pursuant to the Plan shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Cures, Claims, or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition, or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any Assumed Contracts.

Q. Rejection of Contracts and Leases. Unless previously assumed during the pendency of the Chapter 11 Case or pursuant to the Plan, all other Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases are rejected as of the date of the entry of this Confirmation Order and pursuant to the terms of the Plan. To the extent that any party asserts any damages resulting from the rejection of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, such claim must be filed within thirty (30) days following entry of this Confirmation Order, or such claim will be forever barred and disallowed against the Reorganized Debtor.

R. Assumption of Issuer Executory Contracts. On the Confirmation Date, the Debtor will assume the agreements set forth on Exhibit B hereto (collectively, the “Issuer Executory Contracts”) pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code and Article V of the Plan. In full and complete satisfaction of its obligation to cure outstanding defaults under section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtor or, as applicable, any successor manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (collectively, the “Portfolio Manager”) will pay to the Issuers<sup>12</sup> a cumulative amount of $525,000 (the “Cure Amount”) as follows:

- a. $200,000 in cash on the date that is five business days from the Effective Date, with such payment paid directly to Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP (“SRZ”) in the amount of $85,714.29, Jones Walker LLP (“JW”) in the amount of $72,380.95, and Maples Group (“Maples” and collectively with SRZ and JW, the “Issuers’ Counsel”) in the amount of $41,904.76 as reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case; and
- b. $325,000 in four equal quarterly payments of $81,250.00 (each, a “Payment”), which amounts shall be paid to SRZ in the amount of $34,821.43, JW in the amount of $29,404.76, and Maples in the amount of $17,023.81 as additional reimbursement for the attorney’s fees and other legal expenses incurred by the Issuers in connection with the Debtor’s bankruptcy case (i) from any management fees actually paid to the Portfolio Manager under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Management Fees”), and (ii) on the date(s) Management Fees are required to be paid under the Issuer Executory Contracts (the “Payment Dates”), and such obligation shall be considered an irrevocable direction from the Debtor and the Bankruptcy Court to the relevant CLO Trustee to pay, on each Payment Date, the Payment to Issuers’ Counsel, allocated in the proportion set forth in such agreement; provided, however, that (x) if the Management Fees are insufficient to make any Payment in full on a Payment Date, such shortfall, in addition to any other amounts due hereunder, shall be paid out of the Management Fees owed on the following Payment Date, and (y) nothing herein shall limit either Debtor’s liability to pay the amounts set forth herein, nor the recourse of the Issuers or Issuers’ Counsel to the Debtor, in the event of any failure to make any Payment.

S. Release of Issuer Claims. Effective as of the Confirmation Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each Issuer on behalf of itself and each of its current and former advisors, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners, employees, beneficiaries, shareholders, agents, participants, subsidiaries, parents, successors, designees, and

ARTICLE IV. MEANS FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THIS PLAN

A. Summary

As discussed in the Disclosure Statement, the Plan will be implemented through (i) the Claimant Trust, (ii) the Litigation Sub-Trust, and (iii) the Reorganized Debtor.

On the Effective Date, all Class A Limited Partnership Interests, including the Class A Limited Partnership Interests held by Strand, as general partner, and Class B/C Limited Partnerships in the Debtor will be cancelled, and new Class A Limited Partnership Interests in the Reorganized Debtor will be issued to the Claimant Trust and New GP LLC – a newly-chartered limited liability company wholly-owned by the Claimant Trust. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, will ratify New GP LLC's appointment as general partner of the Reorganized Debtor, and on and following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will be the Reorganized Debtor's limited partner and New GP LLC will be its general partner. The Claimant Trust, as limited partner, and New GP LLC, as general partner, will execute the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, which will amend and restate, in all respects, the Debtor's current Limited Partnership Agreement. Following the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor will be managed consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement by New GP LLC. The sole managing member of New GP LLC will be the Claimant Trust, and the Claimant Trustee will be the sole officer of New GP LLC on the Effective Date.

Following the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust will administer the Claimant Trust Assets pursuant to this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Litigation Trustee will pursue, if applicable, the Estate Claims pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and the Plan. The Reorganized Debtor will administer the Reorganized Debtor Assets and, if needed, with the utilization of a Sub-Servicer, which administration will include, among other things, managing the wind down of the Managed Funds.

Although the Reorganized Debtor will manage the wind down of the Managed Funds, it is currently anticipated that neither the Reorganized Debtor nor the Claimant Trust will assume or assume and assign the contracts between the Debtor and certain Related Entities pursuant to which the Debtor provides shared services and sub-advisory services to those Related Entities. The Debtor believes that the continued provision of the services under such contracts will not be cost effective.

The Reorganized Debtor will distribute all proceeds from the wind down to the Claimant Trust, as its limited partner, and New GP LLC, as its general partner, in each case in accordance with the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. Such proceeds, along with the proceeds of the Claimant Trust Assets, will ultimately be distributed to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as set forth in this Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

Other rights and duties of the Litigation Trustee shall be as set forth in the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

2. Claimant Trust Oversight Committee

The Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the management and monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets, and the management of the Reorganized Debtor (through the Claimant Trust's role as managing member of New GP LLC) and the Litigation Sub-Trust will be overseen by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, subject to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as applicable.

The purpose of the Reorganized Debtor is discussed at greater length in ARTICLE IV.C.

4. Purpose of the Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Litigation Sub-Trust shall be established for the purpose of investigating, prosecuting, settling, or otherwise resolving the Estate Claims. Any proceeds therefrom shall be distributed by the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Claimant Trust for distribution to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries pursuant to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement generally will provide for, among other things:

Except as otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, the Claimant Trust Expenses shall be paid from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. The Claimant Trustee may establish a reserve for the payment of Claimant Trust Expense (including, without limitation, any reserve for potential indemnification claims as authorized and provided under the Claimant Trust Agreement), and shall periodically replenish such reserve, as necessary.

In furtherance of, and consistent with the purpose of, the Claimant Trust and the Plan, the Trustees, for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, shall, subject to reporting and oversight by the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee as set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement: (i) hold the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, (ii) make Distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as provided herein and in the Claimant Trust Agreement, and (iii) have the sole power and authority to prosecute and resolve any Causes of Action and objections to Claims and Equity Interests (other than those assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust), without approval of the Bankruptcy Court. The Trustees, on behalf of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable, may each employ, without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, employees and other professionals (including those previously retained by the Debtor and the Committee) to assist in carrying out the Trustees' duties hereunder and may compensate and reimburse the reasonable expenses of these professionals without further Order of the Bankruptcy Court from the Claimant Trust Assets in accordance with the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

The Claimant Trust Agreement and Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement may include reasonable and customary provisions that allow for indemnification by the Claimant Trust in favor of the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee. Any such indemnification shall be the sole responsibility of the Claimant Trust and payable solely from the Claimant Trust Assets.

6. Compensation and Duties of Trustees.

The salient terms of each Trustee's employment, including such Trustee's duties and compensation shall be set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, as appropriate. The Trustees shall each be entitled to reasonable compensation in an amount consistent with that of similar functionaries in similar types of bankruptcy cases.

7. Cooperation of Debtor and Reorganized Debtor.

To effectively investigate, prosecute, compromise and/or settle the Claims and/or Causes of Action that constitute Claimant Trust Assets (including Estate Claims), the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, and each of their professionals may require reasonable access to the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's documents, information, and work product relating to the Claimant Trust Assets. Accordingly, the Debtor and the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall reasonably cooperate with the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee, as applicable, in their prosecution of Causes of Action and in providing the Claimant Trustee and Litigation Trustee with copies of documents and information in the Debtor's possession, custody, or control on the Effective Date that either Trustee indicates relates to the Estate Claims or other Causes of Action.

The Debtor and Reorganized Debtor shall preserve all records, documents or work product (including all electronic records, documents, or work product) related to the Claims and Causes of Action, including Estate Claims, until the earlier of (a) the dissolution of the Reorganized Debtor or (b) termination of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

8. United States Federal Income Tax Treatment of the Claimant Trust.

Unless the IRS requires otherwise, for all United States federal income tax purposes, the parties shall treat the transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust as: (a) a transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets (other than the amounts set aside in the Disputed Claims Reserve, if the Claimant Trustee makes the election described in Section 7 below) directly to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries followed by (b) the transfer by the such Claimant Trust Beneficiaries to the Claimant Trust of such Claimant Trust Assets in exchange for the Claimant Trust Interests. Accordingly, the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be treated for United States federal income tax purposes as the grantors and owners of their respective share of the Claimant Trust Assets. The foregoing treatment shall also apply, to the extent permitted by applicable law, for state and local income tax purposes.

9. Tax Reporting.

(a) The Claimant Trustee shall file tax returns for the Claimant Trust treating the Claimant Trust as a grantor trust pursuant to Treasury Regulation section 1.671-4(a). (b) The Claimant Trustee shall be responsible for payment, out of the Claimant Trust Assets, of any taxes imposed on the Claimant Trust or its assets.

(c) The Claimant Trustee shall determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of such valuation, and such valuation shall be used consistently for all federal income tax purposes.

(d) The Claimant Trustee shall distribute such tax information to the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as the Claimant Trustee determines is required by applicable law.

The Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Causes of Action included in the Claimant Trust Assets (except for the Estate Claims) without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court, and the Claimant Trustee shall have the exclusive right, on behalf of the Claimant Trust, to sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in this Plan or in the Claimant Trust Agreement, without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Litigation Trustee shall have the exclusive right to institute, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, or withdraw any and all Estate Claims included in the Claimant Trust Assets without any further order of the Bankruptcy Court.

From and after the Effective Date, the Trustees, in accordance with section 1123(b)(3) and (4) of the Bankruptcy Code, and on behalf of the Claimant Trust, shall each serve as a representative of the Estate with respect to any and all Claimant Trust Assets, including the Causes of Action and Estate Claims, as appropriate, and shall retain and possess the right to (a) commence, pursue, settle, compromise, or abandon, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action in any court or other tribunal and (b) sell, liquidate, or otherwise monetize all Claimant Trust Assets.

11. Claimant Trust Expenses.

From and after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall, in the ordinary course of business and without the necessity of any approval by the Bankruptcy Court, pay the reasonable professional fees and expenses incurred by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and any professionals retained by such parties and entities from the Claimant Trust Assets, except as otherwise provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

12. Trust Distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

13. Cash Investments.

With the consent of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, the Claimant Trustee may invest Cash (including any earnings thereon or proceeds therefrom) in a manner consistent with the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided, however, that such investments are investments permitted to be made by a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of Treasury Regulation section 301.7701-4(d), as reflected therein, or under applicable IRS guidelines, rulings or other controlling authorities.

14. Dissolution of the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust.

The Trustees and the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as: (a) the Litigation Trustee determines that the pursuit of Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate Claims, (b) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of Causes of Action (other than Estate Claims) is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Causes of Action, (c) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of sales of other Claimant Trust Assets is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such sales of Claimant Trust Assets, (d) all objections to Disputed Claims and Equity Interests are fully resolved, (e) the Reorganized Debtor is dissolved, and (f) all Distributions required to be made by the Claimant Trustee to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries under the Plan have been made, but in no event shall the Claimant Trust be dissolved later than three years from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions, without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Claimant Trust Assets; provided, however, that each extension must be approved, upon a finding that the extension is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of the Claimant Trust Assets, by the Bankruptcy Court within 6 months of the beginning of the extended term and no extension, together with any prior extensions, shall exceed three years without a favorable letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service or an opinion of counsel that any further extension would not adversely affect the status of the Claimant Trust as a liquidating trust for federal income tax purposes.

Upon dissolution of the Claimant Trust, and pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement, any remaining Claimant Trust Assets that exceed the amounts required to be paid under the Plan will be transferred (in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee) in Cash or in-kind to the Holders of the Claimant Trust Interests as provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

1. Corporate Existence

The Debtor will continue to exist after the Effective Date, with all of the powers of partnerships pursuant to the law of the State of Delaware and as set forth in the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.

Any indemnification Claims under the Limited Partnership Agreement that accrued, arose, or could have been filed prior to the Effective Date will be resolved through the Claims resolution process provided that a Claim is properly filed in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, the Plan, or the Bar Date Order. Each of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust reserve all rights with respect to any such indemnification Claims.

If any payment or act under this Plan is required to be made or performed on a date that is not on a Business Day, then the making of such payment or the performance of such act may be completed on the next succeeding Business Day, but shall be deemed to have been completed as of the required date. If and to the extent there are Disputed Claims or Equity Interests, distributions on account of any such Disputed Claims or Equity Interests shall be made pursuant to the provisions provided in this Plan. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, Holders of Claims and Equity Interests shall not be entitled to interest, dividends or accruals on the distributions provided for therein, regardless of whether distributions are delivered on or at any time after the Effective Date.

The Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Trustees, and the Distribution Agent, and each of their respective agents, successors, and assigns shall have no obligation to recognize the transfer of any Claims against the Debtor or Equity Interests in the Debtor occurring after the Distribution Record Date and shall be entitled instead to recognize and deal for all purposes hereunder with only those record holders stated on the transfer ledgers as of the close of business on the Distribution Record Date irrespective of the number of distributions to be made under this Plan to such Persons or the date of such distributions.

To the extent a Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, within 30 days of the date on which such Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim pursuant to the terms of this Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall distribute from the Disputed Claims Reserve to the Holder thereof any prior distributions, in Cash, that would have been made to such Allowed Claim if it had been Allowed as of the Effective Date. For the avoidance of doubt, each Holder of a Disputed Claim that subsequently becomes an Allowed Claim will also receive its Pro Rata share of the Claimant Trust Interests. If, upon the resolution of all Disputed Claims any Cash remains in the Disputed Claims Reserve, such Cash shall be transferred to the Claimant Trust and be deemed a Claimant Trust Asset.

F. Rounding of Payments

Whenever this Plan would otherwise call for, with respect to a particular Person, payment of a fraction of a dollar, the actual payment or distribution shall reflect a rounding of such fraction to the nearest whole dollar (up or down), with half dollars being rounded down. To the extent that Cash to be distributed under this Plan remains undistributed as a result of the aforementioned rounding, such Cash or stock shall be treated as "Unclaimed Property" under this Plan.

G. De Minimis Distribution

Except as to any Allowed Claim that is Unimpaired under this Plan, none of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent shall have any obligation to make any Plan Distributions with a value of less than $100, unless a written request therefor is received by the Distribution Agent from the relevant recipient at the addresses set forth in ARTICLE VI.J hereof within 120 days after the later of the (i) Effective Date and (ii) the date such Claim becomes an Allowed Claim. De minimis distributions for which no such request is timely received shall revert to the Claimant Trust. Except as otherwise agreed by the Holder of a particular Claim or as provided in this Plan, all distributions shall be made pursuant to the terms of this Plan and the Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, distributions to any Holder of an Allowed Claim shall, to the extent applicable, be allocated first to the principal amount of any such Allowed Claim, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes and then, to the extent the consideration exceeds such amount, to the remainder of such Claim comprising accrued but unpaid interest, if any (but solely to the extent that interest is an allowable portion of such Allowed Claim).

I. General Distribution Procedures

The Distribution Agent shall make all distributions of Cash or other property required under this Plan, unless this Plan specifically provides otherwise. All Cash and other property held by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable, for ultimate distribution under this Plan shall not be subject to any claim by any Person.

If there is any conflict or discrepancy between the addresses set forth in (1) through (3) in the foregoing sentence, then (i) the address in Section (2) shall control; (ii) if (2) does not apply, the address in (1) shall control, and (iii) if (1) does not apply, the address in (3) shall control.

K. Undeliverable Distributions and Unclaimed Property

If the distribution to the Holder of any Allowed Claim is returned to the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust as undeliverable, no further distribution shall be made to such Holder, and Distribution Agent shall not have any obligation to make any further distribution to the Holder, unless and until the Distribution Agent is notified in writing of such Holder's then current address.

Any Entity that fails to claim any Cash within six months from the date upon which a distribution is first made to such Entity shall forfeit all rights to any distribution under this Plan and such Cash shall thereafter be deemed an Claimant Trust Asset in all respects and for all purposes. Entities that fail to claim Cash shall forfeit their rights thereto and shall have no claim whatsoever against the Debtor's Estate, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, or against any Holder of an Allowed Claim to whom distributions are made by the Distribution Agent.

L. Withholding Taxes

In connection with this Plan, to the extent applicable, the Distribution Agent shall comply with all tax withholding and reporting requirements imposed on them by any Governmental Unit, and all distributions made pursuant to this Plan shall be subject to such withholding and reporting requirements. The Distribution Agent shall be entitled to deduct any U.S. federal, state or local withholding taxes from any Cash payments made with respect to Allowed Claims, as appropriate. As a condition to receiving any distribution under this Plan, the Distribution Agent may require that the Holder of an Allowed Claim entitled to receive a distribution pursuant to this Plan provide such Holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Distribution Agent to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws. If a Holder fails to comply with such a request within one year, such distribution shall be deemed an unclaimed distribution. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the applicable recipient for all purposes of this Plan.

M. Setoffs

The Distribution Agent may, to the extent permitted under applicable law, set off against any Allowed Claim and any distributions to be made pursuant to this Plan on account of such Allowed Claim, the claims, rights and causes of action of any nature that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Distribution Agent may hold against the Holder of such Allowed Claim that are not otherwise waived, released or compromised in accordance with this Plan; provided, however, that neither such a setoff nor the allowance of any Claim hereunder shall constitute a waiver or release by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee of any such claims, rights and causes of action that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or Claimant Trustee possesses against such Holder. Any Holder of an Allowed Claim subject to such setoff reserves the right to challenge any such setoff in the Bankruptcy Court or any other court with jurisdiction with respect to such challenge.

N. Surrender of Cancelled Instruments or Securities

As a condition precedent to receiving any distribution pursuant to this Plan on account of an Allowed Claim evidenced by negotiable instruments, securities, or notes canceled pursuant to ARTICLE IV of this Plan, the Holder of such Claim will tender the applicable negotiable instruments, securities, or notes evidencing such Claim (or a sworn affidavit identifying the negotiable instruments, securities, or notes formerly held by such Holder and certifying that they have been lost), to the Distribution Agent unless waived in writing by the Distribution Agent.

O. Lost, Stolen, Mutilated or Destroyed Securities

In addition to any requirements under any applicable agreement and applicable law, any Holder of a Claim or Equity Interest evidenced by a security or note that has been lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed will, in lieu of surrendering such security or note to the extent required by this Plan, deliver to the Distribution Agent: (i) evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Distribution Agent of such loss, theft, mutilation, or destruction; and (ii) such security or indemnity as may be required by the Distribution Agent to hold such party harmless from any damages, liabilities, or costs incurred in treating such individual as a Holder of an Allowed Claim or Equity Interest. Upon compliance with ARTICLE VI.O of this Plan as determined by the Distribution Agent, by a Holder of a Claim evidenced by a security or note, such Holder will, for all purposes under this Plan, be deemed to have surrendered such security or note to the Distribution Agent.

The failure to satisfy or waive a condition to the Effective Date may be asserted by the Debtor regardless of the circumstances giving rise to the failure of such condition to be satisfied. The failure of the Debtor to exercise any of the foregoing rights will not be deemed a waiver of any other rights, and each right will be deemed an ongoing right that may be asserted at any time by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trust, as applicable.

C. Dissolution of the Committee

On the Effective Date, the Committee will dissolve, and the members of the Committee and the Committee's Professionals will cease to have any role arising from or relating to the Chapter 11 Case, except in connection with final fee applications of Professionals for services rendered prior to the Effective Date (including the right to object thereto). Nothing in the Plan shall prohibit or limit the ability of the Debtor's or Committee's Professionals to represent either of the Trustees or to be compensated or reimbursed per the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement in connection with such representation.

ARTICLE IX.
EXCULPATION, INJUNCTION AND RELATED PROVISIONS

A. General

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Plan to the contrary, the allowance, classification and treatment of all Allowed Claims and Equity Interests and their respective distributions and treatments under the Plan shall take into account the relative priority and rights of the Claims and the Equity Interests in each Class in connection with any contractual, legal and equitable subordination rights relating thereto whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise.

B. Discharge of Claims

To the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, all consideration distributed under this Plan will be in exchange for, and in complete satisfaction, settlement, discharge, and release of, all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever against the Debtor or any of its Assets or properties, and regardless of whether any property will have been distributed or retained pursuant to this Plan on account of such Claims or Equity Interests. Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Plan or the Confirmation Order, upon the Effective Date, the Debtor and its Estate will be deemed discharged and released under and to the fullest extent provided under section 1141(d)(1)(A) and other applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code from any and all Claims and Equity Interests of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, but not limited to, demands and liabilities that arose before the Confirmation Date, and all debts of the kind specified in section 502(g), 502(h), or 502(i) of the Bankruptcy Code.

C. Exculpation

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D of this Plan, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Exculpated Party will have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby exculpated from, any claim, obligation, suit, judgment, damage, demand, debt, right, Cause of Action, remedy, loss, and liability for conduct occurring on or after the Petition Date in connection with or arising out of (i) the filing and administration of the Chapter 11 Case; (ii) the negotiation and pursuit of the Disclosure Statement, the Plan, or the solicitation of votes for, or confirmation of, the Plan; (iii) the funding or consummation of the Plan (including the Plan Supplement) or any related agreements, instruments, or other documents, the solicitation of votes on the Plan, the offer, issuance, and Plan Distribution of any securities issued or to be issued pursuant to the Plan, including the Claimant Trust Interests, whether or not such Plan Distributions occur following the Effective Date; (iv) the implementation of the Plan; and (v) any negotiations, transactions, and documentation in connection with the foregoing clauses (i)-(iv); provided, however, the foregoing will not apply to (a) any acts or omissions of an Exculpated Party arising out of or related to acts or omissions that constitute bad faith, fraud, gross negligence, criminal misconduct, or willful misconduct or (b) Strand or any Employee other than with respect to actions taken by such Entities from the date of appointment of the Independent Directors through the Effective Date. This exculpation shall be in addition to, and not in limitation of, all other releases, indemnities, exculpations, any other applicable law or rules, or any other provisions of this Plan, including ARTICLE IV.C.2, protecting such Exculpated Parties from liability.

D. Releases by the Debtor

On and after the Effective Date, each Released Party is deemed to be, hereby conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever released and discharged by the Debtor and the Estate, in each case on behalf of themselves and their respective successors, assigns, and representatives, including, but not limited to, the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust from any and all Causes of Action, including any derivative claims, asserted on behalf of the Debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, matured or unmatured, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity, contract, tort or otherwise, that the Debtor or the Estate would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the holder of any Claim against, or Interest in, a Debtor or other Person.

Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the foregoing release does not release: (i) any obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement executed to implement the Plan, (ii) the rights or obligations of any current employee of the Debtor under any employment agreement or plan, (iii) the rights of the Debtor with respect to any confidentiality provisions or covenants restricting competition in favor of the Debtor under any employment agreement with a current or former employee of the Debtor, (iv) any Avoidance Actions, or (v) any Causes of Action arising from willful misconduct, criminal misconduct, actual fraud, or gross negligence of such applicable Released Party as determined by Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D (i) with respect to a Senior Employee, is conditioned in all respects on (a) such Senior Employee executing a Senior Employee Stipulation on or prior to the Effective Date and (b) the reduction of such Senior Employee's Allowed Claim as set forth in the Senior Employee Stipulation (such amount, the "Reduced Employee Claim"), and (ii) with respect to any Employee, including a Senior Employee, shall be deemed null and void and of no force and effect (1) if there is more than one member of the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee who does not represent entities holding a Disputed or Allowed Claim (the "Independent Members"), the Claimant Trustee and the Independent Members by majority vote determine or (2) if there is only one Independent Member, the Independent Member after discussion with the Claimant Trustee, determines (in each case after discussing with the full Claimant Trust Oversight Committee) that such Employee (regardless of whether the Employee is then currently employed by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee):

- sues, attempts to sue, or threatens or works with or assists any entity or person to sue, attempt to sue, or threaten the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation

Sub-Trust, or any of their respective employees or agents, or any Released Party on or in connection with any claim or cause of action arising prior to the Effective Date,

- has taken any action that, impairs or harms the value of the Claimant Trust Assets or the Reorganized Debtor Assets, or
- (x) upon the request of the Claimant Trustee, has failed to provide reasonable assistance in good faith to the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to (1) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets or Reorganized Debtor Assets, as applicable, or (2) the resolution of Claims, or (y) has taken any action that impedes or frustrates the Claimant Trustee or the Reorganized Debtor with respect to any of the foregoing.

Provided, however, that the release provided pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D will vest and the Employee will be indefeasibly released pursuant to this ARTICLE IX.D if such Employee's release has not been deemed null and void and of no force and effect on or prior to the date that is the date of dissolution of the Claimant Trust pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement.

By executing the Senior Employee Stipulation embodying this release, each Senior Employee acknowledges and agrees, without limitation, to the terms of this release and the tolling agreement contained in the Senior Employee Stipulation.

The provisions of this release and the execution of a Senior Employee Stipulation will not in any way prevent or limit any Employee from (i) prosecuting its Claims, if any, against the Debtor's Estate, (ii) defending him or herself against any claims or causes of action brought against the Employee by a third party, or (iii) assisting other persons in defending themselves from any Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee (but only with respect to Estate Claims brought by the Litigation Trustee and not collection or other actions brought by the Claimant Trustee).

E. Preservation of Rights of Action

Except as otherwise provided in this Plan, after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust will retain all rights to commence, pursue, litigate or settle, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action included in the Reorganized Debtor Assets or Claimant Trust Assets, as applicable, whether existing as of the Petition Date or thereafter arising, in any court or other tribunal including, without limitation, in an adversary proceeding Filed in the Chapter 11 Case and, as the successors in interest to the Debtor and the Estate, may, and will have the exclusive right to, enforce, sue on, settle, compromise, transfer or assign (or decline to do any of the foregoing) any or all of the Causes of Action without notice to or approval from the Bankruptcy Court.

2. Preservation of All Causes of Action Not Expressly Settled or Released

Unless a Cause of Action against a Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity is expressly waived, relinquished, released, compromised or settled in this Plan or any Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order), such Cause of Action is expressly reserved for later adjudication by the Reorganized Debtor or Claimant Trust, as applicable (including, without limitation, Causes of Action not specifically identified or of which the Debtor may presently be unaware or that may arise or exist by reason of additional facts or circumstances unknown to the Debtor at this time or facts or circumstances that may change or be different from those the Debtor now believes to exist) and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including, without limitation, the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, waiver, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise) or laches will apply to such Causes of Action as a consequence of the confirmation, effectiveness, or consummation of this Plan based on the Disclosure Statement, this Plan or the Confirmation Order, except where such Causes of Action have been expressly released in this Plan or any other Final Order (including, without limitation, the Confirmation Order). In addition, the right of the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust to pursue or adopt any claims alleged in any lawsuit in which the Debtor is a plaintiff, defendant or an interested party, against any Entity, including, without limitation, the plaintiffs or co-defendants in such lawsuits, is expressly reserved.

F. Injunction

Except as expressly provided in the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or a separate order of the Bankruptcy Court, all Enjoined Parties are and shall be permanently enjoined, on and after the Effective Date, with respect to any Claims and Equity Interests, from directly or indirectly (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner any suit, action, or other proceeding of any kind (including any proceeding in a judicial, arbitral, administrative or other forum) against or affecting the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (ii) enforcing, levying, attaching (including any prejudgment attachment), collecting, or otherwise recovering, enforcing, or attempting to recover or enforce, by any manner or means, any judgment, award, decree, or order against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iii) creating, perfecting, or otherwise enforcing in any manner, any security interest, lien or encumbrance of any kind against the Debtor or the property of the Debtor, (iv) asserting any right of setoff, directly or indirectly, against any obligation due to the Debtor or against property or interests in property of the Debtor, except to the limited extent permitted under Sections 553 and 1141 of the Bankruptcy Code, and (v) acting or proceeding in any manner, in any place whatsoever, that does not conform to or comply with the provisions of the Plan.

The injunctions set forth herein shall extend to, and apply to any act of the type set forth in any of clauses (i)-(v) of the immediately preceding paragraph against any successors of the Debtor, including, but not limited to, the Reorganized Debtor, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Claimant Trust and their respective property and interests in property.

Subject in all respects to ARTICLE XII.D, no Enjoined Party may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Protected Party that arose or arises from or is related to the Chapter 11 Case, the negotiation of the Plan, the administration of the Plan or property to be distributed under the Plan, the wind down of the business of the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the administration of the Claimant Trust or the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the transactions in furtherance of the foregoing without the Bankruptcy Court

The Bankruptcy Court will have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether a claim or cause of action is colorable and, only to the extent legally permissible and as provided for in ARTICLE XI, shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the underlying colorable claim or cause of action.

G. Duration of Injunctions and Stays

ARTICLE II. Unless otherwise provided in this Plan, in the Confirmation Order, or in a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court, (i) all injunctions and stays entered during the Chapter 11 Case and in existence on the Confirmation Date shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with their terms; and (ii) the automatic stay arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code shall remain in full force and effect subject to Section 362(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, and to the extent necessary if the Debtor does not receive a discharge, the Court will enter an equivalent order under Section 105.

All Claims and Debts shall be fixed and adjusted pursuant to this Plan. The Plan shall also bind any taxing authority, recorder of deeds, or similar official for any county, state, Governmental Unit or parish in which any instrument related to the Plan or related to any transaction contemplated thereby is to be recorded with respect to any taxes of the kind specified in Bankruptcy Code section 1146(a).

After the Effective Date, the Claimant Trustee shall File with the Bankruptcy Court quarterly reports when they become due, in a form reasonably acceptable to the U.S. Trustee. The Reorganized Debtor shall remain obligated to pay Statutory Fees to the Office of the U.S. Trustee until the earliest of the Debtor's case being closed, dismissed, or converted to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

B. Modification of Plan

Effective as of the date hereof and subject to the limitations and rights contained in this Plan: (a) the Debtor reserves the right, in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code and the Bankruptcy Rules, to amend or modify this Plan prior to the entry of the Confirmation Order with the consent of the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld; and (b) after the entry of the Confirmation Order, the Debtor may, after notice and hearing and entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court, amend or modify this Plan, in accordance with section 1127(b) of the Bankruptcy Code or remedy any defect or omission or reconcile any inconsistency in this Plan in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purpose and intent of this Plan.

C. Revocation of Plan

If the Debtor revokes or withdraws this Plan prior to the Confirmation Date, then: (i) this Plan shall be null and void in all respects; (ii) any settlement or compromise embodied in this Plan, assumption of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases effected by this Plan and any document or agreement executed pursuant hereto shall be deemed null and void except as may be set forth in a separate order entered by the Bankruptcy Court; and (iii) nothing contained in this Plan shall: (a) constitute a waiver or release of any Claims by or against, or any Equity Interests in, the Debtor or any other Entity; (b) prejudice in any manner the rights of the Debtor or any other Entity; or (c) constitute an admission, acknowledgement, offer or undertaking of any sort by the Debtor or any other Entity.

Neither the filing of this Plan, any statement or provision contained herein, nor the taking of any action by the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or any other Entity with respect to this Plan shall be or shall be deemed to be an admission or waiver of any rights of: (1) the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee with respect to the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests or other Entity; or (2) any Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest or other Entity prior to the Effective Date.

Neither the exclusion or inclusion by the Debtor of any contract or lease on any exhibit, schedule, or other annex to this Plan or in the Plan Documents, nor anything contained in this Plan, will constitute an admission by the Debtor that any such contract or lease is or is not an executory contract or lease or that the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee, or their respective Affiliates has any liability thereunder.

Except as explicitly provided in this Plan, nothing herein shall waive, excuse, limit, diminish, or otherwise alter any of the defenses, claims, Causes of Action, or other rights of the

Nothing in this Plan will increase, augment, or add to any of the duties, obligations, responsibilities, or liabilities of the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, under any executory or non-executory contract or lease.

If there is a dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory at the time of its assumption under this Plan, the Debtor, the Reorganized Debtor, or the Claimant Trustee, as applicable, shall have thirty (30) days following entry of a Final Order resolving such dispute to alter their treatment of such contract.

Notwithstanding any such holding, alteration or interpretation, the remainder of the terms and provisions of this Plan will remain in full force and effect and will in no way be affected, impaired, or invalidated by such holding, alteration, or interpretation. The Confirmation Order will constitute a judicial determination and will provide that each term and provision of this Plan, as it may have been altered or interpreted in accordance with the foregoing, is valid and enforceable pursuant to its terms.

DEBTOR’S MOTION FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER (I) AUTHORIZING THE (A) CREATION OF AN INDEMNITY SUBTRUST AND (B) ENTRY INTO AN INDEMNITY TRUST AGREEMENT AND (II) GRANTING RELATED RELIEF

The above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) hereby moves (the “Motion”), pursuant to sections 105(a) and 363(b) of title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101–1532 (the “Bankruptcy Code”), for the entry of an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (the “Proposed Order”), (i) authorizing the (a) creation of an indemnity subtrust (the “Indemnity Subtrust”), and (b) entry into an indemnity trust agreement (the “Trust Agreement”), and (ii) granting related relief.

INTRODUCTION<sup>2</sup>

1. Pursuant to this Motion, the Debtor requests authority to create the Indemnity Subtrust and enter into a Trust Agreement that is substantially consistent with terms set forth in the Term Sheet attached to this Motion as Exhibit B (collectively the “Indemnity Trust Documents”). As discussed below, the Indemnity Trust Documents will secure the indemnity obligations of the Claimant Trust, Litigation Trust and the Reorganized Debtor pursuant to the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Trust Agreement, the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement and the Plan (collectively the “Indemnity Obligations”).

2. The Debtor intends for the Indemnity Subtrust to be in lieu of directors’ and officers’ insurance (“D&O Insurance”), which the Debtor contemplated obtaining as a condition to the Effective Date for the benefit of the beneficiaries of the Indemnity Obligations. The Debtor and the Committee thoroughly explored the market for obtaining D&O Insurance. Based on such due diligence, the Debtor, in consultation with the Committee, determined that based, upon the prohibitive cost of D&O Insurance, securing the Indemnity Obligations through an Indemnity Subtrust is preferable and in the best interests of the Debtor’s estate and its creditors. Moreover, as discussed below, establishing the Indemnity Subtrust will facilitate the Effective Date of the Plan which the Debtor anticipates will occur on or about August 1, 2021, if the Court approves the Motion.

JURISDICTION

3. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Court”) has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2).

4. The bases for the relief requested herein are sections 105 and 363 of the Bankruptcy Code.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. The Debtor’s Bankruptcy Case

5. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Delaware Bankruptcy Court”).

6. On October 29, 2019, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) was appointed by the U.S. Trustee in the Delaware Bankruptcy Court. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Bankruptcy Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor’s chapter 11 case to this Court [Docket No. 186].<sup>3</sup>

7. The Debtor has continued in the possession of its property and has continued to operate and manage its business as a debtor-in-possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this chapter 11 case.

B. The Court's Confirmation of the Plan and Denial of Motions for a Stay Pending Appeal.

8. On February 22, 2021, after a two-day hearing, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order (i) Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization (as Modified) and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 1943] (the "Confirmation Order") with respect to the Debtor's Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., as modified (the "Plan").<sup>4</sup>

9. James Dondero and certain of his related entities (collectively, the "Dondero Entities") appealed the Confirmation Order [Docket Nos. 1957, 1966, 1970, 1972] and filed motions in this Court seeking a stay of the Confirmation Order pending appeal [Docket Nos. 1955, 1967, 1971, 1973] (the "Stay Motions"). This Court denied the Stay Motions [Docket Nos. 2084, 2095].

10. Certain of the Dondero Entities subsequently filed motions for stay pending appeal in the District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the "District Court"), in April 2021 (the "District Court Stay Motions").

11. In May 2021, following the grant of an expedited appeal by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, certain of the Dondero Entities filed motions for stay pending appeal in the Fifth Circuit in May 2021 (the "Appellate Stay Briefs") despite not having a ruling on the District Court Stay Motions. On June 21, 2021, the Fifth Circuit denied the Appellate Stay Briefs.

12. On June 23, 2021, the District Court denied the District Court Stay Motions.

<sup>4</sup> Unless otherwise noted, capitalized terms used herein have the meanings given to them in the Plan. The confirmed Plan included certain amendments filed on February 1, 2021. See Debtor's Notice of Filing of Plan Supplement to the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified), Ex. B [Docket No. 1875].

C. Conditions to the Effective Date of the Plan.

13. Article VIII of the Plan contains the conditions to the Effective Date of the Plan. The two conditions that have delayed the occurrence of the Effective Date are (i) the Confirmation Order becoming a Final Order and (ii) the Debtor obtaining D&O Insurance acceptable to the Debtor, the Committee, the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee, and the Litigation Trustee.

14. In addition, the Debtor determined, in the weeks following confirmation, that it would require exit financing in order to maintain sufficient liquidity for post-Effective Date operations and to comply with its obligations under the Plan. The facts and circumstances leading to the Debtor's decision to obtain exit financing are set forth in the Motion for Entry of an Order (i) Authorizing the Debtor to (a) Enter into Exit Financing Agreement in Aid of Confirmed Chapter 11 Plan and (b) Incur and Pay Related Fees and Expenses, and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 2229] (the "Exit Financing Motion"). The Court approved the Exit Financing at a hearing on June 25, 2021.

15. As discussed at the confirmation hearing, the Debtor encountered difficulty in obtaining D&O Insurance because of the litigiousness of the case and the threat that litigation would continue well beyond confirmation of the Plan. Nevertheless, after confirmation, the Debtor, working closely with the Committee, continued to pursue D&O Insurance. Ultimately, however, the Debtor, the Committee, and the Independent Board, including Mr. Seery, who will be the Claimant Trustee and manage the Reorganized Debtor, determined that the insurance that was available was both insufficient and too costly in light of the coverage being provided.

16. The Debtor, working closely with the Committee, subsequently investigated alternatives to traditional D&O Insurance that could provide the beneficiaries of the Indemnity Obligations protection after the Effective Date. The most attractive alternative was to create the Indemnity Subtrust, the approval of which is being sought through this Motion. If the Court approves this Motion, the Debtor will waive the condition to the Effective Date requiring the Confirmation Order to become a Final Order and thereby paving the way for the Plan to become effective.

D. Post-Effective Date Governance and Management

17. The Plan provides for the creation of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor on the Effective Date to facilitate the monetization of the Debtor's assets and the pursuit of Estate Claims for the benefit of the Debtor's creditors and stakeholders. As currently contemplated, the Claimant Trust will be overseen by James P. Seery, Jr., as the Claimant Trustee, and an Oversight Board, made up of the Debtor's largest creditors. The Claimant Trust is governed by the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement.<sup>5</sup> The Litigation Sub-Trust is governed by the terms of the Litigation Trust Agreement.<sup>6</sup> And the Reorganized Debtor will be governed by the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.<sup>7</sup> It is anticipated that Mr. Seery will be the Claimant Trustee and the chief executive officer of the Reorganized Debtor.

E. Post-Effective Date Indemnification

18. The terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Trust Agreement, and the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement each provide for a broad indemnification of the parties tasked with managing the implementation of the Plan (collectively, the "Indemnified

<sup>5</sup> The final Claimant Trust Agreement was filed as Exhibit R to Debtor's Notice of Filing of Plan Supplement to the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (with Technical Modifications) [Docket No. 1811] on January 22, 2021 (the "January Supplement").

Parties”).<sup>8</sup> The costs of indemnifying the Indemnified Parties (the “Indemnification Costs”) were provided for in the Plan and the Plan Documents. The Indemnification Costs would be treated as expenses and be paid before, and be senior to, distributions to the Debtor’s pre-petition creditors, i.e., the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. The relevant documents also authorized the reservation of assets sufficient to fund the Indemnification Costs.

A. The Indemnity Subtrust and Trust Agreement

19. As discussed above, the Debtor has determined that it is in the best interests of the Debtor’s estate and its stakeholders to create the Indemnity Subtrust pursuant to the terms of the Trust Agreement. The Indemnity Subtrust will be administered by a third-party corporate trustee. The Indemnity Trust will, as discussed below, be funded on the Effective Date with $2.5 million in cash and a note (the “Indemnification Note”) in the principal amount of $22.5 million with such amounts to be held in reserve and used solely to pay Indemnification Costs that are not otherwise paid or payable by the Claimant Trust, Litigation Trust, or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable.

20. As contemplated by the Plan and consistent with the Claimant Trust Agreement, the Litigation Trust Agreement, and the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, the Indemnification Costs have priority to other claims. The Indemnity Subtrust is the vehicle which ensures that adequate provision for such Indemnification Costs is made, notwithstanding the timing pursuant to which assets are monetized and distributions would otherwise be made to such beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust.

<sup>8</sup> The Indemnified Parties of (a) the Claimant Trust are (i) the Claimant Trustee (including each former Claimant Trustee), (ii) Delaware Trustee, (iii) the Oversight Board, and (iv) all past and present Members of the Oversight Board, and the employees, agents, and professionals of each of the foregoing; (b) the Litigation Trust are (i) the Litigation Trustee (including each former Litigation Trustee), (ii) the Oversight Board, and (iii) all past and present Members of the Oversight Board, and the employees, agents, and professionals of each of the foregoing; and (c) the Reorganized Debtor are (i) New GP LLC (as the Reorganized Debtor’s general partner) and each member, partner, director, officer, and agent thereof, (ii) each person who is or becomes an officer of the Reorganized Debtor, and (iii) each person who is or becomes an employee or agent of the Reorganized Debtor if New GP LLC determines in its sole discretion that such employee or agent should be indemnified. See Claimant Trust Agreement, § 8.2; Litigation Trust Agreement, § 8.2.; Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, §§ 10(b)-(c).

21. Certain material terms of the Trust Agreement and the Indemnity Subtrust are as follows:<sup>9</sup>

Beneficiaries:	The Indemnified Parties
Indemnity Trustee	A corporate trustee with appropriate trust powers under applicable state and/or federal law.
Indemnity Trust Administrator	Mr. Seery, initially in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in his individual capacity if no longer serving as the Claimant Trustee.
Indemnity Trust Corpus	At the inception of the Indemnity Trust, the trust corpus shall consist of the following, to be irrevocably contributed by the Grantor: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Cash of $2.5 million; and</li><li>2. the Indemnification Funding Note, in the principal amount of $22.5 million.</li></ol> The foregoing contributions are intended to create and maintain a balance of liquid assets in the Indemnity Trust Account of not less than $25 million (the "Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance").
Indemnification Funding Note	The Indemnification Funding Note will represent and document the Claimant Trustee's obligation to make additional cash deposits into the Indemnity Trust Account to satisfy the obligations of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor, each of which will be jointly and severally liable under the Indemnification Funding Note. After the initial funding of principal under the Indemnification Funding Note, the principal balance thereof will at all times equal the amount representing the difference between (i) the Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance and (ii) the balance of liquid assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account, as reported on the most recent quarterly statement issued by the Indemnity Trustee.
Withdrawal of Trust Assets	Consistent with the Indemnity Trust's purpose as a collateral mechanism, withdrawals from the Indemnity Trust Account are contemplated only following a tender of for indemnity pursuant to Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement and the failure of such Beneficiary to receive payment in full of such indemnity claim from the Claimant Trust within [30] days.
Duration of the Indemnity Trust	The Indemnity Trust will exist and remain in full force and effect until the earlier of (i) the expiry of all indemnification rights under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, due to expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations (as determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion), and (ii) the mutual agreement to terminate the Indemnity Trust by the Grantor and the Indemnity Trust Administrator.
Liquidation and Final Distribution of Trust Assets	Upon dissolution and liquidation of the Indemnity Trust, any assets remaining in the Indemnity Trust Account will be transferred to the Claimant Trust; provided, however, if the Claimant Trust is no longer in existence, then such distribution of the Indemnity Trust assets will be made according to the same distribution methodology contemplated in Section 9.2 of the Claimant Trust

<sup>9</sup> The following is by way of summary only. Parties are encouraged to read the entirety of the Term Sheet. In the event that the description set forth herein is in conflict with the Term Sheet, the Term Sheet will control. All terms are subject to change.

Governance of the Indemnity Trust

Agreement (or the successor to such numbered section) on the effective date of the termination of the Claimant Trust.

Consistent with the Indemnity Trust's purpose as a collateral mechanism, it is not contemplated that the Indemnity Trust will need any comprehensive governance system. For any action contemplated or required in connection with the operation of the Indemnity Trust, and for any guidance or instruction to be provided to the Indemnity Trustee, such function, rights and responsibility shall be vested in the Indemnity Trust Administrator, and the Indemnity Trustee will take written directions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in such form specified in the Indemnity Trust Agreement and otherwise satisfactory to the Indemnity Trustee.

Beneficiaries will not be involved in or have any rights with respect to the administration of the Indemnity Trust or have any right to direct the actions of the Indemnity Trustee with respect to the Indemnity Trust or the assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account, other than the Indemnity Trust Administrator in such capacity."

22. The Debtor believes that it has the support of the Committee with respect to the implementation of the Indemnity Subtrust. However, the Debtor and the Committee are still discussing the terms of the Trust Agreement and the foregoing terms may change. If the terms change, the Debtor will file an updated Term Sheet as necessary.

B. Entry into the Trust Agreement Is an Exercise of the Debtor's Sound Business Judgment and Should Be Approved

23. The Bankruptcy Code authorizes a debtor, after notice and a hearing, to "use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate." 11 U.S.C. § 363(b)(1). It is well established in this jurisdiction that a debtor may use property of the estate outside the ordinary course of business if there is a good business reason for doing so. See, e.g., Black v. Shor (In re BNP Petroleum Corp.), 642 F. App'x 429, 435 (5th Cir. 2016) (sale of debtors' assets under section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code must "be supported by an articulated business justification, good business judgment, or sound business reasons." (quoting Cadle Co. v. Mims (In re Moore), 608 F.3d 253, 263 (5th Cir. 2010)); Petfinders LLC v. Sherman (In re Ondova Ltd), 620 F. App'x 290, 291 (5th Cir. 2015) (sale of debtors' assets under section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code is exercise of the trustee's sound business judgment"); In re ASARCO, LLC, 441 B.R. 813, 830 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2010) (outside of the ordinary course of business, “for the debtor-in-possession or trustee to satisfy its fiduciary duty to the debtor, creditors, and equity holders, there must be some articulated business justification for using, selling, or leasing the property”) (quoting In re Continental Air Lines, 780 F.2d 1223, 1226 (5th Cir. 1986)), aff’d, 650 F.3d 593 (5th Cir. 2011).

24. To determine whether the business-judgment test is satisfied, courts require “a showing that the proposed course of action will be advantageous to the estate.” In re Pisces Energy, LLC, 2009 Bankr. LEXIS 4709, at *18 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Dec. 21, 2009). In the absence of a showing of bad faith or an abuse of business discretion, a debtor’s business judgment will not be altered. See, e.g., NLRB v. Bildisco & Bildisco (In re Bildisco), 682 F.2d 72, 79 (3d Cir. 1982), aff’d, 465 U.S. 513 (1984); Lubrizol Enter. v. Richmond Metal Finishers, Inc., 756 F.2d 1043, 1047 (4th Cir. 1985). “Great judicial deference is given” to the “exercise of business judgment.” GBL Holding Co. v. Blackburn/Travis/Cole, Ltd. (In re State Park Bldg. Grp.), 331 B.R. 251, 254 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2005).

25. Entry into and performance under the Trust Agreement and the creation of the Indemnity Subtrust is in the best interests of the Debtor’s estate and represents a sound exercise of the Debtor’s business judgment. The Effective Date of the Plan cannot occur unless it is certain that there will be sufficient resources to pay the Indemnification Costs. As the Court is unfortunately aware, the Dondero Entities’ strategy is to sue the Debtor’s current management and post-Effective Date management whenever possible. Mr. Dondero admitted as much during the hearing held on June 8, 2021. The Debtor is therefore under no illusions. There will be Indemnification Costs and, unfortunately, they probably will be significant.

26. For that reason, among others, without the ability to guarantee payment of the Indemnification Costs, the Debtor would not be able to engage competent management to oversee the implementation of the Plan, including the monetization of the Debtor's assets, prosecution of Estate Claims, and, ultimately, distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. As discussed above, execution of the Trust Agreement is in lieu of obtaining D&O Insurance which, because of Mr. Dondero's history of litigiousness and his notoriety in the insurance industry could not be obtained in a cost-effective manner.

27. The Indemnity Subtrust (when coupled with the Exit Facility) will allow the Plan to become effective and permit the Reorganized Debtor to monetize its assets and pay allowed claims, as contemplated under the Plan, while the Reorganized Debtor or Litigation Trustee, as applicable, simultaneously pursues Estate Claims and otherwise attempts to recover value for creditors.

28. For these reasons, the Debtor submits that entering into the Trust Agreement and the creation of the Indemnity Subtrust will be an exercise of its sound business judgment, in the best interests of the Debtor's estate, and should be approved.

C. Waiver of the Stay Period Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h) Is Proper

29. The Indemnity Subtrust is required to promptly implement the Effective Date. Consequently, the Debtor requests that the Court enter an order providing that the Debtor has established cause to exclude the relief requested herein from the fourteen-day stay period provided under Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h). Accordingly, the Debtor requests that the Order authorizing the Debtor to enter into the Trust Agreement be effective immediately upon entry such that the Debtor may proceed to complete the necessary related work to enable the prompt occurrence of the Effective Date.

Notice

30. Notice of this Motion shall be given to the following parties or, in lieu thereof, to their counsel, if known: (a) the Office of the United States Trustee; (b) the Office of the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas; (c) the Debtor's principal secured parties; (d) counsel to the Committee; and (e) parties requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. The Debtor submits that, in light of the nature of the relief requested, no other or further notice need be given.

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court enter an order, substantially in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit A, granting the relief requested in the Motion and such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

EXHIBIT B

TERM SHEET FOR INDEMNITY TRUST AGREEMENT

This Term Sheet sets forth the basic terms of a proposed trust (the “Indemnity Trust”) to provide collateral security supporting the indemnification obligations specified in (i) Section 8.2 of that certain Claimant Trust Agreement, effective as of [●], 2021 (the “Claimant Trust Agreement”), establishing that certain claimant trust (the “Claimant Trust”) pursuant to the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management L.P (as Modified) (the “Plan”), (ii) Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, establishing the Litigation Sub-Trust pursuant to the Plan, and (iii) Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement (as defined in the Plan), establishing the Reorganized Debtor (as defined in the Plan) pursuant to the Plan. The Indemnity Trust is based on the fundamental premise, as set forth under the Plan and consistent with the Claimant Trust Agreement and related documents, that the indemnification rights under the Claimant Trust are senior priority obligations of the Claimant Trust, relative to the classes of beneficiaries thereunder, and that adequate provision for such indemnification needs to be funded, notwithstanding the timing pursuant to which assets are realized by the Claimant Trust and distributions would otherwise be made to such beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust. The Indemnity Trust is not intended to address any qualifications, requirements or standards for indemnification; such matters are to be addressed solely under and pursuant to the standards set forth in Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. This Term Sheet assumes that the Indemnity Trust is intended solely as a collateral mechanism, to fund indemnification claims that were tendered to but not paid by the Claimant Trust, Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor within a reasonable period of time (thirty (30) days) following such claim being made. Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

Grantor	Claimant Trust, pursuant to the authority granted under Section 6.1(a) of the Claimant Trust Agreement.
Beneficiaries	The Beneficiaries of the Indemnity Trust shall be the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Indemnified Parties under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement and their respective employees, agents and professionals, which are also indemnitees under the same provision;</li> <li>2. “Indemnified Parties” under Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and their respective employees, agents and professionals, which are also indemnitees under the same provision; and</li> <li>3. “Covered Persons” under Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement.</li> </ol>
Indemnity Trustee	A corporate trustee with appropriate trust powers under applicable state and/or federal law.
Indemnity Trust Administrator	James P. Seery, Jr., initially in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in his individual capacity if no longer serving as

	the Claimant Trustee. If James P. Seery, Jr. voluntarily resigns or is unable to serve as Indemnity Trust Administrator, his legal successors or assigns. If Cause (as defined in the Claimant Trust Agreement) to remove James P. Seery Jr. or the then current Indemnity Trust Administrator is shown by final order of a court of competent jurisdiction, a successor chosen by the Claimant Trustee. Governance of the Indemnity Trust shall be effected by and through the Indemnity Trust Administrator (see “Governance”).
Indemnity Trust Corpus	At the inception of the Indemnity Trust, the trust corpus shall consist of the following, to be irrevocably contributed by the Grantor: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Cash of $2.5 million; and</li> <li>2. the Indemnification Funding Note, in the principal amount of $22.5 million.</li> </ol> The foregoing contributions are intended to create and maintain a balance of liquid assets in the Indemnity Trust Account of not less than $25 million (the “Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance”).
Indemnification Funding Note	The Indemnification Funding Note will represent and document the Claimant Trustee’s obligation to make additional cash deposits into the Indemnity Trust Account to satisfy the obligations of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor, each of which will be jointly and severally liable under the Indemnification Funding Note; such deposits are intended to ensure proper allocation of the respective assets of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust and the Reorganized Debtor to the Indemnity Trust upon material monetizations by the Claimant Trust, reflective of the Claimant Trustee’s power to reserve for senior indemnity claims under Section 6.1(a) of the Claimant Trust Agreement. Payments under the Indemnification Funding Note will be senior in priority to any distributions to the Claimant Trust beneficiaries. The initial principal amount of the Indemnification Funding Note will be $22.5 million, representing the extent of the additional collateral to be allocated to the Indemnity Trust, such that the Indemnity Trust Account

	will maintain the Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance. The initial principal amount of the Indemnification Funding Note will be paid in full or in part on the earlier of (a) demand for payment from the Indemnity Trust Administrator or (b) the date at which the net asset value (asset value net of liabilities and expense reserves) is less than 200% of the principal amount of the Indemnification Funding Note. Subject to the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will have sole and absolute discretion to determine the timing and amount of the payments of the initial principal amount of the Indemnification Funding Note consistent with his view of liquidity needs of the Claimant Trust and related entities and the requirements of any financing agreement binding on the Claimant Trust. Upon the Claimant Trustee's determination that such a payment should be made, the amount of the payment shall be due within five (5) days of such a determination. After the initial funding of principal under the Indemnification Funding Note, the principal balance thereof will at all times equal the amount representing the difference between (i) the Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance and (ii) the balance of liquid assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account, as reported on the most recent quarterly statement issued by the Indemnity Trustee. Such principal balance of the Indemnification Funding Note will be documented by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and will be paid in full, in a manner determined by the Claimant Trustee consistent with the procedures set forth in the immediately preceding paragraph hereof. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing payments under the Indemnification Funding Note will be senior to any distribution to beneficiaries under the Claimant Trust. In the event that the liquid assets of the Claimant Trust are insufficient to satisfy the foregoing payments, the Claimant Trustee must take all reasonable action to satisfy such obligations under the Indemnification Funding Note, including accessing any available credit lines or third-party leverage, and no current payments to Claimant Trust beneficiaries will be made until all current amounts due under the Indemnification Funding Note have been made. Consistent with the foregoing, upon written request of the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the Claimant Trustee shall provide collateral to secure any amounts due or which may become due under the Indemnification Funding Note, including the posting of a bank letter of

	credit, under terms acceptable to the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnification Funding Note will not bear interest, other than that which must be imputed under applicable law. All amounts due under the Indemnification Funding Note shall be absolute, regardless of their characterization.
Indemnity Trust Account	A custodial account to be maintained/held by the Indemnity Trustee. The trust corpus and other assets of the Indemnity Trust shall be held in such Indemnity Trust Account maintained by the Indemnity Trustee, for the benefit of the Beneficiaries. Any investment income (see “Investment of Trust Assets”) shall be retained in the Indemnity Trust Account and will be included in the balance of Indemnity Trust Corpus. Any investment income, investment loss and Withdrawals of Trust Assets will be included in the determination of whether the Indemnity Trust Account Minimum Balance has been achieved (see “Indemnification Funding Note”).
Reports and Account Statements	The Indemnity Trustee will provide comprehensive Indemnity Trust Account statements to the Beneficiaries and the Indemnity Trust Administrator on a quarterly basis, beginning at inception. Such statements will include the balance of the assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account as of the subject reporting date, plus a full accounting of all deposits (including amounts collected under the Indemnification Funding Note and any investment income) and any withdrawals/distributions made during the subject period and the effect of any investment losses. Such statements may be redacted for any sensitive information, as determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion.
Withdrawal of Trust Assets	Consistent with the Indemnity Trust’s purpose as a collateral mechanism, withdrawals from the Indemnity Trust Account are contemplated only following a tender of for indemnity pursuant to Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub Trust Agreement, or the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement and the failure of such Beneficiary to receive payment in full of such indemnity claim from the Claimant Trust within 30 days. It is expressly contemplated that in the ordinary course of their respective businesses, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the Reorganized Debtor will pay the costs and expenses of

	defending indemnified claims as well as the amount of any such claims if successful. The Indemnity Trust will serve as a source of indemnification for such claims as provided herein in the event that any of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Reorganized Debtor, as the case may be, does not pay such claims. A request for withdrawal of assets from the Indemnity Trust Account must be presented to the Indemnity Trustee, with a copy to the Indemnity Trust Administrator, and must be accompanied by an written certification of the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A claim for indemnification was made under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub Trust Agreement, or the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, accompanied by a copy of such claim and all underlying documentation.</li> <li>2. The Beneficiary did not receive full payment with respect to such indemnification claim with 30 days.</li> </ol> Following the receipt of the above information, the Indemnity Trust Administrator will issue a withdrawal/distribution order to the Indemnity Trustee, with a copy to the claiming Beneficiary. Upon receipt of such order, the Indemnity Trustee will pay the full amount of the requested distribution to the subject Beneficiary; such payment will be made within 3 business days of receipt. In the event that a claiming Beneficiary receives payment with respect to the subject indemnity claim from the Claimant Trust or any other source, such Beneficiary must promptly notify the Indemnity Trustee and the Indemnity Trust Administrator, and the subject request for payment from the Indemnity Trust will be revised accordingly; to the extent that any such amounts were already received from the Indemnity Trust, such amounts must be repaid to the Indemnity Trust Account, without interest.
Duration of the Indemnity Trust	The Indemnity Trust will exist and remain in full force and effect until the earlier of (i) the expiry of all indemnification rights under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub Trust Agreement, and the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement due to expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations (as determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion), and (ii)

	the mutual agreement to terminate the Indemnity Trust by the Grantor and the Indemnity Trust Administrator. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the liquidation or termination of the Claimant Trust nor the legal existence of the Grantor or any other party thereto will have any effect on the legal existence of the Indemnity Trust.
Wind-down	Upon the determination of the Indemnity Trust Administrator that the Claimant Trust has substantially completed its efforts to monetize and distribute its assets or such earlier date that the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall determine, the Indemnity Trust Administrator and the Claimant Trust Oversight Committee shall work in good faith to replace the Indemnity Funding Note with a suitable third-party insurance policy.
Liquidation and Final Distribution of Trust Assets	Upon dissolution and liquidation of the Indemnity Trust, any assets remaining in the Indemnity Trust Account will be transferred to the Claimant Trust; provided, however, if the Claimant Trust is no longer in existence, then such distribution of the Indemnity Trust assets will be made according to the same distribution methodology contemplated in Section 9.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement (or the successor to such numbered section) on the effective date of the termination of the Claimant Trust.
Limitations on Transferability	A beneficial interest in the Indemnity Trust may not be transferred, assigned or hypothecated without the consent of the Indemnity Trust Administrator in his sole and absolute discretion, provided that such transfer, assignment or hypothecation does not confer upon such assignee status as a Beneficiary under the Indemnity Trust. The Indemnity Trust Administrator may impose such conditions and other terms upon any transfer, assignment or hypothecation as he considers appropriate, in his sole and absolute discretion. In the event of an assignment, the foregoing limitations on transferability will continue to apply in all respects to such beneficial interest and will be binding on the assignee of such beneficial interest.
Governance of the Indemnity Trust	Consistent with the Indemnity Trust's purpose as a collateral mechanism, it is not contemplated that the Indemnity Trust will need any comprehensive governance system. For any action contemplated or required in connection with the operation of the Indemnity Trust, and for any guidance or instruction to be provided to the Indemnity Trustee, such function, rights and responsibility shall be vested in the Indemnity Trust Administrator, and the Indemnity Trustee will take written directions from the

	Indemnity Trust Administrator, in such form specified in the Indemnity Trust Agreement and otherwise satisfactory to the Indemnity Trustee. Consistent with the foregoing, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall have the power to take any actions the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion, deems desirable or necessary in connection with the operation of the Indemnity Trust. The Indemnity Trust Administrator will have the power and authority to retain such experts and other advisors, including financial consultants and legal counsel, as he considers appropriate to address any matter relating to the Indemnity Trust. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to the extent the Indemnity Trust Administrator identifies any conflict of interest in his roles as the Claimant Trustee, on the one hand, and the Indemnity Trust Administrator, on the other, or otherwise relating to the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trust Administrator may retain such experts, including legal counsel, as he, in his sole and absolute discretion, considers appropriate to evaluate and resolve any such conflict of interest. The cost of any such advisors/experts/counsel will be paid by the Claimant Trust, and if not paid in a timely fashion, can represent a claim for indemnity under the Indemnity Trust Agreement (see “Withdrawal of Trust Assets”). Beneficiaries will not be involved in or have any rights with respect to the administration of the Indemnity Trust or have any right to direct the actions of the Indemnity Trustee with respect to the Indemnity Trust or the assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account, other than the Indemnity Trust Administrator in such capacity.”
Indemnification of Indemnity Trustee	The Indemnity Trustee and the Indemnity Trust Administrator will be provided customary indemnification rights typical for a collateral trust of this type.
Nature and Evidence of Beneficial Interest	A beneficial interest in the Indemnity Trust will not entitle a Beneficiary to any direct right, title or interest in or to the specific assets held in the Indemnity Trust Account, and no Beneficiary will have any right to call for a partition or division of such assets. A beneficial interest in the Indemnity Trust will not be evidenced by any certificate, security, receipt or any other instrument. The Indemnity Trust Administrator will maintain a record of the Beneficiaries and their respective beneficial interests in the Indemnity Trust.

	Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Indemnity Trustee or the Indemnity Trust Administrator will be authorized to provide evidence of beneficiary status upon request by a Beneficiary.
Investment of Trust Assets	The cash or other liquid assets in the Indemnity Trust Account will be invested in a manner consistent with that set forth in Section 3.4 of the Claimant Trust Agreement; provided, however, the approval of the Oversight Board will not be needed. Such investment function will be overseen by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and effected by the Indemnity Trustee.
Governing Law	The Indemnity Trust Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.
Venue	Each of the parties consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court of the Northern District of Texas for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Indemnity Trust Agreement or any act or omission of the Indemnity Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Indemnity Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Indemnity Trust Agreement); provided, however, that if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such action may be brought in the state or federal courts located in the Northern District of Texas

Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 363(b) and 105(a), the Debtor is authorized (i) to enter into and perform under the Trust Agreement and consummate the transactions contemplated thereby, including the creation of the Indemnity Subtrust., and (ii) to negotiate, prepare, execute, and deliver all documents and take such other action as may be necessary or appropriate to implement, effectuate, and fully perform its obligations as and when they are incurred and come due under the Trust Agreement.

3. The terms and provisions of this Order shall be binding in all respects upon all parties in this chapter 11 case, the Debtor, its estate, and all successors and assigns thereof.

4. Notwithstanding the possible applicability of Bankruptcy Rule 6004(h) or otherwise, the terms and conditions of this Order shall be immediately effective and enforceable upon its entry.

5. The Debtor is authorized to take all actions necessary to effectuate the relief granted in this Order in accordance with the Motion.

6. This Court retains exclusive jurisdiction with respect to all matters arising from or related to the implementation, interpretation, and enforcement of this Order.

Chapter 11

Case N. 19-34054 (SGJ)

MOTION FOR DETERMINATION OF THE VALUE OF THE ESTATE AND ASSETS HELD BY THE CLAIMANT TRUST

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this Motion, the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) respectfully seeks a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors, as contemplated by the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization, as Amended (the “Plan”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor” or “HCMLP”). Notably, although the latest quarterly operating report filed by the Reorganized Debtor projects a distribution to creditors totaling $205 million (a scant $11 million more than what the Debtor projected in its Plan Disclosure), Dugaboy has reason to believe that the mix of assets held by the Claimant Trust has changed dramatically since this Court confirmed the Plan and that the estate presently has sufficient cash and other assets with which to pay creditors in full plus interest. At the same time, the Reorganized Debtor has reported that it has paid to professionals nearly $70 million since the Effective Date of the Plan—an enormous burn for an estate that projects payment of fractionally more to creditors. And extrapolating from the Reorganized Debtor’s most recent financial reporting, it appears that the estate has reserved or accrued for tens of millions of dollars of additional professional fees.

2. Notably, the Court previously described Dugaboy’s interest in the estate as “extremely remote,” a finding based solely on a projection as of February 2021. See Order dated February 22, 2021, Dkt. 1943 (“Plan Confirmation Order”) at ¶ 19; see also id., ¶ 18. That projection was made at an arbitrary point in time (now 16 months ago) and was based on the value of assets then held by the estate, which necessarily fluctuates. But the value of the assets available for distribution to creditors is vastly different today than it was in February of 2021. We know this because certain assets have been liquidated, transforming what were once projections into finite values, and other assets have increased in value. Dugaboy believes that the combination of assets and cash held by the Claimant Trust in its own name and held in various funds, reserve accounts, and subsidiaries—if liquidated—would be sufficient to pay all Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in full with interest or, at the very least, come very close. In other words, based upon reality as opposed to the Debtor’s projections 16 months ago, the nature of Dugaboy’s interest in the estate—and its standing to seek redress in the bankruptcy proceedings—cannot now be classified as remote.

3. By way of example only, at the time of the Debtor’s settlement with HarbourVest, it reported the value of HarbourVest’s interest in Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. (“HCLOF”) as $22 million. See Dkt 1625, p.9 at fn. 5. But based on the research Dugaboy has done, HarbourVest’s interest in HCLOF was worth closer to $45 million at the time the Debtor acquired that interest and is worth approximately $75 million today, with the majority of the value held in cash.<sup>1</sup>

4. Dugaboy's interest in the estate is very much real and realizable because there is a potential for significant payment to residual equity holders, and the way in which the estate is managed (including its expenses for such management) could detrimentally affect Dugaboy's financial interests. Indeed, Dugaboy believes that the estate has ample cash and other assets with which to pay all creditors in full, with interest, and to pay a return to residual equity holders like Dugaboy. In particular, Dugaboy believes that the Claimant Trustee has sold all but four major assets of the estate, bringing the value of the Claimant Trust to approximately $685 million, including almost $300 million in cash. In other words, the funds available to pay creditors and equity holders has grown tremendously since Plan confirmation. This difference in value is important—and underscores the need for this Motion—because, if accurate, it means that professionals representing the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust are litigating claims against Dugaboy, Hunter Mountain, and others, even though the only beneficiaries of any recovery from such litigation will be Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain. In other words, Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain are essentially footing the bill for huge legal fees so that the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust can sue them only to return any recoveries back to them. Dugaboy has a very significant interest in a determination as to whether sufficient funds currently exist or will exist to pay all creditors in full such that the estate and its professionals can stop incurring professional fees to pursue unnecessary litigation.

5. Even if the estate does not have sufficient assets at present to pay all allowed claims in full with interest, a determination of the current value of the estate would still benefit all creditors, residual equity holders, and parties-in-interest because such a determination would reveal the spread between the estate's asset value (exclusive of various adversary proceedings, is entitled to 50.62% as a result of the acquisition of the HarbourVest interest, or $26.8 million. HCLOF also had significant holdings in the Highland CLOs, which held, among other assets, MGM stock. See Dkt. 1235 at ¶¶ 1-2. {00378347-2} including the notes lawsuits and the Kirschner litigation) and the estate's net liabilities to creditors. If all interested parties were able to understand that spread, it could facilitate a settlement that would achieve payment of creditors in full and resolution of all outstanding litigation while preventing the further enormous burn occasioned by legal fees and other costs currently borne by the estate (nearly $70 million since the Effective Date and accruing at a rate of what Dugaboy estimates to be approximately $5-$7 million/month).<sup>2</sup>

6. Accordingly, this Motion seeks an evidentiary hearing so that the Court may determine the current amount of cash and other assets currently held by the Claimant Trust for distribution to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries (as that term is defined in the Plan). At the very least, disclosure of the assets held by the Claimant Trust may facilitate a meaningful settlement discussion and potentially end the litigation and appellate proceedings currently burdening the estate and resulting in very high legal fees, to the detriment of creditors and residual equity holders.

II. BACKGROUND

A. HCMLP Files A Chapter 11 Petition Anticipating A Quick Restructuring And Exit From Bankruptcy

7. HCMLP filed its chapter 11 petition in bankruptcy in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware on October 16, 2019. Dkt. 3.<sup>3</sup> The case was transferred over HCMLP's objection to this Court on December 4, 2019. Dkt. 1. As the Court has since acknowledged, at the time HCMLP filed its chapter 11 petition, the company had "relatively insignificant secured indebtedness," "did not have problems with its trade vendors or landlords," and "did not suffer any type of catastrophic business calamity." Order (I)

<sup>2</sup> See Dkt. 3325, indicating that the Reorganized Debtor has disbursed $76,788,959 since the Effective Date, of which only $6,966,266 has been paid to administrative, secured, priority, and general unsecured claims.

<sup>3</sup> All references to the docket are to the docket entries in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas.

Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (II) Granting Related Relief (“Plan Confirmation Order”), Dkt. 1943, ¶ 8. Indeed, at the time of its filing, HCMLP had over $550 million in assets and no outstanding judgment liabilities against it other than the award issued by the American Arbitration Association in favor of the Redeemer Committee of the Crusader Funds.<sup>4</sup> As a result, there was every reason to believe that HCMLP could achieve a quick and orderly restructuring of its judgment debt and emerge from bankruptcy a going concern.

B. The Debtor and its Management Were Not Required To Disclose Assets and Transactions During Bankruptcy Proceedings

8. As the Court is aware, a quick exit from bankruptcy did not transpire as anticipated. During the 16 months between the time of HCMLP’s bankruptcy filing and the Court’s approval of the Plan, the estate’s value did not remain static. Nonetheless, the Debtor—with the Court’s approval—only provided the public with limited information regarding the mix of assets held by the estate (including at the subsidiary level). The Court likewise granted the Debtor’s request to shield from public scrutiny asset sales conducted by the Debtor’s management during bankruptcy. For example, the Court authorized the Debtor to place assets that were acquired as part of the Debtor’s settlement with HarbourVest into a non-debtor special purpose entity. See Dkt. 1788. That placement meant that the true value of the asset, the asset’s appreciated value, and its ultimate liquidation were not reported or disclosed to creditors or other interested parties.

9. The Court also did not require the Debtor to file any Rule 2015.3 reports during the bankruptcy proceedings, notwithstanding that the Debtor did not seek relief from the requirement.<sup>5</sup> Such reports were especially important here, where the Debtor held most of its assets in subsidiaries. The Debtor's failure to file the required reports is difficult to understand. Indeed, despite this Court's characterization of HCMLP as a "byzantine complex" (see Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 6), the assets of the estate fall into a handful of discrete investments (less than ten line items), most of which have audited financials and/or were required to make monthly or quarterly net-asset-value or fair-value determinations.<sup>6</sup> Further, the Debtor provided information regarding these assets' value to the Official Committee for Unsecured Creditors ("UCC") on a weekly basis during the bankruptcy proceedings, and the UCC was able to summarize the so-called "byzantine complex" in two short pages attached to the Debtor's Amended Operating Protocols. See Dkt. 466-1. Because the same information was not provided in Rule 2015.3 reports, there was no publicly available information regarding the composition of assets and the corresponding liabilities held by the Debtor at the subsidiary level, making it impossible for outside stakeholders and interested parties to fairly evaluate the Debtor's estate.

10. Following an extended period of non-transparency and vague quarterly reporting in which the Debtor represented that the estate had suffered a loss in value of more than $230 million (see Disclosure Statement, Dkt. 1473), Dugaboy filed a motion seeking appointment of an examiner to independently examine the estate, the reasons for its apparent losses, and other

<sup>5</sup> As the Court is aware, there is a mechanism for seeking such relief under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. Specifically, the Court could have granted the Debtor relief from the Rule 2015.3 disclosure requirement "for cause," including that "the trustee or debtor in possession is not able, after a good faith effort, to comply with th[e] reporting requirements, or that the information required by subdivision (a) is publicly available." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2015.3(d). But HCMLP did not seek relief from the requirements under Rule 2015.3(a), nor did it make any "good faith effort" to comply with the Rule. To the contrary, Mr. Seery publicly represented that the task of filing the required reports simply "fell through the cracks." See Dkt. 1905 (Feb. 3, 2021 Hr'g Tr. at 49:5-21).

issues relating to estate value. See generally Dkt. 1752. Although Dugaboy filed the motion well before the Plan confirmation hearing, the Court set the motion six weeks out on a date well after the confirmation hearing. See Dkt. 1832. Thereafter, the Court denied the motion as moot in light of the Plan Confirmation Order, which the Court held stripped it of authority to appoint an examiner. Dkt. 1960.

11. In connection with the hearing in the Confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan, the Debtor offered up a chart (entitled “Plan Analysis v. Liquidation Analysis”), which attempted to reflect both what creditors could receive in a liquidation and that which Creditors could receive under the Plan. But the analysis reflected in that document is problematic for at least two reasons. First, the document was a summary based upon projections.<sup>7</sup> Second, the Debtor refused to disclose subsidiary ledgers that comprised a significant amount of the Debtor’s monetization value. But based on that analysis, and the testimony of Mr. Seery at the Plan confirmation hearing—which the Court accepted—the Debtor projected at confirmation that it would realize only $257 million dollars from the “monetization” of its assets by December 31, 2022. Dkt. 1894 (Feb. 2, 2021 Hr’g Tr.) at 120:10-121:3, 122:13-123:2.

12. It is now close to a year and a half after the Debtor’s Plan projections were provided to the Court, and Dugaboy is merely asking for the Court to conduct an evidentiary hearing so that the projections can be judged by the realities of the ongoing liquidation of estate assets and the known increases in asset value. Based on known settlements and other filings reflecting allowed claims, Dugaboy believes that allowed claims to be paid now total at least $400 million. But nobody has disclosed the total other liabilities of the Claimant Trust. Nor do interested stakeholders know how much was drawn on the exit loan approved by this Court, how much is outstanding on that loan today, and what other payables and contractual liabilities are owed on account of the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust. All of this information is critical to ascertaining what the estate is capable of paying to creditors now or in the near-term and whether a remainder will be left for the residual equity holders.

13. After confirmation of the Debtor's Plan but before the Plan Effective Date, in light of evolving information relating to the value of the estate, Dugaboy moved to compel the Debtor's compliance with Rule 2015.3. Dkt. 2256. In response, the Debtor argued that compliance with the Rule was too cumbersome, which again, strains credulity for several reasons. First, the Debtor's management, including Mr. Seery, are experienced estate professionals who are accustomed to dealing with complex financial structures. Second, the Debtor, as a registered investment advisor, was required by law to know precisely what assets it had under management. And third the financial information that HCMLP should have disclosed pursuant to Rule 2015.3 was at management's fingertips and indeed was information that management was required to disclose to the UCC on a weekly basis pursuant to its Amended Operating Protocols. See supra at ¶ 11 & n. 3; Dkt. 466 at p. 3.

14. The Court set an initial hearing on Dugaboy's Rule 2015.3 motion for June 20, 2021, but thereafter continued the hearing until September 2021 to ensure the hearing occurred after the Effective Date. The Court then denied the motion as moot in light of the intervening effective date of the Plan in August 2021. See Dkt. 2812.

C. The Bankruptcy Court Approves A Liquidation Plan

15. The Court ultimately approved a Plan that contemplates the liquidation of HCMLP and an orderly wind-down of operations. See Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 2. In reaching its conclusion that the Plan was in the "best interest" of creditors and other stakeholders, the Court expressly relied upon the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed by the Debtor that projected a recovery by Class 7 General Unsecured Creditors of 85% and Class 8 General Unsecured Creditors of 71%. Id., ¶ 52; see also Dkt. 1875 at p. 4.

16. Further, the Court overruled objections to the Plan lodged by entities it deemed related to Mr. Dondero, including Dugaboy. In doing so, the Court acknowledged that Dugaboy has a residual ownership interest in HCMLP and therefore “technically” had standing to object to the Plan. See Plan Confirmation Order, ¶¶ 17-18. But based on the Debtor’s financial projections at the time of confirmation, the Court found that the plan objectors’ “economic interests in the Debtor appear to be extremely remote.” Id., ¶ 19; see also id., ¶ 17 (“the remoteness of their economic interests is noteworthy”).

D. The Plan Grants Dugaboy A Springing Interest In The Claimant Trust

17. Notably, the Plan expressly contemplates potential payment to Dugaboy and other residual equity holders. Rather than leaving Dugaboy and residual equity holder Hunter Mountain Investment Trust with no interest in the Claimant Trust, the Plan expressly includes residual equity holders in the definition of “Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” as follows:

“Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” means the Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims, Holders of Allowed Subordinated Claims, including, upon Allowance, Disputed General Unsecured Claims and Disputed Subordinated Claims that become Allowed following the Effective Date, and, only upon certification by the Claimant Trustee that the Holders of such Claims have been paid indefeasibly in full plus, to the extent all Allowed unsecured Claims, excluding Subordinated Claims, have been paid in full, post-petition interest from the Petition Date at the Federal Judgment Rate in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and all Disputed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 have been resolved, Holders of Allowed Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Holders of Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests.

Plan, § B, ¶ 27 (emphasis added). The Plan, in turn, makes clear that Dugaboy is a holder of Class A Limited Partnership Interests. Id., ¶ 33; see also id., ¶¶ 24-26, 29-31 (describing the assets to be held by the Claimant Trust for the benefit of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and the manner in which the Claimant Trust is to be operated).

18. In other words, under the Plan, after all allowed claims are paid in full plus interest, the assets of the trust and any payment from the operation of the Claimant Trust goes to Dugaboy (and Hunter Mountain, as a holder of Class B/C Partnership Interests). Id., ¶¶ 33-36.

E. There Is Credible Evidence Demonstrating That The Estate's Value Has Changed

19. Since the entry of the Court's Plan Confirmation Order, the Debtor's financial outlook has changed, making the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections on which the Court based its Plan Confirmation Order inapplicable. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that the value of the estate has changed markedly since Plan confirmation. Not only do many of the assets held by the estate fluctuate in value based on market conditions, but Dugaboy is aware that many of the major assets of the estate have been liquidated or sold since Plan confirmation, resulting in increased value to the estate.

20. Specifically, Dugaboy's information relating to estate value as of June 1, 2022 is as follows:

Asset Values as of June 1, 2022 (in millions)

Total Cash and Assets	684.4
------------------------------	--------------

*Subject to dispute

21. Likewise, the total value of allowed claims has changed since Plan confirmation. The Debtor and Reorganized Debtor have settled some creditor claims and seen others dismissed, making estimates given during the Plan confirmation hearing obsolete.

22. Despite this evidence, the Debtor’s most recent sworn financial statement dated March 31, 2022, contains materially unchanged projections. See Dkt. 3325. This should raise alarm bells for the Court, particularly because the Debtor’s underlying assets naturally fluctuate in value and because the Debtor has engaged in the sale of virtually all major assets since confirmation.

23. Further, the post-confirmation reports filed by the Debtor do not provide any information to creditors regarding the prospect of payment and the expectation of future payment. Specifically, the report for the quarter ending March 31, 2022, reflects that only approximately $6.9 million dollars has been paid to creditors, notwithstanding that the Reorganized Debtor and/or Claimant Trust are holding huge amounts of cash as a result of the asset sales reported above.

E. Dugaboy’s Appellate Rights Are Compromised By Outdated Projections

24. The Court’s repeated description of Dugaboy’s interest in the estate as “remote” is problematic for other reasons as well. As this Court is aware, Dugaboy has appealed several orders issued by the Court in HCMLP’s bankruptcy proceedings, both to the District Court for the Northern District of Texas and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. See, e.g., Case No. 22-10189 (5th Cir.); Case No. 21-90011 (5th Cir.); Case No. 21-cv-01295 (N.D. Tex.); Case No. 21-00546 (N.D. Tex.).

25. At least one of those appeals has been dismissed because the appellate court determined that Dugaboy lacked standing to pursue it. See, e.g., Highland Capital Mgmt. Fund Advisors, L.P., et al. v. Highland Capital Mgmt., LP, Case No. 3:21-cv-01895-D (N.D. Tex.), Dkt. 44, at 4. This Court’s prior finding that Dugaboy’s interest in the bankruptcy proceedings is “remote” and “contingent” no doubt played a role in these dismissals. In particular, the appellate courts have relied upon a Fifth Circuit decision—In re Coho Energy—which stands for the proposition that an appellant must possess an economic interest in the outcome of an appeal that is not remote or contingent at the time the appeal is heard. Under Coho, a party that may have had standing at the time of filing its appeal under 11 U.S.C. § 1109 may be subjected to a higher and stricter standard for standing later in the appellate process.

26. Dugaboy has appealed the dismissal of one of its appeals to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and has raised in its appellate briefing the wisdom and statutory basis for the Court's opinion in Coho. In particular, Dugaboy has argued that Coho's iteration of standing cannot be correct because the value of estate assets fluctuates during and after bankruptcy, such that the value of interests held by creditors and residual equity holders likewise fluctuates over time. Standing thus cannot be captured at a single point in time but must account for these potential fluctuations and acknowledge that fluctuations can place a particular party "in the money" such that decisions issued in bankruptcy can cause that party harm.

III. DUGABOY HAS STANDING IN THESE BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

27. The Plan, on its face, gives Dugaboy an interest in the estate. Accordingly, and as this Court has acknowledged (see Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 17), Dugaboy has standing to raise issues affecting the estate and Dugaboy's interest in it, including by filing the present motion seeking disclosure of the current value of assets held by the Claimant Trust. No other Court can hold the valuation hearing requested by Dugaboy.

28. First, Dugaboy has statutory standing to be heard and to object to actions taken by the Debtor and the Claimant Trustee in these bankruptcy proceedings. Specifically, the Bankruptcy Code gives any "party in interest" the right to participate in a debtor's chapter 11 proceedings. See 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). While neither 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b) nor any other section in the Bankruptcy Code specifically defines the term "party in interest," section 1109(b) provides a non-exclusive list of entities that fall within the meaning of "party in interest" for the purposes of a chapter 11 proceeding. See Kipp Flores Architects, L.L.C. v. Mid-Continent Cas. Co., 852 F.3d 405, 413 (5th Cir. 2017). This non-exclusive list “broadly includes debtors, creditors, trustees, indenture trustees, and equity security holders.” Id. Other courts and authorities have similarly concluded that parties in interest “include not only the debtor, but anyone who has a legally protected interest that could be affected by a bankruptcy proceeding.” Adair v. Sherman, 230 F.3d 890, 894 n. 3 (7th Cir. 2000); see also 4 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 502.02 (16th ed. 2020) (“In the context of a chapter 11 case in particular, the term ‘party in interest’ expressly includes the debtor, the trustee, a creditors’ committee, an equity security holders’ committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee.”).

29. Further, any party in interest may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in a case under [Chapter 11].” 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). Indeed, Section 1109(b) “has been construed to create a broad right of participation in Chapter 11 cases.” In re Global Indus. Technologies, Inc., 645 F.3d 201, 210 (3d Cir. 2011) (quoting In re Combustion Eng’g, Inc., 391 F.3d 190, 214 n.21 (3d Cir. 2004)).

30. Second, Dugaboy also has Article III standing to be heard in these bankruptcy proceedings. As the Supreme Court of the United States recently observed and held, Congress long ago abolished the requirement of a minimum amount in controversy for purposes of establishing related federal question jurisdiction. See Uzuegbunam v. Preczewski, ___ U.S. ___, 141 S. Ct. 792, 802 (2021) (“But Congress abolished the statutory amount-in-controversy requirement for federal question jurisdiction in 1980...And we have never held that one applies as a matter of constitutional law.”) (internal citation omitted). The absence of a minimum amount in controversy requirement under Section 1334 indicates that it should receive a parallel construction. Indeed, in Uzuegbunam, the majority held that nominal damages or compensatory damages of one dollar ($1.00) are sufficient to establish the redressability requirement under Article III.

31. As the court is aware, there is more than $1 in controversy here. Indeed, depending upon how the estate is managed post-confirmation, Dugaboy stands to recover hundreds of thousands of dollars as a residual equity holder. And regardless of the amount of that recovery, Dugaboy has a very real interest in how the estate is managed by the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee because that management will dictate whether and how much Dugaboy receives after payment of all creditors of the estate.

32. So, whether as a party in interest under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b) or for purposes of Article III, Dugaboy has the requisite standing.

IV. THE COURT SHOULD CONDUCT AN EVIDENTIARY HEARING REGARDING THE VALUE OF THE ESTATE AND THE ASSETS HELD BY THE CLAIMANT TRUST

33. In addition to issuing a finding that Dugaboy has standing to appear, be heard, and object in these bankruptcy proceedings, the Court should conduct an evidentiary hearing and require disclosure by the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee of the value of the estate and all assets held by the Claimant Trust that are available for distribution to creditors and residual equity holders. At a minimum, the hearing would provide valuable information regarding:

- The cash held by the Reorganized Debtor and various entities controlled by the Reorganized Debtor;
- How the cash was acquired and, more specifically, what assets were sold or liquidated;
- How the amounts received for assets sold or liquidated compares to the projections made by the Debtor at the time of Plan confirmation;

- The value of estate assets still held for the benefit of the estate and its creditors, whether held by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust;
- The post-confirmation expenses incurred or to be incurred pursuant to contractual obligations by the estate and its professionals;<sup>9</sup>
- The claims that must be paid prior to the interests of Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain springing into existence;
- Expected professional fees, based at a minimum on the post-confirmation engagement letter with Mr. Seery and/or the agreement entered into between the Debtor and Mr. Seery regarding post-confirmation management of the Debtor and Mr. Seery's compensation package to be paid by the estate.

34. Such a hearing would benefit not only Dugaboy in ascertaining the value of its current interest in the estate but also stands to benefit the estate and its creditors in two core ways. First, there are currently pending adversary proceedings seeking to recover value for HCMLP's estate, when no such additional value is necessary to pay creditors in full and which could be brought to a swift close, allowing creditors to be paid. Second, professionals associated with the estate—including but not limited to Mr. Seery, Pachulski, Development Specialists, Inc., Kurtzman Carson Consultants, Quinn Emanuel, Marc Kirschner, and Hayward & Associates—are continuing to incur millions of dollars a month in professional fees, thereby further eroding an estate that is either solvent or can be bridged by a settlement that would pay the spread between current assets and current allowed creditor claims. If at the hearing the Court finds that the estate is solvent or the spread is minimal, it can order mediation to settle the estate. Again, a quick resolution of all outstanding proceedings can only benefit the estate and its creditors.

35. The idea that the estate will incur an additional $20+ million in legal fees and success bonuses when the estate can be finally resolved now should be of concern to the Court.

The Court should not encourage a repeat of the WRT case (which incidentally was managed by Golden & Associates and David Pauker, who is a member of the Oversight Board for the Claimant Trust).

36. Dugaboy is likewise concerned that very few distributions have been made thus far to creditors. Dugaboy recognizes that the various trust agreements provide great latitude to the Claimant Trustee, but the fact that allowed claims are incurring interest, and it is unknown whether the Claimant Trust is earning a return equal to that being incurred on creditor claims, is another cause for concern and a reason to require the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trust to provide this information at an evidentiary hearing.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, Dugaboy respectfully requests that the Court enter an order: (i) finding that Dugaboy has standing in these bankruptcy proceedings under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b) and Article III of the United States Constitution; and (ii) setting an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the assets currently available for distribution to allowed claimants, to determine the current value of those assets, and to determine whether there is a potential for settling the estate now, without further pursuing continued expensive and protracted litigation and without incurring additional enormous professional fees.

2 Q. Excuse me?

3 A. I believe it does.

4 Q. Is there a subsidiary ledger
5 that would tell me what is the note
6 component versus what is the hard asset
7 component?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Who has that?

10 A. I do.

11 MR. DRAPER: Mr. Morris, can I
12 get that document?

14 under advisement.

15 Q. There is also a Dugaboy note in 16 your notes that is to be sold. Is that 17 Dugaboy note in the $40 million, or is it
18 in the hard asset monetization?

19 A. I believe it is in the -- it is 20 to be sold, so it is not collected in 21 full. If they default, then we would 22 accelerate that and collect that in full 23 as well.

24 Q. That doesn't answer my question
25 unfortunately. What I am asking you, is

1 J. SEERY

2 it in the $40 million calculation, or in
3 the $200 million number?

4 A. It doesn't answer your question
5 because you didn't listen to my prior
6 answer. I said that the 40 million
7 calculation was for stuff that had been
8 demanded. I think you represent -- do you
9 represent Dugaboy? I don't think we 10 demanded --

11 Q. I do. Excuse me?

12 A. So if it wasn't demanded, it is 13 not in the hard asset calculation; it's in 14 the discounted amount.

15 Q. Let me try to understand your 16 answer. What you are telling me, just so
17 we are both clear, is that that Dugaboy
18 note is not in the $40 million; it is in 19 the balance of the 257? That is a yes or 20 no answer.

21 A. I didn't take it as a question.
22 It sounded like a statement. I agree with 23 your statement.

24 Q. Thank you. So the answer is 25 yes?

1 J. SEERY

2 A. It wasn't a question. I agree
3 with your statement; yes.

4 Q. Thank you.

5 Now, let's go to the
6 November 2020 schedule that we had. If
7 you see in the line "Estimated proceeds
8 from monetization of assets," you had
9 $190 million under the plan analysis?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. What percentage of that are 12 notes versus hard assets?

13 A. The demand notes only were 14 included in the proceeds in terms of 15 recovery in full. I don't quite 16 understand your distinction between hard
17 assets. There is a lot of intangibles as
18 well as tangibles in the total.

19 But if we are distinguishing
20 between notes and other assets, the demand
21 notes are included in the 190. The longer
22 dated notes are assumed to be sold. So,
23 they are included but they are included at 24 a much lower amount.

25 Q. Okay. Now how much of the

1 J. SEERY

2 demand notes in the 190, Mr. Seery?

3 A. Off the top of my head I don't
4 recall. It is the Dondero demand notes as
5 well as the HCFMA demand notes, so it
6 should be about 15 to $20 million.
7 Somewhere in that realm. The same as the 8 other demand notes.

9 Q. Were the other notes, the 10 $40 million of notes that you referenced
11 in the January document, were they carried 12 at face or at discounted amount in the 13 190?

14 A. In the 190, the ones that were
15 demand were carried at face. The ones
16 that were long dated, which really at that 17 point I believe -- the only difference is 18 the $24-and-change-million NexPoint
19 Advisors note was at a discounted amount.
20 The others were at face.

21 Q. What was the discount that was 22 applied to that note?

23 A. I don't recall off the top of my 24 head. It is pretty significant because of 25 the long dated nature of the notes. They

J. SEERY

2 were amended without consideration a few
3 years ago. So, for our purposes we didn't
4 make the assumption, which I am sure will
5 happen, a fraudulent conveyance claim on 6 those notes, that a fraudulent conveyance
7 action would be brought. We just assumed
8 that we'd have to discount the notes
9 heavily to sell them because nobody would
10 respect the ability of the counterparties
11 to fairly pay.

12 Q. And the same discount was 13 applied in the liquidation analysis to 14 those notes?

16 Q. Now --

17 A. The difference -- there would be 18 a difference, though, because they would
19 pay for a while because they wouldn't want
20 to accelerate them. So there would be 21 some collections on the notes for P and I.

22 Q. But in fact as of January you
23 have accelerated those notes?

24 A. Just one of them, I believe.

25 Q. Which note was that?

1 J. SEERY

2 A. NexPoint, I said. They
3 defaulted on the note and we accelerated
4 it.

5 Q. So there is no need to file a
6 fraudulent conveyance suit with respect to 7 that note. Correct, Mr. Seery?

8 MR. MORRIS: Objection to the
9 form of the question.

10 A. Disagree. Since it was likely 11 intentional fraud, there may be other 12 recoveries on it. But to collect on the 13 note, no.

14 Q. My question was with respect to 15 that note. Since you have accelerated it,
16 you don't need to deal with the issue of 17 when it's due?

18 MR. MORRIS: Objection to the
19 form of the question.

20 A. That wasn't your question. But 21 to that question, yes, I don't need to 22 deal with when it's due.

23 Q. Let me go over certain assets.
24 I am not going to ask you for the 25 valuation of them but I am going to ask

1 J. SEERY

2 you whether they are included in the asset
3 portion of your $257 million number, all
4 right? Mr. Morris didn't want me to go
5 into specific asset value, and I don't 6 intend to do that.

7 The first question I have for 8 you is, the equity in Trustway Highland 9 Holdings, is that included in the 10 $257 million number?

11 A. There is no such entity.

12 Q. Then I will do it in a different
13 way. In connection with the sale of the 14 hard assets, what assets are included in 15 there specifically?

16 A. Off the top of my head -- it is 17 all of the assets, but it includes
18 Trustway Holdings and all the value that 19 flows up from Trustway Holdings. It
20 includes Targa and all the value that
21 flows up from Targa. It includes CCS
22 Medical and all the value that would flow
23 to the Debtor from CCS Medical. It
24 includes Cornerstone and all the value
25 that would flow from Cornerstone. It

1 J. SEERY

2 includes any other securities and all the
3 value that would flow from Cornerstone.

4 It includes HCLOF and all the value that
5 would flow up from HCLOF. It includes
6 Korea and all the value that would flow up
7 from Korea.

8 There may be others off the top
9 of my head. I don't recall them. I don't
10 have a list in front of me.

11 Q. Now, with respect to those
12 assets, have you started the sale process
13 of those assets?

14 A. No. Well, each asset is 15 different. So, the answer is, with 16 respect to any securities, we do seek to 17 sell those regularly and we do seek to 18 monetize those assets where we can
19 depending on whether there is a 20 restriction or not and whether there is 21 liquidity in the market.

22 With respect to the PE assets or
23 the companies I described -- Targa, CCS,
24 Cornerstone, JHT -- we have not --
25 Trustway. We have not sought to sell

1 J. SEERY

2 Q. And if I understand what you
3 just said, it is that the Houlihan Lokey
4 valuation for those two businesses showed 5 a significant increase between November of 6 2020 and January of 2021?

7 MR. MORRIS: Objection to form
8 of the question.

9 A. I didn't say that.

10 Q. I am trying to account for the 11 increase between the two dates, and you
12 identified three assets. You identified
13 MGM stock, which has, I can guess, as you
14 have said, a readily ascertainable value.
15 Then you identified two others that the 16 valuation is based upon something Houlihan
17 Lokey provided you. Correct?

18 A. I gave you three examples. I
19 never said "readily." That is your word,
20 not mine. And I didn't say that Houlihan
21 had a significant change in their
22 valuation.

23 Q. So let's now go back to the 24 question. There is an increase in value
25 from November 24th of 2020 to January 28th

1 J. SEERY

2 of 2021, the magnitude being roughly 60
3 some odd million dollars. Correct?

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. We can account for $22 million
6 of it easily, right?

8 A. Correct.

9 Q. That is the HarbourVest
10 settlement, so that leaves roughly
11 $40 million unaccounted for?

12 MR. MORRIS: Objection to the
13 form of the question if that is a 14 question. It is accounted for.

15 Q. What makes up that difference,
16 Mr. Seery?

17 A. A change in the plan value of 18 the assets.

19 Q. Okay. Which assets? Let's sort
20 of go back to where we were.

21 A. There are numerous assets in the 22 plan formulation. I gave you three 23 examples of the operating businesses. The 24 securities, I believe, have increased in 25 value since the plan, so those would go up with respect to its appeal of the Order Granting Motion to Dismiss Adversary Proceeding in which Contingent Interest Holders in Chapter 11 Plan Trust Seek a Post-Confirmation Valuation of Trust Assets [Doc.26-27] which was entered by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas on May 24, 2024.

I. STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE PRESENTED ON APPEAL

1. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in granting The Highland Parties' Motion to Dismiss Complaint to (I) Compel Disclosures About the Assets of the Highland Claimant Trust and (II) Determine (A) Relative Value of Those Assets, and (B) Nature of Plaintiffs' Interests in the Claimant Trust.
2. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count I under Rule 12(b)(6) based on the Bankruptcy Court's finding that Appellants could not prove any facts that would entitle them to the relief that they sought when the Appellants properly alleged that they have a legal and equitable right to information under the Claimant Trust Agreement and under Delaware and Texas law.
3. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count II because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(h)(3) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
4. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count III because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
5. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in dismissing Count III because the Bankruptcy Court found that Appellants were asking it to issue an opinion based on a set of hypothetical facts and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) for lack of subject matter jurisdiction when Count III seeks only a declaration that the Claimant Trust assets exceed the obligations of the bankruptcy estate or must be deemed to do so such that Appellants' contingent trust interests are effectively vested, or as an equitable matter, must be treated as vested because the putative defendants are preventing the conditions for formal vesting from occurring.

FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
DALLAS DIVISION

In re:

Reorganized Debtor.

REORGANIZED DEBTOR'S OBJECTION TO

---

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the reorganized debtor in the above-captioned case (“Highland” or the “Debtor,” as applicable), objects to the Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Docket No. 3382] (the “Valuation Motion”) filed by The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT<sup>2</sup>

1. Prior to the Effective Date, Dugaboy owned 0.1866% of the Debtor’s total equity.

However, Dugaboy currently has no interest in the post-Effective Date estate and will receive no

distributions unless and until unsecured creditors have been paid in full with interest and senior equity has been satisfied. Yet, Dugaboy seeks an evidentiary hearing and “a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held by the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors,” all so it could ostensibly determine whether its de minimis, subordinated equity interest in the Claimant Trust is in the money. The Valuation Motion should be denied for several independent reasons.

2. First, Dugaboy has no right to obtain the confidential and sensitive valuation information it seeks. Dugaboy cites to no law, rule, or precedent authorizing this Court to direct Highland to turn over such information, nor does Dugaboy contend that it has any right to obtain this information under the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, or any other Plan document (and, for the avoidance of doubt, it does not). The sole “evidence” in the Valuation Motion is Dugaboy’s speculation as to the value of the Highland Entities’ assets.<sup>3</sup> Such musings create no rights.

3. Second, Dugaboy seeks Highland’s valuation information for an improper purpose—to try and create standing it did not have when it commenced numerous appeals of this Court’s orders. Regardless of whether Dugaboy might be “in the money” now or in the future, the law in the Fifth Circuit is that standing is determined when a proceeding is commenced. Consequently, Dugaboy cannot use the results of the Valuation Motion to retroactively create standing that it previously lacked.

<sup>3</sup> Dugaboy’s views of the purported value of the Highland Entities’ assets (Valuation Motion ¶ 20) are notable for several reasons. First, Dugaboy’s “valuations” are not supported by any evidence; they are simply numbers in a legal brief. Second, Dugaboy’s “analysis” ascribes nearly $100 million in value to assets Mr. Dondero and his related entities are baselessly litigating. Third, and perhaps most tellingly, if Dugaboy was actually interested in preserving the value of the Claimant Trust’s assets, it would never have publicly disclosed its own valuations as that could jeopardize the integrity of the Highland Entities’ marketing process and efforts to maximize value (and the Highland Entities reserve all rights in that regard).

4. Third, Dugaboy’s assumption that it will be “in the money” if the assets are liquidated for sufficient proceeds to pay senior creditor and equity classes is faulty. Regardless of the value at which the assets are monetized, creditors and senior equity holders will not be paid in full until the threat of Mr. Dondero’s continued pursuit of his “litigation strategy” ends. The Claimant Trust will not distribute all proceeds from the Highland Entities’ assets until that time because material indemnification obligations will remain.

5. Finally, the Valuation Motion is procedurally improper. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2) requires that the determination of Dugaboy’s interest in the Highland Entities’ assets (if any) be adjudicated as part of an adversary proceeding, and Dugaboy must satisfy the elements necessary to secure such relief.

6. For these reasons, and those set forth below, the Court should deny the Valuation Motion.

BACKGROUND TO THE OBJECTION

7. On October 16, 2019, Highland filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Bankruptcy Case”). The Bankruptcy Case was subsequently transferred to this Court on December 4, 2019.

8. On February 22, 2021, this Court entered the Order Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 1943] (the “Confirmation Order”),<sup>4</sup> which confirmed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) [Docket

No. 1808] (the “Plan”). The Plan became effective on August 11, 2021 [Docket No. 2700] (the “Effective Date”).

9. On the Effective Date, all prepetition equity interests in Highland, including Dugaboy’s de minimis interest, were canceled. New limited partnership interests were issued to the Highland Claimant Trust<sup>5</sup> (the “Claimant Trust,” and together with Highland, the “Highland Entities”), and beneficial interests in the Claimant Trust were issued to Highland’s prepetition general unsecured creditors in Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims) and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims). Highland’s assets were either transferred to the Claimant Trust or remained at Highland for monetization.

DUGABOY HAS NO RIGHT TO THE INFORMATION IT SEEKS

10. Dugaboy seeks confidential financial information about the value of the Highland Entities’ assets, but, as Dugaboy implicitly admits, it has no legally cognizable right to such information, regardless of the purpose for which it is being sought.

11. Dugaboy does not—and cannot—cite to a statute, rule, or judicial opinion authorizing this Court to grant the relief it seeks. Moreover, Dugaboy does not claim to be a beneficiary of the Claimant Trust, and it is not. Nor does Dugaboy contend—because it cannot—that it has any right under the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, or any of their related agreements and documents to the information it seeks. Indeed, even actual beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust have no right to the information Dugaboy demands.<sup>6</sup>

<sup>5</sup> The Claimant Trust is governed by that certain Claimant Trust Agreement, effective as of August 11, 2021 (the “CTA”). A true and accurate copy of the CTA is attached hereto as Exhibit A. The CTA was expressly incorporated into and is a part of the Plan. Confirmation Order ¶ 25; Plan Art. IV, § J.

<sup>6</sup> Section 3.12(b) of the CTA provides Claimant Trust beneficiaries with limited information rights; however, the Claimant Trustee may “redact any portion of such reports ...” to protect confidential information. CTA, § 3.12(b).

12. Because Dugaboy has no right to “an accounting” or to any of the confidential financial information it seeks (nor would it even if it were a Claimant Trust beneficiary), the Court should deny the Valuation Motion.

DUGABOY’S MOTION WAS FILED FOR AN IMPROPER PURPOSE

13. Irrespective of whether Dugaboy has a right to the information it seeks, the Valuation Motion was filed for an improper purpose, and therefore any “equitable” claim to Highland’s valuation information should be rejected.<sup>7</sup>

14. By Dugaboy’s own admission, the intended purpose of the Valuation Motion is to establish Dugaboy’s appellate standing: “All of this information is critical to ascertaining what the estate is capable of paying to creditors now or in the near-term and whether a remainder will be left for the residual equity holders.”<sup>8</sup>

15. However, Dugaboy’s standing has already been adjudicated by each court to which it has appealed this Court’s orders, and each appellate court determined Dugaboy lacked standing under the “person aggrieved” test<sup>9</sup> because its interest in the estate was speculative, at best.<sup>10</sup> Having been stymied by the appellate courts, Dugaboy comes back to this Court—obviously not an appellate court—attempting to establish that it has a non-speculative, non-remote, more-than-theoretical pecuniary interest in the outcome of the appeals it has taken so it can take such a ruling to an appellate court and convince it to reverse a prior ruling that no such standing exists. The Court should see this ploy for what it is—jurisdictional gamesmanship to try to create more obfuscating, baseless litigation.

<sup>7</sup> Dugaboy is particularly ill-suited to pursue the Valuation Motion. As the evidence showed at a recent hearing, one of the many secretly transferred assets out of a Highland-controlled fund was a $2.39 million promissory note from The Dugaboy Investment Trust. The evidence also showed that, following the Petition Date, Matthew D’Orio (a former employee of the Highland legal department who went to work for “Skyview” following his termination) secretly caused Sentinel to transfer that note (along with, among other things, a $32.8 million CLO Holdco note) to Sebastian Clarke Ltd. (another entity apparently owned by Dondero and Ellington) because the notes were supposedly “worthless.” It appears that CIMA prevented any further transfers of the notes and required that the notes and other assets be returned to Sentinel. See Adv. Pro. No. 21-03030, Docket Nos. 11, 15.

16. Whether Dugaboy Is “In the Money” Is Irrelevant to Current and Future Appeals. Dugaboy’s appellate standing is immaterial to the Dondero entities’ many appeals. For example: (1) Highland never challenged Dugaboy’s standing in the Fifth Circuit appeal of the Confirmation Order, so standing was never before the Fifth Circuit in that appeal (and that appeal has now been disposed of in any event); (2) Highland has acknowledged in its latest briefing to the Fifth Circuit in the Indemnity Sub-Trust appeal that Dugaboy’s standing is immaterial because Dondero-controlled NexPoint retains standing to pursue that appeal;<sup>11</sup> and (3) the District Court’s dismissal of Dugaboy affiliate NexPoint’s appeal of this Court’s final professional fee orders (now itself on appeal to the Fifth Circuit) was based on NexPoint’s lack of standing, not Dugaboy’s.<sup>12</sup>

17. This Court Lacks Jurisdiction to Determine Dugaboy’s Appellate Standing.

Even if Dugaboy’s approach were not futile, the issue of Dugaboy’s standing cannot be determined by this Court because Dugaboy has put the issue of its standing squarely before the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in at least one appeal<sup>13</sup> (and will likely do so again when it appeals Judge Starr’s dismissal of Dugaboy’s Rule 2015.3 appeal, again for lack of standing, just days ago). This Court, respectfully, lacks jurisdiction over that issue while the issue is being litigated before the Fifth Circuit.<sup>14</sup>

18. This Court Cannot Retroactively Create Appellate Standing for Dugaboy.

Even if this Court had jurisdiction, any relief the Court could grant Dugaboy would be meaningless. It is axiomatic that if an appellant lacked standing at the time an appeal was taken, subsequent events cannot cure that deficiency because—although an appellant can subsequently lose standing—whether an appellant affirmatively has standing is established at the time the appeal begins. “Standing is ‘determined as of the commencement of the suit.’ ... Timing matters, though, and [appellant] cannot belatedly claim creditor status and establish standing retroactively.”<sup>15</sup> Because Fifth Circuit precedent precludes Dugaboy from retroactively establishing appellate standing by citing events occurring after Dugaboy’s appeals, whether recent developments will enable Dugaboy to establish that it is now more likely to become a Claimant Trust beneficiary sometime in the future is irrelevant to Dugaboy’s appellate standing. Accordingly, any attempt to address an appellate shortcoming in this Court is futile and should be denied.

<sup>15</sup> Furlough v. Cage (In re Technicool Sys.), 896 F.3d 382, 386 (5th Cir. 2018); see also 2015.3 Order at 4 (“Standing must exist both at the commencement of the litigation and throughout its existence.”)

19. To the extent Dugaboy seeks this information for future appeals, its request is still irrelevant; there is nothing left for Dugaboy to appeal.

20. Thus, even taking Dugaboy's request for valuation information at face value, Dugaboy's use of that information to establish a higher likelihood that it will someday receive a beneficial interest in the Claimant Trust is irrelevant. Dugaboy cannot legally recreate its appellate standing in prior appeals, and its standing is irrelevant to the currently pending appeals. The Valuation Motion should be denied.

THE INFORMATION SOUGHT BY DUGABOY IS IRRELEVANT

21. More fundamentally, the information Dugaboy seeks in the Valuation Motion cannot answer the question of whether Dugaboy is "in the money" and is therefore irrelevant.

22. Regardless of prior sales and current asset values, the Claimant Trustee can never distribute enough cash to creditors to put prepetition equity-holders like Dugaboy "in the money" because of the ever-present, highly-credible threat that Mr. Dondero and his entities will perpetuate their "culture of litigation" and sue the post-effective date entities, including the Highland Entities, and people working on their behalf.<sup>16</sup> Because the Highland Entities and the Highland Litigation Sub-Trust must indemnify those that work for them for suits brought against them, and because sufficient cash must be reserved at the Highland Entities, the Litigation Sub-Trust, or the Indemnity Sub-Trust to satisfy those potentially significant indemnification obligations, the Claimant Trustee will likely never distribute sufficient cash from the Claimant Trust to its creditor beneficiaries to put prepetition equity-holders like Dugaboy "in the money."<sup>17</sup>

<sup>16</sup> This Court should take serious that threat, which has already manifested itself in the filing of three complaints.

<sup>17</sup> A description of the post-Effective Date entities' indemnification obligations and their ability to reserve for them is discussed further in Debtor's Motion for Entry of an Order (i) Authorizing the (a) Creation of an Indemnity Subtrust and (b) Entry into an Indemnity Trust Agreement and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 2491] and Debtor's Reply in Support of Motion for Entry of an Order (i) Authorizing the (a) Creation of an Indemnity Subtrust and (b) Entry into an Indemnity Trust Agreement and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 2576].

23. The only way out of this conundrum is for Mr. Dondero (and all entities he directly or indirectly owns and/or controls and/or has a beneficial interest in) to give Highland, the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and their respective management a general release of all known and unknown claims subject to indemnification (or to have those claims resolved by final order, which will come at significant cost to the Highland Entities).<sup>18</sup> Only in that circumstance, and after monetizing the remaining assets, could the Claimant Trust hypothetically make distributions that would satisfy general unsecured claims in full with interest. Consequently, solvency and unrealized asset values are simply irrelevant.<sup>19</sup>

THE VALUATION MOTION IS PROCEDURALLY IMPROPER

24. Finally, the Valuation Motion is procedurally improper and, ultimately, unnecessary. Dugaboy articulates what it wants in Section IV of the Valuation Motion<sup>20</sup>—an evidentiary hearing regarding the value of the Highland Entities’ assets. For the reasons set forth above, that request is irrelevant, but, even if it were not, Dugaboy has chosen an improper procedure to seek that relief, insofar as the relief may only be the subject of an adversary proceeding. Seeking to determine the extent of Dugaboy’s interest in Claimant Trust assets is

<sup>18</sup> Dugaboy contends that the “Reorganized Debtor has reported that it has paid professionals nearly $70 million since the Effective Date of the Plan,” what it characterizes as an “enormous burn” rate. Valuation Motion at 1. Highland could prove that Dugaboy’s contentions are inaccurate if they were relevant to the resolution of the Valuation Motion. More fundamentally, however, Dugaboy’s gripes ignore the fact that Highland has incurred (and will continue to incur) substantial professional fees litigating against Mr. Dondero and the entities in which he has an interest and/or controls (e.g., the dozens of appeals of this Court’s orders to the District Court and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals; Mr. Dondero’s continued efforts to delay and impede Highland from recovering on over $60 million owed under simple demand notes, the repayment of which remains a critical component of general unsecured creditors’ recoveries; the baseless claim filed by HCRE Partners, LLC that HCRE now abruptly seeks to withdraw; and the pre-petition fraudulent transfer of over $100 million to Sentinel, and the post-petition cover-up and use of assets controlled by the estate).

<sup>19</sup> Dugaboy has suggested that the information it seeks aid in a global settlement. But the Valuation Motion is a particularly odd to go about pursuing a settlement; if Mr. Dondero has any interest in resolving this case, he should go about it by means other than litigation.

<sup>20</sup> Oddly, the entire Section III of the Valuation Motion is devoted to something that Highland has never disputed and does not dispute now—that Bankruptcy Code section 1109 confers party-in-interest standing on Dugaboy to participate in proceedings in this Court (prudential and constitutional standing for appeals is, of course, an entirely different matter).

precisely the type of action required to be brought as an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2): “a proceeding to determine the ... extent of [an] ... interest in property ....”

CONCLUSION

25. For these reasons, and to prevent further harmful incursions into the carefully-executed marketing and liquidation of the Highland Entities’ assets by a deeply subordinated prepetition equity-holder bent on making mischief, the Court should deny the Valuation Motion.<sup>21</sup>

ARTICLE II.
ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CLAIMANT TRUST

2.1 Creation of Name of Trust.

(a) The Claimant Trust is hereby created as a statutory trust under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and shall be called the “Highland Claimant Trust.” The Claimant Trustee shall be empowered to conduct all business and hold all property constituting the Claimant Trust Assets in such name in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein.

(b) The Trustees shall cause to be executed and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware the Certificate of Trust and agree to execute, acting solely in their capacity as Trustees, such certificates as may from time to time be required under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act or any other Delaware law.

2.2 Objectives.

(a) The Claimant Trust is established for the purpose of satisfying Allowed General Unsecured Claims and Allowed Subordinated Claims (and only to the extent provided herein, Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests and Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) under the Plan, by monetizing the Claimant Trust Assets transferred to it and making distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. The Claimant Trust shall not continue or engage in any trade or business except to the extent reasonably necessary to monetize and distribute the Claimant Trust Assets consistent with this Agreement and the Plan and act as sole member and manager of New GP LLC. The Claimant Trust shall provide a mechanism for (i) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets and (ii) the distribution of the proceeds thereof, net of all claims, expenses, charges, liabilities, and obligations of the Claimant Trust, to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with the Plan. In furtherance of this distribution objective, the Claimant Trust will, from time to time, prosecute and resolve objections to certain Claims and Interests as provided herein and in the Plan.

(b) It is intended that the Claimant Trust be classified for federal income tax purposes as a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of section 301.7701-4(d) of the Treasury Regulations. In furtherance of this objective, the Claimant Trustee shall, in his business judgment, make continuing best efforts to (i) dispose of or monetize the Claimant Trust Assets and resolve Claims, (ii) make timely distributions, and (iii) not unduly prolong the duration of the Claimant Trust, in each case in accordance with this Agreement.

2.3 Nature and Purposes of the Claimant Trust.

(a) The Claimant Trust is organized and established as a trust for the purpose of monetizing the Claimant Trust Assets and making distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in a manner consistent with “liquidating trust” status under Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-4(d). The Claimant Trust shall retain all rights to commence and pursue all Causes of Action of the Debtor other than (i) Estate Claims, which shall be assigned to and commenced and pursued by the Litigation Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and (ii) Causes of Action constituting Reorganized Debtor Assets, if any, which shall be commenced and pursued by the Reorganized Debtor at the direction of the Claimant Trust as sole member of New GP LLC pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. The Claimant Trust and Claimant Trustee shall have and retain, and, as applicable, assign and transfer to the Litigation Sub-Trust and Litigation Trustee, any and all rights, defenses, cross-claims and counter-claims held by the Debtor with respect to any Claim as of the Petition Date. On and after the date hereof, in accordance with and subject to the Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall have the authority to (i) compromise, settle or otherwise resolve, or withdraw any objections to Claims against the Debtor, provided, however, the Claimant Trustee shall only have the authority to compromise or settle any Employee Claim with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board and in the absence of unanimous consent, any such Employee Claim shall be transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust and be litigated, comprised, settled, or otherwise resolved exclusively by the Litigation Trustee and (ii) compromise, settle, or otherwise resolve any Disputed Claims without approval of the Bankruptcy Court, which authority may be shared with or transferred to the Litigation Trustee in accordance with the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Claimant Trust, pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and applicable state trust law, is appointed as the successor-in-interest to, and representative of, the Debtor and its Estate for the retention, enforcement, settlement, and adjustment of all Claims other than Estate Claims, the Employee Claims, and those Claims constituting Reorganized Debtor Assets.

(b) The Claimant Trust shall be administered by the Claimant Trustee, in accordance with this Agreement, for the following purposes:

(i) to manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets in an expeditious but orderly manner with a view towards maximizing value within a reasonable time period;

(ii) to litigate and settle Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 (other than the Employee Claims, which shall be litigated and/or settled by the Litigation Trustee if the Oversight Board does not unanimously approve of any proposed settlement of such Employee Claim by the Claimant Trustee) and any of the Causes of Action included in the Claimant Trust Assets (including any cross-claims and counter-claims); provided, however, that Estate Claims transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be litigated and settled by the Litigation Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement;

(iii) to distribute net proceeds of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries;

(iv) to distribute funds from the Disputed Claims Reserve to Holders of Trust Interests or to the Reorganized Debtor for distribution to Holders of Disputed Claims in each case in accordance with the Plan from time to time as any such Holder's Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim under the Plan;

(v) to distribute funds to the Litigation Sub-Trust at the direction the Oversight Board;

(vi) to serve as the limited partner of, and to hold the limited partnership interests in, the Reorganized Debtor;

(vii) to serve as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, the Reorganized Debtor's general partner;

(viii) to oversee the management and monetization of the Reorganized Debtor Assets pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, in its capacity as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC pursuant to the terms of the New GP LLC Documents, all with a view toward maximizing value in a reasonable time in a manner consistent with the Reorganized Debtor's fiduciary duties as investment adviser to the Managed Funds; and

(ix) to perform any other functions and take any other actions provided for or permitted by this Agreement and the Plan, and in any other agreement executed by the Claimant Trustee.

2.4 Transfer of Assets and Rights to the Claimant Trust; Litigation Sub-Trust.

(a) On the Effective Date, pursuant to the Plan, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer, assign, and deliver, and shall be deemed to have transferred, assigned, and delivered, all Claimant Trust Assets and related Privileges held by the Debtor to the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Interests, Liens, and other encumbrances, and liabilities, except as provided in the Plan and this Agreement. To the extent certain assets comprising the Claimant Trust Assets, because of their nature or because such assets will accrue or become transferable subsequent to the Effective Date, and cannot be transferred to, vested in, and assumed by the Claimant Trust on such date, such assets shall be considered Reorganized Debtor Assets, which may be subsequently transferred to the Claimant Trust by the Reorganized Debtor consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement after such date.

(b) On or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer, assign, and deliver, and shall be deemed to have transferred, assigned, and delivered, all Estate Claims and related Privileges held by the Claimant Trust to the Litigation Sub-Trust Trust free and clear of all Claims, Interests, Liens, and other encumbrances, and liabilities, except as provided in the Plan, this Agreement, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. Following the transfer of such Privileges, the Litigation Trustee shall have the power to waive the Privileges being so assigned and transferred.

(c) On or before the Effective Date, and continuing thereafter, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall provide (i) for the Claimant Trustee's and Litigation Trustee's reasonable access to all records and information in the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's possession, custody or control, (ii) that all Privileges related to the Claimant Trust Assets shall transfer to and vest exclusively in the Claimant Trust (except for those Privileges that will be transferred and assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust in respect of the Estate Claims), and (iii) subject to Section 3.12(c), the Debtor and Reorganized Debtor shall preserve all records and documents (including all electronic records or documents), including, but not limited to, the Debtor's file server, email server, email archiving system, master journal, SharePoint, Oracle E-Business Suite, Advent Geneva, Siepe database, Bloomberg chat data, and any backups of the foregoing, until such time as the Claimant Trustee, with the consent of the Oversight Board and, if pertaining to any of the Estate Claims, the Litigation Trustee, directs the Reorganized Debtor, as sole member of its general partner, that such records are no longer required to be preserved. For the purposes of transfer of documents, the Claimant Trust or Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable, is an assignee and successor to the Debtor in respect of the Claimant Trust Assets and Estate Claims, respectively, and shall be treated as such in any review of confidentiality restrictions in requested documents.

(d) Until the Claimant Trust terminates pursuant to the terms hereof, legal title to the Claimant Trust Assets (other than Estate Claims) and all property contained therein shall be vested at all times in the Claimant Trust as a separate legal entity, except where applicable law in any jurisdiction requires title to any part of the Claimant Trust Assets to be vested in the Claimant Trustee, in which case title shall be deemed to be vested in the Claimant Trustee, solely in his capacity as Claimant Trustee. For purposes of such jurisdictions, the term Claimant Trust, as used herein, shall be read to mean the Claimant Trustee.

2.5 Principal Office. The principal office of the Claimant Trust shall be maintained by the Claimant Trustee at the following address: 100 Crescent Court, Suite 1850, Dallas, Texas 75201.

2.6 Acceptance. The Claimant Trustee accepts the Claimant Trust imposed by this Agreement and agrees to observe and perform that Claimant Trust, on and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Plan.

2.7 Further Assurances. The Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, and any successors thereof will, upon reasonable request of the Claimant Trustee, execute, acknowledge and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may be necessary or proper to transfer to the Claimant Trustee any portion of the Claimant Trust Assets intended to be conveyed hereby and in the Plan in the form and manner provided for hereby and in the Plan and to vest in the Claimant Trustee the powers, instruments or funds in trust hereunder.

2.8 Incidents of Ownership. The Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be the sole beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trustee shall retain only such incidents of ownership as are necessary to undertake the actions and transactions authorized herein.

ARTICLE III.

3.1 Role. In furtherance of and consistent with the purpose of the Claimant Trust, the Plan, and this Agreement, the Claimant Trustee, subject to the terms and conditions contained herein, in the Plan, and in the Confirmation Order, shall serve as Claimant Trustee with respect to the Claimant Trust Assets for the benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and maintain, manage, and take action on behalf of the Claimant Trust.

To the extent that any action has been taken to prosecute, defend, compromise, adjust, arbitrate, abandon, or otherwise deal with and settle any such Claims and Causes of Action prior to the Effective Date, on the Effective Date the Claimant Trustee shall be substituted for the Debtor in connection therewith in accordance with Rule 25 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, made applicable by Rule 7025 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, and the caption with respect to such pending action shall be changed to the following “[Claimant Trustee], not individually but solely as Claimant Trustee for the Claimant Trust, et al. v. [Defendant]”.

(c) Subject in all cases to any limitations contained herein, in the Confirmation Order, or in the Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall have the power and authority to:

(viii) protect and enforce the rights to the Claimant Trust Assets by any method deemed appropriate, including by judicial proceedings or pursuant to any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, moratorium or similar law and general principles of equity;

(ix) obtain reasonable insurance coverage with respect to any liabilities and obligations of the Trustees, Litigation Trustee, and the Members of the Oversight Board solely in their capacities as such, in the form of fiduciary liability insurance, a directors and officers policy, an errors and omissions policy, or otherwise. The cost of any such insurance shall be a Claimant Trust Expense and paid by the Claimant Trustee from the Claimant Trust Assets;

(x) without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, but subject to the terms of this Agreement, employ various consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals, including counsel, tax advisors, consultants, brokers, investment bankers, valuation counselors, and financial advisors, as the Claimant Trustee deems necessary to aid him in fulfilling his obligations under this Agreement; such consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals shall be retained pursuant to whatever fee arrangement the Claimant Trustee deems appropriate, including contingency fee arrangements and any fees and expenses incurred by such professionals engaged by the Claimant Trustee shall be Claimant Trust Expenses and paid by the Claimant Trustee from the Claimant Trust Assets;

(xi) retain and approve compensation arrangements of an independent public accounting firm to perform such reviews and/or audits of the financial books and records of the Claimant Trust as may be required by this Agreement, the Plan, the Confirmation Order, and applicable laws and as may be reasonably and appropriate in Claimant Trustee's discretion. Subject to the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee may commit the Claimant Trust to, and shall pay, such independent public accounting firm reasonable compensation for services rendered and reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred, and all such compensation and reimbursement shall be paid by the Claimant Trustee from Claimant Trust Assets;

(xiii) prepare and send annually to the Beneficiaries, in accordance with the tax laws, a separate statement stating a Beneficiary's interest in the Claimant Trust and its share of the Claimant Trust's income, gain, loss, deduction or credit, and to instruct all such Beneficiaries to report such items on their federal tax returns;

(xiv) to the extent applicable, assert, enforce, release, or waive any attorney-client communication, attorney work product or other Privilege or defense on behalf of the Claimant Trust (including as to any Privilege that the Debtor held prior to the Effective Date), including to provide any information to insurance carriers that the Claimant Trustee deems necessary to utilize applicable insurance coverage for any Claim or Claims;

the Disputed Claims Reserve, solely on account of Disputed Class 1 through Class 7 Claims that were Disputed as of the Effective Date, but become Allowed, to the Reorganization Debtor such that the Reorganized Debtor can satisfy its duties and functions as Distribution Agent with respect to Claims in Class 1 through Class 7 (the foregoing subparagraphs (i)-(xxi) being collectively, the “Authorized Acts”).

(d) The Claimant Trustee and the Oversight Committee will enter into an agreement as soon as practicable after the Effective Date concerning the Claimant Trustee’s authority with respect to certain other assets, including certain portfolio company assets (the “Other Assets”).

(e) The Claimant Trustee has the power and authority to act as trustee of the Claimant Trust and perform the Authorized Acts through the date such Claimant Trustee resigns, is removed, or is otherwise unable to serve for any reason.

3.3 Limitation of Authority.

(a) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trustee shall not (i) be authorized to engage in any trade or business, (ii) take any actions inconsistent with the management of the Claimant Trust Assets as are required or contemplated by applicable law, the Confirmation Order, the Plan, and this Agreement, (iii) take any action in contravention of the Confirmation Order, the Plan, or this Agreement, or (iv) cause New GP LLC to cause the Reorganized Debtor to take any action in contravention of the Plan, Plan Documents or the Confirmation Order.

- (i) terminate or extend the term of the Claimant Trust;
- (ii) prosecute, litigate, settle or otherwise resolve any of the Material Claims;

(c) [Reserved.]

3.4 Investment of Cash. The right and power of the Claimant Trustee to invest the Claimant Trust Assets, the proceeds thereof, or any income earned by the Claimant Trust, with majority approval of the Oversight Board, shall be limited to the right and power to invest in such Claimant Trust Assets only in Cash and U.S. Government securities as defined in section 29(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act; provided, however that (a) the scope of any such permissible investments shall be further limited to include only those investments that a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-4(d), may be permitted to hold, pursuant to the Treasury Regulations, or any modification in the Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) guidelines, whether set forth in IRS rulings, other IRS pronouncements, or otherwise, (b) the Claimant Trustee may retain any Claimant Trust Assets received that are not Cash only for so long as may be required for the prompt and orderly monetization or other disposition of such assets, and (c) the Claimant Trustee may expend the assets of the Claimant Trust (i) as reasonably necessary to meet contingent liabilities (including indemnification and similar obligations) and maintain the value of the assets of the Claimant Trust during the pendency of this Claimant Trust, (ii) to pay Claimant Trust Expenses (including, but not limited to, any taxes imposed on the Claimant Trust and reasonable attorneys’ fees and expenses in connection with litigation), and (iii) to satisfy other liabilities incurred or assumed by the Claimant Trust (or to which the assets are otherwise subject) in accordance with the Plan or this Agreement).

3.5 Binding Nature of Actions. All actions taken and determinations made by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement shall be final and binding upon any and all Beneficiaries.

3.6 Term of Service. The Claimant Trustee shall serve as the Claimant Trustee for the duration of the Claimant Trust, subject to death, resignation or removal.

3.7 Resignation. The Claimant Trustee may resign as Claimant Trustee of the Claimant Trust by an instrument in writing delivered to the Bankruptcy Court and Oversight Board at least thirty (30) days before the proposed effective date of resignation. The Claimant Trustee shall continue to serve as Claimant Trustee after delivery of the Claimant Trustee's resignation until the proposed effective date of such resignation, unless the Claimant Trustee and a simple majority of the Oversight Board consent to an earlier effective date, which earlier effective date shall be no earlier than the date of appointment of a successor Claimant Trustee in accordance with Section 3.9 hereof becomes effective.

3.8 Removal.

(a) The Claimant Trustee may be removed by a simple majority vote of the Oversight Board for Cause immediately upon notice thereof, or without Cause upon 60 days' prior written notice. Upon the removal of the Claimant Trustee pursuant hereto, the Claimant Trustee will resign, or be deemed to have resigned, from any role or position he or she may have at New GP LLC or the Reorganized Debtor effective upon the expiration of the foregoing 60 day period unless the Claimant Trustee and a simple majority of the Oversight Board agree otherwise.

(b) To the extent there is any dispute regarding the removal of a Claimant Trustee (including any dispute relating to any compensation or expense reimbursement due under this Agreement) the Bankruptcy Court shall retain jurisdiction to consider and adjudicate such dispute. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will continue to serve as the Claimant Trustee after his removal until the earlier of (i) the time when a successor Claimant Trustee will become effective in accordance with Section 3.9 of this Agreement or (ii) such date as the Bankruptcy Court otherwise orders.

3.9 Appointment of Successor.

(a) Appointment of Successor. In the event of a vacancy by reason of the death or Disability (in the case of a Claimant Trustee that is a natural person), dissolution (in the case of a Claimant Trustee that is not a natural person), or removal of the Claimant Trustee, or prospective vacancy by reason of resignation, a successor Claimant Trustee shall be selected by a simple majority vote of the Oversight Board. If Members of the Oversight Board are unable to secure a majority vote, the Bankruptcy Court will determine the successor Claimant Trustee on motion of the Members. If a final decree has been entered closing the Chapter 11 Case, the Claimant Trustee may seek to reopen the Chapter 11 Case for the limited purpose of determining the successor Claimant Trustee, and the costs for such motion and costs related to re-opening the Chapter 11 Case shall be paid by the Claimant Trust. The successor Claimant Trustee shall be appointed as soon as practicable, but in any event no later than sixty (60) days after the occurrence of the vacancy or, in the case of resignation, on the effective date of the resignation of the then acting Claimant Trustee.

(b) Vesting or Rights in Successor Claimant Trustee. Every successor Claimant Trustee appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Claimant Trust, the exiting Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board, and file with the Bankruptcy Court, an instrument accepting such appointment subject to the terms and provisions hereof. The successor Claimant Trustee, without any further act, deed, or conveyance shall become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the exiting Claimant Trustee, except that the successor Claimant Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of the retiring Claimant Trustee. In no event shall the retiring Claimant Trustee be liable for the acts or omissions of the successor Claimant Trustee.

(c) Interim Claimant Trustee. During any period in which there is a vacancy in the position of Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board shall appoint one of its Members to serve as the interim Claimant Trustee (the “Interim Trustee”) until a successor Claimant Trustee is appointed pursuant to Section 3.9(a). The Interim Trustee shall be subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to a Claimant Trustee hereunder. Such Interim Trustee shall not be limited in any manner from exercising any rights or powers as a Member of the Oversight Board merely by such Person’s appointment as Interim Trustee.

3.10 Continuance of Claimant Trust. The death, resignation, or removal of the Claimant Trustee shall not operate to terminate the Claimant Trust created by this Agreement or to revoke any existing agency (other than any agency of the Claimant Trustee as the Claimant Trustee) created pursuant to the terms of this Agreement or invalidate any action taken by the Claimant Trustee. In the event of the resignation or removal of the Claimant Trustee, the Claimant Trustee shall promptly (i) execute and deliver, by the effective date of resignation or removal, such documents, instruments, records, and other writings as may be reasonably requested by his successor to effect termination of the exiting Claimant Trustee’s capacity under this Agreement and the conveyance of the Claimant Trust Assets then held by the exiting Claimant Trustee to the successor Claimant Trustee; (ii) deliver to the successor Claimant Trustee all non-privileged documents, instruments, records, and other writings relating to the Claimant Trust as may be in the possession or under the control of the exiting Claimant Trustee, provided, the exiting Claimant Trustee shall have the right to make and retain copies of such documents, instruments, records and other writings delivered to the successor Claimant Trustee and the cost of making such copies shall be a Claimant Trust Expense to be paid by the Claimant Trust; and (iii) otherwise assist and cooperate in effecting the assumption of the exiting Claimant Trustee’s obligations and functions by his successor, provided the fees and expenses of such assistance and cooperation shall be paid to the exiting Claimant Trustee by the Claimant Trust. The exiting Claimant Trustee shall irrevocably appoint the successor Claimant Trustee as his attorney-in-fact and agent with full power of substitution for it and its name, place and stead to do any and all acts that such exiting Claimant Trustee is obligated to perform under this Section 3.10.

3.11 Claimant Trustee as “Estate Representative”. The Claimant Trustee will be the exclusive trustee of the Claimant Trust Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code (the “Estate Representative”) with respect to the Claimant

Trust Assets, with all rights and powers attendant thereto, in addition to all rights and powers granted in the Plan and in this Agreement; provided that all rights and powers as representative of the Estate pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) shall be transferred to the Litigation Trustee in respect of the Estate Claims and the Employee Claims. The Claimant Trustee will be the successor-in-interest to the Debtor with respect to any action pertaining to the Claimant Trust Assets, which was or could have been commenced by the Debtor prior to the Effective Date, except as otherwise provided in the Plan or Confirmation Order. All actions, claims, rights or interest constituting Claimant Trust Assets are preserved and retained and may be enforced, or assignable to the Litigation Sub-Trust, by the Claimant Trustee as an Estate Representative.

3.12 Books and Records.

(a) The Claimant Trustee shall maintain in respect of the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries books and records reflecting Claimant Trust Assets in its possession and the income of the Claimant Trust and payment of expenses, liabilities, and claims against or assumed by the Claimant Trust in such detail and for such period of time as may be necessary to enable it to make full and proper accounting in respect thereof. Such books and records shall be maintained as reasonably necessary to facilitate compliance with the tax reporting requirements of the Claimant Trust and the requirements of Article VII herein. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Agreement requires the Claimant Trustee to file any accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Claimant Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Claimant Trust Assets.

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall provide quarterly reporting to the Oversight Board and Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of (i) the status of the Claimant Trust Assets, (ii) the balance of Cash held by the Claimant Trust (including in each of the Claimant Trust Expense Reserve and Disputed Claim Reserve), (iii) the determination and any re-determination, as applicable, of the total amount allocated to the Disputed Claim Reserve, (iv) the status of Disputed Claims and any resolutions thereof, (v) the status of any litigation, including the pursuit of the Causes of Action, (vi) the Reorganized Debtor's performance, and (vii) operating expenses; provided, however, that the Claimant Trustee may, with respect to any Member of the Oversight Board or Claimant Trust Beneficiary, redact any portion of such reports that relate to such Entity's Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable and any reporting provided to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries may be subject to such Claimant Trust Beneficiary's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

(c) The Claimant Trustee may dispose some or all of the books and records maintained by the Claimant Trustee at the later of (i) such time as the Claimant Trustee determines, with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board, that the continued possession or maintenance of such books and records is no longer necessary for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, or (ii) upon the termination and winding up of the Claimant Trust under Article IX of this Agreement; provided, however, the Claimant Trustee shall not dispose of any books and records related to the Estate Claims or Employee Claims without the consent of the Litigation Trustee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee shall cause the Reorganized Debtor and its subsidiaries to retain such books and records, and for such periods, as are required to be retained pursuant to Section 204-2 of the Investment Advisers Act or any other applicable laws, rules, or regulations.

3.13 Compensation and Reimbursement; Engagement of Professionals.

(a) Compensation and Expenses.

(i) Compensation. As compensation for any services rendered by the Claimant Trustee in connection with this Agreement, the Claimant Trustee shall receive compensation of $150,000 per month (the "Base Salary"). Within the first forty-five days following the Confirmation Date, the Claimant Trustee, on the one hand, and the Committee, if prior to the Effective Date, or the Oversight Board, if on or after the Effective Date, on the other, will negotiate go-forward compensation for the Claimant Trustee which will include (a) the Base Salary, (b) a success fee, and (c) severance.

(ii) Expense Reimbursements. All reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Claimant Trustee in the performance of his or her duties hereunder, shall be reimbursed as Claimant Trust Expenses paid by the Claimant Trust.

(b) Professionals.

(i) Engagement of Professionals. The Claimant Trustee shall engage professionals from time to time in conjunction with the services provided hereunder. The Claimant Trustee's engagement of such professionals shall be approved by a majority of the Oversight Board as set forth in Section 3.3(b) hereof.

(ii) Fees and Expenses of Professionals. The Claimant Trustee shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of any retained professionals as Claimant Trust Expenses.

3.14 Reliance by Claimant Trustee. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Claimant Trustee may rely, and shall be fully protected in acting or refraining from acting, on any resolution, statement, certificate, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order or other instrument or document that the Claimant Trustee has no reason to believe to be other than genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties or, in the case of facsimiles, to have been sent by the proper party or parties, and the Claimant Trustee may conclusively rely as to the truth of the statements and correctness of the opinions or direction expressed therein. The Claimant Trustee may consult with counsel and other professionals, and any advice of such counsel or other professionals shall constitute full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Claimant Trustee in accordance therewith. The Claimant Trustee shall have the right at any time to seek instructions from the Bankruptcy Court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction concerning the Claimant Trust Assets, this Agreement, the Plan, or any other document executed in connection therewith, and any such instructions given shall be full and complete authorization in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Claimant Trustee in accordance therewith. The Claimant Trust shall have the right to seek Orders from the Bankruptcy Court as set forth in Article IX of the Plan.

3.15 Commingling of Claimant Trust Assets. The Claimant Trustee shall not commingle any of the Claimant Trust Assets with his or her own property or the property of any other Person.

The Parties agree not to instruct the Delaware Trustee to take any action or to refrain from taking any action that is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Claimant Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes party or that is otherwise contrary to law. Other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, the Delaware Trustee shall have no duty or power to take any action for or on behalf of the Claimant Trust. For the avoidance of doubt, the Delaware Trustee will only have such rights and obligations as expressly provided by reference to the Delaware Trustee hereunder. The Delaware Trustee shall not be entitled to exercise any powers, nor shall the Delaware Trustee have any of the duties and responsibilities, of the Claimant Trustee set forth herein. The Delaware Trustee shall be one of the trustees of the Claimant Trust for the sole and limited purpose of fulfilling the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and for taking such actions as are required to be taken by a Delaware Trustee under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. The duties (including fiduciary duties), liabilities and obligations of the Delaware Trustee shall be limited to those expressly set forth in this Section 3.16 and there shall be no other duties (including fiduciary duties) or obligations, express or implied, at law or in equity, of the Delaware Trustee. To the extent that, at law or in equity, the Delaware Trustee has duties (including fiduciary duties) and liabilities relating thereto to the Claimant Trust, the other parties hereto or any beneficiary of the Claimant Trust, it is hereby understood and agreed by the other parties hereto that such duties and liabilities are replaced by the duties and liabilities of the Delaware Trustee expressly set forth in this Agreement.

(b) The Delaware Trustee shall serve until such time as the Claimant Trustee removes the Delaware Trustee or the Delaware Trustee resigns and a successor Delaware Trustee is appointed by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the terms hereof. The Delaware Trustee may resign at any time upon the giving of at least thirty (30) days' advance written notice to the Claimant Trustee; provided, that such resignation shall not become effective unless and until a successor Delaware Trustee shall have been appointed by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the terms hereof. (c) Upon the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee, the Claimant Trustee shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee by delivering a written instrument to the outgoing Delaware Trustee. Any successor Delaware Trustee must satisfy the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. Any resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee and appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee shall not become effective until a written acceptance of appointment is delivered by the successor Delaware Trustee to the outgoing Delaware Trustee and the Claimant Trustee and any undisputed fees, expenses and indemnity due to the outgoing Delaware Trustee are paid. Following compliance with the preceding sentence, the successor Delaware Trustee shall become fully vested with all of the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the outgoing Delaware Trustee under this Agreement, with like effect as if originally named as Delaware Trustee, and the outgoing Delaware Trustee shall be discharged of its duties and obligations under this Agreement.

(d) The Delaware Trustee shall be paid such compensation as agreed to pursuant to a separate fee agreement. The Claimant Trust shall promptly advance and reimburse the Delaware Trustee for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred by the Delaware Trustee in connection with the performance of its duties hereunder.

(e) WTNA shall not be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement arising out of or caused, directly or indirectly, by circumstances beyond its control, including without limitation, any act or provision of any present or future law or regulation or governmental authority; acts of God; earthquakes; fires; floods; wars; terrorism; civil or military disturbances; sabotage; epidemics; riots; interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, computer (hardware or software) or communications service; accidents; labor disputes; acts of civil or military authority or governmental actions; or the unavailability of the Federal Reserve Bank wire or telex or other wire or communication facility.

(f) Any corporation or association into which WTNA may be converted or merged, or with which it may be consolidated, or to which it may sell or transfer all or substantially all of its corporate trust business and assets as a whole or substantially as a whole, or any corporation or association resulting from any such conversion, sale, merger, consolidation or transfer to which the Delaware Trustee is a party, will be and become the successor Delaware Trustee under this Agreement and will have and succeed to the rights, powers, duties, immunities and privileges as its predecessor, without the execution or filing of any instrument or paper or the performance of any further act.

Any action required or permitted to be taken by the Oversight Board in a meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by unanimous written consents describing the actions taken, signed by all Members and recorded. If any Member informs the Claimant Trustee (via e-mail or otherwise) that he or she objects to the decision, determination, action, or inaction proposed to be made by unanimous written consent, the Claimant Trustee must use reasonable good faith efforts to schedule a meeting on the issue to be set within 48 hours of the request or as soon thereafter as possible on which all members of the Oversight Board are available in person or by telephone. Except as set otherwise forth herein, the majority vote of the Members present at a duly called meeting at which a quorum is present throughout shall be the act of the Oversight Board except as otherwise required by law or as provided in this Agreement. Any or all of the Members may participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, conference telephone, video conference, or similar communications equipment by means of which all Persons participating in the meeting may hear each other, in which case any required notice of such meeting may generally describe the arrangements (rather than or in addition of the place) for the holding hereof. Any Member participating in a meeting by this means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting. Voting (including on negative notice) may be conducted by electronic mail or individual communications by the applicable Trustee and each Member.

(b) Any Member who is present and entitled to vote at a meeting of the Oversight Board when action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken, subject to the requisite vote of the Oversight Board, unless (i) such Member objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his/her arrival) to holding or transacting business at the meeting; (ii) his/her dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting; or (iii) he/she delivers written notice (including by electronic or facsimile transmission) of his/her dissent or abstention to the Oversight Board before its adjournment. The right of dissent or abstention is not available to any Member of the Oversight Board who votes in favor of the action taken.

(c) Prior to a vote on any matter or issue or the taking of any action with respect to any matter or issue, each Member shall report to the Oversight Board any conflict of interest such Member has or may have with respect to the matter or issue at hand and fully disclose the nature of such conflict or potential conflict (including, without limitation, disclosing any and all financial or other pecuniary interests that such Member may have with respect to or in connection with such matter or issue, other than solely as a holder of Trust Interests). A Member who, with respect to a matter or issue, has or who may have a conflict of interest whereby such Member's interests are adverse to the interests of the Claimant Trust shall be deemed a "Conflicted Member" who shall not be entitled to vote or take part in any action with respect to such matter or issue. In the event of a Conflicted Member, the vote or action with respect to such matter or issue giving rise to such conflict shall be undertaken only by Members who are not Conflicted Members and, notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the affirmative vote of only a majority of the Members who are not Conflicted Members shall be required to approve of such matter or issue and the same shall be the act of the Oversight Board.

(d) Each of Acis, the Redeemer Committee, and UBS shall be deemed "Conflicted Members" with respect to any matter or issue related to or otherwise affecting any of their respective Claim(s) (a "Committee Member Claim Matter"). A unanimous vote of the Disinterested Members shall be required to approve of or otherwise take action with respect to any

Committee Member Claim Matter and, notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the same shall be the act of the Oversight Board.

4.7 Tenure of the Members of the Oversight Board. The authority of the Members of the Oversight Board will be effective as of the Effective Date and will remain and continue in full force and effect until the Claimant Trust is terminated in accordance with Article IX hereof. If any Committee Member has its Claim disallowed in its entirety the representative of such entity will immediately be removed as a Member without the requirement for a vote and a successor will be appointed in the manner set forth herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, upon the termination of the Claimant Trust, any or all of the Members shall be deemed to have resigned.

4.10 Appointment of a Successor Member.

(a) In the event of a vacancy on the Oversight Board (whether by removal, death, or resignation), a new Member may be appointed to fill such position by the remaining Members acting unanimously; provided, however, that any vacancy resulting from the removal, resignation, or death of a Disinterested Member may only be filled by a disinterested Person unaffiliated with any Claimant or constituency in the Chapter 11 Case; provided, further, that if an individual serving as the representative of a Committee Member resigns from its role as representative, such resignation shall not be deemed resignation of the Committee Member itself and such Committee Member shall have the exclusive right to designate its replacement representative for the Oversight Board. The appointment of a successor Member will be further evidenced by the Claimant Trustee's filing with the Bankruptcy Court (to the extent a final decree has not been entered) and posting on the Claimant Trustee's website a notice of appointment, at the direction of the Oversight Board, which notice will include the name, address, and telephone number of the successor Member.

(b) Immediately upon the appointment of any successor Member, the successor Member shall assume all rights, powers, duties, authority, and privileges of a Member hereunder and such rights and privileges will be vested in and undertaken by the successor Member without any further act. A successor Member will not be liable personally for any act or omission of a predecessor Member.

(c) Every successor Member appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Claimant Trustee and other Members an instrument accepting the appointment

under this Agreement and agreeing to be bound thereto, and thereupon the successor Member without any further act, deed, or conveyance, shall become vested with all rights, powers, trusts, and duties of a Member hereunder.

4.11 Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses. Unless determined by the Oversight Board, no Member shall be entitled to compensation in connection with his or her service to the Oversight Board; provided, however, that a Disinterested Member shall be compensated in a manner and amount initially set by the other Members and as thereafter amended from time to time by agreement between the Oversight Board and the Disinterested Member. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will reimburse the Members for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Members in connection with the performance of their duties hereunder (which shall not include fees, costs, and expenses of legal counsel).

4.12 Confidentiality. Each Member shall, during the period that such Member serves as a Member under this Agreement and following the termination of this Agreement or following such Member's removal or resignation, hold strictly confidential and not use for personal gain any material, non-public information of or pertaining to any Person to which any of the Claimant Trust Assets relates or of which such Member has become aware in the Member's capacity as a Member ("Confidential Trust Information"), except as otherwise required by law. For the avoidance of doubt, a Member's Affiliates, employer, and employer's Affiliates (and collectively with such Persons' directors, officers, partners, principals and employees, "Member Affiliates") shall not be deemed to have received Confidential Trust Information solely due to the fact that a Member has received Confidential Trust Information in his or her capacity as a Member of the Oversight Board and to the extent that (a) a Member does not disclose any Confidential Trust Information to a Member Affiliate, (b) the business activities of such Member Affiliates are conducted without reference to, and without use of, Confidential Trust Information, and (c) no Member Affiliate is otherwise directed to take, or takes on behalf of a Member or Member Affiliate, any actions that are contrary to the terms of this Section 4.12.

ARTICLE VII. TAX MATTERS

7.1 Tax Treatment and Tax Returns.

(a) It is intended for the initial transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust to be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable) as if the Debtor transferred the Claimant Trust Assets (other than the amounts set aside in the Disputed Claim Reserve, if the Claimant Trustee makes the election described below) to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and then, immediately thereafter, the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries transferred the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust. Consistent with such treatment, (i) it is intended that the Claimant Trust will be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable), (ii) it is intended that the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries will be treated as the grantors of the Claimant Trust and owners of their respective share of the Claimant Trust Assets for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable). The Claimant Trustee shall file all federal income tax returns (and foreign, state, and local income tax returns where applicable) for the Claimant Trust as a grantor trust pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.671-4(a).

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Beneficiaries of such valuation, and such valuation shall be used consistently by all parties for all federal income tax purposes.

(c) The Claimant Trustee may file an election pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.468B-9(c) to treat the Disputed Claims Reserve as a disputed ownership fund, in which case the Claimant Trustee will file federal income tax returns and pay taxes for the Disputed Claim Reserve as a separate taxable entity.

7.2 Withholding. The Claimant Trustee may withhold from any amount distributed from the Claimant Trust to any Claimant Trust Beneficiary such sum or sums as are required to be withheld under the income tax laws of the United States or of any state or political subdivision thereof. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the applicable Beneficiary. As a condition to receiving any distribution from the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee may require that the Beneficiary provide such holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Claimant Trustee to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws. If a Beneficiary fails to comply with such a request within one year, such distribution shall be deemed an unclaimed distribution and treated in accordance with Section 6.5(b) of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII. STANDARD OF CARE AND INDEMNIFICATION

8.1 Standard of Care. None of the Claimant Trustee, acting in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan, the Delaware Trustee, acting in its capacity as Delaware Trustee, the Oversight Board, or any current or any individual Member, solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board, shall be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or to any Person (including any Claimant Trust Beneficiary) in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the acts or omissions of any such Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member constituted fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. The employees, agents and professionals retained by the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or individual Member shall not be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or any other Person in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that such acts or omissions by such employee, agent, or professional constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence. None of the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or any Member shall be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or to any Person for the acts or omissions of any employee, agent or professional of the Claimant Trust or Claimant Trustee taken or not taken in good faith reliance on the advice of professionals or, as applicable, with the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection, retention, or supervision of such employee, agent or professional of the Claimant Trust.

8.2 Indemnification. The Claimant Trustee (including each former Claimant Trustee), WTNA in its individual capacity and as Delaware Trustee, the Oversight Board, and all past and present Members (collectively, in their capacities as such, the "Indemnified Parties") shall be indemnified by the Claimant Trust against and held harmless by the Claimant Trust from any losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, disbursements, and related expenses) to which the Indemnified Parties may become subject in connection with any action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought or threatened against any of the Indemnified Parties in their capacity as Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member, or in connection with any matter arising out of or related to the Plan, this Agreement, or the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or other court of competent jurisdiction that the Indemnified Party's acts or omissions constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. If the Indemnified Party becomes involved in any action, proceeding, or investigation in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with the Plan, this Agreement or the affairs of the Claimant Trust for which an indemnification obligation could arise, the Indemnified Party shall promptly notify the Claimant Trustee and/or Oversight Board, as applicable; provided, however, that the failure of an Indemnified Party to promptly notify the Claimant Trustee and/or Oversight Board of an indemnification obligation will not excuse the Claimant Trust from indemnifying the Indemnified Party unless such delay has caused the Claimant Trust material harm. The Claimant Trust shall pay, advance or otherwise reimburse on demand of an Indemnified Party the Indemnified Party's reasonable legal and other defense expenses (including, without limitation, the cost of any investigation and preparation and attorney fees, disbursements, and other expenses related to any claim that has been brought or threatened to be brought) incurred in connection therewith or in connection with enforcing his or her rights under this Section 8.2 as a Claimant Trust Expense, and the Claimant Trust shall not refuse to make any payments to the Indemnified Party on the assertion that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful misconduct or acted in bad faith; provided that the Indemnified Party shall be required to repay promptly to the Claimant Trust the amount of any such advanced or reimbursed expenses paid to the Indemnified Party to the extent that it shall be ultimately determined by Final Order that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust with respect to which such expenses were paid; provided, further, that any such repayment obligation shall be unsecured and interest free. The Claimant Trust shall indemnify and hold harmless the employees, agents and professionals of the Claimant Trust and Indemnified Parties to the same extent as provided in this Section 8.2 for the Indemnified Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 8.2 shall remain available to any former Claimant Trustee, WTNA in its individual capacity and as Delaware Trustee, or Member or the estate of any decedent Claimant Trustee or Member, solely in their capacities as such. The indemnification provided hereby shall be a Claimant Trust Expense and shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which the Indemnified Party may now or in the future be entitled to under the Plan or any applicable insurance policy. The failure of the Claimant Trust to pay or reimburse an Indemnified Party as required under this Section 8.2 shall constitute irreparable harm to the Indemnified Party and such Indemnified Party shall be entitled to specific performance of the obligations herein. The terms of this Section 8.2 shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the resignation or removal of any Indemnified Party.

8.3 No Personal Liability. Except as otherwise provided herein, neither of the Trustees nor Members of the Oversight Board shall be subject to any personal liability whatsoever, whether in tort, contract, or otherwise, to any Person in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust to the fullest extent provided under Section 3803 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, and all Persons asserting claims against the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, or any Members, or otherwise asserting claims of any nature in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, shall look solely to the Claimant Trust Assets for satisfaction of any such claims.

8.4 Other Protections. To the extent applicable and not otherwise addressed herein, the provisions and protections set forth in Article IX of the Plan will apply to the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the Litigation Trustee, and the Members.

ARTICLE IX. TERMINATION

9.1 Duration. The Trustees, the Claimant Trust, and the Oversight Board shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as: (a) the Litigation Trustee determines that the pursuit of Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate Claims, (b) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of Causes of Action (other than Estate Claims) is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Causes of Action, (c) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of sales of other Claimant Trust Assets is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such sales of Claimant Trust Assets, (d) all objections to Disputed Claims and Equity Interests are fully resolved, (e) the Reorganized Debtor is dissolved, and (f) all Distributions required to be made by the Claimant Trustee to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries under the Plan have been made, but in no event shall the Claimant Trust be dissolved later than three years from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Claimant Trust Assets.

9.2 Distributions in Kind. Upon dissolution of the Claimant Trust, any remaining Claimant Trust Assets that exceed the amounts required to be paid under the Plan will be transferred (in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee) in Cash or in-kind to the Holders of the Claimant Trust Interests as provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

9.3 Continuance of the Claimant Trustee for Winding Up. After dissolution of the Claimant Trust and for purpose of liquidating and winding up the affairs of the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee shall continue to act as such until the Claimant Trustee's duties have been fully performed. Prior to the final distribution of all remaining Claimant Trust Assets, the Claimant Trustee shall be entitled to reserve from such assets any and all amounts required to provide for the Claimant Trustee's own costs and expenses, including a reserve to fund any potential indemnification or similar obligations of the Claimant Trust, until such time as the winding up of the Claimant Trust is completed. Upon the dissolution of the Claimant Trust and completion of the winding up of the assets, liabilities and affairs of the Claimant Trust pursuant to the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, the Claimant Trustee shall prepare, execute and file a certificate of cancellation with the State of Delaware to terminate the Claimant Trust pursuant to Section 3810 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act (such date upon which the certificate of cancellation is filed shall be referred to as the "Termination Date"). If the Delaware Trustee's signature is required for purposes of filing such certificate of cancellation, the Claimant Trustee shall provide the Delaware

Trustee with written direction to execute such certificate of cancellation, and the Delaware Trustee shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely upon such written direction without further inquiry. Upon the Termination date, the Claimant Trustee shall retain for a period of two (2) years, as a Claimant Trust Expense, the books, records, Claimant Trust Beneficiary lists, and certificated and other documents and files that have been delivered to or created by the Claimant Trustee. At the Claimant Trustee's discretion, all of such records and documents may, but need not, be destroyed at any time after two (2) years from the Termination Date.

9.4 Termination of Duties. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, upon the Termination Date of the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board and its Members shall have no further duties or obligations hereunder.

9.5 No Survival. The rights of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries hereunder shall not survive the Termination Date, provided that such Claimant Trust Beneficiaries are provided with notice of such Termination Date.

ARTICLE X. AMENDMENTS AND WAIVER

The Claimant Trustee, with the consent of a simple majority of the Oversight Board, may amend this Agreement to correct or clarify any non-material provisions. This Agreement may not otherwise be amended, supplemented, otherwise modified, or waived in any respect except by an instrument in writing signed by the Claimant Trustee and with the unanimous approval of the Oversight Board, and the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, after notice and a hearing; provided that the Claimant Trustee must provide the Oversight Board with prior written notice of any non-material amendments, supplements, modifications, or waivers of this Agreement. No amendment or waiver of this Agreement that adversely affects the Delaware Trustee shall be effective unless the Delaware Trustee has consented thereto in writing in its sole and absolute discretion.

ARTICLE XI. MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Trust Irrevocable. Except as set forth in this Agreement, establishment of the Claimant Trust by this Agreement shall be irrevocable and shall not be subject to revocation, cancellation or rescission by the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

11.2 Bankruptcy of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. The dissolution, termination, bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar incapacity of any Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall not permit any creditor, trustee, or any other Claimant Trust Beneficiary to obtain possession of, or exercise legal or equitable remedies with respect to, the Claimant Trust Assets.

11.3 Claimant Trust Beneficiaries have No Legal Title to Claimant Trust Assets. No Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall have legal title to any part of the Claimant Trust Assets.

11.4 Agreement for Benefit of Parties Only. Nothing herein, whether expressed or implied, shall be construed to give any Person other than the Claimant Trustee, Oversight Board, and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement. The Claimant Trust Assets shall be held for the sole and exclusive benefit of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

11.5 Notices. All notices, directions, instructions, confirmations, consents and requests required or permitted by the terms hereof shall, unless otherwise specifically provided herein, be in writing and shall be sent by first class mail, facsimile, overnight mail or in the case of mailing to a non-United States address, air mail, postage prepaid, addressed to:

11.7 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

11.8 Binding Effect, etc. All covenants and agreements contained herein shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, and their respective successors and assigns. 11.10 Governing Law. This Agreement shall in all respects be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, including all matters of constructions, validity and performance.

11.11 Consent to Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto, each Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board), and each Claimant Trust Beneficiary consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement, the Plan or any act or omission of the Claimant Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), Litigation Trustee (acting in his capacity as the Litigation Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan), the Oversight Board, or any individual Member (solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board); provided, however, that if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such action may be brought in the state or federal courts located in the Northern District of Texas.

11.12 Transferee Liabilities. The Claimant Trust shall have no liability for, and the Claimant Trust Assets shall not be subject to, any claim arising by, through or under the Debtor except as expressly set forth in the Plan or in this Agreement. In no event shall the Claimant Trustee or the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries have any personal liability for such claims. If any liability shall be asserted against the Claimant Trust or the Claimant Trustee as the transferee of the Claimant Trust Assets on account of any claimed liability of, through or under the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee may use such part of the Claimant Trust Assets as may be necessary to contest any such claimed liability and to pay, compromise, settle or discharge same on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Claimant Trustee as a Claimant Trust Expense.

LIMITED RESPONSE IN SUPPORT OF CERTAIN REQUESTED RELIEF

Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“Hunter Mountain”) files this Limited Response in Support of Certain Requested Relief (the “Response”) in connection with the Motion For Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3382] (the “Motion for Valuation”) filed by the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) and supports Dugaboy’s request for information from the reorganized debtor (“HCMLP”) and the Claimant Trust, as defined in the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management,

L.P. (as modified) [Dkt. No. 1943] (the “Plan”),<sup>1</sup> regarding the value of the Reorganized Debtor Assets and Claimant Trust Assets, as well as the outstanding Class 8 and 9 Claims.

SUMMARY

1. Hunter Mountain believes that no Professional, Claimant Trust Beneficiary, nor this Court would support the idea that the Plan provides that the Litigation Sub-Trust should pursue litigation against Holders of Equity Interest to generate a recovery with which to pay distributions to those same Holders of Equity Interest, less the costs of that litigation. Yet, given the allegations in the Motion for Valuation and general lack of transparency into the Reorganized Debtor Assets, Claimant Trust Assets, and outstanding obligations that must be resolved, including the Class 8 and 9 Claims, Hunter Mountain—as both a Holder of Class 10 - Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests and a defendant in the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding<sup>2</sup>—is concerned that this could occur in this case. Therefore, Hunter Mountain submits that to best effectuate the Plan, HCMLP and the Claimant Trust should work with Holders of Equity Interests, like Hunter Mountain, to provide transparency into the value of the Reorganized Debtor Assets and Claimant Trust Assets and outstanding Class 8 and 9 Claims.

BACKGROUND

A. Hunter Mountain holds a Contingent Claimant Trust Interest

2. HCMLP is a Delaware limited partnership. As of the Petition Date, HCMLP had three classes of limited partnership interest (Class A, Class B, and Class C). See Disclosure

Statement [Dkt. No. 1473], ¶F(4). The Class A interests were held by Dugaboy, Mark Okada (“Okada”), personally and through family trusts, and Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), HCMLP’s general partner. The Class B and C interests were held by Hunter Mountain. Id. In the aggregate, HCMLP’s limited partnership interests were held: (a) 99.5% by Hunter Mountain; (b) 0.1866% by Dugaboy, (c) 0.0627% by Okada, and (d) 0.25% by Strand. Id.

3. In the Plan, HCMLP classified Hunter Mountain’s Class B Limited Partnership Interest and Class C Limited Partnership Interest (together, Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) as Class 10, separately from that of the holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests which are Class 11. See Plan, Article III, ¶H(10) and (11). According to the Plan, Contingent Claimant Trust Interests distributed to the Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests are be subordinate to the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests distributed to the Holders of Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests. See Plan, Article I, ¶44.

4. In the Confirmation Order, the Court found that the Plan properly separately classified those Equity Interests because they represent different types of equity security interests in HCMLP and different payment priorities pursuant to that certain Fourth Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Capital Management, L.P., dated December 24, 2015, as amended (the “Limited Partnership Agreement”). Confirmation Order, ¶36; Limited Partnership Agreement, §3.9 (Liquidation Preference).

5. The Plan created the Claimant Trust which was established for the benefit of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, which is defined to mean:

the Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims, Holders of Allowed Subordinated Claims, including, upon Allowance, Disputed General Unsecured Claims and Disputed Subordinated Claims that become Allowed following the Effective Date, and, only upon certification by the Claimant Trustee that the Holders of such Claims have been paid indefeasibly in full plus, to the extent all Allowed unsecured Claims, excluding Subordinated Claims, have been paid in full, post-petition interest from the Petition Date at the Federal Judgment Rate in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and all Disputed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 have been resolved, Holders of Allowed Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Holders of Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests

See Plan, Article I, ¶27. Therefore, Hunter Mountain holds a Contingent Claimant Trust Interest which will vest into Claimant Trust Interests upon indefeasible payment of Allowed Claims.

6. Therefore, depending on the realization of asset value less debts, Hunter Mountain may become a Claimant Trust Beneficiary.

7. In other words, the status of the Bankruptcy Case is a liquidation, and there are assets including (this is a generalization) cash, ownership interests in entities, investments into entities and funds, perhaps real estate, and litigation claims (“Assets”). There are obligations, including the Exit Facility, Allowed Claims, obligations to Indemnified Parties, etc. Further, there are ongoing (and we assume material) administrative and litigation costs, and obligations arising under the Plan for payment of various success fees, etc., to various persons in connection with the liquidation (collectively, the “Obligations”).

8. Hunter Mountain is “in the money” if the Assets are greater than the Obligations.

9. Further, Hunter Mountain and perhaps other persons and entities could have incentive to discuss with HCMLP and the Claimant Trust the prospect of an overall resolution if it could obtain some level of clarity as to the value of the assets and the amount of the Obligations. Information could facilitate discussion. For example, Hunter Mountain assumes that while the Exit Facility has repayment obligations that must be made on an ongoing basis, the obligations to Indemnified Parties and the necessity of payment of ongoing administrative and litigations costs may cause a postponement of distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims, creating a circle whereby Allowed Claims are not paid, the value of current assets is being used, so that the Asset over Obligations ratio is currently decreasing. So as time passes, the value of Assets is decreasing, which requires reliance upon litigation claims to replace such diminution.

10. So, even if there is a deficit of Assets over Obligations, knowledge of the amount of such a deficit, with information about assets remaining, could generate a picture of a current deficit, and better the possibility of a resolution that could create a maximization of the Asset value and a capping of the Obligations (for example, in a resolution situation there would be no obligations to Indemnified Parties so any reserve could be utilized free of such obligations; and no further need for projection and payment of administrative and litigation costs so no growing deficit).

B. Holders of Contingent Claimant Trust Interests have no insight into the value of the Assets or amount of Obligations.

11. While whether Hunter Mountain's Contingent Claimant Trust Interest will vest into a Claimant Trust Interest is dependent upon the Asset value over Obligations amount, Hunter Mountain has little to no insight into what these values may be and no method to independently ascertain them.

12. HCMLP and the Claimant Trust file quarterly post-confirmation reports, but these reports do not provide the relevant information related to the true Asset value versus the Obligations. These reports state that all Claims in Classes 6 and 7 were paid in full and that Classes 8 and 9 have received non-cash distributions in to and form of Claimant Trust Interests and therefore any distributions to holders of Class 8 and Class 9 claims will be made by the Claimant Trust. See Dkt. No. 3409-1. But the Claimant Trust has made no distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. See Dkt. No. 3410-1. Further Hunter Mountain has no independent knowledge of the amount of Class 8 and 9 Allowed Claims.

13. Further, the quarterly post-confirmation reports only reflect assets directly held HCMLP which are only a fraction of the Assets.

14. The Plan requires the Claimant Trustee to determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of such a valuation, as well as distribute tax information to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries as appropriate. See Plan, ¶Art. IV(B)(9). But no like information regarding valuation of the Claimant Trust Assets is available to Holders of Contingent Claimant Trust Interests.

C. Hunter Mountain is also a defendant in the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding

15. While normally this lack of transparency into whether the Contingent Claimant Trust Interest will vest would not require valuation information to be provided at this intermediate juncture, here Hunter Mountain's status as a defendant in the Kirschner Adversary necessitates greater transparency.

16. On October 15, 2021, Marc C. Kirschner as Litigation Trustee of the Litigation Sub-Trust commenced the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding against twenty-three defendants including Hunter Mountain (a Holder of Class 10 Equity Interests) for various causes of action. See Kirschner Adversary Proceeding, Dkt. No. 1 (as amended by Dkt. No. 158).

17. The Litigation Sub-Trust was established within the Claimant Trust as a wholly owned-subsubsidiary of the Claimant Trust for the purpose of investigating, prosecuting, settling, or otherwise resolving the Estate Claims, with any proceeds therefrom to be distributed by the Litigation Sub-Trust to the Claimant Trust for distribution to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. See Plan, Article IV, ¶ (B)(4).

18. Therefore, any recovery from the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding will be distributed to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

19. So, if Hunter Mountain could be a Claimant Trust Beneficiary, the Litigation Sub-Trust is pursuing claims against Hunter Mountain, which, if it becomes a Claimant Trust Beneficiary, would be the recipient of distributions of such recovery (less the cost of litigation). This last part is the most troubling and catalyst for requiring a valuation at this juncture. The costs of litigation are only increasing and are likely to be great. Therefore, the costs to litigate against Hunter Mountain will be borne by Hunter Mountain by virtue of its status as a Holder of a Contingent Claimant Trust Interest, and every dollar incurred litigating against Hunter Mountain decreases the likelihood that Hunter Mountain's Contingent Claimant Trust Interest will vest.

20. And if whether Hunter Mountain will be a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is a close call [i.e. because the difference between Assets and Obligations is "small" (a relative term given the hundreds of millions of dollars at stake)], then this will greatly inform Hunter Mountain's litigation decisions and could affect materially the prospects of overall resolution.

21. Information concerning the amount of cash Assets, together with the remaining non-cash Assets (without regard to the litigation of Estate Claims), together with the current Obligations, could well generate fruitful settlement discussions because it is reasonable to believe that Hunter Mountain could decide that it can utilize non-cash assets in such a way as to maximize their value in a way that HCMLP and the Claimant Trust cannot, after resolution of the Obligations.

RELIEF REQUESTED

22. Simply put, Hunter Mountain seeks information, which is readily available to HCMLP and the Claimant Trust (and for which Hunter Mountain is willing to bear the cost of collating) that will inform whether Hunter Mountain will be a Claimant Trust Beneficiary so that:

(i) all parties can avoid the facially unpalatable circumstance of the Litigation Sub-Trust seeking recovery from Hunter Mountain which could be raised to go to pay Hunter Mountain, less the Litigation Sub-Trust's attorney's fees, and (ii) Hunter Mountain can make informed litigation decisions, including possibly seeking to assemble sufficient resources with which to resolve the Obligations, thereby negating the basis of any further litigation and resulting in an expeditious closing of the Bankruptcy Case. Hunter Mountain is situated in priority to Dugaboy, so it has a firmer basis for entitlement.

23. Hunter Mountain does not seek to interfere with or be part of the liquidation process, does not seek to examine negotiations, does not seek the identity of persons or entities with whom HCMLP or the Claimant Trust is dealing, does not seek to substitute its judgment for that of person and parties authorized under the Plan. But as a Holder of Contingent Claimant Trust Interests, it is entitled to information as to the value of Assets and amount of Obligations.

BASIS FOR RELIEF REQUESTED

24. This Court specifically retained jurisdiction to ensure that distributions to Holders of Allowed Equity Interests are accomplished pursuant to the provisions of the Plan. See Plan, Article XI. The Plan provides that distributions to Allowed Equity Interests will be accomplished through the Claimant Trust and Contingent Claimant Trust Interests. See Plan Article III, (H)(10) and (11).

25. The relief requested by Hunter Mountain is limited to the likelihood that the Contingent Claimant Trust Interests will vest. This information will help ensure distributions to Holders of Allowed Equity Interests as well as possibly lead to a resolution of overall the Bankruptcy Case.

CONCLUSION

26. For the reasons set forth herein, Hunter Mountain supports the request of Dugaboy to compel information regarding the value of the Assets and Obligations and the outstanding claims in Classes 8 and 9.

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland” or, as applicable, the “Debtor”), the reorganized debtor in the above-captioned chapter 11 case, HCMLP GP LLC (“Highland GP”), the Highland Claimant Trust (the “Claimant Trust”), and Development Specialists, Inc. (“DSI”) (collectively, the “Highland Parties”), by and through their undersigned counsel, hereby file this motion (the “Motion to Quash”) (i) pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure (“FRCP”) 45(d), made applicable herein pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure (“Bankruptcy Rule”) 9016, to quash the Subpoenas<sup>1</sup> served by The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) on the Highland Parties or, in the alternative, (ii) for a protective order pursuant to FRCP 26(c), made applicable herein pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 9014 and 7026.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT<sup>2</sup>

1. Dugaboy puts the cart before the horse. The Subpoenas should be quashed because they are an improper attempt to obtain through discovery the very relief sought in the Valuation Motion; indeed, if the Subpoenas are enforced, the Valuation Motion will effectively be rendered moot.

2. In the Valuation Motion, Dugaboy seeks an evidentiary hearing and “a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held by the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors,” all so it can ostensibly determine whether its de minimis, contingent, subordinated equity interest in the Claimant Trust is “in the money.” But as set forth in Highland’s Objection to the Valuation Motion, Dugaboy has no legal or equitable right to obtain the information sought in the Valuation Motion, a result that is not altered by the service of the Subpoenas. Indeed, it is indisputable that Dugaboy does not have, and will never have, a legally cognizable interest in the post-Effective Date estate unless and until the Trustee files a certification with the Court declaring that unsecured creditors have been paid in full and all disputed claims have been resolved.

3. Nevertheless, Dugaboy served the Subpoenas seeking broad discovery—essentially all of Highland’s financial information since even before the Effective Date. But Dugaboy has failed to establish that it has a right to the information sought, and that is fatal. At, best, the Subpoenas were served prematurely.

4. Separately, the Subpoena directed to Highland should be quashed because FRCP 45 does not apply to parties such as Highland. Dugaboy was required to follow the regular procedure for document production under FRCP 34, made applicable by Bankruptcy Rules 9014 and 7034. FRCP 34, of course, gives parties (such as Highland) thirty days to respond and provides a developed mechanism for presentation of the recipient’s objections, resolution of those objections, and production. Dugaboy offer no basis or justification for its attempt to deprive Highland of its rights under FRCP 34.

5. Alternatively, if the Court declines to quash the Subpoenas (or any of them), the Highland Parties request that the Court issue a protective order holding the Subpoenas in abeyance until thirty (30) days after an order resolving the Valuation Motion becomes final and non-appealable.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> If the Court denies the Valuation Motion, the Subpoenas should be quashed at that time. If the Court grants the Valuation Motion, the Highland Parties should be permitted to object to the scope of the requests within the Subpoenas as it deems appropriate.

RELIEF REQUESTED

6. The Highland Parties request that the Court quash the Subpoenas, or, alternatively, issue a protective order holding the Subpoenas in abeyance until the Court decides the Valuation Motion and, should it grant the Valuation Motion in whole or in part, set this Motion to Quash for hearing thirty (30) days after its order on the Valuation Motion becomes final and non-appealable.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. The Court has jurisdiction to consider this Motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b). Venue for this matter is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409, FRCP 45 and Bankruptcy Rule 9016. The statutory predicates for the relief requested in this Motion to Quash are section 105(a) of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) and Rules 9014, 9016, and 7026 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”).

RELEVANT BACKGROUND

8. October 16, 2019, Highland filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Bankruptcy Case”). The Bankruptcy Case was subsequently transferred to this Court on December 4, 2019.

9. On February 22, 2021, this Court entered the Order Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 1943] (the “Confirmation Order”), which confirmed the Fifth Amended

10. The Plan became effective on August 11, 2021 [Docket No. 2700] (the “Effective Date”).

11. On the Effective Date, all prepetition equity interests in Highland, including Dugaboy’s de minimis interest, were canceled. New limited partnership interests were issued to the Claimant Trust and new general partnership interests were issued to Highland GP (together with Highland, the “Highland Entities”). Beneficial interests in the Claimant Trust were issued to Highland’s prepetition general unsecured creditors in Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims) and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims). Highland’s assets were either transferred to the Claimant Trust or remained at Highland for monetization.

12. The Plan provides that former equity holders such as Dugaboy have only a contingent, springing beneficial interest in the Claimant Trust that arises only if and at the time that the Claimant trustee certifies to the Bankruptcy Court that the Debtor’s unsecured creditors are paid in full and all disputed unsecured claims have been resolved.

13. Even though it has no cognizable interest in the Claimant Trust, on June 30, 2022, Dugaboy filed its Motion for the Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Docket No. 3382] (the “Valuation Motion”) seeking to have the Court determine “the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors.” Valuation Motion at 1.

<sup>4</sup> On August 19, 2022, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit affirmed the Confirmation Order in relevant part. Case No. 21-10449, Document No. 516439341. On September 7, 2022, the Fifth Circuit granted appellants’ motion for rehearing, withdrew the Initial Opinion, and entered a slightly revised new opinion which replaced the opinion entered on August 19, 2022. Id., Document Number 516462923.

14. On August 24, 2022, Highland filed its objection to the Valuation Motion [Docket No. 3465] (the “Objection”). Dugaboy has not filed a reply in support of the Valuation Motion and the Valuation Motion has not been set for a hearing.

15. Rather than await the Court’s determination of the Valuation Motion as to its entitlement to a valuation and accounting, Dugaboy served the Subpoenas on August 31 and September 1, 2022, seeking to have (i) Highland, (ii) its general partner, Highland GP, and (iii) its financial advisor, DSI, produce the very documents sought in the Valuation Motion. The Subpoenas seek broad financial and business information from both before and after the Effective Date of the Plan and set a compliance date of September 15, 2022.

16. The Highland Parties asked Dugaboy to adjourn the compliance date to the date that is thirty (30) days after a decision on the Valuation Motion becomes final and unappealable. [Dugaboy has not agreed to the Highland Parties’ proposal.]

17. This Motion to Quash followed.

ARGUMENT

A. The Subpoenas Should Be Quashed

18. FRCP 45 (made applicable to this contested matter by Bankruptcy Rule 9016) “explicitly contemplates the use of subpoenas in relation to non-parties and governs subpoenas served on a third party . . . as well as motions to quash or modify.” Romac Env’t Servs., LLC v. Wildcat Fluids, LLC, Civil Action No. 6:20-0581, 2022 U.S Dist. LEXIS 99837, at *3 (W.D. La.

June 3, 2022) (quashing subpoena). FRCP 45(d)(3) provides that “[o]n timely motion, the court . . . must quash or modify a subpoena that . . . subjects a person to undue burden.”<sup>5</sup>

In analyzing whether a subpoena presents an undue burden, courts consider the following factors: “(1) relevance of the information requested; (2) the need of the party for the documents; (3) the breadth of the document request; (4) the time period covered by the request; (5) the particularity with which the party describes the requested documents; and (6) the burden imposed....Whether a burdensome subpoena is reasonable must be determined according to the facts of the case, such as the party's need for the documents [or information] and the nature and importance of the litigation.

Romac Env't Servs., 2022 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99837 at *4 (quoting Wiwa v. Royal Dutch Petrol. Co., 392 F.3d 812, 818 (5th Cir. 2004)). Relevance is determined under the standard of FRCP 26(b)(1): “[i]nformation must therefore be nonprivileged, relevant, and proportional to the needs of the case to constitute discoverable material.” Id. at *5. Movant bears the burden of persuasion that compliance with the subpoena “would be unreasonable and oppressive.” Id. at *4 (citing Wiwa).

B. The Subpoenas Seek Irrelevant Information and Are Therefore Unduly Burdensome

20. The Subpoenas should be quashed because they are unduly burdensome in that they seek information that is premature on the Valuation Motion, and instead improperly demand documents for a valuation and accounting that is the ultimate relief that Dugaboy is seeking. The “undue burden” factors weigh overwhelmingly in favor of quashing the Subpoenas.

<sup>5</sup> Dugaboy issued the Subpoenas out of this Court, although the place of compliance is New Orleans. By designating this Court as the issuing court, Dugaboy has waived any objection to this Court hearing this Motion to Quash. The Highland Parties consent to this Court hearing the Motion to Quash as well. See Romac, 22 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99837 at *7-8. If need be, the Highland Parties request that the Court consider Section I of this Motion to Quash to be considered to be a motion for a protective order denying production of the requested documents.

1. The Information Dugaboy Seeks to Obtain by the Subpoenas Is Irrelevant

21. At the first level, the information Dugaboy seeks is irrelevant to the Court's determination of the Valuation Motion. The issues concerning the Valuation Motion are legal in nature and can be resolved by the plain and unambiguous terms and provisions of the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the other Plan documents. In contrast, the information sought by the Subpoenas has no bearing on Dugaboy's standing or purported right to a valuation or an accounting and are therefore irrelevant to that determination.<sup>6</sup> Quite frankly, if Dugaboy thought that it needed discovery to pursue its claim of entitlement to a valuation or accounting, it could—and should—have brought the claim as an adversary proceeding. It did not.

22. Furthermore, the information that Dugaboy seeks in the Subpoenas is at best premature, because that information is the very object of the Valuation Motion. If the Valuation Motion is granted, Dugaboy will be entitled to appropriate discovery for such accounting. But here, enforcement of Subpoenas at this stage would give Dugaboy the ultimate relief it seeks—before any determination is made that it is entitled to such relief.

23. For that reason, substantive discovery for the accounting itself must await the determination of the party's right to an accounting. See Nageire v. Ortega T. (In re Ortega T.), 562 B.R. 538, 543 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2016) (accounting premature until court determined that entities in issue were property of the estate); Robinson v. Miller, No. 2:11-cv-56-JHR, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 71149, at *25 (D. Me. June 30, 2011) (Plaintiff not entitled to discovery on accounting claim before establishing right to accounting); Arthur Finnieston, Inc. v. Pratt, 673 So. 2d 560,

<sup>6</sup> To the extent that Dugaboy asserts that it needs discovery on the threshold issue of its standing and entitlement to an accounting or valuation, that assertion would only emphasize that this matter should have been brought as an adversary proceeding, as Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2) requires, which would allow for orderly determination and scheduling of discovery to which the parties agree or that the Court determines to be appropriate. See Objection ¶ 24.

562 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1996) (“It is well established that discovery as to an accounting must be deferred until the preliminary issue of the right to an accounting is settled”) (internal quotation marks omitted)).

2. Dugaboy Has No Right to the Information It Seeks by the Subpoenas

24. Moreover, Dugaboy has no right to the information requested in the Subpoenas. As Highland states in its Objection:

Dugaboy does not—and cannot—cite to a statute, rule, or judicial opinion authorizing this Court to grant the relief it seeks. Moreover, Dugaboy does not claim to be a beneficiary of the Claimant Trust, and it is not. Nor does Dugaboy contend—because it cannot—that it has any right under the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, or any of their related agreements and documents to the information it seeks. Indeed, even actual beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust have no right to the information Dugaboy demands.<sup>6</sup>

Objection ¶ 11. See Claimant Trust Agreement, effective as of August 11, 2021 (the “CTA”) § 3.12(b) (the CTA provides Claimant Trust beneficiaries with limited information rights; however, the Claimant Trustee may “redact any portion of such reports” to protect confidential information). A true and accurate copy of the CTA is attached to the Morris Decl. as Exhibit 5. The Subpoenas, then, are an effort by Dugaboy to bypass the terms of the Plan and the Claimant Trust governing documents and gain access to information to which it has no right.

C. The Subpoena to Highland Is an Improper Attempt to Evade FRCP 34

25. Highland—the Debtor—is a party to this contested matter. Rule 9014 makes FRCP 34—concerning the production of documents and things—applicable to parties to this contested matter. Rule 34 provides greater structure for the production of documents by parties, most notably a 30-day deadline for responding to requests for production rather than the 14 days set unilaterally by Dugaboy in the Subpoenas under Rule 45. “However, the Court in this District and others in this Circuit have disallowed the improper use of a Rule 45 subpoena to obtain information or documents more properly discovered under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 33 or 34.” Gomez v. Normand, No. 16-17046, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 103386, at *3 (E.D. La. July 5, 2017) (collecting cases and quashing subpoena served on party).

26. Here, Dugaboy’s misuse of Rule 45 to serve a subpoena requiring production of documents in 14 days rather than 30 is emblematic of its greater procedural failure in bringing its purported claim for valuation and accounting by motion as a contested matter, rather than as an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2) for the determination of the extent of an interest in property. Objection ¶ 24. Had Dugaboy brought a proper adversary proceeding, its efforts at discovery would have been subject to the full, orderly structure and scheduling of FRCP 26 rather than Dugaboy’s whims and tactics. The Subpoena to Highland should be quashed on the grounds that Dugaboy should have employed a FRCP 34 demand for production. See Gomez, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 103386, at *3-4.

27. For all these reasons, the Court should quash the Subpoenas.

D. In the Alternative, the Court Should Issue a Protective Order Staying the Subpoenas Until Its Decision on the Valuation Motion Becomes Final and Non-Appealable

28. Should the Court decline to immediately quash the Subpoenas (or any of them), it should issue a protective order under FRCP 26(c)(1) (made applicable herein by Bankruptcy Rule 9014) that holds the Subpoenas and this Motion to Quash in abeyance until the issues raised by the Valuation Motion are resolved. At that point, the scope of discovery, if any, to which Dugaboy is entitled will be clearer. The Highland Parties should then be permitted to raise any objections to the scope of the Subpoenas, and Dugaboy’s discovery requests can be addressed in an orderly way.

29. FRCP 26(c)(1) provides that “[t]he court may, for good cause, issue an order to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense.” FRCP 26(c)(1); see Romac Env’t Servs., 2022 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99837, at *6. The Court has wide discretion in determining whether or not to impose a protective order and fashioning one. Id., at *6-7.

30. Movant in the first instance bears the burden of persuasion for the issuance of a protective order. “Like a motion to quash, the ‘burden is upon [the party seeking the protective order] to show the necessity of its issuance, which contemplates a particular and specific demonstration of fact as distinguished from stereotyped and conclusory statements.” Id., at *6 (alteration in original) (quoting Meisenheimer v. DAC Vision Inc., No. 3:19-cv-1422-M, 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 209433, 2019 WL 6619198, at *2 (N.D. Tex. Dec. 4, 2019)).

31. The burden then shifts to the party propounding the discovery. “To successfully oppose a motion for protective order, however, the party seeking discovery may need to make its own showing of the proportionality factors, including the importance of the issues at stake in the action, the amount in controversy, the parties’ relative access to relevant information, the parties’ resources, and the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues.” Id., at *7. Any relevant public interest may also be a consideration. Id.

32. Here, should the Court not quash the Subpoenas, the Highland Parties request that the Court issue a protective order adjourning this Motion to Quash until thirty days after the Court’s order on the Valuation Motion becomes final and no longer subject to appeal. If the Court denies the Valuation Motion, then the Subpoenas will be moot. If and to the extent the Court grants any part of the Valuation Motion, then it may be that some part of the discovery requested by Dugaboy could become relevant.

33. As demonstrated above, the Subpoenas place an undue burden upon the Highland Parties in that they are a premature and back-door attempt to obtain the very relief sought in the Valuation Motion (to which Dugaboy has no legal or equitable right). Reciprocally, because Dugaboy has no right to the information it seeks, it cannot be disadvantaged by a protective order, and the information in any event has no probative value at this point in this contested matter.

34. The Subpoenas do not implicate any public interest in this essentially private dispute.

35. In the event that the Court does not quash the Subpoenas, the Highland Parties request that it enter the requested protective order.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, the Highland Parties respectfully request that the Court enter an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, quashing the Subpoenas, or, alternatively, issuing a protective order adjourning this Motion to Quash until 30 days after its order on the Valuation Motion becomes final and non-appealable.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)
(made applicable in bankruptcy cases by Rule 9016, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure)

(c) Place of compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, or electronically stored information, or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises, at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

For access to subpoena materials, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a) Committee Note (2013)

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)
(made applicable in bankruptcy cases by Rule 9016, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure)

(c) Place of compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, or electronically stored information, or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises, at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)
(made applicable in bankruptcy cases by Rule 9016, Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure)

(c) Place of compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, or electronically stored information, or things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises, at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt. The court for the district where compliance is required — and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court — may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

(a) The Claimant Trust is hereby created as a statutory trust under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and shall be called the “Highland Claimant Trust.” The Claimant Trustee shall be empowered to conduct all business and hold all property constituting the Claimant Trust Assets in such name in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein.

(b) The Trustees shall cause to be executed and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware the Certificate of Trust and agree to execute, acting solely in their capacity as Trustees, such certificates as may from time to time be required under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act or any other Delaware law.

2.2 Objectives.

(a) The Claimant Trust is established for the purpose of satisfying Allowed General Unsecured Claims and Allowed Subordinated Claims (and only to the extent provided herein, Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests and Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests) under the Plan, by monetizing the Claimant Trust Assets transferred to it and making distributions to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. The Claimant Trust shall not continue or engage in any trade or business except to the extent reasonably necessary to monetize and distribute the Claimant Trust Assets consistent with this Agreement and the Plan and act as sole member and manager of New GP LLC. The Claimant Trust shall provide a mechanism for (i) the monetization of the Claimant Trust Assets and (ii) the distribution of the proceeds thereof, net of all claims, expenses, charges, liabilities, and obligations of the Claimant Trust, to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with the Plan. In furtherance of this distribution objective, the Claimant Trust will, from time to time, prosecute and resolve objections to certain Claims and Interests as provided herein and in the Plan.

(b) It is intended that the Claimant Trust be classified for federal income tax purposes as a “liquidating trust” within the meaning of section 301.7701-4(d) of the Treasury Regulations. In furtherance of this objective, the Claimant Trustee shall, in his business judgment,

The Claimant Trust shall retain all rights to commence and pursue all Causes of Action of the Debtor other than (i) Estate Claims, which shall be assigned to and commenced and pursued by the Litigation Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, and (ii) Causes of Action constituting Reorganized Debtor Assets, if any, which shall be commenced and pursued by the Reorganized Debtor at the direction of the Claimant Trust as sole member of New GP LLC pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement. The Claimant Trust and Claimant Trustee shall have and retain, and, as applicable, assign and transfer to the Litigation Sub-Trust and Litigation Trustee, any and all rights, defenses, cross-claims and counter-claims held by the Debtor with respect to any Claim as of the Petition Date. On and after the date hereof, in accordance with and subject to the Plan, the Claimant Trustee shall have the authority to (i) compromise, settle or otherwise resolve, or withdraw any objections to Claims against the Debtor, provided, however, the Claimant Trustee shall only have the authority to compromise or settle any Employee Claim with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board and in the absence of unanimous consent, any such Employee Claim shall be transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust and be litigated, comprised, settled, or otherwise resolved exclusively by the Litigation Trustee and (ii) compromise, settle, or otherwise resolve any Disputed Claims without approval of the Bankruptcy Court, which authority may be shared with or transferred to the Litigation Trustee in accordance with the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Claimant Trust, pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code and applicable state trust law, is appointed as the successor-in-interest to, and representative of, the Debtor and its Estate for the retention, enforcement, settlement, and adjustment of all Claims other than Estate Claims, the Employee Claims, and those Claims constituting Reorganized Debtor Assets.

(b) The Claimant Trust shall be administered by the Claimant Trustee, in accordance with this Agreement, for the following purposes:

(i) to manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets in an expeditious but orderly manner with a view towards maximizing value within a reasonable time period;

(ii) to litigate and settle Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 (other than the Employee Claims, which shall be litigated and/or settled by the Litigation Trustee if the Oversight Board does not unanimously approve of any proposed settlement of such Employee Claim by the Claimant Trustee) and any of the Causes of Action included in the Claimant Trust Assets (including any cross-claims and counter-claims); provided, however, that Estate Claims transferred to the Litigation Sub-Trust shall be litigated and settled by the Litigation Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement;

(iii) to distribute net proceeds of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries;

(iv) to distribute funds from the Disputed Claims Reserve to Holders of Trust Interests or to the Reorganized Debtor for distribution to Holders of Disputed Claims in each case in accordance with the Plan from time to time as any such Holder's Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim under the Plan;

(v) to distribute funds to the Litigation Sub-Trust at the direction the Oversight Board;

(vi) to serve as the limited partner of, and to hold the limited partnership interests in, the Reorganized Debtor;

(vii) to serve as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC, the Reorganized Debtor's general partner;

(viii) to oversee the management and monetization of the Reorganized Debtor Assets pursuant to the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, in its capacity as the sole member and manager of New GP LLC pursuant to the terms of the New GP LLC Documents, all with a view toward maximizing value in a reasonable time in a manner consistent with the Reorganized Debtor's fiduciary duties as investment adviser to the Managed Funds; and

(ix) to perform any other functions and take any other actions provided for or permitted by this Agreement and the Plan, and in any other agreement executed by the Claimant Trustee.

2.4 Transfer of Assets and Rights to the Claimant Trust; Litigation Sub-Trust.

(a) On the Effective Date, pursuant to the Plan, the Debtor shall irrevocably transfer, assign, and deliver, and shall be deemed to have transferred, assigned, and delivered, all Claimant Trust Assets and related Privileges held by the Debtor to the Claimant Trust free and clear of all Claims, Interests, Liens, and other encumbrances, and liabilities, except as provided in the Plan and this Agreement. To the extent certain assets comprising the Claimant Trust Assets, because of their nature or because such assets will accrue or become transferable subsequent to the Effective Date, and cannot be transferred to, vested in, and assumed by the Claimant Trust on such date, such assets shall be considered Reorganized Debtor Assets, which may be subsequently transferred to the Claimant Trust by the Reorganized Debtor consistent with the terms of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement after such date.

(b) On or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date, the Claimant Trust shall irrevocably transfer, assign, and deliver, and shall be deemed to have transferred, assigned, and delivered, all Estate Claims and related Privileges held by the Claimant Trust to the Litigation Sub-Trust Trust free and clear of all Claims, Interests, Liens, and other encumbrances, and liabilities, except as provided in the Plan, this Agreement, and the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement. Following the transfer of such Privileges, the Litigation Trustee shall have the power to waive the Privileges being so assigned and transferred.

(c) On or before the Effective Date, and continuing thereafter, the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, shall provide (i) for the Claimant Trustee's and Litigation Trustee's reasonable access to all records and information in the Debtor's and Reorganized Debtor's possession, custody or control, (ii) that all Privileges related to the Claimant Trust Assets shall transfer to and vest exclusively in the Claimant Trust (except for those Privileges that will be transferred and assigned to the Litigation Sub-Trust in respect of the Estate Claims), and (iii) subject to Section 3.12(c), the Debtor and Reorganized Debtor shall preserve all records and documents (including all electronic records or documents), including, but not limited to, the Debtor's file server, email server, email archiving system, master journal, SharePoint, Oracle E-Business Suite, Advent Geneva, Siepe database, Bloomberg chat data, and any backups of the foregoing, until such time as the Claimant Trustee, with the consent of the Oversight Board and, if pertaining to any of the Estate Claims, the Litigation Trustee, directs the Reorganized Debtor, as sole member of its general partner, that such records are no longer required to be preserved. For the purposes of transfer of documents, the Claimant Trust or Litigation Sub-Trust, as applicable, is an assignee and successor to the Debtor in respect of the Claimant Trust Assets and Estate Claims, respectively, and shall be treated as such in any review of confidentiality restrictions in requested documents.

(d) Until the Claimant Trust terminates pursuant to the terms hereof, legal title to the Claimant Trust Assets (other than Estate Claims) and all property contained therein shall be vested at all times in the Claimant Trust as a separate legal entity, except where applicable law in any jurisdiction requires title to any part of the Claimant Trust Assets to be vested in the Claimant Trustee, in which case title shall be deemed to be vested in the Claimant Trustee, solely in his capacity as Claimant Trustee. For purposes of such jurisdictions, the term Claimant Trust, as used herein, shall be read to mean the Claimant Trustee.

2.5 Principal Office. The principal office of the Claimant Trust shall be maintained by the Claimant Trustee at the following address: 100 Crescent Court, Suite 1850, Dallas, Texas 75201.

2.6 Acceptance. The Claimant Trustee accepts the Claimant Trust imposed by this Agreement and agrees to observe and perform that Claimant Trust, on and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Plan.

2.7 Further Assurances. The Debtor, Reorganized Debtor, and any successors thereof will, upon reasonable request of the Claimant Trustee, execute, acknowledge and deliver such further instruments and do such further acts as may be necessary or proper to transfer to the Claimant Trustee any portion of the Claimant Trust Assets intended to be conveyed hereby and in the Plan in the form and manner provided for hereby and in the Plan and to vest in the Claimant Trustee the powers, instruments or funds in trust hereunder.

2.8 Incidents of Ownership. The Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall be the sole beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trustee shall retain only such incidents of ownership as are necessary to undertake the actions and transactions authorized herein.

(x) without further order of the Bankruptcy Court, but subject to the terms of this Agreement, employ various consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals, including counsel, tax advisors, consultants, brokers, investment bankers, valuation counselors, and financial advisors, as the Claimant Trustee deems necessary to aid him in fulfilling his obligations under this Agreement; such consultants, third-party service providers, and other professionals shall be retained pursuant to whatever fee arrangement the Claimant Trustee deems appropriate, including contingency fee arrangements and any fees and expenses incurred by such professionals engaged by the Claimant Trustee shall be Claimant Trust Expenses and paid by the Claimant Trustee from the Claimant Trust Assets;

3.5 Binding Nature of Actions. All actions taken and determinations made by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement shall be final and binding upon any and all Beneficiaries.

3.6 Term of Service. The Claimant Trustee shall serve as the Claimant Trustee for the duration of the Claimant Trust, subject to death, resignation or removal.

3.7 Resignation. The Claimant Trustee may resign as Claimant Trustee of the Claimant Trust by an instrument in writing delivered to the Bankruptcy Court and Oversight Board at least thirty (30) days before the proposed effective date of resignation. The Claimant Trustee shall continue to serve as Claimant Trustee after delivery of the Claimant Trustee's resignation until the proposed effective date of such resignation, unless the Claimant Trustee and a simple majority of the Oversight Board consent to an earlier effective date, which earlier effective date shall be no earlier than the date of appointment of a successor Claimant Trustee in accordance with Section 3.9 hereof becomes effective.

3.8 Removal.

(a) The Claimant Trustee may be removed by a simple majority vote of the Oversight Board for Cause immediately upon notice thereof, or without Cause upon 60 days' prior written notice. Upon the removal of the Claimant Trustee pursuant hereto, the Claimant Trustee will resign, or be deemed to have resigned, from any role or position he or she may have at New GP LLC or the Reorganized Debtor effective upon the expiration of the foregoing 60 day period unless the Claimant Trustee and a simple majority of the Oversight Board agree otherwise.

(b) To the extent there is any dispute regarding the removal of a Claimant Trustee (including any dispute relating to any compensation or expense reimbursement due under this Agreement) the Bankruptcy Court shall retain jurisdiction to consider and adjudicate such dispute. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will continue to serve as the Claimant Trustee after his removal until the earlier of (i) the time when a successor Claimant Trustee will become effective in accordance with Section 3.9 of this Agreement or (ii) such date as the Bankruptcy Court otherwise orders.

3.9 Appointment of Successor.

(a) Appointment of Successor. In the event of a vacancy by reason of the death or Disability (in the case of a Claimant Trustee that is a natural person), dissolution (in the case of a Claimant Trustee that is not a natural person), or removal of the Claimant Trustee, or prospective vacancy by reason of resignation, a successor Claimant Trustee shall be selected by a simple majority vote of the Oversight Board. If Members of the Oversight Board are unable to secure a majority vote, the Bankruptcy Court will determine the successor Claimant Trustee on motion of the Members. If a final decree has been entered closing the Chapter 11 Case, the Claimant Trustee may seek to reopen the Chapter 11 Case for the limited purpose of determining the successor Claimant Trustee, and the costs for such motion and costs related to re-opening the Chapter 11 Case shall be paid by the Claimant Trust. The successor Claimant Trustee shall be appointed as soon as practicable, but in any event no later than sixty (60) days after the occurrence of the vacancy or, in the case of resignation, on the effective date of the resignation of the then acting Claimant Trustee.

(b) Vesting or Rights in Successor Claimant Trustee. Every successor Claimant Trustee appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Claimant Trust, the exiting Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board, and file with the Bankruptcy Court, an instrument accepting such appointment subject to the terms and provisions hereof. The successor Claimant Trustee, without any further act, deed, or conveyance shall become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the exiting Claimant Trustee, except that the successor Claimant Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of the retiring Claimant Trustee. In no event shall the retiring Claimant Trustee be liable for the acts or omissions of the successor Claimant Trustee.

(c) Interim Claimant Trustee. During any period in which there is a vacancy in the position of Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board shall appoint one of its Members to serve as the interim Claimant Trustee (the “Interim Trustee”) until a successor Claimant Trustee is appointed pursuant to Section 3.9(a). The Interim Trustee shall be subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to a Claimant Trustee hereunder. Such Interim Trustee shall not be limited in any manner from exercising any rights or powers as a Member of the Oversight Board merely by such Person’s appointment as Interim Trustee.

3.10 Continuance of Claimant Trust. The death, resignation, or removal of the Claimant Trustee shall not operate to terminate the Claimant Trust created by this Agreement or to revoke any existing agency (other than any agency of the Claimant Trustee as the Claimant Trustee) created pursuant to the terms of this Agreement or invalidate any action taken by the Claimant Trustee. In the event of the resignation or removal of the Claimant Trustee, the Claimant Trustee shall promptly (i) execute and deliver, by the effective date of resignation or removal, such documents, instruments, records, and other writings as may be reasonably requested by his successor to effect termination of the exiting Claimant Trustee’s capacity under this Agreement and the conveyance of the Claimant Trust Assets then held by the exiting Claimant Trustee to the successor Claimant Trustee; (ii) deliver to the successor Claimant Trustee all non-privileged documents, instruments, records, and other writings relating to the Claimant Trust as may be in the possession or under the control of the exiting Claimant Trustee, provided, the exiting Claimant Trustee shall have the right to make and retain copies of such documents, instruments, records and other writings delivered to the successor Claimant Trustee and the cost of making such copies shall be a Claimant Trust Expense to be paid by the Claimant Trust; and (iii) otherwise assist and cooperate in effecting the assumption of the exiting Claimant Trustee’s obligations and functions by his successor, provided the fees and expenses of such assistance and cooperation shall be paid to the exiting Claimant Trustee by the Claimant Trust. The exiting Claimant Trustee shall irrevocably appoint the successor Claimant Trustee as his attorney-in-fact and agent with full power of substitution for it and its name, place and stead to do any and all acts that such exiting Claimant Trustee is obligated to perform under this Section 3.10.

3.11 Claimant Trustee as “Estate Representative”. The Claimant Trustee will be the exclusive trustee of the Claimant Trust Assets for purposes of 31 U.S.C. § 3713(b) and 26 U.S.C. § 6012(b)(3), as well as the representative of the Estate appointed pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) of the Bankruptcy Code (the “Estate Representative”) with respect to the Claimant

Trust Assets, with all rights and powers attendant thereto, in addition to all rights and powers granted in the Plan and in this Agreement; provided that all rights and powers as representative of the Estate pursuant to section 1123(b)(3)(B) shall be transferred to the Litigation Trustee in respect of the Estate Claims and the Employee Claims. The Claimant Trustee will be the successor-in-interest to the Debtor with respect to any action pertaining to the Claimant Trust Assets, which was or could have been commenced by the Debtor prior to the Effective Date, except as otherwise provided in the Plan or Confirmation Order. All actions, claims, rights or interest constituting Claimant Trust Assets are preserved and retained and may be enforced, or assignable to the Litigation Sub-Trust, by the Claimant Trustee as an Estate Representative.

3.12 Books and Records.

(a) The Claimant Trustee shall maintain in respect of the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries books and records reflecting Claimant Trust Assets in its possession and the income of the Claimant Trust and payment of expenses, liabilities, and claims against or assumed by the Claimant Trust in such detail and for such period of time as may be necessary to enable it to make full and proper accounting in respect thereof. Such books and records shall be maintained as reasonably necessary to facilitate compliance with the tax reporting requirements of the Claimant Trust and the requirements of Article VII herein. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Agreement requires the Claimant Trustee to file any accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Claimant Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Claimant Trust Assets.

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall provide quarterly reporting to the Oversight Board and Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of (i) the status of the Claimant Trust Assets, (ii) the balance of Cash held by the Claimant Trust (including in each of the Claimant Trust Expense Reserve and Disputed Claim Reserve), (iii) the determination and any re-determination, as applicable, of the total amount allocated to the Disputed Claim Reserve, (iv) the status of Disputed Claims and any resolutions thereof, (v) the status of any litigation, including the pursuit of the Causes of Action, (vi) the Reorganized Debtor's performance, and (vii) operating expenses; provided, however, that the Claimant Trustee may, with respect to any Member of the Oversight Board or Claimant Trust Beneficiary, redact any portion of such reports that relate to such Entity's Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable and any reporting provided to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries may be subject to such Claimant Trust Beneficiary's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

(c) The Claimant Trustee may dispose some or all of the books and records maintained by the Claimant Trustee at the later of (i) such time as the Claimant Trustee determines, with the unanimous consent of the Oversight Board, that the continued possession or maintenance of such books and records is no longer necessary for the benefit of the Claimant Trust, or (ii) upon the termination and winding up of the Claimant Trust under Article IX of this Agreement; provided, however, the Claimant Trustee shall not dispose of any books and records related to the Estate Claims or Employee Claims without the consent of the Litigation Trustee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee shall cause the Reorganized Debtor and its subsidiaries to retain such books and records, and for such periods, as are required to be retained pursuant to Section 204-2 of the Investment Advisers Act or any other applicable laws, rules, or regulations.

3.13 Compensation and Reimbursement; Engagement of Professionals.

(a) Compensation and Expenses.

(i) Compensation. As compensation for any services rendered by the Claimant Trustee in connection with this Agreement, the Claimant Trustee shall receive compensation of $150,000 per month (the "Base Salary"). Within the first forty-five days following the Confirmation Date, the Claimant Trustee, on the one hand, and the Committee, if prior to the Effective Date, or the Oversight Board, if on or after the Effective Date, on the other, will negotiate go-forward compensation for the Claimant Trustee which will include (a) the Base Salary, (b) a success fee, and (c) severance.

(ii) Expense Reimbursements. All reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Claimant Trustee in the performance of his or her duties hereunder, shall be reimbursed as Claimant Trust Expenses paid by the Claimant Trust.

(b) Professionals.

(i) Engagement of Professionals. The Claimant Trustee shall engage professionals from time to time in conjunction with the services provided hereunder. The Claimant Trustee's engagement of such professionals shall be approved by a majority of the Oversight Board as set forth in Section 3.3(b) hereof.

(ii) Fees and Expenses of Professionals. The Claimant Trustee shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of any retained professionals as Claimant Trust Expenses.

3.14 Reliance by Claimant Trustee. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Claimant Trustee may rely, and shall be fully protected in acting or refraining from acting, on any resolution, statement, certificate, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order or other instrument or document that the Claimant Trustee has no reason to believe to be other than genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties or, in the case of facsimiles, to have been sent by the proper party or parties, and the Claimant Trustee may conclusively rely as to the truth of the statements and correctness of the opinions or direction expressed therein. The Claimant Trustee may consult with counsel and other professionals, and any advice of such counsel or other professionals shall constitute full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Claimant Trustee in accordance therewith. The Claimant Trustee shall have the right at any time to seek instructions from the Bankruptcy Court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction concerning the Claimant Trust Assets, this Agreement, the Plan, or any other document executed in connection therewith, and any such instructions given shall be full and complete authorization in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Claimant Trustee in accordance therewith. The Claimant Trust shall have the right to seek Orders from the Bankruptcy Court as set forth in Article IX of the Plan.

3.15 Commingling of Claimant Trust Assets. The Claimant Trustee shall not commingle any of the Claimant Trust Assets with his or her own property or the property of any other Person.

The Parties agree not to instruct the Delaware Trustee to take any action or to refrain from taking any action that is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Claimant Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes party or that is otherwise contrary to law. Other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, the Delaware Trustee shall have no duty or power to take any action for or on behalf of the Claimant Trust. For the avoidance of doubt, the Delaware Trustee will only have such rights and obligations as expressly provided by reference to the Delaware Trustee hereunder. The Delaware Trustee shall not be entitled to exercise any powers, nor shall the Delaware Trustee have any of the duties and responsibilities, of the Claimant Trustee set forth herein. The Delaware Trustee shall be one of the trustees of the Claimant Trust for the sole and limited purpose of fulfilling the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and for taking such actions as are required to be taken by a Delaware Trustee under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. The duties (including fiduciary duties), liabilities and obligations of the Delaware Trustee shall be limited to those expressly set forth in this Section 3.16 and there shall be no other duties (including fiduciary duties) or obligations, express or implied, at law or in equity, of the Delaware Trustee. To the extent that, at law or in equity, the Delaware Trustee has duties (including fiduciary duties) and liabilities relating thereto to the Claimant Trust, the other parties hereto or any beneficiary of the Claimant Trust, it is hereby understood and agreed by the other parties hereto that such duties and liabilities are replaced by the duties and liabilities of the Delaware Trustee expressly set forth in this Agreement.

(b) The Delaware Trustee shall serve until such time as the Claimant Trustee removes the Delaware Trustee or the Delaware Trustee resigns and a successor Delaware Trustee is appointed by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the terms hereof. The Delaware Trustee may resign at any time upon the giving of at least thirty (30) days' advance written notice to the Claimant Trustee; provided, that such resignation shall not become effective unless and until a successor Delaware Trustee shall have been appointed by the Claimant Trustee in accordance with the terms hereof. If the Claimant Trustee does not act within such thirty (30) day period, the Delaware Trustee may apply to the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware for the appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee.

(c) Upon the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee, the Claimant Trustee shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee by delivering a written instrument to the outgoing Delaware Trustee. Any successor Delaware Trustee must satisfy the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. Any resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee and appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee shall not become effective until a written acceptance of appointment is delivered by the successor Delaware Trustee to the outgoing Delaware Trustee and the Claimant Trustee and any undisputed fees, expenses and indemnity due to the outgoing Delaware Trustee are paid. Following compliance with the preceding sentence, the successor Delaware Trustee shall become fully vested with all of the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the outgoing Delaware Trustee under this Agreement, with like effect as if originally named as Delaware Trustee, and the outgoing Delaware Trustee shall be discharged of its duties and obligations under this Agreement.

(d) The Delaware Trustee shall be paid such compensation as agreed to pursuant to a separate fee agreement. The Claimant Trust shall promptly advance and reimburse the Delaware Trustee for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred by the Delaware Trustee in connection with the performance of its duties hereunder.

(f) Any corporation or association into which WTNA may be converted or merged, or with which it may be consolidated, or to which it may sell or transfer all or substantially all of its corporate trust business and assets as a whole or substantially as a whole, or any corporation or association resulting from any such conversion, sale, merger, consolidation or transfer to which the Delaware Trustee is a party, will be and become the successor Delaware Trustee under this Agreement and will have and succeed to the rights, powers, duties, immunities and privileges as its predecessor, without the execution or filing of any instrument or paper or the performance of any further act.

(e) Notwithstanding provision of this Agreement to the contrary, with respect to the activities of the Reorganized Debtor in its capacity as an investment adviser (and subsidiaries of the Reorganized Debtor that serve as general partner or in an equivalent capacity) to any Managed Funds, the Oversight Board shall not make investment decisions or otherwise participate in the investment decision making process relating to any such Managed Funds, nor shall the Oversight Board or any member thereof serve as a fiduciary to any such Managed Funds. It is agreed and understood that investment decisions made by the Reorganized Debtor (or its subsidiary entities) with respect to Managed Funds shall be made by the Claimant Trustee in his capacity as an officer of the Reorganized Debtor and New GP LLC and/or such persons who serve as investment personnel of the Reorganized Debtor from time to time, and shall be subject to the fiduciary duties applicable to such entities and persons as investment adviser to such Managed Funds.

4.3 Fiduciary Duties. The Oversight Board (and each Member in its capacity as such) shall have fiduciary duties to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries consistent with the fiduciary duties that the members of the Creditors' Committee have to unsecured creditors and shall exercise its responsibilities accordingly; provided, however, that the Oversight Board shall not owe fiduciary obligations to any Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests or Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests until such Holders become Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with Section 5.1(c) hereof; provided, further, that the Oversight Board shall not owe fiduciary obligations to a Holder of an Equity Trust Interest if such Holder is named as a defendant in any of the Causes of Action, including Estate Claims, in their capacities as such, it being the intent that the Oversight Board's fiduciary duties are to maximize the value of the Claimant Trust Assets, including the Causes of Action. In all circumstances, the Oversight Board shall act in the best interests of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and in furtherance of the purpose of the Claimant Trust. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the foregoing shall not eliminate the implied contractual covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

4.4 Meetings of the Oversight Board. Meetings of the Oversight Board are to be held as necessary to ensure the operation of the Claimant Trust but in no event less often than quarterly. Special meetings of the Oversight Board may be held whenever and wherever called for by the Claimant Trustee or any Member; provided, however, that notice of any such meeting shall be duly given in writing no less than 48 hours prior to such meeting (such notice requirement being subject to any waiver by the Members in the minutes, if any, or other transcript, if any, of proceedings of the Oversight Board). Unless the Oversight Board decides otherwise (which decision shall rest in the reasonable discretion of the Oversight Board), the Claimant Trustee, and each of the Claimant Trustee's designated advisors may, but are not required to, attend meetings of the Oversight Board.

4.5 Unanimous Written Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the Oversight Board in a meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by unanimous written consents describing the actions taken, signed by all Members and recorded. If any Member informs the Claimant Trustee (via e-mail or otherwise) that he or she objects to the decision, determination, action, or inaction proposed to be made by unanimous written consent, the Claimant Trustee must use reasonable good faith efforts to schedule a meeting on the issue to be set within 48 hours of the request or as soon thereafter as possible on which all members of the Oversight Board are available in person or by telephone. Such decision, determination, action, or inaction must then be made pursuant to the meeting protocols set forth herein.

4.6 Manner of Acting.

(a) A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Oversight Board shall consist of at least three Members (including no less than one (1) Disinterested Member); provided that if the transaction of business at a meeting would constitute a direct or indirect conflict of interest for the Redeemer Committee, Acis, and/or UBS, at least two Disinterested Members must be present for there to be a quorum. Except as set otherwise forth herein, the majority vote of the Members present at a duly called meeting at which a quorum is present throughout shall be the act of the Oversight Board except as otherwise required by law or as provided in this Agreement. Any or all of the Members may participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, conference telephone, video conference, or similar communications equipment by means of which all Persons participating in the meeting may hear each other, in which case any required notice of such meeting may generally describe the arrangements (rather than or in addition of the place) for the holding hereof. Any Member participating in a meeting by this means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting. Voting (including on negative notice) may be conducted by electronic mail or individual communications by the applicable Trustee and each Member.

(b) Any Member who is present and entitled to vote at a meeting of the Oversight Board when action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken, subject to the requisite vote of the Oversight Board, unless (i) such Member objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon his/her arrival) to holding or transacting business at the meeting; (ii) his/her dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting; or (iii) he/she delivers written notice (including by electronic or facsimile transmission) of his/her dissent or abstention to the Oversight Board before its adjournment. The right of dissent or abstention is not available to any Member of the Oversight Board who votes in favor of the action taken.

(c) Prior to a vote on any matter or issue or the taking of any action with respect to any matter or issue, each Member shall report to the Oversight Board any conflict of interest such Member has or may have with respect to the matter or issue at hand and fully disclose the nature of such conflict or potential conflict (including, without limitation, disclosing any and all financial or other pecuniary interests that such Member may have with respect to or in connection with such matter or issue, other than solely as a holder of Trust Interests). A Member who, with respect to a matter or issue, has or who may have a conflict of interest whereby such Member's interests are adverse to the interests of the Claimant Trust shall be deemed a "Conflicted Member" who shall not be entitled to vote or take part in any action with respect to such matter or issue. In the event of a Conflicted Member, the vote or action with respect to such matter or issue giving rise to such conflict shall be undertaken only by Members who are not Conflicted Members and, notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the affirmative vote of only a majority of the Members who are not Conflicted Members shall be required to approve of such matter or issue and the same shall be the act of the Oversight Board.

(d) Each of Acis, the Redeemer Committee, and UBS shall be deemed "Conflicted Members" with respect to any matter or issue related to or otherwise affecting any of their respective Claim(s) (a "Committee Member Claim Matter"). A unanimous vote of the Disinterested Members shall be required to approve of or otherwise take action with respect to any

Committee Member Claim Matter and, notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the same shall be the act of the Oversight Board.

4.7 Tenure of the Members of the Oversight Board. The authority of the Members of the Oversight Board will be effective as of the Effective Date and will remain and continue in full force and effect until the Claimant Trust is terminated in accordance with Article IX hereof. The Members of the Oversight Board will serve until such Member's successor is duly appointed or until such Member's earlier death or resignation pursuant to Section 4.8 below, or removal pursuant to Section 4.9 below.

4.8 Resignation. A Member of the Oversight Board may resign by giving prior written notice thereof to the Claimant Trustee and other Members. Such resignation shall become effective on the earlier to occur of (i) the day that is 90 days following the delivery of such notice, (ii) the appointment of a successor in accordance with Section 4.10 below, and (iii) such other date as may be agreed to by the Claimant Trustee and the non-resigning Members of the Oversight Board.

4.9 Removal. A majority of the Oversight Board may remove any Member for Cause or Disability. If any Committee Member has its Claim disallowed in its entirety the representative of such entity will immediately be removed as a Member without the requirement for a vote and a successor will be appointed in the manner set forth herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, upon the termination of the Claimant Trust, any or all of the Members shall be deemed to have resigned.

4.10 Appointment of a Successor Member.

(a) In the event of a vacancy on the Oversight Board (whether by removal, death, or resignation), a new Member may be appointed to fill such position by the remaining Members acting unanimously; provided, however, that any vacancy resulting from the removal, resignation, or death of a Disinterested Member may only be filled by a disinterested Person unaffiliated with any Claimant or constituency in the Chapter 11 Case; provided, further, that if an individual serving as the representative of a Committee Member resigns from its role as representative, such resignation shall not be deemed resignation of the Committee Member itself and such Committee Member shall have the exclusive right to designate its replacement representative for the Oversight Board. The appointment of a successor Member will be further evidenced by the Claimant Trustee's filing with the Bankruptcy Court (to the extent a final decree has not been entered) and posting on the Claimant Trustee's website a notice of appointment, at the direction of the Oversight Board, which notice will include the name, address, and telephone number of the successor Member.

(b) Immediately upon the appointment of any successor Member, the successor Member shall assume all rights, powers, duties, authority, and privileges of a Member hereunder and such rights and privileges will be vested in and undertaken by the successor Member without any further act. A successor Member will not be liable personally for any act or omission of a predecessor Member.

(c) Every successor Member appointed hereunder shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Claimant Trustee and other Members an instrument accepting the appointment

under this Agreement and agreeing to be bound thereto, and thereupon the successor Member without any further act, deed, or conveyance, shall become vested with all rights, powers, trusts, and duties of a Member hereunder.

4.11 Compensation and Reimbursement of Expenses. Unless determined by the Oversight Board, no Member shall be entitled to compensation in connection with his or her service to the Oversight Board; provided, however, that a Disinterested Member shall be compensated in a manner and amount initially set by the other Members and as thereafter amended from time to time by agreement between the Oversight Board and the Disinterested Member. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will reimburse the Members for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Members in connection with the performance of their duties hereunder (which shall not include fees, costs, and expenses of legal counsel).

4.12 Confidentiality. Each Member shall, during the period that such Member serves as a Member under this Agreement and following the termination of this Agreement or following such Member's removal or resignation, hold strictly confidential and not use for personal gain any material, non-public information of or pertaining to any Person to which any of the Claimant Trust Assets relates or of which such Member has become aware in the Member's capacity as a Member ("Confidential Trust Information"), except as otherwise required by law. For the avoidance of doubt, a Member's Affiliates, employer, and employer's Affiliates (and collectively with such Persons' directors, officers, partners, principals and employees, "Member Affiliates") shall not be deemed to have received Confidential Trust Information solely due to the fact that a Member has received Confidential Trust Information in his or her capacity as a Member of the Oversight Board and to the extent that (a) a Member does not disclose any Confidential Trust Information to a Member Affiliate, (b) the business activities of such Member Affiliates are conducted without reference to, and without use of, Confidential Trust Information, and (c) no Member Affiliate is otherwise directed to take, or takes on behalf of a Member or Member Affiliate, any actions that are contrary to the terms of this Section 4.12.

The Subordinated Trust Interests shall be subordinated in right and priority to the General Unsecured Claim Trust Interests. The Subordinated Beneficiaries shall only be entitled to distributions from the Claimant Trust Assets after each GUC Beneficiary has been repaid in full with applicable interest on account of such GUC Beneficiary's Allowed General Unsecured Claim, and all Disputed General Unsecured Claims have been resolved, in accordance with the terms of the Plan and this Agreement.

On the date hereof, or on the date such Interest becomes Allowed under the Plan, the Claimant Trust shall issue Contingent Interests to Holders of Allowed Class 10 Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests and Holders of Allowed Class 11 Class A Limited Partnership Interests (collectively, the "Equity Holders"). The Claimant Trustee shall allocate to each Holder of Allowed Class 10 Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests and each Holder of Allowed Class 11 Class A Limited Partnership Interests a Contingent Trust Interest equal to the ratio that the amount of each Holder's Allowed Class 10 or Class 11 Interest bears to the total amount of the Allowed Class 10 or Class 11 Interests, as applicable, under the Plan. Equity Holders will only be deemed "Beneficiaries" under this Agreement upon the filing of a GUC Payment Certification with the Bankruptcy Court, at which time the Contingent Trust Interests will vest and be deemed "Equity Trust Interests." The Equity Trust Interests shall be subordinated in right and priority to Subordinated Trust Interests, and distributions on account thereof shall only be made if and when Subordinated Beneficiaries have been repaid in full on account of such Subordinated Beneficiary's Allowed Subordinated Claim, in accordance with the terms of the Plan, the Confirmation Order, and this Agreement. The Equity Trust Interests distributed to Allowed Holders of Class A Limited Partnership Interests shall be subordinated to the Equity Trust Interests distributed to Allowed Holders of Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests.

5.2 Interests Beneficial Only. The ownership of the beneficial interests in the Claimant Trust shall not entitle the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries to any title in or to the Claimant Trust Assets (which title shall be vested in the Claimant Trust) or to any right to call for a partition or division of the Claimant Trust Assets or to require an accounting. No Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall have any governance right or other right to direct Claimant Trust activities.

5.5 Exemption from Registration. The Parties hereto intend that the rights of the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries arising under this Claimant Trust shall not be “securities” under applicable laws, but none of the Parties represent or warrant that such rights shall not be securities or shall not be entitled to exemption from registration under the applicable securities laws. The Oversight Board, acting unanimously, and Claimant Trustee may amend this Agreement in accordance with Article IX hereof to make such changes as are deemed necessary or appropriate with the advice of counsel, to ensure that the Claimant Trust is not subject to registration and/or reporting requirements of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, the TIA, or the Investment Company Act. The Trust Interests shall not have consent or voting rights or otherwise confer on the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries any rights similar to the rights of a shareholder of a corporation in respect of any actions taken or to be taken, or decisions made or to be made, by the Oversight Board and/or the Claimant Trustee under this Agreement.

Any Claimant Trust Beneficiary may, after the Effective Date, select an alternative distribution address by providing notice to the Claimant Trustee identifying such alternative distribution address. Such notification shall be effective only upon receipt by the Claimant Trustee. 5.9 Standing. No Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall have standing to direct the Claimant Trustee to do or not to do any act or to institute any action or proceeding at law or in equity against any party upon or with respect to the Claimant Trust Assets. No Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall have any direct interest in or to any of the Claimant Trust Assets.

(a) The Claimant Trust Beneficiaries shall have no rights other than those set forth in this Agreement, the Confirmation Order, or the Plan (including any Plan Supplement documents incorporated therein).

(b) In any action taken by a Claimant Trust Beneficiary against the Claimant Trust, a current or former Trustee, or a current or former Member, in their capacity as such, the prevailing party will be entitled to reimbursement of attorneys' fees and other costs; provided, however, that any fees and costs shall be borne by the Claimant Trust on behalf of any such Trustee or Member, as set forth herein.

The Claimant Trustee may otherwise distribute all Claimant Trust Assets on behalf of the Claimant Trust in accordance with this Agreement and the Plan at such time or times as the Claimant Trustee is directed by the Oversight Board.

ARTICLE VII. TAX MATTERS

7.1 Tax Treatment and Tax Returns.

(a) It is intended for the initial transfer of the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust to be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable) as if the Debtor transferred the Claimant Trust Assets (other than the amounts set aside in the Disputed Claim Reserve, if the Claimant Trustee makes the election described below) to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and then, immediately thereafter, the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries transferred the Claimant Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust. Consistent with such treatment, (i) it is intended that the Claimant Trust will be treated as a grantor trust for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable), (ii) it is intended that the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries will be treated as the grantors of the Claimant Trust and owners of their respective share of the Claimant Trust Assets for federal income tax purposes (and foreign, state, and local income tax purposes where applicable). The Claimant Trustee shall file all federal income tax returns (and foreign, state, and local income tax returns where applicable) for the Claimant Trust as a grantor trust pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.671-4(a).

(b) The Claimant Trustee shall determine the fair market value of the Claimant Trust Assets as of the Effective Date and notify the applicable Beneficiaries of such valuation, and such valuation shall be used consistently by all parties for all federal income tax purposes.

(c) The Claimant Trustee may file an election pursuant to Treasury Regulation 1.468B-9(c) to treat the Disputed Claims Reserve as a disputed ownership fund, in which case the Claimant Trustee will file federal income tax returns and pay taxes for the Disputed Claim Reserve as a separate taxable entity.

7.2 Withholding. The Claimant Trustee may withhold from any amount distributed from the Claimant Trust to any Claimant Trust Beneficiary such sum or sums as are required to be withheld under the income tax laws of the United States or of any state or political subdivision thereof. Any amounts withheld pursuant hereto shall be deemed to have been distributed to and received by the applicable Beneficiary. As a condition to receiving any distribution from the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee may require that the Beneficiary provide such holder's taxpayer identification number and such other information and certification as may be deemed necessary for the Claimant Trustee to comply with applicable tax reporting and withholding laws. If a Beneficiary fails to comply with such a request within one year, such distribution shall be deemed an unclaimed distribution and treated in accordance with Section 6.5(b) of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII. STANDARD OF CARE AND INDEMNIFICATION

8.1 Standard of Care. None of the Claimant Trustee, acting in his capacity as the Claimant Trustee or in any other capacity contemplated by this Agreement or the Plan, the Delaware Trustee, acting in its capacity as Delaware Trustee, the Oversight Board, or any current or any individual Member, solely in their capacity as Members of the Oversight Board, shall be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or to any Person (including any Claimant Trust Beneficiary) in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the acts or omissions of any such Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member constituted fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. The employees, agents and professionals retained by the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or individual Member shall not be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or any other Person in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that such acts or omissions by such employee, agent, or professional constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence. None of the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or any Member shall be personally liable to the Claimant Trust or to any Person for the acts or omissions of any employee, agent or professional of the Claimant Trust or Claimant Trustee taken or not taken in good faith reliance on the advice of professionals or, as applicable, with the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction that the Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection, retention, or supervision of such employee, agent or professional of the Claimant Trust.

8.2 Indemnification. The Claimant Trustee (including each former Claimant Trustee), WTNA in its individual capacity and as Delaware Trustee, the Oversight Board, and all past and present Members (collectively, in their capacities as such, the "Indemnified Parties") shall be

indemnified by the Claimant Trust against and held harmless by the Claimant Trust from any losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, disbursements, and related expenses) to which the Indemnified Parties may become subject in connection with any action, suit, proceeding or investigation brought or threatened against any of the Indemnified Parties in their capacity as Claimant Trustee, Delaware Trustee, Oversight Board, or Member, or in connection with any matter arising out of or related to the Plan, this Agreement, or the affairs of the Claimant Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or other court of competent jurisdiction that the Indemnified Party's acts or omissions constituted willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. If the Indemnified Party becomes involved in any action, proceeding, or investigation in connection with any matter arising out of or in connection with the Plan, this Agreement or the affairs of the Claimant Trust for which an indemnification obligation could arise, the Indemnified Party shall promptly notify the Claimant Trustee and/or Oversight Board, as applicable; provided, however, that the failure of an Indemnified Party to promptly notify the Claimant Trustee and/or Oversight Board of an indemnification obligation will not excuse the Claimant Trust from indemnifying the Indemnified Party unless such delay has caused the Claimant Trust material harm. The Claimant Trust shall pay, advance or otherwise reimburse on demand of an Indemnified Party the Indemnified Party's reasonable legal and other defense expenses (including, without limitation, the cost of any investigation and preparation and attorney fees, disbursements, and other expenses related to any claim that has been brought or threatened to be brought) incurred in connection therewith or in connection with enforcing his or her rights under this Section 8.2 as a Claimant Trust Expense, and the Claimant Trust shall not refuse to make any payments to the Indemnified Party on the assertion that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful misconduct or acted in bad faith; provided that the Indemnified Party shall be required to repay promptly to the Claimant Trust the amount of any such advanced or reimbursed expenses paid to the Indemnified Party to the extent that it shall be ultimately determined by Final Order that the Indemnified Party engaged in willful fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust with respect to which such expenses were paid; provided, further, that any such repayment obligation shall be unsecured and interest free. The Claimant Trust shall indemnify and hold harmless the employees, agents and professionals of the Claimant Trust and Indemnified Parties to the same extent as provided in this Section 8.2 for the Indemnified Parties. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 8.2 shall remain available to any former Claimant Trustee, WTNA in its individual capacity and as Delaware Trustee, or Member or the estate of any decedent Claimant Trustee or Member, solely in their capacities as such. The indemnification provided hereby shall be a Claimant Trust Expense and shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which the Indemnified Party may now or in the future be entitled to under the Plan or any applicable insurance policy. The failure of the Claimant Trust to pay or reimburse an Indemnified Party as required under this Section 8.2 shall constitute irreparable harm to the Indemnified Party and such Indemnified Party shall be entitled to specific performance of the obligations herein. The terms of this Section 8.2 shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the resignation or removal of any Indemnified Party.

8.3 No Personal Liability. Except as otherwise provided herein, neither of the Trustees nor Members of the Oversight Board shall be subject to any personal liability whatsoever, whether in tort, contract, or otherwise, to any Person in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust to the fullest extent provided under Section 3803 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, and all Persons asserting claims against the Claimant Trustee, Litigation Trustee, or any Members, or otherwise asserting claims of any nature in connection with the affairs of the Claimant Trust, shall look solely to the Claimant Trust Assets for satisfaction of any such claims.

8.4 Other Protections. To the extent applicable and not otherwise addressed herein, the provisions and protections set forth in Article IX of the Plan will apply to the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the Litigation Trustee, and the Members.

ARTICLE IX. TERMINATION

9.1 Duration. The Trustees, the Claimant Trust, and the Oversight Board shall be discharged or dissolved, as the case may be, at such time as: (a) the Litigation Trustee determines that the pursuit of Estate Claims is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Estate Claims, (b) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of Causes of Action (other than Estate Claims) is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such Causes of Action, (c) the Claimant Trustee determines that the pursuit of sales of other Claimant Trust Assets is not likely to yield sufficient additional proceeds to justify further pursuit of such sales of Claimant Trust Assets, (d) all objections to Disputed Claims and Equity Interests are fully resolved, (e) the Reorganized Debtor is dissolved, and (f) all Distributions required to be made by the Claimant Trustee to the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries under the Plan have been made, but in no event shall the Claimant Trust be dissolved later than three years from the Effective Date unless the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made within the six-month period before such third anniversary (and, in the event of further extension, by order of the Bankruptcy Court, upon motion made at least six months before the end of the preceding extension), determines that a fixed period extension (not to exceed two years, together with any prior extensions) is necessary to facilitate or complete the recovery on, and liquidation of, the Claimant Trust Assets.

9.2 Distributions in Kind. Upon dissolution of the Claimant Trust, any remaining Claimant Trust Assets that exceed the amounts required to be paid under the Plan will be transferred (in the sole discretion of the Claimant Trustee) in Cash or in-kind to the Holders of the Claimant Trust Interests as provided in the Claimant Trust Agreement.

9.3 Continuance of the Claimant Trustee for Winding Up. After dissolution of the Claimant Trust and for purpose of liquidating and winding up the affairs of the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee shall continue to act as such until the Claimant Trustee's duties have been fully performed. Prior to the final distribution of all remaining Claimant Trust Assets, the Claimant Trustee shall be entitled to reserve from such assets any and all amounts required to provide for the Claimant Trustee's own costs and expenses, including a reserve to fund any potential indemnification or similar obligations of the Claimant Trust, until such time as the winding up of the Claimant Trust is completed. Upon the dissolution of the Claimant Trust and completion of the winding up of the assets, liabilities and affairs of the Claimant Trust pursuant to the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, the Claimant Trustee shall prepare, execute and file a certificate of cancellation with the State of Delaware to terminate the Claimant Trust pursuant to Section 3810 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act (such date upon which the certificate of cancellation is filed shall be referred to as the "Termination Date"). If the Delaware Trustee's signature is required for purposes of filing such certificate of cancellation, the Claimant Trustee shall provide the Delaware

Trustee with written direction to execute such certificate of cancellation, and the Delaware Trustee shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely upon such written direction without further inquiry. Upon the Termination date, the Claimant Trustee shall retain for a period of two (2) years, as a Claimant Trust Expense, the books, records, Claimant Trust Beneficiary lists, and certificated and other documents and files that have been delivered to or created by the Claimant Trustee. At the Claimant Trustee's discretion, all of such records and documents may, but need not, be destroyed at any time after two (2) years from the Termination Date.

9.4 Termination of Duties. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, upon the Termination Date of the Claimant Trust, the Claimant Trustee, the Oversight Board and its Members shall have no further duties or obligations hereunder.

9.5 No Survival. The rights of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries hereunder shall not survive the Termination Date, provided that such Claimant Trust Beneficiaries are provided with notice of such Termination Date.

ARTICLE X. AMENDMENTS AND WAIVER

The Claimant Trustee, with the consent of a simple majority of the Oversight Board, may amend this Agreement to correct or clarify any non-material provisions. This Agreement may not otherwise be amended, supplemented, otherwise modified, or waived in any respect except by an instrument in writing signed by the Claimant Trustee and with the unanimous approval of the Oversight Board, and the approval of the Bankruptcy Court, after notice and a hearing; provided that the Claimant Trustee must provide the Oversight Board with prior written notice of any non-material amendments, supplements, modifications, or waivers of this Agreement. No amendment or waiver of this Agreement that adversely affects the Delaware Trustee shall be effective unless the Delaware Trustee has consented thereto in writing in its sole and absolute discretion.

ARTICLE XI. MISCELLANEOUS

11.2 Bankruptcy of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. The dissolution, termination, bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar incapacity of any Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall not permit any creditor, trustee, or any other Claimant Trust Beneficiary to obtain possession of, or exercise legal or equitable remedies with respect to, the Claimant Trust Assets.

11.3 Claimant Trust Beneficiaries have No Legal Title to Claimant Trust Assets. No Claimant Trust Beneficiary shall have legal title to any part of the Claimant Trust Assets.

11.12 Transferee Liabilities. The Claimant Trust shall have no liability for, and the Claimant Trust Assets shall not be subject to, any claim arising by, through or under the Debtor except as expressly set forth in the Plan or in this Agreement. In no event shall the Claimant Trustee or the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries have any personal liability for such claims. If any liability shall be asserted against the Claimant Trust or the Claimant Trustee as the transferee of the Claimant Trust Assets on account of any claimed liability of, through or under the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trustee may use such part of the Claimant Trust Assets as may be necessary to contest any such claimed liability and to pay, compromise, settle or discharge same on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Claimant Trustee as a Claimant Trust Expense.

SUPPLEMENTAL AND AMENDED MOTION FOR DETERMINATION OF THE VALUE OF THE ESTATE AND ASSETS HELD BY THE CLAIMANT TRUST

I. INTRODUCTION

1. By this Motion, the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) respectfully seeks a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors, as contemplated by the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization, as Amended (the “Plan”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor” or “HCMLP”). Notably, although the latest quarterly operating report filed by the Reorganized Debtor projects a distribution to creditors totaling $205 million (a scant $11 million more than what the Debtor projected in its Plan Disclosure), Dugaboy has reason to believe that the mix of assets held by the Claimant Trust has changed dramatically since this Court confirmed the Plan and that the estate presently has sufficient cash and other assets with which to pay creditors in full plus interest. At the same time, the Reorganized Debtor has reported that it has paid to professionals nearly $70 million since the Effective Date of the Plan—an enormous burn for an estate that projects payment of fractionally more to creditors. And extrapolating from the Reorganized Debtor’s most recent financial reporting, it appears that the estate has reserved or accrued for tens of millions of dollars of additional professional fees.

2. Notably, the Court previously described Dugaboy’s interest in the estate as “extremely remote,” a finding based solely on a projection as of February 2021. See Order dated February 22, 2021, Dkt. 1943 (“Plan Confirmation Order”) at ¶ 19; see also id., ¶ 18. That projection was made at an arbitrary point in time (now almost 19 months ago) and was based on the value of assets then held by the estate, which necessarily fluctuates. But the value of the assets available for distribution to creditors is vastly different today than it was in February of 2021. We know this because almost all of the major assets have been liquidated, transforming what were once projections into finite values, and other assets have increased in value. Dugaboy believes that the combination of assets and cash held by the Claimant Trust in its own name and held in various funds, reserve accounts, and subsidiaries—if liquidated—would be sufficient to pay all Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in full, with interest or, at the very least, come very close. In other words, based upon reality as opposed to the Debtor’s projections 19 months ago, the nature of Dugaboy’s interest in the estate—and its standing to seek redress in the bankruptcy proceedings—cannot now be classified as remote.

3. By way of example only, at the time of the Debtor’s settlement with HarbourVest, it reported the value of HarbourVest’s interest in Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. (“HCLOF”) as $22 million. See Dkt 1625, p.9 at fn. 5. But based on the research Dugaboy has done, HarbourVest’s interest in HCLOF was worth closer to $45 million at the time the Debtor acquired that interest and is worth approximately $75 million today, with the majority of the value held in cash.<sup>1</sup>

4. Further, Dugaboy's interest in the estate is very much real and realizable because there is a potential for significant payment to residual equity holders, and the way in which the estate is managed (including its expenses for such management) could detrimentally affect Dugaboy's financial interests. Indeed, Dugaboy believes that the estate has sold all but a few major assets of the estate, including most recently its Trussway asset, which upon information and belief, generated over $246,000,000 of additional cash with which to pay creditors. In other words, the funds available to pay creditors and equity holders has grown tremendously since Plan confirmation. This difference in value is important—and underscores the need for this Motion—because, if accurate, it means that professionals representing the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust are litigating claims against Dugaboy, Hunter Mountain, and others, even though the only beneficiaries of any recovery from such litigation will be Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain. In other words, Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain are essentially footing the bill for huge legal fees so that the Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust can sue them only to return any recoveries back to them. Dugaboy has a very significant interest in a determination as to whether sufficient funds currently exist or will exist to pay all creditors in full such that the estate and its professionals can stop incurring professional fees to pursue unnecessary litigation.

5. The Debtor's failure to make any sizeable payments to creditors at this stage of proceedings is particularly curious in light of the Debtor's Plan Projections submitted in support of Plan confirmation. Those Projections reflected the Debtor's intention to distribute to creditors $50,000,000 by September 30, 2021, $50,000,000 by March 31, 2022, $25,000,000 by June 30, is entitled to 50.62% as a result of the acquisition of the HarbourVest interest, or $26.8 million. HCLOF also had significant holdings in the Highland CLOs, which held, among other assets, MGM stock. See Dkt. 1235 at ¶¶ 1-2.

2022, and all remaining proceeds soon after all remaining assets were monetized. See Debtor's Amended Witness and Exhibit List With Respect to Confirmation Hearing to Be Held on February 2, 2021, Ex. DDDDDDD, Dkt. 1866-5, p.3, n.P. Despite these Plan Projections, as disclosed in the Debtor's most recent Post-Confirmation Report and accompanying Global Notes to Post Confirmation Report, the Debtor has distributed only $6,201,896 to the General Unsecured Creditors, or 1.58% of the total Allowed Claims of $390,624,608, while having made disbursements to parties other than the General Unsecured Creditors of $84,179,524 since the Effective Date of the Plan, or 21.55% of the total Allowed Claims. See Post-Confirmation Report for the Quarter Ending 6/30/2022, Dkt. 3409 and Global Notes to Post Confirmation Report, Dkt. 3409-1.

6. Even if the estate does not have sufficient assets at present to pay all allowed claims in full, a determination of the current value of the estate would still benefit all creditors, residual equity holders, and parties-in-interest because such a determination would reveal the spread between the estate's asset value (exclusive of various adversary proceedings, including the notes lawsuits and the Kirschner litigation) and the estate's net liabilities to creditors. If all interested parties were able to understand that spread, it could facilitate a settlement that would achieve payment of creditors in full and resolution of all outstanding litigation while preventing the further enormous burn occasioned by legal fees and other costs currently borne by the estate (nearly $70 million since the Effective Date and accruing at a rate of what Dugaboy estimates to be approximately $5-$7 million/month).<sup>2</sup>

7. Accordingly, this Motion seeks an evidentiary hearing so that the Court may determine the current amount of cash and other assets currently held by the Claimant Trust for distribution to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries (as that term is defined in the Plan). At the very least, disclosure of the assets held by the Claimant Trust may facilitate a meaningful settlement discussion and potentially end the litigation and appellate proceedings currently burdening the estate and resulting in very high legal fees, to the detriment of creditors and residual equity holders.

II. BACKGROUND

A. HCMLP Files A Chapter 11 Petition Anticipating A Quick Restructuring And Exit From Bankruptcy

8. HCMLP filed its chapter 11 petition in bankruptcy in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware on October 16, 2019. Dkt. 3.<sup>3</sup> The case was transferred over HCMLP's objection to this Court on December 4, 2019. Dkt. 1. As the Court has since acknowledged, at the time HCMLP filed its chapter 11 petition, the company had "relatively insignificant secured indebtedness," "did not have problems with its trade vendors or landlords," and "did not suffer any type of catastrophic business calamity." Order (I) Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (II) Granting Related Relief ("Plan Confirmation Order"), Dkt. 1943, ¶ 8. Indeed, at the time of its filing, HCMLP had over $550 million in assets and no outstanding judgment liabilities against it other than the award issued by the American Arbitration Association in favor of the Redeemer Committee of the Crusader Funds.<sup>4</sup> As a result, there was every reason to believe that HCMLP

Debtor had disbursed $84,179,524 since the Effective Date, only $6,201,896 of which has been paid on general unsecured claims. See Dkt. 3409-1 at pp. 2-3.

B. The Debtor and its Management Were Not Required To Disclose Assets and Transactions During Bankruptcy Proceedings

9. As the Court is aware, a quick exit from bankruptcy did not transpire as anticipated. During the 16 months between the time of HCMLP’s bankruptcy filing and the Court’s approval of the Plan, the estate’s value fluctuated periodically. Nonetheless, the Debtor—with the Court’s approval—only provided the public with limited information regarding the mix of assets held by the estate (including at the subsidiary level). The Court likewise granted the Debtor’s request to shield from public scrutiny asset sales conducted by the Debtor’s management during bankruptcy. For example, the Court authorized the Debtor to place assets that were acquired as part of the Debtor’s settlement with HarbourVest into a non-debtor special purpose entity. See Dkt. 1788. That placement meant that the true value of the asset, the asset’s appreciated value, and its ultimate liquidation were not reported or disclosed to creditors or other interested parties.

10. The Court also did not require the Debtor to file any Rule 2015.3 reports during the bankruptcy proceedings, notwithstanding that the Debtor did not seek relief from the requirement.<sup>5</sup> Such reports were especially important in this bankruptcy case because the Debtor held most of its assets in subsidiaries. The Debtor’s failure to file the required reports is difficult to understand. Indeed, despite this Court’s characterization of HCMLP as a “byzantine complex”

<sup>5</sup> As the Court is aware, there is a mechanism for seeking such relief under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. Specifically, the Court could have granted the Debtor relief from the Rule 2015.3 disclosure requirement “for cause,” including that “the trustee or debtor in possession is not able, after a good faith effort, to comply with th[e] reporting requirements, or that the information required by subdivision (a) is publicly available.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2015.3(d). But HCMLP did not seek relief from the requirements under Rule 2015.3(a), nor did it make any “good faith effort” to comply with the Rule. To the contrary, Mr. Seery publicly represented that the task of filing the required reports simply “fell through the cracks.” See Dkt. 1905 (Feb. 3, 2021 Hr’g Tr. at 49:5-21).

(see Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 6), the assets of the estate fall into a handful of discrete investments (less than ten line items), most of which have audited financials and/or were required to make monthly or quarterly net-asset-value or fair-value determinations.<sup>6</sup> Further, the Debtor provided information regarding these assets' value to the Official Committee for Unsecured Creditors ("UCC") on a weekly basis during the bankruptcy proceedings, and the UCC was able to summarize the so-called "byzantine complex" in two short pages attached to the Debtor's Amended Operating Protocols. See Dkt. 466-1. And if the Debtor really is a "Byzantine complex" as the Court has claimed, that fact seemingly makes transparency all the more important. This is particularly true because the Debtor is an SEC-registered investment advisor charged with knowing how much it owns, how much it controls, and where all major assets of the company reside. But because none of this information was not provided in Rule 2015.3 reports, there was no publicly available information regarding the composition of assets and the corresponding liabilities held by the Debtor at the subsidiary level, making it impossible for outside stakeholders and interested parties to fairly evaluate the Debtor's estate.<sup>7</sup>

11. Following an extended period of non-transparency and vague quarterly reporting in which the Debtor represented that the estate had suffered a loss in value of more than $230 million (see Disclosure Statement, Dkt. 1473), Dugaboy filed a motion seeking appointment of an examiner to independently examine the estate, the reasons for its apparent losses, and other issues relating to estate value. See generally Dkt. 1752. Although Dugaboy filed the motion well before the Plan confirmation hearing, the Court set the motion six weeks out on a date well after the confirmation hearing. See Dkt. 1832. Thereafter, the Court denied the motion as moot in light of the Plan Confirmation Order, which the Court held stripped it of authority to appoint an examiner. Dkt. 1960.

12. In connection with the hearing in the Confirmation of the Debtor’s Plan, the Debtor offered up a chart (entitled “Plan Analysis v. Liquidation Analysis”), which attempted to reflect both what creditors could receive in a liquidation and that which Creditors could receive under the Plan. But the analysis reflected in that document is problematic for at least three reasons. First, the document is a summary based upon projections.<sup>8</sup> Second, the Debtor refused to disclose subsidiary ledgers that comprised a significant amount of the Debtor’s monetization value. Third, as we know now, the information is inaccurate. Based on that problematic analysis, and the testimony of Mr. Seery at the Plan confirmation hearing—which the Court accepted—the Debtor projected at confirmation that it would realize only $257 million dollars from the “monetization” of its assets by December 31, 2022. Dkt. 1894 (Feb. 2, 2021 Hr’g Tr.) at 120:10-121:3, 122:13-123:2. On information and belief, this projected monetization value is surpassed by the income of the sale of just two assets, Trussway and HCLOF. From that monetization, the Debtor projected that creditors in Classes 8 and 9 would by now be paid $125,000,000. See Dkt. 1866-5, p.3, n.P.

13. It is now more than a year and a half since the Debtor’s Plan projections were provided to the Court, and Dugaboy is merely asking for the Court to conduct an evidentiary hearing so that the projections can be judged by the realities of the ongoing liquidation of estate assets and the known increases in asset value. Based on known settlements and other filings reflecting allowed claims, Dugaboy believes that allowed claims to be paid now total at least $400 million. See Dkt. 3409. But nobody has disclosed the total other liabilities of the Claimant Trust. Nor do interested stakeholders know how much was drawn on the exit loan approved by this Court, how much is outstanding on that loan today, and what other payables and contractual liabilities are owed on account of the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Sub-Trust. All of this information is critical to ascertaining what the estate is capable of paying to creditors now or in the near-term and whether a remainder will be left for the residual equity holders.

C. The Bankruptcy Court Approves A Liquidation Plan

14. The Court ultimately approved a Plan that contemplates the liquidation of HCMLP and an orderly wind-down of operations. See Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 2. In reaching its conclusion that the Plan was in the “best interest” of creditors and other stakeholders, the Court expressly relied upon the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections filed by the Debtor that projected a recovery by Class 7 General Unsecured Creditors of 85% and Class 8 General Unsecured Creditors of 71%. Id., ¶ 52; see also Dkt. 1875 at p. 4.

15. Further, the Court overruled objections to the Plan lodged by entities it deemed related to Mr. Dondero, including Dugaboy. In doing so, the Court acknowledged that Dugaboy has a residual ownership interest in HCMLP and therefore “technically” had standing to object to the Plan. See Plan Confirmation Order, ¶¶ 17-18. But based on the Debtor’s financial projections at the time of confirmation, the Court found that the plan objectors’ “economic interests in the Debtor appear to be extremely remote.” Id., ¶ 19; see also id., ¶ 17 (“the remoteness of their economic interests is noteworthy”).

D. The Plan Grants Dugaboy A Springing Interest In The Claimant Trust

16. Notably, the Plan expressly contemplates potential payment to Dugaboy and other residual equity holders. Rather than leaving Dugaboy and residual equity holder Hunter Mountain Investment Trust with no interest in the Claimant Trust, the Plan expressly includes residual equity holders in the definition of “Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” as follows:

“Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” means the Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claims, Holders of Allowed Subordinated Claims, including, upon Allowance, Disputed General Unsecured Claims and Disputed Subordinated Claims that become Allowed following the Effective Date, and, only upon certification by the Claimant Trustee that the Holders of such Claims have been paid indefeasibly in full plus, to the extent all Allowed unsecured Claims, excluding Subordinated Claims, have been paid in full, post-petition interest from the Petition Date at the Federal Judgment Rate in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Claimant Trust Agreement and all Disputed Claims in Class 8 and Class 9 have been resolved, Holders of Allowed Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests, and Holders of Allowed Class A Limited Partnership Interests.

Plan, § B, ¶ 27 (emphasis added). The Plan, in turn, makes clear that Dugaboy is a holder of Class A Limited Partnership Interests. Id., ¶ 33; see also id., ¶¶ 24-26, 29-31 (describing the assets to be held by the Claimant Trust for the benefit of Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and the manner in which the Claimant Trust is to be operated).

17. In other words, under the Plan, after all allowed claims are paid in full plus interest, the assets of the trust and any payment from the operation of the Claimant Trust goes to Dugaboy (and Hunter Mountain, as a holder of Class B/C Partnership Interests). Id., ¶¶ 33-36.

E. There Is Credible Evidence Demonstrating That The Estate’s Value Has Changed

18. Since the entry of the Court’s Plan Confirmation Order, the Debtor’s financial outlook has changed, making the Amended Liquidation Analysis/Financial Projections on which the Court based its Plan Confirmation Order inapplicable. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that the value of the estate has changed markedly since Plan confirmation. Not only do many of the assets held by the estate fluctuate in value based on market conditions, but Dugaboy is aware that many of the major assets of the estate have been liquidated or sold since Plan confirmation, resulting in increased value to the estate.

19. Specifically, Dugaboy’s information relating to estate value as of June 1, 2022 is as follows:

Highland Capital Assets	Value in Millions
	Low	High
Cash as of Feb. 1, 2022 <sup>9</sup>	$125.00	$125.00
Recently Liquidated
Highland Select Equity	$246.30
Highland MultiStrat Credit Fund	$55.00
Highland Restoration Cap.	$51.44
MGM Shares	$26.00
Portion of HCLOF	$37.50
Total of Recent Liquidations	$416.24	$416.24
Current Cash Balance	$541.24	$541.24
Remaining Assets
Highland CLO Funding, Ltd.	$37.50	$37.50
Korea Fund	$18.00	$18.00
SE Multifamily	$11.98	$12.10
Affiliate Notes	$50.00	$60.00
Other (Misc. and legal)	$5.00	$20.00
Total (Current Cash + Remaining Assets)	$663.72	$688.84

20. Likewise, the total value of allowed claims has changed since Plan confirmation. The Debtor and Reorganized Debtor have settled some creditor claims and seen others dismissed, making estimates given during the Plan confirmation hearing obsolete. The disparity between the projected payments to creditors and the actual payments made according to the Post-Confirmation Report for the quarter ending June 30, 2022, should concern the Court and the creditors and stakeholders who do not possess the information in the hands of the Plan Oversight Committee (comprised of certain, select claimholders), which should necessitate some additional disclosure.

As mentioned, at this point, virtually all the Debtor’s operating assets have been sold.

21. Further, the post-confirmation reports filed by the Debtor do not provide any information to creditors regarding the prospect of payment and the expectation of future payment. Specifically, the report for the quarter ending June 30, 2022, reflects that only approximately $7.1 million dollars has been paid to creditors, notwithstanding that the Reorganized Debtor and/or Claimant Trust are holding huge amounts of cash as a result of the asset sales reported above.

E. Dugaboy’s Appellate Rights Are Compromised By Outdated Projections

22. The Court’s repeated description of Dugaboy’s interest in the estate as “remote” is problematic for other reasons as well. As this Court is aware, Dugaboy has appealed several orders issued by the Court in HCMLP’s bankruptcy proceedings, both to the District Court for the Northern District of Texas and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. See, e.g., Case No. 22-10189 (5th Cir.); Case No. 21-90011 (5th Cir.); Case No. 21-cv-01295 (N.D. Tex.); Case No. 21-00546 (N.D. Tex.).

23. At least one of those appeals has been dismissed because the appellate court determined that Dugaboy lacked standing to pursue it. See, e.g., Highland Capital Mgmt. Fund Advisors, L.P., et al. v. Highland Capital Mgmt., LP, Case No. 3:21-cv-01895-D (N.D. Tex.), Dkt. 44, at 4. This Court’s prior finding that Dugaboy’s interest in the bankruptcy proceedings is “remote” and “contingent” no doubt played a role in these dismissals. In particular, the appellate courts have relied upon a Fifth Circuit decision—In re Coho Energy—which stands for the proposition that an appellant must possess an economic interest in the outcome of an appeal that is not remote or contingent at the time the appeal is heard. Under Coho, a party that may have had standing at the time of filing its appeal under 11 U.S.C. § 1109 may be subjected to a higher and stricter standard for standing later in the appellate process.

24. Dugaboy has appealed the dismissal of one of its appeals to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and has raised in its appellate briefing the wisdom and statutory basis for the Court’s opinion in Coho. In particular, Dugaboy has argued that Coho’s iteration of standing cannot be correct because the value of estate assets fluctuates during and after bankruptcy, such that the value of interests held by creditors and residual equity holders likewise fluctuates over time. Standing thus cannot be captured at a single point in time but must account for these potential fluctuations and acknowledge that fluctuations can place a particular party “in the money” such that decisions issued in bankruptcy can cause that party harm.

III. DUGABOY HAS STANDING IN THESE BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

25. The Plan, on its face, gives Dugaboy an interest in the estate. Accordingly, and as this Court has acknowledged (see Plan Confirmation Order, ¶ 17), Dugaboy has standing to raise issues affecting the estate and Dugaboy’s interest in it, including by filing the present motion seeking disclosure of the current value of assets held by the Claimant Trust. No other Court can hold the valuation hearing requested by Dugaboy.

26. First, Dugaboy has statutory standing to be heard and to object to actions taken by the Debtor and the Claimant Trustee in these bankruptcy proceedings. Specifically, the Bankruptcy Code gives any “party in interest” the right to participate in a debtor’s chapter 11 proceedings. See 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). While neither 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b) nor any other section in the Bankruptcy Code specifically defines the term “party in interest,” section 1109(b) provides a non-exclusive list of entities that fall within the meaning of “party in interest” for the purposes of a chapter 11 proceeding. See Kipp Flores Architects, L.L.C. v. Mid-Continent Cas. Co., 852

F.3d 405, 413 (5th Cir. 2017). This non-exclusive list “broadly includes debtors, creditors, trustees, indenture trustees, and equity security holders.” Id. Other courts and authorities have similarly concluded that parties in interest “include not only the debtor, but anyone who has a legally protected interest that could be affected by a bankruptcy proceeding.” Adair v. Sherman, 230 F.3d 890, 894 n. 3 (7th Cir. 2000); see also 4 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 502.02 (16th ed. 2020) (“In the context of a chapter 11 case in particular, the term ‘party in interest’ expressly includes the debtor, the trustee, a creditors’ committee, an equity security holders’ committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee.”).

27. Further, any party in interest may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in a case under [Chapter 11].” 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b). Indeed, Section 1109(b) “has been construed to create a broad right of participation in Chapter 11 cases.” In re Global Indus. Technologies, Inc., 645 F.3d 201, 210 (3d Cir. 2011) (quoting In re Combustion Eng’g, Inc., 391 F.3d 190, 214 n.21 (3d Cir. 2004)).

28. Second, Dugaboy also has Article III standing to be heard in these bankruptcy proceedings. As the Supreme Court of the United States recently observed and held, Congress long ago abolished the requirement of a minimum amount in controversy for purposes of establishing related federal question jurisdiction. See Uzuegbunam v. Preczewski, ___ U.S. ___, 141 S. Ct. 792, 802 (2021) (“But Congress abolished the statutory amount-in-controversy requirement for federal question jurisdiction in 1980...And we have never held that one applies as a matter of constitutional law.”) (internal citation omitted). The absence of a minimum amount in controversy requirement under Section 1334 indicates that it should receive a parallel construction. Indeed, in Uzuegbunam, the majority held that nominal damages or compensatory damages of one dollar ($1.00) are sufficient to establish the redressability requirement under

Article III.

29. As the court is aware, there is more than $1 in controversy here. Indeed, depending upon how the estate is managed post-confirmation, Dugaboy stands to recover hundreds of thousands of dollars as a residual equity holder. And regardless of the amount of that recovery, Dugaboy has a very real interest in how the estate is managed by the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee because that management will dictate whether and how much Dugaboy receives after payment of all creditors of the estate.

30. Third, as a contingent beneficiary of a Delaware statutory trust, Dugaboy is entitled to financial information relating to the trust. Indeed, “[i]n most jurisdictions any beneficiary may petition the trustee to account, regardless of whether the beneficiary is a current beneficiary, a remainder beneficiary, whether the remainder interest is vested or contingent (although accounting rights of contingent beneficiaries are limited in some jurisdictions);<sup>10</sup> or a beneficiary who will receive distributions from the trust only through the trustee’s exercise of discretion.” Alan Newman, George Gleason Bogert, George Taylor Bogert, Amy Morris Hess, Bogert’s The Law of Trust and Trustees (June 22), § 967 (internal citations omitted).

31. Delaware law does not distinguish between current and contingent beneficiaries nor does it in any way restrict the rights of contingent beneficiaries to request financial information from the trustee. To the contrary, Delaware follows the Restatement (Third) of Trusts, under which the trustee may be required to account not only to current beneficiaries, “but also to other beneficiaries who will or may be entitled to income or principal in the future, including beneficiaries whose interests are contingent.” RESTATEMENT (THIRD) OF TRUSTS, § 83, cmt. b; see also Frederick-Conaway v. Baird, 159 A.3d 285, 298 n.52 (Del. 2017) (citing to the Restatement and noting that the Court looks to the Restatement for guidance on trust law); J.P. Morgan Trust Co. of DE v. Fisher, 2019 WL 6605863, at *6 (Del. Ch. Dec. 5, 2019) (citing the Restatement for the proposition that a trustee “ordinarily has a duty promptly to respond to the request of any beneficiary for information concerning the trust and its administration, and to permit beneficiaries on a reasonable basis to inspect trust documents, records, and property holdings”). As the Restatement explains, “[t]his breadth of beneficiary rights . . . is essential to the enforceability of a meaningful duty of impartiality.” Id.

32. So, whether as a party in interest under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b), a contingent beneficiary of the Claimant Trust with information rights pursuant to Delaware law, or for purposes of Article III, Dugaboy has the requisite standing and a right to the information it is seeking.

IV. THE COURT SHOULD CONDUCT AN EVIDENTIARY HEARING REGARDING THE VALUE OF THE ESTATE AND THE ASSETS HELD BY THE CLAIMANT TRUST

33. In addition to issuing a finding that Dugaboy has standing to appear, be heard, and object in these bankruptcy proceedings, the Court should conduct an evidentiary hearing and require disclosure by the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trustee of the value of the estate and all assets held by the Claimant Trust that are available for distribution to creditors and residual equity holders. At a minimum, the hearing would provide valuable information regarding:

- The cash held by the Reorganized Debtor and various entities controlled by the Reorganized Debtor;
- How the cash was acquired and, more specifically, what assets were sold or liquidated;
- How the amounts received for assets sold or liquidated compares to the projections made by the Debtor at the time of Plan confirmation;

- The value of estate assets still held for the benefit of the estate and its creditors, whether held by the Reorganized Debtor or the Claimant Trust;
- The post-confirmation expenses incurred or to be incurred pursuant to contractual obligations by the estate and its professionals;<sup>11</sup>
- The claims that must be paid prior to the interests of Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain springing into existence;
- Expected professional fees, based at a minimum on the post-confirmation engagement letter with Mr. Seery and/or the agreement entered into between the Debtor and Mr. Seery regarding post-confirmation management of the Debtor and Mr. Seery's compensation package to be paid by the estate.

34. Such a hearing would benefit not only Dugaboy in ascertaining the value of its current interest in the estate but also stands to benefit the estate and its creditors in two core ways. First, there are currently pending adversary proceedings seeking to recover value for HCMLP's estate, when no such additional value is necessary to pay creditors in full and which could be brought to a swift close, allowing creditors to be paid. Second, professionals associated with the estate—including but not limited to Mr. Seery, Pachulski, Development Specialists, Inc., Kurtzman Carson Consultants, Quinn Emanuel, Marc Kirschner, and Hayward & Associates—are continuing to incur millions of dollars a month in professional fees, thereby further eroding an estate that is either solvent or can be bridged by a settlement that would pay the spread between current assets and current allowed creditor claims. If at the hearing the Court finds that the estate is solvent or the spread is minimal, it can order mediation to settle the estate. Again, a quick resolution of all outstanding proceedings can only benefit the estate and its creditors.

35. The idea that the estate will incur an additional $20+ million in legal fees and success bonuses when the estate can be finally resolved now should be of concern to the Court. The Court should not encourage a repeat of the WRT case (which incidentally was managed by Golden & Associates and David Pauker, who is a member of the Oversight Board for the Claimant Trust).

36. Dugaboy is likewise concerned that very few distributions have been made thus far to creditors. Dugaboy recognizes that the various trust agreements provide great latitude to the Claimant Trustee, but the fact that allowed claims are incurring interest, and it is unknown whether the Claimant Trust is earning a return equal to that being incurred on creditor claims, is another cause for concern and a reason to require the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trust to provide this information at an evidentiary hearing.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, Dugaboy respectfully requests that the Court enter an order: (i) finding that Dugaboy has standing in these bankruptcy proceedings under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b), Delaware trust law, and Article III of the United States Constitution; and (ii) setting an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the assets currently available for distribution to allowed claimants, to determine the current value of those assets, and to determine whether there is a potential for settling the estate now, without further pursuing continued expensive and protracted litigation and without incurring additional enormous professional fees.

IN THE ALTERNATIVE, Dugaboy requests that the Court appoint a neutral to review all relevant financials of the Debtor and to provide a report to the Court regarding the current value of the estate.

THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST’S OPPOSITION TO THE HIGHLAND PARTIES’ MOTION TO QUASH SUBPOENAS SERVED BY THE DUGABOY

The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) respectfully submits this Opposition to the Highland Parties’ Motion to Quash Subpoenas as Served by The Dugaboy Investment Trust or for a Protective Order (the “Motion to Quash”) [Doc. No. 3520], filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland” or the “Debtor”), the reorganized debtor in the above-captioned case, HCMLP GP LLC (the “Highland GP”), the Highland Claimant Trust (the “Claimant Trust”) and Development Specialists, Inc. (“DSI”) (collectively, the “Highland Parties”). The Motion to Quash asks this Court to quash subpoenas issued to the Highland Parties by Dugaboy on August 31 and September 1, 2022 (the “Subpoenas”). For the reasons stated below, the Court should deny the Motion to Quash.

BACKGROUND<sup>1</sup>

1. Dugaboy served the Subpoenas on the Highland Parties on August 31 and September 1, 2022, in conjunction with Dugaboy’s pending Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Doc. 3382], filed by Dugaboy on June 30, 2022, as amended by the Supplemental and Amended Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets held by the Claimant Trust [Doc. No. 3533] on September 21, 2022 (jointly, the “Valuation Motion”). The Valuation Motion seeks a determination by this Court of the current value of the Estate and an accounting of the assets currently held by the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors and beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust.

2. In the Motion to Quash, the Highland Parties argue that the Subpoenas should be quashed because (1) they are an improper attempt to obtain the relief sought in the Valuation Motion before this Court has ruled on the Valuation Motion; (2) Dugaboy lacks standing to issue the Subpoenas; (3) the Highland subpoena should have been issued pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34 rather than Rule 45; and, (4) the Subpoenas are unduly burdensome. These grounds are the same as or similar to those asserted by the Debtor in the Reorganized Debtor’s Opposition to Motion for Determination of Value [Doc. 3465] (the “Valuation Opposition”). Dugaboy filed a Reply in Support of its Motion for Determination of Value (“Reply”) simultaneously with the filing of this Opposition. Dugaboy reiterates and incorporates herein by reference all of the arguments made in the Valuation Motion and its Reply as if set forth herein in their entirety. For the reasons stated therein and below, the Highland Parties’ Motion to Quash should be denied.

A. The Subpoenas Are Procedurally Proper

3. The Highland Parties initially argue that the Subpoenas are premature because this Court has not yet ruled on Dugaboy's Valuation Motion, including whether Dugaboy is entitled to the information sought by the Subpoenas. That is not a basis to quash the Subpoenas. Notably, at the time Dugaboy issued the Subpoenas, it assumed that the Court would consider the issues of Dugaboy's entitlement to the information sought and hear evidence regarding valuation simultaneously. Instead, the Court converted the hearing on the Valuation Motion into a status conference, and the Highland Parties ask the Court to rule first on Dugaboy's entitlement to the information sought in the Valuation Motion and to hold an evidentiary hearing on valuation only after that determination is made. In other words, it is the Highland Parties' Motion to Quash that is premature. If the Court rules (whether on the papers, as Dugaboy has requested, or at the November 14 status conference) that Dugaboy is entitled to the information sought, then there is no reason to quash the Subpoenas; instead, they should become effective and enforceable. On the other hand, if the Court denies Dugaboy access to the information it seeks, then the issues raised in the Motion to Quash will be moot.

4. Citing to Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2), the Highland Parties further contend that Dugaboy should have filed an adversary proceeding to obtain the relief requested in the Valuation Motion and the Subpoenas. But as set forth in Dugaboy's Reply in support of the Valuation Motion and below, this argument is wrong.

5. That rule is inapplicable here. Dugaboy's Valuation Motion and the related Subpoenas do not seek a determination of the validity, priority or extent of a lien or interest in property. Instead, Dugaboy simply asks the Court to determine the current value of the property and assets that are held by the Estate and the Claimant Trust for distribution to creditors and beneficiaries. The subpoenaed documents are relevant to that determination, and Dugaboy did not need to file an adversary proceeding to obtain the information.

6. Finally, contrary to the Highland Parties' assertions, Dugaboy was not required to serve discovery requests on the Debtor pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34 as opposed to serving a subpoena under Rule 45. Rule 45 expressly authorizes the issuance of subpoenas to obtain documents, and the Rule is not limited in scope to non-parties or third parties. Moreover, given that the Valuation Motion has been pending for over four months, the Highland Parties have had plenty of time within which to assemble responsive documents, and Rule 45's 14-day response deadline is sufficient and appropriate. In any event, if this Court believes that the time stated in the Subpoenas for a return of the requested documents is too short, then the Court may grant an extension.

B. The Subpoenas Seek Discoverable Information And Are Not Unduly Burdensome

7. The Highland Parties also resist the Subpoenas because they say the information sought is confidential and unduly burdensome to produce.

8. As set forth in Dugaboy's Reply in support of the Valuation Motion, the Highland Parties' claim of confidentiality makes no sense and is not supported by any evidence (or even any explanation). The Highland Parties have not identified any reason why the information should be treated as confidential, particularly given this Court's view of transparency and the fact that this type of information typically is disclosed in bankruptcy proceedings as a matter of course. Nor do the Highland Parties argue that the information is protected by any other privilege or protective order, and they fail to point to any other basis for a finding that the materials are confidential. In any event, if there is some plausible basis to treat the information as confidential, Dugaboy would be willing to enter into a reasonable and appropriate protective order to alleviate the Highland Parties' concerns.

9. Further, it is hard to understand the Debtor's argument that disclosure of the information would be unduly burdensome. Almost all of the Debtor's the assets have already been monetized, making the need to delve into the assets and obligations of ancillary entities minimal. Indeed, the Debtor should have all of the information requested readily available. The Highland Parties proffer no real basis for their claim of undue burden, which the Court should reject.

C. Dugaboy Has Standing

10. Finally, the Highland Parties contend that because Dugaboy is a contingent beneficiary of the Claimant Trust, it does not have standing to issue the Subpoenas. They further argue that even the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries cannot obtain the subpoenaed documents.<sup>2</sup> These assertions are wrong, as fully discussed in Dugaboy's Valuation Motion and Reply in support thereof, which are incorporated herein by reference. Dugaboy is a party in interest under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b), has equal rights to information as vested beneficiaries under Delaware law, and has Article III standing. Moreover, the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries are entitled to the information under § 3.12 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, and so is Dugaboy.

CONCLUSION

For all of the reasons stated above, the Dugaboy Investment Trust requests that the Highland Parties' Motion to Quash be denied. The Dugaboy Investment Trust further requests all general relief to which it may be entitled.

Dated: November 1, 2022.

LIMITED OPPOSITION TO THE HIGHLAND PARTIES’ MOTION TO QUASH
SUBPOENAS SERVED BY THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST OR FOR A PROTECTIVE ORDER

Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“Hunter Mountain”) files this Limited Opposition (the “Opposition”) to that certain Motion to Quash Subpoenas Served by the Dugaboy Investment Trust or for a Protective Order [Dkt. No. 3520] (the “Motion to Quash”) filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP” or the “Debtor”), the reorganized debtor, HCMLP GP LLC (“Highland GP”), the Claimant Trust as defined in the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as modified) [Dkt. No. 1943] (the “Plan”), and Development Specialist, Inc. (“DSI,” collectively with HCMLP, Highland GP, and Claimant Trust, the “Highland Parties”). The Highland Parties’ Motion to Quash relates to certain subpoenas (the “Subpoenas”) served by the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. The Highland Parties’ Motion to Quash relates to certain subpoenas (the “Subpoenas”) served by the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”). Hunter Mountain is not a party to those subpoenas and only files this Limited Response to address the Highland Parties’ argument that no discovery into valuation should be permitted.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

2. According to the Highland Parties, the Subpoenas must be quashed because, in part, they are premature unless and until the Bankruptcy Court decides that Dugaboy is entitled to relief on the Motion for Valuation. Simultaneously, the Highland Parties argue that Dugaboy is not entitled to relief under the Motion for Valuation because Dugaboy’s assumption that it will be “in the money” is faulty. See Reorganized Debtor’s Objection to Motion for Determination of Value [Dkt. No. 3465] (the “Objection”) at ¶4.

3. In opposition to the Motion for Valuation, the Highland Parties argue, amongst other things, that:

Dugaboy’s assumption that it will be “in the money” if the assets are liquidated for sufficient proceeds to pay senior creditor and equity classes is faulty. Regardless of the value at which the assets are monetized, creditors and senior equity holders will not be paid in full until the threat of Mr. Dondero’s continued pursuit of his “litigation strategy” ends. The Claimant Trust will not distribute all proceeds from the Highland Entities’ assets until that time because material indemnification obligations will remain.

See Opposition, ¶4.

4. The Highland Parties assert that regardless of the value of Assets, because of their ongoing indemnification obligations to professionals working for them and the Litigation Sub-

Trust, there will never be enough cash to put the Equity Holders “in the money.” See Opposition, ¶22. So according to the Highland Parties, there is no amount of Assets that could ever satisfy the Obligations so no party is allowed discovery into what the Asset and Obligations are. This reasoning is circular, at best.<sup>1</sup>

5. Then, in the Motion to Quash, the Highland Parties argue that the discovery on the topic of valuation is irrelevant, stating that: “[i]f the Valuation Motion is granted, Dugaboy will be entitled to appropriate discovery for such accounting. But here, enforcement of Subpoenas at this stage would give Dugaboy the ultimate relief it seeks—before any determination is made that it is entitled to such relief.” See Motion to Quash, ¶21.

6. The Highland Parties have staked the position that the Motion for Valuation should be denied because there are not enough Assets, yet discovery on the topic of the amount of Assets is irrelevant. The Equity Holders have to raise a defense to the Highland Party’s argument and, as such, are expressly permitted to propound discovery under FED. R. CIV. P. 26(b)(1), FED. R. BANKR. P. 7026, and FED. R. BANKR. P. 9014(c).

7. There is no basis for quashing discovery because the other side says that you will not be able to prove your case. Rather, the “purpose of discovery is to allow the parties to obtain full knowledge of the facts so they can present their best case to the fact-finder.” Admin. Comm. of Koch Indus. Employees' Sav. Plan v. Lang Ho, No. 4:21-CV-00222, 2021 WL 2376564, at *2 (S.D. Tex. June 10, 2021) (citing Oppenheimer Fund, Inc. v. Sanders, 437 U.S. 340, 351 (1978)).

<sup>1</sup> The reasons given by the Highland Parties is that indemnification obligations to professionals retained by the Claimant Trust are ongoing. But looking at the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding, this is exactly the problem that Hunter Mountain seeks to remedy. Perpetuating litigation in order to secure recoveries to fund indemnification obligations that may eventually arise in that same litigation hardly seems in keeping with the purpose of the Claimant Trust to “manage and monetize the Claimant Trust Assets in an expeditious but orderly manner with a view towards maximizing value within a reasonable time period.” Claimant Trust Agreement, ¶2.3(b)(i).

8. Once entitled to discovery on these issues is established, the parties can work towards a consensual scope of subpoenas to meet all requirements under the applicable Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.

CONCLUSION

9. The Highland Parties have put the value of the Assets and Obligations directly at issue in consideration of the Motion for Valuation, and as such, the applicable Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure plainly permit discovery into the Assets and Obligations before the adjudication of the Motion for Valuation.

REPLY IN SUPPORT

Pursuant to that certain Notice of Status Conference and Briefing Schedule [Dkt. No. 3543] Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“Hunter Mountain”) files this Reply to that certain to the Reorganized Debtor’s Objection to Motion for Determination of the Value [Dkt. No. 3465] (the “HCMLP Objection”) filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP” or the “Debtor”), which was filed in response to the Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3382] (the “Initial Valuation Motion”) filed by The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”), as supplemented and amended by Supplemental and Amended

Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3533] (the “Supplement,” and together with the Initial Valuation Motion, the “Valuation Motion”). Hunter Mountain previously filed Limited Response in Support of Certain Requested Relief [Dkt. No. 3467] in support of the Initial Valuation Motion (the “HMIT Response”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Since the filing of the HMIT Response, HCMLP filed its Post Confirmation Quarterly Report for the Third Quarter of 2022 [Dkt. No. 3582] (the “Q3 Report”) which states that HCMLP distributed $248,999,332 to general unsecured claims, for a cumulative total of $255,201,228 which is 64% of the total allowed general unsecured claims of $387,485,568. See Q3 Report, ¶3. This distribution is much greater than the “Total Anticipated Payments Under Plan” to general unsecured claims of $205,144,544. Id. Therefore, the value of the Assets<sup>1</sup> appears to be far greater than was anticipated at the time of confirmation of Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as modified) [Dkt. No. 1943] (the “Plan”).<sup>2</sup> In the HMIT Response, HMIT set forth why, as a Holder of a Contingent Claimant Trust Interest and a defendant in the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding,<sup>3</sup> information regarding the value of the Assets and Obligations<sup>4</sup> is material. Now, given that the Assets appear to be far greater than anticipated, there is even more reason for HCMLP to provide information informing whether Hunter Mountain’s Contingent Claimant Trust Interest will vest, or could vest if accruing Obligations are mitigated.

A. The Court has authority to compel valuation information.

2. HCMLP argues that there is no statute, rule, or judicial opinion authorizing Holders of Allowed Equity Interests to obtain information regarding Assets or Obligations. But case law is clear that bankruptcy courts have “broad authority” under sections 105(a) and 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code to implement chapter 11 plans. In re Goldblatt Bros., Inc., 132 B.R. 736, 741 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991).

3. Section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that “[t]he court may issue any order, process or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of [the Bankruptcy Code].” 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). Section 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that

[t]he court may direct the debtor and any other necessary party to execute or deliver or to join in the execution or delivery of any instrument required to effect a transfer of property dealt with by a confirmed plan, and to perform any other act ... that is necessary for the consummation of the plan.

11 U.S.C. § 1142(b). “Section 1142(b) ‘empowers the bankruptcy court to enforce the unperformed terms of a confirmed plan.’ ” In re Lehman Bros. Holdings Inc., 591 B.R. 153, 158–59 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018); In re WorldCom, Inc., Case No. 02-13533, 2009 WL 2959457, at *7 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 19, 2009) (citing United States Brass Corp. v. Travelers Ins. Group, Inc. (In re United States Brass Corp.), 301 F.3d 296, 306 (5th Cir. 2002) ).

4. In the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court expressly retained jurisdiction, citing sections 105 and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code, to determine or classify any Equity Interest and ensure that distributions to Holders of Allowed Equity Interests are accomplished. Plan, ¶ XI.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>5</sup> “Pursuant to sections 105 and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code ... the Bankruptcy Court shall ...retain such jurisdiction over the Chapter 11 Case and all Entities with respect to all matters related to the Chapter 11 Case, the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust, and this Plan to the maximum extent legally permissible, including, without limitation, jurisdiction to: ...determine,... classify, estimate or establish the priority, ...or subordinated status of any ... Equity Interest [and to] ensure that distributions to Holders of ... Allowed Equity Interests are accomplished pursuant to the provisions of this Plan.”

5. The Plan is to be implemented through the Claimant Trust, which's purpose, in part, is satisfying Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests pursuant to Terms of the Plan. See Claimant Trust Agreement, ¶2.2 [Dkt. No. 3465-1].

6. So while section 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code does not confer substantive rights beyond what is provided for in a plan, it does empower the Bankruptcy Court to enforce unperformed terms of the Plan. In re U.S. Brass Corp., 301 F.3d 296, 306 (5th Cir. 2002).

7. Courts have a broad scope of power to issue “compliance orders” under section 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, and have issued such orders to compel distributions on claims as required by the plan. See 8 Colliers on Bankruptcy, ¶ 1142.03[1] (citing In re WorldCom, Inc., 2009 Bankr. LEXIS 1136 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 19, 2009); In re Goldblatt Bros., Inc., 25 C.B.C.2d 953, 132 B.R. 736 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991)). Here, the valuation information sought is to aid in implementing the unperformed terms of the Plan, that include satisfying Class B/C Limited Partnership Interests as beneficial interests in the Claimant Trust, upon satisfaction of the claims to which these interests are subordinated.

8. Therefore, the Bankruptcy Court has authority and jurisdiction to enter an order on the requested valuation information to implement provisions of the Plan that provide for distributions to Holders of Allowed Equity Interests.

9. Further as Hunter Mountain began the HMIT Response,

[N]o Professional, Claimant Trust Beneficiary, nor this Court would support the idea that the Plan provides that the Litigation Sub-Trust should pursue litigation against Holders of Equity Interest to generate a recovery with which to pay distributions to those same Holders of Equity Interest, less the costs of that litigation.

HMIT Response, ¶1. The Claimant Trust documents provide that it is established for the purpose of satisfying General Unsecured Claims, Allowed Subordinated Claims, and to the extent provided under the Plan, Allowed Class A and B/C Limited Partnership Interests. Claimant Trust Agreement at ¶2.3(a).

10. Under the Claimant Trust documents, Holders of Contingent Beneficiary Interests are owed the duty of good faith and fair dealing under Delaware law. See id. at ¶¶2.1(b), 4.3. Under Delaware law, this doctrine is a judicial convention designed to protect the spirit of an agreement when, without violating an express term of the agreement, one side denies the other side the fruits of the parties' bargain. Chamison v. Healthtrust, Inc., 735 A.2d 912, 920-21 (Del.Ch.1999), aff'd, 748 A.2d 407 (Del. 2000). It requires the court to extrapolate the spirit of the agreement from its express terms and based on that "spirit", determine the terms that the parties would have bargained for to govern the dispute had they foreseen the circumstances under which their dispute arose. Id.

11. Here, the situation painted by HCMLP is that because Indemnification Obligations<sup>6</sup> are ongoing then distributions of Assets to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries will be delayed, and therefore, Assets will continue to be spent on litigating Estate Claims regardless of whether the Assets are sufficient to fund full distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries right now. See HCMLP Objection, ¶¶22-23. So the Assets over Obligations ratio is continuously decreasing so as time passes this continuous depletion of Assets will eventually require reliance upon litigation of Estate Claims to replace such diminution. This all of course does nothing to satisfy distributions to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, but instead, funds litigation to drain assets so that the litigation is now required. This does not protect the spirit of the Claimant Trust and compelling valuation information at this time would mitigate this inherently untenable situation.

<sup>6</sup> As defined in Motion for Entry of an Order (i) Authorizing the (a) Creation of an Indemnity Subtrust and (b) Entry into an Indemnity Trust Agreement and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Dkt. No. 2491]

B. The valuation information is relevant.

12. HCMLP argues that any information regarding required to determine whether Equity Holders are “in the money” is irrelevant because Equity Holders are not “in the money.” In assuming its conclusion, HCMLP relies upon the Indemnification Obligations as being a material roadblock to the Contingent Beneficiary Interests ever vesting. Id. at 23.

13. But as set forth in the HMIT Response, this is the point of the Equity Holders, who are also defendants in the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding, seeking valuation information at this time. Even if there is a deficit of Assets over Obligations, knowledge of the amount of such a deficit, with information about Assets remaining, could generate a picture of a current deficit, and better the possibility of a resolution that could create a maximization of the Asset value and a capping of the Obligations, including Indemnification Obligations.

14. Such information regarding Assets and Obligations is already compiled and distributed quarterly to current Claimant Beneficiaries. Claimant Trust Agreement, ¶3.12(a),(b). Further, the trust documents expressly provide that the Claimant Trustee is to redact any portion of such reports to avoid the public disclosure of confidential information Id. at (b). Given that these reports are thus already redacted to remove confidential information, the requested limited valuation information places no further burden on HCMLP nor the Claimant Trustee.

15. Without an exchange of limited valuation information (which is readily available to HCMLP), then HCMLP’s bleak scenario will likely come to fruition where Assets are not distributed to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, and instead held to fund possible future Obligations, whilst those same Assets are being depleted by professionals (at a rate of millions per month) to fund litigation which will become necessary if enough Assets are depleted.

16. As a Holder of a Contingent Claimant Trust Interest and a defendant in the Kirschner Adversary Proceeding, it is highly relevant to Hunter Mountain whether the current Assets are enough to satisfy the current Obligations, and if not, what the difference is.

C. An adversary proceeding is not required.

17. HCMLP argues that FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(2) applies to the Motion for Valuation, which requires an adversary proceeding to be brought for a proceeding to determine the validity, priority, or extent of a lien or other interest in property. FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(d). HCMLP characterizes the request for valuation information as a request for a determination as to the extent of Equity Holder's interests.

18. But the Plan already clearly defines the extent of Equity Holder's interests, which is a Contingent Claimant Beneficiary Trust interest. What is being sought is a valuation of those interests.

19. As Judge Rodriguez recently explained in Pearl Resources,

[The Bankruptcy] Code does not define “validity” or “extent,” however, this Court may consider the ordinary meaning of each in determining whether an adversary proceeding is required pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2). ...Valuation, however, is “not [an issue of] validity in any guise” and therefore, does not require an adversary proceeding.

In re Pearl Res. LLC, No. 20-31585, 2022 WL 4474131, at *8 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Sept. 26, 2022) (emphasis added) (quoting 7 Collier On Bankruptcy, ¶ 7001.03 (16th ed. 2017)).

20. There is no requirement for an adversary proceeding to be brought for a valuation of an already established interest or, perhaps more accurately, the value of the property that could fund such interests.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth herein and in the HMIT Response, Hunter Mountain supports the request of Dugaboy to compel limited, readily available information regarding the value of the Assets and Obligations at this time.

Respectfully submitted:

THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST’S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF ITS MOTION FOR DETERMINATION OF VALUE

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In its Motion, The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) seeks a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate (the “Estate”) and an accounting of the assets currently held by the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors and beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust (the “Beneficiaries”). In its Objection, the Reorganized Debtor (the “Debtor”) argues that Dugaboy’s Motion should be denied for four core reasons: (i) there is no legal or contractual basis for the requested relief; (ii) Dugaboy seeks the information for an improper purpose; (iii) the information is irrelevant; and (iv) Dugaboy’s Motion is procedurally improper. For the reasons stated below, the Debtor’s objections lack merit and should be rejected.

II. THE DEBTOR’S OBJECTIONS ARE MERITLESS

A. Dugaboy Is Entitled To Disclosure Of The Requested Information

2. The Debtor initially argues that Dugaboy has no right to the information because it does not cite a specific statute, rule, or case supporting the relief it seeks. The Debtor further argues that Dugaboy is not a beneficiary of the Claimant Trust and, even if it were, the Claimant Trust

Agreement would not require disclosure of valuation information to Dugaboy. The Debtor is wrong on all fronts.

3. First, it would make little sense to require litigants in bankruptcy to cite a statute, rule, or case specifically delineating entitlement to the relief sought as a precondition to awarding the relief. It is axiomatic that bankruptcy courts are courts of equity. And for that reason, parties in interest frequently ask the courts to award relief that is fair and equitable. What is more, this Court previously has explained its view that these bankruptcy proceedings should be an “open kimono.” See Ex. A, Hr’g Tr. dated June 10, 2021, at 49:21-50:2. The Debtor asserts no reason why the value of the Estate and the Claimant Trust assets should be hidden from creditors and parties-in-interest. Indeed, the Debtor’s insistence on secrecy flies in the face of this Court’s directive and guidelines from the Executive Office of the United States Trustee (“EOUST”) mandating transparency in bankruptcy proceedings. See <http://justice.gov/ust/chapter-11-information>; see also 85 Fed. Reg. 82906 (describing the EOUST’s commitment to “uniformity and transparency regarding a debtor’s financial condition and business activities” and “to inform creditors and other interested parties of the debtor’s financial affairs”).

4. Second, the Debtor’s argument that Dugaboy is not entitled to relief it seeks because it is not a current beneficiary of the Claimant Trust is wrong. The Debtor does not dispute that the Claimant Trust Agreement expressly gives Dugaboy Contingent Trust Interests, making it a contingent beneficiary of the Claimant Trust.<sup>1</sup> And under Delaware law, contingent beneficiaries have equal entitlement to seek financial information from a trust. Delaware follows the RESTATEMENT (THIRD) OF TRUSTS, which requires trustees to account both to current beneficiaries and “also to other beneficiaries who will or may be entitled to income or principal in the future, including beneficiaries whose interests are contingent.”<sup>2</sup> In short, it makes no difference that Dugaboy is a contingent beneficiary; it has a right to the same information as the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries.

5. Nor is there any merit to the Debtor’s argument that the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries themselves have no right to obtain information regarding value. To the contrary, the Claimant Trust Agreement expressly entitles the Claimant Trust Beneficiaries to a broad range of information, including but not limited to the status of the trust’s assets, the balance of cash held by the trust, the status of disputed claims, and the trust’s operating expenses. Opp., Exh. A, § 3.12(b). That the Trustee may have the right to redact portions of those financials is not carte blanche for the Trustee to refuse to provide any information. This is because Delaware law requires every trustee to act in good faith in administering his duties. In re Fruehauf Trailer Corp., 369 B.R. 817, 829-30 (Bankr. D. Del. 2007) (“[A] Trustee’s duty to his trust and to his beneficiaries in administering the trust is to exercise the care and skill a man of ordinary prudence would exercise in dealing with his own property in the light of the situation existing at the time.”) (internal citations and quotations omitted). Indeed, the Debtor does not even attempt to explain the Trustee’s limited right of redaction should broadly preclude the disclosure of information contemplated by the Trust Agreement and now requested.

<sup>2</sup> RESTATEMENT (THIRD) OF TRUSTS, § 83, cmt. b. (emphasis added); see also Frederick-Conaway v. Baird, 159 A.3d 285, 298 n. 52 (Del. .2017) (citing to the Restatement and noting that the Court looks to the Restatement for guidance on Trust law); J.P. Morgan Trust Co. of DE v. Fisher, 2019 WL 6605863, at *6 (Del. Ch. Dec. 5, 2019) (citing the Restatement for the proposition that a trustee ‘ordinarily has a duty promptly to respond to the request of any beneficiary for information concerning the trust and its administration, and to permit beneficiaries on a reasonable basis to inspect trust documents, records, and property holdings.’ (emphasis added)); Alan Newman et al., Bogert’s The Law of Trusts and Trustees, Ch. 46, § 967 (June 2022 Update) (“[i]n most jurisdictions any beneficiary may petition the trustee to account, regardless of whether the beneficiary is a current beneficiary, a remainder beneficiary, whether the remainder interest is vested or contingent.”) (citing RESTATEMENT (THIRD) OF TRUSTS, § 83, cmt. b).

6. To be sure, the Debtor's contention that the information requested by Dugaboy is confidential is curious at best. The information is the type that in most ordinary bankruptcy proceedings would be public, not confidential, and the Debtor has not provided any support for its assertion to the contrary. The assets of the Trust today are largely made up of cash, and disclosure of an entity's cash position cannot be confidential when the entity was created to distribute its cash to its beneficiaries. Nor is the information protected by any other privilege or protective order, and indeed the Debtor has not asserted any privilege or pointed to any other basis in law for protecting the information from disclosure. Additionally, because almost all of the Debtor's assets have already been monetized, the need to delve into the assets and obligations of ancillary entities is minimal. The Debtor's objection on this basis should be rejected.

B. Dugaboy's Motion Was Filed For A Proper And Necessary Purpose, And Dugaboy Had Standing To File It

7. The Debtor next contends that Dugaboy's Motion was filed for an "improper purpose," speculating that the sole purpose of the Motion was to establish Dugaboy's appellate standing. The Debtor then posits that Dugaboy lacks standing to pursue any relief in the Court because it cannot meet the "personal aggrieved" test for standing. The Debtor further argues that this Court lacks jurisdiction to determine Dugaboy's standing. Again, the Debtor is wrong on all fronts.

8. The Debtor's first argument ignores the relief requested in the Motion itself. As Dugaboy explained, its main purpose in filing the Motion is to obtain information that is critical to its ability to preserve and realize its contingent interests in this proceeding. See Mot., ¶¶ 1, 5-6, 33-36. Based on the Debtor's quarterly Post-Confirmation Reports and information that Dugaboy has been able to ascertain from public sources, the monetization of the Debtor's assets under the Plan will yield sufficient funds to both pay the allowed claims in full and to convert Dugaboy's

Contingent Trust Interest into an Equity Trust Interest. Again, if Dugaboy’s estimations are true, that is information that this Court, all creditors of the estate, and parties-in-interest should know, because it could facilitate swift resolution of these proceedings, related adversary proceedings, and stop further erosion of estate assets.

9. Specifically, recent reporting makes clear that Dugaboy’s “contingent” interest is much more likely than originally projected to be converted into a payable Equity Interest. Notably, at the Confirmation Hearing, the Debtor submitted amended projections [Doc. 1875-1], that reflected total funds available for distribution to unsecured creditors of 194,865,000 and a claims pool of $ 273,219,000 [Dkt 1875-1 p. 4), exclusive of subordinated claims. At the time, the Debtor estimated that holders of allowed claims would receive approximately $200,000,000.00. In its latest quarterly report, by contrast, the Debtor estimates that the unsecured creditors will receive $205,144,544.00 [Dkt. 3582 at p. 7]. Yet the same report shows that through September 30,2022, the Debtor has actually distributed in excess of $255,201,228—an increase of over 25% than that which was projected at Plan confirmation. The report does not reveal the remaining assets held by the Debtor, which are comprised in a large part of cash and a mix of collateralized loan obligations and property. In short, it seems likely that the Debtor’s available cash and other assets will be sufficient to pay all allowed claims with interest, putting Dugaboy in the money and giving it a cognizable interest in ensuring the Estate is managed in a way to prevent further erosion of its interest.

10. Further, the Debtor is simply wrong that Dugaboy seeks an order from this Court that it has standing in related appellate proceedings. To the contrary, Dugaboy has asked that the Court find that Dugaboy has standing in these bankruptcy proceedings, something that this Court unquestionably has jurisdiction to determine. Indeed, the Plan itself contemplates that the Court would retain jurisdiction “with respect to all matters related to the Chapter 11 Case . . . to the maximum extent legally permissible,” including “to decide or resolve any motions” and to “enter such orders as may be necessary to implement, effectuate, or consummate the provisions of th[e] Plan, the Plan Documents, and all other contracts . . .” Plan, art. XI. Dugaboy cited to District Court rulings regarding its standing only to make the point that this Court’s view of standing matters. Dugaboy does not seek to revisit those rulings in the context of the Motion at issue.<sup>3</sup>

11. In any event, the Debtor’s argument that Dugaboy lacks standing under the “person aggrieved” test conflates bankruptcy court standing with the issue of standing on appeal. As set forth in Dugaboy’s Motion, it has standing to pursue a hearing regarding value of the Estate and the Claimant Trust assets as a party-in-interest under the bankruptcy law and under Article III of the United States Constitution. Mot., ¶¶ 27-32. And as further explained above, at the very least, Dugaboy is entitled to seek the relief it now seeks under Delaware trust law, which vests contingent beneficiaries with the right to seek the very information sought here. See Section II.A, supra.

C. The Information Sought By Dugaboy Is Highly Relevant

12. The Debtor also makes the specious argument that evidence of value is irrelevant because the Debtor can never obtain sufficient funds to pay creditors in full in view of the threat of future litigation by Mr. Dondero. This argument not only contravenes the directives of the Plan (which contemplates a monetization of Debtor assets and an exit from bankruptcy within two years) but also makes no sense as a practical matter. Indeed, the fact that the Debtor apparently intends to hold reserves sufficient to prevent the payment in full of allowed claims makes the information sought by Dugaboy more relevant because the information would enable Dugaboy (and Hunter

<sup>3</sup> Drawing on its mistaken assertion that the sole purpose of Dugaboy’s Motion is to establish its appellate standing, the Debtor also argues that the information Dugaboy seeks is irrelevant because, even if there is evidence that Dugaboy is “in the money,” that evidence would not impact any related appeal.

Mountain Investment Trust (“Hunter Mountain”), the other Contingent Trust Interest holder) to ascertain the amount of any potential indemnification obligations and whether there is any possible resolution that could obviate the need for such reserves, permitting the payment of all allowed claims and putting the equity interest holders “in the money.”

13. The information is also relevant because, as discussed in Dugaboy’s Motion, the manner in which the Estate is managed has the potential to affect Dugaboy’s financial interests. It is now apparent that the funds available to the Estate and the Claimant Trust far exceed the projections on which Plan confirmation was based. It appears almost certain that the monetization of the Debtor’s assets will yield enough to pay allowed claims in full. Thus, any recovery from litigation being pursued by the Litigation Sub-Trust will only inure to the benefit of Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain. This leaves Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain in the unique and untenable position of having to pay legal fees to the attorneys for the parties that are suing them. Accordingly, Dugaboy has a significant interest in the requested information in order to determine whether the funds realized from the monetization are or will be sufficient to pay the Allowed Claims in full so that the estate and its professionals do not need to incur substantial fees and costs to pursue unnecessary litigation.

D. Dugaboy’s Motion Is Procedurally Proper

14. Finally, the Debtor argues that Dugaboy’s Motion is procedurally improper because Dugaboy should have filed an adversary proceeding to obtain the information it seeks. This too is wrong.

15. In support of its argument, the Debtor cites only to Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2). Rule 7001(2) provides that any action to “determine the validity, priority, or extent of a lien or other interest in property...” is an adversary proceeding. But this is not an action to determine the validity, priority or extent of a lien or interest in property. Dugaboy is not claiming any lien on property, and Dugaboy's interest in the Estate and the Claimant Trust are established by the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) (the "Plan"). Instead, Dugaboy's Motion seeks a hearing to determine the value of the property and assets held by the Estate and the Claimant Trust for distribution to creditors and beneficiaries. Dugaboy is not seeking any information that it would not be entitled to request in a Rule 2004 examination.

E. Court Should Issue An Immediate Ruling On Dugaboy's Entitlement To Seek The Information Requested Based Upon the Briefs Submitted

16. Dugaboy made its Motion more than four months ago. Since that time, the estate has continued to incur millions of dollars in fees and expenses in connection with the underlying bankruptcy proceedings and various adversary proceedings, including most notably the Kirschner litigation. Although the Court has set a status conference on the Motion for November 14, 2022, Dugaboy hereby requests that the Court make a determination on the parties' briefs that Dugaboy is entitled the information it seeks. As explained in Dugaboy's Motion and herein, that determination can be made as a matter of law, and recent, material changes to the Debtor's estate make an early determination critical.

17. Again, as a matter of Delaware trust law, even a contingent beneficiary like Dugaboy may seek information regarding estate value. And the Debtor proffers no legitimate reason—under Delaware trust law, bankruptcy law, the Claimant Trust Agreement, or otherwise—why the information sought should not be made available to creditors, Claimant Trust Beneficiaries, holders of Contingent Trust Interests, and any other parties-in-interest in bankruptcy.

18. Further, there is an urgent need to obtain the requested information now. Most of the Debtor's major assets have now been monetized. The value of assets available for distribution has proven higher than projected. It now appears that the combination of assets and cash held by the Claimant Trust in its own name and held in the various funds, reserve accounts, and subsidiaries, will be sufficient to pay the allowed claims in full and to convert Dugaboy's Contingent Trust Interest into an Equity Trust Interest under § 5.1(c) of the Claimant Trust Agreement. Among other things, in particular:

- The Indemnity Subtrust holds liquid assets of not less than $25 million (see Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing the Creation of an Indemnity Subtrust [Dkt. 2491]; Order Granting Motion [Dkt. 2599]);
- The Debtor holds millions in reserve for professional fees;
- The Debtor recently told this Court that Acis Capital Management, L.P. holds approximately $53 million in liquidation proceeds and loans, more than half of which will be distributed to the Debtor (See Statement of Interested Party, Case No. 18-30264-sgj11, Dkt. 1235 at ¶ 2).

Yet prior to Plan confirmation, the Debtor paid $60,171,929.00 in professional fees and expenses, or approximately $3.1 million per month. See Dkt. 3583. And since Plan confirmation, the Debtor continues to incur enormous legal fees, to the tune of millions of dollars per month.

19. Given these economic realities, a quick disposition of this Motion makes sense so that, if the Estate is solvent, the Court can determine if the Claimant Trust and the Debtor should continue to incur millions of dollars per month in professional fees, and whether the Litigation Trustee should continue to prosecute the Kirschner v. Dondero et al. adversary proceeding, when it appears increasingly likely that only the defendant equity holders stand to profit from that proceeding. In short, it is time to stop the extreme economic burn and to put this bankruptcy to rest. The Court should rule on whether Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain have a right to the information requested and, if so let the two parties obtain the information necessary to determine how to proceed from here.

CONCLUSION

For all of the reasons stated in its Motion, as amended and supplemented by its Supplemental and Amended Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and for the reasons stated herein, Dugaboy Investment Trust requests that the Court reject the Reorganized Debtor's Objection to Motion for Determination of Value, enter an order that Dugaboy may pursue the information requested in its Motion, and grant all other relief requested in the Motion.

THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST’S SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF IN SUPPORT OF ITS MOTION FOR DETERMINATION OF VALUE

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Pursuant to the Court’s November 15, 2022 order [Dkt. 3625], The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) respectfully submits this Supplemental Brief on the issue of whether the relief sought in Dugaboy’s Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3382] (the “Motion”) requires an adversary proceeding.

2. Contrary to assertions made by Highland Capital Management, L.P (the “Debtor” or “HCMLP”), the relief sought in the Motion does not fall within any of the categories set forth in Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 7001. Rather, the Motion merely seeks basic and readily available information regarding assets and liabilities belonging to the estate to enable Dugaboy to ascertain whether there is sufficient available cash to pay creditors in full such that Dugaboy should be converted from a Contingent Claimant Trust Beneficiary to a Claimant Trust Beneficiary under the terms of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) (the “Plan”) and the Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, and as set forth more fully below, an adversary proceeding is not required, and the Court should hear and decide Dugaboy’s Motion.

II. THE RELIEF SOUGHT IN THE MOTION DOES NOT REQUIRE AN ADVERSARY PROCEEDING

3. In its Opposition to the Motion [Dkt. 3465], the Debtor argues that the Motion is procedurally improper because Dugaboy should have filed an adversary proceeding to obtain the information it seeks. The Debtor is wrong. Rule 7001 contains an exclusive list of matters that must be brought as adversary proceedings. See In re Live Primary, LLC, 626 B.R. 171, 197 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2021) (holding that “an adversary proceeding is not required because recharacterization of debt does not fall under one of the ten exclusive categories identified in Bankruptcy Rule 7001 that require an adversary proceeding”). If a request for relief does not fall within one of these categories, an adversary proceeding is not required.

4. The Debtor incorrectly argued in its Opposition and during the November 15, 2022 status conference that the relief sought in the Motion falls within the categories listed in Rule 7001(2) and/or 7001(7).<sup>1</sup> As explained below, the Debtor is wrong on both fronts.

A. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2) Is Inapplicable

5. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2) provides that any action to “determine the validity, priority, or extent of a lien or other interest in property...” is an adversary proceeding. But the Motion is not an action to determine the “validity, priority or extent” of Dugaboy’s interest. Dugaboy’s interest in the Estate and the Claimant Trust has already been established by the Plan. Instead, Dugaboy’s Motion seeks a hearing requiring the Debtor to provide the Court and the other parties in interest (including Dugaboy) information regarding what property and assets are currently held by the Estate and the Claimant Trust. The purpose is not to establish Dugaboy’s interest in the estate, but to ascertain whether there are currently sufficient funds held by the Estate and Claimant

<sup>1</sup> Notably, the Debtor did not argue in its briefing on the Motion that the relief sought fell within the ambit of Rule 7001(7). Instead, it raised that issue for the first time at the status conference before the Court on November 15, 2022.

Trust such that Dugaboy should be converted into Claimant Trust Beneficiary at this stage of proceedings.<sup>2</sup> Under these circumstances, the relief sought by Dugaboy is “‘not an issue of validity in any guise’ and therefore, does not require an adversary proceeding.” In re Pearl Res. LLC, 2022 WL 4474131, at *8 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Sept. 26, 2022) (citing 7 Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 7001.03 (16th ed. 2017)); see also In re Oliver, 483 B.R. 674, 678-79 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2012) (Rule 7001(2) “‘applies to efforts to establish whether a lien exists and to what it attaches, not to the separate, less complex issue of the value of the collateral supporting a lien.’”).

6. Accordingly, because Dugaboy’s Motion does not seek a determination of the validity, priority, or extent of any interest in property, Rule 7001(2) is inapplicable.

B. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7) Is Inapplicable

7. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7) is also inapplicable. Rule 7001(7) provides that “a proceeding to obtain an injunction or other equitable relief, except when a chapter 9, chapter 11, chapter 12, or chapter 13 plan provides for the relief” is an adversary proceeding.

8. Dugaboy’s Motion does not seek an injunction or equitable relief; it seeks information aimed at determining whether the Claimant Trustee should certify that Dugaboy is a Claimant Trust Beneficiary under the Plan and Claimant Trust Agreement. See Reply at ¶¶ 2-6. As Dugaboy explained in its briefing on the Motion, it is entitled to this relief under the terms of the Claimant Trust Agreement and Delaware trust law, which entitles contingent beneficiaries to the same type of financial information afforded to non-contingent beneficiaries. See Dugaboy Reply Brief, ¶¶ 4-5 [Dkt. 3603]. This type of relief is not what Rule 7001(7) contemplates.

<sup>2</sup> To be clear, Dugaboy does not ask the Court to determine that it is a Claimant Trust Beneficiary or otherwise to convert its contingent interest into a non-contingent interest. All of that must be done according to the terms of the Plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement. Thus, there is no need for the Court to take any action in this regard.

9. Critically, the Court’s equitable power to enforce compliance with a confirmed plan—which is precisely what the Motion seeks—“is not based upon any inequitable conduct of a party that might be remedied by an injunction or some type of specific performance as contemplated by FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(7).” See In re Live Primary, LLC, 626 B.R. at 190 (explaining that the court’s “equitable power” to recharacterize a proof of claim is not the kind of relief contemplated by Rule 7001(7)); see also In re Protea Biosciences, Inc., 2018 WL 5734464, at *4 (Bankr. N.D.W. Va. Oct. 30, 2018) (Rule 7007(7) did not require adversary proceeding where request was not based on remedying “inequitable conduct” through an injunction or other equitable relief).

10. Accordingly, courts routinely issue such “compliance orders” in the context of motion practice, not through adversary proceedings. See, e.g., In re Goldblatt Bros., Inc., 132 B.R. 736, 741 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991) (granting motion for final distribution pursuant to court’s “broad authority under §§ 105 and 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code to order parties to comply with reorganization plans.”); In re Chatham Parkway Self Storage, LLC, 507 B.R. 13, 18 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 2014) (granting motion to compel execution of loan documents pursuant to § 1142).

11. Further, contrary to the Debtor’s assertions at the status conference held on November 15, Dugaboy’s Motion does not assert an equitable cause of action for accounting, or any other cause of action against the Debtor for that matter.<sup>3</sup> While the Motion refers to the sought-after information as an “accounting,” courts must look to the substance of a motion—not to titles or labels—to determine the nature of the relief sought. See Cunningham v. Nationwide Sec. Solutions, Inc., 2018 WL 5722669, *2 (N.D. Tex. Apr. 4, 2018); see also Moody Nat'l Bank of Galveston v. GE Life & Annuity Assur. Co., 383 F.3d 249, 251 (5th Cir. 2004) (“a motion’s substance, and not its form, controls.”).

<sup>3</sup> An accounting is a specific equitable remedy that seeks disgorgement of ill-gotten profits. See Liu v. Sec. & Exch. Comm’n, 140 S. Ct. 1936, 1942 (2020) (describing accounting as an “equitable remedy that deprives wrongdoers of their net profits from unlawful activity”). Dugaboy does not contend that the Debtor has obtained funds wrongfully. Further, typically an accounting is only necessary where the information sought cannot be obtained through regular discovery or where the financials are so complex that only an accounting would suffice to understand them. See Brown v. Cooley Enters., Inc., 2011 WL 2200605, at *1-2 (N.D. Tex. June 7, 2011). Again, Dugaboy claims the opposite: that the information is straightforward and should be produced in an ordinary discovery process.

12. Here, the Motion does not seek an accounting as that term is typically understood in law but only seeks the disclosure of information that would allow Dugaboy to determine whether it is “in the money,” such that its contingent interest should be converted to a non-contingent interest, as contemplated by the Claimant Trust Agreement. See Motion, ¶ 33 (requesting that the Court “conduct an evidentiary hearing and require disclosure by the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trustee of the value of the estate and all assets held by the Claimant Trust that are available for distribution to creditors and residual equity holders.”); see also Reply at ¶ 19 (“The Court should rule on whether Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain have a right to the information requested and, if so, let the two parties obtain the information necessary to determine how to proceed from here.”). Again, it is Dugaboy’s contention that the Claimant Trust Agreement and Delaware law actually require disclosure of this information to Contingent Claimant Trust Beneficiaries and that any order issued by the Court requiring this disclosure would merely effectuate the terms of the confirmed Plan. Nowhere in the Motion does Dugaboy assert a cause of action for accounting or seek declaratory or any other relief sounding in equity.

III. CONCLUSION

The issue to be decided by the Court is extraordinarily simple: should the Debtor produce basic information regarding its current cash position and liabilities such that parties in interest, including Dugaboy, can ascertain whether the estate is capable of paying all creditors in full and also paying some amount to residual equity holders, as contemplated by the Plan and Claimant

Trust Agreement? It makes no sense that Dugaboy should have to sue the Debtor in an adversary proceeding for that information, which is readily available, can be produced in ordinary discovery, and which the Claimant Trust Agreement actually contemplates should be provided to beneficiaries at regular intervals. Nothing in the Motion or the Bankruptcy Rules requires an adversary proceeding under these circumstances. Dugaboy respectfully requests that the Court adjudicate the Motion without delay and enter an order that Dugaboy may pursue the information requested in its Motion.

BRIEF OF HUNTER MOUNTAIN AS TO THE QUESTION WHETHER THE
A CONTESTED MATTER

Pursuant to the instructions of the Court on November 15, 2022 [Dkt. No. 3625], Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“Hunter Mountain”) files this Brief (the “Brief”) regarding whether the Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3382] (the “Initial Motion”) filed by The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”), as supplemented and amended by Supplemental and Amended Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Dkt. No. 3533] (the “Supplement,” and together with the Initial Motion, the “Valuation Motion”) requires an adversary proceeding. Hunter Mountain has joined the Valuation Motion and therefore proposes this briefing, as to whether the Valuation Motion is an improper vehicle because the relief requested requires an adversary proceeding under FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(2) (herein after, FED. R. BANKR. P., “Rule”).

1. In the Reorganized Debtor’s (“Highland” or the “Debtor,” as applicable) Objection [Dkt. No. 3465] (the “Highland Objection”) to the Valuation Motion, Highland asserted that the Valuation Motion was procedurally improper because pursuant to Rule 7001(2), an adversary proceeding is required. In Hunter Mountain’s Reply [Dkt. No. 3606], Hunter Mountain briefed why Rule 7001(2) did not apply to the Valuation Motion. See Dkt. No. 3606, ¶¶17-20. At the Status Conference on November 15, 2022, the Court, seemingly referencing the existing briefing on Rule 7001(2) questioned whether an adversary proceeding was required. Transcript Status Conference, November 15, 2022 (the “Transcript”); 23:11. But in response, Highland pointed the Court to Rule 7001(7), not the previously asserted basis of Rule 7001(2). Transcript, 23:16-20.

2. Therefore, Hunter Mountain will address both referenced subparts of Rule 7001 and why neither requires an adversary proceeding for the relief requested in the Valuation Motion. The relief requested in the Valuation Motion, as joined by Hunter Mountain, is an order to compel limited, readily available information regarding the value of the Assets<sup>1</sup> and Obligations at this time, to determine the possibility of the Dugaboy and Hunter Mountain interests receiving distributions as Beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust. So while entitled a “Motion for Valuation,” the Valuation Motion, as joined by Hunter Mountain, is in fact a motion for information regarding the value of the Assets and Obligations to provide transparency and insight into the Equity

Holders' Contingent Claimant Trust interests, and not a request for declaratory judgment as to the value of the Reorganized Debtor as of a certain moment in time. Also, as shown below, the Valuation Motion does not seek an accounting, as, despite the supposed arguments of Highland, an accounting is a term of art for a particular type of action, which the Valuation Motion is not.

A. Rule 7001(2) is inapplicable to the Valuation Motion because Hunter Mountain's interest is not disputed.

3. Rule 7001(2) provides that: an adversary proceeding is required for a proceeding to determine the validity, priority, or extent of a lien or other interest in property. FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(2).

4. Highland characterizes the request for valuation information as a request for a determination as to the extent of Equity Holder's interests, but this is not so. The Equity Holder's interest is not disputed: they hold Contingent Claimant Trust interests.

5. Where a creditor's interest is "assertedly fixed," (i.e. the existence of a valid lien is assumed), but some underlying value is uncertain (i.e. the value of the collateral securing the lien), an adversary proceeding is not required by Rule 7001(2) for a valuation. See Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶7001.03[1] (collecting cases).

6. As Judge Rodriguez recently explained in Pearl Resources,

[The Bankruptcy] Code does not define "validity" or "extent," however, this Court may consider the ordinary meaning of each in determining whether an adversary proceeding is required pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2). ...Valuation, however, is "not [an issue of] validity in any guise" and therefore, does not require an adversary proceeding.

In re Pearl Res. LLC, No. 20-31585, 2022 WL 4474131, at *8 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Sept. 26, 2022) (emphasis added) (quoting Collier On Bankruptcy, ¶ 7001.03 (16th ed. 2017)).

7. Analogously here, the Equity Holder's interest is assertedly fixed: a Contingent Claimant Trust interest. Rather, the sole issue is a valuation of the underlying Assets and Liabilities that would inform the nature of the Contingent Claimant Trust interest. This is no different than a valuation of collateral informing the nature of a creditor's lien. There is no issue of validity of the interest in any guise. Therefore, an adversary proceeding is not required under Rule 7001(2).

B. Rule 7001(7) is inapplicable to the Valuation Motion because the relief sought is not the type contemplated by Rule 7001(7).

8. Rule 7001(7) provides that: an adversary proceeding is required to obtain an injunction or other equitable relief, except when a chapter 9, chapter 11, chapter 12, or chapter 13 plan provides for the relief. FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(d).

9. "Other equitable relief" as used in Rule 7001(7) includes relief other than injunctions traditionally granted only by courts of equity. See In re Live Primary, LLC, 626 B.R. 171, 190 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2021) (citing Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶7001.08).

10. Hunter Mountain cites the Court to its equitable power pursuant to sections 105(a) and 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code to issue "compliance orders," and specifically cases in which courts issued such orders to compel distributions on claims as required by the plan. See Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶ 1142.03[1] (citing In re WorldCom, Inc., No. 02-13533(AJG), 2009 WL 2959457 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 19, 2009); In re Goldblatt Bros., Inc., 132 B.R. 736 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991)).

11. But a bankruptcy court's equitable power to issue compliance orders "is not based upon any inequitable conduct of a party that might be remedied by an injunction or some type of specific performance as contemplated by FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(7)." See Live Primary, 626 at 190; In re Protea Biosciences, Inc., No. 17-BK-1200, 2018 WL 5734464, at *4, n. (Bankr. N.D. W. Va. Oct. 30, 2018) (finding that a bankruptcy court's equitable power to recharacterize a proof of claim as an interest in the debtor "is not based upon any inequitable conduct of a party that might be remedied by an injunction or some type of specific performance as contemplated by Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7001(7).”).

12. In the cases in which bankruptcy courts issue such compliance orders, the orders are precipitated by a motion and contested matter, not an adversary proceeding. See e.g. In re Goldblatt Bros., Inc., 132 B.R. 736 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 1991) (movant brought motion for final distribution); In re Chatham Parkway Self Storage, LLC, 507 B.R. 13, 18 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 2014) (movant filed a motion to compel execution of loan documents); In re Riverside Nursing Home, 137 B.R. 134, 138 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1992) (movant filed a motion to appoint a receiver).

13. These motions were made pursuant to the Court’s equitable powers to enter orders to effectuate a confirmed plan. None required an adversary proceeding because this type of relief is not the type contemplated by Rule 7001(7) to remedy some inequitable conduct of a party.

14. To find otherwise would read out the exception to Rule 7001(7) which provides that an adversary proceeding is not required when a chapter 9, chapter 11, chapter 12, or chapter 13 plan provides for the relief. FED. R. BANKR. P. 7001(d).

15. Highland interprets this provision to apply only to explicit relief provided for by the Plan, but case law permitting compliance orders instructs otherwise.

16. For instance, courts enter compliance orders to effectuate distributions as provided for in the plan in ways plainly not provided in the confirmed plan. See Goldblatt Bros., 132 B.R. at 741 (ordering the appointment of firm to find missing creditors); In re Jorgensen, 66 B.R. 104, 108 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1986) (ordering the appointment of different marketing agent than provided for in the plan); Matter of Coral Air, Inc., 21 V.I. 7, 14 (D.V.I. 1984) (ordering numerous changes in management of the debtor entity including implementing reporting requirements).

17. Highland also asserts that the Valuation Motion is an action seeking an accounting, and therefore under Rule 7001(7) requires an adversary proceeding because an action for an accounting is one for equitable relief under that subsection. Transcript, 19:5-7. An action that in fact seeks an accounting has been held to require an adversary proceeding. Collier on Bankruptcy, ¶7001.08 (citing to In re Mitchell, 44 B.R. 485, 490 (Bankr. N.D. Ala. 1984) (finding that a proceeding to obtain an accounting is generally an equitable proceeding).

18. However, an accounting is a specific equitable remedy that seeks disgorgement of ill-gotten profits. SCA Hygiene Prod. Aktiebolag v. First Quality Baby Prods., 137 S.Ct. 954, 964, 197 L.Ed.2d 292 (2017); Liu v. Sec. & Exch. Comm'n, 207 L. Ed. 2d 401, 140 S. Ct. 1936, 1942 (2020) (describing accounting as where equity courts routinely depriving wrongdoers of their net profits from unlawful activity). The Valuation Motion in no way seeks an accounting, only information concerning the value of cash on hand and cash held at subsidiaries (including cash held in reserve, whether or not in specific accounts), claims yet paid, the amount of the exit facility balance, and the post-petition claims to be paid, the rate of post-petition “burn” (which would be limited to information not provided in quarterly public reporting).

19. The point of the Valuation Motion is to help determine whether the interests of the Equity Holders could be or should be entitled to the status as beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust. What this Court has been told is that the amount of funds over and above obligations is irrelevant, because the obligation to indemnify precludes any discussion of whether there could be sufficient funds on hand to account for both indemnification and equity. The relief sought by the Valuation

Motion would not resolve the question, but the existence of the question means the relief requested—information—is not an accounting.<sup>2</sup>

20. As Hunter Mountain has briefed, the Valuation Motion is proper under sections 105(a) and 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code to effectuate the terms of the Plan. Such motions are plainly not of the type governed by Rule 7001(7), rather such motions are governed by Rule 3020(d) and 9014(a). As the bankruptcy court in WorldCom explained:

Section 1142(b) empowers the bankruptcy court to enforce the unperformed terms of a confirmed plan. The clear intent of Section 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code is to assure that the terms and provisions of a confirmed chapter 11 plan are carried out until the plan is completed and the final decree is entered closing the case. Bankruptcy Rule 3020(d), also provides, “[n]otwithstanding the entry of the order of confirmation, the court may issue any other order necessary to administer the estate.” The Court has the power under § 1142 to order the Reorganized Debtors to carry out the Plan and its provisions.... If the Plan envisioned that the Reorganized Debtors would be responsible for satisfying certain claims then the Court has the power to enforce compliance with the Plan.

In re WorldCom, Inc., No. 02-13533(AJG), 2009 WL 2959457, at *7 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May 19, 2009) (internal citations omitted).

21. Because the Valuation Motion seeks an order to effectuate the terms of the Plan pursuant to sections 105(a) and 1142(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, Rule 7001(7) does not apply.

<sup>2</sup> The Valuation Motion states that it seeks a “determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the Claimant Trust...” See Valuation Motion, ¶1. The use of term accounting in this context does not mean any action for an equitable accounting but rather access to information found in books and records. These are distinct concepts, though sometimes confused. See Peter Mahler, Equitable Accounting vs. Access to Books and Records: Don’t Confuse Them, J.D. SUPRA (December 17, 2018) available at: <https://www.jdsupra.com/legalnews/equitable-accounting-vs-access-to-books-30876/>; 1A C.J.S. ACCOUNTING § 6 (“an accounting sounding in equity is essentially a legal action or equitable remedy, designed to compel a defendant to account for and pay over money owed to the plaintiff but held by the defendant.”); 83 Causes of Action 2d 455 (Originally published in 2018) (an “equitable accounting is a distinct remedial cause of action, rooted in equity, which seeks an adjustment of the accounts of the parties and a rendering of a judgment for the balance ascertained to be due.”).

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth herein, neither provisions of Rule 7001 mentioned by Highland applies to the Motion. An adversary proceeding is not required and the Court can adjudicate the Valuation Motion pursuant to Rules 9014 and 3020(d).

with respect to its appeal of the Order Granting Motion to Dismiss Adversary Proceeding in which Contingent Interest Holders in Chapter 11 Plan Trust Seek a Post-Confirmation Valuation of Trust Assets [Doc.26-27] which was entered by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas on May 24, 2024.

I. STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE PRESENTED ON APPEAL

1. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in granting The Highland Parties' Motion to Dismiss Complaint to (I) Compel Disclosures About the Assets of the Highland Claimant Trust and (II) Determine (A) Relative Value of Those Assets, and (B) Nature of Plaintiffs' Interests in the Claimant Trust.
2. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count I under Rule 12(b)(6) based on the Bankruptcy Court's finding that Appellants could not prove any facts that would entitle them to the relief that they sought when the Appellants properly alleged that they have a legal and equitable right to information under the Claimant Trust Agreement and under Delaware and Texas law.
3. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count II because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(h)(3) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
4. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred by dismissing Count III because it was predicated on Count I and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) when Count I was improperly dismissed.
5. Whether the Bankruptcy Court erred in dismissing Count III because the Bankruptcy Court found that Appellants were asking it to issue an opinion based on a set of hypothetical facts and was therefore not justiciable under Rule 12(b)(1) for lack of subject matter jurisdiction when Count III seeks only a declaration that the Claimant Trust assets exceed the obligations of the bankruptcy estate or must be deemed to do so such that Appellants' contingent trust interests are effectively vested, or as an equitable matter, must be treated as vested because the putative defendants are preventing the conditions for formal vesting from occurring.

Reorganized Debtor.

Chapter 11
Case No. 19-34054-sgj11

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.’S BRIEF ESTABLISHING THE NEED
TO OBTAIN THE RELIEF SOUGHT IN VALUATION MOTION<sup>2</sup>

Highland Capital Management, L.P., the reorganized debtor in this Chapter 11 case (“Highland”), respectfully submits the following arguments establishing that the relief sought by

<sup>2</sup> This brief responds to the Court’s request for further briefing regarding the “sole issue [of] whether the relief sought in the motion for a valuation requires an adversary proceeding.” Hearing Transcript Nov. 15, 2022, 29:9–10.

The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) in the Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Docket No. 3382] (the “Initial Mtn.”) and the Supplemental and Amended Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust [Docket No. 3533] (the “Supp. Mtn.” and, together with the Initial Mtn., the “Valuation Motion”) and supported by Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“HMIT”) must be sought, if at all, by filing an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001.

Introduction

1. Dugaboy is clear about what it seeks in the Valuation Motion: an accounting of the assets held in, and the liabilities of, the Highland Claimant Trust (the “Claimant Trust”) on a consolidated basis (i.e., including the assets of Reorganized Highland, the Highland Litigation SubTrust, and the Indemnity SubTrust) so that Dugaboy may ascertain what, if any, interest it may arguably have in the Claimant Trust. But the Valuation Motion is procedurally improper because the relief sought may only be obtained in a proceeding for: (1) equitable relief; (2) declaratory relief; or (3) a determination of the extent of an interest in property.

2. Each one of these types of proceedings must be commenced by the filing of an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001. A “proceeding to obtain ... equitable relief” requires an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7). A “proceeding to obtain a declaratory judgment” requires an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(9). And a “proceeding to determine the ... extent of ... [an] interest in property” requires an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2). When Bankruptcy Rule 7001 says “The following are adversary proceedings,” a proceeding appearing in the rule’s list of ten proceeding types must be brought as an adversary proceeding.<sup>3</sup>

3. If this Court agrees that the relief sought in the Valuation Motion falls within one or more of these three categories, the Court should require Dugaboy to seek that relief by filing and prosecuting an adversary proceeding under Part VII of the Bankruptcy Rules.

The Valuation Motion Seeks Equitable Relief

4. Dugaboy acknowledges that the Valuation Motion, at its core, is about obtaining information pertaining to the assets and liabilities of the Claimant Trust—an accounting. “By this Motion, ... [Dugaboy] respectfully seeks ... an accounting of the assets currently held [sic] the Claimant Trust ....”<sup>4</sup> Dugaboy further characterizes the relief it seeks as an invocation of alleged “accounting rights of contingent [trust] beneficiaries ....”<sup>5</sup>

5. At the initial status conference in this matter, counsel for both Dugaboy and HMIT stated repeatedly that they want an accounting (while carefully avoiding using that magic word), referring to what they want as “information” about the assets and liabilities of the Claimant Trust:

- MR. DRAPER: ... The first issue is ... am I entitled to the information that I seek? ... If in fact I’m entitled to the information and I’m entitled to the hearing, then we should go forward ... I’m entitled to the information. And ... I believe we’re entitled to the information ...<sup>6</sup>
- MR. DRAPER: ... This is merely seeking information ... It’s seeking information as to the value of an estate ... We’re really asking to find out what the—what the estate is entitled—has and whether I’m entitled to a report.<sup>7</sup>
- MR. PHILLIPS: ... If, if we could get information ... We just don’t know what money is there ... as a practical matter, if we can get information about the assets, not only at Highland but at the subsidiaries, what’s left to be done, and we could see what’s reserved, then maybe everybody could stop, everybody could stop and take a look ... if we knew what the assets were or we knew what the claims were, then maybe everybody could take a step back and take a look at it.<sup>8</sup>

6. Whether it's called "information about the assets," or "information about the reserves and claims," or "information about what the estate has," or "what money is there," it remains clear that what Dugaboy and HMIT seek is an accounting of the Claimant Trust. An accounting is an equitable remedy that must be sought by adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7),<sup>9</sup> which provides that an adversary proceeding includes "a proceeding to obtain an injunction or other equitable relief, except when a ... plan provides for the relief."<sup>10</sup> For reasons extensively discussed in Highland's Reply in Further Opposition to Valuation Motion [Docket No. 3614], nothing in the confirmed Plan or in the Claimant Trust Agreement entitles contingent beneficiaries of the Claimant Trust to any information regarding trust assets, much less an accounting of the sort Dugaboy now seeks. Thus, Dugaboy seeks an equitable remedy from this Court—an accounting. That remedy must be sought by adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7). Seeking an accounting by motion as Dugaboy has done in the Valuation Motion, is improper.

7. That Dugaboy and HMIT are both seeking equitable relief is highlighted by their reliance on Bankruptcy Code § 105(a)—equitable relief—to support their request for an accounting.<sup>11</sup> The Supreme Court and the Fifth Circuit have long recognized that bankruptcy litigants such as Dugaboy misinterpret Bankruptcy Code § 105(a) as a broad grant of authority allowing bankruptcy courts to “do equity.”<sup>12</sup> Collier explains the limits on bankruptcy courts’ equitable powers: “The equitable origins of the bankruptcy power suggest substantial leeway to tailor solutions to meet the diverse problems facing bankruptcy courts. Section 105 gives the bankruptcy court the power to fill in gaps and further the statutory mandates of Congress in an efficient manner.”<sup>13</sup>

<sup>10</sup> Highland does not concede anything in respect of whether Dugaboy is entitled to the accounting it seeks. But at this point in these proceedings, the Court need not determine Dugaboy's entitlement to an accounting as a substantive matter and need only determine that the information Dugaboy seeks—which amounts to an accounting—must be sought through an adversary proceeding.

8. Insofar as the Valuation Motion seeks relief that, Dugaboy and HMIT argue, may only be granted under Bankruptcy Code § 105(a), that relief is equitable relief. Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7) requires equitable relief to be sought only through an adversary proceeding.

The Valuation Motion Seeks a Determination of the Extent of Dugaboy’s Contingent Interest in Property

9. Dugaboy argues that the Plan establishes an interest in property by granting Dugaboy a contingent beneficial interest in the Claimant Trust. True enough, but Dugaboy ignores a critical word—in this context, the critical word—in Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2): extent. The Valuation Motion is about nothing if not an accounting of Claimant Trust assets and superior beneficial interests in those assets so that Dugaboy may assess the extent of its interest in the Claimant Trust (although neither Dugaboy nor HMIT will have any interest until their respective contingent interests vest). That Dugaboy has some sort of unvested interest in the Claimant Trust

(and, therefore, its property) is not in dispute—Highland and Dugaboy agree that the Plan grants Dugaboy a contingent, as-yet unvested interest in the Claimant Trust. That undisputed fact certainly cannot be the reason for bringing the Valuation Motion. It is the extent of that interest that is the subject of the Valuation Motion. Assessing the extent of Dugaboy’s contingent interest in Claimant Trust property is the purpose of the Valuation Motion, Dugaboy’s request for an evidentiary hearing, and Dugaboy’s demand for an accounting (which is itself, as noted above, a demand for equitable relief requiring an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7)).

10. HMIT’s counsel didn’t equivocate about this when he argued at the status conference that, “We think that the Court retained authority under 1142(b) and 105 to ... determine, classify equity interests ...”<sup>14</sup> The Plan already “classifies” equity interests, so what HMIT seeks here is a “determination” of the extent of the equity interest. That oral argument is consistent with what HMIT said in its reply in support of the Valuation Motion: “In the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court expressly retained jurisdiction, citing sections 105 and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code, to determine or classify any Equity Interest ....”<sup>15</sup> “Determining” an equity interest—particularly in the context in which the Plan already classifies equity interests and establishes that Dugaboy and HMIT possess an unvested, contingent equity interest in Highland—can only mean assessing the extent of that equity interest, the extent of Dugaboy’s and HMIT’s entitlement to a distribution from the Claimant Trust.

11. A proceeding to “determine” an equity interest, to ascertain the value of Claimant Trust assets via an accounting, is an indispensable part of mathematically assessing the extent of Dugaboy’s interest in property. Dugaboy concedes as much:

12. A request to determine the extent of Dugaboy’s potential future interest in the Claimant Trust must be brought as an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2): “a proceeding to determine the ... extent of [an] ... interest in property ...”<sup>20</sup> Whether the proceeding seeks to determine the extent of a movant’s ownership in stock or to determine the extent of an entity’s limited partnership interest or the extent of a contingent beneficial interest in a creditor trust created by a confirmed Chapter 11 plan, it is a proceeding required to be commenced by the filing of an adversary complaint under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2).

Of course, Dugaboy misspeaks when it refers to “its current interest in the estate.” There is no estate insofar as the Plan became effective well over a year ago and vested all estate assets in the Claimant Trust. <sup>19</sup> Hearing Transcript Nov. 15, 2022, at 8:23–9:8. Stated simply, Dugaboy wants to assess the extent of its interest in property by getting an accounting that may demonstrate that the February 2021 projections are now outdated.

concerned with the validity of a lien for purposes of Bankruptcy Code § 502 and the allowance of a proof of claim relating to a purported lien on mineral property: “The validity of Maverick’s Lien Claim under Chapter 56 of the Texas Property Code is at the heart of this proceeding.”<sup>22</sup> That court was assessing the validity of a creditor’s claim against the estate under § 502 that had been made the subject of an objection because it had not been asserted as an adversary proceeding. In overruling the objection on that basis, the court—in the context of a pre-confirmation claim objection under Bankruptcy Code § 502 where “valuation” was incidental to whether the creditor had a claim at all—was addressing whether a proof of claim had to be brought as an adversary proceeding. (In this way, Pearl Resources stands for the unremarkable proposition that a would-be secured creditor does not have to commence an adversary proceeding to seek allowance of its proof of claim under Bankruptcy Code § 502.) That court was not addressing an effort to assess the extent of an equity holder’s contingent interest in property (already established and allowed under a confirmed and effective Plan and an effective Claimant Trust Agreement) nearly two years post-confirmation. Dugaboy seeks something entirely different from what the court in Pearl Resources was addressing (in the context of pre-confirmation claim allowance)—an accounting of a post-effective date Claimant Trust’s assets and liabilities to enable Dugaboy to measure the extent of its contingent interest in the Claimant Trust.

14. All the relief Dugaboy seeks in the Valuation Motion is intended to allow Dugaboy to ascertain the extent of its interest in the Claimant Trust (although Dugaboy will never have an interest in the Claimant Trust until its contingent interest has vested). Thus, all the relief Dugaboy seeks in the Valuation Motion must be sought in an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2).

The Valuation Motion Seeks a Declaratory Judgment

15. The Valuation Motion does not only seek information—an accounting of the assets and liabilities of the Claimant Trust on a consolidated basis. The Valuation Motion goes further, seeking a determination from this Court that the value of the Claimant Trust’s assets exceeds the Claimant Trust’s liabilities and that, therefore, Dugaboy’s tiny equity interest in Highland (as a member of Class 10 under the Plan) is “in the money,” and entitled to a vested beneficial interest in the Claimant Trust and a distribution from the Claimant Trust on account of its equity interests (after all creditor beneficiaries are paid in full). Leaving aside Dugaboy’s mischaracterization of its interest in the Claimant Trust, Dugaboy itself characterizes the relief it seeks in the Valuation Motion as declaratory relief: “Accordingly, this Motion seeks an evidentiary hearing so that the Court may determine the current amount of cash and other assets currently held by the Claimant Trust for distribution to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries ....”<sup>23</sup>

16. Dugaboy is asking this Court for an accounting so that the Court can declare Dugaboy to be “in the money.” Dugaboy is asking this Court to declare that its contingent, inchoate, and unvested interest in the Claimant Trust somehow has positive value today—to declare the extent of its interest in property. Dugaboy is asking this Court to declare that it possesses “person aggrieved” appellate standing under applicable Fifth Circuit precedent because its contingent equity interests may someday have positive value and that, therefore, the outcome of its many appeals to the District Court and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals will affect Dugaboy pecuniarily.<sup>24</sup> Dugaboy is asking this Court to declare that it is unreasonable for the Litigation

<sup>24</sup> “Dugaboy’s Appellate Rights Are Compromised ... Dugaboy has argued [to appellate courts] that Coho’s iteration of standing [that an appellant lacks appellate standing because it is not a “person aggrieved” and not pecuniarily affected by the outcome of the appeal] cannot be correct because the value of estate assets fluctuates during and after bankruptcy, such that the value of interests held by creditors and residual equity holders likewise fluctuates over time.” Initial Mtn. at 13.

SubTrust to pursue causes of action against Dugaboy and HMIT because only Dugaboy and HMIT “stand to profit” from those proceedings.<sup>25</sup>

17. These requests all constitute a multi-faceted prayer for declaratory relief. By filing the Valuation Motion, Dugaboy has asked this Court for a declaratory judgment, something that Bankruptcy Rule 7001(9) requires to be sought only through an adversary proceeding: “The following are adversary proceedings: ... (9) a proceeding to obtain a declaratory judgment relating to any of the foregoing [types of relief] ....” Dugaboy seeks equitable relief that must be sought, if at all, by an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(7). It also seeks a determination of the extent of its interest in Claimant Trust assets, which must be sought, if at all, by an adversary proceeding under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(2). But Dugaboy also seeks declaratory relief relating to the equitable relief it seeks and the requested determination of the extent of its interest in Claimant Trust property.<sup>26</sup> Seeking declaratory relief relating to each of these matters—any of these matters—requires Dugaboy to file and prosecute an adversary proceeding to obtain that declaratory relief under Bankruptcy Rule 7001(9), a third basis for this Court to compel Dugaboy to commence an adversary proceeding if it wants the relief it seeks in the Valuation Motion.

Conclusion

18. Irrespective of whether the Court deems the relief sought in the Valuation Motion as equitable relief or declaratory relief or relief to determine the extent of Dugaboy’s interest in property, or some combination of two or all three of those categories, that relief must be sought

ORDER DENYING MOTION [DE # 3382] AND SUPPLEMENTAL MOTION [DE
3533] OF DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST DUE TO PROCEDURAL DEFICIENCY: ADVERSARY PROCEEDING IS REQUIRED

I. Introduction: Context in Which Underlying Motion and Supplemental Motion Arise.

By way of background, the above-referenced bankruptcy case of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland”) is in a post-confirmation stage. Highland’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization, as Amended (the “Plan”), was confirmed on February 22, 2021 and went effective on August 11, 2021 (the “Effective Date”). Highland will be referred to sometimes as the “Reorganized Debtor,” when discussing Highland during the post-Effective Date time period.

On the Effective Date of the Plan, a “Claimant Trust” was created pursuant thereto, and is governed by that certain Claimant Trust Agreement, effective as of August 11, 2021 (the “CTA”). The CTA was expressly incorporated into and is a part of the Plan. Highland’s assets were either transferred to the Claimant Trust or remained at Highland for monetization. All prepetition equity interests in Highland were canceled pursuant to the Plan. New limited partnership interests in the Reorganized Debtor were issued to the Claimant Trust. Beneficial interests in the Claimant Trust were created in favor of Highland’s prepetition general unsecured creditors in Class 8 (General Unsecured Claims) and Class 9 (Subordinated Claims). Former equity interests in Highland are treated under the Plan and CTA as having “Contingent Trust Interests” in the Claimant Trust, and such interests will vest into “Claimant Trust Beneficiaries” upon certification by the Claimant Trustee that holders of Allowed Claims against Highland have been paid indefeasibly in full, plus post-petition interest at the federal judgment rate.

II. Pending Motion and Supplemental Motion.

On June 30, 2022, the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”) filed a “Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust” [DE # 3382] (the “Value Motion”). Notably, prior to the Effective Date of the Plan, Dugaboy owned 0.1866% of Highland’s total equity. By its Value Motion, Dugaboy sought “a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the [sic] Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors.”

Dugaboy thereafter, on September 21, 2022, filed a “Supplemental and Amended Motion for Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust” [DE# 3533] (the “Supp. Value Motion” and, together with the Value Motion, the “Dugaboy Value Motions”). The Supp. Value Motion further stated that “the Court should conduct an evidentiary hearing and require disclosure by the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trustee of the value of the estate and all assets held by Claimant Trust that are available for distribution to creditors and residual equity holders.” The Dugaboy Value Motions collectively express a belief that the Claimant Trust may have sufficient assets with which to pay creditors in full, with interest. The prayer for relief in the Supp. Value Motion requests “an order: (i) finding that Dugaboy has standing in these bankruptcy proceedings under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b), Delaware trust law, and Article III of the United States Constitution; and (ii) setting an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the assets currently available for distribution to allowed claimants, to determine the current value of those assets, and to determine whether there is a potential for settling the estate now . . . .”

The Dugaboy Value Motions were supported by Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“HMIT”) in a “Limited Response in Support of Certain Requested Relief” [DE # 3467] filed on August 24, 2022 (“HMIT Response”). Prior to the Effective Date, HMIT owned 99.5% of Highland’s equity.

The Dugaboy Value Motions were opposed by the Reorganized Debtor in a “Reorganized Debtor’s Objection to Motion for Determination of Value” [DE # 3465] filed August 24, 2022 (“Reorganized Debtor’s Objection”).

These various pleadings were pending for a while before the parties requested court time. At the parties’ request, the court held a non-evidentiary status conference on these pleadings on November 15, 2022.

At the status conference, the court expressed concerns whether the Dugaboy Value Motions required the procedural mechanism (i.e., the due process and protections) of an adversary proceeding, pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7001. The court gave the parties until November 29, 2022, to submit briefs solely dealing with the issue of whether an adversary proceeding is required for the relief sought in the Dugaboy Value Motions. The court indicated it would rule on this procedural issue based on these subsequent briefs. Dugaboy, HMIT, and the Reorganized Debtor each filed briefs on November 29, 2022 [DE ## 3637, 3638, and 3639 respectively].

III. Ruling.

Based on the court's review of the briefs and deliberations, the court determines that an adversary proceeding is necessary with regard to the relief sought in the Dugaboy Value Motions.

First, Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7001(2) states that a "proceeding to determine the validity, priority, or extent of a lien or other interest in property" should be brought as an adversary. The Dugaboy Value Motions seek for the court to determine the extent of Dugaboy's interest in the property in the Creditor's Trust. Specifically, is Dugaboy "in the money" or not? Will its status as a holder of a "Contingent Trust Interest" soon spring into the status of a "Claimant Trust Beneficiary" or not? Same, obviously, for HMIT.

Additionally, Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7001(7) states that the following should be brought as an adversary proceeding: a "proceeding to obtain an injunction or other equitable relief, except when a chapter 9, chapter 11, chapter 12 or chapter 13 plan provides for the relief." The Dugaboy Value Motions seek equitable relief that does not appear to be provided for in the confirmed chapter 11 plan. Specifically, the essence of the Dugaboy Value Motions is a request for an accounting (Dugaboy sought "a determination by this Court of the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the [sic] Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors"). Dugaboy and HMIT have not pointed to any provision of the CTA that establishes a right to an accounting. The court notes anecdotally that section 3.12(a) of the CTA states that "Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Agreement requires the Claimant Trustee to file any accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Claimant Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Claimant Trust Assets.” But to be clear, it is not as though the Claimant Trustee is operating “under the radar.” Section 3.12(b) of the CTA states that:

“The Claimant Trustee shall provide quarterly reporting to the Oversight Board<sup>1</sup> and Claimant Trust Beneficiaries of (i) the status of the Claimant Trust Assets, (ii) the balance of Cash held by the Claimant Trust (including in each of the Claimant Trust Expense Reserve and Disputed Claim Reserve), (iii) the determination and any re-determination, as applicable, of the total amount allocated to the Disputed Claim Reserve, (iv) the status of Disputed Claims and any resolutions thereof, (v) the status of any litigation, including the pursuit of the Causes of Action, (vi) the Reorganized Debtor’s performance, and (vii) operating expenses; provided, however, that the Claimant Trustee may, with respect to any Member of the Oversight Board or Claimant Trust Beneficiary, redact any portion of such reports that relate to such Entity’s Claim or Equity Interest, as applicable and any reporting provided to Claimant Trust Beneficiaries may be subject to such Claimant Trust Beneficiary’s agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.”

It would appear that Dugaboy and HMIT may be frustrated that they did not negotiate or obtain the same oversight rights as the actual Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in the Plan and CTA.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup>“Oversight Board” was defined in the CTA as “the board comprised of five (5) Members established pursuant to the Plan and Article III of this Agreement to oversee the Claimant Trustee’s performance of his duties and otherwise serve the functions set forth in this Agreement and those of the “Claimant Trust Oversight Committee” described in the Plan. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, the initial Members of the Oversight Board shall be: (i) Eric Felton, as representative of the Redeemer Committee; (ii) Josh Terry, as representative of Acis; (iii) Elizabeth Kozlowski, as representative of UBS; (iv) Paul McVoy, as representative of Meta-e Discovery; and (v) David Pauker.”

<sup>2</sup> The court notes that Dugaboy seems to argue that it has been deprived of information throughout the Highland bankruptcy case, and that there was a lack of overall transparency. This rings hollow since: (a) this bankruptcy case had a very aggressive, proactive, and sophisticated Official Unsecured Creditors Committee (“UCC”) with extensive monitoring rights to information throughout the case; (b) a Board of Independent Directors was appointed post-petition due to concerns about having management free of conflicts—which Board (one of whose members was a retired bankruptcy judge) operated quite transparently; (c) there has been an active, vigilant United States Trustee during the case; and (d) Dugaboy is the family trust of James Dondero, a founder and the former CEO of Highland who had reason to be extremely familiar with everything associated with Highland. While a late-in-the-bankruptcy-case argument was lodged by Dugaboy that Rule 2015.3 statements had not been filed by Highland and that an Examiner should be appointed to look into Highland’s non-debtor subsidiary value and activity because of this, such argument was made just prior to Plan confirmation and seemed more like a litigation tactic than an honest desire for information.

Finally, Rule 7001(9) states that the following should be brought as an adversary proceeding: a “proceeding to obtain declaratory judgment relating to any of the foregoing.” While Dugaboy seems to urge that it is, at bottom, simply seeking information and not a determination or declaration of any kind, this contradicted by both the title of the Dugaboy Value Motions (both containing the word “Determination” therein) the prayers therein, seeking that the court find “that Dugaboy has standing in these bankruptcy proceedings” and for an order “determine[ing] the current value of those assets (i.e., assets of the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust”). These are clearly requests for declaratory judgment as to value of assets, the extent of Dugaboy’s and HMIT’s interests in assets, and ultimately a declaration as to Dugaboy’s standing.

Accordingly, the Dugaboy Valuation Motions (and HMIT’s joinder therein) will not be considered at this juncture and are hereby DENIED for procedural deficiency. This is without prejudice to the filing of an adversary proceeding.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

### END OF ORDER ###

Moreover, the Rule 2015.3 filing requirement can be modified by a court for cause—something that would be reasonable in a case such as this where there was extensive oversight by a UCC and Independent Board.

PROTECTIVE ORDER [DE #3520]

On September 14, 2022, Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland") filed The Highland Parties' Motion to Quash Subpoenas Served by The Dugaboy Investment Trust or for a Protective Order ("Motion to Quash") [DE#3520], seeking an order from this court quashing four subpoenas attached to the Motion to Quash as Exhibits 1 through 4 that were issued by The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy") and served on Highland, HCMLP GP, LLC, the HCMLP Claimant Trust, and Development Specialists, Inc. in connection with a contested matter initiated by Dugaboy by the filing, on June 30, 2022, of its Motion for the Determination of the Value of the Estate and Assets Held by the Claimant Trust (the “Valuation Motion”) [DE #3382]<sup>1</sup> seeking to have the Court determine “the current value of the estate and an accounting of the assets currently held the Claimant Trust and available for distribution to creditors.” Valuation Motion, at 1.

A status hearing was held on the Valuation Motions and the Motion to Quash on November 15, 2022, during which the court expressed concerns regarding the procedural posture of the Valuation Motions: whether the relief sought in the Valuation Motions must be requested in an adversary proceeding. Following briefing on the procedural issue, on December 7, 2022, the court entered its December 6, 2022 Order Denying Motion [DE #3382] and Supplemental Motion [DE #3533] of Dugaboy Investment Trust Due to Procedural Deficiency: Adversary Proceeding Is Required (“Order Denying Valuation Motions”) [DE #3645], denying the Valuation Motions as procedurally deficient, without prejudice to the filing of an adversary proceeding to seek the relief sought in the Valuation Motions. The entry of the Order Denying Valuation Motions has rendered the pending Motion to Quash moot. Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED that the Motion to Quash, be, and hereby is, DENIED, as moot.

HUNTER MOUNTAIN INVESTMENT TRUST’S EMERGENCY MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE VERIFIED ADVERARY PROCEEDING

Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“HMIT”), Movant, files this Emergency Motion for Leave to File Verified Adversary Proceeding (“Motion”), both in its individual capacity and as a derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCM” or “Reorganized Debtor”) and the Highland Claimant Trust against Muck Holdings, LLC (“Muck”), Jessup Holdings, LLC (“Jessup”), Farallon

Capital Management, LLC (“Farallon”), Stonehill Capital Management, LLC (“Stonehill”), James P. Seery, Jr. (“Seery”) and John Doe Defendant Nos. 1-10 (Muck, Jessup, Stonehill, Farallon, Seery and the John Doe Defendant Nos. 11-10 are collectively “Respondents” or “Proposed Defendants”).

I. Good Cause for Expedited Relief

1. HMIT seeks leave to file an Adversary Proceeding pursuant to the Court’s “gatekeeping” orders, as well as the injunction and exculpation provisions in the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Doc. 1943), as modified (the “Plan”).<sup>1</sup> A copy of HMIT’s proposed Verified Adversary Proceeding (“Adversary Proceeding”) is attached as Exhibit 1 to this Motion. This Motion is separately supported by objective evidence derived from historical filings in the bankruptcy proceedings,<sup>2</sup> as well as the declarations of James Dondero, dated May 2022 (Ex. 2), James Dondero, dated February 2023 (Ex. 3), and Sawnie A. McEntire with attached evidence (Ex. 4).<sup>3</sup>

2. The expedited nature of this Motion is permitted under Fed. R. Bank P. 9006 (c)(1), which authorizes a shortened time for a response and hearing for good cause. For the reasons set forth herein, HMIT has shown good cause and requests that the Court schedule a hearing on this Motion on three (3) days' notice, and that any responses be filed no later than twenty-four hours before the scheduled hearing.<sup>4</sup>

3. HMIT brings this Motion on behalf of itself and derivatively on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and the Highland Claimant Trust ("Claimant Trust"), as defined in the Claimant Trust Agreement (Doc. 3521-5) ("CTA").<sup>5</sup> Upon the Plan's Effective Date, Highland Capital Management, LP, as the original Debtor ("Original Debtor"), transferred its assets, including its causes of action, to the Claimant Trust, including the causes of action set forth in the attached Adversary Proceeding. The attached Adversary Proceeding alleges claims which are substantially more than "colorable" based upon plausible allegations that the Proposed Defendants, acting in concert, perpetrated a fraud,<sup>6</sup> including a fraud upon innocent stakeholders, as well as breaches of fiduciary <sup>4</sup> Expedited action on this Motion is also warranted to hasten Movants' opportunity to file suit, pursue prompt relevant discovery, and reduce the threat of loss of potentially key evidence. Upon information and belief, Seery has been deleting text messages on his personal iPhone via a rolling, automatic deletion setting.

<sup>5</sup> Solely in the alternative, and in the unlikely event HMIT's proposed causes of actions against Seery, Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and/or Jessup are considered to be "Estate Claims" as those terms are used and defined within the CTA and Exhibit A to the Notice of Final Term Sheet [Docket No. 354] in HCM's bankruptcy (and without admitting the same), HMIT alternatively seeks standing to bring this action as a derivative action on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust as appropriate.

<sup>6</sup> Neither this Motion nor the proposed Adversary Complaint seeks to challenge the Court's Orders or the Plan. In addition, neither this Motion nor the proposed Adversary Complaint seeks to redistribute the assets of the Claimant Trust in a manner that would adversely impact innocent creditors. Rather, the duties and knowing participation in (or aiding and abetting) breaches of fiduciary duty. The Adversary Proceeding also alleges that the Proposed Defendants did so collectively by falsely representing the value of the Debtor's Estate, failing to timely disclose accurate values of the Debtor's Estate, and trading on material non-public information regarding such values. HMIT also alleges that the Proposed Defendants colluded to manipulate the Debtor's Estate—providing Seery the opportunity to plant close business allies into positions of control to approve Seery's compensation demands following the Effective Date.

4. Emergency relief is needed because of a fast-approaching date (April 16, 2023) that one or more of the Proposed Defendants may argue, depending upon choice of law, constitutes the expiration of the statute of limitations concerning some of the common law claims available to the Claimant Trust, as well as to HMIT.<sup>7</sup> Although HMIT offered to enter tolling agreements from each of the Proposed Defendants, they either rejected HMIT's requests or have not confirmed their willingness to do so, thereby necessitating the expedited nature of this Motion.<sup>8</sup> Because this Motion is subject to the proposed Adversary Proceeding seeks to benefit all innocent stakeholders while working within the terms and provisions of the Plan, as well as the Claimant Trust Agreement.

<sup>7</sup> The first insider trade at issue involved the sale and transfer of Claim 23 in the amount of $23 million held by ACMLD Claim, LLC to Muck on April 16, 2021 (Doc. 2215).

<sup>8</sup> HMIT has been diligent in its efforts to investigate the claims described in this Motion, including the filing of a Tex. R. Civ. P. Rule 202 proceeding in January 2023, which was not adjudicated until recently in March 2023. Those proceedings were conducted in the 191st Judicial District Court in Dallas County, Texas, under Cause DC-23-01004. See McEntire Dec. Ex. 4 and the attached Ex. 4-A. Farallon and Stonehill defended those proceedings by aggressively arguing, in significant part, that the discovery issues were better undertaken in this Court.<sup>8</sup> The Rule 202 Petition was recently dismissed (necessarily without prejudice)

Court's "gatekeeping" orders and the injunction provisions of the Plan, emergency leave is required.

5. This Motion will come as no surprise to the Proposed Defendants. Farallon and Stonehill were involved in recent pre-suit discovery proceedings under Rule 202 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure relating to the same insider trading allegations described in this Motion. Muck and Jessup, special purpose entities created and ostensibly controlled by Farallon and Stonehill, respectively, also were provided notice of these Rule 202 Proceedings in February 2023.<sup>9</sup> Like this Motion, the Rule 202 Proceedings focused on Muck, Jessup, Farallon, and Stonehill and their wrongful purchase of large, allowed claims in the Original Debtor's bankruptcy based upon material non-public information. Seery is also aware of these insider trading allegations because of a prior written demand.

6. In light of the Proposed Defendants' apparent refusal to enter tolling agreements, or their failure to fully affirm their willingness to do so, HMIT is forced to seek emergency relief from this Court to proceed timely with the proposed Adversary Proceeding before the expiration of any arguable limitations period.<sup>10</sup> on March 8, 2023, ostensibly based on such arguments. However, it is telling that Stonehill and Farallon admitted during the Rule 202 Proceedings to their "affiliation" with Muck and Jessup and that they bought the Claims through these entities.

<sup>10</sup> HMIT respectfully requests that this Motion be addressed and decided on an expedited basis that provides HMIT sufficient time to bring the proposed action timely. In the event the Court denies the requested relief, HMIT respectfully requests prompt notice of the Court's ruling to allow HMIT sufficient

II. Summary of Claims

7. HMIT requests leave to commence the proposed Adversary Proceeding, attached as Exhibit 1, seeking redress for breaches of duty owed to HMIT, breaches of duties owed to the Original Debtor's Estate, aiding and abetting breaches of those fiduciary duties, conspiracy, unjust enrichment, and fraud. HMIT also alleges several viable remedies, including (i) imposition of a constructive trust; (ii) equitable disallowance of any unpaid balance on the claims at issue;<sup>11</sup> (iii) disgorgement of ill-gotten profits (received by Farallon, Stonehill, Muck and Jessup) to be restituted to the Claimant Trust; (iv) disgorgement of ill-gotten compensation (received by Seery) to be restituted to the Claimant Trust; (v) declaratory judgment relief; (vi) actual damages; and (vii) punitive damages.

III. Standing

8. HMIT. Prior to the Plan's Effective Date, HMIT was the largest equity holder in the Original Debtor and held a 99.5% limited partnership interest. HMIT currently holds a Class 10 Claim as a contingent Claimant Trust Interest under the CTA time to seek, if necessary, appropriate relief in the United States District Court. In order to have a fair opportunity to seek such relief on a timely basis and protect HMIT's rights and the rights of the Reorganized Debtor, HMIT will need to seek such relief on or before Wednesday, April 5, 2023, if this Motion has not been resolved.

<sup>11</sup> In the alternative only, subordination of Muck's and Jessup's General Unsecured Claim Trust Interests and Subordinated Claim Trust Interests to all other interests in the Claimant Trust, including HMIT's Contingent Trust Interest, is necessary and appropriate to remedy Muck's and Jessup's wrongful conduct, and is also consistent with the purposes of the Bankruptcy Code.

(Doc. 3521-5). Upon information and belief, all conditions precedent to HMIT's certification as a vested Claimant Trust Beneficiary would be readily satisfied but for the Defendants' wrongful actions and conduct described in this Motion and the attached Adversary Proceeding.

9. Reorganized Debtor. Although HMIT has standing as a former Class B/C Equity Holder, Class 10 claimant, and now contingent Claimant Trust Interest under the CTA,<sup>12</sup> this Motion separately seeks authorization to prosecute the Adversary Proceeding derivatively on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust. All conditions precedent to bringing a derivative action are satisfied.

10. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.1 provides the procedural steps for "derivative actions," and applies to this proceeding pursuant to Fed. R. Bank. P. 7023.1. Applying Rule 7023.1, the Proposed Defendants' wrongful conduct occurred, and the improper trades consummated, in the spring and early summer of 2021, before the Effective Date in August 2021. During this period, HMIT was the 99.5% Class B/C limited partner in the original Debtor. As such, HMIT has individual standing to bring this action because Seery owed fiduciary duties directly to HMIT at that time, and the other Proposed Defendants aided and abetted breaches of those duties at that time.

<sup>12</sup> The last transaction at issue involved Claim 190, the Notice for which was filed on August 9, 2021. (Doc. 2698).

11. The derivative nature of this proceeding is also appropriate because any demand on Seery would be futile.<sup>13</sup> Seery is the Claimant Trustee under the terms of the CTA. Furthermore, any demand on the Oversight Board to prosecute these claims would be equally futile because Muck and Jessup, both of whom are Proposed Defendants, dominate the Oversight Board.<sup>14</sup>

12. The “classic example” of a proper derivative action is when a debtor-in-possession is “unable or unwilling to fulfill its obligations” to prosecute an otherwise colorable claim where a conflict of interest exists. Cooper, 405 B.R. at 815 (quoting Louisiana World, 858 F.2d at 252). Here, because HMIT’s proposed Adversary Proceeding includes claims against Seery, Muck, and Jessup, the conflicts of interest are undeniable. Seery is the Trustee of the Claimant Trust Assets under the CTA, and he also serves as the “Estate Representative.”<sup>15</sup> Muck and Jessup, as successors to Acis, the Redeemer Committee and UBS, effectively control the Oversight Board, with the responsibility to “monitor and oversee the administration of the Claimant Trust and the Claimant Trustee’s performance . . . .”<sup>16</sup>

13. Creditors' committees frequently bring suit on behalf of bankruptcy estates.

Yet, it is clear that any appropriately designated party also may bring derivative claims.

re Enron Corp., 319 B.R. 128, 131 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2004). As this Court has held in In Re

Cooper:

In Chapter 11 [cases], there is both a textual basis . . . and, frequently, a non-textual, equitable rationale for granting a creditor or creditors committee derivative standing to pursue estate actions (i.e., the equitable rationale coming into play when the debtor-in-possession has a conflict of interest in pursuing an action, such as in the situation of an insider-defendant).

In re Cooper, 405 B.R. 801, 803 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2009) (also noting that “[c]onflicts of

44 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 1989) (“[I]ndividual creditors can also act in lieu of the trustee or

house,” and their conflicts of interest abound.<sup>17</sup> Proceeding in a derivative capacity is

<sup>17</sup> See Citicorp Venture Cap., Ltd. v. Comm. of Creditors Holding Unsecured Claims, 160 F.3d 982, 987 (3d Cir. 1998) (settlement noteholders purchased Debtors' securities with “the benefit of non-public information acquired as a fiduciary” for the “dual purpose of making a profit and influenc[ing] the reorganization in [their] own self-interest.”), see also, Wolf v. Weinstein, 372 U.S. 633, 642, 83 S.Ct. 969, 10 L.Ed.2d 33 (1963) (“Access to inside information or strategic position in a corporate reorganization renders the temptation to profit by trading in the Debtor's stock particularly pernicious.”).

14. The proposed Adversary Proceeding also sets forth claims that readily satisfy the Court's threshold standards requiring "colorable" claims, as well as the requirements for a derivative action. This Motion, which is supported by objective evidence contained in historical filings in the bankruptcy proceedings, also incorporates sworn declarations. At the very least, this additional evidence satisfies the Court's threshold requirements of willful misconduct and fraud set forth in the "gatekeeping" orders, as well as the injunction and exculpation provisions in the Plan.<sup>18</sup> This evidence also supports well-pleaded allegations exempted from the scope of the releases included in the Plan.

15. HMIT is an appropriate party to bring this action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trust. If successful, the Adversary Proceeding will likely recover well over $100 million for the Claimant Trust, thereby enabling the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust to pay off any remaining innocent creditors and make significant distributions to HMIT as a vested Claimant Trust Beneficiary.

16. As of December 31, 2022, the Claimant Trust had distributed 64.2% of the total $397,485,568 par value of all Class 8 and Class 9 unsecured creditor claims. The

<sup>18</sup> HMIT recognizes that it is an "Enjoined Party" under the Plan. The Plan requires a showing, inter alia, of bad faith, willful misconduct, or fraud against a "Protected Party." Seery is a "Protected Party" and an "Exculpated Party" in his capacity as an Independent Director. Muck and Jessup may be "Protected Parties" as members of the Oversight Committee, but they were not "protected" when they purchased the Claims before the Effective Date. While it is HMIT's position that Farallon and Stonehill do not qualify as "Protected Parties," they are included in this Motion in the interest of judicial economy.

Claims acquired by Muck and Jessup have an allowed par value of $365,000,000. Based on these numbers, the innocent unsecured creditors hold approximately $32 million in allowed claims.<sup>19</sup>

17. As of December 31, 2022, the Claimant Trust has distributed $255,201,228.<sup>20</sup> On a pro rata basis, that means that innocent creditors have received approximately $22,373,000 in distributions against the stated value of their allowed claims. That leaves a remaining unpaid balance of approximately $9,627,000.

18. Muck and Jessup already have received approximately $232.8 million on their Claims. Assuming and original investment of approximately $160 million, this represents over $72 million in ill-gotten profits that, if disgorged, would be far more than what is required to fully pay all other innocent creditors - immediately placing HMIT in the status of a vested Claimant Trust Beneficiary. The benefits to the Reorganized Debtor, the Claimant Trust and innocent stakeholders are undeniable.<sup>21</sup>

19. Seery and the Oversight Board should be estopped from challenging HMIT's status to bring this derivative action on behalf of the Claimant Trust. Seery, Muck and Jessup have committed fraud, acted in bad faith and have unclean hands, and they should not be allowed to undermine the proposed Adversary Proceeding - which seeks to rectify significant wrongdoing. To hold otherwise would allow Seery, Muck, Jessup, Stonehill, and Farallon the opportunity to not just “guard the hen house,” but to also open the door and take what they want.<sup>22</sup> HMIT seeks a declaratory judgment of its rights, accordingly.

IV. The Proposed Defendants

20. Seery acted in several capacities during relevant times. He served as the Debtor’s Chief Executive Officer (“CEO”) and Chief Restructuring Officer (“CRO”). He also served as member of the Debtor’s Independent Board.<sup>23</sup> He currently serves as Claimant Trustee under the CTA and remains the CEO of the Reorganized Debtor.

21. There is no doubt Seery owed the Original Debtor’s Estate, as well as equity, fiduciary duties, including the duty of loyalty and the duty to avoid conflicts of interest. See In re Xtreme Power Inc., 563 B.R. 614, 632-33 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2016) (detailing fiduciary duties owed by corporate officers and directors under Delaware law); Louisiana World, 858 F.2d at 245-46 (detailing duties owed by debtors-in-possession).<sup>24</sup>

<sup>24</sup> The Internal Affairs Doctrine dictates choice of law. Here, the Debtor, Highland Capital Management, was organized under the law of Delaware. As much, Seery’s fiduciary duties and claims involving breaches of those duties will be governed by Delaware law.

22. Farallon and Stonehill are capital management companies which manage hedge funds; they are also Seery's close business allies with a long history of business ventures and close affiliation. Although they were strangers to the Original Debtor's bankruptcy on the petition date, and were not original creditors, they became entangled in this bankruptcy at Seery's invitation and encouragement—and then knowingly participated in the wrongful insider trades at issue. By doing so, Seery was able to plant friendly allies onto the Oversight Board to rubber stamp compensation demands. The proposed Adversary Proceeding alleges that Farallon and Stonehill bargained to receive handsome pay days in exchange.

24. By trading on the alleged material non-public information, Farallon, Stonehill, Muck, and Jessup became non-statutory “insiders” with duties owed directly to HMIT at a time when HMIT was the largest equity holder.<sup>28</sup> See S.E.C. v. Cuban, 620 F.3d 551, 554 (5th Cir. 2010) (“The corporate insider is under a duty to ‘disclose or abstain’ —he must tell the shareholders of his knowledge and intention to trade or abstain from trading altogether.”). In this context, there is no credible doubt that Farallon’s and Stonehill’s dealings with Seery were not arms-length. Again, Farallon and Stonehill were Seery’s past business partners and close allies.<sup>29</sup> By virtue of the insider trades at issue, Farallon and Stonehill acquired control (acting through Muck and Jessup) over the Original Debtor and Reorganized Debtor through Seery’s compensation agreement and awards, as well as supervisory powers over the Claimant Trust. This makes Farallon and Stonehill paradigm non-statutory insiders.

25. HMIT also seeks recovery against John Doe Defendant Nos. 1 through 10.<sup>30</sup>

<sup>29</sup> Farallon and Stonehill are two capital management firms (similar to HCM) with whom Seery has had substantial business relationships. Also, Seery previously served as legal counsel to Farallon. Seery also has a long-standing relationship with Stonehill. GCM Grosvenor, a global asset management firm, held four seats on the Redeemer Committee (an original member of the Unsecured Creditors Committee in HCM’s bankruptcy). Upon information and belief, GCM Grosvenor is a significant investor in Stonehill and Farallon. GCM Grosvenor, through Redeemer, also played a large part in appointing Seery as a director of Strand Advisors and approved his appointment as HCM’s CEO and CRO.

<sup>30</sup> Farallon and Stonehill consummated their trades concealing their actual involvement through Muck and Jessup as shell companies. Farallon’s and Stonehill’s identities were not discovered until much later after the fact.

relationships with Muck and Jessup. They resisted such discovery in the prior Rule 202 Proceedings in state district court.<sup>31</sup> They also refused to disclose such details in response to a prior inquiry to their counsel.<sup>32</sup> Furthermore, the corporate filings of both Muck and Farallon conspicuously omit the identity of their respective members or managing members.<sup>33</sup> Accordingly, HMIT intends to prosecute claims against John Doe Defendant Nos. 1 -- 10 seeking equitable tolling pending further discovery whether Farallon and Stonehill inserted intermediate corporate layers between themselves and the special purpose entities (Muck and Jessup) they created. See In re ATP Oil & Gas Corp., No. 12-36187, 2017 WL 2123867, *4 (Bankr. ## V. Background

26. As part of this Court’s Governance Order, an independent board of directors—which included Seery as one of the selections of the Unsecured Creditor’s Committee—was appointed to the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Strand Advisors, Inc., (“Strand Advisors”), the Original Debtor’s general partner. Following approval of the Governance Order, the Board then appointed Seery as the Original Debtor’s CEO and CRO.<sup>34</sup> Following the Effective Date of the Plan, Seery now serves as Trustee of the Claimant Trust (the Reorganized Debtor’s sole post-reorganization limited partner), and continues to serve as the Reorganized Debtor’s CEO.<sup>35</sup>

Creditor	Class 8	Class 9
Redeemer	$137 mm	$0 mm
Acis	$23 mm	$0 mm
HarbourVest	$45 mm	$35 mm
UBS	$65 mm	$60 mm

Each of the settling parties curiously sold their Claims to Farallon or Stonehill (or their affiliated special purpose entities) shortly after they obtained court approval of their settlements. One of these “trades” occurred within just a few weeks before the Effective Date. Farallon and Stonehill coordinated and controlled the purchase of these Claims through Muck and Jessup, and they admitted in open court that Muck and Jessup were created to allow their purchase of the Claims.<sup>37</sup>

28. HMIT alleges that Seery filed (or caused to be filed) deflated, misleading projections regarding the value of the Debtor’s Estate,<sup>38</sup> while inducing unsecured creditors to discount and sell their Claims to Farallon and Stonehill. But as reflected in the attached declarations, it is now known that Seery provided material, non-public information to Farallon. The circumstantial evidence is also clear that both Farallon and Stonehill had access to and used this non-public information in connection with their purchase decisions.

29. Farallon and Stonehill are registered investment advisors who have their own fiduciary duties to their investors, and they are acutely aware of what these duties entail. Yet, upon information and belief, they collectively invested over $160 million dollars to purchase the Claims in the absence of any publicly available information that could rationally justify such investments. These “trades” become even more suspect because, at the time of confirmation, the Plan provided pessimistic projections advising stakeholders that the Claim holders would never receive full satisfaction:

- From October 2019, when the original Chapter 11 Petition was filed, to January 2021, just before the Plan was confirmed, the valuation of HCM’s assets dropped over $200 million from $566 million to $328.3 million.<sup>39</sup>
- HCM’s Disclosure Statement projected payment of 71.32% of Class 8 claims, and 0% of claims in Classes 9-11;<sup>40</sup>
  - This meant that Farallon and Stonehill invested more than $103 million in Claims when the publicly available information indicated they would receive $0 in return on their investment as Class 9 creditors and substantially less than par on their Class 8 Claims.
- In HCM’s Q3 2021 Post-Confirmation Report, HCM reported that the amount of Class 8 claims expected to be paid dropped even further from 71% to 54%;<sup>41</sup>

30. In the third financial quarter of 2021, just over $6 million of the projected $205 million available to satisfy general unsecured creditors was disbursed.<sup>42</sup> No additional distributions were made to the unsecured claimholders until, suddenly, in Q3 2022 almost $250 million was paid toward Class 8 general unsecured claims—$45 million more than was ever projected.<sup>43</sup>

31. According to Highland Capital’s Motion for Exit Financing,<sup>44</sup> and a recent motion filed by Dugaboy Investment Trust,<sup>45</sup> there remain substantial assets to be monetized for the benefit of the Reorganized Debtor’s creditors. Thus, upon information and belief, Stonehill and Farallon, stand to realize significant profits on their wrongful investments. In turn, Stonehill and Farallon will garner (and already have garnered) substantial fees – both base fees and performance fees – as the result of their acquiring and/or managing the Claims. Upon information and belief, HMIT also alleges that Seery has received excessive compensation and bonuses approved by Farallon (Muck) and Stonehill (Jessup) as members of the Oversight Board.

32. As evidenced in the supporting declarations (Exs. 2 and 3):

- Farallon admitted it conducted no due diligence and relied upon Seery in making its multi-million-dollar investment decisions at issue.<sup>46</sup>
- Farallon admitted it was unwilling to sell its stake in these Claims at any price because Seery assured Farallon that the Claims were tremendously valuable.<sup>47</sup>
- Farallon bragged about the value of its investment referencing non-public information regarding Amazon, Inc.’s (“Amazon”) interest in acquiring Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios Inc. (“MGM”).<sup>48</sup>

- Farallon was unwilling to sell its stake in the newly acquired Claims even though publicly available information suggested that Farallon would lose millions of dollars on its investment.<sup>49</sup>

Farallon can offer no credible explanation to explain its significant investment, and its refusal to sell at any price, except Farallon's access to material non-public information. In essence, Seery became the guarantor of Farallon's significant investment. Farallon admitted as much in its statements to James Dondero.

33. The same holds true for Stonehill. Given the negative, publicly available information, Stonehill's multi-million-dollar investments make no rational sense unless Stonehill had access to material non-public information.

34. Fed. R. Bank. P. 2015.3 requires debtors to "file periodic financial reports of the value, operations, and profitability of each entity that is not a publicly traded corporation or a debtor in a case under title 11, and in which the estate holds a substantial or controlling interest." However, no public reports required by Rule 2015.3 were filed. Seery testified they simply "fell through the cracks."<sup>50</sup>

35. Six days prior to the filing of the motion seeking approval of the HarbourVest Settlement, Seery acquired material non-public information regarding Amazon's interest in acquiring MGM.<sup>51</sup> Upon receipt of this material non-public information, MGM should have been placed on the Original Debtor's "restricted list," but Seery continued to move forward with deals that involved MGM stock and notes.<sup>52</sup> Because the Original Debtor additionally held direct interests in MGM,<sup>53</sup> the value of MGM was of paramount importance to the value of the estate.

36. Armed with this and other insider information, Farallon—through Muck—proceeded to invest in the Claims and, acting through Muck, acceded to a powerful position on the Oversight Board to oversee future distributions to Muck and itself. It is no coincidence Seery invited his business allies into these bankruptcy proceedings with promises of great profits. Seery's allies now oversee his compensation.<sup>54</sup>

37. The Court also should be aware that the Texas States Securities Board ("TSSB") opened an investigation into the subject matter of the insider trades at issue, and this investigation has not been closed. The continuing nature of this investigation

<sup>52</sup> As part of the HarbourVest Settlement, Seery negotiated the purchase of HarbourVest's interest in HCLOF for approximately $22.5 million as part of the transaction. Approximately 19.1% of HCLOF's assets were comprised of debt and equity in MGM. The HCLOF interest was not to be transferred to the Debtor for distribution as part of the bankruptcy estate, but rather to "to an entity to be designated by the Debtor"—i.e., one that was not subject to typical bankruptcy reporting requirements. Doc. 1625, p. 9, n. 5. Doc. 1625.

<sup>54</sup> Amazon closed on its acquisition of MGM in March 2022, but the evidence strongly suggests that agreements for the trades already had been reached - while announcement of the trades occurred strategically after the MGM news became public. Now, as a result of their wrongful conduct, Stonehill and Farallon profited significantly on their investments, and they stand to gain substantially more profits.

underscores HMIT's position that the claims described in the attached Adversary Proceeding are plausible and certainly far more than merely "colorable."

VI. Argument

A. HMIT has asserted Colorable Claims against Seery, Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and Jessup.

38. Unlike the terms "Enjoined Party," "Protected Party," or "Exculpated Party," the Plan does not define what constitutes a "colorable" claim. Nor does the Bankruptcy Code define the term. However, relevant authorities suggest that a Rule 12(b)(6) standard is an appropriate analogue.

39. The Fifth Circuit has held that a "colorable" claim standard is met if a [movant], such as HMIT, has asserted claims for relief that, on appropriate proof, would allow a recovery. A court need not and should not conduct an evidentiary hearing but must ensure that the claims do not lack any merit whatsoever. Louisiana World Exposition v. Fed. Ins. Co., 858 F.2d 233, 248 (5th Cir. 1988). Stated differently, the Court need not be satisfied there is an evidentiary basis for the asserted claims but instead should allow the claims if they appear to have some merit.

40. Other federal appellate courts have reached similar conclusions. For example, the Eighth Circuit holds that "creditors' claims are colorable if they would survive a motion to dismiss." In re Racing Services, Inc., 540 F.3d 892, 900 (8th Cir. 2008); accord In Re Foster, 516 B.R. 537, 542 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2014), aff'd 602 Fed. Appx. 356 (8th Cir. 2015) (per curiam). The Sixth Circuit has adopted a similar test requiring that the court look only to the face of the complaint to determine if claims are colorable. In re The Gibson Group, Inc., 66 F.3d 1436, 1446 (6th Cir. 1995) (emphasis added).

41. Although there is a dearth of federal court authorities in Texas, other federal courts have adopted the same standard—i.e., a claim is colorable if it is “plausible” and could survive a motion to dismiss. See In re America’s Hobby Center, Inc., 223 B.R. 273, 282 (S.D.N.Y. 1998). In addition, in the non-bankruptcy context, the District Court for the Northern District of Texas explained that “[t]he requirement of a ‘colorable claim’ means only that the plaintiff must have an ‘arguable claim’ and not that the plaintiff must be able to succeed on that claim.” Gonzales v. Columbia Hosp. at Med. City Dallas Subsidiary, L.P., 207 F. Supp. 2d 570, 577 (N.D. Tex. 2002) (Emphasis added).

42. Thus, in this instance, this Court’s gatekeeping inquiry is properly limited to whether HMIT has stated a plausible claim on the face of the proposed pleadings involving “bad faith,” “willful misconduct,” or “fraud.” Because the face of the Adversary Complaint alleges plausible facts, HMIT’s Motion is properly granted. Clearly, the attached Adversary Proceeding would survive a Rule 12(b)(6) challenge. Furthermore, the supporting declarations and documentary evidence provide additional support, and the circumstantial evidence proves that Farallon and Stonehill, strangers to the bankruptcy on the petition date, would not have leaped into these proceedings without undisclosed assurances of profit.

B. Fraud

43. As set forth in the proposed Adversary Proceeding, HMIT alleges a colorable claim for fraud—both fraud by knowing misrepresentation and fraud by omission of material fact. Here, these allegations of fraud are appropriately governed by Texas law under appropriate choice of law principals.<sup>55</sup>

44. Seery had a duty to not provide material inside information to his business allies. But, he did so. At the latest, Seery became aware of the potential sale of MGM in December 2020 when he received an email from Jim Dondero.<sup>56</sup> Thus, Seery knew at that time that this potential sale would likely yield significant value to the Original Debtor's Estate. Yet, the financial disclosures associated with the Plan's confirmation, which were provided only a month later, presented an entirely different outlook for both Class 8 and Class 9 unsecured creditors.<sup>57</sup> Seery knew at that time that these pessimistic disclosures were misleading, if not inaccurate.

45. There is no credible doubt Seery intended that innocent stakeholders would rely upon the pessimistic projections set forth in the Plan Analysis. Indeed, the singular purpose of the Plan Analysis was to advise stakeholders. As such, HMIT alleges that Seery knowingly made misrepresentations with the intention that innocent stakeholders would rely, and that he failed to disclose material information concerning his entanglements with Farallon and Stonehill, as well as the related negotiations that were chock full of conflicts of interest.

46. On the flip side of this conspiracy coin, Farallon and Stonehill were engaged in negotiations to acquire the Claims at discounted prices; and, they successfully did so. HMIT alleges that their success was based on knowledge that the financial disclosures associated with the Plan Analysis were significantly understated. Otherwise, it would make no financial sense for Farallon and Stonehill to do the deals at issue. Indeed, Farallon admitted that it would not sell the Claims at any price, expressing great confidence in the substantial profits it expected even in the absence of any supporting, publicly available information.<sup>58</sup>

47. All of the Proposed Defendants had a duty of affirmative disclosure under these circumstances. Seery always had this duty. Muck, Jessup, Farallon, and Stonehill assumed this duty when they became non-statutory “insiders.” Thus, all of the Proposed Defendants are liable for conspiring to perpetrate a fraud by omission of material facts.

48. HMIT also claims that Seery and the other Proposed Defendants failed to disclose material information concerning Seery’s involvement in brokering the Claims in exchange for quid pro quo assurances of enhanced compensation. Seery’s compensation should be disgorged or, alternatively, such compensation constitutes a damage recoverable by the Reorganized Debtor and Claimant Trust as assignees (or transferees) of the Original Debtor's causes of action. This compensation was the product of the alleged self-dealing, breaches of fiduciary duty, and fraud.

C. Breaches and Aiding and Abetting Breaches of Fiduciary Duties

49. It is beyond dispute Seery owed fiduciary duties to the Estate. See Xtreme Power, 563 B.R. at 632-33 (detailing fiduciary duties owed by corporate officers and directors under Delaware law);<sup>59</sup> Louisiana World, 858 F.2d at 245-46 (5th Cir. 1988) (detailing duties owed by debtors-in-possession). Although Seery did not buy the Claims at issue, he stood to profit from these sales because his close business allies would do his bidding after they had acceded to positions of power and control on the Oversight Board. Muck and Jessup were essentially stepping into the shoes of three of the largest unsecured creditors who were already slated to serve on the Oversight Board. Thus, by acquiring their Claims, all of the Proposed Defendants knew that Muck and Jessup would occupy these powerful oversight positions after the Effective Date.

50. Thus, the alleged conspiracy was successfully implemented before the Effective Date. Farallon and Stonehill now occupy control positions through the shell entities (Muck and Jessup) overseeing large compensation packages for Seery. Of course, this control (and the opportunity to control) presented a patent conflict of interest which Seery should have avoided, but instead knowingly created, fostered, and encouraged. HMIT alleges that Seery breached his duty to avoid this conflict or otherwise disclose this conflict and Farallon and Stonehill aided and abetted this breach.

<sup>59</sup> The Xtreme case also notes that "several Delaware courts have recognized that 'directors who are corporate employees lack independence because of their substantial interest in retaining their employment.'" 563 B.R. at 633-34. Because Muck and Jessup are now in control of Seery's compensation, it follows that Seery is beholden to them, and Seery's disclosure of inside information to Stonehill and Farallon confirms his conflict of interest.

51. The Original Debtor, as an investment adviser registered with the SEC, is also required to make public disclosures on its Form ADV, the uniform registration form for investment advisers required by the SEC. These Form ADV disclosures, which were in effect at the time of the insider trades at issue, explicitly forbade “any access person from trading either personally or on behalf of others . . . on material non-public information or communicating material non-public information to others in violation of the law or duty owed to another party.”<sup>60</sup> It now appears these representations were false when made. Seery’s alleged conduct also violated, at minimum, the duties Seery owed in his various capacities with the Original Debtor under the Form ADV disclosures.

52. Although initially strangers to the original bankruptcy, by accepting and using inside information, Farallon and Stonehill became “temporary insiders” and thus owed separate duties to the Estate. See S.E.C. v. Cuban, 620 F.3d 551 (5th Cir. 2010) (“[E]ven an individual who does not qualify as a traditional insider may become a ‘temporary insider’ if by entering ‘into a special confidential relationship in the conduct of the business of the enterprise [they] are given access to information solely for corporate purposes.” In re Washington Mut., Inc., 461 B.R. 200 (Bankr. D. Del. 2011), vacated in part, 08-12229 MFW, 2012 WL 1563880 (Bankr. D. Del. Feb. 24, 2012) (finding that equity committee stated colorable claim for equitable disallowance against creditors who “became temporary insiders of the Debtors when the Debtors gave them confidential information and allowed them to participate in negotiations with JPMC for the shared goal of reaching a settlement that would form the basis of a consensual plan of reorganization”; vacated in part as a condition of settlement only);<sup>61</sup> See also, In re Smith, 415 B.R. 222, 232-33 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2009) (“[a]n insider is an entity or person with ‘a sufficiently close relationship with the debtor that his conduct is made subject to closer scrutiny than those dealing at arm’s length with the debtor.’ ‘Thus, the term “insider” is viewed to encompass two classes: (1) per se insiders as listed in the Code and (2) extra-statutory insiders that do not deal at arm’s length.” (citations omitted)). Farallon, Stonehill, Muck, and Jessup clearly fall into this latter category.

<sup>61</sup> Although the Washington Mutual case was subsequently vacated, the Court’s intellectual reasoning remains valid because the vacatur was mandated by a mediated settlement, not because the court’s logic was flawed or changed, and the court expressly noted that the parties’ settlement was conditioned on vacatur. See In re Washington Mut., Inc., No. 08-12229 MFW, 2012 WL 1563880, *8 (Bankr. D. Del. Feb. 24, 2012) (“grant[ing] partial vacatur . . . in furtherance of the settlement embodied in the Plan,” and noting that “absent the requested vacatur, the collapse of the Plan could result in the termination of the Global Settlement Agreement.” (emphasis added)).

53. Because Farallon and Stonehill (acting through Muck and Jessup) now hold the majority of the seats on the Oversight Board, they, along with Seery, exercise control of the reorganization proceedings. At no time were Farallon, Stonehill, or Seery's plans disclosed to the other creditors or equity. In fact, the only inference that can be reasonably drawn is that Farallon and Stonehill brazenly sought to conceal their involvement by establishing shell entities—Muck and Jessup—to nominally hold the Claims and create an opaque barrier to any effort to identify the "Oz behind the curtain." Such conduct aligns precisely with the inequitable conduct detailed in Citicorp and Adelphia (discussed below).

54. In sum, the proposed Adversary Proceeding sets forth plausible allegations that Stonehill and Farallon were aware of Seery's fiduciary duties. Indeed, as registered investment advisors, both Farallon and Stonehill were acutely aware of Seery's fiduciary obligations, including, without limitation, the duty to act in the best interests of the Original Debtor's Estate and the duty not to engage in insider trading that would benefit Seery, as an insider, and themselves, as non-statutory insiders. By accepting and then acting on material non-public information, Farallon and Stonehill (as well as Muck and Jessup) aided and abetted breaches of these fiduciary duties. By placing themselves in positions to control Seery's compensation, Farallon and Stonehill (acting through Muck and Jessup) induced, encouraged, aided and abetted Seery's self-dealing.

D. Equitable Disallowance is an Appropriate Remedy

55. HMIT also seeks equitable disallowance. Although the Fifth Circuit in Matter of Mobile Steel Co. generally limited the court's equitable powers to subordination rather than disallowance,<sup>62</sup> the Fifth Circuit did not foreclose the viability of equitable disallowance as a potential remedy. See 563 F.2d 692, 699 n. 10 (5th Cir. 1977). Binding U.S. Supreme Court precedent in Pepper v. Litton also permits bankruptcy courts to fashion disallowance remedies. 308 U.S. 295, 304-11 (1939). Bankruptcy Code § 510, which supplies the authority for equitable subordination, was "intended to codify case law, such as Pepper v. Litton . . . and is not intended to limit the court's power in any way. . . . Nor does [it] preclude a bankruptcy court from completely disallowing a claim in appropriate circumstances." In re Adelpia Commun. Corp., 365 B.R. 24, 71-72 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007), aff'd in part sub nom. Adelpia Recovery Tr. v. Bank of Am., N.A., 390 B.R. 64 (S.D.N.Y. 2008), adhered to on reconsideration, 05 CIV. 9050 (LMM), 2008 WL 1959542 (S.D.N.Y. May 5, 2008) (emphasis and omissions in original).<sup>63</sup>

56. The Fifth Circuit's decision in Mobile Steel also was premised on the notion that disallowance would not add to the quiver of defenses to fight unfairness because creditors “are fully protected by subordination” and “[i]f the misconduct directed against the bankrupt is so extreme that disallowance might appear to be warranted, then surely the claim is either invalid or the bankrupt possesses a clear defense against it.” Mobile Steel, 563 F.2d at 699 n. 10 (emphasis added). Importantly, however, the factual scenarios considered in Mobile Steel do not exist here.

57. Here, Muck and Jessup purchased both Class 8 and Class 9 Claims, and they now effectively occupy more than 90% of the entire field of unsecured creditors in these two claimant tiers. Thus, subordination cannot effectively address the current facts where the Original Debtor’s CEO and CRO conspired directly with close business allies who acquired the largest unsecured claims to the detriment of other innocent creditors and former equity. The reasoning in published cases from other circuits supports this conclusion. See Adelphia, 365 B.R. at 71-73; Citicorp Venture Capital, Ltd. v. Comm. of Creditors Holding Unsecured Claims, 160 F.3d 982, 991 n. 7 (3d Cir. 1998).

58. The purpose of equitable subordination is to assure that the wrongdoer does not profit from bad conduct. In the typical case, subordination to other creditors will achieve this deterrence. But, it is clear that the Third Circuit’s decision in Citicorp was structured to use subordination as just one tool in a larger tool box to make sure “at a minimum, the remedy here should deprive – [the fiduciary] of its profit on the purchase of the notes.” Id at 991. In Adelphia, the Southern District of New York also used equitable subordination as a remedy to address wrongs of non-insiders who aided and abetted breaches a fiduciary duty by the debtor's management. 365 B.R. at 32.

59. But subordination cannot adequately address the wrongful conduct at issue. This is because subordination is typically limited to instances where one creditor is subordinated to other creditors, not equity. Here, for all practical purposes, there are only a few other unsecured creditors with relatively small stakes. Therefore, subordination as a weapon of deterrence is neutered.

60. In sum, by engaging in the alleged wrongful acts, including aiding and abetting Seery's breaches of fiduciary duty, Farallon, Stonehill, Muck, and Jessup should not be rewarded. The Proposed Defendants engaged in alleged conduct which damaged the Original Debtor's estate, including improper agreements to compensate Seery under the terms of the CTA. Equitable disallowance is an appropriate remedy which, when combined with disgorgement of all ill-gotten profits, will deprive the Proposed Defendants of their ill-gotten gains.

E. Disgorgement and Unjust Enrichment

61. The law is clear that disgorgement is an available remedy for breach of fiduciary duty both under Texas Law, see Kinzbach Tool Co. v. Corbett-Wallace Corporation, 160 S.W. 2d 509 (Tex. 1942), and under Delaware law, see Metro Storage International, LLC v. Harron, 275 A.3d 810 (Del. Ch. 2022). Disgorgement is also an appropriate remedy for unjust enrichment under Texas law, Hunter v. Shell Oil Co., 198 F.2d 485 (5th Cir. 1952), and under Delaware law, In re Tyson Foods, Inc. Consolidated Shareholder Litigation, 919 A.2d 563 (Del. Ch. 2007).<sup>64</sup>

62. Likewise, the imposition of a constructive trust is proper for addressing unjust enrichment under both Delaware and Texas law, see Teacher's Retirement System of Louisiana v. Aidinoff, 900 A.2d 654 (Del. Ch. 2006) and Hsin-Chi-Su v. Vantage Drilling Company, 474 S.W. 3d 384 (Tex. App. – 14th Dist. 2015), pet. denied. The elements of unjust enrichment are: (1) the defendant must have gained a benefit (2) at the expense of plaintiff, (3) and retention of that benefit must be shown to be unjust. See Restatement (Third) of Restitution and Unjust Enrichment §321, cmt. e (2011).

63. Here, the imposition of a constructive trust and disgorgement are clearly appropriate to provide redress for the alleged breaches of fiduciary duty and the knowing participation in (or aiding and abetting) those breaches. Furthermore, the imposition of a constructive trust and disgorgement are appropriate to disgorge the improper benefits that all of the Proposed Defendants received by virtue of collusion and insider trading.

64. As set forth in the proposed Adversary Proceeding, Seery gained the opportunity to have his compensation demands rubber stamped. The other Defendants gained the opportunity to purchase valuable claims at a discount knowing that pessimistic financial projections were false and that the upside investment potential was great. Retention of the benefits they received would be unjust and inequitable.

65. Clearly, the Debtor's Estate was damaged by virtue of the claimed conduct. Seery obtained profits and compensation to the detriment of that estate as well as the estate of the Reorganized Debtor, other innocent creditors and HMIT, as former equity and as a contingent Claimant Trust Beneficiary.

F. Declaratory Relief

66. HMIT also seeks declaratory relief pursuant to Fed. R. Bank P. 7001(9). Specifically, HMIT seeks a declaratory judgment that: (a) there is a ripe controversy concerning HMIT's rights and entitlements under the Claimant Trust Agreement; (b) as a general matter, HMIT has standing to bring an action against a trustee even if its interest is considered "contingent;" (c) HMIT's status as a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is fully vested upon disgorgement of the ill-gotten profits of Muck and Jessup, and by extension, Farallon and Stonehill; (d) HMIT's status as a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is fully vested upon the equitable disallowance of the Claims held by Muck and Jessup over and above their initial investments; (e) Seery is properly estopped from asserting that HMIT is not an appropriate party to bring this derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and/or the Claimant Trust because of fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct, and unclean hands; (f) Muck and Jessup are properly estopped from asserting that HMIT is not an appropriate party to bring this derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trust because of their fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct, and unclean hands; and (g) all of the Proposed Defendants are estopped from asserting that HMIT does not have standing in its individual capacity due to their fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct, and unclean hands.

G. HMIT has Direct Standing.

67. The Texas Supreme Court recently held that “a partner or other stakeholder in a business organization has constitutional standing to sue for an alleged loss in the value of its interest in the organization.” Pike v. Texas EMC Mgt., LLC, 610 S.W.3d 763, 778 (Tex. 2020). In so holding, the Court considered federal law and found that the traditional “incantation that a shareholder may not sue for the corporation’s injury” is really a question of capacity, which goes to the merits of a claim, rather than an issue of standing that would impact subject matter jurisdiction. Id. at 777 (noting that the 5th Circuit and “[o]ther federal circuits agree that a plaintiff has standing to sue for the lost value of its investment in a corporation”). Because Seery, Muck, Jessup, Stonehill, Farallon’s alleged actions devalued HMIT’s interest in the Debtor’s Estate, including, without limitation, payment of excessive compensation to Seery, HMIT has standing to pursue its common law claims directly. HMIT also has direct standing to seek declaratory relief as set forth in the proposed Adversary Proceeding.

VII. Prayer

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust respectfully requests this Court grant HMIT leave authorizing it to file the Adversary Complaint, attached as Exhibit 1, as an Adversary Proceeding in this United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, in its own name and as a derivative action on behalf of the Debtor Highland Capital Management, L.P., against Muck Holdings, LLC, Jessup Holdings, LLC, Farallon Capital Management, LLC, Stonehill Capital Management, LLC, James P. Seery, Jr., and John Doe Defendants Nos. 1 – 10, and further grant HMIT all such other and further relief to which HMIT may be justly entitled.

VERIFIED ADVERSARY COMPLAINT

Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (“HMIT”) files this Verified Adversary Complaint in its individual capacity and, as a derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor, Highland Capital Management L.P. (“HCM” or “Reorganized Debtor”) and the Highland Claimant Trust (collectively “Plaintiffs”), complaining of Muck Holdings, LLC (“Muck”), Jessup Holdings, LLC (“Jessup”), Farallon Capital Management, LLC (“Farallon”), Stonehill Capital Management, LLC (“Stonehill”), James P. Seery, Jr., (“Seery”) and John Doe Defendant Nos. 1-10 (Muck, Jessup, Stonehill, Farallon, Seery and the John Doe Defendants Nos. 1-10 are collectively “Defendants”), and would show:

I. Introduction

1. HMIT brings this Verified Adversary Complaint (“Complaint”) on behalf of itself, individually, and as a derivative action benefitting the Reorganized Debtor and on behalf of the Highland Claimant Trust (“Claimant Trust”), as defined in the Claimant Trust Agreement (Doc. 3521-5) (“CTA”).<sup>1</sup> This derivative action is specifically brought pursuant to Rule 23.1 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and B. R. Rule 7023.1. At the time of the transactions at issue, HMIT held a 99.5% limited partnership in Highland Capital Management, LP, the Original Debtor, as described herein. This derivative action is not a collusive effort to confer jurisdiction that the Court would otherwise lack.

2. Upon the Effective Date, the assets of the bankruptcy estate of Highland Capital Management, L.P., as the Original Debtor (the “Debtor’s Estate”) were transferred to the Highland Claimant Trust under the terms of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) [Doc. 1943, Exhibit A] (the “Plan”) and as defined in the CTA. These assets include all “causes of action” that the Debtor’s Estate had before the Effective Date including, without limitation, the causes of action set forth in this Adversary Proceeding. Furthermore, the Claimant Trust is managed by the Claimant Trustee, Seery. Therefore, any demand upon Seery to prosecute the claims set forth in this Complaint would be futile because Seery is a Defendant. Similarly, the Oversight Board exercises supervision over Seery as Claimant

<sup>1</sup> Solely in the alternative, and in the unlikely event HMIT’s proposed causes of actions against Seery, Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and/or Jessup are considered to be “Estate Claims” as those terms are used and defined within the CTA and Exhibit A to the Notice of Final Term Sheet [Docket No. 354] in HCM’s bankruptcy (and without admitting the same), HMIT alternatively seeks standing to bring this action as a derivative action on behalf of the Litigation Sub-Trust as appropriate. Any demand on the Litigation Sub-Trust would be equally futile for the same reasons addressed in HMIT’s Emergency Motion for Leave (Doc. ___).

Trustee, and Muck and Jessup are members of the Oversight Board. Any demand upon Muck and Jessup to prosecute these claims would be equally futile. All conditions precedent to bringing this derivative action have otherwise been satisfied.

3. This action has become necessary because of Defendants' tortious conduct. This tortious conduct occurred before the Effective Date of the Plan, but its effects have caused damage both before and after the Effective Date. Prior to the Effective Date, HMIT owned 99.5% of the limited partnership interest in the Original Debtor and was the beneficiary of fiduciary duties owed by Seery.

4. Seery, the Original Debtor's CEO and former Chief Restructuring Officer ("CRO"), wrongfully facilitated and promoted the sale of large unsecured creditor claims to his close business allies and friends, Farallon and Stonehill. He did so by providing material non-public information to them concerning the value of the Original Debtor's Estate that other stakeholders did not know. Farallon and Stonehill, who were otherwise strangers to the bankruptcy proceedings, wrongfully purchased the claims through their special purpose entities, Muck and Jessup, based upon this inside information, and they are now profiting from their misconduct. Seery's dealings with the other Defendants were not arm's length, but instead were covert, undisclosed, and collusive.

5. Motivated by corporate greed, the other Defendants aided and abetted or, alternatively, knowingly participated in Seery's wrongful conduct. They also breached their own duties as "non-statutory insiders." Because of their long-standing, historical relationships with Seery, and their use of material non-public information, Farallon, Stonehill, Muck, and Jessup assumed positions of control over the affairs of the Debtor's bankruptcy, including compensation awards to Seery. As such, they became non-statutory insiders.

6. HMIT was formerly the largest equity holder in the Debtor, holding a 99.5% limited partnership interest. HMIT now holds an Allowed Class 10 Class B/C Limited Partnership Interest and a Contingent Trust Interest under the CTA. Given HMIT's position as former equity, HMIT's right to recover from the Claimant Trust is junior to the Reorganized Debtor's unsecured creditors, now known as Claimant Trust Beneficiaries. However, the vast majority of the approved unsecured claims superior to HMIT's interest are the claims wrongfully acquired by insider trading and the breaches of duty at issue in this proceeding.

7. By wrongfully soliciting, fostering, and encouraging the wrongful insider trades, Seery violated his fiduciary duties to the Debtor's Estate, specifically his duty of loyalty and his duty to maximize the value of the Estate with corresponding recovery by legitimate creditors and former equity. Seery was motivated out of self-interest to garner personal benefit (to the detriment of the Debtor's Estate) by strategically benefitting his business allies with non-public information. He then successfully "planted" his allies onto the Oversight Board, which, as a consequence does not act as an independent board in the exercise of its responsibilities. Rather, imbued with powers to oversee Seery's future compensation, the other Defendants are postured to reward Seery financially regarding Defendants' illicit dealings and, upon information and belief, they have done so.

8. By receiving and acting upon material non-public information concerning the financial condition of the Debtor's Estate, Stonehill and Farallon, acting individually and through special purpose shell entities they created and controlled, directly or indirectly, are also liable for aiding and abetting Seery's breaches of fiduciary duties. By acquiring the claims at issue, Muck and Jessup, the shell entities created and controlled by Stonehill and Farallon, also became non-statutory insiders owing duties of disclosure which they also breached.

9. HMIT separately seeks recovery against John Doe Defendant Nos. 1-10. Farallon actively concealed the precise legal relationship between Farallon and Muck. Stonehill actively concealed the precise legal relationship between Stonehill and Jessup. What is known, however, is that Farallon and Stonehill created these special purpose shell entities on the eve of the insider trades to acquire ownership of the claims and to otherwise control the affairs of the Oversight Board. Both Farallon and Stonehill rejected inquiries concerning the exact nature of their relationship with these special purpose entities. Accordingly, HMIT seeks equitable tolling of any statute of limitations concerning claims against unknown business entities that Farallon and Stonehill may have created and inserted as intermediate corporate layers in the transactions at issue.

10. HMIT seeks to disgorge all Defendants' ill-gotten profits and equitable disallowance of the remaining unpaid balances on the following allowed claims: Claim Nos. 23, 72, 81, 143, 147, 149, 150, 153, 154, 190, and 191 (the "Claims") currently held by Muck and Jessup. Because Defendants received substantial distributions from the Claimant Trust in connection with these Claims, HMIT seeks to disgorge all such distributions above Defendants' initial investment—compelling restitution of such funds to the Claimant Trust for the benefit of innocent creditors and former equity pursuant to the waterfall established under the Plan and the CTA. HMIT also seeks to disgorge Seery's compensation from the date his collusive conduct first occurred. Alternatively, HMIT seeks damages on behalf of the Claimant Trust in an amount equal to all compensation paid to Seery from the onset of his collusive conduct to present.

II. Jurisdiction and Venue

11. Pursuant to Misc. Order No. 33 Order of Reference of Bankruptcy Cases, U.S. District Court for N.D. Texas (the "Order of Reference"), this Complaint is commenced in the Bankruptcy Court because it is "related to a case under Title 11." The filing of this Complaint is expressly subject to and without waiver of Plaintiff' rights and ability to seek withdrawal of the reference pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(d), FED. R. BANKR. P. 5011, and Local Bankruptcy Rule 5011-1. Plaintiffs hereby demand a right to a trial by jury of all claims asserted herein and nothing in this Complaint, nor Plaintiffs' compliance with the Order of Reference, shall be deemed a waiver of this right.

12. This Court has jurisdiction of the subject matter and the parties as a “related to” proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334 and 157(a) and Articles IX.F, and XI. of the Plan.

13. Pursuant to Rule 7008 of the Bankruptcy Rules, Plaintiffs do not consent to the entry of final orders or judgment by the bankruptcy court.

14. Venue is proper in this district and division pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409, and Articles IX.F, and XI. of the Plan.

III. Parties

15. HMIT is a Delaware statutory trust that was the largest equity holder in the Original Debtor, holding a 99.5% limited partnership interest. HMIT is also the holder of a Contingent Trust Interest in the Claimant Trust, but should be treated as a vested Claimant Trust Beneficiary due to Defendants’ wrongful conduct.

16. Pursuant to the Plan and the CTA, the Claimant Trust holds the assets of the Reorganized Debtor, including the causes of action that accrued to the Original Debtor before the Effective Date. The Claimant Trust is established in accordance with the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and Treasury Regulatory Section 301.7701-4(d).

17. Muck is a Delaware limited liability company, with its principal office in California, and may be served with process at One Maritime Plaza, Suite 2100, San Francisco, CA 94111. Muck has made prior appearances in the Debtor’s bankruptcy.

18. Jessup is a Delaware limited liability company, with its principal office in New York, and may be served with process via its registered agent, Vcorp Services, LLC, at 108 W. 13th Street Suite 100, Wilmington, Delaware 19801. Jessup has made prior appearances in the Debtor's bankruptcy.

19. Farallon is a Delaware limited liability company, with its principal office in California, and may be served with process at One Maritime Plaza, Suite 2100, San Francisco, CA 94111. Farallon is a capital management company that manages hedge funds and is a registered investment advisor. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Farallon because Farallon's conduct giving rise to or relating to the claims in this Adversary Proceeding occurred in Texas, thereby satisfying all minimum contacts requirements and due process considerations.

20. Stonehill is a Delaware limited liability company, with its principal office in New York, and may be served with process at 320 Park Avenue, 26th Floor, New York, NY 10022. Stonehill is a capital management company managing hedge funds and is a registered investment advisor. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Stonehill because Stonehill's conduct giving rise to or relating to the claims in this Adversary Proceeding occurred in Texas, thereby satisfying all minimum contacts and all due process considerations.

21. Seery is an individual citizen and resident of the State of New York. Mr. Seery may be served with process at 100 Crescent Court, Suite 1805, Dallas, Texas 75201.

22. John Doe Defendant Nos. 1-10 are currently unknown individuals or business entities who may be identified in discovery as involved in the wrongful transactions at issue.

IV. Facts

A. Procedural Background

23. On October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in Delaware Bankruptcy Court,<sup>2</sup> which was later transferred to the Northern District of Texas Bankruptcy Court, Dallas Division, on December 4, 2019.<sup>3</sup>

24. On October 29, 2019, the U.S. Trustee's office appointed a four-member Unsecured Creditors Committee ("UCC") consisting of three judgment creditors—the Redeemer Committee of the Highland Crusader Fund ("Redeemer"); Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (collectively "Acis"); and UBS Securities LLC and UBS AG London Branch (collectively "UBS")—and an unpaid vendor, Meta-E Discovery.

25. Following the venue transfer to Texas, on December 27, 2019, the Debtor filed its Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of

Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course (“Governance Motion”).<sup>4</sup> On January 9, 2020, the Court signed a Governance Order granting the Governance Motion.<sup>5</sup>

26. As part of the Governance Order, an independent board of directors—which included Seery as one of the selections of the Unsecured Creditors Committee—was appointed to the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Strand, the Original Debtor’s general partner. The Board then appointed Seery as the Chief Executive Officer in place of the previous CEO, Mr. James Dondero, as well as the CRO.<sup>6</sup> Seery currently serves as Trustee of the Claimant Trust under the terms of the CTA and the CEO of the Reorganized Debtor.<sup>7</sup>

B. *The Targeted Claims

27. In his capacity as the Original Debtor’s CEO and CRO, Seery negotiated and obtained court approval for settlements with several large unsecured creditors including Redeemer, Acis, UBS, and another major unsecured creditor, HarbourVest (Redeemer, Acis, UBS, and HarbourVest are collectively the “Settling Parties”), resulting in the following allowed Claims:

Creditor	Class 8	Class 9

Acis	$23 mm	$0 mm
HarbourVest	$45 mm	$35 mm
UBS	$65 mm	$60 mm
(Totals)	$270 mm	$95 mm

As reflected in these settlements, HarbourVest and UBS owned Class 9 claims in addition to Class 8 Claims. Class 9 Claims were subordinated to Class 8 Claims in the distribution waterfall in the Plan.

28. Each of the Settling Parties sold their Claims to Farallon and Stonehill (or affiliated special purpose entities) shortly after receiving court approval of the settlements. One of these “trades” took place within just a few weeks before the Plan’s Effective Date.<sup>8</sup> All of these trades occurred when HMIT held its 99.5% equity stake in the Debtor. Notice of these trades was first provided in filings in the records of the Original Debtor’s bankruptcy proceedings, as follows: Claim No. 23 (Doc. 2211, 2212, and 2215), Claim Nos. 190 and 191 (Doc. 2697 and 2698), Claim Nos. 143, 147, 149, 150, 153 and 154 (Doc. 2263), Claim No. 81 (Doc. 2262), Claim No. 72 (Doc. 2261).

29. Farallon and Stonehill, both of whom are registered investment advisors that manage hedge funds, have fiduciary duties to their own investors. As such, they are acutely aware of their duties and obligation as fiduciaries. Yet, they both invested many tens of millions of dollars, directly or indirectly, to acquire the Claims in the absence of any publicly available information that could provide any economic justification for their investment decisions.

30. Upon information and belief, Stonehill and Farallon collectively invested an estimated $160 million to acquire the Claims with a face amount of $365 million, and they did so in the absence of any meaningful due diligence. Indeed, Farallon has admitted that it conducted no due diligence but relied on Seery's guarantees.

31. Stonehill and Farallon's investments become even more suspicious because the Plan provided the only publicly available information, which, at the time, included pessimistic projections that the Claims would ever receive full payment:

- a. From October 2019, when the original Chapter 11 Petition was filed, to January 2021, just before the Plan was confirmed, the projected value of HCM's assets dropped over $200 million from $566 million to $364 million.<sup>9</sup>
- b. HCM's Disclosure Statement projected payment of 71.32% of Class 8 claims, and 0% of claims in Classes 9-11.<sup>10</sup>
  - o This meant that Farallon and Stonehill invested more than $163 million in Claims when the publicly available information indicated they would receive $0 in return on their investment as Class 9 creditors and substantially less than par on their Class 8 Claims.
- c. In HCM's Q3 2021 Post-Confirmation Report, HCM reported that the amount of Class 8 claims expected to be paid dropped even further from 71% to 54%.

d. Despite the stark decline in the value of the estate and in the midst of substantial reductions in the percentage of Class 8 Claims expected to be satisfied, Stonehill, through Jessup, and Farallon, through Muck, nevertheless purchased the four largest bankruptcy claims from the Redeemer Committee/Crusader Fund, Acis, HarbourVest, and UBS (collectively, again, the “Claims”) in April and August of 2021 in the combined amount of $163 million.<sup>11</sup>

32. Upon information and belief, Stonehill, through its special purpose entity, Jessup, acquired the Redeemer Committee’s claim for $78 million.<sup>12</sup> Upon information and belief, the $23 million Acis claim<sup>13</sup> was sold to Farallon/Muck for $8 million. Upon information and belief, HarbourVest sold its combined $80 million in claims to Farallon/Muck for $27 million. UBS sold its combined $125 million in claims for $50 million to both Stonehill/Jessup and Farallon/Muck. In the instance of UBS, the total projected payout was only $35 million. Indeed, as part of these transactions, both Farallon and Stonehill purchased Class 9 Claims at a time when the Debtor’s Estate projected a zero dollar return on all such Claims.

<sup>11</sup> Notices of Transfers [Docs. 2212, 2215, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2215, 2297, 2298]. The Acis claim was transferred on April 16, 2021; the Redeemer, Crusader, and HarbourVest claims were transferred on April 30, 2021; and the UBS claims were transferred on August 9, 2021.

<sup>13</sup> Seery/HCM have argued that $10 million of the Acis claim is self-funding.

C. *Material Non-Public Information is Disclosed to Seery's Affiliates at Stonehill and Farallon.

33. One of the significant assets of the Debtor's Estate was the Debtor's direct and indirect holdings in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, Inc. ("MGM").<sup>14</sup>

34. On December 17, 2020, James Dondero, sent an email to Seery. At that time, Dondero was a member of the MGM board, and the email contained material non-public information regarding Amazon and Apple's interest in acquiring MGM.<sup>15</sup> Of course, any such sale would significantly enhance the value of the Original Debtor's estate.

35. Upon receipt of this material non-public information, Seery should have halted all transactions involving MGM stock, yet just six days later Seery filed a motion in this Court seeking approval of the Original Debtor's settlement with HarbourVest - resulting in a transfer to the Original Debtor of HarbourVest's interest in a Debtor-advised fund, Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. ("HCLOF"), which held substantial MGM debt and equity.<sup>16</sup> Conspicuously, the HCLOF interest was not transferred to the Original Debtor for distribution as part of the bankruptcy estate, but rather to "to an entity to be designated by the Debtor" — i.e., one that was not subject to typical bankruptcy reporting requirements.<sup>17</sup>

36. Upon information and belief, aware that the Debtor's stake in MGM afforded a new profit center, Seery saw an opportunity to increase his own compensation and enlisted the help of Stonehill and Farallon to extract further value from the Original Debtor's Estate at the expense of other innocent creditors and equity. This quid pro quo included, at a minimum, a tacit, if not express, understanding that Seery would be well-compensated.

37. Until 2009, Seery was the Global Head of Fixed Income Loans at Lehman Brothers<sup>18</sup> where, on information and belief, he conducted substantial business with Farallon. Following the collapse of Lehman Brothers, Seery continued to work with, and indeed represented Farallon as its legal counsel. Seery ultimately joined a hedge fund, River Birch Capital,<sup>19</sup> which, along with Stonehill, served on the creditors committee in other bankruptcy proceedings. GCM Grovesnor, a global asset management firm, held four seats on the Redeemer Committee<sup>20</sup> and, upon information and belief, is a significant investor in Stonehill and Farallon. Grovesnor, through Redeemer, played a large part in appointing Seery as a director of Strand Advisors. Seery was beholden to Grovesnor from the outset, and, by extension, Grovesnor's affiliates Stonehill and Farallon.

38. As successful capital management firms, with advisory and fiduciary duties to their own clients, Stonehill and Farallon typically engage in robust due diligence before making significant investments. Yet, in this case, it would have been impossible for Stonehill and Farallon to forecast any profit at the time of their multi-million-dollar investments given the negative financial information disclosed by the Original Debtor's Estate. Seery, as the CEO, was aware of and involved in approving these negative financial projections. In doing so, Seery intentionally caused the publication of misleading, false information.

39. Seery shared with Stonehill and Farallon non-public information concerning the value of the Original Debtor's Estate which was higher than publicly available information. Thus, the only logical conclusion is that all Defendants knew that the publicly available projections, which accompanied the Plan, were understated, false, and misleading. Otherwise, Farallon, Muck, Stonehill and Jessup would not have made their multi-million-dollar investments. None of the Defendants disclosed their knowledge of the misleading nature of these financial projections when they had a duty to do so. None of the Defendants disclosed the nature of their dealings in acquiring the Claims.

40. By wrongfully exploiting non-public insider information, Stonehill and Farallon—acting through Muck and Jessup—became the largest holders of unsecured claims in the Debtor's Estate with resulting control over the Oversight Board and a front row seat to the reorganization and distribution of Claimant Trust Assets. As such, they were given control (through Muck and Jessup) to approve discretionary bonuses and success fees for Seery from these assets.

D. Distributions

41. The MGM sale was ultimately consummated in March 2022 for $6.1 billion in cash, plus $2.5 billion in debt that Amazon assumed and immediately repaid.<sup>21</sup>

42. By the end of Q3 2021, just over $6 million of the projected $205 million available for general unsecured claimants had been disbursed.<sup>22</sup> No additional distributions were made to general unsecured claimholders until, suddenly, in Q3 2022 almost $250 million was paid toward Class 8 general unsecured claims—$45 million more than was ever projected.<sup>23</sup> Thus, Stonehill (Jessup) and Farallon (Muck) have already received returns that far eclipse their investment. They also stand to make further significant profits on their investments, including payments on Class 9 Claims.

43. As of December 31, 2022, the Claimant Trust has distributed $255,201,228. On a pro rata basis, that means that innocent creditors have received approximately $22,373,000 in distributions against the stated value of their allowed claims. That leaves a remaining unpaid balance of approximately $9,627,000.

44. Muck and Jessup already have received approximately $232.8 million on their Claims. Assuming an original investment of approximately $160 million, this represents over $72 million in ill-gotten profits that, if disgorged, would be far more than what is required to fully pay all other innocent creditors - immediately placing HMIT in the status of a vested Claimant Trust Beneficiary.

45. It is clear Seery facilitated the sale of the Claims to Stonehill (Jessup) and Farallon (Muck) at discounted prices and used misleading financial projections to facilitate these trades. This was part of a larger strategy to install Stonehill (Jessup) and Farallon (Muck), his business allies, onto the Oversight Board where they would oversee lucrative bonuses and other compensation for Seery in exchange for hefty profits they expected to receive.

V. Causes of Action

A. Count I (against Seery): Breach of Fiduciary Duty

46. The allegations in paragraphs 1-45 above are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

47. As CEO and CRO of a debtor-in-possession, Seery owed fiduciary duties to HMIT, as equity, and to the Debtor's Estate, including, without limitation, the duty of loyalty. Seery also was under a duty to avoid conflicts of interests, but Seery willfully and knowingly engaged in conduct which conflicted with his fiduciary duties—and he did so out of financial self-interest.

48. By fraudulently providing and/or approving negative projections of the Debtor's Estate when he knew otherwise, Seery willfully and knowingly breached his fiduciary duties.

49. By misusing and disclosing confidential, material non-public information to Stonehill and Farallon, Seery willfully and knowingly breached his fiduciary duties.

50. By failing to disclose his role in the inside trades at issue, Seery willfully and knowingly breached his fiduciary duties.

51. As a result of his willful misconduct, Seery was unfairly advantaged by receiving additional undisclosed compensation and bonuses from the assets of the Debtor's Estate and from the Claimant Trust Assets—to the detriment of other innocent stakeholders, including HMIT, as former equity and a contingent Claimant Trust Beneficiary.

52. To remedy these breaches, Seery is liable for disgorgement of all compensation he received since his collusion with Farallon and Stonehill first began. Alternatively, Seery should be disgorged of all compensation paid to him under the terms of the CTA since the Effective Date of the Plan in August 2021.

53. Alternatively, Plaintiffs are entitled to recover damages measured by all ill-gotten compensation which Seery has received since his first collusive conduct began.

B. Count II (against Stonehill, Farallon, Jessup and Muck): Breaches of Fiduciary Duty and Knowing Participation in Breach of Fiduciary Duty

54. The allegations in paragraphs 1-53 above are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

55. Seery owed fiduciary duties to HMIT and the Debtor's Estate, and he willfully and knowingly breached these duties. Without limiting the foregoing, Seery owed a duty of loyalty which he willfully and knowingly breached. Seery also owed a duty to not engage in self-interested conduct to the detriment of the Debtor's Estate and innocent stakeholders. Seery also willfully and knowingly breached this duty.

56. Stonehill and Farallon were aware of Seery's fiduciary duties and, by purchasing the Claims and approving bonuses and other compensation for Seery, Stonehill (acting through Jessup) and Farallon (acting through Muck), willfully and knowingly participated in Seery's breaches or, alternatively, willfully aided and abetted such breaches.

57. Stonehill (Jessup) and Farallon (Muck) unfairly received many millions of dollars in profits and fees—and stand to earn even more profits and fees—to the detriment of innocent stakeholders, including HMIT.

58. Stonehill and Farallon are liable for disgorgement of all profits earned from their purchase of the Claims. In addition, they are liable in damages for excessive compensation paid to Seery as part of the covert quid pro quo with Seery.

C. Count III (against all Defendants): Fraud by Misrepresentation and Material Nondisclosure

59. The allegations in paragraphs 1-58 above are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

60. Based on Seery's duties as CEO and CRO of a debtor-in-possession, and the other Defendants' duties as non-statutory insiders, Seery, Stonehill (Jessup), and Farallon (Muck) had a duty to disclose Stonehill and Farallon's plans to purchase the Claims, but they deliberately failed to do so. Seery also had a duty to disclose correct financial projections but, rather, misrepresented such values or failed to correct false and misleading projections. These factual misrepresentations and omissions were material.

61. The withheld financial information was material because it has had an adverse impact on control over the eventual distributions to creditors and former equity, as well as the right to control Seery's compensation. By withholding such information, Seery was able to plant friendly business allies on the Oversight Board to the detriment of innocent stakeholders.

62. Defendants knew that HMIT and other creditors were ignorant of their plans, and HMIT and other stakeholders did not have an equal opportunity to discover their scheme. HMIT and the other innocent stakeholders justifiably relied on misleading information relating to the value of the Original Debtor's Estate.

63. By failing to disclose material information, and by making or aiding and abetting material misrepresentations, Seery, Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and Jessup intended to induce HMIT to take no affirmative action.

64. HMIT justifiably relied on Seery, Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and Jessup's nondisclosures and representations, and HMIT was injured as a result and the Debtor's Estate was also injured.

65. As a result of their frauds, all Defendants should be disgorged of all profits and ill-gotten compensation derived from their fraudulent scheme. Seery is also liable for damages measured by excessive compensation he has received since he first engaged in willful misconduct.

D. Count IV (against all Defendants): Conspiracy

66. The allegations in paragraphs 1-65 above are incorporated herein as if incorporated herein verbatim.

67. Defendants conspired with each other to unlawfully breach fiduciary duties to HMIT and the Debtor's Estate, to conceal their fraudulent trades, and to interfere with HMIT's entitlement to the residual of the Claimant Trust Asset.

68. Seery's disclosure of material non-public information to Stonehill and Farallon, and Muck and Jessup's purchase of the Claims, are each overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy.

69. HMIT's interest in the residual of the Claimant Trust Assets has been adversely impacted by this conspiracy. The assets have been depleted by virtue of Seery's compensation awards.

E. Count V (against Muck and Jessup): Equitable Disallowance

70. The allegations in paragraphs 1-69 above are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

71. By purchasing the Claims based on material non-public information, Stonehill and Farallon, through Jessup and Muck, engaged in inequitable conduct.

72. By earning significant profits on their purchases, Muck and Jessup have been unfairly advantaged to the detriment of the remaining stakeholders, including HMIT.

73. Given this inequitable conduct, equitable disallowance of Muck's and Jessup's Claims to the extent over and above their initial investment is appropriate and consistent with the purposes of the Bankruptcy Code.

74. Pleading in the alternative only, subordination of Muck's and Jessup's General Unsecured Claim Trust Interests and Subordinated Claim Trust Interests to all other interests in the Claimant Trust, including HMIT's Contingent Trust Interest, is necessary and appropriate to remedy Muck's and Jessup's wrongful conduct, and is also consistent with the purposes of the Bankruptcy Code.

F. Count VI (against all Defendants): Unjust Enrichment and Constructive Trust

75. The allegations in paragraphs 1-74 above are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

76. By acquiring the Claims using material non-public information, Stonehill and Farallon breached a relationship of trust with the Original Debtor's Estate and other innocent stakeholders and were unjustly enriched and gained an undue advantage over other creditors and former equity.

77. Allowing Stonehill, Farallon, Muck and Jessup to retain their ill-gotten benefits at the expense of other innocent stakeholders and HMIT, as former equity, would be unconscionable.

78. Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and Jessup should be forced to disgorge all distributions over and above their original investment in the Claims as restitution for their unjust enrichment.

79. The proceeds Stonehill, Farallon, Muck, and Jessup have received from the Claimant Trust are traceable and identifiable. A constructive trust should be imposed on such proceeds to secure the restitution of these improperly retained benefits.

F. Count VI (Against all Defendants): Declaratory Relief

80. The allegations in paragraphs 1-79 are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

81. HMIT seeks declaratory relief. The Court has jurisdiction to provide declaratory judgment relief when there is an actual controversy that has arisen and exists relating to the rights and duties of the parties.

82. Bankruptcy Rule 7001 provides that “a proceeding to recover property or money,” may include declaratory relief. See, Fed. R. Bank P. 7001(1), (9).

83. The Claimant Trust Agreement is governed under Delaware law. The Claimant Trust Agreement incorporates and is subject to Delaware trust law. HMIT seeks a declaration, as follows:

- a. There is a ripe controversy concerning HMIT’s rights and entitlements under the Claimant Trust Agreement;
- b. As a general matter, HMIT has standing to bring an action against a trustee even if its interest is considered contingent;
- c. HMIT’s status as a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is fully vested upon disgorgement of the ill-gotten profits of Muck and Jessup, and by extension, Farallon and Stonehill;
- d. HMIT’s status as a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is fully vested upon the equitable disallowance of the Claims held by Muck and Jessup over and above their initial investments. Alternatively, HMIT’s status as a Claimant Trust Beneficiary is fully vested when all of Muck’s and Jessup’s trust interests are subordinated to the trust interests held by HMIT;
- e. Seery is properly estopped from asserting that HMIT is not an appropriate party to bring this derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and/or the Claimant Trust because of Seery’s fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct and unclean hands;

- f. Muck and Jessup are properly estopped from asserting that HMIT is not an appropriate party to bring this derivative action on behalf of the Reorganized Debtor and the Claimant Trust because of their fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct and unclean hands;
- g. All Defendants are estopped from asserting that HMIT does not have standing in its individual capacity due to their fraudulent conduct, bad faith, willful misconduct and unclean hands.

VI. Punitive Damages

84. The allegations in paragraphs 1-74 are incorporated herein as if set forth verbatim.

85. The Defendants' misconduct was intentional, knowing, willful and fraudulent and in total disregard of the rights of others. An award of punitive damages is appropriate and necessary under the facts of this case.

86. All conditions precedent to recovery herein have been satisfied.

VII. Prayer

WHEREFORE, HMIT prays for judgment as follows:

1. Equitable disallowance of the Claims over and above Muck's and Jessup's original investments (or, alternatively, subordination of their Claimant Trust Interests, as addressed herein);
2. Disgorgement of all funds distributed from the Claimant Trust to Muck and/or Jessup over and above their original investments;
3. Disgorgement of compensation paid to Seery in managing or administering the Original and Reorganized Debtor's Estate;
4. Imposition of a constructive trust;

5. Declaratory relief as described herein;
6. An award of actual damages as described herein;
7. An award of exemplary damages as allowed by law;
8. Pre- and post-judgment interest; and,
9. All such other and further relief to which HMIT may be justly entitled.

Respectfully Submitted,

IN RE JAMES DONDERO,

§ IN THE DISTRICT COURT
§ 95th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

DECLARATION OF JAMES DONDERO

COUNTY OF DALLAS §
STATE OF TEXAS §

Mr. James Dondero provides this unsworn declaration under TEXAS CIVIL PRACTICE & REMEDIES CODE § 132.001.

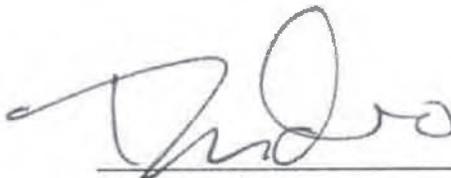

1. My name is James Dondero. I declare under penalty of perjury that I am over the age of 18 and of sound mind and competent to make this declaration.

2. Earlier this year I retained investigators to look into certain activities involving the respondents in the above-styled case and the related bankruptcy proceedings. Last year, I called Farallon's Michael Lin about purchasing their claims in the bankruptcy. I offered them 30% more than what they paid. I was told by Michael Lin of Farallon that they purchased the interests without doing any due diligence other than what Mr. James Seery—the CEO of Highland—told them, and that he told them that the interests would be worth far more than what Farallon paid. Given the value of those claims that Mr. Seery had testified in court, it made no sense to me that Mr. Lin would think that the claims were worth more than what Mr. Seery testified under oath was the value of the bankruptcy claims.

3. In addition to my role as equity holder in the Crusader Funds, I have an interest in ensuring that the claims purchased by Respondents are not used as a means to deprive the equity holders of their share of the funds. It has become obvious that despite the fact that the bankrupt estate has enough money to pay all claimants 100 cents on the dollar, there is plainly a movement afoot to drain the bankrupt estate and deprive equity of their rights.

4. Accordingly, I commissioned an investigation by counsel who have been in communication with the Office of the United States Trustee. True and correct copies of the reports, which were created in the ordinary course, and their attachments, are attached hereto as Exhibits A and B. A true and correct copy of the letter I received from Alvarez and Marsal is attached as Exhibit C hereto.

My name is James Dondero, my birthday is on June 29, 1962. My address is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing testimony is true and correct and is within my personal knowledge.

Re: *Highland Capital Management, L.P. – USBC Case No. 19-34054sgj11

Dear Nan,

The purpose of this letter is to request that your office investigate the circumstances surrounding the sale of claims by members of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (“Creditors’ Committee”) in the bankruptcy of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland” or “Debtor”). As described in detail below, there is sufficient evidence to warrant an immediate investigation into whether non-public inside information was furnished to claims purchasers. Further, there is reason to suspect that selling Creditors’ Committee members may have violated their fiduciary duties to the estate by tying themselves to claims sales at a time when they should have been considering meaningful offers to resolve the bankruptcy. Indeed, three of four Committee members sold their claims without advance disclosure, in violation of applicable guidelines from the U.S. Trustee’s Office. This letter contains a description of information and evidence we have been able to gather, and which we hope your office will take seriously.

By way of background, Highland, an SEC-registered investment adviser, filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware on October 16, 2019, listing over $550 million in assets and net $110 million in liabilities. The case eventually was transferred to the Northern District of Texas, to Judge Stacey G.C. Jernigan. Highland’s decision to seek bankruptcy protection primarily was driven by an expected net $110 million arbitration award in favor of the “Redeemer Committee.”<sup>1</sup> After nearly 30 years of successful operations, Highland and its co-founder, James Dondero, were advised by Debtor’s counsel that a court-approved restructuring of the award in Delaware was in Highland’s best interest.

I became involved in Highland’s bankruptcy through my representation of The Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Dugaboy”), an irrevocable trust of which Mr. Dondero is the primary beneficiary. Although there were many issues raised by Dugaboy and others in the case where we disagreed with the Court’s rulings, we will address those issues through the appeals process.

From the outset of the case, the Creditors’ Committee and the U.S. Trustee’s Office in Dallas pushed to replace the existing management of the Debtor. To avoid a protracted dispute and to facilitate the restructuring, on January 9, 2020, Mr. Dondero reached an agreement with the Creditors’ Committee to resign as the sole director of the Debtor’s general partner, on the condition that he would be replaced by three independent directors who would act as fiduciaries of the estate and work to restructure Highland’s business so it could continue operating and emerge from bankruptcy as a going concern. The agreement approved by the Bankruptcy Court allowed Mr. Dondero, UBS (which held one of the largest claims against the estate), and the Redeemer Committee each to choose one director and also established protocols for operations going forward. Mr. Dondero chose The Honorable Former Judge Russell F. Nelms, UBS chose John Dubel, and the Redeemer Committee chose James Seery.<sup>2</sup> It was expected that the new, independent management would not only preserve Highland’s business but would also preserve jobs and enable continued collaboration with charitable causes supported by Highland and Mr. Dondero.

Judge Jernigan confirmed Highland’s Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization on February 22, 2021 (the “Plan”). We have appealed certain aspects of the Plan and will rely upon the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals to determine whether our arguments have merit. I write instead to call to your attention the possible disclosure of non-public information by Committee members and other insiders and to seek review of actions by Committee members that may have breached their fiduciary duties—both serious abuses of process.

1. The Bankruptcy Proceedings Lacked The Required Transparency, Due In Part To the Debtor’s Failure To File Rule 2015.3 Reports

Congress, when it drafted the Bankruptcy Code and created the Office of the United States Trustee, intended to ensure that an impartial party oversaw the enforcement of all rules and guidelines in bankruptcy. Since that time, the Executive Office for United States Trustees (the “EOUST”) has issued guidance and published rules designed to effectuate that purpose. To that end, EOUST recently published a final rule entitled “Procedures for Completing Uniform Periodic Reports in Non-Small Business Cases Filed Under Chapter 11 of Title 11” (the “Periodic Reporting Requirements”). The Periodic Reporting Requirements reaffirmed the EOUST’s commitment to maintaining “uniformity and transparency regarding a debtor’s financial condition and business activities” and “to inform creditors and other interested parties of the debtor’s financial affairs.” 85 Fed. Reg. 82906. The goal of the Periodic Reporting Requirements is to “assist the court and parties in interest in ascertaining, [among other things], the following: (1) Whether there is a substantial or continuing loss to or diminution of the bankruptcy estate; . . . (3) whether there exists gross mismanagement of the bankruptcy estate; . . . [and] (6) whether the debtor is engaging in the unauthorized disposition of assets through sales or otherwise . . . .” Id.

Transparency has long been an important feature of federal bankruptcy proceedings. The EOUST instructs that “Debtors-in-possession and trustees must account for the receipt, administration, and disposition of all property; provide information concerning the estate and the estate’s administration as parties in interest request; and file periodic reports and summaries of a debtor’s business, including a statement of receipts and disbursements, and such other information as the United States Trustee or the United States Bankruptcy Court requires.” See <http://justice.gov/ust/chapter-11-information> (citing 11 U.S.C. § 1106(a)(1), 1107(a)). And Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2015.3(a) states that “the trustee or debtor in possession shall file periodic financial reports of the value, operations, and profitability of each entity that is not a publicly traded corporation or a debtor in a case under title 11, and in which the estate holds a substantial or controlling interest.” This rule requires the trustee or a debtor in possession to file a report for each non-debtor affiliate prior to the first meeting of creditors and every six months thereafter until the effective date of a plan of reorganization. Fed R. Bankr. P. 2015.3(b). Importantly, the rule does not absolve a debtor from filing reports due prior to the effective date merely because a plan has become effective.<sup>3</sup> Notably, the U.S. Trustee has the duty to ensure that debtors in possession properly and timely file all required reports. 28 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(4)(F), (H).

The entire purpose of these guidelines and rules is to ensure that external stakeholders can fairly evaluate the progress of bankruptcy proceedings, including compliance with legal requirements. In fact, 11 U.S.C. § 1102(b)(3) requires a creditors’ committee to share information it receives with those who “hold claims of the kind represented by the committee” but who are not appointed to the committee. In the case of the Highland bankruptcy, the transparency that the EOUST mandates and that creditors’ committees are supposed to facilitate has been conspicuously absent. I have been involved in a number of bankruptcy cases representing publicly-traded debtors with affiliated non-debtor entities, much akin to Highland’s structure here. In those cases, when asked by third parties (shareholders or potential claims purchasers) for information, I directed them to the schedules, monthly reports, and Rule 2015.3 reports. In this case, however, no Rule 2015.3 reports were filed, and financial information that might otherwise be gleaned from the Bankruptcy Court record is unavailable because a large number of documents were filed under seal or heavily redacted. As a result, the only means to make an informed decision as to whether to purchase creditor claims and what to pay for those claims had to be obtained from non-public sources.

It bears repeating that the Debtor and its related and affiliated entities failed to file any of the reports required under Bankruptcy Rule 2015.3. There should have been at least four such reports filed on behalf of the Debtor and its affiliates during the bankruptcy proceedings. The U.S. Trustee’s Office in Dallas did nothing to compel compliance with the rule.

The Debtor’s failure to file the required Rule 2015.3 reports was brought to the attention of the Debtor, the Bankruptcy Court, and the U.S. Trustee’s Office. During the hearing on Plan confirmation, the Debtor was questioned about the failure to file the reports. The sole excuse offered by the Debtor’s Chief Restructuring Officer and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Seery, was that the task “fell through the cracks.”<sup>4</sup> This excuse makes no sense in light of the years of bankruptcy experience of the Debtor’s counsel and financial advisors. Nor did the Debtor or its counsel ever attempt to show “cause” to gain exemption from the reporting requirement. That is because there was no good reason for the Debtor’s failure to file the required reports. In fact, although the Debtor and the Creditors’ Committee often refer to the Debtor’s structure as a “byzantine empire,” the assets of the estate fall into a handful of discrete investments, most of which have audited financials and/or are required to make monthly or quarterly net-asset-value or fair-value determinations.<sup>5</sup> Rather than disclose financial information that was readily <sup>3</sup> After notice and a hearing, the bankruptcy court may grant relief from the Rule 2015.3 disclosure requirement “for cause,” including that “the trustee or debtor in possession is not able, after a good faith effort, to comply with th[e] reporting requirements, or that the information required by subdivision (a) is publicly available.” Fed. R. Bankr. 2015.3(d).

available, the Debtor appears to have taken deliberate and strategic steps to avoid transparency, and the U.S. Trustee's Office did nothing to rectify the problem.

By contrast, the Debtor provided the Creditors' Committee with robust weekly information regarding (i) transactions involving assets held directly on the Debtor's balance sheet or the balance sheet of the Debtor's wholly owned subsidiaries, (ii) transactions involving entities managed by the Debtor and in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest, (iii) transactions involving entities managed by the Debtor but in which the Debtor does not hold a direct or indirect interest, (iv) transactions involving entities not managed by the Debtor but in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest, (v) transactions involving entities not managed by the Debtor and in which the Debtor does not hold a direct or indirect interest, (vi) transactions involving non-discretionary accounts, and (vii) weekly budget-to-actuals reports referencing non-Debtor affiliates' 13-week cash flow budget. In other words, the Committee had real-time, actual information with respect to the financial affairs of non-debtor affiliates, and this is precisely the type of information that should have been disclosed to the public pursuant to Rule 2015.3.

After the claims at issue were sold, I filed a Motion to Compel compliance with the reporting requirement. Judge Jernigan held a hearing on the motion on June 10, 2021. Astoundingly, the U.S. Trustee's Office took no position on the Motion and did not even bother to attend the hearing. Ultimately, on September 7, 2021, the Court denied the Motion as "moot" because the Plan had by then gone effective. I have appealed that ruling because, again, the Plan becoming effective does not alleviate the Debtor's burden of filing the requisite reports.

The U.S. Trustee's Office also failed to object to the Court's order confirming the Debtor's Plan, in which the Court appears to have released the Debtor from its obligation to file any reports after the effective date of the Plan that were due for any period prior to the effective date, an order that likewise defeats any effort to demand transparency from the Debtor. The U.S. Trustee's failure to object to this portion of the Court's order is directly at odds with the spirit and mandate of the Periodic Reporting Requirements, which recognize the U.S. Trustee's duty to ensure that debtors timely file all required reports.

2. There Was No Transparency Regarding The Financial Affairs Of Non-Debtor Affiliates Or Transactions Between The Debtor And Its Affiliates

The Debtor's failure to file Rule 2015.3 reports for affiliate entities created additional transparency problems for interested parties and creditors wishing to evaluate assets held in non-Debtor subsidiaries. In making an investment decision, it would be important to know if the assets of a subsidiary consisted of cash, marketable securities, other liquid assets, or operating businesses/other illiquid assets. The Debtor's failure to file Rule 2015.3 reports hid from public view the composition of the assets and the corresponding liabilities at the subsidiary level. During the course of proceedings, the Debtor sold $172 million in assets, which altered the asset mix and liabilities of the Debtor's affiliates and controlled entities. Although Judge Jernigan held that such sales did not require Court approval, a Rule 2015.3 report would have revealed the mix of assets and the corresponding reduction in liabilities of the affiliated or controlled entity. In the Appendix, I have included a schedule of such sales.

Of particular note, the Court authorized the Debtor to place assets that it acquired with "allowed claim dollars" from HarbourVest (a creditor with a contested claim against the estate) into a specially-created non-debtor entity ("SPE").<sup>6</sup> The Debtor's motion to settle the below the Debtor. See Appendix, p. A-19 (Jan. 29, 2021 Dep. Tr. at 22:4-10; 23:1-29:10).

HarbourVest claim valued the asset acquired (HarbourVest's interest in HCLOF) at $22 million. In reality, that asset had a value of $40 million, and had the asset been placed in the Debtor entity, its true value would have been reflected in the Debtor's subsequent reporting. By instead placing the asset into an SPE, the Debtor hid from public view the true value of the asset as well as information relating to its disposition; all the public saw was the filed valuation of the asset. The U.S. Trustee did not object to the Debtor's placement of the HarbourVest assets into an SPE and apparently just deferred to the judgment of the Creditors' Committee about whether this was appropriate.<sup>7</sup> Again, when the U.S. Trustee's Office does not require transparency, lack of transparency significantly increases the need for non-public information. Because the HarbourVest assets were placed in a non-reporting entity, no potential claims buyer without insider information could possibly ascertain how the acquisition would impact the estate.
