4. HMIT Class 10 Interest.

(a) Subject to entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order, and the terms of this Agreement, the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be deemed allowed in the amount of Three Hundred Thirty-Six Million Nine Hundred Forty Thousand Two Hundred Thirty and 58/100 Dollars (US$336,940,230.58), which amount represents the HMIT Capital Account Balance, less the HMIT Note Balance.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan or the Claimant Trust Agreement, as an integral part of this Agreement to consent to the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest and the other considerations in this Agreement, HMIT shall not be deemed, and no holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be, a Claimant Trust Beneficiary or a "Beneficiary" under the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to any HMIT Releasor (whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise), including with respect to the HMIT Class 10 Interest, in each case, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Furthermore, without limiting the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the contractual right of the holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest to receive or recover any payments or Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust as set forth in this Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement does not make any HMIT Releasor or any other Person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or under the Indemnity Trust Agreement.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement, in no event shall HMIT sell, transfer, assign, pledge, hypothecate, participate or otherwise dispose of or encumber the HMIT Class 10 Interest or any rights (including any right to payment) with respect thereto (collectively, a "Class 10 Assignment"), and any attempted Class 10 Assignment shall be null and void.

(d) For the avoidance of doubt, the HMIT Class 10 Interest is and shall remain senior to the not yet allowed, unvested contingent Class 11 Claims of Equity Interests as provided for in the Plan, the Plan Documents, and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Initial Interim Distributions on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (the date on which such distribution is made, the "Initial Interim Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Ten Million Dollars (US$10,000,000.00) (the "Initial Interim Cash Distribution Amount"), by means of wire transfer with the Pro Rata portion in respect of the HMIT Class 10 Interest sent to the wire instructions contained in Section 3 ("Wire Transfer").

(b) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date (the "Note Assignment Date"), the Highland Entities shall cause the portion of the Dugaboy Note held by the Highland Entities to be distributed to HMIT in-kind and take all actions necessary for HMIT to become the holder of such portion of the Dugaboy Note, and shall in addition pay to HMIT cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments actually received on the Dugaboy Note by the Highland Entities, including the Indemnity Trust, from the Agreement Date to the Note Assignment Date. Prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, HMIT will engage an independent valuation service provider to value the Dugaboy Note for purposes of determining the magnitude of reduction to the outstanding allowed Class 10 Interests on account of such in-kind distribution, which shall not be less than Fifty percent (50%) of the current balance owed under the Dugaboy Note. The HMIT Entities acknowledge and agree that none of the Highland Entities are representing or warranting that the Dugaboy Note can be sold, or the price, if any, that could be received for the Dugaboy Note and further acknowledge and agree that any such purchase price may be de minimis.

6. Subsequent Distribution(s) on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On December 1, 2027, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "First Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "First Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00), by Wire Transfer.

(b) On December 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "Second Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "Second Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00) by Wire Transfer.

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Indemnity Trust to make the First Subsequent Distribution or Second Subsequent Distribution is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII, Section 8.1(c) of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that the Indemnity Trust Assets comprising such distributions are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement).

7. Final Distribution on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2029, the Indemnity Trust will distribute all excess remaining Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement; provided, however, that the obligation of the Indemnity Trust to make any such distributions and/or dissolve and wind up the affairs of the Indemnity Trust is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that (1) a Final Order(s) (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) has been entered resolving all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to Indemnity Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) and payment in full of all such Indemnity Obligations and (2) all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of such statutes of limitation have expired.

(b) The Indemnity Trust agrees to not use Indemnity Trust Assets to fund Operating Expenses.

(c) Following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, at the request of Mark Patrick, solely in his capacity, and to the extent he remains, as administrator of HMIT, but not more often than quarterly, Highland and the Indemnity Trust Administrator agree to review (i) the status of their respective assets, (ii) the balance of cash held, (iii) the status of any claims made for indemnification and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (v) forecasted operating expenses with Mr. Patrick, and will each work in good faith to reduce operating expenses where reasonably practicable; provided, however, that all such reporting shall be subject to Mr. Patrick's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

8. Transfer Kirschner Claims; Dismissal of HMIT Note Claims.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

(b) THE HMIT ENTITIES SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST IS TRANSFERRING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS ON AN "AS IS AND WITH ALL FAULTS" BASIS AND THAT THE HMIT ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (i) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (ii) any HMIT Entity materially breaches this Agreement, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10534 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT

Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no effect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto, any Highland Released Party, or any HMIT Released Party brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Person in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Person all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Person may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

27. Notices. All notices required or permitted to be provided hereunder shall be afforded to the respective parties to and through their counsel, and shall be transmitted simultaneously by electronic mail (with PDF attachments, as necessary) and by telefax, addressed as follows:

Thank you John,

I hope to get back at things close to full time by tomorrow. To be sure, my clients are pushing me.

Recitals

WHEREAS, Mr. Patrick hereby represents and warrants that he is a control person for each of Hunter Mountain, the DAF Entities and the Rand Entities;

WHEREAS, there are several active litigations to which Highland or one of its affiliates, on the one hand, and one or more of the Recipients, on the other hand, are parties, including, without limitation, the matters set forth on Exhibit A hereto (collectively, the "Pending Litigations");

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to enter into good faith settlement discussions in an effort to reach a mutually acceptable global resolution to the Pending Litigations and all potential claims and causes of action against each other (the "Potential Settlement");

WHEREAS, in connection with negotiating the Potential Settlement, it is anticipated that Highland will provide the Recipients with certain Confidential Information (as hereinafter defined); and

WHEREAS, as a condition to Highland providing Recipients with any such Confidential Information, the Recipients agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

Agreement

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged and agreed, the Parties, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree as follows:

1. Representations and Warranties

(a) Each Party hereby represents and warrants to the other Parties as follows:

(i) Existence and Good Standing. Such Party is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and, to the extent applicable in such jurisdiction, in good standing under the Laws (as hereinafter defined) of the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated or formed. Such Party has all requisite corporate or similar right, power, authority and capacity to own, lease and operate the properties and assets it owns, leases and operates. Each Party is qualified to do business as a foreign entity in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of property or the conduct of its business as now conducted requires it to qualify.

(ii) Authority; Enforceability. Such Party has the full power and authority to execute this Agreement and to perform its obligations under this Agreement. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement have been duly and validly authorized by all required action on behalf of such Party in accordance with its respective Organizational Documents (as hereinafter defined) and applicable Law. This Agreement constitute the valid and binding obligations of, and enforceable against, such Party.

(iii) No Violations. The execution and delivery by such Party of this Agreement, the performance and compliance with the terms and conditions hereof and thereof by such Party, and the performance by such Parent of its obligations contemplated hereby, in each case, will not (with or without notice or passage of time, or both):

(1) violate, conflict with, result in a breach of or constitute a default under any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of such Party; or

(2) breach, violate or conflict with any provision of any Law or Permit applicable to such Party.

(iv) Legal Proceedings. There are no judicial, administrative or arbitral actions, suits, hearings, inquiries, charges, investigations, administrative proceedings, grievances or formal complaints or other proceedings (public or private) commenced, brought, conducted or heard before, or otherwise involving, any Governmental Entity or arbitrator, in each case, pending nor threatened that (i) challenge the validity or enforceability of Party's obligations under this Agreement or (b) seek to prevent or delay, or otherwise would reasonably be expected to adversely affect, the performance by such Party of its obligations hereunder.

(b) Each Recipient hereby represents and warrants to Highland as follows:

(i) None of James Dondero, nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by Mr. Dondero (including, without limitation, Dugaboy Investment Trust) nor or any attorney, agent, employee, or representative engaged or working for benefit of Mr. Dondero nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by him (collectively, the "Dondero Related Parties") directly or indirectly owns any interest in, or directly or indirectly has any control over, such Recipient, including, without limitation, as the result of any written or oral contract, agreement, arrangement or obligation.

(ii) Such Recipient does not represent and is not acting on behalf of any Dondero Related Party.

(iii) Such Recipient has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and is not representing or acting on behalf of any Person with such a duty or obligation.

2. Confidential and Proprietary Nature of the Information

Recipients acknowledge the confidential and proprietary nature of the Confidential Information, agree to hold and keep the Confidential Information in strict confidence as provided in this Agreement, agree that the use of any such Confidential Information is expressly limited to the pursuit of a Potential Settlement and shall not be used for any other purpose or in any other manner except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and otherwise agree to each and every restriction and obligation in this Agreement.

3. Confidential Information

As used in this Agreement, the term "Confidential Information" means and includes (a) any and all of the following items that will be disclosed to any Recipient or any of their respective Representatives (as hereinafter defined) by or on behalf of Highland, whether orally or in writing and without regard to whether Highland has specifically designated such item as confidential, proprietary or non-public: any and all confidential, proprietary or non-public information concerning the business or affairs of Highland or any of its affiliates or related accounts, or other Persons (as hereinafter defined) (which includes, for the avoidance of doubt and without limitation, Highland Claimant Trust, Highland Litigation Sub-Trust, Highland Indemnity Trust, each of their and Highland's direct and indirect subsidiaries, and each of their respective affiliates, and its and their respective parent entities, beneficiaries, members, shareholders, owners, creditors, trustees, oversight boards, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, advisors and representatives (collectively, the "Highland Related Parties")), including, without limitation, any written or oral information, reports and data concerning financial statements, assets, liabilities, indemnity and other obligations, cash flow, income, and expenses; past, current or planned investment or portfolio information; contracts and agreements; know-how, inventions and ideas, whether past, current or planned; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor lists; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor information; business plans; entity structure details; all compliance-related reports, records and information; and any other information, however documented, that is proprietary or non-public or is a trade secret within the meaning of applicable state trade secret Law, and (b) any and all statements or representations made in the course of discussing, negotiating or evaluating a Potential Settlement, including, without limitation, the terms of any Potential Settlement and the fact that (i) Confidential Information has been disclosed to Recipient and (ii) any discussions or negotiations are taking place concerning a Potential Settlement.

To the extent that any Confidential Information includes information or materials subject to the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege concerning pending or threatened legal proceedings or governmental investigations, the Parties understand and agree that they have a commonality of interest with respect to such matters, and it is their desire, intention, and mutual understanding that the sharing of such information or materials is not intended to, and shall not, waive or diminish in any way the confidentiality of such information or material or its continued protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege. Accordingly, all Confidential Information disclosed by or on behalf of Highland that is entitled to protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege shall remain entitled to such protection under these privileges and this Agreement.

4. Restricted Use of Confidential Information

Recipients agree that the Confidential Information (a) shall be kept strictly confidential by each Recipient and (b) without limiting the foregoing, shall not be disclosed by or on behalf of any Recipient to any Person (as hereinafter defined) except as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. It is understood and the Recipients agree that Confidential Information may only be disclosed to Mr. Patrick and such specific legal counsel, accountants and financial advisors of the Recipients to whom such disclosure has been consented to in writing by Highland in its sole discretion (which consent may be given via email) (collectively "Representatives") and who (i) require such Confidential Information for the purpose of evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement (ii) are informed by Recipient of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and the obligations set forth in this Agreement, and (iii) execute a written joinder in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit B pursuant to which the Representative agrees to be bound to this Agreement as if they were an original Party hereto, with such joinder including, without limitation, a representation and warranty that such Representative (1) does not currently represent any Dondero Related Party and (2) has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and does not represent any Person with such a duty or obligation. Recipients further agree that Recipients and their Representatives shall not use any of the Confidential Information to the detriment of Highland or any Highland Related Party or for any reason or purpose other than evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement. Recipients shall enforce this Agreement as to its Representatives and take such action, legal or otherwise, to the extent necessary to cause them to comply with this Agreement and thereby prevent any disclosure of Confidential Information by any of its Representatives (including, without limitation, all actions that any Recipient would take to protect its own confidential information).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the Recipients and their Representatives shall not disclose or refer to any Confidential Information to (a) subject to Section 5 below, any Governmental Entity (as hereinafter defined), including, without limitation, in any pleadings or submissions, or (b) any Dondero Related Party. The Parties acknowledge that it is their collective intent that no Confidential Information disclosed hereunder may be examined in any proceeding of a Governmental Entity (or any discovery relating to any such proceeding), and all Confidential Information shall be entitled to all protections applicable under Federal Rule of Evidence 408 and any other protections afforded to settlement and compromise communications under any other applicable Law.

5. Legally Compelled Disclosure

If any Recipient or any of its Representatives becomes compelled by Law (whether by oral questions, interrogatories, requests for information or documents, subpoena, civil or criminal investigative demand, or similar process) to make any disclosure that is prohibited or otherwise constrained by this Agreement, such Recipient or its Representative, as the case may be, shall provide Highland with immediate notice of such legal proceedings, including all related documentation, so Highland may (a) seek an appropriate protective order or other appropriate relief, or (b) waive compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. In the absence of a protective order or Recipients receiving a written waiver from Highland, Recipients or their Representatives are permitted (with Highland's cooperation but at Recipient's expense) to disclose that portion (and only that portion) of the Confidential Information that Recipient or its Representative is legally compelled by an order of an applicable Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to disclose; provided, however, that Recipient and its Representatives must use best efforts to obtain reliable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded by any Person to whom any Confidential Information is so disclosed.

6. Return or Destruction of Confidential Information

If Highland notifies Recipients that it wishes Recipients to return all Confidential Information, then Recipients (i) shall promptly deliver to Highland all documents or other materials disclosed by or on behalf of Highland to Recipient or its Representatives constituting Confidential Information, together with all copies and summaries thereof in the possession or under the control of Recipients or their Representatives, and (ii) will destroy materials generated by Recipients or their Representatives that include or refer to any part of the Confidential Information, without retaining any copies, including, without limitation, any electronically stored copies or attachments to emails, of any such documents or materials. Written notice of return or destruction shall constitute a valid termination of access to Confidential Information and shall be deemed to have been given at the time Highland sends such notice. Such notice may be sent in any manner reasonably calculated to notify Recipients of the termination.

7. No Obligation to Negotiate a Potential Settlement

None of the Parties shall have rights or obligations of any kind whatsoever with respect to any Potential Settlement by virtue of this Agreement other than for the matters specifically agreed to herein. Without limiting the preceding sentence, nothing in this Agreement requires any Party to enter into any Potential Settlement or to negotiate the same for any specified period of time or on any specific terms.

8. No Representations or Warranties

Highland shall have no obligation to provide any information—confidential or otherwise—to the Recipients and retains the right to determine, in its sole discretion, what information, if any, it wishes to make available to Recipients, and neither Highland nor any Highland Related Party makes any representation or warranty (express or implied) concerning the completeness or accuracy of the Confidential Information.

9. Miscellaneous

(a) Modification. This Agreement may only be modified or waived by a separate writing signed by the Party or Parties expressly modifying or waiving this Agreement.

(b) Waiver. Neither the failure nor any delay by any Party in exercising any right, power, or privilege under this Agreement will operate as a waiver of such right, power, or privilege, and no single or partial exercise of any such right, power, or privilege will preclude any other or further exercise of such right, power, or privilege or the exercise of any other right, power, or privilege.

(c) Certain Definitions.

(i) The term "Governmental Entity" means any federal, national, state, foreign, provincial, local or other government or any governmental, regulatory, administrative or self-regulatory authority, agency, bureau, board, commission, court, judicial or arbitral body, department, political subdivision, tribunal or other instrumentality thereof, including any fiscal intermediary or administrative contractor acting on behalf of any of the foregoing.

(ii) The term "Law" means any law, rule, regulation, statute, code, ordinance, decree or other restriction of any Governmental Entity or any order, injunction, judgment, decree, ruling, writ, assessment or award of a Governmental Entity.

(iii) The term "Organizational Documents" means certificates of incorporation, bylaws, certificates of formation, certificates of trust, limited liability company agreements, limited liability partnership agreements, partnership or limited partnership agreements, trust agreements or other similar formation or governing documents of any Person, in each case, as amended, restated or otherwise modified to date.

(iv) The term "Person" means any individual, corporation (including any non-profit corporation), general or limited partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, estate, trust, association, organization, labor union, any other business entity, or a Governmental Entity.

(d) Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provisions of this Agreement, which shall remain in full force and effect. If any of the terms, covenants or provisions of this Agreement are determined to be unenforceable by reason of its extent, duration, scope or otherwise, then the Parties contemplate and intend that the authority making such determination shall reduce such extent, duration, scope or other provision and enforce them in their reduced form for all purposes contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) Breach. Recipients agree that Highland will be irreparably injured by a breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or its Representatives, that monetary remedies will be inadequate to protect Highland against any actual or threatened breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or by its Representatives, and that Highland shall be entitled to an injunction or other equitable relief as a remedy for any breach as a matter of right and without the necessity of having to post a bond. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for a breach of this Agreement, but shall be in addition to all other remedies available at law or equity. The non-prevailing Party shall pay the other Party's costs and expenses in any action to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

(f) Liability and Indemnity. Recipients shall, jointly and severally, be liable to and shall indemnify and hold Highland and the Highland Related Parties harmless from and against any and all claims, suits, losses, damages, costs or expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred or suffered by Highland or any Highland Related Party as a result of any Recipient or its Representatives violation of this Agreement, including, without limitation, using or disclosing any Confidential Information other than in accordance with this Agreement, whether such use or disclosure is performed negligently or otherwise.

(g) Notices. All notices, requests, demands, claims, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing. Any notice, request, demand, claim or other communication hereunder shall be deemed duly delivered: (a) four (4) business days after it is sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; (b) one (1) business day after it is sent for next business day delivery via a reputable nationwide overnight courier service; (c) when sent, if emailed on a business day; and (d) the next business day following the day on which the email is sent if emailed on a day that is not a business day, in each case to the intended recipient as set forth below:

(h) Governing Law; Jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be interpreted and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of laws provisions. Each Party hereby irrevocably submits and acknowledges and recognizes the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (which court, for purposes of this Agreement, is the only court of competent jurisdiction), over any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of, under or in connection with this Agreement or its subject matter. Signatures of the Parties transmitted by email shall be deemed to be their original signatures for any purpose whatsoever.

(j) Headings. The headings of the sections of this Agreement are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not control or affect the meaning or construction of any of the terms of this Agreement in any manner.

(k) Construction. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the Parties. Accordingly, in interpreting this Agreement, no weight shall be placed on which Party to this Agreement or its counsel drafted the provision being interpreted.

Jim,

Louis sent back a signed NDA.

There is at least one change (the deletion of the word "Dugaboy" from item 3 of Exhibit A, which is fine), but he didn't send a black line so I'm trying to confirm there is nothing else.

If anyone knows how to compare, please do so.

But send me the signed version in the meantime at your convenience.

Also, it might make sense to dust off the "litigation protections" and conform them to the Patrick parties. Please let me know if you and Tim want to handle that or if you want us to do so; I'm not sure when we present them to Louis, but we should be prepared.

I'll be available to talk between 11:30 and 5 pm today.

Chat soon,

John

Louis,

Under Article IX of the Plan, the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to approve, among other things, the resolution of Claims, Equity Interests, and pending litigation. Based on that, HCMLP and the Claimant Trust expect to seek Bankruptcy Court approval of any settlement we may reach.

Please let me know if you have a different view.

John

John,

I would like your view as to whether a settlement agreement, if we reach one, should be made subject to Court approval (or, maybe if it can be). I know we need to account for our agreement with HCLOM, as our agreement supersedes the effect of the agreed order, and says in part that HCLOM has no Class 10 interest. Maybe that is the basis for the Court having authority. Would like your thoughts on what you are assuming re the process and of the Court's authority post-effective date. I admit I did not consult the plan or confirmation order before sending this

INTERCREDITOR AND PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

This Intercreditor and Participation Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into as of January 10, 2025 (the "Effective Date") by and between Highland CLO Management, Ltd. (together with its successors and assigns in such capacities, "HCLOM Ltd.") and Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (together with its successors and assigns in such capacities, "HMIT"). HCLOM Ltd. and HMIT are each referred to herein individually as a "Party" and jointly as the "Parties."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, on September 22, 2020, Highland Capital Management, L.P. filed a Notice of Filing of Debtor's Amended Schedules in its pending Chapter 11 Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the "Bankruptcy Case") in which it, among other things, scheduled a creditor's claim by HCLOM Ltd. (the "HCLOM Claim"); and

WHEREAS, on December 27, 2024, the Bankruptcy Court entered a Stipulated and Agreed Order Resolving (A) HCLOM, Ltd.'s Scheduled Claims 3.65 and 3.66; and (B) Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s (1) Objection and (2) Motion for a Bad Faith Finding and an Award of Attorneys' Fees Against HCLOM, Ltd. and James Dondero in Connection Therewith [Docket Nos. 3657, 4176] in the Bankruptcy Case (the "Stipulation and Agreed Order"); and

WHEREAS, the Stipulation and Agreed Order converted the HCLOM Claim to a Class 10 interest/claim (as such is defined in Article III.H. ¶ 10 of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) in the Bankruptcy Case) (the "Plan") in the amount of $10,140,633.26; and

WHEREAS, the Parties have agreed to certain rights and priorities solely as between themselves regarding HCLOM Ltd.'s participation in the payment of Class 10 interests/claims;

THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the promises, covenants, conditions, stipulations, benefits, and obligations described and provided herein, the sufficiency and adequacy of which is expressly hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

1. HMIT Payment Obligation to HCLOM Ltd. Upon HMIT's receipt of distributions on account of its Class 10 interest/claim (the "Distributions"), HMIT will pay to HCLOM Ltd. an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the funds received by HMIT within two (2) business days after receipt of indefeasible funds by HMIT (the "HMIT Payment Obligation"). HMIT shall be entitled to deduct from the Distributions the fees and expenses billed by Kelly Hart Hallman, LLP which directly relate to the Stipulation and Agreed Order or this Agreement (the "HMIT Expenses") until all HMIT Expenses are paid in full.

2. No Additional Duties to HCLOM Ltd. HMIT shall retain and have the sole discretion to act with respect to its Class 10 interest/claim, and shall owe no additional duties to HCLOM Ltd. or any other person or entity, including without limitation, with respect to (i) the amount of Distributions or recovery by HMIT on account of its Class 10 interests/claims,

(ii) the amount of Distributions that could be received by any holder of Class 10 interests/claims, (iii) the rights of any holder of Class 10 interests/claims, or (iv) any pleading or document that could or should be filed in any way related to the Bankruptcy Case, the Plan, or the HMIT Class 10 interests/claims.

3. No Liens or Encumbrances. HMIT will not take any action that could reasonably be expected to encumber HMIT's Class 10 interests/claims, limit or affect HMIT's right or ability to fulfil and perform the HMIT Payment Obligation, or limit or affect HCLOM Ltd.'s right to receive the Distributions.

4. This Agreement Supersedes the Effects of the Stipulated and Agreed Order Among the Parties. HCLOM acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding the Stipulated and Agreed Order, the terms of this Agreement amends and supersedes the effect of the Stipulation and Agreed Order as between the Parties and HCLOM's rights to payment under the Plan are limited solely to the HMIT Payment Obligation.

5. Non-Interference; No Cause of Action. Notwithstanding Paragraph 3, HCLOM will not have any rights to object to or otherwise interfere with the rights of HMIT as a holder of Class 10 interest to reach a settlement with Highland Capital Management, LP ("Highland"). HCLOM acknowledges that it shall have no right to notice or approval of such a settlement nor will it have any cause of action against HMIT arising out of any such settlement.

6. Remittance Agreement. The Parties acknowledge that contemporaneously herewith NREA SB II Holdings, LLC (together with its successors and assigns in such capacities, "NexPoint Small Bay."), Charitable DAF Holdings Corp. HCLOM agrees that if NexPoint Small Bay fails to make the DAF Bridge Equity Payment (as defined in the Remittance Agreement) pursuant to the terms of the Remittance Agreement, HMIT will have no obligations to make the HMIT Payment Obligation, and HMIT shall not receive any distribution from HMIT or any other party related to any Class 10 interest/claim. Notwithstanding any failure of NexPoint Small Bay to adhere to the terms of the Remittance Agreement, HCLOM acknowledges that by executing this Agreement, it shall have no other recourse or rights to payment under the Plan other than the terms of this Agreement.

7. Choice of Law; Jurisdiction; Venue. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas, without regard to conflict of law provisions. Each Party to hereby consents and agrees that the courts located in Texas shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine any claims or disputes between the parties pertaining to this Agreement or to any matter arising out of or relating to this Agreement. Each Party expressly submits and consents in advance to such jurisdiction in any action or suit commenced in any such court, and each Party hereby waives any objection that it may have based upon lack of personal jurisdiction, improper venue, or forum non conveniens.

8. Amendments; Waivers. No amendment, modification, or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed to be made unless the same shall be in writing signed on behalf of each Party, and each waiver, if any, shall be a waiver only with respect to the specific instance involved and shall in no way impair the rights of the Party making such waiver or the obligations of the other Party in any other respect or at any other time.

9. Binding Effect. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, the provisions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of, and be binding upon, the Parties and their respective successors, assigns, executors, representatives, and administrators.

10. Entire Agreement. 11. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Signature by facsimile or other similar electronic transmission shall have the same force and effect as an original signature.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have executed this Intercreditor and Participation Agreement as of the Effective Date set forth above and in the capacities set forth below.

John,

Would it be possible to do an initial Zoom call with those people? Shawn is out of town for the rest of the week and he is needed. Maybe your side could discuss the range of information they think is involved and my two people could give their view, in anticipation of a meeting maybe next week?

Mark and Shawn are available tomorrow morning until 1:00 pm central.

I am getting Shawn’s Joinder, hopefully today

Louis,

Dave Klos, Kirstin Hendrix, and some others are available later this week to share information with Mark and Shawn at Highland's offices. Jim Seery would likely participate by Zoom.

We thought meeting without lawyers might a good first step. If that makes sense, let me know how Dave can reach out to Mark and Shawn to set something up.

Chat soon,

Louis:

Attached is a copy of the Confidentiality Agreement signed by Mr. Seery in his capacities as the CEO of Highland and as the Claimant Trustee of the Highland Claimant Trust.

While the source of the information to be provided is HCMLP, we should have included the Highland Claimant Trust as an express signatory.

If you can acknowledge that Mr. Patrick agrees and understands that—notwithstanding any statement in the Agreement to the contrary—the Highland Claimant Trust is an intended signatory and beneficiary of the Agreement, we can proceed and amend the Agreement tomorrow to make that explicit.

Assuming that's not problematic, please also have Shawn execute the Rider in advance of tomorrow's meeting.

Thank you,

John

John,

As I mentioned on the phone Friday, we request a breakdown and documentation with specificity of any (i) accrued liabilities, (ii) anticipated success or severance (or completion) payments or bonuses, (iii) continuing admin budget for the Claimant trust, Indemnification sub trust and/or litigation sub trust, and (iv) the identity and amount and basis for any holdback(s).

We are available Tuesday in Dallas. How many from your side would be participating in person? I am trying to get my travel plans situated and to make sure my travel might add to the process (for example if you, Jeff, et al from Pachulski are attending remotely so might I). I believe I can get an early flight out in the morning arriving around 7:00 am or a bit later one arriving around 8:45.

Louis:

I'm writing to follow up on several things.

1. Litigation Protections. Attached are the "Litigation Protections" I mentioned. They are still subject to review and material change but wanted to share them now.

2. Follow up information. It sounds like yesterday's Zoom meeting was helpful. Please let us know if there is any other information your clients need to assess the situation.

3. HCMLP's diligence. We'll have some questions on our end, but for now, please send us the Remittance Agreement referred to in the Intercreditor Agreement.

4. Joinder signature. For completeness, please send us Shawn's signature page.

5. Preliminary terms/structure. We hope to provide over the weekend a set of bullet points concerning possible terms and structure of an agreement.

6. Further meeting. Some or all of us are prepared to meet in Dallas on Tuesday at a time to be determined (some may participate by Zoom). Please let us know if that is possible as soon as you're able so we can make travel arrangements.

Please let me know if you have any questions and thank you for your continued cooperation.

John

You are correct you do not have joinders from Amelia and I. The same thing occurred to me last night. We will send (getting a pre-trial order and brief out for Noon, so maybe a bit after then). Will get the Remittance Agreement out as well, and will get information re the other matters (I do not have it directly)

Louis,

Following up.

1. Meeting. We propose that the business folks (including Mark and Jim) meet in person at Highland's offices at 10:30 am Central Time tomorrow (casual dress, no suits), with lawyers participating by Zoom; if you want to attend in person, Jeff may attend in person as well so let me know (I am unable to attend in person because of other commitments).

2. DAF/HMIT information request. During tomorrow's meeting, Highland will provide the information requested below (and can quickly walk through the same information that was presented the other day for your benefit if that would be helpful).

3. Highland information request. As requested, please provide a copy of the Remittance Agreement referred to in the Intercreditor Agreement and share with us any other agreements or information concerning any current or former connection between DAF/CLOH/HMIT and Dondero/Okada/Dugaboy, including the funding of the HMIT litigation (that Mark testified to in June 2023) and the disposition of the HMIT Notes made in favor of Dugaboy and Okada. We just need to know how any agreement may impact the Dondero side, if at all.

4. NDA signatures. Please let us know who will be participating on your side and send any Joinders not previously sent (I'm not sure we received one for you and Amelia).

We look forward to your prompt response.

John

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing recitals, the promises contained in this Agreement, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties stipulate and agree as follows:

TERMS OF AGREEMENT

1. Consideration for Settlement

1.1 Settlement Payment. The Parties agree that, simultaneously with the execution of this Agreement, and no later than the Effective Date, Cross-Defendants shall make a one-time payment of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) (the "Settlement Payment") to Cross-Plaintiffs consistent with the instructions set forth in Sections 1.3 and 1.4 below.

1.2 Payment of Past Attorneys' Fees, Audit Fees, and Bank Fees. In addition to the Settlement Payment, Cross-Defendants shall, within ten (10) business days of receiving a written demand by Cross-Plaintiffs, which demand shall include relevant back-up documentation, including at a minimum documentation of attorney rates and time entries, pay (i) all attorneys' fees incurred by Cross-Plaintiffs in connection with either the HCMLP Bankruptcy or the Kirschner Lawsuit, (ii) all audit fees incurred by Cross-Plaintiffs during the pendency of the HCMLP Bankruptcy, and (iii) all bank fees incurred by Cross-Plaintiffs during the pendency of the HCMLP Bankruptcy (the "Past Fees Payment"). The Past Fees Payment shall be made consistent with the instructions set forth in Sections 1.3 and 1.4 below.

1.3 Manner of Payments. The Settlement Payment, and any other payments to be made pursuant to this Agreement, shall be deemed made when received by wire transfer, without set-off, in immediately available funds. All such payments should be made in a manner to ensure receipt not later than 5:00 p.m., Central Standard Time, on the date when due under this Agreement. Whenever any payment to be made hereunder is due on a day which is not a Business Day (as defined below), such payment shall be made on the next Business Day thereafter, and any such payment shall be deemed timely made. "Business Day" means a day of the year (other than a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or other day on which banking institutions in the State of Texas are authorized or required by law to close) in which banking institutions are open for the purpose of conducting commercial business.

1.4 Wire Transfer Instructions. Unless Cross-Plaintiffs instruct Cross-Defendants otherwise in writing, all payments to be made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made pursuant to the wire transfer instructions set forth below:

To:	Rand PE Fund I LP
Bank:	PNC Bank
Bank Address:	PO Box 640750 Pittsburgh, PA 15264-0570

ABA Routing: 043000096
Account No: 4947568529

1.5 Agreement to Fund Defense. In addition to the payments contemplated in this Section 1, as further consideration for settlement, Cross-Defendants agree to fund Cross-Plaintiffs' defense costs in the same manner as set forth in Section 1.2 through 1.4 above with regard to any and all claims now or hereafter asserted against Cross-Plaintiffs in the Kirschner Litigation. Such defense shall include, at a minimum, the retention of a licensed attorney to represent Cross-Plaintiffs in the Kirschner Litigation and payment of all costs and attorneys' fees associated with Cross-Plaintiffs' defense. For the avoidance of doubt, the Parties agree that Cross-Defendants may select any counsel of their choosing, in their sole discretion, to replace Cross-Plaintiffs' existing counsel and may retain counsel already representing other named defendants in the Kirschner Litigation, so long as no ethical or other legal conflict bars such dual representation. Cross-Plaintiffs shall retain full control of their defense in the Kirschner Litigation; provided however, that upon the substitution of counsel for Cross-Plaintiffs as contemplated in this Agreement, Cross-Defendants shall only control Cross-Plaintiffs' defense (hereinafter referred to as a "Change of Litigation Control"). In the event of a Change of Litigation Control, Cross-Plaintiffs shall: a) continue to be promptly apprised of all Kirschner Litigation events, issues, and circumstances which may affect Cross-Plaintiffs in said litigation by substitute counsel; and b) retain the right to consent to any resolution of the claims asserted against Cross-Plaintiffs in the Kirschner Litigation that involves (i) the payment of money by Cross-Plaintiffs, or (ii) any admission of liability by Cross-Plaintiffs, whether by settlement, default judgment, or otherwise.

2. Dismissal of Cross-Complaint.

4.1 Timing of Dismissal. Within five (5) business days of the Effective Date of this Agreement, the Parties shall stipulate to the dismissal of the Cross-Complaint with prejudice.

4.2 Responsibility for Filing. Cross-Plaintiffs shall bear responsibility for ensuring that appropriate notice of the Parties' stipulation of dismissal of the Cross-Complaint is timely filed with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas.

3. Releases

3.1 Release by Cross-Plaintiffs of Cross-Defendants. Cross-Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves, their predecessors, successors, affiliates, and assigns, and each of their past, present, and future officers, directors, managers, agents, employees, representatives, and any person acting by, through, or under the direction of them (collectively, the "Cross-Plaintiff Releasing Parties") hereby fully and irrevocably release and discharge Cross-Defendants, together with their predecessors, successors, affiliates, and assigns, and each of their past, present, and future officers, directors, managers, agents, employees, representatives, and any person acting by, through, or under the direction of them (collectively, the "Cross-Defendant Released Parties"), from all claims, rights, demands, actions, lawsuits, causes of action, grievances, liabilities, obligations, controversies, damages, costs, expenses, losses, and debts, of any nature whatsoever, present or future, known or unknown, contingent or definitive, conditional or unconditional, that the Cross-Plaintiff Releasing Parties had, have, or may have against the Cross-Defendant Released Parties, which arise out of or relate in any manner to the subject matter of this Agreement or the Cross-

Complaint, or any other agreements executed by and between the Parties prior to the Effective Date.

3.2 Release by Cross-Defendants of Cross-Plaintiffs. Cross-Defendants, on behalf of themselves, their predecessors, successors, affiliates, and assigns, and each of their past, present, and future officers, directors, managers, agents, employees, representatives, and any person acting by, through, or under the direction of them (collectively, the "Cross-Defendant Releasing Parties") hereby fully and irrevocably release and discharge Cross-Plaintiffs, together with their predecessors, successors, affiliates, and assigns, and each of their past, present, and future officers, directors, managers, agents (inclusive of counsels for Cross-Plaintiffs), employees, representatives, and any person acting by, through, or under the direction of them (collectively, the "Cross-Plaintiff Released Parties"), from all claims, rights, demands, actions, lawsuits, causes of action, grievances, liabilities, obligations, controversies, damages, costs, expenses, losses, and debts, of any nature whatsoever, present or future, known or unknown, contingent or definitive, conditional or unconditional, that the Cross-Defendant Releasing Parties had, have, or may have against the Cross-Plaintiff Released Parties, which arise out of or relate in any manner to the subject matter of this Agreement or the Cross-Complaint, or any other agreements executed by and between the Parties prior to the Effective Date, including but not limited to any and all guarantees or debt obligations facially owed by Cross-Plaintiffs to Cross-Defendants.

4. Confidentiality and Non-Disparagement

4.1 Duty of Confidentiality. The terms of this Agreement and all correspondence relating to this Agreement are and shall remain confidential. The Parties shall not disclose any information relating to this Agreement or its contents, nor shall any Party cause any individual, entity, affiliate, or agent acting under its direction or control to disclose any information relating to this Agreement or its contents, to any third party whatsoever, except (i) with the prior written consent of the other Party to this Agreement; (ii) as may be required by applicable law, regulation, or order of a governmental authority of competent jurisdiction; (iii) during the course of litigation so long as the disclosure is subject to the same restrictions as are embodied in a court-ordered protective order limiting disclosure to outside counsel; or (iv) in confidence to the Party's counsel, accountants, financial advisors, or tax professionals, whom the Party shall advise of the confidential nature of this Agreement.

4.2 Requirements Prior to Disclosure. Should any Party disclose any information relating to this Agreement or its contents under any of the circumstances specified in Section 3.1, the disclosing Party shall notify the other Parties in writing before any disclosure of the same. In such case, the disclosing Party shall: (i) make available as soon as practicable (and in any event prior to disclosure), for inspection and copying, a copy of the Agreement or other information the Party intends to disclose; (ii) where applicable, identify the law, regulation, order, or other legal basis for the disclosure; and (iii) to the extent possible, refrain from disclosing anything for at least ten (10) business days following the disclosing Party's written notice of disclosure to give the other Parties an opportunity to resist disclosure or seek other appropriate legal relief. In any event, the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to limit the disclosure of the terms and conditions of this Agreement and seek a protective order or other confidential treatment of the disclosed information.

4.3 Duty of Non-Disparagement. Subject to applicable law, each of the Parties covenant and agree that neither they nor any of their respective agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, successors, assigns, officers, employees or directors, will in any way publicly disparage, call into disrepute, defame, slander or otherwise criticize the opposing Parties or such other Parties' agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, successors, assigns, officers, employees, agents, or directors.

4.4 Violation of Duties of Confidentiality and Non-Disparagement. Any Party violating their duties of confidentiality or non-disparagement shall be responsible for payment of any damages incurred by the other Parties as a result of the violation. The Parties also shall have the right and standing to seek an injunction against any person and/or entity violating this Section 5, or any person and/or entity who has announced an intention to violate this Section 5 or who has failed to desist from any such violation after written demand to do so, from further or future violations. All attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses incurred by a Party in enforcing its rights pursuant to this Section 5 shall be the liability of and borne by each and every person and/or entity against whom injunctive, monetary, or other relief is obtained.

5. Covenants, Representations, and Warranties

5.1 Authority to Enter Into Agreement. The Parties covenant and warrant that they have the full power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to carry out its terms and that they have not previously assigned, sold, or otherwise pledged or encumbered any right, title, or interest in the claims released herein or their right, power, or authority to enter into this Agreement.

5.2 Authority to Execute on Behalf of Another. Any person signing this Agreement on behalf of another person or entity represents and warrants that he or she has full power and authority to do so and that said other person or entity is bound hereby.

5.3 No Admission of Liability. By entering into this Agreement, no Party is admitting any liability to any other Party or any other person or entity. Neither this Agreement, nor any document or instrument delivered hereunder, nor any statement, transaction, or proceeding in connection with the negotiation, execution, or implementation of this Agreement, is intended to be or shall be construed as or deemed to be evidence of an admission or concession of any liability or wrongdoing or of the truth of any allegations asserted by any Party against another, and no such statement, transaction, or proceeding shall be admissible in evidence for any such purpose except as required to enforce this Agreement.

5.4 Covenant Not To Sue. The Parties, for themselves, their heirs, and successors hereby covenant and agree not to file any lawsuit or other action concerning the claims released herein, other than an action to enforce the Agreement.

5.5 Representation by Counsel. Each Party has executed this Agreement upon its own independent judgment and upon the advice of its independent legal counsel, and not in reliance upon any representation, express or implied, of any kind or nature from any other Party or Party's counsel.

6. Miscellaneous Provisions

6.1 Governing Law. The provisions of this Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with, and governed by, the laws of the State of Texas, without regard to conflict of laws principles.

6.2 Dispute Resolution. In the event there is an unresolved legal dispute between the Parties and/or any of their respective officers, directors, partners, employees, agents, affiliates or other representatives that involves legal rights or remedies arising from this Agreement, the Parties agree to submit their dispute to binding arbitration under the authority of the Federal Arbitration Act; provided, however, that any Party may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with any confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on the other party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. The arbitration will be conducted by the American Arbitration Association pursuant to the rules governing complex commercial disputes. A panel of three arbitrators will preside over the arbitration and will together deliberate, decide, and issue the final award. The arbitrators shall be duly licensed to practice law in the state of Texas. The arbitrators shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. The arbitrators will not have the authority to render a decision that contains an outcome based on error of state or federal law or to fashion a cause of action or remedy not otherwise provided for under applicable state or federal law. Any dispute over whether the arbitrators have failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses, and/or travel.

6.3 Waiver of Right to Jury Trial.

EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES AND, THEREFORE, EACH SUCH PARTY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LEGAL ACTION ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER IN THE EVENT OF A LEGAL ACTION, (B) SUCH PARTY HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, AND (C) SUCH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY.

6.4 Cooperation. Each of the Parties hereto shall execute such additional documents and take such additional actions as are or may be reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Agreement.

6.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts. All counterparts so executed shall constitute one agreement binding on all parties hereto, notwithstanding that all Parties are not signatory to the original or to the same counterpart.

6.6 Entire Agreement/No Other Agreements.

THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY ACKNOWLEDGE, COVENANT, AND AGREE THAT THIS AGREEMENT AND ITS EXHIBITS CONSTITUTE THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT OF THE PARTIES WITH RESPECT TO THE SUBJECT MATTER CONTAINED THEREIN. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY WAIVE AND DISAVOW ALL PRIOR AGREEMENTS, COVENANTS, REPRESENTATIONS, AND WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, WRITTEN OR ORAL, OF THE PARTIES CONCERNING THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT.

6.7 Modification. This Agreement shall not be modified or amended except by an instrument in writing signed by an authorized representative of each Party.

6.8 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is for the sole benefit of the Parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns and Released Parties, and nothing herein, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any other person or entity any legal or equitable rights, benefit, or remedy of any nature whatsoever.

6.9 No Waiver. The failure by any Party to enforce any term of this Agreement shall not be deemed a waiver of the term or any other term of the Agreement, nor shall any Party be deemed to have waived any right to performance under this Agreement unless such waiver is made expressly in writing by the Party making the waiver.

6.10 Severability. It is expressly understood and agreed that each provision of this Agreement shall be deemed to be severable, and if any provision herein is determined to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable by a court of competent jurisdiction for any reason, then such invalidity, illegality, and/or unenforceability shall not affect the validity, legality, and enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement.

6.11 Mutual Interpretation. The Parties agree and stipulate that this Agreement was negotiated on an "arms-length" basis between parties of equal bargaining power, and that this Agreement has been drafted jointly by the Parties and their respective Counsel. Accordingly, this Agreement shall be neutral, and no ambiguity shall be construed in favor of or against either Party.

Agreement

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged and agreed, the Parties, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree as follows:

1. Representations and Warranties

(a) Each Party hereby represents and warrants to the other Parties as follows:

(i) Existence and Good Standing. Such Party is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and, to the extent applicable in such jurisdiction, in good standing under the Laws (as hereinafter defined) of the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated or formed. Such Party has all requisite corporate or similar right, power, authority and capacity to own, lease and operate the properties and assets it owns, leases and operates. Each Party is qualified to do business as a foreign entity in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of property or the conduct of its business as now conducted requires it to qualify.

(ii) Authority; Enforceability. Such Party has the full power and authority to execute this Agreement and to perform its obligations under this Agreement. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement have been duly and validly authorized by all required action on behalf of such Party in accordance with its respective Organizational Documents (as hereinafter defined) and applicable Law. This Agreement constitute the valid and binding obligations of, and enforceable against, such Party.

(iii) No Violations. The execution and delivery by such Party of this Agreement, the performance and compliance with the terms and conditions hereof and thereof by such Party, and the performance by such Parent of its obligations contemplated hereby, in each case, will not (with or without notice or passage of time, or both):

(1) violate, conflict with, result in a breach of or constitute a default under any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of such Party; or

(2) breach, violate or conflict with any provision of any Law or Permit applicable to such Party.

(iv) Legal Proceedings. There are no judicial, administrative or arbitral actions, suits, hearings, inquiries, charges, investigations, administrative proceedings, grievances or formal complaints or other proceedings (public or private) commenced, brought, conducted or heard before, or otherwise involving, any Governmental Entity or arbitrator, in each case, pending nor threatened that (i) challenge the validity or enforceability of Party's obligations under this Agreement or (b) seek to prevent or delay, or otherwise would reasonably be expected to adversely affect, the performance by such Party of its obligations hereunder.

(b) Each Recipient hereby represents and warrants to Highland as follows:

(i) None of James Dondero, nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by Mr. Dondero (including, without limitation, Dugaboy Investment Trust) nor or any attorney, agent, employee, or representative engaged or working for benefit of Mr. Dondero nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by him (collectively, the "Dondero Related Parties") directly or indirectly owns any interest in, or directly or indirectly has any control over, such Recipient, including, without limitation, as the result of any written or oral contract, agreement, arrangement or obligation.

(ii) Such Recipient does not represent and is not acting on behalf of any Dondero Related Party.

(iii) Such Recipient has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and is not representing or acting on behalf of any Person with such a duty or obligation.

2. Confidential and Proprietary Nature of the Information

Recipients acknowledge the confidential and proprietary nature of the Confidential Information, agree to hold and keep the Confidential Information in strict confidence as provided in this Agreement, agree that the use of any such Confidential Information is expressly limited to the pursuit of a Potential Settlement and shall not be used for any other purpose or in any other manner except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and otherwise agree to each and every restriction and obligation in this Agreement.

3. Confidential Information

As used in this Agreement, the term "Confidential Information" means and includes (a) any and all of the following items that will be disclosed to any Recipient or any of their respective Representatives (as hereinafter defined) by or on behalf of Highland, whether orally or in writing and without regard to whether Highland has specifically designated such item as confidential, proprietary or non-public: any and all confidential, proprietary or non-public information concerning the business or affairs of Highland or any of its affiliates or related accounts, or other Persons (as hereinafter defined) (which includes, for the avoidance of doubt and without limitation, Highland Claimant Trust, Highland Litigation Sub-Trust, Highland Indemnity Trust, each of their and Highland's direct and indirect subsidiaries, and each of their respective affiliates, and its and their respective parent entities, beneficiaries, members, shareholders, owners, creditors, trustees, oversight boards, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, advisors and representatives (collectively, the "Highland Related Parties")), including, without limitation, any written or oral information, reports and data concerning financial statements, assets, liabilities, indemnity and other obligations, cash flow, income, and expenses; past, current or planned investment or portfolio information; contracts and agreements; know-how, inventions and ideas, whether past, current or planned; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor lists; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor information; business plans; entity structure details; all compliance-related reports, records and information; and any other information, however documented, that is proprietary or non-public or is a trade secret within the meaning of applicable state trade secret Law, and (b) any and all statements or representations made in the course of discussing, negotiating or evaluating a Potential Settlement, including, without limitation, the terms of any Potential Settlement and the fact that (i) Confidential Information has been disclosed to Recipient and (ii) any discussions or negotiations are taking place concerning a Potential Settlement.

To the extent that any Confidential Information includes information or materials subject to the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege concerning pending or threatened legal proceedings or governmental investigations, the Parties understand and agree that they have a commonality of interest with respect to such matters, and it is their desire, intention, and mutual understanding that the sharing of such information or materials is not intended to, and shall not, waive or diminish in any way the confidentiality of such information or material or its continued protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege. Accordingly, all Confidential Information disclosed by or on behalf of Highland that is entitled to protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege shall remain entitled to such protection under these privileges and this Agreement.

4. Restricted Use of Confidential Information

Recipients agree that the Confidential Information (a) shall be kept strictly confidential by each Recipient and (b) without limiting the foregoing, shall not be disclosed by or on behalf of any Recipient to any Person (as hereinafter defined) except as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. It is understood and the Recipients agree that Confidential Information may only be disclosed to Mr. Patrick and such specific legal counsel, accountants and financial advisors of the Recipients to whom such disclosure has been consented to in writing by Highland in its sole discretion (which consent may be given via email) (collectively "Representatives") and who (i) require such Confidential Information for the purpose of evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement (ii) are informed by Recipient of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and the obligations set forth in this Agreement, and (iii) execute a written joinder in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit B pursuant to which the Representative agrees to be bound to this Agreement as if they were an original Party hereto, with such joinder including, without limitation, a representation and warranty that such Representative (1) does not currently represent any Dondero Related Party and (2) has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and does not represent any Person with such a duty or obligation. Recipients further agree that Recipients and their Representatives shall not use any of the Confidential Information to the detriment of Highland or any Highland Related Party or for any reason or purpose other than evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement. Recipients shall enforce this Agreement as to its Representatives and take such action, legal or otherwise, to the extent necessary to cause them to comply with this Agreement and thereby prevent any disclosure of Confidential Information by any of its Representatives (including, without limitation, all actions that any Recipient would take to protect its own confidential information).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the Recipients and their Representatives shall not disclose or refer to any Confidential Information to (a) subject to Section 5 below, any Governmental Entity (as hereinafter defined), including, without limitation, in any pleadings or submissions, or (b) any Dondero Related Party. The Parties acknowledge that it is their collective intent that no Confidential Information disclosed hereunder may be examined in any proceeding of a Governmental Entity (or any discovery relating to any such proceeding), and all Confidential Information shall be entitled to all protections applicable under Federal Rule of Evidence 408 and any other protections afforded to settlement and compromise communications under any other applicable Law.

5. Legally Compelled Disclosure

If any Recipient or any of its Representatives becomes compelled by Law (whether by oral questions, interrogatories, requests for information or documents, subpoena, civil or criminal investigative demand, or similar process) to make any disclosure that is prohibited or otherwise constrained by this Agreement, such Recipient or its Representative, as the case may be, shall provide Highland with immediate notice of such legal proceedings, including all related documentation, so Highland may (a) seek an appropriate protective order or other appropriate relief, or (b) waive compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. In the absence of a protective order or Recipients receiving a written waiver from Highland, Recipients or their Representatives are permitted (with Highland's cooperation but at Recipient's expense) to disclose that portion (and only that portion) of the Confidential Information that Recipient or its Representative is legally compelled by an order of an applicable Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to disclose; provided, however, that Recipient and its Representatives must use best efforts to obtain reliable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded by any Person to whom any Confidential Information is so disclosed.

6. Return or Destruction of Confidential Information

If Highland notifies Recipients that it wishes Recipients to return all Confidential Information, then Recipients (i) shall promptly deliver to Highland all documents or other materials disclosed by or on behalf of Highland to Recipient or its Representatives constituting Confidential Information, together with all copies and summaries thereof in the possession or under the control of Recipients or their Representatives, and (ii) will destroy materials generated by Recipients or their Representatives that include or refer to any part of the Confidential Information, without retaining any copies, including, without limitation, any electronically stored copies or attachments to emails, of any such documents or materials. Written notice of return or destruction shall constitute a valid termination of access to Confidential Information and shall be deemed to have been given at the time Highland sends such notice. Such notice may be sent in any manner reasonably calculated to notify Recipients of the termination.

7. No Obligation to Negotiate a Potential Settlement

None of the Parties shall have rights or obligations of any kind whatsoever with respect to any Potential Settlement by virtue of this Agreement other than for the matters specifically agreed to herein. Without limiting the preceding sentence, nothing in this Agreement requires any Party to enter into any Potential Settlement or to negotiate the same for any specified period of time or on any specific terms.

8. No Representations or Warranties

Highland shall have no obligation to provide any information—confidential or otherwise—to the Recipients and retains the right to determine, in its sole discretion, what information, if any, it wishes to make available to Recipients, and neither Highland nor any Highland Related Party makes any representation or warranty (express or implied) concerning the completeness or accuracy of the Confidential Information.

9. Miscellaneous

(a) Modification. This Agreement may only be modified or waived by a separate writing signed by the Party or Parties expressly modifying or waiving this Agreement.

(b) Waiver. Neither the failure nor any delay by any Party in exercising any right, power, or privilege under this Agreement will operate as a waiver of such right, power, or privilege, and no single or partial exercise of any such right, power, or privilege will preclude any other or further exercise of such right, power, or privilege or the exercise of any other right, power, or privilege.

(c) Certain Definitions.

(i) The term "Governmental Entity" means any federal, national, state, foreign, provincial, local or other government or any governmental, regulatory, administrative or self-regulatory authority, agency, bureau, board, commission, court, judicial or arbitral body, department, political subdivision, tribunal or other instrumentality thereof, including any fiscal intermediary or administrative contractor acting on behalf of any of the foregoing.

(ii) The term "Law" means any law, rule, regulation, statute, code, ordinance, decree or other restriction of any Governmental Entity or any order, injunction, judgment, decree, ruling, writ, assessment or award of a Governmental Entity.

(iii) The term "Organizational Documents" means certificates of incorporation, bylaws, certificates of formation, certificates of trust, limited liability company agreements, limited liability partnership agreements, partnership or limited partnership agreements, trust agreements or other similar formation or governing documents of any Person, in each case, as amended, restated or otherwise modified to date.

(iv) The term "Person" means any individual, corporation (including any non-profit corporation), general or limited partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, estate, trust, association, organization, labor union, any other business entity, or a Governmental Entity.

(d) Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provisions of this Agreement, which shall remain in full force and effect. If any of the terms, covenants or provisions of this Agreement are determined to be unenforceable by reason of its extent, duration, scope or otherwise, then the Parties contemplate and intend that the authority making such determination shall reduce such extent, duration, scope or other provision and enforce them in their reduced form for all purposes contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) Breach. Recipients agree that Highland will be irreparably injured by a breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or its Representatives, that monetary remedies will be inadequate to protect Highland against any actual or threatened breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or by its Representatives, and that Highland shall be entitled to an injunction or other equitable relief as a remedy for any breach as a matter of right and without the necessity of having to post a bond. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for a breach of this Agreement, but shall be in addition to all other remedies available at law or equity. The non-prevailing Party shall pay the other Party's costs and expenses in any action to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

(f) Liability and Indemnity. Recipients shall, ~~jointly and severally,~~ be liable to and shall indemnify and hold Highland and the Highland Related Parties harmless from and against any and all claims, suits, losses, damages, costs or expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred or suffered by Highland or any Highland Related Party as a result of any Recipient ~~or its Representatives~~ violation of this Agreement, including, without limitation, using or disclosing any Confidential Information other than in accordance with this Agreement, whether such use or disclosure is performed negligently or otherwise.

(g) Notices. All notices, requests, demands, claims, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing. Any notice, request, demand, claim or other communication hereunder shall be deemed duly delivered: (a) four (4) business days after it is sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; (b) one (1) business day after it is sent for next business day delivery via a reputable nationwide overnight courier service; (c) when sent, if emailed on a business day; and (d) the next business day following the day on which the email is sent if emailed on a day that is not a business day, in each case to the intended recipient as set forth below:

John,

I just got back from Turkey, and am amazed at the increased toll that come with increased age. But am in the office today.

While I was over there we got together and went through the settlement agreement draft. We aim to get a responsive redline by Monday or Tuesday. I just want to update as to a shift represented by our thinking about the timing of the releases, a proposed agreement to stay pending bankruptcy court approval, and how we are searching for a slightly different approach to money. Let me know if you want/have time to visit.

John,

I just got back from Turkey, and am amazed at the increased toll that come with increased age. But am in the office today.

While I was over there we got together and went through the settlement agreement draft. We aim to get a responsive redline by Monday or Tuesday. I just want to update as to a shift represented by our thinking about the timing of the releases, a proposed agreement to stay pending bankruptcy court approval, and how we are searching for a slightly different approach to money. Let me know if you want/have time to visit.

John,

My fault. It took a few days longer than I expected to get over my trip to Turkey (actually the travel back). I sent my proposed version to the client group today and proposed a call early morning tomorrow with an eye toward getting it to you by Noon.

John,

Please see the HMIT Entities' responsive version of the settlement agreement along with the redline from your version 9. First, I apologize for the delay, as the last version, sent by Mr. Seery, arrived on the day I landed in Istanbul, and scheduling on my side plus my schedule while overseas made it difficult to get things done. And then I just took longer to get over the lag from traveling back.

We have made some proposed changes. First major change is that we are willing to have the releases made effective as of bankruptcy court approval, and live with that in the event of an appeal. We also think, because the bankruptcy court will have approved the agreement, that the assignment of the Dugaboy Note and the Kirchner litigation should be done within the revised timeline set forth, and that there is no reason for any reservation of HMIT Note Claims by the Litigation Sub Trust (and no reason that we can see for continued day to day activity of the sub-trust, as the litigation would only be returned if an appeal is successful (which none of us think will be the case – at least I think none of us do)). We have added an agreed abatement of everything pending bankruptcy court approval. We have also accelerated funding, though propose an agreement to escrow funds in the event of reversal on appeal. We have reviewed the information provided by Mr. Seery and his group and think our structure and timing of funding leaves plenty of money aside for indemnification. We also have tried to identify and make clear what a Threat would be, to get something objective we can rely on and receive notice of.

I am around tomorrow and Friday. I will be working this weekend (without jet lag) and in my New Orleans office Monday preparing for an all day trial on Tuesday. We should be able to corral my side quickly.

There are some other tweaks that are minor we think, with the changes mentioned above being the major changes in structure.

Also, John, while the parties have discussed this matter the attached draft agreement does not contain any reference. That is ok with us, but my clients request from your side an answer to the following question: "Did any of the Highland Entities or their affiliates, for their own account or on behalf of Highland CDO Holding Company, affirmatively give consent to the transfer by Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. or its affiliates of that certain promissory note in the original principal amount of app.$32.8M and dated December 13, 2010, and executed by CLO Holdco, Ltd.?"

I really appreciate your patience. Look forward to visiting soon.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10534 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test."

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PARTY OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding of the parties and supersedes any and all prior or contemporaneous agreements, arrangements, and understandings relating to the subject matter of this Agreement. No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10[53]4 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test."

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

Formatted: No underline

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PARTY OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY

HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any action or proceeding arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an action or proceeding arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding of the parties and supersedes any and all prior or contemporaneous agreements, arrangements, and understandings relating to the subject matter of this Agreement. No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

27. Notices. All notices required or permitted to be provided hereunder shall be afforded to the respective parties to and through their counsel, and shall be transmitted simultaneously by electronic mail (with PDF attachments, as necessary) and by telefax, addressed as follows:

28. Severability. Should any term, provision or paragraph of this Agreement be determined to be illegal or void or of no force and effect, the balance of the Agreement shall survive. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity and enforceability of any other provision of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, if any provision of this Agreement is overturned on appeal after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, any portion that is not overturned on appeal shall remain in full force and effect.

The deleted provision in Section 3 is similar to a remaining provision in the lead in to Section 8. Should that be removed as well?

Jim – As discussed with you and Dave, attached is a revised draft with one change to Section 3 (removing the provision tying the $500k payment to any specific component of the settlement).

@Jeff Pomerantz, @John A. Morris, @Gregory V. Demo – Please let us know if you expect to have any comments and expected timeframe.

We need to circulate drafts to Class 9's, CTOB and HMIT. We can likely send a draft to Class 9's and CTOB now subject to ongoing review, since I don't believe you will have any changes to the economic proposal we're making, but obviously want everyone signed off asap for purposes of getting a draft back to HMIT.

Thank you.

Two principal comments: 1) we don't own the entire Dugaboy Note as defined in the agreement, so we can't assign the amount of the note owed to Get Good. If language as drafted is fine then no worries, 2) clarifying we pay all P&I received on Dugaboy note between execution date and assignment date.

John,

Please see the HMIT Entities' responsive version of the settlement agreement along with the redline from your version 9. First, I apologize for the delay, as the last version, sent by Mr. Seery, arrived on the day I landed in Istanbul, and scheduling on my side plus my schedule while overseas made it difficult to get things done. And then I just took longer to get over the lag from traveling back.

We have made some proposed changes. First major change is that we are willing to have the releases made effective as of bankruptcy court approval, and live with that in the event of an appeal.

We also think, because the bankruptcy court will have approved the agreement, that the assignment of the Dugaboy Note and the Kirchner litigation should be done within the revised timeline set forth, and that there is no reason for any reservation of HMIT Note Claims by the Litigation Sub Trust (and no reason that we can see for continued day to day activity of the sub-trust, as the litigation would only be returned if an appeal is successful (which none of us think will be the case – at least I think none of us do)). We have added an agreed abatement of everything pending bankruptcy court approval. We have also accelerated funding, though propose an agreement to escrow funds in the event of reversal on appeal. We have reviewed the information provided by Mr. Seery and his group and think our structure and timing of funding leaves plenty of money aside for indemnification. We also have tried to identify and make clear what a Threat would be, to get something objective we can rely on and receive notice of.

I am around tomorrow and Friday. I will be working this weekend (without jet lag) and in my New Orleans office Monday preparing for an all day trial on Tuesday. We should be able to corral my side quickly.

There are some other tweaks that are minor we think, with the changes mentioned above being the major changes in structure.

Also, John, while the parties have discussed this matter the attached draft agreement does not contain any reference. That is ok with us, but my clients request from your side an answer to the following question: "Did any of the Highland Entities or their affiliates, for their own account or on behalf of Highland CDO Holding Company, affirmatively give consent to the transfer by Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. or its affiliates of that certain promissory note in the original principal amount of app.$32.8M and dated December 13, 2010, and executed by CLO Holdco, Ltd.?"

I really appreciate your patience. Look forward to visiting soon.

John and Jeff,

Please see a final redline with wire instructions added, a bold of a WHEREAS, and references to payments being made by Wire Transfer. I did not add the Wire Transfer to the final distribution part because of the reference to “assets” versus payment and did not want to go into the body of the document to deal with that. Also the attached PDF (redlined against John’s clean from yesterday) does not include the header clean up contained in the word version. We are prepared to execute this version. Mark will be out for a while today so just let us know if we can get his signatures or whether you have any further comments. Thank you.

WHEREAS, certain distributions to be made to the holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein are premised on the consent of certain Highland Covered Parties in their capacity as Holders of Class 9 Interests, and such Persons are only willing to provide such consent in exchange for the releases as set forth in this Agreement;

WHEREAS, some or all of the Highland Entities have asserted certain Claims against certain HMIT Entities, including the HMIT Note Claims;

NOW THEREFORE, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

1. Stay and Dismissal of Pending Litigation With Prejudice.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date, the HMIT Entities shall take all steps necessary (at their own cost) to stay the Pending Litigation.

(b) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the HMIT Entities shall take all steps necessary (at their own cost) to dismiss the Pending Litigation with prejudice.

3. Cash Payment to HMIT. Within five (5) Business Days following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, Highland shall pay HMIT a one-time, lump sum of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$500,000.00) (the "Payment") by wire transfer:

4. HMIT Class 10 Interest.

(a) Subject to entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order, and the terms of this Agreement, the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be deemed allowed in the amount of Three Hundred Thirty-Six Million Nine Hundred Forty Thousand Two Hundred Thirty and 58/100 Dollars (US$336,940,230.58), which amount represents the HMIT Capital Account Balance, less the HMIT Note Balance.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan or the Claimant Trust Agreement, as an integral part of this Agreement to consent to the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest and the other considerations in this Agreement, HMIT shall not be deemed, and no holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be, a Claimant Trust Beneficiary or a "Beneficiary" under the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to any HMIT Releasor (whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise), including with respect to the HMIT Class 10 Interest, in each case, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Furthermore, without limiting the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the contractual right of the holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest to receive or recover any payments or Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust as set forth in this Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement does not make any HMIT Releasor or any other Person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or under the Indemnity Trust Agreement.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement, in no event shall HMIT sell, transfer, assign, pledge, hypothecate, participate or otherwise dispose of or encumber the HMIT Class 10 Interest or any rights (including any right to payment) with respect thereto (collectively, a "Class 10 Assignment"), and any attempted Class 10 Assignment shall be null and void.

(d) For the avoidance of doubt, the HMIT Class 10 Interest is and shall remain senior to the not yet allowed, unvested contingent Class 11 Claims of Equity Interests as provided for in the Plan, the Plan Documents, and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Initial Interim Distributions on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (the date on which such distribution is made, the "Initial Interim Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Ten Million Dollars (US$10,000,000.00) (the "Initial Interim Cash Distribution Amount"), by means of wire transfer through the address contained in Section 3 ("Wire Transfer").

(b) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date (the "Note Assignment Date"), the Highland Entities shall cause the portion of the Dugaboy Note held by the Highland Entities to be distributed to HMIT in-kind and take all actions necessary for HMIT to become the holder of such portion of the Dugaboy Note, and shall in addition pay to HMIT cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments actually received on the Dugaboy Note by the Highland Entities, including the Indemnity Trust, from the Agreement Date to the Note Assignment Date. Prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, HMIT will engage an independent valuation service provider to value the Dugaboy Note for purposes of determining the magnitude of reduction to the outstanding allowed Class 10 Interests on account of such in-kind distribution, which shall not be less than Fifty percent (50%) of the current balance owed under the Dugaboy Note. The HMIT Entities acknowledge and agree that none of the Highland Entities are representing or warranting that the Dugaboy Note can be sold, or the price, if any, that could be received for the Dugaboy Note and further acknowledge and agree that any such purchase price may be de minimis.

6. Subsequent Distribution(s) on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On December 1, 2027, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "First Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "First Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00), by Wire Transfer.

(b) On December 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "Second Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "Second Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00) by Wire Transfer.

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Indemnity Trust to make the First Subsequent Distribution or Second Subsequent Distribution is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII, Section 8.1(c) of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that the Indemnity Trust Assets comprising such distributions are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement).

7. Final Distribution on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2029, the Indemnity Trust will distribute all excess remaining Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement; provided, however, that the obligation of the Indemnity Trust to make any such distributions and/or dissolve and wind up the affairs of the Indemnity Trust is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that (1) a Final Order(s) (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) has been entered resolving all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to Indemnity Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) and payment in full of all such Indemnity Obligations and (2) all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of such statutes of limitation have expired.

(b) The Indemnity Trust agrees to not use Indemnity Trust Assets to fund Operating Expenses.

(c) Following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, at the request of Mark Patrick, solely in his capacity, and to the extent he remains, as administrator of HMIT, but not more often than quarterly, Highland and the Indemnity Trust Administrator agree to review (i) the status of their respective assets, (ii) the balance of cash held, (iii) the status of any claims made for indemnification and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (v) forecasted operating expenses with Mr. Patrick, and will each work in good faith to reduce operating expenses where reasonably practicable; provided, however, that all such reporting shall be subject to Mr. Patrick's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

8. Transfer Kirschner Claims; Dismissal of HMIT Note Claims.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (i) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (ii) any HMIT Entity materially breaches this Agreement, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending

Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland

Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10^{53}4 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS

EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. (a) Subject to entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order, and the terms of this Agreement, the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be deemed allowed in the amount of Three Hundred Thirty-Six Million Nine Hundred Forty Thousand Two Hundred Thirty and 58/100 Dollars (US$336,940,230.58), which amount represents the HMIT Capital Account Balance, less the HMIT Note Balance.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan or the Claimant Trust Agreement, as an integral part of this Agreement to consent to the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest and the other considerations in this Agreement, HMIT shall not be deemed, and no holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be, a Claimant Trust Beneficiary or a "Beneficiary" under the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to any HMIT Releasor (whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise), including with respect to the HMIT Class 10 Interest, in each case, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Furthermore, without limiting the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the contractual right of the holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest to receive or recover any payments or Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust as set forth in this Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement does not make any HMIT Releasor or any other Person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or under the Indemnity Trust Agreement.

(b) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date (the "Note Assignment Date"), the Highland Entities shall cause the portion of the Dugaboy Note held by the Highland Entities to be distributed to HMIT in-kind and take all actions necessary for HMIT to become the holder of such portion of the Dugaboy Note, and shall in addition pay to HMIT cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments actually received on the Dugaboy Note by the Highland Entities, including the Indemnity Trust, from the Agreement Date to the Note Assignment Date. Prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, HMIT will engage an independent valuation service provider to value the Dugaboy Note for purposes of determining the magnitude of reduction to the outstanding allowed Class 10 Interests on account of such in-kind distribution, which shall not be less than Fifty percent (50%) of the current balance owed under the Dugaboy Note. The HMIT Entities acknowledge and agree that none of the Highland Entities are representing or warranting that the Dugaboy Note can be sold, or the price, if any, that could be received for the Dugaboy Note and further acknowledge and agree that any such purchase price may be de minimis.

6. Subsequent Distribution(s) on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On December 1, 2027, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "First Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "First Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00), by Wire Transfer.

(b) On December 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "Second Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "Second Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00) by Wire Transfer.

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Indemnity Trust to make the First Subsequent Distribution or Second Subsequent Distribution is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII, Section 8.1(c) of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that the Indemnity Trust Assets comprising such distributions are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement).

7. Final Distribution on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2029, the Indemnity Trust will distribute all excess remaining Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement; provided, however, that the obligation of the Indemnity Trust to make any such distributions and/or dissolve and wind up the affairs of the Indemnity Trust is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that (1) a Final Order(s) (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) has been entered resolving all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to Indemnity Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) and payment in full of all such Indemnity Obligations and (2) all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of such statutes of limitation have expired.

(b) The Indemnity Trust agrees to not use Indemnity Trust Assets to fund Operating Expenses.

(c) Following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, at the request of Mark Patrick, solely in his capacity, and to the extent he remains, as administrator of HMIT, but not more often than quarterly, Highland and the Indemnity Trust Administrator agree to review (i) the status of their respective assets, (ii) the balance of cash held, (iii) the status of any claims made for indemnification and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (v) forecasted operating expenses with Mr. Patrick, and will each work in good faith to reduce operating expenses where reasonably practicable; provided, however, that all such reporting shall be subject to Mr. Patrick's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

8. Transfer Kirschner Claims; Dismissal of HMIT Note Claims.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (i) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (ii) any HMIT Entity materially breaches this Agreement, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending

Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland

Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10^{53}4 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS

EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

Louis,

Please find attached a revised draft with just two clean-up changes as reflected in the Redline.

We have received verbal approval of the Claimant Trust's Oversight Board to proceed, and we are in the process of collecting signatures to the written consents of the Class 9 holders and the Oversight Board, and our internal signatures to the Settlement Agreement. If you could begin to do the same on your end, we will confirm once we are ready to exchange signature pages.

Thanks and please let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

John and Jeff,

Please see a final redline with wire instructions added, a bold of a WHEREAS, and references to payments being made by Wire Transfer. I did not add the Wire Transfer to the final distribution part because of the reference to "assets" versus payment and did not want to go into the body of the document to deal with that. Also the attached PDF (redlined against John's clean from yesterday) does not include the header clean up contained in the word version. We are prepared to execute this version. Mark will be out for a while today so just let us know if we can get his signatures or whether you have any further comments. Thank you.

All:

We have approvals on our side except UBS which is going through its process. I expect them to be done and approved on Monday.

John plans to circulate the 9019 tomorrow.

If we are set on the 9019 and get our last approval, we would like to release signatures and file the 9019 on Monday afternoon.

Thank you.

EXTERNAL SENDER ALERT - This message originated outside the Kelly Hart domain. Please exercise caution when opening attachments, following links or responding to this message.

Good morning, Louis.

One of our Oversight Board members requested that paragraph 19 be modified to include all "Highland Released Parties."

While the issue is arguably addressed in Section 16(a), we see no harm and attach a proposed revision that is, of course, reciprocal.

Please let us know if this is acceptable. If so, we'll send a fully revised agreement.

Please also let us know if you have any comments on the draft Rule 9019 motion. If we can obtain UBS' consent tomorrow, we want to get this filed.

Thank you,

John

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

(b) THE HMIT ENTITIES SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST IS TRANSFERRING THE KIRSCHNER

CLAIMS ON AN "AS IS AND WITH ALL FAULTS" BASIS AND THAT THE HMIT ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (i) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (ii) any HMIT Entity materially breaches this Agreement, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland

Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10^{53}4 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no effect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS

EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

27. Notices. All notices required or permitted to be provided hereunder shall be afforded to the respective parties to and through their counsel, and shall be transmitted simultaneously by electronic mail (with PDF attachments, as necessary) and by telefax, addressed as follows:

Thank you. Can I roll forward the dates on the signature pages to May 19?

We are planning on filing a version of the settlement agreement with /s/ signatures rather than formal signatures. We'll still have a version with actual signatures that I'll circulate once everyone is released.

Please let us know when you expect to send a proposal. We are prepared to meet with you and Mark (and any other Representatives who sign the NDA) in Dallas or New York promptly thereafter.

I'm available if you want to discuss anything in the interim. Otherwise, have a good weekend.

Jim,

Louis sent back a signed NDA.

There is at least one change (the deletion of the word "Dugaboy" from item 3 of Exhibit A, which is fine), but he didn't send a black line so I'm trying to confirm there is nothing else.

If anyone knows how to compare, please do so.

But send me the signed version in the meantime at your convenience.

Also, it might make sense to dust off the "litigation protections" and conform them to the Patrick parties. Please let me know if you and Tim want to handle that or if you want us to do so; I'm not sure when we present them to Louis, but we should be prepared.

I'll be available to talk between 11:30 and 5 pm today.

Chat soon,

John

Recitals

WHEREAS, Mr. Patrick hereby represents and warrants that he is a control person for each of Hunter Mountain, the DAF Entities and the Rand Entities;

WHEREAS, there are several active litigations to which Highland or one of its affiliates, on the one hand, and one or more of the Recipients, on the other hand, are parties, including, without limitation, the matters set forth on Exhibit A hereto (collectively, the "Pending Litigations");

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to enter into good faith settlement discussions in an effort to reach a mutually acceptable global resolution to the Pending Litigations and all potential claims and causes of action against each other (the "Potential Settlement");

WHEREAS, in connection with negotiating the Potential Settlement, it is anticipated that Highland will provide the Recipients with certain Confidential Information (as hereinafter defined); and

WHEREAS, as a condition to Highland providing Recipients with any such Confidential Information, the Recipients agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

Agreement

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged and agreed, the Parties, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree as follows:

1. Representations and Warranties

(a) Each Party hereby represents and warrants to the other Parties as follows:

(i) Existence and Good Standing. Such Party is a legal entity duly organized, validly existing and, to the extent applicable in such jurisdiction, in good standing under the Laws (as hereinafter defined) of the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated or formed. Such Party has all requisite corporate or similar right, power, authority and capacity to own, lease and operate the properties and assets it owns, leases and operates. Each Party is qualified to do business as a foreign entity in each jurisdiction in which its ownership of property or the conduct of its business as now conducted requires it to qualify.

(ii) Authority; Enforceability. Such Party has the full power and authority to execute this Agreement and to perform its obligations under this Agreement. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement have been duly and validly authorized by all required action on behalf of such Party in accordance with its respective Organizational Documents (as hereinafter defined) and applicable Law. This Agreement constitute the valid and binding obligations of, and enforceable against, such Party.

(iii) No Violations. The execution and delivery by such Party of this Agreement, the performance and compliance with the terms and conditions hereof and thereof by such Party, and the performance by such Parent of its obligations contemplated hereby, in each case, will not (with or without notice or passage of time, or both):

(1) violate, conflict with, result in a breach of or constitute a default under any of the provisions of the Organizational Documents of such Party; or

(2) breach, violate or conflict with any provision of any Law or Permit applicable to such Party.

(iv) Legal Proceedings. There are no judicial, administrative or arbitral actions, suits, hearings, inquiries, charges, investigations, administrative proceedings, grievances or formal complaints or other proceedings (public or private) commenced, brought, conducted or heard before, or otherwise involving, any Governmental Entity or arbitrator, in each case, pending nor threatened that (i) challenge the validity or enforceability of Party's obligations under this Agreement or (b) seek to prevent or delay, or otherwise would reasonably be expected to adversely affect, the performance by such Party of its obligations hereunder.

(b) Each Recipient hereby represents and warrants to Highland as follows:

(i) None of James Dondero, nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by Mr. Dondero (including, without limitation, Dugaboy Investment Trust) nor or any attorney, agent, employee, or representative engaged or working for benefit of Mr. Dondero nor any Person directly or indirectly owned or controlled by him (collectively, the "Dondero Related Parties") directly or indirectly owns any interest in, or directly or indirectly has any control over, such Recipient, including, without limitation, as the result of any written or oral contract, agreement, arrangement or obligation.

(ii) Such Recipient does not represent and is not acting on behalf of any Dondero Related Party.

(iii) Such Recipient has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and is not representing or acting on behalf of any Person with such a duty or obligation.

2. Confidential and Proprietary Nature of the Information

Recipients acknowledge the confidential and proprietary nature of the Confidential Information, agree to hold and keep the Confidential Information in strict confidence as provided in this Agreement, agree that the use of any such Confidential Information is expressly limited to the pursuit of a Potential Settlement and shall not be used for any other purpose or in any other manner except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and otherwise agree to each and every restriction and obligation in this Agreement.

3. Confidential Information

As used in this Agreement, the term "Confidential Information" means and includes (a) any and all of the following items that will be disclosed to any Recipient or any of their respective Representatives (as hereinafter defined) by or on behalf of Highland, whether orally or in writing and without regard to whether Highland has specifically designated such item as confidential, proprietary or non-public: any and all confidential, proprietary or non-public information concerning the business or affairs of Highland or any of its affiliates or related accounts, or other Persons (as hereinafter defined) (which includes, for the avoidance of doubt and without limitation, Highland Claimant Trust, Highland Litigation Sub-Trust, Highland Indemnity Trust, each of their and Highland's direct and indirect subsidiaries, and each of their respective affiliates, and its and their respective parent entities, beneficiaries, members, shareholders, owners, creditors, trustees, oversight boards, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, advisors and representatives (collectively, the "Highland Related Parties")), including, without limitation, any written or oral information, reports and data concerning financial statements, assets, liabilities, indemnity and other obligations, cash flow, income, and expenses; past, current or planned investment or portfolio information; contracts and agreements; know-how, inventions and ideas, whether past, current or planned; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor lists; partner, beneficiary, owner or investor information; business plans; entity structure details; all compliance-related reports, records and information; and any other information, however documented, that is proprietary or non-public or is a trade secret within the meaning of applicable state trade secret Law, and (b) any and all statements or representations made in the course of discussing, negotiating or evaluating a Potential Settlement, including, without limitation, the terms of any Potential Settlement and the fact that (i) Confidential Information has been disclosed to Recipient and (ii) any discussions or negotiations are taking place concerning a Potential Settlement.

To the extent that any Confidential Information includes information or materials subject to the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege concerning pending or threatened legal proceedings or governmental investigations, the Parties understand and agree that they have a commonality of interest with respect to such matters, and it is their desire, intention, and mutual understanding that the sharing of such information or materials is not intended to, and shall not, waive or diminish in any way the confidentiality of such information or material or its continued protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege. Accordingly, all Confidential Information disclosed by or on behalf of Highland that is entitled to protection under the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or other applicable privilege shall remain entitled to such protection under these privileges and this Agreement.

4. Restricted Use of Confidential Information

Recipients agree that the Confidential Information (a) shall be kept strictly confidential by each Recipient and (b) without limiting the foregoing, shall not be disclosed by or on behalf of any Recipient to any Person (as hereinafter defined) except as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. It is understood and the Recipients agree that Confidential Information may only be disclosed to Mr. Patrick and such specific legal counsel, accountants and financial advisors of the Recipients to whom such disclosure has been consented to in writing by Highland in its sole discretion (which consent may be given via email) (collectively "Representatives") and who (i) require such Confidential Information for the purpose of evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement (ii) are informed by Recipient of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and the obligations set forth in this Agreement, and (iii) execute a written joinder in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit B pursuant to which the Representative agrees to be bound to this Agreement as if they were an original Party hereto, with such joinder including, without limitation, a representation and warranty that such Representative (1) does not currently represent any Dondero Related Party and (2) has no duty or obligation to provide any Confidential Information to any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether through a common or joint interest agreement or otherwise, and does not represent any Person with such a duty or obligation. Recipients further agree that Recipients and their Representatives shall not use any of the Confidential Information to the detriment of Highland or any Highland Related Party or for any reason or purpose other than evaluating, negotiating or consummating a Proposed Settlement. Recipients shall enforce this Agreement as to its Representatives and take such action, legal or otherwise, to the extent necessary to cause them to comply with this Agreement and thereby prevent any disclosure of Confidential Information by any of its Representatives (including, without limitation, all actions that any Recipient would take to protect its own confidential information).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the Recipients and their Representatives shall not disclose or refer to any Confidential Information to (a) subject to Section 5 below, any Governmental Entity (as hereinafter defined), including, without limitation, in any pleadings or submissions, or (b) any Dondero Related Party. The Parties acknowledge that it is their collective intent that no Confidential Information disclosed hereunder may be examined in any proceeding of a Governmental Entity (or any discovery relating to any such proceeding), and all Confidential Information shall be entitled to all protections applicable under Federal Rule of Evidence 408 and any other protections afforded to settlement and compromise communications under any other applicable Law.

5. Legally Compelled Disclosure

If any Recipient or any of its Representatives becomes compelled by Law (whether by oral questions, interrogatories, requests for information or documents, subpoena, civil or criminal investigative demand, or similar process) to make any disclosure that is prohibited or otherwise constrained by this Agreement, such Recipient or its Representative, as the case may be, shall provide Highland with immediate notice of such legal proceedings, including all related documentation, so Highland may (a) seek an appropriate protective order or other appropriate relief, or (b) waive compliance with the provisions of this Agreement. In the absence of a protective order or Recipients receiving a written waiver from Highland, Recipients or their Representatives are permitted (with Highland's cooperation but at Recipient's expense) to disclose that portion (and only that portion) of the Confidential Information that Recipient or its Representative is legally compelled by an order of an applicable Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction to disclose; provided, however, that Recipient and its Representatives must use best efforts to obtain reliable assurance that confidential treatment will be accorded by any Person to whom any Confidential Information is so disclosed.

6. Return or Destruction of Confidential Information

If Highland notifies Recipients that it wishes Recipients to return all Confidential Information, then Recipients (i) shall promptly deliver to Highland all documents or other materials disclosed by or on behalf of Highland to Recipient or its Representatives constituting Confidential Information, together with all copies and summaries thereof in the possession or under the control of Recipients or their Representatives, and (ii) will destroy materials generated by Recipients or their Representatives that include or refer to any part of the Confidential Information, without retaining any copies, including, without limitation, any electronically stored copies or attachments to emails, of any such documents or materials. Written notice of return or destruction shall constitute a valid termination of access to Confidential Information and shall be deemed to have been given at the time Highland sends such notice. Such notice may be sent in any manner reasonably calculated to notify Recipients of the termination.

7. No Obligation to Negotiate a Potential Settlement

None of the Parties shall have rights or obligations of any kind whatsoever with respect to any Potential Settlement by virtue of this Agreement other than for the matters specifically agreed to herein. Without limiting the preceding sentence, nothing in this Agreement requires any Party to enter into any Potential Settlement or to negotiate the same for any specified period of time or on any specific terms.

8. No Representations or Warranties

Highland shall have no obligation to provide any information—confidential or otherwise—to the Recipients and retains the right to determine, in its sole discretion, what information, if any, it wishes to make available to Recipients, and neither Highland nor any Highland Related Party makes any representation or warranty (express or implied) concerning the completeness or accuracy of the Confidential Information.

9. Miscellaneous

(a) Modification. This Agreement may only be modified or waived by a separate writing signed by the Party or Parties expressly modifying or waiving this Agreement.

(b) Waiver. Neither the failure nor any delay by any Party in exercising any right, power, or privilege under this Agreement will operate as a waiver of such right, power, or privilege, and no single or partial exercise of any such right, power, or privilege will preclude any other or further exercise of such right, power, or privilege or the exercise of any other right, power, or privilege.

(c) Certain Definitions.

(i) The term "Governmental Entity" means any federal, national, state, foreign, provincial, local or other government or any governmental, regulatory, administrative or self-regulatory authority, agency, bureau, board, commission, court, judicial or arbitral body, department, political subdivision, tribunal or other instrumentality thereof, including any fiscal intermediary or administrative contractor acting on behalf of any of the foregoing.

(ii) The term "Law" means any law, rule, regulation, statute, code, ordinance, decree or other restriction of any Governmental Entity or any order, injunction, judgment, decree, ruling, writ, assessment or award of a Governmental Entity.

(iii) The term "Organizational Documents" means certificates of incorporation, bylaws, certificates of formation, certificates of trust, limited liability company agreements, limited liability partnership agreements, partnership or limited partnership agreements, trust agreements or other similar formation or governing documents of any Person, in each case, as amended, restated or otherwise modified to date.

(iv) The term "Person" means any individual, corporation (including any non-profit corporation), general or limited partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, estate, trust, association, organization, labor union, any other business entity, or a Governmental Entity.

(d) Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provisions of this Agreement, which shall remain in full force and effect. If any of the terms, covenants or provisions of this Agreement are determined to be unenforceable by reason of its extent, duration, scope or otherwise, then the Parties contemplate and intend that the authority making such determination shall reduce such extent, duration, scope or other provision and enforce them in their reduced form for all purposes contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) Breach. Recipients agree that Highland will be irreparably injured by a breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or its Representatives, that monetary remedies will be inadequate to protect Highland against any actual or threatened breach of this Agreement by any Recipient or by its Representatives, and that Highland shall be entitled to an injunction or other equitable relief as a remedy for any breach as a matter of right and without the necessity of having to post a bond. Such remedy shall not be deemed to be the exclusive remedy for a breach of this Agreement, but shall be in addition to all other remedies available at law or equity. The non-prevailing Party shall pay the other Party's costs and expenses in any action to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

(f) Liability and Indemnity. Recipients shall, jointly and severally, be liable to and shall indemnify and hold Highland and the Highland Related Parties harmless from and against any and all claims, suits, losses, damages, costs or expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred or suffered by Highland or any Highland Related Party as a result of any Recipient or its Representatives violation of this Agreement, including, without limitation, using or disclosing any Confidential Information other than in accordance with this Agreement, whether such use or disclosure is performed negligently or otherwise.

(g) Notices. All notices, requests, demands, claims, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing. Any notice, request, demand, claim or other communication hereunder shall be deemed duly delivered: (a) four (4) business days after it is sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; (b) one (1) business day after it is sent for next business day delivery via a reputable nationwide overnight courier service; (c) when sent, if emailed on a business day; and (d) the next business day following the day on which the email is sent if emailed on a day that is not a business day, in each case to the intended recipient as set forth below:

(h) Governing Law; Jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be interpreted and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of laws provisions. Each Party hereby irrevocably submits and acknowledges and recognizes the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (which court, for purposes of this Agreement, is the only court of competent jurisdiction), over any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of, under or in connection with this Agreement or its subject matter. Signatures of the Parties transmitted by email shall be deemed to be their original signatures for any purpose whatsoever.

(j) Headings. The headings of the sections of this Agreement are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not control or affect the meaning or construction of any of the terms of this Agreement in any manner.

(k) Construction. This Agreement has been fully negotiated by the Parties. Accordingly, in interpreting this Agreement, no weight shall be placed on which Party to this Agreement or its counsel drafted the provision being interpreted.

Louis:

I'm writing to follow up on several things.

1. Litigation Protections. Attached are the "Litigation Protections" I mentioned. They are still subject to review and material change but wanted to share them now.

2. Follow up information. It sounds like yesterday's Zoom meeting was helpful. Please let us know if there is any other information your clients need to assess the situation.

3. HCMLP's diligence. We'll have some questions on our end, but for now, please send us the Remittance Agreement referred to in the Intercreditor Agreement.

4. Joinder signature. For completeness, please send us Shawn's signature page.

5. Preliminary terms/structure. We hope to provide over the weekend a set of bullet points concerning possible terms and structure of an agreement.

6. Further meeting. Some or all of us are prepared to meet in Dallas on Tuesday at a time to be determined (some may participate by Zoom). Please let us know if that is possible as soon as you're able so we can make travel arrangements.

Please let me know if you have any questions and thank you for your continued cooperation.

John

The provisions below are collectively referred to as the "Litigation Protections." The Parties agree that the intent of the Litigation Protections is to enact a permanent cessation of all litigation concerning or related to the Highland Entities through and including the Effective Date.

GENERAL AND UNCONDITIONAL RELEASE

Upon the Effective Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the DAF/HMIT Entities[1] on behalf of himself, herself, or itself and each of its respective current or former advisors, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, affiliates (including affiliated and/or controlled funds and other investment vehicles), successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) (collectively with the DAF/HMIT Entities, the "DAF/HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the DAF/HMIT Releasors, or any person or entity claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the DAF/HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Effective Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management of the Highland Entities, or the Highland Entities' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "DAF/HMIT Entity Released Claims").

Upon the Effective Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities on behalf of itself and each of its respective current or former advisors, trustees, directors, officers, managers, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, affiliates (including affiliated and/or controlled funds and other investment vehicles), successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) in each case from and including August 11, 2021 (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each DAF/HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the Highland Releasors, or any person or entity claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the DAF/HMIT

[1] The "DAF/HMIT Entities" means, individually and collectively, Mr. Mark Patrick, Mr. Shawn Raver, Mr. Paul Murphy, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, a Delaware statutory trust, Beacon Mountain LLC, a Delaware limited liability compay, Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company, CDH GP, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company, Charitable DAF Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership, Liberty CLO Holdco, Ltd, [a Cayman Islands, exempted company], and CLO Holdco, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company, Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, Rand PE Fund I, LP, a Delaware series limited partnership, Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, Atlas IDF, LP, a Delaware limited partnership, and Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Effective Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management of the Highland Entities, or the Highland Entities' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Entity Released Claims" and together with the DAF/HMIT Entity Released Claims, the "Released Claims"). Notwithstanding the forgoing, "Highland Releasors" does not include James Dondero, Scott Ellington, Isaac Leventon, or any entity directly or indirectly owned (in whole or in part) and/or controlled by Mr. Dondero or Mr. Ellington or Mr. Leventon.

FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASE IS INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDES, WITHOUT LIMITATION, A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE EFFECTIVE DATE.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other DAF/HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other DAF/HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waive the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other DAF/HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE DAF/HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER DAF/HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other DAF/HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the DAF/HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Section [_] hereof, should:

(a) any DAF/HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any DAF/HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any DAF/HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Patrick Alleged Claim"), such DAF/HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Patrick Alleged Claim to the Highland Claimant Trust and the Highland Claimant Trust will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Patrick Alleged Claim.

(b) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any DAF/HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to Mr. Mark Patrick and Mr. Mark Patrick will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF EITHER PARTY OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE DAF/HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

COVENANT NOT TO SUE; LIMITATION ON STANDING

Subject to the occurrence of the Effective Date:

(a) each of the DAF/HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any action, suit, or proceeding, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, or collect any DAF/HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other party to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other party in doing so.

(b) each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any action, suit, or proceeding, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the DAF/HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other party to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other party in doing so.

Louis,

Following up.

1. Meeting. We propose that the business folks (including Mark and Jim) meet in person at Highland's offices at 10:30 am Central Time tomorrow (casual dress, no suits), with lawyers participating by Zoom; if you want to attend in person, Jeff may attend in person as well so let me know (I am unable to attend in person because of other commitments).

2. DAF/HMIT information request. During tomorrow's meeting, Highland will provide the information requested below (and can quickly walk through the same information that was presented the other day for your benefit if that would be helpful).

3. Highland information request. As requested, please provide a copy of the Remittance Agreement referred to in the Intercreditor Agreement and share with us any other agreements or information concerning any current or former connection between DAF/CLOH/HMIT and Dondero/Okada/Dugaboy, including the funding of the HMIT litigation (that Mark testified to in June 2023) and the disposition of the HMIT Notes made in favor of Dugaboy and Okada. We just need to know how any agreement may impact the Dondero side, if at all.

4. NDA signatures. Please let us know who will be participating on your side and send any Joinders not previously sent (I'm not sure we received one for you and Amelia).

We look forward to your prompt response.

Regards,

John

John,

As I mentioned on the phone Friday, we request a breakdown and documentation with specificity of any (i) accrued liabilities, (ii) anticipated success or severance (or completion) payments or bonuses, (iii) continuing admin budget for the Claimant trust, Indemnification sub trust and/or litigation sub trust, and (iv) the identity and amount and basis for any holdback(s).

We are available Tuesday in Dallas. How many from your side would be participating in person? I am trying to get my travel plans situated and to make sure my travel might add to the process (for example if you, Jeff, et al from Pachulski are attending remotely so might I). I believe I can get an early flight out in the morning arriving around 7:00 am or a bit later one arriving around 8:45.

[1] As of April 3, 2025. This disclosure is NOT a balance sheet prepared in accordance with US GAAP. In some instances, values are estimated and actual amounts realized may ultimately differ materially. No liabilities are included herein, including existing liabilities, contingent liabilities, indemnification obligations, or considerations for future expenses, including costs of liquidation that have not yet been, but will be incurred.

[2] Claimant Trust, including consolidation of the various "Plan" entities other than the Indemnity Trust (HCMLP GP, LLC, Highland Capital Management, LP, Litigation Sub-Trust), each on a standalone basis, with intercompany balances eliminated.

[3] Stand-alone assets retained by the Indemnity Trust. Other than less than <$1M retained in cash, remainder of cash is invested in US treasuries with maturities less than 1 year. Excludes <$1M of cash/treasuries on account of the Okada settlement. Pursuant to the Okada settlement, these funds are segregated and are to be repaid to Okada as first-out funds to the extent that any excess exists in the Indemnity Trust. Accordingly, in a settlement scenario, these funds would not be available to Class 10 interest holders.

[4] Cash and treasuries includes full face amount of treasuries maturing within 6 months and has also been adjusted up to assume the near-term receipt of approximately $5 million from Highland CLO Funding, Ltd.

[5] Segregated funds invested in US treasuries with near-term maturities. Funds are reserved for the Daugherty tax proof of claim, which remains pending. If Highland successfully objects to the proof of claim, funds would be released from the Disputed Claims Reserve. If the claim is ultimately allowed in full or in part, funds would be paid to Daugherty on account of the allowed claim and any excess remaining would be released from the Disputed Claims Reserve.

[6] Note receivable from The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"). ~$17.4M principal and ~$0.2M interest currently outstanding, accruing at approximately $1,553/day. Fair value is less than face value as the note is long-dated, accruing interest at 3.26% and makes annual principal and interest payments through 2046, with the last of such payments due December 31, 2046. Dugaboy is current on its payments, including with the most recent payment completed for year-end 2024. Principal payments due are $790,215 yearly, plus accrued interest, which declines each year as principal declines. The next interest payment due December 31, 2025 is $566,677. No assurance that Dugaboy will continue making the annual principal and interest payments when due, although the holder of the note could accelerate and pursue collection in that event.

[7] 100% equity interest in Highland Capital Management Korea Limited ("HCM Korea"), plus $2.5 million note from HCM Korea. Ultimate value dependent on the monetization of the Caris Life Sciences investment through an expected 2025 IPO, which is expected to be in the range of $2 million to $5 million, but could also exceed or fall short of this range.

[8] Shares of Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. ("HCLOF"), a Guernsey company. Value has been adjusted down to assume a near-term cash dividend of approximately $5 million. Remaining value is primarily tied up in the "Acis 6" asset, for which a NexPoint entity has recently initiated an appeal in the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals. Ultimate value dependent on the Acis 6 litigation and costs of winding down HCLOF and expected to be in the range of $2 million to $4 million, but could also exceed or fall short of this range.

[9] Bad faith sanction against HCRE of $825,940.55, currently on appeal in the District Court. Fully briefed since November 2024. Award was posted in the court registry and is accruing post-judgment interest at a rate of $118.80/day. Approximately $870k is outstanding, including post-judgment interest currently. No assurance that the appeal will resolve favorably and as a result, there is no assurance that any amounts will ultimately be collected.

[10] Litigation brought by Marc Kirschner as Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust. Adversary proceeding is currently stayed. The value of the claims, their collectibility, and the costs of their continued pursuit is ultimately unknown. For purposes of aggregating the current value of assets for this illustrative presentation, no value has been ascribed.

[11] Within the litigation brought by Marc Kirschner as Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust were claims against HMIT relating to the "HMIT note" receivable, which had originally been a portion of the consideration HMIT paid for acquiring limited partnership interests in Highland in 2015. These claims are also stayed as part of the overall stay in the case. The value of the note, its collectibility, and the costs of their continued pursuit is ultimately unknown. For purposes of aggregating the current value of assets for this illustrative presentation, no value has been ascribed.

Net expected cash prior to any indemnification considerations and necessary reserves	$	53.7	[5]
Plus: Non-cash assets - Dugaboy Note receivable	$	17.6

[1] Note receivable from The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"). ~$17.4M principal and ~$0.2M interest currently outstanding, accruing at approximately $1,553/day. Fair value is less than face value as the note is long-dated, accruing interest at 3.26% and makes annual principal and interest payments through 2046, with the last of such payments due December 31, 2046. Dugaboy is current on its payments, including with the most recent payment completed for year-end 2024. Principal payments due are $790,215 yearly, plus accrued interest, which declines each year as principal declines. The next interest payment due December 31, 2025 is $566,677. No assurance that Dugaboy will continue making the annual principal and interest payments when due, although the holder of the note could accelerate and pursue collection in that event.

[2] Amount is ultimately TBD and will ultimately depend on litigation, timing of monetization of remaining assets, and operational needs. For example, if additional litigation is brought forth, outside counsel will incur additional time and expense and certain employees may need to be retained for a longer period of time. If actual expenses exceed $20 million, less cash would be potentially available after Class 9; if actual expenses fall short of $20 million, more cash would be potentially available after Class 9.

[3] For illustrative purposes of this presentation, $0 is assumed. However, if the claim is ultimately allowed in full or in part, funds would be paid to Daugherty on account of the allowed claim, which would reduce cash potentially available after Class 9. No assurances can be provided that the claim will be completely disallowed.

[4] For illustrative purposes of this presentation, $0 is assumed. Thus, all funds utilized for purposes of satisfying indemnification obligations will reduce the funds available dollar for dollar. Under current conditions, it is believed that at least $100 million may be needed for indemnification obligations and as a result, there is not sufficient liquidity at this time to even make any further payments to Class 9 interest holders. Assuming a final/non-appealable order, providing for among other things, a complete cessation of litigation and comprehensive releases from the HMIT/DAF parties, the need for indemnification reserves could be greatly reduced.

[5] Assumes HCM Korea, HCLOF, and HCRE bad faith sanctions are monetized for the amounts described on the "current snapshot" ($6.4 million in aggregate). Monetization in excess of these amounts would result in more cash remaining; monetization below those amounts would result in less cash remaining.

COMMUNICATION TENDERED PURSUANT TO FED. R. EVID. 408 AND THE PARTIES' CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

Louis,

We're following up on recent discussions, including the call last Friday between Mark Patrick and Jim Seery.

We are providing three groups of documents: (a) a revised settlement structure (and black line) that takes into account the discussion between Mark and Jim; (b) an illustration of sources/uses and plausible timeline for payments; and (c) the Second Amended and Restated Indemnity Trust Agreement (which we expect to be executed in the coming days).

Specifically, please find attached the following:

1. Revised draft of settlement structure (Clean)
2. Revised draft of settlement structure (Redlined against version from last week)
3. Illustrative sources and uses of timing/amounts of potential future Indemnity Trust payouts
4. Second Amended and Restated Indemnity Trust Agreement
    a. The provisions we believe the HMIT team should focus on to understand the uses and limitations of the Indemnity Trust are:
        i. Intro and First Whereas Clause with certain definitions
        ii. Section 1.1

            1. Beneficiaries
            2. Indemnified Parties
            3. Indemnity Obligations
            4. Indemnity Trust Account
            5. Indemnity Trust Assets
            6. Trust Indemnified Parties

        iii. Section 2.1(c)
        iv. Section 2.4
        v. Section 3.5
        vi. Article VIII
        vii. Section 9.12 (Okada)

Jim and his team would like to walk you and your team through these documents. We have a Board call tomorrow afternoon so if we could speak tomorrow until 3:00 pm Eastern, that would be ideal (we believe 90 minutes is sufficient). If that is not feasible, we can also be available until 1:00 pm Eastern on Friday.

Finally, if Mr. Shields is going to review any of the attached documents or participate in our discussions, please be sure to send his Joinder in advance.

Please let us know what works for your side.

Regards,

John

SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED INDEMNITY TRUST AGREEMENT

This Second Amended and Restated Indemnity Trust Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of [●], 2025, by and among the Highland Claimant Trust, a Delaware statutory trust, as grantor (the "Grantor"), James P. Seery, Jr., as indemnity trust administrator (the "Indemnity Trust Administrator," which term shall include any successor Indemnity Trust Administrator), Wilmington Trust, National Association, a national banking association ("WTNA"), as indemnity trustee, for the benefit of the Beneficiaries (in such capacity hereunder, and not in its individual capacity, the "Indemnity Trustee"), and WTNA, as the Delaware trustee (in such capacity hereunder, and not in its individual capacity, the "Delaware Trustee") (collectively, the "Parties"), amends and restates the First Amended and Restated Indemnity Trust Agreement entered into by and among the Parties, effective as of July 1, 2024 (the "Prior Agreement"). Capitalized terms used herein but not defined shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in Section 1.1.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Parties entered into the Indemnity Trust Agreement, effective as of August 16, 2021 (the "Original Indemnity Trust Agreement") to establish a Delaware statutory trust, the Indemnity Trust, for the benefit of the Beneficiaries, (a) to secure the performance by each of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust and the Reorganized Debtor of its indemnity obligations as specified in (i) Section 8.2 of that certain Claimant Trust Agreement, (ii) Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and (iii) Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, establishing the Reorganized Debtor pursuant to the Plan (the foregoing (i)-(iii), the "Indemnity Obligations"), and (b) following the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, to be the primary source of indemnification for the respective Indemnity Obligations, in each case regardless of whether such Indemnity Obligations survive the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable;

WHEREAS, the Indemnity Trust Administrator agreed to act as administrator hereunder to direct the Indemnity Trustee with respect to the transfer, distribution and release of Indemnity Trust Assets;

WHEREAS, the Indemnity Trustee agreed to act as trustee hereunder to hold and apply the Indemnity Trust Assets on behalf of the Indemnity Trust, as specified herein, for the sole use and exclusive benefit of the Beneficiaries;

WHEREAS, the Indemnity Trust is the payee under the Indemnification Funding Note;

WHEREAS, the Indemnification Funding Note requires the payors thereunder to make payments on the Indemnification Funding Note so that the Indemnity Trust Assets are not less than $25 million;

WHEREAS, the Grantor initially funded the Indemnity Trust by depositing $2.5 million in cash and the Indemnification Funding Note into the Indemnity Trust Account;

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

WHEREAS, the payors funded the Indemnification Funding Note so that the Indemnity Trust Account held approximately $25 million in cash Assets;

WHEREAS, Section 2.3(b) of the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement authorized the Grantor to transfer Assets into the Indemnity Trust Account in excess of the amount due on the Indemnification Funding Note;

WHEREAS, the Grantor regularly assesses the potential magnitude of Indemnity Obligations and whether the Indemnity Trust Assets are sufficient to cover all current or potential Indemnity Obligations;

WHEREAS, the Grantor's assessment and re-assessment of the magnitude of potential Indemnity Obligations is continually informed by developments in litigations related to the Plan, and the costs related thereto, taken against the Grantor and other Trust Indemnified Parties, as well as actions against third-parties that relate to the Plan or Trust Indemnified Parties;

WHEREAS, based upon the Grantor's initial re-assessment of the potential magnitude of Indemnity Obligations, the Grantor determined that $25 million in the Indemnity Trust Account was likely insufficient to satisfy all Indemnity Obligations then existing or arising in the future, on March 13, 2023, the Grantor transferred an additional interim amount of $7 million in cash into the Indemnity Trust Account;

WHEREAS, effective May 3, 2023, the Parties amended the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement by entering into the First Amendment to Indemnity Trust Agreement to clarify that the transfer of additional Assets to the Indemnity Trust and any additional transfers of Assets to the Indemnity Trust will be subject to the Indemnity Trust Administrator's ability to transfer Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust Account to the Claimant Trust if he determines, in his sole and absolute discretion, that amounts in excess of $32 million (the then approximate amount of Indemnity Trust Assets) in cash or other Assets are not then required to satisfy potential Indemnity Obligations;

WHEREAS, based upon the Grantor's further re-assessment of Indemnity Obligations and its determination that the Indemnity Trust Assets were then likely insufficient to satisfy all Indemnity Obligations then existing or arising in the future, on May 3, 2023, the Grantor transferred an additional interim amount of $3 million in cash into the Indemnity Trust Account;

WHEREAS, based upon the Grantor's further re-assessment of Indemnity Obligations and its determination that the Indemnity Trust Assets were then likely insufficient to satisfy all Indemnity Obligations then existing or arising in the future, on August 29, 2023, the Grantor transferred an additional interim amount of $15 million in cash into the Indemnity Trust Account;

WHEREAS, that certain Settlement Agreement was entered into as of January 11, 2024, by and among (a) Highland Capital Management, L.P.; (b) the Litigation Trustee; (c) the Claimant Trust; (d) the Indemnity Trust; (e) Mark K. Okada ("Okada"); (f) Mark & Pamela Okada Family Trust – Exempt Trust # 1 ("MAP Trust 1"); (g) Mark & Pamela Okada Family Trust – Exempt Trust #2 ("MAP Trust 2"); and (h) Lawrence Tonomura, solely in his capacity as Trustee of MAP

Trust 1 and MAP Trust 2 ("Tonomura," and together with Okada, MAP Trust 1, and MAP Trust 2, the "Okada Parties"), and such Settlement Agreement became effective when approved by the Bankruptcy Court on February 7, 2024 (as so approved by the Bankruptcy Court, the "Okada Settlement Agreement");

WHEREAS, based upon the Grantor's further re-assessment of Indemnity Obligations and its determination that the Indemnity Trust Assets were then likely insufficient to satisfy all Indemnity Obligations then existing or arising in the future, on December 24, 2024, the Grantor transferred an additional interim amount of $10 million in cash into the Indemnity Trust Account;

WHEREAS, the Grantor continually re-assesses all existing and potential Indemnity Obligations, and based on developing litigation threats and litigation actions involving Trust Indemnified Parties it has determined the current cash and US Treasury balance of the Indemnity Trust Account of approximately $68.7 million (including the face value of US Treasuries with maturities of less than 1 (one) year, but excluding non-cash assets) is likely insufficient to satisfy existing and potential future Indemnification Obligations and additional Assets will be required to satisfy all Indemnification Obligations absent final court resolution of certain litigation issues and/or comprehensive settlements;

WHEREAS, the Grantor has a limited life and (a) certain of the books and records and privileges of its subsidiaries are required by regulation to be maintained beyond its permitted life, and (b) certain of its books and records and privileges and the books and records and privileges of its subsidiaries are essential to support Indemnified Obligations for the benefit of Beneficiaries;

WHEREAS, in order for the Indemnity Trust to efficiently support its obligation to satisfy all Indemnity Obligations for the benefit of the Beneficiaries, it must maintain records and privileges currently maintained for the benefit of the Beneficiaries beyond the life of the Grantor, including by owning additional non-cash Assets contributed to it by the Grantor;

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to make additional amendments consistent with the Prior Agreement in order to facilitate the efficient management of the Indemnity Trust and the Indemnity Trust Assets for the benefit of the Beneficiaries; and

WHEREAS, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises, and upon the terms and conditions, set forth herein, the Parties agree to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety as follows:

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

ARTICLE II.
INDEMNITY TRUST AND INDEMNITY TRUST ACCOUNT

2.1 Creation of Trust and Establishment of Account.

(a) Pursuant to the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement, the Indemnity Trust was created as a statutory trust under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and shall be called the "Highland Indemnity Trust", and the Indemnity Trust is hereby continued. The Indemnity Trustee shall be empowered to conduct all business and hold all property constituting the Indemnity Trust Assets in such name in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein.

(b) Pursuant to the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement, the Delaware Trustee and the Indemnity Trustee have caused to be executed and filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware a Certificate of Trust for the Indemnity Trust, and each of them agree to execute, such certificates as may from time to time be required under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act or any other Delaware law, in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein.

(c) Pursuant to the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement, the Grantor established a trust account with the Indemnity Trustee in the name of the Indemnity Trust with account no. 150474-000 (the "Indemnity Trust Account"), which shall be a segregated non-interest bearing trust account for the sole use and exclusive benefit of the Beneficiaries upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth. For all purposes of this Agreement, the term "Indemnity Trust Account" means the funds and Assets held by the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust hereunder constituting the corpus of the Indemnity Trust, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

2.2 Authorization to Receive Assets. The Indemnity Trustee and its lawfully appointed successors are authorized and shall have the power to receive such Assets as the Grantor shall transfer or cause to be transferred to the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust, and to hold, invest, reinvest, manage and dispose of the same for the uses and purposes and in the manner and according to the provisions hereinafter set forth. All such Assets placed in the Indemnity Trust shall at all times be maintained in the Indemnity Trust Account, separate and distinct from all other assets of the Grantor, and within the dominion and control of the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust for the benefit of the Beneficiaries.

2.3 Deposit of Assets to the Indemnity Trust Account.

(a) Pursuant to the Original Indemnity Trust Agreement, the Grantor transferred to the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust, for deposit in the Indemnity Trust Account, cash in an amount equal to $2,500,000 and an Indemnification Funding Note, the form of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

(b) Thereafter, the Grantor (or any other person on behalf of the Grantor) may from time to time transfer to the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust, for deposit to the Indemnity Trust Account or to be otherwise held by the Indemnity Trustee for the benefit of the Beneficiaries, any Assets, including pursuant to Section 9.12(a) or Section 9.12(b), as payments under the Indemnification Funding Note or otherwise for the benefit of the Beneficiaries; provided that such Assets shall be valued according to their current fair market value. Any interest or investment income on such Assets, to the extent not invested or reinvested, shall be retained in the Indemnity Trust Account and will be considered a part of the corpus of the Indemnity Trust and included in the balance of the Indemnity Trust Account. The Indemnity Trustee shall not be responsible for valuing any Indemnity Trust Assets.

(c) Upon receipt at any time of a contribution or payment from the Grantor (or any other person on behalf of the Grantor) and after giving effect to any payments required to be made hereunder, the Indemnity Trustee shall invest available Indemnity Trust Assets in Permitted Investments but only at and in accordance with the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator; provided, that whether any Indemnity Trust Asset should be held in its original form, disposed of or liquidated, or invested in Permitted Investments shall be determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator in his sole and absolute discretion. The Indemnity Trustee may conclusively and exclusively rely on any such investment direction and shall bear no Liability for any loss or other injury based on acting or omitting to act in accordance with such investment direction. All such Permitted Investments shall constitute Indemnity Trust Assets and be held by the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust in the Indemnity Trust Account for the benefit of the Beneficiaries. In the absence of such written direction, the Indemnity Trust Assets including any available funds shall be held uninvested in the Indemnity Trust Account. Any earnings and income shall become part of the Indemnity Trust Assets and disbursed in accordance with this Agreement. The Indemnity Trustee is hereby authorized and directed to sell or redeem any such investments as it deems necessary to make any payments or distributions required or permitted under this Agreement; provided that the Acis 7 Proceeds and any PetroCap Proceeds may be expended only in the order contemplated in Section 9.12(d) as instructed in writing by the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trustee shall have no responsibility or Liability for any loss which may result from any investment or sale of investment made pursuant to this Agreement or any disbursement instructed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trustee is hereby authorized, in making or disposing of any investment permitted by this Agreement, to deal with itself (in its individual capacity) or with any one or more of its affiliates, whether it or any such affiliate is acting as agent of the Indemnity Trustee or for any third person or dealing as principal for its own account. The Parties acknowledge that the Indemnity Trustee is not providing investment supervision, recommendations, or advice.

2.4 Withdrawals on Behalf of the Beneficiaries.

(a) The Indemnity Trust shall pay or reimburse the applicable Beneficiary for the amounts requested by such Beneficiary (i) to be paid by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, with respect to its Indemnity Obligations to the extent not otherwise paid by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, and (ii) following the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, for any claims that if brought against such Beneficiary would have been subject to indemnification under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust or Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, as applicable, in each case regardless of whether such Indemnity Obligations survive the dissolution or termination and cancellation of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, pursuant to the procedures set forth below. With respect to clause (ii) above, the Indemnity Trust shall assume for the benefit of the Beneficiaries the Indemnity Obligations on the terms set forth herein.

(b) The Indemnity Trustee shall (i) make withdrawals of Indemnity Trust Assets, as instructed in writing by the Indemnity Trust Administrator as described herein pursuant to a Withdrawal Notice, to satisfy amounts due under the Indemnity Obligations in accordance with this Agreement, and (ii) take any action with respect to the Indemnity Trust Assets, as instructed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, promptly and, in any event, within three (3) Business Days following receipt of such instruction. The Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely upon any Withdrawal Notice or other written instruction provided to it by the Indemnity Trust Administrator with respect to any withdrawals of Indemnity Trust Assets or other action with respect to the Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with this Agreement without further inquiry or Liability.

(c) At any time prior to the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, any Beneficiary who has made a claim for indemnity to the Claimant Trust pursuant to Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub Trust Agreement or Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, as applicable, but has not been paid in full within fourteen (14) days of such claim for indemnification may make a request for withdrawal of Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust Account by delivering a written notice to the Indemnity Trust Administrator (with a copy to the Indemnity Trustee), substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B ("Beneficiary Withdrawal Request"), setting forth (i) a certification that such Beneficiary has made a claim for indemnification to the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as the case may be, which was not paid in full within fourteen (14) days of such claim for indemnification and (ii) the amount owed to such Beneficiary with respect to such claim for indemnification (the "Indemnified Amount"). For the avoidance of doubt, the Indemnity Trustee shall have no duty or Liability to review any Beneficiary Withdrawal Request or verify any information contained therein, it being understood and agreed that the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall be solely responsible for doing so.

(d) At any time following the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, any Beneficiary may make a claim for the Indemnified Amount by making a request for withdrawal of Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust Account by delivering a Beneficiary Withdrawal Request to the Indemnity Trust Administrator (with a copy to the Indemnity Trustee);

(e) Following receipt of a Beneficiary Withdrawal Request, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall (i) verify whether such Beneficiary has made a claim for indemnification and has not been paid in full by the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, within fourteen (14) days of such claim for indemnification (provided that this clause (i) shall not be applicable to claims made pursuant to Section 2.4(d)); (ii) review the supporting documents attached to such Beneficiary Withdrawal Request; and (iii) deliver a written notice to the Indemnity Trustee (with a copy to the applicable Beneficiary) in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C (the "Withdrawal Notice"). The Withdrawal Notice shall specify the amount to be paid to the applicable Beneficiary and any applicable wire transfer instructions as may be required by the Indemnity Trustee to make such payment. All payments by the Indemnity Trustee to any Beneficiary hereunder shall be sent by wire transfer. The Indemnity Trustee shall have no obligation to determine whether the Indemnity Trust Administrator has complied with the provisions of this Section 2.4(e). If the Indemnity Trust Administrator does not issue a Withdrawal Notice within two (2) Business Days of receipt of a Beneficiary Withdrawal Request, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall provide the applicable Beneficiary, no later than the third (3rd) Business Day following receipt of the Beneficiary Withdrawal Request, with an explanation in writing of the reasons for the denial of the Beneficiary Withdrawal Request. All disputes related to Beneficiary Withdrawal Requests shall be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court, or another court of competent jurisdiction, in accordance with Section 9.10 of this Agreement. The Indemnity Trustee is entitled to conclusively rely on any order from the Bankruptcy Court or other court of competent jurisdiction concerning any such disputes.

(f) Within three (3) Business Days of receipt of such Withdrawal Notice, the Indemnity Trustee shall pay by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the applicable Beneficiary the lesser of (i) the Indemnified Amount and (ii) the amount of funds in the Indemnity Trust Account, provided that if the Indemnity Trust Account contains insufficient funds to pay the amounts set forth in such Withdrawal Notice, any such unpaid amounts will be paid by the Indemnity Trustee within three (3) Business Days of receipt by the Indemnity Trustee in the Indemnity Trust Account of sufficient funds (including, for the avoidance of doubt, from any funds subsequently received as payments on the Indemnification Funding Note) to pay any portion thereof.

(g) If any Beneficiary who has made a claim for indemnification hereunder receives payment with respect to such claim for indemnification from the Claimant Trust or any other source, such Beneficiary must promptly notify the Indemnity Trust Administrator (with a copy to the Indemnity Trustee), upon which the applicable request for payment from the

Indemnity Trust will be revised accordingly, and to the extent that any such amounts were already received from the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his reasonable discretion, shall cause such Beneficiary to repay or return such amounts to the Indemnity Trust Account, without interest, or offset such amounts against any future requests for indemnification.

(h) For the avoidance of doubt, the Indemnity Trustee shall withdraw Indemnity Trust Assets credited to the Indemnity Trust Account without notice to or the consent of the Grantor at any time and from time to time upon a Withdrawal Notice or other written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.4. No other statement or document need be presented to the Indemnity Trustee by the Indemnity Trust Administrator in order to withdraw Indemnity Trust Assets credited to the Indemnity Trust Account. Upon receipt of a Withdrawal Notice or other written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.4 by the Indemnity Trustee, the Indemnity Trustee shall promptly take any and all necessary steps to pay the applicable Beneficiary and, when appropriate, to liquidate (but only at the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator) non-cash Indemnity Trust Assets in the Indemnity Trust to pay the applicable Beneficiary. The Indemnity Trustee shall be fully protected in conclusively relying upon any such Withdrawal Notice or other written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator delivered in accordance with this Agreement for such withdrawal and shall not be obligated to investigate or ascertain that the applicable Beneficiary intends to use or uses the Indemnity Trust Assets withdrawn for the purposes set forth herein. Except for acts or omissions involving its own gross negligence or willful misconduct, the Indemnity Trustee shall not be liable to the Grantor, any Beneficiary, the Indemnity Trust Administrator or any third party, for any withdrawals or payments made pursuant to a Withdrawal Notice or other written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator delivered in accordance with this Agreement.

ARTICLE III.
INDEMNITY TRUST ADMINISTRATOR

3.1 Authority.

(a) For any action contemplated or required in connection with the operation of the Indemnity Trust, and for any guidance or instruction to be provided to the Indemnity Trustee, such function, rights and responsibility shall be vested in the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trust Administrator is an express agent of the Indemnity Trust and is not a delegatee of the Indemnity Trustee.

(b) The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall have the power to take any actions the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion, deems desirable or necessary in connection with the operation of the Indemnity Trust. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the right and power of the Indemnity Trust Administrator to direct the Indemnity Trustee to invest the Indemnity Trust Assets, the proceeds thereof, or any income earned by the Indemnity Trust shall be limited to the right and power to invest such Indemnity Trust Assets only in cash and U.S. Government securities as defined in section 29(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act; provided, however, that the scope of any such permissible investments shall be further limited to include only those investments that a "liquidating trust" within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 301.7701-4(d) may be permitted to hold pursuant to the Treasury

Regulations, or any modification in the Internal Revenue Guidelines, whether set forth in IRS rulings, other IRS pronouncements, or otherwise; including, for the avoidance of doubt, any obligations of the United States Treasury, including bills, notes, bonds, or TIPS having a remaining maturity of less than one year at the time of investment ("Permitted Investments"). The Indemnity Trustee shall have no duty to determine if any investment direction provided to it by the Indemnity Trust Administrator satisfies the definition of "Permitted Investments" hereunder. In the event that market conditions are such that negative interest applies to amounts deposited in the Indemnity Trust Account, the Grantor shall be responsible for the payment of such interest and the Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to deduct from amounts on deposit with it an amount necessary to pay such negative interest. For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification protections afforded to the Indemnity Trustee under Section 7.2 shall cover any interest-related expenses (including, but not limited to, negative interest) incurred by the Indemnity Trustee in the performance of its duties hereunder.

(c) The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall have the power and authority to retain counsel, tax advisors, consultants, brokers and other experts or advisors, as he considers appropriate to address any matter relating to the Indemnity Trust. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to the extent the Indemnity Trust Administrator identifies any conflict of interest in his capacity as a Beneficiary, on the one hand, and the Indemnity Trust Administrator, on the other, or otherwise relating to the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trust Administrator may retain such advisors or experts, as he, in his sole and absolute discretion, considers appropriate to evaluate and resolve any such conflict of interest. The cost of any such advisors or experts will be paid by the Claimant Trust, and if not paid in a timely fashion, may represent a claim for indemnity under this Agreement. The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall keep a record of such fees and expenses incurred and upon the request of the Grantor or any Beneficiary, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall promptly permit the requesting Party or Beneficiary, its respective agents, employees or independent auditors to examine, audit, excerpt, transcribe and copy such records, during normal business hours at the expense of such requesting Party or Beneficiary.

3.2 Records; Reporting.

(a) The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall create and maintain a record of any Beneficiary who makes a claim hereunder at his office or at such other place or places as it shall designate from time to time, which shall be subject to inspection by any Beneficiary upon request; provided that such Beneficiary may be required to agree to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

(b) The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall provide quarterly reporting to the Oversight Board (for so long as it exists) of the Claimant Trust and the Advisory Representatives of (i) the status of the Indemnity Trust Assets, (ii) the balance of cash held by the Indemnity Trust, (iii) the status of any claims made by Beneficiaries and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (vii) operating expenses; provided, however, that the Indemnity Trust Administrator may, with respect to any member of the Oversight Board of the Claimant Trust or Advisory Representative, redact any portion of such reports that relate to such person's or entity's claim for indemnification hereunder, as applicable, and any reporting provided hereunder may be subject to such member of the Oversight Board of the Claimant Trust or Advisory Representative's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

3.3 Term of Service. The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall serve as the Indemnity Trust Administrator for the duration of the Indemnity Trust, subject to death, disability, resignation or removal.

3.4 Resignation or Removal of the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(a) The Indemnity Trust Administrator may resign as Indemnity Trust Administrator at any time by giving not less than thirty (30) days' written notice thereof to the Grantor and the Indemnity Trustee. Upon the resignation of the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the successor Indemnity Trust Administrator will be appointed in accordance with Section 3.4(d). The resignation of the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall become effective on the acceptance of appointment by a successor Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(b) The Indemnity Trust Administrator may be removed for Cause immediately upon notice thereof by the Grantor as the Grantor deems appropriate or upon the request of a Beneficiary; provided that such notice shall be accompanied by a final order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action, or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, by a final order of such other court of competent jurisdiction establishing Cause.

(c) [Reserved]

(d) In the event of a vacancy by reason of Cause, or the death or Disability of the Indemnity Trust Administrator or prospective vacancy by reason of resignation, the successor Indemnity Trust Administrator shall be Richard Katz (the Independent Member of the Oversight Board of Grantor as of the date hereof), and in the event of a vacancy by reason of Cause, or the death or Disability of the fallback successor Indemnity Trust Administrator, the contingent successor shall be David Klos (the CFO of Highland Capital Management, L.P. as of the date hereof). In the event that neither Richard Katz nor David Klos is able or willing to serve as Indemnity Trust Administrator, a majority of the Advisory Representatives willing to vote shall select the successor. Any such successor Indemnity Trust Administrator shall be appointed as soon as practicable, but in any event no later than thirty (30) days after the occurrence of the vacancy or, in the case of resignation, on the effective date of the resignation of the-then acting Indemnity Trust Administrator.

3.5 Expenses and Other Payments to the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(a) The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall not be compensated for its services under this Agreement; provided that the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall be paid or reimbursed for all of the Indemnity Trust Administrator's reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements in connection with his duties under this Agreement (including reasonable attorney's fees and expenses in his capacity as such), except any such expense or disbursement as may arise from the Indemnity Trustee's fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence. The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall keep a record of such expenses and upon the request of the Grantor or any Beneficiary, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall promptly permit the requesting Party or Beneficiary, its respective agents, employees or independent auditors to examine, audit, excerpt, transcribe and copy such records, during normal business hours at the expense of such requesting Party or Beneficiary.

(b) In the event that the Grantor is dissolved and Assets or Liabilities are transferred to the Indemnity Trust in accordance with this Agreement, nothing in this Agreement shall prohibit the Indemnity Trust from (i) compensating the Indemnity Trust Administrator in his capacity as an officer, other employee, or agent of such Assets or Liabilities for managing such Assets or Liabilities or (ii) compensating any other officers, employees, or agents of such Assets or Liabilities in assisting in the management of such Assets or Liabilities; provided, however, that any such compensation shall be paid solely from funds advanced to the Indemnity Trust with (or in connection with) the Assets or Liabilities transferred, and such funds shall be accounted for and managed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator separate and apart from the Indemnity Trust Assets.

ARTICLE IV.
THE INDEMNITY TRUSTEE AND DELAWARE TRUSTEE

4.1 Indemnity Trustee Authority and Duties.

(a) The Indemnity Trustee shall have the power and authority to hold legal title on behalf of the Indemnity Trust to any and all Assets and rights of the Indemnity Trust in accordance with the terms hereof. For the avoidance of doubt, the Beneficiaries shall be the sole beneficiaries of the Indemnity Trust and the Indemnity Trustee on behalf of the Indemnity Trust shall retain only such incidents of ownership as are necessary to undertake the actions and transactions authorized herein.

(b) The Indemnity Trustee shall take written directions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in such form specified herein and otherwise satisfactory to the Indemnity Trustee, and shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely upon any such written directions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator without further inquiry or Liability.

(c) The Indemnity Trustee's duties and responsibilities hereunder shall be determined solely by the express provisions of this Agreement and no other or further duties or responsibilities shall be implied. The duties and responsibilities of the Indemnity Trustee hereunder shall be deemed purely ministerial in nature, and the Indemnity Trustee shall not be liable except for the performance of such duties, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Agreement against the Indemnity Trustee. The Indemnity Trustee shall not be liable or responsible for any loss to the Indemnity Trust Account unless the same is caused by its own willful misconduct or gross negligence. In no event shall the Indemnity Trustee be responsible or liable for special, indirect, punitive, incidental or consequential loss or damage of any kind whatsoever (including, but not limited to, loss of profit) irrespective of whether the Indemnity Trustee has been advised of the likelihood of such loss or damage and regardless of the form of action. To the extent that, at law or in equity, the Indemnity Trustee has duties (including fiduciary duties) and Liabilities relating thereto to the Indemnity Trust, the other parties hereto or any beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust, it is hereby understood and agreed by the other parties hereto that such duties and Liabilities are replaced by the duties and Liabilities of the Indemnity Trustee expressly set forth in this Agreement. The Indemnity Trustee shall have no Liability for any action taken, or errors in judgment made, in good faith by it or any of its officers, employees or agents, unless it shall have been grossly negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts. The permissive rights of the Indemnity Trustee to do things enumerated in this Agreement shall not be construed as a duty and, with respect to such permissive rights, the Indemnity Trustee shall not be answerable for other than its gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Indemnity Trustee shall not be liable for any amount in excess of the value of the Indemnity Trust Assets.

(d) The Indemnity Trustee shall take all steps and execute all instruments and documents necessary to effectuate the purpose of the Indemnity Trust and the activities contemplated herein, and take all actions necessary to comply with this Agreement and the obligations hereunder, but only upon receipt of appropriate written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trustee shall be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers vested in it by this Agreement at the request or direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator, pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, if the Indemnity Trustee is not satisfied that reasonable security or indemnity (satisfactory to the Indemnity Trustee in its sole and absolute discretion) against the costs, expenses and Liabilities which may be incurred by it in compliance with such request or direction is available to the Indemnity Trustee.

(e) The Indemnity Trustee shall have no duty or responsibility whatsoever to determine that any Indemnity Trust Assets withdrawn from the Indemnity Trust Account pursuant to this Agreement will be used and applied in the manner provided for by this Agreement. The Indemnity Trustee shall only be liable for such losses, damages or expenses which have been finally adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction to have directly resulted from its own fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

(f) The Indemnity Trustee shall not be responsible for the existence, genuineness or value of any of the Indemnity Trust Assets, for the validity of title to the Indemnity Trust Assets, or for insuring the Indemnity Trust Assets or for the payment of taxes, charges, assessments or liens upon the Indemnity Trust Assets.

(g) The Indemnity Trustee shall be paid such compensation as agreed to pursuant to a separate fee agreement. The Indemnity Trust shall promptly advance and reimburse the Indemnity Trustee for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred by the Indemnity Trustee in connection with the performance of its duties hereunder. The terms of this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement and/or the earlier resignation or removal of the Indemnity Trustee.

(h) The Indemnity Trustee shall not be required to risk or expend its own funds in performing its obligations under this Agreement.

(i) The Indemnity Trustee shall not be bound to make any investigation into the facts or matters stated in any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, bond, debenture, note, other evidence of indebtedness or other paper or document provided to the Indemnity Trustee by the Indemnity Trust

Administrator or the Beneficiaries. The Indemnity Trustee may execute any of the trusts or powers hereunder or perform any duties hereunder either directly or by or through agents, attorneys, custodians or nominees, and the Indemnity Trustee shall not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of, or for the supervision of, any such agent, attorney, custodian or nominee appointed with due care by it.

(j) The Indemnity Trustee shall be protected in acting upon any statement, notice, resolution, request, consent, order, certificate, report, appraisal, opinion, facsimile, electronic media, letter or other paper or document believed by the Indemnity Trustee to be genuine and to have been signed, sent or presented by the proper Party or Parties. All notices to the Indemnity Trustee (unless otherwise provided therein) shall be deemed to be effective when received by an officer of the Indemnity Trustee with direct responsibility for the administration of this Agreement.

(k) Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, the Indemnity Trustee is authorized to follow and rely upon all written instructions given by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and by attorneys-in-fact acting under written authority furnished to the Indemnity Trustee by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, including instructions given by electronic media, letter and facsimile transmission, if the Indemnity Trustee believes such instructions to be genuine and to have been signed by the proper party or parties. The Indemnity Trustee shall not incur any Liability to anyone resulting from actions taken by the Indemnity Trustee in reliance in good faith on such written instructions.

(l) The Indemnity Trustee represents and warrants that (i) it is a national banking association; and (ii) it is not a parent, subsidiary or affiliate of the Grantor, any Beneficiary or the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(m) The Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to rely on and shall not be liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken by the Indemnity Trustee in accordance with the advice of counsel or other professionals retained or consulted by the Indemnity Trustee.

(n) The Indemnity Trustee shall neither be responsible for, nor chargeable with, knowledge of the terms and conditions of any other agreement, instrument, or document other than this Agreement, whether or not an original or a copy of such agreement has been provided to the Indemnity Trustee. The Indemnity Trustee shall have no duty to know or inquire as to the performance or nonperformance of any provision of any other agreement, instrument, or document other than this Agreement.

(o) Neither the Indemnity Trustee nor any of its directors, officers, employees, agents or affiliates shall be responsible for nor have any duty to monitor the performance or any action of the Grantor or the Indemnity Trust Administrator, or any of their directors, members, officers, agents, affiliates or employee, nor shall it have any Liability in connection with the malfeasance or nonfeasance by such party. The Indemnity Trustee may assume performance by all such Persons of their respective obligations. The Indemnity Trustee shall have no enforcement or notification obligations relating to breaches of representations or warranties of any other Person.

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

(p) In the event that any Indemnity Trust Assets or other Assets of the Indemnity Trust shall be attached, garnished or levied upon by any court order, or the delivery thereof shall be stayed or enjoined by an order of a court, or any order, judgment or decree shall be made or entered by any court order affecting the Indemnity Trust Assets or other Assets of the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trustee is hereby expressly authorized, in its sole discretion, to respond as it deems appropriate or to comply with all writs, orders or decrees so entered or issued, or which it is advised by legal counsel of its own choosing is binding upon it, whether with or without jurisdiction. In the event that the Indemnity Trustee obeys or complies with any such writ, order or decree it shall not be liable to any of the Parties or to any other person, firm or corporation, should, by reason of such compliance notwithstanding, such writ, order or decree be subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside or vacated.

(q) The Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to request and receive written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator and shall have no responsibility or Liability for any losses or damages of any nature that may arise from any action taken or not taken by the Indemnity Trustee in accordance with the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(r) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Indemnity Trustee shall have no duty to prepare or file any Federal or state tax report or return with respect to any funds held pursuant to this Agreement or any income earned thereon, except for the delivery and filing of tax information reporting forms required to be delivered and filed with the Internal Revenue Service. With respect to the preparation, delivery and filing of such required tax information reporting forms and all matters pertaining to the reporting of earnings on funds held under this Agreement, the Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to request and receive written instructions from the Indemnity Trust Administrator, and the Indemnity Trustee shall be entitled to rely conclusively and without further inquiry on such written instructions. With respect to any other payments made under this Agreement, the Indemnity Trustee shall not be deemed the payer and shall have no responsibility for performing tax reporting. The Indemnity Trustee's function of making such payments is solely ministerial and upon express direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

4.2 Term of Service. The Indemnity Trustee shall serve as the Indemnity Trustee for the duration of the Indemnity Trust, subject to resignation or removal.

4.3 Resignation or Removal of the Indemnity Trustee.

(a) The Indemnity Trustee may resign at any time by giving not less than thirty (30) days' written notice thereof to the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trustee may be removed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator's delivery of not less than thirty (30) days' written notice of removal to the Indemnity Trustee. Such resignation or removal shall become effective on the acceptance of appointment by a successor Indemnity Trustee and the transfer to such successor Indemnity Trustee of all Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Section 4.3(b) and any undisputed fees, expenses and indemnity due to the outgoing Indemnity Trustee are paid. If the Indemnity Trust Administrator does not act within such 30-day period, the Indemnity Trustee may apply to the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware for the appointment of a successor Indemnity Trustee.

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

(b) Upon receipt of the Indemnity Trustee's notice of resignation or delivery of notice of Indemnity Trustee's removal, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall appoint a successor Indemnity Trustee. Any successor Indemnity Trustee shall be a bank or trust company that is a member of the Federal Reserve System or chartered in the State of Delaware and shall not be a parent, a subsidiary or an affiliate of the Grantor or any of the Beneficiaries. Upon the acceptance of the appointment as Indemnity Trustee hereunder by a successor Indemnity Trustee and the transfer to such successor Indemnity Trustee of all Indemnity Trust Assets, the resignation or removal of the Indemnity Trustee shall become effective. Thereupon, such successor Indemnity Trustee shall succeed to and become vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the resigning or removed Indemnity Trustee, and the resigning or removed Indemnity Trustee shall be discharged from any future duties and obligations under this Agreement.

4.4 Reporting. The Indemnity Trustee shall provide the Indemnity Trust Administrator, upon the inception of the Indemnity Trust Account, online electronic access to view the Indemnity Trust Account. Thereafter, the Indemnity Trust Administrator will make available to any Beneficiary a written statement identifying in reasonable detail the balance of the Indemnity Trust Assets as of the applicable reporting date, plus a full accounting of all deposits (including amounts collected under the Indemnification Funding Note and any interest or investment income) and any withdrawals made during the applicable period and the effect of any investment losses; provided, however, that such written statements may be redacted for any sensitive information, as determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator, in his sole and absolute discretion.

4.5 Books and Records.

(a) The Indemnity Trustee shall maintain in respect of the Indemnity Trust books and records reflecting Indemnity Trust Assets in its possession and the income of the Indemnity Trust and payment of expenses, Liabilities, and claims against or assumed by the Indemnity Trust in such detail and for such period of time as is customary for the Indemnity Trustee in accordance with its ordinary and customary corporate trust business. Such books and records shall be maintained as reasonably necessary to facilitate compliance with the tax reporting requirements of the Indemnity Trust. Except as otherwise provided herein, nothing in this Agreement requires the Indemnity Trustee to file any accounting or seek approval of any court with respect to the administration of the Indemnity Trust, or as a condition for managing any payment or distribution out of the Indemnity Trust Assets.

(b) The Indemnity Trustee will provide the Indemnity Trust Administrator any books and records concerning the Indemnity Trust Assets upon the Indemnity Trustee's receipt of written direction from the Indemnity Trust Administrator. The Indemnity Trust Administrator will thereafter promptly permit the Grantor, any Beneficiary or its respective agents, employees or independent auditors to examine, audit, excerpt, transcribe and copy, any non-privileged and non-confidential books, documents, papers and records relating to the Indemnity Trust Account or the Indemnity Trust Assets at the expense of such requesting Party or Beneficiary. It is understood and agreed that the Indemnity Trustee shall only provide the information in its possession to the Indemnity Trust Administrator and shall have no duty or obligation to provide such information to any other person or entity.

4.6 [Reserved]

4.7 WTNA, as Indemnity Trustee or Delaware Trustee, shall not be responsible or liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement arising out of or caused, directly or indirectly, by circumstances beyond its control, including without limitation, any act or provision of any present or future law or regulation or governmental authority; acts of God; earthquakes; fires; floods; wars; terrorism; civil or military disturbances; sabotage; epidemics; riots; interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, computer (hardware or software) or communications service; accidents; labor disputes; acts of civil or military authority or governmental actions; or the unavailability of the Federal Reserve Bank wire or telex or other wire or communication facility.

4.8 Any corporation or association into which WTNA may be converted or merged, or with which it may be consolidated, or to which it may sell or transfer all or substantially all of its corporate trust business and assets as a whole or substantially as a whole, or any corporation or association resulting from any such conversion, sale, merger, consolidation or transfer to which the Delaware Trustee or the Indemnity Trustee is a party, will be and become the successor Delaware Trustee or Indemnity Trustee, as applicable, under this Agreement and will have and succeed to the rights, powers, duties, immunities and privileges as its predecessor, without the execution or filing of any instrument or paper or the performance of any further act.

4.9 Delaware Trustee.

(a) The Delaware Trustee shall have the limited power and authority, and is hereby authorized and empowered, to (i) accept legal process served on the Indemnity Trust in the State of Delaware; and (ii) execute any certificates that are required to be executed under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and file such certificates in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, and take such action or refrain from taking such action under this Agreement, in either case as may be directed in a writing delivered to the Delaware Trustee by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and upon which the Delaware Trustee shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely; provided, however, that the Delaware Trustee shall not be required to take or to refrain from taking any such action if the Delaware Trustee shall believe, or shall have been advised by counsel, that such performance is likely to involve the Delaware Trustee in personal Liability or to result in personal Liability to the Delaware Trustee, or is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Indemnity Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes a party or is otherwise contrary to law. The Parties agree not to instruct the Delaware Trustee to take any action or to refrain from taking any action that is contrary to the terms of this Agreement or of any document contemplated hereby to which the Indemnity Trust or the Delaware Trustee is or becomes party or that is otherwise contrary to law. Other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, the Delaware Trustee shall have no duty or power to take any action for or on behalf of the Indemnity Trust. For the avoidance of doubt, the Delaware Trustee will only have such rights and obligations as expressly provided by reference to the Delaware Trustee hereunder. The Delaware Trustee shall not be entitled to exercise any powers, nor shall the Delaware Trustee have any of the duties and responsibilities, of the Indemnity Trustee or the Indemnity Trust Administrator set forth herein. The Delaware Trustee shall be one of the trustees of the Indemnity Trust for the sole and limited purpose of fulfilling the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and for taking such actions as are required to be taken by a Delaware Trustee under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. The duties (including fiduciary duties), Liabilities and obligations of the Delaware Trustee shall be limited to those expressly set forth in this Section 4.9(a) and there shall be no other duties (including fiduciary duties) or obligations, express or implied, at law or in equity, of the Delaware Trustee. To the extent that, at law or in equity, the Delaware Trustee has duties (including fiduciary duties) and Liabilities relating thereto to the Indemnity Trust, the other parties hereto or any beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust, it is hereby understood and agreed by the other parties hereto that such duties and Liabilities are replaced by the duties and Liabilities of the Delaware Trustee expressly set forth in this Agreement.

(b) The Delaware Trustee shall serve until such time as the Indemnity Trust Administrator removes the Delaware Trustee or the Delaware Trustee resigns and a successor Delaware Trustee is appointed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator in accordance with the terms hereof. The Delaware Trustee may resign at any time upon the giving of at least thirty (30) days' advance written notice to the Indemnity Trust Administrator; provided, that such resignation shall not become effective unless and until a successor Delaware Trustee shall have been appointed by the Indemnity Trust Administrator in accordance with the terms hereof. If the Claimant Trustee does not act within such 30-day period, the Delaware Trustee may apply to the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware for the appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee.

(c) Upon the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee by delivering a written instrument to the outgoing Delaware Trustee. Any successor Delaware Trustee must satisfy the requirements of Section 3807 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act. Any resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee and appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee shall not become effective until a written acceptance of appointment is delivered by the successor Delaware Trustee to the outgoing Delaware Trustee and the Indemnity Trust Administrator and any undisputed fees, expenses and indemnity due to the outgoing Delaware Trustee are paid. Following compliance with the preceding sentence, the successor Delaware Trustee shall become fully vested with all of the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the outgoing Delaware Trustee under this Agreement, with like effect as if originally named as Delaware Trustee, and the outgoing Delaware Trustee shall be discharged of its duties and obligations under this Agreement.

(d) The Delaware Trustee shall be paid such compensation as agreed to pursuant to a separate fee agreement. The Indemnity Trust shall promptly advance and reimburse the Delaware Trustee for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred by the Delaware Trustee in connection with the performance of its duties hereunder. The terms of this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement and/or the earlier resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee.

ARTICLE V.
TRUST INTERESTS

5.1 Interests Beneficial Only. The beneficial interests afforded a Beneficiary hereunder shall not entitle the Beneficiaries to any title in or to the Indemnity Trust Assets (which title shall be vested in the Indemnity Trust) or to any right with respect to the administration of the Indemnity Trust except with respect to reporting and the review of books and records as set forth in this Agreement. Further, the Beneficiaries (other than the Indemnity Trustee in such capacity) shall not have any right to direct the actions of the Indemnity Trustee with respect to the Indemnity Trust Assets or the Indemnity Trust Account, or to direct the actions of the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

5.2 Transferability of Trust Interests. No transfer, assignment, pledge, hypothecation, or other disposition of a Beneficiary's interest in the Indemnity Trust may be effected without the consent of the Indemnity Trust Administrator in his sole and absolute discretion, provided that any such transfer, assignment or hypothecation does not confer upon such assignee status as a Beneficiary under the Indemnity Trust. The Indemnity Trust Administrator may impose such conditions and other terms upon any transfer, assignment or hypothecation as he considers appropriate, in his sole and absolute discretion. In the event of an assignment pledge, hypothecation, or other disposition, the foregoing limitations on transferability shall continue to apply in all respects to such beneficial interest and shall be binding on the assignee of such beneficial interest.

5.3 Effect of Death, Incapacity, or Bankruptcy. The death, incapacity, or bankruptcy of any Beneficiary during the term of the Indemnity Trust shall not (i) entitle the representatives or creditors of the deceased Beneficiary to any additional rights under this Agreement, or (ii) otherwise affect the rights and obligations of any of other Beneficiary under this Agreement.

5.4 Change of Address. Any Beneficiary may, after the Effective Date, select an alternative address by providing notice to the Indemnity Trust Administrator and the Indemnity Trustee identifying such alternative address. Such notification shall be effective only upon receipt by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and the Indemnity Trustee. Absent actual receipt of such notice by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and an officer of the Indemnity Trustee responsible for the administration of this Agreement, neither the Indemnity Trust Administrator nor the Indemnity Trustee shall recognize any such change of distribution address.

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

ARTICLE VI.
TAX MATTERS

6.1 Tax Treatment and Tax Returns. It is intended that the Indemnity Trust Assets shall be treated as owned by the Grantor for federal and applicable state and local income tax purposes. The Grantor shall be responsible for causing to be prepared and filed in a timely fashion all tax returns of the Indemnity Trust relating to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or otherwise contemplated hereby, and it shall send a copy of each such tax return to the Indemnity Trustee. The Indemnity Trustee, acting only upon the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator, shall furnish to the Grantor all such information as it has in its possession and as may be reasonably required in connection with the preparation of such tax returns and shall execute such returns if required to do so by the applicable taxing authority. The Indemnity Trustee shall not be liable for any tax due and payable in connection with this Agreement except for any tax based on or measured by the income of the institution or person acting as the Indemnity Trustee resulting from the amounts paid to the Indemnity Trustee as fees or compensation for acting as the Indemnity Trustee hereunder. Each Party (other than the Indemnity Trustee and the Delaware Trustee) shall provide the Indemnity Trustee with certified tax identification numbers by furnishing appropriate forms W-9 or W-8 and such other forms and documents that the Indemnity Trustee may request. Each such Party understands that if such tax reporting documentation is not provided and certified to the Indemnity Trustee, the Indemnity Trustee may be required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, to withhold a portion of any interest or other income earned on the investment of the Indemnity Trust Assets.

ARTICLE VII.
STANDARD OF CARE AND INDEMNIFICATION

7.1 Standard of Care. Neither the Indemnity Trustee acting in its capacity as Indemnity Trustee nor the Indemnity Trust Administrator, acting in his capacity as the Indemnity Trust Administrator, shall be personally liable to the Indemnity Trust or to any person (including any Beneficiary) in connection with the affairs of the Indemnity Trust, unless it is ultimately determined by order of the Bankruptcy Court or, if the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such other court of competent jurisdiction, that the acts or omissions of the Indemnity Trustee or the Indemnity Trust Administrator, as the case may be, constituted fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

7.2 Indemnification.

(a) At any time prior to the dissolution of the Grantor, the Grantor shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Indemnity Trustee, the Delaware Trustee, the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the Advisory Representatives and all current, former and future officers, directors, employees, representatives and/or agents of any of the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trustee, the Delaware Trustee, the Indemnity Trust Administrator or any of their respective subsidiaries (each, an "Indemnified Party"), from and against and reimburse each Indemnified Party for any and all Liabilities of whatever kind or nature regardless of their merit, demanded, asserted or claimed against such Indemnified Party directly or indirectly relating to, or arising from, claims against such Indemnified Party by reason of its participation in the transactions contemplated hereby, including without limitation all reasonable costs associated with claims for damages to persons or property, and reasonable attorneys' and consultants' fees and expenses and court costs except to the extent caused by such Indemnified Party's fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notification of the commencement of any proceeding, such Indemnified Party will promptly notify the Grantor in writing of such matter; provided, however, that the failure to provide such prompt notice to the Grantor shall not relieve the Grantor of Liability which it may have to such Indemnified Party hereunder.

(b) At any time upon or following (i) the dissolution of Grantor or (ii) the Grantor's failure to satisfy a claim for indemnification of an Indemnified Party pursuant to Section 7.2(a), the Indemnity Trust shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Indemnified Parties, from and against and reimburse each Indemnified Party for any and all Liabilities of whatever kind or nature regardless of their merit, demanded, asserted or claimed against such Indemnified Party directly or indirectly relating to, or arising from, claims against such Indemnified Party by reason of its participation in the transactions contemplated hereby, including without limitation all reasonable costs associated with claims for damages to persons or property, and reasonable attorneys' and consultants' fees and expenses and court costs except to the extent caused by such Indemnified Party's fraud, willful misconduct, or gross negligence. Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Party of notification of the commencement of any proceeding, such Indemnified Party will promptly notify the Indemnity Trust in writing of such matter; provided, however, that the failure to provide such prompt notice to the Indemnity Trust shall not relieve the Indemnity Trust of Liability which it may have to such Indemnified Party hereunder.

(c) The provisions of this Section 7.2 shall survive the termination of this Agreement or the earlier of the resignation or removal of the Indemnity Trustee or the Indemnity Trust Administrator, as applicable.

7.3 Tax Indemnification.

(a) To the extent that the Indemnity Trustee becomes liable for the payment of any taxes in respect of income derived from the investment of the Indemnity Trust Assets, the Indemnity Trustee shall satisfy such Liability to the extent possible from the Indemnity Trust Assets.

(b) At any time prior to the dissolution of the Grantor, the Grantor shall indemnify, defend and hold the Indemnity Trustee harmless from and against any tax, late payment, interest, penalty or other Liability that may be assessed against the Indemnity Trustee on or with respect to the Indemnity Trust Assets and the investment thereof unless such tax, late payment, interest, penalty or other expense was finally adjudicated to have been directly caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Indemnity Trustee.

(c) At any time upon or following (i) the dissolution of Grantor or (ii) the Grantor's failure to satisfy a claim for indemnification pursuant to Section 7.3(b), the Indemnity Trust shall indemnify, defend and hold the Indemnity Trustee harmless from and against any tax, late payment, interest, penalty or other Liability that may be assessed against the Indemnity Trustee on or with respect to the Indemnity Trust Assets and the investment thereof unless such tax, late payment, interest, penalty or other expense was finally adjudicated to have been directly caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Indemnity Trustee.

(d) The indemnification provided by this Section 7.3 is in addition to the indemnification provided in Section 7.2 and shall survive the resignation or removal of the Indemnity Trustee and the termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII.
TERMINATION

8.1 Term.

(a) The Indemnity Trust shall be dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up in accordance with this Agreement and Delaware Statutory Trust Act upon the earlier of (i) the later of (x) the resolution by Final Order of all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to an Indemnity Obligation and the payment in full of all

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

Indemnity Obligations related thereto and (y) the expiration of all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of any such statutes of limitations (in either case of (x) or (y), as determined by agreement of (A) the Indemnity Trust Administrator (in his sole, absolute discretion) and (B) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act (in their respective sole absolute discretion)) for any claims that if brought against a Beneficiary would be or would have been subject to indemnification under Section 8.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, Section 8.2 of the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement or Section 10 of the Reorganized Limited Partnership Agreement, as applicable, and (ii) the mutual agreement to dissolve the Indemnity Trust by (A) the Indemnity Trust Administrator and (B) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act, and, if required, entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court or another court of competent jurisdiction authorizing the termination of the Indemnity Trust. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Indemnity Trust is to be dissolved pursuant to Section 8.1(a)(ii) hereof prior to the expiry of all Indemnification Obligations, (x) if the Grantor is still in existence, then the Grantor, at its expense, shall obtain insurance coverage acceptable to (A) the Indemnity Trust Administrator and (B) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act prior to such dissolution; or (y) if the Grantor is no longer in existence, then the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall, using Indemnity Trust Assets, obtain insurance coverage acceptable to (A) the Indemnity Trust Administrator and (B) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act prior to such dissolution. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the liquidation, dissolution nor termination and cancellation of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust or the Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, nor the legal existence of the Grantor or any other party will have any effect on the legal existence of the Indemnity Trust.

(b) Upon the determination of the Indemnity Trust Administrator that the Claimant Trust has substantially completed its efforts to monetize and distribute its assets or such earlier date that the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall determine in his sole and absolute discretion, the Indemnity Trust Administrator and majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act shall work in good faith to replace the Indemnity Trust with a suitable third-party insurance policy providing then suitable protections to Beneficiaries, in each case, as determined in the sole, absolute discretion of (i) the Indemnity Trust Administrator and (ii) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act.

(c) At any time prior to the dissolution of the Indemnity Trust as described in Section 8.1(d), if (i) the Indemnity Trust Administrator (in his sole and absolute discretion) and (ii) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act (in their respective sole and absolute discretion) determine that the Indemnity Trust Assets are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries, the Indemnity Trust Administrator may transfer such excess Indemnity Trust Assets (A) at any time prior to the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, to the Claimant Trust for use by the Claimant Trust in accordance with the Claimant Trust Agreement, and (B) at any time upon or following the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, according to the same distribution methodology contemplated in Section 9.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement in effect as of the effective date of the dissolution of the Claimant Trust; provided, however, that in no event will any such transferee be entitled to the books, records and or privileges of the Indemnity Trust; provided, further, that for the avoidance of doubt, any person or entity's contractual right to receive or recover any such remaining Indemnity Trust Assets as set forth herein does not make them or any other person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or this Agreement; and provided, further, that the Indemnity Trust Assets shall at no time be less than $32 million (valued according to their market value at the time of transfer into the Indemnity Trust Account) unless otherwise provided by Section 8.1(a) or (b) of this Agreement. Any such determination by the (i) the Indemnity Trust Administrator and (ii) a majority of the remaining Advisory Representatives willing to act is final and not subject to review, and in relation to any such determination and transfer, the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the Advisory Representatives, the Oversight Board, the Indemnity Trustee, and the Delaware Trustee will be entitled to the protections of this Agreement, including but not limited to Article VII, Article VIII, and Article IX.

(d) Upon the dissolution of the Indemnity Trust and in connection with winding up the Indemnity Trust's affairs, any remaining Indemnity Trust Assets (as reduced by payments (actual and reserved) and provisions to pay all claims and obligations of the Indemnity Trust, payments to any Beneficiary or as used to purchase insurance for the benefit of the Beneficiaries to augment or replace the Indemnity Trust or as paid out in accordance with Section 9.12 hereof) will be transferred at the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator (i) at any time prior to the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, to the Claimant Trust and (ii) at any time following the dissolution of the Claimant Trust, according to the same distribution methodology contemplated in Section 9.2 of the Claimant Trust Agreement in effect as of the effective date of the dissolution of the Claimant Trust provided, however, that in no event will any such transferee be entitled to the books, records and or privileges of the Indemnity Trust; provided, further, that for the avoidance of doubt, any person or entity's contractual right to receive or recover any such remaining Indemnity Trust Assets as set forth herein does not make them or any other person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or this Agreement. The Indemnity Trust Administrator shall be solely responsible for the dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the affairs of the Indemnity Trust. Upon the dissolution of the Indemnity Trust and completion of the winding up of the Assets, Liabilities and affairs of the Indemnity Trust pursuant to the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, the Indemnity Trustee (acting only at the written direction of the Indemnity Trust Administrator) shall prepare, execute and file a certificate of cancellation with the State of Delaware to terminate the Indemnity Trust pursuant to Section 3810 of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act (such date upon which the certificate of cancellation is filed shall be referred to as the "Termination Date"). If the Delaware Trustee's signature is required for purposes of filing such certificate of cancellation, the Indemnity Trust Administrator shall provide the Delaware Trustee with written direction to execute such certificate of cancellation, and the Delaware Trustee shall be entitled to conclusively and exclusively rely upon such written direction without further inquiry.

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

8.2 Termination of Duties. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, upon the Termination Date of the Indemnity Trust, the Indemnity Trustee, the Indemnity Trust Administrator and the Delaware Trustee shall have no further duties or obligations hereunder.

8.3 No Survival. The rights of Beneficiaries hereunder shall not survive the Termination Date.

ARTICLE IX. MISCELLANEOUS

9.1 Trust Irrevocable. Except as set forth in this Agreement, establishment of the Indemnity Trust by this Agreement shall be irrevocable and shall not be subject to revocation, cancellation or rescission by the Beneficiaries.

9.2 Beneficiaries have No Legal Title to the Indemnity Trust Assets. No Beneficiary shall have legal title to any part of the Indemnity Trust Assets.

9.3 Agreement for Benefit of Parties Only. Nothing herein, whether expressed or implied, shall be construed to give any person other than the Parties, the Beneficiaries and the Indemnified Parties any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement. The Indemnity Trust Assets shall be held for the sole and exclusive benefit of the Beneficiaries. The Beneficiaries and the Indemnified Parties will have the right to enforce the terms of this Agreement in case the Indemnity Trust Administrator fails to perform its obligations hereunder as determined by the Bankruptcy Court or another court of competent jurisdiction.

9.4 Limited Recourse. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, all obligations of the Indemnity Trust under this Agreement shall be limited recourse obligations of the Indemnity Trust payable solely from the Indemnity Trust Assets. All obligations of and any claims against the Indemnity Trust hereunder shall be extinguished and not thereafter revive in the event that, at any time, all of the Indemnity Trust Assets are exhausted (including, for the avoidance of doubt, after giving effect to funds subsequently received as payments on the Indemnification Funding Note or otherwise) or distributed pursuant to Section 8.1(d). None of the Beneficiaries nor any other person or entity entitled to payments hereunder (including, without limitation pursuant to Sections 7.2, 7.3 and 8.1(c) and (d) hereof) will have recourse to the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the Advisory Representatives, the Oversight Board, Indemnity Trustee or the Delaware Trustee or any of their respective affiliates or their respective officers, directors, employees, representatives or their respective assets.

9.5 Notices. All notices, directions, instructions, confirmations, consents and requests required or permitted by the terms hereof shall, unless otherwise specifically provided herein, be in writing and shall be sent by first class mail, facsimile, overnight mail or in the case of mailing to a non-United States address, air mail, postage prepaid, addressed to:

Notice mailed shall be effective on the date mailed or sent. Any Party may change the address at which it is to receive notices under this Agreement by furnishing written notice pursuant to the provisions of this Section 9.4 to the other Parties of such change.

9.6 Amendments. Any change or modification to this Agreement will be made by written amendment to this Agreement and signed by the Parties hereto; provided, however, that any amendment to this Agreement that is materially detrimental to a Beneficiary will not be effective unless consented to in writing by such Beneficiary.

9.7 Severability. Any provision hereof which is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provisions in another jurisdiction.

9.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument. This Agreement and the exhibits hereto set forth the entire agreement and understanding of the parties related to this transaction and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral or written.

9.9 Headings; References. The headings of the various Sections herein are for convenience of reference only and shall not define or limit any of the terms or provisions hereof.

9.10 Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial. This Agreement shall in all respects be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, including all matters of constructions, validity and performance, but without reference to its conflict of law provisions. Each Party hereto irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any and all right to trial by jury in any legal proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby. Beneficiaries are deemed to have waived any right to a trial by jury.

9.11 Consent to Jurisdiction. Any action brought by a Beneficiary must be brought in the Bankruptcy Court. Each of the Parties hereto consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court for any action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement and construction of any right, remedy, obligation, or Liability arising under or by reason of this Agreement, or any act or omission of the Indemnity Trustee or the Indemnity Trust Administrator. If the Bankruptcy Court either declines to exercise jurisdiction over such action or cannot exercise jurisdiction over such action, such action may be brought in the state or federal courts located in the State of Delaware.

9.12 Okada Settlement.

(a) On January 21, 2025 and pursuant to the Okada Settlement Agreement, Okada has transferred, or has cause to be transferred, to the Indemnity Trust, Acis 7 Proceeds, which were transferred and used in accordance with the Okada Settlement Agreement and this Section 9.12. On January 22, 2025 and in accordance with the Okada Settlement Agreement, the Indemnity Trust Administrator provide written notice to Okada of such receipt by the Indemnity Trust, including the amount of gross proceeds received. Further, within five (5) Business Days of receipt of any funds on account of Okada's Special Limited Partnership Interest ("SLP") in PetroCap Incentive Partners II, LP (the "PetroCap Proceeds"), Okada will provide written notice to the Indemnity Trust Administrator of such receipt and the amount of gross proceeds received, whereupon a written request from the Indemnity Trust Administrator, Okada will provide information reasonably related to SLP that Okada is permitted to provide consistent with his confidentiality or other obligations, for the limited purpose of the Indemnity Trust Administrator assessing the value of and funds received on account of the SLP. If Okada determines that he is unable to provide any such information to the Indemnity Trust Administrator based on confidentiality or other obligations, he will cooperate with the Indemnity Trust Administrator to address those concerns to enable such information to be provided.

(b) On or after January 1, 2025, the Indemnity Trust Administrator may in writing demand that Okada provide to the Indemnity Trust the lesser of (i) $1,000,000 and (ii) 50% of the gross amount of PetroCap Proceeds Okada actually received as of the date of such demand (the "PetroCap Proceeds Demand"); provided that the PetroCap Proceeds Demand include a written representation by the Indemnity Trust Administrator that all Indemnity Trust Assets have been or will imminently be exhausted and that such demand be made no more than once (assuming the timely and full satisfaction of such demand) by the Indemnity Trust Administrator. If the PetroCap Proceeds Demand is fully satisfied by Okada in a timely manner, Okada's contingent funding obligation under the Okada Settlement Agreement shall be extinguished and no further PetroCap Proceeds Demand may be made by the Indemnity Trust Administrator.

(c) The Acis 7 Proceeds and any PetroCap Proceeds shall be maintained as part of the Indemnity Trust Account, but accounted for and tracked separately from other Indemnity Trust Assets. The Acis 7 Proceeds and any PetroCap Proceeds transferred to the Indemnity Trust Account may be used in the same authorized manner as other Indemnity Trust Assets, but used only as "last out" funds after all other cash and other Indemnity Trust Assets are expended or otherwise disbursed in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Further, upon written request from Okada to the Indemnity Trust Administrator, the Indemnity Trust Administrator or the Trust Administrator, as applicable, shall provide information as to the remaining amounts of Acis 7 Proceeds and/or PetroCap Proceeds held by the Indemnity Trust.

(d) On the earlier of (x) the winding-up of the Indemnity Trust and (y) any disbursement of Indemnity Trust Assets to the Claimant Trust (or any other disbursement in accordance with Article VIII), any unused portion of the Acis 7 Proceeds or the PetroCap Proceeds, plus any interest earned on those proceeds, shall be paid to Okada prior to any distributions of other Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Section 8.1(d); provided, that Okada shall provide to the Indemnity Trust and the Indemnity Trust Administrator a bring down of the release provided in paragraph 10 of the Okada Settlement Agreement as a condition to the release of such Indemnity Trust Assets to Okada.

(e) The Parties acknowledge that Okada retains a reversionary interest in the Acis 7 Proceeds and the PetroCap Proceeds (to the extent they actually exist and are deposited into the Indemnity Trust Account), and to the extent they are not expended or disbursed pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, any unused portion of the Acis 7 Proceeds and/or PetroCap Proceeds shall be returned to Okada in accordance with Section 9(d). For the avoidance of doubt, Okada's right to recover any unused portion of Acis 7 Proceeds and/or PetroCap Proceeds as set forth herein does not make Okada or any of the Okada Parties a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or this Agreement.

EXHIBIT A

Form of Indemnification Funding Note

UNSECURED PROMISSORY NOTE

August [●], 2021

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the undersigned, Highland Capital Management L.P., Claimant Trust, and Litigation Sub-Trust, (collectively, "Payors") jointly and severally hereby promise to pay to the Indemnity Trust (the "Payee") the Principal Amount (defined below), as provided in this promissory note (this "Indemnification Funding Note").

SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

Principal Amount

At all times, the amount owed under this Indemnification Funding Note (the "Principal Amount") shall be equal to TWENTY FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ($25,000,000) less the value of any Assets held by the Indemnity Trust. The Principal Amount shall be determined and documented by the Indemnity Trust Administrator and paid in accordance with the payment terms herein. Capitalized terms utilized herein, but not defined have the meanings ascribed to them in the Indemnity Trust Agreement, effective as of August 16, 2021 (the "Agreement").

Payment

Payment of the Principal Amount shall be made, in full or in part, on the earlier of (a) demand for payment from the Indemnity Trust Administrator or (b) the date at which the combined Net Asset Value of Highland Capital Management L.P., the Claimant Trust, and the Litigation Sub-Trust is less than 200% of the Principal Amount. Subject to the foregoing, the Claimant Trustee will have sole and absolute discretion to determine the timing and amount of payments of the Principal Amount consistent with his view of liquidity needs of the Claimant Trust and related entities and the requirements of any financing agreement binding on the Claimant Trust. Upon the Claimant Trustee's determination that a payment of the Principal Amount in whole or in part should be made, the amount of the payment shall be due within five (5) days of such a determination. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing, no payment shall be required to be made at any time if such payment would cause Highland Capital Management L.P., the Claimant Trust, or the Litigation Sub-Trust to be in default under or in violation of that certain Financing Agreement, dated as of August 11, 2021, by and among, Highland Capital Management, L.P. and Trussway Industries, LLC, as borrowers, each of the entities listed as guarantors thereon, the lenders from time to time party thereto, and Blue Torch Finance LLC (the "Exit Financing Agreement").

For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing payments of Principal Amount will be senior to any distribution to beneficiaries under the Claimant Trust. In the event that the liquid assets of the Claimant Trust, the Litigation Sub-Trust, and Highland Capital Management L.P. are insufficient to satisfy the foregoing payments, the Claimant Trustee must take all reasonable action, subject in all respects to the terms of the Exit Financing Agreement, to satisfy such obligations under the Indemnification Funding Note, including accessing any available credit lines or third party leverage, and no current payments to Claimant Trust beneficiaries will be made until all current amounts of Principal Amount due have been made.

Interest

The Indemnification Funding Note shall not bear interest, other than that which must be imputed under applicable law.

Governing Law

This Indemnification Funding Note shall in all respects be governed by, and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, including all matters of constructions, validity and performance, but without reference to its conflict of law provisions.

            - For purposes of tracking progress toward the ~$337mm Class 10 interest:

    - HCMLP and its general partner – While HCMLP will be placed into dissolution, the entity will continue to survive during its winding up period, during which time it may continue to defend inbound litigation, prosecute outbound litigation, maintain its books and records, and monetize its remaining assets. HCMLP's general partner will be dissolved, wound-down and cancelled along with HCMLP
    - Claimant Trust Oversight Board – Subject to the Plan and Claimant Trust agreement, it is anticipated that the members of the Oversight Board will continue in their existing roles until the final/non-appealable order approving the HMIT settlement is received
    - Information rights to HMIT – After Bankruptcy Court approval of the HMIT settlement, per the Claimant Trust Agreement, except that:

The deleted provision in Section 3 is similar to a remaining provision in the lead in to Section 8. Should that be removed as well?

Jim – As discussed with you and Dave, attached is a revised draft with one change to Section 3 (removing the provision tying the $500k payment to any specific component of the settlement).

@Jeff Pomerantz, @John A. Morris, @Gregory V. Demo – Please let us know if you expect to have any comments and expected timeframe.

We need to circulate drafts to Class 9's, CTOB and HMIT. We can likely send a draft to Class 9's and CTOB now subject to ongoing review, since I don't believe you will have any changes to the economic proposal we're making, but obviously want everyone signed off asap for purposes of getting a draft back to HMIT.

Thank you.

Two principal comments: 1) we don't own the entire Dugaboy Note as defined in the agreement, so we can't assign the amount of the note owed to Get Good. If language as drafted is fine then no worries, 2) clarifying we pay all P&I received on Dugaboy note between execution date and assignment date.

John,

Please see the HMIT Entities' responsive version of the settlement agreement along with the redline from your version 9. First, I apologize for the delay, as the last version, sent by Mr. Seery, arrived on the day I landed in Istanbul, and scheduling on my side plus my schedule while overseas made it difficult to get things done. And then I just took longer to get over the lag from traveling back.

We have made some proposed changes. First major change is that we are willing to have the releases made effective as of bankruptcy court approval, and live with that in the event of an appeal. We also think, because the bankruptcy court will have approved the agreement, that the assignment of the Dugaboy Note and the Kirchner litigation should be done within the revised timeline set forth, and that there is no reason for any reservation of HMIT Note Claims by the Litigation Sub Trust (and no reason that we can see for continued day to day activity of the sub-trust, as the litigation would only be returned if an appeal is successful (which none of us think will be the case – at least I think none of us do)). We have added an agreed abatement of everything pending bankruptcy court approval. We have also accelerated funding, though propose an agreement to escrow funds in the event of reversal on appeal. We have reviewed the information provided by Mr. Seery and his group and think our structure and timing of funding leaves plenty of money aside for indemnification. We also have tried to identify and make clear what a Threat would be, to get something objective we can rely on and receive notice of.

I am around tomorrow and Friday. I will be working this weekend (without jet lag) and in my New Orleans office Monday preparing for an all day trial on Tuesday. We should be able to corral my side quickly.

There are some other tweaks that are minor we think, with the changes mentioned above being the major changes in structure.

Also, John, while the parties have discussed this matter the attached draft agreement does not contain any reference. That is ok with us, but my clients request from your side an answer to the following question: "Did any of the Highland Entities or their affiliates, for their own account or on behalf of Highland CDO Holding Company, affirmatively give consent to the transfer by Sentinel Reinsurance, Ltd. or its affiliates of that certain promissory note in the original principal amount of app.$32.8M and dated December 13, 2010, and executed by CLO Holdco, Ltd.?"

I really appreciate your patience. Look forward to visiting soon.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

(b) THE HMIT ENTITIES SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST IS TRANSFERRING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS ON AN "AS IS AND WITH ALL FAULTS" BASIS AND THAT THE HMIT ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR

THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE

RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10^{53}4 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. This Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the entry of a Final Order of the Bankruptcy Court approving this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby in a substantially similar form and on substantially similar terms as set forth herein to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this

Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT ~~Releasors~~Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland ~~Releasors~~Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party

(as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test.",," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this

Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the

Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT ~~Releasors~~Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland ~~Releasors~~Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test.~~"~~," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. 19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT

TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged

Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10534 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE

HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

27. Notices. All notices required or permitted to be provided hereunder shall be afforded to the respective parties to and through their counsel, and shall be transmitted simultaneously by electronic mail (with PDF attachments, as necessary) and by telefax, addressed as follows:

28. Severability. Should any term, provision or paragraph of this Agreement be determined to be illegal or void or of no force and effect, the balance of the Agreement shall survive. Jim,

It was nice meeting you virtually this morning. As a follow-up to our discussion, I understand the attached materials have already been provided to Louis, but I am re-sending this subset to you as well as I understand he's heading out of the country soon.

Attached are:

1. Discussion materials from April 8 meeting (the projected budget build-up can be found on p. 4)

DRAFT Potential Settlement Structure with DAF and HMIT

HMIT

- Settlement of remanded motion to sue – HCMLP, the Claimant Trust, and HMIT settle existing motion to sue and all other claims with prejudice for a cash payment of [$500k]
- Allowance of claim - HCMLP to allow HMIT Class 10 interest in the amount of ~$337mm (calculated as ~$395mm Petition Date capital account, less ~$58mm P&I outstanding on HMIT note as of Petition Date), subject to:
    - The HMIT allowed Class 10 interest is not transferable
    - HMIT releases all claims and accepts the "Litigation Protections" – see separate document containing the releases and other required provisions – which eliminate claims and limit the Class 10 allowed interest
    - LT releases HMIT from all other claims in the LT litigation and otherwise
    - LT transfers to holders of allowed Class 10 interests all remaining LT litigation (after HMIT and DAF/CLO Holdco releases) "as-is, where-is" along with all documents produced in the LT case to date
        - Such causes of action are limited to the currently stayed litigation and other causes of action that may exist related to former employees Ellington and Leventon
        - If for any reason the transfer of the LT litigation is nullified, the settlement will not be affected
    - Complete cessation and withdrawal of any other litigation among the parties
    - Class 10 remains senior to Class 11 as required by the Plan
- Court Approval – Settlement and allowance of Class 10 Claim subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court

DAF

- Settlement of DAF Claims – HCMLP, the Claimant Trust, and DAF/CLO Holdco settle all claims underlying the current Fifth Circuit appeal and all other claims with

DRAFT - SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

prejudice for a cash payment of $[2mm] within [10] business days of execution of the settlement; the Fifth Circuit appeal will be dismissed with prejudice within [10] business days of execution of the settlement

- HCMLP will purchase DAF's right to distribution from HCLOF related to Acis 6, as is - where is, without representation except for unencumbered ownership, for $[3mm] cash, to be paid within [10] business days of execution of the settlement; DAF releases HCLOF from any claims related to Acis 6 distributions
- DAF/CLO Holdco release all claims and accept the "Litigation Protections" – see separate document containing the releases and other required provisions
- LT releases DAF/CLO Holdco from all other claims in the LT litigation and otherwise
- Complete cessation and withdrawal of any other litigation among the parties
- Settlement will be filed with the Bankruptcy Court and "so ordered"

Distributions

- Initial Interim Cash Distributions – Within [91] days of the receipt of a final/non-appealable order not subject to certiorari:
  - The Indemnity Trust will distribute $[10]mm cash directly to Class 9 Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with the waterfall and the Indemnity Trust Agreement
  - [Subject to Class 9 Approval], the Indemnity Trust will distribute $[10]mm cash directly to holders of allowed Class 10 interests
    - On approval of the settlement by the Bankruptcy Court, the Indemnity Trust will set up a separate $[10]mm reserve for the Initial Interim Cash Distribution which reserve will be held in UST on the same terms as other Indemnity Trust holdings pending distribution to Class 10 interest holders or reversal/remand of the settlement
    - Any payments on the Dugaboy Note from the date of Bankruptcy Court approval of the settlement to the date of the Initial Interim Cash Distributions will be held by the Indemnity Trust in a separate account and also be paid to holders of allowed Class 10 interests
      - The actual dollar amount of any such P+I payments paid will reduce the Class 10 interests outstanding

DRAFT - SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

REVISED DRAFT

- Subsequent Distribution(s) - Following the Initial Interim Cash Distributions, most, if not all remaining assets will be held by the Indemnity Trust, except for potentially the Disputed Claims Reserve (if the pending claim is not fully resolved) and cash at the Claimant Trust and HCMLP (indirectly owned by the Indemnity Trust) to be used in the wind-down of those entities with any excess amounts contributed/distributed to the Indemnity Trust
    - On April 1, 2028, if no threats, demands, or litigations have been brought against the Indemnity Trust or its beneficiaries:
        - The Indemnity Trust will distribute ~$[11]mm cash directly to Class 9 Claimant Trust Beneficiaries in accordance with the waterfall and the Indemnity Trust Agreement, satisfying the remainder of the Class 9 interests outstanding
        - The Indemnity Trust will distribute $[5]mm cash directly to holders of allowed Class 10 interests
        - Note Cash or In-Kind Distribution – At the election of HMIT, the Indemnity Trust will either (a) sell the currently $[17.6]mm face value (P+I) promissory note receivable from Dugaboy Investment Trust to HCMLP that has been irrevocably participated (and may be assigned if it defaults) to the Indemnity Trust (the "Dugaboy Note") and distribute the net proceeds (plus all P+I payments on the Dugaboy Note from the Interim Cash Distribution Date to April 1, 2028) to holders of allowed Class 10 interests or (b) assign the Dugaboy Note directly to holders of allowed Class 10 interests
            - For purposes of tracking progress toward the ~$337mm Class 10 interest:
                - if the Dugaboy Note is sold, the distribution will be valued at the amount of cash distributed;
                - if the Dugaboy Note is distributed in kind, the distribution will be valued at fair market value as determined by the Indemnity Trust Administrator
            - Assumes the Dugaboy Note continues to perform; if there is a default prior to April 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust will accelerate the Dugaboy Note and pursue full collection plus cost of collection
                - If distribution of the Dugaboy Note is to be effected on April 1, 2028 and collection litigation has been commenced, at its election, holders of allowed Class 10 interests can receive, the collected balance or the litigation or elect to have the Indemnity Trust continue the litigation and subsequently pay the proceeds to holders of allowed Class 10 interests

  - As it pertains to the Disputed Claims Reserve, Highland will object to the Daugherty tax POC (final remaining pending claim). Following a final non-appealable order resolving the claim, any remaining funds will be distributed to Class 9 or, if Class 9 has been paid in full, to holders of allowed Class 10 interests

- "Final Distribution" - After April 1, 2029, if no threats, demands, or litigations have been brought against beneficiaries of the Indemnity Trust and all statutes of limitation (SOLs) and any potentially applicable tolling thereof have expired, at the Indemnity Trust Administrator's sole discretion, any excess remaining funds in the Indemnity Trust shall be paid out in accordance with the Plan and the Indemnity Trust Agreement (i.e. to holders of allowed Class 10 interests, up to allowed amounts) in conjunction with the dissolution, wind down and cancellation of the Indemnity Trust
  - The Indemnity Trust Administrator will consult with [Mark Patrick] regarding potentially applicable SOLs and tolling

- Other
  - Extension of Claimant Trust – A one-year extension for the Claimant Trust will be sought in the bankruptcy court. During the 1-year extension period, the Claimant Trust will be placed into dissolution and begin its winding up.
    - The Indemnity Trust will covenant not to transfer any funds to the Claimant Trust following the date of final non-appealable approval of the HMIT settlement
  - HCMLP wind down – the remaining unliquidated assets of the estate, including HCMLP, itself, will be retained within the Indemnity Trust and will be liquidated.
    - HCMLP personnel will complete the liquidation, dissolution, cancellation, tax compliance, and any other winding up activities for the remaining entities under its purview, including HCMLP.
    - Any excess amounts remaining at cancellation of HCMLP will be distributed to the Indemnity Trust.

DRAFT - SUBJECT TO CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

REVISED DRAFT

- The Indemnity Trust will covenant not to transfer any funds to HCMLP following the date of final non-appealable approval of the HMIT settlement
    - HCMLP will have a funding agreement with the Claimant Trust to assure that the Claimant Trust has sufficient funds to complete its wind-down
    - Any excess funds in the Claimant Trust at its cancellation will be contributed to the Indemnity Trust; excess funds at HMLP will be distributed to the Indemnity Trust

- HCMLP and its general partner – While HCMLP will be placed into dissolution, the entity will continue to survive during its winding up period, during which time it may continue to defend inbound litigation, prosecute outbound litigation, maintain its books and records, and monetize its remaining assets. HCMLP's general partner will be dissolved, wound-down and cancelled along with HCMLP
- Claimant Trust Oversight Board – Subject to the Plan and Claimant Trust agreement, it is anticipated that the members of the Oversight Board will continue in their existing roles until the final/non-appealable order approving the HMIT settlement is received
- Information rights to HMIT – After Bankruptcy Court approval of the HMIT settlement, per the Claimant Trust Agreement, except that:
    - HCMLP will review forecasted expenses with [Mark Patrick] at his request, but not more often than quarterly, and will work in good faith to reduce expenses where possible
- Approval rights – None, other than as specified elsewhere
- Duties to HMIT – None before or after vesting/Bankruptcy Court approval of the HMIT settlement
- Compensation – CEO and employee compensation remains governed by existing agreements with the oversight of the Claimant Trust Oversight Board; following the vesting of HMIT's interests, no changes will be permitted to those agreements without HMIT written consent; CEO maintains ability to maintain or reduce headcount in his absolute discretion

[1] As of April 3, 2025. This disclosure is NOT a balance sheet prepared in accordance with US GAAP. In some instances, values are estimated and actual amounts realized may ultimately differ materially. No liabilities are included herein, including existing liabilities, contingent liabilities, indemnification obligations, or considerations for future expenses, including costs of liquidation that have not yet been, but will be incurred.

[2] Claimant Trust, including consolidation of the various "Plan" entities other than the Indemnity Trust (HCMLP GP, LLC, Highland Capital Management, LP, Litigation Sub-Trust), each on a standalone basis, with intercompany balances eliminated.

[3] Stand-alone assets retained by the Indemnity Trust. Other than less than <$1M retained in cash, remainder of cash is invested in US treasuries with maturities less than 1 year. Excludes <$1M of cash/treasuries on account of the Okada settlement. Pursuant to the Okada settlement, these funds are segregated and are to be repaid to Okada as first-out funds to the extent that any excess exists in the Indemnity Trust. Accordingly, in a settlement scenario, these funds would not be available to Class 10 interest holders.

[4] Cash and treasuries includes full face amount of treasuries maturing within 6 months and has also been adjusted up to assume the near-term receipt of approximately $5 million from Highland CLO Funding, Ltd.

[5] Segregated funds invested in US treasuries with near-term maturities. Funds are reserved for the Daugherty tax proof of claim, which remains pending. If Highland successfully objects to the proof of claim, funds would be released from the Disputed Claims Reserve. If the claim is ultimately allowed in full or in part, funds would be paid to Daugherty on account of the allowed claim and any excess remaining would be released from the Disputed Claims Reserve.

[6] Note receivable from The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"). ~$17.4M principal and ~$0.2M interest currently outstanding, accruing at approximately $1,553/day. Fair value is less than face value as the note is long-dated, accruing interest at 3.26% and makes annual principal and interest payments through 2046, with the last of such payments due December 31, 2046. Dugaboy is current on its payments, including with the most recent payment completed for year-end 2024. Principal payments due are $790,215 yearly, plus accrued interest, which declines each year as principal declines. The next interest payment due December 31, 2025 is $566,677. No assurance that Dugaboy will continue making the annual principal and interest payments when due, although the holder of the note could accelerate and pursue collection in that event.

[7] 100% equity interest in Highland Capital Management Korea Limited ("HCM Korea"), plus $2.5 million note from HCM Korea. Ultimate value dependent on the monetization of the Caris Life Sciences investment through an expected 2025 IPO, which is expected to be in the range of $2 million to $5 million, but could also exceed or fall short of this range.

[8] Shares of Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. ("HCLOF"), a Guernsey company. Value has been adjusted down to assume a near-term cash dividend of approximately $5 million. Remaining value is primarily tied up in the "Acis 6" asset, for which a NexPoint entity has recently initiated an appeal in the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals. Ultimate value dependent on the Acis 6 litigation and costs of winding down HCLOF and expected to be in the range of $2 million to $4 million, but could also exceed or fall short of this range.

[9] Bad faith sanction against HCRE of $825,940.55, currently on appeal in the District Court. Fully briefed since November 2024. Award was posted in the court registry and is accruing post-judgment interest at a rate of $118.80/day. Approximately $870k is outstanding, including post-judgment interest currently. No assurance that the appeal will resolve favorably and as a result, there is no assurance that any amounts will ultimately be collected.

[10] Litigation brought by Marc Kirschner as Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust. Adversary proceeding is currently stayed. The value of the claims, their collectibility, and the costs of their continued pursuit is ultimately unknown. For purposes of aggregating the current value of assets for this illustrative presentation, no value has been ascribed.

[11] Within the litigation brought by Marc Kirschner as Litigation Trustee to the Litigation Sub-Trust were claims against HMIT relating to the "HMIT note" receivable, which had originally been a portion of the consideration HMIT paid for acquiring limited partnership interests in Highland in 2015. These claims are also stayed as part of the overall stay in the case. The value of the note, its collectibility, and the costs of their continued pursuit is ultimately unknown. For purposes of aggregating the current value of assets for this illustrative presentation, no value has been ascribed.

[1] Note receivable from The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"). ~$17.4M principal and ~$0.2M interest currently outstanding, accruing at approximately $1,553/day. Fair value is less than face value as the note is long-dated, accruing interest at 3.26% and makes annual principal and interest payments through 2046, with the last of such payments due December 31, 2046. Dugaboy is current on its payments, including with the most recent payment completed for year-end 2024. Principal payments due are $790,215 yearly, plus accrued interest, which declines each year as principal declines. The next interest payment due December 31, 2025 is $566,677. No assurance that Dugaboy will continue making the annual principal and interest payments when due, although the holder of the note could accelerate and pursue collection in that event.

[2] Amount is ultimately TBD and will ultimately depend on litigation, timing of monetization of remaining assets, and operational needs. For example, if additional litigation is brought forth, outside counsel will incur additional time and expense and certain employees may need to be retained for a longer period of time. If actual expenses exceed $20 million, less cash would be potentially available after Class 9; if actual expenses fall short of $20 million, more cash would be potentially available after Class 9.

[3] For illustrative purposes of this presentation, $0 is assumed. However, if the claim is ultimately allowed in full or in part, funds would be paid to Daugherty on account of the allowed claim, which would reduce cash potentially available after Class 9. No assurances can be provided that the claim will be completely disallowed.

[4] For illustrative purposes of this presentation, $0 is assumed. Thus, all funds utilized for purposes of satisfying indemnification obligations will reduce the funds available dollar for dollar. Under current conditions, it is believed that at least $100 million may be needed for indemnification obligations and as a result, there is not sufficient liquidity at this time to even make any further payments to Class 9 interest holders. Assuming a final/non-appealable order, providing for among other things, a complete cessation of litigation and comprehensive releases from the HMIT/DAF parties, the need for indemnification reserves could be greatly reduced.

[5] Assumes HCM Korea, HCLOF, and HCRE bad faith sanctions are monetized for the amounts described on the "current snapshot" ($6.4 million in aggregate). Monetization in excess of these amounts would result in more cash remaining; monetization below those amounts would result in less cash remaining.

HMIT Team:

Subject to our NDA, and further to our prior discussions, attached please find a draft settlement agreement.

The draft is consistent with the term sheet and the illustrative payment deck we reviewed with you.

However, we changed the timing of certain of the "gives" and “gets” so that the payments, reserves, releases, and litigation assignments, as well as a best-efforts undertaking are exchanged at or around execution. This is consistent with the DAF agreement, and these exchanges do not require Bankruptcy Court approval. We believe that an immediate exchange of as much of the material value of the settlement as possible is in the best interests of both sides.

The Class 10 claim allowance and the application of the HMIT Note to fix the amount requires court approval and is set up that way with future Indemnity Trust payments keyed to the Bankruptcy Court order becoming final. To assure that the order is timely procured and the expectations of the parties protected, we have included the aforementioned best efforts undertaking to reconstruct the essential terms of the deal and deliver it to the parties if for any reason the claim allowance is not approved or is overturned . We do believe there is much risk to either denial or reversal.

We are at your disposal. It may make sense for us to walk some or all of you through draft, and we can do that tomorrow. (We understand that Louis is away and do not presume to intrude on a well-earned holiday.) Nonetheless, if an overview is appealing, please let me know.

Thank you for your consideration. Please call me with any questions or issues. We look forward to working with you to resolve our disputes and reach a mutually satisfactory resolution.

Best. Jim

(d) For the avoidance of doubt, the HMIT Class 10 Interest is and shall remain senior to the not yet allowed, unvested contingent Class 11 Claims of Equity Interests as provided for in the Plan, the Plan Documents, and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Initial Interim Cash Distributions on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) Within ten (10) Business Days of the Final Court Approval Date, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (the date on which such distribution is made, the "Initial Interim Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: (i) cash in the aggregate amount of [Ten Million Dollars (US$10,000,000.00)] (the "Initial Interim Cash Distribution Amount"); and (ii) cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments paid on the Dugaboy Note and actually received by Highland or the Indemnity Trust from and after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date (the "Initial Interim Dugaboy Distribution Amount").

(b) Upon the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Indemnity Trust shall establish a balance sheet reserve in respect of the Initial Interim Cash Distribution Amount and the Initial Interim Dugaboy Distribution Amount (if and when received), which reserve will be held solely in cash or Permitted Investments and otherwise on the same terms as other Indemnity Trust Assets pursuant to the Indemnity Trust Agreement pending distribution in accordance with Section 5(a).

6. Subsequent Distribution(s) on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: (i) cash in the aggregate amount of [Five Million Dollars (US$5,000,000.00)]; and (ii)(x)(1) if HMIT elects in writing that it desires for the Indemnity Trust to sell the Dugaboy Note, the net proceeds, if any, actually received by the Indemnity Trust from such sale, or (2) if HMIT instead elects that it desires to receive the Dugaboy Note in kind, the Dugaboy Note in kind, plus (y) cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments actually received on the Dugaboy Note by the Indemnity Trust from and after the Initial Interim Distribution Date (the amount pursuant to subclause (y), the "Subsequent Dugaboy P+I Amount"). If the Dugaboy Note is distributed in kind, HMIT will engage an independent valuation service provider to value the Dugaboy Note for purposes of determining the magnitude of reduction to the outstanding allowed Class 10 Interests on account of such in-kind distribution. The HMIT Entities acknowledge and agree that none of the Highland Entities are representing or warranting that the Dugaboy Note can or will be sold or the price, if any, received for the Dugaboy Note and further acknowledge and agree that any such purchase price may be de minimis.

(b) Upon the Initial Interim Distribution Date, the Indemnity Trust shall establish a balance sheet reserve in respect of the cash portion of the Subsequent Dugaboy P+I Amount, which will be held solely in cash or Permitted Investments and otherwise on the same terms as other Indemnity Trust Assets pursuant to the Indemnity Trust Agreement pending distribution in accordance with Section 6(a).

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Indemnity Trust to make the Subsequent Distribution, including any Cash, the Dugaboy Note, or the Subsequent Dugaboy P+I Amount, is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII, Section 8.1(c) of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that the Indemnity Trust Assets comprising such distributions are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement).

7. Final Distribution on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2029, the Indemnity Trust will distribute all excess remaining Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement; provided, however, that the obligation of the Indemnity Trust to make any such distributions and/or dissolve and wind up the affairs of the Indemnity Trust is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that (1) a Final Order(s) (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) has been entered resolving all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to Indemnity Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) and payment in full of all such Indemnity Obligations and (2) all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of such statutes of limitation have expired.

(b) The Indemnity Trust agrees to not use Indemnity Trust Assets to fund the operating expenses of Highland.

(c) Following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, at the request of Mark Patrick, solely in his capacity, and to the extent he remains, as administrator of HMIT, but not more often than quarterly, Highland and the Indemnity Trust Administrator agree to review (i) the status of their respective assets, (ii) the balance of cash held, (iii) the status of any claims made for indemnification and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (v) forecasted operating expenses with Mr. Patrick, and will each work in good faith to reduce operating expenses where reasonably practicable; provided, however, that all such reporting shall be subject to Mr. Patrick's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

8. Transfer Kirschner Claims; Dismissal of HMIT Note Claims.

(a) In consideration of the dismissal of the Pending Litigation and the releases provided herein, within ten (10) Business Days of the Agreement Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, and solely to the extent permitted by the Plan, the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement and applicable law, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute an assignment in the form attached hereto as Exhibit [_] in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include any HMIT Note Claims) (the "Kirschner Transfer").[1] Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

(b) THE HMIT ENTITIES SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST IS TRANSFERRING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS ON AN "AS IS AND WITH ALL FAULTS" BASIS AND THAT THE HMIT ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against the Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Effective Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (a) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (b) the Final Court Approval Date does not occur, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Agreement Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities.

(a) On the Agreement Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise)(collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, excepting any HMIT Note Claims, which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Initial Highland Released Claims"). For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the HMIT Note Claims shall not be released until Final Court Approval Date, at which time the HMIT Note will be applied to calculate the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest set forth in Section 4 and the balance of the HMIT Note and any HMIT Note Claims shall be released pursuant to Section 10(b).

(b) Upon the Final Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Releasors hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, the HMIT Note Claims (the "Subsequent Highland Released Claims" and together with the Initial Highland Released Claims, the "Highland Entity Released Claims" and together with the HMIT Entity Released Claims, the "Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

> A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this

Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Releasors, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10534 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test."

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT

Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PARTY OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any action or proceeding arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an action or proceeding arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding of the parties and supersedes any and all prior or contemporaneous agreements, arrangements, and understandings relating to the subject matter of this Agreement. No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

28. Severability. Should any term, provision or paragraph of this Agreement be determined to be illegal or void or of no force and effect, the balance of the Agreement shall survive. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this Agreement shall not affect the validity and enforceability of any other provision of this Agreement.

29. Interpretive Provisions. Mark,

It's been a long time - I hope this email finds you doing well.

I understand that you have some time tomorrow for a Teams call for an initial discussion around financial information. Could I propose an hour starting at 11:30 CT?

We plan to have Kristin and Jim on (cc'd), in addition to me. I don't know that I have a good email for Shawn, so in addition to confirming the time works for you, could you also provide his email or just confirm that you will be able to forward him the invite? Once I hear from you, I'll circulate a Teams. Thanks and looking forward to speaking with you soon.

Nader and Katie:

Attached is final version of the Class 9 consent with Exhibit B showing the proposed payments to Class 9 and Class 10. I have also attached the latest version of the Settlement Agreement which will be an exhibit to the consent. Aside from the timing of the Class 10 payments, there are no provisions in the agreement that affect UBS.

As discussed, assuming final agreement on the settlement and filing of the approval motion this evening, we anticipate Bankruptcy Court approval in mid-July. After court approval, the first $10mm would be paid to Class 9 and Class 10 simultaneously.

Class 9 will also receive the proceeds from the Daugherty Class 8 reserve when that claim is disallowed. We filed our objection/complaint last week and expect resolution around September 30.

The balance of Class 9 will be paid off with the First Subsequent Distribution to Class 10 on December 1, 2027.

Please call me if you have any questions.

We appreciate your assistance trying to get the consent approved as soon as possible.

Thank you.

Best. Jim

(a) The Litigation Trustee shall continue to maintain the stay of Adv. Proc. No. 21-03076-sgj and all related proceedings arising therefrom through the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date. Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall take all steps necessary (at its own cost) to dismiss, with prejudice, HMIT and Rand PE from Counts I, II, III, and XXIV of the Amended Complaint.

3. Cash Payment to HMIT. Within five (5) Business Days following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, Highland shall pay HMIT a one-time, lump sum of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$500,000.00) (the "Payment") by wire transfer:

[wire instructions]

4. HMIT Class 10 Interest.

(a) Subject to entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order, and the terms of this Agreement, the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be deemed allowed in the amount of Three Hundred Thirty-Six Million Nine Hundred Forty Thousand Two Hundred Thirty and 58/100 Dollars (US$336,940,230.58), which amount represents the HMIT Capital Account Balance, less the HMIT Note Balance.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan or the Claimant Trust Agreement, as an integral part of this Agreement to consent to the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest and the other considerations in this Agreement, HMIT shall not be deemed, and no holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest shall be, a Claimant Trust Beneficiary or a "Beneficiary" under the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to any HMIT Releasor (whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise), including with respect to the HMIT Class 10 Interest, in each case, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Furthermore, without limiting the foregoing and for the avoidance of doubt, the contractual right of the holder of the HMIT Class 10 Interest to receive or recover any payments or Indemnity Trust Assets from the Indemnity Trust as set forth in this Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement does not make any HMIT Releasor or any other Person a beneficiary of the Indemnity Trust or under the Indemnity Trust Agreement.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement or the Indemnity Trust Agreement, in no event shall HMIT sell, transfer, assign, pledge, hypothecate, participate or otherwise dispose of or encumber the HMIT Class 10 Interest or any rights (including any right to payment) with respect thereto (collectively, a "Class 10 Assignment"), and any attempted Class 10 Assignment shall be null and void.

(d) For the avoidance of doubt, the HMIT Class 10 Interest is and shall remain senior to the not yet allowed, unvested contingent Class 11 Claims of Equity Interests as provided for in the Plan, the Plan Documents, and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

5. Initial Interim Distributions on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (the date on which such distribution is made, the "Initial Interim Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Ten Million Dollars (US$10,000,000.00) (the "Initial Interim Cash Distribution Amount").

(b) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date (the "Note Assignment Date"), the Highland Entities shall cause the portion of the Dugaboy Note held by the Highland Entities to be distributed to HMIT in-kind and take all actions necessary for HMIT to become the holder of such portion of the Dugaboy Note, and shall in addition pay to HMIT cash in the aggregate amount of all principal and interest payments actually received on the Dugaboy Note by the Highland Entities, including the Indemnity Trust, from the Agreement Date to the Note Assignment Date. Prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, HMIT will engage an independent valuation service provider to value the Dugaboy Note for purposes of determining the magnitude of reduction to the outstanding allowed Class 10 Interests on account of such in-kind distribution, which shall not be less than Fifty percent (50%) of the current balance owed under the Dugaboy Note. The HMIT Entities acknowledge and agree that none of the Highland Entities are representing or warranting that the Dugaboy Note can be sold, or the price, if any, that could be received for the Dugaboy Note and further acknowledge and agree that any such purchase price may be de minimis.

6. Subsequent Distribution(s) on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On December 1, 2027, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "First Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "First Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests: cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00).

(b) On December 1, 2028, the Indemnity Trust shall distribute (such distribution, collectively, the "Second Subsequent Distribution", and the date on which such Subsequent Distribution is made, the "Second Subsequent Distribution Date") Pro Rata to the Holders of allowed Class 10 Claims or Equity Interests cash in the aggregate amount of Six Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars (US$6,500,000.00).

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Indemnity Trust to make the First Subsequent Distribution or Second Subsequent Distribution is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII, Section 8.1(c) of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that the Indemnity Trust Assets comprising such distributions are not reasonably necessary to satisfy current or potential Indemnification Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) to all persons who are or might become Beneficiaries (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement).

7. Final Distribution on the Allowed Class 10 Interests.

(a) On the later of the Final Court Approval Date and April 1, 2029, the Indemnity Trust will distribute all excess remaining Indemnity Trust Assets in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement; provided, however, that the obligation of the Indemnity Trust to make any such distributions and/or dissolve and wind up the affairs of the Indemnity Trust is subject in all respects to (i) there being no Threats and (ii) a determination in accordance with Article VIII of the Indemnity Trust Agreement that (1) a Final Order(s) (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) has been entered resolving all litigation, claims or proceedings in any forum of any kind which could give rise to Indemnity Obligations (as defined in the Indemnity Trust Agreement) and payment in full of all such Indemnity Obligations and (2) all applicable statutes of limitations and any applicable tolling of such statutes of limitation have expired.

(b) The Indemnity Trust agrees to not use Indemnity Trust Assets to fund Operating Expenses.

(c) Following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, at the request of Mark Patrick, solely in his capacity, and to the extent he remains, as administrator of HMIT, but not more often than quarterly, Highland and the Indemnity Trust Administrator agree to review (i) the status of their respective assets, (ii) the balance of cash held, (iii) the status of any claims made for indemnification and any resolutions thereof, (iv) the status of any litigation, and (v) forecasted operating expenses with Mr. Patrick, and will each work in good faith to reduce operating expenses where reasonably practicable; provided, however, that all such reporting shall be subject to Mr. Patrick's agreement to maintain confidentiality with respect to any non-public information.

8. Transfer Kirschner Claims; Dismissal of HMIT Note Claims.

(a) Within five (5) Business Days after the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, but after the dismissal provided for in Section 2, the Litigation Sub-Trust shall execute a short-form assignment in in favor of the HMIT Entities transferring all of the Litigation Sub-Trust's right, title, and interest in and to the Kirschner Claims (the "Kirschner Transfer"). Such assignment shall be in a form mutually acceptable to the Parties and its substance shall be consistent with the terms, conditions and limitations set forth in this Agreement, including Section 8(b) below. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that none of the Highland Entities will have any duty or obligation to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof, except as provided in this Agreement, including the terms of Section 8(c) below.

(b) THE HMIT ENTITIES SPECIFICALLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE LITIGATION SUB-TRUST IS TRANSFERRING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS ON AN "AS IS AND WITH ALL FAULTS" BASIS AND THAT THE HMIT ENTITIES ARE NOT RELYING ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, FROM THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES OR

THEIR REPRESENTATIVES AS TO ANY MATTERS CONCERNING THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS AND AMENDED COMPLAINT, INCLUDING WITH RESPECT TO THE ENFORCEABILITY, TRANSFERABILITY, VIABILITY, STRENGTH, OR VALUE OF ANY OF THE KIRSCHNER CLAIMS OR THE AMENDED COMPLAINT. The HMIT Entities hereby specifically acknowledge that they have carefully reviewed this Section and have had the opportunity to discuss its import with legal counsel and that the provisions of this Section are a material part of this Agreement. Thus, if for any reason HMIT is precluded from or is otherwise unable to prosecute all or any of the Kirschner Claims, (i) the HMIT Releasors shall have no recourse against any Highland Released Parties whatsoever and shall not be entitled to compensation of any kind, it being agreed that the HMIT Entities are otherwise receiving adequate consideration for the duties and obligations they are undertaking pursuant to this Agreement and (ii) there will be no effect whatsoever on the validity and enforceability of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated hereby.

(c) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, the Highland Entities shall provide to the HMIT Entities electronic copies of written discovery requests and responses thereto, and documents produced in discovery in respect of the Kirschner Claims and the Amended Complaint. The Highland Entities will not provide any other documents regarding the Kirschner Claims including any attorney-client communications and any documents subject to the attorney work-product doctrine or similar privileges or immunities concerning the Kirschner Claims (collectively, the "Kirschner Privileges"), it being understood and agreed that the Highland Entities are retaining, and not transferring or waiving, the Kirschner Privileges.

(d) Each Party acknowledges and agrees that if (i) the Kirschner Transfer is found or deemed to be impermissible or invalid, for any reason, or (ii) any HMIT Entity materially breaches this Agreement, the Kirschner Claims and Amended Complaint will revert to, and remain an asset of, the Litigation Sub-Trust.

9. General Release By The HMIT Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its and their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the HMIT Entities, the "HMIT Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each Highland Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims, which the HMIT Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the HMIT Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the Highland Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Agreement Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence asserted by any HMIT Entity in the Pending Litigation or in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the Highland Released Parties, or the Highland Released

Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "HMIT Entity Released Claims").

10. General Release By The Highland Entities. On the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, and to the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the Highland Entities, on behalf of itself and each of its respective Affiliates (including Affiliated and/or managed funds, accounts and other investment vehicles) and its or their respective current and former advisors, consultants, administrators, trustees, directors, officers, managers, executives, members, partners (including limited and general partners), employees, beneficiaries, direct and indirect shareholders and other equity holders, agents, participants, direct and indirect subsidiaries and parents, successors, predecessors, designees, and assigns (whether by operation of law or otherwise) and all Persons claiming through, under or on their behalf (collectively with the Highland Entities, the "Highland Releasors") hereby forever, finally, fully, unconditionally, and completely releases, relieves, acquits, discharges, remises, and exonerates each HMIT Released Party from, and waives and relinquishes, any and all Claims which the Highland Releasors, or any Person claiming through, under, or on behalf of any of the Highland Releasors, ever had, now has, or hereafter can, shall, or may have against any of the HMIT Released Parties by reason of, arising from, relating to, or in connection with, any fact, matter, or transaction that occurred prior to the Bankruptcy Court Approval Date, including any fact, matter, transaction, or occurrence in connection with, relating to, or with respect to the Bankruptcy Case, the management or operation of any of the HMIT Released Parties, or the HMIT Released Parties' property and including any defense, affirmative defenses, and right to setoff arising out of, or otherwise related to, any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Highland Released Claims").

11. Further Provisions Concerning The General Releases.

(a) FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT, THE FOREGOING RELEASES ARE INTENDED TO BE GENERAL AND INCLUDE A RELEASE OF ALL RELEASED CLAIMS, WHETHER KNOWN OR UNKNOWN, SUSPECTED OR UNSUSPECTED, ARISING OR EXISTING FROM THE BEGINNING OF TIME THROUGH AND INCLUDING THE AGREEMENT DATE.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by law, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefit of any statute or other principle of law or equity that limits the applicability of a release with respect to Claims that the releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his, her or its favor at the time of executing the release.

(c) Without limiting the scope of the foregoing waiver, in connection with the foregoing release, each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, waives the benefits of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (to the extent, if any, that Section 1542 might apply to the foregoing release), which provides as follows:

A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS THAT THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT

TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE AND THAT, IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER, WOULD HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY.

Each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees that the provisions of Section 1542 of the Civil Code of the State of California and all similar federal or state law, rights, rules or legal principles, legal or equitable, in each case solely to the extent such provisions apply, ARE HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED BY EACH OF THE HMIT ENTITIES AND THE HIGHLAND ENTITIES, ON THEIR OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF THE OTHER HMIT RELEASORS AND HIGHLAND RELEASORS, RESPECTIVELY, in each and every capacity, to the full extent that such rights and benefits pertaining to the matters released herein may be waived, and each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, hereby agrees and acknowledges that this waiver and relinquishment is an essential term of this Agreement, without which the consideration provided would not have been given.

In connection with such waiver and relinquishment, each of the HMIT Entities and Highland Entities acknowledges that it is aware that it may hereafter discover Claims presently unknown or unsuspected, or facts in addition to or different from those which it now knows or believes to be true, with respect to the matters released herein. Nevertheless, it is the intent of each of the HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on its own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, in executing this Agreement fully, finally, and forever to settle and release all such matters, and all Claims related thereto, which exist, may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) which are the subject to the releases granted above.

(d) As an integral component of this Agreement, and notwithstanding the Parties' intent set forth in the preamble hereto and the general nature of the releases in Sections 9 and 10, should:

(i) any HMIT Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any HMIT Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "HMIT Alleged Claim"), such HMIT Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such HMIT Alleged Claim to the Highland Entities and the Highland Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such HMIT Alleged Claim.

(ii) any Highland Releasor contend or assert that any Claim of any kind whatsoever held by any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party survives this Agreement and is in any way related to or arising from or in connection with any Highland Entity Released Claim (such claim or cause of action, a "Highland Alleged Claim"), such Highland Releasor will be deemed to have irrevocably, fully, and finally assigned such Highland Alleged

Claim to the HMIT Entities and the HMIT Entities will be deemed to have forever, finally, full, unconditionally, and irrevocably, and completely released such Highland Alleged Claim.

12. Covenant Not To Sue; Limitation on Standing. Upon the Agreement Date:

(a) Each of the HMIT Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the Highland Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any HMIT Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(b) Each of the Highland Releasors covenants and agrees that it will not institute or prosecute any Action, in law, in equity or otherwise, against any of the HMIT Released Parties, to recover, enforce, investigate, or collect any Highland Entity Released Claim and will not (i) induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or (ii) act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement shall not operate to give any HMIT Entity standing for any purpose in connection with the Bankruptcy Case (or in connection with any appeal arising from any order entered by the Bankruptcy Court), except for the limited purpose of seeking Court approval of this Agreement (including with respect to any appeal concerning any order entered granting or denying such approval), and except for the limited purpose of enforcing this Agreement, no HMIT Entity shall commence any Action in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest.

13. Representations and Warranties.

(a) Each of the HMIT Entities hereby represents and warrants that every HMIT Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any HMIT Releasor.

(b) The HMIT Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, acknowledge and agree that each Plan Provision is lawful, effective, and binding on the HMIT Releasors. The HMIT Entities further agree, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors, that the HMIT Releasors will never, in any way, challenge or seek to modify, nullify, vacate, or revoke, or induce, encourage or direct any other Person to do so or act in concert with or assist (financially or otherwise) any other Person in doing so the Confirmation Order, the Plan, the Plan Protections, or any Plan Document, including the Claimant Trust Agreement, the LPA, the Indemnity Trust Agreement or the Litigation Sub-Trust Agreement, in the Bankruptcy Court, in any other state or federal court, in any other forum or tribunal, or otherwise, including administrative or regulatory tribunals and foreign courts.

(c) Each of the Highland Entities hereby represents and warrants that every Highland Entity Released Claim has not heretofore been assigned or encumbered and is not the subject of a transfer (as such term is defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(54)), by any Highland Releasor.

(d) Each Party severally represents and warrants as to itself only that: (i) it has taken all necessary action to authorize and approve the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement; (ii) such Party has full power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement; and (iii) this Agreement constitutes a valid, legal and binding obligation of such Party, and is enforceable subject to its terms. Each individual signatory hereto individually warrants and represents to all Parties hereto that such individual has full power and authority to act on behalf of and bind the Party for which he or she has executed this Agreement; provided, however that no signatory shall otherwise provide any warranty or representation or otherwise be a party to this Agreement on an individual basis.

14. No Continuing Rights, Duties or Obligations. Except for the rights, duties, and obligations expressly set forth in this Agreement, all Rights and Obligations that existed or may have existed shall be deemed terminated, extinguished, and released upon the Agreement Date. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the Agreement Date, (a) the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty, past or present, including with respect to the Kirchner Claims, to the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement, and (b) the HMIT Released Parties, individually and collectively, shall owe no duty to the Highland Released Parties, individually and collectively, whether contractual, fiduciary, equitable, statutory or otherwise, except as arising out of this Agreement.

15. Gatekeeper Standard.

(a) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that, notwithstanding the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit's decision in Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P., No. 23-10534 (5th Cir. Mar. 18, 2025), the "Gatekeeper" provisions contained in Highland's Original Plan is forever binding on each of the HMIT Entities and any Persons claiming through, under or on behalf of any of them, and for a claim or cause of action to be "colorable" for purposes of the Gatekeeper, it must be found by final order of the Bankruptcy Court (the "Gatekeeper Court"), which order shall be subject to appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction, to have satisfied the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test" as such term is defined in In re Highland Capital Management, L.P., 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 2104 at *124-36 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2023).

(b) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, acknowledge and agree that compliance with the Gatekeeper requires (i) a motion seeking leave to sue an Exculpated Party (as that term is defined in Highland's original Plan) and a finding that the litigant's claims and causes of action are "colorable" attaching a complaint setting forth the basis for such claims or causes of action and (ii), in the Gatekeeper Court's sole discretion, an evidentiary hearing (during which the Gatekeeper Court may, among other things, hear testimony and assess the credibility of any witness(es)) to determine whether a proposed claim or cause of action is "colorable."

(c) The HMIT Entities and the Highland Entities, on their own behalf and on behalf of the other HMIT Releasors and Highland Releasors, respectively, further acknowledge and agree that the moving party under the Gatekeeper has the burden of satisfying the "Gatekeeper Colorability Test," and that the dismissal of the Pending Litigation shall have res judicata effect.

16. Indemnification.

(a) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the HMIT Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the Highland Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any HMIT Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any Actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any HMIT Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any HMIT Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any HMIT Releasor against any Highland Released Party with respect to or related to any HMIT Entity Released Claims. Without limiting the scope of the foregoing in any manner, any HMIT Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the Highland Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such Highland Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each HMIT Entity acknowledges and agrees that the HMIT Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Without in any manner limiting the available remedies for any breach of this Agreement, the Highland Entities, severally but not jointly, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold the HMIT Released Parties harmless from and against any and all Liability, that may arise or result from or on account of, or that are otherwise related or attributable to (x) any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement, including the representations and warranties of any Highland Entity set forth in Section 13 or (y) any suits, proceedings, or other actions brought or prosecuted by or on behalf of, any Highland Releasor or that are induced, encouraged, assisted or directed by any Highland Releasor or brought or prosecuted in concert with any Highland Releasor against any HMIT Released Party with respect to or related to any Highland Entity Released Claims. Without in any manner limiting the scope of the foregoing, any Highland Entity that breaches Section 12 shall be liable to the HMIT Released Party against whom the applicable Action has been brought or prosecuted in violation of Section 12 for the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by such HMIT Released Party in defending against or otherwise responding to such Action. Each Highland Entity acknowledges and agrees that the Highland Entities are and shall be severally but not jointly liable for any Liability arising from or out of any breach of this Agreement or of any representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement.

17. Execution. This Agreement may be executed by the exchange of signatures by facsimile or by PDF attachment to an email transmittal and in counterparts, and if so executed, shall be fully executed when a counterpart has been executed and delivered by all Parties hereto through counsel. All counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement and shall be fully enforceable as such.

18. Bankruptcy Court Order. The allowance of the allowed HMIT Class 10 Interest pursuant to Section 4 is subject to the entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order. To that end, the Highland Entities shall file the 9019 Motion no later than five (5) Business Days after the Agreement Date. Each Party shall, and shall cause each of their respective Affiliates to, undertake any and all actions in compliance with applicable law to obtain the Bankruptcy Court Order as promptly as practicable, and without limiting the foregoing, if an Action is threatened or instituted by any Person opposing the 9019 Motion or otherwise challenging the validity or legality, or seeking to restrain the consummation, of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or the Bankruptcy Court Order, each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their commercially reasonable best efforts to avoid, resist, resolve or, if necessary, and defend to effectuate this Agreement and consummate the transactions hereby. If the 9019 Motion is not approved by entry of the Bankruptcy Court Order or if the Bankruptcy Court Approval is precluded from becoming a Final Order, (a) there will be no affect on, adjustment to, or impairment of, in any way, the validity and enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement, and the other transactions contemplated hereby, all of which shall remain in full force and effect and (b) each Party shall, and shall cause its respective Affiliates to, use their best efforts to seek the allowance of the HMIT Class 10 Interest in a substantially similar amount and on substantially similar terms as set forth in Section 4 to the fullest extent possible so as to give effect to the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible.

19. Fees and Expenses. Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated or the Bankruptcy Court Order is obtained, and except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each Party will bear its respective fees, costs and expenses (including legal, accounting and other professional fees) incurred in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including with respect to each Party's respective obligations pursuant to Section 18. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Party hereto brings an Action to enforce or interpret the terms and provisions of this Agreement, the prevailing Party in that Action shall be entitled to have and recover from the non-prevailing Party all such fees, costs and expenses (including all court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees) as the prevailing Party may suffer or incur in the pursuit or defense of such action or proceeding.

20. Entire Agreement; No Other Representations. THIS AGREEMENT CONTAINS THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE PARTIES, AND NO RIGHTS ARE CREATED IN FAVOR OF ANY PERSON OTHER THAN AS SPECIFIED OR EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS, CONDITIONS, WARRANTIES, STATEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS (COLLECTIVELY, "REPRESENTATIONS"), EITHER ORAL OR WRITTEN, BETWEEN THE PARTIES OTHER THAN THOSE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT; AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY HAVE NOT RELIED ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY AGREE THAT THEY ARE ENTERING INTO THIS AGREEMENT RELYING SOLELY ON THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND NOT ON ANY REPRESENTATIONS BY ANY PARTY, EXCEPT FOR THOSE REPRESENTATIONS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT. THE PARTIES AGREE THAT REPRESENTATIONS NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT SHALL NOT BE USED IN THE INTERPRETATION OR CONSTRUCTION OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND NEITHER THE HMIT RELEASED PARTIES NOR THE

HIGHLAND RELEASED PARTIES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY FOR ANY CONSEQUENCES ARISING AS A RESULT OF ANY REPRESENTATIONS NOT SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

21. Agreement and Release Knowing and Voluntary. The Parties acknowledge that they have considered this Agreement with their respective attorneys and have carefully read this Agreement, that it has been fully explained by their attorneys, and that they have had a reasonable opportunity to consider this Agreement. The Parties further represent that they know and fully understand the contents of this Agreement, that they intend to be legally bound by this Agreement and the releases and covenants contained herein, and that they are signing this Agreement, including the release provisions herein, voluntarily and of their own free will and without coercion, and with the benefit of advice of counsel.

22. Cooperation. The Parties agree to perform any services or actions reasonably necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, including the execution and delivery of reasonable additional documents, instruments, conveyances and/or assurances, in good faith, and to reasonably communicate and cooperate with one another in this regard. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section shall obligate the Highland Entities to assist the HMIT Entities in any way with respect to the Kirschner Claims, including the prosecution thereof.

23. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed pursuant to and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware (substantive and procedural) without reference to principles of conflicts of law that would result in the application of any other State's laws.

24. Jurisdiction/Venue. The Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the Bankruptcy Court with respect to any Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof; if (and only if) the Bankruptcy Court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate an Action arising out of or related to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, then the Parties irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction and venue of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

25. No Admissions. All Parties acknowledge and agree that the matters set forth in this Agreement constitute the settlement and compromise of disputed Claims and that this Agreement shall not constitute the admission of any fact or liability by any of them regarding any Claim, including the Claims released hereunder, and neither the terms hereof, nor the fact of this Agreement itself, shall be evidence of any kind in any Action, other than an Action to enforce the terms of the Agreement or any instrument executed in connection herewith or any claim for damages or other relief for breach of any representation or warranty contained herein or in any instrument executed in connection herewith.

26. Other Provisions.

(a) No representation, inducement, agreement, promise or understandings altering, modifying, amending, taking from or adding to, the terms and conditions hereof shall have any force or effect unless the same is in writing and validly executed by each of the Parties hereto.

(b) The waiver by any Party of any breach of, or default under, any provision of this Agreement shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach or default; provided, however, that for any such waiver to be enforceable, it shall be in writing and executed by the non-breaching Party.

(c) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall in no way restrict or otherwise affect the construction of the provisions hereof.

(d) The Parties shall each execute all documents and perform all acts necessary and proper to effectuate the terms of this Agreement.

27. Notices. All notices required or permitted to be provided hereunder shall be afforded to the respective parties to and through their counsel, and shall be transmitted simultaneously by electronic mail (with PDF attachments, as necessary) and by telefax, addressed as follows:

WHEREAS, the Highland Parties dispute the validity and amount of the Reserved Claim and, pursuant to Section 9 of the Settlement Agreement, Mr. Daugherty and Highland reserved all rights with respect to the Reserved Claim; provided, however, that any litigation between Highland and Mr. Daugherty concerning the Reserved Claim was stayed until the IRS makes a final determination with respect to the dispute between the Debtor and the IRS (the "IRS Dispute") or the Highland Parties and Mr. Daugherty otherwise agree;

WHEREAS, Mr. Daugherty and the Highland Parties continue to consider potential resolutions of the Reserved Claim in the absence of a resolution of the IRS Dispute;

WHEREAS, it is unknown when the IRS Dispute may be resolved; and

NOW, THEREFORE, effective as of the Effective Date, each of the Parties agrees as follows:

1. Covenant to Reserve. In consideration of Mr. Daugherty's agreement to extend the Claim Objection Deadline (as set forth in paragraph 2 of this Agreement), the Highland Parties agree not to commence any lawsuit, action or proceeding to further object to the Reserved Claim at any time until the Objection Deadline (notwithstanding Mr. Daugherty's position that the Highland Parties would have no right to do so in any event under the Settlement Agreement until such time that the IRS resolves the IRS Dispute) and further agree to reserve $2,650,353.00 on account of the Reserved Claim in the "Disputed Claim Reserve" as such term is defined in the Plan until the Parties resolve the Reserved Claim pursuant to a signed agreement, or, alternatively, an order of the Bankruptcy Court.

2. Extension of Claim Objection Deadline. In consideration of the Highland Parties' "Covenant to Reserve" (as set forth in paragraph 1 of this Agreement), Mr. Daugherty agrees that the Claim Objection Deadline applicable to the Reserved Claim is hereby tolled as of, and extended from, the Effective Date to the Objection Deadline.

3. Acknowledgement and Waiver. Mr. Daugherty acknowledges and agrees that:

a. Regardless of whether the Second Extension Motion is approved by the Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Daugherty waives any right or ability to argue (x) that the terms of this Agreement and the extension of the Claim Objection Deadline required an order of the Bankruptcy Court; or (y) the application of the expiration of the Claims Objection Deadline to the Reserved Claim; and

b. Mr. Daugherty is estopped from arguing that this Agreement is ineffective to extend the time within which the Highland Parties must object to the Reserved Claim.

4. Acknowledgement and Waiver. The Highland Parties acknowledge and agree that regardless of whether the Second Extension Motion is approved by the Bankruptcy Court, the Highland Parties waive any right or ability to argue that the terms of this Agreement and the extension of the Claim Objection Deadline required an order of the Bankruptcy Court.

5. Representations and Warranties.

a. Mr. Daugherty represents and warrants that he has not sold, transferred, hypothecated, pledged, or assigned the Reserved Claim to any other person or entity, and that no person or entity other than Mr. Daugherty has been, is, or will be authorized to bring, pursue, or enforce the Reserved Claim on behalf of, for the benefit of, or in the name of (whether directly or derivatively) Mr. Daugherty.

b. Each Party represents and warrants to the other Party that such Party is fully authorized to enter into and perform the terms of this Agreement and that, as of the Effective Date, this Agreement will be fully binding upon each Party in accordance with its terms.

6. Miscellaneous.

a. Binding Effect; Successors-in-Interest. Each of the Parties agrees that this Agreement will be binding upon the Parties, and, as applicable, upon their predecessors, successors, subsidiaries, divisions, alter egos, affiliated and related entities, and their past or present officers, directors, partners, employees, attorneys, assigns, agents, representatives, and any or all of them.

b. No Admission of Liability. The Parties acknowledge that there is a bona fide dispute with respect to the validity and amount of the Reserved Claim. Nothing in this Agreement will imply an admission of liability, fault or wrongdoing by the Highland Parties, Mr. Daugherty, or any other person and the execution of this Agreement does not constitute an admission of liability, fault, or wrongdoing on the part of the Highland Parties, Mr. Daugherty, or any other person.

c. Notice. We think the ground for the change of lawyers for HCLOM is self-evident.

This is to advise that we will not be filing the motion Amelia sent around earlier (which she sent as a courtesy as I told you we would circulate). Hope to visit soon.

Thank you, Amelia.

I honestly don't know what to make of all of this—including Mr. Elms suddenly representing HCLOM rather than Ms. Deitsch Perez—but please confirm that neither HMIT nor HCLOM is making any request of Highland at this time.

Assuming that to be the case, Highland will wait to see what gets filed, if anything, and otherwise reserves all of its rights at law and in equity.

John

Good afternoon,

Per Louis, we said that we would circulate the attached draft before filing. We think our deadline is today but we are actively working with Mr. Elms who has been recently retained by HCLOM to resolve without necessity of litigating. But in case we do not reach a resolution this evening and as we said we would circulate a draft prior to filing, we wanted to get this draft to you.

thanks,

Amelia

Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland"), the reorganized debtor in the above-captioned bankruptcy case (the "Bankruptcy Case"), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby files this Motion for (A) a Bad Faith Finding and (B) an Award of Attorneys' Fees Against Highland CLO Management, Ltd. and James Dondero in Connection with HCLOM Claims 3.65 and 3.66 (the "Motion") against Highland CLO Management, Ltd. ("HCLOM Ltd.") and James Dondero ("Dondero" and together with HCLOM Ltd., the "HCLOM Parties"). In support of its Motion, Highland states as follows:

I. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT[1]

1. The undisputed facts adduced during discovery show that the HCLOM Ltd. Claim is baseless and HCLOM Ltd. lacks a good faith basis to continue prosecuting its claim.

2. HCLOM Ltd. holds the Note at issue.[2] There is no dispute that (a) HCLOM Ltd. never gave anything of value to Highland (or Acis) for the Note, (b) HCLOM Ltd. never performed any of its obligations under the Transfer Agreement or even attempted the necessary steps to enable it to do so, (c) HCLOM Ltd. never paid Highland any Acis Participation Interests, and (d) Acis failed to pay any Acis Participation Interests after the Transfer Agreement was executed. Despite Highland not receiving the promised Acis Participation Interests and HCLOM Ltd. providing no consideration and breaching the Transfer Agreement, HCLOM Ltd. offers three reasons why it thinks it can nevertheless enforce the Note against Highland; each reason is meritless.

[1] Capitalized terms not defined in this Preliminary Statement shall have the meanings ascribed to them below.

[2] Incredibly, at the time of his deposition, Dondero claimed he did not know who held the Note or who was responsible for prosecuting this litigation on HCLOM Ltd.'s behalf. (Ex. 62 at 8:7-14; 14:10-14; 19:22-20:15; 110:2-19). At the hearing, Highland respectfully requests that Stinson be directed to disclose the identity of the individual(s) instructing it in this matter on HCLOM Ltd.'s behalf and who is paying its fees.

3. First, HCLOM Ltd. contends that the Note is a stand-alone document, enforceable without reference to the Participation Agreement or Transfer Agreement and without regard to whether HCLOM Ltd. provided any consideration or performed its obligations under those agreements. Response ¶¶ 16-24. This contention lacks any legal basis and is contradicted by the plain and unambiguous terms of (a) the Participation Agreement, pursuant to which Acis agreed to "participate" a portion of its Servicing Fees to Highland in exchange for a downpayment and deferred payments under the Note; (b) the Note which accompanied the Participation Agreement and conditioned its own effectiveness on the effectiveness of the Participation Agreement; and (c) the Transfer Agreement (concocted just days after Terry obtained an $8 million arbitration award against Acis), pursuant to which HCLOM Ltd. was to "step into the shoes of Acis" by becoming Acis' Successor Manager in exchange for the Note. There can be no credible dispute that these agreements were inextricably intertwined as part of one integrated transaction pursuant to which mutually dependent payments were to be made. Dondero and Waterhouse confirmed this point during their depositions. As Dondero testified, "it was essentially a trade of promises, and one side wouldn't have signed if they didn't get the promises of the other side."[3] HCLOM Ltd.'s contention that the Note is somehow enforceable as a separate, unrelated binding agreement, without regard to the others, is thus unsupported and belied by the documentary and testimonial evidence.[4]

[3] Ex. 62 at 50:7-21; see also id. at 50:23-51:12.

[4] Notwithstanding HCLOM Ltd.'s new tale, Dondero confirmed these facts under oath in direct examination by his own lawyer in the Acis case in 2018: "Q…it's Mr. Terry's position … that [the Note] does not condition payment by Highland of the promissory note to receipt of service fees from Acis. So what is your response to that contention? A. [Dondero] It was always a – it was always a paired transaction, and the tying of the two together and a recommendation for unwinding or whatever you want to call it, selling the note came to me from counsel and advisors. I mean does that not answer?" [Ex. 76 at 151:4-12].

4. Second, HCLOM Ltd. blames the Acis bankruptcy, this Court's June 2018 injunction, and the subsequent Acis plan injunction for its failure to become Acis' Successor Manager. Response ¶¶ 25-32. This contention is likewise false. It is indisputable that a different entity with a strikingly similar name—Highland CLO Management, LLC ("HCLOM LLC")—was created by Highland weeks before HCLOM Ltd. and was specifically organized, authorized, and equipped to serve as Acis' Successor Manager. But, HCLOM Ltd. and HCLOM LLC were completely separate entities, and HCLOM Ltd. never did, never could, and never would serve in the Acis replacement manager role—a fact Dondero admitted in the Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement he signed eleven days before the Acis bankruptcy petition was even filed.[5]

5. Finally, HCLOM Ltd. contends that the Note is enforceable because Highland included it on its Schedules and Seery supposedly testified during the Acis 9019 hearing that the Note was enforceable. Response ¶¶ 33-49. These contentions are equally meritless. By its terms, the Schedules are subject to an extensive reservation of rights "including, but not limited to, the right to dispute or assert offsets or defenses to any claim reflected on the SoFA and Schedules as to amount, liability, or classification of the claim, or to otherwise subsequently designate any claim as 'disputed,' 'contingent' or 'unliquidated.'"[6] As HCLOM Ltd. acknowledges, while the [5] Ex. 7. As shown below, the indisputable evidence proves that HCLOM LLC was created and specifically constructed and enabled to serve as Acis' Successor Manager for the resetting and refinancing of the Acis CLOs. See infra ¶¶ 43-51. Incredibly, despite being designated as HCLOM Ltd.'s Rule 30(b)(6) witness, Waterhouse did not recall that there was an entity named "Highland CLO Management, LLC" and another entity named "Highland CLO Management, Ltd." (Ex. 3 at 6:2-11; 25:21-26:5). Whether negligently or deceitfully, HCLOM Ltd.'s Response completely and nonsensically confuses HCLOM Ltd. and HCLOM LLC. That confusion or deceit is also reflected in Dondero's recent verified interrogatories in the Acis case where, completely contradicting the terms of the Transfer Agreement and HCLOM Ltd.'s position here, he stated: "Highland CLO Management LLC ("Highland Management") was established to assume management of the Acis CLOs post-reset, including taking on Acis obligation to pay 50% of the Acis CLO fees to Highland Capital as well as becoming payee on Highland Capital's the [sic] Promissory Note. In accordance with the above, Acis, on November 7, [sic] 2017 agreed to transfer the Promissory Note to Highland Management [LLC] and also agreed to transfer to Highland Management [LLC], when it became manager of the Acis CLO's [sic] post-reset, to pay 50% of the CLO management fees to Highland Capital." Ex. 65 (response to Interrogatory No. 4).

[6] Notice of Filing of Debtor's Amended Schedules, Docket No. 1082, Ex. 1 at 2.

HCLOM Claim may be prima facie valid, Highland's Objection and the evidence adduced herein (and at trial) shifts the burden of proof back to HCLOM Ltd. to establish the validity and amount of its claim.[7] And Seery will testify that his testimony during the Acis 9019 hearing was based on the erroneous notion that Highland owned HCLOM Ltd. at the time, a notion HCLOM Ltd.'s own corporate representative ironically still believes is true.[8]

6. In addition to pursuing a baseless claim, HCLOM Ltd.'s witnesses—Dondero and Waterhouse, both individually and as HCLOM Ltd.'s Rule 30(b)(6) witness—were so uninformed and unprepared to testify that sanctions are warranted. See infra ¶¶ 52-59. Dondero deserves special focus because while he attempted to distance himself from virtually everything, (a) his family trust, The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"), was the majority ultimate beneficial owner of Acis and therefore the primary beneficiary of the tax-driven strategy that lead to the Participation Agreement, (b) through Dugaboy, he indirectly owns a majority interest in HCLOM Ltd. and therefore has the largest stake in the outcome of this litigation, and (c) while he claimed to be unaware of it, Dondero was, and apparently remains, the President of HCLOM Ltd.

7. Discovery is complete. HCLOM Ltd. knows that there is no genuine dispute that the HCLOM Claim is invalid and will be disallowed; the continued pursuit of the HCLOM Claim is now just another vexatious abuse of the judicial process. HCLOM Ltd. should immediately consent to the entry of an order disallowing the HCLOM Claim—and all the factual and legal theories upon which it is based—with prejudice. If it fails to do so, Highland requests that the Court enter a finding of bad faith and an award of attorneys' fees[9] jointly and severally against HCLOM Ltd. and Dondero.[10]

II. RELEVANT BACKGROUND

A. The Bankruptcy Case: The HCLOM Claim, the Objection, and the Response

8. On October 16, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the "Delaware Court").

9. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor's Bankruptcy Case to this Court [Docket No. 186].[3]

10. On December 13, 2019, Highland filed its schedule of unsecured claims that identified "Highland CLO Holdco" as a creditor with claims under a note. Docket No. 247 (Schedule E/F, Part 3.64 and 3.65) (the "Initial HCLOM Claim").

11. On September 22, 2020, Highland filed a Notice of Filing of Debtor's Amended Schedules in which it, among other things, replaced Highland CLO Holdco as the creditor with the Initial HCLOM Claim with HCLOM Ltd., an entity Highland's independent directors then believed was owned directly or indirectly by Highland. Docket No. 1082 (Schedule E/F, Part 3.65 and 3.66) (the "HCLOM Claim").

[9] Highland reserves the right to offer proof of the legal fees it has incurred during the evidentiary hearing currently scheduled for December 18, 2024.

[10] As the Court will recall, Highland moved for similar relief against HCRE but only after the evidentiary hearing was completed and the Court rendered a decision on the merits. See Docket No. 3851. To be more efficient; because the evidence supporting Highland's Objection and this Motion will be the same; and to give HCLOM Ltd. fair notice of the relief requested, Highland files this Motion in advance of the hearing. While HCLOM Ltd. technically has 21 days to oppose the Motion, Highland has no objection to HCLOM Ltd. filing its response on December 16, 2024, to take into account the Thanksgiving holiday. Highland reserves the right to offer and rely on such further evidence that is adduced at trial in support of this Motion.

12. On February 22, 2021, this Court entered the Order Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (ii) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 1943] (the "Confirmation Order"), which confirmed the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) [Docket No. 1808] (the "Plan"). The Plan became effective on August 11, 2021 (the "Effective Date") [Docket No. 2700].

13. Following the Effective Date and in furtherance of the Plan, Highland began reviewing the available information to determine the validity, amount, and priority of all unresolved claims. The evidence will show that, as part of the process, Highland discovered, among other things, that (a) it only held a 1% economic interest in HCLOM Ltd.,[11] (b) HCLOM Ltd. provided no consideration for the Note, (c) HCLOM Ltd. never performed its obligations under the Transfer Agreement and could never have done so, and (d) Acis failed to perform its obligations under the Participation Agreement and the Transfer Agreement, all of which vitiated any obligations Highland may have had under the Participation Agreement, the Note, or the Transfer Agreement. Based on these facts, among others, Highland filed its objection to the HCLOM Claim on February 2, 2023 (the "Objection"). Ex. 1.

14. On April 3, 2023, HCLOM Ltd. filed its response to the Objection (the "Response"). Ex. 20.

B. Dondero Terminates Terry and the Parties Execute the Participation Agreement

15. This dispute arises from a series of intercompany agreements and machinations orchestrated in the "Highland Complex" while James Dondero ("Dondero") was firmly in control of all sides of the enterprise.

[11] It also held 99% of the voting, non-economic interests in HCLOM Ltd.

16. Prior to the Petition Date, Acis Capital Management, L.P. ("Acis"), then an affiliate of Highland, provided portfolio management services to the issuers of certain collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") in exchange for management fees ("Servicer Fees") to be paid under portfolio management agreements (the "PMA's").[12] The PMA's prohibit the portfolio manager from assigning any of its rights or obligations under the PMA's without permission and the satisfaction of certain conditions.[13] At all relevant times, Dondero controlled Acis and Highland.

17. Since Acis had no employees of its own, Highland provided back- and middle-office services as well as investment advisory services to Acis pursuant to certain Shared Services and Sub-Advisory Agreements (the "SSA" and "SAA", respectively, and together, the "HCMLP Services Agreements," as amended). The services provided under the HCMLP Services Agreements enabled Acis to perform under the PMA's. Joshua Terry ("Terry"), a Highland employee, was also an officer and portfolio manager of Acis until 2016.

18. On June 9, 2016, Dondero, acting through Highland, terminated Terry and as a result, Dondero and Frank Waterhouse ("Waterhouse") remained as the sole officers of Acis' general partner. See Ex. 9.

19. On July 29, 2016, Highland and Acis amended the HCMLP Services Agreements pursuant to which, among other things, Acis agreed to pay Highland a fee at the following rates for each of the Acis CLOs: (a) 20 basis points for sub-advisory services; and (a) 15 basis points for shared services, for a total of 35 basis points, with the rates applied retroactively to January 1, 2016. See Ex.10 at HCLOM00535306 (20 bps for sub-advisory services), HCLOM00535321 (15

[12] Fees under the PMA's are calculated by multiplying the fee earning assets in a given CLO by the fee rate, expressed in basis points. The CLO issuers were obligated to pay Acis the following under the Acis managed CLOs: Acis CLO 2013-1, Ltd. 50 bps; Acis CLO 2014-3, Ltd. 40 bps; Acis CLO 2014-4, Ltd. 40 bps, Acis CLO 2014-5, Ltd. 40 bps; and Acis CLO 2015-6, Ltd. 40 bps. See Ex. 13 (Schedule A under "Total Servicer Fee").

[13] See Ex. 32 §14; Ex. 34 §14; Ex. 36 §14; Ex. 38 § 14.

bps for shared services).[14] These fee amendments roughly doubled the aggregate annual fees Highland was to receive from Acis and the retroactive nature of the agreements immediately saddled Acis with approximately $3 million in additional payables to Highland.

20. In or around September 2016, Dondero caused Highland to sue Terry in Texas state court. Terry moved to compel arbitration, and his motion was granted. See Ex. 25. As discussed below, the arbitration was conducted in September 2017.

21. On October 7, 2016, Dondero caused Acis and Highland to enter into an Agreement for Purchase and Sale of CLO Participation Interests (the "Participation Agreement"). Ex. 13. The Participation Agreement was not an arms' length economic transaction but was adopted for the tax-driven purpose of converting ordinary income into capital gains for the benefit of Acis' ultimate beneficial owners—Dugaboy and Mark Okada—of up to 20%.[15] As Dondero previously testified: "So immediately upon Josh's [Terry] leaving back in June [2016], the partnership became just Mark and I, 75/25. What this transaction was and was meant to be and never anything more was a tax-planning strategy to reduce taxes. Because Acis was a full taxpaying entity and Highland wasn't. You know, the creation of the note of Highland paying Acis a note, that note—Highland never got any monies for it. Highland never got any value for it, other than a promise for Acis to pay its management fees over time." Ex. 76 at 133:23-134:7 (emphasis added).

22. In order to try to achieve the desired tax savings under the Participation Agreement, Acis agreed to participate to Highland a portion of the Servicer Fees (the participated portion, the "Acis Participation Interests") for a finite period of time in exchange for Highland's payment to [14] Dondero signed the amendments to the HCMLP Services Agreements on behalf of Acis and Highland.

[15] Dondero admitted that Acis and Highland were "pass through" entities and that the purpose of the Participation Agreement was to defer or recharacterize taxes for the benefit of the ultimate beneficial owners. (Ex. 62 at 35:10-36:16, 37:4-19; see also Ex. 3 at 79:19-80:24, 83:1-6,85:22-86:16 (Waterhouse testified that the Participation Agreement was a "tax-driven strategy" that also provided certain cash management benefits to Highland)).

Acis of $666,655 in cash (the "Cash Purchase Price") and the payment of deferred annual installments under a note in favor of Acis, in the original principal amount of $12,666,446.00 (the "Note"). See id. §§ 1, 1.1; see also Ex. 14.[16] While the Note references "advances" by Acis, no money was ever loaned to Highland. The Note simply reflected amounts that would be paid back to Acis by Highland—a "wash" according to Dondero—after Highland received payment of the Acis Participation Interests.[17]

23. Despite Terry's contentious departure in 2016 and the public litigation Highland launched against him later that year, it was "business as usual" for Acis. (See Ex. 3 at 68:7-69:24). For example, Acis continued serving as the portfolio manager for the CLOs, managing billions of dollars of bank loans and paying the Acis Participation Interests to Highland in exchange for the installment payments under the Note, all as required under the Participation Agreement. In March 2017, Dondero caused Highland and Acis to further amend the HCMLP Services Agreements. See Ex. 11 (Fourth Amended and Restated Shared Services Agreement, dated March 17, 2017); Ex. 12 (Third Amended and Restated Sub-Advisory Agreement, Dated March 17, 2017). The next month, Acis even completed a new, risk-retention compliant CLO ("Acis 7"), using an indirect

[16] The Note called for annual payments to be made on May 31, 2017, 2018, and 2019. Ex. 14. The evidence will show that Acis and Highland performed their respective obligations under the Participation Agreement and the Note until the Transfer Agreement was executed in November 2017. After that, even though Dondero controlled Acis until the appointment of a trustee, Acis stopped remitting the Acis Participation Interests to Highland as required under the Participation Agreement, Highland stopped making payments to Acis under the Note and HCLOM Ltd. did absolutely nothing.

[17] In response to his attorney's questioning in the Acis case, Dondero testified as follows: "Q. "This is not like I – for example, I refinanced my house recently, give a note to the bank, but I get cash money at closing from the bank. Are you saying that did not happen here? A. [Dondero] Correct. In October. Highland got nothing other than a promise for Acis to pay. And all the payment schedule – the amortization on the note was timed exactly to match the expected management fees as Acis got them in." Ex. 76 at 134:13-20. Dondero continued: "It's essentially a wash. They're – yes, it doesn't matter which pocket it goes into." Id. at 152:23-24 (emphasis added). On cross, Dondero insisted: "A. I'm saying it was paired together, it was a tax transaction, it was supposed to have very little net value, there was supposed to be offsetting flows, and the recommendation on the sale was all guided by counsel, internal and external…." Id. at 36:10-14.

subsidiary, Acis CLO Management, LLC ("ACLOM LLC"), as the portfolio manager. Ex. 15 (Portfolio Management Agreement between Acis CLO 2017-7, Ltd. and ACLOM LLC).[18]

24. Things went south in 2017 as summer turned to fall. Dondero and his team spent 10 days opposing Terry's arbitration in September. Clearly sensing that the arbitration was not going well for him, Dondero instructed his attorneys to eliminate arbitration clauses in existing and future contracts. Even more tellingly, on October 19, 2017, Highland formed HCLOM LLC as a Delaware LLC to replace ACLOM LLC for future CLO issuances and resets of existing managed CLOs. Ex. 87. The next day, on October 20, 2017, Terry was awarded an $8 million arbitration award against Acis (the "Arbitration Award"). Ex. 26.[19]

C. The Note is Assigned to HCLOM Ltd. Under False Pretenses in Exchange for HCLOM Ltd. Agreeing to Become the Successor Manager of the CLOs

25. Despite having formed HCLOM LLC a week earlier and inserting that entity as successor manager into draft agreements and memoranda, on October 27, 2017, Highland also formed HCLOM Ltd. as a Cayman entity with Summit Management Limited ("Summit") appointed by Highland as HCLOM Ltd.'s initial and sole director. See Ex. 5. The creation of this entity in the Cayman Islands was no accident: its sole purpose was to secretly hold the Note and—according to Isaac Leventon, Highland's then-Assistant General Counsel in charge of litigation—cause Terry to spend "multiple years to collect" on his Arbitration Award. Ex. 69; Ex. 83.[20]

[18] Dondero stubbornly clings to the notion that all of the asset transfers away from Acis were required because the Acis brand was "toxic." As the Court will recall, during the Acis case, the Highland team under Dondero's leadership attempted to tag HarbourVest with the "toxicity" concept, but that effort failed. During his deposition, he tried to tag Goldman Sachs with the concept despite having no personal knowledge to support it. In fact, the documentary and testimonial evidence is to the contrary.

[19] Even though the Panel found that—under Dondero's watch—Highland concocted pretextual arguments for denying Terry his benefits and interfering with his economic rights, and that Acis breached its contractual and fiduciary duties (Ex. 26 at 21-22), Dondero inexplicably insists that he has never read the Arbitration Award and is unfamiliar with the findings. Ex. 62 at 67:11-22, 70:3-20).

[20] During his deposition, Dondero repeatedly disavowed responsibility for anything related to Terry's termination or arbitration or any of the events that followed; instead, he tried to point the finger at Thomas Surgent and Tim Cournoyer (two current employees of Highland). While the issue is legally irrelevant (it does not matter who caused

26. On November 3, 2017, roughly two weeks after the Arbitration Award was rendered, a meeting was held with Dondero in his office to discuss the "Terry Arbitration" and the "Acis Restructuring." See Ex. 69 (11/3/17 email among Leventon, Ellington, and Welton detailing "[d]raft bullets for internal management discussion"); Ex. 83 (final version of the bullet points); Ex. 81 (acceptance of meeting invite).

27. Sometime during or immediately after the November 3, 2017 meeting, Dondero executed the Assignment and Transfer Agreement (the "Transfer Agreement" or "Assignment") on behalf of Highland[21] and Acis; Summit (acting at the direction of Dondero-controlled Highland) executed the Transfer Agreement on HCLOM Ltd.'s behalf. See Ex. 16.

28. Pursuant to the Transfer Agreement, which falsely stated that Highland notified Acis that Highland was unwilling to continue providing services to Acis under the HCMLP Services Agreements and, therefore, Acis was unable to fulfill its portfolio management duties to the applicable CLO's,[22] (a) HCLOM Ltd. agreed to become the CLOs' Successor Manager (as defined in the Transfer Agreement); (b) Acis and HCLOM Ltd. agreed to remit the Acis Participation Interests to Highland; and (c) the Note was assigned to HCLOM Ltd. Significantly, the Transfer Agreement Assignment provides: "HCLOM, a qualified Successor Manager, irrevocably commits to be appointed as Successor Manager in consideration of Acis assigning to it the Note." Ex. 16 at 1 (emphasis added).

HCLOM Ltd. not to provide consideration for the Note or perform under the Transfer Agreement), it weighs on credibility or the lack thereof. The evidence will establish that Scott Ellington—with Dondero's knowledge—dictated that Leventon and an outside attorney, Jamie Welton, were to be solely responsible for working on the Terry case (Ex. 68), and that's exactly what happened (see, e.g., Ex. 69).

[21] Section 5.1 of the Participation Agreement requires Highland's written consent to an assignment by Acis of any of its rights or obligations thereunder.

[22] Written notice of termination was required under the HCMLP Services Agreements, but no such notice was ever given and, in fact, Highland continued to perform the services under the HCMLP Services Agreements until the summer of 2018 when a new service provided took over following the appointment of the Acis trustee.

29. According to Waterhouse, the Transfer Agreement was intended to authorize HCLOM Ltd. to take the necessary steps to become Acis' Successor Manager so that it would receive the Servicing Fees and remit them to Highland in exchange for the expected cash streams due under the Note. Ex. 3 at 135:24-136:24.

30. The Transfer Agreement also required (a) Acis (again, then under Dondero's control) to "promptly provide the Controlling Class (as defined in the CLO Indentures) with notice requesting the appointment of HCLOM [Ltd.] as Portfolio Manager pursuant to the requirements of the CLO Documents," and (b) each of Acis and HCLOM Ltd. to "promptly pursue Successor Manager appointment of HCLOM [Ltd.] in respect of each CLO." Id. §§ 1, 2. None of this occurred.

31. Section 3 of the Transfer Agreement provides:

> 3. Assignment and Transfer of the Promissory Note; Stabilization Payments.
> a. Effective immediately upon execution of this Agreement by the Parties, all right, title and interest of Acis under the Note, including the right to any and all Stabilization Payments not yet paid to Acis, are hereby irrevocably assigned and transferred by Acis to HCLOM [Ltd.], it being understood that from the date of such assignment, HCLOM [Ltd.] shall become the "Payee" thereunder.
> b. For so long as Acis shall receive Servicer Fees following the date hereof, Acis shall remit to H[ighland] the HCM Stabilization Fees [i.e., the Acis Participation Interests] pursuant to the Note Purchase Agreement [i.e., the Participation Agreement].
> c. For so long as HCLOM [Ltd.] receives any Servicer Fees following any Appointment, then HCLOM [Ltd.] shall remit to H[ighland] any portion of such fees that would otherwise have constituted HCM Stabilization Fees pursuant to the Note Purchase Agreement if Acis was the recipient of such fees.
> d. HCLOM [Ltd.] shall sign a joinder to Note Purchase Agreement upon HCM's written notice thereof.

Transfer Agreement, § 3 (emphasis added).

32. Thus, the Transfer Agreement provided that HCLOM Ltd. would receive Acis's rights under the Note, subject to HCLOM Ltd. becoming the Successor Manager, and Acis and HCLOM Ltd. continuing to remit Acis Participation Interests to Highland. According to Dondero, from Acis' and Highland's perspective, the purpose of the Transfer Agreement was to replace Acis as Portfolio Manager. Ex. 3 at 83:23-84:11.[23]

33. Although Dondero signed the Transfer Agreement, he now says he has no knowledge of any facts underlying its execution. For instance, Dondero says he does not recall (a) the document or reading it before he signed it, (Ex. 62 at 79:4-18; 83:12-19); (b) receiving any advice before signing, (id. at 100:4-10); or (c) taking any steps to make sure the Transfer Agreement accurately reflected the facts, (id. at 108:16-25). Dondero also says he does not know who John Cullinane is and never communicated with him, or anyone authorized to act on HCLOM Ltd.'s behalf, before executing the Transfer Agreement, (id. at 79:19-81:19; 82:24-83:3).

34. During his deposition, Dondero (a) could not recall if he expected Highland to receive any benefit under the Transfer Agreement, (id. at 84:22-25); (b) was unable to identify anything of value HCLOM. Ltd. provided to Highland pursuant to the Transfer Agreement, (id. at 88:15-89:2); and (c) did not know if HCLOM Ltd. ever gave anything of value to Highland for any purpose, (id. at 89:20-91:5). In fact, Dondero (x) was initially unaware that Highland was a party to the Transfer Agreement; (y) could not identify a benefit Highland was to receive even after reviewing the Agreement; and (z) has "no idea" why he signed the Agreement on behalf of Acis and Highland. Id. 85:8-86:15.

[23] The Transfer Agreement created a new consolidated defined term—"Note Purchase Agreement"—that provided further evidence that the Note and the Participation Agreement (what was being referred to in the Transfer Agreement as the "Purchase Agreement") are one integrated and mutually dependent agreement.

D. The Note and Payment of Acis Participation Interests are Part of One Integrated Transaction

35. Contrary to HCLOM Ltd.'s unsupported contentions, the evidence will show that the Note and payment of Acis Participation Interests under the Participation Agreement and Transfer Agreement are inextricably intertwined as one integrated transaction. The Participation Agreement attached a copy of the Note as an exhibit and made repeated references to the Note. See, e.g., Ex. 13 § 1.1 ("In consideration of the sale of the Acis Participation Interests to the Purchase, the Purchaser shall" pay the Cash Purchase Price and deliver the Note); § 1.3 (the Purchase Price "reflects the arm's length value of the Acis Participation Interests as of the date of this Agreement…"). Unlike the many promissory notes that were issued and separately litigated in the Highland bankruptcy, the Note was not tendered in exchange for a cash advance; rather it was tendered solely for the promise of future Acis Participation Interests.[24]

36. The Note also refers to, and depends on, the Participation Agreement. By its terms, the Note was to become effective only upon the effectiveness of the Participation Agreement, which was executed contemporaneously by Highland and Acis.[25] A condition precedent to the effectiveness of the Note provides:

> This Note shall not become effective and Payee shall have no obligation to make the advance hereunder until Payee has received each of the following in form and substance acceptable to Payee:
> ....

[24] Dondero under oath at deposition in the Acis case: "A. What did Highland get when the note was put in place? It's a $12 million note. Did Highland get $12 million? Did Highland get $13 million? Did Highland get an asset? No. Highland got a promise from Asis to pay it management fees that Acis was gonna get over the next three or four years, and the amortization [of the Note] was tied to the fees as they came in, and Highland got them. So when Highland got fees, it paid down – it paid the money to Acis to pay off the note." Ex. 78 at 12:8-19.

[25] Dondero on direct in the Acis case: "Q. And I think this is obvious, by why are Exhibits 14 [the Participation Agreement] and 15 [the Note] dated October 7, 2016? A, (Dondero) Because they're paired together." Ex. 76 at 141:6-8.

> (b) the Agreement for Purchase and Sale of CLO Participation Interests dated of even date herewith (the "Purchase Agreement"), by and between Maker and Acis Capital Management, LP, a Delaware limited partnership ("Highland") [sic], and copies of all agreements, documents and instruments executed or delivered in connection therewith and evidence that all conditions to the effectiveness of the Purchase Agreement have been or will be fulfilled contemporaneously with the initial advance under this Note;

Ex. 14 (Note) at 1 (emphases added).

37. The Transfer Agreement was ostensibly intended to assign Acis' rights and obligations under the Participation Agreement to HCLOM Ltd. Pursuant to the Transfer Agreement, HCLOM Ltd. would step into Acis' shoes as Successor Manager. And, as noted above, the Transfer Agreement combines the Note and the Participation Agreement into one agreement—the "Note Purchase Agreement"—and treats them as the fully integrated transaction they were intended to be.

38. In addition to the plain and unambiguous terms of the Note, Participation Agreement, and Transfer Agreement, Waterhouse—the former Treasurer of Acis and CFO of Highland—admitted that (a) "Highland is giving the Cash Purchase Price and the Note to Acis in exchange for Acis' promise to share the Acis' Participation Interest as defined in th[e] agreement," (Ex. 3 at 104:16-105:24 (emphasis added)), and (b) the Note and Participation Agreement "were part and parcel of the same overall transaction," (id. at 111:9-112:1). Regarding the Transfer Agreement, Waterhouse acknowledged "that the reason Highland agreed to transfer the note to HCLOM [Ltd.] is because HCLOM [Ltd.] was agreeing to become the new portfolio manager for the Acis CLOs and would share the servicing fees after that happened." (Ex. 3 at 150:13-23).

39. Dondero also (once again) confirmed that these agreements all constituted one integrated transaction. According to Dondero, under the Participation Agreement, Acis was to participate a portion of its expected Servicing Fees for cash and a Note for the purpose of reducing the taxes owed by the beneficial owners. (Ex. 62 at 35:13-41:25; 43:20-25; see also Ex. 3 at 79:19-80:24, 83:1-6, 85:22-86:16). As Dondero stated: "one side wouldn't have signed if they didn't get the promises of the other side" (Ex. 62 at 50:7-12; see also 50:23-51:12); see also (Ex. 28) (opinion letter from Hunton & Williams that conditions favored tax treatment on the continued exchange of Acis Participation Interests for payments under the Note).

E. Undisputed Evidence Proves that HCLOM Ltd. and Acis Breached the Transfer Agreement and Acis Breached the Participation Agreement

40. The overwhelming, undisputed evidence proves that HCLOM Ltd. breached the Transfer Agreement. HCLOM Ltd. never began, let alone fulfilled, its purported commitment to serve as the Successor Manager—the only "thing of value" that HCLOM Ltd. contends it "gave" to Highland in exchange for agreeing to the transfer of the Note. Ex. 21 (Response to Interrogatory 1) (when asked to identify each thing of value HCLOM Ltd. gave to Highland in exchange for the Note, HCLOM Ltd. stated that it "irrevocably committed in the Assignment to be appointed as successor manager and then took steps to effectuate the transfer as promised."). Contrary to its contention, HCLOM Ltd. never took any steps, nor did it ever have the operational capacity, to be appointed Successor Manager because it:

- had no employees, (Ex. Ex. 3 at 22:1-2);
- was never a registered investment advisor and earned no fees, (Ex. 3 at 26:17-19; Ex. 62 at 91:23-25);
- had no shared services or sub-advisory agreement and therefore could never fulfill its duties as portfolio manager, (Ex. 3 at 22:3-9; Ex. 62 at 93:6-19);
- was not "qualified" pursuant to PMAs and Indentures, (see Ex. 62 at 104:24-105:2);
- had no risk retention financing, nor ever tried to obtain any;
- never engaged an investment bank to arrange any reset or refinancing, reissue, refinancing, or new underwriting of any CLO or other vehicle or business;
- was never capitalized and had no bank account or bank relationship, (Ex. 3 at 26:6-10);

- never maintained financial statements or books and records, (Ex. 3 at 11-16); and
- never sought the consents required to become the Successor Manager.

41. In fact, HCLOM Ltd. admits that it failed to perform any of its obligations under the Transfer Agreement because it never (a) became Successor Manager, (b) managed the Acis CLOs, or (c) remitted any Acis Participation Interests to Highland. See Ex. 21 (Responses to Interrogatories 4-6 and RFAs 2, 4, and 6); Ex. 3 at 20:25-21:20, 31:14-24, 156:15-157:6; Ex. 62 at 106:14-16; 107:1-10.[26]

42. Notably, Acis—while under Dondero's control—also breached the Transfer Agreement. Between November 3, 2017 (when the Transfer Agreement was executed) and April 13, 2018, the time Dondero lost control of Acis with the granting of the order for relief and the appointment of the Acis trustee, Acis continued to receive Servicing Fees in its capacity as the CLO portfolio manager but failed to remit the Acis Participation Interests to Highland as required under both the Participation Agreement and the Transfer Agreement. See Ex. 3 at 120:10-18.

F. The Undisputed Evidence Shows that HCLOM LLC Was To Be the Acis Successor Manager

43. While HCLOM Ltd. was furtively established as a Cayman Islands entity that did nothing except enter into the Transfer Agreement and purportedly take title to the Note, HCLOM LLC (formed prior to HCLOM Ltd.) was busy actually taking the substantial steps required to become Acis' Successor Manager. As a result, the Note was effectively hidden in the Cayman Islands entity while Highland, under Dondero's control, worked to transfer the business of running the CLOs away from Acis to a separate, same-named, Delaware entity with no obligation to pay the Acis Participation Interests to Highland. If Highland could transfer the management of the CLO's to HCLOM LLC and abscond with the Note, Acis would no longer receive any Servicing Fees, Acis would get no payments under the Note, and Terry would be unable to collect on his Arbitration Award.

[26] Dondero could not recall ever signing a document (other than the Transfer Agreement) that contemplated that HCLOM Ltd. would serve as Acis' Successor Manager. (See Ex. 62 at 125:8-12).

44. In the weeks after Terry obtained his Arbitration Award:

- On November 15, 2017, HCLOM LLC entered into an agreement with Mizuho pursuant to which HCLOM LLC would serve as the manager of the Acis CLOs and Mizuho would serve as the placement agent for the resets and refinancings of certain of the applicable CLOs, (Ex. 64);[27]
- On December 19, 2017, HCLOM LLC entered into Shared Services and Sub-Advisory Agreements with Highland so that it was prepared to fulfill its expected duties as the manager of the applicable CLOs, (Ex. 85, Ex. 86);
- On January 19, 2018, HCLOM LLC signed a Custodial Agreement in order to be able to hold the securities required of it under the U.S. "risk retention" rules then in effect, (Ex. 27); and
- Later in January, HCLOM LLC entered into certain agreements (executed by Dondero) to obtain "risk retention" financing that would enable it to reset Acis-3, (Exs. 72, 73).

45. The Acis involuntary petition and the section 303(f) order did undercut the willingness of bankers to participate in resetting the CLO's away from Acis' control and, ultimately, the order for relief and the injunction prevented HCLOM LLC from continuing its plan to replace Acis as Successor Manager but—contrary to the Response (Ex. 20 ¶¶ 27-28)—neither the involuntary, the 303(f) order, nor the order for relief and the ultimate plan injunction had any impact on HCLOM Ltd.'s failure to perform it obligations under the Transfer Agreement because [27] See also Ex. 62 at 119:18-120:4; 122:5-11; 123:19-124:7 (despite signing the Mizuho Agreement, Dondero (a) did not know where HCLOM LLC obtained authority to enter in that Agreement, (b) acknowledged that HCLOM Ltd. is not mentioned in the document; and (c) does not know why HCLOM LLC entered into the Agreement rather than HCLOM Ltd.).

HCLOM Ltd. was never going to, nor did it take affirmative steps to, serve in that Successor Manager role.

G. The Parties' Post-Transfer Agreement Conduct Shows that the HCLOM Parties Knew Neither Acis Nor HCLOM Ltd. Would Perform under the Transfer Agreement or Participation Agreement After Terry Received His Arbitration Award

46. The parties' conduct further demonstrates that, following the issuance of the Arbitration Award, neither HCLOM Ltd. nor Acis would ever satisfy their obligations to Highland under the Participation Agreement or the Transfer Agreement.

47. For example, on January 19, 2018—before the Acis bankruptcy was commenced—Dondero signed an Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement in which he (a) acknowledged that HCLOM LLC would succeed Acis rather than HCLOM Ltd., and (b) recognized that HCLOM Ltd.'s failure to serve as Acis' successor constituted a material breach of its obligations under the Transfer Agreement.[28] While purporting to waive HCLOM Ltd.'s breach, Dondero was unaware of anything Highland received in exchange for such waiver (i.e., Highland's waiver of HCLOM Ltd.'s material breach was unsupported by any consideration).[29]

48. The undisputed evidence will also show that both before and immediately upon the filing of the Acis involuntary petition, while Dondero continued to firmly control both Highland and Acis, Highland eliminated all payments to and from Acis under the Participation Agreement from its internal weekly cash flow forecasts. (Compare Ex. 44 at 6 (showing "Stability Transaction" payments during the projection period) with Ex. 45 at 3, 6 (showing the removal of the "stability" payments) and Exs. 46-61 (no reference to any stability payments in any forecast

[28] Although Dondero signed the Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement, he does not remember reading it before signing it or discussing it with anyone (Ex. 62 at 129:10-130:7; 134:15-23).

[29] At deposition, Dondero testified that (a) he did not know what Highland received from HCLOM Ltd. in exchange for the waiver; (b) he never asked; and (c) no one ever explained what benefit Highland received for waiving the breaches of the Transfer Agreement (Ex. 62 at 135:18-136:6).

through May 31, 2018 the date the next amortization payment was due under the Note). The evidence will also show that Acis removed both the Note (asset) and the Participation Agreement (liability) from its financial statements and both Acis and Highland stopped making any payments related to the transaction.[30]

49. Further, under Dondero's leadership, Highland filed unsecured, priority, and administrative claims in the Acis bankruptcy case for fees due under the HCMLP Services Agreements, (Exs. 17, 67), yet Highland never filed a claim for the Acis Participation Interests due under the Participation Agreement.

50. Finally, while HCLOM Ltd. now claims it can seek payment under the Note notwithstanding the lack of consideration or performance, it abandoned whatever claims it may have had well before Highland filed its Objection. In fact, rather than trying to declare a default under the Note or suing to collect, HCLOM Ltd. signed "forbearance" agreements pursuant to which it agreed not to collect under the Note in exchange for Highland's promise not to demand the Acis Participation Interests. Exs. 18, 19. But this made no sense because Dondero had already acknowledged that HCLOM Ltd. would never succeed Acis and therefore would never receive any Servicing Fees. If HCLOM Ltd.'s current position had any merit (and it doesn't), HCLOM Ltd. should have been trying to enforce its purported rights under the Note. Waterhouse testified that the benefit HCLOM Ltd. received from entering into the forbearance was "preserv[ing] that relationship [with Highland]."[31] The Court can assess the credibility of that testimony.

[30] See, e.g., Ex. 76 at 147:6-150:12. Dondero specifically testified that the Transfer Agreement effectively cancelled the Participation Agreement and the Note: "The unwinding of the note plus the unwinding of the liabilities [the participation] which netted each other . . . were never really of any net value anyway." Id. at 147:6-9.

[31] Because "everyone knew" HCLOM Ltd. would never receive any Servicing Fees, Waterhouse could not identify any benefit it received from the forbearance agreements other than supposedly "preserving the relationship," even though the same people were making the decisions on behalf of both parties and HCLOM Ltd. was an empty box on a piece of paper. (Ex. 3 at 165:21-168:22, 171:25-172:3, 182:19-184:21).

51. Waterhouse admitted that he was unaware "of any discussion or attempt by anybody in the world after January 19, 2018 to install HCLOM Ltd. as the portfolio manager of the CLOs." (Ex. 3 at 172:4-173:11). Thus, whether by neglect or design, HCLOM Ltd.'s contention that the Acis bankruptcy and this Court's injunction prevented HCLOM Ltd. from becoming Acis' Successor Manager so that it could perform under the Transfer Agreement is simply untrue.

H. Waterhouse was Unprepared to Testify as HCLOM Ltd.'s Rule 30(b)(6) Witness and Otherwise Lacked Personal Knowledge Such that he Cannot Testify in Good Faith

52. Waterhouse testified as HCLOM Ltd.'s Rule 30(b)(6) witness but was so uninformed and unprepared that he cannot testify at trial in good faith. In fact, even his verification of HCLOM Ltd.'s interrogatory responses was false.[32]

53. Attached as Exhibit A is a demonstrative exhibit that summarizes Waterhouse's deposition testimony (the transcript of which is offered as Ex. 3). As shown therein, Waterhouse testified that the only thing he did to prepare to testify as HCLOM Ltd.'s Rule 30(b)(6) witness was meet with the Stinson lawyers for a few hours and review the primary transaction documents at issue. He (a) did not review a single email or speak with anyone other than counsel, and (b) testified about whole topics with no personal knowledge or preparation. (Ex. 3 at 6:18-8:9, 7:15-16, 9:15-17, 9:21-11:5, 41:9-42:7, 124:24-126:3).[33]

54. Reflecting his lack of preparation, Waterhouse testified, among other things, that:

- he did not know that there is an entity called "Highland CLO Management, [32] During his deposition, Waterhouse was forced to admit that (a) his verification falsely stated that it was based on discussions with people with personal knowledge concerning the events at issue and (b) it would be accurate to say that he only spoke with counsel, people he admitted lacked personal knowledge. (Compare Ex. 10 (last page) with Ex. 3 at 176:4-178:13). Waterhouse also sheepishly admitted he did nothing to verify the accuracy of the interrogatory responses except to take "what counsel provided as correct." As it turns out, certain of the discovery responses were unresponsive or lacked any basis that Waterhouse knew of. (Ex. 3 at 178:21-180:1, 180:14-181:12, 182:3-18).

[33] Waterhouse admitted that he never spoke with Dondero, Cullinane, Sevilla, Ellington or Leventon and read nothing but the primary documents at issue. (Ex. 3 at 9:21-11:5)

Ltd." and a different entity called "Highland CLO Management, LLC," (id. at 6:2-11; 25:21-26:5);

- he did not know if he ever served as an officer of HCLOM Ltd. and did not know if he was an officer of HCLOM Ltd. at the time of the deposition, (id. at 14:13-17);[34]

- despite being Acis' Treasurer at the time, and despite causing the Acis bankruptcy and its destructive and continuing aftermath, Waterhouse claimed to have no recollection of Acis transferring its assets to other Highland entities in the fourth quarter of 2017, (id. at 131:1-15); and

- he did not know if HCLOM LLC or HCLOM Ltd. was doing the resets and could not competently testify about the meaning, intent or terms of the Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement, (id. at 157:7-163:2).

55. A fair reading of Waterhouse's deposition transcript shows he lacks a good faith basis to testify in this matter.

I. Dondero Cannot Testify in Good Faith

56. Dondero is one of two witnesses HCLOM Ltd. intends to call at the evidentiary hearing in this matter. Ex. 21 (response to Interrogatory No. 10). Given that (a) he controlled Highland, Acis, and HCLOM LLC at all relevant times, (b) has served as HCLOM Ltd.'s President beginning on February 7, 2018, (Ex. 6), and (c) executed many of the relevant agreements on those entities' behalf, that is not surprising. But other than providing certain broad perspectives (all of which undermine HCLOM Ltd.'s contentions), Dondero lacks such basic knowledge, and his testimony will be so disingenuous, that he cannot testify in good faith.

57. Attached as Exhibit B is a demonstrative exhibit that summarizes Dondero's deposition testimony (the transcript of which is offered as Ex. 62). As shown therein, Dondero testified, among other things, that:

- he did not know who holds the Note that is the subject of this litigation, (Ex.

[34] Of course, Waterhouse (a) has served as HCLOM Ltd.'s Treasurer since February 7, 2018 (Ex. 6), and (b) signed an agreement waiving HCLOM Ltd.'s purported right to collect on the Note at issue for a period of time (Ex. 19).

62 at 8:7-14; 14:10-14);

- he did not know anything about HCLOM Ltd. or HCLOM LLC other than that they were supposed to be involved in the Acis resets and refinancings, (id. at 9:24-10:22, 11:19-12:2);

- he did not know whether HCLOM Ltd. and HCLOM LLC are related in any way, (id. at 12:13-13:5);

- he could not identify the ultimate beneficial owners of HCLOM Ltd. or who controls it (and never asked) and did not know if he was authorized to act on its behalf, (id. at 14:15-16:13), (again, Dondero has been HCLOM Ltd.'s President for nearly seven years (Ex. 6));

- he never saw HCLOM's Response and does not know who is instructing Stinson in this litigation on HCLOM Ltd.'s behalf, (id. at 16:14-23, 18:8-19:13, 19:22-20:15, 110:20-111:3);

- he did not recall if he was an officer of Acis or if he controlled that entity, (id. at 24:21-25:6);[35]

- he claimed to have never read the Arbitration Award and was unfamiliar with the Panel's findings that the entities he controlled took actions under false pretenses and breached various agreements and fiduciary duties, (id. at 67:11-22, 70:3-20);

- he never communicated with Summit or Cullinane, the counterparty to the Transfer Agreement and related documents, (id. at 79:19-81:19, 82:24-83:3);

- he did not recall that Highland was a party to the Transfer Agreement, has "no idea" why he signed it, and could not identify any benefit Highland was expected to obtain even after reviewing the document, (id. at 84:22-86:14, 88:15-89:2, 89:20-91:5);

- he claimed to have no personal knowledge about the Notification, who gave it, or why Highland was unwilling to support Acis, (id. at 94:24-95:18, 98:12-16, 100:11-14);[36]

[35] As Waterhouse acknowledged, Dondero controlled Acis at all times from at least June 10, 2016 (the day after Terry's ouster) until the trustee was appointed in the Acis bankruptcy case. (Ex. 3 at 47;16-21; Ex. 9 (Acis consent showing Dondero's appointment as President)).

[36] "Notification" is defined in the Transfer Agreement and refers to the alleged fact that Highland was unwilling to continue providing services to Acis—the whole premise for the Transfer Agreement. Ex. 13 (third "Whereas" clause). Given that Dondero controlled both entities at the time, he either abdicated responsibility or gave false testimony. In fact, Waterhouse testified that Dondero made the decision to give the Notification. (Ex. 3 at 138:3-13). As noted above, there is no evidence that a written Notification was ever given as required by the HCMLP Services Agreements.

- he took no steps to make sure the assertions set forth in the Transfer Agreement were true and accurate, (id. at 108:6-25); and

- he could not identify anything of value Highland received in exchange for its purported waiver of HCLOM Ltd.'s breaches of the Transfer Agreement, (id. at 135:18-136:6).

58. As will be shown at trial, Dondero's deposition testimony in this case directly contradicts his sworn testimony in the Acis bankruptcy case (including in the ongoing adversary proceeding) as well as his sworn responses to interrogatories.

59. This is not just a matter of "credibility." Dondero's testimony is so uninformed and disingenuous that he cannot testify in good faith.

III. ARGUMENT

A. The HCLOM Parties' Prosecution of the HCLOM Claim Constitutes Bad Faith and Willful Abuse of the Judicial Process

60. Based on clear and convincing evidence, the HCLOM Parties' prosecution of the HCLOM Claim constitutes bad faith and a willful abuse of the judicial process. See In re Cleveland Imaging & Surgical Hosp., L.L.C., 26 F.4th 285, 297 (5th Cir. 2022) (noting that a bankruptcy court may sanction litigants if it finds, "by clear and convincing evidence, that they acted in bad faith or willfully abused the judicial process.").

1. HCLOM Ltd.'s Prosecution of the HCLOM Claim Despite Admitting that it Breached its Obligations Under the Transfer Agreement Constitutes Bad Faith

61. There is no dispute that HCLOM Ltd. failed to perform its obligations under the Transfer Agreement. See supra ¶¶ 40-42. Even Dondero and Waterhouse acknowledge that the Note is part of a fully integrated transaction with the Participation Agreement and Transfer Agreement. In fact, the Note represents those deferred payments that Highland was to make in exchange for the deferred Acis Participation Interest payments Acis was able to make under the Participation Agreement. The Note is unenforceable because HCLOM Ltd. (a) provided no consideration, (b) both Acis and HCLOM Ltd. materially breached their obligations under the Transfer Agreement, and (c) Acis breached its obligation to pay the Acis Participation Interests to Highland. HCLOM Ltd. knows this because Dondero caused the breaches for each entity which caused a complete failure of consideration to Highland for any purported obligations. Nevertheless, HCLOM Ltd. continues to prosecute the HCLOM Claim without any legal or factual basis.

a. The Note is Unenforceable Because HCLOM Ltd. Provided No Consideration

62. The Note is unenforceable because HCLOM Ltd. failed to provide any consideration in exchange for its assignment. Under Cayman Islands law,[37] "[a] compromise like any agreement, must be supported by consideration…" Folkvang Ltd v Valorte Capital (unreported, 29 February 2024, FSD 199 of 2023, Parker J. at ¶ 99);[38] see also Blue v Ashley [2017] EWHC 1928 (Comm) Leggatt J at ¶ 49 ("The basic requirements of a contract are that: (i) the parties have reached an agreement, which (ii) is intended to be legally binding, (iii) is supported by consideration, and (iv) is sufficiently certain and complete to be enforceable…").[39] Thus, an agreement is unenforceable for lack of consideration where one party's promised performance fails. See Barclays Bank Plc v. Kenton Capital [1994-95 CILR 489]: the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, per Smellie J at page 499 ("... It may also be the case that the depositors would be entitled to recover, as against Kenton in claims at common law, for moneys had and [37] The Transfer Agreement is governed by the laws of the Cayman Islands. See Ex. 65, § 6(d).

[38] See Declaration of Hayley R. Winograd in Support of the Motion for (A) a Bad Faith Finding and (B) an Award of Attorneys' Fees Against Highland CLO Management, Ltd. and James Dondero in Connection with Scheduled Claims 3.65 and 3.66 (the "Winograd Dec.") (being filed concurrently herewith), Exhibit 1.

[39] See Winograd Dec., Exhibit 1. "Winograd Dec." refers to the Declaration of Hayley R. Winograd in Support of the Motion for (A) a Bad Faith Finding and (B) an Award of Attorneys' Fees Against Highland CLO Management, Ltd. and James Dondero in Connection with Scheduled Claims 3.65 and 3.66, being filed concurrently herewith.

received on the basis that the consideration on which the agreement is based has failed.");[40] H.E.B. Enterprises Ltd and Bodden Jr v Richards [2023] UKPC 7, ¶ 58 ("money had and received to the claimant's use can be recovered where the basis (there referred to as consideration) has wholly failed.");[41] Richards v H.E.B Enterprises Ltd and Bodden Jr [2018 (2) CILR 84] ¶¶ 102-4 (finding a total failure of consideration to have occurred in the context of two agreements (namely a sale/purchase agreement and a loan agreement) which, contrary to the defendant's argument, the Court found to constitute one agreement, and holding, "…[a]ccordingly, it is correctly submitted that under the terms of the agreements, there has still been a total failure of consideration on the sale of the parcels.")[42]

63. Here, in order to transfer any of the rights or obligations under the Participation Agreement, Highland's prior written consent was required. See Ex. 13, § 5.1. HCLOM Ltd. obtained Highland's agreement to enter into the Transfer Agreement through the commitments of HCLOM Ltd. set out in the agreement. HCLOM Ltd. admits that it failed to satisfy any of its obligations under the Transfer Agreement, the very document pursuant to which HCLOM Ltd. was assigned the Note. The ostensible purpose of the Transfer Agreement, i.e., for HCLOM Ltd. to succeed Acis as Successor Manager, was never realized (indeed, no steps were ever taken to enable HCLOM Ltd. to become Acis' Successor Manager). See supra ¶¶ 40-51. HCLOM Ltd. thus failed to perform its promised obligation under the Transfer Agreement, and as a result, the consideration on which the Transfer Agreement is based has failed. See Richards v H.E.B Enterprises Ltd and Bodden Jr [2018 (2) CILR 84] per Williams J at ¶ 72, applying Heyman v Darwins Ltd. [1942] AC 356, per Lord Porter at page 399 ("Strictly speaking, to say that, upon acceptance of the renunciation of a contract, the contract is rescinded is incorrect. In such a case the injured party may accept the renunciation as a breach going to the root of the whole of the consideration. By that acceptance he is discharged from further performance and may bring an action for damages, but the contract itself is not rescinded.")[43] HCLOM Ltd.'s failure of its promised performance under the Transfer Agreement renders the Note unenforceable by HCLOM Ltd. Based on the evidence adduced in discovery, including HCLOM Ltd.'s extensive admissions, HCLOM Ltd.'s continued prosecution of its HCLOM Claim, with knowledge that it provided no consideration for the Note, constitutes bad faith and a willful abuse of the judicial process.

b. The Note is Unenforceable Because HCLOM Ltd. Materially Breached its Obligations under The Transfer Agreement

64. It is also undisputed that HCLOM Ltd. materially breached its obligations under the Transfer Agreement. For this additional reason, the Note is unenforceable. Under Cayman law, a non-breaching party is relieved of performing its obligations where the counterparty materially breaches its obligations. See Beach Club Enterprises Limited v Horizon Management Limited [1980-83 CILR 223], Carberry J.A. at page 235 (an innocent party's termination following a breach of a condition excuses future performance) applying McDonald v Dennys Lascelles Ltd. (1933), 48 C.L.R. 457 as approved in Johnson v Agnew [1980] A.C. 367;[44] Hongkong Fir Shipping Co Ltd v Kawasaki Kisen Kaisha Ltd [1962] 2 W.L.R. 474, Lord Diplock, at pages 493-494 (noting that a breach of a condition in a contract provides the innocent party with an immediate, unequivocal right to terminate future performance of the contract);[45] Golfco Limited v Borden [2002 CILR 1], Kellock Ag. J at ¶ 25 (finding that the purchaser of an apartment block's failure: (a) to pay certain instalments to the seller pursuant to the contract for the sale of land; and (b) to remedy their breach within 28 days of receiving a written notice to do so (in accordance with clause 11(1) of the contract of sale) from the seller "would have had to be regarded as a fundamental breach");[46] In the Matter of Re Indies Suites Ltd [2004-05 CILR 498], Smellie C.J. at ¶ 22, (accepting that termination excuses future performance, together with a right of the innocent party to claim damages by way of compensation for the loss sustained in consequence of the non-performance of the contract in the future, applying the English case of Photo Production Ltd. v Securicor Transport Ltd. [1980] A.C. 827).[47]

65. A breach is "material" when it goes to the "root" of the contract or forms an essential condition of performance. See Tempo Group Ltd and others v. Fortuna Development Corporation (unreported, 31 March 2015, FSD 125 of 2012, Henderson J at ¶ 296) ("[a]n act of repudiation must go to the root of the contract ... The repudiatory breach must deprive the innocent parties of substantially the whole benefit which they would have obtained from due performance of the contract…");[48] Chitty on Contracts, 35th Ed. Chapter 28-014 (a "condition" of a contract is that of "an essential stipulation of the contract which one party guarantees is true or promises will be fulfilled.").[49]

66. Here, it is undisputed that HCLOM Ltd. materially breached the Transfer Agreement by failing to (a) "provide the Controlling Class (as defined in each of the CLO Indentures) with notice requesting the appointment of HCLOM as Portfolio Manager," as required by Section 1 of the Transfer Agreement; (b) "promptly pursue Successor Manager appointment," as required by Section 2 of the Assignment; (c) "achiev[e] all conditions precedent required by the CLO Documents," as required by Section 2 of the Transfer Agreement; and (d) execute a joinder to the to the Participation Agreement [referred to as the "Purchase Agreement" in the Transfer Agreement], as required by Section 3.d of the Transfer Agreement.

[46] See Winograd Dec., Exhibit 8.

67. If there was any doubt—and there isn't—Dondero agreed on behalf of Highland that HCLOM Ltd. and Acis breached the Transfer Agreement in the Waiver and Acknowledgment Agreement (although he purportedly waived those breaches for no consideration). Ex. 7.

68. Based on the documentary evidence adduced during discovery, including the Waiver Agreement, HCLOM Ltd. is prosecuting its HCLOM Claim based on the Participation Agreement, the Note and the Transfer Agreement despite knowing that it materially breached its obligations the Transfer Agreement. HCLOM Ltd.'s material breaches of the Transfer Agreement excused Highland's obligations under the related Note. HCLOM Ltd.'s continued prosecution of this claim, despite knowing it materially breached the Transfer Agreement, constitutes bad faith and willful abuse of the judicial process.

c. Acis Breached its Obligation to Pay the Acis Participation Interest to Highland

69. As soon as Terry received the Arbitration Award and the Transfer Agreement was executed, Acis and HCLOM Ltd. breached their obligations under the Participation Agreement and the Transfer Agreement. In addition to the breaches of the Transfer Agreement by HCLOM Ltd. described above, Dondero-controlled Acis ceased paying any Acis Participation Interests to Highland. That failure of consideration continued after the Acis order for relief was entered. The complete failure of Acis and HCLOM Ltd to provide Highland with the consideration it was to receive under Participation Agreement and the Transfer Agreement—the Acis Participation Interests—vitiates any obligation Highland may have had under the Participation Agreement or its

Note. As recognized in the Participation Agreement, Highland bore the risk of payment of the Note other than in the event that Highland it did not receive the Acis Participation Interests "as a result of the Seller [Acis] breaching its covenants [including to promptly remit the Acis Participation Interests] under this Agreement or as result of the fraud or willful misconduct or the Seller." Ex. 13 §3.6. Acis' and HCLOM Ltd.'s breach of their obligations under the Participation Agreement and the Transfer Agreement relieved Highland of any duty to make any further payments under the Note.[50]

2. HCLOM Ltd.'s Designation of Waterhouse as its Rule 30(b)(6) Witness Constitutes Bad Faith and a Willful Abuse of the Judicial Process

70. HCLOM Ltd.'s designation of Waterhouse as its Rule 30(b)(6) further demonstrates that HCLOM Ltd. is prosecuting the HCLOM Claim in bad faith. As discussed above, Waterhouse was wholly unprepared to testify on behalf of HCLOM Ltd. He lacked knowledge of critical facts underlying the HCLOM Claim, including, for instance, (a) whether he was an officer of HCLOM Ltd. at the time of his deposition; (b) the purpose of the agreements at issue in the HCLOM Claim; and (c) that HLCOM LLC and HCLOM Ltd. were different entities. See supra ¶¶ 52-55. It is untenable for a 30(b)(6) witness to lack such fundamental information about the entity it represents.

3. Dondero's Involvement in the Prosecution of the HCLOM Claim Constitutes Bad Faith and a Willful Abuse of the Judicial Process

71. Dondero's involvement in the prosecution of the HCLOM Claims is likewise in bad faith. As set forth above, Dondero cannot testify in good faith on behalf of HCLOM Ltd. He, like HCLOM Ltd.'s 30(b)(6) witness, lacks critical knowledge underlying the facts of this case, including those as fundamental as, among other things, who holds the Note that is the subject of this litigation and why he signed the very agreements that are the subject of this litigation. See supra ¶¶ 56-59. Dondero's testimony is not credible, is directly contradicted by his sworn testimony and interrogatory responses given in the Acis case, and is otherwise uncorroborated; he simply cannot testify in good faith on behalf of HCLOM Ltd. Dondero's continued involvement in the prosecution of the HCLOM Claim constitutes bad faith and a willful abuse of the judicial process.

B. Highland is Entitled to Attorneys' Fees from the HCLOM Parties for Costs Incurred in Connection with the Bad Faith Prosecution of the HCLOM Claim

72. The HCLOM Parties should be sanctioned for their bad faith prosecution of the HCLOM Claim by reimbursing Highland for attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in connection with litigating the HCLOM Claim.

73. Bankruptcy courts possess inherent authority under section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code to issue sanctions after making a finding of bad faith. See In re Yorkshire, LLC, 540 F.3d 328, 332 (5th Cir. 2008) (affirming bankruptcy court's imposition of sanctions for bad faith filing "following an extensive hearing in which the bankruptcy court heard testimony from the parties and witnesses and made certain credibility determines," and made specific findings that Appellants acted in bad faith."); In re Brown, 444 B.R. 691, 695 (E.D. Tex. 2009) (issuing sanctions against party and their counsel, and relying on section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code as a basis for awarding attorney's fees against parties for acting "with reckless disregard of their duty to this Court"); In re Paige, 365 BR 632, 640 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2007) (awarding attorneys' fees against debtor for their "bad faith" conduct during bankruptcy case, noting "[t]he sanction here is derived from the Court's inherent power to sanction" under section 105(a)); Cleveland Imaging, 26 F.4th at 297 (noting that a bankruptcy court may sanction litigants "if it finds, by clear and convincing evidence, that they acted in bad faith or willfully abused the judicial process") ; Schermerhorn v.

Kubbernus (In re Skyport Glob. Commc'n, Inc.), 642 F. App'x 301, 304 (5th Cir. 2016) (same); (Lopez v. Portfolio Recovery Assocs. (In re Lopez), 576 B.R. 84, 93 (S.D. Tex. 2017) (same).

74. A bankruptcy court has "broad discretion" to determine reasonable attorneys' fees. See In re Monteagudo, 536 F. App'x 456, 459 (5th Cir. 2013) (sanctions orders granted under bankruptcy court's inherent powers are reviewed for "abuse of discretion"); ASARCO, L.L.C. v. Jordan Hyden Womble Culbreth & Holzer, P.C. (In re ASARCO, L.L.C.), 751 F.3d 291, 294 (5th Cir. 2014), aff'd sub nom., Baker Botts L.L.P. v. ASARCO LLC, 576 U.S. 121 (2015) ("A bankruptcy court has 'broad discretion' to determine reasonable attorneys' fees, as the bankruptcy court is familiar "with the actual services performed" and is well positioned to determine "what is just and reasonable") (internal quotations omitted); In re Paige, 365 B.R. 632, 637-640 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2007) (awarding attorneys' fees against debtor for their "bad faith" conduct during bankruptcy case, noting "[t]he sanction here is derived from the Court's inherent power to sanction" under section 105(a)); Lopez v. Portfolio Recovery Assocs., LLC (In re Lopez), 576 B.R. 84, 93 (S.D. Tex. 2017) (same); Dondero v. Highland Cap. Mgmt., L.P. (In re Highland Cap. Mgmt. L.P.), 105 F.4th 830, 841 (5th Cir. 2024) ("Undergirding our analysis of the sanctions award here is a recognition of the goal of such awards everywhere: "to do rough justice.' ... Complete accuracy is neither required nor expected. The bankruptcy court's judgments in these matters are entitled to our 'substantial deference.'") (internal quotations omitted).

75. Here, the Bankruptcy Court should award sanctions against HCLOM Ltd. and Dondero in the form of attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by Highland in connection with the bad faith prosecution of the HCLOM Claim, in an amount to be determined at trial.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, for the foregoing reasons, Highland respectfully requests that the Court enter an order, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C, (a) finding that HCLOM Ltd. and Dondero prosecuted the HCLOM Claim in bad faith, (b) entering sanctions jointly and severally against HCLOM Ltd. and Dondero in the form of reimbursement to Highland of Highland's costs and expenses incurred in objecting to HCLOM Ltd.'s HCLOM Claim in an amount to be determined at trial; and (c) granting such other and further relief that the Court deems just and proper under the circumstances.

EXHIBIT A

WATERHOUSE DEPOSITION DIGEST[1]

- FW does not know that there is an entity called "Highland CLO Management, Ltd." and a different entity called "Highland CLO Management, LLC" (6:2-11; 25:21-26:5)

WATERHOUSE DID NOT PROPERLY PREPARE TO TESTIFY

- To prepare, FW met with counsel and reviewed the Note, the Purchase and Sale Agreement, the Transfer Agreement, the Rule 30(b)(6) notice and the pleadings; he also reviewed portions of Dondero's deposition transcript from the Acis case. (6:18-8:9); FW met with counsel a few weeks before for 2-3 hours (41:9-42:7)

- But FW didn't review any emails (7:15-16); was unaware that there is ongoing, current litigation between Acis and Dondero (9:15-17); spoke with nobody other than counsel to prepare, including Dondero, Cullinane, Sevilla, Ellington or Leventon; and read nothing but the primary documents. (9:21-11:5)

- Even though "resets" were a Rule 30(b)(6) topic, FW looked at no documents to prepare, talked to no one other than counsel, and has no personal knowledge on the topic. (124:24-126:3)

- FW DNR if he ever served as an officer of HCLOM Limited, and did not know if he was an officer of HCLOM Limited at the time of the deposition. (14:13-17)

- FW DNR seeing HCLOM Limited resolutions; DNK how Summit Management became Limited's director at formation. (15:4-16:20)

- FW DNK who formed HCLOM Limited and DNK of any communications with Summit or Cullinane on the topic. (16:21-17:7)

- FW discussed with Dondero and legal team the need to form HCLOM because Acis could not continue to serve as CLO manager following Terry's arbitration award. (17:11-18:13)

- Needed to create successor manager. (18:14-23)

- FW claims Acis couldn't continue because Highland wouldn't support it and investors did not want to be associated with it. (18:24-19:13)

[1] "FW" refers to Frank Waterhouse. "DNR" means "does not recall" or "does not remember." "DNK" means "does not know." Citations are to the transcript of Waterhouse's deposition marked as Ex. 3.

- FW can't identify any specific person who told him investors did not want to be associated with Acis, nor could he identify any particular investors (19:10-20:17)

- FW DNR why Highland was unwilling to service Acis. (20:18-20)

- HCLOM Limited never served as Successor CLO Services for Acis and DNK if it ever generated a dollar of revenue. (20:25-21:10)

- Other than formation expenses, FW DNK if HCLOM Limited ever incurred any expenses. (21:11-23)

- FW DNK if he was HCLOM Limited's Treasurer. (21:24-25)

- FW DNR whether HCLOM Limited had any employees or a shared services agreement. (22:1-9)

- FW DNR seeing 2/7/18 HCLOM Limited resolutions; they show he is the Treasurer (22:11-23:7). This was a Rule 30(b)(6) topic, yet FW has no knowledge concerning HCLOM Limited's officers. (23:8-24:8)

- FW does not know if HCLOM Limited or HCLOM LLC was the entity that tried to take steps to become the Successor Manager. (24:14-25:20)

- FW DNR that HCLOM Limited had a bank account; prepared financial statements; maintained books and records; was a registered financial advisor. (26:6-19)

- FW never saw a document concerning resets where HCLOM Limited was identified as the proposed portfolio manager rather than LLC. (27:4-7)

- The Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement was signed about 10 weeks after the Transfer Agreement by Dondero and Cullinane. (27:14-29:4)

- FW not aware of anything inaccurate or incorrect. (29:5-8)

- FW has no independent knowledge of the Acknowledgement and Waiver Agreement; it says what it says. (29:9-31:4)

- FW admits that the Notices and Appointments required under the Transfer Agreement never occurred. (31:14-24)

- Dugaboy and Okada own HCLOM Limited. (34:7-10)

- FW has no facts to support speculation that Limited and LLC are affiliates. (33:15-36:1)

- HCMLP had an ownership interest in Limited until 2022. (36:7-22)
- FW DNK if LLC ever had an ownership interest in Limited. (37:15-19)
- FW's understanding is that Highland owned LLC until 2022. (37:20-38:25)
- FW was "likely" Treasurer of Acis. (43:14-17)
- FW admits that on June 10, 2016, the day after Terry was terminated, he and Dondero were Acis' sole remaining officers. (44:2-45:14)
- FW has never discussed Acis with Nancy Dondero even though she is the Dugaboy trustee, which owned Acis, and FW was one of only two officers of Acis. (45:24-46:14)
- FW agrees that JD controlled Acis at all times from at least 6/10/16 until Phalen is appointed. (47:16-21)
- If FW needed approval to do something as Treasurer of Acis, he'd turn to Dondero. (48:12-16)
- Acis had no employees but did have shared services and sub-advisory agreements with Highland enabled Acis to fulfill its duties as portfolio manager. (48:22-50:1)
- Dondero signed amended SSA and Sub-Advisory Agreements the month after Terry is terminated. (50:6-51:10)
- Despite being Highland's CFO and Acis' Treasurer, FW testified that he wasn't involved in amending the service agreements. (51:11-52:9)
- Dondero would have to approve the 20-BPS formula for Acis and Highland. (59:2-7)
- FW does not know if Highland ever gave written notice of termination of the SSA pursuant to Section 14(b). (60:2-16)
- Acis was to pay Highland an aggregate of 35 basis points for shared and sub-advisory services. (64:21-65:4)
- FW DNR Highland providing written notice of termination of the sub-advisory agreement in accordance with Section 7.02. (65:4-66:7)
- Shared Services and Sub-Advisory Agreements were amended again in March 2017; Dondero signed the amended agreements so, again, Acis is still paying 35 basis points for services. (66:8-68:6)

- So as of March 2017, Acis was still the vehicle through which the Acis CLOs were expected to be managed. (68:7-69:6)
- FW does not recall anyone expressing concerns over Acis until 2018. (69:7-24)
- FW DNR either party ever giving written notice of termination of the service agreements. (69:25-70:16)
- FW DNR shared services agreement being amended. (72:4-22)
- FW DNR Highland assigning or delegating any rights or obligations. (72:23-75:2)
- FW DNR sub-advisory agreement being the subject of a written notice of termination. (75:16-76:21)
- FW DNR Sub-Advisory Agreement ever being amended. (76:22-77:10)
- FW DNR Sub-Advisory Agreement ever being assigned. (77:11-21)

CLO PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

- "Highland purchased an … interest in Acis' management fees." (78:10-22)
- Whole concept was a "tax-driven strategy" that also gave Highland a cash management benefit because it would receive the Servicing Fees before it paid out on the Note. (79:19-80:24; 83:1-6)
- FW discussed tax planning and cash management aspects with tax group and Dondero. (82:4-25)
- Because Acis is a pass-through entity, Acis' ultimate beneficial owners were the beneficiaries of the expected tax benefits on the Acis side; same was true on the Highland side. (85:22-86:16)
- Unpredictability and instability of Servicing Fees never caused Acis to default or breach obligations. (98:14-22)
- FW cannot identify any adverse consequence to Acis from the alleged unpredictability and instability of Servicing Fees. (99:23-25)
- Terry, Okada, and Dondero were the only people who could make decisions on Acis' behalf because they were the owners; after Terry was terminated, Dondero and Okada remained in control until Phalen was appointed Trustee. (101:13-102:6)
- FW DNR the issuers ever breaching their obligation to pay servicing fees to Acis or Acis ever declaring a default. (102:7-14)

- Schedule A of the Transfer Agreement identifies the CLOs subject to the Agreement. Based on the figures in Schedule A, and the fees due under the Shared and Sub-Advisory Service Agreements, FW agrees that "Acis was obligated to pay to Highland more than it expected to receive in servicing fees." (102:15-104:15)

- As Treasurer of Acis and the CFO of Highland, FW admits that "Highland is giving the Cash Purchase Price and the Note to Acis in exchange for Acis' promise to share the Acis Participation Interest as defined in th[e] agreement" (104:16-105:24)

- FW DNR how the Cash Purchase Price and initial principal balance of the Note were determined; whether they equaled the value of the Participation interests; or whether they were the subject of negotiation. (106:1-16)

NOTE

- The Note was executed at the same time as the Participation Agreement, both of which "were part and parcel of the same overall transaction." (111:9-112:1)

- The same people made decisions on behalf of Acis and Highland in connection with the Participation Agreement and Note. (112:10-21)

- Highland did not have a dedicated team looking out for its interests; while H&W was involved, they were engaged solely by Acis. (112:22-113:10)

- HCLOM Limited never paid servicing fees because it never became the collateral manager of the CLOs. (118:7-15)

- FW still insists that HCLOM Ltd. didn't become collateral manager of CLOs because of the Acis bankruptcy. (118:7-18)

- Highland made the first payment under the Note, but not the second payment due of 5/31/18; HCLOM did not declare a default but entered into the forbearance agreement instead. (118:20-119:12)

- Dondero and FW were the sole officers of Acis from at least November 1, 2017 until Phelan was appointed in the Spring or Summer of 2018. (120:3-9)

- Acis continued to receive quarterly servicing fees from the CLOs after November 1, 2017. (120:10-15)

- FW DNR if Acis remitted servicing fees to Highland after 11/1/17. (120:16-18)

- In April 2017, under Dondero's direction, Acis launched a brand-new CLO (Acis-7). (121:11-21)

- FW admits that Dondero would not have launched a brand-new CLO if he didn't believe Acis could not perform. (121:18-25)

- FW DNR recall (a) anyone expressing any concern about Acis' ability to perform or (b) how Acis funded the risk retention amount (or whether Highland loaned the money). (122:1-23)

- Acis looking to reset Acis-3 in late 2017. (123:13-124:2)

ASSIGNMENT AND TRANSFER AGREEMENT

- Despite being the CFO of Acis, FW has no recollection of Acis transferring its assets to other Highland entities in the fourth quarter of 2017. (131:1-15)

- FW had no recollection that Highland caused a Delaware entity called "Highland CLO Management, LLC" to be created in October 2007. (131:16-132:7)

- FW DNK who authorized the creation of LLC or what its purpose was. (132:4-13)

- FW DNK why the Transfer Agreement was entered on 11/3/17 except that (a) Terry got his award and (b) Highland said it wouldn't support Acis; those are the only two reasons why this Agreement was entered. (132:22-134:25)

- Dondero made the decision to enter the Transfer Agreement on behalf of Highland and Acis, and Cullinane made the decision on behalf of HCLOM Limited. (135:1-10)

- The only purpose of the Transfer Agreement was to transfer the participation interest (i.e., the servicing fees) and the Note. (135:24-136:13)

- FW admitted that HCLOM Ltd. had to become the manager of the Acis CLOs "to receive the servicing fees to then in turn remit the participation interest to Highland. That was it." (136:14-24)

- FW DNK if Transfer Agreement was negotiated or what role, if any, Cullinane played in drafting or negotiating the Agreement and despite being the Rule 30(b)(6) witness, FW made no effort to ascertain Cullinane's thoughts concerning the Agreement. (136:25-138:2)

- Dondero made the decision on behalf of Highland to stop supporting Acis, as set forth in the third recital. (138:3-13)

- The team managing the Acis CLOs was the same the day after Terry left as it was on 11/3/17, lead by Dondero (139:23-140:24)

- In fact, despite Terry's departure and the public litigation that Highland initiated, Dondero still had enough confidence in the Acis brand that he entered into new service agreements and launched a new CLO with the Acis name. (140:25-142:13)

- The award was the sole reason FW could identify for entering into the Assignment and Transfer Agreement. (142:14-21)

- FW DNK who gave the Notice on behalf of Highland or who received it on behalf of Acis, although Dondero did control both entities at the time. (142:22-143:6)

- FW has no knowledge that Acis ever defaulted under either the SSA or Sub-Advisory Agreement. (143:7-144:8)

- Dondero made the decision on Highland's behalf not to support Acis, and then made the decision on behalf of Acis that it couldn't continue. (144:9-145:10)

- FW cannot identify any "damage to the Acis brand" other than the damage allegedly caused by the Acis arbitration award. (145:11-22)

- Acis "simply accepted Highland's notification and said, okay, we're done" without seeking alternatives or declaring a default on Highland's part. (146:13-10)

- And despite allegedly giving notice, Highland continued to perform under the service agreements until Phalen was appointed. (147:11-21)

- HCLOM was "going to step into Acis' shoes" and would "have the obligation under the CLO participation interest agreement to remit… that 20 bases point over to Highland." (149:18-150:12)

- FW agrees that it's fair to say "that the reason Highland agreed to transfer the note to HCLOM is because HCLOM was agreeing to become the new portfolio manager for the Acis CLOs and would share the servicing fees after that happened." (150:13-23)

- "The planning contemplated the sale of the CLO participation interest and a note to the CLO manger." (152:1-13)

- FW has no knowledge concerning the proofs of claim Highland filed in the Acis bankruptcy case. (153:20-155:25)

- FW admits that the obligations under sections 1 and 2 of the Transfer Agreement were never fulfilled. (156:15-157:6)

- FW has no idea if HCLOM LLC or HCLOM Limited was doing the resets and cannot competently testify about the meaning, intent or terms of the Acknowledgement and Waiver document. (157:7-163:2)

FORBEARANCE AGREEMENT

- FW signed – but doesn't know if its electronic signature or a wet signature (163:3-21)

- FW DNR (a) the circumstances surrounding his execution of the document or (b) why highland did not make the payment due on 5/31/18. (163:22-164:4)

- FW DNR HCLOM Limited (a) making a demand under the Note, (b) declaring a default, or (c) exercising any remedies. (164:11-20)

- FW DNR (a) reviewing before signing, (b) discussing the document with anyone before signing, (c) who asked him to sign it, or (d) where the idea originated. (164:21-165:20)

- FW admits that "everyone knew" HCLOM Ltd. wasn't receiving fees under the portfolio management agreement and was relieved of the obligation to make payments, so HCLOM received no benefit under the Forbearance Agreement. (165:21-167:11)

- The only thing Waterhouse could identify that HCLOM Ltd. received from entering into the Forbearance Agreement was somehow helping Highland preserve its relationships with the investors in the CLOs. (167:12-168:22)

AMENDED FORBEARANCE AGREEMENT

- Signed by FW on behalf of both Highland and HCLOM Limited after the Acis plan is confirmed and there is no prospect for Acis reset. (170:5-24)

- FW admits that by this time, there is no chance HCLOM Limited will ever become the portfolio manager of Acis. (170:25-171:13)

- FW DNR HCLOM Limited ever being identified as a portfolio manager in 2019. (171:14-24)

- Only alleged benefit to HCLOM Limited from Forbearance Agreement is "reserv[ation] of the relationship. (171:25-172:3)

- FW is not aware "of any discussion or attempt by anybody in the world after January 19, 2018 to install HCLOM, Ltd. as the portfolio manager of the CLOs." (172:4-173:11)

RESPONSE

- FW read it before and is unaware of any mistakes. (174:13-175:1)
- FW is not aware of any amendments needed to fully and accurately set forth HCLOM's factual and legal bases for responding to the Objection or of any intended amendments. (175:2-9)

HCLOM'S DISCOVERY RESPONSES

- Served before FW reviewed and verified. (176:4-177:1)
- The verification falsely states that FW spoke with people with "personal knowledge" about the responses. (177:2-178:13)
- FW does not believe the Responses need to be amended or modified to make them more accurate. (178:14-20)
- FW did not verify the accuracy of the Response to Interrogatory No. 2, he just "took what counsel provided as correct." (178:21-180:1)
- FW then admits the response to Interrogatory No. 2 is unresponsive; he doesn't know if the Transfer Agreement was subject to negotiations; and he did nothing to find out. (180:14-181:2)
- FW DNK basis for the denial of the Firs Request to Admit. (182:3-18)
- The "consideration" HCLOM gave was the "preservation of the relationship" even though the same people making the same decisions on behalf of both entities. (182:19-184:21)
- Dondero, Ellington & Waterhouse. (184:22-185-22)

EXHIBIT B

DONDERO DEPOSITION DIGEST[1]

- JD does not know who holds the Note that is the subject of the litigation. (8:7-14; 14:10-14)

- JD didn't do anything to prepare other than meet with counsel, an hour the Friday before and 15 minutes today; didn't review documents; didn't speak with anyone other than counsel (including FW). (8:15-9:23).

- JD doesn't know anything about HCLOM Limited other than it was one of the entities that was going to be involved in refinancing or resetting of the CLOS. (9:24-10:22)

- JD doesn't know when Limited was formed; formed by "the lawyers." (10:23-11:18)

- JD is aware that LLC exists and speculates that it was an onshore entity involved in resets and refinancings. (11:19-12:2)

- JD doesn't know if LLC/Limited have common ownership or had any contractual relationship. (12:13-13:5)

- JD never asked why there were entities with similar names because he "wasn't specifically involved in any of the details on a transaction of this size," and DNR anyone ever explaining why. (13:10-14:1)

- JD can't identify the ultimate beneficial owners of HCLOM Limited as of today or at the time of formation. (14:15-15:17)

- JD DNK who controls HCLOM Limited: "This is a small transaction. I wasn't involved in the details," and he never asked anyone. JD doesn't even know if he's authorized to act on behalf of HCLOM Limited. (15:18-16:13)

- JD never saw HCLOM's Response; DNR seeing before filed. (16:14-23; 18:8-19:13)

- JD doesn't know who, within his organization, is responsible for handling this litigation on behalf of HCLOM Limited; he never designated anyone; no one ever told him who that person was; and he never spoke with anyone internally concerning this litigation. (19:22-20:15)

[1] "JD" refers to James Dondero. "DNR" means "does not recall" or "does not remember." "DNK" means "does not know." Citations are to the transcript of Dondero's deposition in this matter, marked as Ex. 62.

- Acis: formed in 2011 by Dondero, Terry & Okada to be a RIA and manage and invest in CLOs. (22:4-16)

- Acis obtained role as CLO Manager through management agreements with issuers and would receive fees for services. (22:17-23:13)

- JD DNR if he was an officer of Acis or controlled that entity. (24:21-25:6)

- JD doesn't remember if he fired Josh Terry for cause. (25:7-22)

- Terry's interests in Acis were allocated between entities owned or controlled by Dondero and Okada, but JD believes the decisions were made by an unnamed in-house lawyer; JD did not delegate to a particular person the responsibility for addressing issues arising from Terry's departure. (26:3-27:13)

- JD DNR delegating or designating anyone to act on behalf of Acis after Terry departs. (29:5-10)

- JD controlled HCMLP at all times until Independent Board appointed in 1/20, and authorized HCMLP to file for bankruptcy. (31:6-17)

- JD acknowledges that Terry left in June 2016, HCMLP sued him based on JD's authority, and Terry moved to compel arbitration on 9/12/16. (31:18-32:23)

- JD DNR Acis and Highland entering into the Participation Agreement. (31:18-33:3)

PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

- JD signed but did not read before doing so. (35:2-9)

- Purchase of expected fees for a note in order to recharacterize short-term income as capital gains. Tax advantage. (35:13-36:6)

- Acis is a pass-thru entity; not a tax-paying entity; tax liability goes to owners. (36:7-16)

- Highland was also pass through entity so neither Acis nor Highland were the tax-paying entities. (37:4-19)

- When JD signed, he understood that Acis "was agreeing to pay to Highland a portion of the servicing fees that it was going to receive from serving as the portfolio manager of the CLOs." (38:18-23)

- Schedule A: "In exchange for the Acis participation interests, as set forth on Schedule A, Highland agreed to give some cash and a note." (38:24-41:14; 41:10-25; 43:20-25)

- JD doesn't know the "nuts and bolts" that it takes "to be bona fide for tax purposes" so can't say if you needed cash going both ways. (42:1-13)

PROMISSORY NOTE

- JD signed. (42:24-43:9)

- JD doesn't know how principal amount of the Note was calculated; he "wouldn't have been involved with that." (44:1-6)

- JD does not know if there is a relationship between cash flow to/from Highland. (46:4-12)

- Benefit to Highland was tax deferral and/or recharacterization of income. (46:14-25)

- JD can't quantify the tax benefit to Highland; he didn't ask anyone what it would be; he doesn't know expected rate of return; he didn't ask; DNR if anyone ever told him IRR. (47:1-17)

- Idea originated with tax group, but can't name a person. (49:15-22)

- The Note was an integral part of the Participation Agreement:

    - Exchange of promises: "one side wouldn't have signed if they didn't get the promises of the other side." (50:7-21)

    - Wouldn't have agreed without the promises. (50:23-51:12)

    - JD DNK if HCMLP made any payments under the amortization schedule; he wasn't involved. (52:5-18)

SHARED SERVICES AND SUB-ADVISORY AGREEMENTS

- JD signed but DNK why he did so. (55:13-56:8)

- Goldman says brand toxic; JD has no personal knowledge; can't even remember who told him. (57:11-59:14; 61:18-62:21; 64:3-13)

ARBITRATION AWARD

- JD has never read it. (67:11-22)
- Not familiar with findings, only that it was against Acis. (70:3-20)
- Recalls that just after Award rendered, he signed the Transfer Agreement. (78:23-79:3)

TRANSFER AGREEMENT

- JD signed. (79:4-18)
- JD DNR Summit or Cullinane. (79:19-81:2)
- JD DNR ever meeting or communicating with Cullinane. (81:3-19)
- JD does not know if agreement was negotiated; "not involved." (82:16-18)
- JD never spoke with anyone authorized to act on HCLOM Limited's behalf before it was executed. (82:24-83:3)
- JD doesn't recall the document; didn't recall if he read it. (83:12-19)
- From Acis and Highland's perspective, JD's understanding is that the purpose of the agreement was to replace Acis as portfolio manager. (83:23-84:11)
- JD had no opinion when signing whether Highland would continue to receive serving fees in exchange for payments under the Note. (84:12-20)
- JD does not recall if he expected Highland to receive any benefit under this Agreement. (84:22-25)
- JD was unaware that Highland was a party to the Agreement; could not identify a benefit Highland was to receive even after reviewing the document. (85:8-86:4)
- JD has "no idea" why he signed the document on behalf of Acis and Highland. (86:5-14)
- Based on his reading of Sections 3(b) and (c), the Agreement is "just trying to make sure the promises and the obligations of Acis transfer to the new entity." (87:4-24)

- Asked to identify anything of value that HCLOM Limited provided to Highland pursuant to this Agreement, JD referred to "shared servicer fees" but didn't know if HCLOM Limited had a shared services agreement. (88:15-89:2)

- JD has no idea if HCLOM Limited ever gave anything of value to Highland for any purpose. (89:20-91:5)

- HCLOM Limited wasn't a registered investment advisor and had no fees. (91:23-25)

- JD DNK if HCLOM Limited ever entered into SSA or sub-advisory agreement with anyone. (93:6-19)

- JD has no personal knowledge about the Notification (as defined in Transfer Agreement.). (94:24-95:6)

- JD DNK who gave the Notification on Highland's behalf or who received it on Acis' behalf. (95:7-12)

- JD DNK why Highland was unwilling to support Acis. (95:13-18)

- JD has no opinion as to whether agreement was "neutral" to Acis. (97:16-24)

- JD DNK who made the decision on Highland's behalf not to service Acis – but it wasn't him. (98:12-16)

- The Terry relationship and litigation was handled by Surgent. (99:4-18)

- JD DNR any advice he received before signing the Agreement. (100:4-10)

- JD DNK who was authorized to give the Notification. (100:11-14)

- JD DNK if HCLOM Limited was a qualified Successor Manager. (104:24-105:2)

- DNK if HCLOM Limited ever appointed Successor Manager. (106:14-16)

- DNK if HCLOM Limited or HCLOM LLC took steps to become Successor Manager. (107:1-10)

- JD wouldn't have signed the Agreement if he thought there were errors in it (and there were: among other things, HCLOM Limited was not "qualified"). (108:6-14)

- Yet, took no steps to make sure the Agreement reflected the facts; just "trusted internal counsel," without asking any questions at all. (108:16-25)

- JD's understanding is that the Transfer Agreement "was intended to simply let HCLOM Limited step into the shoes of Acis." (109:22-110:1)

- JD DNK who is managing the litigation on behalf of HCLOM Limited and never asked. (110:2-19)

- JD DNK who owns HCLOM Limited or who its officers are or who is authorized to act on its behalf. (110:20-111:3)

- JD not involved in reset/refinance process. (112:13-22)

- One piece of the resets was that Acis would be replaced as portfolio manager and lose the right to receive the serving fees; the fees would go to the Successor Manager. (113:10-25)

- JD did not authorize or instruct anyone to pursue the resetting of the CLOs. (114:1-115:11).

- JD DNK who was authorized to have Acis reset the CLOs in 11/17. (116:12-15)

MIZUHO AGREEMENT

- JD signed but DNR ever reading before. (119:18-120:4)

- JD DNK where HCLOM LLC got the authority to engage Mizuho or why HCLOM Limited was designated as the "Company" for this purpose. (122:5-11)

- JD admits that HCLOM Limited is not referred to in the Agreement and he has no knowledge that HCLOM Limited was going to play a role in the transactions subject to the document. (123:19-124:7)

- JD DNK why LLC is the signatory and not Limited and never asked. (124:9-14)

- JD DNR ever signing a document (other than the Transfer Agreement) that contemplated that Limited would serve as Acis' successor portfolio manager. (125:8-12)

CUSTODIAL AGREEMENT

- JD signed but DNR doing so. (126:15-127:3)

- Every deal needs a custodial bank; it's a different role than placement agent. (127:25-128:14)

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND WAIVER

- JD signed it but doesn't remember seeing it; reading it before he signed it; or discussing it with anyone. (129:10-130:7; 134:15-23)
- JD has no reason to believe paragraph 3 is incorrect in any way. (131:6-13)
- JD DNK if Acis ever promptly gave notice to the controlling class of each CLO. (133:9-14)
- JD DNK if Acis and HCLOM ever promptly pursued an appointment for each CLO. (133:16-25)
- JD did not have a specific awareness that he was waiving breaches of the Transfer Agreement on Highland's behalf. (135:4-11)
- JD DNK what Highland received in exchange for the waiver; he never asked; and no one ever explained what benefit Highland would receive by waiving the breaches of the Transfer Agreement. (135:18-136:6)

DALLAS, TEXAS - DECEMBER 18, 2024 - 9:05 A.M.

THE CLERK: All rise. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, is now in session, the Honorable Stacey Jernigan presiding.

THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please be seated.

All right. We have a hearing all day today scheduled for Highland, an objection to the scheduled claim of what I'm going to call HCLOM. You all tell me today if you want to call it something different. For the record, this is Case No. 19-34054. So let's start out by getting appearances from our lawyers.

MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor. It's been a while. Nice to see you. John Morris from Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones for Highland Capital Management, LP. I'm joined here today by my colleagues, Jeffrey Pomerantz, Hayley Winograd, and Zachery Annable.

THE COURT: Okay. Good morning to all.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Good morning, Your Honor. I'm Deborah Deitsch-Perez from Stinson representing HCLOM, which I will sometimes refer to as Limited to distinguish it from HCLOM, LLC. So I'll call one Limited and the other LLC, hopefully.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I'm here with my colleague Mike

Aigen, and Patricia Tomasky, who's a paralegal, and Fred Jones, who are assisting.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Thank you.

THE COURT: Good morning to all.

All right. I presume those are the only appearances, and anyone else on the WebEx is an observer.

Do we have a housekeeping matters or shall we go to opening statements?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I have one housekeeping matter I'd like to raise. And this is really because Your Honor has on many occasions chided us and said, why are you here, have you done anything to try not to be here?

And this is not in the nature of settlement, but certain things happened last week. Last week, it became clear that $73-odd million is going to come out of the Registry of the Court into the estate, and another several million dollars is going to come out because of the administrative claims, because the Fifth Circuit just ruled, so it's another roughly $80 million in the estate. And there's already $80 million or so in the estate, and there's $80-ish million left in claims.

And so what we had proposed is that, rather than spending time and money fighting about all of this, we would agree to put HCLOM's claim behind Class 8, which I believe has otherwise been fully paid, and Class 9, because otherwise what the estate is doing here is bringing in money that's going to be the residual left over for former equity, and we're willing to put HCLOM back there anyway. And then we wouldn't be spending your time and our time and money to fight this, and particularly with a sanctions motion to try and get fees from Mr. Dondero.

I mean, honestly, Your Honor, what is the point, when there's enough money there to pay everyone and basically you're moving it from one pocket to the other, because at the end of the day there's going to be money left over for former equity?

And so I would ask that you use your ability to control your docket and send us all home.

THE COURT: Okay. And by the way, I neglected to ask, does Mr. Dondero have separate counsel today --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: No, I'm here --

THE COURT: -- or you are also his counsel?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yes, I'm here for Mr. Dondero also.

THE COURT: All right. So what I have heard is there is an agreement by your client to essentially have a subordinated claim behind all --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yes.

THE COURT: -- Class 8, all Class 9?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yep.

THE COURT: It would come above equity.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Strand, I guess, or --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yeah, the 10 and 11, --

THE COURT: I think I still remember this --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- organizational structure. And that, of course, eliminates the sanction component of this.

What do you have to say, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Sure. I'm just going to come to the podium. I'm more comfortable there.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: I'm surprised and disappointed that we're hearing this now. This is something that could have been raised the day after we filed our objection. Instead of raising this issue then, they filed a response, and we have spent more than $600,000 litigating this matter. She's opened the door now. Before there was a deposition taken, Your Honor, we offered to pay them a half a million dollars for the withdrawal of this claim. That was not accepted.

Here we are now. When I received this missive on Saturday, saying, gee, it's not -- not complete what's being said here. She also directed us to pay the Class 8 and Class 9 in full, which we're not going to do unless and until the Trustee determines that's in the estate's best interest. We responded by saying, if that's what you want to do, then just withdraw your claim with prejudice and we will withdraw our bad faith motion.

So, instead of accepting that, they pushed on. Right? Because it doesn't matter. If they're going to subordinate that claim to 8 and 9, the claim becomes irrelevant, because if there's ever a distribution to the Class 10, that's the same person. It's Jim Dondero. Right? We don't have to play games here.

So I said, withdraw your claim with prejudice, we'll withdraw our bad faith motion with prejudice, and we will have no trial. Not acceptable.

So here we are. We've now spent the time. They could have made this proposal two years ago. They didn't. They didn't accept the very generous offer that we made before a deposition was taken in this case. They've got no case here. There's no legal basis for this claim. There is no factual basis for this claim. We were prepared to actually write a meaningful check and avoid the whole thing. Not acceptable. We're forced to go through it.

This is like HCRE all over again, where, like, I don't know why we're here. I really don't know why we're here. It's the same person. Right?

But they pushed me here, and I think we ought to, as long as everybody's here, we ought to just get on with it and be done today.

THE COURT: Well, I'm trying to figure out if it's just a mechanical thing at this point. I mean, I'm hearing that your proposal is the claim be subordinated.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: And --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And the reason we don't agree with Mr. Morris, and I'll correct a few of the things he said, is there are some differences between HCLOM and former equity, and we don't know what kind of tax or other implications there would be from changing it from HCLOM's claim to dumping it into some other category.

But as a practical and economic matter for the estate, we're willing to have it at the back. So it's no difference to the estate.

And the reason we didn't make this proposal initially and we made it last week is because of the very material change that the estate suddenly has $80 million more. And it should be clear to everybody that there's enough money to pay everyone.

It is also not true that I said to Mr. Morris that he had to pay everybody this minute to make this claim, because then I would be saying, oh, pay me next week. That's not what I said. What I said was we would agree that if it turns out, as we firmly believe and we're putting our money where our mouth is, that there's enough money to pay everyone, then pay HCLOM then. They've already reserved the money for it.

And for them to say this is a ridiculous claim is itself ridiculous. This is not a proof of claim. This is a claim that Highland scheduled, not just when Mr. Dondero was at the helm but when Mr. Seery was at the helm. And then he reaffirmed it for years afterwards. It's only when they realized that allowing the claim would benefit Mr. Dondero, among others, that they did an about-face and said, oh, no, now we object to the claim.

THE COURT: Okay. Now we're getting into argument.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay.

THE COURT: And I promise you, I've read every single --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay.

THE COURT: -- sentence of every single pleading.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: So I know what the counter-arguments are.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And --

THE COURT: I'm going to suggest this. Can we take a 15-minute break? And we are pressed for time today, because I think I told you all, or maybe, I mean, not me, but Traci probably told you all that I have a presentation at 6:00 o'clock tonight. It's five minutes away, but --

MR. MORRIS: I think --

THE COURT: What I'm really afraid of is you mentioned HCRE. I remember when we were in the devil-is-in-the-details kind of situation there, where we didn't really have a meeting of the minds on what might happen with a withdrawal of that claim.

So might I suggest a 15-minute break, and you can write it down and sign it in blood. I hate to say it. But if it's something that you both can get to the same point on.

MR. MORRIS: I'm happy to do it, but I just want to make this really clear on the record. The reason that we were prepared to agree to withdrawal of our bad faith motion in exchange for disallowance of the scheduled claim is because we would have no theoretical let alone legal duty to HCLOM. And that's where we need to get to. That's why we're going forward today. That's why their settlement proposal was unacceptable.

We probably -- I'd have to confer with my client, but we probably would still be willing to withdraw the bad faith motion with the disallowance of the scheduled claims. But the subordination of it, to leave it hanging out there to create new arguments that we owe some kind of duty is unacceptable.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And that --

THE COURT: All right. Wouldn't you know at this point in time if there's a tax consequence or some sort of negative consequence from withdrawal? Withdrawal seems weird because it's a scheduled claim.

MR. MORRIS: That's why I say disallowance.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: It's --

THE COURT: Disallowance versus subordination?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: We don't know. And there's really no --

THE COURT: Why wouldn't you, after all of this time?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Because this only came up last week, and I don't know how many other things one would have to look at to know that, Your Honor.

But the bottom line is we don't. And there's also no reason, because it is economically no different for the Debtor to put us behind 9 than to disallow it, because there's going to be --

THE COURT: Oh, okay. Well, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: -- money left over.

THE COURT: -- I still want the 15-minute break, --

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: -- because it seems like there's a mechanic, such as I think the HCRE issue was --

MR. MORRIS: They were saving claims for another day.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And --

MR. MORRIS: That's what we want to avoid doing here today.

THE COURT: Yes. That this claim would never be used

--

MR. MORRIS: We want to make sure that we have finality, --

THE COURT: -- in litigation.

MR. MORRIS: -- that we're never going to see this again.

THE COURT: It would never be used in any future litigation.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Right. That I could -- as I stand here now, I don't know of any claims that HCLOM has other than this. And the time to make them is long past. I mean, the bar date has passed. The schedules are the schedules.

THE COURT: But that would be against Highland, not against who knows who else. I mean, I don't know.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: But why does the Debtor -- I mean, why does that matter to the Debtor?

THE COURT: Well, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I mean, I also don't know of any claims HCLOM has against anybody else, but why is --

THE COURT: Mr. Seery has been the subject of a lot of claim litigation. Or trying to assert a claim.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

THE COURT: Fifteen-minute break.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I'll give you an example.

MR. MORRIS: Can we take that 15-minute break?

THE COURT: Yes. Yes.

MR. MORRIS: Yes. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 9:18 a.m. until 9:47 a.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

All right. Do we have anything that looks like a compromise and settlement, or no?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: We do. Can I take your computer?

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Or somebody's computer?

MR. MORRIS: It's Hayley's. But you can read it if you want.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, just context, we greatly appreciate the Court's indulgence of time. It was used constructively. I believe that we have reached an agreement to resolve today's matter.

And with that, I'm going to have Ms. Deitsch-Perez read the written terms that we have right now. Obviously, it'll be subject to definitive documentation, which we would work on promptly today.

But why don't you take it from here?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And I'm not going to include your asterisks. The --

THE COURT: And can I ask you to come to the podium and speak into the mic? I just want it crystal clear on the record whatever is said.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay. Come. Yes. Come. Okay. The HCLOM claim would be converted to a Class 10 interest in the same amount.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay. HCLOM would release protected parties.

MR. MORRIS: It would be a general release.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: But only by HCLOM.

MR. MORRIS: Correct. Only HCLOM Limited.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: HCLOM would not separately make equity motions, like Hunter Mountain. However, because of the change in circumstances, I just want this to be clear. Hunter Mountain or Dugaboy may have -- may want to bring to the Court's attention the change in the finances in the estate.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: But it would --

MR. MORRIS: -- I really would prefer that we just read the terms of the agreement, and then she can put down the commentary. I'm going to do this the way we have -- the way we have it written, and then she can provide whatever commentary she'd like.

There's five elements to this settlement.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: HCLOM claim will be converted to a Class 10 interest in the amount of the claim.

Number 2, there shall be a general release of all Protected Parties, as that term is defined in the plan.

There will be no "equity" type motion by HCLOM Limited. HCLOM Limited shall take no position in connection with this case, including but not limited to in connection with this scheduled claim, as a holder of a Class 10 interest.

Number 4, no estate fiduciary, Highland Capital Management, LP, will owe any duty of any kind, whether it's contractual, fiduciary, or otherwise, now or forever.

And Number 5, there shall be no reserve established.

THE COURT: Let me -- let me --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Let --

THE COURT: -- make sure I heard that point.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: No estate fiduciary or Highland. What --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Other than this agreement. I mean, --

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

THE COURT: Just, if you could just repeat what you said.

MR. MORRIS: There -- no estate fiduciary or Highland Capital Management or the Trust shall owe any duty of any kind to HCLOM Limited, including but not limited to contractual, fiduciary, or any other duty.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Except the duties owed as a result of this agreement. In other words, you're not saying we'll make this agreement but, ha ha, you can't enforce it? That's all.

MR. MORRIS: The only thing that would be enforced is they would have a Class 10 interest.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Right.

MR. MORRIS: Right?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: It would have its Class 10 rights.

MR. MORRIS: Period, full stop. So that's fine.

And then no reserve shall be established.

There actually has been a reserve. That reserve can be released. There will be no further reserve with respect to this 10 interest.

And, you know, we need to make sure, and I don't know that counsel has the authority to do that today, but we need to make sure that neither HMIT nor Dugaboy, the Class 10 and Class 11 interest holders, have any objection to this. It's got to be subject to their consent.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Although I guess I still don't quite understand, because right now HCLOM is ahead of them, but I -- so now they're moving into --

MR. MORRIS: Because if we had the trial today, I'm fairly confident that the claim would be disallowed.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And I'm equally confident that it would not be --

MR. MORRIS: Okay. So --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: -- and that it would be ahead.

MR. MORRIS: So we're having a settlement that could impact them. So --

Just to state this really simply, Your Honor, because I want intent to be really clear on the record: HCLOM Limited is going to walk away with the economic interest of having an allowed Class 10 interest in the amount of the claim and nothing more, as if we actually tried the case today and the scheduled claim was disallowed. That's the point that we continue to make, that if we had this case, the reason why we really wanted to push forward to this case today and really what we were talking about before we took the break is we didn't want any continuing duty of any kind.

So this is why -- this is the compromise here. Highland gets what it wants, and that is, as a legal matter, the claim has been effectively disallowed. HCLOM gets what it wants, because, as an economic matter, when and if Class 10 claim -- interest holders get paid, they'll get a distribution, presumably prorated with HMIT if HMIT is ultimately found to have, you know, an allowed claim.

That's really it. We want the protection as if the claim had been disallowed in full, no strings attached. And they're going to get, in exchange for that, they're going to get the economic benefit of holding a Class 10 interest.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me ask the obvious question. It seemed to the Court that standing was the issue. When we had this back and forth before the break, Highland wanted disallowance. Your client wanted subordination. And we all know that there have been many adversary proceedings and many appeals where the standing of the plaintiff, the standing of the appellant, was challenged. And some court, maybe this one, maybe an appellate court, said no standing of Mr. Dondero. Hunter Mountain. You know.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: These are --

THE COURT: Is this the rub here, or are we in agreement from these five elements that HCLOM will not have standing to bring actions or to pursue appeals that involve --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: We're --

THE COURT: -- somehow Highland?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: We're basically -- and this is why I was trying to give a little color earlier, which is to say circumstances have changed.

So former equity, Classes 10 and 11, are in a position to say, Your Honor, look, see how much money there is in the estate. Now can you agree that we have standing? But we're not going to rely on the addition of HCLOM to say it's somehow different than if Hunter Mountain had done it or Dugaboy had done it. Is that -- is that clear?

MR. MORRIS: Let me make sure that I understand. This settlement has no impact on Dugaboy or HMIT. It doesn't. They've done whatever they wanted. They'll continue to do whatever they wanted, unfortunately. But what the third bullet point says is that HCLOM Limited shall take no position in connection with this case. Period, full stop.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Other than --

MR. MORRIS: Other than -- other than if, you know, if we gave a distribution to HMIT but didn't give it to HCLOM Limited, they can come in and complain about that. That's their economic right.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Right. We could complain about --

MR. MORRIS: Economic right.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: -- the economic -- about whether we get or don't get what we've just agreed to. I mean, we have rights arising out of this agreement.

THE COURT: Okay. Would it be -- it might be superfluous, but any problem with either one of you just saying in this agreement, This compromise and settlement agreement does not operate to give HCLOM standing in connection with any adversary, any appeal?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Not if it related to a violation of the settlement. So I think it's an unnecessary thing to say.

THE COURT: Except to enforce the settlement agreement? Could it have that proviso?

Because here's where I'm standing. Standing. No pun intended, actually. I mean, you mentioned that I have an obligation or duty to manage my docket. But I feel like I also have a duty not to clog the court system, including the appellate system, by entering an agreed order that might be construed later, look, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Well, --

THE COURT: -- she acknowledged we have a Class 10 interest and therefore we have standing. Okay?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Your Honor?

THE COURT: Do you see what I'm saying? I have some duty here, too, to make sure I have not created a standing argument where one --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: There --

THE COURT: -- might not have existed.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: There's nothing about this agreement that creates any standing other than with respect to the agreement itself. And I would be loath to say something that might be misconstrued about that. It's simply unnecessary.

And it's not, it's not clogging the courts for parties to appeal those decisions with which they disagree. And this settlement is actually efficient, in the sense that surely everybody here is aware that if we went forward on this case, whoever lost would appeal.

So this is managing both this docket and lessening the flow of --

THE COURT: So, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: -- cases into the future.

THE COURT: -- to make me feel like I have done my duty, you all would add a sentence that this order, this agreed order, whatever you're calling the document, does not operate to give standing to HCLOM for any purposes related to the Highland estate except to allow it to enforce this order?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I mean, I'll have to go back and ask, but that sounds -- that sounds okay. You know, as in this case, you're right, the devil is always in the details, but that sounds like what we've been saying.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I just --

THE COURT: You'll have to ask your client? I think I saw him here earlier. Has he left?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: If he is, I'll go -- I'll go and call him in the hall.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I just added a sixth clause that says, This order shall not operate -- does not and shall not operate -- does not and shall not operate to give standing to HCLOM Limited for any purpose against Highland -- against the Highland estate except to enforce this order.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: And I just, I just need to respond to that last comment. Right? We know they've appealed your gatekeeper order. We know that they've, you know, we're in the Fifth Circuit now on recusal. There's no indication whatsoever that this case is nearing a conclusion. We have no more contested matters before you, at least as of this moment, Your Honor. There's no more adversary proceedings that I know of at this moment. I'm going to cross my fingers and hope that the appellate court upholds the orders of this Court, the orders that have -- from the district court that affirmed your orders.

But, clearly, Mr. Dondero still has an appetite for litigation. He is still pursuing, you know, attacking the gatekeeper. He's still pursuing your recusal. So I think --

I think the --

THE COURT: You know, I don't keep --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- as close tabs --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- as lawyers might think I --

MR. MORRIS: Right.

THE COURT: -- do on appeals.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: But I do think I read where the recusal order was -- was --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: It --

THE COURT: It's a done deal. They --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: No, Your Honor.

MR. MORRIS: No. No, they brought in Jonathan Mitchell, the former Solicitor General of the State of Texas, and John Ashcroft, the former Attorney General of the United States.

THE COURT: He's still alive? I don't mean to be rude, but --

MR. MORRIS: I thought it was his son.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: No, Your Honor.

MR. MORRIS: It's a great question. With all due respect to Mr. Ashcroft, --

THE COURT: Yes?

MR. MORRIS: -- I mean no disrespect whatsoever, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- but when I heard that I thought it was his son, too. But yes, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: No.

MR. MORRIS: -- they're on the brief, and they filed a motion for a petition for a rehearing en banc.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And --

MR. MORRIS: And our answer is due on December 26th.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yeah. But --

MR. MORRIS: So we'll see where that goes. But the point being that it validates Mr. Seery and Highland's concerns that there be no ability to create another vehicle, to create more litigation, and it validates the very concern that Your Honor was addressing earlier on the same topic.

I think we're in agreement here, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Right.

MR. MORRIS: -- but I want there to be context for why we're so insistent that there be no duty of any kind and no ability of HCLOM all of a sudden to start raising its hand and commencing litigation.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay. And I do want to thank Mr. Morris for bringing this up and making the recusal status -- correcting it.

And for all of the complaints and saying these appeals are not well-founded, it is not often that the Fifth Circuit actually asks a respondent to answer an en banc petition, much less require them to do it the day after Christmas, which I am sorry about. They're an equal opportunity lawyer inconveniencer.

So I would just ask that we -- that Highland tone down the attacks on the appeals, because there have been ones that have been upheld.

THE COURT: Okay. I, you know, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: That's all.

THE COURT: -- I didn't think Highland's lawyer's tone was at all, you know, angry or elevated or whatever you're thinking.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I --

THE COURT: Okay? I have been approached by judge colleagues in the circuit who have told me there have been more appeals out of the Highland bankruptcy than any other bankruptcy in Fifth Circuit history. Okay? So to say there have been a whole lot of appeals is just factually correct. I don't know the number.

MR. MORRIS: It's 15, Your Honor. And there's more in the pipeline.

THE COURT: There -- what?

MR. MORRIS: There have been 15 so far. There's more in the pipeline.

THE COURT: Wait, wait. Okay. You're talking at the Fifth Circuit?

MR. MORRIS: Correct.

THE COURT: But --

MR. MORRIS: Oh, there has been dozens in the district.

THE COURT: I think at one point a year or two ago you told --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- me 50-plus.

MR. MORRIS: Right, right. I am just -- I am just talking about the Fifth Circuit. I've never heard of a circuit court in the United States of America that's had 15 appeals from any case, let alone a bankruptcy case.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Hmm.

THE COURT: So, anyway, it is what it is. But part of the reason I'm engaging in this back and forth is, again, we all have our duties. You have duties to your clients. I have duties to the system, okay. And if I sign anything that all of a sudden is going to create standing where it might not have existed had I allowed this to be litigated today, then I think I've been derelict in my duties. So it's essential, as far as I'm concerned.

So do we need a five-minute break? I'm telling you, if we have to go forward today, which it's looking like we won't, but if we have to, it's going to be compressed, because we've got to finish --

MR. MORRIS: Right.

THE COURT: -- by 5:30.

MR. MORRIS: I think the only thing I would request is that Ms. Deitsch-Perez just confirm --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Ask about the sixth.

MR. MORRIS: -- that -- confirm that Number 6 is acceptable.

THE COURT: Okay. She suggested she might need to run it by --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- the client.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Let's -- can we take five minutes?

THE COURT: Five minutes.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 10:05 a.m. until 10:12 a.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Okay. Please be seated.

All right. We're back on the record in Highland. Have we gotten to closure on all the issues or not?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: We have, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And so what we'd like to do is Highland is going to take the laboring oar of doing an initial draft of a stipulated order. We expect to get that to Stinson today. And we'd like to just put a loose deadline to report to the Court if we're unable to file this document, let's just say by the 24th, next -- I think it's Tuesday.

And if we're unable to do it by then, we'll ask for another date for coming back. But I do just want to keep a deadline there just so --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: I think it's a week. Okay.

MR. MORRIS: A week is -- it's six days instead of five days because I didn't want to take Christmas. That's just me.

THE COURT: Okay. Sounds reasonable to me.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Sounds more than reasonable that you can work this out --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- with language within six days.

MR. MORRIS: I do appreciate Ms. Deitsch-Perez's listening and getting to yes on this. It's a good result.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Anything you want to add, or you're in agreement with everything you just heard, Ms. Deitsch-Perez?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Deborah?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: What?

MR. MORRIS: I assume part of this is withdrawing the bad faith motion?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Oh, yes.

MR. MORRIS: Yes. I can confirm that that's Element Number 7. The bad faith motion will be deemed withdrawn.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. Well, --

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Well, will be withdrawn.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. I would have been happy to spend a whole day with you all, but we can now go on and take care of other business, I guess.

So I thank you all for getting this resolved. And I'm not going to be a happy camper if I don't see an order. I mean, the battle of the forms, I really don't think we need to have that here. Okay?

MR. MORRIS: Yep.

THE COURT: So, --

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Happy holidays to everyone.

MR. MORRIS: You, too.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: You, too.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(Proceedings concluded at 10:15 a.m.)

EXHIBIT 69

INTERCREDITOR AND PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT

This Intercreditor and Participation Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into as of January 10, 2025 (the "Effective Date") by and between Highland CLO Management, Ltd. (together with its successors and assigns in such capacities, "HCLOM Ltd.") and Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (together with its successors and assigns in such capacities, "HMIT"). HCLOM Ltd. and HMIT are each referred to herein individually as a "Party" and jointly as the "Parties."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, on September 22, 2020, Highland Capital Management, L.P. filed a Notice of Filing of Debtor's Amended Schedules in its pending Chapter 11 Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the "Bankruptcy Case") in which it, among other things, scheduled a creditor's claim by HCLOM Ltd. (the "HCLOM Claim"); and

WHEREAS, on December 27, 2024, the Bankruptcy Court entered a Stipulated and Agreed Order Resolving (A) HCLOM, Ltd.'s Scheduled Claims 3.65 and 3.66; and (B) Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s (1) Objection and (2) Motion for a Bad Faith Finding and an Award of Attorneys' Fees Against HCLOM, Ltd. and James Dondero in Connection Therewith [Docket Nos. 3657, 4176] in the Bankruptcy Case (the "Stipulation and Agreed Order"); and

WHEREAS, the Stipulation and Agreed Order converted the HCLOM Claim to a Class 10 interest/claim (as such is defined in Article III.H. ¶ 10 of the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) in the Bankruptcy Case) (the "Plan") in the amount of $10,140,633.26; and

WHEREAS, the Parties have agreed to certain rights and priorities solely as between themselves regarding HCLOM Ltd.'s participation in the payment of Class 10 interests/claims;

THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the promises, covenants, conditions, stipulations, benefits, and obligations described and provided herein, the sufficiency and adequacy of which is expressly hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

1. HMIT Payment Obligation to HCLOM Ltd. Upon HMIT's receipt of distributions on account of its Class 10 interest/claim (the "Distributions"), HMIT will pay to HCLOM Ltd. an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the funds received by HMIT within two (2) business days after receipt of indefeasible funds by HMIT (the "HMIT Payment Obligation"). HMIT shall be entitled to deduct from the Distributions the fees and expenses billed by Kelly Hart Hallman, LLP which directly relate to the Stipulation and Agreed Order or this Agreement (the "HMIT Expenses") until all HMIT Expenses are paid in full.

2. No Additional Duties to HCLOM Ltd. HMIT shall retain and have the sole discretion to act with respect to its Class 10 interest/claim, and shall owe no additional duties to HCLOM Ltd. or any other person or entity, including without limitation, with respect to (i) the amount of Distributions or recovery by HMIT on account of its Class 10 interests/claims,

(ii) the amount of Distributions that could be received by any holder of Class 10 interests/claims, (iii) the rights of any holder of Class 10 interests/claims, or (iv) any pleading or document that could or should be filed in any way related to the Bankruptcy Case, the Plan, or the HMIT Class 10 interests/claims.

3. No Liens or Encumbrances. HMIT will not take any action that could reasonably be expected to encumber HMIT's Class 10 interests/claims, limit or affect HMIT's right or ability to fulfil and perform the HMIT Payment Obligation, or limit or affect HCLOM Ltd.'s right to receive the Distributions.

4. This Agreement Supersedes the Effects of the Stipulated and Agreed Order Among the Parties. HCLOM acknowledges and agrees that, notwithstanding the Stipulated and Agreed Order, the terms of this Agreement amends and supersedes the effect of the Stipulation and Agreed Order as between the Parties and HCLOM's rights to payment under the Plan are limited solely to the HMIT Payment Obligation.

(b) The Sponsor and the Administrator hereby appoint Wilmington Trust, National Association as the initial Delaware Trustee. The initial Delaware Trustee and any successor Delaware Trustee may resign and may be removed by the Sponsor then serving for any reason, with or without cause. If the Delaware Trustee resigns or is removed, or if there is no Delaware Trustee serving at any time for any other reason, the Administrator shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee who qualifies under the terms of this paragraph 18. Upon each

(c) By its execution hereof, the Delaware Trustee accepts its appointment hereunder. Except as otherwise expressly required by clause (a) above, the Delaware Trustee shall not have any duty or liability with respect to the administration of the Trust, the investment of the Trust Property or the payment of any distributions of income or principal to the beneficial owners.

(d) The Delaware Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of the Administrator, nor shall the Delaware Trustee be liable for supervising or monitoring the performance of or performing the duties and obligations of the Administrator, the Sponsor or the Trust under this Trust Agreement or any other document. The Delaware Trustee shall not be personally liable under any circumstances, except for its own willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence in the performance of its express duties under this Trust Agreement. In particular, but not by way of limitation:

(i) the Delaware Trustee shall not be personally liable for any error of judgment made in good faith, except to the extent such error of judgment constitutes gross negligence on its part;

(ii) no provision of this Trust Agreement shall require the Delaware Trustee to expend or risk its personal funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of its rights or powers hereunder, if the Delaware Trustee shall have reasonable grounds for believing that the payment of such funds or adequate indemnity against such risk or liability is not reasonably assured or provided to it;

(iii) under no circumstances shall the Delaware Trustee be personally liable for any representation, warranty, covenant, agreement, or indebtedness of the Trust;

(iv) the Delaware Trustee shall not be personally responsible for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Trust Agreement or for the due execution hereof by the Sponsor or the Administrator;

(v) the Delaware Trustee shall incur no liability to anyone in acting upon any signature, instrument, notice, resolution, request, consent, order, certificate, report, opinion, bond or other document or paper reasonably believed by it to be genuine and reasonably believed by it to be signed by the proper party or parties. The Delaware Trustee may accept a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors or other governing body of any corporate party as conclusive evidence that such resolution has been duly adopted by such body and that the same is in full force and effect. As to any fact or matter the manner of ascertainment of which is not specifically prescribed herein, the Delaware Trustee may for all purposes hereof rely on a certificate, signed by the Administrator, as to such fact or matter, and such certificate shall constitute full protection to the Delaware Trustee for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith in reliance thereon;

(vi) in the exercise or administration of the Trust hereunder, the Delaware Trustee (a) may act directly or through agents or attorneys pursuant to agreements entered into with any of them, and the Delaware Trustee shall not be liable for the default or misconduct of such agents or attorneys if such agents or attorneys shall have been selected by the Delaware Trustee in good faith and with due care and (b) may consult with counsel, accountants and other skilled persons to be selected by it in good faith and with due care and employed by it, and it shall not be liable for anything done, suffered or omitted in good faith by it in accordance with the advice or opinion of any such counsel, accountants or other skilled persons; and

(vii) except as expressly provided in this Section, in accepting and performing the Trust hereby created the Delaware Trustee acts solely as Delaware Trustee hereunder and not in its individual capacity, and all Persons having any claim against the Delaware Trustee by reason of the transactions contemplated by this Trust Agreement or the Trust Agreement shall look only to the Trust's property for payment or satisfaction thereof.

(e) The Delaware Trustee (or any successor Delaware Trustee) shall be entitled to receive compensation from the Sponsor or from the Trust for its services in accordance with such fee agreements and schedules as shall have been separately agreed to from time to time by the Delaware Trustee and the Sponsor. The Delaware Trustee may consult with counsel (who may be counsel for the Sponsor or for the Delaware Trustee). The reasonable legal fees incurred in connection with such consultation shall be reimbursed to the Delaware Trustee pursuant to this Section, provided that no such fees shall be payable to the extent that they are incurred as a result of the Delaware Trustee's gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct.

(f) The Delaware Trustee shall serve for the duration of the Trust and until the earlier of (i) the effective date of the Delaware Trustee's resignation, or (ii) the effective date of the removal of the Delaware Trustee. The Delaware Trustee may resign at any time by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the Administrator; provided, however, said resignation shall not be effective until such time as a successor Delaware Trustee has accepted such appointment. The Delaware Trustee may be removed at any time by the Administrator by providing thirty (30) days written notice to the Delaware Trustee; provided, however, such removal shall not be effective until such time as a successor Delaware Trustee has accepted such appointment. Upon the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee, the Administrator shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee. If no successor Delaware Trustee shall have been appointed and shall have accepted such appointment within forty five (45) days after the giving of such notice of resignation or removal, the Delaware Trustee may, at the expense of the Sponsor, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee. Any successor Delaware Trustee appointed pursuant to this Section shall be eligible to act in such capacity in accordance with this Trust Agreement and, following compliance with this Section, shall become fully vested with the rights, powers, duties and obligations of its predecessor under this Trust Agreement, with like effect as if originally named as Delaware Trustee.

(g) The Delaware Trustee or any officer, affiliate, director, employee, or agent of the Delaware Trustee (each an "Indemnified Person") shall be entitled to indemnification from the Sponsor, to the fullest extent permitted by law, from and against any and all losses, claims, actions, suits, taxes, damages, reasonable expenses, and liabilities (including liabilities under state or federal securities laws) of any kind and nature whatsoever (collectively, "Expenses"), to the extent that such Expenses arise out of or are imposed upon or asserted against such Indemnified Persons with respect to the creation, operation or termination of the Trust, the execution, delivery or performance of this Trust Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby; provided, however, that the Sponsor shall not be required to indemnify any Indemnified Person for any Expenses which are a result of the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Indemnified Person. The obligations of the Sponsor to indemnify the Indemnified Persons as provided herein shall survive the termination of this Trust Agreement and the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee.

(h) The Delaware Trustee shall not be obligated to give any bond or other security for the performance of any of its duties hereunder.

19. Waiver of Jury Trial. THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW ANY RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LITIGATION RELATING TO ANY CLAIM ARISING HEREUNDER OR RELATED HERETO.

20. Governing Law. The validity and construction of this Trust Agreement and all amendments hereto shall be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware, and the rights of all parties hereto and the effect of every provision hereof shall be subject to and construed according to the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to the conflicts of law provisions thereof; provided, however, that the parties hereto intend that the provisions hereof shall control over any contrary or limiting statutory or common law of the State of Delaware (other than the Delaware Act) and that, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, there shall not be applicable to the Trust, the Sponsor, or the Delaware Trustee any provision of the laws (statutory or common) of the State of Delaware (other than the Delaware Act) pertaining to trusts which relate to or regulate in a manner inconsistent with the terms hereof: (a) the filing with any court or governmental body or agency of trustee accounts or schedules of trustee fees and charges, (b) affirmative requirements to post bonds for trustees, officers, agents, or employees of a trust, (c) the necessity for obtaining court or other governmental approval concerning the acquisition, holding or disposition of real or personal property, (d) fees or other sums payable to trustees, officers, agents or employees of a trust, (e) the allocation of receipts and expenditures to income or principal, (f) restrictions or limitations on the permissible nature, amount or concentration of trust investments or requirements relating to the titling, storage or other manner of holding of trust assets, (g) the existence of rights or interests (beneficial or otherwise) in trust assets, (h) the ability of beneficial owners or other persons to terminate or dissolve a trust, or (i) the establishment of fiduciary or other standards or responsibilities or limitations on the acts or powers of trustees or beneficial owners that are inconsistent with the limitations on liability or authorities and powers of the Sponsor or the Delaware Trustee set forth or referenced in this Trust Agreement. Sections 3540, 3542 and 3561 of Title 12 of the Delaware Code shall not apply to the Trust.

DALLAS, TEXAS - JUNE 8, 2021 - 9:30 A.M.

THE COURT: All right. We have settings in Highland this morning. We have three settings. We have the show cause hearing with regard to a lawsuit filed in the District Court. We have a couple of more, I would say, ministerial matters, although I think we do have objections. I know we have objections. We have a motion to extend the removal period in this case as well as a motion to modify the order authorizing Mr. Seery's retention.

So let's go ahead and start out by getting appearances from the lawyers who are participating today. I'll get those now.

MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. MORRIS: John Morris from Pachulski, Stang, Ziehl & Jones for the Debtor. I'm joined with me this morning by my colleagues, Jeffrey Pomerantz, Greg Demo, and Zachery Annable.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: We do have a proposal on how to proceed today, a substantial portion of which is in agreement with the Respondents.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: So, at the appropriate time, I'd be happy to present that to the Court.

THE COURT: All right. Well, let's get all the appearances and then I'll hear from you on that.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, my name is -- would you like me to approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes, please.

MR. SBAITI: It's my first time appearing in Bankruptcy Court, Your Honor. My name is Mazin Sbaiti. I'm here on behalf of the charitable DAF Fund, CLO Holdco, and the Respondents to the show cause hearing. We are also representing them as the Movants on the motion to modify the Court's order appointing Mr. Seery.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

MR. BRIDGES: Jonathan Bridges, Your Honor, with Mr. Sbaiti, also representing the Charitable DAF and CLO Holdco, as well as our firm that is named in the show cause order.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS: Good morning, Your Honor. Louis M. Phillips from Kelly Hart Hallman here on behalf of Mark Patrick in the show cause matter. I'm joined with my colleague Michael Anderson from the Kelly Hart firm here in Fort Worth. And that's the matter that we're involved in, the show cause auction.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, Mr. Phillips.

MR. TAYLOR: Good morning, Your Honor. Clay Taylor of Bonds Ellis Eppich Schafer Jones here on behalf of Jim Dondero. I have Mr. Will Howell here with me from my firm.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

MR. CLEMENTE: Good morning, Your Honor. Matthew Clemente from Sidley Austin on behalf of the Committee. I'm here with my partner, Paige Montgomery.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MR. CLEMENTE: Good morning.

THE COURT: All right. Just to remind people, we do have participants on the WebEx, but in setting the hearing I made clear that participants today needed to be here live in the courtroom. So the WebEx participants are going to be only observers.

We have a camera on the screen here that is poised to capture both the lawyer podium as well as the witness box, and then another camera on the bench.

So, please be mindful. We want the lawyers to speak from the podium so that they are captured and heard by the WebEx. And so hopefully we don't have any cords you will trip over. We've worked hard to make it easy to maneuver around the courtroom.

All right. So, Mr. Morris, you had a proposal on how we would approach this today?

MR. MORRIS: I do, Your Honor. And it's rather brief, but I think it makes a lot of sense.

There are three motions on the calendar for today, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- only one of which required the personal appearance of certain parties.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: And for that reason, and because, frankly, it was the first of the three motions filed, we believe that that ought to go first.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And then it can be followed by the motion for reconsideration of the July order, assuming time permits, and then the motion to extend the removal deadline.

And with respect to the contempt motion, Your Honor, the parties have agreed that each side shall have a maximum of three hours to make opening statements, closing arguments, direct and cross-examination of witnesses.

You know, I did point out to them that from time to time Your Honor has used the Court's discretion to adjust the time --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- if the Court is making inquiries, and I guess we'll deal with that matter as it comes. But as a general matter, that is what we've agreed to. And I would propose that, unless anybody has any objections, that we just proceed on that basis.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And I could -- I could go right forward.

THE COURT: So, three hours in the aggregate?

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: It doesn't matter how people spend it -- with argument, examination, cross -- three hours in the aggregate?

MR. MORRIS: Correct.

THE COURT: Okay. So, Nate, you'll be the timer on that.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. We thought it was very important to get this done today, with people coming in from out of town.

THE COURT: Okay. Sounds fine.

MR. MORRIS: So does the Court want to inquire if anybody has any questions or comments?

THE COURT: I do. Well, I see Mr. Bridges getting up. You confirm that that's agreeable?

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor. Yes, that's agreeable. We have one slight difference in our proposal. We would suggest to Your Honor that the motion for modification, if Your Honor decides our way, would moot the entire motion for contempt. And we'd suggest, if that possibility is realistic, that we would go first with that motion, perhaps obviate having to have the evidence presented and the lengthy hearing.

The motion for modification, Your Honor, asks the Court to reconsider -- to modify that order because of jurisdictional and other shortcomings in it that make the order unenforceable. And because that's the order that is the subject of the contempt motion, we'd ask Your Honor to consider putting that motion first.

THE COURT: Okay. Or second? Ahead of the contempt matter?

MR. BRIDGES: Ahead of the contempt matter, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: -- because it has a possibility --

THE COURT: We have the removal matter, which I think is the shortest. All right.

MR. BRIDGES: No objection to that, Your Honor. That's correct.

THE COURT: Okay. So, Mr. Morris, that's fine by you?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, that doesn't make a lot of sense to us. We don't believe there's any basis for the Court to reconsider, modify, or amend in any way the July order. But even if we were wrong about that, that would not retroactively validate conduct which was otherwise wrongful at the time it was committed.

The contempt motion needs to go first. The other motion will have no impact on whether or not there is a finding of contempt of court.

THE COURT: All right. And update me on this. There was something filed yesterday, a notice of a proposed form of order that the Debtor had proposed, that I think was not agreed to, where there would be a change about any action that goes forward, the cause of action would be in the sole jurisdiction of the Court, and you all agreed to change that part of the order, correct?

MR. MORRIS: So, just as a division of labor for Your Honor, I'm doing the contempt motion.

THE COURT: Okay. That's Mr. Pomerantz's?

MR. MORRIS: Mr. Pomerantz is going to take care of that.

MR. POMERANTZ: Yes, Your Honor. Good morning. Good to see you again.

THE COURT: Good to see you.

MR. POMERANTZ: Yes, Your Honor, that's correct. If Your Honor recalls, there's really three aspects of the January 9th and the July 16th order. First, requiring people to come to Bankruptcy Court before commencing or pursuing an action. Second, for the Bankruptcy Court to have the sole and exclusive authority to determine whether the claim is a colorable claim of willful negligence or gross misconduct. And then third, if Your Honor passed the claim through the gate, whether you would have jurisdiction.

In Your Honor's January 9th and July 16th orders, you said you would have exclusive jurisdiction. In the motion for reconsideration, and particularly the reply, Movants said, if you just change that and say that if passes through the gate that you'd have jurisdiction only to the extent you would otherwise have it, that would resolve the motion, in the same way that the plan of reorganization was amended.

We proposed that. They rejected it. We put it before Your Honor. So we believe that it moots out a good portion -- actually, we think it should moot out the entire motion. They obviously disagree. But we definitely agree it moots out the most significant portion of their motion, which is that Your Honor would take jurisdiction to adjudicate a matter on an exclusive basis when you might not otherwise have jurisdiction on an exclusive basis.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, --

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, may I respond to that?

THE COURT: You may. And --

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- why -- could you clarify why you think it would moot out the entire show cause matter? I wouldn't be retroactively changing my order. Is that what you're proposing?

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, with all respect, we believe the order is defective and unenforceable and has to be modified in order to fix it. And because of the defects, we're -- we're actually arguing, Your Honor, that it is unenforceable in a contempt proceeding. That is exactly what our argument is.

THE COURT: Okay. I think I'm getting way farther down this road than maybe I want to right now. But I guess here's the elephant in the room, I feel like: Republic Supply versus Shoaf.

MR. BRIDGES: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: The U.S. Supreme Court Espinosa case, for that matter. If I accept your argument that maybe there was a flaw in those orders, that maybe they went too far, don't you have a problem with those two cases?

MR. BRIDGES: Your --

THE COURT: The orders weren't appealed.

MR. BRIDGES: I understand completely, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: And I think the answer is no because of the Applewood case from the Fifth Circuit. The Applewood case cited in our reply brief explains that in order for an order, a final order of the Bankruptcy Court to have exculpatory effect, in order for it to release claims, for example, that the claims at issue must be enumerated in the order. It's not enough to have a blanket statement like the order, the July order has, like the January order has, saying that Mr. Seery's claims -- claims cannot be brought against him for ordinary negligence at all. The -- Your Honor, we're delving into my argument.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: And I was hoping to do this on a preliminary basis.

THE COURT: Right.

MR. BRIDGES: I don't mean to bog you down with that. But Your Honor, no, mandatory authority from the Fifth Circuit after Shoaf limits Shoaf's application and says that it does not extinguish the claims that are not specifically enumerated in the order. And the reason for that is because it doesn't give the kind of notice to the parties that they would need to make an appearance and object to those orders at the time. It actually helps to stem the amount of litigation at the time rather than to encourage it.

THE COURT: All right. Well, you'll get your opportunity to make your full argument on this. But I'm not convinced, preliminarily, at least, to affect my decision on the sequence, okay? So even if it potentially wastes time under your view of the law, I am going to do the removal matter first -- the extension of time request, I should say -- and then the show cause and then the motion to modify. And I realize, those last two matters, everything is kind of interrelated. All right?

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. So, with that decided, is there a desire on the part of the lawyers to make opening statements, or shall we just go to the motions? And, of course, people can use their three hours for oral argument, however much they want to use for oral argument.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, the -- to be clear, the six-hour time limit only applies to the contempt proceeding.

THE COURT: Oh, yes. Yes. Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: And I do want to make an opening statement.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: So, as the Movant, I'd like to go first.

THE COURT: You want to make opening statements?

MR. BRIDGES: Yes. Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: I believe we've got a PowerPoint prepared that I think can lay out our side of it.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: I don't think we're participating in the motion to extend the removal time.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: That's going first.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. BRIDGES: So we'll wait until that is --

THE COURT: Well, so we don't get confused on the timing, let's just do the motion to extend right now. And I think we only had one objection. As Mr. Sbaiti just pointed out, they're not objecting on that one. We have a Dondero objection. So let's, without starting the timer, hear that one. Okay?

MR. DEMO: Good morning, Your Honor. Greg Demo; Pachulski, Stang, Ziehl & Jones.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. DEMO: I'll be arguing the removal motion and then turn it over.

It's fairly basic and straightforward, Your Honor. We're asking for a further extension of the statutory deadline to remove cases until December 14th, 2021. The deadline is procedural only. As Your Honor is well aware, there's a lot of moving parts in this case. You know, we don't know to this date, really, the full universe of what could actually be out there. So we're just asking for a short extension of the removal period to cover through December.

I know that there was an objection from Mr. Dondero. I know that he argues that 9006 does not allow us to extend that deadline past the effective date of the plan, and he cites one case for that purpose, which is Health Support. I think it's out of Florida. That case dealt with the extension of the two-year extension of the statute of limitations and was very clear that you can't use 9 --

THE COURT: You mean the 546 deadline?

MR. BRIDGES: Yes. Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: That you can't use 9006 to extend non-bankruptcy deadlines. That's not what we're doing here, Your Honor. We're using 9006 to extend the bankruptcy deadline to remove the cases.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. DEMO: And we'd just ask Your Honor for the extension through December.

THE COURT: Okay. I'll hear Mr. Dondero's counsel.

MR. HOWELL: Good morning, Judge. Will Howell for Mr. Dondero.

So, the argument here is not that the Court can't do this. I was just pointing that there is an outside limit to what we're doing. And so if you look at the cases that the Debtor cites in support of this motion, the one that is most apt was when Judge Nelms did a fourth extension of time. But those were all 90-day extensions. Here, we're in a situation where the Debtor is asking for a fourth 180-day extension of time, and this is really where the, you know, objection came -- or, the response in opposition came from. They specifically asked that it be without prejudice to further extensions.

And so, at some point, you know, does 9006 have an outside limit? You know, do we need to see some sort of a light at the end of the tunnel here?

So we would ask that the motion, at a minimum, be denied in part with respect to this open-ended request for extension beyond two years for a 90-day period. The other cases that they cite, they have one extension here, one extension there, 120 days here, but not 180 days after 180 days after 180 days, and then asking specifically for without prejudice to further extensions beyond two years. So that's -- that's where this comes from.

THE COURT: All right. Do you think it matters that this is a very complex case?

MR. BRIDGES: I --

THE COURT: There's litigation here, there, and everywhere.

MR. HOWELL: I also think, you know, Mirant was complex. I think Pilgrim's Pride was complex. I think, you know, it is not out of bounds for the Court to grant a fourth extension.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: But to -- you know, at some point -- you know, maybe the Court could grant a 90-day extension and make them come back a little more frequently to kind of corral this thing, rather than just saying "This grant of 180 days, the fourth time, is going to be without prejudice to further extensions." It just gets kind of large.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Demo, your motion. You get the last word.

MR. DEMO: Your Honor, I mean, it is without prejudice for further extensions, but that doesn't mean that Your Honor is granting the further extensions now. It means we'll have to come back. We'll have to make our case for why an extension is necessary. And, you know, if Your Honor doesn't want to give us another extension past December 2021, Your Honor doesn't have to. This is not an order saying that it's a limitless grant.

You know, I'd also ask, you know, quite honestly, why Mr. Dondero has such an issue with this. He hasn't said that any of these cases involve him. He hasn't given any reasons why this affects him. He hasn't given any reason why this damages him at all. So I do, I guess, wonder as an initial matter kind of why we're here, you know, why we're responding to Mr. Dondero's request, when that request really has no impact on him.

And then, Your Honor, to the extent that you are inclined to limit this, I would say, you know, we would ask for a reasonable extension of time. We do think an extension of time, because of the complexity of this case, through December is warranted. But if Your Honor for some reason does agree that a shorter extension is necessary under 9006 -- I don't think it is -- we'd just ask that Your Honor grant us leave to come back for further extensions of time.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. I will -- I'll grant a 90-day extension, without prejudice for further extensions.

MR. DEMO: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Maybe in 90 days we'll be farther down the road and we won't need any more extensions, but you'll have the ability to argue for more if you think it's really necessary. All right. So that will bring us to around September 14th, I guess.

All right. Well, let's go ahead and hear opening statements with regard to the show cause matter. And again, if you want to roll in arguments about the -- well, no, you said the six hours only applies to show cause, so we'll not hear opening statements with regard to the Seery retention modification, just show cause.

MR. MORRIS: All right. Before I begin, Your Honor, I have a small deck to guide --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- to guide my opening statement.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MORRIS: Can I approach the bench?

THE COURT: You may. And is your legal assistant going to share her content --

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

THE COURT: -- so people on the WebEx will see? Okay.

MR. MORRIS: That's the intention, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: All right. Are you ready for me to proceed?

THE COURT: I am. And obviously, everyone has a copy?

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

THE COURT: Your opponents have a copy of this?

MR. MORRIS: Yep.

THE COURT: Okay. Although we hope to see it on the screen.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski, Stang, Ziehl & Jones; for the Debtor.

We're here today on the Debtor's motion to hold certain entities and individuals in contempt of court for violating a very clear and specific court order. I hope to be relatively brief in my opening here, Your Honor, and I'd like to begin where I think we must, and that is, how do we -- how do we prove this and what do we have to prove?

The elements of a claim for contempt of court are really rather straightforward. The Movant must establish by clear and convincing evidence three things.

THE COURT: Let me stop you and stop the clock. We're not seeing the shared content.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Did you want her to go ahead and share her content?

MR. MORRIS: I did.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I was hoping that she'd do that.

THE COURT: All right. It says it's receiving content.

MR. MORRIS: There we go. It's on my screen, anyway.

THE COURT: Oh, here it is. I don't know why it's not on my Polycom. Can you all see it out there?

(Chorus of affirmative replies.)

THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

So, there's three elements to the cause of action for contempt, for civil contempt. We have to prove by clear and convincing evidence that a court order was in effect; that the order required certain conduct by the Respondents; and that the Respondent failed to comply with the Court's order.

We've cited in the footnote the applicable case law from the Fifth Circuit, and I don't believe that there's any dispute that is indeed the legal standard.

The intent of the Respondents as to liability is completely irrelevant. It doesn't matter if they thought they were doing the right thing. It doesn't matter if they believed in their heart of hearts that the court order was invalid. These are the three elements, and we will be able to establish these elements not by clear and convincing evidence, but if we ever had to, beyond reasonable doubt.

If we can go to the next slide, please.

We begin with the Court's order, the Court's July 9 order. And that order states very clearly what conduct was required. And the conduct that was required was that no entity could commence or pursue -- those are really the magic words -- commence or pursue a claim against Mr. Seery without the Bankruptcy Court doing certain things. And we've referred to this as the gatekeeper. And the only question I believe the Court has to ask today is whether the Respondents commenced or pursued a claim against Mr. Seery without seeking Bankruptcy Court approval, as set forth in this order.

I'll dispute that there's anything ambiguous about this. I'll dispute that it could not be clearer what conduct was prohibited. It could not be clearer. The only question is whether the conduct constitutes the pursuit of a claim.

Let's see what they did. If we could go to the next slide. There will be no dispute about what they did. And what they did is, a week after filing a lawsuit against the Debtor and two others arising out of the HarbourVest settlement, a settlement that this Court approved, after notice and a hearing and participation by the Respondents, after they had the opportunity to take discovery, after they had the opportunity to examine Mr. Seery about the value of HarbourVest's interest in HCLOF, after all of that, they brought a lawsuit after Mr. Patrick took control of the DAF and CLO Holdco. And that lawsuit related to nothing but the HarbourVest suit, and it named in Paragraph 2, right up above, Mr. Seery as a potential party. And a week later, Your Honor, they filed what we call the Seery Motion, and it was a motion for leave to amend their complaint to add Mr. Seery as a defendant.

We believe that that clearly violates the Court's July 7 order. And indeed, again, these are facts. They're not -- they're not in dispute. Just look at the first sentence of their motion. The purpose of the motion was to name James Seery as a defendant. That was the purpose of the motion. And the way that they made the motion, Your Honor -- and these are undisputed facts -- the way they made the motion, Your Honor, shows contemptuous intent. We don't have to prove intent, but I think it might be relevant when you get to remedies. Okay?

And so how do I -- why do I say that? Because they made this motion, Your Honor, and they didn't have to. Everybody knows that under Rule 15 they could have amended the complaint if they wanted to. If they wanted to, they didn't need the Court's permission. What they wanted to do was try to get the District Court to do what they knew they couldn't. And that's contemptuous.

And they did it, Your Honor, without notice to the Debtor. Even after the Debtor had accepted service of the complaint, even after we told them, if you go down this path, we're going to file a motion for contempt, they did it anyway. They didn't serve the Debtor. They didn't give the Debtor a courtesy copy. They didn't notify the Debtor. The only thing that happened was the next day, when the District Court dismissed it without prejudice, they sent us a copy of that notice. And within three days, we were here.

A court order was in effect. Mr. Patrick is going to admit to that. There's not going to be any dispute about that. The order required that the Respondents come to this Court before they pursue a claim against Mr. Seery, and they failed to comply with that order. The facts, again -- if we can go to the next slide. We can look at some of the detail, because the timeline is mindboggling.

Mr. Patrick became the Plaintiffs' authorized representative on March 24th. And folks, when I took their depositions, weren't specific about dates, and that's why some of the entries here refer to sometime after, but there's no question that the order of events is as presented here and as the evidence will show today.

The evidence will show that sometime after Patrick became the Plaintiffs' authorized representative, Mr. Dondero informed Mr. Patrick that Highland had usurped an investment opportunity from the Plaintiffs. Mr. Patrick is going to testify to that. Mr. Patrick is also going to testify that, without prompting, without making a request, D.C. Sauter, the general counsel of NexPoint Advisors, recommended the Sbaiti firm to Mr. Patrick. Mr. Patrick considered nobody else.

Mr. Patrick retained the Sbaiti firm in April. In other words, within 12 days of the filing of the complaint. They're retained and they conduct an investigation. You're going to hear the assertion of the attorney-client and the common interest privilege every time I ask Mr. Dondero what he and Mr. Sbaiti talked about and whether they talked about naming Jim Seery as a defendant. But with Patrick's authorization, the Sbaiti firm filed the complaint on April 12th, just days after they were retained.

It's like a -- it's an enormous complaint. I don't know how they did that so quickly. But in any event, the important point is that they all worked together. None of this happened until Mr. Patrick became the authorized representative.

Mr. Patrick is going to tell you, Your Honor, he's going to tell you that he had no knowledge of any wrongdoing by Mr. Seery prior to the time he assumed the rein of the DAF and the CLO Holdco. He had no knowledge, Your Honor, of any claims that the DAF and CLO Holdco had against the Debtor until he became the Plaintiffs' authorized representative and Mr. Dondero spoke to him.

If we can flip to the next page. Mr. Dondero has effective control of the DAF. He has effective control of CLO Holdco. You're going to be bombarded with corporate documents today, because they're going to show you -- and they want you to respect the corporate form, they really want you to follow the rules and respect the corporate form, because only Mr. Scott was responsible for the DAF and CLO Holdco until he handed the reins on March 24th to Mr. Patrick. Mr. Dondero has nothing to do with this. He's going to tell you. He's going to tell you he had nothing to do with the selection of Mr. Patrick as Mr. Scott's replacement.

The facts are going to show otherwise, Your Honor. The DAF is a $200 million charitable organization that is funded almost exclusively with assets derived from Highland or Mr. Dondero or the Get Good Trust or the Dugaboy Trust. The evidence is going to show that at all times these entities had shared services agreements and investment advisory agreements with HCMLP. The evidence will show that HCMLP at all times was controlled by Mr. Dondero.

And it made sense. The guy put in an awful lot of money for charitable usage. Is he really just going to say, I don't really care who runs it? The evidence is going to show that between October 2020 and January 2021, Grant Scott actually exercised independence. Grant Scott was Mr. Dondero's childhood friend. They went to UVA together. They were roommates. Mr. Scott was the best man at Mr. Dondero's wedding. But we were now in bankruptcy court. We're now in the fishbowl. And I will -- this may be a little argument, but there's no disputing the facts that Mr. Scott acted independently, and he paid the price for it. Mr. Scott did it three times.

He did it when he amended CLO Holdco's proof of claim to take it down to zero. He did it again after he withdrew the objection to the HarbourVest settlement motion. And he did it again when he settled the lawsuit that the Debtors had brought against CLO Holdco. And that -- and on each of those three occasions, the evidence will show that Mr. Scott did not communicate with Mr. Dondero in advance, that Mr. Dondero found out about these acts of independence after the fact, and that each time he found out about it he had a little conversation with Mr. Scott.

Mr. Dondero is going to tell you about it, and he's going to tell you that he told Mr. Scott each act was inappropriate.

You may have heard that word before. Each act was not in the best interests of the DAF.

The last of those conversations happened either on or just after January 26th. And by January 31st, Mr. Scott gave notice of his resignation. And you're going to see that notice of resignation. And he asks for releases.

Mr. Patrick becomes, almost two months later, the successor to Mr. Scott. Mr. Dondero is going to say he has no idea how that happened. He was just told after the fact that Mr. Patrick and Mr. Scott had an agreement. He's going to tell you they had an agreement and he just heard about it afterwards. He didn't really -- for two months, I guess, he sat there after Mr. Scott told him that he wanted out and did nothing to try to find out who's going to take control of my charitable foundation with $200 million. He wasn't interested.

But here's the thing, Your Honor. If we go to the next slide. Let's see what Mr. Scott said at his deposition last week. Question, "Do you know who selected Mark?" Answer, "I do not." Question, "Do you know how Mark was selected?" Mark is a reference to Mark Patrick. "I do not." "Did you ever ask Mark how he was selected?" "I did not." "Did you ever ask Mark who selected him?" "I did not." "Did you ever ask anybody at any time how Mr. Patrick was selected to succeed you?" "No, I did not." "Did you ever ask anybody at any time as to who made the decision to select Mr. Patrick to succeed you?" "No, I did not."

So I don't know what happened between Mr. Patrick and Mr. Dondero when Mr. Patrick supposedly told Mr. Dondero that there was an agreement with Mr. Scott, but that is news to Mr. Scott. He had no idea.

Your Honor, we are going to prove by clear and convincing evidence that each of the Respondents violated a very clear and specific court order. And unless the Court has any other questions, I'll stop for now.

THE COURT: No questions.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Who is making the argument for the Respondents?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I am. I'm just trying to put the PowerPoint up on the WebEx.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: Sorry about that.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I'll try not to make this a practice, but can I inquire as to how much time I used?

THE COURT: Oh. Nate?

THE CLERK: About thirteen minutes.

THE COURT: Thirteen minutes?

MR. MORRIS: Thank you very much.

THE COURT: Okay. All right.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, our PowerPoint is a little bit longer than that one. May I approach with a copy?

THE COURT: You may. Uh-huh.

(Pause.)

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, it does feel good to be back in the courtroom.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: It's been a long time.

THE COURT: Yes. For us, too.

MR. SBAITI: Jut wish it wasn't under a circumstance where someone is trying to sanction me.

But we're going to be dividing up this oral argument a little bit. Also, to just kind of break up a little bit of the monotony, because I think we have a lot to cover at the opening stage of this. And I'll try to be as expeditious as I can be.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE SHOW CAUSE RESPONDENTS

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, the thing we -- the thing we open with is the due process issue that we raised in our brief. And where this really arises from is the Court's show cause order calls us violators before we've had a chance to respond to the allegations and before we've obviously been able to approach this hearing. And the word violators means something to us, Your Honor, because I've been a lawyer for a long time, my partner has been a lawyer for a long time, our clients have never been sanctioned, we've never been sanctioned, and for us to be labeled violators first by counsel and then in a court order makes us wonder whether or not this process is already prejudged or predetermined.

THE COURT: I actually want to address that. Turn off the clock.

Just so you know, I looked this up a while back, because we gave a bankruptcy judges panel at some CLE. The average bankruptcy judge in our district, back when I looked, signs over 200 orders a week.

MR. SBAITI: Sure.

THE COURT: Many of those -- in fact, most of them -- are submitted by lawyers. So, you know, a big chunk of my week is signing orders. And I obviously give more scrutiny to those that are substantive in nature. Okay? If someone submits to me a 50-page debtor-in-possession financing order, I will look at that much more carefully than what I consider a mere procedural order setting a hearing.

So I regret that that word was used, but I can assure you I fairly quickly set that -- signed that, I should say -- regarding it as a merely procedural order setting a hearing. Okay? So it's as simple as that. There was no hmm, I like that word, violator. I had a stack, if you will, an electronic stack of probably 200 orders in front of me the day I signed that. Okay?

So, if that makes anyone feel any better, I don't know, but that's the reality.

Okay. You can start the clock again.

MR. SBAITI: And I appreciate Your Honor saying that. It does make us feel better, both about where the -- the genesis of the order and the impact and its reflection on what Your Honor thinks in terms of going into this.

The other thing that obviously raised concerns, and I assume this comes from the same place, was four days ahead of that order counsel told us the Court was going to order everyone to be in person, and they had advance notice of that, and we weren't sure how they had advance notice of that. I guess they assumed --

THE COURT: I can assure you right here on the record I never had ex parte communications with any lawyer in this case, on this matter or any other matter. Okay? Again, those are pretty strong words to venture out there with, which your pleading did venture out there with those words.

My courtroom deputy, Traci, I think answers her phone 24 hours a day. So I'm quite sure she had communications with the lawyers about this, just like she probably had communications with you and your firm and every other firm in this case. Okay?

MR. SBAITI: Like I said, Your Honor, we appreciated what Your Honor -- appreciate what Your Honor said, but that issue obviously stuck out -- stuck out to us, in combination. So I'll move on from that issue.

This has to do with the lawsuit that was filed, and the lawsuit, the genesis of the lawsuit, I think it's important to say, because the argument has been raised in the briefing and we wanted to address it upfront, why the lawsuit comes about. And it comes about because of the Advisers Act and the responsibilities that the Debtor has to the assets of the funds that it manages. And the Advisers Act imposes a duty not only on Highland but obviously on its control people and its supervised people. And the lawsuit has to do with HCLOF, which is what HarbourVest owned a piece of. And Highland, as the advisor to HCLOF and the advisor to the DAF, owed fiduciary duties to CLO Holdco, which is the DAF's holding entity of its assets in HCLOF, but Highland Capital was also an advisor, a registered investment advisor to the DAF directly at the time. And so those federally-imposed fiduciary duties lie at the crux of that lawsuit.

Moving on, Mr. Seery testified at the hearing that was in this Court to be -- to get him appointed, and this was Exhibit 2 that was presented by the Debtor, and on Page 16 at the bottom he says -- of the transcript, he says, I think, from a high level, the best way to think about the Debtor is that it's a registered investment advisor. As a registered investment advisor, which is really any advisor of third-party money over $25 million, it has to register with the SEC, and it manages funds in many different ways.

In the middle of the next page he says, In addition, the Debtor manages about $2 billion, $2 billion in total managed assets, around $2 billion in CLO assets, and then other securities, which are hedge funds -- other entities, rather, which are hedge funds or PE style. Private equity style.

On Page 23 towards the bottom he says, As I said, the Investment Advisers Act puts a fiduciary duty on Highland Capital to discharge its duty to the investors. So while we have duties to the estate, we also have duties, as I mentioned in my last testimony, to each of the investors in the funds. CLO Holdco would be an investor in one of those funds, HCLOF.

He goes on to say, Some of them are related parties, and those are a little bit easier. Some of them are owned by Highland. HCLOF was not owned by Highland. But there are third-party investors in these funds who have no relation whatsoever to Highland, and we owe them a fiduciary duty both to manage their assets prudently but also to seek to maximize value.

Now, the lawsuit alleges that Seery testified that the HarbourVest portion of Highland CLO Funding was worth $22-1/2 million. Now, Mr. Morris wants the Court to hinge on the fact that, well, no one asked him whether he was lying. But that's not really the standard, and it certainly isn't the standard when someone's an investment advisor and owes fiduciary duties, which include fiduciary duties to be transparent with your investors.

It also includes fiduciary duties not to self-deal.

The lawsuit also alleges that, in reality, those assets were worth double that -- double that amount at the time. We found out just, you know, in late March/early April that a third -- from a third party who had access to the underlying valuations at the time that those values were actually double and that there was a misrepresentation, giving rise to the lawsuit. That change in circumstance is the key issue behind the lawsuit.

We allege that Mr. Seery and the Debtor, as RIAs, had a duty to not self-deal and be fully transparent with that information, and we think both of those things were violated under the Advisers Act.

We don't allege that the HarbourVest settlement should be undone or unwound. We can't unscramble that egg. We do seek damages, as I believe is our right, arising out of the wrongdoing and the process of pushing forth the settlement.

I think one of the allegations in the actual motion for the show cause order was that this was going to undo all of the hard work that Court had done and basically unwind and try to re-piece Humpty Dumpty back together again. But that's simply not the case. Nowhere in our allegations or in the relief that we request are we trying to undo the HarbourVest settlement as such.

Now, whether the lawsuit should be dismissed under the affirmative defenses that they bring up -- res judicata, waiver, release -- all of those are questionable under the Advisers Act, given the change of circumstance, and therefore are also questions on the merits. They don't go to the colorability of the underlying claims in and of themselves, which I think is important.

So we asked for leave to amend from the Court. And what they want us to do, Your Honor, is they want to sanction us for asking. They're saying asking for leave to amend is the same thing as pursuing a claim. And I'll get to the specifics on that in a little bit. But that's the frame. Can we be sanctioned for asking a court, any court, even if it's the wrong court, for permission to bring the lawsuit? They don't cite a single case that says that that, in and of itself, is sanctionable conduct, us asking.

So I'd like to introduce some of the Respondents.

Your Honor, may I have one of these waters?

THE COURT: Certainly.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you.

THE COURT: That's why they're there, by the way.

MR. SBAITI: I didn't know if they belonged to somebody else.

THE COURT: We've scattered water bottles around for people.

MR. SBAITI: I appreciate it. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So if you see these little ones, that's for anyone.

MR. SBAITI: So, this is an org chart, and you'll see it as -- the exhibits that the Debtor's going to bring up. And when we talk about the DAF, Your Honor -- I don't know if that's visible to you. We're on Slide 19, if you're looking at it on paper. There's a little number at the lower right-hand corner. The charitable DAF GP, LLP and then the Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. together are the principles of the Charitable DAF Fund, LP. And so when we refer to the DAF or the Charitable DAF, that's really the entity structure that we're referring to. And then the GP and Holdco Ltd. have a managing member. It used to be Grant Scott at the time this was done. Today, it's Mr. Mark Patrick, who's in the room, sitting next to Mr. Bridges.

The DAF is a charitable fund. It's funded over $32 million, as the evidence will show, including Dallas-Fort Worth organizations, The Family Place, Dallas Children's Advocacy, Center for Brain Health, the Crystal Ray Initiative, Friends of the Dallas Police, Snowball Express, various community and education initiatives, Dallas Arts, museums, the Perot Museum, Dallas Zoo. That evidence is undisputed, Your Honor. The DAF is a real fund. It is a real charitable fund. It does real good in the community.

Now, Respondents -- Holdco, which you will see at the bottom of that chart, is essentially the investment arm. There are assets that the DAF owns in various pots, and Holdco is the actual business engine that generates the money from those assets that then -- that then gets passed up to the charitable -- the four charitable foundations at the top.

I'll go back to Slide 21. And if you look at the top, Your Honor, the Dallas Foundation, Greater Kansas City Community, Santa Barbara Foundation, The Community Foundation of North Texas: Those are the charities that then themselves bestow the funds onto the actual recipients. So the money flows up as dividends or distributions, and then gets contributed.

CLO Holdco invests those assets, and it's an important part of the business model, so that you're not sending out principal. It's the money that CLO makes, the profits, if you will, that it is able to generate that gets donated and makes its way into the community.

So there's an important feature to the structure in that it has to be able to generate money. It's not just money that sits there and waits to be distributed. There's active investing going on.

Mr. Mark Patrick owns the control shares of the entities comprising the DAF and CLO Holdco, as I showed you, and the beneficiary charitable foundations hold what we call beneficial interests, where they just get money. They don't have a vote.

Mr. Patrick cares about the public service the DAF engages in. He's been an advisor to the DAF, CLO Holdco, and its predecessor, Mr. Scott, since its inception. He receives no compensation for the job he's doing today. And you'll hear how he became -- how he inured to the control position of the DAF and CLO Holdco from him, but it doesn't involve Mr. Dondero, and the absence of someone saying that it did, I think, is going to be striking by the end of the presentation of evidence.

Their only argument against you, Your Honor, is going to be you just can't believe them. But not believing witnesses is not a substitute for the lack of affirmative evidence.

Mr. Patrick has said all along he authorized the filing of the motion for leave to add Mr. Seery to the lawsuit in District Court. He doesn't believe the motion to amend violated this Court's orders, for the reasons stated in our responsive filings to the motions for contempt and show cause order. That's why he authorized it.

My firm, Sbaiti & Company, we're a small Dallas litigation boutique retained by the DAF and CLO Holdco to file the lawsuit. We did an investigation. I'm tickled to death that Mr. Morris loved our complaint so much and gave us the compliment that we got it done in a short amount of time, but we did get it done in a short amount of time, because, in the end, it's a rather simple issue, as I was able to lay it out in about three or four bullet points in a previous slide.

The written aspect of that doesn't take that long, as Your Honor knows, but the idea that there's a suspicion that we didn't write it or someone else wrote it and ghost-wrote it and gave it to us, which I think is the insinuation he was making, is completely unfounded. There's no evidence of that.

We carefully read Your Honor's orders. We developed a good-faith basis, as required by Rule 11, that the lawsuit and the motion to add Mr. Seery were not filed in bad faith or for an improper purpose. We don't think they're frivolous. We don't think they're in violation of Your Honor's orders, given the current state of the law.

Mr. Dondero is one of the settlors of the CRT, of the Charitable Remainder Trust that ultimately provided assets to CLO Holdco and the DAF. He does care about the DAF's mission. I think Mr. Morris hit the nail on the head. Of course Mr. Dondero cares about what happens to it. He's one of the settlors, and it was his funds that initially were put into it, so he's allowed to care. And I don't think him caring is insidious, and him caring doesn't mean he has control and doesn't mean he's the driving force behind some insidious conspiracy that they're trying to insinuate exists.

He is an advisor to the DAF and CLO Holdco. It is a lot of money and it needs advice, and he's an advisor to Mr. Patrick. We don't run away from any of those facts, Your Honor.

We also don't run away from the fact that he was the source of some of the information that came in to that complaint and that he relayed some of that information. The content, we do claim work product privilege and attorney-client privilege, because he's an agent of our client, and as lawyers doing an investigation, the content of our communications is protected under the attorney-client and work product privileges, as well as the joint interest privilege. But the fact that we admit that those communications happened, we're not running away from that fact.

So, what does he have to do with this? It's interesting that that opening argument you just heard spent about three minutes on contempt and the other fourteen or fifteen minutes or so on Mr. Dondero. And only on Mr. Dondero. There's a negative halo effect, I believe, that they're trying to get this Court to abide by. They want to inflame Your Honor and hopefully capture -- cultivate and then capitalize on whatever antipathy you might have for Mr. Dondero, and then sweep us all in under that umbrella and sanction everybody just because he had some involvement.

But whatever involvement he has, which we admit he had some involvement in helping us marshal the facts, that's not a basis for us to be sanctioned if there isn't an actual sanctionable conduct that -- as we say there isn't.

We think there's an ulterior motive. That's why Mr. Morris just announced to Your Honor, Mr. Dondero controls it all. The ulterior motive, I believe, is, down the line, when they want to argue some kind of alter ego theory, they want to lay that foundation here. I don't think this is the appropriate time for that foundation, and I don't think any of the information and the evidence they're trying to marshal in front of you is really going to be relevant to the very specific question that's before Your Honor: Does our motion asking the District Court to add Mr. Seery violate your order, or violate it in a way that can be -- that we can be sanctioned for? We don't believe it violates it.

So, the three core standards that have to be met. First of all, civil contempt requires a valid, enforceable order. It's not debatable and it's not -- I don't think that's a shocking statement. Then they have to have clear and convincing evidence of a violation of a specific unambiguous term therein. Mr. Morris wants his version of the word pursue to be unambiguous, and I think the word pursue is unambiguous. But the way he wants you to construe it makes it completely ambiguous, and we'll -- I'll get to that in a moment.

Now, for sanctioning counsel, the Fifth Circuit has held you have to find bad faith. We're adjudged under a slightly separate standard under the Fifth Circuit law. So the contempt motion, though, to the extent it seeks to impose double and treble attorney's fees, those are in punitive fines. They are not compensatory. So criminal contempt standards are raised, and so they have to show a violation in bad faith. In other words, our arguments that we're making have to be bad faith, not simply that we're wrong, and they have to show beyond a reasonable doubt, usually in front of a jury. The U.S. Supreme Court explained the difference and the different procedural protections that have to be involved if they're really going to seek double and treble compensatory damages.

Now, he's right. Saying we intended -- saying that we didn't mean to violate it isn't necessarily a defense. But what you're actually going to hear from him is the opposite argument, that even though we didn't violate it, we wanted to. That's what he says. That's why he quoted you the opening section of our motion asking for permission to sue Mr. Seery, because that's a statement of purpose. And he says you should sanction them right there. That's literally what he said. It's right there, their purpose. If intent is irrelevant to them, it's irrelevant as to us. The fact that we wanted to sue Seery is fully admitted. We don't deny the fact that we believe Mr. Seery should be a defendant in this lawsuit. But the fact that we didn't sue him is why we didn't violate the order. And they can't say that the fact that we eventually wanted to sue him means we did violate the order. That door swings both ways, Your Honor.

We don't think any element is met. The order, while writ large, prohibits suing Mr. Seery without permission, and we did not sue James Seery, pure and simple. The July 12 -- 14th, 2020 order purports to reserve exclusively to this Court that which, according to the statutes and the case law, we believe the Court can't exclusively reserve to itself. And Your Honor, the order prohibits commencing and pursuing a claim against Jim Seery without coming here first to decide the colorability of such a claim.

They, I believe, admit that we didn't commence a claim against Jim Seery. I think they've admitted that now. So now we're talking about what does pursue mean? We didn't pursue a claim against Jim Seery. Is asking for leave to bring suit the same thing as pursuing a claim? That's the question that's really before Your Honor. Lawyers never talk of pursuing a claim that hasn't been filed. We don't say, I'm pursuing a claim and I'm going to file it next week or next year. Usually, that type of language is in an order, because when the order happens, there may already be claims against Mr. Seery. And so the pursuit of claim is supposed to attack those cases, to come here and show colorability, presumably, before they continue on with those lawsuits. It doesn't mean asking for permission.

If it did mean asking for permission, then complying with Your Honor's order would be a violation. If the motion for leave is a violation because it is pursuing a claim, if I had filed that motion in this Court, it would still be pursuing a claim without Your Honor's permission. I'd have to get permission just to ask for permission. It puts us in this endless loop of, well, if asking for permission is pursuing a claim, and pursuing a claim is without permission violates the Court's order, we'd always be in violation of the Court's order just for asking, just for following Your Honor's edict.

THE COURT: I'm just, I'm going to interject. You were supposed to, under the order, file a motion in this Court.

MR. SBAITI: I understand that, Your Honor, and I think that we can get to the specifics on why we disagree with how the motion went, Your Honor. We hadn't sued Mr. Seery. So as long as we dealt with the order, which is what our position is, then we don't believe we violated the order.

THE COURT: You think the order was ambiguous, requiring a motion to be filed in the Bankruptcy Court?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, what we believe is that the order was ambiguous in terms of whether us asking for permission in the District Court was in and of itself a violation of the order. We don't think it was. Actually, we don't think the order's ambiguous to that extent. The second we file a suit against Mr. Seery and we don't have some resolution of the issue, then I think the question of sanctionability comes in. But we never filed suit, Your Honor.

The Court doesn't say I can't seek permission in the District Court or that we can't go to the District Court with -- which has general jurisdiction over this case, and has jurisdiction, we believe, over the actual case and controversy that's being raised. But the idea of pursuit being a violation of the order, of the letter of that order, is nonsensical under that, it leads to an absurd result, and it's plainly vague and ambiguous, Your Honor.

Asking Judge Boyle or asking a District Court for permission is not a violation of this Court's order, not the way it was written and not -- and I don't even believe it was a violation necessarily of the Court's -- of the language that the Court has. We -- it doesn't unambiguously prevent us from asking the District Court for leave.

The Court's order yesterday, Your Honor, applied this very rule. The TRO -- you said the TRO did not specifically state, Turn your cell phone over. And you denied motion for sanctions on that. That's basically the argument we're making here, Your Honor. We think that was the correct ruling, and we think the same type of ruling applies here.

Your order yesterday also determined that the Court ultimately believes that hiring lawyers to file motions should not be viewed as having crossed the line into contemptuous behavior. That's essentially the argument they want you to buy, that there's somehow a vindictiveness behind this and an insidious plan to violate court orders, Your Honor. We don't have any evidence of that.

THE COURT: Okay. Take the words vindictiveness and insidious out of the equation. That's making things personal, and I don't like that. The key is the literal wording of the order, is it not?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, the key, I believe, is the --

THE COURT: No entity may commence or pursue a cause of action of any kind against Mr. Seery relating in any way to his role as the chief executive officer and chief restructuring officer of the Debtor without the Bankruptcy Court first determining, after notice, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of willful misconduct or gross negligence against Mr. Seery and specifically authorizing such entity to bring such a claim. So I'm trying to understand why you argue that filing a motion asking the District Court for permission is not inconsistent with this order.

MR. SBAITI: Because it's not commencing a claim, Your Honor. It's not commencing a claim against him.

THE COURT: Okay. So is your argument that if Judge Boyle authorizes amendment of the pleading to add Mr. Seery and then you do it, at that point they may have grounds for a motion for contempt, but not yet, because she has not actually granted your motion?

MR. SBAITI: Correct, Your Honor. I mean, in a nutshell. In fact, that's one of -- I think that's probably our next argument. We think, in a sense, this argument is incredibly premature. There is three ways that this -- well, I'd like to address this, so I've got -- I've got a diagram that I think will actually help elucidate what our thought process was.

There's three things she could have done. She could have referred -- referred it to Your Honor, which is what we expected was likely to happen.

THE COURT: But you didn't file a motion for referral of the motion before her.

MR. SBAITI: Well, no, I don't mean in respect of enforcing the reference. The referral we thought was most likely going to happen because it's an associated case, and we actually put those orders in front of her, so we expected that those orders would end up -- that the question would ultimately end up in front of Your Honor on that basis.

She could have denied our motion outright, in which case we haven't filed a claim, we haven't violated it, or she could have granted our motion and done one of two things. She could have granted it to the extent that she thought leave would be proper but then referred it down, or she could have decided -- taken the decision as the court with general jurisdiction and simply decided it all on her own. She had all of those options, Your Honor, and none of them results in a claim being commenced or pursued without the leave of this Court, if leave is absolutely necessary, Your Honor. And that's the point that we were trying to make.

Your Honor, the -- there's -- you know, there's no evidence that, absent an order from a court with jurisdiction, that we were going to file a claim against Mr. Seery, that we were going to commence or pursue a claim against Mr. Seery. We were cognizant of Your Honor's order. We considered that. And the reason we filed them the way we did is because, according to the statutes and the case law, this is the type of case that would be subject to a mandatory withdrawal of the reference.

And so there's this paradox that arises, Your Honor. And the paradox that arises is that we show up and immediately go, well, we need to be back in the District Court. So we filed our motion there, and I don't think that was contemptuous, it wasn't intended to be contemptuous of the Court, but we showed the orders to the Court, made the same arguments that we have been making here, that we believe that there's problems with the order, we believe the order oversteps its jurisdiction and maybe is unenforceable, and it's up to that District Court, as it has been in almost all of these other gatekeeper order cases that get filed. None of them result in sanctions, Your Honor. What they result in is a District Court deciding, well, either they refer it or they decide I don't need to refer it. But I don't think that that is the same thing as commencing or pursuing a claim in the end, Your Honor, because all we did was ask for permission, and permission could have been denied or granted or granted in part.

Your Honor, they haven't cited an injury. You've heard the testimony, Your Honor, that they -- the first time they knew we had filed a motion -- which I don't understand why that's the first time they knew we had filed a motion; we told them we were going to file the motion -- was when I forwarded an email saying that it's been denied without prejudice, Your Honor. Well, that means they didn't have to do any work to respond to the motion. They didn't have to do any work to do any of the other things.

And one hundred percent of the damages that they're going to say they incurred is the litigation of this contempt hearing or this sanction motion, as opposed to some other simpler remedy, like going in to Judge Boyle and saying, Your Honor, all that needs to go, which is what they eventually did. But they would have had to incur those costs anyway because they're now moving to enforce the reference. They filed a 12(b)(6). That briefing would have existed regardless of whether or not we had filed our motion, regardless of whether the sanctions hearing had commenced.

Your Honor, I'm going to let my partner, Mr. Bridges, address this part of it, if I could. I think that gets into more of the questions that you asked, and I think he can answer them a lot better than I can.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you.

THE COURT: That's fine.

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor. And I do want to address pointedly the questions that you're asking. First, though, I was hoping to back up to some preliminary remarks that you made and say that I find the 200 orders a week just mindboggling. It amazes me, and puts the entire hearing in a different perspective for me. I'm grateful that you shared that with us.

Your expression of regret about naming us violators was very meaningful to me. It causes me -- well, the strong words in our brief were mine. I wrote them. And your expression of regret causes me to regret some of those words. I'm hopeful that you can understand, at least in part, our reaction out of concern.

And Your Honor, it's awkward for me to talk about problems with your order, and that's the task that's come to me, to list and talk through four of them and why we think they put us in a really awkward position in deciding what to do in this case, in the filing of it, in where we filed it, and in how we sought leave to go forward against Mr. Seery. That was awkward and difficult for us, and I'm hopeful that I can explain that and that you'll understand, if I'm blunt about problems with the order, that I mean it very respectfully. Two hundred orders a week is still very difficult for me to get my mind around.

The four issues in the order start with the gatekeeping. Then, secondly, in the preliminary remarks, I made mention of the Applewood case and the notice that the order releases some claims. Its effect of --

THE COURT: And by the way, I mean, you might elaborate on the facts and holding of Applewood, because I came into this thinking Republic Supply v. Shoaf, and for that matter, as I said, Espinosa, were much more germane. And so, you know, you'll have to elaborate on Applewood. I remember that case, but it's just not one people cite as frequently as those two.

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor. And our reply brief devotes a page to the case, and I'm hopeful that I can remember it well enough to give you what you're looking for about it, but I would point you to our reply brief on that topic as well.

The Shoaf case that Applewood quotes from and distinguishes and expressly limits, the Shoaf case actually has been cautioned and limited and distinguished numerous times, if you Shepardize it, and the Applewood case is the leading case, and it also is from the Fifth Circuit, that describes and cabins the effects of Shoaf. And in Applewood, what happened is a bankruptcy confirmation order became final with releases in it, and the court held that exculpatory orders in a final order from the Bankruptcy Court do not have res judicata effect and do not release claims unless those claims are enumerated in the exculpatory order. And --

THE COURT: Okay. So it was about specificity more than anything else, right?

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor. It was a --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: -- a blanket release, a blanket --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: -- exculpatory order that didn't specify what claims were released by what parties, and therefore the parties didn't have the requisite notice.

In my mind, Your Honor, it's comparable to the Texas

Supreme Court's holdings on what's required in a settlement release in terms of a disclaimer of reliance, --

THE COURT: Okay. But, again, --

MR. BRIDGES: -- that if you aren't --

THE COURT: -- it's about specificity --

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- more than anything else? And then we've got the U.S. Supreme Court Espinosa case subsequent.

MR. BRIDGES: Okay. Your Honor, I'm not sure what Espinosa you're referring to. Can you tell me why that applies?

THE COURT: Well, it was a confirmation order. It was in a Chapter 13 context. And there were provisions that operated to discharge student loan debt, --

MR. BRIDGES: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: -- which, of course, cannot be discharged without a 523 action, a separate adversary proceeding. Nevertheless, the confirmation order operated to do what 523 suggests you cannot do, discharge student loan debt through a plan confirmation order.

The U.S. Supreme Court says, well, that's unfortunate that the confirmation order did something which it doesn't look like you can do, but no one ever objected or appealed. That's my recollection of Espinosa. So it seems to be the same holding as Republic Supply v. Shoaf. And what I -- why I asked you to elaborate on Applewood is because it does seem to deal with the specificity of the order versus the enforceability, no?

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, if it's not obvious already, I'm not prepared to argue Espinosa. And your explanation of it is very helpful to me. I think you're right that the specificity issue from Applewood is what we're relying on. And it sounds like --

THE COURT: Okay. So, that being the case, how was this order not specific? Okay?

MR. BRIDGES: That's easy, Your Honor, because it doesn't say which parties are releasing which claims. And what we're talking specifically about there -- as we go through the order, I can show you the language -- but what we're talking about specifically are the ordinary negligence and breach of fiduciary duty claims that your order doesn't provide for at all. Rather, it says colorability of gross negligence or willful wrongdoing, if I remember the words precisely, that's what must be shown to pursue a case -- a cause of action against Mr. Seery, thereby -- thereby indicating that claims for mere negligence, not gross negligence, or breach of fiduciary duty, which is an even lesser standard, that those claims are prohibited entirely.

And by having that kind of general all-encompassing release or exculpation for potential liability involving negligence, and most importantly, fiduciary duty breach under the Advisers Act, that that kind of exculpation under Applewood is not enforceable and has no res judicata effect because it wasn't -- those claims weren't enumerated in the order.

That for it to have the intended exculpatory effect, if that was what was intended, that the fiduciary duty claims and the parties who those claims may belong to would have to have been enumerated.

And indeed, that kind of specificity, what was required in Applewood, isn't even possible for a claim that hasn't yet occurred for future conduct. It's not possible to enumerate the details, any details, of a future claim, because the underlying act -- if the underlying basis, facts for that claim, haven't yet happened. It's something to happen in the future.

And here, that's what we're dealing with. We're dealing with conduct that took place well after the January and July 2020 orders that had that exculpatory effect. Is -- is that clear?

THE COURT: Understood.

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor. So, the four areas of the order, the four functions that the order does that are problematic to us that led us to do what we have done are the gatekeeping function; the release; the fact that by stating sole jurisdiction, that it had a jurisdiction-stripping effect; and then, finally, jurisdiction asserting, where, respectfully, Your Honor, we think to some extent the order goes beyond what this Court's jurisdiction is. And so that not only claiming exclusive jurisdiction, but claiming jurisdiction over all actions against Mr. Seery, as described in the order, is going too far.

And those are the four issues I want to talk about one at a time, and here -- I went two screens instead of one. There we go. And here's the order. I have numbered the highlights here out of sequence because this is the sequence that I wish to talk about them and that I think their significance to our decision applies.

Before we get into the words of this July 16, 2020 order, I want to mention the January order as well. Although the motion for contempt recites both orders, we don't actually think the January order applies to us, because our lawsuit against Mr. Seery is not about his role as a director at Strand in any way. We didn't make an issue of that, other than in a footnote in our brief, because we don't think that distinction matters much since the orders essentially say the same things.

I'm not sure that it matters whether we have potentially violated one order or two. If Your Honor finds we've violated one, I think we're on the hook regardless. If Your Honor finds that we didn't violate the July order, I don't think you will find that we violated the January order, either. So my focus is on the July order.

The gatekeeping function comes from the preliminary language about commencing or pursuing a claim or cause of action against Mr. Seery. And it says what you want us to do first before bringing such a claim.

The second issue of the release comes a little bit later. It's the colorable claim of willful misconduct or gross negligence language. In other words, because only claims of willful misconduct or gross negligence can pass the bar, can pass muster under this order, that lesser claims -- ordinary negligence and breach of fiduciary duty -- that those claims are released by this order. That's the second argument.

Third is your reference to sole jurisdiction and the effect that that has of attempting to say that other courts, courts of original jurisdiction, do not have jurisdiction because it solely resides here. That's the third thing I want to address.

And then the fourth is the notion that we have to come to this Court first for any action that fits the description of an action against Mr. Seery, when some actions are, through acts of Congress, removed from what this Court has the power to address. Under 157(d) of Title 28, Your Honor, there are some kinds of actions which withdrawal of the reference is mandatory, and therefore this court lacks jurisdiction to address those.

And so those are the four issues I want to tackle, starting with the first, the gatekeeping. Your Honor, Section 28 -- Section 959 of Title 28 appears to be precisely on point. It calls -- it is called by some courts an exception to the Barton Doctrine, which we believe is the only basis, the Barton Doctrine, for this Court to claim that it has jurisdiction or sole jurisdiction and can require us to come here first. We think the Barton Doctrine is the only basis for that. We haven't seen anything in the briefing from opposing counsel indicating there was another basis for it. We think we're talking about the Barton Doctrine here as the basis for that.

959 is exception to the Barton Doctrine, and we think it explicitly authorizes what we have done.

Secondly, Your Honor, the order, the gatekeeping functions of the order are too broad because of its incorporation of the jurisdictional problems and the release problem that we'll talk about later. But for problem number one, the key issue that we're talking about is 959 as an exception to the Barton Doctrine. And I went the wrong way.

THE COURT: So, we could go down a lot of rabbit trails today, and I'm going to try not to do that, but are you saying the very common practice of having gatekeeping provisions in Chapter 11 cases is just defective law under 28 U.S.C. § 959(a)?

MR. BRIDGES: Can I say yes and no?

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, to some extent, for some claims. No as to other claims to another extent. We are not saying gatekeeping orders are altogether wrong, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: -- no.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: There are problems with gatekeeping orders that do more than what the law, Section 959 in particular, allows them to do.

THE COURT: Okay. Be more explicit. I'm not -- I think you're saying, no, except when certain situations exist, but I don't know what the certain situations are.

MR. BRIDGES: And Your Honor, you're exactly right. It's complicated, and it takes a long explanation. Let me start --

THE COURT: Okay. I really want to know, --

MR. BRIDGES: Yeah, me, too.

THE COURT: -- since I do these all the time, and most of my colleagues do.

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor. And 959 is on the screen. Managers of any property --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: -- is what we're talking about, including debtors in possession. Now, it starts off by saying trustees, receivers. I mean, this is exactly what the Barton Doctrine is about, right? We're talking about trustees and receivers, but not just them. We're also talking about managers of any property, including debtors in possession, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: -- may be sued without leave of the court appointing that. That's contrary to the Barton Doctrine so far.

With respect to what I've numbered five here -- these numbers are mine -- the quote is directly verbatim out of the U.S. Code, but the numbering one through five is mine. With respect to what acts or transactions in carrying on business connected with such property.

And so, Your Honor, what we're talking about isn't Barton Doctrine is inapplicable, or you can't have a gatekeeping order for any claims, but it's about managers of property. And one of the hornbook examples of this is the grocery store that files for bankruptcy and then, when --

THE COURT: Slip-and-fall.

MR. BRIDGES: You've got it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. BRIDGES: And because they're managing property,

--

THE COURT: So your cause of action, if it went forward, is the equivalent of a slip-and-fall --

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- in a grocery store?

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me skip ahead. What about the last sentence of 959(a)?

MR. BRIDGES: 959(b)? Or 959(a)?

THE COURT: No, of 959(a).

MR. BRIDGES: What we're looking at here?

THE COURT: That's the sentence that I have always thought was one justification for a gatekeeper provision. And I know, you know, a lot of others feel the same.

MR. BRIDGES: Are we talking about what I have listed in number five here?

THE COURT: No. I'm talking about the last sentence of 959(a). Such actions, okay, shall be subject to the general equity power of such court, you know, meaning the Bankruptcy Court, so far as the same may be necessary to the ends of justice, but this shall not deprive a litigant of his right to a trial by jury.

Isn't that one of the provisions that lawyers sometimes rely on in arguing a gatekeeper provision is appropriate?

MR. BRIDGES: Certain --

THE COURT: You, Bankruptcy Judge, have the power, the general equity power, so far as the same may be necessary to the ends of justice?

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, you bet. Absolutely, there is equitable power to do more. There's no doubt that there are reliance -- there is reliance on that in many instances. So I'm not sure -- I'm not sure I'm responding to your point.

THE COURT: Well, again, I think this is the third or fourth argument down the line that really you start with in the analytical framework here, but I guess I'm just saying I always thought a gatekeeping provision was consistent, entirely consistent with 28 U.S.C. § 959(a), the last sentence.

MR. BRIDGES: When you're dealing --

THE COURT: You disagree with that?

MR. BRIDGES: I do, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: And it's not that the Court lacks equitable powers to do more. It's that those equitable powers are affected by when management of other parties, third parties' property is at issue.

What we're talking about is similar to yesterday's contempt order. When you set the basis of describing what it is that Highland's business is, that they're a registered investment advisor in the business of buying, selling, and managing assets -- assets, of course, are property, and that property is not just Highland's, but it's third-party property, as if a railroad loses luggage belonging to its customers. Rather than the railroad with a trustee appointed having mismanaged railroad property, we're talking about third-party property here, third-party property that belongs to the CLOs, about a billion dollars of assets in these CLO SPEs that Highland manages.

And again, the slide that Mr. Sbaiti showed you showing Highland, yes, they manage their own assets, the assets of the Debtor, but also of the third parties, including the Charitable DAF and CLO Holdco, and that the Advisers Act imposes fiduciary duties on them that are unwaivable when they're doing that.

In Anderson, the Fifth Circuit called 959 an exception to the rule requiring court's permission for leave to sue. In Hoffman v. City of San Diego much more recently, relying on this statute again, the court rejected a Barton challenge and called it a statutory exception. And in Barton itself, from a century ago, the U.S. Supreme Court even acknowledged there that where a receiver misappropriated the property of another -- not the debtor's property, the property of another -- that the receiver could still be sued personally, without leave of court.

Absent Barton, absent applicability of the Barton

Doctrine, Your Honor, the gatekeeper order is problematic.

Barton applies where a court has appointed a trustee, and I don't think, Your Honor, under the circumstances in this case, that it is fair to say Mr. Seery was appointed, as opposed to approved by this Court. And it involves a trustee's actions under the powers conferred on him. The Barton Doctrine is not about a broader exculpation of the trustee.

Here, what the Debtor asked for in its motion for approval, approval of hiring Mr. Seery, what it asked for specifically in the motion was that the Court not interfere with corporate decisions absent a showing of bad faith, self-interest, or gross negligence, and asking the Court to uphold the board's decision to appoint Mr. Seery as the CEO as long as they are attributable to any rationale business purpose.

At the hearing, Your Honor, at the hearing, we've quoted your comments saying that the evidence amply shows a sound business justification and reasonable business judgment on the part of the Debtor in proposing that Mr. Seery be CEO and CRO. Your Honor, respectfully, those words don't sound like the judge using its discretion to choose -- appoint a trustee. They sound like the Court exercising deference to the business judgment of a business. And appropriately so. We don't have trouble with application of the business judgment rule. Our problem is with application of it and the Barton Doctrine.

Those two do not go together. A trustee has protection because it's acting under color of the court that appointed it. A court that merely deferred to someone else's appointment, that's not what the Barton Doctrine is about. The Barton Doctrine is about the court's function that the trustee takes on, not deference to the business judgment of the debtor in possession or the other fiduciary appointed by the court.

Problem one was the gatekeeping. Problem two is about the release and the Applewood case. Your Honor, again, ordinary negligence and ordinary fiduciary duty breaches do not rise to the level of gross negligence and willful misconduct. And because of that, the language of this order appears to be barring them entirely. No entity may bring a lawsuit against Mr. Seery in certain circumstances without the Bankruptcy Court doing what? Determining that the cause of action represents a colorable claim of willful misconduct or gross negligence against Mr. Seery.

A breach of fiduciary duty under the Advisers Act can be unintentional, it can fall short of gross negligence by miles, and to exculpate Mr. Seery from those kinds of claims entirely is to make him no longer a fiduciary. A fiduciary duty that is unenforceable makes someone not a fiduciary. That's plainly not what Mr. Seery thinks his role is. It's inconsistent with the Advisers Act. And Your Honor, the notion that he would not owe his clients fiduciary duties as he manages their assets would require disclosures under the SEC regulations. It creates all kinds of problems to state that a fiduciary under the Advisers Act does not have enforceable fiduciary duties. The order appears to be releasing all of those. But for Applewood's specificity requirement, it would be doing that.

As an asset manager under the Advisers Act, Mr. Seery is managing assets belonging to CLO Holdco and The Charitable DAF. That's precisely what the District Court action is about, those fiduciary duties. And Mr. Seery, in describing these recently in testimony here -- forgive me for reading through this, Your Honor, but it is pretty short -- Mr. Seery testifies, I think, from a high level, the best way to think about the Debtor is that it's a registered investment advisor. As a registered investment advisor, which is really any advisor of third-party money over $25 million, it has to register with the SEC and it manages funds in many different ways. The Debtor manages approximately $200 million current values -- it was more than that of the start of the case -- of its own assets.

I'm pausing there, Your Honor. $200 million of its own assets, but we're about to talk about third-party assets.

It doesn't have to be a registered investment advisor for those assets, but it does manage its own assets, which include directly-owned securities, loans, from mostly related entities but not all, and investments in certain funds, which it also manages.

And then here it comes: In addition, the manager -- the Debtor manages about roughly $2 billion, $2 billion in total managed assets, around $2 billion in CLO assets, and then other entities, which are hedge funds or PE style.

We also had to get a very good understanding of each of the funds that we manage. And as I said, the Investment Advisers Act puts a fiduciary duty on Highland Capital to discharge its duty to the investors. So while we have duties to the estate, we also have duties, as I mentioned in my last testimony, to each of the investors in the funds.

Now, some of them are related parties, and those are a little bit easier. Some of them are owned by Highland. But there are third-party investors in these funds who have no relation whatsoever to Highland, and we owe them a fiduciary duty both to manage their assets prudently but also to seek to manage -- maximize value.

Those duties do not require -- requires the opposite of what I mean. They don't merely require avoiding gross negligence or willful wrongdoing. When you're managing assets of others, the fiduciary duties that you owe are far stricter than that. The highest duty known to law is a fiduciary duty.

The order is inconsistent with that testimony, acknowledging the fiduciary duties owed to The Charitable DAF and to CLO Holdco. It appears to release the Debtor -- maybe not the Debtor. My slide may be wrong about that. It appears to release Seery from having to uphold these duties.

In addition to problems with the gatekeeping under the Barton Doctrine, in addition to the release problem and Applewood and the unwaivable fiduciary duties under the Advisers Act, there's also a problem with telling other courts that they lack jurisdiction. Your Honor knows bankruptcy court law -- bankruptcy -- and the Bankruptcy Code far better than I do, I'm certain. But a first principle, I believe, of bankruptcy law is that this Court's jurisdiction is derivative of the District Court's. And the only doctrine I've heard of that can allow this Court to exercise exclusive jurisdiction of the District Court that it sits in is the Barton Doctrine, which, again, is very problematic to apply in this case, for the reasons we've discussed already.

By claiming to have -- by stating in the order that this Court has sole jurisdiction, it appears to either be inclusive of the District Court, which I understand Your Honor doesn't think her order can be read that way, but if it's not read that way, then it results in telling the District Court that it doesn't have the original jurisdiction that Congress has given it. And that's problematic in the order as well.

THE COURT: Let me ask you. If you think the word

"power" had been used, or "authority," versus "jurisdiction," that would have cured it?

MR. BRIDGES: I think there would still have been other problems. Would it have cured this? I don't think so, Your Honor, because, again, I think the only basis for that power is the Barton Doctrine.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: To listen to opposing counsel, you'd think that our jurisdictional argument was entirely about the jurisdiction stripping. It's not. Frankly, Your Honor, that's maybe even a lesser point. A key problem here to is the assertion of jurisdiction, not over any of the claims, but over all of the claims, because of 157(d), Your Honor, because some claims, some causes of action, have been put outside the reach of bankruptcy, the Bankruptcy Court, and those actions may in some instances fit within your description of the cases that are precluded here.

That's a problem jurisdictionally with this Court's ability to say it retains jurisdiction or that it has, that it asserts jurisdiction. Over what? Any kind of claim or cause of action against Mr. Seery relating in any way to his role as the chief executive officer and chief restructuring officer of the Debtor.

Some claims that fit into that bucket also fit into the description in 157(d) of cases that require both consideration of bankruptcy law and federal laws affecting interstate commerce or regulating it. Right? Some cases must fall into -- under 157(d), despite having something to do with Mr. Seery's role as a chief executive officer. And Your Honor, the Advisers Act fiduciary duty claims asserted by Respondents in the District Court are such claims. They cannot be decided without considering the Advisers Act.

There are also RICO claims that, of course, require consideration of the RICO statute. But the Advisers Act claims absolutely require consideration of both bankruptcy law and this Court's order exonerating -- exculpating Mr. Seery from some liability, in addition to the unwaivable fiduciary duties imposed by the Advisers Act.

The assertion of jurisdiction here blanketed, in a blanket manner, over all claims against Mr. Seery in any way related to his CEO role is a 157(d) problem that the order has no -- has no solution for and we see no way around. 157(d) requires withdrawal of the reference, makes it mandatory, when a case requires considerations of federal law implicating interstate commerce.

Your Honor, we think we had to do it the way we did, filing in the District Court instead of filing here, in order to preserve our jurisdictional arguments. To come to this Court with a motion and then what? Immediately file a motion to withdraw the reference on our own motion here? To come here and ask for a decision on colorability, when first colorability would exclude the claims that we're trying to bring, at least some of them, the mere negligence, mere fiduciary duty breaches, because they don't rise to the level necessarily of gross negligence or willful wrongdoing.

Your Honor, coming here and asking this Court to rule on that may well have waived our jurisdictional objections. Coming here to this Court and doing that and immediately filing a motion --

THE COURT: I don't get it.

MR. BRIDGES: The ordinary --

THE COURT: Subject matter jurisdiction, if it's a problem, it's not waivable.

MR. BRIDGES: The ordinary issue -- the ordinary waiver rule, Your Honor, is that when you come and ask for a court to rule on something, that you waive your right to -- to later -- you're estopped judicially from taking the contrary position.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, again, I don't get it. If you filed your motion and I ruled in a way you didn't like, you would appeal to the District Court.

MR. BRIDGES: Yes, Your Honor. An appeal to the District Court, we would be entitled to do. I understand, no matter what happens here, we can appeal to the District Court. That's different from whether or not, by coming here first, have we waived or have we created an estoppel situation, in terms of arguing jurisdiction.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: Because of the problems with the order, we thought we were in a situation where coming here would waive rights that we could avoid waiving by asking in the District Court.

In other words, there was a jurisdictional paradox: How does a party ask a court to do something it believes the court lacks the power to do? That's the spot we found ourselves in. What were we supposed to do?

Your Honor, it is definitely a complex case. And coming into this matter with over 2,000 filings on the docket before I had ever heard of Highland was a very daunting thing, coming into this case. And whether or not there's something that we missed is certainly possible, but these orders that are the subject of the contempt motion, these orders are not things that we overlooked. These are things that we studied carefully, that we did not ignore or have disdain for, but that affected and changed our actions.

And in the Slide #3 from Mr. Morris's -- from Mr. Morris's presentation, in his third slide, he quotes from the first page of our motion for leave, the motion that he says exhibits our contemptuous behavior.

The second paragraph is kind of tiny print there, Your Honor, and it's not highlighted, but I'd like to read it. Seery is not named in the original complaint, but this is only out of an abundance of caution due to the Bankruptcy Court in HCM's pending Chapter 11 proceeding having issued an order prohibiting the filing of any causes of action against Seery in any way related to his role at HCM, subject to certain prerequisites. In that order, the Bankruptcy Court also asserts sole jurisdiction over all such causes of action.

Your Honor, our intent was not to violate the order. Our intent was to be cautious about how we proceeded, to fully disclose what we were doing, and to do it in a District Court that absolutely could refer the matter here to this Court for a decision, but to do it in a way that didn't waive our jurisdictional arguments, that didn't waive our arguments regarding the release of the very claims we were trying to bring, by first having to prove that they were colorful claims of willful misconduct or gross negligence, when we were trying to assert claims that weren't willful negligence or gross -- gross negligence or willful misconduct. That was what I was trying to say.

Your Honor, this was not disregard of your order. If we're wrong on the law, we're wrong on the law, but it's not that we disregarded your order or lacked respect for it. We disclosed it.

Mr. Morris has argued in the briefs that we attempted to do this on an ex parte basis. Your Honor, we did not attempt to do this on an ex parte basis. And if there are errors, they probably are mine. I know one error is mine. On the civil cover sheet in the filing in the District Court, I noted and passed on that we should check the box for related case and list this case on there. I did not follow up to make sure that it happened, and administratively, it didn't happen. We did not check the box on the civil cover sheet. Mr. Morris is correct that we failed to do that. He's incorrect that that was sneaky or intentional. It was my error, having noticed it but not followed up.

Your Honor, similarly, the argument that we didn't serve them with the motion I think is disingenuous. What happened, Your Honor, is that counsel for the Debtor had agreed to accept service of the complaint itself against the Debtor before the motion for leave, and after accepting service, I was under the impression that they'd be monitoring the docket, especially when I emailed them, informed them that we were filing the motion for leave to amend, because I was required to submit a certificate of conference on that motion. I informed them in a polite email. The polite email is not quoted in their brief. It is included in the record, and it's quoted in full in our brief.

The email exchange indicates to them, Thank you for pointing out the Court's orders. We've carefully studied them and we don't think what we're doing is a violation of those orders.

That we didn't serve them is because we thought they already knew that the motion was coming and would be monitoring the docket, and we didn't know which lawyers they were going to have make an appearance in that case, so we wouldn't have known who to serve. But if not serving them -- first, the Rules do not require that service. But if not serving them out of politeness --

THE COURT: Mr. Morris is standing up. Did --

MR. MORRIS: I move to strike all of this, Your Honor. If Counsel wants to take the stand and raise his hand, he should testify under oath. I'm just going to leave it at that. He's not on their witness list.

THE COURT: All right. I overrule. You can continue.

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor.

If failure to serve them was an error, it was mine. I know of no rule that requires it.

THE COURT: Can I ask you, you were talking about the cover sheet mistake in not checking the box. What about your jurisdictional statement in the actual complaint not mentioning 28 U.S.C. § 1334 as a possible basis for subject matter jurisdiction? Do you think that was a mistake as well, or was that purposeful, not necessary?

MR. BRIDGES: Candidly, Your Honor, standing here right now, I have no recollection whatsoever of it.

THE COURT: You mention 28 U.S.C. § 1331, and then 1367 supplemental jurisdiction, but you don't mention 1334.

MR. BRIDGES: I suspect it's true, but Mr. Sbaiti would have written that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: I have no recollection of --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: -- making any decision at all --

THE COURT: All right.

MR. BRIDGES: -- with regards to that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, you've been very patient with a very long opening argument, and I'm very grateful for that. Please know that we take this Court's order seriously. We voluntarily appeared here before the Court ordered us to do so by filing our motion asking for a modification of the order we're accused now of having been in violation of.

And the last thing I'd like to say, Your Honor, Mr. Morris's brief claims that the first he knew of the motion, the motion seeking leave to add Mr. Seery to the District Court claim, the first he knew of that was when Mr. Sbaiti forwarded him the District Court's order dismissing that motion, denying that motion without prejudice.

Your Honor, in a civil contempt proceeding, where the issue is compensating, not punishing, if the aggrieved party didn't even know about the action until it had been denied by the District Court, we submit that there can be no harm from that having taken place.

That's all I have for opening. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

Before we give you a time check, do we have other opening statements?

MR. ANDERSON: Yes. Yes, Your Honor. Michael Anderson on behalf of Mr. Patrick. If we need to take a break, that's fine, too.

THE COURT: Well, how long do you plan to use?

MR. ANDERSON: No more than ten minutes, for sure.

THE COURT: Let's go ahead and do that, and then we'll take a break.

MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, after, I would ask the opportunity to respond to Mr. Bridges' argument. Probably another ten minutes.

THE COURT: All right. Let's go ahead and take a ten-minute break. And Mr. Taylor, you're going to have something, because you --

MR. TAYLOR: Five.

THE COURT: Okay. We'll take a ten-minute break. And Nate, can you give them a time?

THE CLERK: I'm showing it was about 59-1/2 minutes.

THE COURT: Fifty-nine and a half? And is that subtracting some for my questioning?

THE CLERK: I stopped whenever you talked, maybe a little over --

THE COURT: Okay. So he stopped it whenever I asked questions and you answered, so 59 minutes has been used by the Respondents.

All right. We'll take a ten-minute break. We'll come back at 11:35.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 11:25 a.m. to 11:37 a.m.)

THE COURT: All right. We're going back on the record in the Highland matter. We have further opening statements. Counsel, you may proceed.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF MARK PATRICK, RESPONDENT

MR. ANDERSON: Thank you. May it please the Court, Counsel. Michael Anderson on behalf of Respondent, Mark Patrick.

Your Honor, after listening to this and looking at the filings in this case, this issue of whether there's contempt -- and I would argue there's not -- is ripe for decision. We have no real undisputed facts for purposes of the contempt issue. We have your Court's July order, the subject of Mr. Bridge's arguments. We have the Plaintiffs in the underlying lawsuit at issue. They commenced the lawsuit in April of this year. There's absolutely nothing improper about that filing. It's not subject to the contempt. A week later, there is a motion for leave to add Mr. Seery. That's the issue. There's no dispute over that. There's no dispute that Mr. Patrick authorized the filing of the motion for leave.

And so then the question becomes we look at the Court's July order, did a motion for leave, did that violate the terms of the order? The motion for leave is not commencing a lawsuit. It's also not pursuing a claim, because whether or not the Court grants the motion, denies the motion, or whatever the Court does, nothing happened, because the day after the motion for leave was filed it was dismissed sua sponte without prejudice because not all parties had been served in the case.

It was permission asked one day. The matter was mooted the following day by the District Court. And so that is completely undisputed.

And so the question is, is asking permission, is that commence? I think everybody says there's no way that's commencing a lawsuit because you have asked permission. The question, then, is it pursuing a claim? And the argument, well, no, that's not pursuing a claim; it's asking permission.

And I think it's also important to note that when the motion for leave was filed, there were no secrets there. I mean, I'm coming in this after the fact, representing Mr. Patrick. You look at a motion for leave, and right there on Page 1 it talks about Your Honor's order. Page 2, it quotes the order and it gives the reasons, there's arguments being made as to why that order doesn't bar adding Mr. Seery as a defendant in the lawsuit, many of the arguments that Mr. Bridges made.

So that's where we are. And so when I hear, hey, we've got six hours, three hours and three hours, and we're going to split this up, you know, maybe too simplistic from Fort Worth, but I'm like, wait a second, this is all undisputed. It's totally undisputed. The -- whether or not the prior order is enforceable or not enforceable, those are all legal arguments. You know, no witnesses are necessary for that. And as I understood, right before we broke, counsel stood up and he's going to do what generally doesn't happen in opening statements, which is respond to opening statements, which shows that that's a legal issue.

And so it really does come down to undisputed facts. There's no testimony. No -- nothing is necessary. And a lot of what this comes down to is the old statement, you know, is it better to ask forgiveness or permission? And usually that statement comes up when somebody has already done something: Hey, I'm going to go do it anyway and I'll ask for forgiveness later. Well, what the Plaintiffs in the underlying case did was ask permission. Motion for leave. That is not contemptuous. And there's literally no damages. As was pointed out, by the time counsel found out, it had already been dismissed.

The last thing I want to point out, Your Honor, is that the argument from opposing counsel was, well, under Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, since parties hadn't answered yet, the Plaintiffs in the underlying case could have just simply added Mr. Seery as a defendant and moved on that way, but then that would be another ball of wax and then we would be addressing issues as far as whether or not there is a violation of the Court's order, notwithstanding Mr. Bridge's arguments. But then we would have those issues. But that's not what happened. Everybody knows that's not what happened. It was a motion for leave that was resolved the following day.

And so, Your Honor, for those reasons, and those undisputed reasons, we would request that the Court at the end of this hearing deny the request for sanctions and a contempt finding against our client, Mr. Patrick.

Mr. Phillips is going to address one brief issue bankruptcy-wise I believe that was raised earlier.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Phillips?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, thank you very much. Louis M. Phillips on behalf of Mark Patrick.

The only thing that I would point out, Your Honor, and I'm going to do -- try to simplistically, because that's about the level at which I operate, boil down the questions about the order.

This order was an employment order. The problem that Mr. Bridges has elucidated to Your Honor is that the precise effect, one of the precise effects of that order is to bar the claims of third parties that arise into the future on the basis of the employment of Mr. Seery, because the order required that all claims asserting gross negligence or willful misconduct need to be brought before you to determine that they're colorable.

One question I have is, does it apply to the lawsuit that was filed? Doesn't apply unless the effect of the order was to release those claims and preclude any party from bringing those claims at all. And while you can say correctly that this Court issues gatekeeper orders all of the time, one thing I cannot imagine that you would say is that in employment orders you release claims of third parties existing and as may arise in the future that could be brought against the party employed to be a CRO of a debtor, who, by his own testimony, says we do all kinds of stuff in the billions of dollars for third parties that we owe fiduciary duties to.

There's no way, Your Honor, that you were considering your July order to bar third-party claims arising from breach of fiduciary duties by Mr. Seery to third parties who held third-party claims that did not involve some assertion that, in his capacity as CRO, he was in some way acting within the scope of his authority as CRO for the Debtor and yet committed negligence against the Debtor.

Now, if the order was asserting that you know what a lot of people in this courtroom know, that the standard of liability for a CRO doing work for a debtor, just like the standard of liability for the president of a corporation or an officer of the corporation, is as long as you're within the course and scope of your employment, your actions for the corporation have -- can -- the corporation takes care of you because there's no personal claim unless you're outside the scope, and you're outside the scope if you commit gross negligence or willful misconduct.

That, if you're restating the standard of care and standard of liability for a CRO, we have no problem with that, because Mr. Patrick did not authorize a cause of action arising against Mr. Seery against the Debtors for damage to the Debtors. He authorized the filing of a complaint in the District Court with jurisdiction for a third-party claim for breach of a fiduciary duty to a third party that Mr. Seery admits he owes, and then sought leave because they didn't understand the order that Your Honor issued. It couldn't have been to release the breach of fiduciary duty claims that wouldn't rise to gross negligence or willful misconduct, it couldn't be that, but it might be. But if it did, under an employment order? That's very different from Espinosa, that's very different from Shoaf, when you're at the end of a case in a confirmation of a plan and you're talking about matters arising in the past.

This order, if it has the effect it could be read to have, precludes any third party from asserting a breach of fiduciary duty against Seery for actions that violate the duty to that third party, when Seery's biggest job, it looks to us like, is running third-party money. That could not have been what Your Honor was thinking.

And so all I'm pointing out is I'm trying to distill down. The lawsuit doesn't involve gross negligence or willful misconduct allegations. It involves breach of fiduciary duty, breach of the Advisers Act, et cetera, et cetera. Mr. Patrick authorized that lawsuit.

Now, what we're here for today is to determine whether the complaint, which was not against the Debtor -- which was not against Seery, the motion for leave, which did not -- all they did was ask for permission, not forgiveness. And we can't understand how the Debtor should be saying, all they had to do was amend. Well, if they amended, would we be in hotter water than we are today for asking for permission to sue? I think we would have been, that should have been the prescribed course, when we are more concerned and we are more risk-averse by asking for leave rather than just amending by right. Absolutely, that makes no sense. We can't be held to be more contemptuous because we asked for permission, when we could have just sued him, because they're saying asking for permission was wrong. Certainly, suing him would have been wrong. That would have been easier.

THE COURT: But Mr. Phillips, the issue is you all didn't come to the Bankruptcy Court and ask permission.

MR. PHILLIPS: Look at your order, Your Honor.

THE COURT: It's right in front of me.

MR. PHILLIPS: Right. That order either doesn't apply to the claims that were brought or it released the claims that were brought. That's our point. It couldn't have released them. Does it apply to them? Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Taylor?

MR. TAYLOR: Good morning.

THE COURT: Good morning.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF JAMES DONDERO

MR. TAYLOR: Your Honor, Clay Taylor on behalf of Jim Dondero. I'll be very brief because I know we've already spent a lot of time on opening argument. But I do think it is appropriate to, one, first look at who brought the lawsuit, CLO Holdco & DAF. That was authorized -- it's undisputed it was authorized by Mr. Patrick. There is no dispute about that. There's no dispute who the Plaintiffs are. But yet my client is up here as an alleged violator.

I think it's very clear, as all the parties have said, there's no dispute as to there's an order, there was a complaint, and there was a motion for leave.

It seems to me that the rest of the evidentiary hearing that you may be about to go through is going to be about pin the blame on Mr. Dondero. It is undisputed that he is not a control person for the DAF or CLO Holdco. The only type of evidence you will hear is going to be insinuation that he somehow controls Mr. Patrick and used to control Mr. Scott. There will be no direct evidence that he authorized this or that he's the control person and the proper corporate authorized representative that signed off on the --

It seems to me, Your Honor, first of all, that's a discrete issue that should be able to be decided separately from this, and the first gating issue is, was there indeed a violation of this Court's order? It would seem to me that there is no disputes about those facts and that we should bifurcate that, and if you then find that there is a violation and find that there is any even need to move into who the alleged violators are, that then we could have that evidentiary portion. But there is no reason to do that now before there's even been found to be a violation.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

All right. Well, someone made the point rebuttals in opening statements are not very common, --

MR. POMERANTZ: Your -- Your --

THE COURT: -- but you can use your three hours however you want.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, I didn't intend to stand up.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. POMERANTZ: I also didn't intend to have the motion to modify the sealing order presented to Your Honor, which it was in the course of that opening argument. And despite your comments at the beginning of the hearing, the Movants have taken Your Honor down a series of rabbit holes that have really no relevance to the contempt motion. And notwithstanding, as I said, your ruling that basically the contempt would go first and the modification would go second, there they were, persistent in making all the arguments why this Court should modify the order.

They're just really trying to obfuscate the simple issue that Mr. Morris presented and raised at the beginning of the hearing: Did they violate the order by pursuing a claim? We think the answer is undoubtedly yes.

I'm not going to try to address each of the issues they raised in connection with the modification motion in detail. I have a lengthy presentation. I'll do it at the appropriate time. But there are a few issues I want to address. I want to address one of the last points Mr. Bridges raised first. If they thought that the order was a problem, they could have filed their motion to modify that order before Your Honor. They could have had that heard first. There was no statute of limitations issue in connection with the HarbourVest matter. They could have come to Your Honor to do that. But no, they didn't. They went to the District Court first, and it was only after we filed our contempt motion that they came back and said, well, Your Honor, you should modify the order. Their argument that if they did that there would have been waiver and estoppel is just an after-the-fact justification for what they did and what they tried to do, which was unsuccessful. They tried to have the District Court make the decision.

And why? Your Honor, they've filed motions to recuse before Your Honor. They -- they -- it's no secret the disdain they have for Your Honor's rulings as it relates to them. They wanted to be out of this courtroom and in another courtroom.

And their belated argument, Mr. Bridges falling on the sword, that they failed to check the box, inadvertent, it's on me, it's very curious. Because if they had done so and had referred to the correct 1334 jurisdictional predicate, as Your Honor had mentioned, the complaint would have been referred to this Court and the entire trajectory of the proceedings would have been different. They would have had the opportunity to take their shot to go to District Court and argue that your order didn't apply.

Your Honor, they say the January 9th order is not relevant. It is entirely relevant. It covered the independent directors and their agents. Yes, Mr. Seery is an independent director, but he was also an agent of the independent directors and carried out the duties. You heard argument at the July 16th hearing that Mr. Seery had been acting as the chief executive officer for several months. And why is it important? Mr. Bridges said, well, if we violated one order, we violated the other. It's important because, Your Honor, number one, Mr. Dondero supported that order. We would never have had an independent board in this case if Mr. Dondero, the decision-making -- of the Debtor at that time, supported that order and supported the exculpations that are now claimed to have been invalid.

And also Your Honor heard testimony at the confirmation hearing that the independent directors would never have taken this job, would never have taken this job because of the potential for litigation, litigation that we've now had to endure for several months. So to come back 16 months later and say, well, you know, you couldn't really exculpate them, it's really an employment order: It was an employment order.

They know it. We know it. Your Honor knows it. It was a resolution of corporate governance issues that changed the whole trajectory of the case, and luckily it -- luckily, Your Honor approved it.

The question just is whether they violated the order, period. And I'll have a lot to say about res judicata, but I won't go in too much in detail, but I will just briefly address their arguments. They're correct and the Court is correct that there's a difference between Applewood and Shoaf. And Your Honor got the exact difference. In one case, a release was not specific, Applewood. In one case it was. Shoaf hasn't been discredited by Applewood. It was different facts. In fact, Shoaf relied on two Supreme Court cases, the Stoll case and the Chicot case, both for the propositions that a court that enters an order, a clear order, even if it didn't have jurisdiction, that cannot be attacked in res judicata. So here what we have is clear, unambiguous, you come to this Court before commencing or pursuing a claim. That's the clarity. The focus on the releases, that's not what we're here for today, that's not what we're here for on a contempt motion, on whether the release covered them or it didn't cover them. We're here on the clear issue of did they violate the language, and we submit that they did.

And similarly, Espinosa applies. Your Honor, just to quote some language, "Appellees could have moved to remand the action to state court after it improperly -- after its improper removal to the federal court or challenge the district court's exercise in jurisdiction on direct appeal. Because they did neither, they are now barred by principles of res judicata."

Res judicata actually does apply, and I will speak about it in much more detail in the modification motion.

With respect to Barton, Your Honor, we disagree with their argument that Mr. Seery is not a court-appointed agent. We've briefed it extensively in our motion to modify. Barton applies to debtors in possession. Barton applies to general partners of the debtor. Barton applies to chief restructuring orders -- officers who are approved by the debtor. And it applies to general counsel who are appointed by the chief restructuring order. Officer.

So the argument that Barton is somehow inapplicable is just wrong. Your Honor knows that. Your Honor has written extensively on Barton in connection with your Ondova opinion.

Some of the argument about 959 is all wrong, as well. Your Honor got it right that 959 applies to slip-and-fall cases or torts, injuries to parties that are strangers to this process. There is a legion of cases that I will cite to Your Honor in connection with argument. 959 does not apply here. There's nothing more core to this case than the transactions surrounding the resolution of the HarbourVest claims.

We also disagree, Your Honor, that the complaint is subject to mandatory withdrawal of the reference. We've -- one of our exhibits in the motion to modify is our motion to enforce the reference. We think Movants have it completely wrong. This is not the type of case that will be subject to withdrawal -- mandatory withdrawal of the reference, and in any event, for this contempt motion, it's irrelevant.

And they argue -- one of the other points Mr. Bridges raises is that, because this Court would not have had jurisdiction under 157 because of the mandatory withdrawal, then Your Honor could not legally act as a gatekeeper. But they haven't addressed Villegas v. Schmidt. We've raised it throughout this case. And again, in these series of pleadings, they don't even address it. And Villegas v. Schmidt was a Barton case. It was a Barton case where the -- where the argument was that Barton does not apply because it's a Stern claim and the Bankruptcy Court would not have jurisdiction. And Villegas said no, it does apply. And Your Honor even cited that in your Ondova case. And why does it apply? Because there's nothing inconsistent with a Bankruptcy Court having exclusive decision to make a Barton determination.

In fact, in that case Villegas said, you can't go to the District Court for that decision, it is the Bankruptcy Court's decision.

So, again, it's a red herring, Your Honor. Your Honor had the ability to act as an exclusive gatekeeper for these types of actions.

With that, Your Honor, I'll leave the rest of my argument for the next motion.

THE COURT: All right. Thanks.

All right. Nate, let's give everyone their time.

THE CLERK: That was just about eight and a half additional from the Debtor, and then altogether the other ones were just shy of fourteen minutes. Thirteen minutes and fifty seconds for the other three combined. Do you want me to --

THE COURT: Yes, I meant for Debtor combined versus --

THE CLERK: Oh. Oh.

THE COURT: Respondents combined.

THE CLERK: So that would be twenty one and a half the Debtor. Let me do the math on the other one. Be an hour twelve minutes and fifty seconds for --

THE COURT: Okay. All right. Got that? Debtors used a total of twenty one and a half minutes; Responders have used an hour twelve minutes and fifty seconds.

All right. Mr. Morris, you may call your first witness.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you very much, Your Honor. The Debtor calls Mark Patrick.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Patrick? Please approach our witness stand and I'll swear you in. Please raise your right hand.

(The witness is sworn.)

THE COURT: All right. Please take a seat.

MARK PATRICK, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Patrick.

A Good afternoon.

Q Can you hear me okay?

A Yes, I can.

Q Okay. You have before you several sets of binders. They're rather large. But when I deposed you on Friday, we did that virtually. Now, I may direct you specifically to one of the binders or one of the documents from time to time, so I just wanted you to know that those were in front of you and that I may be doing that.

Mr. Patrick, since March 1st, 2001 [sic], you've been employed by Highland Consultants, right?

A I believe the name is Highgate Consultants doing business as Skyview Group.

Q Okay. And that's an entity that was created by certain former Highland employees, correct?

A That is my understanding, correct.

Q And your understanding is that Mr. Dondero doesn't have an ownership interest in that entity, correct?

A That he does not. That is correct.
Q And your understanding is that he's not an employee of that -- of Skyview, correct?
A That is correct.
Q Prior to joining Skyview on March 1st, you had worked at Highland Capital Management, LP for about 13 years, correct?
A Correct.
Q Joining in, I believe, early 2008?
A Correct.
Q Okay. I'm going to refer to Highland Capital Management, LP from time to time as HCMLP. Is that okay?
A Yes.
Q While at HCMLP, you served as a tax counselor, correct?
A No, I would like to distinguish that. I did have the title tax counsel. However, essentially all my activities were in a non-lawyer capacity, being the client representative. I would engage other outside law firms to provide legal advice.
Q Okay. So you are an attorney, correct?
A Yes, I am.
Q But essentially everything you did at Highland during your 13 years was in a non-lawyer capacity, correct?
A Correct.
Q In fact, you didn't even work in the legal department; is that right?

A That is correct. I worked for the tax department.
Q Okay. Let's talk about how you became the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs. You are, in fact, authorized representative today of CLO Holdco, Ltd. and Charitable DAF, LP, correct?
A Charitable DAF Fund, LP. Correct.
Q And those are the two entities that filed the complaint in the United States District Court against the Debtor and two other entities, correct?
A Correct.
Q And may I refer to those two entities going forward as the Plaintiffs?
A Yes.
Q You became the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs on March 24th, 2021, the day you and Mr. Scott executed certain transfer documents, correct?
A Correct.
Q And you had no authority to act on behalf of either of the Plaintiffs before March 24th, correct?
A Correct.
Q The DAF controls about $200 million in assets, correct?
A The Plaintiffs, you mean? CLO Holdco and Charitable DAF Fund, LP.
Q Yes.

A Around there.
Q Okay. Let me try and just ask that again, and thank you for correcting me. To the best of your knowledge, the Plaintiffs control about $200 million in assets, correct?
A Net assets, correct.
Q Okay. And that asset base is derived largely from HCMLP, Mr. Dondero, or Mr. Dondero's trusts, correct?
A Can you restate that question again, Mr. Morris?
Q Sure. The asset base that you just referred to is derived largely from HCMLP, Mr. Dondero, or donor trusts?
A The way I would characterize it -- you're using the word derived. I would characterize it with respect to certain charitable donations --
Q Uh-huh.
A -- that were -- that were made at certain time periods, where the donors gave up complete dominion and control over the respective assets and at that time claimed a federal income tax deduction for that.

I do -- I do believe that, as far as the donor group, as you specified, Highland Capital Management, I recall, provided a donation to a Charitable Remainder Trust that eventually had expired and that eventually such assets went into the supporting organizations. And then I do believe Mr. Dondero also contributed to the Charitable Remainder Trust No. 2, which seeded substantial amounts of the original assets that were eventually composed of the $200 million. And then from time to time I do believe that Mr. Dondero's trusts made charitable donations to their respective supporting organizations.

Q Okay. Thank you.

A Is that responsive?

Q It is. It's very responsive. Thank you very much. So, to the best of your knowledge, the charitable donations that were made that form the bases of the assets came from those three -- primarily from those three sources, correct?

A Well, you know, there's two different trusts. There's the Dugaboy Trust and the Get Good Trust.

Q Okay.

A Then you have Mr. Dondero and Highland Capital Management. So I would say four sources.

Q Okay. All right. Thank you. Prior to assuming your role as the authorized representative of the Plaintiff, you had never had meaningful responsibility for making investment decisions, correct?

A I'm sorry. You kind of talk a little bit fast. Please slow it down --

Q That's okay.

A -- and restate it. Thank you.

Q And I appreciate that. And any time you don't understand what I'm saying or I speak too fast, please do exactly what you're doing. You're doing fine.

Prior to assuming your role as the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs, you never had any meaningful responsibility making investment decisions. Is that correct?

A To whom?

Q For anybody.

A Well, during my deposition, I believe I testified that I make investment decisions with respect to my family. Family and friends come to me and they ask me for investment decisions. I was -- in my deposition, I indicated to you that I was a board member of a nonprofit called the 500, Inc. They had received a donation of stock in Yahoo!, and the members there looked to me for financial guidance. As an undergrad at the University of Miami, I was a -- I was a finance major, and so I do have a variety of background with respect to investments.

Q Okay. So you told me that from time to time friends and family members come to you for investing advice. Is that right?

A That is correct.

Q And when you were a young lawyer you were on the board of a nonprofit that received a donation of Yahoo! stock and the board looked to you for guidance. Is that correct?

THE COURT: Just a moment. I think there's an objection.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. ANDERSON: So far -- relevance, Your Honor. This is way out of the bounds of the contempt proceeding. You know, what he did as a young person with Yahoo! stock. We're here to -- he authorized the lawsuit. They filed the lawsuit. That's it. Getting into all this peripheral stuff is completely irrelevant.

THE COURT: Your response?

MR. MORRIS: My response, Your Honor, is very simple. Mr. Patrick assumed responsibility, and you're going to be told that he exercised full and complete authority over a $200 million fund that was created by Mr. Dondero, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- that funds -- that is funded virtually by Mr. Dondero, and for which -- Mr. Patrick is a lovely man, and I don't mean to disparage him at all -- but he has no meaningful experience in investing at all.

THE COURT: All right. Counsel, I overrule. I think there's potential relevance.

And may I remind people that when you're back at counsel table, please make sure you speak your objections into the microphone. Thank you.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q When you were a young lawyer, sir, you were on the board of a nonprofit that received a donation of Yahoo! stock and the board looked to you for guidance, correct?

A Yes, correct.

Q And -- but during your 13 years at Highland, you never had formal responsibility for making investment decisions, correct?

A That is correct.

Q Yeah. In fact, other than investment opportunities that you personally presented where you served as a co-decider, you never had any responsibility or authority to make investment decisions on behalf of HCMLP or any of its affiliated entities, correct?

A That is correct.

Q And at least during your deposition, you couldn't identify a single opportunity where you actually had the authority and did authorize the execution of a transaction on behalf of HCMLP or any of its affiliates, correct?

A Correct.

Q And yet today you are now solely responsible for making all investment decisions with respect to a $200 million charitable fund, correct?

A Yes, but I get some help. I've engaged an outside third party called ValueScope, and they have been as -- effectively working as a "gatekeeper" for me, and I look to them for investment guidance and advice, and I informally look to Mr.

Dondero since the time period of when I took control on March 24th for any questions I may have with respect to the portfolio. So I don't feel like I'm all by myself in making decisions.

Q Okay. I didn't mean to suggest that you were, sir, and I apologize if you took it that way. I was just asking the question, you are the person now solely responsible for making the investment decisions, correct?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Let's talk about the circumstances that led to the filing of the complaint for a bit. On April 12, 2021, you caused the Plaintiffs to commence an action against HCMLP and two other entities, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. One of the binders -- you've got a couple of binders in front of you. If you look at the bottom, one of them says Volume 1 of 2, Exhibits 1 through 18. And if you could grab that one and turn to Exhibit 12. Do you have that, sir?

A It says -- it says the original complaint. Is that the right one?

Q That is the right one. And just as I said when we were doing this virtually last Friday, if I ask you a question about a particular document, you should always feel free to review as much of the document as you think you need to competently and fully answer the question. Okay?

A Okay. Thank you.
Q All right. You instructed the Sbaiti firm to file that complaint on behalf of the Plaintiffs, correct?
A Correct.
Q And to the best of your recollection, the Plaintiffs returned -- retained the Sbaiti firm in April, correct?
A Correct.
Q So the Sbaiti firm was retained no more than twelve days before the complaint was filed, correct?
A Correct.
Q You personally retained the Sbaiti firm, correct?
A Correct.
Q And the idea of filing this complaint originated with the Sbaiti firm, correct?
A Correct.
Q Before filing -- withdrawn. Before becoming the Plaintiffs' authorized representative, you hadn't had any communications with anyone about potential claims that might be brought against the Debtor arising out of the HarbourVest settlement, correct?
A That is correct.
Q Now, after you became the Plaintiffs' authorized representative, Mr. Dondero communicated with the Sbaiti firm about the complaint that's marked as Exhibit 12, correct?

A Yes. After he brought certain information to myself and then that I engaged the Sbaiti firm to launch an investigation, I also wanted Mr. Dondero to work with the Sbaiti firm with respect to their investigation of the underlying facts.

Q Okay. Mr. Dondero did not discuss the complaint with you, but he did communicate with the Sbaiti firm about the complaint, correct?

A I believe -- yeah. I heard you slip in at the end "the complaint." I know he communicated with the Sbaiti firm. I can't -- I can't say what he said or didn't say with respect to the -- the actual complaint.

Q Okay. But Mr. Dondero got involved in the process initially when he brought some information to your attention concerning the HarbourVest transaction, correct?

A Correct.

Q And he came to you with the HarbourVest information after you assumed your role as the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs on March 24th, correct?

A That is correct.

Q At the time he came to you, you did not have any specific knowledge about the HarbourVest transaction, correct?

A I did not have specific knowledge with respect to the allegations that were laid out and the facts with respect to the original complaint. I think I had just had a general awareness that there was a HarbourVest something or other, but the specific aspects of it, I was unaware.

Q Okay. And you had no reason to believe that Mr. Seery had done anything wrong with respect to the HarbourVest transaction at the time you became the Plaintiffs' authorized representative, correct?

A That is correct.

Q But you recall very specifically that some time after March 24th Mr. Dondero told you that an investment opportunity was essentially usurped or taken away, to the Plaintiffs' harm and for the benefit of HCMLP, correct?

A That is correct.

Q And after Mr. Dondero brought this information to your attention, you hired the Sbaiti firm to launch an investigation into the facts, correct?

A Correct.

Q You had never worked with the Sbaiti firm before, correct?

A That is correct.

Q And you had hired many firms as a tax counselor at HCMLP, but not the Sbaiti firm until now. Correct?

A That is correct.

Q You got to the Sbaiti firm through a recommendation from D.C. Sauter, correct?

A Correct.

Q Mr. Sauter is the in-house counsel, the in-house general counsel at NexPoint Advisors, correct?

A Correct.
Q You didn't ask Mr. Sauter for a recommendation for a lawyer; he just volunteered that you should use the Sbaiti firm. Correct?
A That is correct.
Q And you never used -- considered using another firm, did you?
A When they were presented to me, they appeared to have all the sufficient skills necessary to undertake this action, and so I don't recall interviewing any other firms.
Q Okay. Now, after bringing the matter to your action, Mr. Dondero communicated directly with the Sbaiti firm in relation to the investigation that was being undertaken. Correct?
A That is correct.
Q But you weren't privy to the communications between Mr. Dondero and the Sbaiti firm, correct?
A I did not participate in those conversations as the -- what I, again, considered Mr. Dondero as the investment advisor to the portfolio, and he was very versant in the assets. I wanted him to participate in the investigation that the Sbaiti firm was undertaking prior to the filing of this complaint.
Q Let's talk for a minute about the notion of Mr. Dondero being the investment advisor. Until recently, the entity known as the DAF had an investment advisory committee with HC -- an investment advisory agreement with HCMLP. Correct?

A It's my understanding that the investment advisory agreement existed with the Plaintiffs, CLO Holdco, as well as Charitable DAF Fund, LP, up and to the end of February, throughout the HarbourVest transaction.

Q Okay. And since February, the Plaintiffs do not have an investment advisory agreement with anybody, correct?

A That is correct.

Q Okay. So Mr. Dondero, if he serves as an investment advisor, it's on an informal basis. Is that fair?

A After I took control, he serves as an informal investment advisor.

Q Okay. So there's no contract that you're aware of between either of the Plaintiffs and Mr. Dondero pursuant to which he is authorized to act as the investment advisor for the Plaintiffs, correct?

A That is correct.

Q Okay. When you communicated with Grant Scott -- withdrawn. You know who Grant Scott is, right?

A Yes, I do.

Q He's the gentleman who preceded you as the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs, correct?

A Yes.

Q Okay. You communicated with Mr. Scott from time to time during February and March 2021, correct?

A February and March are the dates? Yes.

Q Yeah. And from February 1st until March 21st -- well, withdrawn. Prior to March 24th, 2021, Mr. Scott was the Plaintiffs' authorized representative, correct?

A Correct.

Q And you have no recollection of discussing with Mr. Scott at any time prior to March 24th any aspect of the HarbourVest settlement with Mr. Scott. Correct?

A Correct.

Q And you have no recollection of discussing whether the Plaintiffs had potential claims that might be brought against the Debtor. Correct? Withdrawn. Let me ask a better question.

You have no recollection of discussing with Mr. Scott at any time prior to March 24th whether the Plaintiffs had potential claims against the Debtor. Correct?

A That is correct.

Q You and Mr. Scott never discussed whether either of -- either of the Plaintiffs had potential claims against Mr. Seery. Correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. At the time that you became their authorized representative, you had no knowledge that the Plaintiffs would be filing a complaint against the Debtors relating to the HarbourVest settlement less than three weeks later, correct?

A That is correct.
Q Okay. Now, if you look at Page 2 of the complaint, you'll see at the top it refers to Mr. Seery as a potential party. Do you see that?
A Yes, I do.
Q Okay. You don't know why Mr. Seery was named -- withdrawn. You don't know why Mr. Seery was not named as a defendant in the complaint, correct?
A No, I -- that's correct. I do not know why he was not named. That's in the purview of the Sbaiti firm.
Q Okay. And the Sbaiti firm also made the decision to name Mr. Seery on Page 2 there as a potential party when drafting the complaint, correct?
A That's what the document says.
Q And you weren't involved in the decision to identify Mr. Seery as a potential party, correct?
A That is correct. Again, I rely on the law firm to decide what parties to bring a suit to -- against.
Q Okay. Okay. Do you recall the other day we talked about a document called the July order?
A Yes.
Q Okay. That's in -- that's in Tab 16 in your binder, if you can turn to that. And take a moment to look at it, if you'd like. And my first question is simply whether this is the July order, as you understand it.

(Pause.)

A Yes, it is. I was just looking for the gatekeeper provision. It looks like it's Paragraph 5. So, --

Q Okay. Thank you for that. About a week after the complaint was filed, you authorized the Plaintiffs to file a motion in the District Court for leave to amend the Plaintiffs' complaint to add Mr. Seery as a defendant. Correct?

A I authorized the filing of a motion in Federal District Court that would ask the Federal District Court whether or not Jim Seery could be named in the original complaint with respect to the gatekeeper provision cited in that motion and with respect to the arguments that were made in that motion.

Q Okay. Just to be clear, if you turn to Exhibit 17, the next tab, --

A I'm here.

Q -- do you see that document is called Plaintiffs' Motion for Leave to File First Amended Complaint?

A Yes.

Q And that's the document that you authorized the Plaintiffs to file on or about April 19th, correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And can we refer to that document as the motion to amend?

A Yes.
Q Okay. You were aware of the July order at Tab 16 before you authorized the filing of the motion to amend. Correct?
A Yes, because it's cited in the motion itself.
Q Okay. And at the time that you authorized the filing of the motion to amend, you understood that the July order was still in effect. Correct?
A Yes, because it was referenced in the motion, so my assumption would be it would still be in effect.
Q Okay. Before the motion to amend was filed, you're -- you are aware that my firm and the Sbaiti firm communicated by email about the propriety of filing the motion to amend?
A Before it was filed? Communications between your firm and the Sbaiti firm? I would have to have my recollection refreshed.
Q I'll just ask the question a different way. Did you know before you authorized the filing of the motion to amend that my firm and the Sbaiti firm had engaged in an email exchange about the propriety of filing the motion to amend in the District Court?
A It's my recollection -- and again, I could be wrong here -- but I thought the email exchange occurred after the fact, not before. But again, I -- I just -- Q Okay. In any event, on April 19th, the motion to amend was filed. Correct?

A Correct.
Q That's the document that is Exhibit 17. And you personally authorized the Sbaiti firm to file the motion to amend on behalf of the Plaintiffs, correct?
A Correct.
Q And you authorized the filing of the motion to amend with knowledge -- withdrawn.

Can you read the first sentence of the motion to amend out loud, please?
A Yeah. (reading) Plaintiffs submit this motion under Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for one purpose: to name as defendant one James P. Seery, Jr., the CEO of defendant Highland Capital Management, LP (HCM) and the chief perpetrator of the wrongdoing that forms the basis of the Plaintiffs' causes of action.
Q And does that fairly state the purpose of the motion?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Asks him to make a legal conclusion about the purpose of the legal motion filed in court that he didn't draft.

THE COURT: Okay. I overrule. You can answer if you have an answer.

THE WITNESS: It's always been my general understanding that the purpose of filing this motion was to go to the Federal District Court and ask that Court of reference to this Court whether or not Mr. Seery could be named with respect to the original complaint, citing again the gatekeeper provisions and citing the various arguments that we've heard much earlier.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Okay. You personally didn't learn anything between April 9th, when the complaint was filed, and April 19th, when the motion to amend was filed, that caused you to authorize the filing of the motion to amend, correct?

A That is correct.

Q In fact, you relied on the Sbaiti firm with respect to decisions concerning the timing of the motion to amend. Correct?

A Correct.

Q And you had no knowledge of whether anyone acting on behalf of the Plaintiffs ever served the Debtor with a copy of the motion to amend. Correct?

A Yes. I have no knowledge.

Q Okay. And you have no knowledge that the Sbaiti firm ever provided my firm with a copy of the motion to amend. Correct?

A I cannot recall one way or another.

Q Okay. You never instructed anyone on behalf -- acting on behalf of the Plaintiffs to inform the Debtor that the motion to amend had been filed, correct?

A That is correct.

Q And that's because you relied on the Sbaiti firm on procedural issues, correct?

A That is correct.

Q You didn't consider waiting until the Debtor --

(Interruption.)

Q -- had appeared in the action before authorizing the filing of the motion --

A Yeah, --

THE COURT: Yes. Y'all are being a little bit loud. Okay.

A VOICE: Sorry.

MR. MORRIS: No problem.

MR. PHILLIPS: I've heard that before, Your Honor, and I apologize.

THE COURT: I bet you have. Thank you.

MR. MORRIS: Admonish Mr. Phillips, please.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: He's always the wild card.

MR. PHILLIPS: I admonish --

MR. MORRIS: He's always the wild card.

MR. PHILLIPS: I admonish myself.

THE COURT: All right. I think he got the message. Continue.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q You didn't consider waiting until the Debtor had appeared in the action before filing the motion to amend, correct?

A Again, I am the client and I rely upon the law firm that's engaged with respect to making legal decisions as to the timing and notice and appearance and what have you. I'm a tax lawyer.

Q Okay. You wanted the District Court to grant the relief that the Plaintiffs were seeking. Correct?

A I wanted the District Court to consider, under the gatekeeper provisions of this Court, whether or not Mr. Seery could be named in the original complaint. That's -- that, from my perspective, is what was desired.

Q All right. You wanted the District Court to grant the relief that the Plaintiffs were seeking, correct?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Asked and answered.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Again, I would characterize this motion as not necessarily asking for specific relief, but asking the Federal District Court whether or not, under the gatekeeper provision, that Mr. Seery could be named on there. What happens after that would be a second step. So I kind of -- I dispute that characterization.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q All right. I'm going to cross my fingers and hope that Ms. Canty is on the line, and I would ask her to put up Page 57 from Mr. Patrick's deposition transcript.

THE COURT: There it is.

MR. MORRIS: There it is. It's like magic. Can we go down to Lines 18 through 20?

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Patrick, during the deposition on Friday, did I ask you this question and did you give me this answer? Question, "Did you want the Court to grant the relief you were seeking?" Answer, "Yes."

A I -- and it was qualified with respect to Lines 12 through 17. In my view, when I answered yes, I was simply restating what I stated in Line 12. I wanted the District Court to consider this motion as to whether or not Mr. Seery could be named in the original complaint or the amended complaint pursuant to the existing gatekeeper rules and the arguments that were made in that motion. That's -- that's what I wanted. And so then when I was asked, did you want the Court to grant the relief that you were seeking, when I answered yes, it was from that perspective.

Q Okay. Thank you very much. If the District Court had granted the relief that you were seeking, you would have authorized the Sbaiti firm to file the amended complaint naming Mr. Seery as a defendant if the Sbaiti firm recommended that you do so. Correct?

A If the Sbaiti firm recommended that I do so. That is correct.

Q Okay. Let's talk for a little bit about the line of succession for the DAF and CLO Holdco. Can we please go to Exhibit 25, which is in the other binder? It's in the other binder, sir.

(Pause.)

Q I guess you could look on the screen or you can look in the binder, whatever's easier for you.

A Yeah. I prefer the screen. I prefer the screen.

Q Okay.

A It's much easier.

Q All right. We've got it in both spots. But do you have Exhibit 25 in front of you, sir?

A Yes, I do.

Q All right. Do you know what it is?

A This is the organizational chart depicting a variety of charitable entities as well as entities that are commonly referred to the DAF. However, when I look at this chart, I do not look at and see just boxes, what I see is the humanitarian effort that these boxes represent.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, may I interrupt?

THE COURT: You may.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q I appreciate that, and when your lawyers get up to ask you questions, I bet they'll want to know just what you were about to tell me. But I just want to understand what this chart is. This chart is the DAF, CLO Holdco, structure chart. Correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And you were personally involved in creating this organizational structure, correct?

A I -- yes.

Q Okay. And from time to time, the Charitable DAF Holdco Limited distributes cash to the foundations that are above it. Correct?

A Correct.

Q All right. I want to talk a little bit more specifically about how this happens. The source of the cash distributed by Charitable DAF Holdco Limited is CLO Holdco, Ltd., that entity, the Cayman Islands entity near the bottom. Correct?

MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, I have an objection. Completely irrelevant. I'm objecting on relevance grounds. This has nothing to do with the contempt proceeding. We've already gone over that he authorized the filing of the complaint, that he authorized the filing of the motion to amend. It's all in the record. This is completely irrelevant at this point.

THE COURT: Okay. Relevance objection. Your response?

MR. MORRIS: I believe that it's relevant to the Debtor's motion to hold Mr. Dondero in contempt for pursuing claims against Mr. Seery, in violation of the July 7 order. I think an understanding of what the Plaintiffs are, how they're funded, and Mr. Dondero's interest in pursuing claims on behalf of those entities is relevant to the -- to the -- just -- it's just against him. It's not against their clients, frankly. It's just against Mr. Dondero.

THE COURT: I overrule.

MR. MORRIS: I'll try and -- I'll try and make this quick, though.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q CLO Holdco had two primary sources of capital. Is that right?

A Two primary sources of capital?

Q Let me ask it differently. There was a Charitable Remainder Trust that was going to expire in 2011, correct?

A That is correct.

Q And that Charitable Remainder Trust had certain CLO equity assets, correct?

A Correct.

Q And the donor to that Charitable Remainder Trust was Highland Capital Management, LP. Correct?

A Not correct. After my deposition, I refreshed my memory. There were two Charitable Remainder Trusts that existed, which I think in my mind caused a little bit of confusion. The Charitable Remainder Trust No. 2, which is the one that expired in 2011, was originally funded by Mr. Dondero.

Q Okay. So, so the Charitable Remainder Trust that we were talking about on Friday wasn't seeded with capital from Highland Capital Management, it came from Mr. Dondero personally?
A That is correct.
Q Okay. Thank you. And the other primary source of capital was the Dallas Foundation, the entity that's in the upper left-hand corner of the chart. Is that correct?
A No.
Q The -- you didn't tell me that the other day?
A You said -- you're pointing to the Dallas Foundation. That's a 501(c)(3) organization.
Q I apologize. Did you tell me the other day that the Dallas Foundation was the second source of capital for HCLO Hold Company?
A No, I did not. You --
(Pause.)
Q Maybe I know the source of the confusion. Is the Highland Dallas Foundation something different?
A Yes. On this organizational chart, you'll see that it has an indication, it's a supporting organization.
Q Ah, okay. So, so let me restate the question, then. The second primary source of capital for CLO Holdco, Ltd. is the Highland Dallas Foundation. Do I have that right?

A Yes.
Q Okay. And the sources of that entity's capital were grantor trusts and possibly Mr. Dondero personally. Correct?
A In addition -- per my refreshing my recollection from our deposition, the other Charitable Remainder Trust, I believe Charitable Remainder Trust No. 1, which expired later, also sent a donation, if you will, or assets to -- and I cannot recall specifically whether it was just the Highland Dallas Foundation or the other supporting organizations that you see on this chart.
Q But the source of that -- the source of the assets that became the second Charitable Remainder Trust was Highland Capital Management, LP. Is that right?
A I think that is accurate from my recollection. And again, I'm talking about Charitable Remainder Trust No. 1.
Q Okay. So is it fair to say -- I'm just going to try and summarize, if I can. Is it fair to say that CLO Holdco, Ltd. is the investment arm of the organizational structure on this page?
A Yes.
Q And is it fair to say that nearly all of the assets that are in there derived from either Mr. Dondero, one of his trusts, or Highland Capital Management, LP?
A Yes. It's like the Bill Gates Foundation or the Rockefeller Foundation. These come from the folks that make their donations and put their name on it.

Q Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Now, now, Your Honor, I'm going to go back just for a few minutes to how Mr. Scott got appointed, because I think that lays kind of the groundwork for his replacement. It won't take long.

THE COURT: Okay. I have a question either --

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

THE COURT: -- for you or the witness. I'm sorry, but --

MR. MORRIS: Sure. Yeah.

THE COURT: -- the organizational chart, it's not meant to show everything that might be connected to this substructure, right? Because doesn't CLO Holdco, Ltd. own 49.02 percent of HCLOF, --

MR. MORRIS: That --

THE COURT: -- which gets us into the whole HarbourVest transaction issue?

MR. MORRIS: You're exactly right, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: But that's just an investment that HCLO Holdco made.

THE COURT: Right.

MR. MORRIS: Right? And so I -- let me ask the witness, actually.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Thank you.

MR. MORRIS: Let me ask the witness. Yeah.

THE COURT: I just want my brain --

MR. MORRIS: Right.

THE COURT: -- to be complete on this chart.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Patrick, there are three entities under CLO Holdco, Ltd. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And does CLO Holdco, Ltd. own one hundred percent of the interests in each of those three entities?

A Yes.

Q Do you know why those three entities are depicted on this particular chart? Is it because they're wholly-owned subsidiaries?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And CLO Holdco, Ltd. has interests in other companies. Isn't that right?

A It has other investments. That is correct.

Q And the reason that they're not depicted on here is because they're not wholly-owned subsidiaries, they're just investments; is that fair?

A That is fair.

MR. MORRIS: Does that--?

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q So, so let's go back to Mr. Grant for a moment. Mr. Scott, rather. Mr. Dondero was actually the original general partner. If you look at this chart, while it's still up here, you see on the left there's Charitable DAF GP, LLC?

A Yes.

Q And the Charitable DAF GP, LLC is the general partner of the Charitable DAF Fund, LP. Correct?

A Correct.

Q And on this chart, Grant Scott was the managing member of Charitable DAF GP, LLC. Right?

A Correct.

Q Okay. But Mr. Dondero was the original general partner of that entity, correct?

A That is correct. But I do want to point out, I just note that the GP interest is indicating a one percent interest and the 99 interest to Charitable DAF Holdco. I believe that's incorrect. It's a hundred percent by Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., and the Charitable DAF GP interest is a noneconomic interest. So that should actually reflect a zero percent to the extent it may indicate some sort of profits or otherwise.

Q Okay. Thank you for the clarification. Can you turn to Exhibit 26, please, in your binder? And is it your understanding that that is the amended and restated LLC agreement for the DAF GP, LLC?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And this was amended and restated effective as of January 1st, 2012, correct?

A Yes.

Q And if you go to the last page, you'll see there are signatures for Mr. Scott and Mr. Dondero, correct?

A Yes.

Q And Mr. Dondero is identified as the forming -- former managing member and Mr. Scott is identified as the new managing member. Correct?

A Correct. That's what the document says.

Q And it's your understanding that Mr. Dondero had the authority to select his successor. Correct?

A Correct.

Q In fact, it's based on your understanding of documents and your recollection that Mr. Dondero personally selected Mr. Scott as the person he was going to transfer control to, correct?

A Upon advice of Highland Capital Management's tax compliance officer, Mr. Tom Surgent.

Q What advice did Mr. Surgent give?

A He gave advice that, because Mr. Dondero -- and this is what I came to an understanding after the fact of this transaction, because I was not a part of it -- that by Mr. Dondero holding that GP interest, that it would be -- the Plaintiffs, if you will, would be an affiliate entity for regulatory purposes, and so he advised that if he -- if Mr. Dondero transferred his GP interest to Mr. Scott, it would no longer be an affiliate, is my recollection.

Q Okay. You didn't appoint Mr. Scott, did you?

A No.

Q That was Mr. Dondero. Is that right?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Let's go to 2021. Let's come back to the current time. Sometime in February, Mr. Scott called you to ask about the mechanics of how he could resign. Correct?

A That is correct.

Q But the decision to have you replace Mr. Scott was not made until March 24th, the day you sent an email to Mr. Scott with the transfer documents. Correct?

A That is correct.

Q And it's your understanding that he could have transferred the management shares and control of the DAF to anyone in the world. Correct?

A Correct.

Q That's what the docu... that he had the authority under the documentation, as you understood it, to freely trade or transfer the management shares. Correct?

A Wait. Now, let's be precise here.
Q Okay.
A Are you talking about the GP interests or the management shares held by Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.?
Q Let's start with the management shares. Can you explain to the Court what the management shares are?
MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor? Hang on one second. Your Honor, I want to object again on relevance. We're going way beyond the scope of the contempt issue, whether or not --
MR. MORRIS: This is about control.
MR. ANDERSON: -- the motion to amend somehow violated the prior order of this Court. Getting into the management structure, transfer of shares, that's way outside the bounds. I object on relevance.
THE COURT: Okay. Relevance objection?
MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, they have probably 30 documents, maybe 20 documents, on their exhibit list that relate to management and control. I'm asking questions about management and control. Okay? This is important, again, to (a) establish his authority, but (b) the circumstances under which he came to be the purported control person.
THE COURT: Okay. Overruled. Go ahead.
THE WITNESS: It might be helpful to look at the organizational chart, but if not -- but I'll describe it to you again. With respect to the entity called --

MR. MORRIS: Hold on one second. Can we put up the organizational chart again, Ms. Canty, if you can? There you go.

THE WITNESS: Okay. So with respect to the Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., it is my understanding that Mr. Scott, he organized that entity when he was the independent director of the Charitable Remainder Trust, and he caused the issuance of the management shares to be issued to himself. And then those are, again, noneconomic shares, but they are control shares over that entity.

And I think, to answer your question, is -- it -- he alone decides who he can transfer those shares to.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Do I have this right, that whoever holds the noneconomic management shares has the sole authority to appoint the representatives for each of the Charitable DAF entities and CLO Holdco? It's kind of a magic ticket, if you will?

A It -- I think there's a -- the answer really is no from a legal standpoint, because Charitable DAF Holdco is a limited partner in Charitable DAF Fund, LP, so it does not have authority -- authority under all -- the respective entities underneath that. It could cause a redemption, if you will, of Charitable DAF Fund. And so, really, the authority -- the trickle-down authority that you're referencing is with respect to his holding of the Charitable DAF GP, LLC interest. It's a member-managed Delaware limited liability company. And from that, he -- that authority kind of trickles down to where he can appoint directorships.

Q All right. I think I want to just follow up on that a bit. Which entity is the issuer of the manager shares, the management shares?

A Yeah, the -- per the organizational chart, it is accurate, it's the Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. which issued the management shares to Mr. Scott.

Q Okay. And that's why you have the arrow from Mr. Scott into that entity?

A Correct.

Q And do those -- does the holder of the management shares have the authority to control the Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And as the control person for the Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., they own a hundred -- withdrawn. Charitable DAF Holdco Limited owns a hundred percent of the limited partnership interests of the Charitable DAF Fund, LP. Correct?

A Correct.

Q And so does the holder of that hundred percent limited partnership interest have the authority to decide who acts on behalf of the Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A I would say no. I mean, you know, just -- I would love to read the partnership agreement again. But I, conceptually, what I know with partnerships, I would say the limited partner would not. It would be through the Charitable DAF GP, LLC interest.

Q The one on the left, the general partner?

A The general partner.

Q I see. So when Mr. Scott transferred to you the one hundred percent of the management shares as well as the title of the managing member of the Charitable DAF GP, LLC, did those two events give you the authority to control the entities below it?

A Yes.

Q Thank you. And so prior to the time that he transferred those interests to you, is it your understanding that Mr. Scott had the unilateral right to transfer those interests to anybody in the world?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And you have that right today, don't you?

A Yes, I do.

Q If you wanted, you could transfer it to me, right?

A Yes, I could.

Q Okay. But of all the people in the world, Mr. Scott decided to transfer the management shares and the managing member title of the DAF GP to you, correct?

A Restate that question again?

Q Of all the people in the world, Mr. Scott decided to transfer it to you, correct?
A Yeah. Mr. Scott transferred those interests to me.
Q Okay. And you accepted them, right?
A Yes.
Q You're not getting paid anything for taking on this responsibility, correct?
A I am not paid by any of the entities depicted on this chart.
Q And Mr. Scott used to get $5,000 a month, didn't he?
A I believe that's what he testified to.
Q Yeah. But you don't get anything, right?
A Correct.
Q In fact, you get the exact same salary and compensation from Skyview that you had before you became the authorized representative of the DAF entities and CLO Holdco. Correct?
A Correct.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. Your Honor, if I may just take a moment, I may be done.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Pause.)

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I have no further questions.

THE COURT: All right. Pass the witness. Any examination of the witness?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. ANDERSON:

Q Mr. Patrick, I just had a few follow-up questions. When you authorized the filing of the lawsuit against Highland Capital Management, LP, Highland HCF Advisor Limited, and Highland CLO Funding, Limited, when that lawsuit was filed in April of this year, was Mr. Seery included as a defendant?

A No.

Q Have the two Plaintiffs in that lawsuit, have they commenced any lawsuit against Mr. Seery?

A No.

Q Have they pursued any lawsuit against Mr. Seery?

A No.

Q Have they pursued a claim or cause of action against Mr. Seery?

A No.

Q At most, did the Plaintiffs file a motion for leave to add Mr. Seery as a defendant?

MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. To the extent that any of these questions are legal conclusions, I object. He's using the word pursue. If he's trying -- if he's then going to argue that, But the witness testified that he didn't pursue and that's somehow a finding of fact, I object.

THE COURT: Okay. I understand.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: But I overrule. He can answer.

MR. MORRIS: That's fine.

THE WITNESS: Can you restate the question again?

BY MR. ANDERSON:

Q Sure. On behalf of the Plaintiffs -- well, strike that. Did the Plaintiffs pursue a claim or cause of action against Mr. Seery?

A No.

Q At most, did the Plaintiffs file a motion for leave to file an amended complaint regarding Mr. Seery?

A Yes. But, again, I viewed the motion as simply asking the Federal District Court whether Mr. Seery could or could not be named in a complaint, and then the next step might be how the Federal District Court might rule with respect to that.

Q And we have -- it's Tab 17 in the binders in front of you. That is Plaintiffs' motion for leave. If you could turn to that, please.

A Yes. I've got it open.

Q Is the Court's July order, the Bankruptcy Court's July order, is it mentioned on the first page and then throughout the motion for leave to amend?

A Yes, it is. I see it quoted verbatim on Page 2 under Background.

Q Was the Court's order hidden at all from the District Court?

A The document speaks for itself. It's very transparent.

Q Was there any effort whatsoever to hide the prior order of the Bankruptcy Court?

A No.

MR. ANDERSON: Pass the witness.

THE COURT: Okay. Other examination?

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor. Just a couple of questions.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Do you mind flipping to Exhibit 25, which I believe is the org chart, the one that you were looking at before?

A Okay.

Q It'll still be in --

A Okay. Yeah.

Q -- the defense binder. No reason to swap out right now.

A I've got the right binders. Some of them are repeatable exhibits, so --

Q Yeah.

A -- I have to grab the right binder. Yes.

Q As this org chart would sit today, is the only difference that Grant Scott's name would instead be Mark Patrick?

A Yes.

Q Was there ever a period of time where Jim Dondero's name would sit instead of Grant Scott's name prior?

A Yes, originally, when this -- yes.

Q So did Mr. Dondero both have the control shares of the GP, LLC and DAF Holdco Limited?
A No, I believe not. I believe he only held the Charitable DAF GP interest and that Mr. Scott at all times held the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD interest, until he decided to transfer it to me.
Q Can you just tell us how Mr. Scott came to hold the control shares of the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD?
A When he was the independent trustee of the Charitable Remainder Trust, he caused that -- the creation of that entity, and that's how he became in receipt of those management shares.
Q And does the Charitable DAF GP, LLC have any control over Charitable DAF Fund, LP's actions or activities?
A Yes, it does.
Q What kind of control is that?
A I would describe complete control. It's the managing member of that entity and can -- and effectively owns, you know, the hundred percent interest in the respective subsidiaries, and so the control follows down.
Q And when did Mr. Scott replace Mr. Dondero as the GP -- managing member of the GP?
A Well, I think as the -- and Mr. Morris had shown me with respect to that transfer occurring on March 2012.
Q So nine years ago?

A Yes.
Q Does Mr. Dondero today exercise any control over the activities of the DAF Charitable -- the Charitable DAF, GP or the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD?
A No.
Q Is he a board member of sorts for either of those entities?
A No.
Q Is he a board members of CLO Holdco?
A No.
Q Does he have any decision-making authority at CLO Holdco?
A None.
Q The decision to authorize the lawsuit and the decision to authorize the motion that you've been asked about, who made that authorization?
A I did.
Q Did you have to ask for anyone's permission?
A No.

MR. SBAITI: No more questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Any -- I guess Mr. Taylor, no. All right. Any redirect?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Since becoming the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs, have you ever made a decision on behalf of those entities that Mr. Dondero disagreed with?

A I have made decisions that were adverse to Mr. Dondero's financial -- financial decision. I mean, financial interests. Whether he disagreed with them or not, I don't -- he has not communicated them to me. But they have been adverse, at least two very strong instances.

Q Have you ever -- have you ever talked to him about making a decision that would be adverse to his interests? Did he tell -- did --

A I didn't -- I don't -- I did not discuss with him prior to making the decisions that I made that were adverse to his economic interests.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. No further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Any further examination? Recross on that redirect?

MR. ANDERSON: No further questions.

MR. SBAITI: No further questions, Your Honor.

MR. ANDERSON: Sorry.

THE COURT: Nothing?

MR. ANDERSON: I think we're good.

THE COURT: Okay. I have one question, Mr. Patrick. My brain sometimes goes in weird directions.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: I'm just curious. What are these Cayman Island entities, charitable organizations formed in the Cayman Islands?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. I'll keep it as simple as I can, even though I'm a tax lawyer, so I won't get into the tax rules, but the Cayman structure is modeled after what you typically see in the investment management industry, and so I -- and I won't reference specific entities here with respect to the Highland case, but I think you'll note some similarities, if you think about it. They're -- it's described as an offshore master fund structure where you have a -- and that would be the Charitable DAF Fund that's organized offshore, usually in the Cayman or Bermuda Islands, where the general partner, typically, in the industry, holds the management --

THE COURT: Yeah. Let --

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: -- me just stop you. I've seen this enough --

THE WITNESS: Yeah, it's

THE COURT: -- to know that it happens in the investment world. But in --

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

THE COURT: You know, usually, I see 501(c)(3), you know, domestically-created entities for charitable purposes, so I'm just curious.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

THE WITNESS: The offshore master fund structure typically will have two different types of -- they call it foreign feeder funds. One foreign feeder fund is meant to accommodate foreign investors; the other foreign feeder fund is meant to accommodate U.S. tax-exempt investors.

Why, why is it structured that way? In order to avoid something called -- I was trying not to be wonkish -- UBTI. That's, let's see, Un -- Unrelated Trader Business Income. I probably have that slightly wrong. But it's essentially, it's a means to avoid active business income, which includes debt finance income, which is what these CLOs tend to be, that would throw off income that would be taxable normally if the exempts did not go through this foreign blocker, and it converts that UBTI income -- it's called (inaudible) income -- into passive income that flows -- that flows up to the charities.

And so it's very typical that you'll have a U.S. tax-exempt investor, when they make an investment in a fund, prefer to go through an offshore feeder fund, which is actually Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD. That's essentially what, from a tax perspective, represents as a UBTI blocker entity. And then you have the offshore investments being held offshore because there's a variety of safe harbors where the receipt of interest, the portfolio interest exception, is not taxable.

The creation of capital gains or losses under the -- they call it the trading, 864(b) trading safe harbor, is not taxable. So that's why you'll find these structures operating offshore to rely on those safe harbor provisions as well as -- as well as what I indicated with respect to the two type blocker entities. It's very typical and industry practice to organize these way. And so when this was set --

THE COURT: It's very typical in the charitable world to --

THE WITNESS: In the investment management --

THE COURT: -- form this way?

THE WITNESS: In the investment management world, when you have charitable entities that are taking some exposure to assets that are levered, to set this structure up in this way. It was modeled after -- they just call them offshore master fund structures. They're known as Mickey Mouse structures, where you'll have U.S. investors --

THE COURT: Yes. I -- yes, I --

THE WITNESS: -- enter through a U.S. partnership, and the foreign investors enter through a blocker.

THE COURT: It was really just the charitable aspect of this that I was --

THE WITNESS: Yeah. Yeah.

THE COURT: -- getting at.

THE WITNESS: Yeah. No, but I'm just trying to emphasize if --

THE COURT: All right. It's --

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- neither here nor there. All right.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, may I ask a slightly clarifying leading question on that, because I think I understand what he was trying to say, just for the record?

THE COURT: Well, --

MR. MORRIS: I object.

THE COURT: -- I tell you what. Anyone who wants to ask one follow-up question on the judge's question can do so. Okay? You can go first.

MR. SBAITI: I'll approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Would it be a fair summary of what you were saying a minute ago that the reason the bottom end of that structure is offshore is so that it doesn't get taxed before the money reaches the charities on the U.S. side?

A Tax -- it converts the nature of the income that is being thrown off by the investments so that it becomes a tax friendly income to the tax-exempt entity. Passive income. That's --

Q So, essentially, --

THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

MR. SBAITI: -- so it doesn't get taxed before it hits the --

THE COURT: I said one question.

MR. SBAITI: Sorry, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. He answered it.

MR. PHILLIPS: And I have one question, Your Honor

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: I don't know if I need to ask this question, but I'd rather not ask you if I need to ask it.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. PHILLIPS: But if I do, you know, I could --

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. PHILLIPS: Well, okay.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. PHILLIPS:

Q We've talked about the offshore structure. Are the foundations in the top two tiers of the organizational chart offshore entities?

A No.

Q They're --

A They're onshore entities. They're tax-exempt entities.

Q Thank you.

A The investments are offshore.

Q Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Morris? One question.

FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Do you hold yourself out as an expert on the organizational structures in the Caribbean for charitable organizations?

A I hold myself out as a tax professional versant on setting up offshore master fund structures. It's sort of a bread-and-butter thing. But there are plenty of people that can testify that this is very typical.

Q Uh-huh. Okay.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

All right. You are excused, Mr. Patrick. I suppose you'll want to stay around. I don't know if you'll potentially be recalled today.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. We should take a lunch break. I'm going to put this out for a democratic vote. Forty-five minutes? Is that good with everyone?

MR. SBAITI: Do we have to leave the building to eat, Your Honor, or is there food in the building?

THE COURT: I think --

MR. SBAITI: I'm sorry to ask that question, but --

THE COURT: Yes. You know what, there used to be a very bad cafeteria, but I think it closed. Right, Mike? So, you know, --

MR. SBAITI: Sorry I asked that.

A VOICE: Hate to miss that one.

THE COURT: Is 45 minutes not enough since you have to go off campus? I'll give you an hour. It just means we stay later tonight.

A VOICE: Can we just say 2:00 o'clock?

MR. SBAITI: That's fine with us, Your Honor.

THE COURT: 2:00 o'clock. That's 50 minutes. See you then.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you.

A VOICE: Your Honor, can we just get a time check?

THE COURT: Okay.

THE CLERK: Yeah. The Debtors are at an hour and eleven minutes. Respondents at an hour nineteen.

THE COURT: And hour and eleven and an hour and nineteen.

A VOICE: Wait, that's not right.

A VOICE: That can't be right.

A VOICE: Two hours? We started at --

THE COURT: Okay. So, again, their side, the collective Respondents?

THE CLERK: An hour and eleven, responding to your questions, --

A VOICE: Yeah, he's not recording --

THE CLERK: So an hour and eleven and an hour and nineteen.

THE COURT: But they were already over an hour --

A VOICE: Yeah. It's been over three hours.

THE COURT: -- with opening statements.

THE CLERK: An hour and twelve. Yes. They were very short with the questioning. It was only like --

THE COURT: Okay. We'll double-check that over the break with the court reporter.

A VOICE: All right. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: We'll double-check and let you know.

THE COURT: All rise.

(A luncheon recess ensued from 1:09 p.m. until 2:03 p.m.)

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated. We're going back on the record in Highland after our lunch break. I'm going to confirm time. We've had the Debtor an aggregate of an hour and eleven minutes. The Respondents, an aggregate of an hour and twenty minutes. Okay? So we've gone two hours and thirty-one minutes.

If it seems like we've been going longer, it's because we did not do the clock on the opening matters regarding removal, extension of time. And then when I interjected with questions, we stopped the clock. All right? So let's go.

You may call your next witness, Mr. Morris.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor. The Debtor calls

James Dondero.

THE COURT: All right.

A VOICE: He had to step down the hall. We had a little trouble getting through security. Let me --

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Dondero, you've been called as the next witness. So if you'll approach our witness stand, please. All right. Please raise your right hand.

(The witness is sworn.)

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

JAMES D. DONDERO, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Dondero.

A Good afternoon.

Q Can you hear me?

A Yes.

Q Okay. So, you were here this morning, correct?

A Yes.

Q All right. So, we're going to put up -- we'll put it up on the screen, but if you'd prefer to look at a hard copy in the binder that's marked Volume 1 of -- 2 of 2, I'd ask you to turn to Exhibit 25. Or you could just follow on the screen. And this is a one-page document, so maybe that's easier.

A Sure.

Q Do you have it? All right.

A Yes.
Q This is the organizational chart for what's known as the DAF, correct?
A Yes.
Q And Mark Patrick set up this structure, correct?
A I believe he coordinated. I believe it was set up by third-party law firms. I believe it was Hutton or a firm like that.
Q Mr. Patrick participated in the creation of this structure because you gave him the task of setting up a charitable entity for Highland at that time, correct?
A Yes.
Q And you approved of this organizational structure, correct?
A Yes.
Q And Grant Scott was the Trustee of the DAF for a number of years, correct?
A I often use that word, trustee, but technically I think it's managing member.
Q That's right. I appreciate that. I was using your word from the deposition. But is it fair to say that, to the best of your knowledge, Grant Scott was the sole authorized representative of the entity known as the DAF from 2011 until just recently?
A Sole -- I would describe it more he was in a trustee function.

Q Uh-huh.
A Advice was being provided by Highland on the investment side. He wasn't expected to be a financial or an investment expert. And then accounting, tax, portfolio, tracking, you know, compliance with all the offshore formation documents, that was all done by Highland as part of a shared services agreement.
Q Okay. I appreciate that, but listen carefully to my question. All I asked you was whether he was the authorized representative, the sole authorized representative for the ten-year period from 2011 until recently.
A Yes.
Q Okay.
A I believe so.
Q Thank you. You served as the managing member of the DAF GP, LLC before Mr. Scott, correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And if you turn to Exhibit 26 in your binder, that's the amended and restated limited liability company agreement for the DAF GP, LLC, correct?
A Yes.
Q And on the last page, that's your signature line, right?
A Yes.
Q And you stepped down as the managing member on March 12, 2012, and were replaced by Mr. Scott, correct?

A Yes.

Q And as you recall it, Mr. Scott came to be appointed the trustee of the DAF based on your recommendation, right?

A Based on my recommendation? Yes, I would say that's fair.

Q And you made that recommendation to Mr. Patrick, right?

A I -- I don't remember who I made the recommendation to. But I would echo the testimony of Mark Patrick earlier that the purpose of stepping down was to make the DAF unaffiliated or independent versus being in any way affiliated.

MR. MORRIS: I move to strike.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q And I'd ask you to listen carefully to my question.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q You made the recommendation to Mr. Patrick, correct?

A I would give the same answer again.

Q Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Can we please put up Mr. Dondero's deposition transcript from last Friday at Page 297?

I believe, Your Honor, that the court reporter thought that this was a continuation of a prior deposition, and that's why the pages begin in the, you know, high in the 200s and not at Page 1. Just to avoid any confusion.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Dondero, do you see the transcript in front of you?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Were you asked this question and did you give this answer? "Who did you make the" -- question, "Who did you make the recommendation to?" Answer, "It would have been Mark Patrick."
A I don't recall right now as I sit here, and it seems like I was speculating when I answered, but it -- it probably would have been Mark Patrick. I just don't have a specific recollection.
Q You made the recommendation to Mr. Patrick because he was responsible for setting up the overall structure, correct?
A I -- I can't testify to why I did something I don't remember. I think that would be -- Q Can we --
A -- speculative.
Q Are you finished, sir?
A Yeah.
Q Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Can we go to Page 299, please?

BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Lines 6 through 10. Did I ask this question and did you give me this answer? Question, "But why did you select Mr. Patrick as the person to whom to make your recommendation?" Answer, "Because he was responsible for setting up the overall structure."

Were you asked that question and did you give that answer last Friday?

A Yes.

Q Thank you. But it's your testimony that you don't really know what process led to Mr. Scott's appointment, correct?

A No, I -- I said I was refreshed by Mark Patrick's testimony earlier.

Q Yeah. Were you refreshed that, in fact, you specifically had the authority to and did appoint Grant Scott as the managing member of the DAF GP, LLC?

A I -- I don't know.

Q Well, you're referring to Mr. Patrick's testimony and I'm asking you a very specific question. Did you agree -- is your memory refreshed now that you're the person who put Grant Scott in the position in the DAF?

A I -- I don't know if I owned those secret shares that -- well, they're not secret, but shares that could appoint anybody on the planet. I guess if I was in that box at that time before Grant, then I would have had that ability. I'm not denying at all that I recommended Grant. I'm just saying I don't -- I don't remember if I went specifically to him or if it was Thomas Surgent that was orchestrating it at the time. I don't remember.

Q Do you deny that you had the authority to and that you did appoint Grant Scott as your successor?

MR. TAYLOR: Your Honor, objection to the extent it calls for a legal conclusion. I can't get close to a mic, so --

THE COURT: I overrule the objection.

THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question for me?

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Do you deny that you had the authority to and that you did, in fact, appoint Grant Scott as your successor?

A It'd be better to say I don't -- I don't -- no, I don't remember or I didn't know the details at the time. But, again, I -- I assume I owned those shares. And, again, I do remember recommending Grant and -- but exactly how it happened, I don't remember.

Q Did you hear Mark Patrick say just an hour ago that you appointed Grant Scott as your successor?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Misstates testimony. The witness testified he transferred shares. That's different than an appointment power.

THE COURT: Response? I can't remember the exact way you worded it, to be honest.

MR. MORRIS: Neither can I, but I'll even take it that way.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I think he's wrong, but I'll even take it that way.

THE COURT: Okay.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Dondero, did you listen to Mark Patrick say that you are the person who made the decision to transfer the shares to Mr. Scott in 2012?

A Yes, I heard him say that.

Q Okay. So, do you -- do you dispute that testimony?

A I -- I don't have any better knowledge to dispute or confirm.

Q You and Mr. Scott have known each other since high school, correct?

A Yes.

Q You spent a couple of years at UVA together, correct?

A Yes.

Q You were housemates together, correct?

A Yes.

Q He was the best man at your wedding, correct?

A Yes.

Q He's a patent lawyer, correct?

A Yes.

Q He had no expertise in finance when -- when he was appointed as your successor to the DAF, correct?

A Correct.

Q To the best of your knowledge, at the time Mr. Scott assumed his position, he had never made any decisions concerning collateralized loan obligations, correct?

A Correct, but he wasn't hired for that. That wasn't his position.

Q Was he the person who was going to make the decisions with respect to the DAF's investments?

A My understanding on how it was structured was the DAF was paying a significant investment advisory fee to Highland. Highland was doing portfolio construction and the investment selection of -- or the investment recommendations for the portfolio. There is an independent trustee protocol that I believe was adhered to, but it was never my direct involvement. It was always the portfolio managers or the traders.

You have to provide three similar or at least two other alternatives, and then with a rationale for each of them, but a rationale for why you think one in particular is better. And the trustee looks at the three, evaluates them. And the way I understand it always worked, that it works at pretty much every charitable trust or trust that I'm aware of, they generally, if not always, pick alongside the -- or, pick the recommendation of their highly-paid investment advisory firm.

Q And are you the highly-paid investment advisory firm?

A Highland was at the time, yes.

Q And you controlled Highland, right?

A Yes.
Q Okay. But at the end of the day, is it your understanding that Mr. Scott had the exclusive responsibility for making actual decisions on behalf of the charitable trust that you had created?
A Yeah, I mean, subject to the protocol I just described.
Q Yeah, okay, so let's keep going. Mr. Scott had no experience or expertise running charitable organizations at the time you decided to transfer the shares to him, correct?
A Yes, I believe that's correct.
Q Okay. You didn't recommend Mr. Scott to serve as the DAF's investment advisor, did you?
A No.
Q And until early 2021, as you testified, I believe, already, HCMLP served as the DAF's investment advisor, correct?
A Yes.
Q And until early 2021, all of the DAF's day-to-day operations were conducted by HCMLP pursuant to a shared services agreement, correct?
A Yes.
Q And from the time the DAF was formed until January 9, 2020, you controlled HCMLP, correct?
A Yes.
Q You can't think of one investment decision that HCMLP recommended that Mr. Scott ever rejected in the ten-year period, correct?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Lacks foundation.

THE COURT: Response?

MR. MORRIS: I'm not quite sure what to say, Your Honor. The witness has already testified that HCMLP was the investment advisor, made recommendations to Mr. Scott, and that Mr. Scott was the one who had to make the investment decisions at the end of the day.

MR. SBAITI: He's not here as a witness for HCMLP. He's here in his personal capacity. There's no foundation he'd have personal knowledge of which specific investments were proposed, which ones were rejected or accepted. He said it was done by the portfolio manager.

THE COURT: Okay. I overrule. He can answer if he has an answer.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Sir, you can't think of one investment decision that HCMLP ever recommended to Mr. Scott that he rejected, correct?

A I can't think of one, but I would caveat with I wouldn't have expected there to be any.

Q So you expected him to just do exactly what HCMLP recommended, correct?

A No. I would expect him to sort through the various investments when he was given three or four to choose from and be able to discern that, just as we had with our expertise, which was much greater than his, discern which one was the best and most suitable investment, the best risk-adjusted investment, that he would come to the same conclusion.

Q Okay. You can't think of an investment that Mr. Scott ever made on behalf of the DAF that didn't originate with HCMLP, correct?

A Again, no, but I wouldn't expect there to be.

Q Okay. And that's because you expected all of the investments to originate with the company that you were controlling, correct?

A We were the hired investment advisor with fiduciary responsibility --

Q Uh-huh.

A -- and with a vested interest in making sure the DAF performance was the best it could be.

Q Okay. Let --

A He was, as you said, a patent attorney. It would have been unusual for him to second-guess. I'm sure, in any private investment or any investment that was one off or didn't have comps, you know, he probably sought third-party valuations. But you would have to talk to him about that, or the people at Highland that did that.

MR. MORRIS: I move to strike. It's a very simple question.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Sir, you can't think of one investment that Mr. Scott made on behalf of the DAF that did not originate with HCMLP, correct?

A I'm going to give the same answer.

Q Okay. Let's go to Page 371 of the transcript, please. Lines 7 through 11.

Oh, I apologize. I think I might -- I think I meant 317. I think I got that inverted. Yeah.

Did I ask this question and did you give this answer: "Can you think of any investment that Mr. Scott made on behalf of the DAF that didn't original with HCMLP?" Answer, "He wasn't the investment advisor, but no, I don't -- I don't recall."

Is that the answer you gave on Friday?

A Yes.

Q Thank you. Let's --

MR. SBAITI: Just for clarification, Your Honor, --

THE COURT: Pardon?

MR. SBAITI: -- the deposition was last Tuesday, not on Friday.

MR. MORRIS: I stand corrected, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I apologize.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I apologize if the Court thinks I misled it.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Let's talk about Mr. Scott's decision during the bankruptcy case that preceded his resignation. After HCMLP filed for bankruptcy, CLO Holdco, Ltd. filed a proof of claim, correct?

MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, I haven't objected yet, but we literally haven't covered anything that deals with commencing or pursuing a claim or cause of action. I'm going to object. This is way outside, again, the bounds of the contempt hearing. It's -- otherwise, it's other discovery for something else. It literally has nothing to do with pursue a claim or cause of action.

THE COURT: We have another relevance objection. Your response?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, the evidence is going to show that Mr. Dondero told Mr. Scott on three separate occasions that his conduct, which were acts of independence, were inappropriate and were not in the best interests of the DAF. Within days of the third strike, he resigned. Okay?

I think it's relevant to Mr. Dondero's control of the DAF. I think that the moment that Mr. -- this is the argument I'm going to make. I'll make it right now. You want me to make it now, I'll make it now. The moment that Mr. Scott exercised independence, Mr. Dondero was all over him, and Mr. Scott left. That's what happened. The evidence is going to be crystal clear.

And I think that that control of the DAF is exactly what led to this lawsuit. And what led -- and I'm allowed to make my argument. So that's why it's relevant, Your Honor, because I think it shows that Mr. Scott -- Mr. Scott, after exercising independence, was forced out.

MR. ANDERSON: That doesn't move the needle one bit as to whether a lawsuit was commenced or a claim or cause of action was pursued, which is the subject of the contempt motion. It doesn't move the needle one bit as to those two issues, as to whether that has any bearing on was it commenced or was it pursued.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I appreciate the very narrow focus that counsel for a different party is trying to put on this, but it is absolutely relevant to the question of whether Mr. Dondero was involved in the pursuit of these claims. All right? That's what the order says. Pursue.

THE COURT: All right. Overruled.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q After HCMLP filed for bankruptcy, CLO Holdco filed a proof of claim, correct?

A I believe so.
Q And in the fall of 2020, Mr. Scott amended the proof of claim to effectively reduce it to zero, correct?
A I -- I guess.
Q And Mr. Scott made that decision without discussing it with you in advance, correct?
A Yes.
Q But you did discuss it with him after you learned of that decision, correct?
A I don't -- I don't recall. I'm willing to be refreshed, but I don't remember.
Q Well, you told him specifically that he had given up bona fide claims against the Debtor, correct?
A Let me state or clarify my testimony this way. Um, --
MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, it's really just a yes or no question. His counsel can ask him if he wants to clarify, but it's really just a yes or no question.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q You told Mr. Scott that he gave up bona fide claims against the Debtor, correct?
THE COURT: Okay.
THE WITNESS: I don't know if I told him then with regard to those claims.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Okay. Can we go to Page 321 of the transcript? At the bottom, Line 21? 22, I apologize.

Did I ask this question and did you give this answer? "And what do you" -- Question, "And what do you recall about your discussion with Mr. Scott afterwards?" Answer, "That he had given up bona fide claims against the Debtor and I didn't understand why."

Did I ask that question and did you give that answer last Tuesday?

A Yes.

Q Okay. A short time later, in December, the Debtor filed notice of their intention to enter into a settlement with HarbourVest, correct?

A Yes.

Q And CLO Holdco, under Mr. Scott's direction, filed an objection to that settlement, correct?

A Yes.

Q And that settlement, the substance of that settlement was that the Debtor did not have the right to receive HarbourVest's interests in HCLOF at the time, correct?

A I don't remember the exact substance of it.

Q Okay. But you do remember that you learned that Mr. Scott caused CLO Holdco to withdraw the objection, correct?

A Yes, ultimately.

Q Okay. And again, Mr. Scott did not give you advance notice that he was going to withdraw the HarbourVest objection, correct?

A No, he -- he did it an hour before the hearing. He didn't give anybody notice.

Q You learned that Mr. Scott caused CLO Holdco to withdraw its objection to the HarbourVest settlement at the hearing, correct?

A Yes.

Q And you were surprised by that, weren't you?

A I believe everybody was.

Q You were sur... you were surprised by that, weren't you, sir?

A Yes.

Q And you were surprised by that because you believed Mr. Scott's decision was inappropriate, right?

A Partly inappropriate, and partly because 8:00 o'clock the night before he confirmed that he was going forward with the objection. And I think the DAF's objection was scheduled to be first, I think.

Q After you learned that Mr. Scott instructed his attorneys to withdraw the CLO Holdco objection to the HarbourVest settlement, you again spoke with Mr. Scott, correct?

A Yes.

Q And that conversation took place the day of the hearing or shortly thereafter, correct?

A Yes.

Q And during that conversation, you told Mr. Scott that it was inappropriate to withdraw the objection, correct?
A Yes.
Q And in response, Mr. Scott told you that he followed the advice of his lawyers, correct?
A Yes.
Q But that didn't -- that explanation didn't make sense to you, right?
A Yes.
Q In fact, you believed that Mr. Scott failed to act in the best interests of the DAF and CLO Holdco by withdrawing its objection to the HarbourVest settlement, correct?
A Yes.
Q And while you didn't specifically use the words fiduciary duty, you reminded Mr. Scott in your communications with him that he needed to do what was in the best interests of the DAF, correct?
A Yes.
Q You're the founder of the DAF, correct?
A I put it -- I put it in motion. Yeah. I tasked Mark Patrick and third-party law firms to do it, but if that boils down to founder, I guess yes.
Q Uh-huh. And you're the primary donor to the DAF, correct?
A Yes.
Q You're the investment advisor to the DAF, or at least you were at that time?

A Yes.

Q And because you served in these roles, you expected Mr. Scott to discuss his decision to withdraw the HarbourVest objection in advance, correct?

A Yes, I -- I think it was even broader than that. I mean, he was having health and anxiety issues, and to the extent he felt overwhelmed, I -- you know, yeah, you should do what's in the best interests at all times, but -- but yes, I thought it would be helpful if he conferred with me or Mark Patrick or whoever he was comfortable with.

Q Mr. Dondero, you specifically believed that Mr. Scott's failure to tell you that he was going to withdraw the HarbourVest objection in advance was inappropriate, right?

A Yes.

Q Even though he was the sole authorized representative, you believed that, because you were the founder of the DAF, the primary donor of the DAF, and the investment advisor to the DAF, he should have discussed that before he actually made the decision, correct?

A No. What I'm saying is at 8:00 o'clock at night, when he confirms to numerous people he's ready to go first thing with his objection, and then he or counsel or some combination of them change their mind and don't tell anybody before the hearing, that's odd and inappropriate behavior.

MR. MORRIS: Can we go to Page 330 of the transcript, please?

And Your Honor, before I read the testimony, there is an objection there. So I'd like you to rule --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- before I do that. It can be found at -- on Page 330 at Line 21.

(Pause.)

MR. MORRIS: Here we go. Page 30, beginning at Line 19. 330, rather.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: Okay. I overrule that objection.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Dondero, were you asked this question and did you give this answer last Tuesday? Question, "Do you believe that he had an obligation to inform you in advance?" Answer, "I don't know if I would use the word obligation, but, again, as the founder or the primary donor and continued donor to the DAF, and as the investment advisor fighting for above-average returns on a daily basis for the fund, significant decisions that affect the finances of the fund would be something I would expect typically a trustee to discuss with the primary donor."

Did you give that answer the other day, sir?

A Yes.
Q If Mr. Patrick decides tomorrow to withdraw the lawsuit that's in District Court, does he have an the obligation to tell you in advance?
A Again, I wouldn't use the word obligation. But something that I think ultimately is going to be a $20 or $30 million, if not more, benefit to the DAF, to the detriment of Highland, if you were to give that up, I would expect him to have a rationale and I would expect him to get other people's thoughts and opinions before he did that.
Q Okay. But does he have to get your opinion before he acts?
A No, he does not.
Q Okay. So he -- Mr. Patrick could do that tomorrow, he could settle the case, and if he doesn't come to you to discuss it in advance, you won't be critical of him, right?
A He doesn't have the obligation, but there's -- there's a reasonableness in alignment of interests. I -- a growing entrepreneur sets up a trust, a lot of times they'll put their wife in charge of it, and she hires investment advisers and whatever, but they've got the best interests at mind for the charity or the children or whatever.

You know, people who go rogue and move in their own self-interest or panic, that stuff can happen all the time. It doesn't make it appropriate, though.

Q A couple of weeks after Mr. Scott withdraw the objection to the HarbourVest settlement, he entered into a settlement agreement with the Debtor pursuant to which he settled the dispute between the Debtor and CLO Holdco, correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. You didn't get advance notice of that third decision, correct?
A No.
Q Can we go to Page -- Exhibit 32 in your binder? And this is the settlement agreement between CLO Holdco and the Debtor, correct? Attached as the exhibit. I apologize.
A Yes.
Q And do you understand that that's Mr. Scott's signature on the last page?
A Yep.
Q And you learned about this settlement only after it had been reached, correct?
A Yep.
Q And you believed Mr. Scott's decision not to pursue certain claims against the Debtor or to remove HCMLP as the manager of the CLOs was not in the best interests of the DAF, correct?
A Correct.
Q And you let Mr. Scott know that, correct?
A Yes.

Q After learning about the settlement agreement on January 26th, you had one or two conversations with Mr. Scott on this topic, correct?
A Yes.
Q And your message to Mr. Scott was that the compromise or settlement wasn't in the DAF's best interest, correct?
A It was horrible for the DAF.
Q Uh-huh. And you told him that, right?
A Yes.
Q Okay. From your perspective, any time a trustee doesn't do what you believe is in the trust's best interest, you leave yourself open to getting sued, correct?
A Who is "you" in that question?
Q You. Mr. Dondero.
A Can you repeat the question, then, please?
Q Sure. From your perspective, any time you're a trustee and you don't believe that the trustee is doing what's in the best interests of the fund, the trustee leaves himself open to getting sued, correct?
A I don't know who the trustee leaves himself open to, but as soon as you go down a path of self-interest or panic, you -- you potentially create a bad situation. But I don't know who holds who liable.
Q Did you believe that Mr. Scott was acting out of self-interest or panic when he decided to settle the dispute with the Debtor on behalf of CLO Holdco?

A Yes.
Q Did you tell him that?
A He told me that.
Q He told you that he was acting out of panic or desperation? With self-int... withdrawn. Withdrawn. Did he tell you that he was acting out of self-interest?
A He was having health problems, anxiety problems, and he didn't want to deal with the conflict. He didn't want to testify. He didn't want to come to court. He didn't want to do those things. And I told him I didn't think the settlement was going to get him out of that stuff. I think, you know, it got him out of some issues, but I think you guys are going to go after him for other stuff. But he -- he panicked.
MR. MORRIS: I move to strike the latter remark.
THE COURT: Sustained.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Shortly after you had the conversation with Mr. Scott, he sent you notice of his intent to resign from his positions at the DAF and CLO Holdco, correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Let's take a look at that, please. Exhibit 29. This is Mr. Scott's notice of resignation, correct?
A Yes.
Q He sent it only to you, correct?

A Yes.
Q A couple of days before he sent this, he told you he was considering resigning; isn't that right?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And he told you he was considering resigning because he was suffering from health and anxiety issues regarding the confrontation and the challenges of administering the DAF given the bankruptcy, correct?
A Yes.
Q He didn't tell you that he made the decision -- withdrawn. Did you tell him in this same conversation -- withdrawn. Is this the same conversation where you conveyed the message that the compromise or settlement wasn't in the best interests of the DAF?
A You mean the conversation -- or the resignation? Is that -- can you rephrase the question, please?
Q Yeah, I apologize. It's my fault, sir. You testified that after the January 26th hearing you had a conversation with Mr. Scott where you told him that the compromise or settlement was not in the best interests of the DAF, correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Did Mr. Scott share with you his concerns about anxiety and health issues in that same conversation, or was it in a subsequent conversation?
A It was at or around that time. I -- I don't remember which conversation.

Q Okay.

A But it was right at or around that time.

Q All right. You never asked Mr. Scott to reconsider, did you?

A No.

Q You don't recall sending this notice of resignation to anyone, do you?

A No.

Q You don't remember notifying anyone that you'd received notice of Mr. Scott's intent to resign from the DAF, do you?

A It was -- yeah, no, I -- I don't remember. It was a busy time around that time and this was a secondary issue.

Q Okay. So the fact that the person who has been running the DAF for a decade gives you and only you notice of his intent to resign was a secondary issue in your mind?

A Yes, because when I talked to him at about that time, I said, okay, well, it's going to take a while. I don't even know how the mechanism works. But don't do anything adverse to the DAF, don't do anything else until, you know, you've figured out transition.

Q Uh-huh.

A And so once he had confirmed he wouldn't do anything outside normal course until he transitioned, I didn't worry about this. I had bigger issues to worry about at the time.

Q In the third paragraph of his email to you, he wrote that his resignation will not be effective until he approves of the indemnification provisions and obtains any and all necessary releases. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And that was the condition that on January 31st Mr. Scott placed on the effectiveness of his resignation, correct?

A Condition? Yeah, I -- I think he's trying to state the timing will happen after that.

Q After he gets the release, right?

A Yes.

Q And he wanted the release because you'd told him three different times that he wasn't acting in the best of the DAF, correct?

MR. TAYLOR: Objection, Your Honor.

MR. SBAITI: Objection. Calls for --

MR. TAYLOR: Objection. Calls for speculation.

THE WITNESS: Yeah, I --

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: I can't take that jump. Yeah.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q In response to this email from your lifelong friend, you responded, if we could scroll up, about whether divest was a synonym -- if we can look at the first one -- whether divest is a synonym for resigned. Do I have that right?

A (no immediate response)
Q If you will look at your response on Monday morning at 9:50.
A Yes.
Q Okay. And then after Mr. Scott responds, you respond further, if we can scroll up, and you specifically told him, "You need to tell me ASAP that you have no intent to divest assets." Correct?
A Yes.
Q And you wrote that because you believed some of his behavior was unpredictable, right?
A I think I wrote that because the term divest in investment terms means sale or liquidate, but I guess it had a different legal term in the way he was looking at it. I wasn't aware at that time of the shares that could be bequeathed to anybody, and I think the divest refers to that, but I wasn't aware that that's how the structure worked at that time, and I was worried that divest could be the investment term and I -- it wouldn't have been appropriate for him to liquidate the portfolio.
Q So, and you wanted to make sure he wasn't liquidating or intending to liquidate any of the CLOs, correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. So he's still the authorized, the sole authorized representative, but you wanted to make sure that he didn't do anything that you thought was inappropriate. Fair?

A It's because I had talked to him before this and he said he wasn't going to do anything outside normal course, and then the word divest scared me, but I didn't realize it was a legal term in this parlance here.
Q And so after he explained, you still wanted to make sure that he wasn't divesting any assets, correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Since February 1st, you've exchanged exactly one text messages with Mr. Scott; is that right?
A I think there've been several, several text messages. But one on his birthday.
Q Yeah. And you haven't spoken to him in months, correct?
A In a couple months, yes.
Q All right. Let's talk about the replacement of Mr. Scott. With -- with Mr. Scott's notice, someone needed to find a replacement, correct?
A Yes.
Q And the replacement was going to be responsible for managing a charitable organization with approximately $200 million of assets, most of which was seeded directly or indirectly through you, correct?
A Yes.
Q And the replacement was going to get his and her -- his or her investment advice from you and NexPoint Advisors; do I have that right?

A That was the plan.
Q Okay. Ultimately, Mr. Patrick replaced Mr. Scott, correct?
A Yes.
Q But it's your testimony that you had no knowledge that Mr. Patrick was going to replace Mr. Scott until after it happened on March 24, 2021. Correct?
A That's correct. I believe it happened suddenly.
Q So, for nearly two months after you had received notice of Mr. Scott's intent to resign, you were uninvolved in the process of selecting his replacement, correct?
A I was uninvolved. I'd say the process was dormant for an extended period of time until Mark Patrick came on board, and then Mark Patrick ran the process of interviewing multiple potential candidates.
Q Mark Patrick didn't have any authority prior to March 24th, correct?
A Is March 24th the date that he transitioned the shares to himself from Grant Scott?
Q Yep.
A That's when he then became the trustee of the DAF, yes.
Q Do you know -- do you know who was instructing Mr. Patrick on who to interview or how to carry the process out?
A He was doing that on his own with, I think, recommendations from third-party tax firms.

Q So Mr. Patrick was trying to find a successor to Mr. Scott, even though he had no authority to do that, and you were completely uninvolved in the whole process? Do I have that right?

A I was uninvolved, yes. He was trying to facilitate it for the benefit of his friendship with Grant Scott and knowing that it -- it -- with his resignation, it had to transition to somebody. And he enjoys working on the DAF, he enjoys the charitable stuff in the community, and he was the most appropriate person to work on helping Grant transition.

MR. MORRIS: All right. I move to strike, Your Honor. It's hearsay.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q You're aware that Mr. Seery was appointed the Debtor's CEO and CRO last summer, correct?

A Yes.

Q And you're aware that Mr. Seery's appointment was approved by the Bankruptcy Court, correct?

A Yes.

Q And you were aware of that at the time it happened, correct?

A Yes.

Q And even before that, in January of 2020, you consented to a settlement where you gave up control of the Debtor. Correct?

A To the independent board for a consensual Chapter 11 restructuring that would leave Highland intact.

Q And do you understand that the gatekeeper provision in the July order is exactly like the one that you agreed to in January except that it applies to Mr. Seery instead of the independent directors?

A I -- I learned a lot about that today, but I don't think it's appropriate to move what applied to the board to the CEO of a registered investment advisor.

Q Okay. I'm just asking you, sir. Listen carefully to my question. Were you aware in January 2020 that you agreed to a gatekeeper provision on behalf of the independent board?

A Generally, but not specifically.

Q Okay.

A Not -- not like what we've been going over today.

Q Okay. And you knew that Mr. Seery had applied to be appointed CEO subject to the Court's approval, correct?

A Wasn't it backdated to March? I -- I think the hearing was in June, but it was backdated for -- for money and other purposes, right? I -- that's my recollection. I don't remember otherwise.

Q You do remember that Mr. Seery got -- he got -- his appointment got approved by the Court, right?

A Yes. But, as far as the dates are concerned, I thought it was either in March or retroactive to March. Maybe it was June or July.

Q And you --

A But I don't remember.

Q Did you have your lawyers review the motion that was filed on behalf of the Debtor?

A I'm -- I assume they do their job. I -- if they didn't, I don't know.

Q Okay. That's what you hired them to do; is that fair?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Can we go to Exhibit 12, please? I think it's in Binder 1. You've seen this document before, correct?

A Yes.

Q In fact, you saw versions of this complaint before it was filed, correct?

A Yes, I saw one or two versions towards the end. I don't know if I saw the final version, but --

Q Sir, you participated in discussions with Mr. Sbaiti concerning the substance of this complaint before it was filed, correct?

A Some. I would just use the word some.

Q Okay. Can you describe for me all of your conversations with Mr. Sbaiti concerning the substance of this complaint?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I would object on the basis of work product privilege and attorney-client communications. He was an agent for my client, the DAF, at the time he was having these discussions with us, and our discussions with him were work product. So to the extent he can reveal the conversations without discussing the actual content, we would raise privilege objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, there is no privilege here. That's exactly why I asked Mr. Patrick the questions earlier today. Mr. Dondero is not party to any agreement with the DAF today. It's an informal agreement, perhaps, but there is no contractual relationship, there is no privity any longer between Mr. Dondero or any entity that owns and controls in the DAF, as far as I know. If they have evidence of it, I'm happy to listen, but that -- that's exactly why I asked those questions of Mr. Patrick earlier today.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SBAITI: Your --

THE COURT: That was the testimony. There's an informal arrangement, at best.

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, I would suggest that that doesn't necessarily mean that he isn't an agent of the DAF. It doesn't have to be a formal agreement for him to be an agent of the DAF.

Everyone's agreed he was an advisor. Everyone's agreed he was helping out. That is an agency relationship. It doesn't have to be written down. It doesn't have to be a formal investment advisory relationship. He's still an agent of the DAF. He was requested to do something and agreed to do it under the expectation that all of us had that those would be privileged, Your Honor. That is -- that is sufficient -- that is sufficient, I would argue, to get us where we need to be. The privilege should apply, Your Honor, and they don't have a basis for, I would say, invading the privilege, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, do you have any authority? Because it just sounds wrong. He's not an employee of your client. He doesn't have any contractual arrangement with your client.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I would dispute the idea that he has no contractual arrangement with my client. The question was asked, do you have a -- do you have a written agreement, and then the question was, so you don't have a contract, and the answer was no, I don't have a contract, building upon that first -- that first question. But the testimony as he just recounted is that there is an agreement that he would advise Mr. Patrick and he would advise the DAF.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: That's -- that's a contract.

THE COURT: Okay. My question was, do you have any legal authority? That's what I meant when I said authority. Any legal authority to support the privilege applying in this kind of --

MR. SBAITI: In an informal arrangement, Your Honor? I don't have one at my fingertips at the moment, Your Honor, but I don't know that that should be a reason to invade the privilege.

And I would just add, Your Honor, I would just add, we've already -- because of the purpose of these questions, you've heard Mr. Morris state several times that the purpose is to show that Mr. -- that Mr. Dondero had some role in advising and participating in the creation of this complaint. That's been conceded by myself. I believe it was conceded by Mr. Dondero.

The actual specific facts, the actual specific conversations, Your Honor, shouldn't be relevant at this point and they shouldn't be admissible, given -- given the relevancy, given the perspective of the privilege.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: If I might --

THE COURT: I overrule your objection. I don't think a privilege has been shown here --

MR. SBAITI: And Your Honor, --

THE COURT: -- and I think it's relevant.

MR. SBAITI: -- I would ask if we could voir dire the witness on the basis of the privilege, if that's --

THE COURT: All right. You may do so.

VOIR DIRE EXAMINATION

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Mr. Dondero, do you have a relationship with the DAF?

A Yes.

Q How would you describe that relationship?

A I view myself and my firm as the investment advisor. I was actually surprised by the testimony today that there wasn't a contract in place, but there should be one. There should be one soon, in my opinion.

Q Have you -- did you hear Mr. Patrick testify earlier that he comes to you for advice?

A Yes.

Q Is that --

A As he should. Yeah.

Q Is that true?

A Yes.

Q When you render that advice, do you render that advice with some expectation about him following or listening to that advice?

A Okay, I think there's only been one investment or one change in the DAF portfolio since Mark Patrick's been involved, only one, and it was a real estate investment that I wasn't directly involved in. And so the people who put that investment forward worked with Mark without my involvement, and then I think Mark got third-party appraisal firms and third-party valuation firms involved to make sure he was comfortable, which was a good process.

Q When you supplied information to Mr. Patrick, do you do so under the belief that there is a contractual, informal or formal, relationship?

MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SBAITI: What specific form?

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Yes. I believe it -- it's a relationship that can and should be papered as -- soon. That's my -- I mean, unless I get some reason from counsel not to, I think it's something that should be memorialized.

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q And when you have that -- in that relationship, when you communicate with Mr. Patrick about matters, investment or otherwise, is there an expectation of privacy?

A Yes.

Q When Mr. Patrick -- did Mr. Patrick request that you interface with my firm and myself, as he testified earlier?

A Yes.

Q And when he did so, did he ask you to do so in an investigatory manner?

MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question.

THE COURT: Sustained. Rephrase.

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Did he tell you why he wanted you to talk to us?

A Yeah. At that point, he had started an investigation into the HarbourVest transaction.

Q And -- and when he -- when you were providing information to us, did he tell you whether he wanted you to help the Sbaiti firm conduct the investigation?

A The -- overall, the financial numbers and tables in there were prepared by not myself, but I -- I did -- I did help on -- on the -- some of the registered investment advisor issues as I understood them.

Q Okay. And the communications that you had with us, was that part of our investigation?

MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q And did you understand that we had been retained by Mr. Patrick on behalf of the DAF and CLO Holdco?

A Yes.

Q And did you appreciate or have any understanding of whether or not you were helping the law firm perform its legal function on behalf of the DAF and CLO Holdco?

A Perform its legal function? I was just helping with regard to the registered investment advisor aspects of the overall, you know, like that.

Q Let me ask a more simple question. Did you -- did you appreciate that you were assisting a law firm in its representation of the DAF?

A Yes.

Q And you were helping the law -- and were you helping the law firm develop the facts for a complaint?

A Yes. I would almost say, more importantly, I wanted to make sure that there weren't errors in terms of understanding either how CLOs worked or how the Investment Advisers Act worked. So I was -- it was almost more of a proofing.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, based upon that, I mean, he's helping a law firm perform its function for the client. That's an agency relationship that gets cloaked. You can call him a consulting expert. You can call him, to a certain extent, a fact witness, Your Honor. If we want to take a break, I'm sure we could find authority on that basis for a work product privilege pretty easily.

But he's an agent of the DAF. Even if it's an informal agency relationship, that's still agency. He's in some respects, I guess, an agent of the law firm, to the extent he's helping us perform our legal work. And it seems like invading that privilege at this juncture is (a) unnecessary, because we've already conceded that there's been conversations, which I think is the relationship they wanted to establish. And it's not unusual for a law firm to use someone with specialized knowledge to understand some of the intricacies of the actual issues that they're -- that they're getting ready to litigate.

THE COURT: Okay. I find no privilege. All right. That's the ruling.

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, may I add one thing to the objection for the record?

THE COURT: Okay, we have a rule, one lawyer per witness. Okay? So, thank you. A District Court rule, by the way, not mine.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, may we take a short recess, given the Court's ruling?

THE COURT: Well, I'd really like to finish this witness. How much longer do you have?

MR. MORRIS: About eight more questions.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take a break after the direct, okay?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I would ask that we -- if he's going to ask him more questions about the content of the communications, I ask respectfully for a recess so we can figure out what to do about that. Because, right now, there's a ruling that he's going to have to reveal privileged information, and we don't have a way to go around and figure out how to resolve that issue if we needed to.

THE COURT: Okay. I've ruled it's not privilege. Okay?

MR. SBAITI: I understand that, Your Honor, but --

THE COURT: Your client is CLO Holdco and the DAF.

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Representative, Mark Patrick. No contract with Mr. Dondero. The fact that he may be very involved I don't think gives rise to a privilege. That's my ruling.

MR. SBAITI: I understand, Your Honor. I understand, Your Honor, but I'm asking for a recess so that we can at least undertake to provide Your Honor with some case law on a reconsideration before we go there, because that bell can't be unrung.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, if I may?

MR. SBAITI: And it's --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: I'm happy to give them ten minutes, Your Honor, as long as they don't talk to the witness.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I want to give them the opportunity. Go right ahead.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take a ten-minute break.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you.

THE COURT: It's 3:05.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 3:03 p.m. until 3:17 p.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Okay. Please be seated. Going back on the record in Highland. Mr. Sbaiti?

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor. May I approach?

THE COURT: You may.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, we have some authority to support the position we'd taken. We'd ask the Court to reconsider your ruling on the privilege.

The first bit of authority is Section 70 of the Restatement (Third) of Law Governing Lawyers. Privileged persons within the meaning of Section 68, which governs the privilege, says that those persons include either agents of either the lawyer or the client who facilitate communications between the two in order for the lawyers to perform their function.

Another case that we found is 232 F.R.D. 103 from the Southern District of New York, 2005. It's Express Imperial Bank of U.S. v. Asia Pulp Company. And in that case, Your Honor, the consultant was a -- had a close working relationship with the company and performed a similar role to that of the employee and was assisting the law firm in performing their functions, and the court there found that the work product privilege -- actually, the attorney-client privilege -- attached in what they called a Functional Equivalents Doctrine, Your Honor.

And here we have pretty much the same set of facts that's pretty much undisputed. The fact that there -- and the fact that there isn't a written agreement doesn't mean there isn't a contractual arrangement for him to have rendered services and advice. And the fact that he's, you know, recruited by us to help us perform our functions puts him in the realm, as I said, of something of a consulting expert.

Either way, the work product privilege, Your Honor, should apply, and we'd ask Your Honor not to invade that privilege at this point, Your Honor. And I'll ask you to reconsider your prior ruling.

Furthermore, I believe Mr. Morris, you know, in making his argument, is trying to create separation. The fact that he has no relationship, that the privilege can be invaded, seems to defeat the whole premise of his whole line of questioning.

So, once again, Your Honor, I just -- it's a tit for a tat there, and it seems to kind of eat itself. Either he is working with us, which we've admitted he is working with us, us being the law firm, and helping us do our jobs, or he's not. And if he's not, then this should be done.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, briefly?

THE COURT: Well, among other things, what do you want me to do? Take a break and read your one sentence from the Restatements and your one case? And could you not have anticipated this beforehand?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, --

THE COURT: This is not the way we work in the bankruptcy courts, okay? We're business courts. We have thousands of cases. We expect briefing ahead of time.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, this has been a rather rushed process anyway. And to be honest, --

THE COURT: When was the motion filed?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, --

THE COURT: More than a month ago.

MR. SBAITI: -- his deposition was a week ago.

THE COURT: Well, okay. So you could not have anticipated this issue until his deposition one week ago?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, this issue arose at the deposition, obviously, because that's what he's quoting from. However, at least to us, this is such a well-settled area, and to be honest, --

THE COURT: Such a well-settled area that you have one sentence from the Restatement and one case from the Southern District of New York?

MR. SBAITI: No, Your Honor. I think the work product privilege lexicon -- we had ten minutes to try to find something more on point than the general case law that applies the work product privilege to people that work with lawyers, consultants who work with lawyers, employees who work with lawyers, even low-down employees who normally wouldn't enjoy the privileges that attach to the corporation, when they work with the company for -- when they work with the company lawyers, it typically attaches.

THE COURT: You know, obviously, I know a few things about work product privilege, but he doesn't check any of the boxes you just listed out.

MR. SBAITI: I disagree, Your Honor.

THE COURT: He's not an employee. He's not a low-level employee.

MR. SBAITI: He's a consultant.

THE COURT: With no agreement.

MR. SBAITI: With a verbal agreement. He's an advisor. And he was recruited by us, and at the request of the DAF, of the head of the DAF, Mr. Patrick, to help us do our job for the DAF. I don't --

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Morris, what do you want to say?

MR. MORRIS: Just briefly, Your Honor. This issue has been ripe since last Tuesday. They directed him not to answer a whole host of questions about his involvement at the deposition last Tuesday, so they've actually had six days to deal with this. That's number one.

Number two, there's absolutely nothing inconsistent with the Debtor's position that Mr. Dondero is participating in the pursuit of claims and at the same time saying that his communications with the Sbaiti firm are not privileged. There's nothing inconsistent about that.

So the argument that he just made, that somehow because we're trying to create separation, that that's inconsistent with our overall arching theme that Mr. Dondero is precisely engaged in the pursuit of claims against Mr. Seery, I think that takes care of that argument.

Finally, your Honor, with respect to this consultancy arrangement, not only isn't there anything in writing, but either you or Mr. Sbaiti or I, I think, should ask Mr. Dondero the terms of the agreement. Is he getting paid? Is he doing it for free? Who retained him? Was it Mr. -- because the -- there's no such thing. There's no such thing.

The fact of the matter is what happened is akin to I have a slip-and-fall case and I go to a personal injury lawyer and I bring my brother with me because I trust my brother with everything. It's not privileged. Any time you bring in somebody who is not the attorney or the client, the privilege is broken. It's really quite simple. Unless there's a common interest. They can't assert that here. There is no common interest. So --

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Sbaiti, I'll give you up to three more minutes to voir dire Mr. Dondero to try to establish some sort of agency relationship or other evidence that you think might be relevant.

VOIR DIRE, RESUMED

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Mr. Dondero, when you provided information to the law firm, were you doing so under an agency relationship? Do you know what an agency relationship is?

A Generally. When you're working on the -- or why don't you tell me?

Q Tell me your understanding, so we can use --

A That you're working for the benefit or as a proxy for the other entity or the other firm or the other person.

Q Right. So you're working for the DAF?

A Yes.

Q Do you do work for the DAF?

A Yes. As I stated, I'm surprised there isn't -- when we reconstituted after leaving Highland, we put in shared services agreements in place and asset management agreements in place and tasked people with doing that for most of the entities. There might be still a few contracts that are being negotiated, but I thought most of them were in place.

So I would imagine that there'll be an asset management agreement with the DAF back to NexPoint sometime soon, so it -- it's --

Q Let me ask you this question. When you were providing information to us and having conversations with us, were you doing that as an agent of the DAF, the way you described it, --

A Yes.

Q -- on their behalf?

A Yes.

Q Were you also doing it to help us do our jobs for the DAF?

A Yes.

Q Did you respond to requests for information from myself?

A Yes.

Q Did you help coordinate other -- finding other witnesses or sources of information at my request?

A Yes.

Q Did you do so based upon any understanding that I was working on behalf of the DAF for that?

A Yes. I knew -- I knew you were working for the DAF. No one else, yeah.

Q And so -- and so did you provide any expertise or any in-depth understanding to myself in helping me prepare that complaint?

A I think so, but I give a lot of credit to your firm for researching things that I -- I knew reasonably well but then you guys researched in even more depth.

MR. MORRIS: I'd move to strike the answer as nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Let me ask the question again. When you were providing us information and expertise, were you doing so knowing you were working -- helping us work for the DAF?

A Yes.

Q Now, did you demand any compensation for that?

A No.

Q Do you require compensation necessarily to help the DAF?

A No.

Q Do you do other things for the DAF sometimes without compensation?

A Right. We do the right thing, whether we get paid for it or not. Yes.

Q Had you known that our communications were not necessarily part of an agency relationship with the DAF, as you understood it, that you were just some guy out on the street, would you have had the same conversations with us?

A (sighs)

Q Let me ask a better question. If I had come to you working for someone that wasn't the DAF, you didn't already have a relationship with, would you have given us the same help?

A I wouldn't have been involved if it was somebody else.
Q Is the reason you got involved because we were the lawyers for the DAF?
A Correct.
MR. MORRIS: Objection. It's just leading. This is all leading.
THE WITNESS: Correct.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. SBAITI: Can --
THE WITNESS: Yeah. Sorry.
BY MR. SBAITI:
Q Do you get -- do -- did you -- did you do work for the -- did you provide the help for the DAF laboring under the understanding that there was an agreement?
MR. MORRIS: Objection; leading.
THE COURT: Sustained.
BY MR. SBAITI:
Q Earlier you testified you believed there was an agreement?
A I thought that was an agreement, and I thought there will be one shortly if there isn't one, yes.
Q Okay.
A And so we -- I've been operating in a bona fide way in the best interests of the DAF throughout -- assuming there was an agreement, but even if there wasn't a formal one, I would still be moving in the best interests of the DAF and helping your firm out or --

Q And you did that because you believed there was an agreement or soon would be?

A Yes.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I mean, I believe we've established a dual role here, both as an agent of the DAF and as an agent of the law firm, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Just a minute. I'm looking at Texas authority on common interest privilege to see if there's anything that --

(Pause.)

THE COURT: All right. Again, it would have been very nice to get briefing ahead of time. I think this absolutely could have been anticipated.

I do not find the evidence supports any sort of protection of this testimony under work product privilege, common interest privilege. I just haven't been given authority or evidence that supports that conclusion. So the objections are overruled.

Mr. Morris, go ahead.

DIRECT EXAMINATION, RESUMED

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Can you describe for the Court the substance of your communications with Mr. Sbaiti concerning the complaint?

A As I've stated, directing him toward the Advisers Act and then largely in a proofing function regarding CLO nomenclature and some of the other fund nomenclature that sometimes gets chaotic in legal briefs.

Q Did you communicate in writing at any time with anybody at the Sbaiti firm regarding any of the matters that are the subject of the complaint?

A I can't remember anything in writing. Almost everything was verbal, on the phone.

Q You don't tend to write much, right?

A Periodically.

Q Did you communicate with Mr. Patrick? Did you communicate with anybody in the world in writing regarding the substance of anything having to do with the complaint?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Argumentative.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I --

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, may I just -- one housekeeping. Rather than raise the same objection, may we have a standing objection, just so we're not disruptive, as to the privilege, just for preservation purposes, on the content of these communications? Otherwise, I'll just make the same objections and we can go through it.

THE COURT: Well, disruptive as it may be, I think you need to object to every --

MR. SBAITI: Okay.

THE COURT: -- question you think the privilege applies to.

MR. SBAITI: I will do so. Thank you, Your Honor. Uh-huh.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Dondero, the question was whether you've ever communicated with anybody in the world in writing concerning anything having to do with the complaint?

A Not that I remember.

Q Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I will point out, Your Honor, that last week, when the privilege was asserted, I had requested the production of a privilege log. I was told -- I forget exactly what I was told, but we never received one. I'll just point that out as well.

THE COURT: Okay.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q You provided comments to the drafts of the complaint before it was filed, correct?

A Yes, a few.

Q Can you describe for the Court all of the comments that you provided to earlier drafts of the complaint?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, we object on the basis of privilege and work product and joint -- joint interest privilege.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: It's along the lines of things I've said in this court several times. The obligations under the Advisers Act cannot be negotiated away and they cannot be waived by the people involved, full stop. I remember giving the -- Mazin the example of the only reason why we're in a bankruptcy is from an arbitration award that, even though we did what was in the best interests of the investors, we got the investors out more than whole over an extended period of time, they got an arbitration award that said when we purchased some of the secondary interests we should have offered them up to the other 800 members in the committee besides the -- the 800 investors in the fund besides the eight people on the committee who had approved it and that the committee couldn't approve a settlement that went against the Advisers Act and the Advisers Act stipulates specifically that you have to offer it up to other investors before you take an opportunity for yourself. And someday, hell or high water, in this court or some other, we will get justice on that. And that was the primary point that I reminded Mazin about.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q And that's exactly the conversation you had with Mark Patrick that started this whole thing, correct?

A No.

Q You told Mark Patrick that you believe the Debtor had usurped a corporate opportunity that should have gone to the DAF, didn't you?

A That was not our conversation.

Q So when Mr. Patrick testified to that earlier today, he just got it wrong, right?

A Well, maybe later on, but it wasn't that in the beginning. The beginning, any conversation I had with Mark Patrick in the beginning was smelling a rat in the way that the Debtor had priced the portfolio for HarbourVest.

Q Hmm. So you're the one, again, who started that piece of the discussion as well, correct?

A Started the -- I -- I guess I smelled a rat, but I put the person who could do all the numbers in touch with the Sbaiti firm.

Q And was the rat Mr. Seery?

A Was the rat Mr. Seery? Or the independent board. Or a combination thereof. I believe the independent board knew exactly what Seery was doing with --

Q Do you have any idea --

A -- HarbourVest.

Q Do you have any idea why, why the Sbaiti firm didn't name the whole independent board in the -- in the motion for leave to amend?

A I don't know. Maybe they will at some point.

Q Yeah.
A I don't know.
Q But did you tell the Sbaiti firm that you thought the whole independent board was acting in bad faith and was a rat?
MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I object on the basis of privilege.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MR. SBAITI: All three.
THE WITNESS: I knew Jim Seery was and I knew Jim Seery had weekly meetings with the other independent board members, so the HarbourVest settlement was significant enough that it would have been approved, but I don't have direct knowledge of their involvement.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q And so you -- but you believed Jim Seery was certainly a rat, right?
A Oh, I -- there was a defrauding of third-party investors to the tune of not insignificant 30, 40, 50 million bucks, and it was obfuscated, it was -- it was highly obfuscated in the 9019.
Q Did you think Mr. Seery was a rat, sir? Yes or no?
A I believe he had monthly financials. He knew that the numbers presented in the 9019 were wrong. And if that makes him a rat, that makes him a rat. Or maybe he's just being aggressive for the benefit of his incentive or for the estate.

But I -- I believe those things wholeheartedly.

Q Did you tell the Sbaiti firm you thought Jim Seery was a rat?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Privilege.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I -- I don't remember using those words.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Did you tell the Sbaiti Firm that you thought Jim Seery had engaged in wrongful conduct?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, objection. Privilege.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I believe he violated the Advisers Act, and I was clear on that throughout.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Listen carefully to my question. Did you tell the Sbaiti firm that you believed that Jim Seery engaged in wrongful conduct?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for privileged communications.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I think I gave the answer. I'll give the same answer. I believe he violated the Advisers Act.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q What other wrongful conduct did you tell the Sbaiti firm you thought Mr. Seery had engaged in?

MR. SBAITI: Same objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SBAITI: Calls for privileged communications.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I -- I just remember the obfuscating and mispricing portfolio violations of the Advisers Act was all I discussed with the Sbaiti firm regarding Seery's behavior.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Did you talk to them about coming to this Court under the gatekeeper order to see if you could get permission to sue Mr. Seery?

A I --

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for privileged communication.

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I wasn't involved in any of the --

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Did you --

A -- tactical stuff on who to sell or -- who to sue or when or whatever.

Q Did you tell the Sbaiti firm that you thought they should sue Mr. Seery?

MR. SBAITI: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for privileged communication.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SBAITI: I'll also say, Your Honor, the question is getting a little argumentative.

THE WITNESS: I didn't get directly --

THE COURT: Overruled.

THE WITNESS: I didn't get directly involved in who was -- who was specifically liable.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q How many times did you speak with the Sbaiti firm concerning the complaint?

A Half a dozen times, maybe.

Q Did you ever meet with them in person?

A I've only met with them in person a couple, three times. And I don't think any of them -- no, it was, excuse me, it was on deposition or other stuff. It wasn't regarding this.

Q Did you send them any information that was related to the complaint?

A I did not.

Q Did you ask anybody to send the Sbaiti firm information that related to the complaint?

A I did not. I -- I was aware that Hunter Covitz was providing the historic detailed knowledge to the firm, but it -- it wasn't -- I don't believe it was me who orchestrated that.

Q Did you talk to anybody at Skyview about the allegations that are contained in the complaint before it was filed?
A I don't -- I don't remember.
Q Have you ever talked to Isaac Leventon or Scott Ellington about the allegations in the complaint?
A No. They weren't involved.
Q How about -- how about D.C. Sauter? You ever speak to him about it?
A I don't --

MR. TAYLOR: Objection, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: I don't remember.

MR. TAYLOR: At this point, D.C. Sauter is indeed an employee of Skybridge and is a general counsel for some of the entities which he worked for. And to the extent he's trying to ask for those communications, that would be invasion of the privilege.

MR. MORRIS: I'll withdraw it, Your Honor. That's fair.

THE COURT: Okay

MR. MORRIS: That's fair.

THE COURT: Question withdrawn.

THE WITNESS: I thought you only had eight more questions.

MR. MORRIS: Opened the door.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Can you describe the general fact -- withdrawn. You provided facts and ideas to the Sbaiti firm in connection with your review of the draft complaint, correct?

A Ideas and proofreading.

Q Anything beyond what you haven't described already?

A Nope.

Q Okay. Who is your primary contact at the Sbaiti firm, if you had one?

A Mazin.

Q Okay. Did you suggest to Mr. Sbaiti that Mr. Seery should be named as a defendant in the lawsuit before it was filed?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, calls for privileged communication. We object --

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. SBAITI: -- to that answer.

MR. SBAITI: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Again, no. I wasn't involved with the tactics on who would be defendants and when or if other people would be added.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Did you -- are familiar with the motion to amend that was filed by the Sbaiti firm?

A I'm more familiar with it after today --

Q Right.

A -- than I was before.

Q And were you aware that that motion was going to be filed prior to the time that it actually was filed?
A I -- I don't remember. Probably.
Q And who would have been the source of that information? Would that have been Mr. Sbaiti?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And did you express any support for the decision to file the motion for leave to amend in the District Court?
A I -- I wasn't involved. It was very complicated legal preservation conver... -- I wasn't involved. I knew the conversations were going on between different lawyers, but I wasn't involved in the ultimate decision. I didn't encourage, applaud, or even know exactly what court it was going to be filed in.

MR. MORRIS: All right. I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Pass the witness.

MR. ANDERSON: We have no questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Any questions from Respondents?

MR. SBAITI: No questions.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Taylor?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. TAYLOR:
Q Mr. Dondero, --

A Yes, sir.

Q -- you are not the authorized representative of CLO Holdco, are you?

A No.

Q You're not the authorized representative for the DAF, are you?

A No.

Q Do you know who that person is as we sit here today?

A Yes.

Q Who is that?

A Mark Patrick.

Q Thank you.

MR. TAYLOR: No further questions.

THE COURT: Any redirect on that cross?

MR. MORRIS: I do not, Your Honor. I would just like to finish up the Debtor's case in chief by moving my exhibits into evidence.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Dondero, you're excused.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. So you have no more witnesses; you're just going to offer exhibits?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: So, at Docket #2410, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- the Court will find Exhibits 1 through 53.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: In advance, Your Honor, I've conferred with the Respondents' counsel. They had previously objected to Exhibits 15 and 16, which I believe were the Grant Scott deposition transcripts. They objected to them on the grounds of lack of completeness because I had taken the time to make deposition designations, but I'm happy to put the entirety of both transcripts into evidence, and I hope that that will remove the objections to Exhibits 15 and 16.

THE COURT: All right. Before we confirm, let's just make sure we have the right one.

MR. MORRIS: Oh, I apologize.

THE COURT: I have 16 as the July order.

MR. MORRIS: I apologize. You're absolutely right, Your Honor. What I was referring to was -- oh, goodness. One second. (Pause.) I was referring to Exhibits 23 and 24. Those are Mr. Scott's deposition designations. They had lodged an informal objection with me on grounds of completeness. And in order to resolve that objection, we're happy to put the entirety of both transcripts in.

THE COURT: All right. So if our Respondents could confirm with the agreement to put in the entire depos at 23 and 24, you stipulate to 1 through 53?

MR. PHILLIPS: We also -- Your Honor, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah, I was going to take them one at a time. Just take those two.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yeah, can we just take those two? Confirmed?

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: Oh, okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: Because there are other -- there are other -- we exchanged objections to each other's witness and exhibit lists. And so I think you can handle the rest of them kind of in a bunch, right?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. Yeah, there's two bunches, actually.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Okay. So you have just now stipulated to 23 and 24 being admitted --

MR. MORRIS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- with the full depos? Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes, ma'am. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right.

(Debtor's Exhibits 23 and 24 are received into evidence.)

MR. MORRIS: And then the next two that they objected to are Exhibits 15 and 16. 15 is the January order and 16 is the July order. They objected on relevance grounds. I think 16 -- these are the two orders that the Debtors contend the Respondents have violated, so I don't understand the relevance objection, but that's what it was and that's my response.

MR. PHILLIPS: Resolved, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. 15 and 16 are admitted.

(Debtor's Exhibits 15 and 16 are received into evidence.)

MR. MORRIS: Okay. And then the last objection relates to a group of exhibits. They're Exhibits 1 through 11. Those exhibits I think either come in together or stay out together. They are exhibits that relate to the HarbourVest proceedings, including deposition notices, including I think the transcript from the hearing, the Court's order, the motion that was filed.

The Debtor believes that those documents are relevant because they go right to the issue of the gatekeeper order and had they filed, had the Respondents followed the gatekeeper order, this is -- this is why they didn't do it. You know what I mean? That's the argument, is that the Respondents, one of the reasons the Respondents -- argument -- one of the reasons the Respondents didn't come to this Court is because they knew this Court had that kind of record before it. And I think that's very relevant.

THE COURT: All right. Response?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, we think that these exhibits are not relevant. We have a very focused, we think, -- we have the Court's order. Those objections are withdrawn.

We have the complaint. We have the motion to amend. And the issue is whether the motion to amend, which was dismissed one day, or the next day after it was filed, constitutes criminal -- constitutes contempt.

So we think the prior proceedings go to their underlying argument, which is the lawsuit or the complaint is no good, and that has nothing to do with -- there's been no foundation laid and it's not relevant what happened in connection with the HarbourVest settlement. It is what it is, and there's no dispute that it is what it is, but it's not relevant to establish any type of -- they've even said intent is not even relevant here. So we -- that's -- we think all of that goes out and simplifies the record, because it has nothing to do with whether or not there was a contempt.

THE COURT: Response?

MR. MORRIS: We withdraw the exhibits, Your Honor. I'm just going to make it simple for the Court.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I'm just going to make it simple for the Court.

THE COURT: 1 through 11 are withdrawn.

(Debtor's Exhibits 1 through 11 are withdrawn.)

MR. MORRIS: So, the balance, there was no objection. So all of the Debtor's exhibits on Docket #2410 -- let me restate that. Exhibits 12 through 53 no longer have an objection. Is that correct?

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. And then --

MR. PHILLIPS: Confirmed.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Debtor's Exhibits 12 through 53 are received into evidence.)

MR. MORRIS: Okay. Thank you. And then we filed an amended list, I believe, yesterday --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- to add Exhibits 40 -- 54 and 55.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: And those exhibits are simply my firm's billing records.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: You know, we added Mr. Demo to the witness list in case there was a need to establish a foundation. That's the only thing he would testify to. I don't know if there's an objection to those two exhibits, because we hadn't had an opportunity to confer.

THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, we're not going to require authenticity and foundation for -- we have the right, we think, to say that they're not a ground -- we're not going to challenge that they are the bills, and the bills say what they say. We don't need Mr. -- we don't need a witness to authenticate those exhibits. But we reserve all substantive rights with respect to the effect of those exhibits.

THE COURT: All right. 54 and 55 are admitted.

(Debtor's Exhibits 54 and 55 are received into evidence.)

MR. MORRIS: And with that, Your Honor, the Debtor rests.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. Respondents?

(Counsel confer.)

MR. PHILLIPS: If I could have a second?

THE COURT: Okay.

A VOICE: Sorry, Your Honor.

(Pause.)

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, we have filed in our witness and exhibit list, and I have to say I don't have the number, but we'll get the docket entry number, but we have 44 exhibits. There's an objection to Exhibit #2, which is -- thank you -- it's Document 2411, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. PHILLIPS: There is a pending objection to Exhibit #2 which we have not resolved. There's no objection to any other exhibit. But in reviewing our exhibit list, I found that we had some -- some mistakes and duplications.

So, with respect to 2411, we would withdraw Exhibit 13, 14, and 29, and we would offer Exhibit 1, and then 30 through 44, with 13, 14, and 29 deleted.

THE COURT: Okay. So 1, 3 through 12, --

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes.

THE COURT: -- 15 through 28, and then 30 --

MR. PHILLIPS: And then 30 through 44.

THE COURT: -- through 44? Do you confirm, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor. The only objection we have is to Exhibit #2.

THE COURT: And that's -- he's not offering that?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

MR. PHILLIPS: Not at this time, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: We would have to have testimony about that.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. So those are admitted.

MR. PHILLIPS: Okay.

(Mark Patrick's Exhibits 1, 3 through 12, 15 through 28, and 30 through 44 are received into evidence.)

THE COURT: By the way, it looks like Exhibit 44 is at a different docket number, Docket 2420. Correct? You have --

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I believe Exhibit 44 is the hearing transcript from the July approval hearing. At least that's what it's supposed to be.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: It was Exhibit 2 on the Debtor's list, and then I think they took it off, so we had to add it.

MR. PHILLIPS: Oh, okay. I was looking -- oh, that's right. They -- that's correct, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: Exhibit 44 was added --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: -- because the Debtor's withdrew it, and so it was added in the second -- in the supplemental and amended list. The -- the one that I was talking about was the prior list.

THE COURT: Okay. So that's at Docket 2420?

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes.

THE COURT: You're not offering 45 or 46?

MR. PHILLIPS: No, I think we'd offer 45 and 46 as well. I'm sorry.

THE COURT: Okay. Any objections, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. So 45 and 46 are admitted as well. They're at Docket Entry 2420.

(Mark Patrick's Exhibits 45 and 46 are received into evidence.)

THE COURT: All right. Your witnesses?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, could we have five minutes to just see what we're -- our plan is, and then we'll be back at 4:00?

THE COURT: Okay. We'll be back at 4:00.

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 3:55 p.m. until 4:04 p.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Please be seated. All right. Back on the record in Highland. Mr. Phillips?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, with the introduction of the Respondents -- CLO Holdco, DAF Fund, LP, and Mark Patrick, those Respondents, and we consider Mark Patrick a Respondent although not formally named as a Respondent because he is the party who authorized the filing of the Seery motion -- we rest.

THE COURT: You rest? Okay. Well, Mr. Morris, closing arguments?

MR. MORRIS: How much time do I have?

THE COURT: You've got a lot more time than you probably thought you were going to. You're under an hour.

MR. MORRIS: 42 minutes?

THE COURT: How much?

THE CLERK: 42 minutes.

THE COURT: 42 minutes? Feel free not to use it all.

MR. SBAITI: Out of curiosity, how long do we have?

THE COURT: You have a lot of time, which I hope you won't use.

THE CLERK: Hour and twenty-five minutes or so.

MR. SBAITI: I was afraid it was going to be an hour and twenty, so --

MR. PHILLIPS: No, not either.

MR. MORRIS: I don't suspect I'll use all the time.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MR. MORRIS: May I proceed?

THE COURT: You may.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

MR. MORRIS: Good afternoon, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones; for the Debtor. I'd like to just make some closing remarks after the evidence has closed.

This is a very, very important motion, Your Honor. I take this stuff seriously. It's only the second contempt motion I've ever brought in my life. I've never gone after another law firm. But these facts and circumstances require it, because my client is under attack, and these orders were entered to prevent that.

It is serious stuff. There's no question in my mind, there's no question the evidence showed, clear and convincingly, beyond reasonable doubt, that they violated this Court's order.

I started off with three very simple prongs. So simple you'd think I'd remember them. Number one, was a court order in effect? There is no dispute. The court order was in effect.

Number two, did the order require certain conduct by the Respondent? We believe it did. We heard an hour-long argument styled as an opening statement, but it was really argument and not an opening statement, about all the defects in the order. But the one thing that is crystal clear in the order are the words commence or pursue. You've been told many times by the Respondent that nobody has commenced an action against Mr. Seery. That is true. We all know what the word commence means. We all know what the word pursue means.

I heard argument this morning that pursue means after a claim is filed you pursue a case. That's the way lawyers talk about it. But that doesn't make any sense, Your Honor, because once you've commenced the action you've violated the order. It's commence or pursue, it's in the disjunctive, and you can't read out of the order the concept of pursuit by making it an event that happens after the commencement, because that's exactly what they're trying to do. They're trying to read out of the order the word pursuit.

And I ask you to use very simple common sense. If filing a motion for leave to amend a complaint to add Mr. Seery as a defendant is not pursuit, what is? What is? There's nothing left. You commence an action or you do something less than commencing an action when you're going after the man. That's what pursuit means. They're going after the man. And they asked the District Court to do what they knew they couldn't.

Mr. Phillips is exactly right. I made the point about Rule 15 because they knew they couldn't do it. I'm not suggesting that they should have. I'm suggesting that the reason that they didn't is because they knew they were -- they were in a bad place. Because if they really just wanted to name Mr. Seery as a defendant, they wouldn't have done it. They knew commence was crystal clear.

What they're trying to do is claim that somehow there's an ambiguity around the word pursuit. Does that make any sense at all? Filing a motion for leave to amend the complaint. And Mr. Patrick, to his credit, candidly admitted that if the motion was granted, they were suing, yeah, as long -- as long as the Sbaiti firm, you know, recommended it. That's what would have happened.

Those orders that you signed, nothing, absolutely meaningless from their point of view. They believed they were wrong. They believed that they were overbroad. They believed they were too narrow. They believed they were vague. They believed they were without authority. They don't get to be the gatekeeper. They want to be the gate -- that's this Court's decision. That's why we went through all of the processes that we did. And they just flagrantly said, I don't agree. I don't agree because it's wrong this way and it's wrong that way and it's wrong the other way, and therefore let me go find a higher authority to validate my thinking. That's not the way this process is supposed to work.

The independent directors and Mr. Seery relied on the gatekeeper in accepting their positions. It was a quid pro quo. Mr. Dondero agreed to the exact same provision, the exact same gatekeeper provision in the January order that he now complains about today, that the DAF complains about today. Where were these people?

As the Court knows, nobody appealed either order. The Debtor, the independent board, Mr. Seery expected that the plain and unambiguous words would be honored and enforced. I think that's fair. I think that's the way the process is supposed to work.

Instead, we have games. We have these linguistic gymnastics. We have statements that are too cute by half. Mr. Dondero won't even admit that he appointed Mr. Scott back in 2012. I couldn't even get him to do that, really, even though the documents say it, even though Mr. Patrick says it.

I'll take the Respondents one at a time in a moment, but I just want to deal with some of the more interesting arguments they make. The order was vague because it didn't say you can't seek leave from the District Court to amend your complaint to add Mr. Seery. They said that that's what makes the order vague.

Your Honor, if you had thought to put that language in, you know what they would have done? They would have sued Mr. Seery in New York State Supreme Court, where he lives, and said, the order didn't say I couldn't do that. Where does it end?

There's a reason why the order was crafted broadly to say no commencement or pursuit without Bankruptcy Court approval. You have to bring a colorable claim.

We heard an argument this morning that they couldn't possibly have brought that motion for reconsideration first. You know, the one they filed about eight hours after we filed the contempt motion. They couldn't possibly have brought that motion before the motion for leave to amend because somehow they would have been estopped or they would have been found to have waived some right.

How could it be that anybody reasonably believes that complying with a court order results in a waiver of some right? It just -- these are games. These are not good arguments. And they certainly don't carry the day on a contempt motion.

We've heard repeatedly, the District Court denied the motion without prejudice, how have you been harmed? They shouldn't be able to rely on the District Court's prudence to protect themselves. The question shouldn't be, have you been harmed since the District Court didn't grant the motion? No. The question should be, were we harmed by the attempt to name Mr. Seery a defendant, in violation of court orders, without notice? Without notice.

I'm told they assumed that I'd be checking the dockets. I wasn't checking the docket, Your Honor. I hadn't filed an appearance in the case. And, in fact, if you look at the exhibits, because I could pull it out, but we put in the communications between the lawyers. The last communication was from Mr. Pomerantz, and the last communication from Mr. Pomerantz said, Don't do it or we're going to file a motion for contempt. That's now in the evidence.

So, having sent that message, I wasn't going to check the docket to see if they really were going to go ahead and do it. I didn't think they would. And if they did, I certainly thought I'd get notice of it. Nothing.

And, again, I don't really need to establish intent at all in order to meet my burden of clear and convincing evidence of a contempt of court, but I think it is relevant when the Court hopefully finds liability and is considering damages, because that's really the most important point I have to make right now, is the Court needs to enforce its own orders, because if the Court doesn't, or doesn't impose a penalty that's meaningful, this is just going to continue. And Your Honor, it's all in the record. Your Honor knows this. Mr. Daugherty has gone through it. Right? Mr. Terry went through it. UBS went through it. You've seen litigation now for a year and a half. It's happening in New York, right, the Sbaiti firm is reopening the Acis case. we've got this other lawsuit that's filed by an entity with like a five-tenths of one percent interest who's complaining about the SSP transaction that Mr. -- that the Debtor engaged in. There's no end here.

We need the Court to pump the brakes. We need the Court to exercise its authority. We need the Court to protect the estate fiduciary that it approved.

It is true, Mr. Seery is not a trustee. But it is also true that he is a third-party outsider who came into this case with the expectation and the promise in an order that he wouldn't be subjected to frivolous litigation, that this Court would be the arbiter of whether claims could be pursued against him. That was the code of conduct. That was the quid pro quo. That was the deal that Mr. Seery made. It's the deal that the board members made.

What gives these people the right to just say, your order is wrong, and because I think your order is wrong I'm going to go to the District Court, and if the District Court agrees, too bad, and if the District Court doesn't agree, we'll be back before Your Honor, and no harm, no foul? No. It can't be. It can't be that that's the way this process works. It just can't.

So, Your Honor, let me take the Defendants one at a time, the Respondents one at a time. CLO Holdco and the DAF are corporate entities. They've done what they've done. Mr. Patrick, bless him, I think he's a lovely man. I don't think he quite bargained for what he's getting right now, but nevertheless he is where he is and he's willing to stand up and be counted, and for that, at least, I admire his courage. He's willing to say, I authorized those. But you know what? It's a violation of the law, it's a violation of this Court's order to file that motion, and so he has -- and he was very candid today. He knew of the order. Right? He knew it was in effect. He pointed out that it was in their papers. Right?

They're trying to be cute, they're trying to thread this needle, but it has no hole in it. They keep -- they keep doing this. Well, maybe if we do it this way, maybe if we do it -- no. The order was crystal clear.

The Sbaiti firm. They're probably fathers and husbands and good people and I wish them no ill will, but this is wrong. This is wrong. To come into a court you've never been in before and in less than twelve days to jump the shark like this in twelve -- in less than twelve days, because Mr. Patrick said they weren't hired until April, and the complaint was filed on the 12th.

We're told that they understood this was an overwhelming case with two -- why don't you take your time? What was the rush? Why not wait until the Defendant -- the Debtor appeared in the action before rushing to do this?

It's bad conduct, Your Honor, and that's really a very important point that I have to make, is that there's lots of lawyers who are engaging in highly-questionable conduct here that, from my perspective, goes well beyond the bounds of zealous advocacy.

It's not aggressive lawyering. I love aggressive lawyering. I really do. Respectful, honest -- and I don't, you know, I don't want to say that they're dishonest people. I don't mean to do that. But I think, I think they made a gross error in judgment, and there's no question that they violated this Court's order.

And then that leaves Mr. Dondero. I don't even know what to say about his testimony, Your Honor. He pursued claims against Mr. Seery. He thinks he's a rat. He's the one who started the whole process. He's the one who put the bug in Mark Patrick's ear. All of this is uncontested. Right? Uncontested.

I don't have to go back in time. We can talk about what happened to Grant Scott. It's a very sad story. Mr. Scott, I think, did his honest best to do what he believed, on the advice of counsel, was in the best interest of the DAF. And

Mr. Dondero, as you hear time and time again when he speaks about Mr. Seery, it was inappropriate. He's the arbiter of what's in the best interest of entities that other people control. And they pay a price. And they pay a price. And so Mr. Dondero felt it was his job, even though he tries to distance himself from the DAF -- I have no responsibility, I don't -- I'm not involved -- until, until somebody wants to sue Seery and the Debtor. Then he'll go all in on that, no matter how specious the claim may be.

The Debtor's not going to fold its tent because a motion for leave to amend was denied without prejudice. That's not the point. The point is that people need to respect this Court, people need to respect the Court's orders, and those that aid and abet or otherwise support the violation of court orders ought to be held to account, Your Honor.

I have nothing further.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Respondents?

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, the fact that we're here on a motion for leave, and the motion for leave is what they're saying is pursuing a claim under the Court's order, and then you hear that the mere act of investigating a claim against Mr. Seery is also pursuing a claim, this goes to the infinite regression problem with this word pursue the way they want to construe it, Your Honor. Asking for permission is not pursuing a claim and can't be the definition of pursuing a claim because it's not doing anything other than asking for permission.

We didn't file a suit. We didn't commence a suit. I think that's established. We did not pursue a claim. Mr. Morris ignores, I think, the very commonsensical aspect that we put out in the opening, which is that the reason pursue -- and sometimes the language in these types of orders is, instead of pursue, it's maintain -- but the reason that word is there is because sometimes the case has already been started when the order is entered. And so to pursue a claim, i.e., one that's already been filed as of the date of the order, that would be lost if the commencement of that claim hadn't happened until after the -- until the -- if the commencement happened before the order was filed. That's the --

THE COURT: Okay. So are you saying it's a sequential thing?

MR. SBAITI: I'm not sure I understood your question, Your Honor. I'm sorry.

THE COURT: Well, I'm trying to understand what it is you're saying about how pursue should be interpreted.

MR. SBAITI: Sure.

THE COURT: I think you're saying you have to -- you can either have -- well, we've got a prohibition on commencing an action.

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: And then the separate word pursue, I think you're saying that must refer to you already have an action that's been commenced and you're continuing on with it. Is that what you're saying?

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Then why not use the word continue?

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, the choice of --

THE COURT: Kind of like 362(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, you know, is worded.

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, the choice of the wording of pursue at that point, Your Honor, I believe ends up being ambiguous, because by filing the motion here that would be pursuing a claim under that definition. So before I got permission to pursue a claim, I've got to pursue a claim. That's the problem that they have with the words that they're trying to get you to adopt, or the meaning of the words they're trying to get you to adopt.

If I came to this Court and said, Judge, I need permission, I need leave to file suit against Mr. Seery, and then the question is, well, you're not allowed to seek leave because that's pursuing the claim, it's infinitely regressive. And in fact, his closing argument just proved how it's infinitely regressive.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me -- I'm not following this infinitely regressive or whatever the term was.

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: Just answer this very direct question. Why did you not file a motion for leave in the Bankruptcy Court? That would have clearly, clearly complied with the July order.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I believe we explained this in the opening. I took a stab at it. Mr. Bridges took a stab at it. We did not believe coming here and asking for leave and asking for -- for Your Honor to do what we don't believe Your Honor can do, would effectuate an estoppel or a waiver, which we didn't think was in the best interest of our client to have. Your Honor, this happens -- I don't believe this is the --

THE COURT: Okay. Connect the dots. Make that clear as clear can be for me. You file a motion for leave --

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: -- to file this District Court action against the Debtor and Seery, and if I say yes, everything is fine and dandy from your perspective. If I say no, tell me again what your estoppel argument is.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, the key question is whether us putting the Court's ability to decide colorability and the Court's gatekeeper functions, for us to invoke those functions concerned us because there's case law that says that that effectuates an estoppel. And so we don't get our chance in front of an Article III judge to make that in the first instance.

THE COURT: Okay. Tell me what cases you're talking about and the exact context of those cases.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, I would have to defer to my partner on this one, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: So, --

THE COURT: Because I'm just letting you know --

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: -- I am at a complete loss. I'm at a complete loss understanding what you're saying. I am.

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, the --

THE COURT: I don't understand. If you have followed the order to the letter and I tell you no, --

MR. SBAITI: Then --

THE COURT: -- what, you're saying you were worried you'd be estopped from appealing my order to the District Court and saying abuse of discretion or invalid order in the first place? You'd be estopped from taking an appeal?

MR. SBAITI: No, Your Honor. We wouldn't be estopped from taking an appeal.

THE COURT: Then why didn't you follow the letter of the order?

MR. SBAITI: For one thing, Your Honor, asking the District Court made sense to us, given the order and given our understanding of the law. Certainly, we had other options, as Your Honor is pointing out. We could have come here. Our read of the law, our understanding of what we were doing, made it -- put us in, like I said, put us in the sort of jurisdictional and paradoxical position.

THE COURT: This is your chance to tell me exactly which law you think applies here. What case? What statute?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, like I said, I don't have those at the moment.

THE COURT: Why not? Your whole argument rides on this, apparently.

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, I don't know that our whole argument rides on that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: I mean, our argument rides on we don't think we violated the letter of the order. I think that's really what I'm -- what we're here to say, is that we didn't commence a lawsuit and we didn't pursue a claim by filing for leave in the District Court, just like filing for leave in this Court would not be pursuing a claim. It would be filing for leave.

THE COURT: I agree. Filing a motion for leave in this Court would be exactly what the order contemplated.

MR. SBAITI: I understand, Your Honor.

THE COURT: What you did is not exactly what the order contemplated.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, but we're -- we're moving back and forth between two concepts. One, your question is why didn't we file for leave?

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. SBAITI: And the answer to that, I've tried to explain. And if we -- if you'd like us to bring up the case law or to give you a better articulation of our concern, I'm happy to defer to my partner.

What I'm really here to say, Your Honor, is a very simple point, though. Just because we didn't file for leave here and we filed for leave in the District Court doesn't mean we violated your order, and that's the point I'm trying to make, Your Honor. And I think that's the simplest point I can make. Asking the Article III judge for leave to amend, for leave to amend to add Mr. Seery, doesn't violate, facially, at least as we read it, Your Honor's order. It's not commencing a suit and it's not -- it's not pursuing a claim against him. It's all preliminary to pursuing a claim against him, because a claim hasn't even been filed.

The judge could have -- the judge could have -- the District Court could have denied it, the District Court could have referred it down here, the District Court could have decided part of it and then asked Your Honor to rule on some portion of it. There are innumerable ways that could have gone. That fork -- those forks in the road is precisely why we say this is not pursuing the claim. Otherwise, where does it stop?

Does pursuing a claim happen just when we file the motion for leave? Why didn't it happen when we started the investigation? If pursuing a claim means having the intent and taking steps towards eventually filing a lawsuit, that's the point that I'm making that it is infinitely regressive, and that's exactly what Mr. Morris argued to you.

He said Mr. Dondero, by merely speaking to me, is pursuing a claim and that violates your order. Speaking to me. Even if we had never filed it. Speaking is pursuing a claim.

THE COURT: I don't agree with that, for what it's worth.

MR. SBAITI: Okay. But that was his argument. I'm just responding to it.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: And if that's not pursuing a claim, filing a motion for leave likewise wouldn't be pursuing a claim. I understand it's an official act in a court, but we did it in a Court that is an adjutant to this Court. This Court is an adjutant to that Court. It's the Court with original jurisdiction over the matter. So we didn't go to New York. We didn't go to the state court in New York where I learned Mr. Seery lives. We came to the Northern District of Texas, understanding that this Court and this Court's orders had to be -- had to be addressed. And that's the very first thing we did. We asked the Court to address it.

That judge could either decide to send it down here, which is normally what I think -- what we understood would happen. So it's not like we were avoiding it. But we wanted to invoke the jurisdiction which we, as the Plaintiff, we believe we had the right to invoke. We're allowed to choose our forum. So that's the forum we chose for the primary case, which there's not a problem, no one's raised an issue with us filing the underlying lawsuit.

Adding Mr. Seery to that lawsuit and filing a motion for leave in the same court where we actually had the lawsuit, knowing that it might get -- that might get decided or referred in some way, doesn't strike me as being anything improper, because he didn't get sued and we don't know what Judge Boyle would have said had the motion gone forward. And for them to speculate and to say that, well, this is exactly the type of thing you have to protect against, I completely disagree.

The case law that they cited for you on these -- on most of these orders really do discuss the fact that you have somebody who is actually protecting the underlying property of the Debtor. This claim comes from a complete third party that Mr. Seery himself has admitted under oath he owes a fiduciary duty to. Two third parties. One is an investor of a fund that he manages, and one to a fund that the Debtor, with Mr. Seery as the head of it, was an advisor for up until recently.

Those fiduciary duties exist. We felt like there was a valid claim to be brought against Mr. Seery. And the only reason -- and he says this like it's a negative; I view it as a positive -- the reason he wasn't named is because of Your Honor's orders. And so we asked a Court, the Court with general jurisdiction, to address it for us or to tell us what to do. And I don't see how that is a violation of this Court's order, nor is it contemptuous of this Court's order.

If every time one of these issues came up it was a contempt of the court that appointed a trustee, we'd see a lot more contempt orders.

Interestingly, the cases that were thrown out to you in the opening argument by the other side, for example, Villages [sic] v. Schmidt, was a trustee case, but not one that involved a sanction. And the trustee case specifically in that case held that the Barton Doctrine didn't have an exception for Stern cases, whereas the cases we cited to you, Anderson, for example, in the Fifth Circuit, which is 520 F.2d 1027, expressly held that Section 959 is an exception to the Barton Doctrine.

And my partner, Mr. Bridges, can walk through the issues that we had on the enforceability of the order, but all -- to me, all of that is sort of a secondary issue because, prima facie, we didn't violate this order. I understand it may irritate the Debtor and may raise questions about why the motion wasn't filed here versus the District Court. But it was a motion for leave. In order to sanction us, Your Honor would have to find that asking for permission is sanctionable conduct in the gatekeeper order. Even if we ask the wrong court. Simply asking the wrong court is sanctionable, not knowing what that court would have done, not knowing what that court's mindset was, not even having the benefit of the argument. And that's, I guess, where this bottom -- the bottom line is for me.

The evidence that they put on for you, Your Honor. Everything you heard was evidence in the negative. You know, they talk about the transition from Mr. Dondero to Mr. Scott and Mr. Scott to Mr. Patrick, but if you actually look at the evidence he wants you to see and he wants you to rule on, it's the evidence that wasn't there. It's the evidence that Mr. Dondero had no control. In fact, I believe that was the basis he argued for why there should be no privilege. And all he said is that he was promoting it.

But the fact of the matter is, like I said, all of that is secondary to the core issue that we didn't violate the order. We didn't take steps to violate the order. We took steps to try to not violate the order. And they want you to punish us to send a message. Even used words like the Court needs to enforce its own orders. And he did that as a transition away from the idea that there were no damages, Your Honor, and I think that has implications.

And then he said you have to enforce a meaningful penalty. Well, Your Honor, I don't think that is the purpose of these sanctions. These sanctions are supposed to be remedial, according to the case law, according to the case law that they cite. So a meaningful --

THE COURT: Coercive or remedial.

MR. SBAITI: Sorry?

THE COURT: Coercive or remedial. Civil contempt.

MR. SBAITI: Sure, Your Honor. But usually coercive sanctions require someone to do something or they are sanctioned until they do it.

THE COURT: Coerced compliance. Coerced compliance --

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: -- with an existing order.

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. SBAITI: The last thing, he says you have to protect the estate of the fiduciary and his expectation -- I believe he's talking about Mr. Seery -- his expectation that the Court would be the gatekeeper. And Your Honor, that argument rings a little bit hollow here, given that what they're really saying is that we should have come here first and asked for permission. But that insinuates that, by coming here, the case is dead on arrival, which I don't think is the right argument.

I think the issue for us has been, who do we have to ask and who can we ask to deal with the Court's gatekeeper order? I believe we chose a court, a proper court, a court with jurisdiction, to hear the issue and decide the issue. Your Court's -- Your Honor's indication of the jurisdiction of this Court we believed invoked the District Court's jurisdiction at the same time.

And so the last thing is he said -- the last thing, and getting back to the core issue, is Mr. Morris wants you to believe that we intended to violate the order, and now, as an afterthought, we're using linguistic gymnastics to get around all of that. But it's not linguistic gymnastics. Linguistic gymnastics is saying that pursue means doing anything in pursuit of a claim. That's a little -- I believe that's almost a direct quote. They're chasing the man. Well, that's the infinite regression that I talked about, Your Honor, that it's going to be impossible in any principled way to reconcile

Mr. Morris's or the Debtor's definition of pursue with any logical, reasonable limitation that is readable into the order, Your Honor.

And I'm going to defer to my partner, Mr. Bridges -- oh, go ahead.

THE COURT: I'm going to stop you. I mean, we have the linguistic argument. But how do you respond to this?

MR. SBAITI: Sure.

THE COURT: What if I tell you, in my gut, this appears to be an end run? An end run. I mean, I'm stating something that should be obvious, right? An end run around this Court. This Court spent hours, probably, reading a motion to compromise issues with HarbourVest, issues between the Debtor and HarbourVest. I had objections. An objection from CLO Holdco that was very document-oriented, as I recall. Right of first refusal. HarbourVest can't transfer its 49.98 percent interest in HCLOF, right? Talk about alphabet soup. We definitely have it.

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: Without giving CLO Holdco the first right to buy those assets. Read pleadings. Law clerk and I stay up late. And then, you know, we get to the hearing and there's the withdrawal -- we heard a little bit about that today -- withdrawal of the objection. We kind of confirmed that two or three different ways on the record. And then I remember going to Mr. Draper, who represents the Dugaboy and Get Good Trusts. You know, are you challenging the legal propriety of doing this? And he backed off any objection.

So the Court ended up having a hearing where we went through what I would call the standard 9019 prove-up, where we looked at was it in the best interest, was it fair and equitable given all the risks, rewards, dah, dah, dah, dah. You know, HarbourVest had initially, you know, started at a $300 million proof of claim, eye-popping, but this all put to bed a very complicated claim.

MR. SBAITI: Yeah.

THE COURT: Tell me something that would make me feel better about what is, in my core, in my gut, that this is just a big, giant end run around the Bankruptcy Court approval of the HarbourVest settlement, which is not on appeal, right? There are a gazillion appeals in this case, but I don't think the HarbourVest --

A VOICE: It is on -- it is on appeal, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Is it? Oh, it is on appeal? Okay. So I may be told --

MR. SBAITI: I didn't know.

THE COURT: I may be told, gosh, you got it wrong, Judge. You know, that happens sometimes.

So, this feels like an end run. You know, the appeal is either going to prevail or not. If it's successful, then, you know, do you really need this lawsuit? You know, I don't -- okay. Your chance.

MR. SBAITI: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MS. SBAITI: Your Honor, this wouldn't be the first case where finality or where there was a settlement -- I'm not familiar as well with bankruptcy, but certainly in litigation -- where the settlement then reveals -- well, after a settlement is done, after everyone thinks it's done, some new facts come to light that change people's views about what happened before the settlement or before the resolution. And that's what happened here, Your Honor. This is what we've pled. And this is what we understand.

There were the instances of Mr. Seery's testimony where he testified to the value of the HarbourVest assets. I believe, as I recall, he testified in I believe it's the approval hearing that Your Honor is talking about that the settlement gave HarbourVest a certain amount of claims of I think it's, Series 8 and then Series 9 claims, and that those were discounted to a certain dollar value that he quantified as about $30, $31 million. And the way he ratified and justified the actual settlement value, the actual money or value he was conferring on HarbourVest, given the critique of HarbourVest claims that he was settling, is he explained it this way. He said $22-1/2 million of this whole pot that I'm giving them pays for the HarbourVest -- HarbourVest's interests in HCLOF -- it's alphabet soup again -- and Highland CLO Funding, Limited. And so it's the other $9 million that's really settling their claims. And given the amount of expense it's going to take, so on and so forth, $9 million seems like a reasonable amount to settle them with, especially since we're just giving them claims.

So that $22-1/2 million everyone apparently took to the bank as being the value, including CLO Holdco at the time, because they didn't have the underlying valuations. Highland was supposed to give the updated valuations.

So, fast-forward a couple of months -- and this is what we've played in our lawsuit, Your Honor; this is why I don't think it's an end run -- we pled in our lawsuit just a couple months later Highland -- I believe some of the people that worked at Highland started leaving, according to some mechanisms that I saw where Highland didn't want to keep all the staff and so the staff was migrated to other places. And one of those gentlemen, I believe Mr. Dondero referred to him as a gentleman named Hunter Covitz, and Hunter Covitz, who's also an investor in HCLOF, he owns a small piece of HCLOF, he had the data, he had some of the information that showed that, actually, in January, when Mr. Seery said that the HarbourVest settlement was worth 22 -- excuse me, the HarbourVest interests in HCLOF were worth $22-1/2 million, that they're actually worth upwards of $45 million.

And so that information, Your Honor, we believe gives us a different -- a different take on what happened and what was supposed to happen. This is strictly about the lack of transparency.

THE COURT: Okay. Assuming --

MR. SBAITI: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- I buy into your argument that this is newly-discovered evidence --

MR. SBAITI: Yes.

THE COURT: -- CLO Holdco would not have had reason to know -- I guess that's what you're saying, right?

MR. SBAITI: I'm saying they -- they didn't know.

THE COURT: That they didn't know.

MR. SBAITI: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: And didn't have reason to know. I'm trying to figure out who's damaged here.

MR. SBAITI: Well, CLO Holdco, my client, is damaged, Your Honor.

THE COURT: How?

MR. SBAITI: Because one of the aspects of the -- of Highland, one of the issues under, excuse me, of Highland's advisory, is that it has a fiduciary duty. And that fiduciary duty, at least here, entails two, if not, three prongs. The first prong is they have to be transparent. You can't say --

THE COURT: How is -- you know, I know a lot about fiduciary duties, believe it or not. How is CLO Holdco harmed and the DAF harmed?

MR. SBAITI: Because, Your Honor, they lost out on an investment opportunity to buy the piece of -- the HarbourVest piece. They would have been able to go out and raise the money. They had the opportunity --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SBAITI: They would have had the opportunity to make a different argument.

THE COURT: What you're saying, you're saying, if they had known what they didn't have reason to know, that it was worth, let's say, $45 million, that they would have gone out and raised money and said, oh, we do want to exercise this right of first refusal that we decided we didn't have and gave in on, we're going to press the issue and then outbid the $22 million, because we know it's worth more? Is that where you're going? I'm trying to figure out where the heck you're going, to be honest.

MR. SBAITI: That's -- Your Honor, I'd push back on a little of the phrasing, only because the way these duties -- the way we understand the SEC's duties work when you're an investment advisor is you have a transparency obligation and an obligation --

THE COURT: Yes. Yes.

MR. SBAITI: -- not to divert these. So, yes, CLO Holdco would have at least had the opportunity and been offered the opportunity, which it could have taken advantage of, to, if the assets were really on the block for $22-1/2 million, they should have been able to buy their percentage pro rata share of that $22-1/2 million deal. I mean, in a nutshell, that's -- that's where we believe we've been harmed. And we believe that the obfuscation of those values and, to a certain extent, the misrepresentation of those values in the settlement is not cleansable by the argument, well, you should have asked.

Well, you should have asked is fine in normal litigation, but when the person you should have asked actually owes you a positive duty to inform, we believe that the should-have-asked piece doesn't really apply and there's -- and that's, that's the basis of our case.

So it's not an end run around the settlement, Your Honor. I think I opened with we're not trying to undo the settlement. We're not saying HarbourVest has to take its interest back. We're not saying the settlement has to go on. We're not even saying any of the things that happened in Bankruptcy Court need to change. But Section 959 is pretty clear that this is management of third-party property --

THE COURT: I guess -- okay. Again, rabbit trail, maybe. But CLO Holdco still owns its same 49.02 percent interest that it did before this transaction. So if there's value galore in HCLOF, it still has its 49.02 percent interest. What am I missing?

MR. SBAITI: Oh, I think Your Honor's assuming that HCLOF bought the piece back from HarbourVest. It didn't.

THE COURT: No, I'm not.

MR. SBAITI: Oh.

THE COURT: I'm not assuming that.

MR. SBAITI: Well, --

THE COURT: I know that now the Debtor has, what, fifty point, you know, five percent of HCLOF, whereas it only had, you know, a fraction.

MR. SBAITI: Point six-ish. Yeah.

THE COURT: Point six-ish, and HarbourVest had 49.98.

MR. SBAITI: Right.

THE COURT: So, again, please educate me. I'm really trying to figure out how this lawsuit isn't just some crazy end run around a settlement I approved. And moreover, what's the damages?

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, --

THE COURT: What's the damages? CLO Holdco still has its 49.02 percent interest in HCLOF.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, again, --

THE COURT: What am I missing? I must be missing something.

MR. SBAITI: I think so, Your Honor.

THE COURT: What?

MR. SBAITI: The damages is the lost opportunity, the lost opportunity to own more of HCLOF.

THE COURT: Oh, it could have owned the whole darn thing?

MR. SBAITI: I could have owned 90 -- whatever 49 plus 49.98, 98.98 percent.

THE COURT: But --

MS. SBAITI: Or some pro rata portion.

THE COURT: But Mr. Seery had some information that you think he was holding back from CLO Holdco that CLO Holdco had no reason to know?

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor. The -- the -- what he testified to that the value of those assets, excuse me, the value of the HarbourVest interests in HCLOF or its share of the underlying assets being $22-1/2 million was either, one, intentionally obfuscated, or, two, and I don't think this excuses it at all, he simply used ancient data and simply never updated himself, not for the Court and not for any representations to the investors, who he himself testified under oath in this Court that he has a fiduciary duty to under the Investment Advisers Act.

THE COURT: This could get very --

MR. SBAITI: So that's injury to my client, Your Honor.

THE COURT: This could get really dangerous. Maybe --

MR. SBAITI: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: This could get really dangerous. Maybe I should cut off where I'm going on this.

MR. SBAITI: Okay.

THE COURT: Of course, someone dangled it out there in a pleading. You know where I'm going, right?

MR. SBAITI: I'm not sure I do, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Hmm. I do read the newspaper, but someone put it in a pleading. HCLOF owns MGM stock, right? Is that what this is all about? Is that what this is all about? Or shall we not do this on the record?

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, this has nothing -- I don't -- I don't think this has anything to do with the MGM stock one way or the other.

THE COURT: You don't? OH?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, my charge as a counsel for the DAF is pretty straightforward. We looked at the claims. We looked at the newly-discovered information. We talked to the people who had it, Your Honor. That was our investigation. We put together a complaint. We believed that we had a good basis to file suit, despite Your Honor's -- the settlement approval. We expressly, because we understand how finality is so critical in a bankruptcy context, we expressly didn't ask for rescission. We expressly didn't ask for anything that would undo the settlement.

Asking for damages because of how the settlement happened, through no fault of the Court's, of course, but asking for damages is not, at least not as I see it, an end run around the Court's settlement, and it's a legitimate claim. And I don't think this is far from the first time that new evidence has come up that's allowed someone to question how something was done that actually -- that actually damaged them.

THE COURT: Usually, they come in for a motion to reopen evidence to the court who issued the order approving the settlement.

MR. SBAITI: Well, Your Honor, I mean, that's --

THE COURT: Newly-discovered evidence.

MR. SBAITI: That would be the case in a final judgment, Your Honor. But, you know, our understanding of the way the settlement worked was that that was not necessarily going to be -- not the direction anybody wanted to go, but seeking damages on a straight claim for damages, which we're allowed to seek, which I think is our prerogative to seek, we went that direction.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

MR. SBAITI: But this --

THE COURT: My last question.

MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Again, I have to know. You have filed some sort of pleading to reopen litigation against Acis in New York? I'm only asking this because it's part of what's going on here. What is going on here?

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, that's a -- that's a separate lawsuit, and it's not to reopen litigation against Acis. It deals with post-plan confirmation mismanagement by Acis.

THE COURT: Oh, okay. Okay.

MR. SBAITI: Yeah.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. SBAITI: But I believe there's a motion in front of Your Honor, just to -- that gave notice that the suit was filed, but I believe Mr. -- well, a bankruptcy lawyer filed it. I don't know.

THE COURT: A motion or a notice? I don't know.

MR. SBAITI: I don't know, Your Honor. That's above my paygrade.

THE COURT: I have not seen it. Okay?

MR. SBAITI: Okay.

THE COURT: Maybe it's there, but no one has called it to my attention.

MR. SBAITI: With the Court's permission, I'm going to yield time to Mr. Bridges.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Bridges?

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

MR. BRIDGES: Thank you, Your Honor. I'm grateful that you asked most of those questions to Mr. Sbaiti. I would not have been able to answer them. The one I can answer is the one about judicial estoppel. Apparently, I did a pretty lousy job earlier. I think I'm prepared to do a better job now.

The case law I'd like to refer you to is the Texas Supreme Court's 2009 decision in Ferguson v. Building Materials, 295 S.W.3d 642. And this was my concern and my issue, perhaps because I used to teach it and so it was at the front of my mind. But contrary to what you would think and what you said earlier, it's not your ruling against us that would create a judicial estoppel problem. It's if you ruled in our favor. And I know that seems weird. Let me explain.

The two things that have to take place for there to be judicial estoppel are, first, successfully maintaining a position in one proceeding, and then taking an inconsistent position in another. And Your Honor, what we talked about earlier is the notion that your July order forecloses the key claim that Mr. Sbaiti was just describing, that Mr. Seery should have known. Not that he was grossly negligent or did intentional wrong, but that he breached fiduciary duties because he should have known and should have disclosed.

And if your order forecloses that and we come and convince you that we nonetheless have colorable claims, colorable claims of gross negligence or willful wrongdoing, that we ultimately are unable to prove, our lawsuit could fail, even though we had proved -- in the lawsuit we had proved he should have known and that he breached fiduciary duties, but we would be estopped, having succeeded from coming here and asking in compliance with the order and its colorability rule, that we would be estopped from then saying that this Court lacked the authority to have issued that order in the first place, to have released the claim on the mere breach of fiduciary duty or ordinary negligence. That's the inconsistency that I was concerned about.

By coming here rather than trying to make our objection and our position known without submitting to the foreclosure of that claim that is, in many ways, the most important, the headliner from our District Court complaint, is the concern, Your Honor. And frankly, if Your Honor's order does foreclose that, then we're in serious trouble. That's the claim that we're trying to preserve.

But Your Honor, I don't think it was in anyone's contemplation in July of 2000 that what that order would do is terminate -- 2020; sorry, Your Honor -- in July of 2020, that that order would terminate future claims that might arise based on future conduct that had not yet happened in Mr.

Seery's role. Not in his role as a manager of the Debtor's property, but in his role as a registered investment advisor on behalf of his clients and their property. And that is the concern that the judicial estoppel argument is about.

THE COURT: I still don't understand. I'm very well aware of judicial estoppel, the old expression, you can't play fast and loose with the court. Take one position in one court, you're successful, and then take another position in another court. That's the concept.

MR. BRIDGES: Coming here --

THE COURT: How is this judicial estoppel if you had done what I think the order required and asked this Court for leave? What -- and I said fine, you have leave. Where's the judicial estoppel problem?

MR. BRIDGES: If you say fine, you have leave, but that leave is only, as the order states, because we have colorable claims of gross negligence, colorable claims of intentional wrongdoing, what happens to our mere negligence and mere breach of fiduciary duty claims? Are they foreclosed? The order on its face --

THE COURT: Well, I would interpret the order to be yes, and then you could appeal me, and the Court would either say it's too late to appeal that because you didn't appeal it in July 2020, or fine, I'll hear your appeal. Where's the estoppel?

MR. BRIDGES: Your Honor, our claims that this Court lacks the authority either to have made that order in the first place or the jurisdiction to rule on colorability now because of Section -- the mandatory abstention provision, whose section number I've now lost. That if we come to you and ask you to rule on those things, have we not thereby waived on appeal our claim that you couldn't rule in the first place on those things?

That is what our motion for leave in the District Court argues, is that there's -- there are jurisdictional shortcomings with your ability to decide what we're asking that Court to decide. And Your Honor, by coming here first and then appealing, that's what we fear we would have lost. And instead of coming here and appealing, what we -- what we would have done, in the alternative, I guess, would be to come here and ask you not to rule but move to withdraw the reference of our own motion.

That two-step, filing here and filing a motion to withdraw the reference on the thing we filed here, we didn't think was required, nor could we find any case law or rule saying that that was appropriate.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. BRIDGES: These are not games, Your Honor. We were not trying to play games. We aren't bankruptcy court lawyers. We're not regularly in front of the Bankruptcy Court. So the notion why didn't we come here first isn't exactly at the top of our mind. The question for trial lawyers typically is, where can we file this, what are the permissible venues, not why don't we come to Bankruptcy Court? Especially when your order appears to say that causes of action that don't rise to the level of gross negligence or intentional wrongdoing are already foreclosed.

Your Honor, the January order, I think I have to just briefly address again, even though I don't understand why it makes a difference. Apparently, counsel thinks it makes a difference because Mr. Dondero apparently supported it in some way. Our position is, for whatever difference it makes, the January versus the July, we don't believe there's anything in the District Court complaint putting at issue Mr. Seery's role as a director, so we don't understand how that order is implicated.

Again, I'm not sure that matters at all. I'm not raising it as a defense. I'm just telling Your Honor this is all about the July order, from our perspective. Certainly, the July order puts his role as a CEO -- certainly, the District Court case puts his role as a CEO at issue, and that's what the July order is about.

Your Honor, the Applewood case requires specifics in order to terminate our rights to sue and to bring certain causes of action, and without that kind of specificity, Your Honor, we believe that that order fails to preclude, fails to have preclusive effect as to these later-arising claims. And we would submit not only that it was not contemplated, but that it was not intended to have that effect, and that even Mr. Seery's testimony suggests that that's not how he understood that order to be effective.

Counsel argued that the Barton Doctrine does apply here and rattled off the names of cases that don't -- to my knowledge, no case, no case that I can find deals with this type of deferential order where someone is asked -- where a court is asked to defer to the business judgment of an entity in approving an appointment, and nonetheless deciding that the Barton Doctrine applies. That's not what Villegas holds. That's not what Espinosa holds. I don't think Barton is applicable in a situation like that. Certainly, it's outside of the context of what Barton anticipated itself over a century ago when it was decided.

Your Honor, if we're wrong, please know we're wrong in earnest. These are not games. These are not sneakiness. No such motivation is at issue here. I was hopeful that that would be plain from the text of the motion for leave itself. If it's not, I'd offer this in addition. The docket at the District Court shows that immediately upon filing the motion for leave, a proposed order was filed with it asking to have the proposed complaint deemed filed, which as soon as I saw I asked us to immediately retract it and to substitute a new proposed order that does not ask for the amended complaint to be deemed filed. That is not what we wanted.

And the fear was what if our motion is granted because the District Court says you have the right, you don't even need leave, but as to the Bankruptcy Court, you're on your own, this is at your own risk, I'm not going to rule on any of the jurisdictional questions that you attempt to raise? We did not want our complaint deemed filed for that reason. What we did want was for a court where we did not risk judicial estoppel to decide whether or not our key claim under the Advisers Act had been foreclosed by your July order, and that was the key and motivating factor.

On top of that, Your Honor, instead of arguing the meaning of the word pursue, let me just say this. We understood pursue in that context to refer to claims or causes of action, not potential, unfiled, unasserted, contemplated claims or causes of action. That until a claim or cause of action is actually asserted in some way, that it can't be pursued, and that the reference here was to two kinds of action, those that had not yet been commenced -- and your order foreclosed the commencing of them without permission -- and those that had been commenced. And your order couldn't foreclose the commencing of them because they hadn't been commenced yet, but your order did foreclose pursuing them.

And that was my reading of what that order said. And it fits with this notion that a claim or cause of action isn't something you're considering or even researching. It didn't dawn on us that researching or talking to a client about a potential claim could violate the order because in some respect that conversation could be in pursuit of the claim.

By the same notion, we didn't think asking a court with original jurisdiction according to Congress, asking a court to decide whether or not we were foreclosed from bringing our claims in a motion for leave was violating your order.

We don't have much else, Your Honor. In terms of the need to enforce compliance with your orders, if we understand them, we sure as heck are going to follow them. And if we've misconstrued the term pursue, I'm certainly very sorry about that.

I appreciate counsel saying he thinks we're probably good people. I did not think what we did was any kind of gross error in judgment. I thought that what we were doing was preserving our clients' rights, going to a court of competent jurisdiction, and asking the question, can we do what we think we ought to be able to do, but is -- frankly, Your Honor, we're a bit confused about because of the order that seems on its face to foreclose the very lawsuit that we think we should be bringing on behalf on this charitable organization that foreclosed it months before the conduct at issue that gave rise to the complaint. And with that conundrum, knowing what to do was not obvious or easy for the lawyers or for the client who was dependent on his lawyers to give him good, sound advice.

I'm very grateful for you giving us the time and for your very pointed questions. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. All right. Who's next?

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF MARK PATRICK

MR. ANDERSON: May it please the Court, Michael Anderson on behalf of Mr. Patrick, Mark Patrick.

You know, this is a contempt proceeding. It's very serious. And, you know, my stomach aches for the people here.

THE COURT: Mine does, too, by the way.

MR. ANDERSON: It truly aches.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. ANDERSON: And I mean what I said when I did opening, when I said we don't need a hearing, an evidentiary hearing. And I still don't believe we did, because it comes down to what does the word pursue mean, because there's already been an acknowledgement --

THE COURT: Do you all want to withdraw all your exhibits? I've got a lot of exhibits that I now need to go through. If I admit them into evidence, I'm going to read them.

MR. ANDERSON: No, I understand.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. ANDERSON: But it does come down to the word pursue. Counsel has already said commence doesn't do it, and so then it's pursue.

And I could ask Your Honor, what did you mean when you said pursue in the July order, but I'm not going to say that. And I asked my client on the stand, you know, did you pursue a claim or cause of action? And then it was very telling. What happened with counsel? He stood up and objected to me even asking if it was pursued. And it dawned on me, if he's going to object, does pursue have some sort of legal -- that was his objection. It was he objected on legal grounds. Does that have some sort of legal meaning?

This is contempt. You can't be held in contempt unless it is bright-line clear that you have deviated from a standard of conduct and there's no ambiguity. Well, clearly, there is ambiguity, because over on this side of the room we say filing a motion for leave can't be pursue. We can look at the order and we know it doesn't mean pursue because I just heard Your Honor say you should have filed a motion for leave in this Court before doing anything. All right? So if that -- if that is what without the Bankruptcy Court first determining, if that's what the motion for leave is, well, then if we go up to the first sentence, No entity may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action, then it has this, without the Bankruptcy Court first determining, that means -- if pursue means a motion for leave, if that's what that means, then that order says you can't commence or file a motion for leave before you file a motion for leave. Because that's what it means. If pursue means motion for leave and you've said you should have come here and filed a motion for leave because it says, Debtor, without the Bankruptcy Court first determining that notice that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim, and specifically authorizing. The vehicle to do that would be a motion for leave, right? And you can't pursue anything until a motion for leave has been filed.

Now, where was the motion for leave? And I understand, Your Honor, you know, no expert at reading the room, obviously, you're frustrated that the motion for leave was filed in the District Court and not in this Court. But it doesn't change the fact, and neither did any of the evidence, change anything, is what does pursue mean?

And if someone says, well, it's obviously clear it means x, well, is it really obviously clear it means filing a motion for leave? Because nobody on my side, when you read it, when you say pursue, can read it that way. And if we're going to have contempt sanctions being posed, and there has to be clear and convincing evidence or beyond reasonable doubt, depending upon, you know, I don't think you have to get to that part, but clear --

THE COURT: This is not criminal contempt.

MR. ANDERSON: Clear and convincing is the civil standard for contempt.

THE COURT: Right.

MR. ANDERSON: And if pursue is open to that much interpretation, it's not the kind of thing that can be held in contempt on. And I understand the frustration. I hear the frustration. I hear counsel talk about that was not their intent when they filed it. You know, I heard Mr. Patrick get up there. I heard counsel say, hey, Mr. Patrick's doing his job, he's a good guy, seems like a good guy. Well, Mr. Patrick's up there. Look, they filed the underlying lawsuit. Nobody -- there's no motion for that in this Court about the underlying lawsuit. It's only about the motion for leave. That's all we're here about.

And so you go to that, and we've heard all these arguments about it, and we've been here almost as long as the motion for leave was actually on file before it was sua sponte dismissed without prejudice.

And so I go back to that and I say that, if pursue means filing a motion for leave, then that order would require an order for anyone to violate -- it would be violated upon the filing of a motion for leave, because you can't pursue something until the Bankruptcy Court has already first determined, after notice, that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim and specifically authorizing the entity to bring such a claim. Because that -- we already know that's a motion for leave in and of itself. Therefore, pursue, just simply filing a motion for leave will put you in that.

But that gets into all these -- we don't need to be having this discussion about, you know, is a motion for leave pursue? Is pursue a motion for leave? I've heard both arguments here. It doesn't justify contempt. And I know -- and so certainly with respect to my side, I, you know -- given that, I would request that the Court deny the request for contempt.

And again, I want to say, too, look, we hear you. Absolutely hear you. Understand the frustration. Totally hear you on that.

I'm going to turn over the balance of my time to Mr. Phillips, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. ANDERSON: -- unless you have any questions, Your Honor. I appreciate it.

THE COURT: Okay. I do not.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF MARK PATRICK

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, Louis M. Phillips, and I'll be brief. I'm going to try to bring it down to -- I was not involved. We are -- we are here because of the indemnification provisions of CLO Holdco representing Mr.

Patrick individually. My firm was not involved in the litigation. We were hired to represent CLO Holdco and some of the defendants in the UCC litigation, and our role has expanded to do some other stuff, particularly represent Mr. Patrick because of the indemnification provisions of the Holdco entity documents. He's entitled to indemnification and we're providing a defense for him. That's why we're here.

So I come way after the order. We have not been involved in anything. But I think I'm just going to try to distill everything about the order and about the concern and about the litigation, because the Court is asking about is this an end run on the settlement? The Court is also saying, all you had to do was come here first.

But let's look. We're here about one thing, the motion for leave. And as Mr. Anderson pointed out, the commence or pursue a claim, according to the order, commence or pursue can only occur after the Court has authorized the litigation. Okay. So that's what the order says. You can't commence or pursue.

Counsel for the Debtors says, well, it can't be after commencement because you've already commenced the action. So pursue has to mean something before the commencement of the action. It would mean something before the commencement of the action under this order.

But it doesn't mean something before the Court approves the commencement of the action, because commence or pursue under this order does not occur before the Court has acted. That's the language of the order. It only occurs after the Court has authorized it. That's the context in which commence or pursue exists, after this Court has authorized.

Okay. So it can't be pursuit before the Court has authorized without commencement because it only is triggered by the Court's authorization of the action, which means, before you commence it, actions in time take time, before you commence the action, you have to pursue the action to commence it. But you can't do that until you've approved it. All right?

That's the temporal concern and why we say the motion for leave can't be pursuit of an action under this order. It might be pursuit under another definition or another order. In other words, maybe an order could be issued saying, you can't file a motion for leave in any other court but this one. I don't know whether it'd be a good order, but the order could say that. But when you say all you had to do was file a motion for leave in this Court and everything would be okay, no. The motion for leave is not, under this order, pursuit. Pursuit only occurs under this order after you've done something, after Your Honor has done something.

So if a motion for leave is violative at the District Court, the motion for leave would be violative here, because it occurs before Your Honor has taken action.

Now, clearly, you want people to ask, but just as clearly, and this was the point of my remarks earlier at the tail-end of opening, just as clearly, I have a question, because frankly, I understand what these guys are saying. These guys haven't really said it. They're a little shame-faced at what these guys are asking. Because what these guys are asking is whether or not an employee Seery, as the CRO -- and we heard, oh, he bargained for it, he wouldn't have done it without getting the order and the protections because -- did he bargain for not having to comply with the Investor Advisory Act? Did he bargain for not having a fiduciary duty to third parties? Because the one thing that Mr. Bridges has been trying to tell you is that, under this order, if it's interpreted one way, you would never authorize a violation of the Investment Advisory Act because it wouldn't necessarily be gross negligence or willful misconduct.

In other words, in employing Seery, did the Debtor go out in this disclosure statement and say, we are advisor to $1.2 billion of third-party money, and guess what, our CRO has no fiduciary duty to you? We have forestalled any claim under the Investment Advisory Act in our employment order. Did that happen?

Because if that happened, I don't know if the Court was really thinking that way, because that -- that can't happen in a confirmation order before, under the Fifth Circuit authority, after disclosure statement, plan, et cetera, et cetera, because that's a third party release of claims that may -- that haven't occurred yet. You would be releasing because you would be saying you have no right. You have no right. This is not temporal. This is saying you have no right, if it's saying that, to bring an Investment Advisory -- Investment Advisory Act or a Breach of Fiduciary Duty Act that's not gross negligence or willful misconduct forever upon an employment order.

Now, if that's not what it means, then we have another conundrum. The other conundrum -- and I'm new to this, maybe this has been thought out by everybody, but I don't think so. The other conundrum is this order doesn't apply to actions that don't involve willful -- gross negligence or willful misconduct. It only applies to those types of actions. So, frankly, I don't know what the order does.

I think the problem -- I probably shouldn't be the purviewer of who ought to know because my standard's probably really low, given my capacity here. But I'm a guy off the street. Seery gets hired to run the Debtor. Seery testifies and he admits, we've got Investment Advisory Act all over the place. We're making lots of fees out of administering all this third-party money. Do they know? Do they know he's immune? Do the third parties know?

Now, a standard about managing the Debtor? Absolutely. That's just pure D Chapter 11, pure D corporate, pure D standard liability if you're operating an entity. You're not liable for gross negligence or willful misconduct. You're not. And so any claim for damage to the Debtor or to the estate by actions taken in the CRO capacity, absolutely. Absolutely. You don't want a bunch of yoyos suing, you did something against the Debtor and the Debtor is now worth $147 less than it was because you did something, you were negligent and you forgot to put the dog out. No. It's got to be gross negligence or willful misconduct if you are talking about running the Debtor and running the estate.

But that's not what we have here. And you can ask all the questions you want about whether the lawsuit's any good, but that's not what's up before the Court. What's up before the Court is whether filing a motion for leave is contempt. And under this order, you're saying, all you had to do is come here. Well, in one reading of it, you'd have never got relief because you can't bring the kind of action. I foreclosed it by employing Seery. He no longer has a fiduciary duty and is no longer bound by the Investment Advisory Act. Case closed. Get out of here. Unless you can formulate something around so that you can establish gross negligence or willful misconduct, I've done away with all those causes of action.

I don't think that's what happened. And if that's not what happened, this doesn't apply because it shouldn't apply to third-party actions. It should apply to actions for damage to the estate by creditors of the estate for whom Seery is acting as CRO of the Debtor, who is the -- in possession of the estate. That makes perfect sense. Perfect sense. And nobody would say that you shouldn't have sole authority to determine whether a CRO who's acting for the estate and damages the estate -- because that'd be a claim against the estate. That would be an administrative claim against the estate. That is just hornbook law.

That's the way I see this order. And I admit I didn't write it. I admit I didn't submit it. I admit I didn't litigate it. I admit I'm coming in late. But sometimes maybe a fresh pair of elderly, trifocal-assisted eyes doesn't hurt. Because I will tell you, Judge, on one read this Court says don't bother coming here because you don't have the kind of claim that can be brought, even if you're a third party. And the only way that happens is if Seery's released from any obligation under the Investment Advisory Act, and I think everybody would like to know that. And he can't be sued for breach of fiduciary duty to third parties that he admits he owes. I think people would like to know that.

And if it doesn't, then this is not -- this order is not about that. But the fact -- I've been at this 40 years, and I usually don't want to talk about myself. There's really not a lot to talk about. But I hear Mr. Morris how he's never done this, he's never done that. I hear this, I'm a good -- you know, whatever. I'm confused. I've been doing this 41 years. Bankruptcy, 39.7. I must be crazy, but that's what I've been doing. And I'm confused because I don't even know if they needed to come here. I don't even know if, had they come here, if they could have even presented an action for gross -- for negligence or breach of fiduciary duty, could have -- gross negligence or willful misconduct? I don't know whether this order just applies to Seery's duties as CRO vis-a-vis creditors of the estate and property of the estate and damage to the estate. Because that's not what we're dealing with here.

The point is, Judge, this is contempt. And I understand Your Honor knows all about contempt. Your Honor knows about Matter of Hipp. Your Honor knows about civil contempt authorization for bankruptcy courts. Your Honor knows that you can't operate without the right to impose civil contempt sanctions. And Your Honor knows, and I agree with Your Honor, that civil contempt is both remedial and coercive.

But how do you coerce around my questions? Maybe I am all wet, but if I am, I don't think I am, and I don't understand that I am, and that's why I'm concerned about going off into this contempt wilderness and millions in fees, when the motion for leave was dismissed and when the lawsuit doesn't ask for or includes most of its claims. I don't even -- I have not studied the lawsuit. I wasn't involved in it. But if it's a breach of fiduciary duty and Advisory Act and it says what you've been told it says, that he should have pulled up different stuff, that the valuation metrics were different, that he shouldn't have used it, I don't know that they're saying fraud. I don't know that they're saying he knew he was doing -- I think they're saying he breached the Investment Advisory Act. And that's not gross negligence or willful misconduct. Then does this order apply or this order -- does this order foreclose that?

The fact is, I think we could have decided this on the pleadings and on the order. We didn't. The fact that Mr. Dondero did A, B, C. And I will tell you this. Mr. Patrick has stood up. He's going to get a harpoon, he's going to get a harpoon, subject to his right to appeal. But he has told this Court. We represent him. We're not trying to get him out of having authorized the order. It's very important for this Court to understand. Mr. Patrick is one of these entities. Mr. Dondero can holler and scream all he wants to. Mr. -- and look, did he terminate Grant Scott? If I'm Grant Scott, and this is my best friend and I was in his wedding and I was his roommate and I was his best friend and I'm doing this stuff for $5,000 and I do something and $5,000 a month and I do something and I get hollered at and I've got a full a law practice, I'm an IP lawyer, why don't I just tell him to go jump in a lake, which is the other way you could look at Grant Scott leaving. I want you to jump in a lake. I'm out of here. I don't need this.

Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

MR. DEMO: Your Honor, how much time do they have left, --

THE COURT: Um, --

MR. DEMO: -- to be honest?

THE COURT: Nate, are you -- 26 minutes? All right.

MR. TAYLOR: I'll go way under, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF JAMES DONDERO

MR. TAYLOR: Your Honor, Clay Taylor. I'm here on behalf of Mr. Dondero. He was named as an individual alleged violator within the order.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm getting lawyers mixed up. Mr. Anderson, who did you represent?

MR. ANDERSON: Mr. Patrick. Mr. Phillips and I represent --

THE COURT: You're Mr. Patrick?

MR. PHILLIPS: We're Mr. Patrick.

THE COURT: You're both --

MR. PHILLIPS: Mr. Patrick.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm sorry. I'm getting my Fort Worth law firms mixed up. Okay.

MR. TAYLOR: That's quite all right. Clay Taylor from Bonds Ellis here on behalf of Mr. Dondero. And we're here because he was named in the alleged violator motion within the order as an alleged violator. We don't think that he is, for the reasons that we're about to explain, but we were ordered to appear --

A VOICE: No.

MR. TAYLOR: -- and so therefore we are appearing and telling you why we're not an alleged violator.

First of all, for all the reasons that Mr. Sbaiti and Mr. Bridges and Mr. Phillips and Mr. Anderson said, the court order was in effect. We agree with that. It required certain conduct to be done. Yes, it did. It said you couldn't commence something. It said you couldn't pursue it. I think we have gone through what the pursuit and commence. Nobody is arguing that anything was commenced. It comes down to pursuit.

But let's talk about what the evidence shows about Mr. Dondero. It shows that Mr. Dondero believes that there have been breaches of fiduciary duty. He thinks that there has been negligence committed. He believes that actions should be taken. We don't run away from that. He, frankly, told you that.

But here, he didn't take any action to pursue it. The DAF did. CLO Holdco did. It's undisputed that he's not an officer, director, or control person for either of those entities. The act we're here on is a motion for leave to file an amended complaint to include Mr. Seery. That's -- Mr. Dondero didn't take any of those acts. He believes it should have been done, but he's not the authorizing person.

He might have -- let's just pretend that he thought he was authorizing something. It doesn't matter that he thought he could authorize something or that he was trying to push for it. The fact remains he can't authorize it. You know, he can say, I declare war on Afghanistan. Well, he can't. Congress can't. He can write a letter to his Congressman. He already wrote a letter to his Congressman. He talked. He talked with the head of the acting CLO -- CLO Holdco and he said, I think there's something wrong here. I think you should be looking into it. You know what, he goes, you might be right. Go talk with Mazin about it. Give him some data. Conduct an investigation. They did. And then they went to the authorizing person and they filed a motion for leave to include Mr. Seery. Mr. Dondero did nothing wrong in that.

Now, there is some personal animosity. I think that Your Honor has probably seen there seems to be some personal animosity between Mr. Seery and Mr. Dondero, and that's unfortunate. But just because there's some personal animosity doesn't mean that maybe something wasn't done wrong. Maybe that Mr. Dondero -- he's certainly allowed to at least tell people, well, I think there was something done wrong. And if there is an action to be had, then those appropriate entities can take it. But he didn't do those things.

And so even if he says, just like Michael Scott, "I declare bankruptcy," it doesn't matter. You have to take the certain actions.

THE COURT: I got it. I don't know if everyone did.

MR. TAYLOR: Yes, well, yeah, you have to be a The Office fan.

But so that's where we stand. And for all the reasons the prior people have discussed, I don't think that there was any violation of this Court's order. But even if there was, Mr. Dondero in this situation was not the one. We're going to have to deal with the other order that came out yesterday in due course, but for this discrete issue that is before this Court today, Mr. Dondero didn't violate anything.

Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Morris, you get the last word.

REBUTTAL CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor. These are going to be discrete points because it's truly rebuttal. I'm going to try to respond to certain points.

Mr. Bridges and Mr. Phillips made extensive arguments about why they believe the order is wrong, why it's overreaching. They tried to get into your head to think about what you intended or what you thought. The fact of the matter is, the answer to all of those questions -- first of all, none of it's relevant to this motion because we've got the order -- but the answer is very simple. Forget about coming here to seek leave to amend to add Mr. Seery. We can avoid Mr. Sbaiti's concerns about judicial estoppel or something. Why didn't they just file the motion for reconsideration? They filed that after they filed the motion for leave to amend, after we filed the motion for contempt. Only then did they file the motion for reconsideration.

Now, we think it's ill-thought-out. We think it's problematic. Probably not today, is my guess, we'll argue to you as to why we think that motion ought to be denied. But if they truly believed that the order was infirm in any way, wouldn't the proper thing to have been to come here and tell you that? Wouldn't the proper thing to be to come to the court that issued the order that you have a problem with and ask the court to review it again? And if Your Honor overruled the motion, to appeal it.

Why are we even doing this? Why did they do it? It's not we. Why did they do it? Right? And that solves almost everything they've said. That's point one.

Point two, the January order. The January order is very important. It's important not just because it applies to directors, but it's important because Mr. Dondero agreed to it, and it also applies -- I want to get it -- Paragraph 10. It's Exhibit 15. It applies to the independent directors and the independents directors' agents. If a CEO is not an agent of an independent director, I'm not sure what is. The independent directors are the body that appointed the CEO. The CEO, Mr. Seery, is acting on behalf of the board. This is the order that Mr. Dondero agreed to. It's the order -- take out the word independent director; put in Mr. Seery -- it's the order everybody's complaining about. But even the January order certainly applied to Mr. Seery. That's point two.

Point three. I've heard a lot of concerns about the slippery slope and what does pursuit mean and does talking to a lawyer mean pursuit and doing an investigation being pursuit. I don't know, Your Honor, and I don't care, because that's not what we're here to talk about. We're here to talk about a specific act -- not a hypothetical, not a slippery slope. We're talking about the filing of a motion for leave to amend a complaint to add Mr. Seery as a defendant. That's all we're talking about. So, you know, the rest of it, it's just noise. And the only question is whether, and I think it's pretty clear, that means pursuit.

Another version on the theme of was there any alternative to filing the motion in the District Court, I think there was. The Sbaiti firm did file that suit against Acis in New York. And if Your Honor checks the docket in the Acis bankruptcy, I think you'll find that there's a motion from Mr. Rukavina, for a comfort order, basically, saying that -- asking the court to declare that the filing of the complaint in New York against Acis didn't violate the plan injunction. I think I have that right.

But I point that out, Your Honor -- it's not evidence in the record, but the Court can certainly take judicial notice of what's on its docket -- I point that out because there's another example of a lawyer who is very active in this case who actually -- now, he already commenced the suit, so he did -- they did both simultaneously, so I don't want to suggest that that's the perfect thing to have done, but at least he's here asking for -- he's bringing it to your attention, he's telling you it's happened, he's asking for a comfort order, and someday Your Honor may rule on it. I don't know.

Number six, what's with the pursuit of Mr. Seery? What is with the pursuit of Mr. Seery? Is there any doubt in anybody's mind that the Debtor is going to have to indemnify Mr. Seery and will bring in another law firm? And while I don't think it will ever happen in a hundred billion years, if there is a judgment against Mr. Seery, isn't that going to be the Debtor's responsibility? Why are they even bothering to do this? I think it's a fair question for the Court to ask.

I think Mr. Taylor came up and talked about animosity. How do you explain going after Jim Seery? How do you do it? He's going to be indemnified. It's in -- it's in like three different orders. It's in the confirmation order. It's in the CEO order. It's -- it's probably as a matter of law. It's in the Strand partnership agreement. It's -- he's been indemnified like 12 different times. What is the purpose, other than to make Mr. Seery's life miserable? There is none. You'll never hear a rational explanation for why they're doing this.

THE COURT: Just so you know, I've not looked at any of the pleadings in the District Court --

MR. MORRIS: And I'm not asking you to.

THE COURT: -- other than what has been presented to me today.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. That's fine, Your Honor.

THE COURT: But I'm very flipped out about the causes of action against the Debtor, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- who hasn't reached an effective date.

MR. MORRIS: Well, --

THE COURT: And I'm most interested to know what the defenses, motions --

MR. MORRIS: We'll get to that.

THE COURT: -- are going to be raised in that regard.

MR. MORRIS: We will get to that in due course.

I do want to point out, just to be clear, because we keep hearing that they learned about, you know, all of these horrible things after the fact. In the complaint, which I think is Exhibit 12, --

THE COURT: I'm there.

MR. MORRIS: -- at Paragraph 127, the Plaintiffs allege, "Mr. Seery was informed in late December 2020 at an in-person meeting in Dallas, to which Mr. Seery had to fly, that HCO" -- excuse me "HCLF and HCM had to suspend trading in MGM Studios' securities because Seery had learned from James Dondero, who was on the board, of a potential purchase of the company. The news of the MGM purchase should have caused Seery to revalue."

I cannot begin to tell you the problems with that paragraph. We're not going to discuss them today. I made a promise to these folks that we wouldn't get into the merits of the complaint. But Your Honor was onto something before, and those issues, you know, may see the light of day one day. And if they do, folks are going to have to deal with it. But I will point out that at the time the communication was made, the other TRO was in effect. We didn't bring that one to the Court's attention. But the important point there, Your Honor, is December 2020. It is December 2020. That is the allegation that's being made against Mr. Seery. And the fact of the matter is, because I've done the research myself, the Court will find that on December 23rd, the day the HarbourVest settlement motion was filed, it was fully public knowledge that Amazon and Apple, I think, had shut down negotiations with MGM at that time. Right? So the big secret information, it was in the public domain on December 23rd.

There will also never be any evidence ever that Mr. Seery got on a plane and flew to Dallas in December 2020, but that's a minor point.

I'd like to just conclude, Your Honor, by saying I've heard pleas that they understand. They understand, Your Honor, now they understand. It would be good if they promised the Court that they won't seek to assert claims against Mr. Seery anywhere but in this Court and comply with the order as it's written. That, that, that would be taking a little bit of responsibility.
