Argument Against Debtors Objection:

1. The Debtors' as the persons responsible for the operations and well being of the company have a fiduciary responsibility to return all available assets to their lenders and equity share holders before they are compensated. First in line loan repayment, second investment shareholders, and last is Company leadership and Owners.
2. The mismanagement and incompetence of the company leadership did indeed harm my interests and those of the other equity investors. We should not be excluded from any compensation for our losses and stand in line for that compensation.
