(b) for (i) an accounting of profits made from the purchase and sale (or sale and purchase) by Indemnitee of securities of the Company within the meaning of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or similar provisions of state statutory law or common law, (ii) any reimbursement of the Company by the Indemnitee of any bonus or other incentive-based or equity-based compensation or of any profits realized by the Indemnitee from the sale of securities of the Company, as required in each case under the Exchange Act (including any such reimbursements that arise from an accounting restatement of the Company pursuant to Section 304 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "Sarbanes-Oxley Act"), or the payment to the Company of profits arising from the purchase and sale by Indemnitee of securities in violation of Section 306 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) or (iii) any reimbursement of the Company by Indemnitee of any compensation pursuant to any compensation recoupment or clawback policy adopted by the Board or the compensation committee of the Board, including but not limited to any such policy adopted to comply with stock exchange listing requirements implementing Section 10D of the Exchange Act; or

(c) except as provided in Section 7(e) of this Agreement, in connection with any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee, including any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee against the Company or its directors, officers, employees or other indemnitees, unless (i) the Board authorized the Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) prior to its initiation, (ii) such payment arises in connection with any mandatory counterclaim or cross claim brought or raised by Indemnitee in any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) or (iii) the Company provides the indemnification, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the Company under applicable law.

10. Duration of Agreement. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period Indemnitee is an officer and/or a director of the Company (or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise) and shall continue thereafter so long as Indemnitee shall be subject to any Proceeding (or any proceeding commenced under Section 7 hereof) by reason of his or her Corporate Status, whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives.

11. Security. To the extent requested by Indemnitee and approved by the Board, the Company may at any time and from time to time provide security to Indemnitee for the Company's obligations hereunder through an irrevocable bank line of credit, funded trust or other collateral. Any such security, once provided to Indemnitee, may not be revoked or released without the prior written consent of the Indemnitee.

12. Enforcement.

(a) The Company expressly confirms and agrees that it has entered into this Agreement and assumes the obligations imposed on it hereby in order to induce Indemnitee to serve as an officer and/or a director of the Company, and the Company acknowledges that Indemnitee is relying upon this Agreement in serving as an officer and/or a director of the Company.

(b) This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(c) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnitee's rights to receive advancement of expenses under this Agreement.

13. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person is or was serving at the express written request of the Company.

(b) "Disinterested Director" means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) "Enterprise" shall mean the Company and any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that Indemnitee is or was serving at the express written request of the Company as a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary.

(d) "Expenses" shall include all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed on the Indemnitee as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement, ERISA excise taxes and penalties, and all other disbursements or expenses of the types customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, participating, or being or preparing to be a witness in a Proceeding, or responding to, or objecting to, a request to provide discovery in any Proceeding. Expenses also shall include (i) Expenses incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Proceeding, including, without limitation, the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersedeas bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent (ii) Expenses incurred in connection with recovery under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee is ultimately determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement or Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be, and (iii) for purposes of Section 7(e) only, Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in connection with the interpretation, enforcement or defense of Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement, the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, by litigation or otherwise. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnitee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnitee.

(e) "Independent Counsel" means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently is, nor in the past five years has been, retained to represent: (i) the Company or Indemnitee, or any of their respective affiliates in any matter material to either such party (other than with respect to matters concerning Indemnitee under this Agreement, or of other indemnitees under similar indemnification agreements), or (ii) any other party to the Proceeding giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Independent Counsel" shall not include any person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnitee in an action to determine Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement. The Company agrees to pay the reasonable fees of the Independent Counsel referred to above and to fully indemnify such counsel against any and all Expenses, claims, liabilities and damages arising out of or relating to this Agreement or its engagement pursuant hereto.

(f) "Proceeding" includes any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, claim, counterclaim, cross claim, arbitration, mediation, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, investigation, inquiry, administrative hearing or any other actual, threatened or completed proceeding, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise and whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, including any appeal therefrom, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, by reason of any action taken by him or her, or of any inaction on his or her part, while acting in his or her Corporate Status; in each case whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification, reimbursement or advancement of expenses can be provided under this Agreement; including one pending on or before the date of this Agreement, but excluding one initiated by an Indemnitee pursuant to Section 7 of this Agreement to enforce his or her rights under this Agreement.

14. Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision. Further, the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof as to either Indemnitee or Appointing Stockholder shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any provision hereof as to the other. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this Agreement is intended to confer upon Indemnitee and Appointing Stockholder indemnification rights to the fullest extent permitted by applicable laws. In the event any provision hereof conflicts with any applicable law, such provision shall be deemed modified, consistent with the aforementioned intent, to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict.

15. Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, termination or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar) nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver.

16. Notice By Indemnitee. Indemnitee agrees promptly to notify the Company in writing upon being served with or otherwise receiving any summons, citation, subpoena, complaint, indictment, information or other document relating to any Proceeding or matter which may be subject to indemnification covered hereunder. The failure to so notify the Company shall not relieve the Company of any obligation which it may have to Indemnitee under this Agreement or otherwise unless and only to the extent that such failure or delay materially prejudices the Company.

17. Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given: (a) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not so confirmed, then on the next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. San Diego, CA 92121 or to such other address as may have been furnished to Indemnitee by the Company or to the Company by Indemnitee, as the case may be.

18. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement may also be executed and delivered by facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

19. Headings. The headings of the paragraphs of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute part of this Agreement or to affect the construction thereof.

20. Governing Law and Consent to Jurisdiction. This Agreement and the legal relations among the parties shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws rules. The Company and Indemnitee hereby irrevocably and unconditionally (i) agree that any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be brought only in the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Court"), and not in any other state or federal court in the United States of America or any court in any other country, (ii) consent to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Delaware Court for purposes of any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement, (iii) waive any objection to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Delaware Court, and (iv) waive, and agree not to plead or to make, any claim that any such action or proceeding brought in the Delaware Court has been brought in an improper or inconvenient forum.

2. Registration Rights. The Company covenants and agrees as follows:

2.1 Demand Registration.

(a) Form S-1 Demand. If at any time after one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of the registration statement for the IPO the Company receives a request from Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-1 registration statement with respect to at least forty percent (40%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, then the Company shall (x) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give notice thereof (the "Demand Notice") to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (y) as soon as practicable, and in any event within sixty (60) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-1 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities that the Initiating Holders requested to be registered and any additional Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(b) Form S-3 Demand. If at any time when it is eligible to use a Form S-3 registration statement, the Company receives a request from Holders of at least thirty percent (30%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-3 registration statement with respect to outstanding Registrable Securities of such Holders having an anticipated aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, of at least $5 million, then the Company shall (i) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give a Demand Notice to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (ii) as soon as practicable, and in any event within forty-five (45) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-3 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing obligations, if the Company furnishes to Holders requesting a registration pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 a certificate signed by the Company's chief executive officer stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors it would be materially detrimental to the Company for such registration statement to either become effective or remain effective for as long as such registration statement otherwise would be required to remain effective, because such action would (i) materially interfere with a significant acquisition, corporate reorganization, or other similar transaction involving the Company; (ii) require premature disclosure of material information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential; or (iii) render the Company unable to comply with requirements under the Securities Act or Exchange Act, then the Company shall have the right to defer taking action with respect to such filing, and any time periods with respect to filing or effectiveness thereof shall be tolled correspondingly, for a period of not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the request of the Initiating Holders is given; provided, however, that the Company may not invoke this right more than once in any twelve (12) month period and provided further that the Company shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such one hundred twenty (120) day period other than an Excluded Registration.

(d) The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) (i) during the period that is sixty (60) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; (ii) after the Company has effected one registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a); or (iii) if the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities that may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b). The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) (i) during the period that is thirty (30) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is ninety (90) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; or (ii) if the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) within the twelve (12) month period immediately preceding the date of such request. A registration shall not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d) until such time as the applicable registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC, unless the Initiating Holders withdraw their request for such registration, elect not to pay the registration expenses therefor, and forfeit their right to one demand registration statement pursuant to Subsection 2.6, in which case such withdrawn registration statement shall be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d); provided, that if such withdrawal is during a period the Company has deferred taking action pursuant to Subsection 2.1(c), then the Initiating Holders may withdraw their request for registration and such registration will not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d).

2.2 Company Registration. If the Company proposes to register (including, for this purpose, a registration effected by the Company for stockholders other than the Holders) any of its Common Stock under the Securities Act in connection with the public offering of such securities solely for cash (other than in an Excluded Registration), the Company shall, at such time, promptly give each Holder notice of such registration. Upon the request of each Holder given within twenty (20) days after such notice is given by the Company, the Company shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, cause to be registered all of the Registrable Securities that each such Holder has requested to be included in such registration. The Company shall have the right to terminate or withdraw any registration initiated by it under this Subsection 2.2 before the effective date of such registration, whether or not any Holder has elected to include Registrable Securities in such registration. The expenses (other than Selling Expenses) of such withdrawn registration shall be borne by the Company in accordance with Subsection 2.6.

2.3 Underwriting Requirements.

(a) If, pursuant to Subsection 2.1, the Initiating Holders intend to distribute the Registrable Securities covered by their request by means of an underwriting, they shall so advise the Company as a part of their request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and the Company shall include such information in the Demand Notice. The underwriter(s) will be selected by the Company and shall be reasonably acceptable to a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders. In such event, the right of any Holder to include such Holder's Registrable Securities in such registration shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company as provided in Subsection 2.4(e)) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the underwriter(s) selected for such underwriting. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection 2.3, if the underwriter(s) advise(s) the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, then the Initiating Holders shall so advise all Holders of Registrable Securities that otherwise would be underwritten pursuant hereto, and the number of Registrable Securities that may be included in the underwriting shall be allocated among such Holders of Registrable Securities, including the Initiating Holders, in proportion (as nearly as practicable) to the number of Registrable Securities owned by each Holder or in such other proportion as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders; provided, however, that the number of Registrable Securities held by the Holders to be included in such underwriting shall not be reduced unless all other securities are first entirely excluded from the underwriting. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares.

(b) In connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to Subsection 2.2, the Company shall not be required to include any of the Holders' Registrable Securities in such underwriting unless the Holders accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and its underwriters, and then only in such quantity as the underwriters in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering by the Company. If the total number of securities, including Registrable Securities, requested by stockholders to be included in such offering exceeds the number of securities to be sold (other than by the Company) that the underwriters in their reasonable discretion determine is compatible with the success of the offering, then the Company shall be required to include in the offering only that number of such securities, including Registrable Securities, which the underwriters and the Company in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering. If the underwriters determine that less than all of the Registrable Securities requested to be registered can be included in such offering, then the Registrable Securities that are included in such offering shall be allocated among the selling Holders in proportion (as nearly as practicable to) the number of Registrable Securities owned by each selling Holder or in such other proportions as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall (i) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced unless all other securities (other than securities to be sold by the Company) are first entirely excluded from the offering, or (ii) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced below twenty percent (20%) of the total number of securities included in such offering, unless such offering is the IPO, in which case the selling Holders may be excluded further if the underwriters make the determination described above and no other stockholder's securities are included in such offering. For purposes of the provision in this Subsection 2.3(b) concerning apportionment, for any selling Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, the partners, members, retired partners, retired members, stockholders, and Affiliates of such Holder, or the estates and Immediate Family Members of any such partners, retired partners, members, and retired members and any trusts for the benefit of any of the foregoing Persons, shall be deemed to be a single "selling Holder," and any pro rata reduction with respect to such "selling Holder" shall be based upon the aggregate number of Registrable Securities owned by all Persons included in such "selling Holder," as defined in this sentence.

2.4 Obligations of the Company. Whenever required under this Section 2 to effect the registration of any Registrable Securities, the Company shall, as expeditiously as reasonably possible:

(a) prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to such Registrable Securities and use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective and, upon the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities registered thereunder, keep such registration statement effective for a period of up to one hundred twenty (120) days or, if earlier, until the distribution contemplated in the registration statement has been completed; provided, however, that such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains, at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, from selling any securities included in such registration;

(b) prepare and file with the SEC such amendments and supplements to such registration statement, and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement, as may be necessary to comply with the Securities Act in order to enable the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) furnish to the selling Holders such numbers of copies of a prospectus, including a preliminary prospectus, as required by the Securities Act, and such other documents as the Holders may reasonably request in order to facilitate their disposition of their Registrable Securities;

(d) use its commercially reasonable efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or blue-sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the selling Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(e) in the event of any underwritten public offering, enter into and perform its obligations under an underwriting agreement, in usual and customary form, with the underwriter(s) of such offering;

(f) use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause all such Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement to be listed on a national securities exchange or trading system and each securities exchange and trading system (if any) on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(g) provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Agreement and provide a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration;

(h) promptly make available for inspection by the selling Holders, any underwriter(s) participating in any disposition pursuant to such registration statement, and any attorney or accountant or other agent retained by any such underwriter or selected by the selling Holders, all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents, and properties of the Company, and cause the Company's officers, directors, employees, and independent accountants to supply all information reasonably requested by any such seller, underwriter, attorney, accountant, or agent, in each case, as necessary or advisable to verify the accuracy of the information in such registration statement and to conduct appropriate due diligence in connection therewith;

(i) notify each selling Holder, promptly after the Company receives notice thereof, of the time when such registration statement has been declared effective or a supplement to any prospectus forming a part of such registration statement has been filed; and

(j) after such registration statement becomes effective, notify each selling Holder of any request by the SEC that the Company amend or supplement such registration statement or prospectus.

In addition, the Company shall ensure that, at all times after any registration statement covering a public offering of securities of the Company under the Securities Act shall have become effective, its insider trading policy shall provide that the Company's directors may implement a trading program under Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act.

2.5 Furnish Information. It shall be a condition precedent to the obligations of the Company to take any action pursuant to this Section 2 with respect to the Registrable Securities of any selling Holder that such Holder shall furnish to the Company such information regarding itself, the Registrable Securities held by it, and the intended method of disposition of such securities as is reasonably required to effect the registration of such Holder's Registrable Securities.

2.6 Expenses of Registration. All expenses (other than Selling Expenses) incurred in connection with registrations, filings, or qualifications pursuant to Section 2, including all registration, filing, and qualification fees; printers' and accounting fees; fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company; and the reasonable fees and disbursements, not to exceed $50,000, of one counsel for the selling Holders ("Selling Holder Counsel"), shall be borne and paid by the Company; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to pay for any expenses of any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Subsection 2.1 if the registration request is subsequently withdrawn at the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities to be registered (in which case all selling Holders shall bear such expenses pro rata based upon the number of Registrable Securities that were to be included in the withdrawn registration), unless the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities agree to forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b), as the case may be. All Selling Expenses relating to Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Section 2 shall be borne and paid by the Holders pro rata on the basis of the number of Registrable Securities registered on their behalf.

2.7 Delay of Registration. No Holder shall have any right to obtain or seek an injunction restraining or otherwise delaying any registration pursuant to this Agreement as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 2.

2.8 Indemnification. If any Registrable Securities are included in a registration statement under this Section 2:

(a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company will indemnify and hold harmless each selling Holder, and the partners, members, officers, directors, and stockholders of each such Holder; legal counsel and accountants for each such Holder; any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act) for each such Holder; and each Person, if any, who controls such Holder or underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, against any Damages, and the Company will pay to each such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, nor shall the Company be liable for any Damages to the extent that they arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of any such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person expressly for use in connection with such registration.

(b) To the extent permitted by law, each selling Holder, severally and not jointly, will indemnify and hold harmless the Company, and each of its directors, each of its officers who has signed the registration statement, each Person (if any), who controls the Company within the meaning of the Securities Act, legal counsel and accountants for the Company, any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act), any other Holder selling securities in such registration statement, and any controlling Person of any such underwriter or other Holder, against any Damages, in each case only to the extent that such Damages arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of such selling Holder expressly for use in connection with such registration; and each such selling Holder will pay to the Company and each other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Holder, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided further that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by any Holder by way of indemnity or contribution under Subsections 2.8(b) and 2.8(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by such Holder.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Subsection 2.8, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8, to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Subsection 2.8.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Subsection 2.8 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Subsection 2.8 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Subsection 2.8, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) no Holder will be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by such Holder pursuant to such registration statement, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall a Holder's liability pursuant to this Subsection 2.8(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by such Holder pursuant to Subsection 2.8(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by such Holder.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Company and Holders under this Subsection 2.8 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Section 2, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

2.9 Reports Under Exchange Act. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of SEC Rule 144 and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell securities of the Company to the public without registration or pursuant to a registration on Form S-3, the Company shall:

(a) use commercially reasonable efforts to make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in SEC Rule 144, at all times after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO;

(b) use commercially reasonable efforts to file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements); and

(c) furnish to any Holder, so long as the Holder owns any Registrable Securities, forthwith upon request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of SEC Rule 144 (at any time after ninety (90) days after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO), the Securities Act, and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements), or that it qualifies as a registrant whose securities may be resold pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies); and (ii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration (at any time after the Company has become subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act) or pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies to use such form).

2.10 Limitations on Subsequent Registration Rights. From and after the date of this Agreement, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, enter into any agreement with any holder or prospective holder of any securities of the Company that would provide to such holder or prospective holder the right to include securities in any registration on other than either a pro rata basis with respect to the Registrable Securities or on a subordinate basis after all Holders have had the opportunity to include in the registration and offering all shares of Registrable Securities that they wish to so include; provided that this limitation shall not apply to Registrable Securities acquired by any additional Investor that becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9.

2.11 "Market Stand-off" Agreement. Each Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the registration by the Company of shares of its Common Stock or any other equity securities under the Securities Act on a registration statement on Form S-1, and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days in the case of the IPO, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports, and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right, or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for Common Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Holder or are thereafter acquired) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such securities, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.11 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Holder or the immediate family of the Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall be applicable to the Holders only if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with such registration are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 2.11 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with such registration that are consistent with this Subsection 2.11 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

2.12 Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) The Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities shall not be sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred, and the Company shall not recognize and shall issue stop-transfer instructions to its transfer agent with respect to any such sale, pledge, or transfer, except upon the conditions specified in this Agreement, which conditions are intended to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act. A transferring Holder will cause any proposed purchaser, pledgee, or transferee of the Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities held by such Holder to agree to take and hold such securities subject to the provisions and upon the conditions specified in this Agreement.

(b) Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing (i) the Preferred Stock, (ii) the Registrable Securities, and (iii) any other securities issued in respect of the securities referenced in clauses (i) and (ii), upon any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or similar event, shall (unless otherwise permitted by the provisions of Subsection 2.12(c)) be notated with a legend substantially in the following form:

> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933. SUCH SHARES MAY NOT BE SOLD, PLEDGED, OR TRANSFERRED IN THE ABSENCE OF SUCH REGISTRATION OR A VALID EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION AND PROSPECTUS DELIVERY REQUIREMENTS OF SAID ACT.
> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE STOCKHOLDER, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY.

The Holders consent to the Company making a notation in its records and giving instructions to any transfer agent of the Restricted Securities in order to implement the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Subsection 2.12.

(c) The holder of such Restricted Securities, by acceptance of ownership thereof, agrees to comply in all respects with the provisions of this Section 2. Before any proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of any Restricted Securities, unless there is in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering the proposed transaction, the Holder thereof shall give notice to the Company of such Holder's intention to effect such sale, pledge, or transfer. Each such notice shall describe the manner and circumstances of the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer in sufficient detail and, if reasonably requested by the Company, shall be accompanied at such Holder's expense by either (i) a written opinion of legal counsel who shall, and whose legal opinion shall, be reasonably satisfactory to the Company, addressed to the Company, to the effect that the proposed transaction may be effected without registration under the Securities Act; (ii) a "no action" letter from the SEC to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of such Restricted Securities without registration will not result in a recommendation by the staff of the SEC that action be taken with respect thereto; or (iii) any other evidence reasonably satisfactory to counsel to the Company to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of the Restricted Securities may be effected without registration under the Securities Act, whereupon the Holder of such Restricted Securities shall be entitled to sell, pledge, or transfer such Restricted Securities in accordance with the terms of the notice given by the Holder to the Company. The Company will not require such a legal opinion or "no action" letter (x) in any transaction in compliance with SEC Rule 144; or (y) in any transaction in which such Holder distributes Restricted Securities to an Affiliate of such Holder for no consideration; provided that each transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Subsection 2.12. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Restricted Securities transferred as above provided shall be notated with, except if such transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the appropriate restrictive legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b), except that such certificate instrument, or book entry shall not be notated with such restrictive legend if, in the opinion of counsel for such Holder and the Company, such legend is not required in order to establish compliance with any provisions of the Securities Act.

2.13 Termination of Registration Rights. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion of Registrable Securities in any registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1 or 2.2 shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation;

(b) such time after consummation of the IPO as Rule 144 or another similar exemption under the Securities Act is available for the sale of all of such Holder's shares without limitation during a three-month period without registration;

(c) the fifth (5th) anniversary of the IPO.

3. Information Rights.

3.1 Delivery of Financial Statements. The Company shall deliver to each Major Investor, provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company:

(a) as soon as practicable, but in any event within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (i) a balance sheet as of the end of such year, (ii) statements of income and of cash flows for such year, and a comparison between (x) the actual amounts as of and for such fiscal year and (y) the comparable amounts for the prior year and as included in the Budget (as defined in Subsection 3.1(e)) for such year, with an explanation of any material differences between such amounts and a schedule as to the sources and applications of funds for such year, and (iii) a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such year, all such financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP and audited and certified by independent public accounts of nationally recognized standing selected by the Company;

(b) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, unaudited statements of income and cash flows for such fiscal quarter, and an unaudited balance sheet and a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such fiscal quarter, all prepared in accordance with GAAP and in a form which shall be reasonably acceptable to the Major Investors (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments; and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(c) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, a statement showing the number of shares of each class and series of capital stock and securities convertible into or exercisable for shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the period, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exercise of any outstanding securities convertible or exercisable for Common Stock and the exchange ratio or exercise price applicable thereto, and the number of shares of issued stock options and stock options not yet issued but reserved for issuance, if any, all in sufficient detail as to permit the Major Investors to calculate their respective percentage equity ownership in the Company, and certified by the chief financial officer or chief executive officer of the Company as being true, complete, and correct;

(d) as soon as practicable, but in any event within thirty (30) days of the end of each month, an unaudited income statement and statement of cash flows for such month, and an unaudited balance sheet and statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such month, all prepared in accordance with GAAP and in a form which shall be reasonably acceptable to the Major Investors (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP); and

(e) as soon as practicable, but in any event thirty (30) days before the end of each fiscal year, a budget and business plan for the next fiscal year (collectively, the "Budget"), approved by the Board of Directors (including a majority of the Series A Directors) and prepared on a monthly basis, including balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flow for such months and, promptly after prepared, any other budgets or revised budgets prepared by the Company;

(f) such other information relating to the financial condition, business, prospects, or corporate affairs of the Company as any Major Investor may from time to time reasonably request; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated under this Subsection 3.1 to provide information (i) that the Company reasonably determines in good faith to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in a form acceptable to the Company); or (ii) the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel; and

(g) with respect to the financial statements called for in Subsection 3.1(a), Subsection 3.1(b) and Subsection 3.1(d), an instrument executed by the chief financial officer and chief executive officer of the Company certifying that such financial statements were prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied with prior practice for earlier periods (except as otherwise set forth in Subsection 3.1(b) and Subsection 3.1(d)) and fairly present the financial condition of the Company and its results of operation for the periods specified therein.

If, for any period, the Company has any subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with those of the Company, then in respect of such period the financial statements delivered pursuant to the foregoing sections shall be the consolidated and consolidating financial statements of the Company and all such consolidated subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Subsection 3.1 to the contrary, the Company may cease providing the information set forth in this Subsection 3.1 during the period starting with the date sixty (60) days before the Company's good-faith estimate of the date of filing of a registration statement if it reasonably concludes it must do so to comply with the SEC rules applicable to such registration statement and related offering; provided that the Company's covenants under this Subsection 3.1 shall be reinstated at such time as the Company is no longer actively employing its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective.

3.2 Inspection. The Company shall permit each Major Investor (provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company), at such Major Investor's expense, to visit and inspect the Company's properties; examine its books of account and records; and discuss the Company's affairs, finances, and accounts with its officers, during normal business hours of the Company as may be reasonably requested by the Major Investor; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Subsection 3.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably and in good faith considers to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in form acceptable to the Company) or the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel.

3.3 Termination of Information Rights. The covenants set forth in Subsection 3.1 and Subsection 3.2 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

3.4 Confidentiality. Each Investor agrees that such Investor will keep confidential and will not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including notice of the Company's intention to file a registration statement), unless such confidential information (a) is known or becomes known to the public in general (other than as a result of a breach of this Subsection 3.4 by such Investor), (b) is or has been independently developed or conceived by such Investor without use of the Company's confidential information, or (c) is or has been made known or disclosed to such Investor by a third party without a breach of any obligation of confidentiality such third party may have to the Company; provided, however, that an Investor may disclose confidential information (i) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring its investment in the Company; (ii) to any prospective purchaser of any Registrable Securities from such Investor, if such prospective purchaser agrees to be bound by the provisions of this Subsection 3.4; (iii) to any Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, or wholly owned subsidiary of such Investor in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Investor informs such Person that such information is confidential and directs such Person to maintain the confidentiality of such information; or (iv) as may otherwise be required by law, regulation, rule, court order or subpoena, provided that such Investor promptly notifies the Company of such disclosure and takes reasonable steps to minimize the extent of any such required disclosure.

4. Rights to Future Stock Issuances.

4.1 Right of First Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 4.1 and applicable securities laws, if the Company proposes to offer or sell any New Securities, the Company shall first offer such New Securities to each Major Investor. A Major Investor shall be entitled to apportion the right of first offer hereby granted to it in such proportions as it deems appropriate, among (i) itself and (ii) its Affiliates; provided that each such Affiliate (x) is not a FOIA Party, unless such party's purchase of New Securities is otherwise consented to by the Board of Directors, (y) agrees to enter into this Agreement and each of the Voting Agreement and Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement of even date herewith among the Company, the Investors and the other parties named therein, as an "Investor" under each such agreement (provided that any FOIA Party shall not be entitled to any rights as a Major Investor under Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 4.1 hereof), and (z) agrees to purchase at least such number of New Securities as are allocable hereunder to the Major Investor holding the fewest number of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities.

(a) The Company shall give notice (the "Offer Notice") to each Major Investor, stating (i) its bona fide intention to offer such New Securities, (ii) the number of such New Securities to be offered, and (iii) the price and terms, if any, upon which it proposes to offer such New Securities.

(b) By written notification to the Company within twenty (20) days after the Offer Notice is given, each Major Investor may elect to purchase or otherwise acquire, at the price and on the terms specified in the Offer Notice, up to that portion of such New Securities which equals the proportion that the Common Stock then held by such Major Investor (including all shares of Common Stock then issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by such Major Investor) bears to the total Common Stock of the Company then outstanding (assuming full conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of all Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then outstanding). At the expiration of such twenty (20) day period, the Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor that elects to purchase or acquire all the shares available to it (each, a "Fully Exercising Investor") of any other Major Investor's failure to do likewise. During the ten (10) day period commencing after the Company has given such notice, each Fully Exercising Investor may, by giving notice to the Company, elect to purchase or acquire, in addition to the number of shares specified above, up to that portion of the New Securities for which Major Investors were entitled to subscribe but that were not subscribed for by the Major Investors which is equal to the proportion that the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by such Fully Exercising Investor bears to the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by all Fully Exercising Investors who wish to purchase such unsubscribed shares. The closing of any sale pursuant to this Subsection 4.1(b) shall occur within the later of ninety (90) days of the date that the Offer Notice is given and the date of initial sale of New Securities pursuant to Subsection 4.1(c).

(c) If all New Securities referred to in the Offer Notice are not elected to be purchased or acquired as provided in Subsection 4.1(b), the Company may, during the ninety (90) day period following the expiration of the periods provided in Subsection 4.1(b), offer and sell the remaining unsubscribed portion of such New Securities to any Person or Persons at a price not less than, and upon terms no more favorable to the offeree than, those specified in the Offer Notice. If the Company does not enter into an agreement for the sale of the New Securities within such period, or if such agreement is not consummated within thirty (30) days of the execution thereof, the right provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and such New Securities shall not be offered unless first reoffered to the Major Investors in accordance with this Subsection 4.1.

(d) The right of first offer in this Subsection 4.1 shall not be applicable to (i) Exempted Securities (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation); (ii) all shares of Series A preferred stock of the Company issuable by the Company under the Purchase Agreement; and (iii) shares of Common Stock issued in the IPO.

4.2 Termination. The covenants set forth in Subsection 4.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

5. Additional Covenants.

5.1 Insurance. The Company shall obtain, within ninety (90) days of the date hereof, from a financially sound and reputable insurer Directors and Officers liability insurance, in an amount and on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Board of Directors, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause such insurance policy to be maintained until such time as the Board of Directors determines that such insurance should be discontinued. The policy shall not be cancelable by the Company without prior approval by the Board of Directors.

5.2 Employee Agreements. The Company will cause each Person now or hereafter employed by it or by any subsidiary (or engaged by the Company or any subsidiary as a consultant/independent contractor) with access to confidential information and/or trade secrets to enter into a nondisclosure and proprietary rights assignment agreement.

5.3 Employee Stock. Unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, all future employees and consultants of the Company who purchase, receive options to purchase, or receive awards of shares of the Company's capital stock after the date hereof shall be required to execute restricted stock or option agreements, as applicable, providing for (i) vesting of shares over a four (4) year period, with the first twenty-five percent (25%) of such shares vesting following twelve (12) months of continued employment or service, and the remaining shares vesting in equal monthly installments over the following thirty-six (36) months, and (ii) a market stand-off provision substantially similar to that in Subsection 2.11.Without the prior approval by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A Directors, the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any stock purchase, stock restriction or option agreement with any existing employee or service provider if such amendment would cause it to be inconsistent with this Subsection 5.3. In addition, unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A Directors, the Company shall retain (and not waive) a "right of first refusal" on employee transfers until the Company's IPO and shall have the right to repurchase unvested shares at cost upon termination of employment of a holder of restricted stock.

5.4 Qualified Small Business Stock. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the shares of Preferred Stock issued pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, as well as any shares into which such shares are converted, within the meaning of Section 1202(f) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code; provided, however, that such requirement shall not be applicable if the Board of Directors of the Company determines, in its good-faith business judgment, that such qualification is inconsistent with the best interests of the Company. The Company shall submit to its stockholders (including the Investors) and to the Internal Revenue Service any reports that may be required under Section 1202(d)(1)(C) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in no event shall the Company be liable to its stockholders (including the Investors) for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

5.5 Matters Requiring Investor Director Approval. So long as the holders of Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to elect a Series A Director, the Company hereby covenants and agrees with each of the Investors that it shall not, without approval of the Board of Directors, which approval must include the affirmative vote of the Series A Directors:

(a) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to, or own any stock or other securities of, any subsidiary or other corporation, partnership, or other entity unless it is wholly owned by the Company;

(b) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to any Person, including, without limitation, any employee or director of the Company or any subsidiary, except advances and similar expenditures in the ordinary course of business or under the terms of an employee stock or option plan approved by the Board of Directors;

(c) guarantee, directly or indirectly, or permit any subsidiary to guarantee, directly or indirectly, any indebtedness except for trade accounts of the Company or any subsidiary arising in the ordinary course of business;

(d) make any investment inconsistent with any investment policy approved by the Board of Directors;

(e) otherwise enter into or be a party to any transaction with any director, officer, or employee of the Company or any "associate" (as defined in Rule 12b-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of any such Person, including without limitation any "management bonus" or similar plan providing payments to employees in connection with a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, except for transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Purchase Agreement and the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, by and between the Company and the parties noted therein, dated as of even date herewith, or transactions made in the ordinary course of business and pursuant to reasonable requirements of the Company's business and upon fair and reasonable terms that are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors;

(f) hire, terminate, or change the compensation of the executive officers, including approving any option grants or stock awards to executive officers;

(g) change the principal business of the Company, enter new lines of business, or exit the current line of business;

(h) sell, assign, license, pledge, or encumber material technology or intellectual property, other than licenses granted in the ordinary course of business; or

(i) enter into any corporate strategic relationship.

5.6 Board Matters. Unless otherwise determined by the vote of a majority of the directors then in office, the Board of Directors shall meet in person or via video or conference call at least quarterly in accordance with an agreed-upon schedule. The Company shall reimburse the nonemployee directors for all reasonable out-of-pocket travel expenses incurred (consistent with the Company's travel policy) in connection with attending meetings of the Board of Directors. Each of the Series A Directors shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board of Directors and each such committee must include at least one Series A Director.

5.7 Successor Indemnification. If the Company or any of its successors or assignees consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, then to the extent necessary, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assignees of the Company assume the obligations of the Company with respect to indemnification of members of the Board of Directors as in effect immediately before such transaction, whether such obligations are contained in the Company's bylaws, the Certificate of Incorporation, or elsewhere, as the case may be.

5.8 Indemnification Matters. The Company hereby acknowledges that one (1) or more of the directors nominated to serve on the Board of Directors by the Investors (each an "Investor Director") may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by one or more of the Investors and certain of their Affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (a) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to any such Investor Director are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by such Investor Director are secondary), (b) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by such Investor Director and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or on behalf of any such Investor Director to the extent legally permitted and as required by the Company's Certificate of Incorporation or bylaws of the Company (or any agreement between the Company and such Investor Director), without regard to any rights such Investor Director may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (c) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of any such Investor Director with respect to any claim for which such Investor Director has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Investor Director against the Company. The Investor Directors and the Investor Indemnitors are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 5.8 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Subsection 5.8 as though they were a party to this Agreement.

5.9 Right to Conduct Activities. The Company hereby agrees and acknowledges that ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP") (together with its Affiliates) is a professional investment organization, and as such reviews the business plans and related proprietary information of many enterprises, some of which may compete directly or indirectly with the Company's business (as currently conducted or as currently propose to be conducted). Nothing in this Agreement shall preclude or in any way restrict ATP or its Affiliates from investing or participating in any particular enterprise whether or not such enterprise has products or services which compete with those of the Company. The Company hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted under applicable law, ATP (and its Affiliates) shall not be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by ATP (or its Affiliates) in any entity competitive with the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any partner, officer, employee or other representative of ATP (or its Affiliates) to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a member of the board of directors of such competitive company or otherwise, and whether or not such action has a detrimental effect on the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve (x) any of the Investors from liability associated with the unauthorized disclosure of the Company's confidential information obtained pursuant to this Agreement, or (y) any director or officer of the Company from any liability associated with his or her fiduciary duties to the Company.

5.10 Termination of Covenants. The covenants set forth in this Section 5, except for Subsections 5.7 or 5.8, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Successors and Assigns. The rights under this Agreement may be assigned (but only with all related obligations) by a Holder to a transferee of Registrable Securities that (i) is an Affiliate of a Holder; or (ii) is a Holder's Immediate Family Member or trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or one or more of such Holder's Immediate Family Members; or (iii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of Holder's Registrable Securities; provided, however, that (x) the Company is, within a reasonable time after such transfer, furnished with written notice of the name and address of such transferee and the Registrable Securities with respect to which such rights are being transferred; and (y) such transferee agrees in a written instrument delivered to the Company to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including the provisions of Subsection 2.11. For the purposes of determining the number of shares of Registrable Securities held by a transferee, the holdings of a transferee (1) that is an Affiliate or stockholder of a Holder; (2) who is a Holder's Immediate Family Member; or (3) that is a trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or such Holder's Immediate Family Member shall be aggregated together and with those of the transferring Holder; provided further that all transferees who would not qualify individually for assignment of rights shall, as a condition to the applicable transfer, establish a single attorney-in-fact for the purpose of exercising any rights, receiving notices, or taking any action under this Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement inure to the benefit of and are binding upon the respective successors and permitted assignees of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assignees any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided herein.

6.2 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.3 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.4 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during the recipient's normal business hours, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day; (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next-day delivery, with written verification of receipt. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

Each Investor agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in such stockholder's electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, and either retroactively or prospectively) only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding; provided that the Company may in its sole discretion waive compliance with Subsection 2.12(c) (and the Company's failure to object promptly in writing after notification of a proposed assignment allegedly in violation of Subsection 2.12(c) shall be deemed to be a waiver); and provided further that any provision hereof may be waived by any waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereof may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, unless such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver applies to all Investors in the same fashion (it being agreed that a waiver of the provisions of Section 4 with respect to a particular transaction shall be deemed to apply to all Investors in the same fashion if such waiver does so by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that certain Investors may nonetheless, by agreement with the Company, purchase securities in such transaction) and (b) Subsections 3.1 and 3.2, Section 4 and any other section of this Agreement applicable to the Major Investors (including this clause (b) of this Subsection 6.6) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding and held by the Major Investors. The Company shall give prompt notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 6.6 shall be binding on all parties hereto, regardless of whether any such party has consented thereto. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition, or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition, or provision.

6.7 Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is for any reason held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, and such invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision shall be reformed and construed so that it will be valid, legal, and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6.8 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Registrable Securities held or acquired by Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.9 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement, and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder. No action or consent by the Investors shall be required for such joinder to this Agreement by such additional Investor, so long as such additional Investor has agreed in writing to be bound by all of the obligations as an "Investor" hereunder.

6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any Schedules and Exhibits hereto), the Certificate of Incorporation and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

6.11 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. 6.12 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power, or remedy of such nonbreaching or nondefaulting party, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of or acquiescence to any such breach or default, or to any similar breach or default thereafter occurring, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. All remedies, whether under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

To exercise its Right of First Refusal under this Section 2, the Company must deliver a Company Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Investors within fifteen (15) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice specifying the number of shares of Transfer Stock to be purchased by the Company.

(c) Grant of Secondary Refusal Right to the Investors. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Investors a Secondary Refusal Right to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased by the Company pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, as provided in this Subsection 2.1(c). If the Company does not provide the Company Notice exercising its Right of First Refusal with respect to all Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the Company must deliver a Secondary Notice to the selling Key Holder and to each Investor to that effect no later than fifteen (15) days after the selling Key Holder delivers the Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company. To exercise its Secondary Refusal Right, an Investor must deliver an Investor Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the Company's deadline for its delivery of the Secondary Notice as provided in the preceding sentence.

(d) Undersubscription of Transfer Stock. If options to purchase have been exercised by the Company and the Investors pursuant to Subsections 2.1(b) and (c) with respect to some but not all of the Transfer Stock by the end of the ten (10) day period specified in the last sentence of Subsection 2.1(c) (the "Investor Notice Period"), then the Company shall, within five (5) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period, send written notice (the "Company Undersubscription Notice") to those Investors who fully exercised their Secondary Refusal Right within the Investor Notice Period (the "Exercising Investors"). Each Exercising Investor shall, subject to the provisions of this Subsection 2.1(d), have an additional option to purchase all or any part of the balance of any such remaining unsubscribed shares of Transfer Stock on the terms and conditions set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice. To exercise such option, an Exercising Investor must deliver an Undersubscription Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period. In the event there are two (2) or more such Exercising Investors that choose to exercise the last-mentioned option for a total number of remaining shares in excess of the number available, the remaining shares available for purchase under this Subsection 2.1(d) shall be allocated to such Exercising Investors pro rata based on the number of shares of Transfer Stock such Exercising Investors have elected to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right (without giving effect to any shares of Transfer Stock that any such Exercising Investor has elected to purchase pursuant to the Company Undersubscription Notice). If the options to purchase the remaining shares are exercised in full by the Exercising Investors, the Company shall immediately notify all of the Exercising Investors and the selling Key Holder of that fact.

(e) Consideration; Closing. If the consideration proposed to be paid for the Transfer Stock is in property, services or other non-cash consideration, the fair market value of the consideration shall be as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. If the Company or any Investor cannot for any reason pay for the Transfer Stock in the same form of non-cash consideration, the Company or such Investor may pay the cash value equivalent thereof, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. The closing of the purchase of Transfer Stock by the Company and the Investors shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Investors shall have been delivered to the selling Key Holder, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice as the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice.

2.2 Right of Co-Sale.

(a) Exercise of Right. If any Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not purchased pursuant to Subsection 2.1 above and thereafter is to be sold to a Prospective Transferee, each respective Investor may elect to exercise its Right of Co-Sale and participate on a pro rata basis in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer as set forth in Subsection 2.2(b) below and, subject to Subsection 2.2(d), otherwise on the same terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice. Each Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale (each, a "Participating Investor") must give the selling Key Holder written notice to that effect within fifteen (15) days after the deadline for delivery of the Secondary Notice described above, and upon giving such notice such Participating Investor shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Right of Co-Sale.

(b) Shares Includable. Each Participating Investor may include in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer all or any part of such Participating Investor's Capital Stock equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the aggregate number of shares of Transfer Stock subject to the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (excluding shares purchased by the Company or the Participating Investors pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right) by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Capital Stock owned by such Participating Investor immediately before consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer and the denominator of which is the total number of shares of Capital Stock owned, in the aggregate, by all Participating Investors immediately prior to the consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, plus the number of shares of Transfer Stock held by the selling Key Holder.

(c) Purchase and Sale Agreement. The Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder agree that the terms and conditions of any Proposed Key Holder Transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2 will be memorialized in, and governed by, a written purchase and sale agreement with the Prospective Transferee (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") with customary terms and provisions for such a transaction, and the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder further covenant and agree to enter into such Purchase and Sale Agreement as a condition precedent to any sale or other transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2.

(d) Allocation of Consideration.

(i) Subject to Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder shall be allocated based on the number of shares of Capital Stock sold to the Prospective Transferee by each Participating Investor and the selling Key Holder as provided in Subsection 2.2(b), provided that if a Participating Investor wishes to sell Preferred Stock, the price set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice shall be appropriately adjusted based on the conversion ratio of the Preferred Stock into Common Stock.

(ii) In the event that the Proposed Key Holder Transfer constitutes a Change of Control, the terms of the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that the aggregate consideration from such transfer shall be allocated to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate and, if applicable, the next sentence as if (A) such transfer were a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate), and (B) the Capital Stock sold in accordance with the Purchase and Sale Agreement were the only Capital Stock outstanding. In the event that a portion of the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that (x) the portion of such consideration that is not subject to contingencies (the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such transfer, and (y) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transfer. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such transfer shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

(e) Purchase by Selling Key Holder; Deliveries. Notwithstanding Subsection 2.2(c) above, if any Prospective Transferee or Transferees refuse(s) to purchase securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from any Participating Investor or Investors or upon the failure to negotiate in good faith a Purchase and Sale Agreement reasonably satisfactory to the Participating Investors, no Key Holder may sell any Transfer Stock to such Prospective Transferee or Transferees unless and until, simultaneously with such sale, such Key Holder purchases all securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from such Participating Investor or Investors on the same terms and conditions (including the proposed purchase price) as set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice and as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i); provided, however, if such sale constitutes a Change of Control, the portion of the aggregate consideration paid by the selling Key Holder to such Participating Investor or Investors shall be made in accordance with the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii). In connection with such purchase by the selling Key Holder, such Participating Investor or Investors shall deliver to the selling Key Holder any stock certificate or certificates, properly endorsed for transfer, representing the Capital Stock being purchased by the selling Key Holder (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of the selling Key Holder). Any such shares transferred to the selling Key Holder will be transferred to the Prospective Transferee against payment therefor in consummation of the sale of the Transfer Stock pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice, and the selling Key Holder shall concurrently therewith remit or direct payment to each such Participating Investor the portion of the aggregate consideration to which each such Participating Investor is entitled by reason of its participation in such sale as provided in this Subsection 2.2(e).

(f) Additional Compliance. If any Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not consummated within forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Proposed Transfer Notice by the Company, the Key Holders proposing the Proposed Key Holder Transfer may not sell any Transfer Stock unless they first comply in full with each provision of this Section 2. The exercise or election not to exercise any right by any Investor hereunder shall not adversely affect its right to participate in any other sales of Transfer Stock subject to this Subsection 2.2. The Company's first refusal rights and the Investors' first refusal rights and co-sale rights shall continue to be applicable to any subsequent disposition of the Transfer Stock acquired by the third-party transferee(s) until such rights lapse in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

2.3 Effect of Failure to Comply.

(a) Transfer Void; Equitable Relief. Any Proposed Key Holder Transfer not made in compliance with the requirements of this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio, shall not be recorded on the books of the Company or its transfer agent and shall not be recognized by the Company. Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this Agreement would result in substantial harm to the other parties hereto for which monetary damages alone could not adequately compensate. Therefore, the parties hereto unconditionally and irrevocably agree that any non-breaching party hereto shall be entitled to seek protective orders, injunctive relief and other remedies available at law or in equity (including, without limitation, seeking specific performance or the rescission of purchases, sales and other transfers of Transfer Stock not made in strict compliance with this Agreement).

(b) Violation of First Refusal Right. If any Key Holder becomes obligated to sell any Transfer Stock to the Company or any Investor under this Agreement and fails to deliver such Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company and/or such Investor may, at its option, in addition to all other remedies it may have, send to such Key Holder the purchase price for such Transfer Stock as is herein specified and transfer to the name of the Company or such Investor (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of an Investor) on the Company's books any certificates, instruments, or book entry representing the Transfer Stock to be sold.

(c) Violation of Co-Sale Right. If any Key Holder purports to sell any Transfer Stock in contravention of the Right of Co-Sale (a "Prohibited Transfer"), each Participating Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 may, in addition to such remedies as may be available by law, in equity or hereunder, require such Key Holder to purchase from such Participating Investor the type and number of shares of Capital Stock that such Participating Investor would have been entitled to sell to the Prospective Transferee had the Prohibited Transfer been effected in compliance with the terms of Subsection 2.2. The sale will be made on the same terms, including, without limitation, as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i) and the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), as applicable, and subject to the same conditions as would have applied had the Key Holder not made the Prohibited Transfer, except that the sale (including, without limitation, the delivery of the purchase price) must be made within ninety (90) days after the Participating Investor learns of the Prohibited Transfer, as opposed to the timeframe proscribed in Subsection 2.2. Such Key Holder shall also reimburse each Participating Investor for any and all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, incurred pursuant to the exercise or the attempted exercise of the Participating Investor's rights under Subsection 2.2.

3. Exempt Transfers.

3.1 Exempted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall not apply (a) in the case of a Key Holder that is an entity, upon a transfer by such Key Holder to its stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders,

(b) to a repurchase of Transfer Stock from a Key Holder by the Company at a price no greater than that originally paid by such Key Holder for such Transfer Stock and pursuant to an agreement containing vesting and/or repurchase provisions approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, (c) to a pledge of Transfer Stock that creates a mere security interest in the pledged Transfer Stock, provided that the pledgee thereof agrees in writing in advance to be bound by and comply with all applicable provisions of this Agreement to the same extent as if it were the Key Holder making such pledge, or (d) in the case of a Key Holder that is a natural person, upon a transfer of Transfer Stock by such Key Holder made for bona fide estate planning purposes, either during his or her lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to his or her spouse, domestic partner, child (natural or adopted), or any other direct lineal descendant of such Key Holder (or his or her spouse or domestic partner) (all of the foregoing collectively referred to as "family members"), or any other relative/person approved by the Board of Directors, or any custodian or trustee of any trust, partnership or limited liability company for the benefit of, or the ownership interests of which are owned wholly by such Key Holder or any such family members; provided that in the case of clauses (a), (c), or (d), the Key Holder shall deliver prior written notice to the Investors of such pledge, gift or transfer and such shares of Transfer Stock shall at all times remain subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Agreement and such transferee shall, as a condition to such Transfer, deliver a counterpart signature page to this Agreement as confirmation that such transferee shall be bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Key Holder (but only with respect to the securities so transferred to the transferee), including the obligations of a Key Holder with respect to Proposed Key Holder Transfers of such Transfer Stock pursuant to Section 2; and provided further in the case of any transfer pursuant to clause (a) or (d) above, that such transfer is made pursuant to a transaction in which there is no consideration actually paid for such transfer.

3.2 Exempted Offerings. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Section 2 shall not apply to the sale of any Transfer Stock (a) to the public in an offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (a "Public Offering"); or (b) pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

3.3 Prohibited Transferees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Key Holder shall transfer any Transfer Stock to (a) any entity which, in the determination of the Board of Directors, directly or indirectly competes with the Company; or (b) any development partner, distributor or supplier of the Company, if the Board of Directors should determine that such transfer would result in such development partner, distributor or supplier receiving information that would place the Company at a competitive disadvantage with respect to such customer, distributor or supplier.

4. Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing shares of Transfer Stock held by the Key Holders or issued to any permitted transferee in connection with a transfer permitted by Subsection 3.1 hereof shall be notated with the following legend:

> THE SALE, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION, OR TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY IS SUBJECT TO, AND IN CERTAIN CASES PROHIBITED BY, THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF A CERTAIN RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT BY AND AMONG THE STOCKHOLDER, THE CORPORATION AND CERTAIN OTHER HOLDERS OF STOCK OF THE CORPORATION. COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST TO THE SECRETARY OF THE CORPORATION.

Each Key Holder agrees that the Company may instruct its transfer agent to impose transfer restrictions on the shares notated with the legend referred to in this Section 4 above to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, and the Company agrees to promptly do so. The legend shall be removed upon termination of this Agreement at the request of the holder.

5. Lock-Up.

5.1 Agreement to Lock-Up. Each Key Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the Company's initial public offering (the "IPO") and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports; and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (a) lend, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Capital Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Key Holder or are thereafter acquired); or (b) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Capital Stock, whether any such transaction described in clause (a) or (b) above is to be settled by delivery of Capital Stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Section 5 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Key Holder or the immediate family of the Key Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust or such family member agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall only be applicable to the Key Holders if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with the IPO are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Section 5 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Key Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in the IPO that are consistent with this Section 5 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

5.2 Stop Transfer Instructions. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Capital Stock of each Key Holder (and transferees and assignees thereof) until the end of such restricted period.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon the earlier of (a) immediately prior to the consummation of the Company's IPO; and (b) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

6.2 Stock Split. All references to numbers of shares in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock dividend, split, combination or other recapitalization affecting the Capital Stock occurring after the date of this Agreement.

6.3 Ownership. Each Key Holder represents and warrants that such Key Holder is the sole legal and beneficial owner of the shares of Transfer Stock subject to this Agreement and that no other person or entity has any interest in such shares (other than a community property interest as to which the holder thereof has acknowledged and agreed in writing to the restrictions and obligations hereunder).

6.4 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereof, as the case may be, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, it shall be sent to 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169, Attention: Chief Executive Officer; and a copy (which shall not constitute notice) shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including, the Exhibits and Schedules, hereto together with the other Transaction Documents (as defined in the Purchase Agreement)) constitutes the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.7 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.8 Amendment; Waiver and Termination. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6.1 above) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock then held by all of the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted basis). Any amendment, modification, termination or waiver so effected shall be binding upon the Company, the Investors, the Key Holders and all of their respective successors and permitted assigns whether or not such party, assignee or other shareholder entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to the Key Holders. The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be, or construed as, a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition or provision.

6.9 Assignment of Rights.

(a) The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(b) Any successor or permitted assignee of any Key Holder, including any Prospective Transferee who purchases shares of Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms hereof, shall deliver to the Company and the Investors, as a condition to any transfer or assignment, a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such successor or permitted assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the predecessor or assignor of such successor or permitted assignee.

(c) The rights of the Investors hereunder are not assignable without the Company's written consent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), except (i) by an Investor to any Affiliate, or (ii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of such Investor's shares of Capital Stock (as adjusted for any stock combination, stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization or other similar transaction), it being acknowledged and agreed that any such assignment, including an assignment contemplated by the preceding clauses (i) or (ii) shall be subject to and conditioned upon any such assignee's delivery to the Company and the other Investors of a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the assignor of such assignee.

(d) Except in connection with an assignment by the Company by operation of law to the acquirer of the Company, the rights and obligations of the Company hereunder may not be assigned under any circumstances.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder.

6.12 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.13 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.14 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.15 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Capital Stock held or acquired by Affiliated entities or persons shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.16 Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Investor shall be entitled to specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company and the Key Holders hereunder and to such other injunction or other equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

6.17 Additional Key Holders. In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company issues shares of Common Stock, or options to purchase Common Stock, to any service provider of the Company, which shares or options would collectively constitute with respect to such service provider of the Company (taking into account all shares of Common Stock, options and other purchase rights held by such service provider of the Company) one percent (1%) or more of the Company's then outstanding Common Stock (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised or converted), the Company shall, as a condition to such issuance, cause such employee or consultant to execute a counterpart signature page hereto as a Key Holder, and such person shall thereby be bound by, and subject to, all the terms and provisions of this Agreement applicable to a Key Holder.

6.18 Consent of Spouse. If any Key Holder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a Consent of Spouse in the form of Exhibit A hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Key Holder's shares of Transfer Stock that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any Key Holder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated as of February 4, 2021, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit A (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS VOTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made and entered into as of February 4, 2021 by and among Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), each holder of Series A Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A Preferred Stock") (referred to herein as the "Preferred Stock") listed on Schedule A (together with any subsequent investors, or transferees, who become parties hereto as "Investors" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(a) or 7.2 below, the "Investors"), and those certain stockholders of the Company and holders of options to acquire shares of the capital stock of the Company listed on Schedule B (together with any subsequent stockholders or option holders, or any transferees, who become parties hereto as "Key Holders" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(b) or 7.2 below, the "Key Holders," and together collectively with the Investors, the "Stockholders").

RECITALS

A. Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, the Company and the Investors are entering into a Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") providing for the sale of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, and in connection with that agreement the parties desire to provide the Investors with the right, among other rights, to designate the election of certain members of the board of directors of the Company (the "Board") in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

B. The Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Company (the "Restated Certificate") provides that (a) the holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three (3) directors of the Company, (b) the holders of record of the shares of common stock of the Company ("Common Stock"), exclusively and as a separate class (excluding Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock), shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Company, and (c) the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Company.

C. The parties also desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth their agreements and understandings with respect to how shares of the capital stock of the Company held by them will be voted on, or tendered in connection with, an acquisition of the Company.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. Voting Provisions Regarding the Board.

1.1 Size of the Board. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (as defined below) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that the size of the Board shall be set and remain at five (5) directors. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Shares" shall mean and include any securities of the Company that the holders of which are entitled to vote for members of the Board, including without limitation, all shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, by whatever name called, now owned or subsequently acquired by a Stockholder, however acquired, whether through stock splits, stock dividends, reclassifications, recapitalizations, similar events or otherwise.

1.2 Board Composition. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that at each annual or special meeting of stockholders at which an election of directors is held or pursuant to any written consent of the stockholders, subject to Section 5, the following persons shall be elected to the Board:

(a) Three (3) persons (the "Series A Directors") designated by ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP"), for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which individuals shall initially be Michael Ehlers as Executive Chairman, Seth Harrison, and Joseph Yanchik.

(b) One (1) person (the "Common Director") designated by the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock (excluding Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock), which individual shall initially be Nathaniel Wang.

(c) One (1) person who is not an investor or employee of the Company or ATP (the "Independent Director") and who is designated by ATP for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which shall initially be vacant.

To the extent that any of the clauses above in this Subsection 1.2 shall not be applicable, any member of the Board who would otherwise have been designated in accordance with the terms thereof shall instead be voted upon by all the stockholders of the Company entitled to vote thereon in accordance with, and pursuant to, the Restated Certificate.

For purposes of this Agreement, an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (collectively, a "Person") shall be deemed an "Affiliate" of another Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

Each Series A Director shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board.

1.3 Failure to Designate a Board Member. In the absence of any designation from the Persons or groups with the right to designate a director as specified above, the director previously designated by them and then serving shall be reelected if still eligible and willing to serve as provided herein and otherwise, such Board seat shall remain vacant until otherwise filled as provided above.

1.4 Removal of Board Members. Each Stockholder also agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that:

(a) no director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 of this Agreement may be removed from office unless (i) such removal is directed or approved by the affirmative vote of the Person(s), or of the holders of at least the requisite number of the shares of stock, entitled under

Subsection 1.2 to designate that director; or (ii) the Person(s) originally entitled to designate or approve such director pursuant to Subsection 1.2 is no longer so entitled to designate or approve such director;

(b) any vacancies created by the resignation, removal or death of a director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 shall be filled pursuant to the provisions of this Section 1; and

(c) upon the request of any party entitled to designate a director as provided in Subsection 1.2 to remove such director, such director shall be removed.

All Stockholders agree to execute any written consents required to perform the obligations of this Section 1, and the Company agrees at the request of any Person or group entitled to designate directors to call a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing directors.

1.5 No Liability for Election of Recommended Directors. No Stockholder, nor any Affiliate of any Stockholder, shall have any liability as a result of designating a person for election as a director for any act or omission by such designated person in his or her capacity as a director of the Company, nor shall any Stockholder have any liability as a result of voting for any such designee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

1.6 No "Bad Actor" Designees. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby represents and warrants to the Company that, to such Person's knowledge, none of the "bad actor" disqualifying events described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (each, a "Disqualification Event"), is applicable to such Person's initial designee named above except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable, is hereinafter referred to as a "Disqualified Designee." Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby covenants and agrees (A) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee and (B) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee.

2. Vote to Increase Authorized Common Stock. Each Stockholder agrees to vote or cause to be voted all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock from time to time to ensure that there will be sufficient shares of Common Stock available for conversion of all of the shares of Preferred Stock outstanding at any given time.

3. Drag-Along Right.

3.1 Definitions. A "Sale of the Company" shall mean either: (a) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company (a "Stock Sale"); or (b) a transaction that qualifies as a "Deemed Liquidation Event" as defined in the Restated Certificate.

3.2 Actions to be Taken. In the event that (i) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock then issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock (the "Selling Investors"); and (ii) the Board approve a Sale of the Company in writing, specifying that this Section 3 shall apply to such transaction, then, subject to satisfaction of each of the conditions set forth in Subsection 3.3 below, each Stockholder and the Company hereby agree:

(a) if such transaction requires stockholder approval, with respect to all Shares that such Stockholder owns or over which such Stockholder otherwise exercises voting power, to vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all Shares in favor of, and adopt, such Sale of the Company (together with any related amendment or restatement to the Restated Certificate required to implement such Sale of the Company) and to vote in opposition to any and all other proposals that could reasonably be expected to delay or impair the ability of the Company to consummate such Sale of the Company;

(b) if such transaction is a Stock Sale, to sell the same proportion of shares of capital stock of the Company beneficially held by such Stockholder as is being sold by the Selling Investors to the Person to whom the Selling Investors propose to sell their Shares, and, except as permitted in Subsection 3.3 below, on the same terms and conditions as the other stockholders of the Company;

(c) to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Sale of the Company as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Selling Investors in order to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 3, including, without limitation, executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances), and any similar or related documents;

(d) not to deposit, and to cause their Affiliates not to deposit, except as provided in this Agreement, any Shares of the Company owned by such party or Affiliate in a voting trust or subject any Shares to any arrangement or agreement with respect to the voting of such Shares, unless specifically requested to do so by the acquirer in connection with the Sale of the Company;

(e) to refrain from (i) exercising any dissenters' rights or rights of appraisal under applicable law at any time with respect to such Sale of the Company, or (ii) asserting any claim or commencing any suit (x) challenging the Sale of the Company or this Agreement, or (y) alleging a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Selling Investors or any affiliate or associate thereof (including, without limitation, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty) in connection with the evaluation, negotiation or entry into the Sale of the Company, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby;

(f) if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Shares pursuant to this Section 3 includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Stockholder would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Stockholder of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Stockholder in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares which would have otherwise been sold by such Stockholder, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Stockholder would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares; and

(g) in the event that the Selling Investors, in connection with such Sale of the Company, appoint a stockholder representative (the "Stockholder Representative") with respect to matters affecting the Stockholders under the applicable definitive transaction agreements following consummation of such Sale of the Company, (x) to consent to (i) the appointment of such Stockholder Representative,

(ii) the establishment of any applicable escrow, expense or similar fund in connection with any indemnification or similar obligations, and (iii) the payment of such Stockholder's pro rata portion (from the applicable escrow or expense fund or otherwise) of any and all reasonable fees and expenses to such Stockholder Representative in connection with such Stockholder Representative's services and duties in connection with such Sale of the Company and its related service as the representative of the Stockholders, and (y) not to assert any claim or commence any suit against the Stockholder Representative or any other Stockholder with respect to any action or inaction taken or failed to be taken by the Stockholder Representative, within the scope of the Stockholder Representative's authority, in connection with its service as the Stockholder Representative, absent fraud, bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

3.3 Conditions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, a Stockholder will not be required to comply with Subsection 3.2 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the "Proposed Sale"), unless:

(a) any representations and warranties to be made by such Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including, but not limited to, representations and warranties that (i) the Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares such Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by the Stockholder have been duly executed by the Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable (subject to customary limitations) against the Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms; and (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into by the Stockholder in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of the Stockholder's obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement to which the Stockholder is a party, or any law or judgment, order or decree of any court or governmental agency that applies to the Stockholder;

(b) such Stockholder is not required to agree (unless such Stockholder is a Company officer, employee, or consultant) to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Proposed Sale (including without limitation any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Proposed Sale);

(c) such Stockholder is not liable for the breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any of identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(e) liability shall be limited to such Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Certificate) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by such Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to such Stockholder;

(f) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale (i) each holder of each class or series of the capital stock of the Company will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock, and if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given a choice as to the form of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option, (ii) each holder of a series of Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless waived pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate and as may be required by law, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of each respective series of Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 3.3(f), if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, pursuant to this Subsection 3.3(f) includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Key Holder or Investor would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Key Holder or Investor of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Key Holder or Investor in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, which would have otherwise been sold by such Key Holder or Investor, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Key Holder or Investor would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable;

(g) subject to clause (f) above, requiring the same form of consideration to be available to the holders of any single class or series of capital stock, if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; provided, however, that nothing in this Subsection 3.3(g) shall entitle any holder to receive any form of consideration that such holder would be ineligible to receive as a result of such holder's failure to satisfy any condition, requirement or limitation that is generally applicable to the Company's stockholders.

3.4 Restrictions on Sales of Control of the Company. No Stockholder shall be a party to any Stock Sale unless (a) all holders of Preferred Stock are allowed to participate in such transaction(s) and (b) the consideration received pursuant to such transaction is allocated among the parties thereto in the manner specified in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Stock Sale (as if such transaction(s) were a Deemed Liquidation Event), unless the holders of at least the requisite percentage required to waive treatment of the transaction(s) as a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate, elect to allocate the consideration differently by written notice given to the Company at least five (5) days prior to the effective date of any such transaction or series of related transactions.

4. Remedies.

4.1 Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees to use its best efforts, within the requirements of applicable law, to ensure that the rights granted under this Agreement are effective and that the parties enjoy the benefits of this Agreement. Such actions include, without limitation, the use of the Company's best efforts to cause the nomination and election of the directors as provided in this Agreement.

4.2 Irrevocable Proxy and Power of Attorney. Each party to this Agreement hereby constitutes and appoints as the proxies of the party and hereby grants a power of attorney to the President of the Company, and a designee of the Selling Investors, and each of them, with full power of substitution, with respect to the matters set forth herein, including, without limitation, votes to increase authorized shares pursuant to Section 2 hereof and votes regarding any Sale of the Company pursuant to Section 3 hereof, and hereby authorizes each of them to represent and vote, if and only if the party (i) fails to vote, or (ii) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, all of such party's Shares in favor of the election of persons as members of the Board determined pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement or the increase of authorized shares or approval of any Sale of the Company pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement or to take any action reasonably necessary to effect Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement. The power of attorney granted hereunder shall authorize the President of the Company to execute and deliver the documentation referred to in Section 3.2(c) on behalf of any party failing to do so within five (5) business days of a request by the Company. Each of the proxy and power of attorney granted pursuant to this Section 4.2 is given in consideration of the agreements and covenants of the Company and the parties in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and, as such, each is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof. Each party hereto hereby revokes any and all previous proxies or powers of attorney with respect to the Shares and shall not hereafter, unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof, purport to grant any other proxy or power of attorney with respect to any of the Shares, deposit any of the Shares into a voting trust or enter into any agreement (other than this Agreement), arrangement or understanding with any person, directly or indirectly, to vote, grant any proxy or give instructions with respect to the voting of any of the Shares, in each case, with respect to any of the matters set forth herein.

4.3 Specific Enforcement. Each party acknowledges and agrees that each party hereto will be irreparably damaged in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed by the parties in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, it is agreed that each of the Company and the Stockholders shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement, and to specific enforcement of this Agreement and its terms and provisions in any action instituted in any court of the United States or any state having subject matter jurisdiction.

4.4 Remedies Cumulative. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

5. "Bad Actor" Matters.

5.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any Person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

(b) "Disqualified Designee" means any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

(c) "Disqualification Event" means a "bad actor" disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) promulgated under the Securities Act.

(d) "Rule 506(d) Related Party" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that is a beneficial owner of such first Person's securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act.

5.2 Representations.

(a) Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement hereby represents that (i) such Person has exercised reasonable care to determine whether any Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any director designee designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable and (ii) no Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any Board member designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Investor makes no representation regarding any Person that may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the Company's voting equity securities held by such Investor solely by virtue of that Person being or becoming a party to (x) this Agreement, as may be subsequently amended, or (y) any other contract or written agreement to which the Company and such Investor are parties regarding (1) the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of, such security; and/or (2) the investment power, which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of, such security.

(b) The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Investors that no Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii–iv) or (d)(3) is applicable.

5.3 Covenants. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement covenants and agrees (i) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee, (ii) to exercise reasonable care to determine whether any director designee designated by such person is a Disqualified Designee, (iii) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee, and (iv) to notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to such Person or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, or, to such Person's knowledge, to such Person's initial designee named in Section 1, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

6. Term. This Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in effect until and shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (a) the consummation of the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (other than a registration statement relating either to the sale of securities to employees of the Company pursuant to its stock option, stock purchase or similar plan or an SEC Rule 145 transaction); (b) the consummation of a Sale of the Company and distribution of proceeds to or escrow for the benefit of the Stockholders in accordance with the Restated Certificate, provided that the provisions of Section 3 hereof will continue after the closing of any Sale of the Company to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of Section 3 with respect to such Sale of the Company; or (c) termination of this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 7.8 below.

7. Miscellaneous.

7.1 Additional Parties.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of Preferred Stock after the date hereof, as a condition to the issuance of such shares the Company shall require that any purchaser of such shares become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering (i) the Adoption Agreement attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A, or (ii) a counterpart signature page hereto agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as an Investor and Stockholder hereunder. In either event, each such person shall thereafter be deemed an Investor and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

(b) In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company enters into an agreement with any Person to issue shares of capital stock to such Person (other than to a purchaser of Preferred Stock described in Subsection 7.1(a) above), following which such Person shall hold Shares constituting one percent (1%) or more of the then outstanding capital stock of the Company (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised and/or converted or exchanged), then, the Company shall cause such Person, as a condition precedent to entering into such agreement, to become a party to this Agreement by executing an Adoption Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as a Stockholder and thereafter such person shall be deemed a Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.2 Transfers. Each transferee or assignee of any Shares subject to this Agreement shall continue to be subject to the terms hereof, and, as a condition precedent to the Company's recognition of such transfer, each transferee or assignee shall agree in writing to be subject to each of the terms of this Agreement by executing and delivering an Adoption Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Upon the execution and delivery of an Adoption Agreement by any transferee, such transferee shall be deemed to be a party hereto as if such transferee were the transferor and such transferee's signature appeared on the signature pages of this Agreement and shall be deemed to be an Investor and Stockholder, or Key Holder and Stockholder, as applicable. The Company shall not permit the transfer of the Shares subject to this Agreement on its books or issue a new certificate representing any such Shares unless and until such transferee shall have complied with the terms of this Subsection 7.2. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Shares subject to this Agreement if issued on or after the date of this Agreement shall be notated by the Company with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.3 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.4 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

7.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.6 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

7.7 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereto, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.7. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik; and if notice is given to Stockholders, a copy shall also be given to ATP, 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169; Attention: Daniel Finkelman.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

7.8 Consent Required to Amend, Modify, Terminate or Waive. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company; (b) the Key Holders holding at least a majority of the Shares then held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants; and (c) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver either (A) is not directly applicable to the rights of the Key Holders hereunder; or (B) does not adversely affect the rights of the Key Holders in a manner that is different than the effect on the rights of the other parties hereto; and

(iii) any provision hereof may be waived by the waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver hereunder to any party that did not consent in writing thereto. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding on each party and all of such party's successors and permitted assigns, whether or not any such party, successor or assignee entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. For purposes of this Subsection 7.8, the requirement of a written instrument may be satisfied in the form of an action by written consent of the Stockholders circulated by the Company and executed by the Stockholder parties specified, whether or not such action by written consent makes explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.9 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default previously or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

7.12 Share Certificate Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing any Shares issued after the date hereof shall be notated by the Company with a legend reading substantially as follows:

> "THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY ARE SUBJECT TO A VOTING AGREEMENT, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, (A COPY OF WHICH MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST FROM THE COMPANY), AND BY ACCEPTING ANY INTEREST IN SUCH SHARES THE PERSON ACCEPTING SUCH INTEREST SHALL BE DEEMED TO AGREE TO AND SHALL BECOME BOUND BY ALL THE PROVISIONS OF THAT VOTING AGREEMENT, INCLUDING CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP SET FORTH THEREIN."

The Company, by its execution of this Agreement, agrees that it will cause the certificates instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares issued after the date hereof to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 of this Agreement, and it shall supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement to any holder of such Shares upon written request from such holder to the Company at its principal office. The parties to this Agreement do hereby agree that the failure to cause the certificates, instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 herein and/or the failure of the Company to supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement as provided hereunder shall not affect the validity or enforcement of this Agreement.

7.13 Stock Splits, Stock Dividends, etc. In the event of any issuance of Shares or the voting securities of the Company hereafter to any of the Stockholders (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), such Shares shall become subject to this Agreement and shall be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.14 Manner of Voting. The voting of Shares pursuant to this Agreement may be effected in person, by proxy, by written consent or in any other manner permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, voting of the Shares pursuant to the Agreement need not make explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.15 Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, the parties agree to cooperate with each other, and at the request of any other party, to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and to take all such further action as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent of the parties hereunder.

7.16 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

7.17 Aggregation of Stock. All Shares held or acquired by a Stockholder and/or its Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement, and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

7.18 Spousal Consent. If any individual Stockholder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a consent of spouse in the form of Exhibit B hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Stockholder's Shares that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any individual Stockholder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Voting Agreement as of the date first written above.

ND COURT OF THE CAYMAN ISLANDS

FINANCIAL SERVICES DIVISION

CAUSE NO: FSD OF 2025 ( )

IN THE MATTER OF THE EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION), THE COMPANIES ACT (2025 REVISION) AND THE PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION)

AND IN THE MATTER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.

WINDING UP PETITION

To the Grand Court

The humble petition of Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP ("RBI One")) and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP ("RBI Two")) shows that:

A. Introduction

1. This is the petition of Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of RBI One) and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of RBI Two) (together, the "Petitioners"), each with its registered office at 3076 Sir Francis Drake's Highway, PO Box 3463, Road Town, Tortola, British Virgin Islands.

2. The Petitioners present this Petition against (i) ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (formerly named Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P.) (the "Partnership") and (ii) ATP III GP, Ltd. (the "GP") in its capacity as the general partner of the Partnership, for the winding up of the Partnership pursuant to Section 36(3) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Act (2025 Revision) (the "ELP Act") and Section 92(e) of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) (the "Companies Act"), and/or in the alternative pursuant to section 35 of the Partnership Act (2025 Revision).

This WINDING UP PETITION was presented by Campbells LLP, Attorneys for the Petitioners, whose address for service is that of its Attorneys at Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, George Town, Cayman Islands, KY1-9010 (ref: PDK/JFI/19135-44991).

#3261849v1

3. The Petition is presented because, as described in detail below, there has been continued serious mismanagement and a lack of probity in the conduct of the affairs of the Partnership by the GP. The GP is a Cayman Islands exempted company with registration number 252582 and its registered office at Maples Corporate Services Limited, PO Box 309, Ugland House, South Church Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.

4. As a result of the GP's mismanagement and lack of probity, there is a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole. In particular:

    a. The GP has issued capital call notices in violation of the LPA seeking to compel the contribution of over USD 100 million in additional capital in excess of maximum subscription commitments and in breach of the terms of the LPA.

    b. The GP has launched proceedings in Delaware seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide vast sums of further funding to the Partnership, in breach of the express provisions of the LPA (defined in paragraph 16 below) whilst simultaneously seeking to apply a penal default charge in order to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership, in order to take control of the Partnership and billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets.

    c. The GP has also improperly charged its expenses to the portfolio companies and failed to provide necessary information to the Petitioners in a timely manner or at all, including to enable the Petitioners to determine whether to approve further budgets for portfolio companies or to scrutinise expenses which appear to have been improperly charged to the Partnership.

    d. The GP also has a conflict of interest and/or has been acting in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a whole, as it has been acting in the interests of the portfolio companies by exposing the Partnership to open-ended, binding commitments thereto and in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against their wishes and in breach of the LPA.

5. In all the circumstances, the substratum of the Partnership has also been lost, and there is a need for independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs.

B. The Partnership

6. The Partnership is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership established pursuant to the ELP Act and registered on 29 October 2012. The registered office of the Partnership is at Maples Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.

7. The Partnership was formed following discussions between Dr Seth Harrison ("Dr Harrison") and Dr Dmitry Rybolovlev ("Dr Rybolovlev") concerning the formation of a vehicle to make investments in the life science industry using capital provided from entities owned by the Rybolovlev family trust (the "Trust"). Dr Rybolovlev is a highly successful businessman of Cypriot nationality and settlor of the Trust.

8. Upon the Partnership's formation, its limited partners were Blue Horizon Enterprise Ltd ("Blue Horizon") Ezbon International Ltd ("Ezbon") and Dr Harrison. Blue Horizon and Ezbon are special purpose vehicles ultimately owned and controlled by the Trust.

9. The GP is part of a life sciences venture capital firm called Apple Tree Partners ("ATP"), which operates out of the United States. Dr Harrison is the founder and managing director of ATP. ATP has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership. Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. ("ATLS") serves as a management company for the Partnership and an annual fee is paid to it in connection with certain Partnership expenses.

10. The Petitioners are limited partners of the Partnership. Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Limited and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Limited are the sole general partners of RBI One and RBI Two, respectively. The sole limited partner of both RBI One and RBI Two is Rigmora Holdings Ltd ("Rigmora Holdings"). Rigmora Holdings is a holding company for the Trust and also acts as an advisor to the trustees of the Trust.

11. As of June 2025, the contingent subscriptions of the Petitioners total US$2.425 billion (US$1,188,250,000.00 for RBI One and US$1,236,750,000.00 for RBI Two), and the total capital contributions of the Petitioners are in excess of US$2.6 billion, which represents c. 99% of all capital contributions made to the Partnership.

12. The Petitioners became limited partners of the Partnership as of 30 June 2024 by respectively taking over the limited partner positions of the two former limited partners, Blue Horizon and Ezbon.

13. The Petitioners are the only limited partners of the Partnership not affiliated with the GP. The other limited partners are Dr Harrison and Les Pommes LLC ("Les Pommes"). Les Pommes is a discretionary family trust for Dr Harrison's daughters. Ms Anna Batarina (an employee of ATP) is a carry holder and ultimately has an economic interest in the Partnership. The GP has claimed that various other employees of ATP are also limited partners of the Partnership. However, none of those persons are parties to the LPA (as defined below) and none of those individuals have ever contributed any capital to the Partnership. The Petitioners do not accept that they are in fact legitimate limited partners.

14. The Partnership has been built almost exclusively using capital belonging to the Petitioners. As of June 2025, c. 99% of the US$2.7 billion invested into the Partnership was capital contributed by the Petitioners. The remaining US$53.8m of capital has been contributed by Dr Harrison and Les Pommes, funded substantially by way of a loan from Ezbon.[1]

15. The principal purpose of the Partnership is to achieve returns on its capital by investing in pharmaceutical, life science, medical device and other medically-related companies and business projects.

Structure of the Partnership

16. The limited partners of the Partnership, and the GP are parties to a limited partnership agreement ("LPA"), the initial version of which was dated 29 October 2012. The LPA was restated on 1 November 2012 and has been amended a further 22 times since then: on 1 January 2014, 15 August 2014, 1 September 2014, 1 April 2015, 11 May 2015, 31 December

[1] The capital contributed to the Partnership by Dr Harrison was mostly made up of US$52.6m in capital that he had borrowed from Ezbon of which US$24.8 was repaid in cash (out of capital distributed by the Partnership to the GP), and the remaining US$27.8m was repaid by transferring part of his limited partner interests in the Partnership to Ezbon (as recorded in Paragraph 6(c) of Amendment No. 14 of the LPA).

2015, 31 May 2017, 9 August 2017, 22 December 2017, 1 July 2018, 26 October 2018, 1 December 2018, 4 February 2019, 17 April 2019, 10 July 2019, 1 February 2020, 9 September 2020, 5 November 2020, 27 November 2020, 21 June 2021, 5 December 2022 and 20 December 2024. Each of the amendments has been undertaken by way of a separate amendment agreement (each referred to herein as "Amendment X" where X represents the number of the amendment following the execution of the 1 November 2012 restated LPA).

17. Upon incorporation, the Partnership had a conventional fund structure consisting of a single set of assets and liabilities participated in by all limited partners. However, by way of subsequent amendments starting with Amendment 13 (executed on 4 February 2019) the structure of the Partnership was changed to consist of separate investment "pools" each of which "to the maximum extent possible" consisted of its own set of assets and liabilities.

18. Prior to the transfer of the limited partner interests in June 2024, Blue Horizon and Ezbon together were the "Subject Limited Partner" under the LPA and the holder of the majority of "Preferred Units" in the Partnership. Following the transfer of the limited partner interests, the Petitioners became the "Subject Limited Partner" and the holder of the majority of "Preferred Units" in the Partnership for the purposes of the LPA.

19. The LPA (as amended) provides, materially:

    a. Paragraph 5(a)(i) provides that each limited partner shall contribute to the Partnership an amount equal to but not in excess of the total amount of its "Contingent Subscription" specified in the "List of Partners". The amount of each limited partner's Contingent Subscription is in turn determined by the individual subscription agreement entered into between that limited partner and the Partnership (the "Subscription Agreements") (Clause 1(e)).

    b. Paragraph 5(a)(ii) provides that the GP may only call capital for the purposes specified therein unless otherwise approved by holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing. In particular, Paragraph5(a)(ii)(E) provides that the GP may only "invest in Projects approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing in accordance with a budget therefor approved by such holders of Preferred Units".

c. Paragraph 5(a)(ii) also provides, materially: "… in the case of a capital call pursuant to clause (D) or (E) of the preceding sentence that is made on a basis accelerated from that set forth in an approved Project budget, the General Partner (a) represents in writing to the Partners that it has a good faith belief that the Project (or portion thereof covered by such budget) will be completed within the aggregate amount budgeted therefor and (b) provided the Board or the holders of the Preferred Units, as the case may be, with a reasonably detailed and diligenced presentation supporting such representation; provided, however, that no approval by the Board or the holders of Preferred Units shall be required with respect to organizational expenses of the Partnership and its related entities."

d. Schedule C to the LPA (as amended by Amendment 2) provides, materially: "[t]he General Partner will issue a financial report to the holders of the Preferred Units at least every calendar quarter […] This financial report will cover all entities within the Partnership structure, and will include Project income and expenses and operating costs along with at least the following:

- Profit and loss and cash flow statements, in total and by major Project, showing actual versus budgeted results for the quarter […] then ended and including explanations of major variances to budget […]
- Detailed budget by major Project by quarter […] for the next twelve months […]
- Summary budget by major Project for each of the following two years, including operating income and expenses, and other items affecting cash flow.

In addition, the General Partner will present a schedule showing anticipated capital calls for the next four quarters and subsequent two years, reconciled to the detailed and summary cash flow budgets".

e. Paragraph 20 (e)(ii) provides that the GP "shall prepare, for each calendar year of the Partnership in advance of such year, a budget for the annual fee to be paid by the Partnership to ATLS (the 'ATLS Fee'). Such budget shall be presented to the Subject Limited Partner for approval no later than December 1 of the prior year … The Limited Partners shall make capital contributions to the Partnership to fund the ATLS Fee semi-annually in advance and the Management Fee annually in advance, in each case, as required by the General Partner, from time to time, in accordance with the Agreement. The amount of the ATLS Fee may also be modified from time to time by mutual agreement of the General Partner and the Subject Limited Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, the ATLS Fee shall be in addition to the Management Fee".

f. Amendment 9, section 11 provides: "ATLS shall pay the following expenses of the Partnership from the ATLS Fee: (i) except as set forth in Section 12, below, all compensation and benefits for employees (except to the extent paid from the Management Fee), (ii) all facilities and related overhead expenses, including rent, utilities, charges assessed by the lessor, property and general liability insurance, and communications, including phone and internet, (iii) office supplies and equipment, information technology support and software, (iv) publications, dues and charitable contributions, (v) public relations, marketing and advertising expenses, (vi) travel and (vii) capital expenditures, including for furniture, fixtures, computers and other equipment, in each case, except as expressly provided in the following sentence."

20. The Petitioners are the holders of a majority of the "Preferred Units". The GP is therefore required to obtain the Petitioners' approval for any budget for investments in "Projects".

21. The Petitioners' total contingent subscriptions for the purposes of Paragraph 5(a) of the LPA is US$2.425 billion (the "Contingent Subscriptions"). In particular:

a. Pursuant to a subscription agreement between Ezbon and the Partnership dated 1 November 2012, Ezbon agreed that the amount of its contingent subscriptions would be US$726,750,000 (the "Ezbon Subscription Agreement").

b. Pursuant to a subscription agreement between Blue Horizon and the Partnership dated 1 November 2012, Blue Horizon agreed that the amount of its contingent subscriptions would be US$698,250,000 (the "Blue Horizon Subscription Agreement").

c. On 20 September 2020:

i. Ezbon executed an amendment to the Ezbon Subscription Agreement which increased its contingent subscription by US$510,000,000 to US$1,236,750,000; and

ii. Blue Horizon executed any amendment to the Blue Horizon Subscription Agreement which increased its contingent subscription by US$490,000,000 to US$1,188,250,000,

d. Other than the subscription agreements identified above (the "Subscription Agreements") no other subscription agreements have been entered into by Ezbon, Blue Horizon or the Petitioners.

22. The Subscription Amendments were executed in the context of an amendment to the LPA executed on or around 9 September 2020 ("Amendment 17").

a. Amendment 17 increased the number of "pools" from 2 to 3 (referred to in Amendment 17 as "Pool A", "Pool B" and "Pool C" by inserting paragraph 20(a) into the LPA).

b. Paragraph 20(a) of the LPA envisaged that the Subject Limited Partners would have total contingent subscriptions in excess of those committed to under the Ezbon and Blue Horizon Subscription Agreements.

c. The Subscription Amendments were entered into shortly after Amendment 17 was executed to increase the Subject Limited Partners total contingent subscriptions in the manner contemplated by Paragraph 20(a) of the LPA.

23. By or on around 14 December 2023, the entirety of the Contingent Subscriptions had been paid out pursuant to capital calls made by the GP under Paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA. Since then, neither the Petitioners (nor their predecessors) have been obliged to contribute further capital to the Partnership under Paragraph 5(a) of the LPA.

24. Further capital contributions totalling US$242 million have since been made by the Petitioners (or their predecessors), without any obligation to do so. As noted above, to date the total capital contributed by the Petitioners to the Partnership is in excess of US$2.6 billion, comprising approximately 99% of all capital contributions made to the Partnership.

C. Ground 1: Justifiable and irretrievable loss of trust and confidence

25. The Petitioners have justifiably and irretrievably lost all trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole.

26. The GP has seriously mismanaged the Partnership, acted in a manner calculated to prejudice the Petitioners and demonstrated a lack of probity in the conduct of its affairs by:

    a. Improperly (and in breach of duty) issuing capital calls on 30 May 2025 totalling over US$100 million (the "May 2025 Capital Calls"). The May 2025 Capital Calls were not made for proper purposes. They were made for improper purposes of placing commercial pressure on the Petitioners: (a) in circumstances where they are not obliged to make further capital contributions; and (b) in the context of a break-down of the relationship between the Petitioners. Further, the May 2025 Capital Calls were not made bona fide in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole (principally, the Petitioners) but were instead made in the interests of the GP and / or Dr Harrison. The Petitioners have brought separate proceedings in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands by way of writ dated 2 June 2025 to establish (amongst other things) that they are not obliged to pay the May 2025 Capital Calls.

    b. Issuing the Delaware Proceedings (defined in paragraph 39(b) below), and making numerous unfounded and untruthful allegations therein, in order to take control of the Partnership;

    c. Improperly seeking to impose a penal default charge on the Petitioners. In the Delaware Proceedings the GP alleges it is entitled to take 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership (the GP estimates the Partnership to be worth approximately US$4 billion) and to reallocate those assets to the other limited partners (i.e. to Dr Harrison and his family trust, Les Pommes). In other words, Dr Harrison, acting via the GP, has commenced proceedings in Delaware in which he seeks to take billions of dollars of assets from the Petitioners and transfer those assets to himself (in circumstances where he has contributed minimal capital into the Partnership and where the clear wording of the LPA does not entitle him to take such action, see paragraphs 40-41 below).

d. Seeking to compel the Petitioners to make further contributions to the portfolio companies and has sought to make accelerated capital calls and unbudgeted capital calls without complying with its obligations under the LPA. By issuing the Delaware Proceedings the GP is acting in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership as a whole and is clearly acting out of self-interest, and has not exercised its powers for a proper purpose.

e. Improperly charging its expenses to the portfolio companies held by the Partnership.

f. Failing to provide necessary information to the Petitioners in a timely manner or at all, including to enable the Petitioners to determine whether to approve further budgets for portfolio companies or to scrutinise expenses which appear to have been improperly charged to the Partnership.

g. Failing to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a whole by exposing the Partnership to open-ended, binding commitments to the portfolio companies and in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against their wishes and in breach of the LPA. In this regard, the GP's decision making (through Dr Harrison (as the controlling mind and will of the GP, and a director of many of the portfolio companies owned by the Partnership)) is infected by a conflict of interest.

Background to loss of trust and confidence

27. As set out above, the Partnership was formed following discussions between Dr Harrison and Dr Rybolovlev to make investments in the life science industry using capital provided from entities owned by the Trust. It was agreed at the outset that the limited partners would have a substantial degree of oversight as to how capital is invested, by their ability to review and elect whether to approve budgets for investments required to be presented by the GP. As also set out above, the GP is part of ATP, which has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership and which was founded and is managed by Dr Harrison.

28. From around 2021, the GP started to improperly charge the employee costs of ATP investment professionals to the Partnership's portfolio companies (see paragraphs 53 to 56 below).
29. In September 2023, following a series of disagreements between the limited partners and the GP, the Petitioners' predecessors, Ezbon and Blue Horizon, made a request to the GP pursuant to their rights under the LPA for the distribution of assets in the "Pool Braeburn" investment pool. The "Pool Braeburn" investment pool is funded solely by capital contributed by the Subject Limited Partner. Upon the formation of "Pool Braeburn" (pursuant to Amendment 20 of the LPA), the Subject Limited Partner was granted a right (under paragraph 21(d) of the LPA) to require the Partnership to distribute the assets within that pool on demand. The Subject Limited Partner subsequently demanded the distribution of assets in Pool Braeburn.
30. The GP improperly refused to comply with this request. In doing so, the GP asserted that it was entitled and bound to retain the Braeburn assets within the Partnership to ensure Ezbon and Blue Horizon would continue contributing capital to the Partnership. That was not a proper basis for the GP to refuse to comply with the distribution request. The GP also claimed that compliance with the distribution request would impact the GP's ability to obtain third party funding, which would in turn impact the financial position of the Partnership. As a consequence of the GP's threats that the financial position of the Partnership would be affected, Ezbon and Blue Horizon agreed not to pursue the distribution request.
31. In July 2024, the Petitioners made another request to the GP under the LPA for the distribution of assets in Pool Braeburn. The GP failed to comply, and the Petitioners issued proceedings in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands seeking a declaration that the GP must distribute the Braeburn assets in accordance with the distribution request (the "Braeburn Proceedings").
32. In those proceedings, the GP claimed that it was unable to distribute the Braeburn assets to the Petitioners including because Braeburn Inc, one of the major assets within Pool Braeburn (and of the Partnership as a whole), had an "internal policy" prohibiting the transfer of ownership of the company from the Partnership to the Petitioners. The GP contended that the "internal policies" of Braeburn Inc included whatever the Braeburn Inc board considered was in Braeburn Inc's best interests to occur. That was not a proper basis for refusing to comply with the distribution request. The GP also contended that such a transfer would also trigger an event of default under a loan agreement between Braeburn Inc and a third party, which would have a significant knock-on negative impact on the Partnership. At the relevant time, the Partnership was the sole shareholder and Dr Harrison was the chairman of the board of directors of Braeburn Inc. He exercised significant influence over the other directors and members of senior management. It is therefore inconceivable to think that Dr Harrison would not have been involved in implementing the aforesaid arrangements.

33. The parties entered into a settlement agreement in respect of the Braeburn Proceedings on 20 December 2024 (the "Settlement Agreement"), which provided, amongst other things, that the GP would use commercially reasonable efforts to remove or mitigate any contractual blocks or economic costs that may inhibit the distribution of the Braeburn assets to the Petitioners Clause 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement:

    a. required the parties to bear their own legal costs and disbursements in respect of the proceedings and the Settlement Agreement, (notwithstanding any provision of the LPA which may provide otherwise); and

    b. expressly provided that the GP would not charge the Partnership or the portfolio companies for its legal costs and disbursements incurred in relation to the proceedings and the Settlement Agreement.

34. However, the relationship between the GP and the Petitioners has since continued to deteriorate substantially to a state of complete breakdown and there has now been a complete loss of any trust and confidence of the Petitioners in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership.

35. The catalyst for this loss of trust and confidence was the GP's behaviour in regards to seven (7) early-stage portfolio companies: (1) Deep Apple Therapeutics, Inc., (2) Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Inc., (3) Evercrisp Biosciences, Inc., (4) Marlinspike Therapeutics, Inc., (5) Red Queen Therapeutics, Inc., (6) Aethon Therapeutics, Inc. and (7) Initial Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Early-Stage Companies").

36. Dr Harrison is a director of each of the Early-Stage Companies. The GP has insisted on continuing to invest the Partnership's capital into the Early-Stage Companies even though the Petitioners consider them to be hopeless investments. The GP has also failed to adhere to the milestones in the agreed budgets for the Early-Stage Companies and is seeking to call capital for these companies in breach of the LPA. Further and in addition, by virtue of the relief he seeks in the Delaware Proceedings, he is seeking capital on an accelerated basis in breach of the LPA.

37. The Petitioners maintain that they are not obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies:

    a. First, the Partnership's limited partners' capital commitments are determined by the terms of the LPA, such that they are not required to make capital commitments to the Partnership which exceed their Contingent Subscription amount as set out in the Subscription Agreements (see paragraph 21 above). The Contingent Subscription amount is set out in the applicable Subscription Agreement(s). The Petitioners' total Contingent Subscription is US$2.425 billion, and they cannot be required to fund above that commitment. The GP's position is that the limited partners' capital commitments to the Partnership can be and have been increased above the Contingent Subscription amount through Amendments 17, 18 and 20 to the LPA. That is wrong. None of those amendment increased the Contingent Subscription amounts.

    b. Second, and in any event, under Paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA, the GP may only invest in projects approved by the Petitioners "in accordance with a budget therefor approved" by the Petitioners. The budgets approved by the Petitioners provide for investments to be made into the Early-Stage Companies in certain specified amounts, subject to meeting certain specified milestones. The milestones under those respective budgets have not been met and no further capital commitment has been approved, in writing, by the Petitioners. The GP is also now seeking to call capital on an accelerated basis contrary to what is provided for in the budgets. The GP is not permitted to call for further capital absent written approval by the Petitioners, which the Petitioners have not provided. The GP's position is that the Petitioners have waived or forfeited their right to approve budgets and that, in any event, the GP is entitled to continue calling for capital irrespective of whether the milestones in an agreed budget have been complied with and regardless of whether it is calling capital on an accelerated basis to the budgets. There has however been no such waiver or forfeit and there is no such entitlement on the part of the GP.

38. The ongoing disagreement between the parties regarding budgeting issues resulted in Mr Yuri Bogdanov (CIO of Rigmora Holdings) emailing the GP on 15 May 2025. In that email, the Petitioners reiterated their position that they were not obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies. In the same email, the Petitioners asked the GP to clarify its position, stating "if you disagree with the above and consider that [the Petitioners are] obliged to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies then please respond with a detailed explanation of your position. [The Petitioners] of course intend to comply with the requirements of the LPA and will be cooperative if you can demonstrate the LPA allows you to call further capital in regards to the Early-Stage Companies" (the "15 May Email"). The GP did not respond to the 15 May Email, has refused to provide the requested information on the new budgets, and has accelerated capital calls when compared to forecasts sent shortly before issuing the said capital calls.

39. Rather than seek to consensually resolve the issues concerning the Early-Stage Companies and other budget issues that were being discussed between the parties, on 30 May 2025:

    a. The GP issued the May 2025 Capital Calls purportedly requiring the limited partners to contribute US$109,960,926.00 million of capital to the Partnership by 13 June 2025 (save for a capital call made in respect of Replicate which is due on 17 June 2025); and

    b. The GP peremptorily issued a complaint against the Petitioners in the Delaware Court of Chancery seeking specific performance and equitable and declaratory relief in respect of the GP's and the limited partners' rights and obligations in respect of the Partnership (the "Delaware Complaint" and the "Delaware Proceedings"). The GP did not refer to the May 2025 Capital calls in the Delaware Proceedings.

40. In the Delaware Proceedings, the GP alleges that the 15 May Email amounts to an anticipatory breach of the LPA and/or a repudiation of "the [Petitioners'] obligation to respond to capital calls", the GP seeks specific performance to compel the limited partners to contribute up to US$545 million to the Partnership, whilst simultaneously contending that the GP is entitled to apply a default charge to confiscate 50% of the limited partners' interest in the Partnership, block their voting powers and remove their budget approval rights. The GP also seeks to avoid complying with the contractual default process which includes provisions enabling the Petitioners to remedy any such default (i.e. by payment) on the basis that it would be "futile" to do so (see paragraph 171 of the Delaware Complaint). In other words, the GP seeks an order whereby the Petitioners must provide the Partnership with further capital of up to US$545 million (which it is alleged is the Petitioners' total unfunded capital commitment) and nevertheless maintains that it can also issue a default charge against the Petitioners and confiscate billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets even if they provide the capital sought.

41. As set out further below, the Delaware Complaint and the May 2025 Capital Calls are evidently designed to enable the GP to compel the Petitioners to contribute vast sums of further funding to the portfolio companies whilst engineering a default in order to impose a default charge to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership (in the approximate sum of US$2 billion), which would fall to be redistributed to the remaining limited partners (i.e., Dr Harrison and his family trust) thereby allowing Dr Harrison to take control of the Partnership, notwithstanding the fact that he has contributed less than c. 1% of the Partnership's capital. The GP's intentions are laid bare in paragraph 192 of the Delaware Complaint, which states that the GP seeks an order preventing the Petitioners from "interfering with [the GP] in the exercise of its discretion over the Fund once [the Petitioners are] deemed to be a Defaulting Partner".

42. No GP acting reasonably and in good faith in the interests of Partnership would have commenced these proceedings in these circumstances.

43. Moreover, there is no basis for the GP's purported position. The 15 May Email is self-evidently not an anticipatory or repudiatory breach given that it said in terms that the Petitioners will comply with the terms of the LPA if the GP explains why it is entitled to call for further capital under the LPA. For the avoidance of any doubt, the Petitioners do not accept that the LPA entitles the GP to confiscate assets as alleged. The LPA is clear that the default charge enables the GP to reduce the number of preferred units and investor common units of a defaulting partner. Apart from Pool ATP IV, assets are not distributed by reference to the number of units held by a Limited Partner and are instead distributed in accordance with the specific distribution provisions for each pool as set out in the LPA.

44. The GP has mismanaged the Partnership, acted prejudicially to the interests of the limited partners and demonstrated a serious lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs, as detailed below.

The Delaware Proceedings

45. As set out above, rather than seeking to reach a consensual solution with the Petitioners, the GP issued the Delaware Proceedings in an improper attempt to persuade the Delaware Court to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding for the portfolio companies, and/or to engineer a default to enable the GP to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership.

46. In the Delaware Complaint, the GP has made a number of extremely serious allegations that the Petitioners are concertedly acting to undermine the position of the Early-Stage Companies to enable them to gain personal control over those companies, outside of the Partnership. By way of example, the Delaware Complaint states:

    a. "…the Defendants' [have engaged in] premeditated financial destruction of [REDACTED] Delaware portfolio companies" (paragraph 1);

    b. "[the Defendants have] arbitrarily and irrationally refusing to approve new budgets for [REDACTED] portfolio companies [REDACTED*], but whose initial funding has run out*" (paragraph 1);

    c. "The Family Office LP is now destroying these companies and the value ATP has created in the Fund. If not stopped at once, the Family Office LP will starve [REDACTED] of the financing needed to fund their respective missions." (paragraph 6);

    d. "The Family Office LP's stated goal is to drive [REDACTED] portfolio into the ground so that the Family Office LP will no longer need to fund it, and then negotiate new terms and budgets only on [REDACTED] companies (if any) that they choose…The Family Office LP also appears to be positioning itself to cherry pick the Fund's clinical assets out of the rubble, using Family Office owned investment vehicles outside of the Fund's capital tree and contractual obligations. This scheme appears intended to ensure that the Family Office can evade its commitments…" (paragraph 7);

    e. "Over the past eighteen months, the Family Office LP had hid its predatory intentions by feigning a willingness to meet reduced capital calls for [REDACTED] companies and negotiate new budgets for [REDACTED] companies." (paragraph 12);

f. "These were different times in the working relationship between ATP and the Family Office LP, before the Family Office LP sought to rely on irrational pretexts to minimize its capital contributions to the Fund while eyeing select assets for future exploitation outside of the Fund." (paragraph 69);

g. "…the Family Office LP has capriciously withheld budget approvals, reduced approved budgets, cautioned emphatically against capital calls that provided anything more than "drip" financing…" (paragraph 77);

h. "…the Family Office LP has not only refused to discuss new budgets in good faith, but unleashed a new strategy to destroy [the Partnership]." (paragraph 121); and

i. "The [Partnership] has no adequate remedy at law for the violence the Family Office LP has inflicted on these companies." (paragraph 150).

47. These allegations made by the GP in the Delaware Complaint are untruthful and wholly unfounded. The Petitioners have paid out the entirety of their Contingent Subscription so they are not obliged to contribute further capital. Further and in the alternative, the Petitioners, as the holders of the majority of the Preferred Units, are entitled to refuse to invest more of their capital into particular projects if the relevant budgets and associated milestones have not been adhered to. In respect of certain of the Early-Stage Companies, the May 2025 Capital Calls are not in accordance with the approved budgets. The Early-Stage Companies have to date failed to meet any, or sufficient, milestones specified in the investment memoranda attached to the approved budgets and the Petitioners have formed the view that the relevant portfolio companies are not viable investments. It would plainly be illogical and irrational for the Petitioners, as the limited partners of the Partnership with a c. 99% stake in the Partnership's assets, to deliberately seek to "starve" otherwise viable portfolio companies, which have to date been funded exclusively by their capital contributions. Insofar as new budgets are concerned, the Petitioners have sought further information from the GP in order to assess the financial performance and merits of the proposed budgets but the GP has refused to provide the information sought.

48. The Delaware Proceedings and the unfounded, incendiary and wholly inappropriate allegations made therein evidence the GP's serious lack of probity and demonstrate its improper management of the affairs of the Partnership.

49. The Delaware Proceedings have also evidently been brought for an improper purpose, to enable the GP to compel the Petitioners to contribute up to US$545 million of further funding to the Partnership in complete disregard of the provisions of the LPA, such funding being substantially in excess of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions, including US$331.3 million for which the GP has not presented any budget to the Petitioners for approval (let alone obtained such approval) (see paragraph 51 below). The GP simultaneously seeks to engineer a default in order to impose a default charge on the Petitioners to confiscate 50% of their interests in the Partnership and thereby take control of the Partnership and billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets, which would fall to be redistributed to Dr Harrison and his family. The GP also wishes to remove the Petitioners' right to approve new budgets so as to obtain control without the need for the Petitioners' approval of such budgets.

Wilful and persistent breaches of the LPA

50. In the Delaware Complaint, the GP seeks specific performance to compel the limited partners to immediately fund prior approved but unfunded budgets in response to capital calls as and when they are received (see paragraph 14 of the Delaware Complaint). This amounts to an accelerated capital call, but the GP has wholly failed to comply with the requirements in clause 5(a)(ii) of the LPA (see paragraph 19(c) above) by providing any written assurances and/or diligenced presentation that the relevant project(s) will be completed within the aggregate amount budgeted therefor, and instead seeks to compel the Petitioners to meet accelerated capital calls in the absence of these assurances, by court order.

51. The GP also seeks specific performance to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding of up to US$331.3 million (see paragraph 164 of the Delaware Complaint). No budgets have been provided by the GP or approved by the Petitioners in respect of any such funding (which the GP accepts - see paragraph 5 of the Delaware Complaint). Indeed, the GP has not provided any information to the Petitioners about the intended use of the further funding, merely asserting in the Delaware Complaint that its use is "including for those companies specifically named in Amendment No. 22 – Ascidian, Aulos, Nine Square, Nereid and Replicate". This falls far short of the formal budget proposals which are required to be presented to the Petitioners for approval under the LPA, which budgets serve the further purpose of enabling the Petitioners to ensure that their capital is being applied in a proper manner.

52. However, the GP seeks to circumvent the express provisions of the LPA in the Delaware Proceedings, to compel the Petitioners to provide vast sums of further funding, without specifying what those funds are to be used for and denying the Petitioners any oversight over how their funds are applied, contending that the Petitioners have "waived" or "forfeited" their right to approve budgets. The GP's attempts to obtain funding to be applied entirely at its own discretion without any oversight by the Petitioners demonstrates a serious lack of probity and mismanagement and has caused the Petitioners to lose trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership.

Recharging costs to the portfolio companies

53. Pursuant to Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 20) and Section 10 of Amendment 9 (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17), ATLS receives an annual fee (the "ATLS Fee") payable during the term of the Partnership which is funded by capital contributions of limited partners holding preferred units. The ATLS Fee is required to be applied towards certain expenses of the Partnership incurred in managing the Partnership, including compensation and benefits for employees, and facilities and related overhead expenses (Section 11 of Amendment 9). Pursuant to Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 20), the GP is required to prepare a yearly budget for the ATLS Fee which is presented to the "Subject Limited Partner" (i.e. the Petitioners) no later than 1 December on the previous year. The Petitioners then have sole authority to either approve or reject the ATLS Fee budget. In the event a budget for the ATLS Fee is not approved in a calendar year, the approved budget for such year will be the most recently approved budget (subject to some exceptions in relation to extraordinary, non-recurring expenses).

54. However, since 2021, the GP has improperly charged the employee costs of ATP investment professionals to the Partnership's portfolio companies, which costs ought to be covered by the ATLS Fee approved by the Petitioners. In particular:

    a. The Partnership's consolidated financial statements for the years ended 2023 and 2024 show that the Partnership's expenses exceeded the capital calls paid by the limited partners. To fund the gap between Partnership's expenses and capital calls paid (principally by the Petitioners), the GP received investment income, comprising: (i) interest income; and (ii) service revenue from affiliated entities.

b. The Petitioners understand that the revenue in (ii) above comprises support service costs illegitimately charged to portfolio companies in breach of the LPA.[2]

c. Dr Harrison confirmed by email dated 8 December 2023 that "ATP employees [are] filling critical roles at certain Portfolio Companies" and "those Portfolio Companies [are] reimbursing ATP for a portion of the employment costs incurred for those employees". Dr Harrison also provided the Petitioners with a report from Price Waterhouse and Cooper dated 17 March 2023 (the "PwC Report") which confirmed that ATLS had entered into a services arrangement with the portfolio companies for the purposes of charging the portfolio companies costs associated with the provision of management and scientific research and advisory services.[3]

d. Further, the proposed, unapproved ATLS Fee budgets prepared by the GP for 2021 through 2025 included a credit for "Investment Professionals – Portfolio Reimbursement".

e. In December 2023, the Petitioners raised with Dr Harrison that the proposed ATLS Fee budgets for 2024 purported to assign costs which ought properly to be covered by the ATLS Fee, in breach of the LPA. Dr Harrison responded, stating that he disagreed but provided no reasons. The budget for the 2024 ATLS Fee was not agreed.

f. The GP's charging of ATP employee costs to the Partnership's portfolio companies is a breach of Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17) and Section 10 of Amendment 9 (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17). Further or in the alternative, the GP's recharging of expenses to the Partnership's portfolio

[2] "Service revenue from affiliated entities" is described in the notes to the Partnership's consolidated financial statements as "ATLS, ATLS (UK), and ATPR provide administrative, technical and strategic consulting services to other entities within the Partnership group and the Partnership's portfolio companies. Revenue from services provided to the entities within the consolidated group are eliminated upon consolidation. Services provided may include internal costs, such as employee expenses and certain overhead expenses, and external costs incurred from third party providers." companies is a breach of Paragraph 8 of the LPA (as amended), as it deprives the Petitioners of income they would have received via the distribution mechanisms in the LPA.

[3] For the avoidance of doubt, the PwC Report was a transfer pricing study, which estimated an arm's length range of returns applicable to the provision of certain support services by ATLS to the Partnership's portfolio companies. The PwC Report did not concern whether the assignment of such costs to the Partnership's portfolio companies was permissible under terms of the LPA.

55. The Petitioners are also concerned that the GP has been inappropriately incurring travel expenses for investment professionals which appear to be exorbitant. In particular, the ATLS Fee Budgets for 2024 and 2025 respectively budget for travel for investment professionals at US$690,000 for 2024 and US$625,000 for 2025.

56. The GP's recharging of expenses to the Partnership's portfolio companies, and charging exorbitant travel expenses, demonstrates a serious lack of probity and mismanagement. The charging of expenses to the portfolio companies also gives rise to a serious conflict of interest (see further below), which has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

Failure to provide information

57. The GP has failed or refused to provide the Petitioners with information about the operation of the Partnership that would otherwise enable the Petitioners to assess the financial position of the clinical stage companies in order to determine whether new budgets ought to be approved, and to determine whether those managing the Partnership are acting in accordance with their duties. In particular:

    a. The GP refused to provide sufficient information or answer the Petitioners' questions about the budget and future plans of Aulos Bioscience Inc. and Ascidian Therapeutics Inc.

    b. The GP refused or failed to provide sufficient information or answer the Petitioners' questions about the budget and future plans of Replicate Bioscience, Inc. ("Replicate"), which is developing self-replicating RNA immunotherapies. The GP is not entitled to call for capital in respect of Replicate because it has not complied with the various conditions that must be met before capital can be called under the current budget. Paragraph 26 of the LPA (introduced by Amendment 22) provides that any budget approved by the Petitioners for Replicate after the execution of Amendment 22 will be contingent upon certain realisations being achieved (through deemed distributions) by the Petitioners on a sale or financing of its interest in the entity formerly known as ATP Life Science Sub LLC , now known as BBN Life Science Sub LLC, (the "Royalty Refinancing"). Such realisations have not been realised (including through deemed distributions) by the Petitioners. Despite this, the GP now contends and seeks an order from the Delaware Court confirming that the Petitioners have waived or forfeited their right to approve budgets (see paragraphs 23, 163 and 191 of the Delaware Complaint), in a further and altogether more ambitious attempt to deny the Petitioners access to information about the financial position of the portfolio companies. Separately, the GP contends that Paragraph 26 of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 22) required the Petitioners to pursue Royalty Financing in short order (see paragraph 122 of the Delaware Complaint).

c. The GP refused or failed to provide supporting information or an explanation as to why the capital call notice issued on 7 February 2025 in respect of uncalled Partnership expenses for the second half of 2024 was reduced from the previous call (and it falls to be inferred that the reduction was because the GP's legal expenses had been improperly charged to the Partnership – see further paragraph 65 below).

d. The GP has also failed to provide any further information about legal expenses charged to the Partnership in 2024 (see further paragraph 65 below).

e. The GP has failed to respond to requests for information regarding the purportedly binding nature of obligations purportedly owed by limited partners in their personal capacity to third parties, and of obligations owed by the Partnership to the portfolio companies (see further paragraph 63 below). The GP has also failed to provide copies of documentation evidencing such obligations, including the investment management agreements entered into between the Partnership and the portfolio companies.

f. The GP has failed or refused to respond to requests for information about the basis on which it contends that the limited partners are required to continue to fund the portfolio companies, notwithstanding those companies' failure to hit milestones or adhere to business plans set out in the agreed budgets. Rather than provide this information, the GP instead seeks to rely on the Petitioners' requests as an anticipatory breach of the LPA in the Delaware Complaint (see paragraph 170 of the Delaware Complaint).

58. The Petitioners have at all material times been entitled to information which enables them to determine whether the GP is acting in accordance with its duties and obligations, including the books, records, accounts and assets of the Partnership (see Clause 16(b)-(c) of the LPA, and section 22 of the ELP Act). The Petitioners are also entitled to receive (and the GP is obliged to provide) financial reports at least every calendar quarter in respect of all entities within the Partnership structure, which must include individual project income, expenses and operating costs, and must show actual versus budgeted results for the relevant period and explain any major variances to the budget (see Schedule C to the LPA). The GP has not only denied the Petitioners their rights to this information but seeks to permanently deprive the Petitioners of their rights in the Delaware Proceedings. Even the limited information provided by the GP to the Petitioners confirms that the GP has committed serious breaches of duty which has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

Conflicts of interest and/or breach of fiduciary duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership

59. The GP has a conflict of interest and/or has breached its fiduciary duties to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership.

Improperly issuing capital calls

60. The GP's issuance of capital calls of over US$100 million on 30 May 2025 to be paid by 13 June 2025/17 June 2025 (i.e. the May 2025 Capital Calls - which are not referenced in the Delaware Proceedings) amounts to a further breach of the GP's duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership. The May 2025 Capital Calls were not issued for proper purposes or intra vires under the LPA, as it is evident from the timing of the capital calls, coinciding with the issue of the Delaware Complaint, that the capital calls are part of the GP's litigation strategy to apply improper pressure to the Petitioners through threats of default and/or its broader strategy to take control of the Partnership. The scale and nature of the May 2025 Capital Calls is also inconsistent with the funding scenario prepared by the GP on 30 April 2025 in which the GP proposed to cut the budgets for the Early-Stage Companies so as to commit only $1 million to one Early-Stage Company (Red Queen) as part of an orderly winding down of those companies. It can be inferred that the GP does not consider that the Early-Stage Companies are viable investments and/or worthy of deploying significant capital given the terms of that funding proposal. Notwithstanding, the GP has called $47.8 million in capital for Early-Stage Companies pursuant to the May 2025 Capital Calls.

Attempt to compel the limited partners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies

61. As set out above, the Delaware Proceedings have been designed to attempt to persuade the Delaware Court to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding for the portfolio companies and/or to engineer a default to enable the GP to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership. In particular, the GP seeks in the Delaware Complaint, amongst other things, "a declaratory judgment that [the Petitioners are] currently in material breach of [their] contractual duties under the LPA and [have] waived [their] right to approve budgets" (paragraph 163) or alternatively, specific performance requiring the Petitioners to fund capital calls in excess of the level of their Contingent Subscription and compelling the Petitioners to consider further budgets (paragraph 164). The GP also seeks a declaratory judgment that the Petitioners are in breach of their funding and budget approval obligations, and an order that the GP is entitled to impose a default charge against the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership or the investment pools to which its purported default relates (paragraphs 188-190).

62. The Petitioners' continued funding of the portfolio companies is in the interests of the GP and its employees, and ATP (not the Partnership's). The portfolio companies are co-founded and managed by executives from the GP, including by Dr Harrison himself, (see paragraph 32 of the Delaware Complaint) who would remain employed thereby, and the GP would be able to continue charging the portfolio companies for expenses which ought to be covered by the ATLS Fee. ATP, of which Dr Harrison is founder and Managing Director, is also wholly dependent on the continued funding of the Partnership (and ATP's continued involvement therein) as ATP has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership, which has been almost entirely contributed by the Petitioners. The GP has a demonstrable conflict of interest, as a result of which the Petitioners have lost trust and confidence in its ability to manage the Partnership.

Exposure of the Partnership to binding and open-ended funding commitments to loss-making portfolio companies

63. The GP has also unjustifiably exposed the Partnership to open-ended funding commitments in respect of the portfolio companies. In particular, the Delaware Complaint says as follows:

    a. The Complaint refers at paragraph 85 to a letter sent by Dr Harrison to the Petitioners on 29 November 2022 in which he stated that: "a default by [a limited partner] in respect of a particular pool would put the Fund as a whole in breach of its obligations to its counterparties and expose the Fund as a whole to damages"; and

    b. The Complaint states at paragraph 143:

    "The contention that the Family Office LP's consent is required before capital can be called where there have been changes in milestones or "business plans" also has no support in the language of the LPA or the parties' course of dealings. Nor could it, because ATP's funding commitments to the individual portfolio companies are defined by binding funding agreements. ATP's agreements with portfolio companies often include an initial share purchase investment, plus (i) an option for ATP to purchase additional shares on the same terms, and (ii) obligations for ATP to purchase additional shares at the request of the company board. Those additional share purchase obligations may or may not be tied to the company achieving certain milestones. For example, the Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement executed between ATP and portfolio company [REDACTED] on December 6, 2021 included (a) an initial [REDACTED] investment by ATP and (b) an obligation for ATP to purchase up to [REDACTED] in additional shares at the request of the [REDACTED] board. Only a portion of the obligation was tied to the completion of certain company milestones. That obligation requires ATP to invest as much as [REDACTED] in [REDACTED]. To date, ATP has invested [REDACTED] in [REDACTED], which is short of ATP's total potential obligation to the company under the agreement. Should the additional funding obligations become due, then the Family Office LP's refusal to meet a [REDACTED] capital call would cause ATP to breach its agreement with the portfolio company." (emphasis added)

64. As set out above, the continued funding of the portfolio companies is in the interests of the GP (and ATP), not the Partnership and the limited partners. The GP has also failed to provide information to the Petitioners about the Partnership's purportedly binding commitments to fund the portfolio companies, notwithstanding the Petitioners' requests that it do so (see paragraph 57 above). The GP's apparent decision to commit the Partnership to unconditional funding commitments unnecessarily exposes the Partnership to potential claims and is a fetter of the Petitioners' discretion to approve budgets, and the GP's subsequent lack of probity has justifiably caused the Petitioner to lose trust and confidence in the GP.

Charging personal legal expenses to the Partnership

65. The petitioners are also concerned that the GP's personal legal expenses have been charged to the Partnership, which also comprises a breach of the Settlement Agreement. This falls to be inferred from the following matters:

a. The expense report exhibited to the GP's December 2024 capital call notice dated 12 December 2024 included a line item for "Legal Expenses for Partnership". Mr Bogdanov queried these expenses in an email to Dr Harrison dated 23 December 2024, saying "[o]ne item, 'Legal Expenses for Partnership,' stands out as significantly higher compared to previous years (USD 1.9 million versus USD 0.56 million in H2 2023)".

b. On 20 December 2024, Patrik Blochlinger, the Chief Legal Officer of Rigmora Holdings, emailed Daniel Finkelman (the General Counsel of Apple Tree Partners) to request details of the legal expenses, stating that he believed the GP's legal expenses of the Braeburn Proceedings had erroneously been charged to the Partnership.

c. Mr Finkelman responded on 23 December 2024, stating that the invoices had been reviewed, and that the GP had discovered that one invoice in the amount of US$30,692.50 was inadvertently paid by the Partnership when it should have been allocated to the GP. Mr Finkelman noted that this had been corrected and a revised capital call for fund expenses was issued. Mr Finkelman noted, however, that the GP wished to discuss with the Petitioners the "allocation" of various expenses incurred by the GP in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings.

d. Several further requests were made for and on behalf of the Petitioners for an explanation as to the Partnership's significantly higher legal expenses in 2024, together with supporting invoices and narratives from the relevant law firms.

e. Dr Harrison confirmed on 29 December 2024 that the GP would review the relevant expenses. However, the GP has refused to provide the Petitioners with underlying invoices and narratives on grounds of privilege. The GP agreed to reduce some legal expenses. Nevertheless, the Petitioners consider the legal expenses to be excessive. It falls to be inferred that the invoices and narratives concern legal expenses incurred by the GP in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings, which expenses cannot be charged to the Partnership. The GP's lack of probity and conflict of interest has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

f. The expense report exhibited to one of the GP's May 2025 Capital Calls indicates that "Legal Expenses for Partnership" for January – May 2025 are US$7.86 million. These legal expenses are significantly higher than in prior periods and the Petitioners infer that the GP has sought to include legal costs in connection with the Delaware Proceedings and/or any other anticipated litigation costs in connection with the dispute between the GP and the Petitioners.

D. Ground 2: Loss of substratum

66. Given the GP's stated intention to pursue an investment strategy which involves the continued funding of the portfolio companies against the wishes and to the detriment of the Petitioners and without complying with the express provisions of the LPA to obtain limited partners' approval for budgets for investments, and the GP's evident intention to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership and take control thereof, the substratum of the Partnership has been lost. The Partnership is no longer being run in accordance with the reasonable expectations of the limited partners or in accordance with the LPA.

E. Ground 3: Need for an independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs

67. For all of the reasons set out in Ground 1, there is evidently a need for a proper, independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs.

Conclusion

68. For the reasons set out above, it is respectfully submitted that it is just and equitable that the Partnership be wound up.

Nomination of Joint Official Liquidators

69. The Petitioners nominate Mr Alexander Lawson and Mr Barry Lynch of Alvarez & Marsal Cayman Islands Limited, Flagship Building, PO Box 2507, 2nd Floor, 142 Seafarers Way, George

Town, Grand Cayman KY1-1104, Cayman Islands for appointment as joint official liquidators of the Partnership.

YOUR PETITIONERS THEREFORE HUMBLY PRAY THAT:

2. Mr Alexander Lawson and Mr Barry Lynch of Alvarez & Marsal Cayman Islands Limited, Flagship Building, PO Box 2507, 2nd Floor, 142 Seafarers Way, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-1104, Cayman Islands be appointed as Joint Official Liquidators of the Partnership (the "JOLs") with such powers as the Court deems necessary for the orderly winding up of the Partnership.

3. All rights or property of every description of the Partnership, including all choses in action, held or deemed to be held by the GP shall vest in the JOLs without the requirement for further formalities and shall be held by the JOLs in accordance with the law.

4. The JOLs' powers are exercisable to the exclusion of the GP and the GP shall forthwith have no authority or power to act in relation to the Partnership or its property or affairs other than at the direction of and/or with the written consent of the JOLs.

5. The JOLs shall have leave to apply under section 36(3)(g) of the ELP Act for further orders and directions.

6. The Petitioners' costs of and incidental to the Petition shall be paid forthwith out of the assets of the Partnership as an expense of the liquidation.

7. Such further or other relief as this Honourable Court deems fit.

JX-63

3. The Petition is presented because, as described in detail below, there has been continued serious mismanagement and a lack of probity in the conduct of the affairs of the Partnership by the GP. The GP is a Cayman Islands exempted company with registration number 252582 and its registered office at Maples Corporate Services Limited, PO Box 309, Ugland House, South Church Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.

4. As a result of the GP's mismanagement and lack of probity, there is a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole. In particular:

   a. The GP has issued capital call notices on 30 May 2025 and 1 June 2025 (the "Disputed Capital Calls") in violation of the LPA seeking to compel the contribution of over USD 100 million in additional capital in excess of maximum subscription commitments ~~and~~ in breach of the terms of the LPA, and in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in the interests of the Partnership as a whole.

   b. The GP ~~has~~ launched proceedings in Delaware (the "Delaware Proceedings") seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide vast sums of further funding to the Partnership, in breach of the express provisions of the LPA (defined in paragraph 16 below) whilst simultaneously seeking to apply a penal default charge in order to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership, in order to take control of the Partnership and billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets.

   b1. The GP has knowingly misled the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership through making false representations as to the purposes for which that capital was required and / or would be used.

   b2. The GP has misappropriated and dissipated Partnership assets.

   b3. The GP has made improper denials regarding the breakdown in the relationship between it and the Petitioners.

   b.4 The GP has failed to act in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner in its management of the affairs of the Partnership, including by failing to maintain a list of partners and a register of partners in breach of the Partnership's constitutional documents and ELP Act and by taking inconsistent positions as to the extent of the Petitioners' capital commitments to the Partnership.

c. The GP has also improperly charged its expenses to the portfolio companies and failed to provide necessary information to the Petitioners in a timely manner or at all, including to enable the Petitioners to determine whether to approve further budgets for portfolio companies or to scrutinise expenses which appear to have been improperly charged to the Partnership.

d. The GP also has a conflict of interest and/or has been acting in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a whole, as it has been acting in the interests of the portfolio companies and / or in its own interests and / or for the improper purpose of placing pressure on the Petitioners ~~by exposing the Partnership to open-ended, binding commitments thereto and~~ in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against their wishes and in breach of the LPA.

5. In all the circumstances, the substratum of the Partnership has also been lost, and there is a need for independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs.

B. The Partnership

6. The Partnership is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership established pursuant to the ELP Act and registered on 29 October 2012. The registered office of the Partnership is at Maples Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.

7. The Partnership was formed following discussions between Dr Seth Harrison ("Dr Harrison") and Dr Dmitry Rybolovlev ("Dr Rybolovlev") concerning the formation of a vehicle to make investments in the life science industry using capital provided from entities owned by the Rybolovlev family trust (the "Trust"). Dr Rybolovlev is a highly successful businessman of Cypriot nationality and settlor of the Trust.

8. Upon the Partnership's formation, its limited partners were Blue Horizon Enterprise Ltd ("Blue Horizon") Ezbon International Ltd ("Ezbon") and Dr Harrison. Blue Horizon and Ezbon are special purpose vehicles ultimately owned and controlled by the Trust.

9. The GP is part of a life sciences venture capital firm called Apple Tree Partners ("ATP"), which operates out of the United States. Dr Harrison is the founder and managing director of ATP. ATP has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership. Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. ("ATLS") serves as a management company for the Partnership and an annual fee is paid to it in connection with certain Partnership expenses. ATLS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Partnership.

10. The Petitioners are limited partners of the Partnership. Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Limited and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Limited are the sole general partners of RBI One and RBI Two, respectively. The sole limited partner of both RBI One and RBI Two is Rigmora Holdings Ltd ("Rigmora Holdings"). Rigmora Holdings is a holding company for the Trust and also acts as an advisor to the trustees of the Trust.

11. As of June 2025, the contingent subscriptions of the Petitioners total US$2.425 billion (US$1,188,250,000.00 for RBI One and US$1,236,750,000.00 for RBI Two), and the total capital contributions of the Petitioners are in excess of US$2.6 billion, which represents c. 9~~8~~% of all capital contributions made to the Partnership.

12. The Petitioners became limited partners of the Partnership as of 30 June 2024 by respectively taking over the limited partner positions of the two former limited partners, Blue Horizon and Ezbon.

13. ~~The Petitioners are the only limited partners of the Partnership not affiliated with the GP.~~ The other limited partners are Dr Harrison and Les Pommes LLC ("Les Pommes") and 12 former or present employees of ATLS. Les Pommes is a discretionary family trust for Dr Harrison's daughters. ~~Ms Anna Batarina (an employee of ATP) is a carry holder and ultimately has an economic interest in the Partnership. The GP has claimed that various other employees of ATP are also limited partners of the Partnership. However, none of those persons are parties to the LPA (as defined below) and none of those individuals have ever contributed any capital to the Partnership. The Petitioners do not accept that they are in fact legitimate limited partners.~~

14. The Partnership has been built almost exclusively using capital belonging to the Petitioners. As of June 2025, c. 9~~8~~% of the US$2.7 billion invested into the Partnership was capital contributed by the Petitioners. The remaining US$53.8m of capital has been contributed by Dr Harrison and Les Pommes, funded substantially by way of a loan from Ezbon.[1] No other limited partner has contributed any capital to the Partnership.

15. The principal purpose of the Partnership is to achieve returns on its capital by investing in pharmaceutical, life science, medical device and other medically-related companies and business projects.

Structure of the Partnership

16. The limited partners of the Partnership, and the GP are parties to a limited partnership agreement ("LPA"), the initial version of which was dated 29 October 2012. The LPA was restated on 1 November 2012 and has been amended a further 22 times since then: on 1 January 2014, 15 August 2014, 1 September 2014, 1 April 2015, 11 May 2015, 31 December 2015, 31 May 2017, 9 August 2017, 22 December 2017, 1 July 2018, 26 October 2018, 1 December 2018, 4 February 2019, 17 April 2019, 10 July 2019, 1 February 2020, 9 September 2020, 5 November 2020, 27 November 2020, 21 June 2021, 5 December 2022 and 20 December 2024. Each of the amendments has been undertaken by way of a separate amendment agreement (each referred to herein as "Amendment X" where X represents the number of the amendment following the execution of the 1 November 2012 restated LPA).

17. Upon incorporation, the Partnership had a conventional fund structure consisting of a single set of assets and liabilities participated in by all limited partners. However, by way of subsequent amendments starting with Amendment 13 (executed on 4 February 2019) the structure of the Partnership was changed to consist of separate investment "pools" each of which "to the maximum extent possible" consisted of its own set of assets and liabilities.

18. Prior to the transfer of the limited partner interests in June 2024, Blue Horizon and Ezbon together were the "Subject Limited Partner" under the LPA and the holder of the majority of

[1] The capital contributed to the Partnership by Dr Harrison was mostly made up of US$52.6m in capital that he had borrowed from Ezbon of which US$24.8 was repaid in cash (out of capital distributed by the Partnership to the GP), and the remaining US$27.8m was repaid by transferring part of his limited partner interests in the Partnership to Ezbon (as recorded in Paragraph 6(c) of Amendment No. 14 of the LPA).

"Preferred Units" in the Partnership. Following the transfer of the limited partner interests, the Petitioners became the "Subject Limited Partner" and the holder of the majority of "Preferred Units" in the Partnership for the purposes of the LPA.

19. The LPA (as amended) provides, materially:

a. Paragraph 5(a)(i) provides that each limited partner shall contribute to the Partnership an amount equal to but not in excess of the total amount of its "Contingent Subscription" specified in the "List of Partners". The amount of each limited partner's Contingent Subscription is in turn determined by the individual subscription agreement entered into between that limited partner and the Partnership (the "Subscription Agreements") (Clause 1(e)).

b. Paragraph 5(a)(ii) provides that the GP may only call capital for the purposes specified therein unless otherwise approved by holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing. In particular, Paragraph 5(a)(ii)(E) provides that the GP may only "invest in Projects approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing in accordance with a budget therefor approved by such holders of Preferred Units".

c. Paragraph 5(a)(ii) also provides, materially: "… in the case of a capital call pursuant to clause (D) or (E) of the preceding sentence that is made on a basis accelerated from that set forth in an approved Project budget, the General Partner (a) represents in writing to the Partners that it has a good faith belief that the Project (or portion thereof covered by such budget) will be completed within the aggregate amount budgeted therefor and (b) provided the Board or the holders of the Preferred Units, as the case may be, with a reasonably detailed and diligenced presentation supporting such representation; provided, however, that no approval by the Board or the holders of Preferred Units shall be required with respect to organizational expenses of the Partnership and its related entities."

d. Schedule C to the LPA (as amended by Amendment 2) provides, materially: "[t]he General Partner will issue a financial report to the holders of the Preferred Units at least every calendar quarter […] This financial report will cover all entities within the Partnership structure, and will include Project income and expenses and operating costs along with at least the following:

- Profit and loss and cash flow statements, in total and by major Project, showing actual versus budgeted results for the quarter […] then ended and including explanations of major variances to budget […]
- Detailed budget by major Project by quarter […] for the next twelve months […]
- Summary budget by major Project for each of the following two years, including operating income and expenses, and other items affecting cash flow.

In addition, the General Partner will present a schedule showing anticipated capital calls for the next four quarters and subsequent two years, reconciled to the detailed and summary cash flow budgets".

e. Paragraph 20 (e)(ii) provides that the GP "shall prepare, for each calendar year of the Partnership in advance of such year, a budget for the annual fee to be paid by the Partnership to ATLS (the 'ATLS Fee'). Such budget shall be presented to the Subject Limited Partner for approval no later than December 1 of the prior year … The Limited Partners shall make capital contributions to the Partnership to fund the ATLS Fee semi-annually in advance and the Management Fee annually in advance, in each case, as required by the General Partner, from time to time, in accordance with the Agreement. The amount of the ATLS Fee may also be modified from time to time by mutual agreement of the General Partner and the Subject Limited Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, the ATLS Fee shall be in addition to the Management Fee".

f. Amendment 9, section 11 provides: "ATLS shall pay the following expenses of the Partnership from the ATLS Fee: (i) except as set forth in Section 12, below, all compensation and benefits for employees (except to the extent paid from the Management Fee), (ii) all facilities and related overhead expenses, including rent, utilities, charges assessed by the lessor, property and general liability insurance, and communications, including phone and internet, (iii) office supplies and equipment, information technology support and software, (iv) publications, dues and charitable contributions, (v) public relations, marketing and advertising expenses, (vi) travel and

(vii) capital expenditures, including for furniture, fixtures, computers and other equipment, in each case, except as expressly provided in the following sentence."

20. The Petitioners are the holders of a majority of the "Preferred Units". The GP is therefore required to obtain the Petitioners' approval for any budget for investments in "Projects".

21. The Petitioners' total contingent subscriptions for the purposes of Paragraph 5(a) of the LPA is US$2.425 billion (the "Contingent Subscriptions"). In particular:

    a. Pursuant to a subscription agreement between Ezbon and the Partnership dated 1 November 2012, Ezbon agreed that the amount of its contingent subscriptions would be US$726,750,000 (the "Ezbon Subscription Agreement").

    b. Pursuant to a subscription agreement between Blue Horizon and the Partnership dated 1 November 2012, Blue Horizon agreed that the amount of its contingent subscriptions would be US$698,250,000 (the "Blue Horizon Subscription Agreement").

    c. On 20 September 2020:

        i. Ezbon executed an amendment to the Ezbon Subscription Agreement which increased its contingent subscription by US$510,000,000 to US$1,236,750,000; and

        ii. Blue Horizon executed any amendment to the Blue Horizon Subscription Agreement which increased its contingent subscription by US$490,000,000 to US$1,188,250,000,

        (the "Subscription Amendments").

    d. Other than the subscription agreements identified above (the "Subscription Agreements") no other subscription agreements have been entered into by Ezbon, Blue Horizon or the Petitioners.

22. The Subscription Amendments were executed in the context of an amendment to the LPA executed on or around 9 September 2020 ("Amendment 17").

    a. Amendment 17 increased the number of "pools" from 2 to 3 (referred to in Amendment 17 as "Pool A", "Pool B" and "Pool C" by inserting paragraph 20(a) into the LPA).

    b. Paragraph 20(a) of the LPA envisaged that the Subject Limited Partners would have total contingent subscriptions in excess of those committed to under the Ezbon and Blue Horizon Subscription Agreements.

    c. The Subscription Amendments were entered into shortly after Amendment 17 was executed to increase the Subject Limited Partners total contingent subscriptions in the manner contemplated by Paragraph 20(a) of the LPA.

23. By or on around 14 December 2023, the entirety of the Contingent Subscriptions had been paid out pursuant to capital calls made by the GP under Paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA. Since then, neither the Petitioners (nor their predecessors) have been obliged to contribute further capital to the Partnership under Paragraph 5(a) of the LPA.

24. Further capital contributions totalling US$242 million have since been made by the Petitioners (or their predecessors), without any obligation to do so. As noted above, to date the total capital contributed by the Petitioners to the Partnership is in excess of US$2.6 billion, comprising approximately 9~~98~~% of all capital contributions made to the Partnership.

C. Ground 1: Justifiable and irretrievable loss of trust and confidence

25. The Petitioners have justifiably and irretrievably lost all trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole.

26. The GP has seriously mismanaged the Partnership, acted in a manner calculated to prejudice the Petitioners and demonstrated a lack of probity in the conduct of its affairs by:

    a. Improperly (and in breach of duty) issuing ~~capital calls on 30 May 2025~~ the Disputed Capital Calls totalling over US$100 million ~~(the "May 2025 Capital Calls")~~. The ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls were not made for proper purposes. They were made for improper purposes of placing commercial pressure on the Petitioners: (a) in circumstances where they are not obliged to make further capital contributions; and (b) in the context of a break-down of the relationship between the Petitioners. Further, the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls were not made bona fide in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole (principally, the Petitioners) but were instead made in the interests of the GP and / or Dr Harrison and / or the portfolio companies. The Petitioners have brought separate proceedings in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands by way of writ dated 2 June 2025 to establish (amongst other things) that they are not obliged to pay the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls (the "Writ Proceedings").

b. Issuing the Delaware Proceedings ~~(defined in paragraph 39(b) below)~~, and making numerous unfounded and untruthful allegations therein, in order to take control of the Partnership;

c. Improperly seeking to impose a penal default charge on the Petitioners. In the Delaware Proceedings the GP alleged~~s~~ that it was ~~it is~~ entitled to take 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership (the GP estimates the Partnership to be worth approximately US$4 billion) and to reallocate those assets to the other ~~limited partners~~ holders of "preferred units" (i.e. to Dr Harrison and his family trust, Les Pommes). In other words, Dr Harrison, acting via the GP, ~~has~~ commenced proceedings in Delaware in which he sought ~~seeks~~ to take billions of dollars of assets from the Petitioners and transfer those assets to himself (in circumstances where he has contributed minimal capital into the Partnership and where the clear wording of the LPA does not entitle him to take such action, see paragraphs 40-41 below).

d. Seeking to compel the Petitioners to make further contributions to the portfolio companies and has sought to make accelerated capital calls and unbudgeted capital calls without complying with its obligations under the LPA. By issuing the Delaware Proceedings the GP is acting in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership as a whole and is clearly acting out of self-interest, and has not exercised its powers for a proper purpose.

d1. Knowingly misleading the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership through making false representations as to the purposes for which that capital was required and / or would be used.

d2. Misappropriating and dissipating Partnership assets.

d3. Making improper denials regarding the breakdown in the relationship between it and the Petitioners.

d4. Failing to act in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner in its management of the affairs of the Partnership, including by failing to maintain a list of partners and a register of partners in breach of the Partnership's constitutional documents and ELP Act and by taking inconsistent positions as to the extent of the Petitioners' capital commitments to the Partnership.

e. Improperly charging its expenses to the portfolio companies held by the Partnership.

f. Failing to provide necessary information to the Petitioners in a timely manner or at all, including to enable the Petitioners to determine whether to approve further budgets for portfolio companies or to scrutinise expenses which appear to have been improperly charged to the Partnership.

g. Failing to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a ~~whole by exposing the Partnership to open-ended, binding commitments to the portfolio companies and~~ in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against their wishes and in breach of the LPA. In this regard, the GP's decision making (through Dr Harrison (as the controlling mind and will of the GP, and a director of many of the portfolio companies owned by the Partnership)) is infected by a conflict of interest.

Background to loss of trust and confidence

27. As set out above, the Partnership was formed following discussions between Dr Harrison and Dr Rybolovlev to make investments in the life science industry using capital provided from entities owned by the Trust. It was agreed at the outset that the limited partners would have a substantial degree of oversight as to how capital is invested, by their ability to review and elect whether to approve budgets for investments required to be presented by the GP. As also set out above, the GP is part of ATP, which has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership and which was founded and is managed by Dr Harrison.

28. From around 2021, the GP started to improperly charge the employee costs of ATP investment professionals to the Partnership's portfolio companies (see paragraphs 53 to 56 below).

29. In September 2023, following a series of disagreements between the limited partners and the GP, the Petitioners' predecessors, Ezbon and Blue Horizon, made a request to the GP pursuant to their rights under the LPA for the distribution of assets in the "Pool Braeburn" investment pool. The "Pool Braeburn" investment pool is funded solely by capital contributed by the Subject Limited Partner. Upon the formation of "Pool Braeburn" (pursuant to Amendment 20 of the LPA), the Subject Limited Partner was granted a right (under paragraph 21(d) of the LPA) to require the Partnership to distribute the assets within that pool on demand. The Subject Limited Partner subsequently demanded the distribution of assets in Pool Braeburn.

30. The GP improperly refused to comply with this request. In doing so, the GP asserted that it was entitled and bound to retain the Braeburn assets within the Partnership to ensure Ezbon and Blue Horizon would continue contributing capital to the Partnership. That was not a proper basis for the GP to refuse to comply with the distribution request. The GP also claimed that compliance with the distribution request would impact the GP's ability to obtain third party funding, which would in turn impact the financial position of the Partnership. As a consequence of the GP's threats that the financial position of the Partnership would be affected, Ezbon and Blue Horizon agreed not to pursue the distribution request.

31. In July 2024, the Petitioners made another request to the GP under the LPA for the distribution of assets in Pool Braeburn. The GP failed to comply, and the Petitioners issued proceedings in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands seeking a declaration that the GP must distribute the Braeburn assets in accordance with the distribution request (the "Braeburn Proceedings").

32. In those proceedings, the GP claimed that it was unable to distribute the Braeburn assets to the Petitioners including because Braeburn Inc, one of the major assets within Pool Braeburn (and of the Partnership as a whole), had an "internal policy" prohibiting the transfer of ownership of the company from the Partnership to the Petitioners. The GP contended that the "internal policies" of Braeburn Inc included whatever the Braeburn Inc board considered was in Braeburn Inc's best interests to occur. That was not a proper basis for refusing to comply with the distribution request. The GP also contended that such a transfer would also trigger an event of default under a loan agreement between Braeburn Inc and a third party, which would have a significant knock-on negative impact on the Partnership. At the relevant time, the Partnership was the sole shareholder and Dr Harrison was the chairman of the board of directors of Braeburn Inc. He exercised significant influence over the other directors and members of senior management. It is therefore inconceivable to think that Dr Harrison would not have been involved in implementing the aforesaid arrangements.

33. The parties entered into a settlement agreement in respect of the Braeburn Proceedings on 20 December 2024 (the "Settlement Agreement"), which provided, amongst other things, that the GP would use commercially reasonable efforts to remove or mitigate any contractual blocks or economic costs that may inhibit the distribution of the Braeburn assets to the Petitioners. Clause 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement:

    a. required the parties to bear their own legal costs and disbursements in respect of the proceedings and the Settlement Agreement, (notwithstanding any provision of the LPA which may provide otherwise); and

    b. expressly provided that the GP would not charge the Partnership or the portfolio companies for its legal costs and disbursements incurred in relation to the proceedings and the Settlement Agreement.

34. However, the relationship between the GP and the Petitioners has since continued to deteriorate substantially to a state of complete breakdown and there has now been a complete loss of any trust and confidence of the Petitioners in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership.

35. The catalyst for this loss of trust and confidence was the GP's behaviour in regards to seven (7) early-stage portfolio companies: (1) Deep Apple Therapeutics, Inc.,, ("Deep Apple"), (2) Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Inc., (3) Evercrisp Biosciences, Inc., (4) Marlinspike Therapeutics, Inc., ("Marlinspike"), (5) Red Queen Therapeutics, Inc., (6) Aethon Therapeutics, Inc. and (7) Initial Therapeutics, Inc. ("Initial") (the "Early-Stage Companies").

36. Dr Harrison is a director of each of the Early-Stage Companies. The GP has insisted on continuing to invest the Partnership's capital into the Early-Stage Companies even though the Petitioners consider them to be hopeless investments. The GP has also failed to adhere to the milestones in the agreed budgets for the Early-Stage Companies and is seeking to call capital for these companies in breach of the LPA. Further and in addition, by virtue of the relief he seeks in the Delaware Proceedings, he is seeking capital on an accelerated basis in breach of the LPA.

37. The Petitioners maintain that they are not obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies:

a. First, the Partnership's limited partners' capital commitments are determined by the terms of the LPA, such that they are not required to make capital commitments to the Partnership which exceed their Contingent Subscription amount as set out in the Subscription Agreements (see paragraph 21 above). The Contingent Subscription amount is set out in the applicable Subscription Agreement(s). The Petitioners' total Contingent Subscription is US$2.425 billion, and they cannot be required to fund above that commitment. The GP's position is that the limited partners' capital commitments to the Partnership can be and have been increased above the Contingent Subscription amount through Amendments 17, 18 and 20 to the LPA. That is wrong. None of those amendment increased the Contingent Subscription amounts.

b. Second, and in any event, under Paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA, the GP may only invest in projects approved by the Petitioners "in accordance with a budget therefor approved" by the Petitioners. The budgets approved by the Petitioners provide for investments to be made into the Early-Stage Companies in certain specified amounts, subject to meeting certain specified milestones. The milestones under those respective budgets have not been met and no further capital commitment has been approved, in writing, by the Petitioners. The GP is also now seeking to call capital on an accelerated basis contrary to what is provided for in the budgets. The GP is not permitted to call for further capital absent written approval by the Petitioners, which the Petitioners have not provided. The GP's position is that the Petitioners have waived or forfeited their right to approve budgets and that, in any event, the GP is entitled to continue calling for capital irrespective of whether the milestones in an agreed budget have been complied with and regardless of whether it is calling capital on an accelerated basis to the budgets. There has however been no such waiver or forfeit and there is no such entitlement on the part of the GP.

38. The ongoing disagreement between the parties regarding budgeting issues resulted in Mr Yuri Bogdanov (CIO of Rigmora Holdings) emailing the GP on 15 May 2025. In that email, the Petitioners reiterated their position that they were not obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies and that it was not in the best interests of the Partnership for further funding to be allocated to the Early-Stage Companies. In the same email, the Petitioners asked the GP to clarify its position, stating "if you disagree with the above and consider that [the Petitioners are] obliged to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies then please respond with a detailed explanation of your position. [The Petitioners] of course intend to comply with the requirements of the LPA and will be cooperative if you can demonstrate the LPA allows you to call further capital in regards to the Early-Stage Companies" (the "15 May Email"). The GP did not respond to the 15 May Email, has refused to provide the requested information on the new budgets, and has accelerated capital calls when compared to forecasts sent shortly before issuing the said capital calls.

39. Rather than seek to consensually resolve the issues concerning the Early-Stage Companies and other budget issues that were being discussed between the parties, on 30 May 2025:

    a. The GP issued the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls purportedly requiring the limited partners to contribute US$109,960,926.00 million of capital to the Partnership by 13 June 2025 (save for a capital call made in respect of Replicate which is due on 17 June 2025); and

    b. The GP peremptorily issued a complaint against the Petitioners in the Delaware Court of Chancery seeking specific performance and equitable and declaratory relief in respect of the GP's and the limited partners' rights and obligations in respect of the Partnership (the "Delaware Complaint" and the "Delaware Proceedings"). The GP did not refer to the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls in the Delaware Proceedings.

40. In the Delaware Proceedings, the GP alleges that the 15 May Email amounts to an anticipatory breach of the LPA and/or a repudiation of "the [Petitioners'] obligation to respond to capital calls", the GP ~~seeks~~ had also sought specific performance to compel the limited partners to contribute up to US$545 million to the Partnership, whilst simultaneously contending that by reason of the 15 May Email the GP was entitled to apply a default charge to confiscate 50% of the limited partners' interest in the Partnership (the "Default Charge"), block their voting powers and remove their budget approval rights. The GP had also sought ~~seeks~~ to avoid complying with the contractual default process which includes provisions enabling the Petitioners to remedy any such default (i.e. by payment) on the basis that it would be "futile" to do so (see paragraph 171 of the Delaware Complaint). In other words, the GP ~~seeks~~ had sought an order whereby the Petitioners must provide the Partnership with further capital of up to US$545 million (which it is alleged is the Petitioners' total unfunded capital commitment) ~~and nevertheless maintains~~ whilst maintaining that it can also issue a default charge against the Petitioners and confiscate billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets even if they provide the capital sought.

41. As set out further below the Delaware Complaint and the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls ~~are~~ had evidently been designed to enable the GP to compel the Petitioners to contribute vast sums of further funding to the portfolio companies whilst engineering a default in order to impose a default charge to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership (in the approximate sum of US$2 billion), which would fall to be redistributed to the ~~remaining limited partners~~ other holders of "preferred units" (i.e., Dr Harrison and his family trust) thereby allowing Dr Harrison to take control of the Partnership, notwithstanding the fact that he has contributed less than c. ~~12~~2% of the Partnership's capital. The GP's intentions were laid bare in paragraph 192 of the Delaware Complaint, which states that the GP seeks an order preventing the Petitioners from "interfering with [the GP] in the exercise of its discretion over the Fund once [the Petitioners are] deemed to be a Defaulting Partner".

42. No GP acting reasonably and in good faith in the interests of Partnership would have commenced these proceedings in these circumstances.

43. Moreover, there was no proper basis for the GP's purported position. The 15 May Email is self-evidently not an anticipatory or repudiatory breach given that it said in terms that the Petitioners will comply with the terms of the LPA if the GP explains why it is entitled to call for further capital under the LPA. ~~For the avoidance of any doubt, the Petitioners do not accept that~~ In addition, the LPA does not entitle~~s~~ the GP to confiscate assets as alleged. The LPA is clear that the default charge enables the GP to reduce the number of preferred units and investor common units of a defaulting partner. Apart from Pool ATP IV, assets are not distributed by reference to the number of units held by a Limited Partner and are instead distributed in accordance with the specific distribution provisions for each pool as set out in the LPA.

43A The issuing of the Delaware Proceedings and the Disputed Capital Calls were the culmination of a long-term and highly choreographed strategy designed to place illegitimate pressure on the Petitioners to contribute further capital to the Partnership and to manufacture a situation where the GP could default the Petitioners (the "Default Strategy"). The existence of the Default Strategy falls to be inferred from the following matters:

a. The fact that the GP had instructed its US attorneys, Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan ("Quinn Emanuel") to start work on a complaint against the Petitioners in Delaware by August 2024 (at the latest), many months before the 15 May Email had been sent.

b. The timing and size of the Disputed Capital Calls, which were not issued for proper purposes or intra vires under the LPA but were deliberately inflated and made for the improper purposes alleged at paragraphs [44A]-[44D] below.

c. The fact that in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP had improperly claimed to be entitled immediately to impose a Default Charge on the Petitioners without any need to serve a Default Notice on the Petitioners as required by paragraph 5(a) (see paragraph [40] above).

d. The fact that in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP had wrongly claimed that by imposing a Default Charge on the Petitioners it was entitled to strip the Petitioners of 50% of their economic interests in the Partnership and reallocate those interests to other partners (i.e. primarily to Dr Harrison and his family trust (see paragraph [43] above).

e. The fact that on 29 April 2025, the GP provided a funding plan to the Petitioners in which the GP proposed to reallocate funding away from the Early-Stage Companies (the "April Funding Plan"), only to withdraw that proposal when the Petitioners indicated that they were agreeable to it. In particular:

    i. At a meeting on 9 May 2025 attended by principals of the GP and the Petitioners, and during a call attended by principals and lawyers of the GP and the Petitioners on 13 May 2025, the Petitioners indicated that they were agreeable to the proposed reallocation of budgets, consistent with their position that no further capital should be provided to the Early-Stage Companies as their future prospects were weak.

ii. However, during the call on 13 May 2025 Dr Harrison withdrew the reallocation proposal (despite considering it to be in the best interests of the Partnership).

iii. It is to be inferred from the forgoing that the GP made the reallocation proposal in the expectation that the Petitioners would not agree to it, and use their refusal as a basis for commencing proceedings against them in Delaware.

f. The fact that, since at the commencement of the Delaware Proceedings at the latest (and the Petitioners infer from before that date), the GP has (without notice to the Petitioners) approached at least 26 potential investors with a view to selling Partnership assets (portfolio companies) to them and / or transferring some or all of those assets (portfolio companies) to a new fund or funds managed by the GP. As recently as 4 October 2025, the GP (without notice to the Petitioners) sent a "Portfolio Lift-out Opportunity" presentation to at least 9 such entities (the "October Presentation"), offering an opportunity to "take over a restructured, mature, stage-diversified portfolio biotech portfolio".

43B. It is further inferred from the forgoing that the 15 May Email was used by the GP in bad faith as a pretext for implementing the Default Strategy.

43C. On 5 September 2025, shortly before the trial of the Delaware Proceedings was due to commence, the GP amended the relief sought in those proceedings. Following those amendments, the GP:

g. Abandoned its claim to be entitled to relief based solely on the 15 May Email.

h. Abandoned its claim for specific performance requiring the Petitioners s to contribute US$588.5m to the Partnership.

i. Abandoned its claim seeking an order permitting it to impose a Default Charge against all of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership.

j. Sought a declaration that the Petitioners had breached the LPA by refusing to pay the Disputed Capital Calls.

k. Sought a declaration that the Petitioners had breached their obligations under the LPA to fund and approve budgets sufficient to qualify as a "Defaulting Partner".

l. Sought specific performance of the Petitioners alleged obligations to fund capital calls for the Early-Stage companies.

(the "Amended Relief")

43D. The Petitioners will rely on the fact that the GP had sought, and then abandoned, the extreme and unjustified relief originally pleaded in the Delaware Proceedings as demonstrating that the GP had improperly, and in breach of its fiduciary obligations, commenced the Delaware Proceedings to exert illegitimate pressure on them.

43E. Further, in seeking the Amended Relief in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has acted in breach of the terms of an injunction issued by the Grand Court on 20 June 2025 and continued at a return date hearing on 1 August 2025 (the "Writ Injunction"). In those circumstances, any judgment obtained in favour of the GP in the Delaware Proceedings is not entitled to recognition in the Cayman Islands as being contrary to public policy. In particular:

a. By seeking a declaration that by reason of non-payment of the Disputed Capital Calls the Petitioners have breached their obligations under the LPA "sufficient to qualify as a defaulting partner" the GP is in breach of paragraph 1(a) of the Writ Injunction, which restrains it from "taking any steps to designate, deem or treat [the Petitioners] as a "Defaulting Partner"…arising out of or in relation to the…non-payment of the [Disputed Capital Calls]".

b. By seeking an order for specific performance of the alleged obligation to fund the Disputed Capital Calls, the GP is in breach of paragraphs 1(a) and / or (b) of the Writ Injunction. In particular, under paragraph 5(c)(iv) of the LPA the GP is only permitted to commence a lawsuit to collect an unpaid capital contribution upon a limited partner becoming a "Defaulting Partner". In commencing proceedings in Delaware seeking specific performance of the Petitioners' alleged obligation to fund the Disputed Capital Calls, the GP is therefore either: (a) treating or taking steps to treat the Petitioners as a Defaulting Partner in relation to the non-payment of the Disputed Capital Calls or (b) acting in breach of paragraph 5(c)(iv) of the LPA.

c. By seeking an order which deems the Petitioners to have waived their rights to approve budgets, the GP is in breach of paragraph 1(a) of the Writ Injunction in that it is taking a step to designate, deem or treat the Petitioners as a Defaulting Partner by claiming that they have lost their rights to approve budgets under paragraph 18(f) of the LPA on the basis that they have not satisfied the Disputed Capital Calls.

Mismanagement / prejudicial conduct / lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs

44. The GP has mismanaged the Partnership, acted prejudicially to the interests of the limited partners and demonstrated a serious lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs, as detailed below.

Improper issuing of the Disputed Capital Calls

44A. In determining whether, and in what amount, to exercise its powers to call capital under the LPA, the GP is required to (a) act in good faith and in the interests of the Partnership; and (b) exercise its powers for proper purposes.

44B. In circumstances where the Petitioners have contributed approximately 98% of the capital invested into the Partnership and are the principal economic owners of the Partnership, the GP is required to have regard to the interests of the Petitioners when discharging its duty to act in good faith to act in the interests of the Partnership.

44C. The Disputed Capital Calls were made by the GP in breach of its fiduciary duties to (a) act in good faith and in the interests of the Partnership and (b) exercise its powers for proper purposes. In particular:

a. The Disputed Capital Calls were not made in good faith in the interests of the Partnership but were made by the GP principally in the interests of Dr Harrison and / or Les Pommes for the improper purposes of enabling the GP to impose a Default Charge on the Petitioners which, on the GP's case, would enable it to redistribute 50% of the their economic interests in the Partnership to the other holders of "preferred units" (principally, Mr Harrison and Les Pommes).

b. Further or in the alternative, the Disputed Capital Calls were not made in good faith in the interests of the Partnership but were made for the improper purpose of placing commercial pressure on the Petitioners to contribute further capital to the Partnership in the context of an ongoing dispute with the GP over the extent of their obligation to do so.

c. Further or in the alternative, the Disputed Capital Calls in respect of the Portfolio Companies were not made for the proper purposes of meeting any genuine or immediate funding need on the part of the Portfolio Companies in the amounts sought under the Disputed Capital Calls.

d. Further or in the alternative, the GP did not genuinely believe that it was in the best interests of the Partnership to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies either in the amounts sought under the relevant Disputed Capital Calls, or at all.

44D. The breaches pleaded in paragraph [44C] above are evident from the following matters:

a. The fact that the GP is conflicted in its decision making in relation to the funding of the Portfolio Companies and the issuing of the Disputed Capital Calls by reason of: (a) the enormous economic benefits which Dr Harrison claims to be entitled to by imposing a Default Charge on the Petitioners; (b) Dr Harrison being the sole director of the GP and a director of each of the Portfolio Companies; and (c) Dr Harrison having carried interest entitlements in the investment pools containing the Early Stage Companies in circumstances where Dr Harrison has not contributed any capital to those pools.

b. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls were all made on the same day and were issued by the GP without the GP first responding to the Petitioners' request, made in the 15 May Email, for the GP to provide an explanation of the basis on which the GP considered that they were obliged to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies.

c. The size of the Disputed Capital Calls (in excess of US$101m), being far in excess of the amounts that the GP represented would be required:

i. In the April Funding Plan provided to the Petitioners by the GP on 29 April 2025. The April Funding Plan stated that US$16.7m of funding was required in respect of the portfolio companies in Q2 2025.

ii. In a spreadsheet which Dr Harrison (on behalf of the GP) circulated to Daniel Finkelman, Joseph Yanchik, and William Engels on 15 May 2025 (the "15 May Spreadsheet"). The 15 May Spreadsheet indicated that capital calls totalling US$19.5m would be made in respect of the portfolio companies.

iii. In the October Presentation, which represented that a sum of US$50m would be sufficient to meet the funding needs of five Early-Stage Companies (Nereid Therapeutics Incorporated ("Nereid"), Marlinspike, Initial, Apertor Pharmaceuticals ("Apertor") and Nine Square Incorporated ("Nine Square") over a period of 36 months.

d. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls were made in the context of a break-down of the relationship between the Petitioners and the GP and an ongoing dispute between the Petitioners and the GP over the extent of their Contingent Subscriptions into the Partnership.

e. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls were the culmination of a long-term and highly choreographed Default Strategy against the Petitioners.

f. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls were made by the GP minutes before the commencement of the Delaware Proceedings.

g. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls included a capital call of US$7.5m in respect of Apertor in circumstances where:

i. At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison knew that that the Partnership was holding a capital contribution of US$1.6m made by the Petitioners in respect of Apertor on 21 May 2025.

ii. At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras (on behalf of the Apertor board) in emails dated 1 May 2025, 27 May 2025 and 30 May 2025 that Apertor was going to be wound up.

iii. At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras (on behalf of the Apertor board) in an email dated 30 May 2025 that US$850,000 was required to wind up Apertor.

iv. Apertor has in fact received the funds that were required to complete an orderly shutdown.

v. In the premises, when making the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Apertor, the GP knew that Apertor did not have any genuine commercial need for US$7.5m.

h. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls included a capital call of US$9m in respect of Deep Apple in circumstances where:

i. At the time of that capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras in an email dated 20 May 2025 that: a deal for third party funding was imminent; once that funding was received, Deep Apple had no need for additional funds and Deep Apple had sufficient funding to see it through to August 2025.

ii. Deep Apple announced a concluded funding deal with a third party called Novo Nordisk on 11 June 2025 pursuant to which it was eligible to receive up to US$812 million in payments, including an upfront payment of US$32.5 million.

iii. The GP has not withdrawn the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Deep Apple.

iv. In the premises, it is to be inferred that the GP's decision to make the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Deep Apple was not based on a genuine or good faith assessment of the funding requirements of Deep Apple.

i. The fact that the Disputed Capital Calls included US$47.8m in respect of the Early-Stage companies in circumstances where:

i. On 4 April 2025, Dr Harrison sent an email to Ms Anna Batarina (an employee of ATP at that time) stating that the reallocation of capital away from the Early-Stage Companies "is the right business decision for the portfolio in ANY financing context".

ii. The GP had proposed to reallocate capital away from the Early-Stage Companies in the April Funding Plan.

iii. In the premises, it is to be inferred the GP did not genuinely believe that it was in the best interests of the Partnership to continue to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies either in the amounts sought under the relevant Disputed Capital Calls, or at all.

The Delaware Proceedings

45. As set out above, rather than seeking to reach a consensual solution with the Petitioners, the GP issued the Delaware Proceedings in an improper attempt to persuade the Delaware Court to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding for the portfolio companies, and/or to engineer a default to enable the GP to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership.

46. In the Delaware Complaint, the GP has made a number of extremely serious allegations that the Petitioners are concertedly acting to undermine the position of the ~~Early-Stage Companies~~ portfolio companies to enable them to gain personal control over those companies (or some of them), outside of the Partnership. By way of example, the Delaware Complaint states:

a. "…the Defendants' [have engaged in] premeditated financial destruction of [REDACTED] Delaware portfolio companies" (paragraph 1);

b. "[the Defendants have] arbitrarily and irrationally refusing to approve new budgets for [REDACTED] portfolio companies [REDACTED], but whose initial funding has run out" (paragraph 1);

c. "The Family Office LP is now destroying these companies and the value ATP has created in the Fund. If not stopped at once, the Family Office LP will starve [REDACTED] of the financing needed to fund their respective missions." (paragraph 6);

d. "The Family Office LP's stated goal is to drive [REDACTED] portfolio into the ground so that the Family Office LP will no longer need to fund it, and then negotiate new terms and budgets only on [REDACTED] companies (if any) that they choose…The Family Office LP also appears to be positioning itself to cherry pick the Fund's clinical assets out of the rubble, using Family Office owned investment vehicles outside of the Fund's capital tree and contractual obligations. This scheme appears intended to ensure that the Family Office can evade its commitments…" (paragraph 7);

e. "Over the past eighteen months, the Family Office LP had hid its predatory intentions by feigning a willingness to meet reduced capital calls for [REDACTED] companies and negotiate new budgets for [REDACTED] companies." (paragraph 12);

f. "These were different times in the working relationship between ATP and the Family Office LP, before the Family Office LP sought to rely on irrational pretexts to minimize its capital contributions to the Fund while eyeing select assets for future exploitation outside of the Fund." (paragraph 69);

g. "…the Family Office LP has capriciously withheld budget approvals, reduced approved budgets, cautioned emphatically against capital calls that provided anything more than "drip" financing…" (paragraph 77);

h. "…the Family Office LP has not only refused to discuss new budgets in good faith, but unleashed a new strategy to destroy [the Partnership]." (paragraph 121); and

i. "The [Partnership] has no adequate remedy at law for the violence the Family Office LP has inflicted on these companies." (paragraph 150).

47. These allegations made by the GP in the Delaware Complaint are untruthful and wholly unfounded. The Petitioners have paid out the entirety of their Contingent Subscription so they are not obliged to contribute further capital. Further and in the alternative, the Petitioners, as the holders of the majority of the Preferred Units, are entitled to refuse to invest more of their capital into particular projects if the relevant budgets and associated milestones have not been adhered to. In respect of certain of the Early-Stage Companies, the ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls are not in accordance with the approved budgets. The Early-Stage Companies have to date failed to meet any, or sufficient, milestones specified in the investment memoranda attached to the approved budgets and the Petitioners have formed the view that the relevant portfolio companies are not viable investments. It would plainly be illogical and irrational for the Petitioners, as the limited partners of the Partnership with a c. 9~~8~~% stake in the Partnership's assets, to deliberately seek to "starve" otherwise viable portfolio companies, which have to date been funded exclusively by their capital contributions. Insofar as new budgets are concerned, the Petitioners have sought further information from the GP in order to assess the financial performance and merits of the proposed budgets but the GP has refused to provide the information sought.

48. The GP's pursuit of the Default Strategy and / or the Delaware Proceedings and the unfounded, incendiary and wholly inappropriate allegations made therein evidence the GP's serious lack of probity and demonstrate its improper management of the affairs of the Partnership. Those matters give rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the management of the GP by the Petitioners.

49. The Delaware Proceedings had ~~have~~ also evidently been brought for an improper purpose (including as part of the Default Strategy), to enable the GP to compel the Petitioners to contribute up to US$545 million of further funding to the Partnership in complete disregard of the provisions of the LPA, such funding being substantially in excess of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions, including US$331.3 million for which the GP has not presented any budget to the Petitioners for approval (let alone obtained such approval) (~~see paragraph 51 below~~). The GP had also simultaneously ~~seeks~~ sought to engineer a default in order to impose a default charge on the Petitioners to confiscate 50% of their interests in the Partnership and thereby take control of the Partnership and billions of dollars of the Petitioners' assets, which would fall to be redistributed to Dr Harrison and his family. The GP also wishes to remove the Petitioners' right to approve new budgets so as to obtain control without the need for the Petitioners' approval of such budgets.

49A As pleaded in paragraph 43C above, the GP amended the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings shortly before the trial of those proceedings was due to commence. However, the Petitioners will say that:

a. the relief originally pleaded in the Delaware Proceedings was wholly unjustified;

b. the relief originally pleaded in the Delaware Proceedings was included for improper purposes of exerting economic pressure on the Petitioners; and

c. the fact that it had been sought by the GP evidences the GP's serious lack of probity, its improper management of the affairs of the Partnership and gives rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its management of the Partnership's affairs.

49B Further, the GP's conduct in the Delaware Proceedings has given rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence. In particular:

d. On 17 September 2025, the Petitioners issued a summons for the appointment of joint provisional liquidators over the Partnership (the "JPL Summons").

e. On 19 September 2025, the GP filed an emergency motion in Delaware seeking an anti-suit injunction preventing the Petitioners from pursuing the JPL Summons pending the outcome of the Delaware Proceedings (the "Anti-Suit Injunction Motion").

f. The Anti-Suit Injunction Motion was brought and pursued by the GP in breach of paragraph 18(g)(vi) of the LPA and / or in a manner that was vexatious and oppressive to the Petitioners and / or an unconscionable interference with the Cayman's Court's exclusive winding up jurisdiction. In support of these allegations, the Petitioners rely on the facts and maters set out at sub paragraphs (g)-(k) below.

g. Pursuant to paragraph 18(g)(vi) of the LPA, the GP contractually agreed to submit to the jurisdiction of the Cayman Court in respect of (among other matters) the JPL Summons. In breach of that contractual agreement, the GP sought by its Anti-Suit Motion to prevent the Petitioners from pursuing the JPLS summons. As a result of that breach and the other vexatious, oppressive and unconscionable conduct particularised at sub-paragraphs (h)-(k) below, it was not possible to move the JPL Summons at the hearing fixed for that purpose by the Cayman Court.

h. The GP moved the Anti-Suit Injunction Motion at a hearing before the Delaware Court on 19 September 2025 (the "September Hearing") at which it misrepresented to the Delaware Court the effect of the PL Summons, and the Petitioners; conduct in connection with it, giving rise to a justifiable lack of trust and confidence. In particular:

i. The GP represented in a brief presented to the Delaware Court that in a letter sent to Walkers by Campbells on the 17 September 2025, the Petitioners had stated that "unless ATP agrees by 10 am on September 19, to certain undertakings, it will seek emergency and expedited ex parte appointment of PLs from the Cayman Court". Campbells' letter said no such thing. Instead, it requested for the GP to give certain undertakings pending an inter partes hearing of the PL Summons (which the letter proposed should occur on 31 October 2025), failing which the Petitioners "will be forced to seek urgent relief without further notice to protect our clients' position until the PL Application is resolved".

ii. The GP represented in a brief presented to the Delaware Court that the PL Summons was a "frontal attack on this [Delaware] Court's jurisdiction and an attempt to circumvent this Court's orders expediting this action and denying Rigmora's Motion to Stay in favour of the later filed Cayman Proceedings that Rigmora previously lost". That was untrue. The appointment of JPLs would not have interfered with the Delaware's Court's jurisdiction in any way.

iii. The GP represented in a brief presented to the Delaware Court that a PL under Cayman law is similar to a bankruptcy trustee under U.S. law "Except here, the trustee would be hand-selected by Rigmora, which has a demonstrated purpose of starving the portfolio Companies". That submission was false, in particular because it failed to acknowledge that a provisional liquidator is an officer of the Cayman Court, obliged to act independently in the best interests of the Partnership.,

iv. The GP represented in a brief presented to the Delaware Court that "Rigmora appears to view a trial in Delaware as an unacceptable risk, and is attempting to mitigate that risk by displacing ATP as the Fund's general partner before trial as soon as possible". That was false. The PL Summons: did not seek any orders removing ATP as the Fund's general partner and sought to appoint provisional liquidators with a limited mandate which did not include taking over the conduct of the Delaware Proceedings.

v. The GP represented during submissions at the September Hearing that the JPL Summons would "deprive this Court of the opportunity to fully adjudicate and remediate the breaches of contract that we have been litigating in this court since May". That was untrue. The appointment of PLs would not have deprived the Delaware Court with the opportunity to fully adjudicate the issues before it.

vi. The GP represented during submissions at the September Hearing that if provisional liquidators were appointed in circumstances where the Delaware Court order the Rigmora LPs to fund US$215m of approved budgets, the PLs "could send [the $215m] right back to Rigmora, instead of where it is supposed to go, which is in furtherance of the Fund's objectives". That submission misrepresented the independence of provisional liquidators, and their obligation to act in the interests of the Partnership.

i. At a hearing in the Cayman Islands on 3 October 2025, the Cayman Court directed that the PL Summons be heard on 3-4 November 2025. On 13 October 2025 the GP signed a consent order agreeing that the PL Summons should be listed for a hearing on 3-4 November 2025.

j. Three days later (on 16 and 17 October 2025) the GP informed the Delaware Court of its intention to further pursue the Anti-Suit Injunction (which had been adjourned at the September Hearing) which it did by reply brief dated 19 October 2025. As an alternative, the GP suggested at the end of the trial of the Delaware Proceedings that the Delaware Court produce a judgment on the Delaware Proceedings in advance of 3–4 November 2025, or shortly thereafter, despite the Delaware Judge's indication of the difficulties she would have in producing a coherent judgment within that compressed period.

k. In the circumstances, faced with the risk of the Anti-Suit Injunction sought by the GP or the issuance as its request of a judgment on the Delaware Proceedings on a timescale so compressed as to prejudice the Delaware Court in fairly disposing of those proceedings and/or the Petitioners' in having fair opportunity to present its case in those proceedings, the Petitioners had no realistic option but to seek to leave withdraw the JPL Summons.

Wilful and persistent breaches of the LPA

~~50. In the Delaware Complaint, the GP seeks specific performance to compel the limited partners to immediately fund prior approved but unfunded budgets in response to capital calls as and when they are received (see paragraph 14 of the Delaware Complaint). This amounts to an accelerated capital call, but the GP has wholly failed to comply with the requirements in clause 5(a)(ii) of the LPA (see paragraph 19(c) above) by providing any written assurances and/or diligenced presentation that the relevant project(s) will be completed within the aggregate amount budgeted therefor, and instead seeks to compel the Petitioners to meet accelerated capital calls in the absence of these assurances, by court order.~~

~~51. The GP also seeks specific performance to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding of up to US$331.3 million (see paragraph 164 of the Delaware Complaint). No budgets have been provided by the GP or approved by the Petitioners in respect of any such funding (which the GP accepts - see paragraph 5 of the Delaware Complaint). Indeed, the GP has not provided any information to the Petitioners about the intended use of the further funding, merely asserting in the Delaware Complaint that its use is "including for those companies specifically named in Amendment No. 22 – Ascidian, Aulos, Nine Square, Nereid and Replicate". This falls far short of the formal budget proposals which are required to be presented to the Petitioners for approval under the LPA, which budgets serve the further purpose of enabling the Petitioners to ensure that their capital is being applied in a proper manner.~~

52. In the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has sought ~~seeks~~ to circumvent the express provisions of the LPA in the Delaware Proceedings, to compel the Petitioners to provide vast sums of further funding, without specifying what those funds are to be used for and denying the Petitioners any oversight over how their funds are applied, contending that the Petitioners have "waived" or "forfeited" their right to approve budgets. The GP's attempts to obtain funding to be applied entirely at its own discretion without any oversight by the Petitioners demonstrates a serious lack of probity and mismanagement and has caused the Petitioners to lose trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership.

The GP has knowingly misled the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership

52A. The GP has knowingly misled the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership through making false representations as to the purposes for which that capital was required and / or would be used.

52B. The GP issued a capital call notice dated 15 January 2025 of US$1.6m in respect of Marlinspike (the "Marlinspike January Call"). By making the Marlinspike January Call, the GP represented that that the capital was being requested for, and would be used to meet, Marlinspike's funding requirements.

52C. The Petitioners paid the Marlinspike January Call by agreeing that the US$1.6m could be reallocated to Marlinspike from funds the Petitioners paid in respect of a 16 January 2025 capital call for Nine Square. In doing so, the Petitioners understood that the capital was being requested for, and would be used to meet, Marlinspike's funding requirements. Further, under the LPA the GP was not permitted to use the proceeds of the Marlinspike January Call other than for the purposes of meeting Marlinspike's funding requirements.

52D. On 3 February 2025, the GP issued a capital call notice of US$400,000 in respect of Marlinspike (the "Marlinspike February Call", together with the Marlinspike January Call the "Marlinspike Calls"). By making the Marlinspike February Call, the GP represented that the capital was being requested for, and would be used to meet, Marlinspike's funding requirements.

52E. On 13 February 2025 the Petitioners arranged for payment of the Marlinspike February Call, which the GP had received by the next day. In doing so, the Petitioners understood that the capital was being requested for, and would be used to meet, Marlinspike's funding requirements. Further, under the LPA the GP was not permitted to use the proceeds of the Marlinspike February Call other than for the purposes of meeting Marlinspike's funding requirements.

52F. In fact, contrary to the representations made by the GP and unknown to the Petitioners and in breach of the LPA, the GP did not intend to use and did not use the proceeds from the Marlinspike Calls to meet Marlinspike's funding requirements.

52G. Instead, the GP procured that the proceeds from the Marlinspike Calls were transferred to another portfolio company Nereid. In particular:

a. On 27 March 2025, Mr Finkelman on behalf of the GP sent an email to Willam Engels (CFO at ATP) and Jonathan Ravski (Accounting Manager at ATP) instructing them to wire US$1m of the proceeds from the Marlinspike Calls to Marlinspike "but let them know that it is going right out the door to Nereid".

b. On 27 March 2025, Mr Ravski emailed the accounting department at Marlinspike explaining that "We have wired $1m under the Series A Agreement. Please note that these funds are to be used as a loan to Nereid as per discussions that took place".

c. On 27 March 2025, the operator of Marlinspike's accounting mailbox responded saying "this is the first we're hearing of this".

d. On 28 March 2025, Marlinspike transferred US$1m as a loan to Nereid ("Nereid Loan").

52H. As at the date of the Marlinspike Calls and Nereid Loan, no approved budget was in place in respect of Nereid. In those circumstances, the GP was not permitted to call capital for Nereid from the Petitioners under paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA. Paragraph 19(b) above is repeated.

52I. In the premises:

a. The representations referred to at paragraphs 52B and 52D above were knowingly false, in that the GP did not intend to use the proceeds from the Marlinspike Calls to meet the funding requirements of Marlinspike. Instead, the GP intended to use the proceeds (or a substantial portion thereof) to meet the funding requirements of Nereid (thereby circumventing the LPA's requirement that capital can only be called for a portfolio company in accordance with an approved budget).

b. The Petitioners were misled into contributing capital to the Partnership by the knowingly false representations of the GP.

c. Further, the GP breached the terms of the LPA by procuring for the proceeds of the Marlinspike Calls to be used other than for the purposes of meeting Marlinspike's funding requirements.

d. The GP's conduct has given rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its management of the Partnership's affairs.

Misappropriations / dissipations of assets

52J. Between 31 July 2025 and 8 August 2025 the Partnership received three payments totalling US$62,776,352.48 (the "Q3 2025 Receipts"). In particular:

a. A payment of US$20,035,952.54 on 31 July 2025.

b. A payment of US$41,736,871.3 on 1 August 2025.

c. A payment of US$13,528.64 on 8 August 2025.

52K. Between 4 August 2025 and 27 August 2025, the GP caused US$39,306,044 of the Q3 2025 Receipts to be paid away from the Partnership (the "Q3 2025 Payments"). In particular:

a. On 4 August 2025, US$20 million was transferred to the client account of the GP's US attorneys at Quinn Emanuel.

b. On 4 August 2025, US$8,906,044 was paid directly to ATLS in respect of alleged management fees.

c. Between 11 August 2025 and 27 August 2025 US$10.4m was paid to (or on account of) various portfolio companies.

52L. The GP did not disclose the existence of the Q3 2025 Receipts or the Q3 2025 Payments to the Petitioners. The Petitioners only became aware of their existence in September 2025 in correspondence prompted by answers given during the deposition of the GP's witnesses in the Delaware Proceedings.

52M. The Q3 2025 Receipts included a sum of US$41,736,871.3 received from Braeburn on 1 August 2025 (the "Braeburn Prepayment"). The circumstances in which the Braeburn Prepayment came to be received by the Partnership evidences the GP's serious lack of probity and gives rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its management of the Partnership. In particular:

a. The Braeburn Prepayment represented an early repayment of sums owed to the Partnership under certain convertible loan notes issued by Braeburn between October 2020 and August 2023 (the "Braeburn Notes").

b. The Braeburn Notes were not due to be repaid until March 2029 and earned the Partnership interest at 8% per annum.

c. Despite this, the GP approached Braeburn on dates unknown to offer a 10% discount on the principal owed under the Braeburn Notes in return for early repayment.

d. The Braeburn Prepayment was not in the best interests of the Partnership since it has resulted in the Partnership forgoing both capital and interest on the Braeburn Notes.

e. In procuring the Partnership to offer and accept the Braeburn Prepayment, the GP acted in breach of its fiduciary duties to act bona fides in the best interests of Partnership. It is to be inferred (including from the Q3 2025 Payments) that the Braeburn Prepayment was improperly procured by the GP at least in part for the purposes of funding its illegitimate litigation campaign against the Petitioners.

52N. Further, in making the Q3 2025 Payments, the GP has demonstrated a serious lack of probity and has improperly managed the affairs of the Partnership so as to give rise to a justifiable loss and confidence in the GP's management of the Partnership. In particular:

a. The Braeburn Notes were assets held in Pool Braeburn (being "debt securities" of Braeburn owned by the Partnership within the meaning of paragraph 21(a) of the LPA). As such, the GP was required to distribute the proceeds of the Braeburn Prepayment to the Petitioners in accordance with Paragraph 21(d) of the LPA. The Braeburn Prepayment was not available to be applied by the GP for any other purpose. Despite this, the GP improperly and in breach of the LPA funded the Q3 2025 Payments from the proceeds of the Braeburn Prepayment.

b. The GP's entitlement to deal with the remainder of the Q3 2025 Receipts is governed by paragraph 8(c) of the LPA (as amended pursuant to Amended 4 dated 1 April 2015). Paragraph 8(c) of the LPA provides that:

"The General Partner shall cause the Partnership to distribute in cash to the Partners, promptly from time to time, any amounts held by the Partnership which remain after the Partnership has made, or established reserves to make, tax distributions and Tracking Unit distributions which are required by Paragraphs 8(a) and (b), respectively, except to the extent that the General Partner reasonably determines that such amounts may be necessary for paying Partnership and Intermediary expenses, liabilities and other obligations (including investments in Projects consistent with the applicable budgets) and establishing reserves therefor, in each case in accordance with Budgets approved by the Board or as provided for in this Agreement in the case of the Management Fee and indemnification obligations, or as otherwise determined by the General Partner with the prior consent of the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units."

c. Under paragraph 8(c) of the LPA, the GP was only permitted to apply the Q3 2025 Receipts towards investments in projects in a manner "consistent with the applicable budgets" or with the prior consent of the Petitioners as the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units.

d. In breach of the LPA, the GP used the Q3 2025 Receipts to make payments to portfolio companies where no approved budget exists and without the prior consent of the Petitioners. Those payments were improper, ought not to have been made and have dissipated the Partnership's assets. In particular:

i. On 11 August 2025, the GP transferred US$2 million from the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio company Aethon Therapeutics ("Aethon"). The approved budget in place in respect of Aethon incorporates funding milestones that have not been met. As such, the payment to Aethon was not "consistent with" the applicable budget and the Petitioners did not consent to the payment. While the GP disputes, in the Writ Proceedings, that the budget in respect of Aethon is conditional upon funding milestones being met, the GP has nevertheless demonstrated a serious lack of probity in making the payment to Aethon pending the resolution of that dispute.

ii. On 14 August 2025, the GP transferred US$150,000 from the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio company Nine Square and US$250,000 from the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio company Nereid. There were no approved budgets in respect of Nine Square or Nereid and the Petitioners did not consent to those payments.

iii. On 21 August 2025, the GP transferred US$1.5 million from the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio company Replicate Biosciences ("Replicate"). Under paragraph 26 of the LPA, the Petitioners' approval of a budget in respect of Replicate was expressly contingent upon "at least $300 million being realised (including through deemed distributions) by [the Petitioners] on a sale or financing of its interest in ATP LLC" (the "Realisation Condition"). The Realisation Condition has not been met. Accordingly, the payment to Replicate was not "in accordance with" an applicable budget within the meaning of paragraph 8(c) of the LPA, and the Petitioners did not consent to that payment.

iv. On 22 August 2025, the GP transferred US$100,000 from the Q3 2025 Receipts to the law firm Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati ("Wilson Sonsini") on account of Marlinspike, in discharge of legal fees owed by Marlinspike. The approved budget in place in respect of Marlinspike incorporates funding milestones that have not been met. As such, the payment to Marlinspike was not "consistent with" the applicable budget and the Petitioners did not consent to the payment. While the GP disputes, in the Writ Proceedings, that the budget in respect of Marlinspike is conditional upon funding milestones being met, the GP has nevertheless demonstrated a serious lack of probity in making the payment to Marlinspike pending the resolution of that dispute.

e. The GP has also acted with a serious lack of probity in continuing to seek to compel the Petitioners to pay the full amount of the Disputed Capital Calls following payment of the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio companies (including, in addition to those identified above, a payment of US$6m from the Q3 2025 Receipts to Ascidian on 11 August 2025 (being the full amount of the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Ascidian).

f. On 4 August 2025, the GP transferred US$20 million from the Partnership's bank accounts to Quinn Emanuel's client account in the US as a "reserve" to be available to discharge legal fees owed to Quinn Emanuel and Walkers. In causing that payment to be made, the GP has acted with a serious lack of probity in that: (a) legal costs incurred by the GP in connection with the proceedings in Delaware and the Cayman Islands are not properly incurred on behalf of the Partnership; (b) alternatively, the sum of $20 million is not a reasonable amount to incur on behalf of the Partnership in connection with the ongoing disputes; and (c) in any event, the GP ought to have retained that sum in the Partnership's own bank accounts and there was no proper justification for the GP to have caused it to be transferred away from the Partnership pending the outcome of the Petition.

52O. Further, the GP's failure to disclose the existence of the Q3 2025 Receipts and failure to seek validation orders under s.99 of the ELP Act evidences the GP's serious lack of probity and gives rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its management of the Partnership. In particular:

a. At the hearing of the return date for the Writ Injunction on 1 August 2025, the GP sought to vary the Writ Injunction in reliance upon the Third Affirmation of Dr Harrison dated 21 July 2025 ("Harrison 3").

b. In Harrison 3:

i. Dr Harrison asserted (at [125]) that: "the Injunction Order would instead bring an immediate and ongoing halt to the Partnership's funding of the portfolio companies for the entire period the injunction Order remains in place".

ii. Dr Harisson asserted, in support of the GP's application for fortification of the Petitioners' undertaking in damages, that "Ascidian is presently being starved of the requisite funding to achieve [its] goals as a result of the Family Office's refusal to meet capital calls (including the 30 May Capital Calls) and approve budgets".

c. By the time of the return date in respect of the Writ Injunction on 1 August 2025:

i. the GP and Dr Harrison knew that the Partnership had just received (or was about to receive) circ.US$62m;

ii. the GP and Dr Harrison intended to use those recently received (or imminently to be received) funds for the purposes of providing funding to the portfolio companies; and

iii. without prejudice to the generality of (ii) above, the GP and Dr Harrison intended to pay US$6m of those funds to Ascidian (being the full amount of the Disputed Capital Call in respect of that company).

d. By reason of the matters referred to in paragraph [52O(c)] above, the evidence referred to in paragraph [52O(b)] above was inaccurate and misleading to the knowledge of the GP and Dr Harrison.

e. In the premises, the GP demonstrated a serious lack of probity, giving rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence, by: (a) failing to correct the inaccurate and misleading evidence placed before the Court on 1 August 2025 and (b) continuing to rely on that evidence to seek a variation of the Writ Injunction on 1 August 2025.

Improper denials

52P. The GP has denied that the relationship between the GP and the Petitioners has deteriorated substantially and denied that there has been a breakdown of trust and confidence between it and the Petitioners, including:

a. At paragraph 47 of its Defence to the Petition.

b. At paragraph 75(e) of its Defence to the Petition.

c. At [18(c)(xi)] of a skeleton argument filed on behalf of the GP for the hearing of the return date of the Writ Injunction, which claimed that: "The Family Office commenced the present hostilities on 15 May 2025 by repudiating its funding commitments to the Partnership".

d. At the hearing of the return date of the Writ Injunction on 1 August 2025, when the GP's leading counsel submitted to the Court that: (i) in May 2025 the GP was "in good faith, still operating under the assumption that the relationship was working well" and (ii) that any breakdown in the relationship between the parties "stems from my learned friend's clients' actions in May this year when it decided unilaterally not to pay the capital calls or approve budgets".

52Q. Those denials and statements were untrue and improperly made. The GP has been exploring ways to commence litigation against the Petitioners and manufacture a situation where it can default the Petitioners for many months. Paragraph 43A above is repeated. In those circumstances:

a. The GP has been aware of a serious deterioration in the relationship between it and the Petitioners for months before May 2025. The GP did not and does not honestly believe otherwise.

b. In May 2025, the GP was not operating under the assumption that the relationship between it and the Petitioners was working well. The GP did not and does not honestly believe otherwise.

c. The GP knew that the breakdown in the relationship between the parties did not stem from the Petitioners' failure to pay the Disputed Capital Calls. The GP did not and does not honestly believe otherwise.

52R. The GP's improper denials of the existence and extent of deterioration of the relationship between it and the Petitioners, evidence the GP's serious lack of probity, demonstrate its improper management of the affairs of the Partnership and has given rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its ability to manage the Partnership.

Failure to maintain records in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner

52S. The GP has failed to act in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner in its management of the affairs of the Partnership by failing to maintain a list of partners and register of partners, giving rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its ability to manage the Partnership. In particular:

a. Under paragraph 16(b) of the LPA, the GP is required "at all times" to maintain a list containing the names, addresses and subscriptions of the limited partners of the Partnership (the "List of Partners").

b. Under section 29(1) of the ELP Act, the GP is required to maintain "a register of limited partners which shall contain the name and address of each partner of the exempted limited partnership, the date on which a person became a limited partner and the date on which a person ceased to be a limited partner" (the "Register of Partners"). Under section 29(6) of the ELP Act it is a criminal offence for a general partner to fail to comply with its obligation to maintain a Register of Partners.

c. In breach of paragraph 16(b), the GP has failed to maintain a List of Partners.

d. In breach of section 29(1) of the ELP Act, the GP has failed to maintain a Register of Partners.

52T. The GP has failed to act in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner in its management of the affairs of the Partnership by failing to maintain a consistent position as regards the extent of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions, giving rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence in its ability to manage the Partnership. In particular:

a. A reasonably competent general partner is required to maintain accurate internal records of the extent of each limited partner's Contingent Subscriptions and undrawn Contingent Subscriptions.

b. Following the agreement of Amendment 20 in June 2021, the GP has presented 10 different figures to explain the extent of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions in respect of the Partnership, ranging from US$2.5bn to US$2.946bn. It is to be inferred that the GP has failed to maintain any, or any accurate or satisfactory, records of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions in respect of the Partnership.

c. Since May 2025 the GP has presented 13 different explanations of the size of the Petitioners' undrawn Contingent Subscriptions ranging from US$494,119,277 to US$590,736,444. It is to be inferred that the GP has failed to maintain any, or any accurate or satisfactory, records of the Petitioners' undrawn Contingent Subscriptions in respect of the Partnership.

Recharging costs to the portfolio companies

53. Pursuant to Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 20) and Section 10 of Amendment 9 (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17), ATLS receives an annual fee (the "ATLS Fee") payable during the term of the Partnership which is funded by capital contributions of limited partners holding preferred units. The ATLS Fee is required to be applied towards certain expenses of the Partnership incurred in managing the Partnership, including compensation and benefits for employees, and facilities and related overhead expenses (Section 11 of Amendment 9). Pursuant to Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 20), the GP is required to prepare a yearly budget for the ATLS Fee which is presented to the "Subject Limited Partner" (i.e. the Petitioners) no later than 1 December on the previous year. The Petitioners then have sole authority to either approve or reject the ATLS Fee budget. In the event a budget for the ATLS Fee is not approved in a calendar year, the approved budget for such year will be the most recently approved budget (subject to some exceptions in relation to extraordinary, non-recurring expenses).

54. However, since 2021, the GP has improperly charged the employee costs of ATP investment professionals to the Partnership's portfolio companies, which costs ought to be covered by the ATLS Fee approved by the Petitioners. In particular:

    a. The Partnership's consolidated financial statements for the years ended 2023 and 2024 show that the Partnership's expenses exceeded the capital calls paid by the limited partners. To fund the gap between Partnership's expenses and capital calls paid (principally by the Petitioners), the GP received investment income, comprising: (i) interest income; and (ii) service revenue from affiliated entities.

    b. The Petitioners understand that the revenue in (ii) above comprises support service costs illegitimately charged to portfolio companies in breach of the LPA.[2]

[2] "Service revenue from affiliated entities" is described in the notes to the Partnership's consolidated financial statements as "ATLS, ATLS (UK), and ATPR provide administrative, technical and strategic consulting services to other entities within the Partnership group and the Partnership's portfolio companies. Revenue from services provided to the entities within the consolidated group are eliminated upon consolidation. Services

c. Dr Harrison confirmed by email dated 8 December 2023 that "ATP employees [are] filling critical roles at certain Portfolio Companies" and "those Portfolio Companies [are] reimbursing ATP for a portion of the employment costs incurred for those employees". Dr Harrison also provided the Petitioners with a report from Price Waterhouse and Cooper dated 17 March 2023 (the "PwC Report") which confirmed that ATLS had entered into a services arrangement with the portfolio companies for the purposes of charging the portfolio companies costs associated with the provision of management and scientific research and advisory services.[3]

d. Further, the proposed, unapproved ATLS Fee budgets prepared by the GP for 2021 through 2025 included a credit for "Investment Professionals – Portfolio Reimbursement".

e. In December 2023, the Petitioners raised with Dr Harrison that the proposed ATLS Fee budgets for 2024 purported to assign costs which ought properly to be covered by the ATLS Fee, in breach of the LPA. Dr Harrison responded, stating that he disagreed but provided no reasons. The budget for the 2024 ATLS Fee was not agreed.

f. The GP's charging of ATP employee costs to the Partnership's portfolio companies is a breach of Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17) and Section 10 of Amendment 9 (as amended by Amendments 10 and 17). Further or in the alternative, the GP's recharging of expenses to the Partnership's portfolio companies is a breach of Paragraph 8 of the LPA (as amended), as it deprives the Petitioners of income they would have received via the distribution mechanisms in the LPA.

55. The Petitioners are also concerned that the GP has been inappropriately incurring travel expenses for investment professionals which appear to be exorbitant. In particular, the ATLS Fee Budgets for 2024 and 2025 respectively budget for travel for investment professionals at US$690,000 for 2024 and US$625,000 for 2025.

provided may include internal costs, such as employee expenses and certain overhead expenses, and external costs incurred from third party providers."

[3] For the avoidance of doubt, the PwC Report was a transfer pricing study, which estimated an arm's length range of returns applicable to the provision of certain support services by ATLS to the Partnership's portfolio companies. The PwC Report did not concern whether the assignment of such costs to the Partnership's portfolio companies was permissible under terms of the LPA.

56. The GP's recharging of expenses to the Partnership's portfolio companies, and charging exorbitant travel expenses, demonstrates a serious lack of probity and mismanagement. The charging of expenses to the portfolio companies also gives rise to a serious conflict of interest (see further below), which has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

Failure to provide information

57. The GP has failed or refused to provide the Petitioners with information about the operation of the Partnership that would otherwise enable the Petitioners to assess the financial position of the clinical stage companies in order to determine whether new budgets ought to be approved, and to determine whether those managing the Partnership are acting in accordance with their duties. In particular:

    a. The GP refused to provide sufficient information or answer the Petitioners' questions about the budget and future plans of Aulos Bioscience Inc. and Ascidian Therapeutics Inc.

    b. The GP refused or failed to provide sufficient information or answer the Petitioners' questions about the budget and future plans of Replicate, which is developing self-replicating RNA immunotherapies. The GP is not entitled to call for capital in respect of Replicate because it has not complied with the various conditions that must be met before capital can be called under the current budget. Paragraph 26 of the LPA (introduced by Amendment 22) provides that any budget approved by the Petitioners for Replicate after the execution of Amendment 22 will be contingent upon certain realisations being achieved (through deemed distributions) by the Petitioners on a sale or financing of its interest in the entity formerly known as ATP Life Science Sub LLC , now known as BBN Life Science Sub LLC, (the "Royalty Refinancing"). Such realisations have not been realised (including through deemed distributions) by the Petitioners. Despite this, the GP now contends and seeks an order from the Delaware Court confirming that the Petitioners have waived or forfeited their right to approve budgets (see paragraphs 23, 163 and 191 of the Delaware Complaint), in a further and altogether more ambitious attempt to deny the Petitioners access to information about the financial position of the portfolio companies. Separately, the GP contends that Paragraph 26 of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 22) required the Petitioners to pursue Royalty Financing in short order (see paragraph 122 of the Delaware Complaint).

c. The GP refused or failed to provide supporting information or an explanation as to why the capital call notice issued on 7 February 2025 in respect of uncalled Partnership expenses for the second half of 2024 was reduced from the previous call (and it falls to be inferred that the reduction was because the GP's legal expenses had been improperly charged to the Partnership – see further paragraph 65 below).

d. The GP has also failed to provide any further information about legal expenses charged to the Partnership in 2024 (see further paragraph 65 below).

e. The GP has failed to respond to requests for information regarding the purportedly binding nature of obligations purportedly owed by limited partners in their personal capacity to third parties, and of obligations owed by the Partnership to the portfolio companies (see further paragraph 63 below). The GP has also failed to provide copies of documentation evidencing such obligations, including the investment management agreements entered into between the Partnership and the portfolio companies.

f. The GP has failed or refused to respond to requests for information about the basis on which it contends that the limited partners are required to continue to fund the portfolio companies, notwithstanding those companies' failure to hit milestones or adhere to business plans set out in the agreed budgets. Rather than provide this information, the GP instead seeks to rely on the Petitioners' requests as an anticipatory breach of the LPA in the Delaware Complaint (see paragraph 170 of the Delaware Complaint).

58. The Petitioners have at all material times been entitled to information which enables them to determine whether the GP is acting in accordance with its duties and obligations, including the books, records, accounts and assets of the Partnership (see Clause 16(b)-(c) of the LPA, and section 22 of the ELP Act). The Petitioners are also entitled to receive (and the GP is obliged to provide) financial reports at least every calendar quarter in respect of all entities within the Partnership structure, which must include individual project income, expenses and operating costs, and must show actual versus budgeted results for the relevant period and explain any major variances to the budget (see Schedule C to the LPA). The GP has not only denied the Petitioners their rights to this information but seeks to permanently deprive the Petitioners of their rights in the Delaware Proceedings. Even the limited information provided by the GP to the Petitioners confirms that the GP has committed serious breaches of duty which has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

Conflicts of interest and/or breach of fiduciary duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership

59. The GP has a conflict of interest and/or has breached its fiduciary duties to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership.

~~Improperly issuing capital calls~~

~~60. The GP's issuance of capital calls of over US$100 million on 30 May 2025 to be paid by 13 June 2025/17 June 2025 (i.e. the May 2025 Capital Calls - which are not referenced in the Delaware Proceedings) amounts to a further breach of the GP's duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership. The May 2025 Capital Calls were not issued for proper purposes or intra vires under the LPA, as it is evident from the timing of the capital calls, coinciding with the issue of the Delaware Complaint, that the capital calls are part of the GP's litigation strategy to apply improper pressure to the Petitioners through threats of default and/or its broader strategy to take control of the Partnership. The scale and nature of the May 2025 Capital Calls is also inconsistent with the funding scenario prepared by the GP on 30 April 2025 in which the GP proposed to cut the budgets for the Early-Stage Companies so as to commit only $1 million to one Early-Stage Company (Red Queen) as part of an orderly winding down of those companies. It can be inferred that the GP does not consider that the Early-Stage Companies are viable investments and/or worthy of deploying significant capital given the terms of that funding proposal. Notwithstanding, the GP has called $47.8 million in capital for Early-Stage Companies pursuant to the May 2025 Capital Calls.~~

~~61. As set out above, the Delaware Proceedings have been designed to attempt to persuade the Delaware Court to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding for the portfolio~~

~~companies and/or to engineer a default to enable the GP to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interest in the Partnership. In particular, the GP seeks in the Delaware Complaint, amongst other things, "a declaratory judgment that [the Petitioners are] currently in material breach of [their] contractual duties under the LPA and [have] waived [their] right to approve budgets" (paragraph 163) or alternatively, specific performance requiring the Petitioners to fund capital calls in excess of the level of their Contingent Subscription and compelling the Petitioners to consider further budgets (paragraph 164). The GP also seeks a declaratory judgment that the Petitioners are in breach of their funding and budget approval obligations, and an order that the GP is entitled to impose a default charge against the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership or the investment pools to which its purported default relates (paragraphs 188-190).~~

62. The Petitioners' continued funding of ~~portfolio companies~~ the Early Stage Companies is in the interests of those companies, the GP and its employees, and ATP (not in the interests of the Partnership~~'s~~). The portfolio companies are co-founded and managed by executives from the GP, including by Dr Harrison himself, (see paragraph 32 of the Delaware Complaint) who would remain employed thereby, and the GP would be able to continue charging the portfolio companies for expenses which ought to be covered by the ATLS Fee. ATP, of which Dr Harrison is founder and Managing Director, is also wholly dependent on the continued funding of the Partnership (and ATP's continued involvement therein) as ATP has no meaningful business interests or capital under management other than that belonging to the Partnership, which has been almost entirely contributed by the Petitioners. Further, Dr Harrison is a director of each of the portfolio companies and owes fiduciary duties to them. It is in the interests of the portfolio companies (many of which are said, by the GP, to be in a state of financial distress) to obtain as much funding from the Partnership as possible but it is not necessarily in the interests of the Partnership to continue to provide such funding. The GP has a demonstrable conflict of interest, as a result of which the Petitioners have lost trust and confidence in its ability to manage the Partnership.

62A. Further, the GP has: (a) denied that it is subject to any conflict of interest (including at [76] of its Defence to the Petition); (b) failed to take any steps to manage that conflict, including when considering whether and in what amount to call capital from the Petitioners in May 2025; and (b) refused to accept the Petitioners' proposal on 3 July 2025 for the appointment of an independent conflict director. Those denials and failures have given rise to a further justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership.

Exposure of the Partnership to binding and open-ended funding commitments to loss-making portfolio companies

63. The GP has also unjustifiably exposed the Partnership to open-ended funding commitments in respect of the portfolio companies. In particular, the Delaware Complaint says as follows:

a. The Complaint refers at paragraph 85 to a letter sent by Dr Harrison to the Petitioners on 29 November 2022 in which he stated that: "a default by [a limited partner] in respect of a particular pool would put the Fund as a whole in breach of its obligations to its counterparties and expose the Fund as a whole to damages"; and

b. The Complaint states at paragraph 143:

"The contention that the Family Office LP's consent is required before capital can be called where there have been changes in milestones or "business plans" also has no support in the language of the LPA or the parties' course of dealings. Nor could it, because ATP's funding commitments to the individual portfolio companies are defined by binding funding agreements. ATP's agreements with portfolio companies often include an initial share purchase investment, plus (i) an option for ATP to purchase additional shares on the same terms, and (ii) obligations for ATP to purchase additional shares at the request of the company board. Those additional share purchase obligations may or may not be tied to the company achieving certain milestones. For example, the Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement executed between ATP and portfolio company [REDACTED] on December 6, 2021 included (a) an initial [REDACTED] investment by ATP and (b) an obligation for ATP to purchase up to [REDACTED] in additional shares at the request of the [REDACTED] board. Only a portion of the obligation was tied to the completion of certain company milestones. That obligation requires ATP to invest as much as [REDACTED] in [REDACTED]. To date, ATP has invested [REDACTED] in [REDACTED], which is short of ATP's total potential obligation to the company under the agreement. Should the additional funding obligations become due, then the Family Office LP's refusal to meet a [REDACTED] capital call would cause ATP to breach its agreement with the portfolio company." (emphasis added)

64. As set out above, the continued funding of the portfolio companies is in the interests of the portfolio companies, the GP (and ATP), not the Partnership and the limited partners. The GP has also failed to provide information to the Petitioners about the Partnership's purportedly binding commitments to fund the portfolio companies, notwithstanding the Petitioners' requests that it do so (see paragraph 57 above). The GP's apparent decision to commit the Partnership to unconditional funding commitments unnecessarily exposes the Partnership to potential claims and is a fetter of the Petitioners' discretion to approve budgets, and the GP's

~~subsequent lack of probity has justifiably caused the Petitioner to lose trust and confidence in the GP.~~

Charging personal legal expenses to the Partnership

65. The ~~petitioners are also concerned that the~~ GP's personal legal expenses have been improperly charged to the Partnership and ATLS (as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Partnership), ~~which also comprises a~~ in breach of the Settlement Agreement and LPA. This falls to be inferred from the following matters:

    a. The expense report exhibited to the GP's December 2024 capital call notice dated 12 December 2024 included a line item for "Legal Expenses for Partnership". Mr Bogdanov queried these expenses in an email to Dr Harrison dated 23 December 2024, saying "[o]ne item, 'Legal Expenses for Partnership,' stands out as significantly higher compared to previous years (USD 1.9 million versus USD 0.56 million in H2 2023)".

    b. On 20 December 2024, Patrik Blochlinger, the Chief Legal Officer of Rigmora Holdings, emailed Daniel Finkelman (the General Counsel of Apple Tree Partners) to request details of the legal expenses, stating that he believed the GP's legal expenses of the Braeburn Proceedings had erroneously been charged to the Partnership.

    c. Mr Finkelman responded on 23 December 2024, stating that the invoices had been reviewed, and that the GP had discovered that one invoice in the amount of US$30,692.50 was inadvertently paid by the Partnership when it should have been allocated to the GP. Mr Finkelman noted that this had been corrected and a revised capital call for fund expenses was issued. Mr Finkelman noted, however, that the GP wished to discuss with the Petitioners the "allocation" of various expenses incurred by the GP in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings.

    d. Several further requests were made for and on behalf of the Petitioners for an explanation as to the Partnership's significantly higher legal expenses in 2024, together with supporting invoices and narratives from the relevant law firms.

e. Dr Harrison confirmed on 29 December 2024 that the GP would review the relevant expenses. However, the GP has refused to provide the Petitioners with underlying invoices and narratives on grounds of privilege. The GP agreed to reduce some legal expenses. Nevertheless, the Petitioners consider the legal expenses to be excessive. It falls to be inferred that the invoices and narratives concern legal expenses incurred by the GP in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings, which expenses cannot be charged to the Partnership. The GP's lack of probity and conflict of interest has resulted in the Petitioners' loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

f. The expense report exhibited to one of the GP's ~~May 2025~~ Disputed Capital Calls indicates that "Legal Expenses for Partnership" for January – May 2025 are US$7.86 million. These legal expenses are significantly higher than in prior periods and the Petitioners infer that the GP has sought to include legal costs in connection with the Delaware Proceedings and/or any other anticipated litigation costs in connection with the dispute between the GP and the Petitioners.

65A. Further, the GP caused legal invoices for Quinn Emanuel, Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz ("WLRK"), Walkers, Maples Group and Ms Sue Prevezer KC relating to the Braeburn Proceedings to be paid in breach of: (i) clause 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement, which required the GP to pay its legal costs in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings and the Settlement Agreement using its own money and not to use money belonging to the Partnership (including money held by subsidiaries of the Partnership); and/or (ii) Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA, which only permits ATLS to spend money in accordance with approved or deemed approved budgets for the ATLS Fee:

Quinn Emanuel

a. Legal invoices totalling c. $800,000 were issued by Quinn Emanuel between September 2024 and April 2025 in respect of a matter called "Delaware Factual Investigation and Potential Claims". The Partnership's general ledgers for 2024 and 2025 reveal these invoices were paid out of the Partnership's assets. The (unredacted) narratives for these invoices further reveal that time was spent on work in connection with the Braeburn Proceedings.

b. A further four invoices totalling c. $472,000 were issued by Quinn Emanuel between September to December 2024 in connection with a matter called "Cayman Litigation". The invoices contained the following description: "For professional services through [date] in connection with assisting Cayman counsel in the defense of an action brought by the Limited Partners of ATPLSV seeking a court order requiring the distribution of the assets of Braeburn" (i.e. the Braeburn Proceedings). The 2024 general ledger for ATLS reveal that all four invoices were paid for by ATLS.

c. Six invoices were issued by WLRK between December 2024 – May 2025. Five of these invoices (totalling $1.356m) were charged to the Partnership, whilst one invoice (totalling $400,000) was charged to ATLS. Fee narratives have not been disclosed for WLRK's work during the aforementioned period, but as WLRK was heavily involved in negotiating the Settlement Agreement in late 2024 it is inferred that this work was in connection with the Braeburn Proceedings and the Settlement Agreement.

Walkers

d. In November and December 2024, Walkers issued two invoices for work performed in respect of a matter called "Advice Regarding Potential Claims by ATP Against Rigmora". The November 2024 invoice (totalling $28,929.24) was paid by the Partnership, whilst the December 2024 invoice (totalling $34,612.68) was paid by ATLS.

e. Between November 2024 to January 2025, Walkers issued three invoices (totalling $750,121.25) in connection with a matter called "Claim by Rigmora Funds Against ATP". It falls to be inferred that this matter related to Walkers' representation of the GP in the Braeburn Proceedings. The (unredacted) narratives for these invoices reveal that time was spent on tasks related to the Braeburn Proceedings and the Settlement Agreement. All three invoices were paid by ATLS.

Maples

f. In September and October 2024, Maples (the GP's former Cayman attorneys in the Braeburn Proceedings) issued two invoices in connection with a matter titled "Dispute with Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Ltd and Dispute with Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Ltd". The invoices were paid by ATLS and totalled $426,169.96.

Sue Prevezer KC

g. In October 2024, Sue Prevezer KC issued one invoice (totalling £54,611) for work performed in September 2024. The fee narratives are redacted for privilege, but the invoice was issued in connection with work on "ATP III GP LTD" and was paid by ATLS.

h. In November 2024, Sue Prevezer KC issued three invoices (totaling £205,812.18) in connection with work on "FSD 236 OF 2024: UNICORN V ATP CAYMAN PROCEEDINGS" (i.e. the Braeburn Proceedings). These invoices were paid by ATLS.

D. Ground 2: Loss of substratum

66. Given the GP's stated intention to pursue an investment strategy which involves the continued funding of the portfolio companies against the wishes and to the detriment of the Petitioners and without complying with the express provisions of the LPA to obtain limited partners' approval for budgets for investments, and the GP's evident intention to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership and take control thereof, the substratum of the Partnership has been lost. The Partnership is no longer being run in accordance with the reasonable expectations of the limited partners or in accordance with the LPA.

E. Ground 3: Need for an independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs

67. For all of the reasons set out in Ground 1, there is evidently a need for a proper, independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs.

Conclusion

68. For the reasons set out above, it is respectfully submitted that it is just and equitable that the Partnership be wound up.

Nomination of Joint Official Liquidators

69. The Petitioners nominate Mr Alexander Lawson and Mr Barry Lynch of Alvarez & Marsal Cayman Islands Limited, Flagship Building, PO Box 2507, 2nd Floor, 142 Seafarers Way, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-1104, Cayman Islands for appointment as joint official liquidators of the Partnership.

YOUR PETITIONERS THEREFORE HUMBLY PRAY THAT:

1. The Partnership be wound up pursuant to Section 36(3) of the ELP Act and Section 92(e) of the Companies Act, and/or pursuant to section 35 of the Partnership Act (2025 Revision).

2. Mr Alexander Lawson and Mr Barry Lynch of Alvarez & Marsal Cayman Islands Limited, Flagship Building, PO Box 2507, 2nd Floor, 142 Seafarers Way, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-1104, Cayman Islands be appointed as Joint Official Liquidators of the Partnership (the "JOLs") with such powers as the Court deems necessary for the orderly winding up of the Partnership.

3. All rights or property of every description of the Partnership, including all choses in action, held or deemed to be held by the GP shall vest in the JOLs without the requirement for further formalities and shall be held by the JOLs in accordance with the law.

4. The JOLs' powers are exercisable to the exclusion of the GP and the GP shall forthwith have no authority or power to act in relation to the Partnership or its property or affairs other than at the direction of and/or with the written consent of the JOLs.

5. The JOLs shall have leave to apply under section 36(3)(g) of the ELP Act for further orders and directions.

6. The Petitioners' costs of and incidental to the Petition shall be paid forthwith out of the assets of the Partnership as an expense of the liquidation.

7. Such further or other relief as this Honourable Court deems fit.

ITEM NO. 81

JX-64

IN THE GRAND COURT OF THE CAYMAN ISLANDS

FINANCIAL SERVICES DIVISION

CAUSE NO: FSD 151 OF 2025 (JAJ)

IN THE MATTER OF THE EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION), THE COMPANIES ACT (2025 REVISION) AND THE PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION)

AND IN THE MATTER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.

AMENDED DEFENCE TO THE PETITIONERS' AMENDED WINDING UP PETITION

A. INTRODUCTION

1. This is the Amended Defence to the Amended Winding Up Petition dated 6 June 2025 (the "Petition") presented by the Petitioners, Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP) and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP) (together, the "Petitioners") against (i) ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Partnership") and (ii) ATP III GP, Ltd. in its capacity as the general partner of the Partnership (the "GP").

1A. Nothing in this Amended Defence constitutes, is intended to or should be understood as a waiver of privilege.

2. ~~For the avoidance of doubt~~ As confirmed by the judgment of Asif J following the CMC hearing on 31 October 2025 ([2025] CIGC (FSD) 106), ~~the correct Respondent to~~ the Petition is a proceeding against the Partnership~~,~~ acting by the GP pursuant to section 33(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Act. Consequently, in this Amended Defence the GP pleads to the Petition in its capacity as the general partner acting for and on behalf of the Partnership, and references to the "GP" should be read accordingly. Any admissions in this Defence are made by the GP in its capacity as the general partner acting for and on behalf of the Partnership. It is denied that the GP is a proper party to the Petition in its individual capacity, and any allegations in the Petition that may be made against the GP personally are denied.

3. At the outset, many allegations and the basis on which the Petition has been issued against the Partnership are fabricated, and are denied in their entirety. Whilst the Petition seeks to portray the Partnership as a failed business venture in which the Partnership has invested in numerous loss-making ventures such that the Petitioners' investments are inherently at risk and unlikely to yield any returns, this is simply incorrect.

4. Rather, the Partnership has been hugely successful and its existing investments have resulted in exceptional returns to the Partnership, and its limited partners as a whole, including the Petitioners:

(a) The limited partners have invested total capital of approximately US$2.3 billion with the Partnership.

(b) The total value of the Partnership (current net asset value plus prior distributions) was last valued by third-party providers on 31 December 2024 at US$6.2 billion.

(c) Distributions have been made to the limited partners in total amounts of circa US$2.3 billion, of which circa US$2.1 billion has been paid to the Family Office (as defined below).

5. Despite the Partnership's extraordinary successes, it is apparent that the Petitioners no longer wish to continue to fund the Partnership. However, the Petitioners are contractually bound to meet their funding obligations to the Partnership, pursuant to the terms of the Limited Partnership Agreement concerning the Partnership, as amended (the "LPA"), and the Petitioners are currently in breach of those funding obligations. In particular, the Petitioners have failed to meet capital calls issued on 30 May and 1 June 2025 in the overall sum of US$107 million (the "Capital Calls"), which were issued in respect of budgets that the Petitioners had previously approved. The Petitioners have asserted, incorrectly, that they are not required to meet the Capital Calls, and that they have fulfilled their overall capital commitment to the Partnership and are not required to contribute any further capital. The Partnership and its portfolio companies have already suffered as a result of the Petitioners' failure to pay the Capital Calls and their unwillingness to provide any further funding to the Partnership, and numerous employees have lost their jobs as a result. The issue of the Petition is an attempt by the Petitioners to avoid the consequences that they may otherwise suffer, pursuant to the terms of the LPA, as a result of breaching their funding obligations to the Partnership.

6. On 30 May 2025, the GP acting on behalf of the Partnership issued legal proceedings against the Petitioners before the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, United States, with claim number C.A. No. 2025-0607-KSJM (the "Delaware Proceedings"). In the Delaware Proceedings, the GP seeks orders compelling the Petitioners to fulfil their funding obligations to the Partnership pursuant to the LPA.

7. Following the issue of the Delaware Proceedings:

(a) On 2 June 2025, only one business day after the Delaware Proceedings were filed, the Petitioners issued legal proceedings against the GP (in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership) with this Honourable Court in terms of a Writ of Summons dated 2 June 2025, with Cause No.: FSD 146 of 2025 (JAJ) (the "Writ").

(b) Just four days later, on 6 June 2025, the Petitioners filed the Petition.

8. As the Plaintiffs have admitted in the Delaware Proceedings and elsewhere, the Delaware Proceedings, the Petition, and the Writ concern the same or substantially the same issues. In particular, the proceedings in each case relate to the Petitioners' liability to contribute further capital to the Partnership, and the GP's ability to issue capital calls on behalf of the Partnership and the Petitioners' liability to meet those capital calls. The relief sought by the Petitioners in the Writ substantially overlap with the Delaware Proceedings, and the Petitioners unsuccessfully sought to have the Delaware Proceedings stayed in favour of the Writ and the Petition.

9. It is averred that the Petitioners filed the Writ and the Petition as retaliatory measures in response to the Delaware Proceedings, and in an attempt to circumvent and undermine the Delaware Proceedings. In particular, by issuing the Petition the Petitioners seek: (1) to avoid their obligations to commit further capital to the Partnership pursuant to the terms of the LPA; and (2) to have the underlying factual disputes determined in the Cayman Islands, rather than in the Delaware Proceedings, in breach of their obligations under paragraph 18(g)(vi) of the LPA in which the parties agreed that the Courts of Delaware or the Cayman Islands would have jurisdiction to hear disputes arising out the LPA and waived any claim that proceedings brought in such jurisdictions are brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue is improper.

10. Prior to the issue of the Petition, the Petitioners had not asserted any breakdown of trust and confidence. The fact that the Petitioners have now raised this allegation in an apparent attempt to wind up the Partnership is simply a strategy to avoid their capital obligations under the LPA. As will become clear in the exchange of evidence in the Petition (and in the Delaware Proceedings and the Writ), the Petitioners have acted unilaterally, and in breach of their obligations under the LPA, in failing to pay the recent Capital Calls.

11. Furthermore, in attempting to abrogate their responsibility to fund (and to consider and approve budgets in relation to) a significant number of the Partnership's portfolio companies, the Petitioners are simply seeking to cherry pick the investments they may desire at some future time to fund, in breach of the Petitioners' obligations under the LPA and in a blatant attempt to seize and take control of the operations and the funding needs of the Partnership, which role falls to be carried out by the GP.

12. In the premises, and for the reasons which are set out in further detail in this Amended Defence below, any purported loss of trust and confidence in the GP and the Partnership on the part of the Petitioners is not justifiable. Accordingly, the Petition must be dismissed.

13. In this Amended Defence:

(a) Unless otherwise stated, references to paragraphs are to paragraphs in the Petition.

(b) Where appropriate, the abbreviations and headings used in the Petition are adopted, without admission as to their accuracy or relevance.

(c) Where the Respondent refers to a written agreement or correspondence, it does so by way of summary and will refer to that agreement or correspondence in due course, for its full terms, meaning and effect.

(d) Where the Respondent does not admit an allegation in the Petition, it is unable to admit or deny that allegation, and where relevant it requires the Petitioners to prove the same.

(e) Unless expressly admitted or not admitted below, the Respondent denies each and every allegation in the Petition.

14. Paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Petition are noted, save that, as stated above, it is averred that the ~~correct respondent to~~ the Petition is a proceeding against the Partnership acting by the GP.

15. As to the first sentence of Paragraph 3 of the Petition, it is denied that there has been serious or any mismanagement and/or lack of probity in the conduct of the affairs of the Partnership by the GP as alleged or at all. The second sentence of Paragraph 3 is admitted.

16. The first sentence of Paragraph 4 of the Petition is denied. As to the particulars pleaded in support of the alleged loss of trust and confidence (which is denied):

(a) The Capital Call notices were issued in accordance with the LPA and the GP's duties to act in the interests of the Partnership as a whole, and not in breach thereof. The capital called was within the Petitioners' capital commitments under the LPA. Further, the Capital Calls were each made in accordance with the budgets approved by the Petitioners. Accordingly, any alleged violation of the LPA or the GP's duties is denied.

(b) Save that it is averred that the GP brought the Delaware Proceedings as it was entitled to do under the LPA and as it was required to do, at all times acting in the best interests of the Partnership in response to the Petitioners' breach of their funding obligations under the LPA, subparagraph (b) is denied. The GP will refer to the Verified Complaint issued in the Delaware Proceedings at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

(b1) For the reasons set out below, including paragraphs 69A and 69B, Paragraph 4.b1 is denied.

(b2) For the reasons set out below, including in paragraphs 69C to 69H below, Paragraph 4.b2 is denied.

(b3) For the reasons in paragraphs 69I to 69K below, Paragraph 4.b3 is denied.

(b4) For the reasons in paragraphs 69L and 69M below, Paragraph 4.b4 is denied.

(c) It is denied that the GP has improperly charged its expenses to the portfolio companies and/or failed to provide necessary information to the Petitioners in a timely manner or at all. The GP has provided the Petitioners with all necessary information for the Petitioners: (i) to approve further budgets for the portfolio companies, which the Petitioners have refused to do in breach of the LPA; and/or (ii) to scrutinise expenses, which have been properly charged to the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, it is denied that any expenses have been improperly charged to the Partnership.

(d) It is denied that the GP has a or any conflict of interest and/or has been acting in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a whole, as alleged or at all. In particular, it is denied that the GP has been acting in the interests of the portfolio companies in place of the interests of the limited partners as a whole, and that the GP has been acting in its own interests or for the improper purpose of placing pressure on the Petitioners, ~~by exposing the Partnership to open ended~~

~~binding commitments to the portfolio companies and/or~~ in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against the wishes of the Petitioners and/or in breach of the LPA as alleged or at all.

17. In the circumstances, it is denied that the substratum of the Partnership has been lost as alleged and/or that there is a need for an independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs, as alleged in Paragraph 5 or at all.

B. THE PARTNERSHIP

18. Paragraph 6 of the Petition is admitted.

19. Save as pleaded below, Paragraphs 7 and 8 of the Petition are admitted:

(a) Dr Rybolovlev is a Russian citizen who acquired Cypriot citizenship by investment in approximately 2010. He currently resides in Monaco.

(b) Dr Rybolovlev and Dr Harrison first met in 2010 and first established, in 2011, an investment fund, ATP III, L.P., to make investments in the life science industry with US$100 million funding from the Family Office of Dr Rybolovlev (the "Family Office").

(c) In October 2012, Dr Rybolovlev agreed to provide a US$1.5 billion capital commitment from the Family Office and on 29 October 2012 the Partnership was formed as a Cayman Island exempted limited partnership, through the execution of a limited partnership agreement of that date. On 1 November 2012, the LPA was amended and restated. Since 2012, the LPA has been amended 22 times, by agreement.

(d) The Family Office indirectly owns the Petitioners, through whom, since June 2024, it has provided funding to the Partnership. From the Partnership's formation in 2012 until June 2024, the Family Office's interests were held through BVI entities named Blue Horizon Enterprise Limited ("Blue Horizon") and Ezbon International Limited ("Ezbon"). By assignment and assumption agreements dated 10 July 2024, Blue Horizon's partnership interest was transferred to the First Petitioner and Ezbon's partnership interest was transferred to the Second Petitioner, effective from 30 June 2024.

(e) It is denied, if it is alleged, that the Partnership is or should be regarded as an investment vehicle of the Family Office. In addition to the Family Office's investment, Dr Harrison has contributed US$54.7 million to the Partnership, initially funded by way of loan from Ezbon (now fully repaid) as pleaded to at paragraph 24(b) below. Furthermore, as stated in paragraph 23 below, there are 14 additional limited partners, who are current or former employees of entities connected to ATP.

20. Paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Petition are admitted.

21. Paragraph 11 of the Petition is denied. As at June 2025, the contingent subscriptions of the Petitioners totalled US$2,850,681,777 and the total capital contributions of the Petitioners were approximately US$2.3 billion. As at June 2025, the Partnership has made distributions to the Petitioners of approximately US$2.1 billion, made up of cash and marketable securities. The Petitioners' capital contributions to the Partnership represent approximately 97.9% of all the capital contributions made to the Partnership.

22. Paragraph 12 of the Petition is admitted.

23. As to Paragraph 13 of the Petition:

(a) ~~The first sentence is denied, if by the term "affiliated" it is intended to suggest that the GP has some control over the other limited partners of the Partnership.~~

(b) It is denied that there are only 12 limited partners who are former or present employees of ATLS. There are 14 limited partners of the Partnership, in addition to the Petitioners, Les Pommes and Dr Harrison. These 14 partners are current or former employees of entities connected to ATP. ~~The most current version of the list of partners was provided to the Family Office on 16 July 2025.~~

(c) Each and every one of the aforesaid 14 limited partners is a party to the LPA.

(d) ~~Whilst it is admitted that none of the aforesaid 14 limited partners has contributed capital to the Partnership, they have each contributed their time, work, and expertise to the success of the Partnership.~~

(e) ~~There is no legal justification for the Petitioners not to accept the aforesaid 14 limited partners as legitimate limited partners.~~ Each of the 14 limited partners has a legally binding interest in the value of the Partnership.

24. As to Paragraph 14 of the Petition and as pleaded aforesaid:

(a) It is denied that US$2.7 billion of capital has been invested into the Partnership ~~and that 99% of the capital contributed to the Partnership has been provided by the Petitioners~~. The total amount contributed by the Petitioners as at June 2025 was US$2.3 billion representing 97.9% of the total amount contributed to the Partnership.

(b) As regards the capital contributed by Les Pommes and Dr Harrison, the correct amount is US$54.7 million, not US$53.8 million as pleaded, and the loan from Ezbon (which was used to initially fund Dr Harrison's contribution) was fully repaid by Dr Harrison through cash payments, offsets to his management fee and the transfer of portions of his limited partnership interest in the Partnership. ~~has been repaid in full out of carried interest value owed to Dr Harrison.~~

(b1) The fact that the other limited partners have not contributed any capital to the Partnership is irrelevant. For the avoidance of doubt, the aforesaid individuals have each contributed their time, work, expertise and/or intellectual property to the success of the Partnership, in consideration of which they have been granted interests in the Partnership. In this way, the Partnership operates as a joint venture between those who have contributed capital and those who have contributed and are still contributing work and other things of value, both of which are necessary, in combination, to create the value that the Partnership was intended to create and has created: namely, new medicines, new technologies upon which new medicines can be created, new biotech companies based upon new inventions, and capital returns.

(c) Paragraph 4 above is repeated: the Partnership has been hugely successful and the Petitioners' US$2.3 billion in capital contributions has translated into a Partnership with an estimated value of US$6.2 billion, built on the skill and efforts of the GP.

25. Paragraph 15 of the Petition is admitted.

26. Paragraph 16 of the Petition is admitted.

27. Paragraph 17 of the Petition is admitted. Amendment No. 13 to the LPA dated 4 February 2019 introduced a concept of pools to the LPA. Each pool is composed of a group of assets and the income, capital contributions and liabilities associated with those assets. The pools within the current structure of the Partnership are as follows:

(a) Pool ATP-IV: This pool contains the residuals from older investments of the Partnership that have already been exited;

(b) Pool V: Following the successes in ATP IV, this pool was created to found and build new companies and, using a newly recruited team, to continue to develop certain of the already established companies in ATP IV. Pool V contains three sub-pools:

(i) Pools ATP V-1 and ATP V-2: These pools contain newer deals that Dr Harrison and his team founded and are working to develop towards clinical proof of concept or other value milestones at which point their value can be realised. Total capital of US$1 billion was allocated to this pool; and

(ii) Pool ATP V-3: This pool contains deals that were founded by a prior team and Dr Harrison, that were successfully taken forward by the current team. Total capital of US$500 million was allocated to this pool; and

(c) Pool Braeburn: This pool contains the assets of one company, Braeburn Inc ("Braeburn"), which holds the regulatory approval for and markets a drug indicated for the treatment of opioid addiction. The Family Office had committed capital of circa US$393 million to this pool (US$203 million of which has come via the transfer of securities, and US$190 million in additional funding through a Royalty Purchase Agreement ("RPA")), and has contributed circa US$412 million. Distributions of circa US$668 million have been made to the Family Office in relation to this pool, and there remains US$2.2 billion of value in Braeburn.

28. Paragraph 18 of the Petition is admitted.

29. As to Paragraph 19 of the Petition, the GP will refer to the LPA at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect. Save as aforesaid, the GP pleads as follows in relation to the sub-paragraphs of Paragraph 19:

(a) As to Paragraph 19(a), it is denied that the amount of each limited partner's Contingent Subscription is determined by the individual subscription agreement entered into between that limited partner and the Partnership (the "Subscription Agreements"):

(i) Paragraph 3(c) of the LPA provides that "*Each Limited Partner who is to make an additional subscription or receive additional Incentive Common Units or Tracking Units shall execute a Subscription Agreement (or the equivalent thereof)" (emphasis added).

(ii) Furthermore, in relation to the Petitioners, paragraph 1 of the Ezbon Subscription Agreement and the Blue Horizon Subscription Agreement, in each case dated 1 November 2012, contemplated that the total committed capital could be increased by the LPA and the amendments thereto, and states as follows:

"Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Subscription Agreement and in the Partnership Agreement, the undersigned subscribing investor (the "Investor") agrees (a) to purchase from the Partnership a limited partner interest (the "Interest") in the Partnership, to make a commitment to contribute capital to the Partnership in the amount set forth on the signature page below (the "Subscription") and to contribute capital to the Partnership with respect to such commitment, and make such other capital contributions and payments to the Partnership as provided for in the Partnership Agreement, in the manner and at the times provided in the Partnership Agreement, (b) to be admitted to the Partnership as a limited partner of the Partnership and (c) to become a party to and bound by the terms of the Partnership Agreement as a Limited Partner*." (emphasis added)

(iii) Furthermore, and for the avoidance of doubt, over the course of the life of the Partnership, the Petitioners have made additional commitments to the Partnership pursuant to amendments to the LPA. These additional commitments are legally binding and until this present dispute, have always been treated as such by the parties.

(b) As to Paragraphs 19(b) and (c) of the Petition, the GP will refer to paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA (as amended) at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

(c) Paragraph 19(d) is admitted and it is averred that the GP has complied with all of the terms of Schedule C of the LPA in providing the Family Office with regular updates (both in person and through the provision of documents) throughout the life of the Partnership, such that the Family Office has received all relevant information concerning the Partnership and the portfolio companies on a regular and frequent basis. In particular, the GP has provided all required financial reports to the Family Office on at least a quarterly basis, and the GP met with the representatives of the Family Office on a much more regular and frequent basis than the twice-yearly meetings contemplated in Schedule C.

(d) As to Paragraph 19(e) of the Petition, it is averred that the GP has prepared the annual budget relating to the ATLS Fee as required on an annual basis. Further, the quote from paragraph 20 of the LPA (as amended by Amendment No. 18 dated 5 November 2020 ("Amendment 18")) in Paragraph 19(e) of the Petition omits the following wording relating to the obligations of the Petitioners (defined as the Subject Limited Partner) to approve the budget, which provides in material part that, (i) if the Petitioners fail to approve the budget, the budget is deemed to have been approved within ten business days, and (ii) if the Petitioners object to a budget and the budget is not approved for a fiscal year then the approved budget for such fiscal year shall be deemed to be the most recently approved budget for a prior fiscal year. Paragraph 20 provides as follows:

"The General Partner shall prepare, for each fiscal year of the Partnership in advance of such fiscal year, a budget for the annual fee to be paid by the Partnership to ATLS (the "ATLS Fee"). Such budget shall be presented to the Subject Limited Partner for approval, and the Subject Limited Partner shall, within ten (10) business days of the budget being provided by the General Partner, either approve the budget or inform the General Partner that the Subject Limited Partner declines to provide such approval along with the reasons therefor. If the Subject Limited Partner fails to so respond within such ten (10) business day period, the budget shall be deemed to have been approved. If the Subject Limited Partner so informs the General Partner that it declines to approve the proposed budget, the Subject Limited Partner and the General Partner shall discuss in good faith any objections presented by the Subject Limited Partner to the initial proposed budget, and thereafter the General Partner shall have an opportunity to prepare a revised budget, which shall again be submitted for approval as set forth above. If a budget is not approved for a fiscal year, then the approved budget for such fiscal year shall be deemed to be the most recently approved budget for a prior fiscal year. In no event, however, shall the ATLS Fee be less than $8,500,000, except to the extent otherwise agreed by the General Partner. The Limited Partners shall make capital contributions to the Partnership to fund the ATLS Fee semi-annually in advance and the Management Fee annually in advance, in each case, as required by the General Partner, from time to time, in accordance with the Agreement. The amount of the ATLS Fee may also be modified from time to time by mutual agreement of the General Partner and the Subject Limited Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, the ATLS Fee shall be in addition to the Management Fee." (emphasis added)

In the present circumstances, the GP currently calls a semi-annual budget of c.US$8.~~95~~ million in respect of the ATLS Fee, reflecting approximately half of the 2021 annual budget (being the last budget approved by the Family Office).

(e) Paragraph 19(f) of the Petition does not fully quote section 11 of Amendment No. 9 dated 22 December 2017 ("Amendment 9"). Section 11 provides that, whilst certain expenses of the Partnership shall be paid from the ATLS Fee (as quoted in Paragraph 19(f) of the Petition), the Partnership shall be responsible for all other reasonable expenses of the Partnership which shall be funded by capital contributions in accordance with the LPA, including in respect of the payment of legal expenses for the Partnership, and all expenses relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceeding involving the Partnership. Section 11 materially states that:

"The Partnership shall be responsible for all other reasonable expenses of the Partnership, which Partnership expenses shall be funded by capital contributions made by the holders of Preferred Units in accordance with the Agreement, including without limitation: (i) the ATLS Fee and the Management Fee, (ii) Incubation Expenses (as defined below), (iii) 50% of the fully-burdened cost of the Partnership's facilities, including rent, utilities, lessor charges, property and general liability insurance, communications, including phone and internet, and IT support, (iv) all compensation and benefits for a fund analyst providing pharmaceutical or biopharmaceutical industry related services to the Partnership, (v) all compensation and benefits related to the Subject Limited Partner's representatives, (vi) fees and expenses of investment and other consultants, including subscription-based research consultants and databases, (vii) professional fees, including legal expenses for the Partnership (including the Partnership's in-house counsel), audit, tax compliance and tax structuring fees and expenses, (viii) all fees and expenses relating to Partnership boards, including the Advisory Boards and Executive Board, (ix) director and officer liability insurance and indemnification costs and expenses, (x) travel expenses relating to making and monitoring investments, including expenses relating to broken deals (except to the extent reimbursed by Operating Companies), (xi) all expenses related to meetings with the Subject Limited Partner, including travel, (xii) liquidation expenses, (xiv) sales or other taxes, fees and government charges which may be assessed against the Partnership, (xv) commissions or brokerage fees, finder's fees or similar charges incurred in connection with the purchase or sale of securities, (xvi) interest expenses for borrowed money (if any) and any other fees and expenses related to any Partnership credit facilities, (xvii) all expenses (including travel and travel-related expenses) relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceeding involving the Partnership, (xviii) investment banking, commercial banking, valuation, appraisal and custodial fees expenses, and (xix) expenses associated with the preparation and delivery of the Partnership's financial statements."

30. As to Paragraph 20 of the Petition, the GP will refer to the specific provisions of the LPA regarding the approval rights of the Petitioners for investments in Projects, including the provisions set out in the preceding paragraph. Specifically:

(a) The LPA, by Amendment No. 2 dated 15 August 2014, Schedule C, reserves to the Petitioners the right to review and approve budgets for each of the Partnership's investments in pharmaceutical, medical device and other medically related companies, projects and related activities.

(b) As a matter of Cayman Islands law, and in light of the aforesaid, there is an implied contractual obligation and/or duty on the part of the Petitioners that their power to approve or dis-approve budgets be exercised honestly and in good faith and not arbitrarily, capriciously or irrationally or for an improper purpose. The said obligation is implied by law and/or is required to give business efficacy to the LPA. Further, it is consistent with the Petitioners' contractual commitments under the LPA and in the various Amendments thereto, in particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, Amendments No. 17 dated 9 September 2020 ("Amendment 17"), Amendment 18, and Amendment No. 20 dated 21 June 2021 ("Amendment 20").

(c) Once a budget is approved, the GP has the right to make capital calls upon the limited partners to fulfil the approved budgeted amounts and the limited partners "shall contribute to the capital of the partnership, in such instalments as the General Partner may request, an amount equal to, but not in excess of, the total amount (if any) set forth opposite such Partner's name under the Column marked "Contingent Subscription" in the List of Partners" (paragraph 5(a)(i) of the LPA). A limited partner may not make less than the full amount of the required capital contribution.

31. As to Paragraph 21 of the Petition:

(a) It is denied that the Petitioners' total Contingent Subscriptions amount to US$2.425 billion, and it is denied that the Petitioners are only required to contribute capital up to US$2.425 billion.

(b) The Subscription Agreements expressly contemplated that the Petitioners' total committed capital could also be increased by the LPA and the Amendments thereto, as quoted in paragraph 30(a)(ii) above.

(c) The Petitioners (each and both of them) have legally binding contractual commitments under the LPA (and the Amendments thereto) to fund capital to the Partnership in the combined sum of US$2,850,681,777, being their share of the total Partnership capital commitments of US$2,902,216,122 as follows:

(i) Pools V-1 and V-2: US$1 billion, pursuant to Amendment 17 and Amendment 18;

(ii) Pool V-3: US$310,500,000, pursuant to Amendment 20;

(iii) Pool Braeburn: US$208,255,617, pursuant to Amendment 20; and

(iv) Pool IV: US$1,383,360,505, pursuant to Amendments 17, 18, 19 and 20.

32. Paragraph 22 of the Petition is admitted save that it is denied, for the reasons set out above, that the effect of the Subscription Agreements was to limit the Petitioners' total capital commitments to the amounts set out therein.

33. Paragraph 23 of the Petition is denied. The Petitioners have contributed only US$2.3 billion to the Partnership in response to capital calls. This amount does not exceed the Petitioners' Contingent Subscription amounts under the LPA (as amended), the full amount of which is US$2,850,681,777. The Petitioners are, accordingly, obliged to contribute further capital to the Partnership under paragraph 5(a) of the LPA, in the amounts that they have committed to contribute to the Partnership.

34. For the reasons pleaded above, Paragraph 24 of the Petition is denied.

35. As to Paragraph 25 of the Petition, it is denied that there are any or any objectively verifiable grounds upon which the Petitioners can properly rely to allege that they have justifiably lost all trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole.

36. As pleaded more fully below and as will be set out in the evidence in opposition to the Petition, each and every allegation of serious (or any) mismanagement and/or want of probity on the part of the GP in the conduct of the affairs of the Partnership (as alleged or at all), is denied.

37. As to the specific allegations at Paragraph 26 of the Petition:

(a) In relation to Paragraph 26(a):

(i) The GP was entitled to issue the Capital Calls on 30 May 2025 in the total sum of US$107,103,759 and did so in accordance with the LPA.

(ii) The Capital Calls were made for proper purposes, and issued in the best interests of the Partnership. It is denied that they were issued in breach of fiduciary duty as alleged or at all.

(iii) It is denied that the Capital Calls were made to put pressure on the Petitioners in the manner alleged in subparagraph (a) or at all. The Petitioners were obliged to make further capital contributions as at the date of the Capital Calls, and the Capital Calls were made in accordance with budgets that had previously been agreed by the Petitioners. Paragraphs 3 to 5 and 9 to 11 above are repeated.

(iv) The Capital Calls were made on 30 May 2025, bona fide and in the best interests of the Partnership, and not in the best interests of the GP and/or Dr Harrison and/or the portfolio companies, as alleged or at all.

(v) It is admitted that the Petitioners have issued proceedings by way of writ dated 2 June 2025 in the Grand Court of Cayman, in which the Petitioners seek, wrongly, to establish that they are not obliged to pay the ~~May 2025~~ Capital Calls. The allegations pleaded in the Statement of Claim in the Writ Summons have been denied in the Amended Defence filed therein.

(b) The GP was entitled to issue and did issue the Delaware Complaint, bona fide, in the best interests of the Partnership, in response to the Petitioners' breach of their funding obligations under the LPA. It is denied that any of the allegations in the Delaware Complaint are unfounded and/or untruthful and/or that the same are made in order to take control of the Partnership as alleged at Paragraph 26(b) of the Petition or at all.

(b1) Paragraph 26.c is denied. In particular:

~~(c)~~ (i) The GP ~~is~~ was entitled to seek to impose the default charge provisions under the LPA in circumstances where the Petitioners have failed to pay the Capital Calls as they were contractually obliged to do under the LPA. The GP will refer to the Delaware Complaint at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

~~(d)~~ (ii) The GP, not Dr Harrison personally, has commenced the Delaware Proceedings. It is denied that by those proceedings, Dr Harrison personally ~~seeks~~ sought to take billions of dollars of assets from the Petitioners and transfer those assets to himself personally. The global default mechanism at paragraph 5(c) of the LPA ~~has been~~ was relied upon by the GP in accordance with the LPA. It is averred that imposing a global default charge on a defaulting partner is just one of the remedies that is available to the GP if a limited partner becomes a defaulting partner, pursuant to paragraph 5(c) of the LPA. The GP will refer to this provision specifically at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect. It is denied that Dr Harrison's contribution of capital to the Partnership is minimal in and of itself. In the premises, Paragraph 26(c) is denied.

(iii) As pleaded at paragraph 60C(b)(iv) below, it is averred that the GP is no longer seeking to impose the global default charge on the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings.

(d1) Paragraph 26.d is denied. In particular:

~~(e)~~ (i) It is denied that the GP has sought to compel the Petitioners to make further contributions to the Partnership's portfolio companies beyond those which the Petitioners are obliged to make under the LPA and/or has sought to make accelerated capital calls and/or unbudgeted capital calls without complying with its obligations under the LPA as alleged at Paragraph 26(d) or at all.

~~(f)~~ (ii) Further, it is denied that by issuing the Delaware Proceedings the GP is acting or has acted in breach of its fiduciary duties to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership as a whole and/or is acting, clearly or otherwise, out of self-interest and/or has exercised its powers for an improper purpose, as alleged in Paragraph 26(d).

(f1) For the reasons in paragraphs 69A and 69B below, Paragraph 26.d1 is denied.

(f2) For the reasons in paragraphs 69C to 69H below, Paragraph 26.d2 is denied.

(f3) For the reasons in paragraphs 69I to 69K below, Paragraph 26.d3 is denied.

(f4) For the reasons in paragraphs 69L and 69M below, Paragraph 26.d4 is denied.

(g) The GP has properly charged its expenses to the Partnership in accordance with the LPA and has provided all material information to the Petitioners, upon request, in a timely manner. The information that has been provided to the Petitioners has been sufficient to enable the Petitioners to determine whether to approve further budgets for portfolio companies and/or to scrutinise expenses. It is denied that any expenses have been improperly charged to the Partnership and in the premises, Paragraphs 26(e) and (f) are denied. Moreover, as with the other fabricated allegations that the Petitioners claim underpin their supposed loss of trust and confidence, the Family Office's allegations in relation to expenses have been made for the first time, in a business relationship that has lasted from 2011 to the present, with the filing of a Petition designed to allow the Family Office to escape its contractual obligations.

(h) The deletion in paragraph 26.g is noted. It is denied that the GP has failed to act in the best interests of the limited partners as a whole ~~by exposing the Partnership to open-ended, binding commitments to the portfolio companies and/or~~ in seeking to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding to the portfolio companies against their wishes and/or in breach of the LPA as alleged at Paragraph 26.~~(f)~~ g or at all. It is denied that the GP's decision making, by Dr Harrison, is or has at any material time been infected by a conflict of interest. Furthermore, Dr Harrison is and has been a director of each portfolio company of the Partnership since each company's inception, in order to best protect the interests of the Partnership. The Petitioners have not previously made any complaint in relation to Dr Harrison serving as a director of the portfolio companies. It is denied that this means that the GP is "infected by a conflict of interest". This is a fabrication made for the Petition for the purposes of avoiding the contract the Petitioners signed, and under which the parties have operated since 2012. During this 14-year period, the GP, acting on behalf of the Partnership, has entered into innumerable contracts and investments (in respect of which the GP has managed numerous exits and value inflection points). All of these have been done with full transparency and alongside highly frequent meetings with the Family Office and Dr Rybolovlev (by way of illustration, for the period dating from January 2020 until May 2025, Dr Harrison and the Family Office have had approximately 170 meetings in person or by Zoom) and such allegations have never before been made. Dr Harrison has always acted in the best interests of the Partnership, representing the Partnership's interests in the portfolio companies. In the premises, Paragraph 26(g) is denied.

Background to the alleged loss of trust and confidence

38. The first sentence of Paragraph 27 of the Petition is admitted. As to the second sentence, the full extent and manner of the agreement as regards approval of budgets is set out in the LPA. The final sentence of Paragraph 27 is admitted.

39. It is denied that from 2021 or at any time that the GP has improperly charged the employee costs of ATP investment professionals to the Partnership portfolio companies as pleaded at Paragraphs 53-56 of the Petition, which are responded to below. In the premises, Paragraph 28 of the Petition is denied.

40. Save that it is averred that in September 2023, Ezbon and Blue Horizon requested a distribution of assets in the Pool Braeburn investment pool, in breach of the LPA, the first sentence of Paragraph 29 is denied. As to the second sentence, Pool Braeburn has only existed since Amendment 20 dated 21 June 2021. The assets comprising Pool Braeburn have sat within the Partnership since 2012. Prior to the creation of Pool Braeburn, the Braeburn assets sat within Pool ATP IV. Dr Harrison had repaid the capital loan referred to at paragraph 24(b) above in its entirety by the time Amendment 20 was entered into, with the result that Dr Harrison and Les Pommes did contribute capital to the assets which now form part of Pool Braeburn. It is further averred that Dr Harrison/Les Pommes and Ms Batarina hold 4.5% and 3% respectively of the profits participation in Pool Braeburn through their carry entitlements. The terms and conditions of Amendment 20 to the LPA will be referred to at the hearing of the Petition. Save that it is admitted that the Subject Limited Partner demanded the distribution of assets in Pool Braeburn, it is denied that it was entitled to make such demand in accordance with the terms of the LPA and specifically Amendment 20 thereof. Save as aforesaid, Paragraph 29 of the Petition is denied.

41. As regards Paragraph 30 of the Petition, it is denied that the GP acted improperly in the manner alleged or at all and/or that the GP made any threats with regard the financial position of the Partnership. The demand for distribution was made in circumstances in which a loan between Braeburn (as borrower) and Hercules Capital Inc (as lender) ("Hercules") (the "Hercules Loan") was essential for the survival and success of Braeburn, and would not be completed if the distribution proceeded. The GP also had serious and well-founded concerns that making the distribution would result in the Family Office failing to meet its contractual obligations to meet capital calls to fund the Partnership, and would therefore be against the best interests of the Partnership. Moreover, the GP had serious and well-founded concerns that the distribution would not be consistent with the internal policies of Braeburn (a further condition precedent to the distribution of the Braeburn assets). These conditions were agreed to by the Petitioners in Amendment 20 of the LPA, as part of the term permitting it to request the distribution; the distribution right was never unconditional, and the Petitioners' distribution requests did not satisfy the conditions under the LPA.

42. Save that it is averred that the GP, lawfully and properly, in accordance with the terms of the LPA, refused to distribute the assets of Braeburn upon this further request to do so by the Petitioners, Paragraph 31 of the Petition is admitted.

43. Paragraph 32 of the Petition is denied, save that it is admitted and averred that:

(a) The grounds relied upon by the GP in refusing to distribute the Braeburn assets were proper and lawful, and in accordance with the LPA.

(b) The GP's duties under the ELP Law (as defined in the LPA) and/or the internal policies of Braeburn prevented the transfer of ownership of Braeburn from the Partnership to the Petitioners at that the relevant time and in the circumstances. In particular:

(i) any transfer of Braeburn assets would have triggered a default under the Hercules Loan and would have had a negative impact on the Partnership;

(ii) the transfer was not possible as the shares in Braeburn were pledged to Hercules and physically held by the Partnership's attorneys as escrow agents, and were not capable of being distributed;

(iii) a tax withholding obligation on Braeburn of circa US$240 million would have been triggered, and in circumstances in which it held circa US$62.7 million in cash would mean it would be insolvent and at risk of Chapter 11 Bankruptcy;

(iv) there was a risk of triggering filing requirements with the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States ("CFIUS"), an interagency regulatory body that reviews foreign investments in US businesses. If such a CFIUS filing was required, it may have jeopardised Braeburn's business operations at a critical time, and also risked the Partnership's ability to attract investment in other portfolio companies; and

(v) in circumstances in which the Family Office has indicated it may not meet its obligations to approve new budgets or comply with future capital calls, it was not in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole to distribute its largest asset without assurances the Petitioners would comply with their contractual obligations.

(c) The Partnership was the sole shareholder of Braeburn at the time of the Braeburn Proceedings and Dr Harrison was chairman of the Board of directors of Braeburn.

44. It is denied as asserted in Paragraph 32 that Dr Harrison exercised a significant influence over the other directors and members of senior management in Braeburn. The Board of Directors of Braeburn comprises Dr Harrison (Chairman of the Board), Mike Derkacz (President & CEO), Dennis H. Langer, Patrick J. Kennedy, Jerry Karabelas, and Joseph Yanchik. Mr Langer and Mr Kennedy are independent directors with no other affiliations to the GP or Dr Harrison. Mr Kennedy is a retired politician and mental health advocate, having served as a Democratic member of the United States House of Representatives from 1995 to 2011 (including serving on various House committees). In 2017, he was appointed by the President of the United States to serve as a member of the Opioid and Drug Abuse Commission. He is a co-founder of One Mind, a mental health nonprofit organisation. Mr Karabelas is a highly experienced pharmaceutical executive who previously ran Novartis Pharmaceuticals and founded Care Capital LLC. Although he previously worked for ATP, he retired in 2022 and has received no remuneration from ATP since that time. It is the practice at Braeburn for Dr. Harrison and Mr. Yanchik (who works for ATP) to be recused from any votes in which their affiliations with ATP could present an actual or perceived conflict of interest.

45. It is denied, to the extent that it is averred, that Dr Harrison implemented arrangements such that the event of default provisions in the Hercules Loan were put in place for the purposes of avoiding distributing Braeburn to the Petitioners. The Hercules loan was not only approved by the Family Office, but was put in place because the Family Office wanted Braeburn to find alternative sources of funding for the launch of Braeburn's flagship product (Brixadi) outside of the Partnership. The Family Office was fully involved in the negotiation and finalising of the loan documents (noting that a deal with another lender had previously fallen through because of Braeburn's connection with Dr Rybolovlev and the perceived risks of investments with a connection to Russia).

46. As to Paragraph 33 of the Petition:

(a) The GP will refer to the Settlement Agreement at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

(b) The Settlement Agreement was entered into by the Parties without any admission as to liability on the part of either party and by way of compromise of the Braeburn Proceedings.

(c) Further to the Settlement Agreement, Amendment No. 22 to the LPA dated 20 December 2024 ("Amendment 22") was agreed, the parties having resolved their disagreement and with the intention of continuing the successful operation of the Partnership. The relationship of the parties at the date of the Braeburn Settlement had not broken down and the parties evinced a clear intention, by entering into Amendment 22, of continuing their relationship.

47. In the premises, it is denied, contrary to Paragraph 34 of the Petition, that the relationship between the GP and the Petitioners has since "continued to deteriorate substantially" and/or that there has now been a complete loss of any trust and confidence of the Petitioners in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership. The GP avers that the Family Office no longer wishes to abide by its funding commitments to the Partnership, and is attempting to pick and choose the specific portfolio companies that the Family Office wishes to fund, thereby assuming the GP's responsibility for managing the Partnership to itself, in breach of the terms of the LPA.

48. In this regard, the GP avers that paragraph 2(b) of the LPA – which has not been amended in any of the 22 amendments to the LPA – provides that "Control. The management, policies and control of the affairs, and the conduct of business, of the Partnership shall be vested exclusively in the General Partner."

49. Paragraph 35 is denied. As is set out in the following paragraphs in more detail, the GP's actions with regard to these ~~early-stage portfolios~~ Early-Stage Companies have at all material times been in accordance with the LPA and bona fide, in the best interests of the Partnership.

50. As to Paragraph 36:

(a) It is admitted that Dr Harrison is a director of each of the Early-Stage Companies. It is averred that the board of directors for each of the Early-Stage Companies includes individuals other than Dr Harrison.

(b) It is denied, if it is averred, that the GP has insisted on continuing to invest in the Early-Stage Companies otherwise than bona fide, in accordance with the LPA and in the best interests of the Partnership. The fact that the Petitioners might claim, for the convenience of the Petition, or otherwise to consider them to be hopeless investments (i) does not make them hopeless investments and/or (ii) does not make such investments a breach of the LPA and/or investments to which the Petitioners are not required to contribute under the LPA and/or (iii) does not place the GP in breach of its fiduciary duties and/or in breach of the LPA in continuing to pursue such investments. By refusing to meet the Capital Calls in relation to these investments, the Petitioners have breached their funding obligations under the LPA.

(c) In an email dated 15 May 2025 (the "15 May 2025 Email"), the Family Office announced that it no longer intended to be bound by its commitments under Paragraph 5(a) of the LPA and had no intention to commit required capital to the Partnership, even in response to capital calls on approved budgets, including for the Early-Stage Companies and Clinical-Stage Companies with uncalled budgeted amounts.

(d) Furthermore, each of the Capital Calls, including in respect of Deep Apple, Red Queen, Marlinspike, Aethon, Replicate and the other Early-Stage Companies was made in accordance with budgets already approved by the Petitioners. The Capital Calls called approximately 45% of the available budget that the GP was entitled to call on behalf of the Partnership, and were in respect of funds that the Partnership and the portfolio companies required in order to operate and were made in accordance with the LPA. The Petitioners are obliged to meet the Capital Calls. It is averred that Dr Harrison and Les Pommes were also obliged to make contributions in respect of the Pool V-3 companies pursuant to the Capital Calls, and have made those contributions to the Partnership by the due date for payment of the Capital Calls.

(e) The Petitioners were required to make contributions to meet the Capital Calls no later than 13 June 2025 (and by 16 June 2025 for Replicate). The Petitioners have failed to do so, placing them in default under the LPA.

(f) The GP is entitled to the relief claimed in the Delaware Complaint.

51. As regards the alleged milestones in the agreed budgets for these investments pleaded at Paragraph 36 of the Petition:

(a) It is denied that any capital calls are tied to the satisfaction of any milestones as alleged or at all, unless milestones are specifically incorporated into a budget approval. For the avoidance of doubt, milestones were incorporated into a budget approval only twice in the entire history of the Partnership.

(b) In accordance with the terms of the LPA as amended from time to time, the operation of the ~~Fund~~ Partnership depends on the timely contributions of limited partners in response to capital calls made in accordance with approved budgets, together with the approval of new budgets for portfolio companies that are making good progress but have exhausted the funds from their initial budgeted investments.

(c) The LPA, by Amendment 2, Schedule C, reserves to the Petitioners the right to review and approve budgets for each of the Partnership's investments in pharmaceutical, medical device and other medically related companies, projects and related activities.

(d) Paragraph 30 above is repeated as to the Petitioners' obligations in approving budgets for the Partnership's portfolio companies.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, the LPA does not require capital calls to be tied to the satisfaction of specific or any milestones. The calling of capital for approved budgets is entirely in the GP's discretion as general partner, save that where the GP, as general partner, requests an acceleration of capital, the LPA requires the GP to represent a good faith belief that the Project (or portion thereof to be covered by the budget) shall be completed within the aggregate amount budgeted therefore and to provide the Petitioners with a "r*easonably detailed and diligenced presentation supporting such representation*".

(f) Until May 2025, the aforesaid procedure for budgeting was repeatedly and successfully facilitated through extensive quarterly reporting procedures and discussions and multiple meetings between the parties, including, on many occasions, with subject matter experts and portfolio company management representatives.

(g) Further, until May 2025, the Petitioners never objected to meeting a capital call on the grounds that a portfolio company had missed an alleged milestone~~, and milestones were never incorporated into the budgets, as approved (with the exception of Replicate, as mentioned in paragraph 53(b) below)~~. Any imposition of a condition for payment that certain milestones should be met would be inconsistent with how biotech and pharmaceutical research and development takes place, throughout the industry. At the time of a capital call and over the course of dealings at the Partnership, a portfolio company might be ahead or behind or meeting any alleged milestones that were developed between the general partner and the company as an initial roadmap, or that were included in an investment memorandum accompanying an initial budget request. For this reason, the LPA does not include the satisfaction of milestones as a condition precedent to capital calls on contributions for companies with approved budgets, which as stated above, are and were at all times in the GP's discretion, as general partner.

52. As to Paragraph 37(a) of the Petition:

(a) The GP will refer to provisions of the LPA, to the Amendments thereto, and to the Subscription Agreements with regard to the proper calculation of the Petitioners' capital commitments thereunder.

(b) The Petitioners have contributed US$2.3 billion to the Partnership in response to capital calls. This amount does not exceed the Petitioners' Contingent Subscription amounts under the LPA (as amended), the full amount of which is US$2,850,681,777.

(c) In this regard, the GP will refer to Amendments 17, 18 and 20 to the LPA, pursuant to which the Petitioners contractually agreed to commit further capital to the Partnership. As stated above, the Petitioners are legally committed to contribute US$2,850,681,777, a sum significantly in excess of the US2.3 billion which the Petitioners admit they have contributed to date.

(d) In the premises, it is denied that the Petitioners are not obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies as alleged or at all.

53. As to Paragraph 37(b) of the Petition:

(a) As pleaded above, the budgets approved by the Petitioners do not provide for funding against certain specified milestones, as alleged or at all.

(b) In the premises, it is denied that the alleged milestones have to be met as alleged, before the Partnership may invest in the projects. The alleged milestones are not contractual agreements between the Partnership and the Family Office unless expressly incorporated by reference into a specific budget approval, which (with the exception of a recently approved budget for Replicate, for which the GP made a capital call of US$4 million on 1 June 2025 that the Petitioners have refused to pay) they were not.

(c) It is denied that the GP is seeking to call capital on an accelerated basis; the relevant budgets have been approved by the Petitioners and the Petitioners are not entitled to refuse to provide the capital required in accordance with the approved budgets and in accordance with their funding obligations under the LPA.

(d) The GP's position is that the budgets in respect of the Capital Calls, on which the Petitioners have defaulted, have previously been approved by the Petitioners and there is no entitlement on the part of the Petitioners to refuse to provide capital in relation thereto.

(e) In the premises, the Petitioners' purported summary of the GP's position is denied.

(f) For the avoidance of doubt, each of the Capital Calls, which the Petitioners have refused to honour, including in respect of the Early-Stage Companies was made in accordance with budgets approved by the Petitioners and the Petitioners are obliged to meet the Capital Calls.

54. As to Paragraph 38, save that it is admitted that Mr Yuri Bogdanov emailed the GP on 15 May 2025, the GP will rely upon the full contents of the 15 May 2025 Email at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

55. Save that it is admitted that the GP issued the May 2025 Capital Calls on 30 May 2025 and issued the Delaware Proceedings on the same date, Paragraph 39 of the Petition is denied:

(a) It is averred that the total capital contributions sought pursuant to the Capital Calls is US$107,103,759, and not "US$109,960,926.00 million (sic)" as pleaded in the Petition.

(b) It is averred that the GP had no alternative but to issue the Delaware Proceedings in light of the Petitioners' clear breach of their funding obligations under the LPA and their intention, made clear in the 15 May 2025 Email, not to provide any further funding to the Partnership, in breach of their obligations under the LPA.

56. Paragraph 40 of the Petition is not admitted. The GP will refer to the Delaware Complaint at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect, by which date the Delaware Complaint will have been determined by the Delaware Court.

57. As to Paragraph 41 of the Petition:

(a) It is denied that the Capital Calls are designed to compel the Petitioners to pay any sum in excess of what they are legally committed and obliged to pay under the LPA, and paragraph 31(c) above is repeated.

(b) It is denied that the GP has sought to engineer a default, as alleged or at ~~all, thereby allowing Dr Harrison and his family trust to take control of the Partnership~~. At all material times, the actions taken by the GP and/or Dr Harrison for and on behalf of the Partnership have been taken in good faith, acting bona fide in the interests of the Partnership, in the face of the Petitioners' wrongful refusal to contribute the capital they are each legally obliged to contribute under the LPA.

(c) It is ~~denied that Dr Harrison and Les Pommes have together contributed less than 1% of the capital in the Partnership.~~ averred that Dr Harrison has contributed US$54.7 million to the Partnership, representing approximately 2.1% of the total capital contributed to the Partnership. In any event, the amount that Dr Harrison and Les Pommes have contributed to the Partnership is irrelevant.

(d) The last sentence of Paragraph 41 is denied, if and to the extent it is suggested thereby that the GP has acted wrongfully and/or in breach of the LPA and/or otherwise than in good faith and in the best interests of the Partnership in seeking the relief it seeks on behalf of the Partnership in the Delaware Complaint.

58. In the premises, Paragraph 42 of the Petition is denied.

59. Paragraph 43 of the Petition is denied:

(a) The GP is and was entitled to act in the manner it has, in the proper exercise of its discretion and in accordance with the LPA, in response to the 15 May 2025 Email. The Petitioners were fully aware and needed no further explanation from the GP as to why they were required to provide further capital.

(b) The GP does not seek to confiscate assets, as alleged by the Petitioners. The GP is acting in accordance with terms and conditions of the LPA.

(b1) The GP will rely on the default provisions in paragraph 5(c) of the LPA for their full terms, meaning and effect. The Petitioners' pleaded interpretation of these provisions is denied. In particular, the true position is that:

~~(c)~~ (i) The default provisions of paragraph 5(c) of the LPA impose a global default penalty on a defaulting limited partner across all of the defaulting limited partners' interests in the Partnership. This provision has remained unaltered since the inception of the LPA in 2012, across 22 different amendments.

~~(d)~~ (ii) In the event that a limited partner fails to make a required capital call contribution in response to a valid capital call (which, for the avoidance of doubt, the Capital Calls were), after notice and a 30-day cure period, the limited partner is deemed a "Defaulting Partner". The LPA provides that the GP can then pursue one or more of the alternatives set out in paragraph 5(c) of the LPA, including but not limited to the imposition of a Default Charge equal to up to 50% of the defaulting limited partner's interest in the Partnership, with those interests then being distributed to non-defaulting holders of interests in the Partnership.

~~(e)~~ (iii) Once a Default Charge has been imposed, a Defaulting Partner shall not have the right to vote on or grant or withhold consent or approval with respect to any matter, except as otherwise required by law, and any Units it may hold shall not be deemed outstanding for the purposes of determining the parties required or permitted to take any vote or action. The GP will rely on paragraph 18(f) of the LPA in this regard.

60. As the Family Office has always been aware, the global Default Charge is and always has been an important protection for the Partnership, providing, inter alia, a guarantee of funding implicit in and afforded by the global Default Charge mechanism. It prevents the Petitioners, as they have sought to do by their actions now, cherry picking which portions of the Partnership portfolio they fund after providing budget approvals. The scope of the Default Charge is not limited to the Defaulting Partner's interest in a specific project for which capital is called. Its purpose is to prevent a limited partner from reaping the benefits of self-selected Partnership assets while simultaneously ignoring obligations to meet capital calls across the rest of the Partnership portfolio. It is averred that this is precisely what the Petitioners have sought to and continue to seek to do by their present actions.

60A. Paragraph 43A is denied in its entirety. The GP has at all times acted in accordance with the LPA and never exerted pressure on the Petitioners, illegitimate or otherwise, to contribute capital to the Partnership that the Petitioners were not obliged to contribute. The GP has never sought to create a situation where it could default the Petitioners, or otherwise adopted the alleged "Default Strategy". The inference in the final sentence of paragraph 43A is not supported by any of the matters pleaded in Paragraphs 43A.a-f. and is denied. Further, as to paragraphs 43A.a-f:

(a) As to Paragraph 43A.a, any such inference is denied, and the confidential communications between the GP and its US attorneys are in any event privileged.

(b) Paragraph 43A.b is denied. The Capital Calls were issued for proper purposes, intra vires, and were not inflated but reflected the funding needs of the Partnership.

(c) As to Paragraph 43A.c, the appropriateness of the relief sought by the GP in the Delaware Proceedings is a matter for the Delaware Proceedings. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, it is denied that there was anything improper about the relief sought by the GP in the Delaware Proceedings.

(d) As to Paragraph 43A.d, the well-foundedness of the GP's claim in the Delaware Proceedings is irrelevant. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, it is denied that the GP's position on the true meaning of the Default provisions in the LPA was or is wrong.

(e) As to Paragraph 43A.e, it is admitted that a reallocation plan was proposed by the GP to the Petitioners on or around 29 April 2025. However, it is denied that this paragraph presents an accurate account of the events surrounding that plan. It is averred that the GP made clear in correspondence with the Petitioners at the relevant time that the GP's proposal was part of a triage strategy in light of the Petitioners' starvation of the Partnership. It was a good faith attempt by the GP to accommodate the Petitioners' funding concerns and does not support any inference that the GP acted improperly.

(i) As to Subparagraph 43A.e.i, it is admitted that discussions took place on 9 May 2025 and 13 May 2025. However, it is denied, if alleged, that the GP's proposal was seriously considered by the Petitioners. It is averred that during the call on 13 May 2025, lawyers acting for the Petitioners repeatedly exerted pressure on Dr Harrison to concede the false position that the GP's proposal was evidence of its lack of faith in the Early-Stage Companies. The conduct of the Petitioners and its lawyers during that call caused the GP reasonably to consider that the Petitioners did not intend to engage with the GP's proposal in good faith.

(ii) As to Subparagraph 43A.e.ii, it is admitted that the GP withdrew the reallocation proposal during the call on 13 May 2025. It is denied that, at the time when it was withdrawn, the GP considered the proposal to be in the best interest of the Partnership. The third and fourth sentences of paragraph 60A(e) above are repeated.

(iii) Subparagraph 43A.e.iii is denied and the allegations therein are baseless.

(f) As to Paragraph 43A.f, it is denied, if alleged, that the GP undertook any actions in respect of an attempted sale of Partnership assets that were not in furtherance of its obligations under the LPA or that could reasonably give the Petitioners any cause for concern. It is averred that since the commencement of the Delaware Proceedings, the GP was approached by or approached 26 investors, including by sending a presentation relating to the opportunity to take over part of the Partnership's portfolio, with a view to remedying the damage caused to the Partnership by the Petitioners' breaches of their funding obligations under the LPA. It is denied, if alleged, that the GP was required to give notice to the Petitioners of any such measures. None of the proposed transactions would be effected unless there is a change of circumstances in the GP's disputes with the Petitioners and/or with appropriate Court sanction.

60B. Paragraph 43B is denied. The existence of any "default strategy" on the GP's part is specifically denied.

60C. As to Paragraph 43C, it is denied that any amendment made by the GP to the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings is relevant to the issues in these proceedings. The effect of the relief sought by the GP in the Delaware Proceedings is a matter of Delaware law and a matter for the Delaware Proceedings. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, it is admitted that before the trial of the Delaware Proceedings was due to commence, the GP amended the relief sought in those proceedings. Those amendments were reflected in the Proposed Pre-Trial Order dated 5 September 2025. In addition, it is averred that further amendments to the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings were subsequently made by the GP, as reflected in the Proposed Order and Final Judgment dated 28 October 2025. Further:

(a) Paragraph 43C.g is not understood, but in any event is denied. The GP never claimed to be entitled to relief based "solely" on the 15 May Email. The GP's complaint as filed in the Delaware Proceedings concerns the sum of the Petitioners' wrongful conduct and the numerous breaches of their obligations owed to the Partnership.

(b) As to Paragraphs 43C.h-i, and strictly without prejudice to the GP's position in the Delaware Proceedings:

(i) The GP did not "abandon" anything but rather amended the relief sought.

(ii) The GP's case in the Delaware Proceedings has been (and remains) that there is approximately US$331m in capital committed by the Petitioners towards unapproved budgets.

(iii) Specific performance of the Petitioners' obligation to approve budget proposals within this amount was sought when the Delaware Proceedings were issued, and still at the time of the Proposed Pre-Trial Order (as alternative relief to the finding that the Petitioners had waived their rights to consider and approve budgets).

(iv) The GP initially claimed, but was no longer claiming at the time of the Proposed Pre-Trial Order, and is not claiming now, an order permitting it to impose a Default Charge against all of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership or, alternatively, in the Pools implicated by their breaches.

(c) Paragraph 43C.j is admitted and it is averred that the GP continues to claim this relief.

(d) As to Paragraph 43C.k, and strictly without prejudice to the GP's position in the Delaware Proceedings:

(i) It is admitted that such declaration was sought at the time of the Proposed Pre-Trial Order.

(ii) However, a materially identical declaration had already been sought when the Delaware Proceedings were issued.

(iii) No such declaration is sought now. It is averred that the only relief claimed by the GP that relates to the Default provisions in paragraph 5(c) of the LPA is a declaration that "[t]he terms of the Global Default Provision have not been altered or amended since the execution of the First Amended LPA".

(e) As to Paragraph 43C.I and strictly without prejudice to the GP's position in the Delaware Proceedings:

(i) It is admitted that such relief was sought at the time of the Proposed Pre-Trial Order.

(ii) However, materially identical relief had already been sought when the Delaware Proceedings were issued.

(iii) It is averred that relief currently claimed by the GP does not refer to the Petitioners' obligations specifically to fund the Early-Stage Companies but it does refer to the Petitioners' obligations to pay the Capital Calls and to fund future capital calls in accordance with approved budgets, including in so far as capital is thereby provided to the Early-Stage Companies.

60D. The allegations in Paragraph 43D regarding the GP's conduct are all denied. It is unclear what is meant by the averment that the relief sought is "extreme" and "unjustified": accordingly, it is impossible to plead back to these averments, which are in any event denied. In any event, and without waiver of privilege, as pleaded more fully below, the subsequent amendments were made by the GP to ensure compliance with the terms of the Writ Injunction.

60E. Paragraph 43E is denied in its entirety.

(a) The relief (as amended) sought in the Delaware Proceedings by the GP includes declarations that:

(i) The Petitioners have breached the LPA by (i) refusing to consider budgets in good faith and waived their rights to approve budgets and (ii) failing to pay the Capital Calls;

(ii) The Petitioners have breached their Common Law duties to exercise discretion in approving budgets in a rational and good faith manner;

(iii) The GP's filing of the Delaware Complaint on behalf of the Partnership (i) does not constitute an act taken in bad faith; (ii) is not an instance of willful fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence; nor (iii) an intentional and material breach of the LPA; and (iv) is consistent with GP's rights and obligations as set forth in LPA paragraph 18(g)(iv); and

(iv) The Petitioners are required to pay the Capital Calls and to fund future capital calls in accordance with approved budgets.

(b) It is denied that the recognition of the any judgment or order of the Delaware Court in the Delaware proceedings would be contrary to public policy. The GP did not breach the Writ Injunction by making the amendments to the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings reflected in the Proposed Pre-Trial Order dated 5 September 2025 or the subsequent amendments, reflected in the Proposed Order and Final Judgment filed on date 28 October 2025, or pursuing that relief (including the relief set out above).

(c) Any judgment or order in the Delaware Proceedings, including any judgment and order making the declarations set out above in paragraph 60E(a), will be entitled to recognition in the Cayman Islands. Any such judgment or order will: (i) be given by a court of competent jurisdiction; (ii) be a final and conclusive judgment on the merits; (iii) be in proceedings between the same parties; and (iv) not be contrary to Cayman public policy.

60F. The sub-paragraphs of 43E are all denied:

(a) Paragraph 43E.a is denied. The Writ Injunction does not prohibit the GP from seeking any declaratory relief in the Delaware Proceedings but only restricts the GP from taking enforcement steps in the Cayman Islands that would be contrary to the terms of the Writ Injunction. In any event, it is denied that the declaration identified in this subparagraph is now sought by the GP.

(b) Paragraph 43E.b is denied. Pursuant to paragraph 5(c)(iv) of the LPA, the GP is entitled to pursue the remedies referred to therein, including collecting unpaid capital contributions, without GP treating or designating the Petitioners as "Defaulting Partners". In any event, the relevant "commencement of a lawsuit" by the GP took place before the Writ Injunction was made, therefore it could not be a breach of the Writ Injunction on any construction of paragraph 5(c)(iv) of the LPA.

(c) Paragraph 43E.c is denied. The GP has not taken a step to designate, deem or treat the Petitioners as a "Defaulting Partner" as alleged or at all. The GP has pursued a declaration that the Petitioners have waived their rights to approve budgets, and did so in reliance on the rules of equity recognised in Delaware law, not on the basis of paragraph 18(f) of the LPA.

60G. Further, should the Delaware Court make the declarations, or declarations in materially the same terms as those set out above at paragraph 60E, the Petitioners will thereby be estopped from disputing certain issues raised in this Petition. Alternatively, in so far as any of these issues were not raised in the Delaware Proceedings, this was the result of the Petitioners' failure to bring forward their whole case in the Delaware Proceedings, and it will be an abuse of process to continue to raise them in this Petition. These issues include the following:

(a) If the Delaware Court makes the declaration at paragraph 60E(a)(i) above, the Petitioners will be estopped from disputing, or it will be an abuse of process for them to dispute, the following issues:

(i) Whether the Petitioners were obliged to pay the Capital Calls (Paragraphs 4.a, 26.a, 37.b, 44A-44D, 47).

(ii) Whether the GP has sought to compel the Petitioners to provide funding to the Partnership in excess of the total amount of their Contingent Subscriptions (Paragraphs 4.a, 21-24, 37.a, 47, 49).

(iii) Whether the GP has failed to enable the Petitioners to consider budgets by failing to provide information required by them for this purpose (Paragraphs 26.f, 57-58).

(iv) Whether the GP, by misleading the Petitioners, has interfered with their consideration of budgets (Paragraphs 4.b1, 26.d1, 52A-52I).

(v) Whether the Petitioners have waived their right to approve budgets (Paragraphs 37.b, 52).

(b) If the Delaware Court makes the declaration at paragraphs 60E(a)(ii) above, the Petitioners will be estopped from disputing, or it will be an abuse of process for them to dispute, the following issues:

(i) Whether the GP has sought to compel the Petitioners to provide funding to the Partnership in excess of the total amount of their Contingent Subscriptions (Paragraphs 4.a, 21-24, 37.a, 47, 49).

(ii) Whether the GP has failed to enable the Petitioners to consider budgets by failing to provide information required by them for this purpose (Paragraphs 26.f, 57-58).

(iii) Whether the GP, by allegedly misleading the Petitioners, has obstructed their consideration of budgets (Paragraphs 4.b1, 26.d1, 52A-52I).

(c) If the Delaware Court makes the declaration at paragraph 60E(a)(iii) above, the Petitioners will be estopped from disputing, or it will be an abuse of process for them to dispute, the following issues:

(i) Whether there was any impropriety in the GP's issuing the Delaware Proceedings (Paragraphs 4.b, 26.b-d, 41-43D, 45, 48-49A).

(ii) Whether there was any impropriety in how the GP conducted itself in the Delaware Proceedings (Paragraph 49B).

(iii) Whether there was any impropriety in how the GP has funded the Delaware Proceedings (Paragraph 52N.f).

(d) If the Delaware Court makes the declaration at paragraph 60E(a)(iv) above, the Petitioners will be estopped from disputing, or it will be an abuse of process for them to dispute, the following issues:

(i) Whether the Petitioners were obliged to pay the Capital Calls (Paragraphs 4.a, 26.a, 37.b, 44A-44D, 47).

(ii) Whether the Petitioners have any remaining funding obligations according to their total Contingent Subscriptions (Paragraphs 4.a, 21-24, 37.a, 47, 49).

(iii) Whether there are any reasons, such as relating to conflict of interest, why the Petitioners should not be required to fund future capital calls (Paragraphs 4.d, 26.g, 59-62).

60H. The GP reserves the right to contend that other issues were raised and determined by the Delaware Court in the Delaware Proceedings by the Petitioners, or should have been raised, such that the Petitioners are estopped from disputing those issues, or that it would be an abuse for the Petitioners to dispute them.

Alleged mismanagement/prejudicial conduct/lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs

61. Paragraph 44 of the Petition is denied.

Issuing of the Capital Calls

61A. Paragraph 44A is admitted, and it is averred that the GP acted at all times in good faith in the best interests of the Partnership, and exercised its powers for a proper purpose.

61B. As to paragraph 44B, it is admitted that the GP is required to have regard to the interests of the Partnership in complying with the duties referred to in paragraph 44A. It is denied, if it is averred, that the relative amount of the Petitioners' contribution of capital to the Partnership requires the GP to have specific regard to the interests of the Petitioners, to the exclusion of the other limited partners, when discharging its duties.

61C. Paragraph 44C and each and all of Paragraphs 44C.a-d pleaded in support thereof are denied. It is denied that the Capital Calls were not made in good faith, were not made in the interests of the Partnership or were made for improper purposes, whether as alleged or at all. It is denied the GP did not genuinely believe that it was in the best interests of the Partnership to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies either in the amounts sought under the Capital Calls, or at all. It is averred that the GP issued the Capital Calls to meet the Portfolio Companies' funding needs, pursuant to budgets previously agreed with the Petitioners, at all times acting in good faith and for a proper purpose.

61D. Paragraphs 44D and its sub-paragraphs are denied:

(a) It is unclear what is meant by "enormous economic benefits" and so it is impossible for the GP to plead back to this averment. Nevertheless, it is denied that the GP was actually or potentially subject to a conflict of interest as alleged at Paragraph 44D.a or at all. It is specifically denied that the entitlements and matters set out at 44D.a.(a)-(c) give rise to any such actual or potential conflict. Further, those entitlements and matters were in any event permitted under the LPA and were fully disclosed to the Petitioners who never objected to and consented to them. Accordingly, if which is denied, there was any such actual or potential conflict, the same was fully disclosed and consented to by the Petitioners, and the GP has not breached any duty, as alleged or at all.

(b) As to Paragraph 44D.b, it is admitted that the Capital Calls were all made on the same day. It is denied, if alleged, that the GP was obliged to provide any additional explanation to the Petitioners prior to issuing them, in circumstances where the Petitioners were well aware of the basis on which they were obliged to contribute capital as per their obligations under the LPA and pursuant to budgets agreed with the Petitioners, and the same had been previously explained by the GP.

(c) As to paragraph 44D.c, the size of the Capital Calls is US$107 million. This amount reflected the genuine funding needs of the relevant Portfolio Companies. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, it is averred that statements made in April 2025 and in the 15 May Spreadsheet reflected the GP's austerity strategy, in an attempt to accommodate the Petitioners in good faith negotiation to provide the bare-minimum funding to the portfolio companies. As to the October Presentation, whilst the Capital Calls were based on the funding needs of the Portfolio Companies by reference to the amounts that the GP was permitted to call pursuant to the LPA, the October Presentation set out revised amounts in relation to these specific Portfolio Companies in light of the reduced company costs following the considerable number of redundancies and restrictions to ongoing business operations that were required to be implemented across the Portfolio Companies as a result of the Petitioners' failure to pay the Capital Calls.

(e) As to paragraph 44D.f, it is denied that the timing of the Capital Calls could support the conclusion that the GP breached its duties, as alleged or at all.

(f) As to paragraph 44D.g, despite Apertor's financial situation, which was caused by the Petitioners' breach of their funding obligations, the GP rightly considered that Apertor's shutdown at the time when the Capital Calls were issued was not in the best interest of the Partnership. The Capital Call in respect of Apertor reflected that position and corresponded to the Apertor's genuine commercial need.

(g) As to paragraph 44D.h, it is averred that the deal with Novo Nordisk did not provide enough funding to satisfy all Deep Apple's funding needs, was not concluded until June 2025, and the first funding pursuant to it was not received until late July 2025. There is no basis for the inference pleaded in Subparagraph 44D.h.iv.

(h) As to paragraph 44D.i, paragraph 60A(e) is repeated. The communications between Dr Harrison and Ms Batarina referred to were by WhatsApp, not email. Dr Harrison's assertion to Ms Batarina that the reallocation of capital away from the Early-Stage Companies "is the right business decision for the portfolio in ANY financing context" was made specifically in the context of the reallocation proposal, a triage strategy to save the portfolio companies in light of the starvation of funding from the Petitioners. Furthermore, at the time of the messages with Ms Batarina (April 2025), the GP did not contemplate that the Petitioners would cease discussions of budgets completely. The GP will rely upon the complete text of the WhatsApp communications with Ms Batarina to demonstrate that the GP was working on the basis there would be a flexible, ongoing dialogue between the Petitioners and the GP as to portfolio-wide capital calls, budgets and programmes. Accordingly, there is no basis for the inference pleaded in Subparagraph 44D.i.iii.

The Delaware Proceedings

61E. The GP will rely on the transcripts of the Delaware Proceedings, and the pleadings filed in those Proceedings, for their full terms and effect.

62. It is denied that the Delaware Proceedings were issued by the GP for any or the alleged improper reason pleaded at Paragraph 45 of the Petition. Further, as the Petitioners are well aware, no consensual solution was possible, in light of the Petitioners' stated intention not to provide any further capital. The purpose of the Delaware Proceedings is to compel the Petitioners to abide by their contractual obligations pursuant to the LPA and holding the Petitioners to the agreed bargain.

63. As to Paragraph 46, the GP will refer to the Delaware Complaint at the hearing of the Petition for its full terms and effect.

64. It is denied that the allegations particularised at Paragraph 46 are untruthful and/or wholly unfounded as alleged at Paragraph 47 of the Petition. As pleaded above:

(a) The Petitioners have not paid out the entirety of their legally committed capital under the LPA (as amended), as alleged or at all.

(b) The relevant budgets in relation to the Capital Calls had been approved and there were not and are not any milestones to be met therein.

(c) The Capital Calls are in accordance with the approved budgets and the Petitioners are obliged to pay the same.

(d) It is denied that the Early-Stage Companies are obliged to and/or have failed to meet any requisite milestones, as alleged or at all.

(e) The fact that the Petitioners have purportedly formed the view that the Early-Stage Companies are not viable investments is irrelevant in the circumstances. As pleaded above, paragraph 2(b) of the LPA vests exclusive control of the management, policies and control of the affairs, and the conduct of business, of the Partnership in the GP.

(f) Furthermore, the GP avers that the Petitioners do not, in fact, believe that the Early-Stage Companies are not viable investments, but have adopted this position in support of their own self-serving agenda and in abrogation of their contractual and extra-contractual duties.

(g) The GP has provided the Petitioners with all relevant information with regard to new budgets, but the Petitioners have refused, irrationally and in breach of the LPA, to agree the budgets.

65. Moreover, the GP avers that the Family Office is currently experiencing liquidity issues.

66. In the premises, Paragraph 48 of the Petition is denied.

67. Paragraph 49 of the Petition is denied, for the reasons pleaded above, which are repeated seriatim.

67A. The Petitioners' position at paragraph 49A is noted. Paragraph 60D above is repeated.

67B. As to Paragraph 49B, it is denied that the GP's conduct in the Delaware Proceedings is an issue relevant to the Petition. Further and in any event: (i) it is denied that the GP's conduct in Delaware has given rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence; (ii) it is denied that the making of submissions to a Court of competent jurisdiction in proceedings to which the Petitioners were party and afforded an opportunity to respond is capable of giving rise to a justifiable lack of trust and confidence; and (iii) it is denied the GPs made any misrepresentations to the Delaware Court. Without prejudice to the aforesaid:

(a) Paragraph 49B.d is admitted. The Petitioners subsequently abandoned the JPL Summons.

(b) Paragraph 49B.e is admitted and it is averred that this motion was the Emergency Motion for Status Quo Order.

(c) Paragraphs 49B.f-g raise issues which could have been raised by the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings. The issues were not raised by the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings, including either at the inter partes September Hearing, or in their Answering Brief to the GP's motion. Their attempt to raise these issues now is an abuse of process of this Court. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, the allegations in Paragraphs 49B.f-g are denied. The status quo motion was not pursued in breach of the LPA paragraph 18(g)(vi), nor was it vexatious or oppressive to the Petitioners, nor was it an interference with the Cayman Court's winding up jurisdiction, nor was it unconscionable.

(d) Further and in any event, it is denied that the GP misrepresented any matters to the Delaware Court at the September Hearing, as alleged or at all. In particular:

(i) The same allegation as pleaded at Subparagraph 49B.h.i was also made by the Petitioners at the September Hearing in the Delaware Proceedings. Chancellor McCormick interrupted the Petitioners' attorney and said "Skip that point because it's a bad one. I read the letter the same way [the GP] did … That sounds like ex parte relief to me. I understand why [the GP] took it that way. I'm glad to hear you're not doing that."

(ii) The Delaware Court considered that the JPL Summons risked an interference with its jurisdiction, contrary to the Petitioners' position at Subparagraph 49B.h.ii. Chancellor McCormick said: "[The GP] said that the goal [of the adjournment in Delaware] was … to give you an opportunity to push Cayman proceedings forward. So, yeah, I think they were on to something. That's exactly what is seems like happened. … So had I known this would have been the case, I probably wouldn't have adjourned the trial that was set to go forward yesterday and today."

(iii) As to Subparagraphs 49B.h.iii-vi, it is denied that the GP misrepresented anything to the Delaware Court in connection with its motion, either as alleged or at all.

(e) Paragraph 49B.i is admitted.

(f) Paragraph 49B.j is admitted, save that it is denied (to the extent alleged) that there was anything improper in the GP suggesting that the Delaware Court hand down judgment before the JPL Summons was due to be heard on 3 November 2025.

(g) Paragraph 49B.k is denied. The Petitioners chose to have their JPL Summons dismissed because it was bound to fail. It is in any event denied that their reasons for doing so are relevant to the Petition. If and insofar as the Petitioners allege that Chancellor McCormick's management of the Delaware Proceedings and their timescale caused the Petitioners not to obtain a fair trial, that is denied.

Alleged wilful and persistent breaches of the LPA

68. The GP will refer to the Delaware Complaint at the hearing of this Petition for its full terms and effect. ~~The facts and matters pleaded in~~ Paragraph~~s 50 to~~ 52 ~~inclusive~~ of the Petition ~~are~~ is embarrassing for want of particulars and is too vague for the GP to plead back to, but is in any event denied. The GP is not seeking any relief in the Delaware Proceedings to which it is not entitled as a matter of law or equity.

~~69. As to the allegation that the GP is attempting to derive the Petitioners of "oversight", paragraph 18(f) of the LPA provides that "a Defaulting Partner shall not have the right to vote on or grant or withhold consent or approval with respect to any matter, except as may otherwise be required by law." The provision is automatic where a partner becomes a Defaulting Partner and is not dependent on~~

~~the GP exercising any discretion. The Delaware Complaint seeks a judicial determination that paragraph 18(f) is engaged. It is denied that the GP seeking to enforce an express term of the LPA demonstrates a lack of probity and/or mismanagement.~~

Alleged misleading of the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership

69A. The allegation at Paragraph 52A is embarrassing for want of particulars, but in any event is denied. It is denied that the GP misled the Petitioners, or made false representations, or alternatively that it did so knowingly, as alleged or at all.

69B. As to Paragraphs 52B to 52I:

(a) It is admitted that capital calls in respect of Marlinspike were made and paid as pleaded.

(b) It is admitted that a loan of US$1 million was made by Marlinspike to Nereid.

(c) The loan was made by Marlinspike, not by the GP. It was made within the proper authority and power of Marlinspike.

(d) It is denied that the GP breached its obligations under the LPA or made any misrepresentations to the Petitioners:

(i) At the time when the loan was made, the GP and the Petitioners anticipated that a merger would take place between Marlinspike and Nereid, and which would be in the Partnership's best interest.

(ii) The Petitioners had agreed to that merger, including in January 2025, and by the time when the loan to Nereid was made.

(iii) The loan was made to promote the objectives of that merger and without prejudice to the interests of Marlinspike or the Partnership generally.

(iv) In the circumstances, it is denied that the GP represented by virtue of the Capital Calls, that the capital sought would not be used by Marlinspike to make loans or that Marlinspike would not loan the capital sought to Nereid.

(e) Save as admitted above, the allegations in Paragraphs 52B to 52I are denied.

Alleged misappropriations / dissipations of assets

69C. Paragraph 52J is admitted.

69D. Paragraph 52K is admitted, save that management fees paid to ATLS are not "alleged" but were properly due and payable.

69E. The first and second sentences of paragraph 52L are contradictory. The first is denied. As to the second:

(a) The Petitioners became aware that US$20,035,952.54 was received on 31 July 2025 (in respect of an earnout payment in respect of an exit from Tendyne, an older investment of the Partnership) because the GP disclosed this fact, voluntarily, in correspondence in the weeks after it received it. Further, as regards the Braeburn Prepayment, the Petitioners knew (or ought reasonably to have known) that it would occur since at the latest July 2025, when they were copied to correspondence regarding it.

(b) The GP was not under any obligation to disclose the Q3 2025 Payments to the Petitioners earlier than it did.

69F. The first sentence of Paragraph 52M is admitted. The second sentence is denied. It is denied that by obtaining the Braeburn Prepayment the GP demonstrated any lack of probity, or that the Braeburn Prepayment gives rise to any justifiable loss of trust or confidence in the GP's management of the Partnership. The GP chose to forgo a portion of the capital and interest on the Braeburn Notes where the alternative was the collapse of portfolio companies due to the Petitioners' breach of their funding obligations. Without prejudice to the aforesaid:

(a) Paragraph 52M.a is denied. The Braeburn Prepayment represented an early repayment of sums owed to the Partnership under certain convertible loan notes issued by Braeburn between October 2020 and February 2021 (as amended on a number of occasions, most recently on 29 September 2023).

(b) Paragraph 52M.b is denied. The Braeburn Notes were originally forecast to be repaid in Q4 of 2025 (of which the Petitioners were well aware and as has been discussed on numerous occasions between the GP and the Petitioners). Following various issues related to government funding, which affected Braeburn's profit forecast for 2025, the forecast for the date of repayment of the Braeburn Notes was adjusted to Q4 of 2026.

(c) Paragraph 52M.c is admitted.

(d) It is averred that the GP offered the discount to Braeburn as pleaded at Paragraph 52M.c on 24 July 2025. Braeburn calculated that it would save US$4.7 million in interest payments as a result of the 10% discount.

(e) For the reasons above, Paragraphs 52M.d-e are denied.

69G. Paragraph 52N is denied. The Q3 2025 Payments were made by the GP properly in accordance with paragraph 8(c) of the LPA. As to its sub-paragraphs:

(a) On the true construction of the LPA, including paragraph 21 thereof, the GP was permitted to use the proceeds of the Braeburn Notes to make payments in accordance with paragraph 8(c) of the LPA. Otherwise, paragraph 52N.a is denied.

(b) It is admitted that the quotation at paragraph 52N.b is accurate.

(c) As to paragraph 52N.c, it is averred that the GP was also permitted to apply the Q3 2025 Receipts towards the Partnership's legal fees and the ATLS management fee, such expenditure being expressly authorised by paragraph 8(c) of the LPA and paragraph 11 of Amendment 9.

(d) Paragraph 52N.d is denied. In particular:

(i) As to Subparagraph 52N.d.i, it is denied that the approved budget in respect of Aethon incorporates funding milestones or any other conditions restricting the GP's power, in the Partnership's best interest, to make payments to Aethon within that budget. The only role of such milestones referred to in budgets is to assist the GP to decide whether it is in the Partnership's best interest to continue to fund the relevant portfolio company. It is further denied that the GP's refusal to allow Aethon and, by consequence, the Partnership, to suffer irreparable harm by withholding funding from Aethon demonstrates any lack of probity.

(ii) It is admitted that the transfers to Nine Square and Nereid identified at Subparagraph 52N.d.ii were made. These transfers related to asset preservation, including to meet severance costs and legally binding obligations such as payroll and taxes, and, on the true construction of the LPA, fell outside of the budget approval process.

(iii) Save that the transfer to Replicate identified at Subparagraph 52N.d.iii is admitted, and that it is admitted that the quotation from paragraph 26 of the LPA is accurate, this paragraph is denied. It is averred that a budget of US$72.25 million was agreed for Replicate. The budget was contained in a contract dated 11 February 2025, signed by the Petitioners. The only condition referred to in this contract was that US$ 9 million could only be called "commencing upon the closing of the LATAM deal for rabies." The payment to Replicate was made properly and in accordance with its approved budget.

(iv) As to Subparagraph 52N.d.iv, subparagraph 69G(d)(i) above is repeated mutatis mutandis.

(e) Save that it is admitted that the payment to Ascidian was made as pleaded, Paragraph 52N.e is denied. It is denied that the matters pleaded therein show any lack of probity on the GP's part. It is noted that the Petitioners have never sought to particularise any alleged obligation of the GP to withdraw validly issued capital calls following a change of circumstances, and their allegation as to lack of probity is baseless. Without prejudice to the aforesaid, it is admitted that the payment was made to Ascidian as pleaded in this paragraph.

(f) Save that it is admitted that the transfer to Quinn Emanuel's client account was made as pleaded, Subparagraph 52N.f is denied. It is averred that legal costs incurred by the GP in connection with the Delaware Proceedings and the Cayman Proceedings are properly incurred on behalf of the Partnership. There is no reason why the GP should not pay funds into the Quinn Emanuel client account and the Petitioners have failed to identify any such reason.

69H. Paragraph 52O is denied. It is denied that there was any impropriety or lack of probity as alleged or at all. The Petitioners have failed to explain why they allege the GP was required to seek such validation orders but in any event it is denied the GP was or is so required. As to its sub-paragraphs:

(a) Paragraph 52O.a is admitted.

(b) Paragraph 52O.b.i-ii are admitted as partial quotations of Harrison 3. The GP will rely on Harrison 3 for its full terms and effect. Harrison 3 was sworn before any of the Q3 2025 Receipts were received by the GP.

(c) Save that it is denied that, by 1 August 2025, the GP or Dr Harrison had resolved to allocate US$6 million to Ascidian, Paragraph 52O.c is admitted. The GP intended to use any funds available to the Partnership in accordance with its obligation to deploy such funds as permitted by the LPA and in the best interest of the Partnership.

(d) Paragraph 52O.d is denied. The GP's evidence for the hearing on 1 August 2025 was in all respects true and not misleading. In particular, the truth of Harrison 3 was not affected by the Q3 2025 Receipts.

(e) For the reasons identified above, Paragraph 52O.e is denied.

Alleged improper denials

69I. Paragraph 52P is admitted.

69J. Paragraph 52Q is denied in its entirety and paragraph 60A above is repeated.

69K. For the reasons above, Paragraph 52R is denied.

Alleged failure to maintain records in the manner of a reasonably competent general manager

69L. As to Paragraph 52S, it is denied that any matters pleaded therein, even if true, are of sufficient gravity as to give rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence by the Petitioners in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership.

(a) Paragraph 52S.a is admitted.

(b) The first sentence of Paragraph 52S.b is admitted. As to the second sentence of Paragraph 52S.b, it is averred that section 29(6) of the ELP Act creates an "offence" punishable by a fine. The GP's position is that a general partner could not be properly convicted of this offence or subjected to any punishment under this provision for failures to comply with section 29(1) of the ELP Act which are de minimis and which do not cause any prejudice to the partnership or any of its limited partners.

(c) Paragraph 52S.c is denied. The GP regularly provided updated Lists of Partners to the Petitioners on an ongoing basis throughout the life of the Partnership. It is admitted that these Lists of Partners did not comply with some of the requirements under paragraph 16(b) of the LPA. It is averred that the Petitioners never, until the current proceedings, raised complaints about the adequacy of the Lists of Partners provided by the GP over the previous 13 years. To the extent that the Petitioners had the right to receive Lists of Partners that complied with all the requirements under paragraph 16(b) of the LPA, such right was thereby waived.

(d) As to Paragraph 52S.d, it is admitted that the GP did not maintain a Register of Partners in the sense of section 29(1) of the ELP Act until 25 July 2025. It is averred that the Petitioners never requested to see the Register of Partners until these proceedings. Having regularly provided the Petitioners with Lists of Partners which they accepted as sufficient, any failure to comply with section 29(1) of the ELP Act was de minimis and did not cause any prejudice to the Petitioners or to the Partnership and was thereby waived by the Petitioners. The GP rectified this position upon becoming aware of it by producing a compliant Register of Partners on 25 July 2025.

69M. As to Paragraph 52T, it is denied that any matters pleaded therein, even if true, are of sufficient gravity as to give rise to a justifiable loss of trust and confidence by the Petitioners in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership. Further, it is denied that the GP failed to maintain a consistent position as regards the extent of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions. As to paragraph 52T.a-c:

(a) It is admitted that a reasonably competent general partner is required to maintain such records as it requires to discharge its obligations to the partnership. It is averred that the GP has at all times done so. Otherwise, paragraph 52T.a is denied.

(b) Paragraphs 52T.b-c fail to particularise the allegedly inconsistent figures and explanations, such that it is impossible for the GP to plead back to them. In any event, the inferences advanced in these paragraphs are denied. Following execution of Amendment 20 to the LPA on 21 June 2021 (which had the effect of increasing the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions across various pools), the GP consistently provided to the Petitioners detailed amounts of their Contingent Subscriptions and remaining Contingent Subscriptions on the occasion of every capital call made since. The Petitioners never objected to the figures stated in the capital calls at the time the capital calls were sent.

Alleged recharging of costs to the portfolio companies

70. Save that the GP will refer to the relevant provisions of the LPA with regard to expenses for their full terms and effect, and in particular paragraph 11 of Amendment 9, Paragraph 53 of the Petition is admitted. Paragraph 29 above is repeated.

71. Paragraph 54 of the Petition is denied. In particular:

(a) Employees of entities connected to ATP have fulfilled various roles at the Partnership's portfolio companies. This approach is more efficient and cost effective to the Partnership, and to the portfolio companies, than if the portfolio companies had independently hired different people to fulfil each of the roles, as it has allowed ATP employees to carry out roles across multiple portfolio companies, and for the costs to be apportioned accordingly. Furthermore, the ATP employees are high level research and development executives, who would otherwise not be available to start-up companies. The process by which this occurred was formalised in 2023 and as mentioned in Paragraph 54(c) of the Petition, the GP commissioned a transfer pricing study by Pricewaterhouse Coopers (which was sent to the Family Office), which calculated the costs of the ATP employees fulfilling these roles, to ensure that arm's length terms applied accordingly. This form of "charge-back" for employee services is very common in the industry. The basis on which this allocation of employee costs could be said to "deprive" the Petitioners of income via the distribution mechanisms in the LPA is not understood.

(b) The costs of the employees have historically been included in the budgets, which have been provided in all cases to the Family Office. The GP has, accordingly, been fully transparent as to the roles that the ATP employees have been carrying out and the terms on which the roles have been conducted, and the Family Office has been fully aware of the terms. The availability of the ATP employees to the portfolio companies was essential to their business model and was discussed with, and agreed by, the Family Office on multiple occasions.

(c) The GP avers that all relevant service agreements and transaction records in relation to the reimbursement of employee costs ~~have now been~~ were disclosed to the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings.

72. It is denied, as pleaded in Paragraph 55 of the Petition, that the travel expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership and the portfolio companies are exorbitant or demonstrate a serious lack of probity and mismanagement, or give rise to a conflict of interest. Any apparent concern is unwarranted as the GP has not been inappropriately incurring travel expenses for investment professionals, as suggested or at all. It is averred that:

(a) The GP has a detailed and comprehensive Travel and Expenses Reimbursement Policy (the "Expenses Policy"), which sets out the policy by which employees can reimburse business expenses and pursuant to which the travel expenses have been incurred and paid. The stated purpose of the Expenses Policy is to promote good business practices, and it sets out the method and process for reimbursement for all ordinary, necessary and reasonable expenses incurred by employees while conducting business on behalf of ATLS. The Expenses Policy sets out reasonable limitations as to the expenses that employees may reimburse, including in respect of the mode (and class) of travel, the cost of accommodation, meals and entertainment, and conferences. Travel expenses are allocated based on the purpose for the relevant business travel. It is averred that travel expenses are incurred and reimbursed in compliance with the Expenses Policy. A copy of the Expenses Policy has been produced to the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings.

(b) Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9 provides that travel expenses shall be paid from the ATLS Fee, save that the Partnership shall be liable for travel expenses relating to making and monitoring investments, including expenses relating to broken deals (except to the extent reimbursed by Operating Companies), all expenses (including travel) related to meetings with the Family Office, and all expenses (including travel and travel-related expenses) relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceeding involving the Partnership.

(c) Information on the travel expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership and the portfolio companies has historically been included in the ATLS Fee Budgets, which have been provided to the Family Office when the ATLS Fee Budgets were prepared. The Family Office had not raised any concerns in relation to the travel expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership and the portfolio companies prior to the issue of the Petition.

73. As pleaded above, the GP denies that it has acted in the manner alleged in Paragraphs 56 of the Petition and in the circumstances, Paragraph 56 is denied. This allegation is a further fabrication made to support a Petition brought for the purposes of allowing the Petitioners to avoid their contractual obligations under the LPA.

Alleged failure to provide information

74. Paragraph 57 of the Petition is denied. In particular:

(a) Paragraph 57(a) is wholly unparticularised and lacking in sufficient detail to be properly responded to, and does not include any details of which questions and requests the Petitioners are referring to. However, it is averred that there have been frequent meetings between the GP and the Family Office, and the GP has provided extensive briefing materials to the Family Office, for both Aulos and Ascidian.

(b) As to Paragraph 57(b):

(i) Paragraph 26 of the LPA was added to the LPA by Amendment 22. Paragraph 26 provides, inter alia, that "If any approval of a new budget is given by the Subject Limited Partner, such approval shall be contingent upon at least $300 million being realized (including through deemed distributions) by the Subject Limited Partner on a sale or financing of its interest in ATP LLC".

(ii) As part of the negotiations and discussions regarding Amendment 22, the Petitioners represented that such a financing agreement as contemplated in Amendment 22 would be available as a matter of course. However, the Petitioners have still not closed a financing agreement in the period of over seven months (11 months as at the date of this Amended Defence) since Amendment 22 was executed.

(iii) Accordingly, the Petitioners are obligated to return to funding the Partnership and the portfolio companies in a rational manner.

(iv) The Petitioners have, however, acted in an arbitrary manner in denying new budgets, irrespective of the need or merit of each budget. As stated in the 15 May 2025 Email, the Petitioners have refused to discuss new budgets unless the GP agrees to close down the Early-Stage Companies. The Petitioners have only approved one recent budget, for Replicate in February 2025 following negotiations which were at odds with a long and consistent course of dealing, and in which half of the budget crystallises only upon an unprecedented condition which the Petitioners inserted with which the GP was obliged to comply in order for Replicate to receive a very small amount of funding, so as to avoid shutting down the company. After approving this budget in February 2025, the Petitioners defaulted on a valid capital call made against it on 1 June 2025.

(v) It is averred that, in their depositions in the Delaware Proceedings, Mr Rybolovlev and Mr Bogdanov admitted that there is no firm offer available to meet the Royalty Refinancing condition that the Petitioners have asked the board of Braeburn to approve. Furthermore, at the latest meeting of the board of Braeburn held on 24 July 2025, after originally asking the Braeburn CEO to present the Petitioners' Royalty Refinancing proposal to the Board for consideration, the Petitioners subsequently asked that it be discussed but not presented for formal consideration. The independent directors of Braeburn (that is, those other than Dr Harrison and Mr Yanchik) considered the deal but considered it was not in the interest of Braeburn and no vote was taken. An independent committee has been formed to work with the Family Office on the Royalty Refinancing, in keeping with the GP's obligations under Amendment 22.

(c) Paragraph 57(c) is denied and the Petitioners' allegations relating to the Partnership's legal expenses are addressed in paragraphs 82(b)-(d) ~~87 to 88~~ below.

(d) Paragraphs 57(d) to (f) are unparticularised and the Petitioners have not provided any specific allegations as to occasions on which it is alleged that the Petitioners have not been provided with sufficient information. However, it is averred that:

(i) In the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has provided full expedited discovery of the Partnership's general ledger, and including full financial information, and provided the Petitioners with the opportunity to conduct a deposition of the Partnership's Chief Financial Officer both in his individual capacity and as a corporate representative on certain financial matters requested by the Petitioners.

(ii) The Partnership is a party to contracts, including investment management agreements, third party funding agreements, and Series A funding agreements with the portfolio companies, copies of which have been produced in the Delaware Proceedings. The Partnership has also offered the Petitioners the opportunity to depose Joseph Yanchik, a partner who serves in the capacity of the Partnership's chief business officer and who has been overseeing the budget reductions and portfolio company work outs required due to the Family Office's defaults.

(iii) Paragraphs 55 and 57 above are repeated in relation to the budget approval process and the Petitioners' allegations in respect of the alleged budget milestones. Furthermore, the Series A funding agreements with the portfolio companies may contain more detailed descriptions of the milestones: however, the inclusion of the milestones in ~~the~~ a Series A funding agreement~~s~~ is designed to give the GP a basis for deciding not to provide further funding in the event that an issue has developed that cannot be resolved. The milestones are not designed to allow the limited partners of the Partnership to resile on their funding commitments, in circumstances where (as averred above) the GP is entrusted under paragraph 2(b) of the LPA with sole control over the business of the Partnership.

(iv) The GP has provided quarterly updates to the Family Office as required by the LPA. However, as noted above, the contact between the GP and Family Office has been much more frequent, there having been around 170 meetings in person and via Zoom over the last five years, and many more before this, where the Family Office were kept fully apprised of the Partnership's activities. Capital calls were sent as and when required as a matter of course, in accordance with the LPA, although the GP would reduce or pace capital calls in accordance with the Family Office's requests to meet their stated needs. Until 2025, the Family Office has then met those capital calls, without a reference ever to there being any deficiency in the materials that the GP has provided to the Family Office. As stated above, there have also been regular and numerous in person meetings between the GP and the Family Office, on a basis that is much more frequent than the provision for such meetings to take place twice per year under Schedule C to the LPA.

(v) The GP has prepared the ATLS Fee Budget every year. However, the Family Office has refused to approve any ATLS Fee Budget for 2022 to 2025, with the result that the ATLS Fee has been paid based on the agreed 2021 annual budget, pursuant to paragraph 20 of the LPA.

75. As to Paragraph 58 of the Petition:

(a) It is admitted that Section 22 of the ELP Act provides that, "Subject to any express or implied term of the partnership agreement, each limited partner may demand and shall receive from a general partner true and full information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the exempted limited partnership". It is denied that the GP has acted in breach of Section 22 of the ELP Act as alleged or at all:

(i) The Petitioners have not made a proper request to exercise their rights under Section 22 of the ELP Act: in correspondence between 17 and 26 June 2025 the Petitioners purported to exercise their rights to audit the Partnership pursuant to paragraph 16(c) of the LPA (the "Audit Request").

(ii) The Audit Request was a fishing expedition that was served by the Petitioners for the improper purpose of attempting to obtain broad extra-judicial discovery for the purpose of legal proceedings, and would have increased further burdens and costs on the GP for no purpose whatsoever, in circumstances where the parties were simultaneously engaged in conducting discovery in the Delaware Proceedings. The Audit Request was, accordingly and properly, rejected.

(iii) However, in rejecting the Audit Request the GP noted to the Petitioners that it would provide broad discovery of documents in the Delaware Proceedings, including of all or substantially all of the books and records sought by the Audit Request. The GP invited the Petitioners to identify any materials, in addition to their First Requests for Production of Documents and First Set of Interrogatories in the Delaware Proceedings, which they sought to inspect through the Audit Request. The Petitioners have not done so. It is averred that, in the discovery that the GP has provided to the Petitioners in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has now produced copies of the documents sought by the Petitioners in the Audit Request in any event.

(b) As stated at paragraph 29(c) above, the GP avers that it has complied with – and exceeded – its obligations to provide all relevant information to the Petitioners, pursuant to Schedule C to the LPA or otherwise.

(c) It is denied that the GP has denied the Petitioners their rights to information and/or seeks to permanently deprive the Petitioners of their rights in the Delaware Proceedings as alleged in Paragraph 58 of the Petition.

(d) The GP cannot plead to the last sentence of Paragraph 58 which is wholly unparticularised, save that it is denied that the GP has committed any or any serious breaches of duty and/or that the same has resulted in the Petitioners' alleged loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

(e) Paragraphs 3 to 12 above are repeated. There has been no breakdown of trust and confidence as alleged. The Petitioners have presented the Petition in response to the Delaware Proceedings in order to avoid the repercussions of their breach of their contractual obligations (express and/or implied) under the LPA. The allegations relating to the provision of information are, as with all the allegations in the Petition, without foundation and have been fabricated to create the illusion of there being sufficient grounds for the winding up of the Partnership where none exist.

Alleged conflicts of interest and/or breach of fiduciary duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership

76. Paragraph 59 of the Petition is denied.

~~77. As to Paragraph 60:~~

~~(a) The GP repeats its defence at paragraph 37 above. The fact that the Capital Calls are not specifically referenced in the Delaware Complaint is irrelevant. It is denied that the issuance of the Capital Calls amounts to a breach, let alone a further breach, of the GP's duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership. The Capital Calls were issued in good faith and for proper purposes and were intra vires.~~

(b) It is denied that the Capital Calls are part of an alleged or any litigation strategy on the part of the GP.

(c) It is denied that there is any inconsistency between the Capital Calls and the funding scenario proposed by the GP on 30 April 2025. The GP made it clear in correspondence with the Family Office at the relevant time that the GP's proposal on 30 April 2025 was a triage strategy in light of the Family Office's starvation of the Partnership. It was a good faith attempt by the GP to accommodate the Family Office's funding concerns, which is now being misused by the Petitioners as supposed evidence of the GP's improper motives.

(d) It is denied that it can be inferred and/or is a fact that the GP does not consider that the Early-Stage Companies are viable investments and/or worthy of deploying the capital called in the Capital Calls. As stated above, the funding proposal in April 2025 was purely a response to the situation that the Family Office had placed the Partnership in as a result of the Family Office's reluctance to continue funding the Partnership and the portfolio companies. It was, and is, incorrect to suggest that the GP sees no value in the Early-Stage Companies. Paragraph 51 above is repeated.

78. The relief sought in the Delaware Complaint is self-explanatory and it is denied that the Delaware Proceedings have been designed to attempt to persuade the Delaware Court to compel the Petitioners to provide further funding for the portfolio companies, as alleged in Paragraph 61 of the Petition or at all.

79. The Petitioners have refused to meet the Capital Calls. Contrary to Paragraph 62 of the Petition, however, the funding called for by the Capital Calls is in the interest of the Partnership, and not, as alleged, in the interests of the GP and its employees and ATP. It is denied that the GP has a demonstrable conflict of interest as alleged or at all. The arrangements between the parties have been in place since the inception of the Partnership. The Family Office has not previously raised any concerns as to the alleged conflict of interest involving the GP, its employees and ATP, and was fully aware of the corporate structure throughout the existence of the Partnership of over 12 years. It is admitted that Dr Harrison is a director of each of the portfolio companies. It is averred that, apart from Aethon and Marlinspike, all Portfolio Companies have at least one board member who is not an employee of the GP or its affiliates. It is denied, if alleged, that the fact that Dr Harrison owes fiduciary duties to the Portfolio Companies creates any actual or potential conflict of interest for the GP. If, which is denied, it did create such an actual or potential conflict of interest: (i) that was fully disclosed and consented to by the Petitioners, over the entirety if the Partnership's operation since inception and (ii) appropriate recusals would occur where warranted. It is averred that the management structure of the Partnership's portfolio is standard in biotech venture capital. In the premises, it is denied that the Petitioners have lost trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership and/or that the matters alleged by the Petitioners are the cause of any such alleged loss of trust and confidence. The allegations concerning the purported conflicts of interest have been manufactured falsely to inflate the Petitioners' grounds for the Petition.

79A. Paragraph 62A is denied:

(a) It is denied there was such actual or potential conflict. Further, or alternatively, the matters said to give rise to the actual or potential conflict and were fully disclosed to the Petitioners who never objected to and consented to them. Accordingly, if which is denied, there was any such actual or potential conflict, the same was fully disclosed and consented to by the Petitioners, and the GP has not breached any duty, as alleged or at all.

(c) As to the first (b), the Petitioners fail to particularise what steps to manage the alleged conflict the GP ought to have taken in May 2025. It is denied that there is any such conflict or that there were any such steps.

~~80. As to Paragraph 63, it is denied that the Partnership is exposed to "open-ended" funding commitments to the portfolio companies, to the extent that term is understood. The Petitioners have been provided with all relevant financial information concerning the Partnership's initial investments in the portfolio companies, including in advance of the Partnership reaching any agreements with the respective portfolio companies, and the ongoing and upcoming funding needs of the portfolio companies as their research and development operations have progressed. Paragraph 78(d) above is repeated with respect to the Partnership's obligations to the portfolio companies.~~

~~81. Paragraph 64 is denied, and paragraph 78(d) above is repeated. It is averred that the Petitioners have previously approved the budgets relating to the portfolio companies for which the Capital Calls have been issued, and the Petitioners have failed to meet those Capital Calls notwithstanding their prior agreement to the budgets on which the Capital Calls are based. Paragraphs 30 and 55 above are repeated in relation to the budget approval process, and it is averred that this process was repeatedly and successfully facilitated until the Petitioners adopted the position in May 2025 that they no longer wished, and were not legally required, to continue funding the Partnership and the portfolio companies.~~

82. ~~The Petitioners' alleged concerns~~ The allegations set out in Paragraph 65 are misconceived and unfounded:

(a) Save that it is admitted that email correspondence in December 2024 took place between Mr Bogdanov and Dr Harrison on the one hand, and Patrik Blochlinger and Daniel Finkelman on the other, on the dates set out in paragraphs 65(a)-(c) and (e), Paragraph 65 is denied.

(b) The legal costs associated with the Braeburn Proceedings have not been charged to the Partnership and do not form any part of the Capital Calls. It is averred that the email from Mr Finkelman to Mr Blochlinger dated 23 December 2024, which is partially quoted in Paragraph 65(c) of the Petition, also provided that: "This email will also confirm that all other charges have been allocated and are being paid in accordance with the expense provisions of the settlement wrapper, including the Cayman litigation, the ATP royalty sub LLC agreement, the put option agreement, the second put option agreement and amendment 22 to the LPA. For your information, we currently estimate aggregate charges borne or to be borne by ATLS and/or Seth for that work to be $2.3M. As mentioned during our calls last Thursday, Seth would like to discuss with Yuri the allocation of those charges in light of the extended time and complexity involved in working through the restructuring documents, including the provisions relating to the Family Office obtaining early liquidity on a portion of the royalty stream." (emphasis added)

(c) The Petitioners' assertion that the treatment of the legal fees in relation to the Braeburn Proceedings form any basis for a loss of trust and confidence therefore has no basis.

(d) As to Paragraph 65(f), paragraph 11 of Amendment 9 provides that, with the exception of certain defined expenses that are paid from the ATLS Fee

(which is the annual fee payable by the Partnership to ATLS), "[t]he Partnership shall be responsible for all other reasonable expenses of the Partnership, which Partnership expenses shall be funded by capital contributions made by the holders of Preferred Units in accordance with the Agreement, including without limitation: […] (vii) professional fees, including legal expenses for the Partnership (including the Partnership's inhouse counsel), audit, tax compliance and tax structuring fees and expenses, […] (xvii) all expenses (including travel and travel-related expenses) relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceeding involving the Partnership". In the premises, the legal fees that the GP has incurred on behalf of the Partnership fall to be paid by the Partnership.

82A. Paragraph 65A is denied. Paragraph 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement expressly contemplated that the GP would pay its costs "using its own money (for example, money it has received as payment of a Management Fee". The invoices listed in Paragraphs 65A.a-h were paid using the ATLS Management Fee, and therefore not in breach of the LPA. Without waiver of privilege, it is denied that the further invoices referred to in paragraphs 65A(a) to (h) related to the Braeburn Proceedings.

D. GROUND 2

83. It is denied that the Partnership is no longer being run in accordance with the reasonable expectations of the limited partners and/or in accordance with the LPA as alleged in Paragraph 66 of the Petition or at all. It is averred, in particular, that:

(a) The Partnerships' investment strategy has been approved by the Petitioners throughout the existence of the Partnership over the course of over 12 years, and the Partnership has not changed or neglected its investment strategy.

(b) The fact that the Petitioners no longer wish to continue the funding of the Partnership and the portfolio companies, in breach of their funding obligations under the LPA, does not mean that the Partnership is not being run in accordance with the LPA and/or to the detriment of the Petitioners or the other limited partners.

(c) As stated in paragraph 4 above, the Partnership has been hugely successful under the stewardship of the GP, and the Partnership's investment decisions have resulted in extraordinary returns to the Petitioners in their capacity as limited partners of the Partnership.

(d) The GP has no intent to "confiscate" 50% of the Petitioners' interests. The operation of the global default mechanism as set out in paragraph 5(c) of the LPA (which, as the Petitioners are well aware, has been included in the LPA from the outset) has been caused by the Petitioners' failure to meet their obligations pursuant to the Capital Calls in accordance with the LPA. The global default mechanism is a provision which the GP is entitled to rely on in the circumstances, and the GP does so acting in the best interests of the Partnership. Paragraphs 64 and 65 above are repeated.

(e) The Petitioners have brought about the present situation by their failure/refusal to pay the Capital Calls and/or to approve budgets for future investment of capital in the Partnership.

E. GROUND 3

84. For all the reasons pleaded above, it is denied that there is any need for a proper, independent, investigation into the Partnership's affairs.

F. CONCLUSION

85. It is denied that it is just and equitable that the Partnership be wound up.

ITEM NO. 82

JX-65

IN THE GRAND COURT OF THE CAYMAN ISLANDS
FINANCIAL SERVICES DIVISION

CAUSE NO: FSD 151 OF 2025 (JAJ)

IN THE MATTER OF THE EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION), THE COMPANIES ACT (2025 REVISION) AND THE PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION)

AND IN THE MATTER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.

AMENDED REPLY TO THE AMENDED DEFENCE TO THE AMENDED WINDING UP PETITION

Preliminaries

1. In this Amended Reply, unless otherwise appears:

1.1. References to paragraphs are to paragraphs in the Amended Defence filed by ATP III GP in its capacity as the general partner of the Partnership (the "GP").

1.2. The Petitioners adopt the definitions set out in the Amended Petition.

1.3. Save where stated otherwise, the Petitioners join issue with each and every allegation made in the Amended Defence dated 20 ~~August~~ November 2025.

AMENDED REPLY

A Introduction

2. ~~Paragraph 2 is denied. Having regard to the nature of the complaints made in the Petition, the proper approach is for the proceedings to be treated as an inter partes dispute between the~~

This REPLY was filed by Campbells LLP, Attorneys for the Petitioners, whose address for service is Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, George Town, Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands (Ref: LMF/PDK/HFA/19135-44991).

~~Petitioners and the GP as respondent. The Petitioners intend to seek a direction from the Court to that effect.~~ Paragraph 2 is denied:

2.1. It is denied that Asif J's judgment dated 6 November 2025 (the "CMC Judgment") confirmed that the Petition is a proceeding against the Partnership acting by the GP pursuant to section33(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Act. In the CMC Judgment Asif J (among other things): (a) confirmed that the GP is the respondent to the Petition (at [34]); (b) held that the GP is prima facie liable for the costs of defending the Petition subject to any right of indemnity to recover those costs under the LPA (at [40]). The Petitioners will rely on the entirety of the CMC Judgment at trial.

2.2. It is denied that the GP is entitled to claim any right of indemnity in respect of those costs under the terms of the LPA. It is denied that the GP is entitled to fund the costs of the Petition Proceedings, the Writ Proceedings or the Delaware Proceedings from Partnership assets.

2.3. It is averred that the GP has wrongly, in breach of the LPA and in breach of fiduciary duty, misappropriated Partnership assets by funding the costs of the Petition Proceedings, the Writ Proceedings and / or the Delaware Proceedings from Partnership assets.

2.4. It is denied that the GP, in defending the Petition, is acting for on behalf of the Partnership.

3. As to paragraphs 3-4:

3.1. It is admitted that the Partnership has had some successes over the years.

3.2. The extent and relevance of those successes are not admitted.

3.3. It is denied that any of the allegations made in the Petition have been "fabricated".

4. As to paragraph 5:

4.1. The allegations that the Petitioners are in breach of their obligations under the LPA are denied. The Petitioners are not required to meet the Capital Calls, have fulfilled their overall capital commitment to the Partnership and are not required to contribute any further capital.

4.2. The final sentence of paragraph 5 is an allegation that the Petitioners have an improper collateral purpose in presenting the Petition, namely to "avoid the consequences that they may otherwise suffer, pursuant to the terms of the LPA, as a result of breaching their funding obligations to the partnership". That allegation is baseless, should not have been made and is denied:

4.2.1. The Petitioners are not in breach of the LPA and do not believe themselves to be so.

4.2.2. The Petition has been presented in good faith for the purposes of seeking a winding up of the Partnership for the reasons set out in the Petition, including because the Petitioners consider that there has been serious mismanagement and lack of probity in the conduct of the affairs of the Partnership by the GP and have justifiably lost trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the best interests of the Partnership has a whole.

4.2.3. The fact that the GP has wrongly alleged that the Petitioners, as the principal economic owners of the Partnership, have presented the Petition in bad faith and / or for a collateral purpose is a further reason for their justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the interests of the Partnership as a whole.

5. As to paragraph 8:

5.1. It is admitted that there is an overlap between some of the underlying issues in the Writ, Petition and Delaware Proceedings.

5.2. It is denied, if it be alleged, that the issues arising in the each of the aforementioned proceedings are identical.

5.3. The third sentence of paragraph 8 contains a partial and tendentious characterisation of the underlying issues in the Writ, Petition and Delaware Proceedings and is denied as an accurate or full characterisation of any those proceedings.

5.4. It is denied that the relief sought in the Writ "substantially overlaps" with the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings.

6. Paragraphs 9- 11 are denied:

6.1. Paragraphs 9 - 11 contain allegations that the Petition was presented for improper collateral purposes, namely "to circumvent and undermine the Delaware Proceedings", to "avoid their capital obligations under the LPA" and to "attempt to seize and take control of the operations and the funding needs of the Partnership". Those allegations are baseless, should not have been made and are denied. Paragraphs 4.2.2 and 4.2.3 above are repeated.

6.2. The Petition has not been brought in breach of paragraph 18(g)(vi) of the LPA. The Partnership is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership. The Grand Court is the only Court with jurisdiction to wind up a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership under the Exempted Limited Partnership Act, the Companies Act and the Partnership Act. Equivalent relief is not sought in the Delaware Proceedings.

6.3. The breakdown in trust and confidence between the parties prior to the presentation of the Petition was evident from, among other things, the various allegations contained in the evidence filed by the parties in the context of the Braeburn Proceedings. It will be further addressed in the witness evidence for trial.

B The Partnership

7. Paragraph 19 is admitted, save that it is denied Dr Rybolovlev agreed to provide US$1.5 billion capital commitment from the Family Office, and that there are 16 limited partners in the Partnership in addition to the Petitioners. There are 14 limited partners in the Partnership in addition to the Petitioners. Save for Dr Harrison and Les Pommes, none of those limited partners have contributed any capital to the Partnership.

8. As to paragraph 23:

8.1. Paragraph 23(b) is denied. There are 14 (not 16) limited partners in the Partnership other than the Petitioners. It is denied that the purported "list of partners" provided on 16 July 2025 is a "List of Partners" under the terms of the LPA.

8.2. Paragraph 23(c) is not admitted.

~~8.3. No admissions are made as to the extent of the time, work or expertise allegedly contributed to the partnership by the individuals referred to in paragraph 23(d).~~

8.4. ~~The first sentence of paragraph 23(e) is denied. There are 14 (not 16) limited partners in the Partnership other than the Petitioners. As to the second sentence of paragraph 23(e), it is not admitted that all 14 of those limited partners in the Partnership other than the Petitioners have a legally binding interest in the value of the Partnership.~~ Paragraph 23(e) is not admitted.

9. As to paragraph 24(b), it is admitted that the capital contributed by Dr Harrison and Les Pommes is US$54.7 million (including deemed contributions). It is ~~not~~ admitted that the loan was fully repaid ~~out of carried interest value owed to Dr Harrison~~.

9A. As to paragraph 24(b1):

9A.1 No admissions are made as to the extent of any time, work, expertise and / or intellectual property allegedly contributed to the Partnership by the individuals referred to in paragraph 24(b1). It is not admitted that all of those individuals have a legally binding economic interest in the value of the Partnership.

9A.2 Save as aforesaid, paragraph 24(b1) is denied. The Partnership operates as an exempted limited partnership, governed by the terms of the LPA and the ELP Act.

10. The first two sentences of paragraph 27 are admitted. As to paragraphs 27(a)-(c):

10.1. It is admitted that the pools within the current structure of the Partnership are Pool ATP-IV, Pool V (comprising the sub-pools ATP V-1, ATP V-2 and ATP-3) and Pool Braeburn.

10.2. Paragraph 27(a) is admitted. When Pool ATP-IV was created (pursuant to Amendment 13) it contained a number of valuable assets, including assets that were later transferred to Pool ATP V-3 and Pool Braeburn.

10.3. Paragraph 27(b) is admitted, save that:

10.3.1. The description of the "deals" contained in Pools ATP V-1, ATP V-2 and ATP V-3 is tendentious and not admitted.

10.3.2. The amount of capital alleged to have been "allocated" to those pools is not admitted.

10.4. As to paragraph 27(c):

10.4.1. The first sentence is admitted.

10.4.2. It is denied that the Plaintiffs have committed capital of approximately US$393m to Pool Braeburn. The Plaintiffs' capital commitments to the Partnership are as set out in the Subscription Agreements.

10.4.3. It is admitted that the Petitioners have contributed approximately US$412 million to Pool Braeburn.

10.4.4. The third sentence is admitted.

10.4.5. The final sentence is not admitted.

11. As to paragraph 29:

11.1. Paragraph 29(a)(i) is admitted. No admissions are made as to the relevance or otherwise of the words emphasised therein.

11.2. The terms of the Subscription Agreements pleaded at paragraph 29(a)(ii) are admitted. It is denied, if it be so alleged, that any of Amendments 17, 18 or 20 impose any obligation on the Petitioners to make capital contributions to the Partnership in excess of their Contingent Subscriptions (as set out in the Subscription Agreements).

11.3. As to paragraph 29(a)(iii), it is admitted that the Petitioners have made cash contributions to the Partnership in excess of their Contingent Subscriptions. Paragraphs 23 to 24 of the Petition are repeated. Save insofar as it is consistent with the foregoing, paragraph 29(a)(iii) is denied.

11.4. As to paragraph 29(c), it is not admitted that the Petitioners have received all relevant information concerning the Partnership and the portfolio companies on a regular and frequent basis, or at all. To the extent that the GP alleges that it has provided the required quarterly reports as required, this is specifically denied as the GP has failed to produce the quarterly report for Q2 2025.

11.5. The Petitioners will rely on the terms of paragraph 20 of the LPA for their full meaning and effect. Save as aforesaid, no admissions are made in relation to paragraph 29(d).

11.6. The terms of section 11 of Amendment 9 as pleaded at paragraph 29(e) are admitted. Save as aforesaid, no admissions are made in relation to paragraph 29(e).

12. As to paragraph 30:

12.1. Paragraph 30(a) is admitted and the Petitioners will also rely on paragraph 5(a)(ii) (as inserted by Amendment 3) for its full terms and effect.

12.2. Paragraph 30(b) is denied:

12.2.1. In circumstances where: (a) approved budgets form the basis for the GP's ability to call capital from the Petitioners up to an amount equal to their Contingent Subscriptions; (b) the Petitioners Contingent Subscriptions are the primary source of capital for the Partnership; (c) approved budgets will ultimately be funded primarily from capital committed by the Petitioners and (d) the Petitioners are the principal economic owners of the Partnership, the Petitioners have an absolute contractual right to approve or reject new budgets by the GP.

12.2.2. Further, and in any event, section 19(2) of the ELP Act provides as follows: "[s]ubject to any express provisions of the partnership agreement to the contrary, a limited partner of an exempted limited partnership in that capacity does not owe any fiduciary duty in exercising any of its rights or authorities or otherwise in performing any of its obligations under the partnership agreement to the exempted limited partnership or any other partner". The LPA does not contain any express provisions imposing such a duty (which includes a duty of good faith) on the Petitioners. Accordingly, no such duty is owed by the Petitioners when approving budgets.

12.3. In the alternative if (which is denied) the Petitioners are required to act rationally and in good faith when considering requests made by the GP for new budgets then it is averred that, when doing so, the Petitioners are permitted to act rationally and in good faith having regard to their own commercial interests as the primary source of capital to the Partnership and the principal economic owners of the Partnership.

12.4. Paragraph 30(c) is admitted. In determining whether, and in what amount, to exercise its powers to call capital under paragraph 5(a) of the LPA, the GP is required to: (a) act in good faith and in the interests of the Partnership (and not in the interests of the Portfolio Companies) and (b) exercise those powers for proper purposes. To the extent it is alleged, it is denied that the existence of any approved but uncalled budget is of itself a basis for the GP to call capital under paragraph 5(a) of the LPA without first complying with conditions (a) and (b) above.

13. Paragraph 31(c) is denied:

13.1. The Petitioners are contractually committed to fund capital to the Partnership in an amount of US$2.425 billion, as set out in the Subscription Agreements. Paragraph 21 of the Petition is repeated.

13.2. It is denied that any of the Amendments to the LPA referred to in paragraph 31(c) purported to increase or alter the extent of the Petitioners' obligations to fund capital to the Partnership or that they had the effect of doing so. The Petitioners will refer to the Amendments for their full terms and effect.

14. As to paragraph 33:

14.1. Approximately US$2.3 billion has been contributed in response to capital calls purportedly made by the GP under paragraph 5(a) of the LPA.

14.2. Upon execution of Amendment 20 of the LPA, a further US$390,162,163.73 of capital was deemed to have been contributed to the Partnership by Ezbon and Blue Horizon under paragraphs 21(b) and 22(b) of the LPA (the "Deemed Contributions"). In particular:

14.2.1. Pursuant to paragraph 21(b) of the LPA, and in order to effect the acquisition of the Braeburn assets by Pool Braeburn from pool ATP IV: (i) Ezbon, Blue Horizon, Dr Harrison and Les Pommes were deemed to have received a distribution of US$203,669,000 from Pool ATP IV in respect of the sale by Pool ATP IV of the Braeburn Assets; and (ii) Ezbon and Blue Horizon were deemed to have made capital contributions into Pool Braeburn of US$203,669,000 for the purposes of funding Pool Braeburn's acquisition of the Braeburn assets.

14.2.2. Pursuant to paragraph 22(b) of the LPA and in order to effect the acquisition of the Pool ATP V-3 Assets by Pool ATPV-3 from Pool ATP IV: (i) Ezbon, Blue Horizon, Dr Harrison and Les Pommes were deemed to have received a distribution of US$189,544,659.89 from Pool ATP IV in respect of the sale by Pool ATP IV of the Pool ATP V-3 Assets; and (ii) Ezbon and Blue Horizon were deemed to have made capital contributions into Pool ATP V-3 of US$186,492,163.76 for the purposes of funding Pool ATP V-3's acquisition of the Pool ATP V-3 Assets.

14.2.3. The deemed distributions and Deemed Contributions were recorded as having been made in a "High Watermark Calculations" document annexed to Amendment 20.

14.3. By 8 December 2023, the total Contingent Subscriptions subscribed for by the Petitioners (i.e. US$2.425 billion) had been contributed to the Partnership. In those circumstances, the Petitioners are not obliged to contribute further capital to the Partnership.

14.4. Save insofar as it is consistent with the foregoing, paragraph 33 is denied.

15. As to paragraph 37:

15.1. It is denied that any of the facts and matters relied on by the Petitioners in the Petition have been "fabricated" as alleged at paragraphs 37(g) and (h), whether "for the purposes of avoiding the contract" or at all. The allegations made by the Petitioners in the Petition have been made properly and in good faith and relate to a genuine and justified loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

15.2. The fact that the GP has wrongly alleged that the Petitioners, as the principal economic owners of the Partnership, have "fabricated" claims in the Petition for a collateral purpose is a further reason for their justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the interests of the Partnership as a whole

15.3. As to paragraph 37(g):

15.3.1. It is denied that the Petitioners raised for the first time their allegations regarding improper charging of expenses. There has been an ongoing disagreement between the Petitioners (or their predecessors) and the GP since around November 2022 in respect of the ATLS Fee. As for non-Partnership legal expenses being charged to the Partnership, the Petitioners refer to and repeat paragraph 65 of the Petition.

15.4. As to paragraph 37(h):

15.4.1. It is admitted that Dr Harrison has been a director of each portfolio company since each company's inception.

15.4.2. It is denied, if it be so alleged, that the question of whether the Petitioners have previously identified or made a complaint over the GP's decision making being infected by conflicts of interest is relevant to the question of whether: (a) the GP's decision making is, or has become, infected by conflicts of interest in relation to the matters set out in the Petition; or (b) whether the GP has acted or is acting improperly as a consequence of such conflicts.

16. As to paragraphs 41- 43:

16.1. It is denied that the GP acted lawfully, properly or in accordance with the LPA by refusing to distribute the assets of Pool Braeburn.

16.2. It is denied that any of the matters referred to in paragraphs 41 to 42 provided a proper or lawful basis for the GP to refuse to distribute the assets of Pool Braeburn to the Petitioners. Under paragraph 21(d) of the LPA the Petitioners had an unqualified right to require the Partnership to distribute the Braeburn Assets.

16.3. Even if, which is denied, paragraph 21(d) of the LPA is qualified in the manner alleged by the GP, it is denied that either the GP's duties under the ELP Act or the "internal policies" of Braeburn prevented the transfer of ownership of the Braeburn assets from the Partnership to the Petitioners.

16.4. The "internal policies" of Braeburn for the purposes of paragraph 21(d) of the LPA refers to formal internal company policies which have an element of adoption and implementation, establishing standards in areas such as proper internal procedures. None of the matters referred to in paragraph 43 were contrary to any "internal policy".

16.5. Paragraphs 43(b)(i) and (ii) are denied. When the Petitioners requested a distribution of the Braeburn assets on 30 July 2024, they confirmed that they would replace or refinance the Hercules Loan if required to effect the transfer. They repeated that confirmation in a letter to the GP's then Cayman attorneys on 26 August 2024.

16.6. Paragraph 43(b)(iii) is denied. Further and in any event, even if complying with the distribution request exposed Braeburn to a tax liability, any such liability would arise after the distribution was made, at a point in time when the assets were no longer owned by the Partnership. As such, the prospect of any such tax liability arising was not of any legitimate concern for the GP or the Partnership.

16.7. As to paragraph 43(b)(iv) it is denied that risk of triggering CFIUS requirements prevented the GP from distributing the Braeburn assets to the Petitioners under paragraph 21(d) of the LPA or provided a proper or valid reason for the GP not to distribute the Braeburn Assets. Without prejudice to the generality of that denial, if a CFIUS review were required it would not occur until after the Braeburn assets had been distributed to the Petitioners such that the prospect of such a review was not of any legitimate concern for the GP or the Partnership.

16.8. As to paragraph 43(b)(b)(v):

16.8.1. It is denied that the Family Office had indicated that it may not comply with its obligations to approve new budgets or comply with future capital calls. The Petitioners have at all times complied with, and intended to comply with, their obligations under the LPA.

16.8.2. Further, and in any event, it is denied that under paragraph 21(d) of the LPA the GP was entitled to refuse to distribute the Braeburn assets following a request from the Petitioners: (a) by reference to what it perceived to be in the interests of the Partnership; and / or (b) for the purposes of using those assets as security for the performance of the Petitioners' future obligations under the LPA.

17. Paragraph 47 is denied:

17.1. The GP's denial of the Petitioners' averment that they have lost trust and confidence in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership is an allegation of, or akin to an allegation of, bad faith or dishonesty against the Petitioners. That allegation is baseless, should not have been made and is denied. The Petitioners have genuinely lost trust and confidence in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership for the reasons set out in the Petition.

17.2. To the extent that the final sentence of paragraph 47 alleges that the Petition was presented for improper collateral purposes, that allegations is baseless, should not have been made and is denied.

17.3. Paragraphs 4.2.2 and 4.2.3 above are repeated.

18. As to paragraph 50:

18.1. Paragraph 50(a) is admitted.

18.2. Paragraph 50(b) is embarrassing in that it is, in material part, argumentative in nature (as opposed to containing a statement of material facts relied on by the GP, as required by O.18 r.7 of the Grand Court Rules).

18.3. The Petitioners are the principal economic owners and funders of the Partnership. As such, the fact that they consider further investments in the Early-Stage Companies not to be in the interests of the Partnership is a matter which the GP ought properly to have regard to in the performance and discharge of its duties to the Partnership. The GP's dismissal of those views and failure to have any, or any proper, regard to them is a further cause of justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the interests of the Partnership as a whole.

18.4. Paragraph 50(c) is denied. The Petitioners have always made clear their intention to comply with the requirements of the LPA, including in the 15 May 2025 Email. The Petitioners will rely on the 15 May 2025 email for its full terms and effect.

18.5. The first sentence of paragraph 50(d) is denied. Paragraphs 36 and 37(b) of the Petition are repeated. No admissions are made as to the second and third sentences of paragraph 50(d).

18.6. Save as aforesaid, paragraph 50 is denied.

19. As to paragraph 51:

19.1A Paragraph 51(a) is denied. The LPA requires capital calls to be tied to the satisfaction of milestones that have been incorporated into a budget and / or where a budget has been approved subject to the satisfaction of milestones.

19.1. Paragraph 51(b) is not admitted.

19.2. Paragraph 51(c) is admitted and the Petitioners will also rely on paragraph 5(a)(ii) (as inserted by Amendment 3) for its full terms and effect.

19.3. The first sentence of paragraph 51(e) is denied. The LPA requires capital calls to be tied to the satisfaction of milestones that have been incorporated into a budget and / or where a budget has been approved subject to the satisfaction of milestones.

19.4. As to paragraphs 51(f) and (g):

19.4.1. It is admitted that the Petitioners have approved numerous budgets since the formation of the Partnership.

19.4.2. It is admitted that until May 2025 when seeking approval of such budgets, the GP provided the Petitioners with information including through quarterly reporting procedures and meetings (including with subject matter experts and portfolio company management representatives).

19.4.3. It is admitted that the Petitioners have met all capital calls made in respect of those budgets, save for the May 2025 Capital Calls.

19.4.4. It is denied that the Petitioners were obliged to meet such capital calls to the extent that the budgets in question had been approved subject to the satisfaction of milestones that had not been met.

19.4.5. Save as aforesaid, paragraphs 51(f) and (g) are denied.

20. Paragraphs 52(b) – (d) are denied. Paragraphs 13 and 14 above are repeated.

21. As to paragraph 55:

21.1. Paragraph 55(a) is not admitted.

21.2. Paragraph 55(b) is denied:

21.2.1. The GP was not obliged to issue the Delaware Proceedings when it did or at all.

21.2.2. The GP was not obliged to seek the relief claimed in the Delaware Proceedings against the Petitioners.

21.2.3. The GP was not required to make the extremely serious allegations against the Petitioners made in the Delaware Proceedings, as pleaded at paragraph 46(a)-(i) of the Petition.

21.2.4. The Petitioners were not in breach of the funding obligations under the LPA and were not required to provide further funding to the Partnership.

22. As to paragraph 57(d), for the avoidance of doubt, and as alleged in the Petition, the Petitioners do allege that the GP has acted wrongfully and / or in breach of the LPA and / or otherwise than in good faith in the best interests of the Partnership in seeking the relief it seeks in the Delaware Proceedings.

23. As to paragraph 59:

23.1. The allegation in paragraph 59(c) that the provisions of paragraph 5(c) of the LPA impose a "global default penalty" across "all of the defaulting limited partners' interests in the partnership" is inconsistent with the GP's admission at paragraph 37(a) of its Defence to the Writ proceedings that the "Default Charge" which may be imposed by the GP is a reduction of a Defaulting Partner's number of Preferred Units and Investment Common Units by up to 50%.

23.2. For the avoidance of doubt, it is denied that the imposition of a Default Charge under the LPA reduces a Defaulting Partner's "interests in the Partnership", as alleged by the GP. The imposition of a Default Charge by the General Partner may reduce a Defaulting Partner's number of Preferred Units and Investment Common Units by up to 50%. Save in respect of Pool ATP IV, the imposition of a Default Charge by the GP does not reduce, limit or remove a Defaulting Partner's economic interest in, or rights to receive distributions from, any of the investment pools. Interests and rights in investment pools other than Pool ATP IV are governed by paragraphs 20 to 22 of the LPA without reference to the extent of any limited partner's holdings of Preferred Units or Investment Common Units.

23.3. It is admitted in paragraph 59(d) that, under the LPA, a limited partner can only be deemed a Defaulting Partner in circumstances where (a) a valid capital call has been made; (b) a limited partner has failed to pay that capital call; (c) a Default Notice is issued and (d) a 30-day cure period has passed. It is averred that in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has wrongly claimed to be entitled to treat the Petitioners as Defaulting Partners without needing to comply with those steps.

23.4. Paragraph 59(e) is admitted. The Petitioners will refer to the default provisions of the LPA at trial for their full terms and effect.

23.5. Save as aforesaid, paragraph 59 is denied.

24. As to paragraph 60, it is denied that a global Default Charge exists under the LPA. Paragraphs 24.1 and 24.2 above are repeated. It is denied, if it be alleged, that the Petitioners have ever accepted the correctness of the GP's characterisation of the operation of the alleged "global Default Charge".

24A. As to paragraph 60A(a), it is denied that legal advice taken by the GP on behalf of the Partnership and paid for from Partnership assets is privileged as against the Petitioners.

24B. As to paragraphs 60E(c) and 60G:

24B.1. It is denied that any judgment or order in the Delaware Proceedings would be entitled to recognition in the Cayman Islands. Paragraph 43E of the Amended Petition is repeated.

24B.2 It is denied that should the Delaware Court make the declarations sought by the GP, the Petitioners will be estopped from disputing, or that it will be an abuse for them to dispute, any of the issues raised in the Petition (including, but not limited to, the matters set out at paragraph 60G of the Amended Defence):

24B.2(i) Paragraph 43E of the Amended Petition is repeated.

24B.2(ii) Further, and in any event, insofar as issues raised in the Petition were not raised in the Delaware Proceedings, it is denied that it would be an abuse to raise them in the Petition. In particular, it is denied that there are any issues raised in the Petition that should have been (but were not) raised in the Delaware Proceedings having regard to the fact that: (a) the Petitioners were permitted to commence the present proceedings in the Cayman Islands pursuant to paragraph 18(g) of the LPA (notwithstanding the Delaware Proceedings); and (b) the Cayman Court has directed for the Petition proceedings to run in parallel with the Delaware Proceedings.

24B.2(iii) Further, and in any event, when determining the existence and extent of any issue estoppel the Cayman Court will have regard to the nature of the findings made by the Delaware Court, and whether there has been a clear decision on the issues which are alleged to give rise to an issue estoppel. The Petitioners reserve the right to rely on any judgment of the Delaware Court at trial for its full terms and effect.

24B.2(iv) Further, and in any event, the Cayman Court will not give effect to an issue estoppel if there are circumstances which make it inappropriate to do so. In would not be appropriate to give effect to any issue estoppel arising from the Delaware Court's decision: (a) in light of the GP's vexatious, oppressive and unconscionable conduct in the Delaware Proceedings pleaded at paragraph 49B of the Petition; and / or (b) in circumstances where that decision remains subject to appeal in Delaware.

24C. The GP's reservation of rights at paragraph 60H is noted. If the GP wishes to contend that any issues raised and determined by the Delaware Court in the Delaware Proceedings give rise to an issue estoppel and / or an abuse of process in the context of the Petition Proceedings, it is required to amend its Defence in order to do so.

24D. As to paragraph 61D(g), it is not admitted that the deal with Novo Nordisk did not provide enough funding to satisfy all Deep Apple's funding needs. Pursuant to the deal with Novo Nordisk, Deep Apple is eligible to receive up to US$812 million in payments, and has already received an upfront payment of US$32.5 million.

Mismanagement / prejudicial conduct / lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs

25. As to paragraph 64:

25.1. It is denied that any of the matters averred at paragraph 64(a) – (g) (which are themselves denied) provide, or are capable of providing, any or any proper or sufficient foundation for the extremely serious allegations against the Petitioners particularised at paragraph 46 of the Petition.

25.2. The allegation at paragraph 64(f) is an allegation of bad faith and / or dishonesty against the Petitioners. That allegation is baseless, should not have been made and is denied. The Petitioners honestly and firmly believe that it is not in the interests of the Partnership to continue to provide funding to the Early-Stage Companies, which are not viable investments. Paragraphs 4.2.2 and 4.2.3 above are repeated.

26. Paragraph 65 is denied. The Family Office is not currently experiencing liquidity issues.

The GP has knowingly misled the Petitioners into contributing capital to the Partnership

26A. As to paragraph 69B(c), it is admitted that the Nereid Loan was made by Marlinspike. It is averred that it was procured by the GP. Paragraph 52G of the Amended Petition is repeated.

26B. As to paragraph 69B(d):

26B.2 As to paragraph 69B(d)(ii), it is admitted that in or around February 2025, the Petitioners had expressed in general terms a preparedness to approve, in principle, a merger between Nereid and Marlinspike. It is denied that at the time when the Nereid Loan was made (or at any time) any final approval or agreement had been given by the Petitioners in relation to a proposed merger between Nereid and Marlinspike. It is denied (if it be so alleged) that the Petitioners agreed or consented to GP using funds contributed pursuant to the Marlinspike Calls other than for the purposes of meeting Marlinspike's funding requirements and denied that the GP was permitted to do so.

26B.3 Paragraph 69B(d)(iii) is embarrassing for lack of particulars and not admitted. The GP does not plead what the "objectives" of the merger were, or plead how the Nereid Loan is said to have "promoted" those objectives. In any event, the relevance of matters alleged at paragraph 69B(d)(iii) is denied.

26B.4 It is noted that the denial in paragraph 69B(d)(iv) fails to plead to the misrepresentations alleged by the Petitioners (namely that the capital requested in the Marlinspike Calls were being requested for, and would be used to meet, Marlinspike's funding requirements).

Misappropriations / dissipations of assets

26C. As to paragraph 69G(d)(ii), the purposes of the transfers to Nine Square and Nereid are not admitted. In any event, it is denied that on a true construction of the LPA those transfers fell outside the budget approval process. It is noted that the GP does not identify which provision or provisions of the LPA it relies on as entitling it to make the transfers to Nine Square and Nereid. There are no such provisions.

26D. As to paragraph 69G(d)(iii):

26C.1 Pursuant to paragraph 26 of the LPA, the parties agreed that if any approval of a new budget was given by the Petitioners in respect of Replicate on or after 20 December 2024, "such approval shall be contingent upon at least $300 million being realised (including through deemed distributions) by [the Petitioners] on a sale or financing of its interest in ATP LLC".

26C.2 On 12 February 2025, Patrick Blochlinger on behalf of the Petitioners emailed Dr Harrison, Ms Batarina and Mr Finkelman, on behalf of the GP attaching a signed approval dated 11 February 2025 for an increase of US$18m to Replicate's budget (the "February Approval"). The February Approval was given after 20 December 2024 and was therefore subject to the contingency agreed in paragraph 26 of the LPA.

26C.3 Further, and in any event, Mr Blochlinger's email expressly stated that the February Approval was given pursuant to the Rigmora LPs' understanding "that the condition agreed upon in Amendment regarding all budget increases (USD 300m from Royalty Financing) remains applicable and will continue to apply to upcoming capital calls to be paid later this year".

26C.4 In the premises, the fourth and fifth sentences of paragraph 69G(d)(iii) are denied.

26D. As to paragraph 69G(e):

26D.1 Under the LPA the GP has the power to withdraw capital calls previously made, including following a change in circumstances.

26D.2. The GP is required to exercise - or refrain from exercising – that power in good faith and for proper purposes.

26D.3 The GP has failed to provide any justification or explanation for continuing to seek to compel the Petitioners to pay the full amount of the Disputed Capital Calls following payment of the Q3 2025 Receipts to the portfolio companies (including payment to Ascidian on 11 August 2025 of the full amount of the Disputed Capital Call).

26D.4 In the premises it is to be inferred that there is no, or no legitimate or proper, justification consistent with the GP's duties for its decision to continue to seek to compel the Petitioners to pay the full amount of the Disputed Capital Calls following payment of the Q3 2025 receipts to the portfolio companies. The GP has acted with a serious lack of probity in continuing to do so.

26E. As to paragraph 69G(f) it is denied that the legal costs incurred by the GP in connection with the Delaware Proceedings and the Cayman Proceedings are properly incurred on behalf of the Partnership and denied that the GP is entitled to use partnership assets for the purposes of funding its conduct of any of those proceedings.

Failure to maintain records in the manner of a reasonably competent general partner

26F. As to paragraph 69L(d):

26F.1 It is noted that the GP admits to committing an offence under section 29(6) of the ELP Act.

26F.2 It is admitted that the Petitioners did not request to see the Register of Partners until these proceedings. Under the ELP Act the GP is required to maintain a Register of Partners irrespective of any such request.

26F.3 It is denied that the GP's failure to maintain a Register of Partners for over 12 years is a de minimis breach of section 29(1) of the ELP Act.

26F.4 It is not admitted that the GP began to maintain a Register of Partners in the sense of section 29(1) of the ELP Act from 25 July 2025. Metadata from the Register of Partners disclosed to the Petitioners indicates that it was created on 30 July 2025.

26G. As to paragraph 69M(b), it is admitted that capital call notices provided to the Petitioners since Amendment 20 included exhibits which purported to show the amount of the Petitioners' unfunded commitments. It is denied that those exhibits accurately reflected the amount of the Petitioners' Contingent Subscriptions, or have any bearing on the construction of the LPA. Paragraph 21 of the Amended Petition is repeated.

Recharging of costs to the portfolio companies

27. As to paragraph 71:

27.1. The first to third sentences of paragraph 71(a) are not admitted.

27.2. It is admitted that the GP commissioned a report from Pricewaterhouse Coopers dated 17 March 2023. Save as aforesaid, the fourth sentence of paragraph 71 is not admitted.

27.3. The fifth sentence of paragraph 71 is denied. The manner in which the employee costs of ATP investment professionals have been charged to the Partnership's portfolio companies is not permitted under the LPA. Paragraph 57(f) of the Petition is repeated.

27.4. The last sentence of paragraph 71 is noted. The recharging of costs to the Portfolio Companies transfers value away from those companies to ATLS to the detriment of the Partnership and petitioners.

27.5. Paragraph 71(b) is not admitted and the second and third sentences of paragraph 27.3 above are repeated.

27.6. Paragraph 71(c) is not admitted.

Failure to provide information

28. As to paragraph 74(b):

28.1. Paragraph 74(b)(i) is admitted.

28.2. It is denied that the Petitioners made a representation that a financing agreement as contemplated in Amendment 22 would be available as a matter of course. The Petitioners will rely on Paragraph 18(l) of the LPA for its full terms and effect.

28.3. Since Amendment 22 was executed, the Petitioners have sought and are continuing to seek in good faith to sell or refinance their interests in royalties ATP LLC will receive from Braeburn. However, attempts to achieve a sale or refinancing have been unsuccessful due to the GP's failure to engage in good faith with proposals made by the Petitioners.

28.4. It is admitted that the Petitioners agreed a budget for Replicate on or around 11 February 2025 to which budget the Petitioners will refer for its full terms and effect. That budget was contingent upon at least $300 million being realised by the Petitioners on a sale or refinancing of their interest in ATP LLC.

28.5. The Rigmora LPs obtained non-binding term sheets in respect of the Royalty Financing which they passed on to Dr Harrison in the first half of 2025. Representatives of Braeburn also had regular discussions with potential lenders and the broker engaged to assist in respect of the Royalty Financing, Greenhill. In June 2025, the Rigmora LPs obtained non-binding term sheets from two prospective lenders which they passed on to Dr Harrison and the President and Chief Executive Officer of Braeburn Inc (Mr Mike Derkacz) on 24 June 2025 requesting comments. Over a month passed without comment from either Dr Harrison or the remainder of the Braeburn board. The Petitioners requested that the matter be discussed but not formally presented to the Braeburn board because the lengthy delay on the part of Dr Harrison and the Braeburn board meant that the Petitioners were making urgent enquiries of the potential financiers to ensure the terms were still valid. Otherwise, paragraph 74(b)(v) is denied.

28.6. Save as aforesaid, paragraph 74(b) is denied. Without prejudice to the generality of that denial, it is specifically denied (if it be so alleged) that any failure on the part of the Petitioners to sell or refinance the interests in royalties ATP LLC will receive from Braeburn means that they are "obligated to return to funding the Partnership and the portfolio companies in a rational manner". By entering into Amendment 22, the GP expressly agreed that approval by the Petitioners of any new budgets in respect of the five Projects identified therein was expressly contingent upon at least $300 million being realised by the Petitioners on a sale or refinancing of their interest in ATP LLC.

29. As to paragraph 74(d):

29.1. It is admitted that the GP has provided expedited discovery of the Partnership's general ledger in the Delaware Proceedings and that the Partnership's then Chief Financial Officer attended a deposition but has since left the Partnership for reasons that have not been explained to the Petitioners. To the extent it is averred that this satisfies the Petitioners' rights under paragraph 16 of the LPA and/or section 22 of the ELP Act, it is denied.

29.2. It is admitted that the GP has produced copies of various agreements in the Delaware Proceedings and that Mr Yanchik was deposed. To the extent it is averred that this satisfies the Petitioners' rights under paragraph 16 of the LPA and/or section 22 of the ELP Act, it is denied.

30. As to paragraph 75(a):

30.1. Paragraph 75(a)(i) is denied. In an email dated 24 June 2025 from Mr Yuri Bogdanov (on behalf of the Petitioners) to Dr Harrison (on behalf of the GP), Mr Bogdanov expressly stated: "our right to obtain information arises out of the broad information rights contained in section 16 of the LPA and in any event under Section 22 of the ELP Act". Further, and in any event, it is denied (if it be so alleged) that a limited partner is required expressly to refer to section 22 of the ELP Act when requesting information from a general partner, or that a general partner can refuse to provide such information on the basis that section 22 of the ELP Act has not been referred to expressly.

30.2. Paragraph 75(a)(ii) is denied. The Petitioners are entitled under paragraph 16 of the LPA and Section 22 of the ELP Act to the information requested from the GP, and the GP was not permitted to refuse to provide that information. It is specifically denied that the Petitioners' requests were made for an "improper purpose". The fact that the GP has wrongly alleged that the Petitioners had an improper purpose when seeking to exercise their contractual and statutory rights is a further reason for their justifiable loss of trust and confidence in the GP's ability to manage the Partnership's affairs in the interests of the Partnership as a whole.

30.3. The first to third sentences of paragraph 75(a)(iii) are admitted. The final sentence of paragraph 75(iii) is not admitted. The Petitioners do not know and cannot confirm if all documents requested by them have been provided.

31. Paragraph 75(e) alleges dishonesty and / or bad faith against the Petitioners. It also alleges that the Petitioners have an improper collateral purpose in presenting the Petition. Those allegations are baseless, should not have been made and are denied. Paragraphs 4.2.1 to 4.2.3 above are repeated.

Conflicts of interest and breach of fiduciary duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership

32. As to ~~the final two sentences of~~ paragraph 79:

32.1. The GP's denial of the Petitioners' averment that they have lost trust and confidence in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership is an allegation of, or akin to an allegation of, bad faith or dishonesty against the Petitioners. That allegation is baseless, should not have been made and is denied. The Petitioners have genuinely lost trust and confidence in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership for the reasons set out in the Petition.

32.2. The GP's allegation that the Petitioners' allegations concerning the GP's conflicts of interest "have been manufactured falsely to inflate the Petitioners' grounds for the Petition" is an allegation of, or akin to an allegation of, bad faith or dishonesty against the Petitioners and is denied.

32.3. Paragraphs 4.2.2 to 4.2.3 above are repeated.

32A. As to paragraph 79A(a), it is denied that the question of whether the Petitioners have previously identified or made a complaint over the GP's decision making being infected by conflicts of interest is relevant to the question of whether: (a) the GP's decision making is, or has become, infected by conflicts of interest in relation to the matters set out in the Petition; or (b) whether the GP has acted or is acting improperly as a consequence of such conflicts. It is denied that the Petitioners have ever consented to the GP's decision making on behalf of the Partnership being subject to any conflicts of interest.

33. As to paragraph 82(d) it is denied that the legal costs and disbursements of the GP in the Delaware Proceedings, Writ or the Petition fall to be paid by the Partnership or that the Petitioners are otherwise required to contribute capital to the Partnership for the purposes of paying such costs and disbursements.

33A. As to paragraph 82A:

33A.1 It is admitted and averred that paragraph 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement provides that the GP would pay its own costs of the Braeburn Proceedings using its own money, including money it has received as part of a Management Fee.

33A.3 Section 19 of the LPA defines "Management Fee" as having the meaning set out in the "Management Agreement" entered into between the Partnership and Apple Tree Venture Management LLP ("ATVM") dated 31 May 2017 (the "Management Agreement"). ATVM is owned by Dr Harrison.

33A.4 Under s.2 of the Management Agreement, the Management Fee is a yearly fee in the amount of US$3,000,000 (or such greater amount as may be approved by the Petitioners) payable to ATVM.

33A.5. Under the LPA the "Management Fee" payable to ATVM is separate and distinct from the annual fee payable by the Partnership to ATLS (the "ATLS Fee"). The ATLS Fee is not a "Management Fee" under the LPA or within the meaning of the Settlement Agreement.

33A.6 Further, payments received by ATLS in respect of the ATLS Fee are not the GP's "own money" for the purposes of the Settlement Agreement. The ATLS Fee is paid to ATLS, which is a Partnership asset, for the purposes of covering operating expenses of the Partnership.

33A.7 In the premises, the third sentence of paragraph 82A is denied. The GP was not permitted under the LPA or the Settlement Agreement to use the ATLS Fee to pay costs of the Braeburn Proceedings.

34. As to paragraph 83:

34.1. It is denied that the Petitioners have approved the GP's proposal to continue to provide funding to the Early-Stage Companies. They consider that further investments in the Early-Stage Companies is not in the interests of the Partnership, and have communicated the same to the GP on multiple occasions (including in the 15 May Email).

34.2. It is denied that the Petitioners are in breach of their funding obligations under the LPA.

34.3. It is denied that the historical performance of the Partnership is relevant to the question of whether the Partnership is now being run in accordance with the reasonable expectations of the limited partners or in accordance with the LPA.

34.4. Paragraph 83(d) is denied. The GP intended to confiscate 50% of the Petitioners' interests in the Partnership, since it had sought relief to that effect in the Delaware Complaint.

34.5. The "global default mechanism" alleged by the GP is denied. Paragraphs 24.1 and 24.2 above are repeated.

(3.03 pm GMT)

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Good morning.

MR SCOTT: My Lord, good morning.

I appear, as before, with Mr Faulkner for the plaintiffs and petitioners, the Rigmora LPs; my learned friends Mr Ayres and Ms White for the defendant, the GP.

Submissions by MR SCOTT

As your Lordship knows, this is the PTR ahead of the January trial in these proceedings. We were last before your Lordship at the end of November, when your Lordship dismissed the mediation and privilege summons brought by the GP.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: There have since been two very significant developments in Delaware. The Delaware judgment came out on Friday, 5 December, and there followed, on Tuesday, the 9th, commencement by the GP of Chapter 11 proceedings against itself and against the Partnership and against ATLS. There has since been a flurry of activity in Delaware. Subject to your Lordship, what I want to do this morning is address the court on three topics. The first is the Delaware judgment and its significance for your Lordship's purposes, and its principal significance is that, as a result of the Delaware judgment, the substratum of the Partnership is now gone, and it is gone because the Chancellor accepted our case as to what our total contingent subscriptions are and accepted our case that we have an unfettered discretion over budget approval. And the upshot of that is that once we have complied with the Delaware judgment, as we will do in the coming days, and paid those of May capital calls which the Chancellor has required us to pay, there will be just US$29 million left in undrawn contingent subscriptions left to call and we will have an unfettered discretion over budget approvals in respect of any future calls for that sum.

So the Partnership has no future in the form that was envisaged by the parties under the LPA. As I say, its substratum has gone and so it needs to be wound up. My Lord, that will be the first topic.

The second will be the Chapter 11 proceedings. As your Lordship will have seen from our skeleton, we stayed(?) and are moving in Delaware to have them dismissed on the basis that they are a bad faith filing, an attempt to avoid the consequences of the Delaware judgment, a device by which to kill the January trial in your Lordship's court that the GP agreed should take place, and a device pursued in circumstances where the Partnership is not facing financial distress in the slightest, its stated assets being multiple orders of magnitude greater than the paltry debts mentioned in the petitions.

My Lord, the Delaware Bankruptcy Court will rule in due course on the motion to dismiss. What I want to focus on is the implications, again for your Lordship's purposes, of the commencement of the Chapter 11 proceedings having regard to the relevant provisions of the Limited Partnership Agreement, the LPA, and the associated provisions of the ELP Act, because, regardless of whether the Chapter 11 filings were done in good faith or bad faith, regardless of that, the contractually agreed and statutory consequences of their commencement in respect of the GP is that the Partnership shall now be wound up under the supervision of this court. So the issue that now confronts your Lordship in these proceedings is not whether the Partnership should be wound up, but rather how and by whom.

My Lord, that brings me to the third topic that I wish to address, the question of how your Lordship should manage these proceedings in the light of these recent developments in Delaware.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Mr Scott, before we go much further, can

I just make sure that the message has got back to everyone that we absolutely must be finished by 2 o'clock? If we have to sit over lunch, we can do that, but I've read everyone's skeletons, I've read the Delaware judgment, I've read the transcript of the hearing before the bankruptcy judge in Delaware, so I've got a pretty good picture of the current lie of the land in Delaware, and so I would hope that this morning -- and also I'm also very conscious of what the parties are allowed to argue in front of me as permitted by the bankruptcy judge in Delaware and what they're not currently allowed to argue in front of me, so I would hope that that might speed up matters today somewhat.

MR SCOTT: I'm grateful, my Lord. That indication had indeed come to us. I would not expect to be much more than an hour on my feet.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Right, okay.

MR SCOTT: My Lord, I should also say at this point, there is, I understand, a further hearing in Delaware, I think scheduled for 3.30 today.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I did see that.

MR SCOTT: And it would be helpful, if possible, if your Lordship were able to indicate at the end of submissions this morning what your Lordship's view is on the lie of the land and the way forward so that that can be communicated —— JUSTICE ASIF KC: Communicated.

MR SCOTT: —— (overspeaking) —— in Delaware ——
JUSTICE ASIF KC: No, that's understandable, Mr Scott, and I'm happy to do that —— well, assuming we've reached a position where I'm able to.
MR SCOTT: I'm grateful, my Lord.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: I will provide whatever assistance to the judge in Delaware that I can.
MR SCOTT: I'm grateful.
My Lord, just to complete the overview on the third topic, how your Lordship should take forward these proceedings, what we invite your Lordship to do is to direct a two—day hearing, ideally in the week commencing 19 January. We understand that week had been reserved in your Lordship's diary for judgment writing following the trial. And the purpose of that two—day hearing would be to determine the contractual and statutory consequences of the recent development in Delaware as a matter of Cayman law, and they are the paragraph 10(b) issues, as we have termed them, identified in our skeleton at paragraph 12. Perhaps can I just ask your Lordship to take that up.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've got that.

MR SCOTT: Your Lordship sees at 12.1, 12.2 and 12.3 the paragraph 10(b) issues. They are all issues of Cayman law. They are discrete issues capable of determination without a need to resolve any factual issues, because they're issues that —— they're simply the legal consequences of what has happened in Delaware.
We say that a determination from your Lordship on those issues would be helpful to the parties in the context of these Cayman proceedings because, if we are right about them, they will in practice dispose of the case. A determination from your Lordship is also likely to be very helpful in the context of the Chapter 11 proceedings in Delaware, because it would provide to the Delaware Bankruptcy Court and to third parties an authoritative statement of the Cayman law consequences of what has happened and that can then be factored into whatever decisions need to be taken by the bankruptcy judge in the US proceedings, and it will obviate, for example, the need for the US bankruptcy judge to hear Cayman law expert evidence on these issues, because there could be no one more expert than a judge of this court pronouncing on the issues as they arise in this particular case.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Can I just understand, how does this fit in with your intended application in terms of whether to strike out the —— or to dismiss the Chapter 11 proceedings? Are you saying that whatever I say about the position of the ELP and the paragraph 10(b) issues needs to be determined before that application is made, or is it not?

MR SCOTT: So that application has been made.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, it's been made, but I know it's not been heard?
MR SCOTT: It hasn't been heard yet. The parties, as I understand it, are in a process of agreeing a schedule to brief and then have that motion served —— JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. And the Delaware judge has indicated pretty plainly that she's not going to make a decision on that in time for the trial here ——
MR SCOTT: No, indeed.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: —— the intended trial here to go ahead.
MR SCOTT: Indeed. And the way we see this working is that your Lordship's determination on the paragraph 10(b) issues will be relevant for the purpose of disposing of the motion to dismiss. They will also be relevant more broadly.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: But how are you going —— in that case, how are you going to be able to run that before you've got a decision from the Delaware judge permitting you to do that, given the automatic stay under Chapter 11?

MR SCOTT: My Lord, because what we intend to do, and to do before the end of this week, is to make a motion to vary the moratorium —— JUSTICE ASIF KC: All right.
MR SCOTT: —— to permit us to have the paragraph 10(b) issues determined.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Right.
MR SCOTT: If —— my Lord, I understand the position in Delaware so far as the rules are concerned to be that, having made that motion, the hearing can come on, if it can be accommodated, within 14 days thereafter. That takes us to the very early part of January, and we would hope that the Delaware bankruptcy judge would hear us on the motion to vary the moratorium in very early January to enable us to come back before your Lordship later in the month to argue out the point. So that's the schedule that we have in mind.
All I'm asking today is that your Lordship reserves the slot in the court's diary and we work towards it. But, of course, if the judge in Delaware cannot accommodate the motion to vary, or is not prepared to grant motion to vary, then we will need to come back and deal with the consequences of that, because, as I hope we made plain in the skeleton, and let me make it plain again orally, we intend to comply with the moratorium, and nothing that I'm saying to your Lordship today should be misrepresented or weaponised in Delaware as any suggestion to the contrary.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: No, that's fine. I just —— I was just trying to work out how the chronology would be likely —— allay(?) in my own head how the chronology would be likely to work out.
MR SCOTT: That's the chronology as we see things.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Right.
For what it's worth, the week commencing 19 January is —— looks to me to be possible, but it does depend on quite a lot of good will from the judge in Delaware being able to accommodate your motion in time, and also because, presumably, everyone is going to say that unless and until the Delaware judge has granted your relief, no one can properly start spending on all the money preparing for the paragraph 10(b) arguments.
What I can say at this stage is, if the 19th —— if the week of 19 January is not feasible, then, subject to 26 January being a bank holiday, I could do later in that week. I could do the week of the 2nd. But then I can't do anything until 2 March.
MR SCOTT: Just so I have that clear, my Lord.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. The week of the 26th, the 26th is a public holiday. I have something on the 27th, but I could do 28, 29 or 30 January.

The week of the 2nd, I've got a short hearing on Tuesday morning, but apart from that, that week is currently clear. And then I could not to anything, because of trials, until 2 March.
MR SCOTT: That's a very helpful indication, my Lord. Could I just turn my back for one moment?
(Pause)
So, my Lord, with that ——
JUSTICE ASIF KC: And can I also just say, again, with a view to trying to assist the parties, it seems to me it's preferable that I at least allocate some time at this stage so that there is a space set aside in my calendar, which fills up, as everyone knows, fairly quickly, because if we don't do it now and simply wait until the judge in Delaware has ruled, that builds in at least three or four weeks of unnecessary delay in the resolution of the matters you want to have determined.
MR SCOTT: Indeed. And the concern is, on our side of the court at least, before you know it, those issues aren't getting determined until the spring.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.
MR SCOTT: And we do say they really are issues of fundamental importance. I mean, in some ways they're gating(?) issues in the case.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: And the other thing, in my view, is this. If it turns out that the Delaware judge says, no, you can't do any of this, then it's much easier to release the time than it is to try and work in the other direction.
MR SCOTT: Well, we respectfully agree, my Lord.
My Lord, with that introduction, can I deal with my first topic, which is the Delaware judgment and its implications.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.
MR SCOTT: If I can ask your Lordship please to take up our skeleton, paragraph 16.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. I thought it was very interesting how both sides managed to portray the judgment as a resounding victory.
MR SCOTT: Well ——
JUSTICE ASIF KC: I mean, that's par for the course.
MR SCOTT: Indeed. My Lord, without meaning to be flippant, it's an odd victory won by the GP that results in a Chapter 11 filing just a couple of days later, but there we are.
My Lord, what I want to do is just invite your Lordship's attention to the contrast between what the GP was asking for in May and what it achieved in the Delaware judgment. Can I ask your Lordship to re—read the subparagraphs of paragraph 16, which summarise the GP's ask back in May.

(Pause)
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've read that.
MR SCOTT: And if your Lordship would then please read paragraph 17, we set out there what we say the effect of seeking this relief was.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've read that.
MR SCOTT: I'm grateful.
And as your Lordship knows from the submissions I made at the August hearing in this matter, our position consistently has been that there was never any basis in the LPA for this suite of relief, and what the Delaware complaint as issued was was an account in effect to restructure the Partnership through orders for declaratory relief and supposed specific performance, specific performance of the obligations which didn't exist under the LPA but which the GP invited the Delaware Court to impose.
My Lord, the absence of any contractual basis for that relief is illustrated by two things. The first is that the GP had abandoned a good deal of it by the time the Delaware trial took place, with more still abandoned come closing arguments.

The second is the fact that the Delaware Chancellor has found, in her judgment following the trial, that the GP's case in the most part has failed. It failed in particular as regards the level of total contingent subscriptions, and it failed in particular as regards the attempt to strip us of budget approval rights.

If your Lordship will then go, please, to paragraph 18 in our skeleton.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: Your Lordship sees that by the time the music stopped, so to speak, and we got to the end of the trial in Delaware, there were five claims left in play, which we identify in paragraph 18. First, the claim for a declaration that we had breached the LPA or our common law duties by refusing to consider budgets in good faith and had waived our rights to do so in the future. That claim failed and the declaration sought was refused. And importantly, the claim failed because the alleged duty relied upon, derived from Braganza, was held by the Delaware judge not to exist in the context of this partnership, and that chimes with an observation that your Lordship made at the August hearing, that the application of Braganza in the context of an ELP did not appear to reflect Cayman law, as it does not.

My Lord, second, there was a claim from the GP for specific performance requiring payment of the disputed capital calls made in May. Now, this succeeded to the extent of US$96 million or so of those calls and we intend to pay them as soon as the GP supplies us with the account details required under the Chancellor's post-judgment order, which includes protective measures to hold the payment in a segregated account to the order of the US Bankruptcy Court.

My Lord, third, the GP had sought a declaration that its filing of the Delaware complaint was not done in bad faith and was consistent with its fiduciary duties and the terms of the LPA. The Chancellor declined to make that declaration, or to deal with the issue in her judgment, and that is because, as she said in her judgment, it was an issue more appropriate for determination by your Lordship.

My Lord, fourth, the GP had sought a declaration that the default provisions in the LPA had not been amended. That declaration bore no resemblance to the relief initially sought in the Delaware complaint, whereby, if granted, the GP would have been entitled to apply a default charge across all of our interests in the Partnership. That request was abandoned come the trial. The declaration that was sought in its place was pointless, because we had never disputed that the default provisions had not been amended, and the Chancellor duly refused to grant that pointless declaration.

My Lord, fifth and finally, the GP had pursued a claim for costs, but the Chancellor dismissed this too, finding that the claim had been waived in the course of arguments.

My Lord, the summary I've just given you is set out in a bit more detail in paragraph 19 with references to the Delaware judgment, but I'm not proposing, in the light of your Lordship's indication, to take that up at this stage. But we do say that there is a stark contrast between what the GP sought to achieve by its filing in May and what it has achieved. The GP had claimed that the Partnership had $550 million of capital commitments remaining, had more than $214 million of unfunded approved budgets and that we had lost our rights to approve further budgets. And one can readily see that, if that reflected the true position under the LPA, this Partnership would have a future. But it does not reflect the true position under the LPA, as the Chancellor has found, because following the Delaware judgment, the GP has at most $29 million in capital commitments left to call from us(?), and in circumstances where we are free to reject further budgets, as it is our right to do and as we are inclined to do given that we have no trust and confidence in Dr Harrison and the GP.

My Lord, we respectfully submit that, in those circumstances, the Partnership substratum is simply gone and there is no serious argument to the contrary. That's not an issue that turns upon the facts about whether the loss of trust and confidence is justified. It doesn't depend on any of that. It just depends on the financial implications of the Delaware judgment. So what we would envisage as regards determination of that issue in January really are submissions to your Lordship on the substratum case law and then the application of the principles from those cases to the undisputed financial landscape that results from the Delaware judgment.

My Lord, can I make one thing clear at this point, and it's important that this not be misrepresented in Delaware or weaponised there. In saying what we do about the loss of substratum of the Partnership, we are not saying -- we are not saying that the Partnership is financially distressed. Plainly it is not: it has billions of dollars in assets, it has piles of cash. There is no suggestion that the Partnership is unable to meet its liabilities as they fall due, nor any suggestion of any risk that such difficulties may arise at the Partnership level, whether imminently or otherwise. The point is not that the Partnership is in financial distress. The point is that Dr Harrison has so managed the Partnership capital that the purpose for which it was formed can no longer be carried out. It is impossible or impracticable, the language used by the case law, to continue where the Partnership has just 29 million in remaining available capital, a sum that would soon be burned through by the ATLS fee that Dr Harrison causes to be charged.

Now, he must have recognised that that would be the position if we were correct in our contentions on total contingent subscription amounts and our unfettered right under the LPA to give or refuse budget approvals, and that is no doubt why he caused the GP to put its case so high in the Delaware complaint as issued in May and to persist in the fantasy that we had agreed to contribute hundreds of millions more in capital than we ever did, because once the true contractual position is ascertained, as it now has been, it was obvious and it is obvious that the Partnership cannot continue its business within the contractually agreed framework of the LPA.

And, my Lord, the attempt by the GP to achieve a restructuring through the Delaware complaint having died with the Delaware judgment, what happened is the pivot just a few days later to Chapter 11 as the means by which to achieve the restructuring. And the commencement of those Chapter 11 proceedings effectively concedes that the substratum of the Partnership has gone, because if the Partnership could continue for the purpose for which it was formed, there would be no basis to seek restructuring under Chapter 11.

Importantly, the GP is not —— is not seeking Chapter 11 relief to deal with any insolvency at the Partnership level, because there is none, and my Lord, that is apparent from the Chapter 11 filings themselves. I don't know if your Lordship has had the opportunity to look at those.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: I didn't look at those, no.

MR SCOTT: Perhaps I should just show them to your Lordship. They're in the hearing bundle and they're in broadly similar terms. If your Lordship would just give me a moment to find an example. If we take one in the case of the Partnership, it's at tab 14. Your Lordship sees that it's expressed to be a "Voluntary Petition". It certainly wasn't voluntary from our perspective.

And if your Lordship turns to page 336 in the bundle, your Lordship sees the estimated assets of the Partnership are put at between $1 billion and $10 billion and the estimated liabilities are put at between $100,000 and $500,000. Well, if that's financial distress, I suspect many of us in the world would wish to be financially distressed. That's the basis upon which this restructuring relief is being sought.

My Lord, whatever the relief that will ultimately be sought in Delaware if the Chapter 11 proceedings are not struck out, it will be a form of reorganisation that attempts to vary the terms upon which the Rigmora LPs have agreed to participate in the Partnership and to do so without our consent, and again, that illustrates that the substratum of the Partnership is gone.

My Lord, another illustration, if you would go, please, to tab 24 in the hearing bundle at page 621, and this is a declaration of Dr Harrison that was filed earlier this week in the Chapter 11 proceedings. Can I ask your Lordship, please, to read paragraphs 16 and 17.

(Pause)

As your Lordship sees, Dr Harrison there admits that one of his aims in pursuing the Chapter 11 proceedings is to effect "a restructuring of the Partnership's capital structure" and to "bring in new investors to replace the defaulting limited partners". Well, we're not defaulting partners and the suggestion otherwise is difficult to reconcile with the injunction that your Lordship made earlier this year and continued in August. That prevents the GP from treating us as defaulting partners on the basis of those disputed capital calls. As I have said, we intend to comply with them as soon as the GP provides us with the relevant account details.

But, my Lord, the fact that Dr Harrison is taking this stance in the Chapter 11 proceedings, whatever the rights and wrongs of it, further illustrates that the substratum of this Partnership is gone, because on his own evidence, his own evidence, he's seeking a restructuring of the Partnership's capital structure and admission of new investors, all without our consent or without any right to do it under the LPAs. My Lord, it is, with respect, impossible to see how Dr Harrison thinks he can get away with that, given there is a petition on foot in your Lordship's court and given the provisions of Section 99 of the Companies Act, under which, in the event that a winding—up order is made, any alteration in the status of the Partnership's members would be void absent a validation order from your Lordship, and there is no suggestion from the GP that it intends to seek one of those, as it has not during the life of these proceedings on a single occasion.

Now, my Lord, these are among the points that we say illustrate the abusive nature of the Chapter 11 proceedings, and the Delaware Court will rule on that in due course. I'm obviously not asking your Lordship to rule upon it. The key point for your Lordship's purposes is that the commencement of the Chapter 11 proceedings in the circumstances of this case concedes that the substratum of the Partnership has now gone and that would be a sufficient basis for the court to wind up the Partnership on just and equitable grounds and to do so summarily.

My Lord, that brings me to my second topic, which is the contractual and statutory consequences of the Chapter 11 proceedings themselves.

My Lord, before I address that, just a brief word, if I may, on the circumstances in which the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings were brought. They are nothing short of extraordinary. Your Lordship will recall that back in August, when the GP abandoned its stay application, it agreed to a trial of these Cayman proceedings in January. It joined with us in asking your Lordship to make available court time to have the dispute resolved because it was in the interests of all the parties that it be resolved at the January trial. The GP did not indicate at that stage that it might seek Chapter 11 protection, nor was that suggested to your Lordship at the October mention, the October CMC, the recent hearings on mediation and privilege summonses, and that's more than a week of court time during which the GP kept this under wraps. Nor was it ever suggested to the Chancellor in Delaware. Nor had the possibility ever been suggested in the correspondence that passed between the parties. The Chapter 11 proceedings were entirely unheralded. The first we heard of them was in a casual email from Mr Berdon(?) of Quinn Emanuel, the individual who had filed misleading evidence before your Lordship at the last hearing, for which my learned friend Mr Ayres rightly apologised. Now, we learned from him in the course of email exchanges on 9 December about settling the post−trial order in Delaware. Mr Berdon said, "Well, the GP has filed Chapter 11 proceedings". And that was remarkable and remarkable in circumstances where the GP had repeatedly represented to us that it was not seeking to imperil the January trial.

If your Lordship will just go, please, to tab 6 in the hearing bundle, your Lordship should have there an email from Walkers to the court on Monday of this week, 8 December −− I'm so sorry −−

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Last week.

MR SCOTT: −− Monday last week.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: I'm so sorry, I've lost a week! Monday last week:

"Dear Ms Wood,

"Thank you for your email.

"We write to confirm that we are instructed to appeal the Judge's decision on the Privilege Summonses."

Well, no surprise that those instructions were given. But then this:

"In order to progress our client's appeal promptly and so as not to imperil the January trial fixture, we would be grateful if the reasoned judgment could be handed down as soon as reasonably practicable."

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I spent most of the next day working on the draft judgment because I also had the request from the Court of Appeal to finalise it as soon as possible.

MR SCOTT: And the GP didn't trouble to tell your Lordship that at the same time that your Lordship was working away on the judgment, the GP and Quinn Emanuel were working away on these petitions. And your Lordship may wish to ask Mr Ayres, when he gets on his feet, when Walkers first knew that this was underway, because it's very difficult to see how an email can have been sent properly in those terms if Walkers knew that Chapter 11 filings were going to be made.

My Lord, likewise, if you turn the tab, please, to tab 7, we've got a letter here from Walkers on 9 December, the very same day that the filings were made. It's dealing with the appeal in relation to the privilege summonses, and your Lordship sees, at paragraph 3, Walkers say this:

"... for the avoidance of doubt, we reject any suggestion in Your Letter that our client's appeal is in any way unmeritorious or a tactical attempt to delay the trial."

Or could multiply these communications. Take, for example, the communication to the Court of Appeal demanding that it convene a special sitting in an attempt to preserve the January trial.

Your Lordship will recall from prior hearings in this case the concerns that we have repeatedly expressed about the GP's wrecking strategy in relation to your Lordship's jurisdiction and the repeated attempts made to forestall this court's examination of the GP's conduct and the application of its winding up jurisdiction to this Cayman ELP. Your Lordship will recall the failed stay applications, the one abandoned by Ms Prevezer in August and the one informally made by Mr Ayres when he came on the scene at the October mention. Your Lordship will recall the charade at the October CMC when the GP turned up without any proposals for directions to trial other than that we kick everything off for a two-day CMC to be listed who knows when. Your Lordship will recall the failed mediation summonses, the failed privilege summonses, the manoeuvrings in Delaware by which we were forced to withdraw our PL application. And, my Lord, the unheralded Chapter 11 proceedings coming hot on the heels of the disaster that the Delaware judgment was for the GP is all of a piece with the wrecking strategy that Dr Harrison has evidently settled upon in relation to proceedings in your Lordship's court.

Your Lordship sees that strategy in some ways reach the denouement shortly following the Chapter 11 proceedings, because if your Lordship will go next to tab 9 in the hearing bundle, does your Lordship have the -- an email from Ms Moseley of Walkers on the 10th?

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: And your Lordship will no doubt have read this,

I suspect, as it came in. Walkers asserting that the effect of what had happened in Delaware was to automatically stay these Cayman proceedings, such that the PTR and the January trial had to be vacated. Now, that is quite wrong as a matter of Cayman law, as we explain in our skeleton, because it's a decision for your Lordship how to conduct these proceedings, and I'll return to that in due course.

But when we declined to acquiesce to the GP's suggestion that the PTR should simply come out of the diary, declined because we said we wished to update your Lordship on these important developments, we received a truly remarkable letter from Quinn Emanuel. And if your Lordship will please turn that up, it's tab 10 --

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've read that.

MR SCOTT: You've read the letter? I'm grateful. And your Lordship will no doubt have formed his own view on the appropriateness of a US law firm writing personally to a Cayman attorney, threatening him with severe consequences in the event of any knowing violation of the automatic stay. And my Lord, we would invite you to note the contrast between the aggressive tone that Quinn Emanuel took in this letter to Mr Farmer with the position that they adopted before the judge in Delaware on Monday.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've read the transcript as well.

MR SCOTT: Your Lordship will note that the Quinn Emanuel counsel on that occasion did not draw to the Delaware judge's attention the letter that Quinn had sent just a few days prior.

As your Lordship knows, we filed the motions to strike out the Delaware bankruptcy proceedings on 12 December -- that was on Friday. Ancillary to that, we moved to shorten the timetables for the GP to respond and that led to the scheduling hearing on Monday, and your Lordship has indicated that you've read the transcript so I don't need to go back over that. Your Lordship will have seen that the Delaware bankruptcy judge was content for the PTR to go ahead and that is why we are before your Lordship today.

I've already addressed your Lordship on what we see as the next steps in Delaware, a motion to vary the stay this week, a request to the Delaware judge, if she can accommodate it, for a ruling in early January that will then clear the field for a determination by your Lordship of the paragraph 10(b) issues.

So let me turn then to those paragraph 10(b) issues, and I've already addressed your Lordship on the substratum aspect of it. I want to turn next to the contractual and statutory consequences of the commencement of the Chapter 11 proceedings, because in the GP's desperate attempt to avoid your Lordship's jurisdiction, it seems to have overlooked the statutory and contractual consequences, because this latest front in the wrecking strategy is in fact a form of kamikaze. If I can ask your Lordship please to take up the authorities bundle at tab 3.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: (Inaudible) -- the ELP Act. If I just invite your Lordship's attention to section 36(1):

"An [ELP] shall ..."

Shall:

"... be voluntarily wound up in accordance with the provisions of the partnership agreement --

"(a) at the time or upon the occurrence of any event specified in the partnership agreement ..."

And if your Lordship will then move ahead, please, to page 10, your Lordship sees that:

"The winding up of an exempted limited partnership shall be deemed to commence upon the earlier to occur ... of the following ..."

And then (d):

"The occurrence of an event provided by the partnership agreement upon which the [ELP] is to be wound up ..."

If your Lordship will then take up the hearing bundle, please, at tab 5, and if your Lordship will go, please, to page 55 —— that's a bad reference. It should be page 56. At the foot of the page, you should have paragraph 10(b). And (a) having provided that:
"The Partnership shall continue in perpetuity, unless it is sooner dissolved as provided in Paragraph 10(b) or by operation of law."
10(b) says this:
"The Partnership shall be wound up ..."
"Shall be wound up":
"... and dissolved (i) upon any event in respect of the General Partner specified in Section 15(5) of the ELP Law ..."
This LPA defines the ELP law as the 2012 revision as amended from time to time. And the events to which section 15(5) of the 2012 revision referred are now found in section 36(7) of the Act. And if your Lordship would please go to section 36(7), your Lordship sees the relevant events there set out, and at (b), one such event is "the commencement of liquidation, bankruptcy or dissolution proceedings", and there can be no doubt, we respectfully ——
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Well, it's in relation to the sole or last remaining qualified General Partner, so it's specific to the gentleman.

MR SCOTT: Indeed, yes. And the point I was —— the follow—on point is that, where the General Partner has commenced Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings against itself, that is plainly an event of withdrawal within the meaning of this section and that brings about the termination provision in 10(b) of the LPA.
The effect of these provisions, the contract and the statute under which the Partnership was created and to which it owes its sole existence, the effect is that a voluntary winding up is deemed to have commenced upon 9 December with the commencement of the Chapter 11 proceedings in respect of the GP. So that is why I say the question is no longer whether the Partnership should be wound up, the parties have agreed that it shall, with the statutory revision (?) that it shall, in the events which have occurred, namely the Chapter 11 proceedings in respect of the GP. And so the question now is how and by whom the winding up should be conducted.
Now, our preference is for a compulsory winding up order to be made.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Can I just ask one question, Mr Scott?
MR SCOTT: Of course.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: So if that is right, then doesn't it have the result that Section 99 only applies from 9 December onwards, so you each say you may want or you may have reason to want to try to persuade me to wind up on the existing petition?

MR SCOTT: Well, that was the first reason why our preference is that there be a compulsory winding—up order on the petition, to preserve the operation of Section 99. So that's the first reason and it's an important reason.
There is a further reason, that we apprehend —— and I don't put it any higher than that —— but we apprehend that it may be easier for court—appointed liquidators in a compulsory liquidation to obtain Chapter 15 recognition in the States and it would be for voluntary liquidation.
So that's our preference, my Lord, and that's where the substratum point comes in, because if we are right on the substratum point, the consequence would be a winding—up order on the just and equitable basis in the existing petition.
But, my Lord, an alternative approach to the preference I've just set out would be for the court to exercise its power to remove the GP as liquidating agent in the voluntary liquidation that is presently on foot and replace it with court appointees. My Lord, the Cayman Court of Appeal has confirmed that there is jurisdiction to do just that. That's the One Thousand & One Voices case to which we refer at paragraph 35 of our skeleton and which your Lordship has at tab 8 of the authorities bundle, page 152.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: I also read that yesterday.
MR SCOTT: I'm grateful.
And we say this would be a clear case for exercising that jurisdiction where we have the majority interest in the winding up, and our preference is that it be done by court appointees rather than the GP. I don't know if your Lordship has had the opportunity to remind himself of what Justice Kawaley said on that issue at first instance in One Thousand & One Voices.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: You mean the paragraph at the end?
MR SCOTT: Indeed.
JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.
MR SCOTT: I am grateful. About the importance of giving due weight, save for exceptional circumstances ——
JUSTICE ASIF KC: To the parties with the economic interest.
MR SCOTT: Indeed, yes.
And again, it seems to us that that's an issue your Lordship properly can and should grapple with at the January hearing we seek and an issue that won't involve having to investigate whether trust and confidence has justifiably gone, it will simply involve taking due account of our interests as the majority in having the winding up conducted by court appointees, rather than a GP who we don't trust.

I turn finally to the question how the court should proceed. And as I said earlier, we have every intention of complying with and respecting the automatic stay, which is why we have applied to have it lifted and why we will be making a further application this week to vary it to permit the termination of the paragraph 10(b) issues in January. What I'm addressing your Lordship on, as I am bound to do as an attorney of this court, is your Lordship's powers and the principles that govern them, and it's a matter for your Lordship how to proceed in the light of the Chapter 11 proceedings. We address the principles in our skeleton at 36 to 40.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: The Chapter 11 stay is not a part of Cayman law. If it is to have effect in this jurisdiction, it would be as a result of a decision by your Lordship to exercise his own power to stay the proceedings. And in the usual way, your Lordship would do that where the interests of justice so require, where to do so would further the overriding objective, and recognising that while the court properly can and does give assistance to foreign courts conducting insolvency proceedings, the court cannot override local substantive law and local public policies. And as a matter of Cayman substantive law and public policy, it is ordinarily important to hold commercial parties to their bargains to protect the property rights that accrue to them under such bargains and to supervise the winding up of legal persons who owe their sole existence to Cayman law, as does this Partnership.

My Lord, we do say, applying those principles, the most appropriate course would be for your Lordship to direct the two-day hearing we seek to determine the paragraph 10(b) issues. As I said, they are discrete issues of Cayman law and they can be determined without the need to resolve any contentious issues of fact and where the resolution will, or at least may, provide a short answer to what should happen to this Partnership from the perspective of Cayman law under which it exists.

If we are right that the Delaware judgment means the substratum of the Partnership has gone or if we are right that the contractually agreed and statutory consequences of Chapter 11 are that we are in winding up now already, there will be no need for your Lordship to determine the various other issues in these proceedings.

My Lord, there is a further practical significance about these issues, because if we are right on the paragraph 10(b) point, then the Partnership has already entered voluntary winding up, and that being so, the GP is contractually obliged "to carry out the winding up of the affairs of the Partnership pursuant to the LPA". That is expressly set out in paragraph 11(a) of the LPA. And the provision continues to explain that the GP is required to do two things, first, cause the Partnership to satisfy its liabilities and obligations to creditors, and then, second, to distribute the net assets remaining to the Partners. Those are the purposes for which the GP can act now that voluntary winding up is in train and they are the powers that the GP can exercise.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: So are you saying that pursuant -- a restructuring is outside the scope of the powers?

MR SCOTT: Yes.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Right.

MR SCOTT: And that's among the reasons why we say it would be valuable to the Delaware bankruptcy judge to have your Lordship's views on that question, because if your Lordship agrees with us that pursuit of the restructuring is outside the GP's powers under the LPA, or at least an improper exercise of such powers that the GP has, that's another matter that the Delaware judge may wish to bear in mind in determining how to proceed with the Chapter 11. But we do say it's in the interests not just of the parties, but the Delaware court, and indeed all stakeholders in relation to these Chapter 11 proceedings, to have clarity on the position under Cayman law that results under this LPA and the ELP.

My Lord, we also say that would further the interests of justice and it would further the overriding objective. It would avoid junking in its entirety the January fixture that we have and the work that the parties have been doing in preparation for it. And the course we propose would not offend against the Chapter 11 stay because, as I have said, we intend to move in Delaware to have the stay lifted to the extent necessary to permit determination of the paragraph 10(b) issues.

My Lord, can I finish on this with a brief word about the GP's position today. As I understand the GP's skeleton, its position is that your Lordship should simply vacate the January trial and give the parties liberty to apply if the Chapter 11 stay is lifted. That's paragraph 8 of their skeleton. That will achieve the long-standing wrecking strategy that the GP has been pursuing. The only reason given for it in the GP's skeleton is the suggestion that "the most appropriate way to recognise the effect of the worldwide stay imposed by the US Bankruptcy Proceedings" is to vacate the trial. Your Lordship has my submission that the question is not one of recognition, at least not at this stage. There's no appointee or approved restructuring in the Chapter 11 proceedings yet and there may never be one. All there is at this stage is the institution of proceedings. That does not result in an automatic stay under Cayman law. The question is instead a matter for your Lordship's discretionary decision taking account of all the circumstances. And we do say the appropriate and the fair and just exercise of discretion is the one that we propose, whereby we try to do something useful in January that will assist all concerned in relation to progressing the orderly winding up of this Partnership.

If your Lordship will just give me one moment.

(Pause).

My Lord, if I can just come back to the helpful indication that your Lordship gave about dates in January and February. What we would propose is that we will contact the court tomorrow, after we have had the scheduling conference in Delaware.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: That's fine, Mr Scott.

MR SCOTT: But what I can say, my Lord, and this is the attempt to be helpful, and I hope there will be a similar attempt on the other side, but what I can say is that from our perspective, our Cayman team can do all of the dates that your Lordship has indicated. I think I can do most of them.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: That's fine.

MR SCOTT: And if Mr Ayres would be good enough to indicate his side's availability, and if your Lordship is persuaded to make these two days available, we can all work together to get something in that fits both here and with the schedule in Delaware.

Unless I can assist your Lordship further, and I'm sorry I've slightly overrun.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: No, that's fine, Mr Scott.

The only —— I'm not suggesting this to anyone, the parties will take their own counsel as to the course they want to pursue, but I'm certainly conscious that judges in the Grand Court have, in the past, made anti—suit injunctions to prevent proceeding with liquidations or Chapter 11 in the States where the companies are Cayman incorporated companies. So I'm alive to the fact that just because the GP has commenced Chapter 11 proceedings is not necessarily the end of the matter.

MR SCOTT: Well, I hope that has been heard on the other side of the court. Obviously it's not an application ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: No.

MR SCOTT: —— I am making to your Lordship, or can, but your Lordship is quite right to identify the court's own powers to protect its jurisdiction from these sorts of vexatious and oppressive attacks.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. Thank you, Mr Scott.

Yes, Mr Ayres.

Submissions by MR AYRES

MR AYRES: My Lord, I'm going to be in my submissions much shorter than my learned friend, and part of the reason for that is because I am going to be cautious about what I say in light of the fact there is Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings, including the fact that although the judge, Judge Silverstein, gave permission for this PTR to take place, that was not a permission, as far as we were concerned, where any party, myself included, or the opponents, could simply trespass on the merits, describe in detail the positions that they wish to put forward and effectively advance the merits. So, my Lord, I am not going to respond in detail to a lot of what my learned friend said and your Lordship should not take that as an acceptance that he has.

My Lord, just one point of information in relation to a document my learned friend took you to. If your Lordship can go —— I think he took you to page 632, which is part of the declaration of Dr Harrison in relation to the application for Chapter 11 reorganisation, and ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: It's actually 621, I think.

MR AYRES: Yes, and if your Lordship goes down in that document to the top of page 633 and reads paragraphs 46 and 47, you'll see, my Lord, in paragraph 47, it's set out there that:

"the Partnership owes more than $221 million in unfunded commitments to certain of the PortCos."

So, my Lord, that's obviously a fact that ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Well, isn't that reflected in the (inaudible)?

MR AYRES: No, no. No, but it's an additional fact that's being put before the court at the same time.

So, my Lord, in terms of what I want to say, as I said, I'm going to be narrow and cautious in what I say. Your Lordship's seen and read the transcript of what happened in front of Judge Silverstein on Monday, and of course there are —— or at that stage on Monday there were two applications which were being made to the Delaware Bankruptcy Court. First of all was the motion to dismiss the whole bankruptcy, and secondly, as my learned friend alluded to, I call it "the expedition motion", but I think in Delaware speak it's called "the motion to shorten time".

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR AYRES: And in terms of dealing with the motion to shorten time, that was dismissed. And I know your Lordship's looked at it, but I just want to make sure your Lordship's got the right page —— I know you have —— just to remind you of the relevant section where this is dealt with, 766 of the hearing bundle, in the transcript, which is in tab 25. She makes her ruling at line 13:

"... I'm not going to shorten ... time ..."

And then over the page, your Lordship will see, between lines 3 and 16, the judge talks about her own scheduling issues and, of course, the fact that she'd had a case settle which would allow her to effectively deal with the application quicker than the parties had hoped. But, my Lord, she makes that comment effectively in —— cognisant of you, and she says:

"... I'm quite aware of setting aside scheduling time, I'm quite aware of preparing for matters that don't go forward, and I don't like to disrupt ... other judge's schedule[s] ..."

So your Lordship should be aware, and, you know, this is in the context of obviously this multi—jurisdictional case, that the Delaware Court is expressly cognisant of the fact that it is either disrupting or potentially disrupting something that is happening in this court, so ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Well, Mr Ayres, from my point of view, the January trial is clearly not going ahead, both because of the consequences of the Delaware trial and also because of the Chapter 11 process, the current existence of the Chapter 11, whether it continues beyond the motion to dismiss or not, is irrelevant for that purpose.

I raised the question of my availability later than 19 January because I am slightly concerned that it's a pretty optimistic timetable, bearing in mind what Judge Silverstein said about her own availability, to expect everyone to be ready for 19 January. But, as I've indicated, as it happens, I do have availability in early February, and in the following —— the week of 26 January, subject to the Bank Holiday, and the week of 2 February, which seemed to me to be a more realistic timeframe to work with without requiring the judge in Delaware to disrupt her own schedule.

MR AYRES: So, my Lord, we are officers of the court and we will cooperate with the question of giving our available dates. I can say personally, myself, I am free on the 19th because I was going to have to be anyway. But my Lord, being officers of the court and co—operating with our opponents and with you as to our available dates, I should make it clear we are not consenting to anything, we are not accepting that any of this should be going ahead, and in fact quite the opposite. So, my Lord, I think that needs to be made clear.

Just back on the page, my Lord, if you've got —— I know your Lordship wants to get me on to the topic of —— JUSTICE ASIF KC: No, no.

MR AYRES: —— where we go and how this works, but I just want to just finish off that Judge Silverstein made it very clear in lines 14 to 16 that she is going to grant the relief —— the relief from the stay for this ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Sorry, is this on 766 or 767?

MR AYRES: This is 767, lines 14 to 16 —— the whole passage from 3 to 16 is appropriate. But she's very clear that:

"... not any further than that at this point in time."

So ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Well, I think, really my understanding of what she says in the transcript —— and tell me if I'm wrong —— is —— if you think that I'm wrong —— is that she is content for the parties and the court, the Grand Court, to deal with, if I can describe it like this, practicalities, but not substantive matters.

MR AYRES: Well, my Lord, partly correct, but there's a narrower —— what she is content —— as I understand it objectively, she is content for the parties to come before your Lordship to discuss the vacation of the January trial, and that's it. And my opponents, I'm afraid to say, have overstepped the mark in terms of the Delaware Bankruptcy Court, and obviously ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Well, she'll decide whether she thinks ——

MR AYRES: She'll decide that. But obviously my learned friend, he made an hour's worth of submissions and on two occasions he said, "This should not be weaponised or misrepresented". Now, of course it won't be misrepresented, but he has said what he's said on instructions from his client and he has been, in my submission, highly incautious in relation to his submissions to this court and how they will be treated in a different court. But, my Lord, that's not really a matter for me, that is a matter for the Delaware Court.

But, my Lord, I want to come back to the real topic, and I don't really have a great deal to say in relation to this, or certainly more than a few more minutes' worth of submissions, but question is: what is workable? My opponents will say, well, of course he's saying it's unworkable, why wouldn't he, because that's part of the wrecking strategy that they always suggest that we are guilty of. But, my Lord, I am going to make some submissions in relation to how this is actually going to, in practical terms, work.

So there's already a motion to dismiss which needs to be determined at some stage when Judge Silverstein can do so. We are told that there is also going to be a new motion issued in Delaware, which is a motion to vary the stay, and as I understand it, we've been told that we'll see that on 19 December. And as my learned friend alluded to, if they can persuade the Delaware Court to hear that in two weeks or as promptly as possible, we're going to have —— and this is of course conjecture —— a determination of that motion to vary in early January. Now, first of all, we simply just don't know at this stage whether that can happen. You have heard anything from my learned friend to the effect that they have got some promises or some assurances or even some less than assurances from the Delaware Court that that may happen. So that's got to happen.

If the variation is granted, my Lord, then we can't deal with all these new points that my learned friend has addressed you on today, including the one he mentioned at the very end of his submissions in an unstructured away and without either some form of originating process which is new or the amendment of the existing petition, or both. And, my Lord, we haven't seen a draft of any of these amendments or new originating process, but what we have been provided with in the skeleton argument, at paragraph 12, is what's called the "paragraph 10(b) issues". My learned friend was good enough to suggest that they call them the 10(b) issues, because I certainly wouldn't call them 10(b) issues, because the only one that really is a 10(b) issue is the first one, 12.1.

Now, I would accept, subject to everything I've said earlier on, that 12.1 is a reasonably neat and tidy question, it's slightly more than a point of law, but it involves the question of whether or not the references to liquidation, bankruptcy or dissolution proceedings include Chapter 11. And, my Lord, because I'm not going to trespass on the merits, I'm not going to say anything more about that, but you shouldn't take my non—trespass as acceptance.

But, my Lord, the second and third issues which are described as paragraph 10(b) issues, they're either completely new issues or they are the reheating of the existing dispute in a different context. And as far as 12.2 is concerned, that is a request for a compulsory winding—up order, in other words the same sort of order that is on the basis of the current petition, using the fact that or the suggestion that the Partnership substratum has now gone, based upon recent events, including, as it says there, a consequence of the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings in the Delaware judgment. Well, my Lord, obviously your Lordship can do what you like, but the reality of that is that that is going to need amendment of the existing proceedings in order to be fair to the GP, no matter how rotten my learned friends think the GP actually is.

And as far as 12.3 is concerned, that is not a two—day determination, because that is a determination of the question, notwithstanding what my learned friend says about One Thousand & One Voices, as to whether or not it is in fact the case that independent liquidators should be appointed in place of the GP as liquidating agent. Now, my Lord, one might make submissions about the question of the economic interest, but of course in One Thousand & One Voices, there was a considerable amount of misconduct of the GP in that case during the course of the liquidation, which also supported the decision that was made in that case. So it is not a complete "slam dunk" that the Rigmora LPs are going to be able to say One Thousand & One Voices, therefore that is a completely easy application.

My submission is the reason that it's not a two—day application, 12.3, is that we are going to be considering the impact of the Delaware judgment, the question of whether findings in the Delaware judgment are binding upon you, and the question of whether or not the GP is as rotten and guilty of misconduct as the Rigmora LPs say, and that's simply a reheating of the whole dispute. So it's completely unworkable that we can have a two—day hearing. So, my Lord, we say it can't be fairly tried procedurally, either with a run up of two weeks in early January to the 19th or in any of the dates that your Lordship said in —— I think I should have a look at the dates.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: February.

MR AYRES: So, my Lord, in terms of, I think, the 27th, the week of that, I think I'm personally —— I'm personally free, I think. Yes, so —— no, sorry, tell a lie, I'm not free that week, but I am free in the week of 2 February. I can do those dates. I am also free on 2 March.

So, my Lord, I don't want to suggest in any shape or form that I personally have availability issues. There may be Walkers issues, but we'll come back to that, and obviously client issues, which we'll communicate with Campbells about tomorrow. But, my Lord, it's simply not workable to have that.

If your Lordship wants to set aside time for the purposes of making sure that isn't taken up by other cases, then, my Lord, I've got nothing to say about that, that's a matter for you, and something you're perfectly entitled to do. But the idea that this can happen quickly, in January, is, we say, for the birds, because there are too many hurdles, too much uncertainty and too many contingencies in place.

And so, my Lord, as I said, I'm going to be much shorter than my learned friend. I'm not going to trespass on the merits. I'm not going to argue against what my learned friend said in relation to many of his points, not because I agree with them, because I do not want it to be said that we are acquiescing in a hearing which is effectively turning into a merits hearing, and that is completely contrary to the Chapter 11 bankruptcy stay.

My Lord, unless I can assist further, those are my submissions.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Thank you.

Reply submissions by MR SCOTT

MR SCOTT: I hope your Lordship knows that none of my submissions invited your Lordship to determine any point on the merits. What I did was to identify to your Lordship the issues as we see them arising out of two undisputed facts: one, the Delaware judgment; and two, the Chapter 11 proceedings. I understand Mr Ayres' instructions will no doubt be to attempt to lay the ground for some argument in Delaware that we have breached the moratorium, but we have not.

What we would invite your Lordship to note is, despite all the attempts to put roadblocks in the way of determination of the issues I've identified —— and I'll come back to those roadblocks in a moment —— there was no suggestion from Mr Ayres that the GP has a substantive answer to them.

My Lord, before I deal with the paragraph 10(b) issues, can I just correct or at least give our perspective on the point from Dr Harrison's declaration that your Lordship was taken to. If we can go back to it, please, it's tab 24, 633. Your Lordship was shown 46:

"In addition to the unsecured obligations owed by the Partnership, ATP and ATLS ..."

If your Lordship just pauses there. Those are the entities which filed on 9 December, and I'll show your Lordship one of the filings. What then had happened by the time of Dr Harrison's petition is that some of the portfolio companies had filed as well, and they are "the Filing Portfolio Companies", and it is they who are said to "owe more than $5.4 million to dozens of creditors", as your Lordship would see from the petitions from the portfolio companies that are in the hearing bundle.

I should, while we have this open, invite your Lordship's attention to 47, the suggestion that:

"the Partnership owes more than $221 million in unfunded commitments to certain of the PortCos."

That is wrong. The Partnership does not owe anything. It does not have any legal commitment or liability whatsoever to those PortCos. What Dr Harrison means there is that he would wish to use that money if it were available to him, which it is not, as a result of the Delaware judgment.

My Lord, while we have the hearing bundle open, if we could just please go again to the transcript of the conference earlier in the week, and if I can ask your Lordship please to take up page 766.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: Lines 18 and 19 are, with respected, crystal clear:

"I will grant relief from stay for the pretrial conference to go forward in the Caymans on Wednesday."

If your Lordship would just re—read it —— I know your Lordship has read it already —— from line 18 down to line 2 over the page. Nothing in what I have said to your Lordship today is remotely inconsistent with that.

So far as concerns the paragraph 10(b) issues, we're not remotely precious about labelling, we could call them "the issues" if that would be more palatable, but what they are in effect are preliminary issues. What we're asking your Lordship to do is direct their determination. In the usual way, your Lordship will give such directions as you think appropriate for the determination of those issues. So if your Lordship takes the view that there ought to be either amendments or the issuance of some originating process, your Lordship has ample power to direct that. Your Lordship might take the view that the issues can amply be addressed in skeleton arguments. That's certainly our view.

My Lord, so far as the issues themselves and whether it makes sense to direct their determination, I understood Mr Ayres to accept that, subject to his overarching position of being unable to assist your Lordship today, that paragraph 12.1 is an issue that makes sense to determine. I think he called it a "neat and tidy" issue. We respectfully agree with that.

On paragraphs 12.2 and 12.3, they were objected to as raising either new issues or rehashing the existing issues on the case, and what underlies all of that is the, with respect, false premise that the determination of those issues depends on your Lordship reaching a view about the GP's misconduct, and it does not. What it depends upon is your Lordship reaching a determination based upon the two undisputed facts identified in the Delaware judgment and the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding and then applying to those undisputed facts principles of Cayman law.

And, my Lord, as for the suggestion that this cannot be dealt with in a two–day hearing, can I just ask your Lordship please to take up tab 7 of the authorities bundle.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: This is Justice Kawaley's decision in One Thousand & One Voices. Your Lordship will see that it was heard on a single day, 11 April '24, and –– on the papers, and the decision followed on 2 May.

If I could just invite your Lordship's attention to paragraph 20, could I ask your Lordship please to read 20 down to 26, which summarise the principles that apply in this context.

(Pause)

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I've read that.

MR SCOTT: So we do say, with respect, this issue is well capable of being dealt with within the context of the two–day hearing that we suggest, once it is recognised that this is not an issue that will require your Lordship to form a view as to the allegations of misconduct against the GP. And as I say, we're very much in your Lordship's hands as to what, if any, additional directions are necessary to bring the matter forward in an orderly way. If your Lordship wants us to amend, of course we'll do that, subject to lifting the stay to the extent necessary to achieve that.

My Lord, unless I can assist the court further, those are our submissions.

I am reminded that it will assist the Delaware Court, from our perspective, to have your Lordship's ruling on these issues, if it were possible, in time for the hearing at 3.30 today.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Just remind me, is Delaware currently on the same time zone as the Cayman Islands or –– yes ––

MR SCOTT: I see everyone to my right nodding.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: So I've got about four hours. That's fine. I'm just going to rise for about 10/15 minutes maximum and then I will come back and tell you what I'm going to do.

(4.31 pm GMT)

(A short break)

(4.53 pm GMT)

JUSTICE ASIF KC: This matter ––

MR AYRES: Before your Lordship's starts. It's probably in everyone's interests that the microphones are muted.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Thank you, Mr Ayres.

Judgment (excised for approval)

That will need to be tidied up, because my sentences fell to pieces in a few areas, but I hope that gives a sufficient indication, first of all, of my reasons, and hopefully some useful input for the judge in Delaware this afternoon.

MR SCOTT: I'm very grateful, my Lord.

I've been asked to ask your Lordship if the court's audio recording could be shared with Opus 2.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, of course.

MR SCOTT: I think that means shared right now, so that we can ensure that corrections are properly made.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. As soon as I rise, I will ask

Ms Wood to make that available. Can you make sure that someone gives me, to give to her, or emails her with an email address for Opus 2 so that she can communicate as quickly as possible.

MR SCOTT: I'm grateful, my Lord.

I think, in the usual way, and in accordance with our duty as counsel, it falls to us to draft an order ––

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, please.

MR SCOTT: –– to reflect your Lordship's ruling.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes. I think the only actual order is that the trial needs to be vacated.

MR SCOTT: And the direction of preliminary issues.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes, I suppose that's right. Yes, yes.

MR SCOTT: And we would also ask your Lordship to reserve the costs of today.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: That's fine. I'm happy to do that.

MR SCOTT: I'm happy to put a (inaudible) hand to do the first draft of the order.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: For what it's worth, again, it doesn't seem to me that there can be any sensible argument that that is outside the scope of what the judge in Delaware ordered was permissible in the context of what she said in the transcript at page 766 of the hearing bundle, where she said she'll:

"... grant relief from stay for the pretrial conference to go forward in the Caymans on Wednesday. I don't know, it hasn't really been described to me what would be —— what substantively would go forward, what dates will be established by the court, or what's really left for the judge to decide ... "

Et cetera. As I indicated to you in the course of argument, I read that as indicating that she was content for this court and for the parties to deal with the procedural consequences of the Chapter 11 filing, and it seems to me it's absolutely plain that that must include drawing up an order after the hearing today in order to reflect what I have ordered.

MR SCOTT: Very grateful for that indication.

MR AYRES: Well, the only thing I would say is we have no difficulty with the fact that the court needs to make an order, that seems to be obvious, that if counsel weren't helpful, your Lordship would do it.

My Lord, just in relation to the question of whether you're going to make any further directions beyond vacation of the trial, my Lord, I'd urge some caution in relation to that, because there may be some incongruence with what you said in the judgment. You've made it clear that you've accepted the submission that there will need to be amendments to the pleadings. The reality is the formulation of preliminary issue can only sensibly happen once ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: (Overspeaking — inaudible).

MR SCOTT: —— once this is filed. So I would ask your Lordship not to ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

Mr Scott, I did hesitate, because —— when you were asking about that, because I wasn't entirely sure. I think it's right that until the pleadings have been amended it's probably better to hold back on the wording of the order for the preliminary issues. I mean, it seems to me it's plain from what's said in paragraph 12 of the skeleton that everyone knows what the issues are intended to be.

MR SCOTT: Indeed. And equally plain that your Lordship has just ruled that there will be a trial of those issues.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Yes.

MR SCOTT: I'm very happy to defer formalising that in an order until we have been permitted to go through the process of pleading.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: I think —— I think, just ——

MR SCOTT: But I don't want anyone to be suggesting this afternoon in Delaware ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: That I haven't said.

MR SCOTT: —— that it hasn't happened, because it has happened.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Exactly. No, I think, bearing in mind the sensibilities —— everyone is concerned about trespassing on the Delaware court —— I'm happy to —— not to include form —— not to include that in a form of this order at this stage, but I have given a very clear indication that that is what I intend to happen, and absent something happening in Delaware to derail that, that is what I consider should happen.

MR SCOTT: So the order will in that case provide for the January hearing to be ——

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Vacated.

MR SCOTT: —— vacated and the two—day hearing to be fixed in the week commencing the 2nd?

JUSTICE ASIF KC: Exactly. And costs reserved.

MR SCOTT: I'm very grateful. We'll turn that around and hopefully get that to you very shortly.

JUSTICE ASIF KC: All right. Thank you all very much.

A INTRODUCTION

1 This is the skeleton argument on behalf of the Plaintiffs and the Petitioners (the "Rigmora LPs") for the Pre-Trial Review in these proceedings. The trial in these proceedings is listed for 5 days, commencing on 12 January 2026.

2 As the Court will recall, the Rigmora LPs are limited partners in ATP Life Science Ventures LP (the "Partnership"), an exempted limited partnership established pursuant to the Exempted Limited Partnership Act (the "ELP Act"). The general partner is ATP III GP Ltd (the "GP"), the sole director of which is Dr Seth Harrison ("Dr Harrison"). The dispute arises from the implosion of the relationship between the Rigmora LPs and Dr Harrison, culminating in the GP issuing (on 30 May 2025) eleven capital calls against the Rigmora LPs (totalling more than US$100m) (the "Disputed Capital Calls") and commencing proceedings against the Rigmora LPs in the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Delaware Proceedings") seeking wide-ranging relief including declarations that the Rigmora LPs had defaulted on the Disputed Capital Calls, had waived their contractual approval rights over Partnership investments, and were obliged to contribute hundreds of millions of dollars of additional capital to the Partnership in excess of their contingent subscriptions.

3 Two very significant developments have recently occurred in Delaware.

4 First, on 5 December 2025, Chancellor McCormick handed down a "Post-Trial Memorandum Opinion" (the "Delaware Judgment") [HB/12/236]. The Chancellor refused almost all the relief sought by the GP and rejected large parts of its case, including in relation to the extent of the Rigmora LPs' contingent subscriptions to the Partnership.

5 The Delaware Judgment is a disastrous outcome for the GP and Dr Harrison. When he caused the GP to commence the Delaware Proceedings in May, it sought a judgment establishing that the Rigmora LPs owed US$550m of outstanding contingent subscriptions to the Partnership and had lost their rights to approve further budgets, such that the GP had unrestricted control over how that capital could be used. Instead, the Delaware Court has determined that the Partnership has just US$125m of capital commitments remaining and that the Rigmora LPs have an unfettered discretion over budget approvals. Further, since the Delaware Court has required the Rigmora LPs to contribute US$96 million in capital to the Partnership (which the

This SKELETON ARGUMENT was filed by Campbells, Attorneys for the Petitioners/Plaintiffs, whose address for service is Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010 (Ref: LMF/PDK/HF/19135-44991) #3429983v1

Rigmora LPs intend first to pay, pursuant to the terms of the Delaware Court order, and then to appeal, as they are entitled to as of right) the residual undrawn contingent subscriptions to the Partnership are at most US$29 million.

6 While the Partnership has billions of dollars in investments, for the benefit of the LPs, the fundamental relationship – that is, the Partnership's substratum – has now indisputably been lost. In its current governance structure, it cannot carry on its business in accordance with the reasonable expectations of its partners (or at all): "[T]hat which the [Partnership] was formed to do can no longer be done": Re Bristol Joint Stock Bank (1890) 44 Ch D 703 at p 712. The GP has failed to effectively manage the Partnership's capital and its investments.

7 Second, rather than accepting the consequences of the Delaware Judgment and proceeding promptly to trial in this Court as he had represented to this Court and the Delaware Court that he would, on 9 December 2025 Dr Harrison opened up a new front in his long-standing wrecking strategy aimed to prevent the Cayman Court from examining the GP's conduct. He caused: (i) the GP [HB/15/346], (ii) the Partnership [HB/14/333], and (iii) the Partnership's wholly-owned services company, Apple Tree Life Sciences Inc ("ATLS") [HB/13/319], to commence bankruptcy proceedings in Delaware, under Chapter 11 of the US Bankruptcy Code (the "Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings"). A few days later, he caused four of the Partnership's portfolio companies (Apertor, Initial, Marlinspike and Red Queen) to do the same [HB/19-22]. The Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings were unheralded. Dr Harrison failed to disclose his intention to commence in the correspondence that had passed between the parties following the Delaware Judgment, or in the evidence he served for the January trial just the day before. Indeed, the position adopted by the GP was that it was fully committed to going to trial in January 2026. Two days before it filed the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings, Walkers reassured the Court that they intended to "progress our client's appeal [of the Privilege Summonses] promptly and so not as to imperil the January trial fixture".[1] Even on the day of 9 December 2025, Walkers wrote to Campbells rejecting that their proposed appeal of the Privilege Summonses was "in any way unmeritorious or a tactical attempt to delay the trial".[2] The GP has explained its decision to file the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings by noting that the Rigmora LPs did not engage in negotiations with the GP

[1] Walkers email to the Court dated 8 December 2025 at 11:28am [HB/6/111]
[2] Letter from Walkers to Campbells dated 9 December 2025[HB/7/134]

This SKELETON ARGUMENT was filed by Campbells, Attorneys for the Petitioners/Plaintiffs, whose address for service is Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010 (Ref: LMF/PDK/HF/19135-44991) #3429983v1

following the Delaware Judgment, indicating that they are attempting to leverage those proceedings to extract concessions after failing to achieve their goals in the Delaware Proceedings [HB/25/747].

8 The Court will recall the GP's prior efforts to forestall this Court exercising its winding up jurisdiction in respect of this Cayman Partnership: the failed stay applications; the failed mediation summonses; the failed privilege summonses; the GP's maneuverings to prevent this Court from considering the Rigmora LPs' provisional liquidation summons; and its failure properly to engage with a timetable to trial in advance of the October CMC.

9 That the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings are a continuation of that course of conduct is laid bare in an email sent to the Court by Walkers on 10 December 2025 [HB/9/142]. This asserted that the effect of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings was to impose an "automatic stay" of these proceedings in Cayman such that the PTR and January trial must be vacated. That is wrong as a matter of Cayman law for the reasons explained below. The Rigmora LPs have fully complied with the automatic stay and will continue to do so going forward, but Walkers has misstated the impact of the automatic stay. Critically, the U.S. Bankruptcy Court has lifted the stay to permit the PTR to proceed in full; accordingly, the Rigmora LPs submit this skeleton in connection with the PTR to address proposed next steps in both courts, as to which they will seek further relief from the automatic stay as discussed below.

10 The commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings will have an additional critical impact on these proceedings. Their commencement in relation to the GP has the agreed contractual consequence under paragraph 10(b) of the LPA that the Partnership shall be wound up, leading to the commencement of voluntary winding up under ss.36(1)(a) and 36(10)(d) of the ELP Act. This has important consequences for the January trial. The question is no longer whether the Partnership should be wound up, such that the GP no longer manages these valuable assets: that ship has sailed with the Delaware Judgment and the commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings. The question now is how the winding up of the Partnership relationship and new management of Partnership assets should be effected: voluntarily or compulsorily; and by whom?

have the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings dismissed and / or to lift the stay under §362 of Chapter 11 to permit these Cayman Proceedings to continue (the "Motion to Dismiss") [HB/16/359]. Dismissal was sought on the basis that 9 December filings were in bad faith: a litigation tactic to circumvent the Delaware Judgment and blow up the Cayman trial rather than an attempt to utilize Chapter 11 to address any financial distress faced by the Partnership; because there is no financial distress – the Partnership's assets (which run to billions of dollars) and its available cash being vastly greater than the paltry debts stated in the filings – debts of a few hundred thousand dollars. The idea that this manifestly solvent Partnership is a candidate for Chapter 11 protection is risible. The true position is that it needs to be wound up in accordance with the parties' agreement so that its investments are managed appropriately and its economic stakeholders can benefit from and recover what is theirs – yet that is what Dr Harrison so wants to avoid, desperate as he is to cling on.

12 A scheduling hearing took place 15 December 2025, at which the Delaware Bankruptcy Court granted the Rigmora LPs permission to appear at this PTR, and "grant[ed] relief from stay for the pretrial conference itself to go forward" and agreed that "the parties and judge can discuss" what is "left before [the Cayman Court] before the January 12th trial date" [HB/25/766], but declined to give directions for an expedited hearing of the Motion to Dismiss. The Delaware Bankruptcy Court also stated that if the Rigmora LPs wished to pursue an application to lift the Chapter 11 stay beyond appearing at and participating in this PTR, they would need to do so in a separate motion. The Rigmora LPs will shortly be filing such a motion (the "Motion to Vary"). They intend to ask the Delaware Bankruptcy Court to vary the Chapter 11 stay to permit this Court to determine (in advance of the Motion to Dismiss) the following issues (the "Paragraph 10(b) Issues"):

12.1 whether, as a consequence of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings, the Partnership has entered voluntary liquidation pursuant to paragraph 10(b) of the LPA;

12.2 whether, as a consequence of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings and the Delaware Judgment, the Court should make an order for compulsory winding up of the Partnership on the basis that the Partnership's substratum has gone; or 12.3 in the alternative, whether the Court should make an order appointing independent liquidators to conduct the voluntary winding up in lieu of the GP.

13 Consistent with the Bankruptcy Court's relief from stay for purposes of the PTR and its guidance that the parties could participate in this PTR and discuss what is left for this Court to address, the Rigmora LPs hereby seek to update this Court on their view as to that question, and separately intend to return to the Delaware Bankruptcy Court to file the Motion to Vary on or before 19 December 2025. Pursuant to Rule 4001-1 of the Local Rules of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, the Rigmora LPs must provide notice of a motion for relief from the stay (i.e. the Motion to Vary) at least 14 days prior to the hearing date. It is hoped that the hearing date can be set and the Motion to Vary can be determined in early January 2026, such that this Court may determine the critical gating question whether authority to act for the Partnership continues to rest with the GP or must, as a matter of Cayman law, vest instead in a liquidator who can act for the benefit of the LPs and preserve their valuable investment, as a proper fiduciary.

14 The Rigmora LPs therefore request that the Court direct a two-day listing, preferably during the week of 19 January 2026 (which the Rigmora LPs understand has been set aside for judgment writing in these proceedings), for a hearing of the Paragraph 10(b) Issues, and to hold that date pending the outcome of the Motion to Vary.

B UPDATE ON THE DELAWARE PROCEEDINGS

15 The trial of the Delaware Proceedings took place on 16 and 17 October 2025 and was followed by three hours of closing arguments on 21 November 2025.

16 By the end of the Delaware trial, the relief sought by the General Partner had changed significantly. As the Court will recall, the central complaint made by the General Partner in the Delaware complaint filed on 30 May 2025 (the "Delaware Complaint") [HB/11/149] had been that an email sent on behalf of the Rigmora LPs on 15 May 2025 (the "15 May Email") amounted to a repudiatory or anticipatory breach of the Rigmora LPs' obligations under the LPA. In reliance on that foundational (albeit baseless) accusation, the General Partner had requested eleven wide-ranging heads of relief from the Delaware Court.[3] They included:

16.1 A finding that the Rigmora LPs had "breached the LPA by refusing to consider and has waived its rights to approve budgets" and an order for specific performance requiring the Rigmora LPs "to pay the $43mm in reasonable budget requests from January 2025, and budget proposal drawing on up to $31.3 mm in remaining capital commitments".

16.2 A finding that the Rigmora LPs had breached their "common law duties to exercise [their] discretion in approving budgets in a rational and good faith manner, and have waived [their] rights to approve budgets".

16.3 A finding that the Rigmora LPs had "breached the LPA by preemptively [i.e. in the 15 May Email] refusing to respond to capital calls" and an order for specific performance requiring the Rigmora LPs to "fund capital calls on the seven Early-Stage Companies identified in the May 15, 2025 email, at an amount to be determined at trial, up to $214.2mm in remaining approved budget".

16.4 A finding that the Rigmora LPs conduct qualified them as a Defaulting Partner, and an order "permitting ATP to impose a Default Charge against all of the Family Office LP's interests, or in the alternative, an order permitting ATP to impose a Default Charge against the Family Office LP's interests in the pools implicated by its breaches".

16.5 An order enjoining the Rigmora LPs "from interfering with ATP in the exercise of its discretion over the Fund once the Family Office LP is deemed to be a Defaulting Partner".

16.6 Declarations that the General Partner's filing of the Delaware Complaint "is not (i) an act taken in bad faith; (ii) an instance of willful fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence; nor (iii) an intentional and material breach of the LPA".

16.7 An order awarding costs against the Rigmora LPs.

17 As the Court knows, almost all (i.e. approximately 98%) of the capital contributed to the Partnership to date had been provided by the Rigmora LPs. Yet the relief claimed by the GP sought to disenfranchise the Rigmora LPs from the Partnership by extracting hundreds of millions of US$ more from them while removing their rights to approve or reject budgets (thereby removing a restriction on the GP's entitlement to call capital) and imposing a "Default Charge", through which the GP claimed to be entitled to reallocate 50% of their economic interests in the Partnership to Dr Harrison and his family trust.

This SKELETON ARGUMENT was filed by Campbells, Attorneys for the Petitioners/Plaintiffs, whose address for service is Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010 (Ref: LMF/PDK/HF/19135-44991) #3429983v1

18 By the conclusion of the trial in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP had abandoned much of that extreme and unjustified relief. The relief ultimately sought was limited to:

18.1 Declarations that the Rigmora LPs had breached the LPA or their common law duties by refusing to consider budgets in good faith, and had waived their rights to approve budgets in future (the "Budget Approval Issue").

18.2 An order for specific performance requiring the Rigmora LPs to pay the Disputed Capital Calls (the "Disputed Capital Call Issue").

18.3 Declarations that the GP's filing of the Delaware Complaint was not taken in bad faith, and was consistent with its fiduciary duties and the terms of the LPA (the "Bad Faith Filing Issue").

18.4 A declaration that the default provisions in the LPA govern defaults and have not been amended (the "Default Provision Issue").

18.5 An order awarding costs against the Rigmora LPs (the "Costs Issue").

19 The Delaware Judgment was circulated to the parties on 5 December 2025. As recorded at p.1 of the Delaware Judgment, the decision "orders specific performance of all but one of the capital calls and otherwise sides with the limited partners" [HB/12/237]. More specifically:

19.1 In relation to the Budget Approval Issue, the Chancellor rejected the GP's claim that the Rigmora LPs had breached alleged duties of good faith when reviewing and approving budgets. The Chancellor held (at p.75) [HB/12/311]: "At the time of contracting, Rigmora contributed nearly all the Fund's capital. It thus makes sense that Rigmora secured the absolute discretion to reject budgets and negotiated for the ability to preserve its capital by blocking budgets". Accordingly, all the GP's allegations to the effect that the Rigmora LPs are improperly "starving" the Partnership and using "hostage-tactics" by failing to approve budgets in supposed breach of the LPA were (and remain) baseless and groundless.[4] The Rigmora LPs have always had an

[4] See, for example, [4], [7], [13], [77], [95] of the Delaware Complaint [HB/11/152, 154, 187, 194]. The General Partner also sought to justify its refusal to distribute the Braeburn assets on the basis that "the Family Office was refusing to approve new budgets" (at [95] of the Delaware Complaint) [HB/11/194]. That justification fails in unqualified right to approve or reject budgets. There is, and never has been, anything untoward or improper about them exercising those rights in their own interests - not least where they are the source of the billions of dollars of capital already contributed to the Partnership.

19.2 In relation to the Disputed Capital Calls Issue:

(a) The Chancellor rejected the GP's contention that the Rigmora LPs' Contingent Subscription to the Partnership exceeded US$2.85bn. Tellingly, even after trial, the GP was unable or unwilling to identify the precise amount of the Rigmora LPs' Contingent Subscription. The Chancellor agreed with the Rigmora LPs that their contingent subscriptions totalled US$2.425bn, over US$425 million less than the GP asserted: "ATP has proven that Rigmora committed no more than US$2.425 billion" (p.55) [HB/12/291].

(b) The Chancellor also held that the Rigmora LPs had contributed only approximately US$2.3bn to the Partnership to date (and not US$2.69bn, as claimed by the Rigmora LPs (p.56)) [HB/12/292]. In doing so, the Chancellor declined to give credit for approximately US$390 million of "deemed contributions" under Amendment 20 of the LPA.

(c) The Chancellor therefore concluded (at p.56) that the Rigmora LPs had remaining contingent subscriptions to the Partnership of US$125m. That is US$425m less than the US$550m of contingent subscriptions which the GP had sought to establish in the Delaware Proceedings [HB/12/292].

(d) The Chancellor held that the Disputed Capital Call for US$4,000,000 in respect of the portfolio company "Replicate" had been improperly made. The Chancellor agreed with the Rigmora LPs that there was no approved budget in respect of Replicate "and ATP may not enforce Capital Calls for Replicate" circumstances where the Rigmora LPs have an absolute entitlement under the LPA to decide whether to approve budgets.

(p.65)[5] [HB/12/301].

(e) The Chancellor held that the other Disputed Capital Calls (totalling US$96,960,925.88) had been properly made in accordance with the LPA. In doing so, the Chancellor held that the capital calls had been made for the purpose of funding the portfolio companies and – on that narrow basis – were made in good faith compliance with the requirements of the LPA (p.58 – 61) [HB/12/294-297].

19.3 In relation to the Bad Faith Filing issue, the Chancellor refused to grant a declaration that its filing of the Delaware Proceedings was in good faith, in accordance with its fiduciary duties and the terms of the LPA. The Chancellor recognised that "the underlying dispute around whether ATP's filing of this action constitutes a breach of its fiduciary duties is central to Rigmora's Winding Up Petition in the Cayman Litigation. As a common-sense matter, this court has little reason to resolve the issue, which was not a core dispute in this litigation" (p.79) [HB/12/315].

19.4 In relation to the Default Provision Issue, the Chancellor refused to grant the declaration sought by the GP because it served no useful purpose: "ATP's request is so narrow as to be undisputed, as Rigmora does not deny that the Global Default Provisions have never been amended" (p.80) [HB/12/316]. In short, while the meaning and effect of the default provisions are disputed between the parties, the GP was no longer seeking any declaration to resolve that dispute and still less pursuing the declaration it sought upon filing that it was entitled to impose a Default Charge on the Rigmora LPs. Instead, the GP was seeking a pointless declaration that the language of the default provision in paragraph 5(c) of the LPA had not been amended (which had never been disputed).

19.5 Finally, in relation to the Costs Issue, the Chancellor held that the GP had waived any claim for costs against the Rigmora LPs by failing properly to brief it (at p.81) [HB/12/317].

[5] A consequence of that finding is that a payment of US$1.5m made by the General Partner to Replicate from Partnership assets on 21 August 2025 was improperly made, in breach of the LPA (as the Rigmora LPs have always maintained).

20 The Rigmora LPs are entitled to appeal the Delaware Judgment as a matter of right and intend to appeal the Chancellor's decision in relation to the Disputed Capital Calls Issue, including the Chancellor's conclusion that they were made in good faith. Respectfully, the Chancellor's judgment on this point cannot be reconciled with the equitable proper purpose rule under Cayman law, which constrained the GP as fiduciary when exercising its powers. That the GP was doing so for purposes which include (as its internal documents show) putting pressure on the Rigmora LPs and furthering its litigation strategy amply contravenes that rule.

21 In the meantime, the Rigmora LPs intend to comply with the Delaware Judgment. The Chancellor has ordered the Rigmora LPs to pay US$96,960,925.88 into a segregated account held until further order of the US Bankruptcy Court within 10 business days of 11 December 2025, which the Rigmora LPs will do once the GP provides the account number of where the monies are to be transferred.

22 The disparity between what the GP and Dr Harrison sought in Delaware and what it has achieved by the Delaware Judgment is stark:

22.1 The GP had claimed that: (a) the Partnership had US$550m of capital commitments remaining; (b) had US$214,170,000 of unfunded approved budgets; and (c) the Rigmora LPs had lost their rights to approve further budgets.

22.2 Instead, following the Delaware Judgment, the GP has at most US$29 million in capital commitment left to call and in circumstances where the Rigmora LPs are free to reject further budgets.

23 The Partnership's substratum has now indisputably gone. As explained by Jones J in Re Belmont Asset Based Lending [2010 (1) CILR 83] at [13] [AB/4/17]:

> "The expressions "loss of substratum" or "failure of substratum" are derived from English case law dating back to a decision of the Court of Appeal in In re Suburban Hotel Co. (6) (L.R. 2 Ch. App. at 750). Whilst it may be helpful for the court to categorize circumstances in which it will be considered just and equitable for a company to be compulsorily wound up, I question whether it is sensible to adopt terminology invented in the context of England's 19th century economy. A company was said to have "lost its substratum" if the purpose for which it was formed can no longer be carried out (In re Bristol Joint Stock Bank (2) (44 Ch. D. at 712, per Kekewich, J.)); if the company has practically ceased to carry on business because it has become impractical to do so (In re Diamond Fuel Co. (3) (13 Ch. D. at 408, per James, L.J.)); or if the company was formed to pursue a specific business > opportunity which is no longer available to it (In re Haven Gold Mining Co. (4)). To translate these statements into a modern context, it can be said that it is just and equitable to make a winding-up order in respect of an open-ended corporate mutual fund if the circumstances are such that it has become impractical, if not actually impossible, to carry on its investment business in accordance with the reasonable expectations of its participating shareholders, based upon representations contained in its offering document. If such a company, organized as an open-ended mutual fund, has ceased to be viable for whatever reason, the court will draw the inference that it is just and equitable for a winding-up order to be made."

24 As the Grand Court put it in Re Freerider [2010 (1) CILR 486], the Court's just and equitable winding up jurisdiction is engaged "if the circumstances are such that it is impractical, if not actually impossible, for the company to carry on its business in accordance with the reasonable expectation of its participating shareholders": Freerider at [71] [AB/5/55]. That is what has now happened in the context of this Partnership, given the Delaware Judgment.

25 The fact that the Partnership is no longer able to carry on its business within the framework of the LPA has been conceded by the GP by the commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings. While the GP has yet fully to explain the relief sought in those proceedings, and has not submitted any draft reorganization plan, its Chapter 11 filings state that the combined indebtedness of the GP, the Partnership and ATLS is just US$204,066, as compared with partnership assets of between US$1bn and US$10bn. Whatever "reorganization" the General Partner is contemplating in the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings it must involve some attempt to vary the terms on which Rigmora LPs have agreed to participate in the Partnership without their consent.

26 Further, in a declaration filed in the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings on 15 December 2025, Dr Harrison has stated that one of the aims of the Chapter 11 Proceedings is to effect a "restructuring of the Partnership's capital structure" and to "bring in new investors to replace the defaulting limited partners"[6]. It appears, therefore, that Dr Harrison intends to use the Chapter 11 Proceedings to dilute or remove the Rigmora LPs' interests in the Partnership on the premise that they are "Defaulting Partners". However:

26.1 the Rigmora LPs are not "Defaulting Partners" under the LPA, and intend to comply with the Delaware Judgment;

[6] At paragraph [17] [HB/24/621].

26.2 the GP is enjoined, by this Court's Order of 1 August 2025, from taking any steps to "designate, deem or treat" the Rigmora LPs as a "Defaulting Partner" until further order of this Court. Despite that, the GP and Dr Harrison clearly are treating the Rigmora LPs as "defaulting limited partners" for the purposes of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings in breach of the 1 August 2025 Order; and 26.3 in the event of a winding up of the Partnership on the Petition, any alteration in the status of the Partnership's members will be automatically void absent a validation order from this Court (see s.99 of the Companies Act). The GP is therefore unable properly and effectively to pursue a "restructuring of the Partnership's capital structure" or seek to "replace" the Rigmora LPs as supposed "defaulting limited partners" while the Petition remains pending.

27 The Rigmora LPs maintain that Dr Harrison and the GP are abusing the Chapter 11 process, by which they seek to renege on the Cayman law governed LPA, collaterally attack the Delaware Judgment, and this Court's winding up jurisdiction too. The US Bankruptcy Court will rule on that in due course when disposing of the Motion to Dismiss.

28 The key point for present purposes is that the commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings concedes that the substratum of the Partnership is now gone. The obvious and conceded loss of the Partnership's substratum is a sufficient basis for the Court to wind up the Partnership on just and equitable grounds – and to do so on a summary basis.

C THE CHAPTER 11 BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

29 Irrespective of whether they are abusive, the commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings has further important implications for the Partnership: it has triggered the commencement of voluntary winding up, as explained below.

Voluntary Winding Up of the Partnership

30 The ELP Act provides that the partners of an ELP can agree that the occurrence of certain events will trigger the commencement of a voluntary winding up:

30.1 S.36(1)(a) provides that an ELP "shall be voluntarily wound up in accordance with the provisions of the Partnership agreement - (a) at the time or upon the occurrence of any event specified in the partnership agreement" (emphasis added) [AB/3/8].

30.2 S.36(10)(d) provides that the winding up of an exempted limited partnership "shall be deemed to commence upon the earlier to occur of any of the following- … (d) the occurrence of an event provided by the partnership agreement upon which the exempted limited partnership is to be wound up" (emphasis added) [AB/3/10].

31 Pursuant to paragraph 10(b) of the LPA, it has been agreed that the Partnership "shall be wound up and dissolved (i) upon any event in respect of the General Partner specified in section 15(5) of the ELP Law" (emphasis added) [HB/5/56-57]. The "ELP Law" is defined in the LPA by reference to the 2012 Revision "as amended from time to time" [HB/5/16] and the "events" identified in s.15(5) of the ELP Act [AB/2/5] are now found at s.36(7) of the ELP Act. Those events include, under s.36(7)(b) "the commencement of liquidation, bankruptcy or dissolution proceedings… In relation to the sole or last remaining qualifying general partner" [AB/3/9].

32 The commencement of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings in respect of the GP is thus an "event" specified in s.15(5) of the ELP law (2012 Revision) and s.36(7) of the ELP Act (2025 Revision). The contractually agreed and statutorily mandated consequence under paragraph 10(b) of the LPA together with ss.36(1)(a) and 36(10)(d) of the ELP Act is that a voluntary winding up of the Partnership is deemed to have commenced on 9 December 2025, upon the filing of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings. Paragraph 11(a) of the LPA [HB/5/57] contains further provisions concerning the winding up of the partnership in respect of the provisions under paragraph 10(b) including for the GP to act as the liquidating agent. That is subject to any contrary order of the Court: see further in that regard below.

33 Thus, the question now is how the Partnership should be wound up and by whom. Absent Court intervention, the GP would be responsible for the voluntary winding up of the Partnership. That is unacceptable to the Rigmora LPs for reasons that will be obvious to the Court. As holders of the overwhelming majority interest in the Partnership, their views on who should conduct the winding-up carry decisive weight: see §34 below.

34 The Rigmora LPs' preferred approach would be for a compulsory winding up order to be made. There are two reasons for this. First, to preserve the effect of s.99 of the Companies Act [AB/1], which automatically avoids any dispositions of the Partnership's property made after the commencement of the winding up (i.e. the date of presentation of the Petition). As the Court will recall, the Rigmora LPs have raised concerns for months over dispositions of Partnership property made by the GP during the pendency of these proceedings (including its enormous expenditure on legal fees, and various payments totalling US$39,306,044 made between 4 August 2025 and 4 September 2025). Second, it may be easier for court-appointed liquidators in a compulsory liquidation to obtain recognition under Chapter 15 of the US Bankruptcy Code, than it would be in a voluntary liquidation.

35 The alternative approach would be for the Court to remove the GP as liquidating agent, and replace it with independent officeholders. The jurisdiction for the Court to make such an order is well-established. In One Thousand & One Voices Africa Fund LP [2025] CICA (Civ) 9, the CICA confirmed that the Court has jurisdiction to replace a general partner as a liquidator in a voluntary winding up, irrespective of whether any contractual "removal event" has occurred [AB/8/152]: "The ELPA provides a clear route by which a limited partner may "set at naught" the agreed contractual process for liquidation of an exempted limited partnership" (at [31]). Further, the Court will ordinarily make such an order at the request of the majority limited partner. In One Thousand & One Voices Africa Fund LP (unreported, FSD 22 of 2024 (IKJ), 9 May 2024), Kawaley J held (at [25]) [AB/7/127]:

"Where the overwhelming majority of the limited partners of an exempted partnership seek the appointment of a voluntary liquidator because they have lost confidence in the incumbent contractually agreed liquidator, this Court should likewise ordinarily give "due respect to the commercial sense of those involved"".

It is for the Cayman Court to decide how to manage its proceedings

36 The Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings have not triggered an "automatic stay" of these Cayman Proceedings under Cayman law in the manner that Walkers has suggested. The Rigmora LPs seek to fully comply with Chapter 11 and will address the impact of the "automatic stay" and how it is to be implemented as a matter of Cayman law during the PTR on December 17.

37 As an initial matter, it is important to note that at a status conference before the U.S. Court on December 15, that Court expressly ruled that the PTR on December 17 may proceed in full.

The Rigmora LPs had requested "immediate relief from the automatic stay to allow the parties to proceed with that conference on the merits." At the December 15 status conference, the Court held "I will grant relief from stay for the pretrial conference to go forward in the Caymans on Wednesday" [HB/27/766].

38 With respect to the impact of the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings on the proceedings before this Court, Chapter 11 is not part of Cayman law. Nor does Cayman law provide (whether under statute or at common law) for any automatic recognition of the effect of foreign bankruptcy proceedings or for an automatic stay of Cayman proceedings where such foreign proceedings are commenced and pending. These are matters for decision by this Court.

39 The Court of course has its own power under Cayman law to stay its proceedings. That power will be exercised in the usual way where the interests of justice so require and in accordance with the Court's duty to further the Overriding Objective. The Court will also exercise its power (where it properly can) in accordance with the common law principle of modified universalism, by lending assistance to foreign insolvency proceedings that it is prepared to recognise: see Singularis Holdings v PricewaterhouseCoopers [2015] A.C. 1675 (PC) at [19], [54] [AB/10/192,203] ; In the Matter of China Agrotech Holdings [2017] (2) CILR 526 at [26]) [AB/6/99-101].

40 There are, of course, limitations to that common law principle including that the granting of relief must be consistent with the substantive law and public policy of the assisting court: Singularis Holdings, at [19] [AB/10/192], [25] China Agrotech, at [26(b)] [AB/6/99]. Cayman substantive law includes the Court's long-established statutory jurisdiction – founded on the important public policy of the Court supervising legal persons that are created and exist under Cayman law alone – to wind-up local entities, including ELPs such as the Partnership, which is registered under the ELP Act, and constituted and governed by that Act and the Cayman-law governed LPA.

The Chapter 11 moratorium

41 The Rigmora LPs are naturally concerned to comply with the Chapter 11 stay. The stay and the conflict of law over its applicability is a particularly critical issue here, where there is a prior winding up proceeding in the Cayman Court, but the Partnership has assets located in the US.

42 The Rigmora LPs are also concerned that the Chapter 11 cases that have been filed as to the Partnership and the GP are utterly improper and were filed in bad faith, to avoid this Winding Up proceeding, and for all the reasons set forth in the Rigmora LPs' Motion to Dismiss filed on 12 December 2025 [HB/16/362]. The Rigmora LPs had hoped that the Motion to Dismiss could be resolved in time to allow the trial of the Cayman Proceedings to proceed as ordered. However, at the scheduling hearing on 15 December 2025 the Delaware Bankruptcy Court declined to set down a procedural timetable which would allow that to happen. The Delaware Bankruptcy Court also held that the alternative relief sought in the Motion to Dismiss (seeking to lift the stay under §362 of Chapter 11 to allow these proceedings to continue) could not be advanced separately from the rest of that Motion. The Delaware Bankruptcy Court indicated that a separate filing would be required if the Rigmora LPs wished to vary the Chapter 11 stay before the Motion to Dismiss is determined.

43 As noted above in paragraph 13, the Rigmora LPs therefore intend to file such a motion for relief from the stay as it relates to the Cayman Winding Up Petition (i.e. the Motion to Vary) on or before 19 December 2025. As explained above, the Rigmora LPs expect the Motion to Vary to be determined in early January 2026.

D THE CONDUCT OF THE CAYMAN PROCEEDINGS

44 The Rigmora LPs ask the Court to use some (relatively small part) of the time reserved for the January determine the Paragraph 10(b) Issues.

45 They are narrow and self-contained questions of Cayman law. They turn on the construction of a single provision of the LPA, and the consequences of the Delaware Judgment and Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Proceedings under the LPA and ELP Act. These Cayman law issues are capable of being determined in one or two days, without the need for the Court to determine any contested factual issues. The Cayman Court's views on these questions of its own law are likely to be of critical importance, not just in this jurisdiction but in the Chapter 11 proceedings too.

46 The Court is invited to maintain a two-day listing, preferably during the week of 19 January 2026, for a hearing of the Paragraph 10(b) Issues; and direct all the other issues in the Petition Proceedings, as well as the Writ Proceedings as a whole, be adjourned, with liberty to apply.

[PROPOSED] PARTIAL FINAL JUDGMENT AND ORDER PURSUANT TO RULE 54(b)

WHEREAS, the Court conducted a two-day trial on October 16 and 17, 2025;

WHEREAS, the Court issued its Post-Trial Memorandum Opinion (the "Opinion") on December 5, 2025;

WHEREAS, the Court did not resolve one of the pending claims; and

WHEREAS, the parties have agreed on a proposed form of order implementing the Opinion,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED, this __ day of _____, 2025, as follows:

1. With respect to the Verified Complaint (Dkt. 1), judgment is hereby entered in favor of Defendants Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP (collectively, "Defendants") and against Plaintiff ATP III

GP, Ltd. ("ATP") on the following counts: the First Cause of Action (Breach of Contract – Budget Approvals), the Second Cause of Action (Anticipatory Breach of Contract – Contributions for Budgeted Companies), the Third Cause of Action (Obligation to Act Rationally and in Good Faith), and the Fourth Cause of Action (Global Default Charge).

2. The Court reserves decision on the Fifth Cause of Action (Declaratory Relief – Proper Actions of General Partner).

3. ATP is not entitled to its attorney's fees in connection with the above-captioned action.

4. With respect to ATP's additional breach of contract claim asserted in the conformed pleadings pursuant to the Stipulation and Pre-Trial Order (Dkt. 209, ¶ 76) (the "Additional Claim"), judgment is hereby entered in favor of ATP and against Defendants. Defendants, jointly and severally, shall, within 10 days of the entry of this Partial Final Judgment and Order, pay to ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("the Fund") $96,960,925.88 in satisfaction of the Capital Calls (as defined in the Opinion) issued on May 30, 2025 for Aethon Therapeutics, Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Ascidian Therapeutics, Deep Apple Therapeutics, Evercrisp Biosciences, Initial Therapeutics, Marengo Therapeutics, Marlinspike Therapeutics, Red Queen Therapeutics, and ATLS fees and partnership expenses.

5. Each party shall bear its own costs.

CONFIDENTIAL RIGMORA_BK00000145

6. All other requests for relief are denied.

7. Court of Chancery Rule 54(b) provides this Court with discretion to enter a partial final judgment if: (1) the action involves multiple claims or parties; (2) at least one claim or the rights and liabilities of at least one party has been finally decided; and (3) there is no just reason for delaying an appeal.

8. The Post-Trial Opinion satisfies the requirements of Court of Chancery Rule 54(b).

9. This case involves multiple claims against multiple parties, and the Opinion resolved all of the claims except for one, on which the Court reserved judgment.

10. The unresolved claim involves issues being resolved in a pending litigation in the Cayman Islands and is "not a core dispute in this litigation." Accordingly, there is no just reason for delaying the finality of this Partial Final Judgment and Order pending appeal.

11. Pursuant to Court of Chancery Rule 54(b), the Court expressly directs (i) that this Partial Final Judgment and Order be entered as a final order and judgment with respect to all proceedings to date regarding the First Cause of Action (Breach of Contract – Budget Approvals), the Second Cause of Action (Anticipatory Breach of Contract – Contributions for Budgeted Companies), the Third Cause of Action (Obligation to Act Rationally and in Good Faith), the Fourth Cause of Action (Global Default Charge), and ATP's Additional Claim and (ii) that this Partial Final Judgment and Order be immediately appealable.

1. I am the David S. Lobel Professor of Private Equity and Professor of Finance at the Graduate School of Business, Stanford University ("Stanford GSB"), where I have taught since 2004. In addition to my general expertise in the area of financial economics, I have specific experience with respect to venture capital:

- I teach a range of classes that students at Stanford GSB take to become either venture capitalists or founders of venture capital-backed companies.
- I have published numerous articles in leading peer-reviewed finance and economics journals on the activities of venture capitalists, how venture capitalists make decisions, and valuation of venture capital-backed companies.
    - For my paper on early stage financing and venture capital decision-making, my colleagues and I surveyed over 800 venture capitalists who manage the majority of venture capital assets in the United States. This paper has been the most cited article in the field of venture capital in the past five years.
- I founded Stanford GSB's Venture Capital Initiative which brings together faculty, staff, students, and practitioners to advance and promote research and teaching on innovation and venture capital.
- I have consulted for venture capital funds, corporate venture capital organizations, and fund investors on a broad set of issues related to early stage investing, including contractual negotiations.

2. I have specific experience related to this case. I submitted expert and expert rebuttal reports in related litigation in the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Chancery Court") and was deposed and testified at trial.[1] Appendix A contains my full curriculum vitae, including a list of my publications and a list of cases in which I have testified. II. BACKGROUND AND ASSIGNMENT

3. ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Fund" or the "Partnership") and ATP III GP, Ltd. (the "GP") filed Chapter 11 petitions on December 9, 2025.[3] The Fund invested capital in life science companies (the "Portfolio Companies" or "PortCos").[4] Seven of its Portfolio Companies (the "Filing PortCos" and, together with the Fund and GP, the "Debtors") filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in the same proceeding as the Fund and GP.[5] In his First Day Declaration, Dr. Seth Harrison ("Dr. Harrison") described all of the Filing PortCos except Apertor as "wholly dependent" or "wholly funded" by the Fund.[6] I am not aware of any third party funding for Apertor.[7] The Harrison First Day Declaration also explained that none of the Filing PortCos have therapies or treatments that are commercially available or in clinical trials (i.e., they are all in the "preclinical stage") nor do any have external partnership agreements.[8] On January 29, 2026, the Debtors filed a motion seeking authorization for the Fund to provide a total of $39.5 million to all of the Filing PortCos and three additional PortCos (Aethon, Aulos, and Replicate, collectively with the Filing PortCos, the "Funding PortCos"); $12.2 million to pay "Management Company Expenses through July 31, 2026;" and $22.5 million to pay Chapter 11 expenses.[9]

review the assertions in the Harrison First Day Declaration, assess whether the Fund's performance provides a basis to defer to the GP's judgment about portfolio company funding, and explain the role of Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in venture capital. Based on my review and analysis of materials listed in Appendix B, as well as my experience and expertise, I have reached the following principal conclusions:[10]

- The economic evidence contradicts Dr. Harrison's assertions that:
  - Rigmora cut off funding to the Partnership due to a liquidity crisis in 2022;
  - The Debtors are unable to raise capital through syndication due to Dr. Rybolovlev's "prior connections to Russia;"
- The Fund's performance to date does not provide a basis to defer to the GP's judgment about portfolio company funding;
- It is not a sign of financial distress for a venture capital fund to be coming to the end of its contingent subscriptions.

In the remainder of this declaration, I explain the bases for my conclusions.

III. THE ECONOMIC EVIDENCE CONTRADICTS DR. HARRISON'S ASSERTIONS

A. Rigmora did not "cut off" funding to the Partnership due to a "liquidity crisis" in 2022

5. Dr. Harrison asserts that the Rigmora LPs had been experiencing a "liquidity crisis" in early 2022 that was made more severe by the Russian invasion of Ukraine in February 2022.[11] He further asserts that this liquidity crisis "forced the Rigmora LPs to adopt an austerity approach to investments, particularly by withholding cash from Partnership investments" and that "the Rigmora LPs decided to cut off committed funding to the Partnership to preserve their own liquidity, regardless of their contractual obligations or the detrimental impact on the Portfolio Companies."[12]

The Rigmora LPs' focus on immediate cash flow and limiting expenditure became even more acute following the invasion. . . . it appears that, contemporaneously, the Family Trust behind the Rigmora LPs had been experiencing an ongoing, self-described, liquidity crisis due to its investment and cash management choices. The 'Russian effect' then created further liquidity constraints for the Rigmora LPs, as they became unable to sell assets, conduct routine financial transactions, or access capital markets due to KYC concerns.").

6. Exhibit 1 shows Rigmora did not cut off funding to the Partnership in 2022. The blue line shows Rigmora's cumulative capital contributions through the end of 2025 excluding approximately $393 million of deemed contributions pursuant to Amendment No. 20 to the Limited Partnership Agreement ("LPA").[13] The orange line shows Rigmora's cumulative capital contributions through the end of 2025 including those deemed contributions. The dashed vertical line shows the date of Russian invasion of Ukraine. The exhibit shows that the pace of Rigmora's capital contributions did not fall after the Russian invasion. On average, excluding deemed contributions, Rigmora contributed approximately $55 million per quarter from the second quarter of 2022 (the first quarter after the invasion) through the fourth quarter of 2025, totaling $829 million in capital contributions. Over the same length of time before the Russian invasion, Rigmora contributed approximately $48 million per quarter, totaling $716 million.

B. The economic evidence contradicts Dr. Harrison's assertion that the Debtors were not able to raise money through syndication after the Russian invasion of Ukraine due to Dr. Rybolovlev's "prior connections to Russia"

1. The Portfolio Companies raised money from equity and debt investors and entered into strategic partnerships with large, multinational pharmaceutical companies after the Russian invasion of Ukraine

7. Dr. Harrison asserts that the Debtors were "unable to syndicate with third party venture capital firms due to issues stemming from the Rigmora LPs' association with Russia," including the "associated risk of being caught up in future sanctions that may be imposed on [Dr. Rybolovlev] or his affiliates," "the reputational risks of doing business with him," and "Know

Your Customer ('KYC') regulatory concerns," which Dr. Harrison terms the "Russian effect."[14] While it is indisputable that Russian-related sanctions by the United States affected some businesses, Dr. Rybolovlev has not been sanctioned by the United States, the United Kingdom, or the European Union over the four years since the invasion (he has been sanctioned by Ukraine).[15] Moreover, Dr. Harrison's assertion that a purported "Russian effect" has prevented syndication is contradicted by the economic evidence in this case.

8. Two Portfolio Companies (Galvanize and Braeburn) were able raise money from outside investors after the Russian invasion. Galvanize raised approximately $100 million in a March 2022 "Series B" round,[16] and another $100 million in a 2025 "Series C" round.[17] "Series B" and "Series C" rounds are standard means of raising venture capital for later stage companies. Importantly, both rounds were led by sophisticated asset managers who I would expect to have been aware of, and sensitive to, the types of concerns Dr. Harrison raises about sanctions and reputational risk.[18] The Series B round was led by Fidelity Management and Research, one of the largest asset managers in the world, with $3.9 trillion of assets under management in 2022, 37 million retail accounts, and 8.2 million institutional customers.[19] The Series C round was led by Sofinnova Partners, a venture capital firm that had backed over 500 companies and managed over $4 billion at the time.[20] Multiple other large asset managers participated in both rounds and the Series C round was oversubscribed.[21]

9. Another Portfolio Company, Braeburn, closed on a $125 million credit facility in 2023.[22] The credit agreement was with Hercules Capital ("Hercules"). I would expect Hercules to be aware of, and sensitive to, the types of concerns Dr. Harrison raises about sanctions and reputational risk. It focuses on "providing financing solutions to high-growth, innovative venture capital-backed and institutional-backed companies," had an investment portfolio valued at $3.2 billion as of December 31, 2023, and is traded on the New York Stock Exchange.[23]

10. The ability of Galvanize and Braeburn to raise more than $300 million from sophisticated investors after the Russian invasion of Ukraine contradicts Dr. Harrison's assertion that the risk of sanctions and reputational risk prevented the Portfolio Companies from raising money, including through syndication.[24]

11. In addition, the risk of sanctions and reputational risk did not prevent large pharmaceutical companies from entering strategic partnerships with the Portfolio Companies.

24 Even if the "Russian effect" impeded some Portfolio Companies from raising money, this funding problem could be solved by selling the Fund's interest in any Portfolio Companies, as the sale would sever the link between the Portfolio Company and Dr. Rybolovlev. I am not aware of the Fund attempting to sell its interest in any Portfolio Companies after the Russian invasion and Dr. Harrison fails to explain why the Fund did not try to accomplish this or provide any evidence to this effect.

FILED UNDER SEAL

This is significant because Dr. Harrison provides no basis to believe the risks from the "Russian effect," to the extent they existed, would not be a factor in "strategic partnerships." Had the risks of doing business with a Portfolio Company backed by Dr. Rybolovlev been significant, I would not expect multinational pharmaceutical companies to have entered into strategic partnerships with them. However, Exhibit 2 shows multiple Portfolio Companies were able to secure strategic partnerships with large, established global pharmaceutical companies after the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

2. Investments from investors with connections to Russia have not prevented other companies from raising capital after the Russian invasion of Ukraine

12. I am not aware of any case where an individual, or their affiliates, who was not sanctioned by the U.S., the U.K., or the E.U, could not raise capital solely because of the individual's connection to Russia. On the contrary, many private companies whose investors have connections to Russia were able to raise capital after the invasion. I have identified 285 syndicated deals that received an investment from a venture capital fund managed by a Russian-connected general partner[25] after the Russian invasion of Ukraine. The Russian-connected VC firms were a lead investor in 65 of these deals. Out of 285 deals, 122 deals were syndicated with large investors (i.e., those with more than $5 billion assets under management) and the large investors participated in 25 deals where the Russian-connected VC firm was the lead investor. See Exhibit 3.

more recent performance is therefore more relevant to evaluating the GP's management of the Fund. I evaluated the performance of the Fund's recent investments, specifically the investments in pools ATP V-1, V-2 and V-3. These pools include all of the Funding PortCos and all of the Fund's current investments except Braeburn. I find that the performance of these pools has been below their peers. Moreover, the GP's failure to raise capital for the Funding Companies from third parties (outside bankruptcy) suggests they lack promise.

A. The performance of the Fund's recent investments has been below its peers

18. Dr. Harrison asserts that "[w]hen benchmarked against the top funds in the industry … the Partnership has been one of the most successful in the field," pointing to four companies he characterizes as "examples of the Partnership's success:" Stoke, Akero, Syntimmune, and Braeburn.[35] However, Dr. Harrison acknowledges that Syntimmune was sold in 2018 and Stoke and Akero had initial public offerings in 2019.[36] Importantly, the management team at the GP also changed around this time.

19. The changes to the GP's management team were significant. Dr. Harrison testified there were "some issues with the prior team" because "they were much more focused on investing than … operating [companies]" so the GP brought in a "new team" of "pharma executives" "who were ready to jump into venture capital," "found [sic] deals and actually manage them themselves."[37] Two partners who left around this time were Samuel Hall, Ph.D

So we needed to segregate their deals in a pool out of fairness. . . . And there were also some issues with the prior team that, despite their successes, they were much more focused on investing than they were on operating. So the idea became to hire a top team of pharmaceutical, R&D entrepreneurs who were ready to jump into venture capital, use their networks and their formidable skills and backgrounds to found deals and actually manage them themselves. So that's what we did."). Dr. Harrison testified that, among the "pharma executives" hired around this time were Paul Eisenberg, Mike Ehlers, Spiros Liras and Paul Jardine. See Ex. Dr. Hall and Mr. Kantoff were also involved in other companies the Fund exited with a combined gain of over $250 million.[40] Moreover, Mr. Kantoff and Dr. Hall have been successful since leaving the GP; they are two of the three founders of Scion Life Sciences, which launched an oversubscribed, $310 million biotech venture capital fund in 2024.[41] Therefore, to assess the GP's skill at managing the Fund, I assessed the performance of its recent investments.

20. I compared standard venture capital fund performance metrics for Pools ATP V-1, V-2, and V-3[42] with peer biotechnology funds. ATP V-1, V-2 and V-3 are of the 2019, 2020 and 2021 vintages, respectively, and contain all of the Fund's current investments except Braeburn, including all of the Funding PortCos (which in turn include all of the Filing PortCos).[43] I compare performance using the net internal rate of return ("Net IRR"[44]) and total-value-to-paid-in ("TVPI"[45]) as of December 31, 2024 in Exhibit 6.

I focused on Pools ATP V-1, V-2 and V-3 because these pools contain the Fund's most recent investments, with vintages from 2019–2021, including all of the Funding PortCos. Id. at -871. See also Id. at -670 (showing six of the companies in V-1, V-2 and V-3 had an initial investment date of 2020, four had an initial investment date of 2021, two had an initial investment date of 2022 and two had an initial investment date of 2015). The two companies with initial investments in 2015 have higher TVPIs than the average for these pools. Galvanize is reported to have $127.04 million invested to date and a fair value of $202.53 (with no realized gain/loss) for a TVPI of 1.59 (i.e., 202.53 / 127.04 = 1.59) and Marengo is reported to have $56.02 invested to date and a fair value of $201.56 for a TVPI of 3.60 (i.e., 201.56 / 56.02 = 3.60).

[44] Net IRR is a standard performance metric in venture capital that calculates the interest rate that must be applied to the fund's cash inflows and outflows (net of fees and expenses paid to the fund) through the present and the unrealized value of its portfolio companies to result in zero net present value. See, e.g., Lerner, Josh and Ann Leamon, Venture Capital, Private Equity and the Financing of Entrepreneurship, Second Edition (Wiley, 2023), at 287–288.

[45] TVPI is another standard performance metric that measures the value of a fund's investments relative to the amount invested. TVPI is calculated by dividing the sum of the value of the fund's remaining investments and the value of total funds distributed by the total amount of capital paid into the fund. See, e.g., Talmor, Eli and Florin Vasvari, International Private Equity (Wiley, 2011), at 42.

Net IRR and TVPI for ATP Pools V-1/V-2/V-3 v. Comparable Biotech Funds, as of December 31, 2024

See Appendix C for sources and notes.

21. Exhibit 6 shows that the Net IRR that the Fund reported for Pools V-1, V-2, and V-3 for December 31, 2024 (7.18%)[46] was below the mean and median Net IRR for the comparable biotechnology funds (9.90% and 8.23%, respectively), and substantially below the top performing comparable biotechnology funds (as shown by the 15.89% Net IRR for the 75th percentile of the sample, which means that the top 25% of the sample all had a Net IRR of [46] Note that the Net IRR reported by ATP for Pool V-2 of 0.00% is based on an erroneous excel formula in the Fund Model spreadsheet used to calculate the Net IRR and TVPI for the various pools. Ex. G, 2024.12.31 Fund Model.xlsx (ATP_00264756). In particular, cell E394 of the "Net" tab contains an "XIRR" formula that includes the default "estimate" of 0.1, which in this instance does not allow for a valid IRR calculation. Correcting this default "estimate" to -0.1 yields a corrected Net IRR of -3.23% for Pool V-2.

15.89% or more). Exhibit 6 also shows the same is true for TVPI; the TVPI for Pools V-1, V-2 and V-3 (1.16) was below the mean and median TVPI for the comparable biotechnology funds and substantially below the top performing comparable biotechnology funds.[47] Therefore, the GP's recent performance has been worse than its peers.

B. The GP's failure to raise capital for the Funding PortCos through syndication is consistent with their lack of promise

22. None of the Funding PortCos have been able to attract third party investment outside of bankruptcy.[48] In my experience and research, equity interest by third-party investors is one of the critical considerations in the venture capital industry. While there is typically third-party interest in investing in promising companies, there is not in companies that are unlikely to succeed. I confirmed this was the case for the companies similar to the Portfolio Companies by assessing how common it is for these companies to obtain follow on financing (i.e., after their initial funding round) without third party investors. I found that only happens in approximately 3% to 4% of cases, meaning that the overwhelming majority of successful similar companies had more than one investor. Appendix F explains my empirical analysis and provides complete results.

23. I considered whether the failure of the Funding PortCos to obtain third party investment was simply due to their youth. To do so, I first identified biotech startups that raised follow on third party funding after their initial funding round (whether through a second funding round, an IPO or a merger or acquisition ("M&A") whose value was at least twice the amount the company had raised to date (a "Successful M&A Transaction")); I refer to these firms as "Successful Comparables." I restricted my analysis to companies, like the Funding PortCos, that only had one initial investor. I then measured how long it took each Successful Comparable to receive third party funding. I found that the mean time to third party funding for Successful Comparables, with an initial round greater than $30 million, was 1.75 years and the median time was 1.79 years. 75% of Successful Comparables, with an initial round greater than $30 million, achieved follow-on funding from at least one third party within 2.41 years.[49] For all of the Funding PortCos, by contrast, the time from the initial funding round to May 15, 2025 is longer than the mean and median for Successful Comparables, ranging from 2.35 years for Aethon to 4.83 years for Initial (and longer than 75% of Successful Comparables for all but Aethon). The failure of the Funding PortCos to attract third-party follow-on investment within the usual time frame for Successful Comparables further suggests they lack promise.[50] I would expect them to have attracted third-party investment by now if they were highly promising. Appendix G explains my empirical analysis and provides more details on my results.

24. Dr. Harrison argues the GP has been unable to raise money for the PortCos through syndication due to the "Russian effect," the "downturn in the broader biotechnology markets," and "the legal overhang from the Delaware and Cayman trials."[51] However, I showed in the prior section that the economic evidence contradicts Dr. Harrison's assertion about the Russian effect. While I agree that the market environment for biotech has become more difficult in recent years, analysis by the National Venture Capital Association shows that there were 750 or more late-stage biotech deals, and more than 500 early-stage deals, in each of the last four years (early-stage deals do not include seed or pre-seed deals). These rounds raised $145 billion.[52] Therefore, the Funding PortCos' failure to attract third-party follow-on investment within the ordinary time frame is more consistent with their lack of promise, rather than a "Russian effect" or the downturn in the biotech market.

49 The mean, median, and 75th percentile time to third party funding was longer for Successful Companies if I do not require the initial round to be greater than $30 million.

50 Aulos raised a second round of funding but the Fund was the only investor. V. IT IS NOT A SIGN OF FINANCIAL DISTRESS FOR A VENTURE CAPITAL FUND TO BE COMING TO THE END OF ITS CONTINGENT SUBSCRIPTIONS

25. Venture capital funds typically are not meant to have an infinite life.[53] At the onset of a venture capital fund (i.e., when capital for the fund is "committed" or "raised"), limited partners promise to put up a certain amount of capital over a specific period of time (here, the limited partners' Contingent Subscriptions). When the general partner identifies an attractive investment opportunity, it requests (or calls) portions of the pre-set capital from the fund's limited partners. The capital raised is invested in portfolio companies on behalf of the limited partners. The fund is expected to wind down when it has either a) exhausted the pre-set capital and exited all of the portfolio companies; or b) reached the termination date set in its governing documents.[54] Approaching the end of the contingent subscriptions is thus not a sign of financial distress, but the way venture capital funds operate in the ordinary course of business.

26. The Fund is structured in this typical fashion. In particular, I understand from counsel that the GP obtained commitments from the limited partners for a pre-set amount of Contingent Subscriptions, which can only be changed by amending the Fund's partnership agreement, and that the Fund has a specified term.

27. Dr. Harrison appears to assert that the remaining amount of Rigmora's Contingent Subscription "will be inadequate to fund existing Preferred Stock capital commitments" that Dr. Harrison claims the GP made on behalf of the Fund.[55] If this is correct, it would indicate that the GP committed the Fund to provide its portfolio companies with a total amount of capital exceeding the Fund's committed capital. That is not how venture capital funds operate, and [53] Dr. Harrison refers to the Debtors as a "venture capital enterprise." See Harrison First Day Declaration, ¶ 6. However, as is typical in venture capital, the Fund, the GP and the Portfolio Companies are all separate entities.

---

[54] Gornall, Will and Ilya Strebulaev, "The Contracting and Valuation of Venture Capital-Backed Companies," in The Handbook of the Economics of Corporate Finance, Vol 1: Private Equity and Entrepreneurial Finance, 2023, at 5.

[55] Harrison First Day Declaration, ¶ 16 ("While the Delaware Chancery Court judgment found that the Rigmora LPs are required to contribute more than $96 million in response to the May 30 Capital Calls, and can call up to a total of about $30 million above that sum, those funds . . . will be inadequate to fund existing Preferred Stock capital commitments as well as the ongoing operations of the Debtors, particularly the funding of clinical trials and other research and development activities of PortCos that have already expended their existing Series A funding (i.e., the funding provided by the Partnership)").

FILED UNDER SEAL

would run contrary to the purpose of venture capital funds to invest only the finite sums that the limited partners have committed to contribute.

28. While it is common for portfolio companies to enter bankruptcy, venture capital funds, themselves, very rarely, if ever, have reason to seek protection from creditors in Chapter 11. Because they are funded with capital from their limited partners, funds typically do not take on significant debt (I understand from counsel that the LPA of the Fund (as amended from time to time) does not allow the Fund to take on debt without Rigmora's consent)[56] or engage in practices such as short selling that would create obligations of unpredictable size. As a result, venture capital funds do not have creditors from which they need Chapter 11 protection. Indeed, I am not aware of any venture capital fund (other than the Fund) having sought such protection. Because VC funds do not file for bankruptcy, they also do not take on DIP financing. To the extent DIP financing would be collateralized by a fund's interest in portfolio companies that have obtained significant value, that could create conflicts of interest, as the financing would effectively encumber limited partners' interest in successful portfolio companies to fund further investment in other portfolio companies.

29. Allowing venture capital funds to remain in Chapter 11, and thus avoid their obligations under funds' governing agreements, would upend the expectations of investors. Investors in venture capital expect the governing agreements, such as the LPA, to protect them from a GP's conflicts of interest and to prevent the GP from investing their money in ways that the governing agreements do not permit and to which they did not agree.[57] If GPs were able to resort to Chapter 11 to take actions that are not allowed under their governing agreements, investors would require higher returns to accept the higher risk of harm. This would result in less investment in venture capital, as companies that previously would have had satisfactory returns would go unfunded due to the increased risk.

[56] See LPA §§ 2(h) & (i).

[57] The interests of GPs and LPs can diverge with respect to providing additional rounds of funding to portfolio companies after the initial investment is made. The GP is generally responsible for little to none of the additional capital that is invested in a portfolio company, therefore it will bear little to none of the losses if the portfolio company fails. However, if a portfolio company is sold for more than the invested capital, the GP shares disproportionately in the profits through its carry interest. Therefore, the GP typically has a financial incentive to approve additional funding for portfolio companies that have a chance of a large payoff, even if that chance is small.

FILED UNDER SEAL

30. In contrast to venture capital funds, it is not unusual for portfolio companies to seek protection from creditors in Chapter 11. Venture capital funds typically invest in multiple early-stage, risky companies. These portfolio companies may take on debt and other financial obligations that they will be unable to satisfy if their performance is below expectations. This is particularly true because venture capital funds generally stop funding portfolio companies whose performance suggests they are insufficiently likely to be successful. As a result, many portfolio companies ultimately fail and it is not unusual for a portfolio company to seek protection from creditors in Chapter 11.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on February 18, 2026.

Sources and Notes:

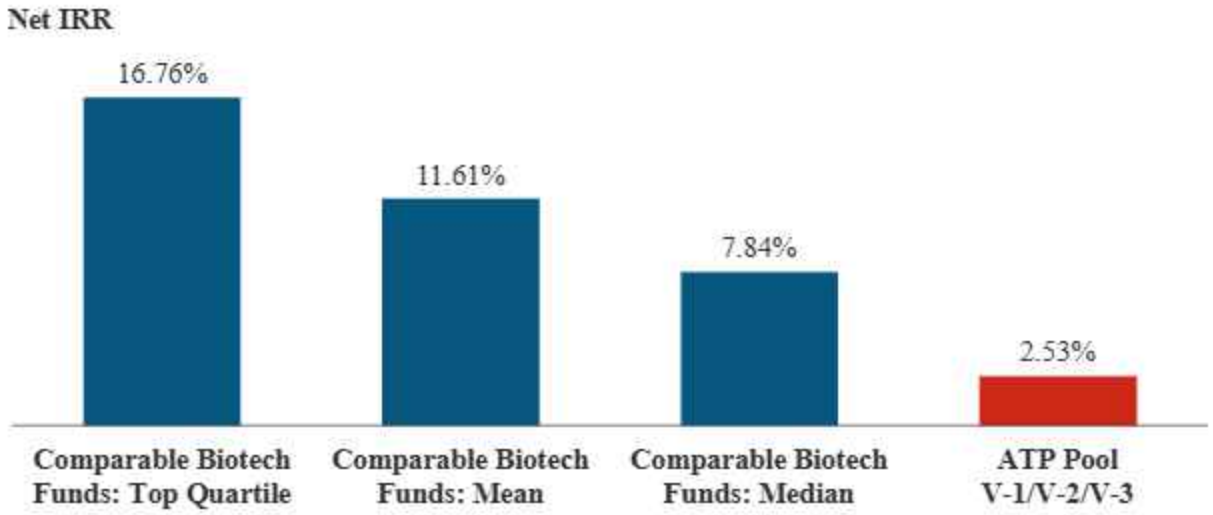
[1] Sample includes funds with the following characteristics in Preqin: Asset Class – Private Equity; Fund Type & Status – Comingled; Strategy – Venture Capital; Fund Size – greater than or equal to $200 million; Vintage / Inception Year – 2019 to 2021; Sector – Biotechnology; Currency – USD; Geography – North America; Fund Manager Location – North America. Funds were excluded if they did not have either Net IRR or TVPI data reported. After merging on Pitchbook performance measures, funds were excluded if the most recently reported performance metrics were as of a date before March 31, 2024.

[2] Refers to the size of the fund at closing per Preqin.

[3] Defined by Preqin as "the first year of investment/drawdown from the investor."



[4] Defined by Preqin as "Money-weighted return expressed as a percentage. Net IRR uses the present sum of cash contributed, the sum of distributions, and the current value of unrealized investments and applies a discount. This amount should be net of any carry/performance fees earned by the GP."

[5] Defined by Preqin as "Reveals how many times investors have received, or are likely to receive, their money back and make a profit from their investments. It is the sum of the DPI [distributions-to-paid-in] plus RVPI [residual-value-to-paid-in], expressed as a multiple."

[6] Refers to the date of the Net IRR and TVPI metrics in Preqin.
[7] Defined by Pitchbook as "The rate at which the present value of a series of investments is equal to the present value of the returns on those investments." Pitchbook states that it "display[s] only net IRR and net IRR metrics on PitchBook."
[8] Defined by Pitchbook as "The ratio of the current value of remaining investments within a fund, plus the total value of all distributions to date, relative to the total amount of capital paid into the fund to date."
[9] Refers to the date of the Net IRR and TVPI metrics in Pitchbook.
[10] Refers to the source with the latest "Date Reported" value. If Preqin and Pitchbook have the same Date Reported value, then the source with the most data is used, with Prequin as the default.
[11] Refers to the Net IRR from the source in [10].
[12] Refers to the TVPI from the source in [10].
[13] Refers to "Date Reported" from the source in [10].
[14] Data for ATP Pools V-1, V-2 and V-3 per ATP Life Science Ventures, LP Fourth Quarter 2024 Report As of December 31, 2024 (ATP_00004868, at -870) and 2024.12.31 Fund Model (ATP_00264756).xlsx. The Net IRR reported by ATP for Pool V-2 of 0.00% is based on an erroneous excel formula in the Fund Model spreadsheet used to calculate the Net IRR and TVPI for the various pools (ATP_00264756.xlsx). In particular, cell E394 of the "Net" tab contains an "XIRR" formula that includes the default "estimate" of 0.1, which in this instance does not allow for a valid IRR calculation. Correcting this default "estimate" to -0.1 yields a corrected Net IRR of -3.23% for Pool V-2.

Net IRR and TVPI for ATP Pools V-1/V-2/V-3 v. Comparable Biotech Funds, as of March 31, 2025
Note (for March 31, 2025):
[14] 31-Mar-2025 data for ATP Pools V-1, V-2 and V-3 per ATP Life Science Ventures, LP First Quarter 2025 Report As of March 31, 2025 (ATP_00004667, at -668). Data is not available to determine whether the Net IRR reported by ATP for Pool V-2 of 0.00% is an error.

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$11.60M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	90.76%	Investment Stage:	Active/ Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small-molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

Initial has developed a complete screening strategy for the leading c-Myc program and has filed a patent for c-Myc. A collaboration with Stanford University has been established to support the project. A ribosome profiling study will be conducted in 2Q to provide a selectivity blueprint with three leads. Initial has prioritized AR V7 as its next target; a complete screening strategy has been developed, and the project is entering hit to lead. NRF2 and n-Myc will be pursued opportunistically. Novartis has approached Initial for a potential partnership discussion. Initial is about to sign a lease in South San Francisco for new space, which will be shared with Nine Square.

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$7.80M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	92.58%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Nine Square is discovering novel small molecule therapeutics for Parkinson's disease, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), and non-degenerative forms of movement disorders such as essential tremors and dyskinesias.

Nine Square Therapeutics demonstrated significant progress across the portfolio over the past quarter. A proprietary in vivo active molecule has been identified for TRPML1 and is currently in cell biology mechanism of action studies. Molecular glues have been confirmed in the Parkin program, and the project is entering hit to lead. In the CK1e program, CRISPR-based functional genomic experiments have shown that CK1e increases survival of neurons; confirmation of the results will trigger chemistry to produce degraders for the kinase. Nine Square has identified laboratory space to

Adendra Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$2.80M	Initial Investment Date:	September 2021
Ownership:	84.24%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series Seed

Company snapshot: Adendra Therapeutics seeks to modulate immune response to cell death as a means of treating cancer and autoimmune diseases.

Adendra is simultaneously exploring five separate projects, with tool reagent generation and in vitro POC as current aims. The lead project, DNGR-1Fc, has achieved in vivo POC via intratumoral delivery. In addition, Adendra has generated tools for its DNFGR1 activation project and is developing tools for its DNGR1 and sGSN inhibitors and T cell vaccine platform. On the academic collaborations front, Adendra is executing a sponsored research agreement with Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Cardiovasculares Carlos III (CNIC, Madrid, Spain) and has commenced discussions with Dr. Antonia Popova's laboratory at University of Michigan. Adendra also recently conducted an ad hoc advisory meeting with KOLs in the field of dendritic cell modulation.

Apertor Pharmaceuticals

Investment to date:	$6.50M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Ownership:	92.50%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

Recent results suggest that the Apertor leads AP03 and AP07 do not deliver an autoimmune modulation profile. The results from in vitro and in vivo work suggest that the compounds behave more like vaccine enhancers. There is a biochemical discrepancy with the in vivo results. Additional studies in vivo with a broader dose range will be conducted. The Apertor platform is yielding additional novel rapamycin analogs, and these are being profiled in autoimmune phenotypic studies. Apertor is developing a parallel approach to generate 14.3.3 glues using its novel natural product scaffold. Dan Nomura, a leading chemical biologist conducting advanced chemoproteomic research at UC Berkeley, has been recruited to the Apertor Scientific Advisory Board.

Investment to date:	$30.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	60.54%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

Aulos Bioscience advanced the clinical development program for its lead asset, AU-007, recently opening two study sites for its Phase 1/2 trial in Australia (Southside Cancer Care Centre in New South Wales and Monash Health in Victoria) and planning to open a third (Austin Health in Victoria). The company expects to treat the first patient soon and is on track to file an Investigational New Drug (IND) application with US FDA by 3Q22. Aulos has had an abstract about the AU-007 trial in progress accepted for poster presentation at the ASCO Annual Meeting in June. The company continues to assess possibilities for reaching the public market, such as SPACs or M&A, and is watching for any signs of turnaround in the conditions for IPOs.

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$5.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	90.42%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series Seed

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics is a drug discovery company with a research platform founded upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

Initially, Deep Apple will apply its platform on exploiting the G-protein coupled receptor family, which is the largest druggable gene family. Deep Apple has selected four targets for early prosecution: MRGPRX2 and MRGPRX4 for inflammatory conditions and mGluR7 and GABAB for neurological conditions. Structural biology (cryo-EM) for three targets has been developed, and a term sheet for in-licensing a patent from UCSF on MRGPRX2 has been submitted. Additionally, Deep Apple is organizing a pain development mini-symposium to inform go/no go decisions for A2a and EP4. The company is currently recruiting for heads of Chemistry and Pharmacology and scientists in structural biology, computation, and deep learning. Deep Apple is in discussions for space in either Mission Bay or Palo Alto.

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is creating a best-in-class RNA medicines company using its proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA platform technology, with initial areas of focus being drug resistance in oncology and treatment of autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

Replicate Bioscience has added a third development candidate in infectious disease to its existing pipeline of two oncology candidates. Replicate has submitted a pre-IND meeting request to FDA for its infectious disease candidate. Manufacturing engineering runs are in process at a scale sufficient to support mid- to late-stage trials for infectious disease and oncology candidates.

Red Queen Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$5.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2021
Ownership:	94.42%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series Seed

Company snapshot: Red Queen Therapeutics is pursuing a proprietary antiviral technology that has shown the ability to stop SARS-CoV-2 resistance mutations.

The SARS CoV-2 clinical candidate, RQ-01, after three daily doses administered nasally, substantially and similarly reduced viral load in the lung of hamsters challenged with 100,000 delta virus particles (a massive number!) when dosed 0.5 hour prior, 12 hours post, and 24 hours post infection. In a separate study, a single dose at one and 10mg/kg 4 hours prior to Washington variant challenge reduced viral load in nasal swabs at 24 hours by 89% and >95% respectively, and by 77% and >90% at 48 hours. These datasets support start of a Phase 1 POC in COVID positive patients by November 2022.

Ascidian Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$35.57M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.11%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian seeks to address urgent unmet medical needs through its proprietary exon editing technology for repairing and/or replacing genes.

CMC for IND-enabling tox and Phase I work has begun (CDMO: Forge Biologics). Additional non-human primate studies and IND-enabling tox planning are underway. Development of additional ocular and non-ocular targets is ongoing. Limited data were submitted to ASGCT. Ascidian's 80 Guest Street new facility work is on track, with the move planned for end of 2Q.

delivery. The company is developing and commercializing its platform Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for several indications.

- COPD: the RheOx system is a bronchoscopic therapy that delivers PEF to the airways to reduce mucus-producing cells in patients with chronic bronchitis.
- Cardiac arrhythmias: the CENTAURI system harnesses PEF energy to disrupt aberrant electrical signals in the heart to treat cardiac arrhythmias including atrial fibrillation.
- Oncology: the Aliya system is being developed to treat solid tumors via a combination of direct cell death and stimulating neoantigenicity for immune system activation.
- Gene therapy and drug delivery: the system is being developed for local delivery of gene therapy and other therapeutics, initially targeting retinal disease.

In late February, the merger of Gala, Galaxy and Galvanize was completed, leaving a single entity, Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc. The Series B financing closed in March yielding $100 million, inclusive of $6 million in ATP bridge notes. Fidelity led the round with support from Intuitive Surgical and Gilmartin Capital. Simultaneously, Galvanize and Intuitive Surgical entered a collaboration agreement to develop Galvanize's Bronchitis and Oncology catheter on the Intuitive Ion Robot System, and Intuitive paid Galvanize the first $2 million milestone payment. In the RheSolve US pivotal trial, 61 patients have been treated and at the current pace the interim analysis should be available in 2Q23. EU commercialization of RheOx continues, with sites now active in Italy, Denmark and Switzerland while the first commercial patients should be treated in Germany in May. The Electrophysiology team had another review with the Notified Body for CE Mark, which the team anticipates in June, allowing for a launch in July. Commitments from commercial sites are already in place to perform over 1,000 procedures in 2022. For the oncology application, the team submitted a request for Breakthrough Device Designation to FDA in April, and if positive, the designation will be awarded in June. Galvanize resubmitted the 510(k) in late April and the product may be on the market by June. Recent data from the feasibility studies in Europe continues to demonstrate safety and has yielded early responses of immune activation.

Intergalactic Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$60.81M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.53%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Intergalactic Therapeutics is developing novel focal non-viral gene therapies using a proprietary synthetic construct (C^3DNA) with the potential to deliver transformative therapeutic intervention for unmet medical needs, at a cost enabling global accessibility.

Intergalactic's lead program, ABCA4, saw persistence of hABCA4 in adult swine confirmed with superiority to plasmid DNA and confirmed tissue integrity. The program's next milestones will be delivered in 2Q22. In 1Q22, Intergalactic also had its first patent granted (for C^3DNA constructs with claims spanning broadly over ophthalmology targets. Eight additional provisionals have been filed covering engineering and C^3 DNA vector innovations in tracheal electrode and persistence elements. Full execution of a sub-lease agreement with Pyxis Oncology at Intergalactic's new facility in Boston will ensure ~$1.5M in revenues over 2Q22-2Q23.

Marengo Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$49.02M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	85.31%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series B

Company snapshot: Marengo Therapeutics is a multi-platform immuno-oncology company; its lead asset is a next generation TCR vβ T cell engager that stimulates a natural "superkiller" T cell subset with an effector memory phenotype.

Marengo submitted its pre-IND briefing, with questions, for the planned clinical trial of STAR0602, its first-in-class lead program. Response from FDA was favorable on toxicology and clinical studies including patient selection and single patient cohorts. FDA have also given feedback on starting dose, which likely means Marengo is on track to meet its timelines for the dose escalation part of the trial. IND toxicology is ongoing and CMC is being undertaken for clinical trial. Marengo is receiving interest from investors and potential pharma partners, and the company has recently recruited a head of Clinical Operations, a head of Immunology, and a Chief Development Officer; an offer has been extended to a candidate for Chief Financial Officer.

Initial has identified multiple advanced leads on the c-MYC program in MV-4-11, an acute myeloid leukemia (AML) xenograft model. Multiple leads have demonstrated complete tumor growth inhibition and overall favorable tolerability at the efficacious dose, based on in life (weight loss) and blood chemistry. Initial is advancing multiple leads through definitive PK/PD and safety studies in 2H 2023 to enable candidate selection in 1Q 2024 with a specific focus on widening the therapeutic index to give the company optionality as it elects a candidate.

Mechanistic studies have identified compounds with a different in vitro translation profile, exhibiting longer and more sustained duration of translational inhibition for c-Myc and ARV7. These compounds will be evaluated in vivo. ITC 45258 is the lead compound in the pan-AR program, and it has demonstrated improved PK such that it covers the cellular IC50 in a relevant AR cell line for >8 hours. The compound has shown sustained inhibition of both ARV7 and full-length AR, as desired by the target product profile. Further in vivo studies are planned with ITC-4525 and SAR work is ongoing to further optimize potency and PK, with the goal of identifying an analogue with compelling in vivo efficacy at a well-tolerated dose. NRF2 is under consideration as a third target in the portfolio.

Productive business development discussions with Merck and Novo Nordisk have taken place, with an agreement to re-engage at JPM in January, when Initial will be closer to candidate nomination. Positive interactions with venture groups, including OrbiMed, Mirae Asset, Novo Ventures, RA Capital, and Goldman Ventures, have also taken place in anticipation of raising additional funds in 2024.

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$24.90M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Cash balance:	$ 2.20M
Ownership:	89.13%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics is discovering and developing novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases, such as Parkinson's disease and ALS.

TRPML1: The previously identified PD biomarker has been confirmed in vivo and multiple new PD biomarker candidates for preclinical and clinical studies have been identified. Hits from recent HTS of 190K compounds have been validated and are entering accelerated hit expansion/hit-to-lead stage. Initial results with a non-traditional lipophilicity strategy for the lead series indicate reduced in vitro clearance while preserving potency. A new amorphous solid dispersions (ASD) formulation significantly increased absorption and exposure after i.p. dosing. Internal and external virtual screening efforts are ongoing. A translational strategy for PD/DLB, ALS, and Batten Disease has been developed, and a clinical plan for ALS has been outlined. Nine Square is targeting candidate nomination in 2024.

For Parkin, a new chemical series has been selected for lead optimization and additional hit validation from Chembridge and an Enamine library screen is underway. Biophysics and structural biology capabilities are in place for rapid optimization and the first positive results of binding of Parkin to pUb have been seen in NMR. A clinical plan for Parkinson's disease has been developed, with Nine Square candidate nomination planned for 2024.

The Ataxin-2 program saw the successful creation of Hibit-Halotag Ataxin-2 and control SHSY-5Y cell lines. HTS is planned to start in February 2024.

A total of 15 meetings with 15 VCs have been conducted so far this year, and additional meetings are scheduled. The VCs have expressed continued strong interest in Nine Square's targets, biological pathway, and imaging platform. The company is preparing a data room for Mirae Assets.

Ownership:	70.69%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series Seed

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

During this quarter, Aethon Therapeutics continued the development of its bispecific antibodies to be used in combination with KRAS-targeting cancer therapy, namely the approved agents Lumakras (Amgen) and Krazati (Mirati); these Aethon programs have now moved to in vivo trials. The collaboration with NYU has allowed Aethon to also obtain early indication of potential use of its technology platform with other KRAS inhibitors in development, notably divarasib from Genentech/Roche. Aethon is now fully established in Long Island City, NY, with eight laboratory scientists overseen by its Chief Technology Officer. Conversations continue with several companies – Amgen, Mirati (soon to be BMS), Genentech, Novartis – towards strategic partnerships, and terms have been agreed for a collaboration agreement with Revolution Medicines, bringing the Aethon platform to Revolution's KRAS G12C and G1D-targeting drugs.

Investment to date:	$15.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Cash balance:	$ 0.78M
Ownership:	90.97%	Investment Stage:	Active/Pro Forma Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

The first series of compounds has been evaluated for 4-EBP1 phosphorylation inhibition. AP-149 has been identified as a 4-EBP1 phosphorylation inhibitor with cell killing activity in renal carcinoma cell lines. A second series of compounds, designed for improved potency and selectivity versus mTORC2/pAKT based on the selection of warheads, will be evaluated in vitro in 4Q 2023 in RCC models as well as models for potentially other indications in NSCLC and breast cancer. PK studies with optimized leads will be conducted to explore dosing regimen. The compounds are projected to be injectable agents and a long half-life is desired. In the 1433 fusicoccin A project, a systematic query of potential target opportunities from the team has delivered a handful of oncology targets associated with unmet clinical needs, including those involved in KRAS signaling (CRAF) and DNA damage response (P53). Structural biology and computational studies are guiding design to deliver fusicoccin analogs with either increased potency for inactivating CRAF or conversely for promoting p53 activity.

Two dimensions of the synthetic biology platform have been developed. The polyketide synthase platform is producing novel FKBP binders which can be used as building blocks for heterobifunctional molecules, analogous to RIPTACs. The terpene arm of the synthetic biology is focused on the production of novel fusicoccin analogs as monovalent glues and/or anchor ligands for novel heterobifunctionals.

As of 3Q 2023, Aulos has enrolled 42 patients in the Phase 1 dose escalation portion of its clinical trial of AU-007, a monoclonal antibody designed by artificial intelligence that binds to interleukin-2 (IL-2) and redirects it toward immune effector cells and away from immunosuppressive Treg cells and vascular tissue. Enrollment has been completed in the Phase 1 dose escalation cohorts evaluating monotherapy AU-007, and in the Phase 1 dose escalation cohorts that include the addition of low dose recombinant human IL-2 (Proleukin®) given one time as a single subcutaneous loading dose. Enrollment is ongoing in the Phase 1 dose escalation cohorts that assess AU-007 and low dose subcutaneous Proleukin given together every two weeks. Aulos expects to complete enrollment in the Phase 1 dose escalation portion of the trial by 4Q 2023, and to select the dose and schedule and open the Phase 2 dose expansion cohorts in melanoma, renal cell carcinoma, and non-small cell lung cancer by 4Q 2023 or 1Q 2024, as disease stabilization or tumor shrinkage has been observed in several patients. Also during the quarter, Aulos and Merck KGaA (Germany) reached an agreement in principle and are now negotiating a Clinical Trial Collaboration and Supply Agreement, under which Merck KGaA will provide free clinical supply of its marketed checkpoint inhibitor antibody, Bavencio (avelumab), for Aulos to test in combination with AU-007 and Proleukin in PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer. Aulos also had two abstracts accepted for poster presentations at the AACR-NCI-EORTC International Conference on Molecular Targets and Cancer Therapeutics in October and the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) 38th Annual Meeting in November.

Evercrisp Biosciences

Investment to date:	$11.50M	Initial Investment Date:	August 2021
Cash balance:	$3.95M
Ownership:	88.69%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series Seed

Company snapshot: Evercrisp Biosciences applies advanced computational sciences to discover and develop CRISPR-Cas9 protein-based genome editors with self-delivery properties as treatments for debilitating conditions including cancers and cardiovascular diseases.

Chemical modifications of guide RNA have yielded RNP constructs with 100% stability in human and mouse plasma as well as enhanced stability upon self-delivery in vitro. Machine-learning algorithms coupled with high-throughput yeast display have enabled design of de novo receptor ligands against human TfR1 with low nanomolar affinity to enable receptor-targeted delivery in cells over expressing hTfR1. Over 300 endosomal escape peptides have been screened and designed in a high-throughput manner for pH-dependent membrane disruption, helping to build a machine-learning algorithm to generate and optimize endosomal escape peptides. Lead peptides have been delivered in trans with chemically modified RNPs, leading to 20% editing following receptor mediated uptake. In addition, peptide binders have been computationally designed and tested to enable release of endosomal escape peptides like melittin and ppTG21 in a pH-dependent manner. Evaluation of the lead peptides and binders as fusions to Cas9 are currently underway. Following an MTA with UC Berkeley, Evercrisp is also evaluating a more temperature stable Cas9 variant "GeoCas9" which may enable enhanced stability in endosomes and lysosomes. In vivo administration of receptor targeted RNPs in mice is now underway to evaluate both biodistribution as well as in vivo editing potential. Readouts on biodistribution as well as editing are expected by the end of 4Q 2023.

Company snapshot: Marlinspike Therapeutics is establishing a platform to discover and develop small molecule inhibitors for RNA helicases, critical components of the alternative splicing and RNA processing machinery. These pathways are dysregulated in many cancers and represent a new target class.

Marlinspike has continued the expansion of its internal biology and chemistry capabilities as well as its RNA helicase platform. For DHX15, Marlinspike has identified sub-micromolar inhibitors of ATPase and helicase unwinding activity and is driving towards more potent inhibitors. For its most advanced series, Marlinspike has demonstrated covalent binding to DHX15. The DHX15 program is transitioning to lead optimization. For DHX38, Marlinspike has identified multiple series from its high throughput screening efforts and is currently in hit-to-lead. Given the shared homology of DHX15 and DHX38, Marlinspike is leveraging learning from the DHX15 program to accelerate lead identification for DHX38. Marlinspike hired a head of Biology this quarter and is currently focused on expanding the biology team.

Company snapshot: Nereid Therapeutics is discovering new disease treatments by applying pioneering research and technologies in biomolecular condensates.

Nereid continues to work on three targets. The TDP43 project is prosecuting three lead series in parallel as exemplified by compounds NER-004493, NER-0115020 and NER-008428. Compounds are functionally active and directly bind TDP43, specifically targeting it for exclusion from stress granules. Molecules with potency as high as 300 nM in the stress granule assay have been synthesized. We anticipate entering lead optimization with the most promising series in 4Q 2023. Multiple series have been discovered in the BCL9 project as highlighted by NER-0075735 and NER-0098411. The compounds modulate cytokine release and have cancer cell killing properties. The main objective for the BCL9 program for the remainder of the year is potency gains to enable transition into lead optimization. An HTS campaign for c-Myc has confirmed hits from our internal compound library and the program is currently entering hit-to-lead.

Company snapshot: Galvanize Therapeutics develops disease-modifying therapies at the convergence of biology, engineering, and healthcare delivery. The company is developing and commercializing its platform Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system), cardiac arrhythmias (CENTAURI system), oncology (Aliya system), and local delivery of gene therapy and other therapeutics.

Galvanize closed 3Q 2023 with $2.5 million in oncology sales, 70% above target, as compared to $1.5 million in 2Q 2023. The company outperformed on every metric including price, utilization per site, and number of new hospitals (17 vs plan of 10). Galvanize is receiving frequent reports from physicians of great clinical outcomes, including abscopal effects. The mechanism of action is being further elucidated with recent proof of antitumor antibodies and tumor-specific T-cells measured in animal experiments, which will be evaluated soon in samples taken from human clinical trials. The first lung cancer surgical resections have taken place in the VIGOR study, which combines Aliya with pembrolizumab and chemotherapy before the resection and is trending towards higher rates of pathologic responsiveness as compared to published data on pembrolizumab and chemotherapy alone. For late-stage cancer in the lungs, the first patient was treated in the AFFINITY study with the Aliya bronchoscopic device through the Intuitive Ion robot, triggering a $2.5 million milestone payment from Intuitive to the company.

THE COURT: Good morning.

ATTORNEY BARLOW: Your Honor, good morning. Mike Barlow on behalf of plaintiff, ATP III GP. I rise for a brief set of introductions. I'd like to introduce just a few people right now. We'll have a larger cast of characters throughout the day.

THE COURT: It seems like we have a large cast of characters today.

ATTORNEY BARLOW: To keep it all straight, we'll start with Mr. Andrew Berdon, Rachel Epstein. And of course the Court knows Garrett Moritz.

ATTORNEY MORITZ: Good morning, Your Honor.

ATTORNEY BARLOW: Point of order, would you like us to break at 10:45 today under the typical schedule?

THE COURT: Yes. So I owe you time over the course of the next couple of days. And I was going to propose that we go 15 minutes late today -- if our court reporters allow it -- and start 15 minutes early tomorrow. And that will give us some flexibility at the end of the day.

As you may be aware, I had a preexisting commitment beginning at noon tomorrow, and I'll have to break at noon tomorrow. But I think we can make the time up easy enough.

ATTORNEY BARLOW: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

ATTORNEY ROHRBACHER: Good morning, Your Honor. Blake Rohrbacher, Richards Layton & Finger, for the Rigmora defendants. I'll start with introductions at the counsel table. Shannon Selden from Debevoise & Plimpton, Zach Saltzman, Lucy Sundelson. Back table as well, William Taft, Natascha Born, Sarah Wolf from Debevoise & Plimpton. And, Your Honor, Leslie Trzonkowski and Daniel White from my office. Our corporate designee Alexey Yakovlev is here.

And one housekeeping matter. The interpreter, Steve Lagutin, is here. We don't anticipate needing his services for the morning session, but we will need to figure out where he sits because we will need a microphone for him.

So that can be an after-lunch problem, but I wanted to raise it, and we can sort that out.

THE COURT: Thank you for raising it.

FILED UNDER SEAL

We'll figure it out between now and then.

ATTORNEY ROHRBACHER: Thank you.

THE COURT: Are there any housekeeping matters we should attend to?

ATTORNEY BERDON: Thank you, Your Honor. Andrew Berdon for ATP III GP, Limited, as general partner of ATP Life Science Ventures.

Your Honor, there's a pending motion to maintain the status quo. We served our opening brief September 19th, I believe. And the defendants served an opposition on October 3. In the interim, we've tried to reach an agreement, both as to the language of an interim order here, as well as to obviate the need for a motion for PLs in the Cayman Islands.

Yesterday afternoon, our proposal to appoint a special manager to oversee and work with ATP in the interim period was rejected. And so we would propose to put in our reply brief perhaps Sunday evening. So we'll have that fully briefed, and we can deal with any need for an argument for that next week.

THE COURT: Any objection?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: No, Your Honor. Sunday evening works for the reply for us.

THE COURT: All right. That's the plan. Thank you.

Shall we call our first witness?

ATTORNEY BERDON: Yes, Your Honor. The plaintiffs call Dr. Seth Harrison.

SETH HARRISON, having first been duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows:

ATTORNEY BERDON: May it please the Court.

THE COURT: Yes.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

Q. Good morning. Would you please introduce yourself to the Court.

A. My name is Seth Harrison. I'm managing general partner of Apple Tree Partners.

Q. And what is Apple Tree Partners?

A. Apple Tree Partners is a life sciences venture capital firm.

Q. And where is ATP based?

A. In New York, Boston, and the Bay Area.

Q. Can you briefly describe your educational background for the Court.

A. Yes. I went to Princeton, then

Columbia medical school. I did a year of surgery at the Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. And then I have an MBA from the Columbia Graduate School of Business.

Q. What was your work experience after you left medicine?

A. Business school.

Q. Your work experience after business school.

A. Yes. I started work immediately in a venture fund. I did a brief internship at Merck, learned that I preferred startups and founding companies. And I went to a larger venture fund as a venture partner, founded companies, they were successful. I became a general partner at Oak Investment Partners.

Into the late '90s I decided to do nothing but internet. I spun out my life sciences portfolio in 1999 in the first synthetic secondary with institutional backers to form Apple Tree Partners I.

Q. Who were your first institutional backers for Apple Tree Partners I?

A. Landmark Partners, Goldman Sachs,

FILED UNDER SEAL

Liechtenstein Global Trust, VenCap, an insurance company. I forget all of them.

Q. And what is your role at ATP?

A. I'm a managing partner.

Q. Did there come a time in your time at ATP where you were introduced to Dr. Dmitry Rybolovlev?

A. Yes.

Q. What were the circumstances of that?

A. It was 2010, in the late summer, and a major biotech analyst on Wall Street, I think he worked for Merrill Lynch at the time. He sent an email saying one of the oligarchs would like to learn about biotech, would you be interested?

Q. Did you and Dr. Rybolovlev reach an agreement where you would manage money for him?

A. Yes. We met first in October of that year, and then we had multiple meetings afterwards, long meetings. And, yes, we did come to such an agreement.

Q. And what was the first amount that you were asked to manage for Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. 100 million, U.S.

Q. And did that amount of capital get increased at some point?

A. Yes. Originally he was interested in my managing a billion and a half dollars for him. I preferred to walk before we ran, and suggested the 100 million. And after about eight or nine months, we met again, and I suggested -- we agreed that we roll the 100 million into a larger facility. The 100 million was in a fund called Apple Tree III, and the larger facility became Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P.

Q. And when you increased the amount of the investment to $1.5 billion, was there a change to the agreements between yourself and Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Yes, there was a new LPA.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can you please pull up JX 0001.

Q. If you could turn in your binder, Doctor, or you can look at the screen.

Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as JX 1?

A. Yes. That's the ATP IV LPA, the first page.

Q. And when this document was first executed, what was the form of Dr. Rybolovlev's representation in the L.P.?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Form of his ...

Q. Withdrawn.

What were the names of the investors who contributed on behalf of Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. He had two BVI investors called Ezbon and Blue Horizon.

Q. And were they limited partners?

A. Yes.

Q. Were there other limited partners of the fund?

A. Yes.

Q. Who else was a limited partner of the fund at the time of its initiation?

A. Myself.

Q. And did you contribute capital to the fund?

A. Yes.

Q. How much?

A. 54 million.

Q. And are you still a limited partner of the fund?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you still own 100 percent of that 54 million contribution?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. No.

Q. Who does?

A. I gifted approximately 55 percent of that to a trust for my children called Les Pommes.

Q. Who negotiated the limited partnership agreement, the LPA, on behalf of ATP?

A. Myself and Dan Finkelman, who is now or general counsel, who was at the time in the fund's practice at Proskauer.

Q. And who negotiated on behalf of Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Dmitry himself, and his CIO at the time, named Mikhail Sazonov.

Q. Generally speaking, how does the LPA work in terms of making investments?

A. We have a concept called budgets, which I suggested. The reason I suggested it is that I understood that if I were going to give someone a billion and a half dollars, I wouldn't want to give it as an entire lump sum. I'd want some control over it. And yet, my going-in fundamental concern was to be able to remain autonomous as an entrepreneur.

So I suggested to Dmitry that we create budgets for every project. And he could approve any budget he wanted, any project he wanted. But once a budget was approved to fund a project within that envelope of money, I would call like a GP.

Q. When you say "call like a GP," what does that mean?

A. Call capital discretionarily within a budget approved for a given project.

Q. And based on your understanding under the terms of the LPA, who controls the actual business of the fund and its investments?

A. The general partner.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we pull up Section 2(b). Thank you.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize the portion of the LPA that's in front of you?

A. Yes.

Q. And is this the section of the LPA that you understand to vest control of the business of the fund with the GP?

A. Yes.

Q. So, Dr. Harrison, can you just explain the process by which budgets are presented and perhaps approved.

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes. Typically, I and my team would develop an interest or an idea for a new project that would generally take the form of a new company eventually. We would vet it internally. After a certain point, it would come to a level where we were interested enough so that I would bring it up in a Zoom call or an in-person meeting -- which, there were many with Dmitry -- and we would discuss it briefly and give him a heads-up that in some two to three months' time, at our next meeting, we would talk about it in depth seeking his approval.

Q. We'll come back to the actual execution of particular budgets later.

But who participated in the substantive discussions with Dr. Rybolovlev about the founding of the companies that we're here to speak about today?

A. It was myself, Dmitry, his then-CIO. The CIOs changed over the years. Initially it was Mikhail Sazonov, then it was Anna Batarina, then it was Anna Kolonchina. Typically that was it. On rare occasions we would have members from the ATP management team there. But I believe it was not typically to discuss budget proposals.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Does the LPA have a set of provisions that you understand control when capital can be called?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you have a general recollection of what part of the LPA governs the ability to call capital?

A. Section 5, is it?

Q. Do you know, was Section 5 amended during the course of the parties' dealings together?

A. I believe so.

Q. And would you understand -- do you recall which amendment has the changes that currently govern?

A. Is it 3?

Q. Let's take a look.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we pull up JX 4, please. And, Marco, can we take a look at the full first page, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, taking a look at the first page of Amendment 3, does that refresh your recollection as to whether --

A. Yes.

Q. -- it amended Section 5?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, it does.

ATTORNEY BERDON: And let's turn to the next page, Marco. And can we blow up -- yes.

Q. Dr. Harrison, is, to the best of your understanding, paragraph 5(a)(ii), as set forth in Amendment 3, the most recent iteration of Section 5?

A. Yes, with the exception that certain entities have -- are no longer in existence that are referred to in the paragraph.

Q. Okay. So let's just briefly talk about that.

What's the name of that entity that is out?

A. ATC, which stands for -- or stood for Apple Tree Consolidated.

Q. At the time of Amendment 3, what was the function of ATC supposed to be?

A. The function of ATC had been to be the holding company through which the fund made all project investments. Because Dmitry's original goal, and a goal that remained intact until our most recent meetings, was to build a family-owned pharma company using a venture capital frame or apparatus.

Q. So were references to ATC subsequently removed from the contract by amendment?

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. Was ATC ever formed?

A. No, it wasn't.

Q. Was there ever a board comprised of representatives of Rigmora and representatives of ATP that controlled the budgeting process?

A. There was a board called for, but it was never constituted and never met.

Q. And so can you explain to me how, in practice, capital got called by ATP.

A. Well, there would be an approved budget, and then we would send a capital call and the capital call would be paid. There was a certain formalization in how the capital calls were written and laid out. But that was generally how it worked.

Q. And, categorically, what types of subject matter could be the subject of a call that would require financing?

A. There would be calls for approved budgets, projects that were approved in budgets. There would be calls for management fees. And there were two management companies -- or are two management companies, Apple Tree Venture Management and Apple

FILED UNDER SEAL

Tree Life Sciences, Inc. There were calls for fund costs, all laid out in the LPA. And there were calls for incubation expenses. And there may have been one or two other categories.

Q. But those are generally set forth in Section 5, as amended?

A. Yes, they are.

Q. Were provisions built in to the LPA to deal with the situation where a limited partner defaulted on a capital call?

A. Yes.

Q. And, generally speaking, do you know where those were dealt with in the agreement?

A. I don't recall the exact paragraph, no. I'm sorry.

Q. You think it was in Section 5, though?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we pull up section -- well, JX 1 at 23, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, I'm showing you on the screen here Section 5(c) of the LPA.

Do you recognize it?

A. I do, yes.

Q. And is this at least a portion of the section of the LPA that deals with defaults on contributions?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we go down to (iv), please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, what are the GP's rights, to the best of your understanding, in the event of a default on a capital call by an LP?

A. Well, they are listed here. The GP might impose a default charge. The GP might help the defaulting partner in selling its interest to potentially a substitute limited partner. The GP might accept a late contribution at his discretion. And the GP has essentially the right to sue.

Q. And did you and Dr. Rybolovlev specifically discuss and negotiate the default provisions that we're talking about?

A. Yes.

Q. And, in particular, do you recall which parts of the default provisions you talked about with him?

A. The entirety of the default provision.

Q. Including the ability of the general partner to impose a default charge?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, absolutely. I would say that would have been -- that was his focus, and we discussed that explicitly.

Q. And did you have a position that you expressed to Dr. Rybolovlev about the importance of that provision to you?

A. Yes.

Q. And why was the ability of the general partner to have certain enumerated rights in the event of a default important to you?

A. I explained to Dmitry that we were about to embark upon a fund that would be funded essentially for the most part by a single LP, single-point financing. And this introduced a structural risk that I appreciated but that, more importantly, any counterparty that the fund would ever deal with would appreciate -- every founder, every CEO, every hire at the fund, any counterparty.

And that we just couldn't do business. It would be highly unlikely that we would be able to even start business unless we had such a remedy -- which, of course, we would hope we would never use, but needed to be structurally in place. And, in fact, was typical for every venture fund that I've ever been associated with or that I know of.

Q. Was there a limitation imposed on the size of the default charge that could be imposed?

A. Well, it has to be discretionary and it has to be proportionate to the default. But I think the limit is 50 percent.

Q. In addition to Amendment 3, has the LPA been amended by the parties?

A. Yes.

Q. Including Amendment 3, how many times?

A. 22.

Q. During the course of the negotiation and execution of those 22 amendments, were the default provisions of the agreement ever changed?

A. No.

Q. In addition to the rights enumerated in Section 5, is there another effect if a default is -- if a partner is found to be a defaulting partner under the agreement?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Objection, Your Honor. It calls for a legal conclusion.

THE COURT: You can testify to your understanding of this agreement that you negotiated, if you have one.

FILED UNDER SEAL

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

ATTORNEY BERDON: I'll make my questions to that effect.

BY ATTORNEY BERDON:

Q. To the best of your understanding, Dr. Harrison, is there another effect if a limited partner is declared to be a defaulting partner?

A. Yes. The defaulting partner loses its votes to direct anything in the partnership per the LPA. And this was critical because the entire point of the partnership, the fund, is to fund its portfolio. And if there were a default, particularly from a single source, funding source, it would be imperative and an emergency that we find substitute capital.

So having full control to do so was what the entirety of the default provisions allowed and what we negotiated for.

Q. And is there a specific section of the agreement, to the best of your understanding, that deals with voting rights?

A. Yes, but I'm afraid I don't know the number.

Q. Let's see if we can refresh your recollection.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we go to, Marco, JX 1 at 74, please.

Q. Taking a look at what's before you, Dr. Harrison, does it refresh your recollection?

A. Yes.

Q. And is this the provision that you are talking about that discusses voting rights?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. Taking a look at the last sentence -- and it's got two parts -- can you explain to the Court your understanding of what that means.

A. My understanding of what that means is that if a partner is declared a defaulting partner, they have no control over the fund.

Q. Dr. Harrison, at the time of the execution of the LPA, was there a subscription agreement also signed at that point?

A. Yes.

Q. And to the best of your recollection, what was the sum total of the subscriptions that were executed by Rigmora?

A. By -- approximately 1.425 billion.

ATTORNEY BERDON: I'd like to pull up

FILED UNDER SEAL

JX 212, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as JX 212?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is that?

A. It's a subscription agreement.

Q. And taking a look at the execution page of that agreement, which I believe appears at 19, can you explain to the Court what we're looking at here.

A. I don't see the execution date, I'm sorry. But it's a signature page from one of the two investors that Dmitry used to fund the fund that was called Blue Horizon Enterprise, or Blue Horizon for short. And it's signed by Mikhail Sazonov, who was the CIO of Dmitry's Family Office, and witnessed by Andrey Milkov, another member of the Family Office.

Q. In the amount as indicated there, that's Blue Horizon's share of the initial investment in ATP?

A. Yes.

Q. Was there a counterpart for Ezbon?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Let's just take a look at JX 213, please.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. This appears to be the same subscription agreement; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Let's take a look at the signature page, the limited partner signature page.

Does that reflect the amount of the subscription by Ezbon International?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And your understanding is Ezbon International is affiliated with Dr. Rybolovlev's Family Office?

A. Ezbon and Blue Horizon were investors incorporated in the BVI investor entities that were funded by Scorpios Trust, as I understand it, which is a trust in Cyprus for Dmitry's daughters, as I understand it.

Q. So as between Blue Horizon and Ezbon, back at the time of the execution of this subscription agreement, what was the sum total? Was it 1 point --

A. 1.425 between Ezbon and Blue Horizon, 1.425 billion.

Q. And what was to become of the other 75 million out of the 1.5 billion that you described?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That was my limited partnership interest funded by a loan from Dmitry -- or Ezbon, I believe.

Q. And did your participation, limited partnership participation, ever increase to the $75 million level?

A. No. It reduced to 54 million.

Q. And that was by agreement between yourself and Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Essentially, yes.

Q. The documents in this case, Dr. Harrison, talk about the establishment and the presence of things called "pools."

Can you explain to the Court what a "pool" is in the context of ATP.

A. A pool is a subdivision of the fund which -- of a fund, but a fund that became Apple Tree Life Sciences Ventures, Inc. -- a master fund, if you will -- that contained different groupings of investment based upon vintage, dwell time, the teams that have put them together, the high watermarks of the different aggregated companies in each pool. They were essentially accounting devices.

Q. And why were pools necessary from the point of view of the limited partners of ATP?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Objection. Calls for hearsay, I believe.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Okay.

Q. Did you participate in the discussions with the Family Office about the establishment of pools?

A. Yes.

Q. What did the Family Office and you -- withdrawn.

What did you believe the utility of the pool would be?

A. It was multipart. I just described the utility sort of from a technical perspective because we had old teams and a new team coming in that would found new deals. So we needed to segregate their deals in a pool out of fairness.

There was the fact that the new money for a new fund, essentially -- or a new commitment was coming from Dmitry in the amount of $1 billion on top of the billion and a half. And there were concerns from the Family Office about KYC issues and that the establishment of a new fund would be difficult.

So we all agreed that pools would be the correct way to go, the most efficient way, the simplest way.

Q. And the first time the pools were established, was there an amendment to the LPA that was signed between the parties?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember which amendment that was?

A. I think it was Amendment 13.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we pull up JX 15, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as JX 15?

A. Amendment 13 to the LPA.

Q. And taking a look at Section (a) there, "Separate Pools," is this what you were discussing in terms of the first embodiment of pools?

A. Yes.

Q. Were those embodiments subsequently changed by amendment executed between the parties?

A. Yes.

Q. And were the names of pools changed?

A. Yes, the names of those pools were changed, and new pools were established.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. You made reference just a minute ago to a transition to a new $1 billion commitment and a new team, I believe. Can you tell the Court how it came about that the Family Office made a new billion-dollar commitment to the fund.

A. Yes. We had had quite some success in our investment programs. Not everything was a success, but it was a very successful run. And Dmitry was very excited to invest in more companies of a particular type. And there were also some issues with the prior team that, despite their successes, they were much more focused on investing than they were on operating.

So the idea became to hire a top team of pharmaceutical, R&D entrepreneurs who were ready to jump into venture capital, use their networks and their formidable skills and backgrounds to found deals and actually manage them themselves. So that's what we did.

Q. Very briefly, can you just tell the Court when you speak about these experienced executives, who are you talking about?

A. We hired Paul Eisenberg, who was a chief medical officer of Amgen, one of the top regulatory professionals in the world. We hired Mike Ehlers, who was the head of R&D of Biogen and before that ran neuroscience at Pfizer. We hired Spiros Liras, who was a top medicinal chemist for 25 years at Pfizer and had been at Biogen for one year, didn't like it. We hired Paul Jardine, who is a top brain in medicinal chemistry, also at Pfizer for 25 years, I believe. And others.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Did you discuss these hires with Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Absolutely.

Q. And was the addition of this talent part of the process of deciding how the new billion-dollar commitment would be invested?

A. Yes. He followed it very closely. When we hired Mike Ehlers, he needed to be told immediately by a Signal call. It was something he was very enthusiastic about.

Q. How did you and the team vet new investments?

A. As I told you, in my experience, typically to find a good deal, you need to find somebody who has come out of a system where they're seeing everything related to that deal. So you hire a graduate student in immunology to find a great immunology deal. And we did that, and we had a great immunology deal with an exit called Syntimmune.

In the case of hiring these pharma executives, typically they know exactly the deals they want to do, and they have great relationships in academia, but their companies squelched them. So that theory proved out. When we interviewed people, there were a ton of really interesting ideas, great network, and obviously they knew how to manage projects.

So we just followed through on that thesis. And that was the basis on hiring the team, and that was the basis on bringing in the new crop of deals.

Q. And what was the general process that you then had to get those deals to be approved and budgets for those deals to be approved with Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Well, first, we would talk about them internally. We would have meetings where we would basically beat each other up. We would kick the deals apart, put them back together. We would decide what we liked. I would, in the end, adjudicate what was a worthwhile investment. And then I would begin to talk about it with Dmitry. And we would agree, as I said earlier, to discuss that deal in depth at an in-person meeting in the near future. There were many in-person meetings, so that was easy enough to do.

Q. And, generally, was Dr. Rybolovlev's approval of sort of a go on a deal arrived at at one of those meetings?

A. Oh, yes, absolutely. From the very beginning he would agree to something, and it would happen. So although there was a formalization that came afterwards, I came to trust in his word, and that was how it worked.

So we would eventually present the deal -- or I would present the deal. We would talk about it at whatever length he wanted. We would talk about the amount of the initial commitment in the budget. He would nod yes, and then we would go and formalize the deal.

Q. And tell me what the formalization involved.

A. The formalization involved finishing the business plan, finishing the term sheets with the source of the starting technology or IP or founders, and then putting together an investment memorandum, a budget, something called a CFIUS memorandum in a budget request, and then sending all to the Family Office in an email of transmittal. And that was the formal process of getting a budget approved.

Q. Now, was the amount of the initial investment agreed to before the Family Office received the investment memo?

A. Yes, in the meeting with Dmitry. It was usually on the boat or in his apartment or somewhere, and it was agreed.

Q. Were specific milestones ever the subject of negotiation between yourself and Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. Never.

Q. Did you and Dr. Rybolovlev ever talk about there being conditions to your ability to pull down tranches of funding once a budget had been approved?

A. Only in two budgets did that ever occur in the entire history of our relationship.

Q. And what were the two times that that occurred?

A. There was something called the Braeburn RPA, royalty purchase agreement, which had specific milestones, and we all agreed to them. And the most recent and last budget approval before all this trouble, and that was for a company called Replicate. And that had one milestone that Dmitry and Yuri wanted to put in.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Once the budget was approved and formalized, of what use internally at ATP were any milestones that had been discussed in the original investment memo?

A. Very little.

Q. And why is that?

A. Because managing research is an iterative process. You are conducting experiments and evaluating their results, and you are then taking the next step. And it's completely a contingent and pragmatic enterprise. And that's what a good research scientist or a good manager of research or a good VC does.

Q. Well, you talked about formalizing arrangements with the people who had the technology and founders. What type of agreements did you execute with those folks at the initiation of a new project?

A. There would be multiple agreements. But I think the most important would tend to be the

FILED UNDER SEAL

Series A, because it usually was a Series A round, a Series A stock purchase agreement.

Q. And in any cases did those Series A stock purchase agreements contain milestones related to release of tranches of funding?

A. In some cases, yes.

Q. And in those cases, what was the utility of having tranches describing the funding associated with milestones?

A. To give the funds control.

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. Well, typically a milestone is developed between a founder or investing company and a venture capitalist based upon the best foreseeable business plan or research plan at the time that that round closes. And a round will typically run for two years, let's say, or three years.

And things change. And they always change. There are so many contingencies that come up in biotech: research, clinical, toxicity, formulation, regulatory certainly, manufacturing. They always come up. And the whole point is how you deal with them.

And those tend to perturb your initial milestone set. They always do. And VCs and boards are used to dealing with that and constantly modifying and modulating them. And very few people really adhere to a milestone set because the idea is to continue to build the company working with the teams.

So for us, knowing that, being of that world, of that practice, whenever we put in hard milestones, it was just to have a bit more control in case we should ever want to stop funding.

Q. In your experience, was a missed milestone in and of itself a reason to terminate funding under a Series A agreement?

A. No, as I said.

Q. Have you ever decided to shut down a company that was in the ATP portfolio?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you give us any examples?

A. There was a company called Adendra, there was a company called Kynos, there was a company called Rox. There was a company called Vytronus. There were multiple. It doesn't always work.

Q. How did you adjudicate whether or not to terminate funding of those companies?

A. It depended on the case. There could be a catastrophic failure in the clinic. There could be a safety signal. There could be just a bald execution problem that you saw and you realized this project should not be continued.

I believe that was the case in Adendra, because there was supposed to be a certain kind of antibody produced and it just simply wasn't produced and we said this isn't worth it.

There could be other problems. But you reach the ability -- in a long career you reach the ability to judge when to shut something down. You're not always right, but you try to get there and you turn things off.

Q. Are there any companies in the current ATP portfolio that you believe should be shut down?

A. No.

Q. And have you participated in conversations about the current status of research going on at each of the companies in the ATP portfolio?

A. Yes.

Q. And from time to time were there disagreements among your management team about the relative benefits of going forward with one company versus another?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, absolutely. That's a healthy management team. We are always discussing quite vigorously the pros and cons of any given deal at any time.

Q. Given the availability of funding, would you continue to pursue research for each and every one of the companies that are currently in the ATP portfolio?

A. Yes. In some cases in a more focused way, but yes.

Q. I'd like to direct your attention back to the subject of pools and the new contribution.

Was there an amendment executed between the parties that implemented that new billion-dollar commitment?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Objection. Calls for a legal conclusion.

THE COURT: You can answer the question, if you have an understanding of whether there was an agreement you executed for that purpose.

A. Amendment 17 to the LPA.

Q. Thank you.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can you bring up JX 89, please. And, Marco, can you just show the first page. Thank you.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Taking a look at what's up on your screen as JX 89, do you recognize it, sir?

A. Yes. That's Amendment 17.

Q. And it was executed in September 2020?

A. Yes.

Q. At the time of the execution of Amendment 17, what, to your understanding, was its purpose?

A. Its purpose was to establish the contribution of a new billion dollars or an additional billion dollars to ATP IV LP.

ATTORNEY BERDON: And can we do the call-out, please, Marco, on -- thank you.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you have an understanding as to whether this Section "20. Pools A, B and C" was something that you negotiated to effectuate that change?

A. Yes.

Q. Dr. Harrison, can you explain to the Court the different categories of what was stratified in Pools C, B, and A, as they appear in interest, in sequence here?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yeah. Well, we started to bring on this new team in 2018. So they were already doing deals. And so we desired to segregate the deals that they were doing in a new pool.

And it's all called differently now, so I think that was Pool C. Is that right? Right. So that was essentially for new deals formed by the new team. And that was going to be the focus of the billion dollars.

And then Pool B contained some deals that had already been done. And there was a mix between old team and new team in Pool B.

And then Pool A was essentially all the old deals in -- that took up much of the initial billion-and-a-half-dollar commitment.

Q. And were the names of those pools subsequently changed?

A. Yes.

Q. What are the pools called that have the new deals, as you referred to them?

A. It's a little complicated. The new deals are now in Pools V-1 and V-2, Roman numeral V, referring to ATP V, and Pools 1 and 2, V-1 and V-2.

Q. Is there something called Pool V-3?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

Q. What's in Pool V-3?

A. It's older deals that had not quite made it across the finish line that we founded with the prior team and which we felt had potential but needed work. And we thought who better to do that work but this fantastic team of pharma R&D professionals that we just brought in. So we segregated those deals in a separate pool called Pool V-3.

Q. At the time of the execution of Amendment 17, was there also an amended subscription agreement signed?

A. I believe so.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we go to JX 99, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize this agreement?

A. Yes. That's the subscription agreement to which you were just referring to.

Q. Is that for both of the Rigmora LPs or just one?

A. Just one.

Q. Was there one -- so this one says

FILED UNDER SEAL

"Blue Horizon." Was there one also executed for Ezbon?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we scroll down to the Ezbon.

Q. Take a look at JX 101.

Do you recognize that?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the amended subscription agreement from 2020 for Ezbon?

A. Yes.

Q. Cumulatively, what was the amount of that new subscription?

A. $1 billion.

Q. After the execution of Amendment 17 and this amended subscription agreement, was there another significant contribution of capital agreed to between the parties?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Objection. Calls for a legal conclusion.

THE COURT: Tease that out for me. How does this factual question call for a legal conclusion?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: I believe Mr. Berdon

FILED UNDER SEAL

is calling for a legal conclusion as to whether there is, in fact, another contractual agreement for capital. If it is a factual question as to Dr. Harrison's understanding, I have no objection. But to the extent Mr. Berdon is seeking a legal conclusion as to whether there is an another contract governing the commitment of capital, I object to that.

THE COURT: I'm interested in this witness as a fact witness. And it's a fair question to ask, whether he thinks he entered into an agreement.

So why don't you ask the question.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Thank you.

BY ATTORNEY BERDON:

Q. Dr. Harrison, did you and the Rigmora entities talk about there being a substantial increase in their investment after the execution of the billion dollars?

A. Yes.

Q. And did you consider at least part of that investment to be an agreement to contribute new capital?

A. Yes, absolutely.

Q. And did you believe that you were entering into an agreement that would be binding and increase the level of their subscription commitment in that agreement?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

Q. And what was that agreement called?

A. Amendment 20.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we please pull up JX 1061.

Q. Do you recognize what's been marked as JX 1061?

A. Yes. Amendment 20 to the LPA.

Q. When was that executed?

A. June of 2021.

Q. It says here that in numbered paragraph 21 -- it's labeled "Braeburn Inc." Can you tell the Court what Braeburn is.

A. Braeburn is a pharmaceutical company that we founded in 2012 that now -- and we founded it as a Phase 1 company and it now markets a drug for opioid addiction and should have a $300 million sales revenue year this year.

Q. And what was the purpose of creating a separate pool, Braeburn, at the time that Amendment 20 was put into place?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. To segregate the investment in Braeburn.

Q. Did that have an effect on high-water mark?

A. Yes. Braeburn was a very capital-intensive deal and it was considered fair to move it out of the other pools and give it its own pool. We changed economics, carry economics in favor of Dmitry in exchange for the lower high-water mark, and there were certain other features of Pool Braeburn that were put into the amendment.

Q. Did Amendment 20 also discuss the contribution of new capital?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we go to, please, Section 22, Marco.

Q. Was there an agreement in connection with the establishment of Pool Braeburn that involved the contribution of -- or the valuing of capital that had already been contributed into the fund?

A. Well, to form the pool from ATP IV, or whichever Pool Braeburn had been in at that time, that there was a contribution to the new pool, which at that time of the formation of Pool Braeburn constituted its capital. And that was 204 million, approximately, which was the valuation of Braeburn at that time.

Q. Taking a look at page 6, additional paragraph 22.

Can you tell the Court what your understanding is of the role of ATP Pool V-3 in Amendment 20.

A. Yes. I referred to it before, the setting up of a pool, in which companies that had been founded by a prior team but hadn't quite made it, that would be managed by the members of our new team, the pharma R&D executives. And that was Pool V-3. And in this paragraph, the companies that we wanted them to work on and that we put in that pool are called out.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can you go to page 7, Marco.

Q. Is there a discussion there of capital -- new capital commitments?

A. Yes.

Q. What was the new cash, if any, that was to be provided under paragraph 22(b) relating to Pool V-3?

A. There were already existing budgets in the amount of 71 million, you can see it in the paragraph, for these companies. And there was an agreement for committed capital of an additional 235 million, which you can also see in the paragraph. And the companies themselves were valued at approximately 190 million. And those were contributed to the new pool from the old pool. And the total of those three numbers was 500 million, which was the capitalization of Pool V-3.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. After the execution of Amendment 20, did ATP start to call capital on the amounts it had agreed to in Amendments 17 and 20?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Taking a look at JX 230, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, take a look at what's been marked as JX 230. What is it?

A. It's an email transmitting a capital call.

Q. Can you just introduce the Court essentially to who Anna Batarina is.

A. Anna Batarina is a partner in the fund. She started out as a member of Dmitry's Family Office. She was the CIO, as I understand it, for one year and then was put at ATP by Dmitry as a kind of liaison, and eventually we made her a partner and a part of the team.

Q. Did Anna Batarina have to talk to you before she was allowed to talk to Dr. Rybolovlev in the chain of command?

A. Oh, no.

Q. And why do you say that?

A. Anna had a fluid dialogue with Dmitry. They talked quite often. I mean, I don't know how often. But whenever we were together, Dmitry would call her, she would call Dmitry. It was a full communication. I actually talked with her and said I think, from a GP perspective, we should really discuss what information gets communicated because some information is just not mature. And she felt that all information needed to be communicated. So that's how it was done.

Q. Did it become the practice at ATP to keep track of the drawdowns against agreed capital contributions whenever capital was called?

A. Yes.

Q. And how was that tracked internally?

A. Oh, internally we had a CFO.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Unfortunately, he resigned due to the defaults. But Bill would track these things meticulously, his finance team would. Of course we have audited financials, we have quarterly reports. So these were, of course, tracked.

Q. And did you provide updates to Rigmora about the accounting that you had on hand?

A. Yes.

Q. And how often were those updates provided?

A. With every single capital call.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we please pull up page 4 of JX 230.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize this form?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And what is it?

A. It is the exhibit that you just referred to, which gives the Family Office a then-current statement of their funded and unfunded commitments across all the pools in the fund.

Q. And it shows commitments for ATP IV; yes?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And can you explain to the Court, what was left in ATP IV as of June of 2021?

A. After Amendment 20, we created a Pool ATP IV, and that contained the residuals of the prior exited deals. There were milestones that would pay out and that sort of thing from companies that had been sold.

Q. And at that point, what was the intention for Pools V-1 and V-2? Were those for the new deals?

A. Yes.

Q. And you talked about Pool V-3 previously. Cumulatively, what was the capital commitment that you communicated to Rigmora in June of 2021?

A. In this capital call -- the total unfunded commitment as of this capital call after the call was about 1.5 billion.

Q. Do you know if Anna Kolonchina, the recipient of JX 230, ever got in contact with Rigmora -- withdrawn.

Do you know if Anna Kolonchina on behalf of Rigmora ever got in touch with ATP to object to the accounting that was provided here?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Not that I'm aware of.

Q. How many capital calls do you believe were made and paid in the three years between 2021 and 2024?

A. I think it's four years, but scores. I don't have a number.

Q. Somewhere close to a hundred?

A. I don't know. I'm sorry. I mean, we could check, certainly, but many, many, many.

Q. Any time during that period of time before October of 2024 that Rigmora indicated a disagreement with the running total that had been provided by ATP attached to one of its capital calls?

A. There was never a time.

Q. I'd like to direct your attention to the fall of 2022. Did you have conversations with Dr. Rybolovlev over the summer of 2022 about his views towards future investment and founding of new deals?

A. Yes.

Q. What were those conversations?

A. Well, they evolved. They started out with the same idea that we had had in forming the pools that would take the new capital commitment because we had this great team and they had many, many deals in their network. And no matter how we tried to beat them back, they kept coming up. And the team had some very many great deals to do. So there was a push/pull.

Dmitry was concerned about the Ukraine, concerned about liquidity on his behalf, but he really wanted the new team to be able to be capitalized to do deals. So we went from, I think, six new deals to three new deals to eventually late in the year -- and I know I get ahead of your question -- but just to complete the idea, only one new deal, and barely that.

And during that summer, he indicated that he had wished that he had not taken on the commitment to invest in new deals. And he told me that if he could default on a pool or on pools, it would be on V-1 and V-2. And there were several other features of the landscape at that time that were quite troubling.

Q. So let's go to the first time that you recall Dr. Rybolovlev saying that he regretted the investments in pools V-1 and V-2.

Was that in a face-to-face meeting?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you recall where that meeting took place?

A. I believe it was in Monaco.

Q. Can you place it in what month?

A. June or July.

Q. Did you end up writing a memo to Anna Kolonchina giving a chronology of events?

A. Yes. That was a memo at the end of November, because much had happened from the start of that summer through near the end of that year.

Q. Would reviewing that memo perhaps refresh your recollection as to the timing of meetings?

A. It might. I remember that there were -- there was a very long set of meetings with Dmitry in his apartment in New York in October, and we met multiple times. And much of this information came out in those meetings.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Marco, can we please pull up JX 969.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as 969?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is it?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. It's an email from Anna Kolonchina to me dated December 12. And then it's responding to a long email that I sent her dated November 29.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Taking a look at the top bullets on page 3, please, Marco. I'm sorry, the bottom of page 2.

Q. Taking a look at those bullets -- and you don't have to read them out loud -- I'm just going to ask whether they help refresh your recollection as to the timing and location of meetings?

A. Yes.

Q. When do you believe the Monaco meeting took place?

A. I'm sorry. Yes, the -- so the meeting where Dmitry discussed with me the idea of reducing commitments both to new deals in V-1 and V-2 and calling less capital per unit time for approved budgets in V-1 and V-2, that took place in Monaco in late September .

Q. The word "austerity" is here in quotes. What do you recall about anyone's use of the word "austerity" in those meetings?

A. I recall that Anna Kolonchina used the word first, and it was the word she used to describe this idea of calling less capital per unit time.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And at the follow-up set of meetings, do you recall Dr. Rybolovlev drawing a distinction between his view of funding pools V-1 and V-2 versus V-3?

A. Yes, those are the New York meetings in October. And he basically told me, as I interpreted it, that was contemplating a selective default on pools V-1 and V-2.

Q. And at that point were the companies in Pool V-3 companies that had products in active clinical development?

A. No.

Q. What was the basis -- did he explain to you why Pool V-3 was preferred to him over Pools V-1 and V-2?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Objection. Calls for hearsay.

ATTORNEY BERDON: By a party opponent?

THE COURT: Overruled.

BY ATTORNEY BERDON:

Q. Did he tell you why he favored Pools V-1 and V-2 over V-3?

A. Though they were earlier deals, I believe he understood them better. We talked about them a lot. And they were ostensibly going to reach the clinic sooner than the deals in Pools V-1 and V-2. That's actually not what occurred. But that was the perception at the time.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And at the time that Dr. Rybolovlev spoke to you about his desire to focus on Pool V-3 over deals in Pools V-1 and V-2, did he talk about the possibility of a default?

A. Yes.

Q. And did he express to you his view as to the consequences of a default if he defaulted not just on deals in Pools V-1 and V-2?

A. He told me that he believed there was a pool-by-pool default, not a global default. And then at one of the meetings when I -- I said that's -- I disagree. And then he asked me to agree in a subsequent meeting.

Q. Just to be clear, Dr. Rybolovlev asked you to reach an agreement that there were provisions -- that there would be provisions for pool-by-pool default; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you agree to make that change?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. On the spot I told him -- it was often on the spot. I told him I would consider it because I was very, very eager to cooperate and try to work with him. I respected him. He provided an enormous amount of capital and we were doing a lot of good together. But I went home and I thought about it and I realized I couldn't agree to it.

Q. Did you ever reach agreement to modify the LPA to approve a pool-by-pool default structure?

A. Absolutely not.

Q. Did you do anything in terms of the administration of the fund or the portfolio or capital calls in response to the information that you had been given about liquidity or cash flow issues with Rigmora?

A. Yes, absolutely. As I said, we were always trying to accommodate them and trying to work with them. I couldn't agree to a global default, but I could certainly agree to calling capital at a lower rate. And so we went back to the teams and the companies and said, look, can you make due with less? In this quarter, can we call this amount and not that amount? Can we reduce the scope of the projects that the companies are working on? Those sorts of things.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And I would get pushback. And it would be, wow, yeah, but you know that means we're not going to reach the clinic.

And I would say it's okay if it takes another six months or even a year. It's better to have lower capital calls. It's what Dmitry needs.

And everyone would agree, and we would slow the companies down or drop some programs and call less capital.

Q. If you made those types of changes, would that have an impact on the company's ability to reach milestones that might have been described in the original investment memoranda?

A. Yes, in theory. But as I said, those milestones in an IM are rapidly obsoleted by the developments in the companies. But to the extent that there was one that was still being worked on, yes, absolutely. Any program that was being worked on when we slowed down the capital was going to get wherever it would go slower.

Q. And did you ever discuss with Dr. Rybolovlev the effect of reduction in the amount or pace of infusions of capital on the progress of these companies?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes. We said we can do it, but it's going to slow things down. And we said okay.

Q. While you were administering this belt-tightening, were you concerned that Dr. Rybolovlev would actually default on his commitments?

A. No. I had faith in the pillar of the partnership, at least my opinion of it, which I told him at the very beginning, and I maintain, and that is that he would not default because of the global default, if necessary, as a deterrent. Also because I thought he was honorable and believed in the companies.

The problem was that I had -- once we started to slow down the flow of capital, I had many, many people coming to me, worried in the constant -- the refrain was, okay, I understand liquidity constraints and slowing things down, that's okay. But do you think that the Family Office will meet its obligations for the entire Series A? Should I worry about that?

And my answer was always no, absolutely not.

Q. Just to be clear, your answer to those folks was that ultimately you believed that the Series A funding would be there?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, that the approved budgets would be met and the approved budgets matched the size of the Series A financings per company.

Q. In parallel with this, were you also doing some thinking about what would happen in the event of a default?

A. Yes.

Q. What did that look like generically, without disclosing the contents of any specific conversations?

A. When your largest LP tells you he's thinking about defaulting, honestly, you pick up the phone and call your lawyers and say, what does this mean? Can we look at the LPA? I need to understand this. I've never been in this situation before. And so we did.

Q. What would the consequences be of a funding default in Pools V-1 and V-2 to the folks associated with the portfolio companies, in your estimation at that time?

A. They would lose their jobs, they would lose the value of their equity. Projects wouldn't be funded that we committed to academic institutions. And extremely well-known scientific founders with many, many options as to where they could go, other venture funds -- and they had chosen us -- who had had long conversations with me about the existence of the global default, those commitments wouldn't be honored. Each company has employees, has contracts for various kinds of leases, funded research back to founder labs. All of it would cease, and indeed in the current default has.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. There's a bit of contention in this case that perhaps some of the portfolio companies were wasteful or inefficient with their spending of capital.

Are you aware of that?

A. Yes.

Q. And did you or your management team ever take a look at the relative efficiency of one of your portfolio companies versus a set of peers?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember which company you looked at in that case?

A. That happened to be Ascidian.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we take a look at JX 874, please, Marco. Let's start at page 1.

Q. So who is Dan Rosan?

A. He's the chief financial officer and chief business officer of Ascidian.

Q. And what was being sent to you and Ms. Batarina and Mr. Ehlers here?

A. It looks like a board pack from May of 2024.

Q. Turning to page 42 of that deck.

A. It also includes the Roche deal, definitive agreement.

Q. I'm sorry. Can you just tell the Court what you mean when you say "the Roche deal."

A. Ascidian did a big corporate partnership with Roche, and I believe it had just closed at that time.

Q. What type of financial relationship was put into place between Roche and Ascidian; do you recall?

A. It's a typical BV deal where Roche committed to develop three what are called targets, starting points, in the biology that Ascidian is exploring to create drugs. Those happened to be in the neurodegenerative disease space. For those three targets, they agreed to an upfront fee of nondilutive cash on signing of 15 million per target, so 45 million.

And then there typically are some R&D milestones, early milestones that the company covers the R&D that takes place at its labs for those targets. And then there are milestones that are paid in the course of the work on the project starting with as early as one year after the commencement of the work for research milestones all the way out to post sales, reaching a certain plateau in revenue. And there's a royalty.

Q. Taking a look at what is in front of you as page 42 of that board deck, is this the comparison of efficiency that you mentioned earlier?

A. Yes. I was actually surprised.

Q. And how do you interpret the information on this slide?

A. Well, this is a list of competitors in what's called the RNA editing space or DNA editing space. And I will not go into detail unless asked. But these are companies that were founded to do something close to what Ascidian does.

And you can see -- and it measures how much equity funding had been required until the company got its first project into the clinic.

And you can see that while some of them have greater pipelines and one has more than one clinical project, they have massively more equity financing than Ascidian. Ascidian took $78 million to get a very important product into the clinic for Stargardt's disease, which is the most common hereditary blindness, and it has a pipeline of seven programs. Not bad on 80 million.

You see what others have done for -- I don't know. The closest is three times more or something. No, that -- the closest that got into the clinic with one product was 361 million.

Q. Thank you, Dr. Harrison.

I'd like to just turn your attention back for a minute to Braeburn.

You mentioned that Braeburn is a pharmaceutical company that has a product on the market now. Has it been valued recently?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was the equity valuation at that time?

A. $2.2 billion.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And was there also a DCF valuation done at that time?

A. Yes. It was 2.9 billion.

Q. Why is there a difference between the equity value and the DCF value, to your understanding?

A. The delta is made up by a royalty that ATP owned entirely, which was valued at the time of distribution at about 700 million and has a total face value of around 900 million. And that was distributed into a pass-through entity that is owned by the two partners in Pool Braeburn, myself and Anna Batarina, and the Family Office.

Q. Putting the royalty agreement aside, was Braeburn on firm financial footing in 2021, 2022?

A. No.

Q. And did ATP enter into any financial arrangements to address that in addition to the royalty agreement?

A. No -- oh, I'm -- in 2021?

Q. No. 2022 or 2023.

A. Oh, yes, we did, yes.

Q. What arrangements did Braeburn enter into?

A. We worked with Braeburn to put in place a launch debt with Hercules Capital.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Before putting the Hercules facility in place, who was going to be responsible for paying for the launch of Braeburn?

A. It would have been paid entirely out of the royalty purchase agreement, which was from capital provided by the Family Office.

Q. And did the Family Office have financial obligations to contribute capital for the purpose of funding the Braeburn launch?

A. Yes. The RPA required a budget commitment of $200 million, which they signed.

Q. Was there a rate of return that was agreed to in return for that $220 million commitment?

A. Yes. It was a 40 percent royalty but contingent on several things. It was capped at five times whatever amount would have been invested in the RPA, the royalty purchase agreement.

Q. Did Rigmora originally support the idea of the Hercules financing?

A. Yes, they asked us to do it.

Q. And did they stay constant in that support?

A. It was a bit schizophrenic. In -- so we set up this launch debt with two different debt providers, and there were KYC problems, and they withdrew their term sheets.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Fortunately, ATP had a relationship with Hercules through another portfolio company that was public. So we called Hercules and asked them if they would do a deal, and they did. They did a very good deal with us.

Right at that time, the Family Office called for the distribution of Braeburn under Amendment 20 of the LPA. It's a distribution provision that entitled the Family Office to call Braeburn out of Pool Braeburn but subject to several conditions. The conditions weren't met, but more importantly, Hercules put conditions on providing their launch debt, which was that Braeburn be controlled by ATP and also that the securities of Braeburn -- namely, the equity and the royalty purchase agreement, and there was also a convertible note -- be essentially subject to their lien to secure the note. So calling, distributing those securities would have resulted in obliterating that deal.

Q. So the Family Office and ATP reached agreement to move forward with the Hercules financing and put the distribution of Pool Braeburn aside at that point?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, essentially.

Q. Did the issue of the distribution of Pool Braeburn come up again?

A. Yes.

Q. When was that?

A. July -- late July of 2024.

Q. And did that lead to a disagreement?

A. Yes.

Q. Did that disagreement become public?

A. Yes.

Q. How?

A. They sued us in Cayman.

Q. In connection with that lawsuit, did ATP assert any counterclaims?

A. No.

Q. Did ATP run into court here in Delaware to assert claims against Rigmora after being sued in Cayman?

A. No.

Q. What happened to that disagreement and lawsuit in Cayman?

A. I flew to Monaco and I suggested to

FILED UNDER SEAL

Dmitry that the best thing would be to settle. We had a couple of days of meetings and we agreed to the basic outline of a settlement in order to continue to work together.

Q. And during the time between the commencement of that lawsuit and the ultimate agreement to settle it, what was going on in terms of funding Pools V-1 and V-2?

A. We were calling capital, and the Family Office was meeting the capital calls.

Q. Did the Family Office's position change with respect to any aspect of its obligations to meet capital calls?

A. Did their position change?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. And what changed?

A. Bizarrely, in October of that year, we started to receive the capital calls with a disclaimer that the Family Office viewed them as voluntary.

Q. And did the Family Office at that time explain to you why they felt it was voluntary?

A. No.

Q. Not in any conversations between yourself and the folks at Rigmora did they explain it to you?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. There weren't open, fulsome conversations at that time because, don't forget, we were in litigation and we were trying to settle it. So the conversations were constrained to initially the legal exchanges in the suit and then the settlement discussions.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we pull up JX 998, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, looking at Exhibit 998, do you recognize it?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is it?

A. It's one of those disclaimer emails.

Q. And it's from Anna Kolonchina?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, she refers to an affidavit in that email.

Do you know what she is referring to there?

A. I believe it would be an affidavit that she would have made in their Cayman lawsuit.

Q. And did this language or language referring to it ever appear again in correspondence from Rigmora?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes. It became a feature of their correspondence related to incoming capital calls.

Q. And how did the Braeburn litigation resolve?

A. It resolved in a settlement, which took the form of Amendment 22 to the limited partnership that I believe was signed December 20, 2024.

Q. Thank you.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Your Honor, I think we're up close to the time you wanted to take a break.

THE COURT: We are. We can do that. Thank you.

Let's take 15 minutes.

(Court in recess at 10:45 a.m.)

FILED UNDER SEAL

(Resumed at 11:00 a.m.)

THE COURT: Please be seated.

ATTORNEY BERDON: May it please the Court.

BY ATTORNEY BERDON:

Q. Dr. Harrison, just before the break we had talked about the execution of Amendment 22.

During the time that the Cayman litigation was pending, were there portfolio companies at ATP that were nearing the end of their Series A commitments?

A. Yes.

Q. Were there initial budgets?

A. Yes, their budgets at that time.

Q. And were there discussions between yourself and Dr. Rybolovlev about new budgets while the litigation was ongoing?

A. Yes, they were part of the settlement discussion.

Q. And were there -- can you explain to the Court the issues that you were facing in terms of certain companies coming to the end of their financing, initial financing commitments and initial budgets?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Well, the issues were that the companies in question in most cases were projected to run out of cash by certain dates. In one case, there was a company, Ascidian in particular, that would get to the middle of that Stargardt disease trial and then run out of funding to conclude it in the proper way with what's called a pediatric cohort. And that required additional capitalization in the form of equity and a new budget commitment. This was not news. This was an ongoing discussion.

Q. And, as you said, those discussions became part of the settlement discussion; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Did they become part of the settlement agreement?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we please have JX 1068.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as Exhibit 1068?

A. Yes.

Q. What is it?

A. Amendment 22 to the LPA.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you recall there being a specific section that was called out to discuss about budgets?

A. Yes.

Q. Off the top of your head, do you recall what that was?

A. I happen to. It's paragraph 26.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we go to page 4, please, Marco.

Q. So I don't want to spend too much time on this, Dr. Harrison, but can you tell me an overview of what's discussed here in terms of the cash-out dates for these various companies.

A. They're four companies with projected cash-out dates: Aulos, which is developing a cancer drug in the middle of a clinical trial; Nereid and Nine Square, which are neurodegenerative disease companies that have very promising preclinical projects; and Replicate Bioscience, which is an RNA vaccine company with several promising projects and a clinical project.

Q. And is it fair to say that paragraph 26 here actually gives estimates of their cash-out dates as of the time it was executed?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. In your view, was it clear to the Family Office and Dr. Rybolovlev that these companies were running out of cash in the near term as of December 20 of 2024?

A. Yeah, it wasn't news. We had discussed the need for new budgets -- had been discussing the need for new budgets prior to the commencement of their suit, their lawsuit.

Q. And I note that there's a proviso here that talks about "twelve months" budgets, a period of 12 months after the remaining unfunded amounts.

What was the significance at that time of the "twelve months" language?

A. Well, when I went to Monaco and proposed to Dmitry that we settle, I told him that, look, we've come a long way, we've been working together since 2011, we've had some great successes. But we've yet to build the pharma company that you wanted to build. It turns out that in the portfolio right now, Dmitry, there are projects that, at least to my mind, represent the formative aspects of that company. And we could take those pieces and really figure out how best to organize them in such a company.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And he said that's what he wanted to do. And that was the basis of the settlement.

But I said that it will take awhile to figure that out. That's a very complicated plan. We have the team, able to do it, but it will take some time. And I proposed that we put in place holding budgets so that the companies that were running out of money could continue for a 12-month period during which time we at ATP would work diligently on creating that plan and also work collaboratively with the Family Office and Dmitry.

Q. Turning your attention to the last sentence of paragraph 26. Can you tell the Court your understanding of the meaning of that last sentence.

A. That they would reasonably consider the new budgets and work diligently, and we would work with them, to create a loan facility that would be secured by the pass-through entity that had received the Braeburn royalty purchase agreement or the Braeburn royalty.

Q. And that was targeted to raise a certain amount of money?

A. About 300 million. He said he would use that 300 million to build pharma.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And what was your understanding at the time of the availability of that type of financing?

A. Very available.

Q. And why do you say that?

A. Because the original idea of doing a royalty financing based on the royalty came from us. About a year prior, understanding there were liquidity issues -- this is before the suit in Cayman -- I started to sort of approach my network, which includes financial groups that do nothing but finance royalties. You sell them a royalty that you own and they pay you back something less than the total cash flow that you project it will have.

And we had worked out a deal where this $900 million-phase royalty would generate approximately 700 million for the Family Office. And we brought it to them, and we sort of didn't hear about it for awhile. And then they came back and said, oh, we have a better deal, we're going to take it on ourselves.

And that disappeared. That was sometime in the early summer of '24. And then the lawsuit. So when we emerged from the lawsuit via the settlement agreement, I thought we were going to collaborate on the royalty financing, but they wanted to do it themselves. And after several months they failed.

Q. Do you believe that Rigmora was reasonable in trying to pursue that equity financing on their own?

A. I can't comment on that. I think it -- they certainly didn't use a resource that was right in front of them — us. We tried, but they wouldn't accept our help.

Q. Did Rigmora hire a financial advisor to try and help them?

A. Yes.

Q. And to the best of your understanding, does that financial advisor have a presence in the market for royalty finance?

A. I don't know that they particularly do or not. I think there's somewhat of a general shop based in the UK. I know that the group that we were working with does nothing but royalty deals.

Q. Have any of the companies listed in paragraph 26 been given additional financing by Rigmora?

A. Yes.

Q. Which?

A. Replicate.

Q. At the time of the execution of Amendment 20, what was Replicate's target out-of-cash date?

A. At the time of the execution of Amendment 22?

Q. 22. Forgive me.

A. February of 2025.

Q. Do you recall the date on which Amendment 22 was executed?

A. December 20th of 2024.

Q. And did ATP submit new budget requests to the Family Office after the execution of amendment 22?

A. Yes.

Q. When?

A. December 24th.

ATTORNEY BERDON: I'd like to put up Exhibit 1079, please, Marco.

Can you scroll down do the bottom email, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, except for the fact that this appears to have been taken from Rigmora's files, do you recognize the email that's highlighted in front of you?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes. It's my email of transmittal contained in the email to the -- the attachments were the budget requests.

Q. And in particular, did you have materials there for Replicate?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we go to page 3, please, Marco.

Q. Do you recognize what's on the screen now?

A. Yes.

Q. What is it?

A. It's an investment memorandum we prepared for the $11 million funding extension for Replicate.

Q. Was it typical for ATP to prepare a whole new investment memo for an $11 million budget extension?

A. No.

Q. Why did you prepare it?

A. We were coming out of a lawsuit. We wanted to be really buttoned up. We wanted to make sure that we did absolutely everything we could to make certain that the budgets were going to be approved. And we actually thought it was unnecessary in a normal operating environment. But we weren't sure what that operating environment would be after the settlement agreement, so we had our teams prepare a lot of materials.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And I'm not going to walk you through it today because it's pretty technical. But did you believe it was adequate for the purpose?

A. More than adequate.

Q. Did you hear back quickly from the Family Office in response to your request for the $11 million budget extension for Replicate?

A. Not really quickly.

Q. Well, do you recall any response?

A. Yes.

Q. And what do you recall?

A. Yuri Bogdanov, who had recently become the head of the Family Office, sent us a very curious diligence request email.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we pull up JX 1107, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as JX 1107?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And taking a look at the email, what is it?

A. That's an email from me to Yuri saying that it's essential that we fund Replicate. We agreed to fund 12 budgets to the companies that we know are running out of cash, Replicate among them. Replicate is running out of cash on schedule, which would then be two weeks from the date of the email.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can you scroll to the top. There you go.

Q. Do you recall receiving this response from Mr. Bogdanov?

A. Yes.

Q. And did Mr. Bogdanov have an attachment to this email that posed some questions?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we get the next page, 3, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, what's wrong with this set of questions?

A. It's bizarre. I mean, first of all, this is a company that we founded I think in 2021 and on which we'd reported extensively, were the sole owner, and we had many, many, many conversations about with Dmitry.

And typically when you know a deal and you're just funding specific programs that you know and you understand the technology and you understand management and everything, providing an additional relatively small amount of capital shouldn't require much diligence at all.

Questions are, of course, fair. And reasonable questions are more than fair. And we're not only prepared to answer any questions, but we had already talked about Replicate, and then in the investment memo addressed all of their issues involved in what the company was going to do at that time with that $11 million.

What we have here, if you look at the first bullet point, Yuri is asking for all the board minutes and board materials since inception. That's just not a reasonable diligence request. It has no meaning for what the company is going to do with $11 million aliquot going forward in a specific couple of projects. That's the kind of diligence request that might come in an M&A transaction at the very end of the transaction from a corporate buyer's legal department.

Then there's other features of this. The second one is also very strange. It's asking for a bring-down of all the company's spending, essentially, since inception, categorized by certain categories. I've actually never seen this before in any diligence effort in which I've ever been involved, either as the diligence doer or the diligence receiver, ever. So entirely make-work.

And then there were questions that were kind of unsettling because they referred back to the original Replicate investment memo. But not only were we clear that investment memo milestones don't travel with a development of the company, in Replicate's particular case we had pivoted away from the original investment memo milestones via an approved budget extension that the Family Office knew about and approved.

So Yuri here is asking about this pivot as if it's news. And that pivot was from cancer vaccines to infectious disease vaccines, which we did during COVID. And he's asking to justify the pivot and what does it mean about the company in a quite negative framing.

And it goes on in that way that made us realize that this was anything but reasonable consideration of a new budget. It was, in fact, a kind of blockade.

Q. And just so the Court understands, when you talk about a "pivot," can you briefly talk about the significance of a pivot from a technology point of view and from the perspective of a venture capital manager.

A. Well, these projects are like organisms. You're always measuring them and figuring out what they're doing and then adapting your plan to what they produce in experimental results. You're also factoring what's going on in the environment, in the world, and you're understanding what you can do with a capital that you have in your budget or your Series A round or committed capital from another source.

In the case of Replicate, the RNA technology that it has really does have the potential to create a certain kind of cancer vaccine that would be great. The problem with that is that it would take three years to read out in a clinical trial. And we already knew that it was problematic, from that perspective, when we founded the company.

And then when we were facing syndication issues, not related to companies, and COVID happened, we were intrigued by the idea of doing a different kind of a project in infectious disease that would read out, achieve its clinical proof of concept sooner. And that turned out to be a rabies vaccine. And so -- and that required moving from a $40 million Series A budget approval to a $53 million Series A budget approval, i.e., a $13 million extension.

And we talked about that with the Family Office and sent in that budget extension request with no IM, with no fanfare at all. They approved it, and we got on to doing the business of the pivot. The rabies vaccine, by the way, succeeded very well.

Q. Did the Family Office end up approving an extension of the budget for Replicate in early 2025?

A. Yes.

Q. How much did you ask for?

A. 11 million.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And how much did they end up approving?

A. 18 million in two $9 million pieces.

Q. Was there any other condition that the Family Office placed on its willingness to fund those amounts?

A. Inside the budget, no, there was -- we agreed there would be -- this was the only budget aside from the Braeburn royalty purchase agreement, $200 million commitment, where there was a milestone inserted at the request of the Family Office. And that milestone request language is actually in the LPA. They can request and we reasonably do allow, but it only happened once. It was in this budget.

And the milestone was that Replicate conclude a Latin American deal with a pharma company in Latin America for the rabies vaccine.

Q. Do you recall receiving an email from Patrik Blöchlinger regarding the Replicate budget approval?

A. Yes, it was also quite strange. We sent the -- yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we pull up JX 1192, please.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize what's been marked as JX 1192?

A. Yes.

Q. Does this refresh your recollection as to any other conditions to the payment that the Family Office made with respect to the two $9 million tranches?

A. Well, we agreed when we were sitting down in Monaco in January -- and actually brought Replicate's CEO over to present to Dmitry and Yuri -- that we would put in this $9 million milestone inside the budget. Indeed, the budget that we sent, which is attached, in which they signed only has that milestone. And there it is.

But in the email of transmittal, outside the budget, Patrik Blöchlinger, the general counsel of Rigmora, adds this condition, which was news to us. And we didn't regard it as legal because it's what they want post facto, and they signed the budget.

Q. Did the Family Office ever approve new budgets that had been requested for Ascidian?

A. No.

Q. Aulos?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. No.
Q. Nereid?
A. No.
Q. Nine Square?
A. No.
Q. So you testified a little earlier that the capital commitment at inception for Pools V-1 and V-2 was a billion dollars.
Do you recall that?
A. A billion dollars, yes.
Q. Was there any formal delineation between Pools V-1 and V-2 financially?
A. No.
Q. Do you know whether Rigmora has made contributions to those pools?
A. Yes.
ATTORNEY BERDON: I'd like to pull up PDX 1, please.
Q. Dr. Harrison, have you reviewed the source material that was used to compile the amounts set forth here?
A. Yes.
Q. Were they voluminous?
A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Were you able to commit them to memory?

A. No.

Q. So based on what we have here in front of you, can you tell the Court what the columns for "Approved Budget" and "Amount Contributed" mean?

A. Yeah. On the far left you see the list of the portfolio companies in Pools V-1 and V-2. You see Replicate in the bottom. And then you see in the fourth column over the approved budget for each company, the total budget, if there were multiple budget approvals.

And then in the next column over you see the amount that has been paid in on each of the budgets. And then you see in the final column the amount that remains of each budget that has not been called or contributed.

Q. So as of May 30th, 2025, was there about $178 million in budgeted but as-yet-uncalled capital for Pools V-1 and V-2?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Taking the -- scroll down, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, does the chart at the bottom of this table contain information regarding Pool V-3?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

Q. And for Ascidian and Marengo, can you explain to the Court what that information is.

A. It's the same sort of information. You have the companies that have approved budgets remaining in Pool V-3, that's Ascidian and Marengo; the total amount of budgets approved in the fourth column over for each company; the amount that's been paid in on each budget in the next column; and then the remaining amount to be called on each budget.

Q. And if one were to sum the amount remaining on Pool V-3 with the amount remaining in Pools V-1 and V-2, did that sum to about $218 million?

A. Yes.

Q. And are you pretty confident in that math from the position of the general partner, not to the dollar, but you're confident in that math?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you also keep track of remaining budgets across pools to govern the capital calling process?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we go to PDX 1 at page 3, please.

Q. Dr. Harrison, can you explain to the Court what this indicates in terms of budget remaining for each of those companies.

A. This is the total of the companies in Pools V-1, V-2, and V-3 listed. And the "Budget Remaining" column contains the budgets for each company that have been approved but not yet called.

Q. So putting that all together, we have about $214 million in budget remaining?

A. Yes. You said 218 before, but I think it sums to 214.

Q. I stand corrected. Thank you.

So did you have meetings in Monaco in March of 2025 to discuss the budget approval request for Aulos, Ascidian, and Marengo?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was the nature of those meetings?

A. We had had meetings in Monaco in January discussing why the budgets weren't approved, why there was no reasonable consideration of the budgets, Yuri's odd diligence request. Basically a relationship reset meeting.

At that meeting, we also called in Nathaniel Wang, the CEO of Replicate, to scramble from the west coast of the US to Monaco to present, which he did. That was a successful process. And we all agreed that the management from each of Ascidian, Marengo, and Aulos would come at our next face-to-face meeting, and we scheduled that for March.

Q. Were their presentation materials prepared for those meetings?

A. Yes.

Q. And was there a data room opened that Rigmora could access in advance of those meetings?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was the nature of the data room?

A. Well, a data room is something you typically open for a pharmaceutical company to do due diligence, to complete a deal on a new target or something. And it contains all the IP, all the experimental data, every conceivable corporate document that you could imagine, every technical document.

And then you can regulate who enters a data room, and you see who enters it, and it's a standard feature of getting a deal done in our space.

ATTORNEY BERDON: And just for completion, can we pull up JX 122 -- I'm sorry, 1222.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recognize Joint Exhibit 1222?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was it?

A. It was sending Yuri and Dmitry's assistant -- which was our way of communicating via email to Dmitry or with Dmitry -- the materials for those March meetings in advance of the meetings themselves.

Q. And were those presentation materials, in your view, highly detailed?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Detailed enough for a reasonable person to make some decisions?

A. Yes. I would say detailed enough for an external due diligence, certainly a company with a data room. But if it's a company you own already and you know extremely well, where you've had multiple management meetings, this wasn't the first, this was a lot.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And in addition to these written materials in the data room, you testified that management actually appeared?

A. Yes. We flew them to Monaco.

Q. And did that group include just employees?

A. Well, it included the senior management from each of the companies. And at the time we were also doing a review of oncology projects in the portfolio. And to do that we hired a consultant named Bill Grossman, who had been the head of oncology at Novartis and then became the head of oncology at Gilead. I knew him. He's very smart, highly qualified.

And so he was looking at our portfolio. And we offered to bring Bill to Monaco, be it just to make sure that if Yuri and Dmitry had any questions, they could ask them.

Q. And were questions asked of Mr. Grossman?

A. Yes.

Q. And did he express --

A. Dr. Grossman.

Q. Dr. Grossman. Did he express views

FILED UNDER SEAL

that could be perceived as critical of one or more of the companies?

A. Yes.

Q. What was that?

A. He was critical of the way that Aulos management had conducted the clinical trial.

Q. And did he say that those problems were irremediable?

A. No. Dmitry fastened on it and decided we needed to fire the chief medical officer. We thought that was a bit extreme, and we wanted to focus on what the actual problem was, which we did when we got back.

Q. After focusing on that problem, did you and your senior management at ATP eventually come to a path that you thought was appropriate to move forward with the funding of Aulos?

A. Yes. It was very interesting. We actually talked with -- it's a melanoma trial for treatment of melanoma that's failed everything else. And the company is doing extremely well. And the question is making sure that the criteria for recruiting the patients is correct. It was very interesting to talk to these melanoma experts and really tighten the criteria and work with management to make sure that those became the inclusion and exclusion criteria in their clinical trial.

Q. Did you discuss that progress with Dr. Rybolovlev?

A. I tried to.

Q. And what did he say to you about his views of your ability to manage that problem on a going-forward basis?

A. In the meeting where I tried to discuss it, it was a Zoom meeting, he brushed it off. Then in a subsequent meeting, he brought up Aulos and he said, I trust your judgment, you've made me a lot of money; I understand that you want to do Aulos and we should do Aulos.

Q. Coming out of those March meetings, were budgets approved for Aulos, Ascidian, or Marengo?

A. No.

Q. After waiting a period or working on this for a period, did you actually make a proposal to the Family Office on how the existing budgets might be reallocated?

A. Yes.

Q. What prompted that?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. It became clear to me by April -- we had submitted these budgets in December. The Replicate budget process was the only one that had gone through, and it was not normal. And there was no budgets that were being -- there were no budgets being approved.

It was clear to me -- also that the royalty financing that they were trying to do was not going to work out. They were proposing a very different structure that would involve encumbering Braeburn, the company, in a way that would not likely be acceptable.

So I looked at that and I just said, you know, I think the only capital that we're going to have, Dmitry, is the capital in the approved budgets. Why don't we just work within that and figure out how to move some of the clinical projects along to where they need to go so we'd have the definition of whether or not these should be the starting materials for the pharma company.

Q. And under that proposal, what would you be taking away from in order to direct that capital towards the clinical companies?

A. It was a reallocation of some of the budgets from the preclinical companies to the clinical companies.

Q. Did you end up reaching agreement with the Family Office on a reallocation proposal?

A. Ultimately no. I thought we had but we did not.

Q. And from your perspective, why not?

A. Well, this -- what happened was that we had a Zoom call with Yuri and Dmitry and Anna Batarina and myself, I think it was on May 9th at this point, where I was to present the reallocation proposal. And I sort of led off with a 10-minute introduction of what it would accomplish, and then I was prepared to share screen with a spreadsheet, showing it.

And Dmitry and Yuri said no, that won't be necessary. This is moving in the right direction. Now we meet with the lawyers.

I said, that's strange. Why would we be meeting with lawyers?

Oh, we should just meet with lawyers.

I said, but usually when we do a deal like this -- and there were many -- we form some sort of a term sheet that will then become an amendment to the fund or a side letter or some such thing. And we didn't need outside lawyers to do that. People might have that reviewed by outside lawyers, but it wasn't a necessary process.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Oh, no, no, this is very important; we need a lawyer call.

And we scheduled it for that Tuesday the 12th. I had sent several emails to Yuri and Dmitry in the interim, saying what is this lawyer call? Shouldn't we just try to do this in a normal way?

And we actually had Dan Finkelman, our GC, create basically a term sheet that would serve as the basis for what would become that reallocation amendment, or whatever you want to call it. So we wound up having this lawyer call, and I think that was sort of the beginning of the end.

Q. What about the lawyer call, from your perspective, got in the way of completion of a reallocation deal?

A. It was an ambush, literally. We got on the Zoom in good faith. We had one of our outside counsel, just to balance the fact that they were going to have outside counsel. But we didn't think anything

FILED UNDER SEAL

-- we were more curious than anything else.

Dmitry, Yuri, Patrik Blöchlinger and Anna Batarina, myself, and Mark Gordon from Wachtell and four lawyers from Latham & Watkins -- who I had never seen before, and I don't even think we made introductions -- where they just lit into me, the lawyers from Latham, saying it's obvious that you think the preclinical companies are worthless, otherwise why would you have proposed this reallocation. If they're worthless, why don't you shut them down? All of these crazy mischaracterizations.

I was shocked. Mark Gordon tried to throttle this very aggressive partner from Latham, but it was still the same thing.

And I just put up a wall. I did not say that. Those were not my words, et cetera. And it didn't go very well.

Q. So from your perspective, what was the value of the preclinical companies at that point and why were you willing to allocate budget money away from them to the clinical companies?

A. We've had a very successful translational track record, meaning we start early and build through to clinical proof of concept. And looking at these projects that are the very projects that are created by this top-quality pharma team in the preclinical companies, they're just very strong projects, first stage. So what should happen is full budgets for the preclinical companies and full budgets for the clinical companies.

But pragmatically it was obvious that wasn't going to happen. So I did the next best thing, which is to say, look, at this stage, it would be better to advance the clinical projects, focus in on only selected preclinical projects, and bring them with a relatively small amount of money to the -- to the go/no-go decision to bring them into the clinic, which is where the real spend starts.

Q. Okay. After that lawyers call, did you end up getting some correspondence from Mr. Bogdanov?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall the date you received it?

A. May 15th.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we pull up JX 1336, please.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you recognize --

ATTORNEY BERDON: Sorry. Can you go to the bottom email of the chain, please.

Q. Do you recognize what's been highlighted in the bottom email on the chain?

A. I recognize the email. It's an email that Yuri sent instructing us to kill the early-stage companies. And if we killed the early-stage companies, then they might consider providing budgets for the clinical companies.

Q. Well, let's just briefly take a look at the first sentence of the full text paragraph there. "The SLPs see no way for a path to commercial success for these Early-Stage Companies ...."

What was your reaction when you read that?

A. It was certainly a problematic statement, and I disagreed with it.

Q. Why did you disagree with it?

A. First of all, it was problematic because we started these companies as preclinical entities and the idea that if by "commercial success" you meant sales, it's impossible and known that they're nowhere near sales.

FILED UNDER SEAL

But commercial success for a company at this stage is a thing. It exists. You can do a corporate deal, which we have many in the portfolio. Ironically, one on this list and one that's not on this list, which have actually occurred subsequent to this email -- you can do an M&A of a company like this, and these happen. And there are many examples of early-stage companies getting bought for a fair amount of money. You can do an equity financing from the outside, which could eventually lead to a mezzanine round and an IPO for an early-stage company. And we've done those.

And in our case, if the idea is to build a pharma company with a pipeline, you could choose to fund some of these things yourself because there's value in each of these companies.

So I totally disagree.

Q. He also says that one of the reasons -- he says, "because: they have failed to meet [] milestones set out in the investment memoranda on which SLP's initial funding was premised ...."

SLP, what do you understand that to be?

A. Subject limited partner. It was a term that Rigmora, for some reason, liked to use in legal correspondence.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Did you agree that the preclinical companies' path to commercial success was hampered by their failure to meet milestones set out in an initial investment memoranda?

A. No. On the contrary. The whole point of having a team like we have is to develop the companies from the start that's represented in the investment memoranda to wherever they need to go based upon what the research programs tell them.

Q. It also says here, "there is no third party interest to invest in these Early-Stage Companies ...."

Do you agree with that?

A. No. It's not true.

Q. What type of third-party interest were you aware of at that time with respect to these companies generally?

A. There were negotiations going on with big pharma companies to do corporate deals along the lines that I've discussed, one of which has closed -- two of which have closed actually. And there has been a lot of interest from the VC market in these deals but which has never eventuated in a financing due to the KY issues that we have faced, particularly post Ukraine.

Q. Two issues. Number one, which of the companies on this list has done a corporate deal that you're aware of?

A. Deep Apple did a corporate deal recently.

Q. And who was that with?

A. Novo.

Q. And when it was announced, was there a potential total value of that deal announced?

A. I think it was over $800 million.

Q. And going, then, to the point that you just made about KY issues. Can you be specific.

First of all, is that KYC?

A. Yes, know your client.

Q. Can you be specific about the nature of those KYC issues that have come up in discussions with potential equity investors?

A. Yes. It's plagued us and we've really tried to neutralize it in the market for years. After the Ukraine was attacked and the sanctions of Russian individuals became prevalent, we did a lot of work and worrying with Dmitry about whether or not he would be sanctioned. He wasn't. He was correct about that. He was sanctioned by the Ukraine, but no one took that seriously. He wasn't sanctioned in the U.S. and the EU.

This didn't stop the market, namely the equity markets in the U.S., from not investing with a fund that was controlled by Dmitry's entities. And every time that we -- and we had done a lot of analysis on Dmitry. I won't go into it, but we understood that he was not going to be sanctioned.

And we would try to explain this, and the compliance departments would just shut it down. And we had term sheets that were yanked. We had financings that looked like they were about to close that were -- blew up. We had many, many discussions across the market. And it was pretty clear that we were locked in due to this problem.

Q. Another question for you -- down further in the text here it says, "The SLP's position is therefore that further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets. We understand that you hold a similar view ...."

Was that true?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Neither statement is true. And that was the problem in that lawyer call. They were putting words into my mouth. I didn't hold that view. I never held that view. I didn't express that view. It was their idea for me to swallow, which I wasn't having.

Q. After receiving what's been marked as -- forgive me -- JX 1336, what did you do?

A. Well, I wrote Yuri a reply saying I disagreed with everything, and here it is. And at that point, obviously, we were having serious conversations about what to do, given what was apparently a quite hostile position of the Family Office to the fund.

Q. Just for clarity's sake, you're referring to your email on JX 1336 at the top dated May 19th?

A. Well, what would you like -- I'm sorry?

for June 1st. Was that related to the May 30th capital calls?

A. Yes. We had overcalled in error on May 30th, so we retracted that May 30th call and replaced it with a June 1st correct call.

ATTORNEY BERDON: And let's go to page 13, please.

Q. So, Dr. Harrison, does this chart represent how those capital calls compared to the remaining approved budgets as of the time?

A. Yes.

Q. How did you set the amount of capital to call for each of these companies?

A. We based it on the companies having six-month budgets from the presumptive date of the receipt of those calls.

Q. And what were you projecting could be accomplished within those six months at each of these companies? What was the goal?

A. In each case, following forward on their research plans.

Q. And on May 30th, did you also call capital for partnership expenses?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And did you call capital for a fee that was chargeable on a semi-yearly basis for ATLS?

A. Yes.

Q. Interesting, did you call your own management fee on May 30th?

A. No.

Q. So for any of the money that you called on May 30th, was any of that to be directed into your pocket?

A. No.

Q. At the same time as you called capital on May 30th, did you also file this lawsuit?

A. Yes.

Q. And why did you file the lawsuit?

A. After the May 15th letter from Yuri, Anna Batarina contacted me and said she had spoken with Dmitry and Yuri and she wanted to tell me something.

I said, what's that?

And she said, if you call capital, it's treason, and they will sue you.

And I said, oh. And I knew that at that point, there was no possibility of a reproachment. No possibility of any kind of agreement.

Q. Did you believe that you had the right under the LPA to bring a lawsuit against an LP who had breached the LPA?

A. Yes, absolutely. It's in the LPA.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Can we please pull up JX 1 at 74, 75, Marco.

Q. Taking a look at what's next to (iv), here. Do you recognize this language, Dr. Harrison?

A. Yes.

Q. And what do you understand it to mean?

A. It gives me right to sue a partner who defaults.

Q. And taking a look at (iv) at the bottom, "To the fullest extent permitted by law ...." Can you just read that to the Court.

A. "To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner hereby specifically agrees that, in the event such Limited Partner violates the terms of this Agreement, such Limited Partner shall not be entitled to claim that the Partnership or any of the other Partners are precluded, on the basis of any fiduciary or other duty arising in respect of such Limited Partner's status as such, from seeking any of the remedies permitted under this Agreement or applicable law."

Q. Did the LPs pay the capital calls that were served on May 30th?

A. No.

Q. And did ATP, to your understanding, issue notices saying that the LPs were in breach of their agreement to contribute capital in response to those calls?

A. Yes.

Q. And are you seeking a finding that the LPs are in breach of that agreement?

A. Yes.

Q. What's the current status of the preclinical companies, Dr. Harrison?

A. They are in desperate condition. We've had to do massive layoffs. We've had to move companies to -- out of facilities, heavy negotiations with landlords, sales of capital equipment, consolidations, reduction of research programs.

In one case we kept a program that bloomed from a platform technology, but we had to cede that technology back to the source institution. Very difficult relationships with founders. You know, a mess.

Q. If funding were to be made available to you, for example, by the end of the year, would you be able to reconstruct those companies?

A. Yes. We've managed to keep alive the critical projects that we thought were valuable, even at the beginning of the reallocation proposal, in the form of key employees in most of the companies that retained the knowledge. In some cases, there's tiny amounts of research that are ongoing. And so, yes, absolutely, they can be readily reconstituted. I don't know for how long, but yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: I pass the witness.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Good morning, Your Honor. Shannon Selden of Debevoise & Plimpton. We have some binders for the Court and the witness. May we approach the bench and hand out those binders?

THE WITNESS: May I ask a question? Are they also going to be on the screen, or do I use the binder?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: We will show them both on the screen. But you can use the binder, if that's more convenient for you.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY SELDEN:

Q. I was going to say good morning, Dr. Harrison, but I see it's afternoon.

Good afternoon, Dr. Harrison.

A. Good afternoon.

Q. Do you recall Mr. Berdon showed you a demonstrative with budgets and commitments broken down by pool?

A. Yes.

Q. Setting aside the math for a moment, that demonstrative was based on your understanding of the LPA and its references to pools, wasn't it?

A. It was based upon my understanding of the budget commitments that have been signed in, which we keep records of in that ATP.

Q. The demonstrative that you looked at with Mr. Berdon is based on your understanding of the LPA, its amendments, and the budget requests and commitments; is that correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

Q. Dr. Harrison, you understood that there was a limit to the amount of capital that had been committed to the fund; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. You understood that the fund could not invest more capital than it had committed to it; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. As of May of 2023, you knew that Dr. Rybolovlev and the Family Office intended to cap their investment in the fund at $2.5 billion; correct?

A. Dmitry had informed me that that was his wish, but that is not reflected in the agreements that had been signed.

BY ATTORNEY SELDEN:

Q. At that point in May of 2023, you didn't do anything to assess the amount by which the fund's commitments to invest in its portfolio companies exceeded $2.5 billion; correct?

A. I think when Dmitry informed me that he wished that it be capped at 2.5 billion as opposed to the 2.9 or so that it actually summed to, we were very interested in, as usual, creating accommodations. So we did go back and try to figure out, is there any way to shoehorn everything we're doing into something like 2 1/2 billion dollars? I think I remember that I couldn't possibly get it down to less than 2.7. We kept trying and trying. And we talked about that.

Q. And you didn't do that calculation at any other point in time, did you, Dr. Harrison?

Q. Dr. Harrison, I'm afraid we have limited time today, and I'm asking you yes/no questions. So I'd ask you to listen to my question and answer that question. And if you have other testimony to give, I'm sure Mr. Burden will have an opportunity to redirect. But I am sensitive to the clock.

A. I'm sorry. When was that?

Q. October of 2023.

A. I don't know. I don't remember.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Your Honor, as Your Honor knows, there's been a roll-off production of otherwise documents that were claimed as privileged. And we would ask that they be treated as highly confidential in this proceeding because, even if used in this proceeding among the parties, they will still retain privilege in Cayman under Cayman law as long as they are not disclosed to the public.

So we would ask that the courtroom be sealed during any questioning relating to otherwise privileged information that was in the roll-off production.

FILED UNDER SEAL

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Your Honor, paragraph 25 of the pretrial order governs the use of confidential or highly confidential information in this proceeding. It requires the parties to meet and confer in advance of trial, which defendants attempted to do. We asked plaintiffs to de-designate this material by letter dated September 29, by letter dated October 8, and by chaser email dated October 12.

Plaintiffs have declined to engage with us with respect to the reduction in designation of that material, and did not raise this concern about closing the courtroom in advance.

Paragraph 25 of the pretrial order further provides that if the parties are unable to reach agreement -- which we had very much hoped to do -- the parties seeking to maintain highly confidential information throughout trial should seek an order from the Court, which plaintiffs have not done in advance of trial.

So we would ask, including for the interest of time, to be able to use this information, which we understand is subject to a privilege waiver publicly and with the witness.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Your Honor, just for completeness of the record, we did ask for a meet-and-confer on Monday in a letter that was sent, and I don't believe that one was made available to us.

FILED UNDER SEAL

THE COURT: So I understand Mr. Berdon's request made just now to be in the motion that was contemplated in the pretrial order. Is that wrong?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: We had expected, Your Honor, that if plaintiffs were going to raise the objection and seek to close the courtroom, that they would have raised that in response to one of the three letters that we had sent them prior to October 12th, or at the very latest going into this hearing.

I think there has been a privilege waiver with respect to these documents. They have been used in depositions. They have been produced. They are among the rest of the joint exhibits on the list. And we think it's appropriate to use them in this proceeding.

I also think, given the limited time again, Your Honor, and the number of issues and, frankly, the amounts and nature of the claims at stake, it would be appropriate if we could use them with the witness and move quickly through them.

FILED UNDER SEAL

THE COURT: I don't think he's objecting to your use. I think he's objecting to using them publicly in a way that would undermine the privilege objections or privilege assertions in other proceedings.

What is your response to that?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: My response to that, Your Honor, is perhaps we could stipulate that we will use the documents in open court in this trial proceeding. And the effect of that use in this proceeding, to the extent that it has an implication on the Cayman privilege waivers or evidentiary rules in the Cayman court, I think the Cayman court can adjudicate that if and when those issues arise, and Your Honor should leave that to the Cayman judge and let the documents come in here. I think we can --

THE COURT: So I hear you saying that you want to stipulate that the Cayman court will resolve privilege issues there.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Yes, that the Cayman court decide Cayman privilege issues.

THE COURT: You don't need to stipulate to that. The Cayman court will resolve Cayman privilege issues.

FILED UNDER SEAL

The question is whether the use of those documents here will affect their arguments as to privilege in Cayman. I hear Mr. Berdon saying it will. And his solution is that we close the courtroom when you want to use them.

What is your response to that?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: My response to that is that there has been a privilege waiver with respect to these documents and they should be used in open court like any other nonprivileged document. That they were -- many of them -- improperly designated as highly confidential in the first instance, improperly designated as privileged in the second instance. And those improper designations should not now be a bar to their use in this public proceeding.

THE COURT: Correct me, it's been awhile. I thought that the argument you made as to these documents was that your client was within the scope of privilege?

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Yes, I think there are a number of arguments that we made with respect to these documents, Your Honor. One of which is that our client is within the scope of the privilege and so they shouldn't have been designated privileged in the first instance.

Secondly, that there were over-designations of material that was not privileged at all as to anyone.

And third, that there are documents designated "Highly Confidential" which ought not to be highly confidential.

So I think there are layers of objection to many of these documents, none of which, frankly, Your Honor, I think require sealing the courtroom. The documents that we propose to use relate to a dispute between these parties that is many years in the making. The document I am about to show Dr. Harrison, for example, is from October of 2023. I don't think that is relevant to or prejudices any ongoing business concern or the companies or the other kinds of sensitive, live, trade secret, business decision, public information.

THE COURT: That doesn't speak to whether they're privileged. So if a document -- if the reason why -- if there is an argument that the reason why your client received the document in discovery here is because your client's within the scope of privilege, that doesn't eliminate the protections of that document to the rest of the world. Right? It means that your client can see it. But there is a risk that disclosing it in open court could undermine arguments that the privileged information your client's entitled to see is no longer confidential and, thus, no longer privileged.

So I see the concern here. I don't know whether the document you're discussing now or about to show the witness falls into that category. But if it does, I think the solution is to seal the courtroom and for you all to identify who in the courtroom is within the scope of privilege so that showing it doesn't blow privilege. So I'm not sure how we do that now. Maybe you want to talk a break and do it, or maybe you want to talk about it over the lunch break. Either way, I'm open to.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

I would suggest that, in the interest of time, we skip ahead and I'll proceed with questions that don't implicate those documents, and then we can discuss during the lunch break whether and how to seal the courtroom and who's within the scope of privilege.

Would that be acceptable, Your Honor?

THE COURT: That works, yes.

Q. Dr. Harrison, on your direct with Mr. Berdon, you discussed Rigmora's obligation to discuss budgets in good faith following the entry of Amendment 22; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And following Amendment 22, on Christmas Eve or December 24, 2024, you sent Dr. Rybolovlev a budget request for four companies; is that right?

A. Correct.

Q. And it's fair to say that since those companies had been founded, the fund had contributed tens of millions of dollars to them; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. And when sending the budget request, you informed Rigmora that you had set up data rooms for them to access; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. You expected Rigmora to review the information provided in the data rooms and ask questions; right?

A. No.

Q. You set up data rooms containing supportive materials with the new budgets that you did not expect Rigmora to access?

A. I doubted very highly whether they would review them. We did it to make sure they understood that after the settlement agreement we were being radically transparent.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Let's put up JX 1107, if you will.

Q. This was the response that Mr. Bogdanov sent to your December 24, 2024, budget request; correct?

A. Yes, for Replicate.

Q. Mr. Bogdanov replied on January 5th after the holidays; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. Dr. Harrison, do you recall that you testified that Replicate had pivoted from oncology to a rabies vaccine over the course of the fund's investment in that company?

A. Yes.

Q. It's not bizarre for an investor to have questions about that change in strategy from oncology to rabies, is it?

A. It's bizarre if the investor already knew about it and approved the budget that enabled it, in my opinion.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: If we could turn to page 3 of Exhibit 1107.

Q. That's the list of questions regarding Replicate; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. It's your position that these questions didn't constitute a bona fide diligence request; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And it's your position that Mr. Bogdanov's questions did not have any diligence logic in assessing the merits of the companies; correct?

A. Essentially, yes.

Q. Let's look at that list of questions.

At paragraph 5 in the third sentence, Mr. Bogdanov asks, "After four years, could you please outline the main reasons for shifting RBI-4000 and RBI-5000 from oncology to infectious disease indications?"

Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. In question number 6, Mr. Bogdanov asked, "In the 2021 Replicate memo, the team stated: 'The profile of Replicate's first product is highly differentiated ....'"

Then later he goes to to ask, "Currently, the company has a substantial share of indications related to infectious diseases: [] Does this suggest that the company has lost its differentiation and is now operating in a more competitive environment, as was suggested in 2021?"

In 6.3 he asks, "How has the company's technology evolved over the past four years compared to its main peers?"

Do you see those questions?

A. Yes.

ATTORNEY BERDON: Object to the form to the extent that the next question is going to be lumping, compound.

THE COURT: We'll see what the next question is. Please continue.

BY ATTORNEY SELDEN:

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. The next question is, Dr. Harrison, in your view, these questions from Mr. Bogdanov constituted an obstructionist tactic; is that correct?

A. The totality of these diligence questions did, yes.

Q. In your view, the diligence questions were sent to prevent and avoid funding a company that the Rigmora LPs, in good faith, were obligated to consider a budget for; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. But Rigmora, in fact, agreed to provide bridge funding for Replicate before receiving answers to any of Mr. Bogdanov's diligence questions; correct?

A. Yes, that was an emergency effort. We suggested that Replicate would go out of business while we were resolving the issue of these diligence questions. And we suggested a million-and-a-half bridge, to which the Rigmora LPs agreed.

Q. And then a month later, Rigmora approved an $18 million budget increase for Replicate; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And the $18 million budget increase that Rigmora approved was more than the $11 million you had initially requested on December 24th, wasn't it?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Technically correct.

Q. Let's talk for a moment about what information ATP provided to the Rigmora LPs in connection with their request to make an investment.

Prior to approval of a portfolio company deal by the fund, a primary deal sponsor from ATP was responsible for preparing a thorough investment memorandum; is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. Your view was that the investment memorandum should include an operating plan for the portfolio company; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Another thing the GP provided to the Family Office was the background and precedent for their approach to any particular company; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. The investment memoranda provided for a tranche investment scheme gated by milestones; correct?

A. The investment memoranda provided for a tranched investment scheme, and the then-current thinking on what the company would achieve over time.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. One of the purposes of that tranched investment scheme was to derisk ATP's investment; correct?

A. All tranched investment schemes do that, or intend to.

Q. Including the tranched investment schemes included in the investment memorandas for the portfolio companies that ATP sought funding for; correct?

A. May I answer the question in my way, or do you just want a yes or no?

Q. I'd like a yes or no.

A. Yes, correct.

Q. After the fund's initial investment, you frequently pivoted away from the plans for the portfolio companies that had been presented in their investment memoranda; correct?

A. Technically correct. It's not that we tried to pivot. It's that the companies had research programs that suggested to us that the best way to manage them was to make changes.

Q. When that happened and the company departed from the plans presented in its investment memoranda, you didn't update the investment memoranda provided to the Family Office; correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. No, we did not.

Q. In fact, you've repeatedly said that how the evolution of a project relates to its business plan or its investment memorandum is irrelevant; right?

A. I wouldn't call it irrelevant; I would call it a starting point. But where it is in the middle of its investment cycle, it can't be predicted at the time of the investment memo. It's the look at that time, the view at that time.

ATTORNEY SELDEN: Could you please play clip 106, Day 3, page 282, line 17, to 283, line 23.

(A video clip was played as follows:)

Question: You were uncomfortable going to founders and companies and reminding them that in their SPAs there were milestones that had to be achieved before funding would be released?

Answer: As I have said over many hours with you, Shannon, that is simply not how it works in this market where you're developing drugs from new technologies working with teams of scientists of various stripes. It is simply not how it's done.

FILED UNDER SEAL

You work in a way that is enabling and that understands that research brings forward different results, and you work with them and attempt to push things forward.

And as I've said repeatedly, based upon experience, often a project can look like it's not going well, and you look at it differently and you change things and it's going well. And as I've said repeatedly, how that evolution relates to a business plan or an investment memo that occurred at the outset of that company's life is irrelevant.

(End of video clip.)

ATTORNEY SELDEN: We have stopped that testimony in the middle of Dr. Harrison's answer, but -- to avoid raising any issues with respect to confidentiality or privilege.

Your Honor, I would suggest that we break a minute or two early for lunch and take up the sealing issues after that. I think that likely the most efficient thing will be to simply seal the courtroom for the balance of Dr. Harrison's testimony after lunch. But let me consult with my team, if

JOSEPH YANCHIK, having first been duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY EPSTEIN:

Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Yanchik. Can you introduce yourself to the Court?

A. Joseph Yanchik, currently a venture partner at Apple Tree Partners.

THE COURT: If you could bring the microphone a little closer.

Q. Mr. Yanchik, how long have you been a venture partner at ATP?

A. I've been at ATP for 20 years now in different capacities. I started as a venture partner back in 2005. Did that for two years, and then started two companies in that role. I joined those companies full time. I was CEO of both. Eventually, as they both grew, I opted to be full-time CEO in one of the companies, Aileron Therapeutics, and remained on the board of the first one.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And what happened to Aileron?

A. Aileron we took public. We actually ended up taking both of them public. We raised close to a half a billion dollars into those two companies. Aileron went into the clinic, and then it eventually merged with another company.

Q. When did you leave Aileron?

A. I was there for 12 years, so I would have left around 2018. I reengaged with Apple Tree around 2019, end of 2019 as a consultant. And then at that point I took a full-time role back as a venture partner at the beginning of 2020, and I've been doing that since.

Q. Prior to joining ATP the first time, what was your background?

A. I started in '93 as a lawyer in Cahill Gordon in New York. I was a corporate lawyer, working primarily on typical transactions, mergers and acquisitions, high-yield debt, public offerings. I did that for four years, and then I was recruited to an outfit on Sand Hill Road in Silicon Valley, where I worked exclusively on startup biotech companies. I spent half of my time representing the companies; half my time representing VCs.

After that, I started a dot-com. Shortly after that, I started a gene therapy company out of Stanford. That was eventually acquired by an incubator in the Bay Area.

One of the partners at that point asked me to join his company, which was an ag bio company. He asked me to help them restructure the company. They had a longstanding relationship with Monsanto that he wanted to see if we could renegotiate. So I did that. We did that successfully.

And around that time I met Seth Harrison and he made me an offer to join Apple Tree in Boston around, as I said, 2005.

Q. So overall how long have you been in the biopharmaceutical industry?

A. As a lawyer and as an operator, about 30 years.

Q. And are you the only venture partner at ATP?

A. No, I'm not. There are multiple venture partners in the fund.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do all of the venture partners at ATP have similar backgrounds to yours?

A. No, they don't. We have a variety of backgrounds. Most of the venture partners have scientific drug development research backgrounds. I'm a little bit unique in my background with law and finance, as well as an operator. I'm one of the few who have raised capital into companies and run a public biotech company.

Q. So as a venture partner, generally what were your responsibilities at ATP?

A. Initially they were fairly typical to the venture partners. We had three to five companies at any given point in time where we might sit on the board that we were primarily responsible for. We would help them recruiting, developing their plans, as well as financing plans. And that's what I did for most of the time. Most of my time was spent on Braeburn, Marengo, Replicate. I also helped to set up Aulos, where I was on the board for a bit. I helped to set up Ascidian, where I maintained regular contacts with the management team.

So I had my three or four, but I would also help on an as-needed and as-requested basis across the portfolio.

Q. So do you still have responsibility for those three or four?

A. I do.

Q. Do you have responsibility for any additional companies at this point?

A. I do. My job evolved fairly significantly after the first of the year. Initially I was asked to assist Rigmora, give some opinions on a royalty financing deal that they were working on, which I was happy to do.

After that, we started to work on various modeling exercises and whatnot, cross-portfolio, which is a little bit new for me. It was my understanding at the time we were creating these to present Rigmora with various investment options. We were looking at consolidations. We were looking at reprioritizing.

By the time we got to around, I would say, late April, end of May, it started to become clear that the companies were running out of money and we were approaching an insolvency period. Given my background, I started to take a more formal role in terms of helping these companies start to navigate a process where we might be pre-bankruptcy. So I started to have a cross-portfolio role in particular with the preclinical companies.

Q. And can you describe for the Court a bit the process that you undertook in late April or early May.

A. Yes. Well, we were -- as a natural outgrowth of the modeling exercises we were doing -- as I said, once we started to become concerned that the companies were running low on cash, we started to dig in very deeply and build very precise models of what the cash was, what their liabilities were, what the management contracts were, leases, just a very detailed view, because we knew we were approaching a point in time where these companies might start to run out of money.

By the time we got to early May, some of the boards were independently starting to act because they were concerned with personal liability. So I started to, once again, be the primary go-between with creditors, the boards.

At that point we were forced to terminate approximately 70 percent of the employees across all the companies. So I was responsible for that, including senior management that I was responsible for. And then just talking to -- as the primary vocal mouthpiece for the companies when we're dealing with creditors, landlords, prospective partners, et cetera.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Since the filing of this suit at the end of May, have you continued in this process?

A. Yes. We're still in the middle of it. Most of the liabilities that the companies had at the time, back in April, are still on the books. We've asked the various creditors and landlords to hold tight if they could, explaining as transparently as we could what was going on with this process.

So, yes, we've still got quite a bit of work ahead of us to work that out.

Q. Currently, at a high level, what is the status, in your view, of these various companies?

A. They are in a form of, as I would call it, stasis.

So what we tried to do was reduce the burn rate of the companies as drastically as we could without completely destroying them.

And so the first part of the process was who are the three or four people, in particular scientists, that we needed to try and retain.

FILED UNDER SEAL

The second was who are the creditors who are likely to give us the biggest problems.

And third, how could we secure the various IP, biologic materials and whatnot, with the goal of being able to restart them later.

So right now they are in stasis and dealing on an ad hoc basis with various creditor issues as they arise.

Q. And are you aware that in May of this year, the general partner called capital from the Rigmora entities?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. Do you have a general understanding of the quantum of those capital calls?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. In your view, if the portfolio companies were to receive that cash, how would it affect them?

A. Well, today I believe we could reconstitute them. That was how we set it up. The employees so far are hanging on. I believe that's a finite period of time that that opportunity will exist for us. If we get the cash right now, we can pay off the debts, we could retain the employees, possibly even rehire some, and continue the research, which we've been planning in terms of how to ramp that up.

Q. And you said it's a finite period of time, in your view. Why is that?

A. Well, whenever you stop a research organization, it starts to deteriorate. So if we take more time, we will start to lose employees. They've been gracious to stay as long as they have, and we have not put any retention packages in for them, which has been amazing that they have stuck it out. But they believe in the science, I think.

Also, we are in a very competitive market. People will pass us. We work in valuable areas. We're aware of competitors. They are passing.

And then the creditors. So far they've held off. I don't believe they will hold off for much longer, and then they can force us into bankruptcy. And then we are likely to lose the assets.

Q. Switching topics a little bit, are you aware of some actions in the Cayman Islands brought by the Rigmora LPs against the GP?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, I am.

Q. And are you aware that one of the requests that has been made is for provisional liquidators?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. Do you have a view on whether or not that will affect the companies?

A. It will affect the companies. I believe it will end the companies. You know, as the primary person who has been talking to the creditors and the employees, it's my understanding that these would be provisional liquidators. I think once you take anyone with the role that says "liquidation" on there and put them into the current situation, it will be a signal that we are done. I believe the employees will leave. I believe the creditors will move to protect their positions.

Secondly, the reason we've been able to hold it together is because Apple Tree has had success with some of these creditors, many of these employees. We've been able to build companies. So far they've been willing to take us on our word. Once we're out, they are going to assume that we lost and the build is gone. And once again, that will be a signal, I believe. So I just -- I don't see how we survive that.

Q. So putting aside the factors that you've just mentioned, do you think that if, for example, the provisional liquidators had a scientific background, that would help mitigate some of the concerns?

ATTORNEY TAFT: Objection. Leading.

THE COURT: You can ask leading questions, but it's hard for me to assess the credibility of the witness when you do that. So try not to.

ATTORNEY EPSTEIN: Fair enough. I can withdraw it.

BY ATTORNEY EPSTEIN:

Q. Other than the concerns you've just raised, do you have any other concerns?

A. Well, it's the role that we play. We have spent, in most cases, three, four, five years growing up with these companies, watching the science, recruiting the executives, building out the financing plans. And you have to -- to do this successfully, you have to develop an independent view from the management team. And you need to partner with them in that regard with that independent view.

I don't see how that would be replaced. I don't see how anyone would be able to come in, even with a scientific background, and replace the understanding we've developed around the teams and the technologies and the markets.

Q. Are there any other concerns regarding provisional liquidators that you believe the Court should know about?

A. No. That would state it.

ATTORNEY EPSTEIN: Pass the witness.

Q. Good afternoon, Mr. Yanchik. Will Taft, Debevoise & Plimpton, for the defendants.

Mr. Yanchik, you are a lawyer, but you are not a Cayman law lawyer; correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you mentioned your work on the reallocation process in the spring of this year. The goal of that reallocation plan was to optimize the number of milestones that could be achieved across the fund; correct?

Answer: That was the goal of the reallocation plan.

(End of video clip.)

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. Do you agree that optimizing the number of milestones achieved across the fund would be a reasonable objective?

A. It was -- to be clear, it was one goal, but it was also trying to deal within certain parameters of diminishing capital.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Can we play Yanchik clip 57. That's Volume I, 258:23 to 259, line 1.

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. Mr. Yanchik, you began thinking about a restructuring plan for certain companies in late April, early May of this year; correct?

A. I would not call it a restructuring plan. Once again, we were trying to develop multiple options that we believed Rigmora wanted to see to engage with the portfolio in a variety of ways.

So restructuring was one component. Restructuring was certainly one of the things that we were considering at the company level, at the fund level. But you continue to say "the goal," and there were multiple goals at this point in time.

Q. You mentioned that there were reductions in force --

A. That's correct.

Q. -- in May of this year; correct?

A. May, June. That's correct.

Q. And some of those happened before May 30; correct?

A. I don't recall the precise dates, but it was right around that time. It was handled on a company-by-company basis. So they did it when they thought that they were prepared.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. But capital wasn't called for most of these companies until May 30; correct?

A. At that point in time, that's my recollection, yes.

Q. Do you recall in connection with proposed restructuring that you were advising counsel that ATP intended to close down up to five of the portfolio companies?

A. I don't recall that. Advising that we would just shut them down outright and get rid of the assets, I do not recall that.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Can we bring up JX 2143. And if you can go to the second email on this chain on the first page.

Q. It is an email dated May 2.

Do you recognize this email?

A. I do.

Q. And here you are advising counsel that "As you can see, we are cash out in a couple weeks at some of the companies, so decisions are being finalized this weekend .... This has not been communicated to the companies or employees as of yet."

ATTORNEY TAFT: And we can go to the next paragraph, fourth paragraph.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you see it says, "We intend to close down 4 or 5 of the remaining companies depending on final budget and other considerations"?

Do you see that?

A. I do.

Q. And do you recall that of those four or five companies, there was only one of them that ATP really wanted to salvage the IP from?

A. No, I disagree with that.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Can you look further down to the next -- the fifth paragraph. Thank you.

Q. Do you see where it says, "Of the shuttered companies, Nine Square is the one we really want to keep the assets but needs to be shuttered quickly"?

A. That one is referring to needing to move quickly on Nine Square. But I do not believe the intention ever was to get rid of all the assets. As a matter of fact, every one of my activities from February until very recently is trying to find ways to maintain all of the assets, whether or not we felt the liabilities of various companies made the corporate entity potentially problematic.

Remember, at this point we're

speculating as to how fast the creditors were going to come in and how things were going to deteriorate. But it was never our intention to get rid of all the assets.

But what I said earlier -- it would be helpful to be able to see the whole email here. What I said earlier was depending on the final budgets and what happened. So we were dealing with quite a few contingencies at that time.

ATTORNEY EPSTEIN: I'm sorry, Your Honor. Do we have paper copies for the witness?

ATTORNEY TAFT: Do we have a binder?

May I approach?

A. Can you tell me what tab, Counsel?

Q. It was JX 2143.

ATTORNEY TAFT: You can take down the slide.

A. I think what's important here is that the first sentence, it discusses how -- at this point in time there was an attachment to this email that indicated the various companies and the liabilities. At this point in time, at the beginning of May, we were speculating as to what was retrievable and what wasn't with regard to the companies. But the goal always was to try to maintain as many assets as we could, whether or not we could develop them, depending on how much capital came in.

Q. Mr. Yanchik, changing topics, do you recall a communication with Dr. Ehlers in which you suggested that the Russia factor may be an excuse for other challenges that ATP presents?

A. I do recall that.

ATTORNEY EPSTEIN: I'm just going to object as being outside the scope.

THE COURT: You can continue. Overruled.

ATTORNEY TAFT: I have no further questions.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Anything further?

ATTORNEY EPSTEIN: Nothing further, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. You can be excused.

(Witness excused.)

MARK ROBBINS, having first been duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY REESE:

Q. Good afternoon, Dr. Robbins.

A. Good afternoon.

Q. Would you please introduce yourself to the Court.

A. I am Mark Robbins. I'm the president and chief executive officer of Kodiak Strategic Consultants.

Q. Did you prepare a slide deck to accompany your testimony this afternoon?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Is this the presentation that you prepared?

A. Yes.

Q. Dr. Robbins, what is the business of Kodiak Strategic Solutions?

A. Kodiak Strategic Consultants.

Q. Consultants.

A. It provides clinical, regulatory, business development, consultation strategies for pharmaceutical and biotech companies.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And prior to becoming a consultant, what was your experience in the life sciences industry?

A. I have over 30 years of experience working at pharmaceutical biotech companies doing preclinical, clinical, regulatory affairs, and business development activities.

Q. What degrees do you hold?

A. I have a doctorate degree from the University of Minnesota Medical School and a law degree from St. Louis University.

Q. Dr. Robbins, do you have any experience with preclinical or early-stage life science companies in investing?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Could you tell us about some of that experience.

A. I work with a lot of early-stage companies helping them to develop plans, strategic plans, investment portfolios, raising money, talking to different potential investors, making presentations. And I also personally evaluate startup companies and I personally invest in some early-stage companies.

Q. In your consulting work, have you assisted companies in trying to obtain funding for preclinical research and development activities?

A. I have.

Q. Approximately how many companies have you assisted with?

A. Over a dozen.

ATTORNEY REESE: I ask the Court to qualify Dr. Robbins as an expert in biotechnology funding, research and development, and investment.

THE COURT: Any objection?

ATTORNEY TAFT: No objection.

THE COURT: Thank you.

BY ATTORNEY REESE:

Q. Dr. Robbins, what was your initial assignment in this matter?

A. My initial assignment was to assess whether Rigmora's 2025 decision to defund these preclinical studies was reasonable from an investment standpoint.

Q. Did you prepare a report on these topics?

A. Yes, I did.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Is this the slide that you prepared summarizing the opinions in your opening report?

A. It is.

Q. Briefly, what did you conclude?

A. I concluded that Rigmora's decision to halt all funding of these preclinical studies was not how a reasonable investor would act trying to get a return on investment. By defunding the companies, they were essentially diminishing value.

In coming to that assessment, I used a multifactor framework to evaluate each of the companies within the portfolio, and I wrapped those up into an overall portfolio to make an assessment to make a continued investment.

Q. Did you also prepare a rebuttal report in this matter?

A. I did.

Q. And what were you asked to evaluate in your rebuttal report?

A. I was asked to look at Dr. Rimm's opinion that it was -- defunding of these seven companies because they missed the milestones from the investment memorandum was reasonable from an investment standpoint.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. I'm looking to Slide 7. What opinions did you form in preparing your rebuttal report?

A. I found that Dr. Rimm's focus was too narrow when she just looked at the milestones in the investment. And as Dr. Harrison testified, once you start doing research, those milestones readily change.

Investors in R&D in biotech companies understand that as you get data, milestones will shift. And they have to shift. And so I looked also at these companies to see were they really developing assets that were worthwhile and had a potential for getting returns. So those were key factors.

Q. Dr. Robbins, turning back to your opening report, how did you go about assessing the reasonableness of Rigmora's across-the-board decision to defund the portfolio companies in May 2025?

A. I looked at each of the companies individually, and then I rolled them up into the portfolio. And the way I looked at each of the companies was through a multifactor analysis that typically is used when you are looking at investing in companies and assessing companies.

Q. If we could turn to Slide 8. Is this a slide you prepared summarizing that multifactor framework?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. It is.

Q. What types of factors are included in this framework?

A. You evaluate the experience of the management team, the scientific research, what development progress has been made, what development progress can you expect to have, what the intellectual property protections are.

You also look to see is it breakthrough therapy that's meeting an unmet need. That's absolutely critical, that there has to be a need for product.

You look at third-party interest to see is this an area of interest to people outside of the company to understand what the landscape is.

Q. Did you design this multifactor framework yourself?

A. No. This framework is informed by my work in the industry from doing business development over 30 years, putting together presentations. Also, as an investor, these are the things I look at when I do that. This is also, from an industry standpoint, pretty much a standard when you are making presentations to VCs. It also fits into the same realm -- an investment memorandum that ATP was putting together. And it's supported by academic and industry publications that this general framework is used.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. I want to talk a little bit more about some of these factors. Why is third-party interest important to assess?

A. Third-party interest helps validate the area for which you are going for. You want to see if there's an unmet need, is it realistic, and also if there is, from a third-party interest, potential business development opportunities. A lot of these early-stage companies, their goal is not to commercialize it themself, but to license them out and do core development or development with large biotech and pharmaceutical companies. So that's also important.

Q. You mentioned business development deals. For an early-stage company that's nearing or at the conclusion of its Series A funding, would an investor be looking for finalized deals exclusively?

A. The finalized deals are great, if you have them. But it takes a long time to get a business development deal. You are doing development all along. It's prudent to have conversations early on with companies so they are aware of what you are doing, follow up as data gets generated. But actually, signed deals can take several years in process. So it's not unusual. You just want to see what's being tracked.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Stepping back, does any one of the factors outlined here determine whether a company is worth investing in?

A. All these factors are critical in making that assessment. You want to make sure that there's a good management team, there is scientific validity, that it's a very strong portfolio. So you want to make all those assessments. All these factors count.

Q. And would you expect the factors to be weighted similarly for companies with assets in the same stage of development?

A. No. Each early-stage company is unique. And so sometimes certain factors will weight more than other factors.

For instance, if you have a person who is a Nobel Prize Laureate who has a great idea, that's going to be highly weighted. If you have something that has a huge unmet need, that can be highly weighted. IP -- so you look at each individual company, early-stage company uniquely.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And for this assignment, did you evaluate each individual portfolio company individually?

A. I did.

Q. Turning to Slide 9. Is this a slide that you prepared summarizing your findings?

A. Yes.

Q. Could you briefly walk through what you found.

A. So I looked at the seven companies on the slide and I found for each of the companies, that they had had significant preclinical or clinical development progress. They were all working towards getting an IND in place. They had leadership teams that were composed of world-renowned experts in the area they were working in. They all had breakthrough technologies, very novel. And they were in discussions -- some of them had partnerships with large biotech companies or they were in discussions with large pharmaceutical biotech companies.

Q. And so based on all of the materials that you reviewed, do you believe a reasonable investor would have across the board refused further funding for the preclinical companies in May of 2025?

A. In my opinion, a reasonable investor wouldn't do that because the portfolio had a lot of potential value to it. And by halting funding and asking the companies to be wound down and liquidated, it's destroying value; whereas a reasonable investor wants to increase value and get a return on their investment. There's no basis to want to destroy value.

Q. Dr. Robbins, are you aware that Rigmora's expert, Dr. Rimm, reached a different opinion regarding the reasonableness of Rigmora's decision in May of 2025?

A. I am.

Q. And what do you understand her opinion to be?

A. I prepared a slide. I can say it. Dr. Rimm's opinion was that to -- it was reasonable to defund these companies because the milestones that were laid out in the initial memorandum four to five years before, those milestones had been missed. And therefore, because those milestones had been missed, it was reasonable to defund all the companies.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And what do you mean when you say "those milestones had been missed"?

A. The time that was in the initial investment memorandum for the milestones maybe were not achieved in that time frame. That's common in pharmaceutical development, though, because you have to follow the research and development and adjust your time limits based upon the data that's coming out.

Q. And did you consider development progress when you were evaluating the preclinical companies?

A. I absolutely did.

Q. How did your consideration of development progress differ from Dr. Rimm's consideration?

A. I took a more holistic approach. I didn't rely upon the initial investment memorandum for the timelines. I looked to see what was actually being done at the companies, what work had been completed, where they were in development at that time when they were cut off from funding. I looked at that. I looked at was unmet need still there. I looked at was the technology still promising. I also looked at the management teams.

Q. Is this Slide 11 a slide that you prepared summarizing some of the progress you observed amongst the preclinical companies?

A. It is.

Q. Just briefly focusing, first, on development progress, could you describe what you observed about the preclinical companies.

A. All the preclinical companies had made significant development progress. Two of the companies were already in IND-enabling studies. They were getting a place to file IND in the next year or so. IND is necessary to be able to initiate clinical trial. They had gone through candidate selection of some of these companies. So they were all going through the normal development process, and they were hitting milestones.

Q. What about third-party partnerships or collaborations, what did you observe amongst the preclinical companies?

A. They all were in good negotiations for partnerships. As was testified before, Aethon had started a partnership with Revolution Medicine. That had a potential value of up to 940 million that had already been executed.

At the time of the defunding decision, Deep Apple was in discussions with Novo Nordisk. And, actually, they executed a license agreement shortly after the defunding decision was made in June 2025. They had a value up to $812 million.

In addition to that, all the other companies were in discussions with large pharmaceutical biotech companies.

Q. Did you also evaluate the preclinical companies' leadership and management teams?

A. I did.

Q. Turning to Slide 12, does this slide summarize some of what you observed regarding the companies' leadership and management teams?

A. It is.

Q. Could you briefly describe what you observed.

A. Well, with Evercrisp, the co-founder was Dr. Jennifer Doudna. She is a Nobel Prize winner who is the preeminent scientist in gene modification. She came up with the CRISPR/Cas technology. She's won a Nobel Prize for that. So she was involved, and they have top science in that company.

FILED UNDER SEAL

I looked at Apertor. You have Dr. Jay Keasling in charge of that. He's done 12 startup companies, raised over $2 billion.

You have excellent oversight of these companies by ATP with Dr. Paul Da Silva Jardine, Dr. Spiros Liras, where they have many years of experience working at Pfizer, Biogen, large pharmaceutical companies. They know the drug development process very well, and they are overseeing these companies. So you have great management team and excellent science.

Q. Did you undertake any review of the commercial potential of the preclinical companies as part of your assignment?

A. I did not.

Q. Why not?

A. I didn't find it particularly relevant. The commercial aspects are many years out.

In R&D, in development, there's lots of pivots. And typically as an investor, you are not looking for necessarily the full valuation from a financial standpoint. You are looking at the opportunity for advancing the technology far enough to either get license deals in place, to exit by company merger, acquisition, additional investment coming on where you can partially exit, or going public.

So there are lots of ways to have value well before you take on the commercial risk. So I didn't find the commercial assessment critical.

Q. Now, turning back to development progress, in your opinion, can a company that has missed a milestone date set early on in an investment memorandum still represent a promising scientific and clinical opportunity?

A. Absolutely. Many very successful therapeutics have missed development milestones. I can't think of anybody developing a drug, even in large companies, that meet all the timelines that -- from initiation of the project until the product is commercialized. There's research and development that starts out, and it's really hard to tie it to the time frame you have to follow the data.

Q. And what might prompt a preclinical company to pivot?

A. You want to be able to pivot -- and pivot is where you're changing the direction slightly. You want to be able to pivot because you might find the mechanism of action of the drug is better suited for a different indication or your lead molecule isn't the best lead molecule and you have something else that would be much more substantial. So you want to pivot to that. Or you have a platform technology that is developing different drug molecules and you'll find a pivot is going to be better in order to go into a different therapeutic area.

There was discussion of that today. I believe it was Replicate, where they pivoted from an oncology vaccine and they went to a rabies vaccine and actually are on the market for that product. Those are successful pivots.

Q. And in your experience, are companies that pivot -- strike that.

How do these pivots impact the scientific and clinical potential of an asset?

A. They typically improve it. They can partially delay the timeline of that. But usually when you pivot, it increases the likelihood of success. It's no one's interest to go down a path that's not going to be successful. So to pivot to something that looks more promising increases the valuation. You want a flexible management that knows when to pivot.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. In your experience, how common is it for a preclinical biotech or pharmaceutical company to pivot?

A. Very common.

Q. Turning to Slide 14, and stepping back, based on your experience, do you believe it is appropriate for Dr. Rimm to assess the preclinical companies based solely on their progress as compared to timelines that were set several years ago in investment memoranda?

A. No. Those timelines and investment memoranda are optimistic of the time the investment is going to be made, realizing that once you start research and development work, those timelines are going to be modified.

Q. And are you aware of any academic literature supporting this milestone-centric approach that Dr. Rimm employs?

A. No.

Q. In your opinion, would it be reasonable for an investor in Rigmora's position to base its funding decisions in May of 2025 solely on progress as compared to investment memoranda from several years prior?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Absolutely not, because as a sophisticated investor in the pharmaceutical biotech arena, you know those timelines are subject to change.

ATTORNEY REESE: Thank you very much.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Your Honor, may we approach with some binders for you.

Will Taft for the defendants.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. Dr. Robbins, your report assesses 13 portfolio companies owned by the fund; correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. And, in your opinion, continued investment in at least part of that portfolio would have been warranted in May of 2025; correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. But a reasonable investor might decide to invest in fewer than all of those portfolio companies; correct?

A. I believe that's a correct statement. I looked at it from a portfolio view, looked at each company individually, and then wrapped up the portfolio. I didn't make a determination on individual companies.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Can we play clip 30 that is Robbins transcript 70, lines 4 to 11.

(A video clip was played as follows:)

Question: So a reasonable investor might invest in fewer than all of them; correct?

Answer: Potentially. Like I said, it's hard to pick which ones are going to be the winners and losers there. But to defund all of them I don't think is reasonable.

(End of video clip.)

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. So, Dr. Robbins, you did not conclude that all 13 portfolio companies merited continued funding; correct?

A. I didn't make that assessment.

Q. Now, you agree, and I think you just stated on direct, that a reasonable investor seeks a return on investment; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And in performing your analysis, you mentioned under questioning that you didn't consider the portfolio's commercial potential; correct?

A. I did not do a financial analysis of it. I looked at their unmet therapeutic need they were looking to treat. And from that perspective, I recognized there was a need for the product. But I did not do a financial assessment, that's correct.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. So your analysis does not consider the financial potential of any portfolio company; correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. So you didn't review the balance sheets for any portfolio company; correct?

A. No. But the balance sheets weren't particularly relevant because the balance sheets were being controlled by the fund. So balance sheets were what they were.

Q. And you didn't assess the value of any of the portfolio companies; correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. And you didn't provide any opinion as to the likelihood that any of these portfolio companies would actually develop -- succeed in developing an approved therapeutic product; correct?

A. That's correct. But for being successful, they don't have to develop an approved therapeutic. They can license out. There's always risk in pharmaceutical development.

Q. And you didn't assess the amount of money that would be required by any portfolio company to achieve a potential exit for the investor; correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That's correct.

Q. And you expressed no opinions in your report about how much funding any of the preclinical companies merited; correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. You discussed Dr. Rimm's opinions right now and in your rebuttal report; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. You don't dispute Dr. Rimm's conclusion that by mid -- by first quarter 2025, all of the early-stage companies had missed investment memorandum milestones; correct?

A. I don't dispute that. I don't think that's a -- I think that's a flawed analysis, but I don't dispute that.

ATTORNEY TAFT: No further questions. Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you. You can be excused.

A. Good afternoon.

Q. Could you please introduce yourself to the Court.

A. My name is Ilya Strebulaev. I'm a professor at the Stanford University Graduate School of Business.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Could we please pull up Slide 1.

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, would you take a few moments to describe your background and qualifications with respect to venture capital investing.

A. Of course. First of all, my educational background, I did my BA in economics at

FILED UNDER SEAL

Moscow State University, then my MA in economics at the New Economic School, and then my M.Phil and Ph.D. in finance at the London Business School.

And upon completion of my Ph.D., I joined Stanford Graduate School of Business in 2004. And I am now there, the David S. Lobel, professor of private equity and professor of finance.

My expertise is venture capital and private equity. In terms of teaching, I teach a range of capital classes that students at Stanford take to become either venture capitalists or founders of venture capital-backed companies.

In terms of research, I founded and had our venture capital initiative that produces a lot of research.

Just an example, one of our -- my research pieces with my colleagues where we surveyed venture capitalists in the United States that represent the majority of assets under management. And I'm proud to say that academic paper has been the most cited paper in the field of venture capital research in the past five years.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Your Honor, defendants offer Dr. Strebulaev as an expert on venture capital investing.

THE COURT: Any objection?

ATTORNEY JONES: No objection.

ATTORNEY TAFT: If we could pull up the next slide.

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, could you please describe this analysis for the Court.

A. Of course. As a part of my assignment in this case, I was asked to review the capital contributions by Rigmora to the ATP fund on the cumulative basis through the end of May of 2025. And as I understand, there may be a dispute whether certain deemed capital contributions should be considered against the capital contribution -- capital commitments of Rigmora against subscription agreements.

And so what I show here is -- the black line shows the total cumulative capital contributions by Rigmora, taking into account those deemed capital contributions under dispute. And the orange one, excluding those capital contributions.

Q. And I see a vertical green line going down on the right-hand side. What does that represent?

A. That represents the start of the Russian-Ukrainian war in February of 2022. As I understand, there are allegations in the complaint that after the start of the war, Rigmora, sorry to say, lost enthusiasm for honoring its capital commitments and tried to stop providing funds to ATP.

What I think this chart clearly shows is that the capital contributions by Rigmora continued more or less at the same pace both before and after the start of the war.

ATTORNEY TAFT: We can take that slide down.

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, as part of your work on this case, did you consider whether it was consistent with reasonable investor behavior for Rigmora to condition the discussion of additional budgets for certain companies in the portfolio on the general partner agreeing to wind down the early-stage companies?

A. Yes, I did consider this, and I concluded that it was reasonable.

To start with, let me point out that any investor doesn't have an unlimited budget, an unlimited capital. And therefore, what a reasonable investor does is tries to -- it tries to allocate its limited capital towards the best investment opportunities that are available to that investor.

For example, one of the factors in this case is that I understand Dr. Rimm concluded that each of the early-stage companies in the matter missed milestones that were in the original investment memoranda, the Series A funding. And in my experience in the venture capital space, the milestones constitute one of the very important factors for venture capital investors because effectively they allow investors to evaluate the progress the company is making relative to the original expectations.

Q. Other than performance against milestones, what other factors does your research indicate a reasonable investor would have contemplated in considering further investment in the early-stage companies?

A. Well, of course there are many factors. But among those many factors, some of the factors would be the recent performance of the venture fund, interest or lack of interest by third-party investors. And also I think an important factor is the potential conflict of interest that the general partner or whoever manages the venture fund may have.

Q. And as part of your opinions in this matter, did you analyze the fund's recent performance?

A. I did.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Could we pull up the third slide, please.

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, how does this slide relate to the opinions in your case?

A. Well, this is the result of my investigation that I did on the recent performance of ATP fund relative to the comparable sample of early-stage biotech funds.

So let me try to explain. First of all, I concentrate on two financial metrics that are very commonly used in the venture capital industry. The first metric up top is "Net IRR," where IRR stands for the internal rate of return. And the bottom panel shows "TVPI," which stands for the total value to paid-in investments. The fact to think about TVPI is how many dollars you get for one dollar of investment in the venture fund.

Q. Where did you get the data for ATP's net IRR and TVPI?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Well, first of all, the ATP data is for ATP Pools V-1, V-2, and V-3. And this is the data that ATP reports itself in its statements to the limited partner. And also what the red bar shows is this performance -- the most recent performance available to me as of December, end of December 2024. And maybe I should mention that Pools V-1, V-2, and V-3 are recent investments. Those pools started between 2019 and 2021 and really the only actively managed investments by ATP.

Now, what you see in blue is the performance of the comparable -- a comparable sample. And I show three metrics here both for net IRR and TVPI: the median performance, the average performance, and the top quartile. And let me also mention, importantly, that in the venture capital industry, investors care a lot about the top quartile because this is risky investments. And investors try to invest in the top-performing managers. That is commonly understood as to be in the top quartile of performance.

So to -- I think this chart clearly shows that ATP Pools V-1, V-2, and V-3 performed poorly. Their performance was below the median, below the average, and I would say dramatically below the top quartile.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And how would that affect a reasonable investor's assessment of the decision whether to invest additional funds in these pools?

A. Well, as I already mentioned, reasonable investors try to allocate their limited capital to the best possible opportunities. So this analysis would cause a reasonable investor to have a lot of concerns about the poor performance of the fund, and as a result of -- the reasonable investor's result of this would consider whether to continue funding any of the companies within those pools.

Q. Now, as part of your work on this case, did you also assess the third-party interest in the fund's portfolio companies, in the early-stage companies?

A. Yes, I did, specifically the equity interest by third-party investors, which, in my experience and my research, is one of the critical considerations by -- in the venture capital industry.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Can we please pull up the next slide.

Q. How does this slide relate to your opinions?

A. This was the result of my investigation. Let me try to explain briefly. What I did is I compared seven early-stage companies and ATP Pools V-1 and V-2 -- and they are shown in the red -- with a sample of the comparable early-stage biotech companies, retraced their initial funding rounds to approximately the same size as the early-stage companies in the matter.

And what I looked at is the timing, which is how quickly that comparable companies raised subsequent funding, went public, or did what I would describe as successful M&A, which is with at least twice the amount invested. So I would describe those kind of companies in blue here as successful or potentially successful.

What the chart shows is that the median company raised its subsequent round of follow-on foreign investment within approximately 1.5 years.

If you look at the 75th percentile, it means that 75 percent of the comparable companies raised their follow-on investment at 2.18 years.

If we compare this to the early-stage companies, none of the early-stage companies in the matter had any follow-on investment for at least 2.18 years, so well beyond the timing of typical comparable biotech companies. And the timing is, as of May 15, 2025, between 2.35 and 4.83 years plus since their initial funding without any subsequent follow-on investment.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And did you also hear Dr. Robbins testify regarding third-party interest in the early-stage portfolio companies?

A. I did hear he testified about it right now.

Q. And did any of that testimony change your opinions in this case?

A. No, it did not, for a number of reasons. One reason is that he had a slide where in the last column he showed what he called third-party interest. And none of those examples that he showed were from investors.

Second is that the examples that he showed, many of those were stale. For example, the very first example he had, I believe, was a company called Evercrisp. And he said the discussion with potential pharmaceutical companies, which is not equity interest -- in progress or in discussions he said. Well, that is information from, I believe, 2023.

In my review of the most recent reports from ATP, those discussions are not mentioned. And if we go down, there will be more examples like that.

Q. What conclusions do you draw regarding whether -- how a reasonable investor would assess the level of third-party interest in these companies?

A. Maybe I should also mention that as a part of my investigation, I also looked into whether it is common for a single -- for companies to have only single investor in a follow-on financing. And I found out that if you look at the comparable companies, it is very uncommon. It happens only in 4 percent of cases, meaning that for the overwhelming majority of successful or potentially successful comparable early-stage biotech companies who had more than one investor.

So taking this together, the conclusion I draw is that a reasonable investor would be concerned about the lack of third-party interest, investor interest, and will be concerned about the timing of the -- so the timing by which this -- none of these companies has been able to raise any follow-on financing.

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, among the factors that you said a reasonable investor would consider -- at the beginning, you also mentioned potential conflicts of interest. Did you analyze that as part of your opinion in this case?

A. I did.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Could we pull up the next slide, please.

Q. How does this slide relate to your opinions?

A. Well, so first of all, as I understand, Dr. Harrison really controls ATP. So he's both a limited partner in ATP, in various pools of ATP fund, and he also would get carry if those pools are successful.

And, first of all, let me explain that carry is very commonly used, universally used, I would say, in the venture capital industry. And the idea behind carry is straightforward. You would like to incentivize the fund manager to find and manage companies to achieve profitable exits because what carry is is the participation in the upside profit of the fund. So after all the initial contributed capital returned to the limited partners, carry means that if there is any profit remains, you would get a fraction of that.

Now, while carry is universal in the venture capital industry, in this specific case, there are at least two factors that would lead to the very specific conflict of interest. Let me try to explain.

So, first of all -- and I show this on the slide. And I concentrate on Pools V-1 and V-2 simply because those are the pools that contain all the early-stage companies in this proceedings.

So for those pools, first of all, Dr. Harrison's capital contribution is zero, meaning that Dr. Harrison has no financial risk with respect to those pools. So that if all of those capital is lost, Dr. Harrison will not lose anything.

Second, as you see, Dr. Harrison at the same time has 7.5 percent carry. And again, what it means is that for every hundred dollars of profit, if there's any profit, Dr. Harrison will get $7.5.

Now, the second reason why it leads in this specific case to a higher than usual, very specific conflict of interest is because carry can lead to conflict of interest if the companies in question are not performing well.

So if the companies, let's say, have a negative net present value, which means that we should not really proceed funding them any further, but the fund manager has no financial risk and, at the same time -- just on the outlier possibility that one of these companies can be successful, the fund manager will generate potentially substantial profit.

So this asymmetry leads to potentially very large conflict of interest that would make Dr. Harrison's --

ATTORNEY TAFT: Thank you, Your Honor. Again, Will Taft for defendants.

BY ATTORNEY TAFT:

Q. Dr. Strebulaev, have you reviewed the reports submitted by Dr. Rao, the plaintiff's expert in this case?

A. I did.

Q. And did you review his opinion that it would generally not be economically rational for an investor who was already in one of the early-stage biotech companies to stop providing additional funding barring circumstances like a scientific roadblock or failure of a drug candidate?

A. I did.

Q. Do you agree with that opinion?

A. I do not agree. In fact, Dr. Rao makes a basic mistake. He violates basic principles of economics. And it is such an important principle that the economists even have a name for it. It is called the "sunk-cost fallacy."

Economists generally agree that the investment's already made in the past, and this what we call sunk costs, should not be considered when we decide on making future investment decisions.

FILED UNDER SEAL

What matters for the future investment decisions is the potential future additional cash flows that the project can generate in expectation on top of the cash flows that that project should have generated anyway if we provide additional capital.

Q. So a reasonable investor in May of 2025 would have been focused on the potential return on investment of incremental dollars that they're putting in; correct?

A. That is absolutely correct. And doing anything else would be an example of sunk-cost fallacy.

Q. Thank you.

Dr. Strebulaev, do you have an opinion as to whether Rigmora's decision to condition the discussion of additional budgets for certain portfolio companies on ATP winding down the early-stage companies was consistent with reasonable investor behavior in a venture capital context?

A. The answer is yes. And I would look at the factors that are reviewed: missed milestones, poor performance of the fund recently, lack of third-party investor interest, substantial potential for a conflict of interest. I think take -- combine all of this together, a reasonable investor would be justified in raising very serious concerns.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And I think as a result of this, Rigmora was justified in considering whether to reallocate funds away or to stop providing additional funding to these early-stage companies.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Thank you. I turn over the witness.

ATTORNEY JONES: We have some binders. Can we approach with those?

THE COURT: Sure.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY JONES:

Q. Good afternoon, Doctor. Taylor Jones from Quinn Emanuel for plaintiff.

How are you?

A. Good afternoon.

Q. Doctor, you don't have a medical degree; right?

A. I don't.

Q. You don't have a biomedical engineering degree?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That is correct, I don't.

Q. You've not earned any degrees in the life sciences; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And none of the courses that you've taught in venture capital investing are specific to the biopharmaceutical industry; correct?

A. If you say specifically, then yes. Of course, the venture capital class I teach cover all the venture capital investments. That would also include healthcare, life sciences, biotech, but not specifically.

Q. Understood.

Biotechnology has never been a specific research area of yours either; right?

A. That is correct. Again, if we understand the specific in the way I already described.

Q. So you're not an expert in biotechnology specifically; correct?

A. No.

ATTORNEY JONES: Let's pull up JX 1318, please. And this is in your binder behind the tab that says JX 1318, if you'd like to turn there in the paper version, Doctor.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. You reviewed this email in preparing your report; correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. This is Mr. Bogdanov's May 15th, 2025, email to Dr. Harrison and others at ATP.

A. That is correct.

Q. And this email is the focus of Section V of your opening report, I believe; is that correct?

A. I don't remember the section number right now, but I believe so.

Q. You, in fact, quote from it in paragraph 57 of your report; correct?

A. Presumably so.

Q. Why don't we turn to your report. That's JX 1576. That's also behind a tab in the binder if you'd like to turn there with me. I'm specifically looking at page 24, that's where you can find paragraph 57.

You quote here from this May 15th, 2025, email, here in your report; correct?

A. That is correct.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And you conclude in your report that a reasonable investor would share some of the concerns that are expressed in this email; right?

A. At least some. I'm not really sure about some or all, but yes, would share concerns, yes, that is correct.

Q. I'd like to look at the first sentence of paragraph 58. You write, "As explained in its May 15, 2025 email to ATP, Rigmora believed that the Early Stage Companies had failed to meet milestones as set forth in their investment memoranda and there was no third-party interest to invest in them."

Did I read that correctly?

A. Correct.

Q. You didn't interview anyone at Rigmora before submitting your reports; right?

A. I did not.

Q. And so the support you cite for this statement regarding what Rigmora believed is in footnote 84 of your report; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And that cites to paragraph 134 of the complaint, and complaint Exhibit 10; right?

A. That is correct.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you remember what paragraph 134 of the complaint is?

A. Not sitting here right now.

Q. Let's turn to tab 1400, JX 1400 in your notebook, please. Paragraph 134 starts on 62 of the complaint. Let me know when you're there.

A. Yes, I do see paragraph 134.

Q. Paragraph 134 is a long quote of the May 15th, 2025, email; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. Let's also turn to Exhibit 10 to the complaint. You'll find that at the back of this same tab. Are you there with me?

A. Yes.

Q. And that is the May 15, 2025, email itself; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. So you don't cite anything else in your report to support an assertion regarding what Rigmora believed; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. You also don't offer an opinion in this case regarding whether Rigmora or Mr. Bogdanov or anyone else at Rigmora were, in fact, reasonable in their actions; right?

A. I do not. I was not asked to reach such an opinion, one way or the other.

Q. Let's turn back to JX 1318, the May 15th email itself, please. And are you there, Doctor?

A. Yes.

Q. I am looking at the first paragraph after the bullets, the first sentence. "The SLP see no way for a path to commercial success for these Early-Stage Companies, inter alia, because: they have failed to meet the milestones set out in the investment memoranda on which SLP's initial funding was premised, the remaining budgets are not sufficient to achieve them, there is no third party interest to invest in these Early-Stage Companies, and any further capital calls would not be in accordance with the milestones and business plans set out in the agreed budgets for the Early-Stage Companies (and the SLP have not consented to these budgets being changed)."

Did I read that correctly?

A. Yes, you did.

Q. And you opine in Part V of your opening report that the early-stage companies raised issues "That Would Make a Reasonable Investor Concerned About Continuing to Fund Them." Correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That is correct. I'm not really sure what you mean by Part V. I think maybe Section V.

Q. I should have said Section V, that's right. Thank you.

Now, missed milestones, that's an issue that's mentioned in Mr. Bogdanov's May 15 email that we just read; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. You also discuss it in your opening report?

A. That is correct.

Q. And the May 15th email also states that the remaining budgets are insufficient to achieve the milestones; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. But you don't consider in your reports whether the remaining budgets were sufficient to achieve the milestones; right?

A. That is correct. I was not asked to do it.

Q. Struggling to raise funding from third parties, that issue is also mentioned in the May 15th email?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That is correct.

Q. You do discuss that in your opening report; right?

A. That is correct. I also discuss it in my rebuttal report as well.

Q. Section V(A) of your opening report, that's the section that focuses on whether the preclinical companies missed milestones; correct?

A. I do discuss in my opening report. I don't remember the section number right now. Apologies.

Q. That's not a problem at all. We can turn there if you like. It's -- 1576, again, is the tab. And that section of your report starts on page 25.

So this is the section of your report where you discuss your finding that "The Early Stage Companies Missed Milestones." Right?

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, you opine here that it's "common to require that portfolio companies [hit] milestones to progress to the next round of funding." Right?

A. That is correct.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. But you can't give an opinion here on whether the portfolio companies at issue here were required to meet milestones in order to progress to the next round of funding; right?

A. I don't believe so. It seems a legal question to me.

Q. And you're not a lawyer; right?

A. I'm definitely not a lawyer. I'm not qualified to render any legal opinion, only an opinion as an economist.

Q. Thank you.

Paragraph 61 of your report on the next page here, you opine that "a reasonable investor would be concerned about the failure of portfolio companies to meet their predetermined milestones." Right?

A. That is correct.

Q. You didn't determine whether ATP had, in fact, missed milestones; correct?

A. Do you mean ATP or the portfolio companies of ATP, Counsel?

Q. I'll accept that correction. The portfolio companies. You didn't determine whether they had, in fact, missed milestones; right?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. I did not. I was not asked to do it.

Q. You relied on the lawyers from Debevoise to tell you that the portfolio companies had missed milestones; isn't that right?

A. Well, what I understood is that, from counsel, is that there's another expert, Dr. Ilonna Rimm, who was asked to -- by a technology expert to opine or to investigate whether milestones were missed or were not missed. And that she reached an opinion.

Q. You also don't opine on which milestones were missed; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And you don't opine on the reasons that preclinical companies may have missed certain milestones; is that right?

A. You mean specific companies at the issue in this matter?

Q. Correct?

A. That is correct, I do not.

Q. You would agree, wouldn't you, Doctor, that a reasonable investor would want to know why the portfolio companies missed milestones?

A. I would say that it depends. Typically, yes. But, of course, as I mentioned, there are many factors that a reasonable investor would consider, in addition to -- sorry, in addition to missed milestones. A missed milestone definitely would raise, I think, a substantial red flag for any reasonable investor. But then there are other factors at play.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Do you recall providing deposition testimony in this case on August 26, 2025?

A. I do.

Q. I'd like for you to turn to your deposition transcript, which you should have in front of you. I'm going to turn to page 101.

A. I can also look at the --

Q. That works for me. Whatever you would like to do.

A. Thank you. I will look at the screen, if that's okay.

Q. Starting on line 20.

"Question: Okay. Dr. Strebulaev, are you intending to testify that a portfolio company's meeting of milestones that were presented in an investment memo were a prerequisite to the release of funding within the Series A round?"

Mr. Taft objects to form to the extent

FILED UNDER SEAL

it calls for a legal conclusion.

"Answer: I think, Counsel, some words that you use such as 'prerequisite' seems legal to me. But I do intend to testify of course only if asked and called upon that a reasonable investor would review at all times, including in connection with a continuous funding in a Series A round, about how the -- annually the portfolio company is progressing. And that would include whether the company is able to reach its milestones, whether it missed milestones; and if it missed, why it missed milestones."

Did I read that correctly, Doctor?

A. You did.

ATTORNEY TAFT: Your Honor, the full answer was not read.

THE COURT: You can read it during redirect.

BY ATTORNEY JONES:

Q. Now, the second issue you identify in Section V of your report is that there was "no third party interest to invest" in the preclinical companies; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. In paragraph 62 of your report, you give an opinion as to the reason the preclinical companies were unable to obtain third-party funding; isn't that right?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Again, Counsel, I need to see paragraph 62, but I believe that's correct.

Q. Of course. Let's go there. That is on page [sic] 62 of JX 1576. I'm going to try and join you in reading the screen here.

Are you with me there?

A. I am.

Q. In paragraph 62, you write, "If potential new investors had thought that the Early Stage Companies were viable investments, these companies would likely have been able to obtain funding from third parties. Based on my review of the evidence, this was not the case."

Did I read that correctly?

A. You did.

Q. So you're opining here that the reason third parties did not invest is because they didn't think the early-stage companies were viable investments; correct?

A. I was not asked to evaluate whether the investments were viable. But I was asked to opine how -- in the venture capital industry, what are the indicators that the companies are potentially viable. And one important indicator is the third-party equity interest, which means that if the market, the venture capital market, considered those companies to be of interest, there would be interest from third-party equity investors that would materialize.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And upon the review of the evidence, I have not seen such materialized interest.

Q. And when you say "review of the evidence," you mean emails and deposition testimony in this case; correct?

A. Well, the entirety of the evidence I think that was given me. But that would include depositions and emails I believe, yes.

Q. Let's look at pages 26 to 27 of your opening report. I'm at paragraph 63.

So here, you write, "I have reviewed documents suggesting that ATP tried to find third-party investors and partners in the Early Stage Companies and was unable to do so. ATP's document production includes emails regarding its business development attempts with regard to the Portfolio Companies that show outreach to many pharmaceutical companies, where the update to those attempts was mostly 'awaiting feedback.' Review of these emails indicates an unwillingness to fund the Early Stage Companies from third-parties. For example, they mention that potential investors and partners were interested in Aethon, Apertor, and Evercrisp but ultimately concluded that it was 'too early' to engage."

FILED UNDER SEAL

Did I read that correctly?

A. You did.

Q. You quote from one of these emails, right, in paragraph 63 to your report?

A. That is correct as well.

Q. And that's this block quote here that I'll read from now.

"I am a fan of the technology and appreciate its potential. The challenge we have had is finding a target that the company sees as commercially viable. As I explained in my email last September, with Sanofi signing a strategic deal for exclusive US over-the-counter rights to Tamiflu® in Flu Care, they are currently unwilling to consider another antiviral for flu. They also aren't sure about the commercial potential of an antiviral for coronavirus, PIV3 or RSV."

Did I read that right?

A. Yes, but you said it's a quotation from the email. And I think, Counsel, you also read the last sentence, which is not a quotation, if I'm not mistaken. But it's part of my report.

Q. Well, let's go to the email and see. So this is behind JX 0811 in your binder. And I believe the email that you're quoting from is on the page ending in Bates stamp 533, about halfway down the page.

Let me know when you're there.

A. I am with you, Counsel.

Q. And that's the email that you quote in paragraph 63 of your report; is that correct?

A. Is it a question? I'm sorry, Counsel.

Q. This is the email that you quote from in paragraph 63 of your report; correct?

A. I do, with the proviso that if you look at the footnote, footnote 92 of my opening report, this is just one of the emails I quote. I also quote an internal email, and I also quote the deposition of Mr. Jardine as well.

Q. Thank you.

FILED UNDER SEAL

The first sentence of this email, on the page ending in Bates 533, says, "It is great to hear from you. I would certainly appreciate a preview of the data and you are correct our CDA is good until 2028."

You omitted that from paragraph 63 of your report; correct?

A. No. I cited the entirety of the email in -- well, I cited this as footnote 92. I said, "Emails between ATP and Red Queen, March 2024," and then I gave the Bates stamp number. I did not omit the first sentence. I just did not quote from the email --

Q. Got it.

A. -- directly.

Q. So that's exactly what I meant. You didn't quote the two sentences that I just read; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And you indicate that omission with ellipses; right?

A. I'm sorry, Counsel. I'm not really following you.

Q. Go back to paragraph 63 of your report.

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. I am there.

Q. You have ellipses at the beginning of this block quote; right?

A. Yes.

Q. And that indicates this omission, doesn't it?

A. Yes. I think really it is -- and apologies if I did not do it correctly, but I think this is the document. And then I say this email that I am quoting in footnote 92 starts at page 553.

Q. Understood.

A. So from this point of view, I think I -- I did not quote the sentence for the space constraints, but I did mean, I think, I believe that email, the entirety of that email.

Q. Got it. Okay. Let's go back to the email again behind Tab 811.

The last sentence here, once you get there, the last sentence here says, "I do think clinical data showing that is having a positive impact in people infected with those pathogens might be able to change opinions."

You left that out too; right?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Again, Counsel, I'm not really sure if I left out. Yes, I did not cite anything -- sorry. I did not cite the specific text of the email in my report. I reference to it in my footnote 92. That would include the yellow sentence that you indicated.

That also -- I also did not include the middle sentences as well that, for example, say, and I'm going to quote, "The challenge we have had is finding a target that the company sees as commercially viable." And I think what was important for me is in this email and in the previous --

Q. Let me stop you for a second. I believe you did include that in your paragraph 63; right?

A. I'm sorry?

Q. You did quote that in your paragraph 63.

We can move on, Doctor. It's not important.

You did not use ellipses to indicate that last omission; correct?

A. Sorry. Again, Counsel? I'm not really sure I follow.

Q. That's okay. We can move on.

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. I believe the way I used ellipses is to indicate where you can find that email.

Q. That's fine. Let's move on, Doctor.

Let's turn to JX 786. Here, I'm looking at the page ending in 003. And this is a document that you reviewed during your deposition; right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And I'm looking at the email in the middle of the page. It says, "Dear Seth and Anna, Given the latest news re syndications where various funds expressed sanctions concerns toward[] assets ownership structure, we have requested memorandum from Debe clarifying this matter as per US sanction laws. We have explicitly asked for a Memo that can be shared with the Fund and its advisors so that we can share it with you. Kind regards, Anna Kolonchina."

Ms. Kolonchina was an employer of Rigmora; right?

A. That is correct, I believe.

Q. Now, in reaching your conclusion in Part V(B) that third parties would have invested if they thought the preclinical companies were viable investments, you didn't consider that third parties might be concerned about investing because of U.S. sanctions against Dmitry Rybolovlev; correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. I did not, and I have not seen any evidence in the record from third-party investors that indicated that concern.

Q. You conclude in your report that the performance of the pools containing the preclinical companies was "below its peers, and substantially below top performing comparable funds." Right?

A. That is correct.

Q. The May 15 email doesn't discuss the performance of the pools containing the preclinical companies as compared to its peers; right?

A. I believe that's the case.

Q. You prepared that analysis of comparable companies solely for this litigation; correct?

A. Well, yes, I was retained as an expert witness for this litigation. That is correct.

Q. In roughly June 2025?

A. Well, while my work was done roughly in June, August -- June, July 2025, the information that I used was as of December 2024. The exact details are explained in my methodology that I used to prepare the comparison in my report.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. You don't claim anywhere in your reports that Rigmora conducted this analysis before sending the May 15 email; right?

A. I do not.

Q. You also read the LPA as part of your work for this case; isn't that right?

A. I did, of course, as an economist.

Q. And there's nothing in the LPA that says capital commitments depend on whether the portfolio companies are performing in the top quartile; right?

A. I think that might call for a legal conclusion.

THE WITNESS: Your Honor, if I may, I will answer.

A. I don't remember seeing this.

Q. Two out of three of your principal conclusions involve a concept that you call a "reasonable investor." Right?

A. Two out of three? I'm not really sure what you mean by three, Counsel.

Q. You discussed the concept of a reasonable investor in your report; correct?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That is correct.

Q. A reasonable investor, would you agree, has access to information an investor would want to make a decision?

A. That depends.

Q. Turn back to your deposition, please. I'm on page 32, starting with line 19.

ATTORNEY JONES: Marco, do we have that?

Q. "Question: What is your definition of 'reasonable investor' as you have used it in your report that's been marked as Exhibit 1?

"Answer: A reasonable investor is an investor who is a rational economic agent and will be making decisions in light of all [] the information that an investor possesses, so information an investor would like to possess to make a decision."

So the investor has access to all the information the investor would want to make a decision; right?

A. No, that is not correct, Counsel. So what I said is that "all of the information that an investor possesses." Sometimes the investor would find it -- a reasonable investor would find it in that investor's interest to delegate decision-making to some others.

So, therefore, to make a decision you don't need to try to get more information. But yes, if you already have this information, then you typically would utilize it.

Q. You're not aware of Rigmora retaining any biotech consultants before it sent the May 15 email; right?

A. I don't know one way or the other.

Q. Now, you have this opinion that I believe you testified about a moment ago, in Section III(D) of your report, that a GP's interest can diverge from an LP's interest in relation "to providing additional rounds of funding." Right?

A. That is correct.

Q. And that can create a conflict of interest that can also be a concern to a reasonable investor; correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. But you would agree that this risk can be mitigated; correct?

A. To some extent, yes, that risk can be mitigated. And one way to mitigate it is by the general partner, by the fund manager, to provide a substantial capital contribution --

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Another way that it can --

A. -- as a limited partner.

Q. Another way that it can be mitigated is to give the LP the right to approve budgets for the portfolio companies; right?

A. So that typically is not what's done. I think this is more or less --

Q. Typically. But that's one way they can be mitigated; right?

ATTORNEY TAFT: Your Honor, if the witness can finish the question without being cut off.

THE COURT: I think the court reporter would appreciate that as well.

But I encourage you to listen to the questions as well.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

ATTORNEY JONES: Apologies. I'll slow down.

THE WITNESS: Would you repeat the question, Counsel. I apologize.

BY ATTORNEY JONES:

Q. One of the ways that that conflict can be mitigated is by giving the LP the right to approve budgets for portfolio companies; right?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. So in the cases where there is one major LP, that could be one of the ways. But I would not say it's mitigated. I would say this is one of the factors that should be taken into account. This does not eliminate the potential conflict of interest, especially if some or all of the companies are underperforming.

Q. In this case, Rigmora did have the right to approve budgets for portfolio companies; right?

A. I believe that is the case.

ATTORNEY JONES: Can we just pull up Slide 5 to your demonstrative again.

I'm sorry. The very last slide is what I'm looking at. That's it. Thank you.

Q. This slide doesn't account for the fact that Rigmora has to recover the full amount of its capital contributions before Dr. Harrison receives any carry; right?

A. That is correct, which is the, as I mentioned, the idea of the carry, is that limited partners first recover the capital contributed to the fund, and then the carry is shared, or the profits are shared, rather, between the limited partner and the fund manager; in this case, Dr. Harrison.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And this slide also doesn't account for the fact that Rigmora receives over 90 percent of the profits in Pools V-1 and V-2; right?

A. I'm not really sure what you mean by that. Of course it does account because, as I understand, there's really only two beneficiaries here, which is Rigmora and Dr. Harrison. So Dr. Harrison receives 7.5 percent of carry. Rigmora does not receive carry because Rigmora is a limited partner.

So carry is received only and only by Dr. Harrison and his trusts.

Q. And you understand that Dr. Harrison does contribute capital to Pool V-3; right?

A. That is correct. I believe that he contributes around .3 percent. I may be mistaken on the number. But his carry in Pool V-3 is also larger. It's about 11.2 or 11.3 percent.

Q. Pool V-3 is not on this slide; right?

A. I did not include it on this slide because it does not include -- because none of the --

FILED UNDER SEAL

as I understand, none of the early-stage companies in the matter are included in Pool V-3.

Having said that, if you include Pool V-3 on the slide, my opinion would not change.

ATTORNEY JONES: No further questions. Thank you.

ATTORNEY TAFT: No further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Thanks so much.

(Witness excused.)

ATTORNEY BARLOW: Your Honor, plaintiffs are going to call Spiros Liras.

SPIROS LIRAS, having first been duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows:

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY BONACORSI:

Q. Good afternoon, Dr. Liras. Can you please introduce yourself.

A. Yes. I'm Spiros Liras. I'm a drug discovery and development professional. I've been working in the business for about 30 years. I have a

FILED UNDER SEAL

Ph.D. in organic chemistry.

I started my career at Pfizer, where I was at for 24 years. I was vice president of research at Pfizer, leading programs in multiple disease areas spanning from neuroscience to cardiovascular-metabolic diseases and rare diseases. I was fortunate to have led teams that deliver nearly 50 compounds into clinical development.

Q. How long have you been at ATP?

A. I left Pfizer in 2018. I joined Biogen for a very brief period of time, about 15 months, where I established the external portfolio innovation unit. Reason of this was to basically promote entrepreneurship.

And while I was at Biogen, I was recruited by ATP. It was a compelling opportunity for many reasons, in part because ATP had a fantastic reputation in terms of actually going and building companies from scratch, from very nascent research, which is where I lived in for all my life, really, professionally, to a great success in terms of turnovers by exits and other measurements.

At the time that I was hired, our managing director, Seth Harrison, was building an exceptional team of expertise with other partners. Some of them I had tremendous respect for and I always looked forward to working with.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And I think the last and most important thing is that Seth had a tremendous respect, hopefully still has, for chemists. I'm a chemist, and I really appreciated that as an added advantage.

Q. Are you a venture partner with ATP?

A. I am.

Q. And what do your responsibilities include as venture parter of ATP?

A. Predominantly to select projects, to liase with the external environment, identify compelling opportunities.

Subsequent to this, sort of like invest my time in terms of building a coherent and convincing investment thesis, which is then approved by the ATP investment team, which encompasses all venture partners. Ultimately, the decision to fund is Dr. Harrison's.

Once a company is funded, we compile a pretty thorough investment memo which kind of serves as a roadmap from the implementation of a project all the way to the delivery of value as measured by exits.

FILED UNDER SEAL

That's a pretty complicated and comprehensive document, which includes an investment thesis, the rationale, which is the foundation, the quality of our founders, several sections that relate to what we call milestones, which are forecasts and projections that measure progress against stated goals. We also have risk mitigation strategies that appear in the investment memo. We do comparables to assist how novel the science is and how potentially valuable it will be to patients and investors.

Q. And in addition to your role as a venture partner with ATP, do you have any roles within the portfolio companies?

A. Yes. I am a CEO of a company called Deep Apple Therapeutics. I was a funding CEO for a number of companies, which I thought it was an extraordinarily attractive aspect of my job at ATP because in addition to selecting and funding a project, we spent a great deal of our time building teams. And that's quite fantastic because we work with some of the smartest people on earth. Quite frankly, all of our founders at ATP have been members of national academies of medicine, science, winners of breakthrough prizes, Nobel Prizes, amongst other things. It's an exceptional opportunity to really engage with a cohort of people that shape the science as we know it today.

Q. And was this dynamic between ATP and its portfolio companies one the factors that caused you to join ATP?

A. Yes.

Q. At a high level, how would you describe your responsibilities within the portfolio companies, to the extent you have a role?

A. Yeah, early on, it's about team building and about guiding the scientific progress of the portfolio. For a specific company we select team members, we hire people. It actually has a pretty wide breath of scope.

For example, we even explore real estate opportunities for best fit for the companies that we create. But some of them had specific needs.

Progressively, as the company advances and matures, we hire people that are more relevant to the needs at time, meaning that we will hire translational biologists when we have something to translate. We will hire chemists when we have something to produce and evaluate to work to enable the journey of the company.

One of the things that I would like to highlight for companies of ATP, certainly the ones that I was involved in, is that they're extraordinarily efficiently managed financially. Most of them actually for the tenure of five years had less or just about 20 people, for the most part, with the exception of one.

Q. Okay. And you just mentioned investment memorandum. Did you help prepare investment memorandum for the portfolio companies you were involved in?

A. I did. I was a co-author.

Q. Could you describe, at a high level, the purpose of the investment memorandum.

A. It's basically to capture all aspects that justify the spend, from strategy all the way to operation and execution, and also a pretty diligent time-bound, obviously, effort to understand the marketplace and how this company fits and differentiates.

Q. I think you may have mentioned this earlier, do the investment memorandum contain what's known as milestones?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. It did in the title.

Q. And what is the purpose of the milestones within the investment memorandum?

A. For us, the milestones were basically forecasts of a time and point in which we had credible data to guide three decisions: One is we continue as planned. The other was there's compelling data to pivot and change the direction of the company. And the other, obviously, always in scope was whether there was enough data to convince us to exit the investment. That's kind of the comprehensive purpose of what we called milestones.

Q. And do you understand the milestones to be a static requirement to receive additional funding for the portfolio companies?

A. No. And they shouldn't be because this is early research, and it changes quite rapidly.

Q. And were you ever told by anyone at ATP that milestones had to be hit to receive additional funding?

A. No.

ATTORNEY BORN: Objection, calls for hearsay.

THE COURT: Overruled.

FILED UNDER SEAL

BY ATTORNEY BONACORSI:

Q. Dr. Liras, when you were working at Pfizer, did they take the same approach with respect to milestones?

A. Every time. We build what we called project operating plans. I had forecasts and projections for key delivery, and we defended those either on a quarterly basis or biannually in front of senior leadership in presentation.

Q. And did you understand the milestones to be substantive decision points with respect to research and development?

A. Yes.

Q. And not related to requirements to receive funding?

A. Absolutely.

Q. And in your experience at ATP, have there been circumstances when a company pivoted from the milestones set forth in the original investment memorandum?

A. Many times. For good reason.

Q. Can you provide a few examples.

A. Sure. Apertor Pharmaceuticals is one of our companies where we originally conceived the possibility of delivering a vaccine enhancement product. As many of us remember, that was 2021, 2022. It was the thick of the pandemic. We were encouraged by our SAB to do so. We found the clinical candidate. I met the objectives.

We went through a thorough commercial and clinical evaluation analysis and convinced ourselves that clinical development at the time of the pandemic with immunocompromised people was not going to be productive. So we pivoted from that.

We knew we had a very valuable platform in synthetic biology. And we discovered that that could be deployed against oncology targets with high medical need with not really a lot of availability of frontline cases, treatments of patients.

Q. In your opinion, is a pivot like that one that indicates positive development for the portfolio company?

A. Yes, in this particular one and in many other cases.

Q. And would you describe this flexibility with respect to milestones as a benefit of ATP's model?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. I do, because in the way that we construct our thinking about companies, we not only spell out what aspirational may be possible, but also what may not and where the risks are. And we contemplate those risks in an effective way to actually mitigate and preserve the investment and actually enhance the value of the investment.

Q. And thinking about your experience in biotech more generally, is pivoting something that exists outside of ATP?

A. I would argue that most successful companies in the history of biotech have pivoted. I can offer one fantastic example. There's a company called Gilead in South San Francisco. Gilead is a known antiviral company these days. They started as an oligonucleotide company completely irrelevant to the current mission.

In the early '90s, as everybody recalls in San Francisco, there was different pandemic, HIV. A lot of people were losing their lives. Gilead, as a courageous company, decided to dedicate their resources to solve antivirals, and they did this multiple times. In fact, they have produced hepatitis C, small molecule treatments that are curable. Now people no longer have to go through liver transplants. And I think this is one example where a company listened to actually what was the -- an immense and incredibly urgent social need as well as followed an opportunity for breakthrough science.

As part of the story, actually, Gilead outlicensed its oligonucleotide platform to a company called Ionis, which in itself is the most -- one of the most actually revered companies for the liver in early oligonucleotide therapeutics. So it was a win-win for everybody.

Q. Pivoting back to Apertor -- and that's one of the preclinical companies you're responsible for?

A. That's correct.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: Can we pull up JX 095, please.

Q. Do you recognize this document as the investment memorandum for Apertor?

A. Yes. This is the investment thesis, the executive summary, which basically contemplates -- it's a summary of the rest of the investment memo presented in a more strategic fashion. It has all the key elements that we described subsequently in more detail.

Q. Okay. And did you draft this memorandum?

A. I did.

Q. And turning to page ending 0002, do you see the subheading here "Investment Thesis"?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is the purpose of this paragraph?

A. It's to lay out actually what would be not only the first indication that will create value for patients, but also subsequently ways to build on the breakthrough science that the company delivers to expand and build and accelerate investment and success basically.

Q. And this section is informed by the scientists and chemists working at the portfolio company?

A. Yeah, this is -- and many in the ATP cohort, actually.

Q. Can we turn to page ending 0027. And is this -- this section here refers to milestones. Is that what you were mentioning earlier?

A. Yes.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And these were set out before the company was ever funded?

A. These were set up before the company -- before the company was funded. In fact, that memo somewhat precedes that decision. And they are underpinned by no data, to be fair, because this is breakthrough science. So what we do there is we apply our knowledge of reasonable transitions, where we can deliver a body of data that will convince us about and support the three points that I raised earlier, which is continue, pivot, or discontinue.

Q. And do you see in front of you there's Tranches 1, 2, 3, 4, 5?

A. Yes.

Q. And could you describe Apertor's progress with respect to Tranches 1 through 3.

A. Even if you take those tranches literally -- and some of them are diagnostics. For example, just to point out your attention to Tranche 1, there's no reason to actually count how many compounds you make at a company. You don't judge a company by how many compounds they've made. Be that as it may, the company exceeded by a long shot the number of compounds that were specified.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Importance is to focus on milestones that represent hard currency, in my opinion. Those are INDs and development candidates. Especially INDs, which are regulatory documents. We submit those to the regulators.

If you actually look at Apertor's delivery when you add up that investment memo to $33 million, which is a completion of Tranche 4, we were expected to have delivered an IND and a development candidate. What we delivered -- two development candidates with an investment as of May 29th of $29 million. So, in fact, we never were actually funded to achieve the delivery of this full tranche.

Having said that, as we model it subsequently, it would have taken us $1.5 million more of an investment to get to a full delivery of this milestone, which was aligned with our forecast. But we were not given that opportunity.

Q. And in your opinion, would you say that the company overperformed vis-à-vis the funding they had received up to that point?

ATTORNEY BORN: Objection. Leading. I've been letting this go, but ...

FILED UNDER SEAL

THE COURT: The same instruction applies, Counsel. And you have been leading the witness. And that's fine, but it's hard for me to assess the credibility of the witness if you do so.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: Understood, Your Honor.

BY ATTORNEY BONACORSI:

Q. Dr. Liras, you mentioned earlier Apertor had a period where there was a pivot?

A. Yes.

Q. Looking at these tranches, could you explain at what point the pivot occurred?

A. I would say the pivot occurred right about -- definitely by the completion of Tranche 3 and in the beginning of Tranche 4. In fact, I remember vividly that the investment that we made at the time was about $24 million, if not 25.

Seth, myself, Paul Da Silva Jardine had an exchange by email and other discussions where we actually put all options on the table, including shutting down the company. A breakthrough publication came out at this point of time that told us that the value of the synthetic biology platform was incredible. We deployed that based on that publication. We extended a very small tranche of $2 million to explore that concept, and this is what ultimately delivered the clinical candidates.

Q. What did this pivot mean for the remaining milestones in the investment memorandum?

A. In a sense, the remaining milestones, again, in a forecasted way, in my opinion, could be achieved had we received the whole investment of the Series A.

Q. And do the investment memorandum also contain a section regarding risk?

A. It does.

Q. And can you turn to pages ending 003, 004.

Can you describe the purpose of this section.

A. Yeah. This is to identify risks based on our state of the knowledge at the moment of incorporating -- or actually at the moment of drafting the investment memo. This is entirely actually aligned with what happened. And it kind of, again, demonstrates the rigor and depth of the ATP team.

We predicted that we could identify compounds, but we predicted that there could be some ambiguity as to whether -- which indications would make most sense, and we labeled this as a medium risk.

Once we actually decided that because of clinical complexity and commercial reasons adjunctive theory for vaccine enhancement wasn't the way that we wanted to go, we spent the time more thinking and less spending to think what would be the next potential valuable indications. And now we have a couple of indications for targeting renal cell carcinoma and non-small cell carcinoma that are basically guided by genetics, which facilitate patient selection of the clinic, which is a big ask.

Q. Were you involved in providing updates regarding portfolio company progress to ATP?

A. All the time with various means. We had -- obviously, we had board decks that were shared with ATP. We also had quarterly reports that are fact-based in terms of capturing things along progress or along opportunities to pivot. Those were supplied every quarter. And we also had, you know, direct and spontaneous dialogue within the team, as well as the justifications for calling additional tranches.

Q. Okay. Could you describe some of those dialogues.

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. The dialogue that -- the dialogue that I referred between myself and Paul Da Silva Jardine, one of my colleagues, was whether we should actually consider promoting shutting down the company. We went through a very thorough debate about this, analyzed the literature, and decided that that wasn't really a desired path. We presented the case to Seth. We agreed that we would get a small investment, it was $2 million, to actually prove the new hypothesis. And that was pretty material to the progress of the company subsequently.

Q. And do you know whether any of the updates went to Rigmora?

A. Through the quarterly reports I think they did.

Q. And did you assist with drafting or drafting portions of those quarterly reports?

A. All the time. I received direct feedback from scientists about specific scientific facts, but I authored the final version which was submitted to ATP.

Q. And do you recall receiving outreach from Rigmora about the progress of the portfolio companies?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Not ever.
Q. And can we turn to JX 560, please.
You see this is an email from an Anna Batarina to Anna Kolonchina and others at Rigmora, attaching the first quarter 2023 quarterly report?
A. Yes.
Q. Flipping to the next page, do you recognize this as "First Quarter 2023 Report"?
A. I do.
Q. And you testified earlier that you drafted the updates in this report for the companies that you were involved in?
A. That's correct.
Q. And can we turn to the bottom of 0011, please.
Dr. Liras, is this the update for Apertor?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Can you summarize for the Court the purpose of this update and what you're describing here.
A. Yeah. Essentially, this follows one decision to pivot. And therein we state that we performed comprehensive analysis by basically engaging all aspects of ATP's colleagues, including commercial assessment as well as medical assessment. And we concluded that oncology in renal cell carcinoma will be one of the most productive ways to go and also identified evergreen opportunities in research areas outside of oncology.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And could you read the paragraph starting "With key data" at the bottom.

A. That's right. There we -- we typically socialize companies as they come closer to delivery of a developing candidate or an IND. And we actually anticipated -- we made a schedule basically to accelerate the research and also accelerate the presentations and the content of the presentation so we can meet and have productive interactions with business partners. That's something that we do as par for the course across all companies.

Q. And is it your understanding that Rigmora received these quarterly reports?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recall whether after receiving this Q1 2023 quarterly report, Rigmora provided additional funding to Apertor at a point in time?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes.

Q. And pivoting subjects here a little bit, are you familiar with stock purchase agreements between the portfolio companies and ATP?

A. I am.

Q. And did you have any role in drafting those?

A. I read and signed the documents as a representative of the company.

Q. And could we pull up JX 1329, please.

And do you recognize this document, Dr. Liras?

A. Yeah. This is a Deep Apple Therapeutics SPA.

Q. What is the purpose of this document?

A. It basically -- it's a legal contract between the purchaser and the company to sell stock, and it's essentially a legal agreement to do so.

Q. Can we turn to the page 0038, please. And do you see this, Dr. Liras, here? This is section 1.3(d).

A. I do.

Q. Could you please read the first sentence of this clause.

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. "Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser shall have the option, at any time, and upon at least three [] business days' notice to [] Company, to accelerate its obligation to purchase all or a portion of the Additional Shares (at a [] share price equal to the Purchase Price), notwithstanding [the] Milestone has not occurred."

Q. And do you have an understanding as to what this sentence means?

A. It means that the buyer can choose to buy stock independent of success of said milestones.

Q. And the buyer here is who?

A. ATP.

Q. And do you recall testifying a few moments ago that Deep Apple is another company that had a pivot with respect to the milestones?

A. I did.

Q. And could you describe the pivot with Deep Apple.

A. Yes. So we built Deep Apple on the basis of a fairly broad research platform. There, we identified targets that spanned a number of disease areas from psychotherapeutics and neurogeneration to oncology, inflammation, immunology, and genetic obesity. Those were targets that were actually included in the initial investment memo.

Shortly thereafter -- I should also mention that Deep Apple has scientific leadership that probably adds up to 100 years in experience in cardiometabolic diseases. If not that, pretty close to that.

We engaged with KOLs. Because of our genetic obesity target, we were told that this was the time to move in, all-in, in obesity. Obviously this was supported by the clinical success and commercial success of medicines like GLP-1.

So we basically substituted 80 percent of that portfolio, kept only two targets, and rebuilt a portfolio of obesity, which now is yielding several clinical candidates, one of which -- one of the programs, an early program I might say, served as a basis of a very lucrative, strategic partnership with Novo Nordisk valued at $812 million. Novo Nordisk is potentially one of the two most recognizable names in the treatment of diabetes and obesity these days.

Q. Did you keep ATP updated on the progress of potential business development deals?

A. Yes, in a very progressive manner. We started talking about discussions under CDA in our quarterly reports. We escalated that description to include description about the progress of the CDAs.

FILED UNDER SEAL

For example, I recall that we put in that with Roche we were in a co-creation of research plan, which is a necessary next step after people like what they see under confidentiality.

Then we proceeded to build term sheets. Deep Apple was fortunate to have term sheets from four or five companies, the who's who actually, because it was a company that was highly visible by that time. We negotiated that in good faith with three potentials, and we settled with Novo Nordisk on June 11th of 2025.

Q. And were these negotiations or the status of those discussions reflected in the quarterly reports?

A. Yes. And in fact, in our board decks, we also displayed all the term sheets with all financials.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: Could we pull up JX 824, please.

Q. And, Dr. Liras, is this an email from Anna Batarina to Anna Kolonchina attaching the 2024

FILED UNDER SEAL

first quarter quarterly report?

A. Yes.

Q. Turning to page ending 002, do you recognize this document as that quarterly report?

A. I do.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: And could we turn to 0014, please.

Q. Does this appear to be the summary you drafted on Deep Apple?

A. That's correct.

Q. And could you read the third paragraph please?

A. "Given the intense interest in obesity, the company is in active and confidential discussions with major venture groups including Atlas Ventures, Foresite Capital, Orbimed, Vida Ventures, Alpha Wave, and Blue Owl. Similarly, the company is exploring in parallel strategic partnerships with pharma including Roche, Novo Nordisk, Lilly, Pfizer, and Merck for obesity, and AbbVie, Argenx, Blueprint, and Otsuka for MRGPRX2," which is our inflammatory candidate.

Q. Were these discussions what led to the eventual deal with Novo Nordisk?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. They did. And like I said before, it was a very competitive process because we had parallel term sheets from Roche and Amgen.

Q. This quarterly report was provided to Rigmora?

A. Yes.

Q. And did you receive any questions from Rigmora about these discussions?

A. No.

Q. And switching gears a little bit. With respect to your management oversight of the portfolio companies, how did you build the teams of personnel that worked with you in those companies?

A. Within the portfolio specifically?

Q. Or any of the portfolio companies.

A. Yeah, any of the companies.

So in the beginning, we basically, as the company is in an embryonic state, we hire people from founders labs that bring a lot of know-how. And progressively, as we built programs that need specific resources, for example, chemistry, we hire a small chemistry team.

Deep Apple is unique because we invested a good deal of our human resource in machine learning and computational and cyclical studies because it's really a hot topic in AI and machine learning and drug discovery. So we did that fairly early.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And then, you know, we built -- successfully we hired the head of drug discovery and a head of translational biology as the company began to get closer to clinical development.

Q. And when you were hiring for your portfolio companies, do you face competition in the hiring process from other companies in the biotech space?

A. We always do. And I think a tribute to most of our competence is that we were able to extract people from notable companies, especially in south San Francisco, which is a hotbed for biotechnology.

Q. And how has the lack of funding for the portfolio companies over the last few months impacted the ability of these companies to retain the talent?

A. It's been devastating. On June 17, I had to go to San Francisco for 31 hours to oversee the layoff of about 75 people across four companies.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. And if funding resumes, do you believe you'll be able to resume operations at a normal level?

A. I believe that there is a good chance because we have exceptional founders and we have outstanding science. Though the companies at this point in time are obviously operating with skeletal crew.

Having said that, one remarkable thing that is worth sharing is that our company, Nine Square, which now has three scientific employees and one operating officer, just recently secured a term sheet, nonbinding, by a major pharmaceutical company for half a billion dollars in a research collaboration.

And I think that's a tribute to the company, to the resilience of the staff, as well as the visibility and exceptional quality of the science we produced.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: No further questions. Thank you, Dr. Liras.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY BORN:

Q. Good afternoon, Your Honor. Natascha

Born for the defendants.

Good afternoon, Dr. Liras.

A. Hello.

Q. Dr. Liras, in your view, it's not unreasonable to prioritize clinical companies over preclinical companies; correct?

A. It happens quite frequently in pharma and biotech.

Q. In fact, you saw the prioritization of clinical companies over preclinical companies plenty of times when you were working at Pfizer; correct?

A. I did not see that. I saw the prioritization of clinical substrate over preclinical projects.

ATTORNEY BORN: Thank you. No further questions.

ATTORNEY BONACORSI: No further questions.

THE COURT: Thank you, Doctor. You may be excused.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

(Witness excused.)

ATTORNEY BARLOW: Your Honor, plaintiffs call Yuri Bogdanov. Rigmora will begin on the questioning.

ATTORNEY BORN: Where should we put the translator? Mr. Bogdanov's English is quite good, but occasionally he needs help with a particular term.

THE COURT: Are the mics at counsel table on?

THE INTERPRETER: Permission if I could sit here.

ATTORNEY BORN: You want to move my chair. Can you sit there? Does that work for people?

THE COURT: Let's swear in witness. We'll deal with the logistical issue. I think it would be better if the translator was miked, but go ahead.

STEVEN LAGUTIN, having first been duly affirmed, interpreted between Russian and English as follows:

THE COURT: Is that okay, that positioning?

THE INTERPRETER: I'd rather be here, but it's okay.

THE COURT: All right.

ATTORNEY BORN: We don't need translation for everything, just if he has a question about a specific term, we'd like you to be on hand.

FILED UNDER SEAL

THE COURT: Why don't you state and spell your name.

THE WITNESS: Yuri Bogdanov, Y-U-R-I, B-O-G-D-A-N-O-V.

YURI BOGDANOV, having first been duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows:

THE COURT: Give me one second here.

You can understand English fairly well?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: So if you need translation, you are going to ask counsel for a translation; is that correct?

THE WITNESS: That's correct.

THE COURT: Thank you.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY ATTORNEY BORN:

Q. Mr. Bogdanov, could you please introduce yourself for the Court.

A. Well, I'm Yuri Bogdanov.

Q. Do you hold any graduate degrees, Mr. Bogdanov?

A. Yes. I graduated from the Moscow

FILED UNDER SEAL

Finance University.

Q. And what discipline is your degree in?

A. Business and real estate valuation.

Q. When did you receive that degree?

A. In 2002.

Q. Are you currently employed?

A. Yes. I'm employed by Rigmora Holdings Limited.

Q. If I just refer to that as "Rigmora," you'll know what I mean?

A. Yes.

Q. What is Rigmora?

A. Well, Rigmora is the special advisory body for the trustees of the trust, and also the investment vehicle which holds a number of important investments.

Q. You just mentioned the trust. What do you mean by that?

A. It's the Scorpios trust created for the three generations of the Rybolovlev family.

Q. Does Rigmora invest in the biotech industry?

A. Yes.

Q. How so?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Well, Rigmora, through the special purpose vehicle, the BVI companies, holds the limited partners' stake in the Apple Tree Partners.

Q. If I refer to Apple Tree Partners as the fund or ATP, will you know what I mean?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you understand those limited partner entities to be the defendants in this case?

A. That's correct. I do.

Q. If I refer to those as the Rigmora LPs or just the LPs, will you know what I mean?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know where the capital that the Rigmora LPs invest in ATP comes from?

A. It comes from the trust's assets.

Q. And did the Rybolovlev family trust have investments beyond its indirect investment in ATP through the Rigmora LPs?

A. Yeah, the trust has significant investments and assets outside of ATP that included the real estate, other businesses, hedge funds, private equity funds, liquidity positions for many of them.

Q. What is your current position at

FILED UNDER SEAL

Rigmora?

A. I'm co-CEO and chief investment officer.

Q. And how long have you held that position?

A. Since last October, since October of 2024.

Q. And did you have a role at Rigmora before you became the co-CEO and chief investment officer last October?

A. Yes. I held numerous executive positions. But last three or four years, I worked as the special advisor.

Q. And what did you understand your role to be while you held the title of special advisor?

A. Well, to advise the trustees and the management of Rigmora on various matters, including the investments, and act as kind of like the second opinion and sometimes like, if they don't like the content, to challenge the management decisions.

Q. While you held the role of special advisor, did you have any responsibility for managing the Rigmora LPs' investments in the ATP fund?

A. No.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. When you were promoted to co-CEO and CIO of Rigmora in October 2024, did that involve any new responsibilities?

A. Yes, obviously. And I, like, began responsible for overseeing a large portfolio of assets and investments and advising trustees on the various matters, including the ATP-related, yeah.

Q. Did you do anything to familiarize yourself with Rigmora's investments when you became CEO?

A. Yes. I reviewed a number of documents, contracts or reports, presentations, yeah, covering those topics.

Q. Did you familiarize yourself with the Rigmora LPs' investment in the ATP fund specifically?

A. Yes, I did. Like, briefly reviewed a number of documents. But, again, at that time, you may know, we had an open litigation, so that was also another focus of my work.

Q. And you mentioned the Rybolovlev family earlier. Do you know Dr. Rybolovlev personally?

A. Yes, I do. I know him for more than two decades. I worked for Uralkali, the business which belongs to the family trust, in Russia.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Have you ever spoken to Dr. Rybolovlev about the Rigmora LPs' investment in the fund?

A. Yes, I did. Many times.

Q. What impressions, if any, did you form about how Dr. Rybolovlev viewed the Rigmora LPs' investment in the ATP fund?

A. Well, he took them very seriously. And, you know, he has a medical background. He started as a doctor, and he was really very passionate about those investments. It's not just investments. It's like his attempt to do something good for the people.

Q. You mentioned earlier that there was litigation pending when you came in as CEO in October 2024; is that right?

A. That's correct.

Q. What was that litigation about?

A. It was the litigation about the limited partner's right to call the distribution of the particular asset, the Braeburn, and the GP refusal.

Q. Do you know what the outcome of that litigation was?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. The parties agreed to settle the case.

Q. And did you play any role in the settlement process?

A. Yes. I was the lead negotiator on the Trust side.

Q. Could you outline the settlement for me at a high level?

A. Well, the parties agreed -- well, first, to set certain rules and principles on how the Braeburn will be distributed. The parties agreed to distribute in kind the royalty subsidiary, the special purpose vehicle which holds the royalty, the right to receive the royalty from the Braeburn for the very material amount. And, finally, the parties agreed to discuss certain budgets of five of the portfolio companies.

Q. And was there an amendment to the LPA in connection with the settlement discussions?

A. That's correct. The parties signed the Amendment 22 which is, like, summary of the settlement terms.

Q. Let's turn to JX 1068, which should be the first tab in your binder.

A. Yes, I'm on it.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Is this Amendment 22 that you were just referencing?

A. Yes.

Q. And can you tell me the date of this amendment?

A. It's 20th of December, 2024.

Q. Let's take a look at paragraph 26, which is on page 4.

A. I'm on it.

Q. And we're going to start by looking at the first sentence.

Can you tell me your understanding of what this sentence required the parties to do with respect to budgets?

A. Well, the sentence requires the parties to discuss the new budgets for five portfolio companies in accordance with the process set in the LPA. And those companies are Ascidian, Aulos, Nereid, Nine Square, and Replicate. I used just short names of the companies.

Q. And as the lead negotiator for Amendment 22 on the Rigmora side, why were you willing to commit the Rigmora LPs to discuss budgets for these five companies?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Just because it's our investments and our businesses. That's what we usually did. And that's what we planned to continue, to discuss the budgets and analyze the projects and understand the businesses in our investment pool.

Q. Turning to the final sentence of this paragraph, it says that "If any approval of a new budget is given by the [SLP]," and then it refers to "such approval" of a new budget being "contingent upon at least $300 million being realized" by the Rigmora LPs "on a sale or financing of [their] interest in ATP LLC."

Do you see that?

A. That's correct. Yeah.

Q. What, if anything, was your understanding of this provision?

A. Well, the provision introduced the condition for the execution of any budget approval. And that condition was the realization of either a sale of part of the royalty agreement I referred earlier or the refinancing.

Q. When Amendment 22 was executed, were you planning on waiting to discuss any new budget proposals you received from Dr. Harrison until the

FILED UNDER SEAL

Rigmora LPs had $300 million in hand?

A. No. No.

Q. When Amendment 22 was executed, were you planning on waiting to seriously consider any budget increases until the Rigmora LPs had these $300 million in hand?

A. No. Of course not.

Q. At the time this amendment was executed, did you care whether the Rigmora LPs obtained the $300 million financing or not?

A. Of course I did. And I think we started the process even before the amendment was signed. We hired the broker, the professional investment broker, to help us with this transaction.

Q. Could you tell me a little bit more about the process that you were just referring to.

A. Well, it was, again as I said, quite a process. We engaged the Greenhill. It's a broker. It's a part of the Mizuho Group. And I think we started in November, unless I'm mistaken.

And we created a data room. We worked with the broker on the presentation of the case. And we agreed on a long list of potential bidders. We sent more than 60 -- yeah, more than 60 invitations to bid. And we signed, I think, around 50 of nondisclosure agreements with potential creators. And, again, that was quite a process.

FILED UNDER SEAL

And then when we have short list of candidates, we started the direct discussions of the terms.

Q. And was there any interest in providing the royalty financing?

A. Yes. There was certain interest. And we received, I think, the first bids around February or March, yeah.

Q. What came of that?

A. Say again, please.

Q. What came of that? What happened next?

A. Oh, well, it took longer -- well, for many reasons. Like, in the middle of the process, partially thanks to the new administration steps, the company -- I mean the Braeburn -- started to revisit its forecast. And it was revised significantly. I think that we got some years off by almost 50 or 60 percent.

And we were in the negotiations and discussions with the bidders. But it took quite -- it took quite some time for them just to understand what is going on with the market. And that's why the process was a little bit delayed.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. Have you been able to secure any royalty financing in connection with Braeburn?

A. We haven't yet done it, but we're still working.

Q. After Amendment 22 was signed -- and we can set Amendment 22 aside.

After Amendment 22 was signed, do you recall whether Dr. Harrison got in touch with you about potential budget increases for the five portfolio companies referenced in the amendment?

A. Yes. Shortly after the amendment date.

Q. Let's pull up JX 1079, please.

A. Could you please say again the last digit.

Q. 1079. Sorry. It should just be the next tab.

A. Okay.

Q. Let's start with the bottom email. Is this the email from Dr. Harrison that you were just referencing?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. That's correct.
Q. And what's the date on this email?
A. 24th of December. It's Christmas night.
Q. Do you remember where you were when you received this email?
A. Yes. I was with my family on a holiday trip in the middle of nowhere in Argentina on the salt flats, is that the right term, yes, in the camp tent.
Q. Is Christmas an important holiday for your family?
A. Yes, of course. Like, they raise certain protests when I just work on that night. Not as important, where Russians has the Orthodox Christmas and New Year, but also important one.
Q. And so you mentioned that you worked on this night. It sounds like you did not wait until after the holidays to review the information Dr. Harrison sent?
A. No. I -- like, well, first I read those materials, and I forwarded them to my team and asked them to start work.
Q. What was the work that you and your team did?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Well, we analyzed the materials, we reviewed some other documents, including the original investment memorandum -- memoranda -- and we started drafting a list of the questions, follow-up diligence questions.

Q. There's a reference in this email to D-rooms containing supporting materials. Do you know what Seth Harrison meant by "D-room"?

A. I think it refers to the virtual data room with some supporting documents.

Q. And did you and your team review the documents in the D-room?

A. I personally struggled to get in access, but I think that my team members finally got the access, or it took like few days. There were some IT issues I remember.

Q. What did Dr. Harrison propose with respect to Nereid in his December 24 email?

A. I'm just trying to find it. Okay. So on the Nereid, Dr. Harrison proposed what he called a synergistic merger with another portfolio company, Marlinspike.

Q. And did you discuss Dr. Harrison's proposal for merging Nereid and Marlinspike with Dr. Harrison?

FILED UNDER SEAL

A. Yes, I recall we had a follow-up Zoom call, I think in early February.

Q. Do you recall what the Rigmora LPs' position was on that call?

A. Well, we, in principle, agreed with the proposal. But we understood that Dr. Harrison would require some further investigation on some tax and legal aspects of that merger.

Q. Did you hear anything further from the GP about the proposal for a Nereid-Marlinspike merger?

A. I think no, up till the very end of April, early May when he mentioned that.

Q. What did he mention?

A. He said that he stopped the merger because of certain legal issues and apparently a very expensive lease that they wanted to cancel. And apparently they were considering a different way for the bankruptcy, or Chapter 5, if I'm not mistaken.

Q. Was that the last you heard from the GP about its proposal concerning Nereid and Marlinspike merging?

A. That's correct.

FILED UNDER SEAL

Q. After Dr. Harrison's December 24 email, did you ever receive a budget request for Nereid that did not involve a proposed merger with Marlinspike?

A. No, to the best of my recollection, we didn't receive it.

Q. Looking back at Dr. Harrison's email, what did he propose with respect to Nine Square?

A. On the Nine Square, he proposed to increase the budget for another 15 million.

Q. Did you engage with the GP about discussions for a potential budget increase for Nine Square?

A. I think that we, probably in February, I don't remember the months, we agreed to discuss the Nine Square budgets once we have the royalty financing done.

Q. Did the GP ever follow-up on the potential budget increase for Nine Square after that call?

A. No.

ATTORNEY BORN: I'm just conscious that we have about five minutes left. We're about to get into a longer chunk, it might make sense to --

THE COURT: To break for the day?

ATTORNEY BORN: Yeah.

THE COURT: So we resume at 9:00 a.m. tomorrow.

And I'll have my assistant email Mr. Barlow and Mr. Rohrbacher to confirm the timing of the day so you-all know what to expect.

With that, we are adjourned. Thank you.

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$47.27M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	85.51%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

Initial Therapeutics continues to advance its novel ribosome glue small molecule discovery efforts targeting high-value, hard-to-drug oncology targets. Significant progress has been made in its lead cMYC and Pan-AR programs over the last quarter. In the cMYC program, the company has discontinued activities on its lead compound, ITC-4819, to focus on alternatives with stronger on-target activity and superior selectivity. A critical breakthrough was achieved with the cryo-EM structure of the ribosome-cMYC nascent chain-ITC compound, enabling rational structural design for the program. Furthermore, Initial completed a 140,000-compound diversity screen in a key biochemical assay to identify expanded chemotypes for this effort. Multiple compounds with potency and selectivity superior to ITC-4819 are now being advanced into in vivo pharmacodynamic (PD) and efficacy studies. In the Pan-AR program, the company is advancing multiple compounds demonstrating <100nM potency in both biochemical and cellular assays, with observed in vivo PD effects. These compounds are effective against both the full-length androgen receptor protein and clinically relevant splice variants. Initial is preparing for in vivo efficacy studies and is pursuing cryo-EM structures to further accelerate medicinal chemistry efforts. Initial Therapeutics plans to operate both the cMYC and Pan-AR programs in parallel through 2Q25, at which point one program will be selected for advancement with the goal of declaring a Development Candidate by 4Q. The company will explore partnering discussions with pharmaceutical partners for the second program as appropriate (Merck, J&J).

Additionally, the company continues to generate and validate potent biochemical and cellular assay hits against other high-value oncology targets. With further meaningful validation of selectivity and tolerability within the cMYC and Pan-AR lead programs, Initial Therapeutics aims to capitalize on opportunities for discovery partnerships based on its STOPS platform.

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$44.40M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	86.88%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics is discovering and developing novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases including Parkinson's disease (PD) and ALS.

In the quarter, Nine Square selected its TRPML1 agonist NST-0264520 as a development candidate with NST-0264607 as the most promising prodrug variant of it. The prodrug strategy is employed to deliver increased solubility and exposure. NST-0264520 is potent, orally bioavailable, demonstrates lower in vivo clearance in preclinical species with CNS penetrance, and is low-risk in in vitro safety panels. In biology, the Nine Square team demonstrated rescue of inflammatory gene signature in brains of FIG4 KO mice by the TRPML1 agonist and confirmed that activating TRPML1 reduced alpha-synuclein aggregation in human midbrain organoids. Currently Nine Square is focused on establishing efficacious concentration and human dose projection for NST-264520 to guide toxicology studies. In the Parkin program, the project has advanced through lead series optimization. High in vitro potency < 40 nM (NST-0264543) has been achieved, and in vivo movement of biomarkers (phosphor-ubiquitin) has been delivered. A related analog, NST-0217870, has shown in vivo a significant reduction in elevated brain VEGF and plasma Epo induced by systemic BAM15 administration in mice. In addition, Nine Square initiated work with isolated mitochondria from tissue for PD markers to increase assay sensitivity. The company is currently focused on potency and ADME optimization of compounds in vivo. Hit validation from DEL and internal cell-based screening is in progress to expand the portfolio.

In the imaging platform, Nine Square identified disease signature in Niemann-Pick patient fibroblasts and finished chemogenomics library screen and hit validation. The company has identified several intriguing cholesterol lowering targets and compounds that could become an accelerated new program. BD activity has increased with Roche, Lunbeck and Merck under CDA for TRPML1 and Parkin. Follow up meetings with Orbimed,Tencent and a16z took place in January.

Aethon Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$17.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2022
Ownership:	77.16%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

In the quarter, Aethon continued its work to discover novel bispecific antibodies under its collaboration with Revolution Medicines and now has binders from the Specifica screen for RMC6291 (G12C: HLAA3/A11 and A2 separately, common binders being sought now); screening is under way for RMC 9805. In the pan-RAS inhibitor program, immunopeptidomics experiments have identified two cancer specific neoantigen peptides presented on MHC-I. Finally, Aethon's best-in-class TP53Y200C binder continued to progress towards lead optimization.

On the BD front, Aethon has received a response from Amgen declining to partner on the sotorasib program but expressing openness to looking at new targets; Aethon leadership are planning to visit Amgen's site in Thousand Oaks in 1Q25. Additionally, Aethon has received new partnering interest from Ono and Taiho.

Apertor Pharmaceuticals

Investment to date:	$25.0M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Ownership:	88.49%	Investment Stage:	Active/ Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

The mTORC1/4E-BP1 project team will nominate AP-414 as a development candidate (DC) in 1Q25, having completed a series of tumor growth inhibition studies with strong corroboration of activity with biomarker response (ie 4E-BP1 phosphorylation). Initial rodent DMPK and tolerability studies support this nomination. Ongoing studies to solidify Phase 1/1B plans incorporate patient- and cell-derived xenograft models of lung adenocarcinoma (STK11 LOF/KRAS GOF) and squamous cell carcinoma (PIK3CA amplification), where PIK3 inhibitors have largely failed to manage either disease. Apertor continues to investigate the advantages of combining its DC with an FDA-approved HIF2 inhibitor (Belzutifan) in xenograft models of clear cell renal cell carcinoma. Apertor made progress towards achieving clinical-scale yields of AP414 with the delivery of the first lot of the anchor ligand f from a production-scale fermentation run by a qualified CRO partner. The company has also established a fast-cycling workflow for evaluating novel heterobifunctional (HBF) molecules designed to obstruct oncogenic driver function by recruiting FKBP proteins. Having successfully incorporated the new capabilities (i.e. quantitative proteomics, and in vitro and cellular assays for monitoring target activity) to prosecute CRAF and CDK2, Apertor continues to evaluate additional HBF/target pair opportunities. Apertor has engaged in BD discussions with Merck and preliminary interactions with venture groups including Orbimed and Ridgeback.

Aulos Bioscience

Investment to date:	$55.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	70.00%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

As of 4Q24 and January 2025, Aulos has treated 34 patients in Phase 2 dose expansion cohorts in its clinical trial of AU-007. Three Phase 2 cohorts are open: 1) melanoma and renal cell carcinoma, receiving AU-007 plus a single low dose of Proleukin as a second- or third-line treatment; 2) PD-L1-positive non-small cell lung cancer that progressed on prior first-line checkpoint inhibitor therapy, receiving AU-007 plus a single low dose of Proleukin as a second-line treatment; and 3) (opened in 4Q24) same as cohort 2, but with the addition of the anti-PD-L1 agent Bavencio (avelumab). AU-007 plus a single low dose of Proleukin continues to be safe and well tolerated. Based on data to date, the company is currently prioritizing melanoma and NSCLC and is not enrolling additional RCC patients at this time. Early data show 3 durable responses among 8 evaluable patients with melanoma (37.5% ORR) who had progressed on first-line checkpoint inhibitor therapy. Given the preclinical synergy seen with AU-007 and anti-PD-1, Aulos is also amending the protocol to include a cohort of up to 10 patients to assess AU-007 with a single low dose of Proleukin plus the anti-PD-1 agent Opdivo (nivolumab) as a second-line treatment for melanoma.

Regarding business development, seven potential partners are under confidentiality. Pfizer agrees that early Phase 2 data are promising and wants to see Phase 2 NSCLC data. Exelixis has made it clear that it is seeking Phase 2 assets. Regeneron is impressed by emerging data and has, in principle, agreed to provide free supply of its ant-PD-1 agent Libtayo for 1st-line use in NSCLC and 2nd-line use in RCC and head and neck cancer. The supply agreement is now under negotiation. On the financing front, many firms are following Aulos closely under confidentiality as they evaluate taking part in a Series B round.

Also, during the 4th quarter, Aulos presented dose selection data at the EORTC-NCI-AACR Symposium on Molecular Targets and Cancer Therapeutics in Barcelona in October and Phase 1 and preliminary Phase 2 clinical data at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) Annual Meeting in Houston in November.

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$31.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	84.05%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics is accelerating drug discovery with a platform built upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

Deep Apple continues to advance its portfolio at an accelerated pace. In MRGPRX2, the development candidate 2097 has shown wide margins in rodent toxicology up to 300mg/kg dose (in life and clinical chemistry). In parallel, Deep Apple is advancing DAT-4775 and DAT-4825 in exploratory toxicology studies. The latter two candidate-quality compounds offer a faster entry into the clinic with >$1M savings based on CMC attributes. Clinical entry is still anticipated in 4Q 2025. In GIPR, DAT 4935 has emerged as a candidate-quality molecule. The compound meets selectivity and potency objectives, possesses attractive in vitro and in vivo ADME and PK properties, and will be profiled for weigh loss efficacy in vivo in 1Q25. Currently Deep Apple is exploring approaches to further optimize potency based on the proprietary cryo-EM structure. In the GPR75 orphan receptor project, the company has delivered significant potency gains via automated chemical library synthesis, guided by structure and computation. DAT-5040 is the current lead for the program. The compound is being evaluated in cryo-EM for a high-resolution structure. Deep Apple is projecting identification of an in vivo tool in 3Q25. In the MC4R agonist project, the company has delivered the first MC4R/Gq structure which guides the design of molecules with balanced signaling for Gs/Gq to deliver weight loss with no blood pressure effects. DAT 2368 is the current lead for the program, and Deep Apple aims to deliver a DC by the end of the year as a stretch goal. In the Triple G project, DAT 4554 represents the current lead which demonstrates full agonism for all three receptors. The compound will be profiled in vivo in 1Q25. The current focus is on optimizing pharmacokinetic attributes to enable delivery of a DC in 4Q25/1Q26.

Deep Apple has engaged in productive BD discussions with multiple partners. Amgen is finalizing alignment with governance on agreed-upon financial and collaboration terms for GIPR and GPR75. Deep Apple has completed third party diligence with Roche and is in round 2 of term sheet discussions. Merck has entered deep diligence ahead of term sheet discussion, anticipated by early February for GIPR. In addition, Deep Apple has entered discussions under CDA with both Novo and AZ for the totality of its metabolic portfolio. The company is still projecting a 1Q25 BD deal closing.

Evercrisp Biosciences

Investment to date:	$22.00M	Initial Investment Date:	August 2021
Ownership:	84.70%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Evercrisp Biosciences applies advanced computational sciences to discover and develop miniproteins with self-delivery properties designed to access brain, kidney, muscle, and other tissues that have been previously unreachable by genetic medicines.

Over the past quarter, Evercrisp achieved notable progress in receptor-targeted delivery and genetic medicine optimization. The transferrin receptor 1 miniprotein (TfR1mp) underwent computational redesign for human and predicted cyno receptor binding, with an oligonucleotide library prepared for Q1 screening. Computational redesign of IGF2Rmp was completed to enable cross-species receptor reactivity, with in vitro and CNS biodistribution studies planned. A library of miniproteins targeting the podocyte-specific receptor Nephrin demonstrated receptor-dependent uptake in initial cell assays. Upon completion of screening, hits will be tested in vivo for siRNA-mediated knockdown in podocytes. CNS editing studies with A22p-fused RNPs achieved 4% editing and widespread striatal editing, informing plans for IGF1Rmp-Cas9 fusions in Q1. However, EEP co-formulation with TfR1mp-Cas9 was deemed nonviable due to aggregation, redirecting focus to 17 pH-sensitive linkers for EEA conjugation, with selection in process. Serum stability enhancements included sgRNA modifications and a mass-spec assay to identify RNase cut sites, with polyethylene glycol methacrylate (PEGMA) conjugation under evaluation to shield RNPs and mitigate immunogenicity. In siRNA delivery, repeat dosing of TfR1mp-siMstn is ongoing, while initial dose-range findings for TfR1mp-siSsb showed >95% knockdown in muscle tissues and partial knockdown in the heart and diaphragm. A dose-response study of C16-conjugated siSod1 following ICV administration was also completed, setting the stage for comparative efficacy assessments of IGF1Rmp-siSod1 in Q1.

4Q 2024

Company snapshot: Marlinspike Therapeutics is establishing a platform to discover and develop small molecule inhibitors for RNA helicases, critical components of the alternative splicing and RNA processing machinery. These pathways are dysregulated in many cancers and represent a new target class.

In the quarter, Marlinspike continued work to implement of a codeset to assess the target and MoA-specific RNA mis-splicing profile as PD assay; the project remains on track for a development candidate (DC) nomination in 2026. In the DHX38 program, Marlinspike now has potent, less than 200nM binders to SF3B1 in cell killing assays, with improving Pk properties. The company aims to obtain in-vivo proof of concept in 1Q25 with a goal of DC nomination in 4Q25.

ATP is planning to merge Marlinspike into Nereid Therapeutics, which is also based in the Boston area.

Nereid Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$43.60M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	82.69%	Investment Stage:	Active/ Series A

Company snapshot: Nereid Therapeutics is discovering new disease treatments by applying pioneering research and technologies in biomolecular condensates.

The BCL-9 program for colorectal cancer has selected a development candidate, NDTX-9065, that flatlines tumor growth in xenograft models. Rodent non-GLP toxicology has been initiated, and the compound is being scaled up for GLP toxicology studies. Additional medicinal chemistry work is ongoing to identify a potential backup molecule that addresses the issues of solubility and clearance of NDTX-9065, although those issues may also be addressed by ongoing efforts to optimize formulation of the current molecule. In addition, the mechanism of action of NDTX-9065 has been further elucidated as causing mislocalization of essential mitotic machinery including BCL-9 and β-catenin, resulting in mitotic catastrophe and cell death that selectively affects tumor cells. The Myc program for triple negative breast cancer (TNBC) is in lead optimization, with current compounds that directly bind to c-Myc with a Kd of ~50 nM and kill multiple TNBC, lung and ovarian cell lines. In vivo efficacy equivalent to targeted therapy against a driver mutation was demonstrated with an early orally bioavailable Myc compound, and additional xenograft studies with optimized compounds are planned for 1Q25. The program anticipates development candidate nomination and initiation of IND-enabling studies in 3Q25. Following demonstration of in vivo efficacy with a series that was discovered to have an undesirable safety profile, the TDP-43 program for ALS has nearly completed an HTS campaign against the N-terminal domain of TDP-43.

Confirmed hits are being evaluated in functional assays. Provisional patent applications for the lead series in the two oncology programs were filed in November 2024. Nereid continues to engage with multiple strategics around a TDP-43 collaboration, and more recently with Merck on oncology.

Nereid formally launched a Series B raise in October, with initial meetings held with 20+ VC firms with the capability to lead the round, several of which progressed to second meetings with 3 VCs currently in the data room.

Red Queen Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$26.60M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2021
Ownership:	90.50%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Red Queen Therapeutics is pursuing a proprietary antiviral technology that has broad applicability against SARS-CoV-2 and other virulent diseases.

Work continues on Red Queen's pan-influenza BARDA contract, and the company expects to name a lead candidate in 1Q25 and then progress to early preclinical work. Peptide synthesis and analysis has been successfully transferred to ATPL. In the company's lead program, RQ-01 for SARS-CoV-2, Bachem successfully transferred production from Red Queen's former off-shore supplier. Red Queen is submitting a proposal under a recent BAA for further work on RQ-01 and expects a decision on that in 3Q25.

Replicate Bioscience

Investment to date:	$53.00M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2021
Ownership:	82.03%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is creating a best-in-class RNA medicines company using its proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA platform technology, with initial areas of focus being drug resistance in oncology and treatment of autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

In the quarter, Replicate prepared for the Phase 2 trial of its prophylactic rabies vaccine candidate RBI-4000, planned to commence in 1Q25 in conjunction with an anticipated LATAM partnership with either Butantan or Sinergium. The company completed IND-enabling studies for its prophylactic EBV vaccine candidate RBI-5000 and is manufacturing clinical lots. And the company advanced its combination respiratory vaccine against RSV/hMPV/PIV, which should reach development candidacy in 2025.

4Q 2024

On the partnership front, beyond the LATAM deal, Replicate is in advanced discussions with Novo Nordisk regarding a collaboration to discover and develop next-generation GLP-1R agents for obesity, with the deal on track to be executed in 1Q25.

In December 2024, RBI-4000 Phase 1 clinical data was published in the scientific journal Nature Communications.

Ascidian Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$89.57M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.87%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian Therapeutics is developing exon-editing RNA therapeutics to target the underlying causes of disease and restore normal protein function.

In 4Q24, Ascidian activated 10 sites and dosed the first 2 patients in the STELLAR trial for ACDN-01. The low-dose cohort of the trial should be completed in 1Q25, and the mid-dose cohort is slated to begin in 2Q25. A Serious Adverse Event occurred in one of the low-dose patients, which the Data Safety Monitoring Board (DSMB) preliminarily assessed as likely due to bacterial endophthalmitis, a post-surgical infection. The patient recovered after standard-of-care treatment. Dosing of patients may resume in six weeks, pending final DSMB sign off. The FDA was informed by Day 15, and no clinical hold was issued.

Also in the quarter, the MSH3 program for DM1 and Huntington's disease advanced to lead optimization stage, and the MYH7 program for DM1 entered lead identification. The COL4A5 program for Alport's syndrome remains in lead identification.

On the partnership front, Roche workplans on all four targets are proceeding per plan with first collaboration milestones anticipated to be earned in 1Q25. Ascidian held 10 partnering meetings at the J.P. Morgan Healthcare Conference in January and is scheduling follow-up discussions across multiple therapeutic areas.

On the financing front, the company's discussions with Sanofi for a potential equity investment in Ascidian were halted by Sanofi, which offered the rationale that it is prioritizing investments in immunology to align with its corporate strategy.

Galvanize Therapeutics technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system), oncology (Aliya system), and local delivery of gene therapy and other therapeutics.

Galvanize achieved $5.0 million in sales in 4Q24, a 25% increase over 3Q24. Total revenue for the year was $14.1 million. Fourth quarter revenue was driven by INUMI sales in 25 new accounts and reorders were over half the revenue. Procedure volumes continue to be strong as new accounts are launched; quarter over quarter procedures increased 37% and year over year by 139%.

The team submitted an application to Medicare for a New Technonology APC code in late November. Based on the historical precedents, we anticipate the code being issued in early April 2025 and the Medicare pricing should increase from $6,800 per procedure to $27,500, making the bronchoscopic Aliya treatment a very profitable one for the hospital. Galvanize's revenue per case will increase from $6,500 to $10,400, which not only raises the revenue forecasts, but there are also upsides in sales of generators and utilization per hospital. The current revenue model forecasts $28 million in revenue for 2025 and $58 million for 2026, but those numbers are likely to rise with the new reimbursement.

In December 2024, T Rowe Price invested another $5 million in the convertible notes that were originally closed in 1Q24. The company also closed a $20 million debt financing with Symbiotic Capital and is working towards a $75 million debt financing to provide cash through early 2027, which is anticipated to close by mid-2025.

Marengo Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$56.02M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.70%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series B

Company snapshot: Marengo Therapeutics is a multi-platform immuno-oncology company; its lead asset is a next generation TCR vβ T cell engager that stimulates a natural "superkiller" T cell subset with an effector memory phenotype.

The quarter saw continuing progress in the global phase 1/2 trial of Marengo's first-in-class treatment for advanced solid tumors, invikafusp alfa (STAR0602), with the first patient dosed in the Phase 2 portion of the trial and European centers added to accelerate recruitment, with initial activation of sites in France and Spain. In November, James Gulley of the U.S. National Cancer Institute presented encouraging Phase 1 clinical data for invikafusp alfa at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) Annual Meeting in Houston, Texas. The following month, Marengo CEO Zhen Su presented an update from the Phase 1 clinical study of invikafusp alfa at the ESMO Immuno-Oncology Congress 2024 in Geneva, Switzerland.

4Q 2024

In early January 2025, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) granted Fast Track designation to invikafusp alfa. Fast Track designation is designed to facilitate the development and expedite the review of therapies intended to treat serious or lifethreatening conditions with unmet medical needs. The Fast Track designation generated a great deal of interest in Marengo at the J.P. Morgan Healthcare Conference in January, where Marengo was a presenting company.

Pool ATP Braeburn

Braeburn

Investment to date:	$402.96M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	83.10%	Investment Stage:	Active/Commercial

Company snapshot: Braeburn makes and markets BRIXADI, the best-in-class medicine for opioid use disorder (OUD).

Brixadi Net Revenue: For the 12 months ending December 31, 2024, Brixadi's net revenue was approximately $142.8 million, which was 6% above our revised/increased guidance of $135 million.

Financing: Braeburn ended 2024 with a cash balance of $78.8M, comfortably above the requirement for the Hercules debt facility.

Launch Progress: Brixadi continued to perform well, maintaining strong growth at 6% over guidance in Q4 2024, following 11% over guidance in the previous quarter. While growth moderated slightly, we remained ahead of expectations despite external funding challenges. The primary factor influencing prescription trends was reduced funding within the criminal justice channel, following the removal of long-acting injectable buprenorphine from the Federal Bureau of Prisons formulary. This channel had contributed 25-30% of new patient growth in Q3 2024. Despite similar funding headwinds, Indivior reported stable net revenue for Sublocade in 2025.

Strategic Initiatives to Drive Growth:

- Pursue Alternative Opportunities: Given the uncertainty surrounding the FBOP decision in H1 2025, we are exploring alternative opportunities, including targeting county jails, state prisons, Indian Health Services, and Veteran Affairs Clinics. We have secured contracts with the New Jersey and Virginia

FILED UNDER SEAL

Departments of Correction and expect more states to follow in Q2. To support our criminal justice customers, we will hire two employees to help facilities access available grant dollars for Brixadi programs.

- Promote Brixadi with High Capacity Customers: We countered misleading promotions of Sublocade with a field sales blitz targeting our top 15 highest capacity HCPs per territory. This helped us return to new patient growth, with nearly 4,000 HCPs prescribing Brixadi.
- Engage Multistate Treatment Providers: We signed a contract with Ideal Option in October 2024, initiating a multi-state launch in over 20 locations, resulting in over 700 new patient starts. We have a similar agreement with Crossroads, which will begin in March, and are pursuing other providers like Porch Light, Clean Slate, and Spero Health.

Key Near-Term Initiatives:

- Field Force Expansion: Increased by ~20%. Majority vacancies filled by April 2025.
- DTP/DTC Campaign: An unbranded DTP campaign will launch in early Q2, targeting patients on sublingual buprenorphine. A branded DTP campaign for Brixadi will launch in H2 2025.
- 160 mg Dose: FDA application submitted.
- Alcami Tech Transfer: Expected by end of 2026.

Yuri,

I think it would make most sense, and is most efficient in terms of use of time and resources, if you would please give us your comments on the attached, if any, ASAP. We should be able to get this done quickly and not require a major legal call.

Kind regards,

Seth

Hi! No worries — we've already sent out the invite for tomorrow.
Please make sure to copy David Beller from Latham & Watkins (David.Beller@lw.com) when you send the documents ahead of the call.
Best regards,
Y.

Dear Yuri,

A quite simple one or two page should suffice for reallocation. I will forward it to you once we have it drafted, hopefully later today ET. Given the lack of complexity, I am not certain we would an all-hands lawyers' call - if will also be unnecessarily expensive.

JX-106

That said, our legal team can be available at 9 am ET on Monday.

Perhaps we should push the call to later Monday ET to see if the simple approach will work for you?

Kind regards,

Seth

Responsibilities of management for the financial statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Partnership's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements
Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Partnership's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Partnership's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Supplementary information
Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying supplementary information on pages 25 and 26 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such supplementary information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures. These additional procedures included comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with US GAAS. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P. AND SUBSIDIARIES
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2024

NOTE 1 — NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. was formed on October 29, 2012, as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands. On November 30, 2020, Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. changed its name to ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP LSV" or the "Partnership"). The Partnership is governed by a First Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement ("LPA") as originally entered into on November 1, 2012, and as subsequently amended. The principal purpose of the Partnership is to achieve returns on its capital by investing in pharmaceutical, life science, medical device and other medically-related companies and business projects. The term of the Partnership expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

The Partnership has three wholly-owned subsidiaries organized under Delaware law. Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. ("ATLS") was organized on April 8, 2011 and serves as the management company for the Partnership. ATP Research and Development, Inc. ("ATPR," formerly Apple Tree Partners Research, Inc.) was organized on August 13, 2020, primarily to enter into certain scientific research, development and services agreements with third parties. ATP Life Science Sub LLC ("ATP Sub") was organized on June 29, 2021, primarily to facilitate certain investment purchases. Apple Tree Life Sciences (UK) Limited ("ATLS UK"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of ATLS, was formed as a company under the laws of the United Kingdom on August 27, 2019, to provide certain management and administrative services to the Partnership in the UK. Because ATLS, ATPR, and ATLS UK are under common control of the Partnership, the result of their operations are included in the consolidated financial statements. As of year end, ATP Sub was no longer under common control of the Partnership.

The Partnership has entered into a management agreement with Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC. ("ATVM"), an entity wholly owned by Dr. Seth Harrison, who is further described below. Pursuant to the agreement, ATVM identifies prospective investments and provides assistance in evaluating investment opportunities in prospective and existing companies.

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership's assets and liabilities were divided into five separate pools: Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, and Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, and Pool Braeburn (collectively, the "Pools").

Pool ATP IV is designed to hold and invest in certain existing companies and projects approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units (the "Preferred Majority"). Pool ATP IV may not invest in any new companies or projects. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP IV may be made by the Partners up to $1.5 billion in the aggregate, in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP IV's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in its existing companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Preferred Majority. The term of Pool ATP IV expires on the date the last Contingency Payment has been received or the right to receive any remaining Contingency Payment has been extinguished.

Pool ATP V-1 is designed to hold and invest exclusively in the following three portfolio companies: Chinook Therapeutics U.S., Inc., Nine Square Therapeutics Corporation, and Initial Therapeutics, Inc. Pool ATP V-1 may not invest in any new companies or projects. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-1 may be made by Partner 2 and Partner 3 (together, the "Subject Limited Partner"), in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP V-1's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in its existing companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP V-1 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

Pool ATP V-2 is designed to hold and invest in its existing companies and projects, as well as new companies and projects approved by the Subject Limited Partner. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-2 may be made by the Subject Limited Partner up to $1 billion minus the amount invested by the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-1, in such installments as the Pool Committee (defined below) may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP V-2's general operating expenses and making investments in its existing and new companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP V-2 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the Pool Committee's discretion.

Pool ATP V-3 is designed to hold and invest in the following portfolio companies: Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc, Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., Intergalactic Therapeutics, Inc., Marengo Therapeutics, Inc. and their respective successors (collectively, the "ATP V-3 Companies"). All capital invested in Pool ATP V-3 shall be called from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner, Dr. Harrison, and Les Pommes. The term of Pool ATP V-3 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

Pool Braeburn is designed to hold and invest exclusively in Braeburn Inc. and its successors. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool Braeburn may be made by the Subject Limited Partner in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool Braeburn's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in Braeburn Inc. in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP Braeburn expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion. The Partnership's interest in Braeburn, Inc. has been pledged to a third-party institution.

The General Partner, who manages the investment policy and operations of the Partnership, is ATP III GP, Ltd. (the "General Partner"). Dr. Harrison is the sole Director of the General Partner. The management, policies and control of the affairs, and the conduct of business, of Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, and Pool ATP V-3 is vested exclusively in the General Partner. The General Partner does not have an economic interest in the Partnership; however, Dr. Harrison holds a limited partnership interest in the Partnership.

The General Partner has delegated the management of Pool ATP V-2 and Pool Braeburn, including, without limitation, any investment decisions, capital calls and budget approval requests with respect to those Pools, to a committee (the "Pool Committee"). The Pool Committee consists of Dr. Harrison and, initially, Ms. Anna Batarina. All decisions of the Pool Committee are made by unanimous consent of the members of the Pool Committee. Ms. Batarina also holds a limited partnership interest in the Partnership.

NOTE 2 — BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally acceptable in the United States of America ("GAAP") and include the Partnership and its Subsidiaries. Transactions are recorded on an accrual basis. Under the accrual method of accounting, revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred without regard to receipt of cash. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. The Partnership, which is an investment company within the scope of Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Update 2013-08, follows accounting and reporting guidance under FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 946, "Financial Services-Investment Companies."

NOTE 3 — SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Valuation of Portfolio Investments

The Partnership accounts for the valuation of portfolio investments in accordance with FASB ASC 820 ("ASC 820") "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures", which establishes a framework for measuring fair value under generally accepted accounting principles and enhances disclosures about fair value measurement.

Portfolio investments in non-marketable securities are valued at fair value as determined by the General Partner in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. In establishing fair value, the General Partner takes into consideration the financial condition and operating results of the issuer, the nature of the investment and prices paid in private sales of such securities, valuation of comparable publicly traded companies, capital market conditions, the availability of third-party financing, underlying collateral, financial data and projections of the issuer. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had an active market for the securities existed, and the differences could be material.

When the Partnership receives securities in a spin-off wherein the entity in which the Partnership has invested in spins off a portion of its operations, a portion of the cost of the securities held is allocated to the securities received in the spin-off based on the ratio of the fair value of the securities received to the sum of the fair value of such securities and the fair value of the original securities held of the entity affecting the spin-off. No gain or loss is recognized.

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Valuation techniques used to measure fair value, as required by the ASC 820, must maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The Partnership measures certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis in the consolidated financial statements. The hierarchy ranks the quality and reliability of inputs, or assumptions, used in the determination of fair value and requires financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value to be classified and disclosed in one of the following three categories:

- Level 1 – unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities;
- Level 2 – inputs other than Level 1 quoted prices that are directly or indirectly observable;
- Level 3 – unobservable inputs that are not corroborated by market data.

The Partnership's investments in private companies are classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy because they trade infrequently (or not at all) and therefore have little or no readily available pricing. Securities that are classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy are recorded at fair value as determined in good faith by the General Partner, taking into consideration pertinent information such as available market prices, marketability, restrictions on disposition, original purchase price, estimates on liquidation value, current financial position and operating results and other appropriate information.

The values assigned to investments and any unrealized gains or losses reported are based on available information and do not necessarily represent amounts that might be realized if an active market existed and such differences could be material. Furthermore, the ultimate realization of such amounts depends on future events and circumstances and therefore valuation estimates may differ from the value realized upon disposition of individual positions.

The Partnership also makes investments in public companies and those investments are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy to the extent they are traded on active markets. Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Fair value is determined by the closing prices as quoted on their primary trading exchange.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, including the value of investments and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the reporting date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All unrestricted highly liquid investments with initial or remaining maturities of less than 90 days at the time of purchase are considered cash equivalents. The Partnership maintains its US dollar cash balances in two financial institutions which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") and at times, such amount may exceed the FDIC insurance limits. The Partnership has not incurred any losses with respect to uninsured accounts. At December 31, 2024, the Partnership's uninsured cash balance amounted to $14.6 million.

Restricted Cash

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had restricted cash of approximately $1.5 million which is held on deposit as collateral to secure corporate credit cards and certain lease obligations.

Investment Transactions and Income Recognition

Investment securities are initially recorded at their original investment amount. Additional investments are added to the cost basis of the investment. Changes in the fair value of portfolio investments held are recorded as unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the consolidated statement of operations, including any reversal of previously recorded unrealized appreciation/depreciation when gains or losses are realized. Realized gains and losses on portfolio investments are recorded upon disposition and calculated based upon the difference between the proceeds and the cost basis, on a specific identification method, without regard to unrealized appreciation/depreciation previously recognized, and are recorded as realized gain/loss in the consolidated statement of operations. Interest income is accrued as earned and recorded in the consolidated statement of operations. Dividend income, if any, is recognized on an accrual basis on the ex-dividend date to the extent that we expect to collect such amounts.

Foreign Currency

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the rate of exchange in effect at the reporting date. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the rate of exchange applicable on the respective dates of such transactions. The Partnership does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments. Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Partnership's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid and are included within the Translation gain (loss) of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies on the consolidated statement of operations. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities at fiscal period end, which result from changes in exchange rates.

Fixed Assets, Depreciation and Amortization

Fixed assets consist primarily of leasehold improvements, furniture and computer hardware. Such amounts are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization and are included in Fixed assets, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization within the accompanying consolidated statement of assets, liabilities and partners' capital. Depreciation and amortization are calculated using the straight-line method over the assets' estimated economic useful lives, which for leasehold improvements are the lesser of the lease terms or the life of the asset, and three to seven years for other fixed assets, and are included in Other operating expenses within the accompanying consolidated statement of operations.

Revenue Recognition

As subsidiaries of the Partnership, ATLS and ATLS (UK) provide services to the Partnership entities and to certain portfolio companies whose results from operations are not consolidated. The Partnership recognizes revenue from these services in accordance with FASB ASC 606 Revenue Recognition. Services are provided to these related party entities pursuant to definitive agreements and for which the Partnership receives service revenue. Revenue is recognized when performance obligations have been satisfied at a point in time.

Accounts receivable are reported at the amount management expects to collect on balances outstanding at the end of the year. Uncollectible receivables are written off or specifically reserved in the period in which management believes it has exhausted every opportunity to collect. Management does not believe any accounts are uncollectible.

Income Tax

The Partnership accounts for income taxes in accordance with FASB ASC 740—Income Taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are provided for differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in consolidated financial statements and the tax basis of assets and liabilities that will result in future taxable or deductible amounts. The deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Income tax expense is computed as the tax payable or refundable for the period, plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred taxes will not be realized.

FASB ASC 740 requires that the financial statement benefit of a tax position be recognized only after determining that the relevant tax authority would more likely than not sustain the position following an audit. For tax positions meeting the "more likely than not" threshold, the amount recognized in the consolidated financial statements is the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant tax authority.

ATP LSV is exempt from income taxes by virtue of its pass-through entity status. Management believes this tax position meets the more-likely-than-not threshold and accordingly, no income tax expense or liability has been recognized for the year ended December 31, 2024. The pro rata share of income, losses and tax credits of ATP LSV are reported by its partners, as provided in the LPA, on their individual income tax returns.

Deferred tax assets of ATLS and ATPR, both US Corporations, are recorded in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets of ATLS UK, a UK Corporation, are offset by a full valuation allowance.

The Partnership believes that there are no tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would significantly increase or decrease unrecognized tax benefits within 12 months of the reporting date.

None of the Partnership's federal, state or foreign income tax returns are currently under examination by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") or other relevant authorities. However, fiscal years 2021 and later remain subject to examination by the IRS and respective states.

Under current Cayman Islands law, the Partnership is not required to pay any taxes on income, profits or capital gains. On February 26, 2013 the Partnership obtained an undertaking from the Cayman Islands' authorities exempting it from such taxes for a period of 50 years from the date the undertaking was issued.

The following table provides quantitative information about significant unobservable inputs used to determine the fair valuations of the Partnership's Level 3 assets. Because we consider a wide variety of factors and inputs, both observable and unobservable, in determining fair values, the unobservable inputs presented do not reflect all inputs significant to the fair value determination.

NOTE 5 — CONTINGENT CONSIDERATION

Contingent consideration is additional amounts from liquidated investments that the Partnership believes will be realized at future dates and/or as future events are reached. The terms of such milestones are generally defined in the sales agreement of the liquidated investment. The amount of the actual milestone payments ultimately received by the Partnership may vary as the future milestone events are not obtained. Amounts received are recognized in net realized gain (loss) on investments within the consolidated statement of operations.

Tendyne

On August 31, 2015, a portfolio company of the Partnership, Tendyne Holdings, Inc. ("Tendyne") entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Merger Agreement"), with Abbott Laboratories and Abbott Vascular, Inc. whereby the shares of Tendyne, Inc. held immediately prior to the merger were cancelled and converted into the right to receive an amount in cash per share closing merger consideration and per share future payment amounts. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, the Partnership's shares in Tendyne resulted in an upfront payment of $68.8 million related to per share closing merger consideration resulting in a realized gain of $46.0 million. The Partnership recognized additional consideration of $6.9 million in 2016 and $1.0 million in 2017 related to the release of escrow and expense fund amounts.

As of December 31, 2017, the Partnership share of future payments included payments related to Tendyne achieving CE ("European Conformity") Mark approval and PMA application approval.

Pursuant to the terms of the transaction, a payment of $15.1 million would have been payable in the event that on or prior to December 31, 2017, that the conformity assessment procedure for the Earn-out Device as defined in the Merger Agreement, as required by EU Directive 93/42/EEC concerning medical devices had been completed such that a CE mark may be lawfully affixed to the Earn-Out Device and at least seventy patients have undergone a transcatheter mitral valve replacement using the Earn-out Device. If such event occurs after December 31, 2017 but on or prior to June 30, 2018, then such earn-out payment shall be reduced by multiplying the earn-out payment by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be equal to the number of days remaining after the earn-out event occurs and up to and including June 30, 2018 and the denominator of which is 181 days. If the earn-out event occurs after June 30, 2018 no earn-out payment will be due. The event did not occur as of June 30, 2018 and no payment was made. On June 19, 2018, the Securityholders' Representative Committee on behalf of the Tendyne security holders, filed suit against Abbott alleging that Abbott's failure to use "Commercially Reasonable Efforts" as defined in and required by the Merger Agreement resulted in the failure to achieve the CE Mark milestone by June 30, 2018. As the outcome of such litigation is uncertain, the Partnership has assigned a fair value of zero to the milestone at December 31, 2024.

The future payment amount related to the achievement of PMA would be payable in the event that on or before June 30, 2023, Tendyne has received written notice of approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration of PMA for the earn-out device, as defined in the merger agreement. In the event that Tendyne receives PMA approval after June 30, 2023 such amount would be reduced. As of December 31, 2024 approval has not been received. The Partnership's share of the future payment amount related to the achievement of PMA, depending on when the earn-out is achieved is as follows:

PMA approval received	Partnership Share of Payment Amount
On or before June 30, 2023	$ 30,064,869
July 1, 2023 to June 30, 2024	24,083,200
July 1, 2024 to June 30, 2025	18,101,531
July 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026	12,081,204
July 1, 2026 to June 30, 2027	6,040,602
After June 30, 2027	-

In 2022, a revised settlement and release agreement indicated that were was an increased payout resulting in an additional $1.5 million payment relating to the PMA milestone. As of December 31, 2024, the fair value of the contingent consideration is $15.4 million.

NOTE 6 — PARTNERS' CAPITAL AND INCOME (LOSS) ALLOCATIONS

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership's assets and liabilities were divided into seven separate Pools: Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, Pool Braeburn, Holdings Pool 1, and Holdings Pool 2. Each Pool is designed to consist of assets, liabilities, income, gains, losses, and expenses associated with specified companies and projects and certain other expenses as set forth in Amendments No. 18 and No. 20 to the LPA. The intent of the Pools is to ensure that the assets, liabilities, income, gains, losses and expenses of each Pool only affect that Pool. Separate and distinct records are maintained for each Pool and capital contributions, distributions, income, gains, losses and expenses are accounted for separately on a Pool-by-Pool basis. All capital invested in new companies and projects is called from the Subject Limited Partner exclusively and is treated as contributed to Pool V-2. No other limited partner is required to contribute any capital with respect to new companies or projects generally. As of December 31, 2024, no investments were held by Holdings Pool 1 or Holdings Pool 2.

Pool ATP IV is authorized to issue four classes of Limited Partner units, consisting of up to 900,000 preferred units ("Preferred Units"), up to 900,000 investment common units ("Investment Units"), up to 100,000 founder units ("Founder Units") and up to 198,635 incentive common units ("Incentive Units"). The Preferred Unit holders make capital contributions in accordance with the LPA and have certain limited voting rights. In particular, the holders of the Preferred Units have the right to approve overall investment and project budgets.

Founders Units and Incentive Units represent profit interests only and accordingly have no capital contribution requirements and have no voting rights. The number of authorized Founder Units and the Incentive Percentage allocated to the Incentive Units are automatically reduced based on the capital contributed to the Partnership in respect of the Preferred Units. The Partners' Capital balance reflects the Preferred Unit holder's interest in the Partnership.

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had the following units authorized and outstanding:

Units	Authorized	Outstanding
Preferred Units	900,000	900,000
Investment Units	900,000	900,000
Founder Units	100,000	100,000
Incentive Units	198,635	155,502

Contributions

The holders of Preferred Units are required to contribute capital in respect of Pool ATP IV in installments as requested by the General Partner, up to their contingent subscription amounts, subject to the approval of the Preferred Majority with respect to certain contributions. A holder of Preferred Units may not make less than the full amount of any required capital contribution. The aggregate contingent subscription amount of all Preferred Unit holders in respect of Pool ATP IV is $1.5 billion. At December 31, 2024, the Preferred Unit holders had contributed $1.4 billion including deemed contributions.

All capital invested in Pool ATP V-1 companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-1 companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-1) shall be called by the General Partner in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner exclusively. All capital invested in Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn) shall be called by the Pool Committee in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner exclusively. All capital invested in Pool ATP V-3 companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-3 companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-3) shall be called by the General Partner in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner, Dr. Harrison and Les Pommes exclusively.

At December 31, 2024, the Subject Limited Partner had contributed $130.6 million, $370.7 million, $409.1 million, and $411.5 million with respect to Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, and Pool Braeburn, respectively. At year end, the Subject Limited Partner had approved capital calls of up to $29.3 million, $170.9 million, and $38.0 million with respect to portfolio companies and investment projects in Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, and Pool ATP V-3, respectively. At year end, there were no remaining approved capital calls for Pool Braeburn.

Distributions

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP IV shall be made as follows:

- Second, among the holders of Investment Common Units, Founder Common Units and Incentive Common Units, as follows:
    - To the holders of Incentive Common Units, in proportion to their respective number of such Units multiplied by the Incentive Percentage of the amounts proposed to be distributed. The "Incentive Percentage", as defined by the LPA, at any time means the number of Incentive Common Units outstanding at such time divided by the sum of the number of authorized Incentive Common Units at such time and the number of authorized Investment Common Units at such time.
    - To the holders of Investment Common Units and Founder Common Units, in proportion to their respective number of such Units.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pools ATP V-1 other than Tax Distributions, shall be made as follows:

    - However, if the General Partner has granted in the aggregate less than a 12.50% interest to the Limited Partners participating in Pool ATP V-1 carried interest, then they shall be distributed such lesser percentage.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP V-2, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made generally as follows:

contributions in respect of Pool ATP V-2.

  - 87.50% to the Subject Limited Partner and 12.50% to the Limited Partners participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool ATP V-2 in proportion to their respective Pool ATP V-2 Carried Interest Percentages.
  - However, if the General Partner has granted less than an aggregate 12.50% Pool ATP V-2 Carried Interest Percentage, then the holders thereof shall be distributed such lesser percentage and the balance shall be distributed to the Subject Limited Partner.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP V-3, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made as follows:

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool Braeburn, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made generally as follows:

- First, to the Subject Limited Partner until it has received aggregate distributions equal to its aggregate capital contributions in respect of Pool Braeburn.

  - 92.50% to the Subject Limited Partner and 7.50% to the Limited Partners participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool Braeburn in proportion to their respective Pool Braeburn Carried Interest Percentages.

As of December 31, 2024, $4.1 million of Partners' capital would have been distributed among holders of Incentive Common Units had the Partnership been liquidated at that time.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, during each fiscal year, the Partnership shall distribute in cash to each Partner an amount equal to the aggregate United States federal and state income tax liability attributable to items of gain, loss, or deduction allocated to such partner.

Pursuant to the LPA, during 2024, the Partnership made distributions of $0.58 million from Pool ATP IV and in-kind royalty interest distributions of $722.01 million from Pool Braeburn. These distributions are disclosed on the consolidated statement of changes in partners' capital.

Allocations

In general, profit or loss for each fiscal quarter shall be allocated among the Partners on a Pool-by-Pool basis in a manner that as closely as possible gives economic effect to the provisions of the LPA in regard to distributions and other provisions of such Agreement. In general, to the extent that the sum of the cumulative net investment gain or loss, cumulative net realized gain or loss on portfolio investments and cumulative net deemed gain or loss on distributions in kind to Partners is negative in respect of a Pool, all net investment gains or losses, net realized gains or losses on portfolio investments and deemed gains or losses on distributions in kind in respect of that Pool are allocated on the basis of capital contributions.

Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on portfolio investments is allocated as if all such investments had been liquidated at their carrying values on the balance sheet date and such amounts were distributed.

NOTE 7 — MANAGEMENT FEE

The Partnership entered into a management agreement with Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC, which is an affiliate of the General Partner. Under the terms of the Agreement, the management company receives a fee of $3.0 million annually payable in advance.

NOTE 8 — INCOME TAXES

Income (loss) before taxes, from ATLS, ATLS UK, and ATPR, on a geographic basis during 2024 was as follows:

	2024
United States	$ 2,069,524
Foreign	41,590
Income (loss) before provision for (benefit from) income taxes	$ 2,111,114

The Partnership's effective tax rate differs from the federal statutory tax rate primarily due to permanent items adjustments, provision to return adjustments, tax rate changes from prior periods, and change in valuation allowance.

Income tax expense:
Current tax
Federal	$ 165,781
State	16,919
Total current tax	$ 182,700
Deferred tax
Federal	$ 311,191
State	15,863
Total deferred tax	327,054
Income tax expense	$ 509,754

The primary components of net deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2024 were as follows:

Deferred tax assets:
Net operating loss carryforwards	$ 450,196
Deferred rent	21,590
Accrued expenses	8,855
Other	244
Total deferred tax assets	$ 480,885

CONFIDENTIAL ATP_00089405

Deferred tax liabilities:
Depreciation	$ (10,491)
Total deferred tax liabilities	$ (10,491)

Net deferred tax assets/(liabilities)	$ 470,394
Valuation allowance	(119,866)
Total deferred tax assets, net	$ 350,528

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had U.S. federal and state net operating loss carryforwards ("NOLs") of $1,340,270 and $652,386, respectively, which may be available to offset future income tax liabilities. The U.S. federal NOL does not expire and the state NOLs begin to expire in 2036 and will expire at various dates through 2040. In addition, as of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had foreign net operating loss carryforwards of $479,465 which may be available to offset future income tax liabilities and do not expire.

Utilization of the U.S. net operating loss carryforwards may be subject to a substantial annual limitation under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and corresponding provisions of state law, due to ownership changes that have occurred previously or that could occur in the future. These ownership changes may limit the amount of carryforwards that can be utilized annually to offset future taxable income. In general, and ownership changes, as defined by Section 382, results from transactions increasing the ownership of certain stockholders by more than 50% over a three-year period. If the Partnership has experienced a change of control, as defined by Section 382, at any time since inception, utilization of the net operating loss carryforwards would be subject to an annual limitation under Section 382, which is determined by first multiplying the value of the Partnership's stock at the time of the ownership change by the applicable long-term tax-exempt rate, and then could be subject to additional adjustments, as required. Any limitation may result in expiration of a portion of the net operating loss carryforwards before utilization. No amounts are being presented as an uncertain tax position.

The Partnership has evaluated the positive and negative evidence bearing upon its ability to realize the deferred tax assets. Management has considered the Partnership's history of cumulative net income (losses) incurred since inception and has concluded that it is more likely than not that the Partnership will not realize the benefits of the deferred tax assets on foreign net operating loss carryforwards. Accordingly, a full valuation allowance has been established against the foreign deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2024. Management evaluates the positive and negative evidence at each reporting period.

NOTE 9 — LEASES

On May 30, 2014, the Partnership entered into a lease agreement for corporate office space in New York. The lease commenced on May 1, 2015 and rent commenced on December 1, 2015. The lease expires on December 1, 2025, ten years from the rent commencement date. Annual rent obligations under the lease are $1.1 million per annum for the first five years and $1.2 million for the last five years.

Future minimum rental commitments under the non-cancelable operating lease agreement as of December 31, 2024 are as follows:

Year ending December 31,	Minimum Payments
2025	$ 1,104,001
	$ 1,104,001

NOTE 10 — FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The Partnership is required to disclose financial highlights for the common interest in the Partnership (i.e., the limited partners' interest). These financial highlights consist of operating expenses and net investment loss ratios for the year ended December 31, 2024 and the Internal Rate of Return since inception ("IRR") of the limited partners, net of all fees and profit allocations (carried interest) to the General Partner, through December 31, 2024.

The following summarizes the limited partners' financial highlights:

	Limited Partners
Net investment loss	(0.60) %
Operating expenses	1.00 %
Cumulative internal rate of return through December 31, 2023	21.02 %
Cumulative internal rate of return through December 31, 2024	23.49 %

The net investment loss and operating expense ratios are computed as a percentage of the limited partners' average partners' capital. The IRR is computed based on the actual dates of the cash inflows (capital contributions), outflows (cash and stock distributions), and the ending net assets at the end of the period (residual value) of the Limited Partners' capital account as of each measurement date assuming year end disposition of assets at the fair value reported on the consolidated statement of assets, liabilities, and partners' capital. These financial highlights are calculated for the limited partners taken as a whole. An individual limited partner's return and ratios may vary based on different management fee and incentive fee arrangements and may not be indicative of the future performance of the Partnership.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Partners of ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P.

Opinion
We have audited the consolidated financial statements of ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership) and subsidiaries (the "Partnership"), which comprise the consolidated statement of assets, liabilities, and partners' capital, including the consolidated schedule of investments, as of December 31, 2024, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in partners' capital, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Partnership as of December 31, 2024, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for opinion
We conducted our audit of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Partnership and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of management for the financial statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Partnership's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements
Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud

Grant Thornton LLP is a U.S. member firm of Grant Thornton International Ltd (GTIL). GTIL and each of its member firms are separate legal entities and are not a worldwide partnership.

Grant Thornton

may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Partnership's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Partnership's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Supplementary information
Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The accompanying supplementary information on pages 25 and 26 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such supplementary information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures. These additional procedures included comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with US GAAS. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2024

NOTE 1 — NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. was formed on October 29, 2012, as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands. On November 30, 2020, Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. changed its name to ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP LSV" or the "Partnership"). The Partnership is governed by a First Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement ("LPA") as originally entered into on November 1, 2012, and as subsequently amended. The principal purpose of the Partnership is to achieve returns on its capital by investing in pharmaceutical, life science, medical device and other medically-related companies and business projects. The term of the Partnership expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

The Partnership has three wholly-owned subsidiaries organized under Delaware law. Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. ("ATLS") was organized on April 8, 2011 and serves as the management company for the Partnership. ATP Research and Development, Inc. ("ATPR," formerly Apple Tree Partners Research, Inc.) was organized on August 13, 2020, primarily to enter into certain scientific research, development and services agreements with third parties. ATP Life Science Sub LLC ("ATP Sub") was organized on June 29, 2021, primarily to facilitate certain investment purchases. Apple Tree Life Sciences (UK) Limited ("ATLS UK"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of ATLS, was formed as a company under the laws of the United Kingdom on August 27, 2019, to provide certain management and administrative services to the Partnership in the UK. Because ATLS, ATPR, and ATLS UK are under common control of the Partnership, the result of their operations are included in the consolidated financial statements. As of year end, ATP Sub was no longer under common control of the Partnership.

The Partnership has entered into a management agreement with Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC. ("ATVM"), an entity wholly owned by Dr. Seth Harrison, who is further described below. Pursuant to the agreement, ATVM identifies prospective investments and provides assistance in evaluating investment opportunities in prospective and existing companies.

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership's assets and liabilities were divided into five separate pools: Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, and Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, and Pool Braeburn (collectively, the "Pools").

Pool ATP IV is designed to hold and invest in certain existing companies and projects approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units (the "Preferred Majority"). Pool ATP IV may not invest in any new companies or projects. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP IV may be made by the Partners up to $1.5 billion in the aggregate, in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP IV's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in its existing companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Preferred Majority. The term of Pool ATP IV expires on the date the last Contingency Payment has been received or the right to receive any remaining Contingency Payment has been extinguished.

Pool ATP V-1 is designed to hold and invest exclusively in the following three portfolio companies: Chinook Therapeutics U.S., Inc., Nine Square Therapeutics Corporation, and Initial Therapeutics, Inc. Pool ATP V-1 may not invest in any new companies or projects. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-1 may be made by Partner 2 and Partner 3 (together, the "Subject Limited Partner"), in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP V-1's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in its existing companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP V-1 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

Pool ATP V-2 is designed to hold and invest in its existing companies and projects, as well as new companies and projects approved by the Subject Limited Partner. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-2 may be made by the Subject Limited Partner up to $1 billion minus the amount invested by the Partnership in respect of Pool ATP V-1, in such installments as the Pool Committee (defined below) may request for the purpose of funding Pool ATP V-2's general operating expenses and making investments in its existing and new companies and projects in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP V-2 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the Pool Committee's discretion.

Pool ATP V-3 is designed to hold and invest in the following portfolio companies: Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc, Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., Intergalactic Therapeutics, Inc., Marengo Therapeutics, Inc. and their respective successors (collectively, the "ATP V-3 Companies"). All capital invested in Pool ATP V-3 shall be called from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner, Dr. Harrison, and Les Pommes. The term of Pool ATP V-3 expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion.

Pool Braeburn is designed to hold and invest exclusively in Braeburn Inc. and its successors. Capital contributions to the Partnership in respect of Pool Braeburn may be made by the Subject Limited Partner in such installments as the General Partner may request for the purpose of funding Pool Braeburn's general operating expenses and making follow-on investments in Braeburn Inc. in accordance with budgets approved by the Subject Limited Partner. The term of Pool ATP Braeburn expires on February 6, 2029 but may be extended for up to two one-year periods at the General Partner's discretion. The Partnership's interest in Braeburn, Inc. has been pledged to a third-party institution.

The General Partner, who manages the investment policy and operations of the Partnership, is ATP III GP, Ltd. (the "General Partner"). Dr. Harrison is the sole Director of the General Partner. The management, policies and control of the affairs, and the conduct of business, of Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, and Pool ATP V-3 is vested exclusively in the General Partner. The General Partner does not have an economic interest in the Partnership; however, Dr. Harrison holds a limited partnership interest in the Partnership.

The General Partner has delegated the management of Pool ATP V-2 and Pool Braeburn, including, without limitation, any investment decisions, capital calls and budget approval requests with respect to those Pools, to a committee (the "Pool Committee"). The Pool Committee consists of Dr. Harrison and, initially, Ms. Anna Batarina. All decisions of the Pool Committee are made by unanimous consent of the members of the Pool Committee. Ms. Batarina also holds a limited partnership interest in the Partnership.

NOTE 2 — BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally acceptable in the United States of America ("GAAP") and include the Partnership and its Subsidiaries. Transactions are recorded on an accrual basis. Under the accrual method of accounting, revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred without regard to receipt of cash. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. The Partnership, which is an investment company within the scope of Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Update 2013-08, follows accounting and reporting guidance under FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 946, "Financial Services-Investment Companies."

NOTE 3 — SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Valuation of Portfolio Investments

The Partnership accounts for the valuation of portfolio investments in accordance with FASB ASC 820 ("ASC 820") "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures", which establishes a framework for measuring fair value under generally accepted accounting principles and enhances disclosures about fair value measurement.

Portfolio investments in non-marketable securities are valued at fair value as determined by the General Partner in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. In establishing fair value, the General Partner takes into consideration the financial condition and operating results of the issuer, the nature of the investment and prices paid in private sales of such securities, valuation of comparable publicly traded companies, capital market conditions, the availability of third-party financing, underlying collateral, financial data and projections of the issuer. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, those estimated values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had an active market for the securities existed, and the differences could be material.

When the Partnership receives securities in a spin-off wherein the entity in which the Partnership has invested in spins off a portion of its operations, a portion of the cost of the securities held is allocated to the securities received in the spin-off based on the ratio of the fair value of the securities received to the sum of the fair value of such securities and the fair value of the original securities held of the entity affecting the spin-off. No gain or loss is recognized.

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Valuation techniques used to measure fair value, as required by the ASC 820, must maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The Partnership measures certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis in the consolidated financial statements. The hierarchy ranks the quality and reliability of inputs, or assumptions, used in the determination of fair value and requires financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value to be classified and disclosed in one of the following three categories:

- Level 1 – unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities;
- Level 2 – inputs other than Level 1 quoted prices that are directly or indirectly observable;
- Level 3 – unobservable inputs that are not corroborated by market data.

The Partnership's investments in private companies are classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy because they trade infrequently (or not at all) and therefore have little or no readily available pricing. Securities that are classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy are recorded at fair value as determined in good faith by the General Partner, taking into consideration pertinent information such as available market prices, marketability, restrictions on disposition, original purchase price, estimates on liquidation value, current financial position and operating results and other appropriate information.

The values assigned to investments and any unrealized gains or losses reported are based on available information and do not necessarily represent amounts that might be realized if an active market existed and such differences could be material. Furthermore, the ultimate realization of such amounts depends on future events and circumstances and therefore valuation estimates may differ from the value realized upon disposition of individual positions.

The Partnership also makes investments in public companies and those investments are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy to the extent they are traded on active markets. Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Fair value is determined by the closing prices as quoted on their primary trading exchange.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, including the value of investments and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the reporting date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All unrestricted highly liquid investments with initial or remaining maturities of less than 90 days at the time of purchase are considered cash equivalents. The Partnership maintains its US dollar cash balances in two financial institutions which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") and at times, such amount may exceed the FDIC insurance limits. The Partnership has not incurred any losses with respect to uninsured accounts. At December 31, 2024, the Partnership's uninsured cash balance amounted to $14.6 million.

Restricted Cash

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had restricted cash of approximately $1.5 million which is held on deposit as collateral to secure corporate credit cards and certain lease obligations.

Investment Transactions and Income Recognition

Investment securities are initially recorded at their original investment amount. Additional investments are added to the cost basis of the investment. Changes in the fair value of portfolio investments held are recorded as unrealized appreciation/depreciation in the consolidated statement of operations, including any reversal of previously recorded unrealized appreciation/depreciation when gains or losses are realized. Realized gains and losses on portfolio investments are recorded upon disposition and calculated based upon the difference between the proceeds and the cost basis, on a specific identification method, without regard to unrealized appreciation/depreciation previously recognized, and are recorded as realized gain/loss in the consolidated statement of operations. Interest income is accrued as earned and recorded in the consolidated statement of operations. Dividend income, if any, is recognized on an accrual basis on the ex-dividend date to the extent that we expect to collect such amounts.

Foreign Currency

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the rate of exchange in effect at the reporting date. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the rate of exchange applicable on the respective dates of such transactions. The Partnership does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments. Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Partnership's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid and are included within the Translation gain (loss) of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies on the consolidated statement of operations. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities at fiscal period end, which result from changes in exchange rates.

Fixed Assets, Depreciation and Amortization

Fixed assets consist primarily of leasehold improvements, furniture and computer hardware. Such amounts are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization and are included in Fixed assets, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization within the accompanying consolidated statement of assets, liabilities and partners' capital. Depreciation and amortization are calculated using the straight-line method over the assets' estimated economic useful lives, which for leasehold improvements are the lesser of the lease terms or the life of the asset, and three to seven years for other fixed assets, and are included in Other operating expenses within the accompanying consolidated statement of operations.

Revenue Recognition

As subsidiaries of the Partnership, ATLS and ATLS (UK) provide services to the Partnership entities and to certain portfolio companies whose results from operations are not consolidated. The Partnership recognizes revenue from these services in accordance with FASB ASC 606 Revenue Recognition. Services are provided to these related party entities pursuant to definitive agreements and for which the Partnership receives service revenue. Revenue is recognized when performance obligations have been satisfied at a point in time.

Accounts receivable are reported at the amount management expects to collect on balances outstanding at the end of the year. Uncollectible receivables are written off or specifically reserved in the period in which management believes it has exhausted every opportunity to collect. Management does not believe any accounts are uncollectible.

Income Tax

The Partnership accounts for income taxes in accordance with FASB ASC 740—Income Taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are provided for differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in consolidated financial statements and the tax basis of assets and liabilities that will result in future taxable or deductible amounts. The deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Income tax expense is computed as the tax payable or refundable for the period, plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred taxes will not be realized.

FASB ASC 740 requires that the financial statement benefit of a tax position be recognized only after determining that the relevant tax authority would more likely than not sustain the position following an audit. For tax positions meeting the "more likely than not" threshold, the amount recognized in the consolidated financial statements is the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant tax authority.

ATP LSV is exempt from income taxes by virtue of its pass-through entity status. Management believes this tax position meets the more-likely-than-not threshold and accordingly, no income tax expense or liability has been recognized for the year ended December 31, 2024. The pro rata share of income, losses and tax credits of ATP LSV are reported by its partners, as provided in the LPA, on their individual income tax returns.

Deferred tax assets of ATLS and ATPR, both US Corporations, are recorded in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets of ATLS UK, a UK Corporation, are offset by a full valuation allowance.

The Partnership believes that there are no tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would significantly increase or decrease unrecognized tax benefits within 12 months of the reporting date.

None of the Partnership's federal, state or foreign income tax returns are currently under examination by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") or other relevant authorities. However, fiscal years 2021 and later remain subject to examination by the IRS and respective states.

Under current Cayman Islands law, the Partnership is not required to pay any taxes on income, profits or capital gains. On February 26, 2013 the Partnership obtained an undertaking from the Cayman Islands' authorities exempting it from such taxes for a period of 50 years from the date the undertaking was issued.

NOTE 4 — FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The following table presents information about the Partnership's assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2024:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Portfolio investments - common stock	$ -	$ -	$ 8,784,929	$ 8,784,929
Portfolio investments - preferred stock	-	-	3,473,902,250	3,473,902,250
Portfolio investments – contingent consideration	-	-	360,204,925	360,204,925
Portfolio investments – convertible notes	-	-	70,063,456	70,063,456
	$ -	$ -	$ 3,912,955,560	$ 3,912,955,560

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership determined the fair value of its Level 3 portfolio investments primarily using methodologies including the income approach, precedent transactions, and comparable valuations of companies of similar industry and stage of development based on publicly disclosed transactions.

The following table provides quantitative information about significant unobservable inputs used to determine the fair valuations of the Partnership's Level 3 assets. Because we consider a wide variety of factors and inputs, both observable and unobservable, in determining fair values, the unobservable inputs presented do not reflect all inputs significant to the fair value determination.

Investment in Securities	Fair Value (000's)	Valuation Technique	Significant Unobservable Inputs	Range of Inputs	Weighted Average
Preferred Stock	$3,473,902	Option-pricing method (OPM)	Discount rate, Risk free rate, Volatility	0.0 - 15.0% 3.5 – 4.3% 75.0 – 98.0%	4.1% 4.2% 83.4%
Common Stock	8,785	Option-pricing method (OPM)	Discount rate, Risk free rate, Volatility	0.0 - 10.0% 4.1 – 4.3% 80.0 – 83.0%	6.5% 4.2% 81.0%
Contingent Consideration	360,205	Income Approach	Probability, Discount rate	24.0 – 100.0% 4.2 - 100.0%	63.4% 5.0%

In addition to the investments in the table above, the Partnership held convertible notes valued at cost plus accrued interest with a value of approximately $70.1 million. No quantitative inputs or assumptions were used for these investments as it was determined that the transaction cost approximates fair value.

For the year ended December 31, 2024, there were no transfers between levels and the Partnership purchased $156.1 million of Level 3 investments. The level 3 purchases consisted of $131.6 million of preferred stock, $12.5 million related to royalty interest, and $12.0 million of convertible notes.

NOTE 5 — CONTINGENT CONSIDERATION

Contingent consideration is additional amounts from liquidated investments that the Partnership believes will be realized at future dates and/or as future events are reached. The terms of such milestones are generally defined in the sales agreement of the liquidated investment. The amount of the actual milestone payments ultimately received by the Partnership may vary as the future milestone events are not obtained. Amounts received are recognized in net realized gain (loss) on investments within the consolidated statement of operations.

Corvidia

On June 10, 2020, a portfolio company of the Partnership, Corvidia Therapeutics, Inc. ("Corvidia") entered into an Agreement & Plan of Merger ("Merger Agreement") with Norvo Nordisk A/S ("Norvo") whereby the shares of Corvidia held immediately prior to the merger were cancelled and converted into the right to receive an amount in cash per share closing merger consideration and per share future payment amounts. Pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement, the Partnership's shares in Corvidia resulted in an upfront payment of $139.1 million related to per share closing merger consideration. A portion of the proceeds from the sale of the portfolio company is held in escrow as recourse for indemnity claims that may arise under the sale agreement. Amounts held in escrow are held at fair value and reflected on the consolidated statement of assets, liabilities and partners' capital, and included in net change in unrealized appreciation on investments.

The Partnership's share of the amounts related to the achievement of a development and sales milestone, depending on when the milestone is achieved is as follows:

Tendyne

On August 31, 2015, a portfolio company of the Partnership, Tendyne Holdings, Inc. ("Tendyne") entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("Merger Agreement"), with Abbott Laboratories and Abbott Vascular, Inc. whereby the shares of Tendyne, Inc. held immediately prior to the merger were cancelled and converted into the right to receive an amount in cash per share closing merger consideration and per share future payment amounts. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, the Partnership's shares in Tendyne resulted in an upfront payment of $68.8 million related to per share closing merger consideration resulting in a realized gain of $46.0 million. The Partnership recognized additional consideration of $6.9 million in 2016 and $1.0 million in 2017 related to the release of escrow and expense fund amounts.

As of December 31, 2017, the Partnership share of future payments included payments related to Tendyne achieving CE ("European Conformity") Mark approval and PMA application approval.

Pursuant to the terms of the transaction, a payment of $15.1 million would have been payable in the event that on or prior to December 31, 2017, that the conformity assessment procedure for the Earn-out Device as defined in the Merger Agreement, as required by EU Directive 93/42/EEC concerning medical devices had been completed such that a CE mark may be lawfully affixed to the Earn-Out Device and at least seventy patients have undergone a transcatheter mitral valve replacement using the Earn-out Device. If such event occurs after December 31, 2017 but on or prior to June 30, 2018, then such earn-out payment shall be reduced by multiplying the earn-out payment by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be equal to the number of days remaining after the earn-out event occurs and up to and including June 30, 2018 and the denominator of which is 181 days. If the earn-out event occurs after June 30, 2018 no earn-out payment will be due. The event did not occur as of June 30, 2018 and no payment was made. On June 19, 2018, the Securityholders' Representative Committee on behalf of the Tendyne security holders, filed suit against Abbott alleging that Abbott's failure to use "Commercially Reasonable Efforts" as defined in and required by the Merger Agreement resulted in the failure to achieve the CE Mark milestone by June 30, 2018. As the outcome of such litigation is uncertain, the Partnership has assigned a fair value of zero to the milestone at December 31, 2024.

The future payment amount related to the achievement of PMA would be payable in the event that on or before June 30, 2023, Tendyne has received written notice of approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration of PMA for the earn-out device, as defined in the merger agreement. In the event that Tendyne receives PMA approval after June 30, 2023 such amount would be reduced. As of December 31, 2024 approval has not been received. The Partnership's share of the future payment amount related to the achievement of PMA, depending on when the earn-out is achieved is as follows:

CONFIDENTIAL

PMA approval received	Partnership Share of Payment Amount
On or before June 30, 2023	$ 30,064,869
July 1, 2023 to June 30, 2024	24,083,200
July 1, 2024 to June 30, 2025	18,101,531
July 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026	12,081,204
July 1, 2026 to June 30, 2027	6,040,602
After June 30, 2027	-

In 2022, a revised settlement and release agreement indicated that were was an increased payout resulting in an additional $1.5 million payment relating to the PMA milestone. As of December 31, 2024, the fair value of the contingent consideration is $15.4 million.

NOTE 6 — PARTNERS' CAPITAL AND INCOME (LOSS) ALLOCATIONS

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership's assets and liabilities were divided into seven separate Pools: Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, Pool Braeburn, Holdings Pool 1, and Holdings Pool 2. Each Pool is designed to consist of assets, liabilities, income, gains, losses, and expenses associated with specified companies and projects and certain other expenses as set forth in Amendments No. 18 and No. 20 to the LPA. The intent of the Pools is to ensure that the assets, liabilities, income, gains, losses and expenses of each Pool only affect that Pool. Separate and distinct records are maintained for each Pool and capital contributions, distributions, income, gains, losses and expenses are accounted for separately on a Pool-by-Pool basis. All capital invested in new companies and projects is called from the Subject Limited Partner exclusively and is treated as contributed to Pool V-2. No other limited partner is required to contribute any capital with respect to new companies or projects generally. As of December 31, 2024, no investments were held by Holdings Pool 1 or Holdings Pool 2.

Pool ATP IV is authorized to issue four classes of Limited Partner units, consisting of up to 900,000 preferred units ("Preferred Units"), up to 900,000 investment common units ("Investment Units"), up to 100,000 founder units ("Founder Units") and up to 198,635 incentive common units ("Incentive Units"). The Preferred Unit holders make capital contributions in accordance with the LPA and have certain limited voting rights. In particular, the holders of the Preferred Units have the right to approve overall investment and project budgets.

Founders Units and Incentive Units represent profit interests only and accordingly have no capital contribution requirements and have no voting rights. The number of authorized Founder Units and the Incentive Percentage allocated to the Incentive Units are automatically reduced based on the capital contributed to the Partnership in respect of the Preferred Units. The Partners' Capital balance reflects the Preferred Unit holder's interest in the Partnership.

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had the following units authorized and outstanding:

Units	Authorized	Outstanding
Preferred Units	900,000	900,000
Investment Units	900,000	900,000
Founder Units	100,000	100,000
Incentive Units	198,635	155,502

Contributions

The holders of Preferred Units are required to contribute capital in respect of Pool ATP IV in installments as requested by the General Partner, up to their contingent subscription amounts, subject to the approval of the Preferred Majority with respect to certain contributions. A holder of Preferred Units may not make less than the full amount of any required capital contribution. The aggregate contingent subscription amount of all Preferred Unit holders in respect of Pool ATP IV is $1.5 billion. At December 31, 2024, the Preferred Unit holders had contributed $1.4 billion including deemed contributions.

All capital invested in Pool ATP V-1 companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-1 companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-1) shall be called by the General Partner in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner exclusively. All capital invested in Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-2 or Pool Braeburn) shall be called by the Pool Committee in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner exclusively. All capital invested in Pool ATP V-3 companies or projects or attributable to expenses or liabilities of Pool ATP V-3 companies or projects (or liabilities or expenses otherwise apportioned to Pool ATP V-3) shall be called by the General Partner in installments from and contributed by the Subject Limited Partner, Dr. Harrison and Les Pommes exclusively.

At December 31, 2024, the Subject Limited Partner had contributed $130.6 million, $370.7 million, $409.1 million, and $411.5 million with respect to Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, Pool ATP V-3, and Pool Braeburn, respectively. At year end, the Subject Limited Partner had approved capital calls of up to $29.3 million, $170.9 million, and $38.0 million with respect to portfolio companies and investment projects in Pool ATP V-1, Pool ATP V-2, and Pool ATP V-3, respectively. At year end, there were no remaining approved capital calls for Pool Braeburn.

Distributions

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP IV shall be made as follows:

- First, to the holders of Preferred Units, in proportion to their respective number of such Units, until the cumulative amount distributed equals the sum of (A) the aggregate amount previously contributed in respect of the Preferred Units and (B) $10,006,000.
- Second, among the holders of Investment Common Units, Founder Common Units and Incentive Common Units, as follows:
    - To the holders of Incentive Common Units, in proportion to their respective number of such Units multiplied by the Incentive Percentage of the amounts proposed to be distributed. The “Incentive Percentage”, as defined by the LPA, at any time means the number of Incentive Common Units outstanding at such time divided by the sum of the number of authorized Incentive Common Units at such time and the number of authorized Investment Common Units at such time.
    - To the holders of Investment Common Units and Founder Common Units, in proportion to their respective number of such Units.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pools ATP V-1 other than Tax Distributions, shall be made as follows:

- First, to the Limited Partners, in proportion to their respective capital contributions to Pool ATP V-1, until they have received aggregate distributions equal to their aggregate capital contributions to Pool ATP V-1.
- Second, among the Limited Partners and participating carried interest holders, as follows:
    - 87.50% to the Limited Partners in proportion to their respective capital contributions to Pool ATP V-1 and 12.50% to the Limited Partner participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool ATP V-1 in proportion to their respective Pool ATP V-1 Carried Interest Percentages.
    - However, if the General Partner has granted in the aggregate less than a 12.50% interest to the Limited Partners participating in Pool ATP V-1 carried interest, then they shall be distributed such lesser percentage.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP V-2, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made generally as follows:

- First, to the Subject Limited Partner until it has received aggregate distributions equal to its aggregate capital contributions in respect of Pool ATP V-2.

- Second, among the Subject Limited Partner and participating Pool ATP V-2 carried interest Limited Partners, as follows:
  - 87.50% to the Subject Limited Partner and 12.50% to the Limited Partners participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool ATP V-2 in proportion to their respective Pool ATP V-2 Carried Interest Percentages.
  - However, if the General Partner has granted less than an aggregate 12.50% Pool ATP V-2 Carried Interest Percentage, then the holders thereof shall be distributed such lesser percentage and the balance shall be distributed to the Subject Limited Partner.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool ATP V-3, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made as follows:

- First, to the Limited Partners, pro rata to their respective unreturned capital contributions, until they have received aggregate distributions equal to its aggregate capital contributions in respect of Pool ATP V-3.
- Second, among the Subject Limited Partner and participating Pool ATP V-3 carried interest Limited Partners, as follows:
  - 85.44% to the Subject Limited Partner and 14.56% to the Limited Partners participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool ATP V-3 in proportion to their respective Pool ATP V-3 Carried Interest Percentages.

In accordance with the LPA, distributions in respect of Pool Braeburn, other than Tax Distributions, shall be made generally as follows:

- First, to the Subject Limited Partner until it has received aggregate distributions equal to its aggregate capital contributions in respect of Pool Braeburn.
- Second, among the Subject Limited Partner and participating Pool Braeburn carried interest Limited Partners, as follows:
  - 92.50% to the Subject Limited Partner and 7.50% to the Limited Partners participating in the carried interest attributable to Pool Braeburn in proportion to their respective Pool Braeburn Carried Interest Percentages.

As of December 31, 2024, $4.1 million of Partners' capital would have been distributed among holders of Incentive Common Units had the Partnership been liquidated at that time.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, during each fiscal year, the Partnership shall distribute in cash to each Partner an amount equal to the aggregate United States federal and state income tax liability attributable to items of gain, loss, or deduction allocated to such partner.

Pursuant to the LPA, during 2024, the Partnership made distributions of $0.58 million from Pool ATP IV and in-kind royalty interest distributions of $722.01 million from Pool Braeburn. These distributions are disclosed on the consolidated statement of changes in partners' capital.

Allocations

In general, profit or loss for each fiscal quarter shall be allocated among the Partners on a Pool-by-Pool basis in a manner that as closely as possible gives economic effect to the provisions of the LPA in regard to distributions and other provisions of such Agreement. In general, to the extent that the sum of the cumulative net investment gain or loss, cumulative net realized gain or loss on portfolio investments and cumulative net deemed gain or loss on distributions in kind to Partners is negative in respect of a Pool, all net investment gains or losses, net realized gains or losses on portfolio investments and deemed gains or losses on distributions in kind in respect of that Pool are allocated on the basis of capital contributions.

Net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on portfolio investments is allocated as if all such investments had been liquidated at their carrying values on the balance sheet date and such amounts were distributed.

NOTE 7 — MANAGEMENT FEE

The Partnership entered into a management agreement with Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC, which is an affiliate of the General Partner. Under the terms of the Agreement, the management company receives a fee of $3.0 million annually payable in advance.

NOTE 8 — INCOME TAXES

Income (loss) before taxes, from ATLS, ATLS UK, and ATPR, on a geographic basis during 2024 was as follows:

	2024
United States	$ 2,069,524
Foreign	41,590
Income (loss) before provision for (benefit from) income taxes	$ 2,111,114

The Partnership's effective tax rate differs from the federal statutory tax rate primarily due to permanent items adjustments, provision to return adjustments, tax rate changes from prior periods, and change in valuation allowance.

Income tax expense:
Current tax
Federal	$ 165,781
State	16,919
Total current tax	$ 182,700
Deferred tax
Federal	$ 311,191
State	15,863
Total deferred tax	327,054
Income tax expense	$ 509,754

The primary components of net deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2024 were as follows:

Deferred tax assets:
Net operating loss carryforwards	$ 450,196
Deferred rent	21,590
Accrued expenses	8,855
Other	244
Total deferred tax assets	$ 480,885

CONFIDENTIAL

Deferred tax liabilities:
Depreciation	$ (10,491)
Total deferred tax liabilities	$ (10,491)

Net deferred tax assets/(liabilities)	$ 470,394
Valuation allowance	(119,866)
Total deferred tax assets, net	$ 350,528

As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had U.S. federal and state net operating loss carryforwards ("NOLs") of $1,340,270 and $652,386, respectively, which may be available to offset future income tax liabilities. The U.S. federal NOL does not expire and the state NOLs begin to expire in 2036 and will expire at various dates through 2040. In addition, as of December 31, 2024, the Partnership had foreign net operating loss carryforwards of $479,465 which may be available to offset future income tax liabilities and do not expire.

Utilization of the U.S. net operating loss carryforwards may be subject to a substantial annual limitation under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and corresponding provisions of state law, due to ownership changes that have occurred previously or that could occur in the future. These ownership changes may limit the amount of carryforwards that can be utilized annually to offset future taxable income. In general, and ownership changes, as defined by Section 382, results from transactions increasing the ownership of certain stockholders by more than 50% over a three-year period. If the Partnership has experienced a change of control, as defined by Section 382, at any time since inception, utilization of the net operating loss carryforwards would be subject to an annual limitation under Section 382, which is determined by first multiplying the value of the Partnership's stock at the time of the ownership change by the applicable long-term tax-exempt rate, and then could be subject to additional adjustments, as required. Any limitation may result in expiration of a portion of the net operating loss carryforwards before utilization. No amounts are being presented as an uncertain tax position.

The Partnership has evaluated the positive and negative evidence bearing upon its ability to realize the deferred tax assets. Management has considered the Partnership's history of cumulative net income (losses) incurred since inception and has concluded that it is more likely than not that the Partnership will not realize the benefits of the deferred tax assets on foreign net operating loss carryforwards. Accordingly, a full valuation allowance has been established against the foreign deferred tax assets as of December 31, 2024. Management evaluates the positive and negative evidence at each reporting period.

Changes in the valuation allowance for deferred tax assets during the year ended December 31, 2024 related to the decrease in foreign net operating loss carryforwards was as follows:

	December 31, 2024
Valuation allowance - beginning of year	$ (130,321)
Decreases recorded to income tax provision	10,455
Valuation allowance - end of year	$ (119,866)

The Partnership has not recorded any amounts for unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2024. The Partnership's policy is to record interest and penalties related to income taxes as part of its income tax provision. As of December 31, 2024, the Partnership has not accrued interest or penalties related to uncertain tax provisions and no amounts have been recognized in the Partnership's consolidated statement of operations.

NOTE 9 — LEASES

On May 30, 2014, the Partnership entered into a lease agreement for corporate office space in New York. The lease commenced on May 1, 2015 and rent commenced on December 1, 2015. The lease expires on December 1, 2025, ten years from the rent commencement date. Annual rent obligations under the lease are $1.1 million per annum for the first five years and $1.2 million for the last five years.

Future minimum rental commitments under the non-cancelable operating lease agreement as of December 31, 2024 are as follows:

Year ending December 31,	Minimum Payments
2025	$ 1,104,001
	$ 1,104,001

NOTE 10 — FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The Partnership is required to disclose financial highlights for the common interest in the Partnership (i.e., the limited partners' interest). These financial highlights consist of operating expenses and net investment loss ratios for the year ended December 31, 2024 and the Internal Rate of Return since inception ("IRR") of the limited partners, net of all fees and profit allocations (carried interest) to the General Partner, through December 31, 2024.

The following summarizes the limited partners' financial highlights:

	Limited Partners
Net investment loss	(0.60) %
Operating expenses	1.00 %
Cumulative internal rate of return through December 31, 2023	21.02 %
Cumulative internal rate of return through December 31, 2024	23.49 %

The net investment loss and operating expense ratios are computed as a percentage of the limited partners' average partners' capital. The IRR is computed based on the actual dates of the cash inflows (capital contributions), outflows (cash and stock distributions), and the ending net assets at the end of the period (residual value) of the Limited Partners' capital account as of each measurement date assuming year end disposition of assets at the fair value reported on the consolidated statement of assets, liabilities, and partners' capital. These financial highlights are calculated for the limited partners taken as a whole. An individual limited partner's return and ratios may vary based on different management fee and incentive fee arrangements and may not be indicative of the future performance of the Partnership.

Rules") (a) authorizing the Debtors to incur post-petition debt, (b) granting liens and super-priority administrative expense claims in favor of the DIP Lender (as defined below), (c) scheduling a final hearing, and (d) granting related relief, and rely on the Declaration of Perry M. Mandarino, Chief Restructuring Officer of the Debtors in Support of Debtors' Motion for Entry of Interim and Final Orders: (A) Authorizing the Debtors to Incur Post-Petition Debt, (B) Granting Super-Priority Administrative Expense Claims, (C) Scheduling a Final Hearing, and (D) Granting Related Relief, filed contemporaneously herewith (the "DIP Declaration"), and respectfully represent as follows:

SUMMARY AND EMERGENCY BASIS

1. The Debtors have sought authority to use cash on hand to fund critical programs at portfolio companies and to pay for administrative expenses (see Docket No. 228, the "Funding Motion"). That Funding Motion will be heard on February 19, 2026. While the requested funding set forth in the Funding Motion benefits the estates and all constituencies, Rigmora has continued with its scorched earth tactics, including trying to block use of cash on hand, because (according to Rigmora) some of the portfolio companies are "hopeless investments." The Debtors submit that they easily satisfy section 363(b) and the Funding Motion should be granted.

2. But the Debtors need to plan for contingencies. Further, the Debtors desire to secure exit financing in order to proceed with a reorganization that leads to a fair and equitable "divorce" and ends the extraordinarily hostile (and ultimate self-destructive) litigation Rigmora has been waging ever since it lost in the Delaware Chancery Court. Thus, the Debtors, led by their chief restructuring officer, have been pursuing both debtor in possession and exit financing.

3. In the event that the Funding Motion is not granted in any respect, or would be conditioned on the imposition of terms or conditions that would result in the unreasonable expenditure of estate resources or delay in achieving a confirmable plan of reorganization, the Debtors seek authorization to enter into post-petition financing pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 364(c).

Without the financing, the Debtors will suffer immediate and irreparable harm because they are at risk of not having sufficient funding to continue their operations, and therefore risk substantial value destruction. Upon approval of this Motion, certain funds managed by Oaktree Capital Management, L.P. (or its assignees), the proposed post-petition lender (the "DIP Lender" and with the DIP Agents (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet (defined below)), the "DIP Secured Parties"), will provide a DIP financing facility (the "DIP Facility"), and in accordance with the DIP Term Sheet attached to the Interim Order as Exhibit 1 (the "DIP Term Sheet" and together with any documentation evidencing the DIP Loan (defined below) agreed to by the Debtor and DIP Secured Parties (in their respective sole discretion), the "DIP Loan Documents"), up to $65 million of which $17 million would be available upon entry of the Interim Order, to be used for the payment of working capital expenses, general corporate purposes, intercompany loans to the Portfolio Companies, professional fees, transaction costs, and expenses, statutory fees for the United States Trustee and allowed professional fees and expenses of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors ("Committee"), and any other amounts set forth in the proposed budget attached to the Interim Order as Exhibit 2 (the "DIP Budget"). In exchange, the DIP Secured Parties will be given liens and super-priority administrative expense claims in the Chapter 11 Cases (as defined below) pursuant to section 364(c).

OVERVIEW

4. The Debtors commenced the Chapter 11 Cases in order to stabilize their businesses, allow the necessary time to revise their capital structure, preserve the value of the Portfolio Companies, and maximize value for all stakeholders. However, the Debtors need financing in order to do so.

5. By this Motion, the Debtors seek authority to consummate a DIP Loan (as defined below) with the DIP Lender on the terms set forth in the DIP Term Sheet, consisting of a new money delayed draw term loan facility in an amount up to $65 million, of which $17 million would be available upon entry of the Interim Order. The proceeds of the DIP Loan will be used to pay: (a) working capital expenses; (b) general corporate purposes; (c) intercompany loans to Portfolio Companies; (d) professional fees, transaction costs, and expenses; (e) statutory fees for the United States Trustee; (f) allowed professional fees and expenses of the Committee; and (g) and any other amounts set forth in the DIP Budget.

6. The Debtors fully acknowledge that the DIP Loan is more expensive for the Debtors' estates than simply using cash on hand. But Rigmora's tactics force the Debtors to have to protect the estates, even if it means a more expensive (albeit short-term) liquidity solution. And the Debtors have found a party ready, willing and able to not only provide short-term liquidity (in the event that the Funding Motion is not granted in any respect, or would be conditioned on the imposition of terms or conditions that would result in the unreasonable expenditure of estate resources or delay in achieving a confirmable plan of reorganization) but work with the Debtors towards an exit that provides capital to the portfolio of companies pursuing life-changing medicines that Rigmora wants to shut down. The DIP Loan thus validates what the Debtors have believed in and why they commenced these cases.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1334 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, dated February 29, 2012. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2), and the Debtors confirm their consent pursuant to Local Rule 9013-1(f) to the entry of a final order by the Court in connection with this Motion to the extent that it is later determined that the Court, absent consent of the parties, cannot enter final orders or judgments in connection herewith consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution.

8. The statutory predicates for the relief sought herein are sections 105(a), 363, and 364 of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rule 4001, and Local Rule 4001-2. Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

BACKGROUND

9. On December 9, 2025, December 15, 2025, January 1, 2026, and January 15, 2026 (the "Petition Dates"), each of the Debtors filed with this Court a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors are operating their business and managing their properties as debtors and debtors in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. On January 20, 2026, the United States Trustee appointed the Committee. Docket No. 194. No request has been made for the appointment of a trustee or an examiner in these cases.

10. The factual background regarding the Debtors, including their current and historical business operations and the events precipitating the chapter 11 filings, is set forth in detail in the Declaration of Dr. Seth L. Harrison in Support of Chapter 11 Petitions and First Day Motions (the "Harrison First Day Declaration"), the Declaration of Perry M. Mandarino, Chief Restructuring Officer of the Debtors, in Support of Chapter 11 Petitions and First Day Motions (the "Mandarino First Day Declaration" and with the Harrison First Day Declaration, the "First Day Declarations"), fully incorporated herein by reference.[3]

RELEVANT FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Debtors' Bankruptcy Cases

11. As described in more detail in the First Day Declarations, the Debtors commenced these Chapter 11 Cases for the purpose of stabilizing their businesses, allowing the necessary time to restructure their capital structure, preserving the value of the Portfolio Companies, and maximizing value for all stakeholders.

[3] Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the First Day Declarations.

12. The Debtors filed the Chapter 11 Cases with approximately $17.3 million in cash on hand. On December 22, 2025, Rigmora wired $96,960,925.88 to the Debtors, as ordered and mandated by the Delaware Chancery Court's Judgment.

13. However, Rigmora has opposed nearly every one of the Debtors' requests for relief, including routine first-day matters. Accordingly, in the face of interminable litigation, the Debtors sought alternative sources of funding, preferably funding that would provide a workable solution to Rigmora's desire to exit the Partnership. B. Riley worked closely with the Debtors' management and other professionals retained by the Debtors' to understand the Company's capital structure, liquidity needs, and business operations, so that it could understand the potential sizing of necessary debtor-in-possession financing, and determined that the Debtors would need up to $65 million in new money financing for the duration of these Chapter 11 Cases.

14. B. Riley then engaged in a robust process seeking financing proposals, including indications of interest for exit financing. It contacted 22 parties to solicit proposals and ten parties entered into non-disclosure agreements and received material non-public information. The parties that executed non-disclosure agreements were provided access to a virtual data room, confidential presentations, information on the Debtors' assets and liabilities and financial projections, liquidity analyses, and other relevant information.

15. As a result of this marketing process, the Debtors received six DIP financing proposals. B. Riley, along with the Debtors' other restructuring advisors, evaluated all the DIP financing proposals in consultation with the Debtors' management. In reviewing the financing alternatives, the Debtors considered each lender's ability to fund, the cost of the debt (including fees and interest), any repayment requirements, the funding timing, the overall flexibility of the proposed financing, and the ability of the lender to work cooperatively with the Debtors, and the utility and flexibility of the financing in achieving an exit strategy for these cases, among other factors.

16. After considering these facts, the Debtors determined that the DIP Lender provided the highest and best proposal submitted. The DIP Lender's proposal provided the Debtors with the liquidity they sought on the most favorable terms available pursuant to the competitive process that B. Riley conducted. The Debtors determined that the DIP Lender's proposal would adequately address the Debtors' reasonably foreseeable liquidity needs while affording the Debtors the flexibility they need to stabilize the business. More importantly, rather than placing additional debt on top of pre-revenue portfolio companies, the Debtors placed significant value on the DIP Lender's willingness and ability to provide exit financing and ultimately support a viable plan of reorganization.

17. The negotiations with the DIP Lender culminated in the DIP Term Sheet. Subject to Court approval pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 364(c), the DIP Lender agreed to provide financing to the Debtors in an amount up to $65 million (the "DIP Loan") (subject to any limitations on borrowing under the DIP Loan Documents). The DIP Loan Documents are contingent upon the DIP Loan having a security interest as set forth in the DIP Term Sheet, and being allowed as a super-priority claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 364(c)(1), with priority over any and all administrative expenses of any kind or nature, subject only to the Carve-Out.

18. The DIP Loan will be used to fund the Debtors' operations during the Chapter 11 cases. If the DIP Loan is not approved and the Funding Motion is denied or conditioned in any respect, then the Debtors will be forced to continue litigating with Rigmora and burning through expenses to use money that the Debtors already won the right to use in the Delaware Chancery Court, with no end in sight. The Debtors have therefore exercised their sound business judgment in deciding to enter into the DIP Loan in order to ensure that these cases can be funded, and that they have a rational funding partner that can provide a bridge to maximizing the value of these estates rather than seeking immediate and destructive liquidation.

19. The Debtors and DIP Lender exchanged multiple drafts of term sheets and debtor-in-possession loan documents with respect to the proposed DIP Loan and conducted hours of intense negotiations. Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP, as advisors to the DIP Lender, and Quinn Emanuel, B. Riley, and Wachtell Lipton Rosen & Katz LLP, as advisors to the Debtors, were fully engaged in this process, exchanging significant diligence information through a virtual data room, participating in numerous conference calls, videoconferences, and negotiations to work toward finalizing DIP financing terms and final documentation. This process involved, among other things, extensive evaluation of the Debtors' financial forecasts by the DIP Lender and the Debtors' financial advisors. The negotiations culminated in the proposed DIP Loan, the terms of which are set forth in the DIP Term Sheet the approval of which is sought on an interim and final basis through this Motion.

20. The marketing process and subsequent negotiations resulted in the proposed DIP Loan which is reasonable in light of the Debtors' financial position and current market conditions. Negotiations were informed and influenced by the Debtors' circumstances and precedent DIP financings, as well as the terms proposed by potential alternative lenders.

21. Based on the Debtors' outreach to numerous institutions to obtain financing, the Debtors (on the recommendation of B. Riley) determined that the DIP Lender's proposed terms were superior to terms that could be obtained from any other prospective lender. Indeed, B. Riley has not received any interest in, or proposals for, an unsecured facility. The proposed DIP Loan will allow the Debtors the necessary liquidity to fund and continue operations during these Chapter 11 Cases.

NEED FOR FINANCING

23. In the event that the Funding Motion is not granted in any respect, or would be conditioned on the imposition of terms or conditions that would result in the unreasonable expenditure of estate resources or delay in achieving a confirmable plan of reorganization, the Debtors urgently need immediate access to funds available under the DIP Loan. Rigmora's actions made the Debtors' financial situation particularly acute. The Debtors need funding to avoid immediate and irreparable harm to the Debtors, their estates, their creditors, and other parties-in-interest, and to enable the Debtors to have sufficient liquidity to operate and to restructure. Without immediate access to the DIP Loan, the Debtors would be forced to immediately liquidate their assets, which would irreparably damage the Debtors' efforts to preserve value available for distribution to its stakeholders. Accordingly, the Debtors strongly urge the Court to authorize the DIP Loan on the terms contemplated herein, initially on an interim basis and, following a Final Hearing, on a final basis.

BASIS FOR RELIEF

A. THE DEBTORS SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO OBTAIN POST-PETITION FINANCING PURSUANT TO SECTION 364(C) OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE.

24. Section 364(c) of the Bankruptcy Code provides as follows:

> (c) If the trustee [or debtor in possession] is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under § 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative expense, the court, after notice and a hearing, may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt –
>
> (1) with priority over any and all administrative expenses of the kind specified in § 503(b) or 507(b) of this title;
>
> (2) secured by a lien on property of the estate that is not otherwise subject to a lien; or
>
> (3) secured by a junior lien on property of the estate that is subject to a lien.

11 U.S.C. § 364(c).

25. Courts grant a debtor-in-possession considerable deference in acting in accordance with its business judgment in obtaining postpetition secured credit, so long as the agreement to obtain such credit does not run afoul of the provisions of, and policies underlying, the Bankruptcy Code. See, e.g., In re L.A. Dodgers LLC, 457 B.R. 308, 313 (Bankr. D. Del. 2011) ("[C]ourts will almost always defer to the business judgment of a debtor in the selection of the lender."); Trans World Airlines, Inc. v. Travelers Int'l AG (In re Trans World Airlines, Inc.), 163 B.R. 964, 974

(Bankr. D. Del. 1994) (approving post-petition credit facility because such facility "reflect[ed] sound and prudent business judgment"); In re Ames Dep't Stores, Inc., 115 B.R. 34, 40 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1990) ("[C]ases consistently reflect that the court's discretion under Section 364 is to be utilized on grounds that permit reasonable business judgment to be exercised so long as the financing agreement does not contain terms that leverage the bankruptcy process and powers or its purpose is not so much to benefit the estate as it is to benefit a party in interest.").

26. Specifically, to determine whether the business judgment standard is met, a court need only "examine whether a reasonable business person would make a similar decision under similar circumstances." In re Exide Techs., 340 B.R. 222, 239 (Bankr. D. Del. 2006); see also In re Curlew Valley Assocs., 14 B.R. 506, 513–14 (Bankr. D. Utah 1981) (noting that courts should not second guess debtor's business decision when that decision involves "a business judgment made in good faith, upon a reasonable basis, and within the scope of the debtor's authority under the [Bankruptcy] Code"). Bankruptcy courts routinely accept a debtor's business judgment on many business decisions, including the decision to borrow money. See, e.g., Group of Inst. Investors v. Chicago, Mil., St. P. & Pac., 318 U.S. 523, 550 (1943) (holding that decisions regarding assumption or rejection of leases are left to the business judgment of the debtor); In re Simasko Prod. Co., 47 B.R. 444, 449 (D. Colo. 1985) ("[b]usiness judgments should be left to the board room and not to this Court"). Further, one court has noted that "[m]ore exacting scrutiny [of the debtors' business decisions] would slow the administration of the debtor's estate and increase its cost, interfere with the Bankruptcy Code's provision for private control of administration of the estate, and threaten the court's ability to control a case impartially." Richmond Leasing Co. v. Capital Bank, N.A., 762 F.2d 1303, 1311 (5th Cir. 1985).

27. Bankruptcy courts generally will defer to a debtor in possession's business judgment regarding the need for and the proposed use of funds, unless such decision is arbitrary and capricious, see In re Curlew Valley Assocs., 14 B.R. 506, 511-14 (Bankr. D. Utah 1981) (discussing deference generally to the trustee of an estate); see also Trans World Airlines, Inc., 163 B.R. at 974 (approving interim loan, receivables facility and asset-based facility based upon prudent business judgment of the debtor), and generally will not second-guess a debtor in possession's business decisions involving "a business judgment made in good faith, upon a reasonable basis, and within the scope of his authority under the Code." Curlew Valley, 14 B.R. at 513-14 (footnotes omitted). "More exacting scrutiny would slow the administration of the debtor's estate and increase its costs, interfere with the Bankruptcy Code's provision for private control of administration of the estate, and threaten the court's ability to control a case impartially." Richmond Leasing Co. v. Capital Bank, N.A., 762 F.2d 1303, 1311 (5th Cir. 1985).

28. Further, in considering whether the terms of postpetition financing are fair and reasonable, courts consider the terms in light of the relative circumstances of both the debtor and the potential lender. See In re Farmland Indus., Inc., 294 B.R. 855, 886 (Bankr. W.D. Mo. 2003) (while terms favored DIP lenders, "taken in context, and considering the relative circumstances of the parties," court found them to be reasonable); see also Unsecured Creditors' Comm. Mobil Oil Corp. v. First Nat'l Bank & Trust Co. (In re Elingsen McLean Oil Co., Inc.), 65 B.R. 358, 365 n.7 (W.D. Mich. 1986) (recognizing debtor may have to enter into "hard bargains" to acquire funds for its reorganization). The Court may also appropriately take into consideration the non-economic benefits to the Debtors offered by a proposed postpetition facility. For example, in In re ION Media Networks. Inc., the bankruptcy court for the Southern District of New York held that:

> Although all parties, including the Debtors and the Committee, are naturally motivated to obtain financing on the best possible terms, a business decision to > obtain credit from a particular lender is almost never based purely on economic terms. Relevant features of the financing must be evaluated, including non-economic elements such as the timing and certainty of closing, the impact on creditor constituencies and the likelihood of a successful reorganization. This is particularly true in a bankruptcy setting where cooperation and establishing alliances with creditor groups can be a vital part of building support for a restructuring that ultimately may lead to a confirmable reorganization plan. That which helps foster consensus may be preferable to a notionally better transaction that carries the risk of promoting unwanted conflict.

No. 09-13125, 2009 WL 2902568, at *4 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. July 6, 2009).

29. Additionally, a debtor is not required to seek credit from every possible source: "the statute imposes no duty to seek credit from every possible lender before concluding that such credit is unavailable." Bray v. Shenandoah Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass'n (In re Snowshoe Co.), 789 F.2d 1085, 1088 (4th Cir. 1986). Rather, a debtor need only demonstrate "by a good faith effort that credit was not available without" the protections of section 364(c). Id.; see also In re Ames, 115 B.R. 34, 40 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1990). Where there are few lenders likely to be able and willing to extend the necessary credit to the debtor, "it would be unrealistic and unnecessary to require [the debtor] to conduct an exhaustive search for financing." In re Sky Valley, Inc., 100 B.R. 107, 113 (Bankr. N.D. Ga. 1988).

30. The Debtors have satisfied the requirements of sections 364(c) because, under current circumstances, the Debtors are unable to obtain credit other than as provided in this Motion. Specifically, the Debtors are unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of this title as an administrative claim, and the DIP Lender is unwilling to provide financing without the protection of a lien and super-priority claim. The Debtors' determination to move forward with the DIP Facility is also an exercise of their sound business judgment following an exhaustive, arm's-length process and careful evaluation of potential alternatives. Specifically, and in the face of insufficient cash on hand, the Debtors and their advisors determined that the Debtors would require postpetition financing to support their operational and chapter 11 activities. The Debtors, with the assistance of their advisors, underwent an exhaustive and competitive prepetition process for selecting DIP financing. The Debtors and the DIP Secured Parties negotiated the DIP Loan in good faith, at arm's-length, and with the assistance of their respective advisors, and the Debtors believe that they have obtained financing on the best available terms. On the basis of the foregoing, the Debtors submit that entry into the DIP Facility and the DIP Loan Documents is in the best interests of the Debtors' creditors, is necessary to preserve the value of estate assets, and is an exercise of the Debtors' sound and reasonable business judgment.

B. THE DEBTORS SHOULD BE AUTHORIZED TO OBTAIN POSTPETITION FINANCING ON A SECURED SUPERPRIORITY BASIS.

31. The Debtors propose to obtain financing under the DIP Facility by providing security interests and liens as set forth in the DIP Loan Documents pursuant to sections 364(c)(2) and (c)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, subject to the Carve-Out, the Debtors propose to provide (i) valid, enforceable, first priority, fully perfected security interests in and liens upon all of the DIP Collateral (other than the Excluded Collateral) that is not encumbered as of the Petition Date pursuant to section 364(c)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, with priority over any and all other administrative expenses, adequate protection claims, diminution in value claims, and all other claims asserted against the Debtors now existing or hereafter arising of any kind whatsoever and (ii) pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 364(c)(3), valid, binding, enforceable, non-avoidable and fully-perfected security interests in and continuing liens on all of the DIP Obligors' rights, title and interests in all of their property, whether now existing or hereafter acquired, that is subject to valid, perfected, enforceable and unavoidable lien or security interest on the Petition Date or subject to a valid lien or security interest in existence on the Petition Date that is perfected subsequent thereto as expressly permitted by Section 546(b) of the Bankruptcy Code (other than Excluded Collateral). In other words, the DIP Facility will be secured by substantially all of the Debtors' assets.

32. The statutory requirement for obtaining postpetition credit under section 364(c) is a finding, made after notice and hearing, that a debtor is "unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of [the Bankruptcy Code]." See In re Crouse Grp., Inc., 71 B.R. 544, 549 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1987) (secured credit under section 364(c) of the Bankruptcy Code is authorized, after notice and hearing, upon showing that unsecured credit cannot be obtained). Courts have articulated a three-part test to determine whether a debtor is entitled to financing under section 364(c) of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, courts look to whether:

a) the debtor is unable to obtain unsecured credit under section 364(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, i.e., by allowing a lender only an administrative claim;

b) the credit transaction is necessary to preserve the assets of the estate; and

c) the terms of the transaction are fair, reasonable, and adequate, given the circumstances of the debtor-borrower and proposed lenders.

See In re Ames Dep't Stores, 115 B.R. at 37–40 ; see also In re St. Mary Hosp., 86 B.R. 393, 401–02 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1988); Crouse Grp., 71 B.R. at 549.

33. As described above and as set forth in the First Day Declarations and the DIP Declaration, the Debtors are in need of an immediate capital infusion. The Debtors canvassed the market and received several competitive proposals. Throughout the Debtors' search for new financing, no prospective lender indicated willingness to provide financing on an unsecured basis, nor did the Debtors' advisors believe that such financing was likely to be available under these circumstances. Without postpetition financing, the Debtors lack sufficient funds to operate their businesses and cover the projected costs of these Chapter 11 Cases, absent significant and value-destructive litigation with Rigmora.

34. Given the Debtors' circumstances, the Debtors believe that the terms of the DIP Facility, as set forth in the DIP Orders and the other DIP Loan Documents, are fair, reasonable, and adequate. For the reasons set forth above and herein, the Debtors submit that they have met the standard for obtaining postpetition financing on a secured basis.

35. The granting of superpriority administrative claim status to the DIP Facility is also warranted here. In the event that a debtor is unable to obtain unsecured credit allowable as an administrative expense under section 503(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, section 364(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a court "may authorize the obtaining of credit or the incurring of debt (a) with priority over any or all administrative expenses of the kind specified in section 503(b) or 507(b) of the [Bankruptcy Code.]" As described above, the Debtors are unable to obtain unsecured credit. Therefore, approving a superpriority claim in favor of the DIP Lender is reasonable and appropriate.

C. THE DEBTORS SHOULD BE AUTHORIZED TO PAY THE FEES REQUIRED BY THE DIP SECURED PARTIES UNDER THE DIP LOAN DOCUMENTS.

36. Under the DIP Loan Documents, the Debtors have agreed to pay certain fees to the DIP Secured Parties pursuant to the DIP Loan Documents. Such fees include (i) a 1.00% upfront fee, (ii) a 2.00% undrawn fee, and (iii) a 5.00% exit fee. In addition, the Debtors have agreed to pay the reasonable, documented fees, costs and expenses incurred or accrued by the DIP Secured Parties in connection with any and all aspects of the Chapter 11 Cases, including, without limitation, the reasonable, documented fees and expenses of legal counsel and other professionals.

37. Such fees effectively compensate the DIP Agent and Lenders for their commitment to provide the DIP Facility on the terms described in the DIP Term Sheet, and the funding of the DIP Loans. These fees were negotiated in good faith and at arms' length and represent the most favorable terms available to the Debtors or on which the DIP Lenders would agree to make the DIP Facility available.

38. The Debtors considered these fees when determining in their sound business judgment that the DIP Facility constituted the best terms of which the Debtors could obtain the postpetition financing necessary to continue their operations and restructure. As set forth in the DIP Declaration, the fees are integral components of the overall terms of the DIP Facility, and were required by the DIP Agent and Lenders as consideration for the extension of postpetition financing. Accordingly, the Court should authorize the Debtors to pay the fees provided under the DIP Loan Documents.

D. THE DIP LENDER SHOULD BE DEEMED A GOOD-FAITH LENDER UNDER SECTION 364(E).

39. Section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code protects a good-faith lender's right to collect on loans extended to a debtor, and its right in any lien securing those loans, even if the authority of the debtor to obtain such loans or grant such liens is later reversed or modified on appeal. Section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that:

> The reversal or modification on appeal of an authorization under this section [364 of the Bankruptcy Code] to obtain credit or incur debt, or of a grant under this section of a priority or a lien, does not affect the validity of any debt so incurred, or any priority or lien so granted, to an entity that extended such credit in good faith, whether or not such entity knew of the pendency of the appeal, unless such authorization and the incurring of such debt, or the granting of such priority or lien, were stayed pending appeal.

40. As explained herein and in the DIP Declaration, the DIP Loan Documents are the result of: (a) the Debtors' reasonable and informed determination that the DIP Secured Parties offered the most favorable terms on which to obtain vital postpetition financing and (b) extended arm's-length, good-faith negotiations between the Debtors and the DIP Secured Parties. The Debtors submit that the terms and conditions of the DIP Loan Documents are reasonable and appropriate under the circumstances, and the proceeds of the DIP Facility will be used only for purposes that are permissible under the Bankruptcy Code. Further, no consideration is being provided to any party to the DIP Loan Documents other than as described herein. Accordingly, the Court should find that the DIP Lenders is a "good faith" lender within the meaning of section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code and are entitled to all of the protections afforded by that section.

E. INTERIM ORDER AND FINAL HEARING.

41. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 4001(b)(2) and 4001(c)(2), the Debtors request that the Court set a date for the Final Hearing that is as soon as practicable, and fix the time and date prior to the Final Hearing for parties to file objections to the Motion.

42. The urgent need to preserve wind down value, and avoid immediate and irreparable harm to the Debtors' estates, makes it imperative that the Debtors be authorized to access the DIP Loan, pending the Final Hearing, in order to continue their operations and to allow the Debtors to administer their cases. Without the ability to make draws under the DIP Loan, the Debtors would be unable to meet their obligations in the wind down, thus causing irreparable harm to the Debtors and the value of these estates available for distribution to all stakeholders, including Debtors' customers and other creditors. Accordingly, the Debtors respectfully request that, pending the hearing on a Final Order, the Interim Order be approved in all respects and that the terms and provisions of the Interim Order be implemented and be deemed binding and that, after the Final Hearing, the Final Order be approved in all respects and the terms and provisions of the Final Order be implemented and be deemed binding.

NOTICE OF MOTION

43. The Debtors will provide notice of this Motion to the following parties or their respective counsel: (a) the United States Trustee for the District of Delaware; (b) the Committee; (c) the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Delaware; (d) the Internal Revenue Service; (e) the offices of the attorneys general in the states in which the Debtors operate; (f) all other parties asserting a lien on or a security interest in the assets of the Debtors to the extent reasonably known to the Debtors; and (g) any party that has requested notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. Under the circumstances and given the nature of the relief sought in the Motion, the Debtors believe such notice constitutes due, sufficient and appropriate notice and complies with section 102(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules 2002 and 4001(b) and (c) and Local Rules 2002-1 and 4001-2. Thus, the Debtors believe no further notice is necessary, and the that the form, scope and timing of notice of the Motion were adequate and sufficient under the circumstances.

NO PRIOR REQUEST

44. No prior request for the relief requested herein has been made to this or any other court.

WHEREFORE, the Debtors request that the Court enter the Interim Order and, after opportunity for a Final Hearing, the Final Order and grant such other and further relief as the Court deems appropriate.

B. Debtors in Possession. The Debtors have continued in the management and operation of their businesses and properties as debtors in possession pursuant to sections 1107 and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code.

C. Jurisdiction and Venue. This Court has jurisdiction over the Chapter 11 Cases, the DIP Motion, and the parties and property affected hereby pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(a)-(b) and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, dated February 29, 2012. Consideration of the DIP Motion constitutes a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). This Court may enter a final order approving the relief sought in the DIP Motion consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution. Venue for the Chapter 11 Cases and proceedings on the DIP Motion is proper before this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409. The predicates for the relief sought herein are sections 105, 361, 362, 363(b), 363(c), 363(e), 363(m), 364(c), 364(d)(1), 364(e), and 503 of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules 2002, 4001, 6003, 6004 and 9014, and Local Rule 4001-2.

D. Committee Formation. On January 20, 2026, the Office of the United States Trustee for the District of Delaware (the "U.S. Trustee") appointed an official committee of unsecured creditors in these cases (the "Creditors' Committee"). See ECF No. 194.

E. Notice. The Interim Hearing was held pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 4001(b)(2) and (c)(2). Notice of the DIP Motion and relief requested thereby and granted in this Interim Order has been provided to (a) the U.S. Trustee for the District of Delaware; (b) the Creditors' Committee; (c) the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Delaware; (d) the Internal Revenue Service; (e) the offices of the attorneys' general in the states in which the Debtors operate; (f) all other parties asserting a lien on or a security interest in the assets of the Debtors to the extent reasonably known to the Debtors; and (g) any party that has requested notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. Under the circumstances, such notice of the Interim Hearing and the relief requested in the DIP Motion constitutes due, sufficient, and appropriate notice and complies with section 102(l) of the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules 2002, 4001(b) and (c), and 9014, and the Local Rules. The interim relief granted herein is necessary to avoid immediate and irreparable harm to the Debtors and their estates pending the Final Hearing.

F. Cash Collateral. As used herein, the term "Cash Collateral" shall mean all cash and cash equivalents of the Obligors, whenever and wherever acquired, and the proceeds of all DIP Collateral, or that otherwise constitutes or will constitute "cash collateral" of any of the DIP Secured Parties within the meaning of section 363(a) of the Bankruptcy Code.

G. Findings Regarding DIP Financing.

(i) Good and sufficient cause has been shown for the entry of this Interim Order and for authorization of the Obligors to obtain financing pursuant to the DIP Loan Documents.

(ii) As set forth in the DIP Declaration and the First Day Declaration, the Debtors have demonstrated that incurring the DIP Financing is necessary to avoid immediate and irreparable harm to the Debtors' estates. The incurrence of the DIP Financing is necessary to, among other things, fund the Debtors' efforts and activities essential to the viability of these Chapter 11 Cases, permit the orderly continuation of the operation of their businesses, maintain business relationships with vendors, suppliers, and customers, make payroll, satisfy other working capital and operational needs, and fund administrative expenses of these Chapter 11 Cases. The ability of the Debtors to obtain sufficient working capital and liquidity under the DIP Loan Documents and other financial accommodations provided under the DIP Loan Documents is therefore necessary for the avoidance of such immediate irreparable harm to the Debtors' estates and to permit the Debtors to preserve and maintain any going concern value. The Debtors and their Estates will, instead, suffer immediate and irreparable harm if immediate financing is not obtained. The terms of the DIP Facility are fair and reasonable, reflect the Debtors' exercise of prudent business judgment, and are supported by reasonably equivalent value and fair consideration.

(iii) As set forth in the DIP Declaration and the First Day Declaration, the Debtors are unable to obtain adequate unsecured credit allowable under section 503(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code as an administrative expense or secured financing on more favorable terms from sources other than the DIP Lenders under the DIP Loan Documents. The Debtors are also unable to obtain secured credit without granting the DIP Liens and the DIP Superpriority Claims (each as defined below) to the DIP Secured Parties on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Interim Order and in the DIP Loan Documents.

(iv) Based on the representations and arguments made by the DIP Motion, and based on the DIP Declaration, the First Day Declaration and the record and argument presented to the Court at the Interim Hearing, the terms of the DIP Financing and the DIP Loan Documents are consistent with the Bankruptcy Code, are fair and reasonable, and reflect the Obligors' exercise of prudent business judgment consistent with their fiduciary duties under the circumstances.

(v) The DIP Financing, the DIP Term Sheet, and the DIP Facility, have been negotiated in good faith and at arm's length among the Obligors and the DIP Secured Parties, and all of the loans and other financial accommodations extended by the DIP Secured Parties to the Obligors under, in respect of, or in connection with, the DIP Financing and the DIP Loan Documents, shall be deemed to have been extended by the DIP Secured Parties in good faith, as that term is used in section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code and in express reliance upon the protections offered by section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code, and the DIP Secured Parties (and their respective successors and assigns) shall be entitled to the full protection of section 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

(vi) The DIP Secured Parties have acted in good faith in connection with the negotiation, implementation, and documentation, and approvals contemplated by this Interim Order and the DIP Facility, including in respect of the granting of the DIP Liens, any challenges or objections to the DIP Facility or the use of DIP Collateral, the DIP Loan Documents, and all other documents related to and all transactions contemplated by the foregoing. Accordingly, without limitation to any other right to indemnification, the DIP Secured Parties shall be and hereby are indemnified (as applicable) as provided in the DIP Loan Documents, in an amount not to exceed the Interim Amount prior to the entry of the Final Order, including, without limitation, section 35 of the DIP Term Sheet.

(vii) The Borrower has prepared and delivered to the DIP Administrative Agent and the Initial DIP Lender an initial budget which the DIP Administrative Agent and the Initial DIP Lender have agreed is acceptable in form, scope, and substance (the "Initial Approved DIP Budget"), attached hereto as Exhibit 2. The Initial Approved DIP Budget reflects, among other things, the Debtors' total receipts and net disbursements for each calendar week covered thereby. The Initial DIP Budget may be modified, amended, extended, and updated from time to time in accordance with the DIP Loan Documents. In determining to extend postpetition financing under the DIP Loan Documents and this Interim Order, the DIP Secured Parties are relying, in part, upon the Obligors' undertaking to use proceeds of the DIP Facility in a manner consistent with the DIP Budget (including with respect to the Permitted Variance (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet). Subsequent to the Initial Closing Date (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet), on the Friday of every fourth week, the Borrower shall deliver to the DIP Administrative Agent an updated budget (the "Updated DIP Budget") in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the DIP Administrative Agent and the Initial DIP Lender, which shall include a reconciliation of the prior period's actual results to the corresponding period in the Updated DIP Budget. The term "DIP Budget" shall mean the Initial Approved DIP Budget until such time as an Updated DIP Budget is approved, following which such Updated DIP Budget shall constitute the DIP Budget until a subsequent Updated DIP Budget is so approved. If the Borrower and the Requisite DIP Lenders cannot agree on an updated budget, the then-current DIP Budget shall remain in effect unless and until a new DIP Budget is agreed to by the Borrower and the Requisite DIP Lenders.

H. Immediate Entry. Good and sufficient cause exists for immediate entry of this Interim Order pursuant to Bankruptcy Rules 4001(b)(2), (c)(2), and 6003. Absent the relief granted in this Interim Order, the Debtors' estates will be immediately and irreparably harmed. Consummation of the DIP Financing, in accordance with this Interim Order and the DIP Loan Documents, are therefore consistent with the Debtors' exercise of their fiduciary duties. The DIP Motion and this Interim Order comply with the requirements of Local Rule 4001-2.

I. Based upon the DIP Motion, the foregoing findings and conclusions, and the overall record before this Court, and after due consideration, and good and sufficient cause appearing thereof:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. Motion Granted. The DIP Motion is granted on an interim basis on the terms and conditions set forth in this Interim Order. The DIP Facility, in an amount up to the Interim Amount, is hereby authorized to the extent set forth herein. Any and all objections to entry of the Interim Order to the extent not withdrawn, waived, settled, or resolved, and all reservations of rights included therein, are hereby overruled on the merits. This Interim Order shall become effective immediately upon its entry.

2. Authorization of the DIP Financing and the DIP Loan Documents.

(a) The Obligors are hereby authorized to execute, deliver, enter into, and perform all of their obligations under the DIP Loan Documents and perform such other acts as may be necessary, appropriate, or desirable in connection therewith. The Borrower is hereby authorized to borrow the DIP Loans pursuant to the DIP Loan Documents, and the Guarantors are hereby authorized to guarantee the Borrower's obligations under the DIP Loan Documents, subject to any limitations set forth in the DIP Loan Documents. The proceeds of the DIP Loans shall be used for all purposes permitted under the DIP Loan Documents and this Interim Order and, subject to and in accordance with the applicable DIP Budget (subject to the Permitted Variance (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet)).

(b) The Borrower and the other Obligors are authorized to advance funds including proceeds from the DIP Facility to the Intercompany Borrowers, pursuant and subject to the terms of the Intercompany Facility, which borrowings shall be secured by the assets of the Intercompany Borrowers.

(c) In furtherance of the foregoing and without further approval of this Court, each Obligor is authorized to perform all acts, to make, execute, and deliver all instruments, certificates, agreements, charges, deeds and documents, execute or record pledge and security agreements, mortgages, financing statements and other similar documents, if any, and to pay all fees, expenses and indemnities in connection with or that may be reasonably required, necessary, or desirable in connection with the DIP Financing, including, without limitation:

(i) the execution and delivery of, and performance under, each of the DIP Loan Documents and any other documents contemplated thereby and the payment of any fees, expenses, or other amounts payable in connection therewith;

(ii) the execution and delivery of, and performance under, one or more amendments, waivers, consents or other modifications to and under the DIP Loan Documents, in each case, in such form as the Obligors and the Requisite DIP Lenders may agree, it being understood that no further approval of this Court shall be required for any such amendments, waivers, consents or other modifications (i) that do not constitute a material change to the terms of the DIP Loan Documents and (ii) copies of which are served upon counsel for the Creditors' Committee and the U.S. Trustee. Any amendment, modification or waiver that constitutes a material change, to be effective, must be approved by the Court. For purposes hereof, a "material change" shall mean a change to a DIP Loan Document that operates to shorten the term of the DIP Facility or the maturity of the DIP Obligations, to increase the aggregate amount of the DIP Commitments of the DIP Lenders under the DIP Facility, to increase the rate of interest other than as currently provided in or contemplated by such DIP Loan Documents, to add specific Events of Default, or to enlarge the nature and extent of remedies available to the DIP Agents following the occurrence of an Event of Default. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, no amendment of a DIP Loan Document that postpones or extends any date or deadline therein or herein (including, without limitation, the expiration of the term of the DIP Facility), nor any waiver of an Event of Default, shall constitute a "material change" and any such amendment may be effectuated by the Obligors and the Requisite DIP Lenders without the need for further approval of the Court. Any material change to the DIP Loan Documents shall be provided (either via e-mail if such parties have consented to email service or otherwise via regular mail) to the U.S. Trustee, counsel to the Creditors' Committee, and any parties requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002, and be filed with the Court, with the filing of such relief automatically triggering the right to a status conference with the Court to determine scheduling a hearing to consider such relief. The foregoing shall be without prejudice to the Debtors' right to seek approval from the Court of a material change on an expedited basis; and the non-refundable payment to any of the DIP Secured Parties of all reasonable and documented fees in connection with the DIP Facility, including the Upfront Fee, the Exit Fee, the Undrawn Fee, and the MOIC Amount (including, subject to the review and invoice procedures in Paragraph 17 of this Interim Order, the reasonable and documented fees and out-of-pocket expenses of professionals retained by, or on behalf of, any of the DIP Secured Parties (the "DIP Lender Advisors") (collectively, the "DIP Fees and Expenses")) in each case, as provided in the DIP Loan Documents, without the need to file retention or fee applications; the payment of the foregoing shall be irrevocable, and shall be deemed to have been approved upon entry of this Interim Order, whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated, and upon payment thereof, shall not be subject to any contest, attack, rejection, recoupment, reduction, defense, counterclaim, offset, subordination, recharacterization, avoidance, disallowance, impairment, or other claim, cause of action or other challenge of any nature under the Bankruptcy Code or applicable non-bankruptcy law.

3. DIP Obligations. Upon execution and delivery of the DIP Loan Documents, the DIP Loan Documents shall constitute legal, valid, binding and non-avoidable obligations of the Obligors, enforceable against each Obligor and its estate, and any successors thereto, including any trustee appointed in these Chapter 11 Cases, or in any case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code upon conversion of any of these cases, in any other proceeding superseding or related to any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Successor Cases"), or dismissal of these Chapter 11 Cases, in accordance with their respective terms and this Interim Order. Upon execution and delivery of the DIP Loan Documents, the DIP Obligations shall include all loans and any other indebtedness or obligations, contingent or absolute, which may from time to time be owing by any of the Obligors to any of the DIP Secured Parties, in such capacities, in each case, under the DIP Loan Documents and this Interim Order, including all principal, interest, costs, fees, expenses, premiums, indemnities and other amounts. The Obligors shall be jointly and severally liable for the DIP Obligations, regardless of whether such DIP Obligation is separately identified in this Interim Order or any subsequent Order. Except as permitted hereby, no obligation, payment, transfer, or grant of security hereunder or under the DIP Loan Documents to the DIP Agents and/or the other DIP Secured Parties shall be stayed, restrained, voidable, avoidable, or recoverable, under the Bankruptcy Code or under any applicable law (including, without limitation, under sections 502(d), 544, and 547 to 550 of the Bankruptcy Code or under any applicable state Uniform Voidable Transactions Act, Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act, or similar statute or common law), or subject to any defense, avoidance, reduction, setoff, recoupment, offset, recharacterization, subordination (whether equitable, contractual, or otherwise), disallowance, impairment, claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or any other challenge, whether under the Bankruptcy Code or any other applicable law or regulation by any person or entity for any reason.

4. Carve-Out. Notwithstanding anything in this Interim Order, any DIP Loan Documents, or any other order of this Court to the contrary, the rights and claims of the DIP Lender, including the DIP Liens (and all liens junior to the DIP Liens), shall be subject and subordinate in all respects to the payment of the Carve-Out. As used in this Interim Order, "Carve-Out" means the sum of (i) all fees required to be paid to the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court and to the U.S. Trustee, (ii) all reasonable fees and expenses incurred by a chapter 7 trustee under section 726(b) of the Bankruptcy Code in an amount not to exceed $75,000, (iii) all unpaid claims for fees, costs, disbursements and expenses of professionals whose retention by the Debtors is approved by the Bankruptcy Court pursuant to Sections 327, 328, or 363 of the Bankruptcy Code (the "Debtor Professionals") and professionals retained by the Committee ("Committee Professionals" and together with the Debtor Professionals, the "Professionals") (collectively, the "Professional Fees") incurred at any time on or prior to the first business day following the delivery of a Trigger Notice in accordance with the DIP Budget and (iv) Professional Fees incurred after the delivery of a Trigger Notice in an amount not to exceed $350,000 for Debtor Professionals and for Committee Professionals ("Trigger Cap"), in each case to the extent that such fees and expenses are allowed at any time, whether by interim order, procedural order, or otherwise by the Bankruptcy Court. As used in this Interim Order, "Trigger Notice" means a written notice delivered by email (or other electronic means) by the DIP Lenders to the Debtors, their lead restructuring counsel, the U.S. Trustee, and counsel to the Committee, which notice may be delivered following the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default and acceleration of the DIP Obligations under the DIP Loan Documents, stating that the Trigger Cap has been invoked. So long as a Trigger Notice has not been delivered, the Debtors are authorized and directed to direct funds to a segregated designated professional fee trust account (the "Professional Fee Account") in the amount equal to, but not to exceed, the Professional Fees budged for professionals retained by the Debtors or the Committee (the "Budgeted Professional Fees"). Except for the funding of the Carve Out from the DIP Collateral, none of the DIP Secured Parties shall have any responsibility, liability, or obligation whatsoever to fund, direct payment or reimbursement of any fees or disbursements, or otherwise ensure that the Debtors fund the Professional Fee Account or that the Professional Fee Account has funds equal to the aggregate amount of the Budgeted Estate Professional Fees for any applicable period. The Debtors are authorized and directed to fund the Professional Fee Account on a weekly basis in an amount up to, but not to exceed, the Budgeted Estate Professional Fees for that week. Such funds shall be held in an identifiable segregated account for the benefit of the Professionals, to be applied to the Professional Fees of the Professionals that are approved for payment pursuant to one or more orders of this Court. Any Professional Fees payable to the Professionals shall be paid first out of the Professional Fee Account. For the avoidance of doubt, the delivery and effectiveness of a Trigger Notice shall not limit or impair the Debtors' right to use funds in the Professional Fee Account to pay allowed Professional Fees.

5. DIP Superpriority Claims. Subject to and subordinate only to the Carve-Out, pursuant to section 364(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, all of the DIP Obligations shall at all times constitute allowed superpriority administrative expense claims in the Chapter 11 Cases (the "DIP Superpriority Claims") against the Obligors on a joint and several basis (without the need to file any proof of claim). The DIP Superpriority Claims shall, subject only to the Carve-Out, be payable from, and have recourse to, proceeds of all DIP Collateral (as defined herein). The DIP Superpriority Claims shall have priority over all claims and administrative expense claims against the Debtors, now existing or hereafter arising, of any kind or nature whatsoever, including, without limitation, administrative expenses of the kinds specified in or ordered pursuant to sections 105, 326, 327, 328, 330, 331, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 503(a), 503(b), 507(a), 507(b), 546(c), 546(d), 552(b), 726, 1113, 1114 and any other provision of the Bankruptcy Code, and shall at all times be senior to the rights of the Debtors and any successor trustee or creditor in the Chapter 11 Cases or any Successor Case(s) thereto.

6. DIP Liens. As security for the DIP Obligations, effective and automatically properly perfected on the date this Interim Order is entered, and without the necessity of execution, recordation or filing of any perfection documents, security agreements, pledge agreements, financing statements, control agreements or other agreements or instruments, or the possession or control by the DIP Collateral Agent of, or over, any DIP Collateral, without any further action by the DIP Secured Parties, the following valid, binding, continuing, duly perfected, enforceable and non-avoidable security interests and liens (the "DIP Liens") are hereby granted to the DIP Collateral Agent for the benefit of the DIP Secured Parties (all property identified in clauses (a) and (b) below being collectively referred to as the "DIP Collateral"):

(a) First Priority Liens on Unencumbered Property. Subject to and subordinate only to the Carve-Out, pursuant to Section 364(c)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, a valid, binding, continuing, enforceable, duly perfected first priority lien on and security interest in any and all tangible and intangible prepetition and postpetition Property of the Obligors (as defined herein), whether existing on the Petition Date or thereafter acquired, and the proceeds, products, rents, and profits thereof, that, (i) as of the Petition Date, is not subject to (x) a valid, perfected, and non-avoidable lien, or (y) a valid and non-avoidable lien in existence as of the Petition Date that is perfected subsequent to the Petition Date as permitted by section 546(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, in each case including, but not limited to, liens granted to any Obligor by any subsidiary or affiliate of any obligor (the "Prepetition Intercompany Liens"), or (ii) as of the date hereof, is not subject to (x) any lien granted pursuant to the Final Order to (I) Make and Accept Secured Loans to Portfolio Companies, (II) Authorize to the Extent Outside the Ordinary Course of Business Payment of Management Company Expenses and (III) Grant Related Relief (ECF No. 206) (the "Postpetition Intercompany Liens") or (y) any lien that has arisen as a matter of law subsequent to the Petition Date to the fullest extent of applicable law (liens described in (i) and (ii) collectively, the "Permitted Prior Liens"), other than claims and causes of action under sections 502(d), 544, 545, 547, 548, and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code, and, subject to entry of the Final Order granting such relief, any other avoidance actions under the Bankruptcy Code (the "Avoidance Actions"), but including any proceeds or property recovered as a result of any Avoidance Actions (the "Avoidance Proceeds") (collectively, such property, the "Unencumbered Property"). For the avoidance of doubt, the DIP Liens granted pursuant to this paragraph 6(a) shall be senior in priority to all liens other than the Permitted Prior Liens.

(b) Second Priority Liens on Encumbered Property. Subject to and subordinate only to the Carve-Out, pursuant to Section 364(c)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code, a valid, binding, continuing, enforceable, duly perfected junior lien on and security interest in the Property of each Obligor to the extent such Property is subject to Permitted Prior Liens.

(c) Liens Priming Prior Liens. Subject to and subordinate to the Carve-Out, pursuant to section 364(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, a valid, binding, continuing, enforceable, duly perfected first priority senior priming lien on and security interest in the Property of any Obligor that is subject to the Prepetition Intercompany Liens and the Postpetition Intercompany Liens.

As used herein, "Property" shall include, but not be limited to, with respect to any Obligor, all real and personal property of such Obligor, including, without limitation: (a) all cash, money, cash equivalents, deposit accounts, securities accounts, accounts, other receivables, chattel paper, contract rights, goods and inventory (wherever located), instruments, documents, securities (whether or not marketable) and investment property (including, without limitation, all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of each of its subsidiaries), furniture, fixtures, equipment, franchise rights, trade names, trademarks, servicemarks, copyrights, patents, intellectual property, general intangibles of any kind, rights to the payment of money (including, without limitation, tax refunds and any other extraordinary payments, supporting obligations, guarantees, letter of credit rights, commercial tort claims, causes of action and all substitutions, books and records related to the foregoing, and accessions and proceeds of the foregoing, wherever located, including insurance or other proceeds; (b) all owned real property, all leased real property, all rents and leases from any real property interests, and all other proceeds of real property; (c) subject to entry of the Final Order, the Debtor Obligors' rights under section 506(c) of the Bankruptcy Code and the proceeds thereof, in each case, without regard as to whether such rights, property, claims, and interests came into the Obligors' estates, or otherwise arose, after the Petition Date; for the avoidance of doubt, all Property which shall be subject to the DIP liens described herein shall include (i) each Obligor's rights under each Intercompany Facility; (ii) each Obligor's respective equity interests in all subsidiaries (including equity in non-Debtor portfolio companies and other non-Debtor subsidiaries); (iii) all any funds received by any Obligor from Rigmora Biotech Investor One L.P. and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two L.P. (the "Rigmora Entities") before or after the Petition Date, including pursuant to the judgment of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware in the case captioned ATP III GP Ltd., in its capacity as General Partner of ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P., v. Rigmora Biotech Investor One L.P. and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two L.P., C.A. No. 2025-0607-KSJM; (iv) any amounts collected or received by any Obligor before or after the Petition Date pursuant to the Judgment of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware in the case captioned Shareholder Representative Services LLC solely in its capacity as representative of the Securityholders v. Alexion Pharmaceuticals, Inc., C.A. No. 2020-1069-MTZ; and (v) proceeds received by any Obligor of any additional litigation claims brought by the Obligors before or after the Petition Date.)

7. Intercompany Facility Liens. As security for the Intercompany Facility Loans, effective upon the entry of this Interim Order and perfected on or prior to the funding of the Intercompany Facility, first priority valid, binding, continuing, duly perfected, enforceable, and non-avoidable security interests and liens (the "Intercompany Facility Liens") are hereby granted to the Borrower in all the assets of such Intercompany Beneficiaries and Intercompany Borrowers, including proceeds of any litigation claims brought by any Intercompany Beneficiary or Intercompany Borrower, as applicable.

8. No Senior Liens. Other than the Carve-Out, the DIP Liens shall not be subject or subordinate to or made pari passu with (A) any lien or security interest that is avoided and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors or their estates under section 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (B) unless otherwise provided for in the DIP Loan Documents, this Interim Order, or other order of the Court, any liens or security interests arising after the Petition Date, including, without limitation, any liens or security interests granted in favor of any federal, state, municipal or other governmental unit (including any regulatory body), commission, board or court for any liability of the Obligors, or (C) any intercompany liens. It shall be an Event of Default if the DIP Liens are subordinated to or made pari passu with any other lien or security interest under section 363 or 364 of the Bankruptcy Code.

9. Remedies.

(a) The occurrence of any "Event of Default" under (and as defined in) the DIP Term Sheet or any other DIP Loan Document shall constitute an Event of Default under this Interim DIP Order. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default: (i) each DIP Secured Party shall be authorized to (a) terminate, reduce or restrict any further DIP Commitment to the extent any such commitment remains, (b) declare all DIP Obligations to be immediately due and payable without demand, protest, or other notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Obligors, (c) terminate, reduce, or restrict the Debtors' use of Cash Collateral (including, without limitation, to block or limit withdrawals from any bank accounts that are part of the DIP Collateral (including, without limitation, by sending any control activation notices to depositary banks pursuant to any control agreement); and (d) terminate the DIP Loan Documents as to any future liability or obligation of the DIP Agents and the DIP Lenders, but without affecting any of the DIP Liens or the liabilities or obligations of any Obligor; and (ii) the DIP Agents may (and at the direction of the Requisite DIP Lenders shall) file with the Court and serve upon lead restructuring counsel to the Debtors, lead counsel to the Creditors' Committee, the U.S. Trustee, and any parties that have filed requests for notices under Rule 2002 of the Bankruptcy Rules, a written notice (a "Termination Notice") (including by e-mail) on not less than five (5) business days' notice (such five (5) business day period, the "Remedies Notice Period") (and any automatic stay otherwise applicable to the DIP Secured Parties, whether arising under section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise, but subject to the terms of this Interim Order (including this paragraph) is hereby modified to permit the DIP Agents to take actions in connection with the Termination Notice described in this paragraph); provided, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, during the Remedies Notice Period the Debtors shall be permitted and authorized to use Cash Collateral solely and exclusively to meet, pay, and satisfy payroll obligations and taxes related thereto (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include payment of any management fee to nondebtor Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC). During the Remedies Notice Period, the Debtors and/or the Creditors' Committee shall be entitled to seek an emergency hearing within the Remedies Notice Period with the Court (such hearing, a "Remedies Hearing"). In any Remedies Hearing, subject to entry of the Final Order, each Obligor hereby waives its right to and shall not be entitled to seek relief, including, without limitation, under section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code, to the extent that such relief would impair or restrict the rights and remedies of the DIP Agents or the DIP Lenders as set forth in this Interim Order or in any of the DIP Loan Documents, as applicable, and the only issue that may be raised by an Obligor is whether an Event of Default has occurred. Upon filing of the Termination Notice, interest, including, where applicable, default interest, shall accrue, and shall be payable as set forth in the DIP Term Sheet unless the Court determines that no Event of Default has occurred.

(b) Upon the effectiveness of any relief from the automatic stay granted or deemed to have been granted pursuant to this Paragraph 9, the DIP Collateral Agent may (and at the direction of the Requisite DIP Lenders shall), enforce the DIP Liens, and, as applicable, exercise all rights and remedies provided for in the DIP Term Sheet, the DIP Loan Documents, or at law, including (i) foreclosure upon the DIP Collateral, (including rights to set off or apply any amounts in any bank accounts that are a part of the DIP Collateral) (ii) enforcement of any and all rights against the DIP Collateral in its possession or otherwise, including, without limitation, disposition of the DIP Collateral and application of net cash proceeds thereof to satisfaction of the DIP Obligations; and (iii) any other actions or exercise any other rights or remedies permitted under the DIP Orders, this DIP Term Sheet, the DIP Loan Documents, or applicable law, provided, that no notice shall be required hereunder for any exercise of rights or remedies in the event the obligations under the DIP Facility have not been repaid in full in cash on the Scheduled Maturity Date. The DIP Agents' delay or failure to exercise rights and remedies under any DIP Loan Documents, this Interim Order or applicable law shall not constitute a waiver of any of their rights and remedies hereunder, thereunder or otherwise, unless any such waiver is pursuant to a written instrument executed by the DIP Agents.

10. Limitation on Charging Expenses Against Collateral. Subject to entry of the Final Order, no costs or expenses of administration of these Chapter 11 Cases or any Successor Case or any future proceeding that may result therefrom, including liquidation in bankruptcy or other proceedings under the Bankruptcy Code, shall be charged against or recovered from the DIP Collateral (including Cash Collateral) pursuant to section 506 of the Bankruptcy Code or any similar principle of law, without the prior written consent of the DIP Agents, and no such consent shall be implied from any action, inaction or acquiescence by any of the DIP Secured Parties, and nothing contained in this Interim Order shall be deemed to be a consent by the DIP Secured Parties to any charge, lien, assessment or claims against the DIP Collateral under section 506(c) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise.

11. No Marshaling. Subject to entry of the Final Order, in no event shall the DIP Secured Parties be subject to the equitable doctrine of "marshaling" or any similar doctrine with respect to any of the DIP Collateral or the DIP Obligations, as applicable.

12. Payments Free and Clear. Subject to the Carve-Out in all respects, any and all payments remitted to the DIP Secured Parties pursuant to the provisions of this Interim Order, the DIP Loan Documents or any subsequent order of this Court shall be irrevocable, received free and clear of any claim, charge, assessment or other liability, including without limitation, and subject only to entry of the Final Order to the extent provided therein, any claim or charge arising out of or based on, directly or indirectly, sections 506(c) or 552(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, whether asserted or assessed by through or on behalf of the Debtors.

13. Use of Cash Collateral. The Debtors are hereby authorized, solely on the terms and conditions of this Interim Order, to use all Cash Collateral in a manner consistent with the Approved Budget (including with respect to the Permitted Variance (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet).

14. Maintenance of Collateral. The Obligors shall continue to maintain and insure the DIP Collateral in amounts and for the risks, and by the entities, as required under the DIP Loan Documents.

15. Perfection of DIP Liens.

(a) Without in any way limiting the validity of the automatic perfection of the DIP Liens by entry of this Interim Order, the DIP Collateral Agent, for the benefit of the DIP Secured Parties are hereby authorized, but not required, to execute, in the name of the Obligors, as their true and lawful attorneys (with full power of substitution, to the maximum extent permitted by law), and to file or record financing statements, trademark filings, copyright filings, mortgages, notices of lien or similar perfection instruments in any jurisdiction, or take possession of certificated securities, or take any other similar action in a manner not inconsistent herewith to document, validate or perfect the liens and security interests granted to them hereunder, including the Intercompany Facility Liens (the "Perfection Actions"). All Perfection Actions shall be deemed to have been taken on the date of entry of this Interim Order. The automatic stay shall be modified to the extent necessary to permit the DIP Secured Parties to take any Perfection Action. For the avoidance of doubt, the DIP Liens shall be deemed valid, duly perfected, enforceable, non-avoidable, and not subject to challenge, dispute or subordination (subject to the priorities set forth in this Interim Order), at the time and on the date of entry of this Interim Order, whether or not the DIP Collateral Agent, for the benefit of the DIP Secured Parties, take such Perfection Actions.

(b) A certified copy of this Interim Order may, in the discretion of the DIP Agents, be filed or recorded in the filing or recording offices in addition to or in lieu of any financing statements, mortgages, notices of lien or similar instruments, and all filing and recording offices are hereby authorized to accept a certified copy of this Interim Order for filing and/or recording, as applicable.

16. Preservation of Rights Granted Under this Interim Order.

(a) Other than the claims and liens expressly granted or permitted by this Interim Order, including the Carve-Out, it shall be an Event of Default if any claim or lien having a priority superior to or pari passu with those granted by this Interim Order is permitted while any of the DIP Obligations remain outstanding, and, except as otherwise expressly provided in or permitted under this Interim Order, it shall be an Event of Default if the DIP Liens are (i) made junior to any lien or security interest that is avoided and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates under section 551 of the Bankruptcy Code; (ii) subordinated to or made pari passu with any other lien or security interest, whether under section 364(d) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise; (iiii) subordinated to or made pari passu with any liens arising after the Petition Date including, without limitation, any liens or security interests granted in favor of any federal, state, municipal or other domestic or foreign governmental unit (including any regulatory body), commission, board or court for any liability of the Obligors; or (iv) made junior to any intercompany liens or security interests of the Obligors.

(b) Notwithstanding any order that may be entered dismissing any of these Chapter 11 Cases under section 1112 of the Bankruptcy Code or converting any of these cases to a Successor Case: (i) the DIP Superpriority Claims and the DIP Liens shall continue in full force and effect, shall maintain their priorities as provided in this Interim Order, and shall remain binding on all parties in interest until all DIP Obligations shall have been indefeasibly paid in full; (ii) the other rights granted by this Interim Order, including with respect to the Carve-Out, shall not be affected; and (iii) this Court shall retain jurisdiction, notwithstanding any dismissal, for the purposes of enforcing the claims, liens and security interests granted by this Interim Order.

(c) The DIP Secured Parties shall be entitled to, and are hereby granted, all the rights, remedies, privileges and benefits arising under sections 364(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

(d) Except as expressly provided in this Interim Order or in the DIP Loan Documents, the DIP Liens, the DIP Superpriority Claims, and all other rights and remedies of the DIP Secured Parties granted by this Interim Order and the DIP Loan Documents, including the Carve-Out, shall survive, and shall not be modified, impaired or discharged by the entry of an order (i) converting or dismissing any of these cases, or terminating the joint administration of these cases; (ii) approving the sale of any Collateral pursuant to section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code (except to the extent permitted by the DIP Loan Documents); or (iii) confirmation of a chapter 11 plan in any of these cases. The terms and provisions of this Interim Order and the DIP Loan Documents shall continue in full force and effect in these cases and in any Successor Cases until all DIP Obligations are indefeasibly paid in full in cash, and the DIP Commitments are terminated. Any confirmation order entered in these cases shall not discharge or otherwise affect in any way the joint and several obligations of the Obligors to the DIP Secured Parties under the DIP Facility and the DIP Loan Documents, other than after the payment in full and in cash of all DIP Obligations and the termination of the DIP Commitments.

17. Payment of Fees and Expenses. The Obligors are authorized and directed to pay the DIP Fees and Expenses as provided in the DIP Term Sheet, including reimbursement in cash, upon the entry of this Interim Order, of (a) the DIP Lenders for their reasonable and documented out-of-pocket transaction expenses in connection with the Chapter 11 Cases, the DIP Facility and the transactions related thereto, including but not limited to (i) the preparation, negotiation, execution and entry of the DIP Loan Documents, including any amendment or waiver thereof, (ii) administration and enforcement of the DIP Loans Documents, and (iii) any work performed in connection with the Chapter 11 Cases, Plan Term Sheet, Disclosure Statement, and Approved Plan, and (b) all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the DIP Agents associated with the administration of the DIP Facility and the Chapter 11 Cases, in each case including, but not limited to the fees and disbursements of Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP, Ice Miller LLP, Holland & Knight LLP, and any other local counsel, and financial, technical, and accounting advisors. Subject to the review procedures set forth in this Paragraph 17, payment of the DIP Fees and Expenses shall not be subject to allowance or review by the Court. Professionals for the DIP Secured Parties shall not be required to comply with the U.S. Trustee's fee guidelines with respect to such fees and expenses; however, any time that any such professional seeks payment of fees and expenses from the Debtors prior to confirmation of a chapter 11 plan, each such professional shall provide summary copies of its invoices (including aggregate amounts of fees and expenses and total amount of time on a per-professional basis), which are not required to contain time detail and which may be redacted or modified to the extent necessary to withhold any information subject to the attorney-client privilege, any information constituting attorney work product, or any other confidential information, to counsel to the Obligors; provided, however, that the provision of such invoices shall not constitute a waiver of the attorney client privilege or of any benefits of the attorney work product doctrine or any other evidentiary privilege or protection recognized under applicable law;. Any objections raised by any Obligor challenging the reasonableness of any portion of such invoices must be in writing and state with particularity the grounds therefor and must be submitted to the applicable professional within ten (10) calendar days after receipt (the "Review Period"). If no written objection is received by 12:00 p.m., prevailing Eastern Time, on the last date of the Review Period, the Debtors shall pay such invoices within five (5) business days. If an objection to a professional's invoice is received within the Review Period, the Debtors shall promptly pay the undisputed portion of the invoice without the necessity of filing formal fee applications, regardless of whether the invoiced amount arose or was incurred before or after the Petition Date, and this Court shall have jurisdiction to determine the disputed portion of such invoice if the parties are unable to resolve the dispute consensually. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Debtors are authorized and directed to pay, on or prior to the Initial Closing Date (as defined in the DIP Term Sheet) solely to the extent incurred prior to the Initial Closing Date, any and all costs, fees, expenses (including reasonable and documented legal fees and expenses) of the DIP Agents and the DIP Lenders associated with the preparation, execution, delivery and administration of the DIP Loan Documents (including the reasonable and documented expenses of and fees payable to the DIP Lender Advisors), and other compensation contemplated by the DIP Loan Documents. No attorney or advisor to any DIP Secured Party shall be required to file an application seeking compensation for services or reimbursement of expenses with the Court.

18. Limitation on Use of DIP Financing Proceeds and Collateral. The Borrower may obtain and use the DIP Loan Proceeds only for the Permitted Uses specified in the DIP Term Sheet and other DIP Loan Documents, including advances to non-Debtor subsidiaries by way of the Intercompany Facility. No DIP Loans, DIP Collateral, or DIP Loan Proceeds, or any portion of the Carve-Out, may be used, directly or indirectly, including, without limitation, through reimbursement of professional fees of any non-Debtor party, to: (i) object, contest or raise any defense to the validity, perfection, priority, extent or enforceability of any amount due under, or the liens and security interests granted under, the DIP Facility, the DIP Orders or the DIP Loan Documents, (ii) investigate, initiate, assert or prosecute any claims or defenses or commence causes of action against the DIP Agents or the DIP Lender, or any of their respective officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys, representatives, subsidiaries, affiliates or shareholders under or relating to the DIP Facility, the DIP Orders, the DIP Loan Documents or the transactions contemplated therein or thereby, (iii) prevent, hinder, or delay, whether directly or indirectly, the DIP Agents' or any DIP Lender's assertion or enforcement of its liens and security interests, its efforts to realize upon any DIP Collateral, or exercise any other rights and remedies under the DIP Orders, the DIP Loan Documents or applicable law; or (iv) pay any amount to any limited partner of the Borrower.

19. Binding Effect; Successors and Assigns. The DIP Loan Documents and the provisions of this Interim Order, including all findings herein, shall be binding upon all parties in interest in these Chapter 11 Cases, including, without limitation, the DIP Secured Parties, any statutory or non-statutory committees appointed or formed in these cases, the Obligors and their respective successors and assigns (including any chapter 7 or chapter 11 trustee hereinafter appointed or elected for the estate of any Debtor, an examiner appointed pursuant to section 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code, or any other fiduciary appointed as a legal representative of any Debtor or with respect to the property of the estate of any Debtor) and shall inure to the benefit of the DIP Secured Parties, the Obligors, and their respective successors and assigns; provided, that the DIP Secured Parties shall have no obligation to permit the use of the DIP Collateral (including Cash Collateral) by, or to extend any financing to, any chapter 7 trustee or chapter 11 trustee or similar responsible person appointed for the estates of any Debtor. Nothing in this Interim Order, the DIP Loan Documents, or any other documents related to the transactions contemplated hereby shall in any way be construed or interpreted to impose or allow the imposition upon any DIP Secured Party any liability for any claims arising from the prepetition or postpetition activities of the Debtors in the operation of their businesses, or in connection with their restructuring efforts

20. Release; Limitation of Liability. Subject to entry of the Final Order, each of the Debtors, Obligors, and their estates, on their own behalf and on behalf of their respective subsidiaries, predecessors, successors, and heirs, hereby absolutely, unconditionally and irrevocably releases and forever discharge and acquit the DIP Secured Parties and each of their respective affiliates, former, current, or future officers, employees, directors, servants, agents, representatives, owners, members, partners, financial advisors, legal advisors, shareholders, managers, consultants, accountants, attorneys, affiliates, assigns, heirs, predecessors in interest and each person acting for and on behalf of any of them, each in their capacity as such (collectively, the "Released Parties") from any and all claims, causes of action, costs or demands of whatever kind or nature, whether known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, fixed or contingent, asserted or unasserted, foreseen or unforeseen, or matured or unmatured, which the Borrower may have had against the Released Parties by reason of any act or omission on the part of the Released Parties occurring prior to the date hereof, in each case regarding or relating to this DIP Term Sheet, the DIP Facility, the DIP Loan Documents the DIP Liens, or any document or instrument relating thereto, and/or the transactions contemplated hereunder or thereunder, including, but not limited to (A) any so-called "lender liability" or equitable subordination claims or defenses, (B) any and all claims and causes of action arising under the Bankruptcy Code, and any and all claims and causes of action with respect to the validity, priority, perfection, or avoidability of the DIP Liens and DIP Obligations (collectively, the "Released Matters"). Each Debtor further waives and releases any defense, right of counterclaim, right of set-off, or deduction with respect to the payment of the DIP Obligations that it now has or may claim to have against the Released Parties, arising out of, connected with, or relating to any and all acts, omissions, or events occurring prior to the Cour entering this Interim DIP Order. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive the termination of the DIP Facility, any DIP Loan Document, the Interim DIP Order, and the Final DIP Order, payment in full of the DIP Obligations, and dismissal of the Chapter 11 Cases. Each Debtor represents and warrants that (i) it has no knowledge of any such claims by it against the Released Parties and (ii) that the foregoing constitutes a full and complete release of all such claims.

25. Payments Held in Trust. Subject to entry of the Final Order, and except as expressly permitted in the DIP Loan Documents and except with respect to the Obligors, in the event that any person or entity receives any payment on account of a security interest in the DIP Collateral that is junior to the DIP Liens, receives any DIP Collateral or any proceeds of any DIP Collateral other than on account of a security interest senior to the DIP Liens, or receives any other payment with respect thereto from any source prior to indefeasible payment in full in cash of all DIP Obligations and termination of all DIP Commitments, such person or entity shall be deemed to have received, and shall hold, any of the foregoing in trust for the benefit of the DIP Secured Parties and, subject to further order of the Court, shall immediately turn over such collateral, its proceeds, or other payment to the DIP Agents, or as otherwise instructed by this Court, for application in accordance with the DIP Loan Documents and the Final Order.

		reason of any act or omission on the part of the Released Parties occurring prior to the date hereof, in each case regarding or relating to this DIP Term Sheet, the DIP Facility, the DIP Loan Documents, the DIP Liens, or any document or instrument relating thereto, and/or the transactions contemplated hereunder or thereunder, including, but not limited to (A) any so-called "lender liability" or equitable subordination claims or defenses, (B) any and all claims and causes of action arising under the Bankruptcy Code, and any and all claims and causes of action with respect to the validity, priority, perfection, or avoidability of the DIP Liens and DIP Obligations (collectively, the "Released Matters"). Each of the DIP Lenders agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the DIP Agents (and each of their affiliates and respective related parties) (to the extent not reimbursed by the Obligors) in their respective capacities as such, according to its pro rata share, in effect on the date on which indemnification is sought (or if indemnification is sought after the date upon which the Commitments are terminated and the DIP Loans are paid in full), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever that may at any time (whether before or after the payment of the DIP Loans) be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the DIP Agents or their related parties in any way relating to or arising out of, the Commitments, the DIP Term Sheet, the Agent Fee Letter, any of the other DIP Loan Documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by the DIP Agents or any other Person under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no DIP Lender shall be liable for any portion of such amounts to the extent resulting from the Administrative Agent's gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final, non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The agreements in this section shall survive the termination of the DIP Term Sheet and the other DIP Loan Documents and the payment in full of the DIP Loans and all other amounts payable hereunder.

		The Interim DIP Order and the Final DIP Order shall include waivers of the Obligors' rights under sections 506(c) and 552(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. In no event shall the DIP Lenders be subject to the equitable doctrine of "marshaling" or any similar doctrine with respect to the DIP Collateral. The Final DIP Order shall include customary releases and exculpation of the DIP Agents and the DIP Lenders (and each of their representatives). Upon entry of the Interim DIP Order, the Final DIP Order, and thereafter on a monthly basis, the Obligors will reimburse in cash (a) the DIP Lenders for their reasonable and documented out-of-pocket transaction expenses in connection with the Chapter 11 Cases, the DIP Facility, and the transactions related thereto and hereto, including but not limited to (i) the preparation, negotiation, execution and entry of the DIP Loan Documents, including any amendment or waiver thereof, (ii) administration and enforcement of the DIP Loans Documents, and (iii) any work performed in connection with the Plan Term Sheet, Disclosure Statement, and Approved Plan, and (b) all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the DIP Agents associated with the administration of the DIP Facility, the Plan Term Sheet, the Disclosure Statement, the Approved Plan, and the Chapter 11 Cases, in each case including, but not limited to the fees and disbursements of Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP, local counsel, Holland & Knight, and financial and accounting advisors.

The DIP Lenders may assign all, or any part of, the DIP Loans to (i) their affiliates (other than natural persons) without consent of the Borrower, or (ii) one or more banks, financial institutions or other entities that are eligible assignees (to be defined in the DIP Loan Documents), with Borrower consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, provided that Borrower consent to assignment shall not be required while an Event of Default has occurred. Upon such assignment, such affiliate, bank, financial institution or entity will become a DIP Lender for all purposes under the DIP Loan Documents. The DIP Lenders will also have the right to sell participations in the DIP Loans, without need for Borrower consent, subject to customary limitations on voting rights.
37.	Amendments:	No amendment or waiver of any provision of this DIP Term Sheet or the DIP Facility, and no consent to any departure by the Borrower or any DIP Lender therefrom, shall be effective unless in writing and agreed by the Requisite DIP Lenders and the Borrower (which may be in the form of an email or other written communication and which may come from primary counsel to the DIP Lenders or the Borrower, as applicable) and acknowledged by the DIP Agents and each such waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the specific purpose for which given, provided that no such amendment, waiver or consent shall: (a) extend or increase the Commitment Amount of any DIP Lender, without the written consent of each DIP Lender directly and adversely affected thereby (it being understood that a waiver of any covenant set forth in Annexes II and III or the waiver of any Default, mandatory prepayment of the Commitment Amounts shall not constitute an extension or increase of any Commitment Amount of any DIP Lender); (b) postpone any date scheduled for, or reduce the amount of interest payable in respect of any payment of principal or interest with respect to any DIP Loan or with respect to any fee or premium payable pursuant to Annex I without the written consent of each DIP Lender directly and adversely affected thereby, it being understood that the waiver of (or amendment to the terms of) any mandatory prepayment, any condition precedent or any Event of Default (other than a nonpayment Event of Default) shall not constitute a postponement of any date scheduled for, or a reduction in the amount of, any payment of interest or any payment of fees; (c) reduce the principal of, or the rate of interest specified herein on, any DIP Loan or any fees or other amounts payable hereunder or under any other DIP Loan Document without the written consent of each DIP Lender directly and adversely affected thereby; provided that only the consent of the Requisite DIP Lenders shall be necessary to amend the definition of "Default Rate"; (d) change this provision on amendments or the definition of "Requisite DIP Lenders" or any other provision specifying the number of DIP Lenders required to take any action under the DIP Facility without the written consent of each DIP Lender directly and adversely affected thereby; or (e) amend, modify or waive any provision of this DIP Term Sheet affecting the rights, duties or obligations of the DIP Agents without the prior written consent of the DIP Agents.

38.	Taxes:	All payments on the DIP Loans made by the Obligors shall be free and clear of any taxes (other than franchise taxes and taxes on overall net income), imposts, assessments, withholdings or other deductions whatsoever, except to the extent required by law, in which case the Obligors shall pay such additional amounts as may be required so that the net amount received by the DIP Lenders is equal to what it would have been had no such imposts, assessments, withholdings or deductions been required. To the extent consistent with applicable law, DIP Lenders will furnish to the Administrative Agent appropriate certificates or other evidence of exemption from U.S. federal tax withholding.

39.	Requisite DIP Lenders:	"Requisite DIP Lenders" shall be defined as DIP Lenders holding more than 50% of total commitments or exposure under the DIP Facility.
40.	Credit Bidding:	The DIP Agents (directly or via one or more acquisition vehicles) at the direction of the Requisite DIP Lenders shall have the right to credit bid all or any portion of the DIP Obligations.
41.	Governing Law and Jurisdiction:	The Borrower submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court, including with respect to the exercise of remedies by the DIP Lenders and preservation of the DIP Collateral's value. This DIP Term Sheet and the DIP Loan Documents shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York (excluding the laws applicable to conflicts or choice of law), except as governed by the Bankruptcy Code.
42.	DIP Order Controls:	In the event of a conflict between any provision of this DIP Term Sheet and the Interim DIP Order or Final DIP Order, as applicable, such Interim DIP Order or Final DIP Order shall control.

The foregoing is intended to summarize certain basic terms of the Proposed DIP Facility. It is not intended to be a definitive list of all of the requirements of the Initial DIP Lender in connection with the Proposed DIP Facility.

ANNEX VI

AGENCY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1.01 Appointment and Authority. Each of the DIP Lenders hereby irrevocably appoints Oaktree Fund Administration LLC to act on its behalf as the Administrative Agent hereunder and under the other DIP Loan Documents and Alter Domus (US) LLC to act on its behalf as the Collateral Agent hereunder and under the other DIP Loan Documents and each DIP Lender hereby authorizes the DIP Agents to take such actions on their behalf and to exercise such powers as are delegated to the DIP Agents by the terms hereof or thereof, together with such actions and powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. The provisions of this Annex VI are solely for the benefit of the DIP Agents, the DIP Lenders, and no Obligor shall have rights as a third party beneficiary of any of such provisions. It is understood and agreed that the use of the term "agent" or "agents" in the DIP Term Sheet or in any other DIP Loan Documents (or any other similar term) with reference to DIP Agents is not intended to connote any fiduciary or other implied (or express) obligations arising under agency doctrine of any applicable law. Instead such term is used as a matter of market custom, and is intended to create or reflect only an administrative relationship between contracting parties.

Each of the DIP Lenders hereby irrevocably appoints and authorizes the Collateral Agent to act as the agent of such DIP Lender for purposes of acquiring, holding and enforcing any and all Liens on DIP Collateral granted by any of the Obligors to secure any of the Obligations, together with such powers and discretion as are reasonably incidental thereto. In this connection, the Collateral Agent and any co-agents, sub-agents and attorneys-in-fact appointed by the Collateral Agent pursuant to Section 1.05 for purposes of holding or enforcing any Lien on the DIP Collateral (or any portion thereof) granted under the DIP Loan Documents, or for exercising any rights and remedies thereunder at the direction of the Collateral Agent, shall be entitled to the benefits of all provisions of this Annex VI (as though such co-agents, sub-agents and attorneys-in-fact were the "collateral agent" under the DIP Loan Documents) as if set forth in full herein with respect thereto.

SECTION 1.02 Rights as a DIP Lender. The Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder shall have the same rights and powers in its capacity as a DIP Lender as any other DIP Lender and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent, and the term "DIP Lender" or "DIP Lenders" shall, unless otherwise expressly indicated or unless the context otherwise requires, include the Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder in its individual capacity. Such Person and its branches and Affiliates may accept deposits from, lend money to, own securities of, act as the financial advisor or in any other advisory capacity for, and generally engage in any kind of business with, the Borrower or any Subsidiary or other Affiliate thereof as if such Person were not the Administrative Agent hereunder and without any duty to account therefor to the Lenders.

SECTION 1.03 Exculpatory Provisions.

(a) The DIP Agents shall not have any duties or obligations except those expressly set forth herein and in the other DIP Loan Documents, and their duties hereunder shall be administrative in nature. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the DIP Agents:

(i) shall not be subject to any fiduciary or other implied duties, regardless of whether a Default has occurred and is continuing;

(ii) shall not have any duty to take any discretionary action or exercise any discretionary powers, except discretionary rights and powers expressly contemplated hereby or by the other DIP Loan Documents that the DIP Agents are required to exercise as directed in writing

by the Requisite DIP Lenders (or such other number or percentage of the Lenders as shall be expressly provided for herein or in the other DIP Loan Documents); provided that the DIP Agents shall not be required to take any action that, in its opinion or the opinion of their counsel, may expose the DIP Agents to liability or that is contrary to any DIP Loan Document or applicable laws, including for the avoidance of doubt any action that may be in violation of the automatic stay under any debtor relief law or that may effect a forfeiture, modification or termination of property of a defaulting DIP Lender in violation of any debtor relief law; and

(iii) shall not, except as expressly set forth herein and in the other DIP Loan Documents, have any duty to disclose, and shall not be liable for the failure to disclose, any information relating to the Borrower or any of its Affiliates that is communicated to or obtained by the Person serving as the respective DIP Agent or any of its branches or Affiliates in any capacity.

(b) The DIP Agent shall not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it (i) with the consent or at the request of the Requisite DIP Lenders (or such other number or percentage of the Lenders as shall be necessary, or as the DIP Agents shall believe in good faith shall be necessary, under the circumstances as provided in the DIP Term Sheet), or (ii) in the absence of its own gross negligence or willful misconduct as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction by final and nonappealable judgment. No DIP Agent shall be deemed to have knowledge of any Default unless and until notice describing such Default or Event of Default is given to the DIP Agents in writing by the Borrower, a Lender.

(c) The DIP Agents shall not be responsible for or have any duty to ascertain or inquire into (i) any statement, warranty or representation made in or in connection with the DIP Term Sheet or any other DIP Loan Document, (ii) the contents of any certificate, report or other document delivered hereunder or thereunder or in connection herewith or therewith, (iii) the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or other terms or conditions set forth herein or therein or the occurrence of any Default, (iv) the validity, enforceability, effectiveness or genuineness of the DIP Term Sheet, any other DIP Loan Document or any other agreement, instrument or document, or (v) the satisfaction of any condition set forth in the DIP Term Sheet or elsewhere herein, other than to confirm receipt of items expressly required to be delivered to the DIP Agents.

SECTION 1.04 Reliance by DIP Agents. The DIP Agents shall be entitled to rely upon, and shall not incur any liability for relying upon, any notice, request, certificate, consent, statement, instrument, document or other writing (including any electronic message, Internet or intranet website posting or other distribution) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed, sent or otherwise authenticated by the proper Person. The DIP Agents also may rely upon any statement made to it orally or by telephone and believed by it to have been made by the proper Person, and shall not incur any liability for relying thereon. In determining compliance with any condition hereunder to the making of a DIP Loan that by its terms must be fulfilled to the satisfaction of a DIP Lender, the DIP Agents may presume that such condition is satisfactory to such DIP Lender unless the DIP Agents shall have received written notice to the contrary from such DIP Lender prior to the making of such DIP Loan. The DIP Agents may consult with legal counsel (who may be counsel for the Borrower), independent accountants and other experts selected by it, and shall not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it in accordance with the advice of any such counsel, accountants or experts.

SECTION 1.05 Delegation of Duties. Each DIP Agent may perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers hereunder or under any other DIP Loan Document by or through any one or more sub-agents appointed by the respective DIP Agent. Each DIP Agent and any such sub-agent may perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers by or through their respective related parties. The exculpatory provisions of the DIP Term Sheet shall apply to any such sub-agent and to the related parties of the DIP Agents and any such sub-agent, and shall apply to their respective activities in connection with the syndication of the DIP Facility as well as activities as DIP Agent. The DIP Agents shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any sub-agents except to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction determines in a final and nonappealable judgment that the respective DIP Agent acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection of such sub-agents.

SECTION 1.06 Resignation of Administrative Agent.

(a) Either DIP Agent may at any time give notice of its resignation to the DIP Lenders and the Borrower. Upon receipt of any such notice of resignation, the Requisite DIP Lenders shall have the right, in consultation with the Borrower, to appoint a successor. If no such successor shall have been so appointed by the Requisite DIP Lenders and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days after the retiring DIP Agent gives notice of its resignation (or such earlier day as shall be agreed by the Requisite DIP Lenders) (the "Resignation Effective Date"), then the retiring DIP Agent may (but shall not be obligated to), on behalf of the DIP Lenders, appoint a successor DIP Agent. Whether or not a successor has been appointed, such resignation shall become effective in accordance with such notice on the Resignation Effective Date.

(b) With effect from the Resignation Effective Date (i) the retiring DIP Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations hereunder and under the other DIP Loan Documents and (ii) except for any indemnity payments owed to the retiring DIP Agent, all payments, communications and determinations provided to be made by, to or through the DIP Agents shall instead be made by or to each DIP Lender, until such time, if any, as the Requisite DIP Lenders appoint a successor DIP Agent as provided for above. Upon the acceptance of a successor's appointment as DIP Agent hereunder, such successor shall succeed to and become vested with all of the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring DIP Agent (other than any rights to indemnity payments owed to the retiring DIP Agent), and the retiring DIP Agent shall be discharged from all of its duties and obligations hereunder or under the other DIP Loan Documents. The fees payable by the Borrower to a successor DIP Agent shall be the same as those payable to its predecessor unless otherwise agreed between the Borrower and such successor. After the retiring DIP Agent's resignation hereunder and under the other DIP Loan Documents, the provisions hereof shall continue in effect for the benefit of such retiring DIP Agent, its sub-agents and their respective related parties in respect of any actions taken or omitted to be taken by any of them while the retiring DIP Agent was acting as DIP Agent.

SECTION 1.07 Non-Reliance on DIP Agents and Other DIP Lenders. Each DIP Lender expressly acknowledges that none of the DIP Agents has made any representation or warranty to it, and that no act by any DIP Agent hereafter taken, including any consent to, and acceptance of any assignment or review of the affairs of the Borrower or any Affiliate thereof, shall be deemed to constitute any representation or any warranty by any DIP Agent to any DIP Lender as to any matter, including whether any DIP Agent has disclosed material information in their (or their related parties') possession. Each DIP Lender represents to each DIP that it has, independently and without reliance upon any DIP Agent or any other DIP Lender or any of their related parties and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own credit analysis of, appraisal of, and investigation into, the business, prospects, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, and all applicable bank or other regulatory laws relating to the transactions contemplated hereby, and made its own decision to enter into the DIP Term Sheet and to extend credit to the Borrower hereunder. Each DIP Lender also acknowledges that it will, independently and without reliance upon any DIP Agent or any other DIP Lender or any of their related parties and based on such documents and information as it shall from time to time deem appropriate, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under or based upon the DIP Term Sheet, any other DIP Loan Document or any related agreement or any document furnished hereunder or thereunder, and to make such investigations as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, prospects, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Borrower. Each DIP Lender represents and warrants that (i) the DIP Loan Documents set forth the terms of a commercial lending facility and certain other facilities set forth herein and (ii) it is engaged in making, acquiring or holding commercial loans, issuing or participating in letters of credit or providing other similar facilities in the ordinary course and is entering into the DIP Term Sheet as a DIP Lender for the purpose of making, acquiring or holding commercial loans as may be applicable to such DIP Lender, and not for the purpose of purchasing, acquiring or holding any other type of financial instrument, and each DIP Lender agrees not to assert a claim in contravention of the foregoing. Each DIP Lender represents and warrants that it is sophisticated with respect to decisions to make, acquire or hold commercial loans as may be applicable to such DIP Lender, and either it, or the Person exercising discretion in making its decision to make, acquire or hold such commercial loans is experienced in making, acquiring or holding such commercial loans.

IN THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF DELAWARE

In re	Chapter 11
Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc., et al.,[1]	Case No. 25-12177 (LSS)
Debtors.	(Jointly Administered)

DEBTORS' RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO SECOND SET OF REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION AND INTERROGATORIES

Pursuant to Rules 26, 33, and 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("Civil Rules") made applicable by Rules 7026, 7033 and 7034 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure ("Bankruptcy Rules"), Rule 7026 of the Local Rules for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware ("Local Rules"), and any other applicable rules or governing law (collectively, the "Applicable Rules"), the above-captioned debtors ("Debtors") submit these responses and objections (the "Responses and Objections") to Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP's Second Requests for Production of Documents and Second Set of Interrogatories (the "Requests" and "Interrogatories") dated January 24, 2026, and served by Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LPs ("LPs") in the above captioned bankruptcy cases.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

The general objections set forth below (the "General Objections") apply to the Requests and Interrogatories generally and to each Definition, Instruction, and specific Request and Interrogatory and, unless otherwise stated, shall have the same force and effect as if fully set forth in response to each Definition, Instruction, and specific Request and Interrogatory. Any objection to a Definition or Instruction shall also apply to any other Definition, Instruction, or specific Request and Interrogatory that incorporates that Definition or Instruction. No response to any specific Request and Interrogatory is, or shall be deemed to be, a waiver of the General Objections or to the specific objections set forth therein.

1. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, because the LPs have demanded responses by February 2, 2026 in contravention of the Applicable Rules, which require responses and objections within 30 days of the Requests and Interrogatories, which falls on February 23, 2026.

2. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent that the Requests and Interrogatories seek information outside the scope of the Motions, and therefore, are disguised Bankruptcy Rule 2004 discovery. The LPs have not complied with the Applicable Rules with respect to Bankruptcy Rule 2004 discovery and Debtors require that the LPs adhere to the Applicable Rules.

3. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each of the Definitions and Instructions contained therein, to the extent that the Requests and Interrogatories relate to the Motion to Dismiss as overbroad, unduly burdensome, and designed to harass Debtors, because the LPs filed the Motion to Dismiss, and sought to have it heard without any need for discovery, before serving the Requests and Interrogatories. The fact that the LPs sought to have the Motion to Dismiss heard before serving any of the Requests and Interrogatories demonstrates that the LPs either filed the Motion to Dismiss in bad faith and without evidentiary support, or do not actually require any documents or information with respect to the Motion to Dismiss.

4. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they are vague and ambiguous, overbroad, unduly burdensome, lacking in particularity, or seek documents that are not relevant to any parties' claims or defenses in, and are not proportional to the needs of, the bankruptcy cases.

5. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they purport to impose on Debtors any burden or obligation that is broader than, inconsistent with, or exceeds the requirements of, the Applicable Rules. Debtors will construe the Requests and Interrogatories, and each Definition and Instruction contained therein, in accordance with its understanding of the Applicable Rules.

6. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they seek information or documents that are protected from disclosure by any applicable privilege, immunity, or protection, including the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine, joint-defense privilege, and common-interest privilege which Debtors are entitled to invoke. Any inadvertent disclosure of information that is properly the subject of a claim of privilege is not, and shall not be deemed, a waiver, in whole or in part, of any privilege or protection. The LPs shall not use any inadvertently disclosed information that is properly the subject of a claim of privilege or other protection.

7. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they seek information or documents outside of the Debtors' possession, custody, or control.

8. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they seek the production of trade secrets or other information that is confidential, proprietary, commercially sensitive, competitively significant, or personal in nature relating to Debtors, their affiliates and predecessors, and their respective current or former officers, directors, employees and/or clients, customers, or counterparties. Debtors' will only produce documents in response to the Requests or information in response to the Interrogatories upon entry into a satisfactory confidentiality agreement and protective order.

9. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they purport to Debtors to conduct anything beyond a reasonable search, under the time limitations unilaterally imposed by the LPs, of readily accessible sources where responsive information or documents, including electronically stored information, are reasonably expected to be found. To the extent the Requests and Interrogatories purport to require Debtors to exceed such a reasonable search, they are overbroad, unduly burdensome, and not proportional to the needs of these bankruptcy cases.

10. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they purport to require Debtors to draw legal or factual conclusions, or are predicated on legal or factual conclusions or arguments. No response to any specific Request or Interrogatory is, or shall be construed as, agreement with a legal or factual conclusion concerning any of the terms used in the Request or Interrogatory.

11. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they assume the existence of facts that do not exist or the occurrence of events that did not take place. No response to any specific Request or Interrogatory is, or shall be construed as, an admission that any factual predicate stated in or implied by the Request or Interrogatory is accurate.

12. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they fail to specify with reasonable particularity the information sought.

13. Debtors object to the Requests and Interrogatories, and to each Definition and Instruction contained therein, to the extent they purport to seek expert opinion.

14. No incidental or implied admissions are intended by the objections herein, nor shall the fact that Debtors have objected or responded to a particular Request be construed as an admission or indication that Debtors possess documents or information responsive to such Request or Interrogatory or any other Request or Interrogatory. Similarly, a statement that Debtors will produce documents in a response to a Request or Interrogatory does not constitute a representation that responsive documents or information exist, but only that responsive documents or information will be produced or provided if they exist, can be located through a reasonable search of reasonably accessible sources, and are not otherwise protected from disclosure.

15. Any failure of Debtors to make a specific objection to any specific Request or Interrogatory, or any Definition or Instruction contained therein, is not, and shall not be construed as, a waiver of Debtors' right to object on additional grounds. Debtors reserve the right to use or rely on, at any time, any subsequently discovered information or information omitted from these Responses and Objections as a result of mistake, error, oversight, or inadvertence.

16. These Responses and Objections are based solely on facts reasonably known to Debtors at the time of responding to the Requests and Interrogatories. Debtors reserves the right, but do not assume the obligation, to amend, supplement, or otherwise modify the content of these Responses and Objections at any time.

OBJECTIONS TO DEFINITIONS

1. Debtors object to each of the Definitions, and to any Definition, Instruction, Request, or Interrogatory that incorporates the Definitions, to the extent they purport to impose on Debtors any burden or obligation that is broader than, inconsistent with, or exceeds the requirements of, the Applicable Rules.

2. Debtors object to Definition No. 1 because there is no defined term contained therein, rendering the purported "Definition" meaningless. To the extent Definition No. 1 actually contains a definition, Debtors object because referring to the "singular" as "plural" and vice-versa renders every use of a singular or plural term vague and ambiguous. Similarly, referring to "conjunctive" to include "disjunctive" and vice-versa renders every use of a conjunctive or disjunctive vague and ambiguous. Likewise, demanding that the "present tense" include the "past tense" and vice-versa is inherently contradictory and renders every present tense or past tense term vague and ambiguous. The Debtors will construe each Request and Interrogatory as they are written.

3. Debtors object to Definition No. 3, as vague and ambiguous because it only refers to a single bankruptcy case even though the case caption refers to multiple bankruptcy cases. Debtors will therefore construe "Action" to mean the all of the above-captioned bankruptcy cases.

4. Debtors object to Definition No. 4 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Aethon" to mean Aethon Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Aethon Therapeutics, Inc.

5. Debtors object to Definition No. 5 to the extent it requires the Debtors to construe the singular as plural and vice-versa, and to the extent it requires the Debtors to construe a verb in any tense as including all other tenses, because such constructions render those terms as vague and ambiguous. The Debtors will construe each Request and Interrogatory as they are written.

6. Debtors object to Definition No. 7 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Apertor" to mean Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

7. Debtors object to Definition No. 8 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "ATLS" to mean Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc.

8. Debtors object to Definition No. 9 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Ascidian" to mean Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc.

9. Debtors object to Definition No. 10 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Aulos" to mean Aulos Bioscience, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Aulos Bioscience, Inc.

10. Debtors object to Definition No. 11 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Braeburn" to mean Braeburn, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Braeburn, Inc.

11. Debtors object to Definition No. 14 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Deep Apple" to mean Deep Apple Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Deep Apple Therapeutics, Inc.

12. Debtors object to Definition No. 17 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Evercrisp" to mean Evercrisp Biosciences, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Evercrisp Biosciences, Inc.

13. Debtors object to Definition No. 18 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Fund" to mean ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P.

14. Debtors object to Definition No. 20 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "General Partner" or "GP" to mean ATP III GP, Ltd. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of ATP III GP, Ltd.

15. Debtors object to Definitions 21-23 to the extent that they seek to impose on the Debtors any obligations beyond the requirements of the Applicable Rules. Debtors will construe the term "Identify" to the extent, and only to the extent, required by the Applicable Rules.

16. Debtors object to Definition No. 25 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Initial" to mean Initial Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Initial Therapeutics, Inc.

19. Debtors object to Definition No. 29 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Nereid" to mean Nereid Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Nereid Therapeutics, Inc.

20. Debtors object to Definition No. 30 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Nine Square" to mean Nine Square Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Nine Square Therapeutics, Inc.

21. Debtors object to Definition No. 34 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Red Queen" to mean Red Queen Therapeutics, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Red Queen Therapeutics, Inc.

22. Debtors object to Definition No. 35 as vague, ambiguous, and overbroad and will construe "Replicate" to mean Replicate Bioscience, Inc. and any individual purporting to act on behalf of Replicate Bioscience, Inc.

23. Debtors object to Definition No. 36 to the extent that the inclusion of "advisors," "representatives," or "attorneys" seeks production of documents or information protected by any applicable privilege, immunity, or protection, including the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine, joint-defense privilege, and common-interest privilege which Debtors are entitled to invoke.

OBJECTIONS TO INSTRUCTIONS

1. Debtors object to each of the Instruction, and to any Definition, Instruction, Request, or Interrogatory that incorporates the Instructions, to the extent they purport to impose on Debtors any burden or obligation that is broader than, inconsistent with, or exceeds the requirements of, the Applicable Rules. Debtors will construe the Instructions in accordance with their understanding of the Applicable Rules.

2. The Debtors object to each of the Instructions, and to any Definition, Instruction, Request, or Interrogatory that incorporates the Instructions, to the extent they seek documents or information outside of Debtors' possession, custody, or control.

3. The Debtors object to each of the Instructions, and to any Definition, Instruction, Request, or Interrogatory that incorporates the Instructions, to the extent they seek documents or information protected by any applicable privilege, immunity, or protection, including the attorney-client privilege, work product doctrine, joint-defense privilege, and common-interest privilege which Debtors are entitled to invoke.

4. Debtors object to Instruction No. 1 because the LPs invoke Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9014(c) although the vast majority of the Requests and Interrogatories lack relevance to the Amended Motion of Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP for an Order Dismissing the Bankruptcy Cases of ATP Life Science Ventures L.P. and ATP III GP, Ltd. (the "Motion to Dismiss") and the Motion of Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP and Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP for Relief from the Automatic Stay (the "Stay Relief Motion" and collectively with the Motion to Dismiss, the "Motions"), as set forth in the preamble to the Requests and Interrogatories. Indeed, the LPs seek information related to "any allegation made in any filing in this Action." See Instruction No. 14. The Debtors will only provide documents and information related to the Motions as the only immediately relevant contested matters.

5. Debtors object to Instruction No. 12 as overbroad. Debtors will produce electronically stored information only as agreed-upon pursuant to an electronically-stored information protocol.

6. Debtors object to Instruction No. 14 as overbroad and not proportional to the needs of these cases because the LPs seek documents and information without any date limitation, and the ostensible date limitation included in the Instruction is illusory because it includes any documents, regardless of time range, that have been "accessed … directly or indirectly" since January 1, 2025. Debtors also object to Instruction No. 14 as vague and ambiguous because it refers to an "answer to the Complaint" even though "Complaint" is not defined.

OBJECTIONS AND RESPONSES TO SECOND SET OF REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND INTERROGATORIES[2]

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 30: All "materials presented by, or on behalf of the General Partner's management and its advisors" that Dr. Seth Harrison received in connection with the Written Resolutions of the General Partner dated December 9, 2025, and exhibited to the Fund-Level Debtors' Chapter 11 petitions resolving to file the Fund and the GP for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 30

Debtors object to this Request on the basis that it is overbroad, unduly burdensome, abusive, and designed to harass the Debtors because it is wholly duplicative of Interrogatory No. 8 and demands Debtors produce "all" materials. Debtors further object to this Request to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors will produce non-privileged responsive documents pursuant to the parties' agreed-upon search protocol.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 31: All Documents or Communications concerning removing, replacing, or otherwise operating the Fund without the Limited Partners, or concerning potential new investors in the Fund

RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 31

Debtors object to this Request on the basis that it is abusive, irrelevant, and designed to harass the Debtors because it requests information that has no bearing on the issues raised in the Motions. Debtors further object to this Request to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors will produce non-privileged responsive documents pursuant to the parties' agreed-upon search protocol.

[2] As requested, Debtors provide supplemental responses to Interrogatory Nos. 1 and 6.

REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 32: All versions (including drafts) of the "Portfolio Lift Out" deck listed as Ex. 60 to Debtors' Second-Day Exhibit List and any other similar presentations, all versions of the "12-quarter value inflection point model," and all communications related to those documents.

RESPONSE TO REQUEST FOR PRODUCTION NO. 32

Debtors object to this Request as overbroad, unduly burdensome, and vague because it seeks "any" similar presentations and "all" related communications. Debtors also object to this Request because it requests information that has no bearing on the issues raised in the Motions.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors will produce non-privileged responsive documents pursuant to the parties' agreed-upon search protocol.

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Describe in detail the complete factual and/or legal basis for the allegation in paragraph 47 of the First Day Declaration of Seth L. Harrison, Dkt. No. 18, that the Partnership owes more than $221 million in unfunded commitments to certain of the PortCos, and Identify all Documents and Communications supporting that allegation, including the specific section of any Document or Communication imposing this obligation as well as all amendments to such documents.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 1

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is overbroad, unduly burdensome, abusive, and designed to harass the Debtors because it demands Debtors to identify "all" Documents and Communications related to the Partnership's funding commitments, even though those commitments are outlined in documents that the LPs already have. Debtors further object to providing the "legal basis" for the Partnership's commitments, as the "legal basis" for any argument, to the extent applicable, will be set forth in the parties' pleadings at the appropriate time.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors state that they previously produced in prepetition litigation, and will produce, documents sufficient to show the approximately $221 million in unfunded commitments owed to Portfolio Companies. The Debtors further direct Rigmora to statements Rigmora made in Cayman Islands submissions acknowledging that the Partnership had unfunded commitments.

The Debtors further direct Rigmora to the Debtors' Schedules and Statements filed on January 30, 2026 [Docket Nos. 236, 237, 239, 240, 241, & 242].

INTERROGATORY NO. 6: Identify in detail the source(s) of the approximately $17.3 million of cash not subject to the lien of any creditor that Perry Mandarino alleges the Debtors had at the Petition Date in paragraph 4 of the Declaration of Perry Mandarino in Support of Debtors' Motion for Entry of Interim and Final Orders to (I) Make and Accept Secured Loans to Portfolio Companies, (II) Authorize to the Extent Outside the ordinary Course of Business Payment of Management Company Expenses and (III) Grant Related Relief filed in this Action.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 6

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is abusive, irrelevant, and designed to harass the Debtors because it requests information that has no bearing on the issues raised in either the Stay Relief Motion or the Motion to Dismiss. The Debtors object to this Interrogatory because it requests information equally available to Rigmora. Debtors further object to this Interrogatory because the term "sources" is not defined and is therefore vague and ambiguous.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors state that the Fund's cash on hand was derived from two sources: (i) the Fund received approximately $42 million as repayment of a note by Braeburn owed to the fund in July of 2025, and (ii) the Fund received approximately $10 million as a post-closing earn-out payment from the sale of a company called Tendyne. See Hr'g Tr. 152:6-15, Jan. 20, 2026 (Bankr. D. Del).

INTERROGATORY NO. 7: Identify the date on which each Fund-Level Debtor first considered filing for bankruptcy and/or restructuring and the date on which such course of action was decided upon.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 7

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is abusive, irrelevant, and designed to harass the Debtors because it requests information that has no bearing on the issues raised in either the Lift Stay Motion or the Motion to Dismiss. Debtors further object to the word "considered" as vague and ambiguous. Debtors further object to this Interrogatory to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product. Any "consideration" of the filing for bankruptcy and/or restructuring necessarily involves privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections or privileges, the Debtors state that the Fund-Level Debtors reached the decision to file for chapter 11 reorganization after December 5, 2025 when it became apparent to the Fund-Level Debtors that they had largely prevailed in the Delaware Chancery Court litigation but after that date there was substantial risk that (a) Rigmora would not voluntarily pay to the GP Debtor the approximately $97 million ordered to be specifically performed but instead would appeal and seek to bond its obligations, which would have left the Partnership Debtor with insufficient cash to pay its obligations for more than few weeks; (b) Rigmora made no indication that it intended to amend its pending winding-up petition to reflect the fact that the Delaware Chancery Court's findings precluded Rigmora from asserting the GP Debtor had breached the LPA or acted in bad faith by making capital calls and commencing litigation against Rigmora; (c) Rigmora had a lengthy history of circumventing Delaware as a contractual forum by ex parte seeking relief in the Cayman Islands court and there was risk Rigmora would do so again to block the use of any funds to save investments in portfolio companies; and (d) because of Rigmora's status as an investor in the Partnership Debtor that had failed to honor capital calls, had actively sought to block future investments in the Partnership Debtor's portfolio companies, and had the potential ability to block future capital raises, chapter 11 reorganization provided the Fund-Level Debtors the best means to maximize their values. The Fund-Level Debtors first "considered" commencing chapter 11 cases in mid-November 2025 when they believed that they were likely to prevail in the Delaware Chancery Court.

INTERROGATORY NO. 8: Identify all the "materials presented by, or on behalf of the General Partner's management and its advisors" that Dr. Seth Harrison received in connection with the Written Resolutions of the General Partner dated December 9, 2025, and exhibited to the Fund-Level Debtors' Chapter 11 petitions resolving to file the Fund and the GP for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 8

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is overbroad, unduly burdensome, abusive, and designed to harass the Debtors because it is wholly duplicative of RFP No. 30, demands Debtors to identify "all" materials, and demands compilation of documents that the Debtors have already agreed be provide to Rigmora in response to document requests. Debtors further object to this Interrogatory to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors state that they will produce the documents reviewed by Dr. Seth Harrison received in connection with the Written Resolutions of the General Partner dated December 9, 2025, and related non-privileged communications pursuant to the parties' agreed-upon search protocol.

INTERROGATORY NO. 9: State the total expenses incurred in connection with the Chapter 11 Cases that You have charged and intend to charge to the Fund.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 9

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is abusive, irrelevant, and designed to harass the Debtors because it requests information after the time period the parties agreed to be relevant, and because it requests information that has no bearing on the issues raised in the Motions. The Debtors also object to this Interrogatory as unduly burdensome because the same information can be found in the budgets that the Debtors have already provided and will be reflected in any monthly operating reports and fee applications that will be filed in the Bankruptcy Court.

In light of the foregoing, no further answer is required.

INTERROGATORY NO. 10: Identify all Persons with knowledge of the decision to file the Fund-Level Debtors for Chapter 11 bankruptcy and the preparations thereof.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 10

Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is abusive, irrelevant, and designed to harass the Debtors because it requests information after the Petition Date that has no bearing on the issues raised in either the Stay Relief Motion or the Motion to Dismiss.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors identify the following individuals:

- Seth Harrison
- Joseph Yanchik
- Daniel Finkelman

- Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP
- Walkers (Cayman) LLP
- Potter Anderson & Corroon LLP
- Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz
- B. Riley Restructuring Services, LLC
- Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC d/b/a Verita

INTERROGATORY NO. 11: Identify any Person (including fact or expert witnesses) whose testimony (whether written, oral or otherwise) You intend to rely upon connection with the Motions, including at the hearing on February 25, 2026.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 11

The Debtors object to this Interrogatory because it abusive, unduly burdensome, and designed to harass the Debtors by demanding they identify witnesses that they will use in connection with the Motions nearly a month before it is set for hearing. The Debtors further object to this Interrogatory to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product. The Debtors further object to this interrogatory because the parties have agreed to exchange witness lists on February 20, 2026 for the February 25, 2026 hearing.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Debtors state that they will inform Rigmora of the Debtors' potential witnesses by the agreed-upon time. The Debtors further state that they currently intend to rely on information from at least the following witnesses:

- Seth Harrison
- Perry Mandarino
- One or more representatives of portfolio companies

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

OBJECTIONS TO DEFINITIONS

1. The Debtors incorporate by reference the Objections to Definitions from the Original Responses and Objections.

OBJECTIONS TO INSTRUCTIONS

1. The Debtors incorporate by reference the Objections to Instructions from the Original Responses and Objections.

SUPPLEMENTAL OBJECTIONS AND RESPONSES TO FIRST SET OF REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND INTERROGATORIES

INTERROGATORY NO. 8: Identify all the "materials presented by, or on behalf of the General Partner's management and its advisors" that Dr. Seth Harrison received in connection with the Written Resolutions of the General Partner dated December 9, 2025, and exhibited to the Fund-Level Debtors' Chapter 11 petitions resolving to file the Fund and the GP for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 8

The Debtors object to this Interrogatory on the basis that it is overbroad, unduly burdensome, abusive, and designed to harass the Debtors because it is wholly duplicative of RFP No. 30 and demands the Debtors identify "all" materials, and demands compilation of documents that the Debtors have already agreed be provide to Rigmora in response to document requests. The Debtors further object to this Interrogatory to the extent that it requests privileged attorney-client communications and attorney work product. The Debtors further object to this Interrogatory because it is vague and ambiguous as to the meaning of "exhibited to the Fund-Level Debtors' Chapter 11 petitions" because it is fundamentally unclear how someone can "exhibit" something to a bankruptcy petition. The Debtors will identify the materials that Dr. Harrison considered in connection with the December 9, 2025 Written Resolution of the Sole Director of ATP III GP., Ltd., which is available at Case No. 25-12179, Docket No. 1.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, Debtors, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 33(d), identify the following written documents that the director of ATP III GP, Ltd. considered in connection with the decision to file the Fund and the GP for Chapter 11 bankruptcy: the December 5, 2025 Post-Trial Memorandum Opinion of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit B to the Declaration of Dr. Seth L. Harrison in Support of Chapter 11 Petitions and First Day Motions [Docket No. 18] and the documents listed by Bates number in the chart below:

In re:	Chapter 11
Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc., et al.,[1]	Case No. 25-12177 (LSS)
Debtors.	(Jointly Administered)

VERIFICATION

I, Perry M. Mandarino, hereby declare, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, as follows:

Pool ATP V-1

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$53.27M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	84.07%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

In the quarter, Initial progressed its efforts on the ARV program in ways limited by resource and headcount constraints stemming from the ongoing dispute over funding which is the subject of the Litigation. The company has identified pan AR translation inhibitors with increased selectivity based on transcriptomics. An updated cryoEM structure provides a strong rationale for the observed selectivity and for future design hypotheses. Initial continues to believe that the ARV program is positioned to be highly competitive in resistant prostate cancer, among other areas, given the novelty of its approach (dual knockdown of ARV and ARV7).

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	87.52%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Pre Series B

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics discovers novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases including Parkinson's disease and ALS.

In the quarter, owing to lack of funding related to budget approval disputes arising in the Litigation, Nine Square was forced to pause its work on both of its lead programs.

The first paused program is a highly potent TRPML1 activator for potential treatment of multiple system atrophy (MSA) with expansion opportunities to Lewy body dementia and Parkinson's disease. The compound was being profiled in safety studies to inform development candidate nomination. Pharmacokinetic attributes for BID/QD dosing in humans was already demonstrated consistent with target product profiles, and high tolerability was shown in life safety studies. Nine Square's TRPML1 activators have shown target engagement for key biomarkers in brain (TFEB, SPP1, PSAP) and plasma (SPP1, PSAP), thus confirming on-target mechanism. The company's compound has demonstrated superiority over other advanced leads across the industry (Casma, Libra) in pharmacological and pharmaceutical properties.

The second paused program is the company's advanced lead in the Parkin program. The compound has shown excellent brain and plasma exposure after oral dosing in rodents. Furthermore, the compound showed a sustained and dose-responsive increase in on-mechanism brain biomarkers of Parkinson's disease. Parkin has been viewed as a cornerstone target in Parkinson's disease throughout neuroscience, and Nine Square's advanced lead program is viewed as an industry and scientific first.

Despite its severely compromised position due to the Litigation, Nine Square has continued to attract significant interest from strategic partners and other funding sources due to the high value of its internal portfolio. In the quarter, Nine Square received an approximately $1M grant from the Michael J Fox Foundation in support of the TRPML1 project. Also in the quarter, Nine Square advanced its BD discussions under CDA with Ipsen and Lundbeck.

The company has received a non-binding term sheet from Ipsen for a research collaboration with an option to in-license the TRPML1 development candidate, subject to successful completion of technical diligence. The proposed financial terms currently include $26M upfront upon development candidate delivery and a total deal value, excluding royalties, of $500M. The key diligence risk is the unavailability, due to funding restrictions, of dose range finding safety data. Diligence review under CDA is continuing with Merck for the Parkin project.

Pool ATP V-2

Aethon Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$17.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2022
Ownership:	77.45%	Investment Stage:	Budget Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

As in 2Q, owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Aethon focused its work primarily on the G12C and G12D programs in its collaboration with Revolution Medicines (RevMed). However, the company has been able to use some marginal funds from the RevMed deal to progress three wholly owned programs.

The first in-house program is in pan-RAS inhibitors that kill only cancer cells expressing amplified RAS and not those with wild type levels of RAS. Given the limited allocation of funding and resources to this program, progress has been slow, but antibodies that selectively kill cancer cells with amplified KRAS while sparing those with non-amplified KRAS have been identified and affinity maturation is ongoing, with more potent antibodies expected in 1Q2026.

The second in-house program is a best-in-class TP53Y200C binder. DC nomination had originally been expected in 4Q2025 but given limited funding the estimated DC nomination timing has been pushed out to 2Q2026.

The third in-house program focuses on a p53 corrector that is applicable to multiple p53 oncogenic mutations, including Y220C. Hits were confirmed in this program during 3Q.

Aethon is targeting achieving DC in the first RevMed program in 1Q2026, ahead of schedule, which would trigger a milestone payment. If the company achieves this milestone ahead of schedule as expected, it will be able to maintain both p53 programs, but if the acceleration of the work towards the RevMed DC milestone cannot be maintained, the company will have to stop the p53Y220C program and focus only on the broader scope p53 program. That decision will be made during 4Q2025 based upon progress in the RevMed programs.

Apertor Pharmaceuticals

Investment to date:	$29.0M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Ownership:	87.17%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/ Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Apertor is currently operating with a significantly reduced headcount of four people. The company in the quarter nevertheless managed to deliver a development candidate in addition to its existing DC, AP-414—an achievement that further supports the therapeutically valuable selective mTORC1/4E-BP1 concept. The new DC, AP-457, demonstrates increased stability and potency over its competitor, Revolution Medicines' RMC-5552. In preclinical studies, AP-457 shows complete stability in plasma over a 24-hour period and superior efficacy in vivo over RMC-5552, with tumor regression as a monotherapy in MCF7 cell cancers. Furthermore, in combination with the KRAS inhibitor sotorasib, AP-414 and AP-457 both deliver tumor regression in preclinical non-small cell lung carcinoma studies.

In the quarter, in response to constrained resources related to the funding dispute, which is the subject of the Litigation, Apertor was forced to pause work on its two leads in the CRAF interceptor program, AP-458 and AP-460. DC nomination, previously anticipated before year end, now will be delayed until resources are available to resume work on these programs. In the meantime, Apertor has updated its clinical development plan for patient segregation and selection targeting NSCLC and renal carcinoma. Refreshed commercial assessment for AP457 suggest peak sales of approximately $5B.

Aulos Bioscience

Investment to date:	$60.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	69.83%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Bridge to Series B

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

The quarter saw continued progress in Aulos's phase 2 trial of imneskibart (AU-007).

Based on input from its Melanoma Advisory Board composed of key opinion leaders in the field, Aulos submitted a protocol amendment to FDA on July 31 to modify the inclusion criteria in the melanoma cohorts, and the amendment was accepted.

A new US clinical trial site at Washington University in St. Louis was opened during the quarter, bringing the number of sites open to 14, with several others planned to open in the coming months.

The following updated clinical findings were observed in the quarter: A Phase 2 patient receiving treatment for renal cell carcinoma achieved a partial response (46% reduction); this patient has been on therapy for over 14 months. Two patients from Phase 1 with complete responses in their head & neck and bladder cancer continue on therapy for over two years. Two of eight patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with imneskibart with Proleukin and avelumab achieved tumor reductions of -45% and -43% after progressing on first-line checkpoint inhibitor regimens, and others have tumor shrinkage or stable disease that may convert to tumor responses with continued treatment. One of three patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with imneskibart with Proleukin (but no avelumab) achieved a deepened tumor reduction of -24% and continues on therapy. Nine of 14 patients receiving imneskibart with Proleukin (without nivolumab) for melanoma achieved tumor shrinkages, including three with reductions of more than 30% (-48%, -58%, -100%). First CT scans were received for the first three patients treated with imneskibart, Proleukin, and nivolumab for melanoma, and those patients have tumor volume changes of +24%, +2%, and -22%) at the 2-month mark, and all continue on therapy. (Tumor reduction often increases with longer duration of therapy.)

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$43.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	78.65%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics is accelerating drug discovery with a platform built upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

Deep Apple is projecting the delivery of property-differentiated development candidates for the GIPR antagonist program. DAT-6464 and DAT-9664 demonstrate different efflux properties which will impact hypothalamic distribution and thus demonstrate different efficacy/safety profiles. DAT 6464 has completed multiple in vivo weight loss studies demonstrating >40% efficacy improvement as a combination with liraglutide, a GLP-1 agonist, over liraglutide monotherapy. Furthermore, Deep Apple continues to advance DAT-9232, the MC4R program, to development candidate selection studies, including in vivo efficacy and human dose projections. The MRGPRX2 development candidate DAT 4775 has likewise continued to advance and is entering regulatory toxicology studies in 4Q. As reported in the 2Q digest entry, the target timing for IND readiness for the MRGPRX2 program is 1Q2026 (the original target timing had been 4Q2025 and was pushed back given the budget disputes which are the subject of the Litigation).

The superb productivity of the Deep Apple team is creating a traffic jam of development candidates, and Deep Apple, given its current funding, cannot afford to take the compounds to clinical development. Hence the company is proactively engaging in BD discussions with strategic partners for the GIPR antagonist project (Merck, Novartis) and the MRGPRX2 program (Biogen, RAPT, Almiral).

Evercrisp Biosciences

Investment to date:	$26.00M	Initial Investment Date:	August 2021
Ownership:	83.39%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Evercrisp Biosciences, founded with Noble Laureate Jennifer Doudna, discoverer of CRISPR gene editing, applies advanced computational sciences to discover and develop miniproteins with self-delivery properties designed to access brain, kidney, muscle, and other tissues that have been previously unreachable by genetic medicines.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Evercrisp has slowed or paused its work on its programs. The company's emphasis has shifted to the design of tissue selective expressions of TfR1 miniproteins and nephrin mini-proteins with reduced clearance rates. A modified nephrin miniprotein has been identified with appreciable potency <10 nM. Preparation of these miniproteins with refined developability criteria is occurring with CROs.

In the quarter, company management completed a commercial assessment for a subcutaneously delivered DMD agent; this assessment suggests peak sales at $1B. Furthermore, exon skipping muscle targeting constructs are forecasted to achieve >300M per skipper. There are multiple exon skipping mutants.

The company continues to have discussions under CDA with potential strategic partners.

Marlinspike Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$27.73M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2022
Ownership:	88.66%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Marlinspike Therapeutics established a platform to discover and develop small molecule inhibitors for RNA helicases, critical components of the alternative splicing and RNA processing machinery. These pathways are dysregulated in many cancers and represent a new target class.

As in 2Q, owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Marlinspike persists with no employees. Marlinspike, as reported in the prior quarter, closed its operations. The company now is cash out with its remaining cash going towards winddown operations. The company's high-potential SF3B1 covalent inhibitor project is essentially stalled using very limited funding from ATP R&D Labs sufficient to test a few compounds identified in 2Q to confirm the mouse PK of single-digit nanomolar inhibitors that kill c-Myc dependent cancer cells selectively. These inhibitors have acceptable other in vitro properties that are hallmarks of a DC; however, they cannot be progressed into in vivo studies due to the lack of funding arising from the budget issues which are the subject of the Litigation.

Nereid Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	85.15%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Pre-Series B

Company snapshot: Nereid Therapeutics discovers new disease treatments by applying pioneering research and technologies in biomolecular condensates.

In the quarter, Nereid continued to engage in business development discussions for all its programs:

1. NDTX-615, a prodrug of the active compound NDTX-9065, which targets CKAP5, a high-value oncology target with potential to be efficacious for numerous cancers including colorectal, bladder, and lung, based upon readouts from IND-enabling studies;

2. The TDP43 program, at lead optimization stage, with compounds demonstrating reduction in neurofilament light chain (NfL) in mice, a registrable end point for ALS and a high confidence biomarker for neurodegenerative disorders;
