3. NER-0120682, the Myc program, which reached development candidate stage ahead of schedule and which has confirmed on-target activity via numerous biophysical methods, and which also demonstrates protein degradation using PROTAC derivatives of current leads. These two findings represent industry first and best achievements. Efficacy in triple negative breast cancer has been demonstrated preclinically, showing superiority over standard of care agents.

Nereid is engaged in BD discussions under CDA with AZ for both its oncology projects. Compounds that possess development candidate attributes for the Myc project have been identified. Nereid is engaged in BD discussions with Merck and BMS for the TDP43 project.

Red Queen Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$27.60M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2021
Ownership:	90.45%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Red Queen Therapeutics is pursuing a proprietary antiviral technology that has broad applicability against families of envelope viruses, including all coronaviruses, influenza, RSV, and others. The company's technology is distinguished by activity against all known resistant variants in these virus families as well emerging pathologic variants and provides for off-the-shelf, immediate treatment of a broad spectrum of viral infections with a low to negligible risk of adverse events.

As previously reported, in 2Q2025 (one quarter behind originally anticipated timing, given funding delays related to budget disputes which are the subject of the Litigation), Red Queen delivered a stapled peptide therapeutic with development candidate potency against all Flu A and Flu B viruses tested. This assessment was externally validated by BARDA, who had contracted the company to discover this peptide, awarding Red Queen a $250,000 milestone payment. However, in 3Q2025 the in vivo work required for DC nomination was not able to be started, due to the funding issues which are the subject of the Litigation.

Red Queen had also identified a second therapeutic that achieved development candidate potency against RSV, PIV, MPV (all common respiratory viruses) and Nipah virus, a highly virulent virus that kills 40-75% of the people it infects. The in vivo studies required for DC nomination likewise have not commenced due to lack of resources to do so, related to the funding issues which are the subject of the Litigation.

Replicate Bioscience

Investment to date:	$59.25M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2021
Ownership:	84.49%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is creating a best-in-class RNA medicines company using its proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA (srRNA) platform technology, with initial areas of focus being infectious disease and treatment of autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

In the quarter, Replicate closed a strategic partnership with Novo Nordisk to discover and develop next generation srRNA therapeutics for cardiometabolic disease and commenced work described under this partnership, which was publicly announced on August 28, 2025.

Replicate is finalizing a LATAM partnership with Instituto Butantan for continued development of Replicate's rabies vaccine, RBI-4000, and this deal is anticipated to close in 4Q2025. Gates Foundation grants, with an expected total of $10 million of committed funding, for development of vaccines for HIV, malaria, TB, and rotavirus and subject to a humanitarian license only, are also in progress, with the first grant (in TB) expected to close in 4Q2025 and the second grant expected to close in 1Q2026.

In Replicate's internal pipeline, all work related to the highly valuable EBV vaccine candidate, RBI-5000, with potential billion-dollar acquisition value at Phase 1, has continued to be on hold due to disputes regarding budgets that are the subject of the Litigation.

Also in the quarter, Chief Business Officer Rachael Lester announced her intent to depart Replicate for another position, citing instability related to the Litigation.

Pool ATP V-3

Ascidian Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$89.57M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.87%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian Therapeutics is developing exon-editing RNA therapeutics to target the underlying causes of disease and restore normal protein function.

Ascidian continues to identify cash preservation opportunities and to date has reduced total 2025 burn rate by ~$10M relative to plan.

In the quarter, Ascidian completed dosing of the mid-dose cohort of the STELLAR trial for ACDN-01 in Stargardt disease. DSMB review was completed in mid-October to approve the initiation of the high dose and pediatric arms. The majority of high dose cohort patients have been identified and screened. Ascidian will take the decision to open such cohorts based on management assessment of progress in securing Roche milestones. Workplans on the four targets in the Roche collaboration are proceeding per plan.

The COL4A5 program continues to advance towards a development candidate.

A T P

Collaboration discussions are underway with Eli Lilly. Regeneron withdrew their interest in a hearing target, but Eli Lilly has added an option for that target to their collaboration structure.

During the quarter John Kerwin (former Resilience, Biogen), current interim head of Operations and VP of Technical Development, was promoted to SVP of Operations.

Galvanize Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$127.04M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	23.18%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series C

Company snapshot: Galvanize Therapeutics is developing and commercializing its Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system) and oncology (Aliya system).

Galvanize closed 3Q2025 with $7.6 million in sales, above its $6.9 million target and 26% above the 2Q2025 revenue of $6.0 million. Sales of generators were particularly strong, up 79% from $1.39 million in 2Q to $2.48 million in 3Q2025. Percutaneous revenue was down from $2.0 to $1.3 million owing to challenges with reimbursement and the sales team's focus on endoscopic usage. Sixteen new endoscopic sites were launched in 3Q2025 (same as 2Q2025) and now total 86 sites in the United States.

With regards to clinical studies, the PROPEL registry study started enrolling in 3Q2025 and has already reached over 150 subjects (including retrospective cases), and the RheSolve pivotal trial data were presented at the European Respiratory Society held in Amsterdam September 27 through October 1.

In 3Q2025, Galvanize also completed its acquisition of Energenx, and the integration is ongoing. There are immediate synergies in manufacturing, clinical and R&D.

Marengo Therapeutics

Ownership:	81.41%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series B

Company snapshot: Marengo Therapeutics is a multi-platform immuno-oncology company; its lead asset is a next generation TCR vβ T cell engager that stimulates a natural “superkiller” T cell subset with an effector memory phenotype.

Marengo continues to operate and collect data from its two invikafusp trials—as a monotherapy and combination with Trodelvy (Gilead)—per plan. Although data remain preliminary, efficacy signals are being observed in additional cancers including lung and gastric cancer. As of the end of 3Q2025, the magnitude and quality of the responses are to be determined, but the company views this as a positive development. Marengo has now chosen a recommended Phase 2 dose in the Trodelvy combination trial for breast cancer, and patients are currently being enrolled into that dose cohort.

The Ipsen collaboration remains productive. Ipsen's first collaboration program, STAR-0501, submitted its first IND and has since received FDA clearance. Subject to Ipsen, the Phase 1 trial for STAR-0501 is expected to commence in the coming months. Marengo secured a $10M milestone payment as a result of the progress.

The company's clinical trial results continue to attract industry attention. On September 24, Marengo announced that its late-breaking abstract was selected for oral presentation at the European Society for Medical Oncology (ESMO) conference in Berlin, and the presentation was delivered at ESMO on October 17. It is believed that the Company's submission was the only LBA oral presentation selected in the Investigational IO category.

During the quarter, Chief Scientific Officer Andrew Bayliffe resigned, and Mikael Dolsten, the long-time Chief Scientific Officer and President for Research and Development at Pfizer, joined the Board of Directors.

Pool ATP Braeburn

Braeburn

Investment to date:	$402.96M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	83.10%	Investment Stage:	Active/Commercial

Company snapshot: Braeburn makes and markets BRIXADI, the best-in-class medicine for opioid use disorder (OUD).

For the nine months ending September 30, 2025, Brixadi's net revenue was approximately $201.7 million, 2.9% above the company's guidance of $196.0 million. Brixadi continued to perform well during the quarter, with 75,562 units shipped, which is a 22.4% increase over Q2 2025. Growth again was steady with no major single purchases influencing the results.

In the quarter, Braeburn secured a significant win with Massachusetts Medicaid, moving Brixadi access from Non-Preferred PA to No PA status. In September, the company launched a branded direct-to-patient campaign.

Braeburn ended the quarter with a cash balance of $71.2 million, comfortably above the requirement for the Hercules debt facility.

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$53.27M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	84.07%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

With no funding available, Initial has been forced to pause work and therefore has no progress to report for the quarter.

In December 2025, Initial submitted a voluntary petition for Chapter 11 restructuring to the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware.

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	87.52%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Pre Series B

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics discovers novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases including Parkinson's disease and ALS.

In the quarter, Ipsen proposed to reengage BD discussions with Nine Square after formulation and exposure data in vivo become available for the TRPML1 candidate, along with preclinical safety data. However, these results could not be obtained due to the funding freeze.

In January 2026, Nine Square submitted a voluntary petition for Chapter 11 restructuring to the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware.

Aethon Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$17.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2022
Ownership:	77.45%	Investment Stage:	Budget Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

As in the prior two quarters, in 4Q2025 Aethon focused its work primarily on the G12C and G12D programs in its collaboration with Revolution Medicines (RevMed). Delivery of the DCs has been accelerated by 1-2 quarters so that both are expected in 1Q or 2Q2026. In addition, Aethon continues to use some marginal funds from the RevMed deal to progress three wholly owned programs (described in the 3Q2025 report).

The first in-house program—pan-RAS inhibitors that kill only cancer cells expressing amplified RAS and not those with wild type levels of RAS—saw progress in the quarter as Aethon identified a second immune signal cis and an antibody format which resulted in 50-fold shifts in potency with the original non affinity matured antibody hit such that cell kill is occurring at less than 100pM. Affinity maturation is expected to drive this potency 10-50 fold lower.

The second in-house program—a best-in-class TP53Y200C binder—had originally been targeted for DC nomination in 4Q2025, then was delayed to 2Q2026 given limited funding. In the face of ongoing funding and resource constraints, the estimated DC nomination timing has now been pushed out to 3Q2026.

The third in-house program—a p53 corrector that is applicable to multiple p53 oncogenic mutations, including Y220C—advanced into lead development in the quarter, with the lead series demonstrating EC50=1.5 uM correcting the conformation of mutant p53 translating to EC50=1.6uM restoration of mutant p53 transcriptional activity.

Aulos Bioscience

Investment to date:	$60.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	69.83%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Bridge to Series B

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

In the ongoing phase 2 clinical trial of imneskibart (AU-007), four cohorts are now open: (1) melanoma and renal cell carcinoma, receiving imneskibart with a single low dose of Proleukin IL-2 as a second- or third-line treatment; (2) same as cohort (1), but with the addition of Opdivo (nivolumab, an anti-PD-1); (3) PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer that progressed on prior first-line checkpoint inhibitor therapy, receiving imneskibart with a single low dose of Proleukin as a second-line treatment; (4) same as cohort (3), but with the addition of Bavencio (avelumab anti-PD-L1 with ADCC effector function).

Two new US clinical trial sites in Minnesota and Texas opened in the quarter, bringing the number of sites open to 16, with additional sites planned to open in the coming months.

Six of 12 patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with imneskibart plus Proleukin and avelumab achieved tumor reductions, with two achieving partial responses. One of two patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with imneskibart with a loading dose of Proleukin (but no avelumab) achieved a tumor reduction of -26% and continues on therapy for ten months. Nine of 14 patients receiving imneskibart with Proleukin (without nivolumab) for melanoma achieved tumor reductions, including three with reductions of more than 30% (-48%, -58%, -100%). Among patients treated with imneskibart, Proleukin, and nivolumab for melanoma, four of six patients achieved stable disease or better, including one partial response. Tumor reduction often increases with longer duration of therapy.

In November, Aulos presented Phase 2 data at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) Annual Meeting, showing deep and durable tumor regressions in heavily pre-treated melanoma patients, with a mild safety profile easily managed in outpatient setting; early signals of objective responses were also presented for patients with non-small cell lung cancer. Additional durable, complete responses have been observed in two patients with bladder cancer and head and neck cancer for more than two years, following treatment with imneskibart and low-dose aldesleukin. The SITC poster showed that imneskibart continues to demonstrate clear and unique competitive advantages in the IL-2 class and presented evidence that higher Teff/Treg ratios driven by imneskibart correlate with longer time on treatment and overall survival for patients.

In the quarter, articles about Aulos and imneskibart were published in Drug Discovery World and Clinical Trials Arena, and BiotechTV conducted a video interview with CEO Aron Knickerbocker at the SITC conference.

Business development discussions continue with large pharmaceutical companies that are following the imneskibart development program, and financing efforts with venture capital and hedge funds are ongoing.

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$43.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	78.65%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics accelerates drug discovery with a platform built upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

In the quarter, Deep Apple's GIPR antagonist candidate DAT-6464 completed a seven-day toxicology study in rats. The compound was well tolerated across all doses with 300mg/Kg being the highest. DAT-9661 was identified as a structurally diverse backup stemming from the same core, a highly potent and stable compound which meets all criteria for entering safety studies.

The MC4R project team identified DAT-9232 as the leading candidate. This highly selective compound for MC4/MC3R has demonstrated robust weight loss attributes in a 13-day rodent study. DAT-9232 will be profiled in safety pharmacology studies.

Deep Apple's MRGPRX2 development candidate has completed the in-life portion of the regulatory toxicology studies with no issues. The histopathology report, anticipated in April, will trigger the submission of regulatory documents to initiate a clinical trial. The MRGPRX2 team is currently focused on indication expansion, with planned in vivo studies for asthma and migraine in 1Q2026.

Progress has been made in the GIPR agonist program with a highly potent agonist that will be profiled in vivo in 1Q2026. The Amylin team has produced a structural biology toolkit and structures to enable drug design.

With no funding available, Nereid has been forced to pause work and therefore has no progress to report for the quarter.

In January 2026, Nereid submitted a voluntary petition for Chapter 11 restructuring to the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware.

Red Queen Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$27.60M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2021
Ownership:	90.45%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Red Queen is pursuing a proprietary antiviral technology that has broad applicability against families of envelope viruses, including all coronaviruses, influenza, RSV, and others. The company's technology is distinguished by activity against all known resistant variants in these virus families as well emerging pathologic variants and provides for off-the-shelf, immediate treatment of a broad spectrum of viral infections with a low to negligible risk of adverse events.

Operating within budget constraints, in the quarter Red Queen progressed RQ-02 targeting RSV, PIV and MPV, confirming reproducibility and its very high (nM) potency. The in vivo studies required for DC nomination have not commenced due to lack of resources.

The company's research partners at the Institute of Virology, Medical University of Innsbruck have finalized a manuscript based on the work they conducted for Red Queen, using their novel gain-of-function studies to evaluate resistance development in RQ-001. The manuscript is being submitted for peer review and potential publication. Larry Smith, the company's former Head of Virology, with whom Red Queen parted due to the lack of funding, is a co-author on the manuscript.

In November, Red Queen was named as one of Nature Biotechnology's 2025 Editor's Picks and was profiled with a feature story in the publication.

Replicate Bioscience

Investment to date:	$63.25M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2021
Ownership:	84.49%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is a best-in-class RNA medicines and vaccines company with proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA (srRNA) platform technology, with initial areas of focus in infectious disease and autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

In the quarter, Replicate closed important new strategic partnerships with Instituto Butantan and the Gates Foundation.

Instituto Butantan, a leading non-profit producer of immunobiologic products based in Brazil, will cover the research, development, and manufacturing costs to take RBI-4000, Replicate's novel srRNA rabies vaccine, through licensure. Under the agreement, Instituto Butantan gains exclusive rights to develop and commercialize RBI-4000 in Brazil and other Latin American countries, and Replicate retains development rights in markets outside of Latin America and may use clinical data collected by Butantan. Replicate will provide GMP material for clinical trials and transfer manufacturing process to Butantan's mRNA vaccine production facility.

The Gates Foundation awarded Replicate two grants of approximately $3.5 million each (~$7 million total) to develop next generation srRNA vaccines for HIV and malaria, respectively. The agreements allow for new vaccine candidates arising from the partnership to be advanced with the Gates Medical Research Institute (GMRI), with GMRI retaining rights in Low-and Middle-Income Countries and Replicate retaining rights in High-Income Countries. All targets jointly developed with the Gates Foundation will be subject to humanitarian licensing terms. An additional $3 million in funding from the Gates Foundation for development of TB and rotavirus vaccines is anticipated to be finalized in 1Q2026.

In Replicate's internal pipeline, all work related to the highly valuable EBV vaccine candidate, RBI-5000, and a triple respiratory combo vaccine targeting RSV/hMPV/PIV3—each with potential billion-dollar acquisition value at Phase 1—continues to be on hold due to the lack of funding.

Also in the quarter, Kathy Fernando (formerly with Pfizer and Deloitte) joined the company as Chief Business Officer.

Ascidian Therapeutics

Ownership:	84.87%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian Therapeutics is developing exon-editing RNA therapeutics to target the underlying causes of disease and restore normal protein function.

In the quarter, Ascidian initiated dosing of the high dose cohort of the STELLAR trial of ACDN-01 in Stargardt disease. Completion of the high dose cohort is anticipated in 1Q2026.

Workplans on the targets in the Roche collaboration are proceeding per plan, and Ascidian anticipates submitting a LOGO milestone data package for one target in 1Q2026.

The COL4A5 program continues to advance towards a development candidate, including capsid identification. Collaboration discussions are underway with Eli Lilly, with contract drafts being exchanged and a senior level meeting transpiring at the J.P. Morgan Healthcare Conference (JPM) in January.

Ascidian and Forge Biologics, the contract manufacturing organization of ACDN-01, publicly disclosed their partnership in early January 2026, in advance of JPM.

Galvanize Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$127.04M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	23.18%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series C

Company snapshot: Galvanize Therapeutics is developing and commercializing its Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system) and oncology (Aliya system).

Galvanize brought in $8.2 million in revenue in the quarter, beating its forecast of $7.5 million and achieving an increase of approximately 65% over the prior year (4Q2024). A rough breakdown of the revenue mix is 50% re-orders, 40% capital, and 10% from new starts. Endoscopic sites in the United States continue to grow and now number more than 100.

The company filed a 510K for its new 'EX' generator at the end of November and expects approval in about 6-9 months. The agency has started its review and Galvanize leadership has responded to an initial set of questions.

Integration of the Energenx team continued in the quarter, with particular focus on clinical trial activity in China. Galvanize has decided not to hire its own sales team in China and accordingly has commenced discussions with potential distributors in the country.

Galvanize is currently in negotiations to revise its agreement with Cardiofocus such that all milestones due to Galvanize (roughly $16 million) would accelerate on a change of control of Cardiofocus. In exchange, Galvanize will grant a sublicense to Cardiofocus' Japan supplier, JLL, to facilitate the sale of Cardiofocus without an obstruction from JLL, should an offer be received.

Galvanize made several management changes in the quarter, including hiring Gabe McHugh (formerly Olympus and Covidien/MDT) as the company's first Chief Commercial Officer, and Cathy Harnett (formerly Shockwave and JNJ/Cardinal) as Vice President of Human Resources. The company agreed to part ways with Jon Waldstreicher, who transitioned into a consulting role on January 1, 2026. Also in the quarter, Shockwave president Isaac Zacharias and SI-BONE CEO Laura Francis joined the Galvanize board as independent directors.

In October 2025, the company presented data from the RheSolve trial at the annual CHEST medical conference in Chicago, and AFFINITY trial data were published in the open access journal Cancers.

Marengo Therapeutics

Ownership:	81.41%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series B

Company snapshot: Marengo Therapeutics is a multi-platform immuno-oncology company; its lead asset is a next generation TCR vβ T cell engager that stimulates a natural "superkiller" T cell subset with an effector memory phenotype.

Marengo Therapeutics is continuing its two clinical programs evaluating invikafusp, including both monotherapy and combination therapy with Trodelvy (Gilead Sciences). While clinical data remain preliminary, encouraging monotherapy efficacy signals have been observed across seven biomarker-positive tumor types (TMB-H or MSI-H), including colorectal, lung, breast, bladder, nasopharyngeal carcinoma (NPC), gastric, and gastroesophageal junction (GEJ) cancers. Cytokine release syndrome (CRS) remains the most common adverse event, with approximately ~80% Grade 1–2 events and ~15% Grade 3 events, consistent with observations from the Phase 1 study. Several initial unconfirmed clinical responses have since been confirmed; however, durability of clinical benefit remains immature and will require longer follow up.

Marengo has now advanced its invikafusp + Trodelvy combination trial into Phase 2a in breast cancer. Patient enrollment is ongoing across two cohorts: triple-negative breast cancer (TNBC) and HR+/HER2- breast cancer. In addition, two confirmed responses have been reported from the invikafusp + TROP-2 ADC combination study in patients with advanced breast cancer.

The company is early in its new pharmaceutical partnership with Menarini, where it out-licensed its pre-clinical TriStar0705 asset targeting breast cancer. As a reminder, the transaction included an $18 million upfront payment, full cost reimbursement through IND, and a total potential deal value of up to $600 million. The company's collaboration with Ipsen continues to progress productively. Ipsen's first partnered program, STAR-0501, has initiated a Phase I clinical trial, with first-patient-in targeted for 1Q2026. The second collaboration asset, STAR-0502, has entered the IND-enabling stage and is hoped to reach several key milestones in the second half of 2026, with IND submission potential by year-end 2026.

Marengo's clinical momentum continues to attract meaningful scientific and industry recognition. In November, the company announced that its late-breaking abstract on invikafusp monotherapy in TMB-high cancer patients was selected for a plenary oral presentation at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) Annual Meeting in Washington, DC. Subsequently, in December, the invikafusp + Trodelvy combination was selected for late-breaking presentation at the San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium (SABCS) in Texas.

Braeburn

Investment to date:	$402.96M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	83.10%	Investment Stage:	Active/Commercial

Company snapshot: Braeburn makes and markets BRIXADI, the best-in-class medicine for opioid use disorder (OUD).

For the year ending December 31, 2025, Brixadi's net revenue was approximately $294.0 million, surpassing the company's guidance of $280.0 million by 5%. Brixadi demonstrated strong performance during the quarter, shipping 85,111 units—a notable 12.6% increase compared to 3Q2025. This steady growth was achieved without any major single purchases influencing the results, indicating consistent market demand.

During the quarter, Braeburn secured a win with Indiana Medicaid, elevating Brixadi's access from a step through Sublocade to equal status. Additionally, the company successfully hired most of the Strategic Account Management team and initiated the recruitment process for new sales leadership positions.

Braeburn concluded the year with a cash balance of $79.2 million; however, the company owes approximately $35 million in cumulative State Medicaid rebates related to 2Q and 3Q2025, and $12.5 million on the 4Q2025 Camurus royalty. Importantly, Braeburn remains in compliance with the minimum cash requirement for the Hercules debt facility.

SERIES A-1 PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS SERIES A-1 PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 28, 2023 by and between Aulos Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Purchaser").

The parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Preferred Stock.

1.1 Sale and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

(a) The Company shall adopt and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on or before the Initial Closing (as defined below) the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in the form of Exhibit B attached to this Agreement (the "Restated Certificate").

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Purchaser agrees to purchase at the applicable Closing and the Company agrees to sell and issue to the Purchaser at the applicable Closing that number of shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share (the "Series A-1 Preferred Stock"), set forth on Exhibit A, at a purchase price of $0.691 per share (the "Purchase Price"). The shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock issued to the Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement (including any shares issued at the Initial Closing and any Additional Shares, as defined below) shall be referred to in this Agreement as the "Shares."

1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) Initial Closing. The initial purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures on the date hereof or at such other time and place as the Company and the Purchaser mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). The term "Closing" shall apply to each of the Initial Closing, the Second Tranche Closing, the Third Tranche Closing and the Fourth Tranche Closing.

(b) Second Tranche Closing. If on or prior to February 29, 2024 (the "Second Tranche Deadline"), the board of directors of the Company (the "Board"), acting reasonably and in good faith, approves the initiation of enrollment in the Phase 2 dose expansion portion of the Company's current Phase 1/2 clinical trial of AU-007 (the "Second Tranche Milestone"), then the Company shall send written notice to the Purchaser of such approval by the Board (the "Second Tranche Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such approval by the Board. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Purchaser's receipt of the Second Tranche Notice (the "Second Tranche Closing"), the Company shall issue and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 7,235,890 shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock ("Second Tranche Shares") at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Second Tranche Milestone has not been achieved or if the Second Tranche Notice has not been received by the Purchaser on or prior to the Second Tranche Deadline, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Second Tranche Shares and consummate the Second Tranche Closing.

(c) Third Tranche Closing. If on or prior to June 30, 2024 (the "Third Tranche Deadline"), the Board, acting reasonably and in good faith, approves the continuation of dosing in the Phase 2 dose expansion portion of the Company's clinical trial of AU-007 following dosing of at least the first 16 patients in such Phase 2 dose expansion portion (the "Third Tranche Milestone"), then the Company shall send written notice to the Purchaser of such approval by the Board (the "Third Tranche Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such approval by the Board. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Purchaser's receipt of the Third Tranche Notice (the "Third Tranche Closing"), the Company shall issue and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 7,235,890 shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock ("Third Tranche Shares") at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Third Tranche Milestone has not been achieved or if the Third Tranche Notice has not been received by the Purchaser on or prior to the Third Tranche Deadline, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Third Tranche Shares and consummate the Third Tranche Closing.

(d) Fourth Tranche Closing. If on or prior to August 31, 2024 (the "Fourth Tranche Deadline"), the Board, acting reasonably and in good faith, approves the continuation of dosing in the Phase 2 dose expansion portion of the Company's clinical trial of AU-007 following dosing of at least the first 32 patients in such Phase 2 dose expansion portion (the "Fourth Tranche Milestone" and each of the Second Tranche Milestone, Third Tranche Milestone and Fourth Tranche Milestone, a "Milestone"), then the Company shall send written notice to the Purchaser of such approval by the Board (the "Fourth Tranche Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such approval by the Board. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Purchaser's receipt of the Fourth Tranche Notice (the "Fourth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall issue and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 7,235,890 shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock ("Fourth Tranche Shares") at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Fourth Tranche Milestone has not been achieved or if the Fourth Tranche Notice has not been received by the Purchaser on or prior to the Fourth Tranche Deadline, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fourth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fourth Tranche Closing.

(e) The date of the purchase and sale of the Additional Shares pursuant to each of the Second Tranche Closing, Third Tranche Closing and Fourth Tranche Closing is referred to in this Agreement as an "Additional Closing." Exhibit A to this Agreement shall be updated to reflect the number of Additional Shares purchased at each such Additional Closing.

(f) Promptly following each Closing, the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser a certificate representing the Shares being purchased by the Purchaser at such Closing against payment of the Purchase Price therefor by check payable to the Company or by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company.

(g) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser shall have the option, at any time, and upon at least three (3) business days' notice to the Company, to accelerate its obligation to purchase all or a portion of the Additional Shares (at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price), notwithstanding that a Milestone has not occurred. The purchase of such Additional Shares shall take place on a business day determined by the Purchaser and the Company, acting reasonably and in good faith, and the date of such purchase shall be a Closing and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. Any purchase of Additional Shares pursuant to this Section 1.2(e) shall correspondingly first reduce the Purchaser's obligations under Section 1.2(b) and second, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(c) and third, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(d).

1.3 The Exchange.

(a) Immediately following the Initial Closing (the "Exchange Effective Time"), without any further action on the part of the Company or the Purchaser, at the Exchange Effective

Time, all of the Purchaser's 40,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be automatically exchanged (without any further action by the Company or the Purchaser) for an aggregate of 57,887,120 newly-issued shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock (the "Exchange Shares," and such transaction, the "Exchange").

(b) The Purchaser hereby acknowledges and agrees to the Exchange, and the Purchaser hereby authorizes the Company to take all actions which may be necessary to facilitate the Exchange; provided that the Purchaser shall surrender the certificate or certificates (if and to the extent actually issued) representing such shares of shares held immediately prior to the Exchange (or an affidavit of loss and indemnity therefor in a form reasonably acceptable to the Company), and shall receive the appropriate number of shares of Exchange Shares in accordance with this Subsection 1.3. Notwithstanding the foregoing, from and after the Exchange Effective Time, (i) the Purchaser shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder of such Exchange Shares whether or not the Purchaser has surrendered any certificates evidencing the shares that were exchanged for Exchange Shares (or an affidavit of loss and indemnity therefor in a form reasonably acceptable to the Company) (collectively, the "Existing Certificates"), and (ii) the Existing Certificates shall be cancelable, or cancelled upon receipt by the Company, effective as of the Exchange Effective Time.

1.4 Use of Proceeds. The Company will use the proceeds from the sale of the Shares for general corporate purposes of the Company.

1.5 Defined Terms Used in this Agreement. In addition to the terms defined above, the following terms used in this Agreement shall be construed to have the meanings set forth or referenced below.

(a) "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

(b) "CFIUS" means the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States, including as applicable, any member agency or governmental subdivision of the United States government that is a CFIUS member as specified under the CFIUS Laws.

(c) "CFIUS Laws" means Section 721 of Title VII of the Defense Production Act of 1950 as amended by the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988 (Exon-Florio), the Foreign Investment and National Security Act of 2007 and the Foreign Investment Risk Review Modernization Act of 2018, codified at 50 U.S.C. § 4565, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, including those codified at 31 C.F.R. Part 800.

(d) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(e) "Company Intellectual Property" means all patents, patent applications, registered and unregistered trademarks, trademark applications, registered and unregistered service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, domain names, similar or other intellectual property rights, subject matter of any of the foregoing ("Intellectual Property Rights"), proprietary information and processes, and tangible embodiments of any of the foregoing, that are owned or used by the Company in the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted.

(f) "Investors' Rights Agreement" means the agreement between the Company and the Purchaser dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit D attached to this Agreement.

(g) "Key Service Provider" means any executive officer of the Company.

(h) "Knowledge" including the phrase "to the Company's knowledge" shall mean the actual knowledge of the Company's chief executive officer, chief operating officer and/or head of development.

(i) "Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, financial condition, property or results of operations of the Company.

(j) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

(k) "Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser, and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit E attached to this Agreement.

(l) "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(m) "Transaction Agreements" means this Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement and the Voting Agreement.

(n) "Voting Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit F attached to this Agreement.

2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Disclosure Schedule attached as Exhibit C to this Agreement, which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder, the following representations are true and complete as of the date of the Initial Closing, except as otherwise indicated. The Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections and subsections contained in this Section 2, and the disclosures in any section or subsection of the Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections and subsections in this Section 2 only to the extent it is readily apparent from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections and subsections.

For purposes of these representations and warranties (other than those in Subsections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, and 2.6), the term the "Company" shall include any subsidiaries of the Company, unless otherwise noted herein.

2.1 Organization, Good Standing, Corporate Power and Qualification. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all requisite corporate power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. The Company is duly qualified to transact business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the failure to so qualify would have a Material Adverse Effect.

2.2 Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital of the Company consists, immediately prior to the Initial Closing, of:

(i) 167,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.001 par value per share (the "Common Stock"), 20,567,666 shares of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. All of the outstanding shares of Common Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Common Stock in its treasury.

(ii) 126,830,680 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, of which 86,830,680 shares have been designated Series A-1 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing, and 40,000,000 shares have been designated Series A Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. The rights, privileges and preferences of the Preferred Stock are as stated in the Restated Certificate and as provided by the Delaware General Corporation Law. The Company holds no Preferred Stock in its treasury.

(b) Except for (A) the conversion privileges of the Shares and Exchange Shares to be issued under this Agreement, (B) the rights provided in Section 4 of the Investors' Rights Agreement, and (C) the securities and rights described in Subsection 2.2(b) of the Disclosure Schedule, there are no outstanding options, warrants, rights (including conversion or preemptive rights and rights of first refusal or similar rights) or agreements, orally or in writing, to purchase or acquire from the Company any shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock. All outstanding shares of the Company's Common Stock and all shares of the Company's Common Stock underlying outstanding options are subject to (i) a right of first refusal in favor of the Company upon any proposed transfer (other than transfers for estate planning purposes); and (ii) a lock-up or market standoff agreement of not less than one hundred eighty (180) days following the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

(c) None of the Company's stock purchase agreements or stock option documents contains a provision for acceleration of vesting (or lapse of a repurchase right) or other changes in the vesting provisions or other terms of such agreement or understanding upon the occurrence of any event or combination of events, including without limitation in the case where the Company's Stock Plan is not assumed in an acquisition. Except as set forth in the Restated Certificate, the Company has no obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase or redeem any of its capital stock.

(d) The Company has obtained valid waivers of any rights by other parties to purchase any of the Shares or Exchange Shares covered by this Agreement.

2.3 Subsidiaries. The Company does not currently own or control, directly or indirectly, any interest in any other corporation, partnership, trust, joint venture, limited liability company, association, or other business entity. The Company is not a participant in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement.

2.4 Authorization. All corporate action required to be taken by the Board and the Company's stockholders in order to authorize the Company to enter into the Transaction Agreements and effect the Exchange, and to issue the Shares and Exchange Shares at each Closing and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares and Exchange Shares, has been taken or will be taken prior to the Initial Closing. All action on the part of the officers of the Company necessary for the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements, the performance of all obligations of the Company under the Transaction Agreements to be performed as of each Closing, and the issuance and delivery of the Shares and Exchange Shares has been taken or will be taken prior to the Initial Closing. The Transaction Agreements, when executed and delivered by the Company, shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, or other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (b) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies, or (c) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement and the Indemnification Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

2.5 Valid Issuance of Shares. The Shares and Exchange Shares, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable state and federal securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Assuming the accuracy of the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and subject to the filings described in Section 2.6(b), the Shares and Exchange Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares and Exchange Shares has been duly reserved for issuance, and upon issuance in accordance with the terms of the Restated Certificate, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable federal and state securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Based in part upon the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and in the Voting Agreement, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares and Exchange Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

2.6 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except for (a) the filing of the Restated Certificate, which will have been filed as of the Initial Closing, and (b) filings pursuant to Regulation D of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws, which have been made or will be made in a timely manner.

2.7 Litigation. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, complaint, charge or investigation pending or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened in writing (a) against the Company or any officer, director or Key Service Provider of the Company arising out of their employment or board relationship with the Company; (b) to the Company's knowledge, that questions the validity of the Transaction Agreements or the right of the Company to enter into them, or to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements; or (c) to the Company's knowledge, that would reasonably be expected to have, either individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any of its officers, directors or Key Service Providers is a party or is named as subject to the provisions of any order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree of any court or government agency or instrumentality (in the case of officers, directors or Key Service Providers, such as would affect the Company). There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation by the Company pending or which the Company intends to initiate. The foregoing includes, without limitation, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations pending or threatened in writing (or any basis therefor known to the Company) involving the prior employment of any of the Company's employees, their services provided in connection with the Company's business, any information or techniques allegedly proprietary to any of their former employers or their obligations under any agreements with prior employers.

2.8 Intellectual Property.

(a) Ownership. The Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all Company Intellectual Property without any known conflict with, or infringement of, the rights of others, including prior employees or consultants.

(b) Non-Infringement. To the Company's knowledge, no product or service marketed or sold by the Company violates any license or infringes any Intellectual Property Rights of any other party.

(c) Outbound Licenses. Other than with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services under standard end-user license agreements and other non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business and consistent with past practice, there are no outstanding options, licenses, agreements, claims, encumbrances or shared ownership interests of any kind relating to the Intellectual Property Rights owned by the Company ("Company-Owned Intellectual Property").

(d) Inbound Licenses. Other than (i) with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services licensed under standard terms, (ii) backup licenses from employees and contractors granted in connection with providing services to the Company; and (iii) open source licenses, the Company is not bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person that are material to the business of the Company.

(e) Third-Party Intellectual Property. The Company has not received any communications alleging that the Company has violated, or by conducting its business, would violate any of the Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person. To the Company's knowledge, the Company has obtained and possesses valid licenses to use all of the software programs present on the computers and other software-enabled electronic devices that it owns or leases or that it has otherwise provided to its employees for their use in connection with the Company's business. To the Company's knowledge, to the extent it will be necessary to use any inventions of any of its employees or consultants (or Persons it currently intends to hire) made prior to their employment by the Company, including prior employees or consultants, the Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all such inventions.

(f) Employees and Consultants. Each employee and consultant has assigned to the Company all Intellectual Property Rights he or she owns that are related to the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted and all Intellectual Property Rights that he, she or it solely or jointly conceived, reduced to practice, developed or made during the period of his, her or its employment or consulting relationship with the Company that (a) relate, at the time of conception, reduction to practice, development, or making of such Intellectual Property Right, to the Company's business as then conducted or as then proposed to be conducted, (b) were developed on any amount of the Company's time or with the use of any of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities or information or (c) resulted from the performance of services for the Company.

(g) Registered Intellectual Property Rights. Subsection 2.8 of the Disclosure Schedule lists all patents, patent applications, registered trademarks, trademark applications, registered service marks, service mark applications, and registered copyrights, in each case owned or purported to be owned by the Company.

(h) Trade Secret Protection. The Company has taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain and protect all confidential information and trade secrets of the Company that the Company intended to maintain as confidential or a trade secret.

(i) Institutional Resources. No government funding, facilities of a university, college, other educational institution or research center, or funding from third parties was used in the development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property in a manner that has resulted in such entity retaining any claim of ownership or right to use any such Company-Owned Intellectual Property. To the Company's knowledge, no Person who was involved in, or who contributed to, the creation or development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property, has performed services for the government, university, college, or other educational institution or research center in a manner that would affect Company's rights in the Company-Owned Intellectual Property.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (a) of any provisions of its Restated Certificate or Bylaws, (b) of any instrument, judgment, order, writ or decree, (c) under any note, indenture or mortgage, or (d) under any lease, agreement, contract or purchase order to which it is a party or by which it is bound that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule, or (e) to its knowledge, of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, the violation of which would have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance of the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements will not result in any such violation or be in conflict with or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such provision, instrument, judgment, order, writ, decree, contract or agreement; or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Agreements; Actions.

(a) Except for the Transaction Agreements, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound that involve (i) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $100,000, (ii) the license of any patent, copyright, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary right to or from the Company, (iii) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market, or sell its products to any other Person that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products, or (iv) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights.

(b) The Company has not (i) declared or paid any dividends, or authorized or made any distribution upon or with respect to any class or series of its capital stock, (ii) incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed or incurred any other liabilities individually in excess of $100,000 or in excess of $500,000 in the aggregate, (iii) made any loans or advances to any Person, other than ordinary advances for travel expenses, or (iv) sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of any of its assets or rights, other than the sale of its inventory in the ordinary course of business. For the purposes of (a) and (b) of this Subsection 2.10, all indebtedness, liabilities, agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts and proposed transactions involving the same Person (including Persons the Company has reason to believe are affiliated with each other) shall be aggregated for the purpose of meeting the individual minimum dollar amounts of such subsection.

(c) The Company is not a guarantor or indemnitor of any indebtedness of any other Person.

2.11 Certain Transactions.

(a) Other than (i) standard employee benefits generally made available to all employees, (ii) standard director and officer indemnification agreements approved by the Board, and (iii) the purchase of shares of the Company's capital stock and the issuance of options to purchase shares of Common Stock, in each instance, approved in the written minutes of the Board (previously provided to the Purchaser or its counsel), there are no agreements, understandings or proposed transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, consultants or Key Service Providers, or any Affiliate thereof.

(b) The Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any of its directors, officers or employees or to their respective spouses or children or to any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, other than in connection with expenses or advances of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business or employee relocation expenses and for other customary employee benefits made generally available to all employees. None of the Company's directors, officers or Key Service Providers, or any members of their immediate families, or any Affiliate of the foregoing are, directly or indirectly, indebted to the Company.

2.12 Rights of Registration and Voting Rights. Except as provided in the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Company is not under any obligation to register under the Securities Act any of its currently outstanding securities or any securities issuable upon exercise or conversion of its currently outstanding securities. To the Company's knowledge, except as contemplated in the Voting Agreement, no stockholder of the Company has entered into any agreements with respect to the voting of capital shares of the Company.

2.13 Property. The property and assets that the Company owns are free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, loans and encumbrances, except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and encumbrances and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets. With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in compliance with such leases and holds a valid leasehold interest free of any liens, claims or encumbrances other than those of the lessors of such property or assets. The Company does not own any real property.

2.14 Employee and Service Provider Matters.

(a) Subsection 2.14(f) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth each employee benefit plan maintained, established or sponsored by the Company, or which the Company participates in or contributes to, which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Company has made all required contributions and has no liability to any such employee benefit plan, other than liability for health plan continuation coverage described in Part 6 of Title I(B) of ERISA, and has complied in all material respects with all applicable laws for any such employee benefit plan.

2.15 Tax Returns and Payments. There are no federal, state, county, local or foreign income or other material taxes due and payable by the Company which have not been timely paid. There are no accrued and unpaid federal, state, county, local or foreign income or other material taxes of the Company which are due, whether or not assessed or disputed, unless such taxes are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings. There have been no examinations or audits of any income or other material tax returns or reports by any applicable federal, state, local or foreign governmental agency. The Company has duly and timely filed all federal, state, county, local and foreign income or other material tax returns required to have been filed by it and there are in effect no waivers of applicable statutes of limitations with respect to income or other material taxes for any year.

2.16 Employee and Service Provider Agreements. Each current and former employee, consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms delivered to the counsel for the Purchaser (the "Confidential Information Agreements"). No current or former Key Service Provider has excluded works or inventions from his or her assignment of inventions pursuant to such Key Service Provider's Confidential Information Agreement. Each current and former Key Service Provider has executed a non-solicitation agreement substantially in the form or forms delivered to counsel for the Purchaser. The Company is not aware that any of its Key Service Providers is in violation of any agreement covered by this Subsection 2.16.

2.17 Corporate Documents. The Restated Certificate and Bylaws of the Company are in the form provided to the Purchaser. The copy of the minute books of the Company made available to the Purchaser contains minutes of all meetings of directors and stockholders and all actions by written consent without a meeting by the directors and stockholders since the date of incorporation and accurately reflects in all material respects all actions by the directors (and any committee of directors) and stockholders with respect to all transactions referred to in such minutes.

2.18 83(b) Elections. To the Company's knowledge, all elections and notices under Section 83(b) of the Code have been or will be timely filed by all eligible individuals who have acquired unvested shares of Common Stock.

2.19 Qualified Small Business Stock. As of and immediately following the Initial Closing: (a) the Company will be an eligible corporation as defined in Section 1202(e)(4) of the Code, (b) the Company will not have made purchases of its own stock described in Code Section 1202(c)(3)(B) during the one (1) year period preceding the Initial Closing, except for purchases that are disregarded for such purposes under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1202-2, and (c) the Company's aggregate gross assets, as defined by Code Section 1202(d)(2), at no time between its incorporation and through the Initial Closing have exceeded $50 million, taking into account the assets of any corporations required to be aggregated with the Company in accordance with Code Section 1202(d)(3); provided, however, that in no event shall the Company be liable to the Purchaser or any other party for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

2.20 Disclosure. The Company has made available to the Purchaser all the information reasonably available to the Company that the Purchaser has requested for deciding whether to acquire the Shares, including certain of the Company's projections describing its proposed business plan (the "Business Plan"). No representation or warranty of the Company contained in this Agreement, as qualified by the Disclosure Schedule, and no certificate furnished or to be furnished to the Purchaser at the applicable Closing contains any untrue statement of a material fact or, to the Company's knowledge, omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made. The Business Plan was prepared in good faith; however, the Company does not warrant that it will achieve any results projected in the Business Plan. It is understood that this representation is qualified by the fact that the Company has not delivered to the Purchaser, and has not been requested to deliver, a private placement or similar memorandum or any written disclosure of the types of information customarily furnished to purchasers of securities.

2.21 CFIUS. The Company does not engage in (a) the design, fabrication, development, testing, production or manufacture of one (1) or more "critical technologies" within the meaning of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, including all implementing regulations thereof (the "DPA"); (b) the ownership, operation, maintenance, supply, manufacture, or servicing of "covered investment critical infrastructure" within the meaning of the DPA (where such activities are covered by column 2 of Appendix A to 31 C.F.R. Part 800); or (c) the maintenance or collection, directly or indirectly, of "sensitive personal data" of U.S. citizens within the meaning of the DPA. The Company has no current intention of engaging in such activities in the future.

3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchaser. The Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company that:

3.1 Authorization. The Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements to which the Purchaser is a party, when executed and delivered by the Purchaser, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Purchaser, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies, or (b) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with the Purchaser in reliance upon the Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by the Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, the Purchaser hereby confirms, that the Shares to be acquired by the Purchaser will be acquired for investment for the Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that the Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, the Purchaser further represents that the Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any Person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such Person or to any third Person, with respect to any of the Shares. The Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Shares.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. The Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Shares with the Company's management and has had an opportunity to review the Company's facilities. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of the Purchaser to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. The Purchaser understands that the Shares and Exchange Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. The Purchaser understands that the Shares and Exchange Shares are "restricted securities" under applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, the Purchaser must hold the Shares and Exchange Shares indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities, or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. The Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the Shares or Exchange Shares, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale except as set forth in the Investors' Rights Agreement. The Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the Shares and Exchange Shares, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of the Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy. The Purchaser understands that this offering is not intended to be part of the public offering, and that the Purchaser will not be able to rely on the protection of Section 11 of the Securities Act.

3.5 No Public Market. The Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the Shares or Exchange Shares, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the Shares or Exchange Shares.

3.6 Legends. The Purchaser understands that the Shares, Exchange Shares and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the Shares or Exchange Shares, may be notated with one or all of the following legends:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO SUCH TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933."

(a) Any legend set forth in, or required by, the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the Shares or Exchange Shares represented by the certificate, instrument, or book entry so legended.

3.7 Accredited Investor. The Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act.

3.8 No General Solicitation. Neither the Purchaser, nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including, through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation, or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares.

3.9 Principal Place of Business. The office or offices of the Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of the Purchaser set forth on Exhibit A.

4. Conditions to the Purchaser's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Initial Closing or any Additional Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before such Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

4.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such Closing, subject to any updates to Exhibit C to reflect ordinary course changes to the Company, absent which, such representations and warranties may be materially untrue.

4.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company in all material respects on or before such Closing.

4.3 Compliance Certificate. An authorized officer of the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser at the such Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 4.1 and 4.2 have been fulfilled.

4.4 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Closing.

4.5 Board of Directors. As of the Initial Closing, the authorized size of the Board of Directors shall be seven (7), and the Board shall be composed of Michael Ehlers, Yanay Ofran, Aron Knickerbocker, Rajesh Chopra, Anna Batarina, Seth Harrison and Mace Rothenberg.

4.6 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company and the Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

4.7 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

4.8 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

4.9 Restated Certificate. The Company shall have filed the Restated Certificate with the Secretary of State of Delaware on or prior to the Initial Closing, which shall continue to be in full force and effect as of such Closing.

4.10 Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing a certificate certifying (a) the Bylaws of the Company, (b) resolutions of the Board approving the Transaction Agreements, the Exchange and the transactions contemplated under the Transaction Agreements, and (c) resolutions of the stockholders of the Company approving the Restated Certificate.

4.11 Proceedings and Documents. All corporate and other proceedings in connection with the transactions contemplated at such Closing and all documents incident thereto shall be reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to the Purchaser, and the Purchaser (or its counsel) shall have received all such counterpart original and certified or other copies of such documents as reasonably requested. Such documents may include good standing certificates.

4.12 Qualifications. With respect to any Additional Closing only, (a) all authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Additional Closing and (b) no mandatory declaration or other filing with CFIUS pursuant to 31 C.F.R. § 800.401 shall be required to consummate, and no notice to CFIUS shall be deemed advisable by the Purchaser in connection with such Additional Closing.

4.13 No Material Adverse Effect. With respect to any Additional Closing only, (a) since the Initial Closing, there shall not have occurred any change, event, circumstances or development that has had, or would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be likely to have, a Material Adverse Effect and (b) the consummation of such Additional Closing by the Company, including the issuance and delivery of the Additional Shares, would not be reasonably likely to result in any material violation of any laws, statutes, codes, executive orders, licensing requirements, ordinances and regulations of any governmental authority.

5. Conditions of the Company's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Company to sell Shares to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing or any Additional Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before such Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

5.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Purchaser contained in Section 3 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such Closing.

5.2 Performance. The Purchaser shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by them in all material respects on or before such Closing.

5.3 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Closing.

5.4 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

5.5 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

5.6 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Survival of Warranties. Unless otherwise set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of the Company and the Purchaser contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the applicable Closing for a period of one (1) year and shall in no way be affected by any investigation or knowledge of the subject matter thereof made by or on behalf of the Purchaser or the Company.

6.2 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

6.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.5 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.6 Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt, or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page or Exhibit A, or to such e-mail address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.6. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 650 Page Mill Road, Palo Alto, CA 94304-1050; Attention: Jennifer Knapp.

6.7 No Finder's Fees. Each party represents that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. The Purchaser agrees to indemnify and to hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Purchaser or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

6.8 Fees and Expenses. At the Initial Closing, the Company shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses of legal counsel for ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P., in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

6.9 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, terminated or waived only with the written consent of the Company and the Purchaser.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.12 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.13 Termination of Additional Closing Obligations. The Purchaser shall have the right to terminate its obligations to complete any Additional Closing, if prior to the occurrence thereof, any of the following occurs:

(a) the Company consummates a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate); or

(b) the Company (i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (ii) becomes subject to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (iii) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iv) institutes any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, or files a petition or answer seeking reorganization or an arrangement with creditors to take advantage of any insolvency law, or files an answer admitting the material allegations of a bankruptcy, reorganization or insolvency petition filed against it, or (v) becomes subject to any involuntary proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, when proceeding is not dismissed within thirty (30) days of filing, or have an order for relief entered against it in any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code.

6.14 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of New York and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of New York or the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.15 No Commitment for Additional Financing. The Company acknowledges and agrees that the Purchaser has not made any representation, undertaking, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance, other than the purchase of the Shares as set forth herein and subject to the conditions set forth herein. In addition, the Company acknowledges and agrees that (a) no statements, whether written or oral, made by the Purchaser or its representatives on or after the date of this Agreement shall create an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment, (b) the Company shall not rely on any such statement by the Purchaser or its representatives, and (c) an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment may only be created by a written agreement, signed by the Purchaser and the Company, setting forth the terms and conditions of such financing or investment and stating that the parties intend for such writing to be a binding obligation or agreement. The Purchaser shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to refuse or decline to participate in any other financing of or investment in the Company, and shall have no obligation to assist or cooperate with the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

6.16 Waiver of Conflicts. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges that Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, has in the past performed and may continue to perform legal services for the Purchaser in matters unrelated to the transactions described in this Agreement, including the representation of the Purchaser in venture capital financings and other matters. Accordingly, each party to this Agreement hereby (a) acknowledges that they have had an opportunity to ask for information relevant to this disclosure; and (b) gives its informed consent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Purchaser in such unrelated matters and to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Company in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION
OF AULOS BIOSCIENCE, INC.

(Pursuant to Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware)

Aulos Bioscience, Inc., a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "General Corporation Law"),

DOES HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That the name of this corporation is Aulos Bioscience, Inc., and that this corporation was originally incorporated pursuant to the General Corporation Law on October 1, 2020.

2. That the Board of Directors duly adopted resolutions proposing to amend and restate the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation, declaring said amendment and restatement to be advisable and in the best interests of this corporation and its stockholders, and authorizing the appropriate officers of this corporation to solicit the consent of the stockholders therefor, which resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and restatement is as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation be amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

FIRST: The name of this corporation is Aulos Bioscience, Inc. (the "Corporation").

SECOND: The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801. The name of its registered agent at such address is The Corporation Trust Company.

THIRD: The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law.

FOURTH: The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is (i) 167,000,000 shares of Common Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Common Stock") and (ii) 126,830,680 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Preferred Stock").

The following is a statement of the designations and the powers, preferences and special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof in respect of each class of capital stock of the Corporation.

A. COMMON STOCK

1. General. The voting, dividend and liquidation rights of the holders of the Common Stock are subject to and qualified by the rights, powers and preferences of the holders of the Preferred Stock set forth herein.

2. Voting. The holders of the Common Stock are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held at all meetings of stockholders (and written actions in lieu of meetings); provided, however, that, except as otherwise required by law, holders of Common Stock, as such, shall not be entitled to vote on any amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation that relates solely to the terms of one or more outstanding series of Preferred Stock if the holders of such affected series are entitled, either separately or together with the holders of one or more other such series, to vote thereon pursuant to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or pursuant to the General Corporation Law. There shall be no cumulative voting. The number of authorized shares of Common Stock may be increased or decreased (but not below the number of shares thereof then outstanding) by (in addition to any vote of the holders of one or more series of Preferred Stock that may be required by the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the affirmative vote of the holders of shares of capital stock of the Corporation representing a majority of the votes represented by all outstanding shares of capital stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, irrespective of the provisions of Section 242(b)(2) of the General Corporation Law.

B. PREFERRED STOCK

86,830,680 shares of the authorized and unissued Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A-1 Preferred Stock" and 40,000,000 shares of the authorized and unissued Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A Preferred Stock" with the following rights, preferences, powers and restrictions, qualifications and limitations. Unless otherwise indicated, references to "sections" or "subsections" in this Part B of this Article Fourth refer to sections and subsections of Part B of this Article Fourth.

The "Original Issue Price" shall mean (i) $0.691 per share for the Series A-1 Preferred Stock and (ii) $1.00 per share for the Series A Preferred Stock, subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Preferred Stock.

1. Dividends. The Corporation shall not declare, pay or set aside any dividends on shares of any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) unless (in addition to the obtaining of any consents required elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the holders of the Preferred Stock then outstanding shall first receive, or simultaneously receive, a dividend on each outstanding share of Preferred Stock in an amount at least equal to 8.0% per annum of the Original Purchase Price (as defined below). For the avoidance of doubt, dividends on shares of Preferred Stock shall not be cumulative and shall be payable when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors.

2. Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up; Certain Mergers, Consolidations and Asset Sales.

2.1 Preferential Payments to Holders of Preferred Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of shares of Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined below), the holders of shares of Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, on a pari passu basis among each other and before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, an amount per share equal to one (1) times the applicable Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon. If, upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.1, the holders of shares of Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.2 Distribution of Remaining Assets. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after the payment in full of all preferential amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event, after the payment in full of all preferential amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the consideration available for distribution to the stockholders of the Corporation and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1 or the Available Proceeds not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1, as the case may be, shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Preferred Stock and Common Stock, pro rata based on the number of shares held by each such holder, treating for this purpose all such securities as if they had been converted to Common Stock pursuant to the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event; provided, however, that if the aggregate amount which the holders of Preferred Stock are entitled to receive under Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall exceed two (2) times the applicable Original Issue Price (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of a stock split, stock dividend, combination, reclassification, or similar event affecting the Preferred Stock), (the "Maximum Participation Amount"), each such holder of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive upon such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event the greater of (i) the Maximum Participation Amount and (ii) the amount such holder would have received if all shares of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event.

2.3 Deemed Liquidation Events.

2.3.1 Definition. Each of the following events shall be considered a "Deemed Liquidation Event" unless the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Requisite Holders") elect otherwise by written notice sent to the Corporation at least ten (10) days prior to the effective date of any such event:

(a) a merger or consolidation in which

(i) the Corporation is a constituent party or

(ii) a subsidiary of the Corporation is a constituent party and the Corporation issues shares of its capital stock pursuant to such merger or consolidation, except any such merger or consolidation involving the Corporation or a subsidiary in which the shares of capital stock of the Corporation outstanding immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to represent, or are converted into or exchanged for shares of capital stock that represent, immediately following such merger or consolidation, at least a majority, by voting power, of the capital stock of (1) the surviving or resulting corporation; or (2) if the surviving or resulting corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of another corporation immediately following such merger or consolidation, the parent corporation of such surviving or resulting corporation; or

(b) (1) the sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition, in a single transaction or series of related transactions, by the Corporation or any subsidiary of the Corporation of all or substantially all the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, or (2) the sale or disposition (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise, and whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) of one or more subsidiaries of the Corporation if substantially all of the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole are held by such subsidiary or subsidiaries, except where such sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition is to a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

2.3.2 Effecting a Deemed Liquidation Event.

(a) The Corporation shall not have the power to effect a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i) unless the agreement or plan of merger or consolidation for such transaction (the "Merger Agreement") provides that the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation in such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be paid to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2.

(b) In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(ii) or 2.3.1(b), if the Corporation does not effect a dissolution of the Corporation under the General Corporation Law within ninety (90) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, then (i) the Corporation shall send a written notice to each holder of Preferred Stock no later than the ninetieth (90^{th}) day after the Deemed Liquidation Event advising such holders of their right (and the requirements to be met to secure such right) pursuant to the terms of the following clause; (ii) to require the redemption of such shares of Preferred Stock, and (iii) if the holders of at least a majority of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock (voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis) so request in a written instrument delivered to the Corporation not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, the Corporation shall use the consideration received by the Corporation for such Deemed Liquidation Event (net of any retained liabilities associated with the assets sold or technology licensed, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation), together with any other assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, all to the extent permitted by Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders (the "Available Proceeds"), on the one hundred fiftieth (150^{th}) day after such Deemed Liquidation Event, to redeem all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock at a price per share equal to the applicable amount per share that the holders of each series of Preferred Stock are entitled to receive under Subsections 2.1 and 2.2. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a redemption pursuant to the preceding sentence, if the Available Proceeds are not sufficient to redeem all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall redeem a pro rata portion of each holder's shares of Preferred Stock to the fullest extent of such Available Proceeds, based on the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares to be redeemed if the Available Proceeds were sufficient to redeem all such shares, and shall redeem the remaining shares as soon as it may lawfully do so under Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders. Prior to the distribution or redemption provided for in this Subsection 2.3.2(b), the Corporation shall not expend or dissipate the consideration received for such Deemed Liquidation Event, except to discharge expenses incurred in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event or in the ordinary course of business.

2.3.3 Amount Deemed Paid or Distributed. The amount deemed paid or distributed to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation upon any such merger, consolidation, sale, transfer, exclusive license, other disposition or redemption shall be the cash or the value of the property, rights or securities to be paid or distributed to such holders pursuant to such Deemed Liquidation Event.

The value of such property, rights or securities shall be determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

2.3.4 Allocation of Escrow and Contingent Consideration. In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i), if any portion of the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Merger Agreement shall provide that (a) the portion of such consideration that is not Additional Consideration (such portion, the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event; and (b) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the stockholders of the Corporation upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transaction. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.3.4, consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

3. Voting.

3.1 General. On any matter presented to the stockholders of the Corporation for their action or consideration at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation (or by written consent of stockholders in lieu of a meeting), each holder of outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to cast the number of votes equal to the number of whole shares of Common Stock into which the shares of Preferred Stock held by such holder are convertible as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on such matter. Except as provided by law or by the other provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, holders of Preferred Stock shall vote together with the holders of Common Stock as a single class and on an as-converted to Common Stock basis.

3.2 Election of Directors. For so long as any shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock are outstanding, the holders of record of the shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect four directors of the Corporation (the "Series A-1 Directors"). The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect two directors of the Corporation (the "Common Directors"). Any director elected as provided in the preceding sentences may be removed without cause by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of capital stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders. If the holders of shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, fail to elect a sufficient number of directors to fill all directorships for which they are entitled to elect directors, voting exclusively and as a separate class, pursuant to the first sentence of this Subsection 3.2, then any directorship not so filled shall remain vacant until such time as the holders of the Series A-1 Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, elect a person to fill such directorship by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting; and no such directorship may be filled by stockholders of the Corporation other than by the stockholders of the Corporation that are entitled to elect a person to fill such directorship, voting exclusively and as a separate class. The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and of any other class or series of voting stock (including the Preferred Stock), exclusively and voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Corporation. At any meeting held for the purpose of electing a director, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of the class or series entitled to elect such director shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing such director. Except as otherwise provided in this Subsection 3.2, a vacancy in any directorship filled by the holders of any class or series shall be filled only by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting of the holders of such class or series or by any remaining director or directors elected by the holders of such class or series pursuant to this Subsection 3.2. Any director may be removed during his or her term of office, either with or without cause, by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders, and any vacancy thereby created may be filled by the holders of that class or series of stock represented at the meeting or pursuant to written consent.

3.3 Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. At any time when any shares of Preferred Stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Preferred Stock) are outstanding, the Corporation shall not, either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation or otherwise, do any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the Requisite Holders given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class.

3.3.1 liquidate, dissolve or wind-up the business and affairs of the Corporation, effect any merger or consolidation or any other Deemed Liquidation Event, or consent to any of the foregoing;

3.3.2 amend, alter or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation;

3.3.3 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue shares of, any additional class or series of capital stock unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption, or increase the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock;

3.3.4 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock, (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at the lower of the original issue price or the then-current fair market value thereof or (iv) as approved by the Board of Directors, including the approval of a majority of the Series A-1 Directors;

3.3.5 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue, or authorize the issuance of any debt security or create any lien or security interest (except for purchase money liens or statutory liens of landlords, mechanics, materialmen, workmen, warehousemen and other similar persons arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business) or incur other indebtedness for borrowed money, including but not limited to obligations and contingent obligations under guarantees, or permit any subsidiary to take any such action with respect to any debt security lien, security interest or other indebtedness for borrowed money, unless such debt security or creation of such lien or security interest has received the prior approval of the Board of Directors, including the approval of the Series A-1 Directors;

3.3.6 create, or hold capital stock in, any subsidiary that is not wholly owned (either directly or through one or more other subsidiaries) by the Corporation, or permit any subsidiary to create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue, any shares of any class or series of capital stock, or sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any capital stock of any direct or indirect subsidiary of the Corporation, or permit any direct or indirect subsidiary to sell, lease, transfer, exclusively license or otherwise dispose (in a single transaction or series of related transactions) of all or substantially all of the assets of such subsidiary; or

3.3.7 increase or decrease the authorized number of directors constituting the Board of Directors.

4. Optional Conversion.

The holders of the Preferred Stock shall have conversion rights as follows (the "Conversion Rights"):

4.1 Right to Convert.

4.1.1 Conversion Ratio. Each share of Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into such number of fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing the applicable Original Issue Price by the applicable Conversion Price (as defined below) in effect at the time of conversion. The "Conversion Price" shall initially be equal to (i) $0.691 for the Series A-1 Preferred Stock and (ii) $1.00 for the Series A Preferred Stock. Such initial Conversion Price, and the rate at which shares of Preferred Stock may be converted into shares of Common Stock, shall be subject to adjustment as provided below.

4.1.2 Termination of Conversion Rights. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or a Deemed Liquidation Event, the Conversion Rights shall terminate at the close of business on the last full day preceding the date fixed for the payment of any such amounts distributable on such event to the holders of Preferred Stock.

4.2 Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock. In lieu of any fractional shares to which the holder would otherwise be entitled, the number of shares of Common Stock to be issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock shall be rounded down to the nearest whole share.

4.3 Mechanics of Conversion.

4.3.1 Notice of Conversion. In order for a holder of Preferred Stock to voluntarily convert shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock, such holder shall (a) provide written notice to the Corporation's transfer agent at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) that such holder elects to convert all or any number of such holder's shares of Preferred Stock and, if applicable, any event on which such conversion is contingent and (b) if such holder's shares are certificated, surrender the certificate or certificates for such shares of Preferred Stock (or, if such registered holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate), at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent). Such notice shall state such holder's name or the names of the nominees in which such holder wishes the shares of Common Stock to be issued. If required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. The close of business on the date of receipt by the transfer agent (or by the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) of such notice and, if applicable, certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) shall be the time of conversion (the "Conversion Time"), and the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the specified shares shall be deemed to be outstanding of record as of such date. The Corporation shall, as soon as practicable after the Conversion Time (i) issue and deliver to such holder of Preferred Stock, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares or a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and may, if applicable, issue and deliver a certificate for the number (if any) of the shares of Preferred Stock represented by any surrendered certificate that were not converted into Common Stock, and (ii) pay all declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted.

4.3.2 Reservation of Shares. The Corporation shall at all times when the Preferred Stock shall be outstanding, reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued capital stock, for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the Preferred Stock, such number of its duly authorized shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding Preferred Stock; and if at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purposes, including, without limitation, engaging in reasonable best efforts to obtain the requisite stockholder approval of any necessary amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Before taking any action that would cause an adjustment reducing the applicable Conversion Price below the then par value of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation will take any corporate action which may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary in order that the Corporation may validly and legally issue fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock at such adjusted Conversion Price.

4.3.3 Effect of Conversion. All shares of Preferred Stock which shall have been surrendered for conversion as herein provided shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights with respect to such shares shall immediately cease and terminate at the Conversion Time, except only the right of the holders thereof to receive shares of Common Stock in exchange therefor and to receive payment of any dividends declared but unpaid thereon. Any shares of Preferred Stock so converted shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of such series of Preferred Stock accordingly.

4.3.4 No Further Adjustment. Upon any such conversion, no adjustment to the applicable Conversion Price shall be made for any declared but unpaid dividends on the Preferred Stock surrendered for conversion or on the Common Stock delivered upon conversion.

4.3.5 Taxes. The Corporation shall pay any and all issue and other similar taxes that may be payable in respect of any issuance or delivery of shares of Common Stock upon conversion of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4. The Corporation shall not, however, be required to pay any tax which may be payable in respect of any transfer involved in the issuance and delivery of shares of Common Stock in a name other than that in which the shares of Preferred Stock so converted were registered, and no such issuance or delivery shall be made unless and until the person or entity requesting such issuance has paid to the Corporation the amount of any such tax or has established, to the satisfaction of the Corporation, that such tax has been paid.

4.4 Adjustments to Preferred Stock Conversion Price for Diluting Issues.

4.4.1 Special Definitions. For purposes of this Article Fourth, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Option" shall mean rights, options or warrants to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Common Stock or Convertible Securities.

(b) "Series A-1 Original Issue Date" shall mean the date on which the first share of Series A-1 Preferred Stock was issued.

(c) "Convertible Securities" shall mean any evidences of indebtedness, shares or other securities directly or indirectly convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, but excluding Options.

(d) "Additional Shares of Common Stock" shall mean all shares of Common Stock issued (or, pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3 below, deemed to be issued) by the Corporation after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date, other than (1) the following shares of Common Stock and (2) shares of Common Stock deemed issued pursuant to the following Options and Convertible Securities (clauses (1) and (2), collectively, "Exempted Securities"):

(i) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as a dividend or distribution on Preferred Stock;

(ii) shares of Common Stock issued upon any optional conversion of any Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4 or mandatory conversion of any Preferred Stock pursuant to Section 5;

(iii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued by reason of a dividend, stock split, split-up or other distribution on shares of Common Stock that is covered by Subsection 4.5, 4.6, 4.7 and 4.8;

(iv) shares of Common Stock or Options issued to employees or directors of, or consultants or advisors to, the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to a plan, agreement or arrangement approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A-1 Directors; or

(v) shares of Common Stock or Convertible Securities actually issued upon the exercise of Options or shares of Common Stock actually issued upon the conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities, in each case provided such issuance is pursuant to the terms of such Option or Convertible Security.

4.4.2 No Adjustment of Preferred Stock Conversion Price. No adjustment in the Conversion Price of the Preferred Stock shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock if the Corporation receives written notice from the holders of a majority of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock agreeing that no such adjustment shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of such Additional Shares of Common Stock.

4.4.3 Deemed Issue of Additional Shares of Common Stock.

(a) If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date shall issue any Options or Convertible Securities (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities) or shall fix a record date for the determination of holders of any class of securities entitled to receive any such Options or Convertible Securities, then the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instrument relating thereto, assuming the satisfaction of any conditions to exercisability, convertibility or exchangeability but without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or, in the case of Convertible Securities and Options therefor, the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, shall be deemed to be Additional Shares of Common Stock issued as of the time of such issue or, in case such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date.

(b) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security, the issuance of which resulted in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, are revised as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase or decrease in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any increase or decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, then, effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock computed upon the original issue of such Option or Convertible Security (or upon the occurrence of a record date with respect thereto) shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such revised terms been in effect upon the original date of issuance of such Option or Convertible Security. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no readjustment pursuant to this clause (b) shall have the effect of increasing the Conversion Price applicable to a series of Preferred Stock to an amount which exceeds the lower of (i) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to the original adjustment made as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security, or (ii) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that would have resulted from any issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock (other than deemed issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security) between the original adjustment date and such readjustment date.

(c) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities), the issuance of which did not result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 (either because the consideration per share (determined pursuant to Subsection 4.4.5) of the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto was equal to or greater than the applicable Conversion Price then in effect, or because such Option or Convertible Security was issued before the Series A-1 Original Issue Date), are revised after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion or exchange, then such Option or Convertible Security, as so amended or adjusted, and the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto determined in the manner provided in Subsection 4.4.3(a) shall be deemed to have been issued effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective.

(d) Upon the expiration or termination of any unexercised Option or unconverted or unexchanged Convertible Security (or portion thereof) which resulted (either upon its original issuance or upon a revision of its terms) in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such Option or Convertible Security (or portion thereof) never been issued.

(e) If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, is calculable at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended but is subject to adjustment based upon subsequent events, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock provided for in this Subsection 4.4.3 shall be effected at the time of such issuance or amendment based on such number of shares or amount of consideration without regard to any provisions for subsequent adjustments (and any subsequent adjustments shall be treated as provided in clauses (b) and (c) of this Subsection 4.4.3). If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, cannot be calculated at all at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock that would result under the terms of this Subsection 4.4.3 at the time of such issuance or amendment shall instead be effected at the time such number of shares and/or amount of consideration is first calculable (even if subject to subsequent adjustments), assuming for purposes of calculating such adjustment to the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that such issuance or amendment took place at the time such calculation can first be made.

4.4.4 Adjustment of Conversion Price Upon Issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock. In the event the Corporation shall at any time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date issue Additional Shares of Common Stock (including Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to be issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3), without consideration or for a consideration per share less than the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance, then the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be reduced, concurrently with such issue, to a price (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent) determined in accordance with the following formula:

For purposes of the foregoing formula, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "$\boldsymbol{CP_2}$" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately after such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock

(b) "CP_1" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock;

(c) "A" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock (treating for this purpose as outstanding all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of Options outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance or upon conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities (including the Preferred Stock) outstanding (assuming exercise of any outstanding Options therefor) immediately prior to such issue);

(d) "B" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock that would have been issued if such Additional Shares of Common Stock had been issued or deemed issued at a price per share equal to CP_1 (determined by dividing the aggregate consideration received by the Corporation in respect of such issue by CP_1); and

(e) "C" shall mean the number of such Additional Shares of Common Stock issued in such transaction.

4.4.5 Determination of Consideration. For purposes of this Subsection 4.4, the consideration received by the Corporation for the issuance or deemed issuance of any Additional Shares of Common Stock shall be computed as follows:

(a) Cash and Property: Such consideration shall:

(i) insofar as it consists of cash, be computed at the aggregate amount of cash received by the Corporation, excluding amounts paid or payable for accrued interest;

(ii) insofar as it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair market value thereof at the time of such issue, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation; and

(iii) in the event Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued together with other shares or securities or other assets of the Corporation for consideration which covers both, be the proportion of such consideration so received, computed as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) above, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

(b) Options and Convertible Securities. The consideration per share received by the Corporation for Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3, relating to Options and Convertible Securities, shall be determined by dividing:

(i) The total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issue of such Options or Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such consideration) payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, by

(ii) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

4.4.6 Multiple Closing Dates. In the event the Corporation shall issue on more than one date Additional Shares of Common Stock that are a part of one transaction or a series of related transactions and that would result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 then, upon the final such issuance, the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to give effect to all such issuances as if they occurred on the date of the first such issuance (and without giving effect to any additional adjustments as a result of any such subsequent issuances).

4.5 Adjustment for Stock Splits and Combinations. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date effect a subdivision of the outstanding Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before that subdivision shall be proportionately decreased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be increased in proportion to such increase in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date combine the outstanding shares of Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before the combination shall be proportionately increased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be decreased in proportion to such decrease in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. Any adjustment under this subsection shall become effective at the close of business on the date the subdivision or combination becomes effective.

4.6 Adjustment for Certain Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable on the Common Stock in additional shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before such event shall be decreased as of the time of such issuance or, in the event such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date, by multiplying the Conversion Price of each such series of Preferred Stock then in effect by a fraction:

(1) the numerator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date, and

(2) the denominator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date plus the number of shares of Common Stock issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution.

Notwithstanding the foregoing (a) if such record date shall have been fixed and such dividend is not fully paid or if such distribution is not fully made on the date fixed therefor, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be recomputed accordingly as of the close of business on such record date and thereafter the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be adjusted pursuant to this subsection as of the time of actual payment of such dividends or distributions; and (b) that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of such series of Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of shares of Common Stock in a number equal to the number of shares of Common Stock as they would have received if all outstanding shares of such series of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.7 Adjustments for Other Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A-1 Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities of the Corporation (other than a distribution of shares of Common Stock in respect of outstanding shares of Common Stock) or in other property and the provisions of Section 1 do not apply to such dividend or distribution, then and in each such event the holders of Preferred Stock shall receive, simultaneously with the distribution to the holders of Common Stock, a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.8 Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.2, if there shall occur any reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger involving the Corporation in which the Common Stock (but not the Preferred Stock) is converted into or exchanged for securities, cash or other property (other than a transaction covered by Subsections 4.4, 4.6 or 4.7), then, following any such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger, each share of Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible in lieu of the Common Stock into which it was convertible prior to such event into the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property which a holder of the number of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation issuable upon conversion of one share of such Preferred Stock immediately prior to such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger would have been entitled to receive pursuant to such transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation) shall be made in the application of the provisions in this Section 4 with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in this Section 4 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as reasonably may be, in relation to any securities or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock.

4.9 Certificate as to Adjustments. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4, the Corporation at its expense shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter, compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and furnish to each holder of such series of Preferred Stock a certificate setting forth such adjustment or readjustment (including the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property into which such series of Preferred Stock is convertible) and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The Corporation shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the written request at any time of any holder of Preferred Stock, furnish or cause to be furnished to such holder a certificate setting forth (i) the Conversion Price then in effect for each series of Preferred Stock held by such holder, and (ii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other securities, cash or property which then would be received upon the conversion of each such series of Preferred Stock.

4.10 Notice of Record Date. In the event:

(a) the Corporation shall take a record of the holders of its Common Stock (or other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock) for the purpose of entitling or enabling them to receive any dividend or other distribution, or to receive any right to subscribe for or purchase any shares of capital stock of any class or any other securities, or to receive any other security; or

(b) of any capital reorganization of the Corporation, any reclassification of the Common Stock of the Corporation, or any Deemed Liquidation Event; or

(c) of the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the Corporation, then, and in each such case, the Corporation will send or cause to be sent to the holders of the Preferred Stock a notice specifying, as the case may be, (i) the record date for such dividend, distribution or right, and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right, or (ii) the effective date on which such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up is proposed to take place, and the time, if any is to be fixed, as of which the holders of record of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock) shall be entitled to exchange their shares of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities) for securities or other property deliverable upon such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up, and the amount per share and character of such exchange applicable to the Preferred Stock and the Common Stock. Such notice shall be sent at least ten (10) days prior to the record date or effective date for the event specified in such notice.

5. Mandatory Conversion.

5.1 Trigger Events. Upon either (a) the closing of the sale of shares of Common Stock to the public at a price of at least five (5) times the Original Issue Price (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Common Stock), in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $75,000,000 of gross proceeds to the Corporation and in connection with such offering the Common Stock is listed for trading on the Nasdaq Stock Market's National Market, the New York Stock Exchange or another exchange or marketplace approved the Board of Directors or (b) the date and time, or the occurrence of an event, specified by vote or written consent of the holders of a majority of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock (the time of such closing or the date and time specified or the time of the event specified in such vote or written consent is referred to herein as the "Mandatory Conversion Time"), then (i) all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted into shares of Common Stock, at the then effective conversion rate as calculated pursuant to Subsection 4.1.1 and (ii) such shares may not be reissued by the Corporation.

5.2 Procedural Requirements. All holders of record of shares of Preferred Stock shall be sent written notice of the Mandatory Conversion Time and the place designated for mandatory conversion of all such shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 5. Such notice need not be sent in advance of the occurrence of the Mandatory Conversion Time. Upon receipt of such notice, each holder of shares of Preferred Stock in certificated form shall surrender his, her or its certificate or certificates for all such shares (or, if such holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate) to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice. If so required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. All rights with respect to the Preferred Stock converted pursuant to Subsection 5.1, including the rights, if any, to receive notices and vote (other than as a holder of Common Stock), will terminate at the Mandatory Conversion Time (notwithstanding the failure of the holder or holders thereof to surrender any certificates at or prior to such time), except only the rights of the holders thereof, upon surrender of any certificate or certificates of such holders (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) therefor, to receive the items provided for in the next sentence of this Subsection 5.2. As soon as practicable after the Mandatory Conversion Time and, if applicable, the surrender of any certificate or certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) for Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable on such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof or issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares and may, upon written request, issue and deliver a certificate for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof (including any declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted). Such converted Preferred Stock shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock accordingly.

6. Redemption. The shares of Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable by any holder thereof, except as may be otherwise provided herein.

7. Redeemed or Otherwise Acquired Shares. Any shares of Preferred Stock that are redeemed or otherwise acquired by the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries shall be automatically and immediately cancelled and retired and shall not be reissued, sold or transferred. Neither the Corporation nor any of its subsidiaries may exercise any voting or other rights granted to the holders of Preferred Stock following redemption.

8. Waiver. Any of the rights, powers, preferences and other terms of the Preferred Stock set forth herein may be waived on behalf of all holders of Preferred Stock by the affirmative written consent or vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Preferred Stock then outstanding.

9. Notices. Any notice required or permitted by the provisions of this Article Fourth to be given to a holder of shares of Preferred Stock shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the post office address last shown on the records of the Corporation, or given by electronic communication in compliance with the provisions of the General Corporation Law, and shall be deemed sent upon such mailing or electronic transmission.

FIFTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws, in furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized to make, repeal, alter, amend and rescind any or all of the Bylaws of the Corporation.

SIXTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the number of directors of the Corporation shall be determined in the manner set forth in the Bylaws of the Corporation. Each director shall be entitled to one vote on each matter presented to the Board of Directors.

SEVENTH: Elections of directors need not be by written ballot unless the Bylaws of the Corporation shall so provide.

EIGHTH: Meetings of stockholders may be held within or without the State of Delaware, as the Bylaws of the Corporation may provide. The books of the Corporation may be kept outside the State of Delaware at such place or places as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors or in the Bylaws of the Corporation.

NINTH: To the fullest extent permitted by law, a director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. If the General Corporation Law or any other law of the State of Delaware is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article Ninth to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the General Corporation Law as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Ninth by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of, or increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to, such repeal or modification.

TENTH: To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Corporation is authorized to provide indemnification of (and advancement of expenses to) directors, officers and agents of the Corporation (and any other persons to which General Corporation Law permits the Corporation to provide indemnification) through Bylaw provisions, agreements with such agents or other persons, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, in excess of the indemnification and advancement otherwise permitted by Section 145 of the General Corporation Law.

Any amendment, repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Tenth shall not (a) adversely affect any right or protection of any director, officer or other agent of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification or (b) increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director, officer or agent occurring prior to, such amendment, repeal or modification.

ELEVENTH: The Corporation renounces, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any interest or expectancy of the Corporation in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, any Excluded Opportunity. An "Excluded Opportunity" is any matter, transaction or interest that is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or which otherwise comes into the possession of (i) any director of the Corporation who is not an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, or (ii) any holder of Preferred Stock or any partner, member, director, stockholder, employee, affiliate or agent of any such holder, other than someone who is an officer or employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries (collectively, the persons referred to in clauses (i) and (ii) are "Covered Persons"), unless such matter, transaction or interest is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or otherwise comes into the possession of, a Covered Person expressly and solely in such Covered Person's capacity as a director of the Corporation. Any repeal or modification of this Article Eleventh will only be prospective and will not affect the rights under this Article Eleventh in effect at the time of the occurrence of any actions or omissions to act giving rise to liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Preferred Stock then outstanding will be required to amend or repeal, or to adopt any provisions inconsistent with this Article Eleventh.

TWELFTH: Unless the Corporation consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware shall be the sole and exclusive forum for any stockholder (including a beneficial owner) to bring (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of the Corporation, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of fiduciary duty owed by any director, officer or other employee of the Corporation to the Corporation or the Corporation's stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees arising pursuant to any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law or the Corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees governed by the internal affairs doctrine, except for, as to each of (i) through (iv) above, any claim as to which the Court of Chancery determines that there is an indispensable party not subject to the jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery (and the indispensable party does not consent to the personal jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery within ten days following such determination), which is vested in the exclusive jurisdiction of a court or forum other than the Court of Chancery, or for which the Court of Chancery does not have subject matter jurisdiction. If any provision or provisions of this Article Twelfth shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any person or entity or circumstance for any reason whatsoever, then, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the validity, legality and enforceability of such provisions in any other circumstance and of the remaining provisions of this Article Twelfth (including, without limitation, each portion of any sentence of this Article Twelfth containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable that is not itself held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable) and the application of such provision to other persons or entities and circumstances shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

THIRTEENTH: For purposes of Section 500 of the California Corporations Code (to the extent applicable), in connection with any repurchase of shares of Common Stock permitted under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation from employees, officers, directors or consultants of the Corporation in connection with a termination of employment or services pursuant to agreements or arrangements approved by the Board of Directors (in addition to any other consent required under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation), such repurchase may be made without regard to any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined in Section 500 of the California Corporations Code). Accordingly, for purposes of making any calculation under California Corporations Code Section 500 in connection with such repurchase, the amount of any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined therein) shall be deemed to be zero (0).

3. That the foregoing amendment and restatement was approved by the holders of the requisite number of shares of this corporation in accordance with Section 228 of the General Corporation Law.

4. That this Certificate of Incorporation, which restates and integrates and further amends the provisions of this Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation, has been duly adopted in accordance with Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation has been executed by a duly authorized officer of this corporation on July 28, 2023.

Schedule A - Schedule of Investors

AULOS BIOSCIENCE, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 28, 2023, by and among Aulos Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and each of the investors listed on Schedule A hereto, each of which is referred to in this Agreement as an "Investor."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, one of the Investors holds shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock issued upon exchange of shares of the Company's capital stock that, prior to the effectiveness of this Agreement, were designated as shares of Series A Preferred Stock, and possess registration rights, information rights, rights of first offer, and other rights pursuant to that certain Investors' Rights Agreement, dated as of October 30, 2020, by and among the Company and the Investors (the "Prior Agreement");

WHEREAS, the Company and the Investors desire to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety and to accept the rights created pursuant to this Agreement in lieu of the rights granted to them under the Prior Agreement; and

WHEREAS, one of the Investors is a party to that certain Series A-1 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement of even date herewith by and among the Company and such Investor (as amended from time to time, the "Purchase Agreement"), under which certain of the Company's and such Investor's obligations are conditioned upon the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Company and the Investors.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company and the Investors hereby agree that the Prior Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as set forth herein, and the parties to this Agreement further agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including without limitation any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment adviser of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Business of the Company" means the development and production of any Immunotherapy that alters binding of interleukin-2 ("IL2") or modulates signaling by IL2 through an IL2 receptor that prevents binding of IL2 to or inhibits signaling by IL2 through CD25/IL2Rα to a greater degree than it prevents binding to or inhibits signaling through other IL2 receptor subtypes (e.g., CD122/ILRβ and/or CD132/IL2Rγ) including any cell therapies, biologics, small molecules or combinations thereof.

1.4 "Certificate of Incorporation" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.5 "Common Stock" means shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.001 per share.

1.6 "Competitor" means a Person engaged, directly or indirectly (including through any partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture or similar arrangement (whether now existing or formed hereafter)), in a business that competes with the Business of the Company, but shall not include Biolojic Design Ltd. ("Biolojic") or any financial investment firm or collective investment vehicle that, together with its Affiliates, holds less than twenty percent (20%) of the outstanding equity of any Competitor and does not, nor do any of its Affiliates, have a right to designate any members of the board of directors of any Competitor.

1.7 "Damages" means any loss, damage, claim or liability (joint or several) to which a party hereto may become subject under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or other federal or state law, insofar as such loss, damage, claim or liability (or any action in respect thereof) arises out of or is based upon: (i) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any registration statement of the Company, including any preliminary prospectus or final prospectus contained therein or any amendments or supplements thereto; (ii) an omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein, or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; or (iii) any violation or alleged violation by the indemnifying party (or any of its agents or Affiliates) of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, any state securities law, or any rule or regulation promulgated under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or any state securities law.

1.8 "Derivative Securities" means any securities or rights convertible into, or exercisable or exchangeable for (in each case, directly or indirectly), Common Stock, including options and warrants.

1.9 "Exchange Act" means the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

1.10 "Excluded Registration" means (i) a registration relating to the sale or grant of securities to employees of the Company or a subsidiary pursuant to a stock option, stock purchase, equity incentive or similar plan; (ii) a registration relating to an SEC Rule 145 transaction; (iii) a registration on any form that does not include substantially the same information as would be required to be included in a registration statement covering the sale of the Registrable Securities; or (iv) a registration in which the only Common Stock being registered is Common Stock issuable upon conversion of debt securities that are also being registered.

1.11 "FOIA Party" means a Person that, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, may be subject to, and thereby required to disclose non-public information furnished by or relating to the Company under, the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552 ("FOIA"), any state public records access law, any state or other jurisdiction's laws similar in intent or effect to FOIA, or any other similar statutory or regulatory requirement.

1.12 "Form S-1" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC.

1.13 "Form S-3" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC that permits forward incorporation of substantial information by reference to other documents filed by the Company with the SEC.

1.14 "GAAP" means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States as in effect from time to time.

1.15 "Holder" means any holder of Registrable Securities who is a party to this Agreement.

1.16 "Immediate Family Member" means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law, including, adoptive relationships, of a natural person referred to herein.

1.17 "Initiating Holders" means, collectively, Holders who properly initiate a registration request under this Agreement.

1.18 "IPO" means the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock under the Securities Act.

1.19 "Major Investor" means any Investor that, individually or together with such Investor's Affiliates, holds at least 10,000,000 shares of Registrable Securities (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof).

1.20 "New Securities" means, collectively, equity securities of the Company, whether or not currently authorized, as well as rights, options, or warrants to purchase such equity securities, or securities of any type whatsoever that are, or may become, convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for such equity securities.

1.21 "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

1.22 "Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A-1 Preferred Stock.

1.23 "Registrable Securities" means (i) the Common Stock issuable or issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock; (ii) any Common Stock, or any Common Stock issued or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise of any other securities of the Company, acquired by the Investors after the date hereof; and (iii) any Common Stock issued as (or issuable upon the conversion or exercise of any warrant, right, or other security that is issued as) a dividend or other distribution with respect to, or in exchange for or in replacement of, the shares referenced in clauses (i) and (ii) above; excluding in all cases, however, any Registrable Securities sold by a Person in a transaction in which the applicable rights under this Agreement are not assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.1, and excluding for purposes of Section 2 any shares for which registration rights have terminated pursuant to Subsection 2.13 of this Agreement.

1.24 "Registrable Securities then outstanding" means the number of shares determined by adding the number of shares of outstanding Common Stock that are Registrable Securities and the number of shares of Common Stock issuable (directly or indirectly) pursuant to then exercisable and/or convertible securities that are Registrable Securities.

1.25 "Restricted Securities" means the securities of the Company required to be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b) hereof.

1.26 "SEC" means the Securities and Exchange Commission.

1.28 "SEC Rule 145" means Rule 145 promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act.

1.29 "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

1.30 "Selling Expenses" means all underwriting discounts, selling commissions, and stock transfer taxes applicable to the sale of Registrable Securities, and fees and disbursements of counsel for any Holder, except for the fees and disbursements of the Selling Holder Counsel borne and paid by the Company as provided in Subsection 2.6.

1.31 "Series A-1 Directors" shall have the meaning set forth in the Certificate of Incorporation.

1.32 "Series A-1 Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A-1 Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share.

2. Registration Rights. The Company covenants and agrees as follows:

2.1 Demand Registration.

(a) Form S-1 Demand. If at any time after one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of the registration statement for the IPO the Company receives a request from Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-1 registration statement with respect to at least forty percent (40%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, then the Company shall (x) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give notice thereof (the "Demand Notice") to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (y) as soon as practicable, and in any event within sixty (60) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-1 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities that the Initiating Holders requested to be registered and any additional Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(b) Form S-3 Demand. If at any time when it is eligible to use a Form S-3 registration statement, the Company receives a request from Holders of at least thirty percent (30%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-3 registration statement with respect to outstanding Registrable Securities of such Holders having an anticipated aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, of at least $5 million, then the Company shall (i) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give a Demand Notice to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (ii) as soon as practicable, and in any event within forty-five (45) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-3 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing obligations, if the Company furnishes to Holders requesting a registration pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 a certificate signed by the Company's chief executive officer stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors it would be materially detrimental to the Company for such registration statement to either become effective or remain effective for as long as such registration statement otherwise would be required to remain effective, because such action would (i) materially interfere with a significant acquisition, corporate reorganization, or other similar transaction involving the Company; (ii) require premature disclosure of material information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential; or (iii) render the Company unable to comply with requirements under the Securities Act or Exchange Act, then the Company shall have the right to defer taking action with respect to such filing, and any time periods with respect to filing or effectiveness thereof shall be tolled correspondingly, for a period of not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the request of the Initiating Holders is given; provided, however, that the Company may not invoke this right more than once in any twelve (12) month period and provided further that the Company shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such one hundred twenty (120) day period other than an Excluded Registration.

(d) The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) (i) during the period that is sixty (60) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; (ii) after the Company has effected one registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a); or (iii) if the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities that may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b). The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) (i) during the period that is thirty (30) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is ninety (90) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; or (ii) if the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) within the twelve (12) month period immediately preceding the date of such request. A registration shall not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d) until such time as the applicable registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC, unless the Initiating Holders withdraw their request for such registration, elect not to pay the registration expenses therefor, and forfeit their right to one demand registration statement pursuant to Subsection 2.6, in which case such withdrawn registration statement shall be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d); provided, that if such withdrawal is during a period the Company has deferred taking action pursuant to Subsection 2.1(c), then the Initiating Holders may withdraw their request for registration and such registration will not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d).

2.2 Company Registration. If the Company proposes to register (including, for this purpose, a registration effected by the Company for stockholders other than the Holders) any of its Common Stock under the Securities Act in connection with the public offering of such securities solely for cash (other than in an Excluded Registration), the Company shall, at such time, promptly give each Holder notice of such registration. Upon the request of each Holder given within twenty (20) days after such notice is given by the Company, the Company shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, cause to be registered all of the Registrable Securities that each such Holder has requested to be included in such registration. The Company shall have the right to terminate or withdraw any registration initiated by it under this Subsection 2.2 before the effective date of such registration, whether or not any Holder has elected to include Registrable Securities in such registration. The expenses (other than Selling Expenses) of such withdrawn registration shall be borne by the Company in accordance with Subsection 2.6.

2.3 Underwriting Requirements.

(a) If, pursuant to Subsection 2.1, the Initiating Holders intend to distribute the Registrable Securities covered by their request by means of an underwriting, they shall so advise the Company as a part of their request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and the Company shall include such information in the Demand Notice. The underwriter(s) will be selected by the Company and shall be reasonably acceptable to a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders. In such event, the right of any Holder to include such Holder's Registrable Securities in such registration shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company as provided in Subsection 2.4(e)) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the underwriter(s) selected for such underwriting. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection 2.3, if the underwriter(s) advise(s) the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, then the Initiating Holders shall so advise all Holders of Registrable Securities that otherwise would be underwritten pursuant hereto, and the number of Registrable Securities that may be included in the underwriting shall be allocated among such Holders of Registrable Securities, including the Initiating Holders, in proportion (as nearly as practicable) to the number of Registrable Securities owned by each Holder or in such other proportion as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders; provided, however, that the number of Registrable Securities held by the Holders to be included in such underwriting shall not be reduced unless all other securities are first entirely excluded from the underwriting. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares.

(b) In connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to Subsection 2.2, the Company shall not be required to include any of the Holders' Registrable Securities in such underwriting unless the Holders accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and its underwriters, and then only in such quantity as the underwriters in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering by the Company. If the total number of securities, including Registrable Securities, requested by stockholders to be included in such offering exceeds the number of securities to be sold (other than by the Company) that the underwriters in their reasonable discretion determine is compatible with the success of the offering, then the Company shall be required to include in the offering only that number of such securities, including Registrable Securities, which the underwriters and the Company in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering. If the underwriters determine that less than all of the Registrable Securities requested to be registered can be included in such offering, then the Registrable Securities that are included in such offering shall be allocated among the selling Holders in proportion (as nearly as practicable to) the number of Registrable Securities owned by each selling Holder or in such other proportions as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall (i) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced unless all other securities (other than securities to be sold by the Company) are first entirely excluded from the offering, or (ii) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced below twenty percent (20%) of the total number of securities included in such offering, unless such offering is the IPO, in which case the selling Holders may be excluded further if the underwriters make the determination described above and no other stockholder's securities are included in such offering. For purposes of the provision in this Subsection 2.3(b) concerning apportionment, for any selling Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, the partners, members, retired partners, retired members, stockholders, and Affiliates of such Holder, or the estates and Immediate Family Members of any such partners, retired partners, members, and retired members and any trusts for the benefit of any of the foregoing Persons, shall be deemed to be a single "selling Holder," and any pro rata reduction with respect to such "selling Holder" shall be based upon the aggregate number of Registrable Securities owned by all Persons included in such "selling Holder," as defined in this sentence.

2.4 Obligations of the Company. Whenever required under this Section 2 to effect the registration of any Registrable Securities, the Company shall, as expeditiously as reasonably possible:

(a) prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to such Registrable Securities and use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective and, upon the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities registered thereunder, keep such registration statement effective for a period of up to one hundred twenty (120) days or, if earlier, until the distribution contemplated in the registration statement has been completed; provided, however, that such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains, at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, from selling any securities included in such registration;

(b) prepare and file with the SEC such amendments and supplements to such registration statement, and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement, as may be necessary to comply with the Securities Act in order to enable the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) furnish to the selling Holders such numbers of copies of a prospectus, including a preliminary prospectus, as required by the Securities Act, and such other documents as the Holders may reasonably request in order to facilitate their disposition of their Registrable Securities;

(d) use its commercially reasonable efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or blue-sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the selling Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(e) in the event of any underwritten public offering, enter into and perform its obligations under an underwriting agreement, in usual and customary form, with the underwriter(s) of such offering;

(f) use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause all such Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement to be listed on a national securities exchange or trading system and each securities exchange and trading system (if any) on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(g) provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Agreement and provide a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration;

(h) promptly make available for inspection by the selling Holders, any underwriter(s) participating in any disposition pursuant to such registration statement, and any attorney or accountant or other agent retained by any such underwriter or selected by the selling Holders, all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents, and properties of the Company, and cause the Company's officers, directors, employees, and independent accountants to supply all information reasonably requested by any such seller, underwriter, attorney, accountant, or agent, in each case, as necessary or advisable to verify the accuracy of the information in such registration statement and to conduct appropriate due diligence in connection therewith;

(i) notify each selling Holder, promptly after the Company receives notice thereof, of the time when such registration statement has been declared effective or a supplement to any prospectus forming a part of such registration statement has been filed; and

(j) after such registration statement becomes effective, notify each selling Holder of any request by the SEC that the Company amend or supplement such registration statement or prospectus.

In addition, the Company shall ensure that, at all times after any registration statement covering a public offering of securities of the Company under the Securities Act shall have become effective, its insider trading policy shall provide that the Company's directors may implement a trading program under Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act.

2.5 Furnish Information. It shall be a condition precedent to the obligations of the Company to take any action pursuant to this Section 2 with respect to the Registrable Securities of any selling Holder that such Holder shall furnish to the Company such information regarding itself, the Registrable Securities held by it, and the intended method of disposition of such securities as is reasonably required to effect the registration of such Holder's Registrable Securities.

2.6 Expenses of Registration. All expenses (other than Selling Expenses) incurred in connection with registrations, filings, or qualifications pursuant to Section 2, including all registration, filing, and qualification fees; printers' and accounting fees; fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company; and the reasonable fees and disbursements, not to exceed $50,000, of one counsel for the selling Holders ("Selling Holder Counsel"), shall be borne and paid by the Company; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to pay for any expenses of any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Subsection 2.1 if the registration request is subsequently withdrawn at the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities to be registered (in which case all selling Holders shall bear such expenses pro rata based upon the number of Registrable Securities that were to be included in the withdrawn registration), unless the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities agree to forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b), as the case may be. All Selling Expenses relating to Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Section 2 shall be borne and paid by the Holders pro rata on the basis of the number of Registrable Securities registered on their behalf.

2.7 Delay of Registration. No Holder shall have any right to obtain or seek an injunction restraining or otherwise delaying any registration pursuant to this Agreement as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 2.

2.8 Indemnification. If any Registrable Securities are included in a registration statement under this Section 2:

(a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company will indemnify and hold harmless each selling Holder, and the partners, members, officers, directors, and stockholders of each such Holder; legal counsel and accountants for each such Holder; any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act) for each such Holder; and each Person, if any, who controls such Holder or underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, against any Damages, and the Company will pay to each such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, nor shall the Company be liable for any Damages to the extent that they arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of any such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person expressly for use in connection with such registration.

(b) To the extent permitted by law, each selling Holder, severally and not jointly, will indemnify and hold harmless the Company, and each of its directors, each of its officers who has signed the registration statement, each Person (if any), who controls the Company within the meaning of the Securities Act, legal counsel and accountants for the Company, any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act), any other Holder selling securities in such registration statement, and any controlling Person of any such underwriter or other Holder, against any Damages, in each case only to the extent that such Damages arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of such selling Holder expressly for use in connection with such registration; and each such selling Holder will pay to the Company and each other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Holder, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided further that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by any Holder by way of indemnity or contribution under Subsections 2.8(b) and 2.8(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by such Holder.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Subsection 2.8, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8, to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Subsection 2.8.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Subsection 2.8 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Subsection 2.8 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Subsection 2.8, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) no Holder will be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by such Holder pursuant to such registration statement, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall a Holder's liability pursuant to this Subsection 2.8(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by such Holder pursuant to Subsection 2.8(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by such Holder.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Company and Holders under this Subsection 2.8 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Section 2, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

2.9 Reports Under Exchange Act. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of SEC Rule 144 and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell securities of the Company to the public without registration or pursuant to a registration on Form S-3, the Company shall:

(a) use commercially reasonable efforts to make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in SEC Rule 144, at all times after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO;

(b) use commercially reasonable efforts to file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements); and

(c) furnish to any Holder, so long as the Holder owns any Registrable Securities, forthwith upon request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of SEC Rule 144 (at any time after ninety (90) days after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO), the Securities Act, and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements), or that it qualifies as a registrant whose securities may be resold pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies); and (ii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration (at any time after the Company has become subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act) or pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies to use such form).

2.10 Limitations on Subsequent Registration Rights. From and after the date of this Agreement, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, enter into any agreement with any holder or prospective holder of any securities of the Company that would provide to such holder or prospective holder the right to include securities in any registration on other than either a pro rata basis with respect to the Registrable Securities or on a subordinate basis after all Holders have had the opportunity to include in the registration and offering all shares of Registrable Securities that they wish to so include; provided that this limitation shall not apply to Registrable Securities acquired by any additional Investor that becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9.

2.11 "Market Stand-off" Agreement. Each Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the registration by the Company of shares of its Common Stock or any other equity securities under the Securities Act on a registration statement on Form S-1, and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days in the case of the IPO, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports, and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right, or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for Common Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Holder or are thereafter acquired) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such securities, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.11 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Holder or the immediate family of the Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall be applicable to the Holders only if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with such registration are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 2.11 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with such registration that are consistent with this Subsection 2.11 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

2.12 Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) The Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities shall not be sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred, and the Company shall not recognize and shall issue stop-transfer instructions to its transfer agent with respect to any such sale, pledge, or transfer, except upon the conditions specified in this Agreement, which conditions are intended to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act. A transferring Holder will cause any proposed purchaser, pledgee, or transferee of the Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities held by such Holder to agree to take and hold such securities subject to the provisions and upon the conditions specified in this Agreement.

(b) Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing (i) the Preferred Stock, (ii) the Registrable Securities, and (iii) any other securities issued in respect of the securities referenced in clauses (i) and (ii), upon any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or similar event, shall (unless otherwise permitted by the provisions of Subsection 2.12(c)) be notated with a legend substantially in the following form:

> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933. SUCH SHARES MAY NOT BE SOLD, PLEDGED, OR TRANSFERRED IN THE ABSENCE OF SUCH REGISTRATION OR A VALID EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION AND PROSPECTUS DELIVERY REQUIREMENTS OF SAID ACT.
> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE STOCKHOLDER, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY.

The Holders consent to the Company making a notation in its records and giving instructions to any transfer agent of the Restricted Securities in order to implement the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Subsection 2.12.

(c) The holder of such Restricted Securities, by acceptance of ownership thereof, agrees to comply in all respects with the provisions of this Section 2. Before any proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of any Restricted Securities, unless there is in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering the proposed transaction, the Holder thereof shall give notice to the Company of such Holder's intention to effect such sale, pledge, or transfer. Each such notice shall describe the manner and circumstances of the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer in sufficient detail and, if reasonably requested by the Company, shall be accompanied at such Holder's expense by either (i) a written opinion of legal counsel who shall, and whose legal opinion shall, be reasonably satisfactory to the Company, addressed to the Company, to the effect that the proposed transaction may be effected without registration under the Securities Act; (ii) a "no action" letter from the SEC to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of such Restricted Securities without registration will not result in a recommendation by the staff of the SEC that action be taken with respect thereto; or (iii) any other evidence reasonably satisfactory to counsel to the Company to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of the Restricted Securities may be effected without registration under the Securities Act, whereupon the Holder of such Restricted Securities shall be entitled to sell, pledge, or transfer such Restricted Securities in accordance with the terms of the notice given by the Holder to the Company. The Company will not require such a legal opinion or "no action" letter (x) in any transaction in compliance with SEC Rule 144; or (y) in any transaction in which such Holder distributes Restricted Securities to an Affiliate of such Holder for no consideration; provided that each transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Subsection 2.12. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Restricted Securities transferred as above provided shall be notated with, except if such transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the appropriate restrictive legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b), except that such certificate instrument, or book entry shall not be notated with such restrictive legend if, in the opinion of counsel for such Holder and the Company, such legend is not required in order to establish compliance with any provisions of the Securities Act.

2.13 Termination of Registration Rights. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion of Registrable Securities in any registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1 or 2.2 shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation;

(b) such time after consummation of the IPO as Rule 144 or another similar exemption under the Securities Act is available for the sale of all of such Holder's shares without limitation during a three-month period without registration;

(c) the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the IPO.

3. Information Rights.

3.1 Delivery of Financial Statements. The Company shall deliver to each Major Investor, provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company:

(a) as soon as practicable, but in any event within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (i) a balance sheet as of the end of such year, (ii) statements of income and of cash flows for such year, and a comparison between (x) the actual amounts as of and for such fiscal year and (y) the comparable amounts for the prior year and as included in the Budget (as defined in Subsection 3.1(e)) for such year, with an explanation of any material differences between such amounts and a schedule as to the sources and applications of funds for such year, and (iii) a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such year, all such financial statements unaudited and prepared in accordance with GAAP;

(b) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, unaudited statements of income and cash flows for such fiscal quarter, and an unaudited balance sheet and a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such fiscal quarter, all prepared in accordance with GAAP (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments; and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(c) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty-five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, a statement showing the number of shares of each class and series of capital stock and securities convertible into or exercisable for shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the period, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exercise of any outstanding securities convertible or exercisable for Common Stock and the exchange ratio or exercise price applicable thereto, and the number of shares of issued stock options and stock options not yet issued but reserved for issuance, if any, all in sufficient detail as to permit the Major Investors to calculate their respective percentage equity ownership in the Company, and certified by the chief financial officer or chief executive officer of the Company as being true, complete, and correct;

(d) as soon as practicable, but in any event thirty (30) days before the end of each fiscal year, a budget and business plan for the next fiscal year (collectively, the "Budget"), approved by the Board of Directors (including a majority of the Series A-1 Directors) and prepared on a monthly basis, including balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flow for such months and, promptly after prepared, any other budgets or revised budgets prepared by the Company;

(e) such other information relating to the financial condition, business, prospects, or corporate affairs of the Company as any Major Investor may from time to time reasonably request; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated under this Subsection 3.1 to provide information (i) that the Company reasonably determines in good faith to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in a form acceptable to the Company); or (ii) the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel; and

If, for any period, the Company has any subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with those of the Company, then in respect of such period the financial statements delivered pursuant to the foregoing sections shall be the consolidated and consolidating financial statements of the Company and all such consolidated subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Subsection 3.1 to the contrary, the Company may cease providing the information set forth in this Subsection 3.1 during the period starting with the date sixty (60) days before the Company's good-faith estimate of the date of filing of a registration statement if it reasonably concludes it must do so to comply with the SEC rules applicable to such registration statement and related offering; provided that the Company's covenants under this Subsection 3.1 shall be reinstated at such time as the Company is no longer actively employing its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective.

3.2 Inspection. The Company shall permit each Major Investor (provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company), at such Major Investor's expense, not to exceed more than two (2) times per year, to visit and inspect the Company's properties; examine its books of account and records; and discuss the Company's affairs, finances, and accounts with its officers, during normal business hours of the Company as may be reasonably requested by the Major Investor; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Subsection 3.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably and in good faith considers to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in form acceptable to the Company) or the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel.

3.3 Termination of Information Rights. The covenants set forth in Subsection 3.1 and Subsection 3.2 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

3.4 Confidentiality. Each Investor agrees that such Investor will keep confidential and will not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including notice of the Company's intention to file a registration statement), unless such confidential information (a) is known or becomes known to the public in general (other than as a result of a breach of this Subsection 3.4 by such Investor), (b) is or has been independently developed or conceived by such Investor without use of the Company's confidential information, or (c) is or has been made known or disclosed to such Investor by a third party without a breach of any obligation of confidentiality such third party may have to the Company; provided, however, that an Investor may disclose confidential information (i) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring its investment in the Company; (ii) to any prospective purchaser of any Registrable Securities from such Investor, if such prospective purchaser agrees to be bound by the provisions of this Subsection 3.4; (iii) to any Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, or wholly owned subsidiary of such Investor in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Investor informs such Person that such information is confidential and directs such Person to maintain the confidentiality of such information; or (iv) as may otherwise be required by law, regulation, rule, court order or subpoena, provided that such Investor promptly notifies the Company of such disclosure and takes reasonable steps to minimize the extent of any such required disclosure.

4. Rights to Future Stock Issuances.

4.1 Right of First Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 4.1 and applicable securities laws, if the Company proposes to offer or sell any New Securities, the Company shall first offer such New Securities to each Major Investor. A Major Investor shall be entitled to apportion the right of first offer hereby granted to it in such proportions as it deems appropriate, among (i) itself and (ii) its Affiliates; provided that each such Affiliate (x) is not a FOIA Party, unless such party's purchase of New Securities is otherwise consented to by the Board of Directors, (y) agrees to enter into this Agreement and each of the Voting Agreement and Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement of even date herewith among the Company, the Investors and the other parties named therein, as an "Investor" under each such agreement (provided that any FOIA Party shall not be entitled to any rights as a Major Investor under Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 4.1 hereof), and (z) agrees to purchase at least such number of New Securities as are allocable hereunder to the Major Investor holding the fewest number of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities.

(a) The Company shall give notice (the "Offer Notice") to each Major Investor, stating (i) its bona fide intention to offer such New Securities, (ii) the number of such New Securities to be offered, and (iii) the price and terms, if any, upon which it proposes to offer such New Securities.

(b) By written notification to the Company within twenty (20) days after the Offer Notice is given, each Major Investor may elect to purchase or otherwise acquire, at the price and on the terms specified in the Offer Notice, up to that portion of such New Securities which equals the proportion that the Common Stock then held by such Major Investor (including all shares of Common Stock then issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by such Major Investor) bears to the total Common Stock of the Company then outstanding (assuming full conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of all Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then outstanding). At the expiration of such twenty (20) day period, the Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor that elects to purchase or acquire all the shares available to it (each, a "Fully Exercising Investor") of any other Major Investor's failure to do likewise. During the ten (10) day period commencing after the Company has given such notice, each Fully Exercising Investor may, by giving notice to the Company, elect to purchase or acquire, in addition to the number of shares specified above, up to that portion of the New Securities for which Major Investors were entitled to subscribe but that were not subscribed for by the Major Investors which is equal to the proportion that the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by such Fully Exercising Investor bears to the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by all Fully Exercising Investors who wish to purchase such unsubscribed shares. The closing of any sale pursuant to this Subsection 4.1(b) shall occur within the later of ninety (90) days of the date that the Offer Notice is given and the date of initial sale of New Securities pursuant to Subsection 4.1(c).

(c) If all New Securities referred to in the Offer Notice are not elected to be purchased or acquired as provided in Subsection 4.1(b), the Company may, during the ninety (90) day period following the expiration of the periods provided in Subsection 4.1(b), offer and sell the remaining unsubscribed portion of such New Securities to any Person or Persons at a price not less than, and upon terms no more favorable to the offeree than, those specified in the Offer Notice. If the Company does not enter into an agreement for the sale of the New Securities within such period, or if such agreement is not consummated within thirty (30) days of the execution thereof, the right provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and such New Securities shall not be offered unless first reoffered to the Major Investors in accordance with this Subsection 4.1.

(d) The right of first offer in this Subsection 4.1 shall not be applicable to (i) Exempted Securities (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation); (ii) all shares of Series A-1 preferred stock of the Company issuable by the Company under the Purchase Agreement; (iii) shares of Common Stock issued in the IPO.

4.2 Termination. The covenants set forth in Subsection 4.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

5. Additional Covenants.

5.1 Insurance. The Company shall obtain, within ninety (90) days of the date hereof, from a financially sound and reputable insurer Directors and Officers liability insurance, in an amount and on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Board of Directors, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause such insurance policy to be maintained until such time as the Board of Directors determines that such insurance should be discontinued. The policy shall not be cancelable by the Company without prior approval by the Board of Directors.

5.2 Employee Agreements. The Company will cause each Person now or hereafter employed by it or by any subsidiary (or engaged by the Company or any subsidiary as a consultant/independent contractor) with access to confidential information and/or trade secrets to enter into a nondisclosure and proprietary rights assignment agreement.

5.3 Employee Stock. Unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, all future employees and consultants of the Company who purchase, receive options to purchase, or receive awards of shares of the Company's capital stock after the date hereof shall be required to execute restricted stock or option agreements, as applicable, providing for (i) vesting of shares over a four (4) year period, with the first twenty-five percent (25%) of such shares vesting following twelve (12) months of continued employment or service, and the remaining shares vesting in equal monthly installments over the following thirty-six (36) months, and (ii) a market stand-off provision substantially similar to that in Subsection 2.11.Without the prior approval by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A-1 Directors, the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any stock purchase, stock restriction or option agreement with any existing employee or service provider if such amendment would cause it to be inconsistent with this Subsection 5.3. In addition, unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A-1 Directors, the Company shall retain (and not waive) a "right of first refusal" on employee transfers until the Company's IPO and shall have the right to repurchase unvested shares at cost upon termination of employment of a holder of restricted stock.

5.4 Qualified Small Business Stock. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the shares of Preferred Stock issued pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, as well as any shares into which such shares are converted, within the meaning of Section 1202(f) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code; provided, however, that such requirement shall not be applicable if the Board of Directors of the Company determines, in its good-faith business judgment, that such qualification is inconsistent with the best interests of the Company. The Company shall submit to its stockholders (including the Investors) and to the Internal Revenue Service any reports that may be required under Section 1202(d)(1)(C) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in no event shall the Company be liable to its stockholders (including the Investors) for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

5.5 Matters Requiring Investor Director Approval. The Company hereby covenants and agrees with each of the Investors that it shall not, without approval of the Board of Directors, which approval must include the affirmative vote of a majority of the Series A-1 Directors:

(a) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to, or own any stock or other securities of, any subsidiary or other corporation, partnership, or other entity unless it is wholly owned by the Company;

(b) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to any Person, including, without limitation, any employee or director of the Company or any subsidiary, except advances and similar expenditures in the ordinary course of business, or under the terms of an employee stock or option plan approved by the Board of Directors;

(c) guarantee, directly or indirectly, or permit any subsidiary to guarantee, directly or indirectly, any indebtedness except for trade accounts of the Company or any subsidiary arising in the ordinary course of business;

(d) make any investment inconsistent with any investment policy approved by the Board of Directors;

(e) otherwise enter into or be a party to any transaction with any director, officer, or employee of the Company or any "associate" (as defined in Rule 12b-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of any such Person, including without limitation any "management bonus" or similar plan providing payments to employees in connection with a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, except for transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Purchase Agreement or transactions made in the ordinary course of business and pursuant to reasonable requirements of the Company's business and upon fair and reasonable terms that are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, including, but not limited to, the Contribution, License and Services Agreement dated as of October 30, 2020 between the Company and Biolojic, as amended;

(f) hire, terminate, or change the compensation of the executive officers, including approving any option grants or stock awards to executive officers;

(g) change the principal business of the Company, enter new lines of business, or exit the current line of business;

(h) sell, assign, license, pledge, or encumber material technology or intellectual property, other than licenses granted in the ordinary course of business; or

(i) enter into any corporate strategic relationship.

5.6 Board Matters. Unless otherwise determined by the vote of a majority of the directors then in office, the Board of Directors shall meet in person or via video or conference call at least quarterly in accordance with an agreed-upon schedule. The Company shall reimburse the nonemployee directors for all reasonable out-of-pocket travel expenses incurred (consistent with the Company's travel policy) in connection with attending meetings of the Board of Directors. Subject to applicable law and the requirements of any stock exchange, each of the Series A-1 Directors shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board of Directors and each such committee must include at least one Series A-1 Director.

5.7 Successor Indemnification. If the Company or any of its successors or assignees consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, then to the extent necessary, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assignees of the Company assume the obligations of the Company with respect to indemnification of members of the Board of Directors as in effect immediately before such transaction, whether such obligations are contained in the Company's bylaws, the Certificate of Incorporation, or elsewhere, as the case may be.

5.8 Indemnification Matters. The Company hereby acknowledges that one (1) or more of the directors nominated to serve on the Board of Directors by the Investors (each an "Investor Director") may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by one or more of the Investors and certain of their Affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (a) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to any such Investor Director are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by such Investor Director are secondary), (b) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by such Investor Director and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or on behalf of any such Investor Director to the extent legally permitted and as required by the Company's Certificate of Incorporation or bylaws of the Company (or any agreement between the Company and such Investor Director), without regard to any rights such Investor Director may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (c) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of any such Investor Director with respect to any claim for which such Investor Director has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Investor Director against the Company. The Investor Directors and the Investor Indemnitors are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 5.8 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Subsection 5.8 as though they were a party to this Agreement.

5.9 Right to Conduct Activities. The Company hereby agrees and acknowledges that ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("Apple Tree") (together with its Affiliates) is a professional investment organization, and as such reviews the business plans and related proprietary information of many enterprises, some of which may compete directly or indirectly with the Company's business (as currently conducted or as currently propose to be conducted). Nothing in this Agreement shall preclude or in any way restrict Apple Tree or its Affiliates from investing or participating in any particular enterprise whether or not such enterprise has products or services which compete with those of the Company. The Company hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted under applicable law, Apple Tree (and its Affiliates) shall not be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by Apple Tree (or its Affiliates) in any entity competitive with the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any partner, officer, employee or other representative of Apple Tree (or its Affiliates) to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a member of the board of directors of such competitive company or otherwise, and whether or not such action has a detrimental effect on the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve (x) any of the Investors from liability associated with the unauthorized disclosure of the Company's confidential information obtained pursuant to this Agreement, or (y) any director or officer of the Company from any liability associated with his or her fiduciary duties to the Company.

5.10 Termination of Covenants. The covenants set forth in this Section 5, except for Subsections 5.7 or 5.8, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Successors and Assigns. The rights under this Agreement may be assigned (but only with all related obligations) by a Holder to a transferee of Registrable Securities that (i) is an Affiliate of a Holder; or (ii) is a Holder's Immediate Family Member or trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or one or more of such Holder's Immediate Family Members; or (iii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of Holder's Registrable Securities; provided, however, that (x) the Company is, within a reasonable time after such transfer, furnished with written notice of the name and address of such transferee and the Registrable Securities with respect to which such rights are being transferred; and (y) such transferee agrees in a written instrument delivered to the Company to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including the provisions of Subsection 2.11. For the purposes of determining the number of shares of Registrable Securities held by a transferee, the holdings of a transferee (1) that is an Affiliate or stockholder of a Holder; (2) who is a Holder's Immediate Family Member; or (3) that is a trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or such Holder's Immediate Family Member shall be aggregated together and with those of the transferring Holder; provided further that all transferees who would not qualify individually for assignment of rights shall, as a condition to the applicable transfer, establish a single attorney-in-fact for the purpose of exercising any rights, receiving notices, or taking any action under this Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement inure to the benefit of and are binding upon the respective successors and permitted assignees of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assignees any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided herein.

6.3 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.4 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during the recipient's normal business hours, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day; (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next-day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their addresses as set forth on Schedule A hereto, or to the principal office of the Company and to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer, in the case of the Company, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 650 Page Mill Road, Palo Alto, CA 94304-1050; Attention: Jennifer Knapp.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in such stockholder's electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, and either retroactively or prospectively) only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding; provided that the Company may in its sole discretion waive compliance with Subsection 2.12(c) (and the Company's failure to object promptly in writing after notification of a proposed assignment allegedly in violation of Subsection 2.12(c) shall be deemed to be a waiver); and provided further that any provision hereof may be waived by any waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereof may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, unless such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver applies to all Investors in the same fashion (it being agreed that a waiver of the provisions of Section 4 with respect to a particular transaction shall be deemed to apply to all Investors in the same fashion if such waiver does so by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that certain Investors may nonetheless, by agreement with the Company, purchase securities in such transaction) and (b) Subsections 3.1 and 3.2, Section 4 and any other section of this Agreement applicable to the Major Investors (including this clause (b) of this Subsection 6.6) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding and held by the Major Investors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add transferees of any Registrable Securities in compliance with the terms of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties; and Schedule A hereto may also be amended by the Company after the date of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties to add information regarding any additional Investor who becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9. The Company shall give prompt notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 6.6 shall be binding on all parties hereto, regardless of whether any such party has consented thereto. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition, or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition, or provision.

6.7 Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is for any reason held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, and such invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision shall be reformed and construed so that it will be valid, legal, and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6.8 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Registrable Securities held or acquired by Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.9 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement, and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder. No action or consent by the Investors shall be required for such joinder to this Agreement by such additional Investor, so long as such additional Investor has agreed in writing to be bound by all of the obligations as an "Investor" hereunder.

6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any Schedules and Exhibits hereto), the Certificate of Incorporation and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

6.11 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of New York and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of New York or the United States Southern District of New York, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.12 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power, or remedy of such nonbreaching or nondefaulting party, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of or acquiescence to any such breach or default, or to any similar breach or default thereafter occurring, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. All remedies, whether under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

AMENDED AND RESTATED RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 28, 2023 by and among Aulos Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the Investors (as defined below) listed on Schedule A and the Key Holders (as defined below) listed on Schedule B.

WHEREAS, each Key Holder is the beneficial owner of shares of Capital Stock, or of options to purchase Common Stock;

WHEREAS, the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors previously entered into a Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated October 30, 2020 (as amended, the "Prior Agreement"), in connection with the purchase of shares of Series A Preferred Stock of the Company, par value $0.0001 per share ("Series A Preferred Stock"); and

WHEREAS, the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors desire to induce the Investors to purchase shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock of the Company, par value $0.0001 per share ("Series A-1 Preferred Stock"), pursuant to that certain Series A-1 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of the date hereof, by and among the Company and the Investors (as amended from time to time, the "Purchase Agreement"), by amending and restating the Prior Agreement to provide the Investors with the rights and privileges as set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company, Key Holders and the Investors hereby agree that the Prior Agreement is amended and restated in its entirety as set forth herein, and the parties hereto further agree as follows:

1. Definitions.

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Investor, any other Person who directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Investor, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Investor, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing which is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Investor.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Capital Stock" means (a) shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock (whether now outstanding or hereafter issued in any context), (b) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock, and (c) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon exercise or conversion, as applicable, of stock options, warrants or other convertible securities of the Company, in each case now owned or subsequently acquired by any Key Holder, any Investor, or their respective successors or permitted transferees or assigns. For purposes of the number of shares of Capital Stock held by an Investor or Key Holder (or any other calculation based thereon), all shares of Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into Common Stock at the then-applicable conversion ratio.

1.4 "Change of Control" means a transaction or series of related transactions in which a person, or a group of related persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company.

1.5 "Common Stock" means shares of Common Stock of the Company, $0.001 par value per share.

1.6 "Company Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the selling Key Holders and each Investor that the Company intends to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.7 "Investor Notice" means written notice from any Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder(s) that such Investor intends to exercise its Secondary Refusal Right as to a portion of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.8 "Investors" means the persons named on Schedule A hereto, each person to whom the rights of an Investor are assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.9, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.11 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.9 "Key Holders" means the persons named on Schedule B hereto, each person to whom the rights of a Key Holder are assigned pursuant to Subsection 3.1, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.9 or 6.17 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.10 "Preferred Stock" means all shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock.

1.11 "Person" means an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or other legal entity.

1.12 "Proposed Key Holder Transfer" means any assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any Transfer Stock (or any interest therein) proposed by any of the Key Holders.

1.13 "Proposed Transfer Notice" means written notice from a Key Holder setting forth the terms and conditions of a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.14 "Prospective Transferee" means any person to whom a Key Holder proposes to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.15 "Restated Certificate" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.16 "Right of Co-Sale" means the right, but not an obligation, of an Investor to participate in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.17 "Right of First Refusal" means the right, but not an obligation, of the Company, or its permitted transferees or assigns, to purchase some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.18 "Secondary Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the Investors and the selling Key Holder that the Company does not intend to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to all shares of any Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.19 "Secondary Refusal Right" means the right, but not an obligation, of each Investor to purchase up to its pro rata portion (based upon the total number of shares of Capital Stock then held by all Investors) of any Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.20 "Transfer Stock" means shares of Capital Stock owned by a Key Holder, or issued to a Key Holder after the date hereof (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), but does not include any shares of Preferred Stock or of Common Stock that are issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock.

1.21 "Undersubscription Notice" means written notice from an Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder that such Investor intends to exercise its option to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right.

2. Agreement Among the Company, the Investors and the Key Holders.

2.1 Right of First Refusal.

(a) Grant. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Company a Right of First Refusal to purchase all or any portion of Transfer Stock that such Key Holder may propose to transfer in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, at the same price and on the same terms and conditions as those offered to the Prospective Transferee.

(b) Notice. Each Key Holder proposing to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer must deliver a Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company and each Investor not later than forty-five (45) days prior to the consummation of such Proposed Key Holder Transfer. Such Proposed Transfer Notice shall contain the material terms and conditions (including price and form of consideration) of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the identity of the Prospective Transferee and the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer. To exercise its Right of First Refusal under this Section 2, the Company must deliver a Company Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Investors within fifteen (15) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice specifying the number of shares of Transfer Stock to be purchased by the Company.

(c) Grant of Secondary Refusal Right to the Investors. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Investors a Secondary Refusal Right to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased by the Company pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, as provided in this Subsection 2.1(c). If the Company does not provide the Company Notice exercising its Right of First Refusal with respect to all Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the Company must deliver a Secondary Notice to the selling Key Holder and to each Investor to that effect no later than fifteen (15) days after the selling Key Holder delivers the Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company. To exercise its Secondary Refusal Right, an Investor must deliver an Investor Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the Company's deadline for its delivery of the Secondary Notice as provided in the preceding sentence.

(d) Undersubscription of Transfer Stock. If options to purchase have been exercised by the Company and the Investors pursuant to Subsections 2.1(b) and (c) with respect to some but not all of the Transfer Stock by the end of the ten (10) day period specified in the last sentence of Subsection 2.1(c) (the "Investor Notice Period"), then the Company shall, within five (5) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period, send written notice (the "Company Undersubscription Notice") to those Investors who fully exercised their Secondary Refusal Right within the Investor Notice Period (the "Exercising Investors"). Each Exercising Investor shall, subject to the provisions of this Subsection 2.1(d), have an additional option to purchase all or any part of the balance of any such remaining unsubscribed shares of Transfer Stock on the terms and conditions set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice. To exercise such option, an Exercising Investor must deliver an Undersubscription Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period. In the event there are two (2) or more such Exercising Investors that choose to exercise the last-mentioned option for a total number of remaining shares in excess of the number available, the remaining shares available for purchase under this Subsection 2.1(d) shall be allocated to such Exercising Investors pro rata based on the number of shares of Transfer Stock such Exercising Investors have elected to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right (without giving effect to any shares of Transfer Stock that any such Exercising Investor has elected to purchase pursuant to the Company Undersubscription Notice). If the options to purchase the remaining shares are exercised in full by the Exercising Investors, the Company shall immediately notify all of the Exercising Investors and the selling Key Holder of that fact.

(e) Consideration; Closing. If the consideration proposed to be paid for the Transfer Stock is in property, services or other non-cash consideration, the fair market value of the consideration shall be as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. If the Company or any Investor cannot for any reason pay for the Transfer Stock in the same form of non-cash consideration, the Company or such Investor may pay the cash value equivalent thereof, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. The closing of the purchase of Transfer Stock by the Company and the Investors shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Investors shall have been delivered to the selling Key Holder, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice as the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice.

2.2 Right of Co-Sale.

(a) Exercise of Right. If any Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not purchased pursuant to Subsection 2.1 above and thereafter is to be sold to a Prospective Transferee, each respective Investor may elect to exercise its Right of Co-Sale and participate on a pro rata basis in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer as set forth in Subsection 2.2(b) below and, subject to Subsection 2.2(d), otherwise on the same terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice. Each Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale (each, a "Participating Investor") must give the selling Key Holder written notice to that effect within fifteen (15) days after the deadline for delivery of the Secondary Notice described above, and upon giving such notice such Participating Investor shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Right of Co-Sale.

(b) Shares Includable. Each Participating Investor may include in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer all or any part of such Participating Investor's Capital Stock equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the aggregate number of shares of Transfer Stock subject to the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (excluding shares purchased by the Company or the Participating Investors pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right) by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Capital Stock owned by such Participating Investor immediately before consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer and the denominator of which is the total number of shares of Capital Stock owned, in the aggregate, by all Participating Investors immediately prior to the consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, plus the number of shares of Transfer Stock held by the selling Key Holders.

(c) Purchase and Sale Agreement. The Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder agree that the terms and conditions of any Proposed Key Holder Transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2 will be memorialized in, and governed by, a written purchase and sale agreement with the Prospective Transferee (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") with customary terms and provisions for such a transaction, and the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder further covenant and agree to enter into such Purchase and Sale Agreement as a condition precedent to any sale or other transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2.

(d) Allocation of Consideration.

(i) Subject to Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder shall be allocated based on the number of shares of Capital Stock sold to the Prospective Transferee by each Participating Investor and the selling Key Holder as provided in Subsection 2.2(b), provided that if a Participating Investor wishes to sell Preferred Stock, the price set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice shall be appropriately adjusted based on the conversion ratio of the Preferred Stock into Common Stock.

(ii) In the event that the Proposed Key Holder Transfer constitutes a Change of Control, the terms of the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that the aggregate consideration from such transfer shall be allocated to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate and, if applicable, the next sentence as if (A) such transfer were a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate), and (B) the Capital Stock sold in accordance with the Purchase and Sale Agreement were the only Capital Stock outstanding. In the event that a portion of the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that (x) the portion of such consideration that is not subject to contingencies (the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such transfer, and (y) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transfer. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such transfer shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

(e) Purchase by Selling Key Holder; Deliveries. Notwithstanding Subsection 2.2(c) above, if any Prospective Transferee or Transferees refuse(s) to purchase securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from any Participating Investor or Investors or upon the failure to negotiate in good faith a Purchase and Sale Agreement reasonably satisfactory to the Participating Investors, no Key Holder may sell any Transfer Stock to such Prospective Transferee or Transferees unless and until, simultaneously with such sale, such Key Holder purchases all securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from such Participating Investor or Investors on the same terms and conditions (including the proposed purchase price) as set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice and as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i); provided, however, if such sale constitutes a Change of Control, the portion of the aggregate consideration paid by the selling Key Holder to such Participating Investor or Investors shall be made in accordance with the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii). In connection with such purchase by the selling Key Holder, such Participating Investor or Investors shall deliver to the selling Key Holder any stock certificate or certificates, properly endorsed for transfer, representing the Capital Stock being purchased by the selling Key Holder (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of the selling Key Holder). Any such shares transferred to the selling Key Holder will be transferred to the Prospective Transferee against payment therefor in consummation of the sale of the Transfer Stock pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice, and the selling Key Holder shall concurrently therewith remit or direct payment to each such Participating Investor the portion of the aggregate consideration to which each such Participating Investor is entitled by reason of its participation in such sale as provided in this Subsection 2.2(e).

(f) Additional Compliance. If any Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not consummated within sixty (60) days after receipt of the Proposed Transfer Notice by the Company, the Key Holders proposing the Proposed Key Holder Transfer may not sell any Transfer Stock unless they first comply in full with each provision of this Section 2. The exercise or election not to exercise any right by any Investor hereunder shall not adversely affect its right to participate in any other sales of Transfer Stock subject to this Subsection 2.2. The Company's first refusal rights and the Investors' first refusal rights and co-sale rights shall continue to be applicable to any subsequent disposition of the Transfer Stock acquired by the third-party transferee(s) until such rights lapse in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

2.3 Effect of Failure to Comply.

(a) Transfer Void; Equitable Relief. Any Proposed Key Holder Transfer not made in compliance with the requirements of this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio, shall not be recorded on the books of the Company or its transfer agent and shall not be recognized by the Company. Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this Agreement would result in substantial harm to the other parties hereto for which monetary damages alone could not adequately compensate. Therefore, the parties hereto unconditionally and irrevocably agree that any non-breaching party hereto shall be entitled to seek protective orders, injunctive relief and other remedies available at law or in equity (including, without limitation, seeking specific performance or the rescission of purchases, sales and other transfers of Transfer Stock not made in strict compliance with this Agreement).

(b) Violation of First Refusal Right. If any Key Holder becomes obligated to sell any Transfer Stock to the Company or any Investor under this Agreement and fails to deliver such Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company and/or such Investor may, at its option, in addition to all other remedies it may have, send to such Key Holder the purchase price for such Transfer Stock as is herein specified and transfer to the name of the Company or such Investor (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of an Investor) on the Company's books any certificates, instruments, or book entry representing the Transfer Stock to be sold.

(c) Violation of Co-Sale Right. If any Key Holder purports to sell any Transfer Stock in contravention of the Right of Co-Sale (a "Prohibited Transfer"), each Participating Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 may, in addition to such remedies as may be available by law, in equity or hereunder, require such Key Holder to purchase from such Participating Investor the type and number of shares of Capital Stock that such Participating Investor would have been entitled to sell to the Prospective Transferee had the Prohibited Transfer been effected in compliance with the terms of Subsection 2.2. The sale will be made on the same terms, including, without limitation, as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i) and the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), as applicable, and subject to the same conditions as would have applied had the Key Holder not made the Prohibited Transfer, except that the sale (including, without limitation, the delivery of the purchase price) must be made within ninety (90) days after the Participating Investor learns of the Prohibited Transfer, as opposed to the timeframe proscribed in Subsection 2.2. Such Key Holder shall also reimburse each Participating Investor for any and all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, incurred pursuant to the exercise or the attempted exercise of the Participating Investor's rights under Subsection 2.2.

3. Exempt Transfers.

3.1 Exempted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall not apply (a) in the case of a Key Holder that is an entity, upon a transfer by such Key Holder to its stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders, (b) to a repurchase of Transfer Stock from a Key Holder by the Company at a price no greater than that originally paid by such Key Holder for such Transfer Stock and pursuant to an agreement containing vesting and/or repurchase provisions approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, (c) to a pledge of Transfer Stock that creates a mere security interest in the pledged Transfer Stock, provided that the pledgee thereof agrees in writing in advance to be bound by and comply with all applicable provisions of this Agreement to the same extent as if it were the Key Holder making such pledge, or (d) in the case of a Key Holder that is a natural person, upon a transfer of Transfer Stock by such Key Holder made for bona fide estate planning purposes, either during his or her lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to his or her spouse, child (natural or adopted), or any other direct lineal descendant of such Key Holder (or his or her spouse) (all of the foregoing collectively referred to as "family members"), or any other relative/person approved by the Board of Directors, or any custodian or trustee of any trust, partnership or limited liability company for the benefit of, or the ownership interests of which are owned wholly by such Key Holder or any such family members;; provided that in the case of clauses (a), (c), or (d), the Key Holder shall deliver prior written notice to the Investors of such pledge, gift or transfer and such shares of Transfer Stock shall at all times remain subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Agreement and such transferee shall, as a condition to such issuance, deliver a counterpart signature page to this Agreement as confirmation that such transferee shall be bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Key Holder (but only with respect to the securities so transferred to the transferee), including the obligations of a Key Holder with respect to Proposed Key Holder Transfers of such Transfer Stock pursuant to Section 2; and provided further in the case of any transfer pursuant to clause (a) or (d) above, that such transfer is made pursuant to a transaction in which there is no consideration actually paid for such transfer.

3.2 Exempted Offerings. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Section 2 shall not apply to the sale of any Transfer Stock (a) to the public in an offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (a "Public Offering"); or (b) pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

3.3 Prohibited Transferees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Key Holder shall transfer any Transfer Stock to (a) any entity which, in the determination of the Board of Directors, directly or indirectly competes with the Company; or (b) any development partner, distributor or supplier of the Company, if the Board of Directors should determine that such transfer would result in such development partner, distributor or supplier receiving information that would place the Company at a competitive disadvantage with respect to such customer, distributor or supplier.

4. Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing shares of Transfer Stock held by the Key Holders or issued to any permitted transferee in connection with a transfer permitted by Subsection 3.1 hereof shall be notated with the following legend:

THE SALE, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION, OR TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY IS SUBJECT TO, AND IN CERTAIN CASES PROHIBITED BY, THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF A CERTAIN RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT BY AND AMONG THE STOCKHOLDER, THE CORPORATION AND CERTAIN OTHER HOLDERS OF STOCK OF THE CORPORATION. COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST TO THE SECRETARY OF THE CORPORATION.

Each Key Holder agrees that the Company may instruct its transfer agent to impose transfer restrictions on the shares notated with the legend referred to in this Section 4 above to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, and the Company agrees to promptly do so. The legend shall be removed upon termination of this Agreement at the request of the holder.

5. Lock-Up.

5.1 Agreement to Lock-Up. Each Key Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the Company's initial public offering (the "IPO") and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports; and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (a) lend, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Capital Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Key Holder or are thereafter acquired); or (b) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Capital Stock, whether any such transaction described in clause (a) or (b) above is to be settled by delivery of Capital Stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Section 5 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Key Holder or the immediate family of the Key Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust or such family member agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall only be applicable to the Key Holders if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with the IPO are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Section 5 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Key Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in the IPO that are consistent with this Section 5 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

5.2 Stop Transfer Instructions. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Capital Stock of each Key Holder (and transferees and assignees thereof) until the end of such restricted period.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon the earlier of (a) immediately prior to the consummation of the Company's IPO; and (b) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

6.2 Stock Split. All references to numbers of shares in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock dividend, split, combination or other recapitalization affecting the Capital Stock occurring after the date of this Agreement.

6.3 Ownership. Each Key Holder represents and warrants that such Key Holder is the sole legal and beneficial owner of the shares of Transfer Stock subject to this Agreement and that no other person or entity has any interest in such shares (other than a community property interest as to which the holder thereof has acknowledged and agreed in writing to the restrictions and obligations hereunder).

6.4 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of New York and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of New York or the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereof, as the case may be, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, it shall be sent to 700 Larkspur Landing Circle, Suite 108, Larkspur, CA 94939, Attention: Chief Executive Officer; and a copy (which shall not constitute notice) shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 650 Page Mill Road, Palo Alto, CA 94304-1050, Attention: Jennifer Knapp.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any stockholder notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent by such stockholder shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including, the Exhibits and Schedules, hereto together with the other Transaction Documents (as defined in the Purchase Agreement)) constitutes the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.7 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.8 Amendment; Waiver and Termination. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6.1 above) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding at least a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock then held by all of the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants (or service providers pursuant to a separate services (or similar) agreement with the Company), and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted basis). Any amendment, modification, termination or waiver so effected shall be binding upon the Company, the Investors, the Key Holders and all of their respective successors and permitted assigns whether or not such party, assignee or other shareholder entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereunder may not be waived with respect to any Investor or Key Holder without the written consent of such Investor or Key Holder unless such amendment, modification, termination or waiver applies to all Investors and Key Holders, respectively, in the same fashion and (ii) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to the Key Holders. The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be, or construed as, a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition or provision.

6.9 Assignment of Rights.

(a) The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(b) Any successor or permitted assignee of any Key Holder, including any Prospective Transferee who purchases shares of Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms hereof, shall deliver to the Company and the Investors, as a condition to any transfer or assignment, a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such successor or permitted assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the predecessor or assignor of such successor or permitted assignee.

(c) The rights of the Investors hereunder are not assignable without the Company's written consent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), except (i) by an Investor to any Affiliate, or (ii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of such Investor's shares of Capital Stock (as adjusted for any stock combination, stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization or other similar transaction), it being acknowledged and agreed that any such assignment, including an assignment contemplated by the preceding clauses (i) or (ii) shall be subject to and conditioned upon any such assignee's delivery to the Company and the other Investors of a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the assignor of such assignee.

(d) Except in connection with an assignment by the Company by operation of law to the acquirer of the Company, the rights and obligations of the Company hereunder may not be assigned under any circumstances.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder.

6.12 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of New York, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of New York.

6.13 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.14 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.15 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Capital Stock held or acquired by Affiliated entities or persons shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.16 Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Investor shall be entitled to specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company and the Key Holders hereunder and to such other injunction or other equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

6.17 Additional Key Holders. In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company issues shares of Common Stock, or options to purchase Common Stock, to any employee or consultant, which shares or options would collectively constitute with respect to such employee or consultant (taking into account all shares of Common Stock, options and other purchase rights held by such employee or consultant) one percent (1%) or more of the Company's then outstanding Common Stock (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised or converted), the Company shall, as a condition to such issuance, cause such employee or consultant to execute a counterpart signature page hereto as a Key Holder, and such person shall thereby be bound by, and subject to, all the terms and provisions of this Agreement applicable to a Key Holder.

6.18 Consent of Spouse. If any Key Holder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a Consent of Spouse in the form of Exhibit A hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Key Holder's shares of Transfer Stock that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any Key Holder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Amended and Restated Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated as of July 28, 2023, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit A (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding certain rights to certain other holders of Capital Stock of the Company upon a Proposed Key Holder Transfer of shares of Transfer Stock of the Company which my spouse may own including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of Transfer Stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of Transfer Stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

AMENDED AND RESTATED VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED VOTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made and entered into as of July 28, 2023 by and among Aulos Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), each holder of Series A Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A Preferred Stock") and each holder of Series A-1 Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A-1 Preferred Stock" and together with the Series A Preferred Stock, collectively, the "Preferred Stock") listed on Schedule A (together with any subsequent investors, or transferees, who become parties hereto as "Investors" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(a) or 7.2 below, the "Investors"), and those certain stockholders of the Company and holders of options to acquire shares of the capital stock of the Company listed on Schedule B (together with any subsequent stockholders or option holders, or any transferees, who become parties hereto as "Key Holders" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(b) or 7.2 below, the "Key Holders," and together collectively with the Investors, the "Stockholders").

RECITALS

A. Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, the Company and the Investors are entering into a Series A-1 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (as amended from time to time, the "Purchase Agreement") providing for the sale of shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock. The Company, the Investors and the Key Holders are parties to that certain Voting Agreement, dated October 30, 2020 and amended April 21, 2021, by and among the Company and the parties thereto (as amended, the "Prior Agreement"). The Company, the Investors and the Key Holders desire to amend and restate the Prior Agreement to provide the Investors purchasing shares of the Series A-1 Preferred Stock pursuant to the Purchase Agreement with the right, among other rights, to designate the election of certain members of the board of directors of the Company (the "Board") in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

B. The Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Company (the "Restated Certificate") provides that (a) the holders of record of the shares of Series A-1 Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect four (4) directors of the Company, subject to adjustment as described therein; (b) the holders of record of the shares of common stock of the Company ("Common Stock"), exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect two (2) directors of the Company, subject to adjustment as described therein and (c) the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and the Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Company.

C. The parties also desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth their agreements and understandings with respect to how shares of the capital stock of the Company held by them will be voted on, or tendered in connection with, an acquisition of the Company.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company, the Investors and the Key Holders hereby agree that the Prior Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as set forth herein, and the parties further agree as follows:

1. Voting Provisions Regarding the Board.

1.1 Size of the Board. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (as defined below) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that the size of the Board shall be set and remain at seven (7) directors. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Shares" shall mean and include any securities of the Company that the holders of which are entitled to vote for members of the Board, including without limitation, all shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, by whatever name called, now owned or subsequently acquired by a Stockholder, however acquired, whether through stock splits, stock dividends, reclassifications, recapitalizations, similar events or otherwise.

1.2 Board Composition. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that at each annual or special meeting of stockholders at which an election of directors is held or pursuant to any written consent of the stockholders, subject to Section 5, the following persons shall be elected to the Board:

(a) Four (4) persons (the "Series A-1 Directors") designated by ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("Apple Tree"), for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which individuals shall initially be Michael Ehlers, Rajesh Chopra, Anna Batarina and Seth Harrison;

(b) One (1) person designated by the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock (the "Common Director"), which individual shall initially be Yanay Ofran;

(c) One (1) person who is unaffiliated with the Company as an investor or employee (the "Independent Director") designated by Apple Tree for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which individual shall initially be Mace Rothenberg; and

(d) The Company's Chief Executive Officer (the "CEO Director"), which individual shall initially be Aron Knickerbocker, provided that in the event the then CEO Director shall cease to serve as the Chief Executive Officer of the Company, each of the Stockholders shall promptly vote their respective Shares (i) to remove the former Chief Executive Officer of the Company from the Board if such person has not resigned as a member of the Board; and (ii) to elect such person's replacement as Chief Executive Officer of the Company as the new CEO Director.

To the extent that any of the clauses above in this Subsection 1.2 shall not be applicable, any member of the Board who would otherwise have been designated in accordance with the terms thereof shall instead be voted upon by all the stockholders of the Company entitled to vote thereon in accordance with, and pursuant to, the Restated Certificate.

For purposes of this Agreement, an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (collectively, a "Person") shall be deemed an "Affiliate" of another Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one (1) or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

Subject to applicable law, including the requirements of any stock exchange, if applicable, each Series A-1 Director shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board.

1.3 Failure to Designate a Board Member. In the absence of any designation from the Persons or groups with the right to designate a director as specified above, the director previously designated by them and then serving shall be reelected if still eligible and willing to serve as provided herein and otherwise, such Board seat shall remain vacant until otherwise filled as provided above.

1.4 Removal of Board Members. Each Stockholder also agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that:

(a) no director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 of this Agreement may be removed from office unless (i) such removal is directed or approved by the affirmative vote of the Person(s), or of the holders of at least the requisite number of the shares of stock, entitled under Subsection 1.2 to designate that director; or (ii) the Person(s) originally entitled to designate or approve such director pursuant to Subsection 1.2 is no longer so entitled to designate or approve such director;

(b) any vacancies created by the resignation, removal or death of a director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 shall be filled pursuant to the provisions of this Section 1; and

(c) upon the request of any party entitled to designate a director as provided in Subsection 1.2 to remove such director, such director shall be removed.

All Stockholders agree to execute any written consents required to perform the obligations of this Section 1, and the Company agrees at the request of any Person or group entitled to designate directors to call a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing directors.

1.5 No Liability for Election of Recommended Directors. No Stockholder, nor any Affiliate of any Stockholder, shall have any liability as a result of designating a person for election as a director for any act or omission by such designated person in his or her capacity as a director of the Company, nor shall any Stockholder have any liability as a result of voting for any such designee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

1.6 No "Bad Actor" Designees. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby represents and warrants to the Company that, to such Person's knowledge, none of the "bad actor" disqualifying events described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (each, a "Disqualification Event"), is applicable to such Person's initial designee named above except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable, is hereinafter referred to as a "Disqualified Designee." Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby covenants and agrees (A) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee and (B) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee.

2. Vote to Increase Authorized Common Stock. Each Stockholder agrees to vote or cause to be voted all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock from time to time to ensure that there will be sufficient shares of Common Stock available for conversion of all of the shares of Preferred Stock outstanding at any given time.

3. Drag-Along Right.

3.1 Definitions. A "Sale of the Company" shall mean either: (a) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company (a "Stock Sale"); or (b) a transaction that qualifies as a "Deemed Liquidation Event" as defined in the Restated Certificate.

3.2 Actions to be Taken. In the event that (i) the holders of at least eighty-percent (80%) of the shares of Common Stock then issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock (the "Selling Investors"); and (ii) the Board approve a Sale of the Company in writing, specifying that this Section 3 shall apply to such transaction, then, subject to satisfaction of each of the conditions set forth in Subsection 3.3 below, each Stockholder and the Company hereby agree:

(a) if such transaction requires stockholder approval, with respect to all Shares that such Stockholder owns or over which such Stockholder otherwise exercises voting power, to vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all Shares in favor of, and adopt, such Sale of the Company (together with any related amendment or restatement to the Restated Certificate required to implement such Sale of the Company) and to vote in opposition to any and all other proposals that could reasonably be expected to delay or impair the ability of the Company to consummate such Sale of the Company;

(b) if such transaction is a Stock Sale, to sell the same proportion of shares of capital stock of the Company beneficially held by such Stockholder as is being sold by the Selling Investors to the Person to whom the Selling Investors propose to sell their Shares, and, except as permitted in Subsection 3.3 below, on the same terms and conditions as the other stockholders of the Company;

(c) to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Sale of the Company as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Selling Investors in order to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 3, including, without limitation, executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances), and any similar or related documents;

(d) not to deposit, and to cause their Affiliates not to deposit, except as provided in this Agreement, any Shares of the Company owned by such party or Affiliate in a voting trust or subject any Shares to any arrangement or agreement with respect to the voting of such Shares, unless specifically requested to do so by the acquirer in connection with the Sale of the Company;

(e) to refrain from (i) exercising any dissenters' rights or rights of appraisal under applicable law at any time with respect to such Sale of the Company, or (ii) asserting any claim or commencing any suit (x) challenging the Sale of the Company or this Agreement, or (y) alleging a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Selling Investors or any affiliate or associate thereof (including, without limitation, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty) in connection with the evaluation, negotiation or entry into the Sale of the Company, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby;

(f) if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Shares pursuant to this Section 3 includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Stockholder would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Stockholder of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Stockholder in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares which would have otherwise been sold by such Stockholder, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Stockholder would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares; and

(g) in the event that the Selling Investors, in connection with such Sale of the Company, appoint a stockholder representative (the "Stockholder Representative") with respect to matters affecting the Stockholders under the applicable definitive transaction agreements following consummation of such Sale of the Company, (x) to consent to (i) the appointment of such Stockholder Representative, (ii) the establishment of any applicable escrow, expense or similar fund in connection with any indemnification or similar obligations, and (iii) the payment of such Stockholder's pro rata portion (from the applicable escrow or expense fund or otherwise) of any and all reasonable fees and expenses to such Stockholder Representative in connection with such Stockholder Representative's services and duties in connection with such Sale of the Company and its related service as the representative of the Stockholders, and (y) not to assert any claim or commence any suit against the Stockholder Representative or any other Stockholder with respect to any action or inaction taken or failed to be taken by the Stockholder Representative, within the scope of the Stockholder Representative's authority, in connection with its service as the Stockholder Representative, absent fraud, bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

3.3 Conditions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, a Stockholder will not be required to comply with Subsection 3.2 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the "Proposed Sale"), unless:

(a) any representations and warranties to be made by such Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including, but not limited to, representations and warranties that (i) the Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares such Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by the Stockholder have been duly executed by the Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable (subject to customary limitations) against the Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms; and (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into by the Stockholder in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of the Stockholder's obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement to which the Stockholder is a party, or any law or judgment, order or decree of any court or governmental agency that applies to the Stockholder;

(b) such Stockholder is not required to agree (unless such Stockholder is a Company officer, employee, or independent contractor) to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Proposed Sale (including without limitation any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Proposed Sale) or any release of claims other than a release in customary form of claims arising solely in such Stockholder's capacity as a stockholder of the Company;

(c) such Stockholder and its Affiliates are not required to amend, extend or terminate any contractual or other relationship with the Company, the acquirer or their respective Affiliates, except that the Stockholder may be required to agree to terminate the investment-related documents between or among such Stockholder, the Company and/or other stockholders of the Company;

(d) such Stockholder is not liable for the breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any of identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(e) liability shall be limited to such Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Certificate) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by such Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to such Stockholder;

(f) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale (i) each holder of each class or series of the capital stock of the Company will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock, and if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given a choice as to the form of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option, (ii) each holder of a series of Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless waived pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate and as may be required by law, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of each respective series of Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 3.3(f), if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, pursuant to this Subsection 3.3(f) includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Key Holder or Investor would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Key Holder or Investor of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Key Holder or Investor in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares held by the Key Holders or Investors, as applicable, which would have otherwise been sold by such Key Holder or Investor, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Key Holder or Investor would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares held by the Key Holder or Investor, as applicable;

(g) subject to clause (f) above, requiring the same form of consideration to be available to the holders of any single class or series of capital stock, if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; provided, however, that nothing in this Subsection 3.3(g) shall entitle any holder to receive any form of consideration that such holder would be ineligible to receive as a result of such holder's failure to satisfy any condition, requirement or limitation that is generally applicable to the Company's stockholders.

3.4 Restrictions on Sales of Control of the Company. No Stockholder shall be a party to any Stock Sale unless (a) all holders of Preferred Stock are allowed to participate in such transaction(s) and (b) the consideration received pursuant to such transaction is allocated among the parties thereto in the manner specified in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Stock Sale (as if such transaction(s) were a Deemed Liquidation Event), unless the holders of at least the requisite percentage required to waive treatment of the transaction(s) as a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate, elect to allocate the consideration differently by written notice given to the Company at least five (5) days prior to the effective date of any such transaction or series of related transactions.

4. Remedies.

4.1 Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees to use its best efforts, within the requirements of applicable law, to ensure that the rights granted under this Agreement are effective and that the parties enjoy the benefits of this Agreement. Such actions include, without limitation, the use of the Company's best efforts to cause the nomination and election of the directors as provided in this Agreement.

4.2 Irrevocable Proxy and Power of Attorney. Each party to this Agreement hereby constitutes and appoints as the proxies of the party and hereby grants a power of attorney to the President of the Company, and a designee of the Selling Investors, and each of them, with full power of substitution, with respect to the matters set forth herein, including, without limitation, votes to increase authorized shares pursuant to Section 2 hereof and votes regarding any Sale of the Company pursuant to Section 3 hereof, and hereby authorizes each of them to represent and vote, if and only if the party (i) fails to vote, or (ii) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, all of such party's Shares in favor of the election of persons as members of the Board determined pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement or the increase of authorized shares or approval of any Sale of the Company pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement or to take any action reasonably necessary to effect Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement. The power of attorney granted hereunder shall authorize the President of the Company to execute and deliver the documentation referred to in Section 3.2(c) on behalf of any party failing to do so within five (5) business days of a request by the Company. Each of the proxy and power of attorney granted pursuant to this Section 4.2 is given in consideration of the agreements and covenants of the Company and the parties in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and, as such, each is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof. Each party hereto hereby revokes any and all previous proxies or powers of attorney with respect to the Shares and shall not hereafter, unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof, purport to grant any other proxy or power of attorney with respect to any of the Shares, deposit any of the Shares into a voting trust or enter into any agreement (other than this Agreement), arrangement or understanding with any person, directly or indirectly, to vote, grant any proxy or give instructions with respect to the voting of any of the Shares, in each case, with respect to any of the matters set forth herein.

4.3 Specific Enforcement. Each party acknowledges and agrees that each party hereto will be irreparably damaged in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed by the parties in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, it is agreed that each of the Company and the Stockholders shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement, and to specific enforcement of this Agreement and its terms and provisions in any action instituted in any court of the United States or any state having subject matter jurisdiction.

4.4 Remedies Cumulative. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

5. "Bad Actor" Matters.

5.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any Person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

(b) "Disqualified Designee" means any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

(c) "Disqualification Event" means a "bad actor" disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) promulgated under the Securities Act.

(d) "Rule 506(d) Related Party" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that is a beneficial owner of such first Person's securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act.

5.2 Representations.

(a) Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement hereby represents that (i) such Person has exercised reasonable care to determine whether any Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any director designee designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable and (ii) no Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any Board member designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Investor makes no representation regarding any Person that may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the Company's voting equity securities held by such Investor solely by virtue of that Person being or becoming a party to (x) this Agreement, as may be subsequently amended, or (y) any other contract or written agreement to which the Company and such Investor are parties regarding (1) the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of, such security; and/or (2) the investment power, which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of, such security.

(b) The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Investors that no Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii–iv) or (d)(3) is applicable.

5.3 Covenants. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement covenants and agrees (i) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee, (ii) to exercise reasonable care to determine whether any director designee designated by such person is a Disqualified Designee, (iii) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee, and (iv) to notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to such Person or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, or, to such Person's knowledge, to such Person's initial designee named in Section 1, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

6. Term. This Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in effect until and shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (a) the consummation of the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (other than a registration statement relating either to the sale of securities to employees of the Company pursuant to its stock option, stock purchase or similar plan or an SEC Rule 145 transaction); (b) the consummation of a Sale of the Company and distribution of proceeds to or escrow for the benefit of the Stockholders in accordance with the Restated Certificate, provided that the provisions of Section 3 hereof will continue after the closing of any Sale of the Company to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of Section 3 with respect to such Sale of the Company; or (c) termination of this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 7.8 below.

7.1 Additional Parties.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of Preferred Stock after the date hereof, as a condition to the issuance of such shares the Company shall require that any purchaser of such shares become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering (i) the Adoption Agreement attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A, or (ii) a counterpart signature page hereto agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as an Investor and Stockholder hereunder. In either event, each such person shall thereafter be deemed an Investor and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

(b) In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company enters into an agreement with any Person to issue shares of capital stock to such Person (other than to a purchaser of Preferred Stock described in Subsection 7.1(a) above), following which such Person shall hold Shares constituting one percent (1%) or more of the then outstanding capital stock of the Company (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised and/or converted or exchanged), then, the Company shall cause such Person, as a condition precedent to entering into such agreement, to become a party to this Agreement by executing an Adoption Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as a Stockholder and thereafter such person shall be deemed a Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.2 Transfers. Each transferee or assignee of any Shares subject to this Agreement shall continue to be subject to the terms hereof, and, as a condition precedent to the Company's recognition of such transfer, each transferee or assignee shall agree in writing to be subject to each of the terms of this Agreement by executing and delivering an Adoption Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Upon the execution and delivery of an Adoption Agreement by any transferee, such transferee shall be deemed to be a party hereto as if such transferee were the transferor and such transferee's signature appeared on the signature pages of this Agreement and shall be deemed to be an Investor and Stockholder, or Key Holder and Stockholder, as applicable. The Company shall not permit the transfer of the Shares subject to this Agreement on its books or issue a new certificate representing any such Shares unless and until such transferee shall have complied with the terms of this Subsection 7.2. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Shares subject to this Agreement if issued on or after the date of this Agreement shall be notated by the Company with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.3 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.6 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereto, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.7. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 650 Page Mill Road, Palo Alto, CA 94304-1050; Attention: Jennifer Knapp; and if notice is given to Stockholders, a copy shall also be given to Apple Tree, 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169, Attention: Daniel Finkelman.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing stockholder consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided by such stockholder, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

7.8 Consent Required to Amend, Modify, Terminate or Waive. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 7) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company; (b) the Key Holders holding at least a majority of the Shares then held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants (or service providers pursuant to a separate services (or similar) agreement with the Company)); and (c) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver either (A) is not directly applicable to the rights of the Key Holders hereunder; or (B) does not adversely affect the rights of the Key Holders in a manner that is different than the effect on the rights of the other parties hereto; and

(ii) any provision hereof may be waived by the waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver hereunder to any party that did not consent in writing thereto. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding on each party and all of such party's successors and permitted assigns, whether or not any such party, successor or assignee entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. For purposes of this Subsection 7.8, the requirement of a written instrument may be satisfied in the form of an action by written consent of the Stockholders circulated by the Company and executed by the Stockholder parties specified, whether or not such action by written consent makes explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.9 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default previously or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

7.12 Share Certificate Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing any Shares issued after the date hereof shall be notated by the Company with a legend reading substantially as follows:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY ARE SUBJECT TO A VOTING AGREEMENT, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, (A COPY OF

WHICH MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST FROM THE COMPANY), AND BY ACCEPTING ANY INTEREST IN SUCH SHARES THE PERSON ACCEPTING SUCH INTEREST SHALL BE DEEMED TO AGREE TO AND SHALL BECOME BOUND BY ALL THE PROVISIONS OF THAT VOTING AGREEMENT, INCLUDING CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP SET FORTH THEREIN."

The Company, by its execution of this Agreement, agrees that it will cause the certificates instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares issued after the date hereof to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 of this Agreement, and it shall supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement to any holder of such Shares upon written request from such holder to the Company at its principal office. The parties to this Agreement do hereby agree that the failure to cause the certificates, instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 herein and/or the failure of the Company to supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement as provided hereunder shall not affect the validity or enforcement of this Agreement.

7.13 Stock Splits, Stock Dividends, etc. In the event of any issuance of Shares or the voting securities of the Company hereafter to any of the Stockholders (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), such Shares shall become subject to this Agreement and shall be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.14 Manner of Voting. The voting of Shares pursuant to this Agreement may be effected in person, by proxy, by written consent or in any other manner permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, voting of the Shares pursuant to the Agreement need not make explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.15 Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, the parties agree to cooperate with each other, and at the request of any other party, to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and to take all such further action as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent of the parties hereunder.

7.16 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of New York and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of New York or the United States Southern District of New York, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION

HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

7.17 Aggregation of Stock. All Shares held or acquired by a Stockholder and/or its Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement, and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

7.18 Spousal Consent. If any individual Stockholder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a consent of spouse in the form of Exhibit B hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Stockholder's Shares that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any individual Stockholder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Amended and Restated Voting Agreement, dated as of July 28, 2023, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit B (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding the voting and transfer of shares of capital stock of the Company that my spouse may own, including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of capital stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of capital stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.
AMENDMENT NO. 4 TO SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This Amendment No. 4 to Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (this "Amendment") is made as of February 14, 2025, by and between Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Purchaser") and amends that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of February 4, 2021, as amended (the "Purchase Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Purchaser. All capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings given such terms in the Agreement.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company and the Purchaser desire to amend certain provisions of the Purchase Agreement, as set forth below.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

The Company and the Purchaser hereby agree as follows:

1. Amendment of Section 1.2. Section 1.2 of the Purchase Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

"1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) Initial Closing. The initial purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures on the date hereof or at such other time and place as the Company and the Purchaser mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). The term "Closing" shall apply to each of the Initial Closing, the Second Tranche Closing, the Third Tranche Closing, the Fourth Tranche Closing, the Fifth Tranche Closing, the Sixth Tranche Closing, the Seventh (A) Tranche Closing, the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing, the Eighth Tranche Closing and the Ninth Tranche Closing.

(b) Second Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the In Vitro Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("In Vitro Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the In Vitro Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 4,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Second Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Second Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the In Vitro Milestone has not been achieved, or if the In Vitro Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the In Vitro Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Second Tranche Shares and consummate the Second Tranche Closing.

(c) Third Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Infectious Disease Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Infectious Disease Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Infectious Disease Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 10,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Third Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Third Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Infectious Disease Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Infectious Disease Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Infectious Disease Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Third Tranche Shares and consummate the Third Tranche Closing.

(d) Fourth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice (the "Fourth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 9,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fourth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fourth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fourth Tranche Closing.

(e) Fifth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 6,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fifth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Fifth Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fifth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fifth Tranche Closing.

(f) Sixth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Sixth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Sixth Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Sixth Tranche Shares and consummate the Sixth Tranche Closing.

(g) Seventh (A) Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Clinical (A) Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Clinical (A) Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Clinical (A) Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 7,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Seventh (A) Tranche Shares") at a price per share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Seventh (A) Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Clinical (A) Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Clinical (A) Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Clinical (A) Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Seventh (A) Tranche Shares and consummate the Seventh (A) Tranche Closing.

(h) Seventh (B)Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Clinical (B) Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Clinical (B) Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Clinical (B) Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 6,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Seventh (B) Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Seventh (B) Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Clinical (B) Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Clinical (B) Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Clinical Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Seventh (B) Tranche Shares and consummate the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing.

(i) Eighth Tranche Closing. The Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the same terms and conditions as those contained in this Agreement, as part of an additional Closing on a date following the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing that is agreed upon by the Company and the Purchaser (the "Eighth Tranche Closing"), an additional 1,250,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Eighth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price.

(j) Ninth Tranche Closing. The Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the same terms and conditions as those contained in this Agreement, as part of an additional Closing on a date following the Eighth Tranche Closing that is agreed upon by the Company and the Purchaser (the "Ninth Tranche Closing"), an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Ninth Tranche Shares" and together with the Second Tranche Shares, Third Tranche Shares, Fourth Tranche Shares, Fifth Tranche Shares, Sixth Tranche Shares, Seventh (A) Tranche Shares, Seventh (B) Tranche Shares, and Eighth Tranche Shares, the "Additional Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price.

(k) The date of the purchase and sale of the Additional Shares pursuant to the Second Tranche Closing, Third Tranche Closing, Fourth Tranche Closing, Fifth Tranche Closing, Sixth Tranche Closing, Seventh (A) Tranche Closing, Seventh (B) Tranche Closing, Eighth Tranche Closing and Ninth Tranche Closing is referred to in this Agreement as an "Additional Closing." Exhibit A to this Agreement shall be updated to reflect the number of Additional Shares purchased at each such Additional Closing.

(m) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser shall have the option, at any time, and upon at least three (3) business days' notice to the Company, to accelerate its obligation to purchase all or a portion of the Additional Shares (at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price), notwithstanding that one or more Milestones has not occurred. The purchase of such Additional Shares shall take place on a business day determined by the Purchaser, and the date of such purchase shall be an Additional Closing and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. Any purchase of Additional Shares pursuant to this Section 1.2(m) shall correspondingly first reduce the Purchaser's obligations under Section 1.2(b), second, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(c), then third, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(d), then fourth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(e), then fifth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(f), then sixth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(g), then seventh, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(h), then eighth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(i), and then ninth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(j).

(n) The following defined terms used in this Section 1.2 that are not otherwise defined herein shall have the following meanings:

(i) "In Vitro Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2021 (the "In Vitro Milestone Outside Date"), of the generation and formulation of a Product Candidate in vitro with properties suitable to advance into relevant in vivo preclinical cancer models, including RNA sequence and nanoparticle composition.

(ii) "Infectious Disease Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2021 (the "Infectious Disease Milestone Outside Date"), of the Board's selection of an infectious disease Product Candidate to advance into relevant in vivo preclinical studies.

(iii) "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2022 (the "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (which Product Candidate constitutes either a cancer vaccine candidate or protein biotherapeutic candidate) with demonstration of an elicited immune response against tumor cells bearing targeted drug resistance mechanism in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model.

(iv) "Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2022 (the "Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Outside Date"), of the Board's selection of a Product Candidate for manufacturing and non-clinical regulatory guidance and completion of a pre-investigational new drug (pre-IND) meeting with the United States Food and Drug Administration for such Product Candidate.

(v) "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2023 (the "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (which Product Candidate must be a Product Candidate that is not the applicable Product Candidate used to achieve the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone) , provided that (A) such Product Candidate used to satisfy this Milestone must be a Product Candidate that constitutes either a cancer vaccine candidate or a protein biotherapeutic candidate with demonstration of anti-tumor activity in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model and (B) at least one Product Candidate that constitutes a protein biotherapeutic candidate has achieved biological activity between either the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone or the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone.

(vi) "Clinical (A) Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2023 (the "Clinical (A) Milestone Outside Date"), of (A) the full enrollment of all cohorts of the Phase 1 trial of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate and (B) the release of preliminary safety results following the first dose of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate.

(vii) "Clinical (B) Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before April 30, 2024 (the "Clinical (B) Milestone Outside Date"), of an interim clinical bioactivity readout following two doses of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate.

(viii) "Milestone" means any of the (A) In Vitro Milestone; (B) Infectious Disease Milestone; (C) First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (D) Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone; (E) Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (F) Clinical (A) Milestone, or (G) Clinical (B) Milestone, as applicable.

(ix) "Product Candidate" means the Company's cancer vaccine candidate or other product as determined by the Board."

2. Effectiveness of Amendment. Upon the execution and delivery hereof, the Purchase Agreement shall thereupon be deemed to be amended as hereinabove set forth as fully and with the same effect as if the amendments made hereby were originally set forth in the Purchase Agreement, and this Amendment and the Purchase Agreement shall henceforth respectively be read, taken and construed as one and the same instrument, but such amendments shall not operate so as to render invalid or improper any action heretofore taken under the Purchase Agreement.

3. Miscellaneous. This Amendment may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties hereto and delivered to the other parties, it being understood that all parties need not sign the same counterpart. This Amendment may be executed and delivered by facsimile or PDF transmission. The terms of Section 6 of the Purchase Agreement shall apply to this Amendment, as applicable.

4. Purchase Agreement in Effect. Except as specifically provided for in this Amendment, the Purchase Agreement shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect.

ACTION BY WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF
REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

In accordance with Section 141(f) of the Delaware General Corporation Law and the bylaws of Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the undersigned, constituting all of the members of the board of directors of the Company (the "Board"), hereby adopt the following resolutions:

Amendment No. 4 to Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement

WHEREAS, the Company and ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("Apple Tree") entered into a Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of February 4, 2021, as amended (the "Purchase Agreement");

WHEREAS, the Company and Apple Tree wish to amend the Purchase Agreement;

WHEREAS, the Board believes it is in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders to amend the Purchase Agreement in accordance with the terms of a proposed Amendment No. 4 to Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Amendment");

WHEREAS, it is known to the Board that each of Seth Harrison and Joseph Yanchik is a director of the Company and an officer, director and/or partner in, and/or has a financial interest in, Apple Tree, which will enter into the Amendment with the Company; and

WHEREAS, the members of the Board are aware of all of the material facts related to the Amendment and have had adequate opportunity to ask questions regarding, and investigate the nature of, the relationship and/or interest of Seth Harrison and Joseph Yanchik in connection with the Amendment.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the Amendment, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, is hereby approved, adopted and confirmed.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the officers of the Company are, and each of them hereby is, authorized and directed, for and in the name and on behalf of the Company, to execute and deliver to the appropriate parties, the Amendment.

Approval of Certificate of Amendment to the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation

WHEREAS, the Board deems it advisable and in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders to amend the Company's amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, to (i) increase the number of authorized shares of common stock of the Company ("Common Stock") to 79,000,000 shares; and (ii) increase the number of authorized shares of Series A preferred stock of the Company ("Series A Preferred Stock") to 63,250,000 shares, each as set forth in the Certificate of Amendment to the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B (the "Certificate of Amendment").

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Board hereby approves the Certificate of Amendment to: (i) increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock to 79,000,000 shares and (ii) increase the number of authorized shares of Series A Preferred Stock to 63,250,000 shares.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the officers of the Company are, and each hereby is, authorized and directed to seek from the Company's stockholders approval of the Certificate of Amendment and, once such approval has been obtained, to execute, verify and file the Certificate of Amendment with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware.

Omnibus Resolutions

RESOLVED: That the officers of the Company are, and each of them hereby is, authorized and empowered to take any and all such further action, to execute and deliver any and all such further agreements, instruments, documents and certificates and to pay such expenses, in the name and on behalf of the Company or such officer, as any such officer may deem necessary or advisable to effectuate the purposes and intent of the resolutions hereby adopted, the taking of such actions, the execution and delivery of such agreements, instruments, documents and certificates and the payment of such expenses by any such officer to be conclusive evidence of his or her authorization hereunder and the approval thereof.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That any and all actions taken by the officers of the Company to carry out the purposes and intent of the foregoing resolutions prior to their adoption are approved, ratified and confirmed.

This action by written consent shall be effective as of the date the Company receives the unanimous consent of the Company's directors. This action by written consent may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall constitute an original and all of which together shall constitute one action. Any copy, facsimile or other reliable reproduction of this action by written consent may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing for any and all purposes for which the original writing could be used. This action by written consent shall be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the board of directors of the Company.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 TO SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This Amendment No. 4 to Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (this "Amendment") is made as of February _____, 2025, by and between Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Purchaser") and amends that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of February 4, 2021, as amended (the "Purchase Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Purchaser. All capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings given such terms in the Agreement.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company and the Purchaser desire to amend certain provisions of the Purchase Agreement, as set forth below.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

The Company and the Purchaser hereby agree as follows:

1. Amendment of Section 1.2. Section 1.2 of the Purchase Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

"1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) Initial Closing. The initial purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures on the date hereof or at such other time and place as the Company and the Purchaser mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). The term "Closing" shall apply to each of the Initial Closing, the Second Tranche Closing, the Third Tranche Closing, the Fourth Tranche Closing, the Fifth Tranche Closing, the Sixth Tranche Closing, the Seventh (A) Tranche Closing, the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing, the Eighth Tranche Closing and the Ninth Tranche Closing.

(b) Second Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the In Vitro Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("In Vitro Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the In Vitro Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 4,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Second Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Second Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the In Vitro Milestone has not been achieved, or if the In Vitro Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the In Vitro Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Second Tranche Shares and consummate the Second Tranche Closing.

(c) Third Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Infectious Disease Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Infectious Disease Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Infectious Disease Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 10,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Third Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Third Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Infectious Disease Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Infectious Disease Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Infectious Disease Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Third Tranche Shares and consummate the Third Tranche Closing.

(d) Fourth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice (the "Fourth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 9,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fourth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fourth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fourth Tranche Closing.

(e) Fifth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 6,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fifth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Fifth Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fifth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fifth Tranche Closing.

(f) Sixth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Sixth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Sixth Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Sixth Tranche Shares and consummate the Sixth Tranche Closing.

(g) Seventh (A) Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Clinical (A) Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Clinical (A) Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Clinical (A) Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 7,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Seventh (A) Tranche Shares") at a price per share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Seventh (A) Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Clinical (A) Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Clinical (A) Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Clinical (A) Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Seventh (A) Tranche Shares and consummate the Seventh (A) Tranche Closing.

(h) Seventh (B)Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Clinical (B) Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Clinical (B) Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Clinical (B) Milestone Notice, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 6,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Seventh (B) Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price (the "Seventh (B) Tranche Closing"). For the avoidance of doubt, if the Clinical (B) Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Clinical (B) Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Clinical Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Seventh (B) Tranche Shares and consummate the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing.

(i) Eighth Tranche Closing. The Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the same terms and conditions as those contained in this Agreement, as part of an additional Closing on a date following the Seventh (B) Tranche Closing that is agreed upon by the Company and the Purchaser (the "Eighth Tranche Closing"), an additional 1,250,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Eighth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price.

(j) Ninth Tranche Closing. The Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the same terms and conditions as those contained in this Agreement, as part of an additional Closing on a date following the Eighth Tranche Closing that is agreed upon by the Company and the Purchaser (the "Ninth Tranche Closing"), an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Ninth Tranche Shares" and together with the Second Tranche Shares, Third Tranche Shares, Fourth Tranche Shares, Fifth Tranche Shares, Sixth Tranche Shares, Seventh (A) Tranche Shares, Seventh (B) Tranche Shares, and Eighth Tranche Shares, the "Additional Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price.

(k) The date of the purchase and sale of the Additional Shares pursuant to the Second Tranche Closing, Third Tranche Closing, Fourth Tranche Closing, Fifth Tranche Closing, Sixth Tranche Closing, Seventh (A) Tranche Closing, Seventh (B) Tranche Closing, Eighth Tranche Closing and Ninth Tranche Closing is referred to in this Agreement as an "Additional Closing." Exhibit A to this Agreement shall be updated to reflect the number of Additional Shares purchased at each such Additional Closing.

(m) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser shall have the option, at any time, and upon at least three (3) business days' notice to the Company, to accelerate its obligation to purchase all or a portion of the Additional Shares (at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price), notwithstanding that one or more Milestones has not occurred. The purchase of such Additional Shares shall take place on a business day determined by the Purchaser, and the date of such purchase shall be an Additional Closing and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. Any purchase of Additional Shares pursuant to this Section 1.2(m) shall correspondingly first reduce the Purchaser's obligations under Section 1.2(b), second, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(c), then third, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(d), then fourth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(e), then fifth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(f), then sixth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(g), then seventh, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(h), then eighth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(i), and then ninth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(j).

(n) The following defined terms used in this Section 1.2 that are not otherwise defined herein shall have the following meanings:

(i) "In Vitro Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2021 (the "In Vitro Milestone Outside Date"), of the generation and formulation of a Product Candidate in vitro with properties suitable to advance into relevant in vivo preclinical cancer models, including RNA sequence and nanoparticle composition.

(ii) "Infectious Disease Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2021 (the "Infectious Disease Milestone Outside Date"), of the Board's selection of an infectious disease Product Candidate to advance into relevant in vivo preclinical studies.

(iii) "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2022 (the "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (which Product Candidate constitutes either a cancer vaccine candidate or protein biotherapeutic candidate) with demonstration of an elicited immune response against tumor cells bearing targeted drug resistance mechanism in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model.

(iv) "Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2022 (the "Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone Outside Date"), of the Board's selection of a Product Candidate for manufacturing and non-clinical regulatory guidance and completion of a pre-investigational new drug (pre-IND) meeting with the United States Food and Drug Administration for such Product Candidate.

(v) "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2023 (the "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (which Product Candidate must be a Product Candidate that is not the applicable Product Candidate used to achieve the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone) , provided that (A) such Product Candidate used to satisfy this Milestone must be a Product Candidate that constitutes either a cancer vaccine candidate or a protein biotherapeutic candidate with demonstration of anti-tumor activity in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model and (B) at least one Product Candidate that constitutes a protein biotherapeutic candidate has achieved biological activity between either the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone or the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone.

(vi) "Clinical (A) Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2023 (the "Clinical (A) Milestone Outside Date"), of (A) the full enrollment of all cohorts of the Phase 1 trial of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate and (B) the release of preliminary safety results following the first dose of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate.

(vii) "Clinical (B) Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before April 30, 2024 (the "Clinical (B) Milestone Outside Date"), of an interim clinical bioactivity readout following two doses of the Company's RBI-4000 product candidate.

(viii) "Milestone" means any of the (A) In Vitro Milestone; (B) Infectious Disease Milestone; (C) First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (D) Infectious Disease Development Candidate Selection Milestone; (E) Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (F) Clinical (A) Milestone, or (G) Clinical (B) Milestone, as applicable.

(ix) "Product Candidate" means the Company's cancer vaccine candidate or other product as determined by the Board."

2. Effectiveness of Amendment. Upon the execution and delivery hereof, the Purchase Agreement shall thereupon be deemed to be amended as hereinabove set forth as fully and with the same effect as if the amendments made hereby were originally set forth in the Purchase Agreement, and this Amendment and the Purchase Agreement shall henceforth respectively be read, taken and construed as one and the same instrument, but such amendments shall not operate so as to render invalid or improper any action heretofore taken under the Purchase Agreement.

3. Miscellaneous. This Amendment may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties hereto and delivered to the other parties, it being understood that all parties need not sign the same counterpart. This Amendment may be executed and delivered by facsimile or PDF transmission. The terms of Section 6 of the Purchase Agreement shall apply to this Amendment, as applicable.

4. Purchase Agreement in Effect. Except as specifically provided for in this Amendment, the Purchase Agreement shall remain unmodified and in full force and effect.

SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of February 4, 2021 by and between Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. (the "Purchaser").

The parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Preferred Stock.

1.1 Sale and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

(a) The Company shall adopt and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on or before the Initial Closing (as defined below) the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in the form of Exhibit B attached to this Agreement (the "Restated Certificate").

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Purchaser agrees to purchase at the applicable Closing and the Company agrees to sell and issue to the Purchaser at the applicable Closing that number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share (the "Series A Preferred Stock"), set forth on Exhibit A, at a purchase price of $1.00 per share (the "Purchase Price"). The shares of Series A Preferred Stock issued to the Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement (including any shares issued at the Initial Closing and any Additional Shares, as defined below) shall be referred to in this Agreement as the "Shares."

1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) Initial Closing. The initial purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures on the date hereof or at such other time and place as the Company and the Purchaser mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). The term "Closing" shall apply to each of the Initial Closing, the Second Tranche Closing, the Third Tranche Closing, the Fourth Tranche Closing, the Fifth Tranche Closing and the Sixth Tranche Closing.

(b) Second Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the In Vitro Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("In Vitro Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the In Vitro Milestone Notice (the "Second Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 4,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Second Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the In Vitro Milestone has not been achieved, or if the In Vitro Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the In Vitro Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Second Tranche Shares and consummate the Second Tranche Closing.

(c) Third Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice (the "Third Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 10,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Third Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Third Tranche Shares and consummate the Third Tranche Closing.

(d) Fourth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice (the "Fourth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fourth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fourth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fourth Tranche Closing.

(e) Fifth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice (the "Fifth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 5,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Fifth Tranche Shares") at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Fifth Tranche Shares and consummate the Fifth Tranche Closing.

(f) Sixth Tranche Closing. If the Purchaser determines, in its discretion, that the Company has successfully achieved the Development Candidate Milestone (as defined below), then the Purchaser shall send a written notice of such determination to the Company ("Development Candidate Milestone Notice") as promptly as practicable, and in any event no more than five (5) business days, following such determination by the Purchaser. Within fifteen (15) business days following the Company's receipt of the Development Candidate Milestone Notice (the "Sixth Tranche Closing"), the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, an additional 10,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Sixth Tranche Shares" and together with the Second Tranche Shares, Third Tranche Shares, Fourth Tranche Shares, and Fifth Tranche Shares, the "Additional Shares")) at a price per Share equal to the Purchase Price. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Development Candidate Milestone has not been achieved, or if the Development Candidate Milestone Notice has not been received by the Company, on or prior to the Development Candidate Milestone Outside Date, the Purchaser shall have no obligation whatsoever to purchase the Sixth Tranche Shares and consummate the Sixth Tranche Closing.

(g) The date of the purchase and sale of the Additional Shares pursuant to the Second Tranche Closing, Third Tranche Closing, Fourth Tranche Closing, Fifth Tranche Closing and Sixth Tranche Closing is referred to in this Agreement as an "Additional Closing." Exhibit A to this Agreement shall be updated to reflect the number of Additional Shares purchased at each such Additional Closing.

(h) Promptly following each Closing, the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser a certificate representing the Shares being purchased by the Purchaser at such Closing against payment of the Purchase Price therefor by check payable to the Company or by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company.

(i) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Purchaser shall have the option, at any time, and upon at least three (3) business days' notice to the Company, to accelerate its obligation to purchase all or a portion of the Additional Shares (at a per share price equal to the Purchase Price), notwithstanding that one or more Milestones has not occurred. The purchase of such Additional Shares shall take place on a business day determined by the Purchaser, and the date of such purchase shall be an Additional Closing and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement. Any purchase of Additional Shares pursuant to this Section 1.2(i) shall correspondingly first reduce the Purchaser's obligations under Section 1.2(b), second, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(c), then third, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(d), then fourth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(e), and then fifth, to the extent applicable, Section 1.2(f).

(j) The following defined terms used in this Section 1.2 that are not otherwise defined herein shall have the following meanings:

(i) "In Vitro Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2021 (the "In Vitro Milestone Outside Date"), of the generation and formulation of a Product Candidate in vitro with properties suitable to advance into relevant in vivo preclinical cancer models, including RNA sequence and nanoparticle composition.

(ii) "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2022 (the "First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate with demonstration of an elicited immune response against tumor cells bearing targeted drug resistance mutations in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model.

(iii) "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2022 (the "Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (other than the Product Candidate that satisfied the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone) for a non-vaccine protein biotherapeutic with demonstration of anti-tumor activity in a relevant in vivo preclinical cancer model.

(iv) "Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before June 30, 2023 (the "Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone Outside Date"), of biological activity of a Product Candidate (other than the Product Candidate that satisfied the First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone or the Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone) with demonstration of efficacy in a relevant in vivo preclinical disease model.

(v) "Development Candidate Milestone" means the Company's achievement, on or before December 31, 2023 (the "Development Candidate Milestone Outside Date"), of the Board's selection of a Product Candidate for clinical development and the filing of an investigational new drug (IND) application with the United States Food and Drug Administration for such Product Candidate.

(vi) "Milestone" means any of the (A) In Vitro Milestone; (B) First In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (C) Second In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; (D) Third In Vivo Proof of Concept Milestone; or (E) Development Candidate Milestone, as applicable.

(vii) "Product Candidate" means the Company's cancer vaccine candidate or other product as determined by the Board.

1.3 Use of Proceeds. The Company will use the proceeds from the sale of the Shares for general corporate purposes of the Company.

1.4 Defined Terms Used in this Agreement. In addition to the terms defined above, the following terms used in this Agreement shall be construed to have the meanings set forth or referenced below.

(a) "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

(b) "CFIUS" means the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States, including as applicable, any member agency or governmental subdivision of the United States government that is a CFIUS member as specified under the CFIUS Laws.

(c) "CFIUS Laws" means Section 721 of Title VII of the Defense Production Act of 1950 as amended by the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988 (Exon-Florio), the Foreign Investment and National Security Act of 2007 and the Foreign Investment Risk Review Modernization Act of 2018, codified at 50 U.S.C. § 4565, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, including those codified at 31 C.F.R. Part 800.

(d) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(e) "Company Intellectual Property" means all patents, patent applications, registered and unregistered trademarks, trademark applications, registered and unregistered service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, domain names, similar or other intellectual property rights, subject matter of any of the foregoing ("Intellectual Property Rights"), proprietary information and processes, and tangible embodiments of any of the foregoing, that are owned or used by the Company in the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted.

(f) "Founders" means, collectively, Nathaniel Wang and Andrew Geall.

(g) "Indemnification Agreement" means the indemnification agreement between the Company and each director designated by the Purchaser, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit D attached to this Agreement.

(h) "Investors' Rights Agreement" means the agreement between the Company and the Purchaser dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit E attached to this Agreement.

(i) "Key Employees" means the Company's chief executive officer and chief development officer and any other executive officer of the Company.

(j) "Knowledge" including the phrase "to the Company's knowledge" shall mean the actual knowledge of the Company's chief executive officer and chief development officer.

(k) "Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, financial condition, property or results of operations of the Company.

(l) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

(m) "Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser, and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit F attached to this Agreement.

(n) "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(o) "Transaction Agreements" means this Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement and the Voting Agreement.

(p) "Voting Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit G attached to this Agreement.

2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Disclosure Schedule attached as Exhibit C to this Agreement, which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder, the following representations are true and complete as of the date of the Initial Closing, except as otherwise indicated. The Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections and subsections contained in this Section 2, and the disclosures in any section or subsection of the Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections and subsections in this Section 2 only to the extent it is readily apparent from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections and subsections.

For purposes of these representations and warranties (other than those in Subsections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, and 2.6), the term the "Company" shall include any subsidiaries of the Company, unless otherwise noted herein.

2.1 Organization, Good Standing, Corporate Power and Qualification. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all requisite corporate power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. The Company is duly qualified to transact business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the failure to so qualify would have a Material Adverse Effect.

2.2 Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital of the Company consists, immediately prior to the Initial Closing, of:

(i) 44,619,867 shares of common stock, $0.001 par value per share (the "Common Stock"), 3,523,668 shares of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. All of the outstanding shares of Common Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Common Stock in its treasury.

(ii) 40,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, all of which have been designated Series A Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. The rights, privileges and preferences of the Preferred Stock are as stated in the Restated Certificate and as provided by the Delaware General Corporation Law. The Company holds no Preferred Stock in its treasury.

(b) Except for (A) the conversion privileges of the Shares to be issued under this Agreement, (B) the rights provided in Section 4 of the Investors' Rights Agreement, and (C) the securities and rights described in Subsection 2.2(b) of the Disclosure Schedule, there are no outstanding options, warrants, rights (including conversion or preemptive rights and rights of first refusal or similar rights) or agreements, orally or in writing, to purchase or acquire from the Company any shares of Common Stock or Series A Preferred Stock, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or Series A Preferred Stock. All outstanding shares of the Company's Common Stock and all shares of the Company's Common Stock underlying outstanding options are subject to (i) a right of first refusal in favor of the Company upon any proposed transfer (other than transfers for estate planning purposes); and (ii) a lock-up or market standoff agreement of not less than one hundred eighty (180) days following the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

(c) None of the Company's stock purchase agreements or stock option documents contains a provision for acceleration of vesting (or lapse of a repurchase right) or other changes in the vesting provisions or other terms of such agreement or understanding upon the occurrence of any event or combination of events, including without limitation in the case where the Company's Stock Plan is not assumed in an acquisition. Except as set forth in the Restated Certificate, the Company has no obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase or redeem any of its capital stock.

(d) The Company has obtained valid waivers of any rights by other parties to purchase any of the Shares covered by this Agreement.

2.3 Subsidiaries. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.3 of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company does not currently own or control, directly or indirectly, any interest in any other corporation, partnership, trust, joint venture, limited liability company, association, or other business entity. The Company is not a participant in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement.

2.4 Authorization. All corporate action required to be taken by the Board and the Company's stockholders in order to authorize the Company to enter into the Transaction Agreements, and to issue the Shares at each Closing and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares, has been taken or will be taken prior to the Initial Closing. All action on the part of the officers of the Company necessary for the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements, the performance of all obligations of the Company under the Transaction Agreements to be performed as of each Closing, and the issuance and delivery of the Shares has been taken or will be taken prior to the Initial Closing. The Transaction Agreements, when executed and delivered by the Company, shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, or other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (b) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies, or (c) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement and the Indemnification Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

2.5 Valid Issuance of Shares. The Shares, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable state and federal securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Assuming the accuracy of the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and subject to the filings described in Section 2.6(b), the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares has been duly reserved for issuance, and upon issuance in accordance with the terms of the Restated Certificate, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable federal and state securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Based in part upon the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and in the Voting Agreement, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

2.6 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except for (a) the filing of the Restated Certificate, which will have been filed as of the Initial Closing, and (b) filings pursuant to Regulation D of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws, which have been made or will be made in a timely manner.

2.7 Litigation. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, complaint, charge or investigation pending or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened in writing (a) against the Company or any officer, director or Key Employee of the Company arising out of their employment or board relationship with the Company; (b) to the Company's knowledge, that questions the validity of the Transaction Agreements or the right of the Company to enter into them, or to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements; or (c) to the Company's knowledge, that would reasonably be expected to have, either individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any of its officers, directors or Key Employees is a party or is named as subject to the provisions of any order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree of any court or government agency or instrumentality (in the case of officers, directors or Key Employees, such as would affect the Company). There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation by the Company pending or which the Company intends to initiate. The foregoing includes, without limitation, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations pending or threatened in writing (or any basis therefor known to the Company) involving the prior employment of any of the Company's employees, their services provided in connection with the Company's business, any information or techniques allegedly proprietary to any of their former employers or their obligations under any agreements with prior employers.

2.8 Intellectual Property.

(a) Ownership. The Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all Company Intellectual Property without any known conflict with, or infringement of, the rights of others, including prior employees or consultants.

(b) Non-Infringement. To the Company's knowledge, neither the Product Candidate nor any other product or service developed, marketed or sold by the Company violates any license or infringes any Intellectual Property Rights of any other party.

(c) Outbound Licenses. Other than with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services under standard end-user license agreements and other non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business and consistent with past practice, there are no outstanding options, licenses, agreements, claims, encumbrances or shared ownership interests of any kind relating to the Intellectual Property Rights owned or purported to be owned by the Company ("Company-Owned Intellectual Property").

(d) Inbound Licenses. Other than (i) with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services licensed under standard terms, and (ii) backup licenses from employees and contractors granted in connection with providing services to the Company, the Company is not bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person that are material to the business of the Company.

(e) Third-Party Intellectual Property. The Company has not received any communications alleging that the Company has violated, or by conducting its business, would violate any of the Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person. To the Company's knowledge, the Company has obtained and possesses valid licenses to use all of the software programs present on the computers and other software-enabled electronic devices that it owns or leases or that it has otherwise provided to its employees for their use in connection with the Company's business. To the Company's knowledge, to the extent it will be necessary to use any inventions of any of its employees or consultants (or Persons it currently intends to hire) made prior to their employment by the Company, including prior employees or consultants, the Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all such inventions.

(f) Employees and Consultants. Each employee and consultant has assigned to the Company all Intellectual Property Rights he or she owns that are related to the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted and all Intellectual Property Rights that he, she or it solely or jointly conceived, reduced to practice, developed or made during the period of his, her or its employment or consulting relationship with the Company that (a) relate, at the time of conception, reduction to practice, development, or making of such Intellectual Property Right, to the Company's business as then conducted or as then proposed to be conducted, (b) were developed on any amount of the Company's time or with the use of any of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities or information or (c) resulted from the performance of services for the Company.

(g) Registered Intellectual Property Rights. Subsection 2.8 of the Disclosure Schedule lists all patents, patent applications, registered trademarks, trademark applications, registered service marks, service mark applications, and registered copyrights, in each case owned or purported to be owned by the Company.

(h) Trade Secret Protection. The Company has taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain and protect all confidential information and trade secrets of the Company that the Company intended to maintain as confidential or a trade secret.

(i) Institutional Resources. No government funding, facilities of a university, college, other educational institution or research center, or funding from third parties was used in the development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property in a manner that has resulted in such entity retaining any claim of ownership or right to use any such Company-Owned Intellectual Property. To the Company's knowledge, no Person who was involved in, or who contributed to, the creation or development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property, has performed services for the government, university, college, or other educational institution or research center in a manner that would affect Company's rights in the Company-Owned Intellectual Property.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (a) of any provisions of its Restated Certificate or Bylaws, (b) of any instrument, judgment, order, writ or decree, (c) under any note, indenture or mortgage, or (d) under any lease, agreement, contract or purchase order to which it is a party or by which it is bound that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule, or (e) to its knowledge, of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, the violation of which would have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance of the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements will not result in any such violation or be in conflict with or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such provision, instrument, judgment, order, writ, decree, contract or agreement; or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Agreements; Actions.

(a) Except for the Transaction Agreements, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound that involve (i) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $100,000, (ii) the license of any patent, copyright, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary right to or from the Company, (iii) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market, or sell its products to any other Person that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products, or (iv) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights.

(b) The Company has not (i) declared or paid any dividends, or authorized or made any distribution upon or with respect to any class or series of its capital stock, (ii) incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed or incurred any other liabilities individually in excess of $100,000 or in excess of $500,000 in the aggregate, (iii) made any loans or advances to any Person, other than ordinary advances for travel expenses, or (iv) sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of any of its assets or rights, other than the sale of its inventory in the ordinary course of business. For the purposes of (a) and (b) of this Subsection 2.10, all indebtedness, liabilities, agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts and proposed transactions involving the same Person (including Persons the Company has reason to believe are affiliated with each other) shall be aggregated for the purpose of meeting the individual minimum dollar amounts of such subsection.

(c) The Company is not a guarantor or indemnitor of any indebtedness of any other Person.

2.11 Certain Transactions.

(a) Other than (i) standard employee benefits generally made available to all employees, (ii) standard director and officer indemnification agreements approved by the Board, and (iii) the purchase of shares of the Company's capital stock and the issuance of options to purchase shares of Common Stock, in each instance, approved in the written minutes of the Board (previously provided to the Purchaser or its counsel), there are no agreements, understandings or proposed transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, consultants or Key Employees, or any Affiliate thereof.

(b) The Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any of its directors, officers or employees or to their respective spouses or children or to any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, other than in connection with expenses or advances of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business or employee relocation expenses and for other customary employee benefits made generally available to all employees. None of the Company's directors, officers or Key Employees, or any members of their immediate families, or any Affiliate of the foregoing are, directly or indirectly, indebted to the Company.

2.12 Rights of Registration and Voting Rights. Except as provided in the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Company is not under any obligation to register under the Securities Act any of its currently outstanding securities or any securities issuable upon exercise or conversion of its currently outstanding securities. To the Company's knowledge, except as contemplated in the Voting Agreement, no stockholder of the Company has entered into any agreements with respect to the voting of capital shares of the Company.

2.13 Property. The property and assets that the Company owns are free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, loans and encumbrances, except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and encumbrances and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets (including, with respect to Company-Owned Intellectual Property, non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business). With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in compliance with such leases and holds a valid leasehold interest free of any liens, claims or encumbrances other than those of the lessors of such property or assets. The Company does not own any real property.

2.14 Employee Matters.

(a) To the Company's knowledge, none of its employees is obligated under any contract (including licenses, covenants or commitments of any nature) or other agreement, or subject to any judgment, decree or order of any court or administrative agency, that would materially interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interest of the Company or that would conflict with the Company's business. Neither the execution or delivery of the Transaction Agreements, nor the carrying on of the Company's business by the employees of the Company, nor the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted, will, to the Company's knowledge, conflict with or result in a breach of the terms, conditions, or provisions of, or constitute a default under, any contract, covenant or instrument under which any such employee is now obligated.

(b) The Company is not delinquent in payments to any of its employees, consultants, or independent contractors for any wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses, or other direct compensation for any service performed for it to the date hereof or amounts required to be reimbursed to such employees, consultants or independent contractors. The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and with other laws related to employment, including those related to wages, hours, worker classification and collective bargaining. The Company has withheld and paid to the appropriate governmental entity or is holding for payment not yet due to such governmental entity all amounts required to be withheld from employees of the Company and is not liable for any arrears of wages, taxes, penalties or other sums for failure to comply with any of the foregoing.

(c) To the Company's knowledge, no Key Employee intends to terminate his or her employment with the Company and is not otherwise likely to become unavailable to continue as a Key Employee. The Company does not have a present intention to terminate the employment of any of the foregoing. The employment of each employee of the Company is terminable at the will of the Company. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.14(c) of the Disclosure Schedule or as required by law, upon termination of the employment of any such employees, no severance or other payments will become due. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.14(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has no policy, practice, plan or program of paying severance pay or any form of severance compensation in connection with the termination of employment services.

(d) The Company has not made any representations regarding equity incentives to any officer, employee, director or consultant that are inconsistent with the share amounts and terms set forth in the minutes of meetings of the Board.

(e) Each former Key Employee whose employment was terminated by the Company has entered into an agreement with the Company providing for the full release of any claims against the Company or any related party arising out of such employment.

(f) Subsection 2.14(f) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth each employee benefit plan maintained, established or sponsored by the Company, or which the Company participates in or contributes to, which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Company has made all required contributions and has no liability to any such employee benefit plan, other than liability for health plan continuation coverage described in Part 6 of Title I(B) of ERISA, and has complied in all material respects with all applicable laws for any such employee benefit plan.

2.15 Tax Returns and Payments. There are no federal, state, county, local or foreign income or other material taxes due and payable by the Company which have not been timely paid. There are no accrued and unpaid federal, state, county, local or foreign income or other material taxes of the Company which are due, whether or not assessed or disputed, unless such taxes are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings and adequate reserves for any such taxes have been established in accordance with GAAP. There have been no examinations or audits of any income or other material tax returns or reports by any applicable federal, state, local or foreign governmental agency. The Company has duly and timely filed all federal, state, county, local and foreign income or other material tax returns required to have been filed by it and there are in effect no waivers of applicable statutes of limitations with respect to income or other material taxes for any year.

2.16 Insurance. The Company has in full force and effect insurance policies concerning such casualties as would be reasonable and customary for companies like the Company with extended coverage, sufficient in amount (subject to reasonable deductions) to allow it to replace any of its properties that might be damaged or destroyed.

2.17 Employee Agreements. Each current and former employee, consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms delivered to the counsel for the Purchaser (the "Confidential Information Agreements"). No current or former Key Employee has excluded works or inventions from his or her assignment of inventions pursuant to such Key Employee's Confidential Information Agreement. Each current and former Key Employee has executed a non-solicitation agreement substantially in the form or forms delivered to counsel for the Purchaser. The Company is not aware that any Key Employee is in violation of any agreement covered by this Subsection 2.17.

2.18 Permits. The Company has all franchises, permits, licenses and any similar authority necessary for the conduct of its business, the lack of which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company is not in default in any material respect under any of such franchises, permits, licenses or other similar authority.

2.19 Corporate Documents. The Restated Certificate and Bylaws of the Company are in the form provided to the Purchaser. The copy of the minute books of the Company made available to the Purchaser contains minutes of all meetings of directors and stockholders and all actions by written consent without a meeting by the directors and stockholders since the date of incorporation and accurately reflects in all material respects all actions by the directors (and any committee of directors) and stockholders with respect to all transactions referred to in such minutes.

2.20 83(b) Elections. To the Company's knowledge, all elections and notices under Section 83(b) of the Code have been or will be timely filed by all eligible individuals who have acquired unvested shares of Common Stock.

2.21 Qualified Small Business Stock. As of and immediately following the Initial Closing: (a) the Company will be an eligible corporation as defined in Section 1202(e)(4) of the Code, (b) the Company will not have made purchases of its own stock described in Code Section 1202(c)(3)(B) during the one (1) year period preceding the Initial Closing, except for purchases that are disregarded for such purposes under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1202-2, and (c) the Company's aggregate gross assets, as defined by Code Section 1202(d)(2), at no time between its incorporation and through the Initial Closing have exceeded $50 million, taking into account the assets of any corporations required to be aggregated with the Company in accordance with Code Section 1202(d)(3); provided, however, that in no event shall the Company be liable to the Purchaser or any other party for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

2.22 Disclosure. The Company has made available to the Purchaser all the information reasonably available to the Company that the Purchaser has requested for deciding whether to acquire the Shares, including certain of the Company's projections describing its proposed business plan (the "Business Plan"). No representation or warranty of the Company contained in this Agreement, as qualified by the Disclosure Schedule, and no certificate furnished or to be furnished to the Purchaser at the Closing contains any untrue statement of a material fact or, to the Company's knowledge, omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made. The Business Plan was prepared in good faith; however, the Company does not warrant that it will achieve any results projected in the Business Plan. It is understood that this representation is qualified by the fact that the Company has not delivered to the Purchaser, and has not been requested to deliver, a private placement or similar memorandum or any written disclosure of the types of information customarily furnished to purchasers of securities.

3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchaser. The Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company that:

3.1 Authorization. The Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements to which the Purchaser is a party, when executed and delivered by the Purchaser, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Purchaser, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies, or (b) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with the Purchaser in reliance upon the Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by the Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, the Purchaser hereby confirms, that the Shares to be acquired by the Purchaser will be acquired for investment for the Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that the Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, the Purchaser further represents that the Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any Person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such Person or to any third Person, with respect to any of the Shares. The Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Shares.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. The Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Shares with the Company's management and has had an opportunity to review the Company's facilities. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of the Purchaser to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. The Purchaser understands that the Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. The Purchaser understands that the Shares are "restricted securities" under applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, the Purchaser must hold the Shares indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities, or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. The Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the Shares, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale except as set forth in the Investors' Rights Agreement. The Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the Shares, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of the Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy. The Purchaser understands that this offering is not intended to be part of the public offering, and that the Purchaser will not be able to rely on the protection of Section 11 of the Securities Act.

3.5 No Public Market. The Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the Shares, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the Shares.

3.6 Legends. The Purchaser understands that the Shares and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the Shares, may be notated with one or all of the following legends:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO SUCH TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933."

(a) Any legend set forth in, or required by, the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the Shares represented by the certificate, instrument, or book entry so legended.

3.7 Accredited Investor. The Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act.

3.8 No General Solicitation. Neither the Purchaser, nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including, through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation, or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares.

3.9 Principal Place of Business. The office or offices of the Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of the Purchaser set forth on Exhibit A.

4. Conditions to the Purchaser's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Initial Closing or any Additional Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before such Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

4.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such Closing.

4.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company in all material respects on or before such Closing.

4.3 Compliance Certificate. An authorized officer of the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser at such Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 4.1 and 4.2 have been fulfilled.

4.4 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Closing.

4.5 Board of Directors. As of the Initial Closing, the authorized size of the Board of Directors shall be five (5), and the Board shall be comprised of Michael Ehlers as Executive Chairman, Seth Harrison, Nathaniel Wang, Joseph Yanchik, and one vacancy.

4.6 Indemnification Agreement(s). As of the Initial Closing, the Company shall have executed and delivered the Indemnification Agreement(s).

4.7 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company and the Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

4.8 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

4.9 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

4.10 Restated Certificate. The Company shall have filed the Restated Certificate with the Secretary of State of Delaware on or prior to the Initial Closing, which shall continue to be in full force and effect as of such Closing.

4.11 Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing a certificate certifying (a) the Bylaws of the Company, (b) resolutions of the Board approving the Transaction Agreements and the transactions contemplated under the Transaction Agreements, and (c) resolutions of the stockholders of the Company approving the Restated Certificate.

4.12 Certain Agreements with Founders and other Service Providers. As of the Initial Closing, the Company shall have entered into (i) an employment agreement (and confidentiality and invention assignment agreement) with each of Nathaniel Wang and Andrew Geall; and (ii) a consulting agreement with each of Herbert Kim Lyerly and Zachary Hartman, in each case, in form and substance satisfactory to the Purchaser.

4.13 Patent License Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company shall have entered into a patent license agreement with Duke University, in form and substance satisfactory to the Purchaser.

4.14 LakePharma Amendment. As of the Initial Closing, the Company shall have entered into an amendment to the collaboration agreement with LakePharma, in form and substance satisfactory to the Purchaser.

4.15 Proceedings and Documents. All corporate and other proceedings in connection with the transactions contemplated at the Closing and all documents incident thereto shall be reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to the Purchaser, and the Purchaser (or its counsel) shall have received all such counterpart original and certified or other copies of such documents as reasonably requested. Such documents may include good standing certificates.

4.16 Qualifications. With respect to any Additional Closing only, (a) all authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Additional Closing and (b) there shall not have occurred any material change, event, circumstances or development in the CFIUS Laws, and no mandatory declaration or other filing with CFIUS pursuant to 31 C.F.R. § 800.401 shall be required to consummate, and no notice to CFIUS shall be deemed advisable by the Purchaser in connection with such Additional Closing.

4.17 No Material Adverse Effect. With respect to any Additional Closing only, (a) since the Initial Closing, there shall not have occurred any change, event, circumstances or development that has had, or would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be likely to have, a Material Adverse Effect and (b) the consummation of such Additional Closing by the Company, including the issuance and delivery of any Additional Shares, would not be reasonably likely to result in any material violation of any laws, statutes, codes, executive orders, licensing requirements, ordinances and regulations of any governmental authority, including all orders having the effect of law.

5. Conditions of the Company's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Company to sell Shares to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing or any Additional Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before such Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

5.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Purchaser contained in Section 3 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such Closing.

5.2 Performance. The Purchaser shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by them in all material respects on or before such Closing.

5.3 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Closing.

5.4 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

5.5 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

5.6 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Survival of Warranties. Unless otherwise set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of the Company and the Purchaser contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the applicable Closing for a period of one (1) year and shall in no way be affected by any investigation or knowledge of the subject matter thereof made by or on behalf of the Purchaser or the Company.

6.2 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

6.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.5 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.6 Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt, or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page or Exhibit A, or to such e-mail address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.6. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002.

6.7 No Finder's Fees. Each party represents that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. The Purchaser agrees to indemnify and to hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Purchaser or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

6.8 Fees and Expenses. At the Initial Closing, the Company shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of Sherrard, German & Kelly, P.C., counsel for the Founders, in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, in an amount not to exceed $15,000 in the aggregate.

6.9 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, terminated or waived only with the written consent of the Company and the Purchaser.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.12 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.13 Corporate Securities Law. THE SALE OF THE SECURITIES WHICH ARE THE SUBJECT OF THIS AGREEMENT HAS NOT BEEN QUALIFIED WITH THE COMMISSIONER OF CORPORATIONS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA AND THE ISSUANCE OF THE SECURITIES OR THE PAYMENT OR RECEIPT OF ANY PART OF THE CONSIDERATION THEREFOR PRIOR TO THE QUALIFICATION IS UNLAWFUL, UNLESS THE SALE OF SECURITIES IS EXEMPT FROM THE QUALIFICATION BY SECTION 25100, 25102 OR 25105 OF THE CALIFORNIA CORPORATIONS CODE. THE RIGHTS OF ALL PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT ARE EXPRESSLY CONDITIONED UPON THE QUALIFICATION BEING OBTAINED UNLESS THE SALE IS SO EXEMPT.

6.14 Termination of Additional Closing Obligations. The Purchaser shall have the right to terminate its obligations to complete any Additional Closing, if prior to the occurrence thereof, any of the following occurs:

(a) the Company consummates a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate); or

(b) the Company (i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (ii) becomes subject to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (iii) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iv) institutes any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, or files a petition or answer seeking reorganization or an arrangement with creditors to take advantage of any insolvency law, or files an answer admitting the material allegations of a bankruptcy, reorganization or insolvency petition filed against it, or (v) becomes subject to any involuntary proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, when proceeding is not dismissed within thirty (30) days of filing, or have an order for relief entered against it in any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code.

6.15 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.16 No Commitment for Additional Financing. The Company acknowledges and agrees that the Purchaser has not made any representation, undertaking, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance, other than the purchase of the Shares as set forth herein and subject to the conditions set forth herein. In addition, the Company acknowledges and agrees that (a) no statements, whether written or oral, made by the Purchaser or its representatives on or after the date of this Agreement shall create an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment, (b) the Company shall not rely on any such statement by the Purchaser or its representatives, and (c) an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment may only be created by a written agreement, signed by the Purchaser and the Company, setting forth the terms and conditions of such financing or investment and stating that the parties intend for such writing to be a binding obligation or agreement. The Purchaser shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to refuse or decline to participate in any other financing of or investment in the Company, and shall have no obligation to assist or cooperate with the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

6.17 Waiver of Conflicts. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges that Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, has in the past performed and may continue to perform legal services for the Purchaser in matters unrelated to the transactions described in this Agreement, including the representation of the Purchaser in venture capital financings and other matters. Accordingly, each party to this Agreement hereby (a) acknowledges that they have had an opportunity to ask for information relevant to this disclosure; and (b) gives its informed consent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Purchaser in such unrelated matters and to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Company in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

FORM OF AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED
OF
REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

(Pursuant to Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware)

Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "General Corporation Law"),

DOES HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That the name of this corporation is Replicate Bioscience, Inc., and that this corporation was originally incorporated pursuant to the General Corporation Law on January 15, 2021 under the name RepNuCo, Inc.

2. That the Board of Directors duly adopted resolutions proposing to amend and restate the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation, declaring said amendment and restatement to be advisable and in the best interests of this corporation and its stockholders, and authorizing the appropriate officers of this corporation to solicit the consent of the stockholders therefor, which resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and restatement is as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation be amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

FIRST: The name of this corporation is Replicate Bioscience, Inc. (the "Corporation").

SECOND: The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801. The name of its registered agent at such address is The Corporation Trust Company.

THIRD: The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law.

FOURTH: The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is (i) 44,619,867 shares of Common Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Common Stock") and (ii) 40,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Preferred Stock").

The following is a statement of the designations and the powers, preferences and special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof in respect of each class of capital stock of the Corporation.

A. COMMON STOCK

1. General. The voting, dividend and liquidation rights of the holders of the Common Stock are subject to and qualified by the rights, powers and preferences of the holders of the Preferred Stock set forth herein.

2. Voting. The holders of the Common Stock are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held at all meetings of stockholders (and written actions in lieu of meetings); provided, however, that, except as otherwise required by law, holders of Common Stock, as such, shall not be entitled to vote on any amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation that relates solely to the terms of one or more outstanding series of Preferred Stock if the holders of such affected series are entitled, either separately or together with the holders of one or more other such series, to vote thereon pursuant to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or pursuant to the General Corporation Law. There shall be no cumulative voting. The number of authorized shares of Common Stock may be increased or decreased (but not below the number of shares thereof then outstanding) by (in addition to any vote of the holders of one or more series of Preferred Stock that may be required by the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the affirmative vote of the holders of shares of capital stock of the Corporation representing a majority of the votes represented by all outstanding shares of capital stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, irrespective of the provisions of Section 242(b)(2) of the General Corporation Law.

B. PREFERRED STOCK

40,000,000 shares of the authorized and unissued Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A Preferred Stock", with the following rights, preferences, powers and restrictions, qualifications and limitations. Unless otherwise indicated, references to "sections" or "subsections" in this Part B of this Article Fourth refer to sections and subsections of Part B of this Article Fourth.

The "Original Issue Price" shall mean $1.00 per share for the Series A Preferred Stock, subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Preferred Stock.

1. Dividends. The Corporation shall not declare, pay or set aside any dividends on shares of any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) unless (in addition to the obtaining of any consents required elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall first receive, or simultaneously receive, a dividend on each outstanding share of Series A Preferred Stock in an amount at least equal to 8.0% per annum of the Original Issue Price. For the avoidance of doubt, dividends on shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not be cumulative and shall be payable when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors.

2. Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up; Certain Mergers, Consolidations and Asset Sales.

2.1 Preferential Payments to Holders of Preferred Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of shares of each series of Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined below), the holders of shares of each series of Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, on a pari passu basis among each other, an amount per share equal to one (1) times the applicable Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon, payable before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof (the amounts payable pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 are hereinafter referred to as the "Preferred Liquidation Amounts"). If, upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.1, the holders of shares of Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.2 Distribution of Remaining Assets. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after the payment in full of all Preferred Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event, after the payment in full of all Preferred Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the consideration available for distribution to the stockholders of the Corporation and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1 or the Available Proceeds not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsection 2.1, as the case may be, shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock and Common Stock, pro rata based on the number of shares held by each such holder, treating for this purpose all shares of Series A Preferred Stock as if they had been converted to Common Stock pursuant to the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or such Deemed Liquidation Event.

2.3 Deemed Liquidation Events.

2.3.1 Definition. Each of the following events shall be considered a "Deemed Liquidation Event" unless the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Requisite Holders") elect otherwise by written notice sent to the Corporation at least ten (10) days prior to the effective date of any such event:

(a) a merger or consolidation in which

(i) the Corporation is a constituent party or

(ii) a subsidiary of the Corporation is a constituent party and the Corporation issues shares of its capital stock pursuant to such merger or consolidation, except any such merger or consolidation involving the Corporation or a subsidiary in which the shares of capital stock of the Corporation outstanding immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to represent, or are converted into or exchanged for shares of capital stock that represent, immediately following such merger or consolidation, at least a majority, by voting power, of the capital stock of (1) the surviving or resulting corporation; or (2) if the surviving or resulting corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of another corporation immediately following such merger or consolidation, the parent corporation of such surviving or resulting corporation; or

(b) (1) the sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition, in a single transaction or series of related transactions, by the Corporation or any subsidiary of the Corporation of all or substantially all the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, or (2) the sale or disposition (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise, and whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) of one or more subsidiaries of the Corporation if substantially all of the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole are held by such subsidiary or subsidiaries, except where such sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition is to a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

2.3.2 Effecting a Deemed Liquidation Event.

(a) The Corporation shall not have the power to effect a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i) unless the agreement or plan of merger or consolidation for such transaction (the "Merger Agreement") provides that the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation in such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be paid to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2.

(b) In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(ii) or 2.3.1(b), if the Corporation does not effect a dissolution of the Corporation under the General Corporation Law within ninety (90) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, then (i) the Corporation shall send a written notice to each holder of Preferred Stock no later than the ninetieth (90th) day after the Deemed Liquidation Event advising such holders of their right (and the requirements to be met to secure such right) pursuant to the terms of the following clause; (ii) to require the redemption of such shares of Preferred Stock, and (iii) if the holders of at least a majority of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock (voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis) so request in a written instrument delivered to the Corporation not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, the Corporation shall use the consideration received by the Corporation for such Deemed Liquidation Event (net of any retained liabilities associated with the assets sold or technology licensed, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation), together with any other assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, all to the extent permitted by Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders (the "Available Proceeds"), on the one hundred fiftieth (150th) day after such Deemed Liquidation Event, to redeem all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock at a price per share equal to the applicable amount per share that the holders of each series of Preferred Stock are entitled to receive under Subsections 2.1 and 2.2. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a redemption pursuant to the preceding sentence, if the Available Proceeds are not sufficient to redeem all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall redeem a pro rata portion of each holder's shares of Preferred Stock to the fullest extent of such Available Proceeds, based on the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares to be redeemed if the Available Proceeds were sufficient to redeem all such shares, and shall redeem the remaining shares as soon as it may lawfully do so under Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders. Prior to the distribution or redemption provided for in this Subsection 2.3.2(b), the Corporation shall not expend or dissipate the consideration received for such Deemed Liquidation Event, except to discharge expenses incurred in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event or in the ordinary course of business.

2.3.3 Amount Deemed Paid or Distributed. The amount deemed paid or distributed to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation upon any such merger, consolidation, sale, transfer, exclusive license, other disposition or redemption shall be the cash or the value of the property, rights or securities to be paid or distributed to such holders pursuant to such Deemed Liquidation Event. The value of such property, rights or securities shall be determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

2.3.4 Allocation of Escrow and Contingent Consideration. In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i), if any portion of the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Merger Agreement shall provide that (a) the portion of such consideration that is not Additional Consideration (such portion, the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event; and (b) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the stockholders of the Corporation upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transaction. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.3.4, consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

3. Voting.

3.1 General. On any matter presented to the stockholders of the Corporation for their action or consideration at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation (or by written consent of stockholders in lieu of a meeting), each holder of outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to cast the number of votes equal to the number of whole shares of Common Stock into which the shares of Preferred Stock held by such holder are convertible as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on such matter. Except as provided by law or by the other provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, holders of Preferred Stock shall vote together with the holders of Common Stock as a single class and on an as-converted to Common Stock basis.

3.2 Election of Directors. For so long as any shares of Series A Preferred Stock are outstanding, the holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three directors of the Corporation (the "Series A Directors"). The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock, exclusively and as a separate class (excluding Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock), shall be entitled to elect one director of the Corporation (the "Common Director"). Any director elected as provided in the preceding sentences may be removed without cause by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of capital stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders. If the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, fail to elect a sufficient number of directors to fill all directorships for which they are entitled to elect directors, voting exclusively and as a separate class, pursuant to the first two sentences of this Subsection 3.2, then any directorship not so filled shall remain vacant until such time as the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, elect a person to fill such directorship by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting; and no such directorship may be filled by stockholders of the Corporation other than by the stockholders of the Corporation that are entitled to elect a person to fill such directorship, voting exclusively and as a separate class. The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and of any other class or series of voting stock (including the Preferred Stock), exclusively and voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Corporation. At any meeting held for the purpose of electing a director, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of the class or series entitled to elect such director shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing such director. Except as otherwise provided in this Subsection 3.2, a vacancy in any directorship filled by the holders of any class or series shall be filled only by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting of the holders of such class or series or by any remaining director or directors elected by the holders of such class or series pursuant to this Subsection 3.2. Any director may be removed during his or her term of office, either with or without cause, by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders, and any vacancy thereby created may be filled by the holders of that class or series of stock represented at the meeting or pursuant to written consent.

3.3 Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. At any time when any shares of Series A Preferred Stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Preferred Stock) are outstanding, the Corporation shall not, either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation or otherwise, do any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the Requisite Holders given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class.

3.3.1 liquidate, dissolve or wind-up the business and affairs of the Corporation, effect any merger or consolidation or any other Deemed Liquidation Event, or consent to any of the foregoing;

3.3.2 amend, alter or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation;

3.3.3 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue shares of, any additional class or series of capital stock unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption, or increase the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock or increase the authorized number of shares of any additional class or series of capital stock of the Corporation unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption;

3.3.4 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock, (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at the lower of the original issue price or the then current fair market value thereof or (iv) as approved by the Board of Directors, including the approval of the Series A Directors;

3.3.5 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue, or authorize the issuance of any debt security or create any lien or security interest (except for purchase money liens or statutory liens of landlords, mechanics, materialmen, workmen, warehousemen and other similar persons arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business) or incur other indebtedness for borrowed money, including but not limited to obligations and contingent obligations under guarantees, or permit any subsidiary to take any such action with respect to any debt security lien, security interest or other indebtedness for borrowed money, unless such debt security or creation of such lien or security interest has received the prior approval of the Board of Directors, including the approval of the Series A Directors;

3.3.6 create, or hold capital stock in, any subsidiary that is not wholly owned (either directly or through one or more other subsidiaries) by the Corporation, or permit any subsidiary to create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue, any shares of any class or series of capital stock, or sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any capital stock of any direct or indirect subsidiary of the Corporation, or permit any direct or indirect subsidiary to sell, lease, transfer, exclusively license or otherwise dispose (in a single transaction or series of related transactions) of all or substantially all of the assets of such subsidiary; or

3.3.7 increase or decrease the authorized number of directors constituting the Board of Directors.

4. Optional Conversion.

The holders of the Preferred Stock shall have conversion rights as follows (the "Conversion Rights"):

4.1 Right to Convert.

4.1.1 Conversion Ratio. Each share of Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into such number of fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing the applicable Original Issue Price by the applicable Conversion Price (as defined below) in effect at the time of conversion. The "Conversion Price" shall initially be equal to $1.00 for the Series A Preferred Stock. Such initial Conversion Price, and the rate at which shares of Preferred Stock may be converted into shares of Common Stock, shall be subject to adjustment as provided below.

4.1.2 Termination of Conversion Rights. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or a Deemed Liquidation Event, the Conversion Rights shall terminate at the close of business on the last full day preceding the date fixed for the payment of any such amounts distributable on such event to the holders of Preferred Stock.

4.2 Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock. In lieu of any fractional shares to which the holder would otherwise be entitled, the Corporation shall pay cash equal to such fraction multiplied by the fair market value of a share of Common Stock as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. Whether or not fractional shares would be issuable upon such conversion shall be determined on the basis of the total number of shares of Preferred Stock the holder is at the time converting into Common Stock and the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

4.3 Mechanics of Conversion.

4.3.1 Notice of Conversion. In order for a holder of Preferred Stock to voluntarily convert shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock, such holder shall (a) provide written notice to the Corporation's transfer agent at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) that such holder elects to convert all or any number of such holder's shares of Preferred Stock and, if applicable, any event on which such conversion is contingent and (b) if such holder's shares are certificated, surrender the certificate or certificates for such shares of Preferred Stock (or, if such registered holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate), at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent). Such notice shall state such holder's name or the names of the nominees in which such holder wishes the shares of Common Stock to be issued. If required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. The close of business on the date of receipt by the transfer agent (or by the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) of such notice and, if applicable, certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) shall be the time of conversion (the "Conversion Time"), and the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the specified shares shall be deemed to be outstanding of record as of such date. The Corporation shall, as soon as practicable after the Conversion Time (i) issue and deliver to such holder of Preferred Stock, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares or a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and may, if applicable, issue and deliver a certificate for the number (if any) of the shares of Preferred Stock represented by any surrendered certificate that were not converted into Common Stock, (ii) pay in cash such amount as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion and (iii) pay all declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted.

4.3.2 Reservation of Shares. The Corporation shall at all times when the Preferred Stock shall be outstanding, reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued capital stock, for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the Preferred Stock, such number of its duly authorized shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding Preferred Stock; and if at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purposes, including, without limitation, engaging in reasonable best efforts to obtain the requisite stockholder approval of any necessary amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Before taking any action that would cause an adjustment reducing the applicable Conversion Price below the then par value of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation will take any corporate action which may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary in order that the Corporation may validly and legally issue fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock at such adjusted Conversion Price.

4.3.3 Effect of Conversion. All shares of Preferred Stock which shall have been surrendered for conversion as herein provided shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights with respect to such shares shall immediately cease and terminate at the Conversion Time, except only the right of the holders thereof to receive shares of Common Stock in exchange therefor, to receive payment in lieu of any fraction of a share otherwise issuable upon such conversion as provided in Subsection 4.2 and to receive payment of any dividends declared but unpaid thereon. Any shares of Preferred Stock so converted shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of such series of Preferred Stock accordingly.

4.3.4 No Further Adjustment. Upon any such conversion, no adjustment to the applicable Conversion Price shall be made for any declared but unpaid dividends on the Preferred Stock surrendered for conversion or on the Common Stock delivered upon conversion.

4.3.5 Taxes. The Corporation shall pay any and all issue and other similar taxes that may be payable in respect of any issuance or delivery of shares of Common Stock upon conversion of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4. The Corporation shall not, however, be required to pay any tax which may be payable in respect of any transfer involved in the issuance and delivery of shares of Common Stock in a name other than that in which the shares of Preferred Stock so converted were registered, and no such issuance or delivery shall be made unless and until the person or entity requesting such issuance has paid to the Corporation the amount of any such tax or has established, to the satisfaction of the Corporation, that such tax has been paid.

4.4 Adjustments to Preferred Stock Conversion Price for Diluting Issues.

4.4.1 Special Definitions. For purposes of this Article Fourth, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Option" shall mean rights, options or warrants to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Common Stock or Convertible Securities.

(b) "Series A Original Issue Date" shall mean the date on which the first share of Series A Preferred Stock was issued.

(c) "Convertible Securities" shall mean any evidences of indebtedness, shares or other securities directly or indirectly convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, but excluding Options.

(d) "Additional Shares of Common Stock" shall mean all shares of Common Stock issued (or, pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3 below, deemed to be issued) by the Corporation after the Series A Original Issue Date, other than (1) the following shares of Common Stock and (2) shares of Common Stock deemed issued pursuant to the following Options and Convertible Securities (clauses (1) and (2), collectively, "Exempted Securities"):

(i) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as a dividend or distribution on Preferred Stock;

(ii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued by reason of a dividend, stock split, split-up or other distribution on shares of Common Stock that is covered by Subsection 4.5, 4.6, 4.7 or 4.8;

(iii) shares of Common Stock or Options issued to employees or directors of, or consultants or advisors to, the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to a plan, agreement or arrangement approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors; or

(iv) shares of Common Stock or Convertible Securities actually issued upon the exercise of Options or shares of Common Stock actually issued upon the conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities, in each case provided such issuance is pursuant to the terms of such Option or Convertible Security.

4.4.2 No Adjustment of Preferred Stock Conversion Price. No adjustment in the Conversion Price of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock if the Corporation receives written notice from the holders of a majority of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock agreeing that no such adjustment shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of such Additional Shares of Common Stock.

4.4.3 Deemed Issue of Additional Shares of Common Stock.

(a) If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall issue any Options or Convertible Securities (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities) or shall fix a record date for the determination of holders of any class of securities entitled to receive any such Options or Convertible Securities, then the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instrument relating thereto, assuming the satisfaction of any conditions to exercisability, convertibility or exchangeability but without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or, in the case of Convertible Securities and Options therefor, the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, shall be deemed to be Additional Shares of Common Stock issued as of the time of such issue or, in case such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date.

(b) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security, the issuance of which resulted in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, are revised as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase or decrease in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any increase or decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, then, effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock computed upon the original issue of such Option or Convertible Security (or upon the occurrence of a record date with respect thereto) shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such revised terms been in effect upon the original date of issuance of such Option or Convertible Security. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no readjustment pursuant to this clause (b) shall have the effect of increasing the Conversion Price applicable to a series of Preferred Stock to an amount which exceeds the lower of (i) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to the original adjustment made as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security, or (ii) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that would have resulted from any issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock (other than deemed issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security) between the original adjustment date and such readjustment date.

(c) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities), the issuance of which did not result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 (either because the consideration per share (determined pursuant to Subsection 4.4.5) of the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto was equal to or greater than the applicable Conversion Price then in effect, or because such Option or Convertible Security was issued before the Series A Original Issue Date), are revised after the Series A Original Issue Date as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion or exchange, then such Option or Convertible Security, as so amended or adjusted, and the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto determined in the manner provided in Subsection 4.4.3(a) shall be deemed to have been issued effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective.

(d) Upon the expiration or termination of any unexercised Option or unconverted or unexchanged Convertible Security (or portion thereof) which resulted (either upon its original issuance or upon a revision of its terms) in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such Option or Convertible Security (or portion thereof) never been issued.

(e) If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, is calculable at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended but is subject to adjustment based upon subsequent events, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock provided for in this Subsection 4.4.3 shall be effected at the time of such issuance or amendment based on such number of shares or amount of consideration without regard to any provisions for subsequent adjustments (and any subsequent adjustments shall be treated as provided in clauses (b) and (c) of this Subsection 4.4.3). If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, cannot be calculated at all at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock that would result under the terms of this Subsection 4.4.3 at the time of such issuance or amendment shall instead be effected at the time such number of shares and/or amount of consideration is first calculable (even if subject to subsequent adjustments), assuming for purposes of calculating such adjustment to the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that such issuance or amendment took place at the time such calculation can first be made.

4.4.4 Adjustment of Conversion Price Upon Issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock. In the event the Corporation shall at any time after the Series A Original Issue Date issue Additional Shares of Common Stock (including Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to be issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3), without consideration or for a consideration per share less than the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance, then the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be reduced, concurrently with such issue, to a price (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent) determined in accordance with the following formula:

For purposes of the foregoing formula, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "CP_2" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately after such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock

(b) "CP_1" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock;

(c) "A" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock (treating for this purpose as outstanding all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of Options outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance or upon conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities (including the Preferred Stock) outstanding (assuming exercise of any outstanding Options therefor) immediately prior to such issue);

(d) "B" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock that would have been issued if such Additional Shares of Common Stock had been issued or deemed issued at a price per share equal to CP_1 (determined by dividing the aggregate consideration received by the Corporation in respect of such issue by CP_1); and

(e) "C" shall mean the number of such Additional Shares of Common Stock issued in such transaction.

4.4.5 Determination of Consideration. For purposes of this Subsection 4.4, the consideration received by the Corporation for the issuance or deemed issuance of any Additional Shares of Common Stock shall be computed as follows:

(a) Cash and Property: Such consideration shall:

(i) insofar as it consists of cash, be computed at the aggregate amount of cash received by the Corporation, excluding amounts paid or payable for accrued interest;

(ii) insofar as it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair market value thereof at the time of such issue, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation; and

(iii) in the event Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued together with other shares or securities or other assets of the Corporation for consideration which covers both, be the proportion of such consideration so received, computed as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) above, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

(b) Options and Convertible Securities. The consideration per share received by the Corporation for Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3, relating to Options and Convertible Securities, shall be determined by dividing:

(i) The total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issue of such Options or Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such consideration) payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, by

(ii) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

4.4.6 Multiple Closing Dates. In the event the Corporation shall issue on more than one date Additional Shares of Common Stock that are a part of one transaction or a series of related transactions and that would result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 then, upon the final such issuance, the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to give effect to all such issuances as if they occurred on the date of the first such issuance (and without giving effect to any additional adjustments as a result of any such subsequent issuances).

4.5 Adjustment for Stock Splits and Combinations. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date effect a subdivision of the outstanding Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before that subdivision shall be proportionately decreased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be increased in proportion to such increase in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date combine the outstanding shares of Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before the combination shall be proportionately increased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be decreased in proportion to such decrease in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. Any adjustment under this subsection shall become effective at the close of business on the date the subdivision or combination becomes effective.

4.6 Adjustment for Certain Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable on the Common Stock in additional shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before such event shall be decreased as of the time of such issuance or, in the event such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date, by multiplying the Conversion Price of each such series of Preferred Stock then in effect by a fraction:

(1) the numerator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date, and business on such record date plus the number of shares of Common Stock issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution.

Notwithstanding the foregoing (a) if such record date shall have been fixed and such dividend is not fully paid or if such distribution is not fully made on the date fixed therefor, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be recomputed accordingly as of the close of business on such record date and thereafter the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be adjusted pursuant to this subsection as of the time of actual payment of such dividends or distributions; and (b) that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of such series of Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of shares of Common Stock in a number equal to the number of shares of Common Stock as they would have received if all outstanding shares of such series of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.7 Adjustments for Other Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities of the Corporation (other than a distribution of shares of Common Stock in respect of outstanding shares of Common Stock) or in other property and the provisions of Section 1 do not apply to such dividend or distribution, then and in each such event the holders of Preferred Stock shall receive, simultaneously with the distribution to the holders of Common Stock, a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.8 Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, if there shall occur any reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger involving the Corporation in which the Common Stock (but not the Preferred Stock) is converted into or exchanged for securities, cash or other property (other than a transaction covered by Subsections 4.4, 4.6 or 4.7), then, following any such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger, each share of Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible in lieu of the Common Stock into which it was convertible prior to such event into the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property which a holder of the number of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation issuable upon conversion of one share of such Preferred Stock immediately prior to such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger would have been entitled to receive pursuant to such transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation) shall be made in the application of the provisions in this Section 4 with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in this Section 4 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as reasonably may be, in relation to any securities or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock.

4.9 Certificate as to Adjustments. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4, the Corporation at its expense shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter, compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and furnish to each holder of such series of Preferred Stock a certificate setting forth such adjustment or readjustment (including the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property into which such series of Preferred Stock is convertible) and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The Corporation shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the written request at any time of any holder of Preferred Stock, furnish or cause to be furnished to such holder a certificate setting forth (i) the Conversion Price then in effect for each series of Preferred Stock held by such holder, and (ii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other securities, cash or property which then would be received upon the conversion of each such series of Preferred Stock.

4.10 Notice of Record Date. In the event:

(a) the Corporation shall take a record of the holders of its Common Stock (or other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock) for the purpose of entitling or enabling them to receive any dividend or other distribution, or to receive any right to subscribe for or purchase any shares of capital stock of any class or any other securities, or to receive any other security; or

(b) of any capital reorganization of the Corporation, any reclassification of the Common Stock of the Corporation, or any Deemed Liquidation Event; or

(c) of the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the Corporation, then, and in each such case, the Corporation will send or cause to be sent to the holders of the Preferred Stock a notice specifying, as the case may be, (i) the record date for such dividend, distribution or right, and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right, or (ii) the effective date on which such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up is proposed to take place, and the time, if any is to be fixed, as of which the holders of record of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock) shall be entitled to exchange their shares of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities) for securities or other property deliverable upon such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up, and the amount per share and character of such exchange applicable to the Preferred Stock and the Common Stock. Such notice shall be sent at least ten (10) days prior to the record date or effective date for the event specified in such notice.

5. Mandatory Conversion.

5.1 Trigger Events. Upon either (a) the closing of the sale of shares of Common Stock to the public at a price of at least five (5) times the Original Issue Price (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Common Stock), in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $75,000,000 of gross proceeds to the Corporation and in connection with such offering the Common Stock is listed for trading on the Nasdaq Stock Market's National Market, the New York Stock Exchange or another exchange or marketplace approved the Board of Directors or (b) the date and time, or the occurrence of an event, specified by vote or written consent of the Requisite Holders (the time of such closing or the date and time specified or the time of the event specified in such vote or written consent is referred to herein as the "Mandatory Conversion Time"), then (i) all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted into shares of Common Stock, at the then effective conversion rate as calculated pursuant to Subsection 4.1.1 and (ii) such shares may not be reissued by the Corporation.

5.2 Procedural Requirements. All holders of record of shares of Preferred Stock shall be sent written notice of the Mandatory Conversion Time and the place designated for mandatory conversion of all such shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 5. Such notice need not be sent in advance of the occurrence of the Mandatory Conversion Time. Upon receipt of such notice, each holder of shares of Preferred Stock in certificated form shall surrender his, her or its certificate or certificates for all such shares (or, if such holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate) to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice. If so required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. All rights with respect to the Preferred Stock converted pursuant to Subsection 5.1, including the rights, if any, to receive notices and vote (other than as a holder of Common Stock), will terminate at the Mandatory Conversion Time (notwithstanding the failure of the holder or holders thereof to surrender any certificates at or prior to such time), except only the rights of the holders thereof, upon surrender of any certificate or certificates of such holders (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) therefor, to receive the items provided for in the next sentence of this Subsection 5.2. As soon as practicable after the Mandatory Conversion Time and, if applicable, the surrender of any certificate or certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) for Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall (a) issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable on such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof or issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares and may, upon written request, issue and deliver a certificate for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and (b) pay cash as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion and the payment of any declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted. Such converted Preferred Stock shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock accordingly.

6. Redemption. The shares of Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable by any holder thereof, except as may be otherwise provided herein.

7. Redeemed or Otherwise Acquired Shares. Any shares of Preferred Stock that are redeemed or otherwise acquired by the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries shall be automatically and immediately cancelled and retired and shall not be reissued, sold or transferred. Neither the Corporation nor any of its subsidiaries may exercise any voting or other rights granted to the holders of Preferred Stock following redemption.

8. Waiver. Any of the rights, powers, preferences and other terms of the Series A Preferred Stock set forth herein may be waived on behalf of all holders of Series A Preferred Stock by the affirmative written consent or vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding.

9. Notices. Any notice required or permitted by the provisions of this Article Fourth to be given to a holder of shares of Preferred Stock shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the post office address last shown on the records of the Corporation, or given by electronic communication in compliance with the provisions of the General Corporation Law, and shall be deemed sent upon such mailing or electronic transmission.

FIFTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws, in furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized to make, repeal, alter, amend and rescind any or all of the Bylaws of the Corporation.

SIXTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the number of directors of the Corporation shall be determined in the manner set forth in the Bylaws of the Corporation. Each director shall be entitled to one vote on each matter presented to the Board of Directors.

SEVENTH: Elections of directors need not be by written ballot unless the Bylaws of the Corporation shall so provide.

EIGHTH: Meetings of stockholders may be held within or without the State of Delaware, as the Bylaws of the Corporation may provide. The books of the Corporation may be kept outside the State of Delaware at such place or places as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors or in the Bylaws of the Corporation.

NINTH: To the fullest extent permitted by law, a director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. If the General Corporation Law or any other law of the State of Delaware is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article Ninth to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the General Corporation Law as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Ninth by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of, or increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to, such repeal or modification.

TENTH: To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Corporation is authorized to provide indemnification of (and advancement of expenses to) directors, officers and agents of the Corporation (and any other persons to which General Corporation Law permits the Corporation to provide indemnification) through Bylaw provisions, agreements with such agents or other persons, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, in excess of the indemnification and advancement otherwise permitted by Section 145 of the General Corporation Law.

Any amendment, repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Tenth shall not (a) adversely affect any right or protection of any director, officer or other agent of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification or (b) increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director, officer or agent occurring prior to, such amendment, repeal or modification.

ELEVENTH: The Corporation renounces, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any interest or expectancy of the Corporation in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, any

Excluded Opportunity. An "Excluded Opportunity" is any matter, transaction or interest that is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or which otherwise comes into the possession of (i) any director of the Corporation who is not an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, or (ii) any holder of Series A Preferred Stock or any partner, member, director, stockholder, employee, affiliate or agent of any such holder, other than someone who is an officer or employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries (collectively, the persons referred to in clauses (i) and (ii) are "Covered Persons"), unless such matter, transaction or interest is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or otherwise comes into the possession of, a Covered Person expressly and solely in such Covered Person's capacity as a director of the Corporation. Any repeal or modification of this Article Eleventh will only be prospective and will not affect the rights under this Article Eleventh in effect at the time of the occurrence of any actions or omissions to act giving rise to liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding will be required to amend or repeal, or to adopt any provisions inconsistent with this Article Eleventh.

TWELFTH: Unless the Corporation consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware shall be the sole and exclusive forum for any stockholder (including a beneficial owner) to bring (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of the Corporation, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of fiduciary duty owed by any director, officer or other employee of the Corporation to the Corporation or the Corporation's stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees arising pursuant to any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law or the Corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees governed by the internal affairs doctrine, except for, as to each of (i) through (iv) above, any claim as to which the Court of Chancery determines that there is an indispensable party not subject to the jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery (and the indispensable party does not consent to the personal jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery within ten days following such determination), which is vested in the exclusive jurisdiction of a court or forum other than the Court of Chancery, or for which the Court of Chancery does not have subject matter jurisdiction. If any provision or provisions of this Article Twelfth shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any person or entity or circumstance for any reason whatsoever, then, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the validity, legality and enforceability of such provisions in any other circumstance and of the remaining provisions of this Article Twelfth (including, without limitation, each portion of any sentence of this Article Twelfth containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable that is not itself held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable) and the application of such provision to other persons or entities and circumstances shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

THIRTEENTH: For purposes of Section 500 of the California Corporations Code (to the extent applicable), in connection with any repurchase of shares of Common Stock permitted under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation from employees, officers, directors or consultants of the Corporation in connection with a termination of employment or services pursuant to agreements or arrangements approved by the Board of Directors (in addition to any other consent required under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation), such repurchase may be made without regard to any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined in Section 500 of the California Corporations Code). Accordingly, for purposes of making any calculation under California Corporations Code Section 500 in connection with such repurchase, the amount of any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined therein) shall be deemed to be zero (0).

3. That the foregoing amendment and restatement was approved by the holders of the requisite number of shares of this corporation in accordance with Section 228 of the General Corporation Law.

4. That this Certificate of Incorporation, which restates and integrates and further amends the provisions of this Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation, has been duly adopted in accordance with Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation has been executed by a duly authorized officer of this corporation on _____, 2021.

EXHIBIT D

FORM OF INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made and entered into as of _____, 2021 between RepNuCo, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and _____ ("Indemnitee").

WHEREAS, highly competent persons have become more reluctant to serve corporations as directors, officers and/or in other capacities unless they are provided with adequate protection through insurance or adequate indemnification against inordinate risks of claims and actions against them arising out of their service to and activities on behalf of the corporation;

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") has determined that, in order to attract and retain qualified individuals, the Company will attempt to maintain on an ongoing basis, at its sole expense, liability insurance to protect persons serving the Company and its subsidiaries from certain liabilities. Although the furnishing of such insurance has been a customary and widespread practice among United States-based corporations and other business enterprises, the Company believes that, given current market conditions and trends, such insurance may be available to it in the future only at higher premiums and with more exclusions. At the same time, directors, officers, and other persons in service to corporations or business enterprises are being increasingly subjected to expensive and time-consuming litigation relating to, among other things, matters that traditionally would have been brought only against the Company or business enterprise itself. The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company require indemnification of the officers and directors of the Company. Indemnitee may also be entitled to indemnification pursuant to the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware ("DGCL"). The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and the DGCL expressly provide that the indemnification provisions set forth therein are not exclusive, and thereby contemplate that contracts may be entered into between the Company and members of the Board, officers and other persons with respect to indemnification;

WHEREAS, the uncertainties relating to such insurance and to indemnification have increased the difficulty of attracting and retaining such persons;

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the increased difficulty in attracting and retaining such persons is detrimental to the best interests of the Company's stockholders and that the Company should act to assure such persons that there will be increased certainty of such protection in the future;

WHEREAS, it is reasonable, prudent and necessary for the Company contractually to obligate itself to indemnify, and to advance expenses on behalf of, such persons to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law so that they will serve or continue to serve the Company free from undue concern that they will not be so indemnified;

WHEREAS, this Agreement is a supplement to and in furtherance of the Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company and any resolutions adopted pursuant thereto, and shall not be deemed a substitute therefor, nor to diminish or abrogate any rights of Indemnitee thereunder;

WHEREAS, Indemnitee does not regard the protection available under the Company's Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and insurance as adequate in the present circumstances, and may not be willing to serve as an officer and/or a director without adequate protection, and the Company desires Indemnitee to serve in such capacity. Indemnitee is willing to serve, continue to serve and to take on additional service for or on behalf of the Company on the condition that he or she be so indemnified; and

[WHEREAS, Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification and/or insurance provided by [ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P.] or its affiliates ("Investor"), which Indemnitee and Investor intend to be secondary to the primary obligation of the Company to indemnify Indemnitee as provided herein, with the Company's acknowledgement and agreement to the foregoing being a material condition to Indemnitee's willingness to serve on the Board.]

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of Indemnitee's agreement to serve as an officer and/or director from and after the date hereof, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Indemnity of Indemnitee. The Company hereby agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Indemnitee to the fullest extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time. In furtherance of the foregoing indemnification, and without limiting the generality thereof:

(a) Proceedings Other Than Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section 1(a) if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status (as hereinafter defined), the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (as hereinafter defined) other than a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(a), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses (as hereinafter defined), judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection with such Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and with respect to any criminal Proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the Indemnitee's conduct was unlawful.

(b) Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section 1(b) if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding brought by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(b), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the Indemnitee, or on the Indemnitee's behalf, in connection with such Proceeding if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company; provided, however, if applicable law so provides, no indemnification against such Expenses shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter in such Proceeding as to which Indemnitee shall have been adjudged to be liable to the Company unless and to the extent that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall determine that such indemnification may be made.

(c) Indemnification for Expenses of a Party Who is Wholly or Partly Successful. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, a party to (or participant in) and is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in any Proceeding, he or she shall be indemnified to the maximum extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time, against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection therewith. If Indemnitee is not wholly successful in such Proceeding but is successful, on the merits or otherwise, as to one or more but less than all claims, issues or matters in such Proceeding, the Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection with each successfully resolved claim, issue or matter. For purposes of this Section and without limitation, the termination of any claim, issue or matter in such a Proceeding by dismissal, with or without prejudice, shall be deemed to be a successful result as to such claim, issue or matter.

(d) Indemnification of Appointing Stockholder. If (i) Indemnitee is or was affiliated with one or more entities that has invested in the Company (an "Appointing Stockholder"), and (ii) the Appointing Stockholder is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or a participant in any Proceeding relating to or arising by reason of Appointing Stockholder's position as a stockholder of, or lender to, the Company, or Appointing Stockholder's appointment of or affiliation with Indemnitee or any other director, including, without limitation, any alleged misappropriation of a Company asset or corporate opportunity, any claim of misappropriation or infringement of intellectual property relating to the Company, any alleged false or misleading statement or omission made by the Company (or on its behalf) or its employees or agents, or any allegation of inappropriate control or influence over the Company or its Board members, officers, equity holders or debt holders, then the Appointing Stockholder will be entitled to indemnification hereunder for Expenses to the same extent as Indemnitee, and the terms of this Agreement as they relate to procedures for indemnification of Indemnitee and advancement of Expenses shall apply to any such indemnification of Appointing Stockholder.

(e) Partial Indemnification. If Indemnitee is entitled under any provision of this Agreement to indemnification by the Company for some or a portion of Expenses, but not, however, for the total amount thereof, the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnitee for the portion thereof to which Indemnitee is entitled.

2. Additional Indemnity. In addition to, and without regard to any limitations on, the indemnification provided for in Section 1 of this Agreement, the Company shall and hereby does indemnify and hold harmless Indemnitee against all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, he or she is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (including a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company), including, without limitation, all liability arising out of the negligence or active or passive wrongdoing of Indemnitee. The only limitation that shall exist upon the Company's obligations pursuant to this Agreement shall be that the Company shall not be obligated to make any payment to Indemnitee that is finally determined (under the procedures, and subject to the presumptions, set forth in Sections 6 and 7 hereof) to be unlawful.

3. Contribution.

(a) Whether or not the indemnification provided in Sections 1 and 2 hereof is available, in respect of any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall pay, in the first instance, the entire amount of any judgment or settlement of such action, suit or proceeding without requiring Indemnitee to contribute to such payment and the Company hereby waives and relinquishes any right of contribution it may have against Indemnitee. The Company shall not enter into any settlement of any action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding) unless such settlement provides for a full and final release of all claims asserted against Indemnitee.

(b) Without diminishing or impairing the obligations of the Company set forth in the preceding subparagraph, if, for any reason, Indemnitee shall elect or be required to pay all or any portion of any judgment or settlement in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall contribute to the amount of Expenses, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred and paid or payable by Indemnitee in proportion to the relative benefits received by the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, from the transaction or events from which such action, suit or proceeding arose; provided, however, that the proportion determined on the basis of relative benefit may, to the extent necessary to conform to law, be further adjusted by reference to the relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company other than Indemnitee who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, in connection with the transaction or events that resulted in such expenses, judgments, fines or settlement amounts, as well as any other equitable considerations which applicable law may require to be considered. The relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the degree to which their actions were motivated by intent to gain personal profit or advantage, the degree to which their liability is primary or secondary and the degree to which their conduct is active or passive.

(c) The Company hereby agrees to fully indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless from any claims of contribution which may be brought by officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who may be jointly liable with Indemnitee.

(d) To the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, if the indemnification provided for in this Agreement is unavailable to Indemnitee for any reason whatsoever, the Company, in lieu of indemnifying Indemnitee, shall contribute to the amount incurred by Indemnitee, whether for judgments, fines, penalties, excise taxes, amounts paid or to be paid in settlement and/or for Expenses, in connection with any claim relating to an indemnifiable event under this Agreement, in such proportion as is deemed fair and reasonable in light of all of the circumstances of such Proceeding in order to reflect (i) the relative benefits received by the Company and Indemnitee as a result of the event(s) and/or transaction(s) giving cause to such Proceeding; and/or (ii) the relative fault of the Company (and its directors, officers, employees and agents) and Indemnitee in connection with such event(s) and/or transaction(s).

4. Indemnification for Expenses of a Witness. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, a witness, or is made (or asked) to respond to discovery requests, in any Proceeding to which Indemnitee is not a party, he shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection therewith.

5. Advancement of Expenses. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Company shall advance all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with any Proceeding by reason of Indemnitee's Corporate Status within thirty (30) days after the receipt by the Company of a statement or statements from Indemnitee requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall include or be preceded or accompanied by a written undertaking by or on behalf of Indemnitee to repay any Expenses advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses. Any advances and undertakings to repay pursuant to this Section 5 shall be unsecured and interest free.

6. Procedures and Presumptions for Determination of Entitlement to Indemnification. It is the intent of this Agreement to secure for Indemnitee rights of indemnity that are as favorable as may be permitted under the DGCL and public policy of the State of Delaware. Accordingly, the parties agree that the following procedures and presumptions shall apply in the event of any question as to whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement:

(a) To obtain indemnification under this Agreement, Indemnitee shall submit to the Company a written request, including therein or therewith such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnitee and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification. The Secretary of the Company shall, promptly upon receipt of such a request for indemnification, advise the Board in writing that Indemnitee has requested indemnification. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any failure of Indemnitee to provide such a request to the Company, or to provide such a request in a timely fashion, shall not relieve the Company of any liability that it may have to Indemnitee unless, and to the extent that, such failure actually and materially prejudices the interests of the Company.

(b) Upon written request by Indemnitee for indemnification pursuant to the first sentence of Section 6(a) hereof, a determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement thereto shall be made in the specific case by one of the following four methods, which shall be at the election of the Board: (1) by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (2) by a committee of disinterested directors designated by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (3) if there are no disinterested directors or if the disinterested directors so direct, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to the Indemnitee, or (4) if so directed by the Board, by the stockholders of the Company. For purposes hereof, disinterested directors are those members of the Board who are not parties to the action, suit or proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) If the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, the Independent Counsel shall be selected as provided in this Section 6(c). The Independent Counsel shall be selected by the Board. Indemnitee may, within ten (10) days after such written notice of selection shall have been given, deliver to the Company a written objection to such selection; provided, however, that such objection may be asserted only on the ground that the Independent Counsel so selected does not meet the requirements of "Independent Counsel" as defined in Section 13 of this Agreement, and the objection shall set forth with particularity the factual basis of such assertion. Absent a proper and timely objection, the person so selected shall act as Independent Counsel. If a written objection is made and substantiated, the Independent Counsel selected may not serve as Independent Counsel unless and until such objection is withdrawn or a court has determined that such objection is without merit. If, within twenty (20) days after submission by Indemnitee of a written request for indemnification pursuant to Section 6(a) hereof, no Independent Counsel shall have been selected and not objected to, either the Company or Indemnitee may petition the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or other court of competent jurisdiction for resolution of any objection which shall have been made by the Indemnitee to the Company's selection of Independent Counsel and/or for the appointment as Independent Counsel of a person selected by the court or by such other person as the court shall designate, and the person with respect to whom all objections are so resolved or the person so appointed shall act as Independent Counsel under Section 6(b) hereof. The Company shall pay any and all reasonable fees and expenses of Independent Counsel incurred by such Independent Counsel in connection with acting pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, and the Company shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses incident to the procedures of this Section 6(c), regardless of the manner in which such Independent Counsel was selected or appointed.

(d) In making a determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification hereunder, the person or persons or entity making such determination shall presume that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence. Neither the failure of the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of any action pursuant to this Agreement that indemnification is proper in the circumstances because Indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) that Indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that Indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct.

(e) Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in good faith if Indemnitee's action is based on the records or books of account of the Enterprise (as hereinafter defined), including financial statements, or on information supplied to Indemnitee by the officers of the Enterprise in the course of their duties, or on the advice of legal counsel for the Enterprise or on information or records given or reports made to the Enterprise by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser or other expert selected with reasonable care by the Enterprise. In addition, the knowledge and/or actions, or failure to act, of any director, officer, agent or employee of the Enterprise shall not be imputed to Indemnitee for purposes of determining the right to indemnification under this Agreement. Whether or not the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(e) are satisfied, it shall in any event be presumed that Indemnitee has at all times acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(f) If the person, persons or entity empowered or selected under Section 6 to determine whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification shall not have made a determination within sixty (60) days after receipt by the Company of the request therefor, the requisite determination of entitlement to indemnification shall be deemed to have been made and Indemnitee shall be entitled to such indemnification absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's statement not materially misleading, in connection with the request for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law; provided, however, that such sixty (60)-day period may be extended for a reasonable time, not to exceed an additional thirty (30) days, if the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification in good faith requires such additional time to obtain or evaluate documentation and/or information relating thereto; and provided, further, that the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(f) shall not apply if the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by the stockholders pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement and if (A) within fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Company of the request for such determination, the Board or the Disinterested Directors, if appropriate, resolve to submit such determination to the stockholders for their consideration at an annual meeting thereof to be held within seventy-five (75) days after such receipt and such determination is made thereat, or (B) a special meeting of stockholders is called within fifteen (15) days after such receipt for the purpose of making such determination, such meeting is held for such purpose within sixty (60) days after having been so called and such determination is made thereat.

(g) Indemnitee shall cooperate with the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification, including providing to such person, persons or entity upon reasonable advance request any documentation or information which is not privileged or otherwise protected from disclosure and which is reasonably available to Indemnitee and reasonably necessary to such determination. Any Independent Counsel, member of the Board or stockholder of the Company shall act reasonably and in good faith in making a determination regarding the Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement. Any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees and disbursements) incurred by Indemnitee in so cooperating with the person, persons or entity making such determination shall be borne by the Company (irrespective of the determination as to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification) and the Company hereby indemnifies and agrees to hold Indemnitee harmless therefrom.

(h) The Company acknowledges that a settlement or other disposition short of final judgment may be successful if it permits a party to avoid expense, delay, distraction, disruption and uncertainty. In the event that any action, suit or proceeding to which Indemnitee is a party is resolved in any manner other than by adverse judgment against Indemnitee (including, without limitation, settlement of such action, suit or proceeding with or without payment of money or other consideration) it shall be presumed that Indemnitee has been successful on the merits or otherwise in such action, suit or proceeding. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(i) The termination of any Proceeding or of any claim, issue or matter therein, by judgment, order, settlement or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement) of itself adversely affect the right of Indemnitee to indemnification or create a presumption that Indemnitee did not act in good faith and in a manner which he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company or, with respect to any criminal Proceeding, that Indemnitee had reasonable cause to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful.

7. Remedies of Indemnitee.

(a) In the event that (i) a determination is made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement, (ii) advancement of Expenses is not timely made pursuant to Section 5 of this Agreement, (iii) no determination of entitlement to indemnification is made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement within ninety (90) days after receipt by the Company of the request for indemnification, (iv) payment of indemnification is not made pursuant to this Agreement within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefor or (v) payment of indemnification is not made within ten (10) days after a determination has been made that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification or such determination is deemed to have been made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement, Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in an appropriate court of the State of Delaware, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, of Indemnitee's entitlement to such indemnification. Indemnitee shall commence such proceeding seeking an adjudication within one hundred eighty (180) days following the date on which Indemnitee first has the right to commence such proceeding pursuant to this Section 7(a). The Company shall not oppose Indemnitee's right to seek any such adjudication.

(b) In the event that a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 shall be conducted in all respects as a de novo trial on the merits, and Indemnitee shall not be prejudiced by reason of the adverse determination under Section 6(b).

(c) If a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification, the Company shall be bound by such determination in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's misstatement not materially misleading in connection with the application for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law.

(d) In the event that Indemnitee, pursuant to this Section 7, seeks a judicial adjudication of his or her rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Agreement, or to recover under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, the Company shall pay on his or her behalf, in advance, any and all expenses (of the types described in the definition of Expenses in Section 13 of this Agreement) actually and reasonably incurred by him or her in such judicial adjudication, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance recovery.

(e) The Company shall be precluded from asserting in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 that the procedures and presumptions of this Agreement are not valid, binding and enforceable and shall stipulate in any such court that the Company is bound by all the provisions of this Agreement. The Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against any and all Expenses and, if requested by Indemnitee, shall (within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefor) advance, to the extent not prohibited by law, such expenses to Indemnitee, which are incurred by Indemnitee in connection with any action brought by Indemnitee for indemnification or advance of Expenses from the Company under this Agreement or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, no determination as to entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement shall be required to be made prior to the final disposition of the Proceeding.

8. Non-Exclusivity; Survival of Rights; Insurance; Primacy of Indemnification; Subrogation.

(a) The rights of indemnification as provided by this Agreement shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which Indemnitee may at any time be entitled under applicable law, the Certificate of Incorporation, the By-laws, any agreement, a vote of stockholders, a resolution of directors of the Company, or otherwise. No amendment, alteration or repeal of this Agreement or of any provision hereof shall limit or restrict any right of Indemnitee under this Agreement in respect of any action taken or omitted by such Indemnitee in his or her Corporate Status prior to such amendment, alteration or repeal. To the extent that a change in the DGCL, whether by statute or judicial decision, permits greater indemnification than would be afforded currently under the Certificate of Incorporation, By-laws and this Agreement, it is the intent of the parties hereto that Indemnitee shall enjoy by this Agreement the greater benefits so afforded by such change. No right or remedy herein conferred is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every other right and remedy shall be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other right or remedy.

(b) To the extent that the Company maintains an insurance policy or policies providing liability insurance for directors, officers, employees, or agents or fiduciaries of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person serves at the request of the Company, Indemnitee shall be covered by such policy or policies in accordance with its or their terms to the maximum extent of the coverage available for any director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary under such policy or policies. If, at the time of the receipt of a notice of a claim pursuant to the terms hereof, the Company has directors' and officers' liability insurance in effect, the Company shall give prompt notice of the commencement of such proceeding to the insurers in accordance with the procedures set forth in the respective policies. The Company shall thereafter take all necessary or desirable action to cause such insurers to pay, on behalf of the Indemnitee, all amounts payable as a result of such proceeding in accordance with the terms of such policies.

(c) [The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by Investor and certain of its affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnitee are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnitee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall be liable for the full amount of all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Company (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnitee), without regard to any rights Indemnitee may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of Indemnitee with respect to any claim for which Indemnitee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee against the Company. The Company and Indemnitee agree that the Investor Indemnitors are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 8(c).]

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, in the event of any payment under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee [(other than against the Investor Indemnitors)], who shall execute all papers required and take all action necessary to secure such rights, including execution of such documents as are necessary to enable the Company to bring suit to enforce such rights.

(e) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment of amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder if and to the extent that Indemnitee has otherwise actually received such payment under any insurance policy, contract, agreement or otherwise.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the Company's obligation to indemnify or advance Expenses hereunder to Indemnitee who is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise shall be reduced by any amount Indemnitee has actually received as indemnification or advancement of expenses from such other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

9. Exception to Right of Indemnification. Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement, the Company shall not be obligated under this Agreement to make any indemnity in connection with any claim made against Indemnitee:

(a) for which payment has actually been made to or on behalf of Indemnitee under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision, except with respect to any excess beyond the amount paid under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision, provided, that the foregoing shall not affect the rights of Indemnitee [or the Investor Indemnitors set forth in Section 8(c) above]; or

(b) for (i) an accounting of profits made from the purchase and sale (or sale and purchase) by Indemnitee of securities of the Company within the meaning of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or similar provisions of state statutory law or common law, (ii) any reimbursement of the Company by the Indemnitee of any bonus or other incentive-based or equity-based compensation or of any profits realized by the Indemnitee from the sale of securities of the Company, as required in each case under the Exchange Act (including any such reimbursements that arise from an accounting restatement of the Company pursuant to Section 304 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "Sarbanes-Oxley Act"), or the payment to the Company of profits arising from the purchase and sale by Indemnitee of securities in violation of Section 306 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) or (iii) any reimbursement of the Company by Indemnitee of any compensation pursuant to any compensation recoupment or clawback policy adopted by the Board or the compensation committee of the Board, including but not limited to any such policy adopted to comply with stock exchange listing requirements implementing Section 10D of the Exchange Act; or

(c) except as provided in Section 7(e) of this Agreement, in connection with any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee, including any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee against the Company or its directors, officers, employees or other indemnitees, unless (i) the Board authorized the Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) prior to its initiation, (ii) such payment arises in connection with any mandatory counterclaim or cross claim brought or raised by Indemnitee in any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) or (iii) the Company provides the indemnification, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the Company under applicable law.

10. Duration of Agreement. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period Indemnitee is an officer and/or a director of the Company (or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise) and shall continue thereafter so long as Indemnitee shall be subject to any Proceeding (or any proceeding commenced under Section 7 hereof) by reason of his or her Corporate Status, whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives.

11. Security. To the extent requested by Indemnitee and approved by the Board, the Company may at any time and from time to time provide security to Indemnitee for the Company's obligations hereunder through an irrevocable bank line of credit, funded trust or other collateral. Any such security, once provided to Indemnitee, may not be revoked or released without the prior written consent of the Indemnitee.

12. Enforcement.

(a) The Company expressly confirms and agrees that it has entered into this Agreement and assumes the obligations imposed on it hereby in order to induce Indemnitee to serve as an officer and/or a director of the Company, and the Company acknowledges that Indemnitee is relying upon this Agreement in serving as an officer and/or a director of the Company.

(b) This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(c) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnitee's rights to receive advancement of expenses under this Agreement.

13. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person is or was serving at the express written request of the Company.

(b) "Disinterested Director" means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) "Enterprise" shall mean the Company and any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that Indemnitee is or was serving at the express written request of the Company as a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary.

(d) "Expenses" shall include all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed on the Indemnitee as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement, ERISA excise taxes and penalties, and all other disbursements or expenses of the types customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, participating, or being or preparing to be a witness in a Proceeding, or responding to, or objecting to, a request to provide discovery in any Proceeding. Expenses also shall include (i) Expenses incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Proceeding, including, without limitation, the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersedeas bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent (ii) Expenses incurred in connection with recovery under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee is ultimately determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement or Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be, and (iii) for purposes of Section 7(e) only, Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in connection with the interpretation, enforcement or defense of Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement, the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, by litigation or otherwise. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnitee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnitee.

(e) "Independent Counsel" means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently is, nor in the past five years has been, retained to represent: (i) the Company or Indemnitee, or any of their respective affiliates in any matter material to either such party (other than with respect to matters concerning Indemnitee under this Agreement, or of other indemnitees under similar indemnification agreements), or (ii) any other party to the Proceeding giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Independent Counsel" shall not include any person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnitee in an action to determine Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement. The Company agrees to pay the reasonable fees of the Independent Counsel referred to above and to fully indemnify such counsel against any and all Expenses, claims, liabilities and damages arising out of or relating to this Agreement or its engagement pursuant hereto.

(f) "Proceeding" includes any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, claim, counterclaim, cross claim, arbitration, mediation, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, investigation, inquiry, administrative hearing or any other actual, threatened or completed proceeding, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise and whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, including any appeal therefrom, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, by reason of any action taken by him or her, or of any inaction on his or her part, while acting in his or her Corporate Status; in each case whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification, reimbursement or advancement of expenses can be provided under this Agreement; including one pending on or before the date of this Agreement, but excluding one initiated by an Indemnitee pursuant to Section 7 of this Agreement to enforce his or her rights under this Agreement.

14. Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision. Further, the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof as to either Indemnitee or Appointing Stockholder shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any provision hereof as to the other. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this Agreement is intended to confer upon Indemnitee and Appointing Stockholder indemnification rights to the fullest extent permitted by applicable laws. In the event any provision hereof conflicts with any applicable law, such provision shall be deemed modified, consistent with the aforementioned intent, to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict.

15. Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, termination or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar) nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver.

16. Notice By Indemnitee. Indemnitee agrees promptly to notify the Company in writing upon being served with or otherwise receiving any summons, citation, subpoena, complaint, indictment, information or other document relating to any Proceeding or matter which may be subject to indemnification covered hereunder. The failure to so notify the Company shall not relieve the Company of any obligation which it may have to Indemnitee under this Agreement or otherwise unless and only to the extent that such failure or delay materially prejudices the Company.

17. Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given: (a) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not so confirmed, then on the next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent:

(a) To Indemnitee at the address set forth below Indemnitee signature hereto.

(b) To the Company at:

RepNuCo, Inc.
10210 Campus Point Dr. #150
San Diego, CA 92121
Attn: President

or to such other address as may have been furnished to Indemnitee by the Company or to the Company by Indemnitee, as the case may be.

18. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement may also be executed and delivered by facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

19. Headings. The headings of the paragraphs of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute part of this Agreement or to affect the construction thereof.

20. Governing Law and Consent to Jurisdiction. This Agreement and the legal relations among the parties shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws rules. The Company and Indemnitee hereby irrevocably and unconditionally (i) agree that any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be brought only in the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Court"), and not in any other state or federal court in the United States of America or any court in any other country, (ii) consent to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Delaware Court for purposes of any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement, (iii) waive any objection to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Delaware Court, and (iv) waive, and agree not to plead or to make, any claim that any such action or proceeding brought in the Delaware Court has been brought in an improper or inconvenient forum.

REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of February 4, 2021, by and among Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and each of the investors listed on Schedule A hereto, each of which is referred to in this Agreement as an "Investor."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company and the Investors are parties to that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement of even date herewith (the "Purchase Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, in order to induce the Company to enter into the Purchase Agreement and to induce the Investors to invest funds in the Company pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Investors and the Company hereby agree that this Agreement shall govern the rights of the Investors to cause the Company to register shares of Common Stock issuable to the Investors, to receive certain information from the Company, and to participate in future equity offerings by the Company, and shall govern certain other matters as set forth in this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including without limitation any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment adviser of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Certificate of Incorporation" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.4 "Common Stock" means shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.001 per share.

1.5 "Competitor" means a Person engaged, directly or indirectly (including through any partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture or similar arrangement (whether now existing or formed hereafter)), in a business that competes with the business of the Company, but shall not include any financial investment firm or collective investment vehicle that, together with its Affiliates, holds less than twenty percent (20%) of the outstanding equity of any Competitor and does not, nor do any of its Affiliates, have a right to designate any members of the board of directors of any Competitor.

1.6 "Damages" means any loss, damage, claim or liability (joint or several) to which a party hereto may become subject under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or other federal or state law, insofar as such loss, damage, claim or liability (or any action in respect thereof) arises out of or is based upon: (i) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any registration statement of the Company, including any preliminary prospectus or final prospectus contained therein or any amendments or supplements thereto; (ii) an omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein, or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; or (iii) any violation or alleged violation by the indemnifying party (or any of its agents or Affiliates) of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, any state securities law, or any rule or regulation promulgated under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or any state securities law.

1.7 "Derivative Securities" means any securities or rights convertible into, or exercisable or exchangeable for (in each case, directly or indirectly), Common Stock, including options and warrants.

1.9 "Excluded Registration" means (i) a registration relating to the sale or grant of securities to employees of the Company or a subsidiary pursuant to a stock option, stock purchase, equity incentive or similar plan; (ii) a registration relating to an SEC Rule 145 transaction; (iii) a registration on any form that does not include substantially the same information as would be required to be included in a registration statement covering the sale of the Registrable Securities; or (iv) a registration in which the only Common Stock being registered is Common Stock issuable upon conversion of debt securities that are also being registered.

1.10 "FOIA Party" means a Person that, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, may be subject to, and thereby required to disclose non-public information furnished by or relating to the Company under, the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552 ("FOIA"), any state public records access law, any state or other jurisdiction's laws similar in intent or effect to FOIA, or any other similar statutory or regulatory requirement.

1.11 "Form S-1" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC.

1.12 "Form S-3" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC that permits forward incorporation of substantial information by reference to other documents filed by the Company with the SEC.

1.13 "GAAP" means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States as in effect from time to time.

1.14 "Holder" means any holder of Registrable Securities who is a party to this Agreement.

1.15 "Immediate Family Member" means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law, including, adoptive relationships, of a natural person referred to herein.

1.16 "Initiating Holders" means, collectively, Holders who properly initiate a registration request under this Agreement.

1.17 "IPO" means the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock under the Securities Act.

1.18 "Major Investor" means any Investor that, individually or together with such Investor's Affiliates, holds at least 1,000,000 shares of Registrable Securities (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof).

1.19 "New Securities" means, collectively, equity securities of the Company, whether or not currently authorized, as well as rights, options, or warrants to purchase such equity securities, or securities of any type whatsoever that are, or may become, convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for such equity securities.

1.20 "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

1.21 "Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock.

1.22 "Registrable Securities" means (i) the Common Stock issuable or issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock; (ii) any Common Stock, or any Common Stock issued or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise of any other securities of the Company, acquired by the Investors after the date hereof; and (iii) any Common Stock issued as (or issuable upon the conversion or exercise of any warrant, right, or other security that is issued as) a dividend or other distribution with respect to, or in exchange for or in replacement of, the shares referenced in clauses (i) and (ii) above; excluding in all cases, however, any Registrable Securities sold by a Person in a transaction in which the applicable rights under this Agreement are not assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.1, and excluding for purposes of Section 2 any shares for which registration rights have terminated pursuant to Subsection 2.13 of this Agreement.

1.23 "Registrable Securities then outstanding" means the number of shares determined by adding the number of shares of outstanding Common Stock that are Registrable Securities and the number of shares of Common Stock issuable (directly or indirectly) pursuant to then exercisable and/or convertible securities that are Registrable Securities.

1.24 "Restricted Securities" means the securities of the Company required to be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b) hereof.

1.25 "SEC" means the Securities and Exchange Commission.

1.27 "SEC Rule 145" means Rule 145 promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act.

1.28 "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

1.29 "Selling Expenses" means all underwriting discounts, selling commissions, and stock transfer taxes applicable to the sale of Registrable Securities, and fees and disbursements of counsel for any Holder, except for the fees and disbursements of the Selling Holder Counsel borne and paid by the Company as provided in Subsection 2.6.

1.30 "Series A Directors" shall have the meaning set forth in the Certificate of Incorporation.

1.31 "Series A Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share.

2. Registration Rights. The Company covenants and agrees as follows:

2.1 Demand Registration.

(a) Form S-1 Demand. If at any time after one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of the registration statement for the IPO the Company receives a request from Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-1 registration statement with respect to at least forty percent (40%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, then the Company shall (x) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give notice thereof (the "Demand Notice") to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (y) as soon as practicable, and in any event within sixty (60) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-1 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities that the Initiating Holders requested to be registered and any additional Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(b) Form S-3 Demand. If at any time when it is eligible to use a Form S-3 registration statement, the Company receives a request from Holders of at least thirty percent (30%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-3 registration statement with respect to outstanding Registrable Securities of such Holders having an anticipated aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, of at least $5 million, then the Company shall (i) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give a Demand Notice to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (ii) as soon as practicable, and in any event within forty-five (45) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-3 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing obligations, if the Company furnishes to Holders requesting a registration pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 a certificate signed by the Company's chief executive officer stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors it would be materially detrimental to the Company for such registration statement to either become effective or remain effective for as long as such registration statement otherwise would be required to remain effective, because such action would (i) materially interfere with a significant acquisition, corporate reorganization, or other similar transaction involving the Company; (ii) require premature disclosure of material information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential; or (iii) render the Company unable to comply with requirements under the Securities Act or Exchange Act, then the Company shall have the right to defer taking action with respect to such filing, and any time periods with respect to filing or effectiveness thereof shall be tolled correspondingly, for a period of not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the request of the Initiating Holders is given; provided, however, that the Company may not invoke this right more than once in any twelve (12) month period and provided further that the Company shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such one hundred twenty (120) day period other than an Excluded Registration.

(d) The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) (i) during the period that is sixty (60) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; (ii) after the Company has effected one registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a); or (iii) if the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities that may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b). The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) (i) during the period that is thirty (30) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is ninety (90) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; or (ii) if the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) within the twelve (12) month period immediately preceding the date of such request. A registration shall not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d) until such time as the applicable registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC, unless the Initiating Holders withdraw their request for such registration, elect not to pay the registration expenses therefor, and forfeit their right to one demand registration statement pursuant to Subsection 2.6, in which case such withdrawn registration statement shall be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d); provided, that if such withdrawal is during a period the Company has deferred taking action pursuant to Subsection 2.1(c), then the Initiating Holders may withdraw their request for registration and such registration will not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d).

2.2 Company Registration. If the Company proposes to register (including, for this purpose, a registration effected by the Company for stockholders other than the Holders) any of its Common Stock under the Securities Act in connection with the public offering of such securities solely for cash (other than in an Excluded Registration), the Company shall, at such time, promptly give each Holder notice of such registration. Upon the request of each Holder given within twenty (20) days after such notice is given by the Company, the Company shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, cause to be registered all of the Registrable Securities that each such Holder has requested to be included in such registration. The Company shall have the right to terminate or withdraw any registration initiated by it under this Subsection 2.2 before the effective date of such registration, whether or not any Holder has elected to include Registrable Securities in such registration. The expenses (other than Selling Expenses) of such withdrawn registration shall be borne by the Company in accordance with Subsection 2.6.

2.3 Underwriting Requirements.

(a) If, pursuant to Subsection 2.1, the Initiating Holders intend to distribute the Registrable Securities covered by their request by means of an underwriting, they shall so advise the Company as a part of their request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and the Company shall include such information in the Demand Notice. The underwriter(s) will be selected by the Company and shall be reasonably acceptable to a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders. In such event, the right of any Holder to include such Holder's Registrable Securities in such registration shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company as provided in Subsection 2.4(e)) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the underwriter(s) selected for such underwriting. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection 2.3, if the underwriter(s) advise(s) the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, then the Initiating Holders shall so advise all Holders of Registrable Securities that otherwise would be underwritten pursuant hereto, and the number of Registrable Securities that may be included in the underwriting shall be allocated among such Holders of Registrable Securities, including the Initiating Holders, in proportion (as nearly as practicable) to the number of Registrable Securities owned by each Holder or in such other proportion as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders; provided, however, that the number of Registrable Securities held by the Holders to be included in such underwriting shall not be reduced unless all other securities are first entirely excluded from the underwriting. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares.

(b) In connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to Subsection 2.2, the Company shall not be required to include any of the Holders' Registrable Securities in such underwriting unless the Holders accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and its underwriters, and then only in such quantity as the underwriters in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering by the Company. If the total number of securities, including Registrable Securities, requested by stockholders to be included in such offering exceeds the number of securities to be sold (other than by the Company) that the underwriters in their reasonable discretion determine is compatible with the success of the offering, then the Company shall be required to include in the offering only that number of such securities, including Registrable Securities, which the underwriters and the Company in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering. If the underwriters determine that less than all of the Registrable Securities requested to be registered can be included in such offering, then the Registrable Securities that are included in such offering shall be allocated among the selling Holders in proportion (as nearly as practicable to) the number of Registrable Securities owned by each selling Holder or in such other proportions as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall (i) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced unless all other securities (other than securities to be sold by the Company) are first entirely excluded from the offering, or (ii) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced below twenty percent (20%) of the total number of securities included in such offering, unless such offering is the IPO, in which case the selling Holders may be excluded further if the underwriters make the determination described above and no other stockholder's securities are included in such offering. For purposes of the provision in this Subsection 2.3(b) concerning apportionment, for any selling Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, the partners, members, retired partners, retired members, stockholders, and Affiliates of such Holder, or the estates and Immediate Family Members of any such partners, retired partners, members, and retired members and any trusts for the benefit of any of the foregoing Persons, shall be deemed to be a single "selling Holder," and any pro rata reduction with respect to such "selling Holder" shall be based upon the aggregate number of Registrable Securities owned by all Persons included in such "selling Holder," as defined in this sentence.

2.4 Obligations of the Company. Whenever required under this Section 2 to effect the registration of any Registrable Securities, the Company shall, as expeditiously as reasonably possible:

(a) prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to such Registrable Securities and use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective and, upon the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities registered thereunder, keep such registration statement effective for a period of up to one hundred twenty (120) days or, if earlier, until the distribution contemplated in the registration statement has been completed; provided, however, that such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains, at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, from selling any securities included in such registration;

(b) prepare and file with the SEC such amendments and supplements to such registration statement, and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement, as may be necessary to comply with the Securities Act in order to enable the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) furnish to the selling Holders such numbers of copies of a prospectus, including a preliminary prospectus, as required by the Securities Act, and such other documents as the Holders may reasonably request in order to facilitate their disposition of their Registrable Securities;

(d) use its commercially reasonable efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or blue-sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the selling Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(e) in the event of any underwritten public offering, enter into and perform its obligations under an underwriting agreement, in usual and customary form, with the underwriter(s) of such offering;

(f) use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause all such Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement to be listed on a national securities exchange or trading system and each securities exchange and trading system (if any) on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(g) provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Agreement and provide a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration;

(h) promptly make available for inspection by the selling Holders, any underwriter(s) participating in any disposition pursuant to such registration statement, and any attorney or accountant or other agent retained by any such underwriter or selected by the selling Holders, all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents, and properties of the Company, and cause the Company's officers, directors, employees, and independent accountants to supply all information reasonably requested by any such seller, underwriter, attorney, accountant, or agent, in each case, as necessary or advisable to verify the accuracy of the information in such registration statement and to conduct appropriate due diligence in connection therewith;

(i) notify each selling Holder, promptly after the Company receives notice thereof, of the time when such registration statement has been declared effective or a supplement to any prospectus forming a part of such registration statement has been filed; and

(j) after such registration statement becomes effective, notify each selling Holder of any request by the SEC that the Company amend or supplement such registration statement or prospectus.

In addition, the Company shall ensure that, at all times after any registration statement covering a public offering of securities of the Company under the Securities Act shall have become effective, its insider trading policy shall provide that the Company's directors may implement a trading program under Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act.

2.5 Furnish Information. It shall be a condition precedent to the obligations of the Company to take any action pursuant to this Section 2 with respect to the Registrable Securities of any selling Holder that such Holder shall furnish to the Company such information regarding itself, the Registrable Securities held by it, and the intended method of disposition of such securities as is reasonably required to effect the registration of such Holder's Registrable Securities.

2.6 Expenses of Registration. All expenses (other than Selling Expenses) incurred in connection with registrations, filings, or qualifications pursuant to Section 2, including all registration, filing, and qualification fees; printers' and accounting fees; fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company; and the reasonable fees and disbursements, not to exceed $50,000, of one counsel for the selling Holders ("Selling Holder Counsel"), shall be borne and paid by the Company; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to pay for any expenses of any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Subsection 2.1 if the registration request is subsequently withdrawn at the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities to be registered (in which case all selling Holders shall bear such expenses pro rata based upon the number of Registrable Securities that were to be included in the withdrawn registration), unless the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities agree to forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b), as the case may be. All Selling Expenses relating to Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Section 2 shall be borne and paid by the Holders pro rata on the basis of the number of Registrable Securities registered on their behalf.

2.7 Delay of Registration. No Holder shall have any right to obtain or seek an injunction restraining or otherwise delaying any registration pursuant to this Agreement as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 2.

2.8 Indemnification. If any Registrable Securities are included in a registration statement under this Section 2:

(a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company will indemnify and hold harmless each selling Holder, and the partners, members, officers, directors, and stockholders of each such Holder; legal counsel and accountants for each such Holder; any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act) for each such Holder; and each Person, if any, who controls such Holder or underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, against any Damages, and the Company will pay to each such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, nor shall the Company be liable for any Damages to the extent that they arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of any such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person expressly for use in connection with such registration.

(b) To the extent permitted by law, each selling Holder, severally and not jointly, will indemnify and hold harmless the Company, and each of its directors, each of its officers who has signed the registration statement, each Person (if any), who controls the Company within the meaning of the Securities Act, legal counsel and accountants for the Company, any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act), any other Holder selling securities in such registration statement, and any controlling Person of any such underwriter or other Holder, against any Damages, in each case only to the extent that such Damages arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of such selling Holder expressly for use in connection with such registration; and each such selling Holder will pay to the Company and each other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Holder, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided further that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by any Holder by way of indemnity or contribution under Subsections 2.8(b) and 2.8(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by such Holder.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Subsection 2.8, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8, to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Subsection 2.8.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Subsection 2.8 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Subsection 2.8 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Subsection 2.8, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) no Holder will be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by such Holder pursuant to such registration statement, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall a Holder's liability pursuant to this Subsection 2.8(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by such Holder pursuant to Subsection 2.8(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by such Holder.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Company and Holders under this Subsection 2.8 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Section 2, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

2.9 Reports Under Exchange Act. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of SEC Rule 144 and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell securities of the Company to the public without registration or pursuant to a registration on Form S-3, the Company shall:

(a) use commercially reasonable efforts to make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in SEC Rule 144, at all times after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO;

(b) use commercially reasonable efforts to file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements); and

(c) furnish to any Holder, so long as the Holder owns any Registrable Securities, forthwith upon request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of SEC Rule 144 (at any time after ninety (90) days after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO), the Securities Act, and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements), or that it qualifies as a registrant whose securities may be resold pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies); and (ii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration (at any time after the Company has become subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act) or pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies to use such form).

2.10 Limitations on Subsequent Registration Rights. From and after the date of this Agreement, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, enter into any agreement with any holder or prospective holder of any securities of the Company that would provide to such holder or prospective holder the right to include securities in any registration on other than either a pro rata basis with respect to the Registrable Securities or on a subordinate basis after all Holders have had the opportunity to include in the registration and offering all shares of Registrable Securities that they wish to so include; provided that this limitation shall not apply to Registrable Securities acquired by any additional Investor that becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9.

2.11 "Market Stand-off" Agreement. Each Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the registration by the Company of shares of its Common Stock or any other equity securities under the Securities Act on a registration statement on Form S-1, and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days in the case of the IPO, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports, and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right, or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for Common Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Holder or are thereafter acquired) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such securities, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.11 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Holder or the immediate family of the Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall be applicable to the Holders only if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with such registration are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 2.11 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with such registration that are consistent with this Subsection 2.11 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

2.12 Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) The Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities shall not be sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred, and the Company shall not recognize and shall issue stop-transfer instructions to its transfer agent with respect to any such sale, pledge, or transfer, except upon the conditions specified in this Agreement, which conditions are intended to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act. A transferring Holder will cause any proposed purchaser, pledgee, or transferee of the Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities held by such Holder to agree to take and hold such securities subject to the provisions and upon the conditions specified in this Agreement.

(b) Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing (i) the Preferred Stock, (ii) the Registrable Securities, and (iii) any other securities issued in respect of the securities referenced in clauses (i) and (ii), upon any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or similar event, shall (unless otherwise permitted by the provisions of Subsection 2.12(c)) be notated with a legend substantially in the following form:

> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE STOCKHOLDER, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY.

The Holders consent to the Company making a notation in its records and giving instructions to any transfer agent of the Restricted Securities in order to implement the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Subsection 2.12.

(c) The holder of such Restricted Securities, by acceptance of ownership thereof, agrees to comply in all respects with the provisions of this Section 2. Before any proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of any Restricted Securities, unless there is in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering the proposed transaction, the Holder thereof shall give notice to the Company of such Holder's intention to effect such sale, pledge, or transfer. Each such notice shall describe the manner and circumstances of the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer in sufficient detail and, if reasonably requested by the Company, shall be accompanied at such Holder's expense by either (i) a written opinion of legal counsel who shall, and whose legal opinion shall, be reasonably satisfactory to the Company, addressed to the Company, to the effect that the proposed transaction may be effected without registration under the Securities Act; (ii) a "no action" letter from the SEC to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of such Restricted Securities without registration will not result in a recommendation by the staff of the SEC that action be taken with respect thereto; or (iii) any other evidence reasonably satisfactory to counsel to the Company to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of the Restricted Securities may be effected without registration under the Securities Act, whereupon the Holder of such Restricted Securities shall be entitled to sell, pledge, or transfer such Restricted Securities in accordance with the terms of the notice given by the Holder to the Company. The Company will not require such a legal opinion or "no action" letter (x) in any transaction in compliance with SEC Rule 144; or (y) in any transaction in which such Holder distributes Restricted Securities to an Affiliate of such Holder for no consideration; provided that each transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Subsection 2.12. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Restricted Securities transferred as above provided shall be notated with, except if such transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the appropriate restrictive legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b), except that such certificate instrument, or book entry shall not be notated with such restrictive legend if, in the opinion of counsel for such Holder and the Company, such legend is not required in order to establish compliance with any provisions of the Securities Act.

2.13 Termination of Registration Rights. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion of Registrable Securities in any registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1 or 2.2 shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation;

(b) such time after consummation of the IPO as Rule 144 or another similar exemption under the Securities Act is available for the sale of all of such Holder's shares without limitation during a three-month period without registration;

(c) the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the IPO.

3. Information Rights.

3.1 Delivery of Financial Statements. The Company shall deliver to each Major Investor, provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company:

(a) as soon as practicable, but in any event within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (i) a balance sheet as of the end of such year, (ii) statements of income and of cash flows for such year, and a comparison between (x) the actual amounts as of and for such fiscal year and (y) the comparable amounts for the prior year and as included in the Budget (as defined in Subsection 3.1(e)) for such year, with an explanation of any material differences between such amounts and a schedule as to the sources and applications of funds for such year, and (iii) a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such year, all such financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP and audited and certified by independent public accounts of nationally recognized standing selected by the Company;

(b) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, unaudited statements of income and cash flows for such fiscal quarter, and an unaudited balance sheet and a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such fiscal quarter, all prepared in accordance with GAAP and in a form which shall be reasonably acceptable to the Major Investors (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments; and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(c) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, a statement showing the number of shares of each class and series of capital stock and securities convertible into or exercisable for shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the period, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exercise of any outstanding securities convertible or exercisable for Common Stock and the exchange ratio or exercise price applicable thereto, and the number of shares of issued stock options and stock options not yet issued but reserved for issuance, if any, all in sufficient detail as to permit the Major Investors to calculate their respective percentage equity ownership in the Company, and certified by the chief financial officer or chief executive officer of the Company as being true, complete, and correct;

(d) as soon as practicable, but in any event within thirty (30) days of the end of each month, an unaudited income statement and statement of cash flows for such month, and an unaudited balance sheet and statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such month, all prepared in accordance with GAAP and in a form which shall be reasonably acceptable to the Major Investors (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP); and

(e) as soon as practicable, but in any event thirty (30) days before the end of each fiscal year, a budget and business plan for the next fiscal year (collectively, the "Budget"), approved by the Board of Directors (including a majority of the Series A Directors) and prepared on a monthly basis, including balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flow for such months and, promptly after prepared, any other budgets or revised budgets prepared by the Company;

(f) such other information relating to the financial condition, business, prospects, or corporate affairs of the Company as any Major Investor may from time to time reasonably request; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated under this Subsection 3.1 to provide information (i) that the Company reasonably determines in good faith to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in a form acceptable to the Company); or (ii) the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel; and

(g) with respect to the financial statements called for in Subsection 3.1(a), Subsection 3.1(b) and Subsection 3.1(d), an instrument executed by the chief financial officer and chief executive officer of the Company certifying that such financial statements were prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied with prior practice for earlier periods (except as otherwise set forth in Subsection 3.1(b) and Subsection 3.1(d)) and fairly present the financial condition of the Company and its results of operation for the periods specified therein.

If, for any period, the Company has any subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with those of the Company, then in respect of such period the financial statements delivered pursuant to the foregoing sections shall be the consolidated and consolidating financial statements of the Company and all such consolidated subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Subsection 3.1 to the contrary, the Company may cease providing the information set forth in this Subsection 3.1 during the period starting with the date sixty (60) days before the Company's good-faith estimate of the date of filing of a registration statement if it reasonably concludes it must do so to comply with the SEC rules applicable to such registration statement and related offering; provided that the Company's covenants under this Subsection 3.1 shall be reinstated at such time as the Company is no longer actively employing its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective.

3.2 Inspection. The Company shall permit each Major Investor (provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company), at such Major Investor's expense, to visit and inspect the Company's properties; examine its books of account and records; and discuss the Company's affairs, finances, and accounts with its officers, during normal business hours of the Company as may be reasonably requested by the Major Investor; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Subsection 3.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably and in good faith considers to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in form acceptable to the Company) or the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel.

3.3 Termination of Information Rights. The covenants set forth in Subsection 3.1 and Subsection 3.2 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

3.4 Confidentiality. Each Investor agrees that such Investor will keep confidential and will not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including notice of the Company's intention to file a registration statement), unless such confidential information (a) is known or becomes known to the public in general (other than as a result of a breach of this Subsection 3.4 by such Investor), (b) is or has been independently developed or conceived by such Investor without use of the Company's confidential information, or (c) is or has been made known or disclosed to such Investor by a third party without a breach of any obligation of confidentiality such third party may have to the Company; provided, however, that an Investor may disclose confidential information (i) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring its investment in the Company; (ii) to any prospective purchaser of any Registrable Securities from such Investor, if such prospective purchaser agrees to be bound by the provisions of this Subsection 3.4; (iii) to any Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, or wholly owned subsidiary of such Investor in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Investor informs such Person that such information is confidential and directs such Person to maintain the confidentiality of such information; or (iv) as may otherwise be required by law, regulation, rule, court order or subpoena, provided that such Investor promptly notifies the Company of such disclosure and takes reasonable steps to minimize the extent of any such required disclosure.

4. Rights to Future Stock Issuances.

4.1 Right of First Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 4.1 and applicable securities laws, if the Company proposes to offer or sell any New Securities, the Company shall first offer such New Securities to each Major Investor. A Major Investor shall be entitled to apportion the right of first offer hereby granted to it in such proportions as it deems appropriate, among (i) itself and (ii) its Affiliates; provided that each such Affiliate (x) is not a FOIA Party, unless such party's purchase of New Securities is otherwise consented to by the Board of Directors, (y) agrees to enter into this Agreement and each of the Voting Agreement and Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement of even date herewith among the Company, the Investors and the other parties named therein, as an "Investor" under each such agreement (provided that any FOIA Party shall not be entitled to any rights as a Major Investor under Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 4.1 hereof), and (z) agrees to purchase at least such number of New Securities as are allocable hereunder to the Major Investor holding the fewest number of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities.

(a) The Company shall give notice (the "Offer Notice") to each Major Investor, stating (i) its bona fide intention to offer such New Securities, (ii) the number of such New Securities to be offered, and (iii) the price and terms, if any, upon which it proposes to offer such New Securities.

(b) By written notification to the Company within twenty (20) days after the Offer Notice is given, each Major Investor may elect to purchase or otherwise acquire, at the price and on the terms specified in the Offer Notice, up to that portion of such New Securities which equals the proportion that the Common Stock then held by such Major Investor (including all shares of Common Stock then issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by such Major Investor) bears to the total Common Stock of the Company then outstanding (assuming full conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of all Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then outstanding). At the expiration of such twenty (20) day period, the Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor that elects to purchase or acquire all the shares available to it (each, a "Fully Exercising Investor") of any other Major Investor's failure to do likewise. During the ten (10) day period commencing after the Company has given such notice, each Fully Exercising Investor may, by giving notice to the Company, elect to purchase or acquire, in addition to the number of shares specified above, up to that portion of the New Securities for which Major Investors were entitled to subscribe but that were not subscribed for by the Major Investors which is equal to the proportion that the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by such Fully Exercising Investor bears to the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by all Fully Exercising Investors who wish to purchase such unsubscribed shares. The closing of any sale pursuant to this Subsection 4.1(b) shall occur within the later of ninety (90) days of the date that the Offer Notice is given and the date of initial sale of New Securities pursuant to Subsection 4.1(c).

(c) If all New Securities referred to in the Offer Notice are not elected to be purchased or acquired as provided in Subsection 4.1(b), the Company may, during the ninety (90) day period following the expiration of the periods provided in Subsection 4.1(b), offer and sell the remaining unsubscribed portion of such New Securities to any Person or Persons at a price not less than, and upon terms no more favorable to the offeree than, those specified in the Offer Notice. If the Company does not enter into an agreement for the sale of the New Securities within such period, or if such agreement is not consummated within thirty (30) days of the execution thereof, the right provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and such New Securities shall not be offered unless first reoffered to the Major Investors in accordance with this Subsection 4.1.

(d) The right of first offer in this Subsection 4.1 shall not be applicable to (i) Exempted Securities (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation); (ii) all shares of Series A preferred stock of the Company issuable by the Company under the Purchase Agreement; and (iii) shares of Common Stock issued in the IPO.

4.2 Termination. The covenants set forth in Subsection 4.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

5. Additional Covenants.

5.1 Insurance. The Company shall obtain, within ninety (90) days of the date hereof, from a financially sound and reputable insurer Directors and Officers liability insurance, in an amount and on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Board of Directors, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause such insurance policy to be maintained until such time as the Board of Directors determines that such insurance should be discontinued. The policy shall not be cancelable by the Company without prior approval by the Board of Directors.

5.2 Employee Agreements. The Company will cause each Person now or hereafter employed by it or by any subsidiary (or engaged by the Company or any subsidiary as a consultant/independent contractor) with access to confidential information and/or trade secrets to enter into a nondisclosure and proprietary rights assignment agreement.

5.3 Employee Stock. Unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, all future employees and consultants of the Company who purchase, receive options to purchase, or receive awards of shares of the Company's capital stock after the date hereof shall be required to execute restricted stock or option agreements, as applicable, providing for (i) vesting of shares over a four (4) year period, with the first twenty-five percent (25%) of such shares vesting following twelve (12) months of continued employment or service, and the remaining shares vesting in equal monthly installments over the following thirty-six (36) months, and (ii) a market stand-off provision substantially similar to that in Subsection 2.11.Without the prior approval by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A Directors, the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any stock purchase, stock restriction or option agreement with any existing employee or service provider if such amendment would cause it to be inconsistent with this Subsection 5.3. In addition, unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Series A Directors, the Company shall retain (and not waive) a "right of first refusal" on employee transfers until the Company's IPO and shall have the right to repurchase unvested shares at cost upon termination of employment of a holder of restricted stock.

5.4 Qualified Small Business Stock. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the shares of Preferred Stock issued pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, as well as any shares into which such shares are converted, within the meaning of Section 1202(f) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code; provided, however, that such requirement shall not be applicable if the Board of Directors of the Company determines, in its good-faith business judgment, that such qualification is inconsistent with the best interests of the Company. The Company shall submit to its stockholders (including the Investors) and to the Internal Revenue Service any reports that may be required under Section 1202(d)(1)(C) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in no event shall the Company be liable to its stockholders (including the Investors) for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

5.5 Matters Requiring Investor Director Approval. So long as the holders of Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to elect a Series A Director, the Company hereby covenants and agrees with each of the Investors that it shall not, without approval of the Board of Directors, which approval must include the affirmative vote of the Series A Directors:

(a) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to, or own any stock or other securities of, any subsidiary or other corporation, partnership, or other entity unless it is wholly owned by the Company;

(b) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to any Person, including, without limitation, any employee or director of the Company or any subsidiary, except advances and similar expenditures in the ordinary course of business or under the terms of an employee stock or option plan approved by the Board of Directors;

(c) guarantee, directly or indirectly, or permit any subsidiary to guarantee, directly or indirectly, any indebtedness except for trade accounts of the Company or any subsidiary arising in the ordinary course of business;

(d) make any investment inconsistent with any investment policy approved by the Board of Directors;

(e) otherwise enter into or be a party to any transaction with any director, officer, or employee of the Company or any "associate" (as defined in Rule 12b-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of any such Person, including without limitation any "management bonus" or similar plan providing payments to employees in connection with a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, except for transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Purchase Agreement and the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, by and between the Company and the parties noted therein, dated as of even date herewith, or transactions made in the ordinary course of business and pursuant to reasonable requirements of the Company's business and upon fair and reasonable terms that are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors;

(f) hire, terminate, or change the compensation of the executive officers, including approving any option grants or stock awards to executive officers;

(g) change the principal business of the Company, enter new lines of business, or exit the current line of business;

(h) sell, assign, license, pledge, or encumber material technology or intellectual property, other than licenses granted in the ordinary course of business; or

(i) enter into any corporate strategic relationship.

5.6 Board Matters. Unless otherwise determined by the vote of a majority of the directors then in office, the Board of Directors shall meet in person or via video or conference call at least quarterly in accordance with an agreed-upon schedule. The Company shall reimburse the nonemployee directors for all reasonable out-of-pocket travel expenses incurred (consistent with the Company's travel policy) in connection with attending meetings of the Board of Directors. Each of the Series A Directors shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board of Directors and each such committee must include at least one Series A Director.

5.7 Successor Indemnification. If the Company or any of its successors or assignees consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, then to the extent necessary, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assignees of the Company assume the obligations of the Company with respect to indemnification of members of the Board of Directors as in effect immediately before such transaction, whether such obligations are contained in the Company's bylaws, the Certificate of Incorporation, or elsewhere, as the case may be.

5.8 Indemnification Matters. The Company hereby acknowledges that one (1) or more of the directors nominated to serve on the Board of Directors by the Investors (each an "Investor Director") may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by one or more of the Investors and certain of their Affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (a) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to any such Investor Director are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by such Investor Director are secondary), (b) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by such Investor Director and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or on behalf of any such Investor Director to the extent legally permitted and as required by the Company's Certificate of Incorporation or bylaws of the Company (or any agreement between the Company and such Investor Director), without regard to any rights such Investor Director may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (c) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of any such Investor Director with respect to any claim for which such Investor Director has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Investor Director against the Company. The Investor Directors and the Investor Indemnitors are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 5.8 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Subsection 5.8 as though they were a party to this Agreement.

5.9 Right to Conduct Activities. The Company hereby agrees and acknowledges that ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP") (together with its Affiliates) is a professional investment organization, and as such reviews the business plans and related proprietary information of many enterprises, some of which may compete directly or indirectly with the Company's business (as currently conducted or as currently propose to be conducted). Nothing in this Agreement shall preclude or in any way restrict ATP or its Affiliates from investing or participating in any particular enterprise whether or not such enterprise has products or services which compete with those of the Company. The Company hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted under applicable law, ATP (and its Affiliates) shall not be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by ATP (or its Affiliates) in any entity competitive with the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any partner, officer, employee or other representative of ATP (or its Affiliates) to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a member of the board of directors of such competitive company or otherwise, and whether or not such action has a detrimental effect on the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve (x) any of the Investors from liability associated with the unauthorized disclosure of the Company's confidential information obtained pursuant to this Agreement, or (y) any director or officer of the Company from any liability associated with his or her fiduciary duties to the Company.

5.10 Termination of Covenants. The covenants set forth in this Section 5, except for Subsections 5.7 or 5.8, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Successors and Assigns. The rights under this Agreement may be assigned (but only with all related obligations) by a Holder to a transferee of Registrable Securities that (i) is an Affiliate of a Holder; or (ii) is a Holder's Immediate Family Member or trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or one or more of such Holder's Immediate Family Members; or (iii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of Holder's Registrable Securities; provided, however, that (x) the Company is, within a reasonable time after such transfer, furnished with written notice of the name and address of such transferee and the Registrable Securities with respect to which such rights are being transferred; and (y) such transferee agrees in a written instrument delivered to the Company to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including the provisions of Subsection 2.11. For the purposes of determining the number of shares of Registrable Securities held by a transferee, the holdings of a transferee (1) that is an Affiliate or stockholder of a Holder; (2) who is a Holder's Immediate Family Member; or (3) that is a trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or such Holder's Immediate Family Member shall be aggregated together and with those of the transferring Holder; provided further that all transferees who would not qualify individually for assignment of rights shall, as a condition to the applicable transfer, establish a single attorney-in-fact for the purpose of exercising any rights, receiving notices, or taking any action under this Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement inure to the benefit of and are binding upon the respective successors and permitted assignees of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assignees any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided herein.

6.2 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.3 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.4 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during the recipient's normal business hours, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day; (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next-day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their addresses as set forth on Schedule A hereto, or to the principal office of the Company and to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer, in the case of the Company, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in such stockholder's electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, and either retroactively or prospectively) only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding; provided that the Company may in its sole discretion waive compliance with Subsection 2.12(c) (and the Company's failure to object promptly in writing after notification of a proposed assignment allegedly in violation of Subsection 2.12(c) shall be deemed to be a waiver); and provided further that any provision hereof may be waived by any waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereof may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, unless such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver applies to all Investors in the same fashion (it being agreed that a waiver of the provisions of Section 4 with respect to a particular transaction shall be deemed to apply to all Investors in the same fashion if such waiver does so by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that certain Investors may nonetheless, by agreement with the Company, purchase securities in such transaction) and (b) Subsections 3.1 and 3.2, Section 4 and any other section of this Agreement applicable to the Major Investors (including this clause (b) of this Subsection 6.6) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding and held by the Major Investors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add transferees of any Registrable Securities in compliance with the terms of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties; and Schedule A hereto may also be amended by the Company after the date of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties to add information regarding any additional Investor who becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9. The Company shall give prompt notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 6.6 shall be binding on all parties hereto, regardless of whether any such party has consented thereto. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition, or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition, or provision.

6.7 Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is for any reason held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, and such invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision shall be reformed and construed so that it will be valid, legal, and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6.8 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Registrable Securities held or acquired by Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.9 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement, and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder. No action or consent by the Investors shall be required for such joinder to this Agreement by such additional Investor, so long as such additional Investor has agreed in writing to be bound by all of the obligations as an "Investor" hereunder.

6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any Schedules and Exhibits hereto), the Certificate of Incorporation and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

6.11 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.12 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power, or remedy of such nonbreaching or nondefaulting party, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of or acquiescence to any such breach or default, or to any similar breach or default thereafter occurring, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. All remedies, whether under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.

REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.
RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL
AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT

THIS RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of February 4, 2021 by and among Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the Investors (as defined below) listed on Schedule A and the Key Holders (as defined below) listed on Schedule B.

WHEREAS, each Key Holder is the beneficial owner of the number of shares of Capital Stock, or of options to purchase Common Stock, set forth opposite the name of such Key Holder on Schedule B;

WHEREAS, the Company and the Investors are parties to that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, of even date herewith (the "Purchase Agreement"), pursuant to which the Investors have agreed to purchase shares of the Series A Preferred Stock of the Company, par value $0.001 per share ("Series A Preferred Stock"); and

WHEREAS, the Key Holders and the Company desire to further induce the Investors to purchase the Series A Preferred Stock;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors agree as follows:

1. Definitions.

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Investor, any other Person who directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Investor, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Investor, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing which is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Investor.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Capital Stock" means (a) shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock (whether now outstanding or hereafter issued in any context), (b) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock, and (c) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon exercise or conversion, as applicable, of stock options, warrants or other convertible securities of the Company, in each case now owned or subsequently acquired by any Key Holder, any Investor, or their respective successors or permitted transferees or assigns. For purposes of the number of shares of Capital Stock held by an Investor or Key Holder (or any other calculation based thereon), all shares of Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into Common Stock at the then-applicable conversion ratio.

1.4 "Change of Control" means a transaction or series of related transactions in which a person, or a group of related persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company.

1.5 "Common Stock" means shares of Common Stock of the Company, $0.001 par value per share.

1.6 "Company Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the selling Key Holders and each Investor that the Company intends to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.7 "Investor Notice" means written notice from any Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder(s) that such Investor intends to exercise its Secondary Refusal Right as to a portion of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.8 "Investors" means the persons named on Schedule A hereto, each person to whom the rights of an Investor are assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.9, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.11 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.9 "Key Holders" means the persons named on Schedule B hereto, each person to whom the rights of a Key Holder are assigned pursuant to Subsection 3.1, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.9 or 6.17 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.10 "Preferred Stock" means all shares of Series A Preferred Stock.

1.11 "Person" means an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or other legal entity.

1.12 "Proposed Key Holder Transfer" means any assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any Transfer Stock (or any interest therein) proposed by any of the Key Holders.

1.13 "Proposed Transfer Notice" means written notice from a Key Holder setting forth the terms and conditions of a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.14 "Prospective Transferee" means any person to whom a Key Holder proposes to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.15 "Restated Certificate" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.16 "Right of Co-Sale" means the right, but not an obligation, of an Investor to participate in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.17 "Right of First Refusal" means the right, but not an obligation, of the Company, or its permitted transferees or assigns, to purchase some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.18 "Secondary Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the Investors and the selling Key Holder that the Company does not intend to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to all shares of any Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.19 "Secondary Refusal Right" means the right, but not an obligation, of each Investor to purchase up to its pro rata portion (based upon the total number of shares of Capital Stock then held by all Investors) of any Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.20 "Transfer Stock" means shares of Capital Stock owned by a Key Holder, or issued to a Key Holder after the date hereof (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), but does not include any shares of Preferred Stock or of Common Stock that are issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock.

1.21 "Undersubscription Notice" means written notice from an Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder that such Investor intends to exercise its option to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right.

2. Agreement Among the Company, the Investors and the Key Holders.

2.1 Right of First Refusal.

(a) Grant. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Company a Right of First Refusal to purchase all or any portion of Transfer Stock that such Key Holder may propose to transfer in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, at the same price and on the same terms and conditions as those offered to the Prospective Transferee.

(b) Notice. Each Key Holder proposing to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer must deliver a Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company and each Investor not later than forty-five (45) days prior to the consummation of such Proposed Key Holder Transfer. Such Proposed Transfer Notice shall contain the material terms and conditions (including price and form of consideration) of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the identity of the Prospective Transferee and the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer. To exercise its Right of First Refusal under this Section 2, the Company must deliver a Company Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Investors within fifteen (15) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice specifying the number of shares of Transfer Stock to be purchased by the Company.

(c) Grant of Secondary Refusal Right to the Investors. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Investors a Secondary Refusal Right to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased by the Company pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, as provided in this Subsection 2.1(c). If the Company does not provide the Company Notice exercising its Right of First Refusal with respect to all Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the Company must deliver a Secondary Notice to the selling Key Holder and to each Investor to that effect no later than fifteen (15) days after the selling Key Holder delivers the Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company. To exercise its Secondary Refusal Right, an Investor must deliver an Investor Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the Company's deadline for its delivery of the Secondary Notice as provided in the preceding sentence.

(d) Undersubscription of Transfer Stock. If options to purchase have been exercised by the Company and the Investors pursuant to Subsections 2.1(b) and (c) with respect to some but not all of the Transfer Stock by the end of the ten (10) day period specified in the last sentence of Subsection 2.1(c) (the "Investor Notice Period"), then the Company shall, within five (5) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period, send written notice (the "Company Undersubscription Notice") to those Investors who fully exercised their Secondary Refusal Right within the Investor Notice Period (the "Exercising Investors"). Each Exercising Investor shall, subject to the provisions of this Subsection 2.1(d), have an additional option to purchase all or any part of the balance of any such remaining unsubscribed shares of Transfer Stock on the terms and conditions set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice. To exercise such option, an Exercising Investor must deliver an Undersubscription Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period. In the event there are two (2) or more such Exercising Investors that choose to exercise the last-mentioned option for a total number of remaining shares in excess of the number available, the remaining shares available for purchase under this Subsection 2.1(d) shall be allocated to such Exercising Investors pro rata based on the number of shares of Transfer Stock such Exercising Investors have elected to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right (without giving effect to any shares of Transfer Stock that any such Exercising Investor has elected to purchase pursuant to the Company Undersubscription Notice). If the options to purchase the remaining shares are exercised in full by the Exercising Investors, the Company shall immediately notify all of the Exercising Investors and the selling Key Holder of that fact.

(e) Consideration; Closing. If the consideration proposed to be paid for the Transfer Stock is in property, services or other non-cash consideration, the fair market value of the consideration shall be as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. If the Company or any Investor cannot for any reason pay for the Transfer Stock in the same form of non-cash consideration, the Company or such Investor may pay the cash value equivalent thereof, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. The closing of the purchase of Transfer Stock by the Company and the Investors shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Investors shall have been delivered to the selling Key Holder, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice as the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice.

2.2 Right of Co-Sale.

(a) Exercise of Right. If any Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not purchased pursuant to Subsection 2.1 above and thereafter is to be sold to a Prospective Transferee, each respective Investor may elect to exercise its Right of Co-Sale and participate on a pro rata basis in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer as set forth in Subsection 2.2(b) below and, subject to Subsection 2.2(d), otherwise on the same terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice. Each Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale (each, a "Participating Investor") must give the selling Key Holder written notice to that effect within fifteen (15) days after the deadline for delivery of the Secondary Notice described above, and upon giving such notice such Participating Investor shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Right of Co-Sale.

(b) Shares Includable. Each Participating Investor may include in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer all or any part of such Participating Investor's Capital Stock equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the aggregate number of shares of Transfer Stock subject to the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (excluding shares purchased by the Company or the Participating Investors pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right) by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Capital Stock owned by such Participating Investor immediately before consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer and the denominator of which is the total number of shares of Capital Stock owned, in the aggregate, by all Participating Investors immediately prior to the consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, plus the number of shares of Transfer Stock held by the selling Key Holder.

(c) Purchase and Sale Agreement. The Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder agree that the terms and conditions of any Proposed Key Holder Transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2 will be memorialized in, and governed by, a written purchase and sale agreement with the Prospective Transferee (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") with customary terms and provisions for such a transaction, and the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder further covenant and agree to enter into such Purchase and Sale Agreement as a condition precedent to any sale or other transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2.

(d) Allocation of Consideration.

(i) Subject to Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder shall be allocated based on the number of shares of Capital Stock sold to the Prospective Transferee by each Participating Investor and the selling Key Holder as provided in Subsection 2.2(b), provided that if a Participating Investor wishes to sell Preferred Stock, the price set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice shall be appropriately adjusted based on the conversion ratio of the Preferred Stock into Common Stock.

(ii) In the event that the Proposed Key Holder Transfer constitutes a Change of Control, the terms of the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that the aggregate consideration from such transfer shall be allocated to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate and, if applicable, the next sentence as if (A) such transfer were a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate), and (B) the Capital Stock sold in accordance with the Purchase and Sale Agreement were the only Capital Stock outstanding. In the event that a portion of the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that (x) the portion of such consideration that is not subject to contingencies (the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such transfer, and (y) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transfer. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such transfer shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

(e) Purchase by Selling Key Holder; Deliveries. Notwithstanding Subsection 2.2(c) above, if any Prospective Transferee or Transferees refuse(s) to purchase securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from any Participating Investor or Investors or upon the failure to negotiate in good faith a Purchase and Sale Agreement reasonably satisfactory to the Participating Investors, no Key Holder may sell any Transfer Stock to such Prospective Transferee or Transferees unless and until, simultaneously with such sale, such Key Holder purchases all securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from such Participating Investor or Investors on the same terms and conditions (including the proposed purchase price) as set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice and as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i); provided, however, if such sale constitutes a Change of Control, the portion of the aggregate consideration paid by the selling Key Holder to such Participating Investor or Investors shall be made in accordance with the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii). In connection with such purchase by the selling Key Holder, such Participating Investor or Investors shall deliver to the selling Key Holder any stock certificate or certificates, properly endorsed for transfer, representing the Capital Stock being purchased by the selling Key Holder (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of the selling Key Holder). Any such shares transferred to the selling Key Holder will be transferred to the Prospective Transferee against payment therefor in consummation of the sale of the Transfer Stock pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice, and the selling Key Holder shall concurrently therewith remit or direct payment to each such Participating Investor the portion of the aggregate consideration to which each such Participating Investor is entitled by reason of its participation in such sale as provided in this Subsection 2.2(e).

(f) Additional Compliance. If any Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not consummated within forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Proposed Transfer Notice by the Company, the Key Holders proposing the Proposed Key Holder Transfer may not sell any Transfer Stock unless they first comply in full with each provision of this Section 2. The exercise or election not to exercise any right by any Investor hereunder shall not adversely affect its right to participate in any other sales of Transfer Stock subject to this Subsection 2.2. The Company's first refusal rights and the Investors' first refusal rights and co-sale rights shall continue to be applicable to any subsequent disposition of the Transfer Stock acquired by the third-party transferee(s) until such rights lapse in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

2.3 Effect of Failure to Comply.

(a) Transfer Void; Equitable Relief. Any Proposed Key Holder Transfer not made in compliance with the requirements of this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio, shall not be recorded on the books of the Company or its transfer agent and shall not be recognized by the Company. Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this Agreement would result in substantial harm to the other parties hereto for which monetary damages alone could not adequately compensate. Therefore, the parties hereto unconditionally and irrevocably agree that any non-breaching party hereto shall be entitled to seek protective orders, injunctive relief and other remedies available at law or in equity (including, without limitation, seeking specific performance or the rescission of purchases, sales and other transfers of Transfer Stock not made in strict compliance with this Agreement).

(b) Violation of First Refusal Right. If any Key Holder becomes obligated to sell any Transfer Stock to the Company or any Investor under this Agreement and fails to deliver such Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company and/or such Investor may, at its option, in addition to all other remedies it may have, send to such Key Holder the purchase price for such Transfer Stock as is herein specified and transfer to the name of the Company or such Investor (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of an Investor) on the Company's books any certificates, instruments, or book entry representing the Transfer Stock to be sold.

(c) Violation of Co-Sale Right. If any Key Holder purports to sell any Transfer Stock in contravention of the Right of Co-Sale (a "Prohibited Transfer"), each Participating Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 may, in addition to such remedies as may be available by law, in equity or hereunder, require such Key Holder to purchase from such Participating Investor the type and number of shares of Capital Stock that such Participating Investor would have been entitled to sell to the Prospective Transferee had the Prohibited Transfer been effected in compliance with the terms of Subsection 2.2. The sale will be made on the same terms, including, without limitation, as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i) and the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), as applicable, and subject to the same conditions as would have applied had the Key Holder not made the Prohibited Transfer, except that the sale (including, without limitation, the delivery of the purchase price) must be made within ninety (90) days after the Participating Investor learns of the Prohibited Transfer, as opposed to the timeframe proscribed in Subsection 2.2. Such Key Holder shall also reimburse each Participating Investor for any and all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, incurred pursuant to the exercise or the attempted exercise of the Participating Investor's rights under Subsection 2.2.

3. Exempt Transfers.

3.1 Exempted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall not apply (a) in the case of a Key Holder that is an entity, upon a transfer by such Key Holder to its stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders,

(b) to a repurchase of Transfer Stock from a Key Holder by the Company at a price no greater than that originally paid by such Key Holder for such Transfer Stock and pursuant to an agreement containing vesting and/or repurchase provisions approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, (c) to a pledge of Transfer Stock that creates a mere security interest in the pledged Transfer Stock, provided that the pledgee thereof agrees in writing in advance to be bound by and comply with all applicable provisions of this Agreement to the same extent as if it were the Key Holder making such pledge, or (d) in the case of a Key Holder that is a natural person, upon a transfer of Transfer Stock by such Key Holder made for bona fide estate planning purposes, either during his or her lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to his or her spouse, domestic partner, child (natural or adopted), or any other direct lineal descendant of such Key Holder (or his or her spouse or domestic partner) (all of the foregoing collectively referred to as "family members"), or any other relative/person approved by the Board of Directors, or any custodian or trustee of any trust, partnership or limited liability company for the benefit of, or the ownership interests of which are owned wholly by such Key Holder or any such family members; provided that in the case of clauses (a), (c), or (d), the Key Holder shall deliver prior written notice to the Investors of such pledge, gift or transfer and such shares of Transfer Stock shall at all times remain subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Agreement and such transferee shall, as a condition to such Transfer, deliver a counterpart signature page to this Agreement as confirmation that such transferee shall be bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Key Holder (but only with respect to the securities so transferred to the transferee), including the obligations of a Key Holder with respect to Proposed Key Holder Transfers of such Transfer Stock pursuant to Section 2; and provided further in the case of any transfer pursuant to clause (a) or (d) above, that such transfer is made pursuant to a transaction in which there is no consideration actually paid for such transfer.

3.2 Exempted Offerings. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Section 2 shall not apply to the sale of any Transfer Stock (a) to the public in an offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (a "Public Offering"); or (b) pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

3.3 Prohibited Transferees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Key Holder shall transfer any Transfer Stock to (a) any entity which, in the determination of the Board of Directors, directly or indirectly competes with the Company; or (b) any development partner, distributor or supplier of the Company, if the Board of Directors should determine that such transfer would result in such development partner, distributor or supplier receiving information that would place the Company at a competitive disadvantage with respect to such customer, distributor or supplier.

4. Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing shares of Transfer Stock held by the Key Holders or issued to any permitted transferee in connection with a transfer permitted by Subsection 3.1 hereof shall be notated with the following legend:

> THE SALE, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION, OR TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY IS SUBJECT TO, AND IN CERTAIN CASES PROHIBITED BY, THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF A CERTAIN RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT BY AND AMONG THE STOCKHOLDER, THE CORPORATION AND CERTAIN OTHER HOLDERS OF STOCK OF THE CORPORATION. COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST TO THE SECRETARY OF THE CORPORATION.

Each Key Holder agrees that the Company may instruct its transfer agent to impose transfer restrictions on the shares notated with the legend referred to in this Section 4 above to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, and the Company agrees to promptly do so. The legend shall be removed upon termination of this Agreement at the request of the holder.

5. Lock-Up.

5.1 Agreement to Lock-Up. Each Key Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the Company's initial public offering (the "IPO") and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports; and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (a) lend, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Capital Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Key Holder or are thereafter acquired); or (b) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Capital Stock, whether any such transaction described in clause (a) or (b) above is to be settled by delivery of Capital Stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Section 5 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Key Holder or the immediate family of the Key Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust or such family member agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall only be applicable to the Key Holders if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions. The underwriters in connection with the IPO are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Section 5 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Key Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in the IPO that are consistent with this Section 5 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

5.2 Stop Transfer Instructions. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Capital Stock of each Key Holder (and transferees and assignees thereof) until the end of such restricted period.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon the earlier of (a) immediately prior to the consummation of the Company's IPO; and (b) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

6.2 Stock Split. All references to numbers of shares in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock dividend, split, combination or other recapitalization affecting the Capital Stock occurring after the date of this Agreement.

6.3 Ownership. Each Key Holder represents and warrants that such Key Holder is the sole legal and beneficial owner of the shares of Transfer Stock subject to this Agreement and that no other person or entity has any interest in such shares (other than a community property interest as to which the holder thereof has acknowledged and agreed in writing to the restrictions and obligations hereunder).

6.4 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereof, as the case may be, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, it shall be sent to 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169, Attention: Chief Executive Officer; and a copy (which shall not constitute notice) shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including, the Exhibits and Schedules, hereto together with the other Transaction Documents (as defined in the Purchase Agreement)) constitutes the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.7 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.8 Amendment; Waiver and Termination. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6.1 above) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock then held by all of the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted basis). Any amendment, modification, termination or waiver so effected shall be binding upon the Company, the Investors, the Key Holders and all of their respective successors and permitted assigns whether or not such party, assignee or other shareholder entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to the Key Holders. The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be, or construed as, a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition or provision.

6.9 Assignment of Rights.

(a) The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(b) Any successor or permitted assignee of any Key Holder, including any Prospective Transferee who purchases shares of Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms hereof, shall deliver to the Company and the Investors, as a condition to any transfer or assignment, a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such successor or permitted assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the predecessor or assignor of such successor or permitted assignee.

(c) The rights of the Investors hereunder are not assignable without the Company's written consent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), except (i) by an Investor to any Affiliate, or (ii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of such Investor's shares of Capital Stock (as adjusted for any stock combination, stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization or other similar transaction), it being acknowledged and agreed that any such assignment, including an assignment contemplated by the preceding clauses (i) or (ii) shall be subject to and conditioned upon any such assignee's delivery to the Company and the other Investors of a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the assignor of such assignee.

(d) Except in connection with an assignment by the Company by operation of law to the acquirer of the Company, the rights and obligations of the Company hereunder may not be assigned under any circumstances.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder.

6.12 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.13 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.14 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.15 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Capital Stock held or acquired by Affiliated entities or persons shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.16 Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Investor shall be entitled to specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company and the Key Holders hereunder and to such other injunction or other equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

6.17 Additional Key Holders. In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company issues shares of Common Stock, or options to purchase Common Stock, to any service provider of the Company, which shares or options would collectively constitute with respect to such service provider of the Company (taking into account all shares of Common Stock, options and other purchase rights held by such service provider of the Company) one percent (1%) or more of the Company's then outstanding Common Stock (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised or converted), the Company shall, as a condition to such issuance, cause such employee or consultant to execute a counterpart signature page hereto as a Key Holder, and such person shall thereby be bound by, and subject to, all the terms and provisions of this Agreement applicable to a Key Holder.

6.18 Consent of Spouse. If any Key Holder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a Consent of Spouse in the form of Exhibit A hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Key Holder's shares of Transfer Stock that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any Key Holder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

EXHIBIT A

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated as of February 4, 2021, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit A (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding certain rights to certain other holders of Capital Stock of the Company upon a Proposed Key Holder Transfer of shares of Transfer Stock of the Company which my spouse may own including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of Transfer Stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of Transfer Stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS VOTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made and entered into as of February 4, 2021 by and among Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), each holder of Series A Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A Preferred Stock") (referred to herein as the "Preferred Stock") listed on Schedule A (together with any subsequent investors, or transferees, who become parties hereto as "Investors" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(a) or 7.2 below, the "Investors"), and those certain stockholders of the Company and holders of options to acquire shares of the capital stock of the Company listed on Schedule B (together with any subsequent stockholders or option holders, or any transferees, who become parties hereto as "Key Holders" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(b) or 7.2 below, the "Key Holders," and together collectively with the Investors, the "Stockholders").

RECITALS

A. Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, the Company and the Investors are entering into a Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") providing for the sale of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, and in connection with that agreement the parties desire to provide the Investors with the right, among other rights, to designate the election of certain members of the board of directors of the Company (the "Board") in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

B. The Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Company (the "Restated Certificate") provides that (a) the holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three (3) directors of the Company, (b) the holders of record of the shares of common stock of the Company ("Common Stock"), exclusively and as a separate class (excluding Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock), shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Company, and (c) the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Company.

C. The parties also desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth their agreements and understandings with respect to how shares of the capital stock of the Company held by them will be voted on, or tendered in connection with, an acquisition of the Company.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. Voting Provisions Regarding the Board.

1.1 Size of the Board. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (as defined below) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that the size of the Board shall be set and remain at five (5) directors. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Shares" shall mean and include any securities of the Company that the holders of which are entitled to vote for members of the Board, including without limitation, all shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, by whatever name called, now owned or subsequently acquired by a Stockholder, however acquired, whether through stock splits, stock dividends, reclassifications, recapitalizations, similar events or otherwise.

1.2 Board Composition. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that at each annual or special meeting of stockholders at which an election of directors is held or pursuant to any written consent of the stockholders, subject to Section 5, the following persons shall be elected to the Board:

(a) Three (3) persons (the "Series A Directors") designated by ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP"), for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which individuals shall initially be Michael Ehlers as Executive Chairman, Seth Harrison, and Joseph Yanchik.

(b) One (1) person (the "Common Director") designated by the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock (excluding Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock), which individual shall initially be Nathaniel Wang.

(c) One (1) person who is not an investor or employee of the Company or ATP (the "Independent Director") and who is designated by ATP for so long as such Stockholder and its Affiliates (as defined below) continue to own beneficially any shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock), which shall initially be vacant.

To the extent that any of the clauses above in this Subsection 1.2 shall not be applicable, any member of the Board who would otherwise have been designated in accordance with the terms thereof shall instead be voted upon by all the stockholders of the Company entitled to vote thereon in accordance with, and pursuant to, the Restated Certificate.

For purposes of this Agreement, an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (collectively, a "Person") shall be deemed an "Affiliate" of another Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

Each Series A Director shall be entitled in such person's discretion to be a member of any committee of the Board.

1.3 Failure to Designate a Board Member. In the absence of any designation from the Persons or groups with the right to designate a director as specified above, the director previously designated by them and then serving shall be reelected if still eligible and willing to serve as provided herein and otherwise, such Board seat shall remain vacant until otherwise filled as provided above.

1.4 Removal of Board Members. Each Stockholder also agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that:

(a) no director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 of this Agreement may be removed from office unless (i) such removal is directed or approved by the affirmative vote of the Person(s), or of the holders of at least the requisite number of the shares of stock, entitled under

Subsection 1.2 to designate that director; or (ii) the Person(s) originally entitled to designate or approve such director pursuant to Subsection 1.2 is no longer so entitled to designate or approve such director;

(b) any vacancies created by the resignation, removal or death of a director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 shall be filled pursuant to the provisions of this Section 1; and

(c) upon the request of any party entitled to designate a director as provided in Subsection 1.2 to remove such director, such director shall be removed.

All Stockholders agree to execute any written consents required to perform the obligations of this Section 1, and the Company agrees at the request of any Person or group entitled to designate directors to call a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing directors.

1.5 No Liability for Election of Recommended Directors. No Stockholder, nor any Affiliate of any Stockholder, shall have any liability as a result of designating a person for election as a director for any act or omission by such designated person in his or her capacity as a director of the Company, nor shall any Stockholder have any liability as a result of voting for any such designee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

1.6 No "Bad Actor" Designees. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby represents and warrants to the Company that, to such Person's knowledge, none of the "bad actor" disqualifying events described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (each, a "Disqualification Event"), is applicable to such Person's initial designee named above except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable, is hereinafter referred to as a "Disqualified Designee." Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby covenants and agrees (A) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee and (B) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee.

2. Vote to Increase Authorized Common Stock. Each Stockholder agrees to vote or cause to be voted all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock from time to time to ensure that there will be sufficient shares of Common Stock available for conversion of all of the shares of Preferred Stock outstanding at any given time.

3. Drag-Along Right.

3.1 Definitions. A "Sale of the Company" shall mean either: (a) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company (a "Stock Sale"); or (b) a transaction that qualifies as a "Deemed Liquidation Event" as defined in the Restated Certificate.

3.2 Actions to be Taken. In the event that (i) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock then issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock (the "Selling Investors"); and (ii) the Board approve a Sale of the Company in writing, specifying that this Section 3 shall apply to such transaction, then, subject to satisfaction of each of the conditions set forth in Subsection 3.3 below, each Stockholder and the Company hereby agree:

(a) if such transaction requires stockholder approval, with respect to all Shares that such Stockholder owns or over which such Stockholder otherwise exercises voting power, to vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all Shares in favor of, and adopt, such Sale of the Company (together with any related amendment or restatement to the Restated Certificate required to implement such Sale of the Company) and to vote in opposition to any and all other proposals that could reasonably be expected to delay or impair the ability of the Company to consummate such Sale of the Company;

(b) if such transaction is a Stock Sale, to sell the same proportion of shares of capital stock of the Company beneficially held by such Stockholder as is being sold by the Selling Investors to the Person to whom the Selling Investors propose to sell their Shares, and, except as permitted in Subsection 3.3 below, on the same terms and conditions as the other stockholders of the Company;

(c) to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Sale of the Company as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Selling Investors in order to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 3, including, without limitation, executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances), and any similar or related documents;

(d) not to deposit, and to cause their Affiliates not to deposit, except as provided in this Agreement, any Shares of the Company owned by such party or Affiliate in a voting trust or subject any Shares to any arrangement or agreement with respect to the voting of such Shares, unless specifically requested to do so by the acquirer in connection with the Sale of the Company;

(e) to refrain from (i) exercising any dissenters' rights or rights of appraisal under applicable law at any time with respect to such Sale of the Company, or (ii) asserting any claim or commencing any suit (x) challenging the Sale of the Company or this Agreement, or (y) alleging a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Selling Investors or any affiliate or associate thereof (including, without limitation, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty) in connection with the evaluation, negotiation or entry into the Sale of the Company, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby;

(f) if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Shares pursuant to this Section 3 includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Stockholder would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Stockholder of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Stockholder in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares which would have otherwise been sold by such Stockholder, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Stockholder would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares; and

(g) in the event that the Selling Investors, in connection with such Sale of the Company, appoint a stockholder representative (the "Stockholder Representative") with respect to matters affecting the Stockholders under the applicable definitive transaction agreements following consummation of such Sale of the Company, (x) to consent to (i) the appointment of such Stockholder Representative,

(ii) the establishment of any applicable escrow, expense or similar fund in connection with any indemnification or similar obligations, and (iii) the payment of such Stockholder's pro rata portion (from the applicable escrow or expense fund or otherwise) of any and all reasonable fees and expenses to such Stockholder Representative in connection with such Stockholder Representative's services and duties in connection with such Sale of the Company and its related service as the representative of the Stockholders, and (y) not to assert any claim or commence any suit against the Stockholder Representative or any other Stockholder with respect to any action or inaction taken or failed to be taken by the Stockholder Representative, within the scope of the Stockholder Representative's authority, in connection with its service as the Stockholder Representative, absent fraud, bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

3.3 Conditions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, a Stockholder will not be required to comply with Subsection 3.2 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the "Proposed Sale"), unless:

(a) any representations and warranties to be made by such Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including, but not limited to, representations and warranties that (i) the Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares such Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by the Stockholder have been duly executed by the Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable (subject to customary limitations) against the Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms; and (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into by the Stockholder in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of the Stockholder's obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement to which the Stockholder is a party, or any law or judgment, order or decree of any court or governmental agency that applies to the Stockholder;

(b) such Stockholder is not required to agree (unless such Stockholder is a Company officer, employee, or consultant) to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Proposed Sale (including without limitation any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Proposed Sale);

(c) such Stockholder is not liable for the breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any of identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(e) liability shall be limited to such Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Certificate) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by such Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to such Stockholder;

(f) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale (i) each holder of each class or series of the capital stock of the Company will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock, and if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given a choice as to the form of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option, (ii) each holder of a series of Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless waived pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate and as may be required by law, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of each respective series of Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 3.3(f), if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, pursuant to this Subsection 3.3(f) includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Key Holder or Investor would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Key Holder or Investor of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Key Holder or Investor in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, which would have otherwise been sold by such Key Holder or Investor, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Key Holder or Investor would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable;

(g) subject to clause (f) above, requiring the same form of consideration to be available to the holders of any single class or series of capital stock, if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; provided, however, that nothing in this Subsection 3.3(g) shall entitle any holder to receive any form of consideration that such holder would be ineligible to receive as a result of such holder's failure to satisfy any condition, requirement or limitation that is generally applicable to the Company's stockholders.

3.4 Restrictions on Sales of Control of the Company. No Stockholder shall be a party to any Stock Sale unless (a) all holders of Preferred Stock are allowed to participate in such transaction(s) and (b) the consideration received pursuant to such transaction is allocated among the parties thereto in the manner specified in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Stock Sale (as if such transaction(s) were a Deemed Liquidation Event), unless the holders of at least the requisite percentage required to waive treatment of the transaction(s) as a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate, elect to allocate the consideration differently by written notice given to the Company at least five (5) days prior to the effective date of any such transaction or series of related transactions.

4. Remedies.

4.1 Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees to use its best efforts, within the requirements of applicable law, to ensure that the rights granted under this Agreement are effective and that the parties enjoy the benefits of this Agreement. Such actions include, without limitation, the use of the Company's best efforts to cause the nomination and election of the directors as provided in this Agreement.

4.2 Irrevocable Proxy and Power of Attorney. Each party to this Agreement hereby constitutes and appoints as the proxies of the party and hereby grants a power of attorney to the President of the Company, and a designee of the Selling Investors, and each of them, with full power of substitution, with respect to the matters set forth herein, including, without limitation, votes to increase authorized shares pursuant to Section 2 hereof and votes regarding any Sale of the Company pursuant to Section 3 hereof, and hereby authorizes each of them to represent and vote, if and only if the party (i) fails to vote, or (ii) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, all of such party's Shares in favor of the election of persons as members of the Board determined pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement or the increase of authorized shares or approval of any Sale of the Company pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement or to take any action reasonably necessary to effect Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement. The power of attorney granted hereunder shall authorize the President of the Company to execute and deliver the documentation referred to in Section 3.2(c) on behalf of any party failing to do so within five (5) business days of a request by the Company. Each of the proxy and power of attorney granted pursuant to this Section 4.2 is given in consideration of the agreements and covenants of the Company and the parties in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and, as such, each is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof. Each party hereto hereby revokes any and all previous proxies or powers of attorney with respect to the Shares and shall not hereafter, unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 7 hereof, purport to grant any other proxy or power of attorney with respect to any of the Shares, deposit any of the Shares into a voting trust or enter into any agreement (other than this Agreement), arrangement or understanding with any person, directly or indirectly, to vote, grant any proxy or give instructions with respect to the voting of any of the Shares, in each case, with respect to any of the matters set forth herein.

4.3 Specific Enforcement. Each party acknowledges and agrees that each party hereto will be irreparably damaged in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed by the parties in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, it is agreed that each of the Company and the Stockholders shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement, and to specific enforcement of this Agreement and its terms and provisions in any action instituted in any court of the United States or any state having subject matter jurisdiction.

4.4 Remedies Cumulative. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

5. "Bad Actor" Matters.

5.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any Person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

(b) "Disqualified Designee" means any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

(c) "Disqualification Event" means a "bad actor" disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) promulgated under the Securities Act.

(d) "Rule 506(d) Related Party" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that is a beneficial owner of such first Person's securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act.

5.2 Representations.

(a) Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement hereby represents that (i) such Person has exercised reasonable care to determine whether any Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any director designee designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable and (ii) no Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any Board member designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Investor makes no representation regarding any Person that may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the Company's voting equity securities held by such Investor solely by virtue of that Person being or becoming a party to (x) this Agreement, as may be subsequently amended, or (y) any other contract or written agreement to which the Company and such Investor are parties regarding (1) the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of, such security; and/or (2) the investment power, which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of, such security.

(b) The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Investors that no Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii–iv) or (d)(3) is applicable.

5.3 Covenants. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement covenants and agrees (i) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee, (ii) to exercise reasonable care to determine whether any director designee designated by such person is a Disqualified Designee, (iii) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee, and (iv) to notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to such Person or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, or, to such Person's knowledge, to such Person's initial designee named in Section 1, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

6. Term. This Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in effect until and shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (a) the consummation of the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (other than a registration statement relating either to the sale of securities to employees of the Company pursuant to its stock option, stock purchase or similar plan or an SEC Rule 145 transaction); (b) the consummation of a Sale of the Company and distribution of proceeds to or escrow for the benefit of the Stockholders in accordance with the Restated Certificate, provided that the provisions of Section 3 hereof will continue after the closing of any Sale of the Company to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of Section 3 with respect to such Sale of the Company; or (c) termination of this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 7.8 below.

7.1 Additional Parties.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of Preferred Stock after the date hereof, as a condition to the issuance of such shares the Company shall require that any purchaser of such shares become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering (i) the Adoption Agreement attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A, or (ii) a counterpart signature page hereto agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as an Investor and Stockholder hereunder. In either event, each such person shall thereafter be deemed an Investor and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

(b) In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company enters into an agreement with any Person to issue shares of capital stock to such Person (other than to a purchaser of Preferred Stock described in Subsection 7.1(a) above), following which such Person shall hold Shares constituting one percent (1%) or more of the then outstanding capital stock of the Company (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised and/or converted or exchanged), then, the Company shall cause such Person, as a condition precedent to entering into such agreement, to become a party to this Agreement by executing an Adoption Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as a Stockholder and thereafter such person shall be deemed a Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.2 Transfers. Each transferee or assignee of any Shares subject to this Agreement shall continue to be subject to the terms hereof, and, as a condition precedent to the Company's recognition of such transfer, each transferee or assignee shall agree in writing to be subject to each of the terms of this Agreement by executing and delivering an Adoption Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Upon the execution and delivery of an Adoption Agreement by any transferee, such transferee shall be deemed to be a party hereto as if such transferee were the transferor and such transferee's signature appeared on the signature pages of this Agreement and shall be deemed to be an Investor and Stockholder, or Key Holder and Stockholder, as applicable. The Company shall not permit the transfer of the Shares subject to this Agreement on its books or issue a new certificate representing any such Shares unless and until such transferee shall have complied with the terms of this Subsection 7.2. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Shares subject to this Agreement if issued on or after the date of this Agreement shall be notated by the Company with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.3 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.6 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

7.7 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereto, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.7. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik; and if notice is given to Stockholders, a copy shall also be given to ATP, 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169; Attention: Daniel Finkelman.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

7.8 Consent Required to Amend, Modify, Terminate or Waive. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company; (b) the Key Holders holding at least a majority of the Shares then held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as directors, officers, employees or consultants; and (c) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver either (A) is not directly applicable to the rights of the Key Holders hereunder; or (B) does not adversely affect the rights of the Key Holders in a manner that is different than the effect on the rights of the other parties hereto; and

(iii) any provision hereof may be waived by the waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver hereunder to any party that did not consent in writing thereto. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding on each party and all of such party's successors and permitted assigns, whether or not any such party, successor or assignee entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. For purposes of this Subsection 7.8, the requirement of a written instrument may be satisfied in the form of an action by written consent of the Stockholders circulated by the Company and executed by the Stockholder parties specified, whether or not such action by written consent makes explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.9 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default previously or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

7.12 Share Certificate Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing any Shares issued after the date hereof shall be notated by the Company with a legend reading substantially as follows:

> "THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY ARE SUBJECT TO A VOTING AGREEMENT, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, (A COPY OF WHICH MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST FROM THE COMPANY), AND BY ACCEPTING ANY INTEREST IN SUCH SHARES THE PERSON ACCEPTING SUCH INTEREST SHALL BE DEEMED TO AGREE TO AND SHALL BECOME BOUND BY ALL THE PROVISIONS OF THAT VOTING AGREEMENT, INCLUDING CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP SET FORTH THEREIN."

The Company, by its execution of this Agreement, agrees that it will cause the certificates instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares issued after the date hereof to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 of this Agreement, and it shall supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement to any holder of such Shares upon written request from such holder to the Company at its principal office. The parties to this Agreement do hereby agree that the failure to cause the certificates, instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 herein and/or the failure of the Company to supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement as provided hereunder shall not affect the validity or enforcement of this Agreement.

7.13 Stock Splits, Stock Dividends, etc. In the event of any issuance of Shares or the voting securities of the Company hereafter to any of the Stockholders (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), such Shares shall become subject to this Agreement and shall be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.14 Manner of Voting. The voting of Shares pursuant to this Agreement may be effected in person, by proxy, by written consent or in any other manner permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, voting of the Shares pursuant to the Agreement need not make explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.15 Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, the parties agree to cooperate with each other, and at the request of any other party, to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and to take all such further action as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent of the parties hereunder.

7.16 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

7.17 Aggregation of Stock. All Shares held or acquired by a Stockholder and/or its Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement, and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

7.18 Spousal Consent. If any individual Stockholder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a consent of spouse in the form of Exhibit B hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Stockholder's Shares that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any individual Stockholder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Voting Agreement as of the date first written above.

EXHIBIT A

ADOPTION AGREEMENT

This Adoption Agreement ("Adoption Agreement") is executed on _____, 20__, by the undersigned (the "Holder") pursuant to the terms of that certain Voting Agreement dated as of February 4, 2021 (the "Agreement"), by and among the Company and certain of its Stockholders, as such Agreement may be amended or amended and restated hereafter. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Adoption Agreement shall have the respective meanings ascribed to such terms in the Agreement. By the execution of this Adoption Agreement, the Holder agrees as follows.

1. Acknowledgement. Holder acknowledges that Holder is acquiring certain shares of the capital stock of the Company (the "Stock") or options, warrants, or other rights to purchase such Stock (the "Stock Options"), for one of the following reasons (Check the correct box):

☐ As a transferee of Shares from a party in such party's capacity as an "Investor" bound by the Agreement, and after such transfer, Holder shall be considered an "Investor" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ As a transferee of Shares from a party in such party's capacity as a "Key Holder" bound by the Agreement, and after such transfer, Holder shall be considered a "Key Holder" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ As a new Investor in accordance with Subsection 7.1(a) of the Agreement, in which case Holder will be an "Investor" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ In accordance with Subsection 7.1(b) of the Agreement, as a new party who is not a new Investor, in which case Holder will be a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

2. Agreement. Holder hereby (a) agrees that the Stock Options, and any other shares of capital stock or securities required by the Agreement to be bound thereby, shall be bound by and subject to the terms of the Agreement and (b) adopts the Agreement with the same force and effect as if Holder were originally a party thereto.

3. Notice. Any notice required or permitted by the Agreement shall be given to Holder at the address or email address listed below Holder's signature hereto.

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Voting Agreement, dated as of February 4, 2021, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit B (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding the voting and transfer of shares of capital stock of the Company that my spouse may own, including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of capital stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of capital stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

ACTION BY WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

February 14 , 2025

Pursuant to Section 228 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and the bylaws of Replicate Bioscience, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the undersigned, constituting the holders of the Company's outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such actions at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted, hereby take the following actions by written consent. Pursuant to Section 228(c) of the Delaware General Corporation Law, each undersigned stockholder hereby expressly intends and instructs that the consent of such stockholder shall be effective upon the later to occur of: (i) the time that is immediately following the effectiveness of the approval of the Certificate of Amendment (defined below) by the board of directors of the Company and (ii) the delivery of this consent by such stockholder (the "Consent Effectiveness Time").

Authorization of Certificate of Amendment to Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation

WHEREAS, the undersigned stockholders of the Company believe that it is in their best interests and the best interest of the Company to amend the Company's amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended (the "Current Certificate") to: (i) increase the number of authorized shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.001 per share ("Common Stock"), to a total of 79,000,000 shares and (ii) increase the number of authorized shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share ("Series A Preferred Stock"), to a total of 63,250,000 shares, each as set forth in the Certificate of Amendment to the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Certificate of Amendment").

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the Company amend its Current Certificate with the Certificate of Amendment to: (i) increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock to a total of 79,000,000 shares and (ii) increase the number of authorized shares of Series A Preferred Stock to a total of 63,250,000 shares, each as set forth in the Certificate of Amendment.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the Certificate of Amendment is hereby approved, adopted and confirmed.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the Current Certificate, as currently in effect, be amended to read as set forth in the Certificate of Amendment.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the officers of the Company are hereby authorized and directed to execute the Certificate of Amendment and take all such action as such officers deem necessary or desirable to file the Certificate of Amendment with the Delaware Secretary of State and to cause the Certificate of Amendment to become effective.

Waiver of Protective Provisions

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section B.3.3 of Article Fourth of the Current Certificate, so long as any shares of Series A Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Company shall not, without first obtaining the approval (by vote or written consent) of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock (the "Requisite Holders"), among other things: (i) amend, alter or repeal any provision of the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company; or (ii) create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue shares of, any additional class or series of capital stock unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption, or increase the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock or increase the authorized number of shares of any additional class or series of capital stock of the Corporation unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption (collectively, the "Preferred Stock Protective Provisions"); and

WHEREAS, the undersigned stockholders constitute the Requisite Holders.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the undersigned stockholders hereby expressly authorize and approve of the Certificate of Amendment, and hereby waive, on behalf of all holders of Series A Preferred Stock, the Protective Provisions with respect to the sale of additional shares of Series A Preferred Stock and the Certificate of Amendment.

Omnibus Resolutions

RESOLVED: That the officers of the Company be, and each of them hereby is, authorized (i) to prepare, execute, deliver and perform, as the case may be, such agreements, amendments, applications, approvals, certificates, communications, consents, demands, directions, documents, further assurances, instruments, notices, orders, requests, resolutions, supplements or undertakings, (ii) to pay or cause to be paid on behalf of the Company any related costs and expenses and (iii) to take such other actions, in the name and on behalf of the Company, as each such officer, in his discretion, shall deem necessary or advisable to complete and effect the foregoing transactions or to carry out the intent and purposes of the foregoing resolutions and the transactions contemplated thereby, the preparation, execution, delivery and performance of any such agreements, amendments, applications, approvals, certificates, communications, consents, demands, directions, documents, further assurances, instruments, notices, orders, requests, resolutions, supplements or undertakings, the payment of any such costs or expenses and the performance of any such other acts to be conclusive evidence of the approval of all matters relating thereto.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That all actions heretofore taken by the officers and directors of the Company with respect to the foregoing transactions and all other matters contemplated by the foregoing resolutions are hereby approved, adopted, ratified and confirmed.

This action by written consent shall be effective as of the Consent Effectiveness Time. By executing this action by written consent, each undersigned stockholder is giving written consent with respect to all shares of the Company's capital stock held by such stockholder in favor of the above resolutions. This action by written consent may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall constitute an original and all of which together shall constitute one action. Any copy, facsimile or other reliable reproduction of this action by written consent may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing for any and all purposes for which the original writing could be used. This action by written consent shall be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the stockholders of the Company.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT TO THE

AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF

REPLICATE BIOSCIENCE, INC.

Replicate Bioscience, Inc. (the "Corporation"), a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "DGCL"), does hereby certify that:

1. The name of the Corporation is Replicate Bioscience, Inc. The date of filing of the Corporation's original Certificate of Incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware was January 15, 2021 under the name RepNuCo, Inc.

2. Pursuant to Section 242 of the DGCL, this Certificate of Amendment to the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the "Certificate of Amendment") further amends the provisions of the Corporation's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended.

3. Pursuant to Section 242 of the DGCL, the Board of Directors of the Corporation duly adopted resolutions setting forth the terms and provisions of this Certificate of Amendment, declaring the terms and provisions of this Certificate of Amendment to be advisable, and directing that the terms and provisions of this Certificate of Amendment be submitted to and considered by the stockholders of the Corporation for approval.

4. The terms and provisions of this Certificate of Amendment have been duly approved by written consent of the required number of shares of outstanding stock of the Corporation entitled to vote thereon, in lieu of a meeting and vote of stockholders, pursuant to Sections 228 and 242 of the DGCL.

5. The first sentence of Article Fourth of the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, as amended, is hereby amended to read in its entirety as follows:

> "The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is (i) 79,000,000 shares of Common Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Common Stock") and (ii) 63,250,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.001 par value per share ("Preferred Stock")."

6. The first sentence of Article Fourth Section B of the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, as amended, is hereby amended to read in its entirety as follows:

> "63,250,000 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A Preferred Stock," with the following rights, preferences, powers and restrictions, qualifications and limitations."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Replicate Bioscience, Inc. has caused this Certificate of Amendment to the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation to be signed by its Chief Executive Officer, as of the ____ day of February, 2025.

GALVANIZE THERAPEUTICS, INC.
SERIES B PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS SERIES B PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of March 29, 2022 by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and the investors listed on Exhibit A attached to this Agreement (each a "Purchaser" and together the "Purchasers").

The parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Preferred Stock.

1.1 Sale and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

(a) The Company shall adopt and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on or before the Closing (as defined below) the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in the form of Exhibit B attached to this Agreement (the "Restated Certificate").

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each Purchaser agrees to purchase at the Closing, and the Company agrees to sell and issue to each Purchaser at the Closing, that number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series B Preferred Stock"), set forth opposite each Purchaser's name on Exhibit A, at a purchase price of $1.7312858 per share (the "Purchase Price"). The shares of Series B Preferred Stock issued to the Purchasers pursuant to this Agreement shall be referred to in this Agreement as the "Shares."

1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) The purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures at such time and place as the Company and the Purchasers mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Closing").

(b) At the Closing (or promptly thereafter), the Company shall deliver to each Purchaser a certificate representing the Shares being purchased by such Purchaser at the Closing against payment of the Purchase Price therefor by check payable to the Company, by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company, by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness or other convertible securities of the Company to Purchaser, or by any combination of such methods. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) prior to the Initial Closing, the Company shall deliver to each Purchaser advised or sub-advised by Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC ("Fidelity") or one of its Affiliates (each such Purchaser, a "Fidelity Purchaser") (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions), a certificate registered in such Fidelity Purchaser's name (or in the name of such Fidelity Purchaser's nominee, as per its delivery instructions) representing the Shares that such Fidelity Purchaser is purchasing (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by Fidelity) against payment of the purchase price therefor by check payable to the Company, by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company, by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness of the Company to the Purchaser, including interest, or by any combination of such methods and (ii) each Fidelity Purchaser shall not be required to send its payment by check, wire transfer, cancellation or conversion of indebtedness or by any combination of such methods for the Shares being purchased by such Fidelity Purchaser, as applicable, until it (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) confirms receipt of the stock certificate representing its Shares (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by Fidelity); provided, however, that if the Company delivers an electronic image of such certificate to such Fidelity Purchaser in connection with the Initial Closing pursuant to the provisions above, then within five (5) business days following the Initial Closing, the Company shall deliver the physical instantiation of such certificate to such Fidelity Purchaser (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) via a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt

(c) Consent to Promissory Note Conversion and Termination. Each Purchaser, to the extent that such Purchaser, as set forth on the Schedule of Purchasers, is a holder of any promissory note of the Company being converted and/or cancelled in consideration of the issuance hereunder of Shares to such Purchaser, hereby agrees that the entire amount owed to such Purchaser under such note is being tendered to the Company in exchange for the applicable Shares set forth on the Schedule of Purchasers, and effective upon the Closing, without any further action required by the Company or such Purchaser, such note and all obligations set forth therein shall be immediately deemed satisfied in full and terminated in their entirety.

1.3 Use of Proceeds. The Company will use the proceeds from the sale of the Shares for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company.

1.4 Defined Terms Used in this Agreement. In addition to the terms defined above, the following terms used in this Agreement shall be construed to have the meanings set forth or referenced below.

(a) "Affiliate" means, (i) with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person and (ii) with respect to Fidelity and each Fidelity Purchaser, any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, one or more mutual fund, pension fund, pooled investment vehicle or institutional client advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity.

(b) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(c) "Company Intellectual Property" means all patents, patent applications, registered and unregistered trademarks, trademark applications, registered and unregistered service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, domain names, similar or other intellectual property rights, subject matter of any of the foregoing ("Intellectual Property Rights"), proprietary information and processes, and tangible embodiments of any of the foregoing, that are owned or used by the Company in the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted.

(d) "Fidelity" shall mean Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC, and any affiliated or successor investment advisor or subadvisor thereof to the Fidelity Purchasers.

(e) "Investors' Rights Agreement" means the agreement between the Company and the Purchasers dated as of the date of the Closing, in the form of Exhibit D attached to this Agreement.

(f) "Key Employees" means Jonathan Waldstreicher, Kevin Taylor, Deborah Sheffield and James Stambaugh.

(g) "Knowledge" including the phrase "to the Company's knowledge" shall mean the actual knowledge of the Key Employees after reasonable investigation and assuming such knowledge as the individual would have as a result of the reasonable performance of his or her duties in the ordinary course.

(h) "Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, financial condition, property or results of operations of the Company.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

(j) "Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchasers and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Closing, in the form of Exhibit E attached to this Agreement.

(k) "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(l) "Transaction Agreements" means this Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement and the Voting Agreement.

(m) "Voting Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchasers and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date hereof, in the form of Exhibit F attached to this Agreement.

2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to each Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Disclosure Schedule attached as Exhibit C to this Agreement, which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder, the following representations are true and complete as of the date hereof, except as otherwise indicated. The Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections and subsections contained in this Section 2, and the disclosures in any section or subsection of the Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections and subsections in this Section 2 only to the extent it is readily apparent from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections and subsections.

For purposes of these representations and warranties (other than those in Subsections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, and 2.6), the term the "Company" shall include any subsidiaries of the Company, unless otherwise noted herein.

2.1 Organization, Good Standing, Corporate Power and Qualification. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all requisite corporate power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. The Company is duly qualified to transact business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the failure to so qualify would have a Material Adverse Effect.

2.2 Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital of the Company consists, immediately prior to the Closing, of:

(i) 180,057,671 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Common Stock"), 3,088,120 shares of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Closing. All of the outstanding shares of Common Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Common Stock in its treasury.

(ii) 150,356,698 shares of preferred stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Preferred Stock"), 92,596,164 of which have been designated Series A Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Closing, and 57,760,534 of which have been designated Series B Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Closing. The rights, privileges and preferences of the Preferred Stock are as stated in the Restated Certificate and as provided by the Delaware General Corporation Law. The Company holds no Preferred Stock in its treasury.

(b) The Company has reserved 26,315,151 shares of Common Stock for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants of the Company pursuant to its 2015 Equity Incentive Plan duly adopted by the Board of Directors and approved by the Company stockholders (the "Stock Plan"). Of such reserved shares of Common Stock, options to purchase 14,877,050 shares are currently outstanding, 702,304 shares have been issued pursuant to stock option exercises, and 10,735,797 shares of Common Stock remain available for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants pursuant to the Stock Plan. The Company has furnished to the Purchasers complete and accurate copies of the Stock Plan and forms of agreements used thereunder.

(c) Except for (i) the conversion privileges of the Shares to be issued under this Agreement, (ii) the rights provided in Section 4 of the Investors' Rights Agreement and (iii) the securities and rights described in Subsection 2.2(b) and this Subsection 2.2(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, there are no outstanding options, warrants, rights (including conversion or preemptive rights and rights of first refusal or similar rights) or agreements, orally or in writing, to purchase or acquire from the Company any shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock. All outstanding shares of Common Stock and all shares of Common Stock underlying outstanding options are subject to (i) a right of first refusal in favor of the Company upon any proposed transfer (other than transfers for estate planning purposes), and (ii) a lock-up or market standoff agreement of not less than one hundred eighty (180) days following the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

(d) None of the Company's stock purchase agreements or stock option documents contains a provision for acceleration of vesting (or lapse of a repurchase right) or other changes in the vesting provisions or other terms of such agreement or understanding upon the occurrence of any event or combination of events, including without limitation in the case where the Company's Equity Incentive Plan is not assumed in an acquisition. Except as set forth in the Restated Certificate, the Company has no obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase or redeem any of its capital stock.

(e) The Company has obtained valid waivers of any rights by other parties to purchase any of the Shares covered by this Agreement.

2.3 Subsidiaries. The Company does not currently own or control, directly or indirectly, any interest in any other corporation, partnership, trust, joint venture, limited liability company, association or other business entity. The Company is not a participant in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement.

2.4 Authorization. All corporate action required to be taken by the Board and the Company's stockholders in order to authorize the Company to enter into the Transaction Agreements, and to issue the Shares at the Closing and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares, has been taken or will be taken prior to the Closing. All action on the part of the officers of the Company necessary for the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements, the performance of all obligations of the Company under the Transaction Agreements to be performed as of the Closing, and the issuance and delivery of the Shares has been taken or will be taken prior to the Closing. The Transaction Agreements, when executed and delivered by the Company, shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (b) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies or (c) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement and the Indemnification Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

2.5 Valid Issuance of Shares. The Shares, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable state and federal securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchasers. Assuming the accuracy of the representations of the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement and subject to the filings described in Section 2.6(b), the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares has been duly reserved for issuance, and upon issuance in accordance with the terms of the Restated Certificate, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable federal and state securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchasers. Based in part upon the representations of the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement and in the Voting Agreement, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

2.6 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except for (a) the filing of the Restated Certificate, which will have been filed as of the Closing, and (b) filings pursuant to Regulation D of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws, which have been made or will be made in a timely manner.

2.7 Litigation. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, complaint, charge or investigation pending or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened in writing (a) against the Company or any officer or director of the Company or any Key Employee arising out of their employment, board relationship or service relationship with the Company, (b) to the Company's knowledge, that questions the validity of the Transaction Agreements or the right of the Company to enter into them, or to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements or (c) to the Company's knowledge, that would reasonably be expected to have, either individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any of its officers, directors or Key Employees is a party or is named as subject to the provisions of any order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree of any court or government agency or instrumentality (in the case of officers, directors or Key Employees, such as would affect the Company). There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation by the Company pending or which the Company intends to initiate. The foregoing includes, without limitation, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations pending or threatened in writing (or any basis therefor known to the Company) involving the prior employment of any of the Company's employees, their services provided in connection with the Company's business, any information or techniques allegedly proprietary to any of their former employers or their obligations under any agreements with prior employers.

2.8 Intellectual Property.

(a) Ownership. The Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all Company Intellectual Property without any known conflict with, or infringement of, the rights of others, including prior employees or consultants.

(b) Non-Infringement. To the Company's knowledge, no product or service marketed or sold by the Company violates any license or infringes any Intellectual Property Rights of any other party.

(c) Outbound Licenses. Other than with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services under standard end-user license agreements and other non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business and consistent with past practice, there are no outstanding options, licenses, agreements, claims, encumbrances or shared ownership interests of any kind relating to the Intellectual Property Rights owned or purported to be owned by the Company ("Company-Owned Intellectual Property").

(d) Inbound Licenses. Other than (i) with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services licensed under standard terms, (ii) backup licenses from employees and contractors granted in connection with providing services to the Company and (iii) open source licenses, the Company is not bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person that are material to the business of the Company.

(e) Third-Party Intellectual Property. The Company has not received any communications alleging that the Company has violated, or by conducting its business, would violate any of the Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person. To the Company's knowledge, the Company has obtained and possesses valid licenses to use all of the software programs present on the computers and other software-enabled electronic devices that it owns or leases or that it has otherwise provided to its employees for their use in connection with the Company's business. To the Company's knowledge, to the extent it will be necessary to use any inventions of any of its employees or consultants (or Persons it currently intends to hire) made prior to their employment by the Company, including prior employees or consultants, the Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all such inventions.

(f) Employees and Consultants. Each employee and consultant has assigned to the Company all Intellectual Property Rights he or she owns that are related to the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted and all Intellectual Property Rights that he, she or it solely or jointly conceived, reduced to practice, developed or made during the period of his, her or its employment or consulting relationship with the Company that (i) relate, at the time of conception, reduction to practice, development or making of such Intellectual Property Right, to the Company's business as then conducted or as then proposed to be conducted, (ii) were developed on any amount of the Company's time or with the use of any of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities or information or (iii) resulted from the performance of services for the Company.

(g) Registered Intellectual Property Rights. Subsection 2.8(g) of the Disclosure Schedule lists all patents, patent applications, registered trademarks, trademark applications, registered service marks, service mark applications and registered copyrights, in each case owned or purported to be owned by the Company.

(h) Trade Secret Protection. The Company has taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain and protect all confidential information and trade secrets of the Company that the Company intended to maintain as confidential or a trade secret.

(i) Open Source Software. The Company has not embedded, used or distributed any open source, copyleft or community source code (including but not limited to any libraries or code, software, technologies or other materials that are licensed or distributed under any General Public License, Lesser General Public License or similar license arrangement or other distribution model described by the Open Source Initiative at www.opensource.org, collectively "Open Source Software") in connection with any of its products or services that are generally available or in development in any manner that would materially restrict the ability of the Company to protect its proprietary interests in any such product or service or in any manner that requires, or purports to require (i) any Company Intellectual Property (other than the Open Source Software itself) be disclosed or distributed in source code form or be licensed for the purpose of making derivative works; (ii) any restriction on the consideration to be charged for the distribution of any Company Intellectual Property; (iii) the creation of any obligation for the Company with respect to Company Intellectual Property owned by the Company, or the grant to any third party of any rights or immunities under Company Intellectual Property owned by the Company; or (iv) any other limitation, restriction or condition on the right of the Company with respect to its use or distribution of any Company Intellectual Property.

(j) Institutional Resources. No government funding, facilities of a university, college other educational institution or research center or funding from third parties was used in the development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property in a manner that has resulted in such entity retaining any claim of ownership or right to use any such Company-Owned Intellectual Property. To the Company's knowledge, no Person who was involved in, or who contributed to, the creation or development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property has performed services for the government, university, college or other educational institution or research center in a manner that would affect Company's rights in the Company-Owned Intellectual Property.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (a) of any provisions of its Restated Certificate or Bylaws, (b) of any instrument, judgment, order, writ or decree, (c) under any note, indenture or mortgage, (d) under any lease, agreement, contract or purchase order to which it is a party or by which it is bound that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule or (e) to its knowledge, of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, the violation of which would have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance of the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements will not result in any such violation or be in conflict with or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such provision, instrument, judgment, order, writ, decree, contract or agreement, or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Agreements; Actions.

(a) Except for the Transaction Agreements, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound that involve (i) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $100,000, (ii) the license of any patent, copyright, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary right to or from the Company, (iii) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market or sell its products to any other Person that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products or (iv) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights.

(b) The Company has not (i) declared or paid any dividends, or authorized or made any distribution upon or with respect to any class or series of its capital stock, (ii) incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed or incurred any other liabilities individually in excess of $100,000 or in excess of $500,000 in the aggregate, (iii) made any loans or advances to any Person, other than ordinary advances for travel expenses or (iv) sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of any of its assets or rights, other than the sale of its inventory in the ordinary course of business. For the purposes of (a) and (b) of this Subsection 2.10, all indebtedness, liabilities, agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts and proposed transactions involving the same Person (including Persons the Company has reason to believe are affiliated with each other) shall be aggregated for the purpose of meeting the individual minimum dollar amounts of such subsection.

(c) The Company is not a guarantor or indemnitor of any indebtedness of any other Person.

2.11 Certain Transactions.

(a) Other than (i) standard employee benefits generally made available to all employees, (ii) standard director and officer indemnification agreements approved by the Board and (iii) the purchase of shares of the Company's capital stock and the issuance of options to purchase shares of Common Stock, in each instance, approved in the written minutes of the Board (previously provided to the Purchasers or their respective counsel), there are no agreements, understandings or proposed transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, consultants or Key Employees, or any Affiliate thereof.

(b) The Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any of its directors, officers or employees or to their respective spouses or children or to any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, other than in connection with expenses or advances of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business or employee relocation expenses and for other customary employee benefits made generally available to all employees. None of the Company's directors, officers or Key Employees, or any members of their immediate families, or any Affiliate of the foregoing are, directly or indirectly, indebted to the Company.

2.12 Rights of Registration and Voting Rights. Except as provided in the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Company is not under any obligation to register under the Securities Act any of its currently outstanding securities or any securities issuable upon exercise or conversion of its currently outstanding securities. To the Company's knowledge, except as contemplated in the Voting Agreement, no stockholder of the Company has entered into any agreements with respect to the voting of capital shares of the Company.

2.13 Property. The property and assets that the Company owns are free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, loans and encumbrances, except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and encumbrances and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets (including, with respect to Company-Owned Intellectual Property, non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business). With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in compliance with such leases and holds a valid leasehold interest free of any liens, claims or encumbrances other than those of the lessors of such property or assets. The Company does not own any real property.

2.14 Financial Statements. The Company has delivered (or made available) to each Purchaser its unaudited financial statements (prepared on a pro forma basis taking into account the financial statements on a consolidated basis of the Company and each of Galaxy Medical, Inc., Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., and Galary, Inc. (each of which entities were merged with and into the Company)) (the "Financial Statements") for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021 ("the "Balance Sheet Date"). The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods indicated, except that the unaudited Financial Statements may not contain all footnotes required by GAAP. The Financial Statements fairly present in all material respects the financial condition and operating results of the Company as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated therein, subject in the case of the unaudited Financial Statements to normal year-end audit adjustments. Except as set forth in the Financial Statements, the Company has no material liabilities or obligations, contingent or otherwise, other than (a) liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business subsequent to the Balance Sheet Date, (b) obligations under contracts and commitments incurred in the ordinary course of business and (c) liabilities and obligations of a type or nature not required under GAAP to be reflected in the Financial Statements, which, in all such cases, individually and in the aggregate would not have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company maintains and will continue to maintain a standard system of accounting established and administered in accordance with GAAP.

2.15 Changes. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.15 of the Disclosure Schedule, since the Balance Sheet Date there has not been:

(a) any change in the assets, liabilities, financial condition or operating results of the Company from that reflected in the Financial Statements, except changes in the ordinary course of business that have not caused, in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect;

(b) any damage, destruction or loss, whether or not covered by insurance, that would have a Material Adverse Effect;

(c) any waiver or compromise by the Company of a valuable right or of a material debt owed to it;

(d) any satisfaction or discharge of any lien, claim or encumbrance or payment of any obligation by the Company, except in the ordinary course of business and the satisfaction or discharge of which would not have a Material Adverse Effect;

(e) any material change to a material contract or agreement by which the Company or any of its assets is bound or subject;

(f) any material change in any compensation arrangement or agreement with any employee, officer, director or stockholder;

(g) any resignation or termination of employment of any officer or Key Employee of the Company;

(h) any mortgage, pledge, transfer of a security interest in or lien created by the Company, with respect to any of its material properties or assets, except liens for taxes not yet due or payable and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets;

(i) any loans or guarantees made by the Company to or for the benefit of its employees, officers or directors, or any members of their immediate families, other than travel advances and other advances made in the ordinary course of its business;

(j) any declaration, setting aside or payment or other distribution in respect of any of the Company's capital stock, or any direct or indirect redemption, purchase or other acquisition of any of such stock by the Company;

(k) any sale, assignment or transfer of any Company Intellectual Property that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect;

(l) receipt of notice that there has been a loss of, or material order cancellation by, any major customer of the Company;

(m) to the Company's knowledge, any other event or condition of any character, other than events affecting the economy or the Company's industry generally, that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; or

(n) any arrangement or commitment by the Company to do any of the things described in this Section 2.15.

2.16 Employee Matters.

(a) To the Company's knowledge, none of its employees is obligated under any contract (including licenses, covenants or commitments of any nature) or other agreement, or subject to any judgment, decree or order of any court or administrative agency, that would materially interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interest of the Company or that would conflict with the Company's business. Neither the execution or delivery of the Transaction Agreements, nor the carrying on of the Company's business by the employees of the Company, nor the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted, will, to the Company's knowledge, conflict with or result in a breach of the terms, conditions or provisions of, or constitute a default under, any contract, covenant or instrument under which any such employee is now obligated.

(b) The Company is not delinquent in payments to any of its employees, consultants or independent contractors for any wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses or other direct compensation for any service performed for it to the date hereof or amounts required to be reimbursed to such employees, consultants or independent contractors. The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and with other laws related to employment, including those related to wages, hours, worker classification and collective bargaining. The Company has withheld and paid to the appropriate governmental entity or is holding for payment not yet due to such governmental entity all amounts required to be withheld from employees of the Company and is not liable for any arrears of wages, taxes, penalties or other sums for failure to comply with any of the foregoing.

(c) To the Company's knowledge, no Key Employee intends to terminate his or her employment or service relationship with the Company and is not otherwise likely to become unavailable to continue as an employee or service provider of the Company. The Company does not have a present intention to terminate the employment of any of the foregoing. The employment of each employee of the Company is terminable at the will of the Company. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(c) of the Disclosure Schedule or as required by law, upon termination of the employment of any such employees, no severance or other payments will become due. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has no policy, practice, plan or program of paying severance pay or any form of severance compensation in connection with the termination of employment services.

(d) The Company has not made any representations regarding equity incentives to any officer, employee, director or consultant that are inconsistent with the share amounts and terms set forth in the minutes of meetings of the Board.

(e) Each former Key Employee whose employment was terminated by the Company has entered into an agreement with the Company providing for the full release of any claims against the Company or any related party arising out of such employment.

(f) Subsection 2.16(e) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth each employee benefit plan maintained, established or sponsored by the Company, or which the Company participates in or contributes to, which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Company has made all required contributions and has no liability to any such employee benefit plan, other than liability for health plan continuation coverage described in Part 6 of Title I(B) of ERISA, and has complied in all material respects with all applicable laws for any such employee benefit plan.

2.17 Tax Returns and Payments. There are no federal, state, county, local or foreign taxes due and payable by the Company which have not been timely paid. There are no accrued and unpaid federal, state, county, local or foreign taxes of the Company which are due, whether or not assessed or disputed, unless such taxes are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings and adequate reserves for any such taxes have been established in accordance with GAAP. There have been no examinations or audits of any tax returns or reports by any applicable federal, state, local or foreign governmental agency. The Company has duly and timely filed all federal, state, county, local and foreign tax returns required to have been filed by it and there are in effect no waivers of applicable statutes of limitations with respect to taxes for any year.

2.18 Insurance. The Company has in full force and effect insurance policies concerning such casualties as would be reasonable and customary for companies like the Company with extended coverage, sufficient in amount (subject to reasonable deductions) to allow it to replace any of its properties that might be damaged or destroyed.

2.19 Employee Agreements. Each current and former employee, consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms delivered (or made available) to the Purchasers or their respective counsel (the "Confidential Information Agreements"). No current or former employees have excluded works or inventions from his or her assignment of inventions pursuant to such employee's Confidential Information Agreement. Each current employee of the Company has executed a non-solicitation agreement substantially in the form or forms delivered to the Purchasers. The Company is not aware that any Key Employee is in violation of any agreement covered by this Subsection 2.19.

2.20 Permits. The Company has all franchises, permits, licenses and any similar authority necessary for the conduct of its business, the lack of which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company is not in default in any material respect under any of such franchises, permits, licenses or other similar authority.

2.21 Corporate Documents. The Restated Certificate and Bylaws of the Company are in the form provided to the Purchasers. The copy of the minute books of the Company made available to the Purchasers contains minutes of all meetings of directors and stockholders and all actions by written consent without a meeting by the directors and stockholders since the date of incorporation and accurately reflects in all material respects all actions by the directors (and any committee of directors) and stockholders with respect to all transactions referred to in such minutes.

2.22 Real Property Holding Corporation. The Company is not now and has never been a "United States real property holding corporation" as defined in the Code and any applicable regulations promulgated thereunder. The Company has filed with the Internal Revenue Service all statements, if any, with its United States income tax returns which are required under such regulations.

2.23 Environmental and Safety Laws. Except as would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, to the knowledge of the Company: (a) the Company is and has been in compliance with all Environmental Laws; (b) there has been no release or to the Company's knowledge threatened release of any pollutant, contaminant or toxic or hazardous material, substance or waste or petroleum or any fraction thereof (each a "Hazardous Substance"), on, upon, into or from any site currently or heretofore owned, leased or otherwise used by the Company; (c) there have been no Hazardous Substances generated by the Company that have been disposed of or come to rest at any site that has been included in any published U.S. federal, state or local "superfund" site list or any other similar list of hazardous or toxic waste sites published by any governmental authority in the United States; and (d) there are no underground storage tanks located on, no polychlorinated biphenyls ("PCBs") or PCB-containing equipment used or stored on, and no hazardous waste as defined by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, as amended, stored on, any site owned or operated by the Company, except for the storage of hazardous waste in compliance with Environmental Laws. The Company has made available to the Purchasers true and complete copies of all material environmental records, reports, notifications, certificates of need, permits, pending permit applications, correspondence, engineering studies and environmental studies or assessments.

For purposes of this Section 2.23, "Environmental Laws" means any law, regulation, or other applicable requirement relating to (a) releases or threatened release of Hazardous Substance; (b) pollution or protection of employee health or safety, public health or the environment; or (c) the manufacture, handling, transport, use, treatment, storage, or disposal of Hazardous Substances.

2.24 Foreign Corrupt Practices Act. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its directors, officers, employees or agents have, directly or indirectly, made, offered, promised or authorized any payment or gift of any money or anything of value to or for the benefit of any "foreign official" (as such term is defined in the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended (the "FCPA")), foreign political party or official thereof or candidate for foreign political office for the purpose of (i) influencing any official act or decision of such official, party or candidate, (ii) inducing such official, party or candidate to use his, her or its influence to affect any act or decision of a foreign governmental authority, or (iii) securing any improper advantage, in the case of (i), (ii) and (iii) above in order to assist the Company or any of its controlled affiliates in obtaining or retaining business for or with, or directing business to, any person and in violation of the FCPA. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its directors, officers, employees or agents have made or authorized any bribe, rebate, payoff, influence payment, kickback or other unlawful payment of funds or received or retained any funds in violation of any law, rule or regulation. The Company further represents that it has maintained, and has caused each of its subsidiaries to maintain, systems of internal controls and written policies to ensure compliance with the FCPA or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law, and to ensure that all books and records of the Company accurately and fairly reflect, in reasonable detail, all transactions and dispositions of funds and assets. To the Company's knowledge, neither the Company nor, any of its officers, directors or employees are the subject of any allegation, voluntary disclosure, investigation, prosecution or other enforcement action related to the FCPA or any other anti-corruption law (collectively, "Enforcement Action").

2.25 Data Privacy, Privacy and Security. In connection with its collection, storage, transfer (including, without limitation, any transfer across national borders), use, and other processing of any personally identifiable information (or other analogous term under applicable privacy and data protection laws) from any individuals, including, without limitation, any customers, prospective customers, employees and/or other third parties (collectively "Personal Information"), the Company is and has been for the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, in material compliance with all applicable privacy and data protection laws and the requirements of any contract, self-regulatory frameworks, or codes of conduct to which the Company is a party or is otherwise bound. For the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, the Company has and maintains commercially reasonable physical, technical, organizational and administrative security measures to protect all Personal Information collected by it or on its behalf from and against unauthorized or illegal access, use and/or disclosure, or accidental or unlawful destruction, loss or alteration (a "Breach"). Within the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, no Breach of Personal Information or other confidential or proprietary data of the Company has occurred or is threatened. The Company is and has been for the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, to the Company's knowledge, in compliance in all material respects with all laws relating to data loss, theft and breach of security notification obligations.

2.26 Export Control Laws. The Company has conducted for the last three (3) years and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, all export transactions in accordance with applicable provisions of United States export control laws and regulations, including the Export Administration Regulations, the International Traffic in Arms Regulations, the regulations administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Treasury Department, and the export control laws and regulations of any other applicable jurisdiction. Without limiting the foregoing: (a) the Company has obtained all export licenses and other approvals, timely filed all required filings and has assigned the appropriate export classifications to all products, in each case as required for its exports of products, software and technologies from the United States and any other applicable jurisdiction; (b) the Company is in compliance with the terms of all applicable export licenses, classifications, filing requirements or other approvals; (c) there are no pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened claims against the Company with respect to such exports, classifications, required filings or other approvals; (d) there are no pending investigations related to the Company's exports; and (e) there are no actions, conditions, or circumstances pertaining to the Company's export transactions that would reasonably be expected to give rise to any material future claims.

2.27 CFIUS Representations. The Company does not engage in (a) the design, fabrication, development, testing, production or manufacture of one (1) or more "critical technologies" within the meaning of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, including all implementing regulations thereof (the "DPA"); (b) the ownership, operation, maintenance, supply, manufacture, or servicing of "covered investment critical infrastructure" within the meaning of the DPA (where such activities are covered by column 2 of Appendix A to 31 C.F.R. Part 800); or (c) the maintenance or collection, directly or indirectly, of "sensitive personal data" of U.S. citizens within the meaning of the DPA.

2.28 Preclinical Development and Clinical Trials. The studies, tests, preclinical development and clinical trials, if any, conducted by or on behalf of the Company are being conducted in all material respects in accordance with experimental protocols, procedures and controls pursuant to accepted professional and scientific standards for products or product candidates comparable to those being developed by the Company and all applicable laws and regulations, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and 21 C.F.R. parts 50, 54, 56, 58, 312, and 812. The descriptions of, protocols for, and data and other results of, the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company that have been furnished or made available to the Purchasers are accurate and complete. The Company is not aware of any studies, tests, development or trials the results of which reasonably call into question the results of the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company, and the Company has not received any notices or correspondence from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") or any other governmental entity or any institutional review board or comparable authority requiring the termination, suspension or material modification of any studies, tests, preclinical development or clinical trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company.

2.29 FDA Approvals. The Company possesses all permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals from the appropriate federal, state or foreign regulatory authorities necessary to conduct its business as now conducted, including all such permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals required by the FDA or any other federal, state or foreign agencies or bodies engaged in the regulation of drugs, pharmaceuticals, medical devices or biohazardous materials. The Company has not received any notice of proceedings relating to the suspension, modification, revocation or cancellation of any such permit, license, registration, certificate, authorization, order or approval. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any officer, employee or agent of the Company has been convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct that has previously caused or would reasonably be expected to result in (A) disqualification or debarment by the FDA under 21 U.S.C. Sections 335(a) or (b), or any similar law, rule or regulation of any other governmental entities, (B) debarment, suspension, or exclusion under any federal healthcare programs or by the General Services Administration, or (C) exclusion under 42 U.S.C. Section 1320a-7 or any similar law, rule or regulation of any governmental entities. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, employees, or, to the Company's knowledge, any of its contractors or agents is the subject of any pending or threatened investigation by FDA pursuant to its "Fraud, Untrue Statements of Material Facts, Bribery, and Illegal Gratuities" policy as stated at 56 Fed. Reg. 46191 (September 10, 1991) (the "FDA Application Integrity Policy") and any amendments thereto, or by any other similar governmental entity pursuant to any similar policy. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its officers, employees, contractors, and agents has committed any act, made any statement or failed to make any statement that would reasonably be expected to provide a basis for FDA to invoke the FDA Application Integrity Policy or for any similar governmental entity to invoke a similar policy. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its officers, employees, or to the Company's knowledge, any of its contractors or agents has made any materially false statements on, or material omissions from, any notifications, applications, approvals, reports and other submissions to FDA or any similar governmental entity.

2.30 FDA Regulation. The Company is, for the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, has been in compliance with all applicable laws administered or issued by the FDA or any similar governmental entity, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and all other laws regarding developing, testing, manufacturing, marketing, distributing or promoting the products of the Company, or complaint handling or adverse event reporting.

2.31 83(b) Elections. To the Company's knowledge, all elections and notices under Section 83(b) of the Code have been or will be timely filed by all eligible individuals who have acquired unvested shares of Common Stock.

2.32 Disclosure. The Company has made available to the Purchasers all the information reasonably available to the Company that the Purchasers have requested for deciding whether to acquire the Shares, including certain of the Company's projections describing its proposed business plan (the "Business Plan"). No representation or warranty of the Company contained in this Agreement, as qualified by the Disclosure Schedule, and no certificate furnished or to be furnished to the Purchasers at the Closing contains any untrue statement of a material fact or, to the Company's knowledge, omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made. The Business Plan was prepared in good faith; however, the Company does not warrant that it will achieve any results projected in the Business Plan. It is understood that this representation is qualified by the fact that the Company has not delivered to the Purchasers, and has not been requested to deliver, a private placement or similar memorandum or any written disclosure of the types of information customarily furnished to purchasers of securities.

2.33 Investment Company. The Company is not an investment company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

2.34 Shell Company. The Company is not, and has never been, an issuer identified in Rule 144(i)(1) promulgated under the Securities Act.

2.35 No Additional Agreements. Except as set forth on Subsection 2.34 of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has not entered, and will not enter, into any agreement or understanding with any Purchaser purchasing Shares with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement other than as specified herein or in one of the Transaction Agreements. For the avoidance of doubt, each Purchaser has the same rights with respect to the purchase of Shares as each of the other Purchasers other than as explicitly set forth in herein or in the Transaction Agreements.

3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchasers. Each Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company, as to such Purchaser, that:

3.1 Authorization. Such Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements to which such Purchaser is a party, when executed and delivered by such Purchaser, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of such Purchaser, enforceable against such Purchaser in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies or (b) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with such Purchaser in reliance upon such Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by such Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, such Purchaser hereby confirms, that the Shares to be acquired by such Purchaser will be acquired for investment for such Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that such Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, such Purchaser further represents that such Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any Person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such Person or to any third Person, with respect to any of the Shares. Such Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Shares.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. Such Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Shares with the Company's management and has had an opportunity to review the Company's facilities. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of such Purchaser to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of such Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares are "restricted securities" under applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, such Purchaser must hold the Shares indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities, or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. Such Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the Shares, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale except as set forth in the Investors' Rights Agreement. Such Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the Shares, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of such Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy. Such Purchaser understands that this offering is not intended to be part of the public offering, and that such Purchaser will not be able to rely on the protection of Section 11 of the Securities Act.

3.5 No Public Market. Such Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the Shares, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the Shares.

3.6 Legends. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the Shares, may be notated with one or all of the following legends:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO SUCH TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933."

(a) Any legend set forth in, or required by, the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the Shares represented by the certificate, instrument or book entry so legended.

3.7 Accredited Investor. Such Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act.

3.8 No General Solicitation. Neither such Purchaser, nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including, through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares.

3.9 Exculpation Among Purchasers. Such Purchaser acknowledges that such Purchaser is not relying upon any Person, other than the Company and its officers and directors, in making its investment or decision to invest in the Company. Such Purchaser agrees that neither any Purchaser nor the respective controlling Persons, officers, directors, partners, agents or employees of any Purchaser shall be liable to any other Purchaser for any action heretofore taken or omitted to be taken by any of them in connection with the purchase of the Shares.

3.10 Principal Place of Business. The office or offices of such Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of such Purchaser set forth on Exhibit A.

4. Conditions to the Purchasers' Obligations at Closing. The obligations of each Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before the Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

4.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing.

4.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company in all material respects on or before the Closing.

4.3 Compliance Certificate. An authorized officer of the Company shall deliver to the Purchasers at the Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 4.1 and 4.2 have been fulfilled.

4.4 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of the Closing.

4.5 Opinion of Company Counsel. The Purchasers shall have received from Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, an opinion, dated as of the Closing, in substantially the form of Exhibit G attached to this Agreement.

4.6 Investors' Rights Agreement. The Company and each Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

4.7 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. The Company, each Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

4.8 Voting Agreement. The Company, each Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

4.9 Restated Certificate. The Company shall have filed the Restated Certificate with the Secretary of State of Delaware on or prior to the Closing, which shall continue to be in full force and effect as of the Closing.

4.10 Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to each Purchaser at the Closing a certificate certifying (a) the Bylaws of the Company, (b) resolutions of the Board approving the Transaction Agreements and the transactions contemplated under the Transaction Agreements and (c) resolutions of the stockholders of the Company approving the Restated Certificate.

4.11 Proceedings and Documents. All corporate and other proceedings in connection with the transactions contemplated at the Closing and all documents incident thereto shall be reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to the Purchaser, and the Purchaser (or its counsel) shall have received all such counterpart original and certified or other copies of such documents as reasonably requested. Such documents may include good standing certificates.

5. Conditions of the Company's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Company to sell Shares to the Purchasers at the Closing are subject to the fulfillment of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

5.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of each Purchaser contained in Section 3 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing.

5.2 Performance. The Purchasers shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by them in all material respects on or before the Closing.

5.3 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of the Closing.

5.4 Investors' Rights Agreement. The Purchasers shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

5.5 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. The Purchasers and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

5.6 Voting Agreement. The Purchasers and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Survival of Warranties. Unless otherwise set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of the Company and the Purchasers contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the applicable Closing year and shall in no way be affected by any investigation or knowledge of the subject matter thereof made by or on behalf of the Purchasers or the Company.

6.2 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

6.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.5 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.6 Notices.

(a) General. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt, or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid or (iv) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery and with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page or Exhibit A, or to such e-mail address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.6. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Purchaser consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the e-mail address set forth below such Purchaser's name on the signature page or Exhibit A, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected e-mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Purchaser agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its e-mail address and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.7 No Finder's Fees. Each party represents that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. Each Purchaser (other than each Fidelity Purchaser) agrees to indemnify and to hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which each Purchaser or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

6.8 Fees and Expenses. At the Closing, the Company shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of Fenwick & West LLP, counsel for Fidelity, in an aggregate amount not to exceed $60,000.

6.9 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, terminated or waived only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least sixty-five percent (65%) of the then-outstanding Shares; provided that the written consent of each Fidelity Purchaser shall be required for any amendment, termination or waiver of the last sentence of Subsection 1.2(b), Subsection 1.4(a)(ii) (and Section 1.4(a) as it relates to Subsection 1.4(a)(ii)), Subsection 1.4(d), Section 6.7 (as it relates to a Fidelity Purchaser), Section 6.16, Section 6.17 (as it relates to a Fidelity Purchaser) and this proviso.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.12 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.13 Corporate Securities Law. THE SALE OF THE SECURITIES WHICH ARE THE SUBJECT OF THIS AGREEMENT HAS NOT BEEN QUALIFIED WITH THE COMMISSIONER OF CORPORATIONS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA AND THE ISSUANCE OF THE SECURITIES OR THE PAYMENT OR RECEIPT OF ANY PART OF THE CONSIDERATION THEREFOR PRIOR TO THE QUALIFICATION IS UNLAWFUL UNLESS THE SALE OF SECURITIES IS EXEMPT FROM THE QUALIFICATION BY SECTION 25100, 25102 OR 25105 OF THE CALIFORNIA CORPORATIONS CODE. THE RIGHTS OF ALL PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT ARE EXPRESSLY CONDITIONED UPON THE QUALIFICATION BEING OBTAINED UNLESS THE SALE IS SO EXEMPT.

6.14 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of California and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of California or the United States District Court for the Northern District of California and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS

LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.15 No Commitment for Additional Financing. The Company acknowledges and agrees that no Purchaser has made any representation, undertaking, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance, other than the purchase of the Shares as set forth herein and subject to the conditions set forth herein. In addition, the Company acknowledges and agrees that (a) no statements, whether written or oral, made by any Purchaser or its representatives on or after the date of this Agreement shall create an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment, (b) the Company shall not rely on any such statement by any Purchaser or its representatives and (c) an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment may only be created by a written agreement, signed by such Purchaser and the Company, setting forth the terms and conditions of such financing or investment and stating that the parties intend for such writing to be a binding obligation or agreement. Each Purchaser shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to refuse or decline to participate in any other financing of or investment in the Company, and shall have no obligation to assist or cooperate with the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

6.16 Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of the Agreement and Declaration of Trust of each Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Agreement is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Agreement are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

6.17 Waiver of Conflicts. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges that Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, has in the past performed and may continue to perform legal services for certain of the Purchasers in matters unrelated to the transactions described in this Agreement, including the representation of such Purchasers in venture capital financings and other matters. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges understands that an affiliate of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C. (the "WSGR Affiliate") may also be a Purchaser under this Agreement. Accordingly, each party to this Agreement (other than each Fidelity Purchaser) hereby (a) acknowledges that they have had an opportunity to ask for information relevant to this disclosure (b) gives its informed consent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Purchasers in such unrelated matters and to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Company in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby; and (c) waives any actual or potential conflict of interest which may arise as a result of the participation by the WSGR Affiliate in the financing.

GALVANIZE THERAPEUTICS, INC.
SERIES C PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS SERIES C PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 7, 2025 by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and the investors listed on Exhibit A attached to this Agreement (each a "Purchaser" and together the "Purchasers").

The parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Preferred Stock.

1.1 Sale and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

(a) The Company shall adopt and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on or before the Initial Closing (as defined below) the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in the form of Exhibit B attached to this Agreement (the "Restated Certificate").

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each Purchaser agrees to purchase, and the Company agrees to sell and issue to each Purchaser, at the applicable Closing (as defined below) that number of shares of (i) Series C Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series C Preferred Stock") (ii) Series C-1 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series C-1 Preferred Stock") and/or (iii) Series C-2 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series C-2 Preferred Stock" and together with the Series C Preferred Stock and the Series C-1 Preferred Stock, the "Series C Combined Preferred Stock"), set forth opposite each Purchaser's name on Exhibit A with respect to such Closing, at a purchase price as set forth on Exhibit A or pursuant to any cancellation or conversion of Convertible Securities (as defined below) as set forth in Section 1.3 below. The shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock issued to the Purchasers pursuant to this Agreement shall be referred to in this Agreement as the "Shares."

(c) For purposes of any Closing (other than the Initial Closing), the purchase price (or effective purchase price, as applicable) of each of the Series C Preferred Stock and Series C-1 Preferred Stock as set forth on Exhibit A shall be subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Series C Preferred Stock, Series C-1 Preferred Stock and Series C-2 Preferred Stock, as applicable, following the Initial Closing and prior to any subsequent Closing.

1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) The initial purchase and sale of the Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures on the date of this Agreement at such time as is mutually agreed upon, orally or in writing, by the Company and the Purchasers (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). The term "Closing" shall mean any of the Initial Closing, the Second Tranche Closing (as defined below) or any Early Purchase Closing (as defined below), as applicable.

(b) At each Closing (or promptly thereafter), the Company shall deliver to each Purchaser a certificate representing the Shares being purchased by such Purchaser at such Closing (or other evidence of Share ownership) against payment of the purchase price therefor by check payable to the Company, by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company, by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness or other convertible securities of the Company to Purchaser, or by any combination of such methods.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) prior to any Closing pursuant to which a Fidelity Purchaser (as defined below) will acquire Shares, the Company shall deliver to each Purchaser advised or sub-advised by Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC ("Fidelity") or one of its Affiliates (each such Purchaser, a "Fidelity Purchaser") (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions), a certificate registered in such Fidelity Purchaser's name (or in the name of such Fidelity Purchaser's nominee, as per its delivery instructions) representing the Shares that such Fidelity Purchaser is acquiring at such applicable Closing (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by Fidelity) against payment of the purchase price therefor by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness of the Company to the Fidelity Purchaser, including interest and (ii) each Fidelity Purchaser shall not be required to send its payment by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness for the Shares being acquired by such Fidelity Purchaser at such applicable Closing, as applicable, until it (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) confirms receipt of the stock certificate representing its Shares being so acquired at such applicable Closing (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by Fidelity); provided, however, that if the Company delivers an electronic image of such certificate to such Fidelity Purchaser in connection with such applicable Closing pursuant to the provisions above, then within five (5) business days following such applicable Closing, the Company shall deliver the wet-ink signed versions of such certificate to such Fidelity Purchaser (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) via a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing, prior to any Closing pursuant to which a TRP Purchaser (as defined below) will acquire or purchase Shares, (i) the Company shall deliver to each such Purchaser that is an advisory or sub-advisory client of T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. and any successor or affiliated registered investment adviser thereto ("TRP") (each such Purchaser, a "TRP Purchaser") (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions), a certificate registered in such TRP Purchaser's name (or in the name of such TRP Purchaser's nominee, as per its delivery instructions) representing the Shares that such TRP Purchaser is purchasing or acquiring at such applicable Closing (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by TRP) against payment of the purchase price therefor by check payable to the Company, by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company, by cancellation or conversion of indebtedness of the Company to the TRP Purchaser, including interest, or by any combination of such methods and (ii) each TRP Purchaser shall not be required to send its payment by check, wire transfer, cancellation or conversion of indebtedness or by any combination of such methods for the Shares being purchased or acquired by such TRP Purchaser at such appliable Closing, until it (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) confirms receipt of the stock certificate representing its Shares being so acquired or purchased at such applicable Closing (or an electronic image of such certificate as instructed by TRP); provided, however, that if the Company delivers an electronic image of such certificate to such TRP Purchaser in connection with such applicable Closing pursuant to the provisions above, then within five (5) business days following such applicable Closing, the Company shall deliver the wet-ink signed versions of such certificate to such TRP Purchaser (or its designated custodian, as per its delivery instructions) via a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt.

1.3 Conversion and Termination of Convertible Securities.

(a) By executing and delivering this Agreement, each of the undersigned Purchasers (other than the Fidelity Purchasers) holding one or more convertible promissory notes issued by the Company prior to the date of this Agreement (each, a "Convertible Security" and, collectively, the "Convertible Securities") hereby irrevocably agrees that:

(i) The aggregate Purchase Amount (as defined in the Convertible Securities) of all such Convertible Securities held by such Purchaser is set forth on Exhibit A under the column heading "Conversion Amount";

(ii) Such Purchaser is the sole owner of all right, title and interest in and to the Convertible Securities corresponding to the amounts shown opposite such Purchaser's name on Exhibit A;

(iii) At the Initial Closing, all of such Purchaser's Convertible Securities will automatically and without any action on the part of such Purchaser convert into the number of shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock set forth opposite such Purchaser's name under the column heading "Shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock" and, solely with respect to the TRP Purchasers, the number of shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock set forth opposite such Purchaser's name under the column heading "Shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock" on Exhibit A (as to any Purchaser, such shares being such Purchaser's "Convertible Security Shares"), regardless of whether any such Convertible Securities or an affidavit of loss therefor is actually delivered in original or other form to the Company, and any original Convertible Securities held by (or delivered (electronically or otherwise) to) the Company may be cancelled (and marked cancelled) by the Company upon or following the Initial Closing;

(iv) As to such Purchaser, such Purchaser's Convertible Security Shares are issued in full and complete discharge and satisfaction of all obligations of the Company (including any notice provisions or covenants contained therein) under such Purchaser's Convertible Securities, and such Convertible Securities will be automatically terminated and of no further force or effect immediately upon the Initial Closing;

(v) Such Purchaser hereby waives any interest that would accrue in respect of such Purchaser's Convertible Security after July 7, 2025;

(vi) No fractional shares shall be issued upon conversion of any Convertible Security and the right to receive cash in lieu of any fractional share shall be waived; and

(vii) Such Purchaser hereby waives in connection with such conversion any notices required by the terms of such Convertible Securities (as well as any other terms and conditions under the terms of the Convertible Securities that would otherwise be required to constitute an automatic conversion of the Convertible Securities into the Convertible Security Shares).

(b) By executing and delivering this Agreement, each Fidelity Purchaser hereby irrevocably agrees as follows:

(i) With respect to the Initial Closing:

(1) The aggregate Purchase Amount (as defined in the Convertible Securities) of such Convertible Securities that will convert into Convertible Security Shares at the Initial Closing held by such Purchaser is set forth on Exhibit A under the column heading "Conversion Amount";

(2) Such Purchaser is the sole owner of all right, title and interest in and to the Convertible Securities corresponding to the amounts shown opposite such Purchaser's name on Exhibit A (as well as the additional principal amount of the Convertible Securities issued by the Company to such Purchaser pursuant to the 2024 NPA, as defined below);

(3) At the Initial Closing, the applicable portion of such Purchaser's Convertible Securities will automatically and without any action on the part of such Purchaser convert into the number of Convertible Security Shares set forth on Exhibit A under the column heading "Conversion Amount", regardless of whether any such Convertible Securities or an affidavit of loss therefor is actually delivered in original or other form to the Company, and any original Convertible Securities held by (or delivered (electronically or otherwise) to) the Company may be cancelled (and marked cancelled) by the Company upon or following the Initial Closing;

(4) As to such Purchaser, such Purchaser's Convertible Security Shares are issued in full and complete discharge and satisfaction of all obligations of the Company (including any notice provisions or covenants contained therein) under such Purchaser's Convertible Securities, and such Convertible Securities will be automatically terminated and of no further force or effect immediately upon the Initial Closing; it being understood and agreed that, at the Initial Closing, the Company shall issue a convertible promissory note to such Purchaser with an original principal amount equal to the applicable principal amount of the Convertible Securities not so converted into Convertible Security Shares at the Initial Closing and in substantially the form set forth on Exhibit I (the "New Fidelity Note");

(5) Such Purchaser hereby waives any interest that would accrue after July 7, 2025 in respect of such Purchaser's Convertible Securities that will convert into Convertible Security Shares at the Initial Closing;

(6) No fractional shares shall be issued upon conversion of any Convertible Security and the right to receive cash in lieu of any fractional share shall be waived; and

(7) Such Purchaser hereby waives in connection with such conversion any notices required by the terms of such Convertible Securities (as well as any other terms and conditions under the terms of the Convertible Securities that would otherwise be required to constitute an automatic conversion of the Convertible Securities into the Convertible Security Shares).

(ii) With respect to the Second Tranche Closing:

(1) The aggregate Purchase Amount (as defined in the New Fidelity Note) that will convert into Convertible Security Shares at the Second Tranche Closing will be the maximum principal and accrued interest under the New Fidelity Note that shall be so converted into Convertible Security Shares at the Second Tranche Closing in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Convertible Securities;

(2) At the Second Tranche Closing, the applicable portion of the principal and accrued interest under the New Fidelity Note will automatically and without any action on the part of such Purchaser convert into the applicable number of Convertible Security Shares in accordance with the terms and conditions of the New Fidelity Note, regardless of whether the New Fidelity Note or an affidavit of loss therefor is actually delivered in original or other form to the Company, and any original the New Fidelity Note held by (or delivered (electronically or otherwise) to) the Company may be cancelled (and marked cancelled) by the Company upon or following the Second Tranche Closing;

(3) As to such Purchaser, such Purchaser's Convertible Security Shares will be issued in full and complete discharge and satisfaction of all obligations of the Company (including any notice provisions or covenants contained therein) under the New Fidelity Note, and the New Fidelity Note will be automatically terminated and of no further force or effect immediately upon the Second Tranche Closing; it being understood and agreed that, at the Second Tranche Closing, the Company shall issue a convertible promissory note to such Purchaser with an original principal amount equal to the applicable principal amount of the New Fidelity Note not so converted into Convertible Security Shares at the Second Tranche Closing and in substantially the same form as the New Fidelity Note, mutatis mutandis;

(4) No fractional shares shall be issued upon conversion of any New Fidelity Note and the right to receive cash in lieu of any fractional share shall be waived; and

(5) Such Purchaser hereby waives in connection with such conversion any notices required by the terms of any New Fidelity Note.

(c) The undersigned Purchasers, constituting a Majority in Interest of Investors (as defined in that certain Note Purchase agreement, by and among the Company and the investors party thereto (each, a "Noteholder"), dated as of February 28, 2024 (the "2024 NPA")), on behalf of all Noteholders, acknowledge and agree that this Agreement constitutes an amendment and modification to the Convertible Securities and the Convertible Securities are hereby terminated as of the Initial Closing in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

1.4 Second Tranche Closing.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Company shall sell, and each Purchaser who purchased shares of Series C Preferred Stock at the Initial Closing (each, a "Cash Purchaser") shall purchase, an additional number of shares of Series C Preferred Stock at a subsequent Closing (the "Second Tranche Closing") to take place on a date that is the earlier of (i) the nine (9) month anniversary of the date of the Initial Closing; and (ii) such date that is determined by the Company's board of directors (the "Board"), including the approval of at least one (1) of the then-serving Series C Directors (as defined in the Restated Certificate) (the earlier of such dates, the "Second Tranche Closing Date"). Promptly following the determination of the Second Tranche Closing Date in accordance with the immediately preceding sentence, the Company shall send written notice thereof to each Cash Purchaser (the "Second Tranche Closing Notice"), which shall specify the actual date that will constitute the Second Tranche Closing Date; provided that, the Second Tranche Closing Date shall in no event be sooner than ten (10) business days, and no later than twenty (20) business days, following the delivery of the Second Tranche Closing Notice. The specific number of additional shares of Series C Preferred Stock (the "Second Tranche Shares") that each Cash Purchaser shall purchase at the Second Tranche Closing and the aggregate purchase price therefor is set forth opposite each such Cash Purchaser's name under the heading "Second Tranche Closing" on Exhibit A. Notwithstanding anything contained herein, the obligations of each Cash Purchaser to purchase such Cash Purchaser's respective Second Tranche Shares and consummate the Second Tranche Closing in accordance with this Section 1.4(a) shall be subject to no conditions whatsoever (and, without limiting the foregoing, there will be no "bring-down" of any representations, warranties or covenants of the Company made in this Agreement for purposes of the Second Tranche Closing), other than (i) the determination of the Second Tranche Closing Date in accordance with the first sentence of this Section 1.4(a) and (ii) the Company's delivery of the Second Tranche Closing Notice to such Cash Purchaser in accordance with the second sentence of this Section 1.4(a).

(b) Upon each Cash Purchaser's purchase of such Cash Purchaser's full amount of Second Tranche Shares in accordance with this Agreement, Exhibit A to this Agreement shall be updated to reflect the completion of such purchase in the column titled "Completed Investment" under the heading "Second Tranche Closing" on Exhibit A. In addition, in connection with the Second Tranche Closing, Exhibit A shall be updated to reflect the completion of the conversion of the New Fidelity Notes into the Conversion Security Shares at the Second Closing under the heading "Second Tranche Closing" on Exhibit A.

(c) Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, but subject to Section 1.4(e) and Section 1.5, if any Cash Purchaser fails to purchase the number of Second Tranche Shares that such Cash Purchaser is obligated to purchase pursuant to Section 1.4(a) hereof (each, a "Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser" and such event, a "Default Event"), then, effective as of the Second Tranche Closing, each share of Preferred Stock held by such Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser as of immediately prior to such Default Event shall automatically and without further action on the part of such Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser be converted into fully-paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock at the rate of ten (10) shares of Preferred Stock to one (1) share of Common Stock, rounded upward to the nearest whole number, pursuant to, and as further provided in, Article FOURTH, Part B, Subsection 5.3 of the Restated Certificate, (a "Special Mandatory Conversion"). Upon a Default Event, (i) the Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser shall lose any and all rights it may have to designate individuals to the Board pursuant to the Voting Agreement and any and all rights it may have to invite a representative to the meetings of the Board; (ii) the Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser shall lose all rights as an "Investor" and "Major Investor" under the Investors' Rights Agreement; and (iii) the Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser shall lose all rights under Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

(d) Cash Purchasers who are not Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchasers may elect to purchase the Second Tranche Shares not purchased at the Second Tranche Closing (the "Remaining Second Tranche Shares"), which Remaining Second Tranche Shares shall be allocated among all such electing Cash Purchasers based on, with respect to each such electing Cash Purchaser, the proportion of (x) the aggregate number of Second Tranche Shares purchased by such Cash Purchaser in the Second Tranche Closing and any Early Purchase Closings to (y) the aggregate number of Second Tranche Shares sold to all electing Cash Purchasers at the Second Tranche Closing and any Early Purchase Closings; provided that, the purchase of such Remaining Second Tranche Shares shall occur within twenty (20) business days after the Second Tranche Closing. In the event any such eligible Cash Purchaser purchases any Remaining Second Tranche Shares pursuant to this Section 1.4(d) (each, a "Remaining Second Tranche Closing"), Exhibit A shall be updated, without requiring the consent of any party thereto, to add each such Cash Purchaser to a new table on Exhibit A under the heading "Remaining Second Tranche Closing" with the date of such Remaining Second Tranche Closing and the number of Shares purchased at such Remaining Second Tranche Closing. Any Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser will execute and deliver any additional documents and instruments and perform any additional acts that may be necessary or appropriate to confirm any of the foregoing as reasonably requested by the Company.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, a Cash Purchaser shall not be obligated to purchase such Cash Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares in the Second Tranche Closing in the event there is a mandatory regulatory or legal restriction not in existence as of the Initial Closing and imposed upon such Cash Purchaser that would prevent such Cash Purchaser from purchasing such Cash Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares, provided that (i) such Cash Purchaser has notified the Company, in writing, of the applicable mandatory regulatory or legal restriction imposed upon such Cash Purchaser and (ii) the Company agrees, upon advice of counsel to the Company that is nationally recognized, that such mandatory regulatory or legal restriction prevents such Cash Purchaser from purchasing such Cash Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares (the "Regulatory Exception"). The "Special Mandatory Conversion" and the other consequences for being a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (including, without limitation, those consequences set forth in Section 1.4(c)) shall not apply to a Cash Purchaser in the case of a Regulatory Exception that is applicable to such Cash Purchaser.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1.4(a), any Cash Purchaser may elect, in its sole discretion, at any time prior to the Company delivering the Second Tranche Closing Notice, to purchase all or a portion of such Cash Purchaser's respective Second Tranche Shares by providing written notice of such election to the Company (an "Early Purchase Notice"). The Company shall sell, and the Cash Purchaser who delivers such Early Purchase Notice shall purchase, the Second Tranche Shares designated in the Early Purchase Notice on the date that is ten (10) business days following delivery of such Early Purchase Notice (such closing, an "Early Purchase Closing"). In the event any Cash Purchaser elects to participate in an Early Purchase Closing, such Cash Purchaser's Second Tranche Closing obligations pursuant to Section 1.4(a) will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis and Exhibit A shall be updated, without requiring the consent of any party thereto, to update the number of such Cash Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares set forth opposite such Cash Purchaser's name under the heading "Second Tranche Closing" on Exhibit A, and to add such Cash Purchaser to a new table on Exhibit A under the heading "Early Purchase Closing" with the date of such Early Purchase Closing and the number of Shares purchased at such Early Purchase Closing. For the avoidance of doubt, a Purchaser may purchase all or any portion of its Second Tranche Shares at the Initial Closing.

(g) For purposes of determining the number of Second Tranche Shares a Purchaser has purchased in the Second Tranche Closing (or Early Purchase Closing as applicable), all applicable Second Tranche Shares purchased by Affiliates of a Purchaser (regardless of whether such Affiliate is a Purchaser hereunder prior to such Second Tranche Closing) shall be aggregated with the Second Tranche Shares purchased by such holder in the Second Tranche Closing (provided that no Second Tranche Shares shall be attributed to more than one Person (as defined below) within any such group of Affiliated Persons). If any Purchaser, together with its Affiliates, does not purchase all of such Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares at the Second Tranche Closing, such Purchaser and each of its Affiliates who holds shares of Preferred Stock shall be deemed a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser and shall be subject to the penalties set forth herein, under the other Transactions Agreements and under the Special Mandatory Conversion.

1.5 Use of Proceeds. The Company will use the proceeds from the sale of the Shares for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company as approved by the Board as constituted pursuant to the Voting Agreement.

1.6 Defined Terms Used in this Agreement. In addition to the terms defined above, the following terms used in this Agreement shall be construed to have the meanings set forth or referenced below.

(a) "Affiliate" means, (i) with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person or any venture capital fund, or other investment fund, or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person (ii) with respect to Fidelity and each Fidelity Purchaser, any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, one or more mutual fund, pension fund, pooled investment vehicle or institutional client advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity; and (iii) for the avoidance of doubt, with respect to TRP and each TRP Purchaser, any fund or account that is an entity advised or sub-advised by TRP or any of its Affiliates.

(b) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(c) "Company Intellectual Property" means all intellectual property rights, whether registered or unregistered, that are recognized in any jurisdiction in the world, including, without imitation, patents, patent applications, registered and unregistered trademarks, trademark applications, registered and unregistered service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, domain names, similar or other intellectual property rights, subject matter of any of the foregoing ("Intellectual Property Rights"), proprietary information and processes, and tangible embodiments of any of the foregoing, that are owned or purported to be owned by the Company, in licensed to the Company, or used by the Company in the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted or as presently proposed to be conducted.

(d) "Indemnification Agreement means the agreement between the Company and each Series C Director, in the form of Exhibit H attached to this Agreement

(e) "Investors' Rights Agreement" means the amended and restated investors' rights agreement between the Company, the Purchasers and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit D attached to this Agreement.

(f) "Key Employees" means Doug Godshall, Jonathan Waldstreicher, Steve Anheier, Kevin Taylor, Deb Sheffield, Robert Neal II, and William S. Krimsky.

(g) "Knowledge" including the phrase "to the Company's knowledge" shall mean the actual knowledge of the Key Employees after reasonable investigation and assuming such knowledge as the individual would have as a result of the reasonable performance of his or her duties in the ordinary course.

(h) "Management Rights Letters" means the agreement between the Company and each applicable Cash Purchaser, in substantially the form as agreed to by the Company and such applicable Cash Purchaser, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing.

(i) "Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, financial condition, property or results of operations of the Company.

(j) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

(k) "Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement" means the amended and restated right of first refusal and c-sale agreement among the Company, the Purchasers and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit E attached to this Agreement.

(l) "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(m) "Transaction Agreements" means this Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, the Voting Agreement, the Indemnification Agreements and the Management Rights Letters.

(n) "Voting Agreement" means the amended and restated voting agreement among the Company, the Purchasers and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date hereof, in the form of Exhibit F attached to this Agreement.

2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to each Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Disclosure Schedule attached as Exhibit C to this Agreement (the "Disclosure Schedule"), which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder as of the date of the Initial Closing, the following representations are true and correct as of the date of the Initial Closing, except as otherwise indicated. The Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections contained in this Section 2, and the disclosures in any section of the Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections in this Section 2 only to the extent it is readily apparent from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections.

For purposes of these representations and warranties (other than those in Subsections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, and 2.6), the term the "Company" shall include any subsidiaries of the Company, unless otherwise noted herein.

2.1 Organization, Good Standing, Corporate Power and Qualification. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all requisite corporate power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. The Company is duly qualified to transact business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the failure to so qualify would have a Material Adverse Effect.

2.2 Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital of the Company consists, immediately prior to the Initial Closing, of:

(i) 592,953,184 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Common Stock"), 3,593,881 shares of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. All of the outstanding shares of Common Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Common Stock in its treasury.

(ii) 487,461,380 shares of preferred stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Preferred Stock"), 92,596,164 of which have been designated Series A Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing, 59,204,547 of which have been designated Series B Preferred Stock, 190,219,125 of which have been designated Series C Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing, 114,933,528 of which have been designated Series C-1 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing, and 30,508,016 of which have been designated Series C-2 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. The rights, privileges and preferences of the Preferred Stock are as stated in the Restated Certificate and as provided by the Delaware General Corporation Law. The Company has issued Convertible Securities that will convert into an aggregate of 77,456,625 shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock as of the Initial Closing and an aggregate of 26,100,000 shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock as of the Initial Closing, in each case, as set forth under the column heading "Conversion Shares" on Exhibit A. All outstanding shares of Preferred Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Preferred Stock in its treasury.

(b) The Company has reserved 102,105,988 shares of Common Stock for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants of the Company pursuant to its 2015 Equity Incentive Plan duly adopted by the Board of Directors and approved by the Company stockholders (the "Stock Plan"). Of such reserved shares of Common Stock, no shares have been issued pursuant to restricted stock purchase agreements, options to purchase 21,397,652 shares are currently outstanding, 1,208,065 shares have been issued pursuant to stock option exercises, and 79,500,271 shares of Common Stock remain available for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants pursuant to the Stock Plan, all of which remain uncommitted and unallocated, except as described in Subsection 2.2(b) of the Disclosure Schedule. The Company has furnished to the Purchasers complete and accurate copies of the Stock Plan and forms of agreements used thereunder.

(c) Section 2.2(c) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth the summary capitalization of the Company immediately following the Initial Closing including the aggregate number of shares of, or issuable pursuant to, each of the following: (i) issued and outstanding Common Stock, including, with respect to restricted Common Stock; (ii) outstanding stock options; (iii) shares of Common Stock reserved for future award grants under the Stock Plan; (iv) issued and outstanding Preferred Stock, by series; and (v) warrants or stock purchase rights, if any. Except for (i) the conversion privileges of the Shares to be issued under this Agreement, (ii) the rights provided in Section 4 of the Investors' Rights Agreement and (iii) the securities and rights described in Subsection 2.2(b) and this Subsection 2.2(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, there are no outstanding options, warrants, rights (including conversion or preemptive rights and rights of first refusal or similar rights) or agreements, orally or in writing, to purchase or acquire from the Company any shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock. All outstanding shares of Common Stock and all shares of Common Stock underlying outstanding options are subject to (i) a right of first refusal in favor of the Company upon any proposed transfer (other than transfers for estate planning purposes), and (ii) a lock-up or market standoff agreement of not less than one hundred eighty (180) days following the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

(d) Except as described in Section 2.2(d)(i) of the Disclosure Schedule, all outstanding Common Stock and all stock options held by service providers are subject to a customary vesting schedule, monthly over four years with a one-year cliff. None of the Company's stock purchase agreements or stock option documents contains a provision for acceleration of vesting (or lapse of a repurchase right) or other changes in the vesting provisions or other terms of such agreement or understanding upon the occurrence of any event or combination of events, including without limitation in the case where the Stock Plan is not assumed in an acquisition. The Company has never adjusted or amended the exercise price of any stock options previously awarded, whether through amendment, cancellation, replacement grant, repricing or any other means. Except as set forth in the Restated Certificate, the Company has no obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase or redeem any of its capital stock.

(e) The Company has obtained valid waivers of any rights by other parties to purchase any of the Shares covered by this Agreement. As of the date hereof, there has been no full ratchet or formula adjustment related to anti-dilution protection or event which has triggered the anti-dilution provisions with respect to or under the terms of any option, warrant or other security convertible into and/or exercisable for Common Stock (including, without limitation Preferred Stock) nor will the transactions contemplated hereby trigger any such adjustment provision that has not been waived.

2.3 Subsidiaries. The Company does not currently own or control, directly or indirectly, any interest in any other corporation, partnership, trust, joint venture, limited liability company, association or other business entity. The Company is not a participant in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement.

2.4 Authorization. All corporate action required to be taken by the Board and the Company's stockholders in order to authorize the Company to enter into the Transaction Agreements, and to issue the Shares at the applicable Closing and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares, has been taken or will be taken prior to the applicable Closing. All action on the part of the officers of the Company necessary for the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements, the performance of all obligations of the Company under the Transaction Agreements to be performed as of the applicable Closing, and the issuance and delivery of the Shares has been taken or will be taken prior to the applicable Closing. The Transaction Agreements, when executed and delivered by the Company, shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance or other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (b) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies or (c) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement and the Indemnification Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

2.5 Valid Issuance of Shares. The Shares, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable state and federal securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchasers. Assuming the accuracy of the representations of the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement and subject to the filings described in Section 2.6(b), the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares has been duly reserved for issuance, and upon issuance in accordance with the terms of the Restated Certificate, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable federal and state securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchasers. Based in part upon the representations of the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement and in the Voting Agreement, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

2.6 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchasers in Section 3 of this Agreement, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except for (a) the filing of the Restated Certificate, which will have been filed as of the Initial Closing, and (b) filings pursuant to Regulation D of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws, which have been made or will be made in a timely manner.

2.7 Litigation. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, complaint, charge or investigation pending, or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened (a) against the Company or any officer or director of the Company or any Key Employee arising out of their employment, board relationship or service relationship with the Company, (b) to the Company's knowledge, that questions the validity of the Transaction Agreements or the right of the Company to enter into them, or to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements or (c) that would reasonably be expected to have, either individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any of its officers, directors or Key Employees is a party or is named as subject to the provisions of any order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree of any court or government agency or instrumentality (in the case of officers, directors or Key Employees, such as would affect the Company). There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation by the Company pending or which the Company intends to initiate. The foregoing includes, without limitation, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations pending or threatened in writing (or any basis therefor known to the Company) involving the prior employment of any of the Company's employees, their services provided in connection with the Company's business, any information or techniques allegedly proprietary to any of their former employers or their obligations under any agreements with prior employers.

2.8 Intellectual Property.

(a) Ownership. The Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all Company Intellectual Property without any known conflict with, or infringement of, the rights of others, including prior employees or consultants.

(b) Non-Infringement. To the Company's knowledge, no product or service marketed or sold by the Company violates any license or infringes any Intellectual Property Rights of any other party.

(c) Outbound Licenses. Other than with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services under standard end-user license agreements and other non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business and consistent with past practice, there are no outstanding options, licenses, agreements, claims, encumbrances or shared ownership interests of any kind relating to the Intellectual Property Rights owned or purported to be owned by the Company ("Company-Owned Intellectual Property").

(d) Inbound Licenses. Other than (i) with respect to commercially available software products and cloud services licensed under standard terms, (ii) backup licenses from employees and contractors granted in connection with providing services to the Company and (iii) open source licenses, the Company is not bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person that are material to the business of the Company.

(e) Third-Party Intellectual Property. The Company has not received any communications alleging that the Company has violated, or by conducting its business, would violate any of the Intellectual Property Rights of any other Person. To the Company's knowledge, the Company has obtained and possesses valid licenses to use all of the software programs present on the computers and other software-enabled electronic devices that it owns or leases or that it has otherwise provided to its employees for their use in connection with the Company's business. To the Company's knowledge, to the extent it will be necessary to use any inventions of any of its employees or consultants (or Persons it currently intends to hire) made prior to their employment by the Company, including prior employees or consultants, the Company owns or possesses or believes it can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all such inventions.

(f) Employees and Consultants. Each employee and consultant has assigned to the Company all Intellectual Property Rights he or she owns that are related to the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted and all Intellectual Property Rights that he, she or it solely or jointly conceived, reduced to practice, developed or made during the period of his, her or its employment or consulting relationship with the Company that (i) relate, at the time of conception, reduction to practice, development or making of such Intellectual Property Right, to the Company's business as then conducted or as then proposed to be conducted, (ii) were developed on any amount of the Company's time or with the use of any of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities or information or (iii) resulted from the performance of services for the Company.

(g) Registered Intellectual Property Rights. Subsection 2.8(g) of the Disclosure Schedule lists all patents, patent applications, registered trademarks, trademark applications, registered service marks, service mark applications and registered copyrights, in each case owned or purported to be owned by the Company.

(h) Trade Secret Protection. The Company has taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain and protect all confidential information and trade secrets of the Company that the Company intended to maintain as confidential or a trade secret.

(i) Open Source Software. The Company has not embedded, used or distributed any open source, copyleft or community source code (including but not limited to any libraries or code, software, technologies or other materials that are licensed or distributed under any General Public License, Lesser General Public License or similar license arrangement or other distribution model described by the Open Source Initiative at www.opensource.org, collectively "Open Source Software") in connection with any of its products or services that are generally available or in development in any manner that would materially restrict the ability of the Company to protect its proprietary interests in any such product or service or in any manner that requires, or purports to require (i) any Company Intellectual Property (other than the Open Source Software itself) be disclosed or distributed in source code form or be licensed for the purpose of making derivative works; (ii) any restriction on the consideration to be charged for the distribution of any Company Intellectual Property; (iii) the creation of any obligation for the Company with respect to Company Intellectual Property owned by the Company, or the grant to any third party of any rights or immunities under Company Intellectual Property owned by the Company; or (iv) any other limitation, restriction or condition on the right of the Company with respect to its use or distribution of any Company Intellectual Property.

(j) Institutional Resources. No government funding, facilities of a university, college other educational institution or research center or funding from third parties was used in the development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property in a manner that has resulted in such entity retaining any claim of ownership or right to use any such Company-Owned Intellectual Property. To the Company's knowledge, no Person who was involved in, or who contributed to, the creation or development of any Company-Owned Intellectual Property has performed services for the government, university, college or other educational institution or research center in a manner that would affect Company's rights in the Company-Owned Intellectual Property.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (a) of any provisions of its Restated Certificate or Bylaws, (b) of any instrument, judgment, order, writ or decree, (c) under any note, indenture or mortgage, (d) under any lease, agreement, contract or purchase order to which it is a party or by which it is bound that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule or (e) of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, the violation of which would have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance of the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements will not result in any such violation or be in conflict with or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such provision, instrument, judgment, order, writ, decree, contract or agreement, or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Agreements; Actions.

(a) Except for the Transaction Agreements, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound that involve (i) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $250,000, (ii) the license of any patent, copyright, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary right to or from the Company, (iii) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market or sell its products to any other Person that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products, (iv) any "most favored" provisions, Board of Directors observer rights, or other side letter agreements not otherwise disclosed pursuant to any other representation, or (v) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights.

(b) The Company has not (i) declared or paid any dividends, or authorized or made any distribution upon or with respect to any class or series of its capital stock, (ii) incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed or incurred any other liabilities individually in excess of $250,000 or in excess of $500,000 in the aggregate, (iii) made any loans or advances to any Person, other than ordinary advances for travel expenses or (iv) sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of any of its assets or rights, other than the sale of its inventory in the ordinary course of business. For the purposes of (a) and (b) of this Subsection 2.10, all indebtedness, liabilities, agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts and proposed transactions involving the same Person (including Persons the Company has reason to believe are affiliated with each other) shall be aggregated for the purpose of meeting the individual minimum dollar amounts of such subsection.

(c) The Company is not a guarantor or indemnitor of any indebtedness of any other Person.

2.11 Certain Transactions.

(a) Other than (i) standard employee benefits generally made available to all employees, (ii) standard director and officer indemnification agreements approved by the Board and (iii) the purchase of shares of the Company's capital stock and the issuance of options to purchase shares of Common Stock, in each instance, approved in the written minutes of the Board (previously provided to the Purchasers or their respective counsel), there are no agreements, understandings or proposed transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, consultants or Key Employees, or any Affiliate thereof.

(b) The Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any of its directors, officers or employees or to their respective spouses or children or to any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, other than in connection with expenses or advances of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business or employee relocation expenses and for other customary employee benefits made generally available to all employees. None of the Company's directors, officers, employees (including Key Employees), consultants, or any members of their immediate families, or any Affiliate of the foregoing are, directly or indirectly, indebted to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, have any (i) material commercial, industrial, banking, consulting, legal, accounting, charitable or familial relationship with the Company or any of the Company's customers, suppliers, service providers, joint venture partners, licensees and competitors, (ii) direct or indirect ownership interest in any firm or corporation with which the Company is affiliated or with which the Company has a business relationship, or any firm or corporation which competes with the Company except that directors, officers, employees or stockholders of the Company may own stock in (but not exceeding 2% of the outstanding capital stock of) publicly traded companies that may compete with the Company; or (iii) financial interest in any contract with the Company.

2.12 Rights of Registration and Voting Rights. Except as provided in the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Company is not under any obligation to register under the Securities Act any of its currently outstanding securities or any securities issuable upon exercise or conversion of its currently outstanding securities. To the Company's knowledge, except as contemplated in the Voting Agreement, no stockholder of the Company has entered into any agreements with respect to the voting of capital shares of the Company.

2.13 Property. The property and assets that the Company owns are free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, loans and encumbrances, except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and encumbrances and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets (including, with respect to Company-Owned Intellectual Property, non-exclusive licenses granted to third parties in the ordinary course of business). With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in compliance with such leases and holds a valid leasehold interest free of any liens, claims or encumbrances other than those of the lessors of such property or assets. The Company does not own any real property.

2.14 Financial Statements. The Company has made available to each Purchaser its unaudited financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2024 and its unaudited financial statements (including balance sheet, income statement and statement of cash flows) for the three-month period ended on as of March 31, 2025 (such date, the "Latest Balance Sheet Date") (collectively, the "Financial Statements"). The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods indicated, except that the unaudited Financial Statements may not contain all footnotes required by GAAP. The Financial Statements fairly present in all material respects the financial condition and operating results of the Company as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated therein, subject in the case of the unaudited Financial Statements to normal year-end audit adjustments. Except as set forth in the Financial Statements, the Company has no material liabilities or obligations, contingent or otherwise, other than (a) liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business subsequent to the Latest Balance Sheet Date, (b) obligations under contracts and commitments incurred in the ordinary course of business and (c) liabilities and obligations of a type or nature not required under GAAP to be reflected in the Financial Statements, which, in all such cases, individually and in the aggregate would not have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company maintains and will continue to maintain a standard system of accounting established and administered in accordance with GAAP.

2.15 Changes. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.15 of the Disclosure Schedule, since the Latest Balance Sheet Date, there has not been:

(a) any change in the assets, liabilities, financial condition or operating results of the Company from that reflected in the Financial Statements, except changes in the ordinary course of business that have not caused, in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect;

(b) any damage, destruction or loss, whether or not covered by insurance, that would have a Material Adverse Effect;

(c) any waiver or compromise by the Company of a valuable right or of a material debt owed to it;

(d) any satisfaction or discharge of any lien, claim or encumbrance or payment of any obligation by the Company, except in the ordinary course of business and the satisfaction or discharge of which would not have a Material Adverse Effect;

(e) any material change to a material contract or agreement by which the Company or any of its assets is bound or subject;

(f) any material change in any compensation arrangement or agreement with any employee, officer, director or stockholder;

(g) any resignation or termination of employment of any officer or Key Employee of the Company;

(h) any mortgage, pledge, transfer of a security interest in or lien created by the Company, with respect to any of its material properties or assets, except liens for taxes not yet due or payable and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets;

(i) any loans or guarantees made by the Company to or for the benefit of its employees, officers or directors, or any members of their immediate families, other than travel advances and other advances made in the ordinary course of its business;

(j) any declaration, setting aside or payment or other distribution in respect of any of the Company's capital stock, or any direct or indirect redemption, purchase or other acquisition of any of such stock by the Company;

(k) any sale, assignment or transfer of any Company Intellectual Property that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect;

(l) receipt of notice that there has been a loss of, or material order cancellation by, any major customer of the Company;

(m) any other event or condition of any character, other than events affecting the economy or the Company's industry generally, that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; or

(n) any arrangement or commitment by the Company to do any of the things described in this Section 2.15.

2.16 Employee Matters.

(a) To the Company's knowledge, none of its employees is obligated under any contract (including licenses, covenants or commitments of any nature) or other agreement, or subject to any judgment, decree or order of any court or administrative agency, that would materially interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interest of the Company or that would conflict with the Company's business. Neither the execution or delivery of the Transaction Agreements, nor the carrying on of the Company's business by the employees of the Company, nor the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted, will, conflict with or result in a breach of the terms, conditions or provisions of, or constitute a default under, any contract, covenant or instrument under which any such employee is now obligated.

(b) The Company is not delinquent in payments to any of its employees, consultants or independent contractors for any wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses or other direct compensation for any service performed for it to the date hereof or amounts required to be reimbursed to such employees, consultants or independent contractors. The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and with other laws related to employment, including those related to wages, hours, worker classification and collective bargaining. The Company has withheld and paid to the appropriate governmental entity or is holding for payment not yet due to such governmental entity all amounts required to be withheld from employees of the Company and is not liable for any arrears of wages, taxes, penalties or other sums for failure to comply with any of the foregoing.

(c) To the Company's knowledge, no officer or Key Employee intends to terminate his or her employment or service relationship with the Company and is not otherwise likely to become unavailable to continue as an employee or service provider of the Company. The Company does not have a present intention to terminate the employment of any of the foregoing. The employment of each employee of the Company is terminable at the will of the Company. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(c) of the Disclosure Schedule or as required by law, upon termination of the employment of any such employees, no severance or other payments will become due. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has no policy, practice, plan or program of paying severance pay or any form of severance compensation in connection with the termination of employment services.

(d) The Company has not made any representations regarding equity incentives to any officer, employee (including each Key Employee), director or consultant that are inconsistent with the share amounts and terms set forth in the minutes of meetings of (or actions taken by unanimous written consent by) the Board.

(e) Each former officer, Key Employee, or other employee who reported to the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, or Board of Directors, whose employment was terminated by the Company has entered into an agreement with the Company providing for the full release of any claims against the Company or any related party arising out of such employment.

(f) Subsection 2.16(f) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth each employee benefit plan maintained, established or sponsored by the Company, or which the Company participates in or contributes to, which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Company has made all required contributions and has no liability to any such employee benefit plan, other than liability for health plan continuation coverage described in Part 6 of Title I(B) of ERISA, and has complied in all material respects with all applicable laws for any such employee benefit plan.

2.17 Tax Returns and Payments. There are no federal, state, county, local or foreign taxes due and payable by the Company which have not been timely paid. There are no accrued and unpaid federal, state, county, local or foreign taxes of the Company which are due, whether or not assessed or disputed, unless such taxes are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings and adequate reserves for any such taxes have been established in accordance with GAAP. There have been no examinations or audits of any tax returns or reports by any applicable federal, state, local or foreign governmental agency. The Company has duly and timely filed all federal, state, county, local and foreign tax returns required to have been filed by it and there are in effect no waivers of applicable statutes of limitations with respect to taxes for any year. There are no material withholding taxes required to be withheld by the Company that have not been withheld and timely paid over to the appropriate governmental agency.

2.18 Insurance. The Company has in full force and effect insurance policies concerning such casualties as would be reasonable and customary for companies like the Company with extended coverage, sufficient in amount (subject to reasonable deductions) to allow it to replace any of its properties that might be damaged or destroyed. The Company has listed its insurance policies in Section 2.18 of the Disclosure Schedules.

2.19 Employee Agreements. Each current and former employee (including each Key Employee), consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms delivered (or made available) to the Purchasers or their respective counsel (the "Confidential Information Agreements"). No current or former employees have excluded works or inventions from his or her assignment of inventions pursuant to such employee's Confidential Information Agreement. Each current employee of the Company has executed a non-solicitation agreement substantially in the form or forms delivered to the Purchasers. The Company is not aware that any Key Employee is in violation of any agreement covered by this Subsection 2.19.

2.20 Permits. The Company has all franchises, permits, licenses and any similar authority necessary for the conduct of its business, the lack of which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company is not in default in any material respect under any of such franchises, permits, licenses or other similar authority.

2.21 Corporate Documents. The Restated Certificate and Bylaws of the Company are in the form provided to the Purchasers. The copy of the minute books of the Company made available to the Purchasers contains minutes of all meetings of directors and stockholders and all actions by written consent without a meeting by the directors and stockholders since the date of incorporation and accurately reflects in all material respects all actions by the directors (and any committee of directors) and stockholders.

2.22 Real Property Holding Corporation. The Company is not now and has never been a "United States real property holding corporation" as defined in the Code and any applicable regulations promulgated thereunder. The Company has filed with the Internal Revenue Service all statements, if any, with its United States income tax returns which are required under such regulations.

2.23 Environmental and Safety Laws. Except as would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, to the knowledge of the Company: (a) the Company is and has been in compliance with all Environmental Laws; (b) there has been no release or to the Company's knowledge threatened release of any pollutant, contaminant or toxic or hazardous material, substance or waste or petroleum or any fraction thereof (each a "Hazardous Substance"), on, upon, into or from any site currently or heretofore owned, leased or otherwise used by the Company; (c) there have been no Hazardous Substances generated by the Company that have been disposed of or come to rest at any site that has been included in any published U.S. federal, state or local "superfund" site list or any other similar list of hazardous or toxic waste sites published by any governmental authority in the United States; and (d) there are no underground storage tanks located on, no polychlorinated biphenyls ("PCBs") or PCB-containing equipment used or stored on, and no hazardous waste as defined by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, as amended, stored on, any site owned or operated by the Company, except for the storage of hazardous waste in compliance with Environmental Laws. The Company has made available to the Purchasers true and complete copies of all material environmental records, reports, notifications, certificates of need, permits, pending permit applications, correspondence, engineering studies and environmental studies or assessments.

For purposes of this Section 2.23, "Environmental Laws" means any law, regulation, or other applicable requirement relating to (a) releases or threatened release of Hazardous Substance; (b) pollution or protection of employee health or safety, public health or the environment; or (c) the manufacture, handling, transport, use, treatment, storage, or disposal of Hazardous Substances.

2.24 Foreign Corrupt Practices Act. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its directors, officers, employees or agents have, directly or indirectly, made, offered, promised or authorized any payment or gift of any money or anything of value to or for the benefit of any "foreign official" (as such term is defined in the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended (the "FCPA")), foreign political party or official thereof or candidate for foreign political office for the purpose of (i) influencing any official act or decision of such official, party or candidate, (ii) inducing such official, party or candidate to use his, her or its influence to affect any act or decision of a foreign governmental authority, or (iii) securing any improper advantage, in the case of (i), (ii) and (iii) above in order to assist the Company or any of its affiliates in obtaining or retaining business for or with, or directing business to, any person and in violation of the FCPA. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its directors, officers, employees or agents have made or authorized any bribe, rebate, payoff, influence payment, kickback or other unlawful payment of funds or received or retained any funds in violation of any law, rule or regulation. The Company further represents that it has maintained, and has caused each of its subsidiaries and affiliates to maintain, systems of internal controls (accounting systems, purchasing systems and billing systems) and written policies reasonably designed to ensure compliance with the FCPA or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law, and reasonably designed to ensure that all books and records of the Company accurately and fairly reflect, in reasonable detail, all transactions and dispositions of funds and assets. Neither the Company nor, to its knowledge, any of its officers, directors or employees are the subject of any voluntary disclosure, prosecution or, to the Company's knowledge, allegation, investigation or other enforcement action related to the FCPA or any other anti-corruption law (collectively, "Enforcement Action").

2.25 Data Privacy, Privacy and Security. In connection with the collection, storage, use, access, disclosure and/or other processing of any information that constitutes "personal information," "personal data," "personally identifiable information" or analogous term as defined in applicable laws (collectively, "Personal Information"), by or on behalf of the Company, to the Company's knowledge, the Company is and has been' in compliance in all material respects with the following (collectively, "Privacy Requirements"): (i) all applicable laws governing privacy or data security in all relevant jurisdictions relating to data loss, data theft, and security breach notification obligations, telephone or text message communications, artificial intelligence and automated decision-making, or marketing by email or other channels, (ii) the Company's published privacy policies, and (iii) the privacy or data security requirements of any contracts, codes of conduct, or industry standards by which the Company is legally bound. The Company maintains and has maintained reasonable physical, technical, and administrative security measures and policies designed to protect all Personal Information owned, stored, used, maintained or controlled by or on behalf of the Company from and against unlawful, accidental or unauthorized access, destruction, loss, use, modification, disclosure, and/or other processing.

2.26 Export Control Laws. The Company has conducted, all export transactions in accordance with applicable provisions of United States export control laws and regulations, including the Export Administration Regulations, the International Traffic in Arms Regulations, the regulations administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Treasury Department, and the export control laws and regulations of any other applicable jurisdiction. Without limiting the foregoing: (a) the Company has obtained all export licenses and other approvals, timely filed all required filings and has assigned the appropriate export classifications to all products, in each case as required for its exports of products, software and technologies from the United States and any other applicable jurisdiction; (b) the Company is in compliance with the terms of all applicable export licenses, classifications, filing requirements or other approvals; (c) there are no pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened claims against the Company with respect to such exports, classifications, required filings or other approvals; (d) there are no pending investigations related to the Company's exports; and (e) there are no actions, conditions, or circumstances pertaining to the Company's export transactions that would reasonably be expected to give rise to any material future claims.

2.27 CFIUS Representations. The Company does not engage in (a) the design, fabrication, development, testing, production or manufacture of one (1) or more "critical technologies" within the meaning of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, including all implementing regulations thereof (the "DPA"); (b) the ownership, operation, maintenance, supply, manufacture, or servicing of "covered investment critical infrastructure" within the meaning of the DPA (where such activities are covered by column 2 of Appendix A to 31 C.F.R. Part 800); or (c) the maintenance or collection, directly or indirectly, of "sensitive personal data" of U.S. citizens within the meaning of the DPA. The Company has no current intention of engaging in such activities in the future.

2.28 Preclinical Development and Clinical Trials. The studies, tests, preclinical development and clinical trials, if any, conducted by or on behalf of the Company are being conducted in all material respects in accordance with experimental protocols, procedures and controls pursuant to accepted professional and scientific standards for products or product candidates comparable to those being developed by the Company and all applicable laws and regulations, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and 21 C.F.R. parts 50, 54, 56, 58, 312, and 812. The descriptions of, protocols for, and data and other results of, the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company that have been furnished or made available to the Purchasers are accurate and complete. The Company is not aware of any studies, tests, development or trials the results of which reasonably call into question the results of the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company, and the Company has not received any notices or correspondence from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") or any other governmental entity or any institutional review board or comparable authority requiring the termination, suspension or material modification of any studies, tests, preclinical development or clinical trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company.

2.29 FDA Approvals. The Company possesses all permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals from the appropriate federal, state or foreign regulatory authorities necessary to conduct its business as now conducted, including all such permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals required by the FDA or any other federal, state or foreign agencies or bodies engaged in the regulation of drugs, pharmaceuticals, medical devices or biohazardous materials. The Company has not received any notice of proceedings relating to the suspension, modification, revocation or cancellation of any such permit, license, registration, certificate, authorization, order or approval. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any officer, employee or agent of the Company has been convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct that has previously caused or would reasonably be expected to result in (A) disqualification or debarment by the FDA under 21 U.S.C. Sections 335(a) or (b), or any similar law, rule or regulation of any other governmental entities, (B) debarment, suspension, or exclusion under any federal healthcare programs or by the General Services Administration, or (C) exclusion under 42 U.S.C. Section 1320a-7 or any similar law, rule or regulation of any governmental entities. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, employees, or, to the Company's knowledge, any of its contractors or agents is the subject of any pending or threatened investigation by FDA pursuant to its "Fraud, Untrue Statements of Material Facts, Bribery, and Illegal Gratuities" policy as stated at 56 Fed. Reg. 46191 (September 10, 1991) (the "FDA Application Integrity Policy") and any amendments thereto, or by any other similar governmental entity pursuant to any similar policy. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its officers, employees, contractors, and agents has committed any act, made any statement or failed to make any statement that would reasonably be expected to provide a basis for FDA to invoke the FDA Application Integrity Policy or for any similar governmental entity to invoke a similar policy. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its officers, employees, or to the Company's knowledge, any of its contractors or agents has made any materially false statements on, or material omissions from, any notifications, applications, approvals, reports and other submissions to FDA or any similar governmental entity.

2.30 FDA Regulation. The Company is, for the last three (3) years, and, to the Company's knowledge, prior to such time, has been in compliance with all applicable laws administered or issued by the FDA or any similar governmental entity, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and all other laws regarding developing, testing, manufacturing, marketing, distributing or promoting the products of the Company, or complaint handling or adverse event reporting.

2.31 83(b) Elections. To the Company's knowledge, all elections and notices under Section 83(b) of the Code have been or will be timely filed by all eligible individuals who have acquired unvested shares of Common Stock.

2.32 Disclosure. The Company has made available to the Purchasers all the information reasonably available to the Company that the Purchasers have requested for deciding whether to acquire the Shares, including certain of the Company's projections describing its proposed business plan (the "Business Plan"). No representation or warranty of the Company contained in this Agreement, as qualified by the Disclosure Schedule, and no certificate furnished or to be furnished to the Purchasers at the applicable Closing contains any untrue statement of a material fact or, to the Company's knowledge, omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made. The Business Plan was prepared in good faith; however, the Company does not warrant that it will achieve any results projected in the Business Plan. It is understood that this representation is qualified by the fact that the Company has not delivered to the Purchasers, and has not been requested to deliver, a private placement or similar memorandum or any written disclosure of the types of information customarily furnished to purchasers of securities.

2.33 Investment Company. The Company is not an investment company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

2.34 Shell Company. The Company is not, and has never been, an issuer identified in Rule 144(i)(1) promulgated under the Securities Act.

2.35 No Additional Agreements. Except as set forth on Subsection 2.35 of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has not entered, and will not enter, into any agreement or understanding with any Purchaser purchasing Shares with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement other than as specified herein or in one of the Transaction Agreements. For the avoidance of doubt, each Purchaser has the same rights with respect to the purchase of Shares as each of the other Purchasers other than as explicitly set forth in herein or in the Transaction Agreements.

2.36 Outbound Investment Security Program. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries are or intend to become a "covered foreign person" within the meaning of the Outbound Investment Security Program. "Outbound Investment Security Program" means the regulations implemented by the U.S. Department of the Treasury under Executive Order 14105 "Addressing United States Investments in Certain National Security Technologies and Products in Countries of Concern," as codified at 31 C.F.R. Part 850.

3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchasers. Each Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company, as to such Purchaser, that, the following representations are true and correct as of the date of the Initial Closing and, with respect to Purchasers that are purchasing or acquiring Second Tranche Shares at the Second Tranche Closing, as of the Second Tranche Closing:

3.1 Authorization. Such Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements to which such Purchaser is a party, when executed and delivered by such Purchaser, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of such Purchaser, enforceable against such Purchaser in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies or (b) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with such Purchaser in reliance upon such Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by such Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, such Purchaser hereby confirms, that the Shares to be acquired by such Purchaser will be acquired for investment for such Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that such Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, such Purchaser further represents that such Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any Person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such Person or to any third Person, with respect to any of the Shares. Such Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Shares.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. Such Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Shares with the Company's management and has had an opportunity to review the Company's facilities. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of such Purchaser to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of such Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares are "restricted securities" under applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, such Purchaser must hold the Shares indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities, or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. Such Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the Shares, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale except as set forth in the Investors' Rights Agreement. Such Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the Shares, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of such Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy. Such Purchaser understands that this offering is not intended to be part of the public offering, and that such Purchaser will not be able to rely on the protection of Section 11 of the Securities Act.

3.5 No Public Market. Such Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the Shares, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the Shares.

3.6 Legends. Such Purchaser understands that the Shares and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the Shares, may be notated with one or all of the following legends:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO SUCH TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933."

(a) Any legend set forth in, or required by, the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the Shares represented by the certificate, instrument or book entry so legended.

3.7 Accredited Investor. Such Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act.

3.8 No General Solicitation. Neither such Purchaser, nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including, through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares.

3.9 Exculpation Among Purchasers. Such Purchaser acknowledges that such Purchaser is not relying upon any Person, other than the Company and its officers and directors, in making its investment or decision to invest in the Company. Such Purchaser agrees that neither any Purchaser nor the respective controlling Persons, officers, directors, partners, agents or employees of any Purchaser shall be liable to any other Purchaser for any action heretofore taken or omitted to be taken by any of them in connection with the purchase of the Shares.

3.10 Principal Place of Business. The office or offices of such Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of such Purchaser set forth on Exhibit A.

3.11 Outbound Investment Country Status. Except as otherwise disclosed in writing to the Company, such Purchaser is not a "person of a country of concern" within the meaning of 31 C.F.R. Part 850, as implemented or revised from time to time.

4. Conditions to the Purchasers' Obligations at the Initial Closing. The obligations of each Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Initial Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before such Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

4.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all respects as of the Initial Closing.

4.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company in all respects on or before the Initial Closing.

4.3 Compliance Certificate. An authorized officer of the Company shall deliver to the Purchasers at the Initial Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 4.1 and 4.2 have been fulfilled.

4.4 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of the Initial Closing.

4.5 Opinion of Company Counsel. The Purchasers shall have received from Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, an opinion, dated as of the Initial Closing, in substantially the form of Exhibit G attached to this Agreement.

4.6 Board of Directors. As of the Initial Closing, the authorized size of the Board of Directors shall be seven (7), and the Board of Directors shall be comprised of Seth Harrison, M.D., Doug Godshall, Antoine Papiernik, Zack Scott, David Lewis, and two vacancies.

4.7 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement, and the requisite Investors (as defined in the Investors' Rights Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

4.8 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement, the requisite Key Holders and the requisite Investors

(each as defined in the Right of First Refusal and Co Sale Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

4.9 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement and the requisite Investors (as defined in the Voting Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

4.10 Restated Certificate. The Company shall have filed the Restated Certificate with the Secretary of State of Delaware on or prior to the Initial Closing, which shall continue to be in full force and effect as of the Initial Closing.

4.11 Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to each Purchaser at the Initial Closing a certificate certifying (a) the Restated Certificate and the Bylaws of the Company as in effect at the Initial Closing, (b) resolutions of the Board approving the Restated Certificate, the Transaction Agreements and the transactions contemplated under the Transaction Agreements and (c) resolutions of the stockholders of the Company approving the Restated Certificate.

4.12 Proceedings and Documents. All corporate and other proceedings in connection with the transactions contemplated at the Initial Closing and all documents incident thereto shall be reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to such Purchaser, and such Purchaser (or its counsel) shall have received all such counterpart original and certified or other copies of such documents as reasonably requested. Such documents may include good standing certificates.

4.13 Indemnification Agreements. The Company shall have executed and delivered the Indemnification Agreements.

4.14 Management Rights. A Management Rights Letter shall have been executed by the Company and delivered to each Purchaser to whom it is addressed.

4.15 Waivers. The Company shall have obtained from the requisite existing stockholders valid waivers of preemptive rights, right of first refusal, anti-dilution rights and any other similar rights as applicable as of the Initial Closing.

4.16 CEO Appointment. Effective as of the Initial Closing, Doug Godshall shall have been appointed as the chief executive officer of the Company pursuant to an offer letter on terms reasonably satisfactory to the Purchasers party to this Agreement.

4.17 FTO Analysis. The Company shall have conducted a freedom to operate analysis with respect to the Company Intellectual Property with results that are satisfactory to the Purchasers party to this Agreement.

5. Conditions of the Company's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Company to sell Shares to the Purchasers at the Initial Closing and the Second Tranche Closing, as applicable, are subject to the fulfillment of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived by the Company:

5.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of each Purchaser purchasing Shares in such Closing contained in Section 3 shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such Closing.

5.2 Performance. The Purchasers purchasing Shares in such Closing shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by them in all material respects on or before such Closing.

5.3 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of such Closing.

5.4 Investors' Rights Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement, and the requisite Investors (as defined in the Investors' Rights Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

5.5 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement, the requisite Key Holders, and the requisite Investors (each as defined in the Right of First Refusal and Co Sale Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

5.6 Voting Agreement. As of the Initial Closing, the Company, each Purchaser party to this Agreement, the requisite Key Holders, and the requisite Investors (each as defined in the Voting Agreement) shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Survival of Warranties. Unless otherwise set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of the Company and the Purchasers contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and any Closing and shall in no way be affected by any investigation or knowledge of the subject matter thereof made by or on behalf of the Purchasers or the Company.

6.2 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties, and shall be enforceable by each person who shall be a holder of the Shares from time to time (including the right or obligation to purchase Shares in the Second Tranche Closing pursuant to Section 1.4). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement or the other Transaction Agreements, the right (and obligation) to purchase Shares in the Second Tranche Closing pursuant to Section 1.4 shall inure to the benefit of each Cash Purchaser and in the event the Shares purchased in the Initial Closing are transferred, the right (and obligation) to purchase Shares in the Second Tranche Closing pursuant to Section 1.4 shall be assigned together with Shares purchased in the Initial Closing. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

6.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.5 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.6 Notices.

(a) General. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt, or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid or (iv) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery and with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page or Exhibit A, or to such e-mail address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.6. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Purchaser consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the e-mail address set forth below such Purchaser's name on the signature page or Exhibit A, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected e-mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Purchaser agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its e-mail address and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.7 No Finder's Fees. Each party represents that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. Each Purchaser (other than each Fidelity Purchaser) agrees to indemnify and to hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which such Purchaser or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

6.8 Fees and Expenses. At the Initial Closing, the Company shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses for Sofinnova Partners, including, without limitation legal fees, in an amount not to exceed $209,500, in the aggregate.

6.9 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, terminated or waived only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least (x) 60% of the Shares then outstanding if prior to the Second Tranche Closing and (y) a majority of the Shares then outstanding if after the Second Tranche Closing; provided that the written consent of each Fidelity Purchaser shall be required for any amendment, termination or waiver of Section 1.2(c), Section 1.7(a)(ii) (and Section 1.7(a) as it relates to Section 1.7(a)(ii)), Section 1.7(d), Section 6.7 (as it relates to a Fidelity Purchaser), Section 6.17, Section 6.18 (as it relates to a Fidelity Purchaser) and this proviso; provided further, that the written consent of each TRP Purchaser shall be required for any amendment, termination or waiver of Section 1.2(d), Section 1.7(a)(iii) (and Section 1.7(a) as it relates to Section 1.7(a)(iii)), Section 1.7(d), and this proviso; provided further, that any amendment that would increase the purchase price of such Purchaser's Second Tranche Shares or impose any additional adverse consequences applicable to such Purchaser as a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (other than the adverse consequences set forth in Section 1.4 of this Agreement and in the Transaction Agreements in effect as of the date hereof), in each case, shall require the consent of such Purchaser, and any amendment, termination or waiver of this proviso of Section 6.9 will require the consent of such Purchaser.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.12 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.13 Corporate Securities Law. THE SALE OF THE SECURITIES WHICH ARE THE SUBJECT OF THIS AGREEMENT HAS NOT BEEN QUALIFIED WITH THE COMMISSIONER OF CORPORATIONS OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA AND THE ISSUANCE OF THE SECURITIES OR THE PAYMENT OR RECEIPT OF ANY PART OF THE CONSIDERATION THEREFOR PRIOR TO THE QUALIFICATION IS UNLAWFUL UNLESS THE SALE OF SECURITIES IS EXEMPT FROM THE QUALIFICATION BY SECTION 25100, 25102 OR 25105 OF THE CALIFORNIA CORPORATIONS CODE. THE RIGHTS OF ALL PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT ARE EXPRESSLY CONDITIONED UPON THE QUALIFICATION BEING OBTAINED UNLESS THE SALE IS SO EXEMPT.

6.14 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.15 No Commitment for Additional Financing. Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement (including under Section 1.4 of this Agreement):

(a) the Company acknowledges and agrees that no Purchaser has made any representation, undertaking, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

(b) the Company acknowledges and agrees that (i) no statements, whether written or oral, made by any Purchaser or its representatives on or after the date of this Agreement shall create an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment, (ii) the Company shall not rely on any such statement by any Purchaser or its representatives and (iii) an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment may only be created by a written agreement, signed by such Purchaser and the Company, setting forth the terms and conditions of such financing or investment and stating that the parties intend for such writing to be a binding obligation or agreement.

(c) each Purchaser shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to refuse or decline to participate in any other financing of or investment in the Company, and shall have no obligation to assist or cooperate with the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

6.16 Termination of Closing Obligations. Each Purchaser shall have the right to terminate its obligations to complete the Second Tranche Closing if prior to the occurrence thereof, any of the following occurs:

(a) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate);

(b) the closing of the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act, in which case the Purchasers may terminate their obligations under this Agreement immediately prior to, or contingent upon, such closing; or trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (ii) becomes subject to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (iii) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iv) institutes any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, or files a petition or answer seeking reorganization or an arrangement with creditors to take advantage of any insolvency law, or files an answer admitting the material allegations of a bankruptcy, reorganization or insolvency petition filed against it, or (v) becomes subject to any involuntary proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, when proceeding is not dismissed within 30 days of filing, or have an order for relief entered against it in any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code.

(c) the Company (i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver,

6.17 Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of the Agreement and Declaration of Trust of each Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Agreement is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Agreement are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Fidelity Purchaser or any Affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

6.18 Waiver of Conflicts. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges that Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., counsel for the Company, has in the past performed and may continue to perform legal services for certain of the Purchasers in matters unrelated to the transactions described in this Agreement, including the representation of such Purchasers in venture capital financings and other matters. Each party to this Agreement acknowledges understands that an affiliate of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C. (the "WSGR Affiliate") is a Purchaser under this Agreement. Accordingly, each party to this Agreement (other than each Fidelity Purchaser) hereby (a) acknowledges that they have had an opportunity to ask for information relevant to this disclosure; and (b) gives its informed consent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Purchasers in such unrelated matters and to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C.'s representation of the Company in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby; and (c) waives any actual or potential conflict of interest which may arise as a result of the participation by the WSGR Affiliate in the financing.

EXHIBIT B

FORM OF AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

(Attached)

AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF GALVANIZE THERAPEUTICS, INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED
OF
GALVANIZE THERAPEUTICS, INC.

(Pursuant to Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware)

Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "General Corporation Law"),

DOES HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That the name of this corporation is Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc. and that this corporation was originally incorporated pursuant to the General Corporation Law on May 21, 2015 under the name Gala Therapeutics, Inc.

2. That the Board of Directors duly adopted resolutions proposing to amend and restate the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation, declaring said amendment and restatement to be advisable and in the best interests of this corporation and its stockholders, and authorizing the appropriate officers of this corporation to solicit the consent of the stockholders therefor, which resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and restatement is as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation be amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

FIRST: The name of this corporation is Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Corporation").

SECOND: The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801. The name of its registered agent at such address is The Corporation Trust Company.

THIRD: The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law.

FOURTH: The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is (i) 592,953,184 shares of Common Stock, $0.0001 par value per share ("Common Stock") and (ii) 487,461,380 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share ("Preferred Stock").

The following is a statement of the designations and the powers, preferences and special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof in respect of each class of capital stock of the Corporation.

A. COMMON STOCK

1. General. The voting, dividend and liquidation rights of the holders of the Common Stock are subject to and qualified by the rights, powers and preferences of the holders of the Preferred Stock set forth herein.

2. Voting. Except as otherwise provided herein or by applicable law, the holders of the Common Stock are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held as of the applicable record date for each meeting of stockholders (and written actions in lieu of meetings); provided, however, that, except as otherwise required by law, holders of Common Stock, as such, shall not be entitled to vote on any amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation that relates solely to the terms of one or more outstanding series of Preferred Stock if the holders of such affected series are entitled, either separately or together with the holders of one or more other such series, to vote thereon pursuant to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or pursuant to the General Corporation Law. There shall be no cumulative voting. The number of authorized shares of Common Stock may be increased or decreased (but not below the number of shares thereof then outstanding) by (in addition to any vote of the holders of one or more series of Preferred Stock that may be required by the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the affirmative vote of the holders of shares of capital stock of the Corporation representing a majority of the votes represented by all outstanding shares of capital stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, irrespective of the provisions of Section 242(b)(2) of the General Corporation Law.

B. PREFERRED STOCK

92,596,164 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A Preferred Stock", 59,204,547 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series B Preferred Stock", 190,219,125 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series C Preferred Stock", 114,933,528 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series C-1 Preferred Stock", and 30,508,016 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated as "Series C-2 Preferred Stock". The Series A Preferred Stock, the Series B Preferred Stock, the Series C Preferred Stock, the Series C-1 Preferred Stock, and the Series C-2 Preferred Stock are collectively referred to as the "Preferred Stock" with the following rights, preferences, powers and restrictions, qualifications and limitations. As used herein and unless otherwise indicated, the term "Series C Combined Preferred Stock" shall mean, collectively, the shares of Series C Preferred Stock, Series C-1 Preferred Stock and Series C-2 Preferred Stock. Unless otherwise indicated, references to "sections" or "subsections" in this Part B of this Article Fourth refer to sections and subsections of Part B of this Article Fourth.

The "Original Issue Price" shall mean $1.0114923 per share for the Series A Preferred Stock, $1.7312858 per share for the Series B Preferred Stock, $0.52981 per share for the Series C Preferred Stock, $0.3443765 per share for the Series C-1 Preferred Stock, and $0.3443765 per share for the Series C-2 Preferred Stock, in each case, subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Preferred Stock.

1. Dividends.

1.1 Series C Combined Preferred Stock Dividends. The holders of then outstanding shares of each series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive, only when, as and if declared by the board of directors of the Corporation (the "Board"), out of any funds and assets legally available therefor, dividends at the rate of 8% of the applicable Original Issue Price for each share of the applicable series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, prior and in preference to any declaration or payment of any other dividend (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) on shares of Series B Preferred Stock, Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock. The right to receive dividends on shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock pursuant to the preceding sentence of this Section 1 shall not be cumulative, and no right to dividends shall accrue to holders of Series C Combined Preferred Stock by reason of the fact that dividends on said shares are not declared. Payment of any dividends to the holders of Series C Combined Preferred Stock shall be on a pro rata, pari passu basis in proportion to the applicable dividend amount for each such series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock. Subject to the preferential rights described above, the Corporation shall not declare, pay or set aside any dividends on shares of any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) in any calendar year unless (in addition to the obtaining of any consents required elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the holders of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock then outstanding shall first receive, or simultaneously receive, in addition to the dividends payable pursuant to the first sentence of this Section 1.1, a dividend on each outstanding share of Series C Combined Preferred Stock in an amount at least equal to (i) in the case of a dividend on Common Stock, the product of (A) the dividend declared, paid or set aside on such Common Stock and (B) the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of a share of such Series C Combined Preferred Stock; (ii) in the case of a dividend on a class or series of capital stock that is convertible into Common Stock, the product of (A) the dividend declared, paid or set aside per share of such class or series of capital stock and (B) the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of a share of such Series C Combined Preferred Stock, divided by the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of a share of such class or series of capital stock; or (iii) in the case of a dividend on any class or series that is not convertible into Common Stock, the product of (A) the amount of the dividend payable on each share of such class or series of capital stock divided by the original issuance price of such class or series of capital stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to such class or series) and (B) the applicable Original Issue Price of the applicable Series C Combined Preferred Stock; provided that, if the Corporation declares, pays or sets aside, on the same date, a dividend on shares of more than one class or series of capital stock of the Corporation, the dividend payable to the holders of a series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 1.1 shall be calculated based upon the dividend on the class or series of capital stock that would result in the highest dividend for such series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock.

1.2 Series B Preferred Stock Dividends. The holders of then outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive, only when, as and if declared by the Board, out of any funds and assets legally available therefor, dividends at the rate of 8% of the Original Issue Price for each share of Series B Preferred Stock, prior and in preference to any declaration or payment of any other dividend (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) on shares of Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock. The right to receive dividends on shares of Series B Preferred Stock pursuant to the preceding sentence of this Section 1 shall not be cumulative, and no right to dividends shall accrue to holders of Series B Preferred Stock by reason of the fact that dividends on said shares are not declared.

1.3 Series A Preferred Stock Dividends. After payment of the dividends set forth in Subsection 1.1 above, the holders of then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive, only when, as and if declared by the Board, out of any funds and assets legally available therefor, dividends at the rate of 8% of the Original Issue Price for each share of Series A Preferred Stock, prior and in preference to any declaration or payment of any other dividend (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) on shares of Common Stock. The right to receive dividends on shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to the preceding sentence of this Section 1 shall not be cumulative, and no right to dividends shall accrue to holders of Series A Preferred Stock by reason of the fact that dividends on said shares are not declared.

1.4 Additional Dividends. After payment of dividends set forth in Subsections 1.1, 1.2, and 1.3 above, any additional dividends shall be distributed among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock pro rata based on the number of shares of Common Stock then held by each holder (assuming conversion of all series of Preferred Stock into Common Stock).

2. Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up; Certain Mergers, Consolidations and Asset Sales.

2.1 Preferential Payments to Holders of Series C Combined Preferred Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of shares of each series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined below), the holders of shares of each series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, on a pari passu basis among each other, before any payment shall be made to the holders of Series B Preferred Stock, Series A Preferred Stock and Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, the greater of (i) an amount per share of each series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock equal to one times the applicable Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon, payable before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, or (ii) such amount per share as would have been payable had all shares of such series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock (and all shares of all other series of Preferred Stock that would receive a larger distribution per share if such series of Preferred Stock and all such other series of Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock) been converted into Common Stock pursuant to Section 4 immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution, winding up or Deemed Liquidation Event (the amounts payable pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) are hereinafter referred to, for each series of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, as applicable, as the "Series C Combined Liquidation Amount"). If, upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.1, the holders of shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.2 Preferential Payments to Holders of Series B Preferred Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after payment in full of all Series C Combined Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock, the holders of shares of the Series B Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event, after payment in full of all Series C Combined Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock, the holders of shares of the Series B Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, on a pari passu basis among each other, before any payment shall be made to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock and Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, the greater of (i) an amount per share equal to one times the Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon, payable before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, or (ii) such amount per share as would have been payable had all shares of Series B Preferred Stock (and all shares of all other series of Preferred Stock that would receive a larger distribution per share if such series of Preferred Stock and all such other series of Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock) been converted into Common Stock pursuant to Section 4 immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution, winding up or Deemed Liquidation Event (the amounts payable pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) are hereinafter referred to as the "Series B Liquidation Amount"). If, upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.2, the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.3 Preferential Payments to Holders of Series A Preferred Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after payment in full of all Series C Combined Liquidation Amounts and Series B Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock, the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event, after payment in full of all Series C Combined Liquidation Amounts and Series B Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock, the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, on a pari passu basis among each other, before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, the greater of (i) an amount per share equal to one times the Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon, payable before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, or (ii) such amount per share as would have been payable had all shares of Series A Preferred Stock (and all shares of all other series of Preferred Stock that would receive a larger distribution per share if such series of Preferred Stock and all such other series of Preferred Stock were converted into Common Stock) been converted into Common Stock pursuant to Section 4 immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution, winding up or Deemed Liquidation Event (the amounts payable pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) are hereinafter referred to as the "Series A Liquidation Amount" and together with the Series B Liquidation Amount and the Series C Combined Liquidation Amount, the "Preferred Liquidation Amounts"). If, upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.3, the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.4 Payments to Holders of Common Stock. In the event of (a) any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after the payment in full of all Preferred Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsections 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3, and (b) a Deemed Liquidation Event, after the payment in full of all Preferred Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the consideration available for distribution to the stockholders of the Corporation and not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsections 2.1, 2.2, and 2.3 or the Available Proceeds not payable to the holders of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Subsections 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3, as the case may be, shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Common Stock, pro rata based on the number of shares held by each such holder.

2.5 Deemed Liquidation Events.

2.5.1 Definition. Each of the following events shall be considered a "Deemed Liquidation Event" unless (i) the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, which must include the Series C Combined Requisite Holders (as defined below) (the "Requisite Holders"); (ii) the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Series A Requisite Holders"); and (iii) the holders of at least 65% of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Series B Requisite Holders") elect otherwise by written notice sent to the Corporation at least ten (10) days prior to the effective date of any such event:

(a) a merger, consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance in which

(i) the Corporation is a constituent party or

(ii) a subsidiary of the Corporation is a constituent party and the Corporation issues shares of its capital stock pursuant to such merger or consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance,

except any such merger, consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance involving the Corporation or a subsidiary in which the shares of capital stock of the Corporation outstanding immediately prior to such merger, consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance continue to represent, or are converted into or exchanged for shares of capital stock that represent, immediately following such merger, consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance at least a majority, by voting power, of the capital stock of (1) the surviving or resulting corporation; or (2) if the surviving or resulting corporation or entity is a wholly owned subsidiary of another corporation or entity immediately following such merger, consolidation , statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, or continuance, the parent corporation or entity of such surviving or resulting corporation or entity; or

(b) (1) the sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition, in a single transaction or series of related transactions, by the Corporation or any subsidiary of the Corporation of all or substantially all the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole, or (2) the sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license, or other disposition (whether by merger, consolidation, statutory conversion, transfer, domestication, continuance, or otherwise, and whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) of one or more subsidiaries of the Corporation if substantially all of the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole are held by such subsidiary or subsidiaries, except where such sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition is to a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

2.5.2 Effecting a Deemed Liquidation Event.

(a) The Corporation shall not have the power to effect a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.5.1 unless the agreement or plan with respect to such transaction, or terms of such transaction (any such agreement, plan or terms, the "Transaction Document") provides that the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation in such Deemed Liquidation

Event shall be paid to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4.

(b) In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.5.1(a)(ii) or 2.5.1(b), if the Corporation does not effect a dissolution of the Corporation under the General Corporation Law within ninety (90) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, then (i) the Corporation shall send a written notice to each holder of Preferred Stock no later than the ninetieth (90th) day after the Deemed Liquidation Event advising such holders of their right (and the requirements to be met to secure such right) pursuant to the terms of the following clause (ii) to require the redemption of such shares of Preferred Stock, and (ii) if the Requisite Holders so request in a written instrument delivered to the Corporation not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, the Corporation shall use the consideration received by the Corporation for such Deemed Liquidation Event (net of any retained liabilities associated with the assets sold or technology licensed, as determined in good faith by the Board), together with any other assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, all to the extent permitted by Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders (the "Available Proceeds"), on the one hundred fiftieth (150th) day after such Deemed Liquidation Event (the "DLE Redemption Date"), to redeem first all outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock and then all other outstanding shares of Preferred Stock at a price per share equal to the applicable amount per share that the holders of each series of Preferred Stock are entitled to receive under Subsections 2.1, 2.2, and 2.3, as applicable; provided, that if the definitive agreement governing such Deemed Liquidation Event contain contingent indemnification obligation on the part of the Corporation and prohibit the Corporation from distributing all or a portion of the Available Proceeds while such indemnification obligations remain outstanding, then the DLE Redemption Date shall automatically be extended to the date that is ten (10) business days following the date on which such prohibition expires. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a redemption pursuant to the preceding sentence, if the Available Proceeds are not sufficient to redeem all outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock or the other series of Preferred Stock, as applicable, the Corporation shall redeem a pro rata portion of each holder's shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock to the fullest extent of such Available Proceeds, based on the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares to be redeemed if the Available Proceeds were sufficient to redeem all such shares, and shall redeem the remaining shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock and then the other series of Preferred Stock as soon as it may lawfully do so under Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders. Prior to the distribution or redemption provided for in this Subsection 2.5.2(b), the Corporation shall not expend or dissipate the consideration received for such Deemed Liquidation Event, except to discharge expenses incurred in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event or in the ordinary course of business. In connection with a distribution or redemption provided for in Section 2.5.2, the Corporation shall send written notice of the redemption (the "Redemption Notice") to each holder of record of Preferred Stock. Each Redemption Notice shall state:

(i) the number of shares of Preferred Stock held by the holder that the Corporation shall redeem on the date specified in the Redemption Notice;

(ii) the redemption date and the price per share at which the shares of Preferred Stock are being redeemed;

(iii) for holders of shares in certificated form, that the holder is to surrender to the Corporation, in the manner and at the place designated, his, her or its certificate or certificates representing the shares of Preferred Stock to be redeemed.

If the Redemption Notice shall have been duly given, and if payment is tendered or deposited with an independent payment agent so as to be available therefor in a timely manner, then notwithstanding that any certificates evidencing any of the shares of Preferred Stock so called for redemption shall not have been surrendered, all rights with respect to such shares shall forthwith after the date terminate, except only the right of the holders to receive the payment without interest upon surrender of any such certificate or certificates therefor.

2.5.3 Amount Deemed Paid or Distributed. The amount deemed paid or distributed to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation upon any such merger, consolidation, sale, transfer, exclusive license, other disposition or redemption shall be the cash or the value of the property, rights or securities to be paid or distributed to such holders pursuant to such Deemed Liquidation Event. The value of such property, rights or securities shall be determined in good faith by the Board.

2.5.4 Allocation of Escrow and Contingent Consideration. In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to Subsection 2.5.1(a)(i), if any portion of the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Transaction Document shall provide that (a) the portion of such consideration that is not Additional Consideration (such portion, the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event; and (b) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the stockholders of the Corporation upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transaction. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.5.4, consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

3. Voting.

3.1 General. On any matter presented to the stockholders of the Corporation for their action or consideration at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation (or by written consent of stockholders in lieu of a meeting), except as otherwise may be expressly provided herein, each holder of outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to cast the number of votes equal to the number of whole shares of Common Stock into which the shares of Preferred Stock held by such holder are convertible (as provided in Section 4 below) as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on such matter. Except as provided by law or by the other provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, holders of Preferred Stock shall vote together with the holders of Common Stock as a single class and on an as-converted to Common Stock basis.

3.2 Election of Directors.

(a) (i) At all times when any shares of Series A Preferred Stock remain outstanding, the holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Corporation (the "Series A Director");

(ii) At all times when any shares of Series C Preferred Stock and/or Series C-1 Preferred Stock remain outstanding, the holders of record of a majority of the shares of Series C Preferred Stock and Series C-1 Preferred Stock, exclusively and voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Series C and C-1 Requisite Holders"), shall be entitled to elect two (2) directors of the Corporation (the "Series C Directors" and together with the Series A Director, the "Preferred Directors");

(iii) The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and of any other class or series of voting stock (including the Preferred Stock, but excluding shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock), exclusively and voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Corporation (the "At-Large Directors"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, for administrative convenience, the initial Series C Directors may also be appointed by the Board of Directors in connection with the approval of the initial issuance of Series C Combined Preferred Stock without a separate action by the Series C and C-1 Requisite Holders. For the avoidance of doubt, Series C-2 Preferred Stock shall have no voting power with respect to the election or removal of directors or with respect to votes on the size of the Board of Directors.

(b) Any director elected as provided in Section 3.2(a) may be removed without cause by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of capital stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders.

(c) (i) If the holders of shares of Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, fail to elect a sufficient number of directors to fill all directorships for which they are entitled to elect directors pursuant to Section 3.2(a) (and to the extent any of such directorships is not otherwise filled by a director appointed in accordance with the proviso in Section 3.2(a)), then any directorship not so filled shall remain vacant until such time as the holders of the Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, fill such directorship in accordance with Section 3.2(a).

(ii) A vacancy in any At-Large Director seat can be filled by either (A) the vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting of the stockholders entitled to elect the At-Large Directors, or (B) the vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting of a majority of the remaining director(s) elected by the stockholders entitled to elect the At-Large Directors.

(d) At any meeting held for the purpose of electing a director, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of the class or series of capital stock entitled to elect such director shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing such director.

3.3 Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. At any time when any shares of Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Corporation shall not (and will cause each subsidiary, if any, not to), either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation, domestication, transfer, continuance, reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, waiver, statutory conversion, or otherwise, do or effect any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the Requisite Holders, given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) as a single class on an as converted basis, any such act or transaction or transactions effected without such approval being null and void ab initio and of no force or effect.

3.3.1 liquidate, dissolve or wind-up the business and affairs of the Corporation, or effect any merger or consolidation or any other Deemed Liquidation Event;

3.3.2 amend, alter, waive or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation in a manner that adversely affects the powers, preferences or rights of the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof);

3.3.3 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue shares of, any additional class or series of capital stock unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof) with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption, or increase the authorized number of shares of Preferred Stock (or any series thereof) or increase the authorized number of shares of any additional class or series of capital stock of the Corporation unless the same ranks junior to the Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption;

3.3.4 (i) reclassify, alter or amend any existing security of the Corporation that is pari passu with the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof) in respect of the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends or rights of redemption, if such reclassification, alteration or amendment would render such other security senior to the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof) in respect of any such power, preference, or special right or (ii) reclassify, alter or amend any existing security of the Corporation that is junior to the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof) in respect of the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends or rights of redemption, if such reclassification, alteration or amendment would render such other security senior to or pari passu with the Preferred Stock (or any series thereof)in respect of any such power, preference, or special right;

3.3.5 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock, (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at the lower of the original issue price or the then current fair market value thereof or (iv) as approved by the Board, including a majority of the then seated Preferred Directors (the "Requisite Directors");

3.3.6 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue, or authorize the issuance of any debt security or create any lien or security interest (except for purchase money liens or statutory liens of landlords, mechanics, materialmen, workmen, warehousemen and other similar persons arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business) or incur other indebtedness for borrowed money, including but not limited to obligations and contingent obligations under guarantees, or permit any subsidiary to take any such action with respect to any debt security lien, security interest or other indebtedness for borrowed money, if the aggregate indebtedness of the Corporation and its subsidiaries for borrowed money following such action would exceed $1,000,000 other than equipment leases, bank lines of credit or trade payables incurred in the ordinary course or unless such debt security has received the prior approval of the Requisite Directors;

3.3.7 create, or hold capital stock in, any subsidiary that is not wholly owned (either directly or through one or more other subsidiaries) by the Corporation, or permit any subsidiary to create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue, any shares of any class or series of capital stock, or sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any capital stock of any direct or indirect subsidiary of the Corporation, or permit any direct or indirect subsidiary to sell, lease, transfer, exclusively license or otherwise dispose (in a single transaction or series of related transactions) of all or substantially all of the assets of such subsidiary;

3.3.8 increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of Common Stock, Preferred Stock or any series thereof;

3.3.9 increase or decrease the authorized number of directors constituting the Board of Directors, or change the number of votes entitled to be cast by any director or directors on the Board of Directors on any matter;

3.3.10 create, or adopt, any equity (or equity-linked) compensation plan of the Company or amend any such plan to increase the number of shares authorized for issuance thereunder, in either case, unless otherwise approved by the Requisite Directors; or

3.3.11 issue or sell or grant any shares of Preferred Stock that were converted into shares of Common Stock in accordance with the terms of this Restated Certificate.

3.4 Series B Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. At any time when any shares of Series B Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Corporation shall not (and will cause each subsidiary, if any, not to), either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation or otherwise, do any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the Series B Requisite Holders, given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class.

3.4.1 amend, alter, waive or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation in a manner that adversely affects the powers, preferences or rights of the Series B Preferred Stock; provided, for the avoidance of doubt, that the creation, or authorization, or issuance of shares of Preferred Stock that have liquidation and/or dividend rights that are senior or pari passu to the Series B Preferred Stock in connection with a bona fide equity financing of the Corporation shall not be deemed to be an adverse amendment or alteration for purposes of this Section 3.4.1;

3.4.2 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock or (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at the lower of the original issue price or the then current fair market value thereof; or

3.4.3 increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of Series B Preferred Stock.

3.5 Series C Combined Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. At any time when any shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Corporation shall not (and will cause each subsidiary, if any, not to), either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation or otherwise, do any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of, if prior to the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in that certain Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of or around the date of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, by and among the Company and the investors party thereto (the "Purchase Agreement"), the holders of at least 60% of the outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, and if after the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis (the "Series C Combined Requisite Holders"), given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class.

3.5.1 liquidate, dissolve or wind-up the business and affairs of the Corporation, or effect any merger or consolidation or any other Deemed Liquidation Event, other than any such liquidation, dissolution or wind-up or Deemed Liquidation Event whereby the consideration per share to be paid (and/or issued, as applicable) to the holders of Series C Preferred Stock (in respect of such holders' shares of Series C Preferred Stock) is (a) an amount per share equal to at least one times the applicable Original Issue Price of the Series C Preferred Stock, and (b) paid (and/or issued, as applicable) in the form of cash or publicly-traded securities;

3.5.2 amend, alter, waive or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation in a manner that adversely affects the powers, preferences or rights of any series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock (provided that any amendment, waiver or repeal of the Original Issue Price, conversion ratio, Conversion Price, anti-dilution adjustments, liquidation preference or dividend rights, in any case, of any series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock shall be deemed to adversely affect the powers, preferences and rights of any series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock); provided further, for the avoidance of doubt, that the creation, or authorization, or issuance of shares of Preferred Stock that have liquidation and/or dividend rights that are senior or pari passu to the Series C Combined Preferred Stock in connection with a bona fide equity financing of the Corporation shall not be deemed to be an adverse amendment or alteration for purposes of this Section 3.5.2;

3.5.3 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock or (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at the lower of the original issue price or the then current fair market value thereof; or

3.5.4 increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of any series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock.

3.6 Series C-2 Preferred Stock Protective Provision. At any time when any shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock and any shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Company shall not (and will cause each subsidiary, if any, not to), either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation, domestication, transfer, continuance, recapitalization, reclassification, waiver, statutory conversion, or otherwise, do the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock, given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class: amend, alter, waive or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or the Bylaws so as to adversely affect the special rights, preferences or powers of the Series C-2 Preferred Stock in a manner different from the Series C-1 Preferred Stock (other than with respect to the right to vote for directors set forth in Section 3.2).

4. Optional Conversion.

The holders of the Preferred Stock shall have conversion rights as follows (the "Conversion Rights"):

4.1 Right to Convert.

4.1.1 Conversion Ratio.

(a) Each share of Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into such number of fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock (calculated as provided in Section 4.2 below), as is determined by dividing the applicable Original Issue Price by the applicable Conversion Price (as defined below) in effect at the time of conversion. The "Conversion Price" shall initially be equal to $1.0114923 for the Series A Preferred Stock, $1.7312858 for the Series B Preferred Stock, $0.52981 for the Series C Preferred Stock, $0.3443765 per share for the Series C-1 Preferred Stock, and $0.3443765 per share for the Series C-2 Preferred Stock. Such initial Conversion Price, and the rate at which shares of Preferred Stock may be converted into shares of Common Stock, shall be subject to adjustment as provided below. Notwithstanding the foregoing and notwithstanding Section 4.3.1, the Conversion Rights set forth in this Section 4.1.1(a) shall be suspended, and no optional conversion of shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock may be effective, from and after the date of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation until immediately after the earlier of (a) consummation of the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) and associated Special Mandatory Conversion, (b) termination of the obligations to consummate the Second Tranche Closing pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, (c) the date such holder's obligation to purchase such holder's Second Tranche Shares (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) has been satisfied in full or terminates in accordance with the Purchase Agreement, or (d) with respect to a holder who is not, and who has no Affiliates (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) who are, Cash Purchasers (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), the day immediately following the Original Issue Date; provided, however, that the foregoing limitation on the right to optionally convert shares into Common Stock pursuant to this Section 4.1.1(a) shall not affect the calculation of the number of shares deemed issuable upon conversion of such shares for purposes of (i) voting rights under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, or (ii) determining amounts payable in respect of shares of Preferred Stock in connection with a dissolution, liquidation, or winding up of the Corporation or pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event.

(b) Conversion of Series C-1 Preferred Stock into Series C-2 Preferred Stock. Each share of Series C-1 Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into one (1) share of Series C-2 Preferred Stock. In no event shall the Corporation be authorized to issue any shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock other than pursuant to the Purchase Agreement or upon the conversion of a share or shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock in accordance with the terms of this Subsection 4.1.1(b).

(c) Conversion of Series C-2 Preferred Stock into Series C-1 Preferred Stock. Each share of Series C-2 Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into one (1) share of Series C-1 Preferred Stock.

4.1.2 Termination of Conversion Rights. In the event of a notice of redemption of any shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to Section 2.5.2(b) , the Conversion Rights of the shares designated for redemption shall terminate at 5:00 p.m. Pacific time (the "close of business" for purposes hereof) on the last full day preceding the date fixed for redemption, unless the redemption price is not fully paid on such redemption date, in which case the Conversion Rights for such shares shall continue until such price is paid in full. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or a Deemed Liquidation Event, the Conversion Rights shall terminate at the close of business on the last full day preceding the date fixed for the payment of any such amounts distributable on such event to the holders of Preferred Stock; provided that the foregoing termination of Conversion Rights shall not affect the amounts otherwise paid or payable in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 to the holders of Preferred Stock pursuant to such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or a Deemed Liquidation Event.

4.2 Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock. In lieu of any fractional shares to which the holder would otherwise be entitled, the Corporation shall pay cash equal to such fraction multiplied by the fair market value of a share of Common Stock as determined in good faith by the Board. Whether or not fractional shares would be issuable upon such conversion shall be determined on the basis of the total number of shares of Preferred Stock the holder is at the time converting into Common Stock and the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

4.3 Mechanics of Conversion.

4.3.1 Notice of Conversion. In order for a holder of Preferred Stock to voluntarily convert shares of Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock (or into Series C-1 Preferred Stock or Series C-2 Preferred Stock, as applicable), such holder shall (a) provide written notice to the Corporation's transfer agent at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) that such holder elects to convert all or any number of such holder's shares of Preferred Stock and, if applicable, any event on which such conversion is contingent and, if the stock to be converted is Series C-1 Preferred Stock or Series C-2 Preferred Stock, the type of stock into which such share is to be converted and (b) if such holder's shares are certificated, surrender the certificate or certificates for such shares of Preferred Stock (or, if such registered holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate), at the office of the transfer agent for the Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent). Such notice shall state such holder's name or the names of the nominees in which such holder wishes the shares of Common Stock to be issued. If required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. The close of business on the date of receipt by the transfer agent (or by the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) of such notice and, if applicable, certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) shall be the time of conversion (the "Conversion Time"), and the shares of capital stock issuable upon conversion of the specified shares shall be deemed to be outstanding of record as of such date. The Corporation shall, as soon as practicable after the Conversion Time (i) issue and deliver to such holder of Preferred Stock, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares or a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of the applicable type of capital stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and may, if applicable, issue and deliver a certificate for the number (if any) of the shares of Preferred Stock represented by any surrendered certificate that were not converted, (ii) pay in cash such amount as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion, as applicable, and (iii) pay all declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted.

4.3.2 Reservation of Shares. The Corporation shall at all times when the Preferred Stock shall be outstanding, reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued capital stock, for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the Preferred Stock, such number of its duly authorized shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding Preferred Stock; and if at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purposes, including, without limitation, engaging in best efforts to obtain the requisite stockholder approval of any necessary amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Before taking any action that would cause an adjustment reducing the applicable Conversion Price below the then par value of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation will take any corporate action which may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary in order that the Corporation may validly and legally issue fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock at such adjusted Conversion Price.

4.3.3 Effect of Conversion. All shares of Preferred Stock which shall have been surrendered for conversion as herein provided shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights with respect to such shares shall immediately cease and terminate at the Conversion Time, except only the right of the holders thereof to receive shares of Common Stock (or, as applicable, Series C-1 Preferred Stock or Series C-2 Preferred Stock) in exchange therefor, to receive payment in lieu of any fraction of a share otherwise issuable upon such conversion as provided in Subsection 4.2 and to receive payment of any dividends declared but unpaid thereon.

4.3.4 No Further Adjustment. Upon any such conversion, no adjustment to the applicable Conversion Price shall be made for any declared but unpaid dividends on the Preferred Stock surrendered for conversion or on the Common Stock delivered upon conversion.

4.3.5 Taxes. The Corporation shall pay any and all issue and other similar taxes that may be payable in respect of any issuance or delivery of shares of Common Stock (or, as applicable, Series C-1 Preferred Stock or Series C-2 Preferred Stock) upon conversion of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4. The Corporation shall not, however, be required to pay any tax which may be payable in respect of any transfer involved in the issuance and delivery of shares of Common Stock (or, as applicable, Series C-1 Preferred Stock or Series C-2 Preferred Stock) in a name other than that in which the shares of Preferred Stock so converted were registered, and no such issuance or delivery shall be made unless and until the person or entity requesting such issuance has paid to the Corporation the amount of any such tax or has established, to the satisfaction of the Corporation, that such tax has been paid.

4.4 Adjustments to Preferred Stock Conversion Price for Diluting Issues.

4.4.1 Special Definitions. For purposes of this Article Fourth, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Option" shall mean rights, options or warrants to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Common Stock or Convertible Securities.

(b) "Original Issue Date" shall mean the date on which the first share of Series C Preferred Stock is issued.

(c) "Convertible Securities" shall mean any evidences of indebtedness, shares or other securities directly or indirectly convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, but excluding Options.

(d) "Additional Shares of Common Stock" shall mean all shares of Common Stock issued (or, pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3 below, deemed to be issued) by the Corporation after the Original Issue Date, other than (1) the following shares of Common Stock and

(2) shares of Common Stock deemed issued pursuant to the following Options and Convertible Securities (clauses (1) and (2), collectively, "Exempted Securities"):

(i) as to any series of Preferred Stock, shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as a dividend or distribution on such series of Preferred Stock (including dividends payable in connection with dividends on other classes or series of stock);

(ii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued by reason of a dividend, stock split, split-up or other distribution on shares of Common Stock that is covered by Subsections 4.5, 4.6, 4.7 and 4.8;

(iii) shares of Common Stock or Options issued to employees or directors of, or consultants or advisors to, the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to a plan, agreement or arrangement approved by the Requisite Directors;

(iv) shares of Common Stock or Convertible Securities actually issued upon the exercise of Options or shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock actually issued upon the conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities, in each case provided such issuance is pursuant to the terms of such Option or Convertible Security or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation;

(v) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued to banks, equipment lessors or other financial institutions, or to real property lessors, pursuant to a debt financing, equipment leasing or real property leasing transaction approved by the Requisite Directors;

(vi) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued to suppliers or third party service providers in connection with the provision of goods or services pursuant to transactions approved by the Requisite Directors;

(vii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as acquisition consideration pursuant to the acquisition of another company by the Corporation by merger, purchase of substantially all of the assets or other reorganization or to a joint venture agreement, provided that such issuances are approved by the Requisite Directors; or (viii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued in connection with sponsored research, collaboration, technology license, development, OEM, marketing or other similar agreements or strategic partnerships approved by the Requisite Directors.

4.4.2 No Adjustment of Preferred Stock Conversion Price. No adjustment in the Conversion Price applicable to a series of Preferred Stock shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock if the Corporation receives written notice: (x) from the Requisite Holders agreeing that no such adjustment shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of such Additional Shares of Common Stock in the event the price per share of the Additional Shares of Common Stock is greater than the Original Issue Price of the Series C Preferred Stock but less than the Original Issue Price of the Series A Preferred Stock or the Series B Preferred Stock; or (y) from the following if the price per share of the Additional Shares of Common Stock is less than the Original Issue Price of the Series C Preferred Stock: (i) the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, with respect to any adjustment to the Conversion Price of the Series A Preferred Stock, (ii) the Series B Requisite Holders, with respect to any adjustment to the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred Stock, and (iii) the Series C Combined Requisite Holders, with respect to any adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock, in each case, agreeing that no such adjustment shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of such Additional Shares of Common Stock.

4.4.3 Deemed Issue of Additional Shares of Common Stock.

(a) If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Original Issue Date shall issue any Options or Convertible Securities (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities) or shall fix a record date for the determination of holders of any class of securities entitled to receive any such Options or Convertible Securities, then the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instrument relating thereto, assuming the satisfaction of any conditions to exercisability, convertibility or exchangeability but without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or, in the case of Convertible Securities and Options therefor, the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, shall be deemed to be Additional Shares of Common Stock issued as of the time of such issue or, in case such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date.

(b) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security, the issuance of which resulted in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, are revised as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase or decrease in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any increase or decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, then, effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock computed upon the original issue of such Option or Convertible Security

(or upon the occurrence of a record date with respect thereto) shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such revised terms been in effect upon the original date of issuance of such Option or Convertible Security. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no readjustment pursuant to this clause (b) shall have the effect of increasing the Conversion Price applicable to a series of Preferred Stock to an amount which exceeds the lower of (i) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to the original adjustment made as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security, or (ii) the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that would have resulted from any issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock (other than deemed issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security) between the original adjustment date and such readjustment date.

(c) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities), the issuance of which did not result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 (either because the consideration per share (determined pursuant to Subsection 4.4.5) of the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto was equal to or greater than the applicable Conversion Price then in effect, or because such Option or Convertible Security was issued before the Original Issue Date), are revised after the Original Issue Date as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion or exchange, then such Option or Convertible Security, as so amended or adjusted, and the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto determined in the manner provided in Subsection 4.4.3(a) shall be deemed to have been issued effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective.

(d) Upon the expiration or termination of any unexercised Option or unconverted or unexchanged Convertible Security (or portion thereof) which resulted (either upon its original issuance or upon a revision of its terms) in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of any series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to such Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock as would have obtained had such Option or Convertible Security (or portion thereof) never been issued.

(e) If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, is calculable at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended but is subject to adjustment based upon subsequent events, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock provided for in this Subsection 4.4.3 shall be effected at the time of such issuance or amendment based on such number of shares or amount of consideration without regard to any provisions for subsequent adjustments (and any subsequent adjustments shall be treated as provided in clauses (b) and (c) of this Subsection 4.4.3). If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, cannot be calculated at all at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended, any adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock that would result under the terms of this Subsection 4.4.3 at the time of such issuance or amendment shall instead be effected at the time such number of shares and/or amount of consideration is first calculable (even if subject to subsequent adjustments), assuming for purposes of calculating such adjustment to the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock that such issuance or amendment took place at the time such calculation can first be made. In the event an Option or Convertible Security contains alternative conversion terms, such as a cap on the valuation of the Corporation at which such conversion will be effected, or circumstances where the Option or Convertible Security may be repaid in lieu of conversion, then the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of such Option or Convertible Security shall be deemed not calculable until such time as the applicable conversion terms are determined.

4.4.4 Adjustment of Conversion Price Upon Issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock. In the event the Corporation shall at any time after the Original Issue Date issue Additional Shares of Common Stock (including Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to be issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3), without consideration or for a consideration per share less than the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance, then the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be reduced, concurrently with such issue, to a price (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent) determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$CP_2 = CP_1 * (A + B) \div (A + C).$$

For purposes of the foregoing formula, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "CP_2" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately after such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock

(b) "CP_1" shall mean the Conversion Price of such series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock;

(c) "A" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock (treating for this purpose as outstanding all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of Options outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance or upon conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities (including the Preferred Stock) outstanding (assuming exercise of any outstanding Options therefor) immediately prior to such issue);

(d) "B" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock that would have been issued if such Additional Shares of Common Stock had been issued or deemed issued at a price per share equal to CP_1 (determined by dividing the aggregate consideration received by the Corporation in respect of such issue by CP_1); and

(e) "C" shall mean the number of such Additional Shares of Common Stock issued in such transaction.

4.4.5 Determination of Consideration. For purposes of this Subsection 4.4, the consideration received by the Corporation for the issuance or deemed issuance of any Additional Shares of Common Stock shall be computed as follows:

(a) Cash and Property: Such consideration shall:

(i) insofar as it consists of cash, be computed at the aggregate amount of cash received by the Corporation, excluding amounts paid or payable for accrued interest;

(ii) insofar as it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair market value thereof at the time of such issue, as determined in good faith by the Board; and

(iii) in the event Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued together with other shares or securities or other assets of the Corporation for consideration which covers both, be the proportion of such consideration so received, computed as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) above, as determined in good faith by the Board.

(b) Options and Convertible Securities. The consideration per share received by the Corporation for Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3, relating to Options and Convertible Securities, shall be determined by dividing:

(i) The total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issue of such Options or Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such consideration) payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, by

(ii) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

4.4.6 Multiple Closing Dates. In the event the Corporation shall issue on more than one date Additional Shares of Common Stock that are a part of one transaction or a series of related transactions and that would result in an adjustment to the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 then, upon the final such issuance, the Conversion Price for such series of Preferred Stock shall be readjusted to give effect to all such issuances as if they occurred on the date of the first such issuance (and without giving effect to any additional adjustments as a result of any such subsequent issuances).

4.5 Adjustment for Stock Splits and Combinations. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Original Issue Date effect a subdivision of the outstanding Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before that subdivision shall be proportionately decreased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be increased in proportion to such increase in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Original Issue Date combine the outstanding shares of Common Stock, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before the combination shall be proportionately increased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be decreased in proportion to such decrease in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. Any adjustment under this subsection shall become effective at the close of business on the date the subdivision or combination becomes effective.

4.6 Adjustment for Certain Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable on the Common Stock in additional shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock in effect immediately before such event shall be decreased as of the time of such issuance or, in the event such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date, by multiplying the Conversion Price of each such series of Preferred Stock then in effect by a fraction:

(1) the numerator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date, and

(2) the denominator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date plus the number of shares of Common Stock issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution.

Notwithstanding the foregoing (a) if such record date shall have been fixed and such dividend is not fully paid or if such distribution is not fully made on the date fixed therefor, the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be recomputed accordingly as of the close of business on such record date and thereafter the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock shall be adjusted pursuant to this subsection as of the time of actual payment of such dividends or distributions; and (b) that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of such series of Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of shares of Common Stock in a number equal to the number of shares of Common Stock as they would have received if all outstanding shares of such series of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.7 Adjustments for Other Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities of the Corporation (other than a distribution of shares of Common Stock in respect of outstanding shares of Common Stock) or in other property and the provisions of Section 1 do not apply to such dividend or distribution, then and in each such event the holders of Preferred Stock shall receive, simultaneously with the distribution to the holders of Common Stock, a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.8 Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.5, if there shall occur any reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger involving the Corporation in which the Common Stock (but not the Preferred Stock) is converted into or exchanged for securities, cash or other property (other than a transaction covered by Subsections 4.4, 4.6 or 4.7), then, following any such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger, each share of Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible in lieu of the Common Stock into which it was convertible prior to such event into the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property which a holder of the number of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation issuable upon conversion of one share of such Preferred Stock immediately prior to such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger would have been entitled to receive pursuant to such transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board) shall be made in the application of the provisions in this Section 4 with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in this Section 4 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Conversion Price of each series of Preferred Stock) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as reasonably may be, in relation to any securities or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock.

4.9 Certificate as to Adjustments. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Conversion Price of a series of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4, the Corporation at its expense shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter, compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and furnish to each holder of such series of Preferred Stock a certificate setting forth such adjustment or readjustment (including the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property into which such series of Preferred Stock is convertible) and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The Corporation shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the written request at any time of any holder of Preferred Stock (but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter), furnish or cause to be furnished to such holder a certificate setting forth (i) the Conversion Price then in effect for each series of Preferred Stock held by such holder, and (ii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other securities, cash or property which then would be received upon the conversion of each such series of Preferred Stock.

4.10 Notice of Record Date. In the event:

(a) the Corporation shall take a record of the holders of its Common Stock (or other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock) for the purpose of entitling or enabling them to receive any dividend or other distribution, or to receive any right to subscribe for or purchase any shares of capital stock of any class or series or any other securities, or to receive any other security; or

(b) of any capital reorganization of the Corporation, any reclassification of the Common Stock of the Corporation, or any Deemed Liquidation Event; or

(c) of the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the Corporation,

then, and in each such case, the Corporation will send or cause to be sent to the holders of the Preferred Stock a notice specifying, as the case may be, (i) the record date for such dividend, distribution or right, and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right, or (ii) the effective date on which such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up is proposed to take place, and the time, if any is to be fixed, as of which the holders of record of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon the conversion of the Preferred Stock) shall be entitled to exchange their shares of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities) for securities or other property deliverable upon such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up, and the amount per share and character of such exchange applicable to the Preferred Stock and the Common Stock. Such notice shall be sent at least ten (10) days prior to the record date or effective date for the event specified in such notice.

5. Mandatory Conversion.

5.1 Trigger Events. All outstanding shares of Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted into shares of Common Stock, at the then effective conversion rate as calculated pursuant to Section 4.1.1, (a) immediately prior to the closing of the sale of shares of Common Stock (or other equity securities of the Corporation) to the public at a price at least equal to two (2) times the applicable Original Issue Price of the Series C Preferred Stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization), in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, for a total offering of at least $50,000,000 (before deduction of underwriters' commissions and expenses) and in connection with such offering, the Common Stock (or such other equity securities) are listed for trading on the Nasdaq Stock Market, the New York Stock Exchange or another exchange or marketplace approved by the Requisite Directors; and (b) the date and time, or the occurrence of an event, specified by vote or written consent of (i) the Requisite Holders; and (ii) solely with respect to the Series B Preferred Stock, the Series B Requisite Holders; and (iii) solely with respect to the Series A Preferred Stock, the Series A Requisite Holders (the "Mandatory Conversion Time").

5.2 Procedural Requirements. All holders of record of shares of Preferred Stock shall be sent written notice of the Mandatory Conversion Time and the place designated for mandatory conversion of all such shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 5. Such notice need not be sent in advance of the occurrence of the Mandatory Conversion Time. Upon receipt of such notice, each holder of shares of Preferred Stock in certificated form shall surrender his, her or its certificate or certificates for all such shares (or, if such holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate) to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice. If so required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. All rights with respect to the Preferred Stock converted pursuant to Subsection 5.1, including the rights, if any, to receive notices and vote (other than as a holder of Common Stock), will terminate at the Mandatory Conversion Time (notwithstanding the failure of the holder or holders thereof to surrender any certificates at or prior to such time), except only the rights of the holders thereof, upon surrender of any certificate or certificates of such holders (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) therefor, to receive the items provided for in the next sentence of this Subsection 5.2. As soon as practicable after the Mandatory Conversion Time and, if applicable, the surrender of any certificate or certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) for Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall (a) issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable on such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof or issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares and may, upon written request, issue and deliver a certificate for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and (b) pay cash as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion and the payment of any declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted.

5.3 Special Mandatory Conversion.

5.3.1 Trigger Event. In the event that any holder of shares becomes a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), subject to the exceptions set forth in the Purchase Agreement, then each share of Preferred Stock held by such holder shall automatically, and without any further action on the part of such holder, be converted into shares of Common Stock at a ratio of one (1) share of Common Stock for every ten (10) shares of Preferred Stock held by such holder as of immediately prior to the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), effective upon, subject to, and concurrently with, the consummation of the Second Tranche Closing. Such conversion is referred to as the "Special Mandatory Conversion."

5.3.2 Procedural Requirements. Upon a Special Mandatory Conversion, each holder of shares that constitutes a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser shall be sent written notice of the Special Mandatory Conversion and the place designated for mandatory conversion of all such shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 5.3. Upon receipt of such notice, each holder of shares that constitutes a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser that holds shares of Preferred Stock in certificated form shall surrender his, her or its certificate or certificates for all such shares (or, if such holder alleges that any such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate) to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice. If so required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. All rights with respect to the Preferred Stock converted pursuant to Section 5.3.1, including the rights, if any, to receive notices and vote (other than as a holder of Common Stock), will terminate at the time of the Special Mandatory Conversion (notwithstanding the failure of the holder or holders thereof to surrender any certificates for such shares at or prior to such time), except only the rights of the holders thereof, upon surrender of any certificate or certificates of such holders therefor (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement), to receive the items provided for in the next sentence of this Section 5.3.2. As soon as practicable after the Special Mandatory Conversion and, if applicable, the surrender of any certificate or certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) for Preferred Stock so converted, the Corporation shall (a) issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares and may, upon written request, issue and deliver a certificate for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and (b) pay any declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Preferred Stock converted.

6. Redemption. The shares of Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable by any holder thereof, except as may be otherwise provided herein.

7. [Reserved]

8. Waiver. Except as otherwise set forth herein or required by law, (i) any of the rights, powers, preferences and other terms of the Preferred Stock set forth herein may be waived on behalf of all holders of Preferred Stock by the affirmative written consent or vote of the Requisite Holders; and (b) at any time more than one series of Preferred Stock is issued and outstanding, any of the rights, powers, preferences and other terms of any series of Preferred Stock set forth herein may be waived on behalf of all holders of such series of Preferred Stock only by the affirmative written consent or vote of the holders of such series that would otherwise be required to amend such right, power, preference, or other term. For the sake of clarity, the Series C Preferred Stock, the Series C-1 Preferred Stock and Series C-2 Preferred Stock shall be treated as separate series of Preferred Stock for purposes of this section.

9. Notices. Any notice required or permitted by the provisions of this Article Fourth to be given to a holder of shares of Preferred Stock shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the post office address last shown on the records of the Corporation, or given by electronic transmission in compliance with the provisions of the General Corporation Law, and shall be deemed sent upon such mailing or electronic transmission.

FIFTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws, in furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute, the Board is expressly authorized to make, repeal, alter, amend and rescind any or all of the Bylaws of the Corporation.

SIXTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the number of directors of the Corporation shall be determined in the manner set forth in the Bylaws of the Corporation. Shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock shall have no voting power on any stockholder vote applicable to changes to the number of directors of the Corporation. Each director shall be entitled to one vote on each matter presented to the Board.

SEVENTH: Elections of directors need not be by written ballot unless the Bylaws of the Corporation shall so provide.

EIGHTH: Meetings of stockholders may be held within or without the State of Delaware, as the Bylaws of the Corporation may provide. The books of the Corporation may be kept (subject to any provision of applicable law) outside the State of Delaware at such place or places as may be designated from time to time by the Board or in the Bylaws of the Corporation.

NINTH: To the fullest extent permitted by law, a director or officer of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer. If the General Corporation Law or any other law of the State of Delaware is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article Ninth to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors or officers, then the liability of a director or officer of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the General Corporation Law as so amended.

Any amendment, repeal or elimination of the foregoing provisions of this Article Ninth by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of, or increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to, such amendment or elimination.

TENTH: To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Corporation is authorized to provide indemnification of (and advancement of expenses to) directors, officers and agents of the Corporation (and any other persons to which General Corporation Law permits the Corporation to provide indemnification) through Bylaw provisions, agreements with such agents or other persons, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, in excess of the indemnification and advancement otherwise permitted by Section 145 of the General Corporation Law.

Any amendment, repeal, modification or elimination of the foregoing provisions of this Article Tenth shall not (a) adversely affect any right or protection of any director, officer or other agent of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal, modification, or elimination, or (b) increase the liability of any director, officer or agent of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director, officer or agent occurring prior to, such amendment, repeal, modification, or elimination.

ELEVENTH: The Corporation renounces, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any interest or expectancy of the Corporation in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, any Excluded Opportunity. An "Excluded Opportunity" is any matter, transaction or interest that is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or which otherwise comes into the possession of (i) any director of the Corporation who is not an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, or (ii) any holder of Preferred Stock or any partner, member, director, stockholder, employee, affiliate or agent of any such holder, other than someone who is an officer or employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries (collectively, the persons referred to in clauses (i) and (ii) are "Covered Persons"), unless such matter, transaction or interest is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or otherwise comes into the possession of, a Covered Person expressly and solely in such Covered Person's capacity as a director of the Corporation while such Covered Person is performing services in such capacity. Any repeal or modification of this Article Eleventh will only be prospective and will not affect the rights under this Article Eleventh in effect at the time of the occurrence of any actions or omissions to act giving rise to liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the Requisite Holders will be required to amend or repeal, or to adopt any provisions inconsistent with this Article Eleventh.

TWELFTH: Unless the Corporation consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware (or, if the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware does not have jurisdiction, another State court in Delaware or the federal district court for the District of Delaware) shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, be the sole and exclusive forum for (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of the Corporation, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of fiduciary duty owed by any director, stockholder, officer or other employee of the Corporation to the Corporation or the Corporation's stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, stockholders, officers or employees arising pursuant to any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law or the Corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, stockholders, officers or employees governed by the internal affairs doctrine, except for, as to each of (i) through (iv) above, any claim as to which such court determines that there is an indispensable party not subject to the jurisdiction of such court (and the indispensable party does not consent to the personal jurisdiction of such court within ten days following such determination).

THIRTEENTH: If any provision or provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any person or entity or circumstance for any reason whatsoever, then, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the validity, legality and enforceability of such provisions in any other circumstance and of the remaining provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (including, without limitation, each portion of any sentence of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable that is not itself held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable) and the application of such provision to other persons or entities and circumstances shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

FOURTEENTH: For purposes of Section 500 of the California Corporations Code (to the extent applicable), in connection with any repurchase of shares of Common Stock permitted under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation from employees, officers, directors or consultants of the Corporation in connection with a termination of employment or services pursuant to agreements or arrangements approved by the Board (in addition to any other consent required under this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation), such repurchase may be made without regard to any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined in Section 500 of the California Corporations Code). Accordingly, for purposes of making any calculation under California Corporations Code Section 500 in connection with such repurchase, the amount of any "preferential dividends arrears amount" or "preferential rights amount" (as those terms are defined therein) shall be deemed to be zero (0).

3. That the foregoing amendment and restatement was approved by the holders of the requisite number of shares of this corporation in accordance with Section 228 of the General Corporation Law.

4. That this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, which restates and integrates and further amends the provisions of this Corporation's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, has been duly adopted in accordance with Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation has been executed by a duly authorized officer of this corporation on July 7, 2025.

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 7, 2025, by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and each of the investors listed on Schedule A hereto, each of which is referred to in this Agreement as an "Investor."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, certain of the Investors hold shares of Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock and were granted certain rights pursuant to the Amended and Restated Investors' Rights Agreement, dated as of March 29, 2022 (the "Prior Agreement");

WHEREAS, certain of the Investors are parties to the Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement of even date herewith, by and among the Company and the Investors listed on Exhibit A thereto (the "Purchase Agreement"), and it is a condition to the closing of the sale of the Series C Preferred Stock and Series C-1 Preferred Stock to the Investors listed on such Exhibit A that such Investors and the Company execute and deliver this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the undersigned parties include the Company and the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities (as defined in the Prior Agreement), and such parties desire to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety and to accept the rights and covenants hereof in lieu of their rights and covenants under the Prior Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

1.1 "Affiliate" means, (a) with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including without limitation any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or other investment fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment adviser of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person; (b) with respect to Fidelity and each Fidelity Investor, any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, one or more mutual fund, pension fund, pooled investment vehicle or institutional client advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity; and (c) with respect to T. 2. Registration Rights. The Company covenants and agrees as follows:

2.1 Demand Registration.

(a) Form S-1 Demand. If at any time after one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of the registration statement for the IPO the Company receives a request from Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-1 registration statement with respect to at least forty percent (40%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, then the Company shall (x) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give notice thereof (the "Demand Notice") to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (y) as soon as practicable, and in any event within sixty (60) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-1 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities that the Initiating Holders requested to be registered and any additional Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(b) Form S-3 Demand. If at any time when it is eligible to use a Form S-3 registration statement, the Company receives a request from Holders of at least thirty percent (30%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-3 registration statement with respect to outstanding Registrable Securities of such Holders having an anticipated aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, of at least $5 million, then the Company shall (i) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give a Demand Notice to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (ii) as soon as practicable, and in any event within forty-five (45) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-3 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing obligations, if the Company furnishes to Holders requesting a registration pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 a certificate signed by the Company's chief executive officer stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors it would be materially detrimental to the Company for such registration statement to either become effective or remain effective for as long as such registration statement otherwise would be required to remain effective, because such action would (i) materially interfere with a significant acquisition, corporate reorganization, or other similar transaction involving the Company; (ii) require premature disclosure of material information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential; or (iii) render the Company unable to comply with requirements under the Securities Act or Exchange Act, then the Company shall have the right to defer taking action with respect to such filing, and any time periods with respect to filing or effectiveness thereof shall be tolled correspondingly, for a period of not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the request of the Initiating Holders is given; provided, however, that the Company may not invoke this right more than once in any twelve (12) month period and provided further that the Company shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such one hundred twenty (120) day period other than an Excluded Registration.

(d) The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) (i) during the period that is sixty (60) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; (ii) after the Company has effected one registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a); or (iii) if the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities that may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b). The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) (i) during the period that is thirty (30) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is ninety (90) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration, provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective; or (ii) if the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) within the twelve (12) month period immediately preceding the date of such request. A registration shall not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d) until such time as the applicable registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC, unless the Initiating Holders withdraw their request for such registration, elect not to pay the registration expenses therefor, and forfeit their right to one demand registration statement pursuant to Subsection 2.6, in which case such withdrawn registration statement shall be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d); provided, that if such withdrawal is during a period the Company has deferred taking action pursuant to Subsection 2.1(c), then the Initiating Holders may withdraw their request for registration and such registration will not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d).

2.2 Company Registration. If the Company proposes to register (including, for this purpose, a registration effected by the Company for stockholders other than the Holders) any of its Common Stock under the Securities Act in connection with the public offering of such securities solely for cash (other than in an Excluded Registration, a registration relating to a demand pursuant to Subsection 2.1, an IPO), the Company shall, at such time, promptly give each Holder notice of such registration. Upon the request of each Holder given within twenty (20) days after such notice is given by the Company, the Company shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, cause to be registered all of the Registrable Securities that each such Holder has requested to be included in such registration. The Company shall have the right to terminate or withdraw any registration initiated by it under this Subsection 2.2 before the effective date of such registration, whether or not any Holder has elected to include Registrable Securities in such registration. The expenses (other than Selling Expenses) of such withdrawn registration shall be borne by the Company in accordance with Subsection 2.6.

2.3 Underwriting Requirements.

(a) If, pursuant to Subsection 2.1, the Initiating Holders intend to distribute the Registrable Securities covered by their request by means of an underwriting, they shall so advise the Company as a part of their request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1 and the Company shall include such information in the Demand Notice. The underwriter(s) will be selected by the Company and shall be reasonably acceptable to a majority in interest of the Initiating Holders. In such event, the right of any Holder to include such Holder's Registrable Securities in such registration shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company as provided in Subsection 2.4(e) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the underwriter(s) selected for such underwriting; provided, however, that no Holder (or any of their assignees) shall be required to make any representations, warranties or indemnities except as they relate to such Holder's ownership of shares and authority to enter into the underwriting agreement and to such Holder's intended method of distribution, and the liability of such Holder shall be several and not joint, and limited to an amount equal to the net proceeds from the offering received by such Holder. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection 2.3, if the underwriter(s) advise(s) the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, then the Initiating Holders shall so advise all Holders of Registrable Securities that otherwise would be underwritten pursuant hereto, and the number of Registrable Securities that may be included in the underwriting shall be allocated among such Holders of Registrable Securities, including the Initiating Holders, in proportion (as nearly as practicable) to the number of Registrable Securities owned by each Holder or in such other proportion as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders; provided, however, that the number of Registrable Securities held by the Holders to be included in such underwriting shall not be reduced unless all other securities are first entirely excluded from the underwriting. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares.

(b) In connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to Subsection 2.2, the Company shall not be required to include any of the Holders' Registrable Securities in such underwriting unless the Holders accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and its underwriters, and then only in such quantity as the underwriters in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering by the Company. If the total number of securities, including Registrable Securities, requested by stockholders to be included in such offering exceeds the number of securities to be sold (other than by the Company) that the underwriters in their reasonable discretion determine is compatible with the success of the offering, then the Company shall be required to include in the offering only that number of such securities, including Registrable Securities, which the underwriters and the Company in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering. If the underwriters determine that less than all of the Registrable Securities requested to be registered can be included in such offering, then the Registrable Securities that are included in such offering shall be allocated among the selling Holders in proportion (as nearly as practicable to) the number of Registrable Securities owned by each selling Holder or in such other proportions as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall (i) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced unless all other securities (other than securities to be sold by the Company) are first entirely excluded from the offering, or (ii) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced below twenty percent (20%) of the total number of securities included in such offering, unless such offering is the IPO, in which case the selling Holders may be excluded further if the underwriters make the determination described above and no other stockholder's securities are included in such offering. For purposes of the provision in this Subsection 2.3(b) concerning apportionment, for any selling Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, the partners, members, retired partners, retired members, stockholders, and Affiliates of such Holder, or the estates and Immediate Family Members of any such partners, retired partners, members, and retired members and any trusts for the benefit of any of the foregoing Persons, shall be deemed to be a single "selling Holder," and any pro rata reduction with respect to such "selling Holder" shall be based upon the aggregate number of Registrable Securities owned by all Persons included in such "selling Holder," as defined in this sentence.

2.4 Obligations of the Company. Whenever required under this Section 2 to effect the registration of any Registrable Securities, the Company shall, as expeditiously as reasonably possible:

(a) prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to such Registrable Securities and use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective and, upon the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities registered thereunder, keep such registration statement effective for a period of up to one hundred twenty (120) days or, if earlier, until the distribution contemplated in the registration statement has been completed; provided, however, that (i) such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains, at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, from selling any securities included in such registration, and (ii) in the case of any registration of Registrable Securities on Form S-3 that are intended to be offered on a continuous or delayed basis, subject to compliance with applicable SEC rules, such 120-day period shall be extended for up to an additional 90 days, if necessary, to keep the registration statement effective until all such Registrable Securities are sold;

(b) prepare and file with the SEC such amendments and supplements to such registration statement, and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement, as may be necessary to comply with the Securities Act in order to enable the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) furnish to the selling Holders such numbers of copies of a prospectus, including a preliminary prospectus, as required by the Securities Act, and such other documents as the Holders may reasonably request in order to facilitate their disposition of their Registrable Securities;

(d) use its commercially reasonable efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or blue-sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the selling Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(e) in the event of any underwritten public offering, enter into and perform its obligations under an underwriting agreement, in usual and customary form, with the underwriter(s) of such offering;

(f) use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause all such Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement to be listed on a national securities exchange or trading system and each securities exchange and trading system (if any) on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(g) provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Agreement and provide a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration;

(h) promptly make available for inspection by the selling Holders, any underwriter(s) participating in any disposition pursuant to such registration statement, and any attorney or accountant or other agent retained by any such underwriter or selected by the selling Holders, all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents, and properties of the Company, and cause the Company's officers, directors, employees, and independent accountants to supply all information reasonably requested by any such seller, underwriter, attorney, accountant, or agent, in each case, as necessary or advisable to verify the accuracy of the information in such registration statement and to conduct appropriate due diligence in connection therewith;

(i) notify each selling Holder, promptly after the Company receives notice thereof, of the time when such registration statement has been declared effective or a supplement to any prospectus forming a part of such registration statement has been filed; and

(j) after such registration statement becomes effective, notify each selling Holder of any request by the SEC that the Company amend or supplement such registration statement or prospectus.

In addition, the Company shall ensure that, at all times after any registration statement covering a public offering of securities of the Company under the Securities Act shall have become effective, its insider trading policy shall provide that the Company's directors may implement a trading program under Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act.

2.5 Furnish Information. It shall be a condition precedent to the obligations of the Company to take any action pursuant to this Section 2 with respect to the Registrable Securities of any selling Holder that such Holder shall furnish to the Company such information regarding itself, the Registrable Securities held by it, and the intended method of disposition of such securities as is reasonably required to effect the registration of such Holder's Registrable Securities.

2.6 Expenses of Registration. All expenses (other than Selling Expenses) incurred in connection with registrations, filings, or qualifications pursuant to Section 2, including all registration, filing, and qualification fees; printers' and accounting fees; fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company; and the reasonable fees and disbursements, not to exceed $50,000, of one counsel for the selling Holders ("Selling Holder Counsel"), shall be borne and paid by the Company; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to pay for any expenses of any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Subsection 2.1 if the registration request is subsequently withdrawn at the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities to be registered (in which case all selling Holders shall bear such expenses pro rata based upon the number of Registrable Securities that were to be included in the withdrawn registration), unless the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities agree to forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b), as the case may be; provided further that if, at the time of such withdrawal, the Holders shall have learned of a material adverse change in the condition, business, or prospects of the Company from that known to the Holders at the time of their request and have withdrawn the request with reasonable promptness after learning of such information then the Holders shall not be required to pay any of such expenses and shall not forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Sections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b). All Selling Expenses relating to Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Section 2 shall be borne and paid by the Holders pro rata on the basis of the number of Registrable Securities registered on their behalf.

2.7 Delay of Registration. No Holder shall have any right to obtain or seek an injunction restraining or otherwise delaying any registration pursuant to this Agreement as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 2.

2.8 Indemnification. If any Registrable Securities are included in a registration statement under this Section 2:

(a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company will indemnify and hold harmless each selling Holder, and the partners, members, officers, directors, Affiliates, and stockholders of each such Holder; legal counsel, accountants, investment advisers and investment managers for each such Holder; any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act) for each such Holder; and each Person, if any, who controls or is under common control with such Holder or underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, against any Damages, and the Company will pay to each such Holder, partner, member, officer, director, Affiliate, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, nor shall the Company be liable for any Damages to the extent that they arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of any such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person expressly for use in connection with such registration.

(b) To the extent permitted by law, each selling Holder, severally and not jointly, will indemnify and hold harmless the Company, and each of its directors, each of its officers who has signed the registration statement, each Person (if any), who controls the Company within the meaning of the Securities Act, legal counsel and accountants for the Company, any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act), any other Holder selling securities in such registration statement, and any controlling Person of any such underwriter or other Holder, against any Damages, in each case only to the extent that such Damages arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of such selling Holder expressly for use in connection with such registration; and each such selling Holder will pay to the Company and each other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Holder, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided further that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by any Holder by way of indemnity or contribution under Subsections 2.8(b) and 2.8(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by such Holder.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Subsection 2.8 give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8, to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Subsection 2.8.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Subsection 2.8 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Subsection 2.8 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Subsection 2.8, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) no Holder will be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by such Holder pursuant to such registration statement, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall a Holder's liability pursuant to this Subsection 2.8(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by such Holder pursuant to Subsection 2.8(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by such Holder.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control; provided, however, that any matter expressly provided for or addressed by the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.8 that is not expressly provided for or addressed by the underwriting agreement shall be controlled by the foregoing provisions.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Company and Holders under this Subsection 2.8 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Section 2, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

2.9 Reports Under Exchange Act. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of SEC Rule 144 and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell securities of the Company to the public without registration or pursuant to a registration on Form S-3, the Company shall:

(a) make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in SEC Rule 144, at all times after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO;

(b) use commercially reasonable efforts to file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements); and

(c) furnish to any Holder, so long as the Holder owns any Registrable Securities, forthwith upon request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of SEC Rule 144 (at any time after ninety (90) days after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO), the Securities Act, and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements), or that it qualifies as a registrant whose securities may be resold pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies); and (ii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration (at any time after the Company has become subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act) or pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies to use such form).

2.10 Limitations on Subsequent Registration Rights. From and after the date of this Agreement, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, enter into any agreement with any holder or prospective holder of any securities of the Company that would provide to such holder or prospective holder the right to include securities in any registration on other than either a pro rata basis with respect to the Registrable Securities or on a subordinate basis after all Holders have had the opportunity to include in the registration and offering all shares of Registrable Securities that they wish to so include; provided that this limitation shall not apply to Registrable Securities acquired by any additional Investor that becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9.

2.11 "Market Stand-off" Agreement. Each Holder hereby agrees that such Holder will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the effectiveness of the registration statement for the IPO, and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed 180 days), (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right, or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock (or other equity securities of the Company) or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for such Common Stock or other equity securities , held immediately before the effective date of the registration statement for such offering, or (ii) engage in any hedging or other transaction or arrangement (including, without limitation, any short sale or the purchase or sale of, or entry into, any put or call option, or combination thereof, forward, swap or any other derivative transaction or instrument, however described or defined) that is designed to, or that reasonably could be expected to, lead to or result in a sale or disposition (whether by such Holder or someone other than such Holder), or a transfer of any of the economic consequences of ownership, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, of any shares of such securities, whether or not any such transaction or arrangement (or instrument provided for thereunder) would be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.11 (A) shall not apply to (1) the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement in the IPO or to the establishment of a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1, provided that such plan does not permit transfers during the restricted period, or to the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of any Holder or the Immediate Family of such Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value; and (2) Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Common Stock acquired by any Holder in, or following the effective date of, the IPO; and (B) shall be applicable to the Holders only if all officers and directors of the Company and all Company stockholders individually owning more than one percent (1%) of the Company's outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of all outstanding Preferred Stock), in each case, are subject to the same (or substantially similar) restrictions. The underwriters in connection with the IPO are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 2.11 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters in connection with the IPO that are consistent with this Subsection 2.11 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto. If there occurs any discretionary waiver or termination of the restrictions of any or all of such agreements applicable to the Company stockholders by the Company or the underwriters, such waiver or termination shall also apply to the Major Investors based on a proportional number of shares of capital stock of the Company then held by the Major Investors. In addition, if the Company contractually agrees to any "lock-up" provisions with any Company stockholder that are more favorable to such Company stockholder than the "lock-up" provisions set forth in this Subsection 2.11, then the Company shall promptly thereafter inform the Major Investors in writing of such more favorable "lock-up" provisions and the Major Investors shall have the right to have such more favorable provisions apply to the "lock-up" provisions to which the Major Investors are bound by under this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, a holder of shares Common Stock issued upon conversion of the Preferred Stock pursuant to the Special Mandatory Conversion shall be deemed a "Holder" under this Subsection 2.11.

2.12 Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) The Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities shall not be sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred, and the Company shall not recognize and shall issue stop-transfer instructions to its transfer agent with respect to any such sale, pledge, or transfer, except upon the conditions specified in this Agreement, which conditions are intended to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act. A transferring Holder will cause any proposed purchaser, pledgee, or transferee of the Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities held by such Holder to agree to take and hold such securities subject to the provisions and upon the conditions specified in this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall not require any transferee of shares pursuant to an effective registration statement or, following the IPO, SEC Rule 144, in each case, to be bound by the terms of this Subsection 2.12. Each Holder agrees not to sell, assign, transfer, pledge or otherwise dispose of any securities of the Company, or any beneficial interest therein, in violation of any transfer restrictions in the Company's Bylaws.

(b) Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing (i) the Preferred Stock, (ii) the Registrable Securities, and (iii) any other securities issued in respect of the securities referenced in clauses (i) and (ii), upon any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or similar event, shall (unless otherwise permitted by the provisions of Subsection 2.12(c)) be notated with a legend substantially in the following form:

THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933. SUCH SHARES MAY NOT BE SOLD, PLEDGED, OR TRANSFERRED

IN THE ABSENCE OF SUCH REGISTRATION OR A VALID EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION AND PROSPECTUS DELIVERY REQUIREMENTS OF SAID ACT.

THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE STOCKHOLDER, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY.

The Holders consent to the Company making a notation in its records and giving instructions to any transfer agent of the Restricted Securities in order to implement the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Subsection 2.12.

(c) The holder of such Restricted Securities, by acceptance of ownership thereof, agrees to comply in all respects with the provisions of this Section 2. Before any proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of any Restricted Securities, unless there is in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering the proposed transaction or following the IPO, the transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the Holder thereof shall give notice to the Company of such Holder's intention to effect such sale, pledge, or transfer; provided that no such notice shall be required in connection if the intended sale, pledge or transfer complies with SEC Rule 144. Each such notice shall describe the manner and circumstances of the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer in sufficient detail and, if reasonably requested by the Company, shall be accompanied at such Holder's expense by either (i) a written opinion of legal counsel who shall, and whose legal opinion shall, be reasonably satisfactory to the Company, addressed to the Company, to the effect that the proposed transaction may be effected without registration under the Securities Act; (ii) a "no action" letter from the SEC to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of such Restricted Securities without registration will not result in a recommendation by the staff of the SEC that action be taken with respect thereto; or (iii) any other evidence reasonably satisfactory to counsel to the Company to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of the Restricted Securities may be effected without registration under the Securities Act, whereupon the Holder of such Restricted Securities shall be entitled to sell, pledge, or transfer such Restricted Securities in accordance with the terms of the notice given by the Holder to the Company. The Company will not require such a notice, legal opinion or "no action" letter (x) in any transaction that in compliance with SEC Rule 144; or (y) in any transaction in which such Holder distributes Restricted Securities to an Affiliate of such Holder for no consideration; provided that, with respect to transfers under the foregoing clause (y), each transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Subsection 2.12(c). Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Restricted Securities transferred as above provided shall be notated with, except if such transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the appropriate restrictive legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b), except that such certificate instrument, or book entry shall not be notated with such restrictive legend if, in the opinion of counsel for such Holder and the Company, such legend is not required in order to establish compliance with any provisions of the Securities Act and the Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause any such legend to be removed.

2.13 Termination of Registration Rights. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion of Registrable Securities in any registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1 or 2.2 shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation; provided however, that Subsection 2.1 and Subsection 2.2 shall not terminate upon a Deemed Liquidation Event in which the consideration received by the Investors is not entirely in the form of cash and/or freely tradeable marketable securities, unless the Investors are provided equivalent rights by the successor entity;

(b) such time after consummation of an IPO that the Holder may immediately sell all of the Holder's Registrable Securities under SEC Rule 144 (under the threshold set forth in SEC Rule 144(e)(1)(i), to the extent SEC Rule 144(e) is applicable), or another similar exemption under the Securities Act, during a three-month period without registration;

(c) the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the IPO.

3. Information and Observer Rights.

3.1 Delivery of Financial Statements. The Company shall deliver to each Major Investor the following, provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company.

(a) as soon as practicable, but in any event within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (i) an audited balance sheet as of the end of such year, (ii) audited statements of income and of cash flows for such year, and (iii) an audited statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such year, all such financial statements audited and certified by independent public accountants of nationally recognized standing (the "Audited Financial Statements"), provided that, with respect to fiscal year ended December 31, 2024, the Company shall deliver to each Major Investor the Audited Financial Statements for fiscal year ended December 31, 2024 on or before December 31, 2025;

(b) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty-five (45) days after the end of each quarter of each fiscal year of the Company, unaudited statements of income and cash flows for such fiscal quarter and an unaudited balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal quarter, all prepared in accordance with GAAP (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments, and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(c) as soon as practicable, but in any event within 45 days after the end of each quarter of each fiscal year of the Company, a statement showing the number of shares of each class and series of capital stock and securities convertible into or exercisable for shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the period, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion or exercise of any outstanding securities convertible or exercisable for Common Stock and the exchange ratio or exercise price applicable thereto, and the number of shares of issued stock options and stock options not yet issued but reserved for issuance, if any, all in sufficient detail as to permit the Major Investors to calculate their respective percentage equity ownership in the Company;

(d) as soon as practicable, but in any event thirty (30) days before the end of each fiscal year, an operating plan of the Company for the next fiscal year approved by the Board of Directors, prepared on a monthly basis, including balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flow for such months, and, promptly after prepared, any other budgets or revised budgets prepared by the Company; and

(e) such other information relating to the financial condition, business, prospects or corporate affairs of the Company as any Major Investor may from time to time reasonably request in writing;

provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated under this Subsection 3.1 to provide information (i) that the Company reasonably determines in good faith to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in a form acceptable to the Company), or (ii) the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel. The Company shall also promptly and accurately respond, and shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause its transfer agent to promptly respond, to requests in writing for information made by on or behalf of a Major Investor relating to (i) accounting or securities law matters required in connection with such Major Investor's audit or (ii) the actual holdings of such Major Investor in the Company, including in relation to the total outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company held by such Major Investor; provided however, that the Company shall not be obligated to provide any such information that could reasonably result in a violation of applicable law or conflict with the Company's insider trading policy or a confidentiality obligation of the Company. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, these rights under the immediately preceding sentence shall not expire with respect to Fidelity and each Fidelity Investor until no Fidelity Investor holds any securities of the Company that are restricted under the Securities Act.

If, for any period, the Company has any subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with those of the Company, then in respect of such period the financial statements delivered pursuant to the foregoing sections shall be the consolidated and consolidating financial statements of the Company and all such consolidated subsidiaries. If reasonably requested by a Major Investor, the Company shall provide the information required by, or reasonably requested pursuant to, this Subsection 3.1 to such Major Investor by uploading the information to a portfolio management platform.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Subsection 3.1 to the contrary, the Company may cease providing the information set forth in this Subsection 3.1 during the period starting with the date sixty (60) days before the Company's good-faith estimate of the date of filing of a registration statement if it reasonably concludes it must do so to comply with the SEC rules applicable to such registration statement and related offering; provided that the Company's covenants under this Subsection 3.1 shall be reinstated at such time as the Company is no longer actively employing its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective.

3.2 Inspection. The Company shall permit each Major Investor (provided that the Board of Directors has not reasonably determined that such Major Investor is a Competitor of the Company), at such Major Investor's expense, to visit and inspect the Company's properties; examine its books of account and records; and discuss the Company's affairs, finances, and accounts with its officers, during normal business hours of the Company as may be reasonably requested by the Major Investor; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Subsection 3.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably and in good faith considers to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in form acceptable to the Company) or the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel.

3.3 Observer Rights.

(a) For so long as Fidelity owns not less than ten percent (10%) of the Fully-Diluted Capitalization (which, for purposes of this calculation, excludes any Exempted Securities, as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation), the Company shall invite a representative of Fidelity to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors (and any committee of the Board of Directors) in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that such representative shall agree to hold in confidence all information so provided; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest.

(b) For so long as Sofinnova owns not less than 8,714,444 shares of Series C Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof), the Company shall invite a representative of Sofinnova to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and committees of the Board of Directors in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative (or if no such representative has been designated, the Company shall provide to Sofinnova) copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that such representative shall agree to hold in confidence all information so provided; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest.

(c) For so long as the TRP Investors collectively own not less than 23,712,896 shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof), the Company shall invite a representative of T. Rowe to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and committees of the Board of Directors in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative (or if no such representative has been designated, the Company shall provide to T. Rowe) copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that all information so provided shall be subject to Subsection 3.5; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest (it being understood and agreed that holdings in a competitor of the Company by any advisory client of T. Rowe shall not by itself be deemed to constitute a conflict of interest).

(d) For so long as Norwest owns not less than 5,662,407 shares of Series C Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof), the Company shall invite a representative of Norwest to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and committees of the Board of Directors in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative (or if no such representative has been designated, the Company shall provide to Norwest) copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that such representative shall agree to hold in confidence all information so provided; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest.

(e) For so long as Gallant Aggregator, LP ("Elevage") owns not less than 2,831,203 shares of Series C Preferred Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof), the Company shall invite a representative of Elevage to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and committees of the Board of Directors in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative (or if no such representative has been designated, the Company shall provide to Elevage) copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that such representative shall agree to hold in confidence all information so provided; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest.

3.4 Termination of Information and Observer Rights. The covenants set forth in Subsections 3.1, 3.2, and 3.3 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first; provided, however, that Subsections 3.1 and 3.2 shall not terminate upon a Deemed Liquidation Event in which the consideration received by the Investors is not entirely in the form of cash and/or freely-tradeable marketable securities, unless the Investors are provided substantially equivalent rights by the successor entity. The third to last paragraph of Subsection 3.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect in accordance with its terms.

3.5 Confidentiality. Each Investor agrees that such Investor will keep confidential and will not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor or make decisions with respect to its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including notice of the Company's intention to file a registration statement), unless such confidential information (a) is known or becomes known to the public in general (other than as a result of a breach of this Subsection 3.5 by such Investor), (b) is or has been independently developed or conceived by such Investor without use of the Company's confidential information, or (c) is or has been made known or disclosed to such Investor by a third party without a breach of any obligation of confidentiality such third party may have to the Company; provided, however, that an Investor may disclose confidential information (i) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring its investment in the Company; (ii) to any prospective purchaser of any Registrable Securities from such Investor, if such prospective purchaser agrees to be bound by the provisions of this Subsection 3.5; (iii) to any existing or prospective Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, or wholly owned subsidiary of such Investor in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Investor informs such Person that such information is confidential and directs such Person to maintain the confidentiality of such information; or (iv) as may otherwise be required by law, regulation, rule, court order or subpoena, provided that such Investor promptly notifies the Company of such disclosure and takes reasonable steps to minimize the extent of any such required disclosure. For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, nothing contained in this Subsection 3.5 shall in any way restrict or impair the ability of any Fidelity Investor to disclose confidential information to Fidelity, respectively (or vice versa), or restrict or impair the obligations of Fidelity to report the investment of its advisory clients (as Investors) in the Company in accordance with applicable laws and regulations or internal policies, without any requirement of prior notice to the Company.

4. Rights to Future Stock Issuances.

4.1 Right of First Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 4.1 and applicable securities laws, if the Company proposes to offer or sell any New Securities, the Company shall first offer such New Securities to each Major Investor. A Major Investor shall be entitled to apportion the right of first offer hereby granted to it in such proportions as it deems appropriate, among (i) itself and (ii) its Affiliates; provided that each such Affiliate (x) is not a FOIA Party, unless such party's purchase of New Securities is otherwise consented to by the Board of Directors, and (y) agrees to enter into this Agreement and each of the Amended and Restated Voting Agreement and Amended and Restated Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement of even date herewith among the Company, the Investors and the other parties named therein, as an "Investor" under each such agreement (provided that any FOIA Party shall not be entitled to any rights as a Major Investor under Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 4.1 hereof)..

(a) The Company shall give notice (the "Offer Notice") to each Major Investor, stating (i) its bona fide intention to offer such New Securities, (ii) the number of such New Securities to be offered, and (iii) the price and terms, if any, upon which it proposes to offer such New Securities.

(b) By written notification to the Company within twenty (20) days after the Offer Notice is given, each Major Investor may elect to purchase or otherwise acquire, at the price and on the terms specified in the Offer Notice, up to that portion of such New Securities which equals the proportion that the Common Stock then held by such Major Investor (including all shares of Common Stock then issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by such Major Investor) bears to the total Common Stock of the Company then outstanding (assuming full conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of all Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then outstanding). At the expiration of such twenty (20) day period, the Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor that elects to purchase or acquire all the shares available to it (each, a "Fully Exercising Investor") of any other Major Investor's failure to do likewise. During the ten (10) day period commencing after the Company has given such notice, each Fully Exercising Investor may, by giving notice to the Company, elect to purchase or acquire, in addition to the number of shares specified above, up to that portion of the New Securities for which Major Investors were entitled to subscribe but that were not subscribed for by the Major Investors which is equal to the proportion that the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by such Fully Exercising Investor bears to the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by all Fully Exercising Investors who wish to purchase such unsubscribed shares. The closing of any sale pursuant to this Subsection 4.1(b) shall occur within the later of ninety (90) days of the date that the Offer Notice is given and the date of initial sale of New Securities pursuant to Subsection 4.1(c).

(c) If all New Securities referred to in the Offer Notice are not elected to be purchased or acquired as provided in Subsection 4.1(b), the Company may, during the ninety (90) day period following the expiration of the periods provided in Subsection 4.1(b), offer and sell the remaining unsubscribed portion of such New Securities to any Person or Persons at a price not less than, and upon terms no more favorable to the offeree than, those specified in the Offer Notice. If the Company does not enter into an agreement for the sale of the New Securities within such period, or if such agreement is not consummated within thirty (30) days of the execution thereof, the right provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and such New Securities shall not be offered unless first reoffered to the Major Investors in accordance with this Subsection 4.1.

(d) The right of first offer in this Subsection 4.1 shall not be applicable to (i) Exempted Securities (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation),(ii) shares of Common Stock issued in an IPO, and (iii) the issuance of shares of Preferred Stock pursuant to the Purchase Agreement.

4.2 Termination. The covenants set forth in Subsection 4.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO or (ii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

5. Additional Covenants

5.1 IPO Purchase Right.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 5.1, in connection with any IPO, the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to provide Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors (collectively, the "Directed Share Purchaser") with the right to purchase up to an aggregate of fifteen percent (15%) of the shares of Common Stock anticipated to be sold by the Company in such IPO (such shares of Common Stock, the "Directed Shares"). The Directed Shares shall be offered to the Directed Share Purchaser on the same terms and at the same price at which they are being offered to the public, pursuant to the Company's IPO registration statement, subject in all cases to the requirements of applicable federal and state securities laws.

(b) Notwithstanding Subsection 5.1(a), the Company shall not be obligated to commit any act in violation of the rules and regulations of the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") or any other laws, rules and regulations applicable to the IPO. Furthermore, in connection with the exercise of the rights provided to the Directed Share Purchaser pursuant to Subsection 5.1(a), the Directed Share Purchaser exercising such right at the time of the IPO shall make all the filings necessary to comply with the SEC, FINRA and any other applicable laws, rules or regulations, if any.

(c) The Company shall deliver a written notice ("IPO Notice") to the Directed Share Purchaser stating (i) the Company's bona fide intention to consummate the IPO, (ii) the number of Directed Shares proposed to be offered and (iii) the proposed price range upon which the Directed Shares will be offered. Such price range shall be the range specified by the lead underwriter in the IPO. In the event of a change in the price range or the number of Directed Shares proposed to be offered, the Company shall promptly deliver written notice to the Directed Share Purchaser of such change (the "Price Change Notice").

(d) By written notification received by the Company, within the time period specified in the IPO Notice (which period shall be no less than three (3) business days after the delivery date of the IPO Notice (the "Response Period")) and subject to the limitations of the following sentence, the Directed Share Purchaser may elect to purchase, at the gross price per share negotiated by the Company with the underwriters as reflected on the final prospectus applicable to the IPO, the Directed Shares offered to the Directed Share Purchaser in accordance with Subsection 5.1(a). The failure by the Directed Share Purchaser to notify in writing the Company within the Response Period of its election to purchase Directed Shares shall terminate the Directed Share Purchaser's rights pursuant to Subsection 5.1(a) unless the IPO is not completed within ninety (90) days of the IPO Notice. The Directed Share Purchaser shall have the right, upon written notification to the Company, to rescind the exercise of the rights under Subsection 5.1(a) in the event of any material adverse developments in the IPO process, the Company or the securities markets, which rescission right shall expire at the time that the underwriter's directed share program generally binds purchasers of directed shares to buy the shares that they have indicated an intent to purchase.

(e) By written notification received by the Company one (1) business day following delivery of a Price Change Notice, the Directed Share Purchaser may elect to increase or decrease the number of Directed Shares for which the Directed Share Purchaser had elected to purchase; provided however, the total number of Directed Shares available for purchase by the Directed Share Purchaser shall not exceed the maximum number of shares permitted under Subsection 5.1(a).

(f) Notwithstanding any provision contained herein to the contrary, in the event that complying with Subsection 5.1(a) would result in a violation of the rules and regulations of the SEC, FINRA or any other laws, rules and regulations applicable to the IPO, the Directed Share Purchaser shall instead be entitled to purchase in a separate private placement (which may be conducted, in whole or in part, concurrently with the IPO) the same number of shares of Common Stock as provided under Subsection 5.1(a), which shares shall be of the same type and at the same price issued in the IPO and shall be deemed to be Registrable Securities hereunder.

(g) The shares of the Company's capital stock that the Directed Share Purchaser is entitled to purchase under this Subsection 5.1 may be apportioned, as the Directed Share Purchaser deems appropriate, among itself and its Affiliates.

5.2 Insurance. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to maintain Directors and Officers liability insurance from a financially sound and reputable insurer in an amount of at least $3,000,000 on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Board of Directors, including the Preferred Directors (as hereinafter defined), until such time as the Board of Directors determines that such insurance should be discontinued. The policy shall not be cancelable by the Company without prior approval by the Board of Directors, including the Preferred Directors. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 5.2 to the contrary, during such time(s) as one or more directors elected by holders of one or more series of Preferred Stock is serving on the Board of Directors (the "Preferred Directors"), the Company shall upon request from any such holder deliver to each such holder a certification that such a Directors and Officers liability insurance policy remains in effect.

5.3 Employee Agreements. Unless otherwise agreed to by the Board of Directors, the Company (a) will cause each Person now or hereafter employed by it or by any subsidiary (or engaged by the Company or any subsidiary as a consultant/independent contractor) with access to confidential information and/or trade secrets to enter into a nondisclosure and proprietary rights assignment agreement and (b) shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive, or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any of the above-referenced agreements or any restricted stock agreement between the Company and any employee.

5.4 Employee Stock. Unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, all future employees and consultants of the Company who purchase, receive options to purchase, or receive awards of shares of the Company's capital stock after the date hereof shall be required to execute restricted stock or option agreements, as applicable, providing for (i) vesting of shares over a four (4) year period, with the first twenty-five percent (25%) of such shares vesting following twelve (12) months of continued employment or service, and the remaining shares vesting in equal monthly installments over the following thirty-six (36) months, and (ii) a market stand-off provision substantially similar to that in Subsection 2.11. Without the prior approval by the Board of Directors, the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any stock purchase, stock restriction or option agreement with any existing employee or service provider if such amendment would cause it to be inconsistent with this Subsection 5.4. In addition, unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, the Company shall retain (and not waive) a "right of first refusal" on employee transfers until the Company's IPO and shall have the right to repurchase unvested shares at cost upon termination of employment of a holder of restricted stock.

5.5 Qualified Small Business Stock. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the shares of Series A Preferred Stock issued on or prior to January 1, 2022, that were intended to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), as well as any shares into which such shares are converted, within the meaning of Section 1202(f) of the Code, to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code; provided, however, that such requirement shall not be applicable if the Board of Directors of the Company determines, in its good-faith business judgment, that such qualification is inconsistent with the best interests of the Company. The Company shall submit to its holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock set forth in the first sentence of this Subsection 5.5 and to the Internal Revenue Service any reports that may be required under Section 1202(d)(1)(C) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in no event shall the Company be liable to holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock set forth in the first sentence of this Subsection 5.5 for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

5.6 Matters Requiring Preferred Director Approval. During such time or times as the holders of Preferred Stock are entitled to elect at least one Preferred Director and such seat is filled, the Company hereby covenants and agrees with each of the Investors that it shall not, without the approval of the Board of Directors, including a majority of the Preferred Directors then seated:

(a) approve the annual operating budget of the Company or any amendment to such annual budget; or

(b) hire, terminate, or change the compensation of (other than annual cost of living adjustments), approve or amend any stock or option awards to, or enter into any non-employment related transaction with, the chief executive officer of the Company, any individual reporting directly to the Board of Directors, or executive-level individual reporting directly to the chief executive officer of the Company, or any immediate family member of any such individual.

5.7 Board Matters. Unless otherwise determined by the vote of a majority of the directors then in office, the Board of Directors shall meet in person or via video or conference call at least quarterly in accordance with an agreed-upon schedule. The Company shall reimburse the nonemployee directors for all reasonable out-of-pocket travel expenses incurred (consistent with the Company's travel policy) in connection with attending in-person meetings of the Board of Directors.

5.8 Successor Indemnification. If the Company or any of its successors or assignees consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, then to the extent necessary, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assignees of the Company assume the obligations of the Company with respect to indemnification of members of the Board of Directors as in effect immediately before such transaction, whether such obligations are contained in the Company's bylaws, the Certificate of Incorporation, or elsewhere, as the case may be.

5.9 Indemnification Matters. The Company hereby acknowledges that one (1) or more of the Preferred Directors nominated to serve on the Board of Directors by the Investors (each an "Investor Director") may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by one or more of the Investors and certain of their Affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (a) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to any such Investor Director are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by such Investor Director are secondary), (b) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by such Investor Director and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or on behalf of any such Investor Director to the extent legally permitted and as required by the Company's Certificate of Incorporation or bylaws of the Company (or any agreement between the Company and such Investor Director), without regard to any rights such Investor Director may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (c) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of any such Investor Director with respect to any claim for which such Investor Director has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Investor Director against the Company. The Investor Directors and the Investor Indemnitors are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 5.9 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Subsection 5.9 as though they were a party to this Agreement.

5.10 Publicity.

(a) The Company agrees that it will not, and shall cause each of its subsidiaries to not, without the prior written consent of each Fidelity Investor, use in advertising, publicity, or otherwise, in any case, to the general public the name of Fidelity, or any Fidelity Purchaser, or any partner or employee of Fidelity or any Fidelity Investor, nor any trade name, trademark, trade device, service mark, symbol or any abbreviation, contraction or simulation thereof owned by Fidelity, any Fidelity Investor or any of their respective Affiliates; provided that the Company shall have the right to disclose that each Fidelity Investor is a stockholder of the Company (but not the amount invested or terms thereof) in a form of disclosure that has been previously approved by Fidelity. The Company further agrees that it shall obtain the written consent of each Fidelity Investor prior to the Company's or any of its subsidiaries' issuance of any public statement detailing the purchase of shares of Preferred Stock by the Fidelity Investors; provided that the Company shall have the right to disclose that each Fidelity Investor is a stockholder of the Company (but not the amount invested or terms thereof) in a form of disclosure that has been previously approved by Fidelity. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have the right to disclose the purchase of shares of Preferred Stock by the Fidelity Investors (and the equity securities of the Company then held by the Fidelity Investors and Fidelity) in connection with any filings or reports required by the Securities Act the Exchange Act, or the SEC.

(b) The Company agrees that it will not, and shall cause each of its subsidiaries to not, without the prior written consent of T. Rowe, use in advertising, publicity, or otherwise, in any case, to the general public the name of T. Rowe, or any TRP Investor, or any partner or employee of T. Rowe or any TRP Investor, nor any trade name, trademark, trade device, service mark, symbol or any abbreviation, contraction or simulation thereof owned by T. Rowe, any TRP Investor or any of their respective Affiliates; provided that the Company shall have the right to disclose that each TRP Investor is a stockholder of the Company (but not the amount invested or terms thereof) in a form of disclosure that has been previously approved by T. Rowe. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have the right to disclose the purchase of shares of the Company's Series C Combined Preferred Stock by the TRP Investors (and the equity securities of the Company then held by the TRP Investors) in connection with any filings or reports required by the Securities Act the Exchange Act, or the SEC.

5.11 Right to Conduct Activities. The Company hereby agrees and acknowledges that each of ATP (together with its Affiliates), Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors (together with their Affiliates), Gilmartin (together with its Affiliates), Intuitive (together with its Affiliates), T. Rowe and the TRP Investors (together with their Affiliates), Sofinnova (together with its Affiliates) and Norwest (together with their Affiliates) is a professional investment organization and invests in other companies, and as such reviews the business plans and related proprietary information of many enterprises, some of which may compete directly or indirectly with the Company's business (as currently conducted or as currently propose to be conducted). Nothing in this Agreement or the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) shall preclude or in any way restrict ATP or its Affiliates, Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors or their respective Affiliates, Intuitive or its Affiliates, Gilmartin or its Affiliates, T. Rowe and the TRP Investors or their respective Affiliates, Sofinnova or its Affiliates, or Norwest or its Affiliates from investing or participating in any particular enterprise whether or not such enterprise has products or services which compete with those of the Company. The Company hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted under applicable law, neither ATP (and its Affiliates), Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors (and their respective Affiliates), Intuitive (and its Affiliates), Gilmartin (and its Affiliates), T. Rowe and the TRP Investors (and their respective Affiliates) Sofinnova (and its Affiliates), nor Norwest (and its Affiliates) shall be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by ATP (or its Affiliates), the Fidelity Investors (and their Affiliates), Intuitive (and its Affiliates), Gilmartin (and its Affiliates), the T. Rowe Investors (and their Affiliates), Sofinnova (or its Affiliates), or Norwest (or its Affiliates) in any entity competitive with the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any partner, officer, employee or other representative of ATP (or its Affiliates), Fidelity or a Fidelity Investor (or their respective Affiliates), Intuitive (or its Affiliates), Gilmartin (or its Affiliates), T. Rowe or a TRP Investor (or their respective Affiliates), Sofinnova (or its Affiliates), or Norwest (or its Affiliates) to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a member of the board of directors of such competitive company or otherwise, and whether or not such action has a detrimental effect on the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve (x) any of the Investors from liability associated with the unauthorized disclosure of the Company's confidential information obtained pursuant to this Agreement, or (y) any director or officer of the Company from any liability associated with his or her fiduciary duties to the Company.

5.12 ESG.

(a) The Company shall, as promptly as practicable following the Initial Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), adopt and thereafter maintain in effect a policy addressing ESG (environmental, social and governance) issues with respect to the Company's operations, which may include, without limitation, basic worker rights, racial, ethnic, gender, and other under-represented-group diversity considerations in hiring decisions and in board-selection decisions, data privacy for employees and customers, ethical use of data and data security, consumer protection, sustainability, occupational health and safety, and transparency.

(b) Without derogating from the foregoing, and in addition thereto, The Company acknowledges that Sofinnova is a signatory to the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI) and takes into consideration ESG criteria in its activities. The Company will appoint one of its key employees or executive officers (the "ESG Reporting Person") to be responsible for the oversight of environmental, social and governance ("ESG") considerations within the Company and for reporting, on a regular basis, to the Board and Sofinnova on the Company's management of any relevant ESG considerations. In light of the foregoing, a specific item relating to ESG considerations shall be added, at least once a year, to the Board's agenda, during which the ESG Reporting Person shall present to the Board the Company's management of any relevant ESG considerations during the past year (as the case may be, based on any ESG report provided by Sofinnova). In addition, the Company expressly undertakes to: (i) make its best efforts to comply with the principles provided in the following guidelines: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises (OECD MNE), UN Global Compact (UN GP) and UN Guiding Principles for Business and Human Rights (UNGP); (ii) answer Sofinnova's ESG related questionnaire on an annual basis; (iii) respond to any of Sofinnova's reasonable additional requests for information (including relating to the Company's carbon footprint analysis) on its ESG policies, practices and procedures; (iv) promptly inform Sofinnova of any material developments related to any ESG considerations (including with respect to any ESG related matter that could have a negative impact on the Company's reputation); and (v) (x) adopt a progress-based approach with the implementation of ESG considerations in its activities and regarding its internal operations, (y) be conscious of the economic, social and ecosystems impacts of climate change (including its carbon footprint) and adopt a progress-based approach regarding its internal operations in this respect, and (z) adopt an active approach to improve gender parity and to monitor and communicate to Sofinnova any initiative to support gender parity.

5.13 FCPA. The Company covenants that it shall not (and shall not permit any of its subsidiaries or Affiliates or any of its or their respective directors, officers, managers, employees, independent contractors, representatives or agents to) promise, authorize or make any payment to, or otherwise contribute any item of value to, directly or indirectly, to any third party, including any Non-U.S. Official (as such term is defined in the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended (the "FCPA")), in each case, in violation of the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. The Company further covenants that it shall (and shall cause each of its subsidiaries and Affiliates to) cease all of its or their respective known activities, as well as remediate any known actions taken by the Company, its subsidiaries or Affiliates, or any of their respective directors, officers, managers, employees, independent contractors, representatives or agents in violation of the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. The Company further covenants that it shall (and shall cause each of its subsidiaries and Affiliates to) maintain commercially reasonable systems of internal controls (including, but not limited to, accounting systems, purchasing systems and billing systems) to provide reasonable assurances regarding compliance with the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. Upon request by a Major Investor, the Company agrees to provide responsive information and/or certifications to such Major Investor concerning its compliance with applicable anti-corruption laws. The Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor if the Company becomes aware of any Enforcement Action (as defined in the Purchase Agreement). The Company shall, and shall cause any direct or indirect subsidiary or entity controlled by it, whether now in existence or formed in the future to make commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the FCPA. The Company shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause any direct or indirect subsidiary, whether now in existence or formed in the future, to comply in all material respects with all applicable laws.

5.14 Expenses of Counsel and Transaction Assistance in an IPO and Sale of the Company.

(a) Expense Reimbursement. In the event of an IPO or a transaction that is a Sale of the Company (as defined in the Amended and Restated Voting Agreement of even date herewith among the Investors, the Company and the other parties named therein) (each, a "Reimbursed Transaction"), the reasonable fees and disbursements, not to exceed $50,000 in the aggregate, of one counsel for the Investors ("Investor Counsel"), solely in their capacities as stockholders, shall be borne and paid by the Company.

(b) Sale of the Company. At the outset of considering a transaction, which if consummated would constitute a Sale of the Company, the Company shall obtain the ability to share with the Investor Counsel (and such counsel's clients) and shall share the confidential information (including, without limitation, the initial and all subsequent drafts of memoranda of understanding, letters of intent and other transaction documents and related noncompete, employment, consulting and other compensation agreements and plans) pertaining to and memorializing any of the transactions, which, individually or when aggregated with others, would constitute the Sale of the Company. The Company shall be obligated to share (and cause the Company's counsel and investment bankers to share) such materials when distributed to the Company's executives and/or any one or more of the other parties to such transaction(s).

(c) IPO. If in connection with the IPO the underwriters or the Company request the execution of additional agreements pursuant to Section 2.11, the Company shall share (and cause the Company's underwriters or their counsel to share) the form of such agreement with the Investor Counsel no less than ten days prior to the deadline for execution such agreement, and in any event, no later than 20 days prior to the first public filing of a registration statement in connection with the IPO. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide ten days' advanced written notice to Investor Counsel of any deadlines for written information that may be required by the Company to be furnished or reviewed by or on behalf of any Holder to be used in connection with the IPO (e.g., information relating to beneficial ownership, director biographies, and summaries of material contracts to which Holder is a party).

(d) Joint Defense/Common Interest Agreement. In the event that Investor Counsel deems it appropriate, in its reasonable discretion, to enter into a joint defense/common interest agreement or other arrangement to enhance the ability of the parties to protect their communications and other reviewed materials under the attorney client privilege, the Company shall, and shall direct its counsel to, execute and deliver to Investor Counsel and its clients such an agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to Investor Counsel and the Company's counsel. In the event that one or more of the other party or parties to such transactions require the clients of Investor Counsel to enter into a confidentiality agreement and/or joint defense and/or common interest agreement in order to receive such information, then the Company shall share whatever information can be shared without entry into such agreement and shall, at the same time, in good faith work expeditiously to enable Investor Counsel and its clients to negotiate and enter into the appropriate agreement(s) without undue burden to the clients of Investor Counsel.

5.15 Cybersecurity. The Company shall, within 270 days following the date of this Agreement, use commercially reasonable efforts to: (a) identify the Company's confidential business information, trade secrets, and any information about identified or identifiable natural persons maintained, disclosed, or otherwise processed by or on behalf of the Company (collectively, "Protected Data") and the Company's servers, laptops, desktops, cloud computing, containers, virtual environments, data centers, and/or other Company or vendor systems and applications that process Protected Data, or are used to provide, host or enable the Company's operations or services (collectively, "Systems"); (b) restrict access to Protected Data and Systems to those individuals or entities who have a need to access such Protected Data and Systems; (c) conduct a commercially reasonable risk assessment to evaluate the potential risks, vulnerabilities, and threats to Protected Data and Systems; (d) implement and maintain commercially reasonable physical, technical and administrative safeguards designed to protect the security, confidentiality, integrity and availability of all Protected Data and Systems, and (e) provide its applicable employees, agents, and contractors with privacy and security training as determined reasonably necessary by the Company.

5.16 Termination of Covenants. The covenants set forth in this Section 5, except for Subsections 5.8, 5.9 and 5.14, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, or (ii) upon a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Successors and Assigns. The rights under this Agreement may be assigned (but only with all related obligations) by a Holder to a transferee of Registrable Securities that (i) is an Affiliate of a Holder; or (ii) is a Holder's Immediate Family Member or trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or one or more of such Holder's Immediate Family Members; (iii) in the case of each Fidelity Investor, (1) pursuant to a merger or reorganization of a U.S. registered mutual fund that receives, directly or indirectly, investment management or investment advisory services from Fidelity, (2) pursuant to a transfer by a Fidelity Investor to any other fund, pooled investment vehicle, institutional client or account that receives, directly or indirectly, investment management or investment advisory services from Fidelity or (3) pursuant to a transfer by a Fidelity Investor or to any other entity managed or advised by a registered investment advisor (in each case, a "Fidelity Permitted Transferee"), provided that the Fidelity Permitted Transferee will agree in writing to be subject to the terms of this Agreement to the same extent as if it were an original party hereto; (iv) in the case of each TRP Investor (in addition to and not in lieu of the other permitted transfer and assignment rights) pursuant to a merger or reorganization of a U.S. registered mutual fund that receives, directly or indirectly, investment management or investment advisory services from T. Rowe or an Affiliate thereof; or (v) after such transfer, holds at least 1% of the shares of Registrable Securities (subject to appropriate adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, combinations and other recapitalizations); provided, however, that (x) the Company is, within a reasonable time after such transfer, furnished with written notice of the name and address of such transferee and the Registrable Securities with respect to which such rights are being transferred; and (y) such transferee agrees in a written instrument delivered to the Company to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including the provisions of Subsection 2.11. For the purposes of determining the number of shares of Registrable Securities held by a transferee, the holdings of a transferee (1) that is an Affiliate or stockholder of a Holder; (2) who is a Holder's Immediate Family Member; or (3) that is a trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or such Holder's Immediate Family Member shall be aggregated together and with those of the transferring Holder; provided further that all transferees who would not qualify individually for assignment of rights shall, as a condition to the applicable transfer, establish a single attorney-in-fact for the purpose of exercising any rights, receiving notices, or taking any action under this Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement inure to the benefit of and are binding upon the respective successors and permitted assignees of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assignees any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided herein.

6.2 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.3 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.4 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during the recipient's normal business hours, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day; (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next-day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their addresses as set forth on Schedule A hereto, or to the principal office of the Company and to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer, in the case of the Company, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor (other than the Fidelity Investors) consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic mail is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in such stockholder's electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, and either retroactively or prospectively) only with the written consent of the Company and (a) the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding and (b) (i) if prior to the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least 60% of the Registrable Securities issued or issuable upon conversion of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, and (ii) if after the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities issued or issuable upon conversion of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis; provided that the Company may in its sole discretion waive compliance with Subsection 2.12(c) (and the Company's failure to object promptly in writing after notification of a proposed assignment allegedly in violation of Subsection 2.12(c) shall be deemed to be a waiver); and provided further that any provision hereof may be waived by any waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

Notwithstanding the foregoing,

(a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereof may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, unless such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver applies to all Investors in the same fashion (it being agreed that a waiver of the provisions of Section 4 with respect to a particular transaction shall be deemed to apply to all Investors in the same fashion if such waiver does so by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that certain Investors may nonetheless, by agreement with the Company, purchase securities in such transaction);

(b) Subsection 2.11, Subsection 3.1, Subsection 3.2, Subsection 4, and any other section of this Agreement applicable to the Major Investors (including this clause (b) of this Subsection 6.6) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of (i) the holders of at least a majority of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock (or Common Stock issuable thereunder) that constitute Registrable Securities then held by Major Investors; (ii) the holders of at least 65% of the then outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock (or Common Stock issuable thereunder) that constitute Registrable Securities then held by Major Investors; and (iii) (A) if prior to the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least 60% of the then outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock (or Common Stock issuable thereunder) that constitute Registrable Securities then held by Major Investors, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, and (B) if after the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least a majority of the then outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, (or Common Stock issuable thereunder), that constitute Registrable Securities then held by Major Investors, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis; (except that, with respect to any amendment, modification, termination or waiver of Subsection 2.11, Section 3.1 and Section 3.2 (A) as it relates to any Fidelity Investor shall not be effective as to such Fidelity Investor without the prior written consent of such Fidelity Investor); and (B) as it relates to any TRP Investor shall not be effective as to such TRP Investor without the prior written consent of the TRP Investors holding a majority of the shares of capital stock held by the TRP Investors;

(c) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 1.1(b) (and Subsection 1.1 as it relates to Subsection 1.1(b)), Subsection 1.11, Subsection 1.12, Subsection 1.23(a), Subsection 3.3(a), the last sentence of Subsection 3.5 (and Subsection 3.5 as it relates to the last sentence of Subsection 3.5), Subsection 5.1, Subsection 5.10(a), Subsection 5.11 (as it relates to any Fidelity Investor), Subsection 6.1 (as it relates to any Fidelity Investor), Subsection 6.5(b) (as it relates to any Fidelity Investor), this clause (c) of Subsection 6.6 (and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (c)), Subsection 6.13 and Subsection 6.14 or the last sentence in the definition of "Major Investor" will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to Fidelity or any Fidelity Investor without the prior written consent of each Fidelity Investor;

(d) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 1.6, Subsection 1.23(b), Subsection 1.43, Subsection 1.44, Subsection 3.3(c), , Subsection 5.10(b), Subsection 5.11 (as it relates to any TRP Investor), Subsection 6.1 (as it relates to any TRP Investor) this clause (d) of Subsection 6.6 (and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (d)), or the last sentence in the definition of "Major Investor" will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to T. Rowe or any TRP Investor without the prior written consent of the T. Rowe Investors holding a majority of the shares of capital stock then held by the T. Rowe Investors;

(e) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 1.2, Subsection 1.23(c), Subsection 1.41, Subsection 3.3(b), Subsection 5.9, Subsection 5.11 (as it relates to Sofinnova), Section 5.12(b), this clause (e) of Subsection 6.6 (and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (e)) will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to Sofinnova without the prior written consent of Sofinnova;

(f) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 1.6, Subsection 1.23(d), Subsection 1.25, Subsection 3.3(d), Subsection 5.11 (as it relates to Norwest), this clause (f) of Subsection 6.6 (and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (f)) will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to Norwest without the prior written consent of Norwest;

(g) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 3.3(e) (and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (g)) will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to Elevage without the prior written consent of Elevage; and

(h) any amendment, waiver or termination of Subsection 1.23(e) and Subsection 6.6 as it relates to this clause (h) will not be effective, in any case, as it relates to ATP without the prior written consent of ATP.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add transferees of any Registrable Securities in compliance with the terms of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties; and Schedule A hereto may also be amended by the Company after the date of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties to add information regarding any additional Investor who becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9. The Company shall give prompt notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 6.6 shall be binding on all parties hereto, regardless of whether any such party has consented thereto. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition, or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition, or provision.

6.7 Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is for any reason held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, and such invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision shall be reformed and construed so that it will be valid, legal, and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6.8 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Registrable Securities held or acquired by Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.9 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement, and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder. No action or consent by the Investors shall be required for such joinder to this Agreement by such additional Investor, so long as such additional Investor has agreed in writing to be bound by all of the obligations as an "Investor" hereunder.

6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any Schedules and Exhibits hereto), and the Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

6.11 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.12 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power, or remedy of such nonbreaching or nondefaulting party, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of or acquiescence to any such breach or default, or to any similar breach or default thereafter occurring, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. All remedies, whether under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.13 Acknowledgment. The Company hereby acknowledges Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors are professional investment managers and/or funds, and as such, invest in numerous portfolio companies, some of which may be deemed competitive with the Company's business (as conducted or proposed to be conducted). Neither Fidelity nor their respective affiliates (including affiliated advisors and funds) shall be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by Fidelity or any affiliated fund in any entity competitive to the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any advisor, partner, officer or other representative of Fidelity or any affiliated fund to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a board member of such competitive company, or otherwise (provided, that the foregoing in this clause (ii) does not, and is not intended to, impact or impair the confidentiality and other obligations of Fidelity and each Fidelity Investor under this Agreement).

6.14 Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of the Agreement and Declaration of Trust of each Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Agreement is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Agreement are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Purchaser or any affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

6.15 Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchasers. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, any Investor that is a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) shall have no rights as an "Investor" or "Major Investor" under this Agreement with respect to the shares of Preferred Stock converted pursuant to the Special Mandatory Conversion (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation); provided that such Investor shall remain subject to all the obligations under this Agreement with respect to shares of Preferred Stock converted pursuant to the Mandatory Conversion, including but not limited to Section 2.11 and Section 3.5 of this Agreement.

6.16 Effect on Prior Agreement. Upon the effectiveness of this Agreement, the Prior Agreement shall be deemed amended and restated and superseded and replaced in its entirety by this Agreement, and shall be of no further force or effect.

GALVANIZE THERAPEUTICS, INC.
AMENDED AND RESTATED RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of July 7, 2025 by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the Investors (as defined below) listed on Schedule A and the Key Holders (as defined below) listed on Schedule B.

WHEREAS, the Company, certain of the Key Holders and the certain of the Investors previously entered into an Amended and Restated Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated as of March 29, 2022 (the "Prior Agreement");

WHEREAS, certain of the Investors are parties to the Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement of even date herewith, between the Company and the Investors listed on Exhibit A thereto (the "Purchase Agreement"), and it is a condition to the closing of the sale of the Series C Preferred Stock and Series C-1 Preferred Stock of the Company to the Investors listed on such Schedule of Investors that such Investors and the Company execute and deliver this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the undersigned parties include (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock held by Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class and on an as-converted basis) party to the Prior Agreement, and such parties desire to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety and to accept the rights and covenants hereof in lieu of their rights and covenants under the Prior Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors agree as follows:

1. Definitions.

1.1 "Affiliate" means, (a) with respect to any specified Investor, any other Person who directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Investor, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Investor, or any venture capital fund or other investment fund, or registered investment company now or hereafter existing which is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Investor (b) with respect to Fidelity and each Fidelity Investor, any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, one or more mutual fund, pension fund, pooled investment vehicle or institutional client advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity; and (c) with respect to each TRP Investor, any other fund or account that is an entity advised or sub-advised by T. Rowe.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Capital Stock" means (a) shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock (whether now outstanding or hereafter issued in any context), (b) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock, and (c) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon exercise or conversion, as applicable, of stock options, warrants or other convertible securities of the Company, in each case now owned or subsequently acquired by any Key Holder, any Investor, or their respective successors or permitted transferees or assigns. For purposes of determining the number of shares of Capital Stock held by an Investor or Key Holder (or any other calculation based thereon), all shares of Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into Common Stock at the then-applicable conversion ratio.

1.4 "Change of Control" means a transaction or series of related transactions in which a person, or a group of related persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company.

1.5 "Common Stock" means shares of Common Stock of the Company, $0.0001 par value per share.

1.6 "Company Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the selling Key Holders or selling Investor(s) (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, and each Investor that the Company intends to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Stockholder Transfer.

1.7 "Fidelity" means Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC, and any successor or affiliated registered investment advisor to the Fidelity Investors.

1.8 "Fidelity Investor" means any Investor that is advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity.

1.9 "Investor Notice" means written notice from any Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder(s) or the selling Investor(s) (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, that such Investor intends to exercise its Secondary Refusal Right as to a portion of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Stockholder Transfer.

1.10 "Investor Transfer Period" means the period beginning on the date hereof and ending on the third anniversary thereof.

1.11 "Investors" means the persons named on Schedule A hereto, each person to whom the rights of an Investor are assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.9, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.11 and any one of them, as the context may require, provided, however, that any such person shall cease to be considered an Investor for purposes of this Agreement at any time such person is a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (as defined in the Purchase Agreement).

1.12 "IPO" means the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

1.13 "Key Holders" means the persons named on Schedule B hereto, each person to whom the rights of a Key Holder are assigned pursuant to Subsection 3.1, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.9 or 6.17 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.14 "Norwest" collectively means Norwest Venture Partners XVII, LP, a Delaware limited partnership, and its Affiliates.

1.15 "Person" means an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or other legal entity.

1.16 "Preferred Stock" means collectively all shares of Series A Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, Series B Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, Series C Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, Series C-1 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, and Series C-2 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share.

1.17 "Proposed Key Holder Transfer" means any assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any Transfer Stock (or any interest therein) proposed by any of the Key Holders.

1.18 "Proposed Investor Transfer" means any assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any Transfer Stock (or any interest therein) proposed by any of the Investors solely during the Investor Transfer Period.

1.19 "Proposed Stockholder Transfer" means any Proposed Key Holder Transfer or any Proposed Investor Transfer.

1.20 "Proposed Transfer Notice" means written notice from a Key Holder or an Investor, as applicable, setting forth the terms and conditions of a Proposed Stockholder Transfer.

1.21 "Prospective Transferee" means any person to whom a Key Holder or an Investor (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, proposes to make a Proposed Stockholder Transfer.

1.22 "Restated Certificate" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.23 "Right of Co-Sale" means the right, but not an obligation, of an Investor to participate in a Proposed Stockholder Transfer on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.24 "Right of First Refusal" means the right, but not an obligation, of the Company, or its permitted transferees or assigns, to purchase some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Stockholder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.25 "Secondary Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, that the Company does not intend to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to all shares of any Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Stockholder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.26 "Secondary Refusal Right" means the right, but not an obligation, of each Investor to purchase up to its pro rata portion (based upon the total number of shares of Capital Stock then held by all Investors) of any Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.27 "Sofinnova" means collectively Sofinnova Capital XI SCSp SICAV-RAIF, Sofinnova Capital XI Co-Invest I, and their respective Affiliates.

1.28 "Transfer Stock" means shares of Capital Stock owned by a Key Holder or an Investor (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, or issued to a Key Holder or an Investor (during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, in each case, after the date hereof (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), but does not include, for the Investors, from and after the expiration of the Investor Transfer any shares of Preferred Stock or of Common Stock that are issued or issuable upon conversion of Preferred Stock held by the Investors.

1.29 "T. Rowe" means T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. and any successor or affiliated registered investment adviser to the TRP Investors.

1.30 "TRP Investors" shall mean those Investors that are advisory or sub-advisory clients of T. Rowe. For the sake of clarity, the T. Rowe Price Investors, as of the date hereof, are identified as such on Schedule A attached hereto.

1.31 "Undersubscription Notice" means written notice from an Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, if applicable, that such Investor intends to exercise its option to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right.

2. Agreement Among the Company, the Investors and the Key Holders.

2.1 Right of First Refusal.

(a) Grant. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder and, (during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, each Investor, hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Company a Right of First Refusal to purchase all or any portion of Transfer Stock that such Key Holder or such Investor (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, may propose to transfer in a Proposed Stockholder Transfer, at the same price and on the same terms and conditions as those offered to the Prospective Transferee.

(b) Notice. Each Key Holder or Investor (if during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, proposing to make a Proposed Stockholder Transfer must deliver a Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company and each Investor not later than forty-five (45) days prior to the consummation of such Proposed Stockholder Transfer. Such Proposed Transfer Notice shall contain the material terms and conditions (including price and form of consideration) of the Proposed Stockholder Transfer, the identity of the Prospective Transferee and the intended date of the Proposed Stockholder Transfer. To exercise its Right of First Refusal under this Section 2, the Company must deliver a Company Notice to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, and the Investors within fifteen (15) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice specifying the number of shares of Transfer Stock to be purchased by the Company.

(c) Assignment. The Company's Right of First Refusal pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) may not be assigned by the Company or the Board of Directors to a third party or stockholder of the Company without first complying with the Secondary Refusal Right of the Investors as set forth in Subsection 2.1(d).

(d) Grant of Secondary Refusal Right to the Investors. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder and each Investor (during the Investor Transfer Period), as applicable, hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Investors a Secondary Refusal Right to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased by the Company pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, as provided in this Subsection 2.1(d). If the Company does not provide the Company Notice exercising its Right of First Refusal with respect to all Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Stockholder Transfer, the Company must deliver a Secondary Notice to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, and to each Investor to that effect no later than fifteen (15) days after the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, delivers the Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company. To exercise its Secondary Refusal Right, an Investor must deliver an Investor Notice to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, and the Company within ten (10) days after the Company's deadline for its delivery of the Secondary Notice as provided in the preceding sentence.

(e) Undersubscription of Transfer Stock. If options to purchase have been exercised by the Company and the Investors pursuant to Subsections 2.1(b) and (d) with respect to some but not all of the Transfer Stock by the end of the ten (10) day period specified in the last sentence of Subsection 2.1(d) (the "Investor Notice Period"), then the Company shall, within five (5) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period, send written notice (the "Company Undersubscription Notice") to those Investors who fully exercised their Secondary Refusal Right within the Investor Notice Period (the "Exercising Investors"). Each Exercising Investor shall, subject to the provisions of this Subsection 2.1(e), have an additional option to purchase all or any part of the balance of any such remaining unsubscribed shares of Transfer Stock on the terms and conditions set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice. To exercise such option, an Exercising Investor must deliver an Undersubscription Notice to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, and the Company within ten (10) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period. In the event there are two (2) or more such Exercising Investors that choose to exercise the last-mentioned option for a total number of remaining shares in excess of the number available, the remaining shares available for purchase under this Subsection 2.1(e) shall be allocated to such Exercising Investors pro rata based on the number of shares of Transfer Stock such Exercising Investors have elected to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right (without giving effect to any shares of Transfer Stock that any such Exercising Investor has elected to purchase pursuant to the Company Undersubscription Notice). If the options to purchase the remaining shares are exercised in full by the Exercising Investors, the Company shall immediately notify all of the Exercising Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, of that fact.

(f) Consideration; Closing. If the consideration proposed to be paid for the Transfer Stock is in property, services or other non-cash consideration, the fair market value of the consideration shall be as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. If the Company or any Investor for any reason cannot or does not wish to pay for the Transfer Stock in the same form of non-cash consideration, the Company or such Investor may pay the cash value equivalent thereof, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. The closing of the purchase of Transfer Stock by the Company and the Investors shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Investors shall have been delivered to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice as the intended date of the Proposed Stockholder Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice.

2.2 Right of Co-Sale.

(a) Exercise of Right. If any Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Stockholder Transfer is not purchased pursuant to Subsection 2.1 above and thereafter is to be sold to a Prospective Transferee, each respective Investor may elect to exercise its Right of Co-Sale and participate on a pro rata basis in the Proposed Stockholder Transfer as set forth in Subsection 2.2(b) below and, subject to Subsection 2.2(d), otherwise on the same terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice. Each Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale (each, a "Participating Investor") must give the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, written notice to that effect within fifteen (15) days after the deadline for delivery of the Secondary Notice described above, and upon giving such notice such Participating Investor shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Right of Co-Sale.

(b) Shares Includable. Each Participating Investor may include in the Proposed Stockholder Transfer all or any part of such Participating Investor's Capital Stock equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the aggregate number of shares of Transfer Stock subject to the Proposed Stockholder Transfer (excluding shares purchased by the Company or the Participating Investors pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right) by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Capital Stock owned by such Participating Investor immediately before consummation of the Proposed Stockholder Transfer and the denominator of which is the total number of shares of Capital Stock owned, in the aggregate, by all Participating Investors immediately prior to the consummation of the Proposed Stockholder Transfer, plus the number of shares of Transfer Stock held by the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable. To the extent one or more of the Participating Investors exercise such right of participation in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein, the number of shares of Transfer Stock that the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, may sell in the Proposed Stockholder Transfer shall be correspondingly reduced.

(c) Purchase and Sale Agreement. The Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, agree that the terms and conditions of any Proposed Stockholder Transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2 will be memorialized in, and governed by, a written purchase and sale agreement with the Prospective Transferee (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") with customary terms and provisions for such a transaction, and the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, further covenant and agree to enter into such Purchase and Sale Agreement as a condition precedent to any sale or other transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2.

(d) Allocation of Consideration.

(i) Subject to Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, shall be allocated based on the number of shares of Capital Stock sold to the Prospective Transferee by each Participating Investor and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, as provided in Subsection 2.2(b), provided that if a Participating Investor wishes to sell Preferred Stock, the price set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice shall be appropriately adjusted based on the conversion ratio of the Preferred Stock into Common Stock.

(ii) In the event that the Proposed Stockholder Transfer constitutes a Change of Control, the terms of the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that the aggregate consideration from such transfer shall be allocated to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, in accordance with Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate and, if applicable, the next sentence as if (A) such transfer were a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate), and (B) the Capital Stock sold in accordance with the Purchase and Sale Agreement were the only Capital Stock outstanding. In the event that a portion of the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that (x) the portion of such consideration that is not subject to contingencies (the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such transfer, and (y) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transfer. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such transfer shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

(e) Purchase by Selling Key Holder; Deliveries. Notwithstanding Subsection 2.2(c) above, if any Prospective Transferee or Transferees refuse(s) to purchase securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from any Participating Investor or Investors or upon the failure to negotiate in good faith a Purchase and Sale Agreement reasonably satisfactory to the Participating Investors, no Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, may sell any Transfer Stock to such Prospective Transferee or Transferees unless and until, simultaneously with such sale, such Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, purchases all securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from such Participating Investor or Investors on the same terms and conditions (including the proposed purchase price) as set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice and as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i); provided, however, if such sale constitutes a Change of Control, the portion of the aggregate consideration paid by the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, to such Participating Investor or Investors shall be made in accordance with the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii). In connection with such purchase by the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, such Participating Investor or Investors shall deliver to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, any stock certificate or certificates, properly endorsed for transfer, representing the Capital Stock being purchased by the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable). Any such shares transferred to the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, will be transferred to the Prospective Transferee against payment therefor in consummation of the sale of the Transfer Stock pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice, and the selling Key Holder or selling Investor, as applicable, shall concurrently therewith remit or direct payment to each such Participating Investor the portion of the aggregate consideration to which each such Participating Investor is entitled by reason of its participation in such sale as provided in this Subsection 2.2(e).

(f) Additional Compliance. If any Proposed Stockholder Transfer is not consummated within forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Proposed Transfer Notice by the Company, the Key Holders or the Investors proposing the Proposed Stockholder Transfer may not sell any Transfer Stock unless they first comply in full with each provision of this Section 2. The exercise or election not to exercise any right by any Investor hereunder shall not adversely affect its right to participate in any other sales of Transfer Stock subject to this Subsection 2.2. The Company's first refusal rights and the Investors' first refusal rights and co-sale rights shall continue to be applicable to any subsequent disposition of the Transfer Stock acquired by the third-party transferee(s) until such rights lapse in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

(g) Expiration of Investor Transfer Period. The parties hereto agree and acknowledge that the restrictions on Proposed Investor Transfers set forth in Subsection 2.1 and Subsection 2.2 of this Agreement shall only apply to Proposed Investor Transfers that are proposed to be effected during the Investor Transfer Period. From and after the expiration of the Investor Transfer Period, (i) the restrictions and provisions of such subsections shall not apply to the assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any shares of Capital Stock held by an Investor and (ii) any references to Proposed Investor Transfers or Proposed Stockholder Transfers in this Agreement shall be deemed to reference only Proposed Key Holder Transfers. The parties further agree and acknowledge that the provisions of this Agreement shall control in the event of any conflict with any transfer provisions of the Company's bylaws as in effect from time to time.

2.3 Effect of Failure to Comply.

(a) Transfer Void; Equitable Relief. Any Proposed Stockholder Transfer not made in compliance with the requirements of this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio, shall not be recorded on the books of the Company or its transfer agent and shall not be recognized by the Company. Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this Agreement would result in substantial harm to the other parties hereto for which monetary damages alone could not adequately compensate. Therefore, the parties hereto unconditionally and irrevocably agree that any non-breaching party hereto shall be entitled to seek protective orders, injunctive relief and other remedies available at law or in equity (including, without limitation, seeking specific performance or the rescission of purchases, sales and other transfers of Transfer Stock not made in strict compliance with this Agreement).

(b) Violation of First Refusal Right. If any Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, becomes obligated to sell any Transfer Stock to the Company or any Investor under this Agreement and fails to deliver such Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company and/or such Investor may, at its option, in addition to all other remedies it may have, send to such Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, the purchase price for such Transfer Stock as is herein specified and transfer to the name of the Company or such Investor (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of an Investor) on the Company's books any certificates, instruments, or book entry representing the Transfer Stock to be sold.

(c) Violation of Co-Sale Right. If any Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, purports to sell any Transfer Stock in contravention of the Right of Co-Sale (a "Prohibited Transfer"), each Participating Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 may, in addition to such remedies as may be available by law, in equity or hereunder, require such Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, to purchase from such Participating Investor the type and number of shares of Capital Stock that such Participating Investor would have been entitled to sell to the Prospective Transferee had the Prohibited Transfer been effected in compliance with the terms of Subsection 2.2. The sale will be made on the same terms, including, without limitation, as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i) and the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), as applicable, and subject to the same conditions as would have applied had the Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, not made the Prohibited Transfer, except that the sale (including, without limitation, the delivery of the purchase price) must be made within ninety (90) days after the Participating Investor learns of the Prohibited Transfer, as opposed to the timeframe proscribed in Subsection 2.2. Such Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, shall also reimburse each Participating Investor for any and all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, incurred pursuant to the exercise or the attempted exercise of the Participating Investor's rights under Subsection 2.2.

3. Exempt Transfers.

3.1 Exempted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall not apply (a) in the case of a Key Holder or an Investor, as applicable, that is an entity, upon a transfer by such Key Holder or such Investor to its stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders, and solely with respect to an Investor, to such Investor's Affiliates or the stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders of its Affiliates, (b) to a repurchase of Transfer Stock from a Key Holder by the Company at a price no greater than that originally paid by such Key Holder for such Transfer Stock and pursuant to an agreement containing vesting and/or repurchase provisions approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, (c) in the case of a Key Holder or an Investor that is a natural person, upon a transfer of Transfer Stock by such Key Holder or Investor made for bona fide estate planning purposes, either during his or her lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to his or her spouse, domestic partner, child (natural or adopted), or any other direct lineal descendant of such

Key Holder or Investor (or his or her spouse or domestic partner) (all of the foregoing collectively referred to as "family members"), or any other relative/person approved by the Board of Directors, or any custodian or trustee of any trust, partnership or limited liability company for the benefit of, or the ownership interests of which are owned wholly by such Key Holder or any such family members; provided that in the case of clauses (a) or (c), the Key Holder or the Investor, as applicable, shall deliver prior written notice to the Investors of such pledge, gift or transfer and such shares of Transfer Stock shall at all times remain subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Agreement and such transferee shall, as a condition to such Proposed Stockholder Transfer, deliver a counterpart signature page to this Agreement as confirmation that such transferee shall be bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Key Holder or Investor, as applicable (but only with respect to the securities so transferred to the transferee), including the obligations of a Key Holder or Investor, as applicable, with respect to Proposed Stockholder Transfers of such Transfer Stock pursuant to Section 2; and provided further in the case of any transfer by a Key Holder pursuant to clause (a) or (c) above, that such transfer is made pursuant to a transaction in which there is no consideration actually paid for such transfer.

3.2 Exempted Offerings. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Section 2 shall not apply to the sale of any Transfer Stock (a) to the public in an offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (including an IPO); or (b) pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

3.3 Prohibited Transferees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Key Holder or, during the Investor Transfer Period, Investor, as applicable, shall transfer any Transfer Stock to (a) any entity which, in the determination of the Board of Directors, directly or indirectly competes with the Company; (b) any development partner, distributor or supplier of the Company, if the Board of Directors should determine that such transfer would result in such development partner, distributor or supplier receiving information that would place the Company at a competitive disadvantage with respect to such customer, distributor or supplier; provided, however, that in no event will Fidelity, a Fidelity Investor, T. Rowe, a TRP Investor, Sofinnova or Norwest be deemed to directly or indirectly compete with the Company; or (c) any Person whose ownership of such Transfer Stock, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, would present a regulatory or legal issue for the Company.

4. Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing shares of Transfer Stock held by the Key Holders or Investors or issued to any permitted transferee in connection with a transfer permitted by Subsection 3.1 hereof shall be notated with the following legend:

> THE SALE, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION, OR TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY IS SUBJECT TO, AND IN CERTAIN CASES PROHIBITED BY, THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF A CERTAIN RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT BY AND AMONG THE STOCKHOLDER, THE CORPORATION AND CERTAIN OTHER HOLDERS OF STOCK OF THE CORPORATION. COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST TO THE SECRETARY OF THE CORPORATION.

Each Key Holder and Investor agrees that the Company may instruct its transfer agent to impose transfer restrictions on the shares notated with the legend referred to in this Section 4 above to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, and the Company agrees to promptly do so. The legend shall be removed upon termination of this Agreement at the request of the holder. The Company agrees to remove the foregoing legend from any certificate held by an Investor following the expiration of the Investor Transfer Period.

5. Lock-Up.

5.1 Agreement to Lock-Up. Each Key Holder hereby agrees that such Key Holder will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to an IPO, the registration by the Company of shares of its Common Stock or any other equity securities on a registration statement (other than a Form S-8), and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed 180 days, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or the underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in applicable FINRA rules, or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock (or other equity securities of the Company) or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for such Common Stock or other equity securities, whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by such Key Holder or are thereafter acquired, or (ii) engage in any hedging or other transaction or arrangement (including, without limitation, any short sale or the purchase or sale of, or entry into, any put or call option, or combination thereof, forward, swap or any other derivative transaction or instrument, however described or defined) that is designed to, or that reasonably could be expected to, lead to or result in a sale or disposition (whether by such Key Holder or someone other than such Key Holder), or a transfer of any of the economic consequences of ownership, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, of any shares of such securities, whether or not any such transaction or arrangement (or instrument provided for thereunder) would be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Section 5 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement in an IPO or to the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of such Key Holder or the immediate family of such Key Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value. The underwriters are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Section 5 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Key Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters in the IPO that are consistent with this Section 5 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto. In the event a Key Holder is or becomes a party to a lock-up or market standoff agreement with the Company or any third party beneficiary of this Subsection 5.1 that contains terms that are more restrictive to the Key Holder, the Key Holder agrees that the Key Holder shall be subject to the more restrictive terms and compliance therewith shall be deemed compliance herewith.

5.2 Stop Transfer Instructions. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Capital Stock of each Key Holder (and transferees and assignees thereof) until the end of such restricted period.

5.3 Survival. Unless and only to the extent otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into connection with the underwritten IPO, the obligations of the Key Holders under this Section 5 shall survive the termination of this Agreement or any provision(s) of this Agreement.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement shall automatically terminate, except for Section 5, upon the earlier of (a) immediately prior to the consummation of the Company's IPO; and (b) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

6.2 Stock Split. All references to numbers of shares in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock dividend, split, combination or other recapitalization affecting the Capital Stock occurring after the date of this Agreement.

6.3 Ownership. Each Key Holder represents and warrants that such Key Holder is the sole legal and beneficial owner of the shares of Transfer Stock subject to this Agreement and that no other person or entity has any interest in such shares (other than a community property interest as to which the holder thereof has acknowledged and agreed in writing to the restrictions and obligations hereunder).

6.4 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION AGREEMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereof, as the case may be, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, it shall be sent to 155 Jefferson Drive, Suite 100, Menlo Park, CA 94025, Attention: Chief Executive Officer; and a copy (which shall not constitute notice) shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor (other than the Fidelity Investors) and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic mail is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including, the Exhibits and Schedules hereto) together with the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.7 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.8 Amendment; Waiver and Termination. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6.1 above) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock then held by all of the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted basis), which must include, if prior to the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), the holders of at least 60% of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock held by Investors, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, and if after the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock held by Investors, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis; provided, however, that (x) the definitions of Subsection 1.1(b) (and Section 1.1 as it relates to Subsection 1.1(b)), Section 1.7, Section 1.8, the proviso in Section 3.3 as it relates to Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors, Section 6.5(b) (as it relates to Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors), Subsection 6.9(c)(iii) as it relates to Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors (and Section 6.9 as it relates to Subsection 6.9(c)(iii)), Section 6.18 and this proviso in this subsection (x) of Section 6.8 and the third sentence of Section 6.8, in each case, as it relates to Fidelity and the Fidelity Investors, may only be amended, modified, terminated or waived with the written consent of each Fidelity Investor, (y) Section 1.27, the proviso in Section 3.3 (as it relates to Sofinnova), and this proviso in this subsection (y) of this Section 6.8 may only be amended, modified, terminated or waived with the written consent of Sofinnova and (z) the definitions of Subsection 1.1(c) (and Section 1.1 as it relates to Subsection 1.1(c)), Section 1.25, Section 1.26, the proviso in Section 3.3 as it relates to T. Rowe and the TRP Investors, and this proviso in this subsection (z) of Section 6.8 and the third sentence of Section 6.8, in each case, as it relates to T. Rowe and the TRP Investors, may only be amended, modified, terminated or waived with the written consent of the TRP Investors holding a majority of the shares of capital stock held by the TRP Investors. Any amendment, modification, termination or waiver so effected shall be binding upon the Company, the Investors, the Key Holders and all of their respective successors and permitted assigns whether or not such party, assignee or other shareholder entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to the Key Holders, (ii) Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add information regarding additional Investors without the consent of the other parties hereto, and (iii) Schedule B hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add information regarding the issuance of additional shares of Capital Stock after the date hereof without the written consent of the other parties hereto. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (A) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereunder may not be waived with respect to any Stockholder without the written consent of such Stockholder unless such amendment, modification, termination or waiver applies to all Stockholders in the same fashion; (B) in the event that the Secondary Refusal Right under Subsection 2.1 or the Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 is waived with respect to any Proposed Stockholder Transfer, and one or more of the Stockholders that consented to such waiver (each, a "Waiving Stockholder") nevertheless is permitted to exercise such Secondary Refusal Right (or otherwise purchases Transfer Stock described in the applicable Transfer Notice) or Right of Co-Sale (or otherwise sells Capital Stock alongside Transfer Stock described in the applicable Transfer Notice) with respect to such Proposed Stockholder Transfer, each Stockholder that is not a Waiving Stockholder shall be entitled to exercise its Secondary Refusal Right or Right of Co-Sale with respect to such Proposed Stockholder Transfer on a proportionate basis relative to the number of shares either purchased or sold by the Waiving Stockholder(s) in connection with such Proposed Stockholder Transfer; and (C) the consent of the Stockholders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to, or does not adversely affect the rights of, the Stockholders. The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be, or construed as, a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition or provision.

6.9 Assignment of Rights.

(a) The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(b) Any successor or permitted assignee of any Key Holder, including any Prospective Transferee who purchases shares of Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms hereof, shall deliver to the Company and the Investors, as a condition to any transfer or assignment, a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such successor or permitted assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the predecessor or assignor of such successor or permitted assignee.

(c) The rights of the Investors hereunder are not assignable without the Company's written consent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), except (i) by an Investor to any Affiliate, or (ii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires all of such Investor's shares of Capital Stock (as adjusted for any stock combination, stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization or other similar transaction), or (iii) with respect to a Fidelity Investor, by any Fidelity Investor to any other investment company, fund, pooled investment vehicle, institutional client or account that receives, directly or indirectly, investment management or investment advisory services from Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, it being acknowledged and agreed that any such assignment, including an assignment contemplated by the preceding clauses (i) through (iii) shall be subject to and conditioned upon any such assignee's delivery to the Company and the other Investors of a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the assignor of such assignee.

(d) Except in connection with an assignment by the Company by operation of law to the acquirer of the Company, the rights and obligations of the Company hereunder may not be assigned under any circumstances.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder.

6.12 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.13 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.14 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.15 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Capital Stock held or acquired by Affiliated entities or persons shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.16 Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Investor shall be entitled to specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors hereunder and to such other injunction or other equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

6.17 Additional Key Holders. In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company issues shares of Common Stock, or options to purchase Common Stock, to any service provider of the Company, which shares or options would collectively constitute with respect to such service provider of the Company (taking into account all shares of Common Stock, options and other purchase rights held by such service provider of the Company) one percent (1%) or more of the Company's then outstanding Common Stock (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised or converted), the Company shall, as a condition to such issuance, cause such employee or consultant to execute a counterpart signature page hereto as a Key Holder, and such person shall thereby be bound by, and subject to, all the terms and provisions of this Agreement applicable to a Key Holder.

6.18 Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of this Agreement and Declaration of Trust of each Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Agreement is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Agreement are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

6.19 Consent of Spouse. If any Key Holder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a Consent of Spouse in the form of Exhibit A hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Key Holder's shares of Transfer Stock that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any Key Holder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Key Holder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

6.20 Effect on Prior Agreement. Upon the effectiveness of this Agreement, the Prior Agreement shall be deemed amended and restated and superseded and replaced in its entirety by this Agreement, and shall be of no further force or effect.

6.21 Certain Janus Fund. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the provisions of Sections 2.1 and 2.2 hereunder shall not apply to any transfers of Capital Stock by Janus Henderson Capital Funds plc - Janus Henderson US Venture Fund, an Investor, and this Section will not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the consent of such Investor.

EXHIBIT A

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Amended and Restated Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated as of ____, 2025, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit A (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding certain rights to certain other holders of Capital Stock of the Company upon a Proposed Stockholder Transfer of shares of Transfer Stock of the Company which my spouse may own including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of Transfer Stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of Transfer Stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

Dated as of the [__] day of [_____, _____].

AMENDED AND RESTATED VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED VOTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made and entered into as of July 7, 2025 by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), each holder of Series C Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series C Preferred Stock"), each holder of Series C-1 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series C-1 Preferred Stock"), each holder of Series C-2 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series C-2 Preferred Stock" and together with the Series C Preferred Stock and the Series C-1 Preferred Stock, the "Series C Combined Preferred Stock"), each holder of Series B Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series B Preferred Stock"), and each holder of Series A Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A Preferred Stock" and, together with the Series B Preferred Stock, and the Series C Combined Preferred Stock, the "Preferred Stock") listed on Schedule A (together with any subsequent investors, or transferees, who become parties hereto as "Investors" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(a) or 7.2 below, the "Investors"), and those certain stockholders of the Company and holders of options to acquire shares of the capital stock of the Company listed on Schedule B (together with any subsequent stockholders or option holders, or any transferees, who become parties hereto as "Key Holders" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(b) or 7.2 below, the "Key Holders," and together collectively with the Investors, the "Stockholders").

RECITALS

A. Certain of the Investors hold shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock and Series B Preferred Stock and entered into an Amended and Restated Voting Agreement, dated as of March 29, 2022, as amended, with the Company and certain of the Key Holders (the "Prior Agreement").

B. The Company proposes to sell shares of the Company's Series C Combined Preferred Stock to certain of the Investors pursuant to the Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") of even date herewith.

C. As of the date hereof, the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Company (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Restated Certificate") provides that (i) the holders of record of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Company (the "Series A Director"); (ii) the holders of record of the shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, but excluding the Series C-2 Preferred Stock, shall be entitled to elect two (2) directors of the Company (the "Series C Directors"); and (iii) the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and the Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted basis, but excluding the Series C-2 Preferred Stock, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Company (the "At-Large Directors)"; and

D. The undersigned parties include (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company ("Common Stock") held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class) party to the Prior Agreement, and such parties desire to amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety and to accept the rights and covenants hereof in lieu of their rights and covenants under the Prior Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. Voting Provisions Regarding the Board.

1.1 Size of the Board. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (as defined below) (other than shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that the size of the Board shall be set and remain at seven (7) directors. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Shares" shall mean and include any securities of the Company that the holders of which are entitled to vote for members of the Board, including without limitation, all shares of Common Stock and Preferred Stock, by whatever name called, now owned or subsequently acquired by a Stockholder, however acquired, whether through stock splits, stock dividends, reclassifications, recapitalizations, similar events or otherwise, and for the avoidance of doubt, "Shares" shall also include shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock, notwithstanding the fact that such shares have no voting power over the election of directors.

1.2 Board Composition. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that at each annual or special meeting of stockholders at which an election of directors is held or pursuant to any written consent of the stockholders, subject to Section 5, the following persons shall be elected to the Board:

(a) as the Series A Director, one person designated from time to time by ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. ("ATP"), for so long as ATP and its Affiliates continue to beneficially own any shares of Preferred Stock, which individual as of the date of this Agreement is Seth Harrison, provided that in the event that ATP and its Affiliates do not beneficially own any shares of Preferred Stock, the Series A Director shall be designated from time to time by the unanimous agreement of each of the then-seated Series C Directors, to the extent that each of Sofinnova and Norwest have the right to designate a Series C Director pursuant to Section 1.2(b) and Section 1.2(c), respectively;

(b) as a Series C Director, one person designated from time to time by Sofinnova Capital XI SCSp SICAV-RAIF and Sofinnova Capital XI Co-Invest I (collectively, and together with their respective Affiliates, "Sofinnova"), for so long as (i) Sofinnova and its Affiliates continue to beneficially own any shares of Preferred Stock initially purchased by Sofinnova pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, and (ii) Sofinnova is not a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), which individual as of the date of this Agreement is Antoine Papiernik;

(c) as a Series C Director, one person designated from time to time by Norwest Venture Partners XVII, LP ("Norwest"), for so long as (i) Norwest and its Affiliates continue to beneficially own any shares of Preferred Stock initially purchased by Norwest pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, and (ii) Norwest is not a Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchaser (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), which individual as of the date of this Agreement is Zack Scott;

(d) as an At-Large Director, the chief executive officer of the Company (the "CEO Director"), who as of the date of this Agreement is Doug Godshall, provided that if for any reason the CEO Director shall cease to serve as the chief executive officer of the Company, each of the Stockholders shall promptly vote their respective Shares (other than shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock) (i) to remove the former chief executive officer of the Company from the Board if such person has not resigned from the position of CEO Director; and (ii) to elect the then-current chief executive officer of the Company to serve as the new CEO Director; and

(e) as an At-Large Director, one (1) individual designated from time to time by the mutual agreement of (i) the chief executive officer of the Company; and (ii) to the extent that Sofinnova has the right to designate a Series C Director pursuant to Section 1.2(a), Sofinnova, which individual as of the date of this Agreement is David Lewis.

(f) as the remaining At-Large Directors, two (2) individuals, each of whom shall (i) have industry expertise applicable to the Company and (ii) not otherwise be an Affiliate of the Company or of any Investor, and each of whom is designated from time to time by agreement of at least a majority of the then-seated members of the Board (which majority must also include a majority of the then-seated directors that constitute the Series A Director and the Series C Directors).

To the extent that any of the clauses above in this Subsection 1.2 shall not be applicable, any member of the Board who would otherwise have been designated in accordance with the terms thereof shall instead be voted upon by all the stockholders of the Company entitled to vote thereon in accordance with, and pursuant to, the Restated Certificate.

For purposes of this Agreement, an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (collectively, a "Person") shall be deemed an "Affiliate" of another Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person; provided; however, that (i) with respect to Fidelity (as defined below) and each Fidelity Investor (as defined below), an "Affiliate" shall also include any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity, one or more mutual fund, pension fund, pooled investment vehicle or institutional client advised or sub-advised by Fidelity or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity; and (ii) with respect to T. Rowe (as defined below) and each TRP Investor (as defined below), any fund or account that is an entity advised or sub-advised by T. Rowe or any of its Affiliates. "T. Rowe" means T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. and any successor or affiliated registered investment adviser to the TRP Investors. "TRP Investors" means those Investors that are advisory or sub-advisory clients of T. Rowe.

1.3 Failure to Designate a Board Member. In the absence of any designation from the Persons or groups with the right to designate a director as specified above, the director previously designated by them and then serving shall be reelected if still eligible and willing to serve as provided herein and otherwise, such Board seat shall remain vacant until otherwise filled as provided above.

1.4 Removal of Board Members. Each Stockholder also agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (other than shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that:

(a) no director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 of this Agreement may be removed from office unless (i) such removal is directed or approved by the affirmative vote of the Person(s), or of the holders of at least the requisite number of the shares of stock, entitled under Subsection 1.2 to designate that director; or (ii) the Person(s) originally entitled to designate or approve such director pursuant to Subsection 1.2 is no longer so entitled to designate or approve such director;

(b) any vacancies created by the resignation, removal or death of a director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 shall be filled pursuant to the provisions of this Section 1; and

(c) upon the request of any party entitled to designate a director as provided in Subsection 1.2(a) to remove such director, such director shall be removed.

All Stockholders agree to execute any written consents required to perform the obligations of this Section 1, and the Company agrees at the request of any Person or group entitled to designate directors to call a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing, removing or replacing directors.

1.5 No Liability for Election of Recommended or Approved Directors. No Stockholder, nor any Affiliate of any Stockholder, shall have any liability as a result of designating or approving a person for election as a director for any act or omission by such designated or approved person in his or her capacity as a director of the Company, nor shall any Stockholder have any liability as a result of voting for any such designee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

1.6 No "Bad Actor" Designees. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby represents and warrants to the Company that, to such Person's knowledge, none of the "bad actor" disqualifying events described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (each, a "Disqualification Event"), is applicable to such Person's initial designee named above except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable, is hereinafter referred to as a "Disqualified Designee." Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby covenants and agrees (A) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee and (B) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee.

2. Vote to Increase Authorized Common Stock. Each Stockholder agrees to vote or cause to be voted all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock from time to time to ensure that there will be sufficient shares of Common Stock available for conversion of all of the shares of Preferred Stock outstanding at any given time.

3. Drag-Along Right.

3.1 Definitions.

(a) A "Sale of the Company" shall mean either: (i) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company, including, solely for purposes of this defined term, the shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock, (a "Stock Sale") or (ii) a transaction that qualifies as a "Deemed Liquidation Event" as defined in the Restated Certificate.

(b) "Requisite Voting Parties" shall mean: (i) (A) Investors holding at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Preferred Stock voting together as a single class on an as converted basis, which must include the holders of at least (x) 60% of the outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis if prior to the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) and (y) a majority of the outstanding shares of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a separate class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis if after the Second Tranche Closing; and (ii) the Board.

3.2 Actions to be Taken. In the event that the Requisite Voting Parties approve a Sale of the Company in writing, specifying that this Section 3 shall apply to such transaction, then, subject to satisfaction of each of the conditions set forth in Subsection 3.3 below, each Stockholder and the Company hereby agree:

(a) if such transaction requires stockholder approval, with respect to all Shares that such Stockholder owns or over which such Stockholder otherwise exercises voting power, to vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all Shares in favor of, and adopt, such Sale of the Company (together with any related amendment or restatement to the Restated Certificate required to implement such Sale of the Company) and to vote in opposition to any and all other proposals that could reasonably be expected to delay or impair the ability of the Company to consummate such Sale of the Company;

(b) if such transaction is a Stock Sale, to sell the same proportion of shares of capital stock of the Company beneficially held by such Stockholder as is being sold by the Selling Investors to the Person to whom the Selling Investors propose to sell their Shares, and, except as permitted in Subsection 3.3 below, on the same terms and conditions as the other stockholders of the Company;

(c) to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Sale of the Company as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Selling Investors in order to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 3, including, without limitation, executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances), and any similar or related documents;

(d) not to deposit, and to cause their Affiliates not to deposit, except as provided in this Agreement, any Shares of the Company owned by such party or Affiliate in a voting trust or subject any Shares to any arrangement or agreement with respect to the voting of such Shares, unless specifically requested to do so by the acquirer in connection with the Sale of the Company;

(e) to refrain from (i) exercising any dissenters' rights or rights of appraisal under applicable law at any time with respect to such Sale of the Company, or (ii) asserting any claim or commencing any suit (x) challenging the Sale of the Company or this Agreement, or (y) alleging a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Selling Investors or any Affiliate or associate thereof (including, without limitation, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty) in connection with the evaluation, negotiation or entry into the Sale of the Company, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby;

(f) if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Shares pursuant to this Section 3 includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Stockholder would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Stockholder of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Stockholder in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares which would have otherwise been sold by such Stockholder, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Stockholder would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares; and affecting the Stockholders under the applicable definitive transaction agreements following consummation of such Sale of the Company, (x) to consent to (i) the appointment of such Stockholder Representative, (ii) the establishment of any applicable escrow, expense or similar fund in connection with any indemnification or similar obligations, and (iii) the payment of such Stockholder's pro rata portion (from the applicable escrow or expense fund or otherwise) of any and all reasonable fees and expenses to such Stockholder Representative in connection with such Stockholder Representative's services and duties in connection with such Sale of the Company and its related service as the representative of the Stockholders, and (y) not to assert any claim or commence any suit against the Stockholder Representative or any other Stockholder with respect to any action or inaction taken or failed to be taken by the Stockholder Representative, within the scope of the Stockholder Representative's authority, in connection with its service as the Stockholder Representative, absent fraud, bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct.

3.3 Conditions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, a Stockholder will not be required to comply with Subsection 3.2 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the "Proposed Sale"), unless:

(a) any representations and warranties to be made by such Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including, but not limited to, representations and warranties that (i) such Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares such Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of such Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by such Stockholder have been duly executed by such Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable (subject to customary limitations) against such Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms; and (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into by such Stockholder in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of such Stockholder's obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement to which such Stockholder is a party, or any law or judgment, order or decree of any court or governmental agency that applies to such Stockholder;

(b) such Stockholder is not required to agree (unless such Stockholder is a Company officer, employee or consultant) to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Proposed Sale (including without limitation any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Proposed Sale) or any release of claims other than a release in customary form of claims arising solely in such Stockholder's capacity as a stockholder of the Company;

(c) such Stockholder and its Affiliates are not required to amend, extend or terminate any contractual or other relationship with the Company, the acquirer or their respective Affiliates, except that such Stockholder may be required to agree to terminate the investment-related documents between or among such Stockholder, the Company and/or other stockholders of the Company;

(d) such Stockholder is not liable for the breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(e) liability shall be limited to such Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Certificate) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by such Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to such Stockholder;

(f) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale (i) each holder of each class or series of the capital stock of the Company will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock, and if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given a choice as to the form of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; (ii) each holder of a series of Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless waived pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate and as may be required by law, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of each respective series of Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 3.3(f), if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, pursuant to this Subsection 3.3(f) includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Key Holder or Investor would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Key Holder or Investor of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Key Holder or Investor in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, which would have otherwise been sold by such Key Holder or Investor, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Key Holder or Investor would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares held by such Stockholder;

(g) subject to clause (f) above, requiring the same form of consideration to be available to the holders of any single class or series of capital stock, if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; provided, however, that nothing in this Subsection 3.3(g) shall entitle any holder to receive any form of consideration that such holder would be ineligible to receive as a result of such holder's failure to satisfy any condition, requirement or limitation that is generally applicable to the Company's stockholders; and

(h) such Stockholder is not required to (i) enter into any new contractual or other relationship, with the Company, the acquirer or their respective Affiliates other than a customary letter of transmittal or other customary transfer or sale documents and or (ii) enter into any release of claims other than those arising solely in such Stockholder's capacity as a stockholder of the Company.

3.4 Restrictions on Sales of Control of the Company. No Stockholder shall be a party to any Stock Sale unless (a) all holders of Preferred Stock are allowed to participate in such transaction(s) and (b) the consideration received pursuant to such transaction is allocated among the parties thereto in the manner specified in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Stock Sale (as if such transaction(s) were a Deemed Liquidation Event), unless the holders of at least the requisite percentage required to waive treatment of the transaction(s) as a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate, elect to allocate the consideration differently by written notice given to the Company at least five (5) days prior to the effective date of any such transaction or series of related transactions.

4. Remedies.

4.1 Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees to use its best efforts (including with respect to calling a special meeting of the Stockholders), within the requirements of applicable law, to ensure that the rights granted under this Agreement are effective and that the parties enjoy the benefits of this Agreement. Such actions include, without limitation, the use of the Company's best efforts to cause the nomination and election of the directors as provided in this Agreement and increase the authorized shares of Common Stock as contemplated by this Agreement.

4.2 Irrevocable Proxy and Power of Attorney. Each party to this Agreement hereby constitutes and appoints as the proxies of the party and hereby grants a power of attorney to the President of the Company in office from time to time, and a designee of the Selling Investors, and each of them, with full power of substitution and re-substitution, with respect to the matters set forth herein, including, without limitation, votes regarding the size and composition of the Board pursuant to Section 1 hereof, votes to increase authorized shares pursuant to Section 2 hereof and votes regarding any Sale of the Company pursuant to Section 3 hereof, and hereby authorizes each of them to represent and vote, if and only if the party (i) fails to vote within five (5) business days after request by the Company, or (ii) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, all of such party's Shares in favor of the election or removal of persons as members of the Board determined pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement or the increase of authorized shares or approval of any Sale of the Company pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement or to take any action reasonably necessary to effect Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement. The power of attorney granted hereunder shall authorize the President of the Company in office from time to time to execute and deliver the documentation referred to in Section 3.2(c) on behalf of any party failing to do so within five (5) business days of a request by the Company. Each of the proxy and power of attorney granted pursuant to this Section 4.2 is given in consideration of the agreements and covenants of the Company and the parties in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and, as such, each is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 6 hereof. Each party hereto hereby revokes any and all previous proxies or powers of attorney with respect to the Shares and shall not hereafter, unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 6 hereof, purport to grant any other proxy or power of attorney with respect to any of the Shares, deposit any of the Shares into a voting trust or enter into any agreement (other than this Agreement), arrangement or understanding with any person, directly or indirectly, to vote, grant any proxy or give instructions with respect to the voting of any of the Shares, in each case, with respect to any of the matters set forth herein. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the provisions of this Section 4.2 shall not be applicable to Fidelity or any Fidelity Investor.

4.3 Specific Enforcement. Each party acknowledges and agrees that each party hereto will be irreparably damaged in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed by the parties in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, it is agreed that each of the Company and the Stockholders shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement, and to specific enforcement of this Agreement and its terms and provisions in any action instituted in any court of the United States or any state having subject matter jurisdiction.

4.4 Remedies Cumulative. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

5. "Bad Actor" Matters.

5.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any Person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

(b) "Disqualified Designee" means any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

(c) "Disqualification Event" means a "bad actor" disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) promulgated under the Securities Act.

(d) "Rule 506(d) Related Party" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that is a beneficial owner of such first Person's securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act.

5.2 Representations.

(a) Each Person (other than Fidelity, any Fidelity Investor, T. Rowe Price, and any TRP Investor) with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement hereby represents that (i) such Person has exercised reasonable care to determine whether any Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any director designee designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable and (ii) no Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any Board member designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement, or to such Person's knowledge, or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Investor makes no representation regarding any Person that may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the Company's voting equity securities held by such Investor solely by virtue of that Person being or becoming a party to (x) this Agreement, as may be subsequently amended, or (y) any other contract or written agreement to which the Company and such Investor are parties regarding (1) the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of, such security; and/or (2) the investment power, which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of, such security.

(b) The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Investors that no Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii-iv) or (d)(3) is applicable.

5.3 Covenants. Each Person (other than Fidelity, any Fidelity Investor, T. Rowe Price, and any TRP Investor) with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement covenants and agrees (i) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee, (ii) to exercise reasonable care to determine whether any director designee designated by such person is a Disqualified Designee, (iii) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee, and (iv) to notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to such Person or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, or, to such Person's knowledge, to such Person's initial designee named in Section 1, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

6. Term. This Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in effect until and shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (a) the consummation of the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (other than a registration statement relating either to the sale of securities to employees of the Company pursuant to its stock option, stock purchase or similar plan or an SEC Rule 145 transaction) (b) the consummation of a Sale of the Company and distribution of proceeds to or escrow for the benefit of the Stockholders in accordance with the Restated Certificate, provided that the provisions of Sections 3 and 4.2 hereof will continue after the closing of any Sale of the Company to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of Section 3 with respect to such Sale of the Company; or (c) termination of this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 7.8 below.

7.1 Additional Parties.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of Preferred Stock after the date hereof, as a condition to the issuance of such shares the Company shall require that any purchaser of such shares become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering (i) the Adoption Agreement attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A, or (ii) a counterpart signature page hereto agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as an Investor and Stockholder hereunder. In either event, each such person shall thereafter be deemed an Investor and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

(b) In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company enters into an agreement with any Person to issue shares of capital stock or options or warrants to purchase shares of capital stock to such Person (other than to a purchaser of Preferred Stock described in Subsection 7.1(a) above), following which such Person shall hold Shares constituting one percent (1%) or more of the then outstanding capital stock of the Company (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised and/or converted or exchanged), then, the Company shall cause such Person, as a condition precedent to entering into such agreement or acquiring such shares, options or warrants, to become a party to this Agreement by executing an Adoption Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as a Key Holder and Stockholder and thereafter such person shall be deemed a Key Holder and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.2 Transfers. Each transferee or assignee of any Shares subject to this Agreement shall continue to be subject to the terms hereof, and, as a condition precedent to the Company's recognition of such transfer, each transferee or assignee shall agree in writing to be subject to each of the terms of this Agreement by executing and delivering an Adoption Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Upon the execution and delivery of an Adoption Agreement by any transferee, such transferee shall be deemed to be a party hereto as if such transferee were the transferor and such transferee's signature appeared on the signature pages of this Agreement and shall be deemed to be an Investor and Stockholder, or Key Holder and Stockholder, as applicable. The Company shall not permit the transfer of the Shares subject to this Agreement on its books or issue a new certificate representing any such Shares unless and until such transferee shall have complied with the terms of this Subsection 7.2. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Shares subject to this Agreement if issued on or after the date of this Agreement shall be notated by the Company with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.3 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.4 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

7.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.6 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

7.7 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereto, or to such email address or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.7. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, P.C., 12235 El Camino Real, San Diego, CA 92130-3002; Attention: Jason Skolnik.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor (other than Fidelity and any Fidelity Investor) and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

7.8 Consent Required to Amend, Modify, Terminate or Waive. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company; (b) the Key Holders holding at least a majority of the Shares then held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants; and (c) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class), which must include (1) if prior to the Second Tranche Closing (as defined in the Purchase Agreement), the holders of at least 60% of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, and (2) if after the Second Tranche Closing, the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the of Series C Combined Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Common Stock basis, in all cases, excluding any shares of Common Stock held by Second Tranche Defaulting Cash Purchasers (as defined in the Purchase Agreement). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may not be waived with respect to any Investor or Key Holder without the written consent of such Investor or Key Holder unless such amendment, modification, termination or waiver applies to all Investors or Key Holders, as the case may be, in the same fashion;

(b) (i) the provisions of Section 1.2(a) and this Section 7.8(b)(i) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of ATP for so long as ATP continues to have rights pursuant to Section 1.2(a); (ii) the provisions of Section 1.2(b), Section 1.2(e) and this Section 7.8(b)(ii) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of Sofinnova for so long as Sofinnova continues to have rights pursuant to Section 1.2(b); and (iii) the provisions of Section 1.2(c) and this Section 7.8(b)(iii) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of Norwest for so long as Norwest continues to have rights pursuant to Section 1.2(c);

(c) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver either (i) is not directly applicable to the rights of the Key Holders hereunder; or (ii) does not adversely affect the rights of the Key Holders in a manner that is different than the effect on the rights of the other parties hereto;

(d) the definition of "Affiliate" as it relates to a Fidelity Investor, Section 3.2, Section 3.3, the last sentence of Section 4.2 (and Section 4.2 as it relates to the last sentence of Section 4.2), Section 5 as it relates to a Fidelity Investor, Section 7.7(b) as it relates to a Fidelity Investor, Section 7.18 and this Section 7.8(d) shall not be amended or waived without the written consent of each Fidelity Investor;

(e) the definition of "Affiliate" as it relates to a TRP Investor, Section 3.2, Section 3.3, Section 5 as it relates to a TRP Investor and this Section 7.8(e) shall not be amended or waived without the written consent of the TRP Investors holding a majority of the shares of capital stock held by all TRP Investors;

(f) Section 3.3(f)(iv), Section 3.4 and this Section 7.8(f) shall not be amended or waived without the written consent of the Stockholders holding the requisite shares of capital stock to waived treatment of a transaction as a Deemed Liquidation Event;

(g) Section 1.2, Section 1.3, Section 1.4 and this Section 7.8(g) shall not be amended or waived in any manner which would adversely affect the rights or obligations of the holders of Series C-2 Preferred Stock without the written consent of the holders of a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock;

(h) Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add information regarding additional Investors without the consent of the other parties hereto; and

(i) any provision hereof may be waived by the waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver hereunder to any party that did not consent in writing thereto. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding on each party and all of such party's successors and permitted assigns, whether or not any such party, successor or assignee entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. For purposes of this Subsection 7.8, the requirement of a written instrument may be satisfied in the form of an action by written consent of the Stockholders circulated by the Company and executed by the Stockholder parties specified, whether or not such action by written consent makes explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.9 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default previously or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto) and the Company's amended and restated certificate of incorporation constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

7.12 Share Certificate Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing any Shares issued after the date hereof shall be notated by the Company with a legend reading substantially as follows:

> "THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY ARE SUBJECT TO A VOTING AGREEMENT, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, (A COPY OF WHICH MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST FROM THE COMPANY), AND BY ACCEPTING ANY INTEREST IN SUCH SHARES THE PERSON ACCEPTING SUCH INTEREST SHALL BE DEEMED TO AGREE TO AND SHALL BECOME BOUND BY ALL THE PROVISIONS OF THAT VOTING AGREEMENT, INCLUDING CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP SET FORTH THEREIN."

The Company, by its execution of this Agreement, agrees that it will cause the certificates instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares issued after the date hereof to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 of this Agreement, and it shall supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement to any holder of such Shares upon written request from such holder to the Company at its principal office. The parties to this Agreement do hereby agree that the failure to cause the certificates, instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 herein and/or the failure of the Company to supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement as provided hereunder shall not affect the validity or enforcement of this Agreement.

7.13 Stock Splits, Stock Dividends, etc. In the event of any issuance of Shares or the voting securities of the Company hereafter to any of the Stockholders (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), such Shares shall become subject to this Agreement and shall be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.14 Manner of Voting. The voting of Shares pursuant to this Agreement may be effected in person, by proxy, by written consent or in any other manner permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, voting of the Shares pursuant to the Agreement need not make explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.15 Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, the parties agree to cooperate with each other, and at the request of any other party, to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and to take all such further action as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent of the parties hereunder.

7.16 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

7.17 Aggregation of Stock. All Shares held or acquired by a Stockholder and/or its Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement, and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

7.18 Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of this Agreement and Declaration of Trust of each Investor advised or sub-advised by Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC , and any successor or affiliated registered investment advisor to the Fidelity Investors ("Fidelity") or any affiliated investment advisor of Fidelity (each such Investor, a "Fidelity Investor") or any affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Agreement is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Agreement are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Fidelity Investor or any affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Purchaser or any affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

7.19 Spousal Consent. If any individual Stockholder is married on the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder's spouse shall execute and deliver to the Company a consent of spouse in the form of Exhibit B hereto ("Consent of Spouse"), effective on the date hereof, provided that such Consent of Spouse shall not be required if such Stockholder's spouse has previously executed and delivered a Consent of Spouse to the Company prior to the date hereof. Notwithstanding the execution and delivery thereof, such consent shall not be deemed to confer or convey to the spouse any rights in such Stockholder's Shares that do not otherwise exist by operation of law or the agreement of the parties. If any individual Stockholder should marry or remarry subsequent to the date of this Agreement, such Stockholder shall within thirty (30) days thereafter obtain his/her new spouse's acknowledgement of and consent to the existence and binding effect of all restrictions contained in this Agreement by causing such spouse to execute and deliver a Consent of Spouse acknowledging the restrictions and obligations contained in this Agreement and agreeing and consenting to the same.

7.20 Effect on Prior Agreement. Upon the effectiveness of this Agreement, the Prior Agreement shall be deemed amended and restated and superseded and replaced in its entirety by this Agreement, and shall be of no further force or effect.

CONSENT OF SPOUSE

I, [_____], spouse of [_____], acknowledge that I have read the Amended and Restated Voting Agreement, dated as of _____, 2025, to which this Consent is attached as Exhibit B (the "Agreement"), and that I know the contents of the Agreement. I am aware that the Agreement contains provisions regarding the voting and transfer of shares of capital stock of the Company that my spouse may own, including any interest I might have therein.

I hereby agree that my interest, if any, in any shares of capital stock of the Company subject to the Agreement shall be irrevocably bound by the Agreement and further understand and agree that any community property interest I may have in such shares of capital stock of the Company shall be similarly bound by the Agreement.

I am aware that the legal, financial and related matters contained in the Agreement are complex and that I am free to seek independent professional guidance or counsel with respect to this Consent. I have either sought such guidance or counsel or determined after reviewing the Agreement carefully that I will waive such right.

To the Purchasers listed on Exhibit A to the Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc.
Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement
Dated as of July 7, 2025

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Reference is made to the Series C Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of July 7, 2025 (the "Agreement"), by and among Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and the persons and entities listed in Exhibit A to the Agreement (the "Purchasers"), which provides for the issuance by the Company to the Purchasers of shares of Series C Preferred Stock of the Company (the "Series C Shares"), Series C-1 Preferred Stock of the Company (the "Series C-1 Shares"), and Series C-2 Preferred Stock of the Company (the "Series C-2 Shares", and together with the Series C Shares and the Series C-1 Shares, the "Shares"). This opinion letter is delivered to the Purchasers pursuant to Section 4.5 of the Agreement, and all terms used herein have the meanings defined for them in the Agreement unless otherwise defined herein. Reference in this opinion letter to the Agreement excludes any schedule or substantive agreement attached as an exhibit to the Agreement, unless otherwise indicated herein.

We have acted as counsel for the Company in connection with the negotiation of the Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, and the Voting Agreement (collectively, the "Transaction Documents") and the issuance of the Shares. As such counsel, we have made such legal and factual examinations and inquiries as we have deemed advisable or necessary for the purpose of rendering the opinions and statements set forth below. In addition, we have reviewed originals or copies of such corporate records of the Company, certificates of public officials, a certificate of an officer of the Company as to factual matters (the "Officer's Certificate") and such other documents that we consider necessary or advisable for the purpose of rendering the opinions and statements set forth below. We have not independently established the facts stated therein. In such examination we have assumed the genuineness of all signatures, the authenticity and completeness of all documents submitted to us as originals and the conformity to original documents of all copies submitted to us. In making our examination of documents, we have assumed that each party to any such document (other than the Company in connection with the Transaction Documents) has satisfied those requirements that are applicable to it to the extent necessary to make such document a valid and binding obligation of such party, enforceable against such party in accordance with its terms.

As used in the opinions or statements set forth below, the expressions "to our knowledge," "known to us" or similar language with reference to matters of fact refer to the current actual knowledge of the attorneys of this firm who have rendered legal services in connection with the representation described in the second paragraph of this opinion letter. Except to the extent expressly set forth herein, we have not undertaken any independent investigation to determine the existence or absence of any fact, and no inference as to our knowledge of the existence or absence of any fact should be drawn from our representation of the Company or the rendering of the opinions or statements set forth below.

We have assumed that (i) the representations and warranties as to factual matters made by the parties to the Transaction Documents and pursuant thereto are correct and complete, (ii) the representations and warranties made by officers of the Company as to factual matters made in the Officer's Certificate and other certificates delivered in connection with the Transaction Documents are correct, and (iii) the parties to the Agreement have complied and will comply with their obligations under the Transaction Documents. We have further assumed that the Company is not disqualified from relying on the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 provided by Rule 506 thereunder by reason of the provisions of paragraphs (d) or (e) of Rule 506.

We express no opinion as to any matter relating to the laws of any jurisdiction other than the federal laws of the United States of America , laws of the State of California (excluding conflicts of law principles) and the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware. This opinion letter should be interpreted in accordance with customary practice in the preparation and understanding of legal opinions in the United States as set forth in the "Statement of Opinion Practices" as published in 74 Business Lawyer 807 (2019) and the "Statement on the Role of Customary Practice in the Preparation and Understanding of Third-Party Legal Opinions" as published in 63 Business Lawyer 1277 (2008).

In rendering the opinions set forth in paragraph 1 below as to due incorporation, valid existence, good standing and qualification to do business, we have relied solely upon a copy of the amended and restated certificate of incorporation of the Company certified by the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware (the "Certificate") and certificates of the Secretary of State of Delaware and the Secretary of State of California evidencing the corporate status of the Company.

In rendering the opinions set forth in paragraph 3 below, we have relied solely upon a review of the Certificate and bylaws of the Company, minute books relating to meetings and written actions of the board of directors and stockholders of the Company in our possession, stock records of the Company in our possession, the Reviewed Agreements (as defined below) in the forms provided to us by the Company and statements in a certificate executed by an officer of the Company relating to the capitalization of the Company, including a statement to the effect that the Company has received consideration in the amount and in the form specified by the board of directors for all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company.

As used in this opinion letter, the term "Reviewed Agreements" means only those contracts that are expressly identified on Schedule A hereto, and the term "Reviewed Judgments" means only those judgments and decrees that are expressly identified on Schedule B hereto, if any. In rendering the opinion set forth in paragraph 6 below concerning violations of and defaults under Reviewed Agreements and violations of Reviewed Judgments, we have relied solely upon an examination of the Reviewed Agreements and Reviewed Judgments in the forms provided to us by the Company. The opinion in paragraph 6 below concerning violations of and defaults under Reviewed Agreements is based on the result that would be obtained if a California court were to apply the internal laws of the State of California (excluding conflicts of law principles) to the interpretation and enforcement of the Reviewed Agreements.

The opinions hereinafter expressed are subject to the following additional qualifications:

(a) We express no opinion as to the effect of applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar federal or state laws affecting the rights of creditors;

(b) We express no opinion as to the effect of general principles of equity, including, without limitation, concepts of materiality, reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing, and the possible unavailability of specific performance or injunctive relief, regardless of whether considered in a proceeding in equity or at law;

(c) We express no opinion as to the enforceability of any provision of the Transaction Documents: (i) purporting to waive broadly or vaguely stated rights, unknown future defenses, rights to damages, rights to jury trials or the benefits of other statutory, regulatory or constitutional rights that cannot be waived or, if they can be waived, cannot be waived prospectively; (ii) providing for a choice of venue; (iii) providing for arbitration; (iv) imposing penalties, forfeitures or liquidated damages; or (v) prescribing or varying rules of evidence, method or quantum of proof or other legal standards in a manner contrary to applicable statutes and rules of law;

(d) We express no opinion as to the enforceability of indemnification and contribution provisions to the extent they may be subject to limitations of public policy and the effect of applicable statutes and rules of law;

(e) We express no opinion as to the enforceability of any provisions in the Transaction Documents concerning the voting of the Company's capital stock;

(f) We express no opinion as to compliance with the anti-fraud provisions of applicable securities laws;

(g) We express no opinion as to the effect or applicability of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, including any implementing regulations thereof (the DPA) or as to the jurisdiction of the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS) or other related governmental agencies in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents; and

(h) We have assumed that the members of the Company's board of directors and the Company's stockholders have each satisfied all applicable fiduciary duties. We express no opinion as to the accuracy and completeness of the information provided by the Company to the Purchasers or the Company's stockholders in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares pursuant to the Transaction Documents and have assumed that all material facts as to the interests of the Company's officers and directors and as to the Transaction Documents and the transactions contemplated thereby have been disclosed to the Company's stockholders.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, and except as set forth in the Schedule of Exceptions to the Agreement, we are of the opinion that:

WILSON SONSINI

1. The Company is a corporation duly incorporated and validly existing under the laws of the State of Delaware and is in good standing under such laws. The Company is qualified to do business as a foreign corporation in the State of California.

2. The Company has the corporate power to execute and deliver the Transaction Documents, to sell and issue the Shares under the Agreement, to issue the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares and to carry out and perform its obligations under the terms of the Transaction Documents.

3. The authorized capital stock of the Company consists of 592,953,184 shares of Common Stock, 3,593,881 shares of which are issued and outstanding, 92,596,164 shares of Series A Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding, 59,204,547 shares of Series B Preferred Stock, 57,760,534 shares of which are issued and outstanding, 190,219,125 shares of Series C Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding, 114,933,528 shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding, and 30,508,016 shares of Series C-2 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding. The board of directors of the Company has adopted a resolution reserving 102,105,988 shares of Common Stock for issuance under the Company's 2015 Equity Incentive Plan, as amended and restated (the "Stock Plan"). The Shares to be issued under the Agreement will, when issued in accordance with the Agreement, be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and, except as specifically provided in the Transaction Documents, free of any statutory preemptive rights or any similar rights contained in the Certificate or bylaws of the Company or any Reviewed Agreement. The board of directors of the Company has adopted a resolution reserving Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares to be issued under the Agreement. When issued in accordance with the Certificate, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable. The board of directors of the Company has reserved 1,444,013 shares of Series B Preferred Stock and 5,807,597 shares of Series C-1 Preferred Stock that may be issuable upon the conversion of an outstanding warrant. Except for any rights described in this paragraph, in the Transaction Documents or in the Certificate or bylaws of the Company and except for options granted under the Stock Plan, to our knowledge, there are no other options, warrants, conversion privileges or other rights in writing presently outstanding to purchase or otherwise acquire any authorized but unissued shares of capital stock or other securities of the Company.

4. All corporate action on the part of the Company necessary for the authorization, execution and delivery of the Transaction Documents by the Company, the authorization, sale, issuance and delivery of the Shares (and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion thereof) and the performance by the Company of its obligations under the Transaction Documents has been taken.

5. Each of the Transaction Documents has been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Company and constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms.

6. The execution and delivery by the Company of the Transaction Documents, the performance by the Company of its obligations under the Transaction Documents, and the issuance of the Shares (and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion thereof) do not violate any provision of the Certificate or bylaws of the Company, or any provision of any applicable federal or state law, rule or regulation known to us to be customarily applicable to transactions of this nature. The execution and delivery by the Company of the Transaction Documents, the performance by the Company of its obligations under the Transaction Documents, and the issuance of the Shares (and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion thereof) do not violate, or constitute a default under, the Reviewed Agreements, and do not violate any Reviewed Judgment.

7. No consent, approval or authorization of or designation, declaration or filing with any governmental authority on the part of the Company is required for the valid execution and delivery of the Transaction Documents, or the offer, sale or issuance of the Shares (and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion thereof), except (i) the filing of a Form D under the Securities Act of 1933, and (ii) as contemplated by the Transaction Documents.

8. Subject to the assumptions set forth in the fourth paragraph of this opinion letter, the offer, sale and issuance of the Shares in accordance with the Agreement constitute transactions exempt from the registration requirements of Section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933. In addition, the issuance of shares of Common Stock on conversion of the Shares in accordance with the Certificate where no commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting such conversion constitutes a transaction exempt from the registration requirements of Section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933.

Except as may be identified in the Schedule of Exceptions to the Agreement, to our knowledge, there are no lawsuits that seek to challenge the enforceability of any of the Transaction Documents pending against the Company nor, to our knowledge, has the Company received any written threat thereof. We note that we have not conducted a docket search in any jurisdiction with respect to lawsuits that may be pending against the Company.

This opinion letter is furnished to the Purchasers solely for their benefit in connection with the purchase of the Shares, and may not be relied upon by any other person or for any other purpose without our prior written consent. We assume no obligation to inform you of any facts, circumstances, events or changes in the law that may arise or be brought to our attention after the date of this opinion letter that may alter, affect or modify the opinions or statements expressed herein.

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made and entered into as of [DATE] between Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") and [NAME] ("Indemnitee").

WHEREAS, highly competent persons have become more reluctant to serve corporations as directors, officers and/or in other capacities unless they are provided with adequate protection through insurance or adequate indemnification against inordinate risks of claims and actions against them arising out of their service to and activities on behalf of the corporation;

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") has determined that, in order to attract and retain qualified individuals, the Company will attempt to maintain on an ongoing basis, at its sole expense, liability insurance to protect persons serving the Company and its subsidiaries from certain liabilities. Although the furnishing of such insurance has been a customary and widespread practice among United States-based corporations and other business enterprises, the Company believes that, given current market conditions and trends, such insurance may be available to it in the future only at higher premiums and with more exclusions. At the same time, directors, officers, and other persons in service to corporations or business enterprises are being increasingly subjected to expensive and time-consuming litigation relating to, among other things, matters that traditionally would have been brought only against the Company or business enterprise itself. The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company require indemnification of the officers and directors of the Company. Indemnitee may also be entitled to indemnification pursuant to the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware ("DGCL"). The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and the DGCL expressly provide that the indemnification provisions set forth therein are not exclusive, and thereby contemplate that contracts may be entered into between the Company and members of the Board, officers and other persons with respect to indemnification;

WHEREAS, the uncertainties relating to such insurance and to indemnification have increased the difficulty of attracting and retaining such persons;

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the increased difficulty in attracting and retaining such persons is detrimental to the best interests of the Company's stockholders and that the Company should act to assure such persons that there will be increased certainty of such protection in the future;

WHEREAS, it is reasonable, prudent and necessary for the Company contractually to obligate itself to indemnify, and to advance expenses on behalf of, such persons to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law so that they will serve or continue to serve the Company free from undue concern that they will not be so indemnified;

WHEREAS, this Agreement is a supplement to and in furtherance of the Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company and any resolutions adopted pursuant thereto, and shall not be deemed a substitute therefor, nor to diminish or abrogate any rights of Indemnitee thereunder;

WHEREAS, Indemnitee does not regard the protection available under the Company's Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and insurance as adequate in the present circumstances, and may not be willing to serve as an officer and/or a director without adequate protection, and the Company desires Indemnitee to serve in such capacity. Indemnitee is willing to serve, continue to serve and to take on additional service for or on behalf of the Company on the condition that he or she be so indemnified; and

WHEREAS, Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification and/or insurance provided by [FUND] or its affiliates ("Investor"), which Indemnitee and Investor intend to be secondary to the primary obligation of the Company to indemnify Indemnitee as provided herein, with the Company's acknowledgement and agreement to the foregoing being a material condition to Indemnitee's willingness to serve on the Board.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of Indemnitee's agreement to serve as an officer and/or director from and after the date hereof, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Indemnity of Indemnitee. The Company hereby agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Indemnitee to the fullest extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time. In furtherance of the foregoing indemnification, and without limiting the generality thereof:

(a) Proceedings Other Than Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section l(a) if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status (as hereinafter defined), the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (as hereinafter defined) other than a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(a), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses (as hereinafter defined), judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection with such Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and with respect to any criminal Proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the Indemnitee's conduct was unlawful.

(b) Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section 1(b) if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding brought by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(b), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the Indemnitee, or on the Indemnitee's behalf, in connection with such Proceeding if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company; provided, however, if applicable law so provides, no indemnification against such Expenses shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter in such Proceeding as to which Indemnitee shall have been adjudged to be liable to the Company unless and to the extent that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall determine that such indemnification may be made.

(c) Indemnification for Expenses of a Party Who is Wholly or Partly Successful. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, a party to (or participant in) and is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in any Proceeding, he or she shall be indemnified to the maximum extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time, against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection therewith. If Indemnitee is not wholly successful in such Proceeding but is successful, on the merits or otherwise, as to one or more but less than all claims, issues or matters in such Proceeding, the Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection with each successfully resolved claim, issue or matter. For purposes of this Section and without limitation, the termination of any claim, issue or matter in such a Proceeding by dismissal, with or without prejudice, shall be deemed to be a successful result as to such claim, issue or matter.

(d) Indemnification of Appointing Stockholder. If (i) Indemnitee is or was affiliated with one or more entities that has invested in the Company (an "Appointing Stockholder"), and (ii) the Appointing Stockholder is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or a participant in any Proceeding relating to or arising by reason of Appointing Stockholder's position as a stockholder of, or lender to, the Company, or Appointing Stockholder's appointment of or affiliation with Indemnitee or any other director, including, without limitation, any alleged misappropriation of a Company asset or corporate opportunity, any claim of misappropriation or infringement of intellectual property relating to the Company, any alleged false or misleading statement or omission made by the Company (or on its behalf) or its employees or agents, or any allegation of inappropriate control or influence over the Company or its Board members, officers, equity holders or debt holders, then the Appointing Stockholder will be entitled to indemnification hereunder for Expenses to the same extent as Indemnitee, and the terms of this Agreement as they relate to procedures for indemnification of Indemnitee and advancement of Expenses shall apply to any such indemnification of Appointing Stockholder.

(e) Partial Indemnification. If Indemnitee is entitled under any provision of this Agreement to indemnification by the Company for some or a portion of Expenses, but not, however, for the total amount thereof, the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnitee for the portion thereof to which Indemnitee is entitled.

2. Additional Indemnity. In addition to, and without regard to any limitations on, the indemnification provided for in Section 1 of this Agreement, the Company shall and hereby does indemnify and hold harmless Indemnitee against all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, if, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, he or she is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (including a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company), including, without limitation, all liability arising out of the negligence or active or passive wrongdoing of Indemnitee. The only limitation that shall exist upon the Company's obligations pursuant to this Agreement shall be that the Company shall not be obligated to make any payment to Indemnitee that is finally determined (under the procedures, and subject to the presumptions, set forth in Sections 6 and 7 hereof) to be unlawful.

3. Contribution.

(a) Whether or not the indemnification provided in Sections 1 and 2 hereof is available, in respect of any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall pay, in the first instance, the entire amount of any judgment or settlement of such action, suit or proceeding without requiring Indemnitee to contribute to such payment and the Company hereby waives and relinquishes any right of contribution it may have against Indemnitee. The Company shall not enter into any settlement of any action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding) unless such settlement provides for a full and final release of all claims asserted against Indemnitee.

(b) Without diminishing or impairing the obligations of the Company set forth in the preceding subparagraph, if, for any reason, Indemnitee shall elect or be required to pay all or any portion of any judgment or settlement in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall contribute to the amount of Expenses, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred and paid or payable by Indemnitee in proportion to the relative benefits received by the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, from the transaction or events from which such action, suit or proceeding arose; provided, however, that the proportion determined on the basis of relative benefit may, to the extent necessary to conform to law, be further adjusted by reference to the relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company other than Indemnitee who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, in connection with the transaction or events that resulted in such expenses, judgments, fines or settlement amounts, as well as any other equitable considerations which applicable law may require to be considered. The relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the degree to which their actions were motivated by intent to gain personal profit or advantage, the degree to which their liability is primary or secondary and the degree to which their conduct is active or passive.

(c) The Company hereby agrees to fully indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless from any claims of contribution which may be brought by officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who may be jointly liable with Indemnitee.

(d) To the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, if the indemnification provided for in this Agreement is unavailable to Indemnitee for any reason whatsoever, the Company, in lieu of indemnifying Indemnitee, shall contribute to the amount incurred by Indemnitee, whether for judgments, fines, penalties, excise taxes, amounts paid or to be paid in settlement and/or for Expenses, in connection with any claim relating to an indemnifiable event under this Agreement, in such proportion as is deemed fair and reasonable in light of all of the circumstances of such Proceeding in order to reflect (i) the relative benefits received by the Company and Indemnitee as a result of the event(s) and/or transaction(s) giving cause to such Proceeding; and/or (ii) the relative fault of the Company (and its directors, officers, employees and agents) and Indemnitee in connection with such event(s) and/or transaction(s).

4. Indemnification for Expenses of a Witness. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, a witness, or is made (or asked) to respond to discovery requests, in any Proceeding to which Indemnitee is not a party, he shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or her, or on his or her behalf, in connection therewith.

5. Advancement of Expenses. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Company shall advance all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with any Proceeding by reason of Indemnitee's Corporate Status within thirty (30) days after the receipt by the Company of a statement or statements from Indemnitee requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall include or be preceded or accompanied by a written undertaking by or on behalf of Indemnitee to repay any Expenses advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses. Any advances and undertakings to repay pursuant to this Section 5 shall be unsecured and interest free.

6. Procedures and Presumptions for Determination of Entitlement to Indemnification. It is the intent of this Agreement to secure for Indemnitee rights of indemnity that are as favorable as may be permitted under the DGCL and public policy of the State of Delaware. Accordingly, the parties agree that the following procedures and presumptions shall apply in the event of any question as to whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement:

(a) To obtain indemnification under this Agreement, Indemnitee shall submit to the Company a written request, including therein or therewith such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnitee and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification. The Secretary of the Company shall, promptly upon receipt of such a request for indemnification, advise the Board in writing that Indemnitee has requested indemnification. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any failure of Indemnitee to provide such a request to the Company, or to provide such a request in a timely fashion, shall not relieve the Company of any liability that it may have to Indemnitee unless, and to the extent that, such failure actually and materially prejudices the interests of the Company.

(b) Upon written request by Indemnitee for indemnification pursuant to the first sentence of Section 6(a) hereof, a determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement thereto shall be made in the specific case by one of the following four methods, which shall be at the election of the Board: (1) by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (2) by a committee of disinterested directors designated by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (3) if there are no disinterested directors or if the disinterested directors so direct, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to the Indemnitee, or (4) if so directed by the Board, by the stockholders of the Company. For purposes hereof, disinterested directors are those members of the Board who are not parties to the action, suit or proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) If the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, the Independent Counsel shall be selected as provided in this Section 6(c). The Independent Counsel shall be selected by the Board. Indemnitee may, within ten (10) days after such written notice of selection shall have been given, deliver to the Company a written objection to such selection; provided, however, that such objection may be asserted only on the ground that the Independent Counsel so selected does not meet the requirements of "Independent Counsel" as defined in Section 13 of this Agreement, and the objection shall set forth with particularity the factual basis of such assertion. Absent a proper and timely objection, the person so selected shall act as Independent Counsel. If a written objection is made and substantiated, the Independent Counsel selected may not serve as Independent Counsel unless and until such objection is withdrawn or a court has determined that such objection is without merit. If, within twenty (20) days after submission by Indemnitee of a written request for indemnification pursuant to Section 6(a) hereof, no Independent Counsel shall have been selected and not objected to, either the Company or Indemnitee may petition the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or other court of competent jurisdiction for resolution of any objection which shall have been made by the Indemnitee to the Company's selection of Independent Counsel and/or for the appointment as Independent Counsel of a person selected by the court or by such other person as the court shall designate, and the person with respect to whom all objections are so resolved or the person so appointed shall act as Independent Counsel under Section 6(b) hereof. The Company shall pay any and all reasonable fees and expenses of Independent Counsel incurred by such Independent Counsel in connection with acting pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, and the Company shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses incident to the procedures of this Section 6(c), regardless of the manner in which such Independent Counsel was selected or appointed.

(d) In making a determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification hereunder, the person or persons or entity making such determination shall presume that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence. Neither the failure of the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of any action pursuant to this Agreement that indemnification is proper in the circumstances because Indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) that Indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that Indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct.

(e) Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in good faith if Indemnitee's action is based on the records or books of account of the Enterprise (as hereinafter defined), including financial statements, or on information supplied to Indemnitee by the officers of the Enterprise in the course of their duties, or on the advice of legal counsel for the Enterprise or on information or records given or reports made to the Enterprise by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser or other expert selected with reasonable care by the Enterprise. In addition, the knowledge and/or actions, or failure to act, of any director, officer, agent or employee of the Enterprise shall not be imputed to Indemnitee for purposes of determining the right to indemnification under this Agreement. Whether or not the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(e) are satisfied, it shall in any event be presumed that Indemnitee has at all times acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(f) If the person, persons or entity empowered or selected under Section 6 to determine whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification shall not have made a determination within sixty (60) days after receipt by the Company of the request therefor, the requisite determination of entitlement to indemnification shall be deemed to have been made and Indemnitee shall be entitled to such indemnification absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's statement not materially misleading, in connection with the request for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law; provided, however, that such sixty (60)-day period may be extended for a reasonable time, not to exceed an additional thirty (30) days, if the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification in good faith requires such additional time to obtain or evaluate documentation and/or information relating thereto; and provided, further, that the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(f) shall not apply if the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by the stockholders pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement and if (A) within fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Company of the request for such determination, the Board or the Disinterested Directors, if appropriate, resolve to submit such determination to the stockholders for their consideration at an annual meeting thereof to be held within seventy-five (75) days after such receipt and such determination is made thereat, or (B) a special meeting of stockholders is called within fifteen (15) days after such receipt for the purpose of making such determination, such meeting is held for such purpose within sixty (60) days after having been so called and such determination is made thereat.

(g) Indemnitee shall cooperate with the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification, including providing to such person, persons or entity upon reasonable advance request any documentation or information which is not privileged or otherwise protected from disclosure and which is reasonably available to Indemnitee and reasonably necessary to such determination. Any Independent Counsel, member of the Board or stockholder of the Company shall act reasonably and in good faith in making a determination regarding the Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement. Any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees and disbursements) incurred by Indemnitee in so cooperating with the person, persons or entity making such determination shall be borne by the Company (irrespective of the determination as to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification) and the Company hereby indemnifies and agrees to hold Indemnitee harmless therefrom.

(h) The Company acknowledges that a settlement or other disposition short of final judgment may be successful if it permits a party to avoid expense, delay, distraction, disruption and uncertainty. In the event that any action, suit or proceeding to which Indemnitee is a party is resolved in any manner other than by adverse judgment against Indemnitee (including, without limitation, settlement of such action, suit or proceeding with or without payment of money or other consideration) it shall be presumed that Indemnitee has been successful on the merits or otherwise in such action, suit or proceeding.

Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(i) The termination of any Proceeding or of any claim, issue or matter therein, by judgment, order, settlement or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement) of itself adversely affect the right of Indemnitee to indemnification or create a presumption that Indemnitee did not act in good faith and in a manner which he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company or, with respect to any criminal Proceeding, that Indemnitee had reasonable cause to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful.

7. Remedies of Indemnitee.

(a) In the event that (i) a determination is made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement, (ii) advancement of Expenses is not timely made pursuant to Section 5 of this Agreement, (iii) no determination of entitlement to indemnification is made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement within ninety (90) days after receipt by the Company of the request for indemnification, (iv) payment of indemnification is not made pursuant to this Agreement within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefor or (v) payment of indemnification is not made within ten (10) days after a determination has been made that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification or such determination is deemed to have been made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement, Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in an appropriate court of the State of Delaware, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, of Indemnitee's entitlement to such indemnification. Indemnitee shall commence such proceeding seeking an adjudication within one hundred eighty (180) days following the date on which Indemnitee first has the right to commence such proceeding pursuant to this Section 7(a). The Company shall not oppose Indemnitee's right to seek any such adjudication.

(b) In the event that a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 shall be conducted in all respects as a de novo trial on the merits, and Indemnitee shall not be prejudiced by reason of the adverse determination under Section 6(b).

(c) If a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification, the Company shall be bound by such determination in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's misstatement not materially misleading in connection with the application for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law.

(d) In the event that Indemnitee, pursuant to this Section 7, seeks a judicial adjudication of his or her rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Agreement, or to recover under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, the Company shall pay on his or her behalf, in advance, any and all expenses (of the types described in the definition of Expenses in Section 13 of this Agreement) actually and reasonably incurred by him or her in such judicial adjudication, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance recovery.

(e) The Company shall be precluded from asserting in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 that the procedures and presumptions of this Agreement are not valid, binding and enforceable and shall stipulate in any such court that the Company is bound by all the provisions of this Agreement. The Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against any and all Expenses and, if requested by Indemnitee, shall (within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefor) advance, to the extent not prohibited by law, such expenses to Indemnitee, which are incurred by Indemnitee in connection with any action brought by Indemnitee for indemnification or advance of Expenses from the Company under this Agreement or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, no determination as to entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement shall be required to be made prior to the final disposition of the Proceeding.

8. Non-Exclusivity; Survival of Rights; Insurance; Primacy of Indemnification; Subrogation.

(a) The rights of indemnification as provided by this Agreement shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which Indemnitee may at any time be entitled under applicable law, the Certificate of Incorporation, the By-laws, any agreement, a vote of stockholders, a resolution of directors of the Company, or otherwise. No amendment, alteration or repeal of this Agreement or of any provision hereof shall limit or restrict any right of Indemnitee under this Agreement in respect of any action taken or omitted by such Indemnitee in his or her Corporate Status prior to such amendment, alteration or repeal. To the extent that a change in the DGCL, whether by statute or judicial decision, permits greater indemnification than would be afforded currently under the Certificate of Incorporation, By-laws and this Agreement, it is the intent of the parties hereto that Indemnitee shall enjoy by this Agreement the greater benefits so afforded by such change. No right or remedy herein conferred is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every other right and remedy shall be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other right or remedy.

(b) To the extent that the Company maintains an insurance policy or policies providing liability insurance for directors, officers, employees, or agents or fiduciaries of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person serves at the request of the Company, Indemnitee shall be covered by such policy or policies in accordance with its or their terms to the maximum extent of the coverage available for any director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary under such policy or policies. If, at the time of the receipt of a notice of a claim pursuant to the terms hereof, the Company has directors' and officers' liability insurance in effect, the Company shall give prompt notice of the commencement of such proceeding to the insurers in accordance with the procedures set forth in the respective policies. The Company shall thereafter take all necessary or desirable action to cause such insurers to pay, on behalf of the Indemnitee, all amounts payable as a result of such proceeding in accordance with the terms of such policies.

(c) The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by Investor and certain of its affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnitee are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnitee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall be liable for the full amount of all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Company (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnitee), without regard to any rights Indemnitee may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of Indemnitee with respect to any claim for which Indemnitee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee against the Company. The Company and Indemnitee agree that the Investor Indemnitors are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 8(c).

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, in the event of any payment under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee (other than against the Investor Indemnitors), who shall execute all papers required and take all action necessary to secure such rights, including execution of such documents as are necessary to enable the Company to bring suit to enforce such rights.

(e) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment of amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder if and to the extent that Indemnitee has otherwise actually received such payment under any insurance policy, contract, agreement or otherwise.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, the Company's obligation to indemnify or advance Expenses hereunder to Indemnitee who is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise shall be reduced by any amount Indemnitee has actually received as indemnification or advancement of expenses from such other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

9. Exception to Right of Indemnification. Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement, the Company shall not be obligated under this Agreement to make any indemnity in connection with any claim made against Indemnitee:

(a) for which payment has actually been made to or on behalf of Indemnitee under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision, except with respect to any excess beyond the amount paid under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision, provided, that the foregoing shall not affect the rights of Indemnitee or the Investor Indemnitors set forth in Section 8(c) above; or

(b) for (i) an accounting of profits made from the purchase and sale (or sale and purchase) by Indemnitee of securities of the Company within the meaning of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or similar provisions of state statutory law or common law, (ii) any reimbursement of the Company by the Indemnitee of any bonus or other incentive-based or equity-based compensation or of any profits realized by the Indemnitee from the sale of securities of the Company, as required in each case under the Exchange Act (including any such reimbursements that arise from an accounting restatement of the Company pursuant to Section 304 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "Sarbanes-Oxley Act"), or the payment to the Company of profits arising from the purchase and sale by Indemnitee of securities in violation of Section 306 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) or (iii) any reimbursement of the Company by Indemnitee of any compensation pursuant to any compensation recoupment or clawback policy adopted by the Board or the compensation committee of the

Board, including but not limited to any such policy adopted to comply with stock exchange listing requirements implementing Section 10D of the Exchange Act; or

(c) except as provided in Section 7(e) of this Agreement, in connection with any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee, including any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee against the Company or its directors, officers, employees or other indemnitees, unless (i) the Board authorized the Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) prior to its initiation, (ii) such payment arises in connection with any mandatory counterclaim or cross claim brought or raised by Indemnitee in any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) or (iii) the Company provides the indemnification, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the Company under applicable law.

10. Duration of Agreement. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period Indemnitee is an officer and/or a director of the Company (or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise) and shall continue thereafter so long as Indemnitee shall be subject to any Proceeding (or any proceeding commenced under Section 7 hereof) by reason of his or her Corporate Status, whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives.

11. Security. To the extent requested by Indemnitee and approved by the Board, the Company may at any time and from time to time provide security to Indemnitee for the Company's obligations hereunder through an irrevocable bank line of credit, funded trust or other collateral. Any such security, once provided to Indemnitee, may not be revoked or released without the prior written consent of the Indemnitee.

12. Enforcement.

(a) The Company expressly confirms and agrees that it has entered into this Agreement and assumes the obligations imposed on it hereby in order to induce Indemnitee to serve as an officer and/or a director of the Company, and the Company acknowledges that Indemnitee is relying upon this Agreement in serving as an officer and/or a director of the Company.

(b) This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(c) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnitee's rights to receive advancement of expenses under this Agreement.

13. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person is or was serving at the express written request of the Company.

(b) "Disinterested Director" means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) "Enterprise" shall mean the Company and any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that Indemnitee is or was serving at the express written request of the Company as a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary.

(d) "Expenses" shall include all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed on the Indemnitee as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement, ERISA excise taxes and penalties, and all other disbursements or expenses of the types customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, participating, or being or preparing to be a witness in a Proceeding, or responding to, or objecting to, a request to provide discovery in any Proceeding. Expenses also shall include (i) Expenses incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Proceeding, including, without limitation, the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersedeas bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent (ii) Expenses incurred in connection with recovery under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee is ultimately determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement or Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be, and (iii) for purposes of Section 7(e) only, Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in connection with the interpretation, enforcement or defense of Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement, the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, by litigation or otherwise. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnitee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnitee.

(e) "Independent Counsel" means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently is, nor in the past five years has been, retained to represent: (i) the Company or Indemnitee, or any of their respective affiliates in any matter material to either such party (other than with respect to matters concerning Indemnitee under this Agreement, or of other indemnitees under similar indemnification agreements), or (ii) any other party to the Proceeding giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Independent Counsel" shall not include any person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnitee in an action to determine Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement. The Company agrees to pay the reasonable fees of the Independent Counsel referred to above and to fully indemnify such counsel against any and all Expenses, claims, liabilities and damages arising out of or relating to this Agreement or its engagement pursuant hereto.

(f) "Proceeding" includes any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, claim, counterclaim, cross claim, arbitration, mediation, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, investigation, inquiry, administrative hearing or any other actual, threatened or completed proceeding, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise and whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, including any appeal therefrom, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, by reason of any action taken by him or her, or of any inaction on his or her part, while acting in his or her Corporate Status; in each case whether or not he or she is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification, reimbursement or advancement of expenses can be provided under this Agreement; including one pending on or before the date of this Agreement, but excluding one initiated by an Indemnitee pursuant to Section 7 of this Agreement to enforce his or her rights under this Agreement.

14. Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision. Further, the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof as to either Indemnitee or Appointing Stockholder shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any provision hereof as to the other. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this Agreement is intended to confer upon Indemnitee and Appointing Stockholder indemnification rights to the fullest extent permitted by applicable laws. In the event any provision hereof conflicts with any applicable law, such provision shall be deemed modified, consistent with the aforementioned intent, to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict.

15. Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, termination or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar) nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver.

16. Notice By Indemnitee. Indemnitee agrees promptly to notify the Company in writing upon being served with or otherwise receiving any summons, citation, subpoena, complaint, indictment, information or other document relating to any Proceeding or matter which may be subject to indemnification covered hereunder. The failure to so notify the Company shall not relieve the Company of any obligation which it may have to Indemnitee under this Agreement or otherwise unless and only to the extent that such failure or delay materially prejudices the Company.

17. Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given: (a) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not so confirmed, then on the next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent:

(a) To Indemnitee at the address set forth below Indemnitee signature hereto.

(b) To the Company at:

Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc.
1531 Industrial Road
San Carlos, CA 94070
Attn: Chief Executive Officer

or to such other address as may have been furnished to Indemnitee by the Company or to the Company by Indemnitee, as the case may be.

18. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement may also be executed and delivered by facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

19. Headings. The headings of the paragraphs of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute part of this Agreement or to affect the construction thereof.

20. Governing Law and Consent to Jurisdiction. This Agreement and the legal relations among the parties shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws rules. The Company and Indemnitee hereby irrevocably and unconditionally (i) agree that any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be brought only in the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Court"), and not in any other state or federal court in the United States of America or any court in any other country, (ii) consent to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Delaware Court for purposes of any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement, (iii) waive any objection to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Delaware Court, and (iv) waive, and agree not to plead or to make, any claim that any such action or proceeding brought in the Delaware Court has been brought in an improper or inconvenient forum.

CONVERTIBLE PROMISSORY NOTE

$[_____] [_____, 2025]

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") promises to pay to [_____], or its registered assigns ("Investor"), in lawful money of the United States of America the principal sum of [_____], or such lesser amount as shall equal the outstanding principal amount hereof, together with interest from the date of this Convertible Promissory Note (this "Note") on the unpaid principal balance at a rate equal to 10% per annum, computed on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed and a year of 365 days. All unpaid principal, together with any then unpaid and accrued interest and other amounts payable hereunder, shall be due and payable on the earlier of (i) the written request by the Requisite Fidelity Investors to the Company on or after February 28, 2027 (the "Maturity Date"), or (ii) when such amounts are declared due and payable (or automatically become due and payable) in connection with an Event of Default in accordance with the terms hereof. This Note is one of the "Notes" issued to the Fidelity Investors pursuant to the Note Purchase Agreement.

This Note amends, restates and supersedes the convertible promissory note issued by the Company to Investor on February 28, 2024 (the "Original Note") and the Original Note is terminated and cancelled in its entirety as of the date of this Note. The principal amount of this Note represents the unpaid principal balance of the Original Note of $[___] plus $[___], which represents the unpaid interest accrued on the Original Note from the date of issuance through the date hereof.

The following is a statement of the rights of Investor and the conditions to which this Note is subject, and to which Investor, by the acceptance of this Note, agrees:

1. Payments.

(a) Interest. Accrued interest on this Note shall be payable at maturity.

(b) Voluntary Prepayment. This Note may not be prepaid, without the written consent of the Requisite Fidelity Investors.

2. Events of Default. The occurrence of any of the following shall constitute an "Event of Default" under this Note and the other Transaction Documents:

(a) Failure to Pay. The Company shall fail to pay any principal or interest when due under this Note; or

(b) Breaches of Covenants. The Company breaches any covenants contained in this Note or the other Transaction Documents (other than those specified in Section 2(a)) and such breach shall continue for ten (10) Business Days (as defined in the Note Purchase Agreement) after the earlier of (i) the Company's receipt of written notice by the Requisite Fidelity Investors to the Company of such breach or (ii) the Company becoming aware of such breach; or

(c) Representations and Warranties. Any representation or warranty made by the Company to the Fidelity Investors under the Note Purchase Agreement shall be false, incorrect or misleading, in any case, in any material respect, when made; or

(d) Voluntary Bankruptcy or Insolvency Proceedings. The Company voluntarily files a petition for bankruptcy under any federal or state insolvency law, applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, liquidator or custodian of the Company or all or substantially all of the Company's assets, makes a general assignment for the benefit of any of its creditors, or agree to be dissolved or liquidated; or

(e) Involuntary Bankruptcy or Insolvency Proceedings. The Company is the subject of an involuntary petition for bankruptcy, reorganization, liquidation, or similar transaction under any federal or state insolvency laws and either consents to such petition or such petition is not dismissed within 45 days within of commencement; or

(f) Default on Indebtedness for Borrowed Money. The Company defaults under any other indebtedness for borrowed money, other than the Notes, the effect of such default will allow the creditor to declare the debt due before its stated maturity.

3. Rights of Investor upon Default. Upon the occurrence of any Event of Default (other than pursuant to 2(d) and 2(e)) and at any time thereafter during the continuance of such Event of Default, the Requisite Fidelity Investors may, by written notice to the Company, declare all outstanding Obligations payable by the Company hereunder and under all other Notes to be immediately due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or any other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived by the Company, anything contained herein or in the other Transaction Documents to the contrary notwithstanding. Upon the occurrence of any Event of Default pursuant to 2(d) and 2(e), all outstanding Obligations payable by the Company hereunder and under all other Notes shall become immediately due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or any other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived by the Company, anything contained herein or in the other Transaction Documents to the contrary notwithstanding In addition to the foregoing remedies, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, Investor may, with the written consent of the Requisite Fidelity Investors, exercise any other right, power or remedy granted to it by the Transaction Documents or otherwise permitted to it by law, either by suit in equity or by action at law, or both.

4. Conversion; Treatment Upon a Change of Control.

(a) Automatic Conversion. If, following the date hereof and prior to the conversion of this Note or the repayment of this Note, the Company closes a Qualified Financing, then all outstanding principal under the Notes plus accrued interest under the Notes will automatically convert into fully-paid and nonassessable shares Series C-1 preferred stock of the Company (the "Shadow Qualified Financing Securities") at a conversion price (the "Qualified Financing Conversion Price") equal to $0.3443765, in each case, subject to appropriate adjustment from time to time for any stock dividend, stock split, combination of shares, reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification or other similar event following the date of this Note

(b) Conversion upon a Qualified Initial Public Offering. If, prior to the conversion of this Note or the repayment of this Note, the Company completes an underwritten public offering of shares of Common Stock on Nasdaq or the New York Stock Exchange pursuant to a registration statement under the Securities Act for a total offering of not less than $50 million (before deduction of underwriters' commissions and expenses) (a "Qualified IPO"), all outstanding principal under the Notes plus accrued interest under the Notes will automatically convert into fully-paid and nonassessable shares of Common Stock at a conversion price (the "QIPO Conversion Price") equal to the lesser of (i) 65% of the initial public offering price per share in the Qualified IPO and (ii) the Series B Price Per Share.

(c) Treatment upon a Change of Control. If, prior to the conversion of this Note or the repayment of this Note, the closing of a Change of Control occurs, then, substantially contemporaneous with the closing of such Change of Control, the Company (or the surviving entity in such Change of Control, if the Company is not the surviving entity in such Change of Control), will pay Investor, in full and complete satisfaction of all obligations and liabilities of the Company under this Note, an amount (the "Sale Premium Repayment Amount") equal to the sum of (i) one times (1X) the outstanding principal under this Note, plus (ii) accrued interest under this Note. As an alternative to (and in lieu of) the payment to Investor of the Sale Premium Repayment Amount in connection with a Change of Control, the Investor may elect, exercisable upon written notice to the Company at least five (5) Business Days prior to the closing of such Change of Control, to convert all outstanding principal under this Note plus accrued interest under this Note into fully-paid and nonassessable shares of a shadow series (the "Shadow Sale Securities") of the most recent series of preferred stock of the Company issued by the Company in a transaction for bona fide capital raising purposes prior to the Change of Control (the "Sale Most Recent Preferred Securities") at a conversion price (the "Sale Conversion Price") equal to the lesser of (i) 65% of the implied value per share that a holder of the Sale Most Recent Preferred Securities would receive in the Change of Control and (ii) the Series B Price Per Share. The Shadow Sale Securities shall have identical rights, privileges, preferences and restrictions as the Sale Most Recent Preferred Securities except that, (A) the Shadow Sale Securities shall be entitled to a liquidation preference per share equal to the Sale Conversion Price and shall be pari passu with the Sale Most Recent Preferred Securities and at least pari passu with the existing shares of preferred stock of the Company and (B) the conversion price for purposes of price-based anti-dilution protection will initially equal the Sale Conversion Price, and the basis for any dividend right will be based on the Sale Conversion Price.

(d) Conversion Upon Maturity Date. If this Note has not been previously converted or repaid, then, from on and after the Maturity Date, the Requisite Fidelity Investors may elect, exercisable upon written notice to the Company, to convert all outstanding principal under the Notes plus accrued interest under the Notes into shares of a new series of preferred stock (the "Shadow Maturity Date Securities") at a conversion price (the "Maturity Date Conversion Price") equal to the lesser of (i) 65% of the lowest price per share paid by the purchasers in the most recent bona fide preferred stock financing of the Company prior to such conversion of Notes (such preferred stock financing, the "Maturity Date Most Current Financing Transaction") and (ii) the Series B Price Per Share. The Shadow Maturity Date Securities shall have identical rights, privileges, preferences and restrictions as the most senior preferred stock outstanding at such time, with such liquidation preference being pari passu with the most senior preferred stock outstanding at such time, and in any event, senior to any distributions made to the shares of Common Stock, except that, (A) the Shadow Maturity Date Securities shall be entitled to a liquidation preference per share equal to the Maturity Date Conversion Price and (B) the conversion price for purposes of price-based anti-dilution protection will initially equal the Maturity Date Conversion Price, and the basis for any dividend right will be based on the Maturity Date Conversion Price.

(e) Conversion Procedure.

(i) Conversion Pursuant to Section 4(a). The Company shall deliver written notice to Investor at least ten (10) Business Days prior to the closing of a Qualified Financing at the address last shown on the records of the Company for Investor or given by Investor to the Company for the purpose of notice, notifying Investor of the conversion to be effected, specifying the Qualified Financing Conversion Price, the principal amount of the Note to be converted, together with all accrued and unpaid interest, the securities to be issued on conversion, the date on which such conversion is expected to occur and calling upon Investor to surrender to the Company, in the manner and at the place designated, the Note. If this Note is to be automatically converted pursuant to Section 4(a), in connection with such conversion of this Note, Investor hereby agrees to execute and deliver to the Company, and shall be bound upon such conversion by the obligations in, all transaction documents entered into by other purchasers participating in the Qualified Financing, including a purchase agreement, an investor rights agreement and other ancillary agreements, with customary representations and warranties and transfer restrictions (including, without limitation, a 180-day lock-up agreement in connection with an initial public offering), provided that such agreements shall be on terms no less favorable than the terms provided for in that certain Amended and Restated Investors' Rights Agreement, by and among the Company and the parties thereto, as in effect on the date hereof (the "Rights Agreement"), that certain Amended and Restated Voting Agreement by and among the Company and the parties thereto, as in effect on the date hereof (the "Voting Agreement"), that certain Amended and Restated Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, , by and among the Company and the parties thereto, as in effect on the date hereof (the "Co-Sale Agreement") and, if applicable, any other then-existing agreement between Investor and the Company (the "Side Letters" and together with the Rights Agreement, Voting Agreement and the Co-Sale Agreement, the "Stockholder Agreements"). Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, Investor also agrees to deliver the original of this Note (or a notice to the effect that the original Note has been lost, stolen or destroyed and an agreement acceptable to the Company whereby Investor agrees to indemnify the Company from any loss incurred by it in connection with this Note) at the closing of the Qualified Financing for cancellation; provided, however, that upon the closing of the Qualified Financing, this Note shall be deemed converted and of no further force and effect, whether or not it is delivered for cancellation as set forth in this sentence. Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, the Company shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue and deliver to Investor a certificate or certificates (or a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares, if applicable) for the number of shares to which Investor shall be entitled upon such conversion, including a check payable to Investor for any cash amounts payable as described below. Any conversion of this Note pursuant to Section 4(a) shall be deemed to have been made upon the closing of the Qualified Financing and on and after such date the Persons entitled to receive the shares issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder of such shares.

(ii) Conversion Pursuant to Section 4(b). The Company shall deliver written notice to Investor at least ten (10) Business Days prior to the closing of the Qualified IPO at the address last shown on the records of the Company for Investor or given by Investor to the Company for the purpose of notice, notifying Investor of the conversion to be effected, specifying the QIPO Conversion Price, the principal amount of the Note to be converted, together with all accrued and unpaid interest, the shares of Common Stock to be issued on conversion, the date on which such conversion is expected to occur and calling upon Investor to surrender to the Company, in the manner and at the place designated, the Note. If this Note is to be automatically converted pursuant to Section 4(b), in connection with such conversion of this Note, Investor hereby agrees to execute and deliver to the Company a conversion agreement and lock-up agreement, in customary form and substance, which shall be on terms no less favorable than the terms provided in the Rights Agreement (and any Side Letter, to the extent applicable). Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, Investor also agrees to deliver the original of this Note (or a notice to the effect that the original Note has been lost, stolen or destroyed and an agreement acceptable to the Company whereby Investor agrees to indemnify the Company from any loss incurred by it in connection with this Note) at the closing of the QIPO for cancellation; provided, however, that upon the closing of the QIPO, this Note shall be deemed converted and of no further force and effect, whether or not it is delivered for cancellation as set forth in this sentence. Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, the Company shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue and deliver to Investor a certificate or certificates (or a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares, if applicable) for the number of shares to which Investor shall be entitled upon such conversion, including a check payable to Investor for any cash amounts payable as described below. Any conversion of this Note pursuant to Section 4(b) shall be deemed to have been made upon the closing of the Qualified IPO and on and after such date the Persons entitled to receive the shares issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder of such shares.

(iii) Conversion Pursuant to Section 4(c). The Company shall deliver written notice to Investor at least fifteen (15) Business Days prior to the closing of a Change of Control at the address last shown on the records of the Company for Investor or given by Investor to the Company for the purpose of notice regarding such Change of Control, including the Sale Conversion Price. If this Note is to be voluntarily converted pursuant to Section 4(c) (instead of receiving the Sale Premium Repayment Amount), the Investor shall provide written notice to the Company of such voluntary conversion at least five (5) Business Days prior to the closing of the Change of Control. In connection with such conversion of this Note, Investor hereby agrees to execute and deliver to the Company and shall be bound upon such conversion by the obligations in, a conversion agreement in customary form and substance, as well as the definitive acquisition agreement and/or joinder agreement or similar agreement or document with respect to the Change of Control that other Company stockholders execute and deliver in connection therewith; provided that Investor shall only be required to execute and deliver documents in connection with a Change of Control that would be required pursuant to Section 3.1 of the Voting Agreement if such transaction were otherwise a "Sale of the Company" and the limitations and restrictions contained in Section 3.2 and 3.3 thereof shall apply with respect to Investor's obligations hereunder. Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, Investor also agrees to deliver the original of this Note (or a notice to the effect that the original Note has been lost, stolen or destroyed and an agreement acceptable to the Company whereby Investor agrees to indemnify the Company from any loss incurred by it in connection with this Note) at the closing of the Change of Control for cancellation; provided, however, that upon the closing of the Change of Control, this Note shall be deemed converted and of no further force and effect, whether or not it is delivered for cancellation as set forth in this sentence. Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, the Company shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue and deliver to Investor a certificate or certificates (or a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares, if applicable) for the number of shares to which Investor shall be entitled upon such conversion, including a check payable to Investor for any cash amounts payable as described below. Any conversion of this Note pursuant to Section 4(c) shall be deemed to have been made immediately prior to the closing of the Change of Control and on and after such date the Persons entitled to receive the shares issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder of such shares.

(iv) Conversion Pursuant to Section 4(a). If this Note is to be voluntarily converted pursuant to Section 4(d), the Requisite Fidelity Investors shall provide written notice to the Company of such voluntary conversion promptly following the determination by the Requisite Fidelity Investors of such conversion and the Company shall immediately provide notice of such election to all Fidelity Investors, in no event later than one (1) Business Day after receipt of such notice from the Requisite Fidelity Investors. In connection with such conversion of this Note, Investor hereby agrees to execute and deliver to the Company, and shall be bound upon such conversion by the obligations in, transaction documents that are substantially similar to those entered into by purchasers that participated in the Maturity Date Most Current Financing Transaction, including a purchase/conversion agreement, an investor rights agreement and other ancillary agreements, with customary representations and warranties and transfer restrictions (including, without limitation, a 180-day lock-up agreement in connection with an initial public offering), provided that such agreements shall be on terms no less favorable than the terms provided for in the Stockholder Agreements.

Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, Investor also agrees to deliver the original of this Note (or a notice to the effect that the original Note has been lost, stolen or destroyed and an agreement acceptable to the Company whereby Investor agrees to indemnify the Company from any loss incurred by it in connection with this Note) at the closing of such conversion for cancellation; provided, however, that upon the closing of such conversion, this Note shall be deemed converted and of no further force and effect, whether or not it is delivered for cancellation as set forth in this sentence. Subject to Section 1.2(c) of the Note Purchase Agreement, the Company shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue and deliver to Investor a certificate or certificates (or a notice of issuance of uncertificated shares, if applicable) for the number of shares to which Investor shall be entitled upon such conversion, including a check payable to Investor for any cash amounts payable as described below. Any conversion of this Note pursuant to Section 4(a) shall be deemed to have been made upon the closing of such conversion and on and after such date the Persons entitled to receive the shares issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder of such shares.

(v) Fractional Shares; Interest. No fractional shares shall be issued upon conversion of this Note. In lieu of the Company issuing any fractional shares to Investor upon the conversion of this Note, the Company shall pay to Investor an amount equal to the product obtained by multiplying the applicable conversion price by the fraction of a share not issued pursuant to the previous sentence. In addition, to the extent not converted into shares of capital stock, the Company shall pay to Investor any interest accrued on the amount converted and on the amount to be paid by the Company pursuant to the previous sentence.

(vi) Effect of Conversion. Upon conversion of this Note in full (or payment of the Sale Premium Repayment Amount, if applicable, in connection with a Change of Control), the Company shall be forever released from all its obligations and liabilities under this Note and this Note shall be deemed of no further force or effect, whether or not the original of this Note has been delivered to the Company for cancellation.

(f) Notices of Record Date. In the event of:

(i) Any taking by the Company of a record of the holders of any class of securities of the Company for the purpose of determining the holders thereof who are entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution or any right to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire any shares of stock of any class or any other securities or property, or to receive any other right; or

(ii) Any capital reorganization of the Company, any reclassification or recapitalization of the capital stock of the Company or any Change of Control; or

(iii) Any voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the Company, the Company will mail to Investor at least ten (10) Business Days prior to the earliest date specified therein, a notice specifying (A) the date on which any such record is to be taken for the purpose of such dividend, distribution or right and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right; or (B) the date on which any such reorganization, reclassification, recapitalization, Change of Control, liquidation or winding-up is expected to become effective and the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote thereon.

5. Most Favored Nations. If, prior to the conversion of the Notes or the repayment of the Notes in full, the Company issues Other Instruments that contain any term that is more favorable to the holder of such Other Instruments than the terms of the Notes, then the Company will provide the Fidelity Investors with written notice thereof promptly (and in any event within 30 days) following the issuance of the Other Instruments. The Requisite Fidelity Investors may elect, exercisable upon written notice to the Company, to amend the Notes to include any such more favorable terms, and the Company shall immediately provide notice of such election to the Fidelity Investors, in no event later than one (1) Business Day after receipt of such notice from the Requisite Fidelity Investors and shall promptly provide written evidence of such amended Notes.

6. Conversion Limitation. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the Company shall not effect a conversion of this Note into capital stock of the Company ("Company Stock") pursuant to the terms hereof (the occurrence of an event set forth in Section 4, the "Conversion Event") to the extent (but only to the extent) that, if after giving effect to such conversion, the Fidelity Investors and their Affiliates, collectively, would own an aggregate outstanding ownership percentage in the Company (calculated on an as-converted basis) in excess of the Conversion Cap immediately after giving effect to such conversion. To the extent the above limitation in the immediately preceding sentence applies, (a) the maximum portion of the outstanding principal and accrued but unpaid interest under this Note (the "Outstanding Amount") that can be converted without causing the Fidelity Investors and their Affiliates, collectively, to own an aggregate outstanding ownership percentage in the Company (calculated on an as-converted basis) in excess of the Conversion Cap shall be converted in accordance with the provisions of the Notes, on a pro rata basis among the Fidelity Investors then holding Notes, and (b) the applicable portion of the Outstanding Amount that cannot be converted due to the Conversion Cap (the "Remaining Fidelity Note Amount") shall remain outstanding under the New Fidelity Note (as defined below) until conversion (subject to not exceeding the Conversion Cap as a result of such conversion) upon the earliest to occur of (i) an automatic conversion of the Notes pursuant to the terms of Section 4 of the New Fidelity Note, (ii) such time as Investor and the Company agree that all or a portion of the Remaining Fidelity Note Amount can be converted without exceeding the Conversion Cap or (iii) at Investor's election in writing to the Company, from time to time. The Company and Investor acknowledge and agree that if there is a Conversion Event and there is any Remaining Fidelity Note Amount as of immediately following such Conversion Amount, this Note shall be terminated and cancelled in its entirety and a new convertible promissory note (the "New Fidelity Note") shall be issued immediately following such Conversion Event by the Company to Investor for an original principal amount equal to such then Remaining Fidelity Note Amount and otherwise on substantially the same terms set forth in this Note. The "Conversion Cap" means fifteen (15%) of the total number of issued and outstanding shares of the Company's Preferred Stock and Common Stock as of the date of such conversion, calculated on an as converted basis (and giving effect to the shares of Company Stock that would be owned by the Fidelity Investors in connection with any conversion of the Notes held by the Fidelity Investors and their Affiliates), which percentage may be increased at any time, and from time to time, upon written notice to the Company by the Investor, and at such time, may elect to exercise its election pursuant to clause (iii) of this Section 6.

7. Definitions. As used in this Note, the following capitalized terms have the following meanings:

"Business Day" means any day other than Saturday, Sunday and any other day on which banking institutions in the State of California are closed for business.

"Change of Control" shall mean (i) a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in effect as of the date of this Note (the "Charter")), including a transaction that would have been considered a Deemed Liquidation Event had the requisite stockholders not elected otherwise pursuant to the Charter or (ii) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company.

"Common Stock" means common stock of the Company.

"Fidelity" means Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC.

"Fidelity Investor" means an Investor advised or sub-advised by Fidelity.

"Investor" shall mean the Person specified in the introductory paragraph of this Note or any Person who shall at the time be the registered holder of this Note.

"Lien" shall mean, with respect to any property, any security interest, mortgage, pledge, lien, claim, charge or other encumbrance.

"Note Purchase Agreement" shall mean the Note Purchase Agreement, dated as of February 28, 2024 (as amended, modified or supplemented), by and among the Company and the Investors (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) party thereto.

"Notes" shall mean the convertible promissory notes issued by the Company to the Fidelity Investors pursuant to the Note Purchase Agreement.

"Obligations" shall mean and include all loans, advances, debts, liabilities and obligations, howsoever arising, owed by the Company to Investor of every kind and description, now existing or hereafter arising under or pursuant to the terms of this Note and the other Transaction Documents, including, all interest, fees, charges, expenses, attorneys' fees and costs and accountants' fees and costs chargeable to and payable by the Company hereunder and thereunder, in each case, whether direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, due or to become due, and whether or not arising after the commencement of a proceeding under Title 11 of the United States Code (11 U. S. C. Section 101 et seq.), as amended from time to time (including post-petition interest) and whether or not allowed or allowable as a claim in any such proceeding.

"Other Instruments" shall mean other convertible promissory notes or convertible securities of the Company that the Company may issue after the date of this Note for bona fide financing purposes of the Company, including any side letters or ancillary agreements entered into in connection with the issuance of such notes that provide for any economic or voting rights to the recipient of such notes or securities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Other Instruments expressly excludes: (a) side letters or ancillary agreements entered into in connection with the issuance of such notes or securities that do not amend or modify the terms of such convertible securities and which side letters or ancillary agreements provide solely for strategic rights (as opposed to economic or voting rights) to the recipient of such notes or securities; and (b) the following types of securities: (i) preferred stock of the Company; (ii) options issued pursuant to any equity incentive or similar plan of the Company; (iii) convertible securities issued or issuable to (A) banks, equipment lessors, financial institutions or other persons engaged in the business of making loans pursuant to a debt financing or commercial leasing or (B) suppliers or third party service providers in connection with the provision of goods or services pursuant to transactions; and (iv) convertible securities issued or issuable in connection with sponsored research, collaboration, technology license, development, OEM, marketing or other similar agreements or strategic partnerships.

"Person" shall mean and include an individual, a partnership, a corporation (including a business trust), a joint stock company, a limited liability company, an unincorporated association, a joint venture or other entity or a governmental authority.

"Requisite Fidelity Investors" shall mean each Fidelity Investor, to the extent that such Fidelity Investor then holds a Note.

"Qualified Financing" means (i) any Subsequent Series C Financing Closing or (ii) a single or series of related bona fide capital raising transactions following the final closing of the Series C Financing in which the Company issues shares of its preferred stock (or Common Stock) for capital raising purposes.

"Series B Price Per Share" shall mean an amount equal to $1.7312858 per share (which is the original price per share paid by purchasers of the Series B Preferred Stock of the Company), subject to appropriate adjustment from time to time for any stock dividend, stock split, combination of shares, reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification or other similar event following the date of this Note.

"Series C Financing" shall mean the financing transaction of the Company pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Series C Purchase Agreement.

"Series C Purchase Agreement" shall mean the Series C preferred stock purchase agreement between the Company and the purchasers party thereto, as may be amended from time to time.

"Subsequent Series C Financing Closing" means any Closing following the Initial Closing, including the Second Tranche Closing and any Early Purchase Closing (each as defined in the Series C Purchase Agreement).

"Securities Act" shall mean the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

"Transaction Documents" shall mean this Note, the other Notes, and the Note Purchase Agreement.

8. Miscellaneous.

(a) Successors and Assigns; Transfer of this Note or Securities Issuable on Conversion Hereof; No Transfers to Bad Actors; Notice of Bad Actor Status.

(i) Subject to the restrictions on transfer described in this Section 8(a), the rights and obligations of the Company and Investor shall be binding upon and benefit the successors, assigns, heirs, administrators and transferees of the parties.

(ii) With respect to any offer, sale or other disposition of this Note, Investor will give written notice to the Company prior thereto, describing briefly the manner thereof, together with a written opinion of Investor's counsel, or other evidence if reasonably satisfactory to the Company, to the effect that such offer, sale or other distribution may be effected without registration or qualification (under any federal or state law then in effect). Upon receiving such written notice and reasonably satisfactory opinion, if so requested, or other evidence, the Company, as promptly as practicable, shall notify Investor that Investor may sell or otherwise dispose of this Note or such securities, all in accordance with the terms of the notice delivered to the Company. If a determination has been made pursuant to this Section 8(a) that the opinion of counsel for Investor, or other evidence, is not reasonably satisfactory to the Company, the Company shall so notify Investor promptly after such determination has been made. Each Note thus transferred shall bear a legend as to the applicable restrictions on transferability in order to ensure compliance with the Securities Act, unless in the opinion of counsel for the Company such legend is not required in order to ensure compliance with the Securities Act. The Company may issue stop transfer instructions to its transfer agent in connection with such restrictions.

(iii) Neither this Note nor any of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder may be assigned, by operation of law or otherwise, in whole or in part, by the Company without the prior written consent of the Requisite Fidelity Investors.

(iv) If a proposed transferee of this Note owns, or would own, at least 20% of the Company's voting securities (calculated on the basis of total voting power) or has the right to designate a director of the Company, then Investor agrees not to sell, assign, transfer, pledge or otherwise dispose of any securities of the Company, or any beneficial interest therein, to such proposed transferee unless and until the proposed transferee confirms to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company that neither the proposed transferee nor any of its directors, executive officers, other officers that may serve as a director or officer of any company in which it invests, general partners or managing members nor any person that would be deemed a beneficial owner of those securities (in accordance with Rule 506(d) of the Securities Act) is subject to any of the "bad actor" disqualifications described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i) through (viii) under the Securities Act, except as set forth in Rule 506(d)(2) or (d)(3) under the Securities Act and disclosed, reasonably in advance of the transfer, in writing in reasonable detail to the Company.

(b) Further Assurances. The Company shall take such further actions as are necessary to carry out the intent or the purposes of this Note (including amending the Charter and executing and delivering further agreements, instruments and documents, including in connection with any conversion of this Note pursuant to Section 4) as the Requisite Fidelity Investors may reasonably request in order to consummate, complete and carry out the actions or transactions contemplated hereby and the intent of the parties hereunder.

(c) Waiver and Amendment. Any provision of this Note may be amended, waived or modified upon the written consent of the Company and the Requisite Fidelity Investors.

(d) Notices. All notices, requests, demands, consents, instructions or other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and sent, mailed or delivered to each party at the respective addresses of the parties as set forth in the Note Purchase Agreement, or at such other address as the Company shall have furnished to Investor in writing. All such notices and communications will be deemed effectively given the earlier of (i) when received, (ii) when delivered personally, (iii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (iv) one Business Day after being deposited with an overnight courier service of recognized standing or (v) four days after being deposited in the U.S. mail, first class with postage prepaid. In the event of any conflict between the Company's books and records and this Note or any notice delivered hereunder, the Company's books and records will control absent fraud or error. Subject to the limitations set forth in Delaware General Corporation Law §232(e), Investor consents to the delivery of any notice to stockholders given by the Company under the Delaware General Corporation Law or the Company's certificate of incorporation or bylaws by (i) facsimile telecommunication to any facsimile number for Investor in the Company's records, (ii) electronic mail to any electronic mail address for Investor in the Company's records, (iii) posting on an electronic network together with separate notice to Investor of such specific posting or (iv) any other form of electronic transmission (as defined in the Delaware General Corporation Law) directed to Investor. This consent may be revoked by Investor by written notice to the Company and may be deemed revoked in the circumstances specified in Delaware General Corporation Law §232.

(e) Pari Passu Notes. Investor acknowledges and agrees that the payment of all or any portion of the outstanding principal amount of this Note and all interest hereon shall be pari passu in right of payment and in all other respects to any other Notes. In the event Investor receives payments in excess of its pro rata share of the Company's payments to the holders of all of the Notes, then Investor shall hold in trust all such excess payments for the benefit of the holders of the other Notes and shall pay such amounts held in trust to such other holders upon demand by such holders.

(f) Payment. Unless converted into the Company's equity securities pursuant to the terms hereof, payment shall be made in lawful tender of the United States.

(g) Usury. In the event any interest is paid on this Note which is deemed to be in excess of the then legal maximum rate, then that portion of the interest payment representing an amount in excess of the then legal maximum rate shall be deemed a payment of principal and applied against the principal of this Note.

(h) Waivers. The Company hereby waives notice of default, presentment or demand for payment, protest or notice of nonpayment or dishonor and all other notices or demands relative to this instrument.

(i) Governing Law. This Note and all actions arising out of or in connection with this Note shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to the conflicts of law provisions of the State of Delaware, or of any other state.

(j) Jurisdiction and Venue. Each of Investor and the Company irrevocably consents to the exclusive jurisdiction of, and venue in, the state courts in Santa Clara County in the State of California (or in the event of exclusive federal jurisdiction, the courts of the Northern District of California), in connection with any matter based upon or arising out of this Note or the matters contemplated herein, and agrees that process may be served upon them in any manner authorized by the laws of the State of California for such persons.

(k) Waiver of Jury Trial; Judicial Reference. By acceptance of this Note, Investor hereby agrees and the Company hereby agrees to waive their respective rights to a jury trial of any claim or cause of action based upon or arising out of this Note or any of the Transaction Documents. If the jury waiver set forth in this paragraph is not enforceable, then any claim or cause of action arising out of or relating to this Note, the Transaction Documents or any of the transactions contemplated therein shall be settled by judicial reference pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure Section 638 et seq. before a referee sitting without a jury, such referee to be mutually acceptable to the parties or, if no agreement is reached, by a referee appointed by the Presiding Judge of the California Superior Court for Santa Clara County. This paragraph shall not restrict a party from exercising remedies under the Uniform Commercial Code or from exercising pre-judgment remedies under applicable law.

(l) Counterparts. This Note may be executed in any number of counterparts and by different parties on separate counterparts, each of which, when executed and delivered, shall be deemed to be an original, and all of which, when taken together, shall constitute but one and the same Note.

(m) Tax Withholding. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the Company shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any amounts payable or otherwise deliverable with respect to this Note such amounts as may be required to be deducted or withheld therefrom under any provision of applicable law, and to be provided any necessary tax forms and information, including Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 or appropriate version of IRS Form W-8, as applicable, from each beneficial owner of the Note. To the extent such amounts are so deducted or withheld and paid over to the appropriate taxing authority, such amounts shall be treated for all purposes as having been paid to the person to whom such amounts otherwise would have been paid.

(n) Massachusetts Business Trust. A copy of the Agreement and Declaration of Trust of Holder, to the extent organized as a Massachusetts business trust, or any Affiliate thereof is on file with the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and notice is hereby given that this Note is executed on behalf of the trustees of such Holder or any Affiliate thereof as trustees and not individually and that the obligations of this Note are not binding on any of the trustees, officers or stockholders of such Holder or any Affiliate thereof individually but are binding only upon such Holder or any Affiliate thereof and its assets and property.

SERIES A2 PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

THIS SERIES A2 PREFERRED STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of this 5th day of August, 2019 (the "Effective Date"), by and between Limelight Bio, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the "Purchaser").

WHEREAS, the Company has previously issued to the Purchaser 12,000,000 shares now classified as the Company's Series A1 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series A1 Preferred Stock") as follows: (a) 1,500,000 shares of Series A1 Preferred Stock were issued pursuant to Actions by Unanimous Written Consent of the Board of Directors of the Company dated January 20, 2016, March 16, 2016 and August 26, 2016, and (b) 10,500,000 shares of Series A1 Preferred Stock were issued in connection with exercises by the Purchaser under that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Warrant dated November 7, 2016 granted by the Company to the Purchaser;

WHEREAS, the Purchaser is the holder of all of the outstanding shares of Series A1 Preferred Stock; and

WHEREAS, the Purchaser desires to purchase and the Company desires to sell, issue and deliver to the Purchaser, up to 47,041,997 shares of the Company's Series A2 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Series A2 Preferred Stock" and, together with the Series A1 Preferred Stock, the "Series A Preferred Stock"), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual promises contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereby intending to be legally bound agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Preferred Stock.

1.1 Sale and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

(a) The Company shall adopt and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on or before the Initial Closing (as defined below) the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation in the form of Exhibit A attached to this Agreement (the "Restated Certificate").

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Purchaser agrees to purchase at the Closings and the Company agrees to sell and issue to the Purchaser at the Closings up to an aggregate of 47,041,997 shares of Series A2 Preferred Stock, at a purchase price of approximately $0.8078 per share (the "Series A2 Purchase Price") for an aggregate purchase price of $38,000,525.19. The shares of Series A2 Preferred Stock issued to the Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement (including any shares issued at the Initial Closing and any Milestone Shares, as defined below) shall be referred to in this Agreement as the "Shares."

1.2 Closing; Delivery.

(a) The initial purchase and sale of 2,475,860 shares of Series A2 Preferred Stock for an aggregate purchase price of $1,999,999.71 shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures, at 10:00 a.m. Eastern Time on the Effective Date, or at such other time and place as the Company and the Purchaser mutually agree upon, orally or in writing (which time and place are designated as the "Initial Closing"). In the event there is more than one closing, the term "Closing" shall apply to each such closing unless otherwise specified.

(b) At each Closing, the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser a certificate representing the Shares being purchased by the Purchaser at such Closing against payment of the purchase price therefor by wire transfer to a bank account designated by the Company.

1.3 Sale of Milestone Shares.

(a) In accordance with this Section 1.3, after the Initial Closing, the Company shall sell, and the Purchaser shall purchase, in one or more tranches as set forth on Exhibit G (the "Milestone Schedule") on the same terms and conditions as those contained in this Agreement, up to an additional 44,566,137 shares of Series A2 Preferred Stock (the "Milestone Shares"), at the Series A2 Purchase Price, on the certification by the Board (including all Series A Directors (as defined in the Restated Certificate)) that the events specified in Exhibit G attached to this Agreement have occurred (the "Milestone Events"). The date of each purchase and sale of the Milestone Shares are referred to in this Agreement as the "Milestone Closing."

(b) The Company shall notify the Purchaser in writing promptly, but in no event later than five (5) business days, after the achievement of each Milestone Event. Without limiting anything contained in Section 1.3(a) and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each purchase and sale of Milestone Shares shall take place remotely via the exchange of documents and signatures at such time and date as mutually agreed by the Company and the Purchaser; provided, that each Milestone Closing shall occur no fewer than fifteen (15) days or more than thirty (30) days after (i) the achievement of the applicable Milestone Event, or (ii) the waiver of the achievement of the applicable Milestone Event.

1.4 Use of Proceeds. In accordance with the directions of the Company's Board of Directors, as it shall be constituted in accordance with the Voting Agreement, the Company will use the proceeds from the sale of the Shares for research and development, working capital and other general corporate purposes.

1.5 Defined Terms Used in this Agreement. In addition to the terms defined above, the following terms used in this Agreement shall be construed to have the meanings set forth or referenced below.

(a) "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

(b) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

(c) "Company Intellectual Property" means all patents, patent applications, registered and unregistered trademarks, trademark applications, registered and unregistered service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, domain names, mask works, information and proprietary rights and processes, similar or other intellectual property rights, subject matter of any of the foregoing, tangible embodiments of any of the foregoing, licenses in, to and under any of the foregoing, and any and all such cases as are necessary to the Company in the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted.

(d) "Indemnification Agreement" means the agreement between the Company and the director designated by the Purchaser entitled to designate a member of the Board of Directors pursuant to the Voting Agreement, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit C attached to this Agreement.

(e) "Investors' Rights Agreement" means the agreement among the Company and the Purchaser dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit D attached to this Agreement.

(f) "Key Employee" means any executive-level employee (including division director and vice president-level positions) as well as any employee or consultant who either alone or in concert with others develops, invents, programs or designs any Company Intellectual Property.

(g) "Knowledge" including the phrase "to the Company's knowledge" shall mean the actual knowledge of the following officers: Philip R. Johnson, M.D. and David Shin, M.D.

(h) "Material Adverse Effect" means a material adverse effect on the business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, financial condition, property, prospects or results of operations of the Company.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

(j) "Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser, and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit E attached to this Agreement.

(k) "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(l) "Transaction Agreements" means this Agreement, the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Management Rights Letter, the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement and the Voting Agreement.

(m) "Voting Agreement" means the agreement among the Company, the Purchaser and certain other stockholders of the Company, dated as of the date of the Initial Closing, in the form of Exhibit F attached to this Agreement.

2. Representations and Warranties of the Company. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Disclosure Schedule attached as Exhibit B to this Agreement, which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder, the following representations are true and complete as of the date of the Initial Closing, except as otherwise indicated. The Company may deliver (a) an updated version of the Disclosure Schedule to the Purchaser as of, and at least seven (7) days prior to, the Milestone Closing, reflecting any changes through the date of delivery (the "Draft Updated Disclosure Schedule"), and (b) a further updated version of the Disclosure Schedule to the Purchaser as of, and at least five (5) days prior to, the Milestone Closing, reflecting any additional changes since the date of delivery of the Draft Updated Disclosure Schedule (the "Updated Disclosure Schedule"); provided, however, that the Updated Disclosure Schedule shall not include additional disclosures related to the representations and warranties of the Company contained in Sections 2.1, 2.4, 2.5, or 2.6. The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Purchaser that, except as set forth on the Updated Disclosure Schedule, which exceptions shall be deemed to be part of the representations and warranties made hereunder, the following representations are true and complete as of the date of the Milestone Closing, except as otherwise indicated. The Disclosure Schedule and the Updated Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections and subsections contained in this Section 2, and the disclosures in any section or subsection of the Disclosure Schedule and the Updated Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections and subsections in this Section 2 only to the extent it is readily apparent from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections and subsections.

CONFIDENTIAL

For purposes of these representations and warranties (other than those in Subsections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, and 2.6), the term the "Company" shall include any subsidiaries of the Company, unless otherwise noted herein.

2.1 Organization, Good Standing, Corporate Power and Qualification. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all requisite corporate power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. The Company is duly qualified to transact business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the failure to so qualify would have a Material Adverse Effect.

2.2 Capitalization.

(a) The authorized capital of the Company consists, immediately prior to the Initial Closing, of:

(i) 85,364,050 shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share (the "Common Stock"), 1,989,760 shares of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. All of the outstanding shares of Common Stock have been duly authorized, are fully paid and nonassessable and were issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Company holds no Common Stock in its treasury.

(ii) 67,041,997 shares of Preferred Stock, 20,000,000 of which have been designated Series A1 Preferred Stock, 12,000,000 of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing, and 47,041,997 of which have been designated Series A2 Preferred Stock, none of which are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Initial Closing. The rights, privileges and preferences of the Preferred Stock are as stated in the Restated Certificate and as provided by the Delaware General Corporation Law. The Company holds no Preferred Stock in its treasury.

(b) The Company has reserved 16,332,293 shares of Common Stock for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants of the Company pursuant to its 2018 Stock Option and Grant Plan duly adopted by the Board of Directors and approved by the Company stockholders (the "Stock Plan"). Of such reserved shares of Common Stock, no shares have been issued pursuant to restricted stock purchase agreements, options to purchase 859,483 shares have been granted and are currently outstanding, and 15,472,810 shares of Common Stock remain available for issuance to officers, directors, employees and consultants pursuant to the Stock Plan. The Company has furnished to the Purchaser complete and accurate copies of the Stock Plan and forms of agreements used thereunder.

(c) Subsection 2.2(c) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth the capitalization of the Company immediately following the Initial Closing including the number of shares of the following: (i) issued and outstanding Common Stock, including, with respect to restricted Common Stock, vesting schedule and repurchase price; (ii) granted stock options, including vesting schedule and exercise price; (iii) shares of Common Stock reserved for future award grants under the Stock Plan; (iv) each series of Preferred Stock; and (v) warrants or stock purchase rights, if any. Except for (A) the conversion privileges of the Shares to be issued under this Agreement, (B) the rights provided in Section 4 of the Investors' Rights Agreement, and (C) the securities and rights described in Subsection 2.2(a)(ii) of this Agreement and Subsection 2.2(c) of the Disclosure Schedule, there are no outstanding options, warrants, rights (including conversion or preemptive rights and rights of first refusal or similar rights) or agreements, orally or in writing, to purchase or acquire from the Company any shares of Common Stock or Series A Preferred Stock, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or Series A Preferred Stock. All outstanding shares of the Company's Common Stock and all shares of the Company's Common Stock underlying outstanding options are subject to (i) a right of first refusal in favor of the Company upon any proposed transfer (other than transfers for estate planning purposes); and (ii) a lock-up or market standoff agreement of not less than one hundred eighty (180) days following the Company's initial public offering pursuant to a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

(d) None of the Company's stock purchase agreements or stock option documents contains a provision for acceleration of vesting (or lapse of a repurchase right) or other changes in the vesting provisions or other terms of such agreement or understanding upon the occurrence of any event or combination of events, including without limitation in the case where the Company's Stock Plan is not assumed in an acquisition. The Company has never adjusted or amended the exercise price of any stock options previously awarded, whether through amendment, cancellation, replacement grant, repricing, or any other means. Except as set forth in the Restated Certificate, the Company has no obligation (contingent or otherwise) to purchase or redeem any of its capital stock.

(e) 409A. The Company believes in good faith that any "nonqualified deferred compensation plan" (as such term is defined under Section 409A(d)(1) of the Code and the guidance thereunder) under which the Company makes, is obligated to make or promises to make, payments (each, a "409A Plan") complies in all material respects, in both form and operation, with the requirements of Section 409A of the Code and the guidance thereunder. To the knowledge of the Company, no payment to be made under any 409A Plan is, or will be, subject to the penalties of Section 409A(a)(1) of the Code.

(f) The Company has obtained valid waivers of any rights by other parties to purchase any of the Shares covered by this Agreement.

2.3 Subsidiaries. The Company does not currently own or control, directly or indirectly, any interest in any other corporation, partnership, trust, joint venture, limited liability company, association, or other business entity. The Company is not a participant in any joint venture, partnership or similar arrangement.

2.4 Authorization. All corporate action required to be taken by the Company's Board of Directors and stockholders in order to authorize the Company to enter into the Transaction Agreements, and to issue the Shares at the Closing and the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares, has been taken or will be taken prior to the Closing. All action on the part of the officers of the Company necessary for the execution and delivery of the Transaction Agreements, the performance of all obligations of the Company under the Transaction Agreements to be performed as of the Closing, and the issuance and delivery of the Shares has been taken or will be taken prior to the Closing. The Transaction Agreements, when executed and delivered by the Company, shall constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms except (i) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, or other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, (ii) as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies, or (iii) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement and the Indemnification Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

2.5 Valid Issuance of Shares. The Shares, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable state and federal securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Assuming the accuracy of the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and subject to the filings described in the Voting Agreement, the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws. The Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares has been duly reserved for issuance, and upon issuance in accordance with the terms of the Restated Certificate, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Agreements, applicable federal and state securities laws and liens or encumbrances created by or imposed by the Purchaser. Based in part upon the representations of the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement and in the Voting Agreement, the Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Shares will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

2.6 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchaser in Section 3 of this Agreement, no consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any federal, state or local governmental authority is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except for (i) the filing of the Restated Certificate, which will have been filed as of the Initial Closing, and (ii) filings pursuant to Regulation D of the Securities Act, and applicable state securities laws, which have been made or will be made in a timely manner.

2.7 Litigation. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding, arbitration, complaint, charge or investigation pending or to the Company's knowledge, currently threatened in writing (i) against the Company or any officer, director or Key Employee of the Company arising out of their employment or board relationship with the Company; (ii) that questions the validity of the Transaction Agreements or the right of the Company to enter into them, or to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements; or (iii) to the Company's knowledge, that would reasonably be expected to have, either individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any of its officers, directors or Key Employees is a party or is named as subject to the provisions of any order, writ, injunction, judgment or decree of any court or government agency or instrumentality (in the case of officers, directors or Key Employees, such as would affect the Company). There is no action, suit, proceeding or investigation by the Company pending or which the Company intends to initiate. The foregoing includes, without limitation, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations pending or threatened in writing (or any basis therefor known to the Company) involving the prior employment of any of the Company's employees, their services provided in connection with the Company's business, any information or techniques allegedly proprietary to any of their former employers or their obligations under any agreements with prior employers.

2.8 Intellectual Property. The Company owns or possesses or can acquire on commercially reasonable terms sufficient legal rights to all Company Intellectual Property without any known conflict with, or infringement of, the rights of others, including prior employees or consultants, or academic or medical institutions with which any of them may be affiliated now or may have been affiliated in the past. No product or service marketed or sold (or proposed to be marketed or sold) by the Company violates or will violate any license or infringes or will infringe any intellectual property rights of any other party. Other than with respect to commercially available software products under standard end-user object code license agreements, there are no outstanding options, licenses, agreements, claims, encumbrances or shared ownership interests of any kind relating to the Company Intellectual Property, nor is the Company bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to the patents, trademarks, service marks, trade names, copyrights, trade secrets, licenses, information, proprietary rights and processes of any other Person. The Company has not received any communications alleging that the Company has violated, or by conducting its business, would violate any of the patents, trademarks, service marks, tradenames, copyrights, trade secrets, mask works or other proprietary rights or processes of any other Person. The Company has obtained and possesses valid licenses to use all of the software programs present on the computers and other software-enabled electronic devices that it owns or leases or that it has otherwise provided to its employees for their use in connection with the Company's business. It will not be necessary to use any inventions of any of its employees or consultants (or Persons it currently intends to hire) made prior to their employment by the Company, including prior employees or consultants, or academic or medical institutions with which any of them may be affiliated now or may have been affiliated in the past. Each employee and consultant has assigned to the Company all intellectual property rights he or she owns that are related to the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted and all intellectual property rights that he, she or it solely or jointly conceived, reduced to practice, developed or made during the period of his, her or its employment or consulting relationship with the Company that (a) relate, at the time of conception, reduction to practice, development, or making of such intellectual property right, to the Company's business as then conducted or as then proposed to be conducted, (b) were developed on any amount of the Company's time or with the use of any of the Company's equipment, supplies, facilities or information or (c) resulted from the performance of services for the Company. Subsection 2.8 of the Disclosure Schedule lists all patents, patent applications, registered trademarks, trademark applications, service marks, service mark applications, tradenames, registered copyrights, and licenses to and under any of the foregoing, in each case owned by the Company. The Company has not embedded any open source, copyleft or community source code in any of its products generally available or in development, including but not limited to any libraries or code licensed under any General Public License, Lesser General Public License or similar license arrangement. For purposes of this Subsection 2.8, the Company shall be deemed to have knowledge of a patent right if the Company has actual knowledge of the patent right or would be found to be on notice of such patent right as determined by reference to United States patent laws. No government funding, facilities of a university, college, other educational institution or research center, or funding from third parties was used in the development of any Company Intellectual Property. No Person who was involved in, or who contributed to, the creation or development of any Company Intellectual Property, has performed services for the government, university, college, or other educational institution or research center in a manner that would affect Company's rights in the Company Intellectual Property.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (i) of any provisions of its Restated Certificate or Bylaws, (ii) of any instrument, judgment, order, writ or decree, (iii) under any note, indenture or mortgage, or (iv) under any lease, agreement, contract or purchase order to which it is a party or by which it is bound that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule, or (v) of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, the violation of which would have a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and performance of the Transaction Agreements and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Agreements will not result in any such violation or be in conflict with or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such provision, instrument, judgment, order, writ, decree, contract or agreement; or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Agreements; Actions.

(a) Except for the Transaction Agreements, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party or by which it is bound that involve (i) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $25,000, (ii) the license of any patent, copyright, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary right to or from the Company, (iii) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market, or sell its products to any other Person that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products, or (iv) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights.

(b) The Company has not (i) declared or paid any dividends, or authorized or made any distribution upon or with respect to any class or series of its capital stock, (ii) incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed or incurred any other liabilities individually in excess of $25,000 or in excess of $50,000 in the aggregate, (iii) made any loans or advances to any Person, other than ordinary advances for travel expenses, or (iv) sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of any of its assets or rights, other than the sale of its inventory in the ordinary course of business. For the purposes of (a) and (b) of this Subsection 2.10, all indebtedness, liabilities, agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts and proposed transactions involving the same Person (including Persons the Company has reason to believe are affiliated with each other) shall be aggregated for the purpose of meeting the individual minimum dollar amounts of such subsection.

(c) The Company is not a guarantor or indemnitor of any indebtedness of any other Person.

2.11 Certain Transactions.

(a) Other than (i) standard employee benefits generally made available to all employees, (ii) standard director and officer indemnification agreements approved by the Board of Directors, and (iii) the purchase of shares of the Company's capital stock and the issuance of options to purchase shares of the Company's Common Stock, in each instance, approved in the written minutes of the Board of Directors (previously provided to the Purchaser or its counsel), there are no agreements, understandings or proposed transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, consultants or Key Employees, or any Affiliate thereof.

(b) The Company is not indebted, directly or indirectly, to any of its directors, officers or employees or to their respective spouses or children or to any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, other than in connection with expenses or advances of expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business or employee relocation expenses and for other customary employee benefits made generally available to all employees. None of the Company's directors, officers or employees, or any members of their immediate families, or any Affiliate of the foregoing are, directly or indirectly, indebted to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, have any (i) material commercial, industrial, banking, consulting, legal, accounting, charitable or familial relationship with any of the Company's customers, suppliers, service providers, joint venture partners, licensees and competitors, (ii) direct or indirect ownership interest in any firm or corporation with which the Company is affiliated or with which the Company has a business relationship, or any firm or corporation which competes with the Company except that directors, officers, employees or stockholders of the Company may own stock in (but not exceeding two percent (2%) of the outstanding capital stock of) publicly traded companies that may compete with the Company; or (iii) financial interest in any contract with the Company.

2.12 Rights of Registration and Voting Rights. Except as provided in the Investors' Rights Agreement, the Company is not under any obligation to register under the Securities Act any of its currently outstanding securities or any securities issuable upon exercise or conversion of its currently outstanding securities. To the Company's knowledge, except as contemplated in the Voting Agreement, no stockholder of the Company has entered into any agreements with respect to the voting of capital shares of the Company.

2.13 Property. The property and assets that the Company owns are free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, loans and encumbrances, except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and encumbrances and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets. With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in compliance with such leases and holds a valid leasehold interest free of any liens, claims or encumbrances other than those of the lessors of such property or assets. The Company does not own any real property.

2.14 Financial Statements. The Company has delivered to the Purchaser its unaudited financial statements as of December 31, 2018 and for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 and its unaudited financial statements (including balance sheet, income statement and statement of cash flows) as of June 30, 2019 and for the six-month period ended June 30, 2019 (collectively, the "Financial Statements"). The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods indicated, except that the unaudited Financial Statements may not contain all footnotes required by GAAP. The Financial Statements fairly present in all material respects the financial condition and operating results of the Company as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated therein, subject in the case of the unaudited Financial Statements to normal year-end audit adjustments. Except as set forth in the Financial Statements, the Company has no material liabilities or obligations, contingent or otherwise, other than (i) liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business subsequent to June 30, 2019; (ii) obligations under contracts and commitments incurred in the ordinary course of business; and (iii) liabilities and obligations of a type or nature not required under GAAP to be reflected in the Financial Statements, which, in all such cases, individually and in the aggregate would not have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company maintains and will continue to maintain a standard system of accounting established and administered in accordance with GAAP.

2.15 Changes. Since June 30, 2019, there has not been:

(a) any change in the assets, liabilities, financial condition or operating results of the Company from that reflected in the Financial Statements, except changes in the ordinary course of business that have not caused, in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect;

(b) any damage, destruction or loss, whether or not covered by insurance, that would have a Material Adverse Effect;

(c) any waiver or compromise by the Company of a valuable right or of a material debt owed to it;

(d) any satisfaction or discharge of any lien, claim, or encumbrance or payment of any obligation by the Company, except in the ordinary course of business and the satisfaction or discharge of which would not have a Material Adverse Effect;

(e) any material change to a material contract or agreement by which the Company or any of its assets is bound or subject;

(f) any material change in any compensation arrangement or agreement with any employee, officer, director or stockholder;

(g) any resignation or termination of employment of any officer or Key Employee of the Company;

(h) any mortgage, pledge, transfer of a security interest in, or lien, created by the Company, with respect to any of its material properties or assets, except liens for taxes not yet due or payable and liens that arise in the ordinary course of business and do not materially impair the Company's ownership or use of such property or assets;

(i) any loans or guarantees made by the Company to or for the benefit of its employees, officers or directors, or any members of their immediate families, other than travel advances and other advances made in the ordinary course of its business;

(j) any declaration, setting aside or payment or other distribution in respect of any of the Company's capital stock, or any direct or indirect redemption, purchase, or other acquisition of any of such stock by the Company;

(k) any sale, assignment or transfer of any Company Intellectual Property that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect;

(l) receipt of notice that there has been a loss of, or material order cancellation by, any major customer of the Company;

(m) to the Company's knowledge, any other event or condition of any character, other than events affecting the economy or the Company's industry generally, that could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect; or

(n) any arrangement or commitment by the Company to do any of the things described in this Subsection 2.15.

2.16 Employee Matters.

(a) As of the date hereof, the Company employs ten (10) full-time employees and zero part-time employees and engages two (2) consultants or independent contractors.

(b) To the Company's knowledge, none of its employees is obligated under any contract (including licenses, covenants or commitments of any nature) or other agreement, or subject to any judgment, decree or order of any court or administrative agency, that would materially interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interest of the Company or that would conflict with the Company's business. Neither the execution or delivery of the Transaction Agreements, nor the carrying on of the Company's business by the employees of the Company, nor the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted, will conflict with or result in a breach of the terms, conditions, or provisions of, or constitute a default under, any contract, covenant or instrument under which any such employee is now obligated.

(c) The Company is not delinquent in payments to any of its employees, consultants, or independent contractors for any wages, salaries, commissions, bonuses, or other direct compensation for any service performed for it to the date hereof or amounts required to be reimbursed to such employees, consultants or independent contractors. The Company has complied in all material respects with all applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and with other laws related to employment, including those related to wages, hours, worker classification and collective bargaining. The Company has withheld and paid to the appropriate governmental entity or is holding for payment not yet due to such governmental entity all amounts required to be withheld from employees of the Company and is not liable for any arrears of wages, taxes, penalties or other sums for failure to comply with any of the foregoing.

(d) To the Company's knowledge, no Key Employee intends to terminate employment with the Company or is otherwise likely to become unavailable to continue as a Key Employee. The Company does not have a present intention to terminate the employment of any of the foregoing. The employment of each employee of the Company is terminable at the will of the Company. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(d) of the Disclosure Schedule or as required by law, upon termination of the employment of any such employees, no severance or other payments will become due. Except as set forth in Subsection 2.16(d) of the Disclosure Schedule, the Company has no policy, practice, plan or program of paying severance pay or any form of severance compensation in connection with the termination of employment services.

(e) The Company has not made any representations regarding equity incentives to any officer, employee, director or consultant that are inconsistent with the share amounts and terms set forth in the minutes of meetings of the Company's board of directors.

(f) Each former Key Employee whose employment was terminated by the Company has entered into an agreement with the Company providing for the full release of any claims against the Company or any related party arising out of such employment.

(g) Subsection 2.16(g) of the Disclosure Schedule sets forth each employee benefit plan maintained, established or sponsored by the Company, or which the Company participates in or contributes to, which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Company has made all required contributions and has no liability to any such employee benefit plan, other than liability for health plan continuation coverage described in Part 6 of Title I(B) of ERISA, and has complied in all material respects with all applicable laws for any such employee benefit plan.

(h) To the Company's knowledge, none of the Key Employees or directors of the Company has been (a) subject to voluntary or involuntary petition under the federal bankruptcy laws or any state insolvency law or the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent or similar officer by a court for his or her business or property; (b) convicted in a criminal proceeding or named as a subject of a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses); (c) subject to any order, judgment or decree (not subsequently reversed, suspended, or vacated) of any court of competent jurisdiction permanently or temporarily enjoining him or her from engaging, or otherwise imposing limits or conditions on his or her engagement in any securities, investment advisory, banking, insurance, or other type of business or acting as an officer or director of a public company; or (d) found by a court of competent jurisdiction in a civil action or by the Securities and Exchange Commission or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission to have violated any federal or state securities, commodities, or unfair trade practices law, which such judgment or finding has not been subsequently reversed, suspended, or vacated.

2.17 Tax Returns and Payments. There are no federal, state, county, local or foreign taxes due and payable by the Company which have not been timely paid. There are no accrued and unpaid federal, state, country, local or foreign taxes of the Company which are due, whether or not assessed or disputed. There have been no examinations or audits of any tax returns or reports by any applicable federal, state, local or foreign governmental agency. The Company has duly and timely filed all federal, state, county, local and foreign tax returns required to have been filed by it and there are in effect no waivers of applicable statutes of limitations with respect to taxes for any year.

2.18 Insurance. The Company has in full force and effect insurance policies concerning such casualties as would be reasonable and customary for companies like the Company with extended coverage, sufficient in amount (subject to reasonable deductions) to allow it to replace any of its properties that might be damaged or destroyed.

2.19 Employee Agreements. Each current and former employee, consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms delivered to the counsel for the Purchaser (the "Confidential Information Agreements"). No current or former Key Employee has excluded works or inventions from his or her assignment of inventions pursuant to such Key Employee's Confidential Information Agreement. Each current and former Key Employee has executed a non-competition and non-solicitation agreement substantially in the form or forms delivered to counsel for the Purchaser. The Company is not aware that any of its Key Employees is in violation of any agreement covered by this Subsection 2.19.

2.20 Permits. The Company has all franchises, permits, licenses and any similar authority necessary for the conduct of its business, the lack of which could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company is not in default in any material respect under any of such franchises, permits, licenses or other similar authority.

2.21 Corporate Documents. The Restated Certificate and Bylaws of the Company are in the form provided to the Purchaser. The copy of the minute books of the Company provided to the Purchaser contains minutes of all meetings of directors and stockholders and all actions by written consent without a meeting by the directors and stockholders since the date of incorporation and accurately reflects in all material respects all actions by the directors (and any committee of directors) and stockholders with respect to all transactions referred to in such minutes.

2.22 83(b) Elections. To the Company's knowledge, all elections and notices under Section 83(b) of the Code have been or will be timely filed by all individuals who have acquired unvested shares of the Company's Common Stock.

2.23 Real Property Holding Company. The Company is not now and has never been a "United States real property holding corporation" as defined in the Code and any applicable regulations promulgated thereunder. The Company has filed with the Internal Revenue Service all statements, if any, with its United States income tax returns which are required under such regulations.

2.24 Environmental and Safety Laws. Except as could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect (a) the Company is and has been in compliance with all Environmental Laws; (b) there has been no release or threatened release of any pollutant, contaminant or toxic or hazardous material, substance or waste or petroleum or any fraction thereof (each a "Hazardous Substance"), on, upon, into or from any site currently or heretofore owned, leased or otherwise used by the Company; (c) there have been no Hazardous Substances generated by the Company that have been disposed of or come to rest at any site that has been included in any published U.S. federal, state or local "superfund" site list or any other similar list of hazardous or toxic waste sites published by any governmental authority in the United States; and (d) there are no underground storage tanks located on, no polychlorinated biphenyls ("PCBs") or PCB-containing equipment used or stored on, and no hazardous waste as defined by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, as amended, stored on, any site owned or operated by the Company, except for the storage of hazardous waste in compliance with Environmental Laws. The Company has made available to the Purchaser true and complete copies of all material environmental records, reports, notifications, certificates of need, permits, pending permit applications, correspondence, engineering studies and environmental studies or assessments.

For purposes of this Subsection 2.24, "Environmental Laws" means any law, regulation, or other applicable requirement relating to (a) releases or threatened release of Hazardous Substance; (b) pollution or protection of employee health or safety, public health or the environment; or (c) the manufacture, handling, transport, use, treatment, storage, or disposal of Hazardous Substances.

2.25 Qualified Small Business Stock. As of and immediately following the Closing: (i) the Company will be an eligible corporation as defined in Section 1202(e)(4) of the Code, (ii) the Company will not have made purchases of its own stock described in Code Section 1202(c)(3)(B) during the one (1) year period preceding the Initial Closing, except for purchases that are disregarded for such purposes under Treasury Regulation Section 1.1202-2, and (iii) the Company's aggregate gross assets, as defined by Code Section 1202(d)(2), at no time between its incorporation and through the Initial Closing have exceeded $50 million, taking into account the assets of any corporations required to be aggregated with the Company in accordance with Code Section 1202(d)(3); provided, however, that in no event shall the Company be liable to the Purchaser or any other party for any damages arising from any subsequently proven or identified error in the Company's determination with respect to the applicability or interpretation of Code Section 1202, unless such determination shall have been given by the Company in a manner either grossly negligent or fraudulent.

2.26 Disclosure. The Company has made available to the Purchaser all the information reasonably available to the Company that the Purchaser has requested for deciding whether to acquire the Shares, including certain of the Company's projections describing its proposed business plan (the "Business Plan"). No representation or warranty of the Company contained in this Agreement, as qualified by the Disclosure Schedule, and no certificate furnished or to be furnished to Purchaser at the Closing contains any untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein not misleading in light of the circumstances under which they were made. The Business Plan was prepared in good faith; however, the Company does not warrant that it will achieve any results projected in the Business Plan. It is understood that this representation is qualified by the fact that the Company has not delivered to the Purchaser, and has not been requested to deliver, a private placement or similar memorandum or any written disclosure of the types of information customarily furnished to purchasers of securities.

2.27 Data Privacy. In connection with its collection, storage, transfer (including, without limitation, any transfer across national borders) and/or use of any personally identifiable information from any individuals, including, without limitation, any customers, prospective customers, employees and/or other third parties (collectively "Personal Information"), the Company is and has been in compliance with all applicable laws in all relevant jurisdictions, the Company's privacy policies and the requirements of any contract or codes of conduct to which the Company is a party. The Company has commercially reasonable physical, technical, organizational and administrative security measures and policies in place to protect all Personal Information collected by it or on its behalf from and against unauthorized access, use and/or disclosure. To the extent the Company maintains or transmits protected health information, as defined under 45 C.F.R. § 160.103, the Company is in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act, including all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. The Company is and has been in compliance in all material respects with all laws relating to data loss, theft and breach of security notification obligations.

2.28 Preclinical Development and Clinical Trials. The studies, tests, preclinical development and clinical trials, if any, conducted by or on behalf of the Company are being conducted in all material respects in accordance with experimental protocols, procedures and controls pursuant to accepted professional and scientific standards for products or product candidates comparable to those being developed by the Company and all applicable laws and regulations, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and 21 C.F.R. parts 50, 54, 56, 58, 312, and 812. The descriptions of, protocols for, and data and other results of, the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company that have been furnished or made available to the Purchasers are accurate and complete. The Company is not aware of any studies, tests, development or trials the results of which reasonably call into question the results of the studies, tests, development and trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company, and the Company has not received any notices or correspondence from the FDA or any other Governmental Entity or any Institutional Review Board or comparable authority requiring the termination, suspension or material modification of any studies, tests, preclinical development or clinical trials conducted by or on behalf of the Company.

2.29 FDA Approvals. The Company possesses all permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals from the appropriate federal, state or foreign regulatory authorities necessary to conduct its business, including all such permits, licenses, registrations, certificates, authorizations, orders and approvals required by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") or any other federal, state or foreign agencies or bodies engaged in the regulation of drugs, pharmaceuticals, medical devices or biohazardous materials. The Company has not received any notice of proceedings relating to the suspension, modification, revocation or cancellation of any such permit, license, registration, certificate, authorization, order or approval. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any officer, employee or agent of the Company has been convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct that has previously caused or would reasonably be expected to result in (A) disqualification or debarment by the FDA under 21 U.S.C. Sections 335(a) or (b), or any similar law, rule or regulation of any other Governmental Entities, (B) debarment, suspension, or exclusion under any Federal Healthcare Programs or by the General Services Administration, or (C) exclusion under 42 U.S.C. Section 1320a-7 or any similar law, rule or regulation of any Governmental Entities. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, employees, or to the Knowledge of seller, any of its contractors or agents is the subject of any pending or threatened investigation by FDA pursuant to its "Fraud, Untrue Statements of Material Facts, Bribery, and Illegal Gratuities" policy as stated at 56 Fed. Reg. 46191 (September 10, 1991) (the "FDA Application Integrity Policy") and any amendments thereto, or by any other similar Governmental Entity pursuant to any similar policy. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, employees, contractors, and agents has committed any act, made any statement or failed to make any statement that would reasonably be expected to provide a basis for FDA to invoke the FDA Application Integrity Policy or for any similar governmental entity to invoke a similar policy. Neither the Company nor any of its officers, employees, or to the Company's Knowledge, any of its contractors or agents has made any materially false statements on, or material omissions from, any notifications, applications, approvals, reports and other submissions to FDA or any similar governmental entity.

2.30 FDA Regulation. The Company is and has been in compliance with all applicable laws administered or issued by the FDA or any similar governmental entity, including the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and all other Laws regarding developing, testing, manufacturing, marketing, distributing or promoting the products of the Company, or complaint handling or adverse event reporting.

3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchaser. The Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company that:

3.1 Authorization. The Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into the Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements to which the Purchaser is a party, when executed and delivered by the Purchaser, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Purchaser, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies, or (b) to the extent the indemnification provisions contained in the Investors' Rights Agreement may be limited by applicable federal or state securities laws.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with the Purchaser in reliance upon the Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by the Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, the Purchaser hereby confirms, that the Shares to be acquired by the Purchaser will be acquired for investment for the Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that the Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, the Purchaser further represents that the Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any Person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such Person or to any third Person, with respect to any of the Shares. The Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Shares.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. The Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Shares with the Company's management and has had an opportunity to review the Company's facilities. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of the Purchaser to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. The Purchaser understands that the Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. The Purchaser understands that the Shares are "restricted securities" under applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, the Purchaser must hold the Shares indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities, or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. The Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the Shares, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale except as set forth in the Investors' Rights Agreement. The Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the Shares, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of the Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy.

3.5 No Public Market. The Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the Shares, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the Shares.

3.6 Legends. The Purchaser understands that the Shares and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the Shares, may be notated with one or all of the following legends:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO SUCH TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933."

(a) Any legend set forth in, or required by, the other Transaction Agreements.

(b) Any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the Shares represented by the certificate, instrument, or book entry so legended.

3.7 Accredited Investor. The Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act.

3.8 Foreign Investors. If the Purchaser is not a United States person (as defined by Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code), the Purchaser hereby represents that it has satisfied itself as to the full observance of the laws of its jurisdiction in connection with any invitation to subscribe for the Shares or any use of this Agreement, including (i) the legal requirements within its jurisdiction for the purchase of the Shares, (ii) any foreign exchange restrictions applicable to such purchase, (iii) any governmental or other consents that may need to be obtained, and (iv) the income tax and other tax consequences, if any, that may be relevant to the purchase, holding, redemption, sale, or transfer of the Shares. The Purchaser's subscription and payment for and continued beneficial ownership of the Shares will not violate any applicable securities or other laws of the Purchaser's jurisdiction.

3.9 No General Solicitation. Neither the Purchaser, nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including, through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation, or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the Shares.

3.10 Residence. The office or offices of the Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of the Purchaser is set forth on the signature page hereto.

4. Conditions to the Purchaser's Obligations at the Initial Closing. The obligations of the Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Initial Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before the Initial Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

4.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all respects as of the Initial Closing.

4.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company on or before the Initial Closing.

4.3 Compliance Certificate. The President of the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 4.1 and 4.2 have been fulfilled.

4.4 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of the Initial Closing.

4.5 Board of Directors. As of the Initial Closing, the authorized size of the Board shall be five (5), and the Board shall be comprised of Seth Harrison, M.D. and Philip R. Johnson, M.D., and the remaining seats shall initially be vacant.

4.6 Indemnification Agreement. The Company shall have executed and delivered the Indemnification Agreements.

4.7 Investors' Rights Agreement. The Company and the Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

4.8 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. The Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

4.9 Voting Agreement. The Company, the Purchaser, and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

4.10 Restated Certificate. The Company shall have filed the Restated Certificate with the Secretary of State of Delaware on or prior to the Closing, which shall continue to be in full force and effect as of the Closing.

4.11 Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to the Purchaser at the Closing a certificate certifying (i) the Bylaws of the Company, (ii) resolutions of the Board of Directors of the Company approving the Transaction Agreements and the transactions contemplated under the Transaction Agreements, and (iii) resolutions of the stockholders of the Company approving the Restated Certificate.

4.12 Proceedings and Documents. All corporate and other proceedings in connection with the transactions contemplated at the Initial Closing and all documents incident thereto shall be reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to the Purchaser, and the Purchaser (or its counsel) shall have received all such counterpart original and certified or other copies of such documents as reasonably requested. Such documents may include good standing certificates.

5. Conditions of the Purchaser's Obligations at the Milestone Closing. The obligations of the Purchaser to purchase Shares at the Milestone Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before the Milestone Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

5.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in Section 2 shall be true and correct in all respects (taking into account any permitted Updated Disclosure Schedule) as of the Milestone Closing.

5.2 Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by the Company on or before the Milestone Closing.

5.3 Compliance Certificate. The President of the Company shall deliver to the Purchaser at the Milestone Closing a certificate certifying that the conditions specified in Subsections 5.1 and 5.2 have been fulfilled.

5.4 No Material Adverse Change. Since the Initial Closing, there will not have occurred or arisen any event, change, change in condition, change in circumstance or occurrence, nor will there exist any event, change, change in condition, change in circumstance or occurrence, which individually or in the aggregate have resulted in or would reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

6. Conditions of the Company's Obligations at Closing. The obligations of the Company to sell Shares to the Purchaser at the Initial Closing or any subsequent Milestone Closing are subject to the fulfillment, on or before the Closing, of each of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived:

6.1 Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Purchaser contained in Section 3 shall be true and correct in all respects as of such Closing.

6.2 Performance. The Purchaser shall have performed and complied with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by them on or before such Closing.

6.3 Qualifications. All authorizations, approvals or permits, if any, of any governmental authority or regulatory body of the United States or of any state that are required in connection with the lawful issuance and sale of the Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be obtained and effective as of the Closing.

6.4 Investors' Rights Agreement. The Purchaser shall have executed and delivered the Investors' Rights Agreement.

6.5 Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement. The Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

6.6 Voting Agreement. The Purchaser and the other stockholders of the Company named as parties thereto shall have executed and delivered the Voting Agreement.

7. Miscellaneous.

7.1 Survival of Warranties. Unless otherwise set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of the Company and the Purchaser contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement shall survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the Closing and shall in no way be affected by any investigation or knowledge of the subject matter thereof made by or on behalf of the Purchaser or the Company.

7.2 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.3 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

7.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.5 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

7.6 Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt, or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail or facsimile during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page, or to such e-mail address, facsimile number or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.6. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Hogan Lovells US LLP, 100 International Drive, Suite 2000, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, Attn: Asher M. Rubin; email: asher.rubin@hoganlovells.com and if notice is given to the Purchaser, a copy shall also be given to Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., 230 Park Avenue, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10169, Attn: Daniel P. Finkelman; email: dan@appletreepartners.com.

7.7 No Finder's Fees. Each party represents that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. The Purchaser agrees to indemnify and to hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Purchaser or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible. The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

7.8 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, terminated or waived only with the written consent of the Company and the Purchaser. Any amendment or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding upon the Purchaser and each transferee of the Shares (or the Common Stock issuable upon conversion thereof), each future holder of all such securities, and the Company.

7.9 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.10 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

7.12 Termination of Closing Obligations. The Purchaser shall have the right to terminate its obligations to complete the Initial Closing or the Milestone Closings, as the case may be, if prior to the occurrence thereof, any of the following occurs:

(a) the Company consummates a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate);

(b) the closing of an initial public offering of the Company, in which case the Purchaser may terminate its obligations hereunder immediately prior to, or contingent upon, such closing; or

(c) the Company (i) applies for or consents to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (ii) becomes subject to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator of itself or substantially all of its property, (iii) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors, (iv) institutes any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, or files a petition or answer seeking reorganization or an arrangement with creditors to take advantage of any insolvency law, or files an answer admitting the material allegations of a bankruptcy, reorganization or insolvency petition filed against it, or (v) becomes subject to any involuntary proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other federal or state bankruptcy, reorganization, receivership, insolvency or other similar law affecting the rights of creditors generally, when proceeding is not dismissed within thirty (30) days of filing, or have an order for relief entered against it in any proceedings under the United States Bankruptcy Code.

7.13 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL

7.14 No Commitment for Additional Financing. The Company acknowledges and agrees that the Purchaser has not made any representation, undertaking, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance, other than the purchase of the Shares as set forth herein and subject to the conditions set forth herein. In addition, the Company acknowledges and agrees that (i) no statements, whether written or oral, made by the Purchaser or its representatives on or after the date of this Agreement shall create an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment, (ii) the Company shall not rely on any such statement by the Purchaser or its representatives, and (iii) an obligation, commitment or agreement to provide or assist the Company in obtaining any financing or investment may only be created by a written agreement, signed by the Purchaser and the Company, setting forth the terms and conditions of such financing or investment and stating that the parties intend for such writing to be a binding obligation or agreement. The Purchaser shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to refuse or decline to participate in any other financing of or investment in the Company, and shall have no obligation to assist or cooperate with the Company in obtaining any financing, investment or other assistance.

AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF LIMELIGHT BIO, INC.

(Pursuant to Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware)

Limelight Bio, Inc., a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "General Corporation Law"),

DOES HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That the name of this corporation is Limelight Bio, Inc., and that this corporation was originally incorporated pursuant to the General Corporation Law on January 20, 2016 under the name Arctic Bio, Inc.

2. That the Board of Directors duly adopted resolutions proposing to amend and restate the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation, as amended by that certain Certificate of Amendment filed on August 26, 2016 and as further amended by that certain Certificate of Amendment filed on November 7, 2016 and that certain Certificate of Amendment filed on November 22, 2016, declaring said amendment and restatement to be advisable and in the best interests of this corporation and its stockholders, and authorizing the appropriate officers of this corporation to solicit the consent of the stockholders therefor, which resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and restatement is as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Certificate of Incorporation of this corporation, as amended, be amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

FIRST: The name of this corporation is Limelight Bio, Inc. (the "Corporation").

SECOND: The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, 19801. The name of its registered agent at such address is The Corporation Trust Company.

THIRD: The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted is to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law.

FOURTH: The total number of shares of all classes of stock which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is (i) 85,364,050 shares of Common Stock, $0.0001 par value per share ("Common Stock") and (ii) 67,041,997 shares of Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share ("Preferred Stock").

The following is a statement of the designations and the powers, privileges and rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof in respect of each class of capital stock of the Corporation.

A. COMMON STOCK

1. General. The voting, dividend and liquidation rights of the holders of the Common Stock are subject to and qualified by the rights, powers and preferences of the holders of the Preferred Stock set forth herein.

2. Voting. The holders of the Common Stock are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held at all meetings of stockholders (and written actions in lieu of meetings); provided, however, that, except as otherwise required by law, holders of Common Stock, as such, shall not be entitled to vote on any amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation that relates solely to the terms of one or more outstanding series of Preferred Stock if the holders of such affected series are entitled, either separately or together with the holders of one or more other such series, to vote thereon pursuant to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or pursuant to the General Corporation Law. The number of authorized shares of Common Stock may be increased or decreased (but not below the number of shares thereof then outstanding) by (in addition to any vote of the holders of one or more series of Preferred Stock that may be required by the terms of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the affirmative vote of the holders of shares of capital stock of the Corporation representing a majority of the votes represented by all outstanding shares of capital stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, irrespective of the provisions of Section 242(b)(2) of the General Corporation Law.

B. PREFERRED STOCK

67,041,997 shares of the authorized Preferred Stock of the Corporation are hereby designated "Series A Preferred Stock" with the following rights, preferences, powers, privileges and restrictions, qualifications and limitations. The Series A Preferred Stock may be issued in one or more series, of which (i) one such series shall be denominated the "Series A1 Preferred Stock" and (ii) one such series shall be denominated the "Series A2 Preferred Stock". The Series A1 Preferred Stock shall consist of 20,000,000 shares and the Series A2 Preferred Stock shall consist of 47,041,997 shares. Each of the Series A1 Preferred Stock and the Series A2 Preferred Stock shall be deemed Series A Preferred Stock. Unless otherwise indicated, references to "sections" or "subsections" in this Part B of this Article Fourth refer to sections and subsections of Part B of this Article Fourth.

1. Dividends.

From and after the date of the issuance of any shares of Series A Preferred Stock, the holders of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive non-cumulative dividends at the rate of eight percent of the applicable Series A Original Issue Price (as defined below) per annum on such shares of Series A Preferred Stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Series A Preferred Stock) when, as, and if declared by the Board of Directors.

The Corporation shall not declare, pay or set aside any dividends on shares of any other class or series of capital stock of the Corporation (other than dividends on shares of Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock) unless (in addition to the obtaining of any consents required elsewhere in the Certificate of Incorporation) the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall first receive, or simultaneously receive, a dividend on each outstanding share of Series A Preferred Stock in an amount at least equal to (i) in the case of a dividend on Common Stock or any class or series that is convertible into Common Stock, that dividend per share of Series A Preferred Stock as would equal the product of (A) the dividend payable on each share of such class or series determined, if applicable, as if all shares of such class or series had been converted into Common Stock and (B) the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of a share of Series A Preferred Stock, in each case calculated on the record date for determination of holders entitled to receive such dividend or (ii) in the case of a dividend on any class or series that is not convertible into Common Stock, at a rate per share of Series A Preferred Stock determined by (A) dividing the amount of the dividend payable on each share of such class or series of capital stock by the original issuance price of such class or series of capital stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to such class or series) and (B) multiplying such fraction by an amount equal to the applicable Series A Original Issue Price (as defined below); provided that, if the Corporation declares, pays or sets aside, on the same date, a dividend on shares of more than one class or series of capital stock of the Corporation, the dividend payable to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 1 shall be calculated based upon the dividend on the class or series of capital stock that would result in the highest Series A Preferred Stock dividend. The "Series A Original Issue Price" shall mean (x) with respect to the Series A1 Preferred Stock, $1.0000 per share, and (y) with respect to the Series A2 Preferred Stock, $0.8078 per share, in each case (x) and (y), subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to such series of Series A Preferred Stock.

2. Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up; Certain Mergers, Consolidations and Asset Sales.

2.1 Preferential Payments to Holders of Series A Preferred Stock. In the event of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, and in the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined below), the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding shall be entitled to be paid out of the consideration payable to stockholders in such Deemed Liquidation Event or out of the Available Proceeds (as defined below), as applicable, before any payment shall be made to the holders of Common Stock by reason of their ownership thereof, an amount per share equal to the greater of (i) the applicable Series A Original Issue Price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid thereon, or (ii) such amount per share as would have been payable had all shares of Series A Preferred Stock been converted into Common Stock pursuant to Section 4 immediately prior to such liquidation, dissolution, winding up or Deemed Liquidation Event (the amount payable pursuant to this sentence is hereinafter referred to as the "Series A Liquidation Amount"). If upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or Deemed Liquidation Event, the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock the full amount to which they shall be entitled under this Subsection 2.1, the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares held by them upon such distribution if all amounts payable on or with respect to such shares were paid in full.

2.2 Payments to Holders of Common Stock. In the event of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, after the payment in full of all Series A Liquidation Amounts required to be paid to the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock, the remaining assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders or, in the case of a Deemed Liquidation Event, the consideration not payable to the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to Section 2.1 or the remaining Available Proceeds, as the case may be, shall be distributed among the holders of shares of Common Stock, pro rata based on the number of shares held by each such holder.

2.3 Deemed Liquidation Events.

2.3.1 Definition. Each of the following events shall be considered a "Deemed Liquidation Event" unless the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Requisite Holders") elect otherwise by written notice sent to the Corporation at least ten (10) days prior to the effective date of any such event:

(a) a merger or consolidation in which

(i) the Corporation is a constituent party or

(ii) a subsidiary of the Corporation is a constituent party and the Corporation issues shares of its capital stock pursuant to such merger or consolidation, except any such merger or consolidation involving the Corporation or a subsidiary in which the shares of capital stock of the Corporation outstanding immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to represent, or are converted into or exchanged for shares of capital stock that represent, immediately following such merger or consolidation, at least a majority, by voting power, of the capital stock of (1) the surviving or resulting corporation; or (2) if the surviving or resulting corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of another corporation immediately following such merger or consolidation, the parent corporation of such surviving or resulting corporation; or

(b) (1) the sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition, in a single transaction or series of related transactions, by the Corporation or any subsidiary of the Corporation of all or substantially all the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole or (2) the sale or disposition (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise, and whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions) of one or more subsidiaries of the Corporation if substantially all of the assets of the Corporation and its subsidiaries taken as a whole are held by such subsidiary or subsidiaries, except where such sale, lease, transfer, exclusive license or other disposition is to a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation.

2.3.2 Effecting a Deemed Liquidation Event.

(a) The Corporation shall not have the power to effect a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i) unless the agreement or plan of merger or consolidation for such transaction (the "Merger Agreement") provides that the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation in such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be paid to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2.

(b) In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event referred to in Subsection 2.3.1(a)(ii) or 2.3.1(b), if the Corporation does not effect a dissolution of the Corporation under the General Corporation Law within ninety (90) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, then (i) the Corporation shall send a written notice to each holder of Series A Preferred Stock no later than the ninetieth (90th) day after the Deemed Liquidation Event advising such holders of their right (and the requirements to be met to secure such right) pursuant to the terms of the following clause; (ii) to require the redemption of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock, and (iii) if the holders of at least a majority of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock so request in a written instrument delivered to the Corporation not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after such Deemed Liquidation Event, the Corporation shall use the consideration received by the Corporation for such Deemed Liquidation Event (net of any retained liabilities associated with the assets sold or technology licensed, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation), together with any other assets of the Corporation available for distribution to its stockholders, all to the extent permitted by Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders (the "Available Proceeds"), on the one hundred fiftieth (150th) day after such Deemed Liquidation Event, to redeem all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock at a price per share equal to the Series A Liquidation Amount. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a redemption pursuant to the preceding sentence, if the Available Proceeds are not sufficient to redeem all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall redeem a pro rata portion of each holder's shares of Series A Preferred Stock to the fullest extent of such Available Proceeds, based on the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable in respect of the shares to be redeemed if the Available Proceeds were sufficient to redeem all such shares, and shall redeem the remaining shares as soon as it may lawfully do so under Delaware law governing distributions to stockholders. The provisions of Section 6 shall apply, with such necessary changes in the details thereof as are necessitated by the context, to the redemption of the Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Subsection 2.3.2(b). Prior to the distribution or redemption provided for in this Subsection 2.3.2(b), the Corporation shall not expend or dissipate the consideration received for such Deemed Liquidation Event, except to discharge expenses incurred in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event or in the ordinary course of business.

2.3.3 Amount Deemed Paid or Distributed. The amount deemed paid or distributed to the holders of capital stock of the Corporation upon any such merger, consolidation, sale, transfer, exclusive license, other disposition or redemption shall be the cash or the value of the property, rights or securities to be paid or distributed to such holders pursuant to such Deemed Liquidation Event. The value of such property, rights or securities shall be determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of at least one Series A Director (as defined herein).

2.3.4 Allocation of Escrow and Contingent Consideration. In the event of a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to Subsection 2.3.1(a)(i), if any portion of the consideration payable to the stockholders of the Corporation is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies (the "Additional Consideration"), the Merger Agreement shall provide that (a) the portion of such consideration that is not Additional Consideration (such portion, the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event; and (b) any Additional Consideration which becomes payable to the stockholders of the Corporation upon satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated among the holders of capital stock of the Corporation in accordance with Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transaction. For the purposes of this Subsection 2.3.4, consideration placed into escrow or retained as a holdback to be available for satisfaction of indemnification or similar obligations in connection with such Deemed Liquidation Event shall be deemed to be Additional Consideration.

3. Voting.

3.1 General. On any matter presented to the stockholders of the Corporation for their action or consideration at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation (or by written consent of stockholders in lieu of meeting), each holder of outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to cast the number of votes equal to the number of whole shares of Common Stock into which the shares of Series A Preferred Stock held by such holder are convertible as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to vote on such matter. Except as provided by law or by the other provisions of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall vote together with the holders of Common Stock as a single class and on an as-converted to Common Stock basis.

3.2 Election of Directors. The holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three (3) directors of the Corporation (the "Series A Directors") and the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Corporation. Any director elected as provided in the preceding sentence may be removed without cause by, and only by, the affirmative vote of the holders of the shares of the class or series of capital stock entitled to elect such director or directors, given either at a special meeting of such stockholders duly called for that purpose or pursuant to a written consent of stockholders. If the holders of shares of Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, fail to elect a sufficient number of directors to fill all directorships for which they are entitled to elect directors, voting exclusively and as a separate class, pursuant to the first sentence of this Subsection 3.2, then any directorship not so filled shall remain vacant until such time as the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock or Common Stock, as the case may be, elect a person to fill such directorship by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting; and no such directorship may be filled by stockholders of the Corporation other than by the stockholders of the Corporation that are entitled to elect a person to fill such directorship, voting exclusively and as a separate class. The holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and of any other class or series of voting stock (including the Series A Preferred Stock), exclusively and voting together as a single class, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Corporation. At any meeting held for the purpose of electing a director, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of the class or series entitled to elect such director shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing such director. Except as otherwise provided in this Subsection 3.2, a vacancy in any directorship filled by the holders of any class or series shall be filled only by vote or written consent in lieu of a meeting of the holders of such class or series or by any remaining director or directors elected by the holders of such class or series pursuant to this Subsection 3.2.

3.3 Series A Preferred Stock Protective Provisions. For so long as any of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock are outstanding, the Corporation shall not, either directly or indirectly by amendment, merger, consolidation or otherwise, do any of the following without (in addition to any other vote required by law or this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation) the written consent or affirmative vote of the Requisite Holders given in writing or by vote at a meeting, consenting or voting (as the case may be) separately as a class, and any such act or transaction entered into without such consent or vote shall be null and void ab initio, and of no force or effect.

3.3.1 liquidate, dissolve or wind-up the business and affairs of the Corporation, effect any merger or consolidation or any other Deemed Liquidation Event, or consent to any of the foregoing;

3.3.2 amend, alter or repeal any provision of this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation;

3.3.3 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue shares of, any additional class or series of capital stock, or increase the authorized number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock or increase the authorized number of shares of any additional class or series of capital stock of the Corporation unless the same ranks junior to the Series A Preferred Stock with respect to the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends and rights of redemption;

3.3.4 (i) reclassify, alter or amend any existing security of the Corporation that is pari passu with the Series A Preferred Stock in respect of the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends or rights of redemption, if such reclassification, alteration or amendment would render such other security senior to the Series A Preferred Stock in respect of any such right, preference, or privilege or (ii) reclassify, alter or amend any existing security of the Corporation that is junior to the Series A Preferred Stock in respect of the distribution of assets on the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the payment of dividends or rights of redemption, if such reclassification, alteration or amendment would render such other security senior to or pari passu with the Series A Preferred Stock in respect of any such right, preference or privilege;

3.3.5 cause or permit any of its subsidiaries to, without approval of the Board of Directors, including the Series A Director, sell, issue, sponsor, create or distribute any digital tokens, cryptocurrency or other blockchain-based assets (collectively, "Tokens"), including through a pre-sale, initial coin offering, token distribution event or crowdfunding, or through the issuance of any instrument convertible into or exchangeable for Tokens;

3.3.6 purchase or redeem (or permit any subsidiary to purchase or redeem) or pay or declare any dividend or make any distribution on, any shares of capital stock of the Corporation other than (i) redemptions of or dividends or distributions on the Series A Preferred Stock as expressly authorized herein, (ii) dividends or other distributions payable on the Common Stock solely in the form of additional shares of Common Stock and (iii) repurchases of stock from former employees, officers, directors, consultants or other persons who performed services for the Corporation or any subsidiary in connection with the cessation of such employment or service at a price equal to the original purchase price;

3.3.7 create, or authorize the creation of, or issue, or authorize the issuance of any debt security or create any lien or security interest (except for purchase money liens or statutory liens of landlords, mechanics, materialmen, workmen, warehousemen and other similar persons arising or incurred in the ordinary course of business) or incur other indebtedness for borrowed money, including but not limited to obligations and contingent obligations under guarantees, or permit any subsidiary to take any such action with respect to any debt security lien, security interest or other indebtedness for borrowed money, if the aggregate indebtedness of the Corporation and its subsidiaries for borrowed money following such action would exceed $100,000 unless such debt security has received the prior approval of the Board of Directors;

3.3.8 create, or hold capital stock in, any subsidiary that is not wholly owned (either directly or through one or more other subsidiaries) by the Corporation, or permit any subsidiary to create, or authorize the creation of, or issue or obligate itself to issue, any shares of any class or series of capital stock, or sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any capital stock of any direct or indirect subsidiary of the Corporation, or permit any direct or indirect subsidiary to sell, lease, transfer, exclusively license or otherwise dispose (in a single transaction or series of related transactions) of all or substantially all of the assets of such subsidiary; or

3.3.9 increase or decrease the authorized number of directors constituting the Board of Directors.

4. Optional Conversion.

The holders of the Series A Preferred Stock shall have conversion rights as follows (the "Conversion Rights"):

4.1 Right to Convert.

4.1.1 Conversion Ratio. Each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder thereof, at any time and from time to time, and without the payment of additional consideration by the holder thereof, into such number of fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock as is determined by dividing the applicable Series A Original Issue Price by the Series A Conversion Price (as defined below) in effect at the time of conversion. The "Series A Conversion Price" shall initially be equal to the applicable

CONFIDENTIAL

Series A Original Issue Price. Such initial Series A Conversion Price, and the rate at which shares of Series A Preferred Stock may be converted into shares of Common Stock, shall be subject to adjustment as provided below.

4.1.2 Termination of Conversion Rights. In the event of a notice of redemption of any shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to Section 6, the Conversion Rights of the shares designated for redemption shall terminate at the close of business on the last full day preceding the date fixed for redemption, unless the redemption price is not fully paid on such redemption date, in which case the Conversion Rights for such shares shall continue until such price is paid in full. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation or a Deemed Liquidation Event, the Conversion Rights shall terminate at the close of business on the last full day preceding the date fixed for the payment of any such amounts distributable on such event to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock.

4.2 Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of Common Stock shall be issued upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock. In lieu of any fractional shares to which the holder would otherwise be entitled, the Corporation shall pay cash equal to such fraction multiplied by the fair market value of a share of Common Stock as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. Whether or not fractional shares would be issuable upon such conversion shall be determined on the basis of the total number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock the holder is at the time converting into Common Stock and the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion.

4.3 Mechanics of Conversion.

4.3.1 Notice of Conversion. In order for a holder of Series A Preferred Stock to voluntarily convert shares of Series A Preferred Stock into shares of Common Stock, such holder shall (a) provide written notice to the Corporation's transfer agent at the office of the transfer agent for the Series A Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) that such holder elects to convert all or any number of such holder's shares of Series A Preferred Stock and, if applicable, any event on which such conversion is contingent and (b), if such holder's shares are certificated, surrender the certificate or certificates for such shares of Series A Preferred Stock (or, if such registered holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate), at the office of the transfer agent for the Series A Preferred Stock (or at the principal office of the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent). Such notice shall state such holder's name or the names of the nominees in which such holder wishes the shares of Common Stock to be issued. If required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. The close of business on the date of receipt by the transfer agent (or by the Corporation if the Corporation serves as its own transfer agent) of such notice and, if applicable, certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) shall be the time of conversion (the "Conversion Time"), and the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the specified shares shall be deemed to be outstanding of record as of such date. The Corporation shall, as soon as practicable after the Conversion Time (i) issue and deliver to such holder of Series A Preferred Stock, or to his, her or its nominees, a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable upon such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and a certificate for the number (if any) of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock represented by the surrendered certificate that were not converted into Common Stock, (ii) pay in cash such amount as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion and (iii) pay all declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Series A Preferred Stock converted.

4.3.2 Reservation of Shares. The Corporation shall at all times when the Series A Preferred Stock shall be outstanding, reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued capital stock, for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, such number of its duly authorized shares of Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding Series A Preferred Stock; and if at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall take such corporate action as may be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purposes, including, without limitation, engaging in best efforts to obtain the requisite stockholder approval of any necessary amendment to this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Before taking any action which would cause an adjustment reducing the Series A Conversion Price below the then par value of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation will take any corporate action which may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary in order that the Corporation may validly and legally issue fully paid and non-assessable shares of Common Stock at such adjusted Series A Conversion Price.

4.3.3 Effect of Conversion. All shares of Series A Preferred Stock which shall have been surrendered for conversion as herein provided shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding and all rights with respect to such shares shall immediately cease and terminate at the Conversion Time, except only the right of the holders thereof to receive shares of Common Stock in exchange therefor, to receive payment in lieu of any fraction of a share otherwise issuable upon such conversion as provided in Subsection 4.2 and to receive payment of any dividends declared but unpaid thereon. Any shares of Series A Preferred Stock so converted shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock accordingly.

4.3.4 No Further Adjustment. Upon any such conversion, no adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price shall be made for any declared but unpaid dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock surrendered for conversion or on the Common Stock delivered upon conversion.

4.3.5 Taxes. The Corporation shall pay any and all issue and other similar taxes that may be payable in respect of any issuance or delivery of shares of Common Stock upon conversion of shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 4.

CONFIDENTIAL

The Corporation shall not, however, be required to pay any tax which may be payable in respect of any transfer involved in the issuance and delivery of shares of Common Stock in a name other than that in which the shares of Series A Preferred Stock so converted were registered, and no such issuance or delivery shall be made unless and until the person or entity requesting such issuance has paid to the Corporation the amount of any such tax or has established, to the satisfaction of the Corporation, that such tax has been paid.

4.4 Adjustments to Series A Conversion Price for Diluting Issues.

4.4.1 Special Definitions. For purposes of this Article Fourth, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Option" shall mean rights, options or warrants to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire Common Stock or Convertible Securities.

(b) "Series A Original Issue Date" shall mean the date on which the first share of Series A1 Preferred Stock or Series A2 Preferred Stock, as applicable, was issued.

(c) "Convertible Securities" shall mean any evidences of indebtedness, shares or other securities directly or indirectly convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, but excluding Options.

(d) "Additional Shares of Common Stock" shall mean all shares of Common Stock issued (or, pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3 below, deemed to be issued) by the Corporation after the Series A Original Issue Date, other than (1) the following shares of Common Stock and (2) shares of Common Stock deemed issued pursuant to the following Options and Convertible Securities (clauses (1) and (2), collectively, "Exempted Securities"):

(i) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as a dividend or distribution on Series A Preferred Stock;

(ii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued by reason of a dividend, stock split, split-up or other distribution on shares of Common Stock that is covered by Subsection 4.5, 4.6, 4.7 or 4.8;

(iii) shares of Common Stock or Options issued to employees or directors of, or consultants or advisors to, the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries pursuant to a plan, agreement or arrangement approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors;

(iv) shares of Common Stock or Convertible Securities actually issued upon the exercise of Options or shares of Common Stock actually issued upon the conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities, in each case provided such issuance is pursuant to the terms of such Option or Convertible Security;

(v) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued to banks, equipment lessors or other financial institutions, or to real property lessors, pursuant to a debt financing, equipment leasing or real property leasing transaction approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors;

(vi) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued to suppliers or third party service providers in connection with the provision of goods or services pursuant to transactions approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors;

(vii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued as acquisition consideration pursuant to the acquisition of another corporation by the Corporation by merger, purchase of substantially all of the assets or other reorganization or to a joint venture agreement, provided that such issuances are approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors; or

(viii) shares of Common Stock, Options or Convertible Securities issued in connection with sponsored research, collaboration, technology license, development, OEM, marketing or other similar agreements or strategic partnerships approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, including the approval of the Series A Directors.

4.4.2 No Adjustment of Series A Conversion Price. No adjustment in the Series A Conversion Price shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock if the Corporation receives written notice from the Requisite Holders agreeing that no such adjustment shall be made as the result of the issuance or deemed issuance of such Additional Shares of Common Stock.

4.4.3 Deemed Issue of Additional Shares of Common Stock.

(a) If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall issue any Options or Convertible Securities (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities) or shall fix a record date for the determination of holders of any class of securities entitled to receive any such Options or Convertible Securities, then the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instrument relating thereto, assuming the satisfaction of any conditions to exercisability, convertibility or exchangeability but without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or, in the case of Convertible Securities and Options therefor, the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, shall be deemed to be Additional Shares of Common Stock issued as of the time of such issue or, in case such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date.

(b) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security, the issuance of which resulted in an adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, are revised as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase or decrease in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any increase or decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, then, effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective, the Series A Conversion Price computed upon the original issue of such Option or Convertible Security (or upon the occurrence of a record date with respect thereto) shall be readjusted to such Series A Conversion Price as would have obtained had such revised terms been in effect upon the original date of issuance of such Option or Convertible Security. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no readjustment pursuant to this clause (b) shall have the effect of increasing the Series A Conversion Price to an amount which exceeds the lower of (i) the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to the original adjustment made as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security, or (ii) the Series A Conversion Price that would have resulted from any issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock (other than deemed issuances of Additional Shares of Common Stock as a result of the issuance of such Option or Convertible Security) between the original adjustment date and such readjustment date.

(c) If the terms of any Option or Convertible Security (excluding Options or Convertible Securities which are themselves Exempted Securities), the issuance of which did not result in an adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 (either because the consideration per share (determined pursuant to Subsection 4.4.5) of the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto was equal to or greater than the Series A Conversion Price then in effect, or because such Option or Convertible Security was issued before the Series A Original Issue Date), are revised after the Series A Original Issue Date as a result of an amendment to such terms or any other adjustment pursuant to the provisions of such Option or Convertible Security (but excluding automatic adjustments to such terms pursuant to anti-dilution or similar provisions of such Option or Convertible Security) to provide for either (1) any increase in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion or exchange of any such Option or Convertible Security or (2) any decrease in the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion or exchange, then such Option or Convertible Security, as so amended or adjusted, and the Additional Shares of Common Stock subject thereto (determined in the manner provided in Subsection 4.4.3(a) shall be deemed to have been issued effective upon such increase or decrease becoming effective.

(d) Upon the expiration or termination of any unexercised Option or unconverted or unexchanged Convertible Security (or portion thereof) which resulted (either upon its original issuance or upon a revision of its terms) in an adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4, the Series A Conversion Price shall be readjusted to such Series A Conversion Price as would have obtained had such Option or Convertible Security (or portion thereof) never been issued.

(e) If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, is calculable at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended but is subject to adjustment based upon subsequent events, any adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price provided for in this Subsection 4.4.3 shall be effected at the time of such issuance or amendment based on such number of shares or amount of consideration without regard to any provisions for subsequent adjustments (and any subsequent adjustments shall be treated as provided in clauses (b) and (c) of this Subsection 4.4.3). If the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise, conversion and/or exchange of any Option or Convertible Security, or the consideration payable to the Corporation upon such exercise, conversion and/or exchange, cannot be calculated at all at the time such Option or Convertible Security is issued or amended, any adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price that would result under the terms of this Subsection 4.4.3 at the time of such issuance or amendment shall instead be effected at the time such number of shares and/or amount of consideration is first calculable (even if subject to subsequent adjustments), assuming for purposes of calculating such adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price that such issuance or amendment took place at the time such calculation can first be made.

4.4.4 Adjustment of Series A Conversion Price Upon Issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock. In the event the Corporation shall at any time after the Series A Original Issue Date issue Additional Shares of Common Stock (including Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to be issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3), without consideration or for a consideration per share less than the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance, then the Series A Conversion Price shall be reduced, concurrently with such issue, to a price (calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent) determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$CP_2 = CP_1 * (A + B) \div (A + C).$$

For purposes of the foregoing formula, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "CP_2" shall mean the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately after such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock

(b) "CP_1" shall mean the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock;

(c) "A" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance of Additional Shares of Common Stock (treating for this purpose as outstanding all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of Options outstanding immediately prior to such issuance or deemed issuance or upon conversion or exchange of Convertible Securities (including the Series A Preferred Stock) outstanding (assuming exercise of any outstanding Options therefor) immediately prior to such issue);

(d) "B" shall mean the number of shares of Common Stock that would have been issued if such Additional Shares of Common Stock had been issued or deemed issued at a price per share equal to CP_1 (determined by dividing the aggregate consideration received by the Corporation in respect of such issue by CP_1); and

(e) "C" shall mean the number of such Additional Shares of Common Stock issued in such transaction.

4.4.5 Determination of Consideration. For purposes of this Subsection 4.4, the consideration received by the Corporation for the issuance or deemed issuance of any Additional Shares of Common Stock shall be computed as follows:

(a) Cash and Property: Such consideration shall:

(i) insofar as it consists of cash, be computed at the aggregate amount of cash received by the Corporation, excluding amounts paid or payable for accrued interest;

(ii) insofar as it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair market value thereof at the time of such issue, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation; and

(iii) in the event Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued together with other shares or securities or other assets of the Corporation for consideration which covers both, be the proportion of such consideration so received, computed as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) above, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

(b) Options and Convertible Securities. The consideration per share received by the Corporation for Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued pursuant to Subsection 4.4.3, relating to Options and Convertible Securities, shall be determined by dividing:

(i) The total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issue of such Options or Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such consideration) payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, by

(ii) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

4.4.6 Multiple Closing Dates. In the event the Corporation shall issue on more than one date Additional Shares of Common Stock that are a part of one transaction or a series of related transactions and that would result in an adjustment to the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to the terms of Subsection 4.4.4 then, upon the final such issuance, the Series A Conversion Price shall be readjusted to give effect to all such issuances as if they occurred on the date of the first such issuance (and without giving effect to any additional adjustments as a result of any such subsequent issuances within such period).

4.5 Adjustment for Stock Splits and Combinations. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date effect a subdivision of the outstanding Common Stock, the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately before that subdivision shall be proportionately decreased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be increased in proportion to such increase in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. If the Corporation shall at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date combine the outstanding shares of Common Stock, the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately before the combination shall be proportionately increased so that the number of shares of Common Stock issuable on conversion of each share of such series shall be decreased in proportion to such decrease in the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock outstanding. Any adjustment under this subsection shall become effective at the close of business on the date the subdivision or combination becomes effective.

4.6 Adjustment for Certain Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable on the Common Stock in additional shares of Common Stock, then and in each such event the Series A Conversion Price in effect immediately before such event shall be decreased as of the time of such issuance or, in the event such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date, by multiplying the Series A Conversion Price then in effect by a fraction:

(1) the numerator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date, and

(2) the denominator of which shall be the total number of shares of Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the time of such issuance or the close of business on such record date plus the number of shares of Common Stock issuable in payment of such dividend or distribution.

Notwithstanding the foregoing (a) if such record date shall have been fixed and such dividend is not fully paid or if such distribution is not fully made on the date fixed therefor, the Series A Conversion Price shall be recomputed accordingly as of the close of business on such record date and thereafter the Series A Conversion Price shall be adjusted pursuant to this subsection as of the time of actual payment of such dividends or distributions; and (b) that no such adjustment shall be made if the holders of Series A Preferred Stock simultaneously receive a dividend or other distribution of shares of Common Stock in a number equal to the number of shares of Common Stock as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.7 Adjustments for Other Dividends and Distributions. In the event the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the Series A Original Issue Date shall make or issue, or fix a record date for the determination of holders of Common Stock entitled to receive, a dividend or other distribution payable in securities of the Corporation (other than a distribution of shares of Common Stock in respect of outstanding shares of Common Stock) or in other property and the provisions of Section 1 do not apply to such dividend or distribution, then and in each such event the holders of Series A Preferred Stock shall receive, simultaneously with the distribution to the holders of Common Stock, a dividend or other distribution of such securities or other property in an amount equal to the amount of such securities or other property as they would have received if all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock had been converted into Common Stock on the date of such event.

4.8 Adjustment for Merger or Reorganization, etc. Subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, if there shall occur any reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger involving the Corporation in which the Common Stock (but not the Series A Preferred Stock) is converted into or exchanged for securities, cash or other property (other than a transaction covered by Subsections 4.4, 4.6 or 4.7), then, following any such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger, each share of Series A Preferred Stock shall thereafter be convertible in lieu of the Common Stock into which it was convertible prior to such event into the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property which a holder of the number of shares of Common Stock of the Corporation issuable upon conversion of one share of Series A Preferred Stock immediately prior to such reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, consolidation or merger would have been entitled to receive pursuant to such transaction; and, in such case, appropriate adjustment (as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors of the Corporation) shall be made in the application of the provisions in this Section 4 with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock, to the end that the provisions set forth in this Section 4 (including provisions with respect to changes in and other adjustments of the Series A Conversion Price) shall thereafter be applicable, as nearly as reasonably may be, in relation to any securities or other property thereafter deliverable upon the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock.

4.9 Certificate as to Adjustments. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Series A Conversion Price pursuant to this Section 4, the Corporation at its expense shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter, compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms hereof and furnish to each holder of Series A Preferred Stock a certificate setting forth such adjustment or readjustment (including the kind and amount of securities, cash or other property into which the Series A Preferred Stock is convertible) and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The Corporation shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the written request at any time of any holder of Series A Preferred Stock (but in any event not later than ten (10) days thereafter), furnish or cause to be furnished to such holder a certificate setting forth (i) the Series A Conversion Price then in effect, and (ii) the number of shares of Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other securities, cash or property which then would be received upon the conversion of Series A Preferred Stock.

4.10 Notice of Record Date. In the event:

CONFIDENTIAL ATP_00196320

(a) the Corporation shall take a record of the holders of its Common Stock (or other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock) for the purpose of entitling or enabling them to receive any dividend or other distribution, or to receive any right to subscribe for or purchase any shares of capital stock of any class or any other securities, or to receive any other security; or

(b) of any capital reorganization of the Corporation, any reclassification of the Common Stock of the Corporation, or any Deemed Liquidation Event; or

(c) of the voluntary or involuntary dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the Corporation, then, and in each such case, the Corporation will send or cause to be sent to the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock a notice specifying, as the case may be, (i) the record date for such dividend, distribution or right, and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right, or (ii) the effective date on which such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up is proposed to take place, and the time, if any is to be fixed, as of which the holders of record of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities at the time issuable upon the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock) shall be entitled to exchange their shares of Common Stock (or such other capital stock or securities) for securities or other property deliverable upon such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation, merger, transfer, dissolution, liquidation or winding-up, and the amount per share and character of such exchange applicable to the Series A Preferred Stock and the Common Stock. Such notice shall be sent at least ten (10) days prior to the record date or effective date for the event specified in such notice.

5. Mandatory Conversion.

5.1 Trigger Events. Upon either (a) the closing of the sale of shares of Common Stock to the public at a price of at least $2.4234 per share (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the Common Stock), in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $50 million of proceeds, net of the underwriting discount and commissions, to the Corporation and in connection with such offering the Common Stock is listed for trading on the Nasdaq Stock Market's National Market, the New York Stock Exchange or another exchange or marketplace approved the Board of Directors, including the approval of at least one Series A Director or (b) the date and time, or the occurrence of an event, specified by vote or written consent of the Requisite Holders (the time of such closing or the date and time specified or the time of the event specified in such vote or written consent is referred to herein as the "Mandatory Conversion Time"), then (i) all outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall automatically be converted into shares of Common Stock, at the then effective conversion rate as calculated pursuant to Subsection 4.1.1. and (ii) such shares may not be reissued by the Corporation.

5.2 Procedural Requirements. All holders of record of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be sent written notice of the Mandatory Conversion Time and the place designated for mandatory conversion of all such shares of Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to this Section 5. Such notice need not be sent in advance of the occurrence of the Mandatory Conversion Time. Upon receipt of such notice, each holder of shares of Series A Preferred Stock in certificated form shall surrender his, her or its certificate or certificates for all such shares (or, if such holder alleges that such certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a lost certificate affidavit and agreement reasonably acceptable to the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation against any claim that may be made against the Corporation on account of the alleged loss, theft or destruction of such certificate) to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice. If so required by the Corporation, any certificates surrendered for conversion shall be endorsed or accompanied by written instrument or instruments of transfer, in form satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by the registered holder or by his, her or its attorney duly authorized in writing. All rights with respect to the Series A Preferred Stock converted pursuant to Subsection 5.1, including the rights, if any, to receive notices and vote (other than as a holder of Common Stock), will terminate at the Mandatory Conversion Time (notwithstanding the failure of the holder or holders thereof to surrender any certificates at or prior to such time), except only the rights of the holders thereof, upon surrender of any certificate or certificates of such holders (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) therefor, to receive the items provided for in the next sentence of this Subsection 5.2. As soon as practicable after the Mandatory Conversion Time and, if applicable, the surrender of any certificate or certificates (or lost certificate affidavit and agreement) for Series A Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall (a) issue and deliver to such holder, or to his, her or its nominees, a certificate or certificates for the number of full shares of Common Stock issuable on such conversion in accordance with the provisions hereof and (b)pay cash as provided in Subsection 4.2 in lieu of any fraction of a share of Common Stock otherwise issuable upon such conversion and the payment of any declared but unpaid dividends on the shares of Series A Preferred Stock converted. Such converted Series A Preferred Stock shall be retired and cancelled and may not be reissued as shares of such series, and the Corporation may thereafter take such appropriate action (without the need for stockholder action) as may be necessary to reduce the authorized number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock accordingly.

6. Redeemed or Otherwise Acquired Shares. Any shares of Series A Preferred Stock that are redeemed or otherwise acquired by the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries shall be automatically and immediately cancelled and retired and shall not be reissued, sold or transferred. Neither the Corporation nor any of its subsidiaries may exercise any voting or other rights granted to the holders of Series A Preferred Stock following redemption.

7. Waiver. Any of the rights, powers, preferences and other terms of the Series A Preferred Stock set forth herein may be waived on behalf of all holders of Series A Preferred Stock by the affirmative written consent or vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock then outstanding.

8. Notices. Any notice required or permitted by the provisions of this Article Fourth to be given to a holder of shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the post office address last shown on the records of the Corporation, or given by electronic communication in compliance with the provisions of the General Corporation Law, and shall be deemed sent upon such mailing or electronic transmission.

FIFTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws, in furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized to make, repeal, alter, amend and rescind any or all of the Bylaws of the Corporation.

SIXTH: Subject to any additional vote required by this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the number of directors of the Corporation shall be determined in the manner set forth in the Bylaws of the Corporation. Each director shall be entitled to one vote on each matter presented to the Board of Directors; provided, however, that, so long as the holders of Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to elect a Series A Director, the affirmative vote the one Series A Director shall be required for the authorization by the Board of Directors of any of the matters set forth in Section 5.5 of the Investors' Rights Agreement, dated on or around the date hereof, by and among the Corporation and the other parties thereto, as such agreement may be amended from time to time.

SEVENTH: Elections of directors need not be by written ballot unless the Bylaws of the Corporation shall so provide.

EIGHTH: Meetings of stockholders may be held within or without the State of Delaware, as the Bylaws of the Corporation may provide. The books of the Corporation may be kept outside the State of Delaware at such place or places as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors or in the Bylaws of the Corporation.

NINTH: To the fullest extent permitted by law, a director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. If the General Corporation Law or any other law of the State of Delaware is amended after approval by the stockholders of this Article Ninth to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the General Corporation Law as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Ninth by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of, or increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director occurring prior to, such repeal or modification.

TENTH: To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Corporation is authorized to provide indemnification of (and advancement of expenses to) directors, officers and agents of the Corporation (and any other persons to which General Corporation Law permits the Corporation to provide indemnification) through Bylaw provisions, agreements with such agents or other persons, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, in excess of the indemnification and advancement otherwise permitted by Section 145 of the General Corporation Law.

Any amendment, repeal or modification of the foregoing provisions of this Article Tenth shall not (a) adversely affect any right or protection of any director, officer or other agent of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification or (b) increase the liability of any director of the Corporation with respect to any acts or omissions of such director, officer or agent occurring prior to, such amendment, repeal or modification.

ELEVENTH: The Corporation renounces, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any interest or expectancy of the Corporation in, or in being offered an opportunity to participate in, any Excluded Opportunity. An "Excluded Opportunity" is any matter, transaction or interest that is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or which otherwise comes into the possession of (i) any director of the Corporation who is not an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, or (ii) any holder of Series A Preferred Stock or any partner, member, director, stockholder, employee, affiliate or agent of any such holder, other than someone who is an employee of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries (collectively, the persons referred to in clauses (i) and (ii) are "Covered Persons"), unless such matter, transaction or interest is presented to, or acquired, created or developed by, or otherwise comes into the possession of, a Covered Person expressly and solely in such Covered Person's capacity as a director of the Corporation while such Covered Person is performing services in such capacity. Any repeal or modification of this Article Eleventh will only be prospective and will not affect the rights under this Article Eleventh in effect at the time of the occurrence of any actions or omissions to act giving rise to liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock the outstanding, will be required to amend or repeal, or to adopt any provisions inconsistent with this Article Eleventh.

TWELFTH: Unless the Corporation consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware shall be the sole and exclusive forum for any stockholder (including a beneficial owner) to bring (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of the Corporation, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of fiduciary duty owed by any director, officer or other employee of the Corporation to the Corporation or the Corporation's stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees arising pursuant to any provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law or the Corporation's certificate of incorporation or bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim against the Corporation, its directors, officers or employees governed by the internal affairs doctrine, except for, as to each of (i) through (iv) above, any claim as to which the Court of Chancery determines that there is an indispensable party not subject to the jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery (and the indispensable party does not consent to the personal jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery within ten days following such determination), which is vested in the exclusive jurisdiction of a court or forum other than the Court of Chancery, or for which the Court of Chancery does not have subject matter jurisdiction. If any provision or provisions of this Article Twelfth shall be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any person or entity or circumstance for any reason whatsoever, then, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the validity, legality and enforceability of such provisions in any other circumstance and of the remaining provisions of this Article Twelfth (including, without limitation, each portion of any sentence of this Article Twelfth containing any such provision held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable that is not itself held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable) and the application of such provision to other persons or entities and circumstances shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

3. That the foregoing amendment and restatement was approved by the holders of the requisite number of shares of this corporation in accordance with Section 228 of the General Corporation Law.

4. That this Certificate of Incorporation, which restates and integrates and further amends the provisions of this Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation, has been duly adopted in accordance with Sections 242 and 245 of the General Corporation Law.

CONFIDENTIAL

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation has been executed by a duly authorized officer of this corporation on this 5th day of August, 2019.

EXHIBIT B

DISCLOSURE SCHEDULE

DISCLOSURE SCHEDULE

This Schedule of Exceptions is made and given pursuant to Section 2 of the Series A2 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of August 5, 2019 (the "Agreement"), between Limelight Bio, Inc. (the "Company") and Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., a Cayman Islands limited partnership (the "Purchaser"). All capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings as defined in the Agreement, unless otherwise provided. The section numbers below correspond to the section numbers of the representations and warranties in the Agreement; provided, however, that any information disclosed herein under any section number shall be deemed to be disclosed and incorporated into any other section number under the Agreement where such disclosure would be appropriate and such appropriateness is reasonably apparent from the face of such disclosure. Nothing in this Schedule of Exceptions is intended to broaden the scope of any representation or warranty contained in the Agreement or to create any covenant. Inclusion of any item in this Schedule of Exceptions (1) does not represent a determination that such item is material or establish a standard of materiality, (2) does not represent a determination that such item did not arise in the ordinary course of business, (3) does not represent a determination that the transactions contemplated by the Agreement require the consent of third parties, and (4) shall not constitute, or be deemed to be, an admission to any third party concerning such item. This Schedule of Exceptions includes brief descriptions or summaries of certain agreements and instruments, copies of which are available upon reasonable request. Such descriptions do not purport to be comprehensive, and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the text of the documents described, true and complete copies of which have been provided to the Purchaser or its counsel.

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

THIS INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made and entered into as of August 5, 2019 between Limelight Bio, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and [name] ("Indemnitee").

WITNESSETH THAT:

WHEREAS, highly competent persons have become more reluctant to serve corporations as directors and/or officers or in other capacities unless they are provided with adequate protection through insurance or adequate indemnification against inordinate risks of claims and actions against them arising out of their service to and activities on behalf of the corporation;

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") has determined that, in order to attract and retain qualified individuals, the Company will attempt to maintain on an ongoing basis, at its sole expense, liability insurance to protect persons serving the Company and its subsidiaries from certain liabilities. Although the furnishing of such insurance has been a customary and widespread practice among United States-based corporations and other business enterprises, the Company believes that, given current market conditions and trends, such insurance may be available to it in the future only at higher premiums and with more exclusions. At the same time, directors, officers, and other persons in service to corporations or business enterprises are being increasingly subjected to expensive and time-consuming litigation relating to, among other things, matters that traditionally would have been brought only against the Company or business enterprise itself. The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company require indemnification of the officers and directors of the Company. Indemnitee may also be entitled to indemnification pursuant to the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware ("DGCL"). The Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and the DGCL expressly provide that the indemnification provisions set forth therein are not exclusive, and thereby contemplate that contracts may be entered into between the Company and members of the Board, officers and other persons with respect to indemnification;

WHEREAS, the uncertainties relating to such insurance and to indemnification have increased the difficulty of attracting and retaining such persons;

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that the increased difficulty in attracting and retaining such persons is detrimental to the best interests of the Company's stockholders and that the Company should act to assure such persons that there will be increased certainty of such protection in the future;

WHEREAS, it is reasonable, prudent and necessary for the Company contractually to obligate itself to indemnify, and to advance expenses on behalf of, such persons to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law so that they will serve or continue to serve the Company free from undue concern that they will not be so indemnified;

WHEREAS, this Agreement is a supplement to and in furtherance of the Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation of the Company and any resolutions adopted pursuant thereto, and shall not be deemed a substitute therefor, nor to diminish or abrogate any rights of Indemnitee thereunder; and

WHEREAS, Indemnitee does not regard the protection available under the Company's Bylaws and Certificate of Incorporation and insurance as adequate in the present circumstances, and may not be willing to serve as an officer or director without adequate protection, and the Company desires Indemnitee to serve in such capacity. Indemnitee is willing to serve, continue to serve and to take on additional service for or on behalf of the Company on the condition that he be so indemnified; and

[WHEREAS, Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification and/or insurance provided by Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. and certain of its affiliates (the "Fund Indemnitor") which Indemnitee and the Fund Indemnitor intend to be secondary to the primary obligation of the Company to indemnify Indemnitee as provided herein, with the Company's acknowledgement and agreement to the foregoing being a material condition to Indemnitee's willingness to serve on the Board.]

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of Indemnitee's agreement to serve as an officer and/or director from and after the date hereof, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Indemnity of Indemnitee. The Company hereby agrees to hold harmless and indemnify Indemnitee to the fullest extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time. In furtherance of the foregoing indemnification, and without limiting the generality thereof.

(a) Proceedings Other Than Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section l(a) if, by reason of his Corporate Status (as hereinafter defined), the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (as hereinafter defined) other than a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(a), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses (as hereinafter defined), judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him, or on his behalf, in connection with such Proceeding or any claim, issue or matter therein, if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and with respect to any criminal Proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the Indemnitee's conduct was unlawful.

(b) Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Indemnitee shall be entitled to the rights of indemnification provided in this Section 1(b) if, by reason of his Corporate Status, the Indemnitee is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding brought by or in the right of the Company. Pursuant to this Section 1(b), Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the Indemnitee, or on the Indemnitee's behalf, in connection with such Proceeding if the Indemnitee acted in good faith and in a manner the Indemnitee reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company; provided, however, if applicable law so provides, no indemnification against such Expenses shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter in such Proceeding as to which Indemnitee shall have been adjudged to be liable to the Company unless and to the extent that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware shall determine that such indemnification may be made.

(c) Indemnification for Expenses of a Party Who is Wholly or Partly Successful. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his Corporate Status, a party to and is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in any Proceeding, he shall be indemnified to the maximum extent permitted by law, as such may be amended from time to time, against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or on his behalf in connection therewith. If Indemnitee is not wholly successful in such Proceeding but is successful, on the merits or otherwise, as to one or more but less than all claims, issues or matters in such Proceeding, the Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or on his behalf in connection with each successfully resolved claim, issue or matter. For purposes of this Section and without limitation, the termination of any claim, issue or matter in such a Proceeding by dismissal, with or without prejudice, shall be deemed to be a successful result as to such claim, issue or matter.

(d) [Indemnification of Appointing Stockholder. If (i) Indemnitee is or was affiliated with one or more venture capital funds that has invested in the Company (an "Appointing Stockholder"), (ii) the Appointing Stockholder is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or a participant in any Proceeding, and (iii) the Appointing Stockholder's involvement in the Proceeding results from any claim based on the Indemnitee's service to the Company as a director or other fiduciary of the Company, the Appointing Stockholder will be entitled to indemnification hereunder for Expenses to the same extent as Indemnitee, and the terms of this Agreement as they relate to procedures for indemnification of Indemnitee and advancement of Expenses shall apply to any such indemnification of Appointing Stockholder.]

2. Additional Indemnity. In addition to, and without regard to any limitations on, the indemnification provided for in Section 1 of this Agreement, the Company shall and hereby does indemnify and hold harmless Indemnitee against all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him or on his behalf if, by reason of his Corporate Status, he is, or is threatened to be made, a party to or participant in any Proceeding (including a Proceeding by or in the right of the Company), including, without limitation, all liability arising out of the negligence or active or passive wrongdoing of Indemnitee. The only limitation that shall exist upon the Company's obligations pursuant to this Agreement shall be that the Company shall not be obligated to make any payment to Indemnitee that is finally determined (under the procedures, and subject to the presumptions, set forth in Sections 6 and 7 hereof) to be unlawful.

3. Contribution.

(a) Whether or not the indemnification provided in Sections 1 and 2 hereof is available, in respect of any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall pay, in the first instance, the entire amount of any judgment or settlement of such action, suit or proceeding without requiring Indemnitee to contribute to such payment and the Company hereby waives and relinquishes any right of contribution it may have against Indemnitee. The Company shall not enter into any settlement of any action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding) unless such settlement provides for a full and final release of all claims asserted against Indemnitee.

(b) Without diminishing or impairing the obligations of the Company set forth in the preceding subparagraph, if, for any reason, Indemnitee shall elect or be required to pay all or any portion of any judgment or settlement in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), the Company shall contribute to the amount of Expenses, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred and paid or payable by Indemnitee in proportion to the relative benefits received by the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, from the transaction or events from which such action, suit or proceeding arose; provided, however, that the proportion determined on the basis of relative benefit may, to the extent necessary to conform to law, be further adjusted by reference to the relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company other than Indemnitee who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, in connection with the transaction or events that resulted in such expenses, judgments, fines or settlement amounts, as well as any other equitable considerations which applicable law may require to be considered. The relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such action, suit or proceeding), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the degree to which their actions were motivated by intent to gain personal profit or advantage, the degree to which their liability is primary or secondary and the degree to which their conduct is active or passive.

(c) The Company hereby agrees to fully indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless from any claims of contribution which may be brought by officers, directors, or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who may be jointly liable with Indemnitee.

(d) To the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, if the indemnification provided for in this Agreement is unavailable to Indemnitee for any reason whatsoever, the Company, in lieu of indemnifying Indemnitee, shall contribute to the amount incurred by Indemnitee, whether for judgments, fines, penalties, excise taxes, amounts paid or to be paid in settlement and/or for Expenses, in connection with any claim relating to an indemnifiable event under this Agreement, in such proportion as is deemed fair and reasonable in light of all of the circumstances of such Proceeding in order to reflect (i) the relative benefits received by the Company and Indemnitee as a result of the event(s) and/or transaction(s) giving cause to such Proceeding and/or (ii) the relative fault of the Company (and its directors, officers, employees and agents) and Indemnitee in connection with such event(s) and/or transaction(s).

4. Indemnification for Expenses of a Witness. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, to the extent that Indemnitee is, by reason of his Corporate Status, a witness, or is made (or asked) to respond to discovery requests, in any Proceeding to which Indemnitee is not a party, he shall be indemnified against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by him or on his behalf in connection therewith.

5. Advancement of Expenses. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Company shall advance all Expenses incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with any Proceeding by reason of Indemnitee's Corporate Status within thirty (30) days after the receipt by the Company of a statement or statements from Indemnitee requesting such advance or advances from time to time, whether prior to or after final disposition of such Proceeding. Such statement or statements shall reasonably evidence the Expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall include or be preceded or accompanied by a written undertaking by or on behalf of Indemnitee to repay any Expenses advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified against such Expenses. Any advances and undertakings to repay pursuant to this Section 5 shall be unsecured and interest free.

6. Procedures and Presumptions for Determination of Entitlement to Indemnification. It is the intent of this Agreement to secure for Indemnitee rights of indemnity that are as favorable as may be permitted under the DGCL and public policy of the State of Delaware. Accordingly, the parties agree that the following procedures and presumptions shall apply in the event of any question as to whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement:

(a) To obtain indemnification under this Agreement, Indemnitee shall submit to the Company a written request, including therein or therewith such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnitee and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification. The Secretary of the Company shall, promptly upon receipt of such a request for indemnification, advise the Board in writing that Indemnitee has requested indemnification. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any failure of Indemnitee to provide such a request to the Company, or to provide such a request in a timely fashion, shall not relieve the Company of any liability that it may have to Indemnitee unless, and to the extent that, such failure actually and materially prejudices the interests of the Company.

(b) Upon written request by Indemnitee for indemnification pursuant to the first sentence of Section 6(a) hereof, a determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement thereto shall be made in the specific case by one of the following four methods, which shall be at the election of the Board (1) by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (2) by a committee of disinterested directors designated by a majority vote of the disinterested directors, even though less than a quorum, (3) if there are no disinterested directors or if the disinterested directors so direct, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to the Indemnitee, or (4) if so directed by the Board, by the stockholders of the Company. For purposes hereof, disinterested directors are those members of the Board who are not parties to the action, suit or proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) If the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, the Independent Counsel shall be selected as provided in this Section 6(c). The Independent Counsel shall be selected by the Board. Indemnitee may, within ten (10) days after such written notice of selection shall have been given, deliver to the Company a written objection to such selection; provided, however, that such objection may be asserted only on the ground that the Independent Counsel so selected does not meet the requirements of "Independent Counsel" as defined in Section 13 of this Agreement, and the objection shall set forth with particularity the factual basis of such assertion. Absent a proper and timely objection, the person so selected shall act as Independent Counsel. If a written objection is made and substantiated, the Independent Counsel selected may not serve as Independent Counsel unless and until such objection is withdrawn or a court has determined that such objection is without merit. If, within twenty (20) days after submission by Indemnitee of a written request for indemnification pursuant to Section 6(a) hereof, no Independent Counsel shall have been selected and not objected to, either the Company or Indemnitee may petition the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or other court of competent jurisdiction for resolution of any objection which shall have been made by the Indemnitee to the Company's selection of Independent Counsel and/or for the appointment as Independent Counsel of a person selected by the court or by such other person as the court shall designate, and the person with respect to whom all objections are so resolved or the person so appointed shall act as Independent Counsel under Section 6(b) hereof. The Company shall pay any and all reasonable fees and expenses of Independent Counsel incurred by such Independent Counsel in connection with acting pursuant to Section 6(b) hereof, and the Company shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses incident to the procedures of this Section 6(c), regardless of the manner in which such Independent Counsel was selected or appointed.

(d) In making a determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification hereunder, the person or persons or entity making such determination shall presume that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Agreement. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence. Neither the failure of the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of any action pursuant to this Agreement that indemnification is proper in the circumstances because Indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Company (including by its directors or independent legal counsel) that Indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that Indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct.

(e) Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in good faith if Indemnitee's action is based on the records or books of account of the Enterprise (as hereinafter defined), including financial statements, or on information supplied to Indemnitee by the officers of the Enterprise in the course of their duties, or on the advice of legal counsel for the Enterprise or on information or records given or reports made to the Enterprise by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser or other expert selected with reasonable care by the Enterprise. In addition, the knowledge and/or actions, or failure to act, of any director, officer, agent or employee of the Enterprise shall not be imputed to Indemnitee for purposes of determining the right to indemnification under this Agreement. Whether or not the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(e) are satisfied, it shall in any event be presumed that Indemnitee has at all times acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(f) If the person, persons or entity empowered or selected under Section 6 to determine whether Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification shall not have made a determination within sixty (60) days after receipt by the Company of the request therefor, the requisite determination of entitlement to indemnification shall be deemed to have been made and Indemnitee shall be entitled to such indemnification absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's statement not materially misleading, in connection with the request for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law; provided, however, that such sixty (60) day period may be extended for a reasonable time, not to exceed an additional thirty (30) days, if the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to entitlement to indemnification in good faith requires such additional time to obtain or evaluate documentation and/or information relating thereto; and provided further, that the foregoing provisions of this Section 6(f) shall not apply if the determination of entitlement to indemnification is to be made by the stockholders pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement and if (A) within fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Company of the request for such determination, the Board or the Disinterested Directors, if appropriate, resolve to submit such determination to the stockholders for their consideration at an annual meeting thereof to be held within seventy five (75) days after such receipt and such determination is made thereat, or (B) a special meeting of stockholders is called within fifteen (15) days after such receipt for the purpose of making such determination, such meeting is held for such purpose within sixty (60) days after having been so called and such determination is made thereat.

(g) Indemnitee shall cooperate with the person, persons or entity making such determination with respect to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification, including providing to such person, persons or entity upon reasonable advance request any documentation or information which is not privileged or otherwise protected from disclosure and which is reasonably available to Indemnitee and reasonably necessary to such determination. Any Independent Counsel, member of the Board or stockholder of the Company shall act reasonably and in good faith in making a determination regarding the Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement. Any costs or expenses (including attorneys' fees and disbursements) incurred by Indemnitee in so cooperating with the person, persons or entity making such determination shall be borne by the Company (irrespective of the determination as to Indemnitee's entitlement to indemnification) and the Company hereby indemnifies and agrees to hold Indemnitee harmless therefrom.

(h) The Company acknowledges that a settlement or other disposition short of final judgment may be successful if it permits a party to avoid expense, delay, distraction, disruption and uncertainty. In the event that any action, claim or proceeding to which Indemnitee is a party is resolved in any manner other than by adverse judgment against Indemnitee (including, without limitation, settlement of such action, claim or proceeding with or without payment of money or other consideration) it shall be presumed that Indemnitee has been successful on the merits or otherwise in such action, suit or proceeding. Anyone seeking to overcome this presumption shall have the burden of proof and the burden of persuasion by clear and convincing evidence.

(i) The termination of any Proceeding or of any claim, issue or matter therein, by judgment, order, settlement or conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement) of itself adversely affect the right of Indemnitee to indemnification or create a presumption that Indemnitee did not act in good faith and in a manner which he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company or, with respect to any criminal Proceeding, that Indemnitee had reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.

7. Remedies of Indemnitee.

(a) In the event that (i) a determination is made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement, (ii) advancement of Expenses is not timely made pursuant to Section 5 of this Agreement, (iii) no determination of entitlement to indemnification is made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement within ninety (90) days after receipt by the Company of the request for indemnification, (iv) payment of indemnification is not made pursuant to this Agreement within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefor, or (v) payment of indemnification is not made within ten (10) days after a determination has been made that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification or such determination is deemed to have been made pursuant to Section 6 of this Agreement, Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in an appropriate court of the State of Delaware, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, of Indemnitee's entitlement to such indemnification. Indemnitee shall commence such proceeding seeking an adjudication within one hundred eighty (180) days following the date on which Indemnitee first has the right to commence such proceeding pursuant to this Section 7(a). The Company shall not oppose Indemnitee's right to seek any such adjudication.

(b) In the event that a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 shall be conducted in all respects as a de novo trial on the merits, and Indemnitee shall not be prejudiced by reason of the adverse determination under Section 6(b).

(c) If a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 6(b) of this Agreement that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification, the Company shall be bound by such determination in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's misstatement not materially misleading in connection with the application for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law.

(d) In the event that Indemnitee, pursuant to this Section 7, seeks a judicial adjudication of his rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Agreement, or to recover under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, the Company shall pay on his behalf, in advance, any and all expenses (of the types described in the definition of Expenses in Section 13 of this Agreement) actually and reasonably incurred by him in such judicial adjudication, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance recovery.

(e) The Company shall be precluded from asserting in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 7 that the procedures and presumptions of this Agreement are not valid, binding and enforceable and shall stipulate in any such court that the Company is bound by all the provisions of this Agreement. The Company shall indemnify Indemnitee against any and all Expenses and, if requested by Indemnitee, shall (within ten (10) days after receipt by the Company of a written request therefore) advance, to the extent not prohibited by law, such expenses to Indemnitee, which are incurred by Indemnitee in connection with any action brought by Indemnitee for indemnification or advance of Expenses from the Company under this Agreement or under any directors' and officers' liability insurance policies maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, advancement of Expenses or insurance recovery, as the case may be.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, no determination as to entitlement to indemnification under this Agreement shall be required to be made prior to the final disposition of the Proceeding.

8. Non-Exclusivity; Survival of Rights; Insurance; Primacy of Indemnification; Subrogation.

(a) The rights of indemnification as provided by this Agreement shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which Indemnitee may at any time be entitled under applicable law, the Certificate of Incorporation, the By-laws, any agreement, a vote of stockholders, a resolution of directors of the Company, or otherwise. No amendment, alteration or repeal of this Agreement or of any provision hereof shall limit or restrict any right of Indemnitee under this Agreement in respect of any action taken or omitted by such Indemnitee in his Corporate Status prior to such amendment, alteration or repeal. To the extent that a change in the DGCL, whether by statute or judicial decision, permits greater indemnification than would be afforded currently under the Certificate of Incorporation, By-laws and this Agreement, it is the intent of the parties hereto that Indemnitee shall enjoy by this Agreement the greater benefits so afforded by such change. No right or remedy herein conferred is intended to be exclusive of any other right or remedy, and every other right and remedy shall be cumulative and in addition to every other right and remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right or remedy hereunder, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other right or remedy.

(b) To the extent that the Company maintains an insurance policy or policies providing liability insurance for directors, officers, employees, or agents or fiduciaries of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person serves at the request of the Company, Indemnitee shall be covered by such policy or policies in accordance with its or their terms to the maximum extent of the coverage available for any director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary under such policy or policies. If, at the time of the receipt of a notice of a claim pursuant to the terms hereof, the Company has directors' and officers' liability insurance in effect, the Company shall give prompt notice of the commencement of such proceeding to the insurers in accordance with the procedures set forth in the respective policies. The Company shall thereafter take all necessary or desirable action to cause such insurers to pay, on behalf of the Indemnitee, all amounts payable as a result of such proceeding in accordance with the terms of such policies.

(c) [The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnitee has certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by the Fund Indemnitor. The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnitee are primary and any obligation of the Fund Indemnitor to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnitee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by Indemnitee and shall be liable for the full amount of all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Company (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnitee), without regard to any rights Indemnitee may have against the Fund Indemnitor, and (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Fund Indemnitor from any and all claims against the Fund Indemnitor for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Fund Indemnitor on behalf of Indemnitee with respect to any claim for which Indemnitee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Fund Indemnitor shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee against the Company. The Company and Indemnitee agree that the Fund Indemnitor are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 8(c).]

(d) [Except as provided in Section 8(c) above,] in the event of any payment under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee (other than against the Fund Indemnitors), who shall execute all papers required and take all action necessary to secure such rights, including execution of such documents as are necessary to enable the Company to bring suit to enforce such rights.

(e) [Except as provided in Section 8(c) above,] the Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment of amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder if and to the extent that Indemnitee has otherwise actually received such payment under any insurance policy, contract, agreement or otherwise.

(f) [Except as provided in Section 8(c) above,] the Company's obligation to indemnify or advance Expenses hereunder to Indemnitee who is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise shall be reduced by any amount Indemnitee has actually received as indemnification or advancement of expenses from such other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

9. Exception to Right of Indemnification. Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement, the Company shall not be obligated under this Agreement to make any indemnity in connection with any claim made against Indemnitee:

(a) for which payment has actually been made to or on behalf of Indemnitee under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision, except with respect to any excess beyond the amount paid under any insurance policy or other indemnity provision[, provided, that the foregoing shall not affect the rights of Indemnitee or the Fund Indemnitor set forth in Section 8(c) above];

(b) for an accounting of profits made from the purchase and sale (or sale and purchase) by Indemnitee of securities of the Company within the meaning of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or similar provisions of state statutory law or common law; or

(c) in connection with any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee, including any Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) initiated by Indemnitee against the Company or its directors, officers, employees or other indemnitees, unless (i) the Board authorized the Proceeding (or any part of any Proceeding) prior to its initiation, or (ii) the Company provides the indemnification, in its sole discretion, pursuant to the powers vested in the Company under applicable law.

10. Duration of Agreement. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period Indemnitee is an officer or director of the Company (or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise) and shall continue thereafter so long as Indemnitee shall be subject to any Proceeding (or any proceeding commenced under Section 7 hereof) by reason of his Corporate Status, whether or not he is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives.

11. Security. To the extent requested by Indemnitee and approved by the Board, the Company may at any time and from time to time provide security to Indemnitee for the Company's obligations hereunder through an irrevocable bank line of credit, funded trust or other collateral. Any such security, once provided to Indemnitee, may not be revoked or released without the prior written consent of the Indemnitee.

12. Enforcement.

(a) The Company expressly confirms and agrees that it has entered into this Agreement and assumes the obligations imposed on it hereby in order to induce Indemnitee to serve as an officer or director of the Company, and the Company acknowledges that Indemnitee is relying upon this Agreement in serving as an officer or director of the Company.

(b) This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(c) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnitee's rights to receive advancement of expenses under this Agreement.

13. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Corporate Status" describes the status of a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary of the Company or of any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that such person is or was serving at the express written request of the Company.

(b) "Disinterested Director" means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Proceeding in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee.

(c) "Enterprise" shall mean the Company and any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise that Indemnitee is or was serving at the express written request of the Company as a director, officer, employee, agent or fiduciary.

(d) "Expenses" shall include all reasonable attorneys' fees, retainers, court costs, transcript costs, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees and all other disbursements or expenses of the types customarily incurred in connection with prosecuting, defending, preparing to prosecute or defend, investigating, participating, or being or preparing to be a witness in a Proceeding, or responding to, or objecting to, a request to provide discovery in any Proceeding. Expenses also shall include Expenses incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Proceeding and any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed on the Indemnitee as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement, including without limitation the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersede as bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnitee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnitee.

(e) "Independent Counsel" means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently is, nor in the past five years has been, retained to represent (i) the Company or Indemnitee in any matter material to either such party (other than with respect to matters concerning Indemnitee under this Agreement, or of other indemnitees under similar indemnification agreements), or (ii) any other party to the Proceeding giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term "Independent Counsel" shall not include any person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnitee in an action to determine Indemnitee's rights under this Agreement. The Company agrees to pay the reasonable fees of the Independent Counsel referred to above and to fully indemnify such counsel against any and all Expenses, claims, liabilities and damages arising out of or relating to this Agreement or its engagement pursuant hereto.

(f) "Proceeding" includes any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, arbitration, alternate dispute resolution mechanism, investigation, inquiry, administrative hearing or any other actual, threatened or completed proceeding, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise and whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of his or her Corporate Status, by reason of any action taken by him or of any inaction on his part while acting in his or her Corporate Status; in each case whether or not he is acting or serving in any such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement; including one pending on or before the date of this Agreement, but excluding one initiated by an Indemnitee pursuant to Section 7 of this Agreement to enforce his rights under this Agreement.

14. Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision. [Further, the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof as to either Indemnitee or Appointing Stockholder shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any provision hereof as to the other.] Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this Agreement is intended to confer upon Indemnitee [and Appointing Stockholder] indemnification rights to the fullest extent permitted by applicable laws. In the event any provision hereof conflicts with any applicable law, such provision shall be deemed modified, consistent with the aforementioned intent, to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict.

15. Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, termination or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar) nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver.

16. Notice By Indemnitee. Indemnitee agrees promptly to notify the Company in writing upon being served with or otherwise receiving any summons, citation, subpoena, complaint, indictment, information or other document relating to any Proceeding or matter which may be subject to indemnification covered hereunder. The failure to so notify the Company shall not relieve the Company of any obligation which it may have to Indemnitee under this Agreement or otherwise unless and only to the extent that such failure or delay materially prejudices the Company.

17. Notices. All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given (a) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not so confirmed, then on the next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent:

(a) To Indemnitee at the address set forth below Indemnitee signature hereto.

(b) To the Company at:

Limelight Bio, Inc.
3401 Grays Ferry Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19146

or to such other address as may have been furnished to Indemnitee by the Company or to the Company by Indemnitee, as the case may be.

18. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

19. Headings. The headings of the paragraphs of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed to constitute part of this Agreement or to affect the construction thereof.

20. Governing Law and Consent to Jurisdiction. This Agreement and the legal relations among the parties shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of laws rules. The Company and Indemnitee hereby irrevocably and unconditionally (i) agree that any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be brought only in the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Court"), and not in any other state or federal court in the United States of America or any court in any other country, (ii) consent to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Delaware Court for purposes of any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement, (iii) waive any objection to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Delaware Court, and (iv) waive, and agree not to plead or to make, any claim that any such action or proceeding brought in the Delaware Court has been brought in an improper or inconvenient forum.

INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS INVESTORS' RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of this 5th day of August, 2019, by and among Limelight Bio, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and each of the investors listed on Schedule A hereto, each of which is referred to in this Agreement as an "Investor."

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company and the Investors are parties to that certain Series A2 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement of even date herewith (the "Purchase Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, in order to induce the Company to enter into the Purchase Agreement and to induce Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("ATP"), to invest funds in the Company pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Investors and the Company hereby agree that this Agreement shall govern the rights of the Investors to cause the Company to register shares of Common Stock issuable to the Investors, to receive certain information from the Company, and to participate in future equity offerings by the Company, and shall govern certain other matters as set forth in this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereby agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Person, any other Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such Person, including without limitation any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment adviser of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Certificate of Incorporation" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.4 "Common Stock" means shares of the Company's common stock, par value $0.0001 per share.

1.5 "Competitor" means a Person engaged, directly or indirectly (including through any partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture or similar arrangement (whether now existing or formed hereafter)), in the business of researching, developing and commercializing novel gene therapies, but shall not include any financial investment firm or collective investment vehicle that, together with its Affiliates, holds less than twenty percent (20%) of the outstanding equity of any Competitor and does not, nor do any of its Affiliates, have a right to designate any members of the board of directors of any Competitor.

1.6 "Damages" means any loss, damage, claim or liability (joint or several) to which a party hereto may become subject under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or other federal or state law, insofar as such loss, damage, claim or liability (or any action in respect thereof) arises out of or is based upon: (i) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any registration statement of the Company, including any preliminary prospectus or final prospectus contained therein or any amendments or supplements thereto; (ii) an omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein, or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading; or (iii) any violation or alleged violation by the indemnifying party (or any of its agents or Affiliates) of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, any state securities law, or any rule or regulation promulgated under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, or any state securities law.

1.7 "Derivative Securities" means any securities or rights convertible into, or exercisable or exchangeable for (in each case, directly or indirectly), Common Stock, including options and warrants.

1.8 "Exchange Act" means the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

1.9 "Excluded Registration" means (i) a registration relating to the sale or grant of securities to employees of the Company or a subsidiary pursuant to a stock option, stock purchase, equity incentive or similar plan; (ii) a registration relating to an SEC Rule 145 transaction; (iii) a registration on any form that does not include substantially the same information as would be required to be included in a registration statement covering the sale of the Registrable Securities; or (iv) a registration in which the only Common Stock being registered is Common Stock issuable upon conversion of debt securities that are also being registered.

1.10 "FOIA Party" means a Person that, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, may be subject to, and thereby required to disclose non-public information furnished by or relating to the Company under, the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552 ("FOIA"), any state public records access law, any state or other jurisdiction's laws similar in intent or effect to FOIA, or any other similar statutory or regulatory requirement.

1.11 "Form S-1" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC.

1.12 "Form S-3" means such form under the Securities Act as in effect on the date hereof or any registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the SEC that permits forward incorporation of substantial information by reference to other documents filed by the Company with the SEC.

1.13 "GAAP" means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States as in effect from time to time.

1.14 "Holder" means any holder of Registrable Securities who is a party to this Agreement.

1.15 "Immediate Family Member" means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law, including, adoptive relationships, of a natural person referred to herein.

1.16 "Initiating Holders" means, collectively, Holders who properly initiate a registration request under this Agreement.

1.17 "IPO" means the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock under the Securities Act.

1.18 "Major Investor" means any Investor that, individually or together with such Investor's Affiliates, holds at least 500,000 shares of Registrable Securities (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, combination, or other recapitalization or reclassification effected after the date hereof).

1.19 "New Securities" means, collectively, equity securities of the Company, whether or not currently authorized, as well as rights, options, or warrants to purchase such equity securities, or securities of any type whatsoever that are, or may become, convertible or exchangeable into or exercisable for such equity securities.

1.20 "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or other entity.

1.21 "Registrable Securities" means (i) the Common Stock issuable or issued upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock; (ii) any Common Stock, or any Common Stock issued or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise of any other securities of the Company, acquired by the Investors after the date hereof; and (iii) any Common Stock issued as (or issuable upon the conversion or exercise of any warrant, right, or other security that is issued as) a dividend or other distribution with respect to, or in exchange for or in replacement of, the shares referenced in clauses (i) and (ii) above; excluding in all cases, however, any Registrable Securities sold by a Person in a transaction in which the applicable rights under this Agreement are not assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.1, and excluding for purposes of Section 2 any shares for which registration rights have terminated pursuant to Subsection 2.13 of this Agreement.

1.22 "Registrable Securities then outstanding" means the number of shares determined by adding the number of shares of outstanding Common Stock that are Registrable Securities and the number of shares of Common Stock issuable (directly or indirectly) pursuant to then exercisable and/or convertible securities that are Registrable Securities.

1.23 "Restricted Securities" means the securities of the Company required to be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b) hereof.

1.24 "SEC" means the Securities and Exchange Commission.

1.25 "SEC Rule 144" means Rule 144 promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act.

1.26 "SEC Rule 145" means Rule 145 promulgated by the SEC under the Securities Act.

1.27 "Securities Act" means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

1.28 "Selling Expenses" means all underwriting discounts, selling commissions, and stock transfer taxes applicable to the sale of Registrable Securities, and fees and disbursements of counsel for any Holder, except for the fees and disbursements of the Selling Holder Counsel borne and paid by the Company as provided in Subsection 2.6.

1.29 "Series A Director" means any director of the Company that the holders of record of the Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to elect, exclusively and as a separate class, pursuant to the Certificate of Incorporation.

1.30 "Series A Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A1 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, and shares of the Company's Series A2 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share.

2. Registration Rights. The Company covenants and agrees as follows:

2.1 Demand Registration.

(a) Form S-1 Demand. If at any time after the earlier of (i) three (3) years after the date of this Agreement or (ii) one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of the registration statement for the IPO, the Company receives a request from Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-1 registration statement having an aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, to the public of not less than $10,000,000, then the Company shall (x) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give notice thereof (the "Demand Notice") to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (y) as soon as practicable, and in any event within sixty (60) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-1 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities that the Initiating Holders requested to be registered and any additional Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(b) Form S-3 Demand. If at any time when it is eligible to use a Form S-3 registration statement, the Company receives a request from Holders of at least twenty percent (20%) of the Registrable Securities then outstanding that the Company file a Form S-3 registration statement with respect to outstanding Registrable Securities of such Holders having an anticipated aggregate offering price, net of Selling Expenses, of at least $1,000,000, then the Company shall (i) within ten (10) days after the date such request is given, give a Demand Notice to all Holders other than the Initiating Holders; and (ii) as soon as practicable, and in any event within forty-five (45) days after the date such request is given by the Initiating Holders, file a Form S-3 registration statement under the Securities Act covering all Registrable Securities requested to be included in such registration by any other Holders, as specified by notice given by each such Holder to the Company within twenty (20) days of the date the Demand Notice is given, and in each case, subject to the limitations of Subsections 2.1(c) and 2.3.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing obligations, if the Company furnishes to Holders requesting a registration pursuant to this Subsection 2.1 a certificate signed by the Company's chief executive officer stating that in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors it would be materially detrimental to the Company and its stockholders for such registration statement to either become effective or remain effective for as long as such registration statement otherwise would be required to remain effective, because such action would (i) materially interfere with a significant acquisition, corporate reorganization, or other similar transaction involving the Company; (ii) require premature disclosure of material information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential; or (iii) render the Company unable to comply with requirements under the Securities Act or Exchange Act, then the Company shall have the right to defer taking action with respect to such filing, and any time periods with respect to filing or effectiveness thereof shall be tolled correspondingly, for a period of not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the request of the Initiating Holders is given; provided, however, that the Company may not invoke this right more than once in any twelve (12) month period; provided, further, that the Company shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such one hundred twenty (120) day period other than an Excluded Registration.

(d) The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a) (i) during the period that is sixty (60) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration (provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective); (ii) after the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(a); or (iii) if the Initiating Holders propose to dispose of shares of Registrable Securities that may be immediately registered on Form S-3 pursuant to a request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b). The Company shall not be obligated to effect, or to take any action to effect, any registration pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) (i) during the period that is thirty (30) days before the Company's good faith estimate of the date of filing of, and ending on a date that is ninety (90) days after the effective date of, a Company-initiated registration (provided that the Company is actively employing in good faith commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective); or (ii) if the Company has effected two registrations pursuant to Subsection 2.1(b) within the twelve (12) month period immediately preceding the date of such request. A registration shall not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d) until such time as the applicable registration statement has been declared effective by the SEC, unless the Initiating Holders withdraw their request for such registration, elect not to pay the registration expenses therefor, and forfeit their right to one demand registration statement pursuant to Subsection 2.6, in which case such withdrawn registration statement shall be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d); provided, that if such withdrawal is during a period the Company has deferred taking action pursuant to Subsection 2.1(c), then the Initiating Holders may withdraw their request for registration and such registration will not be counted as "effected" for purposes of this Subsection 2.1(d).

2.2 Company Registration. If the Company proposes to register (including, for this purpose, a registration effected by the Company for stockholders other than the Holders) any of its Common Stock under the Securities Act in connection with the public offering of such securities solely for cash (other than in an Excluded Registration), the Company shall, at such time, promptly give each Holder notice of such registration. Upon the request of each Holder given within twenty (20) days after such notice is given by the Company, the Company shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection 2.3, cause to be registered all of the Registrable Securities that each such Holder has requested to be included in such registration. The Company shall have the right to terminate or withdraw any registration initiated by it under this Subsection 2.2 before the effective date of such registration, whether or not any Holder has elected to include Registrable Securities in such registration. The expenses (other than Selling Expenses) of such withdrawn registration shall be borne by the Company in accordance with Subsection 2.6.

2.3 Underwriting Requirements.

(a) If, pursuant to Subsection 2.1, the Initiating Holders intend to distribute the Registrable Securities covered by their request by means of an underwriting, they shall so advise the Company as a part of their request made pursuant to Subsection 2.1, and the Company shall include such information in the Demand Notice. The underwriter(s) will be selected by the Initiating Holders, subject only to the reasonable approval of the Company. In such event, the right of any Holder to include such Holder's Registrable Securities in such registration shall be conditioned upon such Holder's participation in such underwriting and the inclusion of such Holder's Registrable Securities in the underwriting to the extent provided herein. All Holders proposing to distribute their securities through such underwriting shall (together with the Company as provided in Subsection 2.4(e)) enter into an underwriting agreement in customary form with the underwriter(s) selected for such underwriting. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection 2.3, if the managing underwriter(s) advise(s) the Initiating Holders in writing that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares to be underwritten, then the Initiating Holders shall so advise all Holders of Registrable Securities that otherwise would be underwritten pursuant hereto, and the number of Registrable Securities that may be included in the underwriting shall be allocated among such Holders of Registrable Securities, including the Initiating Holders, in proportion (as nearly as practicable) to the number of Registrable Securities owned by each Holder or in such other proportion as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders; provided, however, that the number of Registrable Securities held by the Holders to be included in such underwriting shall not be reduced unless all other securities are first entirely excluded from the underwriting. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares.

(b) In connection with any offering involving an underwriting of shares of the Company's capital stock pursuant to Subsection 2.2, the Company shall not be required to include any of the Holders' Registrable Securities in such underwriting unless the Holders accept the terms of the underwriting as agreed upon between the Company and its underwriters, and then only in such quantity as the underwriters in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering by the Company. If the total number of securities, including Registrable Securities, requested by stockholders to be included in such offering exceeds the number of securities to be sold (other than by the Company) that the underwriters in their reasonable discretion determine is compatible with the success of the offering, then the Company shall be required to include in the offering only that number of such securities, including Registrable Securities, which the underwriters and the Company in their sole discretion determine will not jeopardize the success of the offering. If the underwriters determine that less than all of the Registrable Securities requested to be registered can be included in such offering, then the Registrable Securities that are included in such offering shall be allocated among the selling Holders in proportion (as nearly as practicable to) the number of Registrable Securities owned by each selling Holder or in such other proportions as shall mutually be agreed to by all such selling Holders. To facilitate the allocation of shares in accordance with the above provisions, the Company or the underwriters may round the number of shares allocated to any Holder to the nearest one hundred (100) shares. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall (i) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced unless all other securities (other than securities to be sold by the Company) are first entirely excluded from the offering, or (ii) the number of Registrable Securities included in the offering be reduced below twenty-five percent (25%) of the total number of securities included in such offering, unless such offering is the IPO, in which case the selling Holders may be excluded further if the underwriters make the determination described above and no other stockholder's securities are included in such offering. For purposes of the provision in this Subsection 2.3(b) concerning apportionment, for any selling Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation, the partners, members, retired partners, retired members, stockholders, and Affiliates of such Holder, or the estates and Immediate Family Members of any such partners, retired partners, members, and retired members and any trusts for the benefit of any of the foregoing Persons, shall be deemed to be a single "selling Holder," and any pro rata reduction with respect to such "selling Holder" shall be based upon the aggregate number of Registrable Securities owned by all Persons included in such "selling Holder," as defined in this sentence.

(c) For purposes of Subsection 2.1, a registration shall not be counted as "effected" if, as a result of an exercise of the underwriter's cutback provisions in Subsection 2.3(a), fewer than fifty percent (50%) of the total number of Registrable Securities that Holders have requested to be included in such registration statement are actually included.

2.4 Obligations of the Company. Whenever required under this Section 2 to effect the registration of any Registrable Securities, the Company shall, as expeditiously as reasonably possible:

(a) prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to such Registrable Securities and use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective and, upon the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities registered thereunder, keep such registration statement effective for a period of up to one hundred twenty (120) days or, if earlier, until the distribution contemplated in the registration statement has been completed; provided, however, that (i) such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period the Holder refrains, at the request of an underwriter of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company, from selling any securities included in such registration, and (ii) in the case of any registration of Registrable Securities on Form S-3 that are intended to be offered on a continuous or delayed basis, subject to compliance with applicable SEC rules, such one hundred twenty (120) day period shall be extended for up to sixty (60) days, if necessary, to keep the registration statement effective until all such Registrable Securities are sold;

(b) prepare and file with the SEC such amendments and supplements to such registration statement, and the prospectus used in connection with such registration statement, as may be necessary to comply with the Securities Act in order to enable the disposition of all securities covered by such registration statement;

(c) furnish to the selling Holders such numbers of copies of a prospectus, including a preliminary prospectus, as required by the Securities Act, and such other documents as the Holders may reasonably request in order to facilitate their disposition of their Registrable Securities;

(d) use its commercially reasonable efforts to register and qualify the securities covered by such registration statement under such other securities or blue-sky laws of such jurisdictions as shall be reasonably requested by the selling Holders; provided that the Company shall not be required to qualify to do business or to file a general consent to service of process in any such states or jurisdictions, unless the Company is already subject to service in such jurisdiction and except as may be required by the Securities Act;

(e) in the event of any underwritten public offering, enter into and perform its obligations under an underwriting agreement, in usual and customary form, with the underwriter(s) of such offering;

(f) use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause all such Registrable Securities covered by such registration statement to be listed on a national securities exchange or trading system and each securities exchange and trading system (if any) on which similar securities issued by the Company are then listed;

(g) provide a transfer agent and registrar for all Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Agreement and provide a CUSIP number for all such Registrable Securities, in each case not later than the effective date of such registration;

(h) promptly make available for inspection by the selling Holders, any managing underwriter(s) participating in any disposition pursuant to such registration statement, and any attorney or accountant or other agent retained by any such underwriter or selected by the selling Holders, all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents, and properties of the Company, and cause the Company's officers, directors, employees, and independent accountants to supply all information reasonably requested by any such seller, underwriter, attorney, accountant, or agent, in each case, as necessary or advisable to verify the accuracy of the information in such registration statement and to conduct appropriate due diligence in connection therewith;

(i) notify each selling Holder, promptly after the Company receives notice thereof, of the time when such registration statement has been declared effective or a supplement to any prospectus forming a part of such registration statement has been filed; and

(j) after such registration statement becomes effective, notify each selling Holder of any request by the SEC that the Company amend or supplement such registration statement or prospectus.

In addition, the Company shall ensure that, at all times after any registration statement covering a public offering of securities of the Company under the Securities Act shall have become effective, its insider trading policy shall provide that the Company's directors may implement a trading program under Rule 10b5-1 of the Exchange Act.

2.5 Furnish Information. It shall be a condition precedent to the obligations of the Company to take any action pursuant to this Section 2 with respect to the Registrable Securities of any selling Holder that such Holder shall furnish to the Company such information regarding itself, the Registrable Securities held by it, and the intended method of disposition of such securities as is reasonably required to effect the registration of such Holder's Registrable Securities.

2.6 Expenses of Registration. All expenses (other than Selling Expenses) incurred in connection with registrations, filings, or qualifications pursuant to Section 2, including all registration, filing, and qualification fees; printers' and accounting fees; fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company; and the reasonable fees and disbursements of one counsel for the selling Holders ("Selling Holder Counsel"), shall be borne and paid by the Company; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to pay for any expenses of any registration proceeding begun pursuant to Subsection 2.1 if the registration request is subsequently withdrawn at the request of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities to be registered (in which case all selling Holders shall bear such expenses pro rata based upon the number of Registrable Securities that were to be included in the withdrawn registration), unless the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities agree to forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b), as the case may be; provided further that if, at the time of such withdrawal, the Holders shall have learned of a material adverse change in the condition, business, or prospects of the Company from that known to the Holders at the time of their request and have withdrawn the request with reasonable promptness after learning of such information then the Holders shall not be required to pay any of such expenses and shall not forfeit their right to one registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1(a) or 2.1(b). All Selling Expenses relating to Registrable Securities registered pursuant to this Section 2 shall be borne and paid by the Holders pro rata on the basis of the number of Registrable Securities registered on their behalf.

2.7 Delay of Registration. No Holder shall have any right to obtain or seek an injunction restraining or otherwise delaying any registration pursuant to this Agreement as the result of any controversy that might arise with respect to the interpretation or implementation of this Section 2.

2.8 Indemnification. If any Registrable Securities are included in a registration statement under this Section 2:

(a) To the extent permitted by law, the Company will indemnify and hold harmless each selling Holder, and the partners, members, officers, directors, and stockholders of each such Holder; legal counsel and accountants for each such Holder; any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act) for each such Holder; and each Person, if any, who controls such Holder or underwriter within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, against any Damages, and the Company will pay to each such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, nor shall the Company be liable for any Damages to the extent that they arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of any such Holder, underwriter, controlling Person, or other aforementioned Person expressly for use in connection with such registration.

(b) To the extent permitted by law, each selling Holder, severally and not jointly, will indemnify and hold harmless the Company, and each of its directors, each of its officers who has signed the registration statement, each Person (if any), who controls the Company within the meaning of the Securities Act, legal counsel and accountants for the Company, any underwriter (as defined in the Securities Act), any other Holder selling securities in such registration statement, and any controlling Person of any such underwriter or other Holder, against any Damages, in each case only to the extent that such Damages arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by or on behalf of such selling Holder expressly for use in connection with such registration; and each such selling Holder will pay to the Company and each other aforementioned Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Damages may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Subsection 2.8(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Holder, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; and provided further that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by any Holder by way of indemnity or contribution under Subsections 2.8(b) and 2.8(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by such Holder.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Subsection 2.8 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Subsection 2.8, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Subsection 2.8 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Subsection 2.8 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Subsection 2.8, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) no Holder will be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by such Holder pursuant to such registration statement, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall a Holder's liability pursuant to this Subsection 2.8(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by such Holder pursuant to Subsection 2.8(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by such Holder (net of any Selling Expenses paid by such Holder), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by such Holder.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Company and Holders under this Subsection 2.8 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Section 2, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

2.9 Reports Under Exchange Act. With a view to making available to the Holders the benefits of SEC Rule 144 and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit a Holder to sell securities of the Company to the public without registration or pursuant to a registration on Form S-3, the Company shall:

(a) make and keep available adequate current public information, as those terms are understood and defined in SEC Rule 144, at all times after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO;

(b) use commercially reasonable efforts to file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the Securities Act and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements); and

(c) furnish to any Holder, so long as the Holder owns any Registrable Securities, forthwith upon request (i) to the extent accurate, a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of SEC Rule 144 (at any time after ninety (90) days after the effective date of the registration statement filed by the Company for the IPO), the Securities Act, and the Exchange Act (at any time after the Company has become subject to such reporting requirements), or that it qualifies as a registrant whose securities may be resold pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies); (ii) a copy of the most recent annual or quarterly report of the Company and such other reports and documents so filed by the Company; and (iii) such other information as may be reasonably requested in availing any Holder of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such securities without registration (at any time after the Company has become subject to the reporting requirements under the Exchange Act) or pursuant to Form S-3 (at any time after the Company so qualifies to use such form).

2.10 Limitations on Subsequent Registration Rights. From and after the date of this Agreement, the Company shall not, without the prior written consent of the Holders of a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding, enter into any agreement with any holder or prospective holder of any securities of the Company that would (i) provide to such holder or prospective holder the right to include securities in any registration on other than either a pro rata basis with respect to the Registrable Securities or on a subordinate basis after all Holders have had the opportunity to include in the registration and offering all shares of Registrable Securities that they wish to so include or (ii) allow such holder or prospective holder to initiate a demand for registration of any securities held by such holder or prospective holder; provided that this limitation shall not apply to Registrable Securities acquired by any additional Investor that becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9.

CONFIDENTIAL

2.11 "Market Stand-off" Agreement. Each Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the registration by the Company of shares of its Common Stock or any other equity securities under the Securities Act on a registration statement on Form S-1 or Form S-3, and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days in the case of the IPO, or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports, and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in FINRA Rule 2711(f)(4) or NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), or ninety (90) days in the case of any registration other than the IPO, (i) lend; offer; pledge; sell; contract to sell; sell any option or contract to purchase; purchase any option or contract to sell; grant any option, right, or warrant to purchase; or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable (directly or indirectly) for Common Stock (whether such shares or any such securities are then owned by the Holder or are thereafter acquired) or (ii) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of such securities, whether any such transaction described in clause (i) or (ii) above is to be settled by delivery of Common Stock or other securities, in cash, or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Subsection 2.11 shall apply only to the IPO, shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, or the transfer of any shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Holder or the immediate family of the Holder, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions set forth herein, and provided further that any such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value, and shall be applicable to the Holders only if all officers and directors are subject to the same restrictions and the Company uses commercially reasonable efforts to obtain a similar agreement from all stockholders individually owning more than one percent (1%) of the Company's outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to conversion into Common Stock of all outstanding Series A Preferred Stock). The underwriters in connection with such registration are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 2.11 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with such registration that are consistent with this Subsection 2.11 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

2.12 Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) The Series A Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities shall not be sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred, and the Company shall not recognize and shall issue stop-transfer instructions to its transfer agent with respect to any such sale, pledge, or transfer, except upon the conditions specified in this Agreement, which conditions are intended to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Securities Act. A transferring Holder will cause any proposed purchaser, pledgee, or transferee of the Series A Preferred Stock and the Registrable Securities held by such Holder to agree to take and hold such securities subject to the provisions and upon the conditions specified in this Agreement.

(b) Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing (i) the Series A Preferred Stock, (ii) the Registrable Securities, and (iii) any other securities issued in respect of the securities referenced in clauses (i) and (ii), upon any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or similar event, shall (unless otherwise permitted by the provisions of Subsection 2.12(c)) be notated with a legend substantially in the following form:

> THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE TRANSFERRED ONLY IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE STOCKHOLDER, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY.

The Holders consent to the Company making a notation in its records and giving instructions to any transfer agent of the Restricted Securities in order to implement the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Subsection 2.12.

(c) The holder of such Restricted Securities, by acceptance of ownership thereof, agrees to comply in all respects with the provisions of this Section 2. Before any proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of any Restricted Securities, unless there is in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering the proposed transaction, the Holder thereof shall give notice to the Company of such Holder's intention to effect such sale, pledge, or transfer. Each such notice shall describe the manner and circumstances of the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer in sufficient detail and, if reasonably requested by the Company, shall be accompanied at such Holder's expense by either (i) a written opinion of legal counsel who shall, and whose legal opinion shall, be reasonably satisfactory to the Company, addressed to the Company, to the effect that the proposed transaction may be effected without registration under the Securities Act; (ii) a "no action" letter from the SEC to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of such Restricted Securities without registration will not result in a recommendation by the staff of the SEC that action be taken with respect thereto; or (iii) any other evidence reasonably satisfactory to counsel to the Company to the effect that the proposed sale, pledge, or transfer of the Restricted Securities may be effected without registration under the Securities Act, whereupon the Holder of such Restricted Securities shall be entitled to sell, pledge, or transfer such Restricted Securities in accordance with the terms of the notice given by the Holder to the Company. The Company will not require such a legal opinion or "no action" letter (x) in any transaction in compliance with SEC Rule 144; or (y) in any transaction in which such Holder distributes Restricted Securities to an Affiliate of such Holder for no consideration; provided that each transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Subsection 2.12. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing the Restricted Securities transferred as above provided shall be notated with, except if such transfer is made pursuant to SEC Rule 144, the appropriate restrictive legend set forth in Subsection 2.12(b), except that such certificate instrument, or book entry shall not be notated with such restrictive legend if, in the opinion of counsel for such Holder and the Company, such legend is not required in order to establish compliance with any provisions of the Securities Act.

2.13 Termination of Registration Rights. The right of any Holder to request registration or inclusion of Registrable Securities in any registration pursuant to Subsections 2.1 or 2.2 shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation;

(b) such time after consummation of the IPO as Rule 144 or another similar exemption under the Securities Act is available for the sale of all of such Holder's shares without limitation during a three-month period without registration; or

(c) the fifth (5^{th}) anniversary of the IPO.

3. Information and Observer Rights.

3.1 Delivery of Financial Statements. The Company shall deliver to each Major Investor:

(a) as soon as practicable, but in any event within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (i) a balance sheet as of the end of such year, (ii) statements of income and of cash flows for such year, and a comparison between (x) the actual amounts as of and for such fiscal year and (y) the comparable amounts for the prior year and as included in the Budget (as defined in Subsection 3.1(d)) for such year, with an explanation of any material differences between such amounts and a schedule as to the sources and applications of funds for such year, and (iii) a statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such year, all such financial statements audited and certified by independent public accountants of nationally recognized standing selected by the Company;

(b) as soon as practicable, but in any event within forty-five (45) days after the end of each of the first three (3) quarters of each fiscal year of the Company, unaudited statements of income and cash flows for such fiscal quarter, and an unaudited balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal quarter, all prepared in accordance with GAAP (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments; and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(c) as soon as practicable, but in any event within thirty (30) days of the end of each month, an unaudited income statement and statement of cash flows for such month, and an unaudited balance sheet and statement of stockholders' equity as of the end of such month, all prepared in accordance with GAAP (except that such financial statements may (i) be subject to normal year-end audit adjustments and (ii) not contain all notes thereto that may be required in accordance with GAAP);

(d) as soon as practicable, but in any event thirty (30) days before the end of each fiscal year, a budget and business plan for the next fiscal year (collectively, the "Budget"), approved by the Board of Directors (including the Series A Directors) and prepared on a monthly basis, including balance sheets, income statements, and statements of cash flow for such months and, promptly after prepared, any other budgets or revised budgets prepared by the Company; and

(e) with respect to the financial statements called for in Subsections 3.1(a), 3.1(b) and 3.1(c), an instrument executed by the chief financial officer and chief executive officer of the Company certifying that such financial statements were prepared in accordance with GAAP consistently applied with prior practice for earlier periods (except as otherwise set forth in Subsections 3.1(b) and 3.1(c)) and fairly present the financial condition of the Company and its results of operation for the periods specified therein.

If, for any period, the Company has any subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with those of the Company, then in respect of such period the financial statements delivered pursuant to the foregoing sections shall be the consolidated and consolidating financial statements of the Company and all such consolidated subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding anything else in this Subsection 3.1 to the contrary, the Company may cease providing the information set forth in this Subsection 3.1 during the period starting with the date sixty (60) days before the Company's good-faith estimate of the date of filing of a registration statement if it reasonably concludes it must do so to comply with the SEC rules applicable to such registration statement and related offering; provided that the Company's covenants under this Subsection 3.1 shall be reinstated at such time as the Company is no longer actively employing its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such registration statement to become effective.

3.2 Inspection. The Company shall permit each Major Investor, at such Major Investor's expense, to visit and inspect the Company's properties; examine its books of account and records; and discuss the Company's affairs, finances, and accounts with its officers, during normal business hours of the Company as may be reasonably requested by the Major Investor; provided, however, that the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Subsection 3.2 to provide access to any information that it reasonably and in good faith considers to be a trade secret or confidential information (unless covered by an enforceable confidentiality agreement, in form acceptable to the Company) or the disclosure of which would adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel.

3.3 Observer Rights. As long as ATP owns not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the shares of the Series A2 Preferred Stock it is purchasing under the Purchase Agreement (or an equivalent amount of Common Stock issued upon conversion thereof), the Company shall invite a representative of ATP to attend all meetings of the Board of Directors in a nonvoting observer capacity and, in this respect, shall give such representative copies of all notices, minutes, consents, and other materials that it provides to its directors at the same time and in the same manner as provided to such directors; provided, however, that such representative shall agree to hold in confidence and trust and to act in a fiduciary manner with respect to all information so provided; and provided further, that the Company reserves the right to withhold any information and to exclude such representative from any meeting or portion thereof if access to such information or attendance at such meeting could adversely affect the attorney-client privilege between the Company and its counsel or result in disclosure of trade secrets or a conflict of interest, or if such Investor or its representative is a competitor of the Company.

3.4 Termination of Information and Observer Rights. The covenants set forth in Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 3.3 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

3.5 Confidentiality. Each Investor agrees that such Investor will keep confidential and will not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including notice of the Company's intention to file a registration statement), unless such confidential information (a) is known or becomes known to the public in general (other than as a result of a breach of this Subsection 3.5 by such Investor), (b) is or has been independently developed or conceived by such Investor without use of the Company's confidential information, or (c) is or has been made known or disclosed to such Investor by a third party without a breach of any obligation of confidentiality such third party may have to the Company; provided, however, that an Investor may disclose confidential information (i) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring its investment in the Company; (ii) to any prospective purchaser of any Registrable Securities from such Investor, if such prospective purchaser agrees to be bound by the provisions of this Subsection 3.5; (iii) to any existing or prospective Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, or wholly owned subsidiary of such Investor in the ordinary course of business, provided that such Investor informs such Person that such information is confidential and directs such Person to maintain the confidentiality of such information; or (iv) as may otherwise be required by law, regulation, rule, court order or subpoena, provided that such Investor promptly notifies the Company of such disclosure and takes reasonable steps to minimize the extent of any such required disclosure.

4. Rights to Future Stock Issuances.

4.1 Right of First Offer. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Subsection 4.1 and applicable securities laws, if the Company proposes to offer or sell any New Securities, the Company shall first offer such New Securities to each Major Investor. A Major Investor shall be entitled to apportion the right of first offer hereby granted to it in such proportions as it deems appropriate, among (i) itself, (ii) its Affiliates and (iii) its beneficial interest holders, such as limited partners, members or any other Person having "beneficial ownership," as such term is defined in Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act, of such Major Investor ("Investor Beneficial Owners"); provided that each such Affiliate or Investor Beneficial Owner (x) is not a Competitor or FOIA Party, unless such party's purchase of New

Securities is otherwise consented to by the Board of Directors, (y) agrees to enter into this Agreement and each of the Voting Agreement and Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement of even date herewith among the Company, the Investors and the other parties named therein, as an "Investor" under each such agreement (provided that any Competitor or FOIA Party shall not be entitled to any rights as a Major Investor under Subsections 3.1, 3.2 and 4.1 hereof), and (z) agrees to purchase at least such number of New Securities as are allocable hereunder to the Major Investor holding the fewest number of Series A Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities.

(a) The Company shall give notice (the "Offer Notice") to each Major Investor, stating (i) its bona fide intention to offer such New Securities, (ii) the number of such New Securities to be offered, and (iii) the price and terms, if any, upon which it proposes to offer such New Securities.

(b) By notification to the Company within twenty (20) days after the Offer Notice is given, each Major Investor may elect to purchase or otherwise acquire, at the price and on the terms specified in the Offer Notice, up to that portion of such New Securities which equals the proportion that the Common Stock then held by such Major Investor (including all shares of Common Stock then issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by such Major Investor) bears to the total Common Stock of the Company then held by all the Major Investors (including all shares of Common Stock issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held by all the Major Investors). At the expiration of such twenty (20) day period, the Company shall promptly notify each Major Investor that elects to purchase or acquire all the shares available to it (each, a "Fully Exercising Investor") of any other Major Investor's failure to do likewise. During the ten (10) day period commencing after the Company has given such notice, each Fully Exercising Investor may, by giving notice to the Company, elect to purchase or acquire, in addition to the number of shares specified above, up to that portion of the New Securities for which Major Investors were entitled to subscribe but that were not subscribed for by the Major Investors which is equal to the proportion that the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of Series A Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by such Fully Exercising Investor bears to the Common Stock issued and held, or issuable (directly or indirectly) upon conversion and/or exercise, as applicable, of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other Derivative Securities then held, by all Fully Exercising Investors who wish to purchase such unsubscribed shares. The closing of any sale pursuant to this Subsection 4.1(b) shall occur within the later of one hundred and twenty (120) days of the date that the Offer Notice is given and the date of initial sale of New Securities pursuant to Subsection 4.1(c).

(c) If all New Securities referred to in the Offer Notice are not elected to be purchased or acquired as provided in Subsection 4.1(b), the Company may, during the ninety (90) day period following the expiration of the periods provided in Subsection 4.1(b), offer and sell the remaining unsubscribed portion of such New Securities to any Person or Persons at a price not less than, and upon terms no more favorable to the offeree than, those specified in the Offer Notice. If the Company does not enter into an agreement for the sale of the

New Securities within such period, or if such agreement is not consummated within thirty (30) days of the execution thereof, the right provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and such New Securities shall not be offered unless first reoffered to the Major Investors in accordance with this Subsection 4.1.

(d) The right of first offer in this Subsection 4.1 shall not be applicable to (i) Exempted Securities (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation); and (ii) shares of Common Stock issued in the IPO.

(e) The right of first offer set forth in this Subsection 4.1 shall terminate with respect to any Major Investor who fails to purchase, in any transaction subject to this Subsection 4.1, all of such Major Investor's pro rata amount of the New Securities allocated (or, if less than such Major Investor's pro rata amount is offered by the Company, such lesser amount so offered) to such Major Investor pursuant to this Subsection 4.1. Following any such termination, such Investor shall no longer be deemed a "Major Investor" for any purpose of this Subsection 4.1

(f) Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, in lieu of complying with the provisions of this Subsection 4.1, the Company may elect to give notice to the Major Investors within thirty (30) days after the issuance of New Securities. Such notice shall describe the type, price, and terms of the New Securities. Each Major Investor shall have twenty (20) days from the date notice is given to elect to purchase up to the number of New Securities that would, if purchased by such Major Investor, maintain such Major Investor's percentage-ownership position, calculated as set forth in Subsection 4.1(b) before giving effect to the issuance of such New Securities.

4.2 Termination. The covenants set forth in Subsection 4.1 shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon the closing of a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first and, as to each Major Investor, in accordance with Subsection 4.1(e).

5. Additional Covenants.

5.1 Insurance. The Company shall obtain, within ninety (90) days of the date hereof, from financially sound and reputable insurers Directors and Officers liability insurance in an amount and on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Board of Directors, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause such insurance policies to be maintained until such time as the Board of Directors determines that such insurance should be discontinued. The key-person policy shall name the Company as loss payee, and neither policy shall be cancelable by the Company without prior approval by the Board of Directors including the Series A Directors. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 5.1 to the contrary, for so long as a Series A Director (as defined in the Certificate of Incorporation) is serving on the Board of Directors, the Company shall not cease to maintain a Directors and Officers liability insurance policy in an amount of at least $3,000,000 unless approved by such Series A Director, and the Company shall annually, within one hundred twenty (120) days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company, deliver to the Series A Purchasers a certification that such a Directors and Officers liability insurance policy remains in effect.

5.2 Employee Agreements. The Company will cause (i) each Person now or hereafter employed by it or by any subsidiary (or engaged by the Company or any subsidiary as a consultant/independent contractor) with access to confidential information and/or trade secrets to enter into a nondisclosure and proprietary rights assignment agreement and one (1) year noncompetition and nonsolicitation agreement, substantially in the form approved by the Board of Directors. In addition, the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive, or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any of the above-referenced agreements or any restricted stock agreement between the Company and any employee, without the unanimous consent of the Series A Directors.

5.3 Employee Stock. Unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors, all future employees and consultants of the Company who purchase, receive options to purchase, or receive awards of shares of the Company's capital stock after the date hereof shall be required to execute restricted stock or option agreements, as applicable, providing for (i) vesting of shares over a four (4) year period, with the first twenty-five percent (25%) of such shares vesting following twelve (12) months of continued employment or service, and the remaining shares vesting in equal monthly installments over the following thirty-six (36) months, and (ii) a market stand-off provision substantially similar to that in Subsection 2.11. Without the prior approval by the Board of Directors (including a Series A Director), the Company shall not amend, modify, terminate, waive or otherwise alter, in whole or in part, any stock purchase, stock restriction or option agreement with any existing employee or service provider if such amendment would cause it to be inconsistent with this Subsection 5.3. In addition, unless otherwise approved by the Board of Directors (including a Series A Director), the Company shall retain (and not waive) a "right of first refusal" on employee transfers until the Company's IPO and shall have the right to repurchase unvested shares at cost upon termination of employment of a holder of restricted stock.

5.4 Qualified Small Business Stock. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the shares of Series A Preferred Stock issued pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, as well as any shares into which such shares are converted, within the meaning of Section 1202(f) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), to constitute "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code; provided, however, that such requirement shall not be applicable if the Board of Directors of the Company determines, in its good-faith business judgment, that such qualification is inconsistent with the best interests of the Company. The Company shall submit to its stockholders (including the Investors) and to the Internal Revenue Service any reports that may be required under Section 1202(d)(1)(C) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. In addition, within twenty (20) business days after any Investor's written request therefor, the Company shall, at its option, either (i) deliver to such Investor a written statement indicating whether (and what portion of) such Investor's interest in the Company constitutes "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code or (ii) deliver to such Investor such factual information in the Company's possession as is reasonably necessary to enable such Investor to determine whether (and what portion of) such Investor's interest in the Company constitutes "qualified small business stock" as defined in Section 1202(c) of the Code.

5.5 Matters Requiring Investor Director Approval. So long as the holders of Series A Preferred Stock are entitled to elect a Series A Director, the Company hereby covenants and agrees with each of the Investors that it shall not, without approval of the Board of Directors, which approval must include the affirmative vote of all of the Series A Directors:

(a) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to, or own any stock or other securities of, any subsidiary or other corporation, partnership, or other entity unless it is wholly owned by the Company;

(b) make, or permit any subsidiary to make, any loan or advance to any Person, including, without limitation, any employee or director of the Company or any subsidiary, except advances and similar expenditures in the ordinary course of business or under the terms of an employee stock or option plan approved by the Board of Directors;

(c) guarantee, directly or indirectly, or permit any subsidiary to guarantee, directly or indirectly, any indebtedness except for trade accounts of the Company or any subsidiary arising in the ordinary course of business;

(d) make any investment inconsistent with any investment policy approved by the Board of Directors;

(e) incur any aggregate indebtedness in excess of $100,000 that is not already included in a budget approved by the Board of Directors, other than trade credit incurred in the ordinary course of business;

(f) otherwise enter into or be a party to any transaction with any director, officer, or employee of the Company or any "associate" (as defined in Rule 12b-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of any such Person, including without limitation any "management bonus" or similar plan providing payments to employees in connection with a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, except for transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Purchase Agreement; or transactions made in the ordinary course of business and pursuant to reasonable requirements of the Company's business and upon fair and reasonable terms that are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors;

(g) hire, terminate, or change the compensation of the executive officers, including approving any option grants or stock awards to executive officers;

(h) change the principal business of the Company, enter new lines of business, or exit the current line of business;

(i) sell, assign, license, pledge, or encumber material technology or intellectual property, other than licenses granted in the ordinary course of business; or

(j) enter into any corporate strategic relationship involving the payment, contribution, or assignment by the Company or to the Company of money or assets greater than $100,000.

5.6 Board Matters. Unless otherwise determined by the vote of a majority of the directors then in office, the Board of Directors shall meet at least quarterly in accordance with an agreed-upon schedule. The Company shall reimburse the nonemployee directors for all reasonable out-of-pocket travel expenses incurred (consistent with the Company's travel policy) in connection with attending meetings of the Board of Directors.

5.7 Successor Indemnification. If the Company or any of its successors or assignees consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, then to the extent necessary, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assignees of the Company assume the obligations of the Company with respect to indemnification of members of the Board of Directors as in effect immediately before such transaction, whether such obligations are contained in the Company's Bylaws, the Certificate of Incorporation, or elsewhere, as the case may be.

5.8 Expenses of Counsel. In the event of a transaction which is a Sale of the Company (as defined in the Voting Agreement of even date herewith among the Investors, the Company and the other parties named therein), the reasonable fees and disbursements of one counsel for the Major Investors designated by ATP ("Investor Counsel"), in their capacities as stockholders, shall be borne and paid by the Company. At the outset of considering a transaction which, if consummated would constitute a Sale of the Company, the Company shall obtain the ability to share with the Investor Counsel (and such counsel's clients) and shall share the confidential information (including, without limitation, the initial and all subsequent drafts of memoranda of understanding, letters of intent and other transaction documents and related noncompete, employment, consulting and other compensation agreements and plans) pertaining to and memorializing any of the transactions which, individually or when aggregated with others would constitute the Sale of the Company. The Company shall be obligated to share (and cause the Company's counsel and investment bankers to share) such materials when distributed to the Company's executives and/or any one or more of the other parties to such transaction(s). In the event that Investor Counsel deems it appropriate, in its reasonable discretion, to enter into a joint defense agreement or other arrangement to enhance the ability of the parties to protect their communications and other reviewed materials under the attorney client privilege, the Company shall, and shall direct its counsel to, execute and deliver to Investor Counsel and its clients such an agreement in form and substance reasonably acceptable to Investor Counsel. In the event that one or more of the other party or parties to such transactions require the clients of Investor Counsel to enter into a confidentiality agreement and/or joint defense agreement in order to receive such information, then the Company shall share whatever information can be shared without entry into such agreement and shall, at the same time, in good faith work expeditiously to enable Investor Counsel and its clients to negotiate and enter into the appropriate agreement(s) without undue burden to the clients of Investor Counsel.

5.9 Indemnification Matters. The Company hereby acknowledges that one (1) or more of the directors nominated to serve on the Board of Directors by the Investors (each an "Investor Director") may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by one or more of the Investors and certain of their Affiliates (collectively, the "Investor Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (a) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to any such Investor Director are primary and any obligation of the Investor Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by such Investor Director are secondary), (b) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by such Investor Director and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or on behalf of any such Investor Director to the extent legally permitted and as required by the Company's Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Company (or any agreement between the Company and such Investor Director), without regard to any rights such Investor Director may have against the Investor Indemnitors, and, (c) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Investor Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Investor Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Investor Indemnitors on behalf of any such Investor Director with respect to any claim for which such Investor Director has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Investor Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Investor Director against the Company. The Investor Directors and the Investor Indemnitors are intended third-party beneficiaries of this Subsection 5.9 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Subsection 5.9 as though they were a party to this Agreement.

5.10 Right to Conduct Activities. The Company hereby agrees and acknowledges that ATP (together with its Affiliates) is a professional investment organization, and as such reviews the business plans and related proprietary information of many enterprises, some of which may compete directly or indirectly with the Company's business (as currently conducted or as currently propose to be conducted). The Company hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted under applicable law, ATP (and its Affiliates) shall not be liable to the Company for any claim arising out of, or based upon, (i) the investment by ATP (or its Affiliates) in any entity competitive with the Company, or (ii) actions taken by any partner, officer, employee or other representative of ATP (or its Affiliates) to assist any such competitive company, whether or not such action was taken as a member of the board of directors of such competitive company or otherwise, and whether or not such action has a detrimental effect on the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not relieve (x) any of the Investors from liability associated with the unauthorized disclosure of the Company's confidential information obtained pursuant to this Agreement, or (y) any director or officer of the Company from any liability associated with his or her fiduciary duties to the Company.

5.11 FCPA. The Company represents that it shall not (and shall not permit any of its subsidiaries or affiliates or any of its or their respective directors, officers, managers, employees, independent contractors, representatives or agents to) promise, authorize or make any payment to, or otherwise contribute any item of value to, directly or indirectly, to any third party, including any Non-U.S. Official (as (as such term is defined in the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended (the "FCPA")), in each case, in violation of the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. The Company further represents that it shall (and shall cause each of its subsidiaries and affiliates to) cease all of its or their respective activities, as well as remediate any actions taken by the Company, its subsidiaries or affiliates, or any of their respective directors, officers, managers, employees, independent contractors, representatives or agents in violation of the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. The Company further represents that it shall (and shall cause each of its subsidiaries and affiliates to) maintain systems of internal controls (including, but not limited to, accounting systems, purchasing systems and billing systems) to ensure compliance with the FCPA, the U.K. Bribery Act, or any other applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption law. Upon request, the Company agrees to provide responsive information and/or certifications concerning its compliance with applicable anti-corruption laws. The Company shall promptly notify each Investor if the Company becomes aware of any Enforcement Action (as defined in the Purchase Agreement). The Company shall, and shall cause any direct or indirect subsidiary or entity controlled by it, whether now in existence or formed in the future, to comply with the FCPA. The Company shall use its best efforts to cause any direct or indirect subsidiary, whether now in existence or formed in the future, to comply in all material respects with all applicable laws.

5.12 Termination of Covenants. The covenants set forth in this Section 5, except for Subsections 5.7 and 5.8, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect (i) immediately before the consummation of the IPO, (ii) when the Company first becomes subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Section 12(g) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or (iii) upon a Deemed Liquidation Event, as such term is defined in the Certificate of Incorporation, whichever event occurs first.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Successors and Assigns. The rights under this Agreement may be assigned (but only with all related obligations) by a Holder to a transferee of Registrable Securities that (i) is an Affiliate of a Holder; (ii) is a Holder's Immediate Family Member or trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or one or more of such Holder's Immediate Family Members; or (iii) after such transfer, holds at least two percent (2%) of the shares of Registrable Securities (subject to appropriate adjustment for stock splits, stock dividends, combinations, and other recapitalizations); provided, however, that (x) the Company is, within a reasonable time after such transfer, furnished with written notice of the name and address of such transferee and the Registrable Securities with respect to which such rights are being transferred; and (y) such transferee agrees in a written instrument delivered to the Company to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including the provisions of Subsection 2.11. For the purposes of determining the number of shares of Registrable Securities held by a transferee, the holdings of a transferee (1) that is an Affiliate or stockholder of a Holder; (2) who is a Holder's Immediate Family Member; or (3) that is a trust for the benefit of an individual Holder or such Holder's Immediate Family Member shall be aggregated together and with those of the transferring Holder; provided further that all transferees who would not qualify individually for assignment of rights shall, as a condition to the applicable transfer, establish a single attorney-in-fact for the purpose of exercising any rights, receiving notices, or taking any action under this

CONFIDENTIAL ATP_00196383

Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement inure to the benefit of and are binding upon the respective successors and permitted assignees of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assignees any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided herein.

6.2 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.3 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.4 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (i) personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent, if sent by electronic mail or facsimile during the recipient's normal business hours, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day; (iii) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one (1) business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next-day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their addresses as set forth on Schedule A attached hereto, or to the principal office of the Company and to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer, in the case of the Company, or to such email address, facsimile number, or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Hogan Lovells US LLP, 100 International Drive, Suite 2000, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, Attn: Asher M. Rubin; email: asher.rubin@hoganlovells.com and if notice is given to Stockholders, a copy shall also be given to Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., 230 Park Avenue, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10169, Attn: Daniel P. Finkelman; email: dan@appletreepartners.com.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address or the facsimile number set forth below such Investor's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided, and such attempted Electronic Notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in such stockholder's electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Amendments and Waivers. Any term of this Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance, and either retroactively or prospectively) only with the written consent of the Company and the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding; provided that the Company may in its sole discretion waive compliance with Subsection 2.12(c) (and the Company's failure to object promptly in writing after notification of a proposed assignment allegedly in violation of Subsection 2.12(c) shall be deemed to be a waiver); provided, further, that any provision hereof may be waived by any waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereof may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, unless such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver applies to all Investors in the same fashion (it being agreed that a waiver of the provisions of Section 4 with respect to a particular transaction shall be deemed to apply to all Investors in the same fashion if such waiver does so by its terms, notwithstanding the fact that certain Investors may nonetheless, by agreement with the Company, purchase securities in such transaction), (b) Subsections 3.1 and 3.2, Section 4 and any other section of this Agreement applicable to the Major Investors (including this clause (b) of this Subsection 6.6) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of the holders of at least a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding and held by the Major Investors and (c) Subsections 3.3 and 5.10 and this clause (c) of this Subsection 6.6 may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the consent of ATP. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time to add transferees of any Registrable Securities in compliance with the terms of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties; and Schedule A hereto may also be amended by the Company after the date of this Agreement without the consent of the other parties to add information regarding any additional Investor who becomes a party to this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 6.9. The Company shall give prompt notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 6.6 shall be binding on all parties hereto, regardless of whether any such party has consented thereto. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition, or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition, or provision.

6.7 Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is for any reason held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this Agreement, and such invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision shall be reformed and construed so that it will be valid, legal, and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted by law.

6.8 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Registrable Securities held or acquired by Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.9 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock after the date hereof, whether pursuant to the Purchase Agreement or otherwise, any purchaser of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement, and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder. No action or consent by the Investors shall be required for such joinder to this Agreement by such additional Investor, so long as such additional Investor has agreed in writing to be bound by all of the obligations as an "Investor" hereunder.

6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including any Schedules hereto) constitutes the full and entire understanding and agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

6.11 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

6.12 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power, or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power, or remedy of such nonbreaching or nondefaulting party, nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of or acquiescence to any such breach or default, or to any similar breach or default thereafter occurring, nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. All remedies, whether under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

CONFIDENTIAL

RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT

THIS RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made as of this 5th day of August, 2019, by and among Limelight Bio, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the Investors (as defined below) listed on Schedule A and the Key Holders (as defined below) listed on Schedule B.

WHEREAS, each Key Holder is the beneficial owner of the number of shares of Capital Stock, or of options to purchase Common Stock, set forth opposite the name of such Key Holder on Schedule B;

WHEREAS, the Company and Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("ATP") are parties to that certain Series A2 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, of even date herewith (the "Purchase Agreement"), pursuant to which the Investors have agreed to purchase shares of the Series A2 Preferred Stock of the Company, par value $0.0001 per share ("Series A2 Preferred Stock"); and

WHEREAS, the Key Holders and the Company desire to further induce the Investors to purchase the Series A2 Preferred Stock;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Company, the Key Holders and the Investors agree as follows:

1. Definitions.

1.1 "Affiliate" means, with respect to any specified Investor, any other Investor who directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Investor, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Investor, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing which is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Investor.

1.2 "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Company.

1.3 "Capital Stock" means (a) shares of Common Stock and Series A Preferred Stock (whether now outstanding or hereafter issued in any context), (b) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of Series A Preferred Stock, and (c) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon exercise or conversion, as applicable, of stock options, warrants or other convertible securities of the Company, in each case now owned or subsequently acquired by any Key Holder, any Investor, or their respective successors or permitted transferees or assigns. For purposes of the number of shares of Capital Stock held by an Investor or Key Holder (or any other calculation based thereon), all shares of Series A Preferred Stock shall be deemed to have been converted into Common Stock at the then-applicable conversion ratio.

1.4 "Change of Control" means a transaction or series of related transactions in which a person, or a group of related persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company.

1.5 "Common Stock" means shares of Common Stock of the Company, $0.0001 par value per share.

1.6 "Company Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the selling Key Holders and each Investor that the Company intends to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.7 "Investor Notice" means written notice from any Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder(s) that such Investor intends to exercise its Secondary Refusal Right as to a portion of the Transfer Stock with respect to any Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.8 "Investors" means the persons named on Schedule A hereto, each person to whom the rights of an Investor are assigned pursuant to Subsection 6.9, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.11 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.9 "Key Holders" means the persons named on Schedule B hereto, each person to whom the rights of a Key Holder are assigned pursuant to Subsection 3.1, each person who hereafter becomes a signatory to this Agreement pursuant to Subsection 6.9 or 6.17 and any one of them, as the context may require.

1.10 "Proposed Key Holder Transfer" means any assignment, sale, offer to sell, pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, encumbrance, disposition of or any other like transfer or encumbering of any Transfer Stock (or any interest therein) proposed by any of the Key Holders.

1.11 "Proposed Transfer Notice" means written notice from a Key Holder setting forth the terms and conditions of a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.12 "Prospective Transferee" means any person to whom a Key Holder proposes to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer.

1.13 "Restated Certificate" means the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended and/or restated from time to time.

1.14 "Right of Co-Sale" means the right, but not an obligation, of an Investor to participate in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.15 "Right of First Refusal" means the right, but not an obligation, of the Company, or its permitted transferees or assigns, to purchase some or all of the Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.16 "Secondary Notice" means written notice from the Company notifying the Investors and the selling Key Holder that the Company does not intend to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to all shares of any Transfer Stock with respect to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.17 "Secondary Refusal Right" means the right, but not an obligation, of each Investor to purchase up to its pro rata portion (based upon the total number of shares of Capital Stock then held by all Investors) of any Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, on the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice.

1.18 "Series A Preferred Stock" means shares of the Company's Series A1 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, and shares of Series A2 Preferred Stock.

1.19 "Transfer Stock" means shares of Capital Stock owned by a Key Holder, or issued to a Key Holder after the date hereof (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), but does not include any shares of Series A Preferred Stock or of Common Stock that are issued or issuable upon conversion of Series A Preferred Stock.

1.20 "Undersubscription Notice" means written notice from an Investor notifying the Company and the selling Key Holder that such Investor intends to exercise its option to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right.

2. Agreement Among the Company, the Investors and the Key Holders.

2.1 Right of First Refusal.

(a) Grant. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Company a Right of First Refusal to purchase all or any portion of Transfer Stock that such Key Holder may propose to transfer in a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, at the same price and on the same terms and conditions as those offered to the Prospective Transferee.

(b) Notice. Each Key Holder proposing to make a Proposed Key Holder Transfer must deliver a Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company and each Investor not later than forty-five (45) days prior to the consummation of such Proposed Key Holder Transfer. Such Proposed Transfer Notice shall contain the material terms and conditions (including price and form of consideration) of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the identity of the Prospective Transferee and the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer. To exercise its Right of First Refusal under this Section 2, the Company must deliver a Company Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Investors within fifteen (15) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice specifying the number of shares of Transfer Stock to be purchased by the Company. In the event of a conflict between this Agreement and any other agreement that may have been entered into by a Key Holder with the Company that contains a preexisting right of first refusal, the Company and the Key Holder acknowledge and agree that the terms of this Agreement shall control and the preexisting right of first refusal shall be deemed satisfied by compliance with Subsection 2.1(a) and this Subsection 2.1(b).

(c) Grant of Secondary Refusal Right to the Investors. Subject to the terms of Section 3 below, each Key Holder hereby unconditionally and irrevocably grants to the Investors a Secondary Refusal Right to purchase all or any portion of the Transfer Stock not purchased by the Company pursuant to the Right of First Refusal, as provided in this Subsection 2.1(c). If the Company does not provide the Company Notice exercising its Right of First Refusal with respect to all Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer, the Company must deliver a Secondary Notice to the selling Key Holder and to each Investor to that effect no later than fifteen (15) days after the selling Key Holder delivers the Proposed Transfer Notice to the Company. To exercise its Secondary Refusal Right, an Investor must deliver an Investor Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the Company's deadline for its delivery of the Secondary Notice as provided in the preceding sentence.

(d) Undersubscription of Transfer Stock. If options to purchase have been exercised by the Company and the Investors pursuant to Subsections 2.1(b) and (c) with respect to some but not all of the Transfer Stock by the end of the ten (10) day period specified in the last sentence of Subsection 2.1(c) (the "Investor Notice Period"), then the Company shall, within five (5) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period, send written notice (the "Company Undersubscription Notice") to those Investors who fully exercised their Secondary Refusal Right within the Investor Notice Period (the "Exercising Investors"). Each Exercising Investor shall, subject to the provisions of this Subsection 2.1(d), have an additional option to purchase all or any part of the balance of any such remaining unsubscribed shares of Transfer Stock on the terms and conditions set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice. To exercise such option, an Exercising Investor must deliver an Undersubscription Notice to the selling Key Holder and the Company within ten (10) days after the expiration of the Investor Notice Period. In the event there are two (2) or more such Exercising Investors that choose to exercise the last-mentioned option for a total number of remaining shares in excess of the number available, the remaining shares available for purchase under this Subsection 2.1(d) shall be allocated to such Exercising Investors pro rata based on the number of shares of Transfer Stock such Exercising Investors have elected to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right (without giving effect to any shares of Transfer Stock that any such Exercising Investor has elected to purchase pursuant to the Company Undersubscription Notice). If the options to purchase the remaining shares are exercised in full by the Exercising Investors, the Company shall immediately notify all of the Exercising Investors and the selling Key Holder of that fact.

(e) Consideration; Closing. If the consideration proposed to be paid for the Transfer Stock is in property, services or other non-cash consideration, the fair market value of the consideration shall be as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. If the Company or any Investor cannot for any reason pay for the Transfer Stock in the same form of non-cash consideration, the Company or such Investor may pay the cash value equivalent thereof, as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and as set forth in the Company Notice. The closing of the purchase of Transfer Stock by the Company and the Investors shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Investors shall have been delivered to the selling Key Holder, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice as the intended date of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Proposed Transfer Notice.

2.2 Right of Co-Sale.

(a) Exercise of Right. If any Transfer Stock subject to a Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not purchased pursuant to Subsection 2.1 above and thereafter is to be sold to a Prospective Transferee, each respective Investor may elect to exercise its Right of Co-Sale and participate on a pro rata basis in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer as set forth in Subsection 2.2(b) below and, subject to Subsection 2.2(d), otherwise on the same terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice. Each Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale (each, a "Participating Investor") must give the selling Key Holder written notice to that effect within fifteen (15) days after the deadline for delivery of the Secondary Notice described above, and upon giving such notice such Participating Investor shall be deemed to have effectively exercised the Right of Co-Sale.

(b) Shares Includable. Each Participating Investor may include in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer all or any part of such Participating Investor's Capital Stock equal to the product obtained by multiplying (i) the aggregate number of shares of Transfer Stock subject to the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (excluding shares purchased by the Company or the Participating Investors pursuant to the Right of First Refusal or the Secondary Refusal Right) by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Capital Stock owned by such Participating Investor immediately before consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (including any shares that such Participating Investor has agreed to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right) and the denominator of which is the total number of shares of Capital Stock owned, in the aggregate, by all Participating Investors immediately prior to the consummation of the Proposed Key Holder Transfer (including any shares that all Participating Investors have collectively agreed to purchase pursuant to the Secondary Refusal Right), plus the number of shares of Transfer Stock held by the selling Key Holder. To the extent one (1) or more of the Participating Investors exercise such right of participation in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth herein, the number of shares of Transfer Stock that the selling Key Holder may sell in the Proposed Key Holder Transfer shall be correspondingly reduced.

(c) Purchase and Sale Agreement. The Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder agree that the terms and conditions of any Proposed Key Holder Transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2 will be memorialized in, and governed by, a written purchase and sale agreement with the Prospective Transferee (the "Purchase and Sale Agreement") with customary terms and provisions for such a transaction, and the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder further covenant and agree to enter into such Purchase and Sale Agreement as a condition precedent to any sale or other transfer in accordance with this Subsection 2.2.

(d) Allocation of Consideration.

(i) Subject to Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder shall be allocated based on the number of shares of Capital Stock sold to the Prospective Transferee by each Participating Investor and the selling Key Holder as provided in Subsection 2.2(b); provided that if a Participating Investor wishes to sell Series A Preferred Stock, the price set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice shall be appropriately adjusted based on the conversion ratio of the Series A Preferred Stock into Common Stock.

(ii) In the event that the Proposed Key Holder Transfer constitutes a Change of Control, the terms of the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that the aggregate consideration from such transfer shall be allocated to the Participating Investors and the selling Key Holder in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if (A) such transfer were a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate), and (B) the Capital Stock sold in accordance with the Purchase and Sale Agreement were the only Capital Stock outstanding. In the event that a portion of the aggregate consideration payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder is placed into escrow and/or is payable only upon satisfaction of contingencies, the Purchase and Sale Agreement shall provide that (x) the portion of such consideration that is not placed in escrow and is not subject to contingencies (the "Initial Consideration") shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate as if the Initial Consideration were the only consideration payable in connection with such transfer, and (y) any additional consideration which becomes payable to the Participating Investor(s) and selling Key Holder upon release from escrow or satisfaction of such contingencies shall be allocated in accordance with Sections 2.1 and 2.2 of Article IV(B) of the Restated Certificate after taking into account the previous payment of the Initial Consideration as part of the same transfer.

(e) Purchase by Selling Key Holder; Deliveries. Notwithstanding Subsection 2.2(c) above, if any Prospective Transferee or Transferees refuse(s) to purchase securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from any Participating Investor or Investors or upon the failure to negotiate in good faith a Purchase and Sale Agreement reasonably satisfactory to the Participating Investors, no Key Holder may sell any Transfer Stock to such Prospective Transferee or Transferees unless and until, simultaneously with such sale, such Key Holder purchases all securities subject to the Right of Co-Sale from such Participating Investor or Investors on the same terms and conditions (including the proposed purchase price) as set forth in the Proposed Transfer Notice and as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i); provided, however, if such sale constitutes a Change of Control, the portion of the aggregate consideration paid by the selling Key Holder to such Participating Investor or Investors shall be made in accordance with the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii). In connection with such purchase by the selling Key Holder, such Participating Investor or Investors shall deliver to the selling Key Holder any stock certificate or certificates, properly endorsed for transfer, representing the Capital Stock being purchased by the selling Key Holder (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of the selling Key Holder). Any such shares transferred to the selling Key Holder will be transferred to the Prospective Transferee against payment therefor in consummation of the sale of the Transfer Stock pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in the Proposed Transfer Notice, and the selling Key Holder shall concurrently therewith remit or direct payment to each such Participating Investor the portion of the aggregate consideration to which each such Participating Investor is entitled by reason of its participation in such sale as provided in this Subsection 2.2(e).

(f) Additional Compliance. If any Proposed Key Holder Transfer is not consummated within forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Proposed Transfer Notice by the Company, the Key Holders proposing the Proposed Key Holder Transfer may not sell any Transfer Stock unless they first comply in full with each provision of this Section 2. The exercise or election not to exercise any right by any Investor hereunder shall not adversely affect its right to participate in any other sales of Transfer Stock subject to this Subsection 2.2.

2.3 Effect of Failure to Comply.

(a) Transfer Void; Equitable Relief. Any Proposed Key Holder Transfer not made in compliance with the requirements of this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio, shall not be recorded on the books of the Company or its transfer agent and shall not be recognized by the Company. Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any breach of this Agreement would result in substantial harm to the other parties hereto for which monetary damages alone could not adequately compensate. Therefore, the parties hereto unconditionally and irrevocably agree that any non-breaching party hereto shall be entitled to seek protective orders, injunctive relief and other remedies available at law or in equity (including, without limitation, seeking specific performance or the rescission of purchases, sales and other transfers of Transfer Stock not made in strict compliance with this Agreement).

(b) Violation of First Refusal Right. If any Key Holder becomes obligated to sell any Transfer Stock to the Company or any Investor under this Agreement and fails to deliver such Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company and/or such Investor may, at its option, in addition to all other remedies it may have, send to such Key Holder the purchase price for such Transfer Stock as is herein specified and transfer to the name of the Company or such Investor (or request that the Company effect such transfer in the name of an Investor) on the Company's books any certificates, instruments, or book entry representing the Transfer Stock to be sold.

(c) Violation of Co-Sale Right. If any Key Holder purports to sell any Transfer Stock in contravention of the Right of Co-Sale (a "Prohibited Transfer"), each Participating Investor who desires to exercise its Right of Co-Sale under Subsection 2.2 may, in addition to such remedies as may be available by law, in equity or hereunder, require such Key Holder to purchase from such Participating Investor the type and number of shares of Capital Stock that such Participating Investor would have been entitled to sell to the Prospective Transferee had the Prohibited Transfer been effected in compliance with the terms of Subsection 2.2. The sale will be made on the same terms, including, without limitation, as provided in Subsection 2.2(d)(i) and the first sentence of Subsection 2.2(d)(ii), as applicable, and subject to the same conditions as would have applied had the Key Holder not made the Prohibited Transfer, except that the sale (including, without limitation, the delivery of the purchase price) must be made within ninety (90) days after the Participating Investor learns of the Prohibited Transfer, as opposed to the timeframe proscribed in Subsection 2.2. Such Key Holder shall also reimburse each Participating Investor for any and all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, incurred pursuant to the exercise or the attempted exercise of the Participating Investor's rights under Subsection 2.2.

3. Exempt Transfers.

3.1 Exempted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Subsections 2.1 and 2.2 shall not apply (a) in the case of a Key Holder that is an entity, upon a transfer by such Key Holder to its stockholders, members, partners or other equity holders, (b) to a repurchase of Transfer Stock from a Key Holder by the Company at a price no greater than that originally paid by such Key Holder for such Transfer Stock and pursuant to an agreement containing vesting and/or repurchase provisions approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, or (c) in the case of a Key Holder that is a natural person, upon a transfer of Transfer Stock by such Key Holder made for bona fide estate planning purposes, either during his or her lifetime or on death by will or intestacy to his or her spouse, child (natural or adopted), or any other direct lineal descendant of such Key Holder (or his or her spouse) (all of the foregoing collectively referred to as "family members"), or any other relative/person approved by unanimous consent of the Board of Directors, or any custodian or trustee of any trust, partnership or limited liability company for the benefit of, or the ownership interests of which are owned wholly by such Key Holder or any such family members; provided that in the case of clause(s) (a) or (c), the Key Holder shall deliver prior written notice to the Investors of such pledge, gift or transfer and such shares of Transfer Stock shall at all times remain subject to the terms and restrictions set forth in this Agreement and such transferee shall, as a condition to such issuance, deliver a counterpart signature page to this Agreement as confirmation that such transferee shall be bound by all the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Key Holder (but only with respect to the securities so transferred to the transferee), including the obligations of a Key Holder with respect to Proposed Key Holder Transfers of such Transfer Stock pursuant to Section 2; provided, further, in the case of any transfer pursuant to clause (a) or (c) above, that such transfer is made pursuant to a transaction in which there is no consideration actually paid for such transfer.

3.2 Exempted Offerings. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary herein, the provisions of Section 2 shall not apply to the sale of any Transfer Stock (a) to the public in an offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (a "Public Offering"); or (b) pursuant to a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

3.3 Prohibited Transferees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Key Holder shall transfer any Transfer Stock to (a) any entity which, in the determination of the Board of Directors, directly or indirectly competes with the Company; or (b) any customer, distributor or supplier of the Company, if the Board of Directors should determine that such transfer would result in such customer, distributor or supplier receiving information that would place the Company at a competitive disadvantage with respect to such customer, distributor or supplier.

4. Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing shares of Transfer Stock held by the Key Holders or issued to any permitted transferee in connection with a transfer permitted by Subsection 3.1 hereof shall be notated with the following legend:

THE SALE, PLEDGE, HYPOTHECATION, OR TRANSFER OF THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY IS SUBJECT TO, AND IN CERTAIN CASES PROHIBITED BY, THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF A CERTAIN

RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL AND CO-SALE AGREEMENT BY AND AMONG THE STOCKHOLDER, THE CORPORATION AND CERTAIN OTHER HOLDERS OF STOCK OF THE CORPORATION. COPIES OF SUCH AGREEMENT MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST TO THE SECRETARY OF THE CORPORATION.

Each Key Holder agrees that the Company may instruct its transfer agent to impose transfer restrictions on the shares notated with the legend referred to in this Section 4 above to enforce the provisions of this Agreement, and the Company agrees to promptly do so. The legend shall be removed upon termination of this Agreement at the request of the holder.

5. Lock-Up.

5.1 Agreement to Lock-Up. Each Key Holder hereby agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the managing underwriter, during the period commencing on the date of the final prospectus relating to the Company's initial public offering (the "IPO") and ending on the date specified by the Company and the managing underwriter (such period not to exceed one hundred eighty (l80) days), or such other period as may be requested by the Company or an underwriter to accommodate regulatory restrictions on (1) the publication or other distribution of research reports; and (2) analyst recommendations and opinions, including, but not limited to, the restrictions contained in FINRA Rule 2711(f)(4) or NYSE Rule 472(f)(4), or any successor provisions or amendments thereto), (a) lend, offer, pledge, sell, contract to sell, sell any option or contract to purchase, purchase any option or contract to sell, grant any option, right or warrant to purchase, or otherwise transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of Capital Stock held immediately prior to the effectiveness of the registration statement for the IPO; or (b) enter into any swap or other arrangement that transfers to another, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Capital Stock, whether any such transaction described in clause (a) or (b) above is to be settled by delivery of Capital Stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise. The foregoing provisions of this Section 5 shall not apply to the sale of any shares to an underwriter pursuant to an underwriting agreement, and shall only be applicable to the Key Holders if all officers, directors and holders of more than one percent (1%) of the outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of all outstanding Series A Preferred Stock) enter into similar agreements. The underwriters in connection with the IPO are intended third party beneficiaries of this Section 5 and shall have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. Each Key Holder further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in the IPO that are consistent with this Section 5 or that are necessary to give further effect thereto.

5.2 Stop Transfer Instructions. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to the shares of Capital Stock of each Key Holder (and transferees and assignees thereof) until the end of such restricted period.

6. Miscellaneous.

6.1 Term. This Agreement shall automatically terminate upon the earlier of (a) immediately prior to the consummation of the Company's IPO; and (b) the consummation of a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Certificate).

6.2 Stock Split. All references to numbers of shares in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock dividend, split, combination or other recapitalization affecting the Capital Stock occurring after the date of this Agreement.

6.3 Ownership. Each Key Holder represents and warrants that such Key Holder is the sole legal and beneficial owner of the shares of Transfer Stock subject to this Agreement and that no other person or entity has any interest in such shares (other than a community property interest as to which the holder thereof has acknowledged and agreed in writing to the restrictions and obligations hereunder).

6.4 Dispute Resolution. The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

Each party will bear its own costs in respect of any disputes arising under this Agreement. The prevailing party shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees, costs, and necessary disbursements in addition to any other relief to which such party may be entitled. Each of the parties to this Agreement consents to personal jurisdiction for any equitable action sought in the U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware or any court of the State of Delaware having subject matter jurisdiction.

6.5 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail or facsimile during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1) business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereof, as the case may be, or to such email address, facsimile number or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 6.5. If notice is given to the Company, it shall be sent to 3401 Grays Ferry Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19146 Attention: Philip R. Johnson, M.D.; and a copy (which shall not constitute notice) shall also be sent to Hogan Lovells US LLP, 100 International Drive, Suite 2000, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, Attn: Asher M. Rubin; email: asher.rubin@hoganlovells.com; and if notice is given to the Investors, a copy shall also be given to Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., 230 Park Avenue, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10169, Attn: Daniel P. Finkelman; email: dan@appletreepartners.com

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address or the facsimile number set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic transmission is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected electronic mail address has been provided, and such attempted Electronic Notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

6.6 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including, the Exhibits and Schedules hereto) constitutes the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties are expressly canceled.

6.7 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default theretofore or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

6.8 Amendment; Waiver and Termination. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6.1 above) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company, (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the shares of Transfer Stock then held by all of the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants, and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted basis). Any amendment, modification, termination or waiver so effected shall be binding upon the Company, the Investors, the Key Holders and all of their respective successors and permitted assigns whether or not such party, assignee or other shareholder entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereunder may not be waived with respect to any Investor or Key Holder without the written consent of such Investor or Key Holder unless such amendment, modification, termination or waiver applies to all Investors and Key Holders, respectively, in the same fashion, (ii) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term hereunder may not be waived with respect to any Investor without the written consent of such Investor, if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver would adversely affect the rights of such Investor in a manner disproportionate to any adverse effect such amendment, modification, termination or waiver would have on the rights of the other Investors under this Agreement, (iii) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination or waiver does not apply to the Key Holders, and (iv) Schedule A hereto may be amended by the Company from time to time in accordance with the Purchase Agreement to add information regarding Additional Purchasers (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) without the consent of the other parties hereto. The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification or termination hereof or waiver hereunder to any party hereto that did not consent in writing to such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. No waivers of or exceptions to any term, condition or provision of this Agreement, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be, or construed as, a further or continuing waiver of any such term, condition or provision.

6.9 Assignment of Rights.

(a) The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and permitted assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(b) Any successor or permitted assignee of any Key Holder, including any Prospective Transferee who purchases shares of Transfer Stock in accordance with the terms hereof, shall deliver to the Company and the Investors, as a condition to any transfer or assignment, a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such successor or permitted assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the predecessor or assignor of such successor or permitted assignee.

(c) The rights of the Investors hereunder are not assignable without the Company's written consent (which shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), except (i) by an Investor to any Affiliate, or (ii) to an assignee or transferee who acquires at least two percent (2%) of the shares of Capital Stock (as adjusted for any stock combination, stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization or other similar transaction), it being acknowledged and agreed that any such assignment, including an assignment contemplated by the preceding clauses (i) or (ii) shall be subject to and conditioned upon any such assignee's delivery to the Company and the other Investors of a counterpart signature page hereto pursuant to which such assignee shall confirm their agreement to be subject to and bound by all of the provisions set forth in this Agreement that were applicable to the assignor of such assignee.

(d) Except in connection with an assignment by the Company by operation of law to the acquirer of the Company, the rights and obligations of the Company hereunder may not be assigned under any circumstances.

6.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

6.11 Additional Investors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of the Company's Series A Preferred Stock after the date hereof, any purchaser of such shares of Series A Preferred Stock may become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering an additional counterpart signature page to this Agreement and thereafter shall be deemed an "Investor" for all purposes hereunder.

6.12 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

6.13 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

6.14 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

6.15 Aggregation of Stock. All shares of Capital Stock held or acquired by Affiliated entities or persons shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

6.16 Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Investor shall be entitled to specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company and the Key Holders hereunder and to such other injunction or other equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

6.17 Additional Key Holders. In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company issues shares of Common Stock, or options to purchase Common Stock, to any employee or consultant, which shares or options would collectively constitute with respect to such employee or consultant (taking into account all shares of Common Stock, options and other purchase rights held by such employee or consultant) one percent (1%) or more of the Company's then outstanding Common Stock (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised or converted), the Company shall, as a condition to such issuance, cause such employee or consultant to execute a counterpart signature page hereto as a Key Holder, and such person shall thereby be bound by, and subject to, all the terms and provisions of this Agreement applicable to a Key Holder.

VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS VOTING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), is made and entered into as of this 5th day of August, 2019, by and among Limelight Bio, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), the holder of the Series A1 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A1 Preferred Stock") and the Series A2 Preferred Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Series A2 Preferred Stock" and, together with the Series A1 Preferred Stock, the "Series A Preferred Stock"), listed on Schedule A (together with any subsequent investors, or transferees, who become parties hereto as "Investors" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(a) or 7.2 below, the "Investors"), and those certain stockholders of the Company and holders of options to acquire shares of the capital stock of the Company listed on Schedule B (together with any subsequent stockholders or option holders, or any transferees, who become parties hereto as "Key Holders" pursuant to Subsections 7.1(b) or 7.2 below, the "Key Holders," and together collectively with the Investors, the "Stockholders").

RECITALS

A. Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, the Company and Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership ("ATP"), are entering into a Series A2 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement (the "Purchase Agreement") providing for the sale of shares of the Series A2 Preferred Stock, and in connection with that agreement the parties desire to provide the Investors with the right, among other rights, to designate the election of certain members of the board of directors of the Company (the "Board") in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

B. The Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of the Company (the "Restated Certificate") provides that (a) the holders of record of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect three (3) directors of the Company (the "Series A Directors"); (b) the holders of record of the shares of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company ("Common Stock"), exclusively and as a separate class, shall be entitled to elect one (1) director of the Company; and (c) the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock and the Series A Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted basis, shall be entitled to elect the balance of the total number of directors of the Company.

C. The parties also desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth their agreements and understandings with respect to how shares of the capital stock of the Company held by them will be voted on, or tendered in connection with, an acquisition of the Company an increase in the number of shares of Common Stock required to provide for the conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock.

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. Voting Provisions Regarding the Board.

1.1 Size of the Board. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares (as defined below) owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that the size of the Board shall be set and remain at five (5) directors and may be increased only with the written consent of Investors holding Series A Preferred Stock representing at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the then outstanding shares of Series A Preferred Stock (voting as a single separate class and on an as-converted to Common Stock basis). For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Shares" shall mean and include any securities of the Company that the holders of which are entitled to vote for members of the Board, including without limitation, all shares of Common Stock and Series A Preferred Stock, by whatever name called, now owned or subsequently acquired by a Stockholder, however acquired, whether through stock splits, stock dividends, reclassifications, recapitalizations, similar events or otherwise.

1.2 Board Composition. Each Stockholder agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that at each annual or special meeting of stockholders at which an election of directors is held or pursuant to any written consent of the stockholders, subject to Section 5, the following persons shall be elected to the Board:

(a) Three (3) individuals designated by ATP, for so long as ATP continues to own beneficially at least twenty-five percent (25%) of the shares of Common Stock (including shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the Series A Preferred Stock), which number is subject to appropriate adjustment for any stock splits, stock dividends, combinations, recapitalizations and the like), which individuals shall initially be Seth Harrison, M.D. and the remaining seats shall initially be vacant;

(b) The Company's Chief Executive Officer, which seat shall initially be vacant (the "CEO Director"), provided that if for any reason the CEO Director shall cease to serve as the Chief Executive Officer of the Company, each of the holders of Common Stock (on an as-converted basis) shall promptly vote their respective Shares (i) to remove the former Chief Executive Officer of the Company from the Board if such person has not resigned as a member of the Board; and (ii) to elect such person's replacement as Chief Executive Officer of the Company as the new CEO Director; and

(c) One individual designated from time to time by the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock held by the Key Holders, which individual shall initially be Philip R. Johnson, M.D.

To the extent that any of clauses (a) through (c) above shall not be applicable, any member of the Board who would otherwise have been designated in accordance with the terms thereof shall instead be voted upon by all the stockholders of the Company entitled to vote thereon in accordance with, and pursuant to, the Restated Certificate.

For purposes of this Agreement, an individual, firm, corporation, partnership, association, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (collectively, a "Person") shall be deemed an "Affiliate" of another Person who, directly or indirectly, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Person, including, without limitation, any general partner, managing member, officer, director or trustee of such Person, or any venture capital fund or registered investment company now or hereafter existing that is controlled by one or more general partners, managing members or investment advisers of, or shares the same management company or investment adviser with, such Person.

1.3 Failure to Designate a Board Member. In the absence of any designation from the Persons or groups with the right to designate a director as specified above, the director previously designated by them and then serving shall be reelected if still eligible and willing to serve as provided herein and otherwise, such Board seat shall remain vacant.

1.4 Removal of Board Members. Each Stockholder also agrees to vote, or cause to be voted, all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to ensure that:

(a) no director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 of this Agreement may be removed from office other than for cause unless (i) such removal is directed or approved by the affirmative vote of the Person(s), or of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of stock, entitled under Subsection 1.2 to designate that director; or (ii) the Person(s) originally entitled to designate or approve such director or occupy such Board seat pursuant to Subsection 1.2 is no longer so entitled to designate or approve such director or occupy such Board seat;

(b) any vacancies created by the resignation, removal or death of a director elected pursuant to Subsections 1.2 or 1.3 shall be filled pursuant to the provisions of this Section 1; and

(c) upon the request of any party entitled to designate a director as provided in Subsection 1.2(a) to remove such director, such director shall be removed.

All Stockholders agree to execute any written consents required to perform the obligations of this Section 1, and the Company agrees at the request of any Person or group entitled to designate directors to call a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing directors.

1.5 No Liability for Election of Recommended Directors. No Stockholder, nor any Affiliate of any Stockholder, shall have any liability as a result of designating a person for election as a director for any act or omission by such designated person in his or her capacity as a director of the Company, nor shall any Stockholder have any liability as a result of voting for any such designee in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

1.6 No "Bad Actor" Designees. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby represents and warrants to the Company that, to such Person's knowledge, none of the "bad actor" disqualifying events described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") (each, a "Disqualification Event"), is applicable to such Person's initial designee named above except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable, is hereinafter referred to as a "Disqualified Designee". Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director as specified above hereby covenants and agrees (A) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee and (B) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee.

2. Vote to Increase Authorized Common Stock. Each Stockholder agrees to vote or cause to be voted all Shares owned by such Stockholder, or over which such Stockholder has voting control, from time to time and at all times, in whatever manner as shall be necessary to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock from time to time to ensure that there will be sufficient shares of Common Stock available for conversion of all of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock outstanding at any given time.

3. Drag-Along Right.

3.1 Definitions. A "Sale of the Company" shall mean either: (a) a transaction or series of related transactions in which a Person, or a group of related Persons, acquires from stockholders of the Company shares representing more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting power of the Company (a "Stock Sale"); or (b) a transaction that qualifies as a "Deemed Liquidation Event" as defined in the Restated Certificate.

3.2 Actions to be Taken. In the event that (i) the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Common Stock then issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock (the "Selling Investors"); (ii) the Board; and (iii) the holders of a majority of the then outstanding shares of Common Stock voting as a separate class held by the Key Holders (collectively, the "Electing Holders") approve a Sale of the Company in writing, specifying that this Section 3 shall apply to such transaction, then, subject to satisfaction of each of the conditions set forth in Subsection 3.3 below, each Stockholder and the Company hereby agree:

(a) if such transaction requires stockholder approval, with respect to all Shares that such Stockholder owns or over which such Stockholder otherwise exercises voting power, to vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all Shares in favor of, and adopt, such Sale of the Company (together with any related amendment or restatement to the Restated Certificate required to implement such Sale of the Company) and to vote in opposition to any and all other proposals that could reasonably be expected to delay or impair the ability of the Company to consummate such Sale of the Company;

(b) if such transaction is a Stock Sale, to sell the same proportion of shares of capital stock of the Company beneficially held by such Stockholder as is being sold by the Selling Investors to the Person to whom the Selling Investors propose to sell their Shares, and, except as permitted in Subsection 3.3 below, on the same terms and conditions as the other stockholders of the Company;

(c) to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Sale of the Company as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Selling Investors in order to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 3, including, without limitation, executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances), and any similar or related documents;

(d) not to deposit, and to cause their Affiliates not to deposit, except as provided in this Agreement, any Shares of the Company owned by such party or Affiliate in a voting trust or subject any Shares to any arrangement or agreement with respect to the voting of such Shares, unless specifically requested to do so by the acquirer in connection with the Sale of the Company;

(e) to refrain from (i) exercising any dissenters' rights or rights of appraisal under applicable law at any time with respect to such Sale of the Company, or (ii); asserting any claim or commencing any suit (x) challenging the Sale of the Company or this Agreement, or (y) alleging a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Selling Investors or any affiliate or associate thereof (including, without limitation, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty) in connection with the evaluation, negotiation or entry into the Sale of the Company, or the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby;

(f) if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Shares pursuant to this Section 3 includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Stockholder would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Stockholder of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), the Company may cause to be paid to any such Stockholder in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Shares which would have otherwise been sold by such Stockholder, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Stockholder would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Shares; and

(g) in the event that the Selling Investors, in connection with such Sale of the Company, appoint a stockholder representative (the "Stockholder Representative") with respect to matters affecting the Stockholders under the applicable definitive transaction agreements following consummation of such Sale of the Company, (x) to consent to (i) the appointment of such Stockholder Representative, (ii) the establishment of any applicable escrow, expense or similar fund in connection with any indemnification or similar obligations, and (iii) the payment of such Stockholder's pro rata portion (from the applicable escrow or expense fund or otherwise) of any and all reasonable fees and expenses to such Stockholder Representative in connection with such Stockholder Representative's services and duties in connection with such Sale of the Company and its related service as the representative of the Stockholders, and (y) not to assert any claim or commence any suit against the Stockholder Representative or any other Stockholder with respect to any action or inaction taken or failed to be taken by the Stockholder Representative, within the scope of the Stockholder Representative's authority, in connection with its service as the Stockholder Representative, absent fraud, bad faith or willful misconduct.

3.3 Conditions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, a Stockholder will not be required to comply with Subsection 3.2 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the "Proposed Sale"), unless:

(a) any representations and warranties to be made by such Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including, but not limited to, representations and warranties that (i) the Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares such Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by the Stockholder have been duly executed by the Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable (subject to customary limitations) against the Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms; and (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into by the Stockholder in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of the Stockholder's obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement to which the Stockholder is a party, or any law or judgment, order or decree of any court or governmental agency that applies to the Stockholder;

(b) such Stockholder is not required to agree (unless such Stockholder is a Company officer or employee) to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Proposed Sale (including without limitation any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Proposed Sale);

(c) such Stockholder and its affiliates are not required to amend, extend or terminate any contractual or other relationship with the Company, the acquirer or their respective affiliates, except that the Stockholder may be required to agree to terminate the investment-related documents between or among such Stockholder, the Company and/or other stockholders of the Company;

(d) the Stockholder is not liable for the breach of any representation, warranty or covenant made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any of identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(e) liability shall be limited to such Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Certificate) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by such Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to such Stockholder;

(f) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale (i) each holder of each class or series of the capital stock of the Company will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock, and if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given a choice as to the form of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option, (ii) each holder of a series of Series A Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Series A Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless waived pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate and as may be required by law, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Series A Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Series A Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of Series A Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Subsection 3.3(f), if the consideration to be paid in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, pursuant to this Subsection 3.3(f) includes any securities and due receipt thereof by any Key Holder or Investor would require under applicable law (x) the registration or qualification of such securities or of any person as a broker or dealer or agent with respect to such securities; or (y) the provision to any Key Holder or Investor of any information other than such information as a prudent issuer would generally furnish in an offering made solely to "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, the Company may cause to be paid to any such Key Holder or Investor in lieu thereof, against surrender of the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable, which would have otherwise been sold by such Key Holder or Investor, an amount in cash equal to the fair value (as determined in good faith by the Board) of the securities which such Key Holder or Investor would otherwise receive as of the date of the issuance of such securities in exchange for the Key Holder Shares or Investor Shares, as applicable;

(g) subject to clause (g) above, requiring the same form of consideration to be available to the holders of any single class or series of capital stock, if any holders of any capital stock of the Company are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received as a result of the Proposed Sale, all holders of such capital stock will be given the same option; provided, however, that nothing in this Subsection 3.3(g) shall entitle any holder to receive any form of consideration that such holder would be ineligible to receive as a result of such holder's failure to satisfy any condition, requirement or limitation that is generally applicable to the Company's stockholders.

3.4 Restrictions on Sales of Control of the Company. No Stockholder shall be a party to any Stock Sale unless (a) all holders of Series A Preferred Stock are allowed to participate in such transaction(s) and (b) the consideration received pursuant to such transaction is allocated among the parties thereto in the manner specified in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation in effect immediately prior to the Stock Sale (as if such transaction(s) were a Deemed Liquidation Event), unless the holders of at least the requisite percentage required to waive treatment of the transaction(s) as a Deemed Liquidation Event pursuant to the terms of the Restated Certificate, elect to allocate the consideration differently by written notice given to the Company at least ten (10) days prior to the effective date of any such transaction or series of related transactions.

4. Remedies.

4.1 Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees to use its best efforts, within the requirements of applicable law, to ensure that the rights granted under this Agreement are effective and that the parties enjoy the benefits of this Agreement. Such actions include, without limitation, the use of the Company's best efforts to cause the nomination and election of the directors as provided in this Agreement.

4.2 Irrevocable Proxy and Power of Attorney. Each party to this Agreement hereby constitutes and appoints as the proxies of the party and hereby grants a power of attorney to the President of the Company, , and a designee of the Selling Investors, and each of them, with full power of substitution, with respect to the matters set forth herein, including, without limitation, votes to increase authorized shares pursuant to Section 2 hereof and votes regarding any Sale of the Company pursuant to Section 3 hereof, and hereby authorizes each of them to represent and vote, if and only if the party (i) fails to vote, or (ii) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of Sections 2 and 3 of this Agreement, all of such party's Shares in favor of the election of persons as members of the Board determined pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement or the increase of authorized shares or approval of any Sale of the Company pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and provisions of Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement or to take any action reasonably necessary to effect Sections 2 and 3, respectively, of this Agreement. The power of attorney granted hereunder shall authorize the President of the Company to execute and deliver the documentation referred to in Subsection 3.2(c) on behalf of any party failing to do so within five (5) business days of a request by the Company. Each of the proxy and power of attorney granted pursuant to this Subsection 4.2 is given in consideration of the agreements and covenants of the Company and the parties in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and, as such, each is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 6 hereof. Each party hereto hereby revokes any and all previous proxies or powers of attorney with respect to the Shares and shall not hereafter, unless and until this Agreement terminates or expires pursuant to Section 6 hereof, purport to grant any other proxy or power of attorney with respect to any of the Shares, deposit any of the Shares into a voting trust or enter into any agreement (other than this Agreement), arrangement or understanding with any person, directly or indirectly, to vote, grant any proxy or give instructions with respect to the voting of any of the Shares, in each case, with respect to any of the matters set forth herein.

4.3 Specific Enforcement. Each party acknowledges and agrees that each party hereto will be irreparably damaged in the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed by the parties in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, it is agreed that each of the Company and the Stockholders shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent breaches of this Agreement, and to specific enforcement of this Agreement and its terms and provisions in any action instituted in any court of the United States or any state having subject matter jurisdiction.

4.4 Remedies Cumulative. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

5. "Bad Actor" Matters.

5.1 Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any Person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

(b) "Disqualified Designee" means any director designee to whom any Disqualification Event is applicable, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

(c) "Disqualification Event" means a "bad actor" disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) promulgated under the Securities Act.

(d) "Rule 506(d) Related Party" means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that is a beneficial owner of such first Person's securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act.

5.2 Representations.

(a) Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement hereby represents that (i) such Person has exercised reasonable care to determine whether any Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any director designee designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable and (ii) no Disqualification Event is applicable to such Person, any Board member designated by such Person pursuant to this Agreement or any of such Person's Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, each Investor makes no representation regarding any Person that may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the Company's voting equity securities held by such Investor solely by virtue of that Person being or becoming a party to (x) this Agreement, as may be subsequently amended, or (y) any other contract or written agreement to which the Company and such Investor are parties regarding (1) the voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of, such security; and/or (2) the investment power, which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of, such security.

(b) The Company hereby represents and warrants to the Investors that no Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person, except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii–iv) or (d)(3) is applicable.

5.3 Covenants. Each Person with the right to designate or participate in the designation of a director pursuant to this Agreement covenants and agrees (i) not to designate or participate in the designation of any director designee who, to such Person's knowledge, is a Disqualified Designee, (ii) to exercise reasonable care to determine whether any director designee designated by such person is a Disqualified Designee, (iii) that in the event such Person becomes aware that any individual previously designated by any such Person is or has become a Disqualified Designee, such Person shall as promptly as practicable take such actions as are necessary to remove such Disqualified Designee from the Board and designate a replacement designee who is not a Disqualified Designee, and (iv) to notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to such Person or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, or, to such Person's knowledge, to such Person's initial designee named in Section 1, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable.

6. Term. This Agreement shall be effective as of the date hereof and shall continue in effect until and shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (a) the consummation of the Company's first underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (other than a registration statement relating either to the sale of securities to employees of the Company pursuant to its stock option, stock purchase or similar plan or an SEC Rule 145 transaction); (b) the consummation of a Sale of the Company and distribution of proceeds to or escrow for the benefit of the Stockholders in accordance with the Restated Certificate, provided that the provisions of Section 3 hereof will continue after the closing of any Sale of the Company to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of Section 3 with respect to such Sale of the Company; and (c) termination of this Agreement in accordance with Subsection 7.8 below.

7.1 Additional Parties.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Company issues additional shares of Series A Preferred Stock after the date hereof, as a condition to the issuance of such shares the Company shall require that any purchaser of such shares become a party to this Agreement by executing and delivering (i) the Adoption Agreement attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A, or (ii) a counterpart signature page hereto agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as an Investor and Stockholder hereunder. In either event, each such person shall thereafter be deemed an Investor and Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

(b) In the event that after the date of this Agreement, the Company enters into an agreement with any Person to issue shares of capital stock to such Person (other than to a purchaser of Series A Preferred Stock described in Subsection 7.1(a) above), following which such Person shall hold Shares constituting one percent (1%) or more of the then outstanding capital stock of the Company (treating for this purpose all shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of or conversion of outstanding options, warrants or convertible securities, as if exercised and/or converted or exchanged), then, the Company shall cause such Person, as a condition precedent to entering into such agreement, to become a party to this Agreement by executing an Adoption Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, agreeing to be bound by and subject to the terms of this Agreement as a Stockholder and thereafter such person shall be deemed a Stockholder for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.2 Transfers. Each transferee or assignee of any Shares subject to this Agreement shall continue to be subject to the terms hereof, and, as a condition precedent to the Company's recognition of such transfer, each transferee or assignee shall agree in writing to be subject to each of the terms of this Agreement by executing and delivering an Adoption Agreement substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Upon the execution and delivery of an Adoption Agreement by any transferee, such transferee shall be deemed to be a party hereto as if such transferee were the transferor and such transferee's signature appeared on the signature pages of this Agreement and shall be deemed to be an Investor and Stockholder, or Key Holder and Stockholder, as applicable. The Company shall not permit the transfer of the Shares subject to this Agreement on its books or issue a new certificate representing any such Shares unless and until such transferee shall have complied with the terms of this Subsection 7.2. Each certificate instrument, or book entry representing the Shares subject to this Agreement if issued on or after the date of this Agreement shall be notated by the Company with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.3 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

7.4 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the internal law of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in the application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

7.5 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

7.6 Titles and Subtitles. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are used for convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting this Agreement.

7.7 Notices.

(a) All notices and other communications given or made pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effectively given upon the earlier of actual receipt or (a) personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent, if sent by electronic mail or facsimile during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours, then on the recipient's next business day, (c) five (5) days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one (1)

business day after the business day of deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, freight prepaid, specifying next business day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications shall be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on Schedule A or Schedule B hereto, or to such email address, facsimile number or address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Subsection 7.7. If notice is given to the Company, a copy shall also be sent to Hogan Lovells US LLP, 100 International Drive, Suite 2000, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, Attn: Asher M. Rubin; email: asher.rubin@hoganlovells.com and if notice is given to Stockholders, a copy shall also be given to Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P., 230 Park Avenue, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10169; Attn: Daniel P. Finkelman; email: dan@appletreepartners.com.

(b) Consent to Electronic Notice. Each Investor and Key Holder consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL"), as amended or superseded from time to time, by electronic transmission pursuant to Section 232 of the DGCL (or any successor thereto) at the electronic mail address or the facsimile number set forth below such Investor's or Key Holder's name on the Schedules hereto, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company, or as on the books of the Company. Each Investor and Key Holder agrees to promptly notify the Company of any change in its electronic mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

7.8 Consent Required to Amend, Modify, Terminate or Waive. This Agreement may be amended, modified or terminated (other than pursuant to Section 6) and the observance of any term hereof may be waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) only by a written instrument executed by (a) the Company; (b) the Key Holders holding a majority of the Shares then held by the Key Holders who are then providing services to the Company as officers, employees or consultants; and (c) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock held by the Investors (voting together as a single class). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(a) this Agreement may not be amended, modified or terminated and the observance of any term of this Agreement may not be waived with respect to any Investor or Key Holder without the written consent of such Investor or Key Holder unless such amendment, modification, termination or waiver applies to all Investors or Key Holders, as the case may be, in the same fashion;

(b) the provisions of Subsection 1.2(a) and this Subsection 7.8(b) may not be amended, modified, terminated or waived without the written consent of ATP;

(c) the consent of the Key Holders shall not be required for any amendment, modification, termination or waiver if such amendment, modification, termination, or waiver either (A) is not directly applicable to the rights of the Key Holders hereunder; or (B) does not adversely affect the rights of the Key Holders in a manner that is different than the effect on the rights of the other parties hereto; and

(d) any provision hereof may be waived by the waiving party on such party's own behalf, without the consent of any other party.

The Company shall give prompt written notice of any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver hereunder to any party that did not consent in writing thereto. Any amendment, modification, termination, or waiver effected in accordance with this Subsection 7.8 shall be binding on each party and all of such party's successors and permitted assigns, whether or not any such party, successor or assignee entered into or approved such amendment, modification, termination or waiver. For purposes of this Subsection 7.8, the requirement of a written instrument may be satisfied in the form of an action by written consent of the Stockholders circulated by the Company and executed by the Stockholder parties specified, whether or not such action by written consent makes explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.9 Delays or Omissions. No delay or omission to exercise any right, power or remedy accruing to any party under this Agreement, upon any breach or default of any other party under this Agreement, shall impair any such right, power or remedy of such non-breaching or non-defaulting party nor shall it be construed to be a waiver of any such breach or default, or an acquiescence therein, or of or in any similar breach or default thereafter occurring; nor shall any waiver of any single breach or default be deemed a waiver of any other breach or default previously or thereafter occurring. Any waiver, permit, consent or approval of any kind or character on the part of any party of any breach or default under this Agreement, or any waiver on the part of any party of any provisions or conditions of this Agreement, must be in writing and shall be effective only to the extent specifically set forth in such writing. All remedies, either under this Agreement or by law or otherwise afforded to any party, shall be cumulative and not alternative.

7.10 Severability. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall in no way affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision.

7.11 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the Exhibits hereto), the Restated Certificate and the other Transaction Agreements (as defined in the Purchase Agreement) constitute the full and entire understanding and agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and any other written or oral agreement relating to the subject matter hereof existing between the parties is expressly canceled.

7.12 Share Certificate Legend. Each certificate, instrument, or book entry representing any Shares issued after the date hereof shall be notated by the Company with a legend reading substantially as follows:

> "THE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY ARE SUBJECT TO A VOTING AGREEMENT, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, (A COPY OF WHICH MAY BE OBTAINED UPON WRITTEN REQUEST FROM THE COMPANY), AND BY ACCEPTING ANY INTEREST IN SUCH SHARES THE PERSON ACCEPTING SUCH INTEREST SHALL BE DEEMED TO AGREE TO AND SHALL BECOME BOUND BY ALL THE PROVISIONS OF THAT VOTING AGREEMENT, INCLUDING CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP SET FORTH THEREIN."

The Company, by its execution of this Agreement, agrees that it will cause the certificates instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares issued after the date hereof to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 of this Agreement, and it shall supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement to any holder of such Shares upon written request from such holder to the Company at its principal office. The parties to this Agreement do hereby agree that the failure to cause the certificates, instruments, or book entry evidencing the Shares to be notated with the legend required by this Subsection 7.12 herein and/or the failure of the Company to supply, free of charge, a copy of this Agreement as provided hereunder shall not affect the validity or enforcement of this Agreement.

7.13 Stock Splits, Stock Dividends, etc. In the event of any issuance of Shares or the voting securities of the Company hereafter to any of the Stockholders (including, without limitation, in connection with any stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reorganization, or the like), such Shares shall become subject to this Agreement and shall be notated with the legend set forth in Subsection 7.12.

7.14 Manner of Voting. The voting of Shares pursuant to this Agreement may be effected in person, by proxy, by written consent or in any other manner permitted by applicable law. For the avoidance of doubt, voting of the Shares pursuant to the Agreement need not make explicit reference to the terms of this Agreement.

7.15 Further Assurances. At any time or from time to time after the date hereof, the parties agree to cooperate with each other, and at the request of any other party, to execute and deliver any further instruments or documents and to take all such further action as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent of the parties hereunder.

7.16 Dispute Resolution The parties (a) hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the jurisdiction of the state courts of Delaware and to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement, (b) agree not to commence any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement except in the state courts of Delaware or the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, and (c) hereby waive, and agree not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, or otherwise, in any such suit, action or proceeding, any claim that it is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts, that its property is exempt or immune from attachment or execution, that the suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, that the venue of the suit, action or proceeding is improper or that this Agreement or the subject matter hereof may not be enforced in or by such court.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: EACH PARTY HEREBY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO A JURY TRIAL OF ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION BASED UPON OR ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE OTHER TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, THE SECURITIES OR THE SUBJECT MATTER HEREOF OR THEREOF. THE SCOPE OF THIS WAIVER IS INTENDED TO BE ALL-ENCOMPASSING OF ANY AND ALL DISPUTES THAT MAY BE FILED IN ANY COURT AND THAT RELATE TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS TRANSACTION, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, CONTRACT CLAIMS, TORT CLAIMS (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), BREACH OF DUTY CLAIMS, AND ALL OTHER COMMON LAW AND STATUTORY CLAIMS. THIS SECTION HAS BEEN FULLY DISCUSSED BY EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AND THESE PROVISIONS WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO ANY EXCEPTIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY FURTHER

WARRANTS AND REPRESENTS THAT SUCH PARTY HAS REVIEWED THIS WAIVER WITH ITS LEGAL COUNSEL, AND THAT SUCH PARTY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS JURY TRIAL RIGHTS FOLLOWING CONSULTATION WITH LEGAL COUNSEL.

7.17 Costs of Enforcement. If any party to this Agreement seeks to enforce its rights under this Agreement by legal proceedings, the non-prevailing party shall pay all costs and expenses incurred by the prevailing party, including, without limitation, all reasonable attorneys' fees.

7.18 Aggregation of Stock. All Shares held or acquired by a Stockholder and/or its Affiliates shall be aggregated together for the purpose of determining the availability of any rights under this Agreement, and such Affiliated persons may apportion such rights as among themselves in any manner they deem appropriate.

ADOPTION AGREEMENT

This Adoption Agreement ("Adoption Agreement") is executed on _____, 20__, by the undersigned (the "Holder") pursuant to the terms of that certain Voting Agreement dated as of August 5, 2019 (the "Agreement"), by and among the Company and certain of its Stockholders, as such Agreement may be amended or amended and restated hereafter. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Adoption Agreement shall have the respective meanings ascribed to such terms in the Agreement. By the execution of this Adoption Agreement, the Holder agrees as follows.

1.1 Acknowledgement. Holder acknowledges that Holder is acquiring certain shares of the capital stock of the Company (the "Stock") or options, warrants, or other rights to purchase such Stock (the "Options"), for one of the following reasons (Check the correct box):

☐ As a transferee of Shares from a party in such party's capacity as an "Investor" bound by the Agreement, and after such transfer, Holder shall be considered an "Investor" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ As a transferee of Shares from a party in such party's capacity as a "Key Holder" bound by the Agreement, and after such transfer, Holder shall be considered a "Key Holder" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ As a new Investor in accordance with Subsection 7.1(a) of the Agreement, in which case Holder will be an "Investor" and a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

☐ In accordance with Subsection 7.1(b) of the Agreement, as a new party who is not a new Investor, in which case Holder will be a "Stockholder" for all purposes of the Agreement.

1.2 Agreement. Holder hereby (a) agrees that the Stock, Options, and any other shares of capital stock or securities required by the Agreement to be bound thereby, shall be bound by and subject to the terms of the Agreement and (b) adopts the Agreement with the same force and effect as if Holder were originally a party thereto.

1.3 Notice. Any notice required or permitted by the Agreement shall be given to Holder at the address or facsimile number listed below Holder's signature hereto.

UNICORN BIOTECH VENTURES ONE LTD (IN ITS CAPACITY AS GENERAL PARTNER OF RIGMORA BIOTECH INVESTOR ONE LP) AND UNICORN BIOTECH VENTURES TWO LTD (IN ITS CAPACITY AS GENERAL PARTNER OF RIGMORA BIOTECH INVESTOR TWO LP) V ATP III GP, LTD (IN ITS CAPACITY AS GENERAL PARTNER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.)
CAUSE NO. FSD 146 OF 2025 (JAJ)

IN THE MATTER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.
CAUSE NO.: FSD 151 OF 2025 (JAJ)

1. We refer to your first letter of 5 September 2025. Unless otherwise stated we adopt the definitions used in your letter and our previous correspondence.

The funding emergency caused by the Rigmora LPs

2. We are surprised by the tenor of your letter, both with regard to your clients' claim to be unaware of the Braeburn Repayment (which we address further below) and the implication that there may be something improper in the Investment Deals or the information provided to your clients in respect of the same.

3. As you are aware, the Delaware Proceedings, Cayman Writ Action and Winding Up Petition all concern your clients' obligation to fund the Partnership through capital calls and to approve budgets for the further investment in the Partnership's portfolio companies. Those issues will be determined by the Delaware Court following the hearing listed for 18-19 September 2025, i.e., in ten days.

4. In the meantime, our client has been placed in an impossible position, whereby it is unable to discharge its duties to the Partnership, both with regard to funding the Partnership's portfolio companies and in respect of the Partnership's expenses. This situation has been caused solely by your clients starving the Partnership of funding by refusing to meet capital calls or approve budgets in accordance with their obligations under the LPA.

5. The situation the Partnership finds itself in is an emergency. If the Partnership is unable to fund the portfolio companies, those companies will collapse – along with any value they hold for the Partnership. This will have a devastating impact on the value of the Partnership, not to mention the termination of multiple ground-breaking medical research projects.

6. The interim funding discussions between our respective clients have been fruitless. In the circumstances, our client has had no choice but to find alternative means of funding the Partnership's essential expenditure to avoid the catastrophic consequences noted at paragraph 5 above. Similarly, the portfolio companies have had to rely on sources of funding outside of the Partnership. There is nothing improper about that. All transactions undertaken by any portfolio company are fully authorised by their charters, SPAs, etc., and boards.

The Braeburn Repayment and Tendyne Earnout

7. At the outset, we note that it is plainly incorrect to suggest that our client would be required to provide your clients with information regarding the Braeburn Repayment either during the negotiation phrase or immediately upon execution of the deal. The obligations under both section 22 of the ELP Act and paragraph 16(b) and (c) of the LPA relate to a limited partner's right to request (and receive) information.

8. Neither provision imposes an obligation on the general partner to inform limited partners of every business transaction concerning the Partnership as and when it arises. That is in line with sections 14(1) and 20 of the ELP Act and paragraph 2(b) of the LPA, which provide that the day-to-day management of an exempted limited partnership is a matter for the GP. Instead, the LPA imposes annual and quarterly reporting obligations on the GP. Your clients, in a thinly veiled attempt to support their false narrative of the GP providing inadequate information, now attempt to imply there are more stringent reporting obligations than those it agreed to under the terms of the LPA (or indeed, are provided for under the ELP Act).

9. In response to your questions regarding the Braeburn Repayment, we confirm that the repayment constituted an early repayment by Braeburn Inc. of certain convertible loan notes. The Partnership offered the Braeburn board of directors a 10% discount in return for early repayment, which the Braeburn board accepted in order to reduce its interest payments.[1]

10. Notwithstanding the fact that our client was not required to inform your clients of the Braeburn Repayment until the Q3 2025 Quarterly Report, it rejects the claim that the first your clients were aware of the Braeburn Repayment was through Yanchik's Deposition. Mr Yanchik even stated in his deposition that your clients "had been receiving all the iterations of the documents." Further, on 28 July 2025, Patrik Blochlinger and Yuri Bogdanov were both copied to an email from Sarah Gohary of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, attaching the latest draft Loan and Security Agreement, making it clear from the content of her email that the agreement now included the option for Braeburn to make a prepayment of the convertible notes up to US$42 million and that the prepayment would occur "substantially concurrently with the Second Amendment [i.e. the Loan and Security Agreement] Effective Date". Your clients raised no objections or concerns upon receiving this email.

11. The repayment received was US$41,736,871.30 on 1 August 2025. In addition, on 31 July 2025, the Partnership received a post-closing earnout payment from Abbott Laboratories in the amount of US$20,025,952.54 in respect of an exit from Tendyne, an older investment of the Partnership ("Tendyne Earnout"). As at 1 August 2025, the Partnership therefore held funds of US$61,762,823.84 from these two sources combined (the "Q32025 Receipts").[2]

12. The terms of the LPA are clear that the GP is entitled to apply these funds to (a) invest in projects and (b) discharge the Partnership's own expenses. Paragraph 8(c) of the LPA (as amended pursuant to Amendment 4 dated 1 April 2015) provides that:

> "The General Partner shall cause the Partnership to distribute in cash to the Partners, promptly from time to time, any amounts held by the Partnership which remain after the Partnership has made, or established reserves to make, tax distributions and Tracking Unit distributions which are required by Paragraphs 8(a) end (b), respectively, except to the extent that the General Partner reasonably determines that such amounts may be necessary for paying Partnership and Intermediary expenses, liabilities and other obligations (including investments in Projects consistent with the applicable budgets) and establishing reserves therefor, in each case in accordance with budgets approved by the Board or as provided for in this Agreement in the case of the Management Fee and indemnification obligations, or as otherwise determined by the General Partner with the prior written consent of the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units." (emphasis added)

13. In the circumstances, the GP is entitled, under the terms of the LPA, to apply the US$61,762,823.84 to the extent necessary to discharge the Partnership's expenses and invest in the portfolio companies, and has done so, as more particularly set out below.

14. The Schedule to this letter sets out all payments made to and from the Partnership's bank account from 31 July 2025 to 4 September 2025. These payments are explained in more detail below. All are types of expenditure that the GP has discharged on behalf of the Partnership for years, without any objection from your clients until recently. The total in outgoing payments since 31 July 2025 made using the Q32025 Receipts is $39,306,044.00. The remaining sum of US$22,456,779.84 is in the Partnership's Banc of California account.

15. In pre-empting any arguments your clients might attempt to run with regard to these being payments made with "their" money, your clients cannot continue to gloss over the reality of the relationship between the parties. If Dr Rybolovlev had wanted to set up a personal investment vehicle over which he had complete control, he could have done so. However, he wanted Dr Harrison's knowledge, expertise, ability and network. In order for Dr Rybolovlev to access

[2] The Partnership's bank account held c.US$2,021,608.60 at the time of the Tendyne Earnout. However, all but c.US$152,000 of this was funds received pursuant to previous capital calls and was therefore ring-fenced for use by the portfolio company in question.

those benefits, the parties agreed to a partnership structure, run by a general partner, pursuant to the Cayman Islands statutory provisions which put that general partner in control of the business. It also included the so-called "draconian" default provisions, of which Dr Rybolovlev was well aware when he entered into the LPA via his affiliated entities and which were, and remain, necessary to ensure the proper operation of the Partnership. Dr Harrison explained clearly at the time why the global default mechanism was essential to the effective functioning of the Partnership, and Dr Rybolovlev entered into the arrangement on that basis. Those default measures have gone unchanged for nearly 14 years and throughout 22 amendments.

16. Dr Rybolovlev, through your clients, has now manufactured allegations of there being a breakdown in trust and confidence in order to extricate himself from his contractual obligations – obligations that he well understood and would have been well advised about – because he cannot or does not want to comply with his obligations for further funding. This will be brought out in evidence in both the Delaware and Cayman Proceedings. Given the constraints on the GP in light of the injunction order made by the Cayman Islands Court, the GP must, acting in the best interests of the Partnership, take steps to preserve the Partnership and its assets until such time as your clients' Winding Up Petition has been determined.

Application of Q32025 Receipts

Funding the essential needs of, and investments in, portfolio companies with approved budgets

17. The following companies have essential funding needs relating to running costs and/or research and development pursuant to approved budgets. The following payments have therefore been made:[3]

	Payment made (US$)
Ascidian	6,000,000
Aethon	2,000,000
Replicate	1,500,000
Evercrisp	250,000

18. In the case of the US$6,000,000 budget for Ascidian, this is reflective of the capital call dated 30 May 2025 and represents the total remaining budget for Ascidian. As explained in Dr Harrison's third affidavit in cause number FSD 146 of 2025 (JAJ), US$6,000,000 represents only a small fraction of the funds that Ascidian needs to stay on track with its groundbreaking research into congenital blindness. However, after re-forecasting their budgets, Ascidian management indicated that a US$6,000,000 injection of funding would make a difference to their ability to keep their clinical trial on track. Given the starvation of funding from the Partnership, Ascidian has had to make deep budget cuts and explore alternative funding, hence the discussions with Eli Lilly (described further below) which, assuming the deal closes, comes just in time for Ascidian to make up a portion of missing capital (combined with budget cuts and the US$6,000,000 from the Partnership). Without further funding, Ascidian would have gone to cash zero during the fourth quarter of 2025.

[3] The payments to Initial Therapeutics and Apertor listed in the Schedule were made from money held pursuant to prior capital calls and were not made from the Q32025 Receipts.

19. The US$2,000,000 paid to Aethon was made to support the company's collaboration agreement with Revolution Medicines, a public biotech company. Revolution Medicines made it clear they had concerns as to Aethon's viability in light of your clients' default and were disinclined to continue the relationship unless Aethon could demonstrate some minimum viability. The Partnership's venture partner overseeing the investment, Paul Jardine, indicated that US$2,000,000 should be sufficient to preserve the Revolution Medicines relationship in the immediate term. However, it is a far cry from the amount Aethon needs to drive its programmes forward.

20. The US$1,500,000 paid to Replicate represents the total amount remaining in Replicate's budget prior to the closing of an upcoming LATAM partnership with Instituto Butantan for the continued development of Replicate's rabies vaccine candidate, which is due to close in Q3 2025.

21. There are payments to Evercrisp totalling US$250,000. Evercrisp has essential funding needs to the end of the year in relation to wages, severance pay, insurance and legal expenses (c. US$555,000) and payments to creditors (c. US$247,000).

22. The basis for the Partnership making these payments is clear: this is expenditure representing the bare minimum for Evercrisp to continue to function. Without it, Evercrisp would collapse; a situation that would mean irreparable harm being caused to the Partnership before the disputes between the parties are resolved. The same is true of all the Early-Stage portfolio companies that do not receive funding.

Funding the needs of Nereid and Nine Square

23. There are two portfolio companies with requirements to preserve asset value for the benefit of the Partnership, where small payments have been made as follows:

	Payments made (US$)
Nereid	250,000
Nine Square	150,000
TOTAL	400,000

24. These payments were made to meet severance costs and other payments relating to asset preservation, pending the resolution of the present Court proceedings. Your clients cannot seriously object to the Partnership making funds available to meet such critical expenditure in circumstances where the reason these companies are unable to survive is because of your clients' unreasonable refusal to approve further budgets. Moreover, as your clients are aware, these companies have legally-binding obligations in relation to payroll and taxes, in respect of which the officers and directors of the company may be held personally liable.

ATLS Fee

25. On 4 August 2025, the Partnership discharged US$8,906,044 overdue in respect of the 2H 2025 ATLS Fee.

26. As your client will be aware, the bi-annual fee due to ATLS does not require any fresh budget approval in the same manner as projects relating to portfolio company expenditure. The LPA contains a specific mechanism for the payment of these fees and for the approval of the level of the fee. If the parties are not able to reach agreement on the fee level, the LPA provides that the amount payable shall be the amount last approved by the parties. Your clients defaulted on the capital call that would have covered the ATLS Fee for the second half of 2025. The GP is therefore entitled to utilise the Q32025 Receipts to discharge the ATLS Fee (which, amongst other things, cover the salaries of the GP's employees) and it is certainly holding the ring and in the best interests of the Partnership as a whole that this is paid, to enable the Partnership to continue to function.

Legal Fees

27. The Partnership's legal fees have already been the subject of inter partes correspondence. At the outset, we note that the Partnership's transfer of US$20 million into the client account of Quinn Emanuel, does not in itself constitute a disposition of the Partnership's property, as those funds remain beneficially owned by the Partnership. The US$20 million is intended to be available to discharge both Quinn Emanuel's and Walkers' fees in relation to all the current legal proceedings between the parties.

28. In addition to the provisions of paragraph 8(c) of the LPA, as we have previously set out in correspondence, paragraph 11 of Amendment 9 to the LPA dated 22 December 2017 provides that, with the exception of certain defined expenses that are paid from the ATLS Fee, the Partnership shall be responsible for all other reasonable expenses of the Partnership, which Partnership expenses shall be funded by capital contributions made by the holders of Preferred Units in accordance with the LPA, including without limitation professional fees, including legal expenses for the Partnership (including the Partnership's in-house counsel), and all expenses relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceedings involving the Partnership. As a result, the legal fees that the GP has incurred on behalf of the Partnership fall to be paid by the Partnership. In circumstances where your clients have refused to meet any further capital calls, it is plain that paragraph 8(c) can and should be read so as to cover those legal expenses that would otherwise be met from capital calls.

29. With regard to the funding of the Delaware Proceedings, the Partnership needs, and is entitled to access Partnership funds in order to prosecute genuine and bona fide litigation in Delaware, in circumstances where that is necessary to resolve the disputes between the parties.

30. We note you have previously sought to rely on paragraph 15(c) of the LPA to argue that the GP is not entitled to utilise Partnership funds to discharge its legal costs in respect of the Cayman Proceedings, however, this is a misreading of the provision. The paragraph provides that:

"The Partnership may pay the expenses incurred by an Indemnified Party in defending any action, suit or proceeding in advance of the final disposition thereof, upon receipt of a written undertaking by such Indemnified Party to repay such payment if he shall be determined not to be entitled to indemnification therefor as provided herein; provided that no such advance payment by the Partnership to an Indemnified Party shall be made with respect to expenses incurred as a result of any action, suit or proceeding initiated against such Indemnified Party by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units."

31. The provision is only applicable to legal expenses incurred by an Indemnified Party defending any action taken against that Indemnified Party and, similarly in respect of the carve out at the end of the paragraph, where proceedings are "initiated against such Indemnified Party." It therefore has no application to legal expenses incurred by the Partnership.

32. The Cayman Writ Action has been initiated against the ATP III GP Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of ATP Life Science Ventures, LP). It is clear that paragraph 15(c) does not apply to the Cayman Writ Action.

33. With regard to the Winding Up Petition, whilst we note there is an unresolved dispute between the parties as to the correct respondent to the Winding Up Petition we note:

    (a) the Court has not directed that the GP be added as a respondent. Any legal costs are necessarily being incurred by the Partnership as the subject of a winding up petition presented against it; and

    (b) for reasons that we have already aired in correspondence and in the Partnership's skeleton argument for the 1 August 2025 hearing, your contention that the Winding Up Petition should proceed as an inter partes proceeding between your clients and the GP in its own right, has no proper basis in law.

34. Furthermore, paragraph 18(g)(iv) of the LPA provides that:

    "In determining what action, if any, shall be taken against a Limited Partner in connection with such Limited Partner's breach of this Agreement, the General Partner shall seek to obtain a favorable result (as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion) for the Partnership and the other Partners, and the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may take different actions with respect to multiple Limited Partners that breach the same provisions. To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner hereby specifically agrees that, in the event such Limited Partner violates the terms of this Agreement, such Limited Partner shall not be entitled to claim that the Partnership or any of the other Partners are precluded, on the basis of any fiduciary or other duty arising in respect of such Limited Partner's status as such, from seeking any of the remedies permitted under this Agreement or applicable law." (emphasis added)

35. The terms of the LPA are therefore clear. Where a limited partner has breached the LPA (which, for the reasons set out in the Delaware Complaint, your clients have) the GP may take such action as it considers necessary in its sole discretion and that action is taken "for the Partnership and the other Partners." This would naturally extend to defending a winding up petition brought by a limited partner with the goal of avoiding the consequences of its breaches under the LPA and as a blatant retaliatory move for the filing of the Delaware Complaint.

36. In any event, paragraph 15(c) cannot sensibly be read so to leave a GP acting on behalf of the Partnership, completely powerless to protect the Partnership against an attack by your clients even where that attack was improper and meritless. That would be to allow your clients to win any litigation by default simply by bringing it.

37. In the circumstances, our client is entitled to draw on Partnership funds to discharge the legal expenses it incurs acting in its capacity as GP of the Partnership. We would also stress that the level of the legal fees has escalated entirely due to your clients' actions in bringing two sets of parallel proceedings in the Cayman Islands. These costs continue to be exacerbated by correspondence such as this, where our client is forced to explain ordinary course of business actions. Your clients well know these activities are ordinary course, but, for strategic reasons, seek to portray them as improper. As the Chancellor of the Delaware Court noted in the Motion to Stay hearing on 27 June 2025, the Cayman Islands filings were reactionary in nature and she declined to grant a stay, as to do so would credit your clients for "their forum selection maneuvers". The same principle applies to the legal expenses now being incurred on behalf of the Partnership. Your clients chose to bring duplicative and unwarranted legal proceedings in the Cayman Islands despite the existence of the Delaware proceedings, and cannot now complain of the costs that are being incurred as a result of that decision.

38. You will also note that there was a payment of US$250,000 to Wilson Sonsini Goodrich Rosati on 22 August 2025. This payment was made on behalf of Initial Therapeutics ($77,000), Marlinspike ($100,000) and Nereid ($73,000).

Validation of transactions

39. As we set out in our letter of 10 July 2025, our client is cognisant of the provisions of section 99 of the Companies Act (2025 Revision). As you will be aware, section 99 does not operate to prevent companies or partnerships from operating in the ordinary course of business where there is an extant winding up petition. The Cayman Islands Courts have also made it clear that it is entirely possible for a retrospective application for validation of a transaction to be brought.

40. In a recent judgment of Asif J, he noted that, "there is no difference in the principles to be applied where validation is sought retrospectively, but it should be possible for the evidence presented to the court in support of the application for retrospective validation more directly to address the impact of the transaction on the statutory requirement under s.99 of maintaining the status quo."[4]

41. Asif J further noted that such transactions may even be adopted by a liquidator even if a winding up order is ultimately made:

[4] AllFunds Bank S.A. v Rasmala Trade Finance Fund (unreported Judgment 20 March 2025) at [17]

> "In my judgment, it is important to bear in mind that where a winding up petition has been presented against a company, whether or not a validation order is sought or granted does not of itself prevent the company from continuing to carry out its normal business and does not prevent its directors from causing the company to enter into appropriate transactions. It simply has the result that such transactions may be susceptible to avoidance by the liquidator if a winding up order is made in due course. In fact, it is not uncommon for a liquidator in such a situation to adopt transactions that are bona fide and are not prejudicial to the company and the persons interested in the liquidation."[5]

42. The transactions set out above clearly lie within the boundaries of transactions that it would be highly appropriate for the Court to validate, if an application for validation were made. They are exactly of the nature that "holds the ring" to ensure the survival of the Partnership and/or its assets until determination of the Winding Up Petition, although that is without prejudice to our client's position that truly "holding the ring" would involve the Partnership continuing to invest in the portfolio companies in line with the express stated purpose in the LPA. Our client is therefore confident that were a validation application made (whether retrospectively or prospectively) in respect of any of the transactions or payments outlined above, such transactions would be validated by the Cayman Islands Court. However, our client does not consider it necessary to trouble the Court with an urgent application for prospective validation in relation to transactions that are entirely ordinary course, in circumstances where it is clear from the Cayman Islands jurisprudence that a retrospective application is entirely possible (and in some cases preferable).

43. Our client will therefore make an application to Court seeking the validation of the above transactions if and when it considers it appropriate to do so.

Investment Deals

44. Finally, we address the Investment Deals referred to in your letter. We have already set out above why your clients are unjustified in using the Investment Deals as supposed evidence of our client withholding information improperly. In any event, your clients have now received the relevant transaction documents via our client's US lawyers, Quinn Emmanuel.

45. As Quinn Emmanuel set out in their email accompanying the disclosure of the transaction documents, the Q2 2025 Quarterly Report (the "Q2 Report") sent to your clients on 4 September provided such information as was appropriate in relation to the Investment Deals, as at the end of Q2 2025. It is therefore simply not the case that the GP is not meeting its reporting obligations. The Investment Deals all concluded in Q3 and would have been included in the Q3 2025 Quarterly Report.

46. By way of further information in respect of the Investment Deals:

    (a) Replicate: the Q2 Report refers to Replicate "advancing discussions for three strategic partnerships" including, inter alia, Novo Nordisk. As you are aware, this deal (a

[5] Ibid at [54]

Collaboration and Licence Agreement) closed on 26 August 2025. Whilst the overall deal figure is US$550 million, the upfront payment that Replicate will receive is an extremely modest US$6,500,000, with other payments either made by Novo Nordisk in the negotiated deal to fund its own project at Replicate or subject to milestones to be achieved in the collaboration. Furthermore, the Novo Nordisk deal relates to a particular preclinical collaboration. This is plainly not a case of a wholesale satisfaction of all of Replicate's funding needs.

(b) Aulos: the Q2 Report states that "[o]wing to budget approval disputes arising in the Litigation, the company structured an interim financing round led by the family office of its CEO, an experienced oncology pharmaceutical and biotech executive. ATP did not participate". The financing that concluded in August 2025 was not a Series B financing (in respect of which Dr Ehlers was mistaken) but a convertible note financing and was for only US$9,427,432.33.

The Partnership did not participate in this financing, given your clients' refusal to even discuss new budgets that would have allowed them to do so. To put this refusal into context, Aulos is a clinical-stage company that is currently trialling a drug for the treatment of deadly cancer that is showing promise in patients for whom other treatments have failed. The August 2025 financing was to ensure the continuation of the current phase 2 clinical trial. The total funding needs to conclude the trial are around US$20 million. It will be apparent that the funding actually raised falls far short of what is required and the company will run out of funding by year end. The provision of emergency funding from its CEO is not how a biotech company, much less a clinical-stage company, operates and has caused serious reputational damage to the Partnership as the investor that should be providing these funds.

The Partnership's lack of participation in the latest financing not only excludes the Partnership from a potentially lucrative business opportunity but has grave consequences for the lives of the patients relying on the clinical trial continuing.

(c) Ascidian: the Q2 Report refers to "[c]ollaboration discussions" with Eli Lilly. Our client wishes to make clear that it is far from certain that the transaction between Ascidian and Eli Lilly will close and when. This was acknowledged by Dr Ehlers' in his deposition: "Never underestimate how slowly big pharma can move. But they've been -- I've -- it could be as early as October that it closes. That would be frigging land speed record for big pharma, but they like us, we like them…So as early as October, and certainly, I hope no later than January." The deal would not close until Q4 2025 at the earliest, if it closes at all. Your clients will be aware of the deal between Ascidian and Astellas last year, which fell through at the very last minute (i.e. after signature pages were prepared for execution documents), indicative of the precarious nature of the Eli Lilly deal at term sheet stage,

The disclosure of the Ascidian/Eli Lilly term sheet deck to your clients at this juncture is without prejudice to our client's position that such disclosure is premature and outside the scope of what your clients would be entitled to, even pursuant to section 22 ELP Act or paragraph 16(b) or (c) of the LPA. However, the document has been provided to put to bed the meritless allegation of our client being obstructive with regard to the provision of information.

(d) Galvanize: the Q2 Report refers to "term sheet discussions regarding a Series C financing in the amount of $100 million to be led by Sofinnova Partners, with what was emerging as an oversubscribed book of major institutional investors." The Partnership's participation in this transaction was limited to the conversion of an old promissory note into stock and did not involve the Partnership providing any additional funds. The purpose of the financing is for Galvanize's ongoing operations.

47. It is unclear from your letter whether your clients contend there is something improper in the Investment Deals themselves. However, it should be apparent that there would be no credible basis for such a contention. The Investment Deals are, largely, transactions between portfolio companies and third parties. They represent steps taken by the portfolio companies in the face of being starved of funding from the Partnership. They are in no respects an adequate substitute for the proper financing by the Partnership.

48. We trust the information in this letter will bring an end to this particularly unproductive line of correspondence.

Yours faithfully

Subject: FW: capital calls

Dear Seth,

I refer to my email below dated 4 June 2025 regarding the Capital Calls which you have neither responded to nor acknowledged.

To be clear, we remain willing to explore interim funding solutions in good faith as set out in my 4 June 2025 email. We remain hopeful that you are also willing to engage with us in good faith on this basis. With that end in mind, I look forward to hearing from you.

Separately, there is an immediate issue as to the unheralded Capital Calls you issued on 30 May 2025. As you know, we are contesting the validity of those Capital Calls in the Cayman Proceedings issued on 2 June 2025. Our position, as you know, is that you are not entitled to call such further capital and therefore you are not entitled to proceed with any default procedures under the LPA in the event of any non-payment of the May 2025 Capital Calls.

In the circumstances and further to my email of 4 June 2025, please now confirm that the GP undertakes not to take any steps to instigate the default procedure under the LPA regarding the 30 May 2025 Capital Calls (including as amended). It must also be clear to you that we need to have some form of protection in place in this regard. Accordingly, we are hopeful that you will provide such an undertaking by immediate return.

If, however, you do not provide the requested undertaking within 24 hours of this email we reserve our right to take any and all protective steps as may be necessary without further notice to you.

We look forward to hearing from you shortly.

Best regards,
Yuri

Subject: capital calls

Dear Seth,

I refer to the capital calls that were issued on Friday evening (30 May 2025) and the amended capital call for Replicate reissued on 1 June 2025 (the "Capital Calls").

We asked you to engage with us on why you considered that we were obliged to fund the Early-Stage Companies. You did not do so and instead proceeded (without notice) to issue the Capital Calls. As you will be aware, we have issued proceedings in the Cayman Court to confirm (amongst other things) that we are under no obligation to meet the Capital Calls.

We have also learnt that you have taken the extraordinary step as GP of the Fund to commence proceedings against the Rigmora LPs in Delaware (although we have yet to be served with those proceedings). It goes without saying that we are extremely disappointed that you would choose to behave in this way and have serious concerns about your motivation for doing so.

We do not accept that we are obliged to fund the Capital Calls, but we do recognize that it will take a period of time for the Cayman Court to resolve that issue. Without prejudice to our position that we are not obliged to fund, and reserving all of our rights, we are willing to cover funding in the amount necessary to maintain each portfolio company in good standing e.g. payment of current salaries (not including discretionary bonuses), mandatory tax obligations and obligations to current creditors. Presently, we have allocated $15 million for this purpose. Funding requests should be sent as separate interim capital calls and include certification by the GP that: (1) the amounts are required to maintain the relevant portfolio company in good standing and include an explanation of the liabilities to be covered by such capital calls, (2) failure to provide this funding will lead to bankruptcy or liquidation of the relevant portfolio company, and (3) such amounts cannot be met out of the cash and liquid assets otherwise available to the relevant company and there are no unallocated funds held by the GP that could be allocated to these purposes. If it transpires that more than $15 million is necessary to maintain the status quo for these purposes, we will consider any such request from the GP to increase the amount allocated subject to the GP providing equivalent certification as set out above.

As a condition of providing this funding and for the avoidance of any doubt, we seek an undertaking from you before any funding is made available that, you will agree not to take any steps to instigate the default procedure in the LPA (i.e. issue a Default Notice) in respect of the Capital Calls, or issue any further capital calls during the pending litigation without our advance agreement (save as set out above). If such an undertaking is not forthcoming, we reserve all our rights, including the right to seek injunctive relief.

All of our rights are reserved and for the avoidance of any doubt, our offer to fund is without prejudice to the position that we are not obliged to make any further capital commitments in respect of the Capital Calls or otherwise.

Best regards,
Y.

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$53.27M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	83.89%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Initial reduced its headcount from 18 employees to 4, and consolidated its efforts on the ARV program, terminating efforts in c-Myc protein translation inhibition. In the future, subject to the resolution of the dispute over funding, the ARV program should become highly competitive given that dual knockdown of ARV and ARV7 is not available in any current treatment paradigm, and the mechanism if born out in the clinic could become a major tool in the armamentarium to combat resistant prostate cancer.

* Indicates ownership % at the time of exit.

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	87.42%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Pre Series B

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics discovers novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases including Parkinson's disease and ALS.

Owing to budget approval disputes arising in the Litigation, Nine Square substantially reduced its headcount to a small core team, freezing its work on a highly potent TRPML1 activator for potential treatment of multiple system atrophy (MSA) with expansion opportunities to Lewy body dementia and Parkinson's disease. The compound was being profiled in safety studies to inform development candidate nomination. Pharmacokinetic attributes for BID/QD dosing in humans have already been demonstrated consistent with target product profiles, and high tolerability was shown in life safety studies. Nine Square's TRPML1 activators have shown target engagement for key biomarkers in brain (TFEB, SPP1, PSAP) and plasma (SPP1, PSAP), thus confirming on-target mechanism. The compound demonstrated superiority over other advanced leads across the industry (Casma, Libra) in pharmacological and pharmaceutical properties.

A further consequence of the Litigation and resulting lack of funding has been that work on the company's advanced lead in the Parkin program has been frozen. The compound showed excellent brain and plasma exposure after oral dosing in rodents. Furthermore, the compound showed a sustained and dose responsive increase in on-mechanism brain biomarkers of Parkinson's disease. Parkin has been viewed as a cornerstone target in Parkinson's disease throughout neuroscience, and Nine Square's advanced lead program is viewed as an industry and scientific first.

Nine Square is engaged in BD discussions, under CDA with Ipsen and Lundbeck.

Aethon Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$17.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2022
Ownership:	77.45%	Investment Stage:	Budget Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Aethon has focused on the G12C and G12D programs in its collaboration with Revolution Medicines. The company has been able to use some marginal funds from the RevMed deal to progress wholly owned programs: 1. Pan-RAS inhibitors that kill only cancer cells expressing amplified RAS and not those with wild type levels of RAS expression; 2. A best-in-class TP53Y200C binder, with DC nomination expected in 4Q25.

Apertor Pharmaceuticals

Investment to date:	$29.0M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Ownership:	87.15%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/ Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Apertor reduced its headcount to four people. The company nevertheless managed to deliver a development candidate in addition to its existing DC, AP-414, in further support of the therapeutically valuable selective mTORC1/4E-BP1 concept. The new DC, AP-457, demonstrates increased stability and potency over its competitor, Revolution Medicines' RMC-5552. In preclinical studies, the compound shows complete stability in plasma over a 24-hour period and superior efficacy in vivo over RMC-5552, with tumor regression as a monotherapy in MCF7 cell cancers. Furthermore, in combination with the KRAS inhibitor sotorasib, AP-414 and AP-457 both deliver tumor regression in preclinical non-small cell lung carcinoma studies.

Beyond the 4E-BP1 program, Apertor has deployed its "plug-and-play" modality to deliver CRAF interceptors that disrupt mutant KRAS-driven cell growth, offering the potential for efficacy in multiple cancers. AP-458 and AP-460 are the current leads in this program, now at lead optimization stage, with a DC that would have been likely before year end. Presently, work on all programs has been frozen owing to the ongoing dispute over funding.

Aulos Bioscience

Investment to date:	$60.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	70.00%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Bridge to Series B

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

In the ongoing phase 2 clinical trial of AU-007, four cohorts are now open: (1) melanoma and renal cell carcinoma, receiving AU-007 with a single low dose of Proleukin IL-2 as a second- or third-line treatment; (2) PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer that progressed on prior first-line checkpoint inhibitor therapy, receiving AU-007 with a single low dose of Proleukin as a second-line treatment; (3) same as cohort (2), but with the addition of Bavencio (avelumab anti-PD-L1); and (4) melanoma, receiving AU-007, Opdivo (nivolumab, an anti-PD-1), and Proleukin as a second-line treatment.

During the quarter, a patient from Phase 1 receiving treatment for head & neck cancer who received 5 prior types of treatment for his disease achieved a confirmed complete response (100% elimination of tumors seen on two successive CT scans, 8 weeks apart). He has remained on AU-007 for over 22 months. Two other patients have had durable confirmed complete responses in their target tumor lesions and remain on treatment, one with melanoma (from Phase 2, still on treatment for 18 months) and one with bladder cancer (from Phase 1, complete response as measured by PET scan and circulating tumor DNA measurements, still on treatment for 26 months). Two of five patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with AU-007 with Proleukin and avelumab achieved tumor reductions of -45% and -10% after progressing on first-line checkpoint inhibitor regimens. One of three patients with metastatic PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer treated with AU-007 with Proleukin (but no avelumab) achieved a tumor reduction of -6% and continues on therapy. Several new patients receiving AU-007 with Proleukin (without nivolumab) for melanoma achieved tumor shrinkages during the quarter (-6%, -5%, and -2%) and continue on therapy. Tumor reduction often increases with duration of therapy.

Aulos presented Phase 2 data at the American Association of Cancer Research (AACR) Annual Meeting in Chicago on April 29. The poster presented promising results for AU-007 in the second-line treatment of melanoma and was well attended.

2Q 2025

In June, Aulos convened a Melanoma Advisory Board of three key opinion leader medical oncologists. Based on input from this Advisory Board, the company plans to amend the inclusion criteria for the ongoing Phase 2 cohorts in melanoma to further demonstrate the unique efficacy that AU-007 with Proleukin, with or without nivolumab, offers to patients previously treated with checkpoint inhibitors. The Advisory Board members all had favorable opinions of the mechanism of action of AU-007 and were impressed with the data generated to date in patients with melanoma who had progressed on front-line checkpoint inhibitors.

During the quarter, Aulos received an approved international non-proprietary name (generic name) for AU-007: imneskibart.

Owing to budget approval disputes arising in the Litigation, the company structured an interim financing round led by the family office of its CEO, an experienced oncology pharmaceutical and biotech executive. ATP did not participate. In light of the reduced available funding, and despite the potential of the program as revealed in the clinical trial results to date, the company has had to curtail the proposed plan to develop AU007. This will cause delay to future studies and, in the view of the GP, will therefore negatively impact the value of the company.

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$43.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	82.48%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics is accelerating drug discovery with a platform built upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

In June, Deep Apple announced a major collaboration with Novo Nordisk for a non-incretin genetically validated GPCR target for obesity. The overall collaboration is valued at $812 M, including a $32.5 million upfront payment, research funding, and multiple near-term milestone payments.

Progress in the Deep Apple portfolio has been significant. DAT 4774, the MRGPRX2 clinical candidate, is advancing to regulatory toxicology studies with IND submission anticipated for 1Q26. The company is currently at term sheet negotiations for partnering the MRGPRX2 project with a major European dermatology company. DAT-6464 has been identified as a potential GIPR antagonist clinical candidate and is undergoing evaluation in vivo for weight loss. DAT-8365, the current lead in the MC4R project, has the desired pharmacological and pharmacokinetic attributes for advancement to in vivo efficacy and safety studies in 3Q.

Owing to the ongoing budget approval disputes arising in the Litigation, the company has for the moment chosen not to embark on clinical development programs and instead to use the cash from Novo to fund further preclinical work that it hopes will lead to the closing of additional business development deals. In the view of the GP, this will negatively impact the value of the company, confining it to being a research only enterprise, despite its potential to bring projects to valuable clinical PoCs.

Evercrisp Biosciences

Investment to date:	$26.00M	Initial Investment Date:	August 2021
Ownership:	83.37%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Evercrisp Biosciences, founded with Noble Laureate Jennifer Doudna, discoverer of gene editing, applies advanced computational sciences to discover and develop miniproteins with self-delivery properties designed to access brain, kidney, muscle, and other tissues that have been previously unreachable by genetic medicines.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Evercrisp substantially reduced its headcount from 19 employees to 4. Evercrisp had been advancing its portfolio with the design of novel mini proteins for kidney targeting and the delivery of muscle therapeutics with SiRNA cargos for DMD. Having identified a nephrin miniprotein with >6x improvement in binding compared to the previous best binder, Evercrisp implemented a method to bias its library towards sequences with fewer liabilities and higher human sequence content. With nephrin miniproteins in hand, Evercrisp screened and selected lead ApoL1 siRNA sequences for optimal activity and selectivity. The constructs will need to be evaluated in vivo to enable clinical candidate selection, when the funding issues arising in the Litigation are resolved. In addition, Evercrisp had been working on a revision of its technology to enable subcutaneous delivery of gene editors and other nucleic acid therapies, with biodistribution obtained in a tissue-specific manner; however work on this high potential program, along with other work at the company, including novel guide chemistry modifications that enhance serum stability on which the company had filed patents, has stopped due to the funding issues arising in the Litigation.

In May, Evercrisp delivered two presentations at the American Society of Gene & Cell Therapy (ASGCT) annual meeting. The company is under CDA with potential strategic partners.

Marlinspike Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$27.73M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2022
Ownership:	88.66%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Marlinspike Therapeutics established a platform to discover and develop small molecule inhibitors for RNA helicases, critical components of the alternative splicing and RNA processing machinery. These pathways are dysregulated in many cancers and represent a new target class.

Owing to the ongoing dispute over funding, which is the subject of the Litigation, Marlinspike persists with no employees. All work that it is possible to undertake under such cash-limited circumstances is being carried out at ATP Labs. Even in this situation, the company's high-potential SF3B1 covalent inhibitor project continues. Single-digit nanomolar inhibitors that kill c-Myc dependent cancer have been selectively identified; only c-Myc dependent cells that contain wild type SF3B1 were killed and those where the targeted cysteine is replaced by serine, nullifying covalent inhibition, were fully spared. Blood stability of the molecules was optimized. Direct target and mechanism engagement has been established in vivo and in vitro, and oral pharmacokinetics are acceptable. In short, this compound possesses in vitro properties that are hallmarks of a DC; however, it will not be progressed due to the funding issues rising in the Litigation.

Nereid Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	83.47%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Pre-Series B

Company snapshot: Nereid Therapeutics discovers new disease treatments by applying pioneering research and technologies in biomolecular condensates.

Owing to disputes regarding budgets that have arisen in the Litigation, Nereid executed a reduction in force from 14 employees to 4. Nereid has been engaged in business development discussions for all its programs:

1. NDTX-615, a prodrug of the active compound NDTX-9065, which targets CKAP5, a high-value oncology target with potential to be efficacious for numerous cancers including colorectal, bladder, and lung, based upon readouts from IND-enabling studies.

2. NER-0120682, the Myc program, which reached development candidate stage ahead of schedule, has confirmed on-target activity via numerous biophysical methods, and also demonstrates protein degradation using PROTAC derivatives of current leads. These two findings represent industry first and best achievements. Efficacy in triple negative breast cancer has been demonstrated preclinically, showing superiority over standard of care agents.

3. The TDP43 program, at lead optimization stage, with compounds demonstrating reduction in neurofilament light chain (NfL) in mice, a registrable end point for ALS and a high confidence biomarker for neurodegenerative disorders.

Red Queen Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$27.60M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2021
Ownership:	90.51%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Red Queen Therapeutics is pursuing a proprietary antiviral technology that has broad applicability against families of envelope viruses, including all coronaviruses, influenza, RSV, and others. The RQ technology is distinguished by activity against all known resistant variants in these virus families as well emerging pathologic variants. The RQ technology provides off-the-shelf, immediate treatment of a broad spectrum of viral infections with a low to negligible risk of adverse events.

Red Queen delivered a stapled peptide therapeutic with development candidate potency against all Flu A and Flu B viruses tested. This assessment was externally validated by BARDA, who had contracted the company to discover this peptide, awarding Red Queen a $250,000 milestone payment. The in vivo work required for DC nomination has not been undertaken due to the funding issues arising from the Litigation.

Red Queen has also identified a second therapeutic that achieved development candidate potency against RSV, PIV , MPV (all common respiratory viruses) and Nipah virus, a highly virulent virus that kills 40-75% of the people it infects. The in vivo studies required for DC nomination will also not be undertaken due to the funding issues arising in the Litigation.

Replicate Bioscience

Investment to date:	$59.25M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2021
Ownership:	84.49%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is creating a best-in-class RNA medicines company using its proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA platform technology, with initial areas of focus being infectious disease and treatment of autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

Replicate is advancing discussions for three strategic partnerships: 1. A collaboration with Novo Nordisk to discover and develop next generation srRNA therapeutics for cardiometabolic diseases, which is on track to close in 3Q; 2. A LATAM partnership with Instituto Butantan for the continued development of Replicate's prophylactic rabies vaccine candidate, RBI-4000, also on target to close in 3Q. Butantan has stated its intention to sign a term sheet for a discovery stage option deal for additional infectious disease targets in conjunction with the RBI-4000 definitive agreement; 3. A Gates Foundation fully funded HIV-vaccine program, subject to a humanitarian license only, expected to close in 2H25.

In Replicate's internal pipeline, all work related to the highly valuable EBV vaccine candidate, RBI-5000, with potential billion-dollar acquisition value at Phase 1, has been paused due to disputes regarding budgets that have arisen in the Litigation, which, in the view of the GP, this will have a negative impact on the value of the company.

Pool ATP V-3

Ascidian Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$89.57M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.87%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian Therapeutics is developing exon-editing RNA therapeutics to target the underlying causes of disease and restore normal protein function.

Owing to disputes regarding budgets that have arisen in the Litigation, Ascidian executed a 15% reduction in force and triaged its research portfolio to extend runway by two quarters (to mid-2026, dependent on revenues from the Roche partnership).

In the quarter, Ascidian dosed the first patient in the mid-dose cohort of the STELLAR trial for ACDN-01 in Stargardt disease, after unanimous DSMB approval to initiate the mid dose. Sufficient patients to fill the mid-dose cohort have been screened and scheduled. A further consequence of the Litigation and the resulting lack of funding is that the pediatric cohort will not presently be initiated nor will adult cohorts beyond the mid-dose cohort, reducing the value of the Stargardt's program and its probability of success. The internal COL4A5 program for Alport's Syndrome was prioritized over the MSH3+DM1 program for DM1, and MSH3 for Huntington's disease. The COL4A5 program continues to advance towards a development candidate.

Workplans on the four targets in the Roche collaboration are proceeding per plan. Collaboration discussions are underway with Eli Lilly and Regeneron.

During the quarter Murray Abramson (former Merck, Biogen, Tempus) joined as Chief Development Officer.

Galvanize Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$127.04M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	23.18%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series C

Company snapshot: Galvanize Therapeutics is developing and commercializing its Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system) oncology (Aliya system).

2Q 2025

Galvanize closed 2Q with $6.0 million in Aliya sales, falling below its target of $6.5 million due to the transitioning the sales model (from letting hospitals use the Aliya system payment-free for 6 months to requiring them to buy the equipment up front for $250,000). The company expects that with the new reimbursement code being fully implemented in 3Q25, the company should achieve its revenue plan.

During the quarter the company was in term sheet discussions regarding a Series C financing in the amount of $100 million to be led by Sofinnova Partners, with what was emerging as an oversubscribed book of major institutional investors.

Marengo Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$56.02M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	81.41%	Investment Stage:	Disputed/Series B

Company snapshot: Marengo Therapeutics is a multi-platform immuno-oncology company; its lead asset is a next generation TCR vβ T cell engager that stimulates a natural "superkiller" T cell subset with an effector memory phenotype.

Owing to disputes regarding budgets that have arisen in the Litigation, the company stopped work on early CMC, reduced certain costs related to the ongoing invikafusp clinical trial, and conducted a 35% reduction in force. The cuts should enable the company to operate into 2Q26; however, the prior invikafusp potential launch date of 1Q28 was sacrificed, and all other non-partner programs are frozen. Marengo remains largely supported by Ipsen, having earned an $8M milestone payment during the quarter.

The company conducted a Clinical Plenary Oral Session at the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR) annual meeting in April, where it provided an update on invikafusp showing an initial disease control rate of 67%, tumor regression rates of 44%, and objective response rates of 22% in PD-1 resistant tumors. The company further highlighted its monotherapy efficacy in all major colorectal cancer sub-types, an area of high unmet need, and announced that it received Fast Track Designation from the FDA for the treatment of patients with TMB-high colorectal cancer.

The first five breast patients were dosed with a combination of invikafusp and Trodelvy, Gilead's approved antibody-drug conjugate for metastatic breast cancer (HR+HER2-mBC and TNBC), which Gilead is providing free for the purpose. The combination represents a second major opportunity for Marengo for business development, and also for an independent monotherapy indication to emerge. However, the program will not likely be taken forward due to the disputes regarding budgets that have arisen in the Litigation and the resulting lack of funding.

2Q 2025

During the quarter, Everett Vokes, MD, Chair of the Department of Medicine, and Physician-in-Chief at the University of Chicago, joined Marengo's scientific advisory board.

Pool ATP Braeburn

Braeburn

Investment to date:	$402.96M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	83.10%	Investment Stage:	Active/Commercial

Company snapshot: Braeburn makes and markets BRIXADI, the best-in-class medicine for opioid use disorder (OUD).

For the 6 months ending June 30, 2025, Brixadi's net revenue was approximately $115.7 million, 1.5% above revised plan of $114.0 million. Brixadi performed well during the second quarter, with 61,212 units shipped. Growth was steady with no major single purchases influencing the results. Growth was achieved despite persistent funding challenges in the criminal justice channel.

During the quarter, the company hired two state corrections experts to secure funding and drive adoption in the criminal justice channel, completed the field force expansion, and launched a successful unbranded direct-to-patient campaign.

Braeburn ended the quarter with a cash balance of $97.4M.

   Email: blynch@alvarezandmarsal.com
   Telephone: +1 345 745 6713

2. The JPLs shall not be required to give security for their appointment.

3. The JPLs have the power to act jointly and severally in their capacity as provisional liquidators of the Partnership.

4. The scope of the JPLs' mandate shall be confined to the following (the "Mandate"):
   4.1 ascertaining the state of the business and financial condition of the Partnership;
   4.2 ascertaining the amount of funding which the Partnership requires pending the final determination of the Petition in order to preserve the value of the Partnership's assets and ensure that the Partnership can pay its debts as they fall due for payment;
   4.3 approving any and all payments out of the assets of the Partnership;
   4.4 the negotiation and execution of any agreement for the provision of capital to the Partnership by the Partnership's limited partners and/or third parties to enable the

Partnership to take steps to preserve the value of its assets prior to the date of the determination of the Petition; and

4.5 reporting to the Court, the general partner and the limited partners collectively on the above.

5. In the exercise of their Mandate set out in paragraph 4 above, the JPLs shall be permitted to exercise any rights conferred on or exercisable by or on behalf of the Partnership to appoint or remove directors to or from the board of any portfolio company of the Partnership as deemed appropriate by the JPLs.

6. The JPLs shall be authorised to exercise the following powers (the "Powers"), within and outside of the Cayman Islands and without further sanction or order of the Court, in the discharge of their Mandate:

6.1 The power to collect in the books and records of the Partnership and to exercise any right which the Partnership has to demand and receive documents or information pertaining to the affairs of the Partnership which the JPLs consider to be relevant to the discharge of the Mandate, including without limitation from the general partner and any agent of the Partnership or the general partner;

6.2 The power to ascertain, and conduct investigations of, the affairs of the Partnership and its direct and indirect subsidiaries;

6.3 The power to ascertain the assets, liabilities and funding needs of the Partnership and its direct and indirect subsidiaries;

6.4 The power to ascertain the value of the Partnership's interests in its direct and indirect subsidiaries and the economic viability of those subsidiaries;

6.5 The power to negotiate and execute a funding agreement in the name of and on behalf of the Partnership to meet its estimated funding needs to the date of the determination of the Petition;

6.6 The power to take control of the Partnership's bank accounts;

6.7 The power to dispose of and/or leverage the Partnership's property;

6.8 The power to pay the properly incurred costs, expenses and liabilities of the Partnership out of the Partnership's assets;

6.9 The power to open bank accounts on behalf of the Partnership for the purpose of paying the properly incurred costs, expenses and liabilities of the Partnership including the costs and expenses of the provisional liquidation;

6.10 The power to engage staff in the Cayman Islands and the United States;

6.11 The power to engage attorneys in the Cayman Islands and the United States;

6.12 The power to render and pay invoices out of the assets of the Partnership for their own remuneration at the rates prescribed by the Insolvency Practitioners' Regulations (as revised) together with all reasonable costs, charges and expenses of their attorneys, and all other agents, managers, accountants or other persons that the JPLs shall employ on an account basis and subject to final approval by the Court.

7. Until further order of the Court, the JPLs alone shall have authority to exercise the following Powers, and the powers of the General Partner in relation to the same are hereby suspended:

7.1 The power to execute a funding agreement in the name of and on behalf of the Partnership to meet its estimated funding needs to the date of the determination of the Petition;

7.2 The power to take control of the Partnership's bank accounts;

7.3 The power to dispose of and/or leverage the Partnership's property; and

7.4 The power to pay the properly incurred costs, expenses and liabilities of the Partnership out of the Partnership's assets.

8. Until further order, the General Partner, its directors, the investment manager of the Partnership and any other agent of the Partnership shall assist the JPLs in the discharge of their Mandate and the exercise of their Powers and duties, including but not limited to consulting and meeting with the JPLs as the JPLs may require and providing all such documents, information and assistance as the JPLs may request.

9. The JPLs shall prepare and file a written progress report to the Court on the discharge of their Mandate, and provide copies to the General Partner and the limited partners of the Partnership, within 28 days of the date of their appointment and not less than every three months thereafter.

10. No disposition of the Partnership's property by or with the authority of the JPLs in carrying out their duties and functions and exercise of their Powers under this Order shall be voided by virtue of section 99 of the Companies Act.

11. There shall be no requirement for the JPLs' appointment to be advertised.

12. The JPLs, the General Partner, the Petitioners and any other limited partner shall have liberty to apply.

13. The Petitioners' costs of and incidental to the PL Application shall be paid out of the assets of the Partnership as an expense of the provisional liquidation.

Joint Exhibit
JX-0463
C.A. No. 2025-0607-KSJM

JX-199

What we have now

1. We are in a liquidity crisis, the primary task obviously is to provide for funding needs for the next 2-3 years
2. Previous crisis with the similar characteristics occurred two to three years ago and was resolved by liquidating the private equity portfolio
3. The current cash gap can be closed by drastic reduction in venture investment (and particularly biotech) and divestiture
4. However, the structure of our assets with predominance of venture projects (biotech, gaming) carries same risks that had led to the current crisis: poorly predictable money inflows (divestments) and massive outflows (capital calls)
5. So, we remain within the same logic of shifting money from less risky (Private Equity Funds, real estate, boat) to more risky assets, with "fire extinguishing" from time to time
6. Hence, reducing venture investments and selling assets is a short-term solution that will allow "to extinguish fire" for 3 years but will leave us with the same fundamental risks
7. A possible long-term solution could be to create or acquire a cash flow business ("cash cow") + create a liquidity reserve ("cash buffer") for unforeseen circumstances + tight investment control
8. The buffer shall allow for funding the current needs (operating expenditure + reasonable investment expenditure + loan repayment) for at least 18 months – i.e. not less than $300-400 million
9. Tight controls shall involve clear rules for review and approval of new projects (no funding sources – no new projects), financial discipline in our funds (standard project approval and project exit rules, etc. for private equity and venture funds, strict risk management)
10. In addition, we should strive to attract experienced investors to our projects (expertise + mitigating our risks)
11. Hence, priority number one is to create the cash buffer (all free money should go there), then work on creating a "cash cow"

How do we go about creating the cash buffer

1. The only way in this situation to start moving towards the cash buffer is to drastically reduce ATP payments
2. Creating a new fund with a major partner (share over 300 million) can be a good solution, but very difficult practically (difficult to agree on terms, major structures prefer to invest into funds with standard structure and standard terms)
3. An alternative solution (which does not preclude attempts to negotiate with the Arabs) is to create a new fund:
4. Hire the right agent (e.g. JP Morgan) to create new fund and set up subscription
5. Allocate 60% to 70% of the existing companies to us and invest in a new fund becoming a regular LP with the usual rights for such funds

6. Start subscription for ordinary investors: our advantage is a track record (Akero, Stoke, etc.); in addition, our companies are more mature than what ordinary early-stage venture funds have (de facto less risky and therefore more attractive strategy)
7. As the result, we will end up with two funds: we will have 30%-40% and special rights in the first one (old ATP); we will be a regular LP in the second one where the remaining shares will be transferred with Seth as GP in both funds
8. Seth's concerns in this case will be eliminated, since our share in all funds and companies will remain unchanged, the holding companies do not change; in the worst case scenario, we can agree to "cross default" terms on investments in two funds
9. This solution can be prepared simultaneously with the "Arabs"

How do we create a cash cow

1. Out of the businesses we understand, cash cow can be either a mature private equity fund similar to JungeFrau (5-6 years from creation to stable cash proceeds) or biotech companies on commercial stage (in our case - same 5-6 years, except Braeburn, which has its own tremendous risks).
2. Therefore, we need to look for a different solution
3. It is the right time now to acquire new businesses – first of all, in one of the sectors most affected by the crisis – tech
4. The right asset must have the following attributes: low valuation, positive cash flow, scalability (geographic, industrial, etc.)
5. We can partner strategic consulting division of one of major private equity structures (like Blackstone, Blackrock, Carlyle) in finding such business
6. One of the options to consider is creating (buying) a new business on the JungeFrau platform.

Summary

1. The existing model cannot be stable
2. Resolving the crisis by divesting assets and reducing liabilities without changing the model will create conditions for a new crisis
3. It is an objectively challenging moment now that forces us to put every effort to extinguish the fire, but we need to think right now about a long-term (ten years and above) development model with risk closure (cash buffer) and sustainability (cash cow) mechanisms
4. The first priority in this case is to put a "plug" on expenses (no new projects, reducing investment expenses), the tasks of creating cash buffer and finding new business can be solved in parallel
5. The proposed solutions are not ideal, do not address all possible challenges, but at the strategic planning stage they enable a discussion on how to get on a sustainable development path

Самая последняя версия

Что есть сейчас

1. Мы находимся в ситуации кризиса ликвидности, первоочередная задача, очевидно, обеспечить потребности в финансировании на следующие 2–3 года
2. Предыдущий кризис с теми же характеристиками произошел два-три года назад и был решен за счет ликвидации портфеля private equity
3. Текущий кассовый разрыв может быть закрыт за счет радикального снижения инвестиций в венчурные проекты (и прежде всего - биотех) и продажи активов
4. Однако структура наших активов с преобладанием венчурных проектов (биотех, гейминг) содержит в себе те же риски, которые привели к настоящему кризису: плохо прогнозируемые притоки денег (выходы из инвестиций) и массивные оттоки (capital calls)
5. Таким образом, мы остаемся в той же логике перекладывания денег из менее рискованных активов (фонды Private Equity, недвижимость, лодка) в более рискованные, с периодическим «тушением пожаров»
6. Следовательно, сокращение венчуров и продажа активов является краткосрочным решением, которое позволит «потушить пожар» в перспективе 3 лет, но оставит те же фундаментальные риски
7. Возможным долгосрочным решением может быть создание или приобретение бизнеса с денежным потоком («дойная корова») + создание запаса ликвидности («денежный буфер») на непредвиденные случаи + жесткий контроль за инвестициями
8. Буфер должен позволять финансировать текущие потребности (операционные расходы + разумные инвестиционные расходы + погашение кредитов) на период не меньше 18 месяцев – т. е. не меньше 300–400 млн долларов
9. Жесткий контроль должен заключаться в четких правилах рассмотрения и утверждения новый проектов (нет источников финансирования – нет новых проектов), в финансовой дисциплине в наших фондах (стандартные для private equity и venture funds правила утверждения проектов, выхода из проектов и т. п., жесткий риск-менеджмент)
10. Кроме того, мы должны стремиться привлечь опытных инвесторов в наши проекты (экспертиза + уменьшение нашего риска)
11. Следовательно, приоритет номер один – создание денежного буфера (туда идут все свободные деньги), далее работа над созданием «дойной коровы»

Что делать для создания денежного буфера

1. Единственный способ в этой ситуации начать движение к созданию денежного буфера – радикально уменьшить объем выплат в АТР
2. Создание нового фонда с большим партнером (доля выше 300 млн) может быть хорошим решением, но очень сложно на практике (сложно договориться по условиям, большие структуры предпочитают вкладываться в фонды со стандартной структурой и стандартными условиями)
3. Альтернативное решение (не исключающее попытки договориться с арабами) – создать новый фонд следующим образом:
4. Нанять правильного агента (например, JP Morgan) для создания нового фонда и организации подписки
5. Распределить 60%–70% существующих компаний нам и вложить их в новый фонд, став обычным LP с обычными для таких фондов правами

6. Начать подписку среди обычных инвесторов: за нами стоит track record (Akero, Stoke и тд); кроме того, по сравнению с обычными венчурными фондами с ранними стадиями мы имеем уже более зрелые компании (де-факто менее рискованная и оттого более привлекательная стратегия)
7. В итоге у нас останется два фонда, в первом («старом» АТР) у нас останется 30%–40% и специальные права, во втором, куда переедут оставшиеся акции, мы будем обычным LP с Сетом в роли GP в обоих фондах
8. Опасения Сета в этом случае исключены, т. к. наша доля во всех фондах и компаниях остается неизменной, холдинговые компании не меняются, в худшем случае можно согласиться на условия «кросс-дефолта» по вложениям в два фонда
9. Это решение можно готовить параллельно работе с «арабами»

Что делать для создания дойной коровы

1. Из понятных для нас бизнесов на роль «дойной коровы» годится либо зрелый фонд private equity аналогичный JungeFrau (5-6 лет от создания до выхода на устойчивые денежные поступления), либо биотех-компании на коммерческой стадии (в нашем случае те же 5-6 лет, за исключением Braeburn, у которого свои гигантские риски)
2. Следовательно, надо искать иное решение
3. И сейчас правильное время для приобретения новых бизнесов – прежде всего, в одном из наиболее пострадавших от кризиса секторов – теке
4. Правильный объект должен обладать следующими характеристиками: низкая оценка, положительный поток денежных средств, возможность масштабирования бизнеса (географическая, отраслевая, и тп)
5. Одним из возможных контрагентов для поиска такого бизнеса может стать подраздение стратегического консалтинга одной из крупнейших private equity структур (а-ля Blackstone, Blackrock, Carlyle)
6. Можно рассмотреть вопрос создания (покупки) нового бизнеса на платформе JungeFrau

Резюме

1. Существующая модель не может быть устойчивой
2. Выход из кризиса за счет продажи активов и уменьшения обязательств без изменения модели создаст условия для нового кризиса
3. Сейчас объективно сложный момент, который заставляет нас все силы бросить на тушение пожара, но именно сейчас нужно думать о долгосрочной (десять лет и выше) модели развития с механизмами закрытия рисков (денежный буфер) и обеспечения устойчивости (дойная корова)
4. Первоочередной задачей в данном случае является установка «заглушки» на расходах (нет новых проектов, уменьшение инвестиционных расходов), формирование денежного буфера и поиск нового бизнеса могут решать параллельно
5. Предлагаемые решения не являются идеальными, не учитывают всех возможных сложностей, но на этапе стратегического планирования представляют возможность начать обсуждение выхода на устойчивую траекторию развития

Subject: early stage companies

Dear Seth

I am writing on behalf of the SLP of ATP Life Science Ventures LP ("ATP Fund").

This email puts you on notice that the SLP are of the strong opinion that it is in the best interests of ATP Fund NOT to allocate any further funding for the following portfolio companies of the ATP Fund ("Early-Stage Companies"):

- Deep Apple Therapeutics
- Red Queen Therapeutics
- Aethon Therapeutics
- Apertor Pharmaceuticals
- Evercrisp Biosciences
- Marlinspike Therapeutics
- Initial Therapeutics

The SLP see no way for a path to commercial success for these Early-Stage Companies, inter alia, because: they have failed to meet the milestones set out in the investment memoranda on which SLP's initial funding was premised, the remaining budgets are not sufficient to achieve them, there is no third party interest to invest in these Early-Stage Companies, and any further capital calls would not be in accordance with the milestones and business plans set out in the agreed budgets for the Early-Stage Companies (and the SLP have not consented to these budgets being changed). The SLP's position is therefore that further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets. We understand that you hold a similar view, as you recently proposed that the amounts budgeted for the Early-Stage Companies be reallocated to different investments (which you would not have done if you genuinely believed that continued investment in the Early-Stage Companies was a good idea).
If you disagree with the above and consider that the SLP are obligated to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies then please respond with a detailed explanation of your position. The SLP, of course, intend to comply with the requirements of the LPA and will be cooperative if you can demonstrate that the LPA allows you to call further capital in regards to the Early-Stage Companies. If you agree with our position, then please provide us with any proposals you may have for salvaging value from the Early-Stage Companies to the extent possible.

Separately from the Early-Stage Companies, and in line with Amendment 22, the SLP will consider new budgets that you wish to propose for clinical stage businesses that are commercially viable and have a greater likelihood of providing meaningful returns to the ATP Fund and its investors. The SLP see this proposal as directionally aligned with yours of May 12, 2025, but any new budgets must be based upon objective information — e.g. new milestones, expected return on invested capital, business theses etc. — that you must provide (please resend if you believe you already provided the information). Your prompt provision of that information will facilitate the discussion of new budgets and milestones upon which it might be possible for agreement to be reached.

The SLP are available to initiate these discussions immediately upon your agreement to wind down or liquidate the Early-Stage Companies. We remind you, however, that the SLP do not presently have any outstanding capital commitments to ATP Fund and therefore has full discretion on whether to agree to fund any new investment proposals you come up with.

Novo Nordisk finds Deep Apple ripe for obesity R&D, inking $812M deal to go beyond incretins

Novo Nordisk has planted another seed to fuel the blossoming of its obesity business, inking an $812 million deal with Deep Apple Therapeutics to access small molecules against a non-incretin GPCR target.

Apple Tree Partners founded (https://deepappletx.com/apple-tree-partners-unveils-deep-apple-therapeutics-to-dramatically-accelerate-drug-discovery-with-structure-based-ultra-large-library-virtual-screening-and-deep-learning-models/) the biotech—and committed $52 million in series A funding—to discover small-molecule drug candidates by screening artificial-intelligence-generated virtual libraries. Deep Apple has used the cash and technology to establish a pipeline that includes three obesity programs. The biotech has yet to name its targets but has revealed two of the programs are focused on receptors other than GLP-1.

Novo has agreed to pay up to $812 million, including an upfront payment, research costs and milestones, for a global license to small molecules aimed at a GPCR target that isn't an incretin. GLP-1 and GIP, the targets of today's leading obesity drugs, are incretins. The target has uses in cardiometabolic diseases including obesity.

The collaborators said the target is well suited to Deep Apple's platform, highlighting the biotech's use of cryo-electron microscopy to capture the dynamics and motion of GPCRs in different conformations to reveal novel binding pockets. Deep Apple pairs its structural biology capabilities with virtual libraries to identify small molecules that dock in the binding sites.

Deep Apple will use its platform to discover and optimize compounds against the target. Novo will work with Deep Apple on the research plan and take charge just before IND-enabling studies get underway.

The pact is the latest in a series of deals Novo has struck since its next-generation obesity prospect CagriSema underwhelmed (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-nordisk-stock-crashes-after-cagrisema-misses-phase-3-weight-loss-goal) in phase 3 late last year. Seeking to hit back after rival Eli Lilly claimed victory in the battle of the current-generation products, Novo hyped CagriSema only for the weight loss data to fall short of its own target in the phase 3 trial.

Since then, Novo has offered (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-nordisk-and-variant-set-out-find-new-metabolic-treatments-pay-communities-share) $50 million in upfront and near-term funding to Variant Bio, committed (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-nordisk-doubles-down-valo-betting-190-million-near-term-apply-ai-obesity-and-diabetes) $190 million in near-term payments to expand a pact with Valo Health, agreed (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-bets-354m-target-gensaics-tissue-selective-delivery-tech) to pay Gensaic up to $354 million per target, given (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-nordisk-pens-2b-deal-triple-g-agonist-tied-15-weight-loss-12-weeks) United Laboratories $200 million for a triple agonist and bet $200 million and $75 million in upfront and near-term payments on preclinical prospects from, respectively, Septerna (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-nordisk-inks-22b-deal-septernas-preclinical-obesity-programs) and Lexicon Pharmaceuticals (https://www.fiercebiotech.com/biotech/novo-inks-1b-lexicon-obesity-deal-after-seeing-preclinical-prospect-shine-semaglutide).

1) Represents the total Capital committed to the Pool for investments and fees and expenses.
2) Gross IRR includes the capital invested into portfolio companies and the proceeds received from the sale of portfolio companies plus the fair market value of the current portfolio.
3) Net IRR includes capital contributions made by the limited partners, distributions made to the limited partners plus the current value of the partners capital. The Net IRR does not include distributions made to ICU holders or carry distributions. The Net IRR includes the investment performance as well as all fees and expenses incurred by the Fund.
4) All KPI metrics are calculated using the net performance numbers. Net performance numbers include capital contributions made by limited partners, distributions made the limited partners plus the current value of the partners capital. The KPI metrics include the investment performance as well as all fees and expenses incurred by the Fund.
5) Contributed capital amounts include contributions for fees and expenses.
6) Realization amounts at ATP BB are estimated and are subject to change upon completion of year-end valuation analysis and review by auditors.

Initial Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$51.27M	Initial Investment Date:	July 2020
Ownership:	79.96%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Initial Therapeutics discovers small molecule therapeutics designed to intervene in disease processes by modulating translation of pathogenic proteins in the ribosome.

In the quarter, Initial successfully generated cryo-EM structure for both its cMYC and PanAR programs, containing the ternary structure of ribosome, translating nascent chain, and Initial compound. The AR structure, at 2.7 A° resolution, is the most refined structure available for ribosome-nascent peptide interaction. Together with a new cMYC ternary structure at 3.03 A° resolution, both projects structurally are enabled for highly directed chemistry analog development. Initial is now able to dock existing and planned compounds into the structure to optimize ribosome-nascent chain contact. Armed with this structural understanding, Initial is able to rationally identify compounds that have the potential to achieve nascent peptide selectivity while minimizing chemotype features that have historically impacted off-target toxicity within the company's proprietary library of ribosome glues. Key modifications to the ribosome binding component of the ITC molecules have shown significant improvements in in vitro toxicity assays (CD34).

Initial has advanced leads with significantly improved properties in its programs. In the cMYC program, ITC-8962 shows a 11x improvement in potency against cMYC and a 12X reduction in toxicity in a key CD34+ acute toxicity in vitro assay over the company's previous advanced lead ITC-4819. While further features remain to be optimized in this lead series, this optimization provides a strong lead compound against an elusive and incredibly valuable target. In the AR program, ITC-7982 shows an IC50 of 0.3 □M against an AR IVT assay and a ~6X window with a CD34+ toxicity assay.

Initial has made organizational changes to strengthen its team and reduce burn. In March, Dan Pierce, Ph.D. joined Initial as Chief Scientific Officer, coming from Bristol-Myers Squibb, where he was Vice President of Translational Medicine in Oncology; prior to that he led translational medicine work in degraders at Celgene. Personnel restructuring has also resulted in $1M savings over a 1-year period (2Q24-1Q25).

Nine Square Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$48.40M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2020
Ownership:	86.99%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Nine Square Therapeutics is discovering and developing novel small molecule therapeutics for life-threatening neurodegenerative diseases including Parkinson's disease (PD) and ALS.

In the last quarter, Nine Square selected its TRPML1 agonist NST-0264520 as a development candidate, with NST-0264662 as its most promising prodrug variant. The prodrug strategy is employed to deliver increased solubility and exposure. NST-0264520/662 is potent, orally bioavailable, and demonstrates lower in vivo clearance in preclinical species; it is CNS penetrant and low-risk based on in vitro safety panels. The Nine Square team demonstrated rescue of inflammatory gene signature in brains of FIG4 KO mice by the TRPML1 agonist and confirmed that activating TRPML1 reduced alpha-synuclein aggregation in human midbrain organoids. Mouse in vivo efficacy studies have been initiated with a tool compound. Currently, Nine Square is focused on establishing efficacious concentration and human dose projection for NST-264520 to guide toxicology studies in rat and dog.

The Parkin program is in late lead optimization. High in vitro potency <40 nM (NST-0264543) has been achieved and in vivo movement of biomarkers (phospho-ubiquitin) has been delivered. A related analog, NST-0217870, has shown in vivo a significant reduction in elevated brain VEGF and plasma Epo induced by systemic BAM15 administration in mice. In addition, Nine Square initiated work with isolated mitochondria from tissue for PD markers to increase assay sensitivity. The company is currently focused on potency and ADME optimization of compounds in vivo. Hit validation from DEL and internal cell-based screening is in progress to expand the portfolio.

Using the imaging platform, Nine Square identified disease signatures in Niemann-Pick patient fibroblasts and finished a chemogenomics library screen and hit validation. The company has identified several intriguing cholesterol lowering targets and compounds that could become an accelerated new program.

BD activity has increased with follow up confidential discussions with Roche, Lundbeck and Merck under CDA for TRPML1 and Parkin. Other meetings have taken place with Orbimed, Tencent, Sixty Degree Capital, Neurocrine, and Mirum Pharma.

Aethon Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$17.00M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2022
Ownership:	77.16%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Aethon Therapeutics is pursuing a new approach in immuno-oncology by creating covalent drug-modified neoantigens targeting key oncogenic mutations.

In the quarter, Aethon continued its work to discover novel bispecific antibodies under its collaboration with Revolution Medicines and now has binders from the Specifica screen for RMC6291 and RMC 9805 (G12C: HLAA3/A11 and A2 separately common binders being sought now and for G12D vs HLAA3/11 while HLAA2 is underway). In the pan-RAS inhibitor program, immunopeptidomics experiments have identified two cancer-specific neoantigen peptides presented on MHC-I. Potent antibody-specific binders have been identified from Aethon's antibody library and conversion to TCE for cell kill experiments are in progress, with in vitro POC expected by mid-May. Finally, Aethon's best-in-class TP53Y200C binder continued to progress through lead optimization and DC is still expected 4Q25. Covalent fragment binders to target cysteines in the multi p53 variant corrector program has been identified. Two high throughput screens have been established to screen larger libraries for more hits and HTSs will be completed this quarter.

Aethon is presenting at the American Association of Cancer Research (AACR) Annual Meeting in Chicago in a poster session on April 27 and an oral presentation on April 28. The presentations highlight Aethon's continued progress in advancing T cell engager therapies against drug-modified cancer targets.

Apertor Pharmaceuticals

Investment to date:	$29.0M	Initial Investment Date:	November 2020
Ownership:	87.11%	Investment Stage:	Active/ Series A

Company snapshot: Apertor Pharmaceuticals is using synthetic biology to discover new drugs that reprogram human immunity to treat diseases.

Leadership has obtained BOD endorsement for AP-414 as a development candidate (DC) in 1Q25 as a potential best-in-class selective mTORC1/4E-BP1 inhibitor for monotherapy and combination therapies in second-line lung squamous cell carcinoma (LUSC, PIK3CA amplification) and second-line non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC, patients with KRAS G12C mutations). The AP-414 target product profile supports a significant share of 2L LUSC ($8-9B US only) and 2L KRAS G12C NSCLC ($3-$4.5B US only) markets. A strategic plan is in place to develop AP-414 to IND in 2026 and deliver a second development candidate (DC) from Apertor's CRAF project by 1Q26, while preserving cash runway.

Apertor's unique approach to steric obstruction of oncogenic protein-protein interactions has yielded a significant advance in its project to disrupt KRAS signaling (CRAF project). The series of compounds exemplified by AP-458/460 has demonstrated disruption of CRAF and BRAF dimer formation via steric obstruction with FKBP12 in both A549 (KRAS G12S, NSCLC) and HCT116 (KRAS G13D, CRC) cell lines. Moreover, concomitant induction of MAP pathway activity resulting in cellular senescence is consistent with on-target modulation of RAS-RAF interactions by AP-458/460. This new lead series represents a highly novel and fully differentiated strategy for defeating activation of KRAS signaling and would be a new drug class for managing NSCLC, CRC, and melanoma. Ongoing medicinal chemistry efforts are anticipated to yield compound(s) for in vivo testing in 2Q25.

Multiple fundraising activities targeting non-dilutive partnerships with large pharma are progressing with Daiichi-Sankyo, Takeda, Pfizer, and Merck; DC nomination and significant progress in CRAF are expected to attract considerable attention on this front, with the goal of obtaining a term sheet in 2Q25.

Aulos Bioscience

Investment to date:	$60.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	70.00%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Aulos Bioscience is developing AU-007, a highly differentiated IL-2 human antibody therapeutic with best-in-class potential in diverse solid tumors.

Four phase 2 cohorts of Aulos's trial of AU-007 are now open: (1) patients with melanoma and renal cell carcinoma receiving AU-007 plus a single low dose of Proleukin IL-2 as a second- or third-line treatment; (2) patients with PD-L1+ non-small cell lung cancer that progressed on prior first-line checkpoint inhibitor therapy, receiving AU-007 plus a single low dose of Proleukin as a second-line treatment; (3) same as cohort 2, but with the addition of Bavencio (avelumab anti-PD-L1); and (4) patients with melanoma receiving AU-007, Opdivo (nivolumab; anti-PD-1), and Proleukin as a second-line treatment of melanoma.

During the quarter, a patient from Phase 1 who is still receiving treatment for head and neck cancer and who has received 5 prior types of treatment for his disease now has developed a complete response (100% elimination of tumors). He has remained on AU-007 for 20 months. Two other patients have had durable complete responses in their target tumor lesions, one from Phase 2 with melanoma and one from Phase 1 with bladder cancer (complete response as measured by PET scan).

Aulos is presenting new Phase 2 data at the American Association of Cancer Research (AACR) Annual Meeting in Chicago on April 29. The presentation focuses on promising results for AU-007 in the second-line treatment of melanoma.

Deep Apple Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$37.00M	Initial Investment Date:	December 2021
Ownership:	83.17%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Deep Apple Therapeutics is accelerating drug discovery with a platform built upon advanced computational modeling and large-scale compound docking, cryo-EM based structural biology, and deep learning models for the exploration of a vast virtual chemical space and the elucidation of protein dynamics and motion.

Deep Apple remains on track towards signing a collaborative agreement for the GIPR antagonist and the GPR75 program. Completion of an agreement is forecast by mid-June. Leading prospects based on available terms are (in order): Novo Nordisk, Roche, and Amgen.

The MRGPRX2 program is on track to deliver an IND filing by the end of 4Q25. Since changes at the FDA have the potential to affect the timing, Deep Apple has explored parallel submission to both the European and Australian regulatory authorities. Three development candidate compounds have completed dose range finding toxicology studies: DAT 2097, DAT4825, and DAT4775. Based on significant CMC efficiencies, speed to the clinic and overall properties, either DAT4775 or DAT 4825 will be advanced to regulatory toxicology studies this summer. MRGPRX2 is the subject of partnership interest from multiple parties; Deep Apple is at term sheet negotiation with Almirall with the potential to retain US rights.

Deep Apple is forecasting delivery of a GIPR antagonist project in 2Q25. Leading compounds include DAT 5093, DAT 4699, and DAT 5067. Compounds within these subclasses will be tested in 2Q25 in humanized GIP mice to determine efficacy and project clinical human doses and final compound selection.

In GPR75, Deep Apple has obtained atomic resolution structures and has identified multiple leads series, thus putting the program at an enviable position across the industry. DAT-6821 and 6836 represent the most advanced compounds with in vivo tool potential. Deep Apple forecasts first in vivo results in 3Q25.

In MC4R, DAT 6064 is the most advanced lead which possesses the pharmacological attributes for in vivo work. Current focus is on improving ADME properties, namely permeability. Deep Apple will advance a development candidate quality molecule to in vivo studies to derisk blood pressure concerns. Rhythm Therapeutics has recently expanded the indication space for their molecule to vulnerable populations, including pediatrics, thus suggesting that the blood pressure concern is surmountable.

In the triple G, Deep Apple will focus on exploiting targeted modifications of the current leads based on structural insights and computation. No major medicinal chemistry will be committed until the influx of funds from a strategic partnership occurs in late summer. Deep Apple is no longer forecasting a DC for 2025.

Evercrisp Biosciences

Investment to date:	$26.00M	Initial Investment Date:	August 2021
Ownership:	84.70%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Evercrisp Biosciences applies advanced computational sciences to discover and develop miniproteins with self-delivery properties designed to access brain, kidney, muscle, and other tissues that have been previously unreachable by genetic medicines.

Over the past quarter, Evercrisp made significant strides in receptor-targeted delivery and genetic medicine optimization. TfR1mp was conjugated to an siRNA targeting the ubiquitous transcript SSB, achieving receptor-specific knockdown in muscle tissues such as the diaphragm, quadriceps, triceps, and tibialis, with partial knockdown in the heart. Repeat dosing studies confirmed that equivalent knockdown was achieved after the second dose, and formulation for subcutaneous administration produced comparable knockdown levels to intravenous dosing in mice. An IGF1Rmp-siSod1 study was also conducted via ICV administration, but given the potency of the naked siRNA alone, no meaningful impact was observed with receptor-targeted miniproteins. Progress in the miniprotein discovery pipeline included completing the primary screen for nephrin-targeting miniproteins, yielding nearly 100 hits that are advancing to secondary confirmatory screens before in vivo evaluation. Advances in the editor delivery platform included optimizing sgRNA modifications to achieve 50% stability after 30 minutes of serum incubation, validated by self-delivery and LC/MS/MS. These modifications also resulted in 100% stability in the presence of RNase1, the most common RNase found in serum. IGF1Rmp-Cas9-A22p fusions were dosed in mice for in vivo editing, with brain tissue editing results expected by early May. Additionally, several hundred milligrams of purified TfR1mp-Cas9 fusions were formulated for upcoming biodistribution and in vivo studies. Endosomal escape efforts progressed with the design of pH-responsive linkers that release endosomal escape agents (EEAs) at early endosomal pH (6.6–6.2), now being scaled for conjugation to RNPs or copolymerization with PEGMA. PEGMA polymers were synthesized and conjugated to RNPs, maintaining activity, and paving the way for future optimizations to enhance serum stability, reduce immunogenicity, and improve RNP pharmacokinetics.

Evercrisp will make two presentations at the American Society for Gene and Cell Therapy (ASGCT) Annual Meeting taking place in New Orleans May 13-17. One presentation elucidates the company's tissue-specific oligonucleotide delivery platform, and a second presentation shares information about Evercrisp's method of achieving precise, in vivo delivery of gene editors to previously inaccessible tissues via computationally designed miniproteins.

Marlinspike Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$26.73M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2022
Ownership:	88.38%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Marlinspike Therapeutics is establishing a platform to discover and develop small molecule inhibitors for RNA helicases, critical components of the alternative splicing and RNA processing machinery. These pathways are dysregulated in many cancers and represent a new target class.

In the quarter, Marlinspike identified covalent SF3B1 inhibitors that adduct its Cys1111: kill myc dependent human breast cancer cells (SUM159) <10nM with 100-fold separation from non-Myc dependent cells and completely spares SUM159 cells where Cys1111 has been mutated to serine. PK-PD invivo experiments have demonstrated >3-day duration of pharmacodynamic effects and target engagement by CETSA over the entire dosing interval. These inhibitors are stable in mouse and human blood and with acceptable reactivity to cysteine. Human ADME and mouse PK is acceptable. Toleration studies and in vivo efficacy in mouse (the inhibitor kills mouse breast cancer cells PYMT-M at <5nM) will commence in 2Q. Selectivity cysteine proteomics will be done in 2Q, but the starting hits only adducted 3 other cysteines above background. DC nomination is still on track for 4Q25.

Nereid Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$50.00M	Initial Investment Date:	October 2020
Ownership:	80.90%	Investment Stage:	Active/ Series A

Company snapshot: Nereid Therapeutics is discovering new disease treatments by applying pioneering research and technologies in biomolecular condensates.

The BCL-9 program has completed rodent non-GLP toxicology with the early development candidate, NDTX-9065. The drug was well-tolerated in the 14-day study. Observations at the higher doses included slower weight gain (no weight loss), mild decreases in red and white blood cell counts, and <2-fold increases in bilirubin in females only. A prodrug form of NDTX-9065 has been developed that addresses the issue of solubility that has not been successfully overcome with formulation optimization. The prodrug yields high exposures of the NDTX-9065 in rodents and initial low-dose PK in dogs and minipigs suggest exposures suitable for toxicology studies can be achieved. The program remains on track to conduct GLP toxicology studies over the summer and file the IND in 4Q25.

The Myc program for triple negative breast cancer (TNBC) is in lead optimization, with current compounds that directly bind to c-Myc with a Kd of ~50 nM and kill multiple TNBC, lung and ovarian cell lines. Direct Myc binding in cells has been confirmed chemically by PROTAC forms of lead compounds that lead to degradation of Myc in cells and potently kill tumor cells. Xenograft studies with optimized compounds in multiple tumor lines are ongoing. The program anticipates development candidate nomination and initiation of IND-enabling studies in 3Q25.

The TDP-43 program for ALS has completed an HTS campaign against the N-terminal domain of TDP-43. Multiple functionally active hits have been identified based on neuronal splicing assays and assessment of direct binding is in progress.

Nereid continues to engage with a limited number of strategics around oncology targets, and as the TDP-43 program progresses to lead ID, the company will re-engage with previously interested and potential new strategics. Efforts toward a Series B raise are ongoing, with several requests for access to the data room; further progress is expected once GLP toxicology data for the BCL-9 program are available.

Replicate Bioscience

Investment to date:	$59.25M	Initial Investment Date:	February 2021
Ownership:	84.03%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Replicate Bioscience is creating a best-in-class RNA medicines company using its proprietary, synthetic self-replicating RNA platform technology, with initial areas of focus being drug resistance in oncology and treatment of autoimmune and inflammatory disorders.

On the partnership front, Replicate is in advanced discussions for two transactions. The first is a collaboration with Novo Nordisk to discover and develop next generation srRNA therapeutics for cardiometabolic diseases, with a target close date in May. The second transaction is a LATAM partnership with Instituto Butantan for the continued development of Replicate's prophylactic rabies vaccine candidate, RBI-4000. Upon consummation of the transaction, Butantan will commence Ph2 clinical trials for RBI-4000 in LATAM. The target timing for this deal to close is by the end of June. Additionally, term sheet discussions are ongoing with Butantan to explore a potential discovery stage option deal for infectious disease targets.

For its internal pipeline, Replicate is holding manufacturing of clinical lots for its EBV vaccine candidate, RBI-5000, pending signing of the LATAM partnership. FIH trials of RBI-5000 are projected for 1H26. Replicate also is on track to deliver a development candidate for its combination respiratory vaccine against RSV/hMPV/PIV in 4Q25.

Ascidian Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$89.57M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	84.87%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series A

Company snapshot: Ascidian Therapeutics is developing exon-editing RNA therapeutics to target the underlying causes of disease and restore normal protein function.

In the quarter, the STELLAR trial for ACDN-01 progressed well. A favorable resolution was achieved related to the SUSAR. The final patient in the low dose cohort dosed on April 8, and the mid-dose cohort is slated to begin in 2Q25; sufficient patients to fill the mid-dose cohort have been identified and are in screening. Full enrollment of Phase 1 is expected by end of 2025. Ascidian intends to finalize plans for CMC resupply and pediatrics in 2Q25. Additionally, the STELLAR pre-screening protocol is being amended to incorporate a broader genetic set of patients (5' and 3' mutations), creating the option to include them in the high dose cohort or the Phase 2.

MSH3+DM1 program for DM1, MSH3 for Huntington's disease, and COL4A5 for Alport's Syndrome continue to advance. MSH3 is in lead optimization and the others in lead identification. Ascidian will prioritize one of those programs to advance to development candidate based on data.

Work on all four targets under the Roche collaboration is proceeding per plan, with the first collaboration milestone for Rett Syndrome earned in 1Q25, on schedule. In the wake of the partnering meetings Ascidian held at the J.P. Morgan Healthcare Conference in January, follow-up discussions regarding discovery collaborations continue with Eli Lilly (kidney & hearing), Regeneron (hearing), and Bayer's AskBio subsidiary (cardiac).

Ascidian continues to field in-bound interest for ACDN-01 including from Regeneron and Sanofi. The company believes that partnership opportunities for ACDN-01 will not be actionable until an efficacy signal is observed.

Galvanize Therapeutics

Investment to date:	$127.04M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	64.31%	Investment Stage:	Active/Series C

Company snapshot: Galvanize Therapeutics develops disease-modifying therapies at the convergence of biology, engineering, and healthcare delivery. The company is developing and commercializing its platform Pulsed Electric Field (PEF) energy technology for chronic bronchitis (RheOx system), oncology (Aliya system), and local delivery of gene therapy and other therapeutics.

Galvanize closed 1Q25 with $4.6 million in sales, below its target of $5.5 million and slightly down from $5 million in 4Q24. Sales of generator systems were $0.2 million versus a forecast of $0.6 million and the endoscopic catheter reorders ended at $1.0 million, below the $1.6 million forecast. Management attributes the miss to a delay in the Medicare pricing for the bronchoscopic procedure. While Galvanize was awarded a New Tech APC code in early March for transbronchial PEF ablation, Medicare issued a document in late March determining the procedure would be paid $3,750, well below the request of $27,500. After a meeting with Medicare leadership on April 2, they issued a statement on April 11 adjusting the price to $17,500. Previously, hospitals were billing a code that reimbursed under $7,000, so this is a large improvement; doctors have expressed enthusiasm because this will be the highest paid bronchoscopic outpatient procedure.

The increase in pricing is very impactful to Galvanize's revenue model, as the following metrics will adjust upwards: average selling price, procedure utilization, capital equipment sales, sales rep productivity. Accordingly, the company adjusted its 2026 revenue forecast from $58 to $71 million and 2027 from $99 to $117 million. With the welcome news on pricing, the company is hoping to sign a term sheet with a lead investor in the coming weeks for a $100 million financing, which will fund operations through YE27. Galvanize should have enough revenue to go public with a best-in-class gross margin profile by mid-2026 if markets stabilize.

The first quarter of 2025 saw Marengo continuing to progress its lead programs while also achieving significant milestones across its pharma collaborations. At present, 18 sites are open, and 26 patients have enrolled in Phase 2, including 6 new sites opened in the EU. The company is on track to achieve its goal of 30 sites by the end of 2Q25. Marengo is monitoring the potential impact of NIH spending cutbacks on US cancer centers and has diversified sites to the EU in order to limit any enrollment delays in the US; the total effect remains to be seen. Although still early, a new efficacy signal and a confirmed response in PD-L1<1% TMB-H non-small cell lung cancer was observed with a 73% tumor shrinkage, which is encouraging.

Marengo's collaboration with Ipsen continued in the quarter to be productive and profitable, and meetings with Ipsen senior leadership have confirmed their enthusiasm for the collaboration. Marengo received $36M from Ipsen during the quarter for advancing one drug candidate (STAR 0501) through IND enabling work with an IND submission planned for the third quarter, and for a second molecule (STAR 0502) achieving DCN status with IND enabling work planned for this year. Based on the strength of the first 2 programs, Ipsen exercised its option, one quarter earlier than planned, to commence work on the new TriSTAR0703 program.

On April 29, Marengo is providing a plenary oral presentation at AACR.

Pool ATP Braeburn

Braeburn

Investment to date:	$402.96M	Initial Investment Date:	June 2021
Ownership:	83.10%	Investment Stage:	Active/Commercial

Company snapshot: Braeburn makes and markets BRIXADI, the best-in-class medicine for opioid use disorder (OUD).

Net revenue for the Q1 was below projections, primarily due to delays in activating several large accounts and broader market hesitation driven by federal funding uncertainty.

Key Drivers Behind Q1 Underperformance:

1. Delayed Activations in Key Channels

A number of large Opioid Treatment Program (OBOT) and Criminal Justice (CJ) accounts were slower to activate than forecast. While progress was made—such as Ideal Option going live and multiple state Department of Corrections (DOCs) adding BRIXADI to formularies—purchasing under new agreements lagged in several cases. These activations are now expected to materialize in Q2.

2. Seasonal Insurance Reset Effects
   The start of the calendar year saw temporary disruptions due to insurance deductible resets and renewed prior authorization requirements, which impacted access for some commercially insured patients. These issues have largely resolved as of April.
3. Federal Funding Uncertainty Driving Market Hesitation
   The single largest factor now influencing customer behavior is the widespread uncertainty surrounding future federal healthcare funding. Proposed federal budget cuts—including up to $880 billion in Medicaid reductions and potential elimination of Substance Use Block Grants and State Opioid Response (SOR) funding—have created a chilling effect across the market.

Many states and providers are adopting a "wait and see" posture, delaying program expansions and purchasing decisions until the funding picture is clearer. This funding supports the very organizations—public health clinics, correctional systems, and state agencies—that are critical to BRIXADI adoption. Given that approximately 55% of BRIXADI patients are Medicaid-covered, any disruption to Medicaid or related waivers directly affects the company's business.

Looking Ahead

Despite a challenging 1Q25, company leadership remains confident in BRIXADI's value proposition and long-term growth. Several key activations are now slated for 2Q25—including the California, Missouri, and Indiana DOCs—with large-scale rollouts planned in additional states and counties. Braeburn is closely monitoring federal developments and supporting its partners as they navigate this uncertain environment.

Hi Seth,

Thanks for the follow-up. I was in Europe this week and found the time to discuss options with compliance and legal view in more detail. The short summary is that we're going to go pencils down. Based on what we discussed, this is an exceptional opportunity, but in the end my compliance team and GC would not bless any options (and was uninterested in being creative). I would not want to waste more of your or my time with this matter, if we won't be able to get there.

Obviously not the answer I looked for, and I hope and trust others will not have our Danish view here.

Hi Seth,

Thanks for your patience as we discussed internally. Despite finding the opportunity you've presented as highly attractive in principle, given the quality of companies that you and your team have built, it does not work for our LP. This is not due to any financial considerations, but solely based on the need for a clear and bright line precluding transfers of funds to your current LP.

I sincerely hope you will find others that can participate and succeed in standing up your new fund. If you are successful, and portcos wholly held by that new fund seek future financing, I hope you will reach out to us. We would absolutely be interested in potential investments in that scenario.

CAUSE NO. FSD 146 OF 2025 (JAJ)

BETWEEN:

PLAINTIFFS

AND

ATP III GP, LTD (in its capacity as general partner of ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P.)

DEFENDANT

CAUSE NO: FSD 151 OF 2025 (JAJ)

IN THE MATTER OF THE EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION), THE COMPANIES ACT (2025 REVISION) AND THE PARTNERSHIP ACT (2025 REVISION)

AND IN THE MATTER OF ATP LIFE SCIENCE VENTURES, L.P.

SECOND WITNESS STATEMENT OF DR SETH L HARRISON

I, DR SETH L HARRISON, of 230 Park Avenue, Suite 2800, New York, NY 10169, WILL SAY as follows:

JX-230

1. I am the managing director of the Defendant/Respondent, ATP III GP, Ltd (the "GP") in its capacity as general partner of ATP Life Science Ventures, LP (the "Partnership"). I am duly authorised by the Partnership to make this witness statement on its behalf.

2. I make this witness statement in response to the writ action in cause number FSD 146 of 2025 (JAJ) (the "Writ") and the winding up petition in cause number FSD 151 of 2025 (JAJ) (as amended) (the "Petition") (together, the "Cayman Proceedings"), both of which have been brought by Unicorn Biotech Ventures One Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor One LP) ("Rigmora One") and Unicorn Biotech Ventures Two Ltd (in its capacity as general partner of Rigmora Biotech Investor Two LP) ("Rigmora Two") (together, the "Rigmora LPs"). The Rigmora LPs are British Virgin Islands ("BVI") limited partnerships.

3. This witness statement was due to be exchanged at 4pm on Friday 5 December 2025. Whilst the GP had fully intended that this evidence be ready by that time, it became apparent on the day that the GP would require a little more time to finalise this evidence. Walkers (Cayman) LLP ("Walkers") (Cayman Islands attorneys for the GP) therefore informed Campbells LLP ("Campbells") that the GP may not be ready to exchange witness statements until Monday 8 December 2025.

4. As this Honourable Court will be aware, there are parallel proceedings between the same parties before the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, United States (the "Delaware Court") (the "Delaware Proceedings"). The final trial of the Delaware Proceedings (the "Delaware Trial") was heard by the Chancellor of the Court of Chancery, Chancellor McCormick ("Chancellor McCormick") on 16 to 17 October 2025.

5. At around 4.10pm on Friday 5 November, a final decision was handed down by Chancelor McCormick (the "Delaware Judgment"). In short, she ordered specific performance of the 30 May Capital Calls (as defined below) with the exception of the Replicate capital call.

6. This witness statement cannot possibly factor in all aspects of Chancellor McCormick's judgment, given the time available. There is therefore a great deal that the GP wishes to say in response to the judgment (whether in reply evidence, legal submissions or otherwise). For the purposes of this witness statement, I only intend to provide this Honourable Court with a high-level overview of the issues that were determined by the Delaware Court to the extent they are relevant to the Cayman Proceedings.

7. In short, the GP's position is that the Rigmora LPs have absolutely no basis on which to contend that they are not obligated to meet the 30 May Capital Calls (with the exception of Replicate) or to claim that their total capital commitments have been exceeded. Further, it is starkly apparent from reading the Delaware Judgment that the GP has, at all times, acted in good faith in the best interests of the Partnership. In the circumstances, for the reasons set out in more detail below, there is no credible basis for a "just and equitable" winding up of the Partnership.

8. The matters covered in this witness statement are as follows:

   A. Summary of the GP's case;

   B. The funding crisis caused by the Rigmora LPs;

   C. The Partnership is established;

   D. The Portfolio Companies;

   E. The LPA;

   F. Milestones have never been incorporated into the LPA;

   G. The Partnership's successes;

H. Amendments to the LPA: introduction of the pool structure;

I. Amendment 20;

J. The Rigmora LPs' capital contributions to date;

K. The Family Trust's funding constraints and Ukraine war;

L. Russia invades Ukraine – Russian KYC issues foreclose portfolio company syndication;

M. Braeburn and the Braeburn Proceedings;

N. Amendment 22 and the Settlement Agreement;

O. GP makes budget proposals in good faith in reliance on the terms of the Settlement Agreement;

P. Reallocation proposal and 15 May 2025 Email;

Q. 30 May Capital Calls;

R. The Delaware Proceedings;

S. The GP tries to keep the Partnership afloat in light of the starvation of funding caused by the Rigmora LPs;

T. The allegations in the Writ; and

U. The allegations in the Petition.

A. SUMMARY OF THE GP'S CASE

9. The story spun by the Rigmora LPs in the Cayman Proceedings is that this is a case of a GP acting in bad faith, committing a raft of transgressions in breach of its contractual and fiduciary obligations, all the while improperly clinging to power.

But this is a complete fiction designed to distract from the Rigmora LPs' own breaches of their contractual obligations (described in detail in this witness statement). It is absolutely clear to me that the Rigmora LPs, and those who control them, simply decided that they no longer wished to comply with their obligations under the Partnership, mainly as a result of their own lack of liquidity, most likely exacerbated by the "know your client" ("KYC")-type issue besetting most, if not all, Russian businessmen following the Ukraine war. The GP worked with the Rigmora LPs as best it could to maintain the Partnership and give them what they wanted by attempting to accommodate their requests to reduce their required capital contributions. Unfortunately, there came a point where that was impossible and the GP had no choice but to hold the Rigmora LPs to their contractual obligations.

10. The Rigmora LPs' response to that was to adopt a highly aggressive campaign of litigation, making what feels like every conceivable allegation of wrongdoing that they can come up with against me and the GP. None of these allegations is correct or fairly made; rather they are all the subject of the collateral purpose for which the Rigmora LPs issued the Cayman Proceedings. That collateral purpose is to manufacture a way for the Rigmora LPs to avoid their contractual obligations under the Partnership and to force the winding up of the Partnership long before it should come to an end, and to the detriment of every other party involved including all the limited partners, all 15 of the Partnership's current portfolio companies (the "Portfolio Companies"), their employees, founders, the doctors and institutions either contracted with or reliant upon these companies' work, and of course, ultimately, the patients who will benefit from everyone's invention, dedication, risk, and effort.

11. The allegations made against me and the GP are so numerous, so offensive, so aggressive and so baseless that I have been forced to incur utterly unreasonable amounts of time and costs simply to defend myself and the GP against them. In the face of those efforts to defend myself and the GP, the Rigmora LPs try to spin this case as one where I am desperately trying to maintain the GP's position contrary to their loss of trust and confidence in me and the GP. This is simply not true and my efforts to mount a reasonable defence should not be taken in that way.

12. In my view it is important to bear in mind the fact that the Rigmora LPs and their ultimate beneficial owner, Dr Dmitry Rybolovlev ("Dr Rybolovlev"), could of course have set up a personal investment vehicle in 2012, and they could have done so in such a way that they would have full control over all of their funds. They decided not to do that, they wanted their investments to be made with the benefit of the biotech knowledge, expertise and contacts that I was able to bring and so chose to negotiate, at arms' length, the partnership agreement along with all of its rights, obligations and protections. The terms of that partnership agreement are the price they agreed to pay for the commercial deal that they received. They are now seeking to evade the obligations under that deal by manufacturing a case for winding up in circumstances that simply do not justify it. Insofar as there is any breakdown in trust and confidence, the fault lies with the Rigmora LPs and those who control them; their allegations of loss of trust and confidence in me and the GP are fabricated in support of that case, and the Cayman Proceedings have been brought for the collateral purpose of helping them to escape from their obligations.

B. THE FUNDING CRISIS CAUSED BY THE RIGMORA LPS

13. Under my management, the Partnership grew to be worth approximately US$6.48 billion in Q1 2025,[1] which has resulted in distributions of c.US$2.1 billion to the Rigmora LPs in cash and in kind. The returns of the Partnership, up until the Rigmora LPs' default, speak volumes. When benchmarked against the top funds in the industry, as at the end of December 2024, the Partnership was at the top of the pack and the Rigmora LPs have enjoyed these returns.

[1] See the Partnership's Q1 2025 Report at p.3, which sets out the value of each of the Partnership's investment pools ATP_00004687 [HB REF].

14. As set out in the Delaware Complaint dated 30 May 2025 (defined below at paragraph 247):

> "As of this date, ATP's operational success has translated directly into superior financial performance as measured by standard industry metrics such as total value to paid-in capital (TVPI) and distributions to paid-in (DPI) rate. As measured in early 1Q 2025, for example, the Fund had achieved a TVPI of [REDACTED] and a [REDACTED] of DPI, the latter meaning that the Family Office LP has already received distributions of cash and assets [REDACTED]. These metrics significantly exceeded the median TVPI [REDACTED] and DPI [REDACTED] of other large biotech venture funds, as also measured in 1Q 2025."[2]

15. As this Court will be aware from various interlocutory matters in the Cayman Proceedings, prior to the filing of either of the Cayman Proceedings, the GP brought the Delaware Proceedings to hold the Rigmora LPs to their contractual bargain. The Cayman Proceedings are a transparent, retaliatory attempt by the Rigmora LPs to avoid the consequences of those proceedings. The real story here is a limited partner who has, without justification, ignored its contractually binding funding obligations to the Partnership, strangling the Partnership's Portfolio Companies in the process.

16. It is lamentable that, now they are unable (or, I believe more accurately, unwilling) to fund the Partnership (and following their failure to pressure the GP into killing off a crop of perfectly viable companies into which they had invested subject to the terms of the Partnership), the Rigmora LPs have taken the route of abusing a statutory process by falsely twisting the recent history of the parties into a story of a "bad GP". Thus, they are tactically attempting to circumvent the consequences of a decision in the Delaware Proceedings that have now adjudicated that (as the GP has always contended) this is actually a case of a GP acting in good faith in the face of limited partners in breach of contract.

[2] Paragraph 130 [HB REF]. The body of this witness statement redacts the figures in line with the publically available version of the Complaint, to comply with confidentiality requirements in the Delaware Proceedings. However, the Court will be able to link to the underlying unredacted version of the Complaint to read the full text of this paragraph.

17. What this means in practice is that, without swift remedy, a whole series of ground-breaking projects being led by some of the top biotech scientists in the United States will be terminated. All of the potential to save lives and change medical science will be lost. That alone is very difficult to contemplate, but pertinently to the Partnership, this means the loss of potential asset value with almost no upper limit. By reference to other successes of the Partnership such as Braeburn Inc. ("Braeburn") (described below), and the biotech market generally, the potential value of some of these companies is billions of dollars, maybe tens of billions of dollars.

18. I have observed great numbers of outstanding scientists cut off from funding in the middle of critical experiments, and clinical trials reduced in scope, increasing the risk of not achieving important clinical results. These cuts are completely unwarranted given the highly promising results already achieved and, of course, will likely have a huge negative impact on the lives of patients who would otherwise have benefited.

C. THE PARTNERSHIP IS ESTABLISHED

19. I first met Dr Rybolovelev in 2010. Dr Rybolovlev is a Russian-born Cypriot national. The Rigmora LPs are both ultimately owned by Dr Rybolovlev's family trust (the "Family Trust"), via Rigmora Holdings Ltd ("Rigmora Holdings").[3] The Family Trust is a Cypriot law governed trust.

[3] See transcript of Dr Rybololvev's deposition testimony on 6 August 2025 at 15:6-15 [HB REF] and the transcript of Yuri Bogadanov's trial testimony at 270:7 to 271:18 [HB REF]. All references in this witness statement to "deposition testimony" or "trial testimony" are to testimony in the Delaware Proceedings.

20. Dr Rybolovlev is not sanctioned in the United States, the United Kingdom or the European Union. However, he is a sanctioned party under the Ukrainian sanctions regime. His indirect ownership of the Rigmora LPs has given rise to widespread rumours and published speculation as to the potential for those sanctions to be expanded, which has led to multiple KYC-type issues of which the Partnership has been made aware or dealt with directly, and which have hindered many transactions and potential transactions. I refer to the witness statement of Sally Jacob, the GP's Head of Communications, which provides further detail as to these issues.

21. The idea that Dr Rybolovlev and I had for the Partnership was to use a venture capital model to provide early-stage seed funding for startup and emerging companies developing new technologies and medicines in the life science industry.

22. In 2011, Dr Rybolovlev and I established an investment fund to make investments in the life science industry, with US$100 million funding from Dr Rybolovlev, via the Family Trust. In October 2012, the project was scaled up and Dr Rybolovlev agreed to provide a US$1.5 billion capital commitment to the Partnership. On 29 October 2012 the Partnership,[4] was formed as a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership through the execution of the original limited partnership agreement of the same date. On 1 November 2012, the parties entered into the First Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement (the "LPA"),[5] which governs the Partnership's operations. The LPA has been amended 22 times since then. In this witness statement, where I refer to an amendment of the LPA, I do so in the form "Amendment [Number]". The LPA establishes the Partnership's core mission: "to invest … in pharmaceutical, medical device and other medically related companies and business projects."[6]

[4] Originally named Apple Tree Partners IV, L.P. and renamed ATP Life Science Ventures, L.P. in November 2020.
[5] ATP_00202247 [HB REF].
[6] Paragraph 1(c) of the LPA, as amended by Amendment 1 ATP_00202344 [HB REF].

23. The Family Trust originally held its Partnership interests through two BVI companies, Blue Horizon Enterprise Ltd ("Blue Horizon") and Ezbon International Ltd ("Ezbon") (the "Original LPs"). The Original LPs transferred their limited partnership interests to the Rigmora LPs by way of Assignment and Assumption Agreements dated 10 July 2024 (stated to be effective from 30 June 2024). For ease, unless otherwise stated, throughout this witness statement I use "Rigmora LPs" to refer to both the Original LPs and their successors-in-interest, as appropriate.

24. One of Dr Rybolovlev's core requirements was that the Partnership should be the sole investor in the Portfolio Companies, a requirement which, as I will go on to explain below, had a significant impact on the provisions of the LPA in relation to defaulting partners.

25. On 1 November 2012, the Rigmora LPs made their initial capital commitment of US$1.425 billion, pursuant to subscription agreements ("Subscription Agreements") signed by Blue Horizon for US$698.25 million and Ezbon for US$726.75 million.[7]

My limited partner interest in the Partnership

26. I became a limited partner at the outset of the Partnership, and I have invested US$54.7 million in the aggregate. After I settled Les Pommes, which is a discretionary trust on behalf of my daughters, I split my total capital contributions and pro rata carry in the Partnership between myself approximately 45% and Les Pommes 55%.

27. The Rigmora LPs point out that my investment was originally by way of a loan; this is true. The loan was suggested by the Rigmora LPs at the outset. Repayment was made out of cash payments, offsets to my management fee and the transfer of portions of my limited partnership interest in the Partnership. As a result, Les Pommes and I received less in the way of distributions than we would have otherwise, and the loan was subsequently fully repaid. I note that at paragraph 10.2 of the Rigmora LPs' Amended Reply to the Defence to the Writ, they admit that the loan was fully repaid.

28. Les Pommes and I have also contributed to the Partnership to meet all capital calls issued to us. To the extent that the Rigmora LPs are implying that Les Pommes and I have not properly contributed to the Partnership as the contributions are by way of a loan, this is disingenuous and wrong.

The Carried Interest LPs

29. The Partnership has 14 other limited partners (the "Carried Interest LPs") other than the Rigmora LPs, me and Les Pommes. Although when they originally filed the Cayman Proceedings, the Rigmora LPs refused to acknowledge the existence of any of the Carried Interest LPs, they now acknowledge there are 12 Carried Interest LPs admitted to the partnership (which I assume results from their review of the discovery in the Delaware Proceedings). Although the GP maintains that there are 14 Carried Interest LPs, a factitious dispute over whether there are 12 or 14 does not affect the way this Court should approach the relevance of these Carried Interest LPs.

30. These limited partners were admitted to the Partnership, in exchange for their time, skill and work, to convert the Partnership capital (provided predominantly, but not exclusively, by the Rigmora LPs) to much greater value. The fundamental fact in operation, which the Rigmora LPs seek to undermine, deny, or belittle, is that there are other limited partners beyond themselves whose interests the GP is required to take into consideration. In the Rigmora LPs' evidence in support of their abandoned application to appoint provisional liquidators,[8] the Rigmora LPs implied that the other limited partners' interests are somehow irrelevant because none of the Partnership's investment pools are currently in "carry mode",[9] but this is nonsensical. It is plainly in the interests of all limited partners (including the Rigmora LPs, given that they will receive the majority of carry-mode distributions) that the GP works to grow the Partnership so that the Rigmora LPs receive distributions resulting in a complete return of capital and the pools consequently enter carry mode, and a value that is many times more than the contributed capital. Moreover, the contractual end-date of the Partnership is February 2031, some five years away, and ample time for such value to be generated.

31. The other limited partners entered into business with the Partnership and devoted their work, time, and intellectual property rights based upon the underlying contract of the LPA. The employment agreements of these other limited partners stipulate an assignment of any intellectual property created while employed. Money is an exchange medium for assets, and IP is an asset contributed by people and people's work. While not in the same quantity, other limited partners have contributed value by contract. Whilst the individual values of the other limited partners' stakes may not appear substantial to the Rigmora LPs, the value to those individual limited partners of their respective stakes is very significant indeed and plainly is every bit as meaningful to those LPs, as the Rigmora LPs' stake is to them. I would point out that it is on these contributions, in the form of intellectual property and work, that the Rigmora LPs relied for more than a decade, and that such value contributors are the source of the Partnership’s top-level returns, including the return of the Rigmora LPs’ contributed capital in the form of cash and in-kind distribution, and their held value in the Partnership far in excess of contributed capital amounts.

32. The Carried Interest LPs are extremely talented and successful individuals, who would have had every opportunity to devote their human capital to any number of organisations or funds rather than the Partnership and its Portfolio Companies, had they not committed to it based on their legitimate expectations of generating capital returns. They elected to devote their time, work, and intellectual property to the Partnership for their own reasons (which in many cases will have included a commitment to scientific and medical advancement), but evidently a major driving factor will have been the huge potential rewards available from carry-mode distributions should a relevant Portfolio Company succeed (noting again, there is essentially no upper potential limit to the value of the Portfolio Companies). In those circumstances, the terms of the LPA are critical, and record the quid pro quo between these individuals and the Rigmora LPs. Neither could succeed within the context of the Partnership without the other. It is therefore not an option available to the Rigmora LPs merely to change their minds and renege on their contractual obligations. The fact the Rigmora LPs have contributed the vast majority of the financial capital into the Partnership does not give them the right to ignore the LPA or the rights and interests of the Partnership's stakeholders. That would mean that Carried Interest LPs would have dedicated all of their human capital on a false premise and subject to risks that they could not have foreseen. Had any of the Carried Interest LPs (including myself) ever considered this unilateral and improper renunciation of the Rigmora LPs' obligations to be a possibility, in my opinion they would never have chosen to contribute to the Partnership or become limited partners in the ways that we have.

[9] Although I note that the pools have been in and out of carry mode in the past.

33. I can certainly attest that in my own case I made this clear to Dr Rybolovlev from the start: we needed a strong contract on which to build what he and I wanted to build, with penalties for his not contributing agreed upon amounts, and with requisite autonomy for the highly qualified team that I proposed to recruit (and then in fact did recruit and maintain). Furthermore, if there had been no contract, no LPA, then the Rigmora LPs would not have received the enormous financial benefits from the Partnership that they already have. That they now wish to extricate themselves from the biotech sphere does not mean that the contracts they signed do not operate for everyone else reliant on them.

D. THE PORTFOLIO COMPANIES

34. The Partnership currently has 15 Portfolio Companies. Each company is co-founded or co-led by myself or at least one of the Partnership's venture partners, who work to realise each company's unique value proposition and investment thesis.

35. The "life-cycle" of biotechnology startups is critically important context to the current dispute. An "early-stage" or "preclinical" company in this industry is generally engaged in the discovery of new technologies aimed at improving health outcomes and requires an upfront capital commitment to achieve an early proof of concept for any asset. Such a pre-clinical company is generally viewed as being successful if it identifies a drug candidate that can then be tested for toxicity and disease-modifying activity in animal models, via processes designed to lead to regulatory filings enabling the commencement of clinical trials.

36. A pre-clinical asset, or company, will then move onto human clinical trials, requiring significant further capital commitments and time. When a drug candidate has progressed into human clinical trials, the Partnership considers the company holding that asset to have moved from an early or preclinical stage to a "clinical stage". When a clinical-stage company develops data showing that a drug is safe and may be effective in treating a particular condition (sometimes referred to as "early clinical proof of concept"), the value of the asset and company typically increases. There is a later stage of clinical development, in which a more robust clinical proof of concept is demonstrated, typically in a trial involving a larger number of patients. With success, the value of the asset further increases, quite often exponentially, particularly when such a trial is randomised and placebo-controlled.

37. Nine of the Portfolio Companies are in a preclinical stage: Aethon Therapeutics, Inc. ("Aethon"), Apertor Pharmaceuticals, Inc. ("Apertor"), Deep Apple Therapeutics, Inc. ("Deep Apple"), Evercrisp Biosciences, Inc. ("Evercrisp"), Initial Therapeutics, Inc. ("Initial"), Marlinspike Therapeutics, Inc. ("Marlinspike"), Red Queen Therapeutics, Inc. ("Red Queen"), Nereid Therapeutics, Inc ("Nereid") and Nine Square Therapeutics Corporation ("Nine Square") (the "Early-Stage Companies").

38. Four of the Portfolio Companies are in the clinical stage: Aulos Bioscience, Inc. ("Aulos"), Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc. ("Ascidian"), Marengo Therapeutics, Inc. ("Marengo") and Replicate Bioscience, Inc. ("Replicate") (the "Clinical-Stage Companies").

39. Each of the four Clinical-Stage Companies has a “who’s-who” lineup of founders and leaders, including past biotech CEOs who have sold their companies to pharma giants like Bristol Myers Squibb and Amgen for billions of dollars, inventors of dozens of patents, and seasoned pharma executives and scientific leaders.[10] The Early-Stage Companies are similarly founded with giants in their field; scientists for whose time and intellectual property venture capitalists and pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies compete regularly. As just one example, the scientific founder of Evercrisp is the Nobel Laureate, Dr Jennifer Doudna, the inventor of gene-editing.

40. The other two Portfolio Companies are Commercial Stage. Braeburn (one of the Partnership's most successful Portfolio Companies) markets Brixadi, a drug for the treatment of opioid use disorder. Galvanize Therapeutics, Inc. ("Galvanize") produces medical devices that treat cancer. To reiterate: my team and I founded all of these companies. We recruited all key management members until outside syndication if and when it occurred. We oversaw every decision, scientific, regulatory, clinical, operational, financial and commercial. This team plus the Rigmora LPs' capital are the reason for these companies' success.

[10] As noted by Mark Robbins Ph.D, ("Dr Robbins") in his expert report in the Delaware Proceedings dated 15 August 2025 ("Dr Robbins' Expert Report") at paragraphs 125, 133-134 and 155 (see Exhibit 1 of Mr Robbins' deposition) [HB REF]. Dr Robbins was the GP's industry expert and was asked to address the subject of the scientific and clinical potential of the Portfolio Companies.

41. I explain below at paragraph 109 just some of the Partnership's previous successes, including lucrative Portfolio Company exits. The current Portfolio Companies show similar potential to match, if not exceed, those successes. It would be impractical for me to go through the potential of all 15 of the Portfolio Companies. However, their value can be seen in the fact that third parties have validated the potential of many of the Portfolio Companies through partnerships, three of which have closed recently, despite the Rigmora' LPs' intentional starvation of the portfolio, and a fourth is in the contract-drafting stage. Such strategic deals include, for example: (a) Deep Apple's $812 million collaboration with Novo Nordisk (a prominent investor in private and public life sciences companies) ("Novo"),[11] (b) Replicate's collaborations with Novo, the Gates Foundation, and the Latin American pharmaceutical colossus Butantan, (c) Aethon's $941 million partnership with Revolution Medicines, (d) Ascidian's $1.8 billion partnership with Roche Pharmaceuticals, (e) Marengo's $2.8 billion in partnerships with Ipsen Global and a recently-closed deal with Italian pharmaceutical company Menarini, (f) an upcoming partnership between Ascidian and a multinational pharmaceutical company, and (g) a recent term sheet for partnership between Nine Square and a major biopharmaceutical company. In all instances, the dollar figures cited above represent the total payouts that may accumulate upon satisfactory progression of the programs which are included in the partnerships.

42. These are ample and objective signs of value and commercial potential from a diverse, worldwide representation of major factors in the biopharmaceutical markets. Moreover, the ongoing development and closing of these deals speaks to the dedication and ingenuity of my team, particularly in the face of the adverse circumstances engendered by the Rigmora LPs, and which establishes clear, countervailing evidence that undoes the unsupported opinions advanced by the Rigmora LPs. It shows those professed opinions for what they are: base and desperate fiction, purpose-built for litigation, designed to enable the Rigmora LPs to avoid their contractual commitments to the Partnership.

43. Other of the Portfolio Companies have shown huge potential in developing promising medicines where other research has failed. This not only has significant prospects of financial reward, but the impact of these companies not having the funding to continue their work is devastating. Just one stark example is Aulos, which is developing novel immunotherapies for the treatment of cancers. I describe below at paragraph 216 how Aulos has had to take the highly unusual step of securing funding from the family office of its CEO in light of a lack of funding from the Partnership caused by the Rigmora LPs' refusal to consider new budgets. This was necessary to prevent the collapse of Aulos' phase 2 clinical trials, which involve the top melanoma experts globally, and which can demonstrate extraordinary emerging results. However, without further funding, Aulos will still run out of funds in January. It should not need stating, but the human impact of a breakdown in a clinical trial in patients with metastatic melanoma who have failed all prior therapies is, quite literally, life and death. As the Delaware Judgment puts it: "On balance, the equities favor ATP. Rigmora has the funds available to meet the Capital Calls. Moreover, the portfolio companies are developing treatments for serious medical conditions, including childhood blindness, various cancers, obesity, and neurodegenerative diseases. The public interest strongly favors preserving potentially life-saving research programs."[12]

[12] Delaware Judgment page 67 [HB REF].

E. THE LPA

44. Whilst the exact effect of the terms of the LPA will be a matter for legal submissions in due course, I set out here what I consider to be certain key terms of the LPA relevant to the Cayman Proceedings.

The General Partner

45. Paragraph 2(b) provides that:

> "Control. The management, policies and control of the affairs, and the conduct of business, of the Partnership shall be vested exclusively in the General Partner. The General Partner and Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC (the "Management Company") shall, at all times prior to any removal of the General Partner as general partner of the Partnership pursuant to Paragraph 4(a), be owned exclusively by Dr. Seth L. Harrison ("Dr. Harrison")."

46. Apple Tree Venture Management, LLC ("ATVM"), being the "Management Company", as defined in the LPA, remains wholly-owned by me. However, the Partnership is now also managed by a second management company, Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc ("ATLS"). ATLS was established to cover Partnership operational expenses like facility costs, leases, rents, and employee costs and, by design, is fully controlled by the GP. ATVM pays my fee and covers certain expenses not stipulated to be ATLS expenses.

47. Whilst the Rigmora LPs were given certain powers to approve the budgets of the Partnership's investments (addressed below), it is therefore clear that management and control of the Partnership rests with the GP. When Dr Rybolovlev and I first established the Partnership, I made it clear that the GP must have complete autonomy and control over investments and company management once a budget had been approved. This was agreed by Dr Rybolovlev and the LPA in its final form reflected it. At this time, I had no leverage over Dr Rybolovlev; these were merely my terms of entering into business with him (and which I knew any qualified potential hire for the Partnership would also require). Dr Rybolovlev came to understand this through our many meetings and agreed to it. His own experience as an entrepreneur in Russia meant that he understood the importance of business managers being able to operate with appropriate freedoms.

48. I will refer back to this provision elsewhere in this witness statement, as I consider that the Rigmora LPs' recent actions with respect to budgets (in particular their recent invented-for-litigation argument that they are only required to meet capital calls where "milestones" in obsolete investment memoranda ("IMs") are being met) amounts to an impermissible attempt by the Rigmora LPs to seize control of the management of the Partnership.

49. The Rigmora LPs have manipulated every possible action and statement by the GP in pursuit of their apparent end of terminating the Partnership and stripping control from the GP and seizing it themselves. They should not be permitted to do so just because they are the source of the majority of the Partnership's capital; it is wrong on every level to view the Partnership and its assets as "their" fund. The LPA was and remains a valid contract, with the goal of taking cash and converting it to thriving biotech companies using the GP's (and the Carried Interest LPs') skills, intellectual property contributions, experience, networks and expertise. The results of that enterprise were to be shared as co-owners: that was the deal that was struck. Countless hours of work from the GP have resulted in significant growth to the Rigmora LPs' capital.

50. Paragraph 2(g) contains a broad exculpation clause:

> "Standard of Care. It is recognized that decisions concerning investments or potential investments involve exercise of judgment and the risk of loss. To the fullest extent permitted by law, neither the General Partner nor any of its affiliates shall incur liability to the Partnership or any other Partner for > any loss suffered by the Partnership or any other Partner which arises out of any such investment or any other action or inaction on the part of the General Partner or any of its affiliates, provided that in any such case (i) the General Partner's or such affiliate's course of conduct was in good faith and (ii) such course of conduct did not constitute willful fraud, willful misconduct, gross negligence as determined under the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to otherwise governing principles of conflicts of law ("Gross Negligence") or an intentional and material breach of this Agreement on the part of the General Partner or such affiliate."

51. I take the terms of the LPA extremely seriously. The GP, and I, have only ever acted within the terms of the LPA and in good faith. I have never acted fraudulently or been grossly negligent and I have never intentionally or materially breached the terms of the LPA.

52. I note that the Rigmora LPs have not brought a claim against the GP for "loss suffered by the Partnership". The reason for this is that they cannot possibly establish any loss arising from the GP's conduct at all, let alone a loss that would fall outside of the exculpation provisions. To the extent that the Partnership has suffered losses this has been entirely caused by the Rigmora LPs' own actions, through their refusal to continue to fund the Partnership's activities in accordance with binding contractual commitments under the LPA.

53. Paragraph 4(c) of the LPA sets out the circumstances where the GP can be removed ("Removal Events"), which include:

> "(i) The criminal conviction for a felony entered by a court of competent jurisdiction against Dr. Harrison in respect of, or in relation to, the Partnership's affairs;
> (ii) Any act of willful fraud, willful misconduct or Gross Negligence by Dr. Harrison in respect of, or in relation to, the Partnership's affairs; or

(iii) Any violation by Dr. Harrison of his obligations under Section 4 of the Letter Agreement including, without limitation, upon his death or disability."

54. Despite the serious nature of the allegations made against the GP and me personally in the Cayman Proceedings (including allegations of misappropriation of Partnership assets and having knowingly misled the Rigmora LPs), the Rigmora LPs have not attempted to remove the GP under the provisions of the LPA. If they genuinely believe that the GP committed the acts complained of, they could have sought to have the GP removed and preserved the Partnership and their investment in it. The Rigmora LPs have not done so, as the GP has not committed any acts that would qualify as a "Removal Event" and the Rigmora LPs know this. Instead they have fabricated allegations against me and the GP, cast around for a case by manufacturing a purported breakdown in trust and confidence caused by the GP, and raised completely new and contractually ill-founded arguments, (such as those concerning milestones).

55. I note that in their skeleton argument for the hearing of the GP's summonses seeking to compel the Rigmora LPs to engage in ADR, the Rigmora LPs state that, "[t]hey are seeking to wind up the Partnership as a last resort."[13] However, the Petition was a tactical leapfrog ahead of less terminal measures in circumstances where: (a) the GP has not, in fact, committed any of the acts that would enable its removal, (b) the Rigmora LPs do not genuinely believe the GP has committed any of those acts, and (c) the Rigmora LPs' collateral purpose, in bringing the Partnership to an end, is to circumvent their funding obligations under the LPA (which removing and replacing the GP would not achieve).

Indemnification and legal expenses

56. The Rigmora LPs have made continuing complaints about the GP using Partnership funds to pay for the Delaware Proceedings and the Cayman

[13] Paragraph 5 [HB REF].

Proceedings. These complaints are all unfounded because, per the terms of the LPA, the GP is indemnified in respect of all of its costs of the Delaware and Cayman Proceedings for the reasons set out below.

57. Under the indemnification provisions at paragraph 15 of the LPA (as amended by Amendment 1 dated 1 January 2014), the GP, ATVM and ATLS are, amongst others, named as "Indemnified Parties".[14]

58. Indemnified Parties are indemnified by the Partnership, "against any loss, judgment, liability, expense and/or amount paid in settlement of any claim incurred by or imposed upon him in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (including any proceeding before any administrative or legislative body or agency), to which he may be made a party or otherwise involved or with which he shall be threatened, by reason of his being [the GP/ATVM/ATLS]."[15]

59. I note that under paragraph 15(c) (titled "Expenses"), the LPA allows for the Partnership to "pay the expenses incurred by an Indemnified Party in defending any action, suit or proceeding in advance of the final disposition thereof, upon receipt of a written undertaking by such Indemnified Party to repay such payment if he shall be determined not to be entitled to indemnification therefor as provided herein; provided that no such advance payment by the Partnership to an Indemnified Party shall be made with respect to expenses incurred as a result of any action, suit or proceeding initiated against such Indemnified Party by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units [i.e. the Rigmora LPs]."[16]

60. Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9, executed on 22 December 2017,[17] makes further provisions with regard to allocation of expenses, by setting out certain expenses

[14] ATP_00202247 [HB REF] As are each member, partner, managing director, director, officer, employee, agent or controlling person of those entities. See also paragraph 11 of Amendment 1, changing references to ATPharma to ATLS (ATP_00202344) [HB REF].
[15] Paragraph 15(a) ATP_00202247 (internal page 54) [HB REF].

of the Partnership that are to be paid from the "ATLS Fee" (the fee payable to ATLS semi-annually). Other than those expenses listed as being payable from the ATLS Fee, "[t]he Partnership shall be responsible for all other reasonable expenses of the Partnership, which Partnership expenses shall be funded by capital contributions made by the holders of Preferred Units[18] in accordance with the Agreement, including without limitation:… (vii) professional fees, including legal expenses for the Partnership (including the Partnership's in-house counsel), audit, tax compliance and tax structuring fees and expenses… (xvii) all expenses (including travel and travel-related expenses) relating to any actual or threatened litigation or proceeding involving the Partnership."

61. The GP is an indemnified party under paragraph 15 of the LPA and is therefore entitled to indemnification from the Partnership for, inter alia, any expense incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding to which it may be made a party by reason of his being the GP. This obviously includes each of the Delaware Proceedings, the Writ and the Petition.

62. The legal costs and expenses associated with the Delaware Proceedings fall squarely within expenses that are the responsibility of the Partnership under Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9. Furthermore, they do not fall within the carve out from indemnification at Paragraph 15(c) as the Delaware Proceedings are not an action, suit or proceeding initiated by the Rigmora LPs. They are thus payable in advance by the Partnership under the LPA.

63. I think it is important for this Court to note that the LPA not only permits the GP to take action against a defaulting limited partner, but it requires it where it is in the interests of the Partnership and other limited partners to do so. Paragraph 18(g)(iv) provides that:

[18] Being the Rigmora LPs, me and Les Pommes.

> "In determining what action, if any, shall be taken against a Limited Partner in connection with such Limited Partner's breach of this Agreement, the General Partner shall seek to obtain a favorable result (as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion) for the Partnership and the other Partners, and the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may take different actions with respect to multiple Limited Partners that breach the same provisions. To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner hereby specifically agrees that, in the event such Limited Partner violates the terms of this Agreement, such Limited Partner shall not be entitled to claim that the Partnership or any of the other Partners are precluded, on the basis of any fiduciary or other duty arising in respect of such Limited Partner's status as such, from seeking any of the remedies permitted under this Agreement or applicable law." (emphasis added).

64. This is exactly what the GP did in the Delaware Proceedings, and yet the Rigmora LPs rely on it as a ground for their loss of trust and confidence in the GP. The GP's actions in the Delaware Proceedings, when they are taken in compliance with the LPA, should not be permitted to underpin an allegation of loss of trust and confidence in this way.

65. The costs of the Delaware Proceedings were funded from a payment of US$20,000,000 paid from the Partnership to the client account of Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP ("Quinn Emanuel") (the Partnership's US attorneys) where they were held on trust of the Partnership.

66. The legal costs and expenses associated with the Cayman Proceedings also fall squarely within expenses that are the responsibility of the Partnership under Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9.

67. In light of the fact that the Cayman Proceedings have been improperly brought by the Rigmora LPs in retaliation for the properly brought Delaware Proceedings, it is the GP's primary position that the limitations of Paragraph 15(c) should not and do not apply. Otherwise, this would in effect allow the Rigmora LPs on every occasion to issue "mirror" proceedings against the GP in respect of the same relief sought by the GP, and thereby circumvent the application of the indemnity. In the circumstances, in the first instance, the costs of the Cayman Proceedings were paid using Partnership funds.

68. Furthermore, although Justice Asif, in his judgment of 2 November 2025, determined that the Petition was to continue as between the Rigmora LPs and the GP, I do not consider this means that the Petition is "any action, suit or proceeding initiated against such Indemnified Party by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units." It will be a matter for legal submission, but I consider the Petition to be an action initiated against the Partnership itself, which is not affected by the fact that, procedurally, the GP is now deemed to be the Respondent.

69. With regard to the Writ, the GP is named a Defendant expressly "in its capacity as general partner of ATP Life Science Venture, L.P." Despite the many false and inflammatory allegations against the GP in the Writ, the only relief sought is declaratory relief in respect of the Partnership. I therefore also consider this to fall outside of the indemnity exception.

70. However, in light of the continuing complaints of the Rigmora LPs and following the judgment of Justice Asif on 2 November 2025, despite that I do not consider it necessary pursuant to the contractual provisions, I intend to direct ATLS to refund to the Partnership any costs of the Cayman Proceedings that have been paid using Partnership funds as soon as it receives the semi-annual ATLS Fee in December 2025. For the avoidance of doubt, of course, once the Cayman Proceedings are determined, the GP will be entitled to a full indemnification out of the Partnership funds for the costs of the Cayman Proceedings. In this regard, the "carve out" at paragraph 15(c) in respect of proceedings initiated by the Rigmora LPs only applies to "advance payment" of those expenses and does not determine the ultimate liability for costs.

71. To the extent that the Rigmora LPs may claim that ATLS is an asset of the Partnership, whilst ATLS may be a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Partnership, it is plain from the wording of Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9 that the expenses paid from the ATLS Fee are completely separate from those expenses paid by the "Partnership". The Rigmora LPs also obtain no financial benefit from ATLS, as the ATLS Fee is spent every year (and any cash left over is used for operations). In the premises, it was never intended that the Rigmora LPs should have any control or say in how ATLS deployed the ATLS Fee.

72. I do not accept the criticisms levelled at the GP in respect of the legal fees, whether in respect of the amount or the method of payment. Whatever the outcome of the Delaware Proceedings and Cayman Proceedings, the Partnership will be liable for the GP's costs. Further, the Rigmora LPs have not disclosed how much they have spent on the various legal proceedings in the Delaware Proceedings and Cayman Proceedings, but I would be surprised if it is not significantly greater than the GP's costs, and their conduct of the litigation has been such as to substantially exacerbate the legal spend from that which it might otherwise have been. In fact, I would assert that it is part of the Rigmora LPs' litigation strategy to ensure the Partnership runs dry of funds to continue with the Delaware and Cayman Proceedings.

The budget and capital call process under the LPA

73. Paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA, as amended by Amendment 3,[19] authorises the GP to call capital under seven circumstances, including funding partnership expenses, management fees, reserves, and investments in "Projects"[20]. As relevant here,

[20] "Projects" are defined as "investments in pharmaceutical, medical device and other medically-related companies, projects and related activities that are made directly by the Partnership or indirectly by it through Intermediaries." (per Amendment 1 ATP_00202344) [HB REF].

subsections 5(a)(ii)(A) through (C) provide, "Unless otherwise approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing," the GP:

> "may only call capital, as of any time, in amounts sufficient to enable the Partnership … to (A) pay Partnership … expenses then existing or reasonably anticipated to be incurred within the next six-month period, (B) pay other Partnership … nondiscretionary items (such as taxes and tax distributions) and satisfy other Partnership … expenses and obligations incurred in the ordinary course of business, [and] (C) pay the Management Fee for the next 12-month period."

74. Subsection 5(a)(ii)(E) authorises the GP to call capital in amounts sufficient to "invest in Projects approved by the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units in writing in accordance with a budget therefor approved by such holders of Preferred Units."[21] The Rigmora LPs (which hold the majority of Preferred Units) thus have the right to approve budgets for Projects before capital can be called.

75. The ATLS Fee is also subject to a separate budget approval process, pursuant to which the GP proposes a budget annually, following which the Rigmora LPs must either approve the proposed budget or provide reasons for not approving it within ten days.[22] If Rigmora does neither, the ATLS budget is deemed approved in an amount equal to the previous year's ATLS budget minus any extraordinary, non-recurring expenses that may have been included therein. In the present circumstances, the GP currently calls a semi-annual budget of c.US$8.9 million in respect of the ATLS Fee, reflecting approximately half of the 2021 annual budget (being the last budget approved by the Rigmora LPs).

[21] ATP_00202357 [HB REF] Amendment 3 originally provided for an ATC board of directors and made certain distinctions depending on whether a project was "being run through ATC" or not. Amendment 14 ATP_00202429 [HB REF] excised ATC, and with it the ATC board of directors, from the LPA.

[22] Amendment 20 paragraph 6 ATP_00007816 (page 9-10) [HB REF].

76. The amount of the separate Management Fee was set at US$3 million by Amendment 14.[23] The Rigmora LPs agreed to contribute capital to pay the ATLS Fee semi-annually in advance and the Management Fee annually in advance.[24]

77. Paragraph 5(a)(i)[25] requires limited partners to contribute capital when requested by the GP in accordance with the LPA. Capital is due at the time set down by the call, although the GP cannot give less than 10 business days' prior written notice.[26]

The default provisions under the LPA

78. Because, by design,[27] the Rigmora LPs are the chief funding source for the Partnership, and the Partnership is in turn, often the only source of funding for its Portfolio Companies, the consequences to those companies of the Rigmora LPs breaching their obligations to contribute capital are existential. A funding default could trigger talent loss, delayed or abandoned R&D, difficulties restarting halted or delayed trials, difficulty attracting future investments or partners, and negative perception of the company and the Partnership.[28]

79. To ensure funding, the LPA provides for a range of potential consequences if a limited partner fails to meet a capital call, including imposing a default charge of up to 50% of the limited partner's interest for each default (the "Global Default Charge").[29] Such remedies are typical in almost all venture capital fund agreements, but they are especially important for the Partnership given that it relies on essentially single-source funding. It was for this reason that I insisted on the inclusion of the Global Default Charge right from the inception of the Partnership and made this clear to Dr Rybolovlev in our discussions. I told him it would be impossible to go into business together without a global default provision, and after discussion he accepted such a provision, which was never changed in 22 amendments. This is because GP managerial autonomy and global default were the two pillars against which the structure of budget approvals (which was offered by the GP as the appropriate balance of power in this system) was counterweighted in the contract.

[28] As set out at paragraph 67 in the expert report of Mohan Rao, Ph.D. ("Dr Rao") dated 15 August 2025 in the Delaware Proceedings (Exhibit 1 to the deposition of Dr Rao) [HB REF]. Dr Rao is an economist and was the GP's expert witness who was instructed to address topics concerning investment in early-stage life science companies.

80. The Global Default Charge has been instrumental in convincing counterparties to accept the Partnership as a sole source of funding, providing comfort that the Partnership would in fact follow through on its commitments.

81. The Partnership's General Counsel, Daniel Finkelman ("Mr Finkelman") was able to attest in his first deposition, not only was the Global Default Charge "very typical…in almost every limited partnership agreement in the funds world" but also that it was "the single most contentious point in the negotiation…of the first amended and restated limited partnership agreement" and "it looked at times as if the…parties were going to go their separate ways without reaching an agreement".[30] Prior to joining the GP, was a partner at Proskauer Rose where he specialised in private investment funds and partnerships.

82. Yet, the parties did agree to the Global Default Charge and this has remained unchanged throughout all 22 amendments to the LPA. When the GP and the Rigmora LPs contemplated executing a Second Amended and Restated LPA in around September 2021 to January 2022,[31] to streamline the incorporation of [30] Transcript of Mr Finkelman's first deposition dated 6 August 2025 at 62:21 to 64:17 [HB REF].

amendments up through that point, the Rigmora LPs' attempt to weaken the default provision was a primary reason a second restated LPA was never executed.[32]

83. Five days after a missed capital call, the GP may issue a "Default Notice" (as defined in the LPA) informing the limited partner of its failure to pay and notifying it that it will be considered a "Defaulting Partner" if payment is not received within thirty days.[33] Once a limited partner becomes a Defaulting Partner, the GP may pursue one of multiple remedies in its sole discretion, including the Global Default Charge, which allows the GP to reduce the Defaulting Partner's "number of Preferred Units" by up to 50% and allocate them to the non-defaulting holders of the Preferred Units.[34] The Defaulting Partner also remains obligated to pay both the unpaid capital call that led to the Default Charge and subsequent capital calls when due.

84. Whilst paragraph 5(c) does refer to the reallocation of "Preferred Units", this does not mean, as the Rigmora LPs contend, that the Global Default Charge only applies to Pool ATP-IV, the only pool where investments continue to be divided up by Preferred Units (I describe below at paragraphs 110 to 113 how the Partnership's assets are divided up into different "pools"). At the time the LPA was first executed, all Portfolio Companies worked within the Preferred Unit structure and therefore the charge was clearly intended to apply across a limited partner's entire interest.

85. Although as the pool structure developed (from Amendment 13 onwards), Preferred Units were no longer used, the purpose behind the Global Default Charge remained. In his first deposition testimony, Mr Finkelman stated, "We never thought that we were deviating from a global default charge. We never agreed to deviate from a global default charge. There was no amendment to the partnership [32] See transcript of Mr Finelman's first deposition at 61:13–64:18, where he notes that the Rigmora LPs and the GP "disagreed substantively" on modification of the global default provision) [HB REF].

[34] Ibid ATP_00202247 [HB REF].

agreement that ever specified that a default charge would be applied on a pool by pool basis."[35]

86. The terms of the LPA envisage the possibility there might be an evolution in the manner in which investments are structured and allocated. Paragraph 5(c)[36] provides: "[i]n connection with the application of the Default Charge, the General Partner may make such adjustments to the manner in which Capital Accounts are determined and distributions are made … as the General Partner reasonably determines are necessary or appropriate in order to reflect the application and the intention of the Default Charge." Given the critical purpose behind the Global Default Charge, which I describe at paragraph 79 above, it is plainly appropriate for such adjustments to be made so that the Global Default Charge applies across all pools, not just those that utilise Preferred Units.

87. The ability of the GP to pursue the available remedies under the LPA in its "sole discretion"[37] (a provision that the Rigmora LPs never questioned until they determined that it suited their purposes to default on their funding obligations) is another clear indicator that the LPA is not a vehicle for the Rigmora LPs to do with as they like. They willingly signed up for a set of binding contractual obligations, with the GP to have certain rights to enforce those obligations, which anticipated that the Rigmora LPs would be practically sole-source funding providers. The Rigmora LPs are now attempting to portray those rights as unduly onerous to them, now that those rights are engaged.

88. Finally, with regard to the consequences for a Defaulting Partner, the LPA provides that such limited partner "shall not have the right to vote on or grant or withhold consent or approval with respect to any matter, except as may otherwise be required by law."[38]

Termination of the Partnership

89. I note there is a requirement under paragraph 18(n) of the LPA as follows:

> "Good Faith Negotiation. Ezbon and Blue Horizon, on the one hand, and the General Partner and Dr. Harrison, on the other hand, each agree that if the other party desires to terminate the Partnership or such party's participation therein, it shall negotiate in good faith with respect thereto."[39]

90. At no point prior to presenting the Petition did the Rigmora LPs attempt to engage in negotiations at all, as that would not have achieved their goal of bringing the Partnership to an end as quickly as possible in order to avoid the consequences of a judgment in the GP's favour in the Delaware Proceedings. The Petition was a retaliatory action in response to the GP bringing the Delaware Proceedings, without any regard for the requirements of paragraph 18(n) of the LPA.

F. MILESTONES HAVE NEVER BEEN INCORPORATED INTO THE LPA

91. The Rigmora LPs seek to escape their funding obligations by pointing to purported missed "milestones" set in outdated IMs. However, "milestones" have never been incorporated into the LPA and they are not a contractual requirement. The LPA contains no milestone conditions either in relation to budget approvals or for calling capital, and until the Cayman Proceedings, the Rigmora LPs had never used milestones as an excuse for not meeting capital calls.

92. The GP's position has been vindicated by the Delaware Judgment where Chancellor McCormick agreed that, "[n]o evidence suggests that anyone intended the performance milestones identified in the investment memoranda to serve as conditions to Rigmora's obligation to fund budgets that it approved." Further, "[t]he fact that certain of the Rigmora approved budgets contained express milestones suggests that the parties did not intend to condition the other budgets on milestones contained in the investment memoranda."[40] The Delaware Judgment is therefore clear that milestones have no bearing on the Rigmora LPs' obligations to meet capital calls, and that should be the end of the matter. However, to ensure that this Court has a full suite of evidence before it, I set out the details of the GP's position below.

[38] Paragraph 18(f) of the LPA ATP_00202247 [HB REF].

93. The parties agreed to impose milestones into the budget approvals on only two occasions in the Partnership's history: once in respect of the budget for Replicate approved in February 2025 (described in further detail at paragraphs 206 to 212 below) and once in July 2021 in respect of the Braeburn Royalty Purchase Agreement (which I describe below at paragraph 175 in the context of the Braeburn Proceedings). In these cases, the milestones were set out expressly, and not through some implied incorporation of IMs, which seems to be what the Rigmora LPs contend for now.

94. What is crucial for this Court to understand is that even when a Portfolio Company's "Series A" funding agreements originally contained milestones (as was the case with Marlinspike, Aethon, Aulos, Braeburn, and Replicate),[41] these only applied to the Partnership's obligation to fund the companies, not a limited partner's obligation to review budgets in good faith or meet capital calls. In other words, any Series A funding agreement milestones allow the GP to decide, on behalf of the Partnership, whether to continue to fund a Portfolio Company not meeting milestones (although it retains a discretion to fund the companies notwithstanding milestones not being met). This is consistent with the terms of the LPA, where management and control lies with the GP. Furthermore, the Rigmora

[41] Those Series A funding agreements being separate to the IM (the former are legally binding, the latter are not).

LPs' team lacks anyone with the requisite scientific expertise or capability to evaluate the significance (or otherwise) of a Portfolio Company missing a milestone.[42] The IM milestone concept was never once raised as an issue by the Rigmora LPs prior to this retaliatory litigation.

95. In my experience it is a reality of biotech investing that initial milestones are often missed or adjusted. In the biotech industry, particularly at earlier-stages of asset development, it is impossible to impose stringent milestones; and often, meeting or not meeting milestones set out at the beginning of a deal has no relationship to the ultimate success or failure of the company over the longer term. The Partnership has made many successful and highly profitable exits from multiple Portfolio Companies, and in none of those cases has the Portfolio Company met the milestones set out in an original IMs. This is typical for the biotech industry where the nature of the start-up companies and the outcome of the medical research and trials are inherently uncertain. Indeed, I expect every successful biotech company in the world missed milestones on the way to that success. Dr Rybolovlev is highly sophisticated and has a deep understanding of the non-linear path to success, not just for biotech, but for companies in general, and understands that this is the usual process for start-up companies.

96. Just how quickly IMs become outdated is evident, as just one example, from the IM for Red Queen referred to at paragraphs 81 to 88.2[43] of the Amended Statement of Claim in the Writ (the "Amended SoC"). As the Amended SoC shows, the first tranche was projected for August 2021 (the closing of Series A), yet the Series A funding did not close until October 2021. Thus, when the Rigmora LPs approved a budget for Red Queen on 4 October 2021, they would have known that the tranche dates were already off by a couple of months.

[42] As acknowledged by Mr Bogdanov in his deposition testimony at 46:11—15 of the transcript [HB REF].
[43] [HB REF].

97. Often apparent missed milestones are actually pivots to a better, more likely to succeed course, based upon real-time evaluation of research results in the context of emerging competitive information in a particular area of research. As Dr Spiros Liras ("Dr Liras") (one of the Partnership's venture partners[44] and CEO of Deep Apple) testified in the Delaware Trial, "I would argue that most successful companies in the history of biotech have pivoted."[45] Just two examples of where Portfolio Companies have successfully pivoted include:

(a) Deep Apple pivoted into the obesity field and secured a partnership worth up to $812 million with Novo Nordisk (a deal that would never have come about if my team and I had not determined that the original milestones should be abandoned in light of the emergence of obesity as a major market and Deep Apple's clear capacity to approach certain critical, sought after obesity disease targets);[46] and

(b) Apertor's pivot from a vaccine enhancement product to oncology was what led to Apertor being able to deliver clinical candidates.[47]

98. Far from surprises, and regardless of the factual and contractual invalidity of their missed IM milestone claims, these pivots in research focus were regularly reported to the Rigmora LPs in the quarterly reports provided by the GP (as well as in face-to-face meetings and other communications) for a decade, and they never once protested — until this litigation.

99. Nereid (which is an Early-Stage Company) is just one example of many companies in the Partnership's portfolio in which the milestones in the original investment could not possibly have applied to the approved budget. The actual research outcomes could not possibly have been known until after the company had set up a fully operating research platform. Only after the platform was operating could the pharmaceutical targets be determined with any precision.

100. Nereid has since created two valuable development candidates for cancer treatment, which would not have been possible had the Rigmora LPs taken the attitude then, as they do now, that their obligation to fund budgets is dependent on milestones being met. Nereid, as it happens, is one of the Early-Stage Companies for which the Rigmora LPs arbitrarily and capriciously refused to consider authorising a new budget despite committing to do so in Amendment 22, and the GP's repeated entreaties that it do so. As a result, Nereid's operations are suspended and work on and its development candidates are stopped. This is precisely the sort of disastrous outcome that the Rigmora LPs' abrogation of its contractual duties has led to, and precisely why the Global Default Charge was incorporated into the LPA.

101. In any event, notwithstanding that the IM milestones have no bearing on the Rigmora LPs' funding obligations, the Rigmora LPs assertion in its Amended SoC that milestones were not met in respect of Red Queen[48] or Marlinspike[49] is contradicted by the fact that Zufar Iskhakov ("Mr Iskhakov"), a Rigmora analyst, reported on 30 April 2025 that Red Queen and Marlinspike had achieved or were in line with their milestone targets.[50] When cross-examined on this point during the Delaware Trial, Rigmora Holdings' Co-CEO and Chief Investment Officer ("CIO"), Yuri Bogdanov ("Mr Bogdanov") was only able to say that it was only his analyst's "guess."[51] I consider this further evidence that the Rigmora LPs are not equipped to gauge not only whether or not IM milestones have been met, but whether a given milestone at a given time has or does not have any value. Chancellor

Mcormick acknowledged in her judgment that "Rigmora lacked the substantive expertise to set or track performance milestones."[52]

102. I also note that the Rigmora LPs now claim that a capital call made in circumstances where Portfolio Companies have missed milestones engages what they define as the "Accelerated Call Conditions"[53] under paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA.[54] It will be a matter for legal submission, but I can confirm that until the Cayman Proceedings, the Rigmora LPs had never once claimed that capital was being called on an "accelerated" basis in the entire history of the Partnership.

103. The Rigmora LPs' case on milestones being incorporated into budgets is squarely at odds with their own internal documents provided in discovery. For instance, I refer to emails exchanged between Mr Ishkhakov, Mr Bogdanov, Alexey Yakovlev (the Chief Financial Officer of Rigmora Holdings) ("Mr Yakovlev"), and Patrik Blöchlinger ("Mr Blöchlinger") (the Chief Legal Officer of Rigmora Holdings) on 4 April 2025 relating to capital calls made on the same day in respect of Initial and Nine Square.[55] In an email in that chain, Mr Ishkhakov included a table of all remaining budgets in his email, with no reference to milestones. The implication of this is clear: the Rigmora LPs knew that there were significant remaining budgets for the Portfolio Companies which were not contingent on "milestones", as is wrongly asserted in the Amended SoC.

104. Moreover, Mr Ishkhakov's 4 April 2025 email also attached a spreadsheet setting out in great detail the Rigmora LPs' understanding of their approved budgets, capital commitments, and obligations to meet capital calls.[56] Whilst that spreadsheet is very detailed and contains many historical calculations, in respect of budgets there is no reference whatsoever to them being contingent on milestones. Moreover, that spreadsheet also contains a plain summary of the Rigmora LPs' understanding of their capital commitment (as explained and referenced at paragraph 130).

G. THE PARTNERSHIP'S SUCCESSES

105. For years the Partnership operated effectively and the Rigmora LPs cooperated on the budget approval process under the LPA. Until late 2024, the process by which the Rigmora LPs exercised its budget approval rights typically began with informal discussions among the Rigmora LPs' chief investment officer (which role has been transferred over time), Dr Rybolovlev and myself. For each new Series A investment, Dr Rybolovlev and I met — usually in person — to discuss the opportunity, its prospects for commercial and scientific success, and funding needs. Once Dr Rybolovlev informally approved the investment, the GP would prepare an IM and a request for formal budget approval. After formal budget approval, the Partnership would enter into Series A stock purchase agreements with the relevant Portfolio Companies. Such agreements, per the LPA, were for the GP, alone, to negotiate. The Rigmora LPs never saw them, did not expect to see them, and never once asked to see them.

106. It is worth noting that no requirement to produce an IM exists in the LPA. I decided it would be good practice to produce IMs to explain to Dr Rybolovlev and his associates the potential me and my team believed existed in a given deal that we were proposing. It was expressly understood that the IMs, while non-binding and not a legal document in any way, were intended to give a picture of our thinking about a potential company at that time.

[56] RIGC_00002631 [HB REF].

107. Total capital of approximately US$2.1 billion has been invested in the Partnership's Portfolio Companies. As noted above, in Q1 2025, the Partnership's total value was approximately US$6.48 billion,[57] and the potential value of the Portfolio Companies it holds would be exponentially greater if they were properly funded with sufficient cash on hand and assurances of adequate future funding. The Partnership has also made distributions to the limited partners of US$2.28 billion (made up of cash and marketable securities), of which circa US$2.1 billion has been paid to the Rigmora LPs. These substantial returns reflect the significant value created by my management and demonstrate how my team and I have effectively identified and nurtured promising companies in the life sciences area.

108. As I noted above at paragraph 13, when benchmarked to the top funds in the industry, as at the end of December 2024, prior to the Rigmora LPs' defaults and repudiations of the LPA, the Partnership was a leader in the field.

109. As a few examples of the Partnership's successes:

(a) two of the Partnership's startups, Stoke Therapeutics, Inc. and Akero Therapeutics, Inc. made initial public offerings in 2019. The Partnership's total investments in those two companies from 2014 to 2019 was US$150.7 million. In 2020, those positions were distributed to the limited partners at a value of US$736.1 million combined – nearly quintuple the amount invested by the Partnership. The Rigmora LPs received US$624.7 million of that distribution;

(b) the Rigmora LPs have also realised huge returns from other investments, such as US$60 million in distributions derived from the sale of Chinook Therapeutics, for which US$10 million had been contributed;

[57] Per the Partnership's Q1 2025 Report at p.3 ATP_00004687 [HB REF].

(c) in 2018, the Partnership sold its position in Syntimmune, Inc. to Alexion Pharmaceuticals for US$278 million in up-front consideration and up to an additional US$603 million in milestone payments tied to the achievement of certain key clinical and regulatory events. This compared to an investment of US$71 million;

(d) in 2020, the Partnership realised US$139 million in profits when it sold its stake in Corvidia Therapeutics to Novo, and stands to realise US$289mm in milestones; and

(e) Braeburn, the Partnership's specialty pharmaceutical company, which we founded in 2012 and still wholly own, launched its flagship product in late 2023 and exceeded forecasts. This occurred after many years of unanticipated regulatory and legal difficulties which the Partnership successfully managed. Braeburn is expecting revenue of US$280 million in 2025. The business, wholly owned by the Partnership and still private, is valued on a discounted cash flow basis at approximately US$2.9 billion. Approximately US$722 million of this value has already been distributed in the form of a royalty contract, leaving the Partnership holding approximately US$2.2 billion of Braeburn value. The total invested to date, without regard to internal transfers among pools, is approximately US$400 million, a return of nearly 6X which is simply massive on this scale of investment, especially given that cost has already been more than distributed.

H. AMENDMENTS TO THE LPA: INTRODUCTION OF THE POOL STRUCTURE

110. Amendment 13 of the LPA, dated 4 February 2019,[58] introduced a "pool" structure through which commitments, assets, and contributions would be allocated and tracked across distinct, separate "pools." The aim of the pool concept was to segregate money so that profits on new investments would not leak to former Partnership employees. As noted above, there are 14 other limited partners of the Partnership, aside from the Rigmora LPs, me and Les Pommes, who have a carried interest entitlement in the Partnership, and these interests vary across the different pools.

111. Pools also allowed the parties to increase capital commitments without having to establish new entities, thus avoiding potential KYC roadblocks relating to Dr Rybolovlev's Russian nationality that would have existed if entirely new entities were established for the purposes of holding new investments.

112. I have described the evolution of the pool structure across the various amendments in more detail in an Annex to this witness statement, in case it is of assistance to the Court. Of most relevance is the fact that by Amendment 17, the Rigmora LPs increased their capital commitment to the Partnership by US$1 billion and by Amendment 20 (which I address in detail in the section below) they further increased capital commitments to the level they stand at today.

113. To assist the Court with the development of the pools (and the name changes of the same) I refer to the following table:

[58] ATP_00202424 [HB REF].

I. AMENDMENT 20

Amendment 20 increases capital commitments

114. I acknowledge that the Delaware Judgment found that the Rigmora LPs' capital commitments are US$2.45bn. The GP is considering its position in this regard (as I view the Delaware Judgment to be an incorrect interpretation of Amendment 20). What follows below is therefore the GP's view of the consequences of Amendment 20.

115. On 21 June 2021, the parties executed Amendment 20,[59] which created two new pools (Pool Braeburn and ATP V-3) and provided for an additional significant increase in the capital commitments (or "Contingent Subscriptions" as they have also been referred to in the Cayman Proceedings) from the Rigmora LPs and me.

116. Whilst the Rigmora LPs now deny that Amendment 20 caused their capital commitments to increase, I consider it to be plain from a detailed analysis of the wording of Amendment 20 that the Rigmora LPs' capital commitments were increased to a total of c.US$2.85 billion as a result of Amendment 20.

117. Whilst I appreciate that I have set out, immediately below, a significant amount of detail concerning Amendment 20, I consider this is crucial to respond to the claim that the Rigmora LPs did not increase their capital commitments further following Amendment 17.

118. In a May 2021 email, I sent a draft outline to the Rigmora LPs' then-CEO and CIO Anna Kolonchina ("Ms Kolonchina"). Ms Kolonchina returned a revised draft on 26 May 2021, noting that, with the business terms ready, it "make[s] sense to start drafting a long form" amendment.[60]

119. The outline included a section titled "Remaining Unfunded Capital Commitments," which estimated that each pool would have roughly the following unfunded commitments following execution of Amendment 20: (1) US$20 million for ATP IV, (2) US$220 million for ATP V-1, (3) US$664 million for ATP V-2, (4) US$291 million for ATP V-3, and (5) US$189.95 million for Pool Braeburn.

120. At the time, there was approximately US$150 million in remaining capital commitments for ATP IV that the parties agreed to sunset, leaving ATP IV with capital commitments of US$20 million to pay continuing expenses in respect of four companies from which the Partnership had previously achieved a successful exit and where certain contingent payments were still expected.[61] The US$20 million commitment was also intended to cover litigation expenses relating to a then-ongoing exit in respect of Syntimmune, Inc. The actual cost of expenses related to that litigation, and what was ultimately paid into ATP IV after Amendment 20, totalled US$33 million.[62] Of note, these expenses continue and are being paid out of Partnership cash during this period of the Rigmora LPs' defaults. My team and my pursuit of justice in this case, a situation in which the acquiror did not pursue commercially reasonable efforts in the development of an obviously safe and efficacious drug, resulted in a judgment against that acquiror estimated to be worth some US$350 million to the Partnership.

121. Pool Braeburn was created to hold the Partnership's investment in a single Portfolio Company, Braeburn (and its successors). Amendment 20 created a new paragraph 21 to the LPA,[63] which provided that Pool Braeburn commitments would comprise of US$189,900,000 in unfunded previously approved budgets, any additional securities of Braeburn acquired by the Partnership after the date of Amendment 20, and fees and expenses related to Pool Braeburn.[64] Pursuant to new Paragraph 21(b), all capital invested in Pool Braeburn was to be called from and contributed exclusively by the Rigmora LPs.[65] By Amendment 22, dated 20 December 2024, the Partnership distributed its interest in the royalty held in Pool Braeburn and therefore no longer had an obligation to fund the remaining amounts on the Royalty Purchase Agreement dated 2 July 2021 (described below at paragraph 175). As a consequence, the remaining commitments to Pool Braeburn of US$21,300,000 were waived, bringing total Pool Braeburn commitments down to US$208,355,617[66] (so there were and are no remaining commitments outstanding in respect of Pool Braeburn).

122. Pool ATP V-3 was created to consist of the investments in seven existing Portfolio Companies and their successors.[67] Amendment 20 created a new paragraph 22(b) to the LPA,[68] which provided that ATP V-3 "shall have capital commitments of $500,000,000." The total new commitment into ATP V-3 memorialised in Amendment 20 consisted of approximately $310.5 million, derived from the parties' agreement to have a total commitment of US$500 million to ATP V-3, reduced by the existing investments into the companies comprising ATP V-3 as of the date of execution of Amendment 20, being $189,544,660. This is clear and unequivocal in the language of Amendment 20, which even expressly sets out the amounts and percentage contributions to be made by each relevant limited partner (being the Rigmora LPs, me and Les Pommes): "From and after the date of Amendment 20, the Ezbon, Blue Horizon, Dr. Harrison and Les Pommes shall contribute 50.7974%, 48.8054%, 0.1869% and 0.2103%, respectively, of such capital."[69] This is directly contrary to the incorrect assertions by the Rigmora LPs' U.S. attorney at the post-trial oral submissions at the trial of the Delaware Proceedings on 21 November 2011, who stated "You don't have here a sum certain. There's no specific amount. There's no statement that this is an increase in contingent subscriptions. And it's not tied LP by LP."[70]

123. The executed Amendment 20 was circulated by Mr Finkelman to the Rigmora LPs on 22 June 2021,[71] along with the spreadsheet constituting Annex A to

Amendment 20, which contained a detailed breakdown of various calculations relating to the pools.[72]

124. At Annex 2 I have included a table summarising the Rigmora LPs' capital commitments and contributions across the pools.[73]

The GP calls capital on the basis of the increased capital commitments

125. Immediately following Amendment 20, the GP began calling committed capital from the Rigmora LPs, me and Les Pommes. On 24 June 2021, the GP transmitted a capital call to the Rigmora LPs for approximately US$16.4 million, consisting of US$2 million for Pool Braeburn, US$1.6 million for ATP V-2, and US$12.8 million in expenses charged to the pools, all split among the limited partners in line with their commitment obligations to the pools.[74] This call included an exhibit tracker (Exhibit A) of the outstanding capital commitments before and after: a practice that the GP included in each capital call following Amendment 20 through present day. These exhibits included the amount of funds being called from each party on a pool-by-pool basis (including the breakdown of ATLS Fees proportionately for each pool), and the amount of unfunded committed capital that would remain following the capital call.

126. Exhibit A to the June 2021 capital call evidenced a total remaining commitment of US$1.462 billion, a sizable increase from the approximately US$1 billion in outstanding commitments across the initial US$2.5 billion committed to the initial fund and Pools ATP V-1 and ATP V-2, commensurate with the parties' agreement in Amendment 20 to increase the overall commitments to the Partnership. If the Rigmora LPs did not believe Amendment 20 to have increased their capital commitments, then one might have expected them to raise an objection to Exhibit A, yet no such objection was raised. In fact, despite this exhibit tracker being in every single capital call since the execution of Amendment 20, the Rigmora LPs have never objected to this accounting until the present disputes.[75]

127. The Rigmora LPs' CFO Mr Yakovlev testified in the Delaware Proceedings to being responsible for processing capital calls, and he admitted to "not [being] aware" of anyone at the Rigmora LPs challenging these records.[76] The reason for this simple: the Rigmora LPs agreed to their capital commitments being increased by Amendment 20. They have fabricated a made-for-litigation argument that they had exhausted their capital commitments and were now responding to capital calls "voluntarily."

The Rigmora LPs' own internal records support the GP's position

128. As was laid bare by discovery in the Delaware Proceedings, the Rigmora LPs' own internal records confirm that they also recognised over US$500 million in remaining commitments. On 20 January 2025, Mr Iskhakov emailed Mr Bogdanov setting out "the projections for the budgets in case we stop additional investments and work with the current budgets".[77] That same day, Mr Iskhakov sent Mr Bogdanov a table indicating that the Rigmora LP would have over $570 million in "residual commitments" across Pools ATP V-1, V-2, and V-3.[78]

129. Indeed, on 13 January 2025, Mr Blöchlinger instructed Mr Bogdanov and Mr Iskhakov that the Rigmora LPs "have always to look at the investments at a pool by pool basis and cannot just see what we invested in total per investment."[79]

130. Moreover, a spreadsheet produced by the Rigmora LPs, which contains many calculations on approved budgets, capital commitments, and obligations to meet capital calls, contains a key consolidated tab called "Summary – Commitment". Included in that tab is the following table (reproduced here for ease of reference)[80]:

Pool		$ mln
		Capital Committed (total)	Capital Committed (our part)	Costs (realized)	Capital Contributed (our part = Paid Budget + Costs)	Approved Budget (Current Companies)	Utilized Budget (Current Companies)	Capital Returned	Distributed in Carry Mode	Capital to be returned

ATP Pool V-1		200	200	129	139	125	103	60	0	79
ATP Pool V-2		800	800	53	395	507	340	0	0	394

131. That table plainly shows the Rigmora LPs considered their capital commitment to be US$3.323 billion. I note that this table also wrongly appears to consider Deemed Contributions as cash contributions in asserting capital contributed is US$2.738bn, although that error is irrelevant to the Rigmora LPs' understanding of capital commitments. I deal with the Rigmora LPs' incorrect calculation of capital contributions below at paragraphs 136 to 144.

The Rigmora LPs' reliance on Subscription Agreements

132. I understand that the Rigmora LPs point to the fact that, when their capital commitments were increased by US$1 billion by Amendment 20, they entered into amendments to their original Subscription Agreements dated 20 September 2020.[81] They rely on this to claim that Amendment 20 did not increase their capital commitments as no equivalent amendments to the Subscription Agreements were entered into at the time.

133. The Subscription Agreement dated 1 November 2012 relied on by the Rigmora LPs contains the following wording (emphasis added):

[80] RIGC_00002631 [HB REF].
[81] ATP_00131038 [HB REF] and ATP_00131040 [HB REF].

> "Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Subscription Agreement and in the Partnership Agreement, the undersigned subscribing investor (the "Investor") agrees (a) to purchase from the Partnership a limited partner interest (the "Interest") in the Partnership, to make a commitment to contribute capital to the Partnership in the amount set forth on the signature page below (the "Subscription") and to contribute capital to the Partnership with respect to such commitment, and make such other capital contributions and payments to the Partnership as provided for in the Partnership Agreement, in the manner and at the times provided in the Partnership Agreement*, (b) to be admitted to the Partnership as a limited partner of the Partnership and (c) to become a party to and bound by the terms of the Partnership Agreement as a Limited Partner.*"[82]

134. Accordingly, the fact that the "Subscription" amount was increased by one amendment dated 20 September 2020 does not affect the fact that the Subscription Agreement itself also expressly contemplated that total committed capital could also be increased by the LPA and amendments thereto.

135. As to the relevant provisions of the LPA, the Rigmora LPs' focus solely on subscription agreements is misplaced as it ignores that a limited partner's contingent subscription can be increased either through a subscription agreement or an "equivalent thereof" under paragraph 3(c) of the LPA.[83]

J. THE RIGMORA LPS' CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO DATE

136. At paragraph 52 of the Amended SoC, it is stated that the Rigmora LPs have contributed US$2.69 billion to the Partnership as of 30 May 2025. This is false and misleading.

[82] RIGMORA00042555 [HB REF] and RIGMORA00042588 [HB REF].

137. As accepted in paragraph 53.1 of the Amended SoC, the Rigmora LPs have contributed c.US$2.3 billion to the Partnership in response to capital calls made by the GP pursuant to paragraph 5(a) of the LPA (excluding the amounts that remain unpaid pursuant to the 30 May Capital Calls (as defined below)). This is the actual figure for their total capital contributions to date.

138. The elevated figure of US$2.69 billion arises from the mischaracterisation of asset reallocations among pools as capital contributions (what the Rigmora LPs call "Deemed Contributions"),[84] which are derived from the funds that the Rigmora LPs had previously contributed to the Partnership pursuant to capital calls. The Deemed Contributions simply record the transfer of companies from their originating pool to a new pool. The circular nature of this is apparent from the wording in Amendment 20:

(a) in respect of Pool Braeburn, paragraph 21(b)[85] provides that as well as there being Deemed Contributions of US$203,669,000, there is also: (i) a deemed transfer of the same into Pool Braeburn, and (ii) a deemed distribution to the limited partners of the same, on the date of Amendment 20 "and, accordingly, no funds will actually be transferred"; and

(b) in respect of ATP V-3, paragraph 22(b)[86] provides that as well there being Deemed Contributions of US$189,544,660, there is also: (i) a deemed transfer of the same into ATP V-3, and (ii) a deemed distribution to the limited partners of the same, on the date of Amendment 20 "and, accordingly, no funds will actually be transferred".

139. The reallocation of assets among the pools of the Partnership does not result in the GP making further capital calls or the Rigmora LPs committing any further [84] US$203,669,000 for Pool Braeburn (paragraph 21(b) Amendment 20) and US$189,544,660 for ATP V-3 (paragraph 21(b) Amendment 20), which the Rigmora LPs' share of the latter being set by Amendment 20 at US$186,493,163.76.

[85] ATP_00007816 (page 2) [HB REF].

funds to the Partnership. Therefore, Deemed Contributions do not increase the total amount of capital contributions to the Partnership that the Rigmora LPs have made. The purpose of the Deemed Contribution figures in Amendment 20 was to create a "high-water mark" figure after which the pool would enter "carry mode". That is, it was intended to give credit for funds already contributed in respect of the companies that sat within each pool so that the investors would receive appropriate distributions in respect of their capital contributions before the pool entered carry mode.

140. Adding the Deemed Contributions to the amount of capital provided in response to capital calls is misleading and wrong, because the effect is that the value of assets reallocated to a different pool is counted twice. This is very simple accounting, and I can only infer the conflation of these two different things is done deliberately to artificially inflate the Rigmora LPs' contribution to serve their own ends.

141. The inclusion (or not) of Deemed Contributions is another area where the Delaware Judgment is firmly in the favour of the GP, which I consider to be conclusive. The Delaware Judgment notes that the Rigmora LPs' approach is "double counting" of assets. When one takes away that double counting, the consequences is that "Rigmora has contributed $2.3 billion to the Fund." Thus, even on the Rigmora LPs' case that their capital commitments are capped at US$2.45 billion (something that Chancellor McCormick accepted but which the GP does not accept) the Rigmora LPs have not maxed out their capital commitments and all of their arguments for refusing to meet capital calls on that basis fall away.

142. In attempting to include the Deemed Contributions created by Amendment 20 in their total contributions, but not including those amounts in their total commitments, the Rigmora LPs are attempting to "have their cake and eat it." If Deemed Contributions are excluded from the commitment figure, they must also be excluded from the contribution figure. If one applies the Deemed Contributions to the total commitment figure, it results in the Rigmora LPs' total capital commitments being c.US$3.24 billion, and the Rigmora LPs' remaining capital commitments thus being approximately the same figure as the GP's calculation. It is more than informative that in the Rigmora LPs own records they calculate this number; therefore, this is the methodology that they should apply to their contributions. Deemed in both or deemed in neither is certainly consistent from an accounting standards perspective.

143. The other way in which the Rigmora LPs' approach to capital commitments is incorrect is that it fails to look at their investments on a pool-by-pool basis, as Mr Blöchlinger had instructed (see paragraph 129 above) and as is the correct approach to capital commitments.

144. In their Amended SoC the Rigmora LPs raise, for the first time, a provision of the Cayman Islands Partnership Act whereby they claim they are entitled to interest at a rate of 10% per annum on the basis that the amounts they have contributed over and above their contingent capital commitments constitute an "advance." For reasons set out above, the Rigmora LPs have not exceeded their contingent capital commitments, but in any event, this would be the first time the Rigmora LPs have suggested that payments they have made in response to capital calls were anything other than capital contributions. I note that the Rigmora LPs have not offered any explanation, whether in these proceeding or otherwise, how their (allegedly) making an advance to the Partnership can possibly be reconciled with every communication that has taken place between the GP and the Rigmora LPs over more than a decade whereby these payments were treated as capital contributions.

K. THE FAMILY TRUST'S FUNDING CONSTRAINTS AND UKRAINE WAR

145. From late 2021 or early 2022, Dr Rybolovlev appeared to become concerned to reduce the funding commitments of the Rigmora LPs. There had occasionally been times during the life of the Partnership, for example in response to the COVID epidemic, when the GP and Rigmora LPs had agreed to more restrictive budgets which had the effect of requiring less commitment from the Rigmora LPs. However, what happened from late 2021 or early 2022 onwards was different, as it was not an agreed course between the GP and the Rigmora LPs and it seemed contrary to the previously agreed investment plan for the Partnership.

146. The focus of Dr Rybolovlev and the Rigmora LPs on generating cash and limiting expenditure was manifested in several ways, including that:

(a) there were disagreements concerning further funding of the Partnership's existing Portfolio Companies, i.e., companies the Partnership had already invested in, and which were nearing the end of their first funding budgets;

(b) the Rigmora LPs put considerable pressure on the GP to find alternative sources of funding for Braeburn, as described in more detail below; and

(c) in late 2023, the Rigmora LPs sought to assign certain limited partnership interests in the Partnership held by Ezbon and Blue Horizon to Rigmora One and Rigmora Two, special purpose vehicles, without providing the assurances sought by the GP that those entities would have the means to meet the Rigmora LPs' existing capital commitments to the Partnership.

147. To try and meet the new requirements of Dr Rybolovlev and the Rigmora LPs, the GP diligently pressure-tested budgets and minimised them to the greatest extent possible, whilst still seeking to work with the Rigmora LPs in good faith. The GP also conserved cash and reduced the expenditure rate by reducing the number of research programs and headcounts of the Partnership's Portfolio Companies.

148. The Rigmora LPs' focus on immediate cash flow and limiting expenditure became even more acute following the invasion of Ukraine in February 2022.

149. Despite the fact that Dr Rybolovlev is not a sanctioned individual in the UK, EU or US (although he was sanctioned by the Ukraine), it is clear to me that the situation in Ukraine took its toll on Family Trust, which was suffering from a serious liquidity crisis. I know of several instances in which the Rigmora LPs or the Family Trust entities were attempting to sell interests on a secondary market and were thwarted by KYC issues at the would-be buyer at the last minute, scuttling these transactions. Like many Russia-connected entities, the Rigmora LPs, and the Family Trust in general, found themselves locked in, unable to conduct routine transactions. At one point, Dr Rybolovlev asked that ATLS charter a plane for his use in the US; we did so. He used part of the travel and ATLS still has this jet card, the remainder unused. Resulting from these liquidity and general constraints that they faced in the markets, the Rigmora LPs insisted on ever-more austere budgets, as has been borne out in discovery.

150. Starting in late September 2022, the Rigmora LPs (through Dr Rybolovlev and Ms Kolonchina) pleaded for an "austerity budget" for the Partnership, on the basis of liquidity concerns following Russia's invasion of Ukraine, as I noted in an email to Ms Kolonchina on 29 November 2022.[87] In that same email I said, "Taking all of the above into account, and assuming that DR [Dmitry Rybolovlev] is critically short of cash, I want to use my power as GP to help him as much as I can while also meeting my responsibilities to the fund. I will endeavor to reduce the cash required across approved budgets and expenses, where legally and operationally possible, because I respect DR enormously and appreciate all that he has done for ATP." I believe this demonstrates just how far I (and the GP) was willing to go to make the relationship with the Rigmora LPs work; something that has been repeatedly thrown back in our faces since the Delaware and Cayman Proceedings were commenced.

151. The GP worked to accommodate the Rigmora LP's professed liquidity concerns by calling capital at a lower rate and asking the Portfolio Companies to make do with less, slow the companies down or drop some programs. However, this did not mean that the GP was prepared to allow the Rigmora LPs to renege on their contractual commitments. The Rigmora LPs' attempt to portray a picture of the GP (and me in particular) as a manager that is intransigent and obstinate, ignores the great lengths the GP has gone to accommodate the Rigmora LPs during their liquidity crisis.

152. In 2022, Mr Bogdanov, who was then an analyst working on financial risk management for the Rigmora LPs or the Family Trust, prepared a series of internal memoranda, culminating in him circulating an updated draft to "dmch1937@protonmail.com"[88] on 10 November 2022. I would encourage the Court to read the memo in full, as it is short, however, as a summary, some of the key quotations include:[89]

(a) a statement at the outset that, "We are in a liquidity crisis";

(b) "[t]he current cash gap can be closed by drastic reduction in venture investment (and particularly biotech) and divestiture", with further statements as to the risks caused by investment in biotech;

(c) "[t]ight controls shall involve clear rules for review and approval of new projects (no funding sources – no new projects), financial discipline in our funds (standard project approval and project exit rules, etc. for private equity and venture funds, strict risk management)";

(d) "[h]ence, priority number one is to create the cash buffer (all free money should go there), then work on creating a "cash cow""; and

[89] The certified English translations used in the Delaware Proceedings were exhibited to the Second Affidavit of Daniel Finkelman dated 17 October 2025 in the Petition ("Petition Finkelman 2") (alongside their Russian language originals) at pages 1-10 [HB REF].

(e) under a heading "How do we go about creating the cash buffer," the first point under this sub-heading is, "[t]he only way in this situation to start moving towards the cash buffer is to drastically reduce ATP payments" (and goes on to consider options for creating a new fund with a major partner).

153. Mr Bogdanov's proposed solution was blunt: drastically reduce biotech venture investment and "ATP Payments". As noted in the Delaware Judgment, "[a]ll indications are that Bogdanov set his fall 2022 plans in motion and began implementing a shift toward reducing long-term investments and building a cash buffer by cutting funds to ATP."[90]

154. The Family Trust was having to take various steps to generate liquidity. Internal Rigmora emails from 28 March 2023 and 13 October 2023, attach "Business Updates" (the electronic names of these attachments is "Trustee Materials") dated March 2022 and October 2023 respectively. The third slide of each update shows significant negative cashflow figures. The fourth slide of each update indicates, inter alia, what asset sales and purchases there have been. These include such sales as US$46.4 million in artwork and the sale of an Airbus.[91]

155. Whatever Mr Bogdanov's preferred investment strategy might be, his approach is inappropriate and irrational in a biotech venture capital fund. This is not just my view, but it would seem to be the view of Dr Rybolovlev himself, who in his deposition testimony: [92]

(a) when asked whether he trusted Mr Bogdanov, Dr Rybolovlev equivocated, stating "That's a very wide question";

[91] RIGMORA00068514; RIGMORA0068518; RIGMORA00058807 and RIGMORA00058810 [HB REF].
[92] Transcript of the deposition of Dr Rybolovlev 50:10 to 52:18 [HB REF].

(b) when pressed about whether Mr Bogdanov was truthful in his dealings, Dr Rybolovlev deflected, characterising Mr Bogdanov as having "occupational deformities" from his auditing background and describing him as having an extremely "conservative outlook";

(c) Dr Rybolovlev acknowledged "a cosmic, astronomical difference" between an auditor's risk tolerance and an entrepreneur's; and

(d) when asked directly whether there should be any difference when it comes to telling the truth, Dr Rybolovlev responded: "As he sees it. As one of my friends said: Truth has many faces."

156. But this was not merely a question of an overly prudent investor attempting to change strategy in a legitimate way. The Rigmora LPs' tactic in enacting Mr Bogdanov's strategy has been to invent contractual hurdles that simply do not exist (such as quickly obsolete IM milestones being somehow legally binding, or the claim that their capital commitments have been exhausted) or otherwise fabricate allegations in relation to the GP's conduct.

157. The Rigmora LPs' whole case in the Petition is that there has been a loss of trust and confidence in the GP. However, that alleged breakdown is entirely a result of their abrogation of their contractual obligations, which in itself is entirely the result of Dr Rybolovlev simply not having sufficient cash to meet those obligations. That is plainly obvious from the face of the evidence – the Rigmora LPs have described it as a "liquidity crisis" in their own words. Why that does not create the grounds for the granting of the Petition is a matter for legal submissions, but from my perspective it is plainly an abuse of process to leverage a Cayman Islands statutory process, with a collateral purpose, to facilitate their breach of contract, attempting to run the Partnership into the ground in the meantime with a highly aggressive (yet meritless) litigation strategy. This is grossly unfair to all the other limited partners and the Portfolio Companies and their staff, whose amazing work is being trampled upon by the Rigmora LPs' deceitful actions.

L. RUSSIA INVADES UKRAINE – RUSSIAN KYC ISSUES FORECLOSE PORTFOLIO COMPANY SYNDICATION

158. At the same time as the situation in Ukraine had created liquidity concerns for the Rigmora LPs, it became clear that it was highly unlikely the Partnership would be able to syndicate or to carry out an IPO in relation to its Portfolio Companies, because investors and lenders were unwilling to enter into transactions involving Dr Rybolovlev or entities closely connected with him given the "Russian effect", and associated risk of being caught up in future sanctions that may be imposed on him or his affiliates, and the reputational risks of doing business with him. Despite the GP's attempts to assuage potential investors in relation to the risks, the "Russian effect" has had a dramatic impact on the Partnership's ability to do business. It is, in effect, now impossible to syndicate the Portfolio Companies.

159. This barrier to syndication due to the perceived "Russian effect" is exemplified by the GP's failed attempt to syndicate a Series B round of financing for our Portfolio Company, Ascidian, in October 2023 (just one example of the many deals that have collapsed or that were unable to be syndicated due to investor KYC concerns). In that case, Ascidian and the GP had engaged in multiple rounds of negotiation and had reached full economic and legal terms for a B round investment co-led by Novo. At that time, Ascidian had reached preclinical proof of concept for a first of its kind genetic (RNA) editing treatment, and the Series B raise was to fund its first clinical trial in one of the most common inherited causes of blindness. During the late stages of what Ascidian thought to be purely confirmatory legal diligence, it was contacted by attorneys from Novo seeking extensive information concerning the ownership structure of the Family Trust. Shortly after meeting with attorneys for both Ascidian and the Family Trust, Novo terminated the discussions, indicating that its compliance group could not approve the deal, because of the risks associated with the Family Trust's potential (not actual) exposure to both Office of Foreign Assets Control and Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States regulatory actions.[93]

160. From the perspective of the Portfolio Companies, the Partnership under the control of the GP is the respectable face they work with. The GP is staffed by widely respected, highly qualified scientists and operators within the biotech industry who are predominantly based in the United States. If the Petition were to be granted and the Rigmora LPs are perceived to take control, or actually do take control, of the Partnership, management of the Portfolio Companies will lose morale, and I fully expect many will leave their roles. In short, the "Russian effect" is hugely damaging to the Partnership and the Portfolio Companies, but those Portfolio Companies are being carefully insulated from the worst of those effects through the careful management of a GP and its team, who are highly respected in the industry. The no-doubt highly publicised granting of the Petition would, to the Portfolio Companies and the outside world, be seen as a victory for Dr Rybolovlev, and the effects on Portfolio Companies are likely to be disastrous.

M. BRAEBURN AND THE BRAEBURN PROCEEDINGS

Background to Braeburn

161. Braeburn is one of the Partnership's Portfolio Companies and its oldest and largest investment – it was founded by the GP in 2012. Braeburn researches, develops and commercialises pharmaceutical products. While Braeburn has investigated other products during its existence, more recently and presently, the company's sole commercial focus is Brixadi, the proprietary name for the extended-release, injectable formulation of buprenorphine, which is used to treat moderate to severe opioid use disorder, a major public health crisis in the United States at present.

[93] This was a point already ventilated in the Braeburn Proceedings (described below), where I exhibited to my first affidavit (dated 16 September 2024) my emails with Jim Trenkle of Novo from 19 October to 19 November 2023 (pages 14-23 of Exhibit SH-1) (RIGMORA00022094) [HB REF].

162. Brixadi was approved for marketing in the United States in mid-2023 and launched into the market in Q4 2023. Its sales are exceeding even the high end of Braeburn's pre-launch commercial forecasts and is a substantial commercial success. However, it has been an incredibly difficult road getting it to this point. Even though Braeburn established the clinical evidence of safety and efficacy needed for approval as early as 2018, it was not actually approved for six more years due to a series of administrative blocks at the FDA and significant FDA quality compliance issues at its contract manufacturing vendor ("CMO"). These obstacles included:

(a) an erroneous decision by the FDA to block approval of Brixadi until the end of 2020 due to a misinterpretation of a regulation;

(b) the FDA's issuance of a "complete response letter" ("CRL") in December 2020, refusing to approve Brixadi due to deficiencies found during an inspection of the CMO facility;

(c) Braeburn's April 2021 discovery of additional quality deficiencies at the CMO that required intensive remediation; and

(d) the FDA's issuance of another CRL in December 2021 as a result of continued quality deficiencies at the CMO.

163. These delays in approval and marketing in turn led to additional need for capital to maintain even a skeleton staff required to continue the business and resolve extremely complex regulatory and compliance issues. These delays caused tremendous stress on Braeburn's operations and, at times, have created severe funding difficulties for the company.

164. Even upon defining the path towards final FDA regulatory approval, Braeburn's need for funding would only increase due to the very significant costs of mounting a commercial launch of the product. In late 2017, Braeburn raised what it believed to be sufficient funds through a mezzanine or pre-IPO financing round, which created a new series of preferred stock in Braeburn, issued by private placement to Series B investors. The Braeburn Series B round closed on 9 January 2018. It was a term of this financing that Braeburn could not take on more debt or equity without the approval of these investors.

165. In mid-2021, with FDA approval still in significant doubt, the Series B investors made it clear that they would exercise their right to veto Braeburn taking on any sort of additional debt or equity financing. This put Braeburn on the brink of insolvency and there was significant concern about its future.

166. As at June 2021, still mired in regulatory and quality compliance difficulties, Braeburn was valued at approximately US$204 million and represented about 22.7% of the value of the Partnership's held Portfolio Companies. The launch of Brixadi had been delayed indefinitely, and there was no way of knowing when, or if, it would occur. In fact, Braeburn's prospects were sufficiently uncertain that we had been in discussions with bankruptcy counsel for Braeburn in early 2021 regarding the very real possibility of having to declare Braeburn bankrupt.

167. Dr Rybolovlev and the Rigmora LPs were at this time loud in their criticisms of the GP regarding Braeburn's ongoing difficulties. While I remained optimistic about Brixadi as a product, in light of the attitude from Dr Rybolovlev and the Rigmora LPs, it was difficult to see how we could make a success out of Braeburn at this point, and much less our joint venture itself.

168. Aside from Braeburn, the Partnership had at the time (and continues to have) a number of other Portfolio Companies developing promising products. I expected these would prove to be valuable investments of the Partnership and I understood the Rigmora LPs still stood behind these other Portfolio Companies as much as I did and would continue to invest in their success regardless of what happened with Braeburn. This in turn would ensure that all limited partners of the Partnership, including the Carried Interest Limited Partners would see a return on their investment in the Partnership. The Ukraine invasion had not yet occurred, and so all parties were still acting on the assumption that we would be able to syndicate our deals or take them though an IPO, when the time came.

Braeburn and Amendment 20

169. It was in these circumstances that Amendment 20 was agreed. The principal reasons for Amendment 20 were to:

(a) move the Braeburn assets to a separate pool, which would ringfence the investments, in light of the difficulties Braeburn was facing at the time; and

(b) get returns out of the Partnership earlier, in accordance with the Rigmora LPs' focus on cash flow. In fact, in order to obtain this early liquidity for all parties, and better carry treatment for all the new Pools and relying on the Rigmora LPs' and Dr Rybolovlev's ongoing commitments both in relation to budgets and capital commitments, I agreed, at Dr Rybolovlev's request, to reduce my carry in Braeburn.

170. To explain:

(a) The Partnership's assets were intended to be held for a long time, including one of our earliest deals, Stoke, which was to be our first pharma company. Braeburn at the time seemed likely to be held up by FDA problems for an undetermined period of time. Stoke was publicly listed with an exciting, rare disease program and the Partnership owned more than 50% of Stoke.

(b) My preference was for the Stoke and Akero shares to be distributed into a holding pool so they would remain in the Partnership so that Stoke in particular would become the basis for our pharma company. However, in the end, we reached a compromise. The Partnership would distribute the Stoke and Akero shares in "carry mode" (meaning that the GP would receive a portion of the shares as carry interest), and at the same time a number of previous deals were moved from Pool ATP IV to Pool ATP V-3 at their then net present value, to unencumber the carry interest on any new deals.

(c) The in carry distribution was not a new concept but one that we had already memorialised in prior amendments establishing holding pools,[94] by which the Partnership would continue to hold a majority or wholly owned company but control would be transferred from the GP to Dr Rybolovlev; this carry for control deal was the operating principle among the parties and drove much of the exchanges one sees in Amendment 20.

(d) The in carry distribution of Stoke and Akero was a major part of Amendment 20, but not the only major part; the other was the creation of Pool V3 established to have a newly recruited team, comprised of highly experienced senior executives from biopharmaceutical research and development organisations, to further develop companies that the Partnership had already founded and which needed more work.

(e) It was in reliance on the totality of these commitments that I agreed to reduce my carry in Braeburn from 11.5% to 4.5%, a move that has cost me perhaps US$200 million based upon the value of Braeburn today.

171. In simple terms, the deal was that the Rigmora LPs agreed to provide US$1 billion for Pools ATP V-1 and ATP V-2 and US$500m for ATP V-3 (as particularised at paragraphs 114 to 124 above), some US$309 million of which was supposed to be fresh cash, and at the same time received a return on their prior investments in the form of a distribution of Stoke and Akero.

172. In the context of negotiating Amendment 20 and establishing Pool Braeburn, Dr Rybolovlev also insisted on including a right for Ezbon and Blue Horizon (i.e. the predecessors of the Rigmora LPs) to call for a contingent distribution of the Braeburn assets. In light of Dr Rybolovlev's ongoing criticism of the GP in relation to Braeburn, I agreed to this right, in the hope that this would improve our working relationship and for the same reason I also agreed to reduce my carried interest in relation to Braeburn from 11.5% down to 4.5%. I was prepared to agree to these matters on the understanding that we would put the issues with Braeburn behind us, and the parties would move forward cooperatively by founding a number of new companies, continuing to fund the existing Portfolio Companies, and using them to build our portfolio in the best interests of the Partnership. In that context, I was more concerned to ensure that the Partnership as a whole, including all its investments, would thrive.

173. The personal sacrifices I made were enormous. I estimate that the reduction in my carried interest in Pool Braeburn and the arrangement of my personal estate planning because of Amendment 20 has cost me and my family over US$200 million. Those sacrifices were made entirely on the basis that they were worthwhile to facilitate a reset with the Rigmora LPs and for the other Portfolio Companies to be properly funded going forward.

174. It was not known to the GP (nor could it be) at the time of Amendment 20 that the Russian invasion of Ukraine and the corresponding increase on sanctions and regulatory scrutiny of individuals and entities with a Russian connection (such as Dr Rybolovlev) would make finding other sources of funding for the Portfolio Companies nigh impossible (as particularised at paragraphs 158 to 160 above).

Subsequent efforts to bring Brixadi to market

175. In order to avoid insolvency without violating any of the rights of the Series B investors, the GP and Braeburn then entered into a royalty purchase agreement that did not contravene the Series B financing terms (the "Royalty Purchase Agreement"). This involved Braeburn's advance sale of rights to Brixadi royalties, i.e. selling a portion of Braeburn's future profits to the Partnership in exchange for a commitment to fund up to US$200 million required to sustain Braeburn until approval and fund Brixadi's launch. The payments in the Royalty Purchase Agreement, dated 2 July 2021, were heavily tranched, such that the full amount of US$200 million would be paid out in increments over time, while we continued to explore the possibility of alternative funding options at the request of the Rigmora LPs.

176. Later, in 2022, the GP and the Rigmora LPs agreed that a $30.6 million tranche would be used to buy out the Series B investors, which immediately provided more flexibility in terms of future funding options.

177. Braeburn already had a binding commitment from the Partnership to provide the US$200 million for Brixadi's launch, but the Rigmora LPs were eager for Braeburn to obtain an alternative source of funding so that it would not be required to pay out the later tranches of the Royalty Purchase Agreement in response to capital calls from the GP. At this stage, the Rigmora LPs were only willing to be a funder of last resort. Therefore, Braeburn, the GP and the Rigmora LPs sought to explore other funding options.

178. Braeburn and the GP engaged a broker to assist in identifying a lender willing to participate in the funding of the Brixadi launch. A deal with a lender which was negotiated and scheduled to close fell through in April 2023, because its compliance committee would not approve investing in Braeburn given its relationship to Dr Rybolovlev. Other lenders were similarly concerned about the "Russian effect", and we struggled to find a suitable lender.

Braeburn as the Rigmora LPs' "cash-cow"

179. On 23 May 2023, despite the many obstacles during Braeburn's arduous and difficult path, and with little support (and indeed many obstacles) from the Rigmora LPs, Brixadi obtained final regulatory approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. On this approval being granted, the Rigmora LPs' attitude completely flipped, and Braeburn suddenly became the Rigmora LPs desired "cash cow", and the perceived cure of their liquidity crisis, notwithstanding Braeburn required significant further investment before it could become self-sustaining.

Hercules Loan / First Distribution Request

180. In parallel, to manage Braeburn's ongoing funding issues, Braeburn and the GP's efforts to secure a working capital continued, and focus centred on a facility from Hercules Capital Inc. ("Hercules"). This proposed loan was opposed by the Rigmora LPs.

181. With negotiations with Hercules in advanced stages, on 28 September 2023, the Rigmora LPs sought to exercise their Braeburn distribution right in Amendment 20 and demanded immediate distribution of Braeburn's shares (the "First Braeburn Distribution Request") (which shortly followed a capital call by the Partnership of US$30.6 million for Pool Braeburn). The GP refused the demand on fiduciary and other grounds in accordance with Amendment 20, citing concerns about the Partnership's solvency and Rigmora LP's potential default on commitments to fund Pool V-1 and V-2.

182. The First Distribution Request represented a red line for Hercules, and the financing could not close whilst it remained in place. Accordingly, an impasse ensued, in which the Rigmora LPs were not committing to fund Braeburn within the Partnership, nor were they allowing third-party financing to proceed.

183. In the end, and after resistance by the Rigmora LPs, the First Distribution Request was withdrawn, and the facility with Hercules (the "Hercules Loan") was closed. But for the GP's ability to negotiate that deal and convince the Rigmora LPs that it was the only practical way forward, Braeburn would not have gone on to have its enormous subsequent success (and indeed it may have suffered enormous prejudice).

184. Following the above extensive ordeal, on receipt of final regulatory approval for Brixadi, Brixadi was successfully launched in 2023 (using the funding from both the Royalty Purchase Agreement and the Hercules Loan). In this context, by late 2023, the Rigmora LPs conditioned their agreement to meet key funding obligations on the Partnership's agreement to cap capital calls and shift approved budgeted amounts away from preclinical startups in Pools ATP V-1 and V-2 in favour of older, clinical-stage companies. The parties, consequently, signed an agreement memorialising this on 8 November 2023[95]. In an email also sent on 8 November 2023, where I attached a signed copy of the agreement, I put the situation bluntly:

> "We are now at the point where portfolio companies will miss payroll and be forced to shut down without new infusions of capital, so the situation is desperate, and we need to reach a resolution right now. For that reason, and that reason only, I am willing to give you a flat-out guarantee as to the offsetting budget reductions, without any caveat whatsoever about compliance with the fund's financing agreements with its portfolio companies. Please note that our compliance obligations are both general in nature, such as fiduciary duties as a majority stockholder with board control, as well as specifically spelled out by contract. But I am forced to look past that now, given the dire situation of our companies, and instead must assume that the Family Office will act reasonably and in everyone's best interests when it comes to future financing needs."[96]

185. Given that this shows the GP clearly willing to make adjustments for the Rigmora LPs, in a, frankly, desperate bid to save the Portfolio Companies, I find the allegations on the part of the Rigmora LPs that the GP has been conducting itself in bad faith to be, not only extremely offensive, but plainly wrong when looking at the parties' historic correspondence.

186. On 30 July 2024, the Rigmora LPs renewed their demand for immediate distribution of the assets in Pool Braeburn (then independently valued at up to $3.8 billion) (the "Second Braeburn Distribution Request"). When I requested time to consider the implications of such a distribution on the Fund, the Rigmora LPs immediately filed an Originating Summons with the Cayman Court[97] to compel the distribution (the "Braeburn Proceedings").

187. On 14 October 2024, Ms Kolonchina filed a second affidavit in the Braeburn Proceedings stating that the Rigmora LP's "combined Contingent Subscriptions are US$2.425 billion," and because the Rigmora LPs had already funded $2.6 billion to date, "it is therefore impossible" that the Rigmora LPs had outstanding contingent subscriptions. Ms Kolonchina further attested that there was no "global default mechanism" in the LPA.[98]

188. That same day, Ms Kolonchina stated in an email to the GP that the Rigmora LPs would pay a pending capital call despite that it was "not obligated to do so".[99] By October 2024, the Rigmora LPs were explicitly disclaiming any obligation to respond to capital calls for budgets already expressly approved in writing, insisting any payments would be made only "on a voluntary basis".[100]

[96] RIGMORA00004328 (see page 2) [HB REF].
[97] Under Cause Number FSD 236 of 2024.
[98] Per paragraphs 25 and 29 of the Second Affidavit of Anna Kolonchina dated 14 October 2024 in the Braeburn Proceedings ATP_00296350 [HB REF].

189. As is dealt with at paragraphs 114 to 144 of this witness statement, the argument that capital commitments have been exhausted is wrong (as the Delaware Court has now found), and an after-the-event fabrication by the Rigmora LPs to avoid their contractual obligations.

190. The Braeburn Proceedings were ultimately settled per paragraphs 191 to 202 below, without any determination or resolution of the capital commitments issue.

N. AMENDMENT 22 AND THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

191. In order to resolve the dispute underlying the Braeburn Proceedings I flew to Monaco and suggested to Dr Rybolovlev that we settle the dispute, leading to a couple of days of meetings where we agreed to a basic outline of a settlement in order to continue to work together constructively.[101]

192. Following that meeting, a settlement agreement was negotiated between the Partnership and the Rigmora LPs, with Mr Bogdanov (who took over Ms Kolonchina's position as Co-CEO in October 2024) the primary negotiator for the Rigmora LPs. The settlement agreement was executed on 20 December 2024 (the "Settlement Agreement")[102] and in brief summary it:

(a) released the GP from "any and all claims, demands, actions, liabilities, proceedings or suits arising out of" the First Braeburn Distribution Request and the Second Braeburn Distribution Request (the "Braeburn Distribution Release");

[100] Ibid. [HB REF].
[101] The Delaware Judgments acknowledges that it was me making settlement overtures at this time as the Partnership "was on the verge of crisis" (page 27) [HB REF].
[102] ATP_00335690 [HB REF].

(b) committed the parties to entering into Amendment 22; and

(c) agreed to the discontinuance of the Braeburn Proceedings (which were discontinued on 27 December 2024).

193. It is a matter for legal submissions, but the Rigmora LPs' allegations at paragraphs 29 and 33 of the Petition that there was any impropriety on the part of the GP in not acceding to the First Braeburn Distribution Request or the Second Braeburn Distribution Request appears to be wholly at odds with the Braeburn Distribution Release. In any event, the allegations are wholly denied. I do not propose to re-litigate the Braeburn Proceedings (not least in light of the Braeburn Distribution Release), but there were express conditions precedent to the making of such a distribution, and those conditions precedent had not been met.

194. The Settlement Agreement also provided that:

> "The Parties shall bear their own legal costs and disbursements in relation to the Dispute, the Proceedings, this Agreement, Amendment No. 22, the LLCA, and the put agreements contemplated by the LLCA. Even if the LPA or any other agreement says otherwise, ATP III shall pay its legal costs and disbursements in relation to the Dispute, the Proceedings, this Agreement, Amendment No. 22, the LLCA, and the put agreements contemplated by the LLCA using its own money (for example, money it has received as payment of a Management Fee) and will not in any way expense or charge ATP Fund or its portfolio companies (or otherwise cause ATP Fund or its portfolio companies to pay) for legal costs and disbursements incurred in relation to the Dispute, the Proceedings, this Agreement, Amendment No. 22, the LLCA, and the put agreements contemplated by the LLCA."[103]
> (the "Legal Expenses Provision")

[103] ATP_00335690 (internal page 4-5) [HB REF].

195. The Rigmora LPs have alleged that the Partnership has breached the Legal Expenses Provision, which I shall address at paragraphs 429 to 438 below.

196. A key concern in settlement was continued budgets and funding for specific Early-Stage Companies. Accordingly, Amendment 22 first and foremost provided as follows:

> "From and after the date of [Amendment 22], the General Partner and [Rigmora] shall discuss new budgets for the Partnership in accordance with the process set forth in this Agreement to allow it to invest in Ascidian Therapeutics, Inc., Aulos Bioscience, Inc., Nereid Bioscience, Incorporated, Nine Square Therapeutics Corporation and Replicate Bioscience, Inc. sufficient amounts to enable each of them to operate for a period of twelve months after the remaining unfunded amounts, if any, under their respective existing approved budgets are expected to have been fully utilized."[104]

197. In the face of the Rigmora LPs' apparent distancing from their funding obligations for the previous few years, and the critical cash-flow issues in those companies, this was absolutely critical for the Partnership, and from the GP's perspective it was crucial that any settlement included this provision. Certain Portfolio Companies were nearing the end of their Series A commitments and initial budgets, making these budgets a critical part of settlement discussions. Ascidian, in particular, would reach the middle of its Stargardt disease trial and run out of funding to conclude it properly with a paediatric cohort.

198. Indeed, paragraph 26 of Amendment 22 even listed projected cash-out dates for each company with a critical need for new budgets: January 2025 for Aulos, February 2025 for Replicate, April 2025 for Nereid, May 2025 for Nine Square, and first quarter 2026 for Ascidian. The plain language of paragraph 26 reflects the agreement that those five companies' 12-month funding needs would ultimately be met to hold the ring whilst the GP and the Rigmora LPs considered the best long-term approach to them.

199. Any other interpretation of Amendment 22 would produce the absurd result that five Portfolio Companies could be allowed to fail notwithstanding their value to the portfolio or their promise of clinical success.

200. I acknowledge that Amendment 22 also included a contingency following the approval of a new budget for Replicate: "If any approval of a new budget is given by [the Rigmora LPs], "such approval shall be contingent upon at least $300 million being realized (including through deemed distributions) by [the Rigmora LPs] on a sale or financing of its interest in ATP LLC," referred to as a "Royalty Financing" in the Amended SoC) (the "Realisation Condition"). I refer to paragraphs 206 to 212 below as to the impact of the Realisation Condition. In any event, the Realisation Condition was not at odds with the expectation that the companies needed new budgets relatively soon. Indeed, as noted above at paragraph 198, Amendment 22 even recorded a February 2025 cash-out date for Replicate, which implies that the parties knew and agreed that budgets would be approved and called upon in very short order.

201. In the round, Amendment 22 was plainly intended to present a roadmap forward for all of the Portfolio Companies (including the Early-Stage Companies), which included adequate funding to protect their value and/or facilitate their success. In that context, I consider it absurd that the Rigmora LPs continue to run their fantastical argument that their contingent subscriptions have been exhausted, as well as that certain Early-Stage Companies do not have any prospects (i.e. they impliedly accepted the valuable prospects of those very same companies in agreeing Amendment 22).

202. Otherwise, the key provisions of Amendment 22 included that ATP LLC was distributed to the Rigmora LPs from Pool Braeburn (which held Braeburn royalty rights valued on date of distribution at US$722 million) - thus the royalty was no longer subject to the Global Default Charge. The Rigmora LPs were also granted a right to a distribution of Pool Braeburn following 1 January 2027, subject to certain contingencies and the rights of myself and Anna Batarina ("Ms Batarina")[105] to receive certain carried interest in Pool Braeburn through a put option mechanism.

O. GP MAKES BUDGET PROPOSALS IN GOOD FAITH IN RELIANCE ON THE TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The 24 December budget proposals

203. In reliance on the terms of Amendment 22, and assuming that the Rigmora LPs would be approaching budget approvals in good faith, on 24 December 2024 I sent the Rigmora LPs (addressed to Dr Rybolovlev) an email containing budget requests for Aulos, Replicate and Nine Square (the "24 December Email").[106]

204. In the same email I also attached materials concerning budgets: (a) for a merger between Marlinspike and Nereid (the "Marlinspike/Nereid Merger"), and (b) Ascidian, which I explained "require more discussion and time to understand" due to "contingent variables" expected to "emerge" in the coming year. With this email I provided a spreadsheet showing "expected tranching by quarter for 2025," plus access to data rooms with "supporting materials for the new budgets." These measures went above and beyond past expectations for when the GP has put forward a budget proposal. The GP wanted it to be clear to the Rigmora LPs that it was committed to radical transparency following the Settlement Agreement.

205. Unfortunately, the discovery in the Delaware Proceedings has made it abundantly clear that the Rigmora LPs did not match the GP's good-faith approach to the [105] A limited partner of the Partnership, consultant to ATLS and director of several Portfolio Companies.

[106] RIGMORA00013866 [HB REF].

Settlement Agreement. On 24 December 2024, Mr Bogdanov forwarded my email to Mr Iskhakov and others, exclaiming, "Let's start. Merry Christmas!"[107] In his deposition testimony, Mr Bogdanov admitted he did not mean by this, "let's start approving budgets."[108] It is clear to me that what Mr Bogdanov meant was "let's start" implementing his strategy to impose tight controls on the budget approval process in the ultimate goal of collapsing the Partnership (a point also accepted in the Delaware Judgment, which notes that "events that followed seem to suggest that he meant 'let's start' imposing 'tight controls'.")[109]

The Replicate budget

206. Mr Bogdnaov's strategy was immediately apparent in the Rigmora LPs' approach to the budget for Replicate, although the GP, of course, did not appreciate at the time that it was part of a calculated scheme to avoid the Rigmora LPs' budget approval and funding obligations under the LPA and, accordingly, ride roughshod over the terms of Amendment 22 that they had signed mere days earlier.

207. In my 24 December Email, I had warned that Replicate would "run out of cash by the third week of January".[110] In his testimony in the Delaware Trial, Mr Bogdnov asserted that the Rigmora LPs "set Replicate budget as our priority and worked for the holidays."[111] But this "work" consisted of generating what Mr Bogdanov described as "the list of the full-out diligence questions."[112] The outcome of this was an email on 5 January 2025 from Mr Bogdanov to me with a list of 19 due diligence questions in respect of Replicate.[113]

[107] RIGMORA00069663 [HB REF].
[108] Transcript of deposition of Mr Bogdanov 228:7-15 [HB REF].

[113] RIGMORA00003651 [HB REF] and attachment RIGMORA00003653 [HB REF].

208. I was completely taken aback by this email. A list of due diligence questions of this nature (which were open-ended and sought narrative explanations) was not only out of step with the Rigmora LPs' historic approach to due diligence, but was utterly bizarre considering that Replicate had been founded in 2020, the Partnership was the sole owner and the GP had reported to the Rigmora LPs extensively on the company over the years (including many conversation between me and Dr Rybolovlev, including extensive in person meetings between him and Replicate management). In circumstances where the Rigmora LPs well understood the company and its activities already, providing an additional relatively small amount of capital should not have required much diligence at all. As per the Delaware Judgment, "the budgeting experience for Replicate marked a departure from the parties' historically collaborative approach over the Fund's twelve-year history and, in that way, foretold events to come."[114] Chancellor McCormick therefore recognised the Replicate due diligence questions for what they were: obstructions that were just the beginning of the Rigmora LPs' strategy of cutting off funding to the Partnership.

209. The Rigmora LP's questions also related to discussions that had been ongoing for years. For example, the due diligence list contained questions about Replicate's pivot from oncology to a rabies vaccine over the course of the Partnership's investment – a shift in respect of which not only had the Rigmora LPs been party to extensive discussions, but they had approved previous budgets that enabled it.

210. The requests were patently difficult to fulfil. During his trial testimony, Mr Bogdanov acknowledged that he "didn't know" whether the diligence questions could "be answered in a reasonable amount of time."[115] I consider it to be important that this Court recognise this acknowledgment and the unprecedented nature of the diligence requests when the Rigmora LPs now use this as an example of the GP's alleged failure to provide adequate information (as alleged at paragraph 57.b. of the Petition).

[114] Delaware Judgment page 30 [HB REF].

211. The Rigmora LPs eventually approved a budget for Replicate on 11 February 2025,[116] increasing Replicate's budget by US$18 million to a total of US$72.25 million (compared to the amount requested in my 24 December Email for US$11 million).[117] This has been the only company in respect of which the Rigmora LPs approved a budget pursuant to my 24 December Email. The Replicate budget was conditioned on a pharmaceutical deal with a third-party (a LATAM deal for rabies which has subsequently closed). When Mr Blöchlinger emailed the signed budget approval on 12 February 2025,[118] he stated that approval was given pursuant to the Rigmora LPs' understanding "that the condition agreed upon in Amendment regarding all budget increases (USD 300m from Royalty Financing) remains applicable and will continue to apply to upcoming capital calls to be paid later this year", which was contrary to the understanding reached between the parties in budget discussions that the only condition to the Replicate budget was the LATAM deal.[119]

212. However, the Rigmora LPs later contributed funds notwithstanding the Realisation Condition – part of their pick-and-choose, on-and-off approach to funding, whereby, now that it suits their case in the Cayman Proceedings, they claim that the Replicate budget is subject to the Realisation Condition, whereas they had previously proceeded as though it did not apply.

The Rigmora LPs continue to delay approving budgets through March

213. The discovery in the Delaware Proceedings shows Mr Bogdanov's blatant instructions to Mr Iskhakov to generate diligence requests that would be onerous

[116] RIGMORA00007304 [HB REF].
[117] RIGMORA00013866 [HB REF].
[118] RIGMORA00007303 [HB REF].
[119] I acknowledge that the Delaware Judgment finds that the Realisation Condition applies to the Replicate budget.

and time-consuming to fulfil.[120] I consider this approach to be deliberately obstructionist and an attempt to delay the Rigmora LPs' obligation to approve new budgets.

214. With this bad faith approach going on in the background, the GP continued to take steps to meet the Rigmora LPs' demands. Additional meetings took place in Monaco in March 2025 to discuss the budget approval requests for Aulos, Ascidian and Marengo. As part of these meetings, the GP provided Mr Bogdanov and Dr Rybolovlev extensive presentation materials and data rooms.[121] The GP pulled out all the stops for these meetings, which were attended not only by me, but also the senior management teams for the companies in question. The meetings were also attended by a consultant, Bill Grossman, whom the GP engaged for the Rigmora LPs' benefit. Although Mr Grossman assessed courses of action for Aulos, eventually, at a subsequent meeting, Dr Rybolovlev deferred to my expertise before agreeing to proceed with the Aulos financing. However, this was all illusory on the Rigmora LPs' part, as the meeting ultimately did not result in approved budgets for Aulos, Ascidian, or Marengo. The situation for these companies, as with nearly all of the Portfolio Companies, is dire.

215. The Rigmora LPs' failure to fund the Marengo 30 May Capital Call (described below), plus its arbitrary refusal to consider a new budget for Marengo, has led Marengo to lay off scientists, reduce the programs that it was working on, and to not make certain commitments that could have led to an early approval of its breakthrough cancer medicine.

[120] See RIGMORA00049245 [HB REF] (where Mr Bogdanov states, on 5 January 2025, "The goal is to ask open-ended questions." Those "open-ended" questions (for Replicate) were sent the same day from Mr Bogadanov to me RIGMORA00003651 [HB REF] and RIGMORA00003653 [HB REF]). On 7 January 2025, Mr Iskhakov emailed Mr Bogdanov to inform him that "*We gathered the list of questions with Aulos. 216. Aulos is a Clinical-Stage Company that is currently trialling a drug for the treatment of deadly cancer that is showing promise in patients for whom other treatments have failed. As a result of the lack of financing from the Partnership (due to the Rigmora LPs' defaults) Aulos structured an interim financing round led by the family office of its CEO, an experienced oncology pharmaceutical and biotech executive. The Partnership did not participate. The provision of emergency funding from its CEO is not how a biotech company, much less a clinical-stage company, operates. This August 2025 financing was to ensure the continuation of the current phase 2 clinical trial. The total funding needs to conclude the trial are around US$20 million. The funding raised falls far short of what is required, and Aulos will run out of funding in January

The Reallocation Proposal

217. In light of the Rigmora LPs' stalling with regard to approving new budgets (with the exception of Replicate) and with no sign that they were progressing a deal in respect of the royalty financing that would have met the Realisation Condition, I began to realise, in April 2025, that the Rigmora LPs were unwilling to approve any additional budget requests, in complete disregard for the terms of Amendment 22.

218. With the understanding that the only capital the Partnership would receive from Rigmora would be capital called within existing approved budgets, I adopted a "needs-must" approach, to work within the Rigmora LPs' constraints and to try and ensure that some of the Portfolio Companies' vitally important clinical projects could be progressed. This was not the first time the GP had taken generous steps to accommodate the Rigmora LPs' requirements. As noted above, ever since the Rigmora LPs' liquidity issues had caused them to demand that the GP issue reduced capital calls, the GP had imposed austerity budgets of the Portfolio Companies, in an attempt to work within the Rigmora LPs' limitations.

219. On 5 May 2025, pursuant to previously-approved budgets, and in order to maintain basic operations, the Partnership made capital calls for Early-Stage Companies Apertor and Initial of US$1.6 million and US$1.8 million, respectively.

220. What emerged following this was a reallocation proposal made by the GP, which consisted of moving some of the approved budget amounts from the Early-Stage Companies to clinical companies (the "Reallocation Proposal"). This was a good faith conciliatory attempt by the GP to make sacrifices to allow the Family Trust to ride out its liquidity crisis. The Delaware Judgment acknowledges that this was my attempt to "neutralize Rigmora's 'incessant refrain that it faced cash flow issues and that it either could not, or would not, meet the funding needs of the Pool V-1 and V-2 portfolio companies.'"[122]

221. Instead, this has been twisted by the Rigmora LPs, in their attempting to rely on the Reallocation Proposal as a basis for alleging that the GP did not believe in the merits of the Early-Stage Companies. This allegation has continued despite the fact that I have made it clear in correspondence for some time that is not true. In response to the 15 May Email (defined below) on 19 May 2025, I explained to Mr Bogdanov:

> "The GP's suggestion regarding reallocation was made for the benefit of the SLP, in attempt to minimize any need for near-term cash funding. The intent was to prioritize, and not eliminate, spending within the portfolio. It was made in response to the SLP's incessant refrain that it faced cash flow issues and that it either could not, or would not, meet the funding needs of the Pool V-1 and V-2 portfolio companies. It was only in that context that the GP, in a good faith effort to be helpful to the SLP, suggested a reallocation process that would shift already committed capital from certain of the Early-Stage Companies to the clinical companies to prioritize use of a limited pool of capital. The SLP suggestion that the GP does not see value in the Early-Stage Companies or disfavors further funding is entirely incorrect."[123]

222. Following initial discussions regarding the Reallocation Proposal (which I believe were on 9 May 2025), a follow-up call took place on 13 May 2025, involving the parties' attorneys (at the Rigmora LPs' request) (the "13 May Call"). During the 13 May Call, which I can only describe as an ambush,[124] the Rigmora LPs' attorneys Latham & Watkins put to me that the Reallocation Proposal was evidence that I had no faith in the Early-Stage Companies. I corrected this mischaracterisation multiple times during the Zoom call, but realised that the Rigmora LPs clearly had no intention of engaging in good faith in the proposal and intended to twist my words. I therefore withdrew the Reallocation Proposal as it was apparent that it would not bear fruit, although it was not until the 15 May Email that this became fully clear.

The 15 May Email

223. A few days after the 13 May Call, on 15 May 2025, I received an email from Mr Bogdanov (the "15 May Email")[125] that laid bare the fact that all of the GP's efforts to drive forward a positive working relationship with the Rigmora LPs since the Settlement Agreement had been an entirely one-sided effort, that had always been doomed to fail when faced with a counterparty who was plainly never going to approach its budget-approval obligations in good faith. As the Delaware Judgment plainly puts it, "Rigmora ratcheted up the parties' level of conflict further on May 15, 2025, when Bogdanov emailed ATP an alarming communication."[126]

[123] ATP_00119260 [HB REF].
[124] The Delaware Judgment even gives this section of the judgment the sub-heading, "In Response To A Hostile Reaction From Rigmora, Harrison Withdraws The Reallocation Proposal" (page 32) [HB REF].
[125] RIGMORA00015364 [HB REF].

224. The 15 May Email changed the entire basis of the parties' relationship. Until that point, the GP had been straining to accommodate the Rigmora LPs' requests and demands with regard to the funding of the Portfolio Companies, in the hope that the parties could agree a way forward that would ensure the Partnership's ability to grow and thrive. After the 13 May Call the Reallocation Proposal might have been reinstated, but the 15 May Email closed that door.

225. The email, addressed to me, noted (in material part) that:

> "This email puts you on notice that the SLP are of the strong opinion that it is in the best interests of ATP Fund NOT to allocate any further funding for the following portfolio companies of the ATP Fund ("Early-Stage Companies"):
>
> - Deep Apple Therapeutics
> - Red Queen Therapeutics
> - Aethon Therapeutics
> - Apertor Pharmaceuticals
> - Evercrisp Biosciences
> - Marlinspike Therapeutics
> The SLP see no way for a path to commercial success for these Early-Stage Companies, inter alia, because: they have failed to meet the milestones set out in the investment memoranda on which SLP's initial funding was premised, the remaining budgets are not sufficient to achieve them, there is no third party interest to invest in these Early-Stage Companies, and any further capital calls would not be in accordance with the milestones and business plans set out in the agreed budgets for the Early-Stage Companies (and the SLP have not consented to these budgets being changed). The SLP's position is therefore that further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets. We understand that you hold a similar view, as you recently proposed that the amounts budgeted for the Early-Stage Companies be reallocated to different investments (which you would not have done if you genuinely believed that continued investment in the Early-Stage Companies was a good idea).

If you disagree with the above and consider that the SLP are obligated to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies then please respond with a detailed explanation of your position. The SLP, of course, intend to comply with the requirements of the LPA and will be cooperative if you can demonstrate that the LPA allows you to call further capital in regards to the Early-Stage Companies. If you agree with our position, then please provide us with any proposals you may have for salvaging value from the Early-Stage Companies to the extent possible.

Separately from the Early-Stage Companies, and in line with Amendment 22, the SLP will consider new budgets that you wish to propose for clinical stage businesses that are commercially viable and have a greater likelihood of providing meaningful returns to the ATP Fund and its investors. The SLP see this proposal as directionally aligned with yours of May 12, 2025, but any new budgets must be based upon objective information — e.g. new milestones, expected return on invested capital, business theses etc. — that you must provide (please resend if you believe you already provided the information). Your prompt provision of that information will facilitate the discussion of new budgets and milestones upon which it might be possible for agreement to be reached.

The SLP are available to initiate these discussions immediately upon your agreement to wind down or liquidate the Early-Stage Companies. We remind you, however, that the SLP do not presently have any outstanding capital commitments to ATP Fund and therefore has full discretion on whether to agree to fund any new investment proposals you come up with.

All rights remain reserved."

226. Mr Bogdanov declared that the Partnership should cease further funding of seven Early-Stage Companies,[127] which all had approved yet unspent budgets. The claim that those companies had "no way for a path to commercial success and there was "no third party interest" is belied by the fact that several of these companies have entered into successful deals or term sheets; for example, Deep Apple's collaboration with Novo Nordisk and a recent term sheet for partnership between Nine Square[128] and a major biopharmaceutical company. These are objective signals of value and commercial potential, which clearly outweigh the unsupported opinions advanced by the Rigmora LPs.

227. The 15 May Email was alarming for a number of additional reasons:

(a) as I noted above, whether those companies had met milestones or not was irrelevant to the Rigmora LPs' ongoing obligations to fund them;

(b) it continued to paint the Reallocation Proposal as being evidence that I held a "similar view" that "further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets" (a statement Mr Bogdanov knew to be entirely false). Chancellor McCormick was also able to see through the Rigmora LPs' transparent attempt to manipulate the Reallocation Proposal, as she found that, "[i]n describing the companies as dead-ends, the May [127] That is, the Early-Stage Companies that I list at paragraph 37 above, but not including Nine Square and Nereid, which had already expended their initial Series A funding.

[128] Which was not one of the companies listed in the 15 May Email as it has already exhausted its Series A financing, but which is an Early-Stage Company.

15 Email contorted the purpose of Harrison's reallocation proposal, misstating that Harrison 'hold[s] a similar view' that 'further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets'."[129] I hope this puts to bed once and for all the Rigmora LPs' insistence on grossly contorting the Reallocation Proposal for their own ends;

(c) although the Rigmora LPs had already approved budgets for the Early-Stage Companies, the 15 May Email flipped the burden onto the GP to provide a "detailed explanation" of why the Rigmora LPs should continue to contribute further capital;

(d) the 15 May Email expressly conditioned further funding on the Clinical-Stage Companies on the GP's agreement to "wind down or liquidate the Early-Stage Companies", a completely improper demand, especially in light of the months of work the GP had undertaken to justify budget requests for those clinical companies following my 24 December Email. It was now laid bare that the Rigmora LPs would not even consider budgets unless the GP took the completely unconnected and unwarranted act of abandoning the Early-Stage Companies; and

(e) the 15 May Emails demanded "objective information" to "facilitate the discussion" of any new budgets, suggesting the Rigmora LPs had failed to digest (perhaps wilfully) five months of data that the GP had been providing to them. The Delaware Judgment recognised that this was a case of the Rigmora LPs "erecting new hoops for ATP to jump through."[130]

Q. 30 MAY CAPITAL CALLS

228. The GP had been bending over backwards to accommodate the Rigmora LPs' demands, in the hope that a more sustainable funding solution could be agreed in the long-term. However, it was clear from the 15 May Email that any indications the Rigmora LPs had given that they wanted to work with the GP were an illusion. The "reassurance" in the 15 May Email that the Rigmora LPs "of course, intend to comply with the requirements of the LPA" is nothing more than a veneer to (unsuccessfully) mask the fact that the Rigmora LPs had no intention of complying with their budget approval and funding obligations under the LPA. As the Delaware Judgment states clearly, "[t]he May 15 Email ultimatum left ATP with very few options. ATP decided to lean on its contractual rights."[131]

229. In the circumstances, on 30 May 2025, the GP proceeded to call capital for ten Portfolio Companies with remaining approved but unfunded budgets, totalling US$87.76 million,[132] plus ATLS Fees and partnership expenses (the "Expenses Capital Call")[133] (the capital calls together, the "30 May Capital Calls", and referred to by the Rigmora LPs as the "Disputed Capital Calls")). This represented the funds actually required for these Portfolio Companies to maintain their research activities for six months, not the austerity budgets the GP had been working with up until that point. In the case of the Expenses Capital Call, it represented the semi-annual ATLS Fee due and payable, plus Partnership expenses already incurred.

230. For the three Clinical Stage Companies with remaining budgets (namely Marengo, Ascidian, and Replicate), the 30 May Capital Calls accounted for close to 100% of the available remaining budget in each case.

[132] US$5 million for Aethon ATP_00003890 [HB REF], US$7.1 million for Apertor ATP_00003893 [HB REF], US$6 million for Ascidian ATP_00003870 [HB REF], US$9 million for Deep Apple ATP_00003899 [HB REF], US$7 million for Evercrisp ATP_00003893 [HB REF], US$7 million for Initial Therapeutics RIGMORA00000770 [HB REF], US$29,960,000 for Marengo ATP_00003912 [HB REF], US$6.3 million for Marlinspike ATP_00003915 [HB REF], US$6.4 million for Red Queen ATP_00003918 [HB REF] and US$4 million for Replicate ATP_00003921 [HB REF] (the GP originally issued a capital call for Replicate on 30 May in the amount of US$13 million (ATP_00003924), with the revised call of US$4 million issued on 1 June 2025).
[133] ATP_00003886 [HB REF].

231. For the Early-Stage Companies with remaining budget to call (namely Evercrisp, Aethon, Apertor, Initial, Red Queen, Marlinspike, and Deep Apple), the 30 May Capital Calls represent approximately 30% of the available remaining budget. The quantum of the Capital Calls for these companies assumed that some cost-cutting would be required, but largely respected the previously presented and approved budgets.

232. Paragraph 190.2(ii) of the Amended SoC implies there was something inappropriate about how the 30 May Capitals Calls were calculated, given that on 15 May 2025 (before the 15 May Email) I circulated a spreadsheet to William Engels ("Mr Engels"),[134] Joseph Yanchik ("Mr Yanchik")[135] and Mr Finkelman, indicating that capital calls of US$19.5 million should be made.[136] However, the US$19.5 million was the bare-minimum funding requirement to "keep the lights on" at the Portfolio Companies. This was, of course, an attempt to accommodate the Rigmora LPs' desire for austerity budgets in a good faith negotiation. Following the 15 May Email it became apparent that such good faith accommodations were pointless.

233. Regarding the larger amount actually called on 30 May 2025, a general rule in the biotech industry is that companies will need certainty as to cash flow for 12-18 months, depending on what projects they are working on. Six months would normally be the bare minimum of forward-looking funding that a biotech company would require to operate with any degree of certainty, although this would still be regarded as under-capitalisation. In his testimony during the Delaware Trial, Dr Rybolovlev agreed that six months of liquidity is an appropriate amount of on-hand cash.[137]

[137] Transcript of Day 2 of Delaware Trial 392:8-11 [HB REF].

234. In the messages between me and Ms Batarina from April 2025, which are referred to at paragraph 190.14 of the Amended SoC, I go on to say the "GP intends to keep any pre royalty financing capital calls to minimum regardless of whether from relocated or existing Budget, honoring DR's [Dmitry Rybolovlev] request to minimize calls until a royalty deal is concluded."[138] This shows that the GP has been attempting, for some time, to adapt to the Rigmora LPs' stated requirements. The proposed capital call numbers I had sent to Mr Engels (the Partnership's former Chief Financial Officer) on 15 May 2025 show the GP trying to keep the Partnership's assets on track with bare minimum funding, while accommodating the Rigmora LPs at every turn.

235. Circa US$2.3 billion has been invested into the Partnership since its inception in 2012, which (very broadly) equates to approximately US$191 million per annum. In other words, it is self-evident that capital calls in the amount of US$87.6m (for nearly all of the Portfolio Companies to cover what was intended to be a circa six month period) are entirely in line with the pattern and quantum of investment required and, indeed, US$19.5 million of capital calls (being the amount in the 15 May 2025 spreadsheet referred to at paragraph 232 above) would be in an unusually low amount.

236. If one considers the 30 May Capital Calls on a pool-by-pool basis, they are broken down as follows:

(a) US$51.8 million in capital was called to Portfolio Companies in ATP V-1 and V-2 (where the Rigmora LPs' remaining commitments are c.US$456.8m (as per the table at Annex 2 to this witness statement));

[138] ATP_00273165 [HB REF].

(b) nearly US$36 million in capital was called for Marengo and Ascidian in ATP V-3 (where the Rigmora LPs' remaining commitments are c.US$88.37m); and

(c) US$9 million in capital was called in ATLS Fees and US$9.47 million in partnership expenses shared across the pools.

237. With the exception of Replicate, for which the GP issued a revised capital call on 1 June 2025, the 30 May Capital Calls were due on 13 June 2025 under paragraph 5(a) of the LPA.[139] The Rigmora LPs have never contributed capital in response to any of the 30 May Capital Calls.

238. In light of the Rigmora LPs' failure to pay the 30 May Capital Calls, the GP issued Default Notices on 17 June 2025,[140] but an ex parte order in the Writ (described below) enjoins the GP from taking any further steps in relation to the Rigmora LPs' default.

239. In respect of the build up to the 30 May Capital Calls, I note that the Rigmora LPs have sought to mis-characterise the following statements made by former leading counsel for the Partnership in her submissions at the return date of the Writ Injunction (defined below) on 1 August 2025. In those submissions she asserted as follows:

(a) "The Family Office [i.e. the Rigmora LPs] commenced the present hostilities on 15 May 2025 by repudiating its funding commitments to the Partnership" (paragraph 18(c)(xi) of her skeleton argument); and

[140] ATP_00410125 [HB REF], ATP_00410127 [HB REF], ATP_00410129 [HB REF], ATP_00410131 [HB REF], ATP_00410133 [HB REF], ATP_00410135 [HB REF], ATP_00410137 [HB REF], ATP_00410139 [HB REF], ATP_00410141 [HB REF], ATP_00410143 [HB REF], ATP_00410145 [HB REF].

(b) in May 2025 the GP was "in good faith, still operating under the assumption that the relationship was working well", and that any breakdown in the relationship between the parties "stems from my learned friend's clients' actions in May this year when it decided unilaterally not to pay the capital calls or approve budgets" (in her oral submissions on 1 August 2025).

240. I confirm that I reviewed a draft of her written submissions for that hearing before they were filed, but I was not involved in her oral submissions. In any case, I do not believe those statements are wrong per se, although having re-reviewed them for the purposes of this witness statement, I acknowledge that they could be construed as more binary statements than at least the Partnership intended to portray.

241. As is plainly apparent from the extensive background set out in this witness statement, there have been ongoing difficulties between the GP and the Family Trust/Rigmora LPs for a number of years, almost entirely as a result of the Rigmora LPs' liquidity crisis.[141] Indeed, the consequences for the Partnership and the Portfolio Companies have been severe even before 15 May 2025, and the GP has been stretched to the limit in managing the Partnership through those turbulent times. It is also acknowledged that through those difficult times there has been litigation between the parties (such as the Braeburn Proceedings) and other contemplated (but unfiled) hostile litigation in Delaware. Whilst I always worked to reach amicable solutions, I knew what the LPA required of the Rigmora LPs and I properly took legal advice about various matters when I needed to understand the GP's options.

242. Nevertheless (and largely based upon the personal relationship that Dr Rybolovlev and I had developed over many years, buoyed by the settlement that we had come to following the Braeburn Proceedings), until 15 May 2025, and in the most part as a result of my efforts to find ways through the disagreements with the Rigmora LPs and to accommodate their requests and demands, the parties had always been able to resolve any issues that arose between them. Most pertinently, the parties reached a settlement in respect of the Braeburn Proceedings that culminated in Amendment 22 (as described at paragraphs 191 to 202 above). None of the previous difficulties that had arisen between the parties had in any way been insurmountable. With that in mind, I had always retained every optimism that either through simple negotiation, or otherwise by the Partnership exerting its contractual rights against the Rigmora LPs through litigation, compromises or Court-ordered realignments of the relationship were possible (and indeed probable). That said, hostile litigation remained a route that I knew I might have to take, and in respect of which I liaised with the GP's attorneys on many occasions prior to 15 May 2025.

[141] In the Delaware Judgment, Chancellor McCormick accepted the impact of the retrenchment of biotech markets in 2022 and the Russian invasion of Ukraine as causing a significant change in the parties' relationship: "Rigmora's investment strategy and risk appetite changed after these events, and the parties' relationship began to strain" (page 20) [HB REF].

243. However, the 15 May Email changed the complexion of the relationship completely, insofar as it no longer seemed that the Rigmora LPs were jostling for a Rigmora-friendly compromise, rather they were openly admitting they were hell-bent on a complete abrogation of their contractual obligations and total destruction of the Early-Stage Companies. That was the first inflection point at which it was clear that they were no longer a rationally-motivated counterparty and there was no purpose in refraining any longer from issuing capital calls in amounts which would properly fund the Portfolio Companies (to the extent that was possible within the approved budgets at that time). Moreover, the GP considered that the relationship could not be fixed other than by commencing the Delaware Proceedings.

244. To that end, when leading counsel indicated (in oral submissions) that the GP was "in good faith, still operating under the assumption that the relationship was working well " until 15 May 2025, that is both a significant abbreviation of a very complex series of facts, and also a somewhat colloquial expression that does not properly capture the underlying subtleties when read in isolation. However, as an abbreviation it is correct, as despite the multitude of ongoing problems, the GP had (until that point) been managing to find routes through those problems in negotiations with Dr Rybolovlev, with a view to protecting and benefitting all stakeholders in as pragmatic and equitable a way as possible. I refer here to the findings of fact made by the Delaware Court in Sections E and F of the Delaware Judgment regarding the increasing tensions that the GP had to deal with from 2022 onwards and, further, at the start of section G, where the Chancellor wrote: "Rigmora ratcheted up the parties' level of conflict further on May 15, 2025, when Bogdanov emailed ATP an alarming communication". The 15 May 2025 Email was not the start of a dispute, it was an escalation.[142]

245. In light of the above, the Partnership stands by its position in its Amended Defence to the Petition (the "Petition Defence") that paragraph 52Q of the Petition is denied in its entirety. In particular, the Partnership vehemently denies that it has ever been trying to "manufacture a situation where it can default the Petitioners for many months". It had in fact been doing the opposite – trying to find a way for the Partnership to survive. Any allegation that a potential imposition of a Global Default Charge was to be implemented to benefit me personally is vehemently denied, as explained at paragraph 332 below.

R. THE DELAWARE PROCEEDINGS

246. The GP's position is that the 15 May 2025 Email constituted an express and unequivocal breach by the Rigmora LPs of its contractual obligations under the LPA. Given how cash-starved the Portfolio Companies had become as a result of the GP's good faith accommodations to the Rigmora LPs' stated cash needs, the Partnership needed to seek urgent intervention from the Delaware Court in an attempt to save the Portfolio Companies. The Partnership needs a resolution, which is sought in the Delaware Proceedings, so that it can continue to fund the Portfolio Companies properly.

247. I provide below a brief summary of the key developments in the Delaware Proceedings:

(a) on 30 May 2025, the Delaware Proceedings were issued by the filing of a Complaint in the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Delaware Complaint").[143] The Delaware Proceedings were assigned to Chancellor McCormick;

(b) very shortly afterwards, on 2 June 2025 the Rigmora LPs issued the Writ and then, on 6 June 2025, the Petition, in response. Each of the Delaware Complaint, the Writ, and the Petition traverse similar factual issues, involve the exact same parties, and seek relief which substantially overlaps. In each case, the proceedings concern disputes between the parties relating to capital calls that the Partnership has made to its limited partners, including the Rigmora LPs. Accordingly, Chancellor McCormick in the Delaware Proceedings described the issuing of the Cayman Proceedings as "forum selection maneuvers" at the hearing of the Rigmora LPs' unsuccessful Motion to Stay the Delaware Proceedings;[144]

(c) at the same time as filing the Delaware Complaint, and in light of the emergency funding situation faced by the Partnership, the Partnership filed a Motion to Expedite the Delaware Proceedings (the "Motion to Expedite").[145] On 13 June 2025, the Delaware Court granted the Partnership's Motion to Expedite, despite the Rigmora LPs' opposition to

[143] [HB REF].
[144] Transcript of Motion to Stay hearing and ruling 52:12-14 [HB REF].
[145] [HB REF].

that motion, with Chancellor McCormick stating that the case was "clearly one that should be expedited";[146]

(d) the trial in the Delaware Proceedings was listed to be heard on 18 and 19 September 2025;

(e) on 9 June 2025, the Rigmora LPs filed in the Delaware Court a Motion to Stay the Delaware Proceedings pending resolution of Cayman Proceedings (the "Motion to Stay"),[147] as well as a Motion to Dismiss the Delaware Proceedings;[148]

(f) on 27 June 2025, the Delaware Court denied the Rigmora LPs' Motion to Stay. Despite this ruling, the Rigmora LPs have continued to exploit every single procedural advantage available to them in an attempt to move the decision on the substantive merits away from the Delaware Court and towards this Court in the Cayman Proceedings;

(g) on 17 August 2025 the Rigmora LPs issued a Motion to Compel[149] the production of a tranche of largely privileged documents (the "Compelled Documents"). I do not set out the full background to the Motion to Compel here, as it was relevant, principally, to the GP's summonses dated 2 October 2025 in respect of the privilege of the Compelled Documents in the Cayman Proceedings (the "Privilege Summonses"). On

[147] [HB REF].
[148] [HB REF]. The Motion to Dismiss is technically still pending, but the parties, of course ultimately went to trial. The Rigmora LPs were able to raise any arguments in support of the Motion to Dismiss in their Pre-Trial Brief and, accordingly, styled it as "Defendants' Pre-Trial Brief and Brief In Support of Motion to Dismiss".
[149] [HB REF].

8 September 2025, the Delaware Court ordered the Rigmora LPs to produce the Compelled Documents;

(h) on 12 September 2025, the Rigmora LPs filed a Motion to Continue Trial Dates (i.e. a motion to vacate the Delaware Trial then listed for 18 and 19 September 2025) (the "Motion to Continue").[150] On 16 September 2025, the Delaware Court granted the Motion to Continue and re-listed the Delaware Trial for 16 and 17 October 2025; and

(i) on 17 September, just one day after securing the adjournment, the Rigmora LPs filed an application for the appointment of joint provisional liquidators in the Petition (the "PL Application"). That PL Application originally attempted to rely heavily on the Compelled Documents, despite the Rigmora LPs having justified their Motion to Continue on the basis that they needed more time to review those documents.

The Status Quo Motion

248. It is clear to me that the Rigmora LPs had seen the writing on the wall with regard to the ultimate outcome of the Delaware Proceedings and were desperate to avoid the consequences (being that they would be found to be in serious breach of the LPA and have significant funding obligations to the Partnership). I consider that the Motion to Continue and the PL Application were both part of a scheme concocted by the Rigmora LPs to accelerate the Cayman Proceedings to such a degree that a decision in the Delaware Proceedings would be rendered otiose.

249. In light of the Rigmora LPs' actions, on 19 September 2025, the Partnership filed a Motion for a Status Quo Order with the Delaware Court (the "Status Quo Motion"),[151] which first came before Chancellor McCormick at a conference on the same date (the "19 September Conference"). The Status Quo Motion was intended to prevent the Rigmora LPs from taking steps in relation to the PL Application in advance of the adjourned trial date in the Delaware Proceedings, as a decision of the Delaware Court would be extremely unlikely by 31 October 2025 (when the Rigmora LPs sought the listing of the PL Application). As this Court will be aware, the PL Application was ultimately listed to be heard on 3 and 4 November 2025, following the Case Management Conference listed for 31 October 2025 (the "October CMC").

[150] [HB REF].
[151] [HB REF].

250. At the 19 September Conference, Chancellor McCormick:

(a) stated that she was "really alarmed" by the Rigmora LPs' actions and was "suspicious" of their strategy;[152]

(b) stressed that she had adjourned the Delaware Proceedings, in part, because of the Rigmora LPs' representation that they were not attempting to leapfrog the Cayman Proceedings ahead of the Delaware Proceedings; and[153]

(c) most significantly, made clear that she probably would not have granted the Motion to Continue had she known the Rigmora LPs would file the PL Application.[154]

251. In the face of Chancellor McCormick's stark criticisms, the Rigmora LPs (through their US attorneys, Debevoise & Plimpton LLP ("Debevoise"), in the course of oral submissions) undertook not to have the PL Application heard before 31 October 2025.

[152] 19 September Conference transcript 22:10 and 29:17 [HB REF].

[154] 19 September Conference transcript 23: 2-5 [HB REF].

252. The Rigmora LPs filed their brief in opposition to the Status Quo Motion on 3 October 2025.

253. The Delaware Trial went ahead on 16 and 17 October 2025. At the end of the Delaware Trial, Quinn Emanuel asked the Chancellor for a post-trial briefing schedule that would facilitate her judgment being received prior to the hearing of the PL Application. The Chancellor indicated that she was inclined to give the GP the briefing schedule it sought, although gave the parties a few days to confer to see whether agreement could be reached to relieve the pressure on the timetable but would otherwise "proceed at the breakneck pace."[155]

254. On 19 September 2025, the GP filed its Reply brief in respect of the Status Quo Motion.

255. On 20 September 2025, the Rigmora LPs filed a Motion for Leave to File Surreply (being a further opposition to the Status Quo Motion) (the "Surreply"). Through that Surreply, the Rigmora LPs stated that they would withdraw their PL Application, painting this as being an attempt to address the Delaware Court's concerns regarding the tight briefing schedule. However, the Rigmora LPs' stated concerns were a thin attempt to paper over the fact that they had, by this point, realised that their PL Application was doomed to fail.

256. The Status Quo Motion was ultimately determined at a conference on 21 October 2025 (the "21 October Conference"). Although Chancellor McCormick ultimately denied the Status Quo Motion on the basis that she did not want to "enjoin a sister court," she stated she was "extremely skeptical of Rigmora's strategy."[156] When giving her decision, it became apparent that the Chancellor was not aware of the Surreply. When she was informed of its existence, Debevoise were invited to confirm on the record that their clients would still be withdrawing their PL

[155] Transcript of Day 2 of Delaware Trial 483:10-11 [HB REF].

Application, which they did so confirm. As this Court will be aware, the PL Application was formally dismissed by consent order dated 27 October 2025.

257. In their skeleton argument for the October CMC, the Rigmora LPs complained that their decision to withdraw the PL Application was because, "[t]he GP's conduct left the Rigmora LPs facing the risk of being anti-suited by the Delaware trial judge or having the Delaware Proceedings conducted on a timescale that was so compressed as to prejudice the Delaware Court in fairly disposing of the proceedings and prevent the Rigmora LPs from having a fair opportunity to present their case" and that by the time the Chancellor made her decision at the 21 October Conference "the damage had already been done."[157] But this does not stand up to scrutiny. The Rigmora LPs could easily have taken the position that the Chancellor's denial of the Status Quo Motion had overtaken their Surreply. They did not do so because the Rigmora LPs were well aware that their PL Application was inappropriate and without merit.

258. Further, the Rigmora LPs do the Delaware Court a disservice to suggest that they were resigned to continue with the withdrawal on the basis the Chancellor would have handed down a rushed and inadequate judgment. However, Chancellor McCormick had by that point heard a full trial of the Delaware Proceedings and was perfectly able to determine whether agreeing to an aggressive briefing schedule was appropriate and necessary.

259. I also deny that, in bringing the Status Quo Motion, the GP was in breach of the jurisdiction provisions of the LPA at paragraph 18(g)(vi), which provides that each party, "waives and agrees not to assert in any such action, suit or proceeding brought in any of the above named courts, any claim that such Partner is not subject personally to the jurisdiction of such court or that such action, suit or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum or that the venue is improper." The GP made no such assertions with regard to the jurisdiction of this Court. It did not even seek to stop the PL Application being heard entirely, but only sought that the Rigmora LPs not take any further steps in the PL Application "prior to the entry of final judgment in this action."[158] That was entirely appropriate in light of the Rigmora LPs' strategy of accelerating the Cayman Proceedings ahead of a judgment in the Delaware Proceedings in a matter that would materially diminish the effectiveness of that judgment. This was recognised by Chancellor McCormick at the end of the trial of the Delaware Proceedings where she noted that she was "hearing that events in the Caymans could eclipse my ability to [render a decision] in a meaningful way, which makes me a little concerned."[159]

The changes to the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings

260. I acknowledge that the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings has evolved over time, initially in a Proposed Pre-Trial Order dated 5 September 2025 and again in the Proposed Order and Final Judgment dated 28 October 2025. However, this is not in any way a reflection of the GP realising the relief originally sought was in any way inappropriate. The purpose for the amendments to the relief was two-fold:

(a) first, to reflect the fact that, following the expiry of the period for the Rigmora LPs to pay the 30 May Capital Calls, there was now an actual breach of the LPA; and

(b) second, in recognition of Campbells' letter dated 10 September 2025[160] in which they made the unfounded allegation that the relief sought by the GP in the Delaware Proceedings amounted to a breach of the ex parte injunction granted by this Court in the Writ proceedings on 20 June 2025 (and continued following the return date on 1 August 2025) (the "Writ Injunction"). Walkers responded to that letter explaining that the relief sought was not a breach of the Writ Injunction by their letter dated 12

[158] See Proposed Emergency Status Quo Order [HB REF].
[159] Transcript of Day 2 of Delaware Trial 487:21-23. [HB REF].
[160] [HB REF].

September 2025.[161] The GP sought to modify the relief to put it beyond doubt that it would not take any action that would breach the Writ Injunction.

261. As to (a), at a pre-trial conference on 11 September 2025, Chancellor McCormick allowed the GP to amend its pleadings on the basis that the claim for actual breach of contract was a "logical extension" of the existing pleadings.[162] That should be the end of the matter. The Delaware Court made a clear ruling as to the amendment and it is not appropriate for the Rigmora LPs to now weaponize that amendment in the Cayman Proceedings in order to support a hopeless argument that the GP has acted improperly in amending the relief claimed.

262. As to (b), the GP did not "abandon" the relief originally sought because it was "extreme and unjustified."[163] Rather, as I note above, the GP modified the relief in order to put it beyond doubt that it respects the terms of the Writ Injunction and has complied with them. I find it nonsensical that the Rigmora LPs are using the GP's cautious approach to compliance with the Writ Injunction to claim that the GP is acting improperly. Nonetheless, the relief sought (either following the Proposed Pre-Trial Order or the Proposed Order and Final Judgment) is not in any way a breach of the Writ Injunction.[164]

263. It will be a matter for legal submissions as to why this is the case in respect of each head of relief sought.[165] The short point is that the Rigmora LPs fundamentally (and perhaps wilfully) misunderstand the nature and effect of the Writ Injunction. The Writ Injunction is not an anti-suit injunction and does not operate to prevent the Partnership from seeking or obtaining relief in the Delaware Court. Rather, the [162] Transcript of 11 September pre-trial conference 23:13 [HB REF].

[163] As alleged at paragraph 43D of the Petition [HB REF].
[164] The Delaware Judgment found that "[a]t trial, therefore, ATP withdrew any request contrary to the Writ Injunction" (page 79-80) [HB REF], although the GP's position is that the relief in the Proposed Pre-Trial Order was also not a breach of the Writ Injunction.
[165] The Rigmora LPs will already be familiar with the GP's position on this in respect of the Proposed Pre-Trial Order as it was set out in detail in Walkers' letter to Campbells of 12 September 2025 [HB REF].

Writ Injunction regulates the enforcement of any such relief, not the pursuit of it. The Delaware Court is entitled to determine the issues before it and to grant such relief as it considers appropriate and the Writ Injunction only restricts the GP from taking enforcement steps in the Cayman Islands that would be contrary to the order of this Court.

264. In addition, this Court has expressly recognised the distinction between the relief that might be granted in the Delaware Proceedings and the enforcement of that relief, the latter being a matter for this Court.[166] The Partnership's approach is entirely consistent with both the letter and the spirit of the Writ Injunction and the Rigmora LPs' attempt to characterise it otherwise is wrong.

S. THE GP TRIES TO KEEP THE PARTNERSHIP AFLOAT IN LIGHT OF THE STARVATION OF FUNDING CAUSED BY THE RIGMORA LPS

The funding crisis caused by the Rigmora LPs

265. The Rigmora LPs have placed the Partnership in an impossible position. They have refused to provide any funding to the Partnership, despite that they are contractually obligated to provide such funding, and despite their full awareness of pressing funding needs in relation to both the Partnership's Portfolio Companies and in respect of the Partnership's expenses. Despite these funding needs, which were and are well known to the Rigmora LPs, they have continued to refuse to meet capital calls in accordance with their obligations under the LPA.

266. The Rigmora LPs have repeatedly asserted that the Partnership's funding needs are not pressing, and seem to consider that the Partnership can somehow continue to maintain its investments in the Portfolio Companies despite the funding being cut off. This is simply, and obviously, incorrect. The GP has, on numerous occasions, explained to the Rigmora LPs (including in evidence filed in the Cayman Proceedings)[167] the extent of the damage that is being caused by the lack of funding.

[166] See the ex tempore Judgment of the Honourable Justice Asif on 1 August 2025 (finalised on 18 August 2025) where his Lordship commented (at [17]) that, "I agree with the Plaintiffs that it is for the Cayman court to retain control over the duration and terms of the injunction, and whether and when it is discharged or varied in light of whatever decision is made in Delaware" (emphasis added). [HB REF].

267. The emergency situation and the damage to the Portfolio Companies can be easily understood through the number of employee lay-offs that have unfortunately been necessary due to the lack of funding. In my Second Affidavit dated 11 July 2025 which was filed in the Writ, I explained that 69 employees had been or were in the process of being dismissed across the Early-Stage Companies. I am told by Mr Yanchik that 92 full time employees were terminated across all Portfolio Companies as of 31 July 2025 (a figure which is largely the same given that there were almost no employees remaining at the Portfolio Companies after this).[168] However, Mr Yanchik tells me there were two further resignations of which he is aware, including that of the Chief Business Officer of Replicate, who indicated that the uncertainty around the Partnership's ability to continue funding the company made her position untenable as the primary wage earner for her family. When the primary investor in the Partnership is withholding funding, it causes widespread damage across the portfolio, thereby damaging the Partnership assets.

268. The lack of funding has caused severe disruption to years of research and pre-clinical drug development. This is despite the recent payments made to some of these companies from the Q3 2025 Receipts (discussed below). The money received from the Q3 2025 Receipts allows these companies to continue to operate, but only in preservation/starvation mode.

[167] For example, in my Third Affidavit filed in the Writ at paragraphs 108-122 [HB REF]. It is also apparent from the email discussions on interim funding between myself and Mr Bogdanov (for example, my email of 20 June 2025 (exhibited to Blöchlinger 1 at p. 297) [HB REF].

[168] Mr Yanchik tells me there was one further termination at Aethon in August 2025 due to budget constraints.

269. The skeletal workforces remaining at these companies are simply the bare minimum required to ensure that the companies' intellectual property is maintained, and that they do not collapse immediately. This, by itself, is extremely damaging. The nature of the types of research being carried out means that a skeletal workforce cannot progress it in any meaningful way. This means that other companies doing similar and possibly competitive research are stealing a march on the relevant Portfolio Companies day-by-day. The longer the Rigmora LPs evade their funding obligations, the more value they destroy. Further, abruptly discontinuing or withholding funding for preclinical companies can trigger distressed sales of the key assets for "a fraction of their actual value", as happened with Intergalactic Therapeutics, Inc., one of the Partnership's former portfolio companies.[169]

270. The companies are currently in a form of “stasis” such that I consider that their research could ramp up again upon receipt of funding, a point that Joseph Yanchik (one of the Partnership's venture partners and member of the board of a number of Portfolio Companies)[170] agreed with during witness testimony during the Delaware Trial.[171] However, as Mr Yanchik testified, “that opportunity will exist” only for “a finite period of time.”[172] The Portfolio Companies can only remain in "stasis" for so long before they are at risk of losing key employees and competitive advantage if funding is not received soon. Even worse, they might be forced into bankruptcy by their creditors. Mr Yanchik, who has been the primary representative for the companies in communications with the creditors, testified at trial that he does not “believe [the creditors] will hold off for much longer … and then [the Partnership is] likely to lose the assets” entirely.[173]

[169] Dr Robbins' Expert Report at paragraph 162 [HB REF].
[170] Namely, Braeburn, Marengo, Marlinspike and Replicate.
[171] Testimony of Mr Yanchik in Delaware Trial Day 1 at 163:17–20 [HB REF].
[172] Ibid 164:21–24 [HB REF].
[173] Ibid 165:17–21 [HB REF].

271. Despite the dire situation most of the Portfolio Companies find themselves in (with the exception of Braeburn and possibly Galvanize), even this precarious state of survival has only been achieved by the GP taking necessary measures to secure alternative funding sources for the Portfolio Companies in light of the Rigmora LPs' defaults.

The Q3 2025 Receipts

272. In 2023, the Partnership received the following payments:

(a) US$41,736,871.30 on 1 August 2025 from an early repayment by Braeburn of certain convertible loan notes (the "Braeburn Notes") (the "Braeburn Prepayment");

(b) US$20,025,952.54 on 31 July 2025 in respect of an exit from Tendyne, an older investment of the Partnership (the "Tendyne Earnout"); and

(c) US$13,528.63 on 8 August 2025 from Tendyne as a return of funds that had been held in a litigation escrow account,

(together, the "Q3 2025 Receipts").[174]

273. The Petition suggests that the GP has acted improperly in seeking to obtain alternative means of funding the Partnership's essential expenditure through the Q3 2025 Receipts and the Braeburn Prepayment. The GP explained those transactions to the Rigmora LPs in detail in a letter from Walkers to Campbells on 8 September 2025 (the "8 September Letter").[175]

274. It was plain from that letter that the transactions represented entirely proper use of Partnership resources pursuant to the LPA to source alternative funding in order to protect the value of the Partnership's assets, against the Rigmora LPs' apparent attempts to destroy that value through lack of funding.

[174] For ease, I adopt the terms "Braeburn Prepayment" and "Q3 2025 Receipts" used in the Petition.
[175] [HB REF].

275. Any transactions that the Partnership or any Portfolio Company has carried out have been fully and properly authorised according to the relevant constitutional documents.

276. Indeed, in the light of the Rigmora LPs' refusal to comply with their contractual obligations under the LPA, the GP's seeking of alternative means of funding is squarely in line with its duties to act in the best interests of the Partnership. In fact, the alternative of simply standing by and letting the Portfolio Companies die off (including by allowing them to fail to meet liabilities and expose themselves to lawsuits from creditors) would have been a breach of these duties.

277. The Rigmora LPs complain about the manner in which the GP has applied part of the Q3 2025 Receipts (the "Q3 2025 Payments"). However, the Q3 2025 Payments represented entirely proper use of Partnership resources pursuant to the LPA to protect the Partnership in light of the funding crisis caused by the Rigmora LPs' actions.

278. At paragraph 52L of the Petition, the Rigmora LPs allege that, "[t]he Petitioners only became aware of [the Q3 2025 Receipts'] existence in September 2025 in correspondence prompted by answers given during the deposition of the GP's witnesses in the Delaware Proceedings." The correspondence referred to is the 8 September Letter.

279. It is simply not correct that the 8 September Letter was the first the Rigmora LPs knew about the Q3 2025 Receipts. Firstly, in their evidence in support of their PL Application ("Blöchlinger 1"), the Rigmora LPs acknowledged that they had been informed previously that the Braeburn Prepayment might be occurring.[176] In fact, the Rigmora LPs were even sent drafts of the transaction documents. As Mr Yanchik stated in his deposition, the Rigmora LPs "had been receiving all the iterations of the documents."[177] Further, on 28 July 2025, Mr Blöchlinger and Mr Bogdanov were both copied to an email from Sarah Gohary of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, attaching the latest draft Loan and Security Agreement, making it clear from the content of her email that the agreement now included the option for Braeburn to make a prepayment of the convertible notes up to US$42 million and that the prepayment would occur "substantially concurrently with the Second Amendment [i.e. the Loan and Security Agreement] Effective Date."[178]

280. The Rigmora LPs raised no objections or concerns upon receiving this email about the Braeburn Prepayment, or the use of the proceeds. It is not credible for the Rigmora LPs to suggest that the Braeburn Prepayment came as a surprise, and that this is somehow supports their argument for there being a loss of trust and confidence in the GP.

281. In the 8 September Letter, the GP voluntarily disclosed the details of the Tendyne Earnout, as this was not one of the Rigmora LPs' particular queries. The Tendyne Earnout had also been referred to in previous quarterly reports as having been scheduled for payout.[179] This demonstrates that the GP is not attempting to hide information from the Rigmora LPs. It has adopted an open approach to the Rigmora LPs' questions, consistent with the fact that it has always acted honestly and properly, in the best interests of the Partnership.

282. The GP's decision to offer Braeburn the opportunity of a 10% discount on the Braeburn Notes in exchange for early repayment was entirely proper and in the best interests of the Partnership:

---

[177] Transcript of the second deposition of Joseph Yanchik dated 3 September 2025 at 238:17-21 [HB REF].
[178] ATPC_00002667 [HB REF].
[179] See for example, the Q1 2025 Report at page 7 (ATP_00004687) [HB REF].

(a) the Partnership had no choice but to forgo a portion of the capital and interest on the Braeburn Notes, as the alternative was the collapse of the Portfolio Companies. There would have been little point in keeping to the original repayment schedule if the losses to the Partnership overall eclipsed the additional capital and interest;

(b) I acknowledge that paragraph 21(f) of the LPA[180] requires the GP to use "commercially reasonable efforts" to cause Braeburn to repay its loan to Hercules (Braeburn's senior lender). The GP considered at that time that requiring Braeburn to repay Hercules ahead of the Partnership, in circumstances in which that would lead to a collapse of the Portfolio Companies, would have required the Partnership to act in an entirely commercially unreasonable manner. To that end, to the extent that the Rigmora LPs' claim that the GP has breached paragraph 22(f) of the LPA, this is entirely denied;

(c) I understand that Braeburn opted to repay the Partnership and not Hercules as the Braeburn Board considered that the 10% discount the Partnership was offering in return for early repayment made the Braeburn Repayment an attractive offer. Repaying the Hercules Loan early would have incurred significant exit fees[181] that did not make repayment feasible. On the other hand, the Braeburn board was happy to get the Braeburn Notes off their books for a discount. Mr Yanchik and I (both members of the Braeburn board) quite properly recused ourselves from the vote in respect of the Braeburn Prepayment. At paragraph 44 of the Petition Defence, it sets out the impressive professional background of the independent directors of Braeburn (i.e. those unconnected to the Partnership or GP). There is [180] Inserted by Amendment 22 ATP_00202487 (internal pages 2-3) [HB REF].

[181] Which were even higher than when the Hercules Loan was first entered into, as the Hercules Loan had to be amended as a result of the parties entering into Amendment 22, one consequence of which was that the loan term was extended (along with the time frames in which early repayment charges would reduce).

absolutely no basis on which the Rigmora LPs can insinuate that the Braeburn Board would act in a manner inconsistent with the best interests of Braeburn;

(d) the suggestion in Blöchlinger 1 that the Partnership has used the Q3 2025 Receipts as a "litigation war chest" is a gross mischaracterisation.[182] As addressed further below, a substantial portion has been used by the Partnership to provide funding to Portfolio Companies. All of these sums were reasonably spent by the Partnership in accordance with the paragraph 8(c) of the LPA (described below); and

(e) moreover, the level of the legal fees incurred by the Partnership has escalated entirely due to the Rigmora LPs' actions in bringing two sets of parallel proceedings in the Cayman Islands. The Rigmora LPs cannot simultaneously complain about Partnership funds being expended on legal fees whilst being the very cause of the hostile and reactionary proceedings in the Cayman Islands and also the escalation of those legal fees. Moreover, now that the Partnership has been vindicated by the Delaware Judgment, it is painfully clear that all of the legal fees incurred by the Partnership in the various proceedings could have been avoided if the Rigmora LPs had simply complied with their obligations and properly funded the Partnership.

The Q3 2025 Payments

283. Paragraph 8(c) of the LPA[183] provides, materially, that:

"The General Partner shall cause the Partnership to distribute in cash to the Partners, promptly from time to time, any amounts held by the Partnership which remain after the Partnership has made, or established reserves to make, tax distributions and Tracking Unit distributions which are required by Paragraphs 8(a) and (b), respectively, except to the extent that the General Partner reasonably determines that such amounts may be necessary for paying Partnership and Intermediary expenses, liabilities and other obligations (including investments in Projects consistent with the applicable budgets) and establishing reserves therefor, in each case in accordance with budgets approved by the Board or as provided for in this Agreement in the case of the Management Fee and indemnification obligations, or as otherwise determined by the General Partner with the prior written consent of the holders of a majority of the Preferred Units" (emphasis added).

[182] Paragraph 45.2 of Blöchlinger 1 [HB REF].
[183] As amended by Amendment 4 dated 1 April 2015 ATP_00129895 [HB REF].

284. The proper construction of the LPA will be a matter for legal submissions in due course. But in overview the GP's position is that its right to retain funds received by the Partnership to discharge Partnership and Portfolio Company-level expenses extends to the Q3 2025 Receipts (including the Braeburn Prepayment) and Q3 2025 Payments.

285. All of the Portfolio Companies to which funds were transferred pursuant to the Q3 2025 Payments (with the exception of Nereid and Nine Square) had approved budgets, whilst the ATLS Fee and legal fees are permitted expenses under the LPA outside of the Portfolio Company budget approval process.

286. Paragraph 52N.f. of the Petition asserts that the sum transferred to the client account of Quinn Emanuel (the Partnership's US attorneys) is not reasonable. I object to this because all of these legal fees are lamentably being incurred as a direct result of the Rigmora LPs' abrogation of their contractual obligations under the LPA. This is hostile litigation in which the Partnership is having to defend itself and the interests of all stakeholders from rogue limited partners, even if those rogue limited partners hold the overwhelming majority stake in the Partnership.

287. I repeat the point I make at paragraph 63 that the GP has a contractual obligation under the LPA to pursue limited partners for breach of the LPA for the benefit of the Partnership and the other limited partners. The GP also has fiduciary duties to those other limited partners and cannot neglect to take action against a limited partner in clear breach of its funding obligations simply because such litigation may be expensive.

288. Moreover, the Partnership's legal expenses are being dramatically increased by the conduct of the Rigmora LPs in the various proceedings, including doing everything in their power to stop (or render nugatory) the Delaware Proceedings, electing to issue parallel proceedings in the Cayman Islands when all of the real dispute between the parties is being resolved in the Delaware Proceedings, and generally conducting litigation in an unnecessarily hostile and unproductive manner, including in disregard of the Partnership's attempts to find a way to settle the dispute. As this Court will be aware, the GP filed summonses in the Cayman Proceedings, seeking to compel the Rigmora LPs to mediate (or such other relief the Cout considered appropriate). Whilst the Honourable Justice Asif found that the GP was correct in its legal argument that the Court had jurisdiction to make such order, His Lordship declined to grant the order sought due to the proximity of the trial of the Cayman Proceedings. Had the Rigmora LPs engaged with the GP's ADR attempts from the outset, when alternative dispute resolution was proposed by Walkers in September 2025, such application would have been entirely unnecessary. Indeed all of the proceedings may have become unnecessary, as the GP remains of the view that settlement has always been possible, and would be far more desirable that the various litigation.

289. As to the particulars of the Q3 2025 Payments complained of:

(a) regarding the payment transferred to Aethon and Marlinspike, where the Rigmora LPs allege the budgets are contingent on those companies meeting certain milestones,[184] I deal with the reasons why the "milestone" arguments are a fiction, above at paragraphs 91 to 104. It does not demonstrate a "serious lack of probity" for the GP to provide funding to prevent Aethon from collapse because of the Rigmora LPs' bad-faith arguments regarding "milestones";

(b) as to Nereid and Nine Square,[185] only a modest total of US$450,000 was provided to those companies, to meet severance costs and obligations that the Partnership is legally bound to pay, such as payroll and taxes, also for bare-minimum asset preservation purposes (which I consider to be expenditure falling outside of the budget process under the LPA); and

(c) as to Replicate,[186] the argument that funding was provided to Replicate without an approved budget is incorrect for the reasons set out above at paragraphs 206 to 212 where I address the Replicate budget in detail. Although I acknowledge the Delaware Court has found that the Rigmora LPs are not required to fund the 30 May Capital Call in respect of Replicate, that does not mean that the Replicate capital call creates any basis for a loss of trust and confidence. It was the GP's genuine belief that the Realisation Condition was not engaged in respect of the Replicate budget (this remains its genuine belief) and it called capital in good faith on this basis. This is because the budget itself made no mention of the Realisation Condition, rather it was put in an email of transmittal of the Replicate Budget Approval, and it was the GP's view that such email did not have the effect of contract but that the Budget Approval itself did.

290. The Rigmora LPs have made repeated complaints that the GP has not sought validation orders in respect of the Q3 2025 Payments (repeated at paragraph 52O of the Petition). I do not address this here in detail as it is a point for legal [184] Paragraphs 52N.d.i and iv of the Petition [HB REF].

[185] Paragraph 52N.d.ii of the Petition [HB REF].
[186] Paragraph 52N.d.iii of the Petition [HB REF].

submission, where the GP will set out, as appropriate, why prospective validation orders are not a requirement, and in some cases are inappropriate.

291. I entirely reject the allegation at paragraph 52O.e. that there was some impropriety in the GP not raising the Q3 2025 Receipts at the return date hearing in respect of the Writ Injunction on 1 August 2025, including that the GP failed "to correct the inaccurate and misleading evidence placed before the Court". The Tendyne Earnout was only received the day before the hearing and the Braeburn Repayment was received the day of the hearing. No expenditure had been made from the Q3 2025 Receipts as at the date of the hearing. The evidence sworn in support of the GP's opposition to the Writ Injunction was sworn before the Q3 2025 Receipts. Furthermore, the GP having to make use of paragraph 8(c) of the LPA is plainly an inadequate substitute for the Rigmora LPs' financing the Partnership properly through responding to capital calls. The GP's position in the Delaware and Cayman Proceedings is that it should be able to enforce unpaid capital calls, including the 30 May Capital Calls. This would then allow it to distribute other Partnership receipts rather than use them for expenses under paragraph 8(c) of the LPA. The Partnership's position at the 1 August hearing was therefore entirely proper.

T. THE ALLEGATIONS IN THE WRIT

292. In the context of all of the above, I set out below the Partnership's brief responses to the Rigmora LPs' allegations in the Writ proceedings.[187]

The alleged Default Strategy

293. As to the claims at paragraph 134A as to the GP having "abandoned" certain relief in the Delaware Proceedings, I refer to paragraphs 260 to 264 above.

[187] I do not address every single argument on behalf of the GP, nor every single paragraph of the Amended SoC or, likewise, below in respect of the Petition, given that some are points for legal submission and there is also a significant amount of overlap across paragraphs.

294. Paragraph 134B of the Amended SoC in the Writ proceedings asserts as follows: "[t]he issuing of the Delaware Proceedings and the Disputed Capital Calls were the culmination of a long-term and highly choreographed strategy designed to place illegitimate pressure on the Rigmora LPs to contribute further capital to the Partnership and to manufacture a situation where the GP could default the Petitioners (the "Default Strategy")."

295. This allegation is entirely ill-founded and I address each of the sub-allegations at paragraphs 134B(a) to (f) of the Amended SoC in relation to this as follows:

Paragraph 134B(a) of the Amended SoC: instructions given to Quinn Emanuel in August 2024

296. The Rigmora LPs' sole basis for the claim that the "General Partner has been planning litigation and to seek to default the Rigmora LPs for months" is a single invoice from Quinn Emanuel from September 2024 (a period during which the parties were engaged in hostile litigation in the Cayman Islands brought by the Rigmora LPs) which contains narratives referring to a draft "DE complaint".

297. The invoice says nothing about the content of this "DE complaint", including what it was about or why it was being prepared. It does not follow from it that the GP was somehow improperly trying to "default the Rigmora LPs for months".

298. The contents of the "DE complaint" are privileged and I understand from my Cayman Islands attorneys that explaining the contents of that draft complaint risks waiving privilege over them. At this stage, all I can say is that the Rigmora LPs' assertions in relation to the GP's actions or motives are plainly entirely unsubstantiated and unevidenced.

Paragraph 134B(b) of the Amended SoC: "timing and size" of the 30 May Capital Calls

299. This allegation is wholly reliant on the false premise that the Partnership was not entitled to make the 30 May Capital Calls under the LPA. As the Delaware Judgment has established, the GP was entitled to make these capital calls[188] (with the exception of Replicate) and the Rigmora LPs are obliged to pay them. This allegation thus falls away entirely.

300. Chancellor McCormick dismissed the Rigmora LPs arguments that the 30 May Capital Calls were issued in "bad faith," finding that "there is no factual basis to question ATP's good faith." Further:

> "Harrison testified that the Capital Calls were for the purpose of funding six months of operations. ATP considered numerous scenarios, evaluating how much capital to call in order to continue funding operations. Harrison ultimately based the size of the Capital Calls on the portfolio companies' research plans and the partnership's expenses. He excluded his own Management Fee from the Capital Calls, so none of the money would be directed to him. Harrison then realized that ATP overcalled capital for Replicate based on the approved budget and corrected that Capital Call on June 1. Harrison's testimony was highly credible."[189]

301. The Chancellor ultimately concluded that the Rigmora LPs' "grab-bag of other arguments [concerning bad faith] similarly fail."[190]

302. Notwithstanding that the Partnership was entitled to make the 30 May Capital Calls, both the timing and size of those capital calls were entirely proper and appropriate, and there is no evidence at all of an "improper purpose".

303. As to quantum, the amounts sought were in keeping with historical capital calls (see paragraph 235 above) and merely amounts to keeping the Portfolio

---

[188] Acknowledging that it was the GP "lean[ing] on its contractual rights" (page 35 of Delaware Judgment) [HB REF] and that the GP, "has proven by clear and convincing evidence that Rigmora must meet Capital Calls within approved portfolio company budgets and the Contingent Subscription with the exception of Replicate. Rigmora must also fund calls issued for Fund expenses falling within those parameters." (page 66) [HB REF].
[189] Delaware Judgment page 60 [HB REF].

Companies afloat for a further six months. Any allegation that they were inflated is farcical and the diametric opposite of the truth. I refer to paragraphs 228 to 238 above and 319 to 320 below. Per the Delaware Judgment, "Rigmora emphasized in briefing how the anticipated amount of capital calls evolved leading up to this lawsuit. But the evidence reflects that ATP ran scenarios and considered calling capital sufficient to fund ongoing work at the portfolio companies for periods of weeks, three months, six months, and the end of calendar year 2025-2026. None of this supports a finding that ATP acted in bad faith."[191]

304. As to timing, the Amended SoC does not particularise specifically to what the Rigmora LPs are referring to. I infer that they are referring to the fact that they were issued on the same day as the Delaware Complaint. The background to the Partnership taking those steps is elaborated on at length elsewhere in this witness statement, but in very broad terms the 15 May Email meant that the Rigmora LPs had committed an express and unequivocal breach of their contractual obligations under the LPA. Given how cash-starved the Portfolio Companies had become as a result of the GP's good faith accommodations to the Rigmora LPs' stated cash needs, including the pursuit of the Reallocation Proposal (which subsequently became impossible to pursue), the Partnership was left with no option but to take all steps in its power to save the Portfolio Companies. In this stark situation, it was evidently necessary and appropriate to both issue the 30 May Capital Calls to provide six-months of funding to the relevant companies, as well as seek orders from the Delaware Court that (amongst other things) the Rigmora LPs were obliged to meet capital calls.

305. In circumstances in which it was already known that the Rigmora LPs were dishonestly asserting they were not obliged to meet further capital calls, the Delaware Proceedings were an entirely necessary and prudent further step to take. At some point shortly after the 15 May Email but before the 30 May Capital Calls,

I had a telephone conversation with Ms Batarina, where she informed me that she had had a telephone call with Dr Rybolovlev, who had said that he considered calling capital would be "treason" (as she translated it from Russian). When I asked what that meant, she said, "they'll sue you." With such legal threats hanging over the GP's head (purely for making valid capital calls), it is little wonder that it decided to take action in the Delaware Court simultaneously with issuing the 30 May Capital Calls.

306. The Delaware Judgment firmly supports the above, as Chancellor McCormick found that, "Rigmora argues that ATP delayed capital calls to maximize its litigation position. But the evidence does not point to that conclusion. ATP recognized the portfolio companies' urgent need for funding and knew that Rigmora would immediately file suit in the Cayman Islands as soon as ATP issued capital calls."[192] The Delaware Court thus recognised that the near-simultaneous filing of the Delaware Complaint and issuing of the 30 May Capital Calls was an entirely proper exercise of the GP's rights.

307. I also note that the Rigmora LP's conspiracy theory of a Default Strategy is premised on the Delaware Court being unable to deliver justice. If the Rigmora LPs' position had merit, all they needed do was make their case to the Delaware Court so that it could find that they are not obliged to meet further capital calls. Instead, they elected to launch satellite responsive Cayman proceedings replete with false allegations, which betrays their true intention: to find any way possible to evade their contractual obligations; obligations that the Delaware Court has now found to be binding.

Paragraphs 134B(c) and (d) of the Amended SoC: propriety of the relief originally sought in the Delaware Proceedings concerning the Global Default Charge

308. As explained at paragraphs 260 to 264 of this witness statement, the Global Default Charge relief is no longer sought in the Delaware Proceedings. Nevertheless, it is strongly denied that there was ever anything improper in seeking that relief – being merely the application of contractual provisions agreed by the Rigmora LPs themselves (and indeed critical to the functioning of the Partnership).

Paragraph 134B(e) of the Amended SoC: the Reallocation Proposal and subsequent withdrawal of the same

309. I refer to paragraphs 217 to 222 as to why the GP felt pressured into offering the Reallocation Proposal (or the "April Funding Plan" as it is defined in the Amended SoC) and why, when it became apparent on the 13 May Call that the Rigmora LPs only intended to use the GP's good faith attempts to find a solution to their stated funding requirements, attorneys for the Rigmora LPs falsely twisted the GP's position to be one of a "lack of belief" in the merits of the Early-Stage Companies. This is a false narrative that the Rigmora LPs continue to perpetuate in the Cayman Proceedings. The Delaware Judgment also found that the Rigmora LPs have "contorted the purpose" of the Reallocation Proposal.[193]

310. There is absolutely no basis to "infer" (as the Rigmora LPs invite this Court to do) that "the GP made the reallocation proposal in the expectation that the Rigmora LPs would not agree to it, and use their refusal as a basis for commencing proceedings against them in Delaware." The GP had every intention of pursuing the Reallocation Proposal had the Rigmora LPs engaged with it in an honest way.

Paragraph 134B(f) of the Amended SoC: GP's approach to 26 potential investors

311. As to the allegation that the GP was engaging in discussion with potential investors (either because those investors approached the GP or the GP approached the investors), this does not evidence any form of "Default Strategy". All of these were recent discussions since May of this year, only becoming more serious since the 15 May Email. It is, therefore, plainly not part of any long term "Default Strategy" but only shows that the GP is making prudent and sensible preparations in the event that the parties either reach a settlement or there is a decision of the Delaware Court that would allow for additional investors to participate in the Partnership.

312. It would be plainly undesirable for the GP to wait until the resolution of the various proceedings without even exploring possible alternative funding, given that the Portfolio Companies are in desperate need of cash.

Alleged breach of the Interlocutory Injunction

313. Paragraph 136A of the Amended SoC asserts as follows: "In seeking the Amended Relief in the Delaware Proceedings, the GP has acted in breach of the Interlocutory Injunction."

314. I explain at paragraphs 260 to 264 above why this is wholly wrong.

The Rigmora LPs' claims that they have exhausted their contingent capital commitments

315. The claims made at paragraph 138 of the Amended SoC are a matter for legal submissions, although I point to paragraphs 114 to 135 above where I set out in significant detail the terms of Amendment 20, which the GP contends did serve to increase the Rigmora LPs' capital commitments.

Alleged missed milestones

316. Paragraphs 139 to 168 of the Amended SoC in the Writ details alleged missed milestones for Deep Apple, Red Queen, Marlinspike, and Aethon, and asserts this means the approved budgets for those companies do not crystallise.

317. I explain at paragraphs 91 to 104 above why the idea of "milestones" being incorporated into budget approvals is a pure fiction, created by the Rigmora LPs as they desperately cast around for an excuse not to meet their clear funding obligations. I consider this issue to be closed now that the Delaware Court has handed down a judgment finding that milestones were not incorporated into the budget approval process.

Replicate: Realisation Condition allegedly not met

318. Paragraphs 169 to 171 of the Amended SoC allege that the GP was not entitled to make a capital call with regard to Replicate as the so-called "Realisation Condition" had not been met. I deal with the Replicate budget at length above at paragraphs 206 to 212.

Quantum of 30 May Capital Calls

319. Paragraphs 172 to 175 of the Amended SoC claim that the 30 May Capital Calls are made on an "accelerated basis" and refer, particularly to the Reallocation Proposal/April Funding Plan. The Rigmora LPs fail to set out how the Reallocation Proposal would lead to any capital calls not in accordance with that Reallocation Proposal being "accelerated". It is therefore impossible for me to address this allegation in any detail. Suffice to say, I do not see how a Reallocation Proposal that was never agreed or formalised could ever engage the accelerated capital call provisions of the LPA.

320. In any event, I have explained above at several points (for example, paragraphs 145 to 157) how until the 15 May Email, the GP was working to accommodate the Rigmora LPs funding restrictions, which was reflected in the lower funding estimates.

Claims regarding the "Disputed Expenses Capital Call"

321. Paragraphs 176 to 181 of the Amended SoC allege that the costs and disbursements of the Delaware Proceedings brought by the GP against the Rigmora LPs are not Partnership expenses within the meaning of paragraph 5(a)(ii) of the LPA.

322. I set out above at paragraphs 56 to 72 the GP's position that the costs of the Delaware Proceedings fall squarely within the expenses that the Partnership is required to reimburse, which will be developed further in legal submissions.

323. I note that this section of the Amended SoC completely ignores the provisions of Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9.

The Disputed Expenses Capital Call and the Braeburn Settlement Agreement

324. Paragraphs 182 to 185 of the Amended SoC allege "the Disputed Expenses Capital Call has been made in breach of the terms of the Braeburn Settlement Agreement." I set out the wording of the Legal Expenses Provision at paragraph 193 above.

325. I deny that the GP has breached this provision – a point which I elaborate on further below in relation to the Petition at paragraphs 429 to 438, which I repeat here.

Alleged breaches of fiduciary duty

326. As set out above, the GP has always acted in good faith in the best interests of the Partnership. It is in the best interests of the Partnership to hold the Rigmora LPs to the contractual bargain.

327. At paragraph 188 of the Amended SoC it is asserted that "where the Rigmora LPs have contributed approximately 98% of the capital invested into the Partnership and are the principal economic owners of the Partnership, the GP is required to have specific regard to the interests of the Rigmora LPs when discharging its duty to act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership".

328. The GP has the interests of the other LPs to consider. This is not just an "investment vehicle" for the Rigmora LPs as they claim at paragraph 19 of the Amended SoC, as I made clear at the outset of this witness statement at paragraph 12. The GP should not have to capitulate and accept the Rigmora LPs' breaches because they have contributed the majority of the capital.

329. Paragraph 189 of the Amended SoC alleges that the 30 May Capital Calls were made by the GP in breach of its fiduciary duties to: (a) act in good faith in the interests of the Partnership, and / or (b) to exercise its powers for proper purposes (the "Fiduciary Duty Allegation"). As I set out above at paragraphs 300 to 301, the Delaware Judgment expressly considered and rejected arguments that the 30 May Capital Calls were made in bad faith (describing the Rigmora LPs' "grab-bag" of bad faith arguments having failed).[194] I do not consider that the Rigmora LPs should be able to advance argument of bad faith in respect of the 30 May Capital Calls in the Cayman Proceedings.

330. The sub-paragraphs of paragraph 189 (at paragraphs 189.1 to 189.4 of the Amended SoC) then set out the alleged particulars, and, although I consider these allegations to be hopeless in light of the Delaware Judgment, I address each of them in turn:

Paragraph 189.1: allegation the 30 May Capital Calls were made in the interests of myself and Les Pommes

331. Paragraph 189.1 of the Amended SoC alleges that the 30 May Capital Calls "were made by the GP principally in the interests of Dr Harrison and / or Les Pommes for the improper purposes of enabling the GP to impose a Default Charge on the Rigmora LPs which, on the GP's case, would enable it to redistribute 50% of the Rigmora LPs' economic interests in the Partnership to the remaining non-defaulting partners (principally, Mr Harrison and Les Pommes)".

332. I strenuously deny that the intention of the 30 May Capital Calls was so that Les Pommes and I can take a personal benefit from the Global Default Charge. The purpose behind imposing the Global Default Charge would be to allow the GP to restructure the Partnership in a manner that would address investors' KYC concerns as to the "Russian effect" arising from the Rigmora LPs' current level of control. The GP would be able to sell Partnership interests at extremely attractive prices that would allow for a fast closing (and therefore for the Portfolio Companies to receive the funding they badly need as quickly as possible). Neither Les Pommes nor I would not seek to benefit personally from any sale of Partnership interests; my only goal has ever been to ensure the Partnership is adequately funded.

333. The GP is well aware of its fiduciary obligations and it would have those in mind in deciding whether to impose a Global Default Charge and at what level. I stress again the points made at paragraphs 78 to 88 regarding how critical the Global Default Charge has been ever since the beginning of the Partnership. This was accepted by the Rigmora LPs, including the fact that I am also a Preferred Unit holder to whom the Rigmora LPs' interest would (in principle) be allocated were it to default and the Global Default Charge imposed.

Paragraph 189.2: allegation the 30 May Capital Calls were made to apply improper commercial pressure on the Rigmora LPs

334. Paragraph 189.2 of the Amended SoC alleges "the Disputed Capital Calls … were made for the improper purpose of placing commercial pressure on the Rigmora LPs to contribute further capital to the Partnership in the context of an ongoing dispute with the GP over the extent of their obligation to do so".

335. It is not improper commercial pressure to validly issue capital calls that fall within the terms of the LPA. The Delaware Judgment says as much: "Contractual rights can be a source of pressure. That does not mean exercising them is an act of bad faith."[195] The Delaware Judgment further speaks of "the extensive evidence demonstrating [my] sincere concerns about the financial health of the portfolio companies."[196] The GP has been vindicated in the Delaware Proceedings that the 30 May Capital Calls were validly made and the Rigmora LPs are required to meet the calls, so I do not see how this allegation can possibly stand up to scrutiny.

Paragraph 189.3: allegation the 30 May Capital Calls did not meet any genuine or immediate funding need on the part of the Portfolio Companies

336. Paragraph 189.3 of the Amended SoC alleges that the 30 May Capital Calls "were not made for the proper purposes of meeting any genuine or immediate funding need on the part of the Portfolio Companies in the amounts sought under the Disputed Capital Calls".

337. As I have explained elsewhere in this witness statement, the Rigmora LPs do not have appropriately qualified people on their staff to be able to determine what the genuine and immediate funding needs of the Portfolio Companies are.

338. To the extent that this allegation refers to the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls were higher than the austerity budgets the GP had been adopting previously in the hope that a more satisfactory longer term funding solution could be found, those austerity budgets were vastly out of line with the Portfolio Companies' true funding needs.

Paragraph 189.4: allegation the GP did not believe it was in the best interests of the Partnership to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies

339. Paragraph 189.4 of the Amended SoC alleges that "the GP did not genuinely believe that it was in the best interests of the Partnership to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies either in the amounts sought under the relevant Disputed Capital Calls, or at all".

340. I assume this is a reference to the withdrawal of the Reallocation Proposal, which I have addressed at length at paragraphs 217 to 222 above. I refer, especially, to the Delaware Judgment where Chancellor McCormick says: "In describing the companies as dead-ends, the May 15 Email contorted the purpose of Harrison's reallocation proposal, misstating that Harrison 'hold[s] a similar view' that 'further funding of those Early-Stage Companies will waste the ATP Fund's assets.'"[197]

Alleged "inferences" in respect of the Fiduciary Duty Allegation

341. Paragraph 190 of the Amended SoC then claims that the Fiduciary Duty Allegation can be inferred from various matters (the "Fiduciary Duty Inference") and, again, I address each of these inferences in turn:

Paragraph 190.1: 30 May Capital Calls were all made on the same day

342. Paragraph 190.1 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference from the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls were all made on the same day.

[197] Delaware Judgment page 33 [HB REF].

343. It is difficult to respond to this allegation in circumstances in which no basis has been proffered that multiple calls being made on the same day could be evidence of the GP acting in bad faith or for improper purposes. However, as has been addressed elsewhere in this witness statement, the 30 May Capital Calls were all issued to keep the relevant companies sustained for circa six months. They were, in fact, far below the companies' true funding needs. In circumstances in which the 15 May Email had changed the complexion of the Rigmora LPs' approach to the Partnership, it was incumbent on the GP to then issue capital calls necessary to sustain the Portfolio Companies – and the natural course of action was to do so at once.

Paragraph 190.2: size of the 30 May Capital Calls

344. Paragraph 190.2 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference based on the relative size of the 30 May Capital Calls. In particular, the Amended SoC draws inferences from the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls were in amounts greater than:

(a) the April Funding Plan provided to the Petitioners by the GP on 29 April 2025;

(b) a spreadsheet which I (on behalf of the GP) circulated to Mr Finkelman, Mr Yanchik, and Mr Engels on 15 May 2025; and

(c) the October Presentation.

345. Taking each of these inferences in turn:

(a) as explained in detail at paragraphs 217 to 222, the April Funding Plan (or the Reallocation Proposal) did not reflect anything close to the Portfolio Companies' true funding needs, and reflected the GP bending over backwards to make compromises with the Rigmora LPs to allow them to ride out their liquidity crisis. Any idea that the April Funding Plan reflected the true funding needs of the Portfolio Companies is farcical;

(b) in respect of the spreadsheet I sent on 15 May 2025, see paragraph 232 above; and

(c) in respect of the "October Presentation", that was provided to potential investors in an entirely different context to the issuing of the 30 May Capital Calls. Whilst the 30 May Capital Calls were based on the funding needs of the Portfolio Companies by reference to the amounts that the GP was permitted to call pursuant to the LPA at the time they were made, the October Presentation set out revised amounts in relation to specific Portfolio Companies (Nereid, Marlinspike, Initial, Apertor and Nine Square) in light of the reduced company costs following the considerable number of redundancies and restrictions to ongoing business operations that were required to be implemented across the Portfolio Companies as a result of the Petitioners' failure to pay the 30 May Capital Calls. The reverse engineering of appropriate budgets by the Rigmora LPs is perverse and wrong.

346. I also set out at paragraph 303 above how the Delaware Judgment considered and rejected the idea that the quantum of the 30 May Capital Calls was a show of bad faith on the part of the GP. In particular, I repeat the following paragraphs from pages 60 and 61 of the judgment:

"Harrison testified that the Capital Calls were for the purpose of funding six months of operations. ATP considered numerous scenarios, evaluating how much capital to call in order to continue funding operations. Harrison ultimately based the size of the Capital Calls on the portfolio companies' research plans and the partnership's expenses. He excluded his own Management Fee from the Capital Calls, so none of the money would be directed to him. Harrison then realized that ATP overcalled capital for Replicate based on the approved budget and corrected that Capital Call on June 1. Harrison's testimony was highly credible."

"… the evidence reflects that ATP ran scenarios and considered calling capital sufficient to fund ongoing work at the portfolio companies for periods of weeks, three months, six months, and the end of calendar year 2025-2026. None of this supports a finding that ATP acted in bad faith."[198]

Paragraph 190.3: ongoing dispute between the Rigmora LPs and GP

347. Paragraph 190.3 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference from the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were made in the context of an ongoing dispute between the Rigmora LPs and the GP over the extent of their Contingent Subscriptions into the Partnership".

348. The premise on which this inference is made is hopeless. It assumes that a GP must never issue capital calls if a limited partner wrongly (and in this case, dishonestly) asserts it is not liable to meet them. That is wrong. The GP was entitled to make capital calls in the amounts made.

Paragraph 190.4: the (false) claim that the GP requested the Rigmora LPs relinquish their "right to approve new budgets"

349. Paragraph 190.4 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were made in the context of the Rigmora LPs' refusal on or around 9 May 2025 to agree to a request by the GP that they relinquish their right to approve new budgets under the LPA".

350. The GP never sought, on or around 9 May 2025, that the Rigmora LPs "relinquish their right to approve new budgets under the LPA." At that time, the Reallocation

[198] [HB REF].

Proposal was being put forward by the GP to move budgets from Early-Stage Companies (which the Rigmora LPs wanted to kill) to Clinical-Stage Companies (which the Rigmora LPs wanted to preserve) as a route to avoiding bankruptcies within the Clinical-Stage Companies. That was a compromise offered to assist the Rigmora LPs in riding out their liquidity crisis and protect the value of the Clinical-Stage Companies, and was in no way an attempt to subvert the Rigmora LPs' right to approve new budgets.

Paragraph 190.5: the Reallocation Proposal

351. Paragraph 190.5 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference by the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were made in respect of certain Early-Stage Companies which the GP had proposed to de-fund in the April Funding Plan having raised the possibility of reallocating capital away from certain Early-Stage Companies towards other Clinical-Stage Companies as early as 31 March 2025."

352. As set out above at paragraphs 217 to 222 and 339 to 340 above, the GP has no desire to defund any of the Early-Stage Companies, and the Reallocation Proposal was offered as a compromise for the Rigmora LPs' benefit. As the Chancellor has pointed out, Rigmora seek to "contort" and "misstate" my intention behind the Reallocation Proposal.

Paragraph 190.6: alleged "breakdown" in relationship between the Rigmora LPs and GP

353. Paragraph 190.6 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were made in the context of a break-down of the relationship between the Rigmora LPs, culminating the Rigmora LPs issuing the Petition".

354. I agree that by the time 30 May Capital Calls were made, the relationship between the GP and the Rigmora LPs was extremely strained. However, I vehemently deny that this strained relationship warrants the issuing of the Petition, or that it made the 30 May Capital Calls improper, not least because all of the difficulties are a result of the Rigmora LPs' own dishonest abrogation of their contractual obligations to contribute capital.

Paragraph 190.7: 30 May Capital Calls made shortly before the filing of the Delaware Proceedings

355. Paragraph 190.7 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were made by the GP minutes before the commencement by the GP of the Delaware Proceedings seeking orders inter alia that: the Rigmora LPs must immediately contribute a further US$545m to the Partnership; the Rigmora LPs have lost their right to approve or reject budgets; and the GP is entitled to impose a Default Charge on the Rigmora LPs".

356. I refer to paragraph 305 above whereby the Rigmora LPs had indicated that they considered the making of capital calls to be "treason" (an utterly ridiculous suggestion where the capital calls would, and ultimately were, in accordance with the LPA) and the GP had every reason to consider that the Rigmora LPs would take action (mostly likely in the Cayman Islands Courts) to avoid their contractual obligations.

357. There should be nothing unusual in the GP taking pre-emptive measures to ensure that the legitimate steps it had taken make capital calls and secure funding for the Portfolio Companies, was not rendered futile by the Rigmora LPs pursuing unwarranted and vexatious litigation. I also set out at paragraph 306 above how the Delaware Judgment considers and rejects the idea that the timing of the capital calls demonstrates bad faith on the part of the GP. The fact that the Rigmora LPs did, in fact, bring the Cayman Proceedings rather than simply seek to vindicate their position in the Delaware Proceedings, demonstrates that the GP's fears were well-founded.

Paragraph 190.8: the 15 May Email

358. Paragraph 190.8 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the Rigmora LPs had informed the GP in an email dated 15 May 2025 (the "15 May Email") that they 'are of the strong opinion that it is in the best interests of [the Partnership] NOT to allocate any further funding for the [Early-Stage Companies]'".

359. I refer to paragraphs 223 to 227 above as to the Partnership's entirely different conclusions from the 15 May Email, which also demonstrates that the Delaware Court is firmly with the GP as to how that email should be interpreted (the Delaware Judgment describing it as an "alarming communication").[199]

Paragraph 190.9: The GP did not "provide an explanation of the basis on which the GP considered that they were obliged to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies"

360. Paragraph 190.9 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the Disputed Capital Calls were issued by the GP without the GP first responding to the Rigmora LPs' request, made in the 15 May Email, for the GP to provide an explanation of the basis on which the GP considered that they were obliged to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies". The Delaware Judgment recognised the request for information in the 15 May Email as "erecting new hoops for ATP to jump through."[200]

361. The Rigmora LPs had been provided with endless evidence that they were obliged to contribute capital to the Early-Stage Companies, including by every Exhibit A to a capital call made by the Partnership (which set out remaining capital commitments) – see paragraphs 125 to 127 above. I also refer to paragraphs 91 to 104 and 114 to 135 above as to how there were outstanding budgets and capital commitments, and also how the Rigmora LPs knew and internally admitted the same. It does not lie in the mouth of parties who knowingly and falsely assert that their capital commitments have been exhausted to then argue they had been insufficiently given notice or explanation that they had remaining capital commitments.

Paragraph 190.10: the April Funding Plan

362. Paragraph 190.10 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the amounts sought in the Disputed Capital Calls are far in excess of (and on an accelerated basis as compared to) the amounts that the GP represented would be required by the April Funding Plan".

363. This allegation is a blatant repetition of that made at paragraph 190.2.i. (as to which, see above at paragraphs 217 to 222 as to why the April Funding Plan/Reallocation Proposal was not representative of the Portfolio Companies true funding needs). I also address the claims regarding the 30 May Capital Calls being on an "accelerated basis" at paragraph 319 above.

Paragraph 190.11: alleged conflict of interest

364. Paragraph 190.11 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that "the GP is subject to conflicts of interest including by reason of: (a) the enormous economic benefits which Dr Harrison claims to be entitled to by imposing a Default Charge on the Rigmora LPs; and (b) Dr Harrison's position as a director of the Portfolio companies; and (c) Dr Harrison having carried interest entitlements in the investment pools containing the Early Stage Companies in circumstances where Dr Harrison has not contributed any capital to those pools".

365. As to the suggestion that I am due to receive "enormous economic benefits" from the imposing of a Global Default Charge, firstly, I refer to paragraph 332 above where I make it clear that I have no intention that Les Pommes or I should benefit personally from the Global Default Charge. Secondly, the Global Default Charge exists as a stick to ensure the Rigmora LPs comply with their obligations. The GP has not sought, nor would it seek, to impose a Default Charge unless the Rigmora LPs breached those obligations and the contractual charge is triggered. Avoiding the outcome of the Global Default Charge being imposed is entirely in the Rigmora LPs' hands – it merely requires them to comply with their contractual obligations. Of course, if it is found that the Rigmora LPs have not breached their contractual obligations in the Delaware Proceedings (and they have had every opportunity to prove as such) no Global Default Charge would be applied. The same applies to these Cayman Proceedings. Nothing underhand has happened or will happen, and the inferences drawn by the Rigmora LPs are entirely rejected.

366. As to the suggestion that I have a conflict of interest merely because I sit on all the boards of the Portfolio Companies, this ignores the fact that this is an entirely commonplace occurrence in venture capital where there is a majority investor. That the Partnership is the overwhelming majority owner of most of the companies was the express desire (and at one point a requirement) of the Rigmora LPs that the Partnership be the sole funder of the Series A rounds of funding. In biotech venture capital, the boards of companies funded and owned by a single venture capital firm tend to be predominantly populated by the partners of that firm. This is exactly the case with most but not all of the Early-Stage Portfolio Companies. Outside board members tend to be added once a company is more mature. This is the case with Marengo, Braeburn and Aulos, and was the case in other companies in respect of which the Partnership has successfully exited. Similarly, where a company is syndicated, there will also be outside board members. This has always been the case with the Partnership's Portfolio Companies (and is currently the case with Galvanize).

367. My role on the board of all the Portfolio Companies is therefore not only something that the Rigmora LPs have been aware of and acquiesced in from day 1 of the Partnership, but it was the natural consequence of their very demand that the Partnership be the sole investor in the Portfolio Companies.

368. Likewise, my carried interest in the Early-Stage Portfolio Companies is an entirely standard quid pro quo for the expertise offered in managing the Partnership's interest in those companies, and the Rigmora LPs have agreed and acquiesced to that arrangement for years.

Paragraph 190.12: Apertor

369. Paragraph 190.12 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls "included a capital call of US$7.5m in respect Apertor in circumstances where:

(i) At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison knew that that the Partnership was holding a capital contribution of US$1.6m made by the Rigmora LPs in respect of Apertor on 21 May 2025.

(ii) At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras (on behalf of the Apertor board) in emails dated 1 May 2025, 27 May 2025 and 30 May 2025 that Apertor was going to be wound up.

(iii) At the time of the capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras (on behalf of the Apertor board) in an email dated 30 May 2025 that US$850,000 was required to wind up Apertor.

(iv) Apertor has in fact received the funds that were required to complete an orderly shutdown.

(v) In the premises, when making the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Apertor, the GP knew that Apertor did not have any genuine commercial need for US$7.5m."

370. There is a simple explanation concerning the Apertor capital call and the Apertor board's request for wind down costs. The board, essentially, panicked in light of the uncertain ability of the Partnership to continue to fund the company's activities, which related entirely to breaches of the Rigmora LPs. The board were concerned about personal liabilities as to payroll and taxes and came to a (premature) conclusion that the company should wind down. The GP was able to persuade the board that their interpretation of the situation was misplaced. Accordingly, the GP proceeded to issue capital calls based on Apertor continuing to operate (in accordance with budgets previously requested by Apertor). The GP did not consider it to be a prudent decision, or in line with its fiduciary duties, to simply "throw in the towel" with regard to Apertor. On the contrary: Apertor has a breakthrough oncology project that is at the clinical go/no go decision point. See paragraph 372 below as to how Apertor was ready to resume activities.

371. What is clear from Dr Liras' emails cited at paragraphs 190.12 of the Amended SoC is that the Rigmora LPs' actions had caused a funding emergency. As Dr Liras puts it, the situation was "seriously dire".[201] This "seriously dire" situation was the direct result of the Rigmora LPs' refusing to provide funding in accordance with their contractual obligations. Moreover, that failure was, as is apparent from these emails, resulting in Apertor being unable to make payroll and contractual obligations. I consider it reprehensible and somewhat perverse for the Rigmora LPs to directly cause Apertor employees to lose their jobs and livelihoods,[202] and then utilise that fact as a basis to argue that the GP has acted poorly.

372. In Mr Yanchik's first deposition on 13 August 2025, when asked by Mr Berdon of Quinn Emanuel, "If Apertor received additional funding, would it be in a position to resume its research activities?", Mr Yanchik replied, "Today, yes."[203] The GP does not believe that the Portfolio Companies should have to consign themselves to

[201] ATP_00116884.
[202] Employees who (especially after producing a viable and exciting breakthrough oncology project ready to head to clinic) rightly expected the funding the Rigmora LPs had contracted to provide.
[203] Transcript to the first deposition of Joseph Yanchik on 13 August 2025 337: 10-13 [HB REF].

being wound down as a result of the Rigmora LPs' breach of their funding obligations. The 30 May Capital Calls reflected this position.

373. Despite Apertor's financial situation (which was caused by the Rigmora LPs' breach of their funding obligations), the GP rightly considered that Apertor's shutdown at the time when the 30 May Capital Calls were issued was not in the best interest of the Partnership. The 30 May Capital Call in respect of Apertor reflected that position and corresponded to the Apertor's genuine commercial need.

Paragraph 190.13: Deep Apple

374. Paragraph 190.13 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls "included a capital call of US$9m in respect of Deep Apple in circumstances where:

i. At the time of that capital call, Dr Harrison had been informed by Dr Liras in an email dated 20 May 2025 that: a deal for third party funding was imminent; once that funding was received, Deep Apple had no need for additional funds and Deep Apple had sufficient funding to see it through to August 2025.

ii. Deep Apple announced a concluded funding deal with a third party called Novo Nordisk on 11 June 2025 pursuant to which it was eligible to receive up to US$812 million in payments, including an upfront payment of US$32.5 million.

iii. The GP has not withdrawn the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Deep Apple.

iv. In the premises, it is to be inferred that the GP's decision to make the Disputed Capital Call in respect of Deep Apple was not based on a genuine or good faith assessment of the funding requirements of Deep Apple."

375. As to the capital call made in respect of Deep Apple, the Rigmora LPs fail to recognise the inherent uncertainties with regard to biotech financing, which means the 30 May Capital Call with respect to Deep Apple was both necessary and appropriate.

376. While there was a deal with Novo on the cards for Deep Apple as at 30 May 2025, that deal was not concluded until June 2025, with the first injection of cash from Novo not received until late July. It would have been irresponsible for the GP to wait on: (a) a deal being concluded at all, and (b) the first funds to be received in late July, when Deep Apple would have been "cash out" on 1 August 2025 and unable to make critical payments such as payroll and rent.

377. The GP is certain that the Rigmora LPs well understood this fact, in particular because it participated with them tracking progress on an early major corporate deal regarding our Portfolio Company, Ascidian. In late 2024, Ascidian had wet-ink signature pages ready for countersigning on an otherwise completed strategic alliance with Astellas Pharma, which would have injected tens of millions of dollars into the company in a single upfront payment. This deal wound up not been signed when, just one day prior to the day of signing, the deal champion, who was the Chief Scientific Officer of Astellas, was fired. It is axiomatic that no deal is done until it is executed and funds wired. The Rigmora LPs are sophisticated investors and know this.

378. In Mr Yanchik's second deposition he makes this uncertainty in funding clear:

"Q. Okay. Was there any doubt that upon signing of the agreement, Deep Apple would eventually receive the funding -- the upfront funding under that agreement?

There was doubt around the timing. As a matter of fact, that's one of the reasons why we chose to do that particular deal, since we were so tight on cash [….]

Q. What were Apple Tree's expectations as of May 30 regarding the likelihood of receives funding of Apple Tree -- Deep Apple receiving funding under this partnership agreement?

A. It -- you know, everyone's approach to that question varies based on their personal experiences.

We were always taught, and learned the hard way, that it's not done until the cash is in the bank. There are plenty of deals that get signed where the cash doesn't come into the back, something happens."[204]

379. In any case, even with the Novo funding, Deep Apple does not have all the capital it requires to meet the funding requirements of its research and development programmes. The Novo deal does not allow the Partnership to abrogate its responsibility to continue to fund Deep Apple or the Rigmora LPs to disregard their funding obligations to the Partnership.

Paragraph 190.14: capital calls made in respect of Early-Stage Companies

380. Paragraph 190.14 of the Amended SoC seeks to make the Fiduciary Duty Inference on the fact that the 30 May Capital Calls "included US$47.8m in respect of the Early-Stage companies in circumstances where:

i. On 4 April 2025, Dr Harrison sent an email to Ms Anna Batarina (an employee of ATP at that time) stating that the reallocation of capital away from the Early-Stage Companies "is the right business decision for the portfolio in ANY financing context".

[204] Transcript of second deposition of Mr Yanchik on 3 September 2025 226:15 to 228:7 [HB REF].

ii. The GP had proposed to reallocate capital away from the Early-Stage Companies in the April Funding Plan.

iii. In the premises, it is to be inferred the GP did not genuinely believe that it was in the best interests of the Partnership to continue to allocate further funding to the Early-Stage Companies either in the amounts sought under the relevant Disputed Capital Calls, or at all."

381. My message to Ms Batarina as to reallocation being the "right business decision" must be seen through the lens that the Rigmora LPs were refusing to meet their funding commitments and the GP was trying to work within those parameters. In short, the Reallocation Proposal was an attempt to temporarily navigate the Partnership through difficult negotiations with the Rigmora LPs, and the capital calls proposed at that time were significantly short of the Portfolio Companies' true funding needs if the companies were to be ultimately successful.

382. In respect of the balance of the inferences sought to be made at paragraph 190.14, these are dealt with at length elsewhere in this witness statement.

U. THE ALLEGATIONS IN THE PETITION

383. I now turn to the allegations made against the GP in Amended Petition.[205]

The Rigmora LPs' portrayal of the "background" to the alleged loss of trust and confidence

384. A significant amount of the supposed "Background to loss and confidence" starting at paragraph 27 of the Petition is repetitive of claims elsewhere in the Amended Petition, which I address elsewhere in this witness statement. However, there are a few specific points I address below.

[205] I do this by reference to the paragraphs where the particular allegation is dealt with substantively, albeit the Petition makes earlier references to the same allegations in summary form.

385. As to the allegations made in respect of the Braeburn Proceedings and the GP supposedly "improperly" refusing to comply with the request for distribution (at paragraph 30 of the Amended Petition), I refer to paragraphs 192 to 193 above. There were legitimate and insurmountable hurdles to making the Rigmora LPs' distribution request at that time. As to the implication (at paragraph 32) that I have "significant influence" over the other directors of the Braeburn board, I refer to paragraph 44 of the Petition Defence. The suggestion is absurd to me that the other members of the Braeburn board (who are all highly influential and highly respected people in their field) would be influenced by me to make a decision that was not in the best interests of Braeburn.

386. As to the idea that, following the Settlement Agreement dated 20 December 2025, the relationship between the GP and Rigmora LPs broke down so as to lead to "a complete loss of any trust and confidence of the Petitioners in the GP's operation and management of the Partnership": I have made it clear that the situation that the parties find themselves in is entirely as a result of the Rigmora LPs' behaviour. Following 20 December 2024, the GP put forward budget requests in a good faith reliance on Amendment 22, and those intentions have been trampled on by the Rigmora LPs (see paragraphs 203 to 216 above).

387. Paragraphs 35 to 39 of the Petition refer to the "catalyst" for loss of trust and confidence being the GP's attitude to Early-Stage Companies. The Rigmora LPs repeat the claim that they consider these to be "hopeless investments." I refer to paragraph 226 above as to the third party interest in the Early-Stage Companies that demonstrate just how uninformed the opinions of the Rigmora LPs are with regard to the Portfolio Companies, compared to third party market participants.

388. With regard to claims about milestones and claims of capital calls being on an "accelerated basis", I refer to paragraph 319 above.

389. As to the suggestion that it is the GP that has been refusing to "consensually resolve" the supposed issues concerning the Early-Stage Companies and budgets (paragraph 39 of the Amended Petition) I can only repeat what I have said multiple times above: it is the GP that has been bending over backwards to accommodate the Rigmora LPs' supposed concerns for years. When the GP sought consensual resolution even after the 15 May Email, even after the call with Ms Batarina about "treason" and such, the Rigmora LPs spurned these genuine and good faith advances.

390. As to the allegations at paragraphs 43A as to the so-called "Default Strategy", these are identical to those made in respect of the Amended SoC at paragraph 134B and I therefore refer to paragraphs 294 to 312 above (and there is, accordingly, no basis for making the "bad faith" claims at paragraph 43B).

391. Paragraph 43C is a repeat of paragraph 134A of the Amended Soc and I therefore repeat paragraphs 260 to 264 above.

392. I address the meritless suggestion that the relief sought in the Delaware Proceedings was "extreme and justified", and also why there, on any reading, has been no breach of the Writ Injunction, above at paragraphs 260 to 264.

393. The majority of the allegations in the Petition centre on claims of "Mismanagement / prejudicial conduct / lack of probity in the conduct of the Partnership's affairs." None of these claims has any credibility, and I address each category of claim below.

Paragraphs 44A-44D: Alleged improper issuing of the 30 May Capital Calls

394. Paragraphs 44A-44C are, essentially, repetitions of paragraphs 186 to 190.2 of the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraphs 326 to 346 above.

395. As to paragraph 44D, firstly, I would note that quite a number of these allegations featured in the original Statement of Claim. The fact that the Rigmora LPs feel the need to re-engineer the Petition now is, in my view, evidence that they are desperately casting around for a case. In particular:

(a) as to paragraph 44D.a., this repeats paragraph 190.11 of the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraphs 364 to 368 above;

(b) as to paragraph 44D.b., this repeats a combination of paragraphs 190.1 and 190.9 in the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraphs 342 to 343 and 360 to 361 above;

(c) as to paragraph 44D.c., this repeats paragraph 190.2 of the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraphs 344 to 345 above;

(d) as to paragraph 44D.d., this largely repeats paragraph 190.6 of the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraph 353 to 354 above;

(e) the claim (not elaborated on in paragraph 44D.e. of the Amended Petition) of there being "a long-term and highly choreographed Default Strategy" is repeated from paragraph 134B of the Amended SoC, and therefore I refer to paragraphs 294 to 312 of this witness statement;

(f) the timing of the 30 May Capital Calls, complained of in paragraph 44D.f. is a repeat of paragraph 190.7 of the Amended SoC and I therefore repeat paragraphs 394 to 395 here;

(g) the allegations in relation to Apertor at paragraph 44.D.g. are an exact repeat of those at paragraph 190.12 of the Amended SoC, and I therefore refer to paragraphs 369 to 373 above;

(h) the allegations in relation to Deep Apple at paragraph 44.D.h are an exact repeat of those at paragraph 190.13 of the Amended SoC, and I therefore refer to paragraphs 374 to 379 above; and

(i) the allegations in relation to the GP's views of the Early-Stage Companies at paragraph 44.D.i are an exact repeat of those at paragraph 190.14 of the Amended SoC, and I therefore refer to paragraphs 380 to 382 above.

Paragraphs 45-52: the Delaware Proceedings

396. I refer to paragraphs 246 to 264 above regarding the Delaware Complaint and why these were entirely proportionate measures taken by the GP. In short, there is not, and never has been, a "Default Strategy", as the Rigmora LPs try to portray it. Try as they might, they cannot hide from the fact that they have breached the LPA and must face those consequences. The Rigmora LPs should not be able to leverage a statutory winding up mechanism in the Cayman Islands to hide from the consequences of the Delaware Court finding that they have breached their contractual obligations.

397. Whilst Chancelor McCormick declined to make a declaration that the filing of the Delaware Complaint was made in good faith, this was only on the basis that Delaware was not the appropriate forum. She concluded that, "[t]he factual findings in this decision speak for themselves. And Cayman court is well positioned to assess their implications under Cayman law."[206] I consider it plain that the factual findings in question completely support the GP's actions in bringing the Delaware Proceedings, including, but not limited to the finding that, "[t]he May 15 Email ultimatum left ATP with very few options. ATP decided to lean on its contractual rights",[207] "there is no factual basis to question ATP's good faith"[208] and that my testimony was "highly credible."[209]

398. As to the Rigmora LPs' depiction of the "JPL Summons" (as it is defined at paragraph 49B of their Amended Petition), I refer to paragraphs 248 to 259 above as to the GP's complete position on the PL Application/JPL Summons issues, which (the GP contends) must be viewed in light of the Rigmora LPs' blatant strategy to leapfrog a substantive determination in the Cayman Islands Court ahead of the Delaware Court as it realised that the writing was on the wall in the Delaware Proceedings.

399. I also refer to the section above on the Delaware Proceedings as to why there is not the "serious lack of probity" alleged in paragraph 52 of the Amended Petition.

Paragraphs 52A-52I: the Marlinspike/Nereid merger and loan

400. The Rigmora LPs use the fact of the Marlinspike/Nereid Merger (as I defined that above), which was fully ventilated before the Rigmora LPs, as a basis for alleging that the GP "knowingly misled" them into contributing capital to the Partnership. This has no credibility.

401. I wish to make very clear that the Rigmora LPs had agreed to the Marlinspike/Nereid Merger during an in-person meeting in January 2025, and the loan and discussions surrounding the merger must be seen in that light. However, as the relationship with the Rigmora LPs deteriorated, the GP determined that the verbal approval given by the Rigmora LPs was no longer reliable and so it did not push the merger ahead. It should be noted that the loan was put in place pursuant to a Promissory Note dated 31 March 2025.[210]

402. The context of the proposed merger must be taken into account. Marlinspike has a very promising oncology asset that it is hoped will be developed. My email suggesting a "synergistic merger" was sent to the Rigmora LPs on 24 December 2024 (i.e. my 24 December Email, as defined above) at the same time as budget requests for Aulos, Replicate, and Nine Square (with a budget for Ascidian to follow). This was in the context of the recently-executed Amendment 22, following the settlement of the Braeburn Proceedings. It was accompanied by a data room with supporting materials and a memorandum on the proposed merger. It is clear that the proposed merger represented the GP's good faith attempts to put [210] The unexecuted version of this note was annexed to the board minute at ATP_00226098. The executed version is at ATPC_00006237 [HB-REF].

Amendment 22 into action almost immediately after its execution – and yet to conserve cash by applying part of an existing budget (for Marlinspike) to Nereid, rather than seeking an independent additional budget extension for Nereid, as provided for in Amendment 22.

403. This is reflected in Dr Liras' deposition testimony in the Delaware Proceedings where, in response to the question, "So was the -- part of the reason for the Nereid/Marlinspike merger because Nereid had run out of money?", Dr Liras responded:

> "A: As I said earlier, secondary consideration is the financial. Primary consideration was a synergy that made a much better company, given that -- given the overlap and additive, or synergistic benefits of applying Nereid's technology and Marlinspike's targets.
> Q. But according to this, Nereid was out of -- was cash out as of April 2025, correct?
> A. That is a fact. But as you recall, we started this conversation months ago."[211]

404. It is actually the norm that biotech companies try to cross-pollinate and merge to take advantage of synergies. In the case of Marlinspike and Nereid, the synergies are in the oncology field. There are also technology synergies too detailed to go into here. Suffice to say that complements in the respective technology platforms of the two companies made the merger make sense on multiple levels, not just the therapeutic area overlap. The complaints of the Rigmora LPs in respect of the merger are another example of where the Rigmora LPs' inexperience in the biotech space has caused them to make allegations that have no basis in the reality of the industry.

[211] Transcript of the deposition of Dr Liras on 12 August 2025 116:6-20 [HB REF].

405. I would note that had the Marlinspike/Nereid Merger gone ahead, as Nereid was close to a clinical trial, one consequence of this might have been that its projects were allocated a greater portion of funding within the merged company. In fact, Nereid had three assets that were in need of moving forward, and Marlinspike one. Furthermore, one of the Nereid assets was already at the clinical "go/no-go" decision point, a point which, once achieved, leads to greater costs. It is a common occurrence with the biotech space where there is a push to get projects to the clinical stage.

406. The Rigmora LPs agreed to the Marlinspike/Nereid Merger when the GP discussed it with them fully, and as a potential cost-saving measure, in Monaco in January 2025. To repeat the point I made above: Amendment 22 authorised the GP to submit a fresh budget for Nereid; instead, the GP offered an approach that reduced the overall new budget commitments by using some of the prior agreed budgets with which there would be synergy within the newly merged company. I also made this clear in my 24 December Email[212] where I proposed new budgets following the execution of Amendment 22. But the Rigmora LPs now distort the good faith and good will on the GP's part. It should be noted that this was already a form of reallocation of existing budgets.

407. Moreover, the loan was made properly and with the proper authority and power of Marlinspike itself.[213] The LPA does not bar a Portfolio Company loaning money to another Portfolio Company. I further note that the loan carried interest at a rate per annum equal to 4.31% simple interest.[214]

Paragraphs 52J-O: the Q3 2025 Receipts

408. I address these allegations in relation to the Q3 2025 Receipts (and Payments) at great length above at paragraphs 272 to 291.

409. As to those further complaints made in the Rigmora LPs' Reply to the Petition Defence (the "Petition Reply"), that the GP continues to seek to compel the Rigmora LPs to pay the 30 May Capital Calls,[215] capital calls are made pursuant to approved budgets that are focussed on the relevant companies achieving their research and development goals. The approved budgets are not intended to cover such costs as severance, bankruptcy legal advice and the costs of negotiating with landlords in respect of unpaid rent. It is these costs that the Q3 2025 Receipts were, largely, covering. It is the Partnership's view that this should be seen as an entirely different series of expenses to those to which the 30 May Capital Calls related. I would also note that, to the extent that the Rigmora LPs suggest that the 30 May Capital Calls should be cancelled and then "re-issued" at a lower amount, this would arguably be prevented by the Writ Injunction.

410. Furthermore, the Delaware Judgment expressly considered this point and found for the GP: "Rigmora argues that ATP cannot seek specific performance of the capital calls for Ascidian, Aethon, Evercrisp, or Fund expenses because ATP has already used other Fund proceeds intended for other purposes to invest in the companies. But rediverting funds to those companies was necessary to mitigate harm against them. The fact that ATP did so does not eliminate Rigmora's funding obligations."[216] This should prevent the Rigmora LPs from making any claim at all that the Q3 2025 Payments affects their obligation to meet the 30 May Capital Calls, let alone that it forms some sort of basis for a loss of trust and confidence.

Paragraphs 52P-R: so-called "improper denials"

411. I have addressed, at paragraphs 239 to 245 above why the Rigmora LPs have twisted the words of the GP and its Leading Counsel.

Paragraphs 52S-T: allegation the GP has failed to maintain records

412. I would like to make it clear that the Rigmora LPs have regularly received updated Lists of Partners throughout the life of the Partnership. Although it is acknowledged that these Lists of Partners did not contain details of subscription amounts in line with the strict requirements of paragraph 16(b) of the LPA, there were only two limited partners with contingent subscriptions other than the Rigmora LPs (myself and my family trust Les Pommes). As noted above at paragraphs 125 to 127, the Rigmora LPs' own contingent capital commitments were exhibited to each and every capital call after Amendment 20.

413. The Rigmora LPs never raised complaints about the adequacy of the Lists of Partners (and never requested sight of a Register of Partners pursuant to the ELP Act until it suited them to do so for these proceedings). It is not a reason for a loss of trust and confidence at all, let alone one that would justify a winding up of the Partnership.

414. As to the inference that the Register of Partners produced on 25 July 2025 is inaccurate or not legitimate, there is absolutely no basis on which the Rigmora LPs have drawn this conclusion. The GP acknowledges that it did not maintain a Register of Partners with all the requirements set out in the ELP Act until 25 July 2025 but, properly rectified its omissions upon becoming aware of them. However, the Rigmora LPs fail to set out how they have been remotely prejudiced by this technical oversight or why it necessitates the winding up of the Partnership.

415. The Rigmora LPs do not set out, clearly, the "10 different figures" they claim the GP has presented as representing their contingent subscriptions (see paragraph 52T.b. of the Amended Petition). As to why there was originally a difference between the figures asserted in respect of the Rigmora LPs' Contingent Subscriptions in the Register of Partners and those in the Amended Defence to the Writ, the explanation to this is simple: US$2.898 billion (referred to in the Amended Defence to the Writ) is the figure for all the limited partners combined (i.e. including myself and Les Pommes). The Partnership made this clarification when it filed its Re-Amended Defence to the Writ.

416. As the Rigmora LPs will be well aware, in the Petition Defence, the position is set out as follows (at paragraph 31(c)):[217]

> "The Petitioners (each and both of them) have legally binding contractual commitments under the LPA (and the Amendments thereto) to fund capital to the Partnership in the combined sum of US$2,850,681,777, being their share of the total Partnership capital commitments of US$2,902,216,122[218] as follows:
> (i) Pools V-1 and V-2: US$1 billion, pursuant to Amendment 17 and Amendment 18;
> (ii) Pool V-3: US$310,500,000, pursuant to Amendment 20;
> (iii) Pool Braeburn: US$208,255,617,[219] pursuant to Amendment 20; and
> (iv) Pool IV: US$1,383,360,505, pursuant to Amendments 17, 18, 19 and 20."

[217] Now also reflected in the Re-Amended Defence to the Writ.
[218] The difference between the US$2,902,216,122 figure and US$2.898 billion is due to rounding of figures in the different pools.
[219] I note this appears to be a minor typographical error, as the correct figure is US$208,355,617, as set out in the table at Annex 2 to this witness statement and above at paragraph 121 and the figure that results in the total of US$2,902,216,122.

Paragraphs 53-56: recharging costs to the Portfolio Companies

417. I consider that this is dealt with thoroughly in the Petition Defence at paragraphs 71-72. It is entirely commonplace in the biotech industry for employees of a general partner to carry out roles across multiple portfolio companies and for those companies to be charged a proportionate sum for the employee's time.[220] This allows those companies access to the time and skills of personnel that would not otherwise be available to them (for example, where they do not have the need or the resources to fund a full-time employee themselves). Far from being improper behaviour on the part of the GP, this "charge back" system has hugely benefitted the Partnership (and, consequently, the Rigmora LPs) by ensuring the Portfolio Companies have access to talented personnel at the right level. These costs have been historically included in budgets provided to the Rigmora LPs, and therefore the GP has always been transparent.

418. As to allegation at paragraph 55 of the Petition that the travel expenses budgeted for in the ATLS Fee are "exorbitant", this is such a vague and unsupported claim it is almost impossible to respond to it. The GP's Travel Expense and Reimbursement Policy dated September 2022 ("Expenses Policy") referred to in the Petition Defence (which the GP's Head of Operations tells me she understands would have been the version in use at the time of the ATLS 2024 and 2025 budgets) has been provided to the Rigmora LPs through discovery.[221] Expenses are required to be properly documented and approved by the appropriate Partner or Manager and air and ground travel must be conducted the "most economical"

[220] That sum being calculated in accordance with an independent transfer pricing study by Pricewaterhouse Coopers LLP that was sent to the Rigmora LPs on 8 December 2023 (as acknowledged at paragraph 54.c. of the Amended Petition [HB REF]) (the study was exhibited to the first affirmation of Yuri Bogadanov dated 6 June 2025 in the Petition at pages 472-532 [HB REF]).

manner possible".[222] The travel expenses budgeted for in the ATLS Fee are in accordance with this Expenses Policy.

419. The current ATLS budget is, as set out at paragraph 75 above, fixed at that last approved by the Rigmora LPs in 2021, in accordance with paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA.[223] In that year, the travel expenses budgeted for investment professionals was US$493,543. However, travel was still seriously impaired by the COVID pandemic at the time. The travel expenses for investment professionals set out in the ATLS 2022 budget was US$659,500 and in 2023 it was US$635,628.[224] The budget for travel expenses in 2024 and 2025, of which the Rigmora LPs now complain, is therefore very much in line with historic averages. Their complaints now are another fabrication to prop up a meritless claim that they have lost trust and confidence in the GP.

Paragraphs 57-58: alleged failure to provide information

420. With regard to a number of the sub-paragraphs of paragraphs 57-58 of the Amended Petition, these are vague and unparticularised at the present time and so I cannot respond to them. I will do so, if and when they are elaborated on in the Rigmora LPs' evidence.

421. As to the Replicate budget, I deal with this extensively above at paragraphs 206 to 212, including how the Rigmora LPs' lists of onerous questions were not only out of step with how the Partnership had operated for the previous 12 years (something expressly acknowledged in the Delaware Judgment), but also how the Rigmora LPs' discovery in the Delaware Proceedings shows that the requests for information were not made in good faith, but for the purpose of evading their obligation to consider and approve budgets. I also set out why the Realisation

[222] Ibid pages 3, 5 and 6 [HB REF].
[223] As amended by Amendment 20 (internal pages 9-10) ATP_00007816 [HB REF].
[224] These are apparent from the ATLS budgets that the Rigmora LPs exhibited to the first affirmation of Yuri Bogdanov in the Petition at pages 543-549 [HB REF].

Condition linked to the Royalty Financing is not applicable to the Replicate budget that was approved in February 2025.

422. As to the allegation that "the GP's legal expenses had been improperly charged to the Partnership in 2024", I deal with this below at paragraphs 429 to 438 below.

423. As to the allegation at 57.f., I have set out, exhaustively, why milestones are not incorporated into the budgets approved under the LPA (and how the Delaware Court has found for the GP on this issue). To the extent that this paragraphs is intended to refer to the request in the 15 May Email that, "If you disagree with the above and consider that the SLP are obligated to contribute further capital to the Early-Stage Companies then please respond with a detailed explanation of your position," this was a completely disingenuous request from the Rigmora LPs, who knew they had an obligation to contribute further capital and were merely placing obstacles in the way of the GP's ability to call capital and fund the Portfolio Companies. The Delaware Judgment refers to it as "erecting new hoops for ATP to jump through."[225] In the face of such bald behaviour, it was entirely appropriate for the GP to bring the Delaware Proceedings.

Paragraphs 59-62A: allegations of conflict of interest and/or breach of fiduciary duty

424. I refer to paragraphs 364 to 368 above, which deal with the same allegations of conflict of interest made in the Amended SoC. Again, I stress that it is entirely commonplace for the GP of an ELP to be on the board of all of the ELP's Portfolio Companies (indeed, it would be extremely unusual if this were not the case in circumstances such as these, where the Partnership is the dominant - sometimes only – investor). This was not only something the Rigmora LPs (through Dr Rybolovelev) agreed to at the inception of the Partnership, but something they sought, to ensure the Partnership had an adequate amount of control over the Portfolio Companies.

425. As to the particular allegation that the GP's refusal to appoint a "conflict director" at the Rigmora LPs' request in around July 2025 is an indication of a conflict of interest giving rise to a justified loss of trust and confidence, the GP's position was set out in Walkers' letter to Campbells of 10 July 2025[226] and my second affidavit in the Petition.[227]

426. The Delaware Proceedings have vindicated the GP's position that the Rigmora LPs are in breach of their funding obligations under the LPA and, consequently, that the Petition is merely an attempt by the Rigmora LPs to evade the consequences of this breach. As the Delaware Judgment puts it, "Rigmora sought to accomplish through the Cayman court what Bogdanov had unilaterally demanded in the May 15 Email — a liquidation":[228] that is, having failed to force the GP to liquidate the promising Early-Stage Companies, the Rigmora LPs retaliated by attempting to achieve this through the Petition, but to do so they had to concoct a raft of meritless allegations. It is through this lens that the Partnership's concerns must be viewed. The Rigmora LPs sought to impose their own nominee (through the Conflict Director) into the Partnership's management structure, effectively pre-judging the relief sought in this Petition.

427. The GP did make an offer on 14 October 2025[229] for the appointment of a "Special Manager" with various powers of oversight over the activities of the GP (without him or her being a director) (the "Special Manager Proposal"). This was an attempt at a compromise, without any admissions of wrongdoing, so that the parties could forgo the entirely unnecessary (and since abandoned) PL Application to focus on preparations for the trial of the Petition and Writ. It demonstrates that

[226] [HB REF].
[227] [HB REF].
[228] Delaware Judgment page 38 [HB REF].
[229] Walkers' letter to Campbells dated 14 October 2025 [HB REF].

the GP had nothing to hide. The GP, through that same draft consent order provided with the Special Manager Proposal, also offered an undertaking that it would give the Rigmora LPs 7 days' notice of any proposed sale or transfer by the Partnership of any: (a) shares or other securities in any of the Partnership's Portfolio Companies, or (b) assets of any Portfolio Company with a fair market value of US$250,000 or above per transaction.

428. However, on 15 October 2025, the Rigmora LPs rejected the offer without making a counterproposal.[230] Following the Rigmora LPs' abandoning their PL Application, they revisited the Special Manager Proposal by Campbells' letter to Walkers of 19 October 2025.[231] However, the modifications the Rigmora LPs proposed made it clear they were attempting to give the Special Manager wide-ranging powers that would effectively be provisional liquidators "through the back door." No agreement was therefore ever reached in respect of the appointment of a Special Manager.

Paragraphs 65-65A: allegation of charging personal legal expenses to the Partnership

429. These allegations refer to the charging of legal expenses concerning the Braeburn Proceedings in particular.

430. In the first instance, I deny that there is anything improper in any legal fees being paid from the ATLS Fee. Whilst it is true that ATLS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Partnership, as I set out above at paragraphs 57 to 61 where I set out the indemnity and legal expenses provisions of the LPA, it is crystal clear from Paragraph 11 of Amendment 9[232] that expenses to be paid from the ATLS Fee are distinct from expenses to be paid from the Partnership – that is, ATLS is not a Partnership asset for the purposes of the allocation of expenses. To say otherwise would mean that the clear delineation between ATLS expenses and Partnership expenses would be rendered completely ineffective. It is also not the case that those expenses allocated to ATLS under Paragraph 11 are the only expenses ATLS may cover from the ATLS Fee (the purpose of that paragraph is to ensure that certain listed expenses are not covered from the Partnership).

[230] Campbells' letter to Walkers dated 15 October 2025 [HB REF].
[231] [HB REF].

431. The Rigmora LPs are clutching at straws to refer to Paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA,[233] which only gives the Rigmora LPs' the right to review and approve the overall annual fee payable to ATLS, not dictate how each and every dollar of the ATLS Fee can be spent. This is clear from the fact that the provision envisages the potential for "extraordinary, non-recurring expenses" having been made from the ATLS Fee.

432. Clause 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement (set out at paragraph 194 above) provided a standalone requirement that in relation to certain expenses concerning the Braeburn Proceedings, the GP "shall pay its legal costs and disbursements…using its own money (for example, money it has received as payment of a Management Fee) and will not in any way expense or charge ATP Fund or its portfolio companies." The implication (if such an implication is being made) at paragraphs 33A of the Petition Reply that the GP could only cover the costs of the Braeburn Proceedings from the Management Fee (meaning the ATVM management fee) is plainly wrong in light of the words "for example."

433. Further, the statement at paragraph 33A.6 that "payments received by ATLS in respect of the ATLS Fee are not the GP's "own money" for the purposes of the Settlement Agreement. The ATLS Fee is paid to ATLS, which is a Partnership asset, for the purposes of covering operating expenses of the Partnership" is also wrong, given the code provided for in Amendment 9 in respect of the allocation of expenses.

[233] As amended by Amendment 20 (internal pages 9-10) ATP_00007816 [HB REF].

434. In the circumstances, there is plainly no breach of clause 5.1 of the Settlement Agreement or paragraph 20(e)(ii) of the LPA in respect of those invoices specifically listed at paragraphs 64A of the Petition that were paid for by ATLS.

435. As to those invoices referred to at paragraph 64A of the Petition as having been paid for by the Partnership, I note that on the face of the matter descriptions for those invoices, these did not relate to the Cayman/Braeburn Proceedings (the "Delaware Factual Investigation and Potential Claims" invoices referred to at paragraph 65A.a., for example).[234] I was not involved in a line-by-line analysis of the narratives of the invoices and my understanding has always been that invoices were allocated between the Partnership and ATLS, as appropriate, based on the GP's understanding of what work was covered by what invoice. In the event that there are individual time entries that were inadvertently recorded on the wrong attorney file (and I do not acknowledge that this is the case), a reconciliation exercise can take place and ATLS could reimburse the Partnership for these sums (I note that it may equally be the case following such a reconciliation that items were paid for by ATLS that should have been paid by the Partnership).

436. I note that at paragraph 82A of the Petition Defence, it states that, "The invoices listed in Paragraphs 65A.a-h were paid using the ATLS Management Fee, and therefore not in breach of the LPA. Without waiver of privilege, it is denied that the further invoices referred to in paragraphs 65A(a) to (h) related to the Braeburn Proceedings." Of course, that should read, "The invoices listed in Paragraphs 65A.a-h as being paid by ATLS were paid using the ATLS Management Fee."[235] The "further invoices" referred to are those paid by the Partnership and whilst it is my understanding, as I set out above, that none of this work related to the Braeburn [234] Compared to the Quinn Emanuel invoices in relation to the "Cayman Litigation", which paragraph 65A.b. acknowledges was paid for by ATLS.

[235] If necessary, the GP will apply to amend the Petition Defence to clarify this at the appropriate time.

Proceedings, to the extent that some individual time entries were ultimately mis-recorded, a reconciliation exercise can take place.

437. I note that the Rigmora LPs also seek to make a number of leaping assumptions, for example, that WLRK's work must be connected with the Braeburn Proceedings and the Settlement Agreement. But as that paragraph of the Amended Petition makes clear, a substantial WLRK invoice of US$400,000 was paid for by ATLS. It is pure speculation that all of WLRK's other work was connected to the Braeburn Proceedings and the Settlement Agreement.

438. Notwithstanding the outcome of the Privilege Summonses, as the Rigmora LPs will be aware, the GP is appealing this decision and contends that the contents of the unredacted invoices are privileged. In the circumstances, the GP clearly does not agree with the statement made at paragraph 33A.8 of the Petition Reply that "it is denied that the GP is entitled to claim privilege against the Petitioners in respect of the information contained in the redacted parts of the invoices referred to in paragraphs 65A(a) to (h) of the Amended Petition."

Paragraph 66: alleged loss of substratum

439. There has been no loss of "substratum". The purpose of Partnership is to invest in biotech. This has not been lost just because the Rigmora LPs have decided (in breach of LPA) they do not want to invest in that sphere anymore, because of their liquidity issues. They cannot force the winding up of the Partnership because their own contractual breach is jeopardising the very reason the Partnership was established.

Paragraphs 67: alleged need for independent investigation into the Partnership's affairs

440. Even on the Rigmora LPs' case, this ground for winding up is stated to be "for all the reasons set out in Ground 1". It therefore stands and falls with the allegations of loss of trust and confidence. For reasons set out above, there is no basis for a loss of trust and confidence and thus there is no basis for independent investigation.

Relief sought in the Petition

441. As set out at length in this witness statement, the GP has full answers to the complaints that have been manufactured by the Rigmora LPs in an attempt to escape their contractual obligations under the LPA and have the Partnership wound up. I do wish to add, however, that if this Honourable Court is not persuaded that the Partnership should not be wound up, careful thought should be given to the relief ordered on the Petition. I understand that the Court has a wide discretion as to what order to make on a winding up Petition and, whilst that will be a point for legal submissions, I do wish to make the following points about any orderly wind down of the Partnership:

442. If the Partnership is to be wound up, it should be wound up equitably.

443. The GP does desire to develop the companies in Pools V to their maturity and does have requisite experience, a team with requisite expertise who founded and built those companies, and ready access to sophisticated biotech investors willing to support such companies, both via a new fund and into syndicated rounds per company.

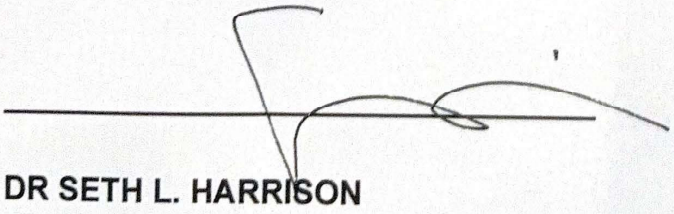
444. An equitable winding up would therefore enable:

(a) the Rigmora LPs to continue to benefit economically;

(b) relieve the Rigmora LPs of their obligations to contribute cash to the Partnership;

(c) ensure a fair result for the other limited partners; and

(d) enable all companies in the portfolio to thrive.



445. The GP has given serious thought to how this could work, and it is likely what would have been at the core of any ADR-type settlement, had the Rigmora LPs agreed to a mediation or similar. The GP can, of course, provide any details that this Court or any appointed official liquidators would find of assistance.

446. My hope is that this approach will allow this Court, whilst using its winding up jurisdiction, to recognise that the Portfolio Companies at issue are not public securities, not pieces of paper, and not "Dr Harrison's companies," but biotech start ups in the process of being built. They are the product of multiple scientists' work and invention, perhaps thousands of person-years of work all told, directed toward the advancement of medical science, the treatment of major unmet need illnesses. Ultimately, with their successes, they will provide the return of profit to founders, employees, and investors.

447. The GP would respectfully suggest that enabling the continuation of such companies, while enabling substantially all of the economic benefit to be provided to the Rigmora LPs, at no further cost to them, is the best and most equitable outcome for all stakeholders in the winding up of what was, at one time, a strong and synergistic partnership.

STATEMENT OF TRUTH

I believe that the facts stated in this witness statement are true to the best of my knowledge and belief

ANNEX 1: EVOLUTION OF THE POOL STRUCTURE

Amendment 13

448. The initial pool structure established through Amendment 13 involved just two pools: Pool A, which held the existing economics, and Pool B, which held the Partnership's new projects.[236] The Rigmora LPs were exclusively responsible for funding all capital called in respect to Pool B.[237] Amendment 13 specified that expenses would be allocated exclusively by pool insofar as they were "directly attributable" to a particular pool, while expenses that were attributable to both pools were apportioned between them based on the relative cost basis of the remaining assets in each pool (the ATLS Fee and ATVM management fee (the "Management Fee" as it is defined in the LPA) were two such expenses apportioned between the pools).[238]

449. To facilitate the distinct treatment of the pools, Amendment 13 provided that "separate and distinct records shall be maintained for each Pool, and capital contributions … shall also be accounted for separately on a Pool-by-Pool basis." The parties maintained this emphasis on segregating the treatment of pools, including a version of this "Pool-by-Pool" language in each amendment that modified the pool structure.[239]

Amendment 17: the Rigmora LPs contribute an addition US1 billion

450. Amendment 17, dated 9 September 2020, committed the Rigmora LPs to fund an additional $1 billion to be allocated between Pool B and a new Pool C (and deleted Amendment 13).[240] Thereafter, Pool A would consist of the Rigmora LP's original US$1.425 billion capital commitment and all economics of the Partnership not expressly allocated to Pools B or C, while Pools B and C would split the Rigmora LP's new US$1 billion commitment.[241]

451. Each of Pools B and C would be funded "exclusively" by the Rigmora LPs. Further, "[a]ll capital invested in the Pool C Projects … [would] be treated as contributed to Pool C." and "[a]ll capital invested in the Pool B Projects … [would] be treated as contributed to Pool B".[242]

452. Following execution of Amendment 17, the parties executed amended subscription agreements, pursuant to which Blue Horizon and Ezbon committed to contributing US$490 million and US$510 million, respectively, to Pools B and C.[243]

Amendment 18

453. The pool structure was further amended by Amendment 18, dated 5 November 2020,[244] which renamed Pools A, B and C to Company Building Pool A, B and C, respectively. Amendment 18 also created two new pools (Core Holdings Pool 1 and Core Holdings Pool 2), although no assets were ever allocated to these pools.

Amendment 19

454. By Amendment 19, dated 27 November 2020, the parties renamed Company Buildings Pools A, B, and C, as Pool ATP IV, Pool ATP V-1, and Pool ATP V-2, respectively.[245]

[241] Paragraph 4 of Amendment 17, creating a new paragraph 20(a) to the LPA ATP_00202444 (page 1-2) [HB REF]. Amendment 17 further specified that Pool B would contain Chinook Therapeutics U.S., Inc.; Nine Square Therapeutics Corporation; and Initial Therapeutics, Inc., whilst Pool C would contain Kynos Therapeutics Ltd and any new projects after the execution of Amendment 17.

ANNEX 2: SUMMARY TABLE OF CAPITAL COMMITMENTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS

Pool	Rigmora LPs' total commitments	Rigmora LPs' contributions to date	Rigmora LPs' remaining commitments
Pool IV	US$1,333,059,466 Comprised of: Total LP commitments of US1.5bn (US$1.45bn attributable to the Rigmora LPs) reduced to US$1.35m by Amendment 20, plus US$20m for estimated fees and expenses, which was subsequently increased by a further US$13m. The Rigmora LPs' share of the total US$1.383bn is c.US1.33bn.	US$1,333,059,466	$0 (save for any expenses that might be validly called pursuant to Amendment 20).
Pools V-1 and V-2	US$1bn (pursuant to Amendment 17).	US$543,168,870	US$456,831,130 (c.US$178m pursuant to approved budgets).
Pool V-3	US$309,266,694 Comprised of: Total LP commitments of US$500m created by Amendment 20, less US$189,544,660 in Deemed Contributions. US$309.3m is Rigmora LPs' share of total LP new commitments of US$310.5m.	US$218,960,314	US$88.37m (after the Rigmora LPs' share of the US$1.9m remaining budget allocated to Portfolio Company Intergalactic prior to it filing for bankruptcy is deducted) (c.US$36m pursuant to approved budgets).
Pool Braeburn	US$208,355,617 Comprised of: US$189.9m created by Amendment 20, plus US$30.6m in additional Series B shares purchased, plus c.US$9 m in expenses, less the then-remaining commitments of US$21.3m that were waived by Amendment 22 in December 2024.	US$208,355,617	$0 (save for any expenses that might be validly called pursuant to Amendment 20).

JX-242

A. INTRODUCTION

1. This is the GP and the Partnership's skeleton for the Pre-Trial Review listed at 10am on 17 December 2025.

2. As set out below, the shape and substance of this hearing will inevitably be dictated by the developments in the US proceedings between the parties, namely:

   2.1 The Post-trial Memorandum Opinion of Chancellor McCormick dated 5 December 2025 (the "Delaware Judgment" of the "Delaware Chancery Court"),[1] granting the specific performance, sought by the GP, of all but one of the 30 May Capital Calls, in the total amount of US$96,960,925.88; and

   2.2 The subsequent filing of Chapter 11 reorganisation proceedings by the GP,[2] the Partnership,[3] and Apple Tree Life Sciences, Inc. ("ATLS")[4] on 9 December 2025, and by four of the Partnership's portfolio companies on 15 December 2025[5] (together, the "US Bankruptcy Proceedings").

3. Pursuant to the provisions of the US Code, 11 U.S.C. § 362(a), the US Bankruptcy Proceedings result in a worldwide stay of all proceedings against the entities filing for bankruptcy, which includes these proceedings (the "Cayman Proceedings"). The Plaintiffs have tried to avoid this effect by applying, on 12 December 2025, to dismiss the US Bankruptcy Proceedings ("Motion to Dismiss"),[6] and to expedite the hearing of the Motion to Dismiss ("Motion to Shorten").[7]

[5] HB/19-22/448-510
[6] HB/16/359-398
[7] HB/17/399-411

4. The Motion to Shorten was denied on 15 December 2025 by Judge Laurie Selber Silverstein of the US Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the "Delaware Bankruptcy Court"), who, however, granted limited relief from the worldwide stay for the sole and specific purpose of conducting this PTR hearing. As a result, the Plaintiffs' Motion to Dismiss remains pending, and Judge Silverstein has directed the parties to agree a timetable for its determination. She made clear that she did not "anticipate that the January trial date is going to go forward given the need for me to decide what was filed, which is a motion to dismiss" and did not "see that this motion to dismiss gets resolved in enough time for the parties and the Court to know that the trial can go forward."[8]

5. On 16 December 2025, Walkers wrote to Campbells, enclosing draft consent orders,[9] proposing that, in light of Judge Silverstein's ruling, the parties agree to provide a short joint written update to this Court, invite the Court to vacate the January trial dates and notify the Court that they intend to seek to agree proposed directions as to the progress of the Cayman Proceedings (such directions to take effect from the date of the Delaware Bankruptcy Court's determination of the Motion to Dismiss in the event that the motion is successful).

6. As of the time of writing, no response has been received to Walkers' letter, although we assume, given the contents of the Plaintiffs'/Petitioners' skeleton argument for the PTR that no agreement is capable of being reached on the basis set out in Walkers' letter.

7. The remaining sections of this skeleton address the draft order proposed by the GP and the Partnership and updates the Court on the Delaware Judgment and the US Bankruptcy Proceedings.

B. PROPOSED ORDER

8. The proposed order[10] is the most appropriate way to recognise the effect of the worldwide stay imposed by the US Bankruptcy Proceedings. It vacates the trial date in the Cayman Proceedings and expressly leaves to the parties the liberty to apply for further directions if, by reason of developments in the US Bankruptcy Proceedings, the worldwide stay is lifted.

C. UPDATE TO THE COURT

The Delaware Judgment

9. Chancellor McCormick of the Delaware Chancery Court issued her decision in the Delaware Proceedings on 5 December 2025.[11]

10. In a snapshot and relevantly to the issues in the Cayman Proceedings, the Delaware Judgment decides that:

    10.1 the Plaintiffs' contributions to the Partnership have not exceeded their binding funding commitments;

    10.2 the GP has not made any capital calls in bad faith or otherwise for improper purposes;

    10.3 except for one portfolio company, there were no binding 'milestones' or other restrictions on calling of capital by the GP on which the Plaintiffs could rely to refuse to pay the capital calls; and

[10] In the form enclosed with Walkers' letter of 16 December 2025 (HB/10A/148.4-148.6 and 148.7-148.9), being identical orders in both sets of proceedings

[11] HB/12/236-318

10.4 the Plaintiffs were in breach of their obligations under the LPA by failing to pay capital calls.

11. The findings of the Delaware Judgment, which runs to 83 pages, vindicate the conduct and decision-making of the GP and Dr. Harrison and show that the Plaintiffs' actions were driven not by their so-called loss of trust in the GP's stewardship of the Partnership, but by their own liquidity issues that impacted their investment strategy.

12. The Delaware Chancery Court has ordered the Plaintiffs to pay the adjudicated amount of around US$97 million into a segregated account, where it shall remain pending further order of the Delaware Bankruptcy Court.

13. As the Delaware Judgment recognised, this sum, in so far as it related to funding portfolio companies, was cash that was called to fund only 6 months of their operations. The Plaintiffs have made it clear that they will not fund the Partnership beyond that. Thus, the Partnership and the portfolio companies have no guaranteed liquidity beyond those 6 months.

14. The GP has therefore determined that the appropriate and most responsible course was to commence Chapter 11 reorganisation bankruptcy proceedings for restructuring, as set out in the Introduction section of this skeleton. The US Bankruptcy Proceedings were commenced promptly upon the handing down of the Delaware Judgment.

The Chapter 11 Reorganisation Filings

15. As set out above, filings in the US Bankruptcy Proceedings were made on 9 December 2025 and on 15 December 2025. It is expected that more portfolio companies will follow in the coming days.

16. The worldwide stay that the US Bankruptcy Proceedings bring into effect applies to the commencement or continuation of any proceedings against each debtor, and the exercise of control over the property of each debtor, anywhere in the world. This includes the continuation of these proceedings.

17. As set out above, the Plaintiffs filed their Motion to Dismiss and Motion to Shorten on 12 December 2025.

Conference before Bankruptcy Judge Laurie Selber Silverstein on 15 December 2025

18. Bankruptcy Judge Laurie Selber Silverstein heard the Motion to Shorten on an expedited basis at 3pm on Monday, 15 December 2025. The Learned Judge:

    18.1 dismissed the Plaintiffs' application to determine the Motion to Dismiss on an expedited basis and directed the parties to agree a regular timetable for its determination;

    18.2 allowed the Plaintiffs' application for relief from the worldwide stay only for the purposes of this PTR hearing, and no further; and 18.3 made clear that the Motion to Dismiss would not be determined in time for the trial of the Cayman Islands proceedings to be heard as listed in January 2026.

19. Judge Silverstein made this ruling at a contested inter partes conference, and she of course understood the implications of her decision for these proceedings. As the transcript shows, there was careful and considered rationale behind the Judge's decision, including the effect it would have on the listing in the Cayman Islands.[12]

[12] See for example, page 32 of the transcript: "So, I'm quite aware of setting aside scheduling time, I'm quite aware of preparing for matters that don't go forward, and I don't like to disrupt any other judge's schedule, but I don't see that this motion to dismiss gets resolved in enough time for the parties and the Court to know that that trial can go forward" (HB/25/767).

D. THIS HEARING

20. In the circumstances, the GP and the Partnership are represented at this PTR for the purpose of providing these updates to the Court, as well as any other assistance the Court may require, and the GP and the Partnership can properly provide.

21. At the time of writing, the parties have not agreed the timetable for the determination of the Plaintiffs' Motion to Dismiss. Nevertheless, subject to the Court's availability it may be possible to agree directions to a new trial date at the PTR.

22. It is noted that the Plaintiffs'/Petitioners' skeleton argument refers to an intention to file a Motion to Vary with the Delaware Bankruptcy Court in order to allow this Court to determine what the Plaintiffs/Petitioners define as the "Paragraph 10(b) Issues" in January. However, as at the date of writing no such motion has been filed, let alone listed (with the Petitioners/Plaintiffs indicating in their skeleton argument that it is "hoped" the hearing date can be set for early January) and the automatic stay therefore remains in place for any steps in the Cayman Proceedings beyond the PTR.
