CERTAIN INSURERS' OBJECTION TO PLAN ADMINISTRATOR'S MOTION TO ENFORCE PLAN INJUNCTION

Continental Casualty Company and Transportation Insurance Company (together, "CNA"), Century Indemnity Company, Nationwide Indemnity Company, and Employers Insurance of Wausau (collectively with CNA, "Certain Insurers") hereby object to Plan Administrator's Motion for an Order Enforcing the Plan Injunction Against Nationwide Indemnity Co. and Employers Insurance of Wausau, Century Indemnity Co., Transportation Insurance Co. and Continental Casualty Co. [Docket No. 2202] (the "Motion") as follows:

Background

1. Insurers issued liability policies to Briggs & Stratton Corp. (the "Debtor") that were in effect, collectively, from December 31, 1940, to December 31, 1979.

2. For years before these chapter 11 cases, the Debtor faced claims from individuals asserting damages based on alleged exposure to the Debtor's products that allegedly contained asbestos (the "Asbestos Claims").

3. During the period from 2003 to 2018, the Debtor and Certain Insurers, who issued primary insurance policies to the Debtor (the "Policies"), defended and paid Asbestos Claims under a cost sharing agreement (the "Cost Sharing Agreement").

4. In 2018, the Debtor terminated its participation in the Cost Sharing Agreement and demanded that Certain Insurers pay 100% of the costs of defending and indemnifying all Asbestos Claims that triggered Certain Insurers' policies.

5. On January 25, 2019, the Debtor, as plaintiff, filed an action against Certain Insurers in the Circuit Court of Milwaukee County, Wisconsin (the "Wisconsin Court"), captioned Briggs & Stratton Corporation v. Employers Insurance of Wausau, et al. (the "Coverage Action"), seeking, among other things, reimbursement of amounts paid by the Debtor under the Cost Sharing Agreement and declarations of the parties' respective rights and obligations.

6. The Coverage Action involves fifteen years of underlying asbestos cases and hundreds of payments by Certain Insurers.

7. During the chapter 11 cases, the parties to the Coverage Action agreed to stipulate to modification of the automatic stay to allow the Coverage Action to proceed in the Wisconsin Court.

8. As the Debtor proceeded toward confirmation of a chapter 11 plan in these cases, the Debtor sought to defer litigation of the Coverage Action in the Wisconsin Court until after confirmation of a plan and conclusion of the bankruptcy proceedings.

9. Toward that end, the Debtor proposed a plan (the "Plan") that would assign its rights and obligations under the Policies, including the right to pursue the Coverage Action, to the Plan Administrator.

10. For their part, Certain Insurers negotiated insurance neutrality provisions to assure that the Plan and Confirmation Order preserved all their rights or defenses in the Coverage Action under the terms of their Policies and applicable nonbankruptcy law in any way.

11. On that basis, this Court confirmed the Plan.

12. On January 6, 2021 (the "Effective Date"), more than five-and-a-half years ago, the Plan went effective. See Motion, ¶ 11.

13. After entry of the Confirmation Order and the occurrence of the Effective Date, the Plan Administrator was substituted for the Debtor as the proper party in interest in the Coverage Action. The Wisconsin Court ultimately decided that the parties should have been proceeding as if the Debtor was exercising its right to elect to have Certain Insurers pay 100% of the costs of defending and indemnifying all Asbestos Claims that trigger their respective Policies during the fifteen years prior to bankruptcy. See Motion, Ex. A.

14. The Wisconsin Court issued a summary judgment ruling establishing liability against Certain Insurers such that the parties to the Coverage Action are now litigating what is effectively the "damages" phase of the breach of contract claims.

15. Both sides have proffered experts to support their calculations. Certain Insurers proffered the Expert Report of Benjamin I. Mermelstein, PhD, FCAS (11/21/25) ("Dr. Mermelstein's Report"). See Motion, Ex. D. Dr. Mermelstein's Report speaks only to the measure of the damages the Plan Administrator may recover from Certain Insurers on the breach of contract claims he elected to prosecute.

16. In January, the Plan Administrator began arguing that Certain Insurers' sponsorship of Dr. Mermelstein's Report somehow violates the Plan Injunction, even though Certain Insurers have never sought, and do not now seek, any affirmative recovery.

17. In particular, the Plan Administrator wrote to Certain Insurers on January 27, 2026, arguing that Dr. Mermelstein's Report asserted an impermissible "setoff" barred by the Plan and the Bankruptcy Code. See Motion, Ex. B.

18. Certain Insurers promptly responded by letter dated February 6, 2026, refuting both the merits of the Plan Administrator's arguments and his attempt to use the Plan as a sword against Certain Insurers in the Coverage Action contrary to the Plan's express terms. See Motion, Ex. C.

19. The Plan Administrator is pressing the identical argument in the Wisconsin Court at the same time. In his motion in limine in the Coverage Action, the Plan Administrator argues that "the Insurers are barred from pursuing this setoff because it constitutes an improper and untimely claim against Briggs' bankruptcy estate in violation of bankruptcy law and the plan of reorganization confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court in Briggs' bankruptcy proceeding," and that Certain Insurers, as purported "[n]on-governmental creditors of Briggs' bankruptcy estate," were required to file proofs of claim no later than October 7, 2020. See Plaintiff's Brief in Support of Motion to Exclude or Limit Opinion Testimony of Defendants' Expert Witness (9/4/26), pp. 21-22, attached hereto as "Exhibit A" incorporated herein by reference. The Plan Administrator has therefore asked two courts to decide the same question at the same time. That alone confirms what the Motion obscures: the dispute is about the measure of damages in a state law contract action, not about the enforcement of the Plan Injunction.

20. After sleeping on his purported rights for more than half a year, the Plan Administrator filed the Motion.

Argument

I. THE TERMS OF THE PLAN ITSELF PRECLUDE THE RELIEF SOUGHT BY THE PLAN ADMINISTRATOR.

21. Section 10.13 of the Plan is entitled "Insurance Neutrality" and provides as follows:

> (a) Nothing contained in the Disclosure Statement, Plan, the Plan Supplement, the Plan Administrator Agreement, the Confirmation Order, any other order of the Bankruptcy Court, any bar date notice . . . including any provision that purports to be preemptory or supervening, shall in any way operate to, or have the effect of, impairing, altering, supplementing, changing, expanding, decreasing, or modifying (i) the rights or obligations > of any Insurer, or (ii) any rights or obligations of the Debtors arising out of or under any Insurance Policy. For all other issues relating to insurance coverage, the provisions, terms, conditions, and limitations of the Insurance Policies shall control. For the avoidance of doubt. . . (y) nothing contained in the Plan, the Plan Administrator Agreement, or the Confirmation Order shall operate to require any Insurer to indemnify or pay the liability of any Allowed Claim that is an Insured Claim that it would not have been required to pay in the absence of the Plan. . . .

> (b) For the avoidance of doubt, nothing contained in the Plan, the Plan Supplement, the Plan Administrator Agreement, the Confirmation Order, or any other order of the Bankruptcy Court shall operate to require any Insurer to indemnify or pay the liability in connection with an Insured Claim that it would not have been required to pay in the absence of this Plan.

Plan, § 10.13.

22. Dr. Mermelstein's Report provides an analysis precisely in accordance with the foregoing Plan provisions:

- Dr. Mermelstein's Report quantifies what would have happened in real time had the Debtor exercised its all-sums rights from the beginning.
- For example, he concludes that CNA would not have, and should not be required to, pay amounts in excess of the limits of the CNA Policies.
- Likewise, he concludes that Certain Insurers would not have, and should not be required to, pay amounts that would have been allocated to umbrella policies issued by non-party insurers had Certain Insurers enforced their contribution rights in real time.
- Dr. Mermelstein's conclusions about these fundamental insurance coverage principles conform to the terms of the Plan, which (twice) provides that "nothing contained in the Plan, the Plan Administrator Agreement, or the Confirmation Order shall operate to require any Insurer to indemnify or pay the liability of any Allowed Claim that is an Insured Claim that it would not have been required to pay in the absence of the Plan," and which requires that "the provisions, terms, conditions, and limitations of the Insurance Policies shall control."

23. Curiously, the Plan Administrator's Motion fails to even mention the Insurance Neutrality provisions of the Plan—much less attempt to explain why they do not control.

24. Moreover, even in the absence of the preemptory and supervening Insurance Neutrality provisions, the Plan Injunction, by its own terms, does not reach Certain Insurers' arguments in the Coverage Action or Dr. Mermelstein's Report.

25. Section 10.4 of the Plan provides that entities are "permanently enjoined on and after the Effective Date, solely with respect to any Claims, Interests, and Causes of Action that will be or are extinguished, discharged, or released pursuant to the Plan from (i) commencing, conducting, or continuing in any manner … any suit, action, or other proceeding … against or affecting the Debtors, or the Wind-Down Estates.…" Plan, § 10.4 (emphasis added).

26. A damages defense in the Coverage Action simply is not a claim extinguished, discharged, or released by the Plan because Certain Insurers seek no payment from anyone. They ask only that the Plan Administrator's recovery against them in the Coverage Action be correctly measured.

27. Were there any doubt on this score, the Plan further decrees that "[n]othing contained in the Disclosure Statement, Plan, the Plan Supplement, the Plan Administrator Agreement, the Confirmation Order, any other order of the Bankruptcy Court, any bar date notice . . . including any provision that purports to be preemptory or supervening, shall in any way operate to, or have the effect of, impairing, altering, supplementing, changing, expanding, decreasing, or modifying (i) the rights or obligations of any Insurer, or (ii) any rights or obligations of the Debtors arising out of or under any Insurance Policy." Plan, § 10.13 (emphasis added).

II. DR. MERMELSTEIN'S REPORT SUPPORTS A DEFENSE TO THE AMOUNT OF DAMAGES. IT IS NEITHER A CLAIM AGAINST THE DEBTOR, NOR A SETOFF.

28. A "claim" is a "right to payment." 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A). Certain Insurers assert no right to payment from anyone. They have not filed a proof of claim, sought allowance of a claim, demanded a distribution, or asked any court to order the Debtor or its successors to pay them a dollar. They ask only that the Plan Administrator—who chose to pursue litigation against them—recover no more than the Policies and Wisconsin contract law permit him to recover.

29. The line between a defense and a claim is settled. As the Third Circuit put it, "a defense is not the same as a claim," because "a defense seeks to diminish a claim or to defeat recovery rather than to share in it." Folger Adam Sec., Inc. v. DeMatteis/MacGregor, JV, 209 F.3d 252, 260–61 (3d Cir. 2000). An order barring creditors from "seeking to obtain payment or satisfaction of their claims" does not reach a defendant's affirmative defenses because affirmative defenses are not claims. Id. at 261 n.11.

30. The point has particular force where, as here, the Plan Administrator is the plaintiff. The Bankruptcy Code preserves for the estate "the benefit of any defense available to the debtor," 11 U.S.C. § 558, and the corollary is equally settled: the estate's representative "is, of course, subject to the same defenses as could have been asserted by the defendant had the action been instituted by the debtor." McNamara v. PFS (In re Pers. & Bus. Ins. Agency), 334 F.3d 239, 245 (3d Cir. 2003) (citation omitted). The Supreme Court has said the same of a defendant's response to a debtor's affirmative suit: "a bankruptcy defendant can meet a plaintiff-debtor's claim with a counterclaim arising out of the same transaction, at least to the extent that the defendant merely seeks recoupment." Reiter v. Cooper, 507 U.S. 258, 265 n.2 (1993). The Plan Administrator sued on prepetition insurance contracts. He took that claim as the Debtor held it, subject to every defense (including policy limits) that would have reduced the Debtor's recovery had the Debtor prosecuted the claim itself.

31. For the same reason, the bar date has nothing to do with this dispute. A party asserting a defense rather than a claim has no occasion to file a proof of claim. Indeed, as the Second Circuit recently held, a purely defensive assertion of recoupment or setoff isn't even a "claim" under the Bankruptcy Code. See In Re SVB Fin. Grp., No. 25-567 (2d Cir. Sept. 9, 2026); see also See In re SVB Fin. Group, 662 B.R. 53, 67 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2024) ("courts have noted that a defensive setoff is substantively different from a "claim" and rejecting the contention that filing a proof of claim is a prerequisite to preserving a defensive setoff right, and reasoning that a chapter 11 plan could not extinguish preserved defensive setoff rights); Columbia Hosp. for Women Med. Ctr., Inc. v. NCRIC, Inc. (In re Columbia Hosp. for Women Med. Ctr., Inc.), 461 B.R. 648, 672–73 (Bankr. D. D.C. 2011) (insurer's failure to file a proof of claim "does not bar [it] from asserting a right of setoff defensively"). If that is true of setoff—an affirmative right to apply mutual debts—it is necessarily true of a defense that asserts no debt at all.

32. Dr. Mermelstein's Report does not rely on a setoff claim, and section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code is simply inapplicable. Setoff presupposes mutual debts running in both directions. Under the doctrine of setoff, "entities that owe each other money … apply their mutual debts against each other, thereby avoiding 'the absurdity of making A pay B when B owes A.'" Citizens Bank of Maryland v. Strumpf, 516 U.S. 16, 18 (1995) (quoting Studley v. Boylston Nat'l Bank, 229 U.S. 523, 528 (1913)). Certain Insurers may owe the Plan Administrator under the Policies whatever the Wisconsin courts ultimately determine. The Plan Administrator owes Certain Insurers nothing.

33. There is no second, opposing debt to be set off—only a dispute about the size of the first one. Dr. Mermelstein's Report describes amounts that are unrecoverable as damages from Certain Insurers because (a) the amounts are in excess of the limits of the CNA Policies, or (b) are amounts that would have been allocated to umbrella policies issued by non-party insurers had the Debtor tendered claims to Certain Insurers on an all sums basis in real time and Certain Insurers paid 100% of the defense and indemnity of those claims and then sought contribution.

34. The only non-stayed claim remaining in the Coverage Action is the Debtor's breach of contract claim. It is blackletter Wisconsin law that the purpose of a breach of contract claim is to put the parties in the position they would have occupied if the alleged breach had not occurred. See, e.g., Schubert v. Midwest Broad. Co., 1 Wis. 2d 497, 502, 85 N.W.2d 449, 452 (1957). The corollary is that contract damages may not place the plaintiff in a better position than performance under the contract, which is what a judgment requiring Certain Insurers to pay more than the Policies obligate them to pay would do.

35. Dr. Mermelstein's Report calculates the position the parties would have been in had Debtor tendered claims on an all-sums basis in real time. The fact that Debtor declared bankruptcy does not alter this fundamental concept or permit its estate to recover beyond what the Debtor otherwise would be entitled to recover. The Plan reinforces this point through its insurance neutrality mandate.

36. Notably, in 2022, the Plan Administrator himself sponsored an expert report in the Coverage Action attempting to apply the same concept as Dr. Mermelstein's Report, albeit with results more favorable to the Plan Administrator. See Expert Report of Christopher P. Makuc (8/31/22) ("Mr. Makuc's Report"), p. 3 & n.11, attached hereto as "Exhibit B" and incorporated herein by reference. Certain Insurers do not suggest that the Plan Administrator was enjoined from sponsoring that report; he was not. Tellingly, the Plan Administrator's own expert treated the reconstruction of what would have been paid, by whom, and under which policies, as an ordinary exercise in measuring contract damages. That exercise did not become an "impermissible setoff" until Certain Insurers' expert performed it and arrived at a different number.

37. Accounting for and respecting the limits of the CNA Policies is not a setoff. It is beyond dispute that during the breach of contract phase of the Coverage Action, damages cannot be allocated to policies in excess of their limits. Exhaustion was raised as an affirmative defense by CNA from the outset, and the Plan Administrator's own expert, Mr. Makuc, concedes that he must "respect[ ] policy limits." Mr. Makuc's Report, n.9. Consistent with Mr. Makuc's Report, Dr. Mermelstein explains as follows: "[t]o properly take into account CNA's limits, in my reallocation I do not allocate amounts to CNA policies in excess of their limits and I credit CNA for any amounts they paid after their policies would have exhausted." Dr. Mermelstein's Report, p. 11.

38. Stated differently, the Plan Administrator cannot recover from CNA in the Coverage Action amounts that are in excess of the limits of the CNA Policies. This is not a setoff. It is simply abiding by the terms of the Policies and the undisputed legal principle that no Insurer can be required to pay breach of contract damages in excess of their policy limits. The Plan recognized this principle, requiring that "nothing contained in the Plan, the Plan Administrator Agreement, or the Confirmation Order shall operate to require any Insurer to indemnify or pay the liability of any Allowed Claim that is an Insured Claim that it would not have been required to pay in the absence of the Plan," and "the provisions, terms, conditions, and limitations of the Insurance Policies shall control." Plan, § 10.13.

39. Accounting for amounts that would have been allocated to umbrella and excess insurers is also not a setoff. Rather, it is necessary to account for sums that would have been allocable to umbrella and excess insurers had Certain Insurers paid 100% of indemnity for the claims in real time. Dr Mermelstein explains:

> In my allocation, I assume that the carriers would have been able to obtain contribution, and Briggs would have been able to obtain coverage, from these umbrellas once the underlying CNA primaries exhausted. I assume payments made by CNA on these primaries after they would have exhausted would instead have been made by the umbrella carriers. I have not found solvent policies above the 1974 and 1975 CNA primaries. I assume that > amounts paid by CNA on these primaries after they would have exhausted are covered by the other triggered and available policy years in proportion to their time on risk, which is consistent with an all sums reallocation."

Dr. Mermelstein's Report, n.13.

40. Put another way, the Plan Administrator should not be able to recover amounts that would have been allocated to umbrella policies had Certain Insurers been seeking contribution in real time. The Plan Administrator concedes that "the [Wisconsin] Court held that '[t]argeted insurers have a right to seek contribution from other insurers on the risk.'" In other words, the Plan Administrator concedes that it is consistent with an all-sums allocation for Certain Insurers to seek contribution from other carriers, including umbrella carriers. See, e.g., Heritage Mutual Ins. Co. v. St. Paul Mercury Ins. Co., 141 Wis. 2d 141, 148, 413 N.W.2d (Ct. App. 1987) (recognizing contribution rights of insurer after it paid more than its fair share of the insured's liability). As a result, it is proper for Dr. Mermelstein to account for amounts that would have been allocated to umbrella policies had Certain Insurers been seeking contribution in real time consistent with Wisconsin law holding that breach of contract damages cannot put a party in a better position than it would have been in if the alleged breach never occurred. And it's consistent with the Plan, which mandates that "nothing . . . shall operate to require any Insurer to indemnify or pay the liability of any Allowed Claim that is an Insured Claim that it would not have been required to pay in the absence of the Plan." It is improper for the Plan Administrator to ask this Court to ignore the Plan's unambiguous Insurance Neutrality provisions and preclude Certain Insurers from pursuing basic insurance-related arguments in the Wisconsin Court.

41. In the alternative, if resort to any doctrine outside of the four corners of the insurance contract is required (and it is not), this situation is more akin to defensive recoupment, which is a fundamentally different concept than setoff and not restricted by section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code. The equitable application of the recoupment doctrine is "in the nature of a defense" and is intended to "permit … judgment to be rendered that does justice in view of the one transaction as a whole." United Structures of Am., Inc. v. G.R.G. Eng'g, S.E., 9 F.3d 996, 999 (1st Cir. 1993) (citing Rothensies v. Electric Storage Battery Co., 329 U.S. 296, 299 (1946)). Recoupment, so understood, is not an affirmative claim against the Debtor. It is a limit on what the plaintiff may recover, asserted purely defensively and only if and to the extent the Plan Administrator establishes liability in the first place.

42. "Recoupment means 'the setting up of a demand arising from the same transaction as the plaintiff's claim or cause of action, strictly for the purpose of abatement or reduction of such claim.'" In re Revel AC Inc., 909 F.3d 597, 603 (3d Cir. 2018) (quoting In re Univ. Med. Ctr., 973 F.2d 1065, 1079 (3d Cir. 1992)). Courts hold that the recoupment arises out of the same transaction when the demands arise out of the same contract. See, e.g., In re Davidovich, 901 F.2d 1533, 1537-38 (10th Cir. 1990). Notably, the proper application of recoupment may involve both prepetition and postpetition obligations. See, e.g., Sims v. U.S. Dep't of Health and Human Services (In re TLC Hosps., Inc.), 224 F.3d 1008, 1011 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Collier).

43. Moreover, defensive use of recoupment (as with setoff) cannot be cut off by a chapter 11 plan or the failure to file a proof of claim. See In re SVB Fin. Grp., supra (defensive setoff right is not a claim, and chapter 11 plan could not extinguish preserved defensive setoff rights); see also Miller v. Zurich Am. Ins. Co. (In re WL Homes LLC), 563 B.R. 512, 517–18 (Bankr. D. Del. 2017) (insurer permitted to defeat a chapter 7 trustee's affirmative recovery on an insurance policy by asserting recoupment for amounts the insured owed under the same policy).

III. THE BANKRUPTCY COURT LACKS JURISDICTION OVER THE DISPUTE RAISED BY THE MOTION AT THIS LATE DATE AND WOULD HAVE BEEN REQUIRED TO ABSTAIN HAD IT BEEN BROUGHT DURING THE BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS.

44. A bankruptcy court's jurisdiction to hear disputes is limited and narrows as plan confirmation becomes more remote in time, notwithstanding retention of jurisdiction provisions in a plan. See, e.g., In re Washington Mutual, Inc., No. 08-12229, 2012 WL 4755209 (Bankr. D. Del. Oct. 4, 2012) (dismissing a post-confirmation liquidating trust's claims against its liability insurers for lack of subject matter jurisdiction).

45. These bankruptcy proceedings are long since over. The Court confirmed the Plan on December 18, 2020 [Docket No. 1484]; the Plan went effective on January 6, 2021 [Docket No. 1538]; and the Court entered an order closing certain of the chapter 11 cases on October 12, 2022 [Docket No. 2134]. The Plan has been substantially consummated for years. What remains is a state law breach of contract action, filed prepetition, between a liquidating fiduciary and its insurers, pending in a state court that has already granted partial summary judgment on liability and is now trying damages. Post-confirmation, a bankruptcy court's jurisdiction does not extend to every dispute whose outcome might enlarge or shrink the pool of money available to creditors; if it did, the retention of jurisdiction would never end. See In re IPDN Corp., 352 B.R. 870, 877 (Bankr. E.D. Mo. 2006) (court lacked related to jurisdiction over a suit to enforce § 363 order; reasoning that "'[r]elated to' jurisdiction is not limitless" and "is not established when a third-party dispute affects neither the distribution of estate assets nor the bankruptcy estate in general.:"); cf. In re Resorts Int'l, Inc., 372 F.3d 154, 166–67 (3d Cir. 2004).

46. Independently, the Plan's Insurance Neutrality provisions displace any retention of jurisdiction as applied to the Coverage Action. Section 10.13 provides that nothing in the Plan, the Confirmation Order, or "any other order of the Bankruptcy Court . . . including any provision that purports to be preemptory or supervening, shall in any way operate to, or have the effect of, impairing, altering, supplementing, changing, expanding, decreasing, or modifying (i) the rights or obligations of any Insurer." A retention-of-jurisdiction provision read to permit this Court to fix the measure of Certain Insurers' contractual liability would do precisely what Section 10.13 forbids, and the Plan resolves the conflict on its own terms: "[f]or all other issues relating to insurance coverage, the provisions, terms, conditions, and limitations of the Insurance Policies shall control." Plan, § 10.13. The Plan does not merely permit this Court to leave the Coverage Action to the Wisconsin Court; it requires it.

47. To be sure, a bankruptcy court retains jurisdiction to interpret and enforce its own orders. Here, however, there is nothing to interpret and enforce—except to confirm that there unequivocally is no injunction enforceable against Certain Insurers in connection with the Coverage Action. That is because the Plan's Insurance Neutrality provisions are preemptory and supervening by its own terms, which confirms beyond any doubt that nothing that happened in the bankruptcy case would in any way impact Certain Insurers rights or obligations under their Policies or in the Coverage Action. Thus, once the Court confirms that it meant what it said, the Court's work will be done and it will be without jurisdiction to proceed any further. As the parties always intended, this insurance dispute is the business of Wisconsin Court, applying applicable nonbankruptcy law as if this bankruptcy and resulting reorganization had never occurred.

48. Even if the Debtor had not elected to defer the Coverage Action to the Wisconsin Court for adjudication in the years after conclusion of its bankruptcy proceedings, this Court would have been required to abstain from deciding the claims and defenses in the Coverage Action. See 28 U.S.C. § 1334(c)(2); see also Miller & Miller Auctioneers, Inc. v. Ritchie Bros. Auctioneers Int'l, L.P., 211 B.R. 914, 919–20, 924 (Bankr. W.D. Mo. 1996).

49. Given the foregoing, in the present posture of these long-concluded bankruptcy proceedings and the advanced posture of the Coverage Action, the measure of Certain Insurers' liability under the Policies belongs to the Wisconsin Court, where the parties have litigated it for more than seven years, where liability has already been determined, and where the Plan Administrator has himself asked that court to decide the very question he presents here. The Plan Injunction does not supply a basis for this Court to take that question away from the Wisconsin Court, and to the extent the Court reaches the question, permissive abstention would be warranted in the interests of justice, comity with state courts, and respect for state law. See 28 U.S.C. § 1334(c)(1).

Conclusion

50. The Plan Injunction reaches only "Claims, Interests, and Causes of Action that will be or are extinguished, discharged, or released pursuant to the Plan." Certain Insurers seek nothing from the Debtor or Plan Administrator. They only assert a defense. And Section 10.13 forecloses any construction of the Plan or the Confirmation Order that would enlarge Certain Insurers' obligations beyond what the Policies and Wisconsin law require.

WHEREFORE, Certain Insurers respectfully request entry of an order denying the Plan Administrator's Motion; and for such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

STATE OF WISCONSIN CIRCUIT COURT MILWAUKEE COUNTY

ALAN D. HALPERIN, as Plan Administrator for the Wind-Down Estate of Briggs & Stratton Corporation, Plaintiff, v. NATIONWIDE INDEMNITY COMPANY, et al., Defendants.	Case No. 19-CV-795

PLAINTIFF'S BRIEF IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO EXCLUDE OR LIMIT OPINION TESTIMONY OF DEFENDANTS' EXPERT WITNESS

Plaintiff Alan D. Halperin, as Plan Administrator for the Wind-Down Estate of Briggs & Stratton Corporation ("Briggs")[1], by and through his attorneys Hansen Reynolds LLC, respectfully requests that this Court enter an order excluding certain opinions of Benjamin Mermelstein, the expert witness for the Defendant Insurers (collectively, "Insurers"): Nationwide Indemnity Co., Employers Insurance of Wausau (collectively, "Nationwide"); Century Indemnity Co. ("Century"); Transportation Insurance Company Inc., Continental Casualty Co. (collectively, "CNA")[2]. In support of its motion, Briggs states as follows.[3]

[1] The current plaintiff is Alan D. Halperin in his capacity as the Plan Administrator for Briggs' post-bankruptcy wind-down estate. But for purposes of this motion, we refer to the plaintiff, both pre- and post-bankruptcy, as simply "Briggs."

[2] We use the term "Insurers" to mean Nationwide, Century, and CNA collectively. "Nationwide", "Century" and "CNA" each also encompasses various affiliates, predecessors, successors, parents, and claims administrators who appear in the historical record in this case.

[3] This motion addresses the admissibility of Mermelstein's proposed expert opinions under Wis. Stat. § 907.02. Briggs separately maintains that the Insurers' contribution-netting and post-2018 setoff theories are legally unavailable as defenses to Briggs' Phase I

RELEVANT FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Over a nearly forty-year period, from 1940 through 1977, Briggs purchased from the Insurers a series of primary CGL policies that covered, among many other conditions, claims for injuries arising from alleged exposure to asbestos in connection with certain Briggs products. Beginning in the early 2000s, asbestos claims and lawsuits against Briggs were steadily increasing and, because many of these claims encompassed years covered by Briggs' CGL policies with the Insurers, Briggs sought coverage for the defense and indemnity costs.

In December 2003, the Insurers dictated to Briggs a pro rata allocation under which they would pay portions of the covered indemnity and defense costs for each asbestos claim tendered by Briggs to them. The allocations were based roughly on each Insurer's "time on the risk," and left Briggs to pay a larger share of those costs than the total to be contributed by the Insurers, collectively.

In January 2009, the Wisconsin Supreme Court decided Plastics Engineering Co. v. Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., 2009 WI 13, 315 Wis.2d 556, 759 N.W.2d 613 ("Plenco"). The Plenco Court ruled for the first time that Wisconsin was an "all-sums" jurisdiction (as opposed to "pro rata") for purposes of allocation of costs for long-tail insurance claims, including specifically asbestos claims. That is, the Plenco Court held that where, as here, insurers agreed in their policies to pay "all sums" for a covered claim, each triggered policy is liable for 100 percent of the indemnity and defense costs, up to the limits of that policy. Thus, an insurer's exposure was not limited to paying merely a pro rata share of the costs corresponding to that insurer's time on the risk, and the insured was not required to pay any portion of those costs, even for times when the insured had no coverage.

All of the policies at issue in this case include essentially the same "all-sums" language identified in the Plenco decision, and consequently, each of the Insurers here is jointly and severally liable for 100 percent of the defense and indemnity costs arising in connection with the asbestos claims tendered to them by Briggs since at least January 2009.

However, despite the fact that, since at least as early as August 2011, the Insurers were aware of the Plenco decision and their obligations to pay all sums for the Briggs asbestos claims under that decision, the Insurers did not inform Briggs of Plenco or its all-sums rights and continued to pay Briggs only a portion of the indemnity and defense costs for covered claims tendered to them by Briggs.

This changed in 2018, when Briggs learned from an offhand comment by a Nationwide representative that Briggs' contribution to the indemnity and defense costs was unusual, prompting Briggs to conduct an investigation with the assistance of its insurance broker. Briggs learned for the first time of the Plenco decision and Briggs' right to recover "all sums"—i.e. 100 percent of its indemnity and defense costs—from the Insurers. Briggs immediately demanded in June 2018 that the Insurers begin paying all sums for covered asbestos costs from that time forward, and that the Insurers reimburse Briggs for the portion of the indemnity and defense costs the Insurers forced Briggs to cover for each covered asbestos claim since Plenco. Briggs generally demanded its all-sums payments from the earliest carrier on the risk for each asbestos claim.

In response to Briggs' demands, the Insurers agreed to pay 100 percent of the costs for asbestos defense costs or settlements going forward. They refused, though, to reimburse Briggs for the indemnity and defense costs paid by Briggs from the time of Plenco to June 2018. The Insurers took the position that Briggs had agreed to a cost-share agreement in 2003, more than 5 years before the Wisconsin Supreme Court issued its decision in Plenco, and that Briggs had never "rescinded" that supposed agreement.

As a result of the Insurers' refusal to comply with their all-sums obligations, Briggs filed this lawsuit in January 2019, asserting claims for recovery of the Insurers' post-Plenco underpayments of indemnity and defense costs, as well as interest, fees, and damages arising from insurance bad faith. The Court bifurcated the claims in this case, relegating the breach-of-contract claim (and associated compensatory damages) to a first phase, and the insurance bad faith and interest claims to a second phase.

After completion of fact discovery in phase one, the parties filed motions for summary judgment on liability for breach of contract. After full briefing and a lengthy hearing of those motions, this Court entered an order on January 21, 2025, granting summary judgment in Briggs' favor and denying the Insurers' cross-motion. (Dkt. 898.) The Court specifically held that, "as a matter of law, the [Insurers] . . . are jointly and severally liable for 100% of defense and indemnity costs" under the Briggs CGL policies for all covered asbestos claims. (Id., at 5.) The Court also held that the Insurers' payment to Briggs of only pro rata portions of those costs for each claim constituted a breach of the relevant policies. (Id.) To reach this result, the Court specifically rejected the Insurers' myriad defenses and arguments, including, in particular, the Insurers' attempted reliance upon a supposed cost-share agreement. (Id., at 6-32.) The Court specifically rejected the Insurers' equitable defenses, finding that the Insurers' "conduct did not demonstrate fair and equitable treatment of Briggs." (Id., at 26-32.)

As a result of the Court's ruling on summary judgment, the single remaining question in the first phase is the determination of the amount of compensatory damages owed by the Insurers—jointly and severally—to Briggs for their breach of the policies at issue in this case. Such damages are the amount that the Insurers underpaid Briggs for its covered claims after all-sums became the indisputable law of Wisconsin post-Plenco. The period of recoverable breach-of-contract damages is limited, per the Court's order on the statute of limitations, to the period from 2013 through 2018, referred to by the parties' experts as the "Relevant Period".

After the Court's entry of summary judgment, the parties proceeded to expert discovery directed solely to the quantification of damages. In Briggs' view, the calculation of its compensatory damages based on the Insurers' underpayments is a relatively straightforward mathematical computation. Briggs' expert, Christopher Makuc, identified 254 asbestos claims on which the Insurers underpaid Briggs during the Relevant Period. For each of these claims, Makuc determined the full, 100 percent amount of the indemnity and defense costs the Insurers should have paid had they complied with, rather than breached, their all-sums obligations under the policies. Makuc then subtracted from that full amount the pro rata amounts that the Insurers previously paid to Briggs during the Relevant Period. This remaining balance is the amount of compensatory damages owed to Briggs. Makuc generally allocated the indemnity and defense costs for each claim in the Relevant Period to the earliest policy on the risk, taking into account the occurrence and aggregate limits of each triggered policy. According to this straightforward calculation, Makuc determined that the amount of compensatory damages which the Insurers owe Briggs in Phase I totals $4,205,631.

In response to Makuc's analysis, the insurers' expert, Dr. Benjamin Mermelstein ("Mermelstein"), issued the "Expert Report of Benjamin I. Mermelstein, PhD, FCAS" ("Mermelstein Report"). A copy of the Mermelstein Report, with all attachments, is attached as Exhibit A to Briggs' motion. In the Mermelstein Report, he represents that he was tasked by the Insurers with "reviewing and offering opinions in the three expert reports submitted by Christopher Makuc"—Briggs' expert—"in this matter." (Exhibit A, at 2.) He states that he reviewed Makuc's expert report and supplements thereto, and offered opinions supposedly "based on [his] experience working on other long-tail claims involving all sums allocations and/or cost sharing agreements." (Id.) Conspicuously absent from the Mermelstein Report is any explanation by him of how his experience led him to reach the specific conclusions presented in the report, how or why his experience provides a sufficient basis for any of his opinions, or how he reliably applied his experience to the specific facts of this case.

Among the opinions espoused by Mermelstein, he expressed the view that, if the Insurers had paid all sums to Briggs during the Relevant Period as required by their policies, the Insurers could have sought (and would have paid to one another) immediate contribution contemporaneously with Briggs' tender of the claims to the oldest policy on the risk. (Exhibit A, at 3.) Mermelstein identifies no record evidence—because none exists—to support his apparent assumption that the Insurer Briggs targeted to pay its all-sums claims in full would have obtained contribution contemporaneously from other non-targeted Insurers. He simply states it as though it were fact. Nor does Mermelstein explain how any contribution claims or reallocation among the Insurers is relevant to what Briggs was entitled to be paid in the first instance. Under Plenco and all-sums allocations generally, the insured may obtain the full amount of covered indemnity and defense costs from any one or more triggered policies as a first step of the allocation before the targeted insurer can seek contribution from other insurers on the risk. (See Exhibit B, at 20:7–16.)

In addition, Mermelstein presents no reliable foundation for his contemporaneous contribution approach, which blatantly ignores this Court's prior ruling that all-sums applies in this case. He does not state that this sort of pro rata contemporaneous contribution model is commonly undertaken by insurers for all-sums allocations according to his personal experience, nor does he assert that this approach is an insurance industry standard procedure. Instead, Mermelstein simply based his damages opinions incorporating contemporaneous contribution "by assuming that all triggered policies reimburse the targeted policy proportional to their time on the risk." (Exhibit A, at 9.) Without any foundation, this "assumption" is nothing more than conjecture and directly contrary to this Court's prior summary judgment ruling. It is neither fact, nor is it competent and reliable expert opinion testimony. And if allowed to be presented in this case, will do nothing more than confuse a trier of fact given its lack of relevance to issues in this case.

Mermelstein likewise does not—and presumably cannot—reconcile this contemporaneous pro rata contribution scheme with the facts that (1) Wisconsin law after Plenco requires the Insurers to pay Briggs on an all-sums basis, and (2) this Court already held that the all-sums rule governs here, making each triggered policy jointly and severally for 100% of claim costs, up to limits. Nor does Mermelstein attempt to reconcile his opinion with Briggs' right to target any one or more triggered policies to make the full all-sums payment in the first instance. Both in 2018 and in this litigation, Briggs has made clear how it is targeting the Insurers for payment—generally seeking 100% from the earliest policy on the risk. But Mermelstein chooses, without explanation, justification, or foundation, to ignore Briggs' targeting of the oldest non-exhausted policy to pay the claims during the Relevant Period as well as the post-Relevant Period.

The effect of Mermelstein's unsupported and entirely improper contemporaneous pro rata contribution approach is to reduce the $4.2 million recovery for compensatory damages to Briggs to $2.4 million is his primary allocation model, or to $3.8 million in his alternative allocation model. (Exhibit A, at 3, 8-10; Exhibit B, at 139:18–23.)

Finally, Mermelstein opines that the effect of his contemporaneous pro rata contribution model is "not restricted to the Relevant Period," but also results in adjustments to payments already properly made by the Insurers on a 100% all-sums basis in the post-Relevant Period—i.e., the period since the summer of 2018 when the Insurers first began complying with their all-sums policy obligations and Plenco. (Exhibit A, at 12.)

The post-Relevant Period asbestos claims are not at issue in this lawsuit. They are not relevant to the calculation of damages for the Insurers' breach of the policies and resulting underpayments to Briggs during the Relevant Period, which is the only remaining question for the Court and, if necessary, the jury, to resolve in Phase I of this lawsuit.

But even setting that aside, the effect of Mermelstein's unsupported reallocation is an impermissible setoff of supposed "overpayments" by the Insurers during the post-Relevant Period against the amounts due and owing to Briggs in the lawsuit. Such a setoff, even if it were proper—and it is not—must have been pleaded by the Insurers as an affirmative defense to Briggs' breach of contract claim. It was not. Moreover, at least part of the setoff claimed by Mermelstein in his reallocations of the post-Relevant Period claims constitutes an impermissible credit against the claim held by the Briggs bankruptcy estate and is, thereby, a violation of bankruptcy law.[4]

This setoff was never properly pleaded by the Insurers as an affirmative defense as required under Wisconsin law but instead was raised for the first time in the Mermelstein Report. The effect of Mermelstein's unsupported and unfounded opinion that a portion of the post-Relevant Period payments by the Insurers is to apply a credit of between approximately $798,000 and $2.1 million against the compensatory damages owed by the Insurers to Briggs in Phase I of this lawsuit, thereby reducing the amount of those damages to which Briggs is entitled to a range of approximately $1.6 million to $1.7 million. (See Exhibit A, at 12.)

APPLICABLE LEGAL STANDARD

The admissibility of expert opinion testimony in Wisconsin is governed by Wis. Stat. § 907.02(1), which was amended in 2011 for the specific purpose of making "Wisconsin law consistent with 'the Daubert reliability standard embodied in Federal Rule of Evidence 702." State v. Giese, 2014 WI App 92, ¶ 17, 356 Wis.2d 796, 854 N.W.2d 687 (quoting State v. Kandutsch, 2011 WI 78, ¶ 26 n.7, 336 Wis.2d 478, 799 N.W.2d 865). Under this rule and the standard established by the U.S. Supreme Court in Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993) and its progeny (including, in particular, General Electric Co. v. Joiner, 522 U.S. 136 (1997) and Kumho Tire Co., Ltd. v. Carmichael, 526 U.S. 137 (1999)), trial courts are required to take on a "gate-keeping" function with regard to proffered expert opinion evidence to "ensure[s] that the expert's opinion is based on a reliable foundation and is relevant to the material issues" of the case before it. Giese, 2014 WI App 92, ¶ 18, 356 Wis.2d 796, 854 N.W.2d 687. "The focus of the court is on the principles and methodology the expert relied upon, and not on the expert's conclusion." Estate of Zhu v. Hodgson, 2021 WI App 10, ¶ 21, 954 N.W.2d 748, 2020 WL 7636641 (Wis. Ct. App. Dec. 23, 2020) (unpublished) (citing Giese, 2014 WI App 10, ¶ 18, 356 Wis.2d 796, 854 N.W.2d 687).

[4] The Insurers' untimely and improper pretense to claim a set off post-Relevant Period claims against the damages they owe to Briggs in this case also violates bankruptcy law and orders of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Missouri (the "Bankruptcy Court"), which is overseeing disposition of Briggs' bankruptcy post-confirmation estate. Plaintiff has presented this matter to the Bankruptcy Court via a Motion for an Order Enforcing the Plan Injunction Against Nationwide Indemnity Co. and Employers Insurance of Wausau, Century Indemnity Co., Transportation Insurance Co. and Continental Causalty Co. (the "Bankruptcy Motion"). A copy of the Bankruptcy Motion is attached hereto as Exhibit C for the Court's reference.

Section 907.02 provides:

> If scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education, may testify thereto in the form of an opinion or otherwise, if the proponent demonstrates to the court that it is more likely than not that the testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data, the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods, and the witness's opinion reflects a reliable application of the principles and methods to the facts of the case.

Wis. Stat. § 907.02(1). Thus, this rule "embodies 'three threshold requirements' for admitting expert testimony." Vanderventer v. Hyundai Motor America, 2022 WI App 56, ¶ 54, 405 Wis.2d 481, 983 N.W.2d 1. First, "the witness must be qualified ('a witness is qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education')." Id. (quoting State v. Hogan, 2021 WI App 24, ¶ 19, 397 Wis.2d 171, 959 N.W.2d 658). Second, "the witness's testimony must be relevant ('[i]f scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue')." Id. Third, "per the 2011 amendment adopting the Daubert standard, the witness's testimony must be reliable ('if the testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data, the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods, and the witness has applied the principle and methods reliably to the facts of this case')." Id. For purposes of the instant motion, Briggs does not challenge Mermelstein's qualification as an expert witness based on his experience. Some of Mermelstein's opinions, though, are irrelevant and fall well short of the requirements for reliability set forth by Section 907.02(1) and established by Daubert.

The "goal" of the trial court's exercise of this gate-keeping function "is to prevent the jury from hearing conjecture dressed up in the guise of expert opinion." Giese, 2014 WI App 92, ¶ 19 (citing Tamraz v. Lincoln Elec. Co., 620 f3d 665, 671 (6th Cir. 2010) ("'[N]o matter how good' experts' 'credentials' may be, they are 'not permitted to speculate.'" (citation omitted)); Daniel D. Blinka, The Daubert Standard in Wisconsin: A Primer, WISCONSIN LAWYER, March 2011, at 60 ("[c]oursing through Daubert lore is the palpable fear of ipse dixit ('because I said so') testimony" (citation omitted)); Ralph Adam Fine, Fine's Wisconsin Evidence 34 (Supp. 2012) ("Under Daubert, the testimony of the witness [is to be] 'more than a subjective belief or unsupported speculation.'" (quoting Daubert, 509 U.S. at 590)). Thus, a trial court does not satisfy its gate-keeping function under Section 907.02 by simply "taking the expert's word for it." Id., ¶ 74 (quoting Fed. Rule of Evid. 702, Advisory Committee Notes (2000)). "An expert cannot establish that a fact is generally accepted merely by saying so. Trial courts do not have 'to admit opinion evidence that is connected to existing data only by the ipse dixit of the expert.'" Id., ¶ 75 (citing Clark v. Tanaka Corp., 192 F.3d 750, 759 n.5 (7th Cir. 1999) ("A supremely qualified expert cannot waltz into the courtroom and render opinions unless those opinions are based upon some recognized scientific method and are reliable and relevant under the test set for by the Supreme Court in Daubert.") and quoting General Electric Co. v. Joiner, 522 U.S. 136, 146 (1997)).

The consideration of whether proposed expert evidence satisfies the reliability prong of the test for admissibility under Section 907.02 may be guided by several factors. Initially, the Supreme Court in Daubert provided a non-exhaustive list of factors to consider when weighing whether expert opinion evidence is sufficiently reliable to be admissible at trial: (1) whether the methodology employed by the expert can be and has been tested; (2) whether the methodology has been subjected to peer review and publication; (3) the known or potential rate of error associated with the methodology; and (4) whether the methodology is generally accepted in the community of relevant experts. See, e.g., Seifert, 2017 WI 2, ¶ 62; see also In re Commitment of Jones, 2018 WI 44, ¶ 8, 381 Wis.2d 284, 911 N.W.2d 97 (noting that the factors defined by the Daubert Court apply not only to "scientific" expert knowledge, but to all expert opinion testimony).

Further, Wisconsin courts rely upon additional factors the Advisory Committee for the Federal Rules of Evidence subsequently identified in connection with decisions about the reliability of expert opinion evidence:

> (1) "Whether experts are 'proposing to testify about matters growing naturally and directly out of research they have conducted independent of the litigation, or whether they have developed their opinions expressly for purposes of testifying'"; (2) "Whether the expert has unjustifiably extrapolated from an accepted premise to an unfounded conclusion"; (3) "Whether the expert has adequately accounted for obvious alternative explanations"; (4) "Whether the expert 'is being as careful as he would be in his regular professional work outside his paid litigation consulting'"; and (5) "Whether the field of expertise claimed by the expert is known to reach reliable results for the type of opinion the expert would give."

State v. Hogan, 2021 WI App 24, ¶ 24, 397 Wis.2d 171, 959 N.W.2d 658 (quoting Seifert, 2017 WI 2, ¶ 63 (citing Fed. R. Evid. 702, Commentary (2000))). A trial court is not, however, limited in its analyses to these lists of factors, but has wide latitude in deciding whether the reliability prong is met under the specific facts of the case before it and "may consider some, all, or none of the factors listed." Seifert, 2017 WI 2, ¶¶ 64-65.

Expert opinions may be based on the expert witness's personal experience, however, for this approach to meet the reliability requirement of Section 907.02, the expert must also explain (1) how that experience leads to the conclusions reached; (2) why that experience is a sufficient basis for the opinion at issue, and (3) how that experience is reliably applied to the facts of the case. See, e.g., Siefert, 2017 WI 2. ¶ 73 (citing and quoting Fed. R. Evid. 702).[5] Where an expert cannot or does not bother to lay this foundation for reliance upon personal experience as a basis for opinions and conclusions, this amounts to nothing more than the expert expecting the court and the fact finder to take his or her "word for it," which, as has been well established, is not sufficient to meet the reliability requirement under Section 907.02 and the Daubert standard embodied by that rule.

Section 907.02(1) requires only that a trial court "determine, by a preponderance of the evidence and according to whichever criteria it deems appropriate, that the proffered expert testimony is based on adequate facts and a sound methodology and is thus sufficiently reliable to go before a jury." State v. Hogan, 2021 WI App 24, ¶ 26, 397 Wis.2d 171, 959 N.W.2d 658 (citing State v. Dobbs, 2020 WI 64, ¶ 43, 392 Wis.2d 505,

[5] The court specifically acknowledged that, because Section 907.02 "mirrors Federal Rule of Evidence 702 as amended in 2000, we may look for guidance in interpreting and applying § 907.02 to the Daubert case and its progeny, to the Advisory Committee Notes to Federal Rule of Evidence 702, and to the federal and state cases interpreting the text of Rule 702 or an analogous state law." Seifert, 2017 WI 2, ¶ 55 (citing State v. Poly-America, Inc., 164 Wis.2d 238, 246, 474 N.W.2d 770 (1991) for the proposition that, "[w]hen a state statute is modeled after a federal rule, we look to the federal interpretation of that rule for guidance and assistance").

945 N.W.2d 609; In re Commitment of Jones, 2018 WI 44, ¶ 31-32). The gate-keeping function required of courts pursuant to Section 907.02 and Daubert is directed to ensuring that only reliable and relevant opinion evidence proffered by qualified experts will be presented to the court and jury. Only in this way can courts safeguard against speculation or conjecture being stamped with the imprimatur of expertise, allowing for undue weight and credit to be applied to otherwise unreliable evidence.

Here, however, a number of Mermelstein's opinions are directly contrary to this Court's prior summary judgment ruling, are admittedly not opinions at all offered by Mermelstein and would do nothing more than confuse rather than assist the trier of fact in trying to understand the evidence or determine issues of fact.

ARGUMENT

A. Mermelstein's "Contemporaneous Contribution" Opinion Lacks Foundation, is Not Reliable, and Must be Excluded Pursuant to Section 907.02.

Mermelstein opines that "[i]f Briggs actually had been tendering claims to the Insurers on an all sums basis during the Relevant Period"—i.e., during the period from 2013 to 2018—"then Wausau and Century would have sought contribution contemporaneously." (Exhibit A, at 3.) Notably, Mermelstein completely ignores, and admittedly never read, this Court's summary judgment order which stated in relevant part that, "In this case, Briggs followed Wisconsin law regarding any tender requirement. Once Briggs tendered their claims, the Defendants were liable for all sums under their policies . . ." See summary judgment order at p. 25. Thus, this Court already determined that Briggs did properly tender the claims at issue for all purposes, and that the Insurers must compensate Briggs for 100 percent of the indemnity and defense costs incurred for covered claims in the Relevant Period

Nevertheless, Mermelstein ignores this Court's ruling regarding Briggs' proper tender and applicability of all sums and opines that by adopting a pro rata contemporaneous contribution approach under which each Insurer compensates Briggs separately for only their portion of the costs corresponding to their time on the risk, Briggs' compensatory damages of $4.2 million must be reduced by about $1.8 million under his primary allocation model, or by about $400,000 under his alternative allocation model. Both models are patently flawed and Mermelstein should be precluded from offering any such "opinions" at trial.

Mermelstein's pro rata contemporaneous contribution approach is not an all-sums allocation as required by Plenco and this Court. Under all sums, the insured—in this case, Briggs—targets any triggered policy of its choosing and, assuming the claim is covered by that policy and the limits of that policy allow, 100 percent of the indemnity and defense costs for that claim, as a first step, must be paid out of that policy and that policy alone. This is an initial, stand-alone process and a prerequisite to any potential contribution claims that the insurers may have against other insurers. Only after Briggs is paid its 100 percent can the Insurers proceed with whatever contribution rights they believe they may have against one another and other insurers on the risk. But this does not affect Briggs' right to payment of 100 percent of the costs in the first instance. (See Exhibit B, at 17:19-21; see also id. at 16:5-12, 19:13-20:16, 21:3-11, 21:22-23:14, 24:24-25:14, 31:17-33:1, 34:21-36:7, 58:6-20, 74:19-78:17.)

Mermelstein's opinion, though, improperly conflates these separate, individual steps into a single process, conveniently skewing his purported expert calculations of damages in favor of the Insurers and in contravention of Briggs' entitlement to all sums. According to Mermelstein, all of the Insurers on the risk for any of Briggs' Relevant Period claims would have contemporaneously contributed and immediately reimbursed the targeted insurer as part of the payment of the claim. In Mermelstein's opinion, the two steps become a single step and each Insurer on the risk immediately and contemporaneously pays only its pro rata share of the covered costs in the first instance. (See Exhibit A, at 9.) But at his deposition, Mermelstein admitted that this is not how all-sums allocation and subsequent contribution work. (See Exhibit B, at 16:5-12, 19:13-20:16, 21:3-11, 21:22-23:14, 24:24-25:14, 31:17-33:1, 34:21-36:7, 58:6-20, 74:19-78:17.)

Mermelstein's opinions and conclusions in this regard are fundamentally flawed and do not satisfy the reliability requirement for expert evidence pursuant to Section 907.02, and as such, this supposed evidence is not admissible at trial and the Court should exclude it.

First, Mermelstein provides no basis whatsoever for his conclusion that any of the insurers, including specifically Wausau and Century, would have sought contribution from the other insurers contemporaneously with payment of Briggs' asbestos costs during the Relevant Period. Mermelstein does not even suggest that, in his personal experience, such pro rata contemporaneous contribution demands are always made by insurers after the targeted insurers pay all sums to the insured. He simply states this as though it were a fact and expects the Court—and ultimately, the jury—to accept it as such on his say-so. This is inherently unreliable and should be excluded. "Trial courts do not have 'to admit opinion evidence that is connected to existing data only by the ipse dixit of the expert.' Such an application is unreliable because 'there is simply too great an analytical gap between the data and the opinion offered.'" Seifert, 2017 WI 2, ¶ 75 (quoting General Elec. Co. v. Joiner, 522 U.S. 136, 146 (1997)).

Second, even if Mermelstein's opinions and conclusions regarding the supposed pro rata contemporaneous contribution were reliable and admissible—and they are not—the resulting reduction in damages to Briggs for the covered claims that should have been fully paid by the Insurers under an all-sums allocation is premised on Mermelstein's analysis that directly conflicts with this Court's summary judgment order (which he admits he never read) and with the process for all-sums allocations under Plenco.

In its order entered January 21, 2025, this Court granted Briggs summary judgment on its claim for breach of the insurance contracts, acknowledging that, after the decision of the Wisconsin Supreme Court in Plenco, Briggs was entitled to recover from the Insurers "all sums"—i.e., 100 percent—of its defense and indemnity costs for asbestos claims covered by triggered policies. (Doc. 898.) Mermelstein shockingly admits that he did not read the Court's summary judgment order. But that cannot excuse his disregard of the fundamental requirement imposed by the Court, following the rule of law established by Plenco, that Briggs is entitled to all sums and must be paid 100 percent of the covered indemnity and defense costs by the Insurers during the Relevant Period.

The Court, in its role under Section 907.02 and the Daubert standard, must reject and exclude Mermelstein's pro rata contemporaneous contribution opinion and calculations as wholly unreliable and misleading. He presents no evidence or facts in this case that support such an opinion, or establishing this approach as an industry standard, or even as practice he observed in his personal experience working in the insurance industry. Instead, Mermelstein's opinion here is nothing more than ipse dixit. He demands that the Court—and ultimately, the jury—accept and credit his opinion that the Insurers could and would have adopted a pro rata contemporaneous contribution model instead of the all-sums model the Court ruled they should have followed (and that this model would be permissible under the law after Plenco) simply on his say-so. This is not enough. Mermelstein's opinion here is nothing more than speculation and conjecture. He and the Insurers improperly attempt to give this pro rata contemporaneous contribution opinion credibility and weight by dressing it up in the cloak of expertise.

Moreover, Mermelstein overlooks—and his opinion contradicts—the proper legal framework for an all-sums allocation. Under the correct framework, the insured can obtain 100 percent of its covered costs, up to policy limits, from any single triggered policy or group of policies it targets. Even if the Insurers may seek contribution from other carriers on the risk, whether they do so months later or "contemporaneously" does not affect Briggs' initial right to all-sums payment from the insurer it targets. Mermelstein's hypothetical pro rata contemporaneous contribution scheme, even setting aside that it is speculative and unfounded, is simply not relevant legally to Briggs' all-sums rights and the damages the Insurers owe for their breaches of the policies during the Relevant Period.

Briggs respectfully urges the Court to reject this attempt and to exclude Mermelstein's opinion evidence on the grounds that it fails at least to satisfy the reliability prong for expert evidence under Section 907.02. This opinion is also irrelevant to the calculation of compensatory damages in light of the Court's summary judgment ruling that Briggs was always entitled during the Relevant Period because of the Insurers' years-long breaches of their policies.

B. Mermelstein's Adoption of the Insurers' Unpleaded Affirmative Defense of Setoff is Improper and Unreliable and Should be Excluded.

Mermelstein discloses additional opinions by which he attempts to further reduce the measure of compensatory damages to which Briggs is entitled for the Insurers' refusal during the Relevant Period to pay all-sums for indemnity and defense costs incurred by Briggs. According to Mermelstein, if Briggs had "tendered" (really, targeted) its claims in the Relevant Period—notwithstanding that, contrary to Mermelstein's framing, this Court already held Briggs properly tendered its Relevant Period claims (see Dkt. 898, at 23-25)—and had the Insurers paid Briggs all sums at that time, then all of the Insurers would have contemporaneously contributed pro rata to the payment of 100 percent of those costs regardless of whatever policy or policies Briggs targeted for payment. Mermelstein first opines that these pro rata contemporaneous contributions would have resulted in reduction of the amount of the costs in the Relevant Period that the Insurers would have covered due to exhaustion of certain of the policies on the risk, and without regard to the fact that Briggs was entitled to target a specific policy or policies from which 100 percent of the indemnity and defense costs must be paid as a matter of law after Plenco. This first opinion of Mermelstein is fundamentally flawed and wholly unreliable for the reasons set forth above, and as such, this Court should exclude this opinion pursuant to Section 907.02.

But Mermelstein carries this opinion further, extending his flawed "contemporaneous contribution" assumption into the post-Relevant Period—i.e., the period beginning in 2018. He claims that because the Insurer targeted by Briggs for payment (i.e., the earliest unexhausted policy on the risk) would hypothetically have obtained "contemporaneous contribution" from other carriers on the risk for each claim, this somehow reduces what the targeted carrier should have paid Briggs in the first instance. It is apparently Mermelstein's opinion that these amounts in the post-Relevant Period now constitute overpayments by the Insurers that must be set off against the damages to which Briggs is entitled for the Insurers' breaches of their policies in connection with claims in the Relevant Period.

As with all of his other defective opinions, though, Mermelstein provides no basis on which the Court can, in the exercise of its gate-keeping function for expert evidence, determine that this opinion is reliable and that it can properly be presented to the trier of fact at trial in accordance with Section 907.02. Instead, this "opinion" amounts to nothing more than conjecture, Mermelstein does not, and cannot, establish that such reallocation giving rise to alleged overpayments and setoffs is common and customary in the insurance industry, and/or that in his personal experience working in that industry, he is aware of this practice being adopted and accepted.

Mermelstein does not explain or establish whether the methodology he employs in connection with this opinion is or has been generally accepted by experts in the insurance field, or whether that methodology has been properly and thoroughly vetted, establishing that it is not subject to incidence of error. Instead, he simply applies this methodology as though it were an accepted practice to significantly reduce the damages to which Briggs is entitled from approximately $4.2 million to approximately $1.6 to $1.7 million. And he asks the Court, the jury, and Briggs to accept this opinion and the underlying methodology simply on his word as an expert. This is insufficient and fails altogether to establish the opinion as reliable under Section 907.02. For this reason alone, the Court should exclude Mermelstein's opinion regarding setoff of alleged post-Relevant Period "overpayments" against the compensatory damages accrued during the Relevant Period in connection with the Insurers' breach of the insurance policies by their refusal to pay all sums for covered indemnity and defense costs.

What is more, for the same reasons explained above with respect to the Relevant Period, Mermelstein's reallocation in the post-Relevant Period improperly collapses two different things: (1) Briggs' right to obtain full all-sums payment from any one or more triggered policies it chooses, up to limits; and (2) the targeted Insurers' subsequent right to obtain contribution from other carriers on the risk. By collapsing those two steps into one, Mermelstein effectively transforms Briggs' right to all-sums into a version of pro rata, spreading out the Insurers' supposed "should have paid" amounts in a "time on the risk"—in other words, pro rata—fashion. (See Exhibit A, at 9.) That is simply not an all-sums allocation.

Mermelstein's unfounded theory that the Insurers are entitled to set off their supposed (and erroneous) "overpayments" during the post-Relevant Period against Briggs' Relevant Period damages must fail for a further reason. Under Wisconsin law, setoff of the sort reflected by Mermelstein's opinion is an affirmative defense or counterclaim that must have been pleaded in this case by the Insurers. They did not do so. Consequently, the Insurers cannot now attempt to rely on this defense in a failed effort to reduce their damages exposure to Briggs. Without regard to the fact that Mermelstein cannot properly support this opinion in the first instance, and the fact that the whole reallocation method on which he relies is contrary to the all-sums rule, the Insurers are also barred from pursuing this theory now because they did not plead it. The Court should exclude this opinion for this reason too.

Furthermore, the Insurers are barred from pursuing this setoff because it constitutes an improper and untimely claim against Briggs' bankruptcy estate in violation of bankruptcy law and the plan of reorganization confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court in Briggs' bankruptcy proceeding. Non-governmental creditors of Briggs' bankruptcy estate, which the Insurers now, for the first time, apparently claim to be, were required to file proofs of claims no later than October 7, 2020, which date has long since passed. Further, under settled bankruptcy law, the Insurers cannot setoff funds owed to the original Briggs entity against a claim for funds allegedly owed to them by the Plaintiff in this case. Plaintiff has raised these issues to the Bankruptcy Court via the Bankruptcy Motion attached hereto as Exhibit C, which sets forth the legal and factual bases supporting entry of an order by the Bankruptcy Court against the Insurers precluding them from pursuing the setoff they now, for the first time, claim.

C. Mermelstein's Opinions Adopting the Insurers' Unpleaded, Untimely Affirmative Setoff Defense are Irrelevant to the Calculation of Briggs' Compensatory Damages.

Mermelstein's opinions and resultant damages calculations incorporating the Insurer's too-late assertion of an unpleaded affirmative defense of setoff do not serve to make any fact of consequence remaining in this case more or less probable. These opinions and calculations likewise do not assist the trier of fact to understand material evidence, nor do they help the trier of fact to determine any fact at issue. Specifically, Mermelstein's opinions in this regard do not and cannot assist the jury in this case to properly calculate the compensatory damages owed to Briggs by the Insurers for their breach of the insurance policies at issue. Those opinions and the related expert "evidence" are, at best, a distraction from this central task with which the jury will be charged. As such, these opinions and calculations of Mermelstein incorporating the Insurers' improper and unasserted setoff defense fail to satisfy the relevance requirement for admissibility of expert evidence under Section 907.02 and the Court, in the exercise of its gate-keeping function, should exclude them from trial.

The relevancy test applied by Wisconsin courts to determine this prong of the admissibility standard for expert evidence asks whether the expert testimony (1) is relevant; (2) is based on the expert witness's "specialized knowledge"; and (3) will help the trier of fact in determining an issue of fact. See, e.g., State v. Swope, 2008 WI App 175, ¶ 18, 315 Wis.2d 120, 762 N.W.2d 725 (citing State v. Peters, 192 Wis.2d 64, 687-88, 534 N.W2d 867 (Wis. Ct. App. 1995)). This test is intended to ensure a fair adversary trial based on relevant, admissible evidence, and not to resolve disputes over expert methodology. Swope, 2008 WI App 175, ¶ 19 (citing Daniel D. Blinka, Expert Testimony and the Relevancy Rule in the Age of Daubert, 90 Marq. L. Rev. 173, 175-76 (2006)). As such, courts must make the threshold determination as to whether an expert's methodology yields opinion evidence that is relevant to the jury's decision-making and should not leave it to the jury to weigh and decide between competing methodologies adopted by experts. In this regard, then, courts must decide whether the expert's opinion evidence is relevant. That is, whether the evidence to be presented to the jury by the expert will tend to make a fact of consequence to the determination of the action more probable or less probable that it would be without the evidence. See, e.g., Swope, 2008 WI App 175, ¶ 20 (citing Wis. Stat. § 904.01).

In its order granting summary judgment to Briggs that the Insurers breached their policies, the Court specifically defined for the parties what should have happened: during the Relevant Period, the Insurers should have paid the full amount of Briggs' covered asbestos costs on an all-sums rather than a pro rata basis. Specifically, the Court held that Briggs properly tendered the claims for all purposes and that the Insurers' policies and Plenco required them to pay Briggs 100 percent of its asbestos costs. The calculation of Briggs' compensatory damages for these breaches, then, is straightforward:

take the total amount that Briggs was entitled to be paid during the Relevant Period under the all-sums rule, and subtract the pro rata shares the Insurers previously paid. The difference is the amount of compensatory damages to which Briggs is now entitled.

Mermelstein's opinions adopting the improper and unpleaded setoff defense, though, purport to state what would have happened during a different time period—the post-Relevant Period—had the Insurers not breached during the Relevant Period. That hypothetical construction is simply not relevant. Further, there is no evidence to support Mermelstein's imaginary "what-if"/"would-have" world. And certainly, there is no evidence that can support Mermelstein's attempt to insert these improper and unfounded theories in an attempt to confuse the jury and distract it from the otherwise simple and straightforward task that will be put to it by the Court.

These theories and the calculations provided by Mermelstein simply are not relevant to the determination of the single remaining question for the fact finder in this case: what is the proper measure of compensatory damages owed by the Insurers to Briggs for their breaches of the policies based on the all-sums allocation for asbestos claims in the Relevant Period that this Court already found should have been paid to Briggs? Mermelstein's opinions and calculations, based as they are on theories asserted for the very first time by the Insurers at the 11th hour (and never properly pleaded in this case as they were required to be as a matter of law) constitute an improper attempt to distract the fact finder from the simple calculation the Court already determined should have happened. Mermelstein's theories, then, are not calculated or likely to make any fact that is material or consequential to the jury's determination of compensatory damages in this case more or less likely. As such, Mermelstein's opinions and calculations are not relevant and the Court should exclude them from trial pursuant to Section 907.02 for this additional reason.

D. Mermelstein's Post-2018 Reallocation Lacks a Proper Foundation, is Speculative, and is Therefore Unreliable.

Mermelstein opines that, if the Insurers had paid Briggs' covered asbestos costs during the Relevant Period on an all-sums basis (instead of breaching their policies), then the Insurers would have handled and allocated Briggs' asbestos costs differently during the post-Relevant Period (from mid-2018 forward). He claims that the Insurers would have covered a smaller portion of Briggs' post-2018 costs; in other words, he alleges that the Insurers effectively overpaid during the post-Relevant Period. He then seeks to charge Briggs for those supposed "overpayments" by using them as a setoff against Briggs' all-sums damages during the Relevant Period. As explained above, Mermelstein's post-Relevant Period setoff opinion is irrelevant to the remaining issue in this case—Briggs' Relevant Period damages—and is also unreliable. It should be excluded in its entirety.

But even if the setoff opinion were potentially relevant, it still would not be admissible here because Mermelstein's opinion is not based on a reliable foundation. By his own admission, as explained below, Mermelstein did not review any complaints or claim files to determine which policies were triggered by the post-Relevant Period asbestos claims that he purports to re-allocate, in part, to Briggs. Rather, he made unverified assumptions about which policies were triggered. Those unverified assumptions dictated the calculations that drove his incorrect and improper setoff opinion. If they are incorrect, then the setoff calculations would be different. Yet, he did nothing to verify—and did not even review the material that would be needed to verify—whether his assumptions are correct. Thus, his whole post-Relevant Period setoff calculation and his opinion about how much the Insurers allegedly "overpaid" is nothing but "conjecture dressed up in the guise of expert opinion." Giese, 2013 WI App 91, ¶ 19.

When responding to Briggs' expert's calculation of Briggs' damages during the Relevant Period, Mermelstein states that the first step in any proper allocation is to examine complaints to determine the alleged date of first exposure (DOFE) in each underlying asbestos action. (See Exhibit A, at 5.) Additionally, for asbestos claims that resulted in a settlement, Mermelstein opines that Briggs needs to establish a "Briggs-specific DOFE" based on claim files or other evidence. (See id. at 6–7.) His primary allocation assumes that Briggs would in fact need so-called "primary source" evidence of the DOFE, such as depositions transcripts or interrogatory responses, to establish coverage of a settlement/indemnity payment, although Mermelstein himself acknowledged at his deposition that he does not opine that such "primary" evidence is required. (See id. at 6; Exhibit B, at 194:19–195:8.)

Mermelstein did an about-face, however, when he turned to the post-Relevant Period, during which the Insurers are seeking to recover money from Briggs rather than vice versa. For the asbestos claims that Mermelstein reallocated from mid-2018 to the present, he admitted: "I don't believe I reviewed any complaints or claims files of claims after the Relevant Period." (Exhibit B, at 181:21–22.) Some of the costs that Mermelstein re-allocated were not even costs for a particular underlying asbestos claim, but instead a lump sum taken off the Insurers' loss runs. (See id. at 180:14–23 ("Q: In fact, this [amount on Mermelstein's spreadsheet] isn't even for an individual claim; isn't that right? A: That's correct.").)

In other words, Mermelstein did nothing to determine what the DOFEs were for the claims that he reallocated during the post-Relevant Period. When asked, "Did you look at the underlying claims and did you review the complaints to determine what the DOFEs were?", he answered frankly, "No." (Id. at 200:1–4.) For indemnity payments, he did not look for any "primary" evidence of a Briggs-specific DOFE during the post-Relevant Period. (See id. at 195:22–24 ("Q: You don't know whether this was based on any so-called primary evidence? A: That's correct.").) When asked whether he "consider[ed] whether that was in fact the DOFE based on the evidence," Mermelstein answered, "I didn't look for—at the claim files." (Id. at 196:9–11.) And when asked, "[F]or the post-Relevant Period … you didn't review claim files to verify that the DOFEs you used were the actual DOFEs?", he answered, "That's correct." (Id. at 215:6–10.)

Mermelstein's approach to the post-Relevant Period (where the Insurers are seeking a setoff) contrasts sharply with his approach to the Relevant Period (where Briggs is seeking its damages). For purposes of Briggs' damages, Mermelstein testified that Briggs needs evidence—such as complaints, asbestos litigation forms, deposition transcripts, or interrogatories—to establish the DOFE in an underlying asbestos lawsuit as a prerequisite to obtaining insurance coverage. (See id. at 193:16–17 ("I believe that sort of information is needed to establish a DOFE.").) But he dispenses with that requirement for the Insurers' post-Relevant Period reallocation and setoff. (See id. at 193:18–20 ("I didn't look at it for post-Relevant Period, no.").) Mermelstein's approach to the post-Relevant Period reallocation fails to meet his own requirements for a valid all-sums allocation. And he offers no explanation, expert or otherwise, as to why Briggs should be held to a higher standard than the Insurers in this regard. Thus, Mermelstein's approach is without any foundation and unreliable.

This is not a mere technical deficiency. It matters for his ultimate conclusion about the amount of the setoff that the Insurers are, according to Mermelstein, entitled to claim against Briggs' damages. He testified that if the DOFEs were different, it would have affected his whole reallocation. (See id. at 215:18–216:4.) In his deposition, Mermelstein was asked to confirm that this "may have affected the bottom-line conclusion about the amount that the insurers should pay Briggs." Mermelstein answered: "That's correct." (Id. at 216:5–9.) Thus, his conclusion about the amount of the setoff to which the Insurers are entitled—even if it were relevant to begin with (and it is not)—is speculative and unreliable. It must be excluded.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Briggs respectfully requests that the Court enter an order excluding any and all testimony by Dr. Benjamin Mermelstein, the expert witness for Insurers, about opinions regarding (1) that Insurers could and would have engaged in the practice of contemporaneous contribution of pro rata shares of covered asbestos costs during the Relevant Period, thereby reducing the all sums recovery to which Briggs is entitled; (2) that Insurers are entitled to offset alleged overpayments to Briggs for covered claims in the post-Relevant Period against compensatory damages owed to Briggs for all sums allocations of indemnity and defense costs for claims in the Relevant Period; and (3) all such other and further relief as the Court deems warranted and appropriate under the circumstances.

Alan Halperin, as Plan Administrator for the Wind-Down Estate of Briggs & Stratton Corporation v. Nationwide Indemnity Company, et al.,
Circuit Court of Wisconsin, Milwaukee County
Case No. 2019CV000795

August 31, 2022

I. Executive Summary

PACE Claims Services LLC ("PACE") was retained by Hansen Reynolds LLC ("Hansen Reynolds" or "Counsel") on behalf of plaintiff Alan D. Halperin, in his capacity as the Plan Administrator for the Wind-Down Estate of Briggs & Stratton Corporation ("Briggs")[1] to prepare a reallocation of asbestos-related claim costs to insurance policies issued to Briggs from 1940 through 1977.[2] Prior to preparing the reallocation, PACE was asked to review accounting records, invoices, and other information, as well as to collect and analyze costs paid from January 25, 2013 through early 2019[3] (the "Relevant Period" or "Relevant Period Costs") related to asbestos bodily injury claims filed against Briggs and paid by Briggs and its primary insurers.

To determine who would pay claim costs during the Relevant Period, starting in late 2003, Briggs and three of its primary insurers, Employers Mutual Liability Company of Wisconsin ("Wausau")[4], INA[5], and CNA[6], began allocating the indemnity and defense costs among each other using a pro rata time-on-the-risk methodology based on a claimant's alleged date of first exposure. Wausau, INA, and CNA insured Briggs at the primary level from roughly 1940 through 1977[7] and Briggs was effectively self-insured at the primary level subsequent to 1977. During the Relevant Period, a total of $6.44 million of indemnity and defense costs were paid in in relation to the underlying asbestos claims, of which the primary insurers were allocated and paid $2.04 million[8] and Briggs paid $4.39 million.

In 2009, the Wisconsin Supreme Court rejected pro rata time-on-the-risk allocation methodology and adopted the all-sums allocation methodology, whereby all costs for a claim may be allocated to a single period within the trigger dates of first exposure to manifestation. In or around July 2018 Briggs demanded and Wausau, INA, and CNA began paying most

[1] The term "Briggs" is used herein interchangeably to mean either Alan D. Halperin, in his capacity as the Plan Administrator for the Wind-Down Estate of Briggs & Stratton Corporation, or the original plaintiff Briggs & Stratton Corporation, as appropriate.
[2] I am aware that Wausau issued at least one pre-December 31, 1940 policy to Briggs; however, it is not relevant for purposes of this report.
[3] PACE received information on Briggs' asbestos-related claim costs for the period from 2009 through early 2019. Based on the Court's February 2020 ruling regarding statute of limitations issues, we have considered only costs paid on or after January 25, 2013 through early 2019 where it appeared the a portion of those costs had been allocated to and paid by the primary insurers, generally in accordance with a methodology laid out in a December 2003 email. The vast majority of these costs were incurred and paid prior to the end of July 2018, when the primary insurers began to change their payment methodology, although some of costs allocated under the December 2003 methodology were paid by Briggs in the August 2018 to March 2019 period. For the purposes of this analysis, the Relevant Period will include additional costs paid after July 2018 where the primary insurers paid amounts calculated based on the cost-share methodology outlined in the 2003 email.
[4] Wausau is affiliated with and sometimes called Nationwide in the source documentation.
[5] INA's policies are currently managed by Brandywine Holdings. INA is affiliated with ACE and Century Indemnity and sometimes referred to by those names in the source documentation. INA is presently part of Chubb INA Holdings.
[6] CNA's policies are currently managed by Resolute Management.
[7] It is our understanding that CNA contests whether they issued primary policies to Briggs from 1971 to 1973.
[8] For the purposes of this analysis, we generally assume that the primary insurers paid the percentages and amounts as set forth in the calculations in the December 2003 email. In at least two instances (i.e., the Soucy and Joseph indemnity claims), however, it appears the primary insurers paid percentages or amounts other than those outlined in the 2003 email, as explained below and in the attachments to this report. The figures in this report reflect our best attempt at determining what the primary insurers paid during the Relevant Period based on the available documents and discovery produced by the insurers to date. If additional information becomes available, Briggs reserves the right to update these figures should that be necessary to reflect the actual amounts paid.

costs going forward under an all-sums allocation methodology for claims with alleged dates of first exposure prior to 1978 (i.e., the period of the primary coverage for those insurers). However, the primary insurers did not pay any costs prior to July 2018 under an all-sums methodology.

PACE was asked to quantify the amount of indemnity and defense costs related to asbestos-related bodily injury claims actually paid by Briggs on a pro rata allocation basis (generally using the methodology outlined in the 2003 email) during the Relevant Period that otherwise would have been paid by its primary insurers under an all-sums allocation methodology. First, we reviewed indemnity and defense payment records to determine the amounts paid by Briggs and those allocated to (and presumably paid) its primary insurers during the Relevant Period. Table 1 below summarizes the results of our analysis of the actual allocated and paid amounts made by Briggs and its insurers.

Table 1: Summary of Actual Amounts Allocated and Paid
Relevant Period Costs

Payor	Indemnity	Defense	Total
Briggs	$1,806,295	$2,588,702	$4,394,997
Primary Insurers
Wausau	$109,535	$668,125	$777,660
INA	$219,214	$505,838	$725,052
CNA	$193,957	$343,902	$537,859
Subtotal Insurers	$522,705	$1,517,866	$2,040,571
Total	$2,329,000	$4,106,568	$6,435,568

Based on the allocation of costs using the methodology outlined in the 2003 email, Briggs paid nearly 70% of the indemnity and defense costs during the Relevant Period.

Second, we prepared a reallocation of the indemnity and defense costs for the Relevant Period based on an all-sums allocation methodology to determine the amounts that should have been paid. For this analysis, we assumed the insurer on the risk on the first day of a claimant's alleged exposure to asbestos would be allocated the entire indemnity and/or defense amount for that claim.[9] Table 2 below summarizes the results of our analysis of the should-have-been-paid amounts made by Briggs and its insurers.

[9] Under an all-sums allocation, the policyholder generally chooses the policy year or years (among the triggered years) to which claim costs are initially allocated (respecting policy limits) and, under this allocation, Briggs is choosing the earliest triggered insurer to allocate indemnity and defense costs. We understand that the costs allocated to the insurers may be joint and several and that insurers often reallocate the costs among themselves through contribution claims or by agreement.

Table 2: Summary of Should-Have-Been-Paid Amounts
Relevant Period Costs

Payor	Indemnity	Defense	Total
Briggs	$0	$0	$0
Primary Insurers
Wausau	$836,500	$1,940,532	$2,777,032
INA	$734,500	$2,099,265	$2,833,765
CNA	$758,000	$66,770	$824,770
Subtotal Insurers	$2,329,000	$4,106,568	$6,435,568
Total	$2,329,000	$4,106,568	$6,435,568

Based on our analysis, under an all-sums allocation methodology, the entire $6.44 million in Relevant Period Costs are allocated to Wausau, INA, and CNA, with none of the Relevant Period Costs allocated to Briggs.[10]

Lastly, we compared the amounts that Briggs and its insurers actually paid during the Relevant Period to the should-have-been-paid amounts. Table 3 below summarizes the difference in the actual allocated and paid amounts and the should-have-been paid amounts.

Table 3: Summary of Difference of Actual and Should-Have-Been Amounts Paid

Briggs	-$1,806,295	-$2,588,702	-$4,394,997
Primary Insurers
Wausau	$726,966	$1,272,407	$1,999,373
INA	$515,286	$1,593,427	$2,108,713
CNA	$564,044	-$277,132	$286,911
Subtotal Insurers	$1,806,295	$2,588,702	$4,394,997
Total	$0	$0	$0

In Table 3, negative amounts represent overpayments when comparing the actual amounts to the should-have-been amounts (i.e., Briggs paid $4.39 million more than what is should have paid under the all-sums reallocation).[11] Based on our analysis, under an all-sums allocation,

[10] Under an all-sums allocation where the policyholder is selecting the policy (or policies) in which to allocate claim costs, one or more insurers could be triggered and more than one insurer could be selected to be allocated the entire claim amount. For this allocation, the earliest insurer in the trigger period was selected. However, the costs could be allocated in ways other than what is shown in this report. In an all-sums allocation, the maximum that could be allocated to Wausau for the Relevant Period is $2.8 million, the maximum that could be allocated to INA is $5.6 million, and the maximum that could be allocated to CNA is $6.4 million. Regardless, in each such scenario, none of the Relevant Period Costs would be allocated to Briggs under an all-sums allocation.

[11] The negative amount in the difference for CNA for defense costs when comparing the actual allocations to the should-have-been reallocation is because relatively more defense costs are associated with earlier exposure dates and more defense costs are allocated to Wausau and INA under the all-sums reallocation than under the methodology outlined in the 2003 email.

Wausau, INA, and CNA are allocated and should have paid $4.39 million in additional costs during the Relevant Period relative to what those insurers actually paid.

II. Qualifications

I am a Senior Managing Director at PACE based in the Washington, DC office. I have over 28 years of professional experience providing economic, financial, and litigation support to clients involved in mass torts and environmental claims. I am the leader of the Advisory Services team, which advises clients on claim data analytics, insurance, and liability estimation matters.

I have been retained by insurers, reinsurers, policyholders, financial institutions, and bankruptcy trusts to provide expert services related to the analysis of claim data and associated costs. Specifically, I have provided asbestos claim data analysis and insurance allocation services to dozens of clients. My resume, including my prior testimony, is included as Attachment 1 to this report. A list of the materials I received and relied upon in forming my opinions is included as Attachment 2 to this report. PACE is compensated at an hourly rate of $575 per hour for my time on this engagement. I was assisted by others at PACE, as necessary, on this engagement.

PACE is a specialized and independent consulting firm with two offices in the United States, employing nearly 50 consulting and business process professionals. PACE's professionals have provided consulting and business process outsourcing services to clients involved in mass tort and environmental claims since the early 1990s. Through this work, PACE's professionals have gained experience in collecting, managing, and analyzing mass tort claim data, as well as allocating claim costs to insurance coverage. PACE's clients in this area have included individual defendants, joint defense groups, financial institutions, bankruptcy trusts, policyholders, insurers, and reinsurers.

III. Long-Tail Claim Allocation

The payment of "long-tail" claim costs where multiple insurance policies may be implicated can be complex. For insurance purposes, asbestos claims are considered long-tail claims. Long-tail claims are claims where harm or damage occurs over time (e.g., years or decades) and it is (a) thought that the harm or damage occurred over the entire period or (b) it is generally not possible to pinpoint the exact dates of harm or damage within the period. Over time, U.S. courts have generally ruled that the insurance policies that were in effect when the long-tail harm took place (i.e., when the claimants were allegedly exposed to asbestos) are the policies that are "triggered" by those claim losses. In most U.S. states, typically the insurance policies that were in place from the time the claimant was allegedly first exposed to asbestos to the manifestation of a claimant's asbestos-related disease[12] are generally the policies that are triggered by that claim. This length of time or period is known as the "trigger" period.

[12] In many instances the earlier of (a) the end of commercially available insurance coverage for asbestos claims, (b) the manifestation or diagnosis of an asbestos-related disease, (c) the claimant's date of death, or (d) the filing of an asbestos lawsuit is used as the end of the trigger period. For simplicity, we refer only to the manifestation of an asbestos-related disease in the above description.

The trigger period may vary for indemnity (i.e., claim settlement dollars) and defense costs. Often the trigger period for defense costs is based on the allegations of exposure in the complaint or other operative pleading, which may sometimes be vaguely or generally described. However, the trigger period for indemnity is often more precise and well-founded because, by the time of settlement or other resolution, additional discovery may have been completed, allowing the parties to better understand a claimant's period of exposure to asbestos generally or to a specific defendant's asbestos.

The allocation of long-tail claims costs among the insurance policies within the trigger period has been a contentious issue that has been litigated by insurers and policyholders for decades. Generally, states have adopted one of two general allocation methods for determining who should be responsible for paying those costs, "pro rata" or "all-sums." "Pro rata" (or "pro rata time-on-the risk") generally refers to an allocation methodology common in some U.S. states where long-tail claim losses are apportioned across insurance policies based on the relative amount of time each policy was triggered. There are many variations of pro rata allocations and sometime other factors are taken into consideration when allocating claim costs on a pro rata basis.

Pro rata contrasts with the "all-sums" allocation methodology, which is also common in some U.S. states. Under the all-sums methodology, the policyholder selects the policy (or policies) among those triggered policies and all of the losses are allocated to the selected policy (or policies). In an all-sums allocation where a policyholder selects the triggered policy or policies to pay all of the claim costs, the selected insurer(s) often reallocate those costs among some or all of the triggered policies by bringing contribution claims against the triggered, non-selected policies.[13]

IV. Background on Briggs' Asbestos Claim Liability and Insurance Recovery

My understanding is that Briggs has been named as a defendant in asbestos-related bodily injury claim lawsuits for many years. Many of these lawsuits allege exposure to asbestos in products manufactured and/or sold by Briggs during the period from 1940 through 1977. Briggs purchased primary and excess insurance policies from multiple insurers that purportedly cover asbestos-related bodily injury claim costs during this period.[14] Table 4 below summarizes the primary insurance coverage Briggs alleges it was issued from 1940 through 1977.[15]

Table 4: Summary of Briggs' Primary General Liability Insurance Coverage from 1940 to 1977

Insurer	Begin date	End Date
Wausau (Nationwide)	12/31/1940	12/31/1961
INA (ACE/Century Indemnity)	12/31/1961	12/31/1970
CNA	12/31/1970	12/31/1977

[13] Under an all-sums allocation, any right of the triggered insurers to reallocate costs among themselves does not affect the policyholder's ability to initially recover costs from any or all of the triggered policies. Thus, insurer contribution rights do not directly affect the analysis in this report.
[14] Briggs also carried certain general liability insurance coverage after December 31, 1977 and some asbestos-related bodily injury lawsuits against Briggs may allege dates of first exposure to Briggs' asbestos products after 1977. Those post-1977 claims, and whether they are covered by any of Briggs' post-1977 policies, are not generally relevant for this analysis.
[15] See footnote 7.

It is also my understanding that from the end of 2003 through early 2019, Briggs' insurers paid some of the indemnity and defense related to Briggs' asbestos claims that alleged first exposure to asbestos up to and including 12/31/1977. The amounts the insurers paid during this period were loosely based on a pro rata time-on-the-risk allocation of indemnity and defense costs beginning with the date of first exposure alleged by the claimant.[16] Briggs was also allocated a share of costs for periods where coverage was not initially confirmed (e.g., policies were missing) and for periods after 1977.[17] If a date of first exposure was alleged to be after the ending date of an insurer's policies, that insurer did not share in the payment of indemnity or defense costs. If a date of first exposure was vague or unknown, then all of the primary insurers and Briggs were allocated a share of costs until a more definitive first exposure date could be determined.

This cost-share methodology was summarized in an email dated December 3, 2003 shared among Wausau, INA, CNA, Royal, and Briggs' insurance broker, Willis. Among other things, the email set forth some calculations of percentages of shares to be paid by the primary insurers and Briggs depending upon a claimant's alleged date of first exposure to asbestos. The span of time covered in the calculations went from December 31, 1940 through December 31, 2003. The allocations of the costs were simplistic in that the insurers' shares did not change based on individual alleged dates of first exposure, nor did the period of "uninsured coverage" expand as years progressed (i.e., 2003 was used as a fixed endpoint regardless of when a claim manifested or whether insurance coverage covering asbestos claims was commercially available). Rather, the shares the insurers were allocated and paid were fixed and based solely on whether or not a date of first exposure fell into a certain period of time.

For example, Wausau's share of indemnity and defense was fixed at 34.43% for any claim with a date of first exposure prior to 1962, regardless of when the date of first exposure was actually alleged (provided it was before 1962). The 34.43% was calculated by dividing the amount of time (in months) that the Wausau policies were acknowledged (252 months, or 21 years multiplied by 12 months, from December 31, 1940 through December 31, 1961) by the period from December 31, 1940 through December 31, 2003 (732 months, or 61 years).[18]

Table 5 sets forth our understanding of the initial allocation shares for Wausau, INA, and CNA based on the December 2003 email.

Table 5: Initial Percentage Shares Allocated to Primary Insurers from December 2003 Email

Insurer	Date of First Exposure <1962 or Unknown	Date of First Exposure between 1962 and 1970	Date of First Exposure between 1971 and 1977[19]
Wausau	34.43%	0.00%	0.00%
INA	9.84%	15.00%	0.00%
CNA	1.64%	2.50%	2.50%

[16] As described later in the report, the pro rata calculation outlined in the 2003 email was not based on specific years of alleged first exposure, but rather the period or description of the claimant's alleged year of exposure.
[17] It is our understanding that Briggs paid the share allocated to Royal Insurance, who issued fronting policies to Briggs from 1978 to April 1986. See also footnote 13.
[18] The percentage calculations in the December 2003 email excluded the period from April 1, 1986 through April 1, 1988 (i.e., 24 months), a period in which asbestos exclusions purportedly existed in Briggs' primary insurance policies.
[19] The percentage shares in this column are not described in the December 2003 email. However, there appear to be indemnity and defense costs for claims that were allocated in this manner.

CNA's share changed, presumably after a portion of CNA's missing primary coverage from 1971 to 1976 was established.[20] Thus, for the majority of the Relevant Period, the allocation shares were as shown in Table 6.[21] As a general matter, it appears the primary insurers paid indemnity and defense costs for claims that triggered their policies according to these percentages.

Table 6: Percentage Shares Allocated to Primary Insurers during Relevant Period

Insurer	Date of First Exposure <1962 or Unknown	Date of First Exposure between 1962 and 1970	Date of First Exposure between 1971 and 1977[22]
Wausau	34.43%	0.00%	0.00%
INA	9.84%	15.00%	0.00%
CNA	6.56%	10.00%	10.00%

Because of the number of claims and policies, vague or unknown alleged dates of first exposure, undeveloped allocation law, and/or other factors, it is not uncommon for primary insurers to develop simplified methods for dividing asbestos claim costs, especially defense costs, among paying participants. The use of fixed percentages for participants is one of those methods. These methods provide ease of administration and can mitigate disagreements between multiple insurers over alleged exposure dates and other claim characteristics.

In 2009 the Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled that the allocation of asbestos-related claim costs between insurers and policyholders should be on an all-sums basis, such that any insurer whose policy is triggered (i.e., overlaps the period from alleged first exposure through manifestation of an asbestos-related disease) may be responsible for all indemnity and defense costs attributed to that policy up to its applicable limits. Under this ruling, Briggs would not be responsible for any asbestos-related claim costs where the alleged date of first exposure was prior to 12/31/1977 (i.e., the period for which Wausau, INA, and CNA issued primary insurance policies), provided there were still remaining limits of insurance under any triggered policies (i.e., policies triggered based on the alleged date of first exposure).[23]

In or around July 2018, Briggs made a demand to Wausau, INA, and CNA to pay covered asbestos costs based on an all-sums allocation. In response, Wausau, INA, and CNA began paying asbestos-related bodily injury claim indemnity and defense costs in full on an ongoing basis where the alleged dates of first exposure were vague or unknown or prior to [20] It appears from the December 2003 email that primary coverage may have been missing or disputed for 1961 to 1964 (INA) and 1971 to 1976 (CNA). It appears that CNA's allocation share was increased when the 1971 to 1976 coverage was established, although INA's share did not change over time. According to interrogatory responses, presently INA acknowledges the coverage from December 31, 1961 through December 31, 1964, but CNA still disputes the coverage from December 31, 1970 through December 31, 1973.

[21] From July 2015 through June 2016, it appears that CNA's share of defense costs on invoices initially reverted to 1.6% and 2.5% from 6.56% and 10%, respectively. It also appears CNA was issued indemnity invoices at the lower percentages for some period of time during the Relevant Period. From correspondence, it appears these calculations were corrected back to the higher amounts and CNA was invoiced at the higher percentages. For our analysis, we assumed that CNA was ultimately allocated, and presumably paid, indemnity and defense costs at the higher percentages. If additional information reveals these are not the amounts CNA actually paid, Briggs reserves to the right amend these calculations.

[22] The percentage shares in this column are not described in the December 2003 email. However, there appear to be indemnity and defense costs for claims that were allocated in this manner.

[23] See footnote 8.

December 31, 1977.[24] The primary insurers did not agree, however, to reallocate and reimburse Briggs for asbestos claim costs incurred before July 2018 on an all-sums basis.

V. Documentation of Claim Payments for the Relevant Period

Counsel for Briggs provided us with accounting records and other information related to the payments made by Briggs and its primary insurers for indemnity and defense costs from 2009 through early 2019. We reviewed those records and created a database of amounts paid by claimant for the period from January 25, 2013 through March 31, 2019 where it appeared the amounts had been allocated using the methodology outlined in the December 2003 email. That database included information on how each amount was allocated to the three primary insurers. Using this database, we can determine the actual indemnity and defense costs allocated and paid for each claim by Briggs, Wausau, INA, and CNA during the Relevant Period. The total indemnity allocated and paid during the Relevant Period included in the database was $2.3 million and the total defense costs allocated and paid during the Relevant Period included was $4.1 million.

A. Indemnity

The primary sources of allocation and payment information that we received and reviewed for indemnity payments (i.e., claim settlement payments) were extracts from Briggs' TyMetrix accounting system. These files summarized the payment entries for the 43 indemnity claims paid between January 25, 2013 and July 31, 2018. These files showed the total amount paid and payment date for each indemnity payment. They also contained the breakdown of the shares of the indemnity allocations for each insurer and Briggs. We confirmed the total settlement amount for many of these payments by also reviewing the canceled checks used for payment. We reviewed canceled checks for 25 of the 43 indemnity payments during the Relevant Period and confirmed that they matched the amounts shown as paid in our database. For each indemnity payment during the Relevant Period, we entered the allocation information into our database.

For two indemnity claims, Joseph and Soucy, the primary insurers appeared to deviate from their calculated shares using the methodology outlined in the December 2003 email. For those two claims we relied on correspondence and loss runs to determine each insurers' paid indemnity amount. The database reflects these adjusted allocations.

B. Defense Costs

Similar to indemnity payments, the primary sources of allocation and payment information that we received and reviewed for defense costs payments were extracts from Briggs' TyMetrix accounting system. These files summarized the payment entries for the approximately 4,300 defense costs payments between January 25, 2013 and March 31, 2019. These files showed the total amount paid and payment date for each defense payment. They also contained the breakdown of the shares of the defense costs allocations by each primary insurer and Briggs. We were able to obtain the allocation by insurer for most of the approximately 4,300 defense cost payments made during the Relevant Period from the TyMetrix files, most of which were for the period from 2015 through 2018.

[24] See footnote 3. Approximately $191,000 in defense costs paid after July 2018 appear to have been allocated using the methodology outlined in the December 2003 email and those costs are included in our analyses.

We supplemented the Briggs' TyMetrix defense costs information with information produced by CNA. The information produced by CNA in this regard was originally sent to CNA by Briggs and included the insurer allocations for payments where the Briggs' TyMetrix data did not show the allocation of defense costs. The CNA information primarily provided us data on the insurer breakdowns in the 2013 to 2015 time period. We added the information from the CNA production to our database.

C. Summary of Amounts Paid by Year in the Relevant Period

Table 7 to this report summarizes the results of our review of the indemnity and defense costs payments during the Relevant Period by year.

Table 7: Summary of Indemnity and Defense Costs Payments by Year
Relevant Period Costs

Year	Wausau	INA	CNA	Briggs	Total
2013	$42,614	$83,563	$55,708	$417,776	$599,662
2014	$72,003	$142,877	$95,851	$719,723	$1,030,454
2015	$213,568	$184,920	$177,171	$1,689,429	$2,265,089
2016	$119,862	$101,485	$67,656	$507,318	$796,321
2017	$175,612	$106,816	$71,211	$533,928	$887,567
2018	$153,526	$101,120	$67,414	$505,468	$827,528
2019	$475	$4,271	$2,847	$21,354	$28,947
Total	$777,660	$725,052	$537,859	$4,394,997	$6,435,568

Attachment 3 to this report summarizes the amount of indemnity and defense costs allocated to, and presumably paid by, Wausau, INA, CNA, and Briggs during the Relevant Period. Attachment 4 to this report summarizes the amount of indemnity and defense costs allocated to Wausau, INA, and CNA by claimant during the Relevant Period. Attachments 5 (Indemnity) and 6 (Defense Costs) contain information on all approximately 4,350 asbestos claim indemnity and defense payments made during the Relevant Period.

VI. Reallocation of Relevant Period Costs to Insurers

Counsel provided, as an assumption, the methodology for reallocating the indemnity and defense costs paid during the Relevant Period to Wausau, INA, and CNA. Specifically, we reallocated claimant's indemnity and defense cost amounts, if applicable, to the primary insurer whose policy was triggered based on the claimant's alleged date of first exposure. Because we did not have all of the alleged dates of first exposure for each claimant, we used the actual amounts allocated to (and presumably paid by) Wausau, INA, and CNA, to determine which insurer's policy was triggered.

For example, if all three insurers paid on an indemnity claim, we assumed the claimant's alleged date of first exposure to an asbestos-containing product manufactured or sold by Briggs was prior to January 1, 1962 and allocated all of the indemnity dollars to Wausau. If only INA and CNA paid on an indemnity claim, we assumed the alleged date of first exposure was between January 1, 1962 and December 31, 1970 and allocated all of the indemnity dollars to INA. If only CNA paid on an indemnity claim, we assumed the alleged date of first exposure was between January 1, 1971 and December 31, 1977 and allocated all of the indemnity dollars to CNA. We applied the same principles to the defense cost payments.

Attachment 7 to this report summarizes the amount of indemnity and defense costs reallocated to Wausau, INA, and CNA by claimant during the Relevant Period. Attachments 8 (Indemnity) and 9 (Defense Costs) contain information on the reallocation of all of the approximately 4,350 asbestos claim indemnity and defense cost payments made during the Relevant Period.

As part of our work, we reviewed available information on some of the claimants' alleged dates of first exposures. We reviewed complaints and other information from settled claims files (i.e., claims where Briggs paid indemnity and some defense costs) to test the original allocation of indemnity costs across insurers and our reallocation of those indemnity costs in this report. For the vast majority of the indemnity claims, we were able to verify that the alleged date of first exposure in the information provided supported the allocation to the primary insurers using the methodology outlined in the December 2003 email.

We also reviewed complaints for approximately half of the claims that were dismissed and for which defense costs were paid during the Relevant Period in an attempt to determine the alleged date of first exposure that could be used to determine the initial trigger date for an allocation of defense costs. For the vast majority of the claims with only defense costs, we were able to verify that the alleged date of first exposure in the information provided supported the allocation to the primary insurers under the December 2003 allocation methodology.

The all-sums allocation we prepared allocates costs to the primary insurers, but not to individual policies. We did not allocate amounts to individual policies because we did not have enough information as to specific alleged first exposure dates of all claims, nor did we have information on the remaining limits of the individual Wausau, INA, and CNA primary policies. Thus, it is possible that some policies may be exhausted and our reallocation of costs for the Relevant Period may need to be adjusted based upon additional information provided by the insurers in discovery. As stated previously, it is also possible that the primary insurers may reallocate these indemnity and defense costs under an equitable contribution theory or agreement and the reallocation results may be different than the amounts shown for each individual primary insurer in our analysis. Regardless, under any such scenarios, there would be no costs allocated to Briggs for the Relevant Period under an all-sums allocation.

VII. Calculation of Amounts Due Briggs for the Relevant Period

The amounts due Briggs from Wausau, INA, and CNA are the difference between what the three insurers were actually allocated and presumably paid during the Relevant Period relative to the amount that should have been paid by the three insurers during the Relevant Period. In total, Briggs paid $4.39 million that should have been paid by Wausau, INA, and CNA. Those amounts are summarized above in Table 3. Collectively, the three insurers owe Briggs $4.39 million in connection with the Relevant Period Costs.[25]

[25] This amount does not include any applicable interest or any other, non-contractual damages. I was not asked to calculate any other such damages at this time.

VIII. Ongoing Work

PACE's work in this matter is ongoing. We reserve the right to update and refine this report based on new information, ongoing discovery and investigation, court rulings, new requests from Counsel, and further quality control. We also may be called upon to respond to opinions offered by the insurers' experts.

Professional Summary

Kip Makuc is a Senior Managing Director in the Washington, DC office of PACE Claims Services LLC and the leader of the mass tort liability estimation and insurance teams.

Mr. Makuc has significant experience providing accounting, financial, and litigation support services to clients involved in mass torts, particularly asbestos bodily injury claims. Since 1995, Mr. Makuc has assisted policyholders, insurers, reinsurers, financial institutions, bankruptcy trusts, and their legal counsel on a variety of asbestos, environmental, and other product liability and insurance matters, including claim file reviews, claim data analysis, document production reviews, claim categorization, insurance and reinsurance recovery, valuation, future liability estimation, coverage analysis and disputes, bankruptcy analyses, and claim cost allocation and insurer billing.

Mr. Makuc has prepared expert reports and testified on behalf of both insurers and policyholders on claim data analytics, insurance claim valuation, and allocation matters. For a number of publicly traded and privately held companies, he estimates toxic tort liability for financial reserving purposes. He is a frequent speaker on asbestos claim trends and forecasting future liability.

Professional Experience – Insurance and Claims

Although most of Mr. Makuc's work has involved the analysis of asbestos claim liability, he also has experience with other types of mass tort liability, including environmental, lead, silica, talc, coal, benzene, welding rod, molestation/abuse, PFOA, construction defect, medical device, and other product defect, pharma, and legal defense cost claims.

Mr. Makuc has extensive experience in conducting asbestos and other product liability claim file reviews and audits. He has conducted reviews, primarily using random samples, for data integrity and extraction, claim classification, and compliance purposes, both for policyholders and insurers. Many of these reviews have been focused on the categorization of asbestos bodily injury claims into products or non-products (premises and/or operations) hazards. These projects involved extensive review and capture of detailed information from claims files and corporate documents, as well as significant work with databases to categorize and analyze the information. Many of these engagements involve the generation of random samples, document management, capture and coding of relevant information, and analysis of results. Mr. Makuc spent extensive time reviewing data gathering methods and data quality control, including development of parameters for anomalous data. Mr. Makuc has developed and written procedures to be used in claim file review and auditing.

PACE

Christopher P. Makuc

Senior Managing Director

He has assisted clients in profiling asbestos claim populations. He has been involved in projects attempting to identify characteristics and trends of large numbers of claims based on various attributes for use in financial analysis. In particular, he has performed analyses relating to the asbestos claims of companies in Chapter 11 proceedings or contemplating filing for bankruptcy, including claim valuations for trust distribution procedures.

Mr. Makuc has assisted both insurers and policyholders using insurance allocation models to compare historic and projected bodily injury and property damage claim liability under different coverage and allocation scenarios. He has also assisted in cash-flow, policy-buyback, and interest calculation analyses. Mr. Makuc has prepared monthly billings to insurers for major policyholders based on allocations of long-tail claims. He has also prepared allocations using various methodologies for use in insurance coverage litigation and settlement negotiations, insurer insolvency, solvent schemes of arrangement, and bankruptcy claims. He has managed teams of software developers responsible for the implementation of complex allocation methodologies and computations.

He has also assisted multiple clients with due diligence and the estimation of future asbestos-related and other liabilities for purposes of financing and acquisition evaluations. This liability estimation work has been prepared using a company's historical data and experience, as well as assumptions regarding litigation strategies and trends in data discussed with counsel and the client. These projects have included the detailed review of corporate, claim, and insurance documents. Additionally, for many privately held and public companies Mr. Makuc performs annual or biannual toxic tort liability estimations for financial reporting purposes.

Mr. Makuc has experience assisting counsel in large environmental matters, including the allocation of investigative and remediation losses to insurance coverage, as well as the collection, analysis, and summarization of those costs.

He has assisted both insurers and policyholders in cost data analysis and summarization of bodily injury, property damage, and legal defense costs related to insurance coverage litigations in cases involving such varied causes of liability as train derailments, defamation claims, toxic torts, respirators, and industrial processes. These reviews have involved both the review of paper invoices and large amounts of electronic data, as well as extensive database work and analytics in support of external and internal witnesses.

Mr. Makuc has prepared valuations of insurance and reinsurance portfolios. These matters have involved evaluating the sufficiency of policy reserves, cost allocations, and estimates of future losses.

Mr. Makuc has assisted clients in transitioning their claims administration and insurer billing functions to PACE. These projects involve managing the transfer of data and capabilities from insurers or third-party vendors, including data collection and maintenance, data validation, accounting, and insurance related functions.
