UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF MICHIGAN
SOUTHERN DIVISION - DETROIT

IN THE MATTER OF:

Fieldstone A&E, LLC, d/b/a Fieldstone Architecture & Engineering, d/b/a Fieldstone A & E, d/b/a Fieldstone Engineering, d/b/a Fieldstone Architecture, Debtor.	Bankruptcy Case No. 26-48494-tjt Judge Thomas J. Tucker Chapter 11 Subchapter V

MOTION FOR ENTRY OF ORDER (I) ESTABLISHING DEADLINES FOR FILING PROOF OF CLAIM; (II) APPROVING THE FORM AND MANNER OF NOTICE OF THE BAR DATES; AND (III) APPROVING THE FORM OF PUBLICATION NOTICE

NOW COMES Fieldstone A&E, LLC, d/b/a Fieldstone Architecture & Engineering, d/b/a Fieldstone A&E (the "Debtor"), as Debtor and Debtor in Possession, by and through its counsel, Stevenson & Bullock, P.L.C., hereby requests that this Court enter an Order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 1 (i) setting deadlines by which all creditors, including a claim regarding a construction defect, must submit proofs of claim in this chapter 11 case; (ii) approving the form and manner of the proposed Notices of the Bar Dates (as defined below), attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (the "General Bar Date Notice"); and (iii) approving the form of the proposed publication notice, attached hereto as Exhibit 3 (the "Publication Notice").

The Debtor, in support of this Motion for Entry of Order (I) Establishing Deadlines for Filing Proof of Claim; (II) Approving the Form and Manner of Notice of the Bar Dates; and (III) Approving the Form of Publication Notice (the "Motion"), states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

The Debtor, through this Motion, seeks to establish a comprehensive notice process to provide sufficient notice of the filing of this bankruptcy case and the claims allowance process to interested parties across the country. Importantly, because of the nature of its business and a lack of visibility to end users, the Debtor cannot readily identify all potential claimants, despite its diligent efforts. To that extent, the Debtor proposes to provide notice via publication in each major municipality in which it conducted business across the country, provide actual notice to approximately 2,000 addresses with the assistance of its claims agent, and also provide actual notice to the approximate 500 interested parties listed on the Debtor's mailing matrix.

JURISDICTION

1. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334.

2. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(A),(B), and (O).

3. Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

BACKGROUND

I. General Background

4. On July 30, 2026 (the "Petition Date"), the Debtor commenced this case by filing a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code and elected to proceed as a debtor under subchapter V pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1182.

5. The Debtor continues to manage and operate its business as debtor-in-possession pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 1184 of the Bankruptcy Code.

6. Deborah L. Fish has been appointed the subchapter V Trustee in this case.

7. Ryan Rasmussen is the Debtor's Responsible Person and is authorized to act on behalf of the Debtor in this chapter 11 case.

8. The factual background relating to the Debtor's commencement of the chapter 11 case and operations is set forth in detail in the Declaration of Ryan Rasmussen in Support of First Day Pleadings. Docket No. 16.

9. On the Petition Date, the Debtor filed its Motion Seeking Authorization to Retain Kurtzman Carson Consultants, LLC d/b/a Verita Global as its Claims and Noticing Agent (the "Claims Agent"). Upon approval by the Court, the Claims Agent will, among other duties, maintain the claims register, receive and process proofs of claim, administer the noticing procedures approved by the Court, and perform related claims administration services.

II. Background Regarding Anticipated Claims.

10. The Debtor is an architectural and engineering firm that has provided professional design, planning, and consulting services, and, where separately engaged, limited construction administration services, in connection with numerous residential, multifamily, amenity, commercial, mixed-use, condominium, and planned community developments since 2011. For production homebuilder clients, the Debtor's contracted deliverable is customarily a "builder's set" of construction documents, consisting of the minimum drawings required to obtain a building permit, in which the installation of specific components is governed by manufacturer installation instructions and by the builder's own construction standards maintained outside the construction documents.

11. A key reason for filing is Debtor is currently defending multiple construction defect matters throughout Florida arising primarily from multifamily projects and amenity structures. Most of these matters arise under Chapter 558, Florida Statutes, which establishes a pre-suit notice and response process and does not itself constitute a lawsuit, judgment, or finding of liability. The notices and pleadings predominantly describe alleged deficiencies in the construction and installation of building components, including windows, stucco, siding, sliding glass doors, roofing, drainage, and water intrusion, and also assert allegations of design deficiency against the Debtor, which in most matters are stated in general terms and do not identify any specific deficiency in the Debtor's construction documents. The Debtor is typically named as one of many project participants.

12. Several of the matters also include contractual defense and indemnity claims by developers based on agreements requiring Fieldstone to defend and indemnify developers for losses allegedly resulting from Fieldstone's professional services (collectively, "Construction Defect Claims"). In some of these cases, developers have not quantified their demands. In at least one matter, a developer has asserted a quantified pre-suit settlement demand premised on its position that the Debtor's contractual duty to defend is broader than any duty to indemnify and does not depend upon whether the Debtor is found liable. The Debtor disputes that demand in its entirety. No judgment has been entered upon it, no liability has been adjudicated or admitted, and the demand remains contingent, unliquidated, and disputed. Several matters have proceeded to mediation, and arbitration is anticipated in certain matters, although no arbitration proceeding has been initiated.

13. Overall, the pending matters expose Debtor to substantial disputed, contingent, and unliquidated liabilities, although many claims remain unproven, several are subject to arbitration provisions or procedural stays, and Debtor continues to assert significant defenses regarding scope of work, contractor responsibility, and contractual allocation of risk.

14. The Debtor presently has more than five hundred (500) notice parties listed on its matrix and expects additional actual, contingent, disputed, unliquidated, or unmatured claims. Known and potential notice parties include vendors, contract counterparties, governmental entities, insurers, developers, contractors, subcontractors, condominium and homeowners' associations, property owners, residents, and persons or entities that have asserted or may assert claims arising from the Debtor's professional services.

15. Through the review of the Debtor's books and records, the Debtor has identified approximately 86,000 addresses associated with projects for which it provided services (collectively "Project Addresses"). The Project Addresses relate to multifamily, single-family and amenity structures and were derived from information provided by the Debtor's builder clients. In certain instances a builder did not provide lot or unit address information to the Debtor, and the Debtor's records may therefore be incomplete. Moreover, the Debtor's builder clients did not provide the Debtor with the names of the owners or occupants at those addresses.

16. The Project Addresses span multiple states, including Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, and Tennessee.

17. To focus notice on the projects most likely to give rise to Construction Defect Claims, the Debtor has refined the Project Addresses to a list of approximately 2,000 addresses associated with multifamily projects and amenity structures (the "Multifamily Project List"). The Multifamily Project List captures the categories of projects from which the overwhelming majority of the Debtor's known and reasonably anticipated Construction Defect Claims arise.

18. Mailing the General Bar Date Notice to all 86,000 Project Addresses would cost approximately $400,000 and would not provide materially better notice. Many of the Project Addresses are associated with single-family projects that are unlikely to give rise to claims, may be incomplete or outdated, and do not identify the persons or entities that owned or occupied the properties when the Debtor performed its services or that presently own or occupy them. Thus, mailing notice indiscriminately to every Project Address would impose a substantial and unnecessary burden on the Debtor's estate without ensuring that the notice reaches the people who may hold claims.

19. By contrast, mailing the General Bar Date Notice to the parties listed on the Debtor's creditor matrix and to the addresses on the Multifamily Project List, together with publication notice directed to persons whose identities or addresses are unknown or not reasonably ascertainable, is the most effective, practical, and cost-efficient means of providing notice under the circumstances. The estimated cost of mailing notice to the Multifamily Project List is approximately $15,000. This targeted mailing and publication program focuses direct notice on the projects most likely to generate Construction Defect Claims while providing broad notice to unknown or unidentifiable claimants. It therefore maximizes the likelihood that potential creditors will receive actual or constructive notice of the applicable Bar Dates while preserving estate resources for the benefit of all creditors.

20. The existence of actual and potential Construction Defect Claims creates substantial uncertainty regarding the total liabilities of the bankruptcy estate and materially affects the Debtor's ability to formulate and confirm a feasible plan of reorganization under subchapter V of chapter 11. Establishing a comprehensive claims process at the outset of this case is therefore necessary to identify the universe of creditors, permit the orderly administration and reconciliation of claims, provide constitutionally adequate notice to known and unknown claimants, and facilitate the Debtor's prompt and successful reorganization. Accordingly, the Debtor respectfully submits that the proposed Bar Dates and notice procedures constitute the best notice practicable under the circumstances and represent the most efficient, equitable, and legally appropriate means of affording all interested parties due process and a meaningful opportunity to file timely proofs of claim.

PROPOSED BAR DATES AND PROOF OF CLAIM PROCEDURES

I. Establishment of Bar Dates

21. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1189(b), the Debtor must file a subchapter V plan not later than ninety (90) days after the order for relief. The deadline to file the Debtor's chapter 11 small business subchapter V plan is October 28, 2026 (the "Plan Filing Deadline").

22. Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(3) provides that, in a chapter 11 case, "the court shall fix and for cause shown may extend the time within which proofs of claim or interest may be filed." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(3). Accordingly, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court establish the following deadlines for the filing of proofs of claim in this chapter 11 case:

a. a General Bar Date applicable to all non-governmental creditors;

b. a Governmental Bar Date applicable to governmental units as defined in 11 U.S.C. § 101(27); and

c. a Rejection Bar Date applicable to claims arising from the rejection of executory contracts and unexpired leases.

23. The requested Bar Dates are intended to permit the orderly administration of this estate, facilitate the reconciliation of claims, and provide the Debtor with the information necessary to formulate and confirm a feasible plan of reorganization under subchapter V of chapter 11.

A. General Claims and Construction Defect Claims Bar Date.

24. Except as otherwise provided herein or by further order of the Court, the Debtor requests that the Court establish October 22, 2026, at 4:00 p.m. (prevailing Eastern Time) as the deadline (the "General Bar Date") by which every person or entity, other than a Governmental Unit, asserting a prepetition claim against the Debtor must file a Proof of Claim.

25. The General Bar Date shall apply to all claims arising before the Petition Date, including, without limitation:

a. secured claims;

b. unsecured claims;

c. priority claims;

d. contingent claims;

e. unliquidated claims;

f. disputed claims;

g. indemnity claims;

h. contribution claims;

i. professional negligence claims;

j. architectural malpractice claims;

k. construction defect claims;

l. breach of contract claims;

m. warranty claims;

n. building code claims;

o. claims arising under state or local statutes or ordinances; and

p. any other claim constituting a "claim" within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. §101(5).

26. The Debtor proposes that notice be provided by September 8, 2026, so that the General Bar Date occurs forty-five (45) days after service of the General Bar Date Notice and publication of the Publication Notice. Forty-five (45) days provides creditors with substantially more notice than the minimum required under Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(7) and is reasonably calculated to provide all known and unknown creditors with sufficient time to investigate, prepare, and file timely Proofs of Claim.

B. Governmental Bar Date.

27. Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9) and Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(3), the Debtor requests that the Court establish January 26, 2027, at 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time) as the deadline (the "Governmental Bar Date") for governmental units to file Proofs of Claim.

28. The Governmental Bar Date is 180 days after the Petition Date, as mandated by section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code. See 11 U.S.C. § 502(b)(9).

C. Rejection Bar Date.

29. The Debtor further requests that the Court establish a deadline for filing claims arising from the rejection of executory contracts or unexpired leases pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code.

30. Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, any person or entity asserting a claim arising from the rejection of an executory contract or unexpired lease (a "Rejection Claim") shall file a Proof of Claim no later than the later of:

a. the General Bar Date; or

b. thirty (30) days after entry of the order approving the rejection of the applicable executory contract or unexpired lease.

31. The Debtor shall serve notice of the applicable Rejection Bar Date upon the affected contract or lease counterparty contemporaneously with service of the order approving rejection or such other notice as the Court directs.

II. Parties Required to File Proofs of Claim

32. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(2), and except as otherwise provided herein, every person or entity holding a prepetition claim against the Debtor shall file a Proof of Claim on or before the applicable Bar Date if that person or entity seeks to participate in any distribution under a confirmed plan.

33. Without limitation, the following persons and entities shall file Proofs of Claim:

a. any creditor whose claim is not scheduled by the Debtor;

b. any creditor whose scheduled claim is listed as contingent, disputed, or unliquidated;

c. any creditor who disagrees with the amount, classification, or priority assigned to its claim in the Debtor's schedules;

d. any person or entity asserting indemnity, contribution, or reimbursement claims;

e. any insurer, surety, or guarantor asserting derivative claims;

f. any person or entity asserting a Construction Defect Claim arising from the Debtor's architectural, engineering, planning, design, consulting, inspection, or construction administration services;

g. any homeowner, condominium association, homeowners' association, property owner, developer, builder, contractor, subcontractor, supplier, consultant, or other entity asserting actual, contingent, or latent claims relating to the Debtor's prepetition professional services; and

h. any person or entity asserting a claim that is otherwise not deemed filed under section 1111(a) of the Bankruptcy Code.

III. Parties Not Required to File Proof of Claim

30. The following persons and entities shall not be required to file Proofs of Claim unless otherwise ordered by the Court:

a. any creditor whose claim has already been properly filed;

b. any creditor whose claim is listed in the Debtor's schedules as undisputed, noncontingent, and liquidated and who agrees with the scheduled amount and classification;

c. any person whose claim has been allowed by prior order of this Court;

d. any person whose claim has been paid in full;

e. any administrative expense claimant whose request for payment is governed by sections 503 or 507 of the Bankruptcy Code; and

f. any person specifically exempted by the Bankruptcy Code or further order of this Court.

IV. Consequences of Failing to File a Timely Proof of Claim

31. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(2), any person or entity required to file a Proof of Claim that fails to do so on or before the applicable Bar Date shall be forever barred, estopped, and enjoined from asserting such prepetition claim against the Debtor or the bankruptcy estate, except as otherwise provided by the Bankruptcy Code, the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Court's Bar Date Order, or a confirmed chapter 11 plan.

32. A creditor that fails to timely file a Proof of Claim may not:

a. Vote on a chapter 11 plan on account of such claim;

b. Receive any distribution from the bankruptcy estate on account of such claim;

c. Participate in distributions under a confirmed chapter 11 plan on account of such claim; or

d. Assert such claim against the reorganized Debtor to the extent provided by the Bankruptcy Code, the confirmation order, and the confirmed chapter 11 plan.

33. Because the Debtor's business involved architectural and engineering services for numerous residential and commercial developments over an extended period, these Bar Dates are particularly important to identify and resolve latent Construction Defect Claims before confirmation of a subchapter V plan. Establishing comprehensive claims procedures at this stage will promote the efficient administration of the estate, provide constitutionally adequate notice to known and unknown claimants, and facilitate the Debtor's successful reorganization.

NOTICE PROCEDURES

A. Notice of the General Bar Date and Governmental Bar Dates

34. No later than September 8, 2026, and not less than forty-five (45) days before the General Bar Date, the Debtor shall serve by first-class United States mail, postage prepaid, the General Bar Date Notice, substantially in the form attached as Exhibit 2, together with Personalized Bankruptcy Form 410, on all creditors listed on the Debtor's matrix and other notice recipients described below, including every known or reasonably ascertainable multifamily address.

35. The Notice of Bar Date shall:

a. identify the General Bar Date, the governmental Bar Date, and any Rejection Damages Bar Date established by the Court;

b. include detailed instructions regarding the filing of timely Proofs of Claims;

c. identify those creditors and parties who are not required to file Proofs of claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1111(a), Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3003(c), or further order of the Court;

d. describe the consequences of failing to timely file a Proof of Claim;

e. provide the contact information for the Claims and Noticing Agent, if one is appointed, or the Clerk of Bankruptcy Court if no claims agent has been retained; and

f. advise creditors that Proof of Claims must be filed in accordance with the procedures established by the Court and that submissions by facsimile or electronic mail shall not constitute valid Proofs of Claim unless otherwise authorized by the Court.

36. The Debtor shall serve the General Bar Date Notice and Personalized Bankruptcy Form 410 upon the following parties and addresses, to the extent known or reasonably ascertainable:

a. The Office of the United States Trustee;

b. All parties who have filed notices of appearance or requests for notice pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2002;

c. All persons and entities that have filed Proofs of Claim in this case;

d. All creditors and notice parties listed on the Debtor's schedules or creditor matrix;

e. All known persons or entities asserting, investigating, or reasonably believed to possess actual or potential construction defect claims against the Debtor, including but not limited to:

- All known addresses and other potential claimants associated with multifamily projects for which the Debtor provided prepetition services; Every community association, condominium association, or homeowners' association, and any known management company therefor, for a multifamily project or for a clubhouse, cabana, guardhouse, entry feature, or other amenity structure on which the Debtor provided prepetition services;

- General contractors;
- Subcontractors;
- Suppliers;
- Architects;
- Engineers;
- Consultants;
- Insurers;
- Sureties;
- Warranty claimants;

f. All parties to pending litigation, arbitration, mediation, or other dispute resolution proceedings involving alleged construction defects, breach of contract, negligence, warranty claims, indemnification, or contribution claims, together with their counsel, if known;

g. All parties to executory contracts and unexpired leases;

h. All taxing authorities;

i. The Michigan Attorney General, to the extent required by applicable law;

j. Any governmental authority known to possess or potentially possess a claim against the Debtor; and

k. Such additional persons or entities as the Debtor reasonably determines should receive notice.

B. Supplemental Mailings

36. After the initial mailing of the Bar Date package, the Debtor may make supplemental Bar Date mailings, including when (i) the Debtor files any schedules of liabilities and statement of financial affairs and identifies a claimant not included on the creditor matrix as of the time of mailing the Bar Date, (ii) notices are returned by the post office; and (iii) additional potential claimants or parties in interest become known after the initial mailing of the Bar Date package. The Debtor requests that the Court authorize the Debtor to make supplemental mailings of the Bar Date package in these and similar circumstances as soon as reasonably practicable, with any such mailings deemed timely and the Bar Date being applicable to the recipient creditors.

C. Publication Notice

37. To provide constructive notice to unknown creditors, including unknown holders of latent multifamily and single-family Construction Defect Claims, the Debtor proposes to publish the Publication Notice, substantially in the form attached as Exhibit 3, on at least one occasion in each publication listed below, no later than September 7, 2026, and not less than forty-five (45) days before the General Bar Date or as soon as reasonably practicable after entry of the Bar Date Order:

38. The Debtor proposes publication in the following local, regional, and national newspapers:

Publication	Regions
Dallas Morning News	Dallas Fort Worth, TX
Florida Times-Union	Jacksonville, FL
Houston Chronicle	Houston, TX
Miami Herald	South Florida
Orlando Sentinel	Central Florida
Tampa Bay Times	West-Central Coast Florida
The Tennessean	Middle-Tennessee
USA Today National Edition	National
Wall Street Journal Eastern Edition	Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina Eastern Tennessee, Virgina, an portions of West Virgina
Washington Post	Virginia
Raleigh News and Observer	North Carolina
Charleston Post & Courier	South Carolina

39. Together, these publications provide daily or weekly circulation in the principal geographic regions implicated by the Debtor's multifamily and single family work and broad national circulation reasonably calculated to reach otherwise unknown claimants.

D. Electronic Notice

39. Upon entry of the Bar Date Order, the Debtor shall post the General Bar Date Notice on:

a. The website maintained by the Claims and Noticing Agent; and

b. Any additional electronic platform approved by the Court or reasonably determined by the Debtor to provide effective notice.

E. Adequacy of Notice

40. The Debtor submits that the foregoing notice procedures satisfy due process under the United States Constitution, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq., Bankruptcy Rules 2002 and 3003(c), and applicable Sixth Circuit authority.

41. The notice program is reasonably calculated under the circumstances to provide actual notice to known and reasonably ascertainable creditors and constructive notice to unknown creditors. Direct mailing to every known or reasonably ascertainable multifamily address, and to every known community association for a multifamily or amenity project, targets the projects and claims that principally motivated this filing, while publication in ten geographically targeted and nationally circulated newspapers provides broad notice to possible claimants who cannot be identified through reasonable diligence. Because the principal Construction Defect Claims arise from multifamily projects and amenity structures, this tailored notice program is practical, proportionate, and reasonably calculated to reach the persons most likely to hold claims.

42. Any person holding a claim against the Debtor arising before the Petition Date, including claims based upon alleged construction defects, defective workmanship, design errors, negligence, breach of contract, breach of warranty, indemnity, contribution, or any related theory of liability, who fails to timely file a Proof of Claim on or before applicable Bar Date, shall be forever barred, estopped, and enjoined from asserting such claim against the Debtor, the bankruptcy estate, or the reorganized Debtor, except as otherwise provided by the Bankruptcy Code, the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Court's Bar Date Order, or a confirmed chapter 11, subchapter V Plan.

BASIS FOR RELIEF

I. The Court Should Establish the Proposed Bar Dates Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c)(3).

43. Creditors generally must file a proof of claim to assert a claim against a debtor's bankruptcy estate. See 11 U.S.C. § 501(a). Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 3003(c)(3) further provides that "the court shall fix . . . the time within which proofs of claim or interest may be filed." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(3). The establishment of a claims bar date is a fundamental component of the chapter 11 process because it enables the Court, the Debtor, and parties in interest to identify promptly the universe of claims asserted against the estate, evaluate the Debtor's liabilities, and facilitate the efficient administration and reorganization of the estate. As the Supreme Court has recognized, bankruptcy deadlines are intended to promote the orderly and expeditious administration of bankruptcy cases. Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 389 (1993). The Sixth Circuit likewise recognizes the importance of bar dates in providing finality and promoting the efficient administration of bankruptcy estates. In re M.J. Waterman & Assocs., Inc., 227 F.3d 604, 609-10 (6th Cir. 2000). Moreover, courts have consistently held that a claims bar date is analogous to a statute of limitations and is essential to the successful administration of a chapter 11 case because, absent a bar date, the Debtor's liabilities cannot be determined with finality, and a plan of reorganization cannot be administered effectively.

44. Establishing a claims bar date furthers these principles by providing a date certain upon which the Debtor and all parties in interest may determine the universe of claims asserted against the bankruptcy estate. Without a bar date, the Debtor would be unable to accurately determine its liabilities, reconcile claims, negotiate with creditors, formulate a feasible plan of reorganization, or consummate a confirmed plan under subchapter V.

45. The need for a bar date is particularly compelling here. Potential claims involving architectural design errors, code violations, water intrusion, building-envelope deficiencies, or other latent defects may be held by current or former unit owners, occupants, associations, developers, property managers, insurers, contractors, or others who may not appear in the Debtor's current creditor records.

46. Unless the Court establishes comprehensive Bar Dates and notice procedures, uncertainty concerning these contingent and unliquidated claims could substantially impair the Debtor's ability to formulate a feasible plan of reorganization under subchapter V, prejudice existing creditors, and unnecessarily delay administration of the bankruptcy estate.

47. The proposed General Bar Date is reasonable and exceeds the minimum notice required by Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(7). The Debtor proposes to provide forty-five (45) days' advance notice to known creditors, together with publication notice directed toward unknown claimants. The proposed Governmental Bar Date likewise complies with section 502(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code by allowing governmental units one hundred eighty (180) days after the Petition Date within which to file claims. The proposed Rejection Bar Date similarly provides contract counterparties a reasonable opportunity to assert rejection damage claims arising under section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code.

48. Accordingly, the requested Bar Dates are fully consistent with the Bankruptcy Code, the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, and the equitable purposes underlying chapter 11, and should therefore be approved.

II. The Proposed Notice Satisfies Due Process Requirements.

49. Bankruptcy Rule 2002(a)(7) requires at least twenty-one (21) days' notice by mail of the time fixed for filing proofs of claim under Bankruptcy Rule 3003(c). Bankruptcy Rule 2002(l) permits publication notice when notice by mail is impracticable or when publication is desirable to supplement other notice. Bankruptcy Rule 9008 authorizes the Court to determine the form, manner, newspapers, and frequency of publication.

50. The Supreme Court has distinguished between creditors who are known or reasonably ascertainable and those whose identities are unknown. Known creditors are entitled to actual notice before their claims may be barred. City of New York v. New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., 344 U.S. 293, 296-97 (1953). Likewise, in Tulsa Professional Collection Services, Inc. v. Pope, 485 U.S. 478, 490 (1988), the Supreme Court held that reasonably ascertainable creditors are entitled to actual notice before their claims may be extinguished.

51. Conversely, where the identity of a creditor is not reasonably ascertainable despite reasonably diligent efforts, constructive notice by publication satisfies constitutional due process. Mullane, 339 U.S. at 317. Due process does not require a debtor to undertake impracticable or extended searches in an attempt to identify every conceivable claimant. Rather, the Constitution requires notice reasonably calculated to reach interested parties under the particular circumstances presented.

52. The Sixth Circuit has likewise recognized that the distinction between known and unknown creditors governs the adequacy of notice in bankruptcy proceedings. See In re Eagle-Picher Indus., Inc., 447 F.3d 461, 464-66 (6th Cir. 2006) (holding that due process requires actual notice to known creditors while publication notice is constitutionally sufficient for unknown creditors).

53. The circumstances presented here illustrate why both direct mail and publication are appropriate. The Debtor's multifamily projects may contain numerous units and may have experienced changes in ownership, occupancy, management, association control, or insurance. Latent conditions may remain undiscovered until damage manifests or investigation occurs.

54. Despite a diligent review, the Debtor cannot reasonably identify every current or former multifamily owner, unit owner, occupant, association, property manager, insurer, successor developer, or other person that may assert a Construction Defect Claim. The Debtor can, however, identify many multifamily street and unit addresses from its project and address records and will provide direct mailed notice to each such known or reasonably ascertainable address. Individual unit owners may hold Construction Defect Claims independent of any claim held by their association, and in at least one matter individual unit owners asserted separate claims following resolution of the association's claim. Direct mailing to individual townhome and other multifamily unit addresses is therefore reasonably calculated to reach claimants who would not be reached through notice to associations alone. The known Construction Defect Claims arise from the Debtor's Florida projects, and the Debtor's direct mailing program is accordingly concentrated there, while publication notice is reasonably calculated to reach unknown claimants elsewhere.

55. The procedures appropriately distinguish among known, reasonably ascertainable, and unknown claimants. The Debtor will provide actual notice by first-class mail to known creditors, every known or reasonably ascertainable multifamily address, and every known community association for a multifamily or amenity project, make supplemental mailings as additional claimants or addresses are identified, post electronic notice, and publish in ten local, regional, and national newspapers. Given that the claims principally motivating this filing arise from multifamily projects and amenity structures, the proposed combination is reasonably calculated to reach all possible claimants without the disproportionate burden of mailing to every historical single-family lot address.

56. The requested General Bar Date of October 22, 2026 precedes the October 28, 2026 Plan Filing Deadline and will provide the Debtor material claims information needed to formulate its subchapter V plan. The proposed deadlines and notice procedures will facilitate claims reconciliation, provide greater certainty concerning estate liabilities, and promote a feasible and timely reorganization.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

57. The Debtor reserves its right to object to any claim or proof of claim on any ground, including, but not limited to, the passing of the applicable statutes of limitations. The Debtor further reserves its right to dispute, or to assert offsets or defenses to, any claim reflected on the Schedules, or any amendments thereto, as to amount, liability, classification, or otherwise, and to subsequently designate any claim as disputed, contingent, unliquidated, or undetermined.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court enter an order substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 1, granting the relief requested herein and such further relief as is just and proper.

Proposed Order

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF MICHIGAN
SOUTHERN DIVISION - DETROIT
