Pursuant to Rule 8009(e) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the "Bankruptcy Rules"), Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCMLP"), the reorganized debtor in the above-captioned Chapter 11 case, and the Highland Claimant Trust (together with HCMLP, "Highland" or "Appellees"), the appellees in The Dugaboy Investment Trust's ("Dugaboy") appeal (the "Appeal") of this Court's June 15, 2026 Order (the "Rule 60(b) Decision"; Dkt. Nos. 4678–79) denying its motion to reconsider and/or vacate this Court's June 30, 2025 Order (the "Rule 9019 Order"; Dkt. No. 4297) pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b), by and through their undersigned counsel, hereby move (the "Motion") for entry of an order, substantially in the form attached as Exhibit A hereto (the "Proposed Order"), striking certain items that Dugaboy improperly designated as part of the record on its Appeal of the Rule 60(b) Decision. In support of their Motion, Appellees respectfully state as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Dugaboy designated more than 100 items containing more than 19,000 pages to be included in the record of its Appeal of this Court's Rule 60(b) Decision. Dugaboy's proposed designations are improper. Many of these designated items were never offered into evidence and were therefore not considered by this Court when rendering its Rule 60(b) Decision. For example, Dugaboy attached Chief Judge Jernigan's books to its Rule 60(b) motion, but it never offered them into evidence and therefore avoided evidentiary objections, such as for hearsay, foundation, and relevance. It is black-letter law that those materials are not part of the record on appeal for any purpose.

2. Accordingly, this Court should strike from the proposed record on appeal the improperly designated items (the "Improper Items") listed in Exhibit 1 to the Proposed Order.

RELEVANT BACKGROUND

3. On May 19, 2025, the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ("HMIT") and certain related entities, on the one hand, and Highland and certain related entities, on the other hand, entered into a settlement to, among other things, resolve HMIT's pending litigation (the "Rule 9019 Settlement"; Dkt. No. 4216). That same day, Highland moved for Bankruptcy Court approval of the settlement pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019. (Id.) On June 9, 2025, Dugaboy objected to the proposed Rule 9019 Settlement. (Dkt. No. 4230.) On June 30, 2025, following an evidentiary hearing, the Bankruptcy Court overruled Dugaboy's objections and approved the Rule 9019 Settlement in the Rule 9019 Order. (Dkt. No. 4297.) On July 14, 2025, Dugaboy filed a notice of appeal of the Rule 9019 Order. (Dkt. No. 4311.)

4. On February 9, 2026, with Dugaboy's appeal of the Rule 9019 Order and Highland's motion to dismiss that appeal as statutorily moot both fully briefed and pending, Dugaboy moved this Court to reconsider and/or vacate the Rule 9019 Order pursuant to Rule 60(b) (the "Rule 60(b) Motion"; Dkt. No. 4513). Dugaboy served extensive discovery requests, including document requests to HCMLP, document subpoenas to eight third-party entities and law firms, and requests to take three depositions. (Dkt. No. 4534-1 to -3.) HCMLP moved for a protective order against this discovery (the "MPO"; Dkt. No. 4533), and the third parties joined HCMLP's motion and separately moved to quash Dugaboy's subpoenas (Dkt. Nos. 4538, 4540, 4549). On April 24, 2026, this Court held a hearing on the MPO. (Dkt. No. 4544.) On April 27, 2026, this Court granted the MPO in part and permitted Dugaboy to take limited discovery in connection with its Rule 60(b) Motion. (Dkt. No. 4566.)

5. On May 11, 12, and 21, 2026, this Court held an evidentiary hearing (the "Hearing") on Dugaboy's Rule 60(b) Motion. (Dkt. Nos. 4546, 4630, 4637, 4674.) During the Hearing, this Court admitted into evidence more than 140 exhibits and heard live testimony from five witnesses. (See May 11, 2026 Hr'g Tr.; May 12, 2026 Hr'g Tr; May 21, 2026 Hr'g Tr.) During and after the Hearing, Dugaboy filed various additional proposed exhibits on the docket but never moved to introduce them into evidence. (Dkt. Nos. 4612, 4617–4625, 4628–4629, 4659, 4661, 4669.) On June 15, 2026, this Court denied Dugaboy's Rule 60(b) Motion. (Dkt. Nos. 4678–79.)

6. On June 29, 2026, Dugaboy filed both a notice of appeal of the Rule 60(b) Decision (Dkt. No. 4685) and a motion to alter or amend and for reconsideration of the Rule 60(b) Decision pursuant to Rule 59(e) (the "Rule 59(e) Motion"; Dkt. No. 4684). On July 10, 2026, this Court denied Dugaboy's Rule 59(e) Motion (Dkt. No. 4689), rendering Dugaboy's June 29, 2026, notice of appeal immediately effective under Bankruptcy Rule 8002(b)(2). Dugaboy's Appeal is pending as case no. 3:26-cv-02315-X before Judge Starr in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

7. On July 24, 2026, Dugaboy filed its Designations of Items to Be Included in the Record on Appeal and Statement of the Issues to Be Presented from the Bankruptcy Court's Order Denying Appellant's Motion for Relief from Order and Motion to Vacate. (Dkt. No. 4699.) Dugaboy designated more than 100 items to be included in the record on its Appeal, totaling more than 19,000 pages of documents (the "Initial Designations").

8. Dugaboy knows from experience that substantial portions of its Initial Designations are improper because in the fall of 2025, in connection with Dugaboy's various appeals, Highland was forced to move to strike certain items improperly designated as part of the respective records on appeal. (Dkt. Nos. 4434, 4450–51.) Dugaboy opposed one of Highland's motions to strike (the "Opposition" or "Opp."; Dkt. No. 4497), but the parties ultimately resolved their dispute by stipulation with Dugaboy withdrawing most of the offending designations from the appellate record (Dkt. No. 4499).[2]

9. As it did last year, on July 31, 2026, Highland's counsel emailed Dugaboy's counsel regarding Dugaboy's Initial Designations, and asked Dugaboy to withdraw the Improper Items from the record on appeal.[3] On August 7, 2026, Dugaboy stated through counsel that it opposes any motion to strike any of the Designations, insisting that all are proper.

ARGUMENT

10. Bankruptcy Rule 8009(e)(1) provides: "If any difference arises about whether the record accurately discloses what occurred in the bankruptcy court, the difference must be submitted to and settled by the bankruptcy court and the record conformed accordingly. If an item has been improperly designated as part of the record on appeal, a party may move to strike that item." Bankruptcy Rule 8009(e)(1) vests this Court with sole authority to consider such a motion. See In re Digerati Techs., Inc., 531 B.R. 654, 660 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2015).

11. The Fifth Circuit has provided ample guidance on this issue. In the leading case of Wooley v. Haynes & Boone, L.L.P. (In re SI Restructuring Inc.), 480 F. App'x 327, 328 (5th Cir. 2012), the Fifth Circuit upheld the district court's affirmance of the bankruptcy court's granting of a motion to strike "documents [designated] as part of the [appellate] record even though the documents were never properly admitted to this proceeding." Citing Bankruptcy Rule 8006 (the predecessor rule to Bankruptcy Rule 8009) and Zer-Ilan v. Frankford (In re CPDC Inc.), 337 F.3d

[2] Highland's other motions to strike were respectively withdrawn as moot because the appeal was dismissed (Dkt. No. 4489) and stayed (Dkt. No. 4456).

[3] Later that day, Dugaboy filed Amended Designations of Items to Be Included in the Record on Appeal and Statement of the Issues to Be Presented from the Bankruptcy Court's Order Denying Appellant's Motion for Relief from Order and Motion to Vacate (the "Designations"; Dkt. No. 4705). Dugaboy's amended Designations did not remove any of the Improper Items or address any of Highland's concerns; they simply rearranged several items and removed certain duplicative items.

436 (5th Cir. 2003), the Fifth Circuit held that because "the disputed evidence was not admitted as evidence before the bankruptcy court when it ruled on the . . . motion," those items were properly stricken from the appellate record. SI Restructuring, 480 F. App'x at 328; see also CPDC, 337 F.3d at 443 (Bankruptcy "Rule 8006 provides that the record on appeal from a bankruptcy court decision consists of designated materials that became part of the bankruptcy court's record in the first instance. The rule does not permit items to be added to the record on appeal to the district court if they were not part of the record before the bankruptcy court."); Mehta v. Havis (In re Shah), 204 F. App'x 357, 359 (5th Cir. 2006) (affirming "district court's order striking certain record designations on appeal," because "[i]t is uncontested that the documents that Mehta sought to designate were not introduced as evidence before the bankruptcy court," and "the district court did not err in refusing to permit Mehta to designate documents for appellate review that were never considered by the bankruptcy court").

12. Even though Bankruptcy Rule 8009(e) uses slightly different language from its predecessor,[4] courts have reaffirmed the continued vitality of SI Restructuring and CPDC in considering motions to strike under the newer rule. For example, in Carmichael v. Balke, the court observed that appellants "cannot use their designation to create a version of the appellate record that does not reflect [their] presentation of evidence in the Bankruptcy Court. The Court's primary concern is supplying the District Court with a record that 'accurately discloses what occurred in the bankruptcy court.' Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8009(e)." Carmichael v. Blake (In re Imperial Petroleum Recovery Corp.), 2022 WL 90607, at *4 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Jan. 7, 2022) (cleaned up) (relying on SI Restructuring to strike designated items because the "items were not admitted into evidence at trial or explicitly accepted as proffers," and rejecting that "each item's filing is sufficient to warrant its inclusion in the appellate designation"); see also Digerati, 531 B.R. at 663 (holding that items not before the court and not considered by it in rendering its decision should not be included in the record).

[4] In Digerati, the court noted that, because Rule 8009(e) was "fairly new" and had "no case law at this point interpreting this new rule," it would "look to case law interpreting the predecessor to Rule 8009"—that is, former Bankruptcy Rule 8006 (which formed the basis for the ruling in SI Restructuring). 531 B.R. at 660.

13. Based on the foregoing, this Court should strike the Improper Items from the record on appeal because they were not offered or "actually admitted into the trial record at the multi-day [H]earing," and this Court never "consider[ed] any of these items in reaching" the Rule 60(b) Decision. Digerati, 531 B.R. at 663 (collecting cases). Dugaboy also will never be able to credibly explain its "failure to introduce these items into the record at the [H]earing." Id. (citing Shah, 204 F. App'x at 359).

14. Conversely, Appellees would be severely prejudiced by the inclusion of the Improper Items because Dugaboy would use the Improper Items to challenge the Rule 60(b) Decision, even though this Court never considered those items and Highland never had an opportunity to object to their admission into evidence. In other words, including those Improper Items would fail to "supply[ ] the District Court with a record that 'accurately discloses what occurred in the bankruptcy court,'" Carmichael, 2022 WL 90607, at *4 (quoting Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8009(e)), giving Dugaboy an unwarranted advantage and distorting the appellate proceedings.

15. In its Opposition to Highland's prior motion to strike improper designations on appeal, Dugaboy falsely asserted that any document filed on "the bankruptcy court's own docket" that was "available for the bankruptcy judge's consideration" can "be designated for the record" on appeal even "without being entered into evidence." (Opp. at 7 (citing Digerati, 531 B.R. at 662–63; Lockwood v. GlassRatner Advisory & Cap. Grp. LLC (In re Lockwood Holdings Inc.), 2024 WL 727762, at *3 (S.D. Tex. Feb. 22, 2024)).)[5] That is not the law. Dugaboy's own authority holds that only "if the designated items are pleadings, as opposed to actual documents (such as letters or emails), then it is not required that these pleadings have been formally entered into evidence." Digerati, 531 B.R. at 662 (citing In re Adkins, 2104 WL 5801679, at *1–2 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Nov. 7, 2014)) (emphasis added); see also Lockwood, 2024 WL 727762, at *1–3 (holding that "denial of the motion to strike wasn't an abuse of discretion," because the "contested designations included various pleadings, orders, and transcripts of bankruptcy proceedings"); Carmichael, 2022 WL 90607, at *5 (taking "judicial notice of the updated docket sheet," witness and exhibit list for "the fact of its filings," and court orders, but striking each underlying document "fil[ed] as a potential exhibit" on the docket because "the item was never offered into evidence"). Thus, contrary to Dugaboy's assertions, "a party on appeal cannot simply designate any items on the debtor's main case docket merely to provide the appellate court with a 'historical context and factual background' to the entire bankruptcy case." Digerati, 531 B.R. at 663 (collecting cases). Indeed, Dugaboy here did not even ask this Court to take judicial notice of any of the Improper Items, let alone seek to introduce them into evidence, so this Court should "'refuse to permit [Dugaboy] to designate documents for appellate review that were never considered by the bankruptcy court.'" Id. at 661 (quoting Mehta, 204 F. App'x at 359).

CONCLUSION

16. For the foregoing reasons, this Court should take a scalpel to the Designations and extract the Improper Items on the grounds that they were never offered or admitted into evidence or considered by this Court.

[5] See also Opp. at 8 (arguing that all "docket filings in the same proceeding" can be designated to "provide context"); id. at 8 n.6 (arguing that all documents filed on the docket "were already part of the record"); id. at 9 ("docket entries provide[] context for the appealed ruling").

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Appellees respectfully request that this Court (1) enter the Proposed Order granting the Motion, and (2) grant Appellees such further and additional relief as this Court deems necessary and appropriate.
