Re: In re Prodigy Investment Holdings, Inc., et al. (f/k/a Proterra, Inc.); Case Number : 23-11120-BLS

I was an owner and creditor to Proterra Incorporated, and I had a Priority Claim under consideration. I mailed the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware several years of financial statements as proof.

Unlike many other account holders, I never borrowed money from a margin account and, therefore, have the right to a fair creditor payment in this current matter through reclassification before I proceed to the new settlement.

Mr. Ryan Popple, formerly of Tesla Motors, was in charge as CEO of a $3 million grant from the California Energy Commission. A grant is a form of money, and the grant from the California Energy Commission was awarded in US dollars. This grant is considered cash or cash-equivalents. In Document 336, filed 10/06/2023, when the debtor was asked if they have any cash or cash equivalents, their answer was "No." This information is inaccurate or incomplete. Grants influence EBITDA, asset base, and debt ratios, especially if a formula is applied to just one creditor. Under the income approach, grant income improves EBITDA. Under the netting approach, depreciation is reduced, lowering cost of sales and boosting operating profit. Netting is also applied under set-off law.

Could you confirm the response that was mailed to me after I filed additional documents with the Office of the Clerk of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware in November 2025? Could you confirm the value of total shareholders' equity or book equity (after taking into account revenue, operating income and net income) as of 12/31/2022? Could you confirm the value of current assets and total assets as of 12/31/2022?

This claim needs to be properly reclassified to reflect my previous litigation efforts.

Please make reference to the four page attachment Schedule A/B: Assets – Real and Personal Property.

Respectfully Submitted,

Amyr Naeem

Include all property in which the debtor holds rights and powers exercisable for the debtor's own benefit. Also include assets and properties which have no book value, such as fully depreciated assets or assets that were not capitalized. In Schedule A/B, list any executory contracts or unexpired leases.
