Benefits At-A-Glance

Take a moment to review the full array of benefits Verity Health offers below.

Benefit	Key Features	Required Action During Open Enrollment
Medical Plans	Medical coverage provides you and your family with benefits that help keep you healthy with preventive care screenings and access to urgent care. It also provides important financial protection if you have a serious medical condition. Each plan offers comprehensive coverage with varying networks, copays and out of pocket costs. Refer to your summary of benefits for specific plan details.	If you would like to enroll, add/delete a dependent or change plans, enrollment via SmartBen is required.
Dental	Covers preventive care and other benefits for specialized procedures based on the carrier's covered services and procedures.	If you would like to enroll, add/delete a dependent or change plans, enrollment via SmartBen is required.
Vision	Covers lenses, frames, contact lenses and more. You can visit any licensed provider, but you will save if you choose in-network providers.	If you would like to enroll, add/delete a dependent or change plans, enrollment via SmartBen is required.
Voluntary Life Insurance	Provides you and/or your beneficiaries with financial security in the event of your death. Dependent life insurance is also available for your spouse/registered domestic partner and child(ren).	Enrollment via SmartBen is voluntary. Certain enrollment amounts may require evidence of insurability (EOI) and approval.
Accidental Death & Dismemberment (AD&D)	Provides additional financial security if you are severely injured or die as a result of an accident.	Enrollment via SmartBen is voluntary. Certain enrollment amounts may require evidence of insurability (EOI) and approval.
Long Term Disability (LTD)	Provides long-term income replacement up to a certain percentage of your salary if you can't work due to a long-term illness or injury.	Enrollment via SmartBen is voluntary. Certain enrollment amounts may require evidence of insurability (EOI) and approval.
Voluntary Short-Term Disability (Vol. STD)	Provides short-term income replacement due to a non-work related illness or injury.	Enrollment via SmartBen is voluntary. Certain enrollment amounts may require evidence of insurability (EOI) and approval.
Long Term Care (LTC)	Provides reimbursement dollars for nursing home care, personal care, adult day care and care provided in an assisted living facility.	Not at this time. Look for more information mid-year during the LTC Open Enrollment period.
Health Care Spending Account	Provides the option to use pre-tax dollars to pay for qualified health expenses for you and your family. Taking advantage of this benefit reduces your taxable income.	You must enroll/re-enroll to participate in this spending account in 2019.
Dependent Care Spending Account	Provides the option to use pre-tax dollars to reimburse yourself for qualified out-of-pocket expenses. Taking advantage of this benefit reduces your taxable income. Use this for qualified expenses related to care for a child, such as day or after school care, or care for other dependents who are physically or mentally incapable of self-care.	You must enroll/re-enroll to participate in this spending account in 2019.
Employee Assistance Program	Provides free and confidential assessments, short-term counseling, referrals, and follow-up services to employees and their families up to certain annual maximum.	Employees and dependents are automatically enrolled at no cost to you.
Additional Voluntary Plans	AlliantCHOICE Plus voluntary benefits are available in addition to your core benefits package.	If you wish to enroll, please see page 19 for further details.

SCHEDULE 6.1(b)(3)

(Bidding Procedures)

BIDDING PROCEDURES

Set forth below are the bidding procedures (the "Bidding Procedures")[1] to be employed in connection with the sale of (i) the assets (the "Purchased Assets") enumerated in the Stalking Horse APA (as defined below), including, but not limited to, St Francis Medical Center, St. Vincent Medical Center, and Seton Medical Center (including Seton Coastside) (collectively, the "APA Facilities"); and (ii) assets not otherwise enumerated in the APA, but associated with the ownership or operation of the APA Facilities and available for purchase (the "Other Assets"), in connection with the chapter 11 cases pending in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California (the "Bankruptcy Court"), jointly administered as case number 2:18-bk-20151-ER, in the form to be approved by the Bankruptcy Court, by Order dated February 19, 2019 (the "Bidding Procedures Order") [Docket No. 1572].

The Debtors entered into that certain Asset Purchase Agreement, dated January 8, 2019 between the Debtors, on the one hand, and Strategic Global Management, Inc., a California corporation (the "Stalking Horse Purchaser") on the other hand, pursuant to which the Stalking Horse Purchaser shall acquire the Purchased Assets on the terms and conditions specified therein (together with the schedules and related documents thereto, the "Stalking Horse APA"). The sale transaction pursuant to the Stalking Horse APA is subject to competitive bidding as set forth herein. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings set forth in the Debtors' Notice of Motion and Motion for the Entry of (I) an Order (1) Approving Form of Asset Purchase Agreement for Stalking Horse Bidder and for Prospective Overbidders to Use, (2) Approving Auction Sale Format, Bidding Procedures and Stalking Horse Bid Protections, (3) Approving Form of Notice to be Provided to Interested Parties, (4) Scheduling a Hearing to Consider Approval of the Sale to the Highest Bidder, (5) Approving Procedures Related to the Assumption of Certain Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases; and (II) an Order Authorizing the Sale of Property Free and Clear of All Claims, Liens and Encumbrances (the "Sale Motion") or the Bidding Procedures Order.

I. ASSETS TO BE SOLD

The Debtors seek to complete a sale of substantially all assets of APA Facilities, including both the Purchased Assets and the Other Assets (the "Sale"). The Stalking Horse APA will serve as the "stalking-horse" bid for the Purchased Assets.

II. THE BIDDING PROCEDURES

In order to ensure that the Debtors receive the maximum value for the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets, they intend to hold a sale process for the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets pursuant to the procedures and on the timeline proposed herein.

[1] Unless otherwise defined, all capitalized terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Stalking Horse APA.

A. Provisions Governing Qualifications of Bidders

Unless otherwise ordered by the Court or as set forth in these procedures, in order to participate in the bidding process, each person, other than the Stalking Horse Purchaser, who wishes to participate in the bidding process must deliver, prior to the Bid Deadline (defined herein), the following to the Debtors:

a) a written disclosure of the identity of each entity that will be bidding for the Purchased Assets or and/or the Other Assets or otherwise participating in connection with such bid; and

b) an executed confidentiality agreement (to be delivered prior to the distribution of any confidential information by the Debtors) in form and substance satisfactory to the Debtors and which shall inure to the benefit of any purchaser of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets; without limiting the foregoing, each such confidentiality agreement shall contain standard non-solicitation provisions.

A bidder that delivers the documents and information described above and that the Debtors determine, after consultation with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, the Prepetition Secured Creditors, and any other party deemed appropriate within the business judgment of the Debtors (collectively, the "Consultation Parties") in their reasonable business judgment, is likely (based on availability of financing, experience, and other considerations) to be able to consummate the sale, will be deemed a potential bidder ("Potential Bidder").

B. Due Diligence

The Debtors will afford any Potential Bidder such due diligence access or additional information as the Debtors, in consultation with their advisors, deem appropriate, in their reasonable discretion. The due diligence period shall extend through and including the relevant Bid Deadline; provided, however, that any bid submitted under these procedures shall be irrevocable until at least the selection of the Successful Bidder(s) (defined herein) and any Back-Up Bidder(s) (defined herein).

C. Provisions Governing Qualified Bids

A bid submitted by a Potential Bidder will be considered a Qualified Bid (each, a "Qualified Bid," and each such Potential Bidder thereafter a "Qualified Bidder") only if the bid complies with the following requirements:

a) it states that the applicable Qualified Bidder offers to purchase, in cash, some or all of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets;

b) it identifies with particularity the portion of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets the Qualified Bidder is offering to purchase;

c) it allocates with specificity the portion of the purchase price offered that the Qualified Bidder attributes to St. Francis Medical Center, St. Vincent Medical Center, and Seton Medical Center, and Seton Coastside, and each of the Other Assets, respectively;[2]

d) it includes a signed writing that the Qualified Bidder's offer is irrevocable until the selection of the Successful Bidder and the Back-Up Bidder, provided that if such bidder is selected as the Successful Bidder or the Back-Up Bidder then the offer shall remain irrevocable until the earliest of (i) the closing of the transaction with the Successful Bidder, (ii) in the case of the Successful Bidder, a termination of the Qualified Bid pursuant to the terms of the Successful Bidder Purchase Agreement and (iii) with respect to the Back-Up Bidder, the time specified in Section II (K) below;

e) it includes confirmation that there are no conditions precedent to the Qualified Bidder's ability to enter into a definitive agreement and that all necessary internal governance and shareholder approvals have been obtained prior to the bid;

f) it sets forth each third-party, regulatory and governmental approval required for the Qualified Bidder to consummate the transaction and the time period within which the Qualified Bidder expects to receive such approvals and establishes a substantial likelihood that the Qualified Bidder will obtain such approvals by the stated time period;

g) it includes a duly authorized and executed copy of a purchase or acquisition agreement in the form of the Stalking Horse APA (a "Purchase Agreement"), including the purchase price for some or all of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets, or both, expressed in U.S. Dollars, together with all exhibits and schedules thereto, together with copies marked to show any amendments and modifications to the Stalking Horse APA ("Marked Agreement");

h) it is not subject to any financing contingency and includes written evidence of a firm ability to have the funding necessary to consummate the proposed transaction, that will allow the Debtors to make a reasonable determination, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, as to the Qualified Bidder's financial and other capabilities to consummate the transaction contemplated by the Purchase Agreement;

i) if the bid is for all of the Purchased Assets, it must have a value to the Debtors, in the Debtors' exercise of its reasonable business judgment, after consultation with its advisors and the Consultation Parties, that is greater than or equal to the sum of the value offered under the Stalking Horse APA, plus (i) the amount of the Break-Up Fee ($21,350,000.00); (ii) the amount of the Expense Reimbursement ($2,000,000.00); and (iii) $7,000,000.00 (the "Initial Bidding Increment," and, together with the Break-Up Fee and the Expense Reimbursement, the "Minimum Qualified Bid");

[2] For the avoidance of doubt, such allocation shall not be binding on the Debtors, their estates or any Consultation Party.

j) if the bid is a partial bid (the "Partial Bid"),[3] the terms of paragraph (i) immediately above shall not apply but the terms of paragraph (o) below concerning the Good Faith Deposit shall expressly apply in order to be a bid qualified to participate in the Partial Bid Auction (as defined below) (each, a "Partial Bid Auction Qualified Bid"). In the event that the Debtors aggregate Partial Bids, the Partial Bid purchasers' responsibility for the Break-Up Fee, the Expense Reimbursement, and the Initial Bidding Increment shall be reasonably allocated to each Partial Bid purchaser, and in no event shall the Stalking Horse Purchaser be entitled to more than one Break-Up Fee and/or Expense Reimbursement;

k) it identifies with particularity which (i) executory contracts and unexpired leases the Qualified Bidder wishes the Debtors to assume and assign to it, and (ii) Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets, subject to purchase money liens or the like, the Qualified Bidder wishes to acquire and therefore pay the associated purchase money financing;

l) it contains sufficient information concerning the Qualified Bidder's ability to provide adequate assurance of future performance with respect to executory contracts and unexpired leases the Qualified Bidder wishes the Debtors to assume and assign to it;

m) it includes an acknowledgement and representation that the Qualified Bidder: (A) has had an opportunity to conduct any and all required due diligence regarding the Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets prior to making its offer and that the offer is not subject to any further due diligence or the need to raise capital/financing to consummate the proposed transaction; (B) has relied solely upon its own independent review, investigation and/or inspection of any documents and/or the Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets in making its bid; (C) did not rely upon any written or oral statements, representations, promises, warranties or guaranties whatsoever, whether express or implied (by operation of law or otherwise), regarding the Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets or the completeness of any information provided in connection therewith or with the relevant Auction (defined below), except as expressly stated in the Purchase Agreement; and (D) is not entitled to any expense reimbursement, break-up fee, or similar type of payment in connection with its bid;

o) unless it is a Credit Bid (as defined below), it is accompanied by a (i) good faith deposit in the form of a wire transfer (to a bank account specified by the Debtors), certified check or such other form of cash or cash equivalent acceptable to the Debtors, payable to the order of the Debtors (or such other party as the Debtors may determine) in an amount equal to: (a) 20% of purchase price for bids under $5 million; (b) for bids greater than $5 million and less than $100 million, the greater of: (i) $1 million or (ii) 10% of purchase price; (c) for bids greater than $100 million, the greater of (i) $10 million or (ii) 5% of purchase price (collectively, the "Good Faith Deposit"), which Good Faith Deposit shall, be forfeited if such bidder is the Successful Bidder and breaches its obligation to close; and (ii) if the Qualified Bid is a bid made by a secured creditor of the Debtors (a "Credit Bid Bidder") who intends to make a credit bid (each, a "Credit Bid Bid"), evidence of (a) the basis for and property covered by such Credit Bid Bidder's secured claim, (b) the amount of such Credit Bid Bidder's claim that is secured by the property in question, (c) whether it is the senior secured claim on the property (x) prepetition and (y) as of the date of the request to be a Qualified Bidder, as well as (d) evidence of the resolution of any Challenge to such Credit Bid Bidder's secured claim within the meaning of the Final DIP Order.

p) it contains a detailed description of how the Qualified Bidder intends to treat current employees of the Debtors;

r) it identifies the person(s) and their title(s) who will attend the relevant Auction, and confirms that such person(s) have authority to make binding Overbids (defined below) at such Auction

s) it contains such other information reasonably requested by the Debtors; and

t) it is received prior to the Bid Deadline.

The Debtors, in consultation with the Consultation Parties (who shall receive copies of the Purchase Agreements relating to any bids cast pursuant to these Bidding Procedures as soon as reasonably practicable), may qualify any bid that meets the foregoing requirements as a Qualified Bid. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Stalking Horse Purchaser is deemed a Qualified Bidder and the Stalking Horse APA is deemed a Qualified Bid, for all purposes in connection with the Bidding Process, the Auctions, and the Sale.

The Debtors shall notify the Consultation Parties, the Stalking Horse Purchaser, all Qualified Bidders and the Notice Parties in writing as to whether or not any bids constitute Qualified Bids (and with respect to each Qualified Bidder that submitted a bid as to whether such Qualified Bidder's bid constitutes a Qualified Bid) and provide copies of the Purchase Agreements relating any such Qualified Bid to the Consultation Parties, the Stalking Horse Purchaser and such Qualified Bidders, and the Notice Parties on the earlier of: (1) the date that any bid other than the Stalking Horse Bid has been deemed a Qualified Bid, or (2) two business days prior to the Partial Bid Auction.

D. Bid Deadline

In order to be eligible to participate in the Auction, a Qualified Bidder that desires to make a bid will deliver written copies of its bid to the following parties (collectively, the "Notice Parties"): (i) counsel to the Debtors: Dentons US LLP, 601 S. Figueroa Street, Suite 2500, Los Angeles, CA 90017 (Attn: Tania M. Moyron (tania.moyron@dentons.com)); (ii) the Debtors' Investment Banker: Cain Brothers, a division of KeyBanc Capital Markets, 1 California Street, Suite 2400, San Francisco, CA 94111 (Attn: James Moloney (jmoloney@cainbrothers.com)); (iii) counsel to the Official Committee: Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy LLP, 2029 Century Park East, 33rd Floor, Los Angeles, CA 90067 (Attn: Gregory A. Bray (gbray@milbank.com); (iv) counsel to the Master Trustee and Series 2005 Bond Trustee: Mintz, Levin, Cohn, Ferris, Glovsky and Popeo,

P.C., One Financial Center, Boston, MA 02111 (Attn: Daniel S. Bleck and Paul Ricotta (dsbleck@mintz.com, pricotta@mintz.com)); (v) counsel to the Series 2015 and Series 2017 Notes Trustee: Maslon, LLP, 3300 Wells Fargo Center, 90 South Seventh Street, Minneapolis, MN 55402 (Attn: Clark Whitmore (clark.whitmore@maslon.com)), so as to be received by the Notice Parties not later than March 29, 2019, at 4:00 p.m. (prevailing Pacific Time) for partial bids (the "Partial Bid Deadline") or April 3, 2019, at 4:00 p.m. (prevailing Pacific Time) for full bids (the "Bid Deadline").

E. Credit Bidding

Any party with a valid, properly perfected security interest in any of the Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets (which is not subject to a pending Challenge within the meaning of the Final DIP Order) may credit bid for such Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets in connection with the Sale in accordance with and pursuant to § 363(k), except as otherwise limited by the Debtors for cause; provided, however, that any party seeking to credit bid may not credit bid unless such bid provides that all secured creditors with security interests on such Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets that are senior to such junior security interest are to be paid in cash in connection with such junior creditor's bid. Any credit bids made by secured creditors shall not impair or otherwise affect the Stalking Horse Purchaser's entitlement to the benefits of the Bidding Procedures and related protections granted under the Bidding Procedures Order.

F. Evaluation of Competing Bids

A Qualified Bid will be valued based upon several factors including, without limitation: (i) the amount of such bid; (ii) the risks and timing associated with consummating such bid; (iii) any proposed revisions to the form of Stalking Horse APA; and (iv) any other factors deemed relevant by the Debtors in their reasonable discretion, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, including the amount of cash included in the bid.

G. No Qualified Bids

If the Debtors do not receive any Qualified Bids other than the Stalking Horse APA, the Debtors will not hold an auction and the Stalking Horse Purchaser will be named the Successful Bidder for the Purchased Assets. If the Debtors receive one or more qualified Partial Bid Auction Qualified Bids and, after the Partial Bid Auction contemplated by Section (H) of these Bidding Procedures, the Debtors will determine, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, if there are any Partial Bidders that will not be qualified to participate at the Full Bid Auction

H. Auction Process

If the Debtors receive one or more Partial Bid Auction Qualified Bids as set forth above, the Debtors will conduct separate auctions of each asset or combinations thereof (each, a "Partial Bid Auction"). Any Partial Bidder holding a Partial Bid Auction Qualified Bid shall be entitled to bid on any assets in any Partial Bid Auction(s). The procedures below for the Full Bid Auction shall apply to the Partial Bid Auction, except as where otherwise indicated. The Debtors will conduct the Partial Bid Auction(s), which shall be transcribed, on April 8, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. (prevailing Pacific Time) at the offices of Dentons US LLP, 601 South Figueroa Street, Suite 2500, Los Angeles, CA 90017, or such other location as shall be timely communicated to all entities entitled to attend the Auction.

The Partial Bid Auction Qualified Bids determined by the Debtors, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, at the Partial Bid Auction(s) (as set forth above) to be eligible to participate at the Full Bid Auction, including (without limitation) the highest and best bids for each asset (the "Winning Partial Bids"), shall be permitted to participate in the Full Bid Auction (as defined below) of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets; except that:

(a) If the Partial Bids, at the conclusion of the Partial Bid Auction, include all four APA Facilities and exceed, in the aggregate, the Purchase Price in the Stalking Horse APA, there will be a Full Bid Auction (as defined below) and (1) the Stalking Horse Purchaser may overbid in the aggregate for all four APA Facilities, or (2) the Stalking Horse Purchaser may bid for less than the four APA Facilities and be entitled to a pro-rata Break-Up Fee for the APA Facilities which the Stalking Horse Purchaser does not acquire, as specified in the Stalking Horse APA at Section 6.1 (b)(2);

(b) If the Partial Bids do not include all four APA Facilities, and if there are no other Qualified Full Bids, then Seller, in its discretion, after consultation with the Consultation Parties, may choose, at the conclusion of the Partial Bid Auction, (1) to have no Full Bid Auction, and the Stalking Horse Purchaser will purchase the four APA Facilities pursuant to the Stalking Horse APA, or (2) if the Debtor and Consultation Parties deem the aggregate designated Winning Partial Bid(s) to be sufficient to warrant leaving one or more APA Facilities behind (the "Remaining Facility"), the Stalking Horse Purchaser shall have the option of (i) acquiring the Remaining Facility at the allocated price in the Stalking Horse APA, (ii) overbidding one or more of the Partial Bids, or (iii) terminating the Stalking Horse APA. In either event, the Stalking Horse Purchaser shall be entitled to the Break-Up Fee for all of the APA Facilities not acquired by the Stalking Horse Purchaser.

If the Debtors receive, in addition to the Stalking Horse APA, one or more Qualified Full Bids (and/or a combination of Winning Partial Bids from the Partial Bid Auction(s) seeking, on aggregate basis, to purchase all or substantially all of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets), the Debtors will conduct a full bid auction of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets (the "Full Bid Auction"), which shall be transcribed, on April 9, 2019 (the "Full Bid Auction Date"), at 10:00 a.m. (prevailing Pacific Time), at the offices of Dentons US LLP, 601 South Figueroa Street, Suite 2500, Los Angeles, CA 90017, or such other location as shall be timely communicated to all entities entitled to attend the Auction.

The Full Bid Auction shall be conducted in accordance with the following procedures:

a) only the Debtors, the Stalking Horse Purchaser, Qualified Bidders who have timely submitted a Qualified Bid, the U.S. Trustee, and the Consultation Parties, and their respective advisors, and other parties who request and receive authority to attend the auction in advance from the Debtors may attend the Auction;

b) only the Stalking Horse Purchaser and the Qualified Bidders who have timely submitted Qualified Bids will be entitled to make any subsequent bids at the Auction;

c) each Qualified Bidder shall be required to confirm that it has not engaged in any collusion with respect to the bidding or the sale;

d) all Qualified Bidders who have timely submitted Qualified Bids will be entitled to be present for all Subsequent Bids (defined herein) at the relevant Auction and the actual identity of each Qualified Bidder will be disclosed on the record at the relevant Auction; provided that all Qualified Bidders wishing to attend the relevant Auction must have at least one individual representative with authority to bind such Qualified Bidder attending the relevant Auction in person;

e) the Debtors, after consultation with the Consultation Parties and the Stalking Horse Purchaser, may employ and announce at the relevant Auction additional procedural rules that are (i) reasonable under the circumstances for conducting the relevant Auction, (ii) in the best interest of the Debtors' estates; provided, however, that rules (i) are disclosed to the Stalking Horse Purchaser and each Qualified Bidder participating in the Auction, and (ii) are not inconsistent with the Bid Protections, the Stalking Horse APA, the Bankruptcy Code, or any order of the Court entered in connection herewith;

f) bidding at the relevant Auction will begin with a bid determined by the Debtors after consulting with the Consultation Parties as being the then highest and best bid which will be announced by the Debtors prior to the commencement of the Auction (the "Baseline Bid"). The Auction will continue in bidding increments to be determined in the discretion of the Debtors, in consultation with the Consultation Parties (each a "Overbid"), and all material terms of each Overbid shall be fully disclosed to all other Qualified Bidders who submitted Qualified Bids and are in attendance at the Auction (including, without limitation, Winning Partial Bids), as well as to the Notice Parties;

g) the initial Overbid, if any, shall provide for total consideration to Debtors with a value that exceeds the value of the consideration under the Baseline Bid by an incremental amount. Additional consideration in excess of the amount set forth in the respective Baseline Bid must include: (i) cash and/or (ii) in the case of a Qualified Bidder (including, without limitation, with respect to any Winning Partial Bids) that is a Credit Bid Bidder that has a valid and perfected lien (not subject to a Challenge within the meaning the Final DIP Order) on any of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets, a Credit Bid of up to the full amount of such Credit Bidder's allowed perfected lien, subject to § 363(k) and any other restrictions set forth herein; and

i) at the Full Bid Auction, the Stalking Horse Purchaser may, subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, elect to bid for the Purchased Assets as described in the Bid Procedures Order. In the alternative, the Stalking Horse Purchaser, and any bidder with a Qualified Full Bid, (a) may elect to bid against any one or more of the Winning Partial Bidders for the assets subject to the relevant Partial Bid(s), in lieu of seeking to acquire such Purchased Assets and/or Other Assets by means of the Stalking Horse Bid or another Qualified Full Bid; and (b) if successful with its Overbids for such assets, replace the Winning Partial Bidder(s) as the proponent of the relevant Winning Partial Bids or Aggregate Winning Partial Bid as to such assets. In the event that the Stalking Horse Purchaser or another bidder so elects, and as long as the Stalking Horse Purchaser or another bidder so bids, the Winning Partial Bidders must continue to present qualified Winning Partial Bids (i.e., bids as to which the aggregate of all still pending Winning Partial Bids is greater than or equal to the then Prevailing Highest Bid) for the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets in each round to continue to bid as Winning Partial Bidders in the Full Bid Auction. In addition, the Debtors may elect, in their discretion, after consultation with the Consultation Parties, to allow Partial Bidders to bid for all or substantially all the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets subject to augmenting its Good Faith Deposit, as necessary, or to allow proponents of Full Bids to bid for less than all or substantially all of the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets in any given round of the Auction, provided that in any given round there is a Full Bid or an Aggregate Partial Bid that is superior to Prevailing Highest Bid that is then subject to acceptance by the Debtors and binding on the Stalking Horse Purchaser or another Qualified Bidder. In all events, (i) any such Overbid shall continue to comply with all of the requirements for Qualified Bids set forth in Section C of these Bidding Procedures; and (ii) the bidder submitting such a modified Qualified Bid or Qualified Partial Bid shall furnish to the Debtors and the Consultation Parties, within twenty-four (24) hours of the conclusion of the Auction, a revised Purchase Agreement and Marked Agreement showing all amendments and modifications to the Stalking Horse APA and the Sale Order.

I. Selection of Successful Bid

Prior to the conclusion of the relevant Auction, the Debtors, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, will review and evaluate each Qualified Bid in accordance with the procedures set forth herein and determine which offer or offers are the highest or otherwise best from among the Qualified Bids submitted at the relevant Auction (one or more such bids, collectively the "Successful Bid" and the bidder(s) making such bid, collectively, the "Successful Bidder"), and communicate to the Qualified Bidders the identity of the Successful Bidder and the details of the Successful Bid. The determination of the Successful Bid by the Debtors at the conclusion of the relevant Auction shall be subject to approval by the Court.

If selected, at the conclusion of the Partial Bid Auction, as the Winning Partial Bidder or the Back-Up Bidder in accordance with Section H above, then such party or parties, prior to the Full Bid Auction, shall increase its Good Faith Deposit in the amount set forth in Section II(C)(o), or as determined by the Seller in consultation with the Consultation Parties; provided, however, if a party or parties are bidding on all four APA Facilities, the deposit will be no less than $30,000,000.

If selected as the Successful Bidder or the Back-Up Bidder at the conclusion of the Full Bid Auction, each of the Successful Bidder and the Back-Up Bidder shall, within forty-eight (48) hours, increase its Good Faith Deposit to the sum of five percent (5%) of the Successful Bid or Back-Up Bid, as applicable. If the Successful Bidder fails to increase the Good Faith Deposit within forty-eight (48) hours of the Auction conclusion date (the "Final Deposit"), then (1) the Successful Bidder forfeits its Good Faith Deposit, and (2) the Successful Bid is nullified (i.e., the Back-Up Bidder becomes the Successful Bidder in the amount of its last bid).

Unless otherwise agreed to by the Debtors and the Successful Bidder, within two (2) business days after the conclusion of the relevant Auction, the Successful Bidder shall complete and execute all agreements, contracts, instruments, and other documents evidencing and containing the terms and conditions upon which the Successful Bid was made. Within forty-eight (48) hours following the conclusion of the relevant Auction, the Debtors shall file a notice identifying the Successful Bidder(s) and Back-Up Bidders with the Court and shall serve such notice by fax, email, or if neither is available, by overnight mail to all counterparties whose contracts are to be assumed and assigned.

The Debtors will sell the Purchased Assets and (to extent included in an Overbid) the Other Assets to the Successful Bidder pursuant to the terms of the Successful Bid upon the approval of such Successful Bid by the Court at the Sale Hearing and satisfaction of any other closing conditions set forth in the Successful Bidder's Purchase Agreement.

J. Return of Deposits

All deposits shall be returned to each bidder not selected by the Debtors as the Successful Bidder or the Back-Up Bidder (defined herein) no later than five (5) business days following the conclusion of the Auction.

K. Back-Up Bidder

If an Auction is conducted, the Qualified Bidder or Qualified Bidders with the next highest or otherwise best Qualified Bid, as determined by the Debtors in the exercise of their business judgment, in consultation with the Consultation Parties, at the relevant Auction shall be required to serve as a back-up bidder (the "Back-Up Bidder") and keep such bid open and irrevocable for thirty (30) business days after the entry of the Sale Order (the "Thirty-Day Period"). If during the Thirty-Day Period, the Successful Bidder fails to consummate the approved sale because of a breach or failure to perform on the part of such Successful Bidder, the Back-Up Bidder will be deemed to be the new Successful Bidder, and the Debtors will be authorized, but not required, to consummate the sale with the Back-Up Bidder without further order of the Court provided that the Back-Up Bidder shall thereafter keep such bid open and irrevocable in accordance with the terms of the Back-Up Bidder APA; provided further, however, that if the Back-Up Bidder is the Stalking Horse Purchaser, the Debtors will be authorized and required to consummate the sale to the Stalking Horse Purchaser.

If, after the Thirty-Day Period, the Successful Bidder has failed to consummate the approved sale, the Back-Up Bidder may elect, at its discretion, to remain as the Back-Up Bidder until (a) the sale closes, (b) the Successful Bidder defaults, or (c) the Back-Up Bidder elects to terminate its participation as Back-Up Bidder. For the avoidance of doubt, after the Thirty-Day Period, if the Successful Bidder fails to consummate the approved sale because of a breach or failure to perform on the part of such Successful Bidder, the Back-Up Bidder will not be contractually obligated to be the Back-Up Bidder, and will have the option to either (i) be entitled to terminate its Back-Up Bidder APA and the return of its deposit, or (ii) remain as the Back-up Bidder, in which event, there will be no re-opening of the auction.

L. Break-Up Fee

In recognition of this expenditure of time, energy, and resources, the Debtors have agreed that if the Stalking Horse Purchaser is not the Successful Bidder as to the Purchased Assets, the Debtors will pay the Stalking Horse Purchaser at closing of the sale of the Purchased Assets the Break-Up Fee and the Expense Reimbursement as set forth in the Stalking Horse APA.

III. Sale Hearing

The Debtors will seek entry of the Sale Order, at the Sale Hearing on April 17, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. (or at another date and time convenient to the Court), to approve and authorize the sale transaction to the Successful Bidder(s) on terms and conditions determined in accordance with the Bidding Procedures. The Debtors may submit and present such additional evidence, as they may deem necessary, at the Sale Hearing demonstrating that the Sale is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of the Debtors' estates and all interested parties, and satisfies the standards necessary to approve a sale of the Purchased Assets."

IV. Sale Order

The Sale Order will provide Court approval of (i) the Sale to the Successful Bidder, free and clear of all liens, claims, interests, and encumbrances, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363, with the proceeds of the Sale deposited in accordance with Paragraph 4 of the Final DIP Order, with all liens, claims, interests, and encumbrances to attach to the sale proceeds with the same validity and in the same order of priority as they attached to the Purchased Assets prior to the Sale, including, without limitation, the liens and security interests of the DIP Lender and each of the Prepetition Secured Creditors under the relevant agreements, applicable law and the Final DIP Order, and (ii) the assumption by the Debtors and assignment to the Successful Bidder of the Assumed Executory Contracts and Leases pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 365.

VII. Reservation

The Debtors reserve the right, as they may determine in their discretion and in accordance with their business judgment to be in the best interest of their estates, in consultation with their professionals and the Consultation Parties to: (i) modify the Bidding Procedures to discontinue incremental bidding and then require that any and all bidders or potential purchasers submit their sealed, highest and best offer for the Purchased Assets and/or the Other Assets; (ii) determine which Qualified Bid is the highest or otherwise best bid and which is the next highest or otherwise best bid; (iii) waive terms and conditions set forth herein with respect to all Potential Bidders; (iv) impose additional terms and conditions with respect to all Potential Bidders; (v) extend the deadlines set forth herein; (vi) continue or cancel an Auction and/or Sale Hearing in open court without further notice; and (vii) implement additional procedural rules that the Debtors determine, in their reasonable business judgment and in consultation with the Consultation Parties will better promote the goals of the bidding process; provided that such modifications are disclosed to each Qualified Bidder participating in the Auction; provided, however, and notwithstanding the foregoing, these Bid Procedures shall not be modified so as to alter, extinguish or modify any rights or interests of the Stalking Horse Purchaser expressly set forth herein or in the Stalking Horse APA.

5) Answer to Debtor's Response to Our Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay Under 11 U.S.C. § 362 and § 523(a)(6) and § 523(a)(4) [Doc. No. 1900]

I. Facts and Summary of Pleadings

On August 31, 2018 (the "Petition Date"), Verity Health Systems of California ("VHS") and certain of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. On August 31, 2018, the Court entered an order granting the Debtors' motion for joint administration of the Debtors' Chapter 11 cases. Doc. No. 17.

Susan Chan Chow and Lindsey Chow ("Movants"), proceeding in pro se, seek stay-relief, pursuant to § 362(d)(1), for the purpose of continuing to litigate an action for wrongful death, medical malpractice, and negligent infliction of emotional distress against Debtors St. Vincent Medical Center ("St. Vincent") and Verity Health System, Inc. ("VHS") (collectively, the "Debtors") in the Los Angeles Superior Court (the "State Court Action"). The State Court Action was filed on January 31, 2017. Prior to the Petition Date, St. Vincent and VHS filed Demurrers and Motions to Strike; as a result, Movants have been required to file First, Second, Third, and Fourth Amended Complaints. A hearing on a Demurrer and Motion to Strike filed by St. Vincent and VHS with respect to the Fourth Amended Complaint was set for September 12, 2018, but was taken off calendar as a result of the bankruptcy filing.

In support of the Motions, Movants allege, inter alia, that the Debtors euthanized Henry Chow (the father of Movant Lindsey Chow and the spouse of Movant Susan Chow) as a cost-saving measure.

Debtors dispute Movants' allegations with respect to Mr. Chow's death. Debtors oppose stay-relief at this time, explaining that they would be required to spend significant time defending against the State Court Action if the stay were lifted. Debtors request that the stay remain in place until October 15, 2019, so that the Debtors can focus upon selling their remaining hospitals.

For the same reasons, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") asserts that the Motion should be denied without prejudice.

In their Reply in support of the Motions, Movants request that the Bankruptcy Court conduct a jury trial of the claims asserted in the State Court Action in June or July. Movants assert that Mr. Chow died under suspicious circumstances and that a speedy trial is necessary to protect the public.

II. Findings and Conclusions

The Court declines to conduct a jury trial of the claims asserted in the State Court Action. The State Court is the forum best suited to adjudicate Movants' claims, which all arise under non-bankruptcy law. Further, the State Court is already intimately acquainted with this matter, having ruled upon multiple Demurrers and Motions to Strike filed by the Debtors.

As explained by the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel in Kronemyer v. American Contractors Indemnity Co. (In re Kronemyer) (internal citations omitted): "What constitutes 'cause' for granting relief from the automatic stay is decided on a case-by-case basis. Among factors appropriate to consider in determining whether relief from the automatic stay should be granted to allow state court proceedings to continue are considerations of judicial economy and the expertise of the state court, … as well as prejudice to the parties and whether exclusively bankruptcy issues are involved." 405 B.R. 915, 921. The factors articulated in In re Curtis, 40 B.R. 795, 799-800 (Bankr. D. Utah 1984) and adopted by the bankruptcy court in Truebro, Inc. v. Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc. (In re Plumberex Specialty Prods., Inc), 311 B.R. 551, 559-60 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2004) are also "appropriate, nonexclusive factors to consider in deciding whether to grant relief from the automatic stay to allow pending litigation to continue in another forum." Kronemyer, 405 B.R. at 921. The Curtis factors are as follows:

1) Whether the relief will result in a partial or complete resolution of the issues;
2) The lack of any connection with or interference with the bankruptcy case;
3) Whether the foreign proceeding involves the debtor as a fiduciary;
4) Whether a specialized tribunal has been established to hear the particular cause of action and whether that tribunal has the expertise to hear such cases;
5) Whether the debtor's insurance carrier has assumed full financial responsibility for defending the litigation;
6) Whether the action essentially involves third parties, and the debtor functions only as a bailee or conduit for the goods or proceeds in question;
7) Whether the litigation in another forum would prejudice the interests of other creditors, the creditors' committee and other interested parties;
8) Whether the judgment claim arising from the foreign action is subject to equitable subordination under Section 510(c);
9) Whether movant's success in the foreign proceeding would result in a judicial lien avoidable by the debtor under Section 522(f);

10) The interests of judicial economy and the expeditious and economical determination of litigation for the parties;
11) Whether the foreign proceedings have progressed to the point where the parties are prepared for trial, and
12) The impact of the stay on the parties and the "balance of hurt."

Plumberex, 311 B.R. at 599.

The most important of the twelve factors is the effect of the non-bankruptcy litigation on the administration of the estate. Curtis, 40 B.R. at 806. The Curtis court held that "[e]ven slight interference with the administration may be enough to preclude relief in the absence of a commensurate benefit." Id.

Because Movants have not agreed to limit recovery to insurance, granting stay-relief at this time would require the Debtors to defend against the State Court Action. Although it would certainly be possible for the Debtors to mount a defense at this time, requiring them to do so would nonetheless interfere with the case by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters. While it is true that primary responsibility for the Debtors' defense could be assigned to special litigation counsel, the Debtors' general bankruptcy counsel would still be required to monitor the litigation.

An auction of four of the Debtors' hospitals is set to occur on April 8–9, with a hearing to approve the results of the auction set for April 17, 2019. To successfully prosecute the case for the benefit of creditors, Debtors will be required to devote substantial resources to the auction and the subsequent hearing to approve the results of the auction. Granting stay-relief at this juncture would require the Debtors to divert their attention from issues pertaining to the sale, which would be detrimental to creditors. Even after the auction has been completed, Debtors will be required to devote substantial attention to issues arising in connection with the California Attorney General's review of the sale.

In view of the findings set forth above, Curtis factors two, five, seven, and eleven weigh against granting stay-relief at this time. Although the relevant Curtis factors do not warrant stay-relief now, stay-relief will be warranted as of July 19, 2019.

Granting stay-relief now would interfere with the bankruptcy case by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters (the second Curtis factor). With respect to factor five, the damages sought in the State Court Action are substantial; Movants have not agreed to limit recovery to applicable insurance; and it is therefore not known whether available insurance proceeds will be sufficient to cover any judgment Movants may obtain. Factor five therefore weighs against granting immediate stay-relief. The litigation's interference with the case has the potential to reduce creditor recoveries; therefore, factor seven weighs against granting immediate stay-relief. The State Court Action has not reached the trial stage, so factor eleven also weighs against granting immediate stay-relief.

Factor twelve—the balance of the hurt—weighs in favor of the Debtors. As discussed, granting immediate stay-relief will harm the Debtors by distracting the Debtors' professionals from other pressing matters. On the other hand, the Court acknowledges that Movants will suffer some prejudice as a result of further delay. However, in assessing the prejudice to Movants, the Court notes that Movants have not yet succeeded in putting the claims in the State Court Action at issue, even though the action was filed approximately eighteen months before the Petition Date. Given this fact, the prejudice to the Debtors from granting the Motion now outweighs the prejudice to Movants resulting from some additional delay.

To the extent that they apply, the remaining Curtis factors weigh in favor of immediate stay-relief. The State Court Action will completely resolve the issues (factor one); the State Court is a the tribunal best suited to hear the Movant's claims (factor three); and lifting the stay would result in a more expeditious determination of the State Court Action (factor ten). Nonetheless, these factors are outweighed by the harm that immediate stay-relief would impose upon the Debtors.

Having considered the applicable Curtis factors, the Court finds that Movants are entitled to stay-relief, effective as of July 19, 2019. This result gives the Debtors some breathing space to achieve their objectives, while at the same time delaying Movants' ability to proceed with the State Court Action only briefly.

III. Conclusion

Based upon the foregoing, the Motions are GRANTED; however, the order granting the Motion shall not take effect until July 19, 2019. Debtors shall submit an order, incorporating this tentative ruling by reference, within seven days of the hearing.

No appearance is required if submitting on the court's tentative ruling. (Call to order of the Court.)

THE CLERK: Please rise and come to order. This Court is now in session. The Honorable Ernest Robles, presiding.

THE COURT: Good morning. Be seated, please.

(Pause while the Court heard other matters.)

THE COURT: All right. Let's hear the Verity related matters, item 10 and following. We'll take appearances, first in the courtroom.

MR. MAIZEL: Good morning, your Honor. Samuel Maizel, Dentons US LLP, on behalf of the Debtor.

Your Honor, we'd ask the Court's indulgence. There are ongoing discussions between the secured lenders and the buyer based on the tentative. And we'd ask if the Court would continue this for 30 minutes, and give us an opportunity to see if we can't resolve some of the issues before we go forward.

THE COURT: All right. I appreciate that. Just let us know when you're ready to proceed.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

(Proceedings briefly recessed.)

THE CLERK: Please remain seated and come to order. This Court is again in session.

THE COURT: We have a matter on the 11:00 o'clock calender, item 100, but before we get to that, I'm given to understand that the Verity matter has requested up to around 1:00 o'clock.

So if you're here on the Verity matter, I don't think there's any reason for you to have to stay. We probably won't actually reconvene until about 1:30 or so.

MR. WISLER: Good morning, your Honor. Jeffrey Wisler on behalf of Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, and other Cigna entities.

Your Honor, you ruled in -- you sustained our objection in the tentative. I confirmed with Mr. Maizel this morning that he was not challenging that, but they may have changed. And if I don't catch my 2:00 o'clock flight, then I'm here for an extra day, which I'd prefer not to do.

So, I'd like to have an opportunity to ask Mr. Maizel that. And if your Honor wants to address everything together, because it's all moot if the lenders don't agree, then I understand, your Honor. I will stay.

THE COURT: Well, let's do this. I don't know if they're in the building somewhere. If you know --

MR. WISLER: Understood, your Honor.

THE COURT: If you just catch them and you can come back here and make your representation about whether we have to go forward or not. I'll be here, so you can just come in --

MR. WISLER: One way or another.

THE COURT: That's right.

MR. WISLER: Understood, your Honor. Thank you very much.

THE COURT: Thank you.

All right. Just a moment.

(Pause while the Court heard other matters.)

AFTERNOON SESSION

--oOo--

(Call to order of the Court.)

THE CLERK: Please rise and come to order. This Court is now in session. The Honorable Ernest M. Robles, presiding.

THE COURT: Good afternoon. Be seated, please. We'll continue our Verity matters, item 10 from our 10:00 o'clock calendar. May I have appearances, please?

MR. MAIZEL: Good afternoon, your Honor. Sam Maizel, Dentons US LLP, on behalf of the Debtors. With me at counsel table is my new partner, newly created partner, Tania Moyron.

And with us in the courtroom today are the CEO, CFO and general counsel from Verity, and our financial advisors from Berkeley Research Group, and our investment bankers from Cain Brothers.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. BRAY: Good afternoon, your Honor. Gregory Bray, Milbank, Tweed, Hadley and McCloy, counsel for the Official Creditors Committee. And my partner, Mark Shinderman, is with me today.

THE COURT: Good afternoon.

MR. KLAUSNER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Gary Klausner, Levene, Neale, Bender, Yoo and Brill. We represent Strategic Global Management, Inc., the prospective stalking horse purchaser.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. WISLER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Jeffrey Wisler on behalf of Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, Cigna Healthcare of California, Inc., and Life Insurance Company of North America.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. MONTGOMERY: Good afternoon, your Honor. Susan Montgomery appearing on behalf of United Healthcare.

MR. COCO: Good afternoon, your Honor. Nathan Coco from McDermott, Will, Emery, on behalf of US Bank, as notes Trustee, 2015 series.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. WHITMORE: Good afternoon, your Honor. Clark Whitmore from Maslon, LLP, on behalf of US Bank National Association, as the 2017 notes trustee.

MS. ROSE: Good afternoon, your Honor. Mary Rose of Buchalter, appearing on behalf of AHMC Healthcare, Inc., a prospective bidder.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. RILEY: Good afternoon, your Honor. Debra Riley of Allen Matkins, appearing on California Statewide Communities Development Authority.

MS. BERRY: Good morning, your Honor. Alicia

Berry for the California Attorney General on behalf of the People of the State of California.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. SKOGSTAD: Good afternoon, your Honor. Kyrsten Skogstad on behalf of the California Nurses Association.

MR. KOHANSKI: Good afternoon, your Honor. Joe Kohanski, Bush Gottlieb, for United Nurses Associations of California, UNAC.

MR. MARGULIES: Good afternoon, your Honor. Craig Margulies with Margulies Faith, LLP, on behalf of Hooper Healthcare Consulting.

MR. RICOTTA: Good afternoon, your Honor. Paul Ricotta of Mintz Levin, on behalf of UMB Bank, as master trustee, and Wells Fargo Bank, as the bond trustee for the 2005 bonds.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Now, in the courtroom are there any further appearances? If not, I'll turn to the telephonic appearances.

All right. I'll turn to the telephonic appearances, and I'll ask that you make your appearance when I call your name.

Claude Montgomery.

MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, I'm on the phone.

Thank you very much. Appearing for the Debtors.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Kyra Andrassy.

Peter Benvenutti.

MR. BENVENUTTI: Yes, your Honor. Peter Benvenutti, Keller and Benvenutti, on behalf of the County of San Mateo and Health Plan of San Mateo. Thank you very much --

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. BENVENUTTI: -- for letting us to attend. Thank you.

THE COURT: Steven Berman.

Melissa Jones.

MR. LEMKE: Your Honor, this is David Lemke, substituting for Melissa Jones. I'm with Waller Lansden, and appearing on behalf of Ally Bank, the DIP lender and DIP agent.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. RICH: Yes. Emily Rich and Caitlin Gray, Weinberg, Roger and Rosenfeld, appearing on behalf of SEIU-UHW.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Jay Ryan Yant.

MR. YANT: Good afternoon, your Honor. Ryan Yant on behalf of both St. Vincent IPA, IPA for St. Vincent Medical Center, and Angeles IPA, which serves that same role at St. Francis.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Michael Reynolds.

MR. REYNOLDS: Here. Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Very well. Any other appearances by telephone?

MR. BUTLER: Yes, your Honor. You have Demarr Butler on behalf of the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.

THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Butler.

Anyone else? All right.

Let's go forward then. Item 10.

Mr. Maizel.

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, first of all, on behalf of all the parties I'd like to thank the Court for its patience. I think a lot of work was done over the last few hours in the cafeteria. We basically took over half of it. And I think we've reached agreement, amongst at least some of the parties, on the issues raised in the tentative.

And I also want to thank all the other parties who were waiting a while, because the discussions, honestly, were almost all related to the objections by the committee and the secured lenders, and the Court's tentative rulings on those issues. And I know there were a lot of people just waiting for that, and I appreciate their patience. I know this can be a tedious task sometimes.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MAIZEL: So I'd like to turn to the two primary issues raised in the Court's tentative from the Debtor's perspective. And if we could go through those first, and then I know there are parties who will want to raise issues raised in the tentative as well, but I think since those are the two key issues, in terms of going forward at all.

Because, honestly, without resolution on the Court's tentative ruling with regard to paragraph 8.6 and the breakup fee, there would be no bid procedures motion to go forward for the rest of those matters.

So, with regard to 8.6, which -- first let me explain why this appears at all. The Court is very familiar with the Attorney General's ability to interpose into the sales of not-for-profit hospitals even in bankruptcy cases. The Attorney General's activities in both the Gardens case and in this case to date, has not surprisingly created concerns among the prospective buyer pool. And SGM, Strategic Global Management, is not unique or alone in that regard.

Paragraph 8.6 came into the asset purchase agreement fairly late in the process because of those concerns, and as certainly exemplified by the Attorney General's continuing efforts through its appeal of the Court's order with regard to the Santa Clara sale.

So, we have read the tentative carefully. There was lengthy discussion between the buyer, the secured lenders and the creditor's committee. And we have a proposal for language which we think satisfies, we hope, will satisfy the Court's concern about the broad discretion provided to the buyer. And this is language that the secured creditors and the Debtor have agreed to. I'll leave the creditors committee to explain their position.

And if I could approach, I can hand you a copy.

THE COURT: Very well. Thank you.

(Pause.)

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, if the -- if nothing else, old 8.6 and new 8.6, you'll notice that there's -- and new 8.6 is considerably longer. That is the result of discussions that actually began right after the tentative was issued, and continued this afternoon and -- this morning and this afternoon.

There's two things that I would say that I think address the Court's concern. In the old section 8.6, it had the language that in the purchaser's sole and absolute discretion, within 21 days, business days after the entry of an order, doing basically, clearing off the AG conditions, the purchaser still had sole and absolute discretion to -- to decide whether to proceed.

And the Court's tentative made clear that the Court, at least seemed to make clear to us, that the Court was concerned about such a broad grant of discretion to the purchaser.

In the new 8.6, that discretion is now materially changed so that, first of all, it now has to be an exercise of the purchaser's reasonable business judgment, which we think is significantly different language. Reasonable business judgment obviously allows the parties, if they disagree, to come to court and to see if it is reasonable or not.

And then, in addition, there's a period of at least 90 days for each appeal, where based on the Debtors, can decide to extend this evaluation period to allow us to deal with appeals, so the buyer does not have the discretion in those circumstances to walk.

There's a lot of additional language, we believe reining in the buyer's discretion, but in terms of dealing with the tentative's ruling, I think those two salient points significantly now restrict the buyer's discretion to, whether to proceed or not in the context of a sale.

And so I, at this time, I think I'll let Mr. Klausner address 8.6. And I think it might be best to go through 8.6 alone with that the -- it would be my thought, your Honor --

THE COURT: Right.

MR. MAIZEL: -- that the best way to approach it is, let's deal with 8.6 first, because depending on where that goes depends on where the rest of this hearing goes.

THE COURT: All right. Very well.

Mr. Klausner.

MR. KLAUSNER: Thank you. Your Honor, do we need to give you a few more minutes to take a look at 8.6, or should --

THE COURT: Well, I think it would help if you go ahead and begin your argument. And if we need additional time to consider it --

MR. KLAUSNER: Okay.

THE COURT: -- we can do that.

MR. KLAUSNER: So, if I can, because I do want to put this in context. And first of all, let me tell you a little bit about Strategic Global, which is an affiliate of a larger organization called The KPC Group.

Starting in 2007 I was representing an entity called Valley Health System, which was a healthcare district, in a Chapter 9 case that was in Riverside County in front of Judge Peter Carroll. During the course of that case, the board of trustees decided that the best course of action to take was for the district to sell the three hospitals it was then operating.

So, we went through a sale process, and an entity that's affiliated with KPC called PHH, was Physicians for Healthy Hospitals, was the successful bidder. We had a contested confirmation hearing where there was a competing bidder who was arguing against our plan and against the sale. Ultimately, Judge Carroll approved our Chapter 9 plan of adjustment and he approved the sale.

PHH, the affiliate of the KPC Group, then went ahead and closed the sale, and has continued to operate those facilities and has turned them around successfully.

I also had occasion to work with the KPC people in connection with the Victor Valley Chapter 11 case, in which Mr. Maizel was debtor's counsel. I represented the KPC Group that was a purchaser. And in that case, there was another purchaser there. The sale went up for approval to the Attorney General. The Attorney General turned them down. We were then the backup bidder. We stepped forward. My client went ahead and closed that transaction.

By the way, the Valley Health transaction was in excess of $100,000,000. I don't remember the exact number of Victor Valley. But in that case, your Honor, our client did close that transaction. Our client was approved by the Attorney General. Our client successfully met all of the conditions that the Attorney General had set forth.

Our client also was involved in the purchase of two troubled Orange County hospitals, which it not only turned around, but in 2015, again, the affiliate of KPC Group, sold those hospitals to four employee stock ownership plans, ESOP's. And I believe it was the first acute care hospital system in the United States to be wholly owned by the employees. And KPC continues to operate those facilities.

The point of all this being, that our client is very familiar with not only the ownership and management of hospitals in Southern California, but has a very good track record with the Attorney General's office.

So I want to turn to 8.6 and maybe put it in context. Our client has agreed as part of the asset purchase agreement to a schedule of conditions. These are conditions, some of which were originated in the 2015 transaction, which the Attorney General approved, and then set forth a slate of conditions that had to be satisfied over a period of time.

Our client went through that slate of conditions and it actually agreed and consented to the imposition of a fairly substantial amount of those conditions, all of which are contained on what is now called, "schedule 8.6."

So, the issue came up, which is, well, how do we deal with the fact that the Attorney General several months down line, as you know from the Gardens case, the process of getting approval from the Attorney General takes months.

And by the way, I should add that in the Gardens case, Strategic Global was the successful bidder following the auction. Strategic Global did step up and took care -- and assumed the DIP loan. And it was only by virtue of the AG's imposition of some very draconian conditions, that Strategic Global did not conclude that sale.

So we're all familiar with the possibility that the Attorney General can impose conditions on approval of a sale of a non-profit. So we had to confront the question of, how would we handle the possibility that the AG would impose conditions, and some of these conditions, your Honor, can be quite extraordinary, involving 10's of millions of dollars or even more. So, the imposition of these conditions can entirely the economics of a purchase transaction.

And the Debtor, having been through -- or at least Debtor's representatives having been through this process and having seen sales fail, wanted to try to avoid that happening here.

So we spent a great deal of time trying to negotiate for the possibility, because we don't know what will happen, that the AG might impose conditions that are unacceptable to our client.

And we came up a concept, which is, that the Debtor would go to this Court and seek an order determining that what we call the "additional conditions," were considered interest for purposes of 363(f), and that the sale of assets could take place free and clear of those interests, at which point our client would then be expected to close.

The concern that we expressed at that time and the concern that continues through now, the concern isn't so much whether the Court would enter the order, because either the Court would enter the order, or if it didn't, the show's over.

The problem is that was there was nothing that addressed the possibility that this Court's order could be subject to an appellate review, and then an appellate court could decide that, to some extent, this Court may have exceeded its authority, and that perhaps it would be more appropriate to impose conditions. There was nothing in the agreement that protected our client from the possibility that that would happen.

So, if we were obligated to close after the entry of an order of this Court, we would be entirely at risk of an appellate ruling. We would have closed the sale. We would have paid 610,000,000, or some adjusted amount. Our lender would have advanced money.

And we would be arguing about mootness and other issues, but the fact remains that there was nothing in the agreement that was a backstop. There was no legal opinion suggesting that an appellate court could not modify this Court's order. There's no indemnity. There was no bond. There's no set aside. There was no recourse whatsoever.

So --

THE COURT: I understand that risk, and I saw that. And is that any different than somebody who buys a house in bankruptcy and they don't have an opportunity to inspect the roof? You know, they don't know what's going to happen. Isn't that in the price, that risk?

MR. KLAUSNER: This price did not reflect that at all. And, you know, people who buy houses can at least get inspections, so they know going in what they are facing.

They also get title policies.

THE COURT: Not in bankruptcy. It's as-is, where-is. You don't get a chance to get your money back.

MR. KLAUSNER: Well, but you can get an inspection. I mean, you can pay. A buyer can certainly go out and hire an inspector to go and take a look at property. It may be that the court order doesn't provide warranties or guarantees or representations, but a buyer certainly has the opportunity to spend some money and allocate risk differently, or at least --

THE COURT: Well, I suspect your client probably has done the same. And has independently determined what the risks are and the dollar value of these additional conditions.

You've outlined for me a number of transactions that your client has been involved in with the State Attorney General's Office, and I'm sure it has that knowledge.

MR. KLAUSNER: It's impossible to know. The process is that an application is filed with the Attorney General. The Attorney General conducts its own review. It may even have public meetings or public hearings, and the Attorney General renders a decision.

There is no way to predict or negotiate in advance how the Attorney General will react to the application, or what type of conditions it might impose. And the delta of the possible conditions and the costs is unquantifiable. The -- it could involve anything from earthquake retrofit to having to provide a certain amount of charity care, to having to build an obstetrical wing, to having to rebuild the facility. There is no way to anticipate or quantify the potential costs that could be involved in having to comply with AG conditions.

So, there's one of two things you can do. You can negotiate in the beginning and say, okay, let's set aside $100,000,000, and let's see what the AG does. And if it costs us a certain amount of money, we'll have a fund available, and that will reduce our purchase price, but we'll apply that money to pay, you know, these costs.

Or what we -- we didn't -- we knew we couldn't achieve that, and, frankly, we didn't want to lower our price. We thought our price was a fair price, but we have to have a backstop.

So, what we agreed to was, initially, that once the Court -- assuming the AG came out with conditions that were unacceptable. Assuming that the Debtor decided to make a motion, which it didn't have an obligation to do, assuming that the Court granted the motion, which, you know, is, certainly you don't want to prejudge what would happen, we would then take a look at the circumstances.

We'd see what we were left with, we would see what the Court's ruling was, talk to the AG. We would determine whether it made sense for us to go ahead. That's why we reserved discretion. We understood that the Court was not comfortable with the fact that we could get that far down the road and have kind of an absolute walkaway right.

So, what we have done now is negotiate something less in our discretion. And the way this will work is the following. In the event that the AG comes out with what we call, "additional conditions," meaning those that are not set forth on the schedule, and assuming that they are material, and we've defined what we mean by "material."

The Debtor has an opportunity to come to court and attempt to get the Court to determine that those conditions don't have to be satisfied because their interest in the sale can be free and clear.

If the Court -- if the Debtor decides not to seek that relief, or if the Court seeks it and doesn't get it, we have a right to terminate. We don't have to, but we at lease would have a right at that point to terminate based upon the imposition of these additional conditions.

If the Debtor is successful in obtaining that order, then we have to deal with the appeal risk, which is, again, very difficult to quantify. So what we've agreed on is that the Debtor is going to have a period of time to get us a non-appeal -- a final no-appealable order.

If the Debtor can get us a final, non-appealable order, meaning that if there's appeal, it gets resolved in the Debtor's favor or maybe gets dismissed, at that point we will be obligated to close the transaction, as long as all the other conditions to closing have been satisfied.

So, basically, we have taken out of our hands this bat, which was complete discretion with regard to whether we go forward or not. And at this point our ability to go forward is really based on reasonable business judgment, which we think is a fair standard.

We've agreed that this Court can resolve any issue concerning the reasonableness of our business judgment. And in this way we think we have fairly and -- to all sides, sort of compromised the issue of, a, what will happen with the Attorney General, which nobody can predict.

And with all respect, your Honor, we really have no idea what the Attorney General will do in a situation like this, but we have seen them come down with draconian conditions which have killed deals. And then, secondly, we've addressed the issue of an appellate risk.

So, we think this is a fair compromise. The Debtor is onboard with it. We understand that the lenders, who are at least first in line to be getting the sale proceeds and have the most to gain by this transaction going to forward, and, frankly, the most to lose if this transaction doesn't go forward, they're onboard with it, also.

THE COURT: And is even that backstop illusory though, at least as far as the Debtor's concerned? Because the time to get a final, non-appealable order is not something within the Debtor's ability to guarantee. It could go up to the Ninth Circuit and it could lie there for years.

MR. KLAUSNER: We've agreed on a time line, and the expectation is that the Debtor is first and foremost going to make an argument about mootness. But we did not want to be in a position, none of us did, to be in a position where our client was, had to be ready, willing and able with its financing to close a transaction two-and-a-half years from now. We couldn't do that. And nobody would know what the condition of these facilities will be in two years or whether they'll even be open.

So we, as part of the compromise, gave the Debtor an opportunity to expeditiously resolve these appeals, if there were more than one. There are mechanisms under the rules of the federal district court and the appellate court where you can ask for expedited reviews.

And in our view, the issues to be considered on appeal, primarily issues of law. And, therefore, we think, we don't know but we think that the time line is one, if the courts are cooperative, it could be achieved.

THE COURT: All right. This is a question, perhaps, for Mr. Maizel. But what happens if you have a bidder, competing bid that says, you know what, we will -- we've been involved in other transactions with the State AG's Office, and we think we have a good handle on what they typically ask for, and we have a handle on what those cost. So, we will go ahead and give you a bid, and you can jettison 8.6. How do you quantify that?

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, that's an important consideration. That the Debtor will think about if -- when we're evaluating what's the best bid. I mean, if we have a party that comes in and says, we will accept -- we will offer $600,000,000, $610,000,000, $650,000,000, but we will take on all the AG conditions as currently exist, with no 8.6.

Well, that is going to be a very -- that factor will be heavily weighted by the Debtor in evaluating the bids, just as we have to evaluate a lot of non-monetary aspects, like the ability to operate an acute-care hospital, but consistency of their business plan with our charitable mission. So that if other bidders were to show up and offered that as a factor, that would be a significant consideration in their favor when the Debtors evaluate the bids.

So that -- but to be fair, your Honor, there were no bidders at prices remotely close to satisfying the secured debt that would accept the AG conditions. That they'd had different provisions about how to deal with those conditions, but there were no bidders that came in at any numbers remotely possible for us to do a transaction, that said, and we'll do this transaction and accept the 2015 conditions.

Very smart people, both at Blue Mountain and NantWorks, who replaced Blue Mountain, labored for four years to try to make these assets work under the financial and operational constraints imposed by the 2015 conditions, and failed.

And buyers -- one of the differences between now and 2015's transaction, is that in 2015 people knew what kinds of conditions the AG could impose, what they might look like, what traditionally they imposed. But now people have had three years of actual trials to see what happens, and the marketplace reflects that, your Honor.

So there were no buyers that were willing to just come in at numbers remotely close to our secured debt that said, and we'll just do this with the conditions. And if there had been, that would have been a significant factor in us selecting a stalking horse bidder. Because we're not unmindful of the difficulties in moving this case forward with the AG's ability to -- oversight over the sale and the impact on the marketplace.

Your Honor, you know, I just want to follow-up on a comment Mr. Klausner made about the Gardens case. Part of what concerns buyers in the market about these conditions is exemplified by what happened in Gardens. And the Court's aware of it.

But just to remind the Court, I mean, in Gardens the sale price was $19,000,000 approximately. When the Attorney General's conditions came out, they included things, they included conditions such as the debtor or the buyer had to pay the outstanding Medi-Cal claims to the State. They effectively doubled the purchase price.

The -- Mr. Klausner said that the conditions that are already binding here could increase the cost of the purchase by tens of millions of dollars. He's wrong. It's actually hundreds of millions of dollars, because the pension obligations that could be imposed as a condition are in the hundreds of millions of dollars, your Honor.

They literally could double, again, as they did in Gardens, the effective purchase price to a buyer. Under those circumstances, I don't think anyone is surprised that buyers are concerned about that.

With regard to the time lines the Court mentioned, you know, one of the advantages to having a time line is that we will be able to use it to try to get appellate courts move more quickly. We would be able to use those deadlines to say to the court, you need to take this on an expedited basis because we have these deadlines.

And I think that, at least based on our limited experience in the Gardens case, I think the district court, certainly, and I would expect the Ninth Circuit would be mindful of those risks to us, and would take an appeal on an expedited basis.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MAIZEL: And I'm sure there are other people, your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes. Mr. Bray.

MR. BRAY: Your Honor, I -- may I go last?

THE COURT: Certainly.

MR. BRAY: Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Anyone else wish to be heard on the matter of imposition of the conditions of 8.6? All right. You're last.

MR. BRAY: I guess I'm last. That was quick.

Your Honor, this is a tough one for the committee. We filed the objection and everyone has zeroed in on a provision that is certainly the most relevant, section 8.6. It's a very unique provision. I don't claim to be a healthcare expert, but I've never seen anything like this in the context of a sale. As you pointed out, this is what 363(m) is for and what 363(f) is supposed to solve for.

Having said all that, I acknowledge that this is an unusual case because we have, you know, a party that has tremendous influence over the process, the Attorney General, and it's difficult to predict what they will do. We certainly hope that they do what we hope -- we think is the right thing and allow this to move forward on the conditions set forth in the schedule, but we don't know for sure. And I can't say that that's not a risk.

And the committee has been trying to balance the 363(m), the mootness issues, against the issues that the Attorney General can raise. And with all candor, it really is, we are really very much at the tipping point here.

We worked with the lenders and the Debtor to work within the confines of section 8.6 to modify it, to try to build in some court oversights over the decision-making process by the purchaser.

We've tried to put some collars into this to make it, potentially, a better structure. It's not perfect, but having said that, again, this is not -- we're not living in a perfect environment here and we understand that. And it's a question of allocation of risk.

Our concern at the end of the day is that where this will take us is to a purchase price adjustment. And that right now the purchase price is structured where the current purchase price, when you work through a very rough analysis of value allocation, unsecured creditors stand to recover an allocation, or some value or distribution in the case based upon this purchase price.

And, of course, we have a very real concern that when the purchase price adjustment discussions occur, that unsecured creditors will be asked to bear the brunt of the reduction. First dollars out means there's less for us.

I recognize the lenders have a collateral interest and so on, but right now, we're in the money, or at least we think we're in the money. I'm not going to promise it, but that's what we tend to think. I think the Debtor thinks there's a chance of that, too. And we want to try to protect that. That's been our primary goal here, is to make sure that unsecured creditors are treated fairly and receive a fair distribution.

As I've said since the first hearing in this case, we believe it's appropriate at the proper place and time for there to be a reckoning or allocation of relative benefits and risk. The Court had its view with respect to surcharge, and I respect that. And that is what it is. But if the day does come when the Debtor comes before the Court on a motion to modify, probably reduce the purchase price, if SGM is the successful bidder, we will be before you asking you to consider who's bearing the brunt of the allocation of the purchase price, and if there shouldn't, in fact, be some equitable allocation of the relative pain being borne there as part of the Court's decision to allow or not allow the deal to go forward on a revised purchase price. That's our primary focus right now.

As the Debtor has said, we've done what we can -- and I know I'm repeating myself a little bit, too, to belt-and-suspenders the other provisions. At this point in time I don't think there's anything more that we can do. The administrative burden on the estate every day we operate the case is, it's a lot. It makes sense to sell these hospitals as quickly as we can.

You raised the excellent point, what happens if there's an auction and we have another bidder who doesn't have a section 8.6 like provision? We hope that's the case, and we hope that's the case, and we hope it's a good purchase price.

And the committee's one of the consultation parties, and I suspect we would lobby hard for that offer to be accepted. You'll have to weigh different factors, but we would consider that to be a very significant factor. Maybe there will be a fight about that, maybe there won't. I believe the Debtor when they say that they believe that that's a significant issue, too, and it will be factored into the decision-making process. That may be a pleasant problem to have. I hope that we're there.

At this time it's -- I think we would like to see the auction proceed and let's see what happens. But, again, we have very significant concerns about whose ox will be gored when the actual closing time comes.

And we just hope that the Court is mindful of how the process is playing out, and where that risk is being shifted as part of this process. That's for another day. We're not asking you to rule on that today. We've had our discussion with the lenders about that. They know exactly how we feel about this, and there may well be a fight about it down the road. We'll see. But that's where the committee is.

I think that the deal is not going to be improved with SGM at this point. In terms of section 8.6, this is the best we're going to do. And unless you have any questions, your Honor, I think that's what we want to say about it.

THE COURT: All right.

Anything further on that?

MR. MAIZEL: Sorry, your Honor, to belabor the point. First of all, we're mindful of our fiduciary duties to the creditors. We -- everyone on my side of the table is mindful of our obligation to -- the unsecured creditors, to try to maximize recovery. We're also mindful of our obligation to the patients. We're balancing a lot of balls in the air in these transactions.

And just to -- if there's any question we'll put it on the record here now. If there's a material modification in the purchase price, not consistent with some adjustment mechanism already built-in to the asset purchase agreement, we would not consider doing that without coming to court.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. BRAY: Your Honor, I do want to make one further comment. I apologize.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. BRAY: There was also a reference by the Debtor and to SGM, to the pensions and the collective bargaining agreements and the impact they have on the process.

Our lack of objection to going forward today should not be considered to be an agreement or acquiesce to what happens to the pensions or the CBA's. Our position on that is, the Debtor has a statutory burden. With respect to those obligations under the code, the Debtor has to meet that burden. And to us, that's a separate issue from going forward today.

THE COURT: All right. I think that's correct.

All right. If the matter is submitted, then what I'm going to do is lay out some thoughts of the Court.

It does appear that the earlier version of 8.6 did allow the stalking horse bidder simply to walk away from this deal unfettered. And that was principally the Court's concern.

And I think this, the negotiation yielded a significant amendment to that paragraph, such that it I think ameliorates the Court's concerns with respect to it. And so it may be approved as part of the stalking -- the bid procedures and the APA.

I understand that from the Court's fairly recent experience with state agencies and the imposition of conditions, and I won't get into whether they're draconian or not, or whether they're part of a statute or not, whether they're supported by statute. No need to get into that now. But it is very clear that there is a review process that may yield conditions that make the deal untenable, simply from an economic point of view.

And that there needs to be some sort of backstop, as Mr. Klausner alluded to, in order to make clear that the bidder here is not operating in free fall during a period of time that the matter is up for appeal.

I still have my concerns with respect to the length of time that's been negotiated here. I don't know if it's realistic, but I know that certainly there will be the many constituencies that will arguing to the appropriate tribunal that it should be taken on an emergency basis.

Of course, many tribunals, I've been accused of that as well. We'll say, that's your problem, that's not my problem. But I think that it is a very different animal when we're talking about people's lives and livelihoods at stake. And so I think that would certainly be something that a court would take into consideration.

All right. So that's the Court's ruling with respect to that objection.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you, your Honor. That brings us to the next, which I viewed as second key issue with regard to the tentative, and that's with regard to the breakup fee.

So the original breakup fee in the asset purchase agreement was 3.5-percent. And we have read the Court's tentative. We -- there was a lot of discussion of that. The secured lenders, the buyer and the Debtor would ask the Court to agree to a breakup fee of $20,000,000, which is splitting the baby in half, your Honor.

The asset purchase agreement was 3.5-percent. The Court's directed three-percent. Of the $20,000,000 flat fee is effectively 3.25-percent. And I'm not sure where the committee is on that, but I do believe the secured lenders, the Debtor and the buyer would ask the Court to reconsider its tentative on that regard, and allow a $20,000,000 flat fee breakup fee.

THE COURT: All right.

Mr. Bray.

MR. BRAY: Your Honor, this is one where we weren't aware that they'd split the baby. I'm not, you know -- we prefer the Court's tentative on this one. We thought three-percent was a generous breakup fee under the circumstances.

This ties into my previous concern that, where the ultimate pain is being borne in terms of reduction or value, this is, you know, respectively, comes from potential unsecured recoveries. And we think three-percent is appropriate. It's supported by the case law. It's supported by the arguments of the bidder themselves. And that under these circumstances, that we would ask that the Court stick with its tentative on this one.

THE COURT: All right. Anyone else wish to be heard?

Mr. Klausner.

MR. KLAUSNER: Thank you. So, your Honor, I don't think it would be committing error in limiting the breakup fee or approving the compromise, but we did make a compromise in good faith after having seen your tentative.

The goal of all of our negotiations has been reached -- has been to reach consensus, and not to reach consensus and then have our consensus changed, unless we had agreed to something that was unreasonable.

The standard really for breakup fees is whether something is within the reasonable business judgment of the Debtor. That's the Integrated Resources case. And I don't think there's a fair argument that the 3.5-percent wasn't in the reasonable business judgment of the Debtor. And, clearly, the compromise of about 3.25-percent is not unreasonable.

In your tentative you did make a couple of points that I want to address. Now, one is, the concern that always exists that the breakup fee is simply part of a package that needs to be overbid. So that there is the issue of, well, is there going to be a chilling of overbidding or spirited competitive bidding?

I think we're dealing with, from a fractional standpoint, a very small amount of money that really ought not to have any impact on a competitive bid. By the time they get finished with our opening bid, the copying fee, the breakup fee, whether it's two-point -- $2,000,000 or eighteen-and-a-half-million dollars, I don't think it's going to have any impact on bidding. And, indeed, I haven't seen any evidence presented to this Court that a $20,000,000 breakup fee is going to have any effect on bidding, as opposed to an eighteen-and-a-half-million-dollar bid or a $23.5 million breakup fee. So, there's really no evidence that this is going to chill bidding.

Also, the Court mentioned the fact that our client was involved in a 2014 prospective transaction. Our client never did go forward. There was never a signed agreement. But the Court is correct. And as the parties have pointed out, our client was around in 2014.

And I'm assuming that what the Court was indicating was that, to the extent that a purchaser is really being compensated for a lot of due diligence and a lot of evaluation and hiring experts and third parties and financial advisors, that obligation would have been less four and half, five years later than it was in 2014, because we had already done some work.

There's really no evidence of that. And all the evidence is that there's been an enormous change in these facilities in terms of their financial condition and their deterioration. And it really did warrant a complete revamping of due diligence. It was nothing that could be relied on from 2014.

But even more importantly, the purpose of a breakup fee, and the purpose of having a stalking horse, the idea is to create an incentive for somebody to step forward and make a commitment to the estate. To actually sign a contract and to put up real money, and to agree to purchase assets. That's the reason why you reward the stalking horse purchaser. Otherwise, you could go to an auction and just have chaos.

But having somebody step forward who signs an agreement in our case, putting forth $30,000,000, making a contractual commitment of $610 -- if I said 30,000, I'm sorry. Thirty-million-dollar deposit, $610,000,000 purchase price, that is a significant commitment. That means that our client has to forego other opportunities.

Indeed, we've been raked over the coals because our client apparently took the position in another case where it was going to be a competitive bidder. That three-percent should be the maximum.

Well, indeed, what happened in that other case is, the Promise Healthcare case, where our client was going to be a competitive bidder, our client concluded that it really couldn't manage the purchase in that case at that time and this purchase, and they decided not to go forward.

And the point being that in order to go forward with this transaction, our client has an ongoing commitment, not just to the Debtor, but the need to engage professionals, the need to do ongoing due diligence, the need to be meeting with the unions, suppliers, lessors, the insurance companies, working through the whole AG process. This is an enormous undertaking. And having a credible buyer in front of you who's made a contractual commitment is really a very important event in this case.

So, part of what's doing -- what you're doing with a breakup fee, is you're rewarding somebody to come forward and do that. As Mr. Maizel said, nobody else has come close to what we're doing.

And I think the final point I would make is, that the breakup fee was a negotiated term. It wasn't something that we imposed. It wasn't done unilaterally. It was negotiated. It was part of a whole series of compromises. And this agreement reflects a lot of give ups and a lot of concessions and capitulations on the part of our client.

The reps and warranties in this case are very thin. There's no condition of having financing. If our financing doesn't come through we're in breach of contract. There's no adjustment if the business deteriorates. We have put at risk $30,000,000.

We've agreed to a slate of conditions that have been attached to our agreement. There are many issues that we fought over and lost in the negotiation. So, to take one, to sort of cherry pick one or two and to change them, it's just fundamentally changes the balance.

Having said that, I think what we've done now is make a compromise with the Debtor. We've reduced our request for breakup fee. I think it's a fair request. I think the difference between what we asked for before and what we're getting now, it's a significant amount of money that we've given up. It's not far from where the Court was. So I would ask that you approve it as a reasonable exercise of the Debtor's business judgement.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

Mr. Bray.

MR. BRAY: Your Honor, Mr. Klausner's an excellent advocate. Much of what he said there's no factual support in the record for.

I -- it was interesting, but a lot of it I would move to strike. It was factual in nature. And there's no declarations that backup much of that argument.

I, you know, I didn't want to interrupt in the middle of it. Some of it's argument, but it's interlaced with so many facts that aren't before the Court. And it almost akin to an oral 9019 motion, that I don't think it's appropriate to be considered today.

If the Debtor wants to file a 9019 motion and seek to compromise on the breakup fee, I guess they can do that and we'll address it, too.

In connection with the Santa Clara sale, we filed the declaration of Cynthia Nelson (phonetic), who was very clear that these breakup fees can chill bidding, and the Court can certainly take judicial notice of that. You recognized it in your tentative ruling.

And the three-percent was, frankly, high, based on the comps, given the size of the transaction. That's what the Court's tentative focused on, was the size of the transaction and the breakup fees that are appropriate with respect to the size of the deal, and three-percent was on the high side.

So, while I understand people make deals and compromise, and I understand that. If you want to file a 9019 motion, do that and we'll oppose it. But, otherwise, there's nothing before the Court in terms of the record that would warrant an adjustment of the tentative with respect to what the law says is the appropriate breakup fee in a transaction of this size under these circumstances, again, in light of SGM's own statements.

THE COURT: Well, isn't it no so much that the law determines what the appropriate breakup fee is, but that there is some legal justification for the business judgment, that in those cases three-percent, but it doesn't mean that three-percent is written in stone as far as the law is concerned.

MR. BRAY: The code provides that the Court must approve the breakup fee. Whenever the Debtor wants -- the Debtor has the right to exercise its business judgment. The Court acts as a check on the Debtor's business judgment, especially on economic issues.

And this is one of those issues where every court has recognized it has the right to not only look at but to overrule and amend, modify the client to approve whatever words you want to use, the Debtor's decision there. This is not where the Debtor -- this is not an ordinary corporate decision. It's much more akin to an out-of-ordinary-course transaction.

And this is the type of a situation that every court that has addressed the issue has said, I have the right to look at this issue and independently review it. Of course the Debtor's decision-making process is relevant, I grant you that. But if that was the standard, then I don't think you would ever see a breakup fee reviewed and disapproved by a court, and we know it happens all the time. We cited to you in our brief a number of precedents where the court has determined what the appropriate breakup fee is.

So, yes, some deference should be paid, but is it to -- does it override what you believe's appropriate under the circumstances? No, it doesn't.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

Anything else?

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, a couple things. I don't think we need expert witness testimony to suggest that a million-dollar difference in a $600,000,000 transaction is not material and would not chill bidding.

I cannot believe that the Court cannot, using its experience as a bankruptcy judge, and in the experience as a human being, evaluate that a million-dollar difference will not make a difference in people who are bidding $600,000,000 for assets.

I -- it is also my recollection that there was testimony in the Cain Brothers' declaration about the breakup fee, but I confess, it may have been in connection with the Santa Clara deal, and not here.

MS. MOYRON: It's actually in connection with this deal that's right here. It's Carsten Beith's (phonetic) declaration.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you.

MS. MOYRON: (Indiscernible.)

MR. MAIZEL: So, this is paragraph 11 of Carsten Beith's declaration, your Honor, where he says specifically:

> "I believe that Strategic Global Management would terminate the stocking horse bid if it did not have an adequate breakup fee. And they actively and vigorously negotiated for a breakup fee."

So, there is some testimony in support of the breakup fee.

And the other -- the last thing I'd say, your Honor, is with regard to the business judgment. It is not an independent decision. With all due respect to the Court, the case law is clear that the Court's review of business judgment -- this is a business judgement of the Debtor. And in that context, the Court is supposed to give some deference to the Debtors.

So, it is simply not correct to say that the state of the law is that the Court looks at this without regard to the business judgment of the Debtor, or that the Court makes a de novo review. It's not what the law is. The law is that the Court is supposed to give some deference to the business of the Debtor.

And this was, as Mr. Klausner said, the result -- as you can imagine, in the context of a $600,000,000 deal for very complicated facilities and complicated business structure, that this was heavily negotiated in conjunction with a lot of other points. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

Having heard argument, I think the 3.25 offer that was articulated by Mr. Maizel and Mr. Klausner, is appropriate under the circumstances in the reasonable exercise of the Debtor's business judgment. Given that it negotiated the 3.25 rate and negotiated that down further. So I think it's appropriate at this point and reasonable.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. What else do we have? A number of matters that were originally on calendar I think have fallen off.

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, so there's some housekeeping things. So, with regard to an issue raised on behalf of one of the prospective bidders, the clarification that apparently in the bid procedures order there was no date specified for parties, including the stalking horse bidder, to designate executory contracts that would be assumed. And we've agreed, the parties have agreed to a March 22nd, 2019 date for that.

MR. KLAUSNER: I actually believe that there was a date, but that it was a certain number of days in advance of the auction. But we have agreed to the March 22 date, which is in advance of an earlier date, then that had been agreed to.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you, your Honor. The other, I believe one of the other issues the Court ruled on was with regard to Cigna and United Health's objection, and the Court approved the language.

Debtor's fine with the language laid out in the tentative, but would just make clear for the record that where it refers to the "provider agreements," it is referring to -- there are other kinds of contracts between the parties and the Debtor. And that we're talking about here are contracts, payor contracts for the provision of health services. And those are unique because of the notice requirements to the patients who are receiving treatment.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MAIZEL: And that was counsel for United Health, your Honor, just to make clear. I mean, the Court did rule against it, but the Debtor is willing to include United Health in the language, the same language -- the same rights it gives to Cigna it will give to United Health.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. COCO: Good afternoon, your Honor. Nathan Coco again on behalf of US Bank as notes trustee.

I just wanted to note for the record that the 2015 notes trustee and the 2017 notes trustee has discussed language with the Debtor's counsel for the proposed form of order that conforms it to language that is in the Santa Clara order approving the bid procedures. And it's in paragraph 26, and it just incorporates by reference the provisions in the DIP financing and cash collateral order, which addresses how sale proceeds are to be handled and segregated, what have you, and makes it clear that pre-petition liens and security interests attach to the proceeds with the same priority and to the same extent and validity.

And so that language was missing in the proposed order initially. My understanding is that the Debtors intend to include it in the proposed order here, and we just wanted to make the Court aware.

THE COURT: All right. Very well.

MR. COCO: Thank you.

MR. RICOTTA: Your Honor, on the score of the bidding procedures order -- Paul Ricotta on behalf of the master trustee and the bond trustee. We've also had a discussion with the Debtor's counsel earlier about changing the bidding procedures order because it was inconsistent with the bidding procedures itself, namely, there was a provision that stated that, "qualified bidders would be designated in consultation with the committee."

The bidding procedures that have been agreed upon with the committee and all the other secured parties state that the qualified bidders will be designated by the Debtor in consultation with the consultation parties, which means the pre-petition secured creditors and the committee.

In addition, there was a provision in the bidder procedures order that specified that the designation of the winning bidder will be made by the Debtor in consultation just with the committee. Once again, all the parties have agreed that the designation of the winning bidder will be made by the Debtor in consultation with the, once again, consultation parties.

So, in addition to what Mr. Coco said about the changes with respect to the deposit and handling of the sales proceeds, I also just wanted to make clear to the Court that we've had these discussions with the Debtor, and I don't believe that they are controversial, since they are now consistent with the actually bidding procedures themselves.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

MR. MAIZEL: Your Honor, I was going to sort of do it at the end, but, yes, we lodged -- we filed an order, draft order, for the parties to see earlier this week. We have been in negotiations over terms of that order. They're all consensual at this point.

We will, obviously, after the hearing and consistent with the Court's rulings, I know there are still matters to be addressed by some of the parties here, we will lodge an order. We will file a clean copy of that order and a version showing the track changes for parties to see the changes that have been made in the order. And that will be filed, as opposed to lodged, and that will be filed to show the track changes, so the parties will be able to see what changes were made in the order, compared to the order that we filed earlier this week.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MAIZEL: And Ms. Moyron reminded me that the March 22nd date for the designation of contracts, only applies to the stalking horse bidder. There is a separate date for partial bid submission, and they would be expected to submit it, their designation in conjunction with their bids.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MAIZEL: So the March 22nd date only applies to -- we'll -- when we submit a time line, your Honor, with the order, the bid procedures will have a time line, and I'll include that.

THE COURT: Yes. Thank you.

MR. MAIZEL: And, your Honor, I know there are --

THE COURT: I'm sorry.

MR. MAIZEL: I believe there are other parties here.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. KOHANSKI: Good afternoon, your Honor. Joe Kohanski for UNAC. I want to pick up on some points raised by the creditors committee with respect to issues coming down the pike. The -- first of all, UNAC certainly comprehends the difference between a 363 sale and the 1113 process for rejection or modification of the CVA, but they do overlap with respect to the flow of information and interchange.

UNAC has not argued, for example, that rejection under CVA must occur prior to an APA or some of the other arguments that have been made by some of the unions. But we feel very strongly that there should be some way to sort of harmonize the flow of information amongst the stalking horse, the Debtors and any alternative bidders.

I don't want to characterize, you know, some of the conversations or materials we received from the Debtor so far, but I will -- they concern me greatly with respect to being inconsistent with the very basic polarity of the 1113 process, in the sense of the company comes to the union with a proposal. And other than that, we'd actually had a bit of discussion with the Debtors about, perhaps, elevating UNAC to a consultation party.

To be clear, we have no wild idea that this is going to shape what happens with the basic economics of the case, but we see it as an avenue to making sure that we do have direct contact with the various people who may become our counter-parties and our bargaining parties and our people's employers, depending on who purchases the asset.

THE COURT: All right. Let me explore that just a little bit. In terms of information, what types of information and when do you want that information?

MR. KOHANSKI: Well, it's really, you know, that's the process logic for the Debtor to manage in terms of the Debtor's obligation to come to the unions first with a proposal. And I understand that could be difficult because they have a stalking horse and alternative bidders at the same time.

But, again, we're looking to find a way to make sure that we're not looking at a situation where information is clustered solely at the Debtor level. We are not dealing directly with the potential counter-parties. Information is, you know, getting confused accordingly.

And on top of that, it just becomes potentially a race to the bottom to the extent that you could have the Debtor filtering information coming from potential counter-parties, and we just get this cumulative effect of everybody piling on with respect to economic changes, which may not even be justified in the first place.

THE COURT: All right.

Mr. Maizel.

MR. KOHANSKI: Maybe a few minutes in the hallway might be a useful vehicle, perhaps, to get this sorted out. Or maybe Mr. Maizel wants to speak to the issue, I honestly don't know, your Honor, but --

MR. KOHANSKI: -- this is a continuing issue.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. KOHANSKI: And it will come back in the 1113 process, most certainly.

THE COURT: Well, I expect that's correct. On the other hand, I wonder if it makes any sense to have information, or the flow of information, go to constituencies that don't have a direct impact on the bids and the analysis and weighing of those bids.

And so I wonder if we have that type of information go out, whether that could enure to the detriment of the bidding process, and eventually just hurt the bidding price, ultimately.

MR. KOHANSKI: Which is an issue we're sensitive to as well. We certainly don't want to walk into -- create a problem that way. And, of course, we would be doing confidentiality agreements. But --

THE COURT: All right. Well, the best I can do at this point is to encourage some talks with respect to that. But if it comes down to a motion, then I'll have to hear the motion. But at this point I think we'll just leave it as it is.

MR. KOHANSKI: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Anything further? Yes.

MR. MARGULIES: Good afternoon, your Honor. Craig

Margulies with Margulies Faith, on behalf of Hooper Healthcare Consulting.

My client, just provided some context -- and I think during the break we may have resolved some of our issues, but this may be an issue that comes down the road. So I just wanted to address the Court briefly on this.

They provide consulting services to the hospital to help the hospitals obtain Medicare and Medi-Cal benefits, and increase those benefits. For example, on the qualified assurance funding that is one of the major assets of the sale, they increased the benefit by about 16,000,000. So my client's fees associated with that additional benefit.

The question that we raised in addition as to this bidding procedures motion, and the sale motion in general, is that it's vague as to where that fee is being paid. And we thought it was to the benefit of the bidders to be aware that there may an issue as to who is obligated for that payment, whether it's the Debtor or a successful bidder.

And the objection was that we don't know who the successful bidder is yet, so this not a bidding procedure issue, it's a sale motion issue. And our position is that it's not necessarily just a sale motion issue, because it's more an issue of timing, because the payments that come from the Medicare and Medi-Cal payments will straddle a closing date. So some of the payments may come in before the closing, so who's going to pay the fee? And some may come in after the closing, so who will pay the fee?

I think we may have resolved this issue, but my client's fee is about half-a-million dollars associated with the qualified assurance funding, that is part of the asset sale. And then there's an issue with services that my client is providing ongoing to make sure that those funds come in.

So, there may be an issue that it's an administrative claim, and that may come up before the -- or in connection with the sale motion, to try and address who's paying those fees.

But with all that said, I think we may have a deal that was reached in concept over the lunch hour. So, we may not have to have your Honor rule on anything down the road, but I just wanted to raise it.

THE COURT: Good.

MR. MARGULIES: Thank you.

THE COURT: I appreciate that.

MR. MARGULIES: Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Anything else? Anything by telephone? All right. Very well. Then I think we're done for today.

MR. MAIZEL: Great, your Honor. There were items 11, 12 and 12.2. They're either vacated or continued? Our next hearing I think is next Wednesday?

THE COURT: Right.

MR. MAIZEL: Otherwise that's all the Debtor has for today, your Honor.

THE COURT: Very well. If you can lodge the orders then.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you very much.

MR. MAIZEL: And you again for the Court's patience.

ALL PARTIES: Thank you, your Honor.

MR. YANT: Your Honor, this is Ryan Yant on behalf of St. Vincent IPA.

THE COURT: I'm sorry. I heard somebody on the telephone. Yes. Go ahead.

MR. YANT: Your Honor, this is Ryan Yant on behalf of St. Vincent IPA and Angeles IPA. We did have a minor objection to the sale motion that, unless we're continuing it, I'd like to discuss it.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. YANT: So, your Honor, there are two significant points that I'd like make up front. First is, our objection has nothing to do with the cash management system. As you recall, we entered a limited objection, just simply stating that we wanted the language added to the sale motion order.

So, one, our objection has nothing to do with cash management system. This is a red herring, and our request for relief would have no impact on this in any fashion. We do not propose or seek any additional segregation of funds beyond what is already required, and my point is --

THE COURT: Before you go any further can -- I'm not sure we got your appearance very clearly because people were packing up. So, why don't you state your appearance again, please.

MR. YANT: I'm sorry, your Honor. Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. YANT: J. Ryan Yant on behalf of both St. Vincent IPA, the IPA for St. Vincent Medical Center, and Angeles IPA, that serves that role at St. Frances.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, Mr. Yant. Go ahead.

MR. YANT: So, your Honor, I guess I'll briefly recap what I said. So we have two main points up front that the Court needs to be aware of before I proceed a little bit further.

So, one, in your tentative ruling, and also in the Debtor's response to our objection, there's a mention of the cash management system and how it's infeasible to change anything. Up front, we are not attempting to alter or change how the cash management system works in any way. And what we are requesting doesn't touch on those. So, I think there may have been a misconception of what we're asking for.

Two, not only is this a very important issue for my two clients, both from a monetary and from a practical standpoint, but this issue potentially affects all creditors subject to the cure issues upcoming.

So, what is the issue? Broadly, we simply want to ensure that the funds are available to fully satisfy a contested cure claim amount once these claims are finally adjudicated.

Reviewing the sale motion doesn't actually do that. So in paragraph 59 of the sale motion it states in pertinent part that:

> "The Debtor shall segregate from the sale proceeds any disputed cure amounts pending the resolution of any such cure amount disputes."

Cure amounts is a cap-like term, and that term itself is defined in paragraph 56, which states that, "the cure amount is the amount, if any, that the Debtor believes are owed to each counter-party."

So, by taking a literal reading of the sale motion, this states that Verity is going to segregate the cure motions as they deem appropriate, but they're not -- or the sale proceeds that they deem appropriate for the cure, but not what a counter-party may assert.

And almost certainly a counter-party is going to assert a higher cure amount than Verity does. So, there's going to be a gap there that, under the express terms of the sale motion, isn't accounted for.

So, for instance, if Verity asserts that Angeles IPA is owned $1,000,000 for a cure, but our records reflect $2.5 million, under the express terms of the sale motion, Verity's only going to make sure that $1,000,000 stays in the account pending resolution of our cure issue.

So there's potentially $1.5 million that we, if successful, would be entitled, that may or may not be in the bankruptcy estate and in that account when it comes time to pay us. When everything's finally adjudicated.

So, we've reached out to Verity and we tried to get some clarity on this, because I don't know if this is potentially the way it's written or not. We have not gotten any feedback, except for that they will only confirm that the cure amounts will be on hold, to the extent that they believe that they're owed.

But, Judge, what if Verity's wrong? What if, ultimately, after reviewing everything, you determine, yes, creditors such as us are owed more than what Verity asserts?

So, we just want assurance that those funds will continue to be retained.

You know, allowing Verity themselves to dictate and arbitrate -- or to dictate what is held on behalf of these potential cure issues, is almost a de facto determination of what these issues and amounts are, assuming that ultimately you're going to need to decide.

So, with our particular clients, the difference between what Verity believes is necessary to cure and what we believe the cure amount is, will likely be significant. It's most likely going to be someone where in the seven figures for both clients.

And we know that because, traditionally, prior to bankruptcy, that's always been the case. So, every year with our two clients there's a final adjudication on what that particular calendar is for what's owed, and it almost always is around $1,000,000 or a little bit more than that.

So, compound the issue, it normally takes well over a year after the close of that particular year before there's actually a final adjudication and there's a final agreement on what is owed. So, for instance, the 2015 amount that's due to St. Vincent IPA still is not finally decided, and we're several years down the road.

So, assuming that the buyer wishes to assume our contract, you will likely have a substantial discrepancy between what Verity believes the cure amount is and what we believe the cure amount is. Those discrepancies by their very nature take months, if not years, to decide.

And Verity, from the literal reading of the sale motion, has not committed to ensure that the full potential cure amount is available once there's a final adjudication down the road by your Honor.

So all we ask is that Verity retain the full, potential cure amounts that are alleged by the counter-parties for all creditors, not just the IPA's that we represent. So that if Verity is wrong, and if creditors, such as ourselves, are truly owed more than Verity asserts, those funds have not been spent or paid out, and those creditors are not left holding the bag at the end of the day.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

MR. YANT: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Maizel.

MR. MAIZEL: Well, your Honor, first of all, if you look at the objection filed by St. Vincent IPA, it asks for two forms of relief. One, that we pay, the Debtors pay in full the undisputed portion of the cure amount at the time of closing of the sale, which I think we've agreed, we will do already. So, unnecessary relief.

And the second part is, segregate the disputed portion of the cure amount based on the cure amount set forth in the assumption objection of the counter-party. Well, they -- it's interesting because that's in paragraph five.

In paragraph four of the objection filed by St. Vincent IPA, they quote the Debtors as saying -- the sale motion as saying:

> "The Debtor shall segregate from the sale proceeds any disputed cure amounts pending the resolution of any such cure amount disputes by the Court."

So, they quote the language of the Debtor's motion saying, "the Debtors shall segregate from the sale proceeds any disputed cure amounts," which we think is pretty clear on its face.

In any event, the DIP order requires us to segregate the entire sale proceeds pending further determination of the resolution of the distribution of those funds.

There are going to be plenty of money on hand, your Honor. The Debtor's already provided to segregate disputed cure amounts. We'd ask the Court to stick with its tentative and deny the objection.

THE COURT: All right.

Anything else, Mr. Yant?

MR. YANT: Your Honor, if I may respond to that.

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. YANT: Yes, your Honor. So, I understand that we did quote from the sale order, but I am -- I acknowledge that. But the sale order itself is unclear, and that's the whole point. It has cure amounts in the expression that was just quoted by opposing counsel that says, cure amounts -- capital:

> "Cure amounts is defined in paragraph 56 as amounts, if any, that the Debtor believes are owed to each counter-party."

So, therefore, based upon its own statement in its own motion, it's whatever the Debtor believes is what the cure amounts is. That is the issue.

The other issue is, there is a very long lag time, particularly for my client, where there's a final adjudication on what we're owed. That will likely be the case here.

I don't think anyone here believes that these cases will be viable, running companies that are operating as debtors-in-possession a year and a half from now, when these issues may finally be determined for my client.

So, are they going to hold money until that time? Are they not?

THE COURT: Well, I think the answer is this. When we get to a sale, if we get to a sale, the Debtor will have x amount of dollars, in which case you could renew your objection and -- as far as the disputed amount of the cure is concerned, and then we can hear it at that point.

But at this point, how we're going to treat a disputed cure amount when we don't have any funds with which to pay cure amounts at this point, I think is premature.

So I understand your concern. I understand that you want to try to get the mechanism right, and I think -- and I share that as well. But I think we should do that within the context of a bank account that has money that could potentially fund the cure amount that is agreed upon, and any disputed amount. And we can, I think, fashion a mechanism that would address that concern.

All right. Thank you very much.

MR. MAIZEL: Thank you, your Honor.

ALL PARTIES: Thank you, your Honor.

This matter came before the Court on the Motion For The Entry Of (I) An Order (1) Approving Form Of Asset Purchase Agreement For Stalking Horse Bidder And For Prospective Overbidders To Use, (2) Approving Auction Sale Format, Bidding Procedures And Stalking Horse Bid Protections, (3) Approving Form Of Notice To Be Provided To Interested Parties, (4) Scheduling A Court Hearing To Consider Approval Of The Sale To The Highest Bidder And (5) Approving Procedures Related To The Assumption Of Certain Executory Contracts And Unexpired Leases; And (II) An Order (A) Authorizing The Sale Of Property Free And Clear Of All Claims, Liens And Encumbrances (the "Motion") [Docket No. 1279], filed by Verity Health System of California, Inc. ("VHS"), and the above-referenced affiliated debtors and debtors in possession in the above-captioned chapter 11 bankruptcy cases (the "Debtors"), for the entry of an order, pursuant to §§ 105(a), 363, and 365 of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"), Rules 2002, 6004, 6006, 9007, and 9014, and LBR 6004-1.[1]

At the previous hearing on the Motion on February 19, 2019 (the "Bidding Procedures Hearing"), the Court considered various objections (the "Premature Objections") filed by: (i) St Vincent IPA Medical Corporation and Angeles IPA [Docket No. 1397]; (ii) the California Attorney General [Docket No. 1352]; (iii) MGH Painting Inc. [Docket No. 1358]; and (iv) Belfor USA Group, Inc. [Docket No. 1364]. The Court ruled that the Premature Objections were premature and preserved for the Sale Hearing, as set forth in order granting the Motion (the "Bidding Procedures Order") [Docket No. 1572]. The Bidding Procedures Order also stated that objections filed by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services [Doc. No. 1346] and the California Department of Health Care Services [Doc. No. 1353] (the "Continued Objections") were continued, as resolved by stipulations [Docket Nos. 1458 and 1473, respectively], approved by this Court's orders [Docket Nos. 1465 and 1483, respectively].

[1] Unless specified otherwise, all chapter and section references are to the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101-1532, all "Rule" references are to the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, and all "LBR" references are to the Local Bankruptcy Rules for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California.

the legal and factual bases set forth in the Motion and presented at the Sale Hearing establish just cause for the relief granted herein and for the reasons set forth in the Court's tentative ruling [Docket No. 2221]; and all objections to the Motion, if any, having been withdrawn, continued or overruled; and for the reasons set forth in the Court's tentative ruling [Docket No. 2221], which the Court adopts as its final ruling and which is incorporated herein by reference; and after due deliberation and sufficient good cause appearing therefor:

THE COURT HEREBY FINDS AND CONCLUDES THAT:[2]

A. Jurisdiction and Venue. This Court has jurisdiction to hear and determine the Motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter relates to the administration of the Debtors' bankruptcy estates and is accordingly a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2) (A), (M), (N) and (O). Venue of these cases is proper in this District and in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

B. Statutory Predicates. The statutory predicates for the relief requested in the Motion are (i) §§ 105(a), 363(b), (f), (k), (l) and (m), and 365, (ii) Rules 2002(a)(2), 2002(c)(1) and (d), 6004 (a), (b), (c), (e), (f) and (h), 6006(a), (c) and (d), 9006, 9007, 9013 and 9014, and (iii) LBR 6004-1 and 9013-1.

C. Notice. As evidenced by the affidavits of service previously filed with the Court, the Debtors have provided proper, timely, adequate and sufficient notice with respect to the following: (i) the Motion and the relief sought therein, including the entry of this Sale Order and the transfer and sale of the assets (the "Purchased Assets"), as set forth in the Asset Purchase Agreement, dated January 8, 2019, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit "A" to Docket No. 1279 (the "APA"); (ii) the Sale Hearing; (iii) the No-Auction Notice; and (iv) the assumption and assignment of the executory contracts and unexpired leases and proposed cure amounts owing under such executory contracts and unexpired leases (the "Cure Amounts"); and no further notice of the Motion, the relief requested therein or the Sale Hearing is required. The Debtors have also complied with all obligations to provide notice of the Auction, the Sale Hearing, the proposed sale and otherwise, as required by the Bidding Procedures Order. A reasonable opportunity to object and to be heard regarding the relief provided herein has been afforded to parties-in-interest.

[2] The findings and conclusions set forth herein constitute the Court's findings of fact and conclusions of law pursuant to Rule 7052, made applicable to this proceeding pursuant to Rule 9014. To the extent that any of the following findings of fact constitute conclusions of law, they are adopted as such. To the extent that any of the following conclusions of law constitute findings of fact, they are adopted as such.

D. Arm's Length Transaction. The APA and other documents and instruments (the "Transaction Documents") related to and connected with this transaction (the "Transaction") and the consummation thereof were negotiated and entered into by the Debtors and Strategic Global Management, Inc. ("SGM"), as Purchaser under the APA without collusion, in good faith and through an arm's length bargaining process. Neither SGM nor any of its affiliates or representatives is an "insider" of the Debtors, as that term is defined in § 101(31). None of the Debtors, SGM, or their respective representatives engaged in any conduct that would cause or permit the APA, any of the other Transaction Documents or the Transaction to be avoided under § 363(n), or have acted in any improper or collusive manner. The terms and conditions of the APA and the other Transaction Documents, including, without limitation, the consideration provided in respect thereof, are fair and reasonable, and are not avoidable and shall not be avoided, and no damages may be assessed against SGM or any other party, as set forth in § 363(n). The consideration provided by SGM is fair, adequate and constitutes reasonably equivalent value and fair consideration under the Bankruptcy Code and any other applicable laws of the United States or any of its jurisdictions or subdivisions, including the State of California.

E. Good Faith Purchaser. SGM has proceeded in good faith and without collusion in all respects in connection with the sale process, in that: (i) SGM, in proposing and proceeding with the Transaction in accordance with the APA, recognized that the Debtors were free to deal with other interested parties; (ii) SGM agreed to provisions in the APA that would enable the Debtors to accept a higher and better offer; (iii) SGM complied with all of the provisions in the Bidding Procedures Order applicable to SGM; (iv) all payments to be made by SGM and other agreements entered into or to be entered into between SGM and the Debtors in connection with the Transaction have been disclosed; (v) the negotiation and execution of the APA and related

DENTONS US LLP
601 SOUTH FIGUEROA STREET, SUITE 2500
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90017-5704
(213) 623-9300

Transaction Documents were conducted in good faith and constituted an arm's length transaction; (vi) SGM did not induce or cause the chapter 11 filings by the Debtors; and (vii) the APA was not entered into, and the Transaction being consummated pursuant to and in accordance with the APA is not being consummated, for the purpose of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors of the Debtors. SGM is therefore entitled to all of the benefits and protections provided to a good-faith purchaser under § 363(m). Accordingly, the reversal or modification on appeal of the authorization provided herein to consummate the Transaction shall not affect the validity of the Transaction, any terms or conditions of the Transaction or SGM's status as a "good faith" purchaser.

F. Justification for Relief. Good and sufficient reasons for approval of the APA and the other Transaction Documents and the Transaction have been articulated to this Court in the Motion and at the Sale Hearing, and the relief requested in the Motion and set forth in this Sale Order is in the best interests of the Debtors, their estates, and their creditors. The Debtors have demonstrated through the Motion and other evidence submitted at the Sale Hearing both (i) good, sufficient and sound business purpose and justification and (ii) compelling circumstances for the transfer and sale of the Purchased Assets as provided in the APA outside the ordinary course of business, and (iii) such transfer and sale is an appropriate exercise of the Debtors' business judgment and in the best interests of the Debtors, their estates, and their creditors.

G. Free and Clear. In accordance with §§ 363(b) and 363(f), the consummation of the Transaction pursuant to the Transaction Documents shall be a legal, valid, and effective transfer and sale of the Purchased Assets and, except with respect to the liens arising from the Special Assessments and the PACE Obligations (each as defined in §1.1(a)(iii) of the APA) assumed by SGM, shall vest in SGM, through the consummation of the Transaction, all of the Debtors' right, title, and interest in and to the Purchased Assets, free and clear of all liens, claims, interests, rights of setoff, recoupment, netting and deductions, rights of first offer, first refusal and any other similar contractual property, legal or equitable rights, and any successor or successor-in-interest liability theories (collectively, the "Encumbrances"). The Debtors have demonstrated that one or more of the standards set forth in § 363(f)(1)-(5) have been satisfied. Those holders of Encumbrances who did not object, or who withdrew their objections, to the sale or the Motion are deemed to have consented pursuant to § 363(f)(2). Those holders of Encumbrances who did object fall within one or more of the other subsections of § 363(f). All holders of the Encumbrances in the Purchased Assets are adequately protected by having their respective Encumbrances attach to the Debtors' interests in the proceeds of the sale of the Purchased Assets under the APA (subject to any Challenge within the meaning of that certain Final Order (I) Authorizing Postpetition Financing, (II) Authorizing Use of Cash Collateral, (III) Granting Liens and Providing Superpriority Administrative Expense Status, (IV) Granting Adequate Protection, (V) Modifying Automatic Stay, and (VI) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 409] (the "Final DIP Order") that has been, or may be, timely filed[3]), and any related documents or instruments delivered in connection therewith, whenever and wherever received (the "Sale Proceeds") to the extent and manner herein provided.

H. Prompt Consummation. The Debtors have demonstrated good and sufficient cause to waive the stay requirement under Rules 6004(h) and 6006(d). Time is of the essence in consummating the Transaction, and it is in the best interests of the Debtors and their estates to consummate the Transaction within the timeline set forth in the Motion and the APA. The Court finds that there is no just reason for delay in the implementation of this Order, and expressly directs entry of judgment as set forth in this Order.

[3] The Final DIP Order granted to the Committee standing to file the requisite pleading to challenge the validity, enforceability and amount of the Prepetition Liens (each such proceeding or appropriate pleading commencing a proceeding or other contested matter, a "Challenge") within ninety (90) days from the formation of the Committee (the "Challenge Deadline"). See Final DIP Order ¶ 5(e). The Committee's investigation as to the Prepetition Liens remains ongoing. The Committee and the Prepetition Secured Creditors have entered into a number of stipulations (the "Challenge Stipulations") by which the Committee has acknowledged and stipulated to the validity, enforceability and perfection of the Prepetition Liens in certain collateral identified in the Challenge Stipulations, and by which the Challenge Deadline has been extended a number of times with respect to the validity, enforceability and perfection of the Prepetition Liens in any other collateral. The Challenge Deadline with respect to any Prepetition Liens for which the Committee has not stipulated pursuant to the Challenge Stipulations as to the validity, enforceability and perfection thereof is now May 13, 2019.
